Exodus

Introduction to Exodus\n\n## Part 1: General Introduction\n\n### Outline of Exodus\n\n1. Israel in Egypt; preparing to depart from slavery (1–12)\n * First genealogy (1:1–6)\n * Israel as slaves in Egypt (1:7–22)\n * Moses’ history to the time of the Exodus (2:1–4:26)\n * Israel suffers in Egypt (4:27–6:13)\n * Second genealogy (6:14–27)\n * Moses and Aaron go to Pharaoh (6:28–7:25)\n * The plagues (8:1–11:10)\n2. Instructions for celebrating the Passover (12:1–30)\n3. From Egypt to Mount Sinai (12:31–18:27)\n * The Passover; preparing to leave Egypt; leaving Egypt (12:31–50, 13:1–22)\n * Journey from Egypt to Mount Sinai (14:1–18:27)\n4. Mount Sinai and the Law (19–40)\n * Preparing for the covenant (19:1–25)\n * The Ten Commandments (20:1–17)\n * The covenant described (20:18–23:33)\n * The people agree to the covenant; Moses returns to Mount Sinai (24:1–18)\n * Design of the dwelling and its furnishings; what was required of those who serve in it; dwelling functions (25:1–31:18)\n * The golden calf; Moses prays for the people (32:1–33:22)\n * The covenant described again (34:1–35)\n * Making of the ark and its furnishings (35:1–38:31) and priestly garments (39:1–43, 40:1–33)\n * The cloud (40:34–38)\n\n### What is the book of Exodus about?\n\nExodus continues the story of the previous book, Genesis. The first half of Exodus is about how Yahweh made Abraham’s descendants into a nation. This nation, which would be called “Israel,” was meant to belong to Yahweh and worship him. The second half of Exodus describes how God gave the Israelites his law through Moses. The law of Moses told the Israelites how to obey and worship Yahweh properly.\n\nThe book of Exodus tells how the Israelites were to build the dwelling. The dwelling was a tent where Yahweh would be among his people. The Israelites worshiped and sacrificed animals to Yahweh at the dwelling. (See: law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God and tabernacle)\n\n### How should the title of this book be translated?\n\n“Exodus” means “exit” or “departure.” Translators may translate this title in a way that can communicate its subject clearly, for example, “About the Israelites Leaving Egypt” or “How the Israelites Left the Land of Egypt.” (See: How to Translate Names)\n\n### Who wrote the book of Exodus?\n\nThe writers of both the Old and New Testaments present Moses as being very involved with writing the book of Exodus. Since ancient times, both Jews and Christians have thought that Moses wrote Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy.\n\n### Why did Moses write so much about God delivering or rescuing the people of Israel?\n\nMoses wrote much about God rescuing his people from the Egyptians to show that Yahweh is very powerful. Egypt was the most powerful nation at that time, but Yahweh was still able to free the Israelites from the Egyptians. Also, by rescuing the Israelites, Yahweh showed that he had chosen them as his people, and they should worship him.

How does the book of Exodus show the fulfillment of the promises given to Abraham?

The book of Exodus shows God beginning to fulfill his promise to Abraham. In Genesis, God promised Abraham that he would have many descendants and that they would become a large nation. When God rescued the Israelites from the Egyptians, he took them to Mount Sinai. There he made a covenant with them, and they became the nation that belonged to Yahweh.

Part 2: Important Religious and Cultural Concepts

What was the Jewish Passover?

The Jewish Passover was a religious festival. Yahweh commanded the Israelites to celebrate it every year. Passover was a time to remember how God rescued Israel from the Egyptians. The first Passover meal was eaten in the evening just before they left Egypt.

What was the law of Moses to the people of Israel?

The law of Moses instructed the people of Israel about what Yahweh required them to do as his people. In the law, God told the people how they should live so that they would honor him. He also instructed them about their need to offer animal sacrifices. God required these sacrifices so that he could forgive their sins and continue living among them. The law also described the duties of the priests and told how to build the dwelling.

What did it mean that Israel was to be a “kingdom of priests and a holy nation” (19:6 ULT)?

Israel was a holy nation because Yahweh separated them from all other nations to belong to him. They were to honor and worship him only. This made them different from all the other nations of the world; the other nations worshiped many false gods.

Part 3: Important Translation Issues

Thus says Yahweh

This phrase is used many times in the Old Testament to introduce Yahweh’s speech. Your team should pick a standard translation. See 4:intro for more.

Pharaoh’s stubborn heart

Between chapters 4 and 14, there are 18 cases where Pharaoh’s heart is described as strong (11x), heavy (6x), or hard (1x), and one case where the Egyptians’ hearts are described as strong. These are metaphors for being stubborn, that is, being unwilling to obey Yahweh or even to do what is clearly in his own and Egypt’s best interest. Many cultures have similar metaphors, but not all will use the same body part. Within these cases, six times there is a neutral description that Pharaoh was stubborn, without saying anyone made him so (7:13, 7:14, 7:22, 8:19, 9:7, 9:35); three times Pharaoh makes himself stubborn (8:15, 8:32, 9:34); and ten times Yahweh makes Pharaoh/the Egyptians stubborn (4:21, 7:3, 9:12, 10:1, 10:20, 10:27, 11:10, 14:4, 14:8, 14:17).

Why are the details of the construction of the dwelling in Exodus 25–32 repeated in Exodus 35–40? In Exodus 25–32, God describes exactly how the dwelling was to be built. The details were repeated in Exodus 35–40 in the description of the actual construction. This showed that the people were to be careful to do exactly as God commanded.

Are the events in the order that they actually happened? Most, but not all, of the events in the book of Exodus are told in the order that they actually happened. Translators may need to make it clear when the events are in an unusual order.

What does it mean that God “lived” among his people? The book of Exodus presents God as living in the dwelling among the nation of Israel. God is everywhere, but he lived among the Israelites in a special way. God dwelled with the Israelites because they belonged to him. He promised to lead them and bless them. In return, the people were to worship him and honor him.

Exodus 1 General Notes

Structure and Formatting

This chapter is intended to form a smooth transition from the last chapter of the book of Genesis.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Israel's growth

Israel grew in number. This was in fulfillment of the covenant God made with Abraham. It also caused the Egyptians great concern that there would be more Israelites than Egyptians, with the result that the Egyptians would be unable to defend themselves against such a large number of people. Pharaoh tried to kill all of the male babies so they would not become soldiers who fought against him. (See: fulfill, fulfilled, carried out and covenant)

End of the famine

It is obvious that some time has passed since the beginning of the famine which brought the Israelites into Egypt. Yahweh appears to be punishing the Hebrews for not returning to the Promised Land but instead choosing to stay in Egypt. No return attempt is recorded to have been made. (See: Promised Land and Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter

“All of the descendants of Jacob were 70 in number”

This number included both Jacob's children and grandchildren. It may cause confusion, but it is important to remember Jacob only had 12 sons.

Exodus 1:1

Verses 1–7 are background information for the story. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information) the ones who came...They came in (ULT) who went...who went (UST)

The words translated as came in could also be translated as “went in.” Use whichever form is most natural in your language. (See: Go and Come)

Israel...Jacob (ULT)

Israel’s sons...Jacob (UST)

Jacob and Israel are two names for the same man. (See: How to Translate Names) and his house (ULT)

and their families (UST)

Here, house refers to all of the people who live together, usually a large family with servants. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “and his household” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹ And these are the names of the sons of Israel, the ones who came to Egypt. They came in with Jacob, a man and his house:

UST

¹ These are the names of Israel's sons who went into Egypt with Jacob and their families:

Exodus 1:4

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴ Dan, and Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.

UST

⁴ Dan, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.

Exodus 1:5

And all the lives going out of the loins of Jacob, were 70 lives (ULT)

At that time}, Jacob had 70 total descendants (UST)

Here, lives refers to people (specifically, men); going out of the loins of Jacob is a reference to these people as being in his seed or semen and produced through his sexual acts—therefore meaning they are his descendants. See also Hebrews 7:9-10. Alternate translation: “And all the male descendants of Jacob numbered 70.” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁵ And all the lives going out of the loins of Jacob, were 70 lives. And Joseph was in Egypt.

UST

⁵ {At that time}, Jacob had 70 total descendants (including Joseph {and his sons} who were already in Egypt.)

Exodus 1:6

And...died (ULT)

After some time...died (UST)

They did not die immediately. Jacob and his sons spent the rest of their lives in Egypt and died there. If necessary, use a transition word that conveys that some time passed. (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship) and all his brothers (ULT)

and his brothers (UST)

All his brothers includes ten older brothers and one younger brother. If your language has different words for those, you can say, "his ten older brothers and his younger brother" (See: Kinship)

ULT

⁶ And Joseph and all his brothers and all that generation died.

UST

⁶ {After some time,} Joseph and his brothers and everyone else in their family who lived at that time died.

Exodus 1:7

And the sons of Israel (ULT) Jacob's} descendants (UST)

This is the first of many times in this book that sons of Israel refers to the Israelite nation or people. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "And the people of Israel" or "And the Israelites" (See: Metonymy) were fruitful and propagated and multiplied and were mighty (ULT) gave birth to many children. The number of his descendants grew, and they became... strong (UST)

All of these verbs mean similar things; they are used together to emphasize that the Israelites became very numerous. If your language doesn't have as many words that mean the same thing, you can use fewer words and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "had many children and became strong" (See: Doublet) were fruitful...and multiplied...and the land was filled (ULT) gave birth to many children...The number of his descendants grew...As a result, there were so many of them that...were everywhere in Egypt (UST)

Compare your translation of fruitful ... and multiplied ... and the land was filled here to Genesis 1:28, 9:1, 9:7, and especially Genesis 35:11 where God renamed Jacob to be called Israel.

were fruitful and propagated (ULT) gave birth to many children (UST)

The birth of children to the Israelites is spoken of as if they were plants that were producing fruit and causing new plants to grow around them. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "had many children" or "gave birth to many children" (See: Metaphor) with great greatness (ULT) extremely (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun greatness in another way. Alternate translation: "and were very great" (See: Abstract Nouns) and the land was filled with them (ULT) As a result, there were so many of them that} they were everywhere in Egypt (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "and they filled the land" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

⁷ And the sons of Israel were fruitful and propagated and multiplied and were mighty, with great greatness, and the land was filled with them.

UST

⁷ {Jacob's} descendants gave birth to many children. The number of his descendants grew, and they became extremely strong. {As a result, there were so many of them that} they were everywhere in Egypt.

with great greatness (ULT)
extremely (UST)

Here the same word is used twice to emphasize how many the Israelite people had become. If your language does not repeat words like this, express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: “with much power” (See: Idiom)

with them (ULT)
they (UST)

Here, them refers to the Israelites. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

Exodus 1:8

And...arose (ULT)

However, sometime later...began (UST)

This introduces a new event that happened some time after the events the story has just related. The story does not say how long after those events this new event happened. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

a new king (ULT)

a new king (UST)

The story begins with the new king. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character.(See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

And a new king arose over Egypt (ULT)

However, sometime later,} a new king began to rule in Egypt (UST)

Here, Egypt refers to the place and the people of Egypt. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "And a new king began to rule over the Egyptians and the country of Egypt" (See: Metonymy)

did not know Joseph (ULT)

did not know about {all the good things} Joseph {had done for the people of Egypt (UST)

Here, Joseph refers to both the person Joseph and to all of the good things that he did for Egypt. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. See the UST. (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁸ And a new king arose over Egypt, who did not know Joseph.

UST

⁸ {However, sometime later,} a new king began to rule in Egypt. He did not know about {all the good things} Joseph {had done for the people of Egypt}.

Exodus 1:9

Behold (ULT)

Look {at what has happened (UST)

Here, Behold draws special attention to what is about to be said. Use a way of drawing people's attention that is natural in your language.

Alternate translation: "Listen" (See: Exclamations)

his people (ULT)

his people (UST)

The people whom the king rules over and who are also part of his group (probably shared ethnicity, tribe, or clan) rather than the Israelite group are spoken of as if they belonged to the king. This is an instance of the possessive of social relationship. (See: Possession)

his people (ULT)

his people (UST)

There is some ambiguity as to whom exactly Pharaoh was addressing. It could have been: (1) the people who lived in Egypt, the Egyptians or (2) some group of "his people" like his advisors, generals, nobles, or friends and family. Even if option 1 is meant, it is quite possible that he actually spoke to some smaller group of representatives, as in option 2.

compared to us (ULT)

that they outnumber us Egyptians (UST)

Use a way that is natural in your language to compare non-specific sizes of groups of people. Alternate translation: "more than we are"

Behold (ULT)

Look {at what has happened (UST)

Beginning from behold and extending to the end of verse 10 is a direct quote of what the king said. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁹ And he said to his people, "Behold, the people of the sons of Israel are many and mighty compared to us.

UST

⁹ He said to his people, "Look {at what has happened}! There are so many Israelites that they outnumber us Egyptians!

Exodus 1:10

let us act wisely...the ones hating us...with us (ULT) find a way to control...our enemies...against us (UST)

The word us is inclusive and refers to the king and his people, the Egyptians. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We') toward him...he multiplies...and...adds himself...he...and he fights...and he leaves (ULT) them...there will be more of them...will join...the Israelites...and fight...and they will escape (UST)

Here, him, he, and himself refer to the Israelite people. The pronouns agree grammatically with the singular “people” in the original. This occurs in many places in Exodus. If this is confusing in your language, you can use the plural, as in the UST. (See: Collective Nouns) lest he multiplies, and it happens that a battle occurs (ULT)

If we do not do that, there will be more of them. Then, if enemies attack us (UST)

The king suggests a combination of two hypothetical events: 1. There are even more Israelites, 2. There is a battle. These are followed by a series of undesirable consequences: 3. The Israelites join an enemy, 4. The Israelites attack the Egyptians, 5. The Israelites leave Egypt. While the series of consequences is also technically hypothetical, the king’s language indicates that if 1-2 happen, then 3-5 are certain. Use language that makes it clear that the first two events are hypothetical and that the next three are consequences that could be expected if the first two events happen. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions) and he leaves from the land (ULT) and they will escape from our land (UST)

Alternate translation: “and he leaves Egypt”

the land (ULT)

our land (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of what the king said comes to an end. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹⁰ Come, let us act wisely toward him, lest he multiplies, and it happens that a battle occurs, and he even adds himself onto the ones hating us, and he fights with us, and he leaves from the land.”

UST

¹⁰ We must find a way to control them! If we do not do that, there will be more of them. Then, if enemies attack us, the Israelites will join with our enemies and fight against us, and they will escape from our land.”

Exodus 1:11

overseers of (ULT)
masters over groups of Israelite workers (UST)

Overseers were Egyptians whose job it was to force the Israelites to do hard work.

labor gangs (ULT)
masters over groups of Israelite workers (UST)

Here the plural means groups. Alternative translation: "work crews" in order to afflict him by their burdens (ULT) to cause them to suffer very much by making them work very hard (UST)

Alternate translation: "to force the Israelites to do hard work for the Egyptians"

cities of storage (ULT)
the cities...to store goods (UST)

These were places where the leaders put away food and other important things to keep them safe. Alternative translation: "cities in which to put away things to keep them safe"

cities of storage (ULT)
the cities...to store goods (UST)

The possessive is objective; storage of goods is what occurs in the cities. Alternate translation: "cities for storing things"(See: Possession)

ULT

¹¹ And they set over him overseers of labor gangs in order to afflict him by their burdens. And he built Pithom and Rameses, cities of storage for Pharaoh.

UST

¹¹ So the king and his officials put masters over groups of Israelite workers to cause them to suffer very much by making them work very hard. So the Israelites built the cities Pithom and Rameses to store goods for the king.

Exodus 1:12

And insofar as they afflicted him, thus he multiplied and thus he spread out (ULT)
But the more the Egyptians treated the Israelites badly, the more the Israelites had children, and the more they spread throughout Egypt (UST)

This sentence expresses a result that is the opposite of what the king expected. Use a natural way in your language for introducing a contrast. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

And they felt a sickening dread (ULT)
Therefore, the Egyptians were distressed (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun dread in another way. Alternate translation: “And they were afraid” (See: Abstract Nouns)

from the face of the sons of Israel (ULT) because of the Israelites (UST)

Here, face figuratively means the presence of a person. The phrase means that the Egyptians were afraid of the Israelites’ existence in their country. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “whenever they saw an Israelite” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹² And insofar as they afflicted him, thus he multiplied and thus he spread out. And they felt a sickening dread from the face of the sons of Israel.

UST

¹² But the more the Egyptians treated the Israelites badly, the more the Israelites had children, and the more they spread throughout Egypt. Therefore, the Egyptians were distressed because of the Israelites.

Exodus 1:13

And the Egyptians enslaved the sons of Israel with rigor (ULT)

The Egyptians ruthlessly made the Israelites work (UST)

Here, rigor is a noun used to modify the verb enslaved. Rigor could refer either to how hard the work was or how unkindly the Egyptians treated the Israelites. If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind it in another way. Alternate translation: "And the Egyptians made the sons of Israel work very hard" or "And the Egyptians harshly made the sons of Israel work" (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

¹³ And the Egyptians enslaved the sons of Israel with rigor.

UST

¹³ The Egyptians ruthlessly made the Israelites work

Exodus 1:14

And they embittered their lives (ULT) and made their lives miserable (UST)

The difficult lives of the Israelites are spoken of as if their daily lives were bitter food that was difficult to eat. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "And they made their lives difficult" (See: Metaphor)

by hard slavery (ULT) by forcing them to work hard (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind slavery in another way. Alternative translation: "by making them work hard as slaves" (See: Abstract Nouns)

by mortar (ULT) The Israelites built with bricks and mortar (UST)

This was a wet glue or mud put between bricks or stones that held them together when it dried. (See: Translate Unknowns) and by bricks (ULT) The Israelites built with bricks and mortar (UST)

Bricks are blocks made of clay or mud with straw in them. They are hardened in the sun or in another manner before they are used for building. (See: Translate Unknowns) all their work with which they worked for them was with rigor (ULT) The Egyptians ruthlessly gave them all sorts of work (UST)

See how you translated this in verse 13. Alternate translation: "the Egyptians made them work very hard" or "the Egyptians forced them to work very hard"

And they embittered...for them (ULT) and made...miserable...The Egyptians...gave them (UST)

These two pronouns refer to the Egyptians. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) their lives...their work...they worked (ULT) their lives...all sorts of work...The Egyptians...gave them (UST)

These three pronouns refer to the Israelites. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

¹⁴ And they embittered their lives by hard slavery, by mortar and by bricks, and by all kinds of slave labor in the fields; all their work with which they worked for them was with rigor.

UST

¹⁴ and made their lives miserable by forcing them to work hard. The Israelites built with bricks and mortar and did all sorts of agricultural work. The Egyptians ruthlessly gave them all sorts of work.

was with rigor (ULT)
ruthlessly (UST)

See how you translated this in the previous verse. (See: Abstract Nouns)

Exodus 1:15

This sentence introduces a new event in the story. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

to the...midwives (ULT)
Hebrew midwives...to them (UST)

Midwives were women who helped a pregnant woman give birth to a baby.

was Shiphrah...was Puah (ULT)
Shiphrah...Puah (UST)

Shiphrah and Puah are Hebrew women's names. (See: How to Translate Names)

was Shiphrah...was Puah (ULT)
Shiphrah...Puah (UST)

The midwives are introduced here as new participants in the story. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

ULT

15 And the king of Egypt spoke to the Hebrew midwives, of whom the name of the one was Shiphrah, and the name of the second was Puah.

UST

15 Now there were two Hebrew midwives named Shiphrah and Puah. The king of Egypt said to them,

Exodus 1:16

And he said (ULT)

When you help...have a baby (UST)

And the king said, is combined with “spoke” from verse 15 in the ULT because the verb for “say” is used twice before he speaks. This may be strange in some languages. If it would be unnatural to say twice that the king spoke or said words, you may leave one off.

When you assist the Hebrew women as midwives and you see on the birth stool, if he is a son, then you shall cause him to die, but if she is a daughter, then she shall live (ULT)

When you help...a Hebrew woman...have a baby...pay attention right as the baby is born.

If the baby is a boy, you must kill him. If the baby is a girl, you may let her live (UST)

This is a direct quote of what the king said. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

When you assist...as midwives...and you see...then you shall cause...to die (ULT)

When you help...have a baby...pay attention...you must kill (UST)

The king is speaking to the two midwives, so the form of you is plural. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual or plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

on the birth stool (ULT)

right as the baby is born (UST)

Women sat on this short stool as they gave birth. Therefore, it was associated with birth. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “as they give birth” (See: Metonymy)

if he is a son, then you shall cause him to die, but if she is a daughter, then she shall live (ULT)

If the baby is a boy, you must kill him. If the baby is a girl, you may let her live (UST)

These two statements are hypothetical conditions (starting at if) with instructions for what the midwives should do in each situation (starting at then). Use a natural form in your language for hypothetical situations connected to instructions. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

ULT

¹⁶ And he said, “When you assist the Hebrew women as midwives and you see on the birth stool, if he is a son, then you shall cause him to die, but if she is a daughter, then she shall live.”

UST

¹⁶ “When you help a Hebrew woman have a baby, pay attention right as the baby is born. If the baby is a boy, you must kill him. If the baby is a girl, you may let her live.”

Exodus 1:17

But...feared (ULT)

But...were afraid {to disobey...they (UST)

Use a conjunction or other language structure that expresses contrast. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

ULT

¹⁷ But the midwives feared God and did not do according to what the king of Egypt spoke to them, and they let the sons live.

UST

¹⁷ But the midwives were afraid {to disobey} God. So they did not obey what the king told them to do. They allowed the baby boys to live.

Exodus 1:18

to the midwives (ULT)
the two midwives (UST)

Women whose work is to help other woman give birth to a baby are called midwives. See how you translated this in Exodus 1:15.

Why have you done this thing, and let the sons live (ULT)
Why are you doing this? Why are you letting the baby boys live (UST)

This is a direct quote of the king's question. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) and he said to them, "Why have you done this thing, and let the sons live (ULT) and asked them, "Why are you doing this? Why are you letting the baby boys live (UST)

This could be translated as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: "and he asked them why they were letting the sons live." (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Why have you done this thing, and let the sons live (ULT)
Why are you doing this? Why are you letting the baby boys live (UST)

Alternate translation: "Why have you not killed the baby boys?"

have you done (ULT)
are you doing (UST)

This you is plural. The king is speaking to the two midwives. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual or plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

18 And the king of Egypt called out to the midwives, and he said to them, "Why have you done this thing, and let the sons live?"

UST

18 So the king summoned the two midwives and asked them, "Why are you doing this? Why are you letting the baby boys live?"

Exodus 1:19

Because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women: for they are lively, and, before the midwife comes to them, they have given birth (ULT)

We have not been able to obey you} because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women. Because they are energetic, the Hebrew women have their babies before we arrive to help them (UST)

This is a direct quote of the midwives' response. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹⁹ And the midwives said to Pharaoh, "Because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women: for they are lively, and, before the midwife comes to them, they have given birth."

UST

¹⁹ One of the midwives replied to the king, "{We have not been able to obey you} because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women. Because they are energetic, the Hebrew women have their babies before we arrive to help them."

Because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women: for they are lively, and, before the midwife comes to them, they have given birth (ULT)
We have not been able to obey you} because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women. Because they are energetic, the Hebrew women have their babies before we arrive to help them (UST)

The midwives give a reason, the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women, and then they expand on that reason, for they are lively (or energetic), with the result that before the midwife comes to them, they have given birth. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

And the midwives said (ULT)

One of the midwives replied (UST)

It may not make sense in your language to say that multiple people said something, so you may need to translate it in the singular (see UST). (See: Synecdoche)

the midwives (ULT)

One of the midwives (UST)

These were women who helped a woman give birth to a baby. See how you translated this in Exodus 1:15.

Exodus 1:20to the midwives (ULT)*to the midwives (UST)

These were women who helped a woman give birth to a baby. See how you translated this in Exodus 1:15.

And the people multiplied and became very mighty (ULT)Therefore, the {Hebrew} people became numerous and very strong (UST)

This sentence gives background information about the events at the time. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information)

And...multiplied...and became very mighty (ULT)Therefore...became numerous...and very strong (UST)

These words mean similar things and are used together to emphasize their numeric growth. If your language doesn't have as many words that mean the same thing, you can use fewer words and express the emphasis in another way. (See: Doublet)

And God caused good to the midwives (ULT)God acted kindly to the midwives (UST)

This phrase is more logically connected to the statements in verse 21. It describes the result of the midwives fearing God with a general statement. You may need to rearrange vs 20-21 so that the reason (vs 21) comes before both the general and specific results. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

²⁰ And God caused good to the midwives. And the people multiplied and became very mighty.

UST

²⁰ (Therefore, the {Hebrew} people became numerous and very strong.)
God acted kindly to the midwives

Exodus 1:21

since the midwives feared God (ULT) because...they were afraid {to disobey} him
(UST)

This is the reason for what God did. You may need to rearrange vs 20-21 so that the reason (vs 21) comes before both the general and specific results. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship) that he made houses for them (ULT)

He gave them each a husband and children
(UST)

This describes the result of the midwives fearing God with a specific statement. You may need to rearrange vs 20-21 so that the reason (vs 21) comes before both the general and specific results. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

houses (ULT)
a husband and children (UST)

Alternate translation: "households"

ULT

²¹ And it came about, since the midwives feared God, that he made houses for them.

UST

²¹ because they were afraid {to disobey} him. He gave them each a husband and children.

Exodus 1:22

You shall throw every newborn son into the river (ULT)

Throw every {Hebrew} baby boy that is born into the Nile River (UST)

This order was given in order to drown the male Hebrew children. The full meaning of this may be made explicit. Alternate translation: "You must dispose of each new baby boy in the river so he will drown" or "Drown each baby boy in the river when he is born" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

And Pharaoh commanded to all of his people, saying, "You shall throw every newborn son into the river, but every daughter you shall let live (ULT)

Then the king ordered all the Egyptian people, "Throw every {Hebrew} baby boy that is born into the Nile River! However, you can allow the baby girls to live (UST)

From You shall to the end of the verse is a direct quote of Pharaoh's speech. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. However, it could be translated as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: "And Pharaoh commanded all of his people to throw every baby boy into the river, but to let every girl live." (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

You shall throw...you shall let live (ULT)

Throw...you can allow...to live (UST)

The uses of the word you here refer to all the Egyptians. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

²² And Pharaoh commanded to all of his people, saying, "You shall throw every newborn son into the river, but every daughter you shall let live."

UST

²² Then the king ordered all the Egyptian people, "Throw every {Hebrew} baby boy that is born into the Nile River! However, you can allow the baby girls to live."

Exodus 2

Exodus 2 General Notes

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Covenant

God begins to relate to the Israelites based on his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Moses' heritage

In the first part of this chapter, Pharaoh's daughter recognizes Moses as being a Hebrew, but in the last part of this chapter, the Midianites believe him to be an Egyptian.

Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter

Identification of participants

- Moses is the only participant named in most of this chapter. This is because many of the participants play very minor roles and because this part of the story is focusing on Moses' life.

Ironic situations

- While Pharaoh tried to diminish the power of the Israelites by killing all of their baby boys, God used Pharaoh's own daughter to save Moses.
- Moses believes he is meant to be the rescuer of his people, but they reject him. Ultimately, Moses was correct, but God had not yet sent him for that mission.

Exodus 2:1

And...went (ULT)

Now there was (UST)

A new scene begins here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

a man...a daughter of (ULT)

a man...a woman who was also a descendant of (UST)

These are new participants. They remain unnamed until Exodus 6:20 where they are identified as Amram and Jochebed. For now it is best to leave them unnamed in your language, if possible. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants) and took a daughter of Levi (ULT)

He married a woman who was also a descendant of Levi (UST)

Here, took a daughter is an idiom for marrying. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression from your language. (See: Idiom)

¹ And a man from the house of Levi went and took a daughter of Levi.

UST

¹ Now there was a man who was a descendant of Jacob's son Levi. He married a woman who was also a descendant of Levi.

Exodus 2:2

good (ULT) was a healthy baby (UST)

Alternative translations: “pleasing” or “fine”

And she saw...and she hid him (ULT)
When she saw...wanted...keep him alive... she...to...so she} hid him (UST)

Hiding the boy was a result of seeing that he was good. Alternative translation: “Since she saw ... she hid him” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

three (ULT)
for three (UST)

3 (See: Numbers)

ULT

² And the woman conceived, and she birthed a son. And she saw him, that he was good, and she hid him three months.

UST

² She became pregnant and had a baby boy. When she saw that he was a healthy baby, she {wanted to keep him alive, so she} hid him for three months.

Exodus 2:3

an ark of papyrus reeds (ULT) a basket made from tall reeds (UST)

This is a basket made from a tall grass that grows by the Nile River in Egypt. (See: Translate Unknowns) and she daubed it with bitumen and with pitch (ULT) She covered the basket with tar {so it would float in water (UST)

You could explicitly state that this was to keep out water. Alternate translation: “and she daubed it with bitumen and with pitch to keep water from getting into it” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) and she daubed it (ULT) She covered the basket (UST)

This means that she applied a waterproof coating. (See: Translate Unknowns) with bitumen (ULT) with tar {so it would float in water (UST)

This is a sticky black substance made from oil. It can be used to keep out water. Alternate translation: “with tar” (See: Translate Unknowns) and with pitch (ULT) with tar...so it would float in water (UST)

This is a sticky brown or black substance that can be made from tree sap. It too can be used to keep out water. Alternate translation: “and with tar” or “and with resin” (See: Translate Unknowns) in the reeds (ULT) in the middle of the tall reeds (UST)

These reeds were a type of tall grass with wide blades that formed a flat surface when woven together. They grew in flat, wet areas. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

³ And she was not able to hide him still, and she took for him an ark of papyrus reeds and she daubed it with bitumen and with pitch. And she placed the child in it, and she placed it in the reeds along the shore of the river.

UST

³ When she was unable to hide him any longer, she got a basket made from tall reeds. She covered the basket with tar {so it would float in water}. Then she put the baby in the basket and put the basket in the water. It was at the edge of the Nile River, in the middle of the tall reeds.

Exodus 2:4

And his sister stationed herself at a distance (ULT)

His {older} sister hid nearby (UST)

This means she stood far enough away so that she would not be noticed, but close enough to see the ark. Use a word that expresses this sort of distance in your language.

at a distance (ULT) nearby (UST)

This probably means somewhere in the reeds where she could see the basket, but no one would see her. If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun distance in another way. Alternate translation: “not far away” (See: Abstract Nouns)

his sister (ULT)

His {older} sister (UST)

Here, the actions of his sister show that she was older. If your language uses a different term for siblings based on their relative ages or the gender of the siblings or both, use one that means “a boy’s older sister.” (See: Kinship) to know what would be done to him (ULT) so she could find out what would happen to him (UST)

This is her purpose in being close by. Alternative translation: “in order to learn what would happen to him” (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

ULT

⁴ And his sister stationed herself at a distance to know what would be done to him.

UST

⁴ His {older} sister hid nearby so she could find out what would happen to him.

Exodus 2:5

And...came down (ULT)

Soon...went down (UST)

Came down may be literal or figurative, as important places are often considered to be in a higher place. This means she came from her home, probably Pharaoh's palace. If a perspective is required for Pharaoh's daughter, you may choose go or come as works best in your language. "Come" is better as the scene is at the river and she comes to the scene location. However, you also need to consider your language's way of introducing new participants. (See: Go and Come)

And a daughter of Pharaoh came down (ULT)

Soon the king's daughter went down (UST)

The daughter of Pharaoh is introduced here as a new participant. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

and her young women (ULT)

Her female servants (UST)

These women are introduced here as new participants; however, they are not mentioned again after this verse. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants) along the hand of the river (ULT)

along the riverbank (UST)

Here, hand is a metaphor for side or, as relating to a river, shore. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you can simply translate the meaning. (See: Metaphor)

and her young women (ULT)

Her female servants (UST)

These were the young women whose job it was to be with her and make sure nothing bad happened to her.

and she took it (ULT)

When the servant brought it back,} the king's daughter took it from her (UST)

It is not clear who is meant by she here, either Pharaoh's daughter or the servant. It is likely that Pharaoh's daughter remains the subject. Alternative translation: "and she took the ark from her slave" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

⁵ And a daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash at the river, and her young women were walking along the hand of the river. And she saw the ark in the middle of the reeds, and she sent her slave woman, and she took it

UST

⁵ Soon the king's daughter went down to the river to take a bath. Her female servants walked along the riverbank. She saw the basket in the tall reeds in the river, so she sent one of her servants to get it. {When the servant brought it back,} the king's daughter took it from her and behold (ULT) was surprised (UST)

Exodus 2:6

The word behold signals the surprising information that follows.
(See: Exclamations)

And she had compassion on him (ULT) She pitied him (UST)

The text does not state exactly what caused her to have compassion on the baby. If a reason must be provided in your language, it should be connected to either his crying (this is the better option) or that he was a “good” baby (verse 2). (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

This one is from the children of the Hebrews (ULT) This must be a Hebrew baby (UST)

This is a direct quote. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. It seems to have been said loud enough for the baby’s sister to hear. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁶ and opened, and she saw him, the child—and behold, a crying boy. And she had compassion on him, and she said, “This one is from the children of the Hebrews.”

UST

⁶ and she opened it and was surprised to see a baby inside that was crying. She pitied him and said, “This must be a Hebrew baby.”

Exodus 2:7

and call for you a nursing woman from the Hebrews? And she could cause the child to nurse for you (ULT)

Do you want me to go...and find a Hebrew woman who will be able to nurse the baby for you (UST)

This is a direct quote of the baby's sister. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) and call for you a nursing woman from the Hebrews (ULT)

Do you want me to go...and find a Hebrew woman who will be able to nurse (UST)

This is a suggestive question. The child's sister is hopeful that Pharaoh's daughter does not yet have a plan for the baby beyond saving his life. However, it is still a true question, for without Pharaoh's daughter's permission, the child's sister will not be able to fetch the woman. If your language has a way of forming questions that are also suggestions, use it here.

nursing...And she could cause...to nurse (ULT) who will be able to nurse...who will be able to nurse (UST)

Here, nursing or to nurse means to feed with milk from the breast.

And she could cause the child to nurse for you (ULT) who will be able to nurse...the baby for you (UST)

This is the purpose of the sister's proposal. Alternative translation: "And she could nurse the infant for you" (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

ULT

⁷ And his sister said to the daughter of Pharaoh, "Should I go and call for you a nursing woman from the Hebrews? And she could cause the child to nurse for you."

UST

⁷ Then the baby's {older} sister {walked up} to the king's daughter and said, "Do you want me to go and find a Hebrew woman who will be able to nurse the baby for you?"

Exodus 2:8

Go...And...went (ULT)

Yes, go and find one...So...went (UST)

The girl left Pharaoh's daughter to go to the child's mother. The girl was almost certainly on foot. Use verbs of motion that express this. (See: Go and Come)

Go (ULT)

Yes, go and find one (UST)

This is a direct quote. Pharaoh's daughter commands the baby's sister. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁸ And the daughter of Pharaoh said to her, "Go." And the girl went and called the mother of the child.

UST

⁸ The king's daughter said to her, "Yes, go and find one." So the girl went and found the baby's mother {and brought her to the king's daughter}.

Exodus 2:9to her (ULT) to the mother (UST)

The child's mother is reintroduced as a participant. Use the natural form in your language for reintroducing a character. Alternative translation: "to the baby's mother" (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

Take this child and cause him to nurse for me, and I shall give your wages (ULT)
Please take this baby and nurse him for me. I will pay you for doing that (UST)

This is a direct quote. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

your wages (ULT)
will pay you for doing that (UST)

This refers to payment that Pharaoh's daughter would give to the mother in exchange for her service of nursing the baby.

And...took...and caused him to nurse (ULT)
So...agreed,} took...and nursed him (UST)

The mother's acceptance of the deal is implied. You could make it explicit, as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁹ And the daughter of Pharaoh said to her, "Take this child and cause him to nurse for me, and I shall give your wages." And the woman took the child and caused him to nurse.

UST

⁹ The king's daughter said to the mother, "Please take this baby and nurse him for me. I will pay you for doing that." So the baby's mother {agreed,} took him, and nursed him.

Exodus 2:10

And the child grew older, and she brought him (ULT)

When he had gotten bigger, his mother brought the boy (UST)

And the child grew older marks an unspecified amount of time. He would have stayed with his mother at least until he was weaned (no longer feeding on his mother's milk). (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship) and he became as a son to her (ULT)

She adopted him (UST)

Alternate translation: "and he became the adopted son of Pharaoh's daughter" and he became as a son to her. And she called his name Moses (ULT)

She adopted him...I will call him Moses (UST)

These events were likely simultaneous, because her act of naming him may have been what made him become as a son to her. Consider using a conjunction that does not make a great separation between these events. (See: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship)

Moses, and she said, "For out of the water I drew him (ULT) and said, "I pulled him out of the water, so...Moses (UST)

Translators may add a footnote that says, "The name Moses sounds like the Hebrew word that means 'draw out.'" and she said, "For out of the water I drew him (ULT) and said, "I pulled him out of the water, so (UST)

For begins a direct quotation. It could be stated indirectly. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. Alternate translation: "because she said she drew him out of the water" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

ULT

¹⁰ And the child grew older, and she brought him to the daughter of Pharaoh, and he became as a son to her. And she called his name Moses, and she said, "For out of the water I drew him."

UST

¹⁰ When he had gotten bigger, his mother brought the boy to the king's daughter. She adopted him and said, "I pulled him out of the water, so I will call him Moses."

Exodus 2:11

And it happened in those days that Moses had grown up. And he went out (ULT)

One day, after Moses had grown up, he went out {of the palace area (UST)}

A significant amount of time has passed; later texts state that Moses was 40 years old at this point. Alternative translation: "Many years later, once Moses was grown, he went out" (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship)

This introduces a new event in the story. In your language, use a phrase that indicates a new event occurring after significant time has passed. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And he went out (ULT)
he went out {of the palace area (UST)}

The UST supplies a probable location that he went out from; it could also have been simply out from the Egyptian area or out to the work area or cities. Use go or come as appropriate in your language. (See: Go and Come) striking a Hebrew man (ULT) beating...the Hebrews (UST)

Alternate translation: "hitting a Hebrew" or "beating a Hebrew"

ULT

¹¹ And it happened in those days that Moses had grown up. And he went out to his brothers and saw their burdens. And he saw an Egyptian man striking a Hebrew man from his brothers.

UST

¹¹ One day, after Moses had grown up, he went out {of the palace area} to see the hard work his people had to do. He also saw an Egyptian beating one of his people, the Hebrews.

Exodus 2:12

And he turned this way and that way (ULT)
He looked around {to see if anyone was watching (UST)

These two opposite directions have the combined meaning of “everywhere.” If this would be misunderstood in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “He looked all around” (See: Merism)

and he struck (ULT)
he killed (UST)

The context makes clear that Moses struck the Egyptian hard enough or repeatedly until Moses killed him. Consider using a word that indicates a deadly blow. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹² And he turned this way and that way, and he saw that there was no man, and he struck the Egyptian, and he hid him in the sand.

UST

¹² He looked around {to see if anyone was watching}. Seeing no one, he killed the Egyptian man and buried his body in the sand.

Exodus 2:13

And he went out (ULT)
he was out again (UST)

See how you translated this in Exodus 2:11. (See: Go and Come) second (ULT)

The next (UST)

The ordinal number here could mean “the next day” (UST) or simply on some day following the events of the previous verse. (See: Ordinal Numbers)

and behold (ULT)
He was surprised to see (UST)

Here, behold shows that Moses was surprised by what he saw. You can use a word in your language that will give this meaning. (See: Exclamations) to the guilty one (ULT) to the man who started the fight (UST)

Based on Moses’ question, this means the aggressor or the man wrongfully attacking his neighbor. Alternate translation: “the man who was guilty of starting the fight”

Why are you striking your companion (ULT)
Why are you hitting your fellow Hebrew (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹³ And he went out the second day, and behold, two Hebrew men were fighting. And he said to the guilty one, “Why are you striking your companion?”

UST

¹³ The next day he was out again. He was surprised to see two Hebrew men fighting each other. He said to the man who started the fight, “Why are you hitting your fellow Hebrew?”

Exodus 2:14

Who set you as the ruler man and judge over us (ULT)

No one put you in charge of judging us (UST)

The man is not asking a question, he is using this question to rebuke Moses for intervening in the fight. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "You are not our leader and have no right to judge us!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Who set you as the ruler man and judge over us? Are you saying to kill me like you killed the Egyptian (ULT)

No one put you in charge of judging us! Do not think you {will get away with} killing me like you killed that Egyptian yesterday (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Are you saying to kill me like you killed the Egyptian (ULT)

Do not think you {will get away with} killing me like you killed that Egyptian yesterday (UST)

The man used a question here to be sarcastic. Alternate translation: "We know that you killed an Egyptian yesterday. You had better not kill me!" (See: Irony)

Are you saying to kill me like you killed the Egyptian (ULT)

Do not think you {will get away with} killing me like you killed that Egyptian yesterday (UST)

Again, the man asks a question that is intended to make a statement. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Do you think you can kill me without anyone finding out? We know what you did to the Egyptian" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Are you saying to kill me (ULT)

Do not think you {will get away with} killing me (UST)

Alternate translation: "Are you planning to kill me" or "Are you threatening to kill me"

Certainly the thing is known (ULT)

Everyone knows what I did (UST)

It is likely this is something Moses said to himself, that is, he thought it to himself rather than speaking to the men in front of him. (See: Aside)

ULT

¹⁴ And he said, "Who set you as the ruler man and judge over us? Are you saying to kill me like you killed the Egyptian?" And Moses feared and said, "Certainly the thing is known."

UST

¹⁴ The man replied, "No one put you in charge of judging us! Do not think you {will get away with} killing me like you killed that Egyptian yesterday!" Then Moses was afraid, because he thought, "Everyone knows what I did."

and said, “Certainly the thing is known (ULT) because he thought, “Everyone knows what I did (UST)

It may be clearer to present what was likely a thought Moses had as an indirect quotation. Alternative translation (as indirect quotation): “because he thought that everyone knew what he had done” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Exodus 2:15

thing, and he sought to kill...Moses (ULT) that Moses killed an Egyptian, he ordered {his soldiers} to kill...Moses (UST)

Pharaoh most likely delegated this task. Alternative translation: "and he sought to have Moses killed" (note that the passive form will not work in every language) from the face of (ULT)

from (UST)

His face means his presence. Alternate translation: "from" (See: Metonymy)

And he dwelt...And he dwelt (ULT) and started to live...and started to live (UST)

In Hebrew, these are the same verb. In English, they could be translated as "settle," which can mean to dwell in a certain place, but it can also mean to lower one's body into a seated position. This could mean: (1) Moses lived in Midian. He sat by this well one day. This may have been the well for the town he lived in. (2) Moses lived in Midian. His home was by this well. (3) Moses was a wanderer. He was in Midian and sat by this well when the next event occurred.

ULT

¹⁵ And Pharaoh heard this thing, and he sought to kill Moses. And Moses fled from the face of Pharaoh. And he dwelt in the land of Midian, and he sat down by a well.

UST

¹⁵ When the king heard that Moses killed an Egyptian, he ordered {his soldiers} to kill Moses. But Moses ran away from the king {and left Egypt. He traveled east} to the region of Midian and started to live there. {One day as} Moses was sitting beside a well,

Exodus 2:16

And the priest of Midian had seven daughters (ULT)
seven women...They were all the daughters of the man who was the priest for the Midianites (UST)

This sentence is background information. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information)

And the priest of Midian had seven daughters (ULT)
seven women...They were all the daughters of the man who was the priest for the Midianites (UST)

This sentence marks a scene transition. However, the last clause of the previous verse (“and he sat down by a well”) seems to be related to this new scene, so you may want to make your transition before that, as is done in the UST. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

daughters (ULT) women...They were all the daughters of (UST)

The daughters are new participants. Use the natural form in your language for introducing new characters. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

And they came (ULT) came to the well (UST)

The perspective of the narrative is set at the well. The daughters came from elsewhere to the well. They were probably on foot. Here each language will need to choose the appropriate motion word. (See: Go and Come)

seven (ULT)
seven (UST)

7 (See: Numbers)

and drew (ULT)
They got water (UST)

This means that they brought up water from a well.

the troughs (ULT)
the troughs (UST)

The troughs were long, narrow, open containers for animals to eat or drink out of. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

16 And the priest of Midian had seven daughters. And they came and drew and filled up the troughs to cause the flock of their father to drink water.

UST

16 seven women came to the well. They were all the daughters of the man who was the priest for the Midianites. They got water and filled the troughs in order to give water to their father’s sheep and goats.

Exodus 2:17And...came (ULT)*came (UST)

A group of men came. They may not have been far away before coming and driving the women away. Use an appropriate form of moving verb. (See: Go and Come) the men who were shepherding (ULT)Some shepherds (UST)

These are new characters only seen briefly. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

but...arose (ULT)But...got up (UST)

Use an expression that communicates that what Moses did was unexpected. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

ULT

¹⁷ And the men who were shepherding came and drove them away, but Moses arose and saved them and caused their flock to drink water.

UST

¹⁷ Some shepherds came and {started to} chase them away. But Moses got up and rescued them and helped their sheep and goats to drink.

Exodus 2:18

And they came (ULT)

When his daughters returned (UST)

The daughters came from the well to their father, probably on foot. You can use either come or go, whichever is more natural. (See: Go and Come)

Reuel (ULT)

home...Jethro...who people also called} Reuel (UST)

Reuel, a name or perhaps a title, is used of the man only here and in Numbers 10:29. He is otherwise called "Jethro." (See: How to Translate Names)

Reuel (ULT)

home...Jethro...who people also called} Reuel (UST)

The priest of Midian was mentioned in v. 16 in a background statement but is a new character starting here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants) and he said, "Why have you hurried coming today (ULT) asked them, "How did you get back {from taking care of the sheep} so quickly today (UST)

This is a direct quote. You could use an indirect quotation such as "and he asked how they were able to return so quickly that day." (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

coming (ULT)

get back {from taking care of the sheep (UST)

Alternative translation: "in returning" (See: Go and Come)

ULT

¹⁸ And they came to Reuel their father, and he said, "Why have you hurried coming today?"

UST

¹⁸ When his daughters returned {home}, their father {Jethro (who people also called} Reuel) asked them, "How did you get back {from taking care of the sheep} so quickly today?"

Exodus 2:19

An Egyptian man rescued us from the hand of the men who were shepherding. And he even drew especially for us and caused the flock to drink water (ULT)

A man from Egypt kept the other shepherds from chasing us away. He also got water for us from the well and gave water to the sheep (UST)

This is a direct quote. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

An Egyptian man (ULT)

A man from Egypt (UST)

Jethro's daughters assume Moses was Egyptian. When you translate it, you should be clear that this refers to Moses.

from the hand of (ULT)

kept...from chasing us away (UST)

Here, hand figuratively refers to the power, control, or actions of the shepherds. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternative translation: "from the strength of" or "from the harm of" (See: Metonymy)

he...drew especially (ULT)

He...got water...from the well (UST)

This expresses surprise or emphasizes the magnitude of Moses' act of kindness to the women. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression from your language. (See: Idiom)

ULT

¹⁹ And they said, "An Egyptian man rescued us from the hand of the men who were shepherding. And he even drew especially for us and caused the flock to drink water."

UST

¹⁹ They replied, "A man from Egypt kept the other shepherds from chasing us away. He also got water for us from the well and gave water to the sheep."

Exodus 2:20

And where is he? What is this? You left the man (ULT)

By leaving him at the well, you did not show this man that we welcome strangers or even repay his kind act (UST)

These questions are a mild rebuke to the daughters for not inviting Moses into their home according to the normal hospitality of that culture. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "You should not have left this man at the well!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

²⁰ And he said to his daughters, "And where is he? What is this? You left the man? Call him and he shall eat bread!"

UST

²⁰ He said to his daughters, "By leaving him at the well, you did not show this man that we welcome strangers or even repay his kind act. Invite him in so that he can have something to eat!" {So they did, and Moses ate with them.}

And where is he? What is this? You left the man? Call him and he shall eat bread (ULT)

By leaving him at the well, you did not show this man that we welcome strangers or even repay his kind act. Invite him in so that he can have something to eat!" {So they did, and Moses ate with them (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

him (ULT)

him (UST)

Here, him refers to Moses. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

bread (ULT)

something (UST)

Here, bread is used to refer to food in general. If this would be misunderstood in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or plain language. Alternative translation: "food" (See: Synecdoche)

Exodus 2:21

And Moses was willing to dwell with the man (ULT)

Jethro {invited Moses} to stay with his family and Moses accepted {his offer (UST)}

Alternate translation: "Moses agreed to live with Reuel"

Zipporah (ULT)

Zipporah (UST)

Zipporah is Reuel's (Jethro's) daughter. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

²¹ And Moses was willing to dwell with the man, and he gave Zipporah his daughter to Moses.

UST

²¹ Jethro {invited Moses} to stay with his family and Moses accepted {his offer}. Jethro gave Moses his daughter Zipporah {to be his wife}.

Exodus 2:22

I have become a foreigner in a foreign land (ULT)

I am a foreigner living in a place foreign to me (UST)

Only this portion is a quotation. As a possibility for clarity, the UST includes both speech events as one quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Gershom (ULT)

Gershom (UST)

His name, Gershom, sounds somewhat like the Hebrew for “a stranger here.” You may consider using a footnote to explain that. (See: How to Translate Names)

I have become a foreigner in a foreign land (ULT)

I am a foreigner living in a place foreign to me (UST)

Alternate translation: “stranger in a foreign land”

ULT

²² And she birthed a son, and he called his name Gershom; for he said, “I have become a foreigner in a foreign land.”

UST

²² When she gave birth to {their first} son, Moses said, “I am a foreigner living in a place foreign to me, so I will name him Gershom.”

Exodus 2:23

And it happened in these many days that the king of Egypt died (ULT)

Many years went by. During that time, the king of Egypt died (UST)

This introduces a new section and series of events. A large amount of time went by. According to Stephen's sermon in Acts 7:30, Moses was in Midian 40 years. Alternative translation: "This is what happened during the many days Moses was in Midian. The king of Egypt died." (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Verses 23-25 give a summary of what happened in Egypt and with the Israelites and God while Moses was in exile. These verses give background information to set the scene. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information)

And...groaned (ULT)
were still groaning (UST)

They groaned because of their sorrow and misery. Alternate translation: "sighed deeply" and their plea ascended (ULT)

They cried...in heaven (UST)

The cries of the Israelites are spoken of as if they were a person and were able to travel up to where God is. Alternate translation: "and their cries arose" (See: Personification)

ULT

²³ And it happened in these many days that the king of Egypt died. And the sons of Israel groaned from the slavery. And they cried out, and their plea ascended to God from their slavery.

UST

²³ Many years went by. During that time, the king of Egypt died. The Israelites in Egypt were still groaning because of the hard work they had to do as slaves. They cried to God in heaven because of the work.

Exodus 2:24

and God remembered (ULT) he thought about (UST)

This a common biblical way of saying that God thought about what He had promised. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression from your language. Alternate translation: “and God recalled” (See: Idiom)

ULT

²⁴ And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob.

UST

²⁴ When he heard them groaning, he thought about his promise to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Exodus 2:25

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁵ And God saw the sons of Israel, and God knew.

UST

²⁵ God saw {how the} Israelites {were being badly treated}, and he comprehended.

Exodus 3

Exodus 3 General Notes
Structure and Formatting
This chapter records one of the most important events in the history of the Israelite people: the revelation of the name Yahweh at the burning bush. (See: reveal, revealed, revelation)

Special Concepts in this Chapter
God's holiness
God is so holy that people can not look upon him without dying. This is why Moses covered his eyes. It is also why he took off his shoes. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred and Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

Yahweh
The name Yahweh is sacred in the Hebrew religion. It is the personal name of God, which he revealed to Moses. It is by this name that he is known. Yahweh means "I am." Some translations use all capitals to set this apart, "I AM." Great care must be taken in translating the phrase "I am that I am." (See: Yahweh)

Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter

Participants
"The angel of Yahweh," "Yahweh," and "God" all appear to be speaking to Moses and interacting with him from the burning bush. Furthermore, God says that his name is "I AM." (See note above on Yahweh and I AM.) Yahweh and God are the same, while there is speculation about who the angel of Yahweh is.

Exodus 3:1

And Moses was shepherding (ULT) Moses, on the other hand, was taking care (UST)

This phrase brings the story focus back to Midian and Moses. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Verse 1 provides immediate background context, setting the scene for Moses' interaction with Yahweh. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information) the priest of Midian (ULT) who was a priest to the Midianite people (UST)

This is a possessive of social relationship. Jethro is a priest who serves the Midianites. (See: Possession) and he came to (ULT) He came to (UST)

Alternate translation: "and he arrived at" (See: Go and Come) the mountain of God (ULT) a mountain where God {would reveal himself to Moses and later to the Israelites (UST)

This is an associative possessive. This mountain was associated with God in some way. In Exodus 3:12 God tells Moses that he and the Israelites will serve him on this mountain. Later in the story, this promise is fulfilled, and it is where God makes his covenant with Israel and gives them the 10 Commandments. So it may have been called the mountain of God in retrospect (as Moses probably wrote this book sometime after the Israelites were wandering in the wilderness). However, it is possible that the mountain was already somehow associated with God's presence or worship before Moses went there with the flock. (See: Possession) ¹ And Moses was shepherding the flock of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian. And he led the flock beyond the wilderness, and he came to the mountain of God, to Horeb.

ULT

UST

¹ Moses, on the other hand, was taking care of the sheep that belonged to Jethro (his father-in-law who was a priest to the Midianite people.) One day, he took the flock to the far side of the wildland. He came to a mountain where God {would reveal himself to Moses and later to the Israelites} called Horeb.

Exodus 3:2

And the angel of Yahweh appeared to him in a flame of fire from the middle of a bush (ULT)

While he was there, Yahweh's messenger appeared to Moses as a fire inside a bush (UST)

This is a summary of what happened. The next few verses tell the story of how this happened and how Moses discovered what was happening.

Yahweh (ULT)

Yahweh's (UST)

This is the name of God that he revealed to his people in the Old Testament. See the translationWord page about Yahweh concerning how to translate this.

and behold, the bush was burning in the fire, but the bush was not being consumed (ULT) at the burning bush, amazed that the fire was not burning it completely to ashes (UST)

The word behold here shows that Moses saw something that was very different from what he expected. He expected the bush to be burnt up completely by the fire. Consider using an interjection in your language that expresses that what follows is a surprise. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

being consumed (ULT)

was...burning...completely to ashes (UST)

Here, being consumed means being eaten completely until gone. In the case of fire, this is a metonym for burning completely until gone. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "destroyed by the fire" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

² And the angel of Yahweh appeared to him in a flame of fire from the middle of a bush. And he looked, and behold, the bush was burning in the fire, but the bush was not being consumed.

UST

² While he was there, Yahweh's messenger appeared to Moses as a fire inside a bush. Moses stared at the burning bush, amazed that the fire was not burning it completely to ashes.

Exodus 3:3

Let me turn aside and see this great sight!

Why does the bush not burn up (ULT)

I will go closer to see this strange thing! Why is the bush not burning up (UST)

This is a direct quote. It's not specified who Moses spoke to; he may have been alone or with a group of shepherds or his family. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

great sight (ULT)

strange thing (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for something strange that someone sees, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun sight in another way. Alternate translation: "unusual thing that I see" (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

³ And Moses said, "Let me turn aside and see this great sight! Why does the bush not burn up?"

UST

³ He thought, "I will go closer to see this strange thing! Why is the bush not burning up?"

Exodus 3:4

Yahweh...God (ULT)

Yahweh...he (UST)

These terms both refer to the same being, since God's name is Yahweh.

ULT

⁴ And Yahweh saw that he had turned aside in order to look, and God called to him from the middle of the bush, and he said, "Moses, Moses." And he said, "Behold me!"

UST

⁴ When Yahweh saw Moses coming for a closer look, he called out from the bush, "Moses, Moses!" "Yes!" Moses replied.

Exodus 3:5

You must not come close to here. Take your sandals off from on your feet, for the place on which you are standing, it is holy ground (ULT) Take off your sandals {to honor me} before you come any closer, because you are standing on ground that is sacred {because it is near me (UST)}

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁵ And he said, "You must not come close to here. Take your sandals off from on your feet, for the place on which you are standing, it is holy ground."

UST

⁵ Yahweh said, "Take off your sandals {to honor me} before you come any closer, because you are standing on ground that is sacred {because it is near me.}" for the place on which you are standing, it is holy ground (ULT) because you are standing on ground that is sacred {because it is near me (UST)}

This is the reason Moses must stop coming close to the burning bush and take off his sandals. Your language may need to put the reason before the commands, as in, "The place on which you are standing, it is holy ground, so you must not come close to here. Take your sandals off from on your feet." (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

Exodus 3:6

I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob (ULT)

I am...God, the one that your father, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob all worshiped (UST)

All of these men worshiped the same God. Alternate translation: "the God of your father, of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob"

I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob (ULT)

I am...God, the one that your father, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob all worshiped (UST)

This a direct quotation. The UST continues the quotation from verse 5 rather than including an additional "he said." This may be more natural in some languages. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate the direct quotation with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

your father (ULT)

the one that your father...all worshiped (UST)

This could mean (1) "your father;" if it means "your father," then it refers to Moses' own father (2) "your ancestor;" if it means "your ancestor," then the phrases following it clarify who "your father" refers to: it refers to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. In most cases, it will be best to translate it as "your father," i.e. Amram, Moses' father.

And Moses hid his face, for he was afraid from staring toward God (ULT)

Moses was afraid {that God would kill him if he} looked at him, so he covered his face (UST)

Reason: for he was afraid from staring toward God Result: And Moses hid his face Some languages may need to put the reason before the result. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship and Exodus 33:20)

ULT

⁶ And he said, "I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." And Moses hid his face, for he was afraid from staring toward God.

UST

⁶ I am God, the one that your father, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob all worshiped." Moses was afraid {that God would kill him if he} looked at him, so he covered his face.

Exodus 3:7

And Yahweh said (ULT) Then Yahweh said (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues through the end of verse 10. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

I have certainly seen (ULT) I have watched closely (UST)

The Hebrew practice of verb repetition for intensification cannot be directly translated into English. Here, “see” is repeated in Hebrew. This expresses the intensity, certainty, or clarity of Yahweh’s having seen how his people were suffering. Use a natural form of strengthening a verb from your language. (See: Idiom)

the affliction of my people (ULT) how badly the Egyptians are treating my people (UST)

There are two possessives here: 1) “affliction of ... people”: This is an event-related possessive where the people are the objects of affliction. They are treated badly as slaves. 2) “my people”: This one is more difficult as it involves both ownership and the possessive of social relationship. God views his people as his possession, and he is also in relationship with them as their God because they are descended from Abraham, though at this time they may not know God as theirs. (See: Possession)

the affliction of...my people who are in Egypt (ULT) how badly the Egyptians are treating...my people in Egypt (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun affliction in another way. Alternate translation: “how my people who are in Egypt are afflicted” or “how the Egyptians afflict my people” (See: Abstract Nouns)

from the faces of those who oppress him (ULT) because of what the slave drivers are making them do (UST)

Here, faces refers to the whole person or the presence of the person(s) who were oppressing the Israelites. If this image is used in your language, you may translate it. If a similar image is used, you may consider using it. If neither is the case, you may omit the word “face” and translate the meaning. (See: Metonymy) those who oppress him (ULT) what the slave drivers are making them do (UST)

Alternate translation: “his oppressors”

ULT

⁷ And Yahweh said, “I have certainly seen the affliction of my people who are in Egypt. And I have heard their cries from the faces of those who oppress him. I surely know his anguish.

UST

⁷ Then Yahweh said, “I have watched closely how badly the Egyptians are treating my people in Egypt. I have heard my people shouting despairingly because of what the slave drivers are making them do. I am most certainly informed about how my people are suffering.

surely (ULT)
most certainly (UST)

Here, surely is intensifying the expression of Yahweh's knowledge. Your translation should express Yahweh's knowing with certainty or strength.

those who oppress him...his anguish (ULT) what the slave drivers are making them do...about how my people are suffering (UST)

These pronouns, him and his, refer to the Israelites as a group in the singular. They agree with "people" as a collective noun in 3:6. Some languages may have to use plural pronouns. Others may have to match the pronoun's gender to the grammatical gender of the word for "people" in their language. If necessary, change "him" to "them" or change "his" to "hers" or "its" (depending on grammatical gender of "people.") Alternate translation: "those who oppress them ... their anguish" (See: Collective Nouns)

his anguish (ULT)
about how my people are suffering (UST)

This is an event-related possessive where the people (as a group: his) are the subjects of anguish. Your translation should express that they are deeply distressed. (See: Possession)

his anguish (ULT)
about how my people are suffering (UST)

It is implied that they are deeply distressed because they are treated badly as slaves. You may make this explicit. Alternate translation: "his anguish from his slavery" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

his anguish (ULT)
about how my people are suffering (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun anguish in another way. Alternate translation: "how distressed they are" (See: Abstract Nouns)

Exodus 3:8

Verse 8 contains God's intended result from his acts of seeing and hearing, expressed in both verses 7 and 9. You may need to expressly mark this, for instance by introducing verse 8 with something like "Therefore," and verse 9 with something like "Again, because." (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

And I have come down (ULT) I am coming down from heaven (UST)

God is figuratively expressing that he is descending from heaven to earth to intervene. God is always everywhere, but this phrase means that his special attention will be directed to this situation. Use whatever form of come or go is appropriate in your language for this. (See: Go and Come) to deliver him...and to bring him up (ULT) to rescue them...I will lead them (UST)

Here, him refers in the singular to the Israelites as a group. It is agreeing with "people" as a collective noun in 3:6. Some languages may have to use plural pronouns. Others may have to match the pronoun's gender to the grammatical gender of the word for "people" in their language. See what you did in the previous verse. (See: Collective Nouns) from the hand of (ULT) from being slaves (UST)

Someone's hand is a common Biblical metaphor for power and control. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. (See: Metaphor) from the hand of the Egyptians (ULT) from being slaves to the Egyptians (UST)

This is a possessive where the Egyptians are the subject of the hand, which means power. The Egyptians used their power and control to oppress the Israelites. Use a phrase in your language that expresses the idea of a group of people having power. (See: Possession) to a good and wide land, to a land flowing with milk and honey (ULT) to a fertile land with plenty of room. It will be very good for raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

There are multiple levels of parallelism here. First, the statements, to a good and wide land and to a land flowing with milk and honey are in parallel with each other. Within each of those, good and wide are in parallel with each other, and milk and honey are in parallel with each other. Each of these levels is meant to reinforce and expand upon one another. These are not examples of synonymous parallelism, and each part of the statement should be translated. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

⁸ And I have come down to deliver him from the hand of the Egyptians and to bring him up from that land to a good and wide land, to a land flowing with milk and honey; to the place of the Canaanites and the Hittites and the Amorites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites.

UST

⁸ I am coming down from heaven to rescue them from being slaves to the Egyptians. I will lead them from Egypt to a fertile land with plenty of room. It will be very good for raising livestock and growing crops. The peoples called the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites live there now.

milk and honey (ULT)
raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

Here, milk is a metonym for domestic animals and the food products obtained from them; honey is a metonym for the food obtained from growing plants. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. See UST and the next note (See: Metonymy)

a land flowing with milk and honey (ULT)
It will be...very good for raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

God spoke of the land being good for animals and plants as if the milk and honey from those animals and plants were flowing through the land. If this metaphor makes sense in your language, you may translate it. If your language has metaphors that mean a land is good for producing healthy livestock and good crops, you may consider using those. If neither is the case, you may translate the meaning. See UST. (See: Metaphor)

flowing with (ULT)
very good for (UST)

Alternate translation: "full of" or "with an abundance of"

milk (ULT)
raising livestock (UST)

Since milk comes from cows and goats, this represents food produced by livestock. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "food from livestock" (See: Metonymy)

and honey (ULT)
and growing crops (UST)

Since honey is produced from flowers, this represents food from crops. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "food from crops" (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 3:9

This verse parallels verse 7. Yahweh is restating that the Israelite's plight has gotten his attention. This creates emphasis and connection to what Yahweh will do with what Moses will do as Yahweh's appointed leader. If this repetition would confuse your readers consider a paragraph break at the start of this verse to separate the two parallel statements or use some other strategy of emphasis and connection that is natural in your language. (See: Parallelism)

behold (ULT)

Truly (UST)

This is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. If there is not a good way to translate this term in your language, this term can be omitted from the translation, or you can use an alternate translation like "certainly." (See: Exclamations)

the cry of the sons of Israel has come to me (ULT)

I have...heard the Israelites crying (UST)

Here, the cry is spoken of as if it were a person who is capable of moving on his own. Alternate translation: "I have heard the cries of the people of Israel" (See: Personification)

I have seen the oppression with which the Egyptians are oppressing them (ULT)

I have...seen how badly the Egyptians treat them (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun oppression in another way. Alternate translation: "I have seen how the Egyptians are oppressing them" (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

⁹ And now, behold, the cry of the sons of Israel has come to me. And moreover, I have seen the oppression with which the Egyptians are oppressing them.

UST

⁹ Truly, I have now heard the Israelites crying. I have also seen how badly the Egyptians treat them.

Exodus 3:10

And now (ULT)

So now (UST)

And now functions as a discourse marker expressing logical conclusion. “So then,” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

from Egypt (ULT)

out of Egypt (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of what the Yahweh said starting in 3:7 ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹⁰ And now go, and I shall send you to Pharaoh, and bring out my people, the sons of Israel, from Egypt.”

UST

¹⁰ So now I will send you to do this: Go to the king of Egypt and lead my people, the Israelites, out of Egypt.”

Exodus 3:11

Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh, and that I should bring out the sons of Israel from Egypt (ULT)

I am not important enough to go to the king in order to bring the Israelites out of Egypt (UST)

Moses uses this question to tell God that he, Moses, is not the right person for the task. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. (See: Rhetorical Question)

Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh, and that I should bring out the sons of Israel from Egypt (ULT)

I am not important enough to go to the king in order to bring the Israelites out of Egypt (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹¹ And Moses said to God, "Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh, and that I should bring out the sons of Israel from Egypt?"

UST

¹¹ But Moses said to God, "I am not important enough to go to the king in order to bring the Israelites out of Egypt."

Exodus 3:12

I shall certainly be with you, and this will be the sign for you that I have sent you: when you bring the people out from Egypt, you all will serve God on this mountain (ULT)
Even so, you can trust that I will be with you. When you bring my people out of Egypt, all of you will worship me right here on this mountain. That will prove to you that I am the one who sent you to them (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

you all will serve (ULT)
all of you will worship (UST)

If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

¹² And he said, “I shall certainly be with you, and this will be the sign for you that I have sent you: when you bring the people out from Egypt, you all will serve God on this mountain.”

UST

¹² God said, “Even so, you can trust that I will be with you. When you bring my people out of Egypt, all of you will worship me right here on this mountain. That will prove to you that I am the one who sent you to them.”

Exodus 3:13

Behold, I am about to go to the sons of Israel, and I will say to them, ‘The God of your fathers has sent me to you.’ And they will say to me, ‘What is his name?’ what should I say to them (ULT)

If I go to the Israelites and say to them, ‘The God whom your ancestors worshiped has sent me to you,’ they will ask me, ‘What is his name?’ Then what should I say to them (UST)

This is a direct quotation containing two second-level quotes within it. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹³ And Moses said to God, “Behold, I am about to go to the sons of Israel, and I will say to them, ‘The God of your fathers has sent me to you.’ And they will say to me, ‘What is his name?’ what should I say to them?”

UST

¹³ Moses said to God, “If I go to the Israelites and say to them, ‘The God whom your ancestors worshiped has sent me to you,’ they will ask me, ‘What is his name?’ Then what should I say to them?”

Behold, I am about to go to the sons of Israel, and I will say to them, ‘The God of your fathers has sent me to you.’ And they will say to me, ‘What is his name (ULT)

If I go to the Israelites and say to them, ‘The God whom your ancestors worshiped has sent me to you,’ they will ask me, ‘What is his name (UST)

Moses presents God with a hypothetical situation here. The three events (go, say, say) are part of one hypothetical event. You should translate this in a way that makes it clear that this is a future, not-yet-real event. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

Behold (ULT)

If (UST)

Behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. In this case, Moses uses it to introduce what he views as a probable future occurrence. Alternative translation: “Now”

am about to go (ULT)

go (UST)

In your language, use go or “come” as makes most sense for Moses’ hypothetical action of going from the mountain to where the Israelites are. (See: Go and Come)

The God of your fathers has sent me to you (ULT)

The God whom your ancestors worshiped has sent me to you (UST)

This is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation inside a quotation. However, you may also choose to translate it as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: “that the God of their fathers has sent me to them” (See: Quotes within Quotes)

The God of your fathers (ULT)

The God whom your ancestors worshiped (UST)

Here, fathers figuratively means “ancestors.” Alternate translation: “The God of your ancestors” or “The God whom your ancestors worshiped” (See: Metonymy)

What is his name (ULT)

What is his name (UST)

This is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation inside a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

what should I say to them (ULT)

Then what should I say to them (UST)

Moses is asking God what he should do as a result of the hypothetical situation he presented. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

Exodus 3:14

I AM WHO I AM (ULT)

I AM WHO I AM (UST)

This is God's response to Moses' question about God's name. This can be made explicit. Alternate translation: "God said to Moses, 'Tell them that God says his name is "I AM THAT I AM."'"

I AM WHO I AM (ULT)

I AM WHO I AM (UST)

This could mean: (1) this whole sentence is God's name or (2) God is not telling his name but something about himself. By saying this, God is teaching that he is eternal; he has always lived and always will live.

I AM...I AM...I AM (ULT)

I AM...I AM...I AM (UST)

Languages that do not have an equivalent to the verb "am" may need to render this as "I LIVE" or "I EXIST."

And he said (ULT)

Tell...that (UST)

This indicates that God is still speaking. It may make more sense to omit this in some languages.

I AM sent me to you (ULT)

the God whose name means 'I AM' sent you to them (UST)

This is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation inside a quotation. However, you may also choose to translate it as an indirect quotation, as in the UST. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

ULT

¹⁴ And God said to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM." And he said, "You shall speak this way to the sons of Israel, 'I AM sent me to you.'"

UST

¹⁴ God replied to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM. Tell the Israelites that the God whose name means 'I AM' sent you to them."

Exodus 3:15

And God also said to Moses (ULT)

God also said to Moses (UST)

As God is still speaking, it may make more sense to omit this in some languages.

to Moses (ULT)

to Moses (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quotation begins that continues until the end of chapter 3 at verse 22. This section contains four levels of quotations as God tells Moses to tell the Israelite elders a specific message from God. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Yahweh, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, sent me to you. This is my name forever, and this is my memorial from generation to generation (ULT)

Yahweh has sent me to you. He is the God Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and your other ancestors worshiped. Yahweh is my eternal name, and this is the name by which people living at any time must remember me (UST)

This is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation. It may be possible to translate it as an indirect quotation, but you will need to be careful to correctly change the pronoun persons. Alternative translation: "You must tell the Israelites that Yahweh, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, sent you to them. This is his name forever, and this is his memorial from generation to generation." (See: Quotes within Quotes)

the God of your fathers (ULT)

He is the God...and your other ancestors worshiped (UST)

Here, fathers figuratively means "ancestors." Alternate translation: "the God of your ancestors" or "the God whom your ancestors worshiped" (See: Metonymy)

from generation to generation (ULT) people living at any time (UST)

The repetition of generation is indicating "to each and every generation" which figuratively means "for all people at all times." (See: Merism)

ULT

¹⁵ And God also said to Moses, "You shall speak this way to the sons of Israel: 'Yahweh, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, sent me to you. This is my name forever, and this is my memorial from generation to generation.'

UST

¹⁵ God also said to Moses, "You must say this to the Israelites, 'Yahweh has sent me to you. He is the God Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and your other ancestors worshiped. Yahweh is my eternal name, and this is the name by which people living at any time must remember me.'

Exodus 3:16

Yahweh (ULT)Yahweh (UST)

This begins a second-level quotation that continues until the end of verse 17. It contains a third-level quotation that begins at “I have certainly” and also continues to the end of verse 17. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation. The closing marks for both the second and third-level quotations should not occur until the end of verse 17. (See: Quote Markings)

the God of your fathers (ULT)He is the God...and your other ancestors worshiped (UST)

Here, fathers figuratively means “ancestors.” Alternate translation: “the God of your ancestors” or “the God whom your ancestors worshiped” (See: Metonymy)

Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (ULT)Abraham...Isaac, Jacob (UST)

Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob were three of the Israelites’ ancestors. They all worshiped the same God.

I have certainly attended (ULT)I have come down to carefully watch {and do something (UST)

This begins a third-level quotation that continues until the end of verse 17. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening third-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation that is within a quotation. The closing marks for both the second-level and third-level quotations should not occur until the end of verse 17. (See: Quote Markings)

I have certainly attended (ULT)I have come down to carefully watch {and do something (UST)

The word translated attended often means God is coming to take action. Translate this phrase in a way that communicates God’s focused, caring observation. (See: Idiom)

I have certainly attended (ULT)I have come down to carefully watch {and do something (UST)

Here, attended is repeated in Hebrew. The Hebrew practice of verb repetition for intensification cannot be directly translated into English. This expresses the intensity, certainty, or clarity of Yahweh’s having attended to how his people were suffering. Use a natural form of strengthening a verb from your language. (See: Idiom)

ULT

16 Go and gather the elders of Israel, and say to them, ‘Yahweh, the God of your fathers, appeared to me, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to say, “I have certainly attended to you and what is being done to you in Egypt,

UST

16 Go call a meeting with all the Israelite leaders. Tell them, ‘Yahweh appeared to me. He is the God Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and your other ancestors worshiped. He said: “I have come down to carefully watch {and do something about} what the Egyptians are doing to you.

to you (ULT)I have come down to...watch...and do something (UST)

The word you refers to the people of Israel. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

what is being done (ULT)about} what...are doing (UST)

The focus of this passive is the mistreatment being done to the Israelites, not on who is doing it. In fact, in Egypt further dissociates the actors from this sentence. If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language, as in the UST. (See: Active or Passive)

in Egypt (ULT)the Egyptians (UST)

The phrase in Egypt is a metonym for the Egyptian oppressors. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternative translation: “by the Egyptians” (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 3:17

If you are using direct quotations, at the end of this verse you should have three closing markers. In English, it looks like ''' (without spaces). (See: Quote Markings)

I will bring you up from affliction in Egypt to the land of the Canaanites and the Hittites and the Amorites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites, to a land flowing with milk and honey (ULT)

I will rescue you from the Egyptians who treat you badly. I will take you to the land where the peoples called the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites live now. The land is excellent for raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

This is a fourth-level quotation. It should be marked in some manner that distinguishes it from the outer three levels. Alternatively, it can be translated as an indirect quotation, as in the UST. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

I will bring...up (ULT)

I will rescue...I will take (UST)

Regardless of the geographic realities, to bring up does not primarily have a literal meaning. Rather, it means to bring the Israelites into a better situation. God promised to bring them up from their low status as slaves to a place where they would be the masters of a good land. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression from your language. (See: Idiom)

from affliction (ULT)

from...treat you badly (UST)

See how you translated affliction in 3:7. Alternate translation: "from being afflicted" (See: Abstract Nouns)

milk and honey (ULT)

for raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

Here, milk is a metonym for domestic animals and the food products obtained from them; honey is a metonym for the food obtained from growing plants. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. See UST and the next note (See: Metonymy)

a land flowing with milk and honey (ULT)

The land...is excellent for raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

God spoke of the land being good for animals and plants as if the milk and honey from those animals and plants were flowing through the land. See how you translated this in Exodus 3:8. Alternate translation: "a land that is excellent for raising livestock and growing crops" or "a land where milk and honey flow" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

17 and I said, 'I will bring you up from affliction in Egypt to the land of the Canaanites and the Hittites and the Amorites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites, to a land flowing with milk and honey.'"

UST

17 I promise that I will rescue you from the Egyptians who treat you badly. I will take you to the land where the peoples called the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites live now. The land is excellent for raising livestock and growing crops."

flowing with (ULT)
is excellent (UST)

Alternate translation: "full of" or "with an abundance of"

milk (ULT)
for raising livestock (UST)

Since milk comes from cows and goats, this represents food produced by livestock. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "food from livestock" (See: Metonymy)

and honey (ULT)
and growing crops (UST)

Since honey is produced from flowers, this represents food from crops. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "food from crops" (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 3:18

And they will listen to your voice (ULT) The leaders will do what you say (UST)

Listen often means “hear and do/obey.” If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression from your language. Alternative translation: “And they will pay attention to your voice” (See: Idiom) to your voice...you (ULT) what you say...you (UST)

The word you refers to Moses. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) to your voice (ULT) what you say (UST)

This phrase means the elders will listen to the message Moses brings from God. Alternative translation: “to your message” or “to my message which you tell them” (See: Synecdoche) and the elders of Israel (ULT) and the leaders (UST)

This is a possessive of social relationship. Alternative translation: “elders in charge of the Israelites” (See: Possession)

Israel (ULT) and the leaders (UST)

Israel is a collective noun that refers to all the Israelites. Alternative translation: “the Israelites” or “the Israelite people” (See: Collective Nouns)

Egypt (ULT) the king of Egypt (UST)

Here, Egypt refers to the Egyptian nation. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “the Egyptians” (See: Metonymy) and you all will say (ULT) and you will say (UST)

If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

18 And they will listen to your voice. And you and the elders of Israel will go to the king of Egypt, and you all will say to him, ‘Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews, has met with us. And now please let us go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and let us sacrifice to Yahweh, our God.’

UST

18 The leaders will do what you say. Then you and the leaders will go to the king of Egypt, and you will say to him, ‘Yahweh, the God whom we Hebrews worship, has made a special visit to us. Please allow us to travel for a few days to a place in the wilderness in order that there we may offer sacrifices to Yahweh, the God we worship.’

with us...let us go...and let us sacrifice (ULT) to us...allow us to travel...in order that there we may offer sacrifices (UST)

These instances of us are exclusive; they include Moses, the elders, and all the Israelites, but exclude the king of Egypt. If your language makes this distinction, verify that you used the correct form. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We')

three (ULT)
for a few days (UST)

Alternate translation: "3" (See: Numbers)

Exodus 3:19

and not with a strong hand (ULT) not even by force (UST)

The word hand is a metonym for the power of the owner of the hand. There are two further difficulties: (1) Whose hand (power) is being referred to, (2) does the negative mean “not unless” or “not even?” Possible meanings include: (1) “only if he sees that he has no power to do anything else,” where the hand belongs to Pharaoh (2) “only if I force him to let you go,” where the hand belongs to Yahweh, taking “not unless” for the negative (3) “not even if I force him to let you go,” where the hand belongs to Yahweh, taking “not even” for the negative (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁹ And I know that the king of Egypt will not permit you to go, and not with a strong hand.

UST

¹⁹ But I know that the king of Egypt will not allow you to go; not even by force.

Exodus 3:20And I shall send out (ULT)*So I will act...powerfully...hurt (UST)

God says this will be a result of the king of Egypt's stubbornness.
Alternate translation: "Therefore, I will send out" (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

And I shall send out my hand (ULT)So I will act...powerfully...hurt (UST)

Here, hand refers to God's power. Alternate translation: "I will use my strength" (See: Metonymy)

Egypt (ULT)the Egyptians (UST)

Egypt refers to both the land and the people group, and then, by extension, to Pharaoh as well. (See: Metonymy)

Egypt...within him (ULT)the Egyptians...very...and I will...with very bad things that only I can do (UST)

Here, him refers to Egypt as a collective.

my wonders (ULT)very...and I will...with very bad things that only I can do (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun wonders in another way. Alternate translation: "my amazing acts" (See: Abstract Nouns)

And after that (ULT)Then (UST)

Here the sequential nature of these happenings is emphasized. Consider using a stronger sequential connective term than usual here. (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship)

he will send (ULT)he will chase...away (UST)

Here, he refers to the Pharaoh, the king of Egypt. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

you out (ULT)you (UST)

Here, you refers to the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

²⁰ And I shall send out my hand, and I shall strike Egypt with all my wonders, which I shall do within him. And after that, he will send you out.

UST

²⁰ So I will act very powerfully, and I will hurt the Egyptians with very bad things that only I can do. Then he will chase you away.

Exodus 3:21

favor...in the eyes of the Egyptians (ULT) to be willing to help...the Egyptians (UST)

In the eyes of the Egyptians is an idiom for the Egyptian's feelings. Favor means those feelings are positive. Taken together, this means that when the Egyptians see the Israelites (Hebrews) leaving Egypt, they will gladly help them (because they want them to leave so badly due to the Egyptians suffering under God's judgment). If your language has the same or a similar idiom, you can translate or use it. Otherwise, you can translate the meaning. (See: Idiom)

in the eyes of the Egyptians (ULT) the Egyptians (UST)

This is a part-whole possessive. Also, if your language uses a specific form of the possessive for things one cannot lose, it would be appropriate to use that form here. (See: Possession)

this people (ULT) you Hebrews (UST)

Alternate translation: "you"

when you go...you will...go (ULT) when you leave Egypt...you will...go out (UST)

If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

when you go...you will...go (ULT) when you leave Egypt...you will...go out (UST)

Alternate translation: "leave" or "go out" or "come out" (See: Go and Come) not...emptily (ULT) not...like poor slaves (UST)

The double negative, not ... emptily is used to mean "full." Alternate translation: "[go] with many things" (See: Double Negatives) you will not go emptily (ULT) you will not go out like poor slaves (UST)

This phrase is used to emphasize the opposite meaning. Alternate translation: "you will go with your hands full of good things" or "you will go with many valuable things" (See: Litotes)

ULT

²¹ And I shall give this people favor in the eyes of the Egyptians, and it will be that when you go, you will not go emptily.

UST

²¹ When this happens, I will cause the Egyptians to be willing to help you Hebrews so that, when you leave Egypt, you will not go out like poor slaves.

and from one sojourning in her house (ULT) or visiting (UST)

The word, sojourning means living somewhere other than one's native land, usually temporarily. It is unclear both who the sojourning (visiting) women are and in whose house they are sojourning, leaving several possibilities. Most translations which make a decision about who they are identify both the temporary resident and her host home as Egyptian. This makes sense as the Israelites will be plundering the Egyptians. If it is possible to leave this ambiguous in your translation, that would be best.

And you will put them on your sons and on your daughters, and you will plunder (ULT) You will be able to have your children wear the things they give you. That is how you will take everything from (UST)

Each of these is a plural you. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

the Egyptians (ULT) the Egyptians (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Yahweh's word which started in verse 15 ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²² And a woman will ask from her neighbor and from one sojourning in her house for items of silver and items of gold and clothing. And you will put them on your sons and on your daughters, and you will plunder the Egyptians."

UST

²² At that time, each Hebrew woman will ask the women living or visiting nearby for things made from silver and gold and for clothing. You will be able to have your children wear the things they give you. That is how you will take everything from the Egyptians."

Exodus 4

Exodus 4 General Notes

Potential Translation Issues

Quotations

- There is a difficult transition between 4:4 and 4:5 because the quotation stops in the middle to inject a bit of narrative. When it resumes in 4:5, the sentence seems incomplete (even if merged directly with the quotation fragment in 4:4). (See: Ellipsis)* Yahweh's instructions to Moses are complex, and there are up to four levels of quotations in this chapter. Translators will need to decide if some of these need to become indirect quotations (if that is possible in their language) and take great care to use the proper quotation markings in the proper locations.

Order of events

- The order of events is not always clear. In 4:14 Yahweh tells Moses that Aaron is coming to meet him, but Yahweh telling Aaron to go meet Moses in the wilderness is not recorded until 4:27.
- The timing of the events in 4:18-4:27, especially verses 18-19 and 27 in relation to the rest of the events of the chapter, is unclear.

Thus says Yahweh

The first of over 400 occurrences throughout the Old Testament of a standard phrase used to introduce direct, authoritative instruction from Yahweh occurs in 4:22. It occurs ten times in the book of Exodus; nine of these are between chapters 4-11. It would be good for your team to have a standard way to translate this that makes it clear that the words that come next are directly from God. If your language has a standard way of introducing a new message from your leader that alerts the hearers that these are the words of the leader, that would be a good phrase to consider.

Yahweh's attempt to kill someone

The encounter recorded from 4:24 to 4:26 is one of the strangest and most difficult passages in the entire book. Difficulties include:

- To whom do the pronouns refer? Masculine pronouns are used throughout the section, but there are two possible antecedents, Moses (who is not named in the narrative) and Zipporah's son (who was presumably also Moses' son, but this is how he is referred to in this text. For why, see below on why Yahweh did this). Most commentators believe the pronouns refer to Moses.
- Circumcision is described in fairly graphic detail. Different cultures will need to approach this differently. Some may have terms for circumcision, while others may be comfortable translating mostly literally, and others will need to use euphemisms or other strategies to translate. (See: circumcise, circumcised, circumcision, uncircumcised, uncircumcision)* The meaning of the phrase a bridegroom of blood (ULT) is unknown.
- Why did Yahweh attack Moses? Many commentators conclude that Moses had neglected to circumcise one of his sons because it displeased Zipporah, and Yahweh was holding Moses responsible before he returned to lead the Israelites (who should have been circumcised). When Zipporah repented by circumcising the son herself and touching the foreskin to Moses' feet, Yahweh relents. These conclusions should help inform translation but should not be made explicit in the text.

Study Concepts in this Chapter

Moses does not understand

Although Moses believes in Yahweh, he does not trust in him. This is because Moses lacks understanding. Moses tries to believe the things he is asked to do are done by his own power. Yahweh is trying to get Moses to trust that these things are Yahweh's doing. (See: believe, believer, belief, unbeliever, unbelief and trust, trusted, trustworthy, trustworthiness)

Children of God

This chapter introduces the concept that Israel, the people group, is the chosen people of God and God's firstborn son. (See: chosen, choose, chosen people, Chosen One, elect and people of God and firstborn)

Yahweh hardened Pharaoh's heart

Scholars are divided over how to understand this statement. There is debate over whether Pharaoh plays an active or passive role in the hardening of his own heart. Translators should simply follow the text. In Exodus 4-14 there are ten statements that Yahweh hardens Pharaoh's heart, and ten statements that Pharaoh hardens his own heart. (See: Active or Passive)

Exodus 4:1

And Moses answered and said (ULT)

Moses replied to God (UST)

Here, answered and said is a Hebrew expression which does not convey any extra information. Unless your language naturally uses a similar structure, it is better to translate one verb and omit the other. Alternate translation: "Moses answered"

But look, they will not believe me, and they will not listen to my voice; for they will say, 'Yahweh has not appeared to you (ULT) They will completely disbelieve me and ignore me because they will think, 'Yahweh did not appear to you (UST)

to my voice (ULT)

me (UST)

See 3:18. Alternate translation: "to what I say" (See: Metonymy)

Yahweh has not appeared to you (ULT)

Yahweh did not appear to you (UST)

This is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. However, you could translate it as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: "that Yahweh has not appeared to me" (See: Quotes within Quotes)

But look (ULT)

completely (UST)

This is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. If there is not a good way to translate this term in your language, this term can be omitted from the translation, or you can use an alternate translation like "Listen to me."

ULT

¹ And Moses answered and said, "But look, they will not believe me, and they will not listen to my voice; for they will say, 'Yahweh has not appeared to you.'"

UST

¹ Moses replied to God, "They will completely disbelieve me and ignore me because they will think, 'Yahweh did not appear to you.'"

Exodus 4:2to him...And he said (ULT)*to him...Moses answered (UST)

Alternate translation: "to Moses ... And Moses said" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

What is that in your hand (ULT)What is that in your hand (UST)

A staff (ULT)A staff (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

² And Yahweh said to him, "What is that in your hand?" And he said, "A staff."

UST

² Yahweh said to him, "What is that in your hand?" Moses answered, "A staff."

Exodus 4:3

Throw it to the ground (ULT)

Throw it down on the ground (UST)

from its face (ULT)

from it (UST)

Here, "face" figuratively represents the snake itself. Alternative translation: "from the snake" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³ And he said, "Throw it to the ground."
And he threw it to the ground, and it became a snake. And Moses fled from its face.

UST

³ Yahweh said, "Throw it down on the ground!" So Moses threw the staff on the ground. It became a snake and Moses ran away from it.

Exodus 4:4and take it by its tail (ULT)*Pick up the snake...by its tail (UST)

Alternate translation: “and pick it up by the tail” or “and grasp it by the tail”

Reach out your hand and take it by its tail (ULT)Pick up the snake by its tail (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Reach out your hand and take it by its tail (ULT)Pick up the snake by its tail (UST)

This direct quotation is interrupted by Moses obeying Yahweh. This is probably a tightly ordered sequence of events where Yahweh paused and then continued speaking immediately after Moses obeyed. The quote resumes in verse 5, and there is more discussion there about how to handle the resumption. (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship) and it became a staff (ULT)and it became a staff...again (UST)

Alternate translation: “and it turned into a rod” or “and it changed into a staff”

ULT

⁴ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Reach out your hand and take it by its tail”—and he reached out his hand and he caught it to him, and it became a staff in his palm—

UST

⁴ Then Yahweh said to Moses, “Pick up the snake by its tail.” So Moses picked up the snake by the tail, and it became a staff in his hand again.

Exodus 4:5

in order to cause them to believe that Yahweh appeared to you, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob (ULT)

Yahweh said, “Do the same thing in front of the} Israelite elders in order that they may believe that I, Yahweh, the God that Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and your other ancestors worshiped, truly appeared to you (UST)

This continues the direct quotation from the first part of verse 4. It may be more natural to reorganize verses four and five to keep the quote together. If you rearrange like this, Moses picking up the snake/staff should come after the full quotation. However, it is better to do something similar to the UST, which restates that Yahweh is speaking and provides some implied directives from Yahweh to make a complete sentence. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁵ “in order to cause them to believe that Yahweh appeared to you, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.”

UST

⁵ {Yahweh said, “Do the same thing in front of the} Israelite elders in order that they may believe that I, Yahweh, the God that Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and your other ancestors worshiped, truly appeared to you.”

in order to cause them to believe that Yahweh appeared to you, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob (ULT)

Yahweh said, “Do the same thing in front of the} Israelite elders in order that they may believe that I, Yahweh, the God that Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and your other ancestors worshiped, truly appeared to you (UST)

This quote is not a complete sentence; the UST provides a clarification. (See: Ellipsis) cause them to believe...their fathers (ULT)

Yahweh said...Do the same thing in front of the} Israelite elders in order that they may believe...and your other ancestors worshiped (UST)

These pronouns refer either to the Israelites or to the Israelite elders. God had instructed Moses to gather and speak to the elders; if you make this participant explicit, elders is a better option. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) to you (ULT)

to you (UST)

This pronoun refers to Moses. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob (ULT)

the God that Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and your other ancestors worshiped (UST)

Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob were three of their ancestors. They all worshiped the same God.

Exodus 4:6

Put your hand in your bosom (ULT)
Put your hand on your chest inside your robe (UST)

and behold (ULT)
had (UST)

This word, behold, is used to create an exclamation, showing surprise. (See: Exclamations)

like snow (ULT)
look as white as snow (UST)

The word like (ULT) or “as” (UST) here is used to compare how Moses’ hand looked. You may not have a word for snow in your language. If so, consider an alternative that describes something very white. You may need to make the whiteness explicit. Alternate translation: “that made it look white like wool” or “that made it look white like the sand on the beach” (See: Simile)

ULT

⁶ And Yahweh also said to him, “Put your hand in your bosom.” And he put his hand in his bosom. And he brought it out, and behold, his hand was being struck with a skin disease like snow.

UST

⁶ Yahweh gave Moses another instruction: “Put your hand on your chest inside your robe.” Moses put his hand into his robe. When he brought his hand out, it had a disease that made the skin look as white as snow.

Exodus 4:7

Return your hand into your bosom (ULT)

Put your hand in your robe again (UST)

and behold (ULT)

amazingly (UST)

This word is used to create an exclamation, showing surprise. (See: Exclamations)

ULT

⁷ And he said, "Return your hand into your bosom." And he returned his hand into his bosom, and he brought it out from his bosom, and behold, it was restored like his flesh.

UST

⁷ Then Yahweh said, "Put your hand in your robe again." Moses put his hand back inside his robe. This time when he brought it out, amazingly, the skin on his hand looked like the rest of his skin again.

Exodus 4:8

And it will be (ULT)
Yahweh said, “You can do that in front of the Israelite people, too.} And (UST)

Yahweh’s speech resumes here and continues through the end of verse 9. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) and they do not listen to the voice of the first sign, then they will believe the voice of the following sign (ULT) or listen to you after seeing the first miracle, they will believe you when you perform the second miracle (UST)

Here each sign is spoken of as if it had a voice with which it could speak. If this imagery would not make sense in your language, you may need to translate this in a way that makes explicit that the signs are meant to be proof that God sent Moses. Alternative translation: “and are not convinced that God has appeared to you by seeing the first sign, then they will be convinced by seeing the second sign.” (See: Personification)

they do...believe...they do...listen...then they will believe (ULT)
they do...believe...listen...they will believe (UST)

These pronouns refer either to the Israelites or to the Israelite elders. God had instructed Moses to gather and speak to the elders; if you make this participant explicit, elders is the better option, but be sure to do the same as you did in verse 5. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) they do not believe...then they will believe (ULT)

they do not believe...they will believe (UST)

Alternate translation: “they do not acknowledge ... then they will acknowledge” or “they do not accept ... then they will accept”

ULT

⁸ “And it will be, if they do not believe you, and they do not listen to the voice of the first sign, then they will believe the voice of the following sign.

UST

⁸ {Yahweh said, “You can do that in front of the Israelite people, too.} And if they do not believe you or listen to you after seeing the first miracle, they will believe you when you perform the second miracle.

Exodus 4:9

they do...believe...they do...listen (ULT)

they do...believe you...listen (UST)

These pronouns refer either to the Israelites or to the Israelite elders. God had instructed Moses to gather and speak to the elders; if you make this participant explicit, elders is the better option, but be sure to do the same as you did in verse 5. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) to your voice (ULT)

to what you say (UST)

See 3:18. Alternate translation: “to what you say” (See: Metonymy) that it will become blood on the dry land (ULT) on the dry ground will become blood (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Yahweh’s speech from the previous verse ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁹ And it will be, if they do not believe even these two signs, and they do not listen to your voice, then you shall take from the water of the river and you shall pour it on the dry land. And it will happen, the water which you take from the river, that it will become blood on the dry land.”

UST

⁹ But if they do not believe you or listen to what you say even after you show them these two miracles, get some water from the Nile River, and pour it on the dry ground. When you do that, the water that you pour on the dry ground will become blood.”

Exodus 4:10

Oh my Lord, I am not a man of words; not since yesterday, nor since three days ago, nor since you spoke to your servant. For I am heavy of mouth and heavy of tongue (ULT)
But Lord, I am not good at speaking to people. I have never been and you talking to me has not made me better. I speak slowly and never know what to say (UST)

Oh (ULT)
But (UST)

This word is used by a speaker to beg a superior to allow him to speak. Alternate translation: "Please"

I am not a man of words; not since yesterday, nor since three days ago (ULT)
I am not good at speaking to people. I have never been (UST)

Alternate translation: "I have never been an excellent speaker, not now, not before"

a man of words (ULT) good at speaking to people (UST)

This expression means "a man who uses words well," in other words, an eloquent man who can speak well and convincingly.

not since yesterday, nor since three days ago (ULT)
I have never been (UST)

These phrases simply mean "in the past." (See: Merism)

your servant (ULT)
me (UST)

Moses refers to himself as God's servant to lower his status before God (and perhaps by doing so to make his argument of inability stronger). (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

¹⁰ And Moses said to Yahweh, "Oh my Lord, I am not a man of words; not since yesterday, nor since three days ago, nor since you spoke to your servant. For I am heavy of mouth and heavy of tongue."

UST

¹⁰ Then Moses said to Yahweh, "But Lord, I am not good at speaking to people. I have never been and you talking to me has not made me better. I speak slowly and never know what to say."

heavy of mouth and heavy of tongue (ULT) speak...slowly...and never know what to say (UST)

These phrases mean basically the same thing. Moses uses them to emphasize that he is not a good speaker. If your language does not use repetition in this way, you could combine these phrases. Alternate translation: "not good at public speaking"(See: Doublet)

tongue (ULT)
and never know what to say (UST)

Here, tongue refers to Moses' ability to speak. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "speech" (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 4:11

And Yahweh said to him (ULT)

Then Yahweh said to him (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues to the end of the next verse. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Who put a mouth in mankind (ULT)

that...make people's mouths (UST)

Yahweh uses this question to emphasize that he is the Creator who makes it possible for people to speak. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Is it not I, Yahweh, who created the human mouth and the ability to speak" (See: Rhetorical Question) who makes a mute or a deaf or a seeing or a blind (ULT) make people...unable to speak, or unable to hear, or able to see or not to see (UST)

Yahweh uses this question to emphasize that he is the one who decides if people can speak and hear, and if they can see. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "make people able to speak or hear or to see or to be blind" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Is it not I, Yahweh (ULT)

Do not forget...I, Yahweh...I (UST)

Yahweh uses this question to emphasize that he alone makes these decisions. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "I, Yahweh, am the one who does this!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

¹¹ And Yahweh said to him, "Who put a mouth in mankind, or who makes a mute or a deaf or a seeing or a blind? Is it not I, Yahweh?"

UST

¹¹ Then Yahweh said to him, "Do not forget that I, Yahweh, make people's mouths! I make people unable to speak, or unable to hear, or able to see or not to see!"

Exodus 4:12

And I shall be with your mouth (ULT) and I will help you speak (UST)

Here, mouth refers to Moses' ability to speak. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "I will give you the ability to speak" (See: Metonymy)

you will speak (ULT) to say (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote from the previous verse ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹² And now go! And I shall be with your mouth, and I shall teach you what you will speak."

UST

¹² So go now, and I will help you speak, and I will tell you what to say."

Exodus 4:13

Oh my Lord, please send by a hand you send (ULT)

Oh Lord, I ask you, please choose anyone else to send (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹³ And he said, "Oh my Lord, please send by a hand you send."

UST

¹³ But Moses replied, "Oh Lord, I ask you, please choose anyone else to send!"

Oh (ULT)

Oh (UST)

This word is used by a speaker to beg a superior to allow him to speak. See what you did in verse 10. Alternate translation: "Please"

please send by a hand you send (ULT)

I ask you, please choose anyone else to send (UST)

In translating this phrase, it is important to make clear that Moses is asking Yahweh to send someone else. Here he is not accepting Yahweh's commission.

by a hand (ULT)

choose anyone else (UST)

This phrase means "by a person." The figure is of a person taking Yahweh's message in his hand to the Israelites and Pharaoh. (See: Synecdoche)

Exodus 4:14

And the nose of Yahweh burned (ULT) Then Yahweh became angry (UST)

This means that Yahweh is angry. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “Yahweh became angry” (See: Idiom) and he said (ULT) and said to him (UST)

Alternate translation: “and Yahweh said” (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) at Moses, and he said (ULT) with Moses and said to him (UST)

After this phrase a direct quote begins that continues until the end of verse 17. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Is not Aaron, the Levite, your brother (ULT) What about your brother Aaron, the descendant of Levi (UST)

Yahweh uses this rhetorical question to suggest an alternative to Moses. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternative translation: “I know you have a brother, Aaron the Levite.” (See: Rhetorical Question) your brother (ULT) your brother (UST)

Aaron is older than Moses. If your language uses a different term for the sibling relationship based on gender and age order, choose the appropriate one. (See: Kinship) can speak well (ULT) is a good speaker (UST)

In Hebrew, the word speak is repeated. This means he speaks well. English cannot convey this by doubling, so the meaning of the repetition was translated in the ULT in this case. If your language can say something like “speaking speaks” to mean “speaks well,” consider it; otherwise, translate the meaning similarly to the ULT or UST. (See: Idiom)

behold (ULT) right now (UST)

Here, behold is used to draw attention to surprising information that follows. If your language has a term that functions in that way (“Listen!” or “Look!” or “Pay Attention!”), use it here.

ULT

¹⁴ And the nose of Yahweh burned at Moses, and he said, “Is not Aaron, the Levite, your brother? I know that he can speak well. And even more, behold, he is coming to meet you, and he will see you and he will be glad in his heart.

UST

¹⁴ Then Yahweh became angry with Moses and said to him, “What about your brother Aaron, the descendant of Levi? I know he is a good speaker. He is on his way here right now. When he sees you, he will be very happy.

is coming (ULT)
is on his way (UST)

Yahweh says Aaron is coming from Egypt to Midian to find Moses. He is probably on foot. Depending on the language, the required form of go or come may vary. (See: Go and Come) and he will be glad (ULT)

he will be very happy (UST)

Aaron will be glad because he sees Moses. Consider a conjunction or other form that expresses result, as in the UST or alternative translation: “and because he sees you, he will have joy” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship) in his heart (ULT)

he will be very happy (UST)

Here, heart refers to inner thoughts and emotions. If the heart is not a body part your culture uses to refer to a person’s thoughts and emotions, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 4:15

the words (ULT) what to say (UST)

Words here are spoken of as if they were something that can be physically placed in a person's mouth. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "the message that he is to repeat" (See: Metaphor)

And I am with your mouth and with his mouth (ULT) I will help you both to speak (UST)

The word mouth here represents Moses' and Aaron's choice of words. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "And I will be with you as you speak and with him as he speaks" (See: Metonymy)

you both...you should do (ULT) you both...to do (UST)

These refer to Moses and Aaron. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual form if you have one or, if not, use a plural. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

¹⁵ And you shall speak to him, and you shall put the words in his mouth. And I am with your mouth and with his mouth, and I will teach you both what you should do.

UST

¹⁵ You will tell him what to say. I will help you both to speak and will tell you both what to do.

Exodus 4:16

like a mouth (ULT) spokesman (UST)

This phrase compares Aaron to a mouth because he will be the one to actually vocalize to the Israelites and Pharaoh what Moses tells him to say. Alternate translation: “the one to say what you tell him to say” (See: Simile) will be like God to him (ULT) he will think of...as if you were me (UST)

The word like here means Moses would represent the same authority to Aaron as God did to Moses. Alternate translation: “you will speak to Aaron with the same authority with which I speak to you” (See: Simile)

ULT

¹⁶ And he will speak to the people for you. So it will be, he will be like a mouth for you, and you will be like God to him.

UST

¹⁶ He will speak for you to the Israelite people. He will be your spokesman, and he will think of you as if you were me.

Exodus 4:17

with...you will do the signs (ULT) you will perform miracles with it (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Yahweh ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

And...this...staff (ULT) your staff (UST)

Yahweh assumes that Moses will know that by this staff, he means the one that Moses said he had in his hand in v. 2 and with which God told him to do a miracle in vv. 3-4. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹⁷ And you shall take in your hand this staff, with which you will do the signs.”

UST

¹⁷ Be sure to take your staff with you, because you will perform miracles with it.”

Exodus 4:18

Jethro (ULT)Jethro (UST)

Jethro is reintroduced as a participant in the narrative here. Use the natural form in your language for reintroducing a character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

And...went (ULT)went (UST)

Because the setting has shifted back to Jethro's home, some languages may need to use "come" here. (See: Go and Come) his father-in-law (ULT)his father-in-law (UST)

This refers to the father of Moses' wife. Some languages may use a different term for the husband's or wife's father. (See: Kinship) and he said (ULT)and said (UST)

Alternate translation: "and Moses said" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) to him (ULT)to him (UST)

Alternate translation: "to Jethro" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

Please let me go, and let me return to my brothers who are in Egypt and see whether they are still alive (ULT)Please let me go back to my relatives in Egypt to see if they are well (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

my brothers (ULT)my relatives (UST)

Here the term brothers refers more broadly to all of Moses' people group, those he is related to. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "my relatives" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

18 And Moses went and returned to Jethro his father-in-law, and he said to him, "Please let me go, and let me return to my brothers who are in Egypt and see whether they are still alive." And Jethro said to Moses, "Go in peace."

UST

18 Moses went back to his father-in-law, Jethro, and said to him, "Please let me go back to my relatives in Egypt to see if they are well." Jethro said to Moses, "You may go. Be safe."

and see whether they are still alive (ULT) to see if they are well (UST)

Later in the Bible we are told that Moses was in Midian for 40 years. Moses' request may have been literal or an idiom that meant he wanted to know how they were doing. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. (See: Idiom)

Go in peace (ULT)
You may go. Be safe (UST)

This is a phrase of assent and blessing. It may be necessary for some languages to explicitly add, "Yes," to the beginning of Jethro's response. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

Go in peace (ULT)
You may go. Be safe (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Exodus 4:19

And Yahweh said to Moses (ULT)

Yahweh told Moses {again} (UST)

The timing and situation for Yahweh speaking to Moses here is not specified. Some conjecture that it was part of the narrative of the encounter with Yahweh from the previous verses but placed after his request to Jethro for an unknown reason. Another speculation is that Moses delayed returning to Egypt (either by his own choice, Yahweh's instructions, or someone else delaying him) and Yahweh came and told him again (the UST explicitly offers this optional translation). (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship)

Go! Return to Egypt! For all the men who were seeking your life are dead (ULT)

Go back to Egypt now, for everyone trying to kill you is now dead (UST)

who were seeking your life (ULT) trying to kill you (UST)

This means they were seeking to end his life, that is, to kill him.

ULT

¹⁹ And Yahweh said to Moses in Midian, "Go! Return to Egypt! For all the men who were seeking your life are dead."

UST

¹⁹ {While he was still} in Midian, Yahweh told Moses {again}, "Go back to Egypt now, for everyone trying to kill you is now dead."

Exodus 4:20and his sons (ULT)*and sons (UST)

Moses' second son is not introduced until 18:4 but had already been born before they left Midian. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants) and he returned toward the land of Egypt(ULT)*and started going toward Egypt (UST)

It is clear from verse 24 and 25 that his family went with him, so you may need to translate as "they returned." (See: First, Second or Third Person)

and he returned toward the land of Egypt (ULT)and started going toward Egypt (UST)

After the incident on the road in verses 24-26. Moses' family is not mentioned again until 18:2, which says that Moses sent them back, so it may be better to make a translation similar to the UST, which only commits to the family starting on the way to Egypt. This option has the further benefit of allowing for the several events that happen before Moses gets to Egypt. The ULT's toward is another way of giving space in the translation for the next several events. (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship)

the staff of...God (ULT)the staff...as} God {had told him to do (UST)

The phrase the staff of God refers to the staff that God told Moses to take with him in v. 17. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

the staff of...God (ULT)the staff...as} God {had told him to do (UST)

The book describes this staff as the staff of God because God appointed it as his instrument so that Moses could do miraculous works through it. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could say that explicitly. Make sure your translation does not lead people to think the staff was a magic wand or shaman's staff that had its own power or power from Moses or that the staff gave Moses the ability to command God. In every instance where miracles happened, first God told Moses to do something with the staff, then Moses obeyed, and then God caused a miracle. Alternate translation: "the staff that God had told him to bring because God intended to work powerfully through it when Moses stretched it out." (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²⁰ And Moses took his wife and his sons and caused them to ride on a donkey, and he returned toward the land of Egypt. And Moses took the staff of God in his hand.

UST

²⁰ So Moses put his wife and sons on a donkey and started going toward Egypt. He took the staff with him {as} God {had told him to do}.

Exodus 4:21

While you are going (ULT) When you get (UST)

This begins a direct quotation that continues to the end of 4:23. It contains up to fourth-level quotations. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

see (ULT) be sure (UST)

Most translations and interpretations of the verb see take it to mean something like “see that you do.”

all the miracles that I put in your hand (ULT) all the miracles that I have given you power to do (UST)

Here the miracles are spoken of as if they were items Moses could carry. In part, this may be because the three signs already given to Moses involved the use of his hand. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternative translation: “all the wonders I have authorized you to perform” (See: Metaphor)

before the face of Pharaoh (ULT) in front of the king (UST)

This time, while before the face of still has the standard figurative meaning of “in the presence of,” it is a much more literal use here. Moses is to actually do the miracles in front of Pharaoh so he can see them. Alternative translation: “so Pharaoh can see them” (See: Metonymy)

But as for me, I shall strengthen (ULT) But I will make him reject you (UST)

Referring to himself in the opening of this sentence serves to emphasize a contrast between what might normally be expected and what will actually happen. Translate this in a way that clearly contrasts the performance of miracles before Pharaoh (which might be expected to lead to him releasing the Israelites) with what Yahweh says Pharaoh will do. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

But as for me, I shall strengthen his heart (ULT) But I will make him reject you (UST)

This means that God will make him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart would be made stronger. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. Alternate translation: “But as for me, I will cause Pharaoh to be stubborn” (See: Metaphor) ²¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, “While you are going to return to Egypt, see all the miracles that I put in your hand, and do them before the face of Pharaoh. But as for me, I shall strengthen his heart, and he will not let the people go.

ULT

UST

²¹ Yahweh spoke to Moses again, “When you get to Egypt, be sure to do all the miracles that I have given you power to do in front of the king. But I will make him reject you so that he will not let the Israelites leave Egypt.

and he will not let the people go (ULT) so that he will not let the Israelites leave Egypt (UST)

Make it clear in your translation that this is a result of God hardening Pharaoh's heart. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

Exodus 4:22

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)

This is what Yahweh says (UST)

This is the first of hundreds of occurrences throughout the Old Testament of a standard phrase, Thus says Yahweh, used to introduce direct, authoritative instruction from Yahweh. It would be good for your team to have a standard way to translate this that makes it clear that the words that come next are directly from God. If your language has a standard way of introducing a new message from your rulers that alerts the hearers that these are the words of the rulers, that would be a good phrase to consider.

ULT

²² And say to Pharaoh, 'Thus says Yahweh: "Israel is my son, my firstborn,

UST

²² Then say to him, 'This is what Yahweh says: "Israel is like my firstborn son,

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)

This is what Yahweh says (UST)

This begins a second-level quotation that continues until the end of 4:23. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation. However, you may want to translate this as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the levels of quotations in this passage. Alternative translation: "that Yahweh says" (See: Quotes within Quotes)

Israel is my son, my firstborn (ULT)

Israel is like my firstborn son (UST)

This is the beginning of a third-level quotation that continues until the end of 4:23. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening third-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation within a quotation. (If you chose to translate, "Thus says Yahweh," as an indirect quote, this will be a second-level quotation.) (See: Quote Markings)

my son (ULT)

is like my...son (UST)

Yahweh expresses his affection for the Israelites by calling them his son. Some languages may need to change the metaphor here into a simile. See the UST. (See: Metaphor)

Israel is (ULT)

Israel (UST)

The word Israel here represents all the people of Israel as a group. It is important to keep the singular reference to Israel as son rather than change it to something like 'the Israelites are my children,' because God is making a particular contrast here between his son and Pharaoh's son. Some languages may not be able to use "Israel" as a collective noun and may need to choose a translation like "the nation of Israel" or "the Israelite nation." (See: Collective Nouns)

Israel is (ULT)

Israel (UST)

The Israelite nation is often referred to simply by the name of the patriarch. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "The Israelites are" (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 4:23

Let my son go that he may serve me (ULT)
Let my son go, so that he may worship me (UST)

This is a fourth-level quotation. It should be marked in some manner that distinguishes it from the outer levels. (If you chose to translate "Thus says Yahweh" as an indirect quote, this will be a third-level quotation.) (See: Quote Markings) and I said to you, 'Let my son go that he may serve me.' But you have refused (ULT) and when I told you, 'Let my son go, so that he may worship me,' you refused (UST)

The fourth-level quotation here may be a good one to translate as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the levels of quotations in this passage. Alternative translation: "and I told you to let my son go that he may serve me. But you have refused" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

my son (ULT)
my son (UST)

Yahweh continues to metaphorically speak of Israel as my son. See how you translated it in the previous verse. Alternative translation: "the Israelite nation, which is like a son to me" (See: Metaphor) that he may serve me...to let him go (ULT)

so that he may worship me...you refused (UST)

The pronouns he and him agree with "son." What you use may depend on how you translated son in the previous verse. (See: Pronouns)

Behold (ULT)
Therefore (UST)

This is used to draw attention to surprising information that follows. Alternative translation: "Know this"

your son (ULT)
your...son (UST)

Here, your son refers to the actual son of Pharaoh.

your son...your firstborn (ULT) your...firstborn...son (UST)

After this phrase, the three levels of direct quotations end, bringing a complete close to all quotations that started in verses 21 and 22. If you are using direct quotations, at the end of this verse you should have three closing markers: third level, second level and first level. In English, it looks like "" "" (without spaces). (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²³ and I said to you, 'Let my son go that he may serve me.' But you have refused to let him go. Behold, I shall kill your son, your firstborn.'""

UST

²³ and when I told you, 'Let my son go, so that he may worship me,' you refused. Therefore, I will kill your firstborn son!'""

Exodus 4:24

And it happened (ULT)

One night (UST)

This introduces a new event. Mark the transition in a natural way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event) that he encountered...to kill him (ULT) confronted {Moses...kill him (UST)

Here, it is not clear who him refers to. Most commentators believe it refers to Moses, but it could refer to the son, though that is less likely. If it is necessary to choose for your translation, use Moses. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) and he sought (ULT)

in order to (UST)

Here, he refers to Yahweh. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

²⁴ And it happened on the road, in the lodging-place, that he encountered Yahweh, and he sought to kill him.

UST

²⁴ One night, as they were camping on the way to Egypt, Yahweh confronted {Moses} in order to kill him.

Exodus 4:25

Zipporah (ULT)

Moses' wife,} Zipporah (UST)

Zipporah is the name of Moses' wife. See how you translated it in 2:21. (See: How to Translate Names)

Zipporah (ULT)

Moses' wife,} Zipporah (UST)

Zipporah is introduced here as a new character. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

a flint (ULT)

a sharp stone knife (UST)

This was a flake or a sharp piece of a hard gray rock that was used as a knife.. (See: Translate Unknowns)

the foreskin of (ULT)

the foreskin (UST)

The foreskin is the retractable fold of skin which covers and protects the end of the penis. (See: Translate Unknowns) to his feet (ULT)

to {Moses'} feet (UST)

It is possible that the word feet may have been a more respectful way to refer to the genital area of the body. However, that possibility is not high enough that you should translate it either literally as genitals or with another euphemism meaning genitals in your language. If you have a word that means primarily feet or legs, but could in some cases also euphemistically mean genitals, you may consider it. (See: Euphemism)

Surely you are a bridegroom of blood to me (ULT)

You are really my husband by blood (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Surely you are a bridegroom of blood to me (ULT)

You are really my husband by blood (UST)

The meaning of this metaphor is unclear. It was probably a known saying in that culture. Alternate translation: "You are related to me by this blood" or "You are my husband because of blood" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²⁵ And Zipporah took a flint, and she cut off the foreskin of her son, and she touched it to his feet, and she said, "Surely you are a bridegroom of blood to me."

UST

²⁵ Then {Moses' wife,} Zipporah, took a sharp stone knife and cut off the foreskin of their firstborn son. Then she touched the foreskin to {Moses'} feet and said, "You are really my husband by blood."

Exodus 4:26

And he relented (ULT)

So Yahweh did not harm anyone (UST)

God relented as a result of Zipporah's action. Consider a conjunction or other form that expresses result, as in the UST. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

And he relented (ULT)

So Yahweh did not harm anyone (UST)

Alternate translation: "Yahweh relented" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

from him (ULT)

So Yahweh did not harm anyone (UST)

As in 4:24, this could mean either Moses or the son, but most commentators think it is still Moses. The UST uses "anyone" to preserve ambiguity. Alternative translation: "from Moses" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) bridegroom of blood (ULT)

a husband by blood (UST)

This is a unique quotation because Zipporah probably does not speak again; rather, the quotation refers back to her statement in 4:25. Use a form from your language for quoting a portion of what someone previously said. (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations) bridegroom of blood" because of the circumcision (ULT)

a husband by blood," because she had cut off their son's foreskin (UST)

It is not clear if the quotation includes because of the circumcision or if that is a comment explaining the quotation. Translations are divided in where they end the quotation, but most exclude because of the circumcision, and it is best to follow that unless a locally respected translation includes it. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²⁶ And he relented from him. That was when she said, "bridegroom of blood" because of the circumcision.

UST

²⁶ She said, "a husband by blood," because she had cut off their son's foreskin. So Yahweh did not harm anyone.

Exodus 4:27And...said (ULT)*Meanwhile...said (UST)

You may want to add a word that marks the beginning of a new part of the story, as the UST does. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Aaron (ULT)Aaron (UST)

Aaron is introduced as a new participant. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

Go into the wilderness to meet Moses (ULT)Go into the desert to meet Moses (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

at the mountain of God (ULT)at the mountain where God met Moses (UST)

See how you translated this in 3:1. (See: Possession) and he kissed (ULT)and greeted...by kissing (UST)

This was a traditional way of greeting which showed love. You can make this explicit, as in the UST. (See: Symbolic Action)

ULT

²⁷ And Yahweh said to Aaron, "Go into the wilderness to meet Moses." And he went, and he met him at the mountain of God, and he kissed him.

UST

²⁷ Meanwhile, Yahweh said to Aaron, "Go into the desert to meet Moses." So Aaron went and met Moses at the mountain where God met Moses and greeted him by kissing him.

Exodus 4:28

he had sent him...he commanded him (ULT)
everything...had sent him...to Egypt to say to the king and the Israelites...Yahweh had instructed him {to do (UST)

These are a bit awkward to translate in English, so the UST adds more information. Other languages may not have the same difficulty.

he had sent him...he commanded him (ULT)
everything...had sent him...to Egypt to say to the king and the Israelites...Yahweh had instructed him {to do (UST)

Here, the pronoun he refers to Yahweh, and him refers to Moses. Alternative translation: "Yahweh sent Moses ... Yahweh commanded Moses" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

²⁸ And Moses told Aaron all the words of Yahweh that he had sent him and all the signs that he commanded him.

UST

²⁸ Moses told Aaron everything that Yahweh had sent him {to Egypt to say to the king and the Israelites} and all the miracles that Yahweh had instructed him {to do}.

Exodus 4:29

And...went (ULT)

When...arrived in Egypt (UST)

This begins a new event which you may need to mark in your translation with a transitional word like the UST's "When." (See: Introduction of a New Event)

ULT

²⁹ And Moses and Aaron went, and they gathered all of the elders of the sons of Israel.

UST

²⁹ When Moses and Aaron arrived in Egypt, they called a meeting with all the Israelite leaders.

Exodus 4:30

before the eyes of the people (ULT) as the leaders watched (UST)

Here, before the eyes means he did the signs so they could see them. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternative translation: "in their sight" (See: Metonymy)

the people (ULT) the leaders (UST)

Context suggests that people refers to the leaders gathered in 4:29.

ULT

³⁰ And Aaron spoke all of the words that Yahweh had spoken to Moses. And he did the signs before the eyes of the people,

UST

³⁰ Aaron told them everything that Yahweh had told Moses and performed the miracles as the leaders watched.

Exodus 4:31the people (ULT)*The leaders (UST)

Context suggests that people refers to the leaders gathered in 4:29.

had attended...the sons of Israel (ULT) had come down to help them...the Israelites (UST)

Alternate translation: "saw the Israelites" or "was concerned about the Israelites" and they bowed and prostrated themselves (ULT)

the leaders bowed down to worship him (UST)

Alternative translations: "they bowed their heads in awe" or "they bowed down low in reverence." (See: Symbolic Action)

ULT

³¹ and the people believed. And they heard that Yahweh had attended to the sons of Israel and that he had seen their affliction, and they bowed and prostrated themselves.

UST

³¹ The leaders believed Aaron and Moses. Because they heard that Yahweh had seen how miserable the Israelites were and had come down to help them, the leaders bowed down to worship him.

Exodus 5

Exodus 5 General Notes

Special Concepts in this Chapter

A slave's work

The Egyptians were known for making their slaves do a lot of work. The Israelite slaves were forced to make a specific number of bricks every day. In this chapter, they were required not only to make these bricks, but also to gather straw, one of the raw materials needed in order to make those bricks.

Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter

“Let my people go”

This is a very important statement. Moses does not seek permission to leave, asking Pharaoh to “let go” of the Hebrew people. Instead, he demands that Pharaoh free the Hebrew people.

Titles

The leaders are given different titles in this chapter. The ULT uses “taskmasters” and “foremen.” Many cultures will not have these types of titles. Generic expressions like “Egyptian leaders” and “Hebrew leaders” may be necessary.

Exodus 5:1

And afterward, Moses and Aaron went in and said to Pharaoh (ULT)
Then Moses and Aaron went to the king. They said to him...to you (UST)

The time phrase, and afterward, marks a transition in the narrative. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. Alternative translation: "After that" (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And afterward, Moses and Aaron went in and said to Pharaoh (ULT)
Then Moses and Aaron went to the king. They said to him...to you (UST)

It is unclear how long Moses and Aaron waited before they went to see Pharaoh. (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship) went in (ULT)

went (UST)

In this instance, depending on how they have to set scenes, some languages may need to use "came in." (See: Go and Come)

Pharaoh (ULT)
the king...him...you (UST)

Pharaoh is reintroduced as a participant in the narrative for the first time since chapter 2. Use the natural form in your language for reintroducing a character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

Thus says Yahweh, the God of Israel: 'Let my people go, and they shall celebrate me in the wilderness (ULT)
The God {named} Yahweh, whom we Israelites worship, says this...Let my people go to the desert so that they may have a feast to honor me (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. There is a second-level quotation fully contained within this portion which is addressed elsewhere. (See: Quote Markings)

Let my people go, and they shall celebrate me in the wilderness (ULT)
Let my people go to the desert so that they may have a feast to honor me (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹ And afterward, Moses and Aaron went in and said to Pharaoh, "Thus says Yahweh, the God of Israel: 'Let my people go, and they shall celebrate me in the wilderness.'"

UST

¹ Then Moses and Aaron went to the king. They said to him, "The God {named} Yahweh, whom we Israelites worship, says this to you: 'Let my people go to the desert so that they may have a feast to honor me!'"

Thus says Yahweh (ULT) named} Yahweh...says this (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

and they shall celebrate (ULT) so that they may have a feast (UST)

This is a celebration to worship Yahweh. Alternative translation: "so they can worship me with eating and drinking"

Exodus 5:2

And...said (ULT)

But...said (UST)

The result here is exactly as God has said; therefore, a contrastive transition word is reasonable but not required, given the immediate human context. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

Who is Yahweh, that I should listen to his voice to let Israel go? I do not know Yahweh, and moreover, I shall not let Israel go (ULT)
Who is Yahweh? I have never heard of him, so why should I obey what he demands? I will certainly not let the Israelites go (UST)

Who is Yahweh, that I should listen to his voice to let Israel go (ULT)

Who is Yahweh...so why should I obey what he demands (UST)

This is not a rhetorical question, though Pharaoh may have spoken with contempt. Pharaoh would have considered himself a god. The Egyptians had several gods, and most people groups were assumed to have their own gods. Therefore, Pharaoh had truly not heard of Yahweh (who has just revealed his name to Moses).

Israel...Israel (ULT)

what he demands...the Israelites (UST)

Here the nation is spoken of as an individual. Alternative translation: "the nation of Israel" (See: Collective Nouns) to his voice (ULT)

what he demands (UST)

Here, his voice represent the words God spoke. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "to what he says" (See: Metonymy)

and moreover (ULT)

certainly (UST)

This functions to strengthen Pharaoh's statement about his decision. Alternative translation: "and most definitely"

ULT

² And Pharaoh said, "Who is Yahweh, that I should listen to his voice to let Israel go? I do not know Yahweh, and moreover, I shall not let Israel go."

UST

² But the king said, "Who is Yahweh? I have never heard of him, so why should I obey what he demands? I will certainly not let the Israelites go!"

Exodus 5:3

And they said (ULT)

Moses and Aaron replied (UST)

It may not make sense in all languages for multiple people to speak. Since Aaron was appointed as Moses' spokesman, consider the alternative translation: "Aaron replied" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please, let us go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and let us sacrifice to Yahweh our God, lest he come upon us with the plague or with the sword (ULT)

The God we Hebrews worship has made a special visit to us. Please allow us to travel for a few days to a place in the wilderness in order that there we may offer sacrifices to Yahweh, our God. If we do not do that, he will cause us to die from diseases or from attacks by our enemies (UST)

The God of the Hebrews (ULT)

The God we Hebrews worship (UST)

This term, The God of the Hebrews, is also used for Yahweh, the Israelites' God.

with us...let us go...and let us sacrifice...he come upon us (ULT) to us...allow us to travel...in order that...we may offer sacrifices...he will cause us to die from (UST)

Here, us (or "we" in UST) refers to the Hebrew people (the Israelites). It excludes Pharaoh and his people. Some languages may need to consider whether to use an inclusive or exclusive form. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We')

with the sword (ULT)

from attacks by our enemies (UST)

Here, sword represents war or an attack by enemies. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "cause our enemies to attack us" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³ And they said, "The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please, let us go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and let us sacrifice to Yahweh our God, lest he come upon us with the plague or with the sword."

UST

³ Moses and Aaron replied, "The God we Hebrews worship has made a special visit to us. Please allow us to travel for a few days to a place in the wilderness in order that there we may offer sacrifices to Yahweh, our God. If we do not do that, he will cause us to die from diseases or from attacks by our enemies."

Exodus 5:4

Moses and Aaron, why are you causing the people to leave off from their tasks? Go to your burdens (ULT)

Moses and Aaron, it is pointless for you to distract the Israelites from their work. Get back to work, all of you (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Moses and Aaron, why are you causing the people to leave off from their tasks (ULT)

Moses and Aaron, it is pointless for you to distract the Israelites from their work (UST)

Pharaoh uses this rhetorical question to express his anger toward Moses and Aaron for taking the Israelites away from their work. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Stop distracting the people from doing their work!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Go to your burdens (ULT)

Get back to work, all of you (UST)

This your could refer to Moses and Aaron, or it could mean "all you Israelite people." The second meaning is more likely. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual or plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

⁴ And the king of Egypt said to them, "Moses and Aaron, why are you causing the people to leave off from their tasks? Go to your burdens."

UST

⁴ But the king of Egypt said to them, "Moses and Aaron, it is pointless for you to distract the Israelites from their work. Get back to work, all of you!"

Exodus 5:5

And Pharaoh said (ULT) Then the king said (UST)

It is unusual for the same speaker to be reintroduced like this. Some translations omit the repetition, but there is another option. This statement may be more connected to the next couple of verses, so it might be appropriate to make a minor break before this verse. Pharaoh may have been commenting to himself, or he may have only thought this statement silently; either way, it led to his next actions. (See: Aside)

Behold (ULT) Look (UST)

Behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say.

and you have caused...to rest (ULT) for you to encourage...to just stop (UST)

Here, you means Moses and Aaron. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual form if you have one, or if not, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

⁵ And Pharaoh said, “Behold, the people of the land are now many, and you have caused them to rest from their burdens.”

UST

⁵ Then the king said, “Look, there are too many Israelites in Egypt for you to encourage them to just stop working.”

Exodus 5:6

And...Pharaoh ordered...the taskmasters among the people and officers, saying (ULT) the king commanded...commanded...the Egyptian slave drivers and the Israelite bosses who directed the slaves (UST)

Pharaoh may have sent a messenger or messengers to the taskmasters and officers or spoken to one or a few representatives of them at his court rather than speaking to them directly. Alternative translation: "And ... Pharaoh gave an order to the taskmasters among the people and officers. He said,"

ULT

⁶ And on that day, Pharaoh ordered the taskmasters among the people and officers, saying,

UST

⁶ That same day the king commanded the Egyptian slave drivers and the Israelite bosses who directed the slaves,

the taskmasters (ULT)
the Egyptian slave drivers (UST)

Taskmasters were Egyptians whose job it was to force the Israelites to do hard work. These are probably the same as the "overseers" of labor gangs from Exodus 1:11, but here the term is harsher. Alternative translation: "oppressors"

and officers (ULT)
the Israelite bosses who directed the slaves (UST)

Officers were probably Israelite slaves who were in charge of the other Israelites but who answered to the Egyptian taskmasters.

saying (ULT)
commanded (UST)

Here, saying is a way of introducing a direct quotation in Hebrew; most translations can omit it without harm.

Exodus 5:7

Do not continue (ULT)

Stop (UST)

This command was given to multiple people; if your language distinguishes between singular and plural forms when giving commands, make sure this is a plural form. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

Do not continue (ULT)

Stop (UST)

Verses 7-9 are a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate the start here with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of the quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

as yesterday and the day before yesterday (ULT)

From now on (UST)

This is a Hebrew idiom meaning “in the past.” If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternative translation: “as you used to do” or “as was done previously” (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁷ “Do not continue to give straw to the people to make bricks as yesterday and the day before yesterday. They shall go and gather straw for themselves.

UST

⁷ “Stop giving the Israelites straw for making bricks. From now on, they will have to go get it themselves.

Exodus 5:8

you shall put (ULT) still force...to make (UST)

If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

the bricks (ULT) bricks (UST)

Bricks are blocks made of clay or mud with straw in them. They are hardened in the sun or in another manner before they are used for building. See how you translated in [1:14]../01/14.md). (See: [Translate Unknowns) yesterday and the day before yesterday (ULT) before (UST)

This is a Hebrew idiom meaning “in the past.” See how you translated this in 5:7 Alternative translation: “before” or “previously” (See: Idiom)

Let us go, let us sacrifice to our God (ULT) to let them go {into the wilderness} to worship their god (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation. It is a quote of Moses and Aaron. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁸ But you shall put on them the quota of the bricks which they were making yesterday and the day before yesterday; do not diminish from it. For they are idle. Therefore they are crying, saying, ‘Let us go, let us sacrifice to our God.’

UST

⁸ However, still force them to make the same number of bricks that they did before. Do not lower the number at all. They do not want to work. That is why they are asking me to let them go {into the wilderness} to worship their god.

Exodus 5:9

and shall not gaze at words of lies (ULT) so that they will be too busy to listen...to lies {from their leaders (UST)

Here words are spoken of as if they could be looked upon. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternative translation: "and not listen to words that are lies" (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁹ Let the slavery be heavy on the men so they shall do it and shall not gaze at words of lies."

UST

⁹ Make the men work harder so that they will be too busy to listen to lies {from their leaders}!"

Exodus 5:10

And...went out (ULT) So...went (UST)

This begins a new scene, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

the taskmasters of (ULT) the slave drivers (UST)

Taskmasters were Egyptians whose job was to force the Israelites to do hard work. See how you translated this in 5:6. See [\[\[rc://en/tn/help/exo/05/06/zd4m\]\]](#)

Thus says Pharaoh (ULT) The king has said that (UST)

This is the same quotation introduction as is used when Yahweh gives a direct command. See 4:intro for more information.

and said to the people, saying, “Thus says Pharaoh (ULT) to where the Israelites were and said to them, “The king has said that (UST)

It might be helpful in some languages to translate thus says Pharaoh as an indirect quote so that his conveyed command is not a quote within a quote. Alternate translation: “and told the people that Pharaoh says” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

I...not (ULT) he will no longer (UST)

This is the beginning of a second-level quotation that continues until the end of verse 11. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the start of a quotation within a quotation. However, you could also translate this as an indirect quote. See UST. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

I am not giving straw to you (ULT) he will no longer give you any straw (UST)

The structure of this phrase and the one that opens the next verse create a strong contrast between what I (Pharaoh) and you (you all, the Israelites) will do. Translate this in a way that emphasizes, if possible, the contrast between “I” and “you.” Alternative translation: “It is not I who will give you straw.” (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

I am not giving straw to you (ULT) he will no longer give you any straw (UST)

Pharaoh uses I to refer to his ownership and commands. Pharaoh does not physically give the Israelites straw. Rather, he had commanded his servants to take straw that belonged to Pharaoh and give it to the Israelites. Now he told his servants to stop providing straw. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent

¹⁰ And the taskmasters of the people and officers went out and said to the people, saying, “Thus says Pharaoh: ‘I am not giving straw to you.’”

UST

¹⁰ So the slave drivers and Israelite bosses went to where the Israelites were and said to them, “The king has said that he will no longer give you any straw.”

expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "My servants will no longer give you my straw" (See: Metonymy)

to you (ULT)

you (UST)

You is plural and refers to the Israelite people. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

Exodus 5:11

You go and get your own straw from wherever you might find it (ULT)

So you must go yourselves and get straw where you can find it (UST)

The structure of this phrase serves as the opposing side of the contrast Pharaoh sets up in the last phrase. By explicitly using a pronoun with a command, he is emphasizing who will go get straw. If possible, translate this in a way that emphasizes the contrast between “I” and “you.” See [\[\[rc://en/tn/help/exo/05/10/7zfp\]\]](#) for more info. Alternative translation: “Rather, it is you yourselves who must go get straw from wherever you might find it” (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

You (ULT)
yourselves (UST)

Here, you is plural and refers to the Israelite people. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

You...your own (ULT) yourselves...yourselves (UST)

The repetition of you emphasizes that the Egyptians will no longer help the slaves. See the UST. (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

for there will be no reducing of things from your slavery (ULT)
But you must keep working to make the same number of bricks (UST)

This can be stated in positive form. Alternate translation: “for you must continue to make the same number of bricks as before” (See: Double Negatives)

for there will be no reducing of things from your slavery (ULT)
But you must keep working to make the same number of bricks (UST)

After this phrase (at the end of the verse), the direct quotes end. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with closing first-level (and second-level if you made both levels direct quotes) quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

11 You go and get your own straw from wherever you might find it, for there will be no reducing of things from your slavery.”

UST

11 So you must go yourselves and get straw where you can find it. But you must keep working to make the same number of bricks.”

Exodus 5:12

throughout all the land of Egypt (ULT)

all over Egypt (UST)

This is a generalization used to show the extra effort Israel made to meet Pharaoh's demands. Alternate translation: "to many places throughout Egypt" (See: Hyperbole)

stubble (ULT)

leftover grain stalks (UST)

Stubble is the part of a plant that is left over after harvest. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹² So the people dispersed throughout all the land of Egypt to gather stubble for straw.

UST

¹² So the Israelites scattered all over Egypt to collect leftover grain stalks to use for straw.

Exodus 5:13

Now the taskmasters (ULT) As for the slave bosses, they (UST)

Taskmasters were Egyptians whose job it was to force the Israelites to do hard work. See how you translated this in Exodus 5:6.

Now the taskmasters (ULT) As for the slave bosses, they (UST)

The change of subject is emphasized here. If your language has a way of specifically focusing on the actor in a narrative, use it here. See the UST for how that is done in English. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

ULT

¹³ Now the taskmasters were hastening them, saying, "Finish your work, the task of day by day, as when there was straw."

UST

¹³ As for the slave bosses, they kept harassing them by saying, "Do all the work we assign to you each day. Make the same number of bricks as you did before, when we gave you straw!"

Finish your work, the task of day by day, as when there was straw (ULT) Do all the work we assign to you each day. Make the same number of bricks as you did before, when we gave you straw (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

the task of day by day (ULT) the work we assign to you...each day (UST)

Day by day means "daily." Alternative translation: "the daily task"

Exodus 5:14

the taskmasters of (ULT) the king's slave drivers (UST)

Taskmasters are Egyptians whose job it was to force the Israelites to do hard work. See how you translated this in Exodus 5:6.

And the officers of the sons of Israel...were beaten (ULT)

When they were not able to make enough bricks...beat the bosses they had put in charge of the Israelites (UST)

The text does not specify who beat the officers. It was probably either the taskmasters or someone the taskmasters ordered to beat the officers. If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "And the taskmasters beat the officers of the sons of Israel" (See: Active or Passive)

Why have you not finished your required brick making like yesterday and the day before yesterday, neither yesterday nor today (ULT)

This is because your work teams have not been able to make the same number of bricks in the last couple of days as they did before (UST)

The taskmasters used this question to show they were angry with the lack of bricks. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "You are not producing enough bricks, either yesterday or today, as you did in the past!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Why have you not finished your required brick making like yesterday and the day before yesterday, neither yesterday nor today (ULT)

This is because your work teams have not been able to make the same number of bricks in the last couple of days as they did before (UST)

have you...finished your required (ULT) your work teams have...been able...the same number of...they did (UST)

Here, you and your are plural. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

¹⁴ And the officers of the sons of Israel, whom the taskmasters of Pharaoh had put over them, were beaten, saying, "Why have you not finished your required brick making like yesterday and the day before yesterday, neither yesterday nor today?"

UST

¹⁴ {When they were not able to make enough bricks,} the king's slave drivers beat the bosses they had put in charge of the Israelites. They told them, "This is because your work teams have not been able to make the same number of bricks in the last couple of days as they did before."

have you...finished your required (ULT) your work teams have...been able...the same number of...they did (UST)

Here, you and your do not simply refer to the officers; they refer to the groups of Israelite workers the officers are in charge of. (See: Synecdoche) like yesterday and the day before yesterday (ULT)

as...before (UST)

This is a Hebrew idiom meaning “in the past.” Here it specifically refers to the time before the Egyptians stopped giving the Israelites straw. See how you translated this in 5:7 Alternative translation: “before” or “previously” (See: Idiom)

This time expression refers to more recent days, ones since the Egyptians stopped providing the straw to the Israelites.

Exodus 5:15

And...came in (ULT)

Then...went in {to the palace (UST)

This begins a new scene, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. The officers have gone to where Pharaoh is. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And...came in (ULT)

Then...went in {to the palace (UST)

You will need to decide if go or come is the better translation in your language. (See: Go and Come)

Why (ULT)

Why (UST)

This begins a direct quote that continues to the end of the next verse. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

to your servants (ULT)

us (UST)

Here, the Israelite officers use the term your servants to refer to themselves in the third person as a way of showing humility. It is also possible that they mean to include all the Israelites. Either option is valid if your language must state who is meant by "your servants." Alternate translation: "to us" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

¹⁵ And the officers of the sons of Israel came in and cried to Pharaoh, saying, "Why are you doing this to your servants?"

UST

¹⁵ Then the Israelite bosses went in {to the palace} and complained to the king, "Why are you treating us this way?"

Exodus 5:16

No straw is being given to your servants (ULT)
Your slave drivers are not giving us any straw for making bricks...Make...bricks (UST)

The text does not specify who is not giving them straw. From the context, the taskmasters and, by implication, Pharaoh himself are the ones not doing this. If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternative translation: "You are not giving your servants any straw." (See: Active or Passive) to your servants...your servants (ULT)

Make...bricks...us (UST)

Here, the Israelite officers use the term your servants to refer to themselves in the third person as a way of showing humility. It is also possible that they mean to include all the Israelites. Either option is valid if your language must state who is meant by "your servants." Alternate translation: "to us" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

they are saying (ULT)
but they keep telling (UST)

They refers to the Egyptian taskmasters. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

And...bricks...Make (ULT) the same number of...Make...bricks (UST)

Make bricks is a second-level direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

And behold (ULT)
even (UST)

And behold is used to draw attention to surprising information that follows.

your servants are beaten (ULT)
They are...beating us (UST)

The text does not specify who beat the officers. It was probably either the taskmasters or someone the taskmasters ordered to beat the officers. If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

16 No straw is being given to your servants. And they are saying to us, 'Make bricks!' And behold, your servants are beaten, but it is the sin of your people."

UST

16 Your slave drivers are not giving us any straw for making bricks, but they keep telling us, 'Make the same number of bricks!' They are even beating us. But {our reduced brick making is their} fault and your fault."

but it is the sin of your people (ULT)

But {our reduced brick making is their} fault and your fault (UST)

The Israelites are indirectly accusing Pharaoh of doing wrong. To translate this, consider polite or indirect ways of making accusations in your culture. (See: Euphemism)

but it is the sin of (ULT)

But {our reduced brick making is...fault...fault (UST)

Alternate translation: "but it is the wrongdoing of"

Exodus 5:17

You are...you (ULT)

You are lazy and do not want to work...you (UST)

These uses of you are plural. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

You are lazy! Lazy (ULT)

You are lazy and do not want to work (UST)

Pharaoh repeats himself for emphasis. In your translation, make sure the idea of laziness or idleness is repeated or strengthened in a way that is natural. Alternative translation: “You are extremely lazy” (See: Exclamations)

Let us go sacrifice to Yahweh (ULT)

Allow us to go {to the desert} to worship Yahweh (UST)

Here the king is quoting another person’s speech. This is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹⁷ And he said, “You are lazy! Lazy! That is why you are saying, ‘Let us go sacrifice to Yahweh.’”

UST

¹⁷ But the king said, “You are lazy and do not want to work! That is why you keep saying, ‘Allow us to go {to the desert} to worship Yahweh.’”

Exodus 5:18

And straw will not be given to you (ULT) We are not going to give you any straw (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The subject could be “I” (as in Pharaoh) or “we” (as in the Egyptians or Pharaoh and his taskmasters) or “my people.” See UST. (See: Active or Passive) to you...you will give (ULT) you...but you must keep making (UST)

Here, you means all the Israelites or the officers as representatives of all the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

18 And now go! Work! And straw will not be given to you, but you will give the set quantity of bricks.”

UST

18 Get back to work right now! We are not going to give you any straw, but you must keep making the same number of bricks!”

Exodus 5:19

And the officers of the sons of Israel saw themselves in distress regarding the saying, “You shall not reduce the day-by-day task from your bricks (ULT) When {the king} said, “You must not make fewer bricks each day,” the Israelite bosses understood how bad their life was (UST)

You may need to reorder the events in this verse in your language to put the reason before the result. See UST. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

¹⁹ And the officers of the sons of Israel saw themselves in distress regarding the saying, “You shall not reduce the day-by-day task from your bricks.”

UST

¹⁹ When {the king} said, “You must not make fewer bricks each day,” the Israelite bosses understood how bad their life was.

You shall not reduce the day-by-day task from your bricks (ULT)
You must not make fewer bricks each day (UST)

This is a direct quotation of what Pharaoh said. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation of another person’s speech. (See: Quote Markings)

themselves (ULT) their life was (UST)

Here the officers are both the subject and object, because they are thinking about their own situation. Different languages have different methods of marking this. (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

And...saw...themselves in distress regarding the saying (ULT) understood...When {the king} said...how bad their life was (UST)

Alternate translation: “knew that they were in trouble, because the king said” or “perceived themselves to be in danger, because the king said”

Exodus 5:20

And they met (ULT)

they met (UST)

A new scene begins here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And they met...to meet them when they came out (ULT)

they met...As they left...for them (UST)

Here, they and them refer to the officers. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

²⁰ And they met Moses and Aaron, who were waiting to meet them when they came out from Pharaoh.

UST

²⁰ As they left their meeting with the king, they met Aaron and Moses, who were waiting for them.

Exodus 5:21

May Yahweh look on you and judge; for you have caused our scent to stink in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of his servants, to give a sword into their hand to kill us (ULT)
We hope Yahweh notices that you have made the king and his officials hate us. We hope he punishes you two! You have made them think they should kill us (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

May Yahweh look on you and judge (ULT)
We hope Yahweh notices...you...We hope he punishes...two (UST)

The Israelite officers used this form to curse Moses and Aaron.

on you and judge (ULT)
you...We hope he punishes...two (UST)

You refers to Moses and Aaron. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual or plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

you have caused our scent to stink in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of his servants (ULT) have made the king and his officials hate us...you (UST)

The Egyptians responded to the Israelites the same way they would respond to a foul odor. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “you have caused Pharaoh and his servants to hate us” (See: Metaphor)

a sword into their hand (ULT) made them think they should kill us (UST)

Here, a sword into their hand is a metonym for “a reason in their mind.” The Israelites are afraid that the Egyptians will feel that they are doing the right thing if they kill the Israelites, because Moses and Aaron are making demands to the king and because the Egyptians view the Israelites as lazy and dangerous. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “them a reason to think they would be right” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²¹ And they said to them, “May Yahweh look on you and judge; for you have caused our scent to stink in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of his servants, to give a sword into their hand to kill us.”

UST

²¹ They said to Aaron and Moses, “We hope Yahweh notices that you have made the king and his officials hate us. We hope he punishes you two! You have made them think they should kill us!”

Exodus 5:22

and said (ULT) left them and prayed...again (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues to the end of the chapter. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Was this why you sent me (ULT) You sent me to help them, not hurt them (UST)

This question shows how disappointed Moses was that the Egyptians were treating the Israelites even more harshly now. He is expressing that he thinks God has caused the opposite of what he promised to happen. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "I thought you sent me to rescue them." (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

²² And Moses went back to Yahweh and said, "My Lord, why have you afflicted this people? Was this why you sent me?"

UST

²² Moses left them and prayed to Yahweh again, "My Lord, why have you caused all these evil things to happen to your people? You sent me to help them, not hurt them."

Exodus 5:23

in your name (ULT) what you told me to say (UST)

Here, in your name indicates that Moses delivers Yahweh's message. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "for you" or "your message for him" (See: Metonymy)

And you have certainly not rescued (ULT) and you have not done anything to help (UST)

In Hebrew, rescued is repeated for emphasis. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. (See: Idiom) your people (ULT) them (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Moses that began in the previous verse ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²³ And since I came to Pharaoh to speak in your name, he has afflicted this people. And you have certainly not rescued your people."

UST

²³ Ever since I went to the king and told him what you told me to say, he has treated your people very badly, and you have not done anything to help them!"

Exodus 6

Exodus 6 General Notes

Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter

Repetition of events:

Most of the content of this chapter is very similar to the events and dialogue in chapters 3-4. For consistency, translators should consult the decisions they made there while keeping in mind that this narrative is not exactly the same. Also, verses 10-12 and verses 28-30 are very similar to each other. These events are probably a recommissioning of Moses. After his first encounter with Pharaoh went very poorly and the Israelites seem to reject God, reminds Moses of God's promises and power.

Referring to God

A name for God (Yahweh) and a title for God (El Shaddai) are mentioned in this chapter (6:2\~6:3). The precise meaning of El Shaddai is not known, but most scholars think it means something like "almighty." Translators who have worked on Genesis may find confusing the statement that Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob did not know Yahweh as the name of God.

Other possible translation difficulties:

With little explanation, a large portion of the chapter is devoted to the genealogy of Moses and Aaron. Some of the people in the genealogy lived much longer than is normal for humans today. If translators are not familiar with the lengths of people's lives in the early days of the world (as recorded in Genesis, especially chapter 5), this may cause confusion.

Study Concepts in this Chapter

Promised Land

According to the covenant Yahweh made with Abraham, Egypt is not the home of the Hebrew people. Their home is the Promised Land in Canaan. The people are to return home to their land. (See: covenant and Promised Land)

"Let my people go"

This is a very important statement. Moses is not asking Pharaoh to "let go" of the Hebrew people. Instead, he is demanding that Pharaoh free the Hebrew people.

God and his people

In verse 7, note mention of a very important biblical theme of God being "your God" and the special relationship that his people have with him.

Exodus 6:1

Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh: for by a strong hand he will let them go; and by a strong hand he will drive them out of his land (ULT)

Now you will see what I will do to the king when I make him let my people go. I will powerfully force him to chase them from his land (UST)

Now (ULT)

Now (UST)

This refers to future events starting very soon. Alternative translation: "Starting soon" or "Very soon" (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship)

by a strong hand...and by a strong hand (ULT)

I make him...I will powerfully force him (UST)

Here, hand is a metonym for power. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "by a strong power ... and by a strong power" (See: Metonymy)

by a strong hand...and by a strong hand (ULT)

I make him...I will powerfully force him (UST)

It is not clear in the text whose hand is referred to here. The options include: (1) Both refer to God's hand (forcing Pharaoh's actions) (2) Both refer to Pharaoh's hand (forcing the Israelites out) (3) They don't refer to the same person's hand; the first refers to God's and the second to Pharaoh's. The UST has followed (1), which is the most common interpretation. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: (1) "by my strong hand ... and by my strong hand" (2) "by his strong hand ... and by his strong hand" (3) "by my strong hand ... and by his strong hand" (See: Metonymy) for by a strong hand he will let them go; and by a strong hand he will drive them out of his land (ULT) when I make him let my people go. I will powerfully force him to chase them from his land (UST)

These two phrases mean similar things. God says the same thing twice, in similar ways, for emphasis. You do not need to repeat both phrases in your translation if that might be confusing for your readers. Instead, if it would be clearer in your language, you could combine them. Alternate translation: "I will force him to let my people leave the land" However, there is a slight difference in meaning, and you could also choose to bring that out in your translation. The second phrase intensifies the first by portraying Pharaoh as not merely letting the Israelites go, but

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh: for by a strong hand he will let them go; and by a strong hand he will drive them out of his land."

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Now you will see what I will do to the king when I make him let my people go. I will powerfully force him to chase them from his land!"

as forcing them to leave the land. Alternate translation: "I will force him to let them go, in fact, I will force him to force them to leave his land" (See: Parallelism) of his land (ULT)

from his land (UST)

Alternate translation: "from Egypt"

Exodus 6:2

And God spoke to Moses, and said to him (ULT)

God spoke to Moses again (UST)

There is a transition here. Before this verse, Yahweh was answering Moses' question more directly. At the beginning of this verse, Yahweh is reintroduced as "God" because he begins to make a clarifying statement about himself and his relationship with the Israelites and their ancestors as well as his plans for the Israelites. Much of this section repeats what Yahweh has already told Moses. You may want to consider a section break before this verse. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And God spoke to Moses, and said to him (ULT)

God spoke to Moses again (UST)

After this phrase a direct quote begins that continues until the end of verse 8. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

² And God spoke to Moses, and said to him, "I am Yahweh

UST

² God spoke to Moses again, "I am Yahweh.

Exodus 6:3

as El Shaddai (ULT) as God Almighty (UST)

El Shaddai is a title for God that many scholars think means “almighty.” You will need to decide if you will transliterate the term into your language or translate the meaning. Either approach has broad support. Alternative translation: “as the strongest God of all” (See: Copy or Borrow Words)

but by my name Yahweh I was not known to them (ULT) but they did not fully comprehend {the meaning of} my name Yahweh (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “but they did not know me by my name Yahweh” (See: Active or Passive)

but by my name Yahweh I was not known to them (ULT) but they did not fully comprehend {the meaning of} my name Yahweh (UST)

This statement is very difficult to understand as God’s name, Yahweh, is used throughout Genesis, including by Abraham and others. There are many theories about what it means; the view followed by the UST is that now God is revealing to the Israelites a fuller meaning of his divine name than what Abraham and others knew. Alternate translation: “but my name Yahweh was not understood by them”

ULT

³ and I appeared to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob as El Shaddai; but by my name Yahweh I was not known to them.

UST

³ I showed myself to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob as God Almighty, but they did not fully comprehend {the meaning of} my name Yahweh.

Exodus 6:4

to give to them the land of Canaan (ULT) to give them, as their own, the land where the descendants of Canaan live (UST)

This is the content of the covenant promise from God to his people. Some languages may need to make this part a direct quotation. To do so, begin a new sentence. Alternate translation: "I said, 'I will give you the land of Canaan'" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations) the land of...their sojourning, in which they sojourned (ULT)

That was the land...in which they lived as foreigners (UST)

These two phrases mean similar things. If it would be clearer in your language, you could combine these phrases. Alternate translation: "the land they lived in as temporary residents" or "the land that was not their home but where they lived as foreigners" (See: Parallelism)

ULT

⁴ And moreover, I established my covenant with them, to give to them the land of Canaan, the land of their sojourning, in which they sojourned.

UST

⁴ I also agreed to bless them. I promised to give them, as their own, the land where the descendants of Canaan live. That was the land in which they lived as foreigners.

Exodus 6:5

the groaning of (ULT) complaining (UST)

Here, groaning means making sad sounds because of pain and suffering.

and I have remembered my covenant (ULT) I always remember what I promised (UST)

I have remembered my covenant means God is going to take action. Alternative translation: "I will keep my promise"

ULT

⁵ And moreover, I have heard the groaning of the sons of Israel, whom the Egyptians are enslaving, and I have remembered my covenant.

UST

⁵ Furthermore, I have heard the Israelites complaining because the Egyptians have made them slaves. I always remember what I promised.

Exodus 6:6

Therefore (ULT)Therefore (UST)

God is now telling Moses to deliver a message to the Israelites of what God is going to do because of everything that he said in verses 2-5. The reason-result relationship is strongly marked here, so translations should make sure to use a connector that marks verse 6-8 as a result of verses 2-5. Alternate translation: “Because of this” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

Therefore, say to the sons of Israel (ULT)Therefore tell the Israelite people that I said this (UST)

This is a command from Yahweh to Moses. Alternate translation: “So Yahweh told Moses to say to the Israelites”

I am (ULT)I am (UST)

This begins a second-level quotation that continues to the end of Yahweh’s speech at the close of verse 8. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

you...you...you (ULT)your...you...you (UST)

Here every occurrence of you refers to the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural) from under the burdens of the Egyptians (ULT)the Egyptian’s heavy loads off...back (UST)

This refers to all the hard work the Egyptians made the Israelites do. Alternate translation: “from the hard work the Egyptians force you to do” (See: Synecdoche) with an outstretched arm (ULT)very powerfully (UST)

Here, arm is a figurative way of referring to Yahweh’s power, influence, and capacity for action. Outstretched means that he is using that power. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “by my great strength” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁶ Therefore, say to the sons of Israel, ‘I am Yahweh. And I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will rescue you from their slavery. And I will redeem you with an outstretched arm and with great judgments.’

UST

⁶ Therefore tell the Israelite people that I said this: ‘I am Yahweh. I will take the Egyptian’s heavy loads off your back. I will deliver you from being their slaves. I will very powerfully save you by punishing them very harshly.’

and with...judgments (ULT)
by punishing them (UST)

Here, the term judgments refers to the plagues that God is about to send to harm Egypt and the Egyptians. Each plague is a response to Pharaoh's stubbornness. Alternate translation: "and by [greatly] harming the Egyptians"

Exodus 6:7

you...to you...And you will know...your God...
you (ULT)

you...the God {you worship...You will truly know...your God...you (UST)

Here every occurrence of you refers to the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

from under the burdens of the Egyptians (ULT) from the heavy loads that the Egyptians make you carry (UST)

This refers to all the hard work the Egyptians forced upon the Israelites. See what you did in the previous verse. Alternate translation: “from the hard work the Egyptians force you to do” (See: Synecdoche)

ULT

⁷ And I will take you to myself as a people, and I will be to you as God. And you will know that I am Yahweh your God, the one bringing you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians.

UST

⁷ I will claim you as my own people, and I will be the God {you worship}. You will truly know that I am Yahweh, your God who frees you from the heavy loads that the Egyptians make you carry.

Exodus 6:8

you...to you (ULT)

you...to you (UST)

Here every occurrence of you refers to the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

I raised my hand (ULT)

I swore (UST)

This is an action that signifies making an oath. Raising the hand may not have the same meaning in your culture, so you may need to use a different symbolic oath-taking action in your translation or simply translate the meaning. Alternate translation: “I promised” (See: Symbolic Action)

as a possession (ULT)

and it will be yours (UST)

This means the Israelites will own the land. Alternate translation: “as your own land”

I am Yahweh (ULT)

I, Yahweh, am {promising this} (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Yahweh ends. Both the first-level and second-level quotes end. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level and second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation and a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁸ And I will bring you to the land that I raised my hand to give it to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. And I will give it to you as a possession. I am Yahweh.”

UST

⁸ I will bring you to the land that I swore to give to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. I will give it to you, and it will be yours. I, Yahweh, am {promising this}.”

Exodus 6:9

but they did not listen to Moses, because of shortness of spirit and because of hard slavery (ULT)

but they did not believe what he said, because they were discouraged and overworked (UST)

In some languages it will be necessary to put the reason for the people not listening before the result. Alternate translation: “but because of shortness of spirit and because of hard service, they did not listen to Moses” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship) because of shortness of spirit (ULT)

because they were discouraged (UST)

Here, the people’s spirit is spoken of as something that could be measured. By calling it “short,” the author is saying they did not have very much motivation or hope. Alternate translation: “because they had no hope”

ULT

⁹ And Moses spoke in this way to the sons of Israel, but they did not listen to Moses, because of shortness of spirit and because of hard slavery.

UST

⁹ Moses told that to the Israelites, but they did not believe what he said, because they were discouraged and overworked.

Exodus 6:10

saying (ULT)

Then...said (UST)

This is used to mark the beginning of a direct quotation. It can be omitted if it is unnatural.

ULT

¹⁰ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹⁰ Then Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 6:11

Go speak to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, that he should let the sons of Israel go from his land (ULT)

Go tell the king of Egypt that he must allow the Israelites to leave his land (UST)

that he should let the sons of Israel go from his land (ULT) that he must allow the Israelites to leave his land (UST)

This statement tells Moses what to discuss with Pharaoh. Some languages may need to convey this information as a direct quotation. Be careful to change the third-person pronouns to second-person pronouns if you do this. Alternate translation: "and say, 'You must let the sons of Israel go from your land'" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

ULT

11 "Go speak to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, that he should let the sons of Israel go from his land."

UST

11 "Go tell the king of Egypt that he must allow the Israelites to leave his land!"

Exodus 6:12

Behold, the sons of Israel have not listened to me, so how will Pharaoh listen to me? And I have uncircumcised lips (ULT)
Certainly, if the Israelites have not paid attention to what I told them, the king will not pay attention to what I tell him, since I am a poor speaker (UST)

before the face of Yahweh (ULT) to Yahweh (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of a person. There may also be a hint of impudence in Moses' attitude that is conveyed by the words before the face of Yahweh. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "in the presence of Yahweh" or "boldly to Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

Behold (ULT)
Certainly, if (UST)

Behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. If there is not a good way to translate this term in your language, this term can be omitted from the translation, or you can use an alternate translation like "as you know."

Behold, the sons of Israel have not listened to me, so how will Pharaoh listen to me (ULT)
Certainly, if the Israelites have not paid attention to what I told them, the king will not pay attention to what I tell him (UST)

Moses asked this question in hopes that God would change his mind about using Moses. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Since the Israelites did not listen to me, neither will Pharaoh!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Behold, the sons of Israel have not listened to me, so how will Pharaoh listen to me (ULT)
Certainly, if the Israelites have not paid attention to what I told them, the king will not pay attention to what I tell him (UST)

Moses is presenting a reasoned argument: since this, then probably that. Use a natural way of expressing such arguments in your language. Alternate translation: "Since the sons of Israel have not listened to me, why would you think Pharaoh would listen to me?" (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

¹² And Moses spoke before the face of Yahweh, saying, "Behold, the sons of Israel have not listened to me, so how will Pharaoh listen to me? And I have uncircumcised lips."

UST

¹² But Moses said to Yahweh, "Certainly, if the Israelites have not paid attention to what I told them, the king will not pay attention to what I tell him, since I am a poor speaker."

And I have uncircumcised lips (ULT) since I am a poor speaker (UST)

This is a metaphor that means that Moses was not a good speaker. It is somewhat crude; your translation of this phrase could convey that Moses spoke impolitely. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "And I do not speak well" (See: Metaphor) to...and he gave them a command...the sons of Israel and to Pharaoh (ULT) to...and commanded them to go...the Israelites and to the king of Egypt (UST)

Exodus 6:13

This phrase is somewhat difficult to translate. Here, command could also be translated as “charge” or “commission.” Another difficulty is knowing to whom the command is directed: is it to Moses and Aaron or are they to give the command to Pharaoh and the Israelites; thus to could be translated as “for” or “regarding.” Alternate translations: “and he charged them regarding the sons of Israel and regarding Pharaoh” or “and he gave them a command for the sons of Israel and for Pharaoh” or “and he gave them a commission to the sons of Israel and to Pharaoh”

ULT

¹³ And Yahweh spoke to Moses and to Aaron, and he gave them a command to the sons of Israel and to Pharaoh, king of Egypt: to bring the sons of Israel out from the land of Egypt.

UST

¹³ But Yahweh spoke to Moses and Aaron and commanded them to go to the Israelites and to the king of Egypt in order to free the Israelites from their slavery in Egypt.

Exodus 6:14

Verses 14-27 are background information. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information)

UST

²⁷ They were the ones who spoke to the king of Egypt in order to bring the Israelites out of Egypt.

Exodus 6:28

And it happened on a day that (ULT)

On the day that (UST)

This marks a transition from the record of the genealogy back to the narrative. Consider placing a section break at the start of this verse.
Alternate translation: "One day" (See: Introduction of a New Event)

ULT

²⁸ And it happened on a day that Yahweh spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt,

UST

²⁸ On the day that Yahweh spoke to Moses in Egypt,

Exodus 6:29

saying (ULT)

said (UST)

Here, saying is used to mark the beginning of a direct quotation. It can be omitted if unnatural. (See: Quote Markings)

I am Yahweh. Speak to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, everything that I speak to you (ULT)

I am Yahweh. Tell the king everything that I say to you (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²⁹ and Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying, "I am Yahweh. Speak to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, everything that I speak to you."

UST

²⁹ he said, "I am Yahweh. Tell the king everything that I say to you."

Exodus 6:30

to the face of Yahweh (ULT) to Yahweh (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of a person. There may also be a hint of impudence in Moses' attitude that is conveyed by saying he spoke before the face of Yahweh. See how you translated this in 6:12. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "in the presence of Yahweh" or "boldly to Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

Behold, I have uncircumcised lips, so how will Pharaoh listen to me (ULT)

Please listen to me. I am not a good speaker. So why should the king listen to what I tell him (UST)

Moses asks this question hoping to change God's mind about sending him. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Behold, I am not a good speaker. Pharaoh will certainly not listen to me!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Behold, I have uncircumcised lips, so how will Pharaoh listen to me (ULT)

Please listen to me. I am not a good speaker. So why should the king listen to what I tell him (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Behold (ULT)

Please listen to me (UST)

Behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. If there is not a good way to translate this term in your language, this term can be omitted from the translation, or you can use an alternate translation like "as you know."

I have uncircumcised lips (ULT)

I am not a good speaker (UST)

This is a metaphor that means that Moses thought he was not a good speaker. It is somewhat crude, and your translation of this phrase could convey that Moses spoke impolitely. See how you translated this in 6:12. Alternate translation: "I always fail to speak well" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

³⁰ But Moses said to the face of Yahweh, "Behold, I have uncircumcised lips, so how will Pharaoh listen to me?"

UST

³⁰ But Moses said to Yahweh, "Please listen to me. I am not a good speaker. So why should the king listen to what I tell him?"

Exodus 7

Exodus 7 General Notes

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Miracles

When Yahweh had Moses perform miracles, Pharaoh's men were able to copy these miracles. It is unknown how they were able to do this, but since it was not from Yahweh, they were probably done under some evil power. (See: miracle, wonder, sign and evil, wicked, unpleasant)

Pharaoh's hard heart

Pharaoh's heart is often described as hard, strong, or heavy in this chapter. This means that his heart was not open or willing to understand Yahweh's instructions.

"Let my people go"

This is a very important statement. Moses is not asking Pharaoh to "let go" of the Hebrew people. Instead, he is demanding that Pharaoh free the Hebrew people.

Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter Include:

- Moses as God to Pharaoh
- A number of difficult terms: prophet, signs, wonders, miracles, sorcerers, magicians, magic, judgments, canals, reservoirs
- The use of "heart" to refer to the seat of will and emotion
- Up to third-level quotations

Exodus 7:1

Moses (ULT) answered (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues to the end of verse 5. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Look (ULT) See (UST)

This is used to draw attention to surprising information that follows.
Alternative translation: "Listen carefully"

I have made you God to Pharaoh (ULT) I am putting you in front of the king {like} a god (UST)

This means Moses would represent the same authority to Pharaoh as God did to Moses. See how you translated the very similar phrase in Exodus 4:16. Alternate translation: "I will cause Pharaoh to consider you as a god" (See: Metaphor) and your brother Aaron will be your prophet (ULT) and your brother Aaron will {speak for you like} a prophet (UST)

This phrase compares Aaron to a prophet, because Aaron will actually be the one who proclaims to Pharaoh what Moses tells him. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 4:16. Alternate translation: "and Aaron your brother will act like your prophet" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Look, I have made you God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet.

UST

¹ Yahweh answered, "See, I am putting you in front of the king {like} a god, and your brother Aaron will {speak for you like} a prophet.

Exodus 7:2your brother (ULT)*your {older} brother (UST)

Aaron is older than Moses. If your language uses a different term for the sibling relationship based on gender and age order, choose the appropriate one. (See: Kinship) that he should let the sons of Israel go from his land (ULT)to let the Israelites leave his land (UST)

Some languages may need to make this a direct quote. If so, be sure to mark it as a second-level quotation, subordinate to Yahweh's main speech. See what you did in 6:25. Alternative translation: "saying, 'You must let the sons of Israel go from your land'" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations) from his land (ULT)his land (UST)

Alternate translation: "from Egypt"

ULT

² You shall say everything that I will command you. And your brother Aaron shall speak to Pharaoh that he should let the sons of Israel go from his land.

UST

² You must tell everything I instruct you to your {older} brother Aaron, and he will tell it all to the king. He must tell the king to let the Israelites leave his land.

Exodus 7:3

will harden the heart of Pharaoh (ULT) will make the king stubborn. Because of this (UST)

This means God will make him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were hard. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in Exodus 4:21, but note the slightly different metaphor there: the heart being strong vs. hard here. Alternate translation: "will cause Pharaoh to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor)

my signs and my miracles (ULT) of miracles (UST)

The words signs and wonders mean basically the same thing. God uses them to emphasize the greatness of what he will do in Egypt. If your language does not use repetition in this way, you could combine them.(See: Doublet)

ULT

³ But I will harden the heart of Pharaoh, and I will multiply my signs and my miracles in the land of Egypt.

UST

³ But I will make the king stubborn. Because of this, even though I will do many kinds of miracles here in Egypt,

Exodus 7:4

to you (ULT)

you (UST)

Here, you means Moses and Aaron. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual form (if you have one) or plural form (if not) here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

my hand (ULT)

Then I will punish...very severely (UST)

The words my hand represent God’s great power. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “my power” (See: Metonymy)

on Egypt (ULT)

the Egyptians (UST)

Here, on Egypt refers to the land and everything in it, including people, animals, and plants. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. (See: Metonymy)

These phrases refer to the Israelites in three different ways; they do not refer to three different groups of people. Here, armies is the same word translated “hosts” in Exodus 6:26. Alternate translation: “the armies of my Israelite people”

ULT

⁴ And Pharaoh will not listen to you, so I will put my hand on Egypt and will bring out my armies, my people, the sons of Israel, from the land of Egypt with great judgments.

UST

⁴ the king will not obey you. Then I will punish the Egyptians very severely and will lead my people, the Israelites, out of Egypt as an army.

Exodus 7:5

And the Egyptians will know that I am Yahweh (ULT)

they will know that I am Yahweh (UST)

This is the result of God rescuing the Israelites. In some languages the result will have to be placed after the cause, as in the UST. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

when I stretch out my hand over (ULT)

Once I have proven how powerful I am to (UST)

This phrase represents God's great power. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "when I show my powerful acts against" (See: Metonymy) to bring the sons of Israel out from their midst (ULT)

by rescuing the Israelites from being their slaves (UST)

The goal of God's powerful acts was to rescue the Israelites. Alternate translation: "so that I bring the sons of Israel out from their midst" (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

from their midst (ULT)

from being their slaves (UST)

At the end of this verse, the direct quote that began in verse 1 ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. Note that the UST is reordered. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁵ And the Egyptians will know that I am Yahweh when I stretch out my hand over Egypt to bring the sons of Israel out from their midst."

UST

⁵ Once I have proven how powerful I am to the Egyptians by rescuing the Israelites from being their slaves, they will know that I am Yahweh."

Exodus 7:6

And...did...they did (ULT)

did...to do (UST)

This repetition emphasizes the statement. Some languages can use repetition for emphasis; others will need to use another way of expressing emphasis. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

⁶ And Moses and Aaron did; they did just as Yahweh commanded them.

UST

⁶ Moses and Aaron did everything that Yahweh told them to do.

Exodus 7:7

This verse contains background information. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information)

80...83 (ULT)

was 80...was 83 (UST)

Alternate translation: "eighty ... eighty-three" (See: Numbers) was a son of 80 years...was a son of 83 years (ULT) was 80 years old...was 83 years old (UST)

The phrase a son of, followed by a number and then years, is an idiom that refers to their age. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁷ And Moses was a son of 80 years and Aaron was a son of 83 years when they were speaking to Pharaoh.

UST

⁷ When {God sent} them to talk to the king of Egypt, Moses was 80 years old and Aaron was 83 years old.

Exodus 7:8

And Yahweh said (ULT)

Yahweh said (UST)

This verse marks the beginning of new sections, both major and minor. The major story of the plagues and Exodus itself unfolds from here until after Pharaoh's army is defeated at the Red Sea. The next minor event is the miracle of the rods becoming snakes. Either by using particular forms that your language uses to mark transitions or by making a section break and heading, this transition should be marked for readers. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

saying (ULT)

said (UST)

Here, saying marks the beginning of a direct quote and is often omitted in translation when such a construction is unnatural in the target language. See UST.

ULT

⁸ And Yahweh said to Moses and to Aaron saying,

UST

⁸ Yahweh said to Moses and Aaron,

Exodus 7:9

For Pharaoh will speak to you, saying, ‘Create a miracle yourself,’ and you shall say to Aaron, ‘Take your staff and throw it down before the face of Pharaoh; let it become a serpent (ULT) If the king says to you, ‘Show me that God sent you by performing a miracle,’ then say to Aaron, ‘Throw your staff down in front of the king in order that it may become a snake (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁹ “For Pharaoh will speak to you, saying, ‘Create a miracle yourself,’ and you shall say to Aaron, ‘Take your staff and throw it down before the face of Pharaoh; let it become a serpent.’”

UST

⁹ “If the king says to you, ‘Show me that God sent you by performing a miracle,’ then say to Aaron, ‘Throw your staff down in front of the king in order that it may become a snake.’”

For Pharaoh will speak to you, saying, ‘Create a miracle yourself,’ and you shall say to Aaron, ‘Take your staff and throw it down before the face of Pharaoh; let it become a serpent (ULT) If the king says to you, ‘Show me that God sent you by performing a miracle,’ then say to Aaron, ‘Throw your staff down in front of the king in order that it may become a snake (UST)

The two quotations in this verse could be stated as indirect quotes. Alternate translation: “When Pharaoh tells you to do a miracle, then you will tell Aaron to take his staff and throw it down before Pharaoh so that it may become a snake” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Create a miracle yourself (ULT)
Show me that God sent you by performing a miracle (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation. If you did not decide to make it an indirect quotation, it may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Take your staff and throw it down before the face of Pharaoh; let it become a serpent (ULT)
Throw your staff down in front of the king in order that it may become a snake (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation. The second level may either end after Pharaoh or at the end of the verse. If you did not decide to make it an indirect quotation, it may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) saying (ULT)says (UST)

Here, saying marks the beginning of a direct quote and is often omitted in translation when such a construction is unnatural in the target language. See UST.

to you...yourself (ULT)to you...Show me that God sent you by performing (UST)

These pronouns are plural, referring to Moses and Aaron. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual form (if you have one) or plural form (if not) here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

before the face of Pharaoh (ULT)in front of the king (UST)

Although before the face of still has the standard figurative meaning of “in the presence of,” it is a much more literal use here. Moses and Aaron are to actually do the miracles in front of Pharaoh so that Pharaoh can see them. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternative translation: “so Pharaoh can see it” (See: Metonymy) before the face of Pharaoh and before the faces of his servants (ULT) in front of the king and his officials (UST)

Exodus 7:10

This time, while before the face of still has the standard figurative meaning of “in the presence of,” it is a much more literal use here. Aaron actually does this right in front of Pharaoh and his servants so they could watch what happens. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternative translation: “where Pharaoh and his servants could see it” (See: Metonymy)

his servants (ULT) his officials (UST)

Here, his servants does not refer common servants but probably refers to important advisors that would be in the king’s court.

ULT

¹⁰ And Moses and Aaron entered in to Pharaoh, and they did just as Yahweh commanded. And Aaron threw down his staff before the face of Pharaoh and before the faces of his servants, and it became a serpent.

UST

¹⁰ So Aaron and Moses went to the king and did what Yahweh told them to do. Aaron threw his staff down in front of the king and his officials, and it became a snake.

Exodus 7:11

wise men and sorcerers...the magicians of
(ULT)

his wise men and men who did magic...They
(UST)

Here, magicians probably describes both wise men and sorcerers rather than being a third group. See translationWords articles for each term.

ULT

¹¹ And Pharaoh also called for wise men and sorcerers. And the magicians of Egypt also did so by their magic.

UST

¹¹ Then the king called his wise men and men who did magic. They did the same thing, using their magic.

Exodus 7:12And...swallowed up (ULT)*Then...ate (UST)

Alternate translation: "ate up" or "devoured"

And the staff of Aaron swallowed up their staves (ULT)*Then Aaron's snake ate their snakes (UST)This is a surprising and amusing twist which was not what the magicians expected. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)the staff of...their staves (ULT)*s snake...their snakes (UST)

It may be necessary in some languages to translate the word staff as "snake," since it had turned into one. This may be true if it would not make sense in the target language to say (because it is not living) that a staff swallowed or ate something. It may also may not make sense in some languages to speak of the snakes as staves once they have been transformed. (See: Personification)

ULT

¹² And each man threw down his staff, and they became serpents. And the staff of Aaron swallowed up their staves.

UST

¹² They all threw down their staves, and the staves became snakes. Then Aaron's snake ate their snakes!

Exodus 7:13

And the heart of Pharaoh was strong (ULT) But...the king continued to be stubborn (UST)

Pharaoh's stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in Exodus 4:21, but note that this is a neutral statement (it does not say that anyone caused him to be stubborn, as many others in this part of the narrative do). Alternate translation: "Pharaoh was still defiant" (See: Metaphor)

just as Yahweh had spoken (ULT) just as Yahweh had said (UST)

Because Yahweh's prediction precedes this event, some languages may need to place the reference to that prediction before the statement that it was fulfilled. See UST.

ULT

¹³ And the heart of Pharaoh was strong, and he did not listen to them, just as Yahweh had spoken.

UST

¹³ But, just as Yahweh had said, the king continued to be stubborn and would not obey what Aaron and Moses said.

Exodus 7:14

The heart of Pharaoh is heavy (ULT)

The king is very stubborn (UST)

Now Yahweh speaks of Pharaoh's stubborn attitude as if Pharaoh's heart were heavy. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. This is a neutral statement (it does not say that anyone caused him to be stubborn as many others in this part of the narrative do). See how you translated this in Exodus 7:13, but note the slightly different metaphor there: the heart being strong vs heavy here. Alternate translation: "Pharaoh is defiant" (See: Metaphor)

And...said (ULT)

Then...said (UST)

A new scene begins here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Moses (ULT)

Moses (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues to the end of verse 18. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

14 And Yahweh said to Moses, "The heart of Pharaoh is heavy; he has refused to let the people go.

UST

14 Then Yahweh said to Moses, "The king is very stubborn. He refuses to allow my people to go.

Exodus 7:15

Behold (ULT) as he is going down (UST)

Behold is used to draw attention to information that follows.

he goes out to the water (ULT) as he is going down...to the Nile River (UST)

There are various theories as to what Pharaoh would go down to the Nile to do, but there is no need to speculate or specify in the translation.

ULT

¹⁵ Go to Pharaoh. Behold, in the morning he goes out to the water, so station yourself to meet him on the edge of the river. And take in your hand the staff that turned into a snake.

UST

¹⁵ So go meet him as he is going down to the Nile River in the morning. Wait for him on the riverbank. Take with you the staff that became a snake.

Exodus 7:16

And say to him (ULT)

Say to him (UST)

Alternate translation: "Say to Pharaoh"

Yahweh (ULT)

named} Yahweh (UST)

This begins a second-level quotation that continues until the end of verse 18. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

the God of the Hebrews (ULT)

The God...the one we Hebrews worship (UST)

Yahweh claimed the Hebrews (Israelites) as his own. They worshiped him. This is a possessive of social relationship. (See: Possession)

Let my people go, and they will serve me in the wilderness. And behold, until now, you have not listened (ULT) to let his people go in order that they may worship him in the desert. But you still have not obeyed (UST)

This is a third-level quotation. It should be marked in some manner that distinguishes it from the outer levels. Alternatively, you could translate it as an indirect quotation as in the UST. If you do this, take care to adjust the pronoun person (second/third) as appropriate. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

And behold (ULT)

But (UST)

Here, behold is used to draw attention to the information that follows. In some languages, it will not be translated.

ULT

¹⁶ And say to him, 'Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews, has sent me to you to say, "Let my people go, and they will serve me in the wilderness. And behold, until now, you have not listened."

UST

¹⁶ Say to him, 'The God {named} Yahweh, the one we Hebrews worship, sent me to you to tell you to let his people go in order that they may worship him in the desert. But you still have not obeyed.'

Exodus 7:17

Thus says Yahweh (ULT) So Yahweh says this (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

By this (ULT) This is the way (UST)

This begins a third-level quotation that continues until the end of verse 18. It should be marked in some manner that distinguishes it from the outer levels. It is possible that the third-level quote actually ends before or after Behold, in which case, in the rest of the quote I refers to Moses, not Yahweh. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

Behold (ULT) Look out (UST)

Behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. Alternate translation: "Look at this"

ULT

¹⁷ Thus says Yahweh: "By this you will know that I am Yahweh. Behold, I am about to strike against the waters that are in the river with the staff that is in my hand, and they will turn to blood.

UST

¹⁷ So Yahweh says this: "This is the way you will know that I am Yahweh. Look out! I am going to hit the water that is in the Nile River with the staff that is in my hand. {When I do that,} the water will become blood.

Exodus 7:18

and the river will stink (ULT)

and the water in the river will smell bad (UST)

His warning, the river will stink, will happen because the fish die.

Alternate translation: “and because of that the river will stink” (See:

Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

And the Egyptians will exhaust themselves to drink water from the river (ULT)

The Egyptians will wear themselves out trying to find water to drink from the river (UST)

In some languages you will need to put the reason before the result.

Alternative translation: “In order to find water to drink from the river, the Egyptians will exhaust themselves.” (See:

Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

And the Egyptians will exhaust themselves (ULT)

The Egyptians will wear themselves out (UST)

Here, themselves refers back to the subject (the Egyptians) to indicated that the Egyptians are the object of the verb as well. Use a natural form in your language to show that the Egyptians are both subject and object. Alternate translation: “And the Egyptians will exhaust the Egyptians” (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

from the river (ULT)

from the river (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Yahweh’s commands ends. Depending on your decisions about the embedded quotation levels, you may have up to three levels of quotations that need to be closed here. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with closing quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation and quotations within quotations. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹⁸ And the fish that are in the river will die, and the river will stink. And the Egyptians will exhaust themselves to drink water from the river.”””

UST

¹⁸ Then the fish in the Nile River will die, and the water in the river will smell bad. The Egyptians will wear themselves out trying to find water to drink from the river.”””

Exodus 7:19

Say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt; over their streams, over their canals, and over their pools, and over every reservoir of their water, and it will become blood.' And there will be blood in all the land of Egypt, both in containers of wood and in containers of stone (ULT)

Then tell Aaron, 'Hold your staff out {as though you were holding it} over all the water in Egypt—over the rivers, the canals, the ponds, and over all the stored water, in order that all of it may become blood.' {When Aaron does that,} there will be blood throughout Egypt, even in wooden and stone jars (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Take your staff and stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt; over their streams, over their canals, and over their pools, and over every reservoir of their water, and it will become blood (ULT)

Hold your staff out {as though you were holding it} over all the water in Egypt—over the rivers, the canals, the ponds, and over all the stored water, in order that all of it may become blood (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

over their streams, over their canals, and over their pools, and over every reservoir of their water (ULT) over the rivers, the canals, the ponds, and over all the stored water (UST)

This list is meant to expand on and reinforce the idea of all of the water in Egypt. You should translate the list in such a way that the locations of the blood are not limited to these specific places, but to imply universality. (See: Merism)

ULT

¹⁹ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt; over their streams, over their canals, and over their pools, and over every reservoir of their water, and it will become blood.' And there will be blood in all the land of Egypt, both in containers of wood and in containers of stone."

UST

¹⁹ Yahweh continued, "Then tell Aaron, 'Hold your staff out {as though you were holding it} over all the water in Egypt—over the rivers, the canals, the ponds, and over all the stored water, in order that all of it may become blood.' {When Aaron does that,} there will be blood throughout Egypt, even in wooden and stone jars."

in all the land of (ULT)
throughout Egypt (UST)

Alternate translation: "in every part of"

both in containers of wood and in containers of stone (ULT) even in wooden and stone jars (UST)

This possessive show composition. Alternate translation: "and in containers made from wood and in containers made from stone" (See: Possession)

Exodus 7:20

in the river (ULT)

in the Nile River (UST)

The name of the river may be made explicit. Alternate translation: “in the Nile River” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of his servants (ULT)

As the king and his officials were watching (UST)

This means in their sight. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “in the sight of Pharaoh and his servants” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁰ And Moses and Aaron did so, just as Yahweh commanded. And he raised the staff, and he struck the water that was in the river, in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of his servants. And all the water that was in the river turned to blood.

UST

²⁰ So Aaron and Moses did what Yahweh told them to do. As the king and his officials were watching, Aaron lifted up his staff and then struck the water in the Nile River with it. All the water in the river turned to blood.

Exodus 7:21

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²¹ And the fish that were in the river died, and the river stank, so the Egyptians were not able to drink water from the river. And the blood was in all the land of Egypt.

UST

²¹ Then all the fish in the river died. The water smelled so bad that the Egyptians could not drink the water from the river. All the water in Egypt was blood.

Exodus 7:22

the magicians of (ULT) who did magic (UST)

See how you translated this term in 7:11. (See: Translate Unknowns)

And the heart of Pharaoh was strong (ULT) So...the king continued to be stubborn (UST)

Pharaoh's stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. This is a neutral statement (it does not say that anyone caused him to be stubborn as many others in this part of the narrative do). See how you translated this in Exodus 7:13. Alternate translation: "Pharaoh was still defiant" (See: Metaphor)

just as Yahweh had spoken (ULT) just as Yahweh had said (UST)

Because Yahweh's prediction precedes this event, some languages may need to place the reference to that prediction before the statement that it was fulfilled. See UST and how you handled this in 7:13, where the same sentence appears.

ULT

²² And the magicians of Egypt did the same with their magic. And the heart of Pharaoh was strong, and he did not listen to them, just as Yahweh had spoken.

UST

²² But the Egyptian men who did magic did the same thing using their magic. So, just as Yahweh had said, the king continued to be stubborn and would not obey what Aaron and Moses said.

Exodus 7:23

And he did not set his heart even to this (ULT) and he did not think any more about it (UST)

This is an idiom meaning Pharaoh did not think about the meaning of the miracle he had just seen. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language.

Alternate translation: "And he did not consider what even this meant" (See: Idiom)

ULT

²³ And Pharaoh turned around and went into his house. And he did not set his heart even to this.

UST

²³ Then the king turned and went back to his palace, and he did not think any more about it.

Exodus 7:24

all the Egyptians (ULT)

All the Egyptians (UST)

The word all here is a generalization that means “many.” At the least, the upper class would have sent their slaves to dig for them.

Alternate translation: “many of the Egyptians” (See: Hyperbole)

ULT

²⁴ And all the Egyptians dug water to drink around the river, for they were not able to drink from the waters of the river.

UST

²⁴ All the Egyptians dug into the ground near the Nile River to get water to drink, because they could not drink the water from the river.

Exodus 7:25

And...were filled (ULT) passed (UST)

A new scene begins here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And seven days were filled (ULT) One week passed (UST)

This means seven days later. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. (See: Idiom)

seven (ULT) One week (UST)

Alternate translation: "7" (See: Numbers)

ULT

²⁵ And seven days were filled after Yahweh struck the river.

UST

²⁵ One week passed after Yahweh struck the Nile River.

Exodus 8

Exodus 8 General Notes

Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter

- the exact insects in plagues 3-4 are not certain; translation teams will need to decide what insects they can use for each
- Pharaoh makes his own heart heavy, that is, he determines to be proud and resist Yahweh twice in this chapter
- the Israelites' sacrifices are spoken of as an abomination to the Egyptians, but it is not specified how or why that is

Lifting up the hand and staff:

In the next few chapters, God will instruct Moses or Aaron or both to raise his hand or staff or both hand and staff. The narrative will then record who will raise his hand or staff or both. The instruction and the action do not always match exactly. God may say raise your hand, and the narrative may say that Moses raised his staff. These are not conflicting reports. Translators should understand that the hand and the staff are always understood together. They are one unit, and they can both be mentioned, or they can be mentioned separately. In each case, Moses or Aaron raises his hand with the staff in it. This fact is merely expressed differently.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Pharaoh's hard heart

Pharaoh's heart is often described as hard in this chapter. This means that his heart was not open or willing to understand Yahweh's instructions. When his heart was hardened, it became less and less receptive to Yahweh.

Let my people go

This is a very important statement. Moses is not asking Pharaoh to "let go" of the Hebrew people. Instead, he is demanding that Pharaoh free the Hebrew people.

Exodus 8:1

Go (ULT)

Go back (UST)

This begins a direct quote that continues until the end of verse 4.
(See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)

Yahweh says that (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

Thus (ULT)

that (UST)

Here, Thus begins a second-level quote that continues until the end of verse 4. It should be marked in some manner that distinguishes it from the outer level. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

Let...go (ULT)

you must let...go (UST)

This begins a third-level quote that continues until the end of verse 4. It should be marked in some manner that distinguishes it from the outer levels. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh, and you shall say to him, 'Thus says Yahweh: "Let my people go, and they shall serve me."

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Go back to the king and tell him, 'Yahweh says that you must let my people go in order that they can worship me {in the desert.}'

Exodus 8:2

to let go (ULT) let them go (UST)

What Pharaoh is to let go is not specified, but “my people” or “the Israelites” are the understood object. Alternate translation: “to let the Israelites go” (See: Ellipsis)

behold (ULT) watch out (UST)

Here, behold is an interjection meant to focus the attention of the listener on what comes next, in this case a dire warning. Alternate translation: “look out”

ULT

² And if you refuse to let go, behold! I am about to strike all your territory with frogs.

UST

² But if you do not let them go, watch out! I will punish you by sending frogs to cover your country.

Exodus 8:3

into your house and in the room of your bed and on your bed and into the house of your servants and among your people and in your ovens and in your kneading bowls (ULT) into your house. They will come into your bedroom and onto your bed. They will be in the houses of your slaves and all the rest of your people. They will even get into your ovens and your pans for mixing the materials for baking bread (UST)

This long list means “everywhere in Egypt.” It is presented in this way for rhetorical effect, that is, to convince Pharaoh of how bad this plague will be so he will obey. You should translate the list in such a way that the frogs’ location is not limited to these specific places. The list should imply universality. (See: Merism)

ULT

³ And frogs will swarm the river, and they will climb, and they will go into your house and in the room of your bed and on your bed and into the house of your servants and among your people and in your ovens and in your kneading bowls,

UST

³ Not only will the Nile River be full of frogs, but the frogs will also come up out of the river into your house. They will come into your bedroom and onto your bed. They will be in the houses of your slaves and all the rest of your people. They will even get into your ovens and your pans for mixing the materials for baking bread.

Exodus 8:4

Up to three levels of quotes end at the end of this verse. Depending on how many levels you chose to mark as direct quotations, you should indicate them ending here with closing second-level (and third-level) quotation mark(s) or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of quotations and quotations within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁴ and the frogs will climb on you and on your people and on all your servants.'''

UST

⁴ The frogs will jump up on you, on the Egyptian people, and on all your slaves.'''

Exodus 8:5

Say to Aaron, ‘Reach out your hand with your staff over the canals, over the streams, and over the pools, and cause the frogs to come up on the land of Egypt (ULT)

Say this to Aaron: ‘Hold your staff in your hand and stretch it out {as though you were stretching it} over the river, the canals, and the ponds, and cause frogs to come up {from all this water} and to cover the land of Egypt (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level opening and closing quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

And Yahweh said to Moses, “Say to Aaron (ULT) Yahweh also said to Moses, “Say this to Aaron (UST)

It may be helpful to translate this first quotation indirectly to avoid having two levels of quotations in this verse. Alternate translation: “And Yahweh told Moses to say to Aaron” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Reach out your hand with your staff over the canals, over the streams, and over the pools, and cause the frogs to come up on the land of Egypt (ULT)
Hold your staff in your hand and stretch it out {as though you were stretching it} over the river, the canals, and the ponds, and cause frogs to come up {from all this water} and to cover the land of Egypt (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation if you chose to make Say to Aaron a direct quotation. In that case, it may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with second-level opening and closing quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation inside a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

your hand...with your staff (ULT) your staff...in your hand...it (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

over the canals, over the streams, and over the pools (ULT) as though you were stretching it} over the river, the canals, and the ponds (UST)

This list is meant to convey the idea of all the water in Egypt where frogs might live. You should translate the list in such a way that the locations are not limited to these specific places. The list should imply universality. This is made clear in 8:6. (See: Merism)

ULT

⁵ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Say to Aaron, ‘Reach out your hand with your staff over the canals, over the streams, and over the pools, and cause the frogs to come up on the land of Egypt.”

UST

⁵ Yahweh also said to Moses, “Say this to Aaron: ‘Hold your staff in your hand and stretch it out {as though you were stretching it} over the river, the canals, and the ponds, and cause frogs to come up {from all this water} and to cover the land of Egypt.”

Exodus 8:6

And Aaron reached out (ULT) After Moses told that to him,} Aaron stretched out (UST)

It is implied that Moses told Yahweh's instructions to Aaron. You may choose to make this explicit, as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) his hand (ULT) his hand (UST)

It is implied that Aaron was holding his staff as instructed. You may choose to make this explicit. See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff. Alternate translation: "his hand holding his staff" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

And Aaron reached out his hand over the waters of (ULT) After Moses told that to him,} Aaron stretched out his hand {as though he were stretching it} over all the water in Egypt (UST)

Aaron would not have been able to reach his hand over all the water in Egypt. He likely stretched his hand over some nearby portion of the Nile, symbolizing all the water of Egypt. (See: Synecdoche) and...came up (ULT) Then...came up {from the water} (UST)

Verse 3 has specified from where the frogs will come. Here it is implied, but you may make it explicit as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

the frog (ULT) the frogs (UST)

There were so many frogs that the text uses the collective singular. If that does not make sense in your language, you may simply use the plural, as in the UST. (See: Collective Nouns) and the frog came up and covered the land of Egypt (ULT) Then the frogs came up {from the water} and covered Egypt (UST)

This means that there were frogs everywhere in Egypt. The image is like that of a blanket smothering the entire country. (Or more directly, like one giant, nation-sized frog sitting on top of the entire land). If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁶ And Aaron reached out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the frog came up and covered the land of Egypt.

UST

⁶ {After Moses told that to him,} Aaron stretched out his hand {as though he were stretching it} over all the water in Egypt. Then the frogs came up {from the water} and covered Egypt.

Exodus 8:7

the magicians...with their magic (ULT)
the men who did magic...by magic (UST)

See how you translated these in 7:11. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁷ And the magicians did likewise with their magic, and they brought up frogs over the land of Egypt.

UST

⁷ But the men who did magic did the same thing by magic, and they caused more frogs to come up from the water onto the land.

Exodus 8:8

And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron (ULT)

Then the king called Moses and Aaron (UST)

Alternate translation: "Then Pharaoh sent for Moses and Aaron" or "And the king summoned Moses and Aaron"

And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and he said (ULT)

Then the king called Moses and Aaron and said (UST)

It is implied that Moses and Aaron came to Pharaoh between the time when he called them and when he spoke to them. You may need to make that explicit. Alternate translation: "And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and after they came, he said" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

Pray to Yahweh that he may take away the frogs from me and from my people. And I will let the people go, and they may sacrifice to Yahweh (ULT)

Ask Yahweh to take these frogs away from me and my people. After that happens, I will allow your people to go to worship Yahweh (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

to Yahweh that he may take away the frogs from me and from my people (ULT)

Yahweh to take these frogs away from me and my people (UST)

In some languages you may have to make the content of Pharaoh's prayer to Yahweh a direct quote. Note that this will make it a second-level quotation and you will need to mark it with second-level quotation markings if your language uses them. Alternate translation: "to Yahweh saying, 'Please take away the frogs from Pharaoh and from his people.'" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

And I will let the people go, and they may sacrifice to Yahweh (ULT)

After that happens, I will allow your people to go to worship Yahweh (UST)

This promise is conditional on the frogs going away. Use a natural form in your language for hypothetical situations. Alternate translation: "Once the frogs are gone, I will let the people go, and they may sacrifice to Yahweh" (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

ULT

⁸ And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and he said, "Pray to Yahweh that he may take away the frogs from me and from my people. And I will let the people go, and they may sacrifice to Yahweh."

UST

⁸ Then the king called Moses and Aaron and said, "Ask Yahweh to take these frogs away from me and my people. After that happens, I will allow your people to go to worship Yahweh."

Exodus 8:9

Glorify yourself over me: when shall I pray for you and for your servants and for your people, to cause to cut off the frogs from you and from your houses? They will be left in the river only (ULT)

Show how you are more glorious than me by telling me when to pray for you and your officials and the rest of your peoples. I will pray that the frogs stop coming to your houses and stay in the Nile River (UST)

Glorify yourself over me (ULT)

Show how you are more glorious than me by telling me (UST)

Moses speaks with false humility here. He is ironically pointing out Pharaoh's powerlessness before Yahweh. Alternate translation: "You can choose" (See: Irony) for you and for your servants and for your people...from you and from your houses (ULT) for you and your officials and the rest of your peoples...to your houses (UST)

These lists mean "for everyone" and "from everywhere" (in Egypt). This makes clear that Moses will ask for a complete end of the plague. You should translate the list in such a way that it does not convey limitation to these specifics but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism)

ULT

⁹ And Moses said to Pharaoh, "Glorify yourself over me: when shall I pray for you and for your servants and for your people, to cause to cut off the frogs from you and from your houses? They will be left in the river only."

UST

⁹ Moses said to the king, "Show how you are more glorious than me by telling me when to pray for you and your officials and the rest of your peoples. I will pray that the frogs stop coming to your houses and stay in the Nile River."

Exodus 8:10

Tomorrow (ULT)

Pray for us} tomorrow (UST)

Just as you say (ULT)

I will do what you say (UST)

A direct quote begins here that continues to the end of the next verse. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

so that you will know that there is no one like Yahweh, our God (ULT)

You will know that the God {named} Yahweh, {the one we worship, is the only true God, and that} there is no other God like him when (UST)

This knowledge is the goal of Yahweh's granting a respite from the frogs. In some languages you may need to place this at the end of verse 11, after Moses says the frogs will leave. (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

our God (ULT)

the God...named} Yahweh...the one we worship, is the only true God, and that...other God like him (UST)

Here, our refers to the Israelites' God, excluding Pharaoh and the Egyptians. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We')

ULT

¹⁰ And he said, "Tomorrow." And he said, "Just as you say, so that you will know that there is no one like Yahweh, our God.

UST

¹⁰ The king replied, "{Pray for us} tomorrow." So Moses said, "I will do what you say. You will know that the God {named} Yahweh, {the one we worship, is the only true God, and that} there is no other God like him when

Exodus 8:11

from you and from your houses and from your servants and from your people (ULT) you, your officials, all the rest of your people and all your houses (UST)

This list means “from everywhere and everyone” (in Egypt). This shows that the end of the plague will be as complete as was its extent. You should translate the list in such a way that it does not convey limitation to these specifics but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism)

They will be left in the river only (ULT) when the only ones left are in the Nile River (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Moses that started in the previous verse ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹¹ And the frogs will withdraw from you and from your houses and from your servants and from your people. They will be left in the river only.”

UST

¹¹ the frogs leave you, your officials, all the rest of your people and all your houses; when the only ones left are in the Nile River.”

Exodus 8:12

he had set (ULT)

he had used to punish (UST)

Alternate translation: "Yahweh had set"

And Moses and Aaron went out (ULT)

Then Moses and Aaron left (UST)

A minor scene shift occurs here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

ULT

¹² And Moses and Aaron went out from being with Pharaoh. And Moses cried out to Yahweh concerning the matter of the frogs that he had set on Pharaoh.

UST

¹² Then Moses and Aaron left the king. Moses pleaded with Yahweh about the frogs he had used to punish the king.

Exodus 8:13

from the houses, from the courts, and from the fields (ULT) in the houses, in their courtyards, and in their fields (UST)

This list means “from everywhere” (in Egypt). This makes clear that there was a complete end of the plague. You should translate the list in such a way that it does not convey limitation to these specifics but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism)

ULT

¹³ And Yahweh did according to the word of Moses: and the frogs died off from the houses, from the courts, and from the fields.

UST

¹³ Yahweh did just what Moses asked him to do. As a result, all the frogs in the houses, in their courtyards, and in their fields died.

Exodus 8:14

into many piles (ULT)

into big piles (UST)

Literally, the Hebrew says “piles piles.” Repetition is used in Hebrew to emphasize how many or how big the piles of frogs were.

ULT

14 And they gathered them into many piles, and the land stank.

UST

14 The people gathered together all the dead frogs into big piles, and the land smelled very bad.

Exodus 8:15

and he caused his heart to be heavy (ULT) he made himself stubborn again (UST)

Pharaoh's stubborn attitude is spoken of as if he made his own heart heavy. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in Exodus 7:14, but note there that the state of Pharaoh's heart is reported, whereas here Pharaoh makes his own heart heavy. Alternate translation: "and Pharaoh determined to be defiant" (See: Metaphor) just as Yahweh had said (ULT) Just as Yahweh had said would happen (UST) Alternate translation: "just as Yahweh had said Pharaoh would do"

ULT

¹⁵ And Pharaoh saw that there was a respite, and he caused his heart to be heavy, and he did not listen to them, just as Yahweh had said.

UST

¹⁵ But when the king noticed that the frogs were gone, he made himself stubborn again. Just as Yahweh had said would happen, the king did not do what Aaron and Moses told him.

Exodus 8:16

And Yahweh said (ULT)
Then Yahweh said (UST)

A new scene begins here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. This is the start of the third plague sequence. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Say to Aaron, ‘Stretch out your staff and strike the dust of the ground, and it will become lice in all the land of Egypt (ULT)

Tell Aaron to strike the dusty ground with his staff so that all the dust all over Egypt will become gnats (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. However, it may be helpful to translate one of the parts as an indirect quotation so that you do not have to have two levels of quotations here. See the UST. Alternate translation: “[And Yahweh told Moses] to tell Aaron” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Stretch out your staff and strike the dust of the ground, and it will become lice in all the land of Egypt (ULT) to strike the dusty ground with his staff so that all the dust all over Egypt will become gnats (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation (unless you translated one portion as an indirect quotation). It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level (or first-level) quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation (within a quotation). (See: Quote Markings)

Stretch out your staff and strike (ULT) to strike...with his staff (UST)

This is one action or motion, but it is described with the two verbs that occur throughout this section of plague judgment.

your staff (ULT)
with his staff (UST)

This refers to Aaron’s staff. See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

lice (ULT)
gnats (UST)

We do not know exactly what this word means. It is probably a tiny (as in dust-particle size), biting insect. You should choose a different insect here than the one in the next plague (8:21-8:31). (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

16 And Yahweh said to Moses, “Say to Aaron, ‘Stretch out your staff and strike the dust of the ground, and it will become lice in all the land of Egypt.’”

UST

16 Then Yahweh said to Moses, “Tell Aaron to strike the dusty ground with his staff so that all the dust all over Egypt will become gnats.”

Exodus 8:17

Again, this is one action or motion, but it is described with the two verbs, stretched and struck, that occur throughout this section of plague judgment. See how you translated it in the previous verse.

his hand...with his staff (ULT) with his staff (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

lice...lice (ULT) gnats. The gnats...gnats. The gnats (UST)

Again, we do not know this term for certain, so see how you translated it in 8:16. (See: Translate Unknowns) on man (ULT) covered the people (UST)

This term, man, includes women and children. Alternate translation: “people” or “mankind” or “humans” See UST. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

All the dust of the ground...in all the land of Egypt (ULT) the dust...all over Egypt (UST)

This extraordinary statement is used to emphasize the extent and severity of the plague. (See: Hyperbole)

ULT

17 And they did so, and Aaron stretched out his hand with his staff and he struck the dust of the ground, and it became lice on man and on beast. All the dust of the ground was lice in all the land of Egypt.

UST

17 Moses and Aaron obeyed Yahweh. Aaron hit the dusty ground with his staff, and all over Egypt the dust became gnats. The gnats covered the people and the animals.

Exodus 8:18

the magicians...with their magic (ULT)
The men who worked magic...to cause (UST)

See how you translated these in 7:11. (See: Translate Unknowns) lice...lice (ULT)

gnats...Gnats (UST)

See how you translated this term in 8:16. (See: Translate Unknowns)

on man (ULT)
on the people (UST)

This includes women and children. Alternate translation: “people” or “mankind” or “humans” See UST. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

¹⁸ And the magicians did so with their magic to bring out lice, but they were not able. And there were lice on man and beast.

UST

¹⁸ The men who worked magic tried to cause gnats to appear, but they could not do it. Gnats were on the people and animals.

Exodus 8:19the magicians (ULT)*The magicians (UST)

See how you translated this term in 7:11. (See: Translate Unknowns)

It is the finger of God (ULT)A god did this (UST)

The words “finger of God” represent the power of God. Alternate translation: “This is the powerful work of God” (See: Synecdoche)

And the heart of Pharaoh was strong (ULT)But...the king continued to be stubborn (UST)

Pharaoh’s stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person’s will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in Exodus 7:13. This is a neutral statement (it does not say that anyone caused him to be stubborn as many others in this part of the narrative do). Alternate translation: “Pharaoh was still defiant” (See: Metaphor) to them (ULT)Aaron and Moses (UST)

It is possible that them refers to the magicians here. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) just as Yahweh said (ULT)just like Yahweh had said (UST)

Some languages will need to place this before the thing that Yahweh predicted, as in the UST.

ULT

¹⁹ And the magicians said to Pharaoh, “It is the finger of God.” And the heart of Pharaoh was strong, and he did not listen to them, just as Yahweh said.

UST

¹⁹ The magicians said to the king, “A god did this!” But just like Yahweh had said, the king continued to be stubborn and would not obey Aaron and Moses.

Exodus 8:20

and station yourself before the face of Pharaoh (ULT)
Wait to meet the king (UST)

Alternate translation: “and present yourself to Pharaoh”

And Yahweh said (ULT)
Then Yahweh said (UST)

A new scene begins here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. This is the beginning of the fourth plague sequence. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

before the face of Pharaoh (ULT)
Wait to meet...the king (UST)

Here, face figuratively means the presence of a person. (See: Metonymy)

Behold (ULT)
as he comes (UST)

Behold is used to draw attention to important information that is next. In some languages and translation styles, it will make the most sense to omit this, as in the UST. Alternate translation: “Listen carefully”

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)
This is what Yahweh says to you (UST)

This phrase opens a direct quote which continues until the end of verse 23. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. However, you may also consider making the opening portion an indirect quote so that you do not have a quote inside of a quote for the next verses. Alternate translation: “that Yahweh says” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)
This is what Yahweh says to you (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

Let...go (ULT)
Let...go (UST)

This phrase opens a second-level direct quote which continues until the end of verse 23, unless you made thus says Yahweh an indirect quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

20 And Yahweh said to Moses, “Rise early in the morning and station yourself before the face of Pharaoh. Behold, he goes out to the waters. And you shall say to him, ‘Thus says Yahweh: “Let my people go, and they will serve me.”’

UST

20 Then Yahweh said to Moses, “Get up early tomorrow morning. Wait to meet the king as he comes to the river and tell him, ‘This is what Yahweh says to you: “Let my people go in order that they may worship me.”’ and they will serve me (ULT)

in order that they may worship me (UST)

This is the purpose of the people being let go. Alternate translation: “so they can serve me” (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

Exodus 8:21

behold me (ULT)

watch out (UST)

The expression behold me! is used to draw attention to important information that is next. Alternate translation: "Listen carefully"

the swarm...the swarm (ULT)

swarms of flies...flies (UST)

Here, the swarm is a collective singular noun that refers to a great number of flying, biting insects traveling in a group. Alternate translation: "swarms of flies" (See: Collective Nouns)

the swarm...the swarm (ULT)

swarms of flies...flies (UST)

These are probably the common large flies that bother humans and livestock. (See: Translate Unknowns) at you and at your servants and at your people and into your houses...the houses of Egypt...and even the ground (ULT) which will cover you, your slaves, the rest of your people, and your houses...

All the Egyptian's houses...They will even cover the ground (UST)

This long list means "everywhere in Egypt." It is presented in this way for rhetorical effect, that is, to convince Pharaoh of how bad this plague will be so he will obey. You should translate the list in such a way that the flies' location is not limited to these specific places but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism)

ULT

²¹ Surely if you do not immediately send my people out, behold me! I am about to send the swarm at you and at your servants and at your people and into your houses. And the houses of Egypt will be full of the swarm, and even the ground which they are on.

UST

²¹ If you do not let my people go immediately, watch out! Be sure that I will shortly send swarms of flies which will cover you, your slaves, the rest of your people, and your houses. All the Egyptian's houses will be full of flies. They will even cover the ground.

Exodus 8:22so that the swarm will not be there (ULT)
There will be no swarms of flies there (UST)

This is the result of Yahweh treating the land of Goshen differently.
Alternate translation: “by keeping the swarm from there” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

the swarm (ULT)
swarms of flies (UST)

This is a collective singular noun that refers to a great number of swarming, biting insects. See how you translated this in 8:21.
Alternate translation: “swarms of flies” (See: Collective Nouns)

the swarm (ULT)
swarms of flies (UST)

These are probably the common large flies that bother humans and livestock. See how you translated this in 8:21 (See: Translate Unknowns)

in order that you may know that I am Yahweh in the middle of the land (ULT)
In that way, you will know that I, Yahweh, am here in this land (UST)

This is the goal of treating the Israelites differently. In some languages you may need to put this phrase the beginning of the verse. (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

I am Yahweh in the middle of the land (ULT)
I, Yahweh, am here in this land (UST)

Here, am could be connecting I and Yahweh or it could be connecting I, Yahweh and in the middle of the land.
Alternate translation: “I, Yahweh, am in the middle of the land”

ULT

²² And in that day, I will distinguish the land of Goshen, on which my people dwell, so that the swarm will not be there, in order that you may know that I am Yahweh in the middle of the land.

UST

²² But when that happens, I will treat the region of Goshen differently, because my people live there. There will be no swarms of flies there. In that way, you will know that I, Yahweh, am here in this land.

Exodus 8:23redemption (ULT)
differently (UST)

This is a noun derived from a verb meaning “to buy back.” Very broadly, it can mean “to save or rescue.” See the next note regarding textual variants for more information. (See: Abstract Nouns)

redemption (ULT)
differently (UST)

Many translations follow the Septuagint here, which uses the word “division.” A minor change to the Hebrew would also produce the word translated “treat differently” in the previous verse. Alternate translation: “a division” (See: Textual Variants)

my people (ULT)
my people (UST)

Yahweh’s people, that is, the Israelites. Alternate translation: “the Israelites”

your people (ULT) your people (UST)

Pharaoh’s people, that is, the Egyptians. Alternate translation: “the Egyptians”

This sign will happen tomorrow (ULT)
I will prove how powerful I am tomorrow (UST)

After this phrase, the three levels of direct quotations of Yahweh that started in 8:20 ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with closing first-level, second-level, and third-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of quotations. You may not have three levels if you made any level an indirect quote. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²³ And I will put redemption between my people and between your people. This sign will happen tomorrow.””

UST

²³ I will treat my people and your people differently. I will prove how powerful I am tomorrow!””

Exodus 8:24

And Yahweh did so (ULT)
In the morning, Moses warned the king, but he did not listen.} So Yahweh did what he said he would do (UST)

The UST supplies a brief sentence filling in the gap between Yahweh's command to Moses and the onset of the plague. Some languages will need something like that to make the progression of events clear. Alternate translation: "Moses obeyed the instructions Yahweh gave him, and Pharaoh responded as Yahweh had said he would. And Yahweh did so" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

And Yahweh did so (ULT)
In the morning, Moses warned the king, but he did not listen.} So Yahweh did what he said he would do (UST)

There is a minor scene change here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

a...swarm (ULT)
swarms of flies (UST)

There are probably the common large flies that bother humans and livestock. See how you translated this in 8:21 (See: Translate Unknowns) and...came (ULT)

He sent (UST)

Some languages may need to translate this as "going" rather than "coming." Alternate translation: "and ... went" (See: Go and Come) to the house of Pharaoh and the houses of his servants (ULT) into the king's palace and into his officials' houses (UST)

This means "to everyone everywhere" (in Egypt), as made explicit in the next statement. This makes clear that the insects were throughout the land. You should translate this in such a way that it does not convey limitation to these specifics but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism)

The land was ruined from the face of the swarm (ULT)
The flies ruined the country (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "The swarms of flies devastated the land" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

²⁴ And Yahweh did so, and a heavy swarm came to the house of Pharaoh and the houses of his servants and all the land of Egypt. The land was ruined from the face of the swarm.

UST

²⁴ {In the morning, Moses warned the king, but he did not listen.} So Yahweh did what he said he would do. He sent great swarms of flies into the king's palace and into his officials' houses. They were everywhere in Egypt. The flies ruined the country.

from the face of the swarm (ULT)

The flies (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of the insects. Alternate translation: “because the insects were everywhere” (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 8:25And...called (ULT)*Then...summoned (UST)

This happened during the plague. (See: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship)

Go, sacrifice to your God in the land (ULT)Just go worship your god here in Egypt (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

to your God (ULT)your god (UST)

Here, your is plural. It could refer either to Moses and Aaron or to the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a dual form (if you have one) if your team decides it means Moses and Aaron; otherwise use a plural form. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

²⁵ And Pharaoh called to Moses and to Aaron and said, “Go, sacrifice to your God in the land.”

UST

²⁵ Then the king summoned Moses and Aaron and said, “Just go worship your god here in Egypt!”

Exodus 8:26

And Moses said (ULT) But Moses replied (UST)

After this phrase a direct quote begins that continues until the end of 8:27. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) an abomination of the Egyptians...an abomination of the...Egyptians (ULT) that are very offensive to the Egyptians... that...the Egyptians...hate passionately (UST)

We do not know what about their sacrificing was an abomination to the Egyptians. The same term is used in Genesis 43:32 and 46:34 to describe the Egyptians' feelings about eating with Hebrews and about the Hebrew profession of shepherding, respectively. Translators should attempt to convey the strong negative feelings that would be provoked in the Egyptians without speculating as to the cause.

we will sacrifice...our God...we would sacrifice...would they...stone us (ULT) we will offer sacrifices...the God we worship...if we offer sacrifices...they will kill us by throwing stones at us (UST)

Here, we, our, and us should all be translated as exclusive (if your language makes that distinction). Pharaoh and the Egyptians are not included. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We') and would they not stone us (ULT) they will kill us by throwing stones at us (UST)

Moses asks this question to show Pharaoh that the Egyptians would not allow the Israelites to worship Yahweh by making a sacrifice repugnant to them. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "they will certainly stone us!" (See: Rhetorical Question) before their eyes (ULT) right in front of them (UST)

The express before their eyes is a figurative way of saying "where they can see." If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "in their sight" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁶ And Moses said, "It would not be right to do so, because we will sacrifice an abomination of the Egyptians to Yahweh our God. Look, we would sacrifice an abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and would they not stone us?"

UST

²⁶ But Moses replied, "It would not be right for us to do that, because we will offer sacrifices to Yahweh, the God we worship, that are very offensive to the Egyptians. Look, it is certain that if we offer sacrifices right in front of them that the Egyptians hate passionately, they will kill us by throwing stones at us!"

Exodus 8:27

We must travel...and we will sacrifice...our God...to us (ULT)

We need...we will offer sacrifices...the God we worship...us (UST)

Here, we, our, and us should all be translated as exclusive (if your language makes that distinction). Pharaoh and his people are not included. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We')

to us (ULT)

us (UST)

After the phrase to us, the direct quote of Moses' argument to Pharaoh ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²⁷ We must travel a journey of three days into the wilderness, and we will sacrifice to Yahweh our God, just as he is saying to us."

UST

²⁷ We need to travel for three days into the wilderness. There we will offer sacrifices to Yahweh, the God we worship, just as he commands us."

Exodus 8:28

I will let you go and sacrifice to Yahweh your God in the wilderness; only you may certainly not go very far. Pray for me (ULT)

I will let your people go to offer sacrifices to Yahweh, the god you worship, in the desert. But you must not go very far. Now pray for me (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²⁸ And Pharaoh said, "I will let you go and sacrifice to Yahweh your God in the wilderness; only you may certainly not go very far. Pray for me."

UST

²⁸ So the king said, "I will let your people go to offer sacrifices to Yahweh, the god you worship, in the desert. But you must not go very far. Now pray for me!"

you...your God...you...very far (ULT) your people go...the god you worship...you...very far (UST)

If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

you (ULT)

your people go (UST)

Alternate translation: "the Israelites"

certainly...you...very far (ULT) must...you...very far (UST)

In Hebrew, far is repeated to emphasize (with not) that they are absolutely not to go too far. If your language does not use repeating words like this, express the emphasis in another way. (See: Idiom)

Exodus 8:29

Behold, I am about to go out from with you. And I shall pray to Yahweh, and he will withdraw the swarm from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people tomorrow. Only may Pharaoh not continue to deceive in order to fail to let the people go to sacrifice to Yahweh (ULT)

Listen to me! After I leave you, I will pray to Yahweh, asking that he would cause the swarms of flies to leave you, your slaves, and the rest of your people tomorrow. But do not lie to us again by refusing to let our people go to offer sacrifices to Yahweh (UST)

Behold (ULT)

Listen to me (UST)

Behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. If there is not a good way to translate this term in your language, this term can be omitted from the translation. Alternate translation: "Know this"

the swarm (ULT)

the swarms of flies (UST)

These are probably the common large flies that bother humans and livestock. See how you translated this in 8:21 (See: Translate Unknowns)

from Pharaoh...Pharaoh (ULT)

you...do...again (UST)

Moses may be using the third person to refer to Pharaoh to show respect, because the king appears to be relenting. If use of the third person is not a way of showing respect in your culture or is not a valid way of addressing an individual at all, you may need to change the form. Alternate translation: "from you ... you" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

²⁹ And Moses said, "Behold, I am about to go out from with you. And I shall pray to Yahweh, and he will withdraw the swarm from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people tomorrow. Only may Pharaoh not continue to deceive in order to fail to let the people go to sacrifice to Yahweh."

UST

²⁹ Moses said {to the king}, "Listen to me! After I leave you, I will pray to Yahweh, asking that he would cause the swarms of flies to leave you, your slaves, and the rest of your people tomorrow. But do not lie to us again by refusing to let our people go to offer sacrifices to Yahweh!"

from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people (ULT) you, your slaves, and the rest of your people (UST)

This list means “from everywhere and everyone” (in Egypt). This shows that the end of the plague will be as complete as its extent. You should translate the list in such a way that it does not convey limitation to these specifics but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism) may Pharaoh not continue to deceive in order to fail to let the people go (ULT) do not lie to us again by refusing to let our people go (UST)

This can be stated in positive form. Alternate translation: “you must begin to deal truthfully with us and let our people go” (See: Double Negatives)

Only may Pharaoh not continue to deceive (ULT)
But do not lie to us again (UST)

Alternate translation: “But you must not deceive us” or “But you must not lie to us”

Exodus 8:30

And Moses went out (ULT)

Then Moses left (UST)

There is a minor scene shift here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

ULT

³⁰ And Moses went out from with Pharaoh and prayed to Yahweh.

UST

³⁰ Then Moses left the king and prayed to Yahweh.

Exodus 8:31the swarm (ULT)*the swarms of flies (UST)

These are probably the common large flies that bother humans and livestock. See how you translated this in 8:21 (See: Translate Unknowns) from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people (ULT)from around the king, his slaves, and the rest of his people (UST)

This list means “from everyone and everywhere” (in Egypt). This makes clear that there was a complete end of the plague. You should translate the list in such a way that it does not convey limitation to these specifics but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism)

Not one remained (ULT)No flies remained (UST)

This extreme statement emphasizes how thoroughly Yahweh removed the insects from the land. Alternate translation: “There was not a single one of these insects left in the whole land” (See: Hyperbole)

ULT

³¹ And Yahweh did according to the word of Moses, and he withdrew the swarm from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people. Not one remained.

UST

³¹ Yahweh did what Moses asked. He got rid of the swarms of flies from around the king, his slaves, and the rest of his people. No flies remained.

Exodus 8:32

And Pharaoh caused his heart to be heavy (ULT)

But the king was stubborn (UST)

Pharaoh's stubborn attitude is spoken of as if he made his own heart heavy. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 8:15. Alternate translation: "Pharaoh determined to be defiant" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

³² And Pharaoh caused his heart to be heavy at this time also, and he did not let the people go.

UST

³² But the king was stubborn this time also, and he did not allow the Israelites to go.

Exodus 9

Exodus 9 General Notes

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Pharaoh's hard heart

Pharaoh's heart is often described as hard in this chapter. This means that his heart was not open or willing to understand Yahweh's instructions. When his heart was hardened, it became less and less receptive to Yahweh.

Other possible translation difficulties in this chapter

Let my people go

This is a very important statement. Moses is not asking Pharaoh to "let go" of the Hebrew people. Instead, he is demanding that Pharaoh free the Hebrew people.

Exodus 9:1

And Yahweh said (ULT)

Then Yahweh said (UST)

A new scene begins here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. This is the beginning of the fifth plague sequence. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

to Moses (ULT)

to Moses (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues to the end of 9:4 and contains two additional levels of quotes. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

to him (ULT)

to him (UST)

After this phrase, a second-level direct quote begins which continues to the end of 9:4 and contains one more level of quotes. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) and speak to him: 'Thus says Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews (ULT) and say to him, 'This is what Yahweh, the God we Hebrews worship, says (UST)

You may want to translate the second-level quote beginning with Thus says Yahweh as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the levels of quotations in this passage. Alternative translation: "and say to him that Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews, says" (See: Quotes within Quotes)

Yahweh...Thus says (ULT)

Yahweh...This is what...says (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

my people (ULT)

my people (UST)

Alternate translation: "the Israelites"

ULT

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Go in to Pharaoh and speak to him: 'Thus says Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews: "Let my people go, and they shall serve me."

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Go to the king and say to him, 'This is what Yahweh, the God we Hebrews worship, says: "Let my people go in order that they may worship me."

Exodus 9:2

Surely if you are unwilling to let go, but are still holding on to them (ULT)

Otherwise, if you refuse to free them but continue to keep them {as your slaves (UST)}

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: "If you continue refusing to let them go" (See: Parallelism)

ULT

² Surely if you are unwilling to let go, but are still holding on to them,

UST

² Otherwise, if you refuse to free them but continue to keep them {as your slaves},

Exodus 9:3

behold (ULT)I warn you that (UST)

The word behold is used to draw attention to surprising information that follows. Alternate translation: “look out”

The hand of Yahweh is about to be on your livestock (ULT)I will soon powerfully punish you by sending... on all your domesticated animals (UST)

Here, hand represents Yahweh’s power to afflict their animals with disease. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “Then the power of Yahweh will afflict your livestock” (See: Metonymy)

The hand of Yahweh (ULT)I will soon powerfully punish you by sending (UST)

This is part of the reported speech that Yahweh wants Moses to say to Pharaoh. Therefore, you could change the third person the hand of Yahweh to first person if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: “My hand” (See: First, Second or Third Person) on your livestock (ULT)on all your domesticated animals (UST)

While the word your here is not plural, the next verse shows that it refers to all the people of Egypt who owned cattle. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, you may want to use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural) on the horses, on the donkeys, on the camels, on the cattle, and on the flock (ULT)on your horses, on your donkeys, on your camels, on your cattle, and on your flocks of sheep and goats (UST)

This long list is meant to reinforce the universal effects of the coming plague. It is presented in this way for rhetorical effect, that is, to convince Pharaoh of how bad this plague will be so he will obey. You should translate the list in such a way that it is not limiting but is understood to imply universality. (See: Merism) on the cattle...and on the flock (ULT)on your cattle...and on your flocks of sheep and goats (UST)

These (cattle and flock) are collective singular nouns which refer to groups of animals. Alternate translation: “on your bulls and cows and on your sheep and goats” (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

³ behold! The hand of Yahweh is about to be on your livestock which are in the field, on the horses, on the donkeys, on the camels, on the cattle, and on the flock—an exceedingly heavy plague.

UST

³ I warn you that I will soon powerfully punish you by sending a terrible disease on all your domesticated animals to make them sick and die—on your horses, on your donkeys, on your camels, on your cattle, and on your flocks of sheep and goats.

heavy (ULT)
terrible (UST)

Here the plague is spoken of as if it weighed a lot. This means it would be very bad. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "severe" (See: Metaphor)

Exodus 9:4

Yahweh (ULT)

I, Yahweh (UST)

This is part of the reported speech that Yahweh wants Moses to say to Pharaoh. Therefore, you could change the third person Yahweh to first person if it would be clearer in your language. You should do the same as you did in the previous verse. Alternate translation: "I" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

Israel (ULT)

the Israelites (UST)

Here, Israel refers to the Israelites. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "the Israelite people" (See: Metonymy)

Israel (ULT)

the Israelites (UST)

Here, Israel is used as a collective singular noun. If your language would not refer to a group of people in this way, you may need to translate it as plural. Alternate translation: "the Israelite people" (See: Collective Nouns)

the livestock of Egypt (ULT)

the Egyptians (UST)

Here, Egypt refers to the Egyptians. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "the livestock of the Egyptian people" (See: Metonymy)

thing (ULT)

domesticated animals (UST)

Alternate translation: "animal" from any of the sons of Israel (ULT)

of the Israelites (UST)

Alternate translation: "which belongs to any of the sons of Israel"

And no thing will die from any of the sons of Israel (ULT)

None of the Israelites' domesticated animals will die (UST)

After this phrase, the three levels of direct quotes of Yahweh ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with closing quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of levels of quotations. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁴ And Yahweh will distinguish between the livestock of Israel and between the livestock of Egypt. And no thing will die from any of the sons of Israel.'''''

UST

⁴ But I, Yahweh, will treat the Israelites' domesticated animals differently than the Egyptians'. None of the Israelites' domesticated animals will die.'''''

Exodus 9:5And Yahweh set an appointment (ULT)
Yahweh specified when he would do this (UST)

Alternate translation: "And Yahweh made an appointed time"

saying (ULT)
He said (UST)

This marks the beginning of a direct quotation. It can be omitted in translation if your language does not use a similar form. However, in this sentence it is the only verb related to speech, so you may need to translate it similarly to the way the UST does. .

Tomorrow Yahweh will do this thing in the land (ULT)
Tomorrow I will do to Egypt what I threatened (UST)

Yahweh (ULT)
I (UST)

Yahweh is speaking here. Therefore, you could change the third person Yahweh to first person if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: "I, Yahweh," (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

⁵ And Yahweh set an appointment, saying, "Tomorrow Yahweh will do this thing in the land."

UST

⁵ Yahweh specified when he would do this. He said, "Tomorrow I will do to Egypt what I threatened."

Exodus 9:6

And Yahweh did (ULT) Yahweh sent a disease as he had said he would (UST)

It is implied that Moses went and spoke to Pharaoh as directed. You may need to make that explicit in your translation in some languages. Alternate translation: "Moses did as Yahweh had commanded. And Yahweh did" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) all of the livestock of (ULT) all of the...domesticated animals (UST)

This is exaggerated to emphasize the seriousness of the event. There were still some animals alive that were afflicted by later plagues. However, it may be best to translate this with the word "all." (See: Hyperbole)

Egypt (ULT) Egyptians (UST)

Here, Egypt refers to the Egyptians. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "the Egyptian peoples" (See: Metonymy)

But from the livestock of the sons of Israel not one died (ULT) but none of the Israelites' domesticated animals died (UST)

This emphatic negative statement could be stated positively. Alternate translation: "But every single one of the Israelites' livestock lived" (See: Litotes)

ULT

⁶ And Yahweh did this thing the next day, and all of the livestock of Egypt died. But from the livestock of the sons of Israel not one died.

UST

⁶ The next day Yahweh sent a disease as he had said he would and all of the Egyptians' domesticated animals died, but none of the Israelites' domesticated animals died.

Exodus 9:7

and, behold (ULT)
to look at what happened}, and they were surprised to see that (UST)

Again, behold is used to draw attention to surprising information that follows. Alternate translation: “and listen” not even one of the livestock of Israel had died (ULT)

none of the Israelites’ animals had died (UST)

This emphatic negative statement could be stated positively.
Alternate translation: “every single one of the Israelites’ livestock was alive” (See: Litotes)

of Israel (ULT)
Israelites (UST)

Here, Israel refers to the Israelites. Alternate translation: “of the Israelites” (See: Metonymy)

of Israel (ULT)
Israelites (UST)

Here, Israel is a collective singular noun. If your language would not refer to a group of people in this way, you may need to translate it as plural. Alternate translation: “the Israelites” (See: Collective Nouns)

But the heart of Pharaoh was heavy (ULT)
But after they told that to the king,} he continued to be stubborn (UST)

Pharaoh’s stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were heavy. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person’s will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. This is a neutral statement (it does not say that anyone caused him to be stubborn as many others in this part of the narrative do). See how you translated this in Exodus 7:14. Alternate translation: “But Pharaoh was defiant” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁷ And Pharaoh sent, and, behold, not even one of the livestock of Israel had died. But the heart of Pharaoh was heavy, and he did not let the people go.

UST

⁷ The king sent {men to look at what happened}, and they were surprised to see that none of the Israelites’ animals had died. {But after they told that to the king,} he continued to be stubborn, and he did not let the Israelites go.

Exodus 9:8

And Yahweh said (ULT)
Then Yahweh said (UST)

A new scene begins here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. This is the start of the sixth plague scene. (See: Introduction of a New Event) to Moses and to Aaron (ULT) to Aaron and Moses (UST)

After this phrase a direct quote begins. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) to you...both your hands of (ULT)

Take...a few handfuls of (UST)

You and your refer to both Moses and Aaron. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use dual form (if you have one) or plural forms (if not) here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

Take to you a fullness of both your hands of (ULT)
Take a few handfuls of (UST)

Alternate translation: “Each of you fill both your hands with”

ash of a furnace (ULT)
ashes from an oven (UST)

Alternate translation: “ash from a furnace” or “ash produced by a furnace”

ash of (ULT)
ashes (UST)

Here, ash is singular. For some languages you may need to make it plural as in the UST. (See: Collective Nouns) toward heaven (ULT)

into the air (UST)

Alternate translation: “toward the sky”

ULT

⁸ And Yahweh said to Moses and to Aaron, “Take to you a fullness of both your hands of ash of a furnace. And Moses shall sprinkle it toward heaven before the eyes of Pharaoh.

UST

⁸ Then Yahweh said to Aaron and Moses, “Take a few handfuls of ashes from an oven. Moses should throw them up into the air in front of the king.

before the eyes of Pharaoh (ULT)
in front of the king (UST)

The phrase before the eyes of Pharaoh means in his sight. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "in the sight of Pharaoh" or "so Pharaoh sees it" (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 9:9

boils, bursting blisters (ULT)
sores on the skin which turn red and burst open (UST)

To have boils means to have a condition where the skin is red, hot, and painful, the skin breaks open, and puss and blood come out. (See: Translate Unknowns)

man (ULT)
people (UST)

Here, man includes women and children. Alternate translation: “people” or “mankind” or “humans” See UST. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

⁹ And it will become powder over all the land of Egypt. And it will become boils, bursting blisters, on man and on beast in all the land of Egypt.”

UST

⁹ The ashes will spread all over the country of Egypt, because they are fine dust. Everywhere in the land, the ashes will cause sores on the skin which turn red and burst open on both people and animals.”

Exodus 9:10ash of (ULT)
some ashes (UST)

Here, ash is singular. For some languages you may need to make it plural as in the UST. See how you translated this in the previous verse. (See: Collective Nouns)

ash of...a furnace (ULT)
some ashes...from an oven (UST)

Alternate translation: "ash from a furnace" or "ash produced by a furnace" See how you translated this in the previous verse.

and they stood before the face of Pharaoh (ULT) and stood in front of the king (UST)

Here, before the face of Pharaoh means in Pharaoh's presence. Alternate translation: "and stood in Pharaoh's presence" or "and stood in the presence of Pharaoh" See how you translated a similar statement in the previous verse. (See: Metonymy)

toward the heavens (ULT) up into the air (UST)

Alternate translation: "toward the sky" See how you translated this in the previous verse.

boils, bursting blisters (ULT) on...and...sores...the skin that turned red...burst open (UST)

To have boils means to have a condition where the skin is red, hot, and painful, the skin breaks open, and puss and blood come out. See how you translated this in the previous verse. (See: Translate Unknowns)

on man (ULT)
As the ashes landed...both the Egyptian people...they...on (UST)

Here, man includes women and children. See how you translated this in the previous verse. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

¹⁰ And they took ash of a furnace, and they stood before the face of Pharaoh. And Moses sprinkled it toward the heavens, and it became boils, bursting blisters, on man and on beast.

UST

¹⁰ So they took some ashes from an oven and stood in front of the king. Moses threw the ashes up into the air. As the ashes landed on both the Egyptian people and their animals, they caused sores on the skin that turned red and burst open.

Exodus 9:11

the magicians...on the magicians (ULT)
the men who worked magic...the men who worked magic (UST)

See how you translated magicians in 7:11.

to stand before the face of Moses (ULT) challenge Moses (UST)

Here, before the face of means in Moses' presence. Alternate translation: "to stand in Moses' presence" (See: Metonymy) because of the face of the boils (ULT)

Because skin sores (UST)

Here, the face of means the presence of or perhaps pain from the boils. Alternate translation: "because of the boils" (See: Metonymy)

the boils...boils (ULT) skin sores...skin sores (UST)

To have boils means to have a condition where the skin is red, hot, and painful, the skin breaks open, and puss and blood come out. See how you translated this in 9:9. However, this time only boils is used, without the description ("bursting blisters") that is in the previous two verses. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹¹ And the magicians were not able to stand before the face of Moses, because of the face of the boils, because boils were on the magicians and on all of Egypt.

UST

¹¹ Because skin sores covered the men who worked magic (along with all the rest of the Egyptians), they could not challenge Moses.

Exodus 9:12

But Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh (ULT)

But Yahweh caused the king to continue to be stubborn (UST)

This phrase means that it was God who made him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21. Alternate translation: "But Yahweh caused Pharaoh to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹² But Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not listen to them, just as Yahweh had said to Moses.

UST

¹² But Yahweh caused the king to continue to be stubborn. He did not obey Moses and Aaron, just as Yahweh had told Moses would happen.

Exodus 9:13

And Yahweh said to Moses (ULT) Then Yahweh said to Moses (UST)

A new scene begins here. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. This is the beginning of the seventh plague sequence. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And Yahweh said to Moses (ULT) Then Yahweh said to Moses (UST)

After this phrase a direct quote begins that continues until the end of 9:19. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) and stand before the face of Pharaoh (ULT) Go and stand in front of the king (UST)

Here, before the face of means in Pharaoh's presence. Alternate translation: "and stand in Pharaoh's presence" (See: Metonymy) and say to him, 'Thus says Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews (ULT) and tell him that Yahweh God, the one whom the Hebrew people worship, says this (UST)

After and say to him, a second-level quote begins which continues until the end of 9:19. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation. However, it may be useful to translate this short quote frame as an indirect quotation, as the UST does. (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Yahweh...Thus says (ULT) Yahweh...says this (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

Let...go (ULT) Let...go (UST)

Let is the first word of a third-level direct quote which continues until the end of 9:19. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening third-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a third-level quotation. If you chose to make the second-level quote an indirect quote, then this one would only be a second-level quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹³ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Rise early in the morning, and stand before the face of Pharaoh, and say to him, 'Thus says Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews: "Let my people go, and they shall serve me.

UST

¹³ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Get up early tomorrow morning. Go and stand in front of the king and tell him that Yahweh God, the one whom the Hebrew people worship, says this: 'Let my people go in order that they may worship me {in the wilderness}.

Exodus 9:14

For (ULT)

If you do not, then (UST)

Here it is implied that Pharaoh will again not let God's people go. For is expressing the result, that is, God's response to Pharaoh's disobedience to the command immediately preceding. You may need to insert this as in the UST or choose a contrastive conjunction. Alternate translation: "Otherwise," (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

I am about to send all my plagues to your heart (ULT)

I am planning terrible disasters that will not only make...very sad but also you yourself (UST)

Here, to your heart is a synecdoche that means that even Pharaoh will be hurt by the plagues. Alternate translation: "I am about to send all my plagues against you personally" (See: Synecdoche)

ULT

¹⁴ For this time I am about to send all my plagues to your heart, and on your servants, and on your people, in order that you may know that there is nothing like me in all the earth.

UST

¹⁴ If you do not, then this time I am planning terrible disasters that will not only make your officials and the rest of your people very sad but also you yourself, in order that you might know that there is no god like me anywhere in the world.

Exodus 9:15

For now I could have stretched out my hand and struck you and your people with a plague, and you would have been destroyed from the land (ULT)

By this time I could have powerfully struck you and your people with terrible diseases that would have destroyed your nation (UST)

This verse presents two things that God could have done but did not do to the Egyptians. This is to set up the reason he gives in the next verse. Be sure that it is clear in your translation that these are hypothetical past events. See the note regarding Yahweh's stated goals in the next verse. Some languages may need to reverse the order of these verses to put Yahweh's goals before his non-action. (See: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions)

I could have stretched out my hand and struck you (ULT)
I could have powerfully struck you (UST)

Here, my hand refers to God's power. Alternate translation: "I could have used my power to attack you" (See: Metonymy) and struck you and your people with a plague (ULT) struck you and your people with terrible diseases (UST)

Here, a plague is spoken about as if it were something that could be used to hit someone. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and caused you and your people to suffer from a plague" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁵ For now I could have stretched out my hand and struck you and your people with a plague, and you would have been destroyed from the land.

UST

¹⁵ By this time I could have powerfully struck you and your people with terrible diseases that would have destroyed your nation.

Exodus 9:16

However, for this reason I appointed you: in order to show you my power and in order to proclaim my name in all the earth (ULT)
But I have let you live. The reason I have let you live is to show you how strong I am and so that I will be famous all over the world (UST)

The statements from to show to the end of the verse are Yahweh's stated goals, and thus, his reasons for not yet destroying Egypt and Pharaoh. You will need to translate, However, for this reason I appointed you: in order in a way that connects with the previous verse in an action-goal manner. (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship) and in order to proclaim my name in all the earth (ULT) and so that I will be famous all over the world (UST)

Here, my name represents Yahweh's reputation. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "and so that people everywhere will know who I am" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁶ However, for this reason I appointed you: in order to show you my power and in order to proclaim my name in all the earth.

UST

¹⁶ But I have let you live. The reason I have let you live is to show you how strong I am and so that I will be famous all over the world.

Exodus 9:17You are still exalting yourself against my people (ULT)*You are still acting proudly...my people (UST)

Pharaoh's opposition to letting the Israelites go to worship Yahweh is spoken of as if he were raising himself up as a barrier to them. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "You are still blocking my people" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁷ You are still exalting yourself against my people by failing to let them go.

UST

¹⁷ You are still acting proudly and refusing to let my people go.

You are...exalting yourself (ULT)You are...acting proudly (UST)

Here, Pharaoh fills two different roles in the sentence. Translate this in a way that conveys that (1) Pharaoh is making Pharaoh (himself) proud and (2) this is metaphorically expressed as Pharaoh making Pharaoh (himself) the obstacle in the Israelites' way to freedom (as discussed in the previous note.) (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

You are...exalting yourself (ULT)You are...acting proudly (UST)

Here, you is Pharaoh.

against my people (ULT)my people (UST)

Here, my people are the Israelites.

Exodus 9:18

Behold me (ULT)

So listen to this (UST)

Alternate translation: "Pay attention to the important thing I am about to tell you"

at this time...which there has never been anything like (ULT)

About this time...there has never been...as bad as this one will be (UST)

Alternate translation: "at this time. There has never been anything like this"

ULT

¹⁸ Behold me! I am about to cause extremely heavy hail to rain tomorrow at this time, which there has never been anything like in Egypt from the day it was founded until now.

UST

¹⁸ So listen to this: About this time tomorrow I will cause large balls of ice to fall in Egypt. Between the time Egypt first became a nation and today, there has never been an ice storm as bad as this one will be.

Exodus 9:19

send and bring to safety your livestock and all that is yours in the field (ULT)
you should send {a message to all people} to put under shelter {their} domesticated animals and everything else that {they} own that is out in the fields (UST)

The form of address here is singular; Moses is speaking directly to Pharaoh. However, the next two verses make it clear that Pharaoh's servants heard and understood this warning to be for them as well. In this sense Pharaoh represents the Egyptians. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. (See: Metonymy) and the hail will come down on (ULT)

The ice will fall on (UST)

Alternate translation: "and the balls of ice will drop on"

every man (ULT)
every person...every (UST)

Here, man means humans and includes men, women, and children. Alternate translation: "everyone" or "anyone" (See: When Masculine Words Include Women) and beast (ULT)

and...animal (UST)

Here, and beast includes domestic and wild animals.

and they will die (ULT)
They will all die (UST)

The people and animals will die because they will be fatally injured by the hail. You may need to make this explicit. Alternate translation: "and the hail will kill them" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

and they will die (ULT)
They will all die (UST)

Up to three levels of direct quotation (depending on your earlier decision about converting a level to an indirect quotation) end at the end of this verse. You should indicate that ending here with closing first-level, second-level, and third-level (if required) quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of quotations within quotations. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹⁹ And now send and bring to safety your livestock and all that is yours in the field, and the hail will come down on every man and beast that is found in the field and was not gathered to the house, and they will die.'''

UST

¹⁹ So you should send {a message to all people} to put under shelter {their} domesticated animals and everything else that {they} own that is out in the fields. The ice will fall on every person and every animal that is out in the fields and that is not brought under a shelter. They will all die.'''

Exodus 9:20

The fearers of (ULT) Moses did what Yahweh said...believed and were afraid (UST)

As in some other occasions, Moses' conversation with Pharaoh is not recorded. You may need to make explicit the fact that he did as Yahweh instructed. See UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

The fearers of the word of Yahweh from the servants of Pharaoh (ULT) Moses did what Yahweh said.} Some of the king's officials believed and were afraid of what Yahweh had said (UST)

Alternate translation: "Those of Pharaoh's servants who feared Yahweh's warning"

ULT

²⁰ The fearers of the word of Yahweh from the servants of Pharaoh made their slaves and their livestock run to the houses,

UST

²⁰ {Moses did what Yahweh said.} Some of the king's officials believed and were afraid of what Yahweh had said. So they quickly brought all their slaves and their animals under shelters.

Exodus 9:21

but whoever did not set his heart to (ULT)
But those who did not believe what...had said (UST)

Here, set his heart means he believed or thought something was true. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. Alternate translation: "but whoever did not respect" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²¹ but whoever did not set his heart to the word of Yahweh left his slaves and his livestock in the field.

UST

²¹ But those who did not believe what Yahweh had said left their slaves and their animals in the fields.

Exodus 9:22And Yahweh said (ULT)*Then Yahweh said (UST)

A minor scene shift occurs here and may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

your hand (ULT)your hand (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

man (ULT)the people (UST)

Here, man includes women and children. See UST. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women) beast (ULT)the animals (UST)

Here, beast includes domestic and wild animals.

ULT

²² And Yahweh said to Moses, “Reach out your hand toward the heavens, and there will be hail in all the land of Egypt, on man and on beast and on every plant of the field in the land of Egypt.”

UST

²² Then Yahweh said to Moses, “Raise your hand up toward the sky in order that balls of ice {may fall} all over the land of Egypt—on the people, on the animals, and on all the crops in the fields.”

Exodus 9:23

his staff (ULT)

his staff (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

ULT

²³ And Moses stretched his staff to the heavens, and Yahweh gave thunder and hail, and fire darted to the land. And Yahweh rained hail on the land of Egypt.

UST

²³ So Moses lifted his staff up toward the sky, and Yahweh brought a storm with thunder, balls of ice, and lightning. Yahweh caused the balls of ice to fall all over the land of Egypt.

Exodus 9:24

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁴ And there was hail and fire coming in the middle of the hail; {it was} very heavy, such as it had never been in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation.

UST

²⁴ While balls of ice were falling, lightning was flashing. There had never been such a huge ice storm like that in Egypt since it first became a country.

Exodus 9:25

from man to beast (ULT) animals as well as people (UST)

Here, from man to beast is a figure of speech used to emphasize the extent and severity of the hail. Alternate translation: “every living thing” (See: Merism)

from man (ULT) people (UST)

Here, man includes women and children. Alternate translation: “from people” or “from mankind” or “from humans” See UST. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women) beast (ULT) animals (UST)

Here, beast includes domestic and wild animals.

ULT

²⁵ And the hail hit everything in the land of Egypt, everything which was in the field, from man to beast. And the hail struck every plant of the field, and it broke every tree of the field.

UST

²⁵ The ice struck everywhere in Egypt, hitting everything that was outside, animals as well as people. The ice destroyed the crops in the fields and broke limbs off the fruit trees.

Exodus 9:26

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁶ Only in the land of Goshen, where the sons of Israel were, there was no hail.

UST

²⁶ Only in the region of Goshen, where the Israelites were living, was there no ice.

Exodus 9:27

And Pharaoh sent (ULT)

Then the king sent {someone (UST)

A minor scene shift occurs here and may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

I have sinned (ULT)

I have sinned (UST)

Some commentators suggest translating sinned more literally, that is “missed the mark,” because Pharaoh is probably not admitting a moral failure, but instead, admitting that he misjudged.

is righteous...are guilty (ULT) has done} is right...have done} is wrong (UST)

Many commentators suggest that Pharaoh is using these terms in a narrow, legal sense and only referring to this instance. That is, he is saying something like “I’ve lost this round in court.” See UST.

and my people (ULT)

and my people (UST)

Here, my people refers to the Egyptians.

ULT

²⁷ And Pharaoh sent, and he called for Moses and for Aaron. And he said to them, “I have sinned this time. Yahweh is righteous, and I and my people are guilty.

UST

²⁷ Then the king sent {someone} to summon Moses and Aaron. He said to them, “This time {I admit that} I have sinned. {What} Yahweh {has done} is right, and {what} I and my people {have done} is wrong.

Exodus 9:28

and you will not continue to stay (ULT) you do not have to stay in Egypt any longer
(UST)

This negative statement strengthens the force of Pharaoh's statement that he will let the people go. (See: Litotes)

ULT

²⁸ Pray to Yahweh, for the thunder of God and hail are too much. And I will let you go, and you will not continue to stay."

UST

²⁸ Pray to Yahweh because his thunder and ice are terrible! I will let you and your people go; you do not have to stay in Egypt any longer."

Exodus 9:29

And Moses said to him (ULT)

Moses replied (UST)

Alternate translation: "And Moses said to Pharaoh"

I will spread my palms to Yahweh (ULT)

I will lift up my hands and pray to Yahweh

(UST)

This symbolic gesture accompanies prayer. Alternate translation: "I will pray to Yahweh" (See: Symbolic Action)

ULT

²⁹ And Moses said to him, "As I leave the city, I will spread my palms to Yahweh. The thunder will cease, and the hail will not continue, so that you may know that the earth belongs to Yahweh.

UST

²⁹ Moses replied, "As soon as I go out of this city, I will lift up my hands and pray to Yahweh. Then the thunder will stop, and no more ice will fall. This will happen in order that you will know that Yahweh, {not your gods, controls everything that happens on} the earth.

Exodus 9:30

But you and your servants (ULT)

But...you and your officials (UST)

This phrase is shifted to the beginning of the sentence to mark focus on Pharaoh and his servants because, despite Yahweh demonstrating his power, they are not yet afraid of him. If your language has a form or discourse feature that draws contrastive focus to participants, use it here. (See: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions) of the face of Yahweh (ULT)

when Yahweh...comes near (UST)

Here, face means presence or power. Alternate translation: "of Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³⁰ But you and your servants, I know that you are not yet afraid of the face of Yahweh God."

UST

³⁰ But I know that you and your officials still do not tremble when Yahweh God comes near."

Exodus 9:31

flax

This and the next verse give background information so that the destruction caused by the later plagues can be understood by the reader. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information)

And the flax...and the flax (ULT) the flax...the flax (UST)

Flax is a plant that produces fibers that can be made into linen cloth. (See: Translate Unknowns) was in ear (ULT) its grain was ripe (UST)

This means the seeds at the top of the barley stalk were developing but still green. (See: Translate Unknowns) was in bloom (ULT) the blossoms were forming (UST)

Alternate translation: "was flowering"

ULT

³¹ (And the flax and the barley were struck down, for the barley was in ear, and the flax was in bloom.

UST

³¹ ({When the ice fell} it ruined the flax because the blossoms were forming. It also ruined the barley because its grain was ripe.

Exodus 9:32

and the spelt (ULT)

But...any of the wheat varieties (UST)

Spelt is a kind of wheat. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

³² But the wheat and the spelt were not struck down, for they are late.)

UST

³² But it did not ruin any of the wheat varieties, because they grow later in the year.)

Exodus 9:33

and he spread his palms to Yahweh (ULT)
He raised his hands toward Yahweh and prayed (UST)

This symbolic gesture accompanies prayer. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 9:29. Alternate translation: “lifted up his hands toward Yahweh and prayed” (See: Symbolic Action)

ULT

³³ And Moses left the city from being with Pharaoh, and he spread his palms to Yahweh, and the thunder and hail ceased, and the rain was not poured on the earth.

UST

³³ So Moses left the king and went outside the city. He raised his hands toward Yahweh and prayed. Then the thunder and the ice storm stopped. The rain also stopped falling on the land of Egypt.

Exodus 9:34

and he caused his heart to be heavy (ULT) made themselves stubborn (UST)

Pharaoh's stubborn attitude is spoken of as if he made his own heart heavy. This time his servants do the same. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 8:15. Alternate translation: "Pharaoh determined to be defiant" (See: Metaphor) and he added to his sin (ULT) he sinned again (UST)

This statement is from the author's perspective. Therefore, unlike in 9:27, sin should be translated with the word your language uses for "sin."

and he caused his heart to be heavy, he and his servants (ULT) He and his officials made themselves stubborn (UST)

Alternate translation: "and he caused his heart to be heavy. His servants did also" or "and he caused his heart to be heavy. His servants did the same"

ULT

³⁴ And Pharaoh saw that the rain and hail and thunder ceased, and he added to his sin, and he caused his heart to be heavy, he and his servants.

UST

³⁴ But when the king saw that the rain, the ice storm, and the thunder had stopped, he sinned again. He and his officials made themselves stubborn.

Exodus 9:35

And the heart of Pharaoh was strong (ULT) So...the king was stubborn (UST)

Pharaoh's stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in Exodus 7:13. This is a neutral statement (it does not say that anyone caused him to be stubborn as many others in this part of the narrative do). Alternate translation: "Pharaoh was still defiant" (See: Metaphor) just as Yahweh had said by the hand of Moses (ULT)

just as Yahweh had predicted to Moses (UST)

This is similar to 9:12. In this case, what Yahweh said is figuratively spoken of as if it were something that could be held in someone's hand. This means that Moses delivered a message from Yahweh that Pharaoh would be stubborn. It is not clear if this message was given to the Israelites or if this refers to Moses' statement to Pharaoh in 9:30. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "just as Yahweh had told Moses to say" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

³⁵ And the heart of Pharaoh was strong, and he did not let the sons of Israel go, just as Yahweh had said by the hand of Moses.

UST

³⁵ So, just as Yahweh had predicted to Moses, the king was stubborn and did not allow the Israelites to leave.

Exodus 10

Exodus 10 General Notes
Special Concepts in this Chapter
Pharaoh's hard heart
Pharaoh's heart is often described as hard in this chapter. This means that his heart was not open or willing to understand Yahweh's instructions. When his heart was hardened, it became less and less receptive to Yahweh.
Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter
Let my people go
This is a very important statement. Moses does not ask Pharaoh to "let go" of the Hebrew people. Instead, he demands that Pharaoh free the Hebrew people.

Exodus 10:1

for I have made his heart and the heart of his servants heavy (ULT)

I have made him and his officials stubborn. I have done so in order that I may have a good reason (UST)

This means God made Pharaoh and his servants stubborn. Their stubborn attitude is spoken of as if their hearts were heavy. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21, but note that the metaphor is slightly different here. Alternate translation: "for I have caused Pharaoh and his servants to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Go in to Pharaoh, for I have made his heart and the heart of his servants heavy, in order to perform these my signs in his midst,

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Go to the king again. I have made him and his officials stubborn. I have done so in order that I may have a good reason to do all these miracles among them.

Exodus 10:2

I toyed with Egypt (ULT)
I caused the Egyptians to act very foolishly
(UST)

Alternate translation: "I mocked Egypt"

ULT

² and so that you may proclaim in the ears of your son and the son of your son that I toyed with Egypt, and my signs which I performed among them—and you will know that I am Yahweh."

UST

² I have also done so in order that you would be able to tell your children and your grandchildren how I caused the Egyptians to act very foolishly when I performed all these miracles among them. Then all of you will know that I am Yahweh."

Exodus 10:3

and said to him (ULT)

and said to him (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until near the end of 10:6. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) and said to him, “Thus says Yahweh, God of the Hebrews (ULT) and said to him, “Yahweh God, {the one whom we} Hebrews {worship}, says this (UST)

It may be helpful to turn the introductory quotation into an indirect quotation so that you do not have to use quotes within quotes. Alternate translation: “and told him that Yahweh, the God of the Hebrews, said thus” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)

Yahweh...says this (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

Until when will you refuse to be humble from my face (ULT)

How long will you {stubbornly} refuse to bow to me (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Particularly, it means the presence of his judgment (the plagues). Alternate translation: “Until when will you refuse to be humble when I judge you” or “Until when will you refuse to be humble before me” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³ And Moses and Aaron went in to Pharaoh and said to him, “Thus says Yahweh, God of the Hebrews: ‘Until when will you refuse to be humble from my face? Let my people go, and they will serve me.’

UST

³ So Moses and Aaron went to the king and said to him, “Yahweh God, {the one whom we} Hebrews {worship}, says this, ‘How long will you {stubbornly} refuse to bow to me? Let my people go in order that they may worship me {in the wilderness}!’

Exodus 10:4

behold me (ULT)

I warn you that (UST)

Here, behold me adds emphasis to what is said next. Alternate translation: "beware" locust (ULT)

locusts (UST)

Here, locust is a singular noun referring to the group as one. Alternate translation: "locusts" (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

⁴ For if you refuse to let my people go, behold me, I am about to bring locust within your borders tomorrow.

UST

⁴ If you do not let them go, I warn you that tomorrow I will bring locusts into your country.

Exodus 10:5

And it will cover the sight of the land, and none will be able to see the land (ULT)
They will completely cover the ground so that you will not even be able to see it (UST)

These parallel statements have a similar meaning. They are used to emphasize the great number of locusts that are coming. In some languages this will not have the same rhetorical effect, and you will need to use another device to emphasize the statement. (See: Parallelism)

And it will cover the sight of the land (ULT)
They will completely cover the ground (UST)

Alternate translation: "And it will cover the land from sight"

And it will cover...And it will devour...And it will devour (ULT)
They will...cover...They will eat...They will eat (UST)

Here the pronoun it agrees in number with the collective singular "locust" in the previous verse. Insects are often referred to without gender in English, but you will need to use whatever number, gender, or noun class is required in your language to agree with the word for "locust" that you used in the previous verse. See the UST. (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

⁵ And it will cover the sight of the land, and none will be able to see the land. And it will devour the remnant of whatever escaped, of whatever is left to you from the hail. And it will devour every tree growing for you from the field.

UST

⁵ They will completely cover the ground so that you will not even be able to see it. They will eat everything that the ice storm did not destroy. They will eat everything that is growing on your fruit trees.

Exodus 10:6

on the earth (ULT) to this land (UST)

This could either mean on the earth (planet) or “on the land” (Egypt). Either way, it is meant to emphasize an extremely long time, meaning never. (See: Hyperbole)

And he turned around (ULT) Then Moses {and Aaron} turned (UST)

Verse 3 says that Aaron came in to see the king with Moses. It is implied that he left with him as well. You may make this explicit if it would help your readers. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁶ And they will fill your houses and the houses of all your servants and the houses of all the Egyptians, which your fathers had never seen, nor the fathers of your fathers, from the day they came to be on the earth until this day.” And he turned around and left from being with Pharaoh.

UST

⁶ They will fill your houses and the houses of all your officials and of all the rest of the Egyptians. There will be more locusts than your parents or your grandparents have ever seen from the time your ancestors first came to this land until now!” Then Moses {and Aaron} turned and left the king.

Exodus 10:7

Until when will this be a trap to us (ULT)

This is another trap for us (UST)

Pharaoh's servants ask this question to show Pharaoh that he is stubbornly causing the destruction of Egypt. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "We must not let this man continue to cause trouble for us!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

the men (ULT)

the Israelites (UST)

Here, men may be literal or it may refer to the Israelites, including the women and children. In verse 10 the king rejects the idea of letting the women and children go, and in verse 11 he specifically says that the men can go. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

Do you not understand yet that Egypt has perished (ULT)

You must know that our country is already ruined (UST)

Pharaoh's servants ask this question to bring Pharaoh to recognize what he refuses to see. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "You should realize that Egypt is destroyed!" (See: Rhetorical Question) that Egypt has perished (ULT) that our country is...ruined (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "that these plagues have destroyed Egypt" or "that their God has destroyed Egypt" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

⁷ And the servants of Pharaoh said to him, "Until when will this be a trap to us? Let the men go and they will serve Yahweh their God. Do you not understand yet that Egypt has perished?"

UST

⁷ The king's officials said to him, "This is another trap for us! Let the Israelites go in order that they may worship Yahweh, their god. You must know that our country is already ruined."

Exodus 10:8

And Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh (ULT)

The king ordered someone} to bring Moses and Aaron back to him (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "And a servant brought Moses and Aaron back to Pharaoh" (See: Active or Passive)

Who and who (ULT)

But who (UST)

Alternate translation: "Who all"

ULT

⁸ And Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh, and he said to them, "Go serve Yahweh your God. Who and who shall go?"

UST

⁸ {The king ordered someone} to bring Moses and Aaron back to him. He said to them, "Go worship Yahweh, your god. But who will go?"

Exodus 10:9

We shall go...We shall go (ULT)

We all need to go...We need to take (UST)

We means the Israelites and does not include Pharaoh or the Egyptians. Use an exclusive form here if your language has this distinction. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We')

ULT

⁹ And Moses said, "We shall go with our young and with our old. We shall go with our sons and with our daughters, with our flocks and our herds, because the festival of Yahweh is for us."

UST

⁹ Moses replied, "We all need to go, everyone, including those who are young and those who are old. We need to take our sons, our daughters, and our flocks of sheep and goats and herds of livestock because a celebration to honor Yahweh is for all of us."

Exodus 10:10

May Yahweh be with you in the same way as I will let you and your children go (ULT)

I am not about to let you go with your women and children because I do not think Yahweh is about to help you (UST)

May Yahweh be with you is usually a blessing but is almost certainly not a blessing here. It likely means something like “It will take Yahweh’s power to make me let you and your children go,” or “May Yahweh be as favorable to you as I am to the idea of letting your children go.” Pharaoh is saying that it will take Yahweh to make him do what Moses wants, but he does not think that will happen. Alternate translation: “It will be clear that Yahweh is with you if I let you and your children go”

See, for evil is before your faces (ULT)

Watch out so that something bad does not happen to you (UST)

The phrase for evil is before your faces could either be a warning from Pharaoh that Moses’ actions will lead to evil for the Israelites, or it could mean that Pharaoh thinks the Israelites plan something that he considers evil. Faces is a metonym for the whole person. Alternate translations: “I see that you plan evil” or “Be careful! Your actions will have bad consequences” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁰ And he said to them, “May Yahweh be with you in the same way as I will let you and your children go. See, for evil is before your faces!”

UST

¹⁰ The king replied, “I am not about to let you go with your women and children because I do not think Yahweh is about to help you. Watch out so that something bad does not happen to you!”

Exodus 10:11

the men (ULT)

with just your men (UST)

This interjection clarifies who may go. Alternate translation: “the leaders” from the face of Pharaoh (ULT)

Then the king drove...away (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Pharaoh. Alternate translation: “from his presence” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹¹ Not so! You may go, the men, and serve Yahweh, because this is what you are seeking.” And he drove them from the face of Pharaoh.

UST

¹¹ Since you keep asking, go worship Yahweh with just your men. But no one else may go!” Then the king drove Moses and Aaron away.

Exodus 10:12And Yahweh said (ULT)*Then Yahweh said (UST)

There is a minor scene change here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

your hand (ULT)your hand (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

with the locust (ULT)locusts (UST)

Locust is a collective singular noun referring to the group as one. See how you translated this in 10:4. Alternate translation: "locusts" (See: Collective Nouns) and let it rise up...and let it devour (ULT)and...will come up...They will eat (UST)

Here, the pronoun it agrees in number with the collective singular "locust." See how you translated this in 10:5 (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

¹² And Yahweh said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt with the locust, and let it rise up over the land of Egypt, and let it devour all of the plants of the land, everything which the hail had spared."

UST

¹² Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over Egypt and locusts will come up and cover the country. They will eat every green thing in the whole country, anything that the hail left behind."

Exodus 10:13his staff (ULT)*his staff (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

an east wind (ULT)a wind...from the east (UST)

The wind blew from east to west.

the locust (ULT)the locusts (UST)

See how you translated this in 10:4. Alternate translation: "locusts"
(See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

¹³ And Moses reached out his staff over the land of Egypt, and Yahweh drove an east wind over the land all that day and all night. The morning was, and the east wind had brought the locust.

UST

¹³ So Moses held out his staff as though he were stretching it over the country of Egypt. Then Yahweh caused a wind to blow from the east, and it blew over the land all that day and all that night. By the next morning, it had brought the locusts.

Exodus 10:14

the locust...locust (ULT)

The locusts...of locusts (UST)

See how you translated this in 10:4. Alternate translation: "locusts"
(See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

¹⁴ And the locust rose up over all the land of Egypt and came to rest everywhere within the borders of Egypt. They were extremely numerous. Never before was there such locust like it, and nothing will be like it after.

UST

¹⁴ The locusts came up all over Egypt. They landed everywhere in the whole country. There had never been anything like this huge number of locusts, and there will never be anything like it again.

Exodus 10:15And it covered...And it devoured (ULT)*They covered...They ate (UST)

Here the pronoun it agrees in number with the collective singular "locust." See how you translated this in 10:5 (See: Collective Nouns)

And it covered the sight of all of the land (ULT)They covered the surface of the ground (UST)

See how you translated this in 10:5.

And it devoured all of the plants of the land and all of the fruit of the trees that the hail had left. And not any of the greenery remained in a tree or in a plant of the field in all of the land of Egypt (ULT)

They ate all the plants in the land and everything on the trees that the ice storm had not destroyed. They left nothing that was green on any tree or on any plant anywhere in Egypt (UST)

These parallel statements reinforce one another. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

¹⁵ And it covered the sight of all of the land, and the land was dark. And it devoured all of the plants of the land and all of the fruit of the trees that the hail had left. And not any of the greenery remained in a tree or in a plant of the field in all of the land of Egypt.

UST

¹⁵ They covered the surface of the ground and made it appear black. They ate all the plants in the land and everything on the trees that the ice storm had not destroyed. They left nothing that was green on any tree or on any plant anywhere in Egypt.

Exodus 10:16

your God and against you (ULT)

your god, and against you (UST)

Here, you and your are plural. These could refer either to Moses and Aaron or to all the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

16 And Pharaoh hurried to call for Moses and for Aaron and said, “I have sinned against Yahweh your God and against you.

UST

16 The king quickly called Aaron and Moses and said, “I have sinned against Yahweh, your god, and against you.

Exodus 10:17

bear (ULT)
forgive me (UST)

Alternate translation: “take away” just this once...only (ULT)

this one time...Just (UST)

Pharaoh could either be desperate and using just this once ... only to attempt to make his request as small as possible to increase the chances of it being granted, or he could be still too proud to admit guilt beyond this single incident (which is probably his bold statement about Yahweh being with the Israelites in 10:10). The former seems more likely given that he terms this plague “this death.” If your culture has a way of making a request seem as small as possible, you may want to use it to translate Pharaoh’s request.

your God (ULT)
your god (UST)

Here, your is plural. This could refer either to Moses and Aaron or to all the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

this...death (ULT)
the locusts that will cause us all to die (UST)

The word death here refers to the destruction by the locusts of all plants in Egypt, which would eventually lead to the deaths of people, because there would be no crops. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. See the UST. (See: Metonymy)

this...death (ULT)
the locusts that will cause us all to die (UST)

The word death here refers to the destruction by the locusts of all plants in Egypt, which would eventually lead to the deaths of people because there would be no crops. The full meaning of this statement can be made explicit. Alternate translation: “this destruction that will lead to our deaths” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

17 And now, please bear my sin, just this once, and pray to Yahweh your God and let him take this death only away from me.”

UST

17 Can you forgive me right now for having sinned this one time? Please pray to Yahweh, your god. Just ask him to take away the locusts that will cause us all to die.”

Exodus 10:18

And he went out (ULT)

So Moses and Aaron left (UST)

Moses and Aaron were summoned to the king in 10:16, so some translations will need to say that they both left.

ULT

¹⁸ And he went out from being with Pharaoh, and he prayed to Yahweh.

UST

¹⁸ So Moses and Aaron left the king, and Moses prayed to Yahweh.

Exodus 10:19

a very strong sea wind (ULT)
the wind so that it blew strongly from the west (UST)

Alternate translation: “a very strong west wind” or “a very strong wind from the west” and it carried away the locust (ULT) and it picked up...all the locusts (UST)

Alternate translation: “and it moved the locust upward”

the locust...locust (ULT)
all the locusts...locusts (UST)

See how you translated this in 10:4. Alternate translation: “the locusts ... of the locusts” (See: Collective Nouns) and it drove it (ULT) and forced (UST)

Here, the first it refers to the wind; the second it agrees in number with the collective singular “locust.” See how you translated this in 10:5 (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

¹⁹ And Yahweh turned a very strong sea wind, and it carried away the locust, and it drove it into the sea of reeds; not one locust remained in all of the territory of Egypt.

UST

¹⁹ Then Yahweh changed the wind so that it blew strongly from the west, and it picked up and forced all the locusts into the Red Sea. There were no locusts left anywhere in the country of Egypt.

Exodus 10:20

And Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh (ULT)
But Yahweh made the king stubborn again
(UST)

This means God made him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21. Alternate translation: "But Yahweh caused Pharaoh to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²⁰ And Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not let the sons of Israel go.

UST

²⁰ But Yahweh made the king stubborn again, and the king did not let the Israelites go.

Exodus 10:21

And Yahweh said (ULT)

Yahweh said (UST)

A new scene begins here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. This is the start of the third plague sequence. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

your hand (ULT)

your hand (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

Egypt, and darkness will feel (ULT)

all the land of Egypt...so dark that it will seem like people can feel it (UST)

This is a somewhat puzzling construction which describes the darkness. Most English translations take it as a passive, which restated actively means, “people will feel the darkness,” meaning metaphorically what is expressed in different ways in the UST and the alternate translation here. Another option is to view the Hebrew verb form as causative and translate as such: “and the darkness will cause people to feel,” meaning people will have to feel where they are going because they will not be able to see. A final option would be a personification of darkness such that the darkness gropes around, filling in every place in the land. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “Egypt, an extremely oppressive darkness” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Stretch out your hand toward the heavens, and let it become dark over the land of Egypt, and darkness will feel.”

UST

²¹ Yahweh said to Moses, “Reach your hand up toward the sky so that it may be dark over all the land of Egypt, so dark that it will seem like people can feel it.”

Exodus 10:22

his hand (ULT)

his hand (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

for three (ULT)

for three (UST)

Alternate translation: "for 3" (See: Numbers)

ULT

²² And Moses stretched out his hand above the heavens, and dark darkness was in all of the land of Egypt for three days.

UST

²² So Moses reached his hand toward the sky, and it became extremely dark all over Egypt for three days and nights.

Exodus 10:23

No man could see his brother (ULT)

No one could see anyone else (UST)

This phrase means that people could not see the people who lived closest to them, whether or not that person was literally their brother. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "No one could see the people who lived with them" (See: Metonymy) man...man (ULT)

one...one (UST)

Here, man refers to any human in general. Alternate translation: "person" (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

for three (ULT)

for three days (UST)

Alternate translation: "for 3" (See: Numbers)

ULT

²³ No man could see his brother, and no man rose from his place for three days. But for all the sons of Israel, there was light in their dwelling-places.

UST

²³ No one could see anyone else. No one went anywhere for three days. But there was light in the area where the Israelites lived.

Exodus 10:24

Go serve Yahweh. Only your flocks and your herds must remain behind; however, your children will go with you (ULT)

All right,} you may go and worship Yahweh. Your women and your children may go with you. But your flocks {of sheep and goats} and your herds {of cattle} must remain here (UST)

This is a direct quote of what the king said. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Go serve...your flocks and your herds...your children...with you (ULT)

All right,} you may go and worship...your flocks {of sheep and goats...your herds {of cattle...Your women and your children...with you (UST)

Every instance of you and your, as well as the imperative verb forms in this verse, are plural. They refer to the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

²⁴ And Pharaoh called to Moses, and he said, “Go serve Yahweh. Only your flocks and your herds must remain behind; however, your children will go with you.”

UST

²⁴ The king called Moses and said, “{All right,} you may go and worship Yahweh. Your women and your children may go with you. But your flocks {of sheep and goats} and your herds {of cattle} must remain here.”

Exodus 10:25

And Moses said (ULT)

But Moses replied (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of 10:26. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Also you, you must give in our hands sacrifices and burnt offerings (ULT)

No, you must also let us take our sacrifices and burnt offerings (UST)

The construction here is difficult. Based on context, Moses is probably not saying that Pharaoh needs to provide his own animals to the Israelites. He is asking Pharaoh to let the Israelites take their own animals with them. Give in our hands means to take with them, by whatever means, which may include holding a rope in the hand to lead the animals or any other means of herding the animals. See the UST. (See: Metonymy) sacrifices and burnt offerings (ULT)

our sacrifices and burnt offerings (UST)

Here, sacrifices and burnt offerings refers to the animals of their flocks and herds that they must take. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “animals for sacrifices and burnt offerings” (See: Metonymy) and we will do to Yahweh our God (ULT) to offer to Yahweh, our God (UST)

Here, do means “do the sacrifices and burnt offerings.” Alternate translation: “and we will make those sacrifices and burnt offerings to Yahweh our God” in our hands...and we will do...our God (ULT)

take...to offer...our God (UST)

Here, we and us refers to the Israelites (same group as the speaker's) while excluding Pharaoh and the Egyptians (listeners' group). If your language distinguishes between forms of we and us based on who is included, be sure to use the one appropriate to the described group. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We') ²⁵ And Moses said, “Also you, you must give in our hands sacrifices and burnt offerings, and we will do to Yahweh our God.

ULT

UST

²⁵ But Moses replied, “No, you must also let us take our sacrifices and burnt offerings to offer to Yahweh, our God.

Exodus 10:26

our livestock...with us...we shall take...our God. And as for us...we will...know...we must serve...we arrive (ULT)

Our domesticated animals...with us...we must take them...the God we worship. We...will...know...what we will need for worshipping...we get to (UST)

Here, we, our, and us each refers to the Israelites (same group as the speaker's) while excluding Pharaoh and the Egyptians (listeners' group). If your language distinguishes between forms of we, our, and us based on who is included, be sure to use the one appropriate to the described group. (See: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We')

Not a hoof shall be left behind (ULT)
We are not going to leave one animal behind (UST)

a hoof (ULT)
one animal (UST)

Here the word hoof refers to the entire animal. Alternate translation: "a single animal" (See: Synecdoche)

there (ULT)
where we are going (UST)

The destination is unspecified. Previous context suggests it would be at the mountain of God (see 3:1, especially 3:12, and 4:27), which would take three days of travel to reach (see 3:18 and 5:3).

ULT

²⁶ And even our livestock shall go with us. Not a hoof shall be left behind, for we shall take from them to serve Yahweh our God. And as for us, we will not know with what we must serve Yahweh until we arrive there."

UST

²⁶ Our domesticated animals must also go with us. We are not going to leave one animal behind because we must take them to worship Yahweh, the God we worship. We will not know what we will need for worshipping Yahweh until we get to where we are going."

Exodus 10:27And Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh (ULT)*But Yahweh made the king continue to be stubborn (UST)

This means God made him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21. Alternate translation: "But Yahweh caused Pharaoh to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor) and he would not agree to let them go (ULT)The king would not allow the Israelites to go (UST)

Alternate translation: "and Pharaoh would not consent to let them go"

ULT

²⁷ And Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he would not agree to let them go.

UST

²⁷ But Yahweh made the king continue to be stubborn. The king would not allow the Israelites to go.

Exodus 10:28

Watch yourself (ULT)

Make sure that (UST)

Here, the listener, Moses, fills two different roles in the sentence. He is the person told to look (subject) and he himself is what he is told to look at (object). Different languages have different methods of marking this. Alternate translation: "You watch yourself" (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

Watch yourself (ULT)

Make sure that (UST)

This is an idiom. Pharaoh is not telling Moses literally to keep looking at himself. Alternate translation: "Be careful" (See: Idiom)

you shall die (ULT)

I will have someone kill you (UST)

Pharaoh means he will have Moses killed. You may choose to make this explicit, as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

my face...my face (ULT)

me...me (UST)

Here, face refers to the whole person. See the UST. (See: Synecdoche)

ULT

²⁸ And Pharaoh said to him, "Get away from me! Watch yourself; you shall not again see my face; because in the day of your seeing my face, you shall die."

UST

²⁸ The king said to Moses and Aaron, "Get out of here! Make sure that you never {come to} see me again! The day you see me again, I will have someone kill you!"

Exodus 10:29Just as you say (ULT)*You are correct (UST)

With these words, Moses emphasizes that Pharaoh has spoken the truth. Alternate translation: "What you have said is true" (See: Idiom) your face (ULT)you (UST)

Here, face refers to the whole person. Alternate translation: "you" (See: Synecdoche)

ULT

²⁹ And Moses said, "Just as you say, I will not ever see your face again."

UST

²⁹ Moses replied, "You are correct! I will never see you again!"

Exodus 11

Exodus 11 General Notes

Chapter 11 is a transition point in the book. The previous nine plagues (in their three sequences of three) have come to an end and the last plague, the death of the firstborn, is about to occur, along with the Passover and the Exodus itself. It is difficult to know if the events in chapter 11 all are recorded in the order in which they happened. For translation, you should follow the order of the text if it will not confuse your readers.

It may be helpful to think that after the end of chapter 10, Yahweh spoke to Moses immediately, before he actually left Pharaoh's presence (v. 1-2). Verse 3 is a comment suggesting that the Egyptians will be willing to do as the Israelites are told to ask them to do in v. 2. In verses 4-7 Moses gives Pharaoh and his officials a message from Yahweh that Yahweh is giving to Moses right at that moment. At the end of v. 8 Moses leaves Pharaoh's presence (completing the interaction from the end of ch. 10). Verse 9 may either be Yahweh telling Moses what is going to happen, or it could be part of the summary that occurs in v. 10. Verse 10 summarizes what has happened in chs. 5-10 (especially the plagues in chs. 7-10) in preparation for the great last plague.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Pharaoh's hard heart

Pharaoh's heart is often described as hard in this chapter. This means that his heart was not open or willing to understand Yahweh's instructions. When his heart was hardened, it became less and less receptive to Yahweh.

Let my people go

In the previous chapters, Moses did not ask Pharaoh's permission for the Hebrew people to leave. Instead, he demanded that Pharaoh free the Hebrew people. In this chapter, the same wording is used to refer to Pharaoh "allowing" the Hebrew people to leave Egypt.

Exodus 11:1

to Moses (ULT)

to Moses (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of 11:2. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

As soon as he lets go...he will...drive...away (ULT)

When he does...he will...chase (UST)

These verbs (lets go and drive away) are meant to immediately follow one another. When you translate, make sure they are almost simultaneous in time; the letting go happens and then immediately the driving away happens. (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship)

he will certainly drive...completely away (ULT)

he will absolutely chase (UST)

The wording here is very forceful. Use strong words, forms, or phrasing when you are translating.

you...you (ULT)

you...you (UST)

Each occurrence of the word you in this verse is plural and refers to Moses and the rest of the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, “One more plague I will bring on Pharaoh and on Egypt. After that he will let you go from here. As soon as he lets go, he will certainly drive you completely away from here.

UST

¹ Yahweh said to Moses, “I will bring one more disaster on the king of Egypt and on all his people. After that, he will let you leave. When he does, he will absolutely chase you out of Egypt.

Exodus 11:2

Speak now in the ears of the people, and let them ask, a man from his neighbor and a woman from her neighbor, items of silver and items of gold (ULT)

Speak quickly to all the Israelites. Tell them to ask all their Egyptian neighbors, both men and women, to give them things made from silver and gold (UST)

In this verse the author interjects a comment about the situation. Some translations choose to put the verse in parenthesis to indicate this. You may mark it in a way that is natural to your language. (See: Aside)

now (ULT)
quickly (UST)

Here, now conveys urgency, indicating that Moses should speak soon, without delaying for other things. If you have a way of giving a command that shows that it is important for someone to do it quickly, it would be better to translate in that way than in a way that means “now” in a time sense (versus earlier or later).

in the ears of the people (ULT) to all the Israelites (UST)

Alternate translation: “so the people hear you” or “when all the people are listening” items of silver and items of gold (ULT) things made from silver and gold (UST)

These could be any sort of thing made from silver or gold (for instance: utensils, cups, pitchers, plates, candleholders), not just jewelry.

Exodus 3:22 contains similar instructions; see how you translated there.

gold (ULT)
gold (UST)

At the end of this verse, the direct quote of Yahweh that started in the previous verse ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

² Speak now in the ears of the people, and let them ask, a man from his neighbor and a woman from her neighbor, items of silver and items of gold.

UST

² Speak quickly to all the Israelites. Tell them to ask all their Egyptian neighbors, both men and women, to give them things made from silver and gold.”

Exodus 11:3

the people...favor...in the eyes of the Egyptians (ULT)
the Egyptians...willing to help...the Israelites (UST)

Here, in the eyes of the Egyptians is an idiom for the Egyptian's feelings or opinion. Favor means those feelings are positive. Taken together, this means that when the Egyptians see the Israelites leaving Egypt, they will gladly help them. (Because the Egyptians have suffered under God's judgment, the Egyptians want so badly to see them leave). If your language has the same or a similar idiom, you can translate or use it. Otherwise, you can translate the meaning. See how you translated this in 3:21. (See: Idiom) in the eyes of the servants of Pharaoh and in the eyes of the people (ULT) the king's officials and all the rest of the people thought (UST)

Here, in the eyes of the servants of Pharaoh and in the eyes of the people is an idiom for their feelings or opinions. If your language has the same or a similar idiom, you can translate or use it. Otherwise, you can translate the meaning. See how you translated a similar idiom in 3:21. (See: Idiom)

And Yahweh gave the people favor in the eyes of the Egyptians (ULT)
Yahweh made the Egyptians willing to help the Israelites (UST)

Exodus 3:21 contains a related phrase; see how you translated it there.

ULT

³ And Yahweh gave the people favor in the eyes of the Egyptians. Furthermore, the man Moses was very great in the land of Egypt, in the eyes of the servants of Pharaoh and in the eyes of the people.

UST

³ Yahweh made the Egyptians willing to help the Israelites. Also, the king's officials and all the rest of the people thought that Moses was one of the most important men in Egypt.

Exodus 11:4

And Moses said (ULT)

Then Moses said {to the king} (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of 11:8. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)

This is what Yahweh says (UST)

This quotation formula is used to introduce commands from Yahweh. See 4:intro for more information.

Thus says Yahweh (ULT)

This is what Yahweh says (UST)

After this phrase, a second-level direct quote begins which continues until the end of 11:7. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁴ And Moses said, "Thus says Yahweh: 'About the middle of the night I will go out in the midst of Egypt,

UST

⁴ Then Moses said {to the king}, "This is what Yahweh says: 'About midnight I will go through Egypt,

Exodus 11:5

firstborn...from the firstborn of...the firstborn of...firstborn of (ULT) oldest son...the...king's oldest son...slave's oldest son...oldest male born among the animals (UST)

The "firstborn" always refers to the oldest male offspring.

from the firstborn of Pharaoh, who sits on his throne, to the firstborn of the slave girl who is behind the mill, and every firstborn of a beast (ULT)

the rich king's oldest son, the poor mill slave's oldest son, and even every oldest male born among the animals (UST)

This is a merism. First, two extremes are mentioned: the highest of society (Pharaoh, who sits on his throne) and the lowest (the slave girl who is behind the mill). Then the animals (beasts) are added making it a three-item list of parts of society and even economy to show the totality of the coming judgment. (See: Merism) who is behind the mill (ULT)

the poor mill (UST)

Alternate translation: "who is grinding at the handmill" or "who is behind the handmill grinding grain"

ULT

⁵ and every firstborn in the land of Egypt will die, from the firstborn of Pharaoh, who sits on his throne, to the firstborn of the slave girl who is behind the mill, and every firstborn of a beast.

UST

⁵ and I will kill every oldest son in Egypt. I will kill without exception: the rich king's oldest son, the poor mill slave's oldest son, and even every oldest male born among the animals.

Exodus 11:6

which nothing like it has ever happened, and nothing like it will happen again (ULT) than anyone ever has lamented before and more than anyone ever will again (UST)

This is a merism that uses the extremes of past and future to emphasize the concept of "never." Alternate translation: "such as has never been and never will be" (See: Merism)

ULT

⁶ And there will be a great cry in all the land of Egypt, which nothing like it has ever happened, and nothing like it will happen again.

UST

⁶ When that happens, people all over Egypt will lament more terribly than anyone ever has lamented before and more than anyone ever will again.

Exodus 11:7

will not sharpen...his tongue (ULT) will not even bark...will...bark (UST)

This means to make an unfriendly noise. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “will not growl” (See: Idiom)

you will know (ULT)
you will know (UST)

Here, you is plural. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

that Yahweh distinguishes between Egypt and between Israel (ULT)
that I, Yahweh, am treating the Egyptians differently from the Israelites
(UST)

See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 9:4.

Israel (ULT)
the Israelites (UST)

After this phrase, the second-level direct quote ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁷ But to each of the sons of Israel, a dog will not sharpen his tongue, from man to beast, so that you will know that Yahweh distinguishes between Egypt and between Israel.’

UST

⁷ But dogs will not even bark at the Israelites or at their animals. Then you will know for sure that I, Yahweh, am treating the Egyptians differently from the Israelites.’

Exodus 11:8

and they will bow to me (ULT) and bow down...before me (UST)

This does not mean to bow for worshiping. They will bow to Moses to beg him to leave. They will do this to show how desperate they will be for Moses and the Israelites to go. (See: Symbolic Action)

and they will bow to me (ULT) and bow down...before me (UST)

They will bow to Moses to beg him to leave. They will do this to show how desperate they will be for Moses and the Israelites to go. If this action would not mean the same thing in your culture, you may need to make the reason they are bowing explicit. Alternate translation: “and they will bow down to me to beg” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) and all the people who are at your feet (ULT) and everyone who is with you (UST)

Here, the people are figuratively pictured as below Moses, which means they are his followers. The reference to feet also can mean they go the same place he goes, again, meaning “follower.” If your language uses a similar image to mean follower, you can translate the image; if not, you may use another image from your culture or translate the meaning. Alternate translation: “and all the people who are following you” (See: Metaphor)

And after that I will go out (ULT) After that, we will leave Egypt (UST)

This means that Moses and the Israelites will leave Egypt. Alternate translation: “After that I will leave here” or “After that I will go out from Egypt” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

I will go out (ULT) we will leave Egypt (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) with burning of the nose (ULT) very angrily (UST)

This is an idiom meaning that Moses is angry. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “enraged” (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁸ And all your servants, these will come down to me, and they will bow to me, saying, ‘Go, you and all the people who are at your feet!’ And after that I will go out.” And he went out from Pharaoh with burning of the nose.

UST

⁸ Then all these officials of yours will come and bow down before me and will say, ‘Please get out of Egypt, you and everyone who is with you!’ After that, we will leave Egypt!’ When Moses had said that, he left the king very angrily.

Exodus 11:9

Pharaoh will not listen to you, in order to multiply my miracles in the land of Egypt (ULT)

The king will not obey you. This is so I can cause many disastrous miracles in his country (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁹ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Pharaoh will not listen to you, in order to multiply my miracles in the land of Egypt."

UST

⁹ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "The king will not obey you. This is so I can cause many disastrous miracles in his country."

Exodus 11:10

And Moses and Aaron did all these miracles before the face of Pharaoh. But Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not let the sons of Israel go from his land (ULT)

Moses and Aaron did all these miracles in front of the king, but Yahweh made the king stubborn. The king did not let the Israelites leave his land (UST)

This verse is summarizing and wrapping up the story of the plagues. If your language has a way of summarizing information at the end of a story, try to translate this verse (and possibly verse 9 - see the introductory notes to this chapter) in this way. (See: End of Story)

But Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh (ULT)
but Yahweh made the king stubborn (UST)

This means God made him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21. Alternate translation: "But Yahweh caused Pharaoh to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁰ And Moses and Aaron did all these miracles before the face of Pharaoh. But Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not let the sons of Israel go from his land.

UST

¹⁰ Moses and Aaron did all these miracles in front of the king, but Yahweh made the king stubborn. The king did not let the Israelites leave his land.

Exodus 12

Exodus 12 General Notes

Structure and Formatting
The events of this chapter are known as the Passover. They are remembered in the celebration of Passover. (See: Passover)

1. Instruction v. 1-28
 * v. 1-20: Yahweh gives instructions
 * v. 1-11: how to eat this Passover
 * v. 12-13: description of the plague
 * v. 14-20: directions for future celebration of Passover
 * v. 21-28: Moses repeats Yahweh's instructions to Israelites

2. Narrative v. 29-42: Passover and Exodus

3. Instruction v. 43-49: which foreigners may eat Passover

4. Summary Narrative v. 50-51

Special Concepts in this Chapter
Unleavened bread
 The concept of unleavened bread is introduced in this chapter. Its significance stems from its connection to the events in this chapter. (See: unleavened bread)

Ethnic segregation
 The Hebrew people were to be separate from the rest of the world. Because of this, they separated themselves from other people groups. At this time, these foreigners were looked upon as unholy. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Potential Translation Issues:
Passover
Pronoun usage
 In the long quotation (verses 3-20) that Yahweh tells Moses and Aaron to convey to the Israelites, he speaks of them in the third person ("they must") in verses 3-4 and verses 7-8 and to them in the second person ("you must") for all the rest of the instruction. Some languages may need to keep the pronoun person consistent throughout the quotation.

You plural
 In this chapter, almost every occurrence of "you" or "your" is plural. Each one refers to all the Israelites. Those that are not will be marked. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form throughout unless otherwise noted. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

Exodus 12:1

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses and to Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying,

UST

¹ Yahweh said to Aaron and Moses in Egypt,

Exodus 12:2This month is to you the head of the months*(ULT)Start counting your months at this new moon(UST)

The start of this verse is the beginning of a direct quote which continues until the end of verse 20. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

² "This month is to you the head of the months. It is the first to you of the months of the year.

UST

² "Start counting your months at this new moon. It will be the Israelites' first month of the year.

This month is to you the head of the months. It is the first to you of the months of the year (ULT)Start counting your months at this new moon. It will be the Israelites' first month of the year (UST)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing and emphasize that the month in which the events of this chapter take place will be the beginning of their calendar year. (See: Parallelism)

It is the first to you of the months of the year (ULT)It will be the Israelites' first month of the year (UST)

The first month of the Hebrew calendar includes the last part of March and the first part of April on Western calendars. It marks when Yahweh rescued the Israelites from the Egyptians. (See: Hebrew Months)

Exodus 12:3

Speak (ULT)

Tell (UST)

The command here is to both Moses and Aaron. If your language uses a different form if two are people addressed, use a dual form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural) saying, 'On the tenth of (ULT)

Tell...On the tenth day of (UST)

After saying, a second level direct quotation begins which continues until the end of verse 20. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening second-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation within a quotation. Saying is used to mark the beginning of a quote. Many times it can be omitted in translation if the target language does not use a similar structure. (See: Quote Markings)

This seems to be indicating that if multiple families live in one house, the man who is the leader of the family group that lives there should take one lamb for that whole household. Alternate translation: "the father of each household must take a lamb for his household, one per household"

a lamb...to a house (ULT)

a young sheep or a young goat for his household (UST)

Alternate translation: "one lamb per house"

a lamb...a lamb (ULT)

a young sheep or a young goat...a young sheep or a young goat (UST)

The word lamb literally means "of the flock," and it could also be translated as a sheep or a goat. Here, the ULT uses lamb (a young sheep), because verse 5 specifies that it must be one year old. "Kid" (a young goat) would be equally valid as verse 5 also says that it could be either a sheep or a goat. You may translate it as either sheep or goat, whichever would be most familiar.

ULT

³ Speak to all the congregation of Israel, saying, 'On the tenth of this month they shall take to themselves, each man, a lamb to the house of the fathers: a lamb to a house.

UST

³ Tell the whole Israelite community, 'On the tenth day of this month every man who leads a family must take a young sheep or a young goat for his household.

Exodus 12:4

And if the household is too few for having a lamb (ULT)

If there are not enough people in his family to eat a whole cooked lamb (UST)

This means that there are not enough people in the family to eat an entire lamb. Alternate translation: "If there are not enough people in the household to eat an entire lamb" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) and his neighbor near to his house by the number of people (ULT) and a family that lives nearby...according to the number of people in each family (UST)

The phrase by the number of people helps to clarify which sort of neighbor near to his house the Israelite should choose. They should count their own household and another household and try to have a group that is the right number to eat an entire lamb. Alternate translation: "and his neighbor who lives near him and whose family is the right size to share a lamb with"

each man (ULT)

and according to how much each person can eat (UST)

This refers to each person, whether man, woman, or child. Alternate translation: "each family member" (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

⁴ And if the household is too few for having a lamb, then he and his neighbor near to his house by the number of people shall take the lamb; according to the eating of the mouth of each man you shall calculate it.

UST

⁴ If there are not enough people in his family to eat a whole cooked lamb, then his family and a family that lives nearby may kill one animal. Plan to share the lamb according to the number of people in each family and according to how much each person can eat.

Exodus 12:5

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁵ Your lamb shall be complete, male, the son of a year. You may take from the sheep or from the goats.

UST

⁵ You may choose a sheep or a goat; but it must be a one-year-old male, and it must be perfect, without any defects.

Exodus 12:6

between the evenings (ULT) in the evening (UST)

This refers to the time of evening after the sun has set but while there is still some light.

ULT

⁶ And it shall be to you to reserve until the fourteenth day of this month. And all the assembly of the congregation of Israel shall slaughter it between the evenings.

UST

⁶ You must take special care of these animals until the fourteenth day of this month. On that day, all the Israelites must kill the young sheep or young goats in the evening.

Exodus 12:7

on the two doorposts and on the lintel of the houses (ULT) on the two doorposts and on the tops of the doorframes of the houses (UST)

Alternate translation: "on the sides and top of the way into the house" or "on the top and sides of the frame around the door into the house"

ULT

⁷ And they shall take from the blood and put it on the two doorposts and on the lintel of the houses in which they eat it.

UST

⁷ Then they must take some of the blood from the young sheep or young goats, and they must smear it on the two doorposts and on the tops of the doorframes of the houses in which they will eat the meat.

Exodus 12:8

bitter herbs (ULT)

bitter herbs (UST)

These are edible but strong-tasting leaves, seeds, and other parts of plants.

ULT

⁸ And they shall eat the flesh that night, roast of fire, and they shall eat unleavened bread over bitter herbs.

UST

⁸ They must roast the animals over a fire and eat the meat that same night. They must eat it with bitter herbs and with bread that does not have yeast in it.

Exodus 12:9

You shall not eat from it raw (ULT)
You must not eat any of the meat uncooked...
the meat (UST)

Alternate translation: "Do not eat the lamb or goat uncooked"

ULT

⁹ You shall not eat from it raw or boiled from boiling in water. But instead, roasted of fire, its head with its legs and with its internal organs.

UST

⁹ You must not eat any of the meat uncooked, and you must not cook the meat in water. You must do this: cook the whole animal over a fire. Do not remove the head, legs, or inside parts.

Exodus 12:10

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁰ And you shall not cause to remain anything from it until morning; and you shall burn in the fire what remains from it until morning.

UST

¹⁰ Do not save any of the meat until the next morning. Any meat that you have not eaten by morning, you must burn to ash.

Exodus 12:11belts fastened (ULT) dressed ready to travel (UST)

Here, belts are strips of leather or fabric for tying around the waist.

And you shall eat it with haste (ULT) you must be...You must have...You must eat it hurriedly (UST)

Alternate translation: "And you must eat it quickly"

It is the Passover to Yahweh (ULT)
It will be a festival called Passover to honor
me, Yahweh (UST)

Here the word It refers to eating the animal on the tenth day of the month. Alternate translation: "This observance is Yahweh's Passover" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹¹ And this is how you shall eat it: belts fastened on your waist, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand. And you shall eat it with haste. It is the Passover to Yahweh.

UST

¹¹ When you eat it, you must be dressed ready to travel. You must have your sandals on your feet and your walking staff in your hands. You must eat it hurriedly. It will be a festival called Passover to honor me, Yahweh.

Exodus 12:12

And I will bring judgment on all the gods of Egypt (ULT)

I am punishing all the Egyptians' gods (UST)

This can be stated with a verbal form, as in the UST. (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

¹² And I will pass through the land of Egypt on that night, and I will strike all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, from man to beast. And I will bring judgment on all the gods of Egypt. I am Yahweh.

UST

¹² On that night I will go throughout Egypt, and I will kill all the oldest males in Egypt, both humans and animals. I am punishing all the Egyptians' gods. I am Yahweh.

Exodus 12:13for destruction (ULT)*harm (UST)

This can be stated with a verbal form, as in the UST. Alternate translation: “to destroy you” (See: Abstract Nouns) and the plague will not be on you (ULT)I will not harm the people who are in those houses (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “and I will not put the plague on you” (See: Active or Passive) on the land of Egypt (ULT)when I come to...the Egyptians (UST)

Yahweh is going to strike the people and animals who live in the land of Egypt. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “on everything living in the land of Egypt” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹³ And the blood will be a sign for you on the houses which you are in. And I will see the blood, and I will pass over above you, and the plague will not be on you for destruction as my striking on the land of Egypt.

UST

¹³ The blood on your houses will show that you are obeying me. When I see the blood, I will go past those houses. I will not harm the people who are in those houses when I come to punish the Egyptians.

Exodus 12:14

And this day shall become (ULT) will make this day (UST)

Verses 14-20 are instructions for the Israelites' future celebration of the Passover. If your language makes a distinction between near and far future events or between near and general commands, you may need to make clear that these verses primarily have a later application.

this day (ULT) this day (UST)

Here, this day means the tenth day of the first month of every year. On this day every year, they must celebrate the Passover. (See: Hebrew Months)

ULT

¹⁴ And this day shall become a memorial for you, and you shall celebrate it as a festival to Yahweh for your generations—a statute you shall celebrate forever.

UST

¹⁴ You will make this day a feast to remember and celebrate what I, Yahweh, will have done for you. This is a rule for you: every generation of Israelites must celebrate this annual feast for all of time.

Exodus 12:15

Yes (ULT)
you must (UST)

Alternate translation: “Surely” or “Indeed”

that person shall be cut off from Israel (ULT)
you must drive that person out from your people (UST)

The metaphor cut off could mean: (1) the person must leave. Alternate translation: “he must be sent away” (2) the person is no longer an Israelite. Alternate translation: “he will no longer be considered to be one of the people of Israel” (3) the person must die. Alternate translation: “he must be killed” (See: Metaphor)

that person shall be cut off from Israel (ULT)
you must drive that person out from your people (UST)

As noted in the previous note, the metaphor cut off has at least three possible meanings. By whom that person will be cut off is not specified; it could be the Israelites or Yahweh. If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The following alternate translations express those: (1) “the people of Israel must send him away” or (2) “I will no longer consider him to be one of the people of Israel” or (3) “the people of Israel must kill him” (See: Active or Passive) from Israel (ULT)

from your people (UST)

Israel is a collective noun referring to the nation or people group. Alternate translation: “from the Israelites” (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

15 You shall eat unleavened bread for seven days. Yes—on the first day you shall remove yeast from your houses, because anyone who eats leavened bread from the first day until the seventh day, that person shall be cut off from Israel.

UST

15 For seven days you must eat bread that has no yeast in it. On the first day of that week, you must remove all the yeast that is in your houses. During those seven days, if anyone eats bread that has yeast in it, you must drive that person out from your people.

Exodus 12:16

And on the first day an assembly of holiness, and on the seventh day an assembly of holiness shall be for you (ULT)

On the first day of that week, you must have a holy meeting. You must do the same thing on the seventh day (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "And on the first day and on the seventh day, you shall have an assembly of holiness" (See: Active or Passive)

And on the first day...and on the seventh day
(ULT)

On the first day of that week...on the seventh day (UST)

First and seventh are ordinal numbers. Alternate translation: "And on day one of the month ... and on day seven of the month" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

All work shall not be done in these (ULT)

People must not work at all on those two days (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "You will do no work on these days" (See: Active or Passive) that alone may be done by you (ULT)

The only work...you may do is to prepare (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "which must be the only work that you do" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹⁶ And on the first day an assembly of holiness, and on the seventh day an assembly of holiness shall be for you. All work shall not be done in these, except what each person eats, that alone may be done by you.

UST

¹⁶ On the first day of that week, you must have a holy meeting. You must do the same thing on the seventh day. People must not work at all on those two days. The only work you may do is to prepare food to eat.

Exodus 12:17

your hosts (ULT)

all your tribes (UST)

The term hosts refers to a large group of people, often organized into groups for war. See how you translated this in Exodus 6:26.

Alternate translation: “your groups” or “your divisions” (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹⁷ And you shall keep the Unleavened Bread, because on this very day I will have brought out your hosts from the land of Egypt. And you shall keep this day throughout your generations, a statute forever.

UST

¹⁷ You must celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread on this day because this day is exactly when I am rescuing all your tribes from slavery in Egypt. This is a law for you: every generation of Israelites for all of time must celebrate to remember that I rescued you on this day.

Exodus 12:18

In the first month, on the fourteenth day...
until the twenty-first day of the month (ULT)
of the fourteenth day of the first month of the year...until...of the twenty-first day of that month (UST)

First, fourteenth, and twenty-first are ordinal numbers. Alternate translation: "In month one, on day fourteen ... until day twenty-one of the month" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

In the first month, on the fourteenth day...
until the twenty-first day of the month (ULT)
of the fourteenth day of the first month of the year...until...of the twenty-first day of that month (UST)

(See: Ordinal Numbers)

In the first month, on the fourteenth day (ULT) of the fourteenth day of the first month of the year (UST)

This is the first month of the Hebrew calendar. The fourteenth day is near the beginning of April on Western calendars. (See: Hebrew Months)

the twenty-first day of the month (ULT) of the twenty-first day of that month (UST)

This is near the middle of April on Western calendars. (See: Hebrew Months)

ULT

¹⁸ In the first month, on the fourteenth day in the evening you shall eat unleavened bread until the twenty-first day of the month in the evening.

UST

¹⁸ On the evening of the fourteenth day of the first month of the year, you must stop eating bread that has yeast in it. You may not eat bread with yeast in it again until the evening of the twenty-first day of that month.

Exodus 12:19

no yeast shall be found in your houses (ULT)
you must not have any yeast in your house (UST)

This means there should not be any yeast in their houses. If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Note that the UST more accurately conveys the meaning here, as the alternate translation in this note could be understood to mean that you must simply hide the yeast very well. Alternate translation: “Yahweh must not find any yeast in your houses” (See: Active or Passive)

that person shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel (ULT)
you must drive that person out from your people (UST)

See how you translated cut off in Exodus 12:15. (See: Metaphor)

that person shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel (ULT)
you must drive that person out from your people (UST)

See how you translated cut off in Exodus 12:15. (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁹ For seven days no yeast shall be found in your houses. Because anyone who eats yeasted bread, that person shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel—among the sojourner or among the native of the land.

UST

¹⁹ For those seven days you must not have any yeast in your house. During that time, if anyone—either a foreigner or an Israelite—eats bread that has yeast in it, you must drive that person out from your people.

Exodus 12:20

unleavened bread (ULT)

bread that does not have yeast in it (UST)

After this phrase, the direct quote of Yahweh's commands to Moses and Aaron for the Israelites ends (two levels). It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with closing second-level and first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of quotations. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²⁰ You shall not eat any yeast; in all of your dwelling places you shall eat unleavened bread.”

UST

²⁰ Do not eat any yeast. Wherever you are living, you must eat bread that does not have yeast in it.”

Exodus 12:21

summoned

A new scene begins at this verse, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

and he said to them (ULT)

He said to them (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of 12:27. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

21 And Moses called for all the elders of Israel, and he said to them, "Proceed and take a lamb for yourself, according to your families, and slaughter the Passover.

UST

21 Then Moses summoned all the Israelite leaders. He said to them, "Each family should select a young sheep or young goat and kill it to eat it to celebrate the festival that you will call 'Passover.'

Exodus 12:22a bunch of hyssop (ULT)*a bunch of hyssop (UST)

Hyssop is a woody plant with small leaves that can be used for sprinkling liquids by dipping the leaves in the liquid and then shaking them or brushing them over the target. If this plant is unknown, you can use a descriptor phrase. Alternate translation: “part of a plant with small branches and many leaves” (See: Translate Unknowns) to the lintel and to both the doorposts (ULT)on the top of the doorframe and on the*doorposts of your houses (UST)

Alternate translation: “on the sides and top of the way into the house.” See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 12:7.

not...a man (ULT)must stay inside...The people (UST)

Here, man includes women and children. Alternate translation: “no person” (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

²² And you shall take a bunch of hyssop, and dip it in the blood that is in the basin and apply to the lintel and to both the doorposts from the blood that is in the basin. And you, not a man shall go out from the door of his house until morning.

UST

²² {Let the lamb's blood drain} into a bowl. Get a bunch of hyssop and dip it in the blood. Then wipe some of the blood on the top of the doorframe and on the doorposts of your houses. The people in each house must stay inside the house until the next morning.

Exodus 12:23

and Yahweh will pass over the door (ULT) Because of that, he will pass over those houses (UST)

Here the word door implies the entire house. This means that God will spare the Israelites in houses with blood on the door frames. Alternate translation: “and Yahweh will pass over the house” (See: Synecdoche)

on the lintel and on the two doorposts (ULT) on your doorframes (UST)

Alternate translation: “on the sides and top of the way into the house” See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 12:7.

ULT

²³ And Yahweh will pass through to strike the Egyptians. And he will see the blood on the lintel and on the two doorposts, and Yahweh will pass over the door and will not permit the causer of destruction to enter into your houses to strike.

UST

²³ When Yahweh goes through Egypt to kill every oldest male, he will see the blood on your doorframes. Because of that, he will pass over those houses and will not allow the killing-destroyer to enter your houses to kill your oldest sons.

Exodus 12:24this...thing (ULT)*this ritual (UST)

These words refer to the Passover or Festival of Unleavened Bread. Observing the Passover was an act of worshiping Yahweh.

for you and for your sons (ULT)You and your descendants (UST)

Here, you and your are singular but they refer to the whole nation. You may need to continue to use a plural form of “you,” if your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed. (See: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups) and for your sons (ULT)and your descendants (UST)

Here, sons includes everyone. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

²⁴ And you shall keep this thing as a statute for you and for your sons until eternity.

UST

²⁴ You and your descendants must celebrate this ritual forever; this is a law.

Exodus 12:25

this...service (ULT)

this...ritual (UST)

Here, this service refers to the Passover or Festival of Unleavened Bread. Observing the Passover was an act of worshiping Yahweh.

ULT

²⁵ And so it will happen, as you enter into the land that Yahweh will give to you, just as he said, then you shall keep this service.

UST

²⁵ When you arrive in the land that Yahweh will give to you as he promised, you must keep celebrating this ritual every year.

Exodus 12:26

your sons (ULT)

your children (UST)

Here, your sons refers to all children, as in the UST. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women) to you...What is this service to you (ULT)

you...What does this ritual mean (UST)

After you, a second-level quotation begins. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. However, you may want to translate this as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the layers of quotations in this passage. Alternative translation: "to you what this ritual means to you," (See: Quotes within Quotes)

ULT

²⁶ And it will happen, when your sons are saying to you, 'What is this service to you?'

UST

²⁶ When your children ask you, 'What does this ritual mean?'

Exodus 12:27

It is the sacrifice of Passover to Yahweh, who passed over the houses of the sons of Israel in Egypt in striking the Egyptians. And he rescued our households (ULT)

This ritual is to remember how your ancestors sacrificed lambs on the night that Yahweh's angel passed over the houses of the Israelites when they were in Egypt. He killed the oldest males in all the Egyptian houses, but he did not kill the sons in our houses (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

And he rescued our households (ULT) but he did not kill the sons in our houses (UST)

This means that Yahweh spared the Israelites' firstborn sons. Alternate translation: "He did not kill the firstborn sons in our houses" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²⁷ then you shall say, 'It is the sacrifice of Passover to Yahweh, who passed over the houses of the sons of Israel in Egypt in striking the Egyptians. And he rescued our households.'" And the people bowed their heads and prostrated themselves.

UST

²⁷ you must tell them, 'This ritual is to remember how your ancestors sacrificed lambs on the night that Yahweh's angel passed over the houses of the Israelites when they were in Egypt. He killed the oldest males in all the Egyptian houses, but he did not kill the sons in our houses.'" After Moses told them this, the elders all bowed their heads and worshiped Yahweh.

Exodus 12:28

as Yahweh had commanded Moses and Aaron, so they did (ULT) exactly what Yahweh told Moses and Aaron to tell them to do (UST)

Alternate translation: "everything that Yahweh told Moses and Aaron to do"

ULT

²⁸ And the sons of Israel went and did; as Yahweh had commanded Moses and Aaron, so they did.

UST

²⁸ Then the Israelites did exactly what Yahweh told Moses and Aaron to tell them to do.

Exodus 12:29

The next few verses are the climax of this part of Exodus. A number of literary features mark it out. First, it is specially introduced with and so it happened, which is used to mark major breaks in the narrative. Second, it uses repetition: firstborn is repeated four times in verse 29 so that the reader cannot possibly miss what is happening. Night is repeated in verse 29, 30, and 31. Got up/get up is repeated in verse 30 and 31. In verses 31 and 32 “also” occurs five times (it is translated as “both” once in the ULT). Third, the places of both Pharaoh and the captive are elaborated on to slow the pace and create a vivid mental image for the reader. In verse 30 there is the listing of sorts of people who got up; note the use of the double negative for emphasis. Your translation should attempt to use the same or similar literary features of your own language that slow down the pace, create vivid imagery, and emphasize that this is a climax point.

from the firstborn of Pharaoh sitting on his throne to the firstborn of the captive who was in the house of the pit, and all the firstborn of beasts (ULT)

This included the rich king’s oldest son, the oldest sons of the prisoners in the dungeons, and the oldest males of all the {Egyptians’} livestock (UST)

This is a merism used to indicate that there was no person or household excluded from Yahweh’s judgment. It both speaks of extreme parts of society and then makes this into a list by including the animals. Alternate translation: “the firstborn of Pharaoh who sits on the throne and the firstborn of the captive who was in the house of the pit and the firstborn of everyone in between was struck; even all the firstborn of the beasts were struck” (See: Merism)

the firstborn...from the firstborn of...the firstborn of...the firstborn of (ULT)
the...oldest sons...This included...oldest son...the oldest sons of...the oldest males of (UST)

In these usages, firstborn always refers to the oldest male offspring. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 11:5.

to the firstborn of the captive who was in the house of the pit (ULT)
the oldest sons of the prisoners in the dungeons (UST)

Alternate translation: “to the firstborn of people in the house of the pit” This refers to prisoners in general and not to a specific person in prison.

ULT

29 And so it happened, in the middle of the night, and Yahweh struck all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh sitting on his throne to the firstborn of the captive who was in the house of the pit, and all the firstborn of beasts.

UST

29 At midnight Yahweh killed all the Egyptians’ oldest sons, all over Egypt. This included the rich king’s oldest son, the oldest sons of the prisoners in the dungeons, and the oldest males of all the {Egyptians’} livestock.

Exodus 12:30

for there was not a house where there was not someone dead (ULT) because in every house someone's son had died (UST)

This double negative emphasizes the positive. Alternate translation:
"because someone was dead in every house" (See: Double Negatives)

ULT

³⁰ And Pharaoh got up in the night—he, and all his servants, and all the Egyptians. And there was a great cry in Egypt, for there was not a house where there was not someone dead.

UST

³⁰ That night the king, all his officials, and all the rest of the Egyptians awoke and discovered what had happened. They wailed loudly all over Egypt, because in every house someone's son had died.

Exodus 12:31

you...as you have said (ULT)

you...as you requested (UST)

Here, Pharaoh speaking is to both Moses and Aaron. If your language uses a different form if two are people addressed, use a dual form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural) ³¹ And he called for Moses and for Aaron in the night and said, "Get up, get out from among my people, both you and also the sons of Israel. And go, serve Yahweh, as you have said.

ULT

UST

³¹ That night the king summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Get up, you and all the other Israelites, and get away from my people and country now! Go and worship Yahweh, as you requested!

Exodus 12:32

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³² Also take your flocks, also your herds as you have said, and go, and also bless me."

UST

³² You may even take your flocks of sheep and goats and herds of cattle just as you requested. Just leave! Ask Yahweh to bless me also!"

Exodus 12:33

We are all dying (ULT) we will all die (UST)

The Egyptians were afraid that they would die if the Israelites did not leave Egypt. Alternate translation: “We will all die if you do not leave” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

³³ And the Egyptians strengthened the people, hurrying to let them go from the land, for they said, “We are all dying.”

UST

³³ The Egyptians helped the Israelites to leave their country quickly. They said, “Otherwise, we will all die!”

Exodus 12:34

Their kneading bowls were wrapped in their clothes on their shoulders (ULT)
the bowls in which they mixed the dough to make bread...that was in the bowls...and they wrapped the bowls in their cloaks...the bowls on their shoulders (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "They tied up their bread-making bowls in their clothes and placed them on their shoulders" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³⁴ And the people carried his dough before it developed leaven. Their kneading bowls were wrapped in their clothes on their shoulders.

UST

³⁴ So the Israelites prepared to leave at once. They took the bowls in which they mixed the dough to make bread and the dough that was in the bowls without any yeast in it, and they wrapped the bowls in their cloaks. They put the bowls on their shoulders.

Exodus 12:35

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁵ And the sons of Israel did according to the word of Moses. And they asked from the Egyptians items of silver and items of gold and clothing.

UST

³⁵ Then the Israelites did as Moses told them. They went to their Egyptian neighbors and asked them for silver, gold, and clothing.

Exodus 12:36

the people favor in the eyes of the Egyptians

(ULT)

the Egyptians to greatly respect the Israelites

(UST)

Here, in the eyes of the Egyptians is an idiom for the Egyptian's feelings or opinion. Favor means that those feelings are positive. Taken together, this means that when the Egyptians saw the Israelites leaving Egypt, they gladly helped them (because they wanted them to leave so badly due to the Egyptians suffering under God's judgment). If your language has the same or a similar idiom, you can translate or use it. Otherwise, you can translate the meaning. See how you translated this in 3:21. (See: Idiom)

ULT

³⁶ And Yahweh gave the people favor in the eyes of the Egyptians. And they made the request, and they plundered the Egyptians.

UST

³⁶ Yahweh caused the Egyptians to greatly respect the Israelites, so they gave them what they asked for. In that way, the Israelites carried away the wealth of the Egyptians.

Exodus 12:37

from Rameses (ULT)

from the city of Rameses (UST)

Rameses was a major Egyptian city where grain was stored. See how you translated this in Exodus 1:11. (See: How to Translate Names)

about 600, 000 (ULT)

There were about 600, 000 (UST)

Alternate translation: "about six hundred thousand" (See: Numbers)

ULT

³⁷ And the sons of Israel journeyed from Rameses toward Succoth, about 600, 000 strong men on foot, apart from children.

UST

³⁷ The Israelites walked from the city of Rameses to the town of Succoth. There were about 600, 000 men who went, in addition to the women and children.

Exodus 12:38

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁸ And also a mixed multitude went up with them, and flock and herd—a very great number of livestock.

UST

³⁸ Many other people who were not Israelites went along with them. There was also a large amount of livestock, including flocks of sheep and goats and herds of cattle.

Exodus 12:39

because they were driven out of Egypt (ULT) Pharaoh forced the Israelites to leave Egypt (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "because the Egyptians had driven them out of Egypt" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³⁹ And they baked the dough that they brought from Egypt into unleavened bread, for it was not leavened, because they were driven out of Egypt, and they could not delay. And furthermore, they had not made provisions for themselves.

UST

³⁹ Pharaoh forced the Israelites to leave Egypt so quickly that they did not have time to prepare food to take with them or to allow the bread dough to form yeast. When they made bread with the dough they brought from Egypt, they made flatbread because it did not have yeast.

Exodus 12:40

430...430 (ULT)

430...430 (UST)

Alternate translation: "four hundred thirty" (See: Numbers)

ULT

⁴⁰ And the residence of the sons of Israel, during which they resided in Egypt, was 430 years.

UST

⁴⁰ The Israelites had lived in Egypt for 430 years.

Exodus 12:41430...430 (ULT)*430...430 (UST)

Alternate translation: "four hundred thirty" (See: Numbers)

the hosts of (ULT)the tribes of...people (UST)

The term hosts refers to a large group of people, often organized into groups for war. See how you translated this in Exodus 6:26.

Alternate translation: "your groups" or "your divisions" (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁴¹ And so it was, at the end of 430 years, it was on that very day all of the hosts of Yahweh went out from the land of Egypt.

UST

⁴¹ On the day that those 430 years ended, on that very day, all the tribes of Yahweh's people left Egypt.

Exodus 12:42

for Yahweh...all the sons of Israel to observe for...throughout their generations (ULT) as Yahweh...every year...that they dedicate... when the Israelites and their descendants in every generation remember how...kept their ancestors safe (UST)

Alternate translation: "for all the sons of Israel throughout their generations to observe for Yahweh"

ULT

⁴² It was a night of observing for Yahweh to bring them out from the land of Egypt. This night, it is for all the sons of Israel to observe for Yahweh throughout their generations.

UST

⁴² It was a night when the Israelites stayed awake as Yahweh brought them out of Egypt. So this same night every year is a night that they dedicate to Yahweh, a night when the Israelites and their descendants in every generation remember how Yahweh kept their ancestors safe.

Exodus 12:43

and Aaron (ULT)

and Aaron (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of 12:49. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

⁴³ And Yahweh said to Moses and Aaron, "This is the statute of the Passover: Any son of foreignness shall not eat it.

UST

⁴³ Then Yahweh said to Moses and Aaron, "This is the law about the Passover ritual: Do not let foreigners eat the Passover meal.

Exodus 12:44But any slave of a man (ULT)*But if anyone...a slave (UST)

Alternate translation: "But any slave of an Israelite"

if you circumcised him, then (ULT) and circumcises him, that slave may eat (UST)

This is a hypothetical situation. You will need to use whatever form your language uses to mark something as potentially true. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

if you circumcised (ULT) and circumcises (UST)

Here you is singular. It refers to a specific man and his slave. It might make more sense to use the third person here. Alternate translation: "if he circumcised" (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

ULT

⁴⁴ But any slave of a man, a purchase of silver, if you circumcised him, then he may eat it.

UST

⁴⁴ But if anyone buys a slave and circumcises him, that slave may eat the Passover meal.

Exodus 12:45

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴⁵ An outsider or a hireling shall not eat it.

UST

⁴⁵ Do not let people who are living temporarily among you who are not Israelites or servants to whom you pay money eat the Passover meal.

Exodus 12:46

It shall be eaten in one house (ULT)
You must eat the Passover meal inside one house (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "You must eat it in one house" (See: Active or Passive)

You shall not bring (ULT)
Do not take (UST)

Here, you is singular, however it is used to address a crowd, so you may need to translate it using a plural form if your language uses one. (See: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups)

ULT

⁴⁶ It shall be eaten in one house. You shall not bring from the house from the flesh to the outside, and you shall not break its bone.

UST

⁴⁶ You must eat the Passover meal inside one house. Do not take any of the meat outside the house. Do not break the lamb's bones.

Exodus 12:47

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴⁷ All the congregation of Israel shall do it.

UST

⁴⁷ The whole Israelite community must celebrate this festival.

Exodus 12:48

And if a sojourner is sojourning with you, and keeps the Passover to Yahweh (ULT)
When someone from another country comes to live with you and wants to celebrate Yahweh's Passover festival (UST)

This is a two-part hypothetical situation. It describes the circumstance and desire of the sojourner; the next portion says what he must do. You will need to use whatever form your language uses to mark something as potentially true. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

with you (ULT)
with you (UST)

Here, you is singular, however it is used to address a crowd, so you may need to translate it using a plural form if your language uses one. (See: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups)

all his males shall be circumcised (ULT) circumcise all the males in his household (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "someone must circumcise all males in his household" (See: Active or Passive) all his males shall be circumcised. And then he may draw near to keep it (ULT) circumcise all the males in his household. Then he can eat the Passover meal (UST)

The sojourner will be circumcised in order to draw near to keep the Passover. Some languages may need to place the purpose clause first. Alternate translation: "in order draw near to keep it all his males must be circumcised" (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

like a native of the land (ULT) and you should treat that man as though he had been born an Israelite (UST)

Here, land refers to Canaan—which is the land that the Israelites will soon live in. The expression a native of the land means a person who is a native Israelite. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "those who are Israelites by birth" (See: Metonymy)

And any uncircumcised person shall not eat it (ULT)
But do not allow men who are not circumcised to eat the Passover meal (UST)

This can be stated in positive terms. Alternate translation: "And only a circumcised person may eat it" (See: Double Negatives)

ULT

48 And if a sojourner is sojourning with you, and keeps the Passover to Yahweh, all his males shall be circumcised. And then he may draw near to keep it, and he will become like a native of the land. And any uncircumcised person shall not eat it.

UST

48 When someone from another country comes to live with you and wants to celebrate Yahweh's Passover festival, circumcise all the males in his household. Then he can eat the Passover meal, and you should treat that man as though he had been born an Israelite. But do not allow men who are not circumcised to eat the Passover meal.

Exodus 12:49

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴⁹ One law shall be for the native and for the sojourner sojourning among you.”

UST

⁴⁹ These rules apply to people who were born as Israelites and to foreigners who come and live among you.”

Exodus 12:50

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁵⁰ And all of the sons of Israel did—just as Yahweh commanded Moses and Aaron—so they did.

UST

⁵⁰ All the Israelites obeyed Moses and Aaron and did what Yahweh had commanded.

Exodus 12:51

And so it was, in that very day (ULT)

On that very day (UST)

This phrase is used here to mark an important event in the story. If your language has a way for doing this, you could consider using it here.

their hosts (ULT)

all the...tribes (UST)

The term hosts refers to a large group of people often organized into groups for war. See how you translated this in Exodus 6:26. Alternate translation: “your groups” or “your divisions” (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁵¹ And so it was, in that very day, Yahweh brought the sons of Israel out from the land of Egypt by their hosts.

UST

⁵¹ On that very day, Yahweh brought all the Israelite tribes out of Egypt.

Instruction v. 1-2: First mention of setting apart the firstborn v. 3-10: Reiteration of the Passover instructions from 12:14-20 and 24-27, with a focus on telling to Yahweh's deeds to the future generations of Israelites v.

11-13: More details on setting apart the firstborn v. 14-16: Reiteration of purpose: telling to future generations

Narrative v. 17-22: Some details of the exodus

Special concepts in this chapter

- There are several concepts that will be important to understand and translate with care (some have already been encountered in Exodus). They are: set apart, sign, symbol, redemption, and sacrifice.

Other possible translation difficulties in this chapter

- There are a number of names of people groups and places in this chapter. However, many have been translated in earlier passages.
- Transporting the bones of Joseph may be an unknown concept in some places.
- It may take some time to decide on a good translation for the pillars of fire and cloud that lead the Israelites.

Exodus 13:1

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹ Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 13:2

Set apart to me all the firstborn, openers of every womb among the sons of Israel, among man and among beast; he is mine (ULT) Consecrate all the firstborn {males} in order that they may belong to me. The firstborn {males} of {the Israelite} people and of {their} animals will be mine (UST)

This entire verse is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

² "Set apart to me all the firstborn, openers of every womb among the sons of Israel, among man and among beast; he is mine."

UST

² "Consecrate all the firstborn {males} in order that they may belong to me. The firstborn {males} of {the Israelite} people and of {their} animals will be mine."

Exodus 13:3

to the people (ULT)

to the people (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of verse 16. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings) from the house of slavery (ULT)

I freed you from being the Egyptians' slaves (UST)

Moses speaks of Egypt as if it were a house where people keep slaves. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "the place where you were slaves" (See: Metaphor)

by a strong hand (ULT)

powerfully (UST)

Here, hand refers to power. See how you translated "strong hand" in Exodus 6:1. (See: Metonymy)

And no yeast may be eaten (ULT)

Do not eat any bread that has yeast in it {whenever you celebrate this day (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language, as in the UST. (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³ And Moses said to the people, "Remember this day, that you went out from Egypt, from the house of slavery, because by a strong hand Yahweh brought you out from here. And no yeast may be eaten.

UST

³ Moses said to the people, "Always remember today! This is the day that you left Egypt. This is the day I freed you from being the Egyptians' slaves. Yahweh has powerfully brought you out of Egypt. Do not eat any bread that has yeast in it {whenever you celebrate this day}.

Exodus 13:4

Aviv (ULT) which is the first day of the month of Aviv (UST)

This is the name of the first month of the Hebrew calendar. Aviv is during the last part of March and the first part of April on Western calendars. (See: Hebrew Months)

ULT

⁴ Today you are going out, in the month of Aviv.

UST

⁴ You are leaving Egypt on this day, which is the first day of the month of Aviv.

Exodus 13:5

And it will be that Yahweh will bring you to the land of...and you shall serve this service in this month (ULT)

Later, when Yahweh brings you into the land where the descendants...now live...the land... you must celebrate this festival in this month every year (UST)

When the Israelites live in Canaan, they must celebrate the Passover on this day each year. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 12:25.

to your fathers (ULT)
your ancestors (UST)

Here, fathers figuratively means “ancestors.” Alternate translation: “to your ancestors” (See: Metonymy)

a land flowing with milk and honey (ULT)
a land that will be very good for raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

The same description occurs in Exodus 3:8. See how you translated it there and in the several notes for it.

ULT

⁵ And it will be that Yahweh will bring you to the land of the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Amorite and the Hivite and the Jebusite, which he swore to your fathers to give to you, a land flowing with milk and honey—and you shall serve this service in this month.

UST

⁵ Later, when Yahweh brings you into the land where the descendants of Canaan, Heth, Amor, Hiv, and Jebus now live, the land that he promised your ancestors that he would give to you, a land that will be very good for raising livestock and growing crops, you must celebrate this festival in this month every year.

Exodus 13:6

Seven (ULT) For seven (UST)

Alternate translation: "7" (See: Numbers)

the seventh (ULT) the seventh (UST)

Alternate translation: "7th" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

⁶ Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day {there shall be} a festival to Yahweh.

UST

⁶ For seven days the bread you eat must not have any yeast in it. On the seventh day, you must have a celebration to honor Yahweh.

Exodus 13:7Unleavened bread shall be eaten (ULT)
Do not eat bread that has yeast in it (UST)

seven (ULT)
for seven (UST)

Alternate translation: "7" (See: Numbers)

and leavened bread may not be seen among
you (ULT)
You should not have any yeast (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "you may not have any bread with yeast among you" (See: Active or Passive)

And yeast may not be seen among you (ULT)
You...should...have...or bread made with yeast (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "You may not have any yeast" (See: Active or Passive)

within any of your borders (ULT) anywhere in your land (UST)

Alternate translation: "inside any of the borders of your land"

ULT

⁷ Unleavened bread shall be eaten throughout the seven days, and leavened bread may not be seen among you. And yeast may not be seen among you within any of your borders.

UST

⁷ Do not eat bread that has yeast in it for seven days. You should not have any yeast or bread made with yeast anywhere in your land.

Exodus 13:8

on that day, saying, 'This is because of what Yahweh did for me when I came out from Egypt (ULT)

On the day that you celebrate the festival... you must tell...We are doing this to remember what Yahweh did for us when we left Egypt (UST)

The quotation can be stated as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: "on that day that this is because of what Yahweh did for you when you came out of Egypt" (See: Quotes within Quotes)

ULT

⁸ And you shall tell your son on that day, saying, 'This is because of what Yahweh did for me when I came out from Egypt.'

UST

⁸ On the day that you celebrate the festival, you must tell your children, 'We are doing this to remember what Yahweh did for us when we left Egypt.'

Exodus 13:9

And it shall be a sign for you on your hand and a memorial between your eyes (ULT)

The celebration will be like something you tie on your forehead or on your wrist. It will remind you (UST)

These are two different types of physical reminders so people will not forget something important. (See: Parallelism)

a sign for you on your hand (ULT) or on your wrist...will remind you (UST)

Moses speaks of celebrating the festival as if it were an object one could tie around their hands to remind them of what Yahweh had done. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "like something you tie around your hand as a reminder" (See: Metaphor) and a memorial between your eyes (ULT) something you tie on your forehead...will remind (UST)

Moses speaks of celebrating the festival as if it were an object one could tie on their foreheads to remind them of what Yahweh had done. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and like something you tie around your head as a reminder" (See: Metaphor)

so that the law of Yahweh may be in your mouth (ULT) will remind...to recite to others what Yahweh has instructed you (UST)

Here, in your mouth refers to the words that they speak. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "so you may always be speaking of the law of Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

with a strong hand (ULT)
powerfully (UST)

Here, hand refers to power. See how you translated "strong hand" in Exodus 6:1. (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁹ And it shall be a sign for you on your hand and a memorial between your eyes, so that the law of Yahweh may be in your mouth, for with a strong hand Yahweh brought you out from Egypt.

UST

⁹ The celebration will be like something you tie on your forehead or on your wrist. It will remind you to recite to others what Yahweh has instructed you, because you are grateful to him for powerfully bringing you out of Egypt.

Exodus 13:10

from days to days (ULT)
every year, forever (UST)

Alternate translation: "for all time" (See: Merism)

ULT

¹⁰ And you shall keep this statute at its appointed time from days to days.

UST

¹⁰ So you must celebrate this festival every year, forever, at the time Yahweh has appointed.

Exodus 13:11

and to your fathers (ULT) and your ancestors (UST)

Here, fathers figuratively means “ancestors.” Alternate translation: “to your ancestors” (See: Metonymy) and he gives it to you (ULT) he gives...to you (UST)

Alternate translation: “when he gives the land of the Canaanites to you”

ULT

¹¹ And it will be, when Yahweh brings you into the land of the Canaanites, as he swore to you and to your fathers, and he gives it to you,

UST

¹¹ Yahweh will bring you into the land where the descendants of Canaan live, as he promised to you and your ancestors that he would do. When he gives that land to you,

Exodus 13:12

then cause to pass over (ULT) you must give (UST)

This is a deliberate word-play with Exodus 12:12 and Exodus 12:23 because these memorial sacrifices are to be reminders of what happened at the first Passover. It would be good to make a similar word-play in your translation, if possible, but following the meaning as in the UST is fine.

ULT

¹² then cause to pass over to Yahweh all the openers of the womb, and all the openers of the litter of beasts that are yours. The males are for Yahweh.

UST

¹² you must give all the firstborn males of both people and animals to Yahweh. These all will belong to Yahweh.

Exodus 13:13

with a lamb...then you shall break his neck (ULT)

by killing a lamb instead of it...you must kill the donkey by breaking its neck (UST)

You may need to make explicit that either the lamb or donkey must be killed, as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

you do not ransom it (ULT)

you do not buy it back (UST)

Alternate translation: "you do not ransom the donkey"

ULT

¹³ And every opener of a donkey you shall ransom with a lamb. And if you do not ransom it, then you shall break his neck. And all the firstborn of men among your sons, you shall ransom.

UST

¹³ In the case of a firstborn donkey, you must buy it back by killing a lamb instead of it. If you do not buy it back, you must kill the donkey by breaking its neck. You must buy back every one of your firstborn sons.

Exodus 13:14

when your son asks you later, saying, 'What is this?' then you shall say to him (ULT)

In the future, when one of your children... asks...What does this mean?' you must say to him (UST)

The first quotation can be stated as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: "when your son asks you later what this means, then you are to tell him" (See: Quotes within Quotes)

With a strong hand (ULT)
powerfully (UST)

Here, hand represents God's actions or works. See how you translated this in Exodus 6:1. Alternate translation: "With his powerful works" (See: Metonymy) from the house of slaves (ULT) from being slaves there (UST)

Moses speaks of Egypt as if it were a house where people keep slaves. See how you translated this in Exodus 13:3. Alternate translation: "from the place where you were slaves" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁴ And so it will be, when your son asks you later, saying, 'What is this?' then you shall say to him, 'With a strong hand Yahweh brought us out from Egypt, from the house of slaves.'

UST

¹⁴ In the future, when one of your children asks, 'What does this mean?' you must say to him, 'Yahweh powerfully brought us out of Egypt and freed us from being slaves there.'

Exodus 13:15

that when Pharaoh was hard to let us go (ULT)
What happened was...The king of Egypt did not let us leave his land (UST)

If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. This means he was stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if he were hard. Alternate translation: “that when Pharaoh resisted letting us go” (See: Metaphor)

from the firstborn of man and to the firstborn of beast (ULT)
both the boys and the firstborn of their livestock (UST)

This is a figure of speech used to emphasize the extent of the plague. Alternate translation: “whether he was a person or an animal” (See: Merism)

ULT

¹⁵ And so it was, that when Pharaoh was hard to let us go, then Yahweh struck all of the firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of man and to the firstborn of beast. That is why I sacrifice to Yahweh all the openers of the womb—the males—and I ransom all of the firstborn of my sons.’

UST

¹⁵ What happened was: The king of Egypt did not let us leave his land, so Yahweh killed all the firstborn males in Egypt, both the boys and the firstborn of their livestock. That is why we now sacrifice to Yahweh all the firstborn of our livestock, but we buy back our own firstborn sons.’

Exodus 13:16

And it shall be a sign on your hand and a headband between your eyes (ULT)
This celebration will be like something you tie on your wrist or on your forehead to remind you (UST)

This expresses two ways to remember the importance of the Passover event. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 13:9. (See: Parallelism)

with a strong hand (ULT)
powerfully (UST)

Here, hand represents God's actions or works. See how you translated this in Exodus 6:1. Alternate translation: "with his powerful works" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

16 And it shall be a sign on your hand and a headband between your eyes, for with a strong hand Yahweh brought us out from Egypt."

UST

16 This celebration will be like something you tie on your wrist or on your forehead to remind you that Yahweh powerfully brought you out of Egypt."

Exodus 13:17

Verses 17-19 provide background information about the Israelites process of leaving Egypt. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. (See: Background Information)

And so it was (ULT)

When...let...go (UST)

This marks the transition from instruction to narrative. You should mark the resumption of the narrative in a natural way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event) that God did not lead them by way of the land of the Philistines, although it was nearby (ULT)

God did not guide them along the road toward the Philistines' land. Even though it was shorter (UST)

The route on which God took the Israelites was not the expected route. In some languages you may need to put the portion that describes the expectation first. Alternate translation: "although it was nearby, God did not lead them by way of the land of the Philistines." (See: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions)

Lest the people repent when they see war and return to Egypt (ULT)
If...enemies attack them, they...may...change their minds and go back to Egypt (UST)

In some languages you may need to put the reason before the hypothetical result. Alternate translation: "When they see war, they may repent and return to Egypt" (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions) repent (ULT)

change their minds (UST)

Alternate translation: "turn back"

ULT

17 And so it was, when Pharaoh let the people go, that God did not lead them by way of the land of the Philistines, although it was nearby. For God said, "Lest the people repent when they see war and return to Egypt."

UST

17 When the king of Egypt let the Israelites go, God did not guide them along the road toward the Philistines' land. Even though it was shorter, God thought, "If enemies attack them, they may change their minds and go back to Egypt."

Exodus 13:18

And...by fives (ULT) in an orderly formation (UST)

The meaning of this term (by fives) is uncertain. Many English translations opt for something like “prepared for battle,” because this seems to be the meaning in Numbers 32:17 and the related verses in Joshua 1:14 and 4:12. Because of what the previous verse said about war, it may mean that they went out in formation—like an army would march—but perhaps not armed. Alternate translation: “And ... in formation like an army”

ULT

18 And God caused the people to turn to the way of the wilderness, to the sea of reeds. And the sons of Israel went up from the land of Egypt by fives.

UST

18 Instead, God led them to go around through the wilderness toward the Red Sea. The Israelites left Egypt in an orderly formation.

Exodus 13:19

And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him (ULT)

Moses had them take the bones of Joseph along with them (UST)

See Joshua 24:32 regarding the burial of Joseph's bones.

the bones of...God will certainly attend to you, and you shall bring...my bones...up with you from here (ULT)

the bones of...God will always care for you. {When he brings you to the promised land,} you must carry...my bones...with you (UST)

This is an almost exact quote of what Joseph said in Genesis 50:25; reference your translation there when translating this.

ULT

¹⁹ And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, for he had certainly caused the sons of Israel to vow, saying, "God will certainly attend to you, and you shall bring my bones up with you from here."

UST

¹⁹ Moses had them take the bones of Joseph along with them, because Joseph long ago had made the Israelites promise that they would do that. He had said to them, "God will always care for you. {When he brings you to the promised land,} you must carry my bones with you."

Exodus 13:20

from Succoth, and they camped at Etham (ULT) from Succoth to Etham...They set up their tents there (UST)

Alternate translation: "from a place named Succoth, and they camped at a place named Etham"

at Etham (ULT)

to Etham (UST)

Etham was possibly located south of the route heading toward the Philistines, at the border of the wilderness. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

²⁰ And they journeyed from Succoth, and they camped at Etham on the edge of the wilderness.

UST

²⁰ The Israelites went from Succoth to Etham (which was at the edge of the wilderness). They set up their tents there.

Exodus 13:21

And Yahweh went before their faces (ULT)
When they walked...Yahweh went in front of them...he went in front of them (UST)

Here, before their faces means “in front of the people.” Alternate translation: “And Yahweh led them by going in front of them” (See: Metonymy)

in a pillar of cloud...in a pillar of fire (ULT) in a tall cloud...in a tall flame (UST)

The possessive here indicates characteristic. The cloud and fire looked like a pillar. Alternate translation: “in a cloud that looked like a pillar ... in a fire that looked like a pillar” or “in a pillar-shaped cloud ... in a pillar-shaped fire”

to be light to them (ULT)
so they had light (UST)

Alternate translation: “to be light for them”

fire to be light to them, to go by day or by night (ULT) flame so they had light and could travel in the daytime and also at nighttime
(UST)

They could travel either by day or night because God provided light at night. You could reorder the cause and effect if that is more natural in your language. Alternate translation: “fire. They could go by day or by night because he was light to them.” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)\n\n\n

ULT

²¹ And Yahweh went before their faces by day in a pillar of cloud to lead them on the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to be light to them, to go by day or by night.

UST

²¹ When they walked during the daytime, Yahweh went in front of them in a tall cloud to show them the way. During the night, he went in front of them in a tall flame so they had light and could travel in the daytime and also at nighttime.

Exodus 13:22

the daytime pillar of cloud or the nighttime pillar of fire (ULT) in the tall cloud during the day and in the tall flame during the night (UST)

See how you translated this in 13:21.

from the face of the people (ULT)
Yahweh...left them. He was there (UST)

Here, from the face of the people means “from in front of the people” where they could see it. Alternate translation: “from where they could see it” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²² He did not withdraw the daytime pillar of cloud or the nighttime pillar of fire from the face of the people.

UST

²² Yahweh never left them. He was there in the tall cloud during the day and in the tall flame during the night.

Exodus 14

Exodus 14 General Notes

Structure and Formatting

This chapter contains an important event in the history of Israel known as the “parting of the sea of reeds (Red Sea).” Throughout this chapter and chapter 15, the word “sea” is used. The context shows that this is the sea of reeds (Red Sea). Since the text does not explicitly say that though, the ULT will only say “sea.” In your translation, it may help people to be more specific than the text, if just using “sea” is confusing.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Pharaoh’s hard heart

Pharaoh’s heart is often described as hard in this chapter. This means that his heart was not open or willing to understand Yahweh’s instructions. When his heart was hardened, it became less and less receptive to Yahweh.

Pharaoh’s chariots

These chariots were a fighting force. Pharaoh took an army to kill the Hebrew people. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

Important Figures of Speech in this Chapter

Rhetorical Questions

The Israelites asked a few rhetorical questions of Moses. These questions were not really directed at Moses, but at Yahweh. This showed their lack of faith in Yahweh. (See: Rhetorical Question and faith)

Exodus 14:1

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 14:2

Say (ULT)

Tell (UST)

This verse begins a direct quote which continues into verse 4. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Pi Hahiroth...Migdol...Baal Zephon (ULT)

Pi Hahiroth...it. That place...Migdol...Baal Zephon (UST)

These are locations on Egypt's eastern border. (See: How to Translate Names)

the sons of Israel that they should turn and camp before the face of Pi Hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea, before the face of Baal Zephon (ULT) the Israelites to turn toward Pi Hahiroth and camp near it. That place is between Migdol and the {Red} Sea, near Baal Zephon (UST)

The portion after that could be translated as a direct quotation. That would make a second-level direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: "the sons of Israel, 'Turn and camp before the face of Pi Hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea, before the face of Baal Zephon.'" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

You are to camp (ULT)

Set up your tents (UST)

Here, you is plural and refers to Moses and the Israelites. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

² "Say to the sons of Israel that they should turn and camp before the face of Pi Hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea, before the face of Baal Zephon. You are to camp by the sea opposite it.

UST

² "Tell the Israelites to turn toward Pi Hahiroth and camp near it. That place is between Migdol and the {Red} Sea, near Baal Zephon. Set up your tents there, close to the sea.

Exodus 14:3

And Pharaoh will say about the sons of Israel, 'They are confused in the land. The wilderness has closed in on them (ULT)

When the king knows you have done that, he will think, 'The Israelites are lost. They are wandering around, and the desert blocks their path (UST)

This can be stated as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: "Pharaoh will say that the Israelites are confused in the land, and the wilderness has closed in on them" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

The wilderness has closed in on them (ULT) and the desert blocks their path (UST)

Pharaoh speaks of the wilderness as a person who has trapped the Israelites. If this might be confusing for your readers, you could express this meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "It is as if the wilderness is closing in on them." (See: Personification)

ULT

³ And Pharaoh will say about the sons of Israel, 'They are confused in the land. The wilderness has closed in on them.'

UST

³ When the king knows you have done that, he will think, 'The Israelites are lost. They are wandering around, and the desert blocks their path.'

Exodus 14:4

And I will strengthen the heart of Pharaoh (ULT)

I will make the king stubborn again (UST)

This means God will make him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were strong. If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21. Alternate translation: "But I will cause Pharaoh to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor) and he will pursue after them (ULT) and he will chase you {with his army} (UST)

Alternate translation: "and Pharaoh will pursue the Israelites"

And I will be glorified (ULT)

Then people will revere me (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "And people will glorify me" (See: Active or Passive)

And I will be glorified because of Pharaoh and because of all his army (ULT)

Then people will revere me more than the king and his army (UST)

Yahweh is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be clearer in your language, you could supply these words from the context. Alternate translation: "And I will be glorified because of what I do to Pharaoh and to all his army" (See: Ellipsis)

And they did so (ULT)

So Moses told the Israelites that,} and they did what he told them to do (UST)

This can be made explicit. Alternate translation: "So the Israelites turned and camped as Yahweh had instructed them" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁴ And I will strengthen the heart of Pharaoh, and he will pursue after them. And I will be glorified because of Pharaoh and because of all his army. And the Egyptians will know that I am Yahweh." And they did so.

UST

⁴ I will make the king stubborn again and he will chase you {with his army}. Then people will revere me more than the king and his army, and the Egyptians will know that I am Yahweh." {So Moses told the Israelites that,} and they did what he told them to do.

Exodus 14:5

And the king of Egypt was told (ULT)
When someone told the king of Egypt (UST)

fled (ULT)
had escaped (UST)

Alternate translation: "had run away"

and the heart of Pharaoh and his servants was turned to the people (ULT)
he and his officials changed how they were thinking about them (UST)

Here, heart refers to their attitudes toward the Israelites. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "and Pharaoh and his servants changed their attitude about the people" (See: Metonymy) and the heart of Pharaoh and his servants was turned to the people (ULT)

he and his officials changed how they were thinking about them (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "and Pharaoh and his servants turned their hearts to the people" (See: Active or Passive)

to the people (ULT)
about them (UST)

Alternate translation: "against the Israelites"

What is this we did that we released Israel from our slavery (ULT)
What have we done? The Israelites will no longer be our slaves because we let them go (UST)

They asked this question to show they thought they had done a foolish thing. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "We should not have let the Israelites go free from working for us!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

⁵ And the king of Egypt was told that the people fled, and the heart of Pharaoh and his servants was turned to the people. And they said, "What is this we did that we released Israel from our slavery?"

UST

⁵ When someone told the king of Egypt that the Israelites had escaped, he and his officials changed how they were thinking about them and said, "What have we done? The Israelites will no longer be our slaves because we let them go!"

What is this we did that we released Israel from our slavery (ULT)
What have we done? The Israelites will no longer be our slaves because we let them go (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Israel (ULT)
The Israelites...them (UST)

This is a collective singular noun. If your language would not refer to a group of people in this way, you may need to translate it as plural. Alternate translation: "the Israelites" (See: Collective Nouns)

Exodus 14:6

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁶ And he hitched his chariot and took his people with him.

UST

⁶ So the king had {someone} fasten his horses to his chariot and he rode out with his army.

Exodus 14:7600 (ULT)*600 (UST)

Alternate translation: "six hundred" (See: Numbers) and third men (ULT)a driver, a soldier, and} a commander (UST)

The precise meaning of this term is not known. Alternate translations: "and officers" or "and shield-bearers" or "and three men"

ULT

⁷ And he took 600 chosen chariots, and all of the chariots of Egypt, and third men were on all of them.

UST

⁷ {When he left} he took all Egypt's chariots, including the best 600 chariots. In each chariot {he placed a driver, a soldier, and} a commander.

Exodus 14:8

And Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh (ULT)

Yahweh made the king of Egypt stubborn... and his army (UST)

This means God made him stubborn. His stubborn attitude is spoken of as if his heart were "strong." If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21. Alternate translation: "And Yahweh caused Pharaoh to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor)

with a high hand (ULT) confidently (UST)

Alternate translation: "boldly" or "defiantly"

ULT

⁸ And Yahweh strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and he pursued after the sons of Israel, and the sons of Israel were going out with a high hand.

UST

⁸ Yahweh made the king of Egypt stubborn, so he {and his army} chased the Israelites. The Israelites marched out confidently.

Exodus 14:9

all of the horses of the chariots of Pharaoh and his horsemen and his army (ULT)
The Egyptian army...with all the king's horses and chariots and horsemen (UST)

It is unclear exactly what the groupings are here. Horses of the chariots (probably meaning "horse-drawn chariots") and horsemen could be two groups or two references to the same group. Army could mean another group, perhaps on foot (see 15:19), or it could be a summary grouping. Furthermore, most translations render horses of the chariots as "horses and chariots," suggesting four total groups (possibly because of v. 23). Alternate translation: "all the horse-drawn chariots of Pharaoh and his horsemen and his foot soldiers" them (ULT)

with them (UST)

Alternate translation: "the Israelites" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

Pi Hahiroth...Baal Zephon (ULT)
Pi Hahiroth...Baal Zephon (UST)

These are places on Egypt's eastern border. See how you translated them in Exodus 14:2. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

⁹ And the Egyptians pursued after them. And all of the horses of the chariots of Pharaoh and his horsemen and his army overtook them camping above the sea, above Pi Hahiroth before the face of Baal Zephon.

UST

⁹ The Egyptian army, with all the king's horses and chariots and horsemen, chased after the Israelites. They caught up with them as they were camped near the sea, close to Pi Hahiroth, in front of Baal Zephon.

Exodus 14:10And Pharaoh approached (ULT)*When the king's army got near (UST)

Here, Pharaoh represents the entire Egyptian army. Alternate translation: "Then Pharaoh and his army approached" (See: Synecdoche) and the sons of Israel lifted their eyes (ULT)

the Israelite people...to see (UST)

Alternate translation: "and the sons of Israel looked up" or "and the sons of Israel looked back"

and behold (ULT)
were surprised (UST)

Here, behold is used to draw attention to alarming information that follows. Use a word, phrase, or structure in your language that indicates that the next information is very alarming.

ULT

¹⁰ And Pharaoh approached, and the sons of Israel lifted their eyes, and behold, the Egyptians started after them, and they were extremely afraid. And the sons of Israel cried to Yahweh.

UST

¹⁰ When the king's army got near, the Israelite people were surprised to see that the Egyptians were marching toward them. They were terrified, so they cried out to Yahweh to help them.

Exodus 14:11

Is it because there were not any graves in Egypt that you have taken us away to die in the wilderness (ULT)

by bringing us out...Egypt. {Pharaoh's army is going to} kill us here in the wilderness. {If we had stayed in...someone would have buried us in graves (UST)}

The Israelites ask this question to express their frustration and fear of dying. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way.

Alternate translation: "There were plenty of graveyards in Egypt for us to be buried in. You did not have to take us into the wilderness to die!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

What is this you have done to us, to bring us out from Egypt (ULT)

You have not helped us...by bringing us out...of...Egypt (UST)

The Israelites ask this question to rebuke Moses for bringing them to the desert to die. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "You should not have endangered us like this by bringing us out of Egypt!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

¹¹ And they said to Moses, "Is it because there were not any graves in Egypt that you have taken us away to die in the wilderness? What is this you have done to us, to bring us out from Egypt?"

UST

¹¹ Then they said to Moses, "You have not helped us by bringing us out of Egypt. {Pharaoh's army is going to} kill us here in the wilderness. {If we had stayed in Egypt,} someone would have buried us in graves."

Exodus 14:12

Is this not the word that we spoke to you in Egypt (ULT)

That is what we told you when we were in Egypt (UST)

The Israelites ask this question to emphasize that this is what they had told Moses. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "This is exactly what we told you while we were in Egypt" (See: Rhetorical Question) in Egypt, saying, 'Cease from us and let us serve the Egyptians (ULT) we were in Egypt. We said, 'Leave us alone, and let us work for the Egyptians (UST)

The portion following saying can be stated as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: "in Egypt? We told you to leave us alone so we could serve the Egyptians." (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

ULT

¹² Is this not the word that we spoke to you in Egypt, saying, 'Cease from us and let us serve the Egyptians'? Because serving the Egyptians is better to us than dying in the wilderness."

UST

¹² That is what we told you when we were in Egypt. We said, 'Leave us alone, and let us work for the Egyptians.' It would have been better for us to be slaves for the Egyptians than to die here in the desert!"

Exodus 14:13

and see the salvation of Yahweh, that he will do for you today (ULT) and see how Yahweh will rescue you. He will save you today (UST)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun salvation with a verb. Alternate translation: “and see what Yahweh will do for you today, he will save you” (See: Abstract Nouns)

to the people (ULT)
to the people (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of verse 14. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

you will not repeat seeing again until eternity (ULT) will never see...you...again (UST)

This statement is very extended for emphasis on its certainty. Alternate translation: “you will not see them again forever”

ULT

¹³ And Moses said to the people, “You must not fear! Stand still and see the salvation of Yahweh, that he will do for you today. For the Egyptians whom you see today you will not repeat seeing again until eternity.”

UST

¹³ Moses said to the people, “Do not be afraid! Stand strong and see how Yahweh will rescue you. He will save you today, and you will never see the Egyptians that you are looking at today again.”

Exodus 14:14

Yahweh himself will fight (ULT)

Yahweh will fight (UST)

The form Yahweh himself is reflexive, emphasizing what Yahweh will do in contrast to what the Israelites will do. Alternate translation: "As for Yahweh, he will fight" (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

you will be silent (ULT)

Just stay calm. There is nothing else that you will have to do (UST)

Here, silent could mean "still." The Israelites' lack of action is in contrast to Yahweh's fighting. It is not a total lack of motion or sound. Alternate translation: "you will not fight"

ULT

14 Yahweh himself will fight for you. As for you, you will be silent."

UST

14 Yahweh will fight for you! Just stay calm. There is nothing else that you will have to do."

Exodus 14:15

to Moses (ULT)

to Moses (UST)

After this phrase, a direct quote begins that continues until the end of verse 18. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Why are you crying out to me (ULT)

Instead of asking me to help you (UST)

Moses apparently had been praying to God for help, so God uses this question to compel Moses to act. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Do not call out to me any longer, Moses." (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

¹⁵ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Why are you crying out to me? Speak to the sons of Israel and let them start moving."

UST

¹⁵ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Instead of asking me to help you, tell the people to pack their tents and prepare to march."

Exodus 14:16

raise your staff and reach out your hand (ULT) lift up your staff and stretch out the hand holding it (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding hand and staff.

and split it (ULT)
to cause it to divide (UST)

Alternate translation: "and divide the sea into two parts"

ULT

¹⁶ As for you, raise your staff and reach out your hand over the sea and split it. And the sons of Israel will enter into the midst of the sea on dry ground.

UST

¹⁶ You must lift up your staff and stretch out the hand holding it over the sea to cause it to divide. Then the Israelites will go in the middle of the sea, walking on dry ground.

Exodus 14:17And behold me (ULT)*Watch me (UST)

Here, behold me is an expression meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. In this case, Yahweh is drawing attention to his next actions. Alternate translation: "Look at what I will do"

I will strengthen the heart of the Egyptians (ULT)I will make the Egyptians stubborn (UST)

This means that God will make them stubborn. Their stubborn attitude is spoken of as if their hearts were "strong." If the heart is not the body part your culture uses to refer to a person's will, consider using whichever organ your culture would use for this image. See how you translated this in 4:21. Alternate translation: "I will cause the Egyptians to be stubborn" (See: Metaphor) and they will enter after them (ULT)so that they will chase the Israelites (UST)

Alternate translation: "so that the Egyptians will go into the sea after the Israelites"

And I will be glorified because of Pharaoh and because of all his army, because of his chariots and because of his horsemen (ULT)Then, because of what I will do to the king, his army, his chariots, and his horsemen, people will revere me (UST)

Yahweh is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be clearer in your language, you could supply these words from the context. See how you translated a similar phrase in verse 4 Alternate translation: "And I will be glorified because of what I do to Pharaoh, all his army, his chariots, and his horsemen" (See: Ellipsis)

And I will be glorified (ULT)Then, because of what I will do...people will revere me (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "And people will glorify me" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹⁷ And behold me! I will strengthen the heart of the Egyptians, and they will enter after them. And I will be glorified because of Pharaoh and because of all his army, because of his chariots and because of his horsemen.

UST

¹⁷ Watch me! I will make the Egyptians stubborn so that they will chase the Israelites. Then, because of what I will do to the king, his army, his chariots, and his horsemen, people will revere me.

Exodus 14:18when I am glorified (ULT)*When I have won a glorious victory (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “when I cause people to glorify me” (See: Active or Passive) when I am glorified because of Pharaoh, because of his chariots and because of his horsemen (ULT)When I have won a glorious victory over the king, his chariots, and his horsemen (UST)

Yahweh is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be clearer in your language, you could supply these words from the context. See how you translated a similar phrase in verse 4 Alternate translation: “when I get glory because of what I do to Pharaoh, his chariots, and his horsemen” or “when I show my glory by what I do to Pharaoh, his chariots, and his horsemen” (See: Ellipsis)

ULT

18 And the Egyptians will know that I am Yahweh when I am glorified because of Pharaoh, because of his chariots and because of his horsemen.”

UST

18 When I have won a glorious victory over the king, his chariots, and his horsemen, the {other} Egyptians will know that I am Yahweh, {the God who can do anything}.”

Exodus 14:19

before the face of the camp of...from before their face (ULT) who had been in front of...that had been in front of them (UST)

Here, face means “front.” Alternate translation: “in front of the camp of ... from in front of them” (See: Metonymy)

the pillar of cloud (ULT)

The tall, bright cloud (UST)

See how you translated this in 13:21.

Israel (ULT)

the Israelites (UST)

This is a collective singular noun. If your language would not refer to a group of people in this way, you may need to translate it as plural. Alternate translation: “the Israelites” (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

¹⁹ And the angel of God moved, who traveled before the face of the camp of Israel and went behind them. And the pillar of cloud moved from before their face and stood behind them.

UST

¹⁹ Then the angel of God, who had been in front of the Israelites, moved and went behind them. The tall, bright cloud that had been in front of them also moved to be behind them.

Exodus 14:20

Israel (ULT) the Israelites (UST)

This is a collective singular noun. If your language would not refer to a group of people in this way, you may need to translate it as plural.
Alternate translation: “the Israelites” (See: Collective Nouns)

And it became a cloud, and darkness, and it lit up the night (ULT) The cloud caused...to be in the darkness, but it gave light to the Israelites (UST)

Alternate translation: “And the cloud became dark on one side and light on the other side all night”

ULT

²⁰ And it came between the camp of Egypt and the camp of Israel. And it became a cloud, and darkness, and it lit up the night, and one did not come near to the other all night.

UST

²⁰ The cloud was between the Egyptian army and the Israelites. The cloud caused the Egyptian army to be in the darkness, but it gave light to the Israelites. As a result, neither group could come near the other group during the whole night.

Exodus 14:21

And Moses reached out his hand over the sea (ULT)

Moses stretched out his hand over the sea (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

by a...east wind (ULT)

a...wind from the east (UST)

An east wind originates in the east and blows towards the west.

And the waters were divided (ULT)

and pushed...the water...apart (UST)

ULT

²¹ And Moses reached out his hand over the sea. And Yahweh drove the sea by a strong east wind all night and made the sea into dry land. And the waters were divided.

UST

²¹ Moses stretched out his hand over the sea. Then Yahweh sent a strong wind from the east. It blew all night and pushed the water apart, and it caused the land between the water to dry up.

Exodus 14:22

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²² And the sons of Israel entered the middle of the sea on dry ground. And the waters were a wall for them on their right and on their left.

UST

²² Then the Israelites went on the dry land in the middle of the sea. The water was like a wall on each side of them, on the right side and on the left side.

Exodus 14:23

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²³ And the Egyptians pursued, and entered after them—every horse of Pharaoh, his chariots, and his horsemen—into the middle of the sea.

UST

²³ Then the Egyptian army went after them into the middle of the sea with their horses, chariots, and horsemen.

Exodus 14:24in the watch of the morning (ULT)
Just before dawn (UST)

This is the last third of the night. It is approximately the three hours before sunrise. Alternate translation: “very early in the morning” or “in the time before the sun rises” (See: Translate Unknowns) through the pillar of fire and cloud (ULT) from the fiery cloud (UST)

See how you translated this in 13:21.

the camp of the Egyptians...the camp of...the Egyptians (ULT)
the Egyptian army...the...Egyptian...army (UST)

Alternate translation: “the army of the Egyptians ... the army of the Egyptians”

ULT

²⁴ And so it was, in the watch of the morning, Yahweh looked down on the camp of the Egyptians through the pillar of fire and cloud. And he confused the camp of the Egyptians.

UST

²⁴ Just before dawn, Yahweh looked down from the fiery cloud, and then he caused the Egyptian army to panic.

Exodus 14:25

Let us run from the face of Israel, for Yahweh is fighting for them against Egypt (ULT)
So...said...Yahweh is fighting for the Israelites against us; we must escape from them (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

from the face of Israel (ULT) from them (UST)

Here, the face of Israel means the presence of Israel. See the UST. (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁵ And he caused the wheels of their chariots to turn aside and caused them to drive heavily. And the Egyptians said, "Let us run from the face of Israel, for Yahweh is fighting for them against Egypt."

UST

²⁵ He caused the wheels of the chariots to get stuck in the ground so that they could hardly move. So the Egyptians said, "Yahweh is fighting for the Israelites against us; we must escape from them!"

Exodus 14:26

Reach out your hand over the sea, and the waters will return on the Egyptians, on his chariots, and on his horsemen (ULT)
Stretch out your arm over the sea. Then the water will come back on the Egyptians, on their chariots, and their horsemen (UST)

This is a direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with first-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²⁶ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Reach out your hand over the sea, and the waters will return on the Egyptians, on his chariots, and on his horsemen.”

UST

²⁶ Then Yahweh said to Moses, “Stretch out your arm over the sea. Then the water will come back on the Egyptians, on their chariots, and their horsemen.”

And Yahweh said to Moses, “Reach out your hand over the sea, and the waters will return on the Egyptians, on his chariots, and on his horsemen (ULT)

Then Yahweh said to Moses, “Stretch out your arm over the sea. Then the water will come back on the Egyptians, on their chariots, and their horsemen (UST)

This can be stated as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: “Yahweh told Moses to reach out with his hand over the sea so that the waters would come back onto the Egyptians, their chariots, and their horsemen.” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Reach out your hand over the sea (ULT)
Stretch out your arm over the sea (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

on his chariots, and on his horsemen (ULT) on their chariots, and their horsemen (UST)

Here, his refers to Pharaoh, king of Egypt. Alternate translation: “on Pharaoh’s chariots and on Pharaoh’s horsemen” (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

Exodus 14:27

And Moses reached out his hand over the sea (ULT)

So Moses stretched out his arm above the sea (UST)

See note in the introduction to chapter 8 regarding the hand and staff.

before the face of the morning (ULT)
just before dawn (UST)

Here, before the face of means “before the occurrence of.” If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “before it was morning” (See: Metonymy)

And Yahweh shook off the Egyptians in the middle of the sea (ULT)
but Yahweh hurled them back into the sea (UST)

Here, Yahweh is pictured as acting toward the Egyptians as if they were dirt or dust on his clothing that he shakes to be rid of them. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “and Yahweh threw the Egyptians back into the middle of the sea” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²⁷ And Moses reached out his hand over the sea, and the sea returned before the face of the morning to its normal place, and the Egyptians fled before its impact. And Yahweh shook off the Egyptians in the middle of the sea.

UST

²⁷ So Moses stretched out his arm above the sea, and the water returned to its normal level just before dawn. The Egyptians tried to escape, but Yahweh hurled them back into the sea.

Exodus 14:28

Not even one of them remained (ULT) Every one of the Egyptians died (UST)

This negative statement is meant to strongly convey the idea that all the Egyptians were gone. Alternate translation: "Every one of them was gone" (See: Litotes)

ULT

²⁸ And the waters returned, and they covered the chariots and the horsemen, even the entire army of Pharaoh that entered after them into the sea. Not even one of them remained.

UST

²⁸ The water returned and covered the chariots, the horsemen, and the whole Egyptian army that had tried to follow the Israelites into the sea. Every one of the Egyptians died.

Exodus 14:29

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁹ And the sons of Israel walked on dry land in the middle of the sea. And the waters were a wall for them on their right and on their left.

UST

²⁹ But the Israelites had already crossed through the sea by walking on dry ground. The water was like two walls, one on the right side and one on the left side.

Exodus 14:30

Israel (ULT) the Israelites (UST)

This is a collective singular noun. If your language would not refer to a group of people in this way, you may need to translate it as plural. Alternate translation: “the Israelites” (See: Collective Nouns)

powerfully (UST)

Here, hand refers to power. Alternate translation: “the great power” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³¹ And Israel saw the great hand that Yahweh used against the Egyptians, and the people feared Yahweh, and they believed in Yahweh and in his servant Moses.

UST

³¹ The Israelites saw what Yahweh powerfully did to the Egyptians, and they revered Yahweh. They trusted Yahweh and his servant Moses.

Exodus 15

Exodus 15 General Notes\n\n## Structure and Formatting\n\nVerses 1b-18 and 21b of chapter 15 are poetry. They are a song of praise to Yahweh because he defeated and destroyed the Egyptian army (Exodus 14:26-28). Translating poetry should be done by someone who is a skilled poet in the target language. Because the forms of poetry are so different in different languages, a translation that is good poetry in the target language may seem very different from the original poem. The structure may look quite different. The poet will be well served by looking at the entire poem from multiple perspectives. He will need to know the meaning of the poem, the themes and discourse structure of the poem, and the feelings that the poem is supposed to create in the reader at each point (UST, tNotes). He will need to understand how that was accomplished by the original form and structure (ULT). Then he will need to compose the translated poem using forms and structures that have the same or similar meaning, themes, discourse elements, and feelings in his own language.\n\n### Structure\n\nThis song follows a basic AB structure which is given to us in verse 1b-c and 21b-c:\n\n* A - praise to Yahweh - he is magnificent (expressed in various words)\n* B - because he defeats our enemies\n\nThe song can be divided into three major sections, each of which is patterned as: AB(a)b. Each section starts with an AB portion which is characterized by fewer verbal forms (especially the A portion). The section then elaborates on each. Note that there are other possible analyses of the structure of the poem.\n\nHere is an outline of the structure according to this model:\n\n* Section 1 (see alternate breakdown below):\n* 1b: A "Let me sing to Yahweh, for he has triumphantly triumphed;"\n* 1c: B "the horse and the one riding it he threw into the sea." \n* 2-3: a\n* 4-5: b\n* Section 2:\n* 6a: A\n* 6b: B\n* 7a: a "And in the abundance of your majesty"\n* 7a-10: b "you overthrow those who rise up against you ... "\n* Section 3:\n* 11: A\n* 12: B\n* 13a: a (possibly) "In your covenant loyalty"\n* 13a-17: b\n* 18: finale\n\nAlternate breakdown of section 1: it is possible to view 1b-c as the introduction and divide verse 2 such that:\n\n* 2a: A "Yah is my strength and my song"\n* 2b: B "and he has become my salvation"\n* 2c-3: a\n* 4-5: b\n\n### Themes:\n\nThere are several images and themes that are throughout the song as well as some that are throughout an individual section.\n\n* "High" versus "low": Yahweh is high, while his enemies are low.\n* The following words are all related to the idea of being high or rising up: triumph (v1), exalt (v2), majestic (v6, v11), majesty (v7), and the mountain of \[Yahweh's\] possession (v17). In the last case, Yahweh's people are brought to a high place with him.\n* In contrast, his enemies are low. Note in verse 7, Yahweh overthrows those who rise up against \[him\]. Ideas of being low are as follows: sank (v4, v10), deeps (v5), descended into the depths (v5), melted away (v15), and fall on them (v16).\n* The strength of Yahweh in verses 2, 6, and 13.\n* The effectiveness of Yahweh's hand versus the enemy's hand. Yahweh's hand (and arm) is effective in verses 6, 12, 16, and 17 but the enemy's hand is ineffective despite his boasting in verse 9.\n*

There is parallel imagery near the end of each section. The enemy is compared three times by simile to a heavy, inert object. In verses 5 and 16 that is a stone, in verse 10 that is lead.

More parallel imagery occurs at the end of sections one (v5) and two (v10): that of the enemy sinking in the water and being covered by it.

In sections two and three the water (v8) and the other peoples (v16) are made still by Yahweh.

Section two begins and ends with majestic (v6, v10) and that word is picked up in the beginning of section three (v11).

In section two (v9), the enemies seek to dispossess (or disinherit) the Israelites; in section three (v16), the Israelites come to live in the land of Yahweh's possession (or inheritance).

In verse 11, three themes for the third section are introduced. These are each expanded on in that section.

Holiness occurs again in verses 13 and 16

Fear is vividly described in verses 14-16 (shake, terror, panic, trembling, melted away, dread)

Yahweh does miracles to protect and build a home for his people

Verses 14-16a are a chiasm, a complex parallel structure where concepts are repeated in reverse order:

A: 14a: peoples (nations) become afraid

B: 14b: inhabitants of Philistia are afraid

C: 15a: rulers of Edom are afraid

C': 15b: rulers of Moab are afraid

B': 15c: inhabitants of Canaan are afraid

A': 16a: people become afraid

In section three, there is another parallel structure:

v13: you led this people => v16: your people pass by v13: this people you redeemed => v16: this people you acquired (or purchased or ransomed) v13: you led them to the home => v17: you will bring them ... [to] the place ... you made v13: of your holiness => v17: the holy place

Special Concepts in this Chapter

The Israelite's discontent

In verse 24 the word murmur is introduced for the first time. This is a very strong term for "grumble" or "complain" that is used to describe the Israelites' attitude throughout their time in the wilderness. It occurs several times in Exodus and Numbers.

Yahweh's laws

In verses 24-26, there is an introductory revelation of the requirement that Israel keep the covenant by obeying the law of Moses. (See: law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God and reveal, revealed, revelation)

Exodus 15:1

he has triumphantly triumphed (ULT)
he has won a great victory (UST)

It can be stated explicitly over whom Yahweh triumphed. Alternate translation: "he has achieved a glorious victory over the army of Egypt" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

he has triumphantly triumphed (ULT)
he has won a great victory (UST)

Alternate translation: "he is highly exalted" or "he is extremely high" or "he is exaltedly exalted"

the horse and the one riding it he threw into the sea (ULT)

He has thrown the horses and the charioteers into the sea (UST)

Moses sang about God causing the sea to cover and drown the horse and rider as if God had thrown them into the sea. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "he has made the horse and rider drown in the sea" (See: Metaphor)

the horse and the one riding it (ULT)
the horses and the charioteers (UST)

This refers to many or all of the Egyptian horses and riders that were chasing the Israelites. Alternate translation: "the horses and their riders" (See: Generic Noun Phrases) and the one riding it (ULT) and the charioteers (UST)

Here, rider could either refer to a person who sits on a horse or who travels in a chariot that a horse is pulling.

ULT

¹ Then Moses and the sons of Israel sang this song to Yahweh. And they said, saying, "Let me sing to Yahweh, for he has triumphantly triumphed; the horse and the one riding it he threw into the sea.

UST

¹ Then Moses and all the Israelites sang this song to Yahweh. They each sang, "I will sing to Yahweh because he has won a great victory; He has thrown the horses and the charioteers into the sea!

Exodus 15:2

my strength...Yah is (ULT) makes me strong...Yahweh (UST)

Moses is expressing the help that he gets from Yahweh by equating Yahweh with strength. Use a form or metaphor from your language that would express Yahweh's strengthening help. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "Yah is the one who gives me strength" or "Yah is the strong one who protects me" (See: Metaphor)

Yah is...and my song (ULT) Yahweh...and I will sing about him (UST)

Moses calls Yahweh his song because Yahweh is the one he sings about or because Yahweh causes him to sing. Use a form or metaphor from your language that would express Yahweh being a song of joy. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "Yah is ... the one I sing about" or "Yah ... makes me sing joyfully" (See: Metaphor) and he has become my salvation (ULT) He has saved me (UST)

Moses calls Yahweh his salvation because Yahweh saved him. Use a form or metaphor from your language that would express Yahweh's saving power. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and he has saved me" or "and he is the one who saves me" (See: Metaphor)

This is my God, and I will glorify him, the God of my father, and I will exalt him (ULT) He is my God, and I will celebrate {because of what he did for me}. He was my father's God, and I will tell others how great he is (UST)

These lines are expressing very similar ideas for emphasis. If that is a normal way to make an emphatic (poetic) statement or if it would be understood in your language, you can translate in a similar way. If, however, repetition like this would create a different meaning, find a structure in your language that would fit. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

² Yah is my strength and my song, and he has become my salvation. This is my God, and I will glorify him, the God of my father, and I will exalt him.

UST

² Yahweh makes me strong, and I will sing about him. He has saved me. He is my God, and I will celebrate {because of what he did for me}. He was my father's God, and I will tell others how great he is.

Exodus 15:3

Yahweh is a man of war (ULT)

Yahweh is a warrior (UST)

Moses calls Yahweh a man of war because he powerfully fought against the Egyptians and won. Alternate translation: “Yahweh is like a warrior” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

³ Yahweh is a man of war; Yahweh is his name.

UST

³ Yahweh is a warrior; Yahweh is his name.

Exodus 15:4

He threw the chariots of Pharaoh and his army into the sea. And his chosen officers sank in the sea of reeds (ULT)

He has thrown the king's chariots and his army into the sea; The king's best officers all drowned in the Red Sea (UST)

These lines are synonymous parallels where the second strengthens what is said in the first. Alternate translation: "He threw all of Pharaoh's army into the sea, including the chariots; even his chosen officers sank in the sea of reeds" (See: Parallelism)

ULT

⁴ He threw the chariots of Pharaoh and his army into the sea. And his chosen officers sank in the sea of reeds.

UST

⁴ He has thrown the king's chariots and his army into the sea; The king's best officers all drowned in the Red Sea.

He threw the chariots of Pharaoh and his army into the sea (ULT)

He has thrown the king's chariots and his army into the sea (UST)

Moses sings about Yahweh causing the sea to cover Pharaoh's chariots and army as if Yahweh had thrown them into the sea. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "He has made Pharaoh's chariot riders and army drown in the sea" (See: Metaphor)

Exodus 15:5

The deeps cover them; they descended into the depths like a stone (ULT)

The deep water covered them; they sank to the bottom like a rock (UST)

These lines are synonymous parallels where the second clarifies what is said in the first. Alternate translation: "The deeps covered them because they had descended into the depths like a stone" (See: Parallelism)

they descended into the depths like a stone (ULT)
they sank to the bottom like a rock (UST)

Just like a stone does not float but sinks to the bottom of the sea, the enemy soldiers sank to the bottom of the sea. Alternate translation: "they went down into the deep water like a stone sinking to the bottom of the sea" (See: Simile)

ULT

⁵ The deeps cover them; they descended into the depths like a stone.

UST

⁵ The deep water covered them; they sank to the bottom like a rock.

Exodus 15:6

Your right hand, Yahweh, is majestic in power;
your right hand, Yahweh, shatters the enemy
(ULT)

O Yahweh, your power is immense; with that power, O Yahweh, you have crushed the enemy into pieces (UST)

These lines are synonymous parallels where the second takes the abstract idea in the first and makes it concrete (though still with poetic imagery). Alternate translation: "Yahweh, you show how majestic in power your right hand is by shattering the enemy" (See: Parallelism)

ULT

⁶Your right hand, Yahweh, is majestic in power; your right hand, Yahweh, shatters the enemy.

UST

⁶O Yahweh, your power is immense; with that power, O Yahweh, you have crushed the enemy into pieces.

Your right hand, Yahweh, is majestic in power; your right hand, Yahweh, shatters the enemy (ULT)

O Yahweh, your power is immense; with that power, O Yahweh, you have crushed the enemy into pieces (UST)

Moses speaks of Yahweh as if Yahweh had hands. The right hand refers to Yahweh's power or the things Yahweh does powerfully. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "Yahweh, your power is glorious; Yahweh, your power has shattered the enemy" or "Yahweh, what you do is gloriously powerful; Yahweh, by your power you have shattered the enemy" (See: Metonymy)

shatters the enemy (ULT)

you have crushed the enemy into pieces (UST)

Moses speaks of the enemy as if it were fragile and could be shattered like glass or pottery. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "completely destroys the enemy" (See: Metaphor)

Exodus 15:7

you overthrow those who rise up against you.
You send out your heat; it devours them like
stubble (ULT)
to defeat your enemies. When you are angry, you destroy them like a fire burns up straw
(UST)

These lines are synonymous parallels where the second takes the abstract idea in the first portion (you overthrow those who rise up against you) and makes it concrete (though still with poetic imagery). Alternate translation: “you overthrow those who rise up against you by sending out your heat to devour them like stubble” (See: Parallelism)

And in the abundance of your majesty (ULT)
You use your great strength (UST)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could express the idea behind the abstract nouns abundance and majesty as an adverb and adjective, respectively. Alternate translation: “You are abundantly majestic and” or “Because you are abundantly majestic,” (See: Abstract Nouns)

those who rise up against you (ULT) your enemies (UST)

Rebelling against Yahweh is spoken of as rising up against him. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “those who rebel against you” or “your enemies” (See: Metaphor)

your heat (ULT)
When you are angry, you destroy them (UST)

Alternate translation: “your wrath” or “your fury”

You send out your heat (ULT)
When you are angry, you destroy them (UST)

Moses speaks of Yahweh’s wrath (literally heat) as if it were a servant that Yahweh sent out to do something. Alternate translation: “You show your wrath” or “You act according to your wrath” (See: Personification)

it devours them like stubble (ULT)
like a fire burns up straw (UST)

Moses speaks of God’s wrath as if it were fire that could completely burn up things. His enemies were completely destroyed like stubble in a fire. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “it completely destroys your enemies like a fire that burns up straw” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁷ And in the abundance of your majesty you overthrow those who rise up against you. You send out your heat; it devours them like stubble.

UST

⁷ You use your great strength to defeat your enemies. When you are angry, you destroy them like a fire burns up straw.

it devours them like stubble (ULT)
like a fire burns up straw (UST)

Here the enemies (or those who rise up against Yahweh) are pictured as if they were a highly flammable piece of dried grass. Alternate translation: "it devours the enemy as if they were stubble" (See: Simile)

Exodus 15:8

And by the breath of your nostrils (ULT) You blew on (UST)

Moses speaks of God as if God had a nose, and he speaks of the wind as if God blew the wind from his nose. Alternate translation: "You blew on the sea and" (See: Personification)

And by the breath of your nostrils the waters were piled up; the flowing waters were stood upright like a heap (ULT) You blew on the sea, and the water piled up high; the water became like mounds of dirt (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "The blast from your nostrils piled the waters up and made the flowing waters stand upright in a heap" (See: Active or Passive) the waters were piled up; the flowing waters were stood upright like a heap; the deeps thickened in the heart of the sea (ULT) the sea, and the water piled up high; the water became like mounds of dirt. In the deepest part of the sea, the water became thick, as though it were frozen (UST)

These lines are synonymous parallels where each line means basically the same thing, but each gives the reader a different poetic image. (See: Parallelism) in the heart of the sea (ULT) In the deepest part of the sea (UST)

The center or deepest part of the sea is spoken of as if the sea had a heart. Alternate translation: "in the center of the sea" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁸ And by the breath of your nostrils the waters were piled up; the flowing waters were stood upright like a heap; the deeps thickened in the heart of the sea.

UST

⁸ You blew on the sea, and the water piled up high; the water became like mounds of dirt. In the deepest part of the sea, the water became thick, as though it were frozen.

Exodus 15:9

my soul will be satisfied in them (ULT) We will do whatever we want to them (UST)

my hand will dispossess them (ULT) and defeat them (UST)

The meaning of this phrase is unclear. The word translated dispossess could also mean "possess" or "inherit." What seems clear is that the Egyptians plan to use their power to prevent the Israelites from possessing good things. Whether this is a reference back to plunder earlier in the verse or to recapturing them as slaves or to taking over the Israelites' place in the land of Goshen or to keeping them from reaching the promised land (of Yahweh's possession, see verse 17 regarding where Yahweh will bring his people) or something else is not so clear. It could also refer to taking away their life and breath. Dispossess was chosen rather than another term because the verb is in a causative form here. Alternate translation: "my hand will possess them" or "my hand will inherit them" or "my hand will kill them"

my hand will dispossess them (ULT) and defeat them (UST)

Here hand is used figuratively of the Egyptians' power (that is, their military strength). If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "I will dispossess them" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁹ The enemy said, 'I will pursue, I will overtake; I will share out the plunder; my soul will be satisfied in them; I will empty my sword; my hand will dispossess them.'

UST

⁹ Our enemies said, 'We will go after them and catch up to them. We will do whatever we want to them! We will draw our swords and defeat them; then we will divide up everything we take from them.'

Exodus 15:10You blew with your wind (ULT)*Your wind blew (UST)

Moses spoke about God making the wind blow as if God blew the wind through his nose or mouth. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "But you made the wind blow" (See: Metaphor)

they sank like lead in the majestic waters (ULT)They sank like lead in the big waves (UST)

Lead is a heavy metal that is commonly used to make things sink in water. It is used here to show how quickly God's enemies were destroyed. Alternate translation: "sank as fast as a heavy piece of metal in the deep turbulent waters" (See: Simile)

ULT

10 You blew with your wind; the sea covered them; they sank like lead in the majestic waters.

UST

10 Your wind blew, and then the sea covered them. They sank like lead in the big waves.

Exodus 15:11

Who is like you among the gods Yahweh (ULT) Yahweh, there is no other god like you (UST)

Moses uses this question to show how great God is. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "O Yahweh, no one is like you among the gods!" or "Yahweh, none of the gods is like you!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

Who is like you, majestic in holiness, feared in praises, doing miracles (ULT) There is no one like you! You are wonderfully different from everything else. Everyone fears and praises you for all the miracles you do (UST)

Moses uses this question to show how great God is. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "No one is like you. No one is majestic in holiness as you are, no one is honored in praises as you are, and no one does miracles as you do!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

¹¹ Who is like you among the gods Yahweh? Who is like you, majestic in holiness, feared in praises, doing miracles?

UST

¹¹ Yahweh, there is no other god like you! There is no one like you! You are wonderfully different from everything else. Everyone fears and praises you for all the miracles you do!

Exodus 15:12

your right hand (ULT) your power (UST)

The phrase right hand represents the strong power of God.
Alternate translation: “with your strong power” (See: Metonymy)

You reached out your right hand (ULT) You used your power (UST)

Moses speaks about God causing something to happen as if God reached out with his* *hand. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “With your strong power you made it happen” (See: Metaphor) and the earth swallows them (ULT) to make the earth open and our enemies go down into it (UST)

Moses personifies the earth as if it could swallow or devour with its mouth. Alternate translation: “the earth devours them” (See: Personification)

ULT

¹² You reached out your right hand, and the earth swallows them.

UST

¹² You used your power to make the earth open and our enemies go down into it!

Exodus 15:13

In your covenant faithfulness, you led this people you redeemed. In your strength, you guided them (ULT)

You are leading the people you bought because you always love us; Because {you use} your strength {for our good}, you are guiding us (UST)

These lines are structural parallels where the lines are saying similar things, but the parallelism is more in the construction of the lines. In your is repeated and the concepts of led and guided are very similar to one another. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

¹³ In your covenant faithfulness, you led this people you redeemed. In your strength, you guided them to the home of your holiness.

UST

¹³ You are leading the people you bought because you always love us; Because {you use} your strength {for our good}, you are guiding us to the home that you set apart.

Exodus 15:14

tremble

Verses 14-16a form a complex parallel structure where things are repeated in reverse. (See the introduction to chapter 15 and Parallelism)

they shake (ULT) and they will tremble (UST)

This means to shake with fear. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) anguish seized the inhabitants of Philistia (ULT) The people in Philistia will be terrified (UST)

Moses speaks of anguish as if it were a person that could forcefully grab hold of someone and make them extremely afraid. Alternate translation: "the inhabitants of Philistia will be afraid" (See: Personification)

ULT

14 The peoples heard; they shake; anguish seized the inhabitants of Philistia.

UST

14 The people of other nations will hear what you have done, and they will tremble. The people in Philistia will be terrified.

Exodus 15:15

trembling seizes the leaders of Moab (ULT)
The leaders in Moab will be so afraid that they will shake (UST)

Moses speaks of trembling as if it were a person that could forcefully grab hold of someone and make them extremely afraid. Alternate translation: “the leaders of Moab will be afraid” (See: Personification) melted away (ULT)

will faint (UST)

Moses uses the phrase, melted away, to speak of people becoming weak because of their fear. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “became weak from fear” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁵ Then the chiefs of Edom panicked; trembling seizes the leaders of Moab; all the inhabitants of Canaan melted away.

UST

¹⁵ The chiefs in Edom will be dismayed. The leaders in Moab will be so afraid that they will shake. All those who live in Canaan will faint.

Exodus 15:16

Terror and dread fall on them (ULT) They will be terrified and fearful (UST)

Terror and dread form a doublet meaning “extremely fearful.” If your language does not use repetition in this way, you could combine these phrases. Alternate translation: “They will become extremely fearful” (See: Doublet)

Terror and dread fall on them (ULT) They will be terrified and fearful (UST)

Terror and dread are pictured as physical objects that could fall on people. The image might be of them crushing people or being a heavy weight that people struggle under (however, the image is not specified). It means that the people will feel the emotions of terror and dread very strongly. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “They will be overwhelmed with feelings of terror and dread” (See: Metaphor)

By the greatness of your arm (ULT) because of your great strength (UST)

Yahweh’s arm represents his great strength. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “Because of your great strength” (See: Metonymy) they are still as a stone (ULT) But they will be as silent as stones (UST)

This could mean: (1) “they will be silent like stone” or (2) “they will be motionless as stone” (See: Simile)

ULT

¹⁶ Terror and dread fall on them. By the greatness of your arm, they are still as a stone until your people pass by, Yahweh, until this people you acquired pass by.

UST

¹⁶ They will be terrified and fearful because of your great strength. But they will be as silent as stones until we, your people, march past them, the people you freed {from being slaves in Egypt.}

Exodus 15:17

You will bring them, and you will plant them (ULT)

You will bring us {into the promised land of Canaan.} You will enable us to live (UST)

Where God would bring them can be stated clearly. Alternate translation: "You will take your people to Canaan and plant them there" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

You will bring them (ULT)

You will bring us {into the promised land of Canaan (UST)

Since Moses was not already in Canaan, some languages would use "take" rather than bring. Alternate translation: "You will take them" (See: Go and Come) and you will plant them on the mountain of (ULT)

You will enable us to live on...hill (UST)

Moses speaks about God giving his people the land to live in as if they were a plant that God was planting. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and you will settle them on the mountain of" or "and you will let them live on the mountain of" (See: Metaphor)

on the mountain of your possession (ULT)

on your hill (UST)

This refers to Mount Zion in the land of Canaan.

on the mountain of your possession (ULT)

on your hill (UST)

Moses speaks about God promising to give his people the mountain forever as if he were giving it to them as an inheritance. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "on the mountain that you have given them as an inheritance" (See: Metaphor) that your hands built (ULT) that you yourself will build (UST)

The phrase your hands refers to God's power. Alternate translation: "that you have built by your power" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁷ You will bring them, and you will plant them on the mountain of your possession, the place, Yahweh, that you made for your dwelling, the holy place, my Lord, that your hands built.

UST

¹⁷ You will bring us {into the promised land of Canaan.} You will enable us to live on your hill, in the place that you, Yahweh, have chosen to be your home, in the holy place, our Lord, that you yourself will build.

Exodus 15:18

Yahweh will reign forever and ever (ULT)

O Yahweh, you will rule forever (UST)

Alternate translation: "Yahweh reigns forever and ever"

ULT

18 Yahweh will reign forever and ever."

UST

18 O Yahweh, you will rule forever!"

Exodus 15:19

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

19 For the horse of Pharaoh went with his chariots and horsemen into the sea. And Yahweh returned upon them the waters of the sea. And the sons of Israel walked on dry land in the middle of the sea.

UST

19 When the king's horses and chariots and horsemen tried to go through the sea, Yahweh caused the water to come back and cover them. But the Israelite people walked through the middle of the sea on dry ground.

Exodus 15:20

a tambourine...with tambourines (ULT) her tambourine...who had tambourines (UST)

A tambourine is a hand-held musical instrument like a small drum that also has pieces of metal around the side that make a metallic rattling sound when shaken. Alternate translation: “timbrel” (See: Translate Unknowns) and all the women went out after her with tambourines and with dancing (ULT) and led all the other women who had tambourines out to dance (UST)

Here, all may be a generalization; it may not have been every woman. It could be better to translate as a restrictive clause as in the UST. Alternate translation: “and every woman who went out after her had a tambourine and danced” (See: Hyperbole)

ULT

²⁰ And Miriam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a tambourine in her hand, and all the women went out after her with tambourines and with dancing.

UST

²⁰ Then Miriam, who was Aaron’s older sister and a prophetess, picked up her tambourine and led all the other women who had tambourines out to dance.

Exodus 15:21

he has triumphed triumphantly (ULT)
he has triumphed gloriously over his enemies (UST)

It can be stated explicitly over whom Yahweh triumphed. See how you translated this in Exodus 15:1. Alternate translation: “he has achieved a glorious victory over the army of Egypt” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

the horse and the one riding it he threw into the sea (ULT)
He has thrown the horses and their riders into the sea (UST)

Miriam sang about God causing the sea to cover and drown the horse and the one riding it as if God had thrown them into the sea. See how you translated this in Exodus 15:1. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “he has made the horse and rider drown in the sea” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²¹ And Miriam responded to them: “Sing to Yahweh, for he has triumphed triumphantly; the horse and the one riding it he threw into the sea.”

UST

²¹ Miriam sang to Yahweh this song: “Sing to Yahweh because he has triumphed gloriously over his enemies. He has thrown the horses and their riders into the sea.”

Exodus 15:22

Israel (ULT)

the Israelite people (UST)

The word Israel represents the people of Israel. Alternate translation: "Moses led the Israelite people" (See: Collective Nouns)

the Wilderness of Shur (ULT)

the wilderness of Shur (UST)

We do not know the exact location of this place. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

²² And Moses caused Israel to set out from the sea of reeds. And they went out into the Wilderness of Shur. And they traveled for three days into the wilderness, and they found no water.

UST

²² Then Moses led the Israelite people away from the Red Sea. They went to the wilderness of Shur. They walked for three days, but they could not find any water.

Exodus 15:23

to Marah (ULT)

to a place named Marah (UST)

We do not know the exact location of Marah. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

²³ And they came to Marah, and they were not able to drink the waters of Marah, because they were bitter. So he called its name Marah.

UST

²³ So they went on and came to a place named Marah. There was water there, but they could not drink it, because it was bitter. That is why they named the place Marah, which is the Hebrew word that means 'bitter.'

Exodus 15:24

And the people murmured against Moses (ULT)

The people complained to Moses (UST)

Murmur is a very strong term for “grumble” or “complain” that is used to describe the Israelites’ attitude throughout their time in the wilderness. It occurs several times in Exodus and Numbers. Alternate translation: “And the people complained against Moses” or “And the people grumbled at Moses”

ULT

²⁴ And the people murmured against Moses, saying, “What can we drink?”

UST

²⁴ The people complained to Moses, saying, “What are we going to drink?”

Exodus 15:25

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁵ And he cried out to Yahweh, and Yahweh showed him a tree. And he threw it into the water, and the water became sweet. There he gave him a statute and an ordinance, and there he tested him.

UST

²⁵ So Moses prayed to Yahweh. Then Yahweh showed him a branch. He took the branch and threw it into the water, and the water became good to drink. There at Marah, Yahweh gave them a fixed rule by which to live. He also tested them there {to determine if they would obey him.}

Exodus 15:26

to the voice of Yahweh your God (ULT)
I am Yahweh, your God...when I speak to you (UST)

Yahweh is speaking about his own voice. Alternate translation: "to my voice" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

to the voice of Yahweh your God (ULT)
I am Yahweh, your God...when I speak to you (UST)

Yahweh's voice represents what he says. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "to what I say" (See: Metonymy) and you do what is right in his eyes (ULT) and do those things that I say are right (UST)

The eyes represent seeing, and seeing represents thoughts or judgment. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and do what Yahweh considers to be right" (See: Metaphor) and you give ear to his commands (ULT) and listen to all the things that I tell you (UST)

The ear represents listening, and listening represents obeying. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and you carefully obey his commands" (See: Metaphor)

all of the diseases that I put on the Egyptians I shall not put on you (ULT)
I will keep you from all the diseases that I brought on the Egyptians (UST)

God speaks of causing people to have diseases as putting diseases on them. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "I will not cause any of you to have the diseases that I cause the Egyptians to have" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²⁶ And he said, "If you carefully listen to the voice of Yahweh your God, and you do what is right in his eyes, and you give ear to his commands and you keep all of his laws, all of the diseases that I put on the Egyptians I shall not put on you, for I am Yahweh your healer."

UST

²⁶ He said, "I am Yahweh, your God. If you will obey me when I speak to you and do those things that I say are right and listen to all the things that I tell you, I will keep you from all the diseases that I brought on the Egyptians. Do not forget that I am Yahweh, the one who heals you."

Exodus 15:27

to Elim (ULT)

to a place named Elim (UST)

Elim is an oasis in the desert, a place with water and shade trees.
(See: How to Translate Names) and 70 (ULT)

and 70 (UST)

Alternate translation: "and seventy" (See: Numbers)

ULT

²⁷ And they came to Elim, and there there was 12 springs of water and 70 palm trees. And they camped there by the water.

UST

²⁷ After they left Marah, they came to a place named Elim. There were 12 springs of water and 70 palm trees there. So they camped there.

Exodus 16

Exodus 16 General Notes

Special concepts in this chapter

Complaints

After complaining about the water, the Israelites complained that they had less food than in Egypt. This is intended to show their ungratefulness and their sinful view of Yahweh. (See: sin, sinful, sinner, sinning)

Prohibition against storing food

The people were not allowed to store the food, called manna, that Yahweh provided to them. This is because they were to trust in Yahweh to provide for their needs every day. (See: trust, trusted, trustworthy, trustworthiness)

Sabbath

This is the first recorded celebration of the Sabbath rest. (See: Sabbath)

Possible translation difficulties in this chapter

Bread as food

Yahweh speaks of the food that he will send as if it were bread. The manna he gave them was perhaps not literally bread. The Israelites would eat this food every day, just as they had eaten bread every day before this. Alternate translations: "food" or "food like bread" (See: bread and Metaphor)

Chronology

Verses 34-36 are written from a much later perspective. Translators will need to find a way to show that this portion gives background information from a much later point (at least 40 years).

Ark of the covenant

Related to the chronology issue, although the covenant has not yet been made, it is referenced in Exodus 16:34. This is probably an editorial comment made after these events. (See: covenant)

Wilderness of Sin

Sin is the name of a part of the Sinai Wilderness. It is the description of a place, and it has nothing to do with sinning. (See: How to Translate Names)

Exodus 16:1Sin (ULT)*Sin (UST)

The word Sin here is the Hebrew name of the wilderness. It is not the English word "sin." (See: How to Translate Names) on the fifteenth day of the second month (ULT)

That was on the fifteenth day of the second month (UST)

This time coincides with the end of April and the beginning of May on Western calendars. (See: Hebrew Months)

on the fifteenth day of the second month (ULT)

That was on the fifteenth day of the second month (UST)

Alternate translation: "on day 15 of the second month" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

¹ And they journeyed on from Elim, and all of the congregation of the sons of Israel entered into the Wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departure from the land of Egypt.

UST

¹ They left Elim, and all the Israelite people came to the wilderness of Sin between Elim and Sinai Mountain. That was on the fifteenth day of the second month after they left Egypt.

Exodus 16:2

And all the congregation of the sons of Israel murmured (ULT)
the Israelite people complained (UST)

Here, all is a generalization. Alternate translation: “And many of the community of the sons of Israel murmured” (See: Hyperbole)

And...murmured (ULT) complained (UST)

Alternate translation: “And ... spoke angrily”

ULT

² And all the congregation of the sons of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron in the wilderness.

UST

² There in the wilderness, the Israelite people complained against Moses and Aaron.

Exodus 16:3

If only we had died (ULT)

We wish that...had killed us (UST)

This is a way of saying that they wished that they had died. It is a hypothetical past statement. Translate it in a way that makes it clear that this did not actually happen. Alternate translation: "We wish that we had died" (See: Hypothetical Situations)

by the hand of Yahweh (ULT)

Yahweh (UST)

The phrase the hand of Yahweh represents Yahweh's action. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "by Yahweh's action" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³ And the sons of Israel said to them, "If only we had died by the hand of Yahweh in the land of Egypt, sitting by a pot of meat, eating bread to the full. For you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger."

UST

³ They said to them, "We wish that Yahweh had killed us in Egypt! There we had meat to cook and all the bread that we wanted to eat. But you have brought us into this desert in order that we will all starve until we die!"

Exodus 16:4

make bread rain down from heaven for you (ULT)

I am going to send bread from the sky for you (UST)

God speaks of food coming down from heaven as if it were rain. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “make bread come down from heaven like rain” or “make bread fall to you from the sky” (See: Metaphor)

in my law (ULT)

whether they will obey me (UST)

Alternate translation: “in my instruction”

ULT

⁴ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Behold me make bread rain down from heaven for you. And the people shall go out and gather the portion of a day each day, so that I may test them: Will they walk in my law or not?”

UST

⁴ Yahweh said to Moses, “Watch what I am going to do. I am going to send bread from the sky for you. When I do that, the people must go out of their tents every day and gather enough to eat on that day. When I do that, I will find out whether they will obey me or not.”

Exodus 16:5

And so it will be, on the sixth day, that they shall prepare (ULT)

On the sixth day {of each week...and prepare (UST)

Alternate translation: "It will happen on the sixth day that they will prepare" or "On the sixth day they will prepare"

on the sixth day (ULT)

On the sixth day...of each week (UST)

Alternate translation: "on day 6" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

twice (ULT)

twice (UST)

two times

ULT

⁵ And so it will be, on the sixth day, that they shall prepare what they bring in, and that will be twice as much as what they gather daily."

UST

⁵ On the sixth day {of each week}, they should gather and prepare twice as much as on the other days {so they do not have to gather any on the seventh day}."

Exodus 16:6

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁶ And Moses and Aaron said to all of the sons of Israel, "At evening you will know that Yahweh brought you out from the land of Egypt.

UST

⁶ So Moses and Aaron said to all the Israelite people, "This evening you will know that it was Yahweh{, not us,} who brought you out of Egypt.

Exodus 16:7

And who are we that you murmur against us (ULT)

We are not important enough for your complaints (UST)

Moses and Aaron used this question to show the people that it was foolish to complain against them. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "We are not powerful enough for you to complain against us." or "It is foolish to complain against us, because we cannot do what you want." (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

⁷ In the morning you will see the glory of Yahweh in his hearing your murmurings against Yahweh. And who are we that you murmur against us?"

UST

⁷ In the morning you will see how great Yahweh is, because he has heard how you have complained against him. We are not important enough for your complaints."

Exodus 16:8

And what are we (ULT)

We are unimportant (UST)

Moses used this question to show the people that he and Aaron did not have the power to give them what they wanted. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Aaron and I cannot give you what you want." (See: Rhetorical Question)

And what are we? Not against us is your murmuring, but against Yahweh (ULT)

We are unimportant; when you complain, it is really about Yahweh, not us (UST)

The people were complaining against Moses and Aaron, who were Yahweh's servants. So by complaining against them, the people were really complaining against Yahweh. Alternate translation: "Your complaints are not really against us; they are against Yahweh, because we are his servants" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁸ And Moses said, "So Yahweh gives you meat to eat in the evening and bread in the morning to satiation; Yahweh is hearing your murmurings that you murmur against him. And what are we? Not against us is your murmuring, but against Yahweh."

UST

⁸ Then Moses also said, "Each evening Yahweh will give you meat to eat, and each morning he will give you enough bread to make you full. He has heard how you have complained about him. We are unimportant; when you complain, it is really about Yahweh, not us."

Exodus 16:9

And Moses said to Aaron, “Say to all of the congregation of the sons of Israel, ‘Approach (ULT)

Then Moses said to Aaron, “Tell all the Israelite people, ‘Come and stand (UST)

There are two layers of quotes here. You may want to translate one or the other as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the layers of quotations in this passage. Alternative translation: “And Moses told Aaron to tell all of the congregation of the sons of Israel, “Approach” or “And Moses told Aaron, “Tell all of the congregation of the sons of Israel to approach” (See: Quotes within Quotes)

ULT

⁹ And Moses said to Aaron, “Say to all of the congregation of the sons of Israel, ‘Approach the face of Yahweh, for he has heard your murmurings.’”

UST

⁹ Then Moses said to Aaron, “Tell all the Israelite people, ‘Come and stand here in the presence of Yahweh, because he has heard what you have been complaining about.’”

Exodus 16:10

And so it was (ULT)

So (UST)

This phrase is used here to mark an important event in the story. The important event here is the people seeing Yahweh's glory. If your language has a way for doing this, you could consider using it here.

and behold (ULT)

and were surprised to see (UST)

The word behold here shows that the people saw something extraordinary.

ULT

¹⁰ And so it was, as Aaron spoke to all of the congregation of the sons of Israel, that they turned toward the wilderness, and behold! the glory of Yahweh appeared in the cloud!

UST

¹⁰ So as Aaron told the Israelites that, they turned to look toward the desert and were surprised to see the dazzling light of Yahweh in the cloud {that had been leading them}.

Exodus 16:11

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 16:12

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

12 "I have heard the murmurings of the sons of Israel. Speak to them saying, 'Between the evenings you will eat meat, and in the morning you will be satisfied with bread. And you will know that I am Yahweh your God.'"

UST

12 "I have heard what the Israelites have been complaining about. So say to them, 'At twilight, you will have meat to eat, and in the morning you will have bread. You will have all you want of it to eat. Then you will know that I am Yahweh, your God.'"

Exodus 16:13

And so it was (ULT)

That evening (UST)

This phrase is used here to mark an important part of the events. If your language has a way for doing this, you could consider using it here.

quail (ULT)

quails (UST)

The word quail means a type of small, plump game bird. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹³ And so it was, in the evening quail came up and covered the camp. And in the morning the dew was lying round about the camp.

UST

¹³ That evening quails appeared, and there were so many that they covered the campsite. The next morning there were small drops of water all around the campsite.

Exodus 16:14like frost (ULT)*It looked like...ice (UST)

Frost is frozen dew that forms on the ground. It is very fine. (See: Translate Unknowns) like frost (ULT)It looked like...ice (UST)

The original readers knew what frost is like, so this phrase would help them understand what the flakes were like. Alternate translation: “flakes that looked like frost” or “flakes that were fine like frost” (See: Simile)

ULT

¹⁴ And the lying dew went up; and behold! on the face of the wilderness were thin flakes, thin like frost on the ground.

UST

¹⁴ When the water on the ground dried up, they saw a thin layer of something that looked like {small white} flakes on the desert ground. It looked like a thin layer of ice on the ground.

Exodus 16:15

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

15 And the sons of Israel saw it, and they said each man to his brother, "What is it?" Because they did not know what it was. And Moses said to them, "It is the bread that Yahweh has given you to eat.

UST

15 When the Israelites saw it, they did not know what it was, so they said to each other, "What is it?" Moses replied to them, "It is the food Yahweh has given you to eat.

Exodus 16:16

each according to the mouths of his eating
(ULT)

Each of you...as much as you need to eat (UST)

Alternate translation: "according to how much each will eat"

an omer (ULT)

two liters (UST)

2 liters (See: Biblical Volume) an omer for each person up to the number of your people, each shall take for those in his tent (ULT)

Gather two liters for each person who lives in your tents (UST)

Alternate translation: "take an omer per person according to how many people are in the gatherer's tent"

ULT

¹⁶ This is the thing that Yahweh has commanded: 'Gather from it each according to the mouths of his eating; an omer for each person up to the number of your people, each shall take for those in his tent.'

UST

¹⁶ This is what Yahweh has commanded: Each of you should gather as much as you need to eat. Gather two liters for each person who lives in your tents."

Exodus 16:17

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁷ And the sons of Israel did so. And they gathered much, or little,

UST

¹⁷ So that is what the Israelite people did. Some gathered more and some gathered less.

Exodus 16:18

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

18 and they measured it by omer. And there was no extra for those with much, and no lack for those with little. Each man gathered according to what he needed to eat.

UST

18 Because they gathered two liters per person, when they measured what they had gathered, those who had gathered a lot did not have anything left over. Those who had gathered less still had enough to eat. Each person gathered just enough.

Exodus 16:19

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁹ And Moses said to them, "No one shall save any of it until morning."

UST

¹⁹ Moses said to them, "Do not leave any of it to eat tomorrow morning!"

Exodus 16:20

and it bred worms (ULT)

However, it was full of maggots (UST)

Alternate translation: "and it decayed with worms"

ULT

²⁰ But they did not listen to Moses. And men reserved some of it until morning, and it bred worms, and it stank. And Moses became angry with them.

UST

²⁰ Some of them did not obey what Moses said. They kept some of it until the next morning. However, it was full of maggots and smelled rotten. That made Moses angry.

Exodus 16:21

each man according to the mouths of his eating (ULT)
as much as they needed (UST)

Alternate translation: "everyone according to how much they would eat" or "everyone according to how many people they had to feed"

ULT

²¹ And they gathered it morning by morning, each man according to the mouths of his eating. And the sun became hot, and it melted.

UST

²¹ Each morning they gathered as much as they needed. Later, when the sun got hot, what was left on the ground melted.

Exodus 16:22And so it was (ULT)*On...day (UST)

This phrase is used here to mark the beginning of a new part of the story. Verses 16:22-30 tell about what the people did concerning the manna on the sixth and seventh days of the week. If your language has a way for marking this as a new part of the story, you could consider using it here. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

on the sixth day (ULT)On...the sixth...day (UST)

Alternate translation: "on day 6" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

twice as much (ULT)which was twice as much as they gathered on the other days (UST)

Alternate translation: "two times as much" bread (ULT)of bread (UST)

This refers to the bread that appeared as thin flakes on the ground each morning.

ULT

²² And so it was, on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for each person. And all the leaders of the community came and told Moses.

UST

²² On the sixth day, each person was able to gather four liters of bread, which was twice as much as they gathered on the other days. When the leaders of the people came to Moses and told him about that, is a rest, a holy Sabbath to Yahweh (ULT) will be a day for you to rest. It will be a day set apart for Yahweh (UST)

Exodus 16:23

Alternate translation: "is a day to stop working completely and dedicate to Yahweh"

ULT

²³ And he said to them, "This is what Yahweh spoke: 'Tomorrow is a rest, a holy Sabbath to Yahweh. What you are baking-bake! and what you are cooking-cook! And all of the leftovers cause to rest, for preservation for yourselves until morning.'"

UST

²³ Moses said to them, "This is what Yahweh has told you: Tomorrow will be a day for you to rest. It will be a day set apart for Yahweh. So today, bake or boil what you will need for today and for tomorrow. Whatever is left this evening, you should put aside and keep it to eat tomorrow."

Exodus 16:24

And it did not become foul (ULT)

It did not spoil (UST)

Alternate translation: "And it did not smell rotten"

ULT

²⁴ And they left it until morning, as Moses had instructed. And it did not become foul, and no worms were in it.

UST

²⁴ So they did what Moses told them. What was left over, they kept until the next day. It did not spoil and did not get maggots in it!

Exodus 16:25

for it is Sabbath, a day for Yahweh (ULT) because today is a day of rest to Yahweh (UST)

Alternate translation: "today is a Sabbath, a day to honor Yahweh by not working"

ULT

²⁵ And Moses said, "Eat it today, for it is Sabbath, a day for Yahweh, a day you will not find it in the fields.

UST

²⁵ On that day, Moses said, "Eat today what you have saved from yesterday because today is a day of rest to Yahweh. Today you will not find any of that food outside.

Exodus 16:26

and on the seventh day (ULT)
but on the seventh day (UST)

Alternate translation: "but on day seven" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

²⁶ You shall gather it for six days, and on the seventh day, Sabbath, there will be none of it."

UST

²⁶ Every week, you must gather it for six days; but on the seventh day, which will be a day of rest for you, there will not be any to gather."

Exodus 16:27

but they found none (ULT)
but could not find any (UST)

Alternate translation: "but they did not find any manna"

ULT

²⁷ And so it was, on the seventh day, some of the people went out to gather, but they found none.

UST

²⁷ On the seventh day, some of the people went outside their tents to gather some of that food, but could not find any.

Exodus 16:28

Until what time will you refuse to keep my commandments and my laws (ULT)

Yahweh is angry because for a long time you people have refused to do all the things that he has told you to do (UST)

God used this question to scold the people because they did not obey his laws. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "You people still do not keep my commandments and laws!" (See: Rhetorical Question) will you refuse (ULT)

Yahweh is angry because for a long time you people have refused (UST)

Yahweh speaks to Moses, but the word you refers to the people of Israel in general. (See: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups) to keep my commandments and my laws (ULT) to do all the things that he has told you to do (UST)

Alternate translation: "to obey my commandments and my laws"

ULT

28 And Yahweh said to Moses, "Until what time will you refuse to keep my commandments and my laws?"

UST

28 Then Yahweh told Moses to say this to the people: "Yahweh is angry because for a long time you people have refused to do all the things that he has told you to do!"

Exodus 16:29For Yahweh has given you the Sabbath (ULT)
Since Yahweh has given you a day of rest (UST)

Yahweh speaks about teaching people to rest on the Sabbath as if the Sabbath were a gift. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "I, Yahweh, have taught you to rest on the Sabbath" (See: Metaphor)

on the sixth day...on the seventh day (ULT) on the sixth day of each week...on the seventh day (UST)

Alternate translation: "on day 6 ... on day 7" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

bread (ULT) enough of this food (UST)

This refers to the bread that appeared as thin flakes on the ground each morning.

for two days (ULT) for two days (UST)

Alternate translation: "for 2 days"

ULT

²⁹ Look! For Yahweh has given you the Sabbath. So on the sixth day he is giving you bread for two days. Each one stay where he is; a man shall not be going out from his place on the seventh day."

UST

²⁹ Listen! Since Yahweh has given you a day of rest, on the sixth day of each week, he will therefore be giving you enough of this food for two days. Each of you should stay in his tent, not going anywhere on the seventh day!"

Exodus 16:30

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁰ And the people rested on the seventh day.

UST

³⁰ So the people rested on the seventh day.

Exodus 16:31

like coriander seed, white (ULT)
white, like the color of coriander seeds (UST)

Coriander is an herb also known as cilantro. People eat both the leaves and seeds. People dry the seeds, grind them into a powder, and put it in food to add flavor. Alternate translation: "like a small white seed" (See: Translate Unknowns) was like wafers (ULT)

like thin wafers (UST)

Wafers are very thin biscuits or crackers.

ULT

³¹ And the house of Israel called its name "manna." And it was like coriander seed, white, and its taste was like wafers with honey.

UST

³¹ The Israelites called this food 'manna.' It looked white, like the color of coriander seeds, and it tasted like thin wafers made with honey.

Exodus 16:32

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³² And Moses said, "This is the procedure that Yahweh has commanded: 'A full omer of it for preservation for your descendants so that they can see the bread which I fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you out from the land of Egypt.'"

UST

³² Moses said, "This is what Yahweh has told you: 'You must keep two liters of it for all future generations so that they can see the food that I gave you to eat in the desert when I brought you out of Egypt.'"

Exodus 16:33

before the face of Yahweh (ULT) in a place where Yahweh can see it (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "in the presence of Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³³ And Moses said to Aaron, "Take one pot and put there a full omer of manna. Put it before the face of Yahweh, for preservation for your descendants."

UST

³³ And he said to Aaron, "Take a jar, and put two liters of manna in it. Then put it in a place where Yahweh can see it. You must keep it like that for all future generations."

Exodus 16:34

wafers

Verses 34-36 provide a later commentary on the chapter. If your language has a way of marking background information you may want to use it starting from verse 34 or verse 35. You may want to leave verse 34 more connected to verse 33 even though it references the Covenant, which has not been given yet. (See: Background Information) before the face of the Covenant (ULT) in front of the record of the agreement between...and Israel...Yahweh (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents being near the Covenant. Alternate translation: “near the Covenant” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

34 Just as Yahweh commanded to Moses, so Aaron put it before the face of the Covenant, for preservation.

UST

34 {Later} Aaron {would} put the jar in front of the record of the agreement between Yahweh and Israel in order to keep the manna as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 16:35

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁵ And the sons of Israel ate manna 40 years, until they came to inhabited land. They ate manna until they came to the borders of the land of Canaan.

UST

³⁵ The Israelites ate manna every day for forty years until they came to where there were people, at the border of the land of Canaan.

Exodus 16:36

And an omer, it is a tenth of an ephah (ULT)
Now two liters is called} an omer, which is a tenth of an ephah (UST)

An omer and an ephah are both units of dry measurement. An ephah is approximately equal to a bushel, and an omer is one-tenth of an ephah. The original readers would have known how much an ephah was. This sentence would help them know how much an omer was. (See: Biblical Volume)

And an omer, it is a tenth of an ephah (ULT)
Now two liters is called} an omer, which is a tenth of an ephah (UST)

For languages that do not use fractions, this can be reworded. Alternate translation: "Now ten omers equal one ephah" (See: Fractions)

ULT

³⁶ (And an omer, it is a tenth of an ephah.)

UST

³⁶ {Now two liters is called} an omer, which is a tenth of an ephah.

Exodus 17

Exodus 17 General Notes

Important Figures of Speech in this Chapter
Rhetorical questions
Moses uses several rhetorical questions in this chapter. The purpose of these questions is to convince people of their sin. Likewise, the people's rhetorical question shows their ignorance. (See: Rhetorical Question and sin, sinful, sinner, sinning)

Other Possible Translation

Wilderness of Sin
Sin is the name of a part of the Sinai Wilderness. It is not the description of a place, and it has nothing to do with the act of sinning. (See: How to Translate Names)
Naming
As in the last couple of chapters, places and things are named for what happens in that location. In this chapter is Massah (which means "test"), Meribah ("arguing"), and an alter named "Yahweh is my Banner," because Yahweh will be at war with the Amalekites forever.

Exodus 17:1

And all the community of the sons of Israel journeyed (ULT)

Then...all the Israelites...travel...and they did (UST)

A new scene begins here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Sin (ULT)

Sin (UST)

The word Sin here is the Hebrew name of the wilderness. It is not the English word "sin." See how you translated this in Exodus 16:1. (See: How to Translate Names)

at the mouth of Yahweh (ULT)

Yahweh commanded...to (UST)

Here, mouth refers figuratively to Yahweh's commands (that is, what he says to do). If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "at the command of Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

at Rephidim (ULT)

at a place called Rephidim (UST)

Rephidim means "the resting place," a place to rest on long journeys through the wilderness. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

¹ And all the community of the sons of Israel journeyed from the wilderness of Sin, journeying at the mouth of Yahweh. And they camped at Rephidim, and there was no water for the people to drink.

UST

¹ Then Yahweh commanded all the Israelites to travel from the wilderness of Sin and camp at a place called Rephidim, and they did. However, there was no water there for the people to drink.

Exodus 17:2

Why are you quarreling with me? Why do you test Yahweh (ULT)

You should not quarrel with me! You should not test Yahweh (UST)

Moses uses these questions to scold the people. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Why are you speaking against me? And why are you trying to test whether Yahweh is able to give you what you need?" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

² And the people quarreled with Moses, and they said, "Give us water to drink." And Moses said to them, "Why are you quarreling with me? Why do you test Yahweh?"

UST

² So the people complained to Moses again, saying, "Give us water to drink!" Moses replied to them, "You should not quarrel with me! You should not test Yahweh!"

Exodus 17:3

Is this why you brought us up from Egypt? To kill me and my sons and my cattle, with thirst (ULT)

You only brought us out here to kill us and our children and cattle by not letting us have any water to drink (UST)

The people use this question to accuse Moses of wanting to kill them. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Why did you bring us up out of Egypt? Did you bring us here to cause us and our children and animals to die because we have no water to drink?" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

³ And the people were thirsty for water there, and the people murmured against Moses. And he said, "Is this why you brought us up from Egypt? To kill me and my sons and my cattle, with thirst?"

UST

³ But the people were very thirsty, and they continued to complain to Moses. They were saying, "You only brought us out here to kill us and our children and cattle by not letting us have any water to drink!"

Exodus 17:4

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴ And Moses cried out to Yahweh, saying, "What should I do for this people? A little longer and they will stone me."

UST

⁴ So Moses prayed to Yahweh. He said, "How shall I deal with these people? They are almost ready {to kill me} by throwing stones {at me}!"

Exodus 17:5

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁵ And Yahweh said to Moses, "Pass before the face of the people, and take with you some of the elders of Israel, and your staff, the one with which you struck the river, take in your hand; and go.

UST

⁵ Yahweh said to Moses, "Lead the people and walk in front of them. Take some of the elders of the Israelite people with you. Carry in your hand the staff you used to strike the Nile River.

Exodus 17:6

before your face (ULT)

in front of you (UST)

Here, before your face means “in front of you.” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁶ Behold me! I will stand before your face there on the rock at Horeb. And you will strike on the rock, and water will come from it, and the people will drink.” And Moses did so in the eyes of the elders of Israel.

UST

⁶ Watch me! I will stand in front of you on top of a large rock at the foot of Mount Sinai. Strike the rock with your stick. When you do that, water for the people to drink will flow out of the rock.” Moses did what God had said, and the elders saw it happen.

Exodus 17:7Massah (ULT)*Masseh (UST)

Massah is a place in the desert whose name means “testing” in Hebrew. (See: How to Translate Names) and Meribah (ULT)and Meribah (UST)

Meribah is a place in the desert whose name means “complaining” in Hebrew. (See: How to Translate Names) or not (ULT)or not (UST)

In some languages it may be unnatural to explicitly have the negative option included in this question or to have it at the end. It may be omitted or relocated in the question if that is the case.

ULT

⁷ And he called the name of the place Massah and Meribah, for the conflict of the sons of Israel and for their testing of Yahweh by saying, “Is Yahweh among us or not?”

UST

⁷ Moses named that place both Masseh (because the Israelites tested Yahweh by questioning if he was really able to help them or not) and Meribah (because they were complaining all the time to him).

Exodus 17:8And Amalek came (ULT)*Then the people of Amalek came (UST)

A new scene begins here which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)\n\n

Amalek...Israel (ULT)the people of Amalek...the Israelite people (UST)

Amalek and Israel are both collective nouns that refer to the nations (people groups) descended from that individual. Alternate translation: “the Amalekites ... the Israelites” (See: Collective Nouns)

Amalek (ULT)the people of Amalek (UST)

Amalek or the Amalekites are a completely new participant in the story. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants) at Rephidim (ULT)at Rephidim (UST)

Rephidim was the name of a place in the desert. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

⁸ And Amalek came and fought with Israel at Rephidim.

UST

⁸ Then the people of Amalek came and fought against the Israelite people at Rephidim.

Exodus 17:9

Joshua (ULT)

Joshua (UST)

Joshua is a completely new participant in the story. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new character. Later he becomes a major character, but not really in the book of Exodus. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

ULT

⁹ And Moses said to Joshua, "Choose men for us and go out. Fight with Amalek. Tomorrow I will be stationed on top of the hill, and the staff of God will be in my hand."

UST

⁹ Moses said to Joshua, "Choose some men to go out and fight against the people of Amalek tomorrow. I will stand on the top of the hill, holding the staff that God told me to carry."

Exodus 17:10

And Joshua did as Moses said to him, to fight Amalek (ULT)

So Joshua obeyed Moses. He {took some men} to fight against the people of Amalek (UST)

Joshua represents himself and the Israelites that he led into battle. Alternate translation: “And, as Moses instructed, Joshua and the men he chose fought against the Amalekites” (See: Synecdoche)

and Hur (ULT)

and Hur (UST)

Hur was the name of a man. (See: How to Translate Names)

and Hur (ULT)

and Hur (UST)

Hur is a new participant in the story, which you may need to point out in your translation. However, he is a very minor character. He only appears in this passage and once much later in the book, so you may not need to highlight him at all. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

ULT

¹⁰ And Joshua did as Moses said to him, to fight Amalek. And Moses, Aaron, and Hur climbed up to the top of the hill.

UST

¹⁰ So Joshua obeyed Moses. He {took some men} to fight against the people of Amalek. {While they were fighting,} Moses, Aaron, and Hur went up to the top of the hill {so that they could see the whole battle area}.

Exodus 17:11

then Israel would be winning...then Amalek would be winning (ULT)

the Israelite men started to win the battle... the Amalekite army started to win (UST)

The words Israel and Amalek represent the fighters from those groups. Alternate translation: "the Israelite fighters were winning ... the Amalekite fighters would begin to win" (See: Synecdoche)

ULT

¹¹ And so it was, when Moses raised his hand, then Israel would be winning, and when he set his hand down, then Amalek would be winning.

UST

¹¹ Then this happened: Whenever Moses lifted up his arms, the Israelite men started to win the battle; whenever he lowered his arms, the Amalekite army started to win.

Exodus 17:12

And the hands of Moses became heavy (ULT) But Moses' arms became tired (UST)

The author writes of Moses' arms becoming tired as if his hands became heavy. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "And Moses' arms became tired" (See: Idiom) one from this, and one from that (ULT) one man on either side of him (UST)

Alternate translation: "one on one side, and one on the other"

ULT

¹² And the hands of Moses became heavy. And they took a stone and put it under him, and he sat on it, and Aaron and Hur held his hands up, one from this, and one from that. And so his hands were steady until the sun went down.

UST

¹² But Moses' arms became tired. So Aaron and Hur brought a large stone for him to sit on. While he was sitting on it, those two held up his arms, one man on either side of him. In that way, they kept his arms lifted up until the sun went down.

Exodus 17:13

with the edge of the sword (ULT) in battle (UST)

The sword represents battle. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language.
Alternate translation: "in combat" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹³ And Joshua defeated Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.

UST

¹³ In this way Joshua and the men with him defeated the Amalekite king and his army in battle.

Exodus 17:14

I will certainly blot out the memory of Amalek (ULT)

I will so completely destroy the people of Amalek that...will remember who they were (UST)

God speaks of destroying Amalek as if he were removing people's memory of Amalek. When a group of people is completely destroyed, there is nothing to remind people about them. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "I will completely destroy Amalek" (See: Metaphor)

Amalek (ULT)

the people of Amalek (UST)

The Amalekites are referred to by naming their ancestor. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: Amalekites" (See: Metonymy) from under the skies (ULT)

no one in the world (UST)

This phrase makes an intentionally broad image and represents all people everywhere. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "from all people everywhere" (See: Hyperbole)

ULT

14 And Yahweh said to Moses, "Write this memory in the book and put it in the ears of Joshua, because I will certainly blot out the memory of Amalek from under the skies."

UST

14 Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Write an account of this battle and then read it to Joshua. Also write that I will so completely destroy the people of Amalek that no one in the world will remember who they were."

Exodus 17:15

is my banner (ULT)

is my flag (UST)

A banner is something lifted up high, perhaps like a flag, that people can see from a distance and follow. Alternate translation: “is my military standard” or “is my guidon”

ULT

¹⁵ And Moses built an altar, and he called its name “Yahweh is my banner.”

UST

¹⁵ Then Moses built a stone altar there and named it “Yahweh is my flag.”

Exodus 17:16

Because a hand was against the throne of Yah (ULT)

Because they fought against him (UST)

The Hebrew here is very difficult, and there are a variety of opinions regarding the meaning. Questions include: (1) Whose hand is referred to? Amalek's, Yahweh's, or Moses'? (2) What is the hand on (or against)? Yahweh's throne or banner? (3) What is the meaning of the Hebrew preposition meaning on, against, or above? What does that signify? Rebellion, or taking an oath, or holding onto a symbol of power? If there is another translation in your region, it may be best to simply follow the interpretation it gives. Alternate translation: "Because a hand was on the throne of Yah" or "Because a hand was on the banner of Yah" war is to Yahweh against Amalek (ULT)

Yahweh will fight against the people of Amalek (UST)

This phrase has no verbs in Hebrew. You may need to translate the noun war as a verb. Alternate translation: "Yahweh will make war with Amalek" or "Yahweh will war against Amalek"

ULT

¹⁶ And he said, "Because a hand was against the throne of Yah, war is to Yahweh against Amalek from generation to generation."

UST

¹⁶ He said, "Because they fought against him, Yahweh will fight against the people of Amalek forever!"

Exodus 18

Exodus 18 General Notes

Special Concepts in this Chapter
Leadership lessons Jethro taught Moses an important leadership lesson in this chapter. Many scholars look at this chapter for important leadership lessons.

Moses delegated some of his responsibilities to other godly men so that he would not become worn out by all the demands made of him. (See: godly, godliness, ungodly, godless, ungodliness, godlessness)

Possible Translation Difficulties

Order of events The timing of the events in verse 2 is not clear and, whatever their timing, may be difficult to translate. The question: Is

Jethro's taking Zipporah related to the past event of Moses sending her back to him at some otherwise unmentioned point in time, or is Jethro's taking related to his coming to meet Moses in verse 5.

Verse 11 Verse 11 is difficult in the original and requires interpretation.

God and Yahweh In this chapter, God, who is named Yahweh in much of the rest of the book, is mostly referred to as God instead by his name as is usual. Translations should not suggest that they are not different beings.

Kinship: Father-in-law Jethro is the father of Moses' wife. Some languages may make a distinction between that and a woman's father-in-law. If that is the case, note it in verses: 1-2, 5-8, 12, 14-15, 17, 24, and 27. (See: Kinship) Participant reference Jethro is often referred to simply as the father-in-law of Moses in this chapter. He is also named explicitly (referred to by name) an unusually high number of times (it would be more usual to have more pronouns referring to him). Frequent use of his name is likely to emphasize his familial ties and authority (or honored status). Some languages may need to alter the way he is referred to for naturalness or to convey the same sense of familial ties and authority (or honored status).

father-in-law of Moses (ULT) and who was also Moses' father-in-law (UST)

The label, father-in-law of Moses refers to the father of the wife of Moses. If your language uses a different term for a man's father-in-law than for a woman's father-in-law, choose the appropriate one here. Note the use of this term also in verses: 2, 5-8, 12, 14-15, 17, 24, and 27. Alternate translation: "the father of the wife of Moses" (See: Kinship)

ULT

¹ And Jethro, the priest of Midian, father-in-law of Moses, heard all that God had done for Moses and for Israel his people; that Yahweh brought Israel out from Egypt.

UST

¹ Jethro, who was the priest for the people of Midian, and who was also Moses' father-in-law, heard about all that God had done for Moses and for God's people, the Israelites. He heard about how Yahweh had brought them out of Egypt.

Exodus 18:2

And Jethro, father-in-law of Moses, took Zipporah, wife of Moses (ULT)
Moses...his wife Zipporah...So when Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, came to him, he brought her (UST)

This could mean: (1) Jethro took Zipporah to Moses, or (2) Jethro had earlier welcomed back Zipporah.

after he had sent her back (ULT) had sent...and his two sons} back home {when he was returning to Egypt (UST)

This is something Moses had done earlier. The full meaning of this can be made explicit. Alternate translation: "after Moses had sent her home to her father" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

² And Jethro, father-in-law of Moses, took Zipporah, wife of Moses, after he had sent her back,

UST

² Moses had sent his wife Zipporah {and his two sons} back home {when he was returning to Egypt}. So when Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, came to him, he brought her and her two sons (ULT)

Exodus 18:3

and her sons (UST)

This is the ending of the sentence that begins with the words Jethro ... took Zipporah in verse 2. This could mean: (1) Jethro took Zipporah and her two sons to Moses, or (2) Jethro had earlier welcomed back Zipporah and her two sons.

was Gershom (ULT)

Gershom, which sounds like the Hebrew word that means “foreigner (UST)

Gershom is a son of Moses and Zipporah; his name means “foreigner.” See 2:22. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

³ and her two sons; one of whose names was Gershom, for he had said, “I have been a sojourner in a foreign land.”

UST

³ and her sons. One son's name was Gershom, which sounds like the Hebrew word that means “foreigner,” because Moses had said, “I have been a foreigner living in another land.”

Exodus 18:4

was Eliezer (ULT)
Eliezer, which sounds like the Hebrew word that means “God helps me (UST)

Eliezer is a son of Moses and Zipporah; his name means “God is the one who helps me.” (See: How to Translate Names) from the sword of Pharaoh (ULT) from the king of Egypt killing me (UST)

The phrase from the sword of Pharaoh represents being killed by Pharaoh or Pharaoh’s army. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “from being killed by Pharaoh” or “from being killed by Pharaoh’s army” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁴ And the name of the other was Eliezer, for “The God of my father was my helper. And he rescued me from the sword of Pharaoh.”

UST

⁴ Her other son’s name was Eliezer, which sounds like the Hebrew word that means “God helps me,” because Moses had said, “God, whom my father worshiped, has helped me and saved me from the king of Egypt killing me.”

Exodus 18:5

and his sons (ULT)
and two sons (UST)

Alternate translation: "with his sons"

ULT

⁵ And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, came, and his sons and his wife, to Moses, to the wilderness where he was camping, at the mountain of God.

UST

⁵ While Moses {and the Israelites} camped in the wilderness near {Sinai}, God's {holy} mountain, Jethro (Moses's father-in-law) came to him, bringing along Moses' wife and two sons.

Exodus 18:6

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁶ And he said to Moses, "I, your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to you, and your wife, and her two sons with her."

UST

⁶ Jethro had sent a message to Moses, "I, your father-in-law, Jethro, am coming to see you. I am bringing your wife and her two sons!"

Exodus 18:7

and he bowed down and kissed him (ULT)
He bowed before him and kissed him {on the cheek (UST)}

These symbolic acts were the normal way that people showed great respect and devotion in that culture. (See: Symbolic Action)

ULT

⁷ And Moses went out to meet his father-in-law, and he bowed down and kissed him. And they asked, each man his friend, of their welfare, and they went into the tent.

UST

⁷ So Moses went out {of the campsite} to meet his father-in-law. He bowed before him and kissed him {on the cheek}. They both asked each other, "Have you been well?" Then they went into {Moses'} tent.

Exodus 18:8

on account of Israel (ULT) in order to help the Israelite people (UST)

The word Israel represents the Israelite people. Alternate translation: “in order to help the Israelite people” (See: Metonymy) all...the hardship that found them (ULT) also...about...the troubles they had experienced (UST)

Moses writes of hardships happening to them as if hardships had discovered where they were. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “all the hardships that had happened to them” or “how they had many hard experiences” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁸ And Moses related to his father-in-law all that Yahweh had done to Pharaoh and to Egypt on account of Israel, all the hardship that found them along the way, and of Yahweh rescuing them.

UST

⁸ Moses told Jethro everything that Yahweh had done to the king {and all the other people in Egypt} in order to help the Israelite people. He also told him about the troubles they had experienced on the way, and about how Yahweh had helped them.

Exodus 18:9

from the hand of Egypt (ULT) from slavery in Egypt (UST)

The hand represents the power of someone to do something. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "from the power of the Egyptians" or "from what the Egyptians were doing to them" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁹ And Jethro rejoiced over all the good that Yahweh had done for Israel, whom he rescued from the hand of Egypt.

UST

⁹ Jethro praised Yahweh when he heard that Yahweh had rescued the Israelites from slavery in Egypt and had been very good to them.

Exodus 18:10

out of the hand of Egypt and out of the hand of Pharaoh...from under the hand of Egypt

(ULT)

from the powerful Egyptian {army} and from the powerful Egyptian king...from the control of the Egyptians (UST)

The hand represents the power of someone to do something. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "from the power of the Egyptians and from the power of Pharaoh ... from the power of the Egyptians" or "from what the Egyptians and Pharaoh were doing to you ... from what the Egyptians were doing to you" (See:

Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁰ And Jethro said, "Bless Yahweh, who rescued you out of the hand of Egypt and out of the hand of Pharaoh, who rescued the people from under the hand of Egypt."

UST

¹⁰ He said, "Praise Yahweh, who has rescued you from the powerful Egyptian {army} and from the powerful Egyptian king and has set the Israelites free from the control of the Egyptians!"

Exodus 18:11

because of the affair (ULT)

because he rescued (UST)

Here, because of the matter probably refers back to Yahweh's rescue of Israel. Alternate translation: "because of what he did" in} which they acted proudly against them (ULT)

he rescued...the Israelites from their proud enemies (UST)

The most natural referent for they is the gods, who, perhaps through their agents (Pharaoh and the Egyptians), fought against Yahweh and oppressed the Israelites (them). This would connect back to Exodus 12:12 where Yahweh declares that he is bringing judgment on the gods of Egypt. You may need to make some part of this explicit. Alternate translation: "in which they proudly fought Yahweh by oppressing Israel" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹¹ Now I know that Yahweh is greater than all the gods, because of the affair {in} which they acted proudly against them."

UST

¹¹ Now I know that Yahweh is greater than all other gods, because he rescued the Israelites from their proud enemies."

Exodus 18:12

before the face of God (ULT) to honor God (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of God. In this case it likely means that this was a worship event. Alternate translation: "in the presence of God" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹² And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, took a burnt offering and sacrifices to God. And Aaron came, and all of the elders of Israel, to eat bread before the face of God with the father-in-law of Moses.

UST

¹² Then Jethro (who was Moses' father-in-law) brought a burnt offering and other sacrifices for God. Aaron and the Israelite elders came and ate a meal with Moses' father-in-law to honor God.

Exodus 18:13And so it happened the next day (ULT)*The next day (UST)

A new scene begins here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event) that Moses sat down to judge (ULT)Moses sat down at the place where he settled disputes (UST)

Sitting was symbolic of having a position of authority. Alternate translation: "Moses sat down as a judge" (See: Symbolic Action) from morning until evening (ULT)from the morning until the evening (UST)

Alternate translation: "all day"

ULT

¹³ And so it happened the next day that Moses sat down to judge the people. And the people stood around Moses from morning until evening.

UST

¹³ The next day, Moses sat down at the place where he settled disputes among the people. The people asked Moses to judge their disputes from the morning until the evening.

Exodus 18:14

What is this thing that you are doing with the people (ULT)

Do not lead the people this way (UST)

Jethro uses this question to show Moses that what he was doing was not good. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way.

Alternate translation: "You should not be doing all of this for the people!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

For what purpose do you sit alone, and all the people position themselves next to you from morning until evening (ULT)

You should not sit here alone letting everyone demand that you judge for them all day (UST)

Jethro used this question to show Moses that he was doing too much. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Why are you doing all this for the people? Why are you doing this by yourself, and why are all the people standing around you from morning until evening, asking you to make decisions for them?" (See: Rhetorical Question)

do you sit alone (ULT)

You should not sit here alone (UST)

The word sit here is a metonym for "judge." Judges would sit while they listened to people's complaints. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "do you judge alone" or "are you the only one who judges the people" (See: Metonymy) position themselves next to you (ULT) letting everyone demand that you judge for them all day (UST)

The people came to be near Moses so that they could get a chance for him to hear their petitions. You could state that explicitly if it would be more clear. Alternate translation: "petition you" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹⁴ And the father-in-law of Moses was watching all that he did for the people, and he said, "What is this thing that you are doing with the people? For what purpose do you sit alone, and all the people position themselves next to you from morning until evening?"

UST

¹⁴ When Jethro saw everything that Moses was doing for the people, he said, "Do not lead the people this way. You should not sit here alone letting everyone demand that you judge for them all day!"

Exodus 18:15

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁵ And Moses said to his father-in-law, "Because the people come to me to inquire of God.

UST

¹⁵ Moses replied to his father-in-law, "I am doing this because the people keep coming to me to find out what God desires.

Exodus 18:16

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

16 When a situation comes up among them, someone comes to me. And I judge between a man and his associate, and I help them understand the statutes of God and his laws.”

UST

16 When they cannot agree about something, they come to me, and they ask me to decide which of them is right. When I decide, I also explain to them how God’s laws and instructions apply in that situation.”

Exodus 18:17

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁷ And the father-in-law of Moses said to him, "The thing which you are doing is not good.

UST

¹⁷ Jethro said to him, "What you are doing is not beneficial.

Exodus 18:18You will certainly wear yourself out (ULT) will wear yourselves out (UST)

Alternate translation: "You will surely make yourself very tired"

is too heavy for you (ULT) is...too...much...for you (UST)

Jethro speaks of the hard work that Moses is doing as if it were a physical burden that Moses was carrying. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "is too hard for you" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

18 You will certainly wear yourself out, both you and also these people who are with you, because the thing is too heavy for you. You are not able to do it alone.

UST

18 You and these people will wear yourselves out! This work is too much for you. You are not able to do it by yourself.

Exodus 18:19

I will advise you (ULT) to what I will tell you to do...what I suggest
(UST)

Alternate translation: "I will guide you" or "I will instruct you"

and God will be with you (ULT)
If you do...God will help you (UST)

Jethro speaks of God helping Moses as if God would be with Moses. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "God will help you" or "God will give you wisdom" (See: Metaphor) and you should bring their disputes to God yourself (ULT)

You...and tell him about the people's disputes (UST)

Jethro speaks of Moses telling God about their disputes as if they were something that Moses was bringing to God. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and you tell God about their disputes" or and "you tell God what they are arguing about" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁹ Now, listen to my voice. I will advise you, and God will be with you. You be before God for the people, and you should bring their disputes to God yourself.

UST

¹⁹ Now listen to what I will tell you to do. If you do what I suggest, God will help you. You should continue to represent the people to God and tell him about the people's disputes.

Exodus 18:20

And you should cause them to know the way they should walk in (ULT)

You should also explain to them how they should act (UST)

Jethro speaks of living or behaving like walking. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "You must show them how to live" or "You must show them how to behave" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²⁰ And you should teach them the statutes and the laws. And you should cause them to know the way they should walk in and the work that they should do.

UST

²⁰ You should also teach them God's law and instructions. You should also explain to them how they should act and the things that they should do.

Exodus 18:21

And you yourself should search out (ULT) In addition, you should find...Choose (UST)

Alternate translation: "As for you, search out" or "You must also search out"

And you should appoint over them (ULT) to help you...Appoint...to make decisions (UST)

Jethro speaks of giving them authority over people as putting them over people. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "You should select leaders for the people" (See: Metaphor)

And you should appoint over them (ULT) to help you...Appoint...to make decisions (UST)

Here, them refers to the Israelites. Moses is advised to place good men in charge of groups of Israelites. Alternate translation: "And you must appoint these men over the Israelites" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) leaders of thousands, leaders of hundreds, leaders of fifties, and leaders of tens (ULT) some of them...for groups of ten people, some for groups of fifty people, some for groups of a hundred people, and some for groups of a thousand people (UST)

This could mean: (1) these numbers represent the exact amount of people in each group. Alternate translation: "leaders in charge of groups of 1,000 people, groups of 100 people, groups of 50 people, and groups of 10 people" or (2) these numbers are not exact, but represent groups of people of various sizes. Alternate translation: "leaders in charge of very small groups, small groups, large groups, and very large groups" (See: Numbers)

ULT

²¹ And you yourself should search out from all of the people men of ability, fearers of God, men of faithfulness, haters of dishonest profit. And you should appoint over them: leaders of thousands, leaders of hundreds, leaders of fifties, and leaders of tens.

UST

²¹ In addition, you should find some capable Israelite men to help you. Choose men who respect God, who are trustworthy, and who will not accept bribes. Appoint some of them to make decisions for groups of ten people, some for groups of fifty people, some for groups of a hundred people, and some for groups of a thousand people.

Exodus 18:22

every great situation they will bring to you (ULT)

The difficult matters they can bring to you (UST)

By every great situation they will bring to you, Jethro is recommending that the new leaders should pass the most difficult cases to Moses for him to judge them. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “the difficult cases they will tell you about” or “when there are difficult cases, they will tell you about them so you can judge them” (See: Metaphor)

And you must lighten {this thing} from on you! And they will carry alongside you (ULT)
Do this to make the work easier for you as they help you do that work (UST)

Jethro speaks of the hard work that they would do as if it were something that they would carry beside Moses and make lighter for Moses by helping him. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “and lessen your work by having them do the hard work with you” or “and make your work easier by having them help you do the hard work” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²² And they will judge the people at all times. And so it will be, every great situation they will bring to you, and every small situation they will judge themselves. And you must lighten {this thing} from on you! And they will carry alongside you.

UST

²² Allow them to settle disputes for the people usually. It should work like this: The difficult matters they can bring to you, but the matters that are simple, they can decide themselves. Do this to make the work easier for you as they help you do that work.

Exodus 18:23

then you will be able to endure (ULT)
you will be able...continue doing (UST)

Alternate translation: "then you will not wear yourself out" all of this people will go to its place in peace (ULT)

all the people will be able to live peacefully with each other (UST)

Here, getting to their place could mean each person's home tent or it could mean the whole group gets to the promised land. If you cannot leave it ambiguous, it would be best to indicate something like "harmony in the camp." Alternate translation: "all these people will live in harmony"

ULT

²³ If you do this thing, and God instructs you, then you will be able to endure, and furthermore, all of this people will go to its place in peace."

UST

²³ If you do that, you will be able to continue doing what God commands, and all the people will be able to live peacefully with each other."

Exodus 18:24

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁴ And Moses listened to the voice of his father-in-law and did everything that he had said.

UST

²⁴ Moses listened to his father-in-law and did all that Jethro told him.

Exodus 18:25

heads over the people (ULT) chiefs over the people (UST)

Moses writes of the leaders of people as if they were the head of a body. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “leaders over the people” (See: Metaphor) men of ability (ULT) capable men (UST)

What sort of ability they had can be stated clearly. Alternate translation: “men who were able to lead” or “men who were able to judge” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) leaders of thousands, leaders of hundreds, leaders of fifties, and leaders of tens (ULT) rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens (UST)

This could mean: (1) these numbers represent the exact amount of people in each group. Alternate translation: “leaders in charge of groups of 1,000 people, groups of 100 people, groups of 50 people, and groups of 10 people” or (2) these numbers are not exact, but represent groups of people of various sizes. Alternate translation: “leaders in charge of very small groups, small groups, large groups, and very large groups” See how you translated this in Exodus 18:21. (See: Numbers)

ULT

²⁵ And Moses chose men of ability from all Israel, and he appointed them heads over the people, leaders of thousands, leaders of hundreds, leaders of fifties, and leaders of tens.

UST

²⁵ Then Moses chose capable men from among the Israelite people and made them chiefs over the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

Exodus 18:26

And they judged the people at all times (ULT)
They usually settled disputes for the people (UST)

Alternate translation: "They judged the people most of the time" or "They judged the people in all regular circumstances"

They brought the difficult situations to Moses (ULT)
They brought the difficult cases to Moses (UST)

The author writes of telling Moses about the difficult cases as bringing him the difficult cases. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "They told Moses about the difficult cases" or "When there were difficult cases, they told Moses about them so that he would judge them" (See: Metaphor)

small situation (ULT)
the simple cases (UST)

Alternate translation: "easy case"

ULT

²⁶ And they judged the people at all times. They brought the difficult situations to Moses, and they judged each small situation themselves.

UST

²⁶ They usually settled disputes for the people. They brought the difficult cases to Moses, but they decided the simple cases by themselves.

Exodus 18:27

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁷ And Moses let his father-in-law go, and he went into his own land.

UST

²⁷ Then Moses said goodbye to his father-in-law, and Jethro returned home.

Exodus 19

Exodus 19 General Notes

Special Concepts in this Chapter

“A kingdom of priests”
 The function of the priests was to intercede for the people. The Levites were the only priests in Israel; this is a metaphor indicating that the nation was to intercede for the world as a whole. They were also to be holy, or set apart, from the rest of the world. (See: priest, priesthood and Metaphor and holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Revealing the law
 The events of this chapter are concerned with preparing the people to receive the law of Moses. The people go through all of this to prepare themselves for the law, which shows the great importance of this event for Israel. (See: law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God)

Boundaries between Yahweh and the people
 Moses is told to make the people holy in preparation for meeting Yahweh, then boundaries are set up to keep the people separate from Yahweh, and then the priests are told to make themselves holy. The theme of a holy separation is beginning to be developed that will become much of the law code.

Exodus 19:1

In the third month...on the same day (ULT) the third month...On the first day of (UST)

This means they arrived at the wilderness on the first day of the month just as they left Egypt on the first day of the month. The first day of the third month on the Hebrew calendar is near the middle of May on Western calendars. Alternate translation: "In the third month ... on the first day of the month" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

¹ In the third month from the people of Israel exiting the land of Egypt, on the same day, they entered the wilderness of Sinai.

¹ On the first day of the third month after the Israelites left Egypt, they arrived at the wilderness of Sinai.

Exodus 19:2

from Rephidim (ULT)

Rephidim (UST)

Rephidim is an area on the edge of the wilderness of Sinai where the people of Israel had been camping. See how you translated this name in Exodus 17:1. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

² And they departed from Rephidim, and they entered the wilderness of Sinai, and they camped in the wilderness. And Israel camped there in front of the mountain.

UST

² After they left Rephidim, they came to the wilderness of Sinai, and they set up their tents at the base of the mountain.

Exodus 19:3

you shall speak to the house of Jacob, and you shall tell the sons of Israel (ULT)

I want you to say to the Israelite people, the descendants of Jacob (UST)

These two phrases have exactly the same meaning. This may be for poetic effect, as Yahweh's statement here through verse 6 is somewhat artfully crafted. You may need to use a strategy other than parallelism to achieve a similar poetic effect in your language. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

³ And Moses went up to God, and Yahweh called to him from the mountain, saying, "Thus you shall speak to the house of Jacob, and you shall tell the sons of Israel:

UST

³ Moses climbed up {the mountain to talk} with God. Yahweh called to him from {the top} of the mountain and said, "This is what I want you to say to the Israelite people, the descendants of Jacob,

Exodus 19:4

You yourselves saw (ULT)

You have seen (UST)

The word you here refers to the Israelites. Yahweh is telling Moses what to tell the Israelites. (See: Forms of You)

You have seen

A second-level direct quotation begins with this verse and continues until the middle of verse 6. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

how I carried you on the wings of eagles (ULT)

You have seen what I did for you...as if I had carried you on top of eagles' wings (UST)

God speaks of caring for his people while they traveled as if he were an eagle and carried them on his wings. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "how I helped you travel like an eagle that carries her babies on her wings" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁴You yourselves saw what I did to the Egyptians, how I carried you on the wings of eagles and brought you to myself.

UST

⁴You have seen what I did to the Egyptians. You have seen what I did for you and how I brought you here to me as if I had carried you on top of eagles' wings.

Exodus 19:5to my voice (ULT)*what I tell you to do (UST)

God's voice represents what he says. Alternate translation: "to what I say" or "to my words" (See: Metonymy) and keep my covenant (ULT)and obey all that I require in what we agreed by swearing to (UST)

Alternate translation: "and do what my covenant requires you to do" possession (ULT)my own people...my personal property (UST)

Alternate translation: "treasure"

ULT

⁵ And now, if you listen intently to my voice and keep my covenant, then you will be my possession from among all peoples. For all the earth is mine,

UST

⁵ Therefore, if you very carefully do what I tell you to do and obey all that I require in what we agreed by swearing to, you will be my own people. You will be my personal property from among all of the nations. Although all the earth is mine,

Exodus 19:6

my kingdom of priests (ULT)

my priestly kingdom (UST)

God speaks of his people as if they were priests. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "my kingdom of people who are like priests" or "my kingdom of people who do what priests do" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁶ and you yourselves will be my kingdom of priests and holy nation.' These are the words that you shall speak to the sons of Israel."

UST

⁶ you will be my priestly kingdom and a nation dedicated to me.' That is what you must tell the Israelites."

Exodus 19:7

And he set before their faces all these words (ULT)

He told them everything (UST)

Moses setting the words before them means that he was telling people things. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "And he told them all these words" (See: Metaphor)

before their faces (ULT)
them (UST)

Here, face means the person. Alternate translation: "before them" (See: Metonymy)

all...these words that Yahweh had commanded him (ULT)
He told...everything...that Yahweh had told him to tell them (UST)

Alternate translation: "all that Yahweh had commanded him"

ULT

⁷ And Moses came and summoned the elders of the people. And he set before their faces all these words that Yahweh had commanded him.

UST

⁷ So Moses went down the mountain and called the elders of the people. He told them everything that Yahweh had told him to tell them.

Exodus 19:8

And Moses brought the words of the people back (ULT)

Then Moses climbed back up the mountain and reported...what the people had said (UST)

Where Moses went can be stated explicitly. Alternate translation: "Moses went back up the mountain to report the words of the people" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

the words of the people (ULT)
what the people had said (UST)

Here, words refers to what the people said. Alternate translation: "what the people said" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁸ And all the people responded together, and they said, "We will do everything that Yahweh has said." And Moses brought the words of the people back to Yahweh.

UST

⁸ The people all said, "We will do everything that Yahweh has told us to do." Then Moses climbed back up the mountain and reported to Yahweh what the people had said.

Exodus 19:9

the words of the people (ULT)

what the people said (UST)

Here, words refers to what the people said. Alternate translation: “what the people said” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁹ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Look, I will come to you in a thick cloud so that the people may hear when I speak with you and may also trust in you forever.” And Moses told the words of the people to Yahweh.

UST

⁹ Then Yahweh said to Moses “Listen carefully. I will come to you from inside a thick cloud. When I am speaking to you, the people will hear it, and they will always believe that you are their leader.” Then Moses told Yahweh what the people said.

Exodus 19:10

and make them holy (ULT) Tell them to get ready for my coming.} They must purify themselves (UST)

This may mean instruct the people, or it may mean Moses will have a role as well. Alternate translation: “and tell them to dedicate themselves to me” or “and help them to purify themselves for me”

ULT

¹⁰ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Go to the people and make them holy today and tomorrow, and have them wash their clothing,

UST

¹⁰ Then Yahweh said to Moses, “Go back down to the people again. {Tell them to get ready for my coming.} They must purify themselves today and tomorrow. They must also wash their clothes

Exodus 19:11

before the eyes (ULT)

to where...can see me (UST)

Here, before the eyes means “so they can see.” If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. See the UST. (See: Metonymy)

ULT

11 and they will be prepared for the third day; for on the third day Yahweh will come down to Mount Sinai before the eyes of all the people.

UST

11 so they will be ready on the third day. On that day I will come down to Mount Sinai to where all the people can see me.

Exodus 19:12

And you shall set boundaries (ULT)

You must make a boundary (UST)

The boundary was either a mark or some kind of barrier.

saying, 'Watch yourselves (ULT)

Tell them, 'Be sure that you (UST)

A second-level direct quotation begins with watch. It is not clear where this command that Moses is to give the Israelites ends. Most English translations end it in verse 13 before the last sentence. For that reason, it may be most helpful to translate the instruction as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: "telling them to watch themselves" (See: Quotes within Quotes)

Watch yourselves climbing on the mountain or touching on its edge (ULT)

Be sure that you do not climb the mountain or even touch it (UST)

Here, the negative command is implied from the watch yourselves command. Alternate translation: "Watch yourselves against climbing on the mountain or touching on its edge"

Every mountain toucher...certainly (ULT)

You must kill anyone who touches the base of the mountain (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "You must surely put to death any person who touches the mountain" or "You must surely kill anyone who touches the mountain" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹² And you shall set boundaries for the people all around, saying, 'Watch yourselves climbing on the mountain or touching on its edge. Every mountain toucher shall certainly be killed.

UST

¹² You must make a boundary around the base of the mountain to protect the people. Tell them, 'Be sure that you do not climb the mountain or even touch it. You must kill anyone who touches the base of the mountain.

Exodus 19:13

No hand shall touch that one (ULT)
Do not let anyone touch any person or any animal that touches the mountain...that touches the mountain (UST)

Here, hand is a metonym for any part of a person. Alternate translation: "No person shall touch that one" (See: Metonymy)

he shall be stoned or he shall be shot (ULT) by throwing stones at it or shooting it with arrows (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "you must certainly stone or shoot him" (See: Active or Passive)

he shall be shot (ULT) shooting it with arrows (UST)

This refers to being killed by someone who shoots arrows from a bow.

shall ascend (ULT) can come close (UST)

If you translate this with come or go, consider which would be the correct perspective for your language and the text context. Yahweh is speaking, so "come up" is valid; however, the people will be the ones moving, so "go up" is valid as well. (See: Go and Come)

ULT

¹³ No hand shall touch that one. Instead, he shall be stoned or he shall be shot. Whether animal or human, he shall not live.' At the prolonged sound of the horn, they shall ascend on the mountain."

UST

¹³ Do not let anyone touch any person or any animal that touches the mountain. Therefore, you must kill any person or animal that touches the mountain by throwing stones at it or shooting it with arrows.' But when you hear a long, loud trumpet sound, the people can come close to the base of the mountain."

Exodus 19:14

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

14 And Moses went down from the mountain to the people. And he made the people holy, and they washed their clothing.

UST

14 So Moses went down the mountain again and told the people to purify {themselves and to get ready for Yahweh's coming. They did what Moses told them to do,} and they also washed their clothes.

Exodus 19:15

you shall not come near to a woman (ULT) and you men must not have sexual relations with any women {until after then (UST)}

This is a polite way of talking about sexual relations. If this would be misunderstood in your language, use a different polite way of referring to this or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: “do not sleep with your wives” (See: Euphemism)

a woman (ULT) any women {until after then (UST)}

This word means both “woman” and “wife.” Context dictates the correct translation. Since wife would make it a narrower command, woman was chosen here.

ULT

¹⁵ And he said to the people, “Be prepared by the third day; you shall not come near to a woman.”

UST

¹⁵ Then Moses said to the people, “Be ready on the third day, and you men must not have sexual relations with any women {until after then}.”

Exodus 19:16

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

16 And it happened on the third day, when it was the morning, there were thunder and lightning and a heavy cloud on the mountain, and an extremely strong horn sound. And all the people who were in the camp were trembling.

UST

16 On the third day, during the morning, there was thunder, lightning, a very dark cloud on the mountain, and a very loud horn sound. The people in the camp shook because they were very afraid.

Exodus 19:17

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁷ And Moses brought the people out from the camp to meet God, and they stationed themselves at the bottom of the mountain.

UST

¹⁷ Then Moses led the people outside the camp to meet with God. They stood around the base of the mountain.

Exodus 19:18

descended...Yahweh (ULT)
Then...descended...Yahweh (UST)

Alternate translation: "Yahweh came down" like the smoke of a furnace (ULT) like the smoke from the chimney of a furnace (UST)

This shows that it was a very large amount of smoke. Alternate translation: "like the smoke from a very large fire" (See: Simile)

ULT

18 And Mount Sinai smoked—all of it—because Yahweh descended on it in fire. And its smoke went up like the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mountain trembled mightily.

UST

18 Then Yahweh descended on Mount Sinai, surrounded by fire. That caused the entire mountain to smoke. The smoke rose up like the smoke from the chimney of a furnace, and the whole mountain shook violently.

Exodus 19:19

went very strong (ULT)
continued to become louder (UST)

Alternate translation: "continued to become louder and louder"

in a voice (ULT)
in a thunderous voice (UST)

The word voice here refers to a sound that God made. This could mean: (1) "by speaking loudly like thunder" or (2) "by speaking" or (3) "by causing thunder to sound" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁹ And it happened, the sound of the horn went very strong. Moses was speaking, and God was answering him in a voice.

UST

¹⁹ As the sound of the horn continued to become louder, Moses spoke to God, and God answered him in a thunderous voice.

Exodus 19:20

And...descended...And...ascended (ULT) Then...came down again...So...went up (UST)

You may need to consider your language's rules for perspective regarding going or coming up or down in this verse. (See: Go and Come)

ULT

²⁰ And Yahweh descended on Mount Sinai, to the top of the mountain, and Yahweh called Moses to the top of the mountain. And Moses ascended.

UST

²⁰ Then Yahweh came down again onto the top of Mount Sinai, and he summoned Moses to come up to the top of the mountain. So Moses went up.

Exodus 19:21

lest they break through (ULT) not to cross the boundary...If they do that (UST)

God spoke about walking past the boundary as if they might break down a barrier and walk through it. See how you translated “set bounds” in Exodus 19:12. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “not to go beyond the boundary” or “not to go through the barrier” (See: Metaphor) and...fall (ULT) will die (UST)

Here, fall refers to dying. This is a polite way of referring to something unpleasant. If this would be misunderstood in your language, use a different polite way of referring to this or you could state this plainly. (See: Euphemism)

ULT

²¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Go down and warn the people lest they break through to Yahweh to see and many from them fall.

UST

²¹ Yahweh said to Moses, “Go down again and warn the people not to cross the boundary in order to look at me. If they do that, many of them will die.

Exodus 19:22

Yahweh bursts out against them (ULT)

I will punish them (UST)

Yahweh's anger and judgment are pictured as something that will burst through a boundary. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "Yahweh kills them in anger" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²² And furthermore, the priests, the ones who come near to Yahweh, they shall make themselves holy lest Yahweh bursts out against them."

UST

²² Also, the priests who come near me must purify themselves. If they do not do that, I will punish them."

Exodus 19:23

us, saying: 'Set boundaries on the mountain and set it apart (ULT) them, saying, 'Set a boundary around the mountain, to consecrate it (UST)

This quoted command could be translated as an indirect quotation.
Alternate translation: "us to set boundaries on the mountain to keep it separate" (See: Quotes within Quotes)

ULT

²³ And Moses said to Yahweh, "The people are not able to come up on Mount Sinai, for you yourself warned us, saying: 'Set boundaries on the mountain and set it apart.'"

UST

²³ Then Moses said to Yahweh, "The people will not climb the mountain because you commanded them, saying, 'Set a boundary around the mountain, to consecrate it.'"

Exodus 19:24

Go, climb down (ULT)

Go down the mountain (UST)

Alternate translation: "Go down" shall not break through (ULT)

do not allow...to cross the boundary (UST)

God spoke about walking past the boundary as if they might break down a barrier and walk through it. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 19:21. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "must not go beyond the boundary" or "must not go through the barrier" (See: Metaphor)

he burst out against them (ULT)

I will punish them (UST)

Yahweh's anger and judgment are pictured as something that will burst forth from him. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 19:22. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "he kill them in anger" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²⁴ And Yahweh said to him, "Go, climb down. And you shall come back up, you and Aaron with you; and the priests and the people shall not break through to come up to Yahweh, lest he burst out against them."

UST

²⁴ Yahweh said to Moses, "Go down the mountain and bring Aaron back up with you. But do not allow the priests or other people to cross the boundary to come up to me. If they cross it, I will punish them."

Exodus 19:25

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁵ And Moses went down to the people, and he spoke to them.

UST

²⁵ So Moses went down the mountain again and told the people what Yahweh had said.

Exodus 20 General Notes

Structure and Formatting

The instructions recorded in this chapter are commonly known as the “ten commandments.”

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Covenant

Yahweh’s covenant faithfulness is now based on the covenant he made with Abraham as well as the covenant he is making with Moses. (See: covenant faithfulness, covenant loyalty, covenant love and covenant)

Form of you

The singular form of you is used in the commandments; however, the commandments applied to the whole

Israelite community. There is both a singular and a corporate aspect to them. You may need to choose between singular and plural if your language makes that distinction. (See: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups)

Exodus 20:1

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹ God spoke all these words, saying:

UST

¹ Then God spoke these words to the Israelites.

Exodus 20:2

from the house of slavery (ULT) from being slaves there (UST)

Yahweh speaks of Egypt as if it were a house where people keep slaves. See how you translated this in Exodus 13:3. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "from the place where you were slaves" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

² "I am Yahweh your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of slavery.

UST

² "I am Yahweh your God, the one you worship. I am the one who brought you out of the land of Egypt. I am the one who freed you from being slaves there.

Exodus 20:3

There shall not be to you other gods above my face (ULT)

Do not worship any god other than me (UST)

Alternate translation: "You must not worship any other gods besides me"

ULT

³ There shall not be to you other gods above my face.

UST

³ Do not worship any god other than me.

Exodus 20:4

or the likeness of anything that is in heaven above or that is in the earth beneath or that is in the water under the earth (ULT) that looks like anything in the sky or that is on the ground or that is in the water under the ground (UST)

This list means all created things wherever they are. Alternate translation: “nor anything that looks like anything created, whether that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth” (See: Merism) or the likeness of anything (ULT) looks like anything (UST)

Alternate translation: “nor anything looking like something” (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

⁴ You shall not make for yourself a carved figure or the likeness of anything that is in heaven above or that is in the earth beneath or that is in the water under the earth.

UST

⁴ Do not carve yourself a figure that looks like anything in the sky or that is on the ground or that is in the water under the ground.

Exodus 20:5

to them (ULT) to any idol (UST)

The word them refers to carved figures or idols. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) the sons on the third and on the fourth (ULT) the descendants...their descendants...for three, even four generations (UST)

Alternate translation: "Generation" is implied by sons, therefore third and fourth refers to the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Alternate translation: "the sons down to the third and fourth generations" or "and even on the grandchildren and great-grandchildren" (See: Ellipsis) on the third and on the fourth (ULT) for three, even four generations (UST)

Alternate translation: "to generations 3 and 4"(See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

⁵ You shall not bow down to them and you shall not serve them, for I, Yahweh your God, am a jealous God. I visit the iniquity of the fathers on the sons on the third and on the fourth of the haters of me.

UST

⁵ Do not bow down to any idol or worship it, because I am Yahweh your God. I demand that you worship me only! I will punish the descendants of those who hate me. I will punish their descendants for three, even four generations.

Exodus 20:6

But I show covenant faithfulness to thousands, to lovers of me (ULT)
However, I will faithfully love thousands of generations of those who love me (UST)

The abstract noun faithfulness can be restated as “faithfully” or “faithful.” Alternate translation: “I am faithful to the covenant with thousands of those who love me” (See: Abstract Nouns)

to thousands (ULT)
thousands of generations (UST)

Alternate translation: “Generation” is implied by the previous verse. Alternate translation: “to the thousandth generation” or “for a thousand generations” (See: Ellipsis)

to thousands, to lovers of me (ULT) thousands of generations of those who love me (UST)

Here, thousands may mean: (1) “forever,” that is, “to all descendants forever” (2) a number too many to count. Alternate translation: “for every generation” or “forever to innumerable people who love me” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁶ But I show covenant faithfulness to thousands, to lovers of me and to keepers of my commandments.

UST

⁶ However, I will faithfully love thousands of generations of those who love me and obey my commandments.

Exodus 20:7You shall...lift up...lifts up (ULT)*Do...use...use (UST)

To lift up, take, or use the name of Yahweh (with emptiness, i.e. improperly) covers many sorts of speaking or invoking his name or making a claim to him or attempting to manipulate him or misrepresenting him. A broad word should be used in translation of this term.

You shall not lift up the name of Yahweh your God (ULT)Do not use my name...I am Yahweh your God (UST)

Alternate translation: "You must not use the name of Yahweh your God" with emptiness...with emptiness (ULT)carelessly...for wrong purposes (UST)

Alternate translation: "carelessly" or "without proper respect" will not leave unpunished (ULT)will certainly punish (UST)

This double-negative can be stated as a positive. Alternate translation: "I will certainly consider guilty" (See: Double Negatives)

ULT

⁷ You shall not lift up the name of Yahweh your God with emptiness, for Yahweh will not leave unpunished anyone who lifts up my name with emptiness.

UST

⁷ Do not use my name carelessly, because I am Yahweh your God, and I will certainly punish those who use my name for wrong purposes.

Exodus 20:8

to set it apart to me (ULT) belongs to me (UST)

Alternate translation: "to make it holy to me" or "to consecrate it to me"

ULT

⁸ Remember the Sabbath day, to set it apart to me.

UST

⁸ Remember that the seventh day of every week belongs to me.

Exodus 20:9

your work (ULT)

your work (UST)

Alternate translation: "your occupation" or "your livelihood"

ULT

⁹ Six days you may labor and do all your work,

UST

⁹ There are six days each week for you to do all your work.

Exodus 20:10

within your gates (ULT) are living in your country (UST)

Cities often had walls around them to keep out enemies, and gates for people to go in and out. Anyone who was inside the gates was part of the community. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “within your community” or “inside your city” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁰ but the seventh day is a Sabbath for Yahweh your God. You shall not do any work, you or your son or your daughter, your male servant or your female servant or your cattle or the foreigner who is within your gates.

UST

¹⁰ But the seventh day is a day of rest, a day dedicated to me, Yahweh your God. On that day you must not do any work. Neither you nor your sons, your daughters, your male or female slaves, your livestock, and not even foreigners who are living in your country may work.

Exodus 20:11

on the seventh day (ULT)

on the seventh day (UST)

Alternate translation: "on day seven." Here "seventh" is the ordinal number for "7." (See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

11 For in six days Yahweh made the heavens and earth, the sea, and everything that is in them, and rested on the seventh day. Therefore Yahweh blessed the Sabbath day and set it apart.

UST

11 Do this because I, Yahweh, created the sky, the earth, the ocean, and everything that is in them in six days. Then I stopped my work of creating everything and rested on the seventh day. That is the reason that I, Yahweh, have blessed the rest day and set it apart to be a sacred day.

Exodus 20:12

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹² Honor your father and your mother, so that your days may be long on the land that Yahweh your God is giving you.

UST

¹² Honor your father and your mother, in order that you may live a long time in the land that I, Yahweh your God, will give you.

Exodus 20:13

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹³ You shall not murder.

UST

¹³ Do not murder anyone.

Exodus 20:14

You shall not commit adultery (ULT)

Do not commit adultery with anyone (UST)

Alternate translation: "You must not have sex with anyone other than your spouse"

ULT

¹⁴ You shall not commit adultery.

UST

¹⁴ Do not commit adultery with anyone.

Exodus 20:15

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

15 You shall not steal.

UST

15 Do not steal anything.

Exodus 20:16

You shall not testify false testimony against your neighbor (ULT)

Do not falsely accuse anyone of committing a crime (UST)

Alternate translation: "You must not speak a false report against your neighbor"

ULT

¹⁶ You shall not testify false testimony against your neighbor.

UST

¹⁶ Do not falsely accuse anyone of committing a crime.

Exodus 20:17

You shall not covet (ULT)

Do not covet (UST)

Alternate translation: "You must not strongly want to have" or "You must not want to take"

ULT

¹⁷ You shall not covet the house of your neighbor; you shall not covet the wife of your neighbor or his male servant or his female servant or his ox or his donkey or anything that belongs to your neighbor."

UST

¹⁷ Do not covet someone else's house, someone else's wife, someone else's male or female slave, someone else's livestock, someone else's donkeys, or anything else that another person owns."

Exodus 20:18

the mountain smoking (ULT)
the smoke on the mountain (UST)

Alternate translation: "the smoky mountain" and they trembled (ULT) were afraid and trembled (UST)

Alternate translation: "and they shook with fear" and they stood from a distance (ULT)

They stood a safe distance away (UST)

Alternate translation: "and stood far away"

ULT

¹⁸ All the people were seeing the thundering and the lightning and the sound of the horn and the mountain smoking. And the people saw it, and they trembled, and they stood from a distance.

UST

¹⁸ When the people heard the thunder and saw the lightning, and when they heard the sound of the horn and saw the smoke on the mountain, they were afraid and trembled. They stood a safe distance away

Exodus 20:19

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁹ They said to Moses, "You speak to us and let us listen! But do not let God speak to us, lest we die."

UST

¹⁹ and said to Moses, "You talk to us! We will listen! But do not let God speak to us anymore. We are afraid that if he speaks anymore to us, we will die."

Exodus 20:20

so that the fear of him may be above your faces and so that you do not sin (ULT)
He wants you to honor him and to not sin (UST)

Alternate translation: "so that you will honor him and not sin"

the fear of him may be above your faces (ULT)
He wants you to honor him (UST)

Here, fear is spoken of as something that could be above their faces. This means that they would be continually thinking about honoring God. It is similar to the image in Exodus 13:16. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "you will live always reverencing him" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²⁰ And Moses said to the people, "Do not be afraid, for God has come to test you so that the fear of him may be above your faces and so that you do not sin."

UST

²⁰ Moses replied to the people, "Do not be afraid! God has come to observe how you will behave. He wants you to honor him and to not sin."

Exodus 20:21

and Moses approached (ULT)

Moses went close (UST)

Alternate translation: "and Moses moved closer,"

ULT

²¹ So the people stood far off, and Moses approached toward the thick darkness where God was.

UST

²¹ Then, as the people watched from a distance, Moses went close to the black cloud where God was.

Exodus 20:22

You yourselves have seen (ULT)

You have heard (UST)

A second-level direct quotation begins here that continues until the end of the chapter. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

²² And Yahweh said to Moses, "You shall speak thus to the sons of Israel: 'You yourselves have seen that I have talked with you from heaven.'

UST

²² Yahweh said to Moses, "Say this to the Israelite people, 'You have heard how I, Yahweh, have spoken to you from heaven.'

Exodus 20:23

gods of silver or gods of gold (ULT)

any gods of silver or gold (UST)

Alternate translation: "gods made out of silver or gold" or "idols made out of silver or gold"

ULT

²³ You shall not make alongside me—you shall not make gods of silver or gods of gold for yourselves.

UST

²³ Therefore, do not make any gods of silver or gold that you will worship instead of me.

Exodus 20:24

an altar of earth (ULT) an altar out of earth (UST)

The phrase an altar of earth means an altar made of materials from the ground, such as stone, soil, or clay.

I cause my name to be remembered (ULT) I choose for you to honor me (UST)

Here, name is a metonym for God's being. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "I cause myself to be remembered" (See: Metonymy)

I cause my name to be remembered (ULT) I choose for you to honor me (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "I choose for you to remember me" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

²⁴ You shall make an altar of earth for me, and you shall sacrifice on it your burnt offerings, and peace offerings, sheep, and oxen. In every place where I cause my name to be remembered, I will come to you and bless you.

UST

²⁴ Make an altar out of earth for me. Sacrifice your burnt offerings on it, your offerings to promise friendship with me, and also your sheep and oxen. Worship me in any place that I choose for you to honor me; if you do that, I will come to you and bless you.

Exodus 20:25

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁵ And if you make me an altar of stones, you shall not build them of cut stones, for causing your tool to move over it will defile it.

UST

²⁵ If you build an altar for me out of stone, do not cut the stones because the cutting tool will profane the altar.

Exodus 20:26And you shall not go up to my altar on steps*(ULT)*Do not climb steps to my altar (UST)

If you need to connect this statement more explicitly to the previous statements regarding building the altar, you could add a phrase about building steps. Alternate translation: "Do not build steps up to the altar and go up to it on those steps" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

so that your nakedness is not exposed over it(ULT)*so that no one may see your genitals (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "so that you do not expose your nakedness over it" (See: Active or Passive) your nakedness (ULT)your genitals (UST)

Alternate translation: "your private parts"

ULT

²⁶ And you shall not go up to my altar on steps, so that your nakedness is not exposed over it.'

UST

²⁶ Do not climb steps to my altar so that no one may see your genitals.'

Exodus 21

Exodus 21 General Notes
 This chapter begins to give the Israelite civil case law, that is, the explanation of how to apply the principles condensed in the ten commandments.

Structure:
 1: Introduction
 2-6: Laws regarding male slaves
 7-11: Laws regarding female slaves
 12-17: Capital crimes
 18-36: Liability laws
 * 18-27: Regarding human violence
 * 28-36: Regarding damage done by or to animals

Translation Issues in this Chapter

Hypothetical situations
 Throughout the case law, a hypothetical situation is introduced with “when” or “if.” It is followed by a description of the situation; then there is the penalty or action to be taken in those situations. A hypothetical person may be introduced with “anyone” or “whoever.” Most verses for the next several chapters will have these hypothetical situations. See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions Translators familiar with Hebrew may want to notice that, generally, major divisions are introduced by כִּי (ki) and minor divisions within a topic are introduced by אִם ('im).

Passive construction
 Many portions of these situations are written in the passive voice. Some languages may have to change all or some of these to active voice. See: Active or Passive.

Daughters sold as servants
 The section from verses 7-11 may be somewhat confusing because a daughter that is sold as a servant is seamlessly connected to her becoming someone’s wife.

Ransom payment
 In verse 30 a man whose bull killed someone may evade the death penalty by paying a ransom price, but the conditions for that happening are not clear.

Exodus 21:1

you must set before them

Yahweh continues speaking to Moses. There is no quote break between chapters.

you shall set (ULT)

you must establish (UST)

Alternate translation: "you must give" or "you must tell"

before their faces (ULT)

for the Israelite nation (UST)

Here, faces figuratively represents the presence of the nation. Alternate translation: "before them" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹ And these are the ordinances that you shall set before their faces:

UST

¹ These are the laws that you must establish for the Israelite nation:

Exodus 21:2

General Information:

Here Yahweh begins telling Moses his laws for the people of Israel.

If you buy a Hebrew servant (ULT)

When you buy a Hebrew slave (UST)

This is the first of many hypothetical situations, introduced by “when” or if, which you will encounter over the next several chapters. See the introduction to chapter 21. You will need to translate these consistently in a manner that expresses that these situations have not happened. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

ULT

² If you buy a Hebrew servant, he shall serve for six years, and in the seventh year he shall go free without paying anything.

UST

² When you buy a Hebrew slave, he is to serve you for only six years. In the seventh year you must free him from being your slave, and he does not have to pay you anything for setting him free.

Exodus 21:3

If he came by himself, he shall go free by himself (ULT)

If he became your slave alone, you will free him alone (UST)

What by himself means can be stated clearly. Some languages require that the additional condition, that he marries while a slave, be stated clearly. Alternate translation: "If he became a slave while he had no wife, and if he marries while he is a slave, the master need only free the man" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) by himself...by himself (ULT) alone...alone (UST)

Alternate translation: "alone" or "without a wife"

If...he is the husband of a wife (ULT)

If...he had a wife (UST)

Alternate translation: "if he was married when he became a slave" or "if he came as a married man"

ULT

³ If he came by himself, he shall go free by himself; if he is the husband of a wife, then his wife shall go free with him.

UST

³ If he became your slave alone, you will free him alone. But if he had a wife, you must free both him and his wife.

Exodus 21:4

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴ If his master gave him a wife and she bore him sons or daughters, the wife and her children are her master's, and he must go out by himself.

UST

⁴ If the master of a slave gives him a wife, and she gives birth to sons or daughters while her husband is a slave, you only have to free the man. His wife and children will continue to be slaves of their master.

Exodus 21:5

plainly says (ULT)
clearly states (UST)

Alternate translation: "makes a statement, saying"

I shall not go out free (ULT) and I do not want to go free (UST)

Alternate translation: "I do not want my master to set me free"

ULT

⁵ But if the servant plainly says, "I love my master, my wife, and my children; I shall not go out free,"

UST

⁵ But when it is time for you to free the slave if he clearly states: 'I love my master and my wife and my children, and I do not want to go free,'

Exodus 21:6

God (ULT)

the place where they worship God (UST)

The word for God at its most literal means “great ones.” Here it may have this basic meaning and refer to human judges or other leaders in Israel. It may also be a metonym and refer to the judges because they represent God to the people and have his authority. Texts other than the standard Hebrew text support this reading. See Exodus 22:8-9 for another example of this. Alternate translation: “the judges” (See: Metonymy) and...shall bore...through...his ear (ULT)

Then...will use...to make a hole...in the slave’s ear (UST)

Alternate translation: “and ... will put a hole in his ear” with an awl (ULT)

an awl (UST)

An awl is a pointed tool used to make a hole forever (ULT)

for the rest of his life (UST)

Alternate translation: “until the end of his life” or “until he dies”

ULT

⁶ then his master shall bring him to God. He shall bring him to a door or to a doorpost, and his master shall bore his ear through with an awl. Then he shall serve him forever.

UST

⁶ then his master must take him to the place where they worship God. There he must make the slave stand against the door or the doorpost. Then the master will use an awl to make a hole in the slave’s ear and he will own that slave for the rest of his life.

Exodus 21:7

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁷ And if a man sells his daughter as a female servant, she shall not go out as the male servants go out.

UST

⁷ If a man sells his daughter to become a slave, she should not go free like the male slaves.

Exodus 21:8

has designated

This verse is the first of three possible situations between a master and his female slave.

has appointed her (ULT) wanted her to be his concubine (UST)

Alternate translation: "has chosen her"

then he shall cause her to be ransomed (ULT) he must sell her back to her father (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "then he must allow her father to buy her back" (See: Active or Passive) since he has acted treacherously with her (ULT) because that was not what he and the girl's father agreed to (UST)

Alternate translation: "since he has deceived her"

ULT

⁸ If she is bad in the eyes of her master, who has appointed her for himself, then he shall cause her to be ransomed. He has no authority to sell her to a foreign people, since he has acted treacherously with her.

UST

⁸ If the man who bought her wanted her to be his concubine, but later he is not pleased with her, he must sell her back to her father. He must not sell her to a foreigner, because that was not what he and the girl's father agreed to.

Exodus 21:9

he has treated her deceitfully

This verse is the second of three possible situations between a master and his female slave.

he appoints her for his son (ULT) the man who buys her wants her to be a wife for his son (UST)

Alternate translation: "he decides that she is the one who will be his son's wife" he shall act toward her according to the custom of daughters (ULT) he must then treat her as though she were his own daughter (UST)

Alternate translation: "he must do to her according to the manner in which daughters are customarily treated"

ULT

⁹ And if he appoints her for his son, he shall act toward her according to the custom of daughters.

UST

⁹ If the man who buys her wants her to be a wife for his son, he must then treat her as though she were his own daughter.

Exodus 21:10

designates her as a wife for his son

This verse and the next are the third of three possible situations between a master and his female slave.

he shall not diminish her food, her clothing, or her marital rights (ULT)

he must continue to give the first woman the same amount of food, clothing, and sexual attention that he gave to her before (UST)

This can be stated in a positive form. Alternate translation: “he must give the first wife the same food, clothing, and marital rights she had before” (See: Double Negatives) or her marital rights (ULT) and sexual attention (UST)

This term only occurs here in the Bible. It probably means things that a husband must do for his wife. Most commentators believe it specifically means having sexual relations with her, possibly so that she can bear children. Alternate translation: “or her right to intimacy” or “or her childbearing rights” (See: Euphemism)

ULT

¹⁰ If he takes another to himself, he shall not diminish her food, her clothing, or her marital rights.

UST

¹⁰ If the master marries another woman, he must continue to give the first woman the same amount of food, clothing, and sexual attention that he gave to her before.

Exodus 21:11

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

11 But if he does not provide these three things to her, then she can go free without silver.

UST

11 If he does not do these three things for her, he must free her from being a slave, and she is not required to pay anything to go free.

Exodus 21:12

Whoever strikes a man (ULT)

If someone hits a man (UST)

Alternate translation: "Whoever attacks a man"

he shall surely be put to death (ULT) then you absolutely must execute the murderer (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "you must certainly execute that person" or "you must certainly kill that person" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹² Whoever strikes a man and he dies, he shall surely be put to death.

UST

¹² If someone hits a man in order to kill him and the man dies, then you absolutely must execute the murderer;

Exodus 21:13

But if he did not lie in wait (ULT)
but if he did not plan the murder (UST)

Alternate translation: "But if he did not plan to do it" or "But if he did not do it on purpose"

then I will appoint a place for you where he can flee (ULT)
the one who hit him can escape to a place that I will choose for you, and he will be safe there (UST)

The purpose for choosing a place can be stated clearly here.

Alternate translation: "I will choose a place to which he can run away to be safe" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹³ But if he did not lie in wait, but God let it happen by his hand, then I will appoint a place for you where he can flee.

UST

¹³ but if he did not plan the murder—if God allowed the accident—the one who hit him can escape to a place that I will choose for you, and he will be safe there.

Exodus 21:14

with cunning (ULT)
on purpose (UST)

Alternate translation: "after thinking carefully about it"

then you shall take him (ULT)
you must kill the murderer (UST)

The word "him" refers to the one who killed his neighbor.

for execution (ULT)
you must kill the murderer (UST)

Alternate translation: "to execute him"

ULT

¹⁴ If a man willfully acts against his neighbor to kill him with cunning, then you shall take him from my altar for execution.

UST

¹⁴ But if someone gets angry with another person and kills him on purpose, you must kill the murderer even if he runs to God's altar.

Exodus 21:15

Whoever hits his father or his mother shall surely be put to death (ULT)

You must kill anyone who strikes his father or mother (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "If anyone hits his father or mother, you must surely put him to death" or "You must surely kill anyone who hits his father or mother" (See: Active or Passive)

surely (ULT)

You must kill (UST)

Alternate translation: "certainly"

ULT

¹⁵ Whoever hits his father or his mother shall surely be put to death.

UST

¹⁵ You must kill anyone who strikes his father or mother.

Exodus 21:16

he shall surely be put to death (ULT)

You must kill (UST)

ULT

16 Whoever steals a man—whether he sells him, or he is found in his hand—he shall surely be put to death.

UST

16 You must kill anyone who kidnaps another person, whether he sold the person or you found him still with the kidnapper.

Exodus 21:17

Whoever acts contemptuously toward his father or his mother shall surely be put to death (ULT)

You must kill anyone who curses or insults his father or his mother (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "You must surely kill anyone who curses his father or his mother" (See: Active or Passive)

Whoever acts contemptuously toward (ULT) anyone who curses or insults (UST)

The word translated acts contemptuously means the opposite of "honor" (as in the commandment to honor one's parents). Alternate translation: "Whoever acts dishonorably toward"

ULT

17 Whoever acts contemptuously toward his father or his mother shall surely be put to death.

UST

17 You must kill anyone who curses or insults his father or his mother.

Exodus 21:18

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

18 If men fight and a man hits his neighbor with a stone or with his fist, and he does not die but falls to bed,

UST

18 Suppose two people fight, and one hits the other with a stone or his fist. Suppose the person he strikes does not die but is injured and has to stay in bed for a while,

Exodus 21:19he rises (ULT)*he is able to walk (UST)

Alternate translation: "he gets better" then...is free (ULT)Then they must not punish (UST)

Alternate translation: "then ... is innocent" for his sitting (ULT)the money he could not earn while he was recovering (UST)

This refers to a situation when someone cannot work to earn money.

You can express this clearly in the translation. Alternate translation: "for the time he could not work" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)and for his complete healing (ULT)*as well as the costs for healing (UST)

Alternate translation: "and for his medical costs" or "and for his costs for healing"

ULT19 if he rises and walks about in the outdoors on his staff, then the striker is free. He only shall pay for his sitting and for his complete healing.UST*19 but later he is able to walk outside using a cane. Then they must not punish the person who hit him, except that they must make him pay the injured person the money he could not earn while he was recovering as well as the costs for healing.

Exodus 21:20

under his hand (ULT) from the blow (UST)

Alternate translation: “because of the injury” or “because the master hit him” he shall certainly be avenged (ULT) then you must avenge the slave’s death (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “you must certainly punish that man” (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

²⁰ And if a man hits his male servant or his female servant with a staff and he dies under his hand, he shall certainly be avenged.

UST

²⁰ If someone hits his male or female slave with a stick, and if the slave dies from the blow, then you must avenge the slave’s death.

Exodus 21:21

for he is his silver (ULT) because the slave was his property (UST)

A common view is that the loss of the valuable property, the slave, is itself a punishment. It may be that the master loses the slave for a time and also has to pay for his healing, or it may be that the slave dies after a few days. You can express clearly in the translation that the servant was valuable to his master. Alternate translation: “because he has already lost his servant who was valuable to him” or “because he has already lost his servant’s work for a time and had to pay for his healing” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²¹ However, if he stands a day or two, he shall not be avenged, for he is his silver.

UST

²¹ But if the slave recovers after a few days, you must not punish the one who hit him, because the slave was his property.

Exodus 21:22

and her children come out, but there is no serious injury (ULT) so that she gives birth, but she and the baby are unharmed (UST)

It is not clear in the passage what happens to the child. The text is simply as in the ULT. Some have taken it to mean that the child dies because of premature birth, and the serious injury only relates to the woman. In this case, a fine is imposed for the loss of the child. However, the text could also mean that the child is born safely. A fine is still imposed because of the great danger to the two lives. Then the next few verses give consequences for any injury either to mother or child.

serious injury (ULT)
but she and the baby are unharmed (UST)

Alternate translation: "hurt"

then he shall surely be fined (ULT)
whoever hit her must pay a fine (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "you must certainly fine the guilty man" or "the guilty man must pay a fine" (See: Active or Passive)

according to the judges (ULT) after a judge approves of the fine (UST)

Alternate translation: "what the judges decide"

ULT

²² And if men fight together and strike a pregnant woman and her children come out, but there is no serious injury, then he shall surely be fined as the husband of the woman puts on him, and he shall give according to the judges.

UST

²² If some men are fighting, and they hit a pregnant woman so that she gives birth, but she and the baby are unharmed, whoever hit her must pay a fine. He must pay whatever the woman's husband asks after a judge approves of the fine.

Exodus 21:23

then you shall give a life for a life (ULT) you must punish him by causing the same harm to him}. If he killed someone, you must kill him (UST)

This means that if someone is hurt, the person who caused the hurt must be hurt in the same way. Alternate translation: “you must take the killer’s life for the murdered person’s life” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²³ But if there is serious injury, then you shall give a life for a life,

UST

²³ But if he harmed anyone {you must punish him by causing the same harm to him}. If he killed someone, you must kill him.

Exodus 21:24

an eye for an eye (ULT)

In the same way, if he harmed} an eye (UST)

This means that if someone is hurt, the person who caused the hurt must be hurt in the same way. Alternate translation: “the striker’s eye for the injured person’s eye” (and repeated in like manner for each example throughout this and the next verse) (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²⁴ an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, a hand for a hand, a foot for a foot,

UST

²⁴ {In the same way, if he harmed} an eye, a tooth, a hand, or a foot,

Exodus 21:25

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁵ a burn for a burn, a wound for a wound, or a bruise for a bruise.

UST

²⁵ or caused a burn, a wound, or a bruise—{you must cause the same harm to him}.

Exodus 21:26

a man (ULT)
the owner of (UST)

Here, man refers to the owner of a slave.

in compensation for (ULT)
because of what he did to the slave's eye (UST)

Alternate translation: "as payment for"

ULT

²⁶ And if a man hits the eye of his male servant or the eye of his female servant and destroys it, he shall let him go free in compensation for his eye.

UST

²⁶ If the owner of a slave strikes the eye of his male or female slave and that eye becomes blind, then he must free that slave because of what he did to the slave's eye.

Exodus 21:27

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁷ And if he knocks out a tooth of his male servant or a tooth of his female servant, he shall let him go free as compensation for the tooth.

UST

²⁷ If someone knocks out one of his slave's teeth, he must free the slave because of what he did to the slave's tooth.

Exodus 21:28an ox gores (ULT)*a bull gores (UST)

Alternate translation: "an ox injures with its horns"

the ox shall surely be stoned (ULT)you must kill the bull by throwing stones at it (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "you must surely stone the ox to death" (See: Active or Passive) and its flesh shall not be eaten (ULT)but do not eat it (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "and you must not eat its flesh" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

²⁸ And if an ox gores a man or a woman and he dies, the ox shall surely be stoned, and its flesh shall not be eaten, but the owner of the ox is innocent.

UST

²⁸ If a bull gores a man or woman with the result that the person dies, you must kill the bull by throwing stones at it, but do not eat it. The owner of the bull is not guilty.

Exodus 21:29

and its owner was warned but did not keep it in (ULT)

and if people had told its owner about that, but he did not keep the bull inside a fence (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state its owner was warned in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “and someone warned its owner but he did not keep it in” (See: Active or Passive)

and its owner was warned but did not keep it in (ULT)

and if people had told its owner about that, but he did not keep the bull inside a fence (UST)

The content of the warning could be made explicit. Alternate translation: “and its owner was warned that it gores but he did not keep it in” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) and its owner also shall be put to death (ULT) and you must also kill its owner (UST)

ULT

²⁹ But if the ox had a habit of goring in the past, and its owner was warned but did not keep it in, and it kills a man or a woman, the ox shall be stoned and its owner also shall be put to death.

UST

²⁹ But if the bull had attacked people several times before and if people had told its owner about that, but he did not keep the bull inside a fence, and it kills a man or woman by goring, then you must kill the bull by throwing stones at it, and you must also kill its owner.

Exodus 21:30

If a ransom is imposed on him, he shall give the ransom of his life, according to all that is imposed on him (ULT)

However, if {the family of the dead} chooses to demand compensation instead, to save his life he must pay the full amount they demand (UST)

The text does not specify who will impose a ransom on the ox's owner. Since other texts indicate that justice is retributive and performed by the dead person's family, that is one option. Another option is that the judges will impose it. One of these can be stated clearly. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

If a ransom is imposed on him...is imposed on him (ULT)

However, if {the family of the dead} chooses to demand compensation instead...the full amount (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. However, you must make a decision regarding who is imposing the ransom or use an unspecified pronoun, if that is possible in your language (This second option would not make sense in English). Alternate translation: "If the judges impose a ransom on him ... they impose on him" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³⁰ If a ransom is imposed on him, he shall give the ransom of his life, according to all that is imposed on him.

UST

³⁰ However, if {the family of the dead} chooses to demand compensation instead, to save his life he must pay the full amount they demand.

Exodus 21:31

it gores...it gores (ULT) attacks and gores...attacks and gores (UST)

Alternate translation: "it injures with its horns ... it injures with its horns"

to him (ULT)
the bull's owner (UST)

Here, him probably refers to the ox's owner. Alternate translation: "to the owner" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

³¹ If it gores a son or it gores a daughter, it shall be done to him according to this ordinance.

UST

³¹ If someone's bull attacks and gores someone's son or daughter, you must treat the bull's owner according to that same rule.

Exodus 21:32thirty silver shekels (ULT)*thirty pieces of silver (UST)

A shekel weighed 11 grams. Alternate translation: “330 grams of silver” (See: Biblical Money)

If the ox gores a male servant (ULT)If a bull attacks and gores a male (UST)

Because they are to kill the ox, the slave must have died. You can make this explicit. Alternate translation: “If an ox kills a male servant” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) and the ox shall be stoned (ULT)and you must kill the bull by throwing stones at it (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “you must kill the ox by stoning it” (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³² If the ox gores a male servant or a female servant, he shall give thirty silver shekels to the master, and the ox shall be stoned.

UST

³² If a bull attacks and gores a male or female slave, its owner must pay to the slave's owner thirty pieces of silver, and you must kill the bull by throwing stones at it.

Exodus 21:33

opens...a cistern (ULT)

uncovers...a hole for storing water (UST)

Alternate translation: "uncovers a hole in the ground" or "takes a cover off a hole in the ground"

ULT

³³ And if a man opens a cistern or if a man digs a cistern and does not cover it and an ox or a donkey falls there,

UST

³³ Suppose someone uncovers a hole for storing water or digs one and does not cover it. If someone's bull or donkey falls into it {and dies},

Exodus 21:34

He shall cause silver to return to its owner (ULT) must give the...animal's owner...as much money as the animal was worth (UST)

The owner must be paid for the loss of his animal. Alternate translation: "he must pay the owner for the dead animal" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

shall compensate (ULT)

must give the...as much money as the animal was worth (UST)

Alternate translation: "must make restitution" and the dead animal shall become his (ULT)

but then he will own the dead animal (UST)

The one who paid for the loss of the animal will become the owner of the dead animal and can do what he wants with it. The full meaning of this statement can be made explicit. Alternate translation: "and the dead animal will belong to the owner of the pit" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

³⁴ the owner of the pit shall compensate. He shall cause silver to return to its owner, and the dead animal shall become his.

UST

³⁴ the owner of the pit must give the animal's owner as much money as the animal was worth, but then he will own the dead animal.

Exodus 21:35

the ox of...and divide...its silver (ULT) bull...and they must divide between them...
the money that they get for it (UST)

Alternate translation: "and divide the money" or "and divide the money they receive"

ULT

³⁵ And if the ox of a man strikes the ox of another and it dies, then they shall sell the live ox and divide its silver, and they shall also divide the dead ox.

UST

³⁵ If someone's bull hurts another person's bull, so that it dies, the owners of both bulls must sell the bull that is living, and they must divide between them the money that they get for it. They must also divide between them the meat of the animal that died.

Exodus 21:36

If it was known (ULT)

However, if the owner knew (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. (See: Active or Passive)

the ox...had a habit of goring in the past (ULT) the bull...often attacked other animals before (UST)

Alternate translation: "the ox had gored other animals before" and its owner has not kept it in (ULT) and he did not secure it, then the owner of that bull (UST)

This means that the owner did not keep his ox safely where it could not wander to hurt other animals. This can be clearly stated in the translation. Alternate translation: "and its owner did not keep it inside a fence" or "and its owner did not tie it securely" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

he shall surely compensate ox for ox (ULT) must give the owner of the bull that died a living bull (UST)

The owner of the ox that killed must give an ox to the man who lost his ox. This can be stated clearly in the translation. Alternate translation: "the owner of the ox that killed must surely give a living ox to the owner of the ox that died" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

³⁶ If it was known that the ox had a habit of goring in the past, and its owner has not kept it in, he shall surely compensate ox for ox, and the dead animal shall become his own.

UST

³⁶ However, if the owner knew that the bull often attacked other animals before, and he did not secure it, then the owner of that bull must give the owner of the bull that died a living bull, but then he will own the dead animal.

Exodus 22

Exodus 22 General Notes

Structure

This chapter continues the list of case laws for Israel. We will not attempt to provide an outline since almost every verse is about a different case.

Translation Issues in this Chapter

Hypothetical situations

Throughout the case law a hypothetical situation is introduced with “when” or “if.” Then there is a description of the situation, and then there is the penalty or action to be taken in those situations. A hypothetical person may be introduced with “anyone” or “whoever.” Most verses for the next several chapters will contain these hypothetical situations. See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

Translators familiar with Hebrew may want to notice that, generally, major divisions are introduced by כִּי (ki) and minor divisions within a topic are introduced by וְ (im).

Passive construction

Many portions of these situations are written in the passive voice. Some languages may have to change all or some of these to active voice. See: Active or Passive.

Exodus 22:1

General Information:

Yahweh continues telling Moses his laws for the people of Israel.

If a man steals an ox or a sheep and slaughters it or sells it (ULT)

If someone steals a bull or a sheep and then kills it or sells it (UST)

This is the first of many hypothetical situations in this chapter, introduced by “when” or if, which you will encounter over the next several chapters. See the introduction. You will need to translate these consistently in a manner that expresses that these situations have not actually happened. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

five...and four (ULT)

five...and...four (UST)

Alternate translation: “5 ... and 4” (See: Numbers)

ULT

¹ If a man steals an ox or a sheep and slaughters it or sells it, he shall compensate five cattle for the ox, and four sheep for the sheep.

UST

¹ If someone steals a bull or a sheep and then kills it or sells it, he must give the owner five bulls or cows for the bull that he stole, and he must give the owner four sheep or goats for the sheep that he stole.

Exodus 22:2

If a thief is found while breaking in (ULT)
If someone finds a thief breaking into his house {at night (UST)}

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "If anyone finds a thief while he is breaking in" (See: Active or Passive)

while breaking in (ULT) breaking into his house {at night (UST)}

Alternate translation: "while using force to enter a house"

and he is struck and he dies (ULT) and hits him and the thief dies (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "if anyone strikes the thief so that he dies" (See: Active or Passive)

there is no bloodguilt for him (ULT)
he is not guilty of murder (UST)

Alternate translation: "no one will be guilty of murdering him"

ULT

² If a thief is found while breaking in, and he is struck and he dies, there is no bloodguilt for him.

UST

² If someone finds a thief breaking into his house {at night} and hits him and the thief dies, he is not guilty of murder.

Exodus 22:3

But if the sun has risen on him (ULT)

But if that happens during the daytime (UST)

Alternate translation: "But if it is light before he breaks in" or "But if he breaks in and it is after sunrise"

then he shall be sold for his theft (ULT)

the judges must sell him to become a slave, and the money from his sale will pay for what he stole (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "you must sell him as a slave in order to pay for what he stole" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³ But if the sun has risen on him, there is bloodguilt for him. shall surely make restitution. If he has nothing, then he shall be sold for his theft.

UST

³ But if that happens during the daytime, the one who killed the thief is guilty of murdering him. thief must pay for what he stole. If he has nothing with which to pay for what he stole, the judges must sell him to become a slave, and the money from his sale will pay for what he stole.

Exodus 22:4

If the stolen thing is actually found...in his hand...alive (ULT)

In a case where you catch a thief and he still has the stolen goods...and it is still alive (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "If they find that he still has the live animal that he stole" (See: Active or Passive)

he shall compensate double (ULT)
the thief must pay back the stolen animal as well as another one of the same kind (UST)

The meaning of compensate double is not entirely clear. Most interpretations follow the UST, that is, two animals total must be given, the stolen one and one more. Some interpret double to mean the thief must pay two animals for every animal that he took, so three total. It would be best to leave double as ambiguous as possible. Alternate translation: "he must compensate twice what he stole"

ULT

⁴ If the stolen thing is actually found alive in his hand, from an ox to a donkey to a sheep, he shall compensate double.

UST

⁴ In a case where you catch a thief and he still has the stolen goods, if it is a bull or a donkey or a sheep, and it is still alive, the thief must pay back the stolen animal as well as another one of the same kind.

Exodus 22:5

causes...to graze...and it grazes (ULT) puts his animals...to eat...and eat the plants (UST)

Alternate translation: "causes to eat plants ... and it eats plants"

his livestock...it (ULT)
the...animals (UST)

Livestock is a collective singular noun that could refer to cows, goats, sheep, or basically any domesticated animals. In some languages you will need to translate it as a plural. (See: Collective Nouns)

he shall compensate (ULT)
the owner of the animals must pay the owner of that field by giving him (UST)

Alternate translation: "he must pay back the owner of that field"

ULT

⁵ If a man causes his livestock to graze a field or vineyard and lets it go, and it grazes in the field of another, he shall compensate from the best of his field and from the best of his vineyard.

UST

⁵ If someone puts his animals in his field or in his vineyard to eat, and he allows the to animals stray away and eat the plants in another person's field, the owner of the animals must pay the owner of that field by giving him the best from his own field or vineyard.

Exodus 22:6

If a fire breaks out and spreads in thorns and...is consumed (ULT)

If someone starts a fire, and it spreads through the grass and starts burning...and the fire burns (UST)

Here, breaks out and consumes can be stated in active form or in another way that is natural in your language if your language does not use the passive form in this way. Alternate translation: "If someone starts a fire, and it spreads in thorns, and it consumes" (See: Active or Passive) and spreads in thorns (ULT) and it spreads through the grass (UST)

Alternate translation: "and moves along the ground through dry plants"

stacked grain (ULT)
grain that is already cut and stacked (UST)

This is grain that has been cut and tied in bundles. Alternate translation: "bundled grain" or "harvested grain" (See: Translate Unknowns)

the standing grain (ULT)
grain that is growing (UST)

This is grain that has not been cut, but it is ready to be harvested. Alternate translation: "the grain still growing in the field" (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁶ If a fire breaks out and spreads in thorns and stacked grain or the standing grain or a field is consumed, the fire starter shall surely compensate.

UST

⁶ If someone starts a fire, and it spreads through the grass and starts burning in someone else's field, and the fire burns grain that is growing or grain that is already cut and stacked, then the person who started the fire must pay for the grain that the fire destroyed.

Exodus 22:7

for safekeeping (ULT) and asks him...keep it in his house for a while
(UST)

Alternate translation: "to watch over it" or "to keep it safe"

and if it is stolen (ULT)
And suppose that a thief steals it (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "if someone steals it" (See: Active or Passive)

if the thief is found (ULT)
If you catch the thief (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "if you find the thief" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

⁷ If a man gives silver or goods to his neighbor for safekeeping, and if it is stolen from the house of the man, if the thief is found, he shall compensate double.

UST

⁷ Suppose that someone gives another person some money or other items and asks him to keep it in his house for a while. And suppose that a thief steals it from that person's house. If you catch the thief, the thief must pay back twice as much as he stole.

Exodus 22:8

If the thief is not found, then the owner of the house shall be brought to God (ULT)

But if no one catches the thief, you must bring the owner of the house to God (UST)

You may need to translate these in an active voice if your language does not use passive in this way. Alternate translation: "If no one finds the thief, bring the owner of the house to God" (See: Active or Passive)

God (ULT)

God (UST)

The word for God at its most literal means "great ones." Here and in the next verse it may have this basic meaning and refer to human judges or other leaders in Israel. It may also be a metonym and refer to the judges because they represent God to the people and have his authority. See Exodus 21:6 for another example of this. Alternate translation: "the judges" (See: Metonymy)

he has stretched out his hand against the property of his neighbor (ULT)
he did...take his neighbor's property (UST)

This is an idiom for stealing. If you have a way of saying this in your language, you can use it here. Alternate translation: "he has stolen his neighbor's property" (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁸ If the thief is not found, then the owner of the house shall be brought to God, whether or not he has stretched out his hand against the property of his neighbor.

UST

⁸ But if no one catches the thief, you must bring the owner of the house to God so he {can swear} that he did not take his neighbor's property.

Exodus 22:9matter of...matter of (ULT)*Whenever someone claims his neighbor wronged him...Whenever someone claims his neighbor wronged him (UST)

Alternate translation: "dispute of ... the dispute of"

Surely this is it (ULT)This...is actually mine (UST)

Alternate translation: "This is mine" or "This is my missing property"

God...God (ULT)God...God (UST)

The word used here for God, at its most literal, means "great ones." Here and in the previous verse it may have this basic meaning and refer to human judges or other leaders in Israel. It may also be a metonym and refer to the judges because they represent God to the people and have his authority. See Exodus 21:6 for another example of this. Alternate translation: "the judges" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁹ Concerning every matter of transgression, concerning an ox, concerning a donkey, concerning a sheep, concerning clothing, concerning every lost property about which someone says, "Surely this is it," the matter of both parties shall come to God. Whomever God declares guilty shall compensate his neighbor double.

UST

⁹ Whenever someone claims his neighbor wronged him and says, 'This is actually mine,' about a bull, a donkey, a sheep, clothing, or something else he lost, they must both come and stand before God. The one whom God says is wrong must pay back the owner twice as much as he took.

Exodus 22:10or is hurt...is carried away (ULT) something injures it or takes it away (UST)

is carried away (ULT) takes it away (UST)

Here, carried away means that it is not a thief but a wild animal that takes the ox or sheep away (to eat it). See verse 12 for cases where the animal is stolen while in another's care.

ULT

¹⁰ If a man gives to his neighbor a donkey or an ox or a sheep or any animal to keep, and it dies or is hurt or is carried away without a witness,

UST

¹⁰ Suppose someone gives his donkey or bull or sheep or some other animal to someone else and asks him to take care of it for a while. However, the animal dies, or something injures it or takes it away while no one is watching.

Exodus 22:11

there shall be an oath of Yahweh between both of them...Its owner must accept (ULT)
Then the person who was taking care of the animal must swear, knowing that Yahweh is listening...The owner of the animal must accept that the other person is telling the truth (UST)

Only the man who is accused of stealing the animal must swear the oath. The owner of the lost animal must accept the oath that has been sworn. If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "the man who was caring for the animal must swear an oath before Yahweh ... and the owner must accept that oath" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹¹ there shall be an oath of Yahweh between both of them, whether or not he stretched out his hand against the property of his neighbor. Its owner must accept, and he shall not compensate.

UST

¹¹ Then the person who was taking care of the animal must swear, knowing that Yahweh is listening, that he did not steal the item. The owner of the animal must accept that the other person is telling the truth, and the other person will not have to pay anything back to the owner.

Exodus 22:12

But if it was truly stolen from him (ULT)
But if someone stole the animal while he was supposed to be taking care of it (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "But if someone stole the animal from him" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹² But if it was truly stolen from him, he shall compensate its owner.

UST

¹² But if someone stole the animal while he was supposed to be taking care of it, the man who promised to take care of it must pay back the owner for the animal.

Exodus 22:13

If it was truly torn (ULT)

If wild animals mauled the animal (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "But if a wild beast tore the animal in pieces" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹³ If it was truly torn, he shall bring it as evidence. He shall not compensate for what was torn.

UST

¹³ If wild animals mauled the animal, he must bring back its remains to prove that what he says is true. If he does that, he will not have to pay anything for the mauled animal.

Exodus 22:14

he shall surely compensate (ULT)
the one who borrowed it must pay the owner for the animal (UST)

Alternate translation: “must certainly repay with another animal” or “must certainly pay the owner for the animal”

and it is injured or dies (ULT) and if something hurts or kills that animal
(UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language, as modeled in the UST.(See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹⁴ If a man borrows from his neighbor and it is injured or dies without the owner with it, he shall surely compensate.

UST

¹⁴ If someone borrows an animal from his neighbor, and if something hurts or kills that animal when its owner is not there, the one who borrowed it must pay the owner for the animal.

Exodus 22:15if...was for hire (ULT)
If someone rented (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "if someone rented the animal" (See: Active or Passive)

it came for its hiring fee (ULT) the money that he paid to rent it will be enough to pay for the animal dying or for an injury (UST)

The one who borrowed the animal will not have to pay the owner anything more than the hiring or rental fee. This fee will pay for the loss of the animal. This can be stated clearly in the translation. Alternate translation: "the money that someone paid to rent the animal will cover the loss of the animal" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) for its hiring fee (ULT) the money that he paid to rent it will be enough to pay for the animal dying or for an injury (UST)

Alternate translation: "for its rental fee" or "for the money paid to rent the animal"

ULT

¹⁵ If its owner was with it, he shall not compensate; if it was for hire, it came for its hiring fee.

UST

¹⁵ But if that happens when the owner of the animal is there, the one who borrowed it will not have to pay back anything. If someone rented it, the money that he paid to rent it will be enough to pay for the animal dying or for an injury.

Exodus 22:16

If a man seduces a virgin who is not engaged (ULT)

If a man tricks a virgin girl whose {father} has not yet promised her to be anyone's bride (UST)

Alternate translation: "If a man persuades a virgin who is not engaged that she wants to lie with him"

not engaged (ULT)
has not yet promised her to be anyone's bride (UST)

Alternate translation: "not promised to be married" and if he lies (ULT) into having sexual intercourse (UST)

Lying with someone refers to having sex. This is a polite way of referring to something unpleasant. If this would be misunderstood in your language, use a different polite way of referring to this or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: "if he has sex with her" (See: Euphemism)

he shall surely pay her bride price (ULT)
he must pay the bride price (UST)

The bride price was money paid to the family to compensate for the loss of their daughter.

ULT

16 If a man seduces a virgin who is not engaged, and if he lies with her, he shall surely pay her bride price to make her his wife.

UST

16 If a man tricks a virgin girl whose {father} has not yet promised her to be anyone's bride into having sexual intercourse with him, he must pay the bride price for her and marry her.

Exodus 22:17

to him...he shall weigh out (ULT)

him...he must still pay the girl's father (UST)

These pronouns refer back to the man who seduced the virgin. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

¹⁷ If her father completely refuses to give her to him, he shall weigh out silver equal to the bride price of virgins.

UST

¹⁷ But if her father does not allow her to marry him, he must still pay the girl's father as much money as men pay to marry a virgin.

Exodus 22:18

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

18 You shall not allow a sorceress to live.

UST

18 You must kill any woman who practices sorcery.

Exodus 22:19

Any liar with an animal (ULT) any person who has sexual intercourse with an animal (UST)

This refers to sexual relations. This is a polite way of referring to something unpleasant. If this would be misunderstood in your language, use a different polite way of referring to this or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: "Whoever has sexual relations with an animal" (See: Euphemism)

ULT

¹⁹ Any liar with an animal shall surely be put to death.

UST

¹⁹ You must kill any person who has sexual intercourse with an animal.

Any liar with an animal shall surely be put to death (ULT) You must kill any person who has sexual intercourse with an animal (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state be put to death in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "You must surely execute whoever lies with an animal" (See: Active or Passive)

Exodus 22:20

shall be completely destroyed (ULT)

You must kill (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation (placed at the beginning of the sentence): "You must completely destroy" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

²⁰ A sacrificer to the gods except to Yahweh alone shall be completely destroyed.

UST

²⁰ You must kill anyone who offers a sacrifice to any god other than Yahweh.

Exodus 22:21You shall not wrong (ULT)*You must not abuse (UST)

Alternate translation: "You must not mistreat" or "You must not cheat" for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt (ULT)because you were foreigners in Egypt (UST)

The Israelites are called to remember their previous condition, that they lived as foreign guests in Egypt. They came first to avoid the famine in Jacob and Joseph's time and were dependent on Egyptian hospitality. Later they were wronged and oppressed, and they are not to do that to those who sojourn with them. You may need to make this explicit. Alternate translation: "for you were wronged and oppressed as sojourners in the land of Egypt" or "for you also depended on hospitality while you lived as sojourners in Egypt" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²¹ You shall not wrong a sojourner and you shall not oppress him, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt.

UST

²¹ You must not abuse or subjugate foreigners, because you were foreigners in Egypt.

Exodus 22:22

You shall not afflict any widow or fatherless child (ULT)

You must not mistreat any widow or any orphan (UST)

This can be stated in positive form. Alternate translation: "You must treat all widows and fatherless children fairly" (See: Double Negatives) widow (ULT)

widow (UST)

Alternate translation: "woman whose husband has died"

or fatherless child (ULT)

or any orphan (UST)

Alternate translation: "or child with no parents"

ULT

²² You shall not afflict any widow or fatherless child.

UST

²² You must not mistreat any widow or any orphan.

Exodus 22:23

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²³ If you actually afflict them, and if they actually cry out to me, I will surely hear their cry,

UST

²³ If you mistreat them and they ask me to help them, I will help them.

Exodus 22:24

and my nose will burn (ULT) Because I will be angry with you (UST)

This is an idiom meaning that Yahweh will be angry. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “and I will become very angry” (See: Idiom) with the sword (ULT) in war (UST)

To be killed with the sword is a metonym that means a person will die violently, perhaps while fighting in a war. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: “violently” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁴ and my nose will burn, and I will kill you with the sword; your wives will become widows, and your sons will become fatherless.

UST

²⁴ Because I will be angry with you, I will cause you to die in war. Your wives will become widows, and your children will become orphans.

Exodus 22:25

like a creditor (ULT)

like a moneylender (UST)

Alternate translation: "like one who lends money"

you shall not put interest on him (ULT) not...by requiring...him...to pay interest on the money (UST)

Alternate translation: "you must not charge him extra money for borrowing" or "you must not charge him extra money for the loan"

ULT

²⁵ If you lend silver to my people, the poor with you, you shall not be like a creditor to him—you shall not put interest on him.

UST

²⁵ If you lend money to any of my people who are poor, do not act like a moneylender by requiring him to pay interest on the money.

Exodus 22:26

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁶ If you actually take the clothing of your neighbor in pledge, you shall return it to him before the sun goes down,

UST

²⁶ If you make him give you his cloak to guarantee that he will pay the money back, you must give the cloak back to him before the sun goes down,

Exodus 22:27

is his only covering (ULT) is the only thing...he has to cover (UST)

Alternate translation: "is his only coat" or "is his only garment to keep him warm"

In what will he lie down (ULT) when he sleeps (UST)

This question adds emphasis. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "He will have nothing to wear while he sleeps!" (See: Rhetorical Question)

ULT

²⁷ for it is his only covering; it is his clothing for his skin. In what will he lie down? And it will be when he cries to me, that I will hear him, for I am gracious.

UST

²⁷ because his cloak is the only thing he has to cover his body when he sleeps. When he complains about you to me, I will help him because I am merciful.

Exodus 22:28

You shall not act contemptuously toward God (ULT)

Do not insult God (UST)

Alternate translation: "Do not insult God" or "Do not speak evil about God" and you shall not curse a ruler of your people (ULT) and do not call on God to do harmful things to any ruler of your people (UST)

Alternate translation: "and do not ask God to do bad things to your ruler"

ULT

²⁸ You shall not act contemptuously toward God, and you shall not curse a ruler of your people.

UST

²⁸ Do not insult God, and do not call on God to do harmful things to any ruler of your people.

Exodus 22:29

You shall not hold back (ULT) Do not withhold from me (UST)

This can be stated in a positive form. Alternate translation: "You must bring all of your offerings" (See: Double Negatives)

ULT

²⁹ You shall not hold back from your full harvest or your presses. You shall give the firstborn of your sons to me.

UST

²⁹ Do not withhold from me the best parts of the grain that you harvest or of the olive oil or the wine that you produce. You will give your firstborn sons to me.

Exodus 22:30

Seven (ULT)

After those animals are born...for seven (UST)

Alternate translation: "7" (See: Numbers)

on the eighth day (ULT)

On the eighth day (UST)

This can be written as a numeral. Alternate translation: "on day number 8" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

³⁰ You shall do the same to your ox and to your sheep. Seven days it will be with its mother; on the eighth day you shall give it to me.

UST

³⁰ Similarly, your firstborn male cattle and sheep belong to me. After those animals are born, allow them to stay with their mothers for seven days. On the eighth day you will give them to me.

Exodus 22:31

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³¹ And you shall be men of holiness to me. And you shall not eat animal-torn-in-the-field meat. You shall throw it to the dogs.

UST

³¹ You are my set apart people, so do not eat any meat from any animal that a wild animal killed. Instead, throw it where the dogs can eat it.

Exodus 23

Exodus 23 General Notes

Structure

This chapter continues the list of case laws for Israel. It also touches on the patterns of life regarding the Sabbaths (verses 10-12) and Festivals (verses 14-19). At verse 20 Yahweh begins telling them about their future as they go to and live in the promised land.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Celebrations of feasts and festivals

The people of Israel were required to celebrate certain feasts and festivals. These were part of the law of Moses, and some are described in this chapter. Their purpose was to worship Yahweh and to remember the great things Yahweh has done for them.

Exodus 23:1

General Information:

Yahweh continues telling Moses his laws for the people of Israel.

You shall not take up a report of emptiness (ULT)

Do not speak falsely in court (UST)

This could be translated differently to avoid the abstract nouns report and emptiness. Alternate translation: "You must not report emptily" or "You must not report falsely" (See: Abstract Nouns)

a report of emptiness (ULT)

Do...speak falsely in court (UST)

Alternate translation: "a false testimony"

You shall not put your hand with the wicked (ULT)

Do not help an evil man (UST)

Here, to put your hand with the wicked means to support the lies that he is telling in order to harm someone else. The image is of putting out your hand to help him, to make him stronger than he would be on his own. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "You must not assist the wicked" (See: Idiom)

a witness of violence (ULT)

by testifying...maliciously (UST)

Here, violence can also mean "wrong." Either way, it means to harm another person by committing injustice (violence to justice) by lying. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "a false witness" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹ You shall not take up a report of emptiness. You shall not put your hand with the wicked to be a witness of violence.

UST

¹ Do not speak falsely in court. Do not help an evil man by testifying maliciously.

Exodus 23:2nor shall you testify (ULT)*Do not tell (UST)

Alternate translation: "and you also must not speak"

You shall not follow a crowd into evil (ULT)Do not join a group of people who are planning to do something evil (UST)

This is a metaphor that describes one's agreeing with a group of people as if he actually walked behind that group. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "You must not do the evil that the crowd wants" or "You must not agree with the majority for evil" (See: Metaphor)

to turn aside...that turns aside (ULT)and so keep the judge from deciding the case justly...the same lies they do (UST)

The phrase "from justice" is omitted twice but should be understood in both cases. Alternate translation: "to turn aside from justice ... that turns aside from justice" (See: Ellipsis)

to turn aside...that turns aside (ULT)and so keep the judge from deciding the case justly...the same lies they do (UST)

Here, to turn aside means to do illegal or immoral actions that result in a unjust ruling. Alternate translation: "to pervert justice ... that perverts justice"

ULT

² You shall not follow a crowd into evil, nor shall you testify on legal matters to turn aside behind the crowd that turns aside.

UST

² Do not join a group of people who are planning to do something evil. Do not tell the same lies they do and so keep the judge from deciding the case justly.

Exodus 23:3

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³ And you shall not favor the poor in his lawsuit.

UST

³ Do not prefer someone in court just because he is poor.

Exodus 23:4

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴ If you meet the ox of your enemy or his donkey going astray, you shall certainly bring it back to him.

UST

⁴ If you see someone's bull or donkey when it is wandering away loose, take it back to its owner even if the owner is your enemy.

Exodus 23:5

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁵ If you see the donkey of someone who hates you fallen to the ground under its load, you shall refrain from leaving him. You shall surely release it with him.

UST

⁵ If you see someone's donkey that has fallen down because of its heavy load, help the owner to get the donkey up again even if he is someone who hates you. Do not just walk away without helping him.

Exodus 23:6

You shall not turn aside justice for your poor in his lawsuit (ULT)

Decide the cases of poor people who are on trial as fairly as you judge the cases of other people (UST)

Alternate translation: "Do not decide to treat a poor man unjustly in legal matters" in his lawsuit (ULT)

the cases of...who are on trial (UST)

Here, in his lawsuit refers to any matter that a court decides.

ULT

⁶ You shall not turn aside justice for your poor in his lawsuit.

UST

⁶ Decide the cases of poor people who are on trial as fairly as you judge the cases of other people.

Exodus 23:7

You shall be far from a word of deception

(ULT)

Do not deceive others (UST)

Here distance is used figuratively to tell the Israelites to have no part in deception. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “Do not speak deceptively” or “Do not join a false matter” (See: Metaphor) and...the innocent or righteous (ULT)

guiltless or upright people (UST)

These two terms mean very similar things, both of which contrast with the wicked later in the verse. If your language does not use repetition in this way, you could combine these phrases. Alternate translation: “and ... the person who has not done anything wrong or the person who always does what is right” or “and ... the person who does right and not wrong” (See: Doublet)

I will not justify the wicked (ULT)

I will not say that evil people are good (UST)

Alternate translation: “I will not find the wicked not guilty” or “I will not say that a wicked person is innocent”

ULT

⁷ You shall be far from a word of deception, and you shall not kill the innocent or righteous, for I will not justify the wicked.

UST

⁷ Do not deceive others. Do not kill guiltless or upright people, because I will not say that evil people are good.

Exodus 23:8

for the bribe blinds the clear-sighted, and it perverts the words of the righteous (ULT) because good judges who take bribes do not judge wisely, and they unfairly judge against the person who is right (UST)

Here, a “bribe” is described as if it could take action itself that negatively affects justice. Alternate translation: “for if you do, an evil person can give money to blind the clear-sighted and to pervert the words of the righteous” (See: Personification)

for the bribe blinds the clear-sighted, and it perverts the words of the righteous (ULT) because good judges who take bribes do not judge wisely, and they unfairly judge against the person who is right (UST)

To blind the clear-sighted is a metaphor that means causing those who know what is right to act like they do not. And perverts the words of the righteous could mean causes those who would speak the truth (in court) to lie or causes the judge to give an evil judgment or causes those listening to the words of the righteous to choose to act as if they had heard something different. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “for a bribe causes those who understand the right thing to do not to do it and causes good men to speak lies” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

⁸ And you shall not take a bribe, for the bribe blinds the clear-sighted, and it perverts the words of the righteous.

UST

⁸ Do not accept a bribe, because good judges who take bribes do not judge wisely, and they unfairly judge against the person who is right.

Exodus 23:9

the soul of the foreigner (ULT)
how foreigners often feel (UST)

Alternate translation: "the feelings of the foreigner"

ULT

⁹ And you shall not oppress a foreigner, since you yourself know the soul of the foreigner, for you were foreigners in the land of Egypt.

UST

⁹ Do not mistreat foreigners who live among you. You know how foreigners often feel, because you lived as foreigners in Egypt.

Exodus 23:10

its produce (ULT)
the harvest (UST)

Alternate translation: "the food its plants produce"

And six (ULT)
For six (UST)

Alternate translation: "And 6" (See: Numbers)

ULT

¹⁰ And six years you shall sow your land and gather its produce.

UST

¹⁰ For six years, plant seeds in your ground and gather the harvest.

Exodus 23:11But the seventh (ULT)*But in the seventh year (UST)Alternate translation: "But the 7th" (See: Ordinal Numbers)you shall let it drop and leave it alone (ULT)*you must leave the ground fallow (UST)This means to leave the land fallow, that is, in its natural state, unplowed, unplanted, not used to grow food. (See: Translate Unknowns)and the poor of your people shall eat (ULT)*Allow your poor countrymen to eat {what grows on its own (UST)The poor can eat any food that grows on its own in a field that is not cultivated. This can be stated clearly in the translation. Alternate translation: "so the poor among your people may harvest and eat any food that grows on its own in that field" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)ULT*11 But the seventh you shall let it drop and leave it alone, and the poor of your people shall eat. And the living things of the field shall eat the remainder. You shall do thus to your vineyard and to your olive orchard.UST*11 But in the seventh year you must leave the ground fallow. Allow your poor countrymen to eat {what grows on its own}. Whatever is left over is for the wild animals to eat. Do the same thing with your grapevine and your olive trees.

Exodus 23:12

your ox and your donkey (ULT)
your ox and donkey (UST)

Alternate translation: "your work animals"

Six (ULT)
for six (UST)

Alternate translation: "6" (See: Numbers)

the seventh (ULT)
the seventh day...The rest day (UST)

Alternate translation: "the 7th" (See: Ordinal Numbers) and the son of your female slave and the sojourner may be refreshed (ULT) will also let your slaves and the foreigners who live among you recuperate (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "and the son of your female slave and the sojourner may refresh themselves" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹² Six days you shall do your work, and on the seventh day you shall rest so that your ox and your donkey may rest, and the son of your female slave and the sojourner may be refreshed.

UST

¹² You may work for six days each week, but on the seventh day you must rest and not work. Do this so that your ox and donkey may rest. The rest day will also let your slaves and the foreigners who live among you recuperate.

Exodus 23:13

You shall take heed to (ULT)
Make certain that you obey (UST)

Alternate translation: "Do" or "Obey"

You shall not mention the names of other gods, nor let them be heard on your mouth
(ULT)

Do not pray to other gods. Do not even mention their names (UST)

These two instructions mean almost the same thing. It may be more clear to combine them in some languages. Alternate translation: "Be sure never to speak the names of other gods" (See: Parallelism)

You shall not mention the names of other gods, nor let them be heard on your mouth (ULT)

Do not pray to other gods. Do not even mention their names (UST)

These parallel phrases probably mean praying to other gods. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "Do not pray to other gods, never let me hear you do that" (See: Metonymy)

nor let them be heard on your mouth (ULT)

Do not pray to (UST)

To be on your mouth means to speak. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "nor speak them" (See: Metonymy)

nor let them be heard on your mouth (ULT)

Do not pray to (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Also see previous note. Alternate translation: "nor speak them so someone could hear them" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹³ You shall take heed to everything that I have said to you. You shall not mention the names of other gods, nor let them be heard on your mouth.

UST

¹³ Make certain that you obey everything that I have commanded you to do. Do not pray to other gods. Do not even mention their names.

Exodus 23:14

three (ULT)

three (UST)

Alternate translation: "3" (See: Numbers)

ULT

14 You shall celebrate me three times every year.

UST

14 Every year you must travel to three celebrations to honor me:

Exodus 23:15Aviv (ULT)*Aviv (UST)

Aviv is the name of the first month of the Hebrew calendar. Aviv is during the last part of March and the first part of April on Western calendars. See how you translated this in Exodus 13:4. (See: Hebrew Months)

seven (ULT)for seven (UST)

Alternate translation: "7" (See: Numbers)

And you shall not appear at my face empty-handed (ULT)Do not come to worship me without bringing an offering (UST)

Understatement is used here to emphasize that the Israelites must bring a suitable offering to Yahweh. Alternate translation: "You must not come to me without a proper offering" or "You must always bring an offering to me" (See: Double Negatives)

ULT

15 You shall keep the Festival of Unleavened Bread. You shall eat unleavened bread seven days, as I commanded you, at the appointed time, the month of Aviv, for in it you came out from Egypt. And you shall not appear at my face empty-handed.

UST

15 Celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread the way that I commanded you: eat unleavened bread for seven days in the month called Aviv. I set this time because it is the month when you left Egypt. Do not come to worship me without bringing an offering.

Exodus 23:16

And {you shall keep} the Festival of the Harvest (ULT)

The second celebration is the Spring} Harvest Celebration (UST)

Elsewhere this is called the “Festival of Weeks.” See Exodus 34:22 and Deuteronomy 16:9 and following.

And {you shall keep} the Festival of...the Gathering (ULT)

The second celebration is the...Finished Harvest Celebration (UST)

This festival celebrated the final harvesting of all the crops for the year. This festival was also known as the Festival of Shelters or the Festival of Booths. The idea came from the practice of the farmers living in temporary booths, or huts, out in the fields to guard the crop as it ripened. See Deuteronomy 16:13. Alternate translation: “And the Festival of the Ingathering”

in the exiting of the year (ULT)

That will be at the end of the year (UST)

The phrase in the exiting of the year means at the end of the year. The year is pictured as something that is leaving. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “as the year goes out” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁶ And {you shall keep} the Festival of the Harvest, {bringing} the first fruits of your labors which you sowed in the field. And {you shall keep} the Festival of the Gathering in the exiting of the year, {bringing} in your gathering of your labors from the field.

UST

¹⁶ {The second celebration is the Spring} Harvest Celebration. {During that celebration you must offer to me} the first parts of your crops that grow from the seeds that you planted. {The third celebration is} the Finished Harvest Celebration. That will be at the end of the year, after you finish harvesting everything you planted.

Exodus 23:17

All your males must appear before the Lord Yahweh

Here, to appear to the face of the Lord Yahweh means to gather to worship. To the face is a metonym for Yahweh's presence, referring to worship. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "must come to worship the Lord Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁷ Three times in a year, all your males shall appear to the face of the Lord Yahweh.

UST

¹⁷ These three times every year, all the men must gather together to worship me, the Lord Yahweh.

Exodus 23:18

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

18 You shall not sacrifice the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread, and the fat of my festival shall not remain all night until morning.

UST

18 Do not sacrifice bread you made with yeast along with blood from an animal sacrifice. Do not keep the fat from the animals you sacrificed at my celebration until the next morning. {Burn it completely.}

Exodus 23:19

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

19 You shall bring the first of the firstfruits of your ground to the house of Yahweh your God. You shall not boil a young goat in the milk of its mother.

UST

19 {Each year, when you harvest your crops,} take the best of what you harvest first, go to the place where you worship me, and give it to me, Yahweh your God. {When you kill} a young animal, do not cook it by boiling it in its mother's milk.

Exodus 23:20

before your face (ULT) ahead of you (UST)

This means "in front of you." Alternate translation: "in front of you"
(See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁰ Behold, I am about to send an angel before your face to guard you on the way and to bring you to the place that I have prepared.

UST

²⁰ Look! I am going to send an angel ahead of you to guard you as you travel and to lead you to the place that I have made ready for you.

Exodus 23:21

Be guarded from his face (ULT)

Respect (UST)

This means to respect him; from his face refers to his person. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "Show respect to him" (See: Metonymy)

Be guarded from his face (ULT)

Respect (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "Pay attention to him" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

²¹ Be guarded from his face and listen to his voice. Do not cause bitterness in him, for he will not bear with your transgressions, for my name is within him.

UST

²¹ Respect and obey him. Do not make him angry, because he will not forgive your sin, because my authority and presence is in him.

Do not cause bitterness in him, for he will not bear with your transgressions, for my name is within him (ULT)

Do not make him angry, because he will not forgive your sin, because my authority and presence is in him (UST)

There are two reasons given for the instruction do not cause bitterness in him. They are connected in such a way that you could say: "Because my name is within him, he will not forgive your transgressions; therefore, do not cause bitterness in him." The relation of the name and forgiveness is not explicit. Alternate translation: "If you provoke him, he will not pardon your sins, for my name is within him" (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship) my name is within him (ULT)

my authority and presence is in him (UST)

Here, name refers to God's authority. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "he has my authority" (See: Metonymy) and listen to his voice (ULT)

and obey him (UST)

Here, voice represents what the angel says. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "and obey what he says" (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 23:22

if you indeed heed his voice (ULT)
if you obey his commands well (UST)

Here, voice represents what the angel says. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "if you carefully obey what he says" (See: Metonymy)

then I will be an enemy to your enemies and I will be an adversary to your adversaries (ULT)
I will fight against all of your enemies and adversaries (UST)

These two phrases mean the same thing and are used for emphasis. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

²² For if you indeed heed his voice and do everything that I speak, then I will be an enemy to your enemies and I will be an adversary to your adversaries.

UST

²² But if you obey his commands well and if you do all that I tell you to do, I will fight against all of your enemies and adversaries.

Exodus 23:23

before your face (ULT) ahead of you (UST)

This phrase, before your face, means “in front of you.” Alternate translation: “in front of you” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²³ For my angel will go before your face and bring you to the Amorites and the Hittites and the Perizzites and the Canaanites, the Hivites and the Jebusites. I will annihilate them.

UST

²³ Then my angel will go ahead of you and will take you to where the Amor, Heth, Periz, Canaan, Hiv, and Jebus people groups live, and I will completely get rid of them.

Exodus 23:24

and you shall not do as they do (ULT)
Do not do the things that they {think that their gods want them to} do (UST)

The Israelites must not live as the people who worship other gods. Alternate translation: “and you must not live as the people live who worship those gods” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²⁴ You shall not bow down to their gods, and you shall not serve them, and you shall not do as they do. For you shall completely overthrow them and completely smash their stone pillars.

UST

²⁴ Do not bow down before their gods or worship them. Do not do the things that they {think that their gods want them to} do. Instead, destroy {their gods} and smash to pieces their sacred stones.

Exodus 23:25and he will bless your bread and your water*(ULT)If you do that, I will bless your food and water(UST)

Here, your bread and your water is a merism that means food and drink. Alternate translation: “and he will bless your food and drink” or “and he will bless you by giving you food and drink” (See: Merism) and he will bless (ULT)If you do that, I will bless (UST)

Yahweh switched between the first and third pronoun to refer to himself. Here both “he” and “I” refer to Yahweh. (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

²⁵ And you shall serve Yahweh your God, and he will bless your bread and your water. And I will remove sickness from among you.

UST

²⁵ You must worship me, Yahweh your God. If you do that, I will bless your food and water, and I will protect you from becoming sick.

Exodus 23:26

There will not be a miscarriage or a barren woman (ULT)

No women...will have miscarriages, and no women will be unable to become pregnant (UST)

This can be stated in positive form. Alternate translation: "Every woman will be able to become pregnant and give birth to healthy babies" (See: Double Negatives)

a miscarriage (ULT)

miscarriages (UST)

to have a pregnancy end early and unexpectedly, resulting in the death of the baby

I will fulfill the number of your days (ULT)

I will enable you to live a long time (UST)

This is an idiom that means to live a long time. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "I will give you a long life" (See: Idiom)

ULT

²⁶ There will not be a miscarriage or a barren woman in your land. I will fulfill the number of your days.

UST

²⁶ No women in your land will have miscarriages, and no women will be unable to become pregnant. I will enable you to live a long time.

Exodus 23:27before your face (ULT)*I will go} ahead of you (UST)

This means “ahead of you.” Alternate translation: “before you” (See: Metonymy) and I will give the back of the neck of all of your enemies to you (ULT)When you fight} your enemies, I will make them run away from you (UST)

This is an idiom meaning that the enemies will turn and run away (showing the Israelites the backs of their necks). If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “and I will make all of your enemies flee” (See: Idiom)

ULT

²⁷ I will send my terror before your face, and I will confuse all of the people into whom you will go, and I will give the back of the neck of all of your enemies to you.

UST

²⁷ {I will go} ahead of you and terrify and confuse all the people into whose {lands} you are going. {When you fight} your enemies, I will make them run away from you.

Exodus 23:28before your face...from before your face (ULT) ahead of you...from your land (UST)

This means “ahead of you.” Alternate translation: “before you ... from before you” (See: Metonymy)

the hornet (ULT)
wasps (UST)

The hornet is a flying insect that can sting people and cause pain. (See: Translate Unknowns)

the hornet...and it will drive out (ULT) wasps...who will drive (UST)

Here, hornet is used in the singular but refers to a large group of the flying, stinging insects. It agrees in number with hornet. It may be necessary to translate as a plural. Alternate translation: “hornets ... and they will drive out” (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

²⁸ And I will send the hornet before your face, and it will drive out the Hivites, Canaanites, and the Hittites from before your face.

UST

²⁸ I will send wasps ahead of you who will drive the Hiv, Canaan, and Heth people groups from your land.

Exodus 23:29

from before your face (ULT) I will...remove all of them (UST)

This means “ahead of you.” Alternate translation: “from before you” (See: Metonymy) lest the land become desolate (ULT) If I did that, your land would become deserted (UST)

You could make the rest of the idea explicit if it would help. Alternate translation: “lest the land become desolate because no one would be living in the land” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²⁹ I will not drive them out from before your face in one year, lest the land become desolate and the animals of the field become too many for you.

UST

²⁹ I will not remove all of them in less than one year. If I did that, your land would become deserted, and there would be very many wild animals that would attack you.

Exodus 23:30

from before your face (ULT)

I will remove those people groups (UST)

This means “ahead of you.” Alternate translation: “from before you”
(See: Metonymy)

ULT

³⁰ I will drive them out little by little from before your face until you become fruitful and possess the land.

UST

³⁰ I will remove those people groups slowly, a few at a time, until the number of your people increases and you are able to live everywhere in the land.

Exodus 23:31

from before your faces (ULT) as you occupy more of the country (UST)

This means “ahead of you.” Alternate translation: “from before you”
(See: Metonymy)

ULT

³¹ And I will set your borders from the sea of reeds to the sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the river. For I will give the inhabitants of the land into your hand. And you will drive them out from before your faces.

UST

³¹ I will make your country's borders be from the Red Sea {in the southeast} to the {Mediterranean} Sea by the Philistines {in the northwest}, and from the wilderness {of Sinai in the southwest} to the {Euphrates} River {in the northeast of the country}. I will give you the power to remove the people who live there, so that you will remove them as you occupy more of the country.

Exodus 23:32

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³² You shall not make a covenant with them or with their gods.

UST

³² You must not make any agreement with those people or with their gods.

Exodus 23:33

Surely it will become a snare for you (ULT) by enticing you (UST)

This means worshiping other gods will lead the people of Israel to certain destruction, as if they were an animal caught in a hunter's trap. It could also be saying that leaving the other people around will make it so that the Israelites see the other people's worship and are lured (like in a trap) into worshiping the other gods, which is a sin against Yahweh. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "Worshiping them will surely destroy you" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

³³ They shall not live in your land, lest they cause you to sin against me; for you will serve their gods. Surely it will become a snare for you."

UST

³³ Do not allow those people to live in your land, so they do not cause you to sin against me by enticing you to worship their gods."

Exodus 24

Exodus 24 General Notes

Structure

1. Yahweh summons Moses v. 1-2

2. Moses reads the covenant and the people accept it; this is ritually marked by sacrifice and sprinkling of blood v. 3-8

3. Moses and Israelite elders go up the mountain, see God and eat v. 9-11

4. Yahweh summons Moses further up the mountain without the other elders, and he goes v. 12-15

5. Description of Yahweh's glory, and Moses is at the top of the mountain v. 16-18

Potential Translation Issues

- there are a number of similes used to describe people's encounter with God

- "covenant" appears in a variety of ways

- the mountain, the mountain of God, and Mount Sinai are all the same location

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Moses' covenant

The people of Israel promise to obey the covenant Yahweh made with Moses. Their continued blessings were contingent upon their obedience to this covenant. (See: promise, promised and covenant)

God's holiness

Because Yahweh is perfectly holy, he can only be approached in a certain way. Because of this, only Moses was allowed near Yahweh. This is also why Yahweh is described as a "devouring fire." (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Exodus 24:1

Nadab...Abihu

A new scene begins here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Nadab and Abihu (ULT) and {his sons} Nadab and Abihu (UST)

Nadab and Abihu are men's names. See how you translated these names in Exodus 6:23. (See: How to Translate Names) to Yahweh (ULT) to me {on top of this mountain} (UST)

Yahweh refers to himself in the third person. You may change it to first person if it would be unclear in your language. Alternate translation: "to me" (See: First, Second or Third Person) and seventy (ULT) Also take along seventy of (UST)

Alternate translation: "and 70" (See: Numbers) and you shall bow down (ULT) You will all worship me (UST)

Here, "to me" is implied. You may make it explicit if it would be unclear in your language. Alternate translation: "and you shall bow down to me" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹ And he said to Moses, "Come up to Yahweh—you and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu and seventy from the elders of Israel, and you shall bow down from a distance.

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses. "Come up to me {on top of this mountain}, you and Aaron and {his sons} Nadab and Abihu. Also take along seventy of the Israelite elders. You will all worship me at an {appropriate} distance.

Exodus 24:2

and they (ULT)

The others (UST)

The pronoun they refers to all the other people mentioned in verse 1. Alternate translation: “and Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, and the elders” (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

to Yahweh (ULT)

to me (UST)

Yahweh refers to himself in the third person. You may change it to first person if it would be unclear in your language. Alternate translation: “to me” (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

² And Moses alone shall come near to Yahweh, and they shall not come near, and the people shall not come up with him.”

UST

² Moses, you will come near to me alone. The others must not come near, and the rest of the people must not come up the mountain with you.”

Exodus 24:3

with one voice

Verses 3-8 tell of a different scene than the rest of the chapter, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. It seems that there were some preparations needed before Moses and the elders could go up to meet Yahweh. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

with one voice

See Exodus 19:8 for how you translated a very similar event.

with one voice (ULT) replied together (UST)

Here, with one voice is an idiom that means the people were in complete agreement. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “together” or “in agreement” (See: Idiom)

ULT

³ And Moses went and recounted to the people all of the words of Yahweh and all of the ordinances. And all of the people answered with one voice and said, “We will do all the things that Yahweh has spoken.”

UST

³ Moses went and told the people everything that Yahweh had said and all that he had commanded. The people all replied together, saying, “We will do everything that Yahweh has told us to do.”

Exodus 24:4

at the bottom of the mountain (ULT) at the bottom of the mountain (UST)

Alternate translation: "at the base of the mountain" and twelve...according to the twelve (ULT)

He also set up twelve...one for each of the (UST)

Alternate translation: "and 12 ... according to the 12" (See: Numbers)

ULT

⁴ And Moses wrote all of the words of Yahweh. And he rose early in the morning and built an altar at the bottom of the mountain and twelve stone pillars according to the twelve tribes of Israel.

UST

⁴ Then Moses wrote down everything that Yahweh had commanded. Moses woke early the next morning and built an altar at the bottom of the mountain. He also set up twelve stones, one for each of the Israelite tribes.

Exodus 24:5

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁵ He sent the young men of the sons of Israel, and they offered burnt offerings and sacrificed peace offerings of bulls to Yahweh.

UST

⁵ Then he sent some young Israelite men to burn sacrifices to Yahweh and to sacrifice some bulls as offerings to promise friendship with Yahweh.

Exodus 24:6

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁶ And Moses took half of the blood and put it into basins and sprinkled half of the blood onto the altar.

UST

⁶ Moses took half of the blood of the animals that they slaughtered and put it in bowls. The other half of the blood he threw against the altar.

Exodus 24:7

the book of the Covenant (ULT)
the scroll on which he had written everything that Yahweh and the people were promising each other (UST)

Here, book does not mean something in our modern format. It was likely a piece of papyrus (an early form of paper made from reeds) or animal skin that rolled up. Alternate translation: “the Covenant he had written down” (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁷ And he took the book of the Covenant and read it aloud in the ears of the people. And they said, “We will do and hear all that Yahweh has spoken.”

UST

⁷ Then he loudly read the scroll on which he had written everything that Yahweh and the people were promising each other so all the people could hear it. Then all the people said, “We will do everything that Yahweh has told us to do. We will obey everything.”

Exodus 24:8

the blood (ULT)

the blood...that was in the bowls (UST)

This refers to the blood that Moses had put into the bowls. This can be stated clearly. See UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

according to all of these words (ULT)

what you just heard and agreed to (UST)

These words refers to what Moses just read aloud to them, that is, Yahweh's commands. You can make this more clear. Alternate translation: "which I just read aloud to you and you agreed to" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁸ And Moses took the blood and sprinkled it onto the people. And he said, "Behold! the blood of the covenant that Yahweh has cut with you according to all of these words."

UST

⁸ Then Moses took the blood {that was in the bowls} and threw it on the people. He said, "This is the blood that confirms what Yahweh is agreeing with you—what you just heard and agreed to."

Exodus 24:9

Nadab...Abihu

A new scene begins with this verse, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. Here the narrative is connected to verse 2. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

Nadab and Abihu (ULT) along with Nadab, Abihu (UST)

Nadab and Abihu are men's names. See how you translated these names in Exodus 6:23. (See: How to Translate Names)

And...went up (ULT) went up {the mountain} (UST)

The men went up the mountain. You can state this clearly. See UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁹ And Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu and seventy from the elders of Israel went up.

UST

⁹ Then Moses and Aaron along with Nadab, Abihu, and the seventy Israelite elders went up {the mountain},

Exodus 24:10And under his feet (ULT)*Under his feet (UST)

And under his feet speaks of God as if he had human feet. (See: Personification) tile...of (ULT)a pavement (UST)

a hard surface for walking or riding sapphire (ULT)made of blue stones called sapphires (UST)

A sapphire is a gemstone that is blue in color. If there is a blue gemstone that your people are familiar with, you may use it here, as the exact gemstone is not certain. You may also describe it. Alternate translation: "a blue gemstone" (See: Translate Unknowns) and its substance was as the sky in purity (ULT)They were as clear as the sky is when there are no clouds (UST)

This is a simile. Alternate translation: "and it was blue like the sky" (See: Simile)

ULT

¹⁰ And they saw the God of Israel. And under his feet was like tile made of sapphire, and its substance was as the sky in purity.

UST

¹⁰ and they saw God, the one whom the Israelites worship. Under his feet was something like a pavement made of blue stones called sapphires. They were as clear as the sky is when there are no clouds.

Exodus 24:11

And he did not send out his hand to the leaders of the sons of Israel (ULT)
God did not harm those Israelite elders {even though they saw him (UST)}

Here, his hand refers to his judgement. This means that God did not harm the leaders. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "God did not harm the Israelite leaders" (See: Metonymy)

And he did not send out his hand to the leaders of the sons of Israel (ULT)
God did not harm those Israelite elders {even though they saw him (UST)}

What would be expected is that they would die if they saw God. The Israelite elders ability to see God and live is unexpected. Be sure your translation conveys that. Alternate translation: "However, he did not send out his hand to the leaders of the sons of Israel" (See: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions)

ULT

11 And he did not send out his hand to the leaders of the sons of Israel. And they saw God, and they ate and drank.

UST

11 God did not harm those Israelite elders {even though they saw him}. They saw God, and they ate and drank together.

Exodus 24:12

to teach them (ULT)
so that you may teach them to the people
(UST)

This means so that Moses and the other Israelite leaders could teach the laws and commandments to the Israelite people. You may need to make this clear. See UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹² And Yahweh said to Moses, "Come up to me to the mountain and be there. And I will give you the tablets of stone and the law and the commandments that I have written to teach them."

UST

¹² Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Come up to me on top of this mountain and wait there. I will give you stone slabs, my law, and my commandments, all of which I have written so that you may teach them to the people."

Exodus 24:13

and...Joshua (ULT)

with...Joshua (UST)

Joshua is introduced here again. Use the natural form in your language for reintroducing a character. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants) and his servant Joshua (ULT) with his assistant Joshua (UST)

The word translated servant here is usually associated with a higher position, like a government minister. Avoid using a word that implies a lower class serving role. Alternate translation: "and Joshua his assistant"

ULT

¹³ And Moses and his servant Joshua got up, and Moses went up to the mountain of God.

UST

¹³ Then Moses started out with his assistant Joshua. He went {part of the way} up the mountain where God was.

Exodus 24:14

And he had said to the elders (ULT)

Moses told the elders (UST)

The structure of the Hebrew indicates but does not require that this speech by Moses happened before verse 13 (hence had said). The ULT takes this view, however, for languages where it is hard to express events out of order, the UST reflects the other grammatical possibility and says in 24:13 that Moses started up the mountain and in 24:15 that he went the rest of the way up the mountain. Following this, you can view this verse as if Moses paused and gave these final instructions as he was leaving the elders behind, thus keeping a sequential structure. Either approach is permissible by the text, but the approach of the ULT is preferred, if possible. (See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship)

us (ULT)

Stay (UST)

Alternate translation: "Joshua and me"

and Hur (ULT)

and Hur (UST)

Hur is a man's name. See how you translated this name in Exodus 17:10. (See: How to Translate Names)

And behold (ULT)

Do not forget that (UST)

Behold is used to draw attention to important information that Moses is about to tell them. It is frequently omitted. If your language uses a statement to draw attention to important information, you should consider using it here. Alternate translation: "Remember"

Whoever is a master of words (ULT)

so if anyone disputes {with his neighbor while I am gone (UST)

This is an idiom that means that someone has a legal dispute or complaint. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "Whoever has a legal claim" or "Anyone with a law case" (See: Idiom)

ULT

14 And he had said to the elders, "Wait for us in this place until we return to you. And behold! Aaron and Hur are with you; Whoever is a master of words may come near to them."

UST

14 Moses told the elders, "Stay here until we return. Do not forget that Aaron and Hur will be with you, so if anyone disputes {with his neighbor while I am gone}, he can go to them {and they will judge it}."

Exodus 24:15

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁵ And Moses went up to the mountain, and a cloud covered the mountain.

UST

¹⁵ Then Moses went {the rest of the way} up the mountain, and the cloud covered the mountain.

Exodus 24:16

the glory of Yahweh (ULT)

Yahweh's glory (UST)

This was the brilliant light of Yahweh's presence. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: "the brilliant light showing Yahweh's presence" (See: Metonymy)

six (ULT)

for six (UST)

Alternate translation: "6" (See: Numbers)

on the seventh day (ULT)

On the seventh day (UST)

Alternate translation: "on day number 7" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

ULT

¹⁶ And the glory of Yahweh settled on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it six days. And on the seventh day he called to Moses from within the cloud.

UST

¹⁶ Yahweh's glory came down onto the mountain and the cloud covered it for six days. On the seventh day, Yahweh called to Moses from the middle of the cloud.

Exodus 24:17

was like a devouring fire (ULT)

like a fire consuming (UST)

This means the glory of Yahweh was very large and seemed to burn brightly, like a fire. Alternate translation: "like a big fire burning" (See: Simile) in the eyes of the sons of Israel (ULT)

To the Israelites...looked (UST)

Their eyes represent seeing, and seeing represents their thoughts or judgment about what they saw. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. See how you translated a similar expression in 15:26. Alternate translation: "to the Israelites" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁷ And the appearance of the glory of Yahweh was like a devouring fire on the top of the mountain in the eyes of the sons of Israel.

UST

¹⁷ To the Israelites, Yahweh's glory looked like a fire consuming the top of the mountain.

Exodus 24:18

40 days and 40 nights (ULT) for 40 days and nights (UST)

Alternate translation: "forty days and forty nights" (See: Numbers)

ULT

¹⁸ And Moses entered the middle of the cloud and went up to the mountain. And Moses was on the mountain 40 days and 40 nights.

UST

¹⁸ Moses went into the cloud on top of the mountain and was there for 40 days and nights.

Exodus 25

Exodus 25 General Notes

Structure:

- v. 1-7: Instructions for gifts the Israelites may give to help build the place where they will worship God
- v. 8-9: Introductory building instructions
- v. 10-22: Instructions for building the Box of the Testimony
- v. 23-30: Instructions for building the table
- v. 31-39: Instructions for building the lampstand
- v. 40: Summary instruction

Special Concepts in this Chapter

The tent of meeting and Box of the Testimony are introduced in this chapter. Translators will need to take special care in translating the concept of atonement.

Potential Translation Issues in this Chapter:

There are many unfamiliar items in this chapter. Fortunately they are mostly all physical items. Translators will have to try to understand what each item is and translate it into the closest equivalent in their culture. It may be helpful for translators to try to find images depicting some of the items the Israelites were to make. There are some biblical weights and measurements that translators may not have encountered before. From verse 11 until the end of chapter 30, almost every instruction regarding the construction of the tent of meeting and all the associated items are given with a singular form of “you,” as if Moses himself would make them. However, it is clear and made explicit in chapter 31 that certain skilled craftsmen will receive these instructions from Moses and make these items. In some languages you may need to change from second to third person throughout, following the pattern in 25:10. There are a few exceptions which will have their own note. See: First, Second or Third Person and Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups.

Exodus 25:1

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹ Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 25:2

Speak (ULT)

Tell...that (UST)

The beginning of this verse marks the start of a very long direct quote which continues until the end of Exo 30:10. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with an opening first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the beginning of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

Speak to the sons of Israel, and they shall take a contribution for me (ULT)

Tell the Israelites that...may give a gift to me (UST)

In some languages you may have to make and they shall take a contribution for me a direct quote. Note that this will make it a second-level quotation and you will need to mark it with second-level quotation marking if your language uses them. Alternate translation: "Say to the sons of Israel, 'You shall take a contribution for me.'" (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations) whose heart incites him (ULT)

who wants to (UST)

This is an idiom that indicates a person's desire to give an offering. Many languages will have a similar idiom, though the body part may vary. Alternate translation: "who wants to give one" (See: Idiom)

You shall take (ULT)

You will receive (UST)

The word you is plural and refers to Moses and the leaders. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

ULT

² "Speak to the sons of Israel, and they shall take a contribution for me. You shall take my contribution from every man whose heart incites him.

UST

² "Tell the Israelites that everyone who wants to may give a gift to me. You will receive their gifts for me.

Exodus 25:3

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³ And these are the contributions that you shall receive from them: gold and silver and bronze

UST

³ These are the types of gifts that you should collect from them: gold, silver, bronze,

Exodus 25:4

and blue and purple and worm of scarlet (ULT) cloth dyed} blue, {cloth dyed} purple, {cloth dyed} bright red (UST)

This could mean: (1) “material that is dyed blue, purple, and scarlet,” probably wool yarn, or (2) “blue, purple and scarlet dye” to dye the linen. The original audience would have known what was meant. This material seems to have been used for embroidery later, so “yarn” or “thread” may be the best understanding. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

and worm of scarlet (ULT) cloth dyed} bright red (UST)

A bright red color for dyeing cloth was extracted from these worms. Alternate translation: “and bright red” (See: Translate Unknowns)

Exodus 25:5

reddened (ULT)

red (UST)

When animal skins are tanned (processed into usable leather), they become reddish in color. It is not clear whether these hides are dyed red or simply reddened in the tanning process. Alternate translation: "tanned" (See: Translate Unknowns)

sea cows (ULT)

fine leather hides (UST)

The meaning of this word is not known. It may refer to some water mammal that has skin that can be made into a high-quality leather. Sea cows on Wikipedia (See: Translate Unknowns)

acacias (ULT)

the hard wood from acacia trees (UST)

A small tree with spreading foliage and durable wood. See on Wikipedia (See: Translate Unknowns)

An onyx is a valuable stone that has layers of white and black, red or brown. If this stone is unknown to your people, consider translating it by using a word for a familiar stone with a similar pattern, if possible. (See: Translate Unknowns) and precious stones for (ULT) other expensive stones (UST)

Alternate translation: “and valuable gems for” or “and treasured gems for”

ULT

⁷ stones of onyx and precious stones for settings for the ephod and for the breastpiece.

UST

⁷ onyx stones and other expensive stones for fastening to the priest's sacred apron and for putting on the chest pouch that attaches to the apron.

Exodus 25:8

Exodus 25:9you (ULT)*you (UST)

Here, you is singular and refers to Moses. (See: Forms of You) its utensils (ULT)the things that they will use inside it (UST)

Here, utensils is a general term that you could translate by a broad term that could encompass all of the things used in the dwelling, as described in this and the several following chapters. Alternate translation: "its implements"

you shall make it (ULT)They must make (UST)

Here, you is plural and refers to Moses and the people of Israel. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form here. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

you shall make it (ULT)They must make (UST)

Since Moses does not construct these items himself, you may consider shifting the instructions to the third person if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: "they shall make it" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

Exodus 25:11

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

11 And you shall overlay it {with} pure gold, inside and outside you shall overlay it, and you shall make on it a border of gold around {it}.

UST

11 Cover the chest with pure gold inside and outside and put a gold molding all around it.

Exodus 25:12

And you shall cast four rings of gold for it (ULT)

Make four rings from gold (UST)

Casting rings was a process in which gold was melted, poured into a mold that was in the shape of a ring, and then allowed to cool and harden. If this sort of metal-working process is unknown to your people, you may simply describe it, or use a word meaning “make,” as the UST does. The UST approach is preferred, as the creation process is not in focus here, and it would be cumbersome to include the description in the text. You could use a word meaning “make,” and include the description in a footnote if you are including those and your team feels it is important to understand. Alternate translation: “You shall make four rings of gold by melting the gold and pouring it into molds” (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹² And you shall cast four rings of gold for it and put {them} on its four feet: two rings on its one side and two rings on its second side.

UST

¹² Make four rings from gold, and fasten them to the four legs of the chest. Put two of the rings on each side of the chest.

¹³ Make two poles from acacia wood, and cover them with gold.

Exodus 25:14

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

14 And you shall put the poles into the rings on the sides of the box, to carry the box with them.

UST

14 Put the poles into the rings on the sides of the chest so that {the Levites} can carry the chest by the poles.

Exodus 25:15

The poles shall be in the rings of the ark; they shall not be removed from it (ULT)

Always leave the poles in the chest's rings; do not take the poles out of the rings (UST)

These two phrases mean similar things. Yahweh is saying the same thing in two different ways to emphasize how important this command is. If it is confusing for your readers to repeat both phrases, you can combine them and show the emphasis in a different way. Alternate translation: "The poles belong in the rings of the box; no one is ever to remove them" (See: Parallelism)

The poles shall be in the rings of the ark; they shall not be removed from it (ULT)

Always leave the poles in the chest's rings; do not take the poles out of the rings (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language, as seen in the UST. (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹⁵ The poles shall be in the rings of the ark; they shall not be removed from it.

UST

¹⁵ Always leave the poles in the chest's rings; do not take the poles out of the rings.

Exodus 25:16

ULT

17 And you shall make an atonement lid of pure gold—its length: two cubits and a half; and its width: a cubit and a half.

UST

17 You must make a lid for the chest from pure gold. It will be 125 centimeters long and 75 centimeters wide.

Exodus 25:18

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

18 And you shall make two gold cherubim. You shall make them of hammered work from the two ends of the atonement lid.

UST

18 Hammer the gold at both ends of the lid into the form of two creatures that have wings.

Exodus 25:19

You shall make the cherubim from the atonement lid on its two ends (ULT)
Make...the winged creatures {from the gold} at each end of the sacred chest's lid (UST)

This seems to indicate that the cherubim should be formed out of the same piece of gold as the rest of the lid. It may, however, mean that at the end they should be one piece, so the gold should be heated to melting and the lid and cherubim joined together.

Alternate translation: "You shall join the cherubim to the atonement lid on its two ends"

ULT

¹⁹ And make one cherub from this end and one cherub from this end. You shall make the cherubim from the atonement lid on its two ends.

UST

¹⁹ Make the winged creatures {from the gold} at each end of the sacred chest's lid, one at one end and the other at the other end.

Exodus 25:20

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁰ And the cherubim shall be spreading out their wings upward, covering over the atonement lid with their wings and their faces {shall} each {be} toward his brother. The faces of the cherubim shall be toward the atonement lid.

UST

²⁰ The creature's wings should spread out and reach up to cover the lid. They should face each other, facing the chest's lid that is between them.

Exodus 25:21

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²¹ And you shall put the atonement lid on the box from above, and you shall put into the box the Testimony that I give to you.

UST

²¹ Put the stone slabs that I am giving you inside the sacred chest. Then place the lid onto the top of the chest.

Exodus 25:22

Here, you is singular and refers to Moses. If you have been using a plural you for Yahweh's commands which have been to give to others, make sure you use the singular form of "you" here. (See: Forms of You)

ULT

²² And I will meet with you there and I will speak with you all that I will command you for the sons of Israel from above the atonement lid, from between the two cherubim which are above the Box of the Testimony.

UST

²² I will set times to talk with you there. I will tell to you all my commands that you must command the Israelites from above the sacred chest's lid, between the two winged creatures which are above the sacred chest that contains my law tablets.

UST

²⁶ Make four rings from gold. Fasten them to the four corners of the table. Each ring should be close to each table leg

Exodus 25:27

to house (ULT) are to hold (UST)

Here, to house the poles means that the rings will hold the poles. Since the rings are where the poles belong for use when carrying the table, the rings are figuratively in their house. If your language has a similar idiom meaning “place of belonging,” you may use it, or you may translate the idea. Alternate translation: “to be a place for” (See: Idiom)

ULT

²⁷ The rings shall be close to the rim to house the poles to carry the table.

UST

²⁷ near the rim. They are to hold poles for carrying the table.

Exodus 25:28and the table shall be carried with them (ULT)*Use them to carry the table (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "And you shall carry the table with them" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

²⁸ And you shall make the poles {out of} wood of acacias and cover them {with} gold, and the table shall be carried with them.

UST

²⁸ Make two poles from acacia wood and cover them with gold. Use them to carry the table.

Exodus 25:29

its plates and its pans and its pitchers and its bowls (ULT) dishes, cups, jars, and bowls (UST)

We do not know precisely what these dishes were. It is likely that the plates were mostly flat dishes for holding the bread that would be on the table. The pans may have been shallow bowls or deep plates for holding incense, or they may have been something more like a ladle or spoon. The pitchers probably held wine to be poured into the bowls for the drink offerings. You will need to translate using the closest word for each such item in your culture. (See: Translate Unknowns) with which it will be poured out (ULT)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “you shall make” (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³¹ And you shall make a lampstand of pure gold. The lampstand—its base and its shaft—shall be made of hammered work. Its cups, its buds, and its blossoms shall be from it.

UST

³¹ Make a lampstand from pure gold. Hammer {one large lump of gold} to make its base and its shaft. Make the cups, with the flower buds and petals {that decorate them}, from that same lump.

Exodus 25:32

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³² And six branches go out from its sides—three branches of the lampstand from the one side and three branches of the lampstand from the second side.

UST

³² There are to be six branches on the lampstand, three on each side of the shaft.

Exodus 25:33

shaped like almond blossoms (ULT) that look like almond flowers (UST)

An almond blossom is a white or pink flower that has five petals. (An almond is a kind of nut.) You may want to include a short description as a footnote or in the text (if that is your translation style) the first time this object is encountered. Alternate translation: “shaped like the five-petaled almond flower” (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

³³ Three cups, shaped like almond blossoms, shall be on the one branch, a bulb, and a blossom. And three cups, shaped like almond blossoms, shall be on the one branch, a bulb, and a blossom—thus for the six branches going out from the lampstand.

UST

³³ Each branch will have three gold cups that look like almond flowers on it. The flowers will have buds and petals. Do this for all six branches of the lampstand.

Exodus 25:34

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁴ And on the lampstand there shall be four cups shaped like almond blossoms {with} its bulbs and its blossoms,

UST

³⁴ On {the shaft of} the lampstand there are to be four cups that also look like almond blossoms, each one with flower buds and petals.

Exodus 25:35

And a bulb will be under two of the branches from it, and a bulb will be under two of the branches from it, and a bulb will be under two of the branches from it—for all six branches extending out from the lampstand (ULT)

Here, face figuratively represents the location of the lampstand.
Alternate translation: "so they shine light near it" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³⁷ And you shall make its seven lamps, and it will hold up its lamps, and it will make light on the side of its face.

UST

³⁷ Make seven lamps and place them on the lampstand so that its light shines all around it.

Exodus 25:38

You can convert this weight to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A talent weighs about 33 kilograms. (See: Biblical Weight)

ULT

³⁹ He shall make it, all these items, from a talent of pure gold.

UST

³⁹ Use 33 kilograms of pure gold to make the lampstand, the tongs, and the trays.

Exodus 25:40

See and make (ULT)

Make sure to make {these things} (UST)

All the items described in this chapter are included in what Moses is told to see and make. You could make that explicit in your translation if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: "See and make everything I have described" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

See and make (ULT)

Make sure to make {these things} (UST)

Here, see relates to observing or overseeing. Essentially, Yahweh is telling Moses to be careful as he observes the pattern on the mountain and as he sees the craftsmen of Israel working on these items, so that they are made correctly. Alternate translation: "Observe carefully and work exactly" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁴⁰ See and make by the pattern that you are being shown on the mountain.

UST

⁴⁰ Make sure to make {these things} according to the instructions that I am giving you here on this mountain.

Exodus 26

Exodus 26 General Notes

- The sacred tent has four layers (from inside to out): linen, goats' hair, tanned rams' skins, and fine leather.

- There are multiple different curtains described using three different Hebrew words: one sort of curtains to make the walls of the tent (verses 1-13), another to separate the Holy Place and Most Holy Place (verses 31-34), and another for the entrance of the sacred tent (verses 36-37). If there are words in your language that would make a distinction between these sorts of hanging cloths, it would be appropriate to make a distinction in your translation.

Structure and Formatting

This chapter is a continuation of the material in the previous chapter.

- v. 1-30: Instructions for constructing the exterior of the sacred tent
- * v. 1-6: Inner covering
- * v. 7-14: Outer covering layers
- * v. 15-30: Wooden framework
- v. 31-35: Instructions for arranging the interior of the sacred tent
- v. 36-37: Instructions for hanging the entrance curtain

Special Concepts in this Chapter

The tent of meeting

This chapter gives specific instructions regarding the building of a tent where Moses would meet Yahweh and the box would be stored. This would eventually become the dwelling. Note: "tabernacle" is simply an English word transcribed from the Latin for "tent," which translates the Hebrew for "dwelling place and which has taken on religious significance via the King James Version of the Bible. The terms "tabernacle" and "tent" should be considered interchangeable. It was to be considered a very holy place. (See: tabernacle and holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Exodus 26:1you shall make (ULT)*make (UST)

Yahweh is speaking to Moses, so the word you is singular. Yahweh probably expected Moses to tell someone else to do the actual work, but Moses would be the one responsible for seeing that the work was done correctly. Alternate translation: “, tell a craftsman to make” (See: Forms of You) and blue and purple and worm of scarlet (ULT)blue, purple, and red thread (UST)

This could mean: (1) “material that is dyed blue, purple, and scarlet,” probably wool yarn, or (2) “blue, purple and scarlet dye” to dye the linen. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 25:4.

and worm of scarlet (ULT)and red thread (UST)

A bright red color for dying cloth was extracted from these worms. Alternate translation: “and bright red” (See: Translate Unknowns) twisted fine linen (ULT)finely twisted linen (UST)

This was cloth made from fine linen threads that someone twisted together to make a stronger thread. (See: Translate Unknowns)

a skilled craftsman (ULT)A skilled craftsman must take...and embroider these hangings (UST)

a person who is skilled in making beautiful objects by hand

ULT

¹ And the dwelling you shall make with ten curtains: twisted fine linen and blue and purple and worm of scarlet; cherubim—the work of a skilled craftsman you shall make them.

UST

¹ As for the sacred tent, make it using ten long hangings of finely twisted linen. A skilled craftsman must take blue, purple, and red thread, and embroider these hangings with designs that represent the winged creatures that are above the chest.

Exodus 26:2

28 cubits...4 cubits (ULT)

14. 5 meters...two meters (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 12.9 meters ... 184 centimeters. (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

² The length of each curtain shall be 28 cubits and the width of each curtain shall be 4 cubits. All of the curtains shall be one size.

UST

² Make each hanging 14. 5 meters long and two meters wide. Make them all the same size.

Exodus 26:3

Five of the curtains shall be joined each to another and five of the curtains joined each to another (ULT)

Sew five hangings together {as one set}, and sew the other five hangings together {as another set (UST)}

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "Join five of the curtains each to another, and join five of the curtains each to another." (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³ Five of the curtains shall be joined each to another and five of the curtains joined each to another.

UST

³ Sew five hangings together {as one set}, and sew the other five hangings together {as another set}.

Exodus 26:4

Alternate translation: "in one set of five curtains"

in the second set (ULT)

For each...set...them...each...set (UST)

Alternate translation: "in the other set of five curtains"

ULT

⁴ And you shall make loops of blue on the edge of the first curtain from the edge in the set. And you shall do thus along the edge of the end curtain in the second set.

UST

⁴ For each set, make loops of blue cloth and fasten them along the outer edge of the hanging, at the end of each set.

Exodus 26:5

woman to her sister (ULT) to each other (UST)

This is an idiom meaning “to each other.” If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “one to the other” (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁵ You shall make 50 loops on the first curtain, and you shall make 50 loops on the end of the curtain which is in the second set. The loops should be opposite woman to her sister.

UST

⁵ Put 50 loops on the edge of the first set, and 50 loops at the edge of the second set so that the loops are opposite to each other.

Exodus 26:6

And you shall make 50 clasps of gold and join the curtains woman to her sister (ULT)
Make 50 gold fasteners and fasten both of the sets together (UST)

The clasps fit into the loops (verses 4 and 5) to hold the curtains together.

woman to her sister (ULT) together (UST)

This is the same idiom as in the previous verse, meaning together. Alternate translation: “to each other” (See: Idiom)

one (ULT)
one unit (UST)

Alternate translation: “as though it were one piece”

ULT

⁶ And you shall make 50 clasps of gold and join the curtains woman to her sister with the clasps, and the dwelling will be one.

UST

⁶ Make 50 gold fasteners and fasten both of the sets together with them to make the sacred tent one unit.

Exodus 26:7

for a tent (ULT)

a cover (UST)

This refers to a outer tent over the sacred tent. Alternate translation: "for an outer tent"

11 (ULT)

11 (UST)

Alternate translation: "eleven" (See: Numbers)

ULT

⁷ And you shall make curtains of goats' hair for a tent over the dwelling. You shall make 11 of these curtains.

UST

⁷ Make a cover for the sacred tent from 11 pieces of cloth made from goats' hair.

Exodus 26:8

30...4...11 (ULT)

15...two...11 (UST)

Alternate translation: "thirty ... four ... eleven" (See: Numbers)

30 cubits...4 cubits (ULT)

15 meters...two meters (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46cm. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 13.8 meter ... 184 centimeters (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

⁸ The length of each curtain {shall be} 30 cubits, and the width of each curtain {shall be} 4 cubits. The 11 curtains {shall be} the same size.

UST

⁸ Each of the 11 pieces of cloth will be the same dimensions: 15 meters long and two meters wide.

Exodus 26:9

at the front of the face of the tent (ULT) the front of the cover (UST)

Here, face is probably referring to the entrance of the tent. The opening for the protective tent and the sacred tent would have been coordinated so they were in the same place. Alternate translation: "in front of the entrance of the tent" (See: Metonymy)

the tent (ULT) the cover (UST)

As in verse 7, the tent refers to the outer tent over the sacred tent. Alternate translation: "the outer tent"

ULT

⁹ And you shall join five curtains to each other and six curtains to each other. And you shall double over the sixth curtain at the front of the face of the tent.

UST

⁹ Sew five of these pieces of cloth together {to make one set}, and sew the other six pieces of cloth together {to make another set}. Fold the sixth piece of cloth in half to make it double over the front of the cover.

Exodus 26:10

loops

See how you translated a very similar text in Exodus 26:4.

ULT

10 And you shall make 50 loops on the edge of the one end curtain in the joined set and 50 loops on the edge of the curtain in the second joined set.

UST

10 Make {100 loops of blue cloth,} and fasten 50 of them to the outer edge of the one set and fasten 50 to the outer edge of the other set.

Exodus 26:11

the clasps (ULT)

the hooks (UST)

The clasps fit into the loops to hold the curtains together. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:6. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

11 And you shall make 50 clasps of bronze and put the clasps in the loops and join them and the tent will be one.

UST

11 Make 50 bronze hooks and fasten the hooks to the loops to connect them, so the cover will be one unit.

Exodus 26:12

the half (ULT)

the half (UST)

The word half means one part out of two equal parts. (See: Fractions)

ULT

¹² And the remaining excess curtain of the tent, the half curtain remaining, shall hang over the back of the dwelling.

UST

¹² Let the extra part of the tent cover, the half piece that extends beyond the linen cloth, hang over the back side of the sacred tent.

Exodus 26:13

And a cubit...and a cubit (ULT)

The...half-meter...The...half-meter (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 46 centimeters (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

¹³ And a cubit from this side and a cubit from that side, the excess of the length of the curtains of the tent shall hang over the sides of the dwelling from this side and from that side, to cover it.

UST

¹³ The extra half-meter of cover on each side, the part that extends beyond the linen cloth, must hang over the two sides of the sacred tent to protect the sides.

Exodus 26:14

sea-cows (ULT)

fine leather (UST)

The meaning of this word, sea cows, is not known. It may refer to a water mammal that has skin that can be made into a high-quality leather. Sea cows on Wikipedia See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 25:5. (See: Translate Unknowns)

reddened (ULT)

red (UST)

When animal skins are tanned (processed into usable leather), they become reddish. It is not clear if these hides are dyed red or simply reddened in the tanning process. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 25:5. Alternate translation: "tanned" (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹⁴ And you shall make a covering for the tent of reddened hides of rams, and a covering of hides of sea-cows above that.

UST

¹⁴ Make another cover to go over the tent from red rams' skins, and a top cover from fine leather hides.

Exodus 26:15

frames (ULT)

a...framework (UST)

Here, frames refers to open wooden structures made to hold the curtains. (See: Translate Unknowns)

acacias (ULT)

acacia (UST)

The acacias are relatively small trees with spreading foliage and durable wood. See how you translated this in 25:5.
See on Wikipedia (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹⁵ And you shall make upright frames for the dwelling from wood of acacias.

UST

¹⁵ Make a standing framework from acacia wood for the sacred tent.

Exodus 26:16

ten...and...a cubit and a half of a cubit (ULT)
five meters...and three-quarters of a meter (UST)

Alternate translation: "10 ... 1.5 cubits" (See: Numbers)

ten cubits...and...a cubit and a half of a cubit (ULT)
five meters...and three-quarters of a meter (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people, if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 4.6 meters ... 69 centimeters. (See: Biblical Distance)

and a half of (ULT) and three-quarters of a meter (UST)

The word half means one part out of two equal parts. (See: Fractions)

ULT

¹⁶ The length of a frame shall be ten cubits, and the width of one frame shall be a cubit and a half of a cubit.

UST

¹⁶ Each frame is to be five meters long and three-quarters of a meter wide.

Exodus 26:17

There shall be...tenons (ULT)

Make...pegs (UST)

Here, the term tenons means a part of the wood sticking out from the rest of the frame so that it can be put into a hole in another object. (See: Translate Unknowns)

a woman to her sister (ULT)

them together (UST)

This is an idiom meaning “to each other.” See how you translated this in 26:5. Alternate translation: “one to the other” (See: Idiom)

ULT

¹⁷ There shall be two tenons in each frame for joining a woman to her sister. Thus you shall make all of the frames of the dwelling.

UST

¹⁷ Make two pegs {at the bottom of} each frame to fasten them together. Make each frame for the tabernacle this way.

Exodus 26:18

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

18 And you shall make the frames for the dwelling: 20 frames for the south side.

UST

18 Make 20 frames for the south side of the sacred tent.

Exodus 26:19

bases of silver (ULT) silver bases (UST)

The bases of silver were silver blocks that had a slot in them to keep the board in place and off the ground.

two bases under one frame for its two tenons, and two bases under one frame for its two tenons (ULT)

Put two bases under each frame and fit their two pegs into the bases (UST)

The effect of this is to start a list, and the hearer will assume it should be completed. Try to translate this in the way that a speaker of your language would give instructions that are meant to be carried out on a whole group of objects. This same phrasing occurs again in verse 21 and verse 25. Alternate translation: “two bases under the first frame for its two tenons, and then two bases under the next frame for its two tenons, and so on for all the frames” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

19 And you shall make 40 bases of silver under the 20 frames: two bases under one frame for its two tenons, and two bases under one frame for its two tenons.

UST

19 Make 40 silver bases to go underneath the 20 frames. Put two bases under each frame and fit their two pegs into the bases.

Exodus 26:20

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁰ And for the second side of the dwelling, on the north side: 20 frames

UST

²⁰ For the other side—{that is,} the north side—of the sacred tent {make} 20 frames

Exodus 26:21

two bases under one frame and two bases under one frame (ULT)

Put} two bases under each frame (UST)

The effect of this is to start a list, and the hearer will assume it should be completed. Try to translate this in the way that a speaker of your language would give instructions that are meant to be carried out on a whole group of objects. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:19. Alternate translation: “two bases under the first frame, and then two bases under the next frame, and so on for all the frames” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²¹ and their 40 silver bases: two bases under one frame and two bases under one frame.

UST

²¹ and 40 silver bases for them. {Put} two bases under each frame.

Exodus 26:22

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²² And you shall make six frames for the back side of the dwelling, toward the west.

UST

²² For the rear of the sacred tent, on the west side, make six frames.

Exodus 26:23

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²³ And you shall make two frames for the back corners of the dwelling.

UST

²³ Make two frames for the rear corners of the sacred tent.

Exodus 26:24

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁴ And they shall be a pair at the bottom, and they shall be completely together at the top to one ring. Thus it shall be for both; the two shall be the corners.

UST

²⁴ Match them to each other at the bottom and top. Secure the tops together with a ring. Do this for both, making them the corner pieces.

Exodus 26:25

bases: two...under one frame and two bases under one frame (ULT)
two bases under each frame (UST)

The effect of this is to start a list, and the hearer will assume it should be completed. Try to translate this in the way that a speaker of your language would give instructions that are meant to be carried out on a whole group of objects. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:19. and their...bases...bases...bases...bases (ULT) and...bases...and...bases...bases...bases (UST)

The bases were silver blocks that had a slot in them to keep the frame in place. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:19. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

²⁵ And there shall be eight frames and their silver bases, sixteen bases: two bases under one frame and two bases under one frame.

UST

²⁵ Make eight frames and 16 silver bases, two bases under each frame.

Exodus 26:26

crossbars of (ULT)

crossbars (UST)

The crossbars are horizontal support beams that give stability to the structure. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

²⁶ And you shall make crossbars of wood of acacias—five for the frames of the one side of the dwelling,

UST

²⁶ Make crossbars from acacia wood. Make five crossbars for the frames on the {north} side of the sacred tent,

Exodus 26:27

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁷ and five crossbars for the frames of the second side of the dwelling, and five crossbars for the frames for the back side of the dwelling to the west.

UST

²⁷ five crossbars for the frames on the {south} side of the sacred tent, and five crossbars for the frames at the rear of the sacred tent, the west side.

Exodus 26:28

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁸ And the middle crossbar in the center of the frames shall pass through from end to end.

UST

²⁸ The center crossbar, right in the middle of the frames, will reach all the way from edge to edge.

Exodus 26:29

the holders for the crossbars (ULT) for fastening the crossbars to the frames (UST)

Alternate translation: “which will hold the crossbars” or “because they will hold the crossbars” for the crossbars (ULT) the crossbars (UST)

The crossbars are horizontal support beams that give stability to the structure. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:26.

ULT

²⁹ And you shall cover the frames with gold. And you shall make their rings of gold, the holders for the crossbars. And you shall cover the bars with gold.

UST

²⁹ Cover the frames and crossbars with gold. Make the rings for fastening the crossbars to the frames from gold.

Exodus 26:30

you were shown on the mountain (ULT)
I have shown you here on this mountain (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. See UST. (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³⁰ And you shall set up the dwelling according to its plan that you were shown on the mountain.

UST

³⁰ Build the sacred tent in the way that I have shown you here on this mountain.

Exodus 26:31

General Information:

See how you translated very similar text in Exodus 26:1.

ULT

³¹ And you shall make a curtain of blue, and purple and worm of scarlet and of twisted fine linen; the work of a skillful workman, he shall make cherubim.

UST

³¹ Make a curtain from fine linen. A skilled craftsman must embroider it with blue, purple, and red yarn, making designs to represent the winged creatures that are above the sacred chest.

Exodus 26:32

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³² And you shall hang it on four pillars of acacia wood covered with gold and their hooks of gold on four bases of silver.

UST

³² Suspend the curtain from gold hooks on four gold-covered posts made from acacia wood. Set each post in a silver base.

Exodus 26:33

the clasps (ULT)
fasteners {attached to the roof of the sacred tent (UST)}

The clasps fit into the loops to hold the curtains together. See how you translated these in Exodus 26:6. (See: Translate Unknowns)

the Holy of Holies (ULT)
the very holy place (UST)

Here, Holy of Holies means extremely or uniquely holy. If this form would not express that this place would become uniquely holy in your language you may need to find another way to express this idea. Alternate translation: “the most holy place” or “the extraordinarily holy place” (See: Possession)

ULT

³³ And you shall hang the curtain under the clasps, and you shall bring the Box of the Testimony there inside the curtain. And the curtain shall separate for you between the Holy and the Holy of Holies.

UST

³³ Suspend the curtain from fasteners {attached to the roof of the sacred tent}. Put the sacred chest behind the curtain. The curtain will separate the holy place from the very holy place.

Exodus 26:34

in the Holy of Holies (ULT) in the very holy place (UST)

Here, Holy of Holies means extremely holy, as in, the holiest of the holy places. If this form would not express that this place would become uniquely holy in your language you may need to find another way to express this idea. See how you translated it in the previous verse. Alternate translation: “in the most holy place” or “in the extraordinarily holy place” (See: Possession)

ULT

³⁴ And you shall put the atonement lid on the Box of the Testimony in the Holy of Holies.

UST

³⁴ Put the lid on top of the sacred chest in the very holy place.

Exodus 26:35

the table...the lampstand (ULT) the table...the lampstand...lampstand...the (UST)

This is the table Yahweh told Moses how to make in 25:23-30 and the lampstand he told him how to make in 25:31-39.

ULT

³⁵ And you shall put the table outside the curtain and the lampstand opposite the table on the south side of the dwelling. And put the table on the north side.

UST

³⁵ Put the table and the lampstand on the other side of the curtain on opposite sides from each other. Put the lampstand on the south side of the sacred tent, and put the table for the sacred bread on the north side.

Exodus 26:36The table must be on the north side

See how you translated very similar text in Exodus 26:1.

of blue and purple and worm of scarlet (ULT) with blue, purple, and red yarn (UST)

This could mean: (1) "yarn that is dyed blue, purple, and scarlet," probably wool yarn, or (2) "blue, purple, and scarlet dye" to dye the linen. See how you translated this in Exodus 25:4.

and of twisted fine linen (ULT) from fine linen (UST)

This was cloth made from fine linen threads that someone twisted together to make a stronger thread. (See: Translate Unknowns)

an embroiderer (ULT)
A skilled weaver (UST)

Alternate translation: "a person who sews decorative designs into cloth" or "a person who embroiders" (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

³⁶ And you shall make a curtain for the entrance of the tent of blue and purple and worm of scarlet and of twisted fine linen, the work of an embroiderer.

UST

³⁶ Make a curtain as the tent entrance. A skilled weaver must make it from fine linen with blue, purple, and red yarn.

Exodus 26:37

an embroiderer

See how you translated very similar instructions in verse 32.

ULT

³⁷ And you shall make five pillars of acacia wood for the curtain, and you shall overlay them with gold, and their hooks {shall be} gold, and you shall cast five bases of bronze for them.

UST

³⁷ To hold up this curtain, make five posts from acacia wood. Cover them with gold and fasten gold clasps to them. Also make a bronze base for each of these posts.

Exodus 27

Exodus 27 General Notes

Structure and Formatting

This chapter is a continuation of the material in the previous chapter.

v. 1-8: Instructions for constructing the altar

v. 9-19: Instructions for constructing the outer curtain walls forming the courtyard around the sacred tent

v. 20-21: Instructions for the lampstand

Special Concepts in this Chapter

The tent of meeting

This chapter gives specific instructions regarding the building (around the tent of meeting) of the courtyard area containing the altar where priests made sacrifices to Yahweh.

Potential Translation Issues

The verb make at the beginning of verse 9 is the only verb from verses 9-18. Some languages may be able to translate a clause chain this long without additional verbs. Others (including English), will need to supply at least a minimum number of verbs (ULT) or quite a few verbs (UST) for naturalness.

There continue to be a number of possibly unknown terms, still all tangible objects.

Exodus 27:1

five cubits...and five cubits...and three cubits (ULT)

two and a half meters...two and a half meters...and one and a half meters (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people, if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 2.3 meters ... 2.3 meters ... 138 centimeters (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

¹ And you shall make the altar of wood of acacias, five cubits long and five cubits wide. The altar shall be square and three cubits high.

UST

¹ Make an altar from acacia wood. Make it square: two and a half meters long on each side and one and a half meters tall.

Exodus 27:2

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

² And you shall make its horns on its four corners; its horns will be part of it. And you shall overlay it with bronze.

UST

² Make a {projection that looks like a} horn on each of the top corners. Make them from the same block of wood as the altar. Cover the whole altar with bronze.

Exodus 27:3

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³ And you shall make its pots for fatty ashes and its shovels and its basins and its meat forks and its trays. You shall make all its utensils with bronze.

UST

³ Make all its implements from bronze. Make pans to collect the ashes from burning the fat, shovels {for cleaning out the ashes}, basins, forks {for turning the meat as it cooks}, and buckets {for carrying hot coals}.

Exodus 27:4

a grate (ULT)
grating {to hold the wood and burning coals (UST)

The grate is a frame of crossed metal bars for holding wood when burning.

And you shall make four rings of bronze on the network, on its four corners (ULT)
Fasten a bronze ring to each of the four corners of the grate (UST)

You may want to refer back to several other passages regarding making rings for carrying poles when translating this verse. See Exo 25:12, Exo 25:26, and Exo 25:27.

ULT

⁴ And you shall make a grate for it, a work of a network of bronze. And you shall make four rings of bronze on the network, on its four corners.

UST

⁴ Make a bronze lattice grating {to hold the wood and burning coals}. Fasten a bronze ring to each of the four corners of the grate.

Exodus 27:5

And you shall put it under the ledge of the altar below, and the network shall be up to the middle of the altar (ULT)

Put the grating under the rim that is around the altar. Make it so that it is inside the altar, halfway down (UST)

The grate was placed inside the altar. This can be stated clearly as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁵ And you shall put it under the ledge of the altar below, and the network shall be up to the middle of the altar.

UST

⁵ Put the grating under the rim that is around the altar. Make it so that it is inside the altar, halfway down.

Exodus 27:6

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁶ And you shall make poles for the altar, poles of wood of acacias, and you shall overlay them with bronze.

UST

⁶ Make poles for {carrying} the altar from acacia wood and cover them with bronze.

Exodus 27:7

And its poles shall be put (ULT)

Put the poles (UST)

ULT

⁷ And its poles shall be put into the rings, and the poles shall be on the two sides of the altar when carrying it.

UST

⁷ Put the poles through the rings on each side of the altar to carry it.

Exodus 27:8

he showed (ULT)

I am giving (UST)

Here, he refers to Yahweh in the third person. If it would be unnatural in your language for someone to refer to himself in this way, you may need to change it. Alternate translation: "I showed" or "Yahweh showed" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

they shall do (ULT)

They must make it (UST)

Here, they refers to whoever will make all these items. It is an indication that even though Yahweh has been speaking to Moses in the singular throughout, these instructions are meant to be conveyed to Israelite craftsmen. See 25:intro for more. (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

⁸ You shall make it hollow, of planks.
Just as he showed you on the mountain,
so they shall do.

UST

⁸ Make the altar from boards and make it hollow in the middle. They must make it according to these instructions that I am giving you here on this mountain.

Exodus 27:9

fine twisted linen (ULT) of fine linen (UST)

This was cloth made from fine linen threads that someone twisted together to make a stronger thread. See how you translated this in Exodus 25:4. (See: Translate Unknowns)

100 cubits (ULT) 50 meters (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 46 meters (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

⁹ And you shall make the courtyard of the dwelling. There shall be curtains of fine twisted linen on the south side of the courtyard; one side shall be 100 cubits long,

UST

⁹ Also make a courtyard around the sacred tent with more curtains of fine linen. For the south side, hang 50 meters of curtain

Exodus 27:10

with its 20 pillars and their 20 bronze bases (ULT) from 20 {bronze} posts. {Make} 20 bronze bases for the posts (UST)

Here, bronze may refer to both the pillars and the bases, or just to the bases. The pillars inside the tent were of wood overlaid with gold; these may be wood overlaid with bronze.

ULT

¹⁰ with its 20 pillars and their 20 bronze bases, the hooks of the pillars and their rings of silver.

UST

¹⁰ from 20 {bronze} posts. {Make} 20 bronze bases for the posts and hooks on them and silver connectors.

Exodus 27:11

there must be hangings one hundred cubits long

See how you translated many similar words in Exodus 27:9-10.

100 (ULT) 50 meters of (UST)

Here, “cubits” is omitted because it is understood as a repetition of the instructions in verse 9. Alternate translation: “100 cubits” (See: Ellipsis)

100 (ULT) 50 meters of (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 46 meters (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

¹¹ And thus for the north side, the length of the curtains: 100 long, and its 20 posts, 20 bases of bronze, hooks of the pillars, and rings of silver.

UST

¹¹ And likewise for the north side {of the courtyard: hang} 50 meters of curtains from 20 posts, with their 20 bronze bases, hooks, and silver connectors.

Exodus 27:12

50 cubits long (ULT) 25 meters long (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 23 meters (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

¹² And the width of the courtyard, on the west side, shall have a curtain 50 cubits long with its ten pillars and ten bases.

UST

¹² {Make} a curtain 25 meters long along the west side of the courtyard. {Support them} with ten posts, with a base under each post.

Exodus 27:13

50 cubits (ULT)

25 meters (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 23 meters (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

13 And the width of the courtyard, on the east side, shall be 50 cubits.

UST

13 On the east side the courtyard must also be 25 meters wide.

Exodus 27:14fifteen (ULT)*seven and a half (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 6.9 meters (See: Biblical Distance) with} their...pillars (ULT)with...posts (UST)

The pillars were strong pieces of wood set upright and used as supports. See how you translated these in Exodus 27:10.

and their..bases (ULT)and bases (UST)

The bases were metal blocks that had a slot in them to keep the board in place. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:19.

ULT

¹⁴ The curtains for the side {shall be} fifteen cubits {with} their three pillars and their three bases.

UST

¹⁴ {Make} a curtain seven and a half meters long for one side {of the entrance}, with three posts and bases.

Exodus 27:15

fifteen (ULT) seven and a half meters long (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 6.9 meters. (See: Biblical Distance) with their...posts (ULT) also with...posts (UST)

These posts were strong pieces of wood set upright and used as supports. See how you translated these in Exodus 27:10.

and their..bases (ULT) and bases (UST)

The bases were metal blocks that had a slot in them to keep the board in place. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:19.

ULT

¹⁵ The curtains for the second side shall be fifteen with their three posts and their three bases.

UST

¹⁵ {Make} another curtain seven and a half meters long for the other side {of the entrance}, also with three posts and bases.

Exodus 27:16

blue, purple, and scarlet material and fine twined linen

See how you translated a nearly identical passage in 26:36.

20 cubits wide (ULT) ten meters wide (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 9.2m (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

16 And the gate of the courtyard shall be a curtain 20 cubits wide of blue and purple and worm of scarlet and of twisted fine linen—the work of an embroiderer—with its four pillars and its four bases.

UST

16 {Make} a curtain from finely twined linen ten meters wide for the courtyard entrance. A skilled weaver must embroider it with blue, purple, and red yarn. {Hang it} from four posts, each one with a base under it.

Exodus 27:17

shall be filleted (ULT)

Make...the ends...rounded...ends (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Among other options not so relevant here, Wiktionary suggests that a fillet could be a “thin strip of any material, in various technical uses,” “thin featureless molding used as separation between broader decorative moldings,” or a rounded corner. Alternate translation: “you shall fillet” (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹⁷ All the pillars of the courtyard shall be filleted around with silver, and their silver hooks, and their bases of bronze.

UST

¹⁷ Make all the ends of posts around the courtyard have rounded silver ends. Make the clasps from silver, and the bases from bronze.

Exodus 27:18

shall be 100 cubits...50...five cubits (ULT) 50 meters...and 25 meters...and {the curtains that enclose it} two and a half meters (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people, if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46 centimeters. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 46 meters ... 23 meters ... 2.3 meters. (See: Biblical Distance)

50 (ULT)
and 25 meters (UST)

Here, “cubits” is omitted because it is understood as a repetition of the instructions in verse 9. Alternate translation: “50 cubits” (See: Ellipsis)

ULT

¹⁸ The length of the courtyard shall be 100 cubits, and the width 50, and the height five cubits with fine twined linen, and bases of bronze.

UST

¹⁸ Make the whole courtyard, {from the east entrance to the west end}, 50 meters long and 25 meters wide, and {the curtains that enclose it} two and a half meters high. Make all the curtains from fine linen, and all the bases {under the posts} from bronze.

Exodus 27:19

its tent pegs...the pegs of (ULT) the tent pegs to support the sacred tent...and the curtains that form the courtyard (UST)

The tent pegs are strong, sharp pieces of metal driven into the ground and used to secure the corners of a tent to the ground or to secure ropes in order to create tension to stabilize something standing upright. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹⁹ All of the equipment of the dwelling for all of its service, and all of its tent pegs and all of the pegs of the courtyard shall be bronze.

UST

¹⁹ Make all the things {that are not made of gold} that are for use inside the sacred tent {and in the courtyard}, and all the tent pegs to support the sacred tent and the curtains that form the courtyard from bronze.

Exodus 27:20

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁰ And you shall command the sons of Israel and they shall bring pure pressed oil of olive to you for the lamp, to cause the lamp to burn continually.

UST

²⁰ Command the Israelites to bring you purified oil squeezed from olives, so that the lamp is always burning.

Exodus 27:21

is the testimony (ULT) the sacred chest is (UST)

The testimony refers to the chest that contains the sacred slabs of stone on which Yahweh had written his commandments. If it would be more clear to your readers you may include a reference to the chest. Alternate translation: "is the Box of the Testimony" (See: Synecdoche) shall arrange it (ULT) must take care to keep the lamps burning every night (UST)

Here, it refers to the lamp mentioned in the previous verse and arrange means to set it up for burning, and light it. Alternate translation: "shall set up the lampstand and light it" before the face of Yahweh (ULT) for Yahweh (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "in front of me" (See: Metonymy)

This is an eternal statute throughout the generations of the sons of Israel (ULT) The Israelites must obey this regulation throughout all future generations (UST)

See how you translated a similar statement in 12:14

ULT

²¹ In the tent of meeting, outside the curtain inside of which is the testimony, Aaron and his sons shall arrange it before the face of Yahweh, from evening to morning. This is an eternal statute throughout the generations of the sons of Israel.

UST

²¹ In the outer part of the sacred tent, outside the curtain where the sacred chest is, Aaron and his sons must take care to keep the lamps burning every night from evening to morning for Yahweh. The Israelites must obey this regulation throughout all future generations.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Holy garments

Because Yahweh is holy, only the priests could approach him, and when they did they had to be wearing specially made clothing. (See: priest, priesthood and holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Potential Translation Issues

Verses 17-20 list 12 kinds of stone. Scholars are not sure which kinds of stones the Hebrew words refer to. Some translations list different stones. The UST gives the probable color of the gemstones. Translators may use names of familiar gem stones.

Exodus 28:1And you (ULT) your (UST)

Here, you refers to Moses; in this case it is about something he must do. (See: Forms of You)

Aaron...your brother (ULT) older brother...Aaron (UST)

Aaron is older than Moses. If your language uses a different term for the sibling relationship based on gender and age order, choose the appropriate one. (See: Kinship)

and Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar (ULT) Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar (UST)

These are men's names. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

¹ And you, bring Aaron your brother, and his sons with him near to you from among the sons of Israel to be priests for me—Aaron and Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar, the sons of Aaron!

UST

¹ Have your older brother Aaron and his sons, Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar, come close to you and away from the Israelites, so they can be my priests.

Exodus 28:2

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

² And you shall make for Aaron your brother clothes of holiness for glory and for splendor.

UST

² Make holy vestments for your brother Aaron, so {he reflects my} honor and beauty.

Exodus 28:3

And you (ULT)

Talk (UST)

Here, you refers to Moses. In this case it is about something he must do. (See: Forms of You) to all of the wise of heart, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom (ULT)

to all the skilled artisans, those whom I have made excellent at crafting things (UST)

There is a little bit of parallelism here. Yahweh is clarifying who causes someone to be wise of heart. You could translate this in a more causal way if that would make more sense. Alternate translation: "to anyone whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, making them wise of heart" (See: Parallelism)

to all of the wise of heart, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom (ULT)
to all the skilled artisans, those whom I have made excellent at crafting things (UST)

Here, heart and spirit are both referring to things innately possessed by a person that is, traits of a person. Wisdom refers to skill or talent with crafting in this case. Together wise of heart and filled with the spirit of wisdom both essentially mean "a talented craftsman." If it would be more clear to your readers, you may consider making some of this more explicit. Alternate translation: "to every talented craftsman, those whom I have made skilled in their work" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³ And you, you shall speak to all of the wise of heart, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, and they shall make the clothes of Aaron to set him apart to be a priest for me.

UST

³ Talk to all the skilled artisans, those whom I have made excellent at crafting things. Tell them to make vestments for Aaron to wear when you dedicate him to become a priest to serve me.

Exodus 28:4

and a tunic of woven work (ULT) an embroidered tunic (UST)

We do not know what word translated of woven work means, as it only occurs here and in verse 39 as a verb. Alternate translation: "and a checkered tunic" or "an embroidered garment"

a turban (ULT) a turban (UST)

This is a head covering made from cloth wrapped around the head several times. You may translate it using a word commonly used for a similar item in your culture. (See: Translate Unknowns) and a sash (ULT) and a waistband (UST)

The sash is a piece of cloth that people wear around their waist or across their chest. You may translate it with a word commonly used for a similar item in your culture. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁴ And these are the clothes that they shall make: a breastpiece and an ephod and a robe and a tunic of woven work, a turban and a sash. And they shall make clothes of holiness for your brother Aaron and for his sons to be priests for me.

UST

⁴ They should make these vestments: a sacred pouch {for Aaron to wear over his breast}, a sacred apron, a robe, an embroidered tunic, a turban, and a waistband. They must make these holy vestments so that your older brother Aaron and his sons can {wear them as they} serve me by doing the work that priests do.

Exodus 28:5

and blue and purple and worm of scarlet (ULT) blue, purple, and red thread (UST)

This could mean: (1) “material that is dyed blue, purple, and scarlet,” probably wool yarn, or (2) “blue, purple and scarlet dye” to dye the linen. The original audience would have known what was meant. This material seems to have been used for embroidery later, so “yarn” or “thread” may be the best understanding. See how you translated this in 25:4 (See: Translate Unknowns) worm of scarlet (ULT) and red thread (UST)

A bright red color for dying cloth was extracted from these worms. Alternate translation: “and bright red” (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁵ And they shall take gold and blue and purple and worm of scarlet and fine linen.

UST

⁵ The skilled workmen should receive fine linen and gold, blue, purple, and red thread {to make the vestments}.

Exodus 28:6

and twisted fine linen (ULT) from finely twisted linen (UST)

This was cloth made from fine linen threads that someone twisted together to make a stronger thread. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:36. Alternate translation: “fine twined linen” (See: Translate Unknowns)

a skillful craftsman (ULT) They must skillfully embroider it (UST)

The description skillful craftsman refers to a person who can make beautiful objects by hand.

ULT

⁶ And they shall make the ephod from gold, blue, and purple, worm of scarlet, and twisted fine linen—the work of a skillful craftsman.

UST

⁶ The skilled workmen must make the sacred apron from finely twisted linen. They must skillfully embroider it with blue, purple, and red thread, and with {fine} gold {thread}.

Exodus 28:7

It shall have two shoulder pieces joining to its two ends; so it shall be joined (ULT)

It must have two shoulder straps attached on both edges to connect it together (UST)

This likely meant creating some sort of fastening up by the shoulders to attach the front of the ephod to its back. Alternate translation: "They shall make it so that the front and back attach to each other at the shoulders"

so it shall be joined (ULT) to connect it together (UST)

ULT

⁷ It shall have two shoulder pieces joining to its two ends; so it shall be joined.

UST

⁷ It must have two shoulder straps attached on both edges to connect it together.

Exodus 28:8

which is on it...of like workmanship, from it (ULT) that matches...from the same piece of cloth as the apron...Sew it onto the apron (UST)

This is saying that the sash should be attached to the ephod, perhaps cut from the same material used to make the rest of the ephod.

ULT

⁸ And the skillfully-crafted sash of the ephod which is on it shall be of like workmanship, from it: of gold, blue and purple and worm of scarlet and fine twined linen.

UST

⁸ Make a carefully woven belt that matches the sacred apron. Make it from the same piece of cloth as the apron. (That cloth was finely twisted linen with {skillfully embroidered} blue, purple, red thread, and {fine} gold {thread}.) Sew it onto the apron.

Exodus 28:9

stones of onyx (ULT)

onyx stones (UST)

These stones of onyx are valuable stones that have layers of white and black, red or brown. See how you translated this in Exodus 25:7. (See: Translate Unknowns)

two (ULT)

two (UST)

Alternate translation: "2" (See: Numbers)

ULT

⁹ And you shall take two stones of onyx and you shall engrave on them the names of the sons of Israel,

UST

⁹ Take two onyx stones and carve Jacob's {12} sons' names on them.

Exodus 28:10

six of...the six (ULT)

Carve...six...Carve} six (UST)

Alternate translation: "6 of ... the 6" (See: Numbers)

according to their genealogies (ULT)
the names} in the order in which Jacob's sons were born (UST)

Alternate translation: "according to their birth order"

ULT

¹⁰ six of their names on one stone and the six remaining names on the second stone, according to their genealogies.

UST

¹⁰ {Carve the names} in the order in which Jacob's sons were born. {Carve} six names on one stone and the other six names on the other stone.

Exodus 28:11

the engravings of a signet (ULT)
like he is making a signet ring (UST)

Alternate translation: "in the same way a person engraves on a seal"

a craftsman of stone (ULT)
A gem cutter (UST)

A craftsman of stone is a person who cuts designs into stones.
 Alternate translation: "a detailed stone cutter" (See: Translate Unknowns)

a signet (ULT)
like he is making a signet ring (UST)

This is an engraved stone often set into a ring and used to stamp a design into a wax seal to authenticate an official document. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ornamental settings of (ULT)
Then he should mount...in decorative gold settings (UST)

These are pieces of metal that hold the stones onto the ephod. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

11 You shall engrave the two stones with the names of the sons of Israel—the work of a craftsman of stone, the engravings of a signet. You shall make them surrounded with ornamental settings of gold.

UST

11 A gem cutter should carve these names in the two stones like he is making a signet ring. Then he should mount the stones in decorative gold settings.

Exodus 28:12

reminder...for a reminder (ULT) the memorial stones...will memorialize (UST)

The text does not specify if Yahweh or Aaron or someone else is the one being reminded by the stones. It also does not specify exactly what the reminder is of. Try to maintain this ambiguity if possible in your translation.

before the face of (ULT) whenever he serves (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "in the presence of" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹² And you shall put the two stones on the shoulder pieces of the ephod as stones of reminder for the sons of Israel. And Aaron shall carry their names before the face of Yahweh on his two shoulders for a reminder.

UST

¹² Fasten the memorial stones onto the shoulder straps of the sacred apron. Then Aaron will memorialize the names of the 12 tribes of Israel by carrying them on his shoulders whenever he serves Yahweh.

Exodus 28:13

ornamental settings of (ULT) the decorative settings for the stones from (UST)

The ornamental settings are pieces of precious metal that surround the sides of hold each stone to hold it onto the ephod. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:11. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹³ And you shall make ornamental settings of gold

UST

¹³ Make the decorative settings for the stones from gold.

Exodus 28:14

and two twisted chains of pure gold: you shall make them as a work of rope (ULT)

Make two chains of purified gold by braiding gold like cords (UST)

Alternate translation: "and you shall make two chains of pure gold that are braided like cords"

ULT

¹⁴ and two twisted chains of pure gold: you shall make them as a work of rope, and you shall attach the chains of the rope to the ornamental settings.

UST

¹⁴ Make two chains of purified gold by braiding gold like cords and fasten the cord chains to the decorative settings.

Exodus 28:15

the work of a skillful craftsman—you shall make it like the work of the ephod (ULT)
Make it of the same materials as the sacred apron, and skillfully embroider it in the same way (UST)

Alternate translation: “a skillful workman will make it like the ephod”

ULT

¹⁵ And you shall make a breastpiece of judgment—the work of a skillful craftsman—you shall make it like the work of the ephod; you shall make it from gold, blue, and purple, and worm of scarlet, and twisted fine linen.

UST

¹⁵ Make a sacred pouch for decision-making. Make it of the same materials as the sacred apron, and skillfully embroider it in the same way with gold, blue, purple, and red finely twisted linen.

Exodus 28:16

a span...and...a span (ULT)

23 centimeters...and 23 centimeters (UST)

You can convert this length to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A span is approximately 23 centimeters. (See: Biblical Distance)

It shall be square, folded double (ULT)

Fold the material double so that it is a square (UST)

Alternate translation: "Fold it in half so it will be square"

ULT

¹⁶ It shall be square, folded double; its length: a span; and its width: a span.

UST

¹⁶ Fold the material double so that it is a square 23 centimeters long and 23 centimeters wide.

Exodus 28:17

General Information:

Twelve kinds of stones are listed in the next four verses. Scholars are not sure which kinds of stones the Hebrew words refer to. Some translations list different stones. (See: Translate Unknowns)

a ruby, a topaz, and a garnet (ULT)

a red ruby, a yellow topaz, and a green emerald (UST)

These are precious stones. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

17 And you shall set in it settings of precious stone—four stone rows. The first row shall be a row with a ruby, a topaz, and a garnet.

UST

17 Fasten four rows of valuable stones onto the pouch. In the first row, put a red ruby, a yellow topaz, and a green emerald.

Exodus 28:18

And the second row (ULT)

Put...in the second row (UST)

Alternate translation: "And row 2:" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond (ULT)
a green turquoise, a blue sapphire, and a clear diamond (UST)

These are precious stones. (See: Translate Unknowns)

a sapphire (ULT)

a blue sapphire (UST)

This is a gemstone that is blue in color. See how you translated this in Exodus 24:10. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹⁸ And the second row: an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond.

UST

¹⁸ Put a green turquoise, a blue sapphire, and a clear diamond in the second row.

Exodus 28:19

And the third row (ULT)

Put...in the third row (UST)

Alternate translation: "And row 3:" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst (ULT)

a red jacinth, a white agate, and a purple amethyst (UST)

These are precious stones (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹⁹ And the third row: a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst.

UST

¹⁹ Put a red jacinth, a white agate, and a purple amethyst in the third row.

Exodus 28:20And the fourth row (ULT)*Put...in the fourth row (UST)Alternate translation: "And row 4:" (See: Ordinal Numbers)a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper (ULT)
a yellow beryl, an onyx, and a green jasper (UST)These are precious stones. (See: Translate Unknowns)and an onyx (ULT)*an onyx (UST)An onyx is a valuable stone that has layers of white and black, red or brown. See how you translated these in Exodus 25:7. (See: Translate Unknowns)They shall be set in gold (ULT)*Mount all these stones...gold (UST)If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "You shall set them in gold" (See: Active or Passive)ULT²⁰ And the fourth row: a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper. They shall be set in gold—in their ornamental settings.UST²⁰ Put a yellow beryl, an onyx, and a green jasper in the fourth row. Mount all these stones in decorative gold settings.

Exodus 28:21

like the engraving of a signet (ULT)

like he is making signet rings (UST)

This is an engraved stone often set into a ring and used to stamp a design into a wax seal to authenticate an official document. Here the stone is mounted on a ring. See how you translated “signet” in Exodus 28:11. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

²¹ And the precious stones shall be according to the names of the sons of Israel—according to their 12 names. Each shall be like the engraving of a signet according to its name—for the 12 tribes.

UST

²¹ {A gem cutter should carve} the name of one of the 12 sons of Jacob into each of these stones like he is making signet rings. These name-stones will represent the 12 tribes of Israel.

Exodus 28:22

twisted chains...as a work of rope—pure gold (ULT)

two chains that they made from purified gold and braided like cords (UST)

See how you translated similar phrases in Exodus 28:14. Alternate translation (place at twisted chains): “chains that are made of pure gold and are braided like cords” (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

²² And you shall make twisted chains on the breastpiece, as a work of rope—pure gold.

UST

²² Attach two chains that they made from purified gold and braided like cords to the sacred pouch.

Exodus 28:23

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²³ And you shall make two rings of gold for the breastpiece, and you shall put the two rings on the two ends of the breastpiece.

UST

²³ Make two gold rings for the sacred pouch and attach them to the pouch's {upper} corners.

Exodus 28:24

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁴ And you shall attach the two chains of gold to the rings on the two ends of the breastpiece.

UST

²⁴ Fasten one end of each gold cord to one of the rings on the top corner of the pouch.

Exodus 28:25

at the front of its face (ULT) on the front side of (UST)

Here, face simply refers to the object (the ephod). Alternate translation: "on its front side" (See: Metonymy) to the two ornamental settings (ULT) to the two decorative settings that enclose the stones (UST)

These are two settings that enclose the stones. This can be clearly stated in the translation. See UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²⁵ And you shall attach two of the ends of the two chains to the two ornamental settings, and you shall attach those to the shoulder pieces of the ephod at the front of its face.

UST

²⁵ Fasten the other end of each cord to the two decorative settings that enclose the stones. Then put those on the front side of the shoulder straps of the sacred apron.

Exodus 28:26

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁶ And you shall make two rings of gold, and you shall put them on the two ends of the breastpiece, on the edge which is toward the inner side of the ephod.

UST

²⁶ Make two more gold rings and attach them to the lower corners of the sacred pouch on the inside edges next to the sacred apron.

Exodus 28:27

its face (ULT) the front of (UST)

Here, face simply refers to the object (the ephod). Alternate translation: "on its front side" (See: Metonymy) skillfully crafted waistband of (ULT) the sash (UST)

The waistband was a cloth belt made from narrow linen threads that someone twisted together to make a stronger thread. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:8. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

²⁷ And you shall make two rings of gold, and you shall put them on the two shoulder-pieces of the ephod on the bottom of the front of its face, close to its joining above the skillfully crafted waistband of the ephod.

UST

²⁷ Make two more gold rings and attach them to the lower part of the front of the shoulder straps near where the shoulder straps join the sacred apron just above the sash.

Exodus 28:28

so the breastpiece shall not become detached from on (ULT)

the sacred pouch...and does not come loose from (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “so that the breastpiece shall stay attached to” (See: Active or Passive)

so the breastpiece shall not become detached from on (ULT)

the sacred pouch...and does not come loose from (UST)

This can be stated in positive form. Alternate translation: “so that the breastpiece shall stay attached to” (See: Double Negatives)

ULT

²⁸ And they shall tie the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a cord of blue to be on the finely crafted waistband of the ephod, so the breastpiece shall not become detached from on the ephod.

UST

²⁸ Tie the rings on the sacred pouch to the rings on the sacred apron with a blue cord so that the sacred pouch is above the sash and does not come loose from the sacred apron.

Exodus 28:29

the names of...the sons of Israel (ULT) the names of...the 12 tribes of Israel (UST)

This refers to the names of the tribes engraved on the twelve stones the breastplate as described in Exodus 28:17-21.

over his heart (ULT) close to his chest (UST)

Alternate translation: "over Aaron's heart" or "on his chest"

ULT

²⁹ And Aaron shall bear the names of the sons of Israel in the breastpiece of judgment over his heart when he goes into the holy place as a reminder before the face of Yahweh continually.

UST

²⁹ Therefore, whenever he enters the holy place where Yahweh is, Aaron will continually memorialize the names of the 12 tribes of Israel by carrying them close to his chest, in the sacred pouch for making decisions.

Exodus 28:30the Urim...and the Thummim (ULT)
the...things called} Urim...and Thummim (UST)

It not clear what the Urim and the Thummim are. They were objects, possibly stones, that the priest used to somehow determine the will of God. (See: Translate Unknowns)

And Aaron shall bear the judgment of the sons of Israel over his heart before the face of Yahweh continually (ULT)
Aaron must always wear the items that reveal how I judge the Israelites on his chest when he meets with me (UST)

The second phrase appears to refer to the Urim and Thummim and explain their purpose. Alternate translation: "And Aaron shall bear the decisions for the sons of Israel over his heart before Yahweh continually" (See: Translate Unknowns)

before the face of Yahweh...before the face of Yahweh (ULT) to talk to me...when he meets with me (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "before Yahweh ... before Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³⁰ And you shall put the Urim and the Thummim in the breastpiece of judgment, and they shall be over the heart of Aaron when he goes in before the face of Yahweh. And Aaron shall bear the judgment of the sons of Israel over his heart before the face of Yahweh continually.

UST

³⁰ Put the {things called} Urim and Thummim into the sacred pouch that he uses to know how I judged. In that way, they will be close to his chest when Aaron comes to talk to me. Aaron must always wear the items that reveal how I judge the Israelites on his chest when he meets with me.

Exodus 28:31

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³¹ And you shall make the robe of the ephod entirely of blue.

UST

³¹ Make the robe {that Aaron will wear underneath his} sacred apron from only blue material.

Exodus 28:32the work of a weaver (ULT)*Weave (UST)

Alternate translation: "made by a weaver"

a weaver (ULT)Weave (UST)

Alternate translation: "a person who weaves" or "a person who creates cloth using thread, yarns and wool" (See: Translate Unknowns)

a garment (ULT)reinforced (UST)

We do not know what this term means, but the implication seems to be that the collar should be made strong. (See: Translate Unknowns)

so it can not tear (ULT)to keep the collar from tearing (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language, as modeled in the UST. (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³² And there shall be an opening for his head in the middle of it. There shall be an edge for its opening all around, so it can not tear—the work of a weaver, it shall be like an opening of a garment.

UST

³² Make an opening in the middle through which the priest can put his head. Weave a reinforced border around this opening to keep the collar from tearing.

Exodus 28:33

blue, purple, and worm of scarlet (ULT) from blue, purple, and red yarn (UST)

This could mean: (1) “material that is dyed blue, purple, and scarlet,” probably wool yarn, or (2) “blue, purple and scarlet dye” to dye the linen. The original audience would have known what was meant. This material seems to have been used for embroidery later, so “yarn” or “thread” may be the best understanding. See how you translated this in 25:4 (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

³³ And on its bottom hem you shall make pomegranates of blue, purple, and worm of scarlet all around on its hem with bells of gold between them all around:

UST

³³ All around the lower edge on the robe, fasten {decorations that look like} pomegranate fruit. Make them from blue, purple, and red yarn. Also {hang} gold bells in between the pomegranates.

Exodus 28:34

a bell of gold and a pomegranate, a bell of gold and a pomegranate (ULT)

So the pattern will be} one gold bell and then one pomegranate {and then repeat (UST)

This phrase is repeated to show the pattern of the design on the robe. Alternate translation: "alternate pomegranates and golden bells"

ULT

³⁴ a bell of gold and a pomegranate, a bell of gold and a pomegranate all around the hem of the robe.

UST

³⁴ {So the pattern will be} one gold bell and then one pomegranate {and then repeat} all the way around the bottom of the robe.

Exodus 28:35and its sound shall be heard (ULT)*I will hear the bells (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "so that the bells make a sound" (See: Active or Passive) before the face of Yahweh (ULT)my presence (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "before Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

Yahweh (ULT)my presence (UST)

Here, Yahweh refers to himself in the third person. If it would be more natural in your language, you may need to change this to first person. Alternate translation: "me" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

And he shall not die (ULT)and he will not die (UST)

The probable implication is that he would die because he did not obey Yahweh. This can be stated. Alternate translation: "As a result, he will not die because of disobeying my instructions" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

³⁵ And it shall be on Aaron while serving, and its sound shall be heard at his going into the holy place before the face of Yahweh and at his leaving. And he shall not die.

UST

³⁵ Whenever Aaron enters or leaves my presence in the holy place in the sacred tent for his priestly ministry, he must wear the robe. I will hear the bells, and he will not die.

Exodus 28:36a rosette of (ULT)
a decoration from (UST)

We do not know exactly what this was. It was probably a thin piece of gold smaller than the palm of someone's hand. (See: Translate Unknowns) and engrave on it, like the engraving on a signet (ULT) and carve into it the words...just like carving a signet ring (UST)

Alternate translation: "write on it in the same way a person engraves on a seal." See how you translated similar words in Exodus 28:11 (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

³⁶ And you shall make a rosette of pure gold and engrave on it, like the engraving on a signet, 'Holy to Yahweh.'

UST

³⁶ Make a decoration from purified gold and carve into it the words, 'Dedicated to Yahweh,' just like carving a signet ring.

Exodus 28:37the turban...the turban (ULT)*the turban...the turban (UST)

This was a head covering made from cloth wrapped around the head several times. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:4. (See: Translate Unknowns) toward the front of the face of the turban (ULT)to...the front of...the turban (UST)

Here, face means the front. Alternate translation: "to the front of the turban" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

³⁷ And you shall attach it by a cord of blue, and it shall be on the turban. It shall be toward the front of the face of the turban.

UST

³⁷ Fasten this ornament to the front of the turban by a blue cord.

Exodus 28:38

and Aaron shall bear the iniquity of the holy things (ULT)

If there is anything wrong with anything they dedicate to me, Aaron will be guilty instead of the (UST)

Here, iniquity is pictured as something that can be carried or worn like the turban. It also seems to picture handing off the iniquity from the people to Aaron. Also here, iniquity actually seems to refer to the punishment for anything that might be wrong regarding the things the Israelites offer Yahweh. You may need to use a different word than bear to convey the transfer of responsibility for wrongs from the people to Aaron. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and Aaron shall be responsible for any wrong related to the holy things" (See: Metaphor)

before the face of Yahweh (ULT)
to me (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "before Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

Yahweh (ULT)
to me (UST)

Here, Yahweh refers to himself in the third person, if it would be more natural in your language you may need to change this to first person. Alternate translation: "me" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

³⁸ And it shall be on the forehead of Aaron, and Aaron shall bear the iniquity of the holy things which the sons of Israel shall cause to be holy, for all of the gifts of their holy things, and it shall be on his forehead continually for their acceptance before the face of Yahweh.

UST

³⁸ Aaron must always wear the turban on his forehead so that I will accept the things that the Israelites dedicate to me. If there is anything wrong with anything they dedicate to me, Aaron will be guilty instead of the people.

Exodus 28:39

a turban (ULT) the turban from (UST)

This was a head covering made from cloth wrapped around the head several times. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:4. (See: Translate Unknowns)

And...a sash (ULT) the waistband (UST)

A sash is a decorative piece of cloth that a person wears around his waist or across his chest. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:4. (See: Translate Unknowns) an embroiderer (ULT) A skilled weaver (UST)

An embroiderer is a person who sews decorative designs onto cloth. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:36. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

³⁹ And you shall weave the tunic with fine linen, and you shall make a turban of fine linen. And you shall make a sash, the work of an embroiderer.

UST

³⁹ Weave the long-sleeved tunic from fine linen. Also make the turban from fine linen. A skilled weaver must make the waistband.

Exodus 28:40

sashes (ULT) waistbands (UST)

The sashes are decorative pieces of cloth that people wear around the waist or across the chest. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:4. (See: Translate Unknowns) headbands (ULT) and caps (UST)

A headband is a decorative, narrow strip of cloth that is worn around the head above the eyes. This seems to be similar to, but perhaps smaller than the turban worn by the high priest. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁴⁰ And for the sons of Aaron you shall make tunics, and you shall make sashes for them, and you shall make headbands for them for glory and for splendor.

UST

⁴⁰ Make long-sleeved tunics, waistbands, and caps for Aaron's sons so {they reflect my} honor and beauty.

Exodus 28:41

your brother...Aaron (ULT)

your older brother...Aaron (UST)

Aaron is older than Moses. If your language uses a different term for the sibling relationship based on gender and age order, choose the appropriate one. (See: Kinship) and you shall fill their hand (ULT)

and authorize them (UST)

This seems to be an idiom for giving authority to someone. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "and you shall ordain them" (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁴¹ And you shall clothe them, your brother Aaron and his sons with him. And you shall anoint them, and you shall fill their hand, and you shall set them apart to be priests to me.

UST

⁴¹ Put these clothes on your older brother Aaron and on his sons. Then consecrate them and authorize them to be my priests by anointing them {with olive oil}.

Exodus 28:42

undergarments of (ULT) undershorts...The undershorts (UST)

These are articles of clothing worn under the outer clothes, next to the skin. (See: Translate Unknowns)

the flesh of nakedness (ULT) in order that no one can see their genitalia (UST)

This refers to the male genitalia. This is a polite way of referring to something unpleasant. If this would be misunderstood in your language, use a different polite way of referring to this or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: “their private parts” (See: Euphemism)

ULT

⁴² And make for them undergarments of linen to cover the flesh of nakedness—they shall be from the waist to the thighs.

UST

⁴² Make linen undershorts for them. The undershorts should extend from their waists to their thighs in order that no one can see their genitalia.

Exodus 28:43

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴³ And they shall be on Aaron and on his sons at their entering into the tent of meeting or at their drawing near to the alter to serve in the holy place. And they shall not bear iniquity and die. This is a statute forever for him and for his offspring after him.

UST

⁴³ Aaron and his sons must always wear those undershorts when they enter the sacred tent or when they come near to the altar to offer sacrifices in the holy place. In this way, they will not be guilty, and they will not die. Aaron and all his male descendants must obey this rule forever.

Exodus 29

Exodus 29 General Notes

Large translation teams working on multiple books at the same time should note that this chapter is very similar to Leviticus 8.

Structure

As you translate, you may perceive a different structure in this chapter than what is below. Feel free to organize in a way that is clear in your language. This chapter is really one united whole; the outline below is one possible way of subdividing it.

The Consecration of the Priests

- v. 1-3 Preparing items
- v. 4-9 Preparing Aaron and his sons
- v. 10-14 Sacrificing the bull to purify the altar
- v. 15-34 Sacrificing the rams
- * v. 15-18 The first ram wholly burned
- * v. 19-28 The second ram used for consecrating and divided for eating
- * v. 29-30 Priestly succession
- * v. 31-34 More instructions regarding eating the second ram
- v. 35-37 Instructions to do all this for seven days
- v. 38-41 Instructions for perpetual offerings
- v. 42-46 Yahweh's affirmation

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Consecrating priests

This chapter records the process of consecrating priests. The priests were to be set apart from the rest of Israel because Yahweh is holy. (See: consecrate, consecrated, consecration and priest, priesthood and holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter

Forms of you

For this chapter, it seems that the singular "you: that Yahweh has been using to give Moses general instructions for the last several chapters now actually refers to Moses himself. If you have been translating the instructions using a plural form of you or by shifting the instructions to the third person, you should switch back to a singular form referring directly to Moses for this chapter.

"I will live among the Israelites"

As God, Yahweh is everywhere and cannot be limited to a single space. This phrase indicates that he permanently remains within Israel in a special way while they have the ark.

Exodus 29:1And this (ULT)
the following things (UST)

A new scene begins here. There is a change in topic from instructions for making garments for priests to consecrating priests. This may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

you shall do (ULT)
Do (UST)

Here, you refers to Moses. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

to them (ULT)
Aaron and his sons (UST)

Alternate translation: “to Aaron and his sons” (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

to me (ULT)
to serve me (UST)

Here me refers to Yahweh. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

a son of the herd (ULT)
young bull (UST)

This is an idiom meaning young. If you do not have a similar idiom you may translate the meaning. Alternate translation: “a young one” (See: Idiom)

ULT

¹ And this {is} the thing that you shall do to them to set them apart to be priests to me. Take one bull, a son of the herd, and two unblemished rams

UST

¹ Do the following things to dedicate Aaron and his sons to serve me by being priests. Select one young bull and two rams that do not have any defects.

Exodus 29:2

mixed with oil...rubbed with oil (ULT) with olive oil in it...with oil on the outside (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. You may need to shorten the sentences and make the alternate translation content separate sentences or mark it off with special punctuation. Alternate translation: "(mix them with oil) ... (rub them with oil)" (See: Active or Passive) and unleavened wafers rubbed with oil (ULT) all without yeast...and thin wafers with oil on the outside (UST)

These may have been rubbed with oil before or after baking.

and...cakes...and...wafers (ULT) soft bread...and thin wafers (UST)

These are different kinds of food made from flour. While all the breads were somewhat flat because they were unleavened, the cakes were a bread enriched with oil, and the wafers were especially thin. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

² and unleavened bread and unleavened cakes mixed with oil and unleavened wafers rubbed with oil. Make them with fine flour of wheat.

UST

² Also, using finely ground wheat flour, bake these all without yeast: {plain} bread, soft bread with olive oil in it, and thin wafers with oil on the outside.

Exodus 29:3them (ULT)*them (UST)

Alternate translation: “the bread, cakes, and wafers” (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) and you shall bring them near in the basket, and the bull and the two rams (ULT)

Bring the basket with the bread in it, the young bull, and the two rams {to me (UST)}

Here, in the basket is almost parenthetical. You may need to restructure the sentence or use punctuation to make it clear that the bull and the two rams are connected to bring, and not to in the basket. Alternate translation: “and you shall bring them near (in the basket) along with the bull and the two rams”

ULT

³ And you shall put them into one basket, and you shall bring them near in the basket, and the bull and the two rams.

UST

³ Put them in a basket. Bring the basket with the bread in it, the young bull, and the two rams {to me}.

Exodus 29:4

the tent of meeting (ULT)

the sacred tent (UST)

The tent of meeting is another name for the dwelling. See how you translated this in Exodus 27:21.

ULT

⁴ And you shall bring Aaron and his sons near to the entrance of the tent of meeting. And you shall wash them with water.

UST

⁴ Take Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the sacred tent and wash them with water.

Exodus 29:5

with the finely woven waistband of (ULT) with...sash (UST)

This was a cloth belt made from narrow linen threads that someone twisted together to make a stronger thread. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:8. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁵ And you shall take the garments, and you shall clothe Aaron with the tunic and the robe of the ephod and the ephod and the breastpiece, and you shall fasten the ephod to him with the finely woven waistband of the ephod.

UST

⁵ Then put the vestments on Aaron—the long-sleeved tunic, the robe under the sacred apron, the sacred apron, and the sacred pouch. Tie the sacred apron onto him with its sash.

Exodus 29:6the turban...the turban (ULT)*the turban...the turban (UST)

This was a head covering made from cloth wrapped around the head several times. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:4. (See: Translate Unknowns)

the crown of...holiness (ULT)the sacred ornament...that has the words...*Dedicated to Yahweh' engraved on it (UST)

This crown is described in Exodus 28:36 as being engraved with the words "Holy to Yahweh" and made of pure gold. There it is referred to by a different Hebrew word, which is translated as "rosette." (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁶ And you shall set the turban on his head and put the crown of holiness on the turban.

UST

⁶ Put the turban on his head, and fasten to the turban the sacred ornament {that has the words 'Dedicated to Yahweh' engraved on it}.

Exodus 29:7

the oil of...anointing (ULT)

anointing...oil (UST)

See how you translated oil of anointing" in 25:6. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

⁷ And you shall take the oil of anointing and pour it on his head and anoint him.

UST

⁷ Then take the anointing oil and pour some on his head to dedicate him.

Exodus 29:8

his sons (ULT)

his sons (UST)

Alternate translation: "Aaron's sons" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

⁸ And you shall bring his sons and clothe them with tunics.

UST

⁸ Then bring his sons and put the long-sleeved tunics on them.

Exodus 29:9

with the sash (ULT) the sashes (UST)

A sash is a decorative piece of cloth that people wear around their waist or across their chest. See how you translated this word in Exodus 28:4. (See: Translate Unknowns) headbands (ULT) the caps (UST)

A headband is a narrow, decorative strip of cloth that is worn around the head above the eyes. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:40. (See: Translate Unknowns)

the priesthood (ULT) are the priests (UST)

Here, the priesthood means the official office of priest. Alternate translation: “the duty of being priests” (See: Translate Unknowns)

And the priesthood will be to them (ULT) This is...they are the priests (UST)

The duty of being priests will also belong to the descendants of Aaron's sons. You can state this clearly in the translation. Alternate translation: “And the priesthood will belong to them and their descendants” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) as a statute forever (ULT) an eternal law (UST)

Alternate translation: “a law that will not end.” See how you translated this in Exodus 28:43.

And you shall fill the hand of Aaron and the hand of his sons (ULT) You will authorize them for this (UST)

The phrase, fill the hand, seems to be an idiom for giving authority to someone. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:41. Alternate translation: “And you shall ordain Aaron and his sons” (See: Idiom)

And you shall fill the hand of Aaron and the hand of his sons (ULT) You will authorize them for this (UST)

The phrase, fill the hand may be (1) a summary and reminder statement of the whole ordination process, (2) referring to the previous description, meaning that the priests have been ordained, or (3) referring to the following description, meaning that the priests are about to be ordained. It would probably be best to translate this in the way a mid-text summary reminder phrase would be spoken in your language, avoiding any indication that it refers only to the previous or following text.

ULT

⁹ And you shall wrap them—Aaron and his sons—with the sash and bind headbands to them. And the priesthood will be to them as a statute forever. And you shall fill the hand of Aaron and the hand of his sons.

UST

⁹ Tie the sashes around Aaron and his sons' waists and secure the caps on their heads. This is an eternal law: they are the priests. You will authorize them for this.

Exodus 29:10tent of meeting

The purpose of the sacrifice explained here through verse 14 is to purify or cleanse the altar. This is made more clear in verses 36-37.

to the face of the tent of meeting (ULT) to the front of the sacred tent (UST)

Here, face refers to the front of the tent. See the UST. (See: Metonymy)

and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the bull (ULT)

While Aaron and his sons put their hands on the head of the young bull (UST)

The slaughter of the bull in the next verse occurs while the priests continue to have their hands on the bull's head. Take care to arrange the phrases and to use words or forms that indicate that the two events happened at the same time. (See: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship)

ULT

10 And you shall bring the bull to the face of the tent of meeting, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the bull.

UST

10 Then bring the young bull to the front of the sacred tent. While Aaron and his sons put their hands on the head of the young bull,

Exodus 29:11

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

11 And you shall slaughter the bull before the face of Yahweh at the entrance of the tent of meeting.

UST

11 sacrifice the young bull {by slitting its throat} before Yahweh {outside} the entrance to the sacred tent {and catch the blood in a bowl}.

Exodus 29:12

the horns of (ULT) the projections of (UST)

These were projections that looked like ox horns attached to the four corners of the altar. See how you translated this in Exodus 27:2. (See: Translate Unknowns) all of the blood (ULT) the rest of...the blood (UST)

Alternate translation: "the remaining blood"

ULT

¹² And you shall take from the blood of the bull and put it on the horns of the altar with your finger, and you shall pour out all of the blood on the base of the altar.

UST

¹² Take some of that blood with your finger and smear it on the projections of the altar. Pour the rest of the blood at the bottom of the altar.

Exodus 29:13

and cause them to become smoke (ULT)
Burn all these...until they are completely gone (UST)

Alternate translation: "and burn them to make smoke"

the liver...the...kidneys (ULT)
the liver...kidneys (UST)

The liver and kidneys are organs in the body. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

¹³ And you shall take all of the fat covering the entrails and the lobe above the liver and the two kidneys and the fat that is on them, and cause them to become smoke on the altar.

UST

¹³ Take all the fat that covers the inner organs of the young bull, the fatty covering of the liver, and both kidneys with the fat on them. Burn all these on the altar until they are completely gone.

Exodus 29:14

But as for the bull's flesh, as well as its skin and dung

Alternate translation: "But as for the remaining parts of the bull, including the flesh and dung, you shall burn it"

outside of the camp (ULT) outside the camp (UST)

Alternate translation: "outside the borders of where the Israelites are camped"

ULT

¹⁴ But you shall burn the flesh of the bull and its skin and its dung in the fire outside of the camp. It is a purification offering.

UST

¹⁴ But you must burn the meat of the young bull and its hide and intestines on a fire outside the camp. {Sacrificing} the bull purifies {the altar}.

Exodus 29:15

and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram (ULT)

While Aaron and his sons put their hands on its head (UST)

The slaughter of the ram in the next verse occurs while they continue to have their hands on the ram's head. Take care to arrange the phrases and to use words or forms that indicate that the two events happened at the same time. (See: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship)

ULT

¹⁵ And you shall take one ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram,

UST

¹⁵ Select one of the rams. While Aaron and his sons put their hands on its head,

Exodus 29:16

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

16 and you shall slaughter the ram. And you shall take its blood and sprinkle it all around on the altar.

UST

16 kill the ram {by slitting its throat}. Catch the blood and sprinkle it all over the altar.

Exodus 29:17

its entrails (ULT)

its inner organs (UST)

Alternate translation: "the organs" See how you translated this in Exodus 29:13. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

17 And you shall cut the ram into pieces and wash its entrails and its legs and put them on its pieces and on its head,

UST

17 Then cut the ram into pieces. Wash its inner organs and its legs, and put those with the head and the rest of the body parts

Exodus 29:18

and cause all of the ram to become smoke (ULT)

Then completely burn it all (UST)

Alternate translation: "and burn all of the ram to make smoke"

It is a burnt offering to Yahweh. It is a scent of appeasement, a fire offering to Yahweh (ULT)
That will be a burnt offering to me, Yahweh, and the fire's smell will please me (UST)

These phrases are in parallel, with the second expanding and clarifying the first. In some languages, you may need to use a different structure to expand and clarify the burnt offering. Alternate translation: "It is a pleasant smelling burnt offering made by fire to Yahweh" (See: Parallelism)

ULT

¹⁸ and cause all of the ram to become smoke on the altar. It is a burnt offering to Yahweh. It is a scent of appeasement, a fire offering to Yahweh.

UST

¹⁸ on the altar. Then completely burn it all. That will be a burnt offering to me, Yahweh, and the fire's smell will please me.

Exodus 29:19

the second (ULT)

the other (UST)

Except for the second, this verse is identical to verse 15.

ULT

¹⁹ And you shall take the second ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram,

UST

¹⁹ Take the other ram. While Aaron and his sons put their hands on its head,

Exodus 29:20

and you shall slaughter the ram (ULT) kill the ram {by slitting its throat (UST)}

They killed the ram by cutting its throat. This can be stated clearly in the translation. Alternate translation: “and kill the ram by cutting its throat” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²⁰ and you shall slaughter the ram and take some of its blood. And you shall put it on the tip of the right ear of Aaron and on the tip of the right ear of his sons and on the thumb of their right hand and on the great toe of their right foot. And you shall sprinkle the blood all around on the altar.

UST

²⁰ kill the ram {by slitting its throat}. Catch the blood. Smear some of the blood on the bottom portion of Aaron's and his sons' right ears, on their right thumbs, and on the big toes on their right feet. Throw the rest of the blood against the four sides of the altar.

Exodus 29:21

And you shall take some of the blood that is on the altar and some of the oil of anointing and sprinkle it (ULT)

Wipe up some of the blood that is on the altar, mix it with some of the oil for anointing, and sprinkle it (UST)

Moses would mix the blood and oil. You may need to make this explicit. Alternate translation: "And you shall take some of the blood that is on the altar and mix it with some of the oil of anointing and sprinkle it" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

²¹ And you shall take some of the blood that is on the altar and some of the oil of anointing and sprinkle it on Aaron and on his garments and on his sons and on the garments of his sons along with him. And he will be set apart and his garments and his sons and the garments of his sons along with him.

UST

²¹ Wipe up some of the blood that is on the altar, mix it with some of the oil for anointing, and sprinkle it on Aaron and his clothes, and on his sons and their clothes. By doing this, you will dedicate them and their clothes to me.

Exodus 29:22

inner parts...liver...kidney

The entrails and liver refer to organs inside the body. See how you translated this in Exodus 29:13. (See: Translate Unknowns)

ULT

²² And you shall take the fat from the ram and the fat tail and the fat covering the entrails and the lobe of the liver and the two kidneys and the fat that is on them and the right thigh—for this is a ram of consecration—

UST

²² Also, cut off the ram's fat: its fat tail, and the fat that covers the inner organs, the fatty covering of the liver, the two kidneys with the fat on them, and the right thigh. (This ram is for making holy {Aaron and his sons, who will be my priests}.)

Exodus 29:23

and one round loaf of bread, and one cake of bread of oil, and one wafer from the basket of unleavened bread that is before the face of Yahweh (ULT)

Finally, from the basket of bread that they baked without yeast (the one that you brought to me), take a {plain} round loaf, a piece of soft bread with oil in it, and a thin wafer {with oil on the outside (UST)

All of these items were in the basket mentioned in verse 2, not just the wafer. Be sure this is clear in your translation. Alternate translation: “and from the basket of bread without yeast that is before the face of Yahweh: one round loaf of bread, and one cake of bread of oil, and one wafer”

and one round loaf of bread, and one cake of bread of oil, and one wafer from the basket of unleavened bread (ULT)

Finally, from the basket of bread that they baked without yeast...take a {plain} round loaf, a piece of soft bread with oil in it, and a thin wafer {with oil on the outside (UST)

For 29:23, see how you translated similar words in Exodus 29:2.

that is before the face of Yahweh (ULT)

the one that you brought to me (UST)

This means in the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: “that you have placed before Yahweh” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²³ and one round loaf of bread, and one cake of bread of oil, and one wafer from the basket of unleavened bread that is before the face of Yahweh.

UST

²³ Finally, from the basket of bread that they baked without yeast (the one that you brought to me), take a {plain} round loaf, a piece of soft bread with oil in it, and a thin wafer {with oil on the outside}.

Exodus 29:24all these (ULT)*all these things (UST)

Here, all these refers to the parts of the sacrifice mentioned in the previous verses. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) and you shall raise (ULT)Then tell them to lift...up high (UST)

While the text reads, you shall raise, logically, it is Aaron and his sons who will raise the offerings at this point. It may be clearer to your readers to change the person here. Alternate translation: “and they shall raise” (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

²⁴ And you shall put all these on the palms of Aaron and on the palms of his sons, and you shall raise them as a raised offering before the face of Yahweh.

UST

²⁴ Put all these things into the hands of Aaron and his sons. Then tell them to lift them up high to dedicate them to me.

and you shall raise them as a raised offering before the face of Yahweh (ULT)Then tell them to lift them up high to dedicate them to me (UST)

The act of raising the meat and bread symbolized dedicating it to Yahweh. The priests would be acting out the process of handing the offering to him. You may need to make this clear in your language. Alternate translation: “and they shall show that they are giving them to me by holding them up to me” (See: Symbolic Action)

before the face of Yahweh (ULT)to me (UST)

This means in the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: “before Yahweh” (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 29:25

and cause them to become smoke on the altar above the burnt offering to be an aroma of appeasing before the face of Yahweh, it is a fire offering to Yahweh (ULT) and completely burn them on the altar, on top of the burnt offering. That also will be a fire offering to me, and its smell will please me (UST)

See how you translated similar phrases in verse 18.

ULT

²⁵ And you shall take them from their hands, and cause them to become smoke on the altar above the burnt offering to be an aroma of appeasing before the face of Yahweh, it is a fire offering to Yahweh.

UST

²⁵ Then take them from their hands and completely burn them on the altar, on top of the burnt offering. That also will be a fire offering to me, and its smell will please me.

Exodus 29:26

from the ram of consecration (ULT) the ram...making...holy (UST)

See how you translated this in verse 22. Alternate translation: “from the ram that you dedicated” and raise it for a raised offering (ULT) and lift it up high to dedicate it (UST)

The act of raising the meat symbolized dedicating it to Yahweh. The priests would be acting out handing the offering to him. You may need to make this clear in your language. See how you translated this in verse 24. Alternate translation: “and show that you are giving it to me by holding it up to me” (See: Symbolic Action)

ULT

²⁶ And you shall take the breast from the ram of consecration that is for Aaron and raise it for a raised offering before the face of Yahweh, and it will be your share.

UST

²⁶ Then take the breast of the ram for making Aaron holy and lift it up high to dedicate it to me. But then this part of the animal will be for you to eat.

Exodus 29:27

and...the raised offering that was raised...the thigh of the contribution that was contributed (ULT) that you lifted high to dedicate to me and the thigh that you presented to me (UST)

The act of raising the meat symbolized dedicating it to Yahweh. The priests would be acting out handing the offering to him. You may need to make this clear in your language. See how you translated this in verse 24. (See: Symbolic Action)

ULT

²⁷ And from the ram of consecration which is for Aaron and which is for his sons, you shall set apart the breast of the raised offering that was raised and the thigh of the contribution that was contributed.

UST

²⁷ Set these apart from the ram for making holy {Aaron and his sons as my priests}: the breast that you lifted high to dedicate to me and the thigh that you presented to me. These are for Aaron and his sons.

Exodus 29:28

And it shall belong to Aaron and to his sons—as an eternal requirement—for it is an offering from the sons of Israel (ULT)
This custom will continue forever. Whenever the Israelites bring offerings...the breast and the thigh of animals that they present to me will be for Aaron and his male descendants to eat (UST)

Alternate translation: "This offering is what Aaron and his sons will always receive from the people"

for it is an offering from the sons of Israel.
And it shall be an offering from the sons of Israel from the sacrifices of their peace offerings, their offerings to Yahweh (ULT)
Whenever the Israelites bring offerings to show they are friends with me... that they present to me (UST)

The amount of repetition in this verse may make it difficult to translate smoothly. You may consider combining some phrases if that would work better in your language. Alternate translation: "for the Israelites must offer this portion from what they bring to Yahweh as peace offerings to him"

ULT

²⁸ And it shall belong to Aaron and to his sons—as an eternal requirement—for it is an offering from the sons of Israel. And it shall be an offering from the sons of Israel from the sacrifices of their peace offerings, their offerings to Yahweh.

UST

²⁸ This custom will continue forever. Whenever the Israelites bring offerings to show they are friends with me, the breast and the thigh of animals that they present to me will be for Aaron and his male descendants to eat.

Exodus 29:29

and to fill their hand in them (ULT)
They will wear them...to authorize them to be priests (UST)

Fill their hand seems to be an idiom for giving authority to someone. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:41. Alternate translation: “to ordain them in the clothing” (See: Idiom)

ULT

²⁹ And the garments of holiness that are for Aaron shall be for his sons after him, for anointing in them and to fill their hand in them.

UST

²⁹ After Aaron {dies}, the sacred vestments that he wore will belong to his male descendants. They will wear them when {a leader} anoints them to authorize them to be priests.

Exodus 29:30

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁰ The priest who succeeds him from among his sons, who comes into the tent of meeting to serve in the holy place, shall wear them for seven days.

UST

³⁰ Aaron's descendant who becomes high priest after him and enters the sacred tent and performs rituals in the holy place must wear these vestments for seven days.

Exodus 29:31

the ram of consecration (ULT)
the ram...that they sacrificed to make Aaron and his sons holy (UST)

The ram of consecration refers to the second ram, the one described in verses 19 and following.

in a holy place (ULT)
in a location set aside for that (UST)

This is not the same as the holy place outside of the most holy place. This probably refers to a place within the courtyard. However, its exact location is not otherwise specified. Alternate translation: “at the entrance to the tent of meeting” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

³¹ And you shall take the ram of consecration and boil its meat in a holy place.

UST

³¹ Take the breast and thigh of the ram that they sacrificed to make Aaron and his sons holy, and boil it in a location set aside for that.

Exodus 29:32

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³² And Aaron and his sons shall eat the meat of the ram and the bread that is in the basket at the entrance to the tent of meeting.

UST

³² {After it is cooked,} Aaron and his sons must eat the meat, along with the bread that is left in the basket, at the entrance to the sacred tent.

Exodus 29:33

to fill their hand (ULT) when they became priests (UST)

This seems to be an idiom for giving authority to someone. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:41. Alternate translation: “to ordain them” (See: Idiom)

ULT

³³ And they shall eat these that were for their atoning to fill their hand, to set them apart. But a stranger shall not eat them, because they are set apart.

UST

³³ They will eat these things from the offering that made them holy by covering their sins when they became priests. But no one else can eat these things, because they are reserved for the priests.

Exodus 29:34

It shall not be eaten (ULT)

Do not eat any of it (UST)

ULT

³⁴ And if any meat of the consecration or any of the bread remains until the morning, then you shall burn the remainder with fire. It shall not be eaten, because it is set apart.

UST

³⁴ If any of the holy meat or bread is left over in the morning, you must completely burn it. Do not eat any of it, because it is sacred.

Exodus 29:35thus (ULT)*all this...just as (UST)

Here, thus means “like this” and, as the next verses make clear, refers to the sacrificial ceremony outlined in this chapter which they must repeat seven times.

seven (ULT)seven (UST)

Alternate translation: “7” (See: Numbers)

you shall fill their hand (ULT)You will prepare them (UST)

This seems to be an idiom for giving authority to someone. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:41. Alternate translation: “you shall ordain them” (See: Idiom)

ULT

³⁵ And thus you shall do to Aaron and to his sons according to all that I have commanded you: you shall fill their hand seven days.

UST

³⁵ Do all this to Aaron and his sons just as I have told you. You will prepare them for seven days.

Exodus 29:36

General Information:

This verse and the next explain the purpose of the sacrifice detailed in verses 10-14.

And you shall offer a bull of purification for atonement daily, and you shall purify the altar by making atonement for it (ULT)
Sacrifice a {young} bull to purify {the altar} each of those days. That will ceremonially cleanse the altar by covering the altar's imperfections (UST)

The phrase and you shall purify the altar by making atonement for it describes the purpose of offering the bull. You may want to use a stronger connector. In languages that need to put purpose first, you may need to re-order the clauses. Alternate translation: "And you shall offer a bull of purification for atonement daily, thus you shall purify the altar, by making atonement for it." or "You shall purify the altar by making atonement for it: you shall offer a bull of purification daily for its atonement." (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

ULT

36 And you shall offer a bull of purification for atonement daily, and you shall purify the altar by making atonement for it. And you shall anoint it to set it apart.

UST

36 Sacrifice a {young} bull to purify {the altar} each of those days. That will ceremonially cleanse the altar by covering the altar's imperfections. You must also pour {olive oil} over the altar to dedicate it {to Yahweh}.

Exodus 29:37

a holiest holy thing (ULT) so very holy (UST)

Here, holiest holy means extremely or uniquely holy. If this form would not express that this item would become uniquely holy in your language you may need to find another way to express this idea. Alternate translation: “a most holy thing” or “extraordinarily holy” (See: Possession) will be set apart (ULT) that it will make...holy too (UST)

Alternate translation: “will also become set apart”

ULT

³⁷ You shall make atonement for the altar seven days, and set it apart. And the altar will be a holiest holy thing. Whatever touches the altar will be set apart.

UST

³⁷ After you cover the altar for seven days you will have made it holy. It will be so very holy that it will make anything that touches it holy too.

Exodus 29:38

sons of a year (ULT)

one-year-old (UST)

The phrase sons of a year is an idiom meaning one year old. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. (See: Idiom)

ULT

³⁸ And this is what you shall offer on the altar every day continually: two lambs, sons of a year.

UST

³⁸ You must also perpetually sacrifice two one-year-old lambs per day on the altar.

Exodus 29:39

between the evenings (ULT) around twilight (UST)

The exact meaning of this phrase is debated. Since the priests ate many of the sacrifices, it may have been offered around the time of the evening meal. (See: Idiom)

ULT

³⁹ The one lamb you shall offer in the morning, and the second lamb you shall offer between the evenings.

UST

³⁹ You must sacrifice one lamb in the morning and the other around twilight.

Exodus 29:40

a tenth of...the fourth part of...the fourth part of (ULT) also {offer} two liters of...a liter of...one liter of (UST)

Alternate translation: "1/10 of ... 1/4 of ... 1/4 of" (See: Fractions)

a tenth of fine flour (ULT)

also {offer} two liters of finely ground wheat flour (UST)

Many commentators suggest that this means one tenth of an "ephah" even though "ephah" is not written. If your translation style retains the original measurement words, you may need to insert the word you are using for "ephah" here. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

a tenth of fine flour...the fourth part of a hin...the fourth part of a hin of (ULT) also {offer} two liters of finely ground wheat flour...a liter of...one liter of (UST)

The values given in the UST are approximations as the exact size of an ephah and a hin is not precisely known. An ephah (the implied measurement) may have been around 22 liters, so this is about 2.2 liters of flour. A hin may have been around 3.7 liters, so this is about one liter of both oil and wine. (See: Biblical Volume)

ULT

⁴⁰ For the first lamb: a tenth of fine flour mixed with pressed oil (the fourth part of a hin) and a drink offering: the fourth part of a hin of wine.

UST

⁴⁰ With the first lamb, also {offer} two liters of finely ground wheat flour mixed with a liter of the best kind of olive oil, and one liter of wine as a drink-offering.

Exodus 29:41

between the evenings (ULT)

In the evening (UST)

The exact meaning of the phrase between the evenings is debated. Since the priests ate many of the sacrifices, it may have been offered around the time of the evening meal. See how you translated it in verse 39. (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁴¹ And you shall offer the second lamb between the evenings. You shall offer the same grain offering as in the morning and the same drink offering with it for a scent of appeasement, a fire offering to Yahweh.

UST

⁴¹ In the evening, when you sacrifice the other lamb, offer the same amounts of flour, olive oil, and wine as you did in the morning. This will be an offering to me, Yahweh, that they will burn, and its smell will please me.

Exodus 29:42

throughout your generations (ULT)
You and your descendants...throughout all future generations (UST)

Alternate translation: "through all the generations of your descendants." See how you translated this in Exodus 12:14.

before the face of Yahweh (ULT)
to me, Yahweh (UST)

This means in the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "before Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁴² It shall be a continual burnt offering throughout your generations, at the entrance to the tent of meeting before the face of Yahweh, there where I will meet with you to speak to you there.

UST

⁴² You and your descendants must continue making these offerings to me, Yahweh, throughout all future generations. You must offer them at the entrance to the sacred tent. That is where I will meet with you and speak to you.

Exodus 29:43

and it will be set apart by my glory (ULT) and the brilliant light of my presence will cause that place to be holy (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "My awesome presence will dedicate the tent to me" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

⁴³ And I will meet with the sons of Israel there, and it will be set apart by my glory.

UST

⁴³ That is where I will meet with the Israelites, and the brilliant light of my presence will cause that place to be holy.

Exodus 29:44

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴⁴ And I will set apart the tent of meeting and the altar. And I will set apart Aaron and his sons to be priests to me.

UST

⁴⁴ I will dedicate the sacred tent and the altar. I will also dedicate Aaron and his sons to be my priests.

Exodus 29:45

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴⁵ And I will live among the sons of Israel and will be their God.

UST

⁴⁵ I will live with the Israelites, and I will be their God.

Exodus 29:46

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴⁶ And they will know that I am Yahweh their God, who brought them out from the land of Egypt to live among them. I am Yahweh their God.

UST

⁴⁶ They will know that I, Yahweh their God, am the one who brought them out of Egypt in order that I might live among them. I am Yahweh, the God whom they worship.

Exodus 30

Exodus 30 General Notes
 This chapter is mostly a return to instructions for building worship equipment for the sacred tent. The forms of "you" are mostly singular. However, they again refer to the workmen that Moses will instruct, so you should return to whatever form you have been following in chapters 25-28.

Structure:
 v. 1-10: Incense altar * v. 1-6: Instructions for making the incense altar * v. 7-10: Use of the incense altar
 v. 11-16: Ransom money for taking a census
 v. 17-21: Instructions for a washbasin
 v. 22-30: Anointing oil * v. 22-25: Instructions for making the oil * v. 26-33: Instructions for using the oil
 v. 34-38: Making and using sacred incense

Special Concepts in this Chapter
Atonement
 Through the offering of blood and money, things and people were kept in God's favor. (See: atonement, atone, atoned)
Holiness
 Some items in this chapter became so holy that they could make other things holy. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)
Unknown terms
 There are a number of ingredient terms that are unknown even to scholars.

Exodus 30:1

And you shall make (ULT)

Make (UST)

Here, you refers to Moses and the people of Israel. (See: Forms of You)

ULT

¹ And you shall make an altar, a place of burning of incense. You shall make it with wood of acacias,

¹ Make an altar from acacia wood for burning incense.

Exodus 30:2Its horns (ULT)

Make...projections that look like} horns on the same block of wood as the altar (UST)

See how you translated horns in Exodus 27:2 (See: Translate Unknowns) shall be one cubit...and...shall be one cubit...

and...shall be two cubits (ULT)

one-half meter on each side...one-half meter on each side...It is to be one meter (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46cm. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 46cm ... 46cm ... 94cm (See: Biblical Distance)

ULT

² Its length shall be one cubit and its width shall be one cubit. It shall be square, and its height shall be two cubits. Its horns {shall be} part of it.

UST

² It is to be square, one-half meter on each side. It is to be one meter high. Make {projections that look like} horns on the same block of wood as the altar.

Exodus 30:3

General Information:

This verse is very similar to Exodus 25:11, so see how you translated there.

ULT

³ And you shall overlay it with pure gold—its top and all around its sides and its horns—and you shall make for it a border of gold around it.

UST

³ Cover the top and the four sides, including the projections, with pure gold. Put a gold molding all around it.

Exodus 30:4

to be attached to it

When translating this verse, you may want to refer back to several other passages regarding making rings for carrying poles. See Exo 25:12, Exo 25:26, Exo 25:27, & Exo 27:4.

housings (ULT) to hold (UST)

Here, the word housings means that the rings will hold the poles. Since they are where the poles belong for use, they are figuratively their house. If you have a similar idiom meaning “place of belonging,” you may use it or you may translate the idea. Alternate translation: “a place” (See: Idiom)

ULT

⁴ And you shall make two rings of gold for it under its border on its two sides. You shall make them on its two sides. They will be housings for the poles for carrying it with.

UST

⁴ Make two gold rings and attach them to the altar below the molding, one on each side of the altar. These rings are to hold the poles for carrying the altar.

Exodus 30:5

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁵ And you shall make the poles of wood of acacias, and you shall overlay them with gold.

UST

⁵ Make these two poles from acacia wood and cover them with gold.

Exodus 30:6

before the face of...It shall be before the face of (ULT) outside...The chest that has (UST)

Here, before the face of means in front of. (See: Metonymy)

you (ULT)

with you (UST)

Here, you refers to Moses. (See: Forms of You)

ULT

⁶ And you shall place it before the face of the curtain that is over the Box of the Testimony. It shall be before the face of the atonement lid that is over the Testimony, where I will meet with you.

UST

⁶ Put this incense altar outside the curtain that hangs in front of the sacred chest. (The chest that has a lid covering the stone slabs, where I will talk with you.)

Exodus 30:7

Morning by morning (ULT)
every morning (UST)

Alternate translation: "Each morning" or "Daily, in the morning" when he makes the lamps good (ULT)

when he takes care of the lamps (UST)

The lamps had burned overnight and weren't needed during the day, so he would put them out and do whatever maintenance was required for them to be ready to burn again in the evening. Alternate translation: "trims the lamps"

ULT

⁷ And Aaron shall cause smoke on it, incense of fragrance. Morning by morning, when he makes the lamps good, he shall cause it to smoke,

UST

⁷ Aaron must burn sweet-smelling incense on this altar. He must burn some every morning when he takes care of the lamps,

Exodus 30:8

and when Aaron lifts up the lamps (ULT) and...when he lights the lamps (UST)

This may indicate that in the morning Aaron had taken the lamps down, and he would light them and then put them up on the holders in the evening.

between the evenings (ULT) in the evening (UST)

The exact meaning of this phrase is debated. See how you translated it in 29:39. (See: Idiom) throughout your generations (ULT) throughout all future generations (UST)

Alternate translation: “through all the generations of your descendants.” See how you translated this in Exodus 12:14.

ULT

⁸ and when Aaron lifts up the lamps between the evenings, he will make it smoke. Incense will be continually before the face of Yahweh throughout your generations.

UST

⁸ and he must burn some in the evening when he lights the lamps. Always keep incense burning for me throughout all future generations.

Exodus 30:9

You shall not offer up strange incense or a burnt offering or a grain offering on it (ULT)
Do not burn on the altar any incense that I have not told you to burn, or burn any animal on it, or any flour offering for me (UST)

Later, in verses 34 and following, God describes how to make the one sort of incense that he wants burnt on this altar. Alternate translation: "You shall only offer up the kind of incense I tell you. You shall not make burnt or grain offerings on it."

ULT

⁹ You shall not offer up strange incense or a burnt offering or a grain offering on it. And you shall not pour a drink offering on it.

UST

⁹ Do not burn on the altar any incense that I have not told you to burn, or burn any animal on it, or any flour offering for me, nor pour any wine on it as an offering.

Exodus 30:10

It is a holiest holy thing to Yahweh (ULT)
The altar will be very holy, dedicated to me,
Yahweh (UST)

This last clause defines the purpose of the ritual described in this verse. See Exo 29:37. Alternate translation: “This is to make it holy of holies to Yahweh.” (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

its horns (ULT)
the projections on the altar (UST)

These were projections that looked like ox horns and were attached to the four corners of the altar. See how you translated this in Exodus 27:2.

throughout your generations (ULT)
throughout all future generations (UST)

Alternate translation: “through all the generations of your descendants.” See how you translated this in Exodus 12:14.

a holiest holy thing (ULT) will be very holy, dedicated (UST)

Here, holiest holy means extremely or uniquely holy. If this form would not express that this item would become uniquely holy in your language you may need to find another way to express this idea. See how you translated this in Exodus 29:37. Alternate translation: “a most holy thing” or “extraordinarily holy” (See: Possession)

to Yahweh (ULT)
to me, Yahweh (UST)

After Yahweh, the direct quote that began in Exo 25:2 ends. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with a closing first-level quotation mark or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate the end of a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

ULT

¹⁰ And Aaron shall make atonement on its horns once a year. From the blood of the purification of the atonement once a year he shall make atonement for it throughout your generations. It is a holiest holy thing to Yahweh.”

UST

¹⁰ Once a year, Aaron must take the purifying blood from the annual sacrifice that covers up the bad things people do and put it on the projections on the altar to cover the altar's flaws. {Each high priest} will cover the altar's flaws{this way} throughout all future generations. The altar will be very holy, dedicated to me, Yahweh.”

Exodus 30:11

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹¹ Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 30:12

you lift up the head of (ULT) your leaders} count (UST)

In this context, lift up the head means to take a census. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "take a census" (See: Idiom)

you lift up (ULT) your leaders} count (UST)

This could mean: (1) you refers to Moses and the leaders of Israel in future generations when they take a census or (2) you refers to just Moses. (See: Forms of You)

each man (ULT) each man (UST)

The leaders only counted the Israelite men.

ULT

¹² "When you lift up the head of the sons of Israel to count them, then each man shall give the ransom of his life to Yahweh when counting them. And there will not be a plague among them when counting them.

UST

¹² "Whenever {your leaders} count to find out how many Israelites there are, each man who {they} count must pay a price to me to save his life. This is so I do not cause the people to become sick and die when {the leaders} count them.

Exodus 30:13

Every passer over to the counted ones (ULT)
When a man walks by a leader so he can count
him (UST)

This is an idiom that suggests that the men were counted by walking past someone who was counting people as they walked by. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "Everyone counted" (See: Idiom)

a shekel...according to the shekel of...the shekel...gerahs...shekel (ULT)
a standard weight...Use...weight standard... which is about 11 grams...weight {of silver
(UST)

The shekel and the gerah are units of weight. (See: Biblical Weight)

a shekel...according to the shekel of...the shekel...shekel (ULT) a standard weight...Use...weight standard...which is about 11 grams...weight {of silver (UST)

The shekel was used as both a weight and a unit of money. (See: Biblical Money)

half of...The half (ULT) that weighs half of...This half (UST)

Alternate translation: "1/2" (See: Fractions)

according to the shekel of the sanctuary (the shekel is 20 gerahs (ULT)
Use the official tabernacle weight standard, which is about 11 grams (UST)

There were evidently shekels of more than one weight at the time. This specified which one was to be used.

ULT

¹³ Every passer over to the counted ones shall give this: half of a shekel, according to the shekel of the sanctuary (the shekel is 20 gerahs). The half shekel is an offering to Yahweh.

UST

¹³ When a man walks by a leader so he can count him he must pay {silver} that weighs half of a standard weight. (Use the official tabernacle weight standard, which is about 11 grams.) This half-weight {of silver} is an offering to me, Yahweh.

Exodus 30:14

Every passer over to the counted ones (ULT)
Every man...when he walks by a leader so the leader can count him (UST)

This is an idiom that suggests that the men were counted by walking past someone who was counting people as they walked by. It is the same phrase as in the previous verse. Alternate translation: "Everyone counted" (See: Idiom)

from a son of 20 years (ULT) who is at least 20 years old (UST)

This is an idiom that refers to age. See the UST and how you translated the same idiom in Exo 7:7. (See: Idiom) from a son of 20 years and up (ULT)

who is at least 20 years old (UST)

Larger numbers are spoken of as being up or above smaller numbers. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "from twenty years old and more" or "who is twenty years old or older" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹⁴ Every passer over to the counted ones, from a son of 20 years and up, shall give the contribution of Yahweh.

UST

¹⁴ Every man who is at least 20 years old must pay this amount to me, Yahweh, when he walks by a leader so the leader can count him.

Exodus 30:15

from the half-shekel (ULT) than this amount...than this amount (UST)

See how you translated this in Exodus 3:13. (See: Biblical Money)

your lives (ULT) their lives (UST)

The plural form of you is used here. In many cases, since Yahweh is speaking to Moses about the people that will be counted, it may make more sense to change to the third person. However, Moses would be counted as well and would have to pay the ransom, so a form of you that could include Moses and all the other Israelite men would also be an appropriate translation. (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

¹⁵ The rich shall not increase, and the poor shall not decrease from the half-shekel for giving the contribution of Yahweh to cover over your lives.

UST

¹⁵ Rich men must not pay more than this amount, and poor men must not pay less than this amount when they pay this money to me, Yahweh, to save their lives.

Exodus 30:16

to...And it shall be as a reminder for the sons of Israel before the face of Yahweh to cover... your lives (ULT) for...It will remind me, Yahweh, that the Israelites have paid money to save their lives (UST)

This sentence is very unclear. It is not clear who is being reminded of what. This could mean: (1) that it will remind Yahweh that the Israelites have given money for their lives, and therefore he should welcome them. (2) that it will remind the Israelites that they have given Yahweh money for their lives. Therefore, Yahweh will welcome them.

before the face of Yahweh (ULT)
me, Yahweh (UST)

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. Alternate translation: "before Yahweh" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

16 And you shall take the silver of ransoms from the sons of Israel, and you shall give it to the work of the tent of meeting. And it shall be as a reminder for the sons of Israel before the face of Yahweh to cover over your lives."

UST

16 Take the life-saving money from the Israelites and use it for work on the sacred tent. It will remind me, Yahweh, that the Israelites have paid money to save their lives."

UST

¹⁹ Aaron and his sons must wash their hands and their feet in the basin.

Exodus 30:20

and they will not die (ULT) so they will not die (UST)

The priests might die if they do not wash because God would kill them for being defiled in his presence. If your readers would not understand this you may want to include it in a footnote or in the text. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

and they will not die (ULT) so they will not die (UST)

Not dying is the goal of the priests' washing. If the goal of some action needs to be placed elsewhere in the structure of your language move it to the usual location. (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

ULT

²⁰ When they go into the tent of meeting, they shall wash with water, and they will not die. Also when they go near to the altar to serve by causing a fire offering to Yahweh to smoke,

Alternate translation: "and ... with the same ingredients" or "and ... with the same items" or "and ... according to this recipe"

It is holy; it shall be holy to you (ULT)

This oil is reserved for me, and you must consider it sacred (UST)

The second half of this statement (it shall be holy to you) explains to the people the result of this oil being holy, which is, they must respect it as a holy thing. It may make more sense in some languages to move this whole statement to the beginning of the verse, because the rule about pouring on someone's body is an application of the result. Alternate translation (placed at the beginning of the verse): "Because it is sacred, you must treat it like it is sacred, therefore" (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

³² It shall not be poured on the body of a man, and you shall not make anything like it with its formula. It is holy; it shall be holy to you.

UST

³² You must not pour it on the bodies of people {who are not priests}, and you must not make other oil to be like it by mixing those same things. This oil is reserved for me, and you must consider it sacred.

Sabbath
As described in this chapter, the Sabbath is more than just a day of worship or celebration. Its significance extends beyond a way to help people rest. It is a major part of the identity of the Hebrew people. (See: Sabbath)

Exodus 31:1

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹ Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 31:2

I have called by name (ULT)

I have chosen a man named (UST)

Exodus 31:3

And I have filled him with the Spirit of God (ULT)

I will cause my spirit to teach him (UST)

Yahweh speaks of giving Bezalel his spirit as if Bezalel were a container and God's spirit were a liquid. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "I have given my spirit to Bezalel" (See: Metaphor)

with skill (ULT)

ULT

18 And as he finished speaking with him on the mountain of Sinai, he gave to Moses the two tablets of the Testimony, tablets of stone, written by the finger of God.

UST

18 When Yahweh finished talking with Moses on the top of Mount Sinai, he gave him the two stone slabs on which he had engraved his commandments with his own fingers.

Exodus 32

Exodus 32 General Notes

Structure and formatting

The events in verses 1-6 of this chapter occurred while Moses spoke with God and therefore happened sometime during the events recorded between Exodus 24:15 and Exodus 31. (See: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship)

- v. 1-6: The people ask Aaron to make them a god and he makes the golden calf

- v. 7-29 - Yahweh and Moses' reaction

* v. 11-14 - Moses intercedes for the people

- v. 30-34 - Moses intercedes for the people

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the poetry in 32:18.

Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "And the people realized" (See: Metaphor) and the people gathered themselves (ULT) they went (UST)

This means the people were not summoned by Aaron to come to him, but instead they decided to gather themselves. (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

Arise (ULT) Get up (UST)

Arise strengthens the force of the command following it. The people were demanding that Aaron make an idol for them. It did not necessarily mean that he should literally stand up. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. (See: Idiom) shall go before our faces (ULT) will lead us on our journey (UST)

Here, before our faces means ahead of. The Israelites want idols to lead them. Alternate translation: "shall lead us" or "shall be our leader" (See: Metonymy) for this Moses (ULT) We do...know...that...Moses (UST)

People showed disrespect by putting the word this before his name, as if Moses were someone they did not know and could not trust. They were creating social distance between him and themselves. When translating, use a form in your language that communicates the same sense of disassociation between people.

ULT

¹ And the people saw that Moses delayed in coming down from the mountain, and the people gathered themselves around Aaron and said to him, "Arise, make gods for us that shall go before our faces, for this Moses, the man who brought us up from the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him."

UST

¹ Moses stayed on top of the mountain for a long time. When the people saw that he was not returning, they went to Aaron and said to him, "Get up and make us gods who will lead us on our journey. We do not know what happened to that man Moses, who brought us here out of Egypt."

Exodus 32:2

and bring them (ULT)

and bring them (UST)

The word them here refers to the golden rings. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

² And Aaron said to them, “Tear off the rings of gold that are on the ears of your wives, your sons, and your daughters and bring them to me.”

UST

² Aaron replied, “Take your wives’ and your children’s gold earrings from them, and bring them to me.”

Exodus 32:3

all the people (ULT)

the people (UST)

This refers to all the people who rejected Moses as their leader and Yahweh as their God. Later parts of the text reveal that there were people still faithful to Moses and Yahweh and that the Israelites had a great deal more gold. Alternate translation: "many people" (See: Hyperbole)

ULT

³ And all the people tore the rings of gold off themselves that were on their ears and brought them to Aaron.

UST

³ So the people took off all their own gold earrings and brought them to Aaron.

Exodus 32:4

and fashioned it with a tool, and he made a calf of molten metal (ULT)

he {melted it in a fire.} He molded the softened gold and made {a statue that looked like} a young bull (UST)

Most likely this means that Aaron melted the gold and poured it into a mold that had the shape of a calf. When the gold cooled and became hard, he removed the mold, and the hardened gold had the shape of a calf. (See: Translate Unknowns)

And they said (ULT)

The people {saw it and} said (UST)

The identity of the speakers, referred to as they, remains unknown.

Alternate translation: "And someone said" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) gods...brought you up (ULT) is the Israelite god...rescued us (UST)

Because the speaker of this sentence is unknown and mentioned in the plural, it is possible that it is the people speaking. In that case, it would be possible for a translation to use the first person rather than second person here.

Alternate translation: "our gods ... brought us up" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

These are your gods (ULT)

This is the Israelite god (UST)

In the text, there only appears to be one "god" (the golden calf idol) presented to Israel. If it would be clearer to your audience, you may consider translating these ... gods as singular. Alternate translation: "this is your god"

ULT

⁴ And he took it from their hand, and fashioned it with a tool, and he made a calf of molten metal. And they said, "These are your gods, Israel, who brought you up from the land of Egypt."

UST

⁴ After he received the gold, he {melted it in a fire.} He molded the softened gold and made {a statue that looked like} a young bull. The people {saw it and} said, "This is the Israelite god who rescued us from Egypt!"

Exodus 32:5

And Aaron saw (ULT)
When Aaron saw {how the people reacted (UST)

You may need to make explicit what he saw. "Aaron saw what the people did" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

before the face of it (ULT)
in front of the bull (UST)

Here, before its face means in front of. Alternate translation: "in front of it" (See: Metonymy)

before the face of it (ULT)
in front of the bull (UST)

Here, it is the golden bull-calf. Alternate translation: "in front of the bull-calf idol" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁵ And Aaron saw, and he built an altar before the face of it, and Aaron proclaimed and said, "Tomorrow will be a festival to Yahweh."

UST

⁵ When Aaron saw {how the people reacted}, he built an altar in front of the bull. Then he announced, "Tomorrow we will have a celebration to {honor} Yahweh!"

Exodus 32:6

to play (ULT) and partied (UST)

This word may imply drunken and sexual sin (for a sexual implication see Genesis 26:8). However, the only actions mentioned in the text are singing (v. 18) and dancing (v. 19), so translators should avoid using a term that is overly suggestive. Alternate translation: “to revel” (See: Euphemism)

ULT

⁶ And they arose early the next day and offered burnt offerings and brought peace offerings. And the people sat down to eat and to drink and got up to play.

UST

⁶ So early the next morning the people {killed animals} and burnt them as sacrifices on the altar. They also brought sacrifices to restore fellowship with others. Then they sat down to eat and to drink {wine}. Then they got up and partied.

Exodus 32:7

to carouse in wild celebration

Here there is a scene shift back to the top of the mountain with Moses and Yahweh, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event) have corrupted themselves (ULT) are acting perversely (UST)

Here, the reflexive pronoun themselves is used to translate the fact that the Israelites actions made the Israelites corrupt. Alternate translation: "have acted corruptly" (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

ULT

⁷ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, "Go! Descend! For your people, whom you brought up from the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves.

UST

⁷ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Go down from the mountain, because your people, the ones that you brought up here from Egypt, are acting perversely!

Exodus 32:8

They have quickly turned from the way that I commanded them (ULT)

They have already stopped obeying my commands about how to live (UST)

Here God speaks of the people disobeying what he commanded them as if he had told them to walk on a certain road, and they left that road. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “They have quickly stopped doing what I commanded them to do” or “They have quickly stopped obeying what I commanded them to do” (See: Metaphor)

These are your gods, Israel, that brought you up from the land of Egypt (ULT)

This is the Israelite god who rescued us from Egypt (UST)

This is a second-level direct quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this by marking it with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quote Markings)

These are your gods, Israel, that brought you up from the land of Egypt (ULT)
This is the Israelite god who rescued us from Egypt (UST)

You may want to translate this as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the layers of quotations in this passage. Alternative translation: “that these are your gods, Israel, that brought you up from the land of Egypt” (See: Quotes within Quotes)

These are your gods (ULT)

This is the...god (UST)

In the text, there only appears to be one “god” (the golden calf idol) presented to Israel. If it would be clearer to your audience, you may consider translating these ... gods as singular. See how you translated this in verse 4. Alternate translation: “This is your god” your gods...brought you up (ULT)

the...god...rescued us (UST)

Because the speaker of this sentence is unknown and mentioned in the plural, it is possible that it is the people speaking. In that case, it would be possible for a translation to use the first person rather than second person here. See how you translated this in verse 4. Alternate translation: “our gods ... brought us up” (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

⁸ They have quickly turned from the way that I commanded them. They have made a calf of molten metal for themselves and have bowed before it and sacrificed to it. And they have said, ‘These are your gods, Israel, that brought you up from the land of Egypt.’”

UST

⁸ They have already stopped obeying my commands about how to live. From melted gold, they have made a statue {that looks like} a young bull. They have worshiped it and offered sacrifices to it. They are saying, ‘This is the Israelite god who rescued us from Egypt!’”

Exodus 32:9

is a people hard of neck (ULT) obstinate they are (UST)

Yahweh speaks of the people being rebellious as if they had hard necks. The image comes from an animal that does not want to go the way his master is trying to direct him (not going in the way God commanded). If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “is a rebellious people” (See: Metaphor)

this...it (ULT) these...they are (UST)

The word people is a collective noun, so the pronouns referring to the people are singular. You may use plural pronouns if that is the normal usage in your language. Alternate translation: “these ... they” (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

⁹ And Yahweh said to Moses, “I have seen this people, and behold, it is a people hard of neck.

UST

⁹ Then Yahweh said to Moses, “I have been observing these people. Look at how obstinate they are.

Exodus 32:10

So now (ULT)

Because of this (UST)

So now is used here to mark that Yahweh's next statements are a result of what he has said in the previous verses. Alternate translation: "Therefore" (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

And let my nose burn against them (ULT)

I am very angry with them (UST)

This is an idiom meaning that Yahweh is angry. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "And let me be angry with them"(See: Idiom)

you (ULT)

you {and your descendants} (UST)

The word you refers to Moses. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

¹⁰ So now, leave me alone! And let my nose burn against them, and I will destroy them. And I will make you into a great nation."

UST

¹⁰ Because of this, I am very angry with them, so I am going to destroy them. Do not try to stop me! Then I will cause you {and your descendants} to become a great nation."

Exodus 32:11

Yahweh, why does your nose burn against your people whom you have brought out from the land of Egypt with great power and with a strong hand (ULT)

Yahweh, please do not be angry with your people. These are the people whom you saved from Egypt with great power and mighty works (UST)

Moses used this question to try to persuade Yahweh not to be so angry with his people. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: "Yahweh, do not let your nose burn against your people whom you have brought out from the land of Egypt with great power and with a strong hand." (See: Rhetorical Question)

does your nose burn against your people (ULT) be angry with your people. These are the people (UST)

This is an idiom meaning that Yahweh is angry with his people. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "are you angry with your people" (See: Idiom)

with great power and with a strong hand (ULT) with great power and mighty works (UST)

These two phrases share similar meanings and are combined for emphasis. If doubling in this way would not convey emphasis in your language, you will need to find a way to translate it that does give emphasis. Alternate translation: "using your very strong power" (See: Doublet)

and with a strong hand (ULT) and mighty works (UST)

Here, hand represents God's actions or works. See how you translated this in Exodus 6:1. Alternate translation: "and with powerful works" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹¹ But Moses entreated the face of Yahweh his God. And he said, "Yahweh, why does your nose burn against your people whom you have brought out from the land of Egypt with great power and with a strong hand?"

UST

¹¹ But Moses pleaded with his God, Yahweh, and said, "Yahweh, please do not be angry with your people. These are the people whom you saved from Egypt with great power and mighty works!"

Exodus 32:12

Why should the Egyptians say, saying, ‘He brought them out with evil intent, to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from on the face of the ground (ULT)

If you destroy them} the Egyptians will say that you had a wicked plan. {They will say} you led the Israelites out to the mountains to kill them and to remove them entirely from the earth (UST)

Moses used this question to try to persuade God not to destroy his people. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way.

Alternate translation: If you destroy your people, the Egyptians might say, ‘He brought them out with evil intent, to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from on the face of the ground.’ (See: Rhetorical Question) should the Egyptians say, saying, ‘He brought them out with evil intent, to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from on the face of the ground (ULT)

the Egyptians will say that you had a wicked plan. {They will say} you led the Israelites out to the mountains to kill them and to remove them entirely from the earth (UST)

After saying, this is a second-level quote. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. However, you may want to translate this as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the layers of quotations in this passage. Alternative translation: “the Egyptians say that you brought them out with evil intent, to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from on the face of the ground” (See: Quotes within Quotes) from on the face of the ground (ULT) entirely from the earth (UST)

Here, face means “surface.” Alternate translation: “from the surface of the land” or “from the earth” (See: Metonymy)

Turn from your burning nose (ULT)
Stop being angry (UST)

Alternate translation: “Stop your burning anger” or “Stop being so angry”

ULT

¹² Why should the Egyptians say, saying, ‘He brought them out with evil intent, to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from on the face of the ground? Turn from your burning nose and repent from the evil to your people.

UST

¹² {If you destroy them} the Egyptians will say that you had a wicked plan. {They will say} you led the Israelites out to the mountains to kill them and to remove them entirely from the earth. Stop being angry and relent from punishing your people.

Turn from your burning nose and repent from the evil to your people (ULT)
Stop being angry and relent from punishing your people (UST)

Here, Yahweh's anger (burning nose) and plan to punish the people are spoken of as things that he could turn away from and repent of (repentance also means to turn from). This imagery may not translate into your language, and you may need to use a different expression. Alternate translation: "Calm down, and please do not stay determined to do evil to your people" (See: Idiom) from your burning nose (ULT) angry (UST)

This is an idiom that means anger. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "from your terrible anger" (See: Idiom)

Exodus 32:13

Remember (ULT)

Recall (UST)

Alternate translation: "Think about"

you swore (ULT)

You solemnly promised (UST)

Alternate translation: "you made an oath" and I will give to your descendants all this land of which I have spoken (ULT) descendants...I will give those...all this land that I am talking about (UST)

That is, the land of Canaan.

ULT

¹³ Remember Abraham and Isaac and Israel, your servants that you swore to them by yourself and spoke to them, 'I will cause your descendants to increase as the stars of the heavens, and I will give to your descendants all this land of which I have spoken. And they will inherit it forever.'"

UST

¹³ Recall your servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. You solemnly promised them, 'I will enable you to have as many descendants as the stars that are in the sky. I will give those descendants all this land that I am talking about. It will be their land forever.'"

Exodus 32:14

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

14 Then Yahweh repented from the evil that he had spoken to do to his people.

UST

14 So Yahweh relented. He did not punish his people as he had said he would do.

Exodus 32:15

The tablets were written on both their sides, on this {side} and on that {side} they were written (ULT) on which Yahweh had inscribed his commandments...He had inscribed on both sides of the slabs, both front and back (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "Yahweh had written on both the sides of the tablets, on this side and on that side he had written." (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

¹⁵ And Moses turned and went down from the mountain and the two tablets of the testimony {were} in his hand. The tablets were written on both their sides, on this {side} and on that {side} they were written.

UST

¹⁵ Then Moses turned around and went down the mountain. He was carrying in his hands the two stone slabs on which Yahweh had inscribed his commandments. He had inscribed on both sides of the slabs, both front and back.

Exodus 32:16

And the tablets, they {were} the work of God.

And the writing, it {was} the writing of God

(ULT)

As for the slabs, God had made them. As for the inscription, God had inscribed it (UST)

These two sentences have an unusual structure that places emphasis on tablets and writing. If your language would emphasize these topics in a different way than moving them to the beginning of the sentence, follow your language's natural usage for emphasis.

Alternate translation: "And the tablets themselves were the work of God. And the writing itself was the writing of God" (See: Information Structure)

ULT

16 And the tablets, they {were} the work of God. And the writing, it {was} the writing of God, {it} was engraved on the tablets.

UST

16 As for the slabs, God had made them. As for the inscription, God had inscribed it. He had engraved on the slabs.

Exodus 32:17

Joshua (ULT)

Joshua (UST)

Joshua was last mentioned in Exodus 24:13. The text does not say if he was on top of the mountain with Moses or if he waited for him part way up. Consider if your language will need to re-introduce Joshua in any way here. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

ULT

¹⁷ And Joshua heard the noise of the people in its shouting, and he said to Moses, "{There is} the noise of war in the camp."

UST

¹⁷ Joshua heard the sound of the people shouting. So he said to Moses, "There is a noise in the camp that sounds like the noise of a battle!"

Exodus 32:18

There is not the sound of singing of strength, and there is not the sound of singing of weakness, the sound of singing I am hearing
(ULT)

That is not a victory shout; or a defeated cry. I hear singing (UST)

These lines are widely considered to be poetic. It is not clear why a poetic form is used here. In some languages it may not be appropriate to convey this response in poetic form, in which case another form may be used. (See: Poetry)

There is not the sound of singing of strength, and there is not the sound of singing of weakness, the sound of singing I am hearing (ULT)

That is not a victory shout; or a defeated cry. I hear singing (UST)

The poetic form here is parallelism in the repetition of sound of singing. If it would be unclear to say that Moses heard the sound of singing in the third line after saying he didn't hear the sound of singing twice before, something more like the more contrastive UST may be followed. (See: Parallelism)

the sound of singing I am hearing (ULT)
I hear singing (UST)

If it is unclear to say that Moses hears the sound of singing after twice saying he didn't hear that, you may want to make the type of singing explicit. Consider referring to your translation of the last word of verse 6 (to play in the ULT). Alternate translation: "the sound of playful singing I hear" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

¹⁸ But Moses said, "There is not the sound of singing of strength, and there is not the sound of singing of weakness, the sound of singing I am hearing."

UST

¹⁸ But Moses said, "That is not a victory shout; or a defeated cry. I hear singing!"

Exodus 32:19

and the nose of Moses burned (ULT) he became very angry (UST)

This is an idiom for being angry. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "and Moses was very angry" (See: Idiom)

under (ULT) at the base of (UST)

Alternate translation: "at the bottom of"

ULT

¹⁹ And it happened, as he approached to the camp, that he saw the calf and dancing, and the nose of Moses burned, and he threw the tablets from his hands and shattered them under the mountain.

UST

¹⁹ As soon as Moses came close to the camp and saw the statue of the bull and the people dancing, he became very angry. He flung the stone slabs down {onto the ground} at the base of the mountain, and they broke completely.

Exodus 32:20

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁰ And he took the calf that they had made and burned {it} in the fire and ground {it} until it was fine and scattered {it} on the face of the water and caused the sons of Israel to drink {it}.

UST

²⁰ Then he took the statue of the bull that they had made and melted it in the fire. {When it cooled,} he ground it into fine powder. Then he threw the powder on top of the water and forced the Israelites to drink it.

Exodus 32:21

And Moses said to Aaron, “What did this people do to you, that you have brought a great sin on them (ULT)

Then Moses said to Aaron, “What did these people do to you that you caused them to sin so much (UST)

Moses' question is a second-level quote. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. However, you may want to translate this as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the layers of quotations in this passage. Alternate translation: “Then Moses asked Aaron what the people did to him, that he had brought such a great sin on them” (See: Quotes within Quotes) that you have brought a great sin on them (ULT) that you caused them to sin so much (UST)

Moses spoke of causing people to sin as if sin were an object and Aaron put it on them. Alternate translation: “that you have caused them to sin greatly” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²¹ And Moses said to Aaron, “What did this people do to you, that you have brought a great sin on them?”

UST

²¹ Then Moses said to Aaron, “What did these people do to you that you caused them to sin so much?”

Exodus 32:22

Do not let {your} nose burn (ULT) Please do not be angry with me (UST)

This is an idiom for anger. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "Do not be angry" (See: Idiom) that it {is/was} in evil (ULT) how likely...these people are...to do wicked things (UST)

This is probably an idiom that could mean (1) that the people are prone to evil or (2) that the people were in trouble (that is, they felt troubled because of not having contact with God). If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "that they are set on evil" (See: Idiom)

it {is/was} (ULT) these people are (UST)

Here, it is used because people is grammatically singular in Hebrew. Alternate translation: "they are" (See: First, Second or Third Person)

ULT

²² And Aaron said, "Do not let {your} nose burn, my lord. You know the people, that it {is/was} in evil.

UST

²² Aaron replied, "Please do not be angry with me, my lord. You know how likely these people are to do wicked things.

Exodus 32:23

Make for us a god that will go before our faces. As for this Moses, the man that brought us up from the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him (ULT)

Make us a god to lead us because we do not know what has happened to that Moses guy who brought us out of Egypt (UST)

This is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

this Moses, the man (ULT)

that Moses guy (UST)

People showed disrespect by putting the word this before his name, as if Moses were someone they did not know and could not trust. They were creating social distance between him and themselves. When translating, use a form in your language that communicates the same sense of disassociation between people. See how you translated this in verse 1.

ULT

²³ And they said to me, 'Make for us a god that will go before our faces. As for this Moses, the man that brought us up from the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him.'

UST

²³ They said to me, 'Make us a god to lead us because we do not know what has happened to that Moses guy who brought us out of Egypt!'

Exodus 32:24

And I said to them, 'Whoever has gold, take it off yourself (ULT)

So I said to them, 'Everyone who is wearing {pieces of} gold {jewelry} should take them off (UST)

Whoever has gold, take it off yourself is a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. However, this can be stated as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: "So I told them that whoever had any gold should take it off" (See: Quotes within Quotes) take it off yourself (ULT) should take them off (UST)

He instructs people to take their own gold off. Alternate translation: "you take off your own" (See: Reflexive Pronouns) and I threw it in the fire, and this calf came out (ULT)

I threw them into the fire, and out came this statue of a young bull (UST)

Aaron claims an unusual sequence of events here. The translation should surprise an audience unfamiliar with the story. He states that the result of simply throwing gold in the fire is the appearance (by its own power or volition it seems) of the calf. This is a lie. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

²⁴ And I said to them, 'Whoever has gold, take it off yourself.' And they gave {it} to me, and I threw it in the fire, and this calf came out."

UST

²⁴ So I said to them, 'Everyone who is wearing {pieces of} gold {jewelry} should take them off.' So they {took them off and} gave them to me. I threw them into the fire, and out came this statue of a young bull!"

Exodus 32:25was let loose (ULT)*had allowed...to act wildly (UST)

Alternate translation: “were behaving wildly” or “were not controlling themselves” that it was let loose, for Aaron had let it loose (ULT)that Aaron had allowed...the people...to act wildly (UST)

Here, the pronoun it agrees with the grammatical number of people (singular). Alternate translation: “that they were let loose, for Aaron had let them loose” (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

²⁵ And Moses saw the people, that it was let loose, for Aaron had let it loose, to mockery by the risers-up against them.

UST

²⁵ Moses saw that Aaron had allowed the people to act wildly, so that their enemies would laugh at them.

Exodus 32:26

and said, “Who {is} for Yahweh...me...to (ULT) and shouted, “Everyone who is loyal to Yahweh, come close to me (UST)

You can state this as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: “and said that whoever was for Yahweh should come to him” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

Who {is} for Yahweh (ULT)
Everyone who is loyal to Yahweh (UST)

Moses speaks of being loyal to Yahweh as being for Yahweh. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: “Whoever serves Yahweh” (See: Idiom)

ULT

²⁶ And Moses stood in the gate of the camp and said, “Who {is} for Yahweh, to me!” And all of the sons of Levi gathered themselves to him.

UST

²⁶ So he stood at the entrance to the camp and shouted, “Everyone who is loyal to Yahweh, come close to me!” All the men in the tribe of Levi gathered around him.

Exodus 32:27

Pass through and return from gate to gate in the camp (ULT) and then go through the camp from this entrance to the other one and back again (UST)

Alternate translation: "Go from one side of the camp to the other, starting at one entrance to the camp and going to the entrance on the other side of the camp"

ULT

²⁷ And he said to them, "Thus says Yahweh, the God of Israel: 'Each man put his sword on his side. Pass through and return from gate to gate in the camp and kill each his brother and each his companion and each his neighbor.'"

UST

²⁷ Then he said to them, "Yahweh, the God of the Israelites, commands that every one of you should fasten your sword to your side, and then go through the camp from this entrance to the other one and back again. Each one of you must kill the {unfaithful} men, {even if} they are your brother, your friend, or your neighbor."

Exodus 32:28

about 3, 000 (ULT)

3, 000 (UST)

Alternate translation: "about three thousand" (See: Numbers)

ULT

²⁸ And the sons of Levi did according to the word of Moses. And on that day about 3, 000 men from the people fell.

UST

²⁸ The men in the tribe of Levi did what Moses told them to do. They killed 3, 000 Israelite men that day.

Exodus 32:29

Fill your hand (ULT) consecrated (UST)

This seems to be an idiom for giving authority to someone. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:41. However, this usage is different from that text, as here it is not specified what authority they are given or what they are consecrated for other than for Yahweh. Alternate translation: "Consecrate yourselves" (See: Idiom)

Fill your hand for Yahweh today (ULT) Yahweh...consecrated...today (UST)

Here it is unclear if fill should be rightly understood as in the past or as a new command. You may want to follow the decision of another translation your people are familiar with. Alternate translation: "You have filled your hand for Yahweh today"

For a man {was} against his son and against his brother (ULT) Because each of you {killed} even your own son and brother (UST)

The fact that they did this in obedience to God can be stated clearly. Alternate translation: "For you have obeyed Yahweh because each man was against his son and against his brother" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) and for putting a blessing on yourselves today (ULT) has...and blessed you...today (UST)

This phrase is difficult to interpret. Several options depend on exactly how the conjunction, preposition, and verb combination are interpreted. The first difficulty is related to the difficulty with the previous verb: have they already been blessed or are they going to be blessed? (Alternate translation: "to have put a blessing on yourselves today") The second difficulty is: should the clause connections be understood to say that the blessing is because of their actions, or more strongly, that a desire for blessing motivated them to take action? (Alternate translation: "and therefore a blessing is put on you today" or "so that a blessing may be put over you today") The third difficulty is: while ultimately all blessing is from Yahweh, which is the subject here, Yahweh or the Levites? (Alternate translation: "and so Yahweh is putting a blessing on you today") As with the previous clause, you may want to follow the decision of another translation your people are familiar with. Alternate translation: ", by that you brought blessing on yourselves"

ULT

²⁹ And Moses said, "Fill your hand for Yahweh today! For a man {was} against his son and against his brother and for putting a blessing on yourselves today."

UST

²⁹ Moses said {to the men in the tribe of Levi}, "Because each of you {killed} even your own son and brother, Yahweh has consecrated and blessed you today."

Exodus 32:30

have sinned a great sin (ULT) have sinned very greatly (UST)

Here, sin used as a verb and then repeated as a noun for emphasis. Along with great, it suggests that the people sinned very, very badly. If the repetition of words in this way would not create emphasis, use another form in your language that would. Alternate translation: "You have sinned extremally badly" (See: Doublet)

have sinned a great sin (ULT) have sinned very greatly (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for sin, you could express the idea behind it in another way. See UST. (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

³⁰ And it happened the next day that Moses said to the people, "You have sinned a great sin. And now I will go up to Yahweh. Perhaps I can atone for your sin."

³⁰ The next day, Moses said to the people, "You have sinned very greatly. But I will now climb up the mountain {again} to {talk with} Yahweh. Perhaps I can {persuade him to} forgive you for sinning {like this}."

Exodus 32:31this people has sinned...sin (ULT)*These people sinned very greatly (UST)

Here, sin is used as a verb and then repeated as a noun for emphasis. Along with great, it suggests that the people sinned very, very badly. If the repetition of words in this way would not create emphasis, use another form in your language that would. Alternate translation: "this people has sinned extremely badly" (See: Doublet)

Alternate translation: "a god"

ULT

³¹ And Moses returned to Yahweh and said, "Oh, this people has sinned a great sin and made themselves gods of gold.

³¹ So Moses went back up {the mountain} and said to Yahweh, "These people sinned very greatly when they made for themselves a gold idol {and worshiped it}! Please,

Exodus 32:32

But now, if you forgive their sin (ULT)
if you would, forgive them for their sin now (UST)

Moses leaves out his conclusion, perhaps as a way of making this conditional phrase into a request, or perhaps to avoid suggesting to God what would be good for him to do. However, if leaving out a conclusion would be misunderstood in your language you may need to rephrase it or add the implied conclusion. Alternate translation: "But now, if you forgive their sin, good!" (See: Ellipsis)

blot me out of (ULT) erase my name (UST)

Here, me refers to the name of Moses. Alternate translation: "erase my name from" (See: Metonymy)

that you have written (ULT) in which you have written {your people's names (UST)}

What God had written in the book can be stated clearly. Alternate translation: "in which you have written the names of your people" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

³² But now, if you forgive their sin; but if not, please blot me out of your book that you have written."

UST

³² if you would, forgive them for their sin now. But if you will not forgive them, please erase my name from the book in which you have written {your people's names}."

Exodus 32:33

I will blot him out from my book (ULT) I will erase their names from that book (UST)

Here, him represents that person's name. Alternate translation: "I will erase that person's name from my book" (See: Metonymy) from my book (ULT) from that book (UST)

This refers to the book of Yahweh that Moses spoke of in Exodus 32:32.

ULT

³³ But Yahweh said to Moses, "Whoever that sinned against me, I will blot him out from my book."

UST

³³ But Yahweh said to Moses, "Whoever has sinned against me, I will erase their names from that book."

Exodus 32:34

But on the day I visit them, then I will visit their sin on them (ULT)

However, sometime I will come and I will punish them for how they sinned (UST)

Yahweh makes it clear that he will punish the people because they sinned by making and worshiping the idol. If it would be more clear in your language to place the reason first, you may consider reordering the clauses. Alternate translation: "However, because they sinned, one day I will come to punish them." (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

³⁴ So now go, lead the people to where I have spoken to you! Behold, my angel will go before your face. But on the day I visit them, then I will visit their sin on them."

UST

³⁴ Now, go lead the Israelites to the place I told you about! Watch for my angel going in front of you. However, sometime I will come and I will punish them for how they sinned."

Exodus 32:35

they had made the calf (that Aaron made (ULT)

they had made Aaron make the bull idol (UST)

The people are being spoken of as having made the calf themselves (along with Aaron) because they demanded it and gave their gold for it. Alternate translation: “they were guilty along with Aaron of making the calf” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

And Yahweh plagued the people because they had made the calf (that Aaron made (ULT)

Later Yahweh caused the people to become sick because they had made Aaron make the bull idol (UST)

If your language requires placing the reason before the result, you may reorder these clauses. Alternate translation: “And because they had made the calf (that Aaron made), Yahweh plagued the people. (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

³⁵ And Yahweh plagued the people because they had made the calf (that Aaron made).

UST

³⁵ Later Yahweh caused the people to become sick because they had made Aaron make the bull idol.

Exodus 33

Exodus 33 General Notes
This chapter is largely about Moses continuing to negotiate for a closer relationship between Yahweh and himself and Yahweh and the people. There are a number of important theological issues addressed, especially Yahweh's holiness and character. Several key terms appear.

Potential Translation Issues
Yahweh's statement to Moses in verse 5 seems to have happened before the people's reaction in verse 4, so in some languages you may need to reverse them.
Verses 7-11 seem to be background, general information about a somewhat unspecified time period. Be sure this is clear in how you structure these verses. See the beginning of verse 7 in the UST. While the term in verses 7-11 is often used interchangeably with the dwelling that will be built in chapters 35-39, it is a temporary and different tent. One distinguishing feature is that it is well outside the camp, while the dwelling will be in the center of the tent.
The word tent in verses 7-11 refers either to this temporary "tent of meeting" that Moses set up or to the tents that the Israelites lived in. Pay attention throughout these verses to which tent is referred to.

Exodus 33:1

saying, 'I will give it to your seed (ULT) that I would give to their descendants (UST)

The words which follow saying are a second-level quotation. It may be helpful to your readers to indicate this with second-level quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation within a quotation. However, you may want to translate this as an indirect quotation in order to reduce the layers of quotations in this passage. See UST. (See: Quotes within Quotes)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, "Go, arise from here, you and the people whom you have brought up from the land of Egypt to the land which I swore to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, saying, 'I will give it to your seed.'

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses, "Get up and go from here with the people whom you led out of Egypt. Go to the land that I promised Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob that I would give to their descendants.

Exodus 33:2

And I will send an angel before your face, and I will drive out the Canaanites, the Amorites and the Hittites and the Perizzites, Hivites and the Jebusites (ULT)

I will send my angel ahead of you, and I will remove the people descended from Canaan, Amor, Heth, Periz, Hiv, and Jebus from that land (UST)

See how you translated these in Exodus 23:20 and 23:23.

ULT

² And I will send an angel before your face, and I will drive out the Canaanites, the Amorites and the Hittites and the Perizzites, Hivites and the Jebusites.

UST

² I will send my angel ahead of you, and I will remove the people descended from Canaan, Amor, Heth, Periz, Hiv, and Jebus from that land.

Exodus 33:3

with} milk and honey (ULT) raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

Here, milk is a metonym for domestic animals and the food products obtained from them; honey is a metonym for the food obtained from growing plants. See how you translated this in Exodus 3:8. (See: Metonymy) flowing {with} milk and honey (ULT) very good for raising livestock and growing crops (UST)

God spoke of the land being good for animals and plants as if the milk and honey from those animals and plants were flowing through the land. See how you translated this in Exodus 3:8. (See: Metaphor) hard of neck (ULT) are very obstinate people (UST)

Yahweh speaks of the people being rebellious as if they had hard necks. See how you translated this in Exodus 32:9. (See: Metaphor)

ULT

³ {Go} to a land flowing {with} milk and honey, but I will not go up in your midst, because you {are} a people hard of neck, lest I destroy you on the way."

UST

³ You will go to a land that will be very good for raising livestock and growing crops. But I will not go with you myself, because if I did that, I might annihilate you while you are traveling, because you are very obstinate people."

Exodus 33:4

and each one did not put his ornaments on him (ULT)

Here, his and him refer to both men and women. Alternate translation: “and the men and women did not put on their ornaments” (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

his ornaments (ULT)

This may have referred to beautiful clothing as well as chains and rings made from gold or silver that had could have had jewels in them. Alternate translation: “his adornments” (See: Translate Unknowns)

jewelry

Yahweh’s statement to Moses in verse 5 seems to have happened before the people’s reaction in verse 4, so in some languages you may need to reverse them. (See: Verse Bridges)

ULT

⁴ And the people heard this evil word, and they mourned, and each one did not put his ornaments on him.

UST

⁴⁻⁵ Yahweh told Moses to tell the Israelites, “You are very stubborn. If I were to go with you for even a moment, I would kill you. Now take off your fine things {to show that you are sorry for sinning}. Then I will decide if I will punish you.” When the people heard that Yahweh spoke harshly, they were sorry, and no one wore fancy things.

Exodus 33:5

And Yahweh {had} said (ULT)

The word had places Yahweh's statement back in time. It can be understood from context as Yahweh's statement to Moses in verse 5 seems to have happened before the people's reaction in verse 4. If you are reversing the order of the verses for your language, you should adjust the verbal sequencing in your translation. (See: Connecting Words and Phrases)

Say to the sons of Israel (ULT)

You may want to make the introductory portion of this quotation, Say to the sons of Israel, indirect to keep from having a quote inside a quote. See UST. (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

hard of neck (ULT)

Yahweh speaks of the people being rebellious as if they had hard necks. See how you translated this in Exodus 32:9. (See: Metaphor)

If} I went up among you {for} one moment, then I {would} destroy you. And now (ULT)

Because the surrounding narrative clearly shows that this is not what Yahweh did or will do, this is a hypothetical situation. Some languages may need to reorder the clauses. Alternate translation: "Since I would destroy if I went up among you for one moment, then" (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

And now, take your ornaments down from on you, and I will know what I will do to you (ULT)

The goal of the Israelites removing their ornaments is so that Yahweh can consider his reaction. Some languages may need to reorder this structure. Alternate translation: "So that I will know what I will do to you, take your ornaments down from on you" (See: Connect — Goal \(Purpose\) Relationship)

And now, take your ornaments down from on you (ULT)

This was a way for the Israelites to show that they were sorry for sinning. If this would not be understood, you may need to make it explicit in the text or a footnote. See UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁵ And Yahweh {had} said to Moses, "Say to the sons of Israel, 'You are a people hard of neck. {If} I went up among you {for} one moment, then I {would} destroy you. And now, take your ornaments down from on you, and I will know what I will do to you.'"

UST

⁴⁻⁵ Yahweh told Moses to tell the Israelites, "You are very stubborn. If I were to go with you for even a moment, I would kill you. Now take off your fine things {to show that you are sorry for sinning}. Then I will decide if I will punish you." When the people heard that Yahweh spoke harshly, they were sorry, and no one wore fancy things.

And...stripped themselves (ULT) took off and left off (UST)

Here, themselves refers to the Israelites; they are both the ones doing the action and the ones to whom the action is done. A special form of verb or pronoun may be required to translate this in your language. (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

from Mount Horeb (ULT) From Mount Sinai on (UST)

Here, from means “from that point of time and continuing into the future.” Try to find a form in your language that means “from then on” for your translation. See UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

⁶ And the sons of Israel stripped themselves {of} their ornaments from Mount Horeb.

⁶ From Mount Sinai on, the Israelites took off and left off all their fine things.

Exodus 33:7

a stubborn people

Verses 7-11 seem to be background, general information about a somewhat unspecified time period. Be sure this is clear in how you structure these verses. See the beginning of verse 7 in the UST. (See: Connect — Background Information)

a tent (ULT)

a tent (UST)

The word tent in verses 7-11 refers either to this temporary “tent of meeting” that Moses set up, or to the tents that the Israelites lived in. Pay attention throughout these verses to which tent is being referenced. Here it refers to the “tent of meeting.”

ULT

⁷ And Moses would take a tent and would pitch it on the outside of the camp, at a distance from the camp. And he called it the tent of meeting. And it happened, every seeker of Yahweh would go out to the tent of meeting that {was} on the outside of the camp.

UST

⁷ {Until they built the sacred tent,} Moses set up a tent outside the camp, far away. He called it “the tent of meeting.” Everyone who wanted Yahweh to decide something for them would go out of the camp to the tent of meeting.

Exodus 33:8

his tent (ULT) at their own tent entrances (UST)

This refers to the people's tents.

ULT

⁸ And it happened as Moses went out to the tent, all the people would stand up and each would be stationed {at} the entrance of his tent, and they stared behind Moses until he went into the tent.

UST

⁸ Whenever Moses went out to the tent of meeting, all the people would stand at their own tent entrances and watch him until he had walked into the tent of meeting.

Exodus 33:9the pillar of cloud (ULT)*the tall cloud (UST)See how you translated this in 13:21.would come down (ULT)*would come down (UST)

Where it came down from can be stated clearly. Alternate translation: “would come down from the sky” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) and he would speak (ULT)and then {Yahweh} would talk (UST)

Grammatically, the most likely referent for this pronoun is the pillar of cloud. By metonymy and based on verse 11, this probably refers to Yahweh. (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁹ And it happened, as Moses entered the tent, the pillar of cloud would come down and stand {at} the entrance of the tent, and he would speak with Moses.

UST

⁹ Whenever Moses went into the tent of meeting, the tall cloud would come down and stay at the tent entrance, and then {Yahweh} would talk with Moses.

Exodus 33:10

And all of the people saw the pillar of cloud standing {at} the entrance of the tent, and all of the people would get up and bow down, each {at} the entrance of his tent (ULT)
When the people saw the tall cloud standing at the entrance to the tent of meeting, they would all bow to worship Yahweh at their own tent entrances (UST)

This verse uses contrastive parallelism. The presence of Yahweh is represented in the cloud that stands at the entrance of the tent, while the people prostrate themselves at the entrance to their tents. It would be good to try to retain the contrasting image in your translation if possible. (See: Parallelism)

the pillar of...cloud (ULT)
the tall cloud (UST)

See how you translated this in 13:21.

his tent (ULT)
at their own tent entrances (UST)

This refers to the people's tents.

ULT

¹⁰ And all of the people saw the pillar of cloud standing {at} the entrance of the tent, and all of the people would get up and bow down, each {at} the entrance of his tent.

UST

¹⁰ When the people saw the tall cloud standing at the entrance to the tent of meeting, they would all bow to worship Yahweh at their own tent entrances.

Exodus 33:11

face to face (ULT) directly (UST)

Speaking directly to each other rather than through dreams and visions is spoken of as if Moses and God saw each other's faces while they spoke. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "Yahweh would speak directly to Moses" (See: Metaphor) as a man speaks to his friend (ULT) like someone speaks to his friend (UST)

The metaphor of speaking face to face is explained by the simile here. How you handled face to face in your language may determine how you should handle this explanatory simile. (See: Simile) but his servant Joshua son of Nun, a young man (ULT) But his young helper, Joshua son of Nun (UST)

Joshua has been introduced before but not mentioned since Exodus 32:17. Different languages may need to re-introduce him in different ways. (See: Introduction of New and Old Participants)

ULT

11 And Yahweh would speak to Moses face to face, as a man speaks to his friend. Then Moses would return to the camp, but his servant Joshua son of Nun, a young man, would not withdraw from the midst of the tent.

UST

11 Yahweh would speak directly to Moses like someone speaks to his friend. Then Moses would return to the camp. But his young helper, Joshua son of Nun, would stay in the tent of meeting.

Exodus 33:12

See

A new scene begins here, which may need to be marked in a certain way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

See

You may want to make these two second-level quotations indirect to reduce the levels of quotation. See UST. (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

See (ULT)Please pay attention (UST)

This is an interjection to get someone's attention. Alternate translation: "Look!" or "Listen!" or "Pay attention to what I am about to tell you"

I know you by name (ULT)
you know me well (UST)

To know someone by name is to know them well. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "I know you well" (See: Idiom)

and you have also found favor in my eyes (ULT)
also...and that you are pleased with me (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "and my eyes find you favorable" (See: Active or Passive)

and you have also found favor in my eyes (ULT)
also...and that you are pleased with me (UST)

Here, found favor in my eyes is an idiom that means "I am pleased with you" so it means that God is pleased with Moses. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "and you please me" (See: Idiom)

and you have also found favor in my eyes (ULT)
also...and that you are pleased with me (UST)

Here, in my eyes is a metaphor representing God's evaluation. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "and you have also found favor in my evaluation" (See: Metaphor)

ULT

¹² And Moses said to Yahweh, "See, you {have been} saying to me, 'Take this people up,' but you have not caused me to know whom you will send with me. And you have said, 'I know you by name, and you have also found favor in my eyes.'

UST

¹² Moses said to Yahweh, "Please pay attention. You told me to lead the Israelites {to the land that you will show me}. But you have not told me whom you will send {to help} me! You also said that you know me well and that you are pleased with me.

and you have also found favor in my eyes (ULT)
also...and that you are pleased with me (UST)

Here, favor is an abstract noun that you could express in another way if necessary in your language. Alternate translation: "and you have also been found approved in my eyes" (See: Abstract Nouns)

Exodus 33:13

I have found favor in your eyes...I can find favor in your eyes (ULT) you are truly pleased with me...and continue to please you (UST)

Here, found favor in your eyes is an idiom that means that God is pleased with Moses. You may also need to make the phrase active in form and change the abstract noun favor into another form. Finally, in your eyes is a metaphor representing his evaluation. See how you dealt with the multiple issues in the phrase you have found favor in my eyes in Exodus 33:12.

please cause me to know your ways (ULT) please tell me the things that you are going to do (UST)

Here, ways is a metaphor either: (1) for Yahweh's plans or (2) for the holy life he requires. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: (1) "please cause me to know what you are going to do in the future" (2) "please cause me to know how people can do what pleases you" (See: Metaphor)

I can find favor in your eyes (ULT) and continue to please you (UST)

This instance of the phrase find favor in your eyes means in the future. Consider how to translate it in your language to convey an on-going situation. Alternate translation: "I can always find favor in your eyes"

And see that this nation is your people (ULT)
Please remember that the Israelites are the people whom you chose to belong to you (UST)

Moses is requesting that Yahweh would again see, perceive, consider, or recognize the Israelites as his special people. In this way, Moses would know that Yahweh had truly forgiven them.

ULT

¹³ And now please, if I have found favor in your eyes, please cause me to know your ways, and I will know you so that I can find favor in your eyes. And see that this nation is your people."

UST

¹³ So now, if you are truly pleased with me, I ask you, please tell me the things that you are going to do in order that I may know you better and continue to please you. Please remember that the Israelites are the people whom you chose to belong to you."

Exodus 33:14My face will go (ULT)*I will go (UST)

Yahweh's face represents his presence, which represents himself.
 Alternate translation: "I will go" (See: Metonymy)

My face will go, and I will cause rest for you (ULT)I will go with you and relieve you (UST)

The preposition connected to you here has a very flexible meaning and seems to be connected to both will go and will cause rest. If this would be unclear, consider repeating it in both clauses. Alternate translation: "My face will go with you and I will cause rest for you" (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) for you (ULT)with you...you (UST)

The word you here refers to Moses. It is singular. (See: Forms of You)

ULT

¹⁴ And he said, "My face will go, and I will cause rest for you."

UST

¹⁴ Yahweh replied, "I will go with you and relieve you."

Exodus 33:15

If your face {is} not going (ULT)

If you do not go {with me} (UST)

If your face is not going is a hypothetical situation in which Moses makes a request that they not go anywhere without Yahweh. In some languages you may need to place the request first. Alternate translation: "Do not take us up from here if your face is not going" (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

If your face {is} not going (ULT)

If you do not go {with me} (UST)

Yahweh's face represents his presence, which represents himself. Alternate translation: "If you are not going" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁵ And he said to him, "If your face {is} not going, do not take us up from here.

UST

¹⁵ Moses replied to Yahweh, "If you do not go {with me}, do not make us leave this place.

Exodus 33:16

And in what then will it be known that I have found favor in your eyes, I and your people? {Is it} not in your going with us? And I and your people shall be distinct from all of the people that {are} on the face of the earth (ULT)

The only way that others will know that you are pleased with me and with your people is if you go with us! If you go with us, it will show that we are different from all the other nations on the earth (UST)

This verse contains two or three rhetorical questions, and the length of the second is debated. The first rhetorical question, And in what then will it be known that I have found favor in your eyes, I and your people? is used for emphasis and means, “There is only one way people will know that I and your people please you.” The second, Is it not in your going with us? is used to answer the first question and means “That way is your going with us.” It is possible that the rest of the verse is (1) a statement further clarifying how Yahweh’s favor is demonstrated (ULT, UST), (2) an extension of the second rhetorical question (“Is it not in your going with us so that I and your people shall be distinct from all of the people that are on the face of the earth?”), or (3) a separate rhetorical question making the same point (“And shall I and your people be distinct from all of the people that are on the face of the earth?”)\nMoses used these questions in order to emphasize that if Yahweh does not go with them, no one will know that Yahweh is pleased with Moses and the people. Use whatever forms would be natural in your language to present an argument like this. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. (See: Rhetorical Question)

And in what (ULT)

The only way that others will know that you are pleased with me and with your people is if you go with us (UST)

This refers back to Moses’ hypothetical situation in the previous verse, that is, Yahweh not going with them. Use whatever connecting forms are necessary to make that clear. (See: Information Structure)

And in what then will it be known (ULT)

The only way that others will know that you are pleased with me and with your people is if you go with us (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: “And in what then will people know” (See: Active or Passive)

I have found favor in your eyes (ULT)

The only way that others will know that you are pleased with me and with your people is if you go with us (UST)

Here, found favor is an idiom that means that God is pleased with Moses. You may also need to make the phrase active in form and change the abstract noun favor into another form. Finally, eyes are a metonym for sight, and 16 And in what then will it be known that I have found favor in your eyes, I and your people? {Is it} not in your going with us? And I and your people shall be distinct from all of the people that {are} on the face of the earth.”

UST

16 The only way that others will know that you are pleased with me and with your people is if you go with us! If you go with us, it will show that we are different from all the other nations on the earth.”

sight is a metaphor representing his evaluation. See how you dealt with the multiple issues in the phrase you have found favor in my eyes in Exodus 33:12. (See: Idiom)

Exodus 33:17

I will also do this thing that you have spoken, for you have found favor in my eyes, and I know you by name (ULT)

I will do what you have asked, because I know you well and I am pleased with you (UST)

Here, for signals a reason clause. Some languages may need to reorder the clauses here. Alternate translation: “Because you have found favor in my eyes, and I know you by name, I will also do this thing that you have spoken” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship) you have found favor in my eyes (ULT)

I am pleased with you (UST)

Here, you have found favor in my eyes is an idiom that means that God is pleased with Moses. You may also need to make the phrase active in form and change the abstract noun favor into another form. Finally, eyes are a metonym for sight, and sight is a metaphor representing his evaluation. See how you dealt with the multiple issues in the phrase you have found favor in my eyes in Exodus 33:12. (See: Idiom)

you have found (ULT)
I am pleased with you (UST)

Here, you is singular and refers to Moses. (See: Forms of You) and I know you by name (ULT)

I know you well and (UST)

To know someone by name is to know them well. See how you translated this in Exodus 33:12. Alternate translation: “and I know you well” (See: Idiom)

ULT

17 And Yahweh said to Moses, “I will also do this thing that you have spoken, for you have found favor in my eyes, and I know you by name.”

UST

17 Yahweh replied to Moses, “I will do what you have asked, because I know you well and I am pleased with you.”

Exodus 33:18

your glory (ULT)

how glorious you are (UST)

In languages without abstract nouns, you may need to change glory to another form. See UST. (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

¹⁸ And he said, "Please show me your glory."

UST

¹⁸ Then Moses said, "Please let me see how glorious you are."

Exodus 33:19

I myself will cause all my goodness to pass over above your face (ULT)

I will display to you how good I am (UST)

Yahweh speaks of his goodness like it was an object that he could move over Moses. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. See the UST. (See: Metaphor)

my goodness (ULT)

how good I am (UST)

In languages without abstract nouns, you may need to change goodness to another form. See UST. (See: Abstract Nouns) above your face...before your face (ULT) to you...you (UST)

Here, face means "you." Alternate translation: "above you ... before you" (See: Metonymy) and I will proclaim in the name of Yahweh (ULT) and tell...what} my name Yahweh {means (UST)

The meaning of the phrase is unclear. It may mean that Yahweh will disclose something about his character to Moses. Alternate translation: "and I will proclaim my name, 'Yahweh,'" and I will favor whom I will favor, and I will be compassionate to whom I will be compassionate (ULT)

I will act kindly to anyone I choose, and I will act mercifully to anyone I choose (UST)

These statements use parallelism internally and between each other. They stress Yahweh's divine prerogative to do whatever he wants. The structure also parallels Yahweh's I AM statements in Exodus 3:14. If this form of parallelism would be misunderstood in your language, consider another form that emphasizes that Yahweh is graciously kind to exactly those and only those to whom he chooses to show kindness, and he does so without outside influence. (See: Parallelism)

ULT

¹⁹ And he said, "I myself will cause all my goodness to pass over above your face, and I will proclaim in the name of Yahweh before your face: and I will favor whom I will favor, and I will be compassionate to whom I will be compassionate."

UST

¹⁹ Yahweh replied, "I will display to you how good I am and tell you {what} my name Yahweh {means}. I will act kindly to anyone I choose, and I will act mercifully to anyone I choose."

Exodus 33:20But he said (ULT)*But (UST)

In some languages it may be better to omit And he said at the start of this verse to avoid stopping and restarting the quotation. Yahweh is speaking from 33:19-34:3. (See: Quotations and Quote Margins) for mankind can not see me and live (ULT) because anyone who sees my face will die

(UST)

Alternate translation: "because no person can live after he has seen me"

ULT

²⁰ But he said, "You are not able to see my face, for mankind can not see me and live."

UST

²⁰ But you cannot see my face, because anyone who sees my face will die.

Exodus 33:21

And Yahweh said (ULT)

But (UST)

In some languages it may be better to omit And Yahweh said at the start of this verse to avoid stopping and restarting the quotation. Yahweh is speaking from 33:19-34:3. (See: Quotations and Quote Margins)

Behold (ULT)

look (UST)

Alternate translation: "Look" or "Listen" or "Pay attention to what I am about to tell you."

ULT

²¹ And Yahweh said, "Behold, a place with me, and you shall station yourself on the rock.

UST

²¹ But look! Here is a place close to me where you can stand on a large rock.

Exodus 33:22while my glory passes over (ULT)*When...my glorious {light...goes by you (UST)

Yahweh speaks of his glory as if it were an object that he could move over Moses. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “while I pass over gloriously” (See: Metaphor)

my glory (ULT)my glorious {light (UST)

In languages without abstract nouns, you may need to change glory to another form. See UST. (See: Abstract Nouns) and my hand will cover over you (ULT)and cover you with my hand (UST)

Here Yahweh speaks as if he, like a person, had hands that could cover things. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use a simile to retain the image, as this figure is important to retain and extends into the next verse. Alternate translation: “I will cover you as with a hand” (See: Personification)

ULT

²² And it will happen, while my glory passes over, that I will put you in a crevice of the rock, and my hand will cover over you until I have passed over.

UST

²² When my glorious {light} goes by you, I will put you in a large hole in the rock and cover you with my hand until I have gone by you.

Exodus 33:23

Then I will take away my hand, and you will see my back, but my face will not be seen (ULT)

Then I will take my hand away, and you will see my back, but you will not see my face (UST)

The strong personification image of Yahweh continues throughout this verse and should be retained, if possible. You may have to use similes if this would be misunderstood in your culture. Alternate translation: "Then it will be as if I stop covering you with a hand, and you will see a small part of my glory, like a person's back, but not my full glory, like a person's face." (See: Personification)

but my face (ULT)

but...my face (UST)

Here, but my face is moved to the front of the clause to emphasize contrast with my back. If your language has a certain way of contrasting elements, be sure to make a strong contrast between Yahweh's face and back. (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship)

but my face will not be seen (ULT)

but you will not see my face (UST)

ULT

²³ Then I will take away my hand, and you will see my back, but my face will not be seen."

UST

²³ Then I will take my hand away, and you will see my back, but you will not see my face."

Exodus 34

Exodus 34 General Notes
Outline
* v. 1-4 Yahweh orders Moses to return to the mountain
* v. 5-9 Yahweh reveals himself to Moses and Moses reacts
* v. 10-28 Covenant renewal
* v. 29-34 Moses reports to Israel
Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter
* In verse 1, Yahweh says he will write on stone tablets, yet later (v. 27-28) he commands Moses to write and the text says Moses writes.
* Yahweh reveals something significant about himself or his character to Moses. There are a number of difficult terms and concepts.
* The biblical metaphor of true worship as sexual fidelity appears in v. 14-16.
* Several verses are repeated either exactly or closely from earlier chapters.
* In v. 12-26 Yahweh appears to give a different 10 commandments from those in Exodus 20 (but also largely repeated from other earlier parts of Exodus), raising the question of what was actually written on the stone tablets in v. 28.
* The concept of Moses's shining face may be difficult in some cultures.
"He will bring the punishment for the fathers' sin on their children"
This phrase does not mean that a child is necessarily punished for the sins of their parents. Many scholars believe that this passage indicates that a parent's sins will have consequences that will affect their children and grandchildren. (See: sin, sinful, sinner, sinning)

Exodus 34:1

And Yahweh said to Moses (ULT)

Yahweh kept talking to Moses (UST)

Yahweh continues to speak to Moses, but there is a change of topic here, so you may want to retain the speech introduction. However, if it would be misunderstood, you could simply continue the quotation from the previous verse. Alternate translation: “Yahweh continued” (See: Quotations and Quote Margins) that you broke (ULT)

the ones that you smashed (UST)

This clause reminds the reader of what tablets are being mentioned by reminding you of what had happened to the previous tablets. If it would be more helpful in your language to attach it to the first mention of the tablets in this verse, you could rearrange it like the UST. (See: Information Structure) tablets of stone (ULT)

slabs of stone (UST)

Alternate translation: “flat slabs of stone” See how you translated this in Exodus 31:18

ULT

¹ And Yahweh said to Moses, “Carve for yourself two tablets of stone like the first. And I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets that you broke.

UST

¹ Yahweh kept talking to Moses, “Cut two slabs of stone like the first slabs, the ones that you smashed. Then I will write the same thing on them as was on the first slabs.

Exodus 34:2

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

² And be ready by morning, and in the morning come up to Mount Sinai, and present yourself there to me on the top of the mountain.

UST

² Get ready tomorrow morning, and come up and stand before me at the top of Mount Sinai.

Exodus 34:3

and also let a man not be seen on all of the mountain (ULT)

I do not want anyone else to be anywhere on the mountain...or (UST)

Being seen doing something represents doing that. Alternate translation: "and do not let anyone else be anywhere on the mountain" (See: Metonymy) not...Also let...the flocks and the herds graze to the front of that mountain (ULT) not...Do...even allow any sheep...cattle to eat grass near the mountain (UST)

Alternate translation: "Even flocks or herds are not allowed to come near the mountain to eat."

ULT

³ And a man shall not come up with you and also let a man not be seen on all of the mountain. Also let not the flocks and the herds graze to the front of that mountain."

UST

³ Do not allow anyone to come up with you. I do not want anyone else to be anywhere on the mountain. Do not even allow any sheep or cattle to eat grass near the mountain."

Exodus 34:4

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁴ And he carved two tablets of stone like the first, and Moses got up early in the morning and went up to Mount Sinai as Yahweh had commanded him. And he took the two tablets of stone in his hand.

UST

⁴ So Moses cut two slabs of stone like the first ones. He rose early the next morning, picked up the slabs, and carried them in his hands up to the top of Mount Sinai, as Yahweh had told him.

Exodus 34:5

and stood with him there, and he pronounced (ULT) and stood there with Moses. Then Yahweh called out (UST)

The pronouns are not clear here, but the referents are probably as in the following alternate translation: "and Yahweh stood with Moses there, and Yahweh proclaimed" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them) and he pronounced in the name of Yahweh (ULT)

Then Yahweh called out his name, "Yahweh (UST)

This could mean: (1) "he spoke the name 'Yahweh'" (2) "he proclaimed who Yahweh is." For the second meaning, name would represent who God is. (See: Metonymy)

ULT

⁵ And Yahweh came down in the cloud and stood with him there, and he pronounced in the name of Yahweh.

UST

⁵ Then Yahweh came down in the tall cloud and stood there with Moses. Then Yahweh called out his name, "Yahweh."

Exodus 34:6

Yahweh, Yahweh, a God compassionate and gracious (ULT)

I am Yahweh God. I always act mercifully and kindly toward people (UST)

God is speaking about himself. Alternate translation: "I, Yahweh, am God, and I am merciful and gracious" (See: First, Second or Third Person) compassionate and gracious (ULT)

I always act mercifully and kindly toward people (UST)

This is emphasizing that Yahweh cares for people and acts kindly toward them. If doubling would not strengthen the statement here in your language, consider another form that would. (See: Doublet)

long of nostril (ULT) and I do not get angry quickly (UST)

The phrase long of nostril is an idiom that means Yahweh does not get angry easily or quickly. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "slow to anger" (See: Idiom) and abounding in covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness (ULT)

I abundantly love and faithfully do what I promise for my people (UST)

The abstract nouns covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness can be stated as "covenantally faithful" and "trustworthy." (For covenant faithfulness, see Exodus 20:6). Alternate translation: "always being faithful to my covenant and always being trustworthy" (See: Abstract Nouns) covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness (ULT)

I abundantly love and faithfully do what I promise for my people (UST)

This is emphasizing that Yahweh always does what he promises toward the people he loves. If doubling would not strengthen the statement here in your language, consider another form that would. (See: Doublet)

ULT

⁶ And Yahweh passed over above his face and proclaimed, "Yahweh, Yahweh, a God compassionate and gracious, long of nostril and abounding in covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness,

UST

⁶ Yahweh passed in front of him and called out, "I am Yahweh God. I always act mercifully and kindly toward people, and I do not get angry quickly. I abundantly love and faithfully do what I promise for my people.

Exodus 34:7

keeping covenant faithfulness to thousands (ULT)

I abundantly love people for thousands of generations (UST)

The abstract nouns covenant faithfulness can be stated as “faithfully loving” or “faithful love.” See how you translated this in the previous verse. Alternate translation: “faithfully loving thousands of generations” or “faithful to his covenant with thousands of generations” (See: Abstract Nouns)

to thousands (ULT)

for thousands of generations (UST)

Here, thousands may refer to thousands of generations or thousands of people. The two notes following deal with either possibility. See Exodus 20:6. (See: Ellipsis)

to thousands (ULT)

for thousands of generations (UST)

This large number is used to mean “forever” or “to all descendants forever.” Alternate translation: “for every generation” (See: Hyperbole)

to thousands (ULT)

for thousands of generations (UST)

The word thousands is a metonym for a number too many to count. Alternate translation: “to innumerable people” (See: Metonymy) iniquity, transgression, and sin (ULT) doing wrong, transgressing, and sinning (UST)

This list is meant to convey the idea of every kind of wrong. If a list like this would be misunderstood in your language you may need to use other terms or forms to make this point. Alternate translation: “every kind of sin” (See: Litany) iniquity, transgression, and sin...the iniquity of (ULT) doing wrong, transgressing, and sinning...If people do wrong (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for these ideas, you could express the ideas behind the abstract nouns in another way, as modeled in the UST. (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

⁷ keeping covenant faithfulness to thousands, forgiving iniquity, transgression, and sin. But he will surely not acquit, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the sons and on the sons of the sons, on the third and on the fourth.”

UST

⁷ I abundantly love people for thousands of generations. I forgive people for doing wrong, transgressing, and sinning. But I will certainly punish the guilty. If people do wrong, I cause that to affect their descendants, down to the third and fourth generation.”

But he will surely not acquit (ULT)
But I will certainly punish the guilty (UST)

Yahweh is speaking about himself. Alternate translation: “But I will certainly not acquit” (See: First, Second or Third Person)

But he will surely not acquit (ULT)
But I will certainly punish the guilty (UST)

Whom Yahweh will not acquit is not stated. Many translations will require that information. Alternate translations: “But he will certainly not clear the guilty” or “But he will certainly not say that the guilty are innocent” or “But he will certainly not free guilty people” (See: Ellipsis)

the iniquity of (ULT)
If people do wrong (UST)

Here, iniquity refers to the consequences or the punishment for iniquity. Alternate translation: “the punishment for the iniquity of” (See: Metonymy) visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the sons and on the sons of the sons (ULT)

If people do wrong, I cause that to affect their descendants (UST)

The iniquity of the fathers is spoken of as if it were something capable of visiting people. This means that Yahweh makes the consequences of people’s sins affect their descendants. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “punishing the sons and the sons of the sons for the iniquity of the fathers” (See: Metaphor) on the sons and on the sons of the sons (ULT) their descendants (UST)

The references to sons and sons of the sons represents descendants. Alternate translation: “on their descendants” (See: Metonymy)

on the third and on the fourth (ULT)
down to the third and fourth generation (UST)

Here, “generation” is implied. Many translations will need to make this explicit as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information) on the third and on the fourth (ULT)

down to the third and fourth generation (UST)

Here, third and fourth means “several.” If this would not be understood and your language has a way of referring to an unspecified (but approximately 3-4) number, you may have to use it here. Alternate translation: “on a few generations” (See: Metonymy)

Exodus 34:8and prostrated himself (ULT) and worshiped Yahweh (UST)

Here, himself means that Moses did this action to his own body. Some languages may use a special form to indicate this. (See: Reflexive Pronouns) and bowed to the ground and prostrated himself (ULT)bowed low down on the ground and worshiped Yahweh (UST)

These two verbs have very similar meanings and are often used together to express people's physical and spiritual posture in worship. If such repetition would be misunderstood in your language, you may need to express the physical action and spiritual action explicitly. Alternate translation: "and bowed to the ground in worship" (See: Doublet)

ULT

⁸ And Moses hurried and bowed to the ground and prostrated himself.

UST

⁸ Quickly Moses bowed low down on the ground and worshiped Yahweh.

Exodus 34:9

I have found favor in your eyes (ULT) you are now pleased with me (UST)

Here, found favor is an idiom that means that God is pleased with Moses. You may also need to make the phrase active in form and change the abstract noun favor into another form. Finally, eyes are a metonym for sight, and sight is a metaphor representing his evaluation. See how you dealt with the multiple issues in the phrase I have found favor in your eyes in Exodus 33:12. (See: Idiom)

this {is} a people hard of neck (ULT) These...people...are very stubborn (UST)

Moses speaks of the people being rebellious as if they had hard necks. See how you translated this in Exodus 32:9. (See: Metaphor) our iniquity and our sin (ULT) for all our sins (UST)

The words iniquity and sin mean basically the same thing and are combined for emphasis. If your language does not use repetition in this way, you could combine these phrases. Alternate translation: "all our sins" (See: Doublet)

ULT

⁹ And he said, "Please, if I have found favor in your eyes, my Lord, may my Lord please go among us, for this {is} a people hard of neck. And forgive our iniquity and our sin and inherit us."

UST

⁹ He said, "My Lord, if you are now pleased with me, I ask that you go with us. These people are very stubborn, but forgive us for all our sins, and accept us as the people who belong to you forever."

Exodus 34:10

your people

Starting in this verse, the covenant is largely repeated and consists of two parts: (1) what Yahweh will do, which is detailed in verses 10-11 (and briefly restated in verse 24) and (2) what is required of the Israelites, which is detailed in verses 12-26. For further context, see Exodus 19:5 and following, and 23:20-24:8. Verses 12-26 are another list of ten commandments.

am about to cut a covenant (ULT) am going to remind you of what I agreed (UST)

To cut a covenant means to make a covenant. The terminology refers to ancient rituals around making covenants, which is illustrated in Genesis 15. See the imagery and how you translated there. Alternate translation: “am about to make a covenant” (See: Idiom) your people (ULT) with the Israelites (UST)

Here, the people are referred to as belonging to Moses. This refers to his being their leader. Alternate translation: “the people you lead” (See: Possession) all of the people that you are in the midst of (ULT) Every nation around them (UST)

This phrase is ambiguous and could refer to: (1) the nations that surrounded Israel or (2) the Israelites (who surrounded Moses). Attempt to maintain the ambiguity if you can; otherwise you may choose one, perhaps following another locally known translation's choice.

for it {is} fear-filling, what I {am} doing with you (ULT) I will do things for you all that will make everyone revere me (UST)

This means that what Yahweh is doing causes people to be afraid. In this case, people will fear Yahweh when they see what he does. Alternate translation: “for what I am doing with you will cause fear” with you (ULT) for you all (UST)

Here, you refers to Moses and the people of Israel. (See: Forms of You)

ULT

¹⁰ And he said, “Behold, I am about to cut a covenant: before all of your people, I will do wonders that have not been created in all of the earth and in all of the nations. And all of the people that you are in the midst of will see the work of Yahweh, for it {is} fear-filling, what I {am} doing with you.

UST

¹⁰ Yahweh replied, “Pay attention! I am going to remind you of what I agreed with the Israelites. {As for me,} I will perform great miracles. These will be miracles that no one has ever done on the earth in any people group. Every nation around them will see the great things that I, Yahweh, will do. I will do things for you all that will make everyone revere me.

Exodus 34:11

am about to drive out from before your face (ULT)

I will...force...to leave the land for you (UST)

Here, from before your faces means “ahead of you” or “on your behalf.” Yahweh is emphasizing who is doing the driving out. (See: Metonymy) the Amorites and the Canaanites and the Hittites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites (ULT)

the Amor, Canaan, Heth, Periz, Hiv, and Jebus people groups (UST)

See how you translated these in Exodus 33:2. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

¹¹ Keep for yourself what I am commanding today. Behold I am about to drive out from before your face the Amorites and the Canaanites and the Hittites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites.

UST

¹¹ Obey what I am about to command you today. I will surely force the Amor, Canaan, Heth, Periz, Hiv, and Jebus people groups to leave the land for you.

Exodus 34:12

General Information:

Verses 12-16 are the first of these ten commandments. The original language is structured such that every clause in these verses is subordinate to the initial, Guard yourself. That sort of structure may not be possible in your language (as it is not in English).

yourself (ULT)

you (UST)

Here, yourself means that each Israelite should guard against committing these sins. (See: Reflexive Pronouns)

lest you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land where you are about to go into, lest he become as a trap in your midst (ULT)

that...do not agree to live peacefully with any of the people who live in the land into which you are going. If you do that, {you will begin to do the evil things that they do.} It will be like falling into a trap (UST)

This sentence contains two hypotheticals as a warning. Each is introduced by lest. Use a marker in your language that introduces a hypothetical situation, but also see the next note. Alternate translation: "If you were to cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land where you are about to go into, probably he would become as a trap in your midst." (See: Hypothetical Situations)

lest you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land where you are about to go into, lest he become as a trap in your midst (ULT)

that...do not agree to live peacefully with any of the people who live in the land into which you are going. If you do that, {you will begin to do the evil things that they do.} It will be like falling into a trap (UST)

The second of these hypothetical statements is logically dependent on and follows after the first as a result. As you mark these hypotheticals, use a form that communicates that the second is a result of the first. Alternate translation: "because if you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land where you are about to go into, then he will become as a trap in your midst" (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions)

you cut a covenant (ULT)

do...agree to live peacefully (UST)

See how you translated this in 34:10. (See: Idiom)

ULT

¹² Guard yourself, lest you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land where you are about to go into, lest he become as a trap in your midst.

UST

¹² Be careful that you do not agree to live peacefully with any of the people who live in the land into which you are going. If you do that, {you will begin to do the evil things that they do.} It will be like falling into a trap.

with the inhabitant of...he become (ULT) with any of the people who live in the land...you will begin to do the evil things that they do.} It will be like falling into a trap (UST)

The word inhabitant is a singular noun that refers to any individual inhabitant or group of inhabitants from the peoples mentioned in the previous verse. The pronoun he is agreeing with that singular noun. If your language does not use singular nouns in that way, you can use a different expression. Alternate translation: "with the inhabitants of ... they become" (See: Collective Nouns)

lest he become as a trap in your midst (ULT)
If you do that, {you will begin to do the evil things that they do.} It will be like falling into a trap (UST)

People who tempt others to sin are spoken of as if they were a trap. Alternate translation: "lest those remaining people tempt you to sin" (See: Simile)

Exodus 34:13Instead (ULT)*Rather (UST)

This word marks a strong contrast with the previous verse. Use a natural way in your language for introducing a strong contrast. Alternate translation, followed by a new sentence: "Do the opposite!" (See: Connect — Contrast Relationship) their altars you shall break down, and their pillars you shall smash, and his Asherah poles you shall cut down (ULT)

you must tear down their altars, destroy their idols, and cut down the poles that they use to worship Asherah (UST) idols, and cut down the poles that they use to worship Asherah (UST)

This unusual word order reflects the original in bringing each item the Israelites must destroy into focus. You should use whatever form in your language would emphasize or focus on each item that they must destroy. Alternate translation, as separate sentences: "as for their altars, break them down! As for their stone pillars, smash them to pieces! As for their trees where they worship the goddess Asherah, cut them all down!" (See: Information Structure)

you shall cut down (ULT)

cut down (UST)

For some reason only this pronoun is singular, referring back the singular "inhabitant" in the previous verse. Translate it based on your decision in the previous verse. (See: Collective Nouns)

ULT

¹³ Instead, their altars you shall break down, and their pillars you shall smash, and his Asherah poles you shall cut down.

UST

¹³ Rather, you must tear down their altars, destroy their idols, and cut down the poles that they use to worship Asherah.

Exodus 34:14you shall not bow (ULT)
you must not worship (UST)

To bow to another god means to worship it. This imagery is throughout scripture and should be retained in translation. Alternate translation: “you shall not bow to worship” (See: Symbolic Action)

for Yahweh—Jealous {is} his name—he {is} a jealous God (ULT)
because I, Yahweh, am passionate for people to recognize that I am the only true God, like a husband is passionate for his wife to love only him (UST)

The repeated word jealous means that God is concerned to keep his honor. If his people worship other gods, he loses honor, because when his people do not honor him, other people also will not honor him. This is pictured in a metaphor of a jealous spouse who is concerned that his spouse be faithful to him. This is an important Biblical metaphor that should be kept in translation if at all possible. The UST makes this image explicit as a simile, which can be done occasionally but would probably be too long for repeated use in a translation. Alternate translation: “Yahweh jealously guards his reputation. He is a God jealous of his honor.” (See: Metaphor) for Yahweh—Jealous {is} his name (ULT) because I, Yahweh, am passionate for people to recognize that I am the only true God, like a husband is passionate for his wife to love only him (UST)

Here, the word name represents God’s character. Alternate translation: “Yahweh is always jealous” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹⁴ For you shall not bow to another god, for Yahweh—Jealous {is} his name—he {is} a jealous God.

UST

¹⁴ {Do that} because you must not worship any other god, because I, Yahweh, am passionate for people to recognize that I am the only true God, like a husband is passionate for his wife to love only him.

Exodus 34:15

with the inhabitant of...and he invite...from his sacrifice (ULT) with any of the people who live in the land... they will invite...to join them...the food that they sacrifice to their gods (UST)

The word inhabitant is a singular noun that refers to any individual inhabitant or group of inhabitants from the peoples mentioned in the previous verse. The pronouns he and his are agreeing with that singular noun. If your language does not use singular nouns in that way, you can use a different expression. See how you translated this in verse 12. Alternate translation: “with the inhabitants of ... and they invite ... from their sacrifice” or “with the inhabitants of ... and one of them invites ... from his sacrifice” (See: Collective Nouns)

Lest you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land, and they prostitute after their gods and sacrifice to their gods, and he invite you (ULT)

Again,} do not agree to live peacefully with any of the people who live in the land, because when they worship their gods and offer sacrifices to them, they will invite you to join them (UST)

Most of this verse is a sort of chain of logically consecutive hypothetical events that Yahweh is warning the Israelites against. Your language may have a specific way this sort of argument must be structured or phrased. One way to see this would be to repeat lest before every verb in verse 15-16. Alternate translation: “If you cut a covenant the inhabitant of the land, and if they then prostitute after their gods and sacrifice to their gods, and if he then invites you” (See: Hypothetical Situations)

Lest you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land (ULT)

Again,} do not agree to live peacefully with any of the people who live in the land, because (UST)

This phrase is exactly the same as the second clause of verse 12. It serves as a reminder of the command Yahweh is giving as he begins to expand on the “trap” he mentioned in verse 12. Your language may need to mark this repetition in a particular way. Alternate translation: “Remember: keep yourself lest you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land”

you cut a covenant (ULT)

Again,} do...agree to live peacefully (UST)

See how you translated this in verse 12. Alternate translation: “you make a covenant” (See: Idiom)

ULT

15 Lest you cut a covenant with the inhabitant of the land, and they prostitute after their gods and sacrifice to their gods, and he invite you, and you eat from his sacrifice

UST

15 {Again,} do not agree to live peacefully with any of the people who live in the land, because when they worship their gods and offer sacrifices to them, they will invite you to join them. Then you will {be unfaithful to me and sin by} eating the food that they sacrifice to their gods.

and they prostitute after their..gods (ULT) when they worship their gods (UST)

In this metaphor, Yahweh speaks of people worshiping other gods as if they were prostitutes going to other men. This metaphor is most often used regarding the unfaithfulness of the Israelites. The metaphor is not quite as clear with the other nations because while Yahweh is the only true God, he is not in special covenant with the other nations as their god. However, since the worship is still impurely following false gods, the metaphor is used here. This is an important Biblical metaphor that should be kept in translation if at all possible. Alternate translation: “and they worship their gods” or “because they worship their gods like prostitutes who go to other men” (See: Metaphor)

and they prostitute after their..gods (ULT) when they worship their gods (UST)

This phrase may also be seen as a metonymy because sexual sin was a regular part of worshiping false gods. Alternate translation: “and they worship by fornicating with their gods’ cult prostitutes” (See: Metonymy) and he invite you (ULT) they will invite you to join them (UST)

Here, what the inhabitant will invite the Israelite to is not stated, but can be inferred from context. At the most basic level it is an invitation to eat food the Israelites were forbidden to eat. It is unclear how much more participation in worshiping false gods is implied. If your language requires that you specify what the Israelite is being invited into you may have to add some information. Alternate translation: “and he will invite you to eat from his sacrifice” or “and he will invite you to a feast to honor his gods” (See: Ellipsis)

and you eat from his sacrifice (ULT) Then you will {be unfaithful to me and sin by} eating the food that they sacrifice to their gods (UST)

The first part of the sin Yahweh is warning against in this and the next verse is to eat from his sacrifice. This clause is the result of disobedience regarding the covenant and the logical conclusion of the series of hypothetical events Yahweh presents before this. Alternate translation: “as a result, you will eat from his sacrifice” or “then you will eat from his sacrifice” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship) and you eat from his sacrifice (ULT) Then you will {be unfaithful to me and sin by} eating the food that they sacrifice to their gods (UST)

Here, and you eat from his sacrifice may be a synecdoche for any and all parts of the worship of the other nations’ false gods. Alternate translation: “and you feast to honor his gods” (See: Synecdoche)

and you eat from his sacrifice (ULT) Then you will {be unfaithful to me and sin by} eating the food that they sacrifice to their gods (UST)

The consequence of eating food that is sacrificed to another god can be stated clearly. Alternate translation: “and you will eat some of his sacrifice and become guilty of worshiping his gods” or “and you will prostitute yourself to his god by eating some of his sacrifice” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

Exodus 34:16

you will eat some of his sacrifice

The string of hypothetical actions, each with its logical result continues throughout this verse. Continue translating the transitions between clauses as you decided in verse 15. (See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions) and his daughters prostitute after their gods

(ULT)

These women will worship their own gods

(UST)

In this metaphor, Yahweh speaks of people worshiping other gods as if they were prostitutes going to other men. This metaphor is most often used regarding the unfaithfulness of the Israelites. The metaphor is not quite as clear with the other nations because while Yahweh is the only true God, he is not in special covenant with the other nations as their god. However, since the worship is still impurely following false gods, the metaphor is used here. This is an important Biblical metaphor that should be kept in translation if at all possible. See how you translated it in the previous verse. Alternate translation: “and his daughters worship their gods” or “and his daughters worship their gods like prostitutes who go to other men” (See: Metaphor)

and cause your sons to prostitute after their gods (ULT)

They will also make your sons be unfaithful to me by worshiping those gods

(UST)

In this metaphor, Yahweh speaks of people worshiping other gods as if they were prostitutes going to other men. The metaphor is clear here since it is referring to Israelite men who should be Yahweh worshipers. This is an important Biblical metaphor that should be kept in translation if at all possible. Alternate translation: “and cause your sons to worship their gods” or “and cause your sons to worship their gods like prostitutes who go to other men” (See: Metaphor)

and cause your sons to prostitute after their gods (ULT)

They will also make your sons be unfaithful to me by worshiping those gods

(UST)

This is the climatic consequence of living in peace the nations God is driving out before them: complete apostasy from Yahweh and loss of the next generation to wickedness. Specifically it is the result of intermarriage with the pagans, which God has explicitly forbidden for this very reason. If your language marks the final consequence of a string of actions in a particular way it may be appropriate to use it here. Alternate translation: “and in the end, they will cause even your sons to prostitute after their gods” (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

16 and take from his daughters for your sons, and his daughters prostitute after their gods and cause your sons to prostitute after their gods.

UST

16 Then you will {sin by} having some of their women to be wives for your sons. These women will worship their own gods. They will also make your sons be unfaithful to me by worshiping those gods.

Exodus 34:17

you will eat some of his sacrifice

The prohibition here is focused on making gods. In your translation make sure that the focus is not on the method, but the god-making.

molten metal (ULT) by pouring melted metal into statue molds (UST)

See how you translated molten metal in Exodus 32:4.

ULT

17 Do not make for yourselves gods of molten metal.

UST

17 Do not make your own gods by pouring melted metal into statue molds.

Exodus 34:18

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to most of Exodus 23:15.

seven (ULT) for seven (UST)

Alternate translation: "7" (See: Numbers)

Aviv...Aviv (ULT) Aviv...Aviv (UST)

This is the name of the first month of the Hebrew calendar. Aviv is during the last part of March and the first part of April on Western calendars. See how you translated Aviv in Exodus 13:4. (See: Hebrew Months)

ULT

18 You shall keep the Festival of Unleavened Bread. You shall eat unleavened bread seven days, which I commanded you, at the appointed time, the month of Aviv, for in the month of Aviv you came out from Egypt.

UST

18 Celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread the way that I commanded you: eat unleavened bread for seven days in the month called Aviv. I set this time because Aviv is the month when you left Egypt.

Exodus 34:19

General Information:

This verse is similar to Exodus 13:12.

ULT

¹⁹ All of the openers of the womb are mine {even from} all of your male livestock, the openers of cattle and of sheep.

UST

¹⁹ All your firstborn sons belong to me. All the firstborn males of your domesticated animals, cows, sheep, and goats, belong to me.

Exodus 34:20buy back

This verse is very similar to Exodus 13:13.

with a lamb...then you shall break his neck
(ULT)

by killing a lamb instead of it...you must kill the donkey by breaking its neck (UST)

You may need to make explicit that either the lamb or donkey must be killed, as in the UST. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

you do not ransom it (ULT)

you do not buy it back (UST)

Alternate translation: "you do not ransom the donkey"

You shall ransom all the firstborn of your sons (ULT)

You must buy back every one of your firstborn sons (UST)

Firstborn sons and firstborn donkeys belonged to Yahweh, but Yahweh did not want them sacrificed to Him. Instead, the Israelites were to sacrifice a lamb in their place. This allowed the Israelites to buy the donkeys and sons back from Yahweh.

And you shall not appear at my face empty-handed (ULT)

Do not come to worship me without bringing an offering (UST)

Here understatement is used to emphasize that the Israelites must bring a suitable offering to Yahweh. This portion of the verse is identical to the end of Exodus 23:15. Alternate translation: "come to me without a proper offering" or "always bring an offering to me" (See: Double Negatives)

ULT

20 And the opener of a donkey you shall ransom with a lamb. And if you do not ransom it, then you shall break his neck. You shall ransom all the firstborn of your sons. And you shall not appear at my face empty-handed.

UST

20 In the case of a firstborn donkey, you must buy it back by killing a lamb instead of it. If you do not buy it back, you must kill the donkey by breaking its neck. You must buy back every one of your firstborn sons. Do not come to worship me without bringing an offering.

Exodus 34:21

General Information:

This command is similar to that in Exodus 20:9.

but on the seventh day (ULT)

but on the seventh day (UST)

Alternate translation: "but on day seven" Here seventh is the ordinal number for 7. (See: Ordinal Numbers)

In plowing time and in harvest time (ULT)
Even during the times when you are plowing the ground or harvesting your crops (UST)

Alternate translation: "Even when you are preparing the soil or gathering the crops"

ULT

21 Six days you shall labor, but on the seventh day you shall rest. In plowing time and in harvest time, you shall rest.

UST

21 Work six days {each week}, but on the seventh day you must rest. Even during the times when you are plowing the ground or harvesting your crops, you must rest on the seventh day.

Exodus 34:22

Festival of Ingathering

This verse is similar to Exodus 23:16, however the first festival is named Festival of Weeks here and “Festival of the Harvest” in 23:16.

and the Festival of the Gathering (ULT) and...have the Finished Harvest Celebration (UST)

This festival celebrated the final harvesting of all the crops for the year. This festival was also known as the Festival of Shelters or the Festival of Booths. The idea came from the practice of the farmers living in temporary booths, or huts, out in the fields to guard the crop as it ripened. See Deuteronomy 16:13. See how you translated this in Exodus 23:16. Alternate translation: “and the Festival of the Ingathering” at the turning of the year (ULT) at the end of the year (UST)

Like “the exiting of the year” in Exodus 23:16, this refers to the end of the year. Here, the year is pictured as something that can turn. Which, thinking of the planet, is highly astronomically accurate. (See: Metaphor)

ULT

²² And you shall keep for yourself the Festival of Weeks {with} the first-fruits of the harvest of the wheat, and the Festival of the Gathering at the turning of the year.

UST

²² {In the spring,} when you begin to harvest the first wheat crop, have the Celebration of Weeks, and at the end of the year have the Finished Harvest Celebration.

Exodus 34:23

General Information:

Except for God of Israel and dropping “to,” this verse is identical to Exodus 23:17.

shall appear...before the face of the Lord (ULT) must gather together...to worship me, the Lord (UST)

Here to appear before the face of the Lord Yahweh means to gather to worship. Before the face is a metonym for Yahweh’s presence, referring to worship. Alternate translation: “must come to worship the Lord” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²³ Three times in a year, all your males shall appear before the face of the Lord Yahweh, God of Israel.

UST

²³ Three times every year, all the men must gather together to worship me, the Lord Yahweh, the Israelite’s God.

Exodus 34:24

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁴ For I will drive out nations before your face and expand your borders. And a man will not desire your land when you go up to appear before the face of Yahweh your God three times in a year.

UST

²⁴ Surely, I will force the people groups to leave the land you are going to, and I will make your territory larger. No one will want {to try to conquer} your country while the men come to worship Yahweh your God for these three festivals each year.

Exodus 34:25

General Information:

See the very similar Exodus 23:18.

the blood of my sacrifice (ULT) blood from an animal sacrifice (UST)

The fact that the blood is from an animal can be stated clearly.
Alternate translation: “the blood of an animal that you sacrifice to me” (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

ULT

25 You shall not slaughter the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread, and the sacrifice of the Festival of the Passover shall not remain all night to the morning.

UST

25 Do not sacrifice bread you made with yeast along with blood from an animal sacrifice. Do not keep until the next morning any part of the animals you sacrificed at the Passover celebration.

Exodus 34:26

the blood of my sacrifice

This verse is identical to Exodus 23:19.

ULT

²⁶ You shall bring the first of the first fruits of your ground to the house of Yahweh your God. You shall not boil a young goat in the milk of its mother.”

UST

²⁶ {Each year, when you harvest your crops,} take the best of what you harvest first, go to the place where you worship me, and give it to me, Yahweh your God. {When you kill} a young animal, do not cook it by boiling it in its mother’s milk.”

Exodus 34:27

40 days and 40 nights (ULT)

for 40 days and nights (UST)

Alternate translation: "for 40 days, including the nights"

And he wrote (ULT)

He engraved (UST)

Here, he probably refers to Moses, based on Yahweh's command in the previous verse. However, Exodus 34:1 opens the possibility that Yahweh wrote. It is best to leave it ambiguous, but if you must specify, saying Moses is better. Alternate translation: "Moses wrote" (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

28 And he was there with Yahweh 40 days and 40 nights; bread he did not eat and water he did not drink. And he wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, the ten words.

UST

28 Moses was there {on the top of the mountain} with Yahweh for 40 days and nights. During that time he did not eat or drink anything. He engraved on the stone slabs the words of the Ten Commandments which were part of Yahweh's solemn agreement.

Exodus 34:29

And it happened (ULT) When...came back down (UST)

This marks a change of scene which you should mark in a natural way in your language. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

And it happened, as Moses {was} descending from Mount Sinai, with the two tablets of the testimony in the hand of Moses as he {was} descending from the mountain (ULT) When Moses came back down from Mount Sinai he was carrying the two stone slabs on which he had written the Ten Commandments (UST)

The statement about Moses' descent from the mountain is repeated almost verbatim, but does not refer to two events. If this would be misunderstood you may need to state it only once in translation as in the UST. Alternate translation: "Then Moses came down from Mount Sinai. As he was coming down from the mountain, he was carrying the two tablets of the testimony in his hands." (See: Information Structure) that Moses did not know that the skin of his face shone while speaking with him (ULT) His face was very bright from talking to Yahweh, but he did not know it (UST)

In some languages it will make more sense to state that Moses' face shone before saying that he did not know that as in the UST. (See: Information Structure) shone (ULT) was very bright (UST)

Alternate translation: "became radiant"

ULT

²⁹ And it happened, as Moses {was} descending from Mount Sinai, with the two tablets of the testimony in the hand of Moses as he {was} descending from the mountain, that Moses did not know that the skin of his face shone while speaking with him.

UST

²⁹ When Moses came back down from Mount Sinai he was carrying the two stone slabs on which he had written the Ten Commandments. His face was very bright from talking to Yahweh, but he did not know it.

Exodus 34:30

And they were afraid (ULT) and were afraid (UST)

They were afraid because of his bright face. Alternate translation: "because of that, they were afraid" (See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship)

ULT

³⁰ And Aaron and all of the sons of Israel saw Moses, and behold, the skin of his face shone! And they were afraid to come near to him.

UST

³⁰ When Aaron and the Israelites saw Moses, they were amazed that his face was bright, and were afraid to approach him.

Exodus 34:31

³¹ But Moses summoned them, and Aaron and the other Israelite leaders came back to him, and he talked with them.

Exodus 34:32

all of...and he commanded them all that

Yahweh had spoken with him (ULT)

all...and Moses told them all that Yahweh had commanded him (UST)

This means that Moses commanded the Israelites to obey everything
Yahweh had commanded Moses to command the Israelites to do.

ULT

³² And after this, all of the sons of Israel approached, and he commanded them all that Yahweh had spoken with him on Mount Sinai.

UST

³² Afterwards, all the Israelites came near, and Moses told them all that Yahweh had commanded him on Mount Sinai.

Exodus 34:33

ULT

³³ And Moses finished from speaking with them, and he put a veil over his face.

UST

³³ When Moses finished talking to the people, he covered his face with a thin cloth.

Exodus 34:34

he would remove

This and the next verse give a general statement about Moses's practice for an unstated amount of time (it was probably from this point until his death as he continued to talk to Yahweh). You should mark this with a form in your language that is used for on-going action like would and the UST's "Whenever." (See: Connect — Background Information)

he had been commanded (ULT) had commanded him (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "Yahweh had commanded him" (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³⁴ And whenever Moses went before the face of Yahweh to speak with him, he would remove the veil until he came out. And he would come out, and he would speak to the sons of Israel what he had been commanded.

UST

³⁴ Whenever Moses entered the tent of meeting to talk with Yahweh, he would remove the cloth. When he came back out, he would always tell the Israelite people everything that Yahweh had commanded him to tell them.

Exodus 34:35

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁵ And the sons of Israel would see the face of Moses, that the skin of the face of Moses shone. And Moses would put the veil back over his face until he went in to speak with him.

UST

³⁵ The Israelites would see that Moses' face was still bright. Then he would put the cloth on his face again until the next time that he went to talk with Yahweh.

Exodus 35

Exodus 35 General Notes
Translation Issues in this Chapter
- In the last chapter some repetition of Yahweh's instructions began, mostly around the covenant commands. Starting in this chapter and even more so in chapter 36, the commands regarding the construction of the dwelling complex are repeated, often word for word, from chapters 25-31. In many verses the only difference will be a change of verb form from instruction to completion. As much as possible, these parallels will be pointed out for the translators with links to the previous verses. Translators should refer back to the previously translated verses for consistency and because notes in this section may not cover everything that was covered in the initial instruction section.
- Many items, materials, and processes for building the dwelling may be unknown, but should have already been addressed in chapters 25-31.
Structure
- v. 1-3: reiteration of Sabbath command
- v. 4-9: list of materials for donation (see Exodus 25:1-7)
- v. 10-19: things they need to make for the dwelling complex
- v. 20-29: the people bring all the things listed
- v. 30-36:1: appointing of lead craftsmen to build these things and stones of onyx (ULT) onyx stones and (UST)

An onyx stone is a valuable stone that has layers of white and black, red or brown. If this stone is unknown to your people, consider translating it by using a word for a familiar stone with a similar pattern, if possible. (See: Translate Unknowns)

and precious stones for (ULT) other expensive stones (UST)

Alternate translation: “and valuable gems for” or “and treasured gems for”

ULT

⁹ and stones of onyx and precious stones for settings for the ephod and for the breastpiece.

UST

⁹ onyx stones and other expensive stones to fasten to the priest's sacred apron and to put on the chest pouch that is on the apron.

Exodus 35:10

And all of the wise of heart (ULT)

All the skilled workmen (UST)

Here, heart and spirit are both referring to things innately possessed by a person, that is, traits of a person. The phrase essentially means “a talented craftsman.” If this is unclear to your readers you may consider making it more explicit. See how you translated this in Exodus 28:3. Alternate translation: “And every man with a skill” (See: Metonymy)

has commanded (ULT)

has commanded {you to make (UST)

Here, some the words that a sentence would need to be complete in some languages are left out. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could supply these words from the context, as modeled in the UST. (See: Ellipsis)

Every skilled man

After this verse, a list begins. You may need to mark the end of this verse with punctuation or another way that your language marks the start of a list.

ULT

¹⁰ And all of the wise of heart among you shall come and make all that Yahweh has commanded—

UST

¹⁰ All the skilled workmen among you should come and make all the things that Yahweh has commanded {you to make}:

See how you translated these terms in 25:10-17 and 26:36.

ULT

¹² the box and its poles, the atonement lid and the curtain of covering,

UST

¹² the sacred chest with its poles and its lid, the curtain that will separate the holy place from the very holy place, the bread of the faces (ULT) sacred bread...to present before God (UST)

Exodus 35:13

Here, face figuratively represents the presence of Yahweh. This bread represented the presence of God. Alternate translation: "the bread of the Presence" See how you translated this in Exodus 25:30. (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹³ the table and its poles and all of its equipment and the bread of the faces

UST

¹³ the table with the poles for carrying it and all its utensils, the sacred bread to present before God,

UST

¹⁴ the lampstand for making light with its implements and lamps, the oil {to burn} for light,

Exodus 35:15

the altar of incense...the oil of anointing...the incense of fragrance (ULT)

the altar for...burning...incense...the oil for... anointing...the sweet-smelling incense (UST)

For the altar, see 30:1. For the oil, see 30:25. For the incense, see 30:7.

ULT

¹⁵ and the altar of incense and its poles and the oil of anointing and the incense of fragrance and the curtain of the entrance for the entrance of the dwelling,

UST

¹⁵ the altar for {burning} incense and the poles {for carrying the altar}, the oil for anointing and the sweet-smelling incense, the curtain for the entrance of the sacred tent,

Exodus 35:16

bronze grate

For the grate, see Exodus 27:4. Most of the rest of the verse is almost identical to 30:28.

ULT

16 the altar of the burnt offering and the grate of bronze that {is} for it, its poles and all of its utensils, the basin and its base,

UST

16 the altar for burning sacrifices and its bronze grating, the poles {for carrying the altar}, and all its implements, the washbasin and its base,

Exodus 35:17

the curtains of...the curtain of (ULT)
the curtains to surround...the curtain for the (UST)

These were large curtains made of cloth. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:36.

its pillars (ULT)
and the posts (UST)

These were strong pieces of wood set upright and used as supports. See how you translated these in Exodus 27:10.

bases (ULT)
bases {for the posts to support the curtains (UST)}

These were blocks that had a slot in them to keep the board in place. See how you translated this in Exodus 26:19.

ULT

¹⁷ the curtains of the courtyard, its pillars and bases and the curtain of the gate of the courtyard,

UST

¹⁷ the curtains to surround the courtyard and the posts and bases {for the posts to support the curtains}; the curtain for the entrance to the courtyard;

Exodus 35:18

the tent pegs of...the pegs of (ULT)

the pegs...the pegs (UST)

These were sharp pieces of wood or metal used to secure the corners of a tent to the ground. See how you translated this in Exodus 27:19.

ULT

¹⁸ the tent pegs of the dwelling and the pegs of the courtyard and their ropes,

UST

¹⁸ the pegs and ropes for the sacred tent and its courtyard,

Exodus 35:19

finely-woven garments

Except for for serving in the holy place and two “ands,” this verse is identical to 31:10.

ULT

19 finely-woven clothing for serving in the holy place, the clothing of holiness for Aaron the priest and the clothing of his sons, to {be} priests.”

UST

19 the beautiful, sacred vestments for Aaron and his sons to wear when they work as priests in the holy place.”

Exodus 35:20

from before the face of Moses (ULT) from where they had gathered {to listen} to Moses (UST)

Alternate translation: "from Moses" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁰ And all of the congregation of the sons of Israel went away from before the face of Moses.

UST

²⁰ Then all the Israelites left from where they had gathered {to listen} to Moses.

Exodus 35:21

And every man whose heart lifted him came.
And all whose spirit impelled him brought
(ULT)

Everyone who wished to bring...did so. They brought (UST)

These two phrases parallel each other and mean the same thing. It would be good to keep this poetic repetition in your translation unless it would be misunderstood. If repetition here would not highlight the joyful giving spirit of the Israelites in your language, you may need to combine the phrases. Alternate translation: "Everyone who was motivated, body and soul, came and gave" (See: Parallelism)

And every man whose heart lifted him came.
And all whose spirit impelled him brought (ULT)
Everyone who wished to bring...did so. They brought (UST)

Here, heart and spirit both refer to a person's will, their desire to do something. Many languages will have similar expressions, perhaps using different body and spirit words or concepts which you can use. If your language would not express a person's will in this way, you could translate the meaning. Alternate translation: "And every man whose will lifted him came, and all who felt impelled brought" (See: Synecdoche)

whose heart lifted him (ULT) who wished to (UST)

Here, heart lifted is a metaphor for being willing or excited. Many languages will have similar expressions, perhaps using a different body part or a different action. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "who was excited" (See: Metaphor)

every man whose heart lifted him...And all whose spirit impelled him (ULT)
Everyone who wished to (UST)

Here, man, whose, and him all refer to men and women in a general way. This is made explicit in the next verse. If your readers might misunderstand this, you may use terms that include men and women. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women) and for the clothing of holiness (ULT) and the sacred vestments for the priests (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun holiness in another way. Alternate translation: "and for the holy clothing" (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

²¹ And every man whose heart lifted him came. And all whose spirit impelled him brought the contribution of Yahweh for the work of the tent of meeting and for all of its service and for the clothing of holiness.

UST

²¹ Everyone who wished to bring a gift to Yahweh did so. They brought things to make the sacred tent, all the other items for rituals, and the sacred vestments for the priests.

Exodus 35:22

all impelled of heart (ULT)

All...who wished to (UST)

Here, heart refers to a person's will, their desire to do something. It is spoken of as causing a person to bring these gifts to Yahweh. This is a shortening and combining of the figure used in the previous verse: heart and impelled are brought together. See how you translated these ideas in the previous verse. Alternate translation: "anyone whose will impelled him" (See: Synecdoche)

all who had a willing heart

Alternate translation: "who were impelled of" brooches and earrings and rings and ornaments, all of the things of gold (ULT) necklaces, earrings, rings, gold ornaments—all sorts of things made from gold (UST)

These are different kinds of jewelry. The exact identity of each object is not known. The phrase all of the things of gold could either modify the whole list, meaning "all these items were made of gold," or could mean "many other gold things." If taken as a summary statement, in some languages it may be clearer to move it to the front of the list. Alternate translation: "all kinds of gold jewelry including necklaces, nose rings, signet rings, and gold ornaments" (See: Litany)

And every man (ULT)

Then they (UST)

Although the term men is used, the word here is used in a generic sense that includes both men and women. Alternate translation: "And every person" (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

²² And men along with women came, all impelled of heart. They brought brooches and earrings and rings and ornaments, all of the things of gold. And every man that raised {did} as a raised offering of gold to Yahweh.

UST

²² All the men and women who wished to brought necklaces, earrings, rings, gold ornaments—all sorts of things made from gold. Then they lifted them up high to dedicate them to Yahweh.

Exodus 35:23

Everyone who had...brought them

See how you translated many of these words in Exodus 25:4-5.

And every man with whom was found (ULT) Many people who had (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Also, the meaning of this phrase is simple possession. Alternate translation: "And every man who owned" or "And every man having" (See: Active or Passive)

And every man (ULT) Many people (UST)

Although the term men is used, the word here is used in a generic sense that includes both men and women. Alternate translation: "And every person" (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

And every man (ULT) Many people (UST)

The phrase every man is used here without the restriction, "who was willing," from previous verses. The exaggeration is used to emphasize what a large portion of the Israelites gave willingly. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression from your language that expresses a large number or a majority. Alternate translation: "And very many people" (See: Hyperbole)

ULT

²³ And every man with whom was found blue and purple and worm of scarlet and fine linen and goats' hair and reddened ram skins and hides of sea-cows brought {them}.

UST

²³ Many people who had blue, purple, or bright red {cloth}, or fine linen, or {cloth made from} goats' hair, or red rams' skins, or fine leather hides brought some of these things.

Exodus 35:24

and all with whom...was found (ULT)

Anyone owning (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Also, the meaning of this phrase is simple possession. Alternate translation: “and everyone who owned” or “and everyone having” (See: Active or Passive)

All of the presenters {of (ULT)

Everyone who {desired to} offer (UST)

Here, all is limited by presenters, meaning only everyone who brought contributions. Avoid implying that every single Israelite did this (though very many did). Alternate translation: “All who decided to offer” and all (ULT)

Anyone (UST)

The phrase all is used here without the restriction, “who were willing,” from previous verses. The exaggeration is used to emphasize what a large portion of the Israelites gave willingly. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent expression from your language that expresses a large number or a majority. Alternate translation: “and very many people” (See: Hyperbole) for all the work of the service (ULT)

for any part of the building work (UST)

Here, service refers to worshiping Yahweh, and the phrase work of the service refers to building the dwelling as a place for worshiping Yahweh. Alternate translation: “for any of the building of a place for worship” (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁴ All of the presenters {of} a contribution of silver and of bronze brought the contribution of Yahweh, and all with whom wood of acacias was found for all the work of the service brought {it}.

UST

²⁴ Everyone who {desired to} offer silver or bronze gifts brought them to Yahweh. Anyone owning wood from acacia trees brought it for any part of the building work.

Exodus 35:25

skilled of heart (ULT) who were skilled {at making cloth (UST)}

Here, heart is referring to something innately possessed by a person, that is, a trait of a person. The phrase essentially means “a talented craftswoman.” If this is unclear to your readers you may consider making it more explicit. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 28:3. Alternate translation: “who possessed the skill” (See: Metonymy)

the blue and the purple the worm of scarlet (ULT) blue, purple, or red woolen yarn (UST)

This could mean: (1) “material that is dyed blue, purple, and scarlet,” probably wool yarn, or (2) “blue, purple and scarlet dye” to dye the linen. See how you translated a similar phrase in Exodus 25:4.

ULT

²⁵ And every woman skilled of heart spun with her hands, and they brought the spun items, the blue and the purple the worm of scarlet and the fine linen.

UST

²⁵ All the women who were skilled {at making cloth} brought blue, purple, or red woolen yarn and fine linen thread that they had made by hand-spinning.

Exodus 35:26

whose hearts lifted them (ULT) who wanted to (UST)

Here, heart refers to a persons' will, their desire to do something. It is spoken of as causing a person to use her skills for Yahweh. This is the same as the first phrase in verse 21. Alternate translation: "whose wills impelled them" (See: Synecdoche)

ULT

²⁶ All the women with skill whose hearts lifted them spun goats' hair.

UST

²⁶ All the skilled women who wanted to made {thread} from goats' hair by spinning.

Exodus 35:27

The leaders brought...breastpiece

Beginning with onyx, this verse is almost identical to Exodus 25:7.

ULT

²⁷ And the leaders brought the onyx stones and precious stones of setting for the ephod and for the breastpiece

UST

²⁷ The leaders brought onyx stones and other fine stones for fastening to {Aaron's} sacred apron and sacred pouch,

Exodus 35:28

they brought spices...fragrant incense

Exodus 25:6 has almost identical words, arranged slightly differently.

ULT

²⁸ and spice and the oil for light and for the oil of anointing and for the incense of fragrance.

UST

²⁸ and spices and oil to use for the lamps, anointing oil, and sweet-smelling incense.

Exodus 35:29

whose heart was willing

The order of clauses in the ULT is reversed from the original because of required English sentence structure. In the original, The sons of Israel brought a freewill offering to Yahweh is at the end of the verse. Other languages may be able to retain the original order. (See: Information Structure) whose heart impelled them (ULT)

who wanted (UST)

Here, heart refers to a persons' will, their desire to do something. It is spoken of as causing a person to bring these gifts to Yahweh. See how you translated this in 25:2 and 35:22. Alternate translation: "whose will impelled them" (See: Synecdoche) which Yahweh had commanded {them} to do by the hand of Moses (ULT) that he had commanded Moses tell them to do (UST)

Here, by the hand of Moses refers to Moses as a messenger for Yahweh's commands, not to Moses being the one who would build all these things. If this imagery of carrying a message would be misunderstood in your language, you may use another figure or translate the meaning. Alternate translation: "which Yahweh had told Moses to tell them to do" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁹ The sons of Israel brought a freewill offering to Yahweh, every man and woman whose heart impelled them to bring {something} for all of the work which Yahweh had commanded {them} to do by the hand of Moses.

UST

²⁹ All the Israelite men and women who wanted to bring these things freely offered them to Yahweh for doing the work that he had commanded Moses tell them to do.

Exodus 35:30

Bezalel son of Uri son of Hur, from the tribe of Judah

What Moses says in this verse is a quote from Exodus 31:2

on Bezalel...of Uri...Hur (ULT)

Bezalel...Uri...Hur (UST)

These are men's names. See 31:2. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

³⁰ And Moses said to the sons of Israel, "See, Yahweh has called by name on Bezalel son of Uri son of Hur, from the tribe of Judah.

UST

³⁰ Moses said to the Israelites, "Listen carefully. Yahweh has chosen a man named Bezalel, son of Uri and grandson of Hur, from the tribe descended from Judah.

Exodus 35:31

filled Bezalel...craftsmanship

This verse is a quote from Exodus 31:3

And he has filled him with the Spirit of God (ULT)

Yahweh has caused his Spirit to teach him (UST)

Yahweh speaks of giving Bezalel his spirit as if Bezalel were a container and God's spirit were a liquid. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: "And he has given his spirit to Bezalel" (See: Metaphor)

with skill (ULT)

wisely (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun skill in another way. Alternate translation: "so he can work skillfully" (See: Abstract Nouns)

and with knowledge (ULT)

to know how to make (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun understanding in another way. Alternate translation: "and so he can understand his work" (See: Abstract Nouns)

and with knowledge (ULT)

to know how to make (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun knowledge in another way. Alternate translation: "and so he knows his work well" (See: Abstract Nouns) and with all kinds of craftsmanship (ULT)

all kinds of fine goods (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for craftsmanship, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun in another way. Alternate translation: "and for making all kinds of crafts" or "and so that he can make all kinds of things" (See: Abstract Nouns)

ULT

³¹ And he has filled him with the Spirit of God, with skill and with understanding and with knowledge and with all kinds of craftsmanship

UST

³¹ Yahweh has caused his Spirit to teach him to know how to make all kinds of fine goods wisely and intelligently.

Exodus 35:32

to make artistic designs...bronze

This verse is identical to Exodus 31:4, except for the first and.

ULT

³² and to design designs, to work in gold and in silver and in bronze

UST

³² He can engrave skillful designs in gold, silver, and bronze.

Exodus 35:33

also to cut and set stones...craftsmanship

This verse is identical to Exodus 31:5 except for the final of invention.

ULT

³³ and in carving of precious stones for setting and in carving of wood, to do all kinds of craftsmanship of invention.

UST

³³ He can cut jewels and enclose them in tiny gold settings. He can carve things from wood and do other inventive, skilled work.

Exodus 35:34

And he has put {it} in his heart to teach (ULT) Yahweh has also made...able to teach {others what they do (UST)

Here, put in his heart is an idiom referring to ability and desire. These are spoken of as if they are something that could be placed in a heart. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use an equivalent idiom or use plain language. Alternate translation: "And he gave to them the ability and desire to teach" (See: Idiom)

and Oholiab...Ahisamak (ULT) and Oholiab...Ahisamak (UST)

These are names of men. See how you translated these names in Exodus 31:6. (See: How to Translate Names)

ULT

³⁴ And he has put {it} in his heart to teach, he and Oholiab the son of Ahisamak, from the tribe of Dan.

UST

³⁴ Yahweh has also made Bezalel and Oholiab son of Ahisamak, from the tribe of Dan, able to teach {others what they do}.

Exodus 35:35

filled them with skill

This verse summarizes and pulls together many previously mentioned things. See 28:3 \(skill of heart\), 25:4 \(for materials\), 26:36 \(embroiderer\), 28:32 \(weaver\), 26:31 \(skillful workman\), 31:3 \(craftsman\), 28:6 \(designer of designs\).

He has filled them {with} skill of heart (ULT) He has enabled them...skillfully (UST)

Here, skill to create beautiful objects is spoken of as if it were something that could fill up a person. If your readers would not understand what this image means in this context, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: “He has made them very skillful” (See: Metaphor) with} skill of heart (ULT) skillfully (UST)

Here, of heart refers to possessing something, in this case ability or skill. Some languages will use a different body part for this image. Alternate translation: “with ability” (See: Synecdoche)

ULT

³⁵ He has filled them {with} skill of heart to do all of the work of a craftsman and of a skillful workman and of an embroiderer in the blue and in the purple and in the worm of scarlet and in the fine linen and of a weaver. {They are} doers of all work and designers of design.

UST

³⁵ He has enabled them to skillfully do all kinds of crafts-work—those who create artistic things, those who embroider designs using blue, purple, or red woolen yarn with linen cloth, and those who make the cloth. They are able to plan and do many kinds of artistic work.

Exodus 36

Exodus 36 General Notes
Translation issues
 * The first verse of this chapter goes with the last chapter.
 * Most of this chapter exactly quotes chapter 26 with a shift from instruction to past narrative form on the verbs and a few other minor changes; some are Hebrew word order that will be invisible here. Be sure to consult your previous work for consistency.
 * Throughout verses 8-38 the word heis is used. This is a generic noun referring to any of the team of skilled craftsmen. You could also change it to “they” if that would be understood better in your language. (See: Generic Noun Phrases and First, Second or Third Person)
Structure
 * v. 1: finish Moses’ instruction
 * v. 2-7: craftsmen collect materials from Moses, inform him the people should stop bringing things because they have too much already -v. 8-38: construction of the dwelling, verse-by-verse quotations marked below
 * v. 8-18: quote Exodus 26:1-11
 * v. 19-34: quote Exodus 26:14-29

Exodus 36:1

General Information:

This verse is the end of a quotation from Moses that begin in 35:30. It should be connected as visually as possible to the previous verses, as the chapter break here is poorly placed.

Bezalel and Oholiab (ULT)

Bezalel and Oholiab (UST)

Bezalel and Oholiab are the names of men. See how you translated this in Exodus 31:2 and 31:6 as well as in the end of chapter 35. (See: How to Translate Names)

man (ULT)

the other...people (UST)

We know from 35:25 that women were included in the skilled workers, so man means every person. Alternate translation: "person" (See: When Masculine Words Include Women) skilled of heart (ULT)

skillful (UST)

Here, of heart refers to innately possessing something, in this case ability or skill. Some languages will use a different body part for this image. Alternate translation: "with innate ability" (See: Synecdoche)

skill (ULT)

skillful (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun skill in another way. See 35:31. Alternate translation: "the ability to work skillfully" (See: Abstract Nouns)

and understanding (ULT)

and able (UST)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the idea behind the abstract noun understanding in another way. See 35:31. Alternate translation: "and so he can understand his work" (See: Abstract Nouns)

the work of the service of the holy place (ULT)

this work...the sacred place (UST)

Here, service refers to worshiping Yahweh, and the phrase work of the service refers to building the dwelling (holy place) where the Israelites would worship Yahweh. See 35:24. Alternate translation: "the building of the holy place for worship" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

¹ And Bezalel and Oholiab and every man skilled of heart to whom Yahweh has given skill and understanding to know {how} to do all of the work of the service of the holy place shall do according to all that Yahweh has commanded."

UST

¹ Bezalel and Oholiab will do this work along with all the other skillful people. Yahweh has made them skillful and able to know how to follow his instructions to build the sacred place."

Exodus 36:2

to Bezalel and to Oholiab and to every man skilled of heart in whose heart Yahweh had put skill (ULT)

Bezalel and Oholiab and all the other people that Yahweh had made skillful (UST)

See how you translated this in the previous verse.

skill (ULT)

skillful (UST)

See how you translated this abstract noun in the previous verse.
(See: Abstract Nouns)

all whose heart lifted him (ULT)

who wished (UST)

See how you translated this in 35:21. (See: Metaphor)

ULT

² And Moses called to Bezalel and to Oholiab and to every man skilled of heart in whose heart Yahweh had put skill, all whose heart lifted him to come near to the work to do it,

UST

² So Moses summoned Bezalel and Oholiab and all the other people that Yahweh had made skillful who wished to come do some of the work.

Exodus 36:3and they took (ULT)*They took (UST)

Alternate translation: "and the craftsmen took"

from before the face of (ULT)from (UST)

Here, before the face means with Moses. Moses had received and kept the building materials. Alternate translation: "from the custody of" (See: Metonymy) in the morning in the morning (ULT)every morning (UST)

This is an idiom meaning every morning or every day. Use a similar expression or translate the meaning. Alternate translation: "morning by morning" (See: Idiom)

ULT

³ and they took from before the face of Moses all of the contributions that the sons of Israel had brought for doing the work of the service of the holy place. And they continually brought a freewill offering to him in the morning in the morning.

UST

³ They took all the gifts for building the sacred tent from Moses that the Israelites had brought to him. But the Israelites continued gladly bringing more gifts every morning.

Exodus 36:4

the skilled (ULT) skillful craftsman (UST)

Here the adjective skilled is used as a noun in order to describe the group of craftsmen. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this with a noun phrase. Alternate translation: “the skilled workers” (See: Nominal Adjectives)

every single man (ULT) each and every (UST)

Here, every single man translates an idiom that cannot be rendered literally and sensibly in English. The original is “a man a man.” If your language would use repetition to emphasize that each and every man came to see Moses, you can follow the original; otherwise use a phrase or structure that emphasizes that they all came. Alternate translation: “every man without exception” (See: Idiom)

every single man (ULT) each and every (UST)

As previously, noted, there were some women who contributed (particularly in the cloth crafts) so this use may include women. Alternate translation: “every single worker” (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

ULT

⁴ So all the skilled doing all the work of the holy place came, every single man from the work that they were doing,

UST

⁴ As a result, each and every skillful craftsman who was working to make the sacred tent left their work and came to Moses.

Exodus 36:5

and they said to Moses, saying, “The people {are} bringing much more than enough for the service of the work that Yahweh has commanded {us} to do (ULT)

The craftsmen told him, “The Israelites are bringing many times more than we need to build as Yahweh has commanded us (UST)

The can be stated as an indirect quote. Alternate translation: “The craftsmen told Moses that the people were bringing much more than enough for doing the work that Yahweh has commanded them to do” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations)

ULT

⁵ and they said to Moses, saying, “The people {are} bringing much more than enough for the service of the work that Yahweh has commanded {us} to do.”

UST

⁵ The craftsmen told him, “The Israelites are bringing many times more than we need to build as Yahweh has commanded us!”

Exodus 36:6

A man and a woman shall not make any more work for the contribution of the holy place (ULT)

Everyone should stop making and bringing material gifts for the sacred tent (UST)

This could be translated as an indirect quotation if that would help your readers. Alternate translation: “that no one should bring any more contributions for the work of the holy place” (See: Direct and Indirect Quotations) and they caused a sound to pass through (ULT) to proclaim a message (UST)

Here, sound refers to the message. This means they spread Moses’ message orally. Alternate translation: “everyone to share this message” (See: Metonymy)

A man and a woman shall not make (ULT)
Everyone should stop making and bringing (UST)

The listing of man and woman is intended to mean everyone, or in this case, no one. Alternate translation: “No one shall make” (See: Merism) work (ULT) material (UST)

Here, work means the sorts of crafted items listed in the previous chapter.

from bringing (ULT) bringing gifts (UST)

In some languages you may need to provide an object for this sentence. Alternate translation: “from bringing contributions” (See: Ellipsis)

ULT

⁶ And Moses commanded, and they caused a sound to pass through in the camp, saying, “A man and a woman shall not make any more work for the contribution of the holy place.” And the people were restrained from bringing.

UST

⁶ So Moses told them to proclaim a message throughout the camp, “Everyone should stop making and bringing material gifts for the sacred tent!” So the people stopped bringing gifts.

Exodus 36:7

And the work (ULT) materials (UST)

Here, work means the sorts of crafted items listed in the previous chapter.

ULT

⁷ And the work was sufficient for doing all their work, and there was excess.

UST

⁷ They had more than enough materials for all the work.

ULT

¹⁶ All of the curtains of the courtyard all around {were} fine twisted linen.

UST

¹⁶ There were fine linen curtains all around the courtyard.

Exodus 38:17

General Information

See how you translated many of these words in Exodus 27:17.

ULT

17 And the bases for the pillars {were} bronze. The hooks of the pillars and their rings {were} silver, and the plating of their tops {was} silver. And all of the pillars of the courtyard {were} filleted {with} silver.

UST

17 All the posts' bases were bronze. They covered the tops with silver. The pillars' hooks and loops were silver. The ends of the courtyard's pillars had a rounded silver finish.

Exodus 38:18

General Information

See how you translated many of these words in Exodus 27:16 and 18.

And...was} twenty...was} five (ULT)

The curtain was ten...two and a half (UST)

You can convert these lengths to a measurement system familiar to your people if that is the style of translation that you are using. A cubit is approximately 46cm. For your reference, a more precise conversion to metric is: 9.2m ... 2.3m (See: Biblical Distance) and the height in width {was} five cubits (ULT) meters...and two and a half...high (UST)

This probably refers to the general dimensions (20 cubits long by 5 cubits wide) but clarifies that the width would become the height of the curtain when the craftsmen or Levites set up the dwelling. Alternate translation: "and the width, which corresponded to the height when hung, was five cubits"

ULT

18 And the curtain of the gate of the courtyard {was the} work of an embroiderer, blue and purple and worm of scarlet and twisted fine linen. And the length {was} twenty cubits and the height in width {was} five cubits, just as the curtains of the courtyard,

UST

18 For the entrance of the courtyard, {they made} a curtain from finely twined linen, and a skilled weaver embroidered it with blue, purple, and red yarn. The curtain was ten meters long and two and a half meters high, just like the other curtains around the courtyard.

Exodus 38:19

Exodus 39

Exodus 39 General Notes\n\n- This chapter continues the record of the construction in almost exact repetition of Yahweh's instructions. The special, holy clothing mentioned in previous chapters is produced to the correct specifications in this chapter. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)\nBe sure to consult your previous work to maintain consistency. Verses 1-31 of this chapter follow Exodus 28:1-37 with some differences. Verses 33-41 follow 35:10-19.\n- Throughout the chapter the people making the items are referred to interchangeably as he or they. Both are generic nouns referring to any of the team of skilled craftsmen. You could change all instances to "they" or "he" if that would be understood better in your language. (See: Generic Noun Phrases and First, Second or Third Person)\n

Exodus 39:5

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:8.

ULT

⁵ And the skillfully crafted sash of the ephod which is on it was from it, of like workmanship, of gold, blue, and purple and worm of scarlet and twined fine linen, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

⁵ {They made} a carefully woven belt that matched the sacred apron. They made it from the same piece of cloth as the apron. (That cloth was finely twisted linen with {skillfully embroidered} blue, purple, red thread, and {fine} gold {thread}.) {They sewed it} onto the apron, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 39:6

General Information:

See how you translated many of these words in Exodus 28:9 and especially Exodus 28:11. Here, as there, the sons of Israel literally means the twelve sons, Rueben through Benjamin, not the Israelite nation.

ULT

⁶ And they made the stones of onyx {with} ornamental settings of gold surrounding {them}. The names of the sons of Israel {were} engraved on {them like} the engravings of a signet.

UST

⁶ They cut two onyx stones and mounted them in decorative gold settings. They engraved the names of the twelve sons of Jacob on the stones like someone engraves a signet ring.

Exodus 39:7

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to the first half of Exodus 28:12.

ULT

⁷ And he put them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod as stones of reminder for the sons of Israel, as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

⁷ They fastened the stones onto the shoulder straps of the sacred apron to memorialize the names of the 12 tribes of Israel, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 39:8

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:15; a few words are omitted here.

ULT

⁸ And he made the breastpiece, the work of a skillful craftsman, like the work of the ephod, from gold, blue, and purple and worm of scarlet and twisted fine linen.

UST

⁸ He made the sacred pouch of the same materials as the sacred apron and skillfully embroidered it in the same way with gold, blue, purple, and red finely twisted linen.

Exodus 39:9

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:16; a few words are added or repeated here.

ULT

⁹ It was square, folded double. They made the breastpiece, its length: a span; and its width: a span folded double.

UST

⁹ They folded the material double so that they made the pouch a double-folded square 23 centimeters long and 23 centimeters wide.

a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst

This verse is identical to Exodus 28:19.

ULT

¹² And the third row: a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst.

UST

¹² They put a red jacinth, a white agate, and a purple amethyst in the third row.

Exodus 39:13

a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:20.

ULT

¹³ And the fourth row: a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper. {The stones were} surrounded by ornamental gold settings.

UST

¹³ They put a yellow beryl, an onyx, and a green jasper in the fourth row. They put tiny gold frames around each of the stones.

Exodus 39:14

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:21.

ULT

14 And the precious stones {were} according to the names of the sons of Israel—they {were} according to their 12 names. Each {was like} the engraving of a signet according to its name—for the 12 tribes.

UST

14 {They carved} the name of one of the 12 sons of Jacob into each of these stones like they were making signet rings. These name-stones represented the 12 tribes of Israel.

Exodus 39:15

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:22.

ULT

¹⁵ And they made twisted chains on the breastpiece, as a work of rope—pure gold.

UST

¹⁵ They attached two chains that they made from purified gold and braided like cords to the sacred pouch.

Exodus 39:16

General Information:

This verse is very similar to Exodus 28:23-24.

ULT

16 And they made two ornamental settings of gold and two rings of gold and put the two rings on the two ends of the breastpiece.

UST

16 They made two decorative gold settings and two gold rings and attached them to the upper corners of the sacred pouch.

Exodus 39:17

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:24.

ULT

¹⁷ And they attached the two chains of gold to the rings on the two ends of the breastpiece.

UST

¹⁷ They fastened one end of each gold cord to one of the rings on the top corner of the pouch.

Exodus 39:18

General Information:

This verse is identical to Exodus 28:25 except for verb tense.

ULT

18 And they attached two of the ends of the two chains to the two ornamental settings. And they attached those to the shoulder pieces of the ephod at the front of its face.

UST

18 They fastened the other end of each cord to the two decorative settings that enclose the stones. Then they put those on the front side of the shoulder straps of the sacred apron.

Exodus 39:19

General Information:

This verse is identical to Exodus 28:26 except for verb tense.

ULT

¹⁹ And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two ends of the breastpiece, on the edge which is toward the inner side of the ephod.

UST

¹⁹ Then they made two more gold rings and attached them to the lower corners of the sacred pouch on the inside edges next to the sacred apron.

Exodus 39:20

General Information:

This verse is identical to Exodus 28:27 except for verb tense.

ULT

²⁰ And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two shoulder pieces of the ephod on the bottom of the front of its face, close to its joining above the skillfully crafted waistband of the ephod.

UST

²⁰ They made two more gold rings and attached them to the lower part of the front of the shoulder straps near where the shoulder straps join with the sacred apron just above the sash.

Exodus 39:21

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to Exodus 28:28 except for the note about Yahweh's command.

ULT

²¹ And they tied the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a cord of blue to be on the finely crafted waistband of the ephod, so the breastpiece could not become detached from {being} with the ephod just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²¹ They tied the rings on the sacred pouch to the rings on the sacred apron with a blue cord, so that the sacred pouch was above the sash and would not come loose from the sacred apron. They did these things exactly as Yahweh had instructed Moses to do.

Exodus 39:22

General Information:

This verse is almost identical to most of Exodus 28:31-32.

ULT

²² And he made the robe of the ephod entirely of blue, the work of a weaver.

UST

²² Bezalel had a weaver make the robe {that Aaron would wear underneath his} sacred apron from only blue material.

Exodus 39:23

General Information:

This verse is very similar to Exodus 28:32.

ULT

²³ The opening of the robe {was} in the middle of it like an opening of a garment. The edge for its opening was all around so that it could not tear.

UST

²³ It had an opening in the middle like other clothing. They made a border around this opening to prevent the material from tearing.

Exodus 39:24

General Information:

This verse is similar to part of Exodus 28:33.

ULT

²⁴ On the bottom hem of the robe they made pomegranates of twisted blue, purple, and scarlet yarn.

UST

²⁴ At the lower edge of the robe they fastened decorations that resembled pomegranate fruit. They wove the decorations from blue, purple, and red woolen yarn.

Exodus 39:25

General Information:

This verse is similar to parts of Exodus 28:33.

ULT

²⁵ And they made bells of pure gold, and they put the bells between the pomegranates all around on the bottom edge of the robe, between the pomegranates—

UST

²⁵ They made bells from purified gold and fastened them between each of the decorative pomegranates all around the bottom of the robe.

Exodus 39:26

General Information:

The first part of this verse is almost identical to the first part of Exodus 28:34.

ULT

²⁶ a bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate—all around on the hem of the robe for serving, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²⁶ So the pattern was bell, pomegranate, bell, pomegranate, and so on all around the bottom of the robe. {The robe was} for {Aaron to wear while he} worked as a priest, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Verses 27-29 reflect Exodus 28:39, 40, and 42 but in a different order.

ULT

²⁹ and the sash of fine linen and of blue, purple, and scarlet yarn, the work of an embroiderer, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²⁹ and the sash from fine linen with blue, purple, and red woolen embroidery, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 39:30

General Information:

This verse is almost identical Exodus 28:36. See 29:6 for the crown of holiness.

ULT

³⁰ And they made the rosette of the crown of holiness of pure gold and inscribed an inscription on it, like the engraving on a signet, "Holy to Yahweh."

UST

³⁰ They made a sacred ornamental decoration from purified gold and etched into it the words, 'Dedicated to Yahweh,' just like carving a signet ring.

Exodus 39:31

General Information:

This verse is very similar to Exodus 28:37.

ULT

³¹ And they put a cord of blue on it to attach it on the top of the turban, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

³¹ They attached a blue cord to this for fastening it to the top of the turban, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 39:32

General Information:

This verse marks the end of the narrative of the construction of the dwelling. More precisely, it seems to mark the beginning of an ending section. Use the natural form in your language for expressing the conclusion of a story. (See: End of Story)

the dwelling, the tent of meeting (ULT) the sacred tent where they would meet with Yahweh (UST)

The tabernacle and tent of meeting are the same thing. The two interchangeable terms are brought together here in a poetic doubling to bring this part of the narrative to a close. If your readers would find this confusing you may need to simplify to one or expand in explanation like in the UST. Alternate translation: "holy meeting tent" (See: Doublet)

And the sons of Israel did according to all that Yahweh had commanded Moses; thus they did (ULT) The Israelites had done everything in exactly the way that Yahweh had commanded Moses to have it done (UST)

Here, thus they did parallels the whole rest of the sentence. Like the doubling of the terms for tabernacle this brings the narrative of building to an emphatic conclusion. If this sort of parallelism would convey a meaning other than this emphatic conclusion in your language you may need to use another natural way to close the narrative with emphasis on the Israelites complete obedience. Alternate translation: "And the sons of Israel faithfully did exactly according to all that Yahweh had commanded Moses" (See: Parallelism)

ULT

³² And all the service of the dwelling, the tent of meeting, was finished. And the sons of Israel did according to all that Yahweh had commanded Moses; thus they did.

UST

³² {After this,} they had finished all the work on the sacred tent where they would meet with Yahweh. The Israelites had done everything in exactly the way that Yahweh had commanded Moses to have it done.

Exodus 39:33

So the work on the dwelling, the tent of meeting, was finished. The people of Israel did everything

This verse starts a short narrative of the Israelites bringing and presenting the items for the dwelling to Moses for inspection. It is a summary of the construction and extended conclusion to the last few chapters. Your team may need to decide how to group verse 32, as it both closes the construction narrative and introduces this next section, which ends with a very similar summary statement in verses 42-43. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

As Yahweh had commanded, in that way they did it

This (and really verse 42) is the end of the conclusion of the construction of materials portion of the story. The ending began in verse 32. If your language has specific features that should be part of the end of a section like this, consider using them here. (See: End of Story)

ULT

⁴³ And Moses saw all of the work, and behold, they had done it. Just as Yahweh had commanded, thus they had done. And Moses blessed them.

UST

⁴³ Then Moses examined everything they had made. Truly, they had done everything exactly as Yahweh had commanded them to do it. Then Moses blessed the workmen.

Exodus 40

Exodus 40 General Notes
Structure and Formatting
In this chapter, just as Yahweh commanded Moses is repeated seven times, as in the previous chapter, to show that Moses was obedient to every detail of Yahweh's command. This chapter is repetitive both internally and with other parts of the book. Verses 17-33 parallel verses 2-8 in an expanded way.

Other Possible Translation

Difficulties in this Chapter
The tabernacle and tent of meeting are the same thing, but both appear next to each other many times in this chapter. The two interchangeable terms are brought together throughout this chapter in a poetic doubling to bring book to a close. If your readers would find this confusing, you may need to simplify to one or expand in explanation like in the UST. This chapter says that Moses did all these things. Just like with Bezalel in earlier chapters, it would have been impossible for him to do all this personally. The people helped him set up the dwelling. In many translations this will more more clear if you make this explicit. "Yahweh's glory filled the dwelling": This phrase indicates that Yahweh began to dwell within the dwelling, among Israel, in a special way. (See: glory, glorious, glorify and tabernacle)

Exodus 40:1

There is a transition to a new event at the beginning of this chapter. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

ULT

¹ And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying,

UST

¹ Then Yahweh said to Moses,

Exodus 40:2

On the first day of the month, in the first month (ULT)

on the first day of the first month of the year (UST)

Alternate translation: "On day one of the month, in month one" (See: Ordinal Numbers)

the dwelling of...the tent of meeting (ULT)
the sacred tent where you will meet with me (UST)

These refer to the same place. See how you translated the doubling in 39:32. Alternate translation: "the dwelling, that is the tent of meeting" (See: Doublet)

month (ULT)

month of the year (UST)

Here, the new or next year is omitted because it can be inferred from context. However, if that would be misunderstood by your readers (perhaps they would think it just meant "next month" or something), you could add a phrase to make it clear that it is the first month of the year. This refers to exactly one year after God rescued his people from Egypt. See Exodus 12:2. Alternate translation: "month of the year" (See: Ellipsis)

ULT

² "On the first day of the month, in the first month, you shall raise up the dwelling of the tent of meeting."

UST

² "Set up the sacred tent where you will meet with me on the first day of the first month of the year."

ULT

⁷ And you shall put the basin between the tent of meeting and the altar and put water there.

UST

⁷ Put the washbasin between the sacred tent and the altar, and fill it with water.

Exodus 40:8

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁸ And you shall set up the courtyard around it, and set up the curtain of the gate of the courtyard.

UST

⁸ Hang the curtains around the outside to make the courtyard, and also hang up the courtyard's entrance curtain.

Exodus 40:9

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

⁹ And you shall take the oil of anointing and anoint the dwelling and everything that is in it. And you shall set apart it and all its furnishings, and it will be holy.

UST

⁹ Then take the oil for anointing and put it on the sacred tent and everything that is in it, to consecrate it all to me. Then it will be dedicated to me.

Exodus 40:10

a holiest holy thing (ULT) be scared, dedicated to me (UST)

Here, holiest holy means extremely or uniquely holy. If this form would not express that this item would become uniquely holy in your language you may need to find another way to express this idea. See how you translated this in Exodus 29:37. Alternate translation: “a most holy thing” or “extraordinarily holy” (See: Possession)

ULT

¹⁰ And you shall anoint the altar of the burnt offering and all its utensils. And you shall set apart the altar, and the altar will be a holiest holy thing.

UST

¹⁰ Also put some of the oil on the altar on which the priests will burn the sacrifices and on all the things that they will use at the altar. This will consecrate the altar to me. Then it will be scared, dedicated to me.

¹² Then bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the sacred tent and wash them with water.

Exodus 40:13

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

13 And you shall clothe Aaron with the garments of holiness and anoint him and set him apart, and he will serve as a priest to me.

UST

13 Then set Aaron apart for serving me as a priest by putting his sacred vestments on him and by pouring oil on him.

Exodus 40:14

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

¹⁴ And you shall bring his sons and clothe them {with} tunics.

UST

¹⁴ Also bring Aaron's sons and put their special tunics on them,

Exodus 40:15

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

15 And you shall anoint them just as you anointed their father, and they will serve as priests to me. And their anointing will cause them to be a priesthood forever throughout their generations.”

UST

15 then pour oil on them just as you did on their father. This will consecrate them to serve me as priests. By pouring oil on them, you will cause them and their descendants to be priests throughout all their future generations.”

Exodus 40:16

General Information:

This statement starts a new section in which Moses does all the things just as Yahweh had commanded; this poetic obedience statement was seen so often in the previous chapter. You may wish to mark this transition and poetic statement in a particular way in your language that is similar to how you did in the last chapter. See 39:32. (See: Introduction of a New Event)

ULT

16 And Moses did according to all that Yahweh had commanded him. Thus he did.

UST

16 Moses did all these things exactly as Yahweh had commanded him to do.

Exodus 40:17

that} the dwelling was raised up (ULT)
the people set up the sacred tent (UST)

The use of the passive here indicates that the important thing is the completion of the task of setting up the tent on the specific date Yahweh had commanded. If your language would show that focus in a different way, use a natural form to do that. Alternate translation: "that they set up the dwelling" (See: Active or Passive) in the first month, the second year, on the first of the month (ULT)

And Moses raised up the dwelling and placed its bases (ULT)

Moses set up the sacred tent, and its bases (UST)

Moses was the leader. It would have been impossible for him to do all this personally; the people helped him set up the dwelling. All references to Moses from here to all the dwelling assembly listing through verse 33 can be understood this way. Alternate translation: "And Moses directed the people to raise up the dwelling, and they placed its bases"(See: Metonymy)

ULT

18 And Moses raised up the dwelling and placed its bases and set up its frames and placed its bars and set up its pillars.

UST

18 Moses set up the sacred tent, and its bases, frames, crossbars, and posts.

Exodus 40:19

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

19 And he spread the tent over the dwelling and put the covering of the tent over it on the top, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

19 He spread out the two layers of coverings over the sacred tent, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 40:20

And he took...And he put (ULT)

Then Moses took...He put (UST)

In this verse and the next, there may be an exception to he meaning someone who was helping Moses, because these items were especially sacred. If you have been using a form that indicates that people are helping Moses construct the dwelling, you may consider switching to “Moses” here. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

²⁰ And he took the testimony and put {it} into the box. And he put the poles on the box and put the atonement lid on the top of the box.

UST

²⁰ Then Moses took the two stone slabs on which Yahweh had written his commandments and put them into the sacred chest. He put the carrying poles into the rings on the chest and put the lid on top of it.

Exodus 40:21

And he brought...And he set up (ULT) Then Moses took...He hung (UST)

In this verse and the previous verse, there may be an exception to he meaning someone who was helping Moses, because these items were especially sacred. If you have been using a form that indicates that people are helping Moses construct the dwelling, you may consider switching to "Moses" here. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

ULT

²¹ And he brought the box into the dwelling. And he set up the curtain of covering, and he covered over the Box of the Testimony, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²¹ Then Moses took the chest into {the holy place inside} the sacred tent. He hung the thick curtain to conceal the chest containing the commandments, exactly as Yahweh had commanded him.

Exodus 40:22

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²² And he put the table into the tent of meeting, on the north side of the dwelling, outside of the curtain.

UST

²² He set the table inside the sacred tent, on its north side, outside the curtain {that hid the sacred chest}.

Exodus 40:23

Alternate translation: "in the presence of" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²³ And he arranged on it the arrangement of bread before the face of Yahweh, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²³ He laid out the bread neatly on the table to display it before Yahweh, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses to do.

Exodus 40:24

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁴ And he put the lampstand into the tent of meeting, across from the table, on the south side of the dwelling.

UST

²⁴ He set the lampstand inside the sacred tent, on the south side, on the opposite side from the table.

Exodus 40:25

before the face of (ULT)
in...presence (UST)

Alternate translation: "in the presence of" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁵ And he lifted up the lamps before the face of Yahweh, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²⁵ Then he set the lamps on the lampstand in Yahweh's presence, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 40:26

in front of the face of (ULT)

in front of (UST)

Alternate translation: "in front of" (See: Metonymy)

ULT

²⁶ And he put the altar of gold into the tent of meeting in front of the face of the curtain.

UST

²⁶ He set the gold altar {for burning incense} inside the sacred tent, in front of the curtain {that hid the most holy place}.

Exodus 40:27

in front of the curtain

See 30:7.

ULT

²⁷ And he caused smoke on it, incense of fragrance, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²⁷ He burned some sweet-smelling incense on it, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 40:28

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁸ And he set up the curtain of the gate of the dwelling.

UST

²⁸ He hung the curtain at the entrance to the sacred tent.

Exodus 40:29

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

²⁹ And he put the altar of the burnt offering at the gate of the dwelling, the tent of meeting, and offered up on it the burnt offering and the grain offering, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

²⁹ At the entrance to the sacred tent where they would meet with Yahweh, he placed the altar for burning sacrifices. Then he sacrificed meat and flour by burning them on it, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 40:30

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁰ And he placed the basin between the tent of meeting and the altar, and he put water for washing there.

UST

³⁰ He set the washbasin between the sacred tent and the bronze altar, and filled the washbasin with water.

Exodus 40:31

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³¹ And Moses, and Aaron, and his sons would wash their hands and their feet from it.

UST

³¹ Moses, Aaron, and his sons would wash their hands and feet in the washbasin.

Exodus 40:32

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³² Whenever they went into the tent of meeting and whenever they went close to the altar, they washed themselves, just as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

UST

³² Whenever they went into the sacred tent and whenever they came close to the altar, they would wash themselves, exactly as Yahweh had commanded Moses.

Exodus 40:33

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³³ And he raised up the courtyard around the dwelling and the altar. And he set up the curtain of the gate of the courtyard. And Moses finished the work.

UST

³³ He hung up {the curtains that} surrounded the sacred tent and the altar and the curtain at the entrance to the courtyard. Then Moses was finished building the sacred tent complex.

Exodus 40:34

(There are no notes for this verse.)

ULT

³⁴ And the cloud covered the tent of meeting, and the glory of Yahweh filled the dwelling.

UST

³⁴ Then the tall cloud covered the sacred tent, and Yahweh's power and brilliant light filled the sacred tent.

Exodus 40:35

And Moses was not able to go into the tent of meeting, because the cloud had settled on it and the glory of Yahweh had filled the dwelling (ULT)

Because the cloud covered it and Yahweh's light was very bright, Moses was not able to enter the sacred tent (UST)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation:

“Because the cloud had settled on it and the glory of Yahweh had filled the dwelling, Moses was not able to go into the tent of meeting.”

ULT

³⁵ And Moses was not able to go into the tent of meeting, because the cloud had settled on it and the glory of Yahweh had filled the dwelling.

UST

³⁵ Because the cloud covered it and Yahweh's light was very bright, Moses was not able to enter the sacred tent.

Exodus 40:36And whenever the cloud was taken up (ULT)
From that day,} whenever Yahweh's cloud moved (UST)

ULT

³⁶ And whenever the cloud was taken up from over the dwelling, the sons of Israel would set out on all their travels,

UST

³⁶ {From that day,} whenever Yahweh's cloud moved off of the sacred, tent the Israelites would {pack their camp} and start traveling.

Exodus 40:37

but if the cloud was not taken up, then they would not set out until the day it was taken up (ULT)

But if the cloud did not move, they stayed where they were and waited for a day that the cloud moved (UST)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: "but if Yahweh did not take up the cloud, then they would not set out until the day he took it up." (See: Active or Passive)

ULT

³⁷ but if the cloud was not taken up, then they would not set out until the day it was taken up.

UST

³⁷ But if the cloud did not move, they stayed where they were and waited for a day that the cloud moved.

Exodus 40:38

before the eyes of all the house of Israel (ULT)
The Israelites could always see {that Yahweh was with them (UST)}

Here, before the eyes of refers to being able to see. All the Israelites could see the cloud and fire. Alternate translation: “and all the house of Israel could see it” (See: Metonymy)

the house of Israel (ULT)
The Israelites (UST)

Here, house represents a people group, the Israelites, who were descended from Jacob, who was also named Israel. If your readers might misunderstand this, you could use a metaphor from your language or translate the meaning. This is a common biblical metaphor, so you may want to check other places this occurs. The house of Israel is equivalent to “sons of Israel” or “Israelites.” (See: Metaphor)

ULT

³⁸ For the cloud of Yahweh {was} over the dwelling by day, and fire was on it by night, before the eyes of all the house of Israel in all their travels.

UST

³⁸ Wherever the Israelites traveled, Yahweh's cloud was above the sacred tent during the day, and his fire was over it at night. The Israelites could always see {that Yahweh was with them}.

Version 28

Abstract Nouns

Description

Abstract nouns are nouns that refer to attitudes, qualities, events, or situations. These are things that cannot be seen or touched in a physical sense, such as happiness, weight, unity, friendship, health, and reason. This is a translation issue because some languages may express a certain idea with an abstract noun, while others would need a different way to express it.

This page answers the question: What are abstract nouns and how do I deal with them in my translation?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-partsofspeech]]
[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentences]]

Remember that nouns are words that refer to a person, place, thing, or idea. Abstract nouns are the nouns that refer to ideas. These can be attitudes, qualities, events, situations, or even relationships between those ideas. These are things that cannot be seen or touched in a physical sense, such as joy, peace, creation, goodness, contentment, justice, truth, freedom, vengeance, slowness, length, weight, and many, many more.

Some languages, such as Biblical Greek and English, use abstract nouns a lot. They provide a way of giving names to actions or qualities. With names, people who speak these languages can talk about the concepts as though they were things. For example, in languages that use abstract nouns, people can say, "I believe in the forgiveness of sin."

But some languages do not use abstract nouns very much. In these languages, speakers may not have the two abstract nouns "forgiveness" and "sin," but they would express the same meaning in other ways. For example, they would express, "I believe that God is willing to forgive people after they have sinned," by using verb phrases instead of nouns for those ideas.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

The Bible that you translate from may use abstract nouns to express certain ideas. Your language might not use abstract nouns for some of those ideas. Instead, it might use phrases to express those ideas. Those phrases will use other kinds of words such as adjectives, verbs, or adverbs to express the meaning of the abstract noun. For example, "What is its weight?" could be expressed as "How much does it weigh?" or "How heavy is it?"

Examples From the Bible

From childhood you have known the sacred writings ... (2 Timothy 3:15a ULT)

The abstract noun "childhood" refers to when someone was a child.

But godliness with contentment is great gain. (1 Timothy 6:6 ULT)

The abstract nouns "godliness" and "contentment" refer to being godly and content. The abstract noun "gain" refers to something that benefits or helps someone.

Today salvation has come to this house, because he too is a son of Abraham. (Luke 19:9 ULT)

The abstract noun "salvation" here refers to being saved.

The Lord does not move slowly concerning his promises, as some consider slowness to be (2 Peter 3:9a ULT)

The abstract noun "slowness" refers to the lack of speed with which something is done.

He will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness and reveal the purposes of the heart. (1 Corinthians 4:5b ULT)

The abstract noun “purposes” refers to the things that people want to do and the reasons they want to do them.

Translation Strategies

If an abstract noun would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here is another option:

(1) Reword the sentence with a phrase that expresses the meaning of the abstract noun. Instead of a noun, the new phrase will use a verb, an adverb, or an adjective to express the idea of the abstract noun.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Reword the sentence with a phrase that expresses the meaning of the abstract noun. Instead of a noun, the new phrase will use a verb, an adverb, or an adjective to express the idea of the abstract noun. Alternative translations are indented below the Scripture example.

... from childhood you have known the sacred writings ... (2 Timothy 3:15a ULT)

Ever since you were a child you have known the sacred writings.

But godliness with contentment is great gain. (1 Timothy 6:6 ULT)

But being godly and content is very beneficial. But we benefit greatly when we are godly and content. But we benefit greatly when we honor and obey God and when we are happy with what we have.

Today salvation has come to this house, because he too is a son of Abraham. (Luke 19:9 ULT)

Today the people in this house have been saved ... Today God has saved the people in this house ...

The Lord does not move slowly concerning his promises, as some consider slowness to be. (2 Peter 3:9a ULT)

The Lord does not move slowly concerning his promises, as some consider moving slowly to be.

He will bring to light the hidden things of darkness and reveal the things that people want to do and the reasons that they want to do them.

Active or Passive

Some languages use both active and passive sentences. In active sentences, the subject does the action. In passive sentences, the subject is the one that receives the action. Here are some examples with their subjects bolded:

- Active: My father built the house in 2010.
- Passive: The house was built in 2010.

Translators whose languages do not use passive sentences will need to know how they can translate passive sentences that they find in the Bible. Other translators will need to decide when to use a passive sentence and when to use the active form.

This page answers the question: What do active and passive mean, and how do I translate passive sentences?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentences\]\]](#)

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-verbs\]\]](#)

Description

Some languages have both active and passive forms of sentences.

- In the active form, the subject does the action and is always mentioned.
- In the passive form, the action is done to the subject, and the one who does the action is not always mentioned.

In the examples of active and passive sentences below, we have bolded the subject.

- active: My father built the house in 2010.
- passive: The house was built by my father in 2010.
- passive: The house was built in 2010. (This does not tell who did the action.)

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

All languages use active forms. Some languages use passive forms, and some do not. Some languages use passive forms only for certain purposes, and the passive form is not used for the same purposes in all of the languages that use it.

Purposes for the Passive

- The speaker is talking about the person or thing the action was done to, not about the person who did the action.
- The speaker does not want to tell who did the action.
- The speaker does not know who did the action.

Translation Principles Regarding the Passive

- Translators whose language does not use passive forms will need to find another way to express the idea.
- Translators whose language has passive forms will need to understand why the passive is used in a particular sentence in the Bible and decide whether or not to use a passive form for that purpose in his translation of the sentence.

Examples From the Bible

Then their shooters shot at your soldiers from off the wall, and some of the king's servants were killed, and your servant Uriah the Hittite was killed too. (2 Samuel 11:24 ULT)

This means that the enemy's shooters shot and killed some of the king's servants, including Uriah. The point is what happened to the king's servants and Uriah, not who shot them. The purpose of the passive form here is to keep the focus on the king's servants and Uriah.

When the men of the city arose early in the morning, and see, the altar of Baal was torn down. (Judges 6:28a ULT)

The men of the town saw what had happened to the altar of Baal, but they did not know who broke it down. The purpose of the passive form here is to communicate this event from the perspective of the men of the town.

It would be better for him if a millstone were put around his neck and he were thrown into the sea. (Luke 17:2a ULT)

This describes a situation in which a person ends up in the sea with a millstone around his neck. The purpose of the passive form here is to keep the focus on what happens to this person. Who does these things to the person is not important.

Translation Strategies

If your language would use a passive form for the same purpose as in the passage that you are translating, then use a passive form. If you decide that it is better to translate without a passive form, here are some strategies that you might consider.

- (1) Use the same verb in an active sentence and tell who or what did the action. If you do this, try to keep the focus on the person receiving the action.
- (2) Use the same verb in an active sentence, and do not tell who or what did the action. Instead, use a generic expression like "they" or "people" or "someone."
- (3) Use a different verb.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Use the same verb in an active sentence and tell who did the action. If you do this, try to keep the focus on the person receiving the action.

A loaf of bread was given him every day from the street of the bakers. (Jeremiah 37:21b ULT)

The king's servants gave Jeremiah a loaf of bread every day from the street of the bakers.

- (2) Use the same verb in an active sentence, and do not tell who did the action. Instead, use a generic expression like "they" or "people" or "someone."

It would be better for him if a millstone were put around his neck and he were thrown into the sea. (Luke 17:2a ULT)

It would be better for him if they were to put a millstone around his neck and throw him into the sea.

It would be better for him if someone were to put a heavy stone around his neck and throw him into the sea.

- (3) Use a different verb in an active sentence.

A loaf of bread was given him every day from the street of the bakers. (Jeremiah 37:21 ULT)

He received a loaf of bread every day from the street of the bakers.

Aside

Description

An aside is a figure of speech in which someone who is speaking to a person or group pauses to speak confidentially to himself or someone else about those to whom he had been speaking. The speaker does this to indicate in a strong way his thoughts or feelings about that person or group.

This page answers the question: What is the figure of speech called an "aside"?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Many languages do not use asides, and readers could be confused by them. They may wonder why the speaker suddenly starts talking to himself or someone else about the people he is speaking with.

Examples From the Bible

All the men of your covenant are sending you away as far as the border.
The men of your peace are deceiving you and are prevailing against you.
They of your bread will set a trap under you.

There is no understanding in him. (Obadiah 1:7 ULT)

In the first three lines, Yahweh is telling the people of Edom what will happen to them because they did not help the people of Judah. In the fourth line, Yahweh says something about Edom to himself.

And I purified them from everything foreign. And I caused the service watches to stand: for the priests and for the Levites, a man in his work; and for the offering of pieces of wood at the appointed times; and for the firstfruits. Remember me, my God, for good. (Nehemiah 13:30-31 ULT)

Nehemiah is speaking to the readers of his account and describing some of the many things he did to restore true worship in Judah after the people returned from exile. But he suddenly turns aside and addresses God, asking God to bless him for what he, Nehemiah, has done for those people.

Translation Strategies

(1) If an aside would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. But if this way of speaking would be confusing, let the speaker continue speaking to the people who are listening to him, but make clear that he is now expressing his thoughts and feelings about them.

(2) If a person speaks a prayer to God as an aside, you can put the prayer in quotation marks to indicate that.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1)

All the men of your covenant are sending you away as far as the border.
The men of your peace are deceiving you and are prevailing against you.
They of your bread will set a trap under you.

There is no understanding in him. (Obadiah 1:7 ULT)

All the men of your covenant are sending you away as far as the border.
The men of your peace are deceiving you and are prevailing against you.
They of your bread will set a trap under you.

You do not understand any of this.

(2)

Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Assumed knowledge is whatever a speaker assumes his audience knows before he speaks and gives them some kind of information. The speaker does not give the audience this information because he believes that they already know it.

This page answers the question: How can I be sure that my translation communicates the assumed knowledge and implicit information along with the explicit information of the original message?

When the speaker does give the audience information, he can do so in two ways. The speaker gives explicit information in what he states directly. Implicit Information is what the speaker does not state directly because he expects his audience to be able to learn it from other things he says.

Description

When someone speaks or writes, he has something specific that he wants people to know or do or think about. He normally states this directly. This is explicit information.

The speaker assumes that his audience already knows certain things that they will need to think about in order to understand this information. Normally he does not tell people these things, because they already know them. This is called assumed knowledge.

The speaker does not always directly state everything that he expects his audience to learn from what he says. Implicit information is information that he expects people to learn from what he says even though he does not state it directly.

Often, the audience understands this implicit information by combining what they already know (assumed knowledge) with the explicit information that the speaker tells them directly.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

All three kinds of information are part of the speaker's message. If one of these kinds of information is missing, then the audience will not understand the message. Because the target translation is in a language that is very different from the biblical languages and is made for an audience that lives in a very different time and place than the people in the Bible, many times the assumed knowledge or the implicit information is missing from the message. In other words, modern readers do not know everything that the original speakers and hearers in the Bible knew. When these things are important for understanding the message, it is helpful if you include this information in the text or in a footnote.

Examples From the Bible

Then a scribe came to him and said, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go." Jesus said to him, "Foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head." (Matthew 8:19-20 ULT)

Jesus did not say what foxes and birds use holes and nests for, because he assumed that the scribe would have known that foxes sleep in holes in the ground and birds sleep in their nests. This is assumed knowledge.

Jesus did not directly say here "I am the Son of Man" but, if the scribe did not already know it, then that fact would be implicit information that he could learn because Jesus referred to himself that way. Also, Jesus did not state explicitly that he travelled a lot and did not have a house that he slept in every night. That is implicit information that the scribe could learn when Jesus said that he had nowhere to lay his head.

Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! If the mighty deeds had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. But

I say to you, it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment than for you.
(Matthew 11:21-22 ULT)

Jesus assumed that the people he was speaking to knew that Tyre and Sidon were very wicked, and that the day of judgment is a time when God will judge every person. Jesus also knew that the people he was talking to believed that they were good and did not need to repent. Jesus did not need to tell them these things. This is all assumed knowledge.

An important piece of implicit information here is that the people he was speaking to would be judged more severely than the people of Tyre and Sidon would be judged because they did not repent.

Why do your disciples violate the traditions of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread. (Matthew 15:2 ULT)

One of the traditions of the elders was a ceremony in which people would wash their hands in order to be ritually clean before eating. People thought that in order to be righteous, they had to follow all the traditions of the elders. This was assumed knowledge that the Pharisees who were speaking to Jesus expected him to know. By saying this, they were accusing his disciples of not following the traditions, and thus not being righteous. This is implicit information that they wanted him to understand from what they said.

Translation Strategies

If readers have enough assumed knowledge to be able to understand the message, along with any important implicit information that goes with the explicit information, then it is good to leave that knowledge unstated and leave the implicit information implicit. If the readers do not understand the message because one of these is missing for them, then follow these strategies:

(1) If readers cannot understand the message because they do not have certain assumed knowledge, then provide that knowledge as explicit information.

(2) If readers cannot understand the message because they do not know certain implicit information, then state that information clearly, but try to do it in a way that does not imply that the information was new to the original audience.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If readers cannot understand the message because they do not have certain assumed knowledge, then provide that knowledge as explicit information.

Jesus said to him, "Foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head." (Matthew 8:20 ULT)

The assumed knowledge was that the foxes slept in their holes and birds slept in their nests.

Jesus said to him, "Foxes have holes to live in, and the birds of the sky have nests to live in, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head and sleep."

It will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment than for you (Matthew 11:22 ULT)

The assumed knowledge was that the people of Tyre and Sidon were very, very wicked. This can be stated explicitly.
>

At the day of judgment, it will be more tolerable for those cities of Tyre and Sidon, whose people were very wicked, than it will be for you. or At the day of judgment, It will be more tolerable for those wicked cities, Tyre and Sidon, than for you.

Why do your disciples violate the traditions of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread. (Matthew 15:2 ULT)

The assumed knowledge was that one of the traditions of the elders was a ceremony in which people would wash their hands in order to be ritually clean before eating, which they must do to be righteous. It was not to remove germs from their hands to avoid sickness, as a modern reader might think.

Why do your disciples violate the traditions of the elders? For they do not go through the ceremonial handwashing ritual of righteousness when they eat bread.

(2) If readers cannot understand the message because they do not know certain implicit information, then state that information clearly, but try to do it in a way that does not imply that the information was new to the original audience.

Then a scribe came to him and said, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go." Jesus said to him, "Foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head." (Matthew 8:19-20 ULT)

The implicit information is that Jesus himself is the Son of Man. Other implicit information is that if the scribe wanted to follow Jesus, then, like Jesus, he would have to live without a house.

Jesus said to him, "Foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but I, the Son of Man, have no home to rest in. If you want to follow me, you will live as I live."

It will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment than for you (Matthew 11:22 ULT)

The implicit information is that God would not only judge the people; he would punish them. This can be made explicit.

At the day of judgment, God will punish Tyre and Sidon, cities whose people were very wicked, less severely than he will punish you.
or:
At the day of judgment, God will punish you more severely than Tyre and Sidon, cities whose people were very wicked.

Modern readers may not know some of the things that the people in the Bible and the people who first read it knew. This can make it hard for them to understand what a speaker or writer says, and to learn things that the speaker left implicit. Translators may need to state some things explicitly in the translation that the original speaker or writer left unstated or implicit.

Background Information

Description

When people tell a story, they normally tell the events in the order that they happened. This sequence of events makes up the storyline. The storyline is full of action verbs that move the story along in time. But sometimes a writer may take a break from the storyline and give some information to help his listeners understand the story better. This type of information is called background information. The background information might be about things that happened before the events he has already told about, or it might explain something in the story, or it might be about something that would happen much later in the story.

This page answers the question: What is background information, and how can I show that some information is background information?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-events]]
[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/writing-intro]]

Example — The bolded phrases in the story below are all background information.

Peter and John went on a hunting trip because their village was going to have a feast the next day. Peter was the best hunter in the village. He once killed three wild pigs in one day! They walked for hours through low bushes until they heard a wild pig. The pig ran, but they managed to shoot the pig and kill it. Then they tied up its legs with some rope they had brought with them and carried it home on a pole. When they brought it to the village, Peter's cousin saw the pig and realized that it was his own pig. Peter had mistakenly killed his cousin's pig.

Background information often tells about something that had happened earlier or something that would happen much later. Examples of these are: "their village was going to have a feast the next day," "He once killed three wild pigs in one day," and "that they had brought with them."

Often background information uses "be" verbs like "was" and "were," rather than action verbs. Examples of these are "their village was going to have a feast the next day," and "Peter was the best hunter in the village."

Background information can also be marked with words that tell the reader that this information is not part of the event line of the story. In this story, some of these words are "because," "once," and "had."

A writer may use background information:

- to help their listeners be interested in the story
- to help their listeners understand something in the story
- to help the listeners understand why something is important in the story
- to tell the setting of a story
 - > * Setting includes:
 - > * where the story takes place
 - > * when the story takes place
 - > * who is present when the story begins
 - > * what is happening when the story begins

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Languages have different ways of marking background information and storyline information.
- You (the translator) need to know the order of the events in the Bible, which information is background information, and which is storyline information.
- You will need to translate the story in a way that marks the background information in a way that your own readers will understand the order of events, which information is background information, and which is storyline information.

Examples From the Bible

Hagar gave birth to Abram's son, and Abram named his son, whom Hagar bore, Ishmael. Abram was 86 years old when Hagar bore Ishmael to Abram. (Genesis 16:15-16 ULT)

The first sentence tells about two events. Hagar gave birth and Abraham named his son. The second sentence is background information about how old Abram was when those things happened.

And Jesus himself was beginning about 30 years old. He was the son (as it was assumed) of Joseph, of Heli, (Luke 3:23 ULT)

The verses before this tell about when Jesus was baptized. This sentence introduces background information about Jesus' age and ancestors. The story resumes in chapter 4 where it tells about Jesus going to the wilderness.

Then it happened on a Sabbath that he was going through the grain fields, and his disciples were picking and eating the heads of grain, rubbing them in their hands. But some of the Pharisees said ... (Luke 6:1-2a ULT)

These verses give the setting of the story. The events took place in a grain field on the Sabbath day. Jesus, his disciples, and some Pharisees were there, and Jesus' disciples were picking heads of grain and eating them. The main action in the story starts with the phrase, "But some of the Pharisees said"

Translation Strategies

To keep translations clear and natural you will need to study how people tell stories in your language. Observe how your language marks background information. You may need to write down some stories in order to study this. Observe what kinds of verbs your language uses for background information and what kinds of words or other markers signal that something is background information. Do these same things when you translate, so that your translation is clear and natural and people can understand it easily.

- (1) Use your language's way of showing that certain information is background information.
- (2) Reorder the information so that earlier events are mentioned first. (This is not always possible when the background information is very long.)

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Use your language's way of showing that certain information is background information. The examples below explain how this was done in the ULT English translations.

And Jesus himself was beginning about 30 years old. He was the son (as it was assumed) of Joseph, of Heli. (Luke 3:23 ULT)

As here, English sometimes uses the word "and" to show that there is some kind of change in the story. The verb "was" shows that it is background information.

Therefore, also exhorting many other things, he preached the good news to the people. But Herod the tetrarch, having been rebuked by him concerning Herodias, the wife of his brother, and concerning all the evil things that Herod had done, added even this to them all: He locked John up in prison. (Luke 3:18-20 ULT)

The bolded phrase happened before John rebuked Herod. In English, the helping verb "had" in "had done" shows that Herod did those things before John rebuked him.

- (2) Reorder the information so that earlier events are mentioned first.

Hagar gave birth to Abram's son, and Abram named his son, whom Hagar bore, Ishmael.
Abram was 86 years old when Hagar bore Ishmael to Abram. (Genesis 16:16 ULT)

"When Abram was 86 years old, Hagar gave birth to his son, and Abram named his son Ishmael."

Therefore, also exhorting many other things, he preached the good news to the people. But Herod the tetrarch, having been rebuked by him concerning Herodias, the wife of his brother, and concerning all the evil things that Herod had done, added even this to them all: He locked John up in prison. (Luke 3:18-20 ULT)

The translation below reorders John's rebuke and Herod's actions.

"Now Herod the tetrarch married his brother's wife, Herodias, and he did many other evil things, so John rebuked him. But then Herod did another very evil thing. He had John locked up in prison."

Biblical Distance

Description

The following terms are the most common measures for distance or length that were originally used in the Bible. Most of these are based on the sizes of the hand and forearm.

- The handbreadth was the width of the palm of a man’s hand.
- The span or handspan was the width of a man’s hand with the fingers spread out.
- The cubit was the length of a man’s forearm, from the elbow to the tip of the longest finger.
- The “long” cubit is used only in Ezekiel 40-48. It is the length of a normal cubit plus a span.
- The stadium (plural, stadia) referred to a certain footrace that was about 185 meters in length. Some older English versions translated this word as “furlong,” which referred to the average length of a plowed field.

This page answers the question: How can I translate the lengths and distances that are in the Bible?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/translate-decimal\]\]](#)
Fractions

The metric values in the table below are close but not exactly equal to the biblical measures. The biblical measures probably differed in exact length from time to time and place to place. The equivalents below are an attempt to give an average measurement.

Original Measure	Metric Measure
handbreadth	8 centimeters
span	23 centimeters
cubit	46 centimeters
“long” cubit	54 centimeters
stadia	185 meters

Translation Principles

The people in the Bible did not use modern measures such as meters, liters, and kilograms. Using the original measures can help readers know that the Bible really was written long ago in a time when people used those measures.

Using modern measures can help readers understand the text more easily.

Whatever measure you use, it would be good, if possible, to tell about the other kind of measure in the text or a footnote.

If you do not use the Biblical measures, try not to give the readers the idea that the measurements are exact. For example, if you translate one cubit as “.46 meters” or even as “46 centimeters,” readers might think that the measurement is exact. It would be better to say “half a meter,” “45 centimeters,” or “50 centimeters.”

Sometimes it can be helpful to use the word “about” to show that a measurement is not exact. For example, Luke 24:13 says that Emmaus was 60 stadia from Jerusalem. This can be translated as “about ten kilometers” from Jerusalem.

When God tells people how long something should be, and when people make things according to those lengths, do not use “about” in the translation. Otherwise it will give the impression that God did not care exactly how long something should be.

Translation Strategies

- (1) Use the measurements from the ULT. These are the same kinds of measurements that the original writers used. Spell them in a way that is similar to the way they sound or are spelled in the ULT. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)
- (2) Use the metric measurements given in the UST. The translators of the UST have already figured how to represent the amounts in the metric system.
- (3) Use measurements that are already used in your language. In order to do this you would need to know how your measurements relate to the metric system and figure out each measurement.
- (4) Use the measurements from the ULT and include measurements that your people know in the text or a note.
- (5) Use measurements that your people know, and include the measurements from the ULT in the text or in a note.

Translation Strategies Applied

The strategies are all applied to Exodus 25:10 below.

They are to make an ark of acacia wood. Its length must be two and a half cubits; its width will be one cubit and a half; and its height will be one cubit and a half. (Exodus 25:10 ULT)

- (1) Use the measurements given in the ULT. These are the same kinds of measurements that the original writers used. Spell them in a way that is similar to the way they sound or are spelled in the ULT. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)

“They are to make an ark of acacia wood. Its length must be two and a half kubits; its width will be one kubit and a half; and its height will be one kubit and a half.”

- (2) Use the metric measurements given in the UST. The translators of the UST have already figured how to represent the amounts in the metric system.

“They are to make an ark of acacia wood. Its length must be one meter; its width will be two thirds of a meter; and its height will be two thirds of a meter.”

- (3) Use measurements that are already used in your language. In order to do this you would need to know how your measurements relate to the metric system and figure out each measurement. For example, if you measure things using the standard meter length, you could translate it as below.

“They are to make an ark of acacia wood. Its length must be one meter; its width will be two thirds of a meter; and its height will be two thirds of a meter.”

- (4) Use the measurements from the ULT and include measurements that your people know in the text or a note. The following shows both measurements in the text.

“They are to make an ark of acacia wood. Its length must be two and a half cubits (one meter); its width will be one cubit and a half (two thirds of a meter); and its height will be one cubit and a half (two thirds of a meter).”

- (5) Use measurements that your people know, and include the measurements from the ULT in the text or in a note. The following shows the ULT measurements in notes.

“They are to make an ark of acacia wood. Its length must be one meter; ¹ its width will be two thirds of a meter; ² and its height will be two thirds of a meter.”

The footnotes would look like:

“They are to make an ark of acacia wood. Its length must be one meter; ¹ its width will be two thirds of a meter; ² and its height will be two thirds of a meter.”

The footnotes would look like:

Biblical Money

Description

This page answers the question: How can I translate the values of money in the Bible?

In early Old Testament times, people weighed their metals, such as silver and gold, and would pay a certain weight of that metal in order to buy things. Later, people started to make coins that each contained a standard amount of a certain metal. The daric is one such coin. In New Testament times, people used silver and copper coins.

The two tables below show some of the most well-known units of money found in the Old Testament (OT) and New Testament (NT). The table for Old Testament units shows what kind of metal was used and how much it weighed. The table for New Testament units shows what kind of metal was used and how much it was worth in terms of a day's wage.

Unit in OT	Metal	Weight
daric	gold coin	8.4 grams
shekel	various metals	11 grams
talent	various metals	33 kilograms

Unit in NT	Metal	Day's Wage
denarius/denarii	silver coin	1 day
drachma	silver coin	1 day
mite	copper coin	1/64 day
shekel	silver coin	4 days
talent	silver	6,000 days

Translation Principle

Do not use modern money values since these change from year to year. Using them will cause the Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate.

Translation Strategies

The value of most money in the Old Testament was based on its weight. So when translating these weights in the Old Testament, see Biblical Weight. The strategies below are for translating the value of money in the New Testament.

- (1) Use the Bible term and spell it in a way that is similar to the way it sounds. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)
- (2) Describe the value of the money in terms of what kind of metal it was made of and how many coins were used.
- (3) Describe the value of the money in terms of what people in Bible times could earn in one day of work.
- (4) Use the biblical term and give the equivalent amount in the text or a footnote.

(5) Use the biblical term and explain it in a footnote.

Translation Strategies Applied

The translations strategies are all applied to Luke 7:41 below.

█ The one owed 500 denarii, and the other, 50. (Luke 7:41b ULT)

Use the Bible term and spell it in a way that is similar to the way it sounds. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)

█ "The one owed 500 denali, and the other, 50."

Describe the value of the money in terms of what kind of metal it was made of and how many pieces or coins were used.

█ "The one owed 500 silver coins, and the other, 50."

(3) Describe the value of the money in terms of what people in Bible times could earn in one day of work.

█ "The one owed 500 days' wages, and the other, 50."

(4) Use the Bible term and give the equivalent amount in the text or a footnote.

█ "The one owed 500 denarii 1, and the other owed 50 denarii. 2"

The footnotes would look like:

█ [1] 500 days' wages [2] 50 days' wages

(5) Use the Bible term and explain it in a footnote.

█ "The one owed 500 denarii,¹ and the other, 50." (Luke 7:41 ULT)

█ ^[1] A denarius was the amount of silver that people could earn in one day of work.

Biblical Volume

Description

The following terms are the most common units of volume used in the Bible to state how much a certain container could hold. The containers and measurements are given for both liquids (such as wine) and dry solids (such as grain). The metric values are not exactly equal to the biblical measures. The biblical measures probably differed in exact amount from time to time and place to place. The equivalents below are an attempt to give an average measurement.

This page answers the question: How can I translate the measures of volume that are in the Bible?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Type	Original Measure	Liters
Dry	omer	2 liters
Dry	ephah	22 liters
Dry	homer	220 liters
Dry	cor	220 liters
Dry	seah	7.7 liters
Dry	lethek	114.8 liters
Liquid	metrete	40 liters
Liquid	bath	22 liters
Liquid	hin	3.7 liters
Liquid	kab	1.23 liters
Liquid	log	0.31 liters

Translation Principles

- The people in the Bible did not use modern measures such as meters, liters, and kilograms. Using the original measures can help readers know that the Bible really was written long ago in a time when people used those measures.
- Using modern measures can help readers understand the text more easily.
- Whatever measures you use, it would be good, if possible, to tell about the other kinds of measures in the text or a footnote.
- If you do not use the biblical measures, try not to give the readers the idea that the measurements are exact. For example, if you translate one hin as “3.7 liters,” readers might think that the measurement is exactly 3.7 liters, not 3.6 or 3.8. It would be better to use a more approximate measure such as “three and a half liters” or “four liters.”
- When God tells people how much of something to use, and when people use those amounts in obedience to him, do not say “about” in the translation. Otherwise it will give the impression that God did not care exactly how much they used.

When the unit of measure is stated

Translation Strategies

- (1) Use the measurements from the ULT. These are the same kinds of measurements that the original writers used. Spell them in a way that is similar to the way they sound or are spelled in the ULT. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)
- (2) Use the metric measurements given in the UST. The translators of the UST have already figured how to represent the amounts in the metric system.
- (3) Use measurements that are already used in your language. In order to do this you would need to know how your measurements relate to the metric system and figure out each measurement.
- (4) Use the measurements from the ULT and include measurements that your people know in the text or a note.
- (5) Use measurements that your people know, and include the measurements from the ULT in the text or in a note.

Translation Strategies Applied

The strategies are all applied to Isaiah 5:10 below.

For a ten-yoke vineyard will yield only one bath, and one homer of seed will yield only an ephah. (Isaiah 5:10 ULT)

- (1) Use the measurements from the ULT. These are the same kinds of measurements that the original writers used. Spell them in a way that is similar to the way they sound or are spelled in the ULT. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)

“For a ten-yoke vineyard will yield only one bat, and one homer of seed will yield only an efa.”

- (2) Use the measurements given in the UST. Usually they are metric measurements. The translators of the UST have already figured how to represent the amounts in the metric system.

“For a ten-yoke vineyard will yield only 22 liters and 220 liters of seed will yield only 22 liters.”

“For a ten-yoke vineyard will yield only 22, and ten baskets of seed will yield only one basket.”

- (3) Use measurements that are already used in your language. In order to do this you would need to know how your measurements relate to the metric system and figure out each measurement.

“For a ten-yoke vineyard will yield only six gallons, and six and a half bushels of seed will yield only 20 quarts.”

- (4) Use the measurements from the ULT and include measurements that your people know in the text or a note. The following shows both measurements in the text.

“For a ten-yoke vineyard will yield only one bath (six gallons), and one homer (six and a half bushels) of seed will yield only an ephah (20 quarts).”

- (5) Use measurements that your people know, and include the measurements from the ULT in the text or in a note. The following shows the ULT measurements in footnotes.

“For a ten-yoke vineyard will yield only 22 liters¹, and 220 liters² of seed will yield only 22 liters³.”

The footnotes would look like:

[1] one bath
[2] one homer
[3] one ephah

When the unit of measure is implied

Sometimes the Hebrew does not specify a particular unit of volume but only uses a number. In these cases, many English versions, including the ULT and UST, add the word “measure.”

When you came to a heap of 20 measures of grain, there were only ten, and when you came to the wine vat to draw out 50 measures of wine, there were only 20. (Haggai 2:16 ULT)

Translation Strategies

- (1) Translate literally by using the number without a unit.
- (2) Use a generic word like “measure” or “quantity” or “amount.”
- (3) Use the name of an appropriate container, such as “basket” for grain or “jar” for wine.
- (4) Use a unit of measure that you are already using in your translation.

Translation Strategies Applied

The strategies are all applied to Haggai 2:16 below.

When you came to a heap of 20 measures of grain, there were only ten, and when you came to the wine vat to draw out fifty measures of wine, there were only 20. (Haggai 2:16 ULT)

- (1) Translate literally by using the number without a unit.

When you came to a heap of 20 of grain, there were only ten, and when you came to the wine vat to draw out 50 of wine, there were only 20.

- (2) Use a generic word like “measure” or “quantity” or “amount.”

When you came to a heap of 20 amounts of grain, there were only ten, and when you came to the wine vat to draw out fifty amounts of wine, there were only 20.

- (3) Use the name of an appropriate container, such as “basket” for grain or “jar” for wine.

When you came to a heap of 20 baskets of grain, there were only ten, and when you came to the wine vat to draw out 50 jars of wine, there were only 20.

- (4) Use a unit of measure that you are already using in your translation.

When you came to a heap for 20 liters of grain, there were only ten liters, and when you came to the wine vat to draw out 50 liters of wine, there were only 20 liters.

Biblical Weight

Description

This page answers the question: How can I translate the values of weight in the Bible?

The following terms are the most common units of weight in the Bible. The term “shekel” means “weight,” and many other weights are described in terms of the shekel. Some of these weights were used for money. The metric values in the table below are not exactly equal to the biblical measures. The biblical measures differed in exact amount from time to time and place to place. The equivalents below are only an attempt to give an average measurement.

Original Measure	Shekels	Grams	Kilograms
shekel	1 shekel	11 grams	-
bekah	1/2 shekel	5.7 grams	-
pim	2/3 shekel	7.6 grams	-
gerah	1/20 shekel	0.57 grams	-
mina	50 shekels	550 grams	1/2 kilogram talent	3,000 shekels	-	34 kilograms

Translation Principles

The people in the Bible did not use modern measures such as meters, liters, and kilograms. Using the original measures can help readers know that the Bible really was written long ago in a time when people used those measures.

Using modern measures can help readers understand the text more easily.

Whatever measure you use, it would be good, if possible, to tell about the other kind of measure in the text or a footnote.

If you do not use the biblical measures, try not to give the readers the idea that the measurements are exact. For example, if you translate one gerah as “.57 grams,” readers might think that the measurement is exact. It would be better to say “half a gram.”

Sometimes it can be helpful to use the word “about” to show that a measurement is not exact. For example, 2 Samuel 21:16 says that Goliath’s spear weighed 300 shekels. Instead of translating this as “3300 grams” or “3.3 kilograms,” it can be translated as “about three and one half kilograms.”

When God tells people how much something should weigh, and when people use those weights, do not say “about” in the translation. Otherwise, it will give the impression that God did not care exactly how much the thing should weigh.

Translation Strategies

(1) Use the measurements from the ULT. These are the same kinds of measurements that the original writers used. Spell them in a way that is similar to the way they sound or are spelled in the ULT. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)

(2) Use the metric measurements given in the UST. The translators of the UST have already figured how to represent the amounts in the metric system.

(4) Use the measurements from the ULT and include measurements that your people know in the text or a note.

(5) Use measurements that your people know, and include the measurements from the ULT in the text or in a note.

Translation Strategies Applied

The strategies are all applied to Exodus 38:29 below.

█ The bronze from the wave offering weighed 70 talents and 2,400 shekels. (Exodus 38:29 ULT)

(1) Use the measurements from the ULT. These are the same kinds of measurements that the original writers used. Spell them in a way that is similar to the way they sound or are spelled in the ULT. (See Copy or Borrow Words.)

█ "The bronze from the wave offering weighed 70 talentes and 2,400 sekeles."

(2) Use the metric measurements given in the UST. The translators of the UST have already figured how to represent the amounts in the metric system.

Collective Nouns

Description

This page answers the question: What are collective nouns and how can I translate them?

A collective noun is a singular noun that refers to a group of something. Examples: a family, clan, or tribe is a group of people who are related to each other; a flock is a group of birds or sheep; a fleet is a group of ships; and an army is a group of soldiers.

Many collective nouns are used exclusively as a singular replacement for a group as in the examples above. Frequently in the Bible the name of an ancestor is used, through a process of metonymy, as a collective noun referencing the group of his descendants. In the Bible, sometimes the singular noun will take a singular verb form, other times it will take a plural verb form. This may depend on how the author is thinking about the group, or whether the action is being done as a group or as individuals.

Reason This is a Translation Issue

There are several issues that require care when translating collective nouns. Further care is needed because the language you are translating into may not use collective nouns in the same way as the language you are translating from. Issues include:

The source language may have a collective noun for a group that the target language does not and vice-versa. You may have to translate a collective noun with a plural noun in your language, or you may need to translate a plural noun with a collective noun in your language.

Subject-verb agreement. Different languages or dialects may have different rules about using singular or plural verbs with collective nouns.

Examples (from Wikipedia):

- a singular noun with a singular verb: The team is in the dressing room.
- a singular noun with a plural verb which is correct in British, but not American, English: The team are fighting among themselves. The team have finished the project.

Pronoun agreement. Similar to the previous, care needs to be taken to use the correct pronoun plurality and possibly gender or noun class to agree with the number/gender/class of the noun used. See the biblical examples below.

Clarity of referent. Especially if there is a mismatch in your translation between the verb and noun or pronoun concerning any of the factors above, readers may be confused about who or what is being referenced.

Examples from the Bible

And Joab and all the army which was with him arrived (2 Samuel 3:23a ULT)

The word in bold is written in singular form in both Hebrew and English, but it refers to a group of warriors that fight together.

and though the flock is cut off from the fold and there are no cattle in the stalls. (Habakkuk 3:17b ULT)

The word in bold is singular and refers to a group of sheep.

And he went out again beside the sea, and all the crowd was coming to him, and he was teaching them. (Mark 2:13 ULT)

Note in this example that the noun is singular but the pronoun is plural. This may or may not be allowed or natural in your language.

Do not let your heart be troubled. You believe in God; believe also in me. (John 14:1 ULT)

In this verse, the words translated “your” and “you” are plural, referring to many people. The word “heart” is singular in form, but it refers to all of their hearts as a group.

And he shall take the hair of the head of his separation. And he shall put it on the fire that is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings. (Num 6:18b ULT)

The word hair is singular, but it refers to many hairs, not just one.

And Pharaoh said, “Who is Yahweh that I should listen to his voice to let Israel go? I do not know Yahweh; and moreover, I will not let Israel go.” (Exodus 5:2 ULT)

Here, “Israel” is singular, but means “the Israelites” by metonymy.

Translation Strategies

If your language has a collective (singular) noun that refers to the same group as referenced by the collective noun in the source text, then translate the word using that term. If not, here are some strategies to consider:

- (1) Translate the collective noun with a plural noun.
- (2) Add a plural word to the collective noun so that you can use a plural verb and pronouns.
- (3) Use a phrase to describe the group that the collective noun references. A useful strategy here can be to use a general collective noun that refers to a group of people or things.
- (4) If your language uses a collective noun for something that is a plural noun in the source language, you can translate the plural noun as a collective noun and, if necessary, change the form of the verb and any pronouns so that they agree with the singular noun.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Translate the collective noun with a plural noun.

And Pharaoh said, “Who is Yahweh that I should listen to his voice to let Israel go? I do not know Yahweh; and moreover, I will not let Israel go.” (Exodus 5:2 ULT)

And Pharaoh said, “Who is Yahweh that I should listen to his voice to let the Israelites go? I do not know Yahweh; and moreover, I will not let the Israelites go.”

And he shall take the hair of the head of his separation. And he shall put it on the fire that is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings. (Num 6:18b ULT)

And he shall take the hairs of the head of his separation. And he shall put them on the fire that is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings.

- (2) Add a plural word to the collective noun so that you can use a plural verb and pronouns.

And Joab and all the army which was with him arrived (2 Samuel 3:23a ULT)

And Joab and all the army men who were with him arrived

And he went out again beside the sea, and all the crowd was coming to him, and he was teaching them. (Mark 2:13 ULT)

And he went out again beside the sea, and all the people of the crowd were coming to him, and he was teaching them.

(3) Use a phrase to describe the group that the collective noun references. A useful strategy here can be to use a general collective noun that refers to a group of people or things.

and though the flock is cut off from the fold and there are no cattle in the stalls. (Habakkuk 3:17b ULT) and though the group of sheep is cut off from the fold and there are no cattle in the stalls.

And Pharaoh said, "Who is Yahweh that I should listen to his voice to let Israel go? I do not know Yahweh; and moreover, I will not let Israel go." (Exodus 5:2 ULT)

And Pharaoh said, "Who is Yahweh that I should listen to his voice to let the people of Israel go? I do not know Yahweh; and moreover, I will not let the people of Israel go."

(4) If your language uses a collective noun for something that is a plural noun in the source language, you can translate the plural noun as a collective noun and, if necessary, change the form of the verb and any pronouns so that they agree with the singular noun.

Now this John had his clothing from the hairs of a camel and a leather belt around his waist (Matthew 3:4a ULT)

Now this John had his clothing from the hair of a camel and a leather belt around his waist

You shall not make for yourself a carved figure nor any likeness that {is} in the heavens above, or that {is} in the earth beneath, or that {is} in the waters under the earth. (Deuteronomy 5:8 ULT)

Connect — Background Information

Time Relationship

Some connectors establish time relationships between two phrases, clauses, sentences, or chunks of text.

This page answers the question: How can I translate clauses that give background information?

Background Clause

Description

A background clause is one that describes something that is ongoing. Then, in the same sentence, another clause indicates an event that begins to happen during that time. These events are also simultaneous events, but they have the further relationship of background event and main event because the event that is already happening serves as the background for the other event, the one that is in focus. The background event simply provides the time frame or other context for the main event or events.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Languages indicate a shift in time in different ways. You (the translator) need to understand how these shifts in time are indicated in the original languages in order to communicate them clearly in your own language. Background clauses often indicate a time that began long before the event that is in focus. Translators need to understand how both the source language and the target language communicate background events. Some English words that indicate background events are “now,” “when,” “while,” and “during.” Those words can also indicate simultaneous events. To tell the difference, ask yourself if all of the events seem to be equal in importance and started at about the same time. If so, they are probably simultaneous events. But if an event(s) is ongoing and another event(s) just started, then the ongoing event(s) is probably background to the other event(s). Some common phrases that indicate background events are “in those days” and “at that time.”

Examples From OBS and the Bible

When Solomon was old, he also worshiped their gods. (OBS Story 18 Frame 3)

Solomon began to worship foreign gods at a time when he was old. Being old is the background event. Worshiping other gods is the main event.

And his parents went every year to Jerusalem to the Feast of the Passover. And when he was 12 years old, they went up according to the custom of the feast. (Luke 2:41-42 ULT)

The first event—going to Jerusalem—is ongoing and started long ago. We know this because of the words “every year.” Going to Jerusalem is the background event. Then an event begins that started during the time “when he was twelve years old.” So the main event is the specific time Jesus and his family traveled to Jerusalem for the Passover festival when he was twelve years old.

And it came about that, while they were there, the days were fulfilled for her to give birth. (Luke 2:6 ULT)

Being in Bethlehem is the background event. The birth of the baby is the main event.

And in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar—while Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, and Herod was tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip was tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias was tetrarch of Abilene, during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas—the word of God came to John, the son of Zechariah, in the wilderness.

(Luke 3:1-2 ULT)

This example begins with five background clauses (marked by commas), signalled as background by the words “while” and “during.” Then the main event happens: “the word of God came to John.”

Translation Strategies

If the way that the Background Clauses are marked is also clear in your language, then translate the Background Clauses as they are.

(1) If the connecting word does not make it clear that what follows is a Background Clause, use a connecting word that communicates this more clearly.

(2) If your language marks Background Clauses in a different way than using connecting words (such as by using different verb forms), then use that way.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

And in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar—while Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, and Herod was tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip was tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias was tetrarch of Abilene, during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas—the word of God came to John, the son of Zechariah, in the wilderness.
(Luke 3:1-2 ULT)

(1) If the connecting word does not make it clear that what follows is a background clause, use a connecting word that communicates this more clearly.

It happened during the time that Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, and during the time that Herod was tetrarch of Galilee, and during the time that his brother Philip was tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and during the time that Lysanias was tetrarch of Abilene, and also during the time that Annas and Caiaphas were high priests—that the word of God came to John son of Zechariah in the wilderness.

(2) If your language marks background clauses in a different way than using connecting words, such as with different verb forms, then use that way.

Pontius Pilate was governing Judea, and Herod was ruling over Galilee, and his brother Philip was ruling over the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias was ruling over Abilene, and Annas and Caiaphas were being high priests—the word of God came to John son of Zechariah in the wilderness.

Example of Differences in Time Relationship Connecting Words:

Category	Example
Background setting	Yahweh's word was rare in those days ;
Background repeated	there was no frequent prophetic vision.
Introduction of main event	At that time, when Eli
Background	whose eyesight had begun to grow dim so that he could not see well,
Simultaneous background	was lying down in his own bed.
Simultaneous background	The lamp of God had not yet gone out,
Simultaneous background	and Samuel was lying down to sleep in the temple of Yahweh,
Simultaneous background	where the ark of God was.
Main event	Yahweh called to Samuel,
Sequential event	who said, "Here I am." (1 Sam 3:1-4 ULT)

In the above example, the first two lines talk about a condition that was going on for a long time. This is the general, long-term background. We know this from the phrase "in those days." After the introduction of the main event ("At that time,") there are several lines of simultaneous background. The first one is introduced by "when," and then three more follow, with the last connected by "and." The background clause introduced by "where" explains a little more about the background clause before it. Then the main event happens, followed by more events. Translators will need to think about the best way to show these relationships in their language.

Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions

Conditional Relationships

This page answers the question: How can I translate contrary-to-fact conditions?

Conditional connectors connect two clauses to indicate that one of them will happen when the other one happens. In English, the most common way to connect conditional clauses is with the words, “if ... then.” Often, however, the word “then” is not stated.

Contrary-to-Fact Conditions

Description

A Contrary-to-Fact Condition is a condition that sounds hypothetical, but the speaker is already certain that it is NOT true.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Usually there are no special words that indicate a Contrary-to-Fact Condition. The writer assumes that the reader knows that it is NOT a true condition. For this reason it often requires knowledge of implied information to know that it is not true. If this kind of condition is difficult for translators to communicate, they may want to consider using the same strategies that they used for Rhetorical Questions or Implied Information.

Examples From OBS and the Bible

But if Baal is God, worship him! (Story 19 Frame 6 OBS)

Elijah came near to all the people and said, “How long will you keep changing your mind? If Yahweh is God, follow him. But if Baal is God, then follow him.” Yet the people did not answer him a word. (1 Kings 18:21 ULT)

Baal is not God. Elijah is not suggesting that Baal might be God, and he does not want the people to follow Baal. But Elijah used a conditional statement to show them that what they were doing was wrong. In the example above, we see two conditions that have the same construction. The first one, “If Yahweh is God,” is a Factual Condition because Elijah is certain that it is true. The second one, “if Baal is God,” is a Contrary-to-Fact Condition because Elijah is certain that it is not true. You will need to consider if people would say both of these in the same way in your language or if they would say them in different ways.

But his wife replied to him, “If Yahweh had desired to kill us, he would not have taken from our hand the whole burnt offering and the offering. He would not have shown us all these things, and at this time would he have not allowed us to hear about this.” (Judges 13:23 ULT)

Manoah’s wife thinks that the second part of her conditional statement is not true, therefore the first part is also not true. God received their burnt offering; therefore, He does not want to kill them.

>

“If only we had died by Yahweh’s hand in the land of Egypt, sitting by a pot of meat and eating bread to the full.” (Exodus 16b:3 ULT)

Of course the people speaking here did not die in Egypt, and so this is a Contrary-to-Fact condition that is used to express a wish.

“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! If the mighty deeds had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.” (Matthew 11:21 ULT)

The English reader knows that these last two examples are Contrary-to-Fact conditions because of the past-tense verbs used in the first part (they are not things that might happen). The last example also has a second part that uses “would have.” These words also signal something that did not happen.

Translation Strategies

If Contrary-to-Fact conditions are clear in your language, then use them as they are.

- (1) If the condition leads the reader to think that the speaker believes something that is false, then restate the condition as something that others believe.
- (2) If the condition leads the reader to think that the speaker is suggesting that the first part is true, then restate it as a statement that it is not true.
- (3) If the condition is expressing something that did not happen but the speaker wanted it to happen, restate it as a wish.
- (4) If the condition is expressing something that did not happen, restate it as a negative statement.
- (5) Often Factual and Contrary-to-Fact conditions are used to make reasoned arguments for a change in behavior. If translators are struggling to know the best way to translate them, it could be helpful to discuss how this is done in their language community. If someone is trying to convince people to change their behavior, how do they do that? It may be possible to adapt similar strategies when translating these conditions.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) If the condition leads the reader to think that the speaker believes something that is false, then restate the condition as something that others believe.

But if Baal is God, worship him! (Story 19 Frame 6 OBS)

If you believe that Baal is God, then worship him!

- (2) If the condition leads the reader to think that the speaker is suggesting that the first part is true, then restate it as a statement that it is not true.

If Baal is not God, then you should not worship him!

But his wife replied to him, “If Yahweh had desired to kill us, he would not have taken from our hand the whole burnt offering and the offering. He would not have shown us all these things, and at this time would he have not allowed us to hear about this.” (Judges 13:23 ULT)

“Yahweh does not want to kill us, or he would not have received the burnt offering and the offering we gave him.”

- (3) If the condition is expressing something that did not happen but the speaker wanted it to happen, restate it as a wish.

“If only we had died by Yahweh’s hand in the land of Egypt, sitting by a pot of meat and eating bread to the full.” (Exodus 16b:3 ULT)

“I wish we had died by Yahweh’s hand in the land of Egypt...”

(4) If the condition is expressing something that did not happen, restate it as a negative statement.

“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! If the mighty deeds had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.” (Matthew 11:21 ULT)

“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! The mighty deeds which were done in you were not done in Tyre and Sidon. But if they had been done there, those people would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.”

(5) Often Factual and Contrary-to-Fact Conditions are used to make reasoned arguments for a change in behavior. If translators are struggling to know the best way to translate them, it could be helpful to discuss how this is done in their language community. If someone is trying to convince people to change their behavior, how do they do that? It may be possible to adapt similar strategies when translating these conditions.

But if Baal is God, worship him! (Story 19 Frame 6 OBS)

Is Baal the one who is truly God? Should you worship him?

“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! If the mighty deeds had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.” (Matthew 11:21 ULT)

“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! You think that you are better than Tyre and Sidon, but you are not! They would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes at seeing the mighty deeds that you have seen! You should be like them!”

Connect — Contrast Relationship

Logical Relationships

Some connectors establish logical relationships between two phrases, clauses, sentences, or chunks of text.

This page answers the question: How can I translate a contrast relationship?

Contrast Relationship

Description

A contrast relationship is a logical relationship in which one event or item is in contrast or opposition to another.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

In Scripture, many events did not happen as the people involved intended or expected them to happen. Sometimes people acted in ways that were not expected, whether good or bad. Often it was God at work, changing the events. These events were often pivotal. It is important that translators understand and communicate these contrasts. In English, contrast relationships are often indicated by the words “but,” “although,” “even though,” “though,” “yet,” or “however.”

Examples From OBS and the Bible

You tried to do evil when you sold me as a slave, but God used the evil for good! (Story 8 Frame 12 OBS)

Joseph’s brothers’ evil plan to sell Joseph is contrasted with God’s good plan to save many people. The word “but” marks the contrast.

For who is greater, the one who reclines at the table or the one who serves? Is it not the one who reclines at the table? Yet I am among you as one who serves. (Luke 22:27 ULT)

Jesus contrasts the proud way that human leaders behave with the humble way that he behaves. The contrast is marked by the word “yet.”

The hill country will also be yours. Though it is a forest, you will clear it and it will become yours to its farthest borders, for you will drive out the Canaanites, even though they have chariots of iron, and even though they are strong. (Joshua 17:18 ULT)

It was unexpected that the Israelites, who had been slaves in Egypt, would be able to conquer and lay claim to the promised land.

Translation Strategies

If your language uses contrast relationships in the same way as in the text, then use them as they are.

(1) If the contrast relationship between the clauses is not clear, then use a connecting word or phrase that is more specific or more clear.

(2) If it is more clear in your language to mark the other clause of the contrast relationship, then use a connecting word on the other clause.

(3) If your language shows a contrast relationship in a different way, then use that way.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If the contrast relationship between the clauses is not clear, then use a connecting word or phrase that is more specific or more clear.

For who is greater, the one who reclines at table or the one who serves? Is it not the one who reclines at table? Yet I am among you as one who serves. (Luke 22:27 ULT)

For who is greater, the one who reclines at table or the one who serves? Is it not the one who reclines at table? Unlike that person, I am among you as one who serves.

(2) If it is more clear in your language to mark the other clause of the contrast relationship, then use a connecting word on the other clause.

The hill country will also be yours. Though it is a forest, you will clear it and it will become yours to its farthest borders, for you will drive out the Canaanites, even though they have chariots of iron, and even though they are strong. (Joshua 17:18 ULT)

The hill country will also be yours. It is a forest, but you will clear it and it will become yours to its farthest borders. They have chariots of iron, and they are strong, but you will drive out the Canaanites.

(3) If your language shows a contrast relationship in a different way, then use that way.

[David] found favor in the sight of God, and he asked if he might find a dwelling place for the house of Jacob. However, Solomon built the house for him. But the Most High does not live in houses made with hands. (Acts 7:46-48a ULT)

[David] found favor in the sight of God, and he asked if he might find a dwelling place for the house of Jacob. But it was, Solomon, not David, who built the house for God. Even though Solomon built him a house, the Most High does not live in houses made with hands.

Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Logical Relationships

Some connectors establish logical relationships between two phrases, clauses, sentences, or chunks of text.

This page answers the question: How can I translate a goal (purpose) relationship?

Goal (or Purpose) Relationship

Description

A Goal Relationship is a logical relationship in which the second event is the purpose or goal of the first event. In order for something to be a goal relationship, someone must do the first event with the intention that it will cause the second event.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

In Scripture, the goal or purpose may be stated either first or second. But in some languages, the goal or purpose must always occur in the same position (either first or second) in order for that logical relationship to be understood. You (the translator) need to understand the relationship between the two parts and communicate those accurately in your language. This may require changing the order of the two events. It may also require specific words to indicate that one is the goal or purpose of the other. Words commonly used to indicate a goal relationship in English are “in order to,” “in order that” or “so that.” It is important that the translator recognize the words that signal a goal relationship and translate that relationship in a natural way.

Examples From OBS and the Bible

She became angry and falsely accused Joseph so that he was arrested and sent to prison.
(Story 8 Frame 5 OBS)

The goal or purpose of the woman’s false accusation was to get Joseph arrested and sent to prison.

Meanwhile Gideon, his son, was threshing out wheat at the winepress in order to hide from the presence of Midian. (Judges 6:11b ULT)

Here the prepositional phrase begins with “in order to.”

Now if I have found favor in your eyes, show me your ways so that I may know you and continue to find favor in your eyes. Remember that this nation is your people. (Exodus 33:13 ULT)

Moses wants God to show him God’s ways for the goal or purpose of Moses knowing God and continuing to find favor with God.

Even be sure to pull some out from the bundles for her and leave it for her to glean, and do not rebuke her! (Ruth 2:16 ULT)

The goal or purpose of Boaz instructing the men to pull out the grain from their bundles and leave it was for Ruth to gather (glean) it.

The shepherds said to each other, “Let us indeed go over as far as Bethlehem, and let us see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us.” (Luke 2:15 ULT)

The purpose of going to Bethlehem was to see the thing that had happened. Here the purpose is not marked and might be misunderstood.

“... if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments.” (Matthew 19:17b ULT)

The goal of keeping the commandments is to enter into life.

Do not turn from it to the right or to the left so that you may be wise in everything in which you walk. (Joshua 1:7c ULT)

The purpose of not turning away from the instructions that Moses gave to the Israelites was so that they would be wise.

But when the vine growers saw the son, they said among themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and take over his inheritance.’ So they took him, threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. (Matt 21:38-39 ULT)

The purpose of the vine growers killing the heir was so they could take his inheritance. They state both events as a plan, joining them only with “and.” Then the word “so” marks the reporting of the first event, but the second event (the goal or purpose) is not stated.

Translation Strategies

If your language uses Goal or Purpose relationships in the same way as in the text, then use them as they are.

- (1) If the construction of the Goal statement is unclear, change it to one that is more clear.
- (2) If the order of the statements makes the Goal statement unclear or confusing for the reader, then change the order.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) If the construction of the goal statement is unclear, change it to one that is more clear.

“Even be sure to pull some out from the bundles for her and leave it for her to glean, and do not rebuke her!” (Ruth 2:16 ULT)

“Even be sure to pull some out from the bundles for her and leave it so that she can glean it, and do not rebuke her!”

The shepherds said to each other, “Let us indeed go over as far as Bethlehem, and let us see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us.” (Luke 2:15 ULT)

The shepherds said to each other, “Let us indeed go over as far as Bethlehem so that we can see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us.”

- (2) If the order of the statements makes the goal statement unclear or confusing for the reader, then change the order.

“... if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments.” (Matthew 19:17bULT)

“... keep the commandments if you want to enter into life.” or: “... keep the commandments so that you can enter into life.”

But when the vine growers saw the son, they said among themselves, 'This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and take over his inheritance.' So they took him, threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. (Matt 21:38-39 ULT)

(1) and (2)

But when the vine growers saw the son, they said among themselves, 'This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and take over his inheritance.' So they took him, threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. (Matt 21:38-39 ULT)

Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

Conditional Relationships

This page answers the question: How can I translate hypothetical conditions?

Conditional connectors connect two clauses to indicate that one of them will happen when the other one happens. In English, the most common way to connect conditional clauses is with the words “if ... then.” Often, however, the word “then” is not stated.

Hypothetical Condition

Description

A Hypothetical Condition is a condition in which the second event (the “then” clause) will only take place if the first event (the “if” clause) takes place or is fulfilled in some way. Sometimes what takes place is dependent on the actions of other people.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

It is important that translators understand whether or not something is a Hypothetical Condition so that they translate it in the correct way. For example, some of God’s promises to Israel were conditional, based on whether or not Israel obeyed God. However, many of God’s promises to Israel were not conditional; God would keep these promises whether or not the Israelites obeyed. It is important that you (the translator) know the difference between these two types of promises and communicate each one accurately in your own language. Also, sometimes conditions are stated in an order different than the order in which they would happen. If the target language would state the clauses in a different order, then you will need to make that adjustment.

Examples From OBS and the Bible

God promised to bless the people and protect them, if they obeyed these laws. But he said he would punish them if they did not obey them (Story 13 Frame 7 OBS)

There are two hypothetical conditions in this frame. In both of these conditions, the first event (the “if clause”) is stated after the “then” clause. If this is unnatural or confusing, the clauses can be restated in the more natural order. The first hypothetical condition is: if the Israelites obeyed God, then God would bless and protect them. The second hypothetical condition is: if the Israelites did not obey God, then God would punish them.

If you do what is right, will you not be accepted? (Genesis 4:7a ULT)

If Cain does what is right, then he will be accepted. The only way for Cain to be accepted is by doing what is right.

... if this plan or this work is of men, it will be overthrown. But if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow them. (Acts 5:38b-39aULT)

There are two hypothetical conditions here: (1) If it is true that this plan is of men, then it will be overthrown; (2) If it is true that this plan is of God, then it cannot be overthrown.

Translation Strategies

- (1) If the order of clauses makes the hypothetical condition confusing, then change the order of the clauses.
- (2) If it is not clear where the second event is, mark that part with a word like “then.”

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If the order of clauses makes the hypothetical condition confusing, then change the order of the clauses.

God promised to bless the people and protect them if they obeyed these laws. But he said he would punish them if they did not obey them. (Story 13 Frame 7 OBS)

If the people obeyed these laws, God promised he would bless them and protect them. But if they did not obey these laws, God said that he would punish them.

(2) If it is not clear where the second event is, mark that part with a word like “then.”

God promised to bless the people and protect them, if they obeyed these laws. But he said he would punish them if they did not obey them. (Story 13 Frame 7 OBS)

If the people obeyed these laws, then God promised he would bless them and protect them. But if they did not obey these laws, then God said that he would punish them.

Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Logical Relationships

Some connectors establish logical relationships between two phrases, clauses, sentences, or chunks of text.

This page answers the question: How can I translate the reason-result relationship?

Reason-and-Result Relationships

Description

A reason-and-result relationship is a logical relationship in which one event is the reason or cause for another event. The second event, then, is the result of the first event.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

A reason-and-result relationship can look forward — “I did Y because I wanted X to happen.” But usually it is looking backward — “X happened, and so I did Y.” Also, it is possible to state the reason either before or after the result. Many languages have a preferred order for the reason and the result, and it will be confusing for the reader if they are in the opposite order. Common words used to indicate a reason-and-result relationship in English are “because,” “so,” “therefore,” and “for.” Some of these words can also be used to indicate a goal relationship, so translators need to be aware of the difference between a goal relationship and a reason-and-result relationship. It is necessary for translators to understand how the two events are connected, and then communicate them clearly in their language.

If the reason and result are stated in different verses, it is still possible to put them in a different order. If you change the order of the verses, then put the verse numbers together at the beginning of the group of verses that were rearranged like this: 1-2. This is called a Verse Bridge.

Examples From OBS and the Bible

The Jews were amazed, because Saul had tried to kill believers, and now he believed in Jesus!
(Story 46 Frame 6 OBS)

The reason is the change in Saul — that he had tried to kill people who believed in Jesus, and now he himself believed in Jesus. The result is that the Jews were amazed. “Because” connects the two ideas and indicates that what follows it is a reason.

Behold, a great storm arose on the sea, so that the boat was covered with the waves.
(Matthew 8:24a ULT)

The reason is the great storm, and the result is that the boat was covered with the waves. The two events are connected by “so that.” Notice that the term “so that” often indicates a goal relationship, but here the relationship is reason-and-result. This is because the sea cannot think and therefore does not have a goal.

God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because in it he rested from all his work which he had done in his creation. (Genesis 2:3 ULT)

The result is that God blessed and sanctified the seventh day. The reason is because he rested on the seventh day from his work.

“Blessed are the poor, for yours is the kingdom of God.” (Luke 6:20b ULT)

The result is that the poor are blessed. The reason is that the kingdom of God is theirs.

But he raised up in their place their sons that Joshua circumcised, being uncircumcised, because they had not been circumcised on the way. (Joshua 5:7 ULT)

The result is that Joshua circumcised the boys and men who had been born in the wilderness. The reason was that they had not been circumcised while they were journeying.

Translation Strategies

If your language uses reason-and-result relationships in the same way as in the text, then use them as they are.

- (1) If the order of the clauses is confusing for the reader, then change the order.
- (2) If the relationship between the clauses is not clear, then use a more clear connecting word.
- (3) If it is more clear to put a connecting word in the clause that does not have one, then do so.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because in it he rested from all his work which he had done in his creation. (Genesis 2:3 ULT)

(1) God rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had done in his creation. That is why he blessed the seventh day and sanctified it.

Blessed are the poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. (Luke 6:20 ULT)

- (1) The kingdom of God belongs to you who are poor. Therefore, the poor are blessed.
- (2) Blessed are the poor, because yours is the kingdom of God.
- (3) The reason that the poor are blessed is because yours is the kingdom of God.

Behold, a great storm arose on the sea, so that the boat was covered with the waves. (Matthew 8:24a ULT)

- (1) Behold, the boat was covered with the waves because a great storm arose on the sea.
- (2) Behold, a great storm arose on the sea, with the result that the boat was covered with the waves.
- (3) Behold, because a great storm arose on the sea, the boat was covered with the waves.

Since he was not able to find out anything for certain because of the noise, he ordered that he be brought into the fortress. (Acts 21:34b ULT)

- (1) The captain ordered that Paul be brought into the fortress, because he could not tell anything because of all the noise.
- (2) Because the captain could not tell anything because of all the noise, he ordered that Paul be brought into the fortress.
- (3) The captain could not tell anything because of all the noise, so he ordered that Paul be brought into the fortress.

Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

Time Relationships

Some connectors establish time relationships between two phrases, clauses, sentences, or chunks of text.

This page answers the question: How do I translate clauses with a sequential time relationship?

Sequential Clause

Description

A sequential clause is a time relation that connects two events in which one happens and then the other happens.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Languages indicate sequences of events in different ways; some use ordering, some use connecting words, some even use relative tense (Relative tense is a tense that refers to a time in relation to a reference point in the context.) Connecting words that may indicate sequence are words such as “then,” “later,” “after,” “afterward,” “before,” “first,” and “when.” Translators need to be certain that they communicate the order of the events in a way that is natural in their language. This may require ordering clauses differently than in the original languages.

Examples From OBS and the Bible

When Joseph came to his brothers, they kidnapped him and sold him to some slave traders. (OBS Story 8 Frame 2)

First Joseph came to his brothers, and then they kidnapped and sold him. We know this because of the connecting word “when.” The translator needs to decide the best way to communicate this sequence clearly and correctly.

It was as sweet as honey in my mouth, but after I ate it, my stomach became bitter. (Revelation 10:10b ULT)

The event of the first clause occurs first, and the event of the last clause occurs later. We know this because of the connecting word “after.” The translator needs to decide the best way to communicate this sequence clearly and correctly.

For before the child knows to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land whose two kings you dread will be desolate (Isaiah 7:16 ULT)

The event of the first clause occurs after the event of the second clause. First the land they dread will be desolate, and then the child will know to refuse evil and choose good. We know this because of the connecting word “before.” However, stating the clauses in this order may communicate the wrong order of events in your language. The translator may have to change the order so that the clauses come in the order that they happen. Or it may be possible to keep the order of the original language text and mark the ordering of sequence so that it is clear to the readers. You (the translator) need to decide the best way to communicate this sequence clearly and correctly.

Then Mary arose in those days and quickly went into the hill country, to a city of Judah, and she entered into the house of Zechariah and greeted Elizabeth. (Luke 1:39-40 ULT)

Here the general connector “and” connects four events. These are sequential events—each happens after the one before it. We know this because that is the only way that these events would happen. So in English, the general connector “and” is enough to make the sequence clear for events such as these. You will need to decide if this also communicates this sequence clearly and correctly in your language.

Translation Strategies

If the sequence of events is clear in your language, then translate the sequence as it is.

- (1) If the connecting word is not clear, use a connecting word that communicates the sequence more clearly.
- (2) If the clauses are in an order that makes the sequence unclear, put the clauses in an order that is more clear.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) If the connecting word is not clear, use a connecting word that communicates the sequence more clearly.

Then Mary arose in those days and quickly went into the hill country, to a city of Judah, and she entered into the house of Zechariah and greeted Elizabeth. (Luke 1:39-40 ULT)

Then Mary arose in those days. Then she quickly went into the hill country, to a city of Judah. Then she entered into the house of Zechariah, and then she greeted Elizabeth.

For before the child knows to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land whose two kings you dread will be desolate (Isaiah 7:16 ULT)

For the time will come when the child knows to refuse the evil and choose the good, but even before that time, the land whose two kings you dread will be desolate.

- (2) If the clauses are in an order that makes the sequence unclear, put the clauses in an order that is more clear.

For the land whose two kings you dread will be desolate before the child knows to refuse the evil and choose the good.

Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

Time Relationships

Some connectors establish time relationships between two phrases, clauses, sentences, or chunks of text.

This page answers the question: How can I translate clauses with a simultaneous time relationship?

Simultaneous Clause

Description

A simultaneous clause is a time relationship that connects two or more events that occur at the same time.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Languages indicate in many different ways that events occur simultaneously. These ways may vary based on whether or not something is causing the events to occur simultaneously. Connecting words that may indicate simultaneous events are words such as “while,” “as,” and “during.” Often the Bible does not state a relationship between the events but simply says they occurred at the same time. It is important that you (the translator) know when a time relationship is implied and when it is not implied so that you can communicate it clearly. A simultaneous clause communicates that events happened at the same time but it does not indicate that one event caused the other. That would be a reason-and-result relationship.

Examples From OBS and the Bible

Joseph served his master well, and God blessed Joseph. (OBS Story 8 Frame 4)

Two events happened while Joseph was a slave to a wealthy government official: Joseph served well, and God blessed Joseph. There is no indication of a reason-and-result (cause and effect) relationship between the two, or that the first event happened, and then the second event happened.

But in truth I say to you that there were many widows in Israel during the days of Elijah. (Luke 4:25b ULT)

The connecting word “during” tells us clearly that two things happened at the same time, but one event did not cause the other.

And the people were waiting for Zechariah, and they were wondering at his delaying in the temple. (Luke 1:21 ULT)

The people were both waiting and wondering at the same time. The general connector “and” indicates this.

While they were looking intensely into heaven as he was going up, suddenly, two men stood by them in white clothing. (Acts 1:10 ULT)

Three events happened at the same time — the disciples looking, Jesus going up, and two men standing. The connector words “while” and “as” tell us this.

Translation Strategies

If the way that the simultaneous clauses are marked also is clear in your language, then translate the simultaneous clauses as they are.

- (1) If the connecting word does not make it clear that the simultaneous clauses are happening at the same time, use a connecting word that communicates this more clearly.
- (2) If it is not clear which clause the simultaneous clause is connected to, and that they are happening at the same time, mark all of the clauses with a connecting word.
- (3) If your language marks events as simultaneous in a different way than using connecting words, then use that way.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

Below, each Bible verse will be restated in three different ways, according to the translation strategies in the list above. Each restatement will have the same number as the translation strategy that it is using.

And the people were waiting for Zechariah, and they were wondering at his delaying in the temple. (Luke 1:21 ULT)

- (1) Now while the people were waiting for Zechariah, they were wondering at his delaying in the temple.
- (2) Now while the people were waiting for Zechariah, they were also wondering at his delaying in the temple.
- (3) Now the people were waiting for Zechariah, wondering at his delaying in the temple.

While they were looking intently into heaven as he was going up, suddenly, two men stood by them in white clothing. (Acts 1:10 ULT)

- (1) And during the time they were looking intently into heaven while he was going up, suddenly, two men stood by them in white clothing.
- (2) And while they were looking intently into heaven as he was going up, suddenly, at that same time two men stood by them in white clothing.
- (3) They were looking intently into heaven; he was going up when they saw two men standing by them in white clothing.

Connecting Words and Phrases

Description

This page answers the question: How do connecting words work to join parts of the text in different ways?

As humans, we write our thoughts in phrases and sentences. We usually want to communicate a series of thoughts that are connected to each other in different ways. Connecting words and phrases show how these thoughts are related to each other. For example, we can show how the following thoughts are related by using the Connecting Words in bold type:

- It was raining, so I opened my umbrella.
- It was raining, but I did not have an umbrella. So I got very wet.

Connecting words or phrases can connect phrases or clauses within a sentence. They can connect sentences to each other. They can also connect entire chunks to one another in order to show how the chunk before relates to the chunk after the connecting word. Very often, the connecting words that connect entire chunks to one another are either conjunctions or adverbs.

It was raining, but I did not have an umbrella, so I got very wet.

Now I must change my clothes. Then I will drink a cup of hot tea and warm myself by the fire.

In the above example, the word now connects the two short chunks of text, showing the relationship between them. The speaker must change his clothes, drink hot tea, and warm himself because of something that happened earlier (that is, he got wet in the rain).

Sometimes people might not use a connecting word because they expect the context to help the readers understand the relationship between the thoughts. Some languages do not use connecting words as much as other languages do. They might say:

- It was raining. I did not have an umbrella. I got very wet.

You (the translator) will need to use the method that is most natural and clear in the target language. But in general, using connecting words whenever possible helps the reader to understand the ideas in the Bible most clearly.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- You need to understand the relationship between paragraphs, between sentences, and between parts of sentences in the Bible, and how connecting words and phrases can help you to understand the relationship between the thoughts that they are connecting.
- Each language has its own ways of showing how thoughts are related.
- You need to know how to help readers understand the relationship between the thoughts in a way that is natural in your language.

Translation Principles

- You need to translate in a way that readers can understand the same relationship between thoughts that the original readers would have understood.
- Whether or not a connecting word is used is not as important as readers being able to understand the relationship between the ideas.

The Different Types of Connections

Listed below are different types of connections between ideas or events. These different types of connections can be indicated by using different connecting words. When we write or translate something, it is important to use the right connecting word so that these connections are clear for the reader. If you would like additional information, simply click the colored, hyperlinked word to be directed to a page containing definitions and examples for each type of connection.

- Sequential Clause — a time relationship between two events in which one happens and then the other happens.
- Simultaneous Clause — a time relationship between two or more events that occur at the same time.
- Background Clause — a time relationship in which the first clause describes a long event that is happening at the time when the beginning of the second event happens, which is described in the second clause.
- Exceptional Relationship — one clause describes a group of people or items, and the other clause excludes one or more items or people from the group.
- Hypothetical Condition — the second event will only take place if the first one takes place. Sometimes what takes place is dependent on the actions of other people.
- Factual Condition — a connection that sounds hypothetical but is already certain or true, so that the condition is guaranteed to happen.
- Contrary-to-Fact Condition — a connection that sounds hypothetical but is already certain that it is not true. See also: Hypothetical Statements.
- Goal Relationship — a logical relationship in which the second event is the purpose or goal of the first.
- Reason and Result Relationship — a logical relationship in which one event is the reason for the other event, the result.
- Contrast Relationship — one item is being described as different or in opposition to another.

Examples from the Bible

I did not immediately consult with flesh and blood. I did not go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me. Instead, I went to Arabia and then returned to Damascus. Then after three years, I went up to Jerusalem to visit Cephas, and I stayed with him 15 days. (Galatians 1:16b-18 ULT)

The word “instead” introduces something that contrasts with what was said before. The contrast here is between what Paul did not do and what he did do. The word “then” introduces a sequence of events. It introduces something that Paul did after he returned to Damascus.

Therefore, whoever breaks the least one of these commandments and teaches others to do so will be called least in the kingdom of heaven. But whoever keeps them and teaches them, that one will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (Matthew 5:19 ULT)

The word “therefore” links this section with the section before it, signaling that the section that came before gave the reason for this section. “Therefore” usually links sections larger than one sentence. The word “and” links only two actions within the same sentence, that of breaking commandments and teaching others. In this verse the word “but” contrasts what one group of people will be called in God’s kingdom with what another group of people will be called.

We place nothing as a stumbling block in front of anyone, so that our ministry might not be discredited. Instead, we commend ourselves in everything as God’s servants. (2 Corinthians 6:3-4 ULT)

Here the words “so that” connect what follows as the reason for what came before; the reason that Paul does not place stumbling blocks is that he does not want his ministry brought into disrepute. “Instead” contrasts what Paul does (prove by his actions that he is God’s servant) with what he said he does not do (place stumbling blocks).

General Translation Strategies

See each type of Connecting Word above for specific strategies

If the way the relationship between thoughts is shown in the ULT would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, then consider using it. If not, here are some other options.

- (1) Use a connecting word (even if the ULT does not use one).
- (2) Do not use a connecting word if it would be strange to use one and people would understand the right relationship between the thoughts without it.
- (3) Use a different connecting word.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Use a connecting word (even if the ULT does not use one).

Jesus said to them, "Come follow me, and I will make you to become fishers of men." Then immediately they left the nets and followed him. (Mark 1:17-18 ULT)

They followed Jesus because he told them to. Some translators may want to mark this clause with the connecting word "so."

Jesus said to them, "Come follow me, and I will make you to become fishers of men." So, immediately they left the nets and followed him.

- (2) Do not use a connecting word if it would be odd to use one, and if people would understand the right relationship between the thoughts without it.

Therefore, whoever breaks the least one of these commandments and teaches others to do so will be called least in the kingdom of heaven. But whoever keeps them and teaches them, that one will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (Matthew 5:19 ULT)

Some languages would prefer not to use connecting words here because the meaning is clear without them and using them would be unnatural. They might translate like this:

Therefore, whoever breaks the least one of these commandments, teaching others to do so as well, will be called least in the kingdom of heaven. Whoever keeps them and teaches them, that one will be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

I did not immediately consult with flesh and blood. I did not go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me. Instead, I went to Arabia and then returned to Damascus. Then after three years, I went up to Jerusalem to visit Cephas, and I stayed with him 15 days. (Galatians 1:16b-18 ULT) (Galatians 1:16-18 ULT)

Some languages might not need the words "instead" or "then" here. They might translate like this:

I did not immediately consult with flesh and blood, nor did I go up to Jerusalem to those who had become apostles before me. I went to Arabia and then returned to Damascus. After three years I went up to Jerusalem to visit Cephas, and I stayed with him 15 days.

- (3) Use a different connecting word.

Therefore, whoever breaks the least one of these commandments and teaches others to do so will be called least in the kingdom of heaven. But whoever keeps them and teaches them, that one will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (Matthew 5:19 ULT)

Instead of a word like “therefore,” a language might need a phrase to indicate that there was a section before it that gave the reason for the section that follows. Also, the word “but” is used here because of the contrast between the two groups of people. But in some languages, the word “but” would show that what comes after it is surprising because of what came before it. So “and” might be clearer for those languages. They might translate like this:

Because of that, whoever breaks the least one of these commandments and teaches others to do so will be called least in the kingdom of heaven.
And whoever keeps them and teaches them, that one will be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

Copy or Borrow Words

Description

Sometimes the Bible includes things that are not part of your culture and for which your language may not have a word. The Bible also includes people and places for which you may not have names.

When that happens you can “borrow” the word from the Bible in a familiar language and use it in your translation in your own language. This means that you basically copy it from the other language. This page tells how to “borrow” words. (There are also other ways to translate words for things that are not in your language. See Translate Unknowns.)

This page answers the question: What does it mean to borrow words from another language and how can I do it?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Translate Unknowns

Examples From the Bible

Seeing one fig tree along the roadside, he went to it. (Matthew 21:19a ULT)

If there are no fig trees where your language is spoken, there might not be a name for this kind of tree in your language.

Above him were the seraphim; each one had six wings; with two each covered his face, and with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew. (Isaiah 6:2 ULT)

Your language might not have a name for this kind of creature.

The declaration of the word of Yahweh to Israel by the hand of Malachi. (Malachi 1:1 ULT)

Malachi might not be a name that people who speak your language use.

Translation Strategies

There are several things to be aware of when borrowing words from another language.

- Different languages use different scripts, such as the Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Cyrillic, Devanagari, and Korean scripts. These scripts use different shapes to represent the letters in their alphabets.
- Languages that use the same script might pronounce the letters in that script differently. For example, when speaking German, people pronounce the letter “j” the same way that people pronounce the letter “y” when speaking English.
- Languages do not all have the same sounds or combinations of sounds. For example, many languages do not have the soft “th” sound in the English word “think,” and some languages cannot start a word with a combination of sounds like “st” as in “stop.”

There are several ways to borrow a word.

- (1) If your language uses a different script from the language you are translating from, you can simply substitute each letter shape with the corresponding letter shape of the script of your language.
- (2) You can spell the word as the Other Language spells it, and pronounce it the way your language normally pronounces those letters.
- (3) You can pronounce the word similarly to the way the Other Language does, and adjust the spelling to fit the rules of your language.

(3) You can pronounce the word similarly to the way the Other Language does, and adjust the spelling to fit the rules of your language.

Zephaniah — If your language does not have the "z," you could use "s." If your writing system does not use "ph" you could use "f." Depending on how you pronounce the "i" you could spell it with "i" or "ai" or "ay."

Direct and Indirect Quotations

Description

There are two kinds of quotations: direct quotations and indirect quotations.

A direct quotation occurs when someone reports what another person said from the viewpoint of that original speaker. People usually expect that this kind of quotation will represent the original speaker's exact words. In the example below, John would have said "I" when referring to himself, so the narrator, who is reporting John's words, uses the word "I" in the quotation to refer to John. To show that these are John's exact words, many languages put the words between quotation marks: "".

- John said, "I do not know at what time I will arrive."

An indirect quotation occurs when a speaker reports what someone else said, but in this case, the speaker is reporting it from his own point of view instead and not from the original person's point of view. This kind of quotation usually contains changes in pronouns, and it often includes changes in time, in word choices, and in length. In the example below, the narrator refers to John as "he" in the quotation and uses the word "would" to replace the future tense, indicated by "will."

- John said that he did not know at what time he would arrive.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

In some languages, reported speech can be expressed by either direct or indirect quotations. In other languages, it is more natural to use one than the other. There may be a certain meaning implied by using one rather than the other. So for each quotation, translators need to decide whether it is best to translate it as a direct quotation or as an indirect quotation.

Examples From the Bible

The verses in the examples below contain both direct and indirect quotations. In the explanation below the verse, we have marked in bold the words that are quoted.

And he commanded him to tell no one, but, "Go, show yourself to the priest and offer a sacrifice for your cleansing, according to what Moses commanded, for a testimony to them."
(Luke 5:14 ULT)

- Indirect quote: He commanded him to tell no one,
- Direct quote: but told him, "Go, show yourself to the priest ..."

And being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God was coming, he answered them and said, "The kingdom of God is not coming with careful observation. Neither will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There it is!' For indeed, the kingdom of God is among you." (Luke 17:20-21 ULT)

- Indirect quote: Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God was coming,
- Direct quote: he answered them and said, "The kingdom of God is not coming with careful observation. Neither will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There it is!' For indeed, the kingdom of God is among you."
- Direct quotes: Neither will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or, 'There it is!'

Double Negatives

A double negative occurs when a clause has two words that each express the meaning of “not.” Double negatives mean very different things in different languages. To translate sentences that have double negatives accurately and clearly, you need to know what a double negative means in the Bible and how to express this idea in your language.

This page answers the question: What are double negatives?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-partsofspeech\]\]](#)

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentences\]\]](#)

Description

Negative words are words that have in them the meaning “not.” Examples in English are “no,” “not,” “none,” “no one,” “nothing,” “nowhere,” “never,” “nor,” “neither,” and “without.” Also, some words have prefixes or suffixes that mean “not,” such as the bolded parts of these words: “unhappy,” “impossible,” and “useless.” Some other kinds of words also have a negative meaning, such as “lack” or “reject,” or even “fight” or “evil.”

A double negative occurs when a clause has two words that each have a negative meaning.

We did this not because we have no authority ... (2 Thessalonians 3:9a ULT)

And this was not done without an oath! (Hebrews 7:20a ULT)

Be sure of this—the wicked person will not go unpunished. (Proverbs 11:21a ULT)

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Double negatives mean very different things in different languages.

- In some languages, such as English, a second negative in a clause cancels the first one, creating a positive sentence. So, “He is not unintelligent” means “He is intelligent.”
- In some languages, such as French and Spanish, two negative words in a clause do not cancel each other to become a positive. The Spanish sentence, “No vi a nadie,” literally says “I did not see no one.” It has both the word ‘no’ next to the verb and ‘nadie,’ which means “no one.” The two negatives are seen as in agreement with each other, and the sentence means, “I did not see anyone.”
- In some languages, a double negative creates a stronger negative statement.
- In some languages, a double negative creates a positive sentence, but it is a weak statement. So, “He is not unintelligent” means, “He is somewhat intelligent.”
- In some languages, including the languages of the Bible, a double negative can produce a stronger positive meaning than a simple positive statement. So, “He is not unintelligent” can mean “He is very intelligent.” In this case, the double negative is actually the figure of speech called litotes.

Biblical Greek can do all of the above. So to translate sentences with double negatives accurately and clearly in your language, you need to know what each double negative means in the Bible and how to express the same idea in your language.

Examples From the Bible

The Greek of John 15:5 says:

χωρὶς ἐμοῦ οὐ δύνασθε ποιεῖν οὐδέν

Without me not you can do nothing

We cannot reproduce this double negative in the English ULT because in English, a second negative in a clause cancels the first one. In English, and perhaps in your language, we need to choose only one of the negatives and say either:

Without me, you can do nothing.

or:

Without me, you cannot do anything.

... in order not to be unfruitful. (Titus 3:14b ULT)

This means "in order to be fruitful."

A prophet is not without honor (Mark 6:4 ULT)

This means "a prophet is honored."

I do not want you to be ignorant. (1 Corinthians 12:1)

This means "I want you to be knowledgeable."

Translation Strategies

If the way that the double negative is used in the Bible is natural and has the same meaning as in your language, consider using it in the same way. Otherwise, you could consider these strategies:

(1) If the purpose of a double negative in the Bible is to make a positive statement, and if it would not do that in your language, remove the two negatives so that it is positive.

(2) If the purpose of a double negative in the Bible is to make a negative statement, and if it would not do that in your language, remove one of the two negatives.

(3) If the purpose of a double negative in the Bible is to make a stronger negative statement, and if it would not do that in your language, remove one of the two negatives and add a strengthening word.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If the purpose of a double negative in the Bible is to make a positive statement, and if it would not do that in your language, remove the two negatives so that it is positive.

For we do not have a high priest who cannot feel sympathy for our weaknesses. (Hebrews 4:15a ULT)

"For we have a high priest who can feel sympathy for our weaknesses."

... in order not to be unfruitful. (Titus 3:14b ULT)

"... so that they may be fruitful."

Doublet

Description

We are using the word “doublet” to refer to two words or phrases that are used together and either mean the same thing or mean very close to the same thing. Often they are joined with the word “and.” Unlike Hendiadys, in which one of the words modifies the other, in a doublet the two words or phrases are equal and are used to emphasize or intensify the one idea that is expressed by the two words or phrases.

A very similar issue is the repetition of the same word or phrase for emphasis, usually with no other words between them. Because these figures of speech are so similar and have the same effect, we will treat them here together.

This page answers the question: What are doublets and how can I translate them?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro\]\]](#)

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

In some languages people do not use doublets. Or they may use doublets, but only in certain situations, so a doublet might not make sense in their language in some verses. People might think that the verse is describing two ideas or actions, when it is only describing one. In this case, translators may need to find some other way to express the meaning expressed by the doublet.

Examples From the Bible

He has one people scattered and dispersed among the peoples (Esther 3:8 ULT)

The bolded words mean the same thing. Together they mean the people were spread out.

He attacked two men more righteous and better than himself. (1 Kings 2:32b ULT)

This means that they were “much more righteous” than he was.

You have decided to prepare false and deceptive words. (Daniel 2:9b ULT)

This means that they had decided to lie, which is another way of saying that they intended to deceive people.

... like of a lamb without blemish and without spot. (1 Peter 1:19b ULT)

This means that he was like a lamb that did not have any defect—not even one.

Then they approached {and} woke him up, saying, “Master! Master! We are perishing!” (Luke 8:24 ULT)

The repetition of “Master” means that the disciples called to Jesus urgently and continually.

Translation Strategies

If a doublet would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, consider these strategies.

(1) Translate only one of the words or phrases.

(2) If the doublet is used to intensify the meaning, translate one of the words or phrases and add a word that intensifies it such as “very” or “great” or “many.”

(3) If the doublet is used to intensify or emphasize the meaning, use one of your language's ways of doing that.

Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Translate only one of the words.

You have decided to prepare false and deceptive words. (Daniel 2:9b ULT)

“You have decided to prepare false things to say.”

(2) If the doublet is used to intensify the meaning, translate one of the words and add a word that intensifies it such as “very” or “great” or “many.”

He has one people scattered and dispersed among the peoples (Esther 3:8 ULT)

“He has one people very spread out.”

(3) If the doublet is used to intensify or emphasize the meaning, use one of your language's ways of doing that.

... like a lamb without blemish and without spot. (1 Peter 1:19b ULT)

- English can emphasize this with “any” and “at all.”

“... like a lamb without any blemish at all.”

Then they approached {and} woke him up, saying, “Master! Master! We are perishing!” (Luke 8:24 ULT)

Then they approached {and} woke him up, urgently shouting, “Master!

Ellipsis

Description

An ellipsis¹ occurs when a speaker or writer leaves out one or more words that normally should be in the sentence. The speaker or writer does this because he knows that the hearer or reader will understand the meaning of the sentence and supply the words in his mind when he hears or reads the words that are there. For example:

So the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.
(Psalm 1:5 ULT)

There is ellipsis in the second part because “nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous” is not a complete sentence. The speaker assumes that the hearer will understand what it is that sinners will not do in the assembly of the righteous by filling in the action from the previous clause. With the action filled in, the complete sentence would read:

So the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor will sinners stand in the assembly of the righteous.

[¹] English has a punctuation symbol which is also called an ellipsis. It is a series of three dots (...) used to indicate an intentional omission of a word, phrase, sentence or more from text without altering its original meaning. This translationAcademy article is not about the punctuation mark, but about the concept of omission of words that normally should be in the sentence.

Two Types of Ellipsis

A Relative Ellipsis happens when the reader has to supply the omitted word or words from the context. Usually the word is in the previous sentence, as in the example above.

An Absolute Ellipsis happens when the omitted word or words are not in the context, but the phrases are common enough in the language that the reader is expected to supply what is missing from this common usage or from the nature of the situation.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Readers who see incomplete sentences or phrases may not know that there is information missing that the writer expects them to fill in. Or readers may understand that there is information missing, but they may not know what information is missing because they do not know the original biblical language, culture, or situation as the original readers did. In this case, they may fill in the wrong information. Or readers may misunderstand the ellipsis if they do not use ellipsis in the same way in their language.

Examples From the Bible

Relative Ellipsis

He makes Lebanon skip like a calf and Sirion like a young ox. (Psalm 29:6 ULT)

The writer wants his words to be few and to make good poetry. The full sentence with the information filled in would be:

This page answers the question: What is ellipsis ?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

He makes Lebanon skip like a calf and he makes Sirion skip like a young ox.

Watch carefully, therefore, how you walk—not as unwise but as wise. (Ephesians 5:15b ULT)

The information that the reader must understand in the second parts of these sentences can be filled in from the first parts:

Watch carefully, therefore, how you walk—walk not as unwise but walk as wise,

Absolute Ellipsis

Then when he had come near, he asked him, “What do you want me to do for you?” And so he said, “Lord, that I might recover my sight.” (Luke 18:40b-41 ULT)

It seems that the man answered in an incomplete sentence because he wanted to be polite and not directly ask Jesus for healing. He knew that Jesus would understand that the only way he could receive his sight would be for Jesus to heal him. The complete sentence would be:

“Lord, I want you to heal me so that I might receive my sight.”

To Titus, a true son in our common faith. Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior. (Titus 1:4 ULT)

The writer assumes that the reader will recognize this common form of a blessing or wish, so he does not need to include the full sentence, which would be:

To Titus, a true son in our common faith. May you receive grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior.

Translation Strategies

If ellipsis would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here is another option:

(1) Add the missing words to the incomplete phrase or sentence.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

End of Story

Description

There are different types of information that may be given at the end of a story. Often this is background information. This background information is different from the actions that make up the main part of the story. A book of the Bible is often made up of many smaller stories that are part of the larger story of the book itself. For example, the story of Jesus' birth is a smaller story in the larger story of the book of Luke. Each of these stories, whether large or small, can have background information at the end of it.

This page answers the question: What kinds of information are given at the end of a story?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/writing-intro]]
Background Information

The following are purposes for end of story information:

- to summarize the story
- to give a comment about what happened in the story
- to connect a smaller story to the larger story it is a part of
- to tell the reader what happens to a specific character after the main part of the story ends
- to tell on-going action that continues after the main part of the story ends
- to tell what happens after the story as a result of the events that happened in the story itself

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

Different languages have different ways of presenting these kinds of information. If you (the translator) do not use your language's ways of doing this, readers may not know:

- that this information is ending the story
- what the purpose of the information is
- how the information is related to the story

Translation Strategies

- Translate the particular kind of information at the end of a story the way your language expresses that kind of information.
- Translate it so that people will understand how it relates to the story it is part of.
- If possible, translate the end of the story in a way that people will know where that story ends and the next begins.

Examples From the Bible

- To summarize the story

Then the rest of the men should follow, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. In this way it happened that all of us were brought safely to the land. (Acts 27:44 ULT)

- To give a comment about what happened in the story

Many of those who practiced magical arts brought their books together and burned them in the sight of everyone. Then they counted the value of them, and found it was 50,000 pieces of silver. So the word of the Lord was spreading and prevailing with power. (Acts 19:19-20 ULT)

- To tell the reader what happens to a specific character after the main part of the story ends

And Mary said, "My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit rejoiced in God my savior." And Mary stayed with her about three months and then returned to her house. (Luke 1:46-47, 56 ULT)

- To tell on-going action that continues after the main part of the story ends

All who those who heard it were amazed concerning the things that were spoken to them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all the things, pondering them in her heart. (Luke 2:18-19 ULT)

- To tell what happens after the story as a result of the events that happened in the story itself

"Woe to you, experts in the Jewish law, because you have taken away the key of knowledge; you do not enter in yourselves, and you hinder those who are entering." After he went from there, the scribes and the Pharisees began to fiercely oppose him and argued against him about many things, lying in wait to trap him in something from his mouth. (Luke 11:52-54 ULT)

Euphemism

Description

A euphemism is a mild or polite way of referring to something that is unpleasant, embarrassing, or socially unacceptable, such as death or activities usually done in private.

... they found Saul and his sons fallen on Mount Gilboa.
(1 Chronicles 10:8b ULT)

This means that Saul and his sons “were dead.” It is a euphemism because the important thing was not that Saul and his sons had fallen but that they were dead. Sometimes people do not like to speak directly about death because it is unpleasant.

This page answers the question: What is a euphemism?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Different languages use different euphemisms. If the target language does not use the same euphemism as in the source language, readers may not understand what it means and they may think that the writer means only what the words literally say.

Examples From the Bible

... where there was a cave. Saul went inside to cover his feet. (1 Samuel 24:3b ULT)

The original hearers would have understood that Saul went into the cave to use it as a toilet, but the writer wanted to avoid offending or distracting them, so he did not say specifically what Saul did or what he left in the cave.

But Mary said to the angel, “How will this be, since I have not known a man?” (Luke 1:34 ULT)

In order to be polite, Mary uses a euphemism to say that she has never had sexual intercourse with a man.

Translation Strategies

If euphemism would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here are other options:

- (1) Use a euphemism from your own culture.
- (2) State the information plainly without a euphemism if it would not be offensive.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Use a euphemism from your own culture.

... where there was a cave. Saul went inside to cover his feet. (1 Samuel 24:3b ULT) — Some languages might use euphemisms like these:

“... where there was a cave. Saul went into the cave to dig a hole”

“... where there was a cave. Saul went into the cave to have some time alone”

But Mary said to the angel, “How will this be, since I have not known a man?” (Luke 1:34 ULT)

Exclamations

Description

Exclamations are words or sentences that show strong feeling such as surprise, joy, fear, or anger. In the ULT and UST, they usually have an exclamation mark (!) at the end. The mark shows that it is an exclamation. The situation and the meaning of what the people said helps us understand what feelings they were expressing. In the example below from Matthew 8, the speakers were terribly afraid. In the example from Matthew 9, the speakers were amazed, because something happened that they had never seen before.

This page answers the question: What are ways of translating exclamations?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentencetypes]]

Save us, Lord; we are about to die! (Matthew 8:25b ULT)

When the demon had been driven out, the mute man spoke. The crowds were astonished and said, "This has never been seen before in Israel!" (Matthew 9:33 ULT)

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Languages have different ways of showing that a sentence communicates strong emotion.

Examples From the Bible

Some exclamations have a word that shows feeling. The sentences below have "Oh" and "Ah." The word "oh" here shows the speaker's amazement.

Oh, the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! (Romans 11:33 ULT)

The word "Alas" below shows that Gideon was very frightened.

When Gideon saw that he was the angel of Yahweh, Gideon lamented, "Alas, O my Lord Yahweh, for because of this I have seen the angel of Yahweh face to face!" (Judges 6:22 ULT)

Some exclamations start with a question word such as "how" or "why," even though they are not questions. The sentence below shows that the speaker is amazed at how unsearchable God's judgments are.

How unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways beyond discovering! (Romans 11:33b ULT)

Some exclamations in the Bible do not have a main verb. The exclamation below shows that the speaker is disgusted with the person he is speaking to.

You worthless person! (Matthew 5:22b ULT)

Translation Strategies

- (1) If an exclamation in your language needs a verb, add one. Often a good verb is "is" or "are."
- (2) Use an exclamation word from your language that shows the strong feeling.
- (3) Translate the exclamation word with a sentence that shows the feeling.
- (4) Use a word that emphasizes the part of the sentence that brings about the strong feeling.

(5) If the strong feeling is not clear in the target language, then tell how the person felt.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If an exclamation in your language needs a verb, add one. Often a good verb is “is” or “are.”

You worthless person! (Matthew 5:22b ULT)

“You are such a worthless person!”

Oh, the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! (Romans 11:33b ULT)

“Oh, the riches of the wisdom and the knowledge of God are so deep!”

(2) Use an exclamation word from your language that shows the strong feeling. In the first suggested translation below, the word “wow” shows that they were astonished. In the second suggested translation, the expression “Oh no” shows that something terrible or frightening has happened.

They were extremely astonished, saying, “He has done everything well. He even makes the deaf hear and the mute speak.” (Mark 7:37 ULT)

“They were extremely astonished, saying, “Wow! He has done everything well. He even makes the deaf to hear and the mute to speak.””

Alas, oh my Lord Yahweh! For because of this I have seen the angel of Yahweh face to face! (Judges 6:22b ULT)

“Oh no, Lord Yahweh! I have seen the angel of Yahweh face to face!”

(3) Translate the exclamation word with a sentence that shows the feeling.

“Alas, O my Lord Yahweh, for because of this I have seen the angel of Yahweh face to face!” (Judges 6:22 ULT)

“Lord Yahweh, what will happen to me? For I have seen the angel of Yahweh face to face!”

“Help, Lord Yahweh! For I have seen the angel of Yahweh face to face!”

(4) Use a word that emphasizes the part of the sentence that brings about the strong feeling.

How unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways beyond discovering! (Romans 11:33b ULT)

“His judgments are so unsearchable and his ways are far beyond discovering!”

(5) If the strong feeling is not clear in the target language, then tell how the person felt.

When Gideon saw that he was the angel of Yahweh, Gideon lamented, “Alas, O my Lord Yahweh, for because of this I have seen the angel of Yahweh face to face!” (Judges 6:22 ULT)

Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

Description

Some languages have more than one form of "we": an inclusive form that means "I and you" and an exclusive form that means "I and someone else but not you." The exclusive form excludes the person being spoken to. The inclusive form includes the person being spoken to and possibly others. This is also true for "us," "our," "ours," and "ourselves." Some languages have inclusive forms and exclusive forms for each of these. Translators whose language has separate exclusive and inclusive forms for these words will need to understand what the speaker meant so that they can decide which form to use.

This page answers the question: What are the exclusive and inclusive forms of "we"?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Pronouns

See the pictures. The people on the right are the people that the speaker is talking to. The yellow highlight shows who the inclusive "we" and the exclusive "we" refer to.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

The Bible was first written in the Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek languages. Like English, these languages do not have separate exclusive and inclusive forms for "we." If your language has separate exclusive and inclusive forms of "we," then you will need to understand what the speaker meant so that you can decide which form of "we" to use.

Examples From the Bible

Exclusive

They said, "There are not more than five loaves of bread and two fish with us—unless we go and buy food for all these people." (Luke 9:13 ULT)

In the second clause, the disciples are talking about some of them going to buy food. They were speaking to Jesus, but Jesus was not going to buy food. So languages that have inclusive and exclusive forms of "we" would use the exclusive form there.

We have seen it, and we bear witness to it. We are announcing to you the eternal life, which was with the Father, and which has been made known to us. (1 John 1:2 ULT)

John is telling people who have not seen Jesus what he and the other apostles have seen. So languages that have inclusive and exclusive forms of "we" and "us" would use the exclusive forms in this verse.

Inclusive

The shepherds said one to each other, "Let us now go to Bethlehem, and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us." (Luke 2:15b ULT)

The shepherds were speaking to one another. When they said "us," they were including the people they were speaking to, so languages that have inclusive and exclusive forms of "we" and "us" would use the inclusive form in this verse.

Now it happened that on one of those days, he indeed got into a boat with his disciples, and he said to them, "Let us go over to the other side of the lake." So they set sail. (Luke 8:22 ULT)

When Jesus said "us," he was referring to himself and to the disciples he was speaking to, so languages that have inclusive and exclusive forms of "we" and "us" would use the inclusive form in this verse.

First, Second or Third Person

Normally a speaker refers to himself as “I” and the person he is speaking to as “you.” Sometimes in the Bible a speaker refers to himself or to the person he is speaking to with terms other than “I” or “you.”

Description

- First person — This is how a speaker normally refers to himself. English uses the pronouns “I” and “we.” (Also: me, my, mine; us, our, ours)
- Second person — This is how a speaker normally refers to the person or people he is speaking to. English uses the pronoun “you.” (Also: your, yours)
- Third person — This is how a speaker refers to someone else. English uses the pronouns “he,” “she,” “it,” and “they.” (Also: him, his, her, hers, its; them, their, theirs) Noun phrases like “the man” or “the woman” are also third person.

This page answers the question: What are first, second, and third person, and how do I translate when a third person form does not refer to the third person?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-explicitinfo\]\]](#)

Pronouns

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Sometimes in the Bible a speaker uses the third person to refer to himself or to the people he is speaking to. Readers might think that the speaker was referring to someone else. They might not understand that he meant “I” or “you.”

Examples From the Bible

Sometimes people used the third person instead of “I” or “me” to refer to themselves.

But David said to Saul, “Your servant used to keep his father’s sheep.” (1 Samuel 17:34 ULT)

David referred to himself in the third person as “your servant” and used “his.” He was calling himself Saul’s servant in order to show his humility before Saul.

Then Yahweh answered Job out of a fierce storm and said,
“... Do you have an arm like God’s? Can you thunder with a voice like his?” (Job 40:6, 9 ULT)

God referred to himself in the third person with the words “God’s” and “his.” He did this to emphasize that he is God, and he is powerful.

Sometimes people use the third person instead of “you” or “your” to refer to the person or people they are speaking to.

Abraham answered and said, “Look, I have undertaken to speak to my Lord, even though I am only dust and ashes!” (Genesis 18:27 ULT)

Abraham was speaking to the Lord, and referred to the Lord as “My Lord” rather than as “you.” He did this to show his humility before God.

So also my heavenly Father will do to you, if each of you does not forgive his brother from your heart. (Matthew 18:35 ULT)

After saying “each of you,” Jesus used the third person “his” instead of “your.”

Translation Strategies

If using the third person to mean “I” or “you” would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here are some other options.

- (1) Use the third person phrase along with the pronoun “I” or “you.”
- (2) Simply use the first person (“I”) or second person (“you”) instead of the third person.

Forms of You

Singular, Dual, and Plural

Some languages have more than one word for “you” based on how many people the word “you” refers to. The singular form refers to one person, and the plural form refers to more than one person. Some languages also have a dual form which refers to two people, and some languages have other forms that refer to three or four people.

Sometimes in the Bible a speaker uses a singular form of “you” even though he is speaking to a crowd.

Formal and Informal

Some languages have more than one form of “you” based on the relationship between the speaker and the person he is talking to. People use the formal form of “you” when speaking to someone who is older, or has higher authority, or is someone they do not know very well. People use the informal form when speaking to someone who is not older, or does not have higher authority, or is a family member or close friend.

Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural

Description

Some languages have a singular form of “you” for when the word “you” refers to just one person, and a plural form for when the word “you” refers to more than one person. Some languages also have a dual form of “you” for when the word “you” refers to only two people. Translators who speak one of these languages will always need to know what the speaker meant so they can choose the right word for “you” in their language. Other languages, such as English, have only one form, which people use regardless of how many people it refers to.

The Bible was first written in the Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek languages. These languages all have a singular form of “you” and a plural form of “you.” When we read the Bible in those languages, the pronouns and verb forms show us whether the word “you” refers to one person or more than one person. However, they do not show us whether it refers to only two people or more than two people. When the pronouns do not show us how many people the word “you” refers to, we need to look at the context to see how many people the speaker was speaking to.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Translators who speak a language that has distinct singular, dual, and plural forms of “you” will always need to know what the speaker meant so they can choose the right word for “you” in their language.
- Many languages also have different forms of the verb depending on whether the subject is singular or plural. So even if there is no pronoun meaning “you,” translators of these languages will need to know if the speaker was referring to one person or more than one.

Often the context will make it clear whether the word “you” refers to one person or more than one. If you look at the other pronouns in the sentence, they will help you know how many people the speaker was addressing.

Examples From the Bible

Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came up to him, saying to him, “Teacher, we desire that you to do for us whatever we ask you.” 36 So he said to them, “What do you want me to do for you?” (Mark 10:35-36 ULT)

Jesus is asking the two, James and John, what they want him to do for them. If the target language has a dual form of “you,” use that. If the target language does not have a dual form, then the plural form would be appropriate.

Jesus sent out two of his disciples and said to them, “Go into the village opposite us. As soon as you enter it, you will find a colt tied there, on which no one has yet sat. Untie it and bring it to me.” (Mark 11:1b-2 ULT)

The context makes it clear that Jesus is addressing two people. If the target language has a dual form of “you,” use that. If the target language does not have a dual form, then the plural form would be appropriate.

James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes who are in the dispersion: Greetings. Consider it all joy, my brothers, when you experience various troubles. You know that the testing of your faith produces endurance. (James 1:1-3 ULT)

James wrote this letter to many people, so the word “you” refers to many people. If the target language has a plural form of “you,” it would be best to use it here.

Strategies for finding out how many people “you” refers to

- (1) Look at the translationNotes to see if they tell whether “you” refers to one person or more than one person.
- (2) Look at the UST to see if it says anything that would show you whether the word “you” refers to one person or more than one person.
- (3) If you have a Bible that is written in a language that distinguishes “you” singular from “you” plural, see which form of “you” that Bible has in that sentence.
- (4) Look at the context to see who the speaker was talking to and who responded.

The Bible was first written in the Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek languages. These languages all have both a singular form of “you” and a plural form of “you.” When we read the Bible in those languages, the pronouns and verb forms show us whether the word “you” refers to one person or more than one. When we read the Bible in a language that does not have different forms of you, we need to look at the context to see how many people the speaker was speaking to.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

- Translators who speak a language that has distinct singular and plural forms of “you” will always need to know what the speaker meant so they can choose the right word for “you” in their language.
- Many languages also have different forms of the verb depending on whether the subject is singular or plural. So even if there is no pronoun meaning “you,” translators of these languages will need to know if the speaker was referring to one person or more than one.

Often the context will make it clear whether the word “you” refers to one person or more than one. If you look at the other pronouns in the sentence, they will help you know the number of people the speaker was speaking to. Sometimes Greek and Hebrew speakers used the singular form of “you” even though they were speaking to a group of people. (See Forms of 'You' — Singular to a Crowd.)

Examples From the Bible

But he said, “All these things I have kept from my youth.” But when he heard this, Jesus said to him, “One thing is still lacking to you. All things, as much as you have, sell all and distribute to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven—and come, follow me.” (Luke 18:21-22 ULT)

The ruler was speaking about just himself when he said “I.” This shows us that when Jesus said “you” he was referring only to the ruler. So languages that have singular and plural forms of “you” need the singular form here.

The angel said to him, “Dress yourself and put on your sandals.” So he did that. He said to him, “Put on your outer garment and follow me.” (Acts 12:8 ULT)

The context makes it clear that the angel was speaking to one person and that only one person did what the the angel commanded. So languages that have singular and plural forms of “you” would need the singular form here for “yourself” and “your.” Also, if verbs have different forms for singular and plural subjects, then the verbs “dress” and “put on” need the form that indicates a singular subject.

To Titus, a true son in our common faith. For this purpose I left you in Crete, that you might set in order things not yet complete and ordain elders in every city as I directed you. But you, say what fits with sound teaching. (Titus 1:4a, 5; 2:1 ULT)

Paul wrote this letter to one person, Titus. Most of the time the word “you” in this letter refers only to Titus.

Strategies for finding out how many people “you” refers to

Fractions

Description

A fraction is a number that represents part of a whole. When an item is divided into several equal parts, a fraction refers to one or more of those parts.

For the drink offering, you must offer a third of a hin of wine. (Numbers 15:7a ULT)

A hin is a container of a set size which is used for measuring wine and other liquids. The people were to think about dividing a hin container into three equal parts, filling up only one of those parts and offering that amount.

... a third of the ships were destroyed. (Revelation 8:9b ULT)

There were many ships. If all those ships were divided into three equal groups of ships, one group of ships was destroyed.

Most fractions in English simply have the letters “th” added to the end of the number, such as fourth, sixth, ninth, tenth.

| Number of parts the whole is divided into | Fraction | | ----- | ----- | | four | fourth | | ten | tenth | | one hundred | one hundredth | | one thousand | one thousandth |

Some fractions in English do not follow that pattern.

| Number of parts the whole is divided into | Fraction | | ----- | ----- | | two | half | | three | third | | five | fifth |

Reason This is a Translation Issue

Some languages do not use fractions. They may simply talk about parts or groups, but they do not use fractions to tell how big a part is or how many parts are included in a group.

Examples From the Bible

Now to the half-tribe of Manasseh, Moses had given a possession in Bashan, but to the other half, Joshua gave a possession among their brothers across the Jordan on the west. (Joshua 22:7 ULT)

The tribe of Manasseh divided into two groups. The phrase “the half-tribe of Manasseh” refers one of those groups. The phrase “the other half” refers to the other group.

So the four angels who had been prepared for that hour, that day, that month, and that year, were released so that they would kill a third of mankind. (Revelation 9:15 ULT)

If all the people in the world were to be divided into three equal groups, then the number of people in one group would be killed.

You must also prepare a fourth of a hin of wine as the drink offering. (Numbers 15:5 ULT)

They were to imagine dividing a hin of wine into four equal parts and prepare the amount equal to one of them.

Translation Strategies

If a fraction in your language would give the right meaning, consider using it. If not, you could consider these strategies.

- (1) Tell the number of parts or groups that the item would be divided into, and then tell the number of parts or groups that is being referred to.
- (2) For measurements such as for weight and length, use a unit that your people might know or the unit in the UST.
- (3) For measurements, use ones that are used in your language. In order to do that you would need to know how your measurements relates to the metric system and figure out each measurement.

Examples of These Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Tell the number of parts or groups that the item would be divided into, and then tell the number of parts or groups that is being referred to.

A third of the ocean became red like blood (Revelation 8:8 ULT)

It was like they divided the ocean into three parts, and one part of the ocean became blood.

Then you must offer with the bull a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with half a hin of oil. (Numbers 15:9 ULT)

... then you must divide an ephah of fine flour into ten parts and divide a hin of oil into two parts. Then mix three of those parts of the flour with one of the parts of oil. Then you must offer that grain offering along with the bull.

(2) For measurements, use the measurements that are given in the UST. The translators of the UST have already figured how to represent the amounts in the metric system.

... two-thirds of a shekel ... (1 Samuel 13:21b ULT)

... eight grams of silver ... (1 Samuel 13:21b UST)

... three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with half a hin of oil. (Numbers 15:9b ULT)

... six and one-half liters of finely ground flour mixed with two liters of olive oil. (Numbers 15:9b UST)

(3) For measurements, use ones that are used in your language. In order to do that you would need to know how your measurements relates to the metric system and figure out each measurement.

... three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with half a hin of oil. (Numbers 15:9b ULT) six quarts of fine flour mixed with two quarts of oil.

Generic Noun Phrases

Description

Generic noun phrases refer to people or things in general rather than to specific individuals or things. This happens frequently in proverbs, because proverbs tell about things that are true about people in general.

This page answers the question: What are generic noun phrases and how can I translate them?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-partsofspeech\]\]](#)

Can a man walk on hot coals without scorching his feet?
So is the man who goes in to his neighbor's wife;
the one who touches her will not go unpunished. (Proverbs 6:28-29 ULT)

The phrases in bold above do not refer to a specific man. They refer to any man who does these things.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Different languages have different ways of showing that noun phrases refer to something in general. You (the translator) should refer to these general ideas in ways that are natural in your language.

Examples From the Bible

The righteous person is kept away from trouble and it comes upon the wicked instead. (Proverbs 11:8 ULT)

The bold phrases above do not refer to a specific person but to anyone who does what is right or anyone who is wicked.

People curse the man who refuses to sell grain. (Proverbs 11:26 ULT)

This does not refer to a particular man, but to any person who refuses to sell grain.

Yahweh gives favor to a good man, but he condemns a man who makes evil plans. (Proverbs 12:2 ULT)

The phrase "a good man" does not refer to a particular man, but to any person who is good. The phrase "a man who makes evil plans" does not refer to a particular man, but to any person who makes evil plans.

Translation Strategies

If your language can use the same wording as in the ULT to refer to people or things in general rather than to specific individuals or things, consider using the same wording. If not, here are some strategies you might use.

- (1) Use the word "the" in the noun phrase.
- (2) Use the word "a" in the noun phrase.
- (3) Use the word "any," as in "any person" or "anyone."
- (4) Use the plural form, as in "people."

(5) Use any other way that is natural in your language.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Use the word “the” in the noun phrase.

Yahweh gives favor to a good man, but he condemns a man who makes evil plans. (Proverbs 12:2 ULT)
 “Yahweh gives favor to the good man, but he condemns the man who makes evil plans.” (Proverbs 12:2)

(2) Use the word “a” in the noun phrase.

People curse the man who refuses to sell grain. (Proverbs 11:26 ULT)
 “People curse a man who refuses to sell grain.”

(3) Use the word “any,” as in “any person” or “anyone.”

People curse the man who refuses to sell grain. (Proverbs 11:26 ULT)
 “People curse any man who refuses to sell grain.”

(4) Use the plural form, as in “people” (or in this sentence, “men”).

People curse the man who refuses to sell grain. (Proverbs 11:26 ULT)
 “People curse men who refuse to sell grain”

(5) Use any other way that is natural in your language.

People curse the man who refuses to sell grain. (Proverbs 11:26 ULT)
 “People curse whoever refuses to sell grain.”

Go and Come

Description

This page answers the question: What do I do if the word "go" or "come" is confusing in a certain sentence?

Different languages have different ways of determining whether to use the words "go" or "come" and whether to use the words "take" or "bring" when talking about motion. For example, when saying that they are approaching a person who has called them, English speakers say "I'm coming," while Spanish speakers say "I'm going." You will need to study the context in order to understand what is meant by the words "go" and "come" (and also "take" and "bring"), and then translate those words in a way that your readers will understand which direction people are moving in.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Different languages have different ways of talking about motion. The biblical languages or your source language may use the words "go" and "come" or "take" and "bring" differently than your language uses them. If these words are not translated in the way that is natural in your language, your readers may be confused about which direction people are moving.

Examples From the Bible

Yahweh said to Noah, "Come, you and all your household, into the ark." (Genesis 7:1 ULT)

In some languages, this would lead people to think that Yahweh was in the ark.

But you will be free from my oath if you come to my relatives and they will not give her to you. Then you will be free from my oath. (Genesis 24:41 ULT)

Abraham was speaking to his servant. Abraham's relatives lived far away from where he and his servant were standing and he wanted his servant to go to them, not come toward Abraham.

When you have come to the land that Yahweh your God gives you, and when you take possession of it and begin to live in it ... (Deuteronomy 17:14a ULT)

Moses is speaking to the people in the wilderness. They had not yet gone into the land that God was giving them. In some languages, it would make more sense to say, "When you have gone into the land ..."

They brought him up to the temple in Jerusalem to present him to the Lord. (Luke 2:22b ULT)

In some languages, it might make more sense to say that they took or carried Jesus to the temple.

Then see, there was a man whose name was Jairus, and he was a leader of the synagogue. And falling at the feet of Jesus, he begged him to come to his house. (Luke 8:41 ULT)

The man was not at his house when he spoke to Jesus. He wanted Jesus to go with him to his house.

What did you go out into the desert to see? A reed shaken by the wind? (Luke 7:24b ULT)

In some languages, it might make more sense to ask what did you come out to see.

Translation Strategies

If the word used in the ULT would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here are other strategies.

- (1) Use the word “go,” “come,” “take,” or “bring” that would be natural in your language.
- (2) Use another word that expresses the right meaning.

Hebrew Months

Description

This page answers the question: What are the Hebrew months?

The Hebrew calendar used in the Bible has twelve months. Unlike the western calendar, its first month begins in the spring of the northern hemisphere. Sometimes a month is called by its name (Aviv, Ziv, Sivan), and sometimes it is called by its order in the Hebrew calendar year (first month, second month, third month).

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Readers may be surprised to read of months that they have never heard of, and they may wonder how those months correspond to the months that they use.
- Readers may not realize that phrases such as “the first month” or “the second month” refer to the first or second month of the Hebrew calendar, not some other calendar.
- Readers may not know when the first month of the Hebrew calendar begins.
- The Bible may tell about something happening in a certain month, but readers will not be able to fully understand what is said about it if they do not know what season of the year that was.

List of Hebrew Months

This is a list of the Hebrew months with information about them that may be helpful in the translation.

Aviv — (This month was called Nisan after the Babylonian exile.) This is the first month of the Hebrew calendar. It marks when God brought the people of Israel out of Egypt. It is at the beginning of the spring season when the late rains come and people begin to harvest their crops. It is during the last part of March and the first part of April on western calendars. The Passover celebration started on Aviv 10; the Festival of Unleavened Bread was right after that, and the Festival of Harvest was a few weeks after that.

Ziv — This is the second month of the Hebrew calendar. This is during the harvest season. It is during the last part of April and the first part of May on Western calendars.

Sivan — This is the third month of the Hebrew calendar. It is at the end of the harvest season and the beginning of the dry season. It is during the last part of May and the first part of June on Western calendars. The Feast of Weeks is celebrated on Sivan 6.

Tammuz — This is the fourth month of the Hebrew calendar. It is during the dry season. It is during the last part of June and the first part of July on Western calendars.

Ab — This is the fifth month of the Hebrew calendar. It is during the dry season. It is during the last part of July and the first part of August on Western calendars.

Elul — This is the sixth month of the Hebrew calendar. It is at the end of the dry season and the beginning of the rainy season. It is during the last part of August and the first part of September on Western calendars.

Ethanim — This is the seventh month of the Hebrew calendar. This is during the early rain season which would soften the land for sowing. It is during the last part of September and the first part of October on Western calendars. The Feast of Ingathering and the Day of Atonement are celebrated in this month.

Bul — This is the eighth month of the Hebrew calendar. It is during the rainy season when people plough their fields and sow seed. It is during the last part of October and the first part of November on Western calendars.

Kislev — This is the ninth month of the Hebrew calendar. This is at the end of the sowing season and the beginning of the cold season. It is during the last part of November and the first part of December on Western calendars.

Tebeth — This is the tenth month of the Hebrew calendar. It is during the cold season when there may be rain and snow. It is during the last part of December and the first part of January on Western calendars.

Shebat — This is the eleventh month of the Hebrew calendar. This is the coldest month of the year, and it has heavy rainfall. It is during the last part of January and the first part of February on Western calendars.

Adar — This is the twelfth and last month of the Hebrew calendar. This is during the cold season. It is during the last part of February and the first part of March on western calendars. The feast called Purim is celebrated in Adar.

Examples From the Bible

Today you are going out, in the month of Aviv. (Exodus 13:4 ULT)

You must eat unleavened bread from evening of the fourteenth day in the first month of the year, until evening of the twenty-first day of the month. (Exodus 12:18 ULT)

Translation Strategies

You may need to make some information about the months explicit. (See Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information.)

(1) Tell the number of the Hebrew month.

(2) Use the names for months that people know.

(3) State clearly what season the month occurred in.

(4) Refer to the time in terms of the season rather than in terms of the Hebrew name of the month. (If possible, use a footnote to show the Hebrew month and day.)

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

The examples below use these two verses.

At that time, you will appear before me in the month of Aviv, which is fixed for this purpose. It was in this month that you came out from Egypt. (Exodus 23:15b ULT)

It will always be a statute for you that in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, you must humble yourselves and do no work. (Leviticus 16:29a ULT)

(1) Tell the number of the Hebrew month.

At that time, you will appear before me in the first month of the year, which is fixed for this purpose. It was in this month that you came out from Egypt.

(2) Use the months that people know.

At that time, you will appear before me in the month of March, which is fixed for this purpose. It was in this month that you came out from Egypt.

It will always be a statute for you that on the day I choose in late September you must humble yourselves and do no work.

(3) State clearly what season the month occurs in.

It will always be a statute for you that in the autumn, on the tenth day of the seventh month, you must humble yourselves and do no work.

(4) Refer to the time in terms of the season rather than in terms of the month.

It will always be a statute for you that in the day I choose in early autumn¹ you must humble yourselves and do no work.

The footnote would look like:

^[1] The Hebrew says, "the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month."

How to Translate Names

Description

The Bible contains the names of many people, groups of people, and places. Some of these names may sound strange and be hard to say. Sometimes readers may not know what a name refers to, and sometimes they may need to understand what a name means. This page will help you see how you can translate these names and how you can help people understand what they need to know about them.

This page answers the question: How can I translate names that are new to my culture?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Meaning of names

Most names in the Bible have meaning. Most of the time, names in the Bible are used simply to identify the people and places they refer to, but sometimes the meaning of a name is especially important.

For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, was the one who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him. (Hebrews 7:1 ULT)

Here the writer uses the name “Melchizedek” primarily to refer to a man who had that name, and the title “king of Salem” tells us that he ruled over a certain city.

His name first indeed means “king of righteousness,” and then also “king of Salem,” that is, “king of peace.” (Hebrews 7:2b ULT)

Here the writer explains the meanings of Melchizedek’s name and title because those things tell us more about the person. Other times, the writer does not explain the meaning of a name because he expects the reader to already know the meaning. If the meaning of the name is important to understand the passage, you can include the meaning in the text or in a footnote.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Readers may not know some of the names in the Bible. They may not know whether a name refers to a person or place or something else.
- Readers may need to understand the meaning of a name in order to understand the passage.
- Some names may have different sounds or combinations of sounds that are not used in your language or are unpleasant to say in your language. For strategies to address this problem, see Borrow Words.
- Some people and places in the Bible have two names. Readers may not realize that two names refer to the same person or place.

Examples From the Bible

Then you crossed over the Jordan and came to Jericho, and the men of Jericho, and the Amorites ... fought against you, but I gave them into your hand. (Joshua 24:11 ULT)

Readers might not know that “Jordan” is the name of a river, “Jericho” is the name of a city, and “Amorites” is the name of a group of people.

She said, “Do I really continue to see, even after he has seen me?” Therefore, the well was called Beer Lahai Roi. (Genesis 16:13b-14a ULT)

Readers may not understand the second sentence if they do not know that “Beer Lahai Roi” means “Well of the Living One who sees me.”

And she called his name Moses and she said, “For out of the water I drew him.” (Exodus 2:10b ULT)

Readers may not understand why she said this if they do not know that the name Moses sounds like the Hebrew words “pull out.”

Saul was in agreement with his execution. (Acts 8:1a ULT)

But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they tore their clothing. (Acts 14:14a ULT)

Readers may not know that the names Saul and Paul refer to the same person.

Translation Strategies

- (1) If readers cannot easily understand from the context what kind of a thing a name refers to, you can add a word to clarify it.
- (2) If readers need to understand the meaning of a name in order to understand what is said about it, copy the name and tell about its meaning either in the text or in a footnote.
- (3) Or if readers need to understand the meaning of a name in order to understand what is said about it, and that name is used only once, translate the meaning of the name instead of copying the name.
- (4) If a person or place has two different names, use one name most of the time and the other name only when the text tells about the person or place having more than one name or when it says something about why the person or place was given that name. Write a footnote when the source text uses the name that is used less frequently.
- (5) Or if a person or place has two different names, then use whatever name is given in the source text, and add a footnote that gives the other name.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) If readers cannot easily understand from the context what kind of a thing a name refers to, you can add a word to clarify it.

Then you crossed over the Jordan and came to Jericho, and the men of Jericho, and the Amorites ... fought against you, but I gave them into your hand. (Joshua 24:11 ULT)

You went over the Jordan River and came to the city of Jericho. The men of Jericho fought against you, along with the tribe of the Amorites.

At that hour, certain Pharisees approached, saying to him, “Leave and go away from here, because Herod wants to kill you.” (Luke 13:31 ULT)

At that hour, certain Pharisees approached, saying to him, “Go and leave here, because King Herod wants to kill you.”

- (2) If readers need to understand the meaning of a name in order to understand what is said about it, copy the name and tell about its meaning either in the text or in a footnote.

And she called his name Moses and she said, “For out of the water I drew him.” (Exodus 2:10b ULT)

She called his name Moses (which sounds like ‘drawn out’), and she said, “For out of the water I drew him.”

(3) Or if readers need to understand the meaning of a name in order to understand what is said about it, and that name is used only once, translate the meaning of the name instead of copying the name.

She said, “Do I really continue to see, even after he has seen me?” Therefore, the well was called Beer Lahai Roi. (Genesis 16:13b-14a ULT)

She said, “Do I really continue to see, even after he has seen me?” Therefore, the well was called Well of the Living One who sees me.

(4) If a person or place has two different names, use one name most of the time and the other name only when the text tells about the person or place having more than one name or when it says something about why the person or place was given that name. Write a footnote when the source text uses the name that is used less frequently. For example, Paul is called “Saul” before Acts 13 and “Paul” after Acts 13. You could translate his name as “Paul” all of the time, except in Acts 13:9 where it talks about him having both names.

... a young man named Saul. (Acts 7:58b ULT)

... a young man named Paul 1

The footnote would look like:

[1] Most versions say “Saul” here, but most of the time in the Bible he is called “Paul.”

Then later in the story, you could translate this way:

But Saul, who is also called Paul, was filled with the Holy Spirit; (Acts 13:9)

But Saul, who is also called Paul, was filled with the Holy Spirit;

(5) Or if a person or place has two names, use whatever name is given in the source text, and add a footnote that gives the other name. For example, you could write “Saul” where the source text has “Saul” and “Paul” where the source text has “Paul.”

a young man named Saul (Acts 7:58 ULT)

a young man named Saul

The footnote would look like:

[1] This is the same man who is called Paul beginning in Acts 13.

Then later in the story, you could translate this way:

But Saul, who is also called Paul, was filled with the Holy Spirit; (Acts 13:9)

But Saul, who is also called Paul, was filled with the Holy Spirit;

Then after the story has explained the name change, you could translate this way.

It came about in Iconium that Paul and Barnabas entered together into the synagogue (Acts 14:1 ULT)

It came about in Iconium that Paul¹ and Barnabas entered together into the synagogue

The footnote would look like:

^[1] This is the same man who was called Saul before Acts 13.

Pharaoh's stubborn heart

Between chapters 4 and 14, there are 18 cases where Pharaoh's heart is described as strong (11x), heavy (6x), or hard (1x), and one case where the Egyptians' hearts are described as strong. These are metaphors for being stubborn, that is, being unwilling to obey Yahweh or even to do what is clearly in his own and Egypt's best interest. Many cultures have similar metaphors, but not all will use the same body part. Within these cases, six times there is a neutral description that Pharaoh was stubborn, without saying anyone made him so (7:13, 7:14, 7:22, 8:19, 9:7, 9:35); three times Pharaoh makes himself stubborn (8:15, 8:32, 9:34); and ten times Yahweh makes Pharaoh/the Egyptians stubborn (4:21, 7:3, 9:12, 10:1, 10:20, 10:27, 11:10, 14:4, 14:8, 14:17).

Why are the details of the construction of the dwelling in Exodus 25–32 repeated in Exodus 35–40?

In Exodus 25–32, God describes exactly how the dwelling was to be built. The details were repeated in Exodus 35–40 in the description of the actual construction. This showed that the people were to be careful to do exactly as God commanded.

Are the events in the order that they actually happened?

Most, but not all, of the events in the book of Exodus are told in the order that they actually happened. Translators may need to make it clear when the events are in an unusual order.

What does it mean that God "lived" among his people?

The book of Exodus presents God as living in the dwelling among the nation of Israel. God is everywhere, but he lived among the Israelites in a special way. God dwelled with the Israelites because they belonged to him. He promised to lead them and bless them. In return, the people were to worship him and honor him.; Exodus 1:1; 1:15; 2:18; 2:21; 2:22; 4:25; 6:14; 6:15; 6:16; 6:17; 6:18; 6:19; 6:20; 6:21; 6:22; 6:23; 6:24; 6:25; 12:37; 13:20; 14:2; 14:9; 15:22; 15:23; 15:27; Notes; 16:1; forever; 17:1; 17:7; 17:8; 17:10; 18:3; 18:4; 19:2; 24:1; 24:9; 24:14; 28:1; 31:2; 31:6; 34:11; 35:30; 35:34; 36:1; 38:21; 38:22; 38:23)

Hyperbole

Description

A speaker or writer can use exactly the same words to say something that he means as completely true, or as generally true, or as a hyperbole. This is why it can be hard to decide how to understand a statement. For example, the sentence below could mean three different things.

It rains here every night.

The speaker means this as literally true if he means that it really does rain here every night.

The speaker means this as a generalization if he means that it rains here most nights.

The speaker means this as a hyperbole if he wants to say that it rains more than it actually does, usually in order to express a strong attitude toward the amount or frequency of rain, such as being annoyed or being happy about it.

This page answers the question: What are hyperboles? What are generalizations? How can I translate them?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Hyperbole

In hyperbole, a figure of speech that uses exaggeration, a speaker deliberately describes something with an extreme or even unreal statement, usually to show his strong feeling or opinion about it. He expects people to understand that he is exaggerating.

They will not leave stone upon stone in you. (Luke 19:44b ULT)

This is an exaggeration. It means that the enemies will completely destroy Jerusalem.

Moses was educated in all the wisdom of the Egyptians. (Acts 7:22a ULT)

This hyperbole means that he had learned everything an Egyptian education could offer.

Generalization

This is a statement that is true most of the time or in most situations that it could apply to.

The one who ignores instruction will have poverty and shame, but honor will come to him who learns from correction. (Proverbs 13:18)

These generalizations tell about what normally happens to people who ignore instruction and what normally happens to people who learn from correction. There may be some exceptions to these statements, but they are generally true.

And when you pray, do not make useless repetitions as the Gentiles do, for they think that they will be heard because of their many words. (Matthew 6:7)

This generalization tells about what Gentiles were known for doing. Many Gentiles did this. It does not matter if a few did not. The point was that the hearers should not join in this well-known practice.

Even though a hyperbole or a generalization may have a strong-sounding word like "all," "always," "none," or "never," it does not necessarily mean exactly "all," "always," "none," or "never." It simply means "most," "most of the time," "hardly any," or "rarely."

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Readers need to be able to understand whether or not a statement is literally true.

If readers realize that a statement is not literally true, they need to be able to understand whether it is a hyperbole, a generalization, or a lie. (Though the Bible is completely true, it tells about people who did not always tell the truth.)

Examples From the Bible

Examples of Hyperbole

If your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life maimed ... (Mark 9:43a ULT)

When Jesus said to cut off your hand, he meant that we should do whatever extreme things we need to do in order not to sin. He used this hyperbole to show how extremely important it is to try to stop sinning.

The Philistines gathered together to fight against Israel with 3,000 chariots, 6,000 men to drive the chariots, and troops as numerous as the sand on the seashore. (1 Samuel 13:5a ULT)

The bolded phrase is an exaggeration for the purpose of expressing the emotion that the Philistine army was overwhelming in number. It means that there were many, many soldiers in the Philistine army.

But as his anointing teaches you everything and is true and is not a lie, and just as it has taught you, remain in him. (1 John 2:27b ULT)

This is a hyperbole. It expresses the assurance that God's Spirit teaches us about all things that we need to know. God's Spirit does not teach us about everything that it is possible to know.

When they found him, they also said to him, "Everyone is looking for you." (Mark 1:37 ULT)

The disciples probably did not mean that everyone in the city was looking for Jesus, but that many people were looking for him, or that all of Jesus' closest friends there were looking for him. This is an exaggeration for the purpose of expressing the emotion that they and many others were worried about him.

Examples of Generalization

Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? (John 1:46b ULT)

This rhetorical question is meant to express the generalization that there is nothing good in Nazareth. The people there had a reputation for being uneducated and not strictly religious. Of course, there were exceptions.

One of them, of their own prophets, has said, "Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy bellies." (Titus 1:12 ULT)

This is a generalization that means that Cretans had a reputation to be like this because, in general, this is how Cretans behaved. It is possible that there were exceptions.

A lazy hand causes a person to be poor, but the hand of the diligent person gains riches. (Proverbs 10:4 ULT)

This is generally true, and it reflects the experience of most people. It is possible that there are exceptions in some circumstances.

Caution

- Do not assume that something is an exaggeration just because it seems to be impossible. God does miraculous things.

They saw Jesus walking on the sea and coming near the boat. (John 6:19b ULT)

This is not hyperbole. Jesus really walked on the water. It is a literal statement.

- Do not assume that the word “all” is always a generalization that means “most.”
 - > Yahweh is righteous in all his ways
 - > and gracious in all he does. (Psalms 145:17 ULT)

Yahweh is always righteous. This is a completely true statement.

Translation Strategies

If the hyperbole or generalization would be natural and people would understand it and not think that it is a lie, consider using it. If not, here are other options.

- (1) Express the meaning without the exaggeration.
- (2) For a generalization, show that it is a generalization by using a phrase like “in general” or “in most cases.”
- (3) For a hyperbole or a generalization, add a word like “many” or “almost” to show that the hyperbole or generalization is not meant to be exact.
- (4) For a hyperbole or a generalization that has a word like “all,” “always,” “none,” or “never,” consider deleting that word.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Express the meaning without the exaggeration.

The Philistines gathered together to fight against Israel: 3,000 chariots, 6,000 men to drive the chariots, and troops as numerous as the sand on the seashore. (1 Samuel 13:5a ULT)

The Philistines gathered together to fight against Israel: 3,000 chariots, 6,000 men to drive the chariots, and a great number of troops.

- (2) For a generalization, show that it is a generalization by using a phrase like “in general” or “in most cases.”

The one who ignores instruction will have poverty and shame. (Proverbs 13:18a ULT)

In general, the one who ignores instruction will have poverty and shame

When you pray, do not make useless repetitions as the Gentiles do, for they think that they will be heard because of their many words. (Matthew 6:7 ULT)

The whole country of Judea and all the people of Jerusalem went out to him. (Mark 1:5a ULT)

Almost all the country of Judea and almost all the people of Jerusalem went out to him.
or:

Many of the country of Judea and many of the people of Jerusalem went out to him.

(4) For a hyperbole or a generalization that has a word like “all,” “always,” “none,” or “never,” consider deleting that word.

Hypothetical Situations

Consider these phrases: “If the sun stopped shining ...” “What if the sun stopped shining ...” “Suppose the sun stopped shining ...” and “If only the sun had not stopped shining.” We use such expressions to set up hypothetical situations, imagining what might have happened or what could happen in the future but probably will not. We also use them to express regret or wishes. Hypothetical expressions occur often in the Bible. You (the translator) need to translate them in a way that people will know that the event did not actually happen and so that they will understand why the event was imagined.

This page answers the question: What is a hypothetical situation?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/writing-intro]]

Description

Hypothetical situations are situations that are not real. They can be in the past, present, or future. Hypothetical situations in the past and present have not happened, are not happening now, and ones in the future are not expected to happen.

People sometimes tell about conditions and what would happen if those conditions were met, but they know that these things have not happened or probably will not happen. (The conditions comprise a phrase that starts with “if.”)

- If he had lived to be 100 years old, he would have seen his grandson’s grandson. (But he did not.)
- If he lived to be 100 years old, he would still be alive today. (But he is not.)
- If he lives to be 100 years old, he will see his grandson’s grandson. (But he probably will not.)

People sometimes express wishes about things that have not happened or that are not expected to happen.

- I wish he had come.
- I wish he were here.
- I wish he would come.

People sometimes express regrets about things that have not happened or that are not expected to happen.

- If only he had come.
- If only he were here.
- If only he would come.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

- Translators need to recognize the different kinds of hypothetical situations in the Bible and understand that they are unreal.
- Translators need to know their own language’s ways of talking about different kinds of hypothetical situations.

Examples From the Bible

Hypothetical Situations in the Past

“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! If the mighty deeds had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.” (Matthew 11:21 ULT)

Here in Matthew 11:21, Jesus said that if the people living in the ancient cities of Tyre and Sidon had been able to see the miracles that he performed, they would have repented long ago. The people of Tyre and Sidon did not actually see his miracles, and they did not repent. He said this to rebuke the people of Chorazin and Bethsaida who had seen his miracles and yet did not repent.

Martha then said to Jesus, “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.” (John 11:21 ULT)

Martha said this to express her wish that Jesus would have come sooner so that her brother would not have died. But Jesus did not come sooner and her brother did die.

Hypothetical Situations in the Present

And no man puts new wine into old wineskins. But if he did do that, the new wine would burst the wineskins, and it would be spilled out, and the wineskins would be destroyed. (Luke 5:37 ULT)

Jesus told about what would happen if a person were to put new wine into old wineskins. But no one would do that. He used this imaginary situation as an example to show that there are times when it is unwise to mix new things with old things. He did this so that people could understand why his disciples were not fasting as people traditionally did.

Jesus said to them, “What man would there be among you, who, if he had just one sheep, and if this sheep fell into a deep hole on the Sabbath, would not grasp hold of it and lift it out?” (Matthew 12:11 ULT)

Jesus asked the religious leaders what they would do on the Sabbath if one of their sheep fell into a hole. He was not saying that their sheep would fall into a hole. He used this imaginary situation to show them that they were wrong to judge him for healing people on the Sabbath.

Hypothetical Situation in the Future

Unless those days are shortened, no flesh would be saved. But for the sake of the elect, those days will be shortened. (Matthew 24:22 ULT)

Jesus was talking about a future time when very bad things would happen. He told what would happen if those days of trouble were to last a long time. He did this to show how bad those days will be—so bad that if they lasted a long time, no one would be saved. But then he clarified that God will shorten those days of trouble so that the elect (those he has chosen) will be saved.

Expressing Emotion About a Hypothetical Situation

People sometimes talk about hypothetical situations in order to express regrets and wishes. Regrets are about the past and wishes are about the present and future.

The Israelites said to them, “If only we had died by Yahweh’s hand in the land of Egypt when we were sitting by the pots of meat and were eating bread to the full. For you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill our whole community with hunger.” (Exodus 16:3 ULT)

Here the Israelites were afraid that they would have to suffer and die of hunger in the wilderness, and so they wished that they had stayed in Egypt and died there with full stomachs. They were complaining, expressing regret that this had not happened.

I know what you have done, and that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish that you were either cold or hot! (Revelation 3:15 ULT)

Jesus wished that the people were either hot or cold, but they are neither. He was rebuking them, expressing anger at this.

Translation Strategies

Find out how people speaking your language show:

- that something could have happened, but did not.
- that something could be true now, but is not.
- that something could happen in the future, but will not unless something changes.
- that they wish for something, but it does not happen.
- that they regret that something did not happen.

Use your language's ways of showing these kinds of things.

Idiom

An idiom is a figure of speech made up of a group of words that, as a whole, has a meaning that is different from what one would understand from the meanings of the individual words. Someone from outside of the culture usually cannot understand an idiom without someone inside the culture explaining its true meaning. Every language uses idioms. Some English examples are:

- You are pulling my leg. (This means, “You are teasing me by telling me something that is not true.”)
- Do not push the envelope. (This means, “Do not take a matter to its extreme.”)
- This house is under water. (This means, “The debt owed for this house is greater than its actual value.”)
- We are painting the town red. (This means, “We are going around town tonight celebrating very intensely.”)

This page answers the question: What are idioms and how can I translate them?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Description

An idiom is a phrase that has a special meaning to the people of the language or culture who use it. Its meaning is different than what a person would understand from the meanings of the individual words that form the phrase.

He set his face to go to Jerusalem. (Luke 9:51b ULT)

The words “set his face” is an idiom that means “decided.”

Sometimes people may be able to understand an idiom from another culture, but it might sound like a strange way to express the meaning.

I am not worthy that you would come under my roof. (Luke 7:6b ULT)

The phrase “come under my roof” is an idiom that means “enter my house.”

Put these words into your ears. (Luke 9:44a ULT)

This idiom means “Listen carefully and remember what I say.”

Purpose: An idiom is probably created in a culture somewhat by accident when someone describes something in an unusual way. But, when that unusual way communicates the message powerfully and people understand it clearly, other people start to use it. After a while, it becomes a normal way of talking in that language.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- People can easily misunderstand idioms in the original languages of the Bible if they do not know the cultures that produced the Bible.
- People can easily misunderstand idioms that are in the source language Bibles if they do not know the cultures that made those translations.
- It is useless to translate idioms literally (according to the meaning of each word) when the target language audience will not understand what they mean.

Examples From the Bible

Then all Israel came to David at Hebron and said, “Look, we are your flesh and bone.” (1 Chronicles 11:1 ULT)

This means, “We and you belong to the same race, the same family.”

▮ The children of Israel went out with a high hand. (Exodus 14:8b ASV)

This means, "The Israelites went out defiantly."

▮ the one who lifts up my head (Psalm 3:3b ULT)

This means, "the one who helps me."

Translation Strategies

If the idiom would be clearly understood in your language, consider using it. If not, here are some other options.

- (1) Translate the meaning plainly without using an idiom.
- (2) Use a different idiom that people use in your own language that has the same meaning.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Translate the meaning plainly without using an idiom.

▮ Then all Israel came to David at Hebron and said, "Look, we are your flesh and bone." (1 Chronicles 11:1 ULT)

▮ Look, we all belong to the same nation.

▮ Then he set his face to go to Jerusalem. (Luke 9:51b ULT)

▮ He started to travel to Jerusalem, determined to reach it.

▮ I am not worthy that you would come under my roof. (Luke 7:6b ULT)

▮ I am not worthy that you should enter my house.

- (2) Use an idiom that people use in your own language that has the same meaning.

▮ Put these words into your ears. (Luke 9:44a ULT)

▮ Be all ears when I say these words to you.

▮ My eyes grow dim from grief. (Psalm 6:7a ULT)

▮ I am crying my eyes out

Information Structure

Description

Different languages arrange the parts of the sentence in different ways. In English, a sentence normally has the subject first, then the verb, then the object, then other modifiers, like this: Peter painted his house yesterday.

Many other languages normally put these things in a different order such as: Painted yesterday Peter his house.

Although all languages have a normal order for parts of a sentence, this order can change depending on what information the speaker or writer considers to be the most important.

Suppose that someone is answering the question, "What did Peter paint yesterday?" The person asking the question already knows all of the information in our sentence above except for the object, "his house." Therefore, that becomes the most important part of the information, and a person answering in English might say "His house is what Peter painted (yesterday)."

This puts the most important information first, which is normal for English. Many Other Languages would normally put the most important information last. In the flow of a text, the most important information is usually what the writer considers to be new information for the reader. In some languages the new information comes first, and in others it comes last.

This page answers the question: How do languages arrange the parts of a sentence?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentences\]\]](#)

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Different languages arrange the parts of a sentence in different ways. If you (the translator) copy the order of the parts of a sentence from the source, it may not make sense in your language.
- Different languages put important or new information in different places in the sentence. If you keep the important or new information in the same place that it had in the source language, it may be confusing or give the wrong message in your language.

Examples From the Bible

They all ate until they were satisfied. (Mark 6:42 ULT)

The parts of this sentence were in a different order in the original Greek source language. They were like this: And they ate all and they were satisfied.

In English, this means that the people ate everything. But the next verse says that they took up twelve baskets full of leftover pieces of food. In order for this to not be so confusing, the translators of the ULT put the parts of the sentence in the right order for English.

And the day began to end, and the twelve came to him and said, "Send the crowd away so that, going into the surrounding villages and countryside, they may find lodging and food, because we are here in an desolate place." (Luke 9:12 ULT)

In this verse, what the disciples say to Jesus puts the important information first, that he should send the crowd away. In languages that put the important information last, people would understand that the reason that they gave, being in an isolated place, is the most important part of their message to Jesus. They might then think that the disciples are afraid of the spirits in that place, and that sending the people to buy food is a way to protect them from the spirits. That is the wrong message.

Woe to you when all men speak well of you, for their fathers treated the false prophets in the same way. (Luke 6:26 ULT)

In this verse, the most important part of the information is first, that “woe” is coming on the people for what they are doing. The reason that supports that warning comes last. This could be confusing for people who expect the important information to come last.

Translation Strategies

- (1) Study how your language arranges the parts of a sentence, and use that order in your translation.
- (2) Study where your language puts the new or important information, and rearrange the order of information so that it follows the way it is done in your language.

Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Study how your language arranges the parts of a sentence, and use that order in your translation.

This is the verse in the original Greek order:

And he went out from there and came to the hometown his, and they followed him the disciples his. (Mark 6:1)

The ULT has put this into the normal order for English:

Now Jesus went out from there and came to his hometown, and his disciples followed him. (Mark 6:1 ULT)

- (2) Study where your language puts the new or important information and rearrange the order of information so that it follows the way it is done in your language.

And the day began to end, and the twelve came and said to him, “Send the crowd away so that, going into the surrounding villages and countryside, they may find lodging and food, because we are here in a desolate place.” (Luke 9:12 ULT)

If your language puts the important information last, you can change the order of the verse.

Now the day was about to come to an end, and the twelve came to him and said, “Because we are here in an desolate place, send the crowd away that they may go into the surrounding villages and countryside to find lodging and food.”

Woe to you, when all men speak well of you, for that is how their ancestors treated the false prophets. (Luke 6:26 ULT)

If your language puts the important information last, you can change the order of the verse.

When all men speak well of you, which is just as people’s ancestors treated the false prophets, then woe to you!

Introduction of a New Event

Description

When people tell a story, they tell about an event or a series of events. Often they put certain information at the beginning of the story, such as who the story is about, when it happened, and where it happened. This information that the writer gives before the events of the story begin is called the setting of the story. Some new events in a story also have a setting because they might involve new people, new times, and new places. In some languages, people also tell if they saw the event or heard about it from someone else.

When your people tell about events, what information do they give at the beginning? Is there a certain order that they put it in? In your translation, you will need to follow the way your language introduces new information at the beginning of a story or a new event rather than the way the source language did that. In this way your translation will sound natural and communicate clearly in your language.

This page answers the question: How do we introduce a new event in a story?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/writing-intro\]\]](#)

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-events\]\]](#)

Examples From the Bible

In the days of Herod, king of Judea, there was a certain priest named Zechariah, from the division of Abijah. And his wife was from the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. (Luke 1:5 ULT)

The verses above introduce a story about Zechariah. The first bolded phrase tells when it happened, and the next two bolded phrases introduce the main people. The next two verses go on to explain that Zechariah and Elizabeth were old and did not have any children. All of this is the setting. Then the phrase “And it happened that” in Luke 1:8 helps to introduce the first event in this story:

And it happened that in his performing as priest before God, in the order of his division, according to the custom of the priesthood, he came up by lot to enter into the temple of the Lord to burn incense. (Luke 1:8-9 ULT)

The birth of Jesus Christ happened in the following way. His mother, Mary, was engaged to marry Joseph, but before they came together, she was found to be pregnant by the Holy Spirit. (Matthew 1:18 ULT)

The bolded sentence above makes it explicit that a story about Jesus is being introduced. The story will tell about how the birth of Jesus happened.

Now after Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, learned men from the east arrived in Jerusalem. (Matthew 2:1 ULT)

The bolded phrase above shows that the events concerning the learned men happened after Jesus was born.

Now in those days John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness of Judea. (Matthew 3:1-22 ULT)

The bolded phrase above shows that John the Baptist came preaching around the time of the previous events. It is probably very general and refers to when Jesus lived in Nazareth.

Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan River to John, to be baptized by him. (Matthew 3:13 ULT)

The word “then” shows that Jesus came to the Jordan River some time after the events in the previous verses.

Now there was a man from the Pharisees whose name was Nicodemus, a Jewish leader. This man came to Jesus at night. (John 3:1-2a ULT)

The author first introduced the new person and then told about what he did and when he did it. In some languages, it might be more natural to tell about the time first.

6 Noah was 600 years old when the flood came upon the earth. 7 Noah, his sons, his wife, and his sons' wives went into the ark together because of the waters of the flood. (Genesis 7:6-7 ULT)

Verse 6 is a statement of the events that happen in the rest of chapter 7. Chapter 6 already told about how God told Noah that there would be a flood, and how Noah prepared for it. Chapter 7 verse 6 introduces the part of the story that tells about Noah and his family and the animals going into the ship, the rain starting, and the rain flooding the earth. Some languages might need to make it clear that this verse simply introduces the event, or move this verse after verse 7. Verse 6 is not one of the events of the story. The people went into the ship before the flood came.

Translation Strategies

If the information given at the beginning of a new event is clear and natural to your readers, consider translating it as it is in the ULT or UST. If not, consider one of these strategies:

- (1) Put the information that introduces the event in the order that your people put it.
- (2) If readers would expect certain information but it is not in the Bible, consider using an indefinite word or phrase to fill in that information, such as: "another time" or "someone."
- (3) If the introduction is a summary of the whole event, use your language's way of showing that it is a summary.
- (4) If it would be strange in the target language to give a summary of the event at the beginning, indicate that the event would actually happen later in the story.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Put the information that introduces the event in the order that your people put it.

Now there was a man from the Pharisees whose name was Nicodemus, a Jewish leader. This man came to Jesus at night. (John 3:1-2a ULT)

There was a man whose name was Nicodemus. He was a Pharisee and a member of the Jewish Council. One night he came to Jesus.

One night a man named Nicodemus, who was a Pharisee and a member of the Jewish Council, came to Jesus.

As he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alpheus, sitting at the tax collector's tent, and he said to him ... (Mark 2:14a ULT)

As he passed by, Levi the son of Alpheus was sitting at the tax collector's tent. Jesus saw him and and said to him ...

As he passed by, there was a man sitting at the tax collector's tent. His name was Levi, and he was the son of Alpheus. Jesus saw him and said to him ...

As he passed by, there was a tax collector sitting at the tax collector’s tent. His name was Levi, and he was the son of Alpheus. Jesus saw him and said to him ...

(2) If readers would expect certain information, but it is not in the Bible, consider using an indefinite word or phrase such as “another time,” or “someone.”

Noah was 600 years old when the flood came upon the earth. (Genesis 7:6 ULT) — If people expect to be told something about when the new event happened, the phrase “after that” can help them see that it happened after the events already mentioned.

After that, when Noah was 600 years old, the flood came upon the earth.

Again he began to teach beside the sea. (Mark 4:1a ULT) — In chapter 3 Jesus was teaching at someone’s house. Readers may need to be told that this new event happened at another time, or that Jesus actually went to the sea.

Another time Jesus began to teach people again beside the sea.

Jesus went to the sea and began to teach people again there.

(3) If the introduction is a summary of the whole event, use your language’s way of showing that it is a summary.

Noah was 600 years old when the flood came upon the earth. (Genesis 7:6 ULT)

Now this is what happened when Noah was 600 years old and the flood came upon the earth.

This part tells about what happened when the flood came upon the earth. It happened when Noah was 600 years old.

(4) If it would be strange in the target language to give a summary of the event at the beginning, show that the event will actually happen later in the story.

Noah was 600 years old when the flood came upon the earth. Noah, his sons, his wife, and his sons’ wives went into the ark together because of the waters of the flood. (Genesis 7:6-7 ULT)

Now this is what happened when Noah was 600 years old. Noah, his sons, his wife, and his sons’ wives went into the ark together because God had said that the waters of the flood would come.

Introduction of New and Old Participants

Description

The first time that people or things are mentioned in a story, they are new participants. After that, whenever they are mentioned, they are old participants.

Now there was a man from the Pharisees whose name was Nicodemus ... This man came to Jesus at night ... Jesus replied and said to him ... (John 3:1, 2a, 3a)

The first bolded phrase introduces Nicodemus as a new participant. After being introduced, he is then referred to as “This man” and “him” when he has become an old participant.

This page answers the question: Why cannot the readers of my translation understand who the author was writing about?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-partsofspeech]]
[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/writing-intro]]

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

In order to make your translation clear and natural, it is necessary to refer to the participants in such a way that people will know if they are new participants or participants that they have already read about. Different languages have different ways of doing this. You must follow the way that your language does this, not the way that the source language does this.

Examples From the Bible

New Participants

Often the most important new participant is introduced with a phrase that says that he existed, such as “There was a man,” as in the example below. The phrase “There was” tells us that this man existed. The word “a” in “a man” tells us that the author is speaking about him for the first time. The rest of the sentence tells where this man was from, who his family was, and what his name was.

Now there was a man from Zorah, of the families of the Danites, and his name was Manoah. (Judges 13:2a ULT)

A new participant who is not the most important participant is often introduced in relation to the more important person who was already introduced. In the example below, Manoah’s wife is simply referred to as “his wife.” This phrase shows her relationship to him.

Now there was one man from Zorah, of the families of the Danites, and his name was Manoah. His wife was barren and she had never given birth. (Judges 13:2 ULT)

Sometimes a new participant is introduced simply by name because the author assumes that the readers know who the person is. In the first verse of 1 Kings, the author assumes that his readers know who King David is, so there is no need to explain who he is.

Now King David was old, he had advanced in the days, and they covered him with the garments, but it was not warm enough for him. (1 Kings 1:1 ULT)

Old Participants

A person who has already been brought into the story can be referred to with a pronoun after that. In the example below, Manoah is referred to with the pronoun “his,” and his wife is referred to with the pronoun “she.”

His wife was barren and she had never given birth. (Judges 13:2 ULT)

Old participants can also be referred to in other ways, depending on what is happening in the story. In the example below, the story is about bearing a son, and Manoah’s wife is referred to by the noun phrase “the wife.”

The angel of Yahweh appeared to the wife and he said to her ... (Judges 13:3a ULT)

If the old participant has not been mentioned for a while, or if there could be confusion between participants, the author may use the participant’s name again. In the example below, Manoah is referred to by his name, which the author has not used since verse 2.

Then Manoah prayed to Yahweh. (Judges 13:8a ULT)

Some languages place an affix on the verb that tells something about the subject. In some of those languages, people do not always use noun phrases or pronouns for old participants when they are the subject of the sentence. The marker on the verb gives enough information for the listener to understand who the subject is. (See Verbs.)

Translation Strategies

- (1) If the participant is new, use one of your language’s ways of introducing new participants.
- (2) If it is not clear to whom a pronoun refers, use a noun phrase or name.
- (3) If an old participant is referred to by name or a noun phrase, and people wonder if this is another new participant, try using a pronoun instead. If a pronoun is not needed because people would understand it clearly from the context, then leave out the pronoun.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) If the participant is new, use one of your language’s ways of introducing new participants.

Then Joseph, who was called Barnabas by the apostles (which is translated as Son of Encouragement), a Levite from Cyprus by birth ... (Acts 4:36-37 ULT) — Starting the sentence with Joseph’s name when he has not been introduced yet might be confusing in some languages.

There was a man from Cyprus who was a Levite. His name was Joseph, and he was given the name Barnabas by the apostles (that is, being interpreted, Son of Encouragement). There was a Levite from Cyprus whose name was Joseph. The apostles gave him the name Barnabas, which means Son of encouragement.

- (2) If it is not clear who a pronoun refers to, use a noun phrase or name.

And it happened that when he was praying in a certain place, when he stopped, one of his disciples said to him, “Lord, teach us to pray just as John also taught his disciples.” (Luke 11:1 ULT) — Since this is the first verse in a chapter, readers might wonder who “he” refers to.

It happened when Jesus finished praying in a certain place, that one of his disciples said, “Lord, teach us to pray just as John taught his disciples.”

(3) If an old participant is referred to by name or a noun phrase, and people wonder if this is another new participant, try using a pronoun instead. If a pronoun is not needed because people would understand it clearly from the context, then leave out the pronoun.

Joseph's master took Joseph and put him in prison, in the place where all the king's prisoners were put, and Joseph stayed there. (Genesis 39:20) — Since Joseph is the main person in the story, some languages might prefer the pronoun.

Joseph's master took him and put him in prison, in the place where all the king's prisoners were put, and he stayed there in the prison.

Irony

Description

Irony is a figure of speech in which the sense that the speaker intends to communicate is actually the opposite of the literal meaning of the words. Sometimes a person does this by using someone else's words, but in a way that communicates that he does not agree with them. People do this to emphasize how different something is from what it should be, or how someone else's belief about something is wrong or foolish. It is often humorous.

This page answers the question: What is irony and how can I translate it?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Then Jesus answered and said to them, "People who are well do not have need of a physician, but those who have sickness. I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."
(Luke 5:31-32 ULT)

When Jesus spoke of "righteous people," he was not referring to people who were truly righteous, but to people who wrongly believed that they were righteous. By using irony, Jesus communicated that they were wrong to think that they were better than others and did not need to repent.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

If someone does not realize that a speaker is using irony, he will think that the speaker actually believes what he is saying. He will understand the passage to mean the opposite of what it was intended to mean.

Examples From the Bible

How well you reject the commandment of God so that you may keep your tradition! (Mark 7:9b ULT)

Here Jesus praises the Pharisees for doing something that is obviously wrong. Through irony, he communicates the opposite of praise: He communicates that the Pharisees, who take great pride in keeping the commandments, are so far from God that they do not even recognize that their traditions are breaking God's commandments. The use of irony makes the Pharisee's sin more obvious and startling.

"Present your case," says Yahweh; "present your best arguments for your idols," says the King of Jacob. "Let them bring us their own arguments; have them come forward and declare to us what will happen, so we may know these things well. Have them tell us of earlier predictive declarations, so we can reflect on them and know how they were fulfilled." (Isaiah 41:21-22 ULT)

People worshiped idols as if their idols had knowledge or power, and Yahweh was angry at them for doing that. So he used irony and challenged their idols to tell what would happen in the future. He knew that the idols could not do this, but by speaking as if they could, he mocked the idols, making their inability more obvious, and rebuked the people for worshipping them.

Can you lead light and darkness to their places of work?
Can you find the way back to their houses for them?
Undoubtedly you know, for you were born then; "the number of your days is so large!" (Job 38:20-21 ULT)

Job thought that he was wise. Yahweh used irony to show Job that he was not so wise. The two phrases in bold above are irony. They emphasize the opposite of what they say, because they are so obviously false. They emphasize that Job could not possibly answer God's questions about the creation of light because Job was not born until many, many years later.

Already you are satisfied! Already you have become rich! You began to reign apart from us, and I wish you really did reign, so that we also might reign with you. (1 Corinthians 4:8 ULT)

The Corinthians considered themselves to be very wise, self-sufficient, and not in need of any instruction from the Apostle Paul. Paul used irony, speaking as if he agreed with them, to show how proudly they were acting and how far from being wise they really were.

Translation Strategies

If the irony would be understood correctly in your language, translate it as it is stated. If not, here are some other strategies.

(1) Translate it in a way that shows that the speaker is saying what someone else believes.

(2) The irony is not found in the literal words of the speaker, but instead the true meaning is found in the opposite of the literal meaning of the speaker's words.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Translate it in a way that shows that the speaker is saying what someone else believes.

How well you reject the commandment of God so that you may keep your tradition! (Mark 7:9a ULT)

You think that you are doing well when you reject God's commandment so you may keep your tradition!

You act like it is good to reject God's commandment so you may keep your tradition!

I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. (Luke 5:32 ULT)

I did not come to call people who think that they are righteous to repentance, but to call sinners to repentance.

(2) Translate the actual, intended meaning of the statement of irony.

How well you reject the commandment of God so that you may keep your tradition! (Mark 7:9a ULT)

You are doing a terrible thing when you reject the commandment of God so you may keep your tradition!

"Present your case," says Yahweh; "present your best arguments for your idols," says the King of Jacob. "Let them bring us their own arguments; have them come forward and declare to us what will happen, so we may know these things well. Have them tell us of earlier predictive declarations, so we can reflect on them and know how they were fulfilled." (Isaiah 41:21-22 ULT)

'Present your case,' says Yahweh; 'present your best arguments for your idols,' says the King of Jacob. Your idols cannot bring us their own arguments or come forward to declare to us what will happen so we may know these things well. We cannot hear them because they cannot speak to tell us their earlier predictive declarations, so we cannot reflect on them and know how they were fulfilled.

Can you lead light and darkness to their places of work?

Can you find the way back to their houses for them?

Undoubtedly you know, for you were born then;
the number of your days is so large! (Job 38:20-21 ULT)

Can you lead light and darkness to their places of work? Can you find the way back to their houses for them? You act like you know how light and darkness were created, as if you were there; as if you are as old as creation, but you are not!

Kinship

Description

This page answers the question: What are kinship terms and how can I translate them?

Kinship terms refer to those words used to describe people related to one another in familial relationships. These terms vary widely in their specificity from language to language. They range from the (Western) nuclear or immediate family (father-son, husband-wife) out to broad clan relationships in other cultures.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Depending on the language translators may need to use specific terms to designate the accurate kinship relationship. In some languages a different term may be used based on siblings' birth order. In others, the side of the family (father's or mother's), age, marital status, etc. may determine the term used. Different terms may be used based on the gender of the speaker and/or addressee. Translators may need to make sure they know the exact relationship between two related people in the Bible to find the correct term. Sometimes these terms are difficult even for native speakers to remember and translators may need to seek community help in finding the correct term. Another complicating issue is that the Bible may not give enough information about the relationship for translators to determine the correct term in the language being translated into. In this case, translators will have to use a more general term or simply pick a satisfactory term based on the limited information available.

Sometimes terms that seem like kinship terms are used for people who are not necessarily related. For instance, an older person may refer to a younger man or woman as "my son" or "my daughter."

Examples from the Bible

Then Yahweh said to Cain, "Where is Abel your brother?" He said, "I do not know. Am I my brother's keeper?" (Genesis 4:9 ULT)

Abel was Cain's younger brother.

Jacob sent and called Rachel and Leah to the field to his flock and said to them, "I see your father's attitude toward me has changed, but the God of my father has been with me." (Genesis 31:4-5 ULT)

Jacob is referring here to his father-in-law. In some languages there may be a specific term for a man's father-in-law, however, in this case it is better to retain the form your father as Jacob may be using it to distance himself from Laban.

And Moses was shepherding the flock of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian. (Exodus3:1a ULT)

Unlike the previous instance, if your language has a term for a man's father-in-law this is a good place to use it.

And his sister stationed herself at a distance to know what would be done to him. (Exodus 2:4 ULT)

From context we know that this was Miriam, Moses's older sister. In some languages this may require a specific term. In others, the term for older sister may be only used when the younger sibling is addressing and/or referring to his or her sister.

Then she and her daughters-in-law arose to return from the fields of Moab (Ruth 1:6a ULT)

Ruth & Orpah are Naomi's daughters-in-law.

Then she said, “Look, your sister-in-law has turned back to her people and to her gods.” (Ruth 1:15 ULT)

Orpah had been the wife of Ruth’s husband’s brother. This may be a different term in your language than if she had been Ruth’s husband’s sister.

Then Boaz said to Ruth, “Will you not listen to me, my daughter?” (Ruth 2:8a ULT)

Boaz is not Ruth’s father; he is simply using the term to address a younger woman.

And behold, your relative Elizabeth—she also has conceived a son in her old age, and this is the sixth month for her who was called barren. (Luke 1:36 ULT)

While the KJV translated this as cousin, the term simply means a related woman.

Translation Strategies

(1) Find out the exact relationship specified and translate using the term your language uses.

(2) If the text does not specify the relationship as clearly as your language would, either:

(a) settle on a more general term.

(b) use a specific term if required by your language, choosing the one that is most likely to be correct.

Translation Strategies Applied

This is not an issue in English, so the following illustrations draw on other languages.

In Korean, there are several terms for brother and sister; the use of them depends on the speaker’s (or referent’s) sex and birth order. Examples are from the Korean Living Bible, found on biblegateway.com Genesis 30:1 Rachel is jealous of her “eonni,” which is the term a woman uses for her older sister.

Genesis 34:31 Simeon and Levi refer to Dinah as “nui,” a general term for sister.

Genesis 37:16 Joseph refers to his brothers as “hyeong,” which is the term a man uses for his older brother(s).

Genesis 45:12 Joseph refers to Benjamin as “dongsaeng,” which roughly means sibling, usually younger.

In Russian, in-law terms are complex. For instance, “nevěstka” is the term for a brother’s (or brother-in-law’s) wife; a woman uses the same term for her daughter-in-law but her husband would call the same daughter-in-law “snoxá.” Examples from the Russian Synodal Version.

Genesis 38:25 Tamar sends a message to her father-in-law, Judah. The term used is “svekor.” This is used for a woman’s husband’s father.

Exodus 3:1 Moses is watching his father-in-law’s herd. The term used is “test’.” This is used for a man’s wife’s father.

Litany

Description

A litany is a figure of speech in which the various components of a thing are listed in a series of very similar statements. The speaker does this to indicate that what he is saying should be understood as comprehensive and without exceptions.

This page answers the question: What is the figure of speech called litany?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Many languages do not use litanies, and readers could be confused by them. They may wonder why the speaker seems to be saying the same thing over and over again.

Examples From the Bible

Though they dig into Sheol, there my hand will take them. Though they climb up to heaven, there I will bring them down. Though they hide on the top of Carmel, there I will search and take them. Though they are hidden from my sight in the bottom of the sea, there will I give orders to the serpent, and it will bite them. Though they go into captivity, driven by their enemies before them, there will I give orders to the sword, and it will kill them. (Amos 9:2-4 ULT)

In this passage Yahweh is telling the people of Israel that when he punishes them, none of them will escape.

But you should not have looked on the day of your brother, on the day of his misfortune. And you should not have rejoiced over the sons of Judah in the day of their perishing. And you should not have made your mouth great in a day of distress. You should not have entered the gate of my people in the day of their calamity. Yes, you! You should not have looked on his evil in the day of his calamity. And you women should not have looted his wealth in the day of his calamity. And you should not have stood at the crossroads to cut down his fugitives. And you should not have delivered up his survivors in a day of distress. (Obadiah 1:12-14)

In this passage Yahweh is telling the people of Edom that they should have helped the people of Judah when they were conquered by the Babylonians.

Translation Strategies

If the litany is understood as it is in the ULT, then translate the litany as it is. If it is not understood, then try one or more of the following strategies.

- (1) Often in the Bible there will be a general statement at the beginning or end of a litany that sums up its overall meaning. You can format that statement in a way that will show that it is a summary statement that gives the meaning of the litany.
- (2) You can put each sentence of the litany on a separate line. Also, if each sentence in the litany has two parts, you can format the litany so that the equivalent parts of each sentence line up. Use this or any other type of formatting that will show that each sentence is reinforcing the same meaning.
- (3) You can eliminate words like “and,” “but,” and “or” at the beginning of sentences so that it will be clearer that the component parts of the litany are all being listed in a row.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) combined with (3):

Often in the Bible there will be a general statement at the beginning or end of a litany that sums up its overall meaning. You can format that statement in a way that will show that it is a summary statement that gives the meaning of the litany;

You can eliminate words like “and,” “but,” and “or” at the beginning of sentences so that it will be clearer that the component parts of the litany are all being listed in a row.

You did nothing to help the Israelites when strangers carried away their wealth. They conquered all the cities of Judah, and they even plundered Jerusalem. And you were just as bad as those foreigners, because you did nothing to help:

You should not have looked on the day of your brother, on the day of his misfortune. You should not have rejoiced over the sons of Judah in the day of their perishing. You should not have made your mouth great in a day of distress. You should not have entered the gate of my people in the day of their calamity. Yes, you! You should not have looked on his evil in the day of his calamity. You women should not have looted his wealth in the day of his calamity. You should not have stood at the crossroads to cut down his fugitives. You should not have delivered up his survivors in a day of distress. (Obadiah 1:11-14)

In the above example, verse 11 provides the summary and meaning for the litany that follows in verses 12-14.

(1) combined with (2):

Often in the Bible there will be a general statement at the beginning or end of a litany that sums up its overall meaning. You can format that statement in a way that will show that it is a summary statement that gives the meaning of the litany;

You can put each sentence of the litany on a separate line. Also, if each sentence in the litany has two parts, you can format the litany so that the equivalent parts of each sentence line up. Use this or any other type of formatting that will show that each sentence is reinforcing the same meaning.

Not one of them will get away, not one of them will escape:

Though they dig into Sheol,	there my hand will take them.
Though they climb up to heaven,	there I will bring them down.
Though they hide on the top of Carmel,	there I will search and take them.
Though they are hidden from my sight in the bottom of the sea,	there will I give orders to the serpent, and it will bite them.
Though they go into captivity, driven by their enemies before them,	there will I give orders to the sword, and it will kill them.

(Amos 9:1b-4 ULT)

In the above example, the sentence before the litany explains its overall meaning. That sentence can be placed as an introduction. The second half of each sentence can be formatted in a descending staircase pattern as above, or lined up evenly like the first half of each sentence, or in another way. Use whatever format best shows that these sentences are all communicating the same truth, that it is not possible to escape from God.

Litotes

Description

Litotes is a figure of speech in which the speaker expresses a strong positive meaning by negating a word or phrase that means the opposite of the meaning that he intends. For example, someone could intend to communicate that something is extremely good by describing it as "not bad." The difference between a litotes and a double negative is that a litotes heightens the positive meaning beyond what a plain positive statement would do, and a double negative does not. In the example above, the literal meaning of "not bad," taken as a plain double negative, would be "acceptable" or even "good." But if the speaker intended it as a litotes, then the meaning is "very good" or "extremely good."

This page answers the question: What is litotes?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Some languages do not use litotes. People who speak those languages might not understand that a statement using litotes actually strengthens the positive meaning. Instead, they might think that it weakens or even cancels the positive meaning.

Examples From the Bible

For you yourselves know, brothers, that our coming to you was not useless, (1 Thessalonians 2:1 ULT)

By using litotes, Paul emphasized that his visit with them was very useful.

Now when it became day, there was no small disturbance among the soldiers over what therefore had happened to Peter. (Acts 12:18 ULT)

By using litotes, Luke emphasized that there was a lot of excitement or anxiety among the soldiers about what happened to Peter. (Peter had been in prison, and even though there were soldiers guarding him, he escaped when an angel let him out. So they were very agitated.)

But you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, are not the least among the leaders of Judah, for from you will come a ruler who will shepherd my people Israel. (Matthew 2:6 ULT)

By using litotes, the prophet emphasized that Bethlehem would be a very important city.

Translation Strategies

If the litotes would be understood correctly, consider using it.

(1) If the meaning with the negative would not be clear, give the positive meaning in a strong way.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

Merism

Definition

Merism is a figure of speech in which a person refers to something by speaking of two extreme parts of it. By referring to the extreme parts, the speaker intends to include also everything in between those parts.

“I am the alpha and the omega,” says the Lord God,
“the one who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.” (Revelation 1:8 ULT)

I am the alpha and the omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.
(Revelation 22:13, ULT)

This page answers the question: What does the word merism mean and how can I translate phrases that have it?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro\]\]](#)

Alpha and omega are the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet. This is a merism that includes everything from the beginning to the end. It means eternal.

... I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth ..., (Matthew 11:25b ULT)

Heaven and earth is a merism that includes everything that exists.

Reason This is a Translation Issue

Some languages do not use merism. The readers of those languages may think that the phrase only applies to the items mentioned. They may not realize that it refers to those two things and everything in between.

Examples From the Bible

From the rising of the sun to its setting, Yahweh’s name should be praised. (Psalm 113:3 ULT)

This bolded phrase is a merism because it speaks of the east and the west and everywhere in between. It means “everywhere.”

He will bless those who honor him, both young and old. (Psalm 115:13)

The bolded phrase is merism because it speaks of old people and young people and everyone in between. It means “everyone.”

Translation Strategies

If the merism would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here are other options:

- (1) Identify what the merism refers to without mentioning the parts.
- (2) Identify what the merism refers to and include the parts.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Identify what the merism refers to without mentioning the parts.

I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth. (Matthew 11:25b ULT)

I praise you, Father, Lord of everything.

In all places, people should praise Yahweh's name.

Metaphor

Description

A metaphor is a figure of speech in which someone speaks of one thing as if it were a different thing because he wants people to think about how those two things are alike.

For example, someone might say, “The girl I love is a red rose.”

A girl and a rose are very different things, but the speaker considers that they are alike in some way. The hearer’s task is to understand in what way they are alike.

This page answers the question: What is a metaphor and how can I translate a Bible passage that has one?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro\]\]](#)

Simile

The Parts of a Metaphor

The example above shows us that a metaphor has three parts. In this metaphor, the speaker is talking about “the girl I love.” This is the Topic. The speaker wants the hearer to think about what is similar between her and “a red rose.” The red rose is the Image to which he compares the girl. Most probably, he wants the hearer to consider that they are both beautiful. This is the Idea that the girl and the rose both share, and so we may also call it the Point of Comparison.

Every metaphor has three parts:

- The Topic, the item being immediately discussed by the writer/speaker.
- The Image, the physical item (object, event, action, etc.) which the speaker uses to describe the topic.
- The Idea, the abstract concept or quality that the physical Image brings to the mind of the hearer when he thinks of how the Image and the Topic are similar. Often, the Idea of a metaphor is not explicitly stated in the Bible, but it is only implied from the context. The hearer or reader usually needs to think of the Idea himself.

Using these terms, we can say that a metaphor is a figure of speech that uses a physical Image to apply an abstract Idea to the speaker’s Topic.

Usually, a writer or speaker uses a metaphor in order to express something about a Topic, with at least one Point of Comparison (Idea) between the Topic and the Image. Often in metaphors, the Topic and the Image are explicitly stated, but the Idea is only implied. The writer/speaker often uses a metaphor in order to invite the readers/listeners to think about the similarity between the Topic and the Image and to figure out for themselves the Idea that is being communicated.

Speakers often use metaphors in order to strengthen their message, to make their language more vivid, to express their feelings better, to say something that is hard to say in any other way, or to help people remember their message.

Sometimes speakers use metaphors that are very common in their language. However, sometimes speakers use metaphors that are uncommon, and even some metaphors that are unique. When a metaphor has become very common in a language, often it becomes a “passive” metaphor, in contrast to uncommon metaphors, which we describe as being “active.” Passive metaphors and active metaphors each present a different kind of translation problem, which we will discuss below.

Passive Metaphors

A passive metaphor is a metaphor that has been used so much in the language that its speakers no longer regard it as one concept standing for another. Linguists often call these “dead metaphors.” Passive metaphors are extremely common. Examples in English include the terms “table leg,” “family tree,” “book leaf” (meaning a page in a book), or the word “crane” (meaning a large machine for lifting heavy loads). English speakers simply think of these words as having more than one meaning. Examples of passive metaphors in Biblical Hebrew include using the word “hand” to represent “power,” using the word “face” to represent “presence,” and speaking of emotions or moral qualities as if they were “clothing.”

Patterned Pairs of Concepts Acting as Metaphors

Many ways of metaphorical speaking depend on pairs of concepts, where one underlying concept frequently stands for a different underlying concept. For example, in English, the direction “up” (the Image) often represents the concepts of “more” or “better” (the Idea). Because of this pair of underlying concepts, we can make sentences such as “The price of gasoline is going up,” “A highly intelligent man,” and also the opposite kind of idea: “The temperature is going down,” and “I am feeling very low.”

Patterned pairs of concepts are constantly used for metaphorical purposes in the world’s languages because they serve as convenient ways to organize thought. In general, people like to speak of abstract qualities (such as power, presence, emotions, and moral qualities) as if they were body parts, or as if they were objects that could be seen or held, or as if they were events that could be watched as they happened.

When these metaphors are used in normal ways, it is rare that the speaker and audience regard them as figurative speech. Examples of metaphors in English that go unrecognized are:

- “Turn the heat up.” More is spoken of as up.
- “Let us go ahead with our debate.” Doing what was planned is spoken of as walking or advancing.
- “You defend your theory well.” Argument is spoken of as war.
- “A flow of words.” Words are spoken of as liquids.

English speakers do not view these as metaphorical expressions or figures of speech, so it would be wrong to translate them into other languages in a way that would lead people to pay special attention to them as figurative speech. For a description of important patterns of this kind of metaphor in biblical languages, please see Biblical Imagery — Common Patterns and the pages it will direct you to.

When translating something that is a passive metaphor into another language, do not treat it as a metaphor. Instead, just use the best expression for that thing or concept in the target language.

Active Metaphors

These are metaphors that people recognize as one concept standing for another concept, or one thing for another thing. Metaphors make people think about how the one thing is like the other thing, because in most ways the two things are very different. People also easily recognize these metaphors as giving strength and unusual qualities to the message. For this reason, people pay attention to these metaphors. For example,

But for you who fear my name, the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings.
(Malachi 4:2a ULT)

Here, God speaks about his salvation as if it were the sun rising in order to shine its rays on the people whom he loves. He also speaks of the sun’s rays as if they were wings. Also, he speaks of these wings as if they were bringing medicine that would heal his people. Here is another example:

And he said to them, “Go and tell that fox ...” (Luke 13:32a ULT)

Here, “that fox” refers to King Herod. The people listening to Jesus certainly understood that Jesus was intending for them to apply certain characteristics of a fox to Herod. They probably understood that Jesus intended to communicate that Herod was evil, either in a cunning way or as someone who was destructive, murderous, or who took things that did not belong to him, or all of these.

Active metaphors require the translator's special care to make a correct translation. To do so, you need to understand the parts of a metaphor and how they work together to produce meaning.

Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life; he who comes to me will not be hungry, and he who believes in me will never be thirsty." (John 6:35 ULT)

In this metaphor, Jesus called himself the bread of life. The Topic is "I" (meaning Jesus himself) and the Image is "bread." Bread was the primary food that people ate in that place and time. The similarity between bread and Jesus is that people need both to live. Just as people need to eat food in order to have physical life, people need to trust in Jesus in order to have eternal life. The Idea of the metaphor is "life." In this case, Jesus stated the central Idea of the metaphor, but often the Idea is only implied.

Purposes of Metaphor

- One purpose of metaphor is to teach people about something that they do not know (the Topic) by showing that it is like something that they already do know (the Image).
- Another purpose is to emphasize that something (the Topic) has a particular quality (the Idea) or to show that it has that quality in an extreme way.
- Another purpose is to lead people to feel the same way about the Topic as they would feel about the Image.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- People may not recognize that something is a metaphor. In other words, they may mistake a metaphor for a literal statement, and thus, misunderstand it.
- People may not be familiar with the thing that is used as an image, and so, not be able to understand the metaphor.
- If the topic is not stated, people may not know what the topic is.
- People may not know the points of comparison that the speaker wants them to understand. If they fail to think of these points of comparison, they will not understand the metaphor.
- People may think that they understand the metaphor, but they do not. This can happen when they apply points of comparison from their own culture, rather than from the biblical culture.

Translation Principles

- Make the meaning of a metaphor as clear to the target audience as it was to the original audience.
- Do not make the meaning of a metaphor more clear to the target audience than you think it was to the original audience.

Examples From the Bible

Listen to this word, you cows of Bashan, (Amos 4:1q ULT)

In this metaphor Amos speaks to the upper-class women of Samaria ("you," the Topic) as if they were cows (the Image). Amos does not say what similarity(s) he intends between these women and cows. He wants the reader to think of them, and he fully expects that readers from his culture will easily do so. From the context, we can see that he means that the women are like cows in that they are fat and interested only in feeding themselves. If we were to apply similarities from a different culture, such as that cows are sacred and should be worshiped, we would get the wrong meaning from this verse.

NOTE: Amos does not actually mean that the women are cows. He speaks to them as human beings.

Yet, Yahweh, you are our father; we are the clay. You are our potter; and we all are the work of your hand. (Isaiah 64:8 ULT)

The example above has two related metaphors. The Topic(s) are “we” and “you,” and the Image(s) are “clay” and “potter.” The similarity between a potter and God is the fact that both make what they wish out of their material. The potter makes what he wishes out of the clay, and God makes what he wishes out of his people. The Idea being expressed by the comparison between the potter’s clay and “us” is that neither the clay nor God’s people have a right to complain about what they are becoming.

Jesus said to them, “Take heed and beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.” The disciples reasoned among themselves and said, “It is because we did not take bread.” (Matthew 16:6-7 ULT)

Jesus used a metaphor here, but his disciples did not realize it. When he said “yeast,” they thought he was talking about bread, but “yeast” was the Image in his metaphor, and the Topic was the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees. Since the disciples (the original audience) did not understand what Jesus meant, it would not be good to state clearly here what Jesus meant.

Translation Strategies

If people would understand the metaphor in the same way that the original readers would have understood it, go ahead and use it. Be sure to test the translation to make sure that people do understand it in the right way.

If people do not or would not understand it, here are some other strategies.

- (1) If the metaphor is a common expression in the source language or expresses a patterned pair of concepts in a biblical language (that is, it is a passive metaphor), then express the Idea in the simplest way preferred by your language.
- (2) If the metaphor seems to be an active metaphor, you can translate it literally if you think that the target language also uses this metaphor in the same way to mean the same thing as in the Bible. If you do this, be sure to test it to make sure that the language community understands it correctly.
- (3) If the target audience does not realize that it is a metaphor, then change the metaphor to a simile. Some languages do this by adding words such as “like” or “as.” See Simile.
- (4) If the target audience would not know the Image, see Translate Unknowns for ideas on how to translate that image.
- (5) If the target audience would not use that Image for that meaning, use an image from your own culture instead. Be sure that it is an image that could have been possible in Bible times.
- (6) If the target audience would not know what the Topic is, then state the topic clearly. (However, do not do this if the original audience did not know what the Topic was.)
- (7) If the target audience would not know the intended similarity (the Idea) between the topic and the image, then state it clearly.
- (8) If none of these strategies is satisfactory, then simply state the Idea plainly without using a metaphor.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If the metaphor is a common expression in the source language or expresses a patterned pair of concepts in a biblical language (that is, a passive metaphor), then express the Idea in the simplest way preferred by your language.

Then, see, one of the leaders of the synagogue, named Jairus, came, and when he saw him, fell at his feet. (Mark 5:22 ULT)

Then one of the leaders of the synagogue, named Jairus, came, and when he saw him, immediately bowed down in front of him.

(2) If the metaphor seems to be an active metaphor, you can translate it literally if you think that the target language also uses this metaphor in the same way to mean the same thing as in the Bible. If you do this, be sure to test it to make sure that the language community understands it correctly.

But Jesus said to them, “He wrote this commandment to you because of your hardness of heart.” (Mark 10:5 ULT)

It was because of your hard hearts that he wrote you this law.

We made no change to this one, but it must be tested to make sure that the target audience correctly understands this metaphor.

(3) If the target audience does not realize that it is a metaphor, then change the metaphor to a simile. Some languages do this by adding words such as “like” or “as.”

Yet, Yahweh, you are our father; we are the clay. You are our potter; and we all are the work of your hand. (Isaiah 64:8 ULT)

And yet, Yahweh, you are our father; we are like clay. You are like a potter; and we all are the work of your hand.

(4) If the target audience would not know the Image, see Translate Unknowns for ideas on how to translate that image.

Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? It is hard for you to kick against a goad. (Acts 26:14b ULT)

Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? It is hard for you to kick against a pointed stick.

(5) If the target audience would not use that Image for that meaning, use an image from your own culture instead. Be sure that it is an image that could have been possible in Bible times.

Yet, Yahweh, you are our father; we are the clay. You are our potter; and we all are the work of your hand. (Isaiah 64:8 ULT)

“And yet, Yahweh, you are our father; we are the wood. You are our carver; and we all are the work of your hand.”

“And yet, Yahweh, you are our father; we are the string. You are the weaver; and we all are the work of your hand.”

(6) If the target audience would not know what the Topic is, then state the topic clearly. (However, do not do this if the original audience did not know what the topic was.)

Yahweh lives; may my rock be praised. May the God of my salvation be exalted. (Psalm 18:46 ULT)

Yahweh lives; He is my rock. May he be praised. May the God of my salvation be exalted.

(7) If the target audience would not know the intended similarity between the Topic and the Image, then state it clearly.

Yahweh lives; may my rock be praised. May the God of my salvation be exalted. (Psalm 18:46 ULT)

Yahweh lives; may he be praised because he is the rock under which I can hide from my enemies. May the God of my salvation be exalted.

Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? It is hard for you to kick against a goad. (Acts 26:14 ULT)

Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? You fight against me and hurt yourself like an ox that kicks against its owner's pointed stick.

(8) If none of these strategies are satisfactory, then simply state the idea plainly without using a metaphor.

I will make you to become fishers of men. (Mark 1:17b ULT)

I will make you to become people who gather men.
Now you gather fish. I will make you gather people.

Metonymy

Description

Metonymy is a figure of speech in which an item (either physical or abstract) is called not by its own name, but by the name of something closely associated with it. A metonym is a word or phrase used as a substitute for something that it is associated with.

This page answers the question: What is a metonymy?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

... and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from every sin. (1 John 1:7b ULT)

The blood represents Christ's death.

And he took the cup in the same way after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you." (Luke 22:20 ULT)

The cup represents the wine that is in the cup.

Metonymy can be used

- as a shorter way of referring to something
- to make an abstract idea more meaningful by referring to it with the name of a physical object associated with it

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

The Bible uses metonymy very often. Speakers of some languages are not familiar with metonymy and they may not recognize it when they read it in the Bible. If they do not recognize the metonymy, they will not understand the passage or, worse yet, they will get a wrong understanding of the passage. Whenever a metonym is used, people need to be able to understand what it represents.

Examples From the Bible

The Lord God will give to him the throne of his father David. (Luke 1:32b ULT)

A throne represents the authority of a king. "Throne" is a metonym for "kingly authority," "kingship," or "reign." This means that God would make him become a king who would follow King David.

Then immediately his mouth was opened (Luke 1:64a ULT)

The mouth here represents the power to speak. This means that he was able to talk again.

Who warned you to flee from the wrath that is coming? (Luke 3:7b ULT)

The word "wrath" or "anger" is a metonym for "punishment." God was extremely angry with the people and, as a result, he would punish them.

Translation Strategies

If people would easily understand the metonym, consider using it. Otherwise, here are some options.

- (1) Use the metonym along with the name of the thing it represents.
- (2) Use only the name of the thing the metonym represents.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Use the metonym along with the name of the thing it represents.

And he took the cup in the same way after the supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you." (Luke 22:20 ULT)

He took the cup in the same way after supper, saying, "The wine in this cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you."

This verse also contains a second metonym: The cup, (representing the wine it contains) also represents the new covenant made with the blood Christ shed for us.

- (2) Use the name of the thing the metonym represents.

The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David. (Luke 1:32b ULT)

"The Lord God will give him the kingly authority of his father, David."

or:

"The Lord God will make him king like his ancestor, King David."

Who warned you to flee from the wrath that is coming? (Luke 3:7b ULT)

"Who warned you to flee from God's coming punishment?"

Nominal Adjectives

Description

In some languages an adjective can be used to refer to a class of things that the adjective describes. When it does, it acts like a noun. For example, the word “rich” is an adjective. Here are two sentences that show that “rich” is an adjective.

The rich man had huge numbers of flocks and herds. (2 Samuel 12:2 ULT)

The adjective “rich” comes before the word “man” and describes “man.”

He will not be rich; his wealth will not last. (Job 15:29a ULT)

The adjective “rich” comes after the verb “be” and describes “He.”

Here is a sentence that shows that “rich” can also function as a noun.

The rich must not give more than the half shekel, and the poor must not give less. (Exodus 30:15b ULT)

In Exodus 30:15, the word “rich” acts as a noun in the phrase “the rich,” and it refers to rich people. The word “poor” also acts as a noun and refers to poor people.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

- Many times in the Bible adjectives are used as nouns to describe a group of people.
- Some languages do not use adjectives in this way.
- Readers of these languages may think that the text is talking about one particular person when it is really talking about the group of people whom the adjective describes.

Examples From the Bible

The scepter of wickedness must not rule in the land of the righteous. (Psalms 125:3a ULT)

“The righteous” here are people who are righteous, not one particular righteous person.

Blessed are the meek. (Matthew 5:5a ULT)

“The meek” here are all people who are meek, not one particular meek person.

Translation Strategies

If your language uses adjectives as nouns to refer to a class of people, consider using the adjectives in this way. If it would sound strange, or if the meaning would be unclear or wrong, here is another option:

(1) Use the adjective with a plural form of the noun that the adjective describes.

Numbers

Description

There are many numbers in the Bible. They can be written as words (“five”) or as numerals (“5”). Some numbers are very large, such as “two hundred” (200), “twenty-two thousand” (22,000), or “one hundred million” (100,000,000). Some languages do not have words for all of these numbers. Translators need to decide how to translate numbers and whether to write them as words or numerals.

This page answers the question: How do I translate numbers?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Translate Unknowns

Some numbers are exact and others are rounded.

▮ Abram was 86 years old when Hagar bore Ishmael to Abram. (Genesis 16:16 ULT)

Eighty-six (86) is an exact number.

▮ That day about 3,000 of the people died. (Exodus 32:28b ULT)

Here the number three thousand (3,000) is a round number. It may have been a little more than that or a little less than that. The word “about” shows that it is not an exact number.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Some languages do not have words for some of these numbers.

Translation Principles

- Exact numbers should be translated as closely and specifically as they can be.
- Rounded numbers can be translated more generally.

Examples From the Bible

▮ When Jared had lived 162 years, he became the father of Enoch. After he became the father of Enoch, Jared lived 800 years. He became the father of more sons and daughters. Jared lived 962 years, and then he died. (Genesis 5:18-20 ULT)

The numbers 162, 800, and 962 are exact numbers and should be translated with something as close to those numbers as possible.

▮ Our sister, may you be the mother of thousands of ten thousands. (Genesis 24:60b ULT)

This is a rounded number. It does not say exactly how many descendants she should have, but it was a huge number of them.

Translation Strategies

- (1) Write numbers using numerals.
- (2) Write numbers using your language’s words or the Gateway Language words for those numbers.
- (3) Write numbers using words, and put the numerals in parentheses after them.

(4) Combine words for large numbers.

(5) Use a very general expression for very large rounded numbers and write the numeral in parentheses afterward.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

We will use the following verse in our examples:

Now, see, at great effort I have prepared for Yahweh's house 100,000 talents of gold, 1,000,000 talents of silver, and bronze and iron in large quantities. (1 Chronicles 22:14a ULT)

(1) Write numbers using numerals.

I have prepared for Yahweh's house 100,000 talents of gold, 1,000,000 talents of silver, and bronze and iron in large quantities.

(2) Write numbers using your language's words or the Gateway Language words for those numbers.

I have prepared for Yahweh's house one hundred thousand talents of gold, one million talents of silver, and bronze and iron in large quantities.

(3) Write numbers using words, and put the numerals in parenthesis after them.

I have prepared for Yahweh's house one hundred thousand (100,000) talents of gold, one million (1,000,000) talents of silver, and bronze and iron in large quantities.

(4) Combine words for large numbers.

I have prepared for Yahweh's house one hundred thousand talents of gold, a thousand thousand talents of silver, and bronze and iron in large quantities.

(5) Use a very general expression for very large rounded numbers and write the numeral in parentheses afterward.

I have prepared for Yahweh's house a great amount of gold (100,000 talents), ten times that amount of silver (1,000,000 talents), and bronze and iron in large quantities.

Consistency

Be consistent in your translations. Decide how the numbers will be translated, using numbers or numerals. There are different ways of being consistent.

- Use words to represent numbers all of the time. (You might have very long words.)
- Use numerals to represent numbers all of the time.
- Use words to represent the numbers that your language has words for and use numerals for the numbers that your language does not have words for.
- Use words for low numbers and numerals for high numbers.
- Use words for numbers that require few words and numerals for numbers that require more than a few words.
- Use words to represent numbers, and write the numerals in parentheses after them.

Consistency in the ULT and UST

The unfoldingWord® Literal Text (ULT) and the unfoldingWord® Simplified Text (UST) use words for the numbers one through ten and use numerals for all numbers above ten.

When Adam had lived 130 years, he became the father of a son in his own likeness, after his image, and he called his name Seth. After Adam became the father of Seth, he lived 800 years. He became the father of more sons and daughters. Adam lived 930 years, and then he died.

Ordinal Numbers

Description

Ordinal numbers are used in the Bible mainly to tell the position of something in a list.

And God has indeed appointed some in the church, first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then miracles. (1 Corinthians 12:28a ULT)

This page answers the question: What are ordinal numbers and how can I translate them?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Numbers

This is a list of workers that God gave to the church in their order.

Ordinal Numbers in English

Most ordinal numbers in English simply have “-th” added to the end.

Numeral	Number	Ordinal Number
4	four	fourth
10	ten	tenth
100	one hundred	one hundredth
1,000	one thousand	one thousandth

Some ordinal numbers in English do not follow that pattern.

Numeral	Number	Ordinal Number
1	one	first
2	two	second
3	three	third
5	five	fifth
12	twelve	twelfth

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Some languages do not have special numbers for showing the order of items in a list. There are different ways to deal with this.

Examples From the Bible

The first lot went to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah, the third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim ... the twenty-third to Delaiah, and the twenty-fourth to Maaziah. (1 Chronicles 24:7-18 ULT)

The people cast lots and one went to each of these people in the order given.

You must place in it four rows of precious stones. The first row must have a ruby, a topaz, and a garnet. The second row must have an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond. The third row must have a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst. The fourth row must have a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper. They must be mounted in gold settings. (Exodus 28:17-20 ULT)

This describes four rows of stones. The first row is probably the top row, and the fourth row is probably the bottom row.

Translation Strategies

If your language has ordinal numbers and using them would give the right meaning, consider using them. If not, here are some strategies to consider:

- (1) Use “one” with the first item and “another” or “the next” with the rest.
- (2) Tell the total number of items and then list them or the things associated with them.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

Parallelism

Description

Parallelism is a poetic device in which two phrases or clauses that are similar in structure or idea are used together. The following are some of the different kinds of parallelism.

- The second clause or phrase means the same as the first. This is called synonymous parallelism.
- The second clarifies or strengthens the meaning of the first.
- The second completes what is said in the first.
- The second says something that contrasts with the first, but adds to the same idea.

Parallelism is most commonly found in Old Testament poetry, such as in the books of Psalms and Proverbs. It also occurs in Greek in the New Testament, both in the four gospels and in the apostles' letters.

This article will only discuss synonymous parallelism, the kind in which the two parallel phrases mean the same thing, because that is the kind that presents a problem for translation. Note that we use the term "synonymous parallelism" for long phrases or clauses that have the same meaning. We use the term "doublet" for words or very short phrases that mean basically the same thing and are used together.

In the poetry of the original languages, synonymous parallelism has several effects:

- It shows that something is very important by saying it more than once and in more than one way.
- It helps the hearer to think more deeply about the idea by saying it in different ways.
- It makes the language more beautiful and raises it above the ordinary way of speaking.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

Some languages would not use synonymous parallelism. They would either think it odd that someone said the same thing twice, or, since it is in the Bible, they would think that the two phrases must have some difference in meaning. For them it would be confusing, rather than beautiful. They would not understand that the repetition of the idea in different words serves to emphasize the idea.

Examples From the Bible

Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light for my path. (Psalm 119:105 ULT)

Both parts of the sentence are metaphors saying that God's word teaches people how to live. That is the single idea. The words "lamp" and "light" are similar in meaning because they refer to light. The words "my feet" and "my path" are related because they refer to a person walking. Walking is a metaphor for living.

You make him to rule over the works of your hands;
you have put all things under his feet (Psalm 8:6 ULT)

Both lines say that God made man the ruler of everything. "To rule over" is the same idea as putting things "under his feet," and "the works of your [God's] hands" is the same idea as "all things."

This page answers the question: What is parallelism?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Yahweh sees everything a person does and watches all the paths he takes. (Proverbs 5:21 ULT)

The first phrase and the second phrase mean the same thing. There are three ideas that are the same between these two phrases. "Sees" corresponds to "watches," "everything...does" corresponds to "all the paths...takes," and "a person" corresponds to "he."

Praise Yahweh, all you nations;
exalt him, all you peoples! (Psalm 117:1 ULT)

Both parts of this verse tell people everywhere to praise Yahweh. The words 'Praise' and 'exalt' mean the same thing. The words 'Yahweh' and 'him' refer to the same person. The terms 'all you nations' and 'all you peoples' refer to the same people.

For Yahweh has a lawsuit with his people, and he will fight in court against Israel. (Micah 6:2b ULT)

The two parts of this verse say that Yahweh has a serious disagreement with his people, Israel. These are not two different disagreements or two different groups of people.

Translation Strategies

For most kinds of parallelism, it is good to translate both of the clauses or phrases. For synonymous parallelism, it is good to translate both clauses if people in your language understand that the purpose of saying something twice is to strengthen a single idea. But if your language does not use parallelism in this way, then consider using one of the following translation strategies.

- (1) Combine the ideas of both clauses into one.
- (2) If it appears that the clauses are used together to show that what they say is really true, you could combine the ideas of both clauses into one and include words that emphasize the truth such as "truly" or "certainly."
- (3) If it appears that the clauses are used together to intensify an idea in them, you could combine the ideas of both clauses into one and use words like "very," "completely," or "all."

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Combine the ideas of both clauses into one.

Until now you have dealt deceitfully with me and you have spoken lies to me. (Judges 16:13, ULT)

Delilah expressed this idea twice to emphasize that she was very upset.

Until now you have deceived me with your lies.
Yahweh sees everything a person does and watches all the paths he takes. (Proverbs 5:21 ULT)

The phrase "all the paths he takes" is a metaphor for "all he does."

Yahweh pays attention to everything a person does.
For Yahweh has a lawsuit with his people, and he will fight in court against Israel. (Micah 6:2 ULT)

This parallelism describes one serious disagreement that Yahweh had with one group of people. If this is unclear, the phrases can be combined:

For Yahweh has a lawsuit with his people, Israel.

(2) If it appears that the clauses are used together to show that what they say is really true, you could combine the ideas of both clauses into one and include words that emphasize the truth such as “truly” or “certainly.”

Yahweh sees everything a person does and watches all the paths he takes. (Proverbs 5:21 ULT)

Yahweh truly sees everything a person does.

You make him to rule over the works of your hands; you have put all things under his feet (Psalm 8:6 ULT)

You have certainly made him to rule over everything that you have created.

(3) If it appears that the clauses are used together to intensify an idea in them, you could combine the ideas of both clauses into one and use words like “very,” “completely” or “all.”

Until now you have dealt deceitfully with me and you have spoken lies to me. (Judges 16:13, ULT)

All you have done is lie to me.

Yahweh sees everything a person does and watches all the paths he takes. (Proverbs 5:21 ULT)

Yahweh sees absolutely everything that a person does.

Personification

Description

Personification is a figure of speech in which someone speaks of something as if it could do things that animals or people can do. People often do this because it makes it easier to talk about things that we cannot see:

Such as wisdom:

Does not Wisdom call out? (Proverbs 8:1a ULT)

Or sin:

Sin crouches at the door. (Genesis 4:7b ULT)

People also use personification because it is sometimes easier to talk about people's relationships with non-human things such as wealth as if they were relationships between people.

You cannot serve God and wealth. (Matthew 6:24b ULT)

In each case, the purpose of the personification is to highlight a certain characteristic of the non-human thing. As in metaphor, the reader needs to think of the way that the thing is like a certain kind of person.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Some languages do not use personification.
- Some languages use personification only in certain situations.

Examples From the Bible

You cannot serve God and wealth. (Matthew 6:24b ULT)

Jesus speaks of wealth as if it were a master whom people might serve. Loving money and basing one's decisions on it is like serving it as a slave would serve his master.

Does not Wisdom call out? Does not Understanding raise her voice? (Proverbs 8:1 ULT)

The author speaks of wisdom and understanding as if they were woman who calls out to teach people. This means that they are not something hidden, but something obvious that people should pay attention to.

Translation Strategies

If the personification would be understood clearly, consider using it. If it would not be understood, here are some other ways for translating it.

- (1) Add words or phrases to make the human (or animal) characteristic clear.
- (2) In addition to Strategy (1), use words such as "like" or "as" to show that the sentence is not to be understood literally.
- (3) Find a way to translate it without the personification.

This page answers the question: What is personification?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Add words or phrases to make the human (or animal) characteristic clear.

Sin crouches at the door. (Genesis 4:7b ULT) — God speaks of sin as if it were a wild animal that is waiting for the chance to attack. This shows how dangerous sin is. An additional phrase can be added to make this danger clear.

Sin is at your door, waiting to attack you.

(2) In addition to Strategy (1), use words such as “like” or “as” to show that the sentence is not to be understood literally.

Sin crouches at the door. (Genesis 4:7b ULT) — This can be translated with the word “as.”

Sin is crouching at the door, just as a wild animal does as it waits to attack a person..

(3) Find a way to translate it without the personification.

Even the winds and the sea obey him. (Matthew 8:27b ULT) — The men speak of the “wind and the sea” as if they are able to hear and obey Jesus, just as people can. This could also be translated without the idea of obedience by speaking of Jesus controlling them.

He even controls the winds and the sea.

NOTE: We have broadened our definition of “personification” to include “zoomorphism” (speaking of other things as if they had animal characteristics) and “anthropomorphism” (speaking of non-human things as if they had human characteristics) because the translation strategies for them are the same.

Poetry

Description

Poetry is one of the ways that people use the words and sounds of their language to make their speech and writing more beautiful and to express strong emotion. Through poetry, people can communicate deeper emotion than they can through simple non-poetic forms. Poetry gives more weight and elegance to statements of truth, such as proverbs, and is also easier to remember than ordinary speech.

This page answers the question: What is poetry and how do I translate it into my language?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro\]\]](#)

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/writing-intro\]\]](#)

In poetry we commonly find:

- many figures of speech such as Apostrophe
- arrangements of clauses into particular patterns such as:
 - parallel lines (See Parallelism)
 - acrostics (beginning lines with successive letters of the alphabet)
 - chiasms (in which the first line relates to the last line, the second to the next-to-last line, etc.):
 - > You should not give what is holy to the dogs,
 - >
 - >> and should not throw your pearls in front of the pigs.
 - >>
 - >> Otherwise they will trample them under their feet,
 - >
 - > and having turned, they might tear you to pieces. (Matt 7:6 ULT)

- repetition of some or all of a line:

Praise him, all his angels; praise him, all his hosts. Praise him, sun and moon; praise him, all you shining stars. (Psalm 148:2-3 ULT)

- lines of similar length:

Listen to my call to you,
Yahweh; think about my groanings.
Listen to the sound of my call, my King and my God, for it is to you that I pray. (Psalm 5:1-2 ULT)

- the same sound used at the end or at the beginning of two or more lines:

“Twinkle, twinkle little star. How I wonder what you are.” (from an English rhyme)

- the same sound repeated many times:

“Peter, Peter, pumpkin eater” (from an English rhyme)

We also find:

- old words and expressions
- dramatic imagery
- different use of grammar — including:
 - incomplete sentences

- lack of connective words

Some places to look for poetry in your language

Songs, particularly old songs or songs used in children's games
 Religious ceremony or chants of priests or witch doctors
 Prayers, blessings, and curses
 Old legends

Elegant or fancy speech

Elegant or fancy speech is similar to poetry in that it uses beautiful language, but it does not use all of the language's features of poetry, and it does not use them as much as poetry does. Popular speakers in the language often use elegant speech, and this is probably the easiest source of text to study to find out what makes speech elegant in your language.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue:

- Different languages use poetry for different things. If a poetic form would not communicate the same meaning in your language, you may need to write it without the poetry.
- Different languages use different poetic devices. A poetic device that conveys elegance or emotion in a biblical language may be confusing or misunderstood in another language.
- In some languages, using poetry for a particular part of the Bible would make it much more powerful.

Examples From the Bible

The Bible uses poetry for songs, teaching, and prophecy. Almost all of the books of the Old Testament have poetry in them and many of the books are completely made up of poetry.

... for you saw my affliction; you knew the distress of my soul. (Psalm 31:7b ULT)

This example of Parallelism has two lines that mean the same thing.

Yahweh, judge the nations; vindicate me, Yahweh, because I am righteous and innocent, Most High. (Psalm 7:8 ULT)

This example of parallelism shows the contrast between what David wants God to do to him and what he wants God to do to the unrighteous nations. (See Parallelism.)

Keep your servant also from arrogant sins; let them not rule over me. (Psalm 19:13a ULT)

This example of personification speaks of sins as if they could rule over a person. (See Personification.)

Oh, give thanks to Yahweh; for he is good,
 for his covenant faithfulness endures forever.
 Oh, give thanks to the God of gods,
 for his covenant faithfulness endures forever.
 Oh, give thanks to the Lord of lords,
 for his covenant faithfulness endures forever.

(Psalm 136:1-3 ULT)

This example repeats the phrases “give thanks” and “his covenant faithfulness endures forever.”

Translation Strategies

If the style of poetry that is used in the source text would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here are some other ways of translating it.

- (1) Translate the poetry using one of your styles of poetry.
- (2) Translate the poetry using your style of elegant speech.
- (3) Translate the poetry using your style of ordinary speech.

If you use poetry it may be more beautiful.

If you use ordinary speech it may be more clear.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

Blessed is the man who does not walk in the advice of the wicked, or stand in the pathway with sinners, or sit in the assembly of mockers. But his delight is in the law of Yahweh, and on his law he meditates day and night. (Psalm 1:1-2 ULT)

The following are examples of how people might translate Psalm 1:1-2.

- (1) Translate the poetry using one of your styles of poetry. (The style in this example has words that sound similar at the end of each line.)

“Happy is the person not encouraged to sin, Disrespect for God he will not begin, To those who laugh at God he is no kin. God is his constant delight, He does what God says is right, He thinks of it all day and night.”

- (2) Translate the poetry using your style of elegant speech.

This is the kind of person who is truly blessed: the one who does not follow the advice of wicked people nor stop along the road to speak with sinners nor join the gathering of those who mock God. Rather, he takes great joy in Yahweh’s law, and he meditates on it day and night.

- (3) Translate the poetry using your style of ordinary speech.

The people who do not listen to the advice of bad people are really happy. They do not spend time with people who continually do evil things or join with those who do not respect God. Instead, they love to obey Yahweh’s law, and they think about it all the time.

Possession

Description

In English, the grammatical form that commonly indicates possession is also used to indicate a variety of relationships between people and objects or people and other people. In English, that grammatical relationship is shown by using the word “of,” by using an apostrophe and the letter “s”, or by using a possessive pronoun. The following examples are different ways to indicate that my grandfather owns a house.

- the house of my grandfather
- my grandfather 's house
- his house

Possession is used in Hebrew, Greek, and English for a variety of situations. Here are a few common situations that it is used for.

- Ownership — Someone owns something.
 - The clothes of me - my clothes — The clothes that I own
- Social Relationship — Someone has some kind of social relationship with another.
 - The mother of John — John's mother - the woman who gave birth to John, or the woman who cared for John
 - A teacher of Israel - Israel's teacher — a person who teaches Israel
- Association — A particular thing is associated with a particular person, place, or thing.
 - The sickness of David - David's sickness — the sickness that David is experiencing
 - the fear of the Lord — the fear that is appropriate for a human being to have when relating to the Lord
- Contents — Something has something in it.
 - a bag of clothes — a bag that has clothes in it, or a bag that is full of clothes
- Part and whole: One thing is part of another.
 - my head — the head that is part of my body
 - the roof of a house — the roof that is part of a house

In some languages there is a special form of possession, termed inalienable possession. This form of possession is used for things that cannot be removed from you, as opposed to things you could lose. In the examples above, my head and my mother are examples of inalienable possession (at least in some languages), while my clothes or my teacher would be alienably possessed. What may be considered alienable vs. inalienable may differ by language.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- You (the translator) need to understand the relationship between two ideas represented by the two nouns when one is in the grammatical relationship of possessing the other.
- Some languages do not use grammatical possession for all of the situations that your source text Bible might use it for.

Examples From the Bible

Ownership — In the example below, the son owned the money.

▮ The younger son ... wasted his wealth by living recklessly. (Luke 15:13b)

Social Relationship — In the example below, the disciples were people who learned from John.

Then the disciples of John came to him. (Matthew 9:14a ULT)

Association — In the example below, the gospel is the message associated with Paul because he preaches it.

Remember Jesus Christ, raised from the dead, from the seed of David, according to my gospel, (2 Timothy 2:8 ULT)

Material — In the example below, the material used for making the crowns was gold.

On their heads were something like crowns of gold. (Revelation 9:7b)

Contents — In the example below, the cup has water in it.

For whoever gives you a cup of water to drink ... will not lose his reward. (Mark 9:41 ULT)

Part of a whole — In the example below, the door was a part of the palace.

But Uriah slept at the door of the king's palace. (2 Samuel 11:9a ULT)

Part of a group — In the example below, “us” refers to the whole group and “each one” refers to the individual members.

Now to each one of us grace has been given according to the measure of the gift of Christ. (Ephesians 4:7 ULT)

Events and Possession

Sometimes one or both of the nouns is an abstract noun that refers to an event or action. In the examples below, the abstract nouns are in bold print. These are just some of the relationships that are possible between two nouns when one of them refers to an event.

Subject — Sometimes the word after “of” tells who would do the action named by the first noun. In the example below, John baptized people.

The baptism of John, was it from heaven or from men? Answer me. (Mark 11:30)

In the example below, Christ loves us.

Who will separate us from the love of Christ? (Romans 8:35)

Object — Sometimes the word after “of” tells who or what something would happen to. In the example below, people love money.

For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil. (1 Timothy 6:10a ULT)

Instrument — Sometimes the word after “of” tells how something would happen. In the example below, God would punish people by sending enemies to attack them with swords.

Then be afraid of the sword, because wrath brings the punishment of the sword. (Job 19:29a ULT)

Representation — In the example below, John was baptizing people who were repenting of their sins. They were being baptized to show that they were repenting. Their baptism represented their repentance.

John came, baptizing in the wilderness and preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. (Mark 1:4 ULT)

Strategies for learning what the relationship is between the two nouns

- (1) Read the surrounding verses to see if they help you to understand the relationship between the two nouns.
- (2) Read the verse in the UST. Sometimes it shows the relationship clearly.
- (3) See what the notes say about it.

Translation Strategies

If possession would be a natural way to show a particular relationship between two nouns, consider using it. If it would be strange or hard to understand, consider these.

- (1) Use an adjective to show that one noun describes the other.
- (2) Use a verb to show how the two are related.
- (3) If one of the nouns refers to an event, translate it as a verb.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Use an adjective to show that one noun describes the other.

On their heads were something like crowns of gold. (Revelation 9:7b)

“On their heads were gold crowns”

- (2) Use a verb to show how the two are related.

Whoever gives you a cup of water to drink ... will not lose his reward. (Mark 9:41 ULT)

Whoever gives you a cup that has water in it to drink ... will not lose his reward.

Wealth is worthless on the day of wrath. (Proverbs 11:4a ULT)

Wealth is worthless on the day when God shows his wrath.

or:

Wealth is worthless on the day when God punishes people because of his wrath.

- (3) If one of the nouns refers to an event, translate it as a verb. (In the example below, there are two possession relationships, “punishment of Yahweh” and “your God.”)

Notice that I am not speaking to your children, who have not known or seen the punishment of Yahweh your God. (Deuteronomy 11:2a ULT)

Notice that I am not speaking to your children who have not known or seen how Yahweh, the God whom you worship, punished the people of Egypt.

You will only observe and see the punishment of the wicked. (Psalms 91:8 ULT)

You will only observe and see how Yahweh punishes the wicked.

Pronouns

Description

Pronouns are words that people might use instead of using a noun when referring to someone or something. Some examples are "I," "you," "he," "it," "this," "that," "himself," "someone," and others. The personal pronoun is the most common type of pronoun.

This page answers the question: What are pronouns, and what kinds of pronouns are in some languages?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-partsofspeech]]

Personal Pronouns

Personal pronouns refer to people or things and show whether the speaker is referring to himself, the person he is speaking to, or someone or something else. The following are kinds of information that personal pronouns may provide. Other types of pronouns may give some of this information, as well.

Person

- First Person — The speaker and possibly others (I, me, we, us)
 - Exclusive and Inclusive "We"
- Second Person — The person or people that the speaker is talking to and possibly others (you)
 - Forms of You
- Third Person — Someone or something other than the speaker and those he is talking to (he, she, it, they)

Number

- Singular — one (I, you, he, she, it)
- Plural — more than one (we, you, they)
 - Singular Pronouns that Refer to Groups
- Dual — two (Some languages have pronouns specifically for two people or two things.)

Gender

- Masculine — he
- Feminine — she
- Neuter — it

Relationship to other words in the sentence

- Subject of the verb: I, you, he, she, it, we, they
- Object of the verb or preposition: me, you, him, her, it, us, them
- Possessor with a noun: my, your, his, her, its, our, their
- Possessor without a noun: mine, yours, his, hers, its, ours, theirs

Other Types of pronouns

Reflexive Pronouns refer to another noun or pronoun in the same sentence: myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, themselves.

- John saw himself in the mirror. The word “himself” refers to John.

Interrogative Pronouns are used to make a question that needs more than just a yes or no for an answer: what, which, who, whom, whose.

- Who built the house?

Relative Pronouns mark a relative clause. The relative pronouns, who, whom, whose, which and that give more information about a noun in the main part of the sentence. Sometimes, the relative adverbs when and where can also be used as relative pronouns.

- I saw the house that John built. The clause “that John built” tells which house I saw.
- I saw the man who built the house. The clause “who built the house” tells which man I saw.

Demonstrative Pronouns are used to draw attention to someone or something and to show distance from the speaker or something else. The demonstrative pronouns are: this, these, that, and those.

- Have you seen this here?
- Who is that over there?

Indefinite pronouns are used when no particular noun is being referred to. The indefinite pronouns are: any, anyone, someone, anything, something, and some. Sometimes a personal pronoun is used in a generic way to do this: you, they, he or it.

- He does not want to talk to anyone.
- Someone fixed it, but I do not know who.
- They say that you should not wake a sleeping dog.

In the last example, “they” and “you” just refer to people in general.

(Go back to: Exodus 4:23)

Pronouns — When to Use Them

Description

When we talk or write, we use pronouns to refer to people or things without always having to repeat the noun or name. Usually, the first time we refer to someone in a story, we use a descriptive phrase or a name. The next time we might refer to that person with a simple noun or by name. After that we might refer to him simply with a pronoun as long as we think that our listeners will be able to understand easily to whom the pronoun refers.

This page answers the question: How do I decide whether or not to use a pronoun?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Pronouns

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentences]]

Now there was a man from the Pharisees whose name was Nicodemus, a Jewish leader. This man came to Jesus at night. Jesus replied and said to him ... (John 3:1, 2a, 3a ULT)

In John 3, Nicodemus is first referred to with noun phrases and his name. Then he is referred to with the noun phrase “this man.” Then he is referred to with the pronoun “him.”

Each language has its rules and exceptions to this usual way of referring to people and things.

- In some languages, the first time something is referred to in a paragraph or chapter, it is referred to with a noun rather than a pronoun.
- The main character is the person whom a story is about. In some languages, after a main character is introduced in a story, he is usually referred to with a pronoun. Some languages have special pronouns that refer only to the main character.
- In some languages, marking on the verb helps people know who the subject is. (See Verbs.) In some of these languages, listeners rely on this marking to help them understand who the subject is. Speakers will use a pronoun, noun phrase, or proper name only when they want either to emphasize or to clarify who the subject is.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- If translators use a pronoun at the wrong time for their language, readers might not know about whom the writer is talking.
- If translators too frequently refer to a main character by name, listeners of some languages might not realize that the person is a main character, or they might think that there is a new character with the same name.
- If translators use pronouns, nouns, or names at the wrong time, people might think that there is some special emphasis on the person or thing to which it refers.

Examples From the Bible

The example below occurs at the beginning of a chapter. In some languages it might not be clear to whom the pronouns refer.

Then Jesus entered into the synagogue again, and there was a man who had a withered hand. Some people watched him closely to see if he would heal him on the Sabbath so that they might accuse him. (Mark 3:1-2 ULT)

In the example below, two men are named in the first sentence. It might not be clear whom “he” in the second sentence refers to.

Now after some days had passed, King Agrippa and Bernice came down to Caesarea to pay their respects to Festus. After he had been there for many days, Festus presented to the king the things concerning Paul. (Acts 25:13-14)

Jesus is the main character of the book of Matthew, but in the verses below he is referred to four times by name. This may lead speakers of some languages to think that Jesus is not the main character. Or it might lead them to think that there is more than one person named Jesus in this story. Or it might lead them to think that there is some kind of emphasis on him, even though there is no emphasis.

At that time Jesus went on the Sabbath day through the grainfields. His disciples were hungry and began to pluck heads of grain and eat them. But when the Pharisees saw that, they said to Jesus, “See, your disciples do what is unlawful to do on the Sabbath.” But Jesus said to them, “Have you never read what David did, when he was hungry, and the men who were with him?” Then Jesus left from there and went into their synagogue. (Matthew 12:1-3,9 ULT)

Translation Strategies

- (1) If it would not be clear to your readers to whom or to what a pronoun refers, use a name or a noun.
- (2) If repeating a noun or name would lead people to think that a main character is not a main character, or that the writer is talking about more than one person with that name, or that there is some kind of emphasis on someone when there is no emphasis, use a pronoun instead.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) If it would not be clear to your readers to whom or to what a pronoun refers, use a name or a noun.

Again he walked into the synagogue, and a man with a withered hand was there. Some Pharisees watched him to see if he would heal the man on the Sabbath. (Mark 3:1-2)

Again Jesus walked into the synagogue, and a man with a withered hand was there. Some Pharisees watched Jesus to see if he would heal the man on the Sabbath.

- (2) If repeating a noun or name would lead people to think that a main character is not a main character, or that the writer is talking about more than one person with that name, or that there is some kind of emphasis on someone when there is no emphasis, use a pronoun instead.

(Matthew 12:1-3,9 ULT)

This may be translated as:

At that time Jesus went on the Sabbath day through the grainfields. His disciples were hungry and began to pluck heads of grain and eat them. But when the Pharisees saw that, they said to him, “See, your disciples do what is unlawful to do on the Sabbath.” But he said to them, “Have you never read what David did, when he was hungry, and the men who were with him?” Then he left from there and went into their synagogue.

Quotations and Quote Margins

Description

This page answers the question: What are quote margins and where should I put them?

When saying that someone said something, we often tell who spoke, whom they spoke to, and what they said. The information about who spoke and whom they spoke to is called the quote margin. What the person said is the quotation. (This is also called a quote.) In some languages the quote margin may come first, last, or even in between two parts of the quotation.

The quote margins are bolded below.

- She said, “The food is ready. Come and eat.”
- “The food is ready. Come and eat,” she said.
- “The food is ready,” she said. “Come and eat.”

Also in some languages, the quote margin may have more than one verb meaning “said.”

But his mother answered and said, “No. Rather, he will be called John.” (Luke 1:60 ULT)

When writing that someone said something, some languages put the quote (what was said) in quotation marks called inverted commas (“ ”). Some languages use other symbols around the quotation, such as these angle quote marks (« »), or something else.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Translators need to put the quote margin where it is most clear and natural in their language.
- Translators need to decide whether they want the quote margin to have one or two verbs meaning “said.”
- Translators need to decide which marks to use around the quotation.

Examples From the Bible

Quote margin before the quote

Then Zechariah said to the angel, “How will I know this? For I am an old man and my wife is advanced in her days.” (Luke 1:18 ULT)

Then tax collectors also came to be baptized, and they said to him, “Teacher, what should we do?” (Luke 3:12 ULT)

So he said to them, “Collect nothing more than what you have been ordered.” (Luke 3:13 ULT)

Quote margin after the quote

Yahweh relented concerning this. “It will not happen,” he said. (Amos 7:3 ULT)

Quote margin between two parts of the quote

“I will hide my face from them,” he said, “and I will see what their end will be; for they are a perverse generation, children who are unfaithful.” (Deuteronomy 32:20 ULT)

For look, days are coming—this is Yahweh’s declaration—when I will restore the fortunes of my people, Israel and Judah. (Jeremiah 30:3a ULT)

Translation Strategies

- (1) Decide where to put the quote margin.
- (2) Decide whether to use one or two words meaning “said.”

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Decide where to put the quote margin.

He said, “Therefore, those among you who are leaders should go down with us. If there is something wrong with the man, let them accuse him.” (Acts 25:5 ULT)

“Therefore, those who can should go there with us,” he said. “If there is something wrong with the man, you should accuse him.”

“Therefore, those who can should go there with us. If there is something wrong with the man, you should accuse him,” he said.

“Therefore, those who can,” he said, “should go there with us. If there is something wrong with the man, you should accuse him.”

- (2) Decide whether to use one or two words meaning “said.”

But his mother answered and said, “No. Rather, he will be called John.” (Luke 1:60 ULT)

But his mother replied, “No. Rather, he will be called John.”

But his mother said, “No. Rather, he will be called John.”

But his mother answered like this. “No. Rather, he will be called John,” she said.

Quote Markings

Description

Some languages use quotation marks to mark off direct quotes from the rest of the text. English uses the mark " immediately before a quote and " immediately after it.

- John said, "I do not know when I will arrive."

Quotation marks are not used with indirect quotes.

- John said that he did not know when he would arrive.

When there are several layers of quotations inside of other quotations, it might be hard for readers to understand who is saying what. Alternating two kinds of quotation marks can help careful readers to keep track of them. In English, the outermost quotation has double quote marks, and the next quotation within it has single marks. If there is a third embedded quote, that quotation again has double quotation marks.

- Mary said, "John said, 'I do not know when I will arrive.'"
- Bob said, "Mary told me, 'John said, "I do not know when I will arrive.''"

Some languages use other kinds of quotation marks: Here are some examples: ‘ ’ „ ” ‹ › « » 7 — .

Examples From the Bible

The examples below show the kind of quotation markings used in the ULT.

A quotation with only one layer

A first layer direct quote has double quotation marks around it.

So the king replied, "That is Elijah the Tishbite." (2 Kings 1:8b ULT)

Quotations with two layers

A second layer direct quote has single quotation marks around it. We have printed it and the phrase in bold type for you to see them clearly.

They asked him, "Who is the man who said to you, 'Pick it up and walk'?" (John 5:12 ULT)

He sent two of the disciples, saying, "Go into the village ahead of you. As you enter, you will find a colt that has never been ridden. Untie it and bring it to me. If any one asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' you will say thus, 'The Lord has need of it.'" (Luke 19:29b-31 ULT)

A quotation with three layers

A third layer direct quote has double quotation marks around it. We have printed it in bold type for you to see them clearly.

Abraham said, "Because I thought, 'Surely there is no fear of God in this place, and they will kill me because of my wife.' Besides, she is indeed my sister, the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother; and she became my wife. When God caused me to leave my father's house and travel from place to place, I said to her, 'You must show me this faithfulness as my wife: At every place where we go, say about me, "He is my brother."' (Genesis 20:11-13 ULT)

A quotation with four layers

A fourth layer direct quote has single quotation marks around it. We have printed it in bold for you to see it clearly.

They said to him, "A man came to meet us who said to us, 'Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, "Yahweh says this: 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.' " " " (2 Kings 1:6 ULT)

Quote Marking Strategies

Here are some ways you may be able to help readers see where each quote starts and ends so they can more easily know who said what.

- (1) Alternate two kinds of quote marks to show layers of direct quotation. English alternates double quote marks and single quote marks.
- (2) Translate one or some of the quotes as indirect quotes in order to use fewer quote marks, since indirect quotes do not need them. (See Direct and Indirect Quotations.)
- (3) If a quotation is very long and has many layers of quotation in it, indent the main overall quote, and use quote marks only for the direct quotes inside of it.

Examples of Quote Marking Strategies Applied

- (1) Alternate two kinds of quotation marks to show layers of direct quotation as shown in the ULT text below.

They said to him, "A man came to meet us who said to us, 'Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, "Yahweh says this: 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.'" (2 Kings 1:6 ULT)

- (2) Translate one or more of the quotes as indirect quotes in order to use fewer quotation marks, since indirect quotes do not need them. In English, the word "that" can introduce an indirect quote. In the example below, everything after the word "that" is an indirect quote of what the messengers said to the king. Within that indirect quote, there are some direct quotes marked with double and single quotation marks.

They said to him, "A man came to meet us who said to us, 'Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, "Yahweh says this: 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.'" (2 Kings 1:6 ULT)

They told him that a man came to meet them who said to them, "Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, 'Yahweh says this: "Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.'" "

- (3) If a quotation is very long and has many layers of quotation in it, indent the main overall quote, and use quote marks only for the direct quotes inside of it.

They said to him, "A man came to meet us who said to us, 'Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, "Yahweh says this: 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.'"" (2 Kings 1:6 ULT)

They said to him,

A man came to meet us who said to us, "Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, 'Yahweh says this: "Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron? Quotes within Quotes

Description

A quotation may have a quote within it, and quotes that are inside of other quotes can also have quotes within them. When a quote has quotes within it, we say there are “layers” of quotation, and each of the quotes is a layer. When there are many layers of quotes inside of quotes, it can be hard for listeners and readers to know who is saying what. Some languages use a combination of direct quotes and indirect quotes to make it easier.

This page answers the question: What is a quote within a quote, and how can I help the readers understand who is saying what?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Direct and Indirect Quotations

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

When there is a quote within a quote, the listener needs to know who the pronouns refer to. For example: if a quote that is inside a quote has the word “I,” the listener needs to know whether “I” refers to the speaker of the inner quote or the outer quote.

Some languages make this clear by using different kinds of quotes when there are quotes within quotes.

They may use direct quotes for some and indirect quotes for others.

Some languages do not use indirect quotes.

Examples From the Bible

A quotation with only one layer

But Paul said, “I, however, was indeed born a citizen.” (Acts 22:28b ULT)

Quotations with two layers

Jesus answered and said to them, “Be careful that no one leads you astray. For many will come in my name. They will say, ‘I am the Christ,’ and will lead many astray.” (Matthew 24:4-5 ULT)

The outermost layer is what Jesus said to his disciples. The second layer is what other people will say.

Jesus answered, “You say that I am a king.” (John 18:37b ULT)

The outermost layer is what Jesus said to Pilate. The second layer is what Pilate said about Jesus.

A quotation with three layers

Abraham said, “... I said to her, ‘You must show me this faithfulness as my wife: At every place where we go, say about me, “He is my brother.”’” (Genesis 20:11a, 13 ULT)

The outermost layer is what Abraham responded to Abimelech. The second layer is what Abraham had told his wife. The third layer is what he wanted his wife to say. (We have bolded the third layer.)

A quotation with four layers

They said to him, "A man came to meet us who said to us, 'Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, "Yahweh says this: 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal- Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.'"'" (2 Kings 1:6 ULT)

The outermost layer is what the messengers said to the king. The second layer is what the man who had met the messengers told them. The third is what that man wanted the messengers to say to the king. The fourth is what Yahweh said. (We have bolded the fourth layer.)

Translation Strategies

Some languages use only direct quotes. Other languages use a combination of direct quotes and indirect quotes. In those languages it might sound strange and perhaps even be confusing if there are many layers of direct quotes.

(1) Translate all of the quotes as direct quotes.

(2) Translate one or some of the quotes as indirect quotes. (See Direct and Indirect Quotations.)

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Translate all of the quotes as direct quotes. In the example below we have bolded the indirect quotes in the ULT and the quotes that we have changed to direct quotes below it.

Festus presented to the king the things concerning Paul, saying, "There is a certain man was left here as a prisoner by Felix. So I am uncertain about the things concerning this matter. I asked if he was willing to go to Jerusalem and there to be judged concerning these things. But when Paul appealed to keep him in custody for the decision of the emperor, I ordered him to be held in custody until when I could send him to Caesar." (Acts 25:14b, 20-21 ULT)

Festus presented Paul's case to the king. He said, "A certain man was left behind here by Felix as a prisoner. I was uncertain about the things concerning this matter. I asked him, 'Will you go to Jerusalem to be judged there concerning these things?' But when Paul said, 'I want to be kept in custody for the emperor's decision,' I told the guard, 'Keep him in custody until when I can send him to Caesar.'"

(2) Translate one or some of the quotes as indirect quotes. In English the word "that" can come before indirect quotes. It is bolded in the examples below. The pronouns that changed because of the indirect quote are also bolded.

And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying, "I have heard the complaints of the sons of Israel. Speak to them and say, 'During the evenings you will eat meat, and in the morning you will be satisfied with bread. And you will know that I am Yahweh your God.'" (Exodus 16:11-12 ULT)

And Yahweh spoke to Moses, saying, "I have heard the complaints of the sons of Israel. Tell them that during the evenings they will eat meat, and in the morning they will be satisfied with bread. And they will know that I am Yahweh their God."

They said to him, "A man came to meet us who said to us, 'Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, "Yahweh says this: 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.'"" (2 Kings 1:6 ULT)

They told him that a man had come to meet them who said to them, "Go back to the king who sent you, and tell him that Yahweh says this: 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you sent men to consult with Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from the bed to which you have gone up; instead, you will certainly die.'"

Reflexive Pronouns

Description

All languages have ways of showing that the same person fills two different roles in a sentence. English does this by using reflexive pronouns. These are pronouns that refer to someone or something that has already been mentioned in a sentence. In English the reflexive pronouns are: “myself,” “yourself,” “himself,” “herself,” “itself,” “ourselves,” “yourselves,” and “themselves.” Other languages may have other ways to show this.

This page answers the question: What are reflexive pronouns?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Pronouns

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentences]]

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

- Languages have different ways of showing that the same person fills two different roles in a sentence. For those languages, translators will need to know how to translate the English reflexive pronouns.
- The reflexive pronouns in English also have other functions.

Uses of Reflexive Pronouns

- To show that the same person or things fills two different roles in a sentence
- To emphasize a person or thing in the sentence
- To show that someone did something alone
- To show that someone or something was alone

Examples From the Bible

Reflexive pronouns are used to show the same person or thing fills two different roles in a sentence.

If I should testify about myself, my testimony would not be true. (John 5:31 ULT)

Now the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went up to Jerusalem from the country before the Passover in order to purify themselves. (John 11:55 ULT)

Reflexive pronouns are used to emphasize a person or thing in the sentence.

Jesus himself was not baptizing, but his disciples were. (John 4:2 ULT)

So they left the crowd, taking Jesus with them, just as he was, in the boat. There also were other boats with him. Then a violent windstorm arose and the waves were breaking into the boat so that the boat was already full of water. But Jesus himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion. (Mark 4:36-38a ULT)

Reflexive pronouns are used to show that someone did something alone.

When Jesus realized that they were about to come and seize him by force to make him king, he withdrew again up the mountain by himself. (John 6:15 ULT)

Reflexive pronouns are used to show that someone or something was alone.

He saw the linen cloths lying there and the cloth that had been on his head. It was not lying with the linen cloths but was folded up in a place by itself. (John 20:6b-7 ULT)

Translation Strategies

If a reflexive pronoun would have the same function in your language, consider using it. If not, here are some other strategies.

- (1) In some languages people put something on the verb to show that the object of the verb is the same as the subject.
- (2) In some languages people emphasize a certain person or thing by referring to it in a special place in the sentence.
- (3) In some languages people emphasize a certain person or thing by adding something to that word or putting another word with it.
- (4) In some languages people show that someone did something alone by using a word like “alone.”
- (5) In some languages people show that something was alone by using a phrase that tells about where it was.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) In some languages people modify the verb to show that the object of the verb is the same as the subject.

If I should testify about myself alone, my testimony would not be true. (John 5:31)

“If I should self-testify alone, my testimony would not be true.”

Now the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went up to Jerusalem from the country before the Passover in order to purify themselves. (John 11:55)

“Now the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went up to Jerusalem out from country before the Passover in order to self-purify.”

- (2) In some languages people emphasize a certain person or thing by referring to it in a special place in the sentence.

He himself took our sickness and bore our diseases. (Matthew 8:17 ULT)

“It was he who took our sickness and bore our diseases.”

Jesus himself was not baptizing, but his disciples were. (John 4:2)

“It was not Jesus who was baptizing, but his disciples were.”

- (3) In some languages people emphasize a certain person or thing by adding something to that word or putting another word with it. English adds the reflexive pronoun.

But Jesus said this to test Philip, for he himself knew what he was going to do. (John 6:6)

- (4) In some languages people show that someone did something alone by using a word like “alone.”

When Jesus realized that they were about to come and seize him by force to make him king, he withdrew again up the mountain by himself. (John 6:15)

“When Jesus realized that they were about to come and seize him by force to make him king, he withdrew again alone up the mountain.”

- (5) In some languages people show that something was alone by using a phrase that tells about where it was.

He saw the linen cloths lying there and the cloth that had been on his head. It was not lying with the linen cloths but was folded up in a place by itself. (John 20:6b-7 ULT)

“He saw the linen cloths lying there and the cloth that had been on his head. It was not lying with the linen cloths but was folded up and lying in its own place.”

Rhetorical Question

A rhetorical question is a question that a speaker asks when he is more interested in expressing his attitude about something than in getting information about it. Speakers use rhetorical questions to express deep emotion or to encourage hearers to think deeply about something. The Bible contains many rhetorical questions, often to express surprise, to rebuke or scold the hearer, or to teach. Speakers of some languages use rhetorical questions for other purposes as well.

This page answers the question: What are rhetorical questions and how can I translate them?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro\]\]](#)

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentencetypes\]\]](#)

Description

A rhetorical question is a question that strongly expresses the speaker's attitude toward something. Often the speaker is not looking for information at all. Or, if he is asking for information, it is not usually the information that the question appears to ask for. The speaker is more interested in expressing his attitude than in getting information.

But those who stood by said, “Are you insulting the high priest of God?”(Acts 23:4 ULT)

The people who asked Paul this question were not asking if he was insulting God's high priest. Rather, they used this question to accuse Paul of insulting the high priest.

The Bible contains many rhetorical questions. These rhetorical questions might be used for the purposes: of expressing attitudes or feelings, rebuking people, teaching something by reminding people of something they know and encouraging them to apply it to something new, or introducing something they want to talk about.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Some languages do not use rhetorical questions; for them a question is always a request for information.
- Some languages use rhetorical questions, but for purposes that are different or more limited than in the Bible.
- Because of these differences between languages, some readers might misunderstand the purpose of a rhetorical question in the Bible.

Examples From the Bible

Do you not still rule the kingdom of Israel? (1 Kings 21:7b ULT)

Jezebel used the question above to remind King Ahab of something he already knew: he still ruled the kingdom of Israel. The rhetorical question made her point more strongly than if she had merely stated it, because it forced Ahab to admit the point himself. She did this in order to rebuke him for being unwilling to take over a poor man's property. She was implying that, since he was the king of Israel, he had the power to take the man's property.

Will a virgin forget her jewelry, a bride her veils? Yet my people have forgotten me for days without number! (Jeremiah 2:32 ULT)

God used the question above to remind his people of something they already knew: a young woman would never forget her jewelry or a bride forget her veils. He then rebuked his people for forgetting him who is so much greater than those things.

Why did I not die when I came out from the womb? (Job 3:11a ULT)

Job used the question above to show deep emotion. This rhetorical question expresses how sad he was that he did not die as soon as he was born. He wished that he had not lived.

And how has this happened to me that the mother of my Lord would come to me? (Luke 1:43 ULT)

Elizabeth used the question above to show how surprised and happy she was that the mother of her Lord came to her.

Or what man is there among you, of whom his son will ask for a loaf of bread, but he will give him a stone? (Matthew 7:9 ULT)

Jesus used the question above to remind the people of something they already knew: a good father would never give his son something bad to eat. By introducing this point, Jesus could go on to teach them about God with his next rhetorical question:

Therefore, if you who are evil know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him? (Matthew 7:11 ULT)

Jesus used this question to teach the people in an emphatic way that God gives good things to those who ask him.

What is the kingdom of God like, and what can I compare it to? It is like a mustard seed that a man took and threw into his garden ... (Luke 13:18b-19a ULT)

Jesus used the question above to introduce what he was going to talk about. He was about to compare the kingdom of God to something. In this case, he compared the kingdom of God to a mustard seed.

Translation Strategies

In order to translate a rhetorical question accurately, first be sure that the question you are translating truly is a rhetorical question and is not an information question. Ask yourself, "Does the person asking the question already know the answer to the question?" If so, it is a rhetorical question. Or, if no one answers the question, did the person who asked it expect to receive an answer? If not, it is a rhetorical question.

When you are sure that the question is rhetorical, then be sure that you understand the purpose for the rhetorical question. Is it to encourage or rebuke or shame the hearer? Is it to bring up a new topic? Is it to do something else?

When you know the purpose of the rhetorical question, then think of the most natural way to express that purpose in the target language. It might be as a question, or a statement, or an exclamation.

If using the rhetorical question would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider doing so. If not, here are other options:

- (1) Add the answer after the question.
- (2) Change the rhetorical question to a statement or exclamation.
- (3) Change the rhetorical question to a statement, and then follow it with a short question.
- (4) Change the form of the question so that it communicates in your language what the original speaker communicated in his.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Add the answer after the question.

Will a virgin forget her jewelry, a bride her veils? Yet my people have forgotten me for days without number! (Jeremiah 2:32 ULT)

Will a virgin forget her jewelry, a bride her veils? Of course not! Yet my people have forgotten me for days without number!

Or what man is there among you, of whom his son will ask for a loaf of bread, but he will give him a stone? (Matthew 7:9 ULT)

Or what man is there among you, of whom his son will ask for a loaf of bread, but he will give him a stone? None of you would do that!

(2) Change the rhetorical question to a statement or exclamation.

What is the kingdom of God like, and what can I compare it to? It is like a mustard seed. (Luke 13:18-19a ULT)

This is what the kingdom of God is like. It is like a mustard seed ...

Are you insulting the high priest of God? (Acts 23:4b ULT) (Acts 23:4 ULT)

You should not insult God's high priest!

Why did I not die when I came out from the womb? (Job 3:11a ULT)

I wish I had died when I came out from the womb!

And how has this happened to me that the mother of my Lord should come to me? (Luke 1:43 ULT)

How wonderful it is that the mother of my Lord has come to me!

(3) Change the rhetorical question to a statement, and then follow it with a short question.

Do you not still rule the kingdom of Israel? (1 Kings 21:7b ULT)

You still rule the kingdom of Israel, do you not?

(4) Change the form of the question so that it communicates in your language what the original speaker communicated in his.

Or what man is there among you, of whom his son will ask for a loaf of bread, but he will give him a stone? (Matthew 7:9 ULT)

If your son asks you for a loaf of bread, would you give him a stone?

Will a virgin forget her jewelry, a bride her veils? Yet my people have forgotten me for days without number! (Jeremiah 2:32 ULT)

What virgin would forget her jewelry, and what bride would forget her veils? Yet my people have forgotten me for days without number

Simile

Description

A simile is a comparison of two things that are not normally thought to be similar. The simile focuses on a particular trait the two items have in common, and it includes the words “like,” “as,” or “than.”

This page answers the question: What is a simile?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-intro]]

When he saw the crowds, he had compassion for them, because they were troubled and discouraged, like sheep not having a shepherd. (Matthew 9:36)

Jesus compared the crowds of people to sheep without a shepherd. Sheep grow frightened when they do not have a good shepherd to lead them in safe places. The crowds were like that because they did not have good religious leaders.

See, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so be as wise as the serpents and harmless as the doves. (Matthew 10:16 ULT)

Jesus compared his disciples to sheep and their enemies to wolves. Wolves attack sheep; Jesus’ enemies would attack his disciples.

For the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword. (Hebrews 4:12a ULT)

God’s word is compared to a two-edged sword. A two-edged sword is a weapon that can easily cut through a person’s flesh. God’s word is very effective in showing what is in a person’s heart and thoughts.

Purposes of Simile

- A simile can teach about something that is unknown by showing how it is similar to something that is known.
- A simile can emphasize a particular trait, sometimes in a way that gets people’s attention.
- Similes help form a picture in the mind or help the reader experience what he is reading about more fully.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- People may not know how the two items are similar.
- People may not be familiar with both of the items being compared.

Examples From the Bible

Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. (2 Timothy 2:3 ULT)

In this simile, Paul compares suffering with what soldiers endure, and he encourages Timothy to follow their example.

Just as the lightning flashing from a place under the sky shines to another place under the sky, so will the Son of Man be. (Luke 17:24b ULT)

This verse does not tell how the Son of Man will be like the lightning. But in context we can understand from the verses before it that just as lighting flashes suddenly and everyone can see it, the Son of Man will come suddenly and everyone will be able to see him. No one will have to be told about it.

Translation Strategies

If people would understand the correct meaning of a simile, consider using it. If they would not, here are some strategies you can use:

- (1) If people do not know how the two items are alike, tell how they are alike. However, do not do this if the meaning was not clear to the original audience.
- (2) If people are not familiar with the item that something is compared to, use an item from your own culture. Be sure that it is one that could have been used in the cultures of the Bible. If you use this strategy, you may want to put the original item in a footnote.
- (3) Simply describe the item without comparing it to another.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) If people do not know how the two items are alike, tell how they are alike. However, do not do this if the meaning was not clear to the original audience.

See, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. (Matthew 10:16a ULT) — This compares the danger that Jesus' disciples would be in with the danger that sheep are in when they are surrounded by wolves.

See, I send you out among wicked people and you will be in danger from them as sheep are in danger when they are among wolves.

For the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword. (Hebrews 4:12a ULT)

For the word of God is living and active and more powerful than a very sharp two-edged sword.

- (2) If people are not familiar with the item that something is compared to, use an item from your own culture. Be sure that it is one that could have been used in the cultures of the Bible. If you use this strategy, you may want to put the original item in a footnote.

See, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, (Matthew 10:16a ULT) — If people do not know what sheep and wolves are, or that wolves kill and eat sheep, you could use some other animal that kills another.

See, I send you out as chickens in the midst of wild dogs.

How often did I long to gather your children together, just as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings, but you were not willing! (Matthew 23:37b ULT)

How often I wanted to gather your children together, as a mother closely watches over her infants, but you refused!

If you have faith as a grain of mustard ... (Matthew 17:20)

If you have faith even as small as a tiny seed,

- (3) Simply describe the item without comparing it to another.

See, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. (Matthew 10:16a ULT)

See, I send you out among people who will want to harm you.

How often did I long to gather your children together, just as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings, but you were not willing! (Matthew 23:37b ULT)

How often I wanted to protect you, but you refused!

Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

Description

The Bible was written in Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek. These languages have a singular form of “you” for when the word “you” refers to just one person, and a plural form for when the word “you” refers to more than one person. However, sometimes speakers in the Bible used the singular form of “you” even though they were speaking to a group of people. This is not obvious when you read the Bible in English because English does not have different forms that indicate where “you” is singular and where “you” is plural. But you may see this if you read a Bible in a language that does have distinct forms.

This page answers the question: How do I translate singular pronouns that refer to groups of people?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Forms of You

Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

Pronouns

Also, speakers and writers of the Old Testament often referred to groups of people with the singular pronoun “he,” rather than with the plural pronoun “they.”

Finally, Old Testament speakers and writers also refer to actions that they performed as part of a group by saying ‘I did it when, really, the whole group was involved.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

- For many languages, a translator who reads a Bible with a general form of “you” will need to know whether the speaker was speaking to one person or to more than one.
- In some languages, it might be confusing if a speaker uses a singular pronoun when speaking to or about more than one person.

Examples From the Bible

1 Now take heed that you do not do your acts of righteousness before people to be seen by them, otherwise you will not have a reward with your Father who is in heaven. 2 So when you give alms, do not sound a trumpet before yourself as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, so that they may have the praise of people. Truly I say to you, they have received their reward. (Matthew 6:1-2 ULT)

Jesus said this to a crowd. He used “you” plural in verse 1, and “you” singular in the first sentence of verse 2. Then, in the last sentence, he used the plural again.

God spoke all these words: “I am Yahweh, your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery. You must have no other gods before me.” (Exodus 20:1-3 ULT)

God said this to all the people of Israel. He had taken them all out of Egypt and he wanted them all to obey him, but he used the singular form of you here when speaking to them.

This is what Yahweh says,
 “For three sins of Edom,
 even for four,
 I will not turn away punishment,
 because he pursued his brother with the sword
 and cast off all pity.
His anger raged continually,
 and his wrath lasted forever.” (Amos 1:11 ULT)

Yahweh said these things about the nation of Edom, not about only one person.

And I arose in the night, myself and a few men with me. And I was going up by the wadi at night, and I was looking intently at the wall. And I turned back, and I entered by the gate of the valley, and I returned. (Nehemiah 2:12a,15 ULT)

Nehemiah makes clear that he brought other people with him on his inspection tour of the wall of Jerusalem. But as he describes the tour, he just says “I” did this and that.

Translation Strategies

(1) If the singular form of the pronoun would be natural when referring to a group of people, consider using it.

- Whether you can use it may depend on who the speaker is and who the people are that he is talking about or talking to.
- It may also depend on what the speaker is saying.

Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If the singular form of the pronoun would not be natural when referring to a group of people, or if the readers would be confused by it, use the plural form of the pronoun.

This is what Yahweh says,
 “For three sins of Edom,
 even for four,
 I will not turn away punishment,
 because he pursued his brother with the sword
 and cast off all pity.
His anger raged continually,
 and his wrath lasted forever.” (Amos 1:11 ULT)

This is what Yahweh says,
 “For three sins of Edom,
 even for four,
 I will not turn away punishment,
 because they pursued their brothers with the sword
 and cast off all pity.
Their anger raged continually,

And I arose in the night, myself and a few men with me. ... And we were going up by the wadi at night and we were looking intently at the wall. And we turned back and we entered by the gate of the valley, and we returned.

Symbolic Action

Description

A symbolic action is something that someone does in order to express a certain idea. For example, in some cultures people nod their heads up and down to mean “yes” or turn their heads from side to side to mean “no.” Symbolic actions do not mean the same things in all cultures. In the Bible, sometimes people perform symbolic actions and sometimes they only refer to the symbolic action.

This page answers the question: What is a symbolic action and how do I translate it?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Translate Unknowns

Examples of symbolic actions

- In some cultures people shake hands when they meet to show that they are willing to be friendly.
- In some cultures people bow when they meet to show respect to each other.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

An action may have a meaning in one culture and a different meaning or no meaning at all in another culture. For example, in some cultures raising the eyebrows means “I am surprised” or “What did you say?” In other cultures it means “yes.”

In the Bible, people did things that had certain meanings in their culture. When we read the Bible, we might not understand what someone meant if we interpret the action based on what it means in our own culture today.

You (the translator) need to understand what people in the Bible meant when they used symbolic actions. If an action does not mean the same thing in your own culture, then you need to figure out how to translate what the action meant.

Examples From the Bible

And behold, a man came whose name was Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue. And falling at the feet of Jesus, he begged him to come to his house. (Luke 8:41 ULT)

Meaning of symbolic action: He did this to show great respect to Jesus.

Look, I am standing at the door and am knocking. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come into him and will eat with him, and he with me. (Revelation 3:20 ULT)

Meaning of symbolic action: When people wanted someone to welcome them into their home, they stood at the door and knocked on it.

Translation Strategies

If people would correctly understand what a symbolic action meant to the people in the Bible, consider using it. If not, here are some strategies for translating it.

- (1) Tell what the person did and why he did it.
- (2) Do not tell what the person did, but tell what he meant.

(3) Use an action from your own culture that has the same meaning. Do this only in poetry, parables, and sermons. Do not do this when there actually was a person who did a specific action.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Tell what the person did and why he did it.

And falling at the feet of Jesus (Luke 8:41 ULT)

Jairus fell down at Jesus' feet in order to show that he greatly respected him.

Look, I am standing at the door and am knocking. (Revelation 3:20 ULT)

Look, I stand at the door and knock on it, asking you to let me in.

(2) Do not tell what the person did, but tell what he meant.

And falling at the feet of Jesus (Luke 8:41 ULT)

Jairus showed Jesus great respect.

Look, I am standing at the door and am knocking. (Revelation 3:20 ULT)

Look, I stand at the door and ask you to let me in.

(3) Use an action from your own culture that has the same meaning.

And falling at the feet of Jesus (Luke 8:41 ULT) — Since Jairus actually did this, you should not substitute an action from your own culture.

Look, I am standing at the door and am knocking. (Revelation 3:20 ULT) — Jesus was not standing at a real door. Rather he was speaking about wanting to have a relationship with people. So in cultures where it is polite to clear one's throat when wanting to be let into a house, you could use that.

Look, I stand at the door and clear my throat.

Synecdoche

Description

Synecdoche is a figure of speech in which a speaker uses a part of something to refer to the whole thing, or uses the whole to refer to a part.

■ My soul magnifies the Lord. (Luke 1:46b ULT)

Mary was very happy about what the Lord was doing, so she said “my soul,” which means the inner, emotional part of herself, to refer to her whole self.

■ So the Pharisees said to him, “Look, why are they doing that which is not lawful?” (Mark 2:24a ULT)

The Pharisees who were standing there did not all say the same words at the same time. Instead, it is more likely that one man representing the group said those words.

Reasons This Is a Translation Issue

- Some readers may not recognize the synecdoche and thus misunderstand the words as a literal statement.
- Some readers may realize that they are not to understand the words literally, but they may not know what the meaning is.

Example From the Bible

■ Then I looked on all the deeds that my hands had accomplished. (Ecclesiastes 2:11a ULT)

“My hands” is a synecdoche for the whole person because clearly the arms and the rest of the body and the mind were also involved in the person’s accomplishments. The hands are chosen to represent the person because they are the parts of the body most directly involved in the work.

Translation Strategies

If the synecdoche would be natural and give the right meaning in your language, consider using it. If not, here is another option:

(1) State specifically what the synecdoche refers to.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

■ “My soul magnifies the Lord.” (Luke 1:46b ULT)

■ “I magnify the Lord.”

Textual Variants

Description

Thousands of years ago, people wrote the books of the Bible. Other people then copied them by hand and translated them. They did this work very carefully, and over the years many people made thousands of copies. However, people who looked at them later saw that there were small differences between them. Some copiers accidentally left out some words, or some mistook one word for another that looked like it. Occasionally, they added words or even whole sentences, either by accident or because they wanted to explain something. Modern Bibles are translations of the old copies. Some modern Bibles include some of these sentences that were added. In the ULT, these added sentences are usually written in footnotes.

Bible scholars have read many old copies and compared them with each other. For each place in the Bible where there was a difference, they have figured out which wordings are most likely correct. The translators of the ULT based the ULT on wordings that scholars say are most likely correct. Because people who use the ULT may have access to Bibles that are based on other copies, the ULT translators have sometimes included information about some of the differences between them, either in the ULT footnotes or in the unfoldingWord® Translation Notes.

Translators are encouraged to translate the text in the ULT and to write about added sentences in footnotes, as is done in the ULT. However, if the local church really wants those sentences to be included in the main text, translators may put them in the text and include a footnote about them.

This page answers the question: Why does the ULT have missing or added verses, and should I translate them?

Examples From the Bible

Matthew 18:10-11 ULT has a footnote about verse 11.

¹⁰ See that you do not despise one of these little ones. For I say to you that in heaven their angels always look on the face of my Father who is in heaven. ¹¹ ^[1]

^[1] Many authorities, some ancient, insert v. 11: For the Son of Man came to save that which was lost.

John 7:53-8:11 is not in the best earliest manuscripts. It has been included in the ULT, but it is marked off with square brackets ([]) at the beginning and end, and there is a footnote after verse 11.

53 [Then everyone went to his own house ... 11 She said, "No one, Lord." Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you. Go and sin no more."] ^[2]

^[2] Some ancient manuscripts include John 7:53-8:11

Translation Strategies

When there is a textual variant, you may choose to follow the ULT or another version that you have access to.

- (1) Translate the verses as they are in the ULT and include the footnote that the ULT provides.
- (2) Translate the verses as another version has them, and change the footnote so that it fits this situation.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

The translation strategies are applied to Mark 7:14-16 ULT, which has a footnote about verse 16.

¹⁴ He called the crowd again and said to them, “Listen to me, all of you, and understand. ¹⁵ There is nothing from outside the man that can defile him when it enters into him. But the things that come out of the man are the things that defile the man.” ¹⁶ [1]

Translate Unknowns

While working to translate the Bible, you (the translator) might find yourself asking: “How do I translate words like lion, fig tree, mountain, priest, or temple when people in my culture have never seen these things and we do not have a word for them?”

This page answers the question: How can I translate ideas that my readers are not familiar with?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/figs-sentences\]\]](#)

Description

Unknowns are things that occur in the source text that are not known to the people of your culture. The unfoldingWord® Translation Words pages and the unfoldingWord® Translation Notes will help you understand what they are. After you understand them, you will need to find ways to refer to those things so that people who read your translation will understand what they are.

They said to him, “We have nothing here except five loaves of bread and two fish.” (Matthew 14:17 ULT)

Bread is a particular food made by mixing finely crushed grains with oil, and then cooking the mixture so that it is dry. (Grains are the seeds of a kind of grass.) In some cultures people do not have bread and do not know what it is.

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

- Readers may not know some of the things that are in the Bible because those things are not part of their own culture.
- Readers may have difficulty understanding a text if they do not know some of the things that are mentioned in it.

Translation Principles

- Use words that are already part of your language if possible.
- Keep expressions short if possible.
- Represent God’s commands and historical facts accurately.

Examples From the Bible

So I will turn Jerusalem into piles of ruins, a hideout for jackals. (Jeremiah 9:11a ULT)

Jackals are wild animals like dogs that live in only a few parts of the world. So they are not known in many places.

Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep’s clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves. (Matthew 7:15 ULT)

If wolves do not live where the translation will be read, the readers may not understand that they are fierce, wild animals like dogs that attack and eat sheep.

They offered him wine mixed with myrrh, but he did not drink it. (Mark 15:23 ULT)

People may not know what myrrh is and that it was used as a medicine.

... to him who made great lights ... (Psalm 136:7a ULT)

Some languages have terms for things that give light, like the sun and fire, but they have no general term for lights.

Your sins ... will be white like snow. (Isaiah 1:18b ULT)

People in many parts of the world have not seen snow, but they may have seen it in pictures.

Translation Strategies

Here are ways you might translate a term that is not known in your language:

- (1) Use a phrase that describes what the unknown item is, or what is important about the unknown item for the verse being translated.
- (2) Substitute something similar from your language if doing so does not falsely represent a historical fact.
- (3) Copy the word from another language, and add a general word or descriptive phrase to help people understand it.
- (4) Use a word that is more general in meaning.
- (5) Use a word or phrase that is more specific in meaning.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) Use a phrase that describes what the unknown item is, or what is important about the unknown item for the verse being translated.

Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but are inwardly they are ravenous wolves. (Matthew 7:15 ULT)

Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are very hungry and dangerous animals.

"Ravenous wolves" is part of a metaphor here, so the reader needs to know that they are very dangerous to sheep in order to understand this metaphor. (If sheep are also unknown, then you will need to also use one of the translation strategies to translate sheep, or change the metaphor to something else, using a translation strategy for metaphors. See Translating Metaphors.)

"We have nothing here except five loaves of bread and two fish." (Matthew 14:17 ULT)

We have nothing here except five loaves of baked grain seeds and two fish.

(2) Substitute something similar from your language if doing so does not falsely represent a historical fact.

Your sins ... will be white like snow. (Isaiah 1:18b ULT) This verse is not about snow. It uses snow in a figure of speech to help people understand how white something will be.

Your sins ... will be white like milk.

Your sins ... will be white like the moon.

(3) Copy the word from another language, and add a general word or descriptive phrase to help people understand it.

Then they tried to give Jesus wine that was mixed with myrrh. But he refused to drink it. (Mark 15:23 ULT) — People may understand better what myrrh is if it is used with the general word “medicine.”

Then they tried to give Jesus wine that was mixed with a medicine called myrrh. But he refused to drink it.

“We have nothing here except five loaves of bread and two fish.” (Matthew 14:17 ULT) — People may understand better what bread is if it is used with a phrase that tells what it is made of (seeds) and how it is prepared (crushed and baked).

We have nothing here except five loaves of baked crushed seed bread and two fish.

(4) Use a word that is more general in meaning.

I will turn Jerusalem into piles of ruins, a hideout for jackals (Jeremiah 9:11a ULT)

I will turn Jerusalem into piles of ruins, a hideout for wild dogs

“We have nothing here except five loaves of bread and two fish.” (Matthew 14:17 ULT)

We have nothing here except five loaves of baked food and two fish.

(5) Use a word or phrase that is more specific in meaning.

... to him who made great lights ... (Psalm 136:7a ULT)

to him who made the sun and the moon

Verse Bridges

Description

In some cases, you will see in the unfoldingWord® Simplified Text (UST) that two or more verse numbers are combined, such as 17-18. This is called a verse bridge. This means that the information in the verses was rearranged so that the story or message could be more easily understood.

This page answers the question: Why are some verse numbers combined in the UST, such as "3-5" or "17-18"?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

[\[\[rc://en/ta/man/translate/translate-bibleorg\]\]](https://en.ta/man/translate/translate-bibleorg)

29 These were the clans of the Horites: Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, and Anah, 30 Dishon, Ezer, Dishan: these are clans of the Horites, according to their clan lists in the land of Seir. (Genesis 36:29-30 ULT)

29-30 The people groups who were descendants of Hor lived in Seir land. The names of the people groups are Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah, Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan. (Genesis 36:29-30 UST)

In the ULT text, verses 29 and 30 are separate, and the information about the people living in Seir is at the end of verse 30. In the UST text, the verses are joined, and the information about them living in Seir is at the beginning. For many languages, this is a more logical order of information.

Examples From the Bible

Where the UST has a verse bridge, the ULT will have separate verses.

⁴⁻⁵ Yahweh our God will bless you in the land that he is giving to you. If you obey Yahweh our God and obey all the commandments that I am giving to you today, there will not be any poor people among you. (Deuteronomy 15:4-5 UST)

⁴ However, there should be no poor among you (for Yahweh will surely bless you in the land that he gives you as an inheritance to possess), ⁵ if only you diligently listen to the voice of Yahweh your God, to keep all these commandments that I am commanding you today. (Deuteronomy 15:4-5 ULT)

¹⁶⁻¹⁷ But Yahweh said to him, "I will not permit you to eat the fruit of the tree that will enable you to know what actions are good to do and what actions are evil to do. If you eat any fruit from that tree, on the day you eat it you will surely die. But I will permit you to eat the fruit of any of the other trees in the park." (Genesis 2:16-17 UST)

¹⁶ Yahweh God commanded the man, saying, "From every tree in the garden you may freely eat. ¹⁷ But from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you may not eat, for on the day that you eat from it, you will surely die." (Genesis 2:16-17 ULT)

Translation Strategies

Order the information in a way that will be clear to your readers. If the order of information is clear as it is in the ULT, then use that order. But if the order is confusing or gives the wrong meaning, then change the order so that it is more clear.

(1) If you put information from one verse before information from an earlier verse, then combine the verses and put a hyphen between the two verse numbers.

See how to mark verses in translationStudio.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

(1) If information from one verse is put before information from an earlier verse, then combine the verses and put the verse numbers before the first verse with a hyphen between them.

2 You must select three cities for yourself in the middle of your land that Yahweh your God is giving you to possess. 3 You must build a road and divide the borders of your land into three parts, the land that Yahweh your God is causing you to inherit, so that everyone who kills another person may flee there. (Deuteronomy 19:2-3 ULT)

2-3 You must divide into three parts the land that he is giving to you. Then select a city in each part. You must make good roads in order that people can get to those cities easily. Someone who kills another person can escape to one of those cities to be safe. (Deuteronomy 19:2-3 UST)

When Masculine Words Include Women

In the Bible, sometimes the words “men,” “brothers,” and “sons” refer only to men. At other times, those words include both men and women. In those places where the writer meant both men and women, you (the translator) need to translate it in a way that does not limit the meaning to men.

Description

In some languages a word that normally refers to men can also be used in a more general way to refer to both men and women. For example, the Bible sometimes says “brothers” when it refers to both brothers and sisters.

Also in some languages, the masculine pronouns “he” and “him” can be used in a more general way for any person if it is not important whether the person is a man or a woman. In the example below, the pronoun is “his,” but it is not limited to males.

A wise son makes his father rejoice but a foolish son brings grief to his mother. (Proverbs 10:1 ULT)

Reason This Is a Translation Issue

- In some cultures words like “man,” “brother,” and “son” can only be used to refer to men. If those words are used in a translation in a more general way, people will think that what is being said does not apply to women.
- In some cultures, the masculine pronouns “he” and “him” can only refer to men. If a masculine pronoun is used, people will think that what is said does not apply to women.

Translation Principles

When a statement applies to both men and women, translate it in such a way that people will be able to understand that it applies to both.

Examples From the Bible

Now we want you to know, brothers, the grace of God that has been given to the churches of Macedonia. (2 Corinthians 8:1 ULT)

This verse is addressing the believers in Corinth, not only men, but men and women.

Then said Jesus to his disciples, “If anyone wants to follow me, he must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me.” (Matthew 16:24 ULT)

Jesus was not speaking only of men, but of men and women.

Caution: Sometimes masculine words are used specifically to refer to men. Do not use words that would lead people to think that they include women. The words below are specifically about men.

Moses said, ‘If someone dies, not having children, his brother must marry his wife and have children for his brother.’ (Matthew 22:24 ULT)

This page answers the question: How do I translate “brother” or “he” when it could refer to anyone, male or female?

In order to understand this topic, it would be good to read:

Pronouns

Generic Noun Phrases

Translation Strategies

If people would understand that that masculine words like “man,” “brother,” and “he” can include women, then consider using them. Otherwise, here are some ways for translating those words when they include women.

- (1) Use a noun that can be used for both men and women.
- (2) Use a word that refers to men and a word that refers to women.
- (3) Use pronouns that can be used for both men and women.

Examples of Translation Strategies Applied

- (1) Use nouns that can be used for both men and women.

The wise man dies just like the fool dies. (Ecclesiastes 2:16b ULT)

“The wise person dies just like the fool dies.”

“Wise people die just like fools die.”

- (2) Use a word that refers to men and a word that refers to women.

For we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers, about the troubles that happened to us in Asia. (2 Corinthians 1:8) — Paul was writing this letter to both men and women.

“For we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers and sisters, about the troubles that happened to us in Asia.”

- (3) Use pronouns that can be used for both men and women.

“If anyone wants to follow me, he must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me.”
(Matthew 16:24 ULT)

English speakers can change the masculine singular pronouns, “he,” “himself,” and “his” to plural pronouns that do not mark gender, “they,” “themselves,” and “their” in order to show that it applies to all people, not just men.

>

“If people want to follow me, they must deny themselves, take up their cross, and follow me.”

Version 31

atonement, atone, atoned

Definition:

The terms “atone” and “atonement” refer to how God provided a sacrifice to pay for people’s sins and to appease his wrath for sin.

- In Old Testament times, God allowed temporary atonement to be made for the sins of the Israelites by the offering of a blood sacrifice, which involved killing an animal.
- As recorded in the New Testament, Christ’s death on the cross is the only true and permanent atonement for sin.
- When Jesus died, he took the punishment that people deserve because of their sin. He paid the atonement price with his sacrificial death.

Translation Suggestions:

- The term “atone” could be translated by a word or phrase that means “pay for” or “provide payment for” or “cause someone’s sins to be forgiven” or “make amends for a crime.”
- Ways to translate “atonement” could include “payment” or “sacrifice to pay for sin” or “providing the means of forgiveness.”
- Make sure the translation of this term does not refer to payment of money.

 This chapter is mostly a return to instructions for building worship equipment for the sacred tent.
 The forms of “you” are mostly singular. However, they again refer to the workmen that Moses will instruct, so you should return to whatever form you have been following in chapters 25-28.
Structure:
 v. 1-10: Incense altar * v. 1-6: Instructions for making the incense altar * v. 7-10: Use of the incense altar
 v. 11-16: Ransom money for taking a census
 v. 17-21: Instructions for a washbasin
 v. 22-30: Anointing oil * v. 22-25: Instructions for making the oil * v. 26-33: Instructions for using the oil
 v. 34-38: Making and using sacred incense
Special Concepts in this Chapter
Atonement
 Through the offering of blood and money, things and people were kept in God’s favor. (See: atonement, atone, atoned)
Holiness
 Some items in this chapter became so holy that they could make other things holy. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)
Unknown terms
 There are a number of ingredient terms that are unknown even to scholars.)

believe, believer, belief, unbeliever, unbelief

Definition:

The terms “believe” and “believe in” are closely related, but have slightly different meanings:

1. believe

- To believe something is to accept or trust that it is true.
- To believe someone is to acknowledge that what that person has said is true.

2. believe in

- To “believe in” someone means to “trust in” that person. It means to trust that the person is who he says he is, that he always speaks the truth, and that he will do what he has promised to do.
- When a person truly believes in something, he will act in such a way that shows that belief.
- The phrase “have faith in” usually has the same meaning as “believe in.”
- To “believe in Jesus” means to believe that he is the Son of God, that he is God himself who also became human and who died as a sacrifice to pay for our sins. It means to trust him as Savior and live in a way that honors him.

3. believer

In the Bible, the term “believer” refers to someone who believes in and relies on Jesus Christ as Savior.

- The term “believer” literally means “person who believes.”
- The term “Christian” eventually came to be the main title for believers because it indicates that they believe in Christ and obey his teachings.

4. unbelief

The term “unbelief” refers to not believing something or someone.

- In the Bible, “unbelief” refers to not believing in or not trusting in Jesus as one’s Savior.
- A person who does not believe in Jesus is called an “unbeliever.”

Translation Suggestions:

- To “believe” could be translated as to “know to be true” or “know to be right.”
- To “believe in” could be translated as “trust completely” or “trust and obey” or “completely rely on and follow.”
- Some translations may prefer to say “believer in Jesus” or “believer in Christ.”
- This term could also be translated by a word or phrase that means “person who trusts in Jesus” or “someone who knows Jesus and lives for him.”
- Other ways to translate “believer” could be “follower of Jesus” or “person who knows and obeys Jesus.”
- The term “believer” is a general term for any believer in Christ, while “disciple” and “apostle” were used more specifically for people who knew Jesus while he was alive. It is best to translate these terms in different ways, in order to keep them distinct.
- Other ways to translate “unbelief” could include “lack of faith” or “not believing.”

- The term “unbeliever” could be translated as “person who does not believe in Jesus” or “someone who does not trust in Jesus as Savior.”

- 37:5 Jesus replied, “I am the Resurrection and the Life. Whoever believes in me will live, even though he dies. Everyone who believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?”
- 43:1 After Jesus returned to heaven, the disciples stayed in Jerusalem as Jesus had commanded them to do. The believers there constantly gathered together to pray.
- 43:3 While the believers were all together, suddenly the house where they were was filled with a sound like a strong wind. Then something that looked like flames of fire appeared over the heads of all the believers.
- 43:13 Every day, more people became believers.
- 46:6 That day many people in Jerusalem started persecuting the followers of Jesus, so the believers fled to other places. But in spite of this, they preached about Jesus everywhere they went.
- 46:1 Saul was the young man who guarded the robes of the men who killed Stephen. He did not believe in Jesus, so he persecuted the believers.
- 46:9 Some believers who fled from the persecution in Jerusalem went far away to the city of Antioch and preached about Jesus.
- 46:9 It was at Antioch that believers in Jesus were first called “Christians.”
- 47:14 They also wrote many letters to encourage and teach the believers in the churches.

bread

Definition:

Bread is a food made from flour mixed with water and oil to form a dough. The dough is then shaped into a loaf and baked.

- When the term “loaf” occurs by itself, it means “loaf of bread.”
- Bread dough is usually made with something that makes it rise, such as yeast. However, bread can also be made without yeast so that it does not rise. This is called “unleavened bread” in the Bible. The ancient Israelites ate “unleavened bread” during the passover meal.
- Since bread was the main food for many people in biblical times, this term is also used in the Bible to refer to food in general. (See: Synecdoche) Many times the term “bread” can be translated more generally as “food.”
- The phrase “bread of the presence” refers to twelve loaves of bread that were placed on a golden table in the tabernacle or temple building as a sacrifice to God. These loaves represented the twelve tribes of Israel and were only for the priests to eat. This could be translated as “bread showing that God lived among them.”
- The term “bread from heaven” refers to the special white food called “manna” that God provided for the Israelites when they were wandering through the desert. Jesus also called himself the “bread that came down from heaven” and the “bread of life.”

chosen, choose, chosen people, Chosen One, elect

Definition:

The term “the elect” literally means “chosen ones” or “chosen people” and refers to those whom God has appointed or selected to be his people. “Chosen One” or “Chosen One of God” is a title that refers to Jesus, who is the chosen Messiah.

- The term “choose” means to select something or someone or to decide something. It is often used to refer to God appointing people to belong to him and to serve him.
- To be “chosen” means to be “selected” or “appointed” to be or do something.
- God chose people to be holy, to be set apart by him for the purpose of bearing good spiritual fruit. That is why they are called “the chosen (ones)” or “the elect.”
- The term “chosen one” is sometimes used in the Bible to refer to certain people such as Moses and King David whom God had appointed as leaders over his people. It is also used to refer to the nation of Israel as God’s chosen people.
- The phrase “the elect” is an older term that literally means “the chosen ones” or “the chosen people.” This phrase in the original language is plural when referring to believers in Christ.
- In older English Bible versions, the term “elect” is used in both the Old and New Testaments to translate the word for “chosen one(s).” More modern versions use “elect” only in the New Testament, to refer to people who have been saved by God through faith in Jesus. Elsewhere in the Bible text, they translate this word more literally as “chosen ones.”

Translation Suggestions:

- It is best to translate “elect” with a word or phrase that means “chosen ones” or “chosen people.” This could also be translated as “people whom God chose” or “the ones God appointed to be his people.”
- The phrase “who were chosen” could also be translated as “who were appointed” or “who were selected” or “whom God chose.”
- “I chose you” could be translated as “I appointed you” or “I selected you.”
- In reference to Jesus, “Chosen One” could also be translated as “God’s chosen One” or “God’s specially appointed Messiah” or “the One God appointed (to save people).”

circumcise, circumcised, circumcision, uncircumcised, uncircumcision

Definition:

The term “circumcise” means to cut off the foreskin of a man or male child. A circumcision ceremony may be performed in connection with this.

- God commanded Abraham to circumcise every male among his family and servants as a sign of God’s covenant with them.
- God also commanded Abraham’s descendants to continue to do this for every baby boy born into their households.
- The phrase, “circumcision of the heart” refers figuratively to the “cutting away” or removal of sin from a person.
- In a spiritual sense, “the circumcised” refers to people whom God has purified from sin through the blood of Jesus and who are his people.
- The term “uncircumcised” refers to those who have not been circumcised physically. It can also refer figuratively to those who have not been circumcised spiritually, who do not have a relationship with God.

The terms “uncircumcised” and “uncircumcision” refer to a male who has not been physically circumcised. These terms are also used figuratively.

- Egypt was a nation that also required circumcision. So when God talks about Egypt being defeated by the “uncircumcised,” he is referring to people whom the Egyptians despised for not being circumcised.
- The Bible refers to people who have an “uncircumcised heart” or who are “uncircumcised in heart.” This a figurative way of saying that these people are not God’s people, and are stubbornly disobedient to him.
- If a word for circumcision is used or known in the language, “uncircumcised” could be translated as “not circumcised.”
- The expression “the uncircumcision” could be translated as “people who are not circumcised” or “people who do not belong to God,” depending on the context.
- Other ways to translate figurative senses of this term could include “not God’s people” or “rebellious like those who don’t belong to God” or “people who have no sign of belonging to God.”
- The expression “uncircumcised in heart” could be translated as “stubbornly rebellious” or “refusing to believe.” However, if possible it is best to keep the expression or a similar one since spiritual circumcision is an important concept.

Translation Suggestions:

- If the culture of the target language performs circumcisions on males, the word used to refer to this should be used for this term.
- Other ways to translate this term would be, “cut around” or “cut in a circle” or “cut off the foreskin.”
- In cultures where circumcision is not known, it may be necessary to explain it in a footnote or glossary.
- Make sure the term used to translate this does not refer to females. It may be necessary to translate this with a word or phrase that includes the meaning of “male.”

consecrate, consecrated, consecration

Definition:

To consecrate means to dedicate something or someone to serve God. The person or object that is consecrated is considered holy and set apart for God.

- The meaning of this term is similar to “sanctify” or to “make holy,” but with the added meaning of formally setting apart someone for service to God.
- Things that were consecrated to God included animals to be sacrificed, the altar of burnt offering, and the tabernacle.
- People who were consecrated to God included the priests, the people of Israel, and the oldest male child.
- Sometimes the word “consecrate” has a meaning that is similar to “purify,” especially when it pertains to preparing people or things for God’s service so that they will be cleansed and acceptable to him.

Translation Suggestions:

- Ways to translate “consecrate” could include, “set apart for God’s service” or “purify for service to God.”
- Also consider how the terms “holy” and “sanctify” are translated.

 Large translation teams working on multiple books at the same time should note that this chapter is very similar to Leviticus 8. Structure
 As you translate, you may perceive a different structure in this chapter than what is below. Feel free to organize in a way that is clear in your language. This chapter is really one united whole; the outline below is one possible way of subdividing it.
 The Consecration of the Priests
 v. 1-3 Preparing items
 v. 4-9 Preparing Aaron and his sons
 v. 10-14 Sacrificing the bull to purify the altar
 v. 15-34 Sacrificing the rams * v. 15-18 The first ram wholly burned * v. 19-28 The second ram used for consecrating and divided for eating * v. 29-30 Priestly succession * v. 31-34 More instructions regarding eating the second ram
 v. 35-37 Instructions to do all this for seven days
 v. 38-41 Instructions for perpetual offerings
 v. 42-46 Yahweh’s affirmation
 Special Concepts in this Chapter
 Consecrating priests
 This chapter records the process of consecrating priests. The priests were to be set apart from the rest of Israel because Yahweh is holy. (See: consecrate, consecrated, consecration and priest, priesthood and holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)
 Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter
 Forms of you
 For this chapter, it seems that the singular “you: that Yahweh has been using to give Moses general instructions for the last several chapters now actually refers to Moses himself. If you have been translating the instructions using a plural form of you or by shifting the instructions to the third person, you should switch back to a singular form referring directly to Moses for this chapter.
 “I will live among the Israelites”
 As God, Yahweh is everywhere and cannot be limited to a single space. This phrase indicates that he permanently remains within Israel in a special way while they have the ark.)

covenant

Definition:

In the Bible, the term “covenant” refers to a formal, binding agreement between two parties that one or both parties must fulfill.

- This agreement can be between individuals, between groups of people, or between God and people.
- When people make a covenant with each other, they promise that they will do something, and they must do it.
- Examples of human covenants include marriage covenants, business agreements, and treaties between countries.
- Throughout the Bible, God made several different covenants with his people.
- In some of the covenants, God promised to fulfill his part without conditions. For example, when God established his covenant with mankind promising to never destroy the earth again with a worldwide flood, this promise had no conditions for people to fulfill.
- In other covenants, God promised to fulfill his part only if the people obeyed him and fulfilled their part of the covenant.

The term “new covenant” refers to the commitment or agreement God made with his people through the sacrifice of his Son, Jesus.

- God’s “new covenant” was explained in the part of the Bible called the “New Testament.”
- This new covenant is in contrast to the “old” or “former” covenant that God had made with the Israelites in Old Testament times.
- The new covenant is better than the old one because it is based on the sacrifice of Jesus, which completely atoned for people’s sins forever. The sacrifices made under the old covenant did not do this.
- God writes the new covenant on the hearts those who become believers in Jesus. This causes them to want to obey God and to begin to live holy lives.
- The new covenant will be completely fulfilled in the end times when God establishes his reign on earth. Everything will once again be very good, as it was when God first created the world.

Translation Suggestions:

- Depending on the context, ways to translate this term could include, “binding agreement” or “formal commitment” or “pledge” or “contract.”
- Some languages may have different words for covenant depending on whether one party or both parties have made a promise they must keep. If the covenant is one-sided, it could be translated as “promise” or “pledge.”
- Make sure the translation of this term does not sound like people proposed the covenant. In all cases of covenants between God and people, it was God who initiated the covenant.
- The term “new covenant” could be translated as “new formal agreement” or “new pact” or “new contract.”
- The word “new” in these expressions has the meaning of “fresh” or “new kind of” or “another.”

covenant faithfulness, covenant loyalty, covenant love

Definition:

In biblical times, the term translated as “covenant faithfulness” was used to describe the kind of faithfulness, loyalty, kindness, and love that was both expected and demonstrated between people who were closely related to one another, either by marriage or by blood. This same term is used often in the Bible to describe the way God relates to his people, especially his commitment to fulfill the promises that he made to them.

- The way this term is translated can depend on how each of the individual terms “covenant” and “faithfulness” are translated.
- Other ways to translate this term might include: “faithful love;” “loyal, committed love;” or “loving dependability.”

 ## Covenant
 Yahweh's covenant faithfulness is now based on the covenant he made with Abraham as well as the covenant he is making with Moses. (See: covenant faithfulness, covenant loyalty, covenant love and covenant)
 ## Form of you
 The singular form of you is used in the commandments; however, the commandments applied to the whole Israelite community. There is both a singular and a corporate aspect to them. You may need to choose between singular and plural if your language makes that distinction. (See: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups)

evil, wicked, unpleasant

Definition:

In the Bible, the term “evil” can refer either to the concept of moral wickedness or emotional unpleasantness. The context will usually make it clear which meaning is intended in the specific instance of the term.

- While “evil” may describe a person’s character, “wicked” may refer more to a person’s behavior. However, both terms are very similar in meaning.
- The term “wickedness” refers to the state of being that exists when people do wicked things.
- The results of evil are clearly shown in how people mistreat others by killing, stealing, slandering and being cruel and unkind.

Translation Suggestions:

- Depending on the context, the terms “evil” and “wicked” can be translated as “bad” or “sinful” or “immoral.”
- Other ways to translate these could include “not good” or “not righteous” or “not moral.”
- Make sure the words or phrases that are used to translate these terms fit the context that is natural in the target language.

faith

Definition:

In general, the term “faith” refers to a belief, trust or confidence in someone or something.

- To “have faith” in someone is to believe that what he says and does is true and trustworthy.
- To “have faith in Jesus” means to believe all of God’s teachings about Jesus. It especially means that people trust in Jesus and his sacrifice to cleanse them from their sin and to rescue them from the punishment they deserve because of their sin.
- True faith or belief in Jesus will cause a person to produce good spiritual fruits or behaviors because the Holy Spirit is living in him.
- Sometimes “faith” refers generally to all the teachings about Jesus, as in the expression “the truths of the faith.”
- In contexts such as “keep the faith” or “abandon the faith,” the term “faith” refers to the state or condition of believing all the teachings about Jesus.

Translation Suggestions:

- In some contexts, “faith” can be translated as “belief” or “conviction” or “confidence” or “trust.”
- For some languages these terms will be translated using forms of the verb “believe.” (See: abstractnouns)
- The expression “keep the faith” could be translated by “keep believing in Jesus” or “continue to believe in Jesus.”
- The sentence “they must keep hold of the deep truths of the faith” could be translated by “they must keep believing all the true things about Jesus that they have been taught.”
- The expression “my true son in the faith” could be translated by something like “who is like a son to me because I taught him to believe in Jesus” or “my true spiritual son, who believes in Jesus.”

firstborn

Definition:

The term “firstborn” refers to an offspring of people or animals that is born first, before the other offspring are born.

- In the Bible, “firstborn” usually refers to the first male offspring that is born.
- In Bible times, the firstborn son was given a place of prominence and twice as much of his family inheritance as the other sons.
- Often it was the firstborn male of an animal that was sacrificed to God.
- This concept can also be used figuratively. For example, the nation of Israel is called God’s firstborn son because God gave it special privileges over other nations.
- Jesus, the Son of God is called God’s firstborn because of his importance and authority over everyone else.

Translation Suggestions:

- When “first-born” occurs in the text alone, it could also be translated as “firstborn male” or “firstborn son,” since that is what is implied. (See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)
- Other ways to translate this term could include “the son who was born first” or “the eldest son” or “the number one son.”
- When used figuratively to refer to Jesus, this could be translated with a word or phrase that means “the son who has authority over everything” or “the Son who is first in honor.”
- Caution: Make sure the translation of this term in reference to Jesus does not imply that he was created.

fulfill, fulfilled, carried out

Definition:

The term “fulfill” means to complete or accomplish something that was expected.

- When a prophecy is fulfilled, it means that God causes to happen what was predicted in the prophecy.
- If a person fulfills a promise or a vow, it means that he does what he has promised to do.
- To fulfill a responsibility means to do the task that was assigned or required.

Translation Suggestions:

- Depending on the context, “fulfill” could be translated as “accomplish” or “complete” or “cause to happen” or “obey” or “perform.”
- The phrase “has been fulfilled” could also be translated as “has come true” or “has happened” or “has taken place.”
- Ways to translate “fulfill,” as in “fulfill your ministry,” could include “complete” or “perform” or “practice” or “serve other people as God has called you to do.”

glory, glorious, glorify

Definition:

The term “glory” is a general term for a family of concepts including value, worth, importance, honor, splendor, or majesty. The term “glorify” means to ascribe glory to someone or something, or to show or tell how glorious something or someone is.

- In the Bible, the term “glory” is especially used to describe God, who is more valuable, more worthy, more important, more honorable, more splendid, and more majestic than anyone or anything in the universe. Everything about his character reveals his glory.
- People can glorify God by telling about the wonderful things he has done. They can also glorify God by living in accordance with God’s character, because doing so shows to others his value, worth, importance, honor, splendor, and majesty.
- The expression to “glory in” means to boast about or take pride in something.

Old Testament

- The specific phrase “the glory of Yahweh” in the Old Testament usually refers to some perceptible manifestation of Yahweh’s presence in a particular location.

New Testament

- God the Father will glorify God the Son by revealing to all people the full extent of how glorious Jesus is.
- Everyone who believes in Christ will be glorified with him. This use of the term “glorify” carries a unique meaning. It means that when people who believe in Christ are raised to life, they will be changed physically to be like Jesus as he appeared after his resurrection.

Translation Suggestions:

- Depending on the context, different ways to translate “glory” could include “splendor” or “majesty” or “awesome greatness” or “extreme value.”
- The term “glorious” could be translated as “full of glory” or “extremely valuable” or “brightly shining” or “awesomely majestic.”
- The expression “give glory to God” could be translated as “honor God’s greatness” or “praise God because of his splendor” or “tell others how great God is.”
- The expression “glory in” could also be translated as “praise” or “take pride in” or “boast about” or “take pleasure in.”
- “Glorify” could also be translated as “give glory to” or “bring glory to” or “cause to appear great.”
- The phrase “glorify God” could also be translated as “praise God” or “talk about God’s greatness” or “show how great God is” or “honor God (by obeying him).”
- The term “be glorified” could also be translated as “be shown to be very great” or “be praised” or “be exalted.”

godly, godliness, ungodly, godless, ungodliness, godlessness

Definition:

The term "godly" is used to describe a person who acts in a way that honors God and shows what God is like. "Godliness" is the character quality of honoring God by doing his will.

- A person who has godly character will show the fruits of the Holy Spirit, such as love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, and self control.
- The quality of godliness shows that a person has the Holy Spirit and is obeying him.

The terms "ungodly" and "godless" describe people who are in rebellion against God. Living in an evil way, without thought of God, is called "ungodliness" or "godlessness."

- The meanings of these words are very similar. However, "godless" and "godlessness" may describe a more extreme condition in which people or nations do not even acknowledge God or his right to rule them.
- God pronounces judgment and wrath on ungodly people, on everyone who rejects him and his ways.

Translation Suggestions:

- The phrase "the godly" could be translated as "godly people" or "people who obey God." (See: nominaladj)
- The adjective "godly" could be translated as "obedient to God" or "righteous" or "pleasing to God."
- The phrase "in a godly manner" could be translated as "in a way that obeys God" or "with actions and words that please God."
- Ways to translate "godliness" could include "acting in a way that pleases God" or "obeying God" or "living in a righteous manner."
- Depending on the context, the term "ungodly" could be translated as "displeasing to God" or "immoral" or "disobeying God."
- The terms "godless" and "godlessness" literally mean that the people are "without God" or "having no thought of God" or "acting in a way that does not acknowledge God."
- Other ways to translate "ungodliness" or "godlessness" could be "wickedness" or "evil" or "rebellion against God".

Special Concepts in this Chapter
Leadership lessons
 Jethro taught Moses an important leadership lesson in this chapter. Many scholars look at this chapter for important leadership lessons. Moses delegated some of his responsibilities to other godly men so that he would not become worn out by all the demands made of him. (See: godly, godliness, ungodly, godless, ungodliness, godlessness)
Possible Translation Difficulties
Order of events
 The timing of the events in verse 2 is not clear and, whatever their timing, may be difficult to translate. The question: Is Jethro's taking Zipporah related to the past event of Moses sending her back to him at some otherwise unmentioned point in time, or is Jethro's taking related to his coming to meet Moses in verse 5.
Verse 11
 Verse 11 is difficult in the original and requires interpretation.
God and Yahweh
 In this chapter, God, who is named Yahweh in much of the rest of the book, is mostly referred to as God instead by his name as is usual. Translations should not suggest that they are not different beings.
Kinship: Father-in-law
 Jethro is the father of Moses' wife. Some languages may make a distinction between that and a woman's father-in-law. If that is the case, note it in verses: 1-2, 5-8, 12, 14-15, 17, 24, and 27. (See: Kinship)
Participant reference
 Jethro is often referred to simply as the father-in-law of Moses in this chapter. He is also named explicitly (referred to by name) an unusually high number of times (it would be more usual to have more pronouns referring to him). Frequent use of his name is likely to emphasize his familial ties and authority (or honored status). Some languages may need to alter the way he is referred to for naturalness or to convey the same sense of familial ties and authority (or honored status).)

holy, holiness, unholy, sacred

Definition:

The terms "holy" and "holiness" refer to the character of God that is totally set apart and separated from everything that is sinful and imperfect.

- Only God is absolutely holy. He makes people and things holy.
- A person who is holy belongs to God and has been set apart for the purpose of serving God and bringing him glory.
- An object that God has declared to be holy is one that he has set apart for his glory and use, such as an altar that is for the purpose of offering sacrifices to him.
- People cannot approach him unless he allows them to, because he is holy and they are merely human beings, sinful and imperfect.
- In the Old Testament, God set apart the priests as holy for special service to him. They had to be ceremonially cleansed from sin in order to approach God.
- God also set apart as holy certain places and things that belonged to him or in which he revealed himself, such as his temple.

Literally, the term "unholy" means "not holy." It describes someone or something that does not honor God.

- This word is used to describe someone who dishonors God by rebelling against him.
- A thing that is called "unholy" could be described as being common, profane or unclean. It does not belong to God.

The term "sacred" describes something that relates to worshiping God or to the pagan worship of false gods.

- In the Old Testament, the term "sacred" was oftentimes used to describe the stone pillars and other objects used in the worship of false gods. This could also be translated as "religious."
- "Sacred songs" and "sacred music" refer to music that was sung or played for God's glory. This could be translated as "music for worshiping Yahweh" or "songs that praise God."
- The phrase "sacred duties" referred to the "religious duties" or "rituals" that a priest performed to lead people in worshiping God. It could also refer to the rituals performed by a pagan priest to worship a false god.

Translation Suggestions:

- Ways to translate "holy" might include "set apart for God" or "belonging to God" or "completely pure" or "perfectly sinless" or "separated from sin."
- To "make holy" is often translated as "sanctify" in English. It could also be translated as "set apart (someone) for God's glory."
- Ways to translate "unholy" could include "not holy" or "not belonging to God" or "not honoring to God" or "not godly."
- In some contexts, "unholy" could be translated as "unclean."

law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God

Definition:

Most simply, the term “law” refers to a rule or instruction that should be followed. In the Bible, the term “law” is often used generally to refer to anything and everything God wants his people to obey and do. The specific term “law of Moses” refers to the commandments and instructions that God gave Moses for the Israelites to obey.

- Depending on the context, the “law” can refer to:
 - the Ten Commandments that God wrote on stone tablets for the Israelites
 - all the laws given to Moses
 - the first five books of the Old Testament
 - the entire Old Testament (also referred to as “scriptures” in the New Testament).
 - all of God’s instructions and will
- The phrase “the Law and the Prophets” is used in the New Testament to refer to the Hebrew scriptures (or “Old Testament”)

Translation Suggestions:

- These terms could be translated using the plural, “laws,” since they refer to many instructions.
- The term “law of Moses” could be translated as “the laws that God told Moses to give to the Israelites.”
- Depending on the context, “the law of Moses” could also be translated as “the law that God told to Moses” or “God’s laws that Moses wrote down” or “the laws that God told Moses to give to the Israelites.”
- Ways to translate “the law” or “law of God” or “God’s laws” could include “laws from God” or “God’s commands” or “laws that God gave” or “everything that God commands” or “all of God’s instructions.”
- The phrase “law of Yahweh” could also be translated as “Yahweh’s laws” or “laws that Yahweh said to obey” or “laws from Yahweh” or “things Yahweh commanded.”

Pharaoh's stubborn heart
Between chapters 4 and 14, there are 18 cases where Pharaoh's heart is described as strong (11x), heavy (6x), or hard (1x), and one case where the Egyptians' hearts are described as strong. These are metaphors for being stubborn, that is, being unwilling to obey Yahweh or even to do what is clearly in his own and Egypt's best interest. Many cultures have similar metaphors, but not all will use the same body part. Within these cases, six times there is a neutral description that Pharaoh was stubborn, without saying anyone made him so (7:13, 7:14, 7:22, 8:19, 9:7, 9:35); three times Pharaoh makes himself stubborn (8:15, 8:32, 9:34); and ten times Yahweh makes Pharaoh/the Egyptians stubborn (4:21, 7:3, 9:12, 10:1, 10:20, 10:27, 11:10, 14:4, 14:8, 14:17).

Why are the details of the construction of the dwelling in Exodus 25–32 repeated in Exodus 35–40?
In Exodus 25–32, God describes exactly how the dwelling was to be built. The details were repeated in Exodus 35–40 in the description of the actual construction. This showed that the people were to be careful to do exactly as God commanded.

Are the events in the order that they actually happened?
Most, but not all, of the events in the book of Exodus are told in the order that they actually happened. Translators may need to make it clear when the events are in an unusual order.

What does it mean that God "lived" among his people?
The book of Exodus presents God as living in the dwelling among the nation of Israel. God is everywhere, but he lived among the Israelites in a special way. God dwelled with the Israelites because they belonged to him. He promised to lead them and bless them. In return, the people were to worship him and honor him.;

Exodus 15 General Notes
Structure and Formatting
Verses 1b-18 and 21b of chapter 15 are poetry. They are a song of praise to Yahweh because he defeated and destroyed the Egyptian army (Exodus 14:26-28.).

Translating poetry should be done by someone who is a skilled poet in the target language. Because the forms of poetry are so different in different languages, a translation that is good poetry in the target language may seem very different from the original poem. The structure may look quite different. The poet will be well served by looking at the entire poem from multiple perspectives. He will need to know the meaning of the poem, the themes and discourse structure of the poem, and the feelings that the poem is supposed to create in the reader at each point (UST, tNotes). He will need to understand how that was accomplished by the original form and structure (ULT). Then he will need to compose the translated poem using forms and structures that have the same or similar meaning, themes, discourse elements, and feelings in his own language.

Structure
This song follows a basic AB structure which is given to us in verse 1b-c and 21b-c:

A - praise to Yahweh - he is magnificent (expressed in various words)
B - because he defeats our enemies

The song can be divided into three major sections, each of which is patterned as: AB(a)b. Each section starts with an AB portion which is characterized by fewer verbal forms (especially the A portion). The section then elaborates on each. Note that there are other possible analyses of the structure of the poem.

Here is an outline of the structure according to this model:
Section 1 (see alternate breakdown below):

1b: A "Let me sing to Yahweh, for he has triumphantly triumphed;"
1c: B "the horse and the one riding it he threw into the sea."
2-3: a
4-5: b

Section 2:
6a: A
6b: B
7a: a "And in the abundance of your majesty"
7a-10: b "you overthrow those who rise up against you ..."

Section 3:
11: A
12: B
13a: a (possibly) "In your covenant loyalty" 13a-17: b

finale
Alternate breakdown of section 1: it is possible to view 1b-c as the introduction and divide verse 2 such that:

2a: A "Yah is my strength and my song"
2b: B "and he has become my salvation"
2c-3: a
4-5: b

Themes:
There are several images and themes that are throughout the song as well as some that are throughout an individual section.

"High" versus "low": Yahweh is high, while his enemies are low. The following words are all related to the idea of being high or rising up: triumph (v1), exalt (v2), majestic (v6, v11), majesty (v7), and the mountain of [Yahweh's] possession (v17). In the last case, Yahweh's people are brought to a high place with him.

In contrast, his enemies are low. Note in verse 7, Yahweh overthrows those who rise up against [him]. Ideas of being low are as follows: sank (v4, v10), deeps (v5), descended into the depths (v5), melted away (v15), and fall on them (v16).

The strength of Yahweh in verses 2, 6, and 13. The effectiveness of Yahweh's hand versus the enemy's hand. Yahweh's hand (and arm) is effective in verses 6, 12, 16, and 17 but the enemy's hand is ineffective despite his boasting in verse 9.

There is parallel imagery near the end of each section. The enemy is compared three times by simile to a heavy, inert object. In verses 5 and 16 that is a stone, in verse 10 that is lead.

More parallel imagery occurs at the end of sections one (v5) and two (v10): that of the enemy sinking in the water and being covered by it. In sections two and three the water (v8) and the other peoples (v16) are made still by Yahweh. Section two begins and ends with majestic (v6, v10) and that word is picked up in the beginning of section three (v11). In section two (v9), the enemies seek to dispossess (or disinherit) the Israelites; in section three (v16), the Israelites come to live in the land of Yahweh's possession (or inheritance). In verse 11, three themes for the third section are introduced. These are each expanded on in that section. Holiness occurs again in verses 13 and 16. Fear is vividly described in verses 14-16 (shake, terror, panic, trembling, melted away, dread)\n* Yahweh does miracles to protect and build a home for his people\n* Verses 14\16a are a chiasm, a complex parallel structure where concepts are repeated in reverse order:\n* A: 14a: peoples (nations) become afraid\n* B: 14b: inhabitants of Philistia are afraid\n* C: 15a: rulers of Edom are afraid\n* C': 15b: rulers of Moab are afraid\n* B': 15c: inhabitants of Canaan are afraid\n* A': 16a: people become afraid\n* In section three, there is another parallel structure:\n* v13: you led this people => v16: your people pass by\n* v13: this people you redeemed => v16: this people you acquired (or purchased or ransomed)\n* v13: you led them to the home => v17: you will bring them ... \[to\] the place ... you made\n* v13: of your holiness => v17: the holy place\n\n## Special Concepts in this Chapter\n\n### The Israelite's discontent\n\nIn verse 24 the word murmur is introduced for the first time. This is a very strong term for "grumble" or "complain" that is used to describe the Israelites' attitude throughout their time in the wilderness. It occurs several times in Exodus and Numbers.\n\n### Yahweh's laws\n\nIn verses 24-26, there is an introductory revelation of the requirement that Israel keep the covenant by obeying the law of Moses. (See: law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God and reveal, revealed, revelation); code.; Sabbath))

miracle, wonder, sign

Definition:

A “miracle” is something amazing that is not possible unless God causes it to happen.

- Examples of miracles that Jesus did include calming a storm and healing a blind man.
- Miracles are sometimes called “wonders” because they cause people to be filled with wonder or amazement.
- The term “wonder” can also refer more generally to amazing displays of God’s power, such as when he created the heavens and the earth.
- Miracles can also be called “signs” because they are used as indicators or evidence that God is the all-powerful one who has complete authority over the universe.
- Some miracles were God’s acts of redemption, such as when he rescued the Israelites from being slaves in Egypt and when he protected Daniel from being hurt by lions.
- Other wonders were God’s acts of judgment, such as when he sent a worldwide flood in Noah’s time and when he brought terrible plagues on the land of Egypt during the time of Moses.
- Many of God’s miracles were the physical healings of sick people or bringing dead people back to life.
- God’s power was shown in Jesus when he healed people, calmed storms, walked on water, and raised people from the dead. These were all miracles.
- God also enabled the prophets and the apostles to perform miracles of healing and other things that were only possible through God’s power.

Translation Suggestions:

- Possible translations of “miracles” or “wonders” could include “impossible things that God does” or “powerful works of God” or “amazing acts of God.”
- The frequent expression “signs and wonders” could be translated as “proofs and miracles” or “miraculous works that prove God’s power” or “amazing miracles that show how great God is.”
- Note that this meaning of a miraculous sign is different from a sign that gives proof or evidence for something. The two can be related.

Passover

Facts:

The "Passover" is the name of a religious festival that the Jews celebrate every year, to remember how God rescued their ancestors, the Israelites, from slavery in Egypt.

- The name of this festival comes from the fact that God "passed over" the houses of the Israelites and did not kill their sons when he killed the firstborn sons of the Egyptians.
- The Passover celebration includes a special meal of a perfect lamb that they have killed and roasted, as well as bread made without yeast. These foods remind them of the meal that the Israelites ate the night before they escaped from Egypt.
- God told the Israelites to eat this meal every year in order to remember and celebrate how God "passed over" their houses and how he set them free from slavery in Egypt.

Translation Suggestions:

- The term "Passover" could be translated by combining the words "pass" and "over" or another combination of words that has this meaning.
- It is helpful if the name of this festival has a clear connection to the words used to explain what the angel of the Lord did in passing by the houses of the Israelites and sparing their sons.

Ethnic segregation

The Hebrew people were to be separate from the rest of the world. Because of this, they separated themselves from other people groups. At this time, these foreigners were looked upon as unholy. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Potential Translation Issues:

Passover

Pronoun usage

In the long quotation (verses 3-20) that Yahweh tells Moses and Aaron to convey to the Israelites, he speaks of them in the third person ("they must") in verses 3-4 and verses 7-8 and to them in the second person ("you must") for all the rest of the instruction. Some languages may need to keep the pronoun person consistent throughout the quotation.

You plural

In this chapter, almost every occurrence of "you" or "your" is plural. Each one refers to all the Israelites. Those that are not will be marked. If your language uses different forms of "you" depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form throughout unless otherwise noted. (See: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural)

people of God

Definition:

The concept of the “people of God” in the Bible refers to people with whom God has established a covenant relationship.

- In the Old Testament, the phrase “people of God” refers to the nation of Israel. The nation of Israel was chosen by God and set apart from the other nations of the world in order to serve and obey him.
- In the New Testament, the phrase “people of God” refers to the “Church,” meaning everyone who believes in Jesus. This includes both Jews and Gentiles. In the New Testament, sometimes this group of people is called the “sons of God” or “children of God.”
- When God uses the phrase “my people,” he is referring to people who have a covenant relationship with him. God’s people are chosen by him, and he wants them to live in a way that is pleasing to him.

Translation Suggestions:

- The term “people of God” could be translated as “God’s people” or “the people who worship God” or “people who serve God” or “people who belong to God.”
- When God says “my people” other ways to translate it could include “the people I have chosen” or “the people who worship me” or “the people who belong to me.”
- Similarly, “your people” could be translated as “the people who belong to you” or “the people you chose to belong to you.”
- Also “his people” could be translated as “the people who belong to him” or “the people God chose to belong to himself.”

priest, priesthood

Definition:

In the Bible, a priest was someone who was chosen to offer sacrifices to God on behalf of God's people. The "priesthood" was the name for the office or condition of being a priest.

- In the Old Testament, God chose Aaron and his descendants to be his priests for the people of Israel.
- The "priesthood" was a right and a responsibility that was passed down from father to son in the Levite clan.
- The Israelite priests had the responsibility of offering the people's sacrifices to God, along with other duties in the temple.
- Priests also offered regular prayers to God on behalf of his people and performed other religious rites.
- The priests pronounced formal blessings on people and taught them God's laws.
- In Jesus' time, there were different levels of priests, including the chief priests and the high priest.
- Jesus is our "great high priest" who intercedes for us in God's presence. He offered himself as the ultimate sacrifice for sin. This means that the sacrifices made by human priests are no longer needed.
- In the New Testament, every believer in Jesus is called a "priest" who can come directly to God in prayer to intercede for himself and other people.
- In ancient times, there were also pagan priests who presented offerings to false gods such as Baal.

Translation Suggestions:

- Depending on the context, the term "priest" could be translated as "sacrifice person" or "God's intermediary" or "sacrificial mediator" or "person God appoints to represent him."
- The translation of "priest" should be different from the translation of "mediator."
- Some translations may prefer to always say something like "Israelite priest" or "Jewish priest" or "Yahweh's priest" or "priest of Baal" to make it clear that this does not refer to a modern-day type of priest.
- The term used to translate "priest" should be different from the terms for "chief priest" and "high priest" and "Levite" and "prophet."

promise, promised

Definition:

When used as a verb, the term “promise” refers to the action of a person saying that he will do something in such way that he obligates himself to fulfill what he has said. When used as a noun, the term “promise” refers to the thing that a person obligates himself to do.

- The Bible records many promises that God has made for his people.
- Promises are an important part of formal agreements such as covenants.

Translation Suggestions:

- The term “promise” could be translated as “commitment” or “assurance” or “guarantee.”
- To “promise to do something” could be translated as “assure someone that you will do something” or “commit to doing something.”

Promised Land

Facts:

The term "Promised Land" only occurs in the Bible stories, not the Bible text. It is an alternate way of referring to the land of Canaan which God had promised to give to Abraham and his descendants.

- When Abram was living in the city of Ur, God commanded him to go live in the land of Canaan. He and his descendants, the Israelites, lived there for many years.
- When a severe famine caused there to be no food in Canaan, the Israelites moved to Egypt.
- Four hundred years later, God rescued the Israelites from slavery in Egypt and brought them back to Canaan again, the land God had promised to give them.

Translation Suggestions:

- The term "Promised Land" can be translated as the "land that God said he would give to Abraham" or "land that God promised to Abraham" or "land God promised to his people" or "land of Canaan."
- In the Bible text, this term occurs as some form of "the land God promised."

reveal, revealed, revelation

Definition:

The term “reveal” means to cause something to be known. A “revelation” is something that has been made known.

- God has revealed himself through everything he has created and through his communication with people by spoken and written messages.
- God also reveals himself through dreams or visions.
- When Paul said that he received the gospel by “revelation from Jesus Christ,” he means that Jesus himself explained the gospel to him.
- In the New Testament book “Revelation” is about God revealed events that will happen in the end times. He revealed them to the apostle John through visions.

Translation Suggestions:

- Other ways to translate “reveal” could include “make known” or “disclose” or “show clearly.”
- Depending on the context, possible ways to translate “revelation” could be “communication from God” or “things that God has revealed” or “teachings about God.” It is best to keep the meaning of “reveal” in the translation.
- The phrase “where there is no revelation” could be translated as “when God is not revealing himself to people” or “when God is not speaking to people” or “among people whom God has not communicating.”

Sabbath

Definition:

The term “Sabbath” refers to the seventh day of the week, which God commanded the Israelites to set apart as a day of rest and doing no work.

- After God finished creating the world in six days, he rested on the seventh day. In the same way, God commanded the Israelites to set aside the seventh day as a special day to rest and worship him.
- The command to “keep the Sabbath holy” is one of the ten commandments that God wrote on the stone tablets that he gave Moses for the Israelites.
- Following the Jewish system of counting days, the Sabbath begins on Friday at sundown and lasts until Saturday at sundown.
- Sometimes in the Bible the Sabbath is called “Sabbath day” rather than only the Sabbath.

Translation Suggestions:

- This could also be translated as “resting day” or “day for resting” or “day of not working” or “God’s day of rest.”
- Some translations capitalize this term to show that it is a special day, as in “Sabbath Day” or “Resting Day.”
- Consider how this term is translated in a local or national language.

sin, sinful, sinner, sinning

Definition:

The term "sin" refers to actions, thoughts, and words that are against God's will and laws. Sin can also refer to not doing something that God wants us to do.

- Sin includes anything we do that does not obey or please God, even things that other people don't know about.
- Thoughts and actions that disobey God's will are called "sinful."
- Because Adam sinned, all human beings are born with a "sinful nature," a nature that that controls them and causes them to sin.
- A "sinner" is someone who sins, so every human being is a sinner.
- Sometimes the word "sinners" was used by religious people like the Pharisees to refer to people who didn't keep the law as well as the Pharisees thought they should.
- The term "sinner" was also used for people who were considered to be worse sinners than other people. For example, this label was given to tax collectors and prostitutes.

Translation Suggestions:

- The term "sin" could be translated with a word or phrase that means "disobedience to God" or "going against God's will" or "evil behavior and thoughts" or "wrongdoing."
- To "sin" could also be translated as to "disobey God" or to "do wrong."
- Depending on the context "sinful" could be translated as "full of wrongdoing" or "wicked" or "immoral" or "evil" or "rebellious against God."
- Depending on the context the term "sinner" could be translated with a word or phrase that means "person who sins" or "person who does wrong things" or "person who disobeys God" or "person who disobeys the law."
- The term "sinners" could be translated by a word or phrase that means "very sinful people" or "people considered to be very sinful" or "immoral people."
- Ways to translate "tax collectors and sinners" could include "people who collect money for the government, and other very sinful people" or "very sinful people, including (even) tax collectors."
- Make sure the translation of this term can include sinful behavior and thoughts, even those that other people don't see or know about.
- The term "sin" should be general, and different from the terms for "wickedness" and "evil."

tabernacle

Definition:

The tabernacle was a special tent-like structure where the Israelites worshiped God during the 40 years they traveled around in the desert.

- God had given the Israelites detailed instructions for building this large tent, which had two rooms and was surrounded by an enclosed courtyard.
- Each time the Israelites moved to a different place in the desert to live, the priests would take the tabernacle apart and carry it to their next campsite. Then they would set it up again in the center of their new camp.
- The tabernacle was constructed of wood frames hung with curtains made of cloth, goat hair, and animal skins. The courtyard surrounding it was enclosed with more curtains.
- The two sections of the tabernacle were the Holy Place (where the altar for burning incense was located) and the Most Holy Place (where the ark of the covenant was kept).
- The courtyard of the tabernacle had an altar for burning animal sacrifices and a special washbasin for ritual cleansing.
- The Israelites stopped using the tabernacle when the temple was built in Jerusalem by Solomon.

Translation Suggestions:

- The word “tabernacle” means “dwelling place.” Other ways to translate it could include, “sacred tent” or “tent where God was” or “God’s tent.”
- Make sure that the translation of this term is different from the translation of “temple.”

The first half of Exodus is about how Yahweh made Abraham’s descendants into a nation. This nation, which would be called “Israel,” was meant to belong to Yahweh and worship him. The second half of Exodus describes how God gave the Israelites his law through Moses. The law of Moses told the Israelites how to obey and worship Yahweh properly.\n\nThe book of Exodus tells how the Israelites were to build the dwelling. The dwelling was a tent where Yahweh would be among his people. The Israelites worshiped and sacrificed animals to Yahweh at the dwelling. (See: law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God and tabernacle)\n\n### How should the title of this book be translated?\n\n“Exodus” means “exit” or “departure.” Translators may translate this title in a way that can communicate its subject clearly, for example, “About the Israelites Leaving Egypt” or “How the Israelites Left the Land of Egypt.” (See: How to Translate Names)\n\n### Who wrote the book of Exodus?\n\nThe writers of both the Old and New Testaments present Moses as being very involved with writing the book of Exodus. Since ancient times, both Jews and Christians have thought that Moses wrote Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy.\n\n### Why did Moses write so much about God delivering or rescuing the people of Israel?\n\nMoses wrote much about God rescuing his people from the Egyptians to show that Yahweh is very powerful. Egypt was the most powerful nation at that time, but Yahweh was still able to free the Israelites from the Egyptians. Also, by rescuing the Israelites, Yahweh showed that he had chosen them as his people, and they should worship him.\n\n### How does the book of Exodus show the fulfillment of the promises given to Abraham?\n\nThe book of Exodus shows God beginning to fulfill his promise to Abraham. In Genesis, God promised Abraham that he would have many descendants and that they would become a large nation. When God rescued the Israelites from the Egyptians, he took them to Mount Sinai. There he made a covenant with them, and they became the nation that belonged to Yahweh.\n\n## Part 2: Important Religious and Cultural Concepts\n\n### What was the Jewish Passover?\n\nThe Jewish Passover was a religious festival. Yahweh commanded the Israelites to celebrate it every year. Passover was a time to remember how God rescued Israel from the Egyptians. The first Passover meal was eaten in the evening just before they left Egypt.\n\n### What was the law of Moses to the people of Israel?\n\nThe law of Moses instructed the people of Israel about what Yahweh required them to do as his people. In the law, God told the people how they should live so that they would honor him. He also instructed them about their need to offer animal sacrifices. God required these sacrifices so that he could forgive their sins and continue living among them. The law also described the duties of the priests and told how to build the dwelling.\n\n### What did it mean that Israel was to be a “kingdom of priests and a holy nation” (19:6 ULT)?\n\nIsrael was a holy nation because Yahweh separated them from all other nations to belong to him. They were to honor and worship him only. This made them different from all the other nations of the world; the other nations worshiped many false gods.\n\n## Part 3: Important Translation Issues\n\n### Thus says Yahweh\n\nThis phrase is used many times in the Old Testament to introduce Yahweh’s speech. Your team should pick a standard translation. See 4:intro for more.\n\n### Pharaoh’s stubborn heart\n\nBetween chapters 4 and 14, there are 18 cases where Pharaoh’s heart is described as strong (11x), heavy (6x), or hard (1x), and one case where the Egyptians’ hearts are described as strong. These are metaphors for being stubborn, that is, being unwilling to obey Yahweh or even to do what is clearly in his own and Egypt’s best interest. Many cultures have similar metaphors, but not all will use the same body part. Within these cases, six times there is a neutral description that Pharaoh was stubborn, without saying anyone made him so (7:13, 7:14, 7:22, 8:19, 9:7, 9:35); three times Pharaoh makes himself stubborn (8:15, 8:32, 9:34); and ten times Yahweh makes Pharaoh/the Egyptians stubborn (4:21, 7:3, 9:12, 10:1, 10:20, 10:27, 11:10, 14:4, 14:8, 14:17).\n\n### Why are the details of the construction of the dwelling in Exodus 25–32 repeated in Exodus 35–40?\n\nIn Exodus 25–32, God describes exactly how the dwelling was to be built. The details were repeated in Exodus 35–40 in the description of the actual construction. This showed that the people were to be careful to do exactly as God commanded.\n\n### Are the events in the order that they actually happened?\n\nMost, but not all, of the events in the book of Exodus are told in the order that they actually happened. Translators may need to make it clear when the events are in an unusual order.\n\n### What does it mean that God “lived” among his people?\n\nThe book of Exodus presents God as living in the dwelling among the nation of Israel. God is everywhere, but he lived among the Israelites in a special way. God dwelled with the Israelites because they belonged to him. He promised to lead them and bless them. In return, the people were to worship him and honor him.;

Exodus 26 General Notes\n\n- The sacred tent has four layers (from inside to out): linen, goats’ hair, tanned rams’ skins, and fine leather.\n\n- There are multiple different curtains described using three different Hebrew words: one sort of curtains to make the walls of the tent (verses 1-13), another to separate the Holy Place and Most Holy Place (verses 31-34), and another for the entrance of the sacred tent (verses 36-37). If there are words in your language that would make a distinction between these sorts of hanging cloths, it would be appropriate to make a distinction in your translation.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

The tent of meeting

This chapter gives specific instructions regarding the building of a tent where Moses would meet Yahweh and the box would be stored. This would eventually become the dwelling. Note: "tabernacle" is simply an English word transcribed from the Latin for "tent," which translates the Hebrew for "dwelling place and which has taken on religious significance via the King James Version of the Bible. The terms "tabernacle" and "tent" should be considered interchangeable. It was to be considered a very holy place. (See: tabernacle and holy, holiness, unholy, sacred); tabernacle))

trust, trusted, trustworthy, trustworthiness

Definition:

To “trust” something or someone is to believe that the thing or person is true or dependable. That belief is also called “trust.” A “trustworthy” person is one you can trust to do and say what is right and true, and therefore one who has the quality of “trustworthiness.”

- Trust is closely related to faith. If we trust someone, we have faith in that person to do what they promised to do.
- Having trust in someone also means depending on that person.
- To “trust in” Jesus means to believe that he is God, to believe that he died on the cross to pay for our sins, and to rely on him to save us.
- A “trustworthy saying” refers to something that is said that can be counted on to be true.

Translation Suggestions:

- Ways to translate “trust” could include “believe” or “have faith” or “have confidence” or “depend on.”
- The phrase “put your trust in” is very similar in meaning to “trust in.”
- The term “trustworthy” could be translated as “dependable” or “reliable” or “can always be trusted.”

unleavened bread

Definition:

The term “unleavened bread” refers to bread that is made without yeast or other leavening. This kind of bread is flat because it has no leaven to make it rise.

- When God freed the Israelites from slavery in Egypt, he told them to flee Egypt quickly without waiting for their bread to rise. So they ate unleavened bread with their meal. Since then unleavened bread is used in their yearly Passover celebrations to remind them of that time.
- Since leaven sometimes is used as a picture of sin, “unleavened bread” represents the removal of sin from a person’s life in order to live in a way that honors God.

Translation Suggestions:

- Other ways to translate this term could include “bread with no yeast” or “flat bread that did not rise.”
- Make sure the translation of this term is consistent with how you translate the term “yeast, leaven.”
- In some contexts, the term “unleavened bread” refers to the “Feast of Unleavened Bread” and can be translated that way.

Special Concepts in this Chapter

Unleavened bread

The concept of unleavened bread is introduced in this chapter. Its significance stems from its connection to the events in this chapter. (See: unleavened bread)

Ethnic segregation

The Hebrew people were to be separate from the rest of the world. Because of this, they separated themselves from other people groups. At this time, these foreigners were looked upon as unholy. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred)

Potential Translation Issues:

Passover

Pronoun usage

In the long quotation (verses 3-20) that Yahweh tells Moses and Aaron to convey to the Israelites, he speaks of them in the third person (“they must”) in verses 3–4 and verses 7–8 and to them in the second person (“you must”) for all the rest of the instruction. Some languages may need to keep the pronoun person consistent throughout the quotation.### You plural

In this chapter, almost every occurrence of “you” or “your” is plural. Each one refers to all the Israelites. Those that are not will be marked. If your language uses different forms of “you” depending on the number of people addressed, use a plural form throughout unless otherwise noted. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural)

Yahweh

Facts:

The term “Yahweh” is God’s personal name in the Old Testament. The specific origin of this name is unknown, but it is probably derived from the Hebrew verb meaning, “to be.”

- Following tradition, many Bible versions use the term “LORD” or “the LORD” to represent “Yahweh.” This tradition resulted from the fact that historically, the Jewish people became afraid of mispronouncing Yahweh’s name and started saying “Lord” every time the term “Yahweh” appeared in the text. Modern Bibles write “LORD” with all capital letters to show respect for God’s personal name and to distinguish it from “Lord” which is a different Hebrew word.
- The ULT and UST texts always translate this term as, “Yahweh,” in agreement with the Hebrew text of the Old Testament.
- The term “Yahweh” never occurs in the original text of the New Testament; only the Greek term for “Lord” is used, even when quoting the Old Testament.
- In the Old Testament, when God spoke about himself, he would often use his name instead of a pronoun.

Translation Suggestions:

- “Yahweh” could be translated by a word or phrase that means “I am” or “living one” or “the one who is” or “he who is alive.”
- This term could also be written in a way that is similar to how “Yahweh” is spelled.
- Some church denominations prefer not to use the term “Yahweh” and instead use the traditional rendering, “LORD.” An important consideration is that this may be confusing when read aloud because it will sound the same as the title “Lord.” Some languages may have an affix or other grammatical marker that could be added to distinguish “LORD” as a name (Yahweh) from “Lord” as a title.
- It is best if possible to keep the name Yahweh where it literally occurs in the text, but some translations may decide to use only a pronoun in some places, to make the text more natural and clear.
- Introduce the quote with something like, “This is what Yahweh says.”

- 9:14 God said, "I AM WHO I AM. Tell them, 'I AM has sent me to you.' Also tell them, 'I am Yahweh, the God of your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. This is my name forever.'"
- 13:4 Then God gave them the covenant and said, "I am Yahweh, your God, who saved you from slavery in Egypt. Do not worship other gods."
- 13:5 "Do not make idols or worship them, for I, Yahweh, am a jealous God."
- 16:1 The Israelites began to worship the Canaanite gods instead of Yahweh, the true God.
- 19:10 Then Elijah prayed, "O Yahweh, God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, show us today that you are the God of Israel and that I am your servant."

Structure and Formatting
 This chapter records one of the most important events in the history of the Israelite people: the revelation of the name Yahweh at the burning bush.

(See: reveal, revealed, revelation)
 Special Concepts in this Chapter
 God's holiness
 God is so holy that people can not look upon him without dying. This is why Moses covered his eyes. It is also why he took off his shoes. (See: holy, holiness, unholy, sacred and Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information)

Yahweh
 The name Yahweh is sacred in the Hebrew religion. It is the personal name of God, which he revealed to Moses. It is by this name that he is known. Yahweh means "I am." Some translations use all capitals to set this apart, "I AM." Great care must be taken in translating the phrase "I am that I am." (See: Yahweh)
 Other Possible Translation Difficulties in this Chapter
 Participants
 "The angel of Yahweh," "Yahweh," and "God" all appear to be speaking to Moses and interacting with him from the burning bush. Furthermore, God says that his name is "I AM." (See note above on Yahweh and I AM.) Yahweh and God are the same, while there is speculation about who the angel of Yahweh is.)
