unfoldingWord® Translation Notes

v90

Psalms

unfoldingWord® Translation Notes

Copyright © 2022 by unfoldingWord

This work is made available under the Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. To view a copy of this license, visit https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/4.0/ or send a letter to Creative Commons, PO Box 1866, Mountain View, CA 94042, USA.

unfoldingWord® is a registered trademark of unfoldingWord. Use of the unfoldingWord name or logo requires the written permission of unfoldingWord. Under the terms of the CC BY-SA license, you may copy and redistribute this unmodified work as long as you keep the unfoldingWord® trademark intact. If you modify a copy or translate this work, thereby creating a derivative work, you must remove the unfoldingWord® trademark.

On the derivative work, you must indicate what changes you have made and attribute the work as follows: “The original work by unfoldingWord is available from unfoldingword.org/utn”. You must also make your derivative work available under the same license (CC BY-SA).

If you would like to notify unfoldingWord regarding your translation of this work, please contact us at unfoldingword.org/contact/.

Table of Contents

unfoldingWord® Translation Notes 14
Psalms 14
Psalms Introduction 14
Psalms 1 23
Psalms 2 38
Psalms 3 53
Psalms 4 66
Psalms 5 80
Psalms 6 100
Psalms 7 115
Psalms 8 140
Psalms 9 155
Psalms 10 190
Psalms 11 217
Psalms 12 231
Psalms 13 249
Psalms 14 261
Psalms 15 277
Psalms 16 290
Psalms 17 311
Psalms 18 336
Psalms 19 399
Psalms 20 426
Psalms 21 442
Psalms 22 463
Psalms 23 507
Psalms 24 518
Psalms 25 532
Psalms 26 564
Psalms 27 580
Psalms 28 605
Psalms 29 624
Psalms 30 640
Psalms 31 661
Psalms 32 705
Psalms 33 726
Psalms 34 756
Psalms 35 787
Psalms 36 831
Psalms 37 854
Psalms 38 915
Psalms 39 941
Psalms 40 962
Psalms 41 994
Psalms 42 1016
Psalms 43 1041
Psalms 44 1050
Psalms 45 1091
Psalms 46 1127
Psalms 47 1148
Psalms 48 1164
Psalms 49 1186
Psalms 50 1221
Psalms 51 1256
Psalms 52 1286
Psalms 53 1305
Psalms 54 1319
Psalms 55 1331
Psalms 56 1371
Psalms 57 1395
Psalms 58 1422
Psalms 59 1445
Psalms 60 1477
Psalms 61 1499
Psalms 62 1517
Psalms 63 1538

Psalms 64 1559
Psalms 65 1575
Psalms 66 1600
Psalms 67 1628
Psalms 68 1639
Psalms 69 1703
Psalms 70 1759
Psalms 71 1772
Psalms 72 1811
Psalms 73 1846
Psalms 74 1888
Psalms 75 1920
Psalms 76 1937
Psalms 77 1956
Psalms 78 1983
Psalms 79 2069
Psalms 80 2095
Psalms 81 2127
Psalms 82 2149
Psalms 83 2162
Psalms 84 2190
Psalms 85 2208
Psalms 86 2232
Psalms 87 2259
Psalms 88 2271
Psalms 89 2305
Psalms 90 2377
Psalms 91 2408
Psalms 92 2434
Psalms 93 2454
Psalms 94 2462
Psalms 95 2499
Psalms 96 2513
Psalms 97 2530
Psalms 98 2549
Psalms 99 2565
Psalms 100 2579
Psalms 101 2587
Psalms 102 2604
Psalms 103 2647
Psalms 104 2677
Psalms 105 2724
Psalms 106 2780
Psalms 107 2845
Psalms 108 2901
Psalms 109 2924
Psalms 110 2969
Psalms 111 2980
Psalms 112 2995
Psalms 113 3011
Psalms 114 3025
Psalms 115 3040
Psalms 116 3067
Psalms 117 3093
Psalms 118 3097
Psalms 119 3134
Psalms 120 3329
Psalms 121 3342
Psalms 122 3352
Psalms 123 3367
Psalms 124 3376
Psalms 125 3387
Psalms 126 3397
Psalms 127 3407
Psalms 128 3417
Psalms 129 3425
Psalms 130 3435
Psalms 131 3446
Psalms 132 3452
Psalms 133 3478

Psalms 134 3483
Psalms 135 3487
Psalms 136 3513
Psalms 137 3537
Psalms 138 3551
Psalms 139 3565
Psalms 140 3604
Psalms 141 3629
Psalms 142 3651
Psalms 143 3664
Psalms 144 3684
Psalms 145 3705
Psalms 146 3730
Psalms 147 3746
Psalms 148 3770
Psalms 149 3789
Psalms 150 3805
Appendix: Translation Academy 3815
First, Second or Third Person 3815
Abstract Nouns 3816
Active or Passive 3822
Apostrophe 3826
Aside 3827
Distinguishing Versus Informing or Reminding 3828
Double Negatives 3831
Doublet 3833
Ellipsis 3835
Euphemism 3838
Order of Events 3839
Exclamations 3842
Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’ 3844
Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors 3845
Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information 3848
Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit 3853
When to Keep Information Implicit 3855
When Masculine Words Include Women 3856
Generic Noun Phrases 3858
Go and Come 3860
Hendiadys 3862
Hyperbole 3864
Hypothetical Situations 3867
Idiom 3870
Imperatives — Other Uses 3873
Third-Person Imperatives 3876
Information Structure 3879
Irony 3881
Litotes 3884
Merism 3885
Metaphor 3886
Metonymy 3897
Nominal Adjectives 3902
Parallelism 3904
Personification 3908
Possession 3910
Direct and Indirect Quotations 3915
Quote Markings 3916
Quotes within Quotes 3919
Reduplication 3922
Reflexive Pronouns 3923
Rhetorical Question 3926
Simile 3930
Synecdoche 3933
Forms of ‘You’ — Singular 3935
Collective Nouns 3936
Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions 3939
Connect — Factual Conditions 3942
Connect — Hypothetical Conditions 3944
Connect — Contrast Relationship 3946
Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship 3947
Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship 3950

Connect — Background Information 3953
Connect — Sequential Time Relationship 3956
Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship 3958
Connecting Words and Phrases 3960
Alternative Readings 3964
Blessings 3967
Kinship 3969
How to Translate Names 3971
Numbers 3974
Unusual Uses of the Plural 3976
Symbolic Action 3978
Irregular Use of Tenses 3980
Textual Variants 3983
Copy or Borrow Words 3985
Translate Unknowns 3987
Verse Bridges 3990
Background Information 3991
End of Story 3994
Introduction of a New Event 3996
Oath Formulas 3999
Introduction of New and Old Participants 4002
Poetry 4005
Politeness 4008
Pronouns — When to Use Them 4011
Proverbs 4015
Quotations and Quote Margins 4017
Appendix: Translation Words 4020 abomination, abominable 4020 altar 4020
amen, truly 4021
angel, archangel 4022 anoint, anointed, anointing 4023 appoint, appointed 4024 ark of the covenant, ark of Yahweh, box, Box of the Testimony, Box of the Covenant of Yahwe 4025 atonement, atone, atoned 4025 beget, begot, begat, begotten 4026 believe, believer, belief, unbeliever, unbelief 4026 beloved 4028 blameless 4029 bless, blessed, blessing 4030
bind, bond, bound 4031
call, called, call out, called out 4032
call, called 4033
call, called 4034
Christ, Messiah 4034 compassion, compassionate 4036 condemn, condemned, condemnation 4036 confess, confession 4037 cornerstone 4037 covenant 4038 covenant faithfulness, covenant loyalty, covenant love 4040
crucify, crucified 4041
curse, cursed, cursing 4042
demon, evil spirit, unclean spirit 4043 dominion 4044 chosen, choose, chosen people, Chosen One, elect 4044 eternity, everlasting, eternal, forever 4045 evil, wicked, wickedness, unpleasant 4047 exalt, exalted, exaltation 4049 faith 4050 faithful, faithfulness, trustworthy 4051 faithless, unfaithful, unfaithfulness 4052 god, false god, goddess, idol, idolater, idolatrous, idolatry 4053 favor, favorable, favoritism 4054 fear, afraid, frighten 4055 fool, foolish, folly 4056 forgive, forgiven, forgiveness, pardon, pardoned 4057 fulfill, fulfilled, carried out 4058 glory, glorious, glorify 4059
God 4061

godly, godliness, ungodly, godless, ungodliness, godlessness 4064
God the Father, heavenly Father, Father 4066 good, right, pleasant, better, best, goodness 4067 good news, gospel 4068 grace, gracious 4070 guilt, guilty 4070
Hades, Sheol 4071
heaven, sky, heavens, heavenly 4072
high priest, chief priest 4073
holy, holiness, unholy, sacred 4075
Holy One 4076
holy place 4077
Holy Spirit, Spirit of God, Spirit of the Lord, Spirit 4078 honor 4079 hope, hoped 4079
house of God, your house, his house, Yahweh's house, a house for my name, the house for my name, the house, a house, a house of Yahweh 4081 humble, humbled, humility 4082
I am Yahweh 4082 inherit, inheritance, heir 4084 iniquity 4085 innocent 4086
Israel, Israelites 4086 jealous, jealousy 4087
judge, judgment 4088 just, justice, unjust, injustice, justify, justification 4090 lament, lamentation 4092 law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God 4092 lord, Lord, master, sir 4093
Lord Yahweh, Yahweh God 4095
love, beloved 4096 majesty 4098 manna 4099 mercy, merciful 4099 miracle, wonder, sign 4100
Most High 4102
myrrh 4102
parable 4103 people of God 4103 perish 4104
pray, prayer 4105
priest, priesthood 4106 promise, promised 4107
Promised Land 4108 prophet, prophecy, prophesy, seer, prophetess 4109 psalm 4111
pure, purify, purification 4111
ransom, ransomed 4112 redeem, redeemer, redemption 4113 remnant 4114
repent, repentance 4114 restore, restoration 4115 resurrection 4116 righteous, righteousness, unrighteous, unrighteousness, upright, uprightness 4117 sanctuary 4120
save, saved, safe, salvation, rescue 4120 Savior, savior 4123 scribe 4123
Shaddai 4124
sign, proof, reminder 4125 sin, sinful, sinner, sinning 4126
Son of Man, son of man 4128 sons of God, children of God 4129 soul, self 4129
spirit, wind, breath 4130 stone, stoning 4132 tabernacle 4132
temple, house, house of God 4133 test, tested, testing, testing in the fire 4134 testimony, testify, witness, eyewitness, evidence 4135

transgress, transgression 4137 trespass 4138 trust, trusted, trustworthy, trustworthiness 4139
wise, wisdom 4140
woe 4141
word of God, word of Yahweh, word of the Lord, word of truth, scripture 4141 world, worldly 4143 prostrate, bow down, worship 4144 wrath, fury 4145
Yahweh, Yah 4146
Yahweh of hosts, Yahweh of armies, God of armies, God of hosts, host of heaven, host of the heavens, Lord of hosts 4149 zeal, zealous 4150
Zion, Mount Zion 4151
Aaron 4152
Abimelech 4152
Abraham, Abram 4153
Absalom 4154
Amalek, Amalekite 4154
Ammon, Ammonite 4155
Amorite 4155
Asaph 4156
Assyria, Assyrian, Assyrian Empire 4156
Baal 4157
Babylon, Babylonia, Babylonian 4158
Bashan 4159
Bathsheba 4159
Benjamin, Benjaminite 4160
Canaan, Canaanite 4160
Cush 4161
David 4161
Edom, Edomite, Idumea 4163
Egypt, Egyptian 4163
Ephraim, Ephraimite 4164
Ephrath, Ephrathah 4165
Euphrates River, the River 4165
Gath, Gittite 4166
Gilead, Gileadite 4166
Ham 4167
house of David 4167
Isaac 4168
Ishmael, Ishmaelite 4168
Jacob, Israel 4169
Jerusalem 4170
Jesse 4171
Joab 4172
Jordan River, Jordan 4172
Joseph (OT) 4173
Judah 4174
Judea, Judah 4174
Kadesh, Kadesh Barnea, Meribah Kadesh 4175
Kedar 4175
Korah, Korahite 4176
Lebanon 4176
Leviathan 4177
Levi, Levite 4177
Lot 4178
Maker 4178
Manasseh 4179
man of God 4179
Melchizedek 4180
Meshech 4180
Mesopotamia, Aram Naharaim 4181
Midian, Midianite 4181
Moab, Moabite 4182
Moses 4182
Naphtali 4183
Nathan 4184
Negev 4184
Og 4185

Peor, Mount Peor, Baal Peor 4185
Pharaoh, king of Egypt 4185
Philistia 4186
Philistines 4186
Phinehas 4187
Rahab 4187
Rapha, Raphaites, the Valley of the Raphaites 4188
Sea of Reeds, Red Sea 4189
Samuel 4189
Saul (OT) 4190
Sheba 4190
Shechem 4191
Shiloh 4191
Sihon 4192
Sinai, Horeb 4192
Solomon 4193
Succoth 4194
Tarshish 4194
the sea, the Great Sea, the western sea 4195
Tyre, Tyrians 4195
Zebulun 4196
acknowledge, admit, admitted 4196 admonish, warned, aware 4197 adversary, enemy 4197 afflict, affliction, distress 4198 age, aged, old, old age, years old 4199 age, era, time 4199 alarm, alarmed 4200 anguish 4200
arrogant, presumptuous 4201 assembly, assemble, congregation, meeting, gather, community 4201 avenge, avenger, revenge, vengeance 4202 awe, awesome 4203 ax 4203
barren, dry 4204
bear, bearer, bore, borne, produce, produced 4204 bear, bears, bore, borne, bearer, bearing, carry 4205 beast 4205 beg, beggar, begging 4206 betray, betrayer 4206 day 4207 hour, moment 4208
watch (biblical time) 4208 year 4209 bloodshed 4209
blot out, wipe out 4210 bow, bow down, kneel, bend, bend the knee 4210 bow and arrow, a bow 4211
bread 4212 bribe, bribery, payoff, payoffs 4213 bridegroom, groom 4213 bronze 4214
burnt offering, offering by fire 4214 bury, buried, burial 4215 captive, captivate, captivity, catch 4215 cedar, cedarwood 4216 chaff 4216
chariot, charioteer 4217 cherub, cherubim 4217 chief, leader 4218 clan 4219
commit, committed 4219 companion, fellow worker, friend 4219 conceive, conceived, conception 4220 confirm, confirmation 4220 consume, devour 4221 contempt, contemptible, not worth listening to 4222 corrupt, corrupted, corruption, incorruptibility, depraved 4222 council 4223
advice, advise, advisor, counsel, counselor, counsels 4224 courage, courageous, valor 4224 court, courtyard 4225 cow, bull, calf, cattle, heifer, ox 4225 create, created, creation, creator 4226

creature, creation 4227
crown, crowned 4228 cry, cry out, outcry 4229 curtain 4229
cypress 4230 deceive, lie, deception, illusion 4230 declare, proclaim, announce 4231 decree, decreed 4232 dedicate, dedication, established, devoted 4233 deer, doe, fawn, roebuck, stag 4233 defile, defiled, desecrate 4234 delight 4235 deliver, hand over, turn over, release 4235 deliver, deliverer, deliverance, delivered 4236 descend, descendant 4237 desecrate, desecrated 4237 desert, wilderness 4238 desolate, desolated, desolation, deserted, desolator 4238 destroy, destruction, annihilate 4239 detest, detested, detestable 4240 devastate, devastation 4241 devour 4241
discern, discernment, distinguish 4242 dishonor, dishonored, dishonorable 4242 disperse, dispersion, scatter, distributed 4243 doctrine, teaching, belief, beliefs, instruction, knowledge 4243 donkey, mule 4244 dove, pigeon, turtledove 4244 dream 4245 dung, manure 4246 eagle 4246 earth, land 4247
elder 4249
encourage, encouraged, encouraging, encouragement 4249 endure, endurance 4250 enslave, slave, bondservant, bondage, bound, bond, bonds, young man, young men, young woman, young women 4250 envy, covet, jealous, jealousy 4251 exult, exultant 4252 family, household 4252 famine 4253
fast, fasting 4253
festival, feast, celebrate 4254 fig 4255 firstborn 4255
firstfruit, firstfruits 4256 flock, herd 4257 flood 4257 flute, pipe 4258 footstool 4258
alien, foreigner, sojourn 4259 forsake, forsaken, leave 4260 foundation, founder, founded 4260 fountain, source, spring 4261 freewill offering 4262 fruit, fruitful, unfruitful 4262 furnace 4263 gate, gate bar, gatekeeper, gatepost, gateway 4263 generation 4264
generation 4264
generation 4265
generation 4265
gird, girded, wrapped around, tied up, belt, tuck in belt, put belt around 4266 goat, goatskin, scapegoat, kid 4266
gold, golden 4267 grain, grainfields 4268

grain offering 4268 hail, hailstone, hailstorm 4268 hang, hung 4269 hard, harden, harder, hardness 4270 harp, harpist 4270 harvest, reap 4271 haughty, lofty 4271 honey, honeycomb 4272 horn, horned, shofar 4272 horror, horrible, object of horror 4273 horse, warhorse, horseback, stallion, steed, mare 4273 house 4274
house, household, house of Israel, house of David 4274
household, house 4275
image, carved image, cast metal image, figure, carved figure, statue 4275 incense 4276
inquire, inquiry 4276
instruct, instruction, instructor 4277 integrity 4278 iron 4278
joy, joyful, rejoice, glad 4279 judge 4281
king, kingship 4281 kingdom 4282
kiss 4284
know, knew, knowledge, known, unknown, distinguish 4284 know, knew, knowledge, unknown 4285 labor, labors, labored, laboring, laborer, work, hard work 4286 lamp 4286 likeness 4287 lion, lioness 4288
livestock, animals 4288 locust 4288 loins 4289
lots, casting lots 4290 lover 4290 lowly, lowliness 4291
lute, lyre 4291 marriage, marry, married, wedding 4292 meditate, meditation 4292 meek, meekness 4293 messenger 4293
might, mighty, mighty works 4294 mind, mindful, remind, reminder, likeminded 4295 mock, mocker, mockery, ridicule, scoff at, laughingstock 4296 mourn, mourner, weeping 4297 multiply, multiplied, multiplication 4297 nation 4298 neighbor, neighborhood, neighboring 4299 new moon 4300
noble, nobleman, royal official 4300 oath, vow, swear, swearing, swear by, sworn 4301 oil 4302
olive 4302
ordain, ordained, ordination, planned long ago, set up, prepared 4303 oversee, overseer, keeper 4303 overtake 4304 palace, house 4305
palm 4305 peace, peaceful, peacemaker 4306 perfect, complete 4307 persecute 4307
perverse, perversion, pervert, depraved, malicious, devious, dishonest, distortion 4308 column, pillar 4309 pit, pitfall, trench, cistern 4310
plague 4310
plea, plead, please, beg, implore 4311 plow, plower, plowman, plowmen, plowshare, unplowed 4311 plunder, plundered, spoil, spoils 4312 possess, possessed, possession, dispossess 4312

praise, praised, praiseworthy 4313 prey, prey on 4315
prince, princess, governor, provincial governor, official, nobleman, noblemen, nobility 4315 profane, profaned 4316 profit, profits, profited, profitable 4316 prosper, prosperity, prosperous 4317 prostitute, harlot, whored 4318 prostrate 4318 proud, pride, prideful, boast, boastful, boasting 4319 pride, boastful 4320 proverb 4321 provoke, provoked, provocation 4321 prudence, prudent 4322
punish, punished, punishment, unpunished 4322 queen 4323 rage 4324
rebel, rebellion, rebellious, rebelliousness 4324 rebuke, reprove 4325 receive, welcome, taken up, acceptance 4326
reed 4327 refuge, refugee, shelter, sheltered 4327 reign, rule 4328
reject, rejected, rejection 4329
report, reported, tell, reputation 4329 revere, revered, reverence, reverent 4330 reward, prize, deserve 4330 robe, robed 4331
rod 4331
ruin, ruins, ruined 4332 rule, reign, ruler, prefect, official, leader 4333 sackcloth 4333 sacrifice, offering 4334 sandal 4336
scepter 4336 scroll 4337 seed 4337
seek, search, look for 4338 seize, seizure, capture 4338 selah 4339
serpent, snake, viper 4340 servant, serve, maidservant, young man, young women 4340 shame, ashamed, disgrace, humiliate, reproach 4342 ewe, ram, sheep, sheepfold, sheepshearer, sheepskin 4344 shepherd, herder, pastor 4345 shield 4346
shrewd, cunning 4347
siege, besiege, besieged, siegework, siegeworks 4347
silver 4348
slay, slain, slaughter, kill, murder 4348 slander, slanderer, revile, insult 4349 slaughter, slaughtered 4349 snare, ensnare, entrap, trap, trapped, pitfall 4350 snow 4350
sow, sower, plant, planted, replanted, transplanted 4351 spear, spearmen 4352 splendor 4352 staff, clubs 4353 statute 4353
storehouse 4354
strife, disputes, quarrel, arguing, conflict 4355 stronghold, fortification, fortress, citadel 4355 stumble, reeling 4356 submit, submitted, submitting, submission, in submission 4356 suffer, suffering 4357 sweep 4358 sword, swordsmen 4359 teacher, Teacher 4359
tent, tentmaker 4360
terror, terrorize, terrify, dread, panic 4361 thief, thieves, rob, robber, robbery, bandit 4362 thorn, thorn bush, thistle 4362 threshold, doorway 4363 throne, enthroned 4363 grave, gravedigger, tomb, burial place 4364

tongue, language 4365
torment, tormented, tormentor 4365
trample 4366
tremble, stagger, shake, shaken, quake 4366 tribe, tribal, tribesmen 4367 tribulation, distress, distresses, trouble 4368 tribute, contribution 4368 trouble, disturb, stir up, distress, hardship, calamity 4369 trumpet, trumpeter 4370 understand, understanding, thinking 4370 vain, vanity 4371 vine 4371 vineyard 4372 virgin, virginity 4372 vision, envision 4373
wadi 4373
soldier, warrior 4374
waste, wasted, wasteland, becomes weak 4374 watch, guard, take heed, beware 4375
watchtower, tower 4376
wheat 4376
wine, wineskin, new wine 4377 winnow, sift 4377 womb 4378
wrong, wronged, wrongdoer, mistreat, hurt, hurtful 4379

unfoldingWord® Translation Notes

Psalms

Psalms Introduction

Introduction to Psalms

Part 1: General Introduction

Outline of Psalms

1. Book One (Psalms 1–41): Psalms of David
2. Book Two (Psalms 42–72): Mostly psalms of David
3. Book Three (Psalms 73–89): Psalms of Asaph, the Korahites, Ethan
4. Book Four (Psalms 90–106): Mostly anonymous psalms
5. Book Five (Psalms 107–150): Mostly anonymous, several psalms of David

What is the book of Psalms?

The book of Psalms is a collection of songs that are addressed to God or that speak about God. The word “psalm” comes from a Greek term that described a song that a person would sing while playing a stringed instrument. In many languages, the word now refers to the songs in this collection in the Bible. (All of the songs were written in Hebrew, but they are now called by a Greek name because at one point many Jews became speakers of Greek.) People often call the writers of these psalms “psalmists.”

What title should translators use for this book?

Translators may use the traditional title of this book, “The Book of Psalms,” or just “Psalms.” Another possible title for this book is “Songs for Worship,” which expresses the meaning of the term “psalms” as it applies to the songs in this book. Translators may use a title that expresses that meaning in their own language, or they may choose to transliterate the term “psalms,” that is, to use that word and spell it the way it sounds in their own language.

Why were the songs in this book written?

The psalmists composed these songs for a variety of reasons. In some psalms, they expressed their praise to God. In other psalms, they asked God for help and expressed confidence in his love and power. In still others, they confessed their sins and begged for mercy. The Israelites wrote some psalms to ask Yahweh to defeat their enemies. Other psalms celebrated the event of a new king beginning his reign. They wrote some psalms to instruct people on how to be wise by honoring Yahweh and obeying his law. Pilgrims sang some of the psalms while traveling to Jerusalem to worship there. Psalms written for all of these reasons became songs that people sang to worship Yahweh at his temple. Many songs that people found especially meaningful and enjoyable to sing in temple worship were collected together into this book, which has become part of the Bible.

When were the songs in the book of Psalms written?

The psalms were written over a long period of time. Moses probably wrote the earliest psalm around 1400 B.C. David and Asaph wrote their psalms between 1020 and 975 B.C. The Korahites may have written their psalms before Jerusalem was destroyed and the Jews were exiled to Babylon in 587 B.C. Psalm 126 appears to come from the period after the exile, which ended in 538 B.C.

Why do some versions number the psalms differently from others?

From ancient times, people have numbered the psalms in different ways. The Jews numbered the psalms in Hebrew in one way. When the psalms were translated into Greek, they were numbered in a different way. Also, the people who compiled and transmitted the book of Psalms seem to have wanted a round number of 150 psalms, and they divided and combined individual psalms in order to achieve that total. This was done in different ways in different versions. For example, in the traditional Hebrew text, Psalms 42 and 43 are presented as separate psalms while Psalm 116 is presented as a single psalm. In the ancient Greek version, Psalms 42 and 43 are a single psalm and Psalm 116 is presented in parts as two different psalms. The Hebrew and Greek numbering and the divisions and combinations of some psalms were passed down through the centuries, and a variety of systems are in use today. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the system that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the system that the ULT uses.

Part 2: Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Book

Most of the psalms were written in one of a few basic forms that were common in ancient Hebrew songwriting. These forms allowed the biblical songwriters to structure a creative expression of the powerful emotions and intense spiritual sensations that arose from their deep experiences with God. Psalmists used specific forms for specific purposes.

Notes to individual psalms will suggest what form they use. (Some psalms combine or adapt the basic forms.) Recognizing from the form the type of situation that the psalmist was addressing will help translators understand and appreciate each psalm as a whole in order to translate it effectively into their language.

Psalms of supplication (laments)

The most common type of psalm in this collection is a plea for God's help in a time of trouble. About one third of the psalms fit this type. These are often called "psalms of supplication" or "laments." Many begin with a cry for help. The psalmist calls out to God, begging for rescue in urgent and emotional tones. The psalmist may then describe the troubles he is experiencing, but he may also make a statement of trust, expressing his confidence in God's goodness and power despite these difficulties. He may ask God to do something specific to help him. He may say that God should do this because he is innocent of any wrongdoing. He may promise to praise God publicly once he has received his help. Not every psalm of supplication has all of these elements, and the elements that are present may appear in a variety of orders. Nevertheless, in these psalms of supplication, there is a recognizable basic pattern of calling for help from a standpoint of trust.

Psalms of thanksgiving

People who had promised to praise God publicly for his help sang another kind of psalm in order to do that. Those psalms are often called "psalms of thanksgiving." They too are composed from a number of common elements. There may be an opening summary statement that God helped the psalmist when he was in trouble. The psalmist may call others to join him in praising God for this. He may describe the trouble he was in and state specifically that he asked God to help him. He may then depict, often through vivid imagery, how God helped him, and he may conclude with an expression of praise and thanks. Once again, not every psalm of thanksgiving has all of these elements, and the elements that are present may appear in a variety of orders, but a basic pattern is recognizable.

Psalms of praise

The third basic type of song in this book is often called a "psalm of praise." Its focus is not on the writer and his situation but on God and his worthiness to be worshiped. In a psalm of praise, the writer calls other people to worship God with him, and he gives reasons why they should do that. The essential dynamic of psalms of praise is alternation between calls to worship and reasons to worship (though some of them consist almost entirely of a call to worship). A reason to worship is typically introduced with the term "for." Psalm 47:5–6 say, for example, "Sing praise to our king, sing praise! For God is the king of all of the earth." One particular type of praise psalm is a “song of Zion,” which celebrates Mount Zion and the city of Jerusalem and the temple there as the center of God’s presence and rule over the earth.

Psalms of trust

A psalmist may sometimes expand one element of a basic form so that it fills all or most of a psalm. For example, psalmists who asked God for help often expressed their trust in him. Some psalms consist almost entirely of an expression of trust. The troubles of the psalmist may be dimly perceptible in the background, but these psalms are essentially calm, stately affirmations of reliance on God. They are therefore called “psalms of trust.”

Penitential psalms

Sometimes a psalmist recognizes that the trouble that he is experiencing is the result of sin that he has committed. In addition to difficulties that are consequences of his sin or punishments for it, he is deeply troubled by guilt. He asks God to forgive him and restore him. Expressing sorrow for doing wrong is sometimes called “penitence,” and so such psalms are sometimes called “penitential psalms.” They are a specific kind of psalm of supplication.

Imprecatory psalms

Sometimes psalmists who are troubled by wicked enemies become concerned not only for their own survival but for God’s reputation for upholding justice. If treacherous people succeed and prosper, others may question whether God is good and powerful enough to vindicate the righteous and punish the wicked. Those others may then choose to act wickedly themselves, and the entire society will become violent and corrupt. So a psalm of supplication for deliverance from enemies may include a call for God to destroy the wicked. That kind of request is sometimes called an “imprecation.” When this call expands and becomes the major element of a composition, that psalm may be called an “imprecatory psalm.” Christian readers of such psalms, knowing that Jesus told his followers to love their enemies, are often troubled by the call for God to destroy wicked people. It is important to appreciate that psalmist is not asking for revenge. He is asking God to demonstrate his justice.

Wisdom psalms

Some psalms make a practical application of the truth about God’s justice. They teach their listeners about the two very different fates that await wicked people and righteous people. These psalms urge their audiences to cultivate wisdom (the ability to choose the right course in life) by fearing God, that is, by having great reverence for God and obeying him. While some wisdom psalms present their teaching within the framework of one of the basic types, other wisdom psalms are different. They are addressed to people, rather than to God, and they consist essentially of teaching rather than of supplication, thanksgiving, or praise. One type of psalm that is similar to a wisdom psalm depicts God assembling and addressing the Israelites, commending those who are faithfully obeying his covenant but warning those who are acting wickedly.

Royal psalms

God's power and goodness can be questioned in a psalm of supplication, vindicated in a psalm of thanksgiving, and celebrated in a psalm of praise. Some praise psalms celebrate how God is enthroned as king above all the earth and how, from that position of authority, he exercises his power on behalf of justice and helps needy people. The description of God's enthronement as a reason to worship can expand to fill an entire psalm of praise. When it does, the psalm may be known as a "divine enthronement psalm" or "royal psalm." Another type of royal psalm is a prayer for God to help the Israelite king uphold justice and help needy people as God's representative on earth. This type of royal psalm, a specific kind of psalm of supplication, may also ask God to defeat the king's foreign enemies so that he can continue to rule. Some such psalms celebrate the occasion of a new king beginning his rule.

Styles of psalms

The background information that the book of Psalms provides about many of the songs in this collection (see the discussion of "superscriptions" in Part 3 of this introduction) sometimes includes a description of the style of a psalm.

In several cases, a psalm is identified as a "maskil." Biblical scholars have different understandings of what that term means. Some say it means "to instruct," while others say that the word refers to the skill used in creating the psalm. Still others think it means that meditation should be used in reading this psalm. Since the meaning is not certain, in your translation, you may wish to represent this word in its Hebrew form, as the ULT and UST do, and spell it the way it sounds in your language.

In several other cases, a psalm is identified as a "miktam." The exact meaning of this term is also uncertain. Some scholars think it may refer to a kind of writing or musical style, while others suggest it describes the psalm's tone or purpose. It may mean that a psalm is a prayer for protection or a song of confidence. Since the meaning is not certain, you may wish to represent this word as well in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language.

Fifteen short psalms, collected together as Psalms 120–134, are each called a "song of ascents." Most interpreters understand this title to mean that they were customarily sung by pilgrims on their way to Jerusalem for the great festivals of Passover, Pentecost, and Tabernacles. (The term "ascents" is used because going up to Jerusalem involved a climb of about 3,000 feet up Mount Zion.) These songs are written in a variety of forms, and while many of them refer directly to the journey and the festivals, they also speak about a broad range of other experiences. So this description refers as much to the occasion of these psalms as their style, although they are generally short and communal.

Several of the psalms follow a pattern in which the 22 letters of the Hebrew alphabet begin each poetic line, each half-line, every second line, or even every eight lines in a row. This pattern is known as an “acrostic,” from a Greek term that describes the start of a line of poetry. The alphabetic pattern may be used as an aid to memory, and it may also depict a composition as speaking comprehensively about a subject. The background information that the book of Psalms provides does not identify these psalms as having been written in this style, since this would have been obvious to the original Hebrew audience, but notes to these psalms will identify them as acrostics.

Part 3: Translation Issues in This Book

How should translators represent the poetry in the book of Psalms?

The psalms, as the words to songs, are poetry. Hebrew poetry was based on the repetition of ideas. Typically the first part of a line would say something, and the second part of that line would repeat the same idea in different words. (In some cases, the second part of a line may elaborate on the idea in the first part or state something contrasting.) Translation teams must decide how to represent the lines in which both parts express the same idea. Readers may think that the psalmist is saying something different in the second part of the line but not be able to figure out what that is, since the psalmist is actually not doing that. So one approach is to combine the two parts into a single statement of the idea. However, to show readers the character of Hebrew poetry, it may be preferable to include both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. (This can be valuable in many cases because the second part, while restating the idea, often advances or intensifies it in some way.) Often the term “and” connects the two parts, and it may be clearer in your language to connect them with a different term in order to show that the second part of the line is repeating the idea in the first part, not saying something different. For example, Psalm 19:1 says, “The heavens are declaring the glory of God, and the sky is proclaiming the work of his hands.” A translation might say, “The heavens are declaring the glory of God; indeed, the sky is proclaiming the work of his hands.”

Translation teams must also decide whether to try to represent the poetry in the Psalms in a poetic form that is characteristic of their own language. This is often difficult to do, since poetic forms vary so much from one language to another. Unless poetry in the translators’ language happens to be very similar to Hebrew poetry, a common approach is to represent the psalms as prose, that is, as ordinary language, but to format them in a way that shows they are poetry in the original language. The ULT and UST do that by setting each line farther to the right on the page than regular text. They indent the second part of a line (and a third part, if there is one) farther to the right than the first part of the line. Translators may have conventions in their own languages and cultures that will allow them to translate the psalms as ordinary language but display them as poetry.

However translation teams decide to represent the poetry in the Psalms, it is valuable to retain the images that the psalmists use, such as God being like a shepherd or like a huge rock. These images reflect the original cultural and historical context of the Bible, which is helpful background for readers to have in order to understand what the Bible is saying. In many cases the images are used in various parts of the Bible with similar meaning but significant shades of difference, and it is helpful for readers to see how the biblical writers are using images in these different ways. So if an image communicates well in your language, please use it in your translation. If not, consider expressing it as a comparison. For example, for the statement in Psalm 23:1, “Yahweh is my shepherd,” you might say, “Yahweh cares for me as a shepherd cares for his sheep.” For the statement in Psalm 18:2, “Yahweh is my rock,” you might say, “Yahweh to me is like a high rock that I can climb up to reach safety from danger.”

How should translators represent the introductions that many psalms have?

In many cases, information about a psalm is provided before the beginning of the psalm. This information is sometimes called a “superscription.” That term describes something that is written above something else.

Some versions do not give verse numbers to the superscriptions, while other versions do. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to do what it does. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to do what the ULT does. Whether or not translators give the superscriptions in the Psalms verse numbers, they should consider them as part of the divinely inspired biblical text. They may wish to use special formatting to show that they are not part of the original composition of the psalm. The ULT does this by putting them in italics.

Translators should use care in translating the phrases in superscriptions that associate a psalm with a person. For example, about half of the psalms are called a “psalm of David” or simply “Of David.” This may mean that King David wrote them. However, it could also mean that someone else wrote the psalm for David, or that the psalm was written in the same style that David used when he wrote songs. Translators can be more confident that this expression means that David wrote the psalm when the superscription describes a historical situation in David’s life as the occasion of its composition. The UST models various ways to translate the phrases that associate a psalm with a person, sometimes with expressions that could allow a range of meanings (“A psalm of David”) and sometimes with more specific expressions (“David wrote this psalm when …”).

Some superscriptions give instructions about how a psalm should be played and sung. They may tell which instruments, singers, or melodies should be used for that psalm. The superscriptions to about a third of the psalms indicate that they are “for the chief musician.” This suggests that while they were originally composed in a variety of life situations, they have been collected for use in temple worship. The ULT and UST model how the technical terms in the superscription about performance can be translated in either a form-based or meaning-based way.

Some biblical scholars suggest that these musical instructions apply to the previous psalm rather than to the psalm that immediately follows them. For example, the current superscription to Psalm 4 reads, “For the director, with stringed instruments. Of David.” The phrases “For the chief musician; with stringed instruments” may belong at the end of Psalm 3, so that the superscription to Psalm 4 would be just “Of David.” Similarly, the superscription to Psalm 5 may be just “A psalm of David,” and the musical instructions “For the chief musician; on the flutes” may belong at the end of Psalm 4. This suggestion is a matter of ongoing scholarly debate, and Bible publishers have so far not adopted it, so these resources treat the entire traditional superscriptions as applying to the psalms that immediately follow them. However, you may wish to consider the merits of this suggestion and make your own decision about it as a translation team.

“Selah” and “Higgaion”

The terms “Selah” and “Higgaion” occur within many psalms. They seem to be musical terms inserted as directions for singers and musicians. Scholars do not agree as to their exact meaning. For this reason, rather than try to translate them, translators may decide to include the Hebrew words and spell them the way they sound in their language or leave them out.

How should translators represent passages in the psalms that look forward to the Messiah?

New Testament writers quote many passages from the psalms as prophecies about the Messiah, Jesus Christ. The psalms that contain these prophecies are therefore sometimes called “Messianic psalms.” In translating them, translators should take care not to limit the potential meaning only to the original writer. For example, David says in Psalm 16:10, “You will not hand over your godly one to see the pit.” In speaking to Yahweh, he is referring initially to himself in the third person as “your godly one.” In some languages, a speaker would not refer to himself in the third person in this way, and translators of the Bible into those languages might ordinarily use an expression such as “me, your godly one.” However, Peter cites this statement in Acts 2:27 as a prophecy of the Messiah. So it would be preferable to translate the phrase “your godly one” with a phrase such as “any godly person who belongs to you.”

“shall”

The ULT represents the Hebrew instructional verb form with the English helping verb “shall.” For example, when Yahweh said, as quoted by Asaph in 81:9, “There shall not be a strange god among you.” he was instructing the Israelites how to act. Other ways to say this are “You are not to have a strange god among you,” “You should not have a strange god among you”

“I want you not to have a strange god among you,” or “Do not have a strange god among you.” Translate this form with the most natural way in your language for giving instructions.

“let” and “may”

The ULT uses the English helping verbs “let” and “may” to show that a speaker is expressing a desire that something happen or that someone do something. It uses the verb “let” for more assertive expressions, and it uses the verb “may” for more deferential expressions. For example, when David says in 69:34 “Let the heavens and the earth praise him,” he means “I want the heavens and the earth to praise him.” Languages that do not have a volitional form might say “The heavens and earth ought to praise him,” or they might use an imperative, “Praise him, heavens and earth!” When David says in 70:5 “Yahweh, may you not delay,” he is being more deferential, even though his wish is urgent, because he is addressing a superior. Languages that do not have a volitional form might say “Yahweh, I desire that you do not delay,” or they might use an imperative with an indication that it is a polite request, “Yahweh, please do not delay.” Translate this volitional form in the most natural way in your language to indicate that the speaker is expressing what he wants someone to do or what he wishes someone would do.

“your God,” “my God,” and “our God”

Throughout this book, the psalmist refers to Yahweh with possessive forms such as “your God,” “my God,” and “our God.” By using these possessive forms, he is not saying that the Israelites possess or control Yahweh. Rather he is using these words to indicate that Yahweh is the God whom the Israelites worship. Also, when the psalmist says, “your God,” he is referring to the same God that he also worships. He is not distinguishing between the God of the Israelites and his own God.

Psalms 1

Psalms 1 Introduction

Psalm 1 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 1 is usually considered to be a “wisdom psalm,” which gives advice to those who hear it read or sung.

1. The happy: Those devoted to Yahweh’s instruction prosper (1–3)
2. The unhappy: Those who reject Yahweh’s instruction come to nothing (4–5)
3. Authority: Yahweh directs each path to its destination (6)

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: to celebrate the one who follows Yahweh’s guidance
2. Content: It is the one who delights in Yahweh’s guidance who is “happy.” All of this is because Yahweh cares for righteous people, but wicked people keep sinning until Yahweh destroys them forever. (6)
3. Message: Devotion to Yahweh’s guidance leads to success and honor.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

1. Words associated (whether by sound or by meaning) with a journey appear throughout the psalm.
2. In Hebrew, in the word “wicked” the consonant sounds in “happy” are reversed.
3. Verses 1 and 5 have a number of correspondences with one another. There are negated clauses in both verses, and both contain motion verbs. Additionally, the phrase “advice of the wicked” in verse 1a is similar to the phrase “congregation of the righteous” in verse 5b. The phrases also have similar structure. In Hebrew the words for “advice” and “congregation” sound very similar. See: Poetry
4. The psalm begins and ends with the metaphor of a journey.
5. There is agricultural imagery which is frequent in scripture: a tree by water (representing flourishing through God’s blessing) and separating wheat from chaff (representing the different judgments of the righteous and wicked). See: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

CCBYSA

Significant portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from “Psalms, Layer by Layer” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), “Psalm 1” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_1) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

Psalms 1:1

ULT	UST
The happinesses of the man who walks not in the advice of the wicked, and stands not in the pathway of sinners, and sits not in the seat of scoffers,	The person who will have a truly good life is the person who does not do what evil people tell him to do, who does not imitate sinful people's behavior, and who does not become like people who enjoy mocking.

ULT The happinesses of
UST who will have a truly good life
(אַשְׁרֵי)

The psalmist is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling, what constitutes true happiness from God's perspective. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT The happinesses of the man who walks not in the advice of the wicked, and stands not in the pathway of sinners, and sits not in the seat of scoffers
UST The person who will have a truly good life is the person who does not do what evil people tell him to do, who does not imitate sinful people's behavior, and who does not become like people who enjoy mocking
(אַשְׁרֵי־הָאִישׁ אֲשֶׁר | לֹא הָלַךְ֮ בַּעֲצַ֪ת רְשָׁעִ֫ים וּבְדֶ֥רֶךְ חַטָּאִ֑ים לֹ֤א עָ֫מָ֥ד וּבְמוֹשַׁ֥ב לֵצִ֗ים לֹ֣א יָשָׁ֑ב)

In some languages it may be more natural to place the declaration of the state of the man at the end of the verse after the description of the characteristics that he avoids. However, starting the psalm with the happinesses of the man was an intentional poetic decision by the author, who intended to set the mood of the psalm. Translators should consider how their language might start the psalm in this way. Alternate translation: [The man who does not walk in the advice of the wicked ones, and stands not in the pathway with sinners, and sits not in the seat of mockers is happy.]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT the man
UST The person & is the person
(הָאִישׁ)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [any man] or [a person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT walks not in the advice of the wicked
UST does not do what evil people tell him to do
(לֹא הָלַךְ בַּעֲצַת רְשָׁעִים)

Here, walks refers to a man doing the things that the wicked suggest. This is the beginning of a pattern of doing wrong. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the comparison. Alternate translation: [does not walk into sin that wicked people suggest] or [never does what wicked people suggest]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT the wicked
UST does not do what evil people tell him to do
(רְשָׁעִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [wicked people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT walks not in the advice of the wicked, and stands not in the pathway of sinners, and sits not in the seat of scoffers
UST does not do what evil people tell him to do, who does not imitate sinful people's behavior, and who does not become like people who enjoy mocking (לֹא הָלַךְ בַּעֲצַת רְשָׁעִים וּבְדֶרֶךְ חַטָּאִים לֹא עָמָד וּבְמוֹשַׁב לֵצִים לֹא יָשָׁב)

It may be helpful to read these three phrases in an inverted way. That way the negative trajectory that the happy man avoids can be more clearly seen. Consider: "Unhappy is the man who walks in the advice of the wicked ones and then who stands in the pathway of sinners and then who sits in the seat of scoffers." The meaning of each of these parts of this extended metaphor is expanded in later notes, but translators should see a trajectory of worsening character that a happy man avoids.

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT and stands not in the pathway of sinners
UST who does not imitate sinful people's behavior
(וּבְדֶרֶךְ חַטָּאִים לֹא עָמָד)

Here, stands not in the pathway of sinners refers to not copying how sinners continually live their lives, that is, their sinful habits. Standing means joining with sinners. The pathway means how a person lives his life. Not only does the happy man not do what the wicked say but he habitually avoids doing what sinners do. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the comparison. Alternate translation: [and does not stand with sinners in the path of sinning] or [and does not make sinning a habit]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT sinners
UST who does not imitate sinful people’s behavior
(חַטָּאִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective sinners as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [sinful people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and sits not in the seat of scoffers
UST and who does not become like people who enjoy mocking (וּבְמוֹשַׁב לֵצִים לֹא יָשָׁב)

Here, sits not in the seat of scoffers means to not become like people who spend their time mocking people, things, and God. By avoiding the previous two progressions towards a sinful life, the happy man avoids this final state where he would be just like the wicked. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the comparison. Alternate translation: [and does not sit with scoffers to join them in scoffing] or [so he never becomes like wicked mockers]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in the advice of	does not do what evil people tell him to do
the wicked	does not do what evil people tell him to do sinners	who does not imitate sinful people’s behavior

Psalms 1:2

ULT	UST
but in the instruction of Yahweh {is} his delight, and in his instruction he meditates day and night.	Instead, he delights in what Yahweh teaches, he thoughtfully reads it aloud every day and every night.

ULT but
UST Instead
(כִּי אִם)

The psalmist uses the word but here to indicate a strong contrast between what the happy man does and does not do. In your translation, indicate this strong contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Rather,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT in the instruction of & and in his instruction
UST in what & teaches & it
(בְּתוֹרַת & וּבְתוֹרָתוֹ)

Alternate translation: [in the instruction of … and in his instruction]

ULT is} his delight & he meditates
UST he delights & he thoughtfully reads & aloud
(חֶפְצוֹ & יֶהְגֶּה)

Here, his and he refer to the happy man.

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT is} his delight
UST he delights
(חֶפְצוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of delight, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he delights] or [he rejoices]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and in his instruction
UST it
(וּבְתוֹרָתוֹ)

Here, his refers to Yahweh. Alternate translation: [and in Yahweh's instruction]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT day and night
> UST every day and every night
> (יוֹמָם וְלַיְלָה)

Here the psalmist is referring to all the time by naming two major components, day and night. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [round-the-clock] or [all the time]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in the instruction of	in what & teaches
Yahweh	Yahweh
is} his delight	he delights
and in his instruction	it
he meditates	he thoughtfully reads & aloud

Psalms 1:3

ULT	UST
And he is like a tree set to grow by streams of water, which gives its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither, and he makes successful all that he does.	Like having plenty of water causes a well-cultivated tree to produce fruit at the right time, and keeps it from dying, so {his faithfulness to Yahweh} causes everything this person does to prosper.

ULT And he is like a tree set to grow by streams of water, which gives its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither, and he makes successful all that he does

UST Like having plenty of water causes a well-cultivated tree to produce fruit at the right time, and keeps it from dying, so {his faithfulness to Yahweh} causes everything this person does to prosper

(וְהָיָה כְּעֵץ שָׁתוּל עַל־פַּלְגֵי מָיִם אֲשֶׁר פִּרְיוֹ | יִתֵּן בְּעִתּוֹ וְעָלֵהוּ לֹא־יִבּוֹל וְכֹל אֲשֶׁר־יַעֲשֶׂה יַצְלִיחַ)

The point of this verse's comparison between the happy man and a well-watered tree is that just like the streams of water cause the tree to flourish, learning Yahweh's instructions causes the man to flourish. (In the original, the phrases even sound similar.) Both a positive and negative comparison are given to strengthen the force of the point. The tree, fruit, and leaf references connect both back to Eden and forward to the end of Revelation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the argument a little more explicit as the "Like … so" connection does in the UST. See 92:12–92:14 for another use of this imagery.

Support Reference: Simile

ULT set to grow

UST Like having plenty of water causes a well-cultivated tree

(שָׁתוּל)

The point of the choice of the word set is to emphasize the intentional placement of a tree so that it gets abundant water. The word translated as set to grow refers to intentional planting or transplanting. Translators could use a word meaning "planted" if their readers would understand that this was intentional. Alternate translation: [deliberately planted] or [transplanted]

ULT set to grow
UST Like having plenty of water causes a well-cultivated tree
(שְׁתוּל)

The expression set to grow is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [that someone set to grow]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and its leaf does not wither
UST and keeps it from dying
(וְעָלֵהוּ לֹא־יִבּוֹל)

The psalmist is referring figuratively to the tree dying by association with the way the leaves on a tree wither when a tree is dead or dying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and it will not die]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and its leaf does not wither
UST and keeps it from dying
(וְעָלֵהוּ לֹא־יִבּוֹל)

Here the psalmist is emphasizing a strong positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with a word that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could emphasize the positive meaning in a strong way. Alternate translation: [and its leaves are strong and green]

Support Reference: Litotes

ULT and he makes successful all that he does
UST so {his faithfulness to Yahweh} causes everything this person does to prosper
(וְכֹל אֲשֶׁר־יַעֲשֶׂה יַצְלִיחַ)

Here, both instances of he refer to the happy man.

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
its fruit	to produce fruit at the right time
he makes successful	so {his faithfulness to Yahweh} causes everything this person does to prosper

Psalms 1:4

ULT	UST
Not so the wicked! But {they are} like the chaff that wind chases away.	That is not what wicked people are like! Instead, they are like chaff that the wind blows away.

ULT Not so
UST That is not what & are like (לֹא־כֵ֥ן)

The so here refers to everything in the first three verses. The wicked are not in any way like the happy man. If your language has a way to indicate that so refers back not just to the last line about success but to the wider context of the first three verses, consider using it.

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(הָרְשָׁעִ֑ים)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT they are} like & chaff
UST they are like chaff
(כַּמֹּֽץ)

The word chaff refers to the parts of a wheat or other grain plant that are not food. The husk that surrounds the edible seed is very light, and it blows away when the wheat is threshed to separate out the edible seed. Thus, the chaff is with the grain until harvest but then separated and blown away. If your readers would not be familiar with the word chaff you could use a more general term or use another light and worthless material to describe the wicked. Alternate translation: [they are like … dried seed husks] or [they are like … fallen]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT But {they are} like the chaff that wind chases away
UST Instead, they are like chaff that the wind blows away
(כִּ֣י אִם־כַּמֹּ֣ץ אֲשֶׁר־תִּדְּפֶ֣נּוּ רֽוּחַ)

The idea of the wicked as waste material gathered at the harvest and eliminated in some way is a common biblical image of God judging the wicked. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly.

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
they are} like & chaff	they are like chaff

Psalms 1:5

ULT	UST
Thus the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.	Just so, wicked people will not be able to endure {when Yahweh} judges {the world}. Neither will sinful people {be present when Yahweh} gathers all the righteous people together.

ULT Thus
UST Just so
(עַל־כֵּן)

Thus indicates that the connection between the previous statements and this is one of similarity. Just like the chaff is removed from the good harvest and destroyed, thus the wicked will be removed from Yahweh's righteous people and destroyed. If the connection between this statement and the previous one is not clear, you may want to use a different connecting word to show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [In the same way,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the wicked will not stand in the judgment
UST wicked people will not be able to endure {when Yahweh} judges {the world
(לֹא־יָקֻמוּ רְשָׁעִים בַּמִּשְׁפָּט)

The psalmist is using stand in the judgment as a common expression of his culture to mean to be declared innocent. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the wicked ones will not get off the hook] or [the wicked ones will not be found innocent]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT in the judgment
> UST when Yahweh} judges {the world
> (בַּמִּשְׁפָּֽט)

This refers to the time when Yahweh will finally judge the whole world. If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in Yahweh's final court]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT nor sinners
> UST Neither will sinful people {be present
> (וְחַטָּאִ֑ים)

See how you translated sinners in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT nor sinners
> UST Neither will sinful people {be present
> (וְחַטָּאִ֑ים)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [nor will sinners stand]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT the righteous
> UST all the righteous people
> (צַדִּיקִֽים)

The psalmist is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
in the judgment	when Yahweh} judges {the world
nor sinners	Neither will sinful people {be present in the congregation of	when Yahweh} gathers & together
the righteous	all the righteous people

Psalms 1:6

ULT	UST
For Yahweh knows the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked will perish.	{All of this is} because Yahweh cares for righteous people, but wicked people keep sinning until {Yahweh} destroys them {forever}.

ULT For Yahweh knows the way of
UST All of this is} because Yahweh cares
(כִּי־יוֹדֵעַ יְהוָה דֶּרֶךְ)

Here, knows the way of is a common expression of the culture that refers to Yahweh's intimate and active involvement in the life of the righteous. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh cares for the needs of]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT For
UST All of this is} because
(כִּי)

For here introduces an explanation of the contrast throughout this psalm. If possible, use a connector here that can refer back to more than just the immediate context.

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the righteous
UST for righteous people
(צַדִּיקִים)

See how you translated the phrase the righteous in the previous verse.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked will perish
UST cares for righteous people, but wicked people keep sinning until {Yahweh} destroys them {forever
(דֶּרֶךְ צַדִּיקִים וְדֶרֶךְ רְשָׁעִים תֹּאבֵד)

The psalmist is speaking of how a person lives or lifestyle as if that were a way or path that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the lifestyle of the righteous, but the lifestyle of those who are wicked causes them to perish]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
knows	cares
the righteous	for righteous people
the wicked	wicked people
will perish	until {Yahweh} destroys them {forever

Psalms 2

Psalms 2 Introduction

Psalm 2 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 2 is usually considered a royal psalm because it is about the king.

1. Rebellion: Earthly kings plot rebellion (1–3)
2. Response: The Heavenly King laughs (4–6)
3. Decree: The King on Zion recounts Yahweh’s covenant (7–9)
4. Ultimatum: Earthly kings, “Serve Yahweh … Kiss the son!” (10–12)

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: It was probably first sung when a new person became the king.
2. Content: While there are (from the perspective of the New Testament) clear references to Jesus, the Anointed (Messiah) Son of God (Yahweh), translators should avoid bringing this fuller understanding into the translation of this psalm, which was written around 1,000 years before Christ.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

1. The place of reference moves between things being on earth (2), in heaven (4), on the mountain (often seen as a meeting place between heaven and earth) (6), and on earth again (10).
2. The rebellious words in verse 3 are echoed by similar sounding but very contrastive (obedient) words in verses 10–12.
3. The word for son in verse 12 is highlighted by being Aramaic rather than Hebrew and having several occurrences of similar sounding consonant groups near it. See: Poetry
4. Nations are personified.
5. Yahweh’s rule is pictured as physical bonds.
6. Power is figured as an iron rod.

7. Nations are figured as pottery.

CCBYSA

Significant portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from “Psalms, Layer by Layer” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), “Psalm 2” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_2) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

Psalms 2:1

ULT	UST
Why do nations conspire and peoples plot futilely?	Foreign kingdoms are scheming, and people groups are planning, but it is useless.

ULT Why do nations conspire and peoples plot futilely
UST Foreign kingdoms are scheming, and people groups are planning, but it is useless
(לָמָּה רָגְשׁוּ גוֹיִם וּלְאֻמִּים יֶהְגּוּ־רִיק)

The proper understanding of the questions that make up this verse is provided in verses 4 and those that follow. They are not true questions; they are statements of mocking disbelief. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Nations are in turmoil and peoples are complaining uselessly.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT nations
UST Foreign kingdoms
(גוֹיִם)

Here, nations represents either the people of the nations or the leaders of the nations. If nations could not be understood to conspire, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. However, it is best to not narrow the meaning to leaders yet, as the psalm will do that in the next verse. Alternate translation: [people from other nations]

Support Reference: Metonymy

What the nations are conspiring and the peoples are plotting is not mentioned in this verse, but since it becomes clear from the next two verses, you do not need to explain its meaning further here.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
nations	Foreign kingdoms

Psalms 2:2

ULT	UST
The kings of the earth take their stand, and the rulers conspire together against Yahweh and against his anointed.	Earthly kings prepare to revolt, the rulers plot together to fight against Yahweh and against his chosen king.

ULT The kings of the earth take their stand, and the rulers conspire together

UST Earthly kings prepare to revolt, the rulers plot together

(יִתְיַצְּבוּ | מַלְכֵי־אֶרֶץ וְרוֹזְנִים נוֹסְדוּ־יָחַד)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The kings of the earth take their stand; indeed, the rulers conspire together]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The kings of	kings
the earth	Earthly and the rulers	the rulers
Yahweh	Yahweh
his anointed	his chosen king

Psalms 2:3

ULT	UST
“Let us tear apart their bonds and cast their cords away from us.”	{They shout,} “We should break free from the shackles {that they control us with}. We should throw aside the ropes {that they rule over us with}!”

> ULT Let us tear apart their bonds and cast their cords away from us
> UST They shout,} “We should break free from the shackles {that they control us with}. We should throw aside the ropes {that they rule over us with > (נְנַתְּקָה אֶת־מוֹסְרוֹתֵימוֹ וְנַשְׁלִיכָה מִמֶּנּוּ עֲבֹתֵימוֹ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Let us tear apart their bonds; truly, let us cast their cords away from us.]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT Let us tear apart their bonds and cast their cords away from us
> UST They shout,} “We should break free from the shackles {that they control us with}. We should throw aside the ropes {that they rule over us with > (נְנַתְּקָה אֶת־מוֹסְרוֹתֵימוֹ וְנַשְׁלִיכָה מִמֶּנּוּ עֲבֹתֵימוֹ)

The people of other nations speak of Yahweh and his anointed one’s rule over them as if it were bonds and cords. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [We should free ourselves from their control; we should not let them rule over us any longer]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
their bonds	from the shackles {that they control us with

Psalms 2:4

ULT	UST
He who is sitting in the heavens laughs; the Lord mocks them.	But the heavenly ruler sneers at them; the Lord ridicules those rulers.

ULT He who is sitting in the heavens laughs; the Lord mocks them
UST But the heavenly ruler sneers at them; the Lord ridicules those rulers (יוֹשֵׁב בַּשָּׁמַיִם יִשְׂחָק אֲדֹנָי יִלְעַג־לָמוֹ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [He who sits in the heavens sneers; indeed, the Lord mocks them.]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT He who is sitting
UST But the & ruler
(יוֹשֵׁב)

The psalmist is referring specifically to God sitting on his throne, and he is using that action to represent God ruling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [He who is enthroned] or [He who rules]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the Lord	the Lord
mocks	ridicules

Psalms 2:5

ULT	UST
Then he will speak to them in his anger and terrify them in his fury,	Then he speaks to them angrily. He terrifies them by {showing them how} furious he is.

ULT in his anger and & in his fury
UST angrily & by {showing them how} furious he is (בְּאַפּוֹ וּבַחֲרוֹנוֹ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of anger and fury, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [when he is angry and … with how furious he is]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
terrify them	terrifies them
and & in his fury	by {showing them how} furious he is

Psalms 2:6

ULT	UST
“I, I have poured out my king on Zion, the mountain of my holiness.”	{Yahweh says,} “It is I who has made my king rule in Zion, {which is} my sacred hill.”

ULT I, I have poured out my king on Zion, the mountain of my holiness
UST Yahweh says,} “It is I who has made my king rule in Zion, {which is} my sacred hill (וַאֲנִי נָסַכְתִּי מַלְכִּי עַל־צִיּוֹן הַר־קָדְשִׁי)

This verse is a quotation of Yahweh (who is mentioned before this verse as the Lord who is sitting in the heavens). If the speaker would be unclear, you may want to introduce him as the UST does.

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT I, I have poured out
UST Yahweh says,} “It is I who has made & rule
(וַאֲנִי נָסַכְתִּי)

Yahweh is stating the pronoun I separately, even though the verb translated as I will cut already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize how significant it was that it was he and not someone else who was setting up this king on Zion. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [I alone have poured out]

Support Reference: Reflexive Pronouns

ULT I have poured out
UST I & has made & rule
(נָסַכְתִּי)

Scholars debate the meaning of this verb. However, all the options lead either symbolically or literally to the idea that Yahweh has made his king the ruler on Zion. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I have installed] or [I have placed]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my king	my king
Zion	Zion
my holiness	my sacred

Psalms 2:7

ULT	UST
I will describe a decree of Yahweh. He said to me, “You are my son! Today I have begotten you.	{Yahweh’s king says,} “I will proclaim what Yahweh has decreed. Yahweh said to me, ‘You are my son; today I have become your father.

ULT I will describe a decree of Yahweh
UST Yahweh’s king says,} “I will proclaim what Yahweh has decreed (אֲסַפְּרָה אֶל חֹק יְהוָה)

The person saying this is the king that Yahweh placed in Zion. This is a change of speaker from the previous verse, though both are unmarked in the original. You can include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [The king says he will describe a decree of Yahweh]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a decree of	what & has decreed
Yahweh	Yahweh
have begotten you	have become your father

Psalms 2:8

ULT	UST
Ask from me, and I will give nations {as} your inheritance and the extremities of the earth {as} your possession.	Request {this from} me: {ask to} inherit the nations, {ask to} own the {whole} earth {even the} farthest parts. I will give them to you.

ULT as} your inheritance and & as} your possession
UST ask to} inherit & ask to} own
(נַחֲלָתֶךָ וַאֲחֻזָּתְךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of inheritance and possession, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [for you to inherit and … you shall possess]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the extremities of the earth
UST the {whole} earth {even the} farthest parts
(אַפְסֵי־אָרֶץ)

Here, the extremities of the earth is referring to all of the world by naming its edges or limits. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the entire world]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
nations	the nations
as} your inheritance	ask to} inherit
the earth	the {whole} earth {even the} farthest parts and & as} your possession	ask to} own

Psalms 2:9

ULT	UST
You will break them with an iron rod; like a jar of a potter, you will smash them to pieces.”	You will strike them with an iron rod and they will shatter into small pieces as if they were a clay pot.’”

ULT You will break them with an iron rod; like a jar of a potter, you will smash them to pieces
UST You will strike them with an iron rod and they will shatter into small pieces as if they were a clay pot
(תְּרֹעֵם בְּשֵׁבֶט בַּרְזֶל כִּכְלִי יוֹצֵר תְּנַפְּצֵם)

Here the king is speaking of his own power and anger as if it was an iron rod and of nations as if they were a jar of a potter. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning another way. Alternate translation: [Your power is like an iron rod, which will shatter the nations, which are like mere clay pots.]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT like a jar of a potter, you will smash them to pieces
UST and they will shatter into small pieces as if they were a clay pot
(כִּכְלִי יוֹצֵר תְּנַפְּצֵם)

Using a simile in the second clause is a way to intensify the statement in biblical poetry. Use a method in your language’s poetic forms to intensify the second clause if possible. Alternate translation: [more than that, you will smash them to pieces like a jar of a potter]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT like a jar of a potter
UST as if & a clay pot
(כִּכְלִי יוֹצֵר)

A potter is a person who makes clay pots and jars. These are fragile and can be broken easily. If your readers would not be familiar with this, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [like a clay jar]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
iron	iron
with an & rod	with an & rod

Psalms 2:10

ULT	UST
And now kings, act prudently; be admonished, rulers of the earth.	So then, you kings should act wisely! All rulers on the earth should allow Yahweh and his king to correct them!

ULT be admonished
UST should allow Yahweh and his king to correct them
(הִוָּסְרוּ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [listen to this warning]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kings	you kings
act prudently	should act wisely
be admonished	should allow Yahweh and his king to correct them rulers of	All rulers
the earth	on the earth

Psalms 2:11

ULT	UST
Serve Yahweh with fear and rejoice with trembling.	Worship Yahweh respectfully. Be joyful and afraid {while you are worshiping him}!

ULT with fear and rejoice with trembling
UST respectfully. Be joyful and afraid {while you are worshiping him (בְּיִרְאָה וְגִילוּ בִּרְעָדָה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of fear and rejoice, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [fearfully, and joyfully tremble]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Serve	Worship
Yahweh	Yahweh
with fear	respectfully
and rejoice	Be joyful
with trembling	and afraid {while you are worshiping him

Psalms 2:12

ULT	UST
Kiss the son, lest he be angry and you perish in the way, for his anger burns for just a moment. The happinesses of all the seekers of refuge in him.	Swear to be truly loyal to his son otherwise, he may become angry and suddenly kill you because he can become angry quickly. But all those who ask him to protect them will have a life that is truly good.

ULT Kiss the son
UST Swear to be truly loyal to his son
(נַשְּׁקוּ־בַר)

To kiss the son is a symbolic action showing loyalty and pledged obedience. If this would not be clear to your readers, you can explain the significance of this action in the text or in a footnote. People would show their king that they were loyal to him by kissing him, perhaps on the feet. Alternate translation: [Show the son that you are truly loyal to him] or [Bow down humbly before his son]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT and you perish in the way
UST and suddenly kill you & he (וְתֹאבְדוּ דָּרֶךְ)

The implication is that the son will kill you if you are not loyal to him. You can include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and he kill you in the way]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for his anger burns for just a moment
UST because & can become angry quickly
(כִּי־יִבְעַר כִּמְעַט אַפּוֹ)

The anger of the son is spoken of as if it were a fire that burns. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when he suddenly becomes very angry]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT The happinesses of all the seekers of refuge in him
> UST But all those who ask him to protect them will have a life that is truly good > (אַשְׁרֵי כָּל־חוֹסֵי בוֹ)

The protection that submitting to the son provides is spoken of as if the son himself were a safe place or refuge within which people could be protected. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Everyone who asks the king to protect them is happy]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT The happinesses of
> UST But & will have a life that is truly good
> (אַשְׁרֵי)

The psalmist is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling of joy or blessing. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy are]

Support Reference: Exclamations

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Kiss	Swear to be truly loyal to and you perish	and & kill you & he for just a moment	can become angry quickly
the seekers of refuge	ask him to protect them

Psalms 3

Psalms 3 Introduction

Psalm 3 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Foes “rising” against psalmist (1–2)
2. Trust expressed to Yahweh (on his holy hill, see 2:6) (3–4)
3. Trust in Yahweh proclaimed (5–6)
4. Help petitioned from Yahweh (“rising” and saving refer back to 1–2) (7–8)

See 2 Samuel 15–18 for the story of David fleeing from Absalom.

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: to pray for salvation from enemies
2. Content: Yahweh, save me! My enemies are many, but you are my defense.
3. Message: Salvation is of Yahweh

Translation Issues in This Psalm

1. The psalm divides into four sections that are nearly the same length (14 words / 14 words / 14 words / 15 words).
2. The second and third sections share similar beginnings; both begin with an independent personal pronoun (3a: “you;” 5a: “I”). “You” (=Yahweh) is the topic of the second section (3–4), and “I” (=David) is the topic of the third section (5–6).
3. The first section (1–2) and the two middle sections (3–6) are connected by the ideas of “many/multitudes … against me.” See: Poetry
4. Yahweh is pictured as a shield.
5. Safety is pictured as sleeping.
6. Yahweh’s salvation from enemies is pictured in violent graphic language.

7. Wicked people’s power is represented by their teeth.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

1. Selah: This psalm contains the first instances of the Hebrew word “Selah.” Refer to the introduction to Psalms for more information.

2. Superscriptions: This psalm is the first one which starts with a superscription. Refer to the introduction to Psalms for more information.

Psalms 3:1

ULT	UST
Yahweh, how many my oppressors have become! The risers against me are many.	Yahweh, I have so many enemies! Many people are deciding to oppose me.

ULT Yahweh, how many my oppressors have become
UST Yahweh, I have so many enemies
(יְהוָה מָה־רַבּוּ צָרָי)

The word how marks this as an emotional outburst that is emphasizing to Yahweh how very desperate the author's situation is. Use an exclamation that would communicate that meaning in your language. Alternate translation: [Oh Yahweh, I have so many enemies]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT The risers against me
UST people are deciding to oppose me
(קָמִים עָלָי)

Here, risers against me is an common expression that means "people who rebel against me" or "people who wish to fight me." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, use an expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Those getting in my face] or [Those who rebel against me]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my oppressors	enemies

Psalms 3:2

ULT	UST
{There are} many sayers about me, “There is no salvation for him in God.” Selah	Many people are saying about me, “God will not rescue him.” Selah

ULT There is no salvation for him in God
UST God will not rescue him
(אֵין יְשׁוּעָתָה לּוֹ בֵּאלֹהִים)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Surely God will not save him]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

This is the first instance of the Hebrew word Selah, the meaning of which is unknown. The ancient Greek translation uses a term that means “musical interlude.” Your translation team should decide if you will (1) spell this word to reflect its Hebrew form, “Selah,” or (2) omit “Selah” or (3) translate with a word meaning something like “musical interlude” or “pause” in your language.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
salvation	will & rescue
in God	God
Selah	Selah

Psalms 3:3

ULT	UST
But you, Yahweh, are a shield round about me, my glory, and the lifter up of my head.	But Yahweh, you are like a shield that protects me. You greatly honor me, and you encourage me.

ULT are a shield round about me
UST are like a shield that protects me
(מָגֵן בַּעֲדִי)

Here, shield represents protection. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are my protection]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT my glory
UST You greatly honor me
(כְּבוֹדִי)

Because Yahweh is the actor in all the other actions in this verse, calling Yahweh his glory probably means that Yahweh gives the psalmist glory or honor. Since the psalmist has just spoken about his enemies and about Yahweh being his protector, he probably means that Yahweh gives him glory by giving him victory over his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one who gives me glory] or [the one who gives me victory]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and the lifter up of my head
UST and you encourage me
(וּמֵרִים רֹאשִׁי)

Lifting the author's head could mean (1) giving him courage or (2) giving him victory over his enemies or (3) restoring him to being king of Israel (given the context of David fleeing from his son's usurping). If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the one who encourages me] or [and the one who lifts me over my enemies] or [and the one who lifts me to the throne]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
are a shield	are like a shield
my glory	You greatly honor me
and the lifter up of	and you encourage me

Psalms 3:4

ULT	UST
{With} my voice I call to Yahweh, and he answered me from the hill of his holiness. Selah	Whenever I cry loudly to Yahweh {for help}, he {comes} from {Zion,} his sacred hill, to help me. Selah

ULT I call & and he answered me
UST Whenever I cry loudly & for help}, he {comes & to help me
(אֶקְרָא וַיַּעֲנֵנִי)

The implication is that the psalmist is calling to Yahweh for help and that Yahweh's answer takes the form of giving help. You can include this information if it would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I call for help … and he helped me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I call	Whenever I cry loudly & for help
Yahweh	Yahweh
his holiness	his sacred
Selah	Selah

Psalms 3:5

ULT	UST
I laid myself down and slept. I awoke, for Yahweh protects me.	I {can} lie down and sleep, {knowing that} I {will} wake up because Yahweh guards me {all night}.

ULT I laid myself down and slept. I awoke, for Yahweh protects me
UST I {can} lie down and sleep, {knowing that} I {will} wake up because Yahweh guards me {all night
(אֲנִי֮ שָׁכַ֪בְתִּי וְאִישָׁ֫נָה הֱקִיצ֥וֹתִי כִּ֣י יְהוָ֣ה יִסְמְכֵֽנִי׃)

The phrase laid myself down and slept is not a one-time occurrence but a universal statement about his daily peace because of Yahweh. If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases since the second phrase, for Yahweh protects me, gives the reason for the result, I awoke as well as the reason for the author's confidence that he can lie down and sleep. Alternate translation: [Because Yahweh protects me, I lie down, sleep, and awake]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 3:6

ULT	UST
I will not fear the multitudes of people who stand against me round about.	There may be thousands {of enemy soldiers} who surround me, but I am not afraid.

> ULT I will not fear
> UST but I am not afraid
> (לֹא־אִירָא)

The psalmist does not fear because of Yahweh's protection, mentioned in verse 5. Be sure that connection is clear in your language.

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will & fear	afraid

Psalms 3:7

ULT	UST
Rise up, Yahweh! Save me, my God! For you hit all my enemies on the cheek; the teeth of the wicked you break.	Yahweh, get up! My God, rescue me! You can {insultingly} slap my enemies on their cheeks, and destroy those wicked people's {power like breaking animals'} teeth,

ULT Rise up
UST get up
(קוּמָה)

The psalmist is using rise up as a common expression of the culture to ask Yahweh to take action. He is not telling him to get out of bed or stand up from a seated position. If this expression does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Take action] or [Do something]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT my God
UST My God
(אֱלֹהַי)

The psalmist is not using the phrase my God to mean that he possesses or controls Yahweh, but rather to emphasize that Yahweh is the God he worships. See the introduction to Psalms for further discussion. Alternate translation: [oh God whom I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT you hit all my enemies on the cheek; the teeth of the wicked you break
UST You can {insultingly} slap my enemies on their cheeks, and destroy those wicked people's {power like breaking animals'} teeth
(הִכִּיתָ אֶת־כָּל־אֹיְבַי לֶחִי שִׁנֵּי רְשָׁעִים שִׁבַּרְתָּ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. Translate these phrases according to the decisions your team has made regarding translating parallelism in Hebrew poetry. See the Introduction to Psalms (../front/intro.md) for more information. The phrases my enemies and the wicked refer to the same group of people. Alternate translation: [you hit all my enemies on the jaw; you even break those wicked enemies' teeth] or [you destroy all my enemies]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT you hit all my enemies on the cheek
UST You can {insultingly} slap my enemies on their cheeks
(הִכִּיתָ אֶת־כָּל־אֹיְבַי לֶחִי)

Hitting an enemy on the cheek was a way of insulting people. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [you will insult all my enemies like someone hitting them on the jaw]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT the teeth of the wicked you break
UST and destroy those wicked people's {power like breaking animals'} teeth
(שִׁנֵּי רְשָׁעִים שִׁבַּרְתָּ)

Animals attack with their teeth. Breaking their teeth takes away their power to attack. David speaks as if Yahweh would come and physically fight against the wicked. Your language may have a comparable expression that you could use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you make the wicked unable to harm me like someone breaking the teeth of a ferocious animal]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the wicked
UST those wicked people's
(רְשָׁעִים)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
Save me	rescue me
my God	My God
my enemies	my enemies
the wicked	those wicked people's

Psalms 3:8

ULT	UST
Salvation {is} of Yahweh. Your blessing {is} on your people. Selah	Yahweh rescues! Bless your people! Selah

ULT Salvation {is} of Yahweh
UST Yahweh rescues
(לַֽיהוָ֣ה הַיְשׁוּעָ֑ה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. The meaning of this phrase is that Yahweh is characterized by saving his people. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is the savior] or [Yahweh saves his people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Your blessing {is} on your people
UST Bless your people
(עַל־עַמְּךָ֖ בִרְכָתֶֽךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of blessing, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Please bless your people] or [You always bless your people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Salvation	rescues
is} of Yahweh	Yahweh
Your blessing	Bless
Selah	Selah

Psalms 3:front

ULT of David
UST David
(לְדָוִֽד)

This could mean: (1) David wrote the psalm or (2) the psalm is about David or (3) the psalm is in the style of David’s psalms.

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	wrote this psalm
of David	David
Absalom	Absalom

Psalms 4

Psalms 4 Introduction

Psalm 4 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Distress (1)
2. Rebuke (2–6)
3. Blessing (7–8)

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: to intercede for the people and call them to repentance
2. Content: People, trust in Yahweh alone! He has relieved our suffering in the past, and he will help us again when I call to him. Yahweh, shine on us!
3. Message: Yahweh alone gives peace and security in times of distress.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

1. Features between verses 1, 6, and 8. See the note in verse 6.
2. Hebrew roots from verse 5 repeat in verses 7–9. See the note in verse 5.
3. There seems to be a morning and night pattern. The word translated call in verses 1 and 3 sound like the Hebrew word for morning, and then bed is mentioned in verse 4. Yahweh lifting up the light of his face is like the dawn in verse 6 and in verse 8 the psalmist lies down to sleep.
4. The last verse of the psalm seems to wind down peacefully, even repeating “s” sounds. See the note in verse 8.

See: Poetry

CCBYSA

Significant portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from “Psalms, Layer by Layer” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), “Psalm 4” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_4) by Cambridge Digital Bible

Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

Psalms 4:1

ULT	UST
Answer me when I call, God of my righteousness; in distress you relieve me. Be gracious {to} me and hear my prayer.	Righteous God, respond to me when I pray to you. You who have {always} rescued me when I was distressed, act mercifully toward me and pay attention to what I pray.

ULT God of my righteousness
UST Righteous God
(אֱלֹהֵי צִדְקִי)

Here God of my righteousness could mean: (1) my righteous God or (2) God who vindicates me. Both options are grammatically possible, and both fit the context well. The following relative clause (verse 1b), which highlights God's past faithfulness, may suggest that it is God's righteousness that is in view (hence the UST rendering). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers.

Support Reference: Possession

ULT God of my righteousness
UST Righteous God
(אֱלֹהֵי צִדְקִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [my God, the righteous one]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in distress
UST when I was distressed
(בַּצַּר)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of distress, you could express the same idea in another way. The original word is related to narrowness. Alternate translation: [in trouble] or [when I am oppressed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
when I call	when I pray to you
God of	God
my righteousness	Righteous
in distress	when I was distressed
Be gracious {to} me	act mercifully toward me
my prayer	to what I pray

Psalms 4:2

ULT	UST
Son of man, until when {will} my glory become shame? {Until when} will you love futility, {until when} will you seek falsehood? Selah	How long will you mortal people dishonor me instead of honoring me? How long will you love what is useless, and chase lies? Selah

ULT Son of man
UST you mortal people
(בְּנֵי אִישׁ)

Son of man could refer to: (1) the mortality and finitude of his enemies (as opposed to God's eternal infinitude), (2) important or wealthy men, or (3) the fact that the psalmist is now addressing people rather than God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You men]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT until when {will} my glory become shame? {Until when} will you love futility, {until when} will you seek falsehood
UST How long will & dishonor me instead of honoring me? How long will you love what is useless, and chase lies (עַד־מָה כְּבוֹדִי לְכְלִמָּה תֶּאֱהַבוּן רִיק תְּבַקְשׁוּ כָזָב)

The psalmist is using the question form to rebuke his enemies. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate these three questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [stop calling glory shame! Stop loving futility! Stop seeking falsehood!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT my glory become shame
UST dishonor me instead of honoring me
(כְּבוֹדִי לְכְלִמָּה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of glory and shame, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [you consider my glorious deeds as shameful deeds]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT Until when} will you love futility, {until when} will you seek falsehood
> UST How long will you love what is useless, and chase lies > (תֶּאֱהֲבוּן רֵ֭יק תְּבַקְשׁוּ כָזָ֑ב)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of futility and falsehood, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [How long will you love vain things? How long will you pursue untrue things?]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Son of man	you mortal people
my glory	instead of honoring me
become shame	dishonor me
Until when} will you love	How long will you love
until when} will you seek	and chase
Selah	Selah

Psalms 4:3

ULT	UST
But know that Yahweh has set apart the faithful for himself. Yahweh hears when I call to him.	You all should know that Yahweh treats people who are faithful to him as special to him. Yahweh will pay attention when I pray to him.

ULT the faithful
UST people who are faithful to him
(חָסִיד)

David is using the adjective godly as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [godly people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But know	You all should know
Yahweh	Yahweh
the faithful	people who are faithful to him
when I call	when I pray

Psalms 4:4

ULT	UST
Tremble and do not sin! Meditate in your heart on your bed and be silent. Selah	You should be afraid of Yahweh, and {because of that} stop sinning! While you lie on your bed, examine what you are thinking and stop accusing {me}. Selah

ULT Tremble and do not sin
UST You should be afraid of Yahweh, and {because of that} stop sinning
(רִגְזוּ וְאַל־תֶּחֱטָאוּ)

The implication could be: (1) that the hearers should tremble in fear of Yahweh's punishment for the unfaithful or (2) that if the hearers are angry, they should control themselves and not sin. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Tremble in fear and do not sin] or [Even if you tremble in anger, do not sin]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Meditate in your heart
UST examine what you are thinking
(אִמְרוּ בִלְבַבְכֶם)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and motives exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Consider your thoughts and motives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Meditate in your heart on your bed
UST While you lie on your bed, examine what you are thinking
(אִמְרוּ בִלְבַבְכֶם עַל־מִשְׁכַּבְכֶם)

The Hebrew root words for speak, heart, and bed in this verse appear in verses 6 (as "say"), 7, and 8 (as "lie down") respectively (in the same order). Consider if a similar pattern would create a natural poetic effect in your language.

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT Meditate in your heart
UST examine what you are thinking
(אִמְרוּ בִלְבַבְכֶם)

Alternate translation: [Think to yourselves]

> ULT and be silent
> UST and stop accusing {me
> (וְדֹמּוּ)

Here, be silent means that the listeners should show self-control and not act on sinful impulses. You could include this information in your translation if it would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and do not act on evil thoughts]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Tremble	You should be afraid of Yahweh
do & sin	sinning
Meditate	examine what you are thinking
Selah	Selah

Psalms 4:5

ULT	UST
Sacrifice sacrifices of righteousness and trust in Yahweh.	Instead, offer to Yahweh the proper sacrifices and continually trust him.

ULT sacrifices of righteousness
UST the proper sacrifices
(זִבְחֵי־צֶֽדֶק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [sacrifices that are righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT righteousness and trust
UST the proper & and continually trust
(צֶֽדֶק וּבִטְחוּ)

The words righteousness and trust form the poetic center of this psalm. Righteousness is mentioned in verse 1 and trust is the same word translated as “securely” in verse 8. You may wish to explore whether you can reflect this symmetry in a natural way in your language.

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sacrifices of	sacrifices
righteousness	the proper
and trust	and continually trust
Yahweh	Yahweh & him

Psalms 4:6

ULT	UST
Many say, “Who will show us good?” Lift up the light of your face on us, Yahweh!	Many people are wishing for something good to happen. Yahweh, please do good things for us!

ULT Who will show us good
UST for something good to happen
(מִי־יַרְאֵנוּ טוֹב)

The people asking this are using the question form to make a complaint and an implied request. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as an exclamation or plain request. Alternate translation: [No one is showing us good!] or [Please, someone show us good!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Who will show us good
UST for something good to happen
(מִי־יַרְאֵנוּ טוֹב)

Here, good is spoken of as if it were something that someone could show to someone else. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Who will do good things for us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Lift up the light of your face on us
UST please do good things for us
(נְסָה־עָלֵינוּ אוֹר פָּנֶיךָ)

The writer speaks of Yahweh acting favorably towards them as if Yahweh’s face shone a light on them. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Act favorably towards us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Lift up the light of your face on us, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, please do good things for us
(נְסָה־עָלֵינוּ אוֹר פָּנֶיךָ יְהוָה)

This is a reference to the high priest’s blessing in Numbers 6:25.

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	for something good to happen
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 4:7

ULT	UST
You have put joy in my heart more than the time {when} their grain and their new wine abound.	You have made me very joyful, even more than {these complainers are} when they have plenty of food and drink.

ULT You have put joy in my heart
UST You have made me very joyful
(נָתַתָּה שִׂמְחָה בְלִבִּי)

Here the phrase put joy in my heart represents that the author's emotional state is joyful. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You have made me happy]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT You have put joy in my heart
UST You have made me very joyful
(נָתַתָּה שִׂמְחָה בְלִבִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [You have made me glad]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT their grain and their new wine abound
UST they have plenty of food and drink
(דְּגָנָם וְתִירוֹשָׁם רָבּוּ)

Here, grain and new wine represent basic food necessities. An abundance of them represents material prosperity. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they have a lot of bread and fresh milk] or [they are quite rich]

Support Reference: Metonymy

In Hebrew, this verse uses progressively shorter lines and repeated sounds to create a sense of peaceful rest. Consider if there is a way in your language to create the same sensation.

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
joy	very joyful
their grain	food
and their new wine	and drink

Psalms 4:8

ULT	UST
In peace I will both lie down and sleep, for you alone, Yahweh, cause me to dwell securely.	I can lie down at night and sleep without worrying because {I know that} it is only you, Yahweh, who keeps me safe.

ULT In peace I will both lie down and sleep, for you alone, Yahweh, cause me to dwell securely
UST I can lie down at night and sleep without worrying because {I know that} it is only you, Yahweh, who keeps me safe
(בְּשָׁלוֹם יַחְדָּו֮ אֶשְׁכְּבָה֒ וְאִישָׁ֗ן כִּי־אַתָּ֤ה יְהוָ֨ה לְבָדָ֥ד לָבֶ֗טַח תּוֹשִׁיבָֽנִי׃)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Since you alone, Yahweh, cause me to dwell securely, therefore in peace I will both lie down and sleep.]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT In peace
UST without worrying
(בְּשָׁלוֹם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Peacefully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
In peace	without worrying
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 4:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	wrote this psalm
of David	David

Psalms 5

Psalms 5 Introduction

Psalm 5 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Appeal (1–2)
2. Precedent (3–7)
3. Petition (8–11)
4. Resolution (12)

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: to petition the divine King and Judge for justice from enemies
2. Content: Yahweh, act justly! Banish the evildoers! Shelter the righteous!
3. Message: Yahweh is a just ruler, and he blesses the just.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

1. The first word of the content portion of the psalm starts with the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet and the final word starts with the last letter of the Hebrew alphabet. This symbolizes completeness; the author’s appeal to Yahweh is complete.
2. There is a parallel structure between verses 3–7 and verses 8–11:

A. Verses 3 and 8 start with an address to Yahweh, who is also the subject.

B. Verses 4 and 9 start with “For” followed by a word of negation. They use a verbless clause in Hebrew, and the wicked are the topic.

C. Verses 7 and 11 contrast with what is immediately before, and they speak of being with Yahweh.

D. There is also progression between each earlier verse and its related later verse either in specificity or time.

See: Poetry

CCBYSA

Significant portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from “Psalms, Layer by Layer” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), “Psalm 5” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_5) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

Psalms 5:1

ULT	UST
{To} my words give ear, Yahweh! Understand my murmuring!	Yahweh, listen to what I say! Comprehend my distressed sigh.

ULT To} my words
UST to what I say
(אֲמָרַי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of spoken words, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [To what I say]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT give ear
UST listen
(הַאֲזִינָה)

Here, give ear is an idiom that means “listen.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [pay attention]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
Understand	Comprehend

Psalms 5:1,3,8,12

> ULT Yahweh & Yahweh & Yahweh & Yahweh
> UST Yahweh & Yahweh & Yahweh & Yahweh
> (יְהוָֹה & יְהוָֹה & יְהוָֹה & יְהוָֹה)

The direct address to Yahweh in each of these verses marks the start of a new section of the psalm. If your language marks section beginnings in poetry in a certain way, you could use it at the beginning of these verses.

Support Reference: Poetry

Psalms 5:2

ULT	UST
Listen attentively to the sound of my cry for help, my king and my God, for to you I pray!	{Since} you are my king and my God, hear and respond when I plead aloud for rescuing, because I am praying to you {only}.

ULT my king and my God
UST Since} you are my king and my God
(מַלְכִּ֣י וֵאלֹהָ֑י)

The psalmist is not referring to two people; both of these terms refer to Yahweh. He is also not using the phrase my king or my God to mean that he possesses or controls Yahweh, but rather to emphasize that Yahweh is the God he worships. See the introduction to Psalms for further discussion. Alternate translation: [you are the king and God whom I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my cry for help	when I plead & for rescuing
my king	Since} you are my king
and my God	and my God
I pray	I am praying

Psalms 5:2-3

> ULT to the sound of & my voice
> UST aloud & me pleading
> (לְקֹול & קוֹלִי)

The words translated as sound and voice are the same in the original. If your language has a word that could be the same in both places, you could consider using it to follow the poetic parallel of the original.

Support Reference: Poetry

Psalms 5:3

ULT	UST
Yahweh, in the morning you hear my voice. In the morning I prepare for you and watch.	Yahweh, you will hear me pleading each morning. Every morning I will request that you save me, and I will wait for you to do it.

ULT I prepare for you and watch
UST I will request that you save me, and I will wait for you to do it
(אֶֽעֱרֹךְ־לְךָ֥ וַאֲצַפֶּֽה)

This could mean: (1) the psalmist prepares his argument or legal case for Yahweh. Alternate translation: [I prepare my case for you and watch for your judgment] (2) the psalmist prepares to be rescued by Yahweh. Alternate translation: [I prepare to be rescued by you and wait for you] You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and watch	and I will wait for you to do it

Psalms 5:4

ULT	UST
For you are not a god pleased with wickedness; evil ones will not sojourn with you.	You are a God who certainly does not approve of wicked people; evil-doers never stay as your guests.

ULT wickedness
UST wicked people
(רֶשַׁע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wickedness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [wicked deeds]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a god	a God
wickedness	wicked people
evil ones	evil-doers
will & sojourn with you	stay as your guests

Psalms 5:5

ULT	UST
The arrogant will not stand in front of your eyes; you hate all doers of iniquity.	Boasters are not allowed to come worship you. You hate everyone who does evil things.

ULT The arrogant will not stand in front of your eyes
UST Boasters are not allowed to come worship you (לֹא־יִתְיַצְּבוּ הוֹלְלִים לְנֶגֶד עֵינֶיךָ)

The psalmist is using stand in front of your eyes as a common expression of his culture to mean “come near you,” which implies worshiping Yahweh. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The arrogant will not be allowed to draw near to you] or [The arrogant will not be allowed to offer pleasing worship to you]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT doers of iniquity
UST who does evil things
(פֹּעֲלֵי אָוֶן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [who trouble others]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The arrogant	Boasters
iniquity	evil things

Psalms 5:6

ULT	UST
You will destroy speakers of falsehood; the man of blood and deceit Yahweh abhors.	You kill liars. Yahweh despises murderers and people who deceive others.

ULT the man of blood and deceit Yahweh abhors
UST Yahweh despises murderers and people who deceive others
(אִישׁ־דָּמִים וּמִרְמָה יְתָעֵב | יְהוָה)

The psalmist now speaks about Yahweh in the third person. If changing between second and third person like this would not be natural in your language, you could continue the second person form. Alternate translation: [the man of blood and deceit you, Yahweh, abhor]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You will destroy	You kill speakers of falsehood	liars
and deceit	and people who deceive others
Yahweh	Yahweh
abhors	despises

Psalms 5:7

ULT	UST
But I, in the greatness of your covenant faithfulness, I will come into your house; I will bow down toward your temple of holiness in fear.	As for me, I will come {worship you} where you live, because you faithfully love us so abundantly. I will reverently kneel to worship you at your sacred temple.

ULT But I
UST As for me
(וַאֲנִי)

Here the psalmist mentions himself explicitly to make a contrast between himself and the wicked people he's been talking about. Draw attention to this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I, on the other hand] or [In contrast, I]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT in the greatness of your covenant faithfulness
UST because you faithfully love us so abundantly
(בְּרֹ֣ב חַסְדֶּ֑ךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea behind the word covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because you always keep your covenant promises]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your temple of holiness
UST your sacred temple
(הֵיכַל־קָדְשְׁךָ֥)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of holiness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [your holy temple]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT I will bow down toward your temple of holiness in fear
UST I will reverently kneel to worship you at your sacred temple
(אֶשְׁתַּחֲוֶ֣ה אֶל־הֵיכַל־קָדְשְׁךָ֣ בְּיִרְאָתֶֽךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fear, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I will reverently bow down toward your temple of holiness]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	faithfully love us
your house	worship you} where you live
I will bow down	I will & kneel to worship you your temple of	your sacred temple
holiness	your sacred temple
in fear	reverently

Psalms 5:8

ULT	UST
Yahweh, guide me in your righteousness because of my watchers; straighten before my face your path.	Yahweh, my enemies are watching me {to try to catch me doing something wrong}. Please show me how to do what is right, just as you always do what is right. Make it easy for me to live obediently to you.

ULT guide me in your righteousness
UST Please show me how to do what is right, just as you always do what is right
(נְחֵנִי בְצִדְקָתֶךָ)

The psalmist speaks of righteousness as if it were a path, and of teaching as guiding. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [teach me to do what is righteous as you are righteous] or [teach me to do what is righteous as you do what is righteous]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my watchers
UST my enemies are watching me {to try to catch me doing something wrong (שׁוֹרְרָי)

Alternate translation: [those who watch for a chance to attack me]

ULT straighten before my face your path
UST Make it easy for me to live obediently to you (הושר לְפָנַי דַּרְכֶּךָ)

The psalmist speaks of following Yahweh's commands as if doing so were a path. He asks Yahweh to put a straightened path before him, because a straight path is easy to see or walk on. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [show me clearly how to live in the right way] or [make it easy for me to do what is right]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
in your righteousness	to do what is right, just as you always do what is right

Psalms 5:9

ULT	UST
For there is no firmness in his mouth; their inward being is destruction. An open tomb is their throat; their tongue they make smooth.	Please do this because my enemies are untrustworthy; one of their strongest desires is to destroy people. They speak things that are vile like the smell of an open grave. They flatter people {to trap and destroy them}.

> ULT there is no firmness in his mouth
> UST my enemies are untrustworthy
> (אֵין בְּפִיהוּ נְכוֹנָה)

Here, firmness means trustworthiness or dependability. If your language does not use an abstract noun for this idea, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you cannot trust what they say] or [you cannot rely on them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT in his mouth & is their throat; their tongue
> UST my enemies are untrustworthy & They speak things & They flatter people {to trap and destroy them
> (בְּפִיהוּ & גְּרוֹנָם לְשׁוֹנָם)

The words translated his mouth, their throat, and their tongue represent people's speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in their speech … are their words … their talk] or [what they say … is everything they say … everything they say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT their inward being is destruction
> UST one of their strongest desires is to destroy people
> (קִרְבָּם הַוּוֹת)

The inward being represents people's thoughts and desires. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [their thoughts and desires are for destruction]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT An open tomb is their throat
> UST They speak things that are vile like the smell of an open grave
> (קֶ֤בֶר־פָּתוּ֨חַ גְּרוֹנָ֗ם)

Their throat is spoken of as if it were an open tomb. This could mean: (1) what they say is bad, like the smell of dead bodies. Alternate translation: [Their words are as bad as the smell from a tomb] or (2) it is ready for dead bodies to be put into it. Alternate translation: [They say that they will kill people] or [What they say kills people] If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly.

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT their tongue they make smooth
> UST They flatter people {to trap and destroy them
> (לְשׁוֹנָ֖ם יַחֲלִיקֽוּן)

Here the psalmist is comparing what the enemies say to something smooth, which means they flatter people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they lie to people to get what they want] or [they say nice things about people without really meaning it]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is destruction	is to destroy people
tomb	that are vile like the smell of an open grave
their tongue	They flatter people {to trap and destroy them

Psalms 5:10

ULT	UST
Make them guilty, God; may they fall due to their schemes! Because of their many transgressions, drive them out, for they rebel against you!	O God, declare that they are guilty and punish them. Cause to happen to them the harmful events that they plan to cause to happen to others. Get rid of them because they have sinned often, and rebelled against you.

ULT due to their schemes! Because of their many transgressions
UST Cause to happen to them the harmful events that they plan to cause to happen to others & because they have sinned often (מִמֹּעֲצוֹתֵיהֶם בְּרֹב פִּשְׁעֵימֵוֹ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of schemes and transgressions, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [due to their scheming! Because they transgress many times]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT may they fall
UST Cause to happen to them the harmful events that they plan to cause to happen to others
(יִפְּלוּ)

Here, fall represents the moral, spiritual, or social decline of the author's enemies as the inevitable and divinely caused consequences of opposing God's will. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [may they suffer]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Make them guilty	declare that they are guilty and punish them
God	O God
their & transgressions	they have sinned
they rebel	rebelled

Psalms 5:11

ULT	UST
But may all refuge seekers in you rejoice; may they shout joyfully to eternity, and may you cover over them, and may lovers of your name exult in you.	But enable all the people who ask you to protect them to be glad; enable them to sing gladly always. Please protect them. Enable everyone who loves it when you are famous to praise you.

ULT refuge seekers
UST who ask & to protect them
(חֹוסֵי)

Here the psalmist speaks of people who trust in Yahweh to save and protect them as if they were seekers and Yahweh were a refuge. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who seek protection]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to eternity
UST always
(לְעוֹלָם)

Alternate translation: [forever]

ULT and may you cover over them
UST Please protect them
(וְתָסֵךְ עֲלֵימוֹ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of protection as if it were to cover over someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and may you defend them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT lovers of your name
UST everyone who loves it when you are famous (אֹהֲבֵי שְׁמֶךָ)

Here Yahweh's name represents his reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [lovers of your good reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
refuge seekers	who ask & to protect them
But may & rejoice	But enable & to be glad to eternity	always lovers of	everyone who loves it and may & exult	Enable & to praise

Psalms 5:12

ULT	UST
For you, Yahweh, you bless the righteous, you surround him {with} favor as a shield.	{I ask this} because Yahweh, you always bless those who act righteously; you protect them as if your good acts are like a shield around them.

ULT the righteous
UST those who act righteously
(צַדִּיק)

See how you translated the phrase the righteous in 1:5.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT you surround him {with} favor as a shield
UST you protect them as if your good acts are like a shield around them
(כַּצִּנָּה רָצוֹן תַּעְטְרֶנּוּ)

Yahweh's favor is spoken of as if it were a shield. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you favor them and protect them as a soldier protects himself with his shield] or [because you are kind to them, you will protect them]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT you surround him
UST you protect them as if your good acts are like a shield around them
(תַּעְטְרֶנּוּ)

Alternate translation: [you crown him]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
you bless	always bless
the righteous	those who act righteously
with} favor	you protect them as if your good acts are like a shield around them as a shield	you protect them as if your good acts are like a shield around them

Psalms 5:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
on the flutes	to be accompanied by people playing flutes
a psalm	psalm
of David	David wrote this

Psalms 6

Psalms 6 Introduction

Psalm 6 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Plea (1–5)
2. Death (6–7)
3. Answer (8–10)

The psalm divides neatly in half between verses 5 and 6 with 34 words in each. The first half divides into two parts, verses 1–2 and verses 4–5, which parallel each other in structure and content.

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: to plead for mercy and healing
2. Content: Yahweh have mercy and heal me, because I am near death, and no one can praise you in death.
3. Message: Yahweh’s loyalty to David is stronger than sin and death (30:6)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

1. The first section (1–3) and the last section (8–10) are parallel. Not only are they the same length (3 verses, 6 lines), but they are also similar in content and sounds. Structurally, the first section and the last section stand in a symmetrical relationship to one another. The parallels help to define the structure of the psalm.
2. The effect of the repetition in the last section is to highlight the complete resolution and reversal of the situation. David’s prayer has been heard, his question of “How long?” has been answered (“in an instant!”), and the deep dismay that he experienced is now imparted to his enemies on whom Yahweh’s punishment rightfully falls.
3. The second section (6–7) stands out in a number of ways, including figurative language, line structure, use of rare words, alliteration, delay of information, word repetition, and use of similar-sounding words. The effect is to draw attention to this section of the poem, wherein David, on the brink of death, reaches to the heights of poetic/rhetorical technique in order to express the depths of his suffering in a last-ditch effort to persuade Yahweh to rescue him.

4. Yahweh's name appears eight times throughout the psalm, but it is conspicuously absent from the second section (6–7), which follows the Psalmist's statement that "in death, there is no remembrance of you" (5a).

5. In verses 6–7, it is as though David has descended into the world of the dead, the place where Yahweh is neither named nor praised. It is a place of darkness (night) and associated with watery chaos (tears/swim/melt). In the last section (8–10), David regains energy, confidence, and authority, and he proclaims Yahweh's name three times, as though he has come back from the dead.

6. Almost every verse in this psalm displays parallelism. Verse 2 and the first line of verse 3 are a three-part parallel while the last line of verse 3 and the first line of verse 4 seem to be the only lines not in a parallelism construction. While all these phrases mean basically the same thing with the second emphasizing the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words, Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. (See: Parallelism)

See: Poetry

CCBYSA

Significant portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from "Psalms, Layer by Layer" (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), "Psalm 6" (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_6) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

Psalms 6:1

ULT	UST
Yahweh, rebuke me not in your nose, and in your rage discipline me not.	Yahweh, do not correct me angrily, do not punish me wrathfully.

ULT rebuke me not in your nose, and in your rage discipline me not
UST do not correct me angrily, do not punish me wrathfully
(אַל־בְּאַפְּךָ תוֹכִיחֵנִי וְאַל־בַּחֲמָתְךָ תְיַסְּרֵנִי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. See the Introduction to this chapter for additional information on parallelism. Alternate translation: [do not rebuke or discipline me when you are angry]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT in your nose
UST angrily
(בְּאַפְּךָ)

Here the nose represents anger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in your anger]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in your rage
UST wrathfully
(בַּחֲמָתְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rage, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [furiously]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
rebuke me	do & correct me
in your rage	wrathfully

Psalms 6:2

ULT	UST
Be gracious {to} me, Yahweh, for I am frail! Heal me, Yahweh, for my bones are shaking!	Yahweh, act kindly toward me because I have become weak. Yahweh, heal me because my body shakes fearfully.

ULT my bones are shaking
UST my body shakes fearfully
(נִבְהֲלוּ עֲצָמָי)

The bones represent the whole body. His body may have been shaking because he was sick or extremely tired. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my whole body is shaking]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be gracious {to} me	act kindly toward me
Yahweh	Yahweh
are shaking	shakes fearfully

Psalms 6:3

ULT	UST
And my soul is very disturbed. And you, Yahweh, until when?	Yahweh, I am greatly troubled in my inner being. How long must I endure this?

ULT disturbed
UST troubled
(נִבְהֲלָה)

Alternate translation: [terrified] or [shaken]

ULT And you, Yahweh, until when UST Yahweh & How long must I endure this (ואת יְהוָה עַד־מָתָי)

The psalmist is using the question form to request an end to his suffering. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Please, do not let this continue!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And my soul	in my inner being disturbed	troubled
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 6:3-4

> ULT And my soul is very disturbed & my soul
> UST I am greatly troubled in my inner being & me > (וְנַפְשִׁי נִבְהֲלָה מְאֹד & נַפְשִׁי)

The psalmist is using My soul to represent his entire person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And I am very disturbed … me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

Psalms 6:4

ULT	UST
Turn back, Yahweh! Rescue my soul! Save me for the sake of your covenant faithfulness!	Yahweh, relent from your anger and deliver me! Help me because you always do what you promise!

ULT Turn back
UST relent from your anger
(שׁוּבָה)

Here, Turn back refers to a change from one activity to another, in this case from anger to mercy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Have mercy on me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Save me for the sake of your covenant faithfulness
UST Help me because you always do what you promise
(הוֹשִׁיעֵנִי לְמַעַן חַסְדֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Save me because you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
Rescue	and deliver
my soul	me
Save me	Help me
your covenant faithfulness	you always do what you promise

Psalms 6:5

ULT	UST
For in death, there is no remembrance of you. In Sheol, who will thank you?	{Do this} because {I and} no one {else} who is dead can honor you. {I and} no one {else} can praise you {if we are} in the place where the dead are.

ULT in death
UST who is dead
(בַּמָּוֶת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of death, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when someone has died]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT remembrance of you
UST I and & one {else & can honor you (זִכְרֶךָ)

Here, remembrance represents praise or honor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [praise of you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT For in death, there is no remembrance of you
UST Do this} because {I and} no one {else} who is dead can honor you (כִּי אֵין בַּמָּוֶת זִכְרֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of remembrance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [For in death people cannot remember you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT In Sheol, who will thank you
UST I and} no one {else} can praise you {if we are} in the place where the dead are (בִּשְׁאוֹל מִי יוֹדֶה־לָּךְ)

David uses this question to emphasize that no one in Sheol thanks God. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for this purpose, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [No one in Sheol will give you thanks!] or [The dead cannot praise you!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
In Sheol	if we are} in the place where the dead are

Psalms 6:6

ULT	UST
I am weary with my groaning. During every night, I cause my bed to swim, With my tears, my couch I melt.	I am exhausted because of my pain. I cry all night long, so that my tears soak and seem as if they will wash away my bed and my cushions.

ULT I am weary with my groaning
UST I am exhausted because of my pain
(יָגַעְתִּי | בְּאַנְחָתִי)

The author's groaning represents the pain or distress that he feels. If your language does not use an abstract noun for that idea, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I am very tired because I hurt]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT my bed & my couch
UST my & my bed and & cushions
(מִטָּתִי & עַרְשִׂי)

These are different words for the same thing. Alternate translation: [my sleeping place … my sleeping place]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT During every night, I cause my bed to swim, With my tears, my couch I melt
UST I cry all night long, so that my tears soak and seem as if they will wash away my bed and my cushions
(אַשְׂחֶה בְכָל־לָיְלָה מִטָּתִי בְּדִמְעָתִי עַרְשִׂי אַמְסֶה)

The psalmist says his tears cause his bed to swim and his couch to melt as extreme statements for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [Every night my bed gets very wet from my many tears that make my whole couch very wet]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

Psalms 6:7

ULT	UST
My eye has wasted away from grief, it advances because of all my adversaries.	I am very sad and {I cry so much that} I cannot see well. My vision has become weak from {crying because of} all my enemies.

In this verse, the implied cause of the eye (vision) problems the psalmist is having is his excessive crying. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT My eye has wasted away
UST I am very sad and {I cry so much that} I cannot see well
(עָשְׁשָׁה & עֵינִי)

Here, eye represents the ability to see. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My vision has wasted away] or [I cannot see clearly]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT My eye has wasted away
UST I am very sad and {I cry so much that} I cannot see well
(עָשְׁשָׁה & עֵינִי)

Here the eye having wasted away means to lose the ability to see. Your language may have a comparable expression that you could use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I have lost the ability to see well]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from grief
UST I am very sad and {I cry so much that} I cannot see well
(מִכַּעַס)

Here, grief represents crying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from crying] or [because I cry so much]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT it advances
> UST My vision has become weak from {crying
> (עָתְקָה)

Here the eye is said to advance which figuratively means to grow old or weak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it weakens] or [my sight weakens]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
has wasted away	I am very sad and {I cry so much that} I cannot see well
my adversaries	my enemies

Psalms 6:9

ULT	UST
Yahweh has heard my appeal for mercy, Yahweh accepts my prayer.	he heard me when I called out for him to help me, and he will answer my prayer.

ULT my appeal for mercy
UST when I called out for him to help me
(תְּחִנָּתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [my appeal for him to be merciful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Yahweh accepts my prayer
UST and he will answer my prayer
(יְהוָה תְּפִלָּתִי יִקָּח)

Being willing to do what the psalmist prayed for is spoken of as if his prayer was something that Yahweh accepts from him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will respond to my prayer]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	he
my appeal for mercy	when I called out for him to help me
my prayer	my prayer

Psalms 6:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT on Sheminith
> UST Perform it in a low range
> (עַל־הַשְּׁמִינִית)

The exact meaning of the word translated as Sheminith is uncertain. It is related to the word for “eight.” It may refer to (1) the pitch of the music. Alternate translation: [perform an octave lower] or (2) a type of instrument. Alternate translation: [perform with an eight-stringed lyre] or (3) the tune of the song. Alternate translation: [perform to the tune “Sheminith”]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	this psalm
of David	David wrote

Psalms 6:8-9

> ULT Yahweh & Yahweh & Yahweh
> UST Yahweh & he & and he > (יְהוָֹה & יְהוָה & יְהוָֹה)

Yahweh is mentioned three times in these verses to focus the audience on who has changed the author's circumstances. However, if repeating a name like this in your culture would not create a similar focus effect you could substitute some with pronouns as in the UST.

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Psalms 7

Psalms 7 Introduction

Psalm 7 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Injustice Rejected (1–5)
2. Justice Requested (6–9)
3. Justice Expected (10–16)
4. Justice Praised (17)

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: to invoke justice from Yahweh towards both the righteous (specifically himself) and the wicked (false accusers)
2. Content: God is a righteous judge. He saves the upright, and he brings an end to the wicked’s violence.
3. Message: King Yahweh will see to it that the wicked receive their punishment and that the righteous are vindicated.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Heights and depths provide the structure of the Psalm.

1. The Psalmist is brought down (1–5)
2. Yahweh goes up to the highest place (6–9)
3. The enemies are brought down (10–16)
4. Praise to the Most High God (17)

Other translation issues

1. There are a number of explicit and implicit references to Yahweh as both warrior and judge, which are both important functions of a king, especially King Yahweh—a metaphor that runs throughout the Psalms.
2. The subject in verses 12–16 is ambiguous; only the pronoun “he” is used (but it must be the wicked in verses 14–16). The psalmist might have chosen to leave the participants grammatically ambiguous in this entire section to create tension in what is a prominent section of the psalm (which is it, Yahweh or the wicked?!), as well as to teach an important lesson in line with the meaning of this psalm: to be wicked is to bring death upon oneself, but Yahweh is the one who ensures the destruction. In the UST and notes, the most likely persons are identified.

Cush the Benjamite

Note the superscription and the specific circumstances. There is no other reference to this incident in the Scriptures. But there are references to David being opposed by those of the tribe of Benjamin during the time he was serving King Saul.

See: Poetry

CCBYSA

Portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from “Psalms, Layer by Layer” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), “Psalm 7” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_7) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

Psalms 7:1

ULT	UST
Yahweh my God, in you I have taken refuge; save me from all my pursuers, and rescue me!	Yahweh my God, I have come to you so that you can protect me. Save me from everyone who is chasing me {in order to harm me}. Rescue me!

ULT my God
UST my God
(אֱלֹהַי)

The psalmist is not using the phrase my God to mean that he possesses or controls Yahweh, but rather to emphasize that Yahweh is the God the one he worships. See the introduction to Psalms for further discussion. Alternate translation: [the God whom I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT in you I have taken refuge
UST I have come to you so that you can protect me
(בְּךָ חָסִיתִי)

Here the psalmist is speaking of going to Yahweh for protection as taking refuge in him, as if Yahweh were something strong or safe he could hide inside of. Alternate translation: [I always go to you for protection]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	my God
I have taken refuge	I have come & so that you can protect me
save me	Save me
and rescue me	Rescue me

Psalms 7:2

ULT	UST
Lest he rip my life apart like a lion, tearing apart, and there is no one to rescue.	If you do not do that, they will maul me like a lion {does when it attacks the animals it wants to kill}; they shred me and there is not a rescuer.

ULT he rip my life apart like a lion
UST they will maul me like a lion {does when it attacks the animals it wants to kill & me
(יִטְרֹ֣ף כְּאַרְיֵ֣ה נַפְשִׁ֑י)

The psalmist is saying that, just like a lion would, his enemy would both rip his body apart and tear it in pieces. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [they violently kill me like a lion ripping apart its victim's body] or [they violently put an end to my life]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
like a lion	like a lion {does when it attacks the animals it wants to kill
to rescue	a rescuer

Psalms 7:3

ULT	UST
Yahweh my God, if I have done this, if there is wrong on my hands,	My God Yahweh, suppose that I have done these things, that I am really guilty.

ULT my God
UST My God
(אֱלֹהָי)

The psalmist is not using the phrase my God to mean that he possesses or controls Yahweh, but rather to emphasize that Yahweh is the God he worships. See the introduction to Psalms for further discussion. Alternate translation: [the God whom I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT if there is wrong on my hands
UST that I am really guilty
(אִם־יֶשׁ־עָוֶל בְּכַפָּי)

Here the psalmist is speaking of wrong as if it were something that could be held in someone's hands. Your language may have a comparable expression that you could use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [if I have done something wrong with my hands] or [if I have treated someone wrongly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT if there is wrong on my hands
UST that I am really guilty
(אִם־יֶשׁ־עָוֶל בְּכַפָּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wrong, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [if I have wronged someone]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	My God
wrong	I am really guilty

Psalms 7:3-5

In some languages, translating verses 3–5 might require a significant rearrangement to make the meaning clear. This section presents a hypothetical situation where the psalmist calls a potential curse onto himself. You might have to connect each hypothetical situation in verses 3–4 with a consequence in verse 5, or even put verse 5 before the hypotheticals. However, it is important to notice that both verses 3–4 and verse 5 build up to a greater level of tension, with the peak of this tension at the end of verse 5. As you translate, try to capture this growing sense of hypothetical sin and its consequences, doing so in a way that feels natural to the poetic style of your language.

Support Reference: Poetry

> ULT if I have done this, if there is wrong on my hands,if I have repaid evil {to} one {who was at} peace with me, or senselessly rescued my adversary
>
> UST suppose that I have done these things, that I am really guilty.Suppose that I have harmed my ally, {maybe} I {was unfaithful to my ally and instead} rescued an enemy for no reason
>
> (אִם־עָשִׂיתִי זֹאת אִם־יֶשׁ־עָוֶל בְּכַפָּי: אִם־גָּמַלְתִּי שִׁלֻּמַי רָע וָאֲחַלְּצָה צוֹרְרִי רֵיקָם)

The psalmist presents a conditional statement that sounds hypothetical, but he is sure that the condition he describes is not true. He is making the case that he is not guilty. When translating, use a natural form in your language for introducing a condition that the speaker believes is not true (similar to how it is done in the UST). Be careful, though: if you choose to translate it as a statement of the opposite, as seen in an alternate translation, you will need to also change the wording in verse 5 to reflect this negation, as shown at the end of the provided example. Alternate translation: [since I have not done this, and since there is no wrong on my hands, since I have not repaid evil to one who was at peace with me, or senselessly rescued my adversary, then do not]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions

Psalms 7:4

ULT	UST
if I have repaid evil {to} one {who was at} peace with me, or senselessly rescued my adversary,	Suppose that I have harmed my ally, {maybe} I {was unfaithful to my ally and instead} rescued an enemy for no reason.

ULT I have repaid evil {to} one {who was at} peace with me
UST I have harmed my ally
(גָּמַלְתִּי שְׁוֹלְמִי רָע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I have acted evilly to one who was at peace with me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to} one {who was at} peace with me
UST my ally
(שְׁוֹלְמִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to my friend] or [to my peaceful neighbor]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT or senselessly rescued my adversary
UST maybe} I {was unfaithful to my ally and instead} rescued an enemy for no reason
(וְאֲחַלְּצָה צוֹרְרִי רֵיקָם)

This could mean: (1) being an unfaithful friend by saving a person who is the author's and his ally's enemy. Alternate translation: [or saved my enemy for no reason] (2) attacking an enemy without immediate cause (in this case the verb translated rescue could be taken as plunder). Alternate translation: [or plundered my enemy without cause] (3) not only doing evil to friends but even doing good to enemies. In this case the phrase would be less logically connected to the previous one. Alternate translation: [and I even rescue one who is my enemy without reason]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	harmed
to} one {who was at} peace with me	my ally or & rescued	maybe} I {was unfaithful to my ally and instead} rescued
my adversary	an enemy

Psalms 7:5

ULT	UST
let my enemy pursue my soul and overtake {it}, and let him trample my life to the ground and cause my honor to live in the dust. Selah	Then allow my enemies to chase and capture me. Allow them to stomp me into the ground and leave me lying {dead} in the dirt. Selah

ULT my soul & my life & my honor
UST me & me & and & me
(נַפְשִׁי & חַיַּי וּכְבוֹדִי)

Here, my soul, my life, and my honor represent the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [me … me … me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and cause my honor to live in the dust
UST and leave me lying {dead} in the dirt
(וּכְבוֹדִי | לֶעָפָר יַשְׁכֵּן)

This refers to lying dead and unburied in disgrace. (This is the same word for dust as in Genesis 3:19.) If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and throw my dead body on a dirt pile]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and overtake {it
UST and capture
(וְיַשֵּׂג)

This represents capturing him. Alternate translation: [capture me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my enemy	my enemies
my soul	me
and overtake {it	and capture and let him trample	Allow them to stomp
my honor	and & me
Selah	Selah

Psalms 7:6

ULT	UST
Arise, Yahweh! In your nose, be lifted with the rage of my adversaries! And wake up for me! You have ordered judgment.	Get up Yahweh! Because you are angry, show that you are greater than what my furious enemies can do! Be alert so you can rescue me by doing what you have said is just!

ULT Arise
UST Get up
(קוּמָה)

Arise represents doing something or taking action. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Do something] or [Take action]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT In your nose
UST Because you are angry
(בְּאַפֶּךָ)

Here, In your nose is an idiom meaning that Yahweh is angry. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Because you are angry]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT be lifted
UST show that you are greater than (הִנָּשֵׂא)

Here, be lifted represents overcoming or conquering people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [overcome]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT with the rage of my adversaries
UST what my furious enemies can do
(בְּעֶבְרוֹת צוֹרְרָי)

The rage of my adversaries represents their attacks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [against the attacks of my adversaries] or [against my adversaries who attack me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT And wake up
> UST Be alert
> (וְעוּרָה)

The psalmist is speaking to Yahweh as if he were asleep and needed to wake up. Here waking up represents starting to do something or take action. It does not imply that the psalmist thinks Yahweh is asleep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Take action] or [Start to do this]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT You have ordered judgment
> UST by doing what you have said is just > (מִשְׁפָּט צִוִּיתָ)

This wording serves a dual function: it both justifies the demands made earlier in this verse and sets the stage for the expectations expressed in the following verses. When translating, consider how to maintain this two-fold connection in your language, ensuring that it aligns with the logical and emotional flow of the text.

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
with the rage of	what my furious enemies can do my adversaries	what my furious enemies can do judgment	is just

Psalms 7:7

ULT	UST
And an assembly of peoples surround you, and over it return on high!	The people of all nations gather around you; return to ruling over them all!

ULT And an assembly of peoples surround you
UST The people of all nations gather around you (וַעֲדַת לְאֻמִּים תְּסוֹבְבֶךָּ)

Alternate translation: [And let an assembly of peoples surround you]

ULT and over it return on high
UST return to ruling over them all
(וְעָלֶיהָ לַמָּרוֹם שׁוּבָה)

Yahweh ruling the assembly of peoples from heaven is spoken of as being over it and on high. Alternate translation: [rule over them from heaven] or [rule over them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And an assembly of	The people of return	return

Psalms 7:8

ULT	UST
Yahweh, adjudicate the peoples! Judge me, Yahweh, according to my righteousness and according to my integrity, Most High!	Yahweh, judge the people of all nations! Decide favorably for me, Yahweh, because I am righteous and honorable {before you the} highest judge.

ULT Yahweh, adjudicate the peoples! Judge me, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, judge the people of all nations! Decide favorably for me, Yahweh (יְהוָה יָדִ֣ין עַמִּ֑ים שָׁפְטֵ֥נִי יְ֝הוָ֗ה)

The word adjudicate is used to show that in the original two different words meaning judge are used. If you have two terms in your language, you can use two; if not, you can use the same term twice. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, judge the peoples! Judge me, Yahweh]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT Judge me
UST Decide favorably for me
(שָׁפְטֵ֥נִי)

The implication is that Yahweh will find the psalmist innocent. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Judge me innocent]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT according to my righteousness and according to my integrity
UST because I am righteous and honorable (כְּצִדְקִ֥י וּכְתֻמִּ֗י)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of righteousness and integrity, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [according to how I live rightly and according to how I live honestly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Most High
UST before you the (עָלָֽי)

This could be: (1) a title for Yahweh. Alternate translation: [O you, Above All] (2) a clause locating the author's righteousness and integrity in himself. Alternate translation: [which is in me]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
Judge me	Decide favorably for me
according to my righteousness	because I am righteous and according to my integrity	and honorable
Most High	before you the

Psalms 7:9

ULT	UST
May the evil of the wicked end, and {would} you establish the righteous. The righteous God examines hearts and kidneys.	God, you are righteous and look closely at what people think and want. Please stop evil people from doing wicked things, and make {all of us} who are righteous secure!

ULT the evil of
UST evil people
(רַע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the evil things of]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the wicked
UST from doing wicked things
(רְשָׁעִים)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the righteous
UST all of us} who are righteous
(צַדִּיק)

See how you translated the phrase the righteous in 1:5.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT hearts and kidneys
UST at what people think and want (לִבּוֹת וּכְלָיוֹת)

The hearts and kidneys are internal organs that represent peoples' thoughts and desires in the author's culture. If these body parts do not have that meaning in your language, you could use an equivalent expression that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [thoughts and motives]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT The righteous God examines hearts and kidneys
UST God, you are righteous and look closely at what people think and want (וּבֹחֵן לְבּוֹת וּכְלָיוֹת אֱלֹהִים צַדִּיק)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could move the last clause in this verse to the beginning as in the UST.

Support Reference: Information Structure

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the evil of	evil people
the wicked	from doing wicked things
the righteous	all of us} who are righteous
God	God

Psalms 7:10

ULT	UST
My shield is with God, the savior of the upright of heart.	God, you protect me as a shield protects soldiers; you rescue all those who are righteous in their inner being.

ULT My shield is with God
UST God, you protect me as a shield protects soldiers
(מָגִנִּי עַל־אֱלֹהִים)

The word shield represents God's protection. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God protects me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the upright of heart
UST all those who are righteous in their inner being (יִשְׁרֵי־לֵב)

Here the heart represents the thoughts and motives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those whose thoughts and motives are upright]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My shield	protect me as a shield protects soldiers
God	God, you
the savior of	you rescue
the upright of	all those who are righteous

Psalms 7:11

ULT	UST
God is a righteous judge, and a God {who is} indignant on every day.	God judges everyone correctly. God condemns {the wicked} constantly.

ULT and a God {who is} indignant on every day
UST God condemns {the wicked} constantly
(וְאֵ֗ל זֹעֵ֥ם בְּכָל־יֽוֹם)

The psalmist assumes that his readers will understand that God is indignant with the wicked. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and a God who is angry with evil people every day]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT on every day
UST constantly
(בְּכָל־יֽוֹם)

Here, on every day represents a constant state. God is angry with the wicked all the time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all the time]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
righteous	correctly
is a & judge	judges everyone and a God	God

Psalms 7:12

ULT	UST
If he does not repent, his sword he will sharpen, his bow he has bent and prepared.	Whenever the wicked do not repent, it is as though God sharpens his sword and puts a string on his bow {to get ready to kill them}.

ULT he does & repent, his sword he will sharpen, his bow he has bent

UST the wicked do & repent, it is as though God sharpens his sword and puts a string on his bow {to get ready to kill them

(יָשׁוּב חַרְבּוֹ יִלְטֹושׁ קַשְׁתּוֹ דָרַךְ׃)

The first he in this verse refers to the wicked. After the word repent all the he and his refer to Yahweh. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers.

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he does & repent	the wicked do & repent
his sword	his sword
his bow	on his bow

Psalms 7:12-13

ULT his sword he will sharpen
UST it is as though God sharpens his sword
(חַרְבּוֹ יְלַטֵּוֹשׁ)

In verses 12 and 13, David speaks of God deciding to punish the wicked as if God were a warrior preparing to fight against them with weapons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God will prepare to punish him like a warrior prepares to fight by sharpening his sword]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 7:13

ULT	UST
And for him he has prepared implements of death; he has made his arrows into burning {arrows}.	He prepares his deadly weapons to kill {the wicked}, he makes his arrows have flaming tips.

ULT And for him
UST the wicked
(וְלוֹ)

This could mean: (1) for the wicked, that is, God has prepared to use these weapons against the wicked. Alternate translation: [and for the wicked] (2) for himself, that is, God has prepared the weapons for his own use. Alternate translation: [and for himself]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he has prepared	He prepares

Psalms 7:14

ULT	UST
Behold he is pregnant with wickedness, and he conceives trouble, and he births lies.	Look at the wicked person who is filled with evil intentions, as though pregnant with them, who plans to trouble people like conceiving a child, and who lies as naturally as giving birth.

ULT he is pregnant with wickedness, and he conceives trouble, and he births lies

UST the wicked person who is filled with evil intentions, as though pregnant with them, who plans to trouble people like conceiving a child, and who lies as naturally as giving birth

(יְחַבֵּל־אָוֶן וְהָרָה עָמָל וְיָלַד שָׁקֶר)

These three phrases mean basically the same thing. The second and third emphasize the meaning by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the later phrases are repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [he who is pregnant with wickedness, who also conceives trouble, who even births lies]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT he is pregnant with wickedness, and he conceives trouble, and he births lies

UST the wicked person who is filled with evil intentions, as though pregnant with them, who plans to trouble people like conceiving a child, and who lies as naturally as giving birth

(יְחַבֵּל־אָוֶן וְהָרָה עָמָל וְיָלַד שָׁקֶר)

The psalmist speaks of the things that a wicked person does as if the person were pregnant, and wickedness, trouble, and lies are the baby. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Just as a woman conceives a child, carries it to term, and gives birth to it, so evil people think of wrong things to do, they do those wrong things, and then they lie about what they have done] or [the person ready to do wicked things. He makes plans for trouble and produces lies]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT he is pregnant
> UST the wicked person who is filled with evil intentions, as though pregnant with them > (יְחַבֵּל)

Here the subject switches from God back to the evil person. Alternate translation: [the wicked person is pregnant]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT he is pregnant with wickedness, and he conceives trouble, and he births lies
> UST the wicked person who is filled with evil intentions, as though pregnant with them, who plans to trouble people like conceiving a child, and who lies as naturally as giving birth
> (יְחַבֵּל־אָ֭וֶן וְהָרָה עָ֑מָל וְיֹלֵ֖ד שָֽׁקֶר)

Here, he represents evil people in general. It may be strange in some languages to use a masculine pronoun when talking about someone being pregnant or giving birth, even in a figure of speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [the person pregnant with wickedness, who conceives trouble, who births lies]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
with wickedness	the wicked person who is filled with evil intentions, as though pregnant with them trouble	who plans to trouble people like conceiving a child lies	and who lies as naturally as giving birth

Psalms 7:16

ULT	UST
His trouble returns on his head, and his violence comes down on the top of his head.	He experiences the bad things that he wants to cause to others, he hurts himself by the violent things that he wants to do to others.

ULT His trouble returns on his head, and his violence comes down on the top of his head

UST He experiences the bad things that he wants to cause to others, he hurts himself by the violent things that he wants to do to others
(יְשׁוּבֹ֣ עֲמָלֹ֣ו בְּרֹאשֹׁ֑ו וְעַל־קָדְקָדֹ֥ו חֲמָסֹ֝ו יֵרֵֽד)

Here, trouble and violence are spoken of as if they hit a person's head or fall down on it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression in your translation or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [His own destructive plans destroy him, for his violence attacks him] or [When he plans to trouble others, others trouble him; when he attacks others, others attack him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT His trouble returns on his head, and his violence comes down on the top of his head

UST He experiences the bad things that he wants to cause to others, he hurts himself by the violent things that he wants to do to others
(יְשׁוּבֹ֣ עֲמָלֹ֣ו בְּרֹאשֹׁ֑ו וְעַל־קָדְקָדֹ֥ו חֲמָסֹ֝ו יֵרֵֽד)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of trouble and violence, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [His troubling others returns on his head, and his violently attacking others comes down on the top of his head]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
His trouble	He experiences the bad things that he wants to cause to others

Psalms 7:17

ULT	UST
I will thank Yahweh according to his righteousness, and sing praise to the name of Yahweh, the Most High.	I thank Yahweh because he always acts justly, I sing to praise Yahweh, who is the highest judge, and to make him famous.

ULT according to his righteousness, and sing praise to UST because he always acts justly, I sing to praise
(כְּצִדְקֹו֗ וַאֲזַמְּרָ֥ה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of righteousness and praise, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [because he is righteous and sing a praise song to]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the name of Yahweh
UST Yahweh & and to make him famous (שֵׁ֣ם־יְהוָ֑ה)

Here, name represents reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh's reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
according to his righteousness	because he always acts justly
and sing praise to	I sing to praise
the Most High	who is the highest judge

Psalms 7:front

> ULT A musical composition of David
> UST A psalm & David
> (שִׁגְיוֹן לְדָוִד)

Alternate translation: [This is a song that David wrote]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of David	David
to Yahweh	to Yahweh
of Cush	named Cush

Psalms 8

Psalms 8 Introduction

Psalm 8 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Superscription
2. Introduction (1–2)
3. Question (3–4)
4. Answer (5–8)
5. Closing (9)

About the Psalm

1. Purpose: to praise Yahweh for his majesty throughout all the earth
2. Content: Your name is majestic in all the earth! You bestow your glory on the heavens above, and you bestow glory on weak humans below.
3. Message: Yahweh’s majesty is revealed in weakness.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

1. The psalm begins and ends with the exact same exclamation—this serves to point out the purpose of the psalm.
2. The psalm progresses from top to bottom several times.

A. In verse 1b–2 it goes from the heavens down to the weakest of humans.

B. Verses 3–4 again go down from the heavens to man.

C. Verses 5–8 move from the heavenly beings through man, who is exalted and crowned with glory as Yahweh’s representative ruler of all creation, and down and out into creation, moving away from man’s primary spheres of dominion (domestic animals) progressively outward.

1. There are many echoes of Genesis 1. References include: the heavens as created by Yahweh’s fingers (3), the animals as made by his hands (6), the dominion of man over creation (6–8, see also Genesis 1:26).

2. Magnificent, Majesty, Splendor, Glory: Yahweh gives his weak representative (humans) many of his glorious attributes, and humans rule for Yahweh.

See: Poetry

CCBYSA

Portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from “Psalms, Layer by Layer” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), “Psalm 8” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_8) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

See their top three exegetical issues in Psalm 8 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=L5-NpONilOs) for discussion of verses 1, 2, and 5 and their top three poetic features of Psalm 8 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XcRob_g2g2Q) on YouTube.

Psalms 8:1

ULT	UST
Yahweh, our Lord, how magnificent is your name in all the earth, {you} whose splendor is bestowed on the heavens.	Our Lord Yahweh, people all over the world know how impressive you are! You have made the sky show {everyone} how grand you are {every time anyone looks at it}!

ULT your name
UST you are (שִׁמְךָ)

Yahweh's name represents his reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your reputation] or [your fame]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in all the earth
UST people all over the world know
(בְּכָל־הָאָרֶץ)

Here, earth represents all the people in the world. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to all people]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT you} whose splendor is bestowed on the heavens
UST You have made the sky show {everyone} how grand you are {every time anyone looks at it
(אֲשֶׁר תְּנָה הוֹדְךָ֥ עַל־הַשָּׁמָֽיִם)

The expression whose splendor is bestowed on the heavens is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [you who bestow your splendor on the heavens]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT you} whose splendor is bestowed on the heavens
UST You have made the sky show {everyone} how grand you are {every time anyone looks at it
(אֲשֶׁר תְּנָה הוֹדְךָ֥ עַל־הַשָּׁמָֽיִם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of splendor, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you show in the heavens how splendid you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
our Lord	Our Lord
the earth	the world
splendor	how grand you are the heavens	the sky & every time anyone looks at it

Psalms 8:2

ULT	UST
Out of the mouth of children and nursing ones you have established strength because of your adversaries, to cause the enemy and avenger to end.	When {anyone who is weak cries for help like} nursing little children cry {for help}, you {listen and} protect them from your enemies, {the ones that want to hurt your people}. In order to protect them, you destroy enemies who want to harm them in return {for what you have justly done to them}.

ULT Out of the mouth of children and nursing ones
UST When {anyone who is weak cries for help like} nursing little children cry {for help
(מִפִּ֥י עוֹלְלִ֗ים | וְיוֹנְקִ֫ים)

Out of the mouth of children and nursing ones is placed at the front of the sentence here to help create a strong sense of surprise that this weak thing would be the means that Yahweh uses to establish strength. Consider using a poetic method in your language to make the connection of the weak and strong surprising.

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT Out of the mouth of children and nursing ones you have established strength because of your adversaries
UST When {anyone who is weak cries for help like} nursing little children cry {for help}, you {listen and} protect them from your enemies, {the ones that want to hurt your people
(מִפִּ֥י עוֹלְלִ֗ים | וְיוֹנְקִ֫ים יִסַּ֣דְתָּ עֹ֭ז לְמַ֣עַן צוֹרְרֶ֑יךָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because of your adversaries, you have established strength out of the mouth of children and nursing ones]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Out of the mouth of
UST When {anyone who is weak cries for help like} nursing little children cry {for help
(מִפִּ֥י)

Here, mouth represents the babies' crying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [From the crying of]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT children and nursing ones
> UST When {anyone who is weak cries for help like} nursing little children cry {for help
> (עֹולְלִ֥ים | וְיֹנְקִ֑ים)

The two words translated children and nursing ones expresses a single idea. The word nursing further describes the age of the children. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [nursing babies]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

> ULT strength
> UST you {listen and} protect them
> (עֹ֫ז)

The Hebrew reads strength. The ULT follows that reading. The ancient Greek translation reads “praise.” The Greek version is quoted in Matthew 21:16. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT strength
> UST you {listen and} protect them
> (עֹ֫ז)

Because the word translated established is strongly associated with making a building, here, strength probably represents a fortress—a strong building that can be defended easily. Kings or Lords, as Yahweh is depicted in verse 1, often built fortresses to protect their domains and people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a building that is easy to defend]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT children and nursing ones
> UST When {anyone who is weak cries for help like} nursing little children cry {for help
> (עֹולְלִ֥ים | וְיֹנְקִ֑ים)

Because of the parallelism between verse 2 and verse 4, children and nursing ones may represent all of humanity (as weak and helpless people needing Yahweh’s protection). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [even the weakest humans]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT to cause the enemy and avenger to end
> UST In order to protect them, you destroy enemies who want to harm them in return {for what you have justly done to them
> (לְהַשְׁבִּית אֹויֵב וּמִתְנַקֵּם)

Here, to marks cause the enemy and avenger to end as the goal or purpose of establishing strength. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose.

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

> ULT the enemy and avenger
> UST enemies who want to harm them in return {for what you have justly done to them
> (אֹויֵב וּמִתְנַקֵּם)

The two words enemy and avenger may express a single idea. The word avenger further describes the enemy. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [the vengeful enemy]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you have established	you {listen and} protect them
your adversaries	from your enemies, {the ones that want to hurt your people
the enemy	enemies
and avenger	who want to harm them in return {for what you have justly done to them

Psalms 8:3

ULT	UST
When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place,	I look up at the sky {at night} and see the things that you have made—the moon and the stars that you have set in place.

ULT the work of your fingers
UST the things that you have made
(מַעֲשֵׂי אֶצְבְּעֹתֶיךָ)

Yahweh's fingers represent his capability. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the work of your power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the work of your fingers
UST the things that you have made
(מַעֲשֵׂי אֶצְבְּעֹתֶיךָ)

Here, work of your fingers represents what Yahweh has created. Alternate translation: [the things that you made]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
at your heavens	at the sky {at night

Psalms 8:4

ULT	UST
what is mankind that you remember him, or the son of man that you pay attention to him?	It is amazing to me that you think about people, that you are concerned about humans!

ULT what is mankind that you remember him, or the son of man that you pay attention to him
UST It is amazing to me that you think about people, that you are concerned about humans
(מָה־אֱנוֹשׁ כִּי־תִזְכְּרֶנּוּ וּבֶן־אָדָם כִּי תִפְקְדֶנּוּ)

The psalmist is using the question form to express surprise. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. These remarks have been expressed in the form of a question to add emphasis. Alternate translation: [It is amazing that you are concerned for people and care about them!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT what is mankind that you remember him, or the son of man that you pay attention to him
UST It is amazing to me that you think about people, that you are concerned about humans
(מָה־אֱנוֹשׁ כִּי־תִזְכְּרֶנּוּ וּבֶן־אָדָם כִּי תִפְקְדֶנּוּ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. Translate them according to the decisions your team has made regarding translating parallelism in Hebrew poetry. See the Introduction to Psalms for more information. Alternate translation: [What is mankind that you remember him? I say again, what is the son of man that you pay attention to him] or [What difference does the things that happen to humans make to you, that you are concerned for them?]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT is mankind & or the son of man
UST people & humans
(אֱנוֹשׁ & וּבֶן־אָדָם)

Here, mankind and son of man represent people in general and not a specific person. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use expressions that would be more natural in your language.

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
or the son of man	humans

Psalms 8:5

ULT	UST
Yet you have made him to lack little from the heavenly beings, and {with} glory and majesty you have crowned him.	In fact though, you made humans to be just slightly lower than heavenly beings. You made humans to be glorious and majestic {like you}.

ULT Yet you have made him to lack
UST In fact though, you made humans to be & lower (וַתְּחַסְּרֵהוּ)

It is not entirely clear in what way humans lack little from the heavenly beings. It could be in their status somehow or in their perceived glory and majesty. Because of this ambiguity, it would be best not to try to explain this lack in your translation.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT from the heavenly beings
UST than heavenly beings
(מֵאֱלֹהִים)

The Hebrew word here could mean: (1) heavenly beings. This generic term encompasses any sort of supernatural being in the heavens that humans are slightly less than (like the heavenly court in Job 1). (2) God. The most common translation for this word is God. However, the psalmist is speaking to Yahweh in this psalm, so if he meant God here, it would make more sense for him to say, ‘from you.’ (3) angels. The ancient Greek translation uses this option, but this Hebrew word does not seem to mean angels elsewhere. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

ULT and {with} glory and majesty you have crowned him
UST You made humans to be glorious and majestic {like you (וְכָבוֹד וְהָדָר תְּעַטְּרֵהוּ)

Here, glory and majesty are spoken of as if they were crowns. Because kings wear crowns this means Yahweh is sharing his glory and majesty with humans like they were lesser kings under him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and have given them glory and honor] or [and have caused them to be like kings]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and {with} glory and majesty
> UST glorious and majesty
> (וְכָבוֹד וְהָדָר)

The terms glory and majesty mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [and with great majesty]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT and {with} glory and majesty
> UST glorious and majestic
> (וְכָבוֹד וְהָדָר)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of glory and majesty, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [and gloriously and majestically]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the heavenly beings	than heavenly beings and {with} glory	glorious and majesty	and majestic
you have crowned him	You made humans to be & like you

Psalms 8:6

ULT	UST
You made him rule over the works of your hands, everything you have put under his feet:	You put humans in charge of everything that you made, you made them rule over all things—

ULT You made him rule over the works of your hands, everything you have put under his feet
UST You put humans in charge of everything that you made, you made them rule over all things (תַּמְשִׁילֵהוּ בְּמַעֲשֵׂי יָדֶיךָ כֹּל שַׁתָּה תָחַת־רַגְלָיו)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. Translate them according to the decisions your team has made regarding translating parallelism in Hebrew poetry. See the Introduction to Psalms for more information. Alternate translation: [You made him rule over the works of your hands; in fact, you have put everything under his feet] or [You made him the ruler over everything that you made]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT You made him rule over & his feet
UST You put humans in charge of & over all things (תַּמְשִׁילֵהוּ & רַגְלָיו)

The words him and his here refer to all of humanity and not to specific persons. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use expressions that would be more natural in your language.

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT the works of your hands
UST everything that you made
(בְּמַעֲשֵׂי יָדֶיךָ)

Yahweh's hands represent his capability. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the works of your power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT everything you have put under his feet
> UST you made them rule over all things
> (כֹּל שַׁתָּה תָּחַת־רַגְלָיו)

Having authority to rule others or control things is spoken of as having them under one's feet. This means Yahweh gave people authority over all that he created. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have given him authority over all things]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You made him rule over	You put humans in charge of

Psalms 8:9

ULT	UST
Yahweh, our Lord, how magnificent is your name in all the earth!	Our Lord Yahweh, people all over the world know how impressive you are!

This verse is exactly the same as the first half of Psalm 8:1. See how you translated it there.

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
our Lord	Our Lord
magnificent is	impressive

Psalms 8:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT on Gittith
> UST Accompany the song with a stringed instrument
> (עַל־הַגִּתִּית)

The exact meaning of the term Gittith is uncertain. The word could be related to the name of the Philistine city of Gath or to a term relating to wine production, which was accompanied by singing. It could refer to: (1) a musical instrument. Alternate translation: [accompany with a Philistine lute] or (2) the tune. Alternate translation: [use the winepress tune]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	this psalm
of David	David wrote

Psalms 9

Psalms 9 Introduction

Psalm 9 Introduction

Psalms 9–10 as One Psalm

This psalm has a superscription, but Psalm 10 does not. This fact and the acrostic nature of the two psalms (lines start with consecutive letters of the alphabet) has led many scholars to believe these two psalms may have originally been written as one psalm. The analysis of the structure of these psalms presented here will assume that. It is recommended that you follow the versification and chapter structure of other Bibles you are familiar with.

Structure and Formatting

The outlines for psalms 9 and 10 are combined here and in the introduction to psalm 10 because they were probably originally one psalm. Your translation will probably be best if you translate them together.

1. Psalm 9:1–10 Praise of the King
2. Psalm 9:11–20 Petition the King
3. Psalm 10:1–11 Persecution of the Poor
4. Psalm 10:12–18 Proclamation of the King

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Order and chaos

The first letter of many of the lines of these two psalms follows an acrostic (alphabetic) pattern. In some places, however, this orderly pattern is interrupted. The places where it is interrupted are places where the wicked are mentioned or acting. It is as if the presence of the wicked disrupts the orderliness over even the poetry, but it is restored and kept by Yahweh. If your language has a poetic style which can indicate order and chaos, you may wish to translate:

1. 9:1–4 in an orderly style
2. 9:5–6 in a slightly chaotic style
3. 9:7–15 in an orderly style

4. 9:16–17 in a slightly chaotic style
5. 9:18 in neither
6. 9:19–20 in an orderly style
7. 10:1 in an orderly style
8. 10:2–11 in a very chaotic style
9. 10:12–18 in an orderly style

The fortress and the pit

There are two chiasms in psalm 9. In the first half, Yahweh is compared to a fortress (9) and, poetically, his judgment forms a barrier between the enemies and the psalmist and the oppressed.

1. people trust Yahweh (1–2)
2. Yahweh is a judge (3–4)
3. The enemy (5–6)
4. Yahweh is a king and judge (7–8)
5. People trust Yahweh (9–10)

In the second half, people's prayers poetically encircle the wicked, causing them to fall into their own pit.

1. People pray to Yahweh for help (especially verse 13) (11–14)
2. The wicked are destroyed by their own pit (15–18)
3. People pray to Yahweh for help (19–20)

As you translate this psalm, you will probably have a structure that matches this which may or may not be meaningful in your language. You could also consider if there is a way to poetically "surround" the wicked, with Yahweh as judge and the prayers of his people in the two sections.

Adjectives used as generic nouns:

The adjectives "wicked, afflicted, innocent", and "oppressed" are nominal adjectives used as generic nouns in these psalms. See Nominal Adjectives and Generic Noun Phrases. CCBYSA

Portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from "Psalms, Layer by Layer" (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), "Psalm 9" (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_9) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

See their overview video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VRQZ1eytMJ8) and top three exegetical issues in Psalm 9 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MvT6YH3bkuI) and their top three poetic features of Psalms 9–10 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=moXvQUAMudo) on YouTube.

exegetical 9 (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MvT6YH3bkuI)

exegetical 10 (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=W4w8G32hfyI) poetic (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=moXvQUAMudo)

See: Poetry

Psalms 9:1

ULT	UST
I will thank Yahweh with all my heart, I will recount all your wonders.	Yahweh, I will praise you with all of my inner being. I will tell others about all the wonderful things that you have done.

ULT with all my heart
UST with all of my inner being (בְּכָל־לִבִּי)

Here the speaker is using one part, the heart, to represent the whole person. If another body part represents this in your culture, you could use it or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with all my being] or [with my whole person]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT all your wonders
UST all the wonderful things that you have done
(כָּל־נִפְלְאוֹתֶיךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wonders, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [all the marvelous things you do] or [all your marvelous actions]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
I will recount	I will tell others about your wonders	the wonderful things that you have done

Psalms 9:2

ULT	UST
I will rejoice and exult in you, I will sing praise to your name, Most High!	You make me extremely happy, so I will sing to celebrate what you, who are much greater than all other spirit beings, have done.

ULT I will rejoice and exult
UST You make me extremely happy
(אֶשְׂמְחָה וְאֶעֶלְצָה)

The two words rejoice and exult may express a single idea. The word exult tells how the psalmist is rejoicing. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [I will rejoice exuberantly]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT I will sing praise to your name
UST so I will sing to celebrate what you & have done
(אֲזַמְּרָה שִׁמְךָ)

Here, his name represents Yahweh: him, his reputation, and what he does. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I will sing praise to you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will rejoice	You make me extremely happy
and exult	You make me extremely happy
I will sing praise	so I will sing to celebrate
Most High	who are much greater than all other spirit beings

Psalms 9:3

ULT	UST
When my enemies turn back, they stumble and perish from your face.	When my foes flee {from your righteous anger}, they trip and fall. You kill them just by being near them.

ULT from your face
UST just by being near them
(מִפָּנֶיךָ)

Here, face represents the presence of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in your presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my enemies	my foes
they stumble	they trip and fall
and perish	You kill them

Psalms 9:3-4

> ULT from your face.For
> UST just by being near them.{You are angry because > (מִפָּנֶיךָ׃ כִּי)

The last part of verse 3 (from your face) and the first line of verse 4 give the reason why the enemies turn back, they stumble and perish. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is the reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [because of your angry presence, and because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Psalms 9:4

ULT	UST
For you have done my justice and my claim; you have sat on your throne, a judge of righteousness!	{You are angry because} you have found my legal case to be righteous {and my enemies' to be wicked}. You sit on a throne {like a king} judging {everything} rightly.

ULT you have done
UST you have found
(עָשִׂיתָ)

Alternate translation: [you have ruled on] or [you have declared] or [you have accomplished]

ULT For you have done my justice and my claim & a judge of righteousness
UST You are angry because} you have found my legal case to be righteous {and my enemies' to be wicked & judging {everything} rightly
(כִּי־עָשִׂיתָ מִשְׁפָּטִי וְדִינִי & שׁוֹפֵט צֶדֶק)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of justice, claim, and righteousness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [For you have answered me justly when I petitioned in your court ... a righteous judge]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you have done my justice and my claim
UST you have found my legal case to be righteous {and my enemies' to be wicked
(עָשִׂיתָ מִשְׁפָּטִי וְדִינִי)

The two words justice and claim may express a single idea. The word justice tells how Yahweh views the author's legal claim. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [you have ruled that my claim is just] or [you have answered my just claim]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

> ULT you have sat on your throne
> UST You sit on a throne {like a king
> (יְשַׁבְתְּ לְכִסֵּא)

Here, throne represents kingship. Kings had authority to judge people, and they would sit on their throne when they judged. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you are like a king who judged his people from his throne] or [you are a king]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT you have sat on your throne, a judge of righteousness
> UST You sit on a throne {like a king} judging {everything} rightly > (יְשַׁבְתְּ לְכִסֵּא שֹׁפֵט צֶדֶק)

Alternate translation: [you are like a royal judge who always issues correct judgments from his throne] or [you sit on your judgment throne and judge righteously]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my justice	to be righteous
on your throne	on a throne {like a king
a judge of	judging {everything righteousness	rightly

Psalms 9:5

ULT	UST
You rebuked nations; you destroyed the wicked; you blotted out their name forever and ever.	You reprimanded the people from other nations, and killed the wicked people; you eradicate them so thoroughly no one will ever remember their names.

ULT you blotted out their name forever and ever
UST you eradicate them so thoroughly no one will ever remember their names
(שְׁמָם מָחִיתָ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד)

This could mean: (1) Yahweh caused these people to be forgotten. The end of verse 6 is parallel with this verse if you favor this interpretation. Alternate translation: [you have caused them to be forgotten as if their name was blotted out] or [no one will ever remember them again], (2) Yahweh will not give these people eternal life (other parts of the Bible speak of this as blotting them out from the Book of Life). Alternate translation: [you send them to eternal punishment]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the wicked
UST the wicked people
(רְשָׁעֵ֣)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT you blotted out
UST you eradicate them so thoroughly no one will & remember (מָחִיתָ)

Alternate translation: [you erased]

ULT forever and ever
UST ever
(לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד)

The terms forever and ever mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [eternally]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You rebuked	You reprimanded nations	the people from other nations
you destroyed	and killed
the wicked	the wicked people
you blotted out	you eradicate them so thoroughly no one will & remember forever	ever

Psalms 9:6

ULT	UST
The enemy are finished—desolation forever, and you pulled up cities. {As for} them, their remembrance perished,	Nothing remains of our enemies except the ruins of their cities which you permanently destroyed. No one even remembers those enemies anymore.

ULT The enemy are finished
UST Nothing remains of our enemies except
(הָאוֹיֵב | תַּמּוּ)

In this verse, the word enemy is singular in form, but it refers to all enemies as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form to make this clear. Alternate translation: [The enemies are finished]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT desolation forever
UST the ruins of & permanently
(חֳרְבוֹת לָנֶצַח)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of desolation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [they are made desolate forever] or [you make them desolate forever]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and you pulled up cities
UST their cities which you & destroyed
(וְעָרִים נָתַשְׁתָּ)

Here, cities is spoken of as if it were a plant that could be pulled up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when you destroyed their cities]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT As for} them, their remembrance perished
UST No one even remembers those enemies anymore
(אָבַד זִכְרָם הֵמָּה)

Here, remembrance is spoken of as if it were a living being that could die. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [All remembrance of them has stopped] or [There is no longer any remembrance of them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT As for} them, their remembrance perished
UST No one even remembers those enemies anymore
(אָבַד זִכְרָם הָמָּה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of remembrance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [No one remembers them at all]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT As for} them
UST No one even remembers those enemies anymore
(הָמָּה)

The psalmist uses the words As for them here to indicate an emphatic contrast between what happens to the enemy and Yahweh. In your translation, indicate this strong contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Now speaking of the enemy]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The enemy	our enemies
desolation	the ruins of
forever	permanently
perished	No one even remembers those enemies anymore

Psalms 9:7

ULT	UST
but Yahweh will sit forever. He has established his throne for justice,	But Yahweh rules forever. He is prepared to judge from his throne.

ULT will sit
UST rules
(יֵשֵׁב)

Here, to sit represents the authority of the king to judge. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [reigns] or [is king]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT He has established his throne for justice
UST He is prepared to judge from his throne
(כּוֹנֵן לַמִּשְׁפָּט כִּסְאוֹ)

The phrase his throne represents God's rule. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He rules in order to judge people] or [He rules over people justly]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT for justice
UST to judge
(לַמִּשְׁפָּט)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to do justly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
but Yahweh	But Yahweh
forever	forever
He has established	He is prepared his throne	from his throne
for justice	to judge

Psalms 9:8

ULT	UST
as for him, he will judge the world with righteousness, and he will adjudicate for the peoples with fairness.	He will judge all the people in the world justly; he will be fair when he judges the people of every nation.

ULT as for him, he will judge the world with righteousness, and he will adjudicate for the peoples with fairness
UST He will judge all the people in the world justly; he will be fair when he judges & people of every nation
(וְהוּא יִשְׁפֹּט־תֵּבֵל בְּצֶדֶק יָדִין לְאֻמִּים בְּמֵישָׁרִים)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. Translate them according to the decisions your team has made regarding translating parallelism in Hebrew poetry. See the Introduction to Psalms for more information. Alternate translation: [as for him, he will judge the world with righteousness, yes, he will adjudicate for the peoples with fairness] or [as for him, he will judge the people of the world with righteousness and fairness]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the world
UST all the people in the world
(תֵּבֵל)

Here, the world refers to all the people in the world. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [everyone in the world]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT with righteousness & with fairness
UST justly & fair
(בְּצֶדֶק & בְּמֵישָׁרִים)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of righteousness and fairness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [righteously … fairly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he will judge	will judge
the world	all the people in the world with righteousness	justly

Psalms 9:9

ULT	UST
And may Yahweh be a secure height for the oppressed, a secure height for times with distress.	Let Yahweh be like a fortress for those whom oppressors oppress; like a strong fort for them when they have trouble.

ULT And may Yahweh be a secure height for the oppressed, a secure height for times with distress
UST Let Yahweh be like a fortress for those whom oppressors oppress; like a strong fort for them when they have trouble
(וְיִהְיֵ֣ יְהוָ֣ה מִשְׂגָּ֣ב לַדָּ֑ךְ מִשְׂגָּ֥ב לְעִתּ֖וֹת בַּצָּרָֽה)

Here the psalmist is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a place that people could go to for safety. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And may Yahweh protect the oppressed, may he protect them in times with distress] or [And may Yahweh provide safety for those who are oppressed, making them safe in times with distress]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for times with distress
UST when they have trouble
(לְעִתּ֖וֹת בַּצָּרָֽה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of distress, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for distressing times]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
for times	when
with distress	they have trouble

Psalms 9:10

ULT	UST
And may the knowers of your name trust in you, because you have not abandoned the seekers of you, Yahweh.	Those who know your reputation should trust you; because you, Yahweh, never abandon those who come to you {for help}.

ULT the knowers of your name
UST Those who know your reputation
(יוֹדְעֵי שְׁמֶךָ)

Here, your name represents Yahweh and his reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who know you] or [those who have heard what you do]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the knowers of & the seekers of you
UST Those who know & those who come to you {for help
(יוֹדְעֵי & דֹרְשֶׁיךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of knowers and seekers, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [people who know … people who seek you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the knowers of	Those who know
And may & trust	should trust
you have & abandoned	you & abandon the seekers of you	those who come to you {for help
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 9:11

ULT	UST
Sing praises to Yahweh, the sitter {in} Zion! Declare his deeds among the peoples	Yahweh rules on Mount Zion; praise him by singing to him! Tell people from every nation the marvelous things that he has done.

ULT the sitter
UST rules
(יֹשֵׁב)

Here, being the sitter represents sitting on the throne as king. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the king] or [the ruler]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Sing praises to Yahweh & his deeds
UST Yahweh & praise him by singing to him & the marvelous things that he has done
(זַמְּרוּ לַיהוָה & עֲלִילוֹתָיו)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praises, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Praise Yahweh with a song] or [Sing to praise Yahweh]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Sing praises	praise him by singing to Yahweh	Yahweh & to him
in} Zion	on Mount Zion
Declare	Tell

Psalms 9:12

ULT	UST
for the seeker of {vengeance for} bloodshed remembered them; he does not forget the cry of the poor.	Do this because Yahweh always remembers to repay any person who murders another person. When someone's enemy has oppressed him, and when that person calls to Yahweh to help him, Yahweh does not forget to avenge him.

> ULT the seeker of {vengeance for} bloodshed
> UST Yahweh & to repay any person who murders another person
> (דֹּרֵשׁ דָּמִים)

Here, the seeker refers to the avenger of blood, who hunts down and kills a murderer. Yahweh is the avenger in this case. See Numbers 35 for more information.

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT remembered them
> UST Yahweh always remembers to repay any person who murders another person > (אוֹתָם זָכַר)

The implication is that the seeker of vengeance will remember to avenge for the murder of them (the victims calling for justice). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [remembered to avenge those who were murdered]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the seeker of {vengeance for} bloodshed & them
> UST Yahweh & to repay any person who murders another person
> (דֹּרֵשׁ דָּמִים אוֹתָם)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of seeker, vengeance, and bloodshed, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [the one who seeks to avenge anyone who was murdered … them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT he does not forget
> UST Yahweh does not forget to avenge him
> (לֹא־שָׁכַח)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this double negative that consists of the negative particle not and the negative idea of forget. Alternate translation: [he surely remembers]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

> ULT the poor
> UST When someone's enemy has oppressed him > (עניים)

The psalmist is using the adjective poor as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [poor people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the seeker of {vengeance for	Yahweh & to repay any person who murders another person
the seeker of {vengeance for	Yahweh & to repay any person who murders another person
bloodshed	Yahweh & to repay any person who murders another person
the cry of	and when that person calls to Yahweh to help him

Psalms 9:13

ULT	UST
Have mercy on me, Yahweh! See my affliction from my haters, O lifter of me from the gates of death,	Yahweh, act mercifully toward me! You who rescue me when I am almost dead, look at the ways that my enemies have oppressed me.

ULT Have mercy on me & my affliction from my haters
UST act mercifully toward me & at the ways that my enemies have oppressed me
(חָנֵּנִי & עָנְיִי מִשֹּׂנְאָי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of mercy, affliction, and haters, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Be merciful to me … how I am afflicted by those who hate me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT See
UST look
(רְאֵה)

The implication is that Yahweh will act, not just See. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Take action because of]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT O lifter of me from the gates of death
UST You who rescue me when I am almost dead
(מְרוֹמְמִי מִשַּׁעֲרֵי מָוֶת)

Here, death is spoken of as if it were a city that had gates through which people enter in. If someone is near the gates of death, it means that he will die soon. Keeping someone from dying is spoken of as lifting him away from the gates of death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [O you who can rescue me from death] or [O you who can keep me from dying]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Have mercy on me	act mercifully toward me
Yahweh	Yahweh
my affliction	at the ways & have oppressed me
from my haters	that my enemies
from the gates of	when I am almost

Psalms 9:14

ULT	UST
in order that I might recount all your praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion. I will rejoice in your salvation!	{I want to live} in order to tell all your people at the entrance to Jerusalem all the reasons to praise you and to rejoice because you rescued me.

ULT in the gates of
UST at the entrance to (בִּשְׁעָרֵי)

The gate is the place of trade, business, and justice in the ancient city. If your readers would not be familiar with this, you could use the location where similar things happen in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [in the central market of] or [in the place of trade and settling legal disputes of]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT your praise & in your salvation
UST to praise you & because you rescued me
(תְּהִלָּתֵיךָ & בִּישׁוּעָתֶךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of praise and salvation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [your praiseworthy deeds … because you saved me] or [the reasons to praise you … because you are a savior]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I might recount	to tell all your people
your praise	to praise you in the gates of	at the entrance to
Zion	Jerusalem
I will rejoice	and to rejoice
in your salvation	because you rescued me

Psalms 9:15

ULT	UST
The nations have sunk down into the pit they made; their foot is caught in the net that they hid.	{When you rescue me} it is like wicked people of many nations had dug a pit for me to fall into, but have fallen into that same pit, or like they hid a net to catch me, but their feet have been caught in that same net.

ULT The nations have sunk down into the pit they made; their foot is caught in the net that they hid
UST When you rescue me} it is like wicked people of many nations had dug a pit for me to fall into, but have fallen into that same pit, or like they hid a net to catch me, but their feet have been caught in that same net
(טָבְעוּ גּוֹיִם בְּשַׁחַת עָשׂוּ בְּרֶשֶׁת־זוּ טָמָנוּ נִלְכְּדָה רַגְלָם)

People dig pits so they can catch animals that fall into them. They also hide nets to catch animals. Here digging a pit or hiding a net represents making plans to destroy people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The nations are like people who dig a pit for others and then fall into it; like people who hide a net to catch people and then get caught in it] or [The nations get caught in their own traps.]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT The nations have sunk down into the pit they made; their foot is caught in the net that they hid
UST When you rescue me} it is like wicked people of many nations had dug a pit for me to fall into, but have fallen into that same pit, or like they hid a net to catch me, but their feet have been caught in that same net
(טָבְעוּ גּוֹיִם בְּשַׁחַת עָשׂוּ בְּרֶשֶׁת־זוּ טָמָנוּ נִלְכְּדָה רַגְלָם)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. Translate them according to the decisions your team has made regarding translating parallelism in Hebrew poetry. See the Introduction to Psalms for more information.

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The nations	When you rescue me} it is like wicked people of many nations into the pit	a pit for me to fall into

Psalms 9:15-16

> ULT Yahweh has revealed himself, he has done justice; the wicked is ensnared
> UST wicked people & to trap them. Because of that, people can discover that you, Yahweh, are just > (נִוֹדַע ׀ יְהוָה מִשְׁפָּט עָשָׂה & נוֹקֵשׁ רָשָׁע)

Both the cause and the result of everything else in verses 15–16 are in the sentence Yahweh has revealed himself, he has done justice. The cause of the wicked nations being trapped by their own traps is Yahweh doing justice; the result is that he is revealed as being just. In your translation, use a structure that makes these connections clear. Alternate translation: [This happens because Yahweh is acting justly toward them. Yahweh reveals himself by justly causing the wicked to be ensnared]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Psalms 9:16

ULT	UST
Yahweh has revealed himself, he has done justice; the wicked is ensnared by the work of his hands. Higgaion Selah	So you allow the traps that wicked people make to trap them. Because of that, people can discover that you, Yahweh, are just. Higgaion Selah

ULT has revealed himself
UST Because of that, people can discover that (נוֹדַע)

The word himself indicates that the object of the verb is the same as the subject of the verb. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate that the same person fills two roles in the sentence. Alternate translation: [has revealed Yahweh]

Support Reference: Reflexive Pronouns

ULT justice
UST are just (מִשְׁפָּט)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [things justly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רָשָׁע)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the wicked is ensnared by the work of his hands
UST So you allow the traps that wicked people make to trap them
(בְּפֹעַל כַּפָּיו נוֹקֵשׁ רָשָׁע)

The expression the wicked is ensnared is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the wicked person harms himself by the wicked things he does]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT by the work of his hands
> UST So you allow the traps that & make > (בְּפֹעַל כַּפָּיו)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of work, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by what he does] or [by his own evil deeds]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	you, Yahweh
has revealed himself	Because of that, people can discover that justice	are just
the wicked	wicked people
is ensnared	to trap them
Selah	Selah

Psalms 9:17

ULT	UST
The wicked will turn back to Sheol; all nations are forgetful of God.	Wicked people will flee {from you} back to the place where dead people stay. {There are people there} from every nation, people who have forgotten {to worship the true} God.

ULT will turn back
UST will flee {from you} back
(יָשׁ֣וּבוּ)

See how you translated the idea of “turn back” in verse 3, as this is likely connected.

ULT are forgetful of God
UST people who have forgotten {to worship the true} God
(שְׁכֵחֵ֥י אֱלֹהִֽים)

Here, are forgetful of God is a common expression that means “they forget or ignore God.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [dismiss God] or [neglect to honor and worship God]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT all nations are forgetful of God
UST There are people there} from every nation, people who have forgotten {to worship the true} God
(כָּל־גּוֹיִ֥ם שְׁכֵחֵ֥י אֱלֹהִֽים)

If the connection between all nations in this phrase and the wicked of the last phrase is not clear, you may want to show this connection. Alternate translation: [the wicked ones from all nations who are forgetful of God]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT all nations
UST There are people there} from every nation
(כָּל־גּוֹיִ֥ם)

Here, nations represents the people in the nations. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people in every nation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wicked	Wicked people
to Sheol	to the place where dead people stay nations	nation
God	to worship the true} God

Psalms 9:17-18

Verses 17–18 form a poetic device called a chiasm where the inner two lines parallel each other and the outer two lines also parallel each other. In this case this artistic device creates a strong contrast between the verses by contrasting people forgetting God with God not forgetting the needy and contrasts the death of the wicked with the hope of the afflicted which does not die. If your language has a poetic structure that can make contrasts stand out markedly like this, consider using it here.

Support Reference: Poetry

Psalms 9:18

ULT	UST
But the needy will not be forgotten eternally, {nor} will the hope of the afflicted perish forever.	This all happens because there is a certain time when God will remember {to take care of} poor people. It is good for oppressed people to expect him to rescue them because he will do it one day.

ULT the needy will not be forgotten eternally
UST a certain time when God will remember {to take care of} poor people
(לֹֽא יִשְׁכַּ֣ח אֶבְיוֹן)

The expression the needy will not be forgotten is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God will not always forget the needy]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the needy will not be forgotten eternally
UST a certain time when God will remember {to take care of} poor people
(לֹֽא יִשְׁכַּ֣ח אֶבְיוֹן)

The figure of speech here expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could emphasize the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [the needy will be remembered eventually]

Support Reference: Litotes

ULT nor} will the hope of the afflicted perish forever
UST It is good for oppressed people to expect him to rescue them because he will do it one day
(תִּקְוַ֣ת עניים תֹּאבֵ֣ד לָעַֽד)

The negation in the first clause of this verse carries over to the second half. Translate this in a way that both halves of the verse are negated (but making a positive statement as the previous note explains). Alternate translation: [indeed, the hope of the afflicted will not perish forever] or [neither will the hope of the afflicted perish forever] or (assuming the first half is translated positively) [the hope of the afflicted lives on]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT nor} will the hope of the afflicted perish forever
UST It is good for oppressed people to expect him to rescue them because he will do it one day
(תִּקְוַת עֲנוּיִם תֹּאבֵד לָעַד)

Here, hope is spoken of as if it were something that could perish. This would mean that what they hope for does not happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [nor will the oppressed hope forever without results] or [someday what the afflicted hope for will happen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
nor & the hope of	It is good for & to expect him to rescue them because he will do it
the afflicted	oppressed people will & perish	It is good for & to expect him to rescue them because he will do it forever	one day

Psalms 9:19

ULT	UST
Arise, Yahweh! Let not humanity prevail! On your face let nations be judged.	Yahweh, do something! Do not let {evil} people win! {Bring them} to your court and judge them!

ULT Arise
UST do something
(קוּמָה)

Here, Arise represents starting to act. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Take action]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT let nations be judged
UST and judge them
(יִשָּׁפְטוּ גּוֹיִם)

Here judging includes punishing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [let nations be judged and punished]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT On your face
UST Bring them} to your court
(עַל־פָּנֶיךָ)

Here, on your face represents being in Yahweh's presence, which can be considered in his courtroom (as in the UST). If it would be helpful, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In your presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT On your face let nations be judged
UST Bring them} to your court and judge them
(יִשָּׁפְטוּ גּוֹיִם עַל־פָּנֶיךָ)

The expression let nations be judged is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Judge the nations in your presence] or [Take the nations into your presence and punish them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
nations	them
let & be judged	and judge

Psalms 9:20

ULT	UST
Put terror to them, Yahweh! May nations know they are human. Selah	Yahweh, teach them that they must be afraid of you and honor you. Cause {the rulers of} nations to know that they are mortal. Selah

ULT Put terror to them, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, teach them that they must be afraid of you and honor you
(שִׁיתָה יְהוָה | מוֹרָה לָהֶם)

Here, terror is spoken of as something that could be put to the wicked, meaning to cause them to feel terror. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Make them be terrified Yahweh!] or [Terrify them Yahweh!]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT May nations know they are human
UST Cause {the rulers of} nations to know that they are mortal
(יֵדְעוּ גוֹיִם אֱנוֹשׁ הֵמָּה)

Here the psalmist is speaking of nations as if they were living humans. There are two points: (1) nations do not last forever; they pass away or are mortal like humans, and (2) the leaders of nations are not gods, but humans who die. In both instances, they need to recognize that Yahweh is the supreme, never-ending power. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May nations know they are temporary] or [May wicked human kings stop pretending to be eternal gods]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
terror	that they must be afraid of you and honor you
Yahweh	Yahweh
nations	the rulers of} nations
May & know	Cause & to know that
Selah	Selah

Psalms 9:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	this song
of David	David wrote

Psalms 10

Psalms 10 Introduction

Psalm 10 Introduction

Psalms 9–10 as One Psalm

Psalm 9 has a superscription but Psalm 10 does not. This fact and the acrostic nature of the two psalms (lines start with consecutive letters of the alphabet) has led many scholars to believe these two psalms may have originally been written as one psalm. The analysis of the structure of these psalms presented here will assume that. It is recommended that you follow the versification and chapter structure of other Bibles you are familiar with.

Structure and Formatting

The outlines for psalms 9 and 10 are combined here and in the introduction to psalm 10 because they were probably originally one psalm. Your translation will probably be best if you translate them together.

1. Psalm 9:1–10 Praise of the King
2. Psalm 9:11–20 Petition the King
3. Psalm 10:1–11 Persecution of the poor
4. Psalm 10:12–18 Proclamation of the King

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Order and chaos

The first letter of many of the lines of these two psalms follows an acrostic (alphabetic) pattern. In some places, however, this orderly pattern is interrupted. The places where it is interrupted are places where the wicked are mentioned or acting. It is as if the presence of the wicked disrupts the orderliness over even the poetry, but it is restored and kept by Yahweh. If your language has a poetic style which can indicate order and chaos, you may wish to translate:

1. 9:1–4 in an orderly style
2. 9:5–6 in a slightly chaotic style
3. 9:7–15 in an orderly style

4. 9:16–17 in a slightly chaotic style
5. 9:18 in neither
6. 9:19–20 in an orderly style
7. 10:1 in an orderly style
8. 10:2–11 in a very chaotic style
9. 10:12–18 in an orderly style

The fortress and the pit

There are two chiasms in psalm 9. In the first half, Yahweh is compared to a fortress (9) and, poetically, his judgment forms a barrier between the enemies and the psalmist and the oppressed.

1. People trust Yahweh (1–2)
2. Yahweh is a judge (3–4)
3. The enemy (5–6)
4. Yahweh is a king and judge (7–8)
5. People trust Yahweh (9–10)

In the second half, people's prayers poetically encircle the wicked, causing them to fall into their own pit.

1. People pray to Yahweh for help (especially verse 13) (11–14)
2. The wicked are destroyed by their own pit (15–18)
3. People pray to Yahweh for help (19–20)

As you translate this psalm, you will probably have a structure that matches this which may or may not be meaningful in your language. You could also consider if there is a way to poetically "surround" the wicked with the prayers of Yahweh's people and with Yahweh as judge, in the two sections.

Adjectives used as generic nouns:

The adjectives "wicked, afflicted, innocent", and "oppressed" are nominal adjectives used as generic nouns in these psalms. See Nominal Adjectives and Generic Noun Phrases.

See: Poetry

CCBYSA

Portions of the ULT, UST, and TNs for this psalm are derivative from “Psalms, Layer by Layer” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Welcome), “Psalm 10” (https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/Psalm_10) by Cambridge Digital Bible Research, Katie Frost, Meaghan Smith, Nikki Mustin et al, used under CC BY

See their overview video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VRQZ1eytMJ8) and top three exegetical issues in Psalm 10 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=W4w8G32hfyI) and their top three poetic features of Psalms 9–10 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=moXvQUAMudo) on YouTube.

Psalms 10:1

ULT	UST
Why, Yahweh, do you stand far-off? {Why} do you hide in times of trouble?	Yahweh, please do not stay far away from us. Please let us find you when enemies threaten us.

ULT Why, Yahweh, do you stand far-off? {Why} do you hide in times of trouble

UST Yahweh, please do not stay far away from us. Please let us find you when enemies threaten us

(לָמָה יְהוָה תַּעֲמֹד בְּרָחֹק תַּעְלִים לְעִתּוֹת בַּצָּרָה)

The speaker is using the question form to express his distress that Yahweh has not helped him. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, it seems as though you are far away from me and you hide from me whenever I am in trouble.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT in times of trouble

UST when enemies threaten us

(לְעִתּוֹת בַּצָּרָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trouble, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when we are troubled]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
trouble	when enemies threaten us

Psalms 10:2

ULT	UST
In arrogance, the wicked hotly pursue the afflicted; may they be caught by the schemes that they have planned.	Wicked people proudly chase people until they can oppress them. Yahweh, please make the bad things they plan to do to others happen to them instead.

ULT In arrogance
UST proudly
(בְּגַאֲוַת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of arrogance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Arrogantly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the wicked
UST Wicked people
(רָשָׁע)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT may they be caught by the schemes that they have planned
UST Yahweh, please make the bad things they plan to do to others happen to them instead
(יִתְפְּשׂוּ | בְּמִזְמֹות זוּ חָשָׁבוּ)

It is not clear who they are. Options include: (1) that they are the wicked in both cases. In that case this would either be a prediction or a wish. This would fit with what is said in 9:15–16. Alternate translation: [the wicked are caught by the schemes that they themselves have planned] or [may the wicked be caught by the schemes that they themselves have planned] or (2) the first they is the afflicted and the second is the wicked. This would fit with the very negative outlook of 10:1–11. Alternate translation: [the afflicted are caught by the schemes that the wicked have planned]. You may wish to follow the choice that translations you are familiar with have made.

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT may they be caught by the schemes that they have planned
> UST Yahweh, please make the bad things they plan to do to others happen to them instead
> (יִתָּפְשׂוּ | בְּמִזְמוֹת זוּ חָשָׁבוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of schemes, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [they are caught in the traps they have planned] or [they are caught in their own scheming]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	Wicked people
the afflicted	people until they can oppress them

Psalms 10:3

ULT	UST
Indeed, the wicked boasts about the desires of his soul and he blesses the robber; he despises Yahweh.	A wicked person even brags about what he strongly wants to do. He praises people who unjustly take things from other people. He curses Yahweh.

ULT Indeed
UST even
(כִּי)

Alternate translation: [For]

ULT the wicked
UST A wicked person
(רָשָׁע)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the desires of his soul
UST what he strongly wants to do
(תַּאֲוַת נַפְשׁוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of desires, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what his soul longs to do]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and he blesses the robber; he despises Yahweh
UST He praises people who unjustly take things from other people. He curses Yahweh
(וּבֹצֵעַ בֵּרַךְ נִאֵץ | יְהוָה)

It is difficult to discern who is the subject and object of both verbs in the second half of this verse. Additionally, some believe that blesses is an euphemism for “curses” here. The ULT seeks to offer a reasonable translation where the wicked is the subject throughout (occurrences of he in the ULT refer to the wicked). You may wish to follow the rendering of a translation in your region that you are familiar with. Alternate translation: [and the robber curses and disrespects Yahweh] or [and he blesses the robber whom Yahweh despises]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and & the robber
UST people who unjustly take things from other people
(וּבֹצֵֽעַ)

Alternate translation: [and … the greedy]

ULT he despises
UST He curses
(נִאֵ֣ץ)

Alternate translation: [he spurns] or [he rejects]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	A wicked person
boasts	brags
his soul	what he strongly wants to do
he blesses	He praises
and & the robber	people who unjustly take things from other people
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 10:4

ULT	UST
According to the haughtiness of his nose the wicked seeks not; All his thoughts {are}, "{There is} no God."	The wicked person is so proud that he does not care {about God}. He plans {to do evil things} as if there was no God.

ULT According to the haughtiness of his nose
UST is so proud
(כְּגֹבַהּ אַפּוֹ)

Here, the haughtiness of his nose is a common expression of the culture that means pride or arrogance. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In his arrogant attitude] or [In his pride]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT seeks not
UST that he does not care {about God
(בַּל־יִדְרֹשׁ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. It is unclear who does not seek what here. It could be that (1) the wicked seeks not God. They do not fear him or obey him, or (2) the wicked think that God does not seek them out or notice them, to punish them. Alternate translation: [thinks God seeks not]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT All his thoughts {are}, "{There is} no God
UST He plans {to do evil things} as if there was no God
(אֵין אֱלֹהִים כָּל־מְזִמֹּתָיו)

Alternate translation: [God is not in all his thoughts]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	The wicked person
seeks	that he does & care {about God
God	God

Psalms 10:5

ULT	UST
His ways endure at every time; your judgments are high from in front of him; {as for} all his enemies, he snorts at them.	What he does always prospers. He ignores doing what you say is right. He makes a mocking noise at all his enemies.

ULT His ways endure
UST What he does & prospers
(יָחִילוּ דרכו)

Here a person's lifestyle is spoken of as if it was ways. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [What he does endures]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your judgments are high from in front of him
UST He ignores doing what you say is right
(מָרוֹם מִשְׁפָּטֶיךָ מִנֶּגְדּוֹ)

Yahweh's judgments are compared to something high above the wicked like a bird or mountain top. This could mean: (1) Yahweh's judgments are far from his thinking; he ignores them. Alternate translation: [he pays no attention to your judgments] or (2) he does not understand Yahweh's judgments. Alternate translation: [your judgments are beyond his comprehension]. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT as for} all his enemies, he snorts at them
UST He makes a mocking noise at all his enemies
(כָּל־צֹרְרָיו יָפִיחַ בָּהֶם)

Here, snorts (blowing air loudly out of the nose) is a symbolic action that expresses contempt and mocking. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [he shows that he thinks that all his enemies are weak and worthless] or [he sneers at all his enemies]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
endure	prospers
time	always
your judgments	He ignores doing what you say is right
his enemies	his enemies

Psalms 10:6

ULT	UST
He says in his heart, “I will not be shaken; to generation and generation {it is I} who {will} not {be} in distress.”	He thinks, “Nothing bad can happen to me! As long as I live, nothing will trouble me.”

ULT I will not be shaken
UST Nothing bad can happen to me
(בַּל־אֶמּוֹט)

Here, I will not be shaken is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Nothing can shake me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to generation and generation
UST As long as I live
(לְדֹר וָדֹר)

To generation and generation is an extreme statement used for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [at any possible time]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT be} in distress
UST will trouble me
(בְּרָע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of distress, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [be distressed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will & be shaken	Nothing bad can happen to me to generation	As long as I live and generation	As long as I live be} in distress	will trouble me

Psalms 10:7

ULT	UST
His mouth is full of curses and lies and oppression; under his tongue are mischief and evil.	He constantly curses, lies, and threatens others. He is always talking about harming others and doing wrong.

ULT His mouth is full of
UST He constantly
(פִּיהוּ מָלֵא)

Here, mouth represents speaking. To say that the mouth is full means he is always speaking curses and lies and oppression. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He is constantly speaking] or [His speech is characterized by]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT under his tongue are
UST He is always talking about
(תַּחַת לְשׁוֹנוֹ)

Here the tongue represents speaking. To say that these things are under his tongue means they are always ready to come out when he talks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what he says is always] or [his speech is characterized by]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT His mouth is full of curses and lies and oppression; under his tongue are mischief and evil
UST He constantly curses, lies, and threatens others. He is always talking about harming others and doing wrong
(אָלָה פִּיהוּ מָלֵא וּמִרְמוֹת וְתֹךְ תַּחַת לְשׁוֹנוֹ עָמָל וָאָוֶן)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of curses and lies and oppression and mischief and evil, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Every word he speaks is harmful, false, or threatening; he always talks about mischievous plans for evil deeds]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
curses	curses
and lies	lies
his tongue are	He is always talking about and evil	and doing wrong

Psalms 10:8

ULT	UST
He sits in ambush near the villages; in the secret places he murders the innocent; his eyes stealthily watch for a helpless person.	He hides outside villages to surprise attack people. From his secret spot he kills people who have done nothing wrong. From there he sneakily watches for some unlucky person.

ULT the innocent
UST people who have done nothing wrong
(נָקִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of innocent, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [innocent people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his eyes stealthily watch for a helpless person
UST From there he sneakily watches for some unlucky person
(עֵינָיו לְחֵלְכָה יִצְפֹּנוּ)

The eyes represent him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he stealthily watches for a helpless person]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he murders	he kills
the innocent	people who have done nothing wrong
stealthily watch	From there he sneakily watches

Psalms 10:9

ULT	UST
He ambushes in a secret place like a lion in cover; he ambushes to seize the afflicted. He seizes the afflicted by pulling in his net.	He hides in a secret spot like a lion, {crouching} in the bushes, waiting for people to catch and oppress. He catches people and drags them away in a net to oppress them.

ULT like a lion in cover
UST like a lion, {crouching} in the bushes
(כְּאַרְיֵ֣ה בְסֻכָּ֑ה)

This is saying that the wicked are like a lion because they hide, lying it wait to ambush their prey like a lion does. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [like a lion ambushes its prey from cover]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT He ambushes in a secret place like a lion in cover; he ambushes to seize the afflicted
UST He hides in a secret spot like a lion, {crouching} in the bushes, waiting for people to catch and oppress
(יֶאֱרֹ֤ב בַּמִּסְתָּ֨ר | כְּאַרְיֵ֪ה בְסֻכֹּ֡ה יֶאֱרֹ֬ב לַחֲטֹ֥ף עָנִ֗י)

In order to follow the original and highlight the parallelism with the previous verse, the ULT leaves out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. In English ambushes requires an object. You could supply these words or modify the sentence structure if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [He ambushes the afflicted in secret like a lion in cover; he ambushes them to seize them] or [He waits secretly in ambush like a lion in cover; he waits to ambush and seize the afflicted] or [He lies in wait in secret like a lion in cover; he lies in wait to seize the afflicted]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT He seizes the afflicted by pulling in his net
UST He catches people and drags them away in a net to oppress them
(יַחְטֹ֥ף עָנִ֑י בְּמָשְׁכ֖וֹ בְּרִשְׁתּֽוֹ)

The writer speaks of the wicked person catching people as if he were a hunter using a net to catch animals. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He seizes the afflicted like a hunter that catches an animal in a net and drags it away]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
like a lion	like a lion
to seize	for people to catch and oppress
the afflicted	for people to catch and oppress
He seizes	He catches

Psalms 10:10

ULT	UST
He stoops, crouches, and unfortunate people fall by his power.	The wicked person makes sure everything is properly prepared so he can oppress his unlucky victim.

ULT and unfortunate people fall by his power
UST so he can oppress his unlucky victim
(וְנָפַל בַּעֲצוּמָ֗יו חלכאים)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of power, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and unfortunate people fall because he is powerful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and & fall	so he can oppress

Psalms 10:11

ULT	UST
He says in his heart, “God has forgotten; he has hidden his face; to perpetuity he sees not.”	He convinces himself, “God is not recording what I do. He is not paying attention; he will never notice.”

ULT He says in his heart
UST He convinces himself
(אָמַר בְּלִבּוֹ)

Here saying in his heart means that he thinks or believes something without necessarily speaking it out loud. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He thinks to himself] or [He believes deep down]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT God has forgotten; he has hidden his face; to perpetuity he sees not UST God is not recording what I do. He is not paying attention; he will never notice (שָׁכַח אֵל הִסְתִּיר פָּנָיו בַּל־רָאָה לָנֶצַח)

The object of these sentences is unspoken. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these missing words from the context. Alternate translation: [God has forgotten my deeds; he has hidden his face from my deeds; to perpetuity he sees my deeds not.]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT God has forgotten
UST God is not recording what I do
(שָׁכַח אֵל)

Here, God has forgotten is a common expression from the culture that means that God is not paying attention or does not care about what is happening. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God will not make me pay] or [God does not notice]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT he has hidden his face
> UST He is not paying attention
> (הִסְתִּיר פָּנָיו)

Here, he has hidden his face is a common expression that means that God is deliberately ignoring or not paying attention to what is happening. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he averts his eyes] or [he does not care]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT to perpetuity he sees not
> UST he will never notice
> (בַּל־רָאָה לָנֶצַח)

This is an exaggeration to emphasize the wicked person's belief that God will never intervene or punish him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [what I do is completely invisible to him]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God

Psalms 10:12

ULT	UST
Arise, Yahweh! God, lift up your hand! Do not forget the afflicted ones.	Do something, Yahweh! Prove that you are powerful, God! Pay attention to oppressed people!

ULT Arise
UST Do something
(קוּמָה)

Here, Arise represents doing something or taking action. If it would be helpful, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Take action]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT lift up your hand
UST Prove that you are powerful
(נְשָׂא יָדֶךָ)

Here the hand represents God's power. To lift up the hand means to use it. If it would be helpful, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [use your power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
God	God
the afflicted ones	to oppressed people

Psalms 10:13

ULT	UST
Why does the wicked despise God? He says in his heart, “You will not seek.”	Do not let wicked people curse you, God! Do not let him believe that you do not care about his evil deeds!

ULT He says in his heart, “You will not seek UST Do not let him believe that you do not care about his evil deeds
(אָמַר בְּלִבּוֹ לֹא תִדְרֹשׁ)

Here saying in his heart means that he thinks or believes something without necessarily speaking it out loud. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He thinks to himself, “You will not seek] or [He believes deep down, “You will not look]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT You will not seek
UST that you do not care about his evil deeds
(לֹא תִדְרֹשׁ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. It is clearer here than in 10:3 who is seeking what. The wicked think that God does not seek them out, or notice them, to punish them. Alternate translation: [You, God, will not punish me]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
God	God
You will & seek	that you do not care about his evil deeds

Psalms 10:14

ULT	UST
You have seen! Indeed, you notice mischief and vexation to take {it} in your hand. The helpless person entrusts {himself} to you; as for the orphan you, {even} you, are {his} helper.	Surely you see everything! You pay attention to how wicked people hurt and frustrate other people so that you can punish those wicked people. Unlucky people trust that you will protect them. You help orphans.

ULT You have seen
UST you see everything
(רָאִ֣יתָה)

There is a strong contrast between what the wicked think in the previous verse and what the psalmist declares to be the truth in this verse. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [But you do seek, and you have seen] or [However you really do see]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT mischief and vexation
UST hurt and frustrate other people
(עָ֭מָל וְכַ֣עַס)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of mischief and vexation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [the mischievous and vexing things they do]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to take {it} in your hand
UST so that you can punish those wicked people
(לִתֵּ֣ת בְּיָדֶ֑ךָ)

Here, to take it in your hand represents exercising power to take control of a situation. If it would be helpful, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to powerfully intervene]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
entrusts {himself	trust that & will protect them

Psalms 10:15

ULT	UST
Break the arm of the wicked and the evil. May it seek his wickedness, {but} not find {it}.	Cause people who are always doing very evil things to become powerless! When someone tries to oppress other people may he discover he cannot do it.

ULT Break the arm of the wicked and the evil
UST Cause people who are always doing very evil things to become powerless
(שְׁבֹר זְרוֹעַ רָשָׁע וְרָע)

Here, arm represents power. If it would be helpful, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Destroy the power of wicked and evil people] or [Make wicked and evil people weak]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the wicked
UST people who are always doing very evil things
(רָשָׁע)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and the evil
UST people who are always doing very evil things
(וְרָע)

The psalmist is using the adjective evil as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [and evil people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the wicked and the evil
UST people who are always doing very evil things
(רָשָׁע וְרָע)

The terms wicked and evil mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [the very wicked] or [the very evil]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT May it seek his wickedness, {but} not find {it
UST When someone tries to oppress other people may he discover he cannot do it (תִּדְרוֹשׁ־רִשְׁעוֹ בַל־תִּמְצָא)

There is significant debate about who or what may seek and find. The interpretation suggested here is that the wicked and evil people's arm (power for harm) is personified as looking to do the evil they have planned but is unable to because Yahweh has broken the arm (power). If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May the wicked, evil person try to use his power for harm but discover you have destroyed it]; or another common interpretation is that Yahweh will seek out (hunt down, punish) the wicked, evil person's wickedness until he can no longer find it (because it is eradicated). Alternate translation: [Hunt down his wickedness until no more can be found]. You may wish to follow the interpretation of a translation commonly used in your region. For more information, see the Psalms layer by layer exegetical discussion at https://psalms.cdbr.org/w/The_Division_of_Psalm_10:15.

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	people who are always doing very evil things and the evil	people who are always doing very evil things
May it seek	When someone tries to oppress other people
his wickedness	When someone tries to oppress other people

Psalms 10:16

ULT	UST
Yahweh is king forever and ever; the nations have perished from his land.	Yahweh reigns eternally! Foreign people no longer occupy his land.

ULT the nations have perished from his land
UST Foreign people no longer occupy his land
(אָבְדוּ גּוֹיִם מֵאַרְצוֹ)

The expression the nations have perished is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh forces foreigners to leave his land]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
is king	reigns forever	eternally
the nations	Foreign people have perished	no longer occupy
from his land	his land

Psalms 10:17

ULT	UST
The desire of afflicted ones, you have heard, Yahweh; you strengthen their heart, you cause your ear to attend:	Yahweh, when oppressed people ask you to help, you listen and encourage them. You pay close attention,

ULT The desire of afflicted ones, you have heard
UST when oppressed people ask you to help, you listen
(תַּאֲוַ֣ת עֲנָוִ֣ים שָׁמַ֣עְתָּ)

The implication is that the afflicted people expressed their desire for mercy to Yahweh. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [When afflicted people told you about their desire for mercy, you listened to them tell you what they needed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you strengthen their heart
UST and encourage them
(תָּכִ֣ין לִבָּ֑ם)

Here, a strong heart represents courage and you strengthen their heart represents encouraging them. If it would be helpful, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you encourage them] or [you make them confident]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT you cause your ear to attend
UST You pay close attention
(תַּקְשִׁ֖יב אָזְנֶֽךָ)

Here the psalmist speaks of the ear as if it were a person who could attend to, listen, or pay attention. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your ear hears] or [you listen carefully]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
afflicted ones	oppressed people
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 10:18

ULT	UST
to judge the orphan and oppressed; {that} mankind {who is} from the earth will never again terrify.	so you can act justly for the orphans and oppressed people. You will stop any mere human from ever terrifying them again.

ULT to judge
UST so you can act justly
(לִשְׁפֹּט)

The implication is that Yahweh will judge in favor of the orphan and oppressed. You could include this information in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to administer justice for] or [to judge in favor of]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT terrify
UST terrifying them
(לַעֲרֹץ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [terrify anyone] or [terrify the orphan and the oppressed]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to judge	so you can act justly
terrify	terrifying them

Psalms 11

Psalms 11 Introduction

Psalm 11 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 11 is considered to be one of the “psalms of trust.” (See the Introduction to Psalms.) He will judge the wicked and reward the righteous. (See: deliver, deliverer, deliverance, delivered and good, right, pleasant, better, best, goodness and evil, wicked, wickedness, unpleasant)

1. David asserts his trust in God (1a)
2. The words of David’s advisors (1b–3)
3. David’s response to the words of his advisors (4–5)
4. David asks God to judge righteously (6–7)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Justice

David says that wicked people try to destroy righteous people, but God knows everything that evil people try to do. David says that “Yahweh is righteous” (7) and “he hates those who love to do violence” (5). David asks God to judge the wicked (6) and says that “the upright” will be rewarded by seeing his face (7). (See: just, justice, unjust, injustice, justify, justification and save, saved, safe, salvation, rescue)

Psalms 11:1

ULT	UST
To the chief musician; of David. In Yahweh I take refuge. How can you say to my soul, “Flutter {like} a bird to your mountain.	This is a note for the worship leader: This is a psalm of David. I trust that Yahweh will protect me. So do not say to me, “You need to escape to the mountains like birds do,

ULT To the chief musician
UST This is a note for the worship leader
(לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT In Yahweh I take refuge
UST I trust that Yahweh will protect me
(בַּיהוָה | חָסִיתִי)

Here David is speaking as if Yahweh were actually a physical place of safety or shelter. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I trust in Yahweh to keep me safe] or [I depend on Yahweh to protect me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT How can you say to my soul
UST So do not say to me
(אֵיךְ תֹּאמְרוּ לְנַפְשִׁי)

David is using the question form to challenge what people are telling him. His question continues from this verse to the end of verse 3. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should not say to my soul]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT can you say to my soul
> UST say to me
> (תֹּאמְרוּ לְנַפְשִׁי)

The psalmist is using my soul to represent all of himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [can you say to me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT Flutter {like} a bird to your mountain
> UST You need to escape to the mountains like birds do > (נודו הַרְכֶם צִפּוֹר)

Here the speaker's advisors are speaking of him as if he were actually a bird that should fly away to safety in the mountains. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Run away and hide in the mountains] or [Escape to safety in the mountains]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of David	This is a psalm of David
In Yahweh	Yahweh
I take refuge	I trust that & will protect me
to my soul	to me

Psalms 11:1-3

ULT How can you say to my soul, “Flutter {like} a bird to your mountain.For behold, the wicked, they bend a bow; they have set their arrow on the string to shoot in the darkness at the upright of heart.If the foundations are destroyed, what can the righteous do
UST So do not say to me, “You need to escape to the mountains like birds do,because wicked people have hidden in the darkness. They have pulled back their bowstrings and aimed their arrows to shoot them at godly people {like you}.When people are not punished for doing wrong things, there is nothing righteous people can do
(אֵיךְ תֹּאמְרוּ לְנַפְשִׁי נודו הַרְכֶם צִפּוֹר: כִּי הִנֵּה הָרְשָׁעִים יִדְרְכוּן קֶשֶׁת כּוֹנְנוּ חִצָּם עַל־יֶתֶר לִירוֹת בְּמוֹ־אֹפֶל לְיִשְׁרֵי־לֵב: כִּי הַשֵּׁת תּוֹת יָהֲרֵסוּן צַדִּיק מַה־פָּעָל)

Many Bible scholars think that David’s quote of his advisors begins with the words Flutter like a bird to your mountain and ends at the end of verse three. Some Bible scholars think that Flutter like a bird to your mountain are the only words of his advisors that David is quoting and that verses 2–3 are his own words. The ULT and UST follow option one. If a translation exists in your region that follows option two, you may wish to follow that option.

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

Psalms 11:2

ULT	UST
For behold, the wicked, they bend a bow; they have set their arrow on the string to shoot in the darkness at the upright of heart.	because wicked people have hidden in the darkness. They have pulled back their bowstrings and aimed their arrows to shoot them at godly people {like you}.

ULT For behold
UST because & They (כִּ֤י הִנֵּ֨ה)

The psalmist is using the term behold to focus his listeners' attention on what he is about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Listen carefully] or [Pay attention to this]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(הָֽרְשָׁעִ֗ים)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1. Alternate translation: [wicked men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT at the upright of heart
UST at godly people {like you
(לְיִשְׁרֵי־לֵֽב)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and motives exist. The phrase upright of heart describes people whose thoughts and motives are morally straight and righteous. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at those who think and act righteously] or [at those who live with pure motives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
bend & they	have pulled back
a bow	their bowstrings
at the upright of	at godly people {like you

Psalms 11:3

ULT	UST
If the foundations are destroyed, what can the righteous do”?	When people are not punished for doing wrong things, there is nothing righteous people can do.”

ULT If the foundations are destroyed, what can the righteous do
UST When people are not punished for doing wrong things, there is nothing righteous people can do
(כִּ֤י הַשָּׁתוֹת֙ יָהֲרֻס֔וּן צַדִּ֖יק מַה־פָּעָֽל)

The speaker is using the question form to emphasize that the righteous cannot do anything if the foundations of society are destroyed. If your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement. [If the foundations are destroyed, the righteous can do nothing.] or [If the foundations are destroyed, there is nothing the righteous can do.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT If the foundations are destroyed, what can the righteous do
UST When people are not punished for doing wrong things, there is nothing righteous people can do
(כִּ֤י הַשָּׁתוֹת֙ יָהֲרֻס֔וּן צַדִּ֖יק מַה־פָּעָֽל)

This question is the end of what people are saying to David, which he uses the question form in verses 1–3 to challenge. If you chose in verse 1 to represent his challenge as a statement or exclamation, end this with a period or exclamation point.

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the foundations are destroyed
UST people are not punished for doing wrong things
(הַשָּׁתוֹת֙ יָהֲרֻס֔וּן)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if the principles of justice and morality were actually foundations of a building. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the principles of justice and morality are destroyed] or [the moral order has broken down]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the righteous
> UST righteous people
> (צַדִּיק)

See how you translated the phrase the righteous in 1:5. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the foundations	people are not punished for doing wrong things are destroyed	people are not punished for doing wrong things
the righteous	righteous people

Psalms 11:4

ULT	UST
Yahweh {is} in his holy temple; Yahweh {is} in the heavens, his throne. His eyes see, his eyelids test the sons of man.	But Yahweh is in his holy sanctuary, he reigns from heaven, and he watches and examines {everything that} people do.

ULT Yahweh {is} in his holy temple; Yahweh {is} in the heavens, his throne
UST But Yahweh is in his holy sanctuary, he reigns from heaven
(יְהוָה | בְּהֵיכַל קָדְשׁוֹ יְהוָה בַּשָּׁמַיִם כִּסְאוֹ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of God's presence in heaven as if he were actually in a temple and as if the heavens were a place with a throne. You could translate the words literally or your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is present in his holy sanctuary and rules as king from heaven]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Yahweh {is} in his holy temple; Yahweh {is} in the heavens, his throne
UST But Yahweh is in his holy sanctuary, he reigns from heaven
(יְהוָה | בְּהֵיכַל קָדְשׁוֹ יְהוָה בַּשָּׁמַיִם כִּסְאוֹ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation, if possible. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is in his holy temple; yes, Yahweh is in the heavens, his throne] or [Yahweh is in his holy temple; indeed, Yahweh is in the heavens, his throne]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Yahweh {is} in the heavens, his throne
UST he reigns from heaven
(יְהוָה בַּשָּׁמַיִם כִּסְאוֹ)

The psalmist is not distinguishing this throne from another throne that is not in heaven. The psalmist is showing God's greatness compared to human rulers who rule from a throne on earth, by adding that the heavens are the place of God's throne (where he rules from). Be sure that this is clear in your translation. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is in the heavens, they are his throne] or [Yahweh's throne is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Distinguishing Versus Informing or Reminding

ULT Yahweh {is} in the heavens, his throne
UST he reigns from heaven
(יְהוָה בַּשָּׁמַיִם כִּסְאוֹ)

Here, God's throne represents his "rule." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh rules from the heavens]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT His eyes see
UST and he watches
(עֵינָיו יֶחֱזֶוּ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [His eyes see the sons of men] or [His eyes see everything that people do]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT His eyes see, his eyelids test
UST and he watches and examines
(עֵינָיו יֶחֱזֶוּ עַפְעַפָּיו יִבְחֲנוּ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation, if possible. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [His eyes see, yes, his eyelids test] or [His eyes see, indeed, his eyelids test]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT His eyes see, his eyelids test
UST and he watches and examines
(עֵינָיו יֶחֱזֶוּ עַפְעַפָּיו יִבְחֲנוּ)

Here, eyes and eyelids represent God's ability to see and evaluate everything people do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [He sees, he tests]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the sons of man
> UST everything that} people do
> (בְּנֵי אָדָם)

The psalmist is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean “all human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the children of mankind] or [every human being]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	But Yahweh
his holy	his holy
is} in & temple	is in & sanctuary is} in the heavens	from heaven
his throne	reigns
test	and examines

Psalms 11:5

ULT	UST
Yahweh tests the righteous and the wicked, and the one loving violence his soul hates.	Yahweh examines what righteous people do and what wicked people do, and he hates those who love to do violent things.

ULT the righteous
UST what righteous people do
(צַדִּיק)

See how you translated the phrase the righteous in 1:5. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and the wicked
UST and what wicked people do
(וְרָשָׁע)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1. Alternate translation: [wicked men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT his soul hates
UST he hates
(שָׂנְאָה נַפְשׁוֹ)

The psalmist is using soul to represent all of Yahweh in the act of hating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he hates]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
tests	examines
the righteous	what righteous people do and the wicked	and what wicked people do and the one loving	and & those who love his soul	he

Psalms 11:6

ULT	UST
May he rain snares upon the wicked; fire and brimstone and a scorching wind the portion of their cup!	May he send down from the sky traps upon the wicked, and may Yahweh punish them with fire and burning sulfur and scorching hot winds.

ULT the wicked
UST the wicked
(רְשָׁעִֽים)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1. Alternate translation: [wicked men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT fire and brimstone and a scorching wind the portion of their cup
UST and may Yahweh punish them with fire and burning sulfur and scorching hot winds (אֵ֤שׁ וְגָפְרִית֙ וְר֣וּחַ זְלָעָפ֔וֹת מְנָ֥ת כּוֹסָ֑ם)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [may fire and brimstone and a scorching wind be the portion of their cup]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT fire and brimstone and a scorching wind
UST with fire and burning sulfur and scorching hot winds
(אֵ֤שׁ וְגָפְרִית֙ וְר֣וּחַ זְלָעָפ֔וֹת)

The phrase fire and brimstone and a scorching wind could refer to: (1) an actual physical judgment of fire and brimstone such as what happened to the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah in Genesis 19:24–25 (2) a judgment of some type, but not necessarily with fire and brimstone and a scorching wind. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language.

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the portion of their cup
> UST and may Yahweh punish them
> (מְנָת כּוֹסָם)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if the portion of their cup is what the wicked would receive as their share, like a drink that had been poured into their cup. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. If not, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what Yahweh will give them as their punishment]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
snares	traps
the wicked	the wicked

Psalms 11:7

ULT	UST
For Yahweh is righteous, he loves righteousness; the upright will see his face.	Yahweh is completely righteous, and he loves when people do what is righteous. People who do what is right will be able to come into his presence.

ULT he loves righteousness
UST and he loves when people do what is righteous
(צְדָקוֹת אָהֵב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he loves those who do righteous things] or [he loves when people do what is righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the upright
UST People who do what is right
(יְשָׁרִ֑ים)

The psalmist is using the adjective upright as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [upright people] or [those who do what is right]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT will see his face
UST will be able to come into his presence
(יֶחֱזֶ֖ה פָּנָֽימוֹ)

David is using Yahweh's face to represent Yahweh himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will see him]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
is righteous	is completely righteous
he loves	and he loves
righteousness	when people do what is righteous
the upright	People who do what is right

Psalms 12

Psalms 12 Introduction

Psalm 12 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 12 has different types of themes in it. It has elements in it that belong to “lament psalms,” “psalms of trust,” and “imprecatory psalms.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about these types of psalms.

1. David laments that godly people seem to be no more (1)
2. The deceptive speech of wicked people (2)
3. David asks Yahweh to stop men who use their speech for evil purposes (3–4)
4. Yahweh’s response to the mistreatment of “the poor” and “the needy” (5)
5. Yahweh’s speech is perfect and trustworthy (6)
6. Yahweh’s “the poor” and “the needy” (7)
7. David observes the prideful boldness of wicked men as a result of society not condemning their evil actions (8)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Yahweh saves “the poor” and “the needy” from the oppressive acts of wicked people

Even though wicked people are temporarily succeeding in oppressing poor and needy people, Yahweh sees and will help “the poor” and “the needy” people who long for deliverance from their oppression (5). (See: save, saved, safe, salvation, rescue)

Words

A major focus of this psalm is the deceptive and prideful words that wicked people use (2–4). This psalm then shows that Yahweh’s speech, in contrast to the speech of wicked people, is morally perfect and trustworthy (6).

Psalms 12:1

ULT	UST
Help, Yahweh, for the faithful have come to an end; for the faithful have vanished from {among} the sons of man.	Yahweh, help us! {It seems like} people who honor you are no more.

ULT the faithful
UST people who honor you
(חָסִיד)

See how you translated the phrase the godly in 4:3. Alternate translation: [godly people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT from {among} the sons of man
UST are no more
(מִבְּנֵי אָדָם)

The psalmist is using the sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean “all human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the human race] or [from humanity]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Help	help us
Yahweh	Yahweh
the faithful	people who honor you
the faithful	people who honor you

Psalms 12:2

ULT	UST
Man, they speak falsehood with his neighbor; they speak {with} lip of smoothness, with a heart and a heart.	Everyone tells lies to other people; they deceive others by saying good things about them that they know are not true and by speaking insincerely.

ULT Man, they speak falsehood with his neighbor
UST Everyone tells lies to other people
(שָׁוְא | יְדַבְּרוּ֣ אִישׁ אֶת־רֵעֵ֑הוּ)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific Man. He means all wicked people among mankind in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Mankind speaks with falsehood with their neighbors]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT falsehood
UST lies
(שָׁוְא)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of falsehood, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [lies] or [what is untrue]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his neighbor
UST other people
(רֵעֵ֑הוּ)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if anyone a person speaks to were actually their neighbor. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [other people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with} lip of smoothness, with a heart and a heart
UST deceive others & good things about them that they know are not true and by speaking insincerely
(שִׂפַת חֲלַקּוֹת בְּלֵב וָלֵב)

These two phrases, with lip of smoothness and with a heart and a heart, mean very similar things. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating a similar idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [with deceptive flattery]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT with} lip of smoothness
UST deceive others & good things about them that they know are not true
(שִׂפַת חֲלַקּוֹת)

The psalmist is using lip of smoothness as a common expression of his culture to mean “flattering speech.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with flattering words]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT with & with a heart and a heart
UST to & and by speaking insincerely
(אֶת & בְּלֵב וָלֵב)

The psalmist is using with a heart and a heart as a common expression of his culture to mean “with divided loyalty” or “with deceitful intentions.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with deceitful hearts] or [speaking dishonestly]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
his neighbor	other people

Psalms 12:3

ULT	UST
May Yahweh cut off all lips of smoothness, the tongue speaking great things,	Yahweh, we wish that you would cut off their tongues {so that} they cannot continue to boast.

ULT May Yahweh cut off all lips of smoothness
UST Yahweh, we wish that you would cut off their tongues {so that} they cannot continue to boast (יַכְרֵת יְהוָה כָּל־שִׂפְתֵי חֲלָקוֹת)

The psalmist is using cut off as a common expression of the culture to mean “destroy” or “bring to an end.” See how you translated the expression “with lip of smoothness” in the previous verse. So in this context, cut off all lips of smoothness means “bring to an end all those who speak with flattering lips.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May Yahweh bring to an end all people who speak with flattering words] or [May Yahweh stop all people who speak with flattering speech]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the tongue speaking great things
UST their tongues {so that} they cannot continue to boast
(לָשׁוֹן מְדַבֶּרֶת גְּדֹלוֹת)

Here, tongue represents a person who speaks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the person speaking great things]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the tongue speaking great things
UST their tongues {so that} they cannot continue to boast
(לָשׁוֹן מְדַבֶּרֶת גְּדֹלוֹת)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [May Yahweh cut off the tongue speaking great things]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT speaking great things
> UST their tongues {so that} they cannot continue to boast
> (מְדַבֶּרֶת גְּדֹלוֹת)

The implication is that the people who are speaking great things are bragging and making proud claims. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [that brags] or [that makes proud claims]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
the tongue	their tongues {so that} they cannot continue to boast

Psalms 12:4

ULT	UST
which say, “With our tongue we will make strong. Our lips {are} with us, who {is} master over us?”	They say, “By speaking untruthfully we will get what we want; we control what we say, no one can tell us what we should do!”

ULT which say
UST They say
(אֲשֶׁר אָמְרוּ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [lips which say]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT With our tongue we will make strong. Our lips {are} with us
UST By speaking untruthfully we will get what we want; we control what we say (לְלְשֹׁנֵנוּ נְגָבִיר שְׂפָתֵינוּ אִתָּנוּ)

Here, tongue and lips represent speech and the ability to speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [We will prevail through what we say. We can speak as we please]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT With our tongue we will make strong
UST By speaking untruthfully we will get what we want (לְלְשֹׁנֵנוּ נְגָבִיר)

Here the wicked people are speaking of their tongue as if it were a weapon that could defeat others. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [By our speech we will defeat others] or [We will overpower others with our words]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT Our lips {are} with us
> UST we control what we say
> (שְׂפָתֵינוּ אִתָּנוּ)

The implication is that these speakers are claiming to be in complete control of what they say and do not need to answer to anyone else. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [We can say whatever we want]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT who {is} master over us
> UST no one can tell us what we should do > (מִי אָדוֹן לָנוּ)

The speakers are using the question who is master over us? as a way of making a defiant statement. They are not expecting an answer but are expressing their belief that no one has authority over them. If a speaker of your language would not use a question form for this purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [no one will be master over us!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
With our tongue	By speaking untruthfully we is} master	can tell us what we should do

Psalms 12:5

ULT	UST
“Because of oppression of the poor, because of {the} groaning of the needy, Now I will arise,” says Yahweh. “I will place in {the} safety he pants for it.”	{But} Yahweh replies, “I have seen the oppressive things that they have done to helpless people; I have heard those people groaning, so I will take action and rescue the people who are wanting someone to help them.”

ULT Because of oppression of the poor, because of {the} groaning of the needy
UST I have seen the oppressive things that they have done to helpless people; I have heard those people groaning
(מִשֹּׁד עֲנִיִּים מֵאַנְקַת אֶבְיוֹנִים)

These two phrases Because of oppression of the poor and because of the groaning of the needy mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation, if possible. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Because of how the poor are being cruelly oppressed and suffering]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the poor & of the needy
UST to helpless people & those people
(עֲנִיִּים & אֶבְיוֹנִים)

The psalmist is using the adjectives poor and needy as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate these adjectives with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [poor people … of needy people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT because of {the} groaning of the needy
UST I have heard those people groaning
(מֵאַנְקַת אֶבְיוֹנִים)

Here, groaning represents the suffering of the needy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [because the needy are suffering so severely that it causes them to groan] or [because of the suffering of the needy]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Now I will arise
UST so I will take action
(עַתָּה אָקוּם)

Yahweh is using Now I will arise as a common expression of the culture to indicate that he is about to take action against those who oppress the poor and needy. He is not saying that he will get out of bed or stand up from a seated position. If this expression does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Now I will take action]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT I will place in {the} safety
UST and rescue
(אָשִׁית בְּיֶשַׁע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of safety, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I will keep safe]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT he pants for it
UST the people who are wanting someone to help them
(יָפִיחַ לוֹ)

Here Yahweh is speaking as if someone were actually panting for safety like a thirsty person pants for water. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he longs for it]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT he pants for it
UST the people who are wanting someone to help them
(יָפִיחַ לוֹ)

It might seem that the expression he pants for contains extra information that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, you could shorten it. Alternate translation: [he pants for] or [he longs for]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	But} Yahweh

Psalms 12:6

ULT	UST
{The} words of Yahweh {are} pure words, silver refined in a furnace on the ground, purified seven.	Yahweh, what you say is morally pure and you always do what you have said you will do. Your words are {as precious and pure as} silver that has been heated seven times in a furnace {to get rid of all the impure material}.

ULT are} pure words, silver
UST what you say is morally pure and you always do what you have said you will do. Your words are {as precious and pure as} silver
(אֲמָרוֹת טְהוֹרוֹת כֶּסֶף)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if Yahweh's pure words were actually refined silver. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [are pure words, like silver]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT silver refined in a furnace on the ground, purified seven
UST Your words are {as precious and pure as} silver that has been heated seven times in a furnace {to get rid of all the impure material
(כֶּסֶף צָרוּף בַּעֲלִיל לְאֶרֶץ מְזֻקָּק שִׁבְעָתָיִם)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if God's promises were actually silver refined in a furnace on the ground, purified seven times. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. If not, you could state this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [like silver that is refined in a furnace on the ground seven times]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT silver refined in a furnace on the ground, purified seven
UST Your words are {as precious and pure as} silver that has been heated seven times in a furnace {to get rid of all the impure material
(כֶּסֶף צָרוּף בַּעֲלִיל לְאֶרֶץ מְזֻקָּק שִׁבְעָתָיִם)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [silver that is refined in a furnace on the ground seven times] or [pure like silver that is refined seven time in a furnace on the ground]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
are} pure	what you say is morally pure and you always do what you have said you will do
silver	Your words are {as precious and pure as} silver in a furnace	that has been heated & in a furnace

Psalms 12:7

ULT	UST
You Yahweh, you will keep them. You will protect him from this generation for eternity.	Yahweh, we know that you will continually protect us who honor you from those wicked people.

ULT You Yahweh, you will keep them
UST Yahweh, we know that you will & protect us who honor you
(אַתָּה־יְהוָה תִּשְׁמְרֵם)

David is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you will keep them already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that it is Yahweh himself who will keep and protect “the poor” and “the needy” mentioned in verse 5. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [Indeed, it is you Yahweh who will keep them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT You Yahweh, you will keep them. You will protect him
UST Yahweh, we know that you will & protect us who honor you
(אַתָּה־יְהוָה תִּשְׁמְרֵם תִּצְּרֶנּוּ)

These two phrases you will keep them and You will protect him mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [You yourself, Yahweh, will surely keep the poor and the needy safe]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT You Yahweh, you will keep them. You will protect him
UST Yahweh, we know that you will & protect us who honor you
(אַתָּה־יְהוָה תִּשְׁמְרֵם תִּצְּרֶנּוּ)

The pronoun them refers to the poor and needy people, while the pronoun him also refers to these same people. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [You yourself Yahweh will keep the poor and needy. You will protect the poor and the needy]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT for eternity
> UST continually
> (לְעוֹלָם)

The psalmist assumes that readers will know that the phrase for eternity means “forever” or “continually.” You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [forever]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
you will keep them	we know that you will & protect us who honor you generation	those wicked people
for eternity	continually

Psalms 12:8

ULT	UST
The wicked walk about on every side when vileness is high among the sons of man.	When people praise wicked actions, wicked people strut around {proudly}.

ULT The wicked walk about on every side when vileness is high among the sons of man
UST When people praise wicked actions, wicked people strut around {proudly (סָבִיב רְשָׁעִים יִתְהַלֵּכוּן כְּרֹם זֻלּוֹת לִבְנֵי אָדָם)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that The wicked walk about on every side describes. Alternate translation: [When vileness is exalted among the sons of man, the wicked ones walk about on every side]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT The wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

See how you translated the phrase the wicked in 1:1. Alternate translation: [The wicked people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT walk about
UST strut & proudly
(יִתְהַלֵּכוּן)

By walk about, the psalmist means that the wicked walk around freely doing evil things without anyone stopping them and that they walk around proudly as a result of being able to do evil things. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [walk about freely] or [walk about proudly]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT when vileness is high
UST When & praise wicked actions
(כְּרֹם זֻלּוֹת)

The implication is that wicked people are the ones who are promoting or honoring vileness. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when people exalt vileness]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT when vileness is high
> UST When & praise wicked actions
> (כְּרֹ֣ם זְלֽוּת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of vileness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when what is vile is exalted]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT among the sons of man
> UST people
> (לִבְנֵ֖י אָדָֽם)

The psalmist is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean “human beings” or “people.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [among people] or [among humanity]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wicked	wicked people

Psalms 12:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT on Sheminith
> UST Perform it in a low range
> (עַל־הַשְּׁמִינִית)

See how you translated the term Sheminith in the superscription to Psalm 6.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	this song
of David	David wrote

Psalms 13

Psalms 13 Introduction

Psalm 13 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 13 is considered to be one of the “lament psalms.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the lament psalms.

1. David calls out to Yahweh regarding Yahweh’s seeming inattention to his troubles (1–2)
2. David asks Yahweh to “consider” and “answer” him and tells Yahweh what the result will be if Yahweh does not help him (3–4)
3. David expresses his trust in Yahweh’s “covenant faithfulness” and the fact that he will “rejoice” because of his hope that Yahweh will save him (5)
4. David will sing to Yahweh because of Yahweh’s kind actions towards him (6)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Yahweh’s help

In this psalm David expresses to Yahweh that he desperately needs his help or else he will die (3) resulting in his enemies rejoicing at his downfall (4). David then affirms that he trusts that Yahweh’s “covenant faithfulness” will cause Yahweh to save him from his enemies and he will “sing to Yahweh” and “rejoice” as a result of Yahweh saving him. The word “salvation” in 13:5 refers to help or deliverance from one’s enemies. (See: save, saved, safe, salvation, rescue, deliver, deliverer, deliverance, delivered and call, called)

Psalms 13:1

ULT	UST
How long, Yahweh? Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me?	Yahweh, how long will you continue to not answer me? How long will you hide yourself from me?

ULT How long, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, how long
(עַד־אָנָה יְהוָה)

David is probably implying the words “will you forget me,” but since the next two phrases in this verse indicates what David is asking Yahweh, you do not need to fill in the implied words in this phrase.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT Will you forget me forever
UST will you continue to not answer me
(תִּשְׁכָּחֵנִי נֶצַח)

The implication is that forget means “not help.” You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Will you not help me forever] or [Will you not ever answer me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT will you hide your face from me
UST will you hide yourself from me
(תַּסְתִּיר אֶת־פָּנֶיךָ מִמֶּנִּי)

Here, face represents God’s attention and favor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [will you continue to ignore me] or [will you keep withdrawing your favor from me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
forever	continue to

Psalms 13:2

ULT	UST
How long must I take counsel in my soul, sorrow in my heart by day? How long will the one being hostile to me be high over me?	How long must I think about my problems within myself? Must I be miserable every day? How long will my enemy defeat me?

ULT in my soul
UST within myself
(בְּנַפְשִׁי)

Here, in my soul represents David's whole self as he experiences emotions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT sorrow in my heart
UST Must I be miserable
(יָגוֹן בִּלְבָבִי)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [having sorrow in my heart]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT sorrow
UST Must & be miserable
(יָגוֹן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sorrow, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [feeling sorrowful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in my heart
UST I
(בִּלְבָבִי)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and feelings exist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in my thoughts] or [in my inner being]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT by day
> UST every day
> (יוֹמָם)

The implication is that David was distressed and in anguish throughout the entire daytime. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [daily] or [continually]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT will the one being hostile to me be high over me
> UST will my enemy defeat me
> (יָרוּם אֹיְבִי עָלָי)

By be high over me, the psalmist means that his enemy will defeat him and triumph over him. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will the one being hostile to me be exalted over me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
counsel	must I think about my problems
in my soul	within myself
by day	every day
the one being hostile to me	my enemy

Psalms 13:3

ULT	UST
Consider {and} answer me, Yahweh my God; give light to my eyes, lest I sleep the {sleep of} death,	Yahweh, my God, pay attention to me and respond to me. Restore my strength by giving me what I have hoped for, or I will die

ULT give light to my eyes
UST Restore my strength by giving me what I have hoped for (הָאִירָה עֵינָי)

Here David is speaking of having energy and hope as if it were light coming into his eyes. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [restore my strength and hope] or [make me feel alive again]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT lest
UST or (פֶּן)

David is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first asks God to help him so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the request. Alternate translation: [otherwise] or [or else]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT I sleep the {sleep of} death
UST I will die
(אִישַׁן הַמָּוֶת)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. If it would be clearer in your language, you can supply these words from the context, as in the ULT, which supplies sleep of.

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT I sleep the {sleep of} death
> UST I will die
> (אִישַׁן הַמָּוֶת)

The psalmist is referring to death in a polite way by using the phrase sleep the sleep of death. Depending on what is helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [I die]

Support Reference: Euphemism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	my God

Psalms 13:4

ULT	UST
Lest the one being hostile to me say, “I have prevailed over him,” {and} my adversaries rejoice when I am shaken.	and then my enemy would say, “I have defeated him,” and those who are against me would celebrate when they had defeated me.

ULT Lest the one being hostile to me say
UST and then my enemy would say
(פֶּן־יֹאמַר אֹיְבִי)

David is using the word translated as Lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first asks God to help him (3) so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the request. Alternate translation: [Otherwise the one being hostile to me will say] or [Or else the one being hostile to me will say]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT and} my adversaries rejoice
UST and those who are against me would celebrate (צָרַי יָגִילוּ)

The psalmist is leaving out a word that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. Here the word is either “and” (which the ULT supplies) or “lest.” You can supply the word or words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [lest my adversaries rejoice]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT when
UST when
(כִּי)

The word the ULT translates as when, in this context, could mean: (1) “when” or (2) “because.” Alternate translation: [because]

ULT I am shaken
UST they had defeated me
(אֶמּוֹט)

The expression I am shaken is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [they shake me] or [they overcome me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT I am shaken
> UST they had defeated me
> (אֲמּוֹט)

Here David is speaking of himself as if he were an object that could be shaken. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am overcome] or [I am defeated]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the one being hostile to me	my enemy
and} my adversaries	and those who are against me
rejoice	would celebrate
I am shaken	they had defeated me

Psalms 13:5

ULT	UST
But I have trusted in your covenant faithfulness; let my heart rejoice in your salvation.	But I trust that you will faithfully love me; may I rejoice when you rescue me.

ULT But I
UST But I
(וְאֲנִי)

The psalmist uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between the possibility of his enemies triumphing over him and his trust in Yahweh's faithfulness. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Nevertheless, I] or [However, I]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT in your covenant faithfulness
UST that you will faithfully love me
(בְּחַסְדְּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in all the ways you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT let my heart rejoice
UST may I rejoice
(יָגֵל לִבִּי)

The word the ULT translates as let my heart rejoice, in this context, could mean: (1) "let my heart rejoice" or (2) "will rejoice." Alternate translation: [my heart will rejoice]

ULT let my heart rejoice
UST may I rejoice
(יָגֵל לִבִּי)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and feelings exist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [let everything in me rejoice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT in your salvation
> UST when you rescue me
> (בִּישׁוּעָתֶֽךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because of the way you have saved me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
have trusted	trust
in your covenant faithfulness	that you will faithfully love me
let & rejoice	may & rejoice
in your salvation	when you rescue me

Psalms 13:6

ULT	UST
I will sing to Yahweh, because he has dealt bountifully with me.	Yahweh will do good things for me, so I will sing to him.

ULT I will sing to Yahweh, because he has dealt bountifully with me
UST Yahweh will do good things for me, so I will sing to him
(אָשִׁ֥ירָה לַיהוָ֗ה כִּ֣י גָמַ֣ל עָלָֽי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because Yahweh has dealt bountifully with me, I will sing to him]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT he has dealt bountifully with me
UST Yahweh will do good things for me
(גָמַ֣ל עָלָֽי)

David could be using the past tense he has dealt bountifully: (1) in order to describe something that is going to happen in the future to show that the event will certainly happen. Alternate translation: [he will deal bountifully with me] or (2) to refer to things Yahweh has done for him in the past, in which case you can translate this phrase as in the ULT.

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to Yahweh	to him

Psalms 13:front

> ULT To the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	psalm
of David	This is a & of David

Psalms 14

Psalms 14 Introduction

Psalm 14 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 14 is “wisdom psalm” that describes the difference between how righteous people and wicked people live and the difference between what happens to them. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the Introduction to Psalms.

1. A description of wicked people (1–4)
2. God punishes wicked people but helps his own people (5–7)

Psalms 14:1

ULT	UST
For the chief musician; of David The fool says in his heart, “No God.” They are corrupt, they do a deed abominably. {There is} none doing good.	This is a note for the worship leader: This is a psalm of David. {Only} foolish people say to themselves, “There is no God!” People who say those things do corrupt deeds; they do detestable deeds; hardly anyone does what is right.

ULT For the chief musician
UST This is a note for the worship leader
(לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT The fool
UST Only} foolish people
(נָבָל)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific fool. He means foolish people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A foolish person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT in his heart
UST to themselves
(בְּלִבּוֹ)

Here the heart represents a person’s thoughts. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to himself] or [in his thoughts]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT No God
UST There is no God
(אֵין אֱלֹהִים)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [There is no God]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT They are corrupt, they do a deed abominably
UST People who say those things do corrupt deeds; they do detestable deeds
(הִשְׁחִיתוּ הִתְעִיבוּ עֲלִילָה)

These two phrases, They are corrupt and they do a deed abominably, mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [They behave in ways that are corrupt and terribly wicked]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT They are corrupt
UST People who say those things do corrupt deeds
(הִשְׁחִיתוּ)

The pronoun They refers to foolish people who deny God. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Such foolish people are corrupt]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they do a deed abominably
UST they do detestable deeds
(הִתְעִיבוּ עֲלִילָה)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific deed. He means the deeds of foolish people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [they do deeds abominably] or [what they do is abominable]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of David	This is a psalm of David
The fool	Only} foolish people
God	God
They are corrupt	People who say those things do corrupt deeds
good	what is right

Psalms 14:2

ULT	UST
Yahweh looks down from the heavens on the sons of man to see whether there is one understanding, one seeking God.	Yahweh looks down from heaven and sees humans; {he looks} to see if there are any wise people, {with the result that they are} wise enough that they desire to know him.

ULT the sons of man
UST humans
(בְּנֵי־אָדָם)

The psalmist is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean “human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [human beings]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT one seeking God
UST with the result that they are} wise enough that they desire to know him
(דֹּרֵשׁ אֶת־אֱלֹהִים)

Since the psalmist has already used the name God earlier in this sentence, it may be more natural in your language to use a pronoun here. Alternate translation: [one seeking him]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
from the heavens	from heaven
one understanding	any wise people
one seeking	with the result that they are} wise enough that they desire to know
God	him

Psalms 14:3

ULT	UST
The whole has turned aside. Together they have corrupted themselves. {There is} none doing good, not even one.	But they all do evil and corrupt things; no one does what is right.

ULT The whole has turned aside. Together they have corrupted themselves
UST But they all do evil and corrupt things
(הַכֹּל סָרוּ יַחְדָּו נֶאֱלָחוּ)

These two phrases, The whole has turned aside and Together they have corrupted themselves, mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [All have rebelled, that is, they have all become completely corrupt]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT The whole
UST But they all
(הַכֹּל)

The expression The whole refers back to the “sons of man” in the previous verse. It may be helpful to use a term in your translation that will clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [All of mankind has turned aside]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT The whole has turned aside
UST But they all do evil
(הַכֹּל סָרוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of people abandoning God’s ways as if they had literally turned aside from a path they had been walking on. He means that they stopped living in the manner in which God wants people to live. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [All people have rejected how God wants them to live] or [Everyone has stopped obeying God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT There is} none doing good, not even one
UST no one does what is right
(אֵין עֹשֵׂה־טּוֹב אֵ֣ין גַּם־אֶחָֽד)

The psalmist is saying none and not even one as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [All people are sinful]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT good
UST what is right
(טּוֹב)

The psalmist is using the adjective good as a noun to mean a certain kind of thing. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [good things] or [what is good]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they have corrupted themselves	and corrupt things
good	what is right

Psalms 14:4

ULT	UST
Do they not know, all of the doers of iniquity, the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread? They do not call {upon} Yahweh.	All the people who make a practice of doing wicked things do not take seriously the fact that Yahweh is going to punish them! They act violently toward Yahweh's people and want to consume them like they consume bread. These evil people never pray to Yahweh.

ULT Do they not know, all of the doers of iniquity, the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread

UST All the people who make a practice of doing wicked things do not take seriously the fact that Yahweh is going to punish them! They act violently toward Yahweh's people and want to consume them like they consume bread

(הֲלֹא יֵדְעוּ֮ כָּל־פֹּ֪עֲלֵי אָ֫וֶן אֹכְלֵ֥י עַמִּ֑י אָ֝כְל֗וּ לֶ֥חֶם)

The psalmist is using the question form to express amazement that wicked people oppress others without recognizing that God will judge and punish them for doing that. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [They ought to know better, the doers of iniquity, the ones eating my people as they eat bread!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread

UST They act violently toward Yahweh's people and want to consume them like they consume bread

(אֹכְלֵ֥י עַמִּ֑י אָ֝כְל֗וּ לֶ֥חֶם)

The point of this comparison is that just as someone can eat bread easily and quickly, so these doers of iniquity readily oppress and exploit vulnerable people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [the ones eating my people as readily as they eat bread]

Support Reference: Simile

> ULT the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread
> UST They act violently toward Yahweh’s people and want to consume them like they consume bread
> (אֹכְלֵי עַמִּי אָכְלוּ לָחֶם)

The psalmist is speaking as if these doers of iniquity were actually eating the people of his nation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones exploiting my people as readily as they eat bread]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they & know	take seriously the fact that Yahweh is going to punish them
iniquity	doing wicked things
the ones eating	They act violently toward & and want to consume
bread	like they consume bread
They do & call {upon	These evil people & pray to
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 14:5

ULT	UST
There they feared a fear, for God {is} with the generation of the righteous.	{But in the future,} at the place God will judge wicked people, they will become very terrified because God will help those who act righteously.

ULT There
UST But in the future,} at the place God will judge wicked people (שָׁ֭ם)

The word the ULT translates as There could refer to: (1) a place. Alternate translation: [At the place God will judge the wicked] or (2) a time. Alternate translation: [At the time God will judge the wicked]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they feared a fear
UST they will become very terrified
(פָּֽחֲדוּ פָ֥חַד)

The psalmist is using a construction in which a verb and its object come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of saying this. Alternate translation: [they feared greatly]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT is} with the generation of the righteous
UST will help those who act righteously
(בְּד֣וֹר צַדִּ֑יק)

By the generation of the righteous, the psalmist means “the people who are righteous.” You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [is with righteous people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT God {is} with the generation of the righteous
UST God will help those who act righteously
(אֱלֹהִ֥ים בְּד֣וֹר צַדִּ֑יק)

The psalmist is using {is} with as a common expression of his culture to mean “helps.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God helps righteous people]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the righteous
> UST act righteously
> (צַדִּיק)

The psalmist is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they feared	they will become very terrified
a fear	they will become very terrified
God	God
is} with the generation of	will help those who
the righteous	act righteously

Psalms 14:6

ULT	UST
You shame the counsel of the afflicted, but Yahweh {is} his refuge.	You evil people try to humiliate poor people, but Yahweh will protect them.

ULT You shame the counsel of the afflicted
UST You evil people try to humiliate poor people
(עֲצַת־עָנִי תְּבִישׁוּ)

The pronoun You refers to the wicked people who do the evil things that are described in the previous verses. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [You wicked people shame the counsel of the afflicted]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT You shame the counsel of the afflicted
UST You evil people try to humiliate poor people
(עֲצַת־עָנִי תְּבִישׁוּ)

The psalmist is using the possessive form the counsel of the afflicted to mean the counsel that poor but godly people have decided to follow, that is, their decision to obey God. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [You wicked people try to humiliate the afflicted for deciding to obey God]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the afflicted
UST poor people
(עָנִי)

The psalmist is using the adjective afflicted as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [an afflicted person] or [people in humble circumstances]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT Yahweh {is} his refuge
UST Yahweh will protect them
(יְהוָה מַחְסָהוּ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of Yahweh as if he were actually a refuge, that is, a place where someone can go to be safe from danger. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh protects him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You shame	You evil people try to humiliate
the counsel of	You evil people try to humiliate
the afflicted	poor people
Yahweh	Yahweh
is} his refuge	will protect them

Psalms 14:7

ULT	UST
Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion? When Yahweh restores the prosperity of his people, Jacob will be glad, Israel will rejoice.	I wish that Yahweh would come from where he dwells in Jerusalem and rescue us Israelite people! When Yahweh blesses us, his people again, then all of us Israelite people will rejoice.

ULT Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion
UST I wish that Yahweh would come from where he dwells in Jerusalem and rescue us Israelite people
(מִֽי יִתֵּ֣ן מִצִּיּ֣וֹן יְשׁוּעַ֣ת יִשְׂרָאֵ֑ל)

The psalmist is using Who will give as a common expression of his culture to introduce a fervent wish. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [O that salvation for Israel would come from Zion!] or [I fervently wish that salvation for Israel would come from Zion!]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion
UST I wish that Yahweh would come from where he dwells in Jerusalem and rescue us Israelite people
(מִֽי יִתֵּ֣ן מִצִּיּ֣וֹן יְשׁוּעַ֣ת יִשְׂרָאֵ֑ל)

The psalmist is using Mount Zion, the location of God's sanctuary, to represent God himself in the act of providing salvation for Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [O that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to provide for the salvation of Israel!] or [I fervently wish that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to provide for the salvation of Israel!]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion
UST I wish that Yahweh would come from where he dwells in Jerusalem and rescue us Israelite people
(מִי יִתֵּן מִצִּיּוֹן יְשׁוּעַת יִשְׂרָאֵל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [O that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to save Israel!] or [I fervently wish that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to save Israel!]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT When Yahweh restores the prosperity of his people
UST When Yahweh blesses us, his people again
(בְּשׁוּב יְהוָה שְׁבוּת עַמּוֹ)

The word that the ULT translates as prosperity can also mean "captivity." If that is the meaning, then this verse could have been added to the psalm later, after the Israelites were conquered and taken into captivity. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to follow the translation that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. Alternate translation: [When God restores the captivity of his people] or [When God brings his people back from captivity]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Jacob will be glad, Israel will rejoice
UST then all of us Israelite people will rejoice
(יָגֵל יַעֲקֹב יִשְׂמַח יִשְׂרָאֵל)

These two phrases, Jacob will be glad and Israel will rejoice, mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Jacob will be glad, yes, Israel will rejoice]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Jacob will be glad, Israel will rejoice
UST then all of us Israelite people will rejoice
(יָגֵל יַעֲקֹב יִשְׂמַח יִשְׂרָאֵל)

The psalmist is using the two names of the ancestor of the Israelites, Jacob and Israel, to represent the Israelites themselves. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The descendants of Jacob will be glad; indeed, the Israelites will rejoice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the salvation of	and rescue
Israel	us Israelite people
from Zion	from where he dwells in Jerusalem
Yahweh	Yahweh
When & restores	When & blesses & again
the prosperity of	When & blesses & again
Jacob	all of us Israelite people will be glad	then & will rejoice
rejoice	then & will rejoice

Psalms 15

Psalms 15 Introduction

Psalm 15 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 15 is considered to be one of the “wisdom psalms.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the wisdom psalms. (See: wise, wisdom)

1. Two parallel rhetorical questions with the same meaning (1)
2. Ten character traits of the type of person Yahweh lets enter his presence (2–5b)
3. The promised reward for the person meeting Yahweh’s requirements (5c)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

The type of person who may enter into God’s presence

Verse one begins with two questions that are both asking the same thing (parallelism). They are both rhetorical questions that are meant to make the reader think intently about the type of behaviors and attitudes that God requires. Verses 2–5b provide the answer to the questions in verse one. They indicate ten character traits that God requires. The last sentence in verse five is the conclusion to this psalm and states the promised reward for meeting Yahweh’s moral requirements. (See: godly, godliness, ungodly, godless, ungodliness, godlessness and good, right, pleasant, better, best, goodness and promise, promised)

Moral Conditions for Worship

Scholars have noted that this psalm contains a list of ten different conditions for those who want to participate in worship at the temple. The list consists of three positives in verse two, three negatives in verse three, two positives in verse four, followed by two negatives in verse five. (See: temple, house, house of God)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Who do the pronouns “he,” “his,” and “him” refer to?

All occurrences of the pronouns “he,” “his,” and “him” refer to the same type of person. The person being described is not one particular person but rather anyone who exhibits the behaviors described in verses 2–5.

Psalms 15:1

ULT	UST
A psalm of David Yahweh, who may sojourn in your tent? Who may dwell on your holy mountain?	A psalm of David. Yahweh, who is allowed to enter your sacred tent? Who is allowed to live on your sacred mountain?

ULT who may sojourn in your tent? Who may dwell on your holy mountain
UST who is allowed to enter your sacred tent? Who is allowed to live on your sacred mountain
(מִי־יָגוּר בְּאָהֳלֶךָ מִי־יִשְׁכֹּן בְּהַר קָדְשֶׁךָ)

These two phrases, who may sojourn in your tent and Who may dwell on your holy mountain, mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [who may sojourn in your tent, yes, who may dwell on your holy mountain]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT who may sojourn in your tent? Who may dwell on your holy mountain
UST who is allowed to enter your sacred tent? Who is allowed to live on your sacred mountain
(מִי־יָגוּר בְּאָהֳלֶךָ מִי־יִשְׁכֹּן בְּהַר קָדְשֶׁךָ)

David uses these two questions to make the reader think deeply about how to live a righteous life. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for this purpose, you could translate these questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [this is the type of person who may sojourn in your tent. This is the type of person who may dwell on your holy mountain.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT may sojourn
UST is allowed to enter
(יָגוּר)

The word sojourn means to be living somewhere, either temporarily or permanently, as a resident alien. By may sojourn, David means someone who is allowed to visit and come as a guest. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [may dwell as a guest] or [may be welcomed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in your tent
UST your sacred tent
(בְּאָהֳלֶךָ)

By your tent, David means Yahweh's Temple that was in Jerusalem on Mount Zion. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [in your temple] or [in your dwelling place]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT on your holy mountain
UST on your sacred mountain
(בְּהַר קָדְשֶׁךָ)

By your holy mountain, David means Mount Zion, the place where Yahweh's Temple was. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [on your holy mountain, Mount Zion]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT who may sojourn in your tent? Who may dwell on your holy mountain
UST who is allowed to enter your sacred tent? Who is allowed to live on your sacred mountain
(מִי־יָגוּר בְּאָהֳלֶךָ מִי־יִשְׁכֹּן בְּהַר קָדְשֶׁךָ)

Here, tent and holy mountain represent Yahweh's presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [who may sojourn in your presence? Who may dwell with you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	A psalm
of David	of David
Yahweh	Yahweh
may sojourn	is allowed to enter
in your tent	your sacred tent
your holy	your sacred

Psalms 15:2

ULT	UST
The one walking blamelessly, and doing righteousness and speaking truth in his heart.	Those whose behavior is faultless and who do righteous things, and who speak the truth.

ULT The one walking blamelessly, and doing righteousness and speaking truth in his heart
UST Those whose behavior is faultless and who do righteous things, and who speak the truth
(הוֹלֵךְ תְּמִים וּפֹעֵל צֶדֶק וְדֹבֵר אֱמֶת בִּלְבָבוֹ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [The person who may enter your presence, Yahweh, is the one walking blamelessly, and doing righteousness, and speaking truth in his heart] or [The person who may sojourn in your house and dwell on your holy mountain is the one walking blamelessly, doing righteousness, and speaking truth in his heart]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT The one walking blamelessly
UST Those whose behavior is faultless
(הוֹלֵךְ תְּמִים)

David is speaking of how a person lives as if that were a way or path that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The one living blamelessly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT The one walking blamelessly, and doing righteousness and speaking truth in his heart
UST Those whose behavior is faultless and who do righteous things, and who speak the truth
(הוֹלֵךְ תְּמִים וּפֹעֵל צֶדֶק וְדֹבֵר אֱמֶת בִּלְבָבוֹ)

David is not referring to a specific one. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Those who walk blamelessly, do righteousness, and speak truth] or [Anyone who walks blamelessly, does righteousness, and speaks truth in his heart]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT righteousness
UST righteous things
(צֶֽדֶק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is right]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and speaking truth
UST and who speak the truth
(וְדֹבֵ֖ר אֱמֶֽת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of truth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and speaking what is true]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and speaking truth in his heart
UST and who speak the truth
(וְדֹבֵ֖ר אֱמֶ֣ת בִּלְבָבֽוֹ)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and intentions exist. The phrase speaking truth in his heart means "speaking the truth within himself in his thoughts" and refers to a person thinking true thoughts within and then speaking out loud to others according to that truth. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly.

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
righteousness	righteous things

Psalms 15:3

ULT	UST
He does not slander with his tongue, he does not do evil to his neighbor, and an insult he does not raise up against one close to him.	They do not slander others. They do not do to others things that are wrong, and they do not say bad things about their friends.

ULT with his tongue
UST They do & slander others
(עַל־לְשֹׁנוֹ)

Here, tongue represents speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with his speech]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT he does not do evil
UST They do not do & things that are wrong
(לֹא־עָשָׂה & רֵעָה)

The psalmist is using the adjective evil as a noun to mean evil things. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [he does not do evil things]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and an insult he does not raise up against one close to him
UST and they do not say bad things about their friends
(וְחֶרְפָּה לֹא־נָשָׂא עַל־קְרֹבוֹ)

By an insult he does not raise up, David means “an insult he does not speak.” You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [an insult he does not speak against one close to him] or [an insult he does not speak against his neighbor]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT one close to him
UST their friends
(קְרֹבוֹ)

By one close to him, David could mean: (1) a person who has a close relationship with him. Alternate translation: [his friend] or (2) a person who lives within a close physical distance from him. Alternate translation: [his neighbor]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
He does & slander	They do & slander others
his tongue	They do & slander others evil	things that are wrong
to his neighbor	to others
and an insult	and they do & say bad things

Psalms 15:4

ULT	UST
In whose eyes one being rejected is despised, but those who fear Yahweh he honors. He swears to his own hurt, and does not change.	They despise the people God abhors, but they respect those who revere Yahweh. They do what they have promised to do, even if it causes them trouble to do that.

ULT In whose eyes
UST They
(בְּעֵינָיו)

The psalmist is using In whose eyes as a common expression meaning “in the judgment of” or “in the opinion of.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In whose judgment] or [In whose opinion]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT one being rejected
UST the people God abhors
(נִמְאָס)

By one being rejected, the psalmist means one whom God has rejected or despised. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [one whom God has rejected]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT In whose eyes one being rejected is despised
UST They despise the people God abhors
(נִבְזֶה | בְּעֵינָיו נִמְאָס)

The expression one being rejected is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [He despises the person God rejects]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT He swears to his own hurt
UST They do what they have promised to do, even if it causes them trouble to do that (נִשְׁבַּע לְהָרַע)

The implication is that he keeps his promise even when doing so will cause him difficulty or loss. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [He keeps his promises even when it costs him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and does not change
UST They do what they have promised to do, even if it causes them trouble to do that (וְלֹא יָמֵר)

The implication is that the person does not change his oath or promise even when circumstances make it difficult or costly to keep. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and does not break his promise]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
one being rejected	the people God abhors
but those who fear	but & those who revere
Yahweh	Yahweh
he honors	they respect
He swears	They do what they have promised to do, even if it causes them trouble to do that to his own hurt	They do what they have promised to do, even if it causes them trouble to do that

Psalms 15:5

ULT	UST
He does not put out his money at interest, and a bribe against the innocent he does not take. The one doing these {things} will not be shaken for eternity.	They lend money to others without charging interest, and they never accept bribes in order to lie about people who have not done anything wrong. Those who do those things will always live in safety.

ULT He does & put out his money at interest
UST They lend money to others & charging interest
(כַּסְפּוֹ & נָתַן בְּנֶשֶׁךְ)

By put out his money at interest, the psalmist means charge interest when lending money. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [He does … charge interest when he lends his money]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the innocent
UST wrong
(נָקִי)

David is using the adjective innocent as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [innocent people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT The one doing these {things} will not be shaken for eternity
UST without & done anything & Those who do those things will always live in safety
(עֹשֵׂה־אֵלֶּה לֹא יִמּוֹט לְעוֹלָם)

David is speaking of the person God accepts as if he were an object that could be shaken. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will ensure that the one doing these things will always live securely] or [Yahweh will protect and provide for the ones doing these things so that the circumstances of life do not overwhelm them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT will not be shaken for eternity
> UST without & will always live in safety
> (לְא יִמּוֹט לְעוֹלָם)

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word shaken. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [will remain secure for eternity]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

> ULT The one doing these {things} will not be shaken for eternity
> UST without & done anything & Those who do those things will always live in safety
> (עֹשֵׂה־אֵלֶּה לְא יִמּוֹט לְעוֹלָם)

See how you translated the phrase “I will not be shaken” in 10:6 and the phrase “when I am shaken” in 13:4. Alternate translation: [Nothing will ever shake the one doing these things]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT will not be shaken for eternity
> UST without & will always live in safety
> (לְא יִמּוֹט לְעוֹלָם)

The psalmist assumes that readers will know that the phrase for eternity means “forever.” You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will never be shaken]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
his money	money to others
and a bribe	bribes
the innocent	wrong
will & be shaken	live in safety
for eternity	will always

Psalms 16

Psalms 16 Introduction

Psalm 16 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 16 is considered to be one of the “psalms of trust.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the psalms of trust.

1. David’s prayer (1)
2. David recalls what he said to Yahweh (2)
3. David’s delight in godly people (3)
4. The sorrows of those who pursue gods besides Yahweh and David’s refusal to participate in their idolatry (4)
5. David acknowledges that Yahweh is in control of his destiny and has greatly blessed him (5–6)
6. David blesses Yahweh for guiding him (7)
7. David’s resolve to continually focus on Yahweh (8a)
8. David’s trust that God will protect him from troubles (8b–c)
9. The result of David’s trust in God (9)
10. David’s trust that God will protect his life (10)
11. David’s acknowledgement that Yahweh has made him know “the path of life” and that an intimate relationship with Yahweh results in abundant and eternal joys (11)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “miktam.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Land and inheritance imagery in 16:5–6.

The historical and cultural background for 16:5–6 is the inheritance of land. 16:6 uses the imagery of measuring cords (lines) which were used to measure and distribute land. These verses probably also have as their background the distribution of the Promised Land to the tribes of Israel and Yahweh promising to be the inheritance of the tribe of Levi. If it would help you to better understand and translate these verses, you can read more about the inheritance of land in Joshua 18–19 and God providing for the Levites in Numbers 18:20–24.

Messiah

In Peter's sermon (Acts 2:14–36), he quotes Psalm 16:8–11 in 2:25–28 and then explains that David was a prophet and was speaking of the resurrection of the Messiah.

(See: resurrection and anoint, anointed, anointing)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

What does David mean by "you will not abandon my soul to Sheol. You will not hand over your godly one to see the pit" in 16:10?

The word "Sheol" refers to the place or location of the dead (where dead people go). The word "pit" also refers to the grave. In this verse David is not saying that God will keep him from ever dying. 1 Kings 2:1–10 records that David died of old age. Here David is asserting his trust that God will save him from dying an unnatural death. In other words, he trusts that God will save him from being killed by evil men. Notice that this psalm begins with a prayer for protection. (See: Hades, Sheol)

Psalms 16:1

ULT	UST
A miktam of David. Protect me, God, for I take refuge in you.	A song of David. God, protect me, because I go to you to keep me safe!

ULT A miktam of David
UST A song of David
(מִכְתָּם לְדָוִד)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a miktam. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT I take refuge in you
UST I go to you to keep me safe
(חָסִיתִי בָךְ)

See how you translated the phrase “I take refuge” in 11:1. Alternate translation: [I am safe because I trust in you] or [I depend on you to protect me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of David	of David
Protect me	protect me
God	God
I take refuge	I go & to keep me safe

Psalms 16:2

ULT	UST
You said to Yahweh, “You are my Lord; my good is not beyond you.”	I said to Yahweh, “You are my Lord; all the good things that I have come from you.”

ULT You said to Yahweh
UST I said to Yahweh
(אָמַרְתְּ לַיהוָה)

The pronoun You refers to David himself. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use David’s name here. Alternate translation: [David said to Yahweh]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT my good is not beyond you
UST all the good things that I have come from you
(טוֹבָתִי בַּל־עָלֶיךָ)

By my good is not beyond you, David means that he does not experience happiness apart from Yahweh and does not experience material blessings or provision apart from Yahweh. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I have no good apart from you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my good is not beyond you
UST all the good things that I have come from you
(טוֹבָתִי בַּל־עָלֶיךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of good, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [both my happiness and material provision come from you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to Yahweh	to Yahweh
my Lord	my Lord
my good	all the good things that I have

Psalms 16:3

ULT	UST
As for the holy {ones} who are on the earth, they are the majestic {ones}; all my delight is in them.	People who try to live holy lives, they are wonderful; I greatly delight in them.

ULT As for the holy {ones
UST People who try to live holy lives
(לִקְדוֹשִׁים)

The term holy ones refers to godly people or faithful believers. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [As for the godly people] or [As for the people who are faithful to Yahweh]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT As for the holy {ones & the majestic {ones
UST People who try to live holy lives & wonderful (לִקְדוֹשִׁים & וְאַדִּירֵי)

David is using the adjectives holy and majestic as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate these adjectives with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [As for the holy people … the majestic people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT all my delight is in them
UST I greatly delight in them
(כָּל־חֶפְצִי־בָם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of delight, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I fully delight in them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
As for the holy {ones	People who try to live holy lives on the earth	People who try to live holy lives
the majestic {ones	wonderful
my delight	I & delight

Psalms 16:4

ULT	UST
Their sorrows will be multiplied, they {who} hasten {after} another {god}. I will not pour out their drink offerings from blood, and I will not take up their names on my lips.	Those who choose to worship other gods will have many things that cause them to be sad. I will not join them when they make sacrifices {to their gods}, and I will not join them in speaking the names of their gods.

ULT Their sorrows will be multiplied, they {who} hasten {after} another {god
UST Those who choose to worship other gods will have many things that cause them to be sad
(יִרְבּוּ עַצְּבוֹתָם אַחֵר מָהָרוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sorrows, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [They will suffer greatly, they who hasten after another god]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT they {who} hasten {after} another {god
UST Those who choose to worship other gods
(אַחֵר מָהָרוּ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context, as in the ULT, if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [those who hasten after another god]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT they {who} hasten {after} another {god
UST Those who choose to worship other gods
(אַחֵר מָהָרוּ)

Here David is speaking as if those who seek out and eagerly worship other gods actually hasten after them. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they who worship another god]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will not pour out their drink offerings from blood
UST I will not join them when they make sacrifices {to their gods
(בַּל־אַסִּיךְ נְסָכֵיהֶם מִדָּם)

By I will not pour out their drink offerings of blood, the psalmist means that he will not participate in the pagan worship practices that involve offering drinks mixed with blood to false gods. You could include this information in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I will not participate in their blood offerings to other gods]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and I will not take up their names on my lips
UST and I will not join them in speaking the names of their gods
(וּבַל־אֶשָּׂא אֶת־שְׁמוֹתָם עַל־שְׂפָתָי)

Here, lips represents speaking or saying something aloud. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I will not speak their names] or [and I will not say their names]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will be multiplied	will have many things
another {god	other gods
their drink offerings	I will & join them when they make sacrifices {to their gods

Psalms 16:5

ULT	UST
Yahweh, the portion of my inheritance and my cup. You are holding my lot.	Yahweh, you have granted to me that I would belong to you, and you supply all of my needs. You control what happens to me.

ULT the portion of my inheritance and my cup. You are holding my lot
UST you have granted to me that I would belong to you, and you supply all of my needs. You control what happens to me
(מְנָת־חֶלְקִי וְכוֹסִי אַתָּה תּוֹמִיךְ גּוֹרָלִי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put the phrase my cup before the phrases the portion of my inheritance and holding my lot. Alternate translation: [my cup. You are the portion of my inheritance, and you are holding my lot] or [you are my cup. You are the portion of my inheritance, and you are holding my lot]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT and my cup
UST and you supply all of my needs
(וְכוֹסִי)

By saying that Yahweh is my cup David could mean: (1) that Yahweh controls his destiny in which case he uses cup to refer to what one drinks and therefore, metaphorically, to what one receives in life. Alternate translation: [and the one who controls my future], or (2) [provision] in which case cup refers to physical provision. Alternate translation: [and the one who gives me great blessings]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the portion of my inheritance
UST you have granted to me that I would belong to you (מְנָת־חֶלְקִי)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were actually the portion of my inheritance. David is alluding to the inheritance of and distribution of land. (See the Introduction to this psalm for more information.) He means that Yahweh is his most valuable possession and the source of all his blessings and sustenance. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my most precious possession, my source of blessing]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT You are holding my lot
UST You control what happens to me
(אַתָּה תוֹמִיךְ גּוֹרָלִי)

Here David is speaking as if God were literally holding his lot, as if his destiny were a physical object that could be grasped in someone's hand. He means that God controls and secures his future. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You are maintaining my lot] or [You are maintaining my destiny]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my inheritance	you have granted to me that I would belong to you
my lot	what happens to me

Psalms 16:6

ULT	UST
{The} measuring cords have fallen for me in pleasant {places}; indeed, {the} inheritance is beautiful for me.	Yahweh has greatly blessed me; I am delighted with all the things that he has given me.

ULT The} measuring cords have fallen for me in pleasant {places}; indeed, {the} inheritance is beautiful for me

UST Yahweh has greatly blessed me; I am delighted with all the things that he has given me

(חֲבָלִים נָפְלוּ־לִי בַּנְּעִמִים אַף־נַחֲלַת שָׁפְרָה עָלָי)

Here David is speaking as if his inheritance from God were actually measuring cords (used to divide land) that have fallen (were put) in pleasant places. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. If not, you could state this as a comparison or in plain language. Alternate translation: [God has given me a delightful inheritance; indeed, what I have received is wonderful]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in pleasant {places	Yahweh has greatly blessed me
the} inheritance	all the things that

Psalms 16:7

ULT	UST
I will bless Yahweh, who has given me counsel; even {in the} night my kidneys instruct me.	I will praise Yahweh, the one who teaches me; even during the night he puts in my mind the right things for me to do.

ULT even
UST even (אַף)

Here the word the ULT translates as even could: (1) be adding an additional thought. Alternate translation: [also,] or (2) be functioning to emphasize or assert what follows it. Alternate translation: [indeed]

ULT my kidneys instruct me
UST he puts in my mind the right things for me to do
(יִסְּרוּנִי כִלְיוֹתָי)

Here the kidneys represent where a person's thoughts and conscience exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language that you could use, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my mind instructs me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my kidneys instruct me
UST he puts in my mind the right things for me to do
(יִסְּרוּנִי כִלְיוֹתָי)

David is speaking of my kidneys as if they were a living thing that could instruct him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh instructs my mind]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT my kidneys instruct me
UST he puts in my mind the right things for me to do
(יִסְּרוּנִי כִלְיוֹתָי)

Here David assumes that readers will know that when he speaks of his mind instructing him, this happens as he thinks about Yahweh and what is pleasing to Yahweh, and probably also as he prays. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [my mind instructs me as I think about Yahweh] or [my mind instructs me as I pray and think about Yahweh]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will bless	I will praise
Yahweh	Yahweh
has given me counsel	teaches me
instruct me	he puts in & the right things for me to do

Psalms 16:8

ULT	UST
I have set Yahweh continually before me, because he is at my right hand, I will not be shaken.	I have chosen to always think about Yahweh. Because he is the one who strengthens and supports me, he will save me from anything that might trouble me.

ULT I have set Yahweh continually before me
UST I have chosen to always think about Yahweh
(שִׁוִּ֣יתִי יְהוָ֣ה לְנֶגְדִּ֣י תָמִ֑יד)

The implication is that David is deliberately making Yahweh his constant focus and priority in life. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I constantly focus on Yahweh] or [In all that I do I am conscious of Yahweh]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he is at my right hand
UST he is the one who strengthens and supports me
(מִֽימִינִ֥י)

David is using he is at my right hand as a common expression of his culture to mean “he is helping me” or “he is protecting me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he is helping me] or [he is protecting me]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT I will not be shaken
UST he will save me from anything that might trouble me
(בַּל־אֶמּֽוֹט)

See how you translated the similar expression in 15:5.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will not be shaken
UST he will save me from anything that might trouble me
(בַּל־אֶמּֽוֹט)

This is a double negative. David uses the negative particle not, with the negative word shaken to express a positive meaning strongly. The phrase I will not be shaken means that David will remain firm and secure. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [he makes me live securely]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
I will & be shaken	he will save me from anything that might trouble me

Psalms 16:8-9

> ULT I have set Yahweh continually before me, because he is at my right hand, I will not be shaken.Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoices. Also, my flesh will dwell in security
> UST I have chosen to always think about Yahweh. Because he is the one who strengthens and supports me, he will save me from anything that might trouble me.Therefore I am very glad, and I can rest securely
> (שִׁוִּיתִי יְהוָה לְנֶגְדִּי תָמִיד כִּי מִימִינִי בַּל־אֶמּוֹט׃ לָכֵן | שָׂמַח לִבִּי וַיָּגֶל כְּבוֹדִי אַף־בְּשָׂרִי יִשְׁכֹּן לָבֶטַח)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of the content of these verses, since 16:8 gives the reason for the result that 16:9 describes. Alternate translation: [My heart is glad, and my glory rejoices. Also, my flesh will dwell in security. This is because I have set Yahweh before me continually, and because he is at my right hand and I know that I will not be shaken]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Psalms 16:9

ULT	UST
Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoices. Also, my flesh will dwell in security.	Therefore I am very glad, and I can rest securely,

ULT my heart is glad, and my glory rejoices
UST I am very glad
(שָׂמַח לִבִּי וַיָּגֶל כְּבוֹדִי)

These two phrases my heart is glad and my glory rejoices mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [my heart is glad, yes, my whole being rejoices] or [my heart is glad, yes, my glory rejoices]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT my heart is glad
UST I am very glad
(שָׂמַח לִבִּי)

Here the heart represents where a person's emotions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am glad] or [I feel glad]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and my glory rejoices
UST I am very glad
(וַיָּגֶל כְּבוֹדִי)

Here, glory represents David's "spirit" and by extension his feelings that come from his spirit (inner person). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I rejoice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT my flesh will dwell
> UST I can rest
> (בְּשָׂרִי יִשְׁכֹּן)

Here, flesh represents David himself, specifically his body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will dwell]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT in security
> UST securely
> (לָבֶטַח)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of security, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [securely]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is glad	am very glad
my glory	I
and & rejoices	am very glad

Psalms 16:10

ULT	UST
For you will not abandon my soul to Sheol. You will not hand over your faithful one to see the pit.	because you, Yahweh, will save me from going to the place where dead people go, yes, you will save me, a godly person, from dying.

ULT my soul
UST me
(נַפְשִׁי)

David is using one part of himself, his soul, to mean all of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT you will not abandon my soul to Sheol. You will not hand over your faithful one to see the pit
UST you, Yahweh, will save me from going to the place where dead people go, yes, you will save me, a godly person, from dying
(לֹא־תַעֲזֹב נַפְשִׁי לִשְׁאוֹל לֹא־תִתֵּן חֲסִידְךָ לִרְאוֹת שָׁחַת)

These two phrases you will not abandon my soul to Sheol and You will not hand over your godly one to see the pit mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [you will save me, your faithful follower, from death] or [you will save me, a godly person, from the grave]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT you will not abandon my soul to Sheol. You will not hand over your faithful one to see the pit
UST you, Yahweh, will save me from going to the place where dead people go, yes, you will save me, a godly person, from dying
(לֹא־תַעֲזֹב נַפְשִׁי לִשְׁאוֹל לֹא־תִתֵּן חֲסִידְךָ לִרְאוֹת שָׁחַת)

See the Introduction to this psalm for a discussion of this phrase. Here, David is referring to Yahweh saving him from evil men who might try to kill him. David is not saying that he will not die of old age. Avoid translating this verse in a way that might make it appear that David thinks he will not die of old age.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT You will not hand over your faithful one to see the pit
UST yes, you will save me, a godly person, from dying
(לֹא־תִתֵּן חֲסִידְךָ לִרְאוֹת שָׁחַת)

David assumes that readers will know that the pit refers to the grave or death. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You will rescue your godly one from death] or [You will rescue your godly one from the grave]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT your faithful one
UST me, a godly person
(חֲסִידְךָ)

Even though David is addressing Yahweh directly, he is speaking of himself in the third person as your godly one to show humility. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in a humble form in the first person. Alternate translation: [me, your godly one]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you will & abandon	you, Yahweh, will save & from going to the place where dead people go
my soul	me
to Sheol	you, Yahweh, will save & from going to the place where dead people go
You will & hand over	yes, you will save your faithful one	me, a godly person
the pit	from dying

Psalms 16:11

ULT	UST
You make known to me the path of life; abundance of joys are before your face; in your right hand are delights forever!	You reveal to me how to live in a way that will make me joyful now and will result in receiving eternal life in the future. You make me joyful when I am with you. You give pleasures forever.

ULT the path of life
UST how to live in a way that will make me joyful now and will result in receiving eternal life in the future
(אֹרַח חַיִּים)

Here David is speaking of how to live as if it were actually the path. The phrase of life indicates he is speaking of living in a way that results in a joyful and blessed life in the present and in the future. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [how to live in a way that results in me being joyful and blessed, both now and in the future]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT are before your face & are delights
UST You make me & when I am with you & pleasures
(אֶת־פָּנֶיךָ נְעִמוֹת)

Here, before your face represents being in Yahweh's presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [are in your presence … are joys] or [are with you … are pleasures]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT are before & in your right hand are delights forever
UST You make me & when I am with you. You give pleasures forever
(אֶת & נְעִמוֹת בִּימִינְךָ נֶצַח)

Here, right hand represents God's power and ability to give something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are before … with you are delights forever] or [are before … you give delights forever]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You make known to me	You reveal to me joys	joyful
are delights	pleasures
forever	forever

Psalms 17

Psalms 17 Introduction

Psalm 17 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 17 is one of five psalms that are labeled as “prayers.” (See: deliver, deliverer, deliverance, delivered and innocent)

1. David asks Yahweh to heed his prayer and pleads his innocence (1–5)
2. David asserts his belief that God will listen to him and answer him and will save everyone who seeks refuge in God (6–7)
3. David asks Yahweh to protect him (8–9)
4. David describes his enemies (10–12)
5. David asks Yahweh to save him by defeating his enemies who are worldly men (13–14)
6. David’s hope (15)

Psalms 17:1

ULT	UST
A prayer of David Listen, Yahweh {to} righteousness. Pay attention to my cry! Give ear to my prayer from lips without deceit.	A prayer of David Yahweh, listen to me while I plead with you to act justly toward me. Hear me while I call out to you to help me. Pay attention to what I say while I pray because I am speaking honestly.

ULT Listen, Yahweh {to} righteousness. Pay attention to my cry! Give ear to my prayer
UST Yahweh, listen to me while I plead with you to act justly toward me. Hear me while I call out to you to help me. Pay attention to what I say while I pray
(שִׁמְעָה יְהוָה | צֶדֶק הַקְשִׁיבָה רִנָּתִי הַאֲזִינָה תְּפִלָּתִי)

These are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please listen, Yahweh, to righteousness. Please pay attention to my cry! Please give ear to my prayer]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT to} righteousness
UST while I plead with you to act justly toward me
(צֶדֶק)

See how you translated this word in 11:7.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Give ear to my prayer
UST Pay attention to what I say while I pray
(הַאֲזִינָה תְּפִלָּתִי)

David is using Give ear as a common expression of his culture to mean “listen” or “pay attention.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Listen to my prayer] or [Hear my prayer]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Give ear to my prayer from lips without deceit
UST Pay attention to what I say while I pray because I am speaking honestly (הַאֲזִינָה תְפִלָּתִי בְּלֹא שִׂפְתֵי מִרְמָה)

Here, lips represents the person who is speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Give ear to my prayer, since I speak without deceit] or [Give ear to my prayer, for I am not deceiving you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT from lips without deceit
UST because I am speaking honestly
(בְּלֹא שִׂפְתֵי מִרְמָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of deceit, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [lips that do not deceive] or [lips that speak truthfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A prayer	A prayer
of David	of David
Yahweh	Yahweh
to} righteousness	while I plead with you to act justly toward me
my cry	me while I call out to you to help me
to my prayer	what I say while I pray

Psalms 17:2

ULT	UST
Let my vindication come from your face; let your eyes see rightly!	May you declare that I am innocent; may you decide what is right.

ULT Let my vindication come from your face; let your eyes see rightly
UST May you declare that I am innocent; may you decide what is right
(מִלְּפָנֶיךָ מִשְׁפָּטִי יֵצֵא עֵינֶיךָ תֶּחֱזֶינָה מֵישָׁרִים)

By using let, David is expressing what he desires or prays will happen. See the discussion in the introduction to this book about “let” and “may” and follow the decision of your team of how a speaker will express in this context what he wants someone to do. Alternate translation: [My vindication should come from your face; your eyes should see rightly]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT my vindication
UST May & declare that I am innocent
(מִשְׁפָּטִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of vindication, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [a declaration of my innocence]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT from your face
UST you
(מִלְּפָנֶיךָ)

Here, your face represents God’s presence or his judgment. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from your presence] or [from you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT let your eyes see rightly
UST may you decide what is right
(עֵינֶיךָ תֶּחֱזֶינָה מֵישָׁרִים)

Here, eyes represents God’s ability to judge or evaluate. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [may you judge rightly]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my vindication	May & declare that I am innocent

Psalms 17:3

ULT	UST
You have examined my heart, you have visited {me in the} night, you have tested me {and} have detected nothing. I have purposed that my mouth will not transgress.	You know what I think, {even} during the night. You have examined me and not found anything that grieves you. I have determined that I will not sin by what I say.

ULT my heart
UST what I think
(לִבִּי)

Here, my heart represents David's thoughts, feelings, and motives. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my thoughts] or [my inner being]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you have visited {me in the} night
UST even} during the night
(פָּקַדְתָּ לַיְלָה)

By you have visited me in the night, David means that God examines his heart and thoughts during the quiet hours when his true character is most evident. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you have examined my heart at night]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you have visited {me in the} night
UST even} during the night
(פָּקַדְתָּ לַיְלָה)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context (as in the ULT) if that would be clearer in your language.

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT you have tested me {and} have detected nothing
UST You have examined me and not found anything that grieves you (צָרַפְתַּנִי בַל־תִּמְצָא)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [you have tested me and have detected nothing that displeases you]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT I have purposed that my mouth will not transgress
> UST I have determined that I will not sin by what I say > (זַמֹּתִי בַּל־יַעֲבָר־פִּי)

Here, mouth represents “speech.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I have purposed that I will not transgress with my speech]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you have tested me	You have examined me
that & will & transgress	that I will & sin

Psalms 17:4

ULT	UST
With regard to the actions of man, by the word of your lips I have kept myself away from the paths of the violent.	Regarding the actions of people, according to what you have commanded, I have carefully avoided living a violent life.

ULT man
UST people
(אָדָם)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [mankind]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT by the word of your lips I have kept myself away from the paths of the violent
UST according to what you have commanded, I have carefully avoided living a violent life
(בִּדְבַר שְׂפָתֶיךָ אֲנִי שָׁמַרְתִּי אָרְחוֹת פָּרִיץ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [I have kept myself away from the paths of the violent by the word of your lips]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT by the word of your lips
UST according to what you have commanded
(בִּדְבַר שְׂפָתֶיךָ)

Here, word represents God's oral or written communication. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [by your word] or [by what you have spoken]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the paths of the violent
> UST living a violent life
> (אָרְחוֹת פָּרִיץ)

Here David is speaking of how people live as if they were actually paths that they walk on. The phrase paths of the violent refers to living in a way that is characterized by unjust violence against innocent people. (David performed violent actions in the context of war but this refers to non-military violence.) If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a violent way of life] or [a destructive lifestyle characterized by violence]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the violent
> UST a violent
> (פָּרִיץ)

David is using the adjective violent as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [violent people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
have kept myself away from	have carefully avoided

Psalms 17:5

ULT	UST
My steps hold firmly to your tracks; my footsteps have not slipped.	I have carefully obeyed what you told me to do; I have not failed to do those things.

ULT My steps hold firmly to your tracks; my footsteps have not slipped

UST I have carefully obeyed what you told me to do; I have not failed to do those things

(תָּמַךְ אֲשֻׁרַי בְּמַעְגְּלוֹתֶיךָ בַּל־נָמֹוטוּ פְּעָמָי)

Here David is speaking as if his obedience to God were actually steps that hold firmly to God's tracks. (God's tracks refer to the actions and lifestyle that God desires for people.) Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I have consistently obeyed your commands; I have not disobeyed you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 17:6

ULT	UST
I have called upon you, for you will answer me, God; Incline your ear to me; listen to my speech.	O God, I am praying to you because I know that you will answer me; please listen to what I am saying.

ULT I have called upon you, for you will answer me, God
UST O God, I am praying to you because I know that you will answer me
(אֲנִי־קְרָאתִיךָ כִּי־תַעֲנֵנִי אֵל)

The word translated as for indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because you will answer me God, I have called upon you]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Incline
UST please listen to (הָט)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please incline]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Incline your ear to me
UST please listen to what I am saying
(הָט־אָזְנְךָ֥ לִֽי)

Here, ear represents hearing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Listen to me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT listen to my speech
UST please listen to what I am saying
(שְׁמַע אִמְרָתִי)

By my speech, David means his prayer. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [listen to my prayer]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
have called upon you	am praying to you
God	O God

Psalms 17:7

ULT	UST
Set apart your covenant faithfulness, you, the one saving by your right hand the ones seeking refuge {in you} from those rising up!	Wonderfully show how you faithfully love me; you who rescue with your great power the people who trust you to protect them from their enemies.

ULT Set apart your covenant faithfulness
UST Wonderfully show how you faithfully love me
(הַפְלֵה חַסְדֶיךָ)

The implication of Set apart is that David wants God to show his covenant faithfulness in a special or extraordinary way to help him in his current situation. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Show your covenant faithfulness in a special way] or [Display your covenant faithfulness remarkably]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT your covenant faithfulness
UST how you faithfully love me
(חַסְדֶיךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [all the ways you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT by your right hand
UST with your great power
(בִּימִינֶךָ)

Here, hand represents the power of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [by your power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the ones seeking refuge {in you} from those rising up
UST the people who trust you to protect them from their enemies (חוֹסֵים מִמִתְקוֹמְמִים)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the ones seeking refuge in you from those rising up against them]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT the ones seeking refuge {in you
> UST the people who trust you to protect them
> (חוֹסִֽים)

Here David is speaking of the ones seeking refuge in God as if they were literally seeking physical shelter or protection. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who trust in you for protection]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT from those rising up
> UST from their enemies
> (מִמִּתְקוֹמְמָֽי)

David is using those rising up as a common expression of his culture to mean “those who oppose” or “enemies.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from those taking action against them] or [from those trying to harm them]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	how you faithfully love me
you, the one saving	you who rescue
the ones seeking refuge {in you	the people who trust you to protect them
the ones seeking refuge {in you	the people who trust you to protect them

Psalms 17:8

ULT	UST
Keep me as the pupil of your eye; hide me under the shadow of your wings,	Protect me as carefully as people protect their own eyes; protect me like mother birds protect their babies under their wings.

ULT Keep me as the pupil of your eye
UST Protect me as carefully as people protect their own eyes
(שָׁמְרֵנִי כְּאִישׁוֹן בַּת־עָיִן)

The point of this comparison is that just as the pupil of your eye is carefully protected, so David wants God to protect him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [Protect me carefully] or [Guard me protectively]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT hide me under the shadow of your wings
UST protect me like mother birds protect their babies under their wings
(בְּצֵל כְּנָפֶיךָ תַּסְתִּירֵנִי)

David is speaking as if Yahweh were a bird and he were one of its chicks. Your language may have a comparable expression you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [protect me as a mother bird protects its chicks by covering them with its wings]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Keep me	Protect me

Psalms 17:9

ULT	UST
from the faces of the wicked who deal violently with me, the ones being hostile against my soul, they surround me.	Do not allow wicked people to attack me, those enemies of mine who surround me, wanting to kill me.

ULT from the faces of
UST Do not allow
(מִפְּנֵי)

Here the phrase from the faces of was a common expression meaning "from the presence of" or "because of." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the presence of]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean wicked people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [wicked people] or [wicked men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT against my soul
UST of mine
(בְּנַפְשִׁי)

David is using the term my soul to mean his entire person from the perspective of his spiritual and emotional existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
the ones being hostile	those enemies
against my soul	of mine

Psalms 17:10

ULT	UST
Their fat they have closed up; with their mouths they speak with pride.	They never pity anyone, and they are always speaking boastfully.

ULT Their fat they have closed up
UST They never pity anyone
(חֶלְבָּמוֹ סָגָרוּ)

Here, fat represents their hearts or inner beings that have become hardened and unfeeling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They have hardened their hearts] or [Their hearts have become unfeeling]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT with their mouths they speak with pride
UST and they are always speaking boastfully
(פִּימוֹ דִּבְּרוּ בְּגֵאוּת)

It might seem that the expression with their mouths they speak contains extra information that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, you could shorten it. Alternate translation: [they speak with pride]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
with & pride	boastfully

Psalms 17:11

ULT	UST
They have surrounded me now {in} our steps. Their eyes they have set, crouching down to the earth.	They have searched for me and found me. They surround me, watching for an opportunity to attack and kill me.

ULT They have surrounded me now {in} our steps
UST They have searched for me and found me. They surround me
(אַשֻּׁרֵינוּ עַתָּה סבבוני)

By our steps, David means the steps that both he and his enemies are taking as they move. The enemies are surrounding him at every point along their path. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [They have surrounded me now wherever we go] or [They have surrounded me at every point along our path]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT They have surrounded me
UST They have searched for me and found me. They surround me
(סבבוני)

Some ancient manuscripts read They have surrounded me. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “They have surrounded us.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT Their eyes they have set, crouching down to the earth
UST watching for an opportunity to attack and kill me
(עֵינֵיהֶם יָשִׁיתוּ לִנְטוֹת בָּאָרֶץ)

By Their eyes they have set, crouching down to the earth, the psalmist means that his enemies are watching him carefully and getting ready to attack him like wild animals that crouch low before they pounce on their prey. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [They stare at me intently, crouched low and ready to attack]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to the earth	to attack and kill me

Psalms 17:12

ULT	UST
His likeness is as a lion, he longs to tear; and as a young lion he is dwelling in hiding places.	These wicked people are like lions that are ready to tear {apart their prey}. They are like young lions that are hiding, waiting {to pounce on their prey}.

ULT His likeness is as a lion, he longs to tear; and as a young lion he is dwelling in hiding places
UST These wicked people are like lions that are ready to tear {apart their prey}. They are like young lions that are hiding, waiting {to pounce on their prey
(דְּמִיֹּנוֹ כָּאַרְיֵה יִכְסֹוף לִטְרֹוף וְכִכְפִיר יֹשֵׁב בְּמִסְתָּרִים)

The pronoun His refers to the wicked person described in the previous verses. The pronoun he refers to this same wicked person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [The wicked person's likeness is as a lion, the wicked person longs to tear; and as a young lion the wicked person is dwelling in hiding places]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT His likeness is as a lion, he longs to tear; and as a young lion he is dwelling in hiding places
UST These wicked people are like lions that are ready to tear {apart their prey}. They are like young lions that are hiding, waiting {to pounce on their prey
(דְּמִיֹּנוֹ כָּאַרְיֵה יִכְסֹוף לִטְרֹוף וְכִכְפִיר יֹשֵׁב בְּמִסְתָּרִים)

The point of this comparison is that just as a lion longs to tear apart its prey, so the wicked person's likeness resembles a lion that longs to attack. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [He is like a lion that longs to tear apart its prey, and like a young lion hiding and waiting to attack]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT he longs to tear
UST that are ready to tear {apart their prey
(יִכְסֹוף לִטְרֹוף)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [he longs to tear his prey]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
His likeness	These wicked people is as a lion	are like lions and as a young lion	They are like young lions

Psalms 17:13

ULT	UST
Arise, Yahweh, confront his face, make him bow down! Rescue my soul from the wicked {with} your sword!	Yahweh, come and oppose my enemies and make them fall to the ground when you defeat them! Take violent action and deliver me from wicked men!

ULT Arise, Yahweh, confront his face, make him bow down! Rescue my soul
UST Yahweh, come and oppose my enemies and make them fall to the ground when you defeat them & and deliver me
(קוּמָה יְהוָה קַדְּמָה פָּנָיו הַכְרִיעֵהוּ פַּלְטָה נַפְשִׁי)

Here David is using imperative forms Arise, confront, make him bow down, and Rescue to communicate polite requests to God rather than commands. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please arise, Yahweh, please confront his face, please make him bow down! Please rescue my soul]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT confront his face
UST and oppose my enemies
(קַדְּמָה פָּנָיו)

Here, his face represents his presence or confronting him directly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [confront him directly] or [face him in battle]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT make him bow down
UST and make them fall to the ground when you defeat them
(הַכְרִיעֵהוּ)

By make him bow down David means “throw him to the ground” or “cause him to fall to the ground” and probably means “fall to the ground dead.” You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [make him fall down dead] or [cause him to fall to the ground defeated]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my soul
UST me
(נַפְשִׁי)

David is using one part of a person, his soul, to mean all of him in the act of being rescued. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT from the wicked
UST from wicked men
(מֵרִשְׁעָ)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [from wicked people] or [from wicked men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT with} your sword
UST Take violent action
(חַרְבֶּךָ)

Here, sword represents power or strength used for powerful, violent action. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with your power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
make him bow down	and make them fall to the ground when you defeat them
Rescue	and deliver
my soul	me
from the wicked	from wicked men
with} your sword	Take violent action

Psalms 17:14

ULT	UST
From men {with} your hand Yahweh, from men from {the} world, their portion in life, and with your treasure you fill their belly. They are satisfied with sons, and they leave their abundance to their children.	Yahweh, by your power rescue me from those people who are interested {only} in things here in this world. You provide them with many good things. They have many children and {when they die,} they leave their wealth to their descendants.

ULT From men {with} your hand Yahweh, from men from {the} world, their portion in life

UST Yahweh, by your power rescue me from those people who are interested {only} in things here in this world

(מְמְתִים יָדְךָ֤ יְהוָ֨ה מִמְתִ֪ים מֵחֶ֡לֶד חֶלְקָ֣ם בַּחַיִּ֑ים)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Rescue me from men by your hand, Yahweh, from men of this world whose portion is in this life]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT From men {with} your hand Yahweh

UST Yahweh, by your power rescue me from those people

(מְמְתִים יָדְךָ֤ יְהוָ֨ה)

Here, hand represents the power of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Rescue me from evil men by your power Yahweh] or [From men, with your power Yahweh]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and with your treasure you fill their belly

UST You provide them with many good things

(וצפינך תְּמַלֵּ֣א בִטְנָ֑ם)

Here the psalmist is speaking of God providing abundantly for his people as if he would literally with his treasure fill their belly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you abundantly provide for them from your riches]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT with sons
> UST many children
> (בָּנִים)

Here the masculine term sons has a generic sense that includes both sons and daughters. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both sons and daughters. Alternate translation: [with children]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT their abundance
> UST their wealth
> (יִתְרֹם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of abundance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [their abundant possessions] or [great wealth]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
from {the} world	are interested {only} in things here in this world and they leave their abundance to their children	and {when they die,} they leave their wealth to their descendants

Psalms 17:15

ULT	UST
I, in righteousness, will see your face; when I awake, I will be satisfied {with} your manifestation.	{Yahweh}, because I act in the right way, I will see you. When I wake up I will see you, and then I will be happy.

ULT in righteousness
UST because & act in the right way
(בְּצֶדֶק)

David is using the adjective righteousness as a noun to mean a state or condition of being righteous. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase as in the UST.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT will see your face
UST Yahweh & I will see you
(אֶחֱזֶה פָנֶיךָ)

David is using your face to represent all of God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will see you]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT when I awake
UST When I wake up
(בְּהָקִיץ)

Some Bible scholars think that the phrase when I awake is a reference to David's future bodily resurrection. If it would help your readers, you could include a footnote explaining this.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT I will be satisfied {with} your manifestation
UST I will see you, and then I will be happy
(אֶשְׂבְּעָה & תְּמוּנָתֶךָ)

The implication is that David will be satisfied when he sees God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I will be satisfied with your presence]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in righteousness	because & act in the right way

Psalms 18

Psalms 18 Introduction

Psalm 18 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

This is a song by David about Yahweh's deliverance. This song is also recorded in the Bible in 2 Samuel 22.

1. David sings to Yahweh that he loves him and calls Yahweh his "strength" (1)
2. David describes what Yahweh is to him (2)
3. David recounts that God has answered his prayer and saved him from his enemies when he was in a dangerous situation (3–6)
4. David compares Yahweh's act of saving him to three different natural disasters (7–14)
5. David recounts Yahweh delivering him (15–19)
6. David gives the reason Yahweh has delivered him (20–27)
7. David recounts the different things Yahweh has done for him (28–48)
8. David thanks and praises Yahweh (49)
9. Yahweh saves David his chosen king and shows covenant faithfulness to David and his descendants forever (50)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Hebrew poetry

The verses of this song by David continually present two phrases that mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases with a word other than "and" in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. But you may find that in some cases it is appropriate to combine the two phrases. For example:

- both phrases

18:23 And I have been blameless with him, and I have kept myself from my iniquity.

“And I have been blameless with him,

yes, I have kept myself from my iniquity.”

18:21 For I have kept the ways of Yahweh,

and I have not been wicked from my God.

“For I have kept the ways of Yahweh,

no, I have not been wicked from my God.”

- combined into one

18:6 In my distress I called {to} Yahweh, and to my God I called

“In my distress I called out to Yahweh, my God”

Extended metaphor

In 7–14, David describes Yahweh coming to help him as being like the greatest natural forces that people of his culture knew, which were an earthquake (7), a volcano (8), and a thunderstorm (9–14). He describes each of these forces in poetic language. In other words, after stating his topic, which is how Yahweh delivered him (6), David then depicts it with multiple images that communicate multiple ideas. Think about how you might show in your translation that 7–14, while describing three different things, all illustrate the same topic.

Psalms 18:1

ULT	UST
And he said, “I love you, Yahweh, my strength.	This is what he sang: “Yahweh, I love you, the one who enables me to be strong.

ULT my strength
UST the one who enables me to be strong (חִזְקִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the one who makes me strong]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I love you	I love you
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 18:2

ULT	UST
Yahweh is my rock and my stronghold and my deliverer; my God, my rock; I take refuge in him, my shield and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.	Yahweh, you are like a huge rock and like a fortress {where I can go to be safe}. I can be confident that you will rescue me when I am in trouble. You are my God. You protect me. I am as safe as I would be if I were hiding on top of a cliff. It is as if you are a shield that defends me. You are the powerful God who saves me. You are like a high place {where I am safe from my enemies}.

ULT Yahweh is my rock & my rock
UST Yahweh, you are like a huge rock & I am as safe as I would be if I were hiding on top of a cliff
(יְהוָה | סַלְעִי & צוּרִי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were actually a high rock that he could climb up to reach safety from danger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is like a rock that keeps me safe from danger … he is like a rock to me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and my stronghold
UST and like a fortress {where I can go to be safe
(וּמְצוּדָתִי)

Here David is speaking as if Yahweh were actually a stronghold or a strong structure where people go to be protected. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and my place of safety]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I take refuge in him
UST You protect me
(אֶחֱסֶה־בּוֹ)

Here David uses take refuge in him as if God were a place of safety in which he could hide. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I depend on him to keep me safe] or [I trust him to protect me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my shield
UST It is as if you are a shield that defends me
(מָגִנִּי)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a shield that protected him from attack. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my protector]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the horn of my salvation
UST You are the powerful God who saves me
(וְקֶרֶן־יִשְׁעִי)

David is using the possessive form to describe a horn that is characterized by providing salvation. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and the horn that saves me]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT and the horn of my salvation
UST You are the powerful God who saves me
(וְקֶרֶן־יִשְׁעִי)

David is speaking of God's power to save him as if it were a powerful horn of an animal. A horn was a symbol of strength in ancient Israelite culture because animals use their horns as weapons. Your language may have a comparable expression that you could use, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the one who saves me by his power] or [and the one who powerfully saves me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and my stronghold	and like a fortress {where I can go to be safe and my deliverer	I can be confident that you will rescue me when I am in trouble
my God	You are my God
I take refuge	You protect me
my shield	It is as if you are a shield that defends me and the horn of	You are the powerful God
my salvation	who saves me
my high tower	You are like a high place {where I am safe from my enemies

Psalms 18:3

ULT	UST
{To} the one being praised I call, {to} Yahweh, and I am saved from my enemies.	You deserve for people to praise you, Yahweh. When I cry to you {for help}, you rescue me from my enemies.

ULT To} the one being praised I call, {to} Yahweh
UST You deserve for people to praise you, Yahweh. When I cry to you {for help
(מְהֻלָּל אֶקְרָא יְהוָה)

The expression being praised is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I call to Yahweh, the one whom people praise] or [I call to Yahweh, the one whom I praise]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT I am saved
UST you rescue me
(אִוָּשֵׁעַ)

The expression I am saved is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [and he saves me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
To} the one being praised	You deserve for people to praise you, Yahweh
I call, {to	When I cry & for help
Yahweh	to you
I am saved	you rescue me
my enemies	my enemies

Psalms 18:4

ULT	UST
The cords of death encompassed me, and the torrents of wickedness terrified me.	{Someone was trying to kill me, and} I was in such danger of dying that it was as if someone was trying to tie ropes around me. His wicked plans against me were like floodwaters that were carrying me away, and this made me very afraid.

ULT The cords of death encompassed me
UST Someone was trying to kill me, and} I was in such danger of dying that it was as if someone was trying to tie ropes around me
(אֲפָפוּנִי חֶבְלֵי־מָוֶת)

Here David is speaking as if death were actually cords that could wrap around and bind a person. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. If not, you could state this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [Death threatened to bind me like cords] or [I was in danger of dying]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the torrents of wickedness terrified me
UST His wicked plans against me were like floodwaters that were carrying me away, and this made me very afraid
(וְנַחֲלֵי בְלִיַּעַל יְבַעֲתוּנִי)

David speaks here of torrents of wickedness as if wickedness were a flood of rushing water that could overwhelm and destroy him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a wicked person was pursuing me relentlessly, and that terrified me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wickedness	His wicked plans against me

Psalms 18:5

ULT	UST
The cords of Sheol surrounded me; the snares of death confronted me.	I did not think I could escape going to the place where dead people go. It was as if that place had wrapped ropes around me and was pulling me down into it. It was as if the only direction I could walk was right into a trap where I would surely die.

ULT The cords of Sheol surrounded me
UST I did not think I could escape going to the place where dead people go. It was as if that place had wrapped ropes around me and was pulling me down into it
(חֶבְלֵי שְׁאוֹל סְבָבוּנִי)

Here, Sheol, the dwelling place of the dead according to Hebrew culture, represents death itself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [The cords of death surrounded me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT The cords of Sheol surrounded me
UST I did not think I could escape going to the place where dead people go. It was as if that place had wrapped ropes around me and was pulling me down into it
(חֶבְלֵי שְׁאוֹל סְבָבוּנִי)

David is speaking as if Sheol or death actually had cords that it could use to bind him. This suggests he felt trapped in a situation where he thought he would die. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [I thought I was bound to die]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the snares of death confronted me
UST It was as if the only direction I could walk was right into a trap where I would surely die (קִדְּמוּנִי מֹקְשֵׁי מָוֶת)

David speaks here of snares of death as if death were a hunter that could set traps for people. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [death had me in its clutches]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Sheol	going to the place where dead people go & that place
the snares of	a trap

Psalms 18:6

ULT	UST
In my distress, I called {to} Yahweh, and to my God I cried out for help. He heard my voice from his temple, and my cry to his face went in his ears.	But when I was very distressed, I cried out to you, Yahweh my God. From your temple in heaven you could hear me calling to you, and you listened to my prayer.

ULT In my distress
UST But when I was very distressed
(בַּצַּר־לִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of distress, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [When I was distressed] or [When I felt distressed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my cry to his face
UST to you & to my prayer
(וְשַׁוְעָתִי לְפָנָיו)

Here, to his face represents being in God's presence or coming before him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and my call for help]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT He heard my voice
UST you could hear me calling (יִשְׁמַע & קוֹלִי)

Here, voice represents the words David spoke in his prayer. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [He heard my prayer]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT from his temple
UST From your temple in heaven
(מֵהֵיכָלוֹ)

By his temple, David means God's temple in heaven. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from his heavenly temple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT went in his ears
> UST and you listened > (תְּבוֹא בְאָזְנָיו)

David is using the term ears to mean hearing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he heard]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
In & distress	But when & was very distressed
I called {to	I cried out
Yahweh	to you, Yahweh
my God	my God
from his temple	From your temple in heaven and my cry	to my prayer

Psalms 18:7

ULT	UST
Then the earth shook and trembled, and the foundations of the mountains quaked and shook themselves because it burned to him.	It made you so angry {that someone was trying to kill me, and you responded so powerfully} that it was as if there was a great earthquake and as if you shook the foundations of the mountains.

ULT Then the earth shook and trembled, and the foundations of the mountains quaked and shook themselves because it burned to him
UST It made you so angry {that someone was trying to kill me, and you responded so powerfully} that it was as if there was a great earthquake and as if you shook the foundations of the mountains
(וַתִּגְעַשׁ וַתִּרְעַשׁ | הָאָרֶץ וּמוֹסְדֵי הָרִים יִרְגָּזוּ וַיִּתְגָּעֲשׁוּ כִּי־חָרָה לוֹ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Then, because it burned to him, the earth shook and trembled. The foundations of the heavens quaked and shook themselves]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Then the earth shook & and shook themselves
UST and you responded so powerfully} that it was as if there was a great earthquake and as if you shook the foundations of the mountains
(וַתִּגְעַשׁ & הָאָרֶץ & וַיִּתְגָּעֲשׁוּ)

The terms that the ULT translates as shook and shook themselves represent two different verbs in the original. Hebrew had more synonyms for this idea than some other languages may have. David expresses some of these with the verbs translated as trembled and quaked. It may be necessary for you to use the same words rather than different ones. However, if you do have a variety of terms for this, it would be appropriate to use different words for shook and shook themselves.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Then the earth shook and trembled
UST and you responded so powerfully} that it was as if there was a great earthquake
(וַתִּגְעַשׁ וַתִּרְעַשׁ | הָאָרֶץ)

The terms shook and trembled mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Then the earth shook violently]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT Then the earth shook and trembled, and the foundations of the mountains quaked and shook themselves
UST and you responded so powerfully} that it was as if there was a great earthquake and as if you shook the foundations of the mountains
(וַתִּגְעַשׁ וַתִּרְעַשׁ | הָאָרֶץ וּמוֹסְדֵי הָרִים יִרְגָּזוּ וַיִּתְגָּעֲשׁוּ)

David is speaking as if the earth and the foundations of the mountains were actually a person who could shake and tremble. This expresses how powerfully God responded to David's prayer. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Then it was as though a violent earthquake occurred and shook the earth and the foundations of the mountains]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT quaked and shook themselves
UST and as if you shook the foundations of the mountains
(יִרְגָּזוּ וַיִּתְגָּעֲשׁוּ)

The terms quaked and shook themselves mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [quaked mightily]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT it burned to him
UST It made you so angry {that someone was trying to kill me (חָרָה לוֹ)

Here, it burned to him represents his anger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he was angry]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and trembled	and you responded so powerfully} that it was as if there was a great earthquake and the foundations	and as if you shook the foundations of the mountains
quaked	and as if you shook the foundations of the mountains

Psalms 18:8

ULT	UST
Smoke went up from his nose, and fire from his mouth devoured. Coals from him burned.	{Your power was so great that} it was as if there was a volcano from which smoke was rising, a stream of fire was flowing out that burned up everything in its path, and hot coals were flying into the air that started fires where they landed.

ULT Smoke went up from his nose, and fire from his mouth devoured. Coals from him burned

UST Your power was so great that} it was as if there was a volcano from which smoke was rising, a stream of fire was flowing out that burned up everything in its path, and hot coals were flying into the air that started fires where they landed

(עָלָה עָשָׁן | בְּאַפּוֹ וְאֵשׁ־מִפִּיו תֹּאכֵל גֶּחָלִים בָּעֲרוּ מִמֶּנּוּ)

David is saying that when Yahweh came to help him, Yahweh's power was so great that it was like a volcano. David describes the opening at the top of a volcano, from which Smoke and fire and Coals come out, as if it were the nose and mouth of the volcano. If your readers would be familiar with what a volcano is, you could express in your translation how David is using a volcano as an image to describe Yahweh's power. If not, you could describe in more general terms how Yahweh's power is like fire and smoke.

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT and fire from his mouth devoured

UST Your power was so great that} it was as if there was a volcano from which smoke was rising, a stream of fire was flowing out that burned up everything in its path

(וְאֵשׁ־מִפִּיו תֹּאכֵל)

David is speaking of the fire that comes from a volcano, which represents God here, as if it were a wild animal that devoured its prey. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and fire from his mouth completely destroyed everything] or [and fire from his mouth consumed everything]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
devoured	a stream of fire was flowing out that burned up everything in its path

Psalms 18:9

ULT	UST
And he lowered the heavens, and he came down, and a dark cloud was under his feet.	{Your power was so great} when you came {to help me that} it was as if there was a great thunderstorm, with only a little sky visible below the low-hanging dark clouds.

ULT And he lowered the heavens, and he came down, and a dark cloud was under his feet

UST Your power was so great} when you came {to help me that} it was as if there was a great thunderstorm, with only a little sky visible below the low-hanging dark clouds

(וַיֵּ֣ט שָׁמַ֣יִם וַיֵּ֑רֶד וַעֲרָפֶ֥ל תַּ֝חַ֗ת רַגְלָֽיו)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [And he came standing on a dark cloud, and thus he lowered the heavens]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the heavens	that} it was as if there was a great thunderstorm

Psalms 18:10

ULT	UST
And he rode on a cherub, and he flew, and he flew swiftly on the wings of the wind.	He flew, riding on the back of an angel traveling fast, which the wind was blowing along.

ULT And he rode on a cherub, and he flew
UST He flew, riding on the back & an angel
(וַיִּרְכַּ֣ב עַל־כְּר֣וּב וַיָּעֹ֑ף)

The words rode and flew express a single idea. The word flew tells more about how he rode. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [And he flew by riding on a cherub]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT And he rode on a cherub, and he flew
UST He flew, riding on the back & an angel
(וַיִּרְכַּ֣ב עַל־כְּר֣וּב וַיָּעֹ֑ף)

David is speaking as if God were actually riding on a cherub and flying through the sky. This is part of a poetic description of God's power and swift action to help David. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And he came very quickly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he flew swiftly on the wings of the wind
UST of & traveling fast, which the wind was blowing along (וַיֵּ֣דָא עַל־כַּנְפֵי־רֽוּחַ)

David is speaking as if the wind actually had wings and that it could fly through the sky carrying Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and it appeared as if the wind were a great bird that was carrying him swiftly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a cherub	an angel

Psalms 18:11

ULT	UST
He set darkness his covering, the booth around him {was} a darkness of waters, clouds of the skies.	It was as if you had made the darkness of the storm a safe place for you to stay. Yes, it was as if you had a temporary shelter within the dark storm clouds that were full of moisture.

ULT He set darkness his covering
UST It was as if you had made the darkness of the storm a safe place for you to stay
(יָשֶׁת חֹשֶׁךְ | סִתְרֹו)

David is speaking as if the darkness were actually set like a physical object that could be arranged in place. He means that God caused darkness to surround himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [It was as if he were dwelling within the darkness of the storm]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT He set darkness his covering, the booth around him {was} a darkness of waters
UST It was as if you had made the darkness of the storm a safe place for you to stay. Yes, it was as if you had a temporary shelter & dark storm & that were full of moisture
(יָשֶׁת חֹשֶׁךְ | סִתְרֹו סְבִיבוֹתָיו סֻכָּתוֹ חֶשְׁכַת־מַיִם)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [He set darkness as his covering—yes, the shelter around him was dark storm clouds]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the skies	within the & clouds

Psalms 18:12

ULT	UST
From the brightness before him, hailstones and coals of fire broke through his thick clouds.	It was as if it became bright where you were within the clouds, and then hailstones and lightning bolts came from there.

ULT before him
UST where you were within the clouds
(נֶגְדּוֹ)

Here, before him represents being in God's presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in his presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and coals of fire
UST and lightning bolts
(וְגַחֲלֵי־אֵשׁ)

David assumes that readers will know that coals of fire means "flashes of lightning." You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and flashes of lightning] of [and bolts of lightning]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
hailstones	and then hailstones

Psalms 18:13

ULT	UST
And Yahweh thundered in the heavens and the Most High uttered his voice, hailstones and coals of fire.	It was as if there was a loud sound of thunder in the sky because you, Yahweh, the God who is greater than all other spirit beings, had spoken {to announce that you were coming to rescue me}, and as if hailstones and coals of fire {continued to come}.

ULT hailstones and coals of fire
UST and as if hailstones and coals of fire {continued to come
(בָּרָד וְגַחֲלֵי־אֵשׁ)

Some ancient manuscripts include the words hailstones and coals of fire. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts do not have these words. It is possible that during the process of copying, they were repeated here from the previous verse. The ancient Greek translation does not have them. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT hailstones and coals of fire
UST and as if hailstones and coals of fire {continued to come
(בָּרָד וְגַחֲלֵי־אֵשׁ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [there were hailstones and coals of fire]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	because you, Yahweh
in the heavens	in the sky and the Most High	the God who is greater than all other spirit beings
hailstones	and as if hailstones

Psalms 18:14

ULT	UST
And he sent out his arrows and he scattered them and lightnings in abundance and he panicked them.	It was as if you sent many flashes of lightning that made my enemies so afraid that they ran away in different directions, as if you had shot arrows at them.

ULT And he sent out his arrows and he scattered them and lightnings in abundance and he panicked them
UST It was as if you sent many flashes of lightning that made my enemies so afraid that they ran away in different directions, as if you had shot arrows at them
(וַיִּשְׁלַ֣ח חִצָּ֭יו וַיְפִיצֵ֑ם וּבְרָקִ֥ים רָ֝ב וַיְהֻמֵּֽם)

Here David is using an image within an image. Within the image of a thunderstorm that represents Yahweh coming powerfully to help him, David speaks of lightning bolts as if they were arrows. You might be able to clarify this by combining the two parts of this verse, which mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [And he sent out lightning bolts like arrows and panicked them so that they scattered]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT and he scattered them & and he panicked them
UST that made my enemies so afraid that they ran away in different directions
(וַיְפִיצֵ֑ם & וַיְהֻמֵּֽם)

The pronoun them refers in each instance to David's enemies. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [and he scattered my enemies … and he panicked those enemies]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and lightnings in abundance
UST many flashes of lightning
(וּבְרָקִ֥ים רָ֝ב)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [yes, and he sent out lightnings in abundance]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and he scattered them	that they ran away in different directions

Psalms 18:15

ULT	UST
And the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were uncovered, from your rebuke, Yahweh, from the blast of the breath of your nose.	The bottom of the ocean became visible, and the water uncovered the foundations of the earth when Yahweh rebuked his enemies with the breath that came in his anger!

ULT And the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were uncovered

UST The bottom of the ocean became visible, and the water uncovered the foundations of the earth

(וַיֵּרָאוּ | אֲפִיקֵי מַ֑יִם וַיִּגָּלוּ֙ מוֹסְדוֹת֙ תֵּבֵ֣ל)

The expressions were seen and were uncovered are passive verbal forms. If your language would not use those forms, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [And the channels of the sea became visible; ground no longer covered the foundations of the world]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT And the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were uncovered, from your rebuke, Yahweh, from the blast of the breath of your nose

UST The bottom of the ocean became visible, and the water uncovered the foundations of the earth when Yahweh rebuked his enemies with the breath that came in his anger

(וַיֵּרָאוּ | אֲפִיקֵי מַ֑יִם וַיִּגָּלוּ֙ מוֹסְדוֹת֙ תֵּבֵ֣ל מִגַּעֲרָתְךָ֣ יְהוָ֔ה מִנִּשְׁמַ֖ת רוּחַ֥ אַפֶּֽךָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [And at the rebuke of Yahweh, from the blast of the breath of his nose, the channels of the sea were seen, the foundations of the world were uncovered]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the foundations of	the foundations of the world	the earth
from your rebuke	rebuked his enemies
Yahweh	when Yahweh
the breath of	with the breath that came

Psalms 18:16

ULT	UST
He stretched out from the height, he took hold of me. He drew me out of many waters.	It was as if you reached down from heaven and grabbed me so that you could pull me up out of the deep water of the ocean.

ULT He stretched out
UST It was as if you reached down
(יִשְׁלַח)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [He stretched out his hand]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT from the height
UST from heaven
(מִמָּרוֹם)

Here, height represents “heaven” as God’s dwelling place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [from heaven]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT out of many waters
UST out of the deep water of the ocean
(מִמַּיִם רַבִּים)

Here, many waters represents the sea. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [out of the sea]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT out of many waters
UST out of the deep water of the ocean
(מִמַּיִם רַבִּים)

Here, many waters, meaning the sea, represents deep trouble or dangerous situations. David uses this image because he had earlier described his enemies as dangerous flood waters. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [out of great trouble]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 18:17

ULT	UST
He delivered me from my strong enemy, from the ones hating me, for they were stronger than me.	There was a powerful man who wanted to harm me, and there were people who hated me. They were too strong for me to defeat, but you rescued me from them.

ULT He delivered me from my strong enemy, from the ones hating me, for they were stronger than me

UST There was a powerful man who wanted to harm me, and there were people who hated me. They were too strong for me to defeat, but you rescued me from them

(יַצֵּ֥ילֵנִי מֵאֹיְבִ֗י עָ֫ז וּמִמְשַׂנְאַ֥י כִּֽי־אָ֝מְצוּ מִמֶּ֗נִּי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because they were stronger than me, he delivered me from my strong enemy, from the ones hating me]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
He delivered me	you rescued me
strong	powerful
from my & enemy	There was a & man who wanted to harm me & from them

Psalms 18:18

ULT	UST
They confronted me on the day of my calamity, but Yahweh was my support!	They attacked me, and they would have destroyed me, but you, Yahweh, protected me.

ULT on the day of my calamity
UST and they would have destroyed me
(בְּיוֹם־אֵידִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of calamity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [on a day that would have been disastrous for me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my calamity	and they would have destroyed me
Yahweh	you, Yahweh

Psalms 18:19

ULT	UST
And he brought me out to an open space; he delivered me because he delighted in me.	You brought me to a place where I was safe. You love me, and so you rescued me.

ULT And he brought me out to an open space
UST You brought me to a place where I was safe
(וַיּוֹצִיאֵנִי לַמֶּרְחָב)

Here David is speaking of being rescued as if he had been squeezed into a narrow space and God brought him out to an open space. The image suggests that David had been in a dangerous situation with no way to escape, but God enabled him to escape. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And he set me free from danger] or [And he rescued me from my desperate situation]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT he delivered me because he delighted in me
UST You love me, and so you rescued me
(יְחַלְּצֵנִי כִּי חָפֵץ בִּי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase delivered me describes. Alternate translation: [because he delighted in me, he delivered me]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he delivered me	you rescued me
he delighted	You love

Psalms 18:20

ULT	UST
Yahweh has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands he has given back to me.	Yahweh, you did good things for me because I did what was right. I did not harm my enemies, so you made sure that they did not harm me.

ULT Yahweh has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands he has given back to me
UST Yahweh, you did good things for me because I did what was right. I did not harm my enemies, so you made sure that they did not harm me
(יִגְמְלֵנִי יְהוָה כְּצִדְקִי כְּבֹר יָדַי יָשִׁיב לִי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Yahweh has rewarded me according to my righteousness; yes, according to the cleanness of my hands he has given back to me]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT according to my righteousness
UST because I did what was right
(כְּצִדְקִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [according to the right things I have done] or [because I have acted righteously]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT according to the cleanness of my hands
UST I did not harm my enemies
(כְּבֹר יָדַי)

David is speaking of his actions as if they were his hands, which could be physically clean or dirty. He means that his behavior has been morally pure. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly here and in verse 25. Alternate translation: [according to the innocence of my actions]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT he has given back to me
> UST so you made sure that they did not harm me
> (יְשֵׁ֥יב לִ֝י)

David is using he has given back to me as a common expression of his culture to mean “he has treated me in the same way.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he has treated me in the same way]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
has rewarded me	you did good things for me
according to my righteousness	because I did what was right
he has given back	so you made sure that they did not harm

Psalms 18:21

ULT	UST
For I have kept the ways of Yahweh, and I have not been wicked from my God.	Yahweh, I have lived as you want people to live. I have not stopped obeying you, my God, and done wicked things instead.

ULT For
UST QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: כִּי
(כִּי)

Here the word For introduces not a reason but an explanation. If the connection between this statement and the previous one is not clear, you may want to use a different connecting word to show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [After all,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT I have kept the ways of Yahweh
UST Yahweh, I have lived as you want people to live
(שָׁמַרְתִּי דַּרְכֵי יְהוָה)

David is speaking of how a person lives as if that were a way or path that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I have lived as Yahweh commands] or [I have obeyed Yahweh's commands]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and I have not been wicked from my God
UST I have not stopped obeying you, my God, and done wicked things instead (וְלֹא־רָשַׁעְתִּי מֵאֱלֹהָי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context, specifically in the next verse, if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and I have not been so wicked as to turn away from my God]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I have kept	I have lived
Yahweh	Yahweh
I have & been wicked	I have & stopped obeying you & and done wicked things instead from my God	my God

Psalms 18:22

ULT	UST
For all of his judgments {are} before me, and his statutes, I have not turned away from them.	I have remained aware of what you have said people should do, and I have continued to obey all your laws.

ULT For
UST what you have said people should do
(כִּֽי)

Here the word For introduces not a reason but an explanation of why Yahweh has rewarded David according to his righteousness. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a word that introduces an explanation. Alternate translation: [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT all of his judgments {are} before me
UST I have remained aware of what you have said people should do (כָּל־מִשְׁפָּטָ֥יו לְנֶגְדִּ֑י)

David is speaking of judgments as if they were objects that could be physically placed in front of him. This means that he constantly remembers and thinks about God's laws. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am always mindful of his judgments]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and his statutes, I have not turned away from them
UST and I have continued to obey all your laws
(וְחֻקֹּתָ֖יו לֹא־אָסִ֣יר מֶֽנִּי)

David is speaking of God's statutes as if they were objects that he could physically turn away from. Your language may have a comparable expression you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I have not disobeyed his statutes]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
his judgments	what you have said people should do and his statutes	all your laws

Psalms 18:23

ULT	UST
And I have been blameless with him, and I have kept myself from my iniquity.	I have not done anything for which you would blame me. I have been careful not to do anything for which you would punish me.

ULT from my iniquity
UST anything for which you would punish me
(מֵעֲוֹנִי)

David is using the possessive form to mean sin that he could have committed. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [from any iniquity that I might have committed]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
blameless	anything for which & would blame me
from my iniquity	anything for which you would punish me

Psalms 18:24

ULT	UST
And Yahweh has given back to me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands before his eyes.	You have done good things for me because I did what is right. You recognize that I am innocent.

ULT according to my righteousness
UST because I did what is right
(כְּצִדְקִ֑י)

See how you translated the phrase according to my righteousness in 18:20.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT according to the cleanness of my hands
UST because I did what is right & I am innocent
(כְּבֹ֖ר יָדַ֣י)

See how you translated the phrase according to the cleanness of my hands in 18:20.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT before his eyes
UST You recognize that
(לְנֶ֣גֶד עֵינָֽיו)

Here, before his eyes represents how God sees and evaluates people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in his judgment] or [by his standards]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	You
according to my righteousness	because I did what is right

Psalms 18:25

ULT	UST
With the faithful you show yourself faithful; with a blameless man, you show yourself blameless.	When people are loyal to you, you act loyally toward them; when people are careful to do what you want them to do, you do good things for them.

ULT With the faithful
UST When people are loyal to you
(עִם־חָסִיד)

David is using the adjective faithful as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [To people who are faithful]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the faithful	people are loyal to you
you show yourself faithful	you act loyally toward them
blameless	are careful to do what you want them to do you show yourself blameless	you do good things for them

Psalms 18:26

ULT	UST
With the purified, you show yourself pure, but with the crooked, you show yourself cunning.	You allow sincere people to recognize how sincere you are. But when people try to trick others, you show that you are much more clever than they are.

ULT the purified
UST You allow sincere people
(נָבָר)

The expression the purified is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [those who purify themselves] or [those who keep themselves pure]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the crooked
UST people try to trick others
(עִקֵּשׁ)

Here David is speaking of people who deliberately do what is wrong as if they were physically crooked or bent. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who do evil] or [those who are dishonest]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you show yourself pure	to recognize how sincere you are you show yourself cunning	you show that you are much more clever than they are

Psalms 18:27

ULT	UST
For you save a lowly people, but the eyes {of} the ones being high, you bring them down.	You rescue people whom others are afflicting, but you humiliate those who are proud.

ULT a lowly people & the ones being high
UST people whom others are afflicting & those who are proud (עַם־עָנִי & רָמוֹת)

Here David is speaking as if oppressed or poor people were lowly, that is, in a physically low place, and as if proud people were physically high. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [an oppressed people … prideful people] or [poor people … prideful people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT but the eyes {of} the ones being high, you bring them down
UST but you humiliate those who are proud (וְעֵינַיִם רָמוֹת תַּשְׁפִּיל)

Here, eyes represents the proud looks or arrogant attitude of people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the proud looks of the ones being high, you humble]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
save	rescue
lowly	whom others are afflicting

Psalms 18:28

ULT	UST
For you light my lamp; Yahweh my God lightens my darkness.	Yahweh my God, it is as if you light my lamp so that I can see even when it is dark.

ULT you light my lamp; Yahweh my God lightens my darkness
UST Yahweh my God, it is as if you light my lamp so that I can see even when it is dark (אַתָּה תָּאִיר נֵרִי יְהוָה אֱלֹהַי יַגִּיהַּ חָשְׁכִּי)

Here David is speaking as if his life were actually a lamp that God lights and as if his troubles were actually darkness that God brightens. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. If not, you could state this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [you give me life like lighting a lamp; Yahweh my God helps me through troubles like someone who brightens darkness]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my lamp	my lamp
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	my God

Psalms 18:29

ULT	UST
For by you I run {after} a troop, and by my God I leap {over} a wall.	With your help I have caught and defeated a band of raiders. With your help I have captured a city that had walls around it, as if I had leaped over those walls.

ULT I run {after} a troop
UST I have caught and defeated a band of raiders
(אָרֻץ גְּדוּד)

This could mean: (1) that David is saying that by God's help, he can pursue and overtake a troop. He may be recalling how he and his men were able to overtake the Amalekite "troop" (1 Samuel 30:8) that had raided Ziklag and rescue their families and possessions. Alternate translation: [I can pursue and overtake a raiding band], or (2) that David is saying that by God's help, he can directly attack and disperse an opposing group of soldiers. Alternate translation: [I can run through a troop] or [I can attack and disperse an opposing troop]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT I leap {over} a wall
UST I have captured a city that had walls around it, as if I had leaped over those walls
(אֲדַלֶּג־שׁוּר)

David is speaking of successfully leading troops to capture a fortified city as if he and they would leap over its walls. He may be recalling how he and his soldiers were able to capture the stronghold of Zion in Jerusalem (2 Samuel 5:6–9). If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I can surmount the walls of a fortified city]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and by my God	With your help

Psalms 18:30

ULT	UST
This God, his way {is} perfect. The word of Yahweh is refined. He {is} a shield to all of the ones taking refuge in him.	My God, everything that you do is perfect. Everything that you say is right. You protect everyone who depends on you, as if you are a shield that defends them.

ULT his way {is} perfect
UST everything that you do is perfect
(תְּמִים דַּרְכּוֹ)

Here David is speaking of how God acts and directs others as if it were a way or path that he was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [everything he does is faultless] or [he always acts righteously]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT The word of Yahweh
UST Everything that you say
(אִמְרַת־יְהוָה)

Here, word of Yahweh represents what Yahweh says by using words. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [What Yahweh says]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT is refined
UST is right
(צְרוּפָה)

The expression is refined is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [is pure]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT He {is} a shield to all of the ones taking refuge in him
UST You protect everyone who depends on you, as if you are a shield that defends them
(מָגֵן הוּא לְכֹל | הַחֹסִים בּוֹ)

David is speaking as if God were actually a shield behind which people take refuge. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He protects everyone who trusts him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
This God	My God
is} perfect	is perfect
The word of Yahweh	Everything that you say is} a shield	protect & as if you are a shield that defends them
the ones taking refuge	who depends on

Psalms 18:31

ULT	UST
For who is God except Yahweh? And who is a rock except our God?	Yahweh, you are the only real God. Only you are like a huge rock {where I can go to be safe}.

ULT For who is God except Yahweh? And who is a rock except our God

UST Yahweh, you are the only real God. Only you are like a huge rock {where I can go to be safe

(כִּי מִי אֱלוֹהַּ מִבַּלְעֲדֵי יְהוָה וּמִי צוּר זוּלָתִי אֱלֹהֵינוּ)

David is using the question form for emphasis. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate these questions as statements or as exclamations. Alternate translation: [For Yahweh is the only God! And our God is the only rock!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT is a rock

UST are like a huge rock {where I can go to be safe

(צוּר)

David speaks of God here as if he were a rock that people can hide behind or stand on for safety. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [provides safety]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is God	the & real God
Yahweh	Yahweh
our God	you

Psalms 18:32

ULT	UST
This God is the one girding me {with} valor, and he makes my way perfect,	My God, you enable me to be strong like someone who equips me for war. You make sure that nothing prevents me from doing what you want me to do.

ULT is the one girding me {with} valor
UST you enable me to be strong like someone who equips me for war
(הַמְאַזְּרֵנִי חָיִל)

Here David is speaking of valor as if it were a piece of clothing with which God is the one girding him, like a belt or piece of armor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [makes me valiant]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he makes my way perfect
UST You make sure that nothing prevents me from doing what you want me to do
(וַיִּתֵּן תְּמִימִ֥ים דַּרְכִּֽי)

This could mean: (1) that God makes the way on which a person travels perfect, that is, free from obstacles. Alternate translation: [and he removes all the obstacles in my path] or [and he enables me to live the life he has chosen for me without hindrance], or (2) that David is speaking of how a person lives as if that were a way or path that the person is walking along. Alternate translation: [and he enables me to live in just the way that he wants people to live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
This God	My God
is the one girding me	you enable me & like someone who equips me for war with} valor	to be strong perfect	nothing prevents

Psalms 18:33

ULT	UST
making my feet like a deer, and he makes me stand on my high places,	You enable me to walk about safely in the mountains, as a deer does, without falling.

ULT making my feet like a deer
UST You enable me to walk about safely & as a deer does
(מְשַׁוֶּה רַגְלַי כָּאַיָּלוֹת)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [making my feet like the feet of a deer]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT making my feet like a deer
UST You enable me to walk about safely & as a deer does
(מְשַׁוֶּה רַגְלַי כָּאַיָּלוֹת)

Here David is comparing his ability to move quickly and surely with the way a deer moves in difficult terrain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [making my feet secure] or [keeping me from stumbling]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he makes me stand on my high places
UST in the mountains & without falling
(וְעַל בָּמֹתַי יַעֲמִידֵנִי)

David may be using this possessive form, referring to these as my high places, because he is recalling how he had to hide among cliffs when Saul was trying to kill him. It may be more natural in your language to express this meaning with a different form. Alternate translation: [and he keeps me from falling from any high places where I have to go]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
like a deer	as a deer does

Psalms 18:34

ULT	UST
training my hands for war, and my arms bend a bow of bronze.	You teach me how to fight in a battle. You give me the strength to bend {and string} a bronze bow.

ULT training my hands for war
UST You teach me how to fight in a battle
(מְלַמֵּד יָדַי לַמִּלְחָמָה)

David is using his hands to represent all of him in the act of fighting in battle. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [training me for war]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and & bend	to bend {and string
a bow	a & bow
of bronze	bronze

Psalms 18:35

ULT	UST
And you give to me the shield of your salvation, and your right hand supports me, and your humility makes me great.	You have saved me by protecting me like a shield, you are strong and therefore keep me safe. You humble yourself and answer my prayers and this is what has made me successful.

ULT And you give to me the shield of your salvation
UST You have saved me by protecting me like a shield
(וַתִּתֶּן־לִי֙ מָגֵ֣ן יִשְׁעֶ֔ךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [And the shield you provide for me saves me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT And you give to me the shield of your salvation
UST You have saved me by protecting me like a shield
(וַתִּתֶּן־לִי֙ מָגֵ֣ן יִשְׁעֶ֔ךָ)

Here David is speaking of God's power to save him as if it were a shield that could protect him from physical attacks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And you protect me by saving me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and your right hand
UST you are strong
(וִֽימִינְךָ֥)

Here, right hand represents the power of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and your power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and your humility
UST You humble yourself and answer my prayers
(וְעַנְוָתְךָ֥)

By your humility, David means God's humbleness in responding to his prayers requesting help. Because God was much greater and more powerful than David, David views God's response to his prayers as an act of humility. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and your answer to my prayers] or [and your humble answer to my prayers]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the shield of	like a shield
your salvation	You have saved
and your humility	You humble yourself and answer my prayers

Psalms 18:36

ULT	UST
You enlarge my step under me, and my feet do not slip.	You have given me many ways to respond to each situation. As a result, I have been able to carry out my plans successfully.

ULT You enlarge my step under me
UST You have given me many ways to respond to each situation
(תַּרְחִיב צַעֲדִי תַחְתָּי)

Here David's step represents the place where he would step. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [You enlarge the place where I step under me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT You enlarge my step under me
UST You have given me many ways to respond to each situation
(תַּרְחִיב צַעֲדִי תַחְתָּי)

David is speaking as if God had made the area where he needed to walk more spacious. This represents having freedom to move and act without being constrained by enemies. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [You give me room to maneuver]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 18:38

ULT	UST
I severely wounded them so that they were not able to rise; they fell under my feet.	I wounded them so badly that the ones who fell to the ground never got up because they died of their wounds.

ULT so that they were not able to rise; they fell under my feet
UST that the ones who fell to the ground never got up because they died of their wounds
(וְלֹא־יָכְלוּ קוּם יִפְּלוּ תַּחַת רַגְלָי)

David is describing one event before describing another event that preceded it. If it would be helpful your language, you may wish to relate these events in the order in which they happened, as in the UST. Alternate translation: [so that they fall under my feet and were not able to arise]

Support Reference: Order of Events

ULT they fell
UST the ones who fell
(יִפְּלוּ)

The implication is that David's enemies fall and remain dead. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they fall down dead]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Psalms 18:39

ULT	UST
And you gird me {with} valor for war; you make the ones rising up under me bow down.	You have given me the strength and courage to fight battles. When people revolted against me, you enabled me to subdue them.

ULT And you gird me {with} valor
UST You have given me the strength and courage
(וַתְּאַזְּרֵנִי חַיִל)

Here David is speaking as if God were actually girding him with valor, as if valor were a belt or sash that could be wrapped around him. David means that God gives him courage and strength for battle. See how you translated a similar expression in 18:32. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And you make me valiant]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you make the ones rising up under me bow down
UST When people revolted against me, you enabled me to subdue them
(תַּכְרִיעַ קָמַי תַּחְתָּי)

David means that people who try to rebel against him ultimately bow down as a symbolic action by which they show renewed submission to his authority. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [you make the ones rising up under me submit humbly to my authority]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT the ones rising up under me
UST When people revolted against me
(קָמַי תַּחְתָּי)

David is using the ones rising up under me as a common expression of his culture to mean “those who rebel against my rule.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones revolting against my rule]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And you gird me	You have given me with} valor	the strength and courage
you make & bow down	you enabled me to subdue them

Psalms 18:40

ULT	UST
And my enemies, you give to me the back of {their} neck; the ones hating me, I destroyed them.	You enabled me to defeat my enemies and step in triumph on their necks. You gave me power over those who hated me so that I was able to destroy them.

ULT you give to me the back of {their} neck
UST You enabled me to defeat & and step in triumph on their necks
(נְתַתָּה לִּי עֹרֶף)

David is describing a symbolic action in which victorious soldiers would make defeated enemies lie face down on the ground and then would step on their necks to demonstrate their complete triumph (as in Joshua 10:24, for example). If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [you enable me to step in complete triumph on the back of their necks]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT the back of {their} neck
UST and step in triumph on their necks
(עֹרֶף)

In this verse, the words back and neck are singular in form, but they refer to all the enemies as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use plural forms of “back” and “neck.” Alternate translation: [the backs of their necks]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT the ones hating me
UST those who hated me
(וּמְשַׂנְאַי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [you give to me the ones hating me]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And my enemies	my enemies
I destroyed them	You gave me power over & so that I was able to destroy them

Psalms 18:41

ULT	UST
They called out for help, but there was none saving; to Yahweh, but he did not answer them.	They called out for someone to rescue them, but no one did. They cried out {for help} to you, Yahweh, but you did not help them.

ULT to Yahweh
UST They cried out {for help} to you, Yahweh
(עַל־יְהוָה)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [they called to Yahweh]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT but he did not answer them
UST but you did not help them
(וְלֹא עָנָם)

By he did not answer them, David means that Yahweh did not help his enemies as they had asked. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [but he did not do what they asked]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
They called out for help	They called out for saving	someone to rescue them
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 18:42

ULT	UST
And I beat them fine as dust upon the face of the wind; like the mud of the streets I cast them out.	I defeated them so completely that they were no longer any threat to me, no more than tiny particles of dust that the wind blows away would be. It was as if they were dirt that I threw out into the street.

ULT And I beat them fine as dust upon the face of the wind
UST I defeated them so completely that they were no longer any threat to me, no more than tiny particles of dust that the wind blows away would be
(וְאֶשְׁחָקֵם כְּעָפָר עַל־פְּנֵי־רֽוּחַ)

Here David is making a comparison between his defeated enemies and dust upon the face of the wind. The point of this comparison is that just as dust upon the face of the wind is completely scattered and powerless, so his enemies became completely defeated and scattered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [And I beat them so that they scattered completely like dust blown by the wind]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT And I beat them fine as dust upon the face of the wind
UST I defeated them so completely that they were no longer any threat to me, no more than tiny particles of dust that the wind blows away would be
(וְאֶשְׁחָקֵם כְּעָפָר עַל־פְּנֵי־רֽוּחַ)

Here David is speaking as if he had literally beaten his enemies into dust that blows away in the wind. He means that he completely defeated and destroyed them. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And I completely destroyed them and scattered them] or [And I crushed them completely and scattered them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT like the mud of the streets I cast them out
UST It was as if they were dirt that I threw out into the street
(כְּטִיט חוּצוֹת אֲרִיקֵם)

David is making a comparison between his enemies and mud of the streets. The point of this comparison is that just as mud of the streets is worthless and easily discarded, so are his defeated enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [I threw them out like worthless mud from the streets]

Support Reference: Simile

Psalms 18:43

ULT	UST
You rescue me from the disputes of people. You made me as the head of nations. People I did not know serve me.	You rescued me from the Israelites who tried to rebel against me. You appointed me as the ruler of many nations. Foreign people are now my subjects.

ULT You rescue me from the disputes of people
UST You rescued me from the Israelites who tried to rebel against me
(תְּפַלְּטֵנִי מֵרִיבֵי עָם)

By people, David most likely means “my people” as in the parallel passage in (2 Samuel 22:44). You could indicate this explicitly in your translation, as in the UST, if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You rescue me from the disputes of my people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT as the head of nations
UST as the ruler of many nations
(לְרֹאשׁ גּוֹיִם)

Here David is speaking of his leadership role as if he were the head of a body. Just as the head directs the rest of the body, David ruled over other nations. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [as the ruler of nations] or [to govern the nations]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You rescue me	You rescued me from the disputes of	from & who tried to rebel against me nations	many nations
I did & know	Foreign
serve me	are now my subjects

Psalms 18:44

ULT	UST
At the hearing of an ear, they hear me; sons of the foreigner cringe to me.	When they heard about what Yahweh enabled me to do, they obeyed me. Foreign rulers fearfully bow down in front of me {to show their submission}.

ULT At the hearing of an ear
UST When they heard about what Yahweh enabled me to do
(לִשְׁמַע אֹזֶן)

David is using one part of a person, the ear to represent entire people in the act of hearing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [When they listen]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT At the hearing of an ear
UST When they heard about what Yahweh enabled me to do
(לִשְׁמַע אֹזֶן)

David means that these people hear specifically about him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [When they hear about me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they hear me
UST they obeyed me
(יִשְׁמְעוּ לִי)

By they hear me, David means that they obey him. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they obey me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT sons of the foreigner
UST Foreign rulers
(בְּנֵי־נֵכָר)

David is not referring to a specific foreigner. He means foreigners in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [sons of foreigners]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT sons of the foreigner
UST Foreign rulers
(בְּנֵי־נֵכָר)

In certain contexts, biblical authors and characters use the common expression of their culture sons of to indicate that a person has a certain characteristic. In this case, these people have the characteristic of being foreigners or people from other nations. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly, here and in the next verse. Alternate translation: [foreigners]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT cringe to me
UST fearfully bow down in front of me {to show their submission
(יְכַחֲשׁוּ־לִי)

By cringe to me, David means that foreigners will submit to him and show him respect out of fear. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [cringe before me] or [came cringing before me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the foreigner	Foreign
cringe	fearfully bow down & to show their submission

Psalms 18:45

ULT	UST
Sons of the foreigner fade away, and they come trembling from their fortresses.	I defeat foreign armies that resist me so that they become weak, like a plant that dries up in the sun. They surrender and come out of their walled cities shaking with weakness and fear.

ULT Sons of the foreigner
UST I defeat foreign armies that resist me
(בְּנֵי־נֵכָר)

In certain contexts, biblical authors and characters use the expression Sons of to indicate that a person has a certain characteristic. In this case, the people whom David is describing have the characteristic of being soldiers of foreign countries that are resisting his rule. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Foreign soldiers]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT fade away
UST so that they become weak, like a plant that dries up in the sun
(יִבֹּלוּ)

Here David is speaking of foreign armies as if they were plants that fade away and lose their vitality. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [lose strength]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the foreigner	I defeat foreign armies that resist me
and they come trembling	shaking with weakness and fear
from their fortresses	They surrender and come out of their walled cities

Psalms 18:46

ULT	UST
Yahweh is alive! And blessed be my rock, and may the God of my salvation be exalted,	Yahweh, you are the only real God! I praise you! You are like a huge rock {where I can go to be safe}! You are the God who rescues me. Everyone should exalt you.

ULT Yahweh is alive
UST Yahweh, you are the only real God
(חַי־יְהוָה)

David is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling, joy. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [I rejoice that Yahweh is alive] or [How wonderful that Yahweh lives]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT And blessed be my rock
UST I praise you! You are like a huge rock {where I can go to be safe (וּבָרוּךְ צוּרִי)

The expression blessed be is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [And I bless my rock]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT my rock
UST You are like a huge rock {where I can go to be safe
(צוּרִי)

See how you translated a similar phrase in 18:31.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and may the God of my salvation be exalted
UST You are the God who rescues me. Everyone should exalt you (וְיָרוּם אֱלוֹהֵי יִשְׁעִי)

The expression be exalted is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and I exalt the God of my salvation]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the God of my salvation
> UST You are the God who rescues me
> (אֱלוֹהֵי יִשְׁעִי)

David is using this possessive form to describe the God who provides salvation to him. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the God who saves me]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT the God of my salvation
> UST You are the God who rescues me
> (אֱלוֹהֵי יִשְׁעִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the God who is the rock that saves me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
And blessed be	I praise you
the God of	You are the God
my salvation	who rescues me
and may & be exalted	Everyone should exalt you

Psalms 18:47

ULT	UST
the God giving vengeance to me, and he subdues peoples under me,	You are the God who enables me to conquer enemies who have attacked me. You cause the people of other nations to be subject to my rule.

ULT and he subdues peoples under me
UST You cause the people of other nations to be subject to my rule (וַיַּדְבֵּר עַמִּים תַּחְתָּי)

Here David is speaking of conquering peoples as if they were being brought down physically under his feet. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he defeats peoples before me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the God	You are the God
vengeance	to conquer enemies who have attacked me

Psalms 18:48

ULT	UST
the one delivering me from my enemies. Also, from the ones arising {against} me you lift me up, from a man of violence, you deliver me.	You kept my enemies from capturing me. People rebelled against me, but it as if their armies had been floodwaters and you lifted me out of them to safety. You rescued me from men who tried to harm me.

ULT from the ones arising {against} me you lift me up
UST People rebelled against me, but it as if their armies had been floodwaters and you lifted me out of them to safety
(מִן־קָמַי תְּרוֹמְמֵנִי)

Here David is speaking of his enemies as if they were physically arising upward to attack him, and he speaks of God as One who will physically lift me up above them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you make me prevail over those who attack me] or [you protect me from those who oppose me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from a man of violence
UST from men who tried to harm me
(מֵאִישׁ חָמָס)

David is not referring to a specific man of violence. He means violent people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [from violent men]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the one delivering me	You kept & from capturing me from my enemies	my enemies
you deliver me	You rescued me

Psalms 18:49

ULT	UST
Therefore, I thank you among the nations, Yahweh; and I will sing praise to your name,	Because of all this, I thank you, Yahweh, so that all people groups will know that you are the one who has helped me. I will sing to praise you for what you have done that has made you famous.

ULT and I will sing praise to your name
UST I will sing to praise you for what you have done that has made you famous (וּלְשִׁמְךָ אֲזַמָּרָה)

Here, name represents Yahweh himself, in light of his fame and reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and I will sing praise to you] or [and I will sing praise to you, Yahweh]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
among the nations	so that all people groups will know that you are the one who has helped me
Yahweh	Yahweh
I will sing praise	I will sing to praise

Psalms 18:50

ULT	UST
the one magnifying the salvation of his king and doing covenant faithfulness to his anointed, to David, and to his seed until forever.”	You chose me to be king, and you have done great things to save me from my enemies. You faithfully show kindness to me, David, whom you anointed as king, as well as to my descendants forever.”

ULT the one magnifying the salvation of his king
UST You chose me to be king, and you have done great things to save me from my enemies (מגדל יְשׁוּעוֹת מַלְכּוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the one saving his king by great deeds]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and doing covenant faithfulness
UST You faithfully show kindness
(וְעֹשֶׂה חֶסֶד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and being faithful to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to his anointed
UST whom you anointed as king
(לִמְשִׁיחוֹ)

The expression his anointed is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [to the one he anointed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT and to his seed
> UST to my descendants
> (וּלְזַרְעֹו)

Here David is speaking of his offspring as if they were actually seed. Just as a seed can grow into a plant that produces more seeds, David's descendants would continue to come from his family line. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and to all who descend from him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the salvation of	to save me from my enemies
his king	You chose me to be king covenant faithfulness	faithfully & kindness to his anointed	whom you anointed as king to David	to me, David and to his seed	to my descendants
forever	forever

Psalms 18:front

> ULT To the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT from the palm of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul
> UST from Saul and his other enemies
> (מִכַּף כָּל־אֹיְבָיו וּמִיַּד שָׁאוּל)

Here palm and hand represent power or control. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the control of all his enemies]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Of David	David & wrote this psalm
the} servant of	servant
Yahweh	God’s
to Yahweh	to Yahweh
that & delivered	had rescued
his enemies	and his other enemies
Saul	Saul

Psalms 19

Psalms 19 Introduction

Psalm 19 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 19 is a psalm about how God has revealed himself and glorifies himself through his physical creation, and how he reveals himself through his written revelation which he gave to the Israelites through Moses.

1. The heavens declare God's glory (1–4b)
2. The sun in the heavens (4c–6)
3. The greatness and worth of God's word and its effect (7–9)
4. The desirableness of God's word (10)
5. The benefit of God's word (11–12a)
6. Closing prayer (12b–14)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Terms for God's commands and instructions

The psalmist uses many different words to refer to God's message to us. You could decide to use a different word for each term, but most languages will not have that many, so just use the words that your language has. In verses 7–9 there are six different terms used for things that God commanded and taught his people.

1. "The law of Yahweh" in 19:7a. (See: law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God)
2. "The testimony of Yahweh" in 19:7b. Here the word "testimony" has a similar meaning to the word "law" in 19:7a, making the phrases "The law of Yahweh" and "the testimony of Yahweh" complementary. The phrase "the testimony of Yahweh" refers either to God's entire law as a whole that he gave to the Israelites or more specifically to his law that he gave them through Moses on Mount Sinai.
3. "The precepts of Yahweh" in verse 19:8a. The word that is translated as "precepts" refers to something that is appointed or mandated so the phrase “the precepts of Yahweh” refers to the things that Yahweh mandated.

4. “The commandment of Yahweh” in 19:8b. See the note on this phrase in 19:8.

5. “The fear of Yahweh” in 19:9a. See the note on this phrase in 19:9.

6. “The judgments of Yahweh” in 19:9b. The word translated as “judgments” could also be translated as “ordinances” or “decisions” here and refers to decisions or judgments that are made. Here the phrase “the judgments of Yahweh” refers to the judicial instructions that Yahweh gave the Israelites for handling different types of situations involving people.

Psalms 19:1

ULT	UST
The heavens are declaring the glory of God, and the sky is proclaiming the work of his hands.	{When people look at everything that} God {has placed} in the skies, they can see that he is very great. Yes, the way God made the sky shows people that he is powerful.

ULT The heavens are declaring the glory of God, and the sky is proclaiming the work of his hands
UST When people look at everything that} God {has placed} in the skies, they can see that he is very great. Yes, the way God made the sky shows people that he is powerful
(הַשֹּׁ֤ם מְסַפְּרִ֨ים כְּבוֹד־אֵ֗ל וּמַעֲשֵׂ֥ה יָדָ֑יו מַגִּ֥יד הָרָקִֽיעַ)

David is speaking of the heavens and the sky as if they were living things that could declare and proclaim God's glory and works. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [What people see in the heavens shows them the glory of God, and what they see in the sky tells them about the work of his hands]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT the glory of God
UST God & that he is very great (כְּבוֹד־אֵ֗ל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that God is glorious]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT The heavens are declaring the glory of God, and the sky is proclaiming the work of his hands
UST When people look at everything that} God {has placed} in the skies, they can see that he is very great. Yes, the way God made the sky shows people that he is powerful
(הַשֹּׁ֤ם מְסַפְּרִ֨ים כְּבוֹד־אֵ֗ל וּמַעֲשֵׂ֥ה יָדָ֑יו מַגִּ֥יד הָרָקִֽיעַ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The heavens are declaring the glory of God, yes, the sky is proclaiming the work of his hands]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT and the sky is proclaiming the work of his hands
UST Yes, the way God made the sky shows people that he is powerful (וּמַעֲשֵׂה יָדָיו מַגִּיד הָרָקִיעַ)

Here, hands represents the power and creative ability of God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the sky is proclaiming what he has powerfully made] or [and the sky is proclaiming his mighty works]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The heavens	everything that & has placed} in the skies are declaring	When people look at & they can see the glory of	that & is very great
God	God & he
the sky	the sky
is proclaiming	shows people and & the work of	Yes, the way God made & that he is powerful

Psalms 19:2

ULT	UST
Day to day makes flow forth a word, and night to night declares knowledge.	Day after day {it is as though the sun} proclaims the glory of God, and night after night {it is as though the moon and stars} say that God made them.

ULT Day to day makes flow forth a word, and night to night declares knowledge
UST Day after day {it is as though the sun} proclaims the glory of God, and night after night {it is as though the moon and stars} say that God made them
(יוֹם לְיוֹם יַבִּיעַ אֹמֶר וְלַיְלָה לְלַיְלָה יְחַוֶּה־דָּעַת)

David is speaking of Day to day and night to night as if they were living things that could speak and declare knowledge. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Each day it is as if the daytime is speaking, and each night it is as if the nighttime is declaring knowledge]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT Day to day makes flow forth a word
UST Day after day {it is as though the sun} proclaims the glory of God (יוֹם לְיוֹם יַבִּיעַ אֹמֶר)

Within the image of the day speaking, David is speaking of the day as if it were a spring that flows or bubbles forth water. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [It is as if each day is a spring that pours out words declaring God’s glory]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT a word
UST the glory of God
(אֹמֶר)

David is not referring to a specific word. He means words in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [words]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT Day to day & and night to night
UST Day after day & and night after night
(יוֹם לְיוֹם & וְלַיְלָה לְלַיְלָה)

David assumes that readers will understand that Day to day means that each successive day continues to proclaim God's glory, and night to night means that each successive night continues to declare knowledge about God. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Each day … and each night]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Day to day	Day after day
declares	it is as though the moon and stars} say knowledge	that God made them

Psalms 19:3

ULT	UST
{There} is no speech and {there} are no words, their voice is not being heard.	They do not really speak; they do not say any words. There is no sound from them for anyone to hear.

ULT their voice is not being heard
UST There is no sound from them for anyone to hear
(בְּלִי נִשְׁמָע קוֹלָם)

The pronoun their refers to the heavens. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [where the voice of the heavens is not being heard]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT their voice is not being heard
UST There is no sound from them for anyone to hear
(בְּלִי נִשְׁמָע קוֹלָם)

The expression their voice is not being heard is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [where people do not hear their voice]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT their voice is not being heard
UST There is no sound from them for anyone to hear
(בְּלִי נִשְׁמָע קוֹלָם)

Here David speaks of the “heavens” as if they were a living thing that could speak and have their voice heard but remains silent. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they do not have a voice to speak]

Support Reference: Personification

Psalms 19:4

ULT	UST
Their line has gone out through all of the earth, and their words to the end of the world. He has set in them a tent for the sun,	But what they declare {about God} goes throughout all the world, and {even people who live in} the most distant places on earth can know it. The sun is in the skies where God placed it;

ULT Their line & their words & in them
UST But what they declare {about God & can know it & is in the skies where (קַוָּם & מִלֵּיהֶם & בָּהֶם)

The pronouns Their and them refer to the heavens. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [The heaven's line … the heaven's words … in the heavens] or [The line of the heaven's … the words of the heaven's … in the heavens]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Their line has gone out through all of the earth
UST But what they declare {about God} goes throughout all the world
(בְּכָל־הָאָרֶץ | יָצָא קַוָּם)

The Septuagint (an ancient Greek translation of the Hebrew Bible) and the Peshitta (the Syriac translation of the Bible) read "Their voice" instead of "their line." That may have been the original reading, particularly since it would then make this line a parallelism with the second line in the verse with "Their voice" and their words being parallel ideas. At one point in the process of transmission, scribes may have accidentally left out the additional Hebrew letter that would have spelled "Their voice" rather than Their line. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT and their words to the end of the world
UST and {even people who live in} the most distant places on earth can know it
(וּבִקְצֵה תֵבֵל מִלֵּיהֶם)

David is speaking of the heavens as if they were living things that could speak words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they display God's glory to the end of the world]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT and their words to the end of the world
UST and {even people who live in} the most distant places on earth can know it
(וּבִקְצֵה תֵּבֵל מִלֵּיהֶם)

David assumes that readers will know that their words to the end of the world refers to the message that the heavens proclaim about God's glory and to the end of the world refers to the furthest extremities of the earth. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and their message to the furthest extremities of the earth] or [and their message to the most remote parts of the earth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT He has set in them a tent for the sun
UST The sun is in the skies where God placed it (לַשֶּׁמֶשׁ שָׂם־אֹהֶל בָּהֶם)

David is speaking of the heavens as if they were a tent for the sun. He means that God has placed the sun in the skies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He has placed the sun in the heavens] or [He has put the sun in the skies]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the world	on earth
a tent	is in the skies where

Psalms 19:5

ULT	UST
and that is like a bridegroom coming out from his chamber, it rejoices like a strong man to run its path.	it rises each morning like a bridegroom {who is happy} as he comes out of his bedroom after his wedding. It is like a strong athlete who is very eager to start running in a race.

ULT and that & it rejoices & its path
UST it rises each morning & who is very eager & in a race
(וְהוּא & יָשִׂישׂ & אֹרַח)

The demonstrative pronoun that and the pronouns it and its all refer to the sun. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [and the sun … the sun rejoices … its path]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and that is like a bridegroom coming out from his chamber
UST it rises each morning like a bridegroom {who is happy} as he comes out of his bedroom after his wedding
(וְהוּא כֶּחָתָן יֹצֵא מֵחֻפָּתוֹ)

The point of this comparison is that just as a bridegroom coming out from his chamber is satisfied, joyful and radiant so is the sun as it rises. (Here the word chamber refers to a bedroom.) If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [and that joyfully rises like a bridegroom coming out from his chamber] or [and it comes out joyfully and eagerly like a bridegroom leaving his bedroom]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT it rejoices like a strong man to run its path
UST It is like a strong athlete who is very eager to start running in a race
(יָשִׂישׂ כְּגִבּוֹר לָרוּץ אֹרַח)

The point of this comparison is that just as a strong man is eager and enthusiastic to run, so is the sun eager and enthusiastic to travel across the sky. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [it moves eagerly across the sky like a strong man who is eager to run a race]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is like a bridegroom	like a bridegroom
it rejoices	who is very eager
like a strong man	It is like a strong athlete

Psalms 19:6

ULT	UST
From the end of the heavens is its going forth, and its circuit to the ends of them, and there is nothing hidden from its heat.	The sun rises at one side of the sky and goes across the sky and sets on the other side, and there is nothing that is unaffected by its heat.

ULT From the end of the heavens is its going forth, and its circuit to the ends of them
UST The sun rises at one side of the sky and goes across the sky and sets on the other side
(מִקְצֵה הַשָּׁמַיִם | מְוֹצָאוֹ וּתְקוּפָתוֹ עַל־קְצוֹתָם)

David assumes that readers will know that the end of the heavens and the ends of them refer to opposite horizons where the sun appears to begin and complete its daily journey across the sky. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [From the furthest extremities of the heavens is its going forth, and its circuit to the furthest extremities of them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT is its going forth, and its circuit & from its heat
UST The sun rises & and goes across the sky & by its heat
(מְוֹצָאוֹ וּתְקוּפָתוֹ & מֵחַמָּתוֹ)

The pronouns its in the phrase its going forth, and its circuit and in the phrase its heat all refer to the sun. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [is the sun's going forth, and the sun's circuit … from the sun's heat]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and there is nothing hidden from its heat
UST and there is nothing that is unaffected by its heat (וְאֵין נִסְתָּר מֵחַמָּתוֹ)

The expression nothing hidden is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and there is nothing that is able to escape from its heat]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the heavens	the sky

Psalms 19:7

ULT	UST
The law of Yahweh is perfect, restoring the soul; the testimony of Yahweh is sure, making wise the simple.	The instructions that Yahweh has given us are perfect; they keep us from living in a way that would cause God to condemn us. We can be sure that the things that Yahweh has told us are trustworthy, and by learning them people who have not been previously taught will become wise.

ULT restoring the soul
UST they keep us from living in a way that would cause God to condemn us
(מְשִׁיבַת נָפֶשׁ)

Here the word the ULT translates as restoring could mean: (1) “turning back” or “converting” and refer to changing one’s mind leading them to turn from (stop) a wrong way of living and turn towards (obey) God. Alternate translation: [converting the soul] or [turning one back to God], or (2) [refreshing.] Alternate translation: [refreshing the soul] or [reviving the soul]

ULT restoring the soul
UST they keep us from living in a way that would cause God to condemn us
(מְשִׁיבַת נָפֶשׁ)

David is using the term soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [restoring the person]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the simple
UST people who have not been previously taught (פְּתִי)

David is using the adjective simple as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [simple people] or [inexperienced people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The law of Yahweh	The instructions that Yahweh has given us
Yahweh	Yahweh has given us
is perfect	are perfect
restoring	they keep & from living in a way that would cause God to condemn the soul	us & us
the testimony of	the things that & has told us is sure	We can be sure that & are trustworthy making wise	and by learning them & will become wise

Psalms 19:8

ULT	UST
The precepts of Yahweh are right, making the heart rejoice; the commandment of Yahweh is pure, enlightening the eyes.	Yahweh's laws are fair; {when we obey them,} we become joyful. The commands of Yahweh are morally perfect, and {by learning them} we start to understand {how God wants us to behave}.

ULT making the heart rejoice
UST when we obey them,} we become joyful
(מְשַׂמְּחֵי־לֵב)

Here the heart represents a person's inner being, where emotions and desires exist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causing people to rejoice]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the commandment of Yahweh is pure
UST The commands of Yahweh are morally perfect
(מִצְוַת יְהוָה בָּרָה)

David is not referring to a specific commandment of God. He means Yahweh's entire law as a whole, which includes all Yahweh's commandments. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the commandments of Yahweh are pure]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT is pure
UST are morally perfect
(בָּרָה)

David is speaking of the commandment of Yahweh as if it were physically pure, like something that contains no impurities or contaminants. He means that the commandment is morally perfect and completely right. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is totally righteous]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT enlightening the eyes
> UST and {by learning them} we start to understand {how God wants us to behave
> (מְאִירַת עֵינָיִם)

Here, eyes represents the ability to see and understand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [giving guidance for living] or [giving insight for how to live wisely]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh’s
are right	are fair
making & rejoice	when we obey them & become joyful
is pure	are morally perfect

Psalms 19:9

ULT	UST
The fear of Yahweh is clean, enduring forever; the judgments of Yahweh are true, they are altogether righteous.	The law of Yahweh causes people to revere him and therefore live in a morally upright way; that is something that will endure forever. The things Yahweh has decreed are true, they are completely righteous.

ULT The fear of Yahweh is clean
UST The law of Yahweh causes people to revere him and therefore live in a morally upright way
(יִרְאַ֣ת יְהוָ֣ה | טְהוֹרָ֑ה)

Here, The fear of Yahweh represents the obedience to his laws or commands that is the result of that reverence and that produces a clean life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Carefully obeying the law of Yahweh keeps one clean] or [the reverence given to Yahweh that results in obedience to him produces a clean life]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT The fear of Yahweh is clean
UST The law of Yahweh causes people to revere him and therefore live in a morally upright way
(יִרְאַ֣ת יְהוָ֣ה | טְהוֹרָ֑ה)

David is speaking of the fear of Yahweh as if it were something that could be clean. He means that the fear of Yahweh causes people to obey him, which results in a life that is pure and without moral fault. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The fear of Yahweh results in a morally pure life] or [The fear of Yahweh results in obedience to him which produces a faultless life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The fear of	The law of & causes people to revere him
Yahweh	Yahweh
enduring	that is something that will endure
forever	forever
the judgments of	The things & has decreed they are & righteous	they are & righteous

Psalms 19:10

ULT	UST
They are to be desired more than gold, and more than much fine gold, and they are more sweet than honey and nectar of honeycombs.	Yahweh's commandments are more valuable than gold, even great amounts of the purest gold. Learning the things Yahweh teaches us through them is more pleasurable than eating honey, than honey dripping from honeycombs.

ULT They are to be desired more than gold, and more than much fine gold, and they are more sweet than honey and nectar of honeycombs
UST Yahweh's commandments are more valuable than gold, even great amounts of the purest gold. Learning the things Yahweh teaches us through them is more pleasurable than eating honey, than honey dripping from honeycombs
(הֶֽנֶחֱמָדִ֤ים מִזָּ֨הָב֙ וּמִפַּ֣ז רָ֔ב וּמְתוּקִ֖ים מִדְּבַ֣שׁ וְנֹ֑פֶת צוּפִֽים)

The point of this comparison is that just as gold is valuable and therefore desirable, and as honey is sweet, so the commandments of Yahweh are valuable and pleasant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [The commandments of Yahweh are extremely valuable and pleasant, like gold and honey]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT They are to be desired & and they are more sweet than honey
UST Yahweh's commandments are & valuable & Learning the things Yahweh teaches us through them is more pleasurable than eating honey (הֶֽנֶחֱמָדִ֤ים & וּמְתוּקִ֖ים מִדְּבַ֣שׁ)

The pronoun They refers to the "commandments" of Yahweh mentioned in the preceding verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [The commandments of Yahweh are worth … the commandments of Yahweh are sweeter than honey]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and nectar of
UST than honey dripping from (וְנֹ֑פֶת)

The word translated as nectar refers specifically to honey which drips or flows from a honeycomb. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly by translating it as "honey." Alternate translation: [and honey of]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
more than gold	more & than gold and more than & fine gold	even & of the purest gold more & than honey	more & than eating honey
honeycombs	honeycombs

Psalms 19:11

ULT	UST
Also, by them your servant is warned; in keeping them there is great reward.	Furthermore, by your commandments I am warned {about what things I should not do}. You greatly reward those who obey them.

ULT by them your servant is warned; in keeping them there is great reward
UST by your commandments I am warned {about what things I should not do}. You greatly reward those who obey them
(עַבְדְּךָ נִזְהָר בָּהֶם בְּשָׁמְרָם עֵקֶב רָב)

Both occurrences of the pronoun them refer to the commandments and teachings of Yahweh described in verses 7–10. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [by Yahweh's commandments your servant is warned; in obeying his commandments there is great reward]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT your servant is warned
UST I am warned {about what things I should not do & them (עַבְדְּךָ נִזְהָר)

David is speaking of himself in the third person as your servant to show humility. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in a humble form in the first person. Alternate translation: [I, your servant, am warned] or [I am warned]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT by them your servant is warned
UST by your commandments I am warned {about what things I should not do & them (עַבְדְּךָ נִזְהָר בָּהֶם)

The expression by them your servant is warned is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [they warn your servant] or [Yahweh warns your servant by them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your servant	I
is warned	am warned {about what things I should not do & them
there is & reward	You & reward

Psalms 19:12

ULT	UST
Who can discern {his} errors? Acquit me from hidden {faults}.	There is no one who can know all his sins; so Yahweh, forgive me for these things which I do that I do not realize are wrong.

ULT Who can discern {his} errors
UST There is no one who can know all his sins
(שְׁגִיאוֹת מִי־יָבִין)

David is using the question form to emphasize that no one can fully understand all of their own sins and mistakes. If you would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [No one can discern all his own errors!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT his} errors & from hidden {faults
UST all his sins & for these things which I do that I do not realize are wrong
(שְׁגִיאוֹת & מִנִּסְתָּרוֹת)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context, as in the ULT, if that would be clearer in your language.

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Acquit me from hidden {faults
UST so Yahweh, forgive me for these things which I do that I do not realize are wrong
(מִנִּסְתָּרוֹת נַקֵּנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. David is asking God to forgive him. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please acquit me from hidden faults]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
can discern	can know

Psalms 19:13

ULT	UST
Also, keep back your servant from presumptuous ones; let them not rule over me. Then I will be blameless, and I will be innocent from great transgression.	Also, keep me from doing things that I know are wrong; do not let my sinful desires control me. If you do that, then I will be guilty of committing any great sin.

ULT keep back your servant from presumptuous ones; let them not rule over me
UST keep me from doing things that I know are wrong; do not let my sinful desires control me
(חָשֹׂךְ עַבְדֶּךָ אַל־יְמִשְׁלוּ־בִי | מִזֵּדִים)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please keep back your servant from presumptuous ones; please do not let them rule over me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT keep back your servant
UST keep me
(חָשֹׂךְ עַבְדֶּךָ)

David is speaking of himself in the third person as your servant to show humility. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in a humble form in the first person. Alternate translation: [keep me back]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT from presumptuous ones
UST from doing things that I know are wrong
(מִזֵּדִים)

David is using the adjective presumptuous as a noun to mean a certain kind of sin. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [presumptuous sins] or [deliberate sins]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT let them not rule over me
UST do not let my sinful desires control me
(אַל־יִמְשְׁלוּ־בִ֑י)

David assumes that readers will know that them refers to presumptuous sins. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [let presumptuous sins not rule over me] or [let these presumptuous sins not rule over me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from great transgression
UST of committing any great sin
(מִפֶּ֣שַׁע רָ֔ב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of transgression, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from doing something very wrong] or [from sinning greatly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
keep back	keep
your servant	me
from presumptuous ones	from doing things that I know are wrong
let them & rule	do & let my sinful desires control me
I will be blameless	I will be guiltless
and I will be innocent	and I will not be guilty from & transgression	of committing any & sin

Psalms 19:14

ULT	UST
Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable to your face, Yahweh, my strength and the one redeeming me.	I pray that both what I say, and what I think about, be pleasing to you, Yahweh, you who enable me to be strong and who redeem me.

ULT Let the words of my mouth & be UST I pray that & what I say & be (יִהְיוּ & אִמְרֵי־פִ֑י)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. David is using this form to make a humble petition to Yahweh. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask that the words of my mouth … be] or [Please let the words of my mouth … be]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT the words of my mouth
UST what I say
(אִמְרֵי־פִ֑י)

Here, the words of my mouth represent what David says by using words. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what I say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and the meditation of my heart
UST both & and what I think about (וְהֶגְיוֹן לִבִּ֑י)

Here my heart represents where David’s thoughts and feelings exist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and my inner thoughts] or [and what I think within myself]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to your face
UST to you
(לְפָנֶ֗יךָ)

Here God’s face represents his presence and by extension his sight. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to you] or [in your sight]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT my strength
> UST enable me to be strong
> (צוּרִ֑י)

See how you translated the phrase “my strength” in 18:1.

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and the meditation of	both & and what I think about
Yahweh	Yahweh, you who
and the one redeeming me	and who redeem me

Psalms 19:front

> ULT To the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	This is a psalm
of David	of David

Psalms 20

Psalms 20 Introduction

Psalm 20 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 20 is considered to be one of the “royal psalms.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the royal psalms.

1. Prayer for the king that Yahweh would protect and help him in battle (1–2)
2. Prayer that Yahweh would accept the king’s offerings (3)
3. Prayer that Yahweh would fulfill the king’s desires and plans (4)
4. Anticipation of Yahweh giving his king victory (5)
5. Expression of confidence in Yahweh (6–8)
6. Closing prayer (9)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Trust

In verse 7 David asserts that trusting in Yahweh is better than trusting in military might. (See: trust, trusted, trustworthy, trustworthiness)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

In verses 1–5 who do the pronouns “you” and “your” refer to?

In this psalm all occurrences of the pronouns “you” and “your” that occur in verses 1–5 are singular and refer to Yahweh’s anointed king mentioned in verse 6. Because verse 6 identifies who the pronouns “you” and “your” refer to, you do not need to make this explicit in your translation. Also, if your language has both singular and plural second person pronouns, you should use the singular forms each time you translate the pronouns “you” and “your” in verses 1–5.

Psalms 20:1

ULT	UST
May Yahweh answer you in the day of trouble; may the name of the God of Jacob set you on high.	I desire that Yahweh will answer you {when you call out to him} when you are in a crisis! I desire that Yahweh, the God whom {our ancestor} Jacob worshiped, will protect you {from your enemies}.

ULT in the day of trouble
UST when you call out to him} when you are in a crisis
(בְּיוֹם צָרָה)

David is using the term day to refer to a specific time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when you experience trouble] or [in time of trouble]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the name of the God of Jacob
UST Yahweh, the God whom {our ancestor} Jacob worshiped
(שֵׁם | אֱלֹהֵי יַעֲקֹב)

David is using the term name to represent the person and character of God himself, including his attributes and covenant faithfulness to deliver his people when they call on him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the God of Jacob]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT may & set you on high
UST I desire that & will protect you {from your enemies
(יְשַׂגֶּבְךָ)

David is speaking of Yahweh protecting his anointed king as if Yahweh would set him up on a high place where his enemies could not reach and harm him. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [may … keep you safe] or [may … keep you from being harmed by your enemies]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
trouble	when you are in a crisis
the God of	the God
Jacob	whom {our ancestor} Jacob worshiped

Psalms 20:2

ULT	UST
May he send you help from the sanctuary and support you from Zion.	I desire that he may come from his sacred temple and help you, and aid you from {where he lives} on Mount Zion.

ULT May he send you help
UST I desire that he may come & and help you (יִשְׁלָֽח־עֶזְרְךָ)

David assumes that readers will know that help means military assistance or deliverance from enemies. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [May he help you prevail against your adversaries with aid]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT May he send you help from the sanctuary
UST I desire that he may come from his sacred temple and help you (יִשְׁלָֽח־עֶזְרְךָ֥ מִקֹּדֶשׁ)

David assumes that readers will know that the sanctuary refers to the temple in Jerusalem, the place where God's presence dwells. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [May he send you help from his sanctuary, the Temple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT May he send you help from the sanctuary and support you from Zion
UST I desire that he may come from his sacred temple and help you, and aid you from {where he lives} on Mount Zion
(יִשְׁלָֽח־עֶזְרְךָ֥ מִקֹּדֶשׁ וּמִצִּיּ֖וֹן יִסְעָדֶֽךָּ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [May he send you help from the sanctuary, yes, may he support you from Zion]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the sanctuary	from his sacred temple and & from Zion	and & from {where he lives} on Mount Zion

Psalms 20:3

ULT	UST
May he remember all of your grain offerings and regard as fat your burnt offering. Selah	I desire that he may accept all your grain offerings and accept all your {other} offerings that you give him to be burned {on the altar}. Selah

ULT May he remember all of your grain offerings
UST I desire that he may accept all your grain offerings
(יִזְכֹּר כָּל־מִנְחֹתֶךָ)

David assumes that readers will know that when God remembers someone's offerings, he acts favorably toward that person based on those offerings. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [May he take notice of all of your offerings and act accordingly]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and regard as fat your burnt offering
UST and accept all your {other} offerings that you give him to be burned {on the altar
(וְעוֹלָתְךָ יְדַשְּׁנֶה)

David is using regard as fat as a common expression of his culture to mean "accept" or "be pleased with." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your grain offerings	your grain offerings
and & your burnt offering	and & all your {other} offerings that you give him to be burned {on the altar
Selah	Selah

Psalms 20:4

ULT	UST
May he grant you according to your heart, and may he fulfill all of your plans.	I want him to give you what you desire, and I want him to allow you to be able to accomplish everything that you have planned to do.

ULT according to your heart
UST what you desire
(כִּלְבָבֶךָ)

Here the heart represents where a person's desires exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what you desire] or [the desires of your heart]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT according to your heart
UST what you desire
(כִּלְבָבֶךָ)

David assumes that readers will understand that your heart refers to the king's desires or wishes. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [according to your heart's desire]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
may he fulfill	to allow you to be able to accomplish

Psalms 20:5

ULT	UST
We will shout for joy over your salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up {our} banners. May Yahweh fulfill all of your petitions.	When you defeat your enemies, we will shout joyfully. We will lift up a banner proclaiming that it is Yahweh our God {who helps us}. I desire Yahweh to do everything that you have requested him to do.

ULT We will shout for joy & we will set up {our} banners
UST we will shout joyfully. We will lift up a banner proclaiming (נְרַנְּנָה & נִדְגֹּל)

In this context, the forms of the two verbs the ULT translates as We will shout for joy and we will set up our banners could indicate: (1) a resolution of the will and therefore be translated as in the ULT, or (2) a request. Alternate translation: [May we shout for joy … may we set up our banners]

ULT We will shout for joy over your salvation
UST When you defeat your enemies, we will shout joyfully (נְרַנְּנָה ׀ בִּֽישׁוּעָתֶךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of joy and salvation, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [When you save us, then we will joyfully shout]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and in the name of our God
UST that it is Yahweh our God {who helps us
(וּבְשֵׁם־אֱלֹהֵֽינוּ)

Here David is using the term name to represent who God is or to refer to his reputation. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and for the glory of our God]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT we will set up {our} banners
UST We will lift up a banner proclaiming (נִדְגֹּל)

A banner is a flag made from a large piece of cloth that is attached to a long pole. People, groups, and kings had their own unique banners by which they identified themselves. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of flag, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [we will set up our flags]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT and in the name of our God we will set up {our} banners
UST We will lift up a banner proclaiming that it is Yahweh our God {who helps us
(וּבְשֵׁם־אֱלֹהֵינוּ נִדְגֹּל)

Raising banners was a symbolic action by which armies showed victory. In this context it was done in order to give God the glory for helping the soldiers of the Israelite army defeat their enemies. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [and in the name of our God we will raise our banners to celebrate the victory Yahweh has given us]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
We will shout for joy	we will shout joyfully
over your salvation	When you defeat your enemies
our God	that it is Yahweh our God {who helps us
Yahweh	Yahweh
May & fulfill	I desire & to do

Psalms 20:6

ULT	UST
Now I know that Yahweh saves his anointed; he will answer him from his holy heaven with mighty deeds of salvation of his right hand.	I know now that Yahweh rescues the one whom he has chosen {to be king}. From his holy place in heaven he will answer him, and he will save him by his great power.

> ULT his anointed
> UST the one whom he has chosen {to be king
> (מְשִׁיחוֹ)

You may be used to indicating when David is referring to himself in the third person by saying something such as “me, his anointed.” However, we recommend that you not do that in this instance, since the term anointed here refers to others besides David.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

> ULT his anointed
> UST the one whom he has chosen {to be king
> (מְשִׁיחוֹ)

David assumes that readers will know that his anointed refers to the king of Israel, whom God had chosen and set apart by anointing with oil. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [his anointed king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT his anointed
> UST the one whom he has chosen {to be king
> (מְשִׁיחוֹ)

The expression his anointed is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [the one whom he had anointed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT with mighty deeds of salvation of his right hand
> UST and he will save him by his great power
> (בִּגְבֻרוֹת יֵשַׁע יְמִינוֹ)

Here, right hand represents the power of Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with mighty deeds by his great power to save]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT with mighty deeds of salvation of his right hand
> UST and he will save him by his great power
> (בִּגְבֻרוֹת יֵשַׁע יְמִינוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [with mighty deeds of his saving right hand]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I know	I know
Yahweh	Yahweh
saves	rescues
his anointed	the one whom he has chosen {to be king
his holy	his holy place
from & heaven	From & in heaven
with mighty deeds of	and he will & him by his great power
salvation of	save

Psalms 20:7

ULT	UST
These in chariots and these in horses, but we will remember the name of Yahweh our God.	Some {kings} trust that because they have chariots {they will be able to defeat their enemies}, and some trust that their horses {will enable them to defeat their enemies}, but we will trust in the power of Yahweh our God.

ULT These in chariots and these in horses
UST Some {kings} trust that because they have chariots {they will be able to defeat their enemies}, and some trust that their horses {will enable them to defeat their enemies
(אֵ֭לֶּה בָּרֶ֣כֶב וְאֵ֭לֶּה בַּסּוּסִ֑ים)

David is using These in chariots and these in horses as a common expression of his culture to mean “Some trust in chariots and some in horses” or “Some trust in chariots and others in horses.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Some in chariots and some in horses] or [Some trust in chariots and others trust in horses]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT These in chariots and these in horses
UST Some {kings} trust that because they have chariots {they will be able to defeat their enemies}, and some trust that their horses {will enable them to defeat their enemies
(אֵ֭לֶּה בָּרֶ֣כֶב וְאֵ֭לֶּה בַּסּוּסִ֑ים)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [These trust in chariots and these trust in horses]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT These in chariots and these in horses
UST Some {kings} trust that because they have chariots {they will be able to defeat their enemies}, and some trust that their horses {will enable them to defeat their enemies
(אֵלֶּה בָרֶכֶב וְאֵלֶּה בַסּוּסִים)

David assumes that readers will know that chariots and horses were military equipment that symbolized military power and strength. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [These trust in their military chariots and these in their war horses]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT but we
UST but we (וַאֲנַחְנוּ)

David uses the word but here to indicate a contrast between those who trust in military power and those who trust in Yahweh. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [however, we] or [in contrast, we]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT will remember
UST will trust
(נַזְכִּיר)

David assumes that readers will know that remembering the name of Yahweh means trusting in him and calling on him for help. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will keep in mind] or [will be confident in]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the name of Yahweh our God
UST in the power of Yahweh our God
(בְּשֵׁם־יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ)

David is using the term name to represent who Yahweh is and his character which includes being very powerful. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh our God] or [Yahweh our powerful God]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in chariots	that because they have chariots {they will be able to defeat their enemies
in horses	that their horses {will enable them to defeat their enemies
Yahweh	Yahweh
our God	our God

Psalms 20:8

ULT	UST
They bow down and fall, but we rise and stand upright!	Some will stumble and fall down, but we will be strong and not be moved.

ULT They & but we
UST and & but we
(הֵ֣מָּה & וַ֭אֲנַחְנוּ)

The pronoun They refers to those who trust in chariots and horses (mentioned in the previous verse), while the pronoun we refers to David and those who trust in Yahweh. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Those who trust in those things … but we who trust in Yahweh]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They bow down and fall
UST Some will stumble and fall down
(הֵ֣מָּה כָ֭רְעוּ וְנָפָ֑לוּ)

David assumes that readers will know that bow down and fall refers to being defeated in battle. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [They collapse and fall in battle]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and fall
UST fall down
(וְנָפָ֑לוּ)

Here, fall represents dying in battle. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and fall dead]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bow down	Some will stumble
and stand upright	will be strong

Psalms 20:9

ULT	UST
Save, Yahweh; may the king answer us on the day we call.	Yahweh, enable your king {to defeat our enemies}! We desire that the king answer us when we cry out {for help}.

ULT Save, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, enable your king {to defeat our enemies
(יְהוָה הוֹשִׁיעָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, please save]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Save, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, enable your king {to defeat our enemies
(יְהוָה הוֹשִׁיעָה)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, save the king] or [Yahweh, save us, your people]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Save, Yahweh; may the king answer us
UST Yahweh, enable your king {to defeat our enemies}! We desire that the king answer us (יְהוָה הוֹשִׁיעָה הַמֶּלֶךְ יַעֲנֵנוּ)

The word the ULT translates as the king could belong: (1) with the second line, as in the ULT, or (2) with the first line. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, save the king! May he answer us]

ULT on the day
UST when
(בְּיוֹם)

David is using the term day to refer to a specific time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at the time] or [when]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Save	enable your king {to defeat our enemies
Yahweh	Yahweh
the king	the king
we call	we cry out {for help

Psalms 20:front

> ULT To the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	This is a psalm
of David	of David

Psalms 21

Psalms 21 Introduction

Psalm 21 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 21 is considered to be one of the “royal psalms.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the royal psalms.

1. The king rejoices in Yahweh’s strength (1)
2. Yahweh’s blessing of his chosen king (2–6)
3. The king’s trust in Yahweh (7)
4. The king will defeat his enemies with Yahweh’s help (8–12)
5. Final words regarding Yahweh’s strength and power (13)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Pronouns

There is a shift in how Yahweh is referred to in this psalm. In verses 1–6 David uses second person pronouns when Yahweh is addressed. In verse 7 Yahweh is referred to in the third person as “Yahweh” and as “the Most High.” In verses 8–13 David shifts back to using second person pronouns when Yahweh is being addressed. (See: First, Second or Third Person)

In this psalm, when the pronouns “you,” “we,” “them,” “their,” and “they” are used, it may at times be unclear to whom these pronouns are referring to. For help translating these pronouns, see the notes in the individual verses where these pronouns occur. (See: Pronouns — When to Use Them)

Psalms 21:1

ULT	UST
Yahweh, in your strength the king rejoices, and in your salvation how greatly he exults!	Yahweh, {your} king is glad because you have enabled him to be strong and because you have rescued him {from his enemies}; indeed, how exceedingly he rejoices.

ULT in your strength & and in your salvation
UST because you have enabled him to be strong and because you have rescued him {from his enemies
(בְּעֻזְּךָ & וּבִישׁוּעָתְךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of strength and salvation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [because you are strong ... and because you save me] or [because you are powerful ... and because you save those who trust in you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the king rejoices & he exults
UST your} king is glad & he rejoices
(יִשְׂמַח־מֶלֶךְ & יגיל)

You may be used to indicating when David is referring to himself in the third person by saying something such as “I, the king rejoice ... I exult.” However, we recommend that you not do that in this instance, since the king here, while including David, refers to others besides him.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT how greatly he exults
UST indeed, how exceedingly he rejoices
(מַה־יגיל מְאֹד)

David is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling of joy. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [he rejoices so very much] or [he is extremely glad]

Support Reference: Exclamations

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
the king	your} king
rejoices	is glad
and in your salvation	and because you have rescued him {from his enemies
he exults	he rejoices

Psalms 21:2

ULT	UST
You have given to him the desire of his heart, and the request of his lips you have not withheld. Selah	You have given {your} king the things he desired, and you have not refused to do what he requested you to do. Selah

ULT the desire of his heart
UST the things he desired
(תַּאֲוַת לִבּוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of desire, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what he desired]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the desire of his heart
UST the things he desired
(תַּאֲוַת לִבּוֹ)

Here the heart represents where a person's desires exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what he desired] or [what he desired in his inmost being]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the request of his lips
UST and & to do what he requested you to do
(וַאֲרֶשֶׁת שְׂפָתָיו)

Here, the request of his lips represents what the king asked for by using his lips to speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and what he asked for]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Selah	Selah

Psalms 21:3

ULT	UST
For you meet him with blessings of good; you place on his head a crown of refined gold.	In answer to his prayer, you bless him with many good things. You place a gold crown on his head.

ULT you meet him with blessings of good
UST In answer to his prayer, you bless him with many good things (תְּקַדְּמֶנּוּ בִּרְכוֹת טוֹב)

Here the phrase you meet him could mean: (1) that Yahweh met the king. Alternate translation: [you come to him with good blessings] or [you greet him with excellent blessings], or (2) that Yahweh anticipated what the king needed and was already working ahead of time before the king prayed in order to meet his needs. Alternate translation: [you anticipated his needs and came to him with blessings of good] or [you knew what he needed and met him with blessings of good]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT with blessings of good
UST bless & good things
(בִּרְכוֹת טוֹב)

The implication is that God blesses the king with good things. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [with good blessings] or [with excellent blessings]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT with blessings of good
UST bless & good things
(בִּרְכוֹת טוֹב)

This is poetic language. If your language has a way to indicate poetry, you could use it here. Alternate translation: [with rich blessings]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT you place
UST You place
(תָּשִׁית)

David assumes that readers will know that Yahweh himself did not physically place a crown on David's head but rather chose him to be king and had people crown him as king by placing a crown on his head. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you cause to be placed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT you place on his head a crown of refined gold
> UST You place a gold crown on his head
> (תְּשִׁ֣ית לְרֹאשׁ֔וֹ עֲטֶ֖רֶת פָּ֑ז)

Placing a crown on the king's head was a symbolic action by which God showed that he was establishing the king in his royal authority and giving him honor. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [you place on his head a crown of refined gold, showing that you have established him as king]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
with blessings of	bless
good	good things
a crown of	a & crown
refined gold	gold

Psalms 21:4

ULT	UST
He asked life from you; you gave {it} to him, length of days, forever and ever.	He asked you to let him live for a long time, and you have enabled him to live for a long time.

ULT He asked life from you
UST QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: חַיִּ֥ים שָׁאַ֗ל מִמְּךָ֫
(חַיִּ֥ים שָׁאַ֗ל מִמְּךָ֫)

Because the following line in this verse explains what life refers to, there is no need to explain this further here.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT He asked life from you; you gave {it} to him, length of days, forever and ever
UST QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: חַיִּ֥ים שָׁאַ֗ל מִמְּךָ֫ נָתַ֣תָּה לּ֭וֹ אֹ֣רֶךְ יָמִ֑ים עוֹלָ֖ם וָעֶֽד
(חַיִּ֥ים שָׁאַ֗ל מִמְּךָ֫ נָתַ֣תָּה לּ֭וֹ אֹ֣רֶךְ יָמִ֑ים עוֹלָ֖ם וָעֶֽד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [He asked you that he might live, and you granted his request and gave him length of days, forever and ever]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT length of days
UST QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: אֹ֣רֶךְ יָמִ֑ים
(אֹ֣רֶךְ יָמִ֑ים)

David assumes that readers will know that length of days means to live for many years. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a long life] or [a lengthy life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
forever	QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: עוֹלָ֖ם

Psalms 21:5

ULT	UST
His glory is great through your salvation; splendor and majesty you place on him.	People honor him greatly because you have helped him defeat his enemies. You have made him famous.

ULT His glory is great through your salvation; splendor and majesty you place on him
UST People honor him greatly because you have helped him defeat his enemies. You have made him famous (גָּדֹול כְּבודֹו בִּישׁוּעָתֶךָ הוֹד וְהָדָר תְּשַׁוֶּה עָלָיו)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of salvation, splendor, and majesty, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [You glorify him greatly by saving him; you make him splendorous and majestic]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT splendor and majesty you place on him
UST You have made him famous (הוֹד וְהָדָר תְּשַׁוֶּה עָלָיו)

The terms splendor and majesty mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [great honor you place on him] or [magnificent glory you place on him]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT you place on him
UST You have made him
(תְּשַׁוֶּה עָלָיו)

David assumes that readers will know that place on him here means "give to him." You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you bestow on him] or [you give to him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
His glory is	People honor him through your salvation	because you have helped him defeat his enemies splendor	famous
and majesty	famous

Psalms 21:6

ULT	UST
For you place on him eternal blessings; you make him glad with joy with your face.	You bless him forever, and you cause him to be joyful in your presence.

ULT you place on him
UST You & him
(תְּשִׁיתֵהוּ)

David assumes that readers will know that him refers to the king mentioned in the superscription and throughout the psalm. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you bestow on the king] or [you grant the king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you place on him eternal blessings; you make him glad with joy with your face
UST You bless him forever, and you cause him to be joyful in your presence (תְּשִׁיתֵהוּ בְרָכוֹת לָעַד תְּחַדֵּהוּ בְשִׂמְחָה אֶת־פָּנֶיךָ)

The implication is that the king will rejoice in the presence of God, that is, he will rejoice because God is with him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you make him glad with joy because you are present with him] or [you make him rejoice because he is in your presence]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you place on him eternal blessings
UST You bless him forever
(תְּשִׁיתֵהוּ בְרָכוֹת לָעַד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of blessings, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you bless him eternally]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you make him glad with joy
UST and you cause him to be joyful
(תְּחַדֵּהוּ בְשִׂמְחָה)

This is poetic language. If your language has a way to indicate poetry, you could use it here. Alternate translation: [you make him very glad] or [you make him exceedingly glad]

Support Reference: Poetry

> ULT with your face
> UST in your presence
> (אֶת־פָּנֶיךָ)

Here, with your face represents being in Yahweh's presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in your presence] or [with your presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
eternal	forever
blessings	bless
you make him glad	and you cause him to be joyful
with joy	and you cause him to be joyful

Psalms 21:7

ULT	UST
For the king is trusting in Yahweh, and through the covenant faithfulness of the Most High, he will not be shaken.	The king trusts in you, Yahweh, and because you, who are much greater than all other spirit beings, faithfully love him, you will protect him.

ULT the king
UST The king
(הַמֶּלֶךְ)

Translate the phrase the king as you did in verse one of this Psalm.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT and through the covenant faithfulness of UST and because you & faithfully love him
(וּבְחֶסֶד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and because he is faithful to the covenant of]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the Most High
UST who are much greater than all other spirit beings
(עֶלְיוֹן)

See how you translated the similar expression in 9:2.

ULT he will not be shaken
UST you will protect him
(בַּל־יִמּוֹט)

See how you translated the similar phrase “I will not be shaken” in 15:5.

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the king	The king
is trusting	trusts
in Yahweh	in you, Yahweh
and through the covenant faithfulness of	and because you & faithfully love him
the Most High	who are much greater than all other spirit beings
he will & be shaken	you will protect him

Psalms 21:8

ULT	UST
Your hand will find all of your enemies; your right hand will find the ones hating you.	You, the king, will defeat all your enemies; yes, you will surely defeat all those who hate you.

ULT Your hand will find all of your enemies; your right hand will find the ones hating you
UST You, the king, will defeat all your enemies; yes, you will surely defeat all those who hate you
(תִּמְצָא יָדְךָ לְכָל־אֹיְבֶיךָ יְמִינְךָ תִּמְצָא שֹׂנְאֶיךָ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Your hand will find all of your enemies, indeed, your right hand will find those who hate you]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Your hand
UST You, the king
(יָדְךָ)

The pronoun Your refers to the king. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [You, the king's hand] or [The king's hand]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Your hand will find & your right hand will find
UST You, the king, will defeat & yes, you will surely defeat
(תִּמְצָא יָדְךָ & יְמִינְךָ תִּמְצָא)

David is using Your hand will find as a common expression of his culture to mean "You will reach" or "You will overtake." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You will reach … you will overtake]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your enemies	your enemies

Psalms 21:9

ULT	UST
You will make them as an oven of fire at the time of your face. In his nose Yahweh will swallow them and will consume them {with} fire.	When you, the king, appear, you will so completely destroy them that it will be as if you threw them into a fiery furnace. Because Yahweh is angry with them, he will decimate them so completely that it will be as if he swallowed them whole or burned them up.

ULT You will make them
UST you, the king & will so completely destroy them
(תְּשִׁיתֵמוֹ)

The pronoun them refers to the king's enemies. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [You, the king, will make your enemies]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT You will make them as an oven of fire
UST you, the king & will so completely destroy them that it will be as if you threw them into a fiery furnace
(תְּשִׁיתֵמוֹ | כְּתַנּוּר אֵשׁ)

The point of this comparison is that just as an oven of fire completely consumes what is placed in it, so David is saying that God will completely destroy his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [You will completely consume them like fire in an oven]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT You will make them as an oven of fire
UST you, the king & will so completely destroy them that it will be as if you threw them into a fiery furnace
(תְּשִׁיתֵמוֹ | כְּתַנּוּר אֵשׁ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [You will make them as something that is burned in an oven of fire]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT at the time of your face
UST When & appear, you
(לְעֵת פָּנֶיךָ)

Here, your face represents your presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [at the time of your appearing]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT In his nose
UST Because & is angry with them
(בְּאַפּוֹ)

David is using the phrase In his nose as a common expression of the culture to mean that Yahweh is angry. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In his anger] or [In his wrath]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Yahweh will swallow them and will consume them {with} fire
UST Yahweh & he will decimate them so completely that it will be as if he swallowed them whole or burned them up
(יְהוָה & יְבַלְּעֵם וְתֹאכְלֵם אָשׁ)

David is speaking of Yahweh destroying his enemies as if Yahweh will literally swallow them and burn them up with fire. If these images communicate well in your language, please use them. If not, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will destroy them completely, as if swallowing them or consuming them with fire]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Yahweh will swallow them and will consume them {with} fire
UST Yahweh & he will decimate them so completely that it will be as if he swallowed them whole or burned them up
(יְהוָה & יְבַלְּעֵם וְתֹאכְלֵם אָשׁ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will completely destroy them as if he was swallowing them; yes, he will consume them as if he was burning them with fire]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and will consume them	or burned them up

Psalms 21:10

ULT	UST
You will destroy their fruit from the earth and their seed from {among} the sons of man.	You, the king, will remove their children from this earth; their descendants will all disappear.

ULT You will destroy
UST You, the king, will remove (תְּאַבֵּד)

The pronoun You refers to the king. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [You, God's king, will destroy]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT their fruit & and their seed
UST their children & their descendants
(פִּרְיָמוֹ & וְזַרְעָם)

David is speaking of their fruit and their seed as if his enemies' descendants were literal fruit and literal seed that could be destroyed. If this image does not communicate well in your language, you could express this as a comparison or use plain language. Alternate translation: [their descendants … and their offspring]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from {among} the sons of man
UST will all disappear
(מִבְּנֵי אָדָם)

David is using from among the sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean "from among humanity" or "from the human race." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from among the human race] or [from among humanity]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You will destroy	You, the king, will remove their fruit	their children from the earth	from this earth
and their seed	their descendants

Psalms 21:11

ULT	UST
Though they stretch out evil against you, they plan a plot they will not be able.	They want to harm you, but what they plan will never succeed.

ULT Though they stretch out evil against you, they plan a plot they will not be able UST They want to harm you, but what they plan will never succeed
(כִּי־נָטוּ עָלֶיךָ רָעָה חָשְׁבוּ מְזִמָּה בַּל־יוּכָלוּ)

The pronoun they refers to David's enemies. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Though his enemies stretch out evil against you; his enemies plan a plot they will not be able]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they stretch out evil against you
UST They want to harm you
(נָטוּ עָלֶיךָ רָעָה)

Here David is speaking of the king's enemies' plans to harm him as if they would physically stretch out evil like a net or trap. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they plan to harm you] or [they devise evil schemes against you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they stretch out evil against you
UST They want to harm you
(נָטוּ עָלֶיךָ רָעָה)

David is using the adjective evil as a noun to mean a certain kind of thing. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [they stretch out evil things against you]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT they plan a plot they will not be able UST what they plan will never succeed
(חָשְׁבוּ מְזִמָּה בַּל־יוּכָלוּ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [they plan a plot they will not be able to accomplish]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	They want to harm you

Psalms 21:12

ULT	UST
For you will make them shoulder; on your strings you will set {your arrows} toward their faces.	You will cause them to run away by shooting arrows at them.

ULT you will make them shoulder
UST You will cause them to run away
(תְּשִׁיתֵמוֹ שֶׁכֶם)

David is using you will make them shoulder as a common expression of his culture to mean “you will make them turn and flee.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you will make them turn their backs to you] or [you will put them to flight]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT on your strings you will set {your arrows
UST by shooting arrows
(בְּמֵתְרֶיךָ תְּכוֹנֵן)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language as the ULT has done by supplying the phrase your arrows. Alternate translation: [on your bow strings you will set your arrows]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT toward their faces
UST at them
(עַל־פְּנֵיהֶם)

David is using their faces to represent all of them in the act of fleeing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [toward them]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

Psalms 21:13

ULT	UST
Be exalted, Yahweh, in your strength; we will sing and we will praise your power.	Yahweh, show everyone how very strong you are! {When you do that,} we will sing and praise you because you are very powerful.

ULT Be exalted, Yahweh, in your strength & and we will praise your power
UST Yahweh, show everyone how very strong you are & and praise you because you are very powerful (רוֹמְמָה יְהוָה בְּעֻזֶּךָ & וְנְזַמְּרָה גְּבוּרָתֶךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of strength and power, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Be exalted, Yahweh, because you are strong … and we will praise you because of how powerful you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT we will sing and we will praise your power
UST When you do that,} we will sing and praise you because you are very powerful
(נָשִׁירָה וְנְזַמְּרָה גְּבוּרָתֶךָ)

The implication is that this singing and praising will happen after Yahweh shows his strength by defeating the enemies. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [then we will sing and we will praise your power]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT we will sing and we will praise your power
UST When you do that,} we will sing and praise you because you are very powerful
(נָשִׁירָה וְנְזַמְּרָה גְּבוּרָתֶךָ)

The pronoun we refers to David and the people of Israel. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [we, your people, will sing and we will praise you because of your power]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be exalted	show everyone how very strong you are
Yahweh	Yahweh
and we will praise	and praise

Psalms 21:front

> ULT To the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	This is a psalm
of David	of David

Psalms 22

Psalms 22 Introduction

Psalm 22 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 22 contains several different but related themes of lament, prayer, trust, and hope for the future. Verses 1–21 are a lament. See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about psalms of lament. Verses 22–31 praise Yahweh for his deliverance and kingship over the nations, and the worship he will receive in the future. Many Bible scholars consider Psalm 22 to be one of the “messianic psalms” because different New Testament authors quote parts of this psalm in relation to Jesus and because Jesus quotes the first line of verse 1 while on the cross. See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the messianic psalms. (See: Christ, Messiah and crucify, crucified and lament, lamentation)

1. An anguished call to God (1–2)
2. An affirmation of God’s holiness and past deliverance of the Israelites (3–5)
3. David describes his situation (6–18)
4. A prayer for help (19–21)
5. Yahweh’s deliverance of David results in Yahweh being praised (22–26)
6. People from all parts of the world, all people groups, and rich and poor people will turn to Yahweh and worship him as king (27–29)
7. Future generations will praise Yahweh and will be told about his saving acts (30–31)

Psalms 22:1

ULT	UST
My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? {Why are you} far from the salvation of me, {far from} the words of my groaning?	My God, my God, why have you abandoned me? Why do you not come and help me? Why do you not respond to me when {I am suffering so severely that} I am groaning?

ULT from the salvation of me
UST come and help me
(מִּישׁוּעָתִֽי)

David is using this possessive form to mean salvation that would come to him or rescue that he would receive. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [from saving me] or [from rescuing me]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT from the salvation of me
UST come and help me
(מִּישׁוּעָתִֽי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from saving me] or [from helping me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT far from} the words of my groaning
UST Why do you not respond to me when {I am suffering so severely that} I am groaning (דִּבְרֵ֣י שַׁאֲגָתִֽי)

David is using this possessive form to mean words that express his groaning or words spoken while groaning. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [far from my groaning words] or [far from the words I speak while groaning]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My God	My God
have you forsaken me	have you abandoned me from the salvation of me	come and help me

Psalms 22:2

ULT	UST
My God, I call by day, but you do not answer, and {in} the night, and there is no silence for me.	My God, every day I call to you during the daytime and during the night, but you do not answer me, so I am not able to sleep.

ULT I call by day, but you do not answer, and {in} the night
UST every day I call to you during the daytime and during the night, but you do not answer me
(אֶקְרָא יוֹמָם וְלֹא תַעֲנֶה וְלַיְלָה)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [I call to you by day, but you do not answer, and I call to you in the night]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT and there is no silence for me
UST so I am not able to sleep
(וְלֹא־דוּמִיָּה לִי)

By there is no silence for me, David means that he cannot rest or find peace because he is crying out to God throughout the night. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and I cannot rest] or [and I find no peace]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My God	My God
I call	I call to you

Psalms 22:3

ULT	UST
Yet you are holy, sitting {in} the praises of Israel.	But you are holy. You sit on your throne as king, and receive praise in your sacred tent from your people Israel.

ULT sitting {in} the praises of Israel
UST You sit on your throne as king, and receive praise in your sacred tent from your people Israel (יוֹשֵׁב תְּהִלּוֹת יִשְׂרָאֵל)

Here the phrase the praises of Israel could (1) be using the word praises to represent the Tabernacle where the Israelite people offered God their praises. Alternate translation: [sitting in the praises of us Israelite people, that we give to you in your Tabernacle] or [sitting in your Tabernacle] (2) mean that Yahweh is the object of Israel's praises. Alternate translation: [sitting as the object of the praises of Israel] or [ruling as the one whom Israel praises]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
are holy	are holy
in} the praises of	and receive praise in your sacred tent
Israel	from your people Israel

Psalms 22:4

ULT	UST
In you our fathers trusted; they trusted, and you delivered them.	Our ancestors trusted in you. They trusted in you and you rescued them.

ULT our fathers
UST Our ancestors
(אֲבֹתֵינוּ)

David is using the term fathers to mean "ancestors." If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [our forefathers]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they trusted
UST They trusted in you
(בָּטָחוּ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [they trusted in you]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
trusted	trusted
and you delivered them	and you rescued them

Psalms 22:5

ULT	UST
To you they cried and they were rescued. In you they trusted and they were not ashamed.	When they cried out to you for help, you saved them. They trusted in you, and they were not disappointed.

> ULT and they were rescued
> UST you saved them
> (וְנִמְלָטוּ)

The expression they were rescued is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form, as in the UST, or in another way that is natural in your language.

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and they were rescued	you saved them
they trusted	They trusted
they were & ashamed	they were & disappointed

Psalms 22:6

ULT	UST
But I am a worm and not a man, a reproach of mankind and despised by the people.	But you have not rescued me! People despise me and consider that I am not a man; they think that I am a worm! Everyone scorns me and despises me.

ULT But I am a worm and not a man
UST But you have not rescued me & and consider that I am not a man & a worm
(וְאָנֹכִי תוֹלַעַת וְלֹא־אִישׁ)

Here David is speaking of himself as if he were a worm. He means that other people treat him as if he were worthless and do not care if he lives or not. If it would be helpful, you could use a comparable expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [But I am treated as if I were a worthless worm and not a human]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a reproach of mankind
UST they think that I am & scorns me and despises me
(חֶרְפַּת אָדָם)

By a reproach of mankind, David means that he has become someone whom all people mock and shame. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [someone whom people mock] or [an object of shame to everyone]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and despised by the people
UST People despise me & Everyone
(וּבְזוּי עָם)

The expression despised by the people is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and the people despise me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a reproach of	scorns me and despises me

Psalms 22:7

ULT	UST
All of the ones seeing me mock me; they open wide with the lip. They shake the head,	Everyone who sees me makes fun of me. They sneer at me and {insult me by} shaking their heads {at me}.

ULT they open wide with the lip
UST They sneer at me
(יַפְטִירוּ בְשָׂפָה)

Here, the lip represents the mouth or speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they open their mouths wide] or [they sneer at me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT They shake the head
UST and {insult me by} shaking their heads {at me
(יָנִיעוּ רֹאשׁ)

To shake the head was a symbolic action by which people showed contempt or mockery. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [They shake the head in mockery] or [They shake the head to show contempt]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
mock	makes fun of
They shake	and {insult me by} shaking

Psalms 22:8

ULT	UST
“Roll to Yahweh; let him deliver him. Let him rescue him, since he delights in him.”	{My enemies say,} “He trusts in Yahweh, so Yahweh should save him! {He says that} Yahweh is very pleased with him; if that is so, Yahweh should rescue him!”

ULT Roll to Yahweh; let him deliver him. Let him rescue him, since he delights in him
UST My enemies say,} “He trusts in Yahweh, so Yahweh should save him! {He says that} Yahweh is very pleased with him; if that is so, Yahweh should rescue him (גֹּל אֶל־יְהוָה יְפַלְּטֵהוּ יַצִּילֵהוּ כִּי חָפֵץ בּוֹ)

This is the beginning of what David’s enemies said. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could mark that this is a direct quote of these enemies. Alternate translation: [saying “Roll to Yahweh; let him deliver him. Let him rescue him, since he delights in him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Roll to Yahweh
UST My enemies say,} “He trusts in Yahweh
(גֹּל אֶל־יְהוָה)

The enemies are using Roll to as a common expression of their culture to mean “commit your cause to” or “trust completely in.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Commit yourself to Yahweh] or [Trust completely in Yahweh]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT let him deliver him. Let him rescue him, since he delights in him
UST so Yahweh should save him! {He says that} Yahweh is very pleased with him; if that is so, Yahweh should rescue him
(יְפַלְּטֵהוּ יַצִּילֵהוּ כִּי חָפֵץ בּוֹ)

In this verse, the first and third occurrence of the pronoun him, and the pronoun he refer to Yahweh. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [let Yahweh deliver him. Let Yahweh rescue him, since Yahweh delights in him]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT let him deliver him. Let him rescue him
UST so Yahweh should save him & Yahweh should rescue him
(יְפַלְּטֵהוּ יַצִּילֵהוּ)

The terms deliver and rescue mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [let him save him]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
let him deliver him	so Yahweh should save him
Let him rescue him	Yahweh should rescue him
he delights	He says that} Yahweh is very pleased

Psalms 22:9

ULT	UST
Yet you are the one pulling me out from the womb, making me trust upon the breasts of my mother.	You, God, have been with me since I was in my mother's womb, and you taught me to trust you when I was at my mother's breasts.

ULT you are the one pulling me out from the womb
UST You, God & my mother's womb & to trust you (אַתָּה גֹחִי מִבֶּטֶן)

The implication is that God was the one who brought David safely into the world at birth. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you are the one who brought me safely into the world]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT making me trust upon the breasts of my mother
UST have been with me since I was in & when I was at my mother's breasts
(מַבְטִיחִי עַל־שְׁדֵי אִמִּי)

By making me trust upon the breasts of my mother, David means that God caused him to trust in God even when he was a nursing infant dependent on his mother. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [causing me to trust in you while I nursed at my mother's breasts]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the womb	to trust you making me trust	have been with me since I was

Psalms 22:10

ULT	UST
Upon you I was cast from the womb; from the womb of my mother, you {have been} my God.	It was as though you had adopted me right when I was born. You have been my God ever since I was born.

ULT Upon you I was cast from the womb
UST It was as though & had adopted me right when I was born
(עָלֶיךָ הָשְׁלַכְתִּי מֵרֶחֶם)

Here David is speaking as if he were literally cast upon God. He means that he has been made to rely on God from the moment of his birth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You have been caring for me from the womb] or [I have depended on you from birth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Upon you I was cast
UST It was as though & had adopted me
(עָלֶיךָ הָשְׁלַכְתִּי)

The expression I was cast is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [You took me as your own] or [Yahweh, you took care of me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the womb	right when I was born from the womb of	you my God	ever since I

Psalms 22:11

ULT	UST
You {do} not be far away from me, for trouble is near, for {there is} no one helping {me}.	Come near to me {and help me,} because my enemies are near me and there is no one who is helping me.

ULT You {do} not be far away from me
UST Come near to me {and help me
(אַל־תִּרְחַק מֶמֶּנִּי)

Here David is giving a command, do not be far away from me, but he intends it to communicate a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask you, please do not be far away from me] or [Yahweh, please do not be far away from me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT for trouble is near
UST because my enemies are near me
(כִּי־צָרָה קְרוֹבָה)

The implication is that David’s enemies or persecutors are approaching to harm him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [for my enemies are approaching] or [for those who want to harm me are near]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
trouble	my enemies

Psalms 22:12

ULT	UST
Many bulls surround me; strong ones of Bashan encircle me.	My enemies surround me {like} a group of wild bulls. {Fierce people, like those} strong bulls that {graze on the hills} in {the region of} Bashan, surround me.

ULT Many bulls surround me; strong ones of Bashan encircle me
UST My enemies surround me {like} a group of wild bulls. {Fierce people, like those} strong bulls that {graze on the hills} in {the region of} Bashan, surround me
(סְבָבוּנִי פָּרִים רַבִּים אַבִּירֵי בָשָׁן כִּתְּרוּנִי)

Here David is speaking of his enemies as if they were bulls that surround and encircle him. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [Many enemies surround me like bulls; strong ones like those of Bashan encircle me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT strong ones of Bashan
UST Fierce people, like those} strong bulls that {graze on the hills} in {the region of} Bashan
(אַבִּירֵי בָשָׁן)

The phrase strong ones of Bashan gives further information about the Many bulls. (David refers to Bashan because it was known for its rich pasturelands and so the bulls there would have been well fed and strong.) David is not distinguishing these strong ones from other bulls that are not strong. Be sure that this is clear in your translation. Alternate translation: [the powerful bulls of Bashan] or [the mighty bulls of Bashan]

Support Reference: Distinguishing Versus Informing or Reminding

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bulls	of wild bulls
Bashan	that {graze on the hills} in {the region of} Bashan

Psalms 22:13

ULT	UST
They open their mouths against me, a tearing and roaring lion.	{They are like} roaring lions that are attacking the animals that they want to kill. They rush toward me to kill me; they {are like lions that} have their mouths open, ready to tear their victims to pieces.

ULT They open their mouths against me, a tearing and roaring lion
UST They are like} roaring lions that are attacking the animals that they want to kill. They rush toward me to kill me; they {are like lions that} have their mouths open, ready to tear their victims to pieces
(פָּצוּ עָלַי פִּיהֶם אַרְיֵה טֹרֵף וְשֹׁאֵג)

Here David is speaking of his enemies as if they were a tearing and roaring lion. He means that they are fierce and dangerous and want to destroy him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They open their mouths against me, like a fierce, roaring lion that tears apart its prey]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a & lion	They are like & lions & they {are like lions

Psalms 22:14

ULT	UST
I am poured out like water, and all of my bones are dislocated. My heart is like wax; it has melted within my inner parts.	I am completely exhausted, and am in much pain! I feel greatly discouraged!

ULT I am poured out like water
UST I am completely exhausted
(כַּמַּ֥יִם נִשְׁפַּכְתִּ֑י)

The point of this comparison is that just as water flows away and cannot be gathered back, so David feels completely drained of strength and energy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [I am completely drained of strength like spilled water]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT I am poured out like water
UST I am completely exhausted
(כַּמַּ֥יִם נִשְׁפַּכְתִּ֑י)

The expression I am poured out is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the same idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I pour out like water] or [I flow away like water]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and all of my bones are dislocated
UST and am in much pain
(וְהִתְפָּרְד֥וּ כָל־עַצְמוֹתָ֑י)

David says all of my bones are dislocated as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [and my whole body is in pain] or [and I feel like my bones are coming apart]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT My heart is like wax; it has melted within my inner parts
> UST I feel greatly discouraged
> (הָיָה לִבִּי כַּדּוֹנָג נָמַס בְּתוֹךְ מֵעָי)

The point of this comparison is that just as wax melts and becomes soft when heated, so David's heart has become weak and soft from fear and distress. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [My heart has become weak like melted wax within me]

Support Reference: Simile

> ULT My heart is like wax
> UST I feel greatly discouraged
> (הָיָה לִבִּי כַּדּוֹנָג)

Here David is speaking of his heart as if it were wax that has melted. This image emphasizes how completely weak and helpless he feels in his distress. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My courage has completely failed me] or [I feel completely weak inside]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT like wax
> UST I feel greatly discouraged
> (כַּדּוֹנָג)

Wax is a soft, fatty substance that becomes liquid when heated and is used to make candles. If your readers would not be familiar with what wax is, you could use the name of a similar substance that your readers would recognize, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [like soft fat] or [like something soft that melts]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

Psalms 22:15

ULT	UST
My strength is dried up like a shard, and my tongue is being made to cling to my gums, and to the dust of death you lay me.	My strength is all dried up like a broken piece of a clay jar that has dried {in the sun}. You have allowed {me to become so thirsty that} my tongue sticks to the roof of my mouth. {Oh God, I think that you are about to let} my body die and become dust!

ULT My strength is dried up like a shard
UST My strength is all dried up like a broken piece of a clay jar that has dried {in the sun
(יָבֵשׁ כַּחֶרֶשׂ ׀ כֹּחִי)

David is making a comparison between his strength and a shard. The point of this comparison is that just as a shard is completely dried out and brittle, so is his strength. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [My strength is completely dried up] or [I have lost my strength]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT like a shard
UST like a broken piece of a clay jar that has dried {in the sun (כַּחֶרֶשׂ)

A shard was a piece of broken pottery. If your readers would not be familiar with what a shard is, in your translation you could use the name of a comparable object that your readers would recognize, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [like a broken piece of pottery]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT and my tongue is being made to cling to my gums
UST You have allowed {me to become so thirsty that} my tongue sticks to the roof of my mouth
(וּלְשׁוֹנִי מֻדְבָּק מַלְקוֹחָי)

The expression my tongue is being made to cling to my gums is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [my tongue clings to my gums] or [and you, Yahweh, allow me to suffer so that my tongue clings to my gums]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT and to the dust of death you lay me
> UST Oh God, I think that you are about to let} my body die and become dust > (וְלַעֲפַר־מָוֶת תִּשְׁפְּתָנִי)

Here, dust of death represents the grave or dying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you lay me in the grave] or [and you bring me to death]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and my tongue	You have allowed {me to become so thirsty that} my tongue sticks to the roof of my mouth

Psalms 22:16

ULT	UST
For dogs have surrounded me; a company of ones doing evil have encircled me, like the lion, my hands and my feet.	My enemies surround me like a pack of wild dogs. A group of evil men has encircled me{, ready to attack me}. They have pierced my hands and my feet.

ULT For dogs have surrounded me
UST My enemies surround me like a pack of wild dogs
(כִּי סְבָבוּנִי כְלָבִים)

Here David is speaking of his enemies as if they were dogs that hunt in packs. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [For my enemies have surrounded me like dogs]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT like the lion
UST They have pierced
(כָּאֲרִי)

The Hebrew text that the ULT is translated from reads like the lion. Other ancient manuscripts have a verb (instead of the noun translated as like the lion). At one point in the process of transmission, scribes may have mistakenly changed the last letter of the verb with the meaning “they have pierced” to a different (and similar looking) letter, resulting in the word like the lion. All the ancient versions of the Old Testament, as well as the early Jewish sources have verb forms instead of the noun form like the lion. The original text probably had the verb meaning “they have pierced” instead of the noun form translated like the lion. For this reason, you may wish to use the verb “they have pierced.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use whatever form it uses.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT like the lion, my hands and my feet
UST They have pierced my hands and my feet
(כַּאֲרִי יָדַי וְרַגְלָי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [like the lion tears my hands and my feet] or [like the lion attacks my hands and my feet]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT like the lion, my hands and my feet
UST They have pierced my hands and my feet
(כְּאַרְיֵ֣ יָדַ֣י וְרַגְלָֽי)

David is speaking of his enemies as if they were a lion tearing at his hands and feet. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [like a lion, they have mangled my hands and my feet]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
ones doing evil	evil men
like the lion	They have pierced

Psalms 22:17

ULT	UST
I can count all of my bones. They look {and} they stare at me.	{I am so weak and thin that} I can see and count my bones. My enemies stare at me and gloat {about what has happened to} me.

ULT I can count all of my bones
UST I am so weak and thin that} I can see and count my bones
(אֲסַפֵּר כָּל־עַצְמוֹתָי)

David says I can count all my bones as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [I am so thin and emaciated that I can count many of my bones] or [I am so thin and emaciated that people can see many of my bones]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT They look {and} they stare at me
UST My enemies stare at me and gloat {about what has happened to} me
(הֵמָּה יַבִּיטוּ יִרְאוּ־בִי)

The pronoun They refers to David's enemies who have surrounded him (mentioned in the previous verses as "dogs" and "a company of ones doing evil"). It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [My enemies look and they stare at me]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They look {and} they stare at me
UST My enemies stare at me and gloat {about what has happened to} me
(הֵמָּה יַבִּיטוּ יִרְאוּ־בִי)

The implication is that David's enemies stare at him and gloat. You could include this information, as in the UST, if that would be helpful to your readers.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Psalms 22:19

ULT	UST
But you, Yahweh, {do} not be far away. My strength, hurry to help me.	Yahweh, do not be like my enemies; rather be concerned for me. You who are the one who strengthens me, come quickly and help me.

ULT But you
UST do not be like my enemies; rather (וְאַתָּה)

David uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between his enemies who surround and torment him and Yahweh whom he calls upon for help. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [However, you] or [As for you]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT But you, Yahweh, {do} not be far away. My strength, hurry to help me
UST Yahweh, do not be like my enemies; rather be concerned for me. You who are the one who strengthens me, come quickly and help me
(וְאַתָּה יְהוָה אַל־תִּרְחָק אֱיָלוּתִי לְעֶזְרָתִי חוּשָׁה)

The phrases do not be far away and hurry to help me are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than a commands. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [But you, Yahweh, please do not be far away. My strength, please hurry to help me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT do} not be far away
UST be concerned for me
(אַל־תִּרְחָק)

The implication is that David wants Yahweh to come near to help him in his time of great distress. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [come near to help me] or [be close and help me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT do} not be far away
> UST be concerned for me
> (אַל־תִּרְחָֽק)

David is emphasizing a positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with a mild expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could emphasize the positive meaning in a strong way. Alternate translation: [be very near] or [stay close to me]

Support Reference: Litotes

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 22:20

ULT	UST
Deliver my life from the sword, my only one from the hand of the dog.	Rescue me from {those who want to} kill me with their swords. Save me from those who are {like wild} dogs.

ULT Deliver
UST Rescue
(הַצִּ֣ילָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please deliver]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT from the sword
UST from {those who want to} kill me with their swords
(מֵחֶ֣רֶב)

Here, sword represents “death by violence.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [from death]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT my only one from the hand of
UST Save me from (מִיַּ֣ד & יְחִידָתִֽי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [deliver my only one from the hand of]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT my only one
UST me
(יְחִידָתִֽי)

David is using my only one as a common expression of his culture to mean “my precious life” or “my dear life.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my precious life]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT from the hand of
UST Save & from (מִיַּד)

Here, hand represents the power of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the power of]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the dog
UST those who are {like wild} dogs
(כֶּלֶב)

Here David is speaking of his enemies as if they were the dog. This continues the imagery from verse 16 where enemies are described as dogs that have surrounded him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my enemies]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Deliver	Rescue
from the sword	from {those who want to} kill me with their swords

Psalms 22:21

ULT	UST
Save me from the mouth of the lion, and from the horns of wild oxen, answer me.	Snatch me away from my enemies who are like lions whose jaws {are already open}, ready to chew me up! Grab me away from those men who are like wild oxen {that attack other animals with} their horns!

ULT Save me
UST Snatch me away
(הוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please save me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT from the mouth of the lion, and from the horns of wild oxen
UST from my enemies who are like lions whose jaws {are already open}, ready to chew me up & from those men who are like wild oxen {that attack other animals with} their horns
(מִפִּי אַרְיֵה וּמִקַּרְנֵי רֵמִים)

Here David is speaking as if his enemies were dangerous animals with mouths and horns that could attack and kill him. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [from my enemies who attack me like lions and wild oxen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Save me	Snatch me away
the lion	my enemies who are like lions and from the horns of	from & that attack other animals with} their horns

Psalms 22:22

ULT	UST
I will declare your name to my brothers; in the midst of the assembly I will praise you.	{Because you have saved me,} I will proclaim to my fellow Israelites how great you are. I will praise you among the group of your people gathered together {to worship you}.

ULT I will declare your name
UST Because you have saved me,} I will proclaim & how great you are (אֲסַפְּרָה שִׁמְךָ)

Here David is using the term name to represent who God is or to refer to God's reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I will declare how wonderful you are] or [I will proclaim your character]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to my brothers
UST to my fellow Israelites
(לְאֶחָי)

David is using the term brothers to describe people who are descended from the same ancestor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to my fellow Israelites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will declare	Because you have saved me,} I will proclaim the assembly	the group of your people gathered together {to worship you
I will praise you	I will praise you

Psalms 22:23

ULT	UST
You who fear Yahweh, praise him! All of the seed of Jacob, honor him, and be terrified from him, all of the seed of Israel!	You people who have an awesome respect for Yahweh, praise him! All you who are descended from Jacob, honor Yahweh! All you Israelite people, revere him!

ULT All of the seed of Jacob, honor him, and be terrified from him, all of the seed of Israel

UST All you who are descended from Jacob, honor Yahweh! All you Israelite people, revere him

(כָּל־זֶרַע יַעֲקֹב כַּבְּדֻהוּ וְגוּרוּ מִמֶּנּוּ כָּל־זֶרַע יִשְׂרָאֵל)

Here David is speaking of the descendants of Jacob, who Yahweh later renamed Israel, as if they were his seed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the term “seed” in 18:50. Alternate translation: [All of the descendants of Jacob, honor him, and be terrified from him, all of you descendants of Israel]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You who fear	You people who have an awesome respect for
Yahweh	Yahweh
praise him	praise him
the seed of	you who are descended from
Jacob	Jacob
honor him	honor Yahweh
Israel	you Israelite people

Psalms 22:24

ULT	UST
For he has not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, and he has not hidden his face from him, but when he cried to him, he heard.	Yahweh does not despise or ignore those who are suffering. He pays attention to them, and he responds when they call out to him {for help}.

ULT the affliction of the afflicted
UST those who are suffering
(עֱנוּת עָנִי)

David is using the adjective afflicted as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the affliction of the afflicted person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and he has not hidden his face from him
UST He pays attention to them
(וְלֹא־הִסְתִּיר פָּנָיו מִמֶּנּוּ)

David is emphasizing a positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with a mild expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could emphasize the positive meaning in a strong way. Alternate translation: [and he has shown his face to him] or [and he has listened to him]

Support Reference: Litotes

ULT and he has not hidden his face from him
UST He pays attention to them
(וְלֹא־הִסְתִּיר פָּנָיו מִמֶּנּוּ)

David is using hidden his face from him as a common expression of his culture to mean “ignored him” or “refused to help him.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he has not ignored him]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT he heard
> UST he responds
> (שָׁמַע)

David assumes that readers will know that he heard means God heard his prayer and responded favorably to it. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he responded]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the affliction of	those who are suffering
the afflicted	those who are suffering

Psalms 22:25

ULT	UST
From with you my praise in the great assembly; I will fulfill my vows before those who fear him.	Yahweh, in the great gathering {of your people,} I will praise you for what you have done. In the presence of those who revere Yahweh, I will offer {the sacrifice} that I promised {to make to you because you delivered me}.

ULT From with you my praise
UST Yahweh & I will praise you for what you have done
(מֵֽאִתְּךָ֤ תְהִלָּתִ֨י)

Here, with you represents “because of what you have done.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Because you have delivered me I praise you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my praise	I will praise
in the & assembly	in the & gathering {of your people
I will fulfill	I will offer
my vows	the & that I promised {to make to you because you delivered me
those who fear him	those who revere Yahweh

Psalms 22:26

ULT	UST
The poor will eat and be satisfied. The ones seeking Yahweh will praise. May your heart live forever.	The poor people {whom I have invited to the meal} will eat as much as they want. All who come to worship Yahweh will praise him. I pray that {God will enable} you all to live a long and happy life!

ULT The poor
UST The poor people {whom I have invited to the meal
(עֲנָוִ֗ים)

David is using the adjective poor as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [The poor ones] or [Poor people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT will praise
UST will praise him
(יְהַלְלוּ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [will praise him]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT May your heart live forever
UST I pray that {God will enable} you all to live a long and happy life
(יְחִי לְבַבְכֶם לָעַד)

David is using May your heart live forever as a common expression of his culture to mean “May you live a long and prosperous life.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May you live long and prosper] or [May you have a long and blessed life]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT your heart
> UST I pray that {God will enable} you all to live a long and happy life
> (לְבַבְכֶם)

The word your is plural here because David is addressing all the worshipers, so use the plural form in your translation if your language marks that distinction. Alternate translation: [your hearts]

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The ones seeking	All who come to worship
Yahweh	Yahweh
will praise	will praise him
forever	I pray that {God will enable} you all to live a long and happy life

Psalms 22:27

ULT	UST
All of the ends of the earth will remember and turn to Yahweh, and all of the families of the nations will bow down to your face.	People in all nations, even in the remote areas, will think about Yahweh and turn to him. People from all the clans in the world will bow down before you,

ULT All of the ends of the earth
UST People in all nations, even in the remote areas
(כָּל־אַפְסֵי־אֶרֶץ)

Here the phrase, the ends of the earth, represents the people who live in the most distant places on earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [People everywhere on earth] or [People who live in the most distant places of the earth]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT will remember
UST will think about (יִזְכְּרוּ)

The implication is that the people will remember Yahweh and what he has done. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will remember Yahweh]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and turn to Yahweh
UST Yahweh and turn to him
(וְיָשֻׁבוּ אֶל־יְהוָה)

David is speaking as if people had been walking in one direction but then turned to walk toward Yahweh. He means that they will start worshiping and obeying Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and worship Yahweh] or [and start following Yahweh]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT all of the families of the nations
> UST People from all the clans in the world
> (כָּל־מִשְׁפְּחוֹת גּוֹיִם)

The implication is that all people groups or clans throughout the world will worship Yahweh. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [all the people groups of the world]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT and all of the families of the nations will bow down to your face
> UST People from all the clans in the world will bow down before you > (וְיִשְׁתַּחֲווּ לְפָנֶיךָ כָּל־מִשְׁפְּחוֹת גּוֹיִם)

To bow down was a symbolic action by which people showed reverence and submission. Sometimes it was also done as an act of worship. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation. Alternate translation: [and all the families of the nations will bow down in worship]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

> ULT to your face
> UST before you
> (לְפָנֶיךָ)

Here Yahweh's face represents being in front of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in your presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the earth	People in & nations
Yahweh	Yahweh & him
the families of	People from & the clans
the nations	in the world
and & will bow down	will bow down

Psalms 22:28

ULT	UST
For to Yahweh the kingdom, and he is ruling over the nations.	because Yahweh is the king! He rules the people of all nations.

ULT For to Yahweh the kingdom
UST because Yahweh is the king
(כִּ֤י לַֽיהוָ֨ה הַמְּלוּכָ֗ה)

David assumes that readers will know that here the word to means "belongs" and that the word kingdom refers to Yahweh's "reign." You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [For the kingship belongs to Yahweh] or [For Yahweh reigns as king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to Yahweh	Yahweh
the kingdom	is the king
and he is ruling	He rules
over the nations	the people of all nations

Psalms 22:29

ULT	UST
All of the fat of the earth will eat and will bow down; to his face will kneel all of the ones going down to the dust, even his self he kept not alive.	All the rich people on the earth will celebrate and bow before him. All those who are close to dying will kneel in worship {before him}, yes, those who are not able to keep themselves alive.

ULT All of the fat of the earth will eat and will bow down; to his face will kneel all of the ones going down to the dust
UST All the rich people on the earth will celebrate and bow before him. All those who are close to dying will kneel in worship {before him
(אָכְלוּ וַיִּשְׁתַּחֲווּ | כָּל־דִּשְׁנֵי־אֶרֶץ לְפָנָיו יִכְרְעוּ כָּל־יוֹרְדֵי עָפָר)

David is referring to all people by naming two extremes, the fat of the earth (the wealthy and prosperous who were well-fed and healthy), and the ones going down to the dust (the dying). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [All people will eat and will bow down; to his face will kneel every person]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT and will bow down
UST and bow
(וַיִּשְׁתַּחֲווּ)

See how you translated this expression in 22:27.

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT the fat of the earth
UST the rich people on the earth
(דִּשְׁנֵי־אֶרֶץ)

David is using the adjective fat as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the fat ones of the earth] or [the fat people of the earth]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the fat of the earth
UST the rich people on the earth
(דִּשְׁנֵי־אֶֽרֶץ)

Here, the fat of the earth represents the wealthy and prosperous people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the wealthy people of the earth] or [the prosperous people of the earth]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to his face
UST before him
(לְפָנָֽיו)

Here Yahweh's face represents being in front of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in his presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT will kneel
UST will kneel in worship {before him
(יִכְרְעוּ)

To kneel was a symbolic action by which people showed reverence and submission to God. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [will kneel down in worship]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT all of the ones going down to the dust, even his self he kept not alive
UST All those who are close to dying & yes, those who are not able to keep themselves alive
(כָּל־יוֹרְדֵ֣י עָפָ֑ר וְנַפְשׁ֥וֹ לֹֽא חִיָּֽה)

These two phrases all of the ones going down to the dust and even his self he kept not alive mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [all of the ones going down to the dust, that is, those who cannot keep themselves alive]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT the ones going down to the dust
> UST those who are close to dying
> (יוֹרְדֵי עָפָר)

Here the phrase the ones going down to the dust represents people who are dying or close to death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the ones going down to the grave] or [the ones who are dying]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT even his self he kept not alive
> UST yes, those who are not able to keep themselves alive
> (וְנַפְשׁוֹ לֹא חִיָּה)

The implication is that they were not able to keep themselves alive. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [even him who could not keep himself alive]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT even his self he kept not alive
> UST yes, those who are not able to keep themselves alive
> (וְנַפְשׁוֹ לֹא חִיָּה)

In this verse, the words his and he are singular in form, but they refer to all humans as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural forms of “his” and “he” or plural forms that include both men and women since this phrase refers to all people, as no one is able to keep themselves from eventually dying. Alternate translation: [even those who could not keep themselves alive]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the earth	the earth
and will bow down	and bow
will kneel	will kneel in worship {before him
even his self	yes, those & themselves

Psalms 22:30

ULT	UST
Seed will serve him; it will be told of the Lord to the generation.	People who have not been born yet will {also} serve Yahweh. We will tell our descendants what Yahweh {has done}.

ULT Seed will serve him
UST People who have not been born yet will {also} serve Yahweh
(זֶרַע יַעַבְדֶנּוּ)

See how you translated the similar expression in 22:23. Alternate translation: [Descendants will serve him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT it will be told of the Lord to the generation
UST We will tell our descendants what Yahweh {has done
(יְסֻפַּר לָאדֹנָי לַדּוֹר)

The expression it will be told is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [people will tell of the Lord to the next generation] or [people will tell the next generation about the Lord's works]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT it will be told of the Lord to the generation
UST We will tell our descendants what Yahweh {has done
(יְסֻפַּר לָאדֹנָי לַדּוֹר)

David assumes that readers will know that it refers to the great works of the Lord that have been described throughout the psalm. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the next generation will be told about the great works of the lord]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to the generation
UST our descendants
(לַדּוֹר)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [to future generations] or [to the next generation]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Seed	People who have not been born yet
will serve him	will {also} serve Yahweh of the Lord	what Yahweh {has done to the generation	our descendants

Psalms 22:31

ULT	UST
They will come and will declare his righteousness to a people who will be born, that he has done {it}!	People will come and will proclaim to people not yet born, {who will live in future years,} that because Yahweh is righteous {he has delivered those who prayed to him for help}. {People will tell them} that, "Yahweh did {it}!"

ULT and will declare his righteousness to a people who will be born, that he has done {it
UST and will proclaim to people not yet born, {who will live in future years,} that because Yahweh is righteous {he has delivered those who prayed to him for help}. {People will tell them} that, "Yahweh did {it
(וְיַגִּידוּ צִדְקָתוֹ לְעַם נוֹלָד כִּי עָשָׂה)

David is using the adjective his righteousness as a noun to mean something that shows God is righteous. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [and will declare to a people who will be born, that because he is righteous, he has done it]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT that he has done {it
UST People will tell them} that, "Yahweh did {it (כִּי עָשָׂה)

David assumes that readers will know that he has done it refers to God's acts of deliverance and salvation described throughout the psalm. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [what he has done to save his people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and will declare	and will proclaim
his righteousness	that because Yahweh is righteous {he has delivered those who prayed to him for help

Psalms 22:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The Doe of	The Doe of
A psalm	this song
of David	David wrote

Psalms 23

Psalms 23 Introduction

Psalm 23 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 23 is considered to be one of the “psalms of trust.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the “psalms of trust.”

1. Yahweh depicted as a good and trustworthy shepherd (1–4)
2. Yahweh depicted as a good and generous banquet host (5)
3. David affirms his trust in Yahweh’s faithful goodness and love and asserts that he will dwell with him forever (6)

Translation Issues in this Psalm

Metaphor

Psalm 23:1–4 is an extended metaphor in which David speaks of Yahweh as if he were a shepherd, and of himself as a sheep. Psalm 23:5 is a metaphor in which David depicts himself as a guest at a banquet at which Yahweh is the host. (See: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors and Metaphor)

Referring to Yahweh in the first person and second person

In verses 1–3 and 6, David writes about Yahweh in the second person. In verses 4–5, David addresses Yahweh directly, in the first person. Yahweh’s name is used in verses 1 and 6, but in verses 2–5 pronouns are used. Second person pronouns are used in verses 2–3 when referring to Yahweh, and David addresses God directly in verses 4–5 and therefore uses first person pronouns. If your language uses pronouns, use the appropriate pronouns in verses 2–5. (See: First, Second or Third Person)

Psalms 23:1

ULT	UST
A psalm of David Yahweh is my shepherd; I will lack nothing.	A psalm of David Yahweh {cares for} me {like} a shepherd {cares for his sheep}, {so} I {know that I} will have everything that I need.

ULT Yahweh is my shepherd
UST Yahweh {cares for} me {like} a shepherd {cares for his sheep
(יְהוָה רֹעִי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a shepherd who cares for and protects his sheep. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will lack nothing
UST so} I {know that I} will have everything that I need (לֹא אֶחְסָר)

David is emphasizing a positive meaning by using a negative word, nothing, together with a mild expression, I will lack, that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could emphasize the positive meaning in a strong way. Alternate translation: [I will have everything I need] or [I will be completely satisfied]

Support Reference: Litotes

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm of	A psalm
David	of David
Yahweh	Yahweh
is my shepherd	cares for} me {like} a shepherd {cares for his sheep

Psalms 23:2

ULT	UST
He makes me lie down in green pastures; he leads me to waters of rest.	Yahweh nourishes and encourages my inner person and enables me to rest in peace, like a shepherd who leads {his sheep} to places where there is plenty of green grass {for them to eat} and leads them to streams where the water is flowing slowly.

ULT He makes me lie down in green pastures; he leads me to waters of rest
UST Yahweh nourishes and encourages my inner person and enables me to rest in peace, like a shepherd who leads {his sheep} to places where there is plenty of green grass {for them to eat} and leads them to streams where the water is flowing slowly
(בִּנְאוֹת דֶּשֶׁא יַרְבִּיצֵנִי עַל־מֵי מְנֻחוֹת יְנַהֲלֵנִי)

David continues to draw an extended comparison between Yahweh's care for him and a shepherd caring for his sheep. Here David compares Yahweh's care for him to a shepherd who brings his sheep to green pastures and waters of rest. If it would be helpful for your readers, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [He gives me what I need to be satisfied and at peace, like a shepherd who provides pasture and water for his sheep]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT He makes me lie down in green pastures
UST Yahweh nourishes and encourages my inner person and enables me to rest in peace, like a shepherd who leads {his sheep} to places where there is plenty of green grass {for them to eat} and leads them
(בִּנְאוֹת דֶּשֶׁא יַרְבִּיצֵנִי)

By He makes me lie down, David means "He takes me to where I can lie down" or "He lets me lie down." You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [He takes me to green pastures where I can lie down] or [He lets me lie down in green pastures]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to
UST to (עַל)

Here the word to could mean: (1) "to" as in the ULT or (2) "alongside." Alternate translation: [alongside]

> ULT waters of rest
> UST streams where the water is flowing slowly
> (מֵי מְנֻחוֹת)

The phrase waters of rest could refer to: (1) still or calm bodies of water. Alternate translation: [calm waters] or [quiet waters] or (2) the location of the water and refer to bodies of water that were located at resting places. Alternate translation: [waters at resting places]

Support Reference: Possession

Psalms 23:3

ULT	UST
He restores my soul. He leads me in right paths for the sake of his name.	Yahweh renews my strength. He gives me good guidance for how I should live, in order that I, and others, will honor him.

ULT He restores my soul. He leads me in right paths for the sake of his name
UST Yahweh renews my strength. He gives me good guidance for how I should live, in order that I, and others, will honor him
(נַפְשִׁי יְשׁוֹבֵב יַנְחֵנִי בְמַעְגְּלֵי־צֶדֶק לְמַעַן שְׁמוֹ)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a shepherd who restores his soul and leads him in right paths. David means that Yahweh renews his spiritual and emotional strength and guides him to live in a way that pleases Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He renews my spiritual strength. He guides me to live righteously for the sake of his name] or [He renews my spiritual strength. He guides me regarding how to live in the right way, for the sake of name]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my soul
UST my strength
(נַפְשִׁי)

Here David is using the term my soul to mean himself from the perspective of his spiritual or emotional existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [me] or [my spiritual strength]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT for the sake of his name
UST in order that I, and others, will honor him
(לְמַעַן שְׁמוֹ)

Here David is using the term name to represent who God is or to refer to God's reputation. Alternate translation: [for the sake of his reputation] or [to bring honor to himself]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
He restores	Yahweh renews
my soul	my strength
right	good

Psalms 23:4

ULT	UST
Even though I walk through {the} valley of deep darkness, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me.	Even when I am in dangerous and scary circumstances in which evil men might kill or hurt me, I will fear nothing, because you are with me. I feel comforted and reassured because you protect and care for me like a shepherd protects his sheep by using his club and his walking stick to protect them from being attacked by wild animals.

ULT Even though I walk through {the} valley of deep darkness, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me

UST Even when I am in dangerous and scary circumstances in which evil men might kill or hurt me, I will fear nothing, because you are with me. I feel comforted and reassured because you protect and care for me like a shepherd protects his sheep by using his club and his walking stick to protect them from being attacked by wild animals

(גַּם כִּי־אֵלֵךְ בְּגֵיא צַלְמָוֶת לֹא־אִירָא רָע כִּי־אַתָּה עִמָּדִי שִׁבְטְךָ וּמִשְׁעַנְתֶּךָ הֵמָּה יְנַחֲמֻנִי)

David continues to draw an extended comparison between his relationship with God and a shepherd caring for his sheep. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the comparison. Alternate translation: [Even though I experience great danger or hardship, I will not be afraid because you protect and guide me like a shepherd protects and guides his sheep with his rod and staff]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT through {the} valley of deep darkness

UST in dangerous and scary circumstances

(בְּגֵיא צַלְמָוֶת)

The phrase the ULT translates as the valley of deep darkness could be translated: (1) as the ULT does and refer to a dark valley or ravine. Alternate translation: [through a dark valley] or (2) as [the valley of the shadow of death.] Alternate translation: [through the valley of the shadow of death]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will fear no evil
UST in which evil men might kill or hurt me, I will fear nothing (לֹא־אִירָ֣א רָ֑ע)

David is using the adjective evil as a noun to mean things that people might do to harm him. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [I will fear no harm] or [I will fear no danger]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT I will fear no evil, for you are with me
UST in which evil men might kill or hurt me, I will fear nothing, because you are with me
(לֹא־אִירָ֣א רָ֑ע כִּי־אַתָּ֖ה עִמָּדִ֑י)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [because you are with me, I will fear no evil]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT your rod and your staff, they comfort me
UST I feel comforted and reassured because you protect and care for me like a shepherd protects his sheep by using his club and his walking stick to protect them from being attacked by wild animals
(שִׁבְטְךָ֥ וּמִשְׁעַנְתֶּ֗ךָ הֵ֥מָּה יְנַחֲמֻנִֽי)

Here, rod and staff represent the shepherd's protection and guidance. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your protection and guidance comfort me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will fear	I will fear
evil	in which evil men might kill or hurt me your rod	because you protect and care for me like a shepherd protects his sheep by using his club and his walking stick to protect them from being attacked by wild animals and your staff	because you protect and care for me like a shepherd protects his sheep by using his club and his walking stick to protect them from being attacked by wild animals

Psalms 23:5

ULT	UST
You arrange a table before my face in front of my enemies; you have anointed my head with oil; my cup overflows.	You {richly} provide food for me and protect me from my enemies. You joyfully welcome me and honor me as people joyfully receive the guests they have invited by pouring olive oil over their heads. You have given me very many blessings!

ULT You arrange a table before my face in front of my enemies; you have anointed my head with oil; my cup overflows
UST You {richly} provide food for me and protect me from my enemies. You joyfully welcome me and honor me as people joyfully receive the guests they have invited by pouring olive oil over their heads. You have given me very many blessings
(תַּעֲרֹךְ לְפָנַי | שֻׁלְחָן נֶגֶד צֹרְרָי דִּשַּׁנְתָּ בַשֶּׁמֶן רֹאשִׁי כּוֹסִי רְוָיָה)

David is speaking of God's care and provision as if God were a host preparing a feast for an honored guest. The image includes arranging a table with food, anointing the guest's head with oil as a sign of welcome and honor, and filling the guest's cup to overflowing. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [In front of my enemies you provide for me and honor me like a host preparing a feast for a special guest]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT before my face
UST You {richly} provide food for me
(לְפָנַי)

Here, before my face represents being in David's presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in my presence] or [for me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in front of my enemies
UST and protect me from my enemies
(נֶגֶד צֹרְרָי)

The implication is that God provides for and protects David even when he is surrounded by those who wish to harm him. This demonstrates God's protection and care in dangerous situations. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [while my enemies watch] or [even though my enemies are present]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you have anointed my head with oil

UST You joyfully welcome me and honor me as people joyfully receive the guests they have invited by pouring olive oil over their heads

(דִּשַּׁנְתָּ בַשֶּׁמֶן רֹאשִׁי)

In that culture, putting scented oil on a guest's head was a symbolic action by which a host showed honor to and welcomed a guest. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [you have honored me by anointing my head with oil] or [you have honored and welcomed me by anointing my head with oil]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT my cup overflows

UST You have given me very many blessings

(כּוֹסִי רְוָיָה)

In that culture, filling a guest's wine cup to overflowing was a symbolic action by which a host showed that they intended to abundantly and liberally provide for their guest. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [you have blessed me abundantly]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my enemies	my enemies
you have anointed	You joyfully welcome me and honor me as people joyfully receive the guests they have invited by pouring olive oil over their heads
with oil	You joyfully welcome me and honor me as people joyfully receive the guests they have invited by pouring olive oil over their heads

Psalms 23:6

ULT	UST
Surely goodness and covenant faithfulness will pursue me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of Yahweh for length of days!	I am certain that Yahweh will be good to me and will continue to love me faithfully as long as I live. I will worship Yahweh in his sanctuary throughout my life.

ULT goodness and covenant faithfulness will pursue me
UST Yahweh will be good to me and will continue to love me faithfully
(טוֹב וְחֶסֶד יִרְדְּפוּנִי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of goodness and covenant faithfulness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will continually show me how good he is and how faithful he is to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and I will dwell
UST I will worship
(וְשַׁבְתִּי)

The Hebrew word that the ULT translates as and I will dwell could be: (1) a contracted form of the Hebrew word that means “dwell,” in which case it should be translated as the ULT does, or (2) a form of the Hebrew word meaning “return.” Alternate translation: [and I will return and go]

ULT and I will dwell in the house of Yahweh
UST I will worship Yahweh in his sanctuary
(וְשַׁבְתִּי בְּבֵית־יְהוָה)

David is using the phrase the house of Yahweh to refer to Yahweh’s tabernacle (tent of meeting), where Yahweh was worshiped, as if it were a house in which Yahweh lived. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I will dwell in the tabernacle of Yahweh] or [and I will dwell in Yahweh’s sanctuary]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for length of days
UST throughout my life
(לְאֹרֶךְ יָמִים)

The implication is that David will dwell with God for his entire life. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [for my whole life] or [as long as I live]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
goodness	Yahweh will be good to me and covenant faithfulness	love me faithfully
in the house of Yahweh	Yahweh in his sanctuary
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 24

Psalms 24 Introduction

Psalm 24 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 24 is a “royal psalm.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the royal psalms. It is also a psalm that the Israelites used for their processional liturgy as they entered Jerusalem or as they proceeded to Yahweh’s Tabernacle on Mount Zion in Jerusalem. In this psalm there is a clear call-and-response pattern in which someone leading the procession would have called out parts of this psalm (verse 3, 8a, 10a), and those in the procession would have responded and answered with the words in verses 4–6, 8b, and 10b–c.

Among Bible scholars there are different opinions about the exact setting and context of this psalm. Because this psalm begins with “of David” the events in this psalm are most likely during David’s lifetime.

1. Yahweh created the world and it belongs to him (1–2)
2. Yahweh requires righteousness to enter his presence and rewards and vindicates those who are righteous (3–6)
3. Yahweh is the glorious and victorious king (7–10)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Righteous people

“Clean hands” and a “pure heart” (being morally pure in action and in thought and intention) are required to enter Yahweh’s presence. (See: righteous, righteousness, unrighteous, unrighteousness, upright, uprightness)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Rhetorical Questions

David uses three rhetorical questions in this psalm. Each rhetorical question forms a unit with a response. The three rhetorical questions are found in verses 3, 8, and 10. (See: Rhetorical Question)

Psalms 24:2

ULT	UST
For he has founded it upon the seas and established it upon the rivers.	because he caused the ground to be above the water, above the water that was deep below the surface of the earth.

ULT For
UST because
(כִּי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [This is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT For he has founded it upon the seas and established it upon the rivers
UST because he caused the ground to be above the water, above the water that was deep below the surface of the earth
(כִּי־הוּא עַל־יַמִּים יְסָדָהּ וְעַל־נְהָרוֹת יְכוֹנְנָהָ)

By the seas and the rivers David means the waters that existed before God created the dry land. David, and people in his culture, thought of the world as being founded and placed by God upon subterranean waters. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [For he has founded it upon the waters that were there before creation] or [For he has founded it upon the deep waters under the earth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
has founded it	caused the ground established it	caused the ground

Psalms 24:3

ULT	UST
Who may ascend on the mountain of Yahweh? And who may stand in his holy place?	This is the type of person who Yahweh will allow to go up onto his mountain, Mount Zion {in Jerusalem}, in order to stand {and worship} him in his sacred tent.

ULT Who may ascend on the mountain of Yahweh? And who may stand in his holy place
UST This is the type of person who Yahweh will allow to go up onto his mountain, Mount Zion {in Jerusalem}, in order to stand {and worship} him in his sacred tent
(מִי־יַעֲלֶה בְהַר־יְהוָה וּמִי־יָקוּם בִּמְקוֹם קָדְשׁוֹ)

David is using questions to cause his readers to think deeply about who is qualified to approach God. David is not asking for information, but is emphasizing that only people who meet certain requirements can approach God. If you would not use rhetorical questions for this purpose in your language, you could translate his questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [Only certain people may ascend on the mountain of Yahweh! Only certain people may stand in his holy place!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Who may ascend on the mountain of Yahweh? And who may stand in his holy place
UST This is the type of person who Yahweh will allow to go up onto his mountain, Mount Zion {in Jerusalem}, in order to stand {and worship} him in his sacred tent
(מִי־יַעֲלֶה בְהַר־יְהוָה וּמִי־יָקוּם בִּמְקוֹם קָדְשׁוֹ)

David assumes that readers will know that the mountain of Yahweh and his holy place refer to Mount Zion in Jerusalem, where the Tabernacle of Yahweh was located. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Who may ascend Mount Zion, the mountain of Yahweh? And who may stand in his holy Tabernacle]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh & his
in his holy place	in his sacred tent

Psalms 24:4

ULT	UST
{The} one clean of hands and pure of heart, who has not lifted up his soul to what is false, and has not sworn deceitfully.	Only those whose actions and thoughts are pure, who have not worshiped idols, and who do not tell lies when they have solemnly promised to speak truthfully.

ULT The} one clean of hands and pure of heart
UST Only those whose actions and thoughts are pure
(נְקִי כַפַּיִם וּבַר־לֵבָב)

David is using the possessive form to describe one that is characterized by clean of hands and pure of heart. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The one who has clean hands and a pure heart]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT The} one clean of hands and pure of heart
UST Only those whose actions and thoughts are pure
(נְקִי כַפַּיִם וּבַר־לֵבָב)

Here, hands represents a person's actions or conduct. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The one whose actions are clean and whose heart is pure] or [The one who acts righteously]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and pure of heart
UST Only those whose & and thoughts are pure (וּבַר־לֵבָב)

In this image, the heart represents a person's thoughts, feelings, and motives, and David speaks of them as if they could be physically clean. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and whose thoughts are pure] or [and whose motives are pure]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT who has not lifted up his soul to what is false
UST who have not worshiped idols
(אֲשֶׁר ׀ לֹא־נָשָׂא לַשָּׁוְא נַפְשִׁי)

David is using the term soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual and emotional existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [who has not devoted himself to falsehood] or [who has not set his heart to worship idols] or [who has not set his heart to worship what is false]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to what is false
UST have & worshiped idols
(לַשָּׁוְא)

David assumes that readers will know that what is false refers to idol worship. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to idols]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The} one clean of	Only those whose & and & are pure and pure of	Only those whose & and & are pure his soul	have & worshiped idols
has & sworn	who do & tell lies when they have solemnly promised to speak truthfully

Psalms 24:5

ULT	UST
He will take up a blessing from Yahweh and righteousness from the God of his salvation.	Yahweh will bless this type of person. When Yahweh {judges them,} he who has saved them, he will say that they are righteous.

ULT He will take up
UST will & this type of person
(יִשָּׂ֣א)

The implication is that the person described in the previous verse will receive these things from God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [He will receive]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT He will take up a blessing from Yahweh and righteousness from the God of his salvation
UST Yahweh will bless this type of person. When Yahweh {judges them,} he who has saved them, he will say that they are righteous
(יִשָּׂ֣א בְרָכָ֣ה מֵאֵ֣ת יְהוָ֑ה וּצְדָקָ֖ה מֵאֱלֹהֵ֣י יִשְׁעֽוֹ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of blessing and righteousness and salvation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will bless him and act righteously toward him; this is what the God who saves him will do for him]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and righteousness from the God of his salvation
UST When Yahweh {judges them,} he who has saved them, he will say that they are righteous
(וּצְדָקָ֖ה מֵאֱלֹהֵ֣י יִשְׁעֽוֹ)

By and righteousness from the God of his salvation, David means that God will vindicate this type of person by declaring that they are righteous. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and vindication from the God of his salvation] or [and God will vindicate this person by declaring him righteous]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from the God of his salvation
UST When Yahweh {judges them,} he who has saved them, he will say that they are righteous
(מֵאֱלֹהֵי יִשְׁעוֹ)

See how you translated the similar phrase “the God of my salvation” in 18:46. Alternate translation: [from the God who saves him]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a blessing	bless
Yahweh	Yahweh
and righteousness	When Yahweh {judges them,} he who & he will say that they are righteous from the God of	When Yahweh {judges them,} he who & he will say that they are righteous
his salvation	has saved them

Psalms 24:6

ULT	UST
This {is} the generation of the ones seeking him, the ones seeking your face, Jacob. Selah	Such are the ones who seek Yahweh, the descendants of Jacob, who seek you, Yahweh. Selah

ULT This {is} the generation of the ones seeking him
UST Such are the ones who seek Yahweh
(זֶה דּוֹר דרשׁו)

Here, generation represents a type or class of people who have something in common. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [This is the kind of people who seek him] or [These are the people who seek him]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the ones seeking him, the ones seeking your face
UST who seek Yahweh & who seek you, Yahweh
(דרשׁו מְבַקְשֵׁי פָנֶיךָ)

These two phrases the ones seeking him and the ones seeking your face mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the ones seeking him, yes, the ones seeking your face]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the ones seeking your face
UST who seek you, Yahweh
(מְבַקְשֵׁי פָנֶיךָ)

Here, face represents God's presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the ones seeking to be in your presence] or [the ones seeking to know you intimately]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Jacob
> UST the descendants of Jacob
> (יַעֲקֹב)

Here, Jacob represents the people of Israel, who are the descendants of Jacob and who sought God's favor like Jacob did. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the people of Israel] or [the descendants of Jacob]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is} the generation of	are the ones
the ones seeking him	who seek Yahweh
the ones seeking	who seek
Jacob	the descendants of Jacob
Selah	Selah

Psalms 24:7

ULT	UST
Lift up your heads, {you} gates, and be lifted up, {you} ancient doors, so that the King of Glory may come in.	Open up the gates {of the sacred tent}, in order that our glorious king may enter!

ULT Lift up your heads, {you} gates, and be lifted up, {you} ancient doors
UST Open up the gates {of the sacred tent
(שְׂאֵ֤ינָה שְׁעָרִ֨ים | רָאשֵׁיכֶ֗ם וְהִנָּשְׂא֥וּ פִתְחֵי־עוֹלָ֑ם)

These two phrases Lift up your heads, you gates and be lifted up, you ancient doors mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Lift up your heads, you gates, yes, be lifted up, you ancient doors]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Lift up your heads, {you} gates, and be lifted up, {you} ancient doors
UST Open up the gates {of the sacred tent
(שְׂאֵ֤ינָה שְׁעָרִ֨ים | רָאשֵׁיכֶ֗ם וְהִנָּשְׂא֥וּ פִתְחֵי־עוֹלָ֑ם)

Here the words gates and doors could refer to: (1) the gates leading into Yahweh's Tabernacle on Mount Zion. Alternate translation: [Lift up your heads, you Tabernacle gates, and be lifted up, you ancient doors], or (2) the gates leading into the city of Jerusalem. Alternate translation: [Lift up your heads, you city gates, and be lifted up, you ancient doors]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Lift up your heads, {you} gates, and be lifted up, {you} ancient doors
UST Open up the gates {of the sacred tent
(שְׂאֵ֤ינָה שְׁעָרִ֨ים | רָאשֵׁיכֶ֗ם וְהִנָּשְׂא֥וּ פִתְחֵי־עוֹלָ֑ם)

David is speaking of the gates and doors that led into Yahweh's Tabernacle as if they were living things that could lift up their heads. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Open wide the Tabernacle gates]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT and be lifted up, {you} ancient doors
UST Open up the gates {of the sacred tent
(וְהִנָּשְׂאוּ פִּתְחֵי עוֹלָם)

The expression be lifted up is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and lift yourselves up, you ancient doors] or [and you gatekeepers, lift up the ancient doors]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT so that the King of Glory may come in
UST in order that our glorious king may enter
(וְיָבֹא מֶלֶךְ הַכָּבוֹד)

David is using this possessive form to mean a king who has glory or a king who is glorious. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [so that the glorious king may come in]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT so that the King of Glory may come in
UST in order that our glorious king may enter
(וְיָבֹא מֶלֶךְ הַכָּבוֹד)

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [so that the King of glory may go in]

Support Reference: Go and Come

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you} gates	the gates {of the sacred tent
the King of	king
Glory	our glorious

Psalms 24:8

ULT	UST
Who {is} this King of Glory? Yahweh, strong and mighty; Yahweh, mighty in battle.	I will tell you who this glorious king is. {He is} Yahweh, the one who is very strong; {He is} Yahweh, who conquers {all his enemies} in battles!

ULT Who {is} this King of Glory
UST I will tell you who this glorious king is (מִי זֶה מֶלֶךְ הַכָּבוֹד)

David is using the question Who is this King of glory? to introduce and emphasize the answer that follows. This is not a request for information, but a way to draw attention to Yahweh's identity and attributes. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could express this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [This is the King of glory] or [I will tell you who this King of glory is]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Who {is} this King of Glory
UST I will tell you who this glorious king is (מִי זֶה מֶלֶךְ הַכָּבוֹד)

See how you translated the phrase King of glory in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [Who is this glorious king]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT Yahweh, strong and mighty
UST He is} Yahweh, the one who is very strong (יְהוָה עִזּוּז וְגִבּוֹר)

The terms strong and mighty mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. [Yahweh, who is very strong] or [Yahweh, the powerful one]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
King of	king
Glory	glorious
Yahweh	He is} Yahweh
and mighty	the one who is very strong mighty	who conquers {all his enemies

Psalms 24:9

ULT	UST
Lift up your heads, {you} gates, and lift up, {you} ancient doors, so that the King of Glory may come in.	Open up the gates {of the sacred tent}, in order that our glorious king may enter!

ULT Lift up your heads, {you} gates, and lift up, {you} ancient doors, so that the King of Glory may come in

UST Open up the gates {of the sacred tent}, in order that our glorious king may enter

(שְׂאוּ שְׁעָרִים | רָאשֵׁיכֶם וּשְׂאוּ פִּתְחֵי עוֹלָם וְיָבֹא מֶלֶךְ הַכָּבוֹד)

Here David is speaking of gates and doors as if they were people who could lift up their heads. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Open wide, you gates, and open wide, you ancient doors, so that the King of glory may come in]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you} gates	the gates {of the sacred tent
the King of	king
Glory	our glorious

Psalms 24:10

ULT	UST
Who {is} he, this King of Glory? Yahweh of Armies, he {is} the King of Glory. Selah	I will tell you who he, this glorious king, is. {He is} Yahweh, who commands armies; he is our glorious king! Selah

ULT Who {is} he, this King of Glory
UST I will tell you who he, this glorious king, is (מִי הוּא זֶה מֶלֶךְ הַכָּבוֹד)

See how you translated the similar expression in 24:8.

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Yahweh of Armies
UST He is} Yahweh, who commands armies
(יְהוָה צְבָאוֹת)

David is using this possessive form to mean that Yahweh is the commander of armies (the army of Israel and the army of heaven made of up angels). It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, the commander of armies] or [Yahweh, who commands armies]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
King of	king
Glory	glorious
Yahweh of Armies	He is} Yahweh, who commands armies
Selah	Selah

Psalms 25

Psalms 25 Introduction

Psalm 25 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 25 has several different themes or topics within it. These include assertions of trust in Yahweh, lament (complaints about the present situation), and asking Yahweh for forgiveness of sin, deliverance from enemies and troubles, and for guidance. This psalm is an acrostic poem which follows the order of the Hebrew alphabet, with a few exceptions.

1. David’s first prayer (1–7)
2. Yahweh guides humble people in the right way to live (8–9)
3. Yahweh’s positive response to “the ones keeping his covenant and his testimonies” (10)
4. David’s second prayer (11)
5. Ways that Yahweh blesses those who fear him (12–14)
6. David looks to Yahweh for deliverance from his enemies (15)
7. David’s third prayer (16–22)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Yahweh’s guidance of David described using the metaphor of “path” and a “way”

In verses 4–5, 8–9, and 12 David describes the right way to live, the way that Yahweh desires a person to live, as a “path” and a “way.” David asks Yahweh to lead him in this proper way of living (4–5), says that Yahweh will teach humble people his “way” (8–9), and will teach those who fear him the proper “way” (12). See the individual notes in these verses for specific translation guidance. (Because David uses a parallelism in verse 4, we know that the words “ways/way” and “paths” have the same meaning in these particular verses.)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Singular forms of “you” and “your.”

In verses 1–7, 11, and 16–22 David prays directly to Yahweh. Each time David uses the pronouns “you” and “your” in these verses they are the singular form (in the language he wrote in, Hebrew) because they refer to Yahweh. If your language has singular and plural forms of the pronouns “you” and “your,” make sure you use the singular forms in these verses. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular)

Psalms 25:1

ULT	UST
Of David To you, Yahweh, I lift up my soul.	A psalm of David Yahweh, I come to you in prayer and tell you all that I need.

> ULT I lift up my soul
> UST I come & in prayer and tell you all that I need > (נַפְשִׁי אֶשָּׂא)

David is speaking of his earnest prayer and worship as if he were to physically lift up his soul to Yahweh. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I pour out my heart] or [I come in prayer]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Of David	A psalm of David
Yahweh	Yahweh
my soul	I & I

Psalms 25:2

ULT	UST
My God, in you I trust; do not let me have shame; do not let my enemies exult over me.	I trust in you, my God. Do not allow my enemies {to defeat me}, with the result that they would rejoice and I would be ashamed.

ULT My God
UST my God
(אֱלֹהַ֗י)

David is not using the phrase My God to mean that he is the only one who worships Yahweh nor that he possesses or controls Yahweh. Rather he uses these words to emphasize that Yahweh is the God that he worships. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [You God, whom I worship,]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT do not let me have shame; do not let my enemies exult over me
UST Do not allow my enemies {to defeat me}, with the result that they would rejoice and I would be ashamed
(אַל־אֵבוֹשָׁה אַל־יַעַלְצוּ אֹיְבַ֖י לִ֑י)

David is using imperative forms, do not let me be ashamed and do not let my enemies exult over me, but he intends these as polite requests rather than commands. If the imperative forms do not communicate polite requests in your language, you could use forms that communicate polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please do not let me have shame; please do not let my enemies exult over me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My God	my God
I trust	I trust
do & let me have shame	and I would be ashamed
my enemies	my enemies & they do & let & exult	Do & allow & to defeat me}, with the result that & would rejoice

Psalms 25:3

ULT	UST
Indeed, all the ones waiting on you will not have shame; the ones acting treacherously without cause will have shame.	Truly, you will not allow any of those who trust in you to be ashamed. You will cause those who act treacherously toward others to be ashamed.

ULT all the ones waiting on you
UST any of those who trust in you
(כָּל־קֹוֶיךָ)

By the ones waiting on you, David means people who trust in Yahweh and depend on him for help. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [all those who trust in you] or [all the ones trusting in you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT all the ones waiting on you will not have shame
UST you will not allow any of those who trust in you to be ashamed
(כָּל־קֹוֶיךָ לֹא יֵבֹשׁוּ)

David is using a double negative that consists of not and the negative meaning contained in the word ashamed. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [all the ones waiting on you, you will help]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will & have shame	you will & allow & to be ashamed

Psalms 25:4

ULT	UST
Make me know your ways, Yahweh; teach me your paths.	Yahweh, show me how I should conduct my life as you want me to. Teach me how to act in the manner that is pleasing to you.

ULT Make me know your ways, Yahweh; teach me your paths
UST Yahweh, show me how I should conduct my life as you want me to. Teach me how to act in the manner that is pleasing to you
(דְּרָכֶיךָ יְהוָה הוֹדִיעֵנִי אֹרְחוֹתֶיךָ לַמְּדֵנִי)

These are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. If the imperative forms do not communicate polite requests for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please make me know your ways, Yahweh; please teach me your paths]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Make me know your ways, Yahweh; teach me your paths
UST Yahweh, show me how I should conduct my life as you want me to. Teach me how to act in the manner that is pleasing to you
(דְּרָכֶיךָ יְהוָה הוֹדִיעֵנִי אֹרְחוֹתֶיךָ לַמְּדֵנִי)

These two phrases Make me know your ways, Yahweh and teach me your paths mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Make me know your ways, Yahweh, yes, teach me your paths]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT teach me your paths
UST Teach me how to act in the manner that is pleasing to you
(אֹרְחוֹתֶיךָ לַמְּדֵנִי)

David is speaking of how to live as if it were paths that he could walk along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [teach me how to live according to your will] or [teach me how I should live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Make me know	show me
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 25:5

ULT	UST
Lead me in your truth and teach me, for you are the God of my salvation; on you I wait all the day.	Teach me to conduct my life by obeying your truth, because you are my God, the one who saves me. I trust in you at all times.

ULT Lead me in your truth
UST Teach me to conduct my life by obeying your truth
(הַדְרִיכֵנִי בַאֲמִתֶּךָ)

David is speaking of God's truth as if it were a path that he could walk on. He means that he wants God to help him live according to God's truth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Help me to live according to your truth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Lead me in your truth
UST Teach me to conduct my life by obeying your truth
(הַדְרִיכֵנִי בַאֲמִתֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of truth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Lead me according to what is true] or [Lead me by your true teaching]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Lead me in your truth and teach me
UST Teach me to conduct my life by obeying your truth
(הַדְרִיכֵנִי בַאֲמִתֶּךָ | וְלַמְּדֵנִי)

The expressions Lead me in your truth and teach me mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Instruct me in your truth]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT Lead me in your truth and teach me
UST Teach me to conduct my life by obeying your truth
(הַדְרִיכֵנִי בַאֲמִתֶּךָ | וְלַמְּדֵנִי)

The verbs Lead and teach are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. David is humbly asking God to guide and instruct him. If the imperative form does not communicate a polite request in your language, you could use a form that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please lead me in your truth and teach me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT the God of my salvation
UST my God, the one who saves me
(אֱלֹהֵי יִשְׁעִי)

See how you translated the similar phrase “the God of his salvation” in 24:5.

Support Reference: Possession

ULT for you are the God of my salvation
UST because you are my God, the one who saves me
(כִּי־אַתָּה אֱלֹהֵי יִשְׁעִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for you are the God who saves me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT on you I wait all the day
UST I trust in you at all times
(אוֹתְךָ קִוִּיתִי כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

The implication is that David waits on God to help him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I continually wait for you to help me] or [I wait on you to help me all the day]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the God of	my God
my salvation	the one who saves me

Psalms 25:6

ULT	UST
Remember your compassion, Yahweh, and your covenant faithfulness, for they are from ancient times.	Yahweh, please act mercifully to me and faithfully love me, because that is the way that you have acted since long ago.

> ULT Remember your compassion, Yahweh, and your covenant faithfulness
> UST Yahweh, please act mercifully to me and faithfully love me
> (זְכֹר־רַחֲמֶיךָ יְהוָה וַחֲסָדֶיךָ)

David assumes that readers will know that when he asks God to Remember his compassion and covenant faithfulness, he is asking God to act according to these qualities, not simply to recall them mentally. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Act according to your compassion, Yahweh, and your covenant faithfulness]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT Remember your compassion, Yahweh, and your covenant faithfulness
> UST Yahweh, please act mercifully to me and faithfully love me
> (זְכֹר־רַחֲמֶיךָ יְהוָה וַחֲסָדֶיךָ)

The word translated as Remember is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please remember your compassion, Yahweh, and your covenant faithfulness]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT Remember your compassion, Yahweh, and your covenant faithfulness
> UST Yahweh, please act mercifully to me and faithfully love me
> (זְכֹר־רַחֲמֶיךָ יְהוָה וַחֲסָדֶיךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of compassion and covenant faithfulness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Remember how you are compassionate, Yahweh, and how you are faithful to your covenant] or [Remember to be compassionate, Yahweh, and to be faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT they are from ancient times
> UST that is the way that you have acted since long ago
> (מֵעוֹלָם הָמָּה)

The implication is that God has always been compassionate and faithful, not just recently. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you have acted with compassion and covenant faithfulness since ancient times]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your compassion	mercifully to me
Yahweh	Yahweh
and your covenant faithfulness	and faithfully love me
from ancient times	since long ago

Psalms 25:7

ULT	UST
Do not remember the sins of my youth or my transgressions; according to your covenant faithfulness remember me, for the sake of your goodness, Yahweh!	Forgive me for the sinful things I did when I was young and for my rebellious actions {as an adult}. I ask that, because you faithfully love your people, you treat me kindly and forgive me. Yahweh, I ask that you do this because you are good!

ULT the sins of my youth
UST the sinful things I did when I was young (חַטֹּאות נְעוּרַי)

David is using the possessive form to describe sins that were committed during his youth. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the sins I committed when I was young] or [the sinful things I did in my youth]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT according to your covenant faithfulness remember me
UST I ask that, because you faithfully love your people, you treat me kindly and forgive me
(כְּחַסְדְּךָ זְכָר־לִי)

By according to your covenant faithfulness remember me, David means that he wants God to remember him with favor and blessing, not with judgment. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [because of your covenant faithfulness remember me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT or my transgressions
UST and for my rebellious actions {as an adult (וּפְשָׁעַי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of transgressions, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [or the ways I have disobeyed your instructions]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT according to your covenant faithfulness
UST I ask that, because you faithfully love your people
(כְּחַסְדֶּךָ)

See how you translated the phrase covenant faithfulness in the previous verse.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for the sake of your goodness, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, I ask that you do this because you are good (לְמַעַן טוּבְךָ יְהוָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of goodness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for the sake of the fact that you are good, Yahweh]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the sins of	the sinful things I did or my transgressions	and for my rebellious actions {as an adult according to your covenant faithfulness	I ask that, because you faithfully love your people your goodness	you are
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 25:8

ULT	UST
Good and upright is Yahweh, therefore he teaches the sinful in the way.	Yahweh is good and acts righteously, so he shows sinful people the right way to conduct their lives.

ULT Good and upright is Yahweh, therefore he teaches the sinful in the way
UST Yahweh is good and acts righteously, so he shows sinful people the right way to conduct their lives
(טוֹב־וְיָשָׁר יְהוָה עַל־כֵּן יוֹרֶה חַטָּאִים בַּדָּרֶךְ)

David is using therefore to introduce a result clause that explains what follows from Yahweh being good and upright. If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because Yahweh teaches sinners the way, he is good and upright]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the sinful
UST sinful people
(חַטָּאִים)

David is using the adjective sinful as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [sinners]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT in the way
UST the right way to conduct their lives
(בַּדָּרֶךְ)

Here David is speaking of how a person lives as if that were a way or path for a person to walk on. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [how to live] or [how they should conduct their lives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Good	is good
and upright	and acts righteously
is Yahweh	Yahweh
the sinful	sinful people

Psalms 25:9

ULT	UST
He leads the humble in justice, and he teaches the humble his way.	He shows humble people what is right for them to do and teaches them what he wants them to do.

ULT He leads the humble in justice, and he teaches the humble his way
UST He shows humble people what is right for them to do and teaches them what he wants them to do
(יַדְרֵךְ עֲנָוִים בַּמִּשְׁפָּט וְיִלַּמֵּד עֲנָוִים דַּרְכּוֹ)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a guide who leads people along paths and a teacher who teaches them the right way to take. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He guides the humble to do what is just and he shows the humble how he wants them to live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT He leads the humble in justice, and he teaches the humble his way
UST He shows humble people what is right for them to do and teaches them what he wants them to do
(יַדְרֵךְ עֲנָוִים בַּמִּשְׁפָּט וְיִלַּמֵּד עֲנָוִים דַּרְכּוֹ)

David is using the adjective humble as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [He leads humble people in justice and he teaches humble people his way]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT He leads the humble in justice
UST He shows humble people what is right for them to do (יַדְרֵךְ עֲנָוִים בַּמִּשְׁפָּט)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [He leads the humble to do what is just] or [He guides the humble to act justly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the humble	humble people
in justice	what is right for them to do

Psalms 25:10

ULT	UST
All the paths of Yahweh are covenant love and faithfulness for the ones keeping his covenant and his testimonies.	Yahweh always faithfully loves and does what he has promised to those who obey his covenant and who do what he requires.

ULT All the paths of Yahweh are covenant love and faithfulness
UST Yahweh always faithfully loves and does what he has promised
(כָּל־אָרְחוֹת יְהוָה חֶסֶד וֶאֱמֶת)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh's actions as if they were paths that a person could walk along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [All the actions of Yahweh are covenant love and faithfulness]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT All the paths of Yahweh are covenant love and faithfulness
UST Yahweh always faithfully loves and does what he has promised
(כָּל־אָרְחוֹת יְהוָה חֶסֶד וֶאֱמֶת)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of covenant love and faithfulness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [All the paths of Yahweh are loving and faithful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Yahweh	Yahweh
are covenant love	faithfully loves
are covenant love	faithfully loves
and faithfulness	and does what he has promised his covenant	his covenant
and his testimonies	and who do what he requires

Psalms 25:11

ULT	UST
For the sake of your name, Yahweh, forgive my iniquity, for it is great.	Yahweh, forgive me for all my sins, which are many, in order that I and others may honor you.

ULT For the sake of your name
UST in order that I and others may honor you (לְמַעַן־שִׁמְךָ)

David is using the term name to represent who Yahweh is or to refer to Yahweh's reputation. Alternate translation: [For your sake] or [For the sake of your reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT forgive my iniquity
UST forgive me for all my sins
(וְסָלַחְתָּ לַעֲוֹנִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [forgive me for the wrong things I have done]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
forgive	forgive me
my iniquity	for all my sins

Psalms 25:12

ULT	UST
Who is the man fearing Yahweh? He will teach him in the way he is to choose.	To all those who revere Yahweh, he shows them the right way to conduct their lives.

ULT Who is the man fearing Yahweh? He will teach him in the way he is to choose
UST To all those who revere Yahweh, he shows them the right way to conduct their lives
(מִי־זֶה הָאִישׁ יְרֵא יְהוָה יוֹרֶנּוּ בְּדֶרֶךְ יִבְחָר)

David is using a rhetorical question Who is the man fearing Yahweh? to emphasize that God is faithful to guide those who revere him. If a speaker of your language would not use a question for this purpose, you could translate this as a statement or exclamation. Alternate translation: [The man who fears Yahweh—God will teach him in the way he is to choose]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Who is the man fearing Yahweh? He will teach him in the way he is to choose
UST To all those who revere Yahweh, he shows them the right way to conduct their lives
(מִי־זֶה הָאִישׁ יְרֵא יְהוָה יוֹרֶנּוּ בְּדֶרֶךְ יִבְחָר)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Who are the people fearing Yahweh? He will teach them in the way they are to choose]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT the man
UST To all those who (זֶה הָאִישׁ)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [anyone]

> ULT He will teach him in the way he is to choose
> UST he shows them the right way to conduct their lives
> (יוֹרֶנּוּ בְּדֶרֶךְ יִבְחָר)

David is speaking of how a person conducts themselves as if that were the way or path for a person to walk on. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He will teach him how he should live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fearing	revere
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 25:13

ULT	UST
His soul will remain in good, and his seed will inherit the earth.	They will always be prosperous, and their descendants will continue to live in {this} land.

ULT His soul
UST They
(נַפְשׁוֹ)

David is using the term soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual and emotional existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [He]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT His soul will remain in good
UST They will always be prosperous
(נַפְשׁוֹ בְּטוֹב תָּלִין)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of good, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [His soul will remain prosperous] or [He will continue to be blessed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in good
UST prosperous
(בְּטוֹב)

By in good, David means in prosperity or in favorable circumstances. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [in prosperity]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and his seed
UST and their descendants
(וְזַרְעוֹ)

See how you translated the term “seed” in 18:50. Alternate translation: [and his descendants]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT will inherit the earth
> UST will continue to live in {this} land
> (יִֽירַשׁ אָֽרֶץ)

By will inherit the earth, David means that their descendants will continue to live in the promised land of Israel. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will inherit the land]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
His soul	They
in good	prosperous
and his seed	and their descendants will inherit	will continue to live in the earth	this} land

Psalms 25:14

ULT	UST
The secret of Yahweh is for the ones fearing him and his covenant, to cause them to know it.	Yahweh is a friend of those who revere him, and he teaches them the covenant that he made {with them}.

ULT The secret of Yahweh is for the ones fearing him
UST Yahweh is a friend of those who revere him
(סֹוד יְהוָה לִירֵאָיו)

David assumes that readers will know that the secret of Yahweh refers to an intimate relationship with Yahweh. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Yahweh's intimate friendship is for the ones fearing him] or [Yahweh shares his plans with the ones fearing him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
is for the ones fearing him	those who revere him and his covenant	the covenant that he made {with them to cause them to know it	and he teaches them

Psalms 25:15

ULT	UST
My eyes are continually toward Yahweh, for he will make my feet go out of the net.	I always ask Yahweh to help me, because he will rescue me when my enemies attempt to hurt me.

ULT My eyes are continually toward Yahweh, for he will make my feet go out of the net
UST I always ask Yahweh to help me, because he will rescue me when my enemies attempt to hurt me
(עֵינַי תָּמִיד אֶל־יְהוָה כִּי הוּא־יוֹצִיא מֵרֶשֶׁת רַגְלָי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because Yahweh will make my feet go out of the net, my eyes are continually toward him]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT My eyes are continually toward Yahweh
UST I always ask Yahweh to help me
(עֵינַי תָּמִיד אֶל־יְהוָה)

Here, eyes represents David's attention and focus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am continually focused on Yahweh]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT he will make my feet go out of the net
UST he will rescue me when my enemies attempt to hurt me
(הוּא־יוֹצִיא מֵרֶשֶׁת רַגְלָי)

Here David is speaking as if his troubles were a net that had trapped his feet and as if Yahweh could free his feet from that trap. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will free me from my troubles like feet freed from a net] or [he will rescue me from my troubles]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 25:16

ULT	UST
Turn toward me and be gracious to me, for I am alone and afflicted.	{Yahweh,} pay attention to me and be merciful to me, because I have no one to help me and I am suffering.

ULT Turn toward me and be gracious to me
UST Yahweh,} pay attention to me and be merciful to me
(פְּנֵה־אֵלַי וְחָנֵּנִי)

David is using imperative forms, but he is communicating polite requests rather than commands. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please turn toward me and be gracious to me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Turn toward me
UST Yahweh,} pay attention to me
(פְּנֵה־אֵלַי)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a person who could physically Turn toward him to give attention. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Pay attention to me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Turn toward me and be gracious to me, for I am alone and afflicted
UST Yahweh,} pay attention to me and be merciful to me, because I have no one to help me and I am suffering
(פְּנֵה־אֵלַי וְחָנֵּנִי כִּי־יָחִיד וְעָנִי אָנִי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because I am alone and afflicted, turn toward me and be gracious to me]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT and afflicted
UST and & am suffering
(וְעָנִי)

The expression afflicted is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and experiencing hardship]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and be gracious to me	and be merciful to me
and afflicted	and & am suffering

Psalms 25:17

ULT	UST
The troubles of my heart are enlarged; bring me out of my distresses.	{Because of my present circumstances} there are many things that cause me to worry. Rescue me from the things that are causing me to be distressed.

ULT The troubles of my heart are enlarged
UST Because of my present circumstances} there are many things that cause me to worry
(צָרוֹת לְבָבִי הִרְחִיבוּ)

Here David is speaking of The troubles of my heart as if they were physical objects that could become larger in size. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My heart is filled with many troubles] or [The troubles I feel have become very great]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT bring me out of my distresses
UST Rescue me from the things that are causing me to be distressed
(מִמְּצוּקוֹתַי הוֹצִיאֵנִי)

Here David is speaking as if his distresses were a place from which he could be brought out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [free me from my distresses] or [rescue me from my distresses]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT bring me out of my distresses
UST Rescue me from the things that are causing me to be distressed
(מִמְּצוּקוֹתַי הוֹצִיאֵנִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of distresses, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [deliver me from the things that distress me] or [bring me out of the circumstances that distress me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The troubles of	Because of & present circumstances} there are & things that cause & to worry out of my distresses	from the things that are causing me to be distressed

Psalms 25:18

ULT	UST
See my affliction and my trouble, and forgive all of my sins.	Take notice that I am in difficult circumstances and troubled, and forgive me for every sinful thing I have done.

ULT See
UST Take notice
(רְאֵה)

By See, David means “take notice of” or “pay attention to.” David is asking God to consider his difficult situation with compassion. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Consider]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT See my affliction and my trouble, and forgive all of my sins
UST Take notice that I am in difficult circumstances and troubled, and forgive me for every sinful thing I have done
(רְאֵה עָנְיִי וַעֲמָלִי וְשָׂא לְכָל־חַטֹּאותָי)

The words See and forgive are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. If the imperative form does not communicate polite requests in your language, you could use a form that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please see my affliction and my trouble, and please forgive all of my sins]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT See my affliction and my trouble, and forgive all of my sins
UST Take notice that I am in difficult circumstances and troubled, and forgive me for every sinful thing I have done
(רְאֵה עָנְיִי וַעֲמָלִי וְשָׂא לְכָל־חַטֹּאותָי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of affliction and trouble, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [See how I am afflicted and troubled, and forgive all of the sinful things that I have done]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my affliction	that I am in difficult circumstances and my trouble	and troubled and forgive	and forgive me
my sins	sinful thing I have done

Psalms 25:19

ULT	UST
See my enemies, for they are many, and with hatred of violence they hate me.	Take notice that I have many enemies, and that they hate me very much.

ULT See
UST Take notice
(רְאֵה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please look at] or [Please consider]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT and with hatred of violence they hate me
UST and that they hate me very much
(וְשִׂנְאַת חָמָס שָׂנְאוּנִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of hatred, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and they violently hate me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and with hatred of violence
UST and that they hate me very much
(וְשִׂנְאַת חָמָס)

David is using this possessive form hatred of violence to mean violent hatred. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and with violent hatred] or [and with brutal hatred]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my enemies	that I have & enemies

Psalms 25:20

ULT	UST
Guard my life and deliver me; do not let me have shame, for I take refuge in you!	Protect me and rescue me {from them}; do not allow {them to defeat me with the result that} I would be ashamed, because I go to you to keep me safe.

ULT Guard my life and deliver me; do not let me have shame
UST Protect me and rescue me {from them}; do not allow {them to defeat me with the result that} I would be ashamed
(שָׁמְרָה נַפְשִׁי וְהַצִּילֵנִי אַל־אֵבוֹשׁ)

These are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. If the imperatives do not communicate polite requests for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please guard my life and deliver me; please do not let me have shame]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Guard my life
UST Protect me
(שָׁמְרָה נַפְשִׁי)

By Guard my life, David means protect him from his enemies who want to harm or kill him. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Protect my life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for I take refuge in you
UST because I go to you to keep me safe
(כִּי־חָסִיתִי בָךְ)

See how you translated the phrase for I take refuge in you in 16:1.

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Guard	Protect
and deliver me	and rescue me {from them
do & let me have shame	do & allow {them to defeat me with the result that} I would be ashamed
I take refuge	I go & to keep me safe

Psalms 25:21

ULT	UST
May integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait for you.	Protect me because I do what is good and honest, and because I trust in you.

ULT May integrity and uprightness
UST because I do what is good and honest
(תֹּם־וְיֹשֶׁר)

The terms integrity and uprightness mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [May complete righteousness]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT May integrity and uprightness preserve me
UST Protect me because I do what is good and honest
(תֹּם־וְיֹשֶׁר יִצְּרֻנִי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of integrity and uprightness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [May my honest and upright character preserve me] or [May I be preserved because I am honest and do what is right]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT May integrity and uprightness preserve me
UST Protect me because I do what is good and honest
(תֹּם־וְיֹשֶׁר יִצְּרֻנִי)

Here David speaks of integrity and uprightness as if they were people who could preserve or protect him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May my integrity and uprightness be the means by which you preserve me]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT for I wait for you
UST and because I trust in you
(כִּי קִוִּיתִיךָ)

See how you translated the phrases “the ones waiting on you” in 25:3 and “on you I wait” in 25:5 where the words “waiting” and “wait” are used with the same meaning as the word wait in this verse.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
May integrity and uprightness	because I do what is good and honest

Psalms 25:22

ULT	UST
God, redeem Israel from all of his troubles!	God, rescue {us} Israelite people from all of our troubles!

ULT redeem
UST rescue
(פְּדֵה)

The word redeem is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please redeem]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Israel from all of his troubles
UST us} Israelite people from all of our troubles
(אֶת־יִשְׂרָאֵל מִכֹּל צָרוֹתָיו)

Here, Israel represents the Israelite people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [us Israelite people from all our troubles]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
redeem	rescue
Israel	us} Israelite people
his troubles	our troubles

Psalms 26

Psalms 26 Introduction

Psalm 26 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. David asks Yahweh to give him justice because of his righteous lifestyle (1–6a)
2. David vows to thank Yahweh and recount all his wondrous deeds (6b–7)
3. David proclaims that he loves to be in Yahweh’s presence in the Tabernacle (8)
4. David asks Yahweh not to punish him with the wicked (9–10)
5. David vows to live with integrity and asks Yahweh to redeem him and be gracious to him as a result (11)
6. David’s closing words (12)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Praise

The psalmist delights in praising God and doing good deeds. It is striking how this psalm uses the first person pronoun. This is an individual psalm of petition. Each of the four petitions are accompanied with various claims. (See: good, right, pleasant, better, best, goodness)

Psalms 26:1

ULT	UST
Of David Vindicate me, Yahweh, for I have walked in my integrity, and in Yahweh I have trusted without wavering.	A psalm of David Yahweh, show that I am innocent. I have done what is right, and I have trusted in Yahweh without doubting him.

ULT Vindicate me
UST show that I am innocent
(שָׁפְטֵנִי)

By Vindicate me, David means that he wants God to prove to others that he is innocent of wrongdoing. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Prove that I am righteous] or [Show others that I am innocent]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Vindicate me
UST show that I am innocent
(שָׁפְטֵנִי)

Here David is using an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please vindicate me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT for I have walked in my integrity
UST I have done what is right, and (כִּי־אֲנִי בְתֻמִּי הָלָכְתִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of integrity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for I have done what is right] or [for I have lived uprightly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for I have walked in my integrity
UST I have done what is right, and
(כִּי־אֲנִי בְתֻמִּי הָלָכְתִּי)

Here David is speaking of his manner of living and conducting himself as if it were a path he walked. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for I have lived with integrity] or [for I have acted with integrity]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Of David	A psalm of David
Yahweh	Yahweh
in my integrity	what is right and in Yahweh	in Yahweh
I have trusted	I have trusted

Psalms 26:2

ULT	UST
Examine me, Yahweh, and test me; try my kidneys and my heart.	Yahweh, examine what I have done and test me; thoroughly evaluate what I think in my inner being.

ULT Examine me, Yahweh, and test me; try UST Yahweh, examine what I have done and test me; thoroughly evaluate (בְּחָנֵנִי יְהוָה וְנַסֵּנִי צרופה)

David is using imperatives to make polite requests rather than to give commands. If the imperatives do not communicate polite requests in your language, you could use a form that communicates a polite request. Alternate translation: [Please examine me, Yahweh, and test me; please try]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Examine me, Yahweh, and test me
UST Yahweh, examine what I have done and test me; thoroughly
(בְּחָנֵנִי יְהוָה וְנַסֵּנִי)

These two phrases, Examine me and test me, mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, examine and test me]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT try my kidneys and my heart
UST evaluate what I think in my inner being (צרופה כִלְיוֹתַי וְלִבִּי)

See how you translated the similar phrase “The righteous God examines hearts and kidneys” in 7:9. Alternate translation: [try my motives and my thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and test me	and test me; thoroughly

Psalms 26:3

ULT	UST
For your covenant faithfulness is before my eyes, and I walk about in your truth.	I never forget that you faithfully love me. I conduct my life according to what you say is right.

ULT For your covenant faithfulness is before my eyes
UST I never forget that you faithfully love me
(כִּי־חַסְדְּךָ לְנֶגֶד עֵינָי)

David is using before my eyes as a common expression of his culture to mean “constantly in my thoughts” or “always in my awareness.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am always mindful of your covenant faithfulness] or [I constantly remember your covenant faithfulness]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT For your covenant faithfulness
UST you faithfully love me
(כִּי־חַסְדְּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [For the way you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and I walk about in your truth
UST I conduct my life according to what you say is right
(וְהִתְהַלַּכְתִּי בַּאֲמִתֶּךָ)

David is speaking of living according to God’s truth as if it were a path he could walk about on. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I live according to your truth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in your truth
UST according to what you say is right
(בַּאֲמִתֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of truth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in what is true]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	you faithfully love me

Psalms 26:4

ULT	UST
I do not sit with men of falsehood, and I will not go with the ones concealing themselves.	I do not spend my time with liars, and I stay away from hypocrites.

ULT I do not sit with men of falsehood
UST I do not spend my time with liars
(לֹא־יָשַׁבְתִּי עִם־מְתֵי־שָׁוְא)

Here, sit represents associating with or spending time with people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I do not associate with men of falsehood]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT men of falsehood
UST liars
(מְתֵי־שָׁוְא)

The phrase men of falsehood refers to people who are characterized by dishonesty, deception, or lies. David is describing those who habitually speak or act falsely. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [deceitful people] or [dishonest men]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT men of falsehood
UST liars
(מְתֵי־שָׁוְא)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of falsehood, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [lying men] or [men who lie]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and I will not go with the ones concealing themselves
UST and I stay away from hypocrites
(וְעִם נְעֲלָמִים לֹא אָבוֹא)

The implication is that these people are concealing their evil intentions or dishonest behavior. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and I will not go with those who hide their evil deeds] or [and I will not go with those who hide their evil deeds and intentions]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Psalms 26:5

ULT	UST
I hate the assembly of the ones doing evil, and I will not sit with the wicked.	I do not like to be with evil people, and I avoid wicked people.

ULT the ones doing evil
UST evil people
(מְרֵעִֽים)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ones who do evil things] or [the ones who act wickedly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and I will not sit with
UST and I avoid
(וְעִם לֹ֣א אֵשֵׁ֑ב)

See how you translated the similar phrase “I do not sit with” in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [and I will not associate with]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(וְרִשְׁעִֽים)

See how you translated the phrase “the wicked” in 1:1.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the assembly of	to be with the ones doing evil	evil people
the wicked	wicked people

Psalms 26:6

ULT	UST
I wash my hands in innocence, so I will go around your altar, Yahweh,	Yahweh, I wash my hands to show that I have not done what was wrong. As I join with others marching around your altar,

ULT I wash my hands in innocence
UST I wash my hands to show that I have not done what was wrong
(אֶרְחַץ בְּנִקָּיוֹן כַּפָּי)

Washing hands in innocence was a symbolic action by which David showed that he had not done anything wrong. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [I demonstrate my innocence by washing my hands]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT in innocence
UST to show that I have not done what was wrong
(בְּנִקָּיוֹן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of innocence, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [as an innocent person] or [because I am innocent]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your altar	your altar
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 26:7

ULT	UST
to cause to be heard the sound of thanksgiving and recount all of your wonderful acts.	we sing songs to thank you, and we tell others the wonderful things that you have done.

> ULT to cause to be heard
> UST we sing
> (לְשְׁמִֽעַ)

The expression to cause to be heard is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [to proclaim] or [to make known]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and recount	and we tell others
your wonderful acts	the wonderful things that you have done

Psalms 26:8

ULT	UST
Yahweh, I love the habitation of your house, and the place of the dwelling place of your glory.	Yahweh, I love {to be in} the sanctuary where you dwell, in the place where your glory appears.

ULT the habitation of your house
UST to be in} the sanctuary where you dwell
(מְעוֹן בֵּיתֶךָ)

David is speaking of the tabernacle of Yahweh as if it were a house, which Yahweh makes his habitation or dwelling place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your tabernacle] or [the tabernacle where you are present in a special way]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the habitation of your house
UST to be in} the sanctuary where you dwell
(מְעוֹן בֵּיתֶךָ)

David is using this possessive form, habitation of your house, to mean the place where Yahweh has made his special habitation (dwelling place). It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the house where you dwell]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
I love	I love
your house	where you dwell
the dwelling place of	appears your glory	your glory

Psalms 26:9

ULT	UST
Do not gather my soul with the sinful, nor my life with men of blood,	Do not get rid of me like you get rid of sinners. Do not cause me to die like you cause those who murder people to die,

ULT Do not gather
UST Do not get rid of (אַל־תֶּאֱסֹף)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please do not gather]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Do not gather my soul with the sinful, nor my life with men of blood
UST Do not get rid of me like you get rid of sinners. Do not cause me to die like you cause those who murder people to die
(אַל־תֶּאֱסֹף עִם־חַטָּאִים נַפְשִׁי וְעִם־אַנְשֵׁי דָמִים חַיָּי)

David assumes that readers will know that gather refers to God gathering wicked people to judge them. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Do not cause me to die and be judged along with the sinful, nor let me perish in judgment with men of blood] or [Do not take me away to be judged along with the sinful, nor let me perish in judgment with men of blood]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my soul
UST me
(נַפְשִׁי)

Here David is using the term my soul to mean himself, his very life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the sinful
> UST like you get rid of sinners
> (חַטָּאִים)

David is using the adjective sinful as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [sinful people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT men of blood
> UST like you cause those who murder people
> (אַנְשֵׁי דָמִים)

David is using the possessive form to describe men that are characterized by violence and bloodshed. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [violent men] or [murderers]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do & gather	Do & get rid of
my soul	me
the sinful	like you get rid of sinners

Psalms 26:10

ULT	UST
who {have} in their hands an evil scheme and their right hand is full of bribes.	and people who are ready to do wicked things, and people who are always taking bribes.

ULT who {have} in their hands an evil scheme
UST and people who are ready to do wicked things
(אֲשֶׁר־בִּידֵיהֶם זִמָּה)

Here, hands represents what these evil men do (their actions) or plan to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who plan an evil scheme]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and their right hand is full of bribes
UST and people who are always taking bribes
(וִימִינָם מָלְאָה שֹׁחַד)

The phrase their right hand is full of bribes could mean: (1) that these wicked men are in positions of authority and they accept bribes and make unjust decisions or rulings as a result. Alternate translation: [and their right hand is full of bribes which they have accepted] or (2) that these evil men give bribes to those in positions of authority in order to influence them to make wrong and unjust decisions. Alternate translation: [and they give bribes] or [and they pervert justice by giving bribes]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
an evil scheme	wicked things
bribes	bribes

Psalms 26:11

ULT	UST
But I will walk in my integrity; redeem me and be gracious to me.	But as for me, I always try to do what is right. So rescue me and act kindly toward me.

ULT But I will walk in my integrity
UST But as for me, I always try to do what is right
(וַאֲנִי בְתֻמִּי אֵלֵךְ)

See how you translated the similar phrase “for I have walked in my integrity” in verse 1.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT redeem me and be gracious to me
UST So rescue me and act kindly toward me
(פְּדֵנִי וְחָנֵּנִי)

In this context, David is using imperative forms to make polite requests to God rather than to give commands. The words redeem me and be gracious to me are requests for God’s help and mercy. If the imperative forms do not communicate polite requests in your language, use a form that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please redeem me and be gracious to me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in my integrity	always try to do what is right
redeem me	So rescue me
and be gracious to me	and act kindly toward me

Psalms 26:12

ULT	UST
My foot stands on level ground; among the assemblies will I bless Yahweh!	{Because I have conducted myself righteously} I am secure, and when all Yahweh's people gather together, I praise him among them.

ULT My foot stands on level ground
UST Because I have conducted myself righteously} I am secure (רַגְלִי עָמְדָה בְמִישׁוֹר)

Here David is speaking as if his foot stands on level ground. He means that he is in a stable and secure position because he has lived righteously. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am secure because I have lived righteously]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT among the assemblies will I bless Yahweh
UST and when all Yahweh's people gather together, I praise him among them
(בְּמַקְהֲלִים אֲבָרֵךְ יְהוָה)

David assumes that readers will know that assemblies refers to gatherings of God's people for worship. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [in the gatherings of God's people I will bless Yahweh]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
among the assemblies	and when all Yahweh's people gather together & among them will I bless	I praise
Yahweh	him

Psalms 27

Psalms 27 Introduction

Psalm 27 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 27 is considered to be one of the “psalms of trust.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the psalms of trust.

1. David declares his confidence in God (1–6)
2. David prays for help (7–12)
3. David affirms his faith in God and calls on others to patiently endure (13–14)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Yahweh’s help

Because of God’s help, he has nothing to fear, no matter what happens. The psalmist shows his confidence in God; he also asks God for help.

Psalms 27:1

ULT	UST
Of David Yahweh is my light and my salvation; whom will I fear? Yahweh is the refuge of my life; whom will I dread?	A psalm of David Yahweh encourages me and nourishes my inner being. He is the one who saves me, so I will not fear anyone. Yahweh is the one to whom I go for refuge, so I will not dread anyone.

ULT Yahweh is my light
UST Yahweh encourages me and nourishes my inner being (יְהוָה | אוֹרִי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were light that illuminates, guides, helps, and encourages him. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is like light to me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and my salvation
UST He is the one who saves me
(וְיִשְׁעִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and the one who saves me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT whom will I fear & whom will I dread
UST so I will not fear anyone & so I will not dread anyone (מִמִּי אִירָא & מִמִּי אֶפְחָד)

David is using two rhetorical questions, whom will I fear and whom will I dread, to emphasize that he does not fear anyone because Yahweh protects him. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate these questions as statements. Alternate translation: [there is no one I fear … there is no one I dread] or [there is no one I need to fear … there is no one I need to dread]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Yahweh is the refuge of my life
UST Yahweh is the one to whom I go for refuge
(יְהוָה מָעוֹז־חַיַּי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a physical location, a refuge, that could provide safety and protection. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [Yahweh protects my life like a place of refuge] or [Yahweh is like a safe place for me where I can go to be safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Of David	A psalm of David
Yahweh	Yahweh
and my salvation	He is the one who saves me
will I fear	I will & fear is the refuge of	is the one to whom I go for refuge
will I dread	I will & dread

Psalms 27:2

ULT	UST
When the ones doing evil advance against me to devour my flesh, my enemies and the ones being hostile to me, they stumbled and fell.	When those who do evil things come near me to attack and destroy me, Yahweh enables me to defeat them so that they fall down.

ULT to devour my flesh
UST me to attack and destroy me
(לֶֽאֱכֹ֤ל אֶת־בְּשָׂרִ֨י)

David is speaking of his enemies' attacks as if they were wild animals trying to devour his flesh. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could state the meaning plainly or express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [to destroy me completely] or [to attack me like wild beasts]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my enemies and the ones being hostile to me
UST those who do evil things
(צָרַ֖י וְאֹיְבַ֑י)

The terms enemies and the ones being hostile to me mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [my fierce enemies]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT they stumbled and fell
UST Yahweh enables me to defeat them so that they fall down (הֵ֣מָּה כָ֭שְׁלוּ וְנָפָֽלוּ)

Here, they stumbled and fell represents being defeated. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they were defeated] or [they failed in their attack]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the ones doing evil	those who do evil things to devour	me to attack and destroy me
my enemies	those who do evil things
stumbled	Yahweh enables me to defeat them so that they fall down

Psalms 27:3

ULT	UST
Though an army encamps against me, my heart will not fear; though war arises against me, in this I will be confident.	Even if an army sets up their tents in order to attack me, I will not be afraid. Even if they attack me, I will trust {in God}.

ULT Though an army encamps against me, my heart will not fear; though war arises against me, in this I will be confident
UST Even if an army sets up their tents in order to attack me, I will not be afraid. Even if they attack me, I will trust {in God
(אִם־תַּחֲנֶה עָלַי | מַחֲנֶה לֹא־יִירָא לִבִּי אִם־תָּקוּם עָלַי מִלְחָמָה בְּזֹאת אֲנִי בוֹטֵחַ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Though an army encamps against me and war arises against me, my heart will not fear but will be confident]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Though an army encamps against me
UST Even if an army sets up their tents in order to attack me
(אִם־תַּחֲנֶה עָלַי | מַחֲנֶה)

In this verse, the word army is singular in form, but it refers to all soldiers as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning of "army" in another way. Alternate translation: [Though enemy troops encamp against me]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT my heart will not fear
UST I will not be afraid
(לֹא־יִירָא לִבִּי)

Here David is speaking of my heart as if it were the part of him that experiences fear. In your language, it may be more natural to say that David himself will not fear. Alternate translation: [I will not fear]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT though war arises against me
UST Even if they attack me
(אִם־תָּקוּם עָלַי מִלְחָמָה)

David is using war arises against me as a common expression of his culture to mean “when enemies attack me” or “when I am attacked in battle.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [though enemies attack me] or [though I am under attack]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will & fear	will & be afraid

Psalms 27:4

ULT	UST
One {thing} I have asked from Yahweh, that I will seek: that I may dwell in the house of Yahweh all the days of my life, to look upon the beauty of Yahweh and to inquire in his temple.	There is one thing that I have requested from Yahweh, and that one thing I will repeatedly ask Yahweh for. {This is the one thing I ask of Yahweh}: that I may worship in Yahweh's sanctuary every day during my life, in order to experience how wonderful Yahweh is. When I am in his sanctuary then I will ask him {for guidance}.

ULT One {thing} I have asked from Yahweh, that I will seek UST There is one thing that I have requested from Yahweh, and that one thing I will repeatedly ask Yahweh for
(אַחַת | שְׁאַלְתִּי מֵאֵת־יְהוָה אוֹתָהּ אֲבַקֵּשׁ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [One thing I have asked from Yahweh, yes, this is what I will seek]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT that I will seek UST and that one thing I will repeatedly ask Yahweh for (אוֹתָהּ אֲבַקֵּשׁ)

Here David is speaking of the object of his desire (dwelling in God's tabernacle) as if it were something he could physically pursue or chase after. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that I long for] or [that I desire]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT that I may dwell in the house of Yahweh all the days of my life
UST This is the one thing I ask of Yahweh}: that I may worship in Yahweh's sanctuary every day during my life
(שִׁבְתִּי בְּבֵית־יְהוָה כָּל־יְמֵי חַיָּי)

See how you translated the similar phrase "and I will dwell in the house of Yahweh for length of days" in 23:6.

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to look upon the beauty of Yahweh
> UST in order to experience how wonderful Yahweh is > (לַחֲזוֹת בְּנֹעַם־יְהוָה)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were actually looking at the physical beauty of Yahweh with his eyes. He means that he wants to experience and appreciate Yahweh's wonderful character and presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to experience Yahweh's wonderful presence] or [to appreciate Yahweh's glorious character]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT in his temple
> UST When I am in his sanctuary
> (בְּהֵיכָלוֹ)

David is speaking of the temple of Yahweh as if it were a house in which he lived. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in his tabernacle]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
I will seek	I will repeatedly ask Yahweh for in the house of Yahweh	in Yahweh's sanctuary and to inquire	then I will ask him {for guidance in his temple	When I am in his sanctuary

Psalms 27:5

ULT	UST
For in the day of trouble he will hide me in his hut; he will hide me in the hiding-place of his tent. He will lift me high upon a rock.	When I have troubles he will protect me in his tabernacle; yes, he will keep me safe in his sacred tent. He will keep me safe as if he were setting me high upon a rock {where my enemies cannot reach me}.

ULT For in the day of trouble he will hide me in his hut; he will hide me in the hiding-place of his tent

UST When I have troubles he will protect me in his tabernacle; yes, he will keep me safe in his sacred tent

(כִּ֤י יִצְפְּנֵ֨נִי׀ בְּסֻכֹּ֗ה בְּי֣וֹם רָ֭עָה יַסְתִּרֵ֣נִי בְּסֵ֣תֶר אָהֳלֹ֑ו)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [For in the day of trouble he will hide me in his hut, yes, he will conceal me in his tent]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT he will hide me in his hut; he will hide me in the hiding-place of his tent

UST he will protect me in his tabernacle; yes, he will keep me safe in his sacred tent

(יִצְפְּנֵ֨נִי׀ בְּסֻכֹּ֗ה & יַסְתִּרֵ֣נִי בְּסֵ֣תֶר אָהֳלֹ֑ו)

David assumes that readers will know that his hut and his tent refer to God's tabernacle. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he will hide me in his tabernacle; he will hide me in the hiding-place of his sacred tent] or [he will hide me in his tabernacle; he will hide me in the hiding-place of his tabernacle]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he will hide me in his hut; he will hide me in the hiding-place of his tent
UST he will protect me in his tabernacle; yes, he will keep me safe in his sacred tent
(יִצְפְּנֵנִי | בְּסֵכֹּה & יַסְתִּרֵנִי בְּסֵתֶר אָהֳלוֹ)

Here David is referring to Yahweh's tabernacle as a hut and tent and is speaking as if Yahweh was actually hiding him from his enemies there. David means that by his being in Yahweh's tabernacle, Yahweh will protect him from his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will protect me and keep me safe in his tabernacle]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the day of trouble
UST When I have troubles
(בְּיוֹם רָעָה)

David is using the term day to refer to a specific time of distress or difficulty. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when I have trouble] or [in times of trouble]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in the day of trouble
UST When I have troubles
(בְּיוֹם רָעָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trouble, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when I am troubled]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT He will lift me high upon a rock
UST He will keep me safe as if he were setting me high upon a rock {where my enemies cannot reach me
(בְּצוּר יְרוֹמְמֵנִי)

David is speaking of Yahweh protecting him and keeping him safe as if Yahweh would literally lift him up and place him on a high rock where he would be safe from the attacks of his enemies. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
trouble	troubles
his tent	his sacred tent

Psalms 27:6

ULT	UST
And now my head will be lifted up above the ones being hostile to me {who are} all around me, and I will sacrifice in his tent sacrifices of a shout of joy. I will sing and make music to Yahweh!	Then I will triumph over my enemies who surround me. I will shout joyfully as I offer sacrifices in his sacred tent, and I will praise Yahweh as I sing.

ULT And now my head will be lifted up above
UST Then I will triumph over
(וְעַתָּה יָרוּם רֹאשִׁי עַל)

David is using my head will be lifted up as a common expression of his culture to mean “I will be exalted” or “I will triumph.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And now I will be exalted above]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT in his tent
UST in his sacred tent
(בְּאָהֳלוֹ)

See how you translated the phrase “his tent” in the previous verse where it is used with the same meaning. Alternate translation: [in his tabernacle]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and I will sacrifice in his tent sacrifices of a shout of joy
UST I will shout joyfully as I offer sacrifices in his sacred tent (וְאֶזְבְּחָה בְאָהֳלוֹ זִבְחֵי תְרוּעָה)

By sacrifices of a shout of joy, David means sacrifices that he offers while shouting joyfully to God. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and I will joyfully shout as I sacrifice in his tent]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the ones being hostile to me	my enemies
and I will sacrifice	as I offer sacrifices in his tent	in his sacred tent
sacrifices of	I will shout joyfully
a shout of joy	I will shout joyfully
to Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 27:7

ULT	UST
Hear, Yahweh, my voice {when} I cry out, and be gracious to me, and answer me.	Yahweh, listen to me while I call {to you in prayer}. Act kindly toward me and answer my prayer.

ULT Hear, Yahweh, my voice {when} I cry out, and be gracious to me, and answer me
UST Yahweh, listen to me while I call {to you in prayer}. Act kindly toward me and answer my prayer
(שְׁמַע־יְהוָה קוֹלִי אֶקְרָא וְחָנֵּנִי וַעֲנֵנִי)

Here David is using the imperative forms Hear, be gracious to me, and answer me, but he intends to communicate polite requests rather than commands. If these imperative forms do not communicate polite requests for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please hear, Yahweh, my voice when I cry out, and please be gracious to me, and answer me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT my voice {when} I cry out
UST to me while I call {to you in prayer
(קוֹלִי אֶקְרָא)

Here, voice represents David’s prayer or request. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my request when I cry out]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
when} I cry out	while I call {to you in prayer
and be gracious to me	Act kindly toward me

Psalms 27:8

ULT	UST
“Seek my face.” My heart said to you, “Your face, Yahweh, I will seek.”	{I sensed that I heard you say,} “Seek me and my help,” {so,} Yahweh, I will respond by seeking you and your help.

ULT Seek my face.” My heart said to you, “Your face, Yahweh, I will seek

UST I sensed that I heard you say,} “Seek me and my help,” {so,} Yahweh, I will respond by seeking you and your help

(לְךָ֤ | אָמַ֣ר לִבִּ֣י בַקְּשׁ֣וּ פָנַ֣י אֶת־פָּנֶ֣יךָ יְהוָ֣ה אֲבַקֵּ֑שׁ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [When you said, “Seek my face,” my heart said to you, “Your face, Yahweh, I will seek.”]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Seek my face

UST I sensed that I heard you say,} “Seek me and my help

(בַקְּשׁ֣וּ פָנַ֣י)

The Hebrew verb the ULT translates as Seek is plural here because Yahweh is addressing his people or people in general who are willing to seek and trust him, and not just David. So use the plural form in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT My heart

UST I

(לִבִּ֣י)

Here the heart represents where a person’s thoughts and desires exist. David is speaking of his inner self as if it were his physical heart that could speak. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My inner self] or [I]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT my face & Your face
> UST me and my help & you and your help
> (פָּנַי אֶת־פָּנֶיךָ)

Here, face represents being in the presence of God and also God's favor and intervention. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [my presence and help … Your presence and help]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Seek	I sensed that I heard you say,} "Seek
Yahweh	so,} Yahweh
I will seek	seeking

Psalms 27:9

ULT	UST
Do not hide your face from me; do not turn your servant away in anger. You have been my help. Do not abandon me nor leave me, God of my salvation.	I am your servant; do not be angry with me, or turn away from me. You have always helped me. You are the one who has saved me, so do not abandon me now.

ULT Do not hide your face from me; do not turn your servant away in anger & Do not abandon me nor leave me
UST I am your servant; do not be angry with me, or turn away from me. You have always & so do not abandon me now
(אַל־תַּסְתֵּ֣ר פָּנֶ֣יךָ ׀ מִמֶּ֣נִּי אַל־תַּט־בְּאַ֣ף עַבְדֶּ֣ךָ & אַל־תִּטְּשֵׁ֣נִי וְאַל־תַּעַזְבֵ֑נִי)

These are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. If the imperatives do not communicate polite requests for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please do not hide your face from me; please do not turn your servant away in anger … Please do not abandon me or leave me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Do not hide your face from me
UST do not & with me & turn away from me
(אַל־תַּסְתֵּ֣ר פָּנֶ֣יךָ ׀ מִמֶּ֣נִּי)

David is using hide your face as a common expression of his culture to mean “reject me” or “turn away from me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not reject me] or [Do not turn away from me]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Do not abandon me nor leave me
UST or & so do not abandon me now
(אַל־תִּטְּשֵׁ֣נִי וְאַל־תַּעַזְבֵ֑נִי)

The terms abandon and leave mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Do not forsake me]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT God of my salvation
UST You & saved me
(אֱלֹהֵי יִשְׁעִי)

See how you translated the phrase “God of my salvation” in 18:46 where it occurs with the same meaning. Alternate translation: [the God who saves me]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your servant	I am your servant
leave me	abandon me now
God of	You
my salvation	saved me

Psalms 27:10

ULT	UST
For my father and my mother have left me, but Yahweh will care for me.	My father and mother have left me, but Yahweh will take care of me.

ULT For my father and my mother have left me
UST My father and mother have left me
(כִּי־אָבִי וְאִמִּי עֲזָבוּנִי)

Because David does not explain in what way his father and mother have left him, it is best not to add any additional explanatory information to your translation to clarify how or why his parents might have left him. It is suggested that you simply translate this phrase as it is. It may be that David's father and mother had died by this time in his life and had not intentionally left him.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
have left me	have left me
but Yahweh	but Yahweh

Psalms 27:11

ULT	UST
Teach me your way, Yahweh, and lead me on a level path because of my enemies.	Yahweh, teach me to do what you want me to do, and guide me so that I remain safe because I have enemies {who want to hurt me}.

ULT Teach me your way, Yahweh, and lead me on a level path
UST Yahweh, teach me to do what you want me to do, and guide me so that I remain safe
(הֹורֵ֣נִי יְהוָ֣ה דַּרְכֶּ֑ךָ וּנְחֵ֥נִי בְאֹ֝רַח מִישֹׁ֗ור)

Here David uses imperative forms, but he is making polite requests rather than giving commands. If the imperative form does not communicate a polite request in your language, then use a form that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please teach me your way, Yahweh, and please lead me on a level path]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Teach me your way
UST teach me to do what you want me to do (הֹורֵ֣נִי & דַּרְכֶּ֑ךָ)

See how you translated the similar phrase “make me know your ways” in 25:4.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and lead me on a level path
UST and guide me so that I remain safe
(וּנְחֵ֥נִי בְאֹ֝רַח מִישֹׁ֗ור)

Here David is speaking as if Yahweh would lead him on a level path. He is picturing his life as if it were a journey and asking Yahweh to guide him along a smooth, safe route. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and lead me on a level path because of my enemies
> UST and guide me so that I remain safe because I have enemies {who want to hurt me > (וְנַחֵנִי בְּאֹרַח מִישׁוֹר לְמַעַן שׁוֹרְרָי)

David is using because of my enemies to give the reason for the result that lead me on a level path describes. If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [and because of my enemies, lead me on a level path]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my enemies	I have enemies {who want to hurt me

Psalms 27:12

ULT	UST
Do not give me up to the desire of my adversaries, for false witnesses have risen against me, and a witness of violence.	Do not allow my enemies to do to me what they want, because they say false things about me and want violent things to happen to me.

ULT Do not give me up to the desire of my adversaries, for false witnesses have risen against me, and a witness of violence
UST Do not allow my enemies to do to me what they want, because they say false things about me and want violent things to happen to me
(אַל־תִּתְּנֵנִי בְּנֶפֶשׁ צָרָי כִּי קָמוּ־בִי עֵדֵי־שֶׁקֶר וְיִפֵּחַ חָמָס)

David is giving the reason why God should not give him up to his enemies. If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second and third phrases give the reasons for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because false witnesses have risen against me, and a witness of violence, do not give me up to the desire of my adversaries]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Do not give me up
UST Do not allow & me
(אַל־תִּתְּנֵנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. David is asking God not to hand him over to his enemies. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please do not give me up]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Do not give me up to the desire of my adversaries
UST Do not allow my enemies to do to me what they want
(אַל־תִּתְּנֵנִי בְּנֶפֶשׁ צָרָי)

David is using give me up to the desire of as a common expression of his culture to mean “deliver me over to” or “hand me over to.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not deliver me over to the desire of my adversaries]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Do not give me up to the desire of my adversaries
UST Do not allow my enemies to do to me what they want
(אַל־תִּתְּנֵנִי בְּנֶפֶשׁ צָרָי)

David assumes that readers will know that the desire of my adversaries refers to the harmful things that his enemies want to do to him. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Do not deliver me over to my adversaries so that they can do the harmful things they desire to do to me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT have risen against me
UST they say & things about me
(קָמוּ־בִ֥י)

David is using have risen against me as a common expression of his culture to mean “have taken action to oppose me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [have opposed me]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT and a witness of violence
UST and want violent things to happen to me
(וְיֹפֵ֖חַ חָמָֽס)

The Hebrew word that the ULT translates as a witness of could be either: (1) a noun that means “a testifier” or “a witness.” Alternate translation: [and a testifier of violence] or [and a violent testifier who is violent] or (2) an adjective that means “one breathing out” or “one puffing out.” Alternate translation: [and one who breathes out violence]

ULT and a witness of violence
UST and want violent things to happen to me
(וְיֹפֵ֖חַ חָמָֽס)

David is using the possessive form to describe a witness that is characterized by violence. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and a violent witness] or [and a witness who speaks violently]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT and a witness of violence
> UST and want violent things to happen to me
> (וּיפֵ֣ח חָמָֽס)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of violence, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and a witness who plans violent things] or [and a witness who acts violently]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my adversaries	my enemies
witnesses	they say & things about me
and a witness of	and want violent things to happen to me

Psalms 27:13

ULT	UST
Unless I had believed that I would look on the goodness of Yahweh in the land of the living.	I would have died if I had not trusted you to be good to me as long as I live.

ULT Unless I had believed that I would look on the goodness of Yahweh in the land of the living
UST I would have died if I had not trusted you to be good to me as long as I live
(לוּלֵא֮ הֶאֱמַ֪נְתִּי לִרְא֫וֹת בְּטוּב־יְהוָ֥ה בְּאֶ֥רֶץ חַיִּֽים)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Unless I had believed that I would look on the goodness of Yahweh in the land of the living, I would have grown discouraged] or [I am certain that I will see the goodness of Yahweh in the land of the living]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Unless I had believed that I would look on the goodness of Yahweh
UST I would have died if I had not trusted you to be good to me
(לוּלֵא֮ הֶאֱמַ֪נְתִּי לִרְא֫וֹת בְּטוּב־יְהוָ֥ה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of goodness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Unless I had believed that I would see Yahweh do good things for me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in the land of the living
UST as long as I live
(בְּאֶ֥רֶץ חַיִּֽים)

David is using in the land of the living as a common expression of his culture to mean “while I am still alive” or “during my lifetime.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while I am still alive] or [during my lifetime]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I had believed	trusted you on the goodness of	to be good
Yahweh	to me

Psalms 27:14

ULT	UST
Wait on Yahweh. Be strong, and let your heart be courageous, and wait on Yahweh.	Trust in Yahweh. Have a strong and courageous attitude, and wait expectantly for Yahweh {to help you}.

ULT Wait on Yahweh & and wait on Yahweh
UST Trust in Yahweh & and wait expectantly for Yahweh {to help you (קַוֵּה אֶל־יְהוָה & וְקַוֵּה אֶל־יְהוָה)

See how you translated the similar expressions in 25:3, 25:5, and 25:21.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Wait on Yahweh. Be strong, and let your heart be courageous, and wait on Yahweh UST Trust in Yahweh. Have a strong and courageous attitude, and wait expectantly for Yahweh {to help you (קַוֵּה אֶל־יְהוָה חֲזַק וְיַאֲמֵץ לִבֶּךָ וְקַוֵּה אֶל־יְהוָה)

The words that the ULT translates as wait, your, and be courageous are all singular here. David is either speaking to himself or to some other individual, or he is speaking collectively to each individual person experiencing discouragement or fear who might hear or read this psalm. So use the singular forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Be strong, and let your heart be courageous UST Have a strong and courageous attitude
(חֲזַק וְיַאֲמֵץ לִבֶּךָ)

The terms Be strong and let your heart be courageous mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Be very courageous]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT and let your heart be courageous
> UST and courageous attitude
> (וְיַאֲמֵץ לִבֶּךָ)

Here David is speaking of heart as if it were something that could be courageous. The heart represents a person's inner being or emotions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and be courageous within yourself] or [and be inwardly courageous]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and let & be courageous	and courageous

Psalms 28

Psalms 28 Introduction

Psalm 28 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 28 begins as a lament psalm and then transitions into praise, thanksgiving, and affirmation of his trust in Yahweh.

1. David prays for deliverance (1–2)
2. David asks God to judge the wicked (3–5)
3. David praises God and affirms his goodness (6–9)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Trust

David trusted God completely and God rescued him. This is similar to Psalm 7 and 17 because it is an individual psalm of lament. (See: lament, lamentation)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Text variant in 28:8

In 28:8 some Hebrew manuscripts contain the Hebrew word that could be literally translated as “for them” while other Hebrew manuscripts contain the word that could be literally translated as “for his people.” The Hebrew manuscript that the ULT follows contains the word that reads “for them” but the ULT translates this word as “for his people” because this word is being considered an alternate spelling of the word “for his people.” For the reasoning behind this decision, see the portion on “The Text of v. 8a” in this video produced by the “Psalms: Layer by Layer” project titled “Psalm 28: Exegetical Issues.” See the video at (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QHlm_UCsX-A&t=1037s)

“The Psalms: Layer by Layer” videos are part of the “Psalms: Layer by Layer” project, which is run by Scriptura (formerly Cambridge Digital Bible Research).

To visit the Psalms: Layer by Layer website go to https://psalms.scriptura.org. These videos are used under CC BY

Psalms 28:1

ULT	UST
Of David To you, Yahweh, I cry; my rock, do not be deaf to me, lest you be deaf to me, and I be equal with those going down to the pit.	A psalm of David Yahweh, I call out to you. You are like a huge rock {on top of which I am safe}. Do not refuse to answer me because if you refuse to answer me, I will soon be with those who are in their graves.

ULT my rock
UST You are like a huge rock {on top of which I am safe
(צוּרִ֑י)

See how you translated this phrase in 18:2 where it is used with the same meaning.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT do not be deaf to me
UST Do not refuse to answer me
(אַל־תֶּחֱרַ֣שׁ מִמֶּ֣נִּי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please do not be deaf to me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT do not be deaf to me
UST Do not refuse to answer me
(אַל־תֶּחֱרַ֣שׁ מִמֶּ֣נִּי)

David is using do not be deaf to me as a common expression of his culture to mean “do not ignore me” or “do not refuse to answer me” (and here it specifically refers to Yahweh answering his prayers for help). If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not ignore my prayers]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT lest you be deaf to me, and I be equal with those going down to the pit
UST because if you refuse to answer me, I will soon be with those who are in their graves
(פֶּן־תָּחֲשֶׁה מִמֶּנִּי וְנִמְשַׁלְתִּי עִם־יוֹרְדֵי בוֹר)

Here, lest, if you are deaf to me, then I will be together with the ones going down to the pit introduces a possible condition and its consequence. David is saying that if Yahweh does not respond to his prayer, then he will die. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a condition that could happen. Alternate translation: [If you are silent, then I will join those who go down to the grave]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT the pit
UST their graves
(בוֹר)

David is using the pit as a common expression of his culture to mean “the grave” or “death.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the grave]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Of David	A psalm of David
Yahweh	Yahweh
I cry	I call out
the pit	their graves

Psalms 28:2

ULT	UST
Hear the voice of my pleas when I cry to you for help, when I lift up my hands toward your inner sanctuary of holiness.	Pay attention to me and respond when I call out for you to help me when I pray, lifting up my hands as I face your very holy place in your sacred tent.

ULT Hear
UST Pay attention & and respond
(שְׁמַ֤ע)

David is using an imperative form, but Hear communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please hear]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Hear
UST Pay attention & and respond
(שְׁמַ֤ע)

By Hear, David means pay attention to and respond favorably to his request. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Pay attention to]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Hear the voice of my pleas
UST Pay attention to me and respond
(שְׁמַ֤ע קוֹל֙ תַּחֲנוּנַ֔י)

Here, voice represents what David is saying by using his voice. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Hear the words of my pleas]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT when I lift up my hands
UST when I pray, lifting up my hands
(בְּנַשְׂאִי יָדָי)

Here, when I lift up my hands was a symbolic action by which David showed that he was appealing to God for help. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [when I raise my hands in prayer]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT your inner sanctuary of holiness
UST your very holy place in your sacred tent
(דְּבִיר קָדְשֶׁךָ)

By your inner sanctuary of holiness, David means the inner sanctuary of the Tabernacle where God dwelled with the Israelites in a special way. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the holy inner sanctuary in your Tabernacle]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT your inner sanctuary of holiness
UST your very holy place in your sacred tent
(דְּבִיר קָדְשֶׁךָ)

Here David uses the possessive form inner sanctuary of holiness to mean the inner sanctuary of the Tabernacle that was characterized by holiness. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the most holy place where you dwell] or [your inner sanctuary that is very holy]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my pleas	to me
when I cry & for help	when I call out for & to help me inner sanctuary of	your very holy place in your sacred tent
your & holiness	your very holy place in your sacred tent

Psalms 28:3

ULT	UST
Do not drag me away with the wicked and with the workers of iniquity, the ones speaking of peace with their neighbors while evil is in their hearts.	Do not get rid of me when you get rid of wicked people, those who do wicked deeds. Those people speak peacefully toward others, while in their inner beings, they hate them and devise evil plans.

ULT Do not drag me away with the wicked
UST Do not get rid of me when you get rid of wicked people
(אַל־תִּמְשְׁכֵנִי עִם־רְשָׁעִים)

Here Do not drag me away is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please do not drag me away with the wicked]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Do not drag me away with the wicked
UST Do not get rid of me when you get rid of wicked people
(אַל־תִּמְשְׁכֵנִי עִם־רְשָׁעִים)

Here David is speaking of God taking his life as if God were someone who might drag him away by force in order to kill him or judge and punish him. See how you translated the similar phrase “Do not gather my soul with the sinful” in 26:9. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not bring me away and punish me with the wicked] or [Do not let me die with the wicked]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the wicked and with the workers of iniquity
UST wicked people, those who do wicked deeds
(רְשָׁעִים וְעִם־פֹּעֲלֵי אָוֶן)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the wicked, that is, with the workers of iniquity] or [the wicked people who do evil deeds]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase as in the UST.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and with the workers of iniquity
UST those who do wicked deeds
(וְעִם־פֹּעֲלֵי אָוֶן)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and do not drag me away with the workers of iniquity]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT the workers of iniquity, the ones speaking of peace with their neighbors
UST those who do wicked deeds. Those people speak peacefully toward others (פֹּעֲלֵי אָוֶן דֹּבְרֵי שָׁלוֹם עִם־רֵעֵיהֶם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ones who do wicked things, the ones speaking of peaceful things with their neighbors]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT while evil is in their hearts
UST while in their inner beings, they hate them and devise evil plans
(וְרָעָה בִּלְבָבָם)

David is using the adjective evil as a noun to mean evil thoughts or evil intentions. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [while evil thoughts are in their hearts]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT while evil is in their hearts
> UST while in their inner beings, they hate them and devise evil plans
> (וְרָעָה בִּלְבָבָם)

Here David is speaking of evil as if it were an object that could be located inside people's hearts. The "heart" represents the center of a person's thoughts and intentions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while they intend to do evil] or [while they have evil intentions]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
iniquity	wicked deeds
peace	peacefully
their neighbors	others
while evil	while & they hate them and devise evil plans

Psalms 28:4

ULT	UST
Give to them according to their work and according to the evil of their deeds; give to them according to the work of their hands; return to them their recompense.	Punish those people in the way that they deserve for what they have done; punish them for their evil deeds.

ULT Give to them & give to them & return to them
UST Punish those people & punish them
(תֵּן־לָהֶם & תֵּן לָהֶם הָשֵׁב & לָהֶם)

David is using the imperative form Give to make a polite request to God rather than to give a command. If the imperative form would not communicate a polite request in your language, you could use a different form that would communicate a polite request. [Please give them … please give to them … please return to them] or [I ask that you give them … I ask that you give to them … I ask that you return to them]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Give to them according to their work and according to the evil of their deeds; give to them according to the work of their hands
UST Punish those people & for what they have done; punish them for their evil deeds
(תֵּן־לָהֶם כְּפָעֳלָם וּכְרֹעַ מַעַלְלֵיהֶם כְּמַעֲשֵׂה יְדֵיהֶם תֵּן לָהֶם)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Give to them according to their work, yes, according to the evil of their deeds and the work of their hands]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT according to their work
UST for their & deeds
(כְּפָעֳלָם)

By their work, David means the evil deeds and wicked actions of his enemies that he mentioned in the previous verse. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [according to their evil actions] or [according to what their wicked deeds deserve]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT according to the work of their hands
> UST for what they have done
> (כְּמַעֲשֵׂה יְדֵיהֶם)

Here, work of their hands represents the actions that they have done. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [according to their actions] or [according to what their evil deeds deserve]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT return to them their recompense
> UST Punish those people in the way that they deserve
> (הָשֵׁב גְּמוּלָם לָהֶם)

By return to them their recompense, David means give them the punishment they deserve. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [give them the punishment they deserve]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and according to the evil of	evil

Psalms 28:5

ULT	UST
Because they do not give heed to the works of Yahweh or the action of his hands, he will tear them down and not build them up.	Yahweh will get rid of them permanently and not let them appear again. Yahweh {will do this} because these evil people do not pay attention to the righteous things he has taught his people and do not take notice that he always judges evil deeds.

ULT they do not give heed to the works of Yahweh
UST these evil people do not pay attention to the righteous things he has taught his people and do not take notice that he always judges evil deeds
(לֹא יָבִ֤ינוּ אֶל־פֹּעֳלֹ֣ת יְהוָ֑ה)

The implication is that the wicked do not pay attention to or consider what God has done. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they do not pay attention to the works of Yahweh] or [they do not consider the works of Yahweh]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they do not give heed to the works of Yahweh or the action of his hands
UST these evil people do not pay attention to the righteous things he has taught his people and do not take notice that he always judges evil deeds
(לֹא יָבִ֤ינוּ אֶל־פֹּעֳלֹ֣ת יְהוָ֑ה וְאֶל־מַעֲשֵׂ֖ה יָדָ֣יו)

These two phrases the works of Yahweh and the action of his hands mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [they do not give heed to what Yahweh has done]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT he will tear them down and not build them up
UST Yahweh will get rid of them permanently and not let them appear again. Yahweh (יֶהֶרְסֵ֥ם וְלֹ֖א יִבְנֵֽם)

David is speaking of God's judgment as if it is a building he will tear down and not build up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will destroy them and not restore them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they do & give heed	these evil people do & pay attention
Yahweh	he

Psalms 28:6

ULT	UST
Blessed be Yahweh, because he has heard the voice of my pleas.	Praise Yahweh because he responded to me when I called out for him to help me.

ULT Blessed be Yahweh
UST Praise Yahweh
(בָּרוּךְ יְהוָה)

The expression Blessed be is a passive verbal form. The psalmist is expressing his desire to praise Yahweh. If it would be unnatural to use that form for this purpose, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I bless Yahweh] or [I will praise Yahweh]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT Blessed be Yahweh, because he has heard the voice of my pleas
UST Praise Yahweh because he responded to me when I called out for him to help me
(בָּרוּךְ יְהוָה כִּי־שָׁמַע קוֹל תַּחֲנוּנָי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because he has heard the voice of my pleas, blessed be Yahweh]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT he has heard the voice of my pleas
UST he responded to me when I called out for him to help me
(שָׁמַע קוֹל תַּחֲנוּנָי)

Here, voice represents the words that David spoke. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he has heard my pleas]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed be	Praise
Yahweh	Yahweh
my pleas	when I & for him to help me

Psalms 28:7

ULT	UST
Yahweh is my strength and my shield; in him my heart trusts, and I am helped; therefore my heart exults, and with my song I will praise him.	Yahweh strengthens me and he protects me like a shield; I trust in him, and he helps me. As a result I am glad in my inner being, and I will praise him with my songs {of praise}.

ULT Yahweh is my strength
UST Yahweh strengthens me
(יְהוָה | עֻזִּי)

See how translated the similar phrase “Yahweh, my strength” in 18:1.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my shield
UST and he protects me like a shield
(וּמָגִנִּי)

See how you translated the phrase “my shield” in 18:2 where it is used with the same meaning.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in him my heart trusts & therefore my heart exults
UST I trust in him & As a result I am glad in my inner being (בּוֹ בָטַח לִבִּי & וַיֵּעָלֵז לִבִּי)

Here David is speaking of his heart as if it were a person who trusts and exults. The heart represents the center of his emotions and will. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I trust in him with all my being … therefore I greatly rejoice]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and my shield	and he protects me like a shield trusts	trust
therefore & exults	As a result & am glad
I will praise him	I will praise him

Psalms 28:8

ULT	UST
Yahweh is strength for his people, and he is a refuge of help {for} his anointed.	Yahweh strengthens and protects his people. Yahweh saves the one he appointed to be king.

ULT Yahweh is strength for his people
UST Yahweh strengthens and protects his people
(יְהוָה עֻז־לָמוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Yahweh makes his people strong] or [Yahweh strengthens his people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for his people
UST his people
(לָמוֹ)

Some ancient manuscripts read “for them” and some read for his people. For an explanation of the reason why the ULT reads for his people see the section in the Psalm 28 Introduction titled “Text variant in 28:8.”

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT and he is a refuge of help {for} his anointed
UST Yahweh saves the one he appointed to be king
(וּמָעוֹז יְשׁוּעוֹת מְשִׁיחוֹ הִוא)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a refuge that provides protection and safety. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [and he protects his anointed one like a refuge] or [and he is the one who protects his anointed one]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he is a refuge of help
UST Yahweh saves
(וּמָעוֹז יְשׁוּעוֹת & הִוא)

David is using this possessive form refuge of help to mean a place of protection and safety. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and a helpful refuge] or [and a refuge that provides help]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT for} his anointed
> UST the one he appointed to be king
> (מְשִׁיחוֹ)

David is using the adjective anointed as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [for his anointed king]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and & is a refuge of	saves
for} his anointed	the one he appointed to be king

Psalms 28:9

ULT	UST
Save your people and bless your inheritance, and shepherd them and carry them unto the eternity.	Yahweh, rescue your people and bless those who belong to you. Take care of them like a shepherd takes care of his sheep; take care of them forever.

ULT Save your people and bless your inheritance, and shepherd them and carry them unto the eternity
UST Yahweh, rescue your people and bless those who belong to you. Take care of them like a shepherd takes care of his sheep; take care of them forever
(הוֹשִׁ֣יעָה | אֶת־עַמֶּ֣ךָ וּבָרֵ֣ךְ אֶת־נַחֲלָתֶ֑ךָ וּרְעֵ֥ם וְנַשְּׂאֵ֗ם אֹ֣ם עַד־הָעוֹלָֽם)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, please save your people and bless your inheritance; please be their shepherd and carry them forever]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT your inheritance
UST those who belong to you
(אֶת־נַחֲלָתֶ֑ךָ)

Here David is speaking of God’s people as if they were his inheritance. David is picturing God’s people as something valuable that belongs to God, like property or possessions that are passed down in a family. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your own people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and shepherd them and carry them
UST Take care of them like a shepherd takes care of his sheep; take care of them
(וּרְעֵ֥ם וְנַשְּׂאֵ֗ם אֹ֣ם)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a shepherd who would guide and protect his people as a shepherd would guide and protect his flock. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [guide and protect them like a shepherd does his flock]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT unto the eternity
> UST forever
> (עַד־הָעוֹלָֽם)

David assumes that readers will know that unto the eternity means for all time without end. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [for all eternity]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Save	Yahweh, rescue
and bless	and bless
your inheritance	those who belong to you and shepherd them	Take care of them like a shepherd takes care of his sheep and carry them	take care of them
the eternity	forever

Psalms 29

Psalms 29 Introduction

Psalm 29 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 29 is a “psalm of praise.” It tells how Yahweh rules all nature.

1. A call to worship (1–2)
2. Declarations of God’s voice over creation depict natural phenomena (3–9)
3. The Lord sovereignty (10–11)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

The Cultural and Religious Background of verses 3–10

The cultural and religious background of verses 3–10 is the worship of the false gods of the nations who lived around the Israelites. Verses 3–10 are a firm declaration of Yahweh’s power and rule over the entire universe and an implicit denunciation of putting trust in false gods such as the Canaanite god Baal.

Because David does not state the historical and religious background information explicitly in verses 3–10, it is recommended that you not include this information either but if you are using footnotes or chapter introductions in your translation, you may wish to include some of the background information there if it would help your readers.

Yahweh’s power

God is powerful. All he has to do is to speak in order to control nature.

For an overview of Psalm 29 and help understanding some of the important exegetical and poetical issues in this psalm, see the Psalms: Layer by Layer videos below. These videos are part of the Psalms: Layer by Layer project, which is run by Scriptura (formerly Cambridge Digital Bible Research).

See their overview video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_aoWN_yFa0E) and top three exegetical issues in Psalm 29 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nnL109G57mg&t=452s) and their top three poetic features of Psalm 29 video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ygoKm9HWKQU&t=181s) on YouTube.

To visit the Psalms: Layer by Layer website go to https://psalms.scriptura.org. These videos are used under CC BY

Psalms 29:1

ULT	UST
A psalm of David Ascribe to Yahweh, sons of God, ascribe to Yahweh glory and strength.	A psalm of David You heavenly beings, praise Yahweh! Declare that he is very glorious and powerful.

ULT Ascribe to Yahweh, sons of God, ascribe to Yahweh glory and strength
UST You heavenly beings, praise Yahweh! Declare that he is very glorious and powerful (הָבוּ לַיהוָה בְּנֵי אֵלִים הָבוּ לַיהוָה כָּבוֹד וָעֹז)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Ascribe these things to Yahweh, sons of God, ascribe to Yahweh glory and strength]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT sons of God
UST You heavenly beings
(בְּנֵי אֵלִים)

David assumes that readers will know that sons of God refers to angels or heavenly beings. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you angels]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT ascribe to Yahweh glory and strength
UST Declare that he is very glorious and powerful (הָבוּ לַיהוָה כָּבוֹד וָעֹז)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of glory and strength, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [acknowledge that Yahweh is glorious and strong] or [praise Yahweh because he is glorious and strong]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	A psalm
of David	of David
to Yahweh	Yahweh
sons of God	You heavenly beings
glory	is very glorious

Psalms 29:2

ULT	UST
Ascribe to Yahweh the glory of his name; bow down to Yahweh in the adornment of holiness.	Proclaim that Yahweh is glorious. Bow down and worship Yahweh in holy attire.

ULT Ascribe to Yahweh the glory of his name
UST Proclaim that Yahweh is glorious (הָבוּ לַיהוָה כְּבוֹד שְׁמוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Declare that Yahweh is glorious because of his name] or [Praise Yahweh for how glorious his name is]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the glory of his name
UST that Yahweh is glorious
(כְּבוֹד שְׁמוֹ)

David is using this possessive form the glory of his name to mean the glory that his name deserves. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the glory his name deserves]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the glory of his name
UST that Yahweh is glorious
(כְּבוֹד שְׁמוֹ)

David is using the term name to represent who Yahweh is or to refer to Yahweh's reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the glory due to Yahweh] or [the glory Yahweh's reputation deserves]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT bow down to Yahweh
UST Bow down and worship Yahweh
(הִשְׁתַּחֲווּ לַיהוָה)

Here, bow down was a symbolic action by which people showed reverence and worship to Yahweh. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [bow down in worship to Yahweh]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

> ULT in the adornment of holiness
> UST in holy attire
> (בְּהַדְרַת־קֹדֶשׁ)

The phrase adornment of holiness refers to the garments the Levitical priests wore while serving in Yahweh's tabernacle. David is using the possessive form to describe adornment that is characterized by holiness because of the purpose for which it was made. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this purpose, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in holy adornment] or [in adornment that is holy]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT in the adornment of holiness
> UST in holy attire
> (בְּהַדְרַת־קֹדֶשׁ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of holiness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in holy clothing]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to Yahweh	that Yahweh
the glory of	is glorious
bow down	Bow down and worship
holiness	holy

Psalms 29:3

ULT	UST
The voice of Yahweh over the waters, the God of glory thunders, Yahweh over many waters.	{People hear} Yahweh's voice above the sea; the glorious God thunders. Yahweh's {voice thunders} over the large sea.

See the Psalm 29 Introduction for more information regarding the historical and religious background of verses 3–10.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT The voice of Yahweh over the waters
UST People hear} Yahweh's voice above the sea
(קוֹל יְהוָה עַל־הַמָּיִם)

The phrase The voice of Yahweh could: (1) refer to the actual voice of Yahweh or (2) this phrase could mean "The thunder of Yahweh" since this phrase sometimes had that meaning in Hebrew. Alternate translation: [The thunder of Yahweh is over the waters]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the waters
UST the sea
(הַמָּיִם)

By the waters, David means the sea and here he probably specifically means the Mediterranean Sea. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use plain language as in the UST.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT The voice of Yahweh over the waters & Yahweh over many waters
UST People hear} Yahweh's voice above the sea & Yahweh's {voice thunders} over the large sea
(קוֹל יְהוָה עַל־הַמָּיִם & יְהוָה עַל־מַיִם רַבִּים)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [The voice of Yahweh is heard over the waters ... Yahweh's voice is heard over many waters]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT over & over
UST above & thunders} over (עַל & עַל)

Here the word the ULT translates as over, both times it occurs in this verse, could mean: (1) over, as in the ULT, or (2) “against.” Alternate translation: [is against … is against]

ULT the God of glory thunders
UST the glorious God thunders
(אֶל־הַכָּבוֹד הִרְעִים)

The phrase the God of glory thunders could mean: (1) that Yahweh’s powerful voice sounds like thunder. Alternate translation: [the glorious God speaks with a voice like thunder] or [the God of glory speaks powerfully], or (2) that Yahweh sends thunder. Alternate translation: [the God of glory sends thunder]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the God of glory
UST the glorious God
(אֶל־הַכָּבוֹד)

David is using the possessive form to describe the God who is characterized by glory. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the glorious God]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh’s
God of	God
the & glory	the glorious

Psalms 29:4

ULT	UST
The voice of Yahweh is with power; the voice of Yahweh is with majesty.	Yahweh's voice is powerful and majestic.

ULT The voice of Yahweh is with power; the voice of Yahweh is with majesty
UST Yahweh's voice is powerful and majestic
(קוֹל־יְהוָה בַּכֹּחַ קוֹל יְהוָה בֶּהָדָר)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of power and majesty, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [The voice of Yahweh is powerful; the voice of Yahweh is majestic]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT The voice of Yahweh is with power; the voice of Yahweh is with majesty
UST Yahweh's voice is powerful and majestic
(קוֹל־יְהוָה בַּכֹּחַ קוֹל יְהוָה בֶּהָדָר)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. David is emphasizing the awesome nature of Yahweh's voice by using both power and majesty to describe it. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [The voice of Yahweh is very powerful]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh's
is with majesty	and majestic

Psalms 29:5

ULT	UST
The voice of Yahweh is breaking cedars, and Yahweh breaks the cedars of Lebanon.	The sound of Yahweh's voice breaks cedar trees, the cedars that grow in Lebanon.

ULT The voice of Yahweh is breaking cedars
UST The sound of Yahweh's voice breaks cedar trees
(קוֹל יְהוָה שֹׁבֵר אֲרָזִים)

Here, voice represents the sound of Yahweh's voice. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT The voice of Yahweh is breaking cedars, and Yahweh breaks the cedars of Lebanon
UST The sound of Yahweh's voice breaks cedar trees, the cedars that grow in Lebanon
(קוֹל יְהוָה שֹׁבֵר אֲרָזִים וַיְשַׁבֵּר יְהוָה אֶת־אַרְזֵי הַלְּבָנוֹן)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The voice of Yahweh is breaking cedars, yes, breaking the cedars of Lebanon]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh's
cedars	cedar trees
cedars of	the cedars
the & Lebanon	that grow in Lebanon

Psalms 29:6

ULT	UST
And he makes Lebanon skip like a calf and Sirion like a son of wild oxen.	He causes {the mountains in} Lebanon to jump like calves jump, and he causes Mount Hermon to jump as a young wild bull jumps.

ULT And he makes Lebanon skip like a calf and Sirion like a son of wild oxen
UST He causes {the mountains in} Lebanon to jump like calves jump, and he causes Mount Hermon to jump as a young wild bull jumps
(וַיַּרְקִידֵם כְּמוֹ־עֵגֶל לְבָנוֹן וְשִׂרְיֹן כְּמוֹ בֶן־רְאֵמִים)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [And he makes Lebanon and Sirion skip like calves, like young wild oxen]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT And he makes Lebanon skip like a calf and Sirion like a son of wild oxen
UST He causes {the mountains in} Lebanon to jump like calves jump, and he causes Mount Hermon to jump as a young wild bull jumps
(וַיַּרְקִידֵם כְּמוֹ־עֵגֶל לְבָנוֹן וְשִׂרְיֹן כְּמוֹ בֶן־רְאֵמִים)

David is comparing how Lebanon and Sirion shake to how young animals jump around. The point of this comparison is that just as a calf and a son of wild oxen skip and jump with energetic movement, so do these mountains shake when God's voice thunders. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [And he makes Lebanon shake with energetic movement like a calf, and Sirion like a son of wild oxen]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT and Sirion
UST and he causes Mount Hermon to jump
(וְשִׂרְיֹן)

The word Sirion is the name of a mountain. It is another name for Mount Hermon. If it would help your readers, you could use that name instead as in the UST.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT a son of wild oxen
> UST a young wild bull jumps
> (בֶּן־רְאֵמִים)

David assumes that readers will know that a son of wild oxen means a young wild ox. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a young wild ox]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lebanon	the mountains in} Lebanon
a calf	calves jump

Psalms 29:7

ULT	UST
The voice of Yahweh is hewing out with flames of fire.	Yahweh tells the lightning to flash {upon the mountains} and it hews out rocks.

ULT The voice of Yahweh is hewing out with flames of fire
UST Yahweh tells the lightning to flash {upon the mountains} and it hews out rocks
(קוֹל־יְהוָה חֹצֵב לַהֲבוֹת אֵשׁ)

The phrase The voice of Yahweh could: (1) refer to the actual voice of Yahweh, or (2) could mean “The thunder of Yahweh” since this phrase sometimes has that meaning in Hebrew. Alternate translation: [The thunder of Yahweh is hewing out with flames of fire] See how you translated the phrase The voice of Yahweh in verse 3.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT is hewing out
UST upon the mountains} and it hews out rocks
(חֹצֵב)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [is hewing out stone] or [is hewing out rock]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT with flames of fire
UST the lightning to flash
(לַהֲבוֹת אֵשׁ)

By flames of fire, David means lightning. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [with lightning] or [with flashes of lightning]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 29:8

ULT	UST
The voice of Yahweh shakes the wilderness; Yahweh shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.	The sound of Yahweh's voice causes the wilderness to shake; he shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.

ULT The voice of Yahweh shakes the wilderness
UST The sound of Yahweh's voice causes the wilderness to shake (קוֹל יְהוָה יָחִיל מִדְבָּר)

Here, voice represents the sound of Yahweh's voice. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the wilderness of Kadesh
UST the wilderness of Kadesh
(מִדְבַּר קָדֵשׁ)

The word Kadesh is the name of a place.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh's
shakes	causes & to shake
the wilderness	the wilderness
Kadesh	Kadesh

Psalms 29:9

ULT	UST
The voice of Yahweh causes the deer to give birth and strips the forests bare, and in his temple everyone is saying, “Glory!”	The sound of Yahweh’s voice makes the deer give birth and strips the leaves from the trees, while the people in Yahweh’s sacred tent say, “Praise Yahweh!”

ULT The voice of Yahweh
UST The sound of Yahweh’s voice
(קוֹל יְהוָה)

Here, voice represents the sound of Yahweh’s voice. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and in his temple
UST while & in Yahweh’s sacred tent
(וּבְהֵיכָלוֹ)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh’s tabernacle in Jerusalem as if it were a temple. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and in his tabernacle]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Glory
UST Praise Yahweh
(כָּבוֹד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of Glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [How glorious Yahweh is]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh’s
the deer	the deer
and in his temple	while & in Yahweh’s sacred tent
Glory	Praise Yahweh

Psalms 29:10

ULT	UST
Yahweh sits over the flood; Yahweh sits as king forever.	Yahweh rules as king over the waters that are above the sky; Yahweh rules as king forever.

ULT Yahweh sits over the flood; Yahweh sits as king forever
UST Yahweh rules as king over the waters that are above the sky; Yahweh rules as king forever
(יְהוָה לַמַּבּוּל יָשָׁב וַיֵּשֶׁב יְהוָה מֶלֶךְ לְעוֹלָם)

Here both times the word sits is used, it represents “ruling” as king since at that time kings sat on a throne from which they ruled, made decisions, and gave commands. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Yahweh sits & as
UST Yahweh rules as king
(יְהוָה & יָשָׁב)

David assumes that readers will know that sits means “rules as king.” You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Yahweh sits enthroned … as]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT over the flood
UST over the waters that are above the sky
(לַמַּבּוּל)

The phrase the flood could refer to: (1) the water that is above the sky as in the UST, or (2) the great flood recorded in Genesis chapters 6–9 that God sent during the time of Noah. Alternate translation: [over the flood that covered the earth] or [over the Flood]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
over the flood	over the waters that are above the sky
king	rules
forever	forever

Psalms 29:11

ULT	UST
Yahweh will give strength to his people; Yahweh will bless his people with peace.	Yahweh will strengthen his people, and he will bless them by giving them good things and causing them to be happy and peaceful.

ULT Yahweh will give strength to his people; Yahweh will bless his people with peace

UST Yahweh will strengthen his people, and he will bless them by giving them good things and causing them to be happy and peaceful

(יְהוָה עֹז לְעַמּוֹ יִתֵּן יְהוָה | יְבָרֵךְ אֶת־עַמּוֹ בַשָּׁלוֹם)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of strength and peace, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will make his people strong; Yahweh will bless his people so that they live peacefully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
will bless	and & will bless
with peace	by giving them good things and causing them to be happy and peaceful

Psalms 30

Psalms 30 Introduction

Psalm 30 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 30 is a psalm of praise and thanksgiving to God. The psalmist was so sick that he was near death, but God healed him.

1. Call to praise and testimony (1–5)
2. The crisis remembered (6–7)
3. The prayer for help (8–10)
4. The deliverance and vow of praise (11–12)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

The possibility of David dying from sickness

In this psalm David recounts how he was close to death and then pleaded with God. David asked God to heal him and told God that if he died, it would not benefit God, since dead people do not praise God in this life. God healed David with the result that David sings praises to God and thanks him.

Psalms 30:1

ULT	UST
I will extol you, Yahweh, for you have drawn me up and have not let the ones being hostile to me rejoice over me.	Yahweh, I praise you because you rescued me. You did not allow {me to die with the result that} my enemies could gloat.

ULT I will extol you, Yahweh, for you have drawn me up and have not let the ones being hostile to me rejoice over me
UST Yahweh, I praise you because you rescued me. You did not allow {me to die with the result that} my enemies could gloat
(אֲרוֹמִמְךָ֣ יְהוָ֣ה כִּֽי־דִלִּיתָ֣נִי וְלֹא־שִׂמַּחְתָּ֣ אֹיְבַ֣י לִֽי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because you have drawn me up and have not let the ones being hostile to me rejoice over me, I will extol you, Yahweh] or [Yahweh, because you have drawn me up and have not let the ones being hostile to me rejoice over me, I will extol you]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I will extol you, Yahweh, for you have drawn me up
UST Yahweh, I praise you because you rescued me
(אֲרוֹמִמְךָ֣ יְהוָ֣ה כִּֽי־דִלִּיתָ֣נִי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put Yahweh at the beginning of this verse. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, I will extol you for you have drawn me up]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT you have drawn me up
UST you rescued me
(דִלִּיתָ֣נִי)

Here David is speaking of God's help as if God had physically raised him up from a lower place to a higher place. The other times the word the ULT translates as have drawn me up occurs in the Old Testament, it refers to drawing water out of a well with a bucket. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have helped me] or [you have delivered me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
the ones being hostile to me	my enemies
have & let & rejoice	You did & allow {me to die with the result that & could gloat

Psalms 30:2

ULT	UST
Yahweh my God, I cried out to you for help, and you healed me.	Yahweh my God, I called out for you to help me {when I was sick,} you healed me.

ULT Yahweh my God
UST Yahweh my God
(יְהוָה אֱלֹהָי)

David is not using the phrase my God to mean that he is the only one who worships Yahweh nor that he possesses or controls Yahweh, but rather to emphasize that Yahweh is the God that he worships. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [You, Yahweh, God whom I worship,]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	my God

Psalms 30:3

ULT	UST
Yahweh, you have brought up my soul from Sheol; you have kept me alive from the ones going down to the pit.	Yahweh, when I was dying you restored me. I was nearly dead, but you caused me to get well.

ULT you have brought up my soul from Sheol; you have kept me alive from the ones going down to the pit
UST when I was dying you restored me. I was nearly dead, but you caused me to get well (הֶעֱלִיתָ מִן־שְׁאוֹל נַפְשִׁי חִיִּיתַנִי מיורדי־בוֹר)

The word Sheol refers to the place of the dead, where dead people go, and the word pit also refers to the grave. These two phrases, you have brought up my soul from Sheol and you have kept me alive from the ones going down to the pit, mean basically the same thing. The second phrase emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [you have brought up my soul from Sheol, yes, you have kept me alive from the ones going down to the pit]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT you have brought up my soul
UST when I was dying
(הֶעֱלִיתָ & נַפְשִׁי)

David is using one part of himself, his soul, to mean all of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have brought me up]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT from the ones going down to the pit
UST I was nearly dead
(מיורדי־בוֹר)

David assumes that readers will know that the pit refers to the grave or death. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from the ones going down to death] or [from the ones going down to the grave]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my soul	I
Sheol	when & was dying
the pit	I was nearly dead

Psalms 30:4

ULT	UST
Sing praise to Yahweh, {you} his faithful ones, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.	All you who are faithful to Yahweh, sing praise to him. Think about what Yahweh, the holy one, has done, and thank him.

ULT at the remembrance of his holiness
UST Think about what Yahweh, the holy one, has done
(לְזֵכֶר קָדְשׁוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the ideas of remembrance and holiness, you could express the same ideas in another way. Here the phrase his holiness refers to Yahweh's holy character and the actions that he had done in the past as a result of his holy character. Alternate translation: [when you remember how holy he is and the great things that he has done as a result]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Sing praise	sing praise
to Yahweh	to him
you} his faithful ones	All you who are faithful to Yahweh
his holiness	Yahweh, the holy one, has done

Psalms 30:4-5

ULT Sing praise to Yahweh, {you} his faithful ones, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.For his anger is {for} a moment, {but} his favor is {for} a lifetime. In the evening weeping may come to lodge but rejoicing {comes} in the morning

UST All you who are faithful to Yahweh, sing praise to him. Think about what Yahweh, the holy one, has done, and thank him.When he becomes angry, he is angry for only a very short time, but he is good {to us} all of our lives. We may cry during the night, but the next morning we will be joyful

(זַמְּרוּ לַיהוָה חֲסִידָיו וְהוֹדוּ לְזֵכֶר קָדְשׁוֹ: כִּי רֶגַע | בְּאַפּוֹ חַיִּים בִּרְצוֹנוֹ בָּעֶרֶב יָלִין בֶּכִי וְלַבֹּקֶר רִנָּה)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of verse 4 and the first half of verse 5, since the first half of verse 5 gives the reason for the result that verse 4 describes. Alternate translation: [Because his anger is {for} a moment, {but} his favor is {for} a lifetime, sing praise to Yahweh, {you} his faithful ones, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Psalms 30:5

ULT	UST
For his anger is {for} a moment, {but} his favor is {for} a lifetime. In the evening weeping may come to lodge but rejoicing {comes} in the morning.	When he becomes angry, he is angry for only a very short time, but he is good {to us} all of our lives. We may cry during the night, but the next morning we will be joyful.

ULT For his anger is {for} a moment, {but} his favor is {for} a lifetime

UST When he becomes angry, he is angry for only a very short time, but he is good {to us} all of our lives

(כִּי רֶגַע | בְּאַפּוֹ חַיִּים בִּרְצוֹנוֹ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of anger and favor, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [For he is angry only for a moment, but he shows kindness for a lifetime]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his anger is {for} a moment

UST When he becomes angry, he is angry for only a very short time

(רֶגַע | בְּאַפּוֹ)

David is using a moment as a common expression of the culture to mean "a very short time." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his anger is for a brief time] or [his anger is only temporary]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT In the evening weeping may come to lodge but rejoicing {comes} in the morning

UST We may cry during the night, but the next morning we will be joyful

(בָּעֶרֶב יָלִין בֶּכִי וְלַבֹּקֶר רִנָּה)

David is speaking of weeping and rejoicing as if they were living things that could come to a place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In the evening people may weep, but in the morning people will rejoice]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a moment	only a very short time
but} his favor is {for	but he is good {to us
weeping	cry
rejoicing {comes	we will be joyful

Psalms 30:6

ULT	UST
And I, in my ease, said, “I will never be shaken.”	As for me, when my life was going well, I said {to myself}, “Nothing will ever trouble me.”

ULT in my ease
UST when my life was going well
(בְּשַׁלְוִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of ease, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when my life was easy]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT I will never be shaken
UST Nothing will ever trouble me
(בַּל־אֶמּוֹט לְעוֹלָם)

The expression I will never be shaken is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [nothing will ever shake me] or [I will always remain secure]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT I will never be shaken
UST Nothing will ever trouble me
(בַּל־אֶמּוֹט לְעוֹלָם)

David is speaking of himself as if he were an object that could not beshaken (physically moved or disturbed). He means that he felt completely secure and believed nothing could threaten his stability or well-being. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will always be secure] or [nothing will ever threaten me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will & be shaken	will & trouble me

Psalms 30:7

ULT	UST
Yahweh, by your favor you have made my mountain stand strong; you hid your face, {and} I was dismayed.	Yahweh, because you were good to me, at first you caused me to be secure as a mountain. {But then you let me become ill when} you stopped protecting me {from illness}, and I became greatly disturbed.

ULT by your favor
UST because you were good to me
(בִּרְצוֹנְךָ)

See how you translated the word favor in 30:5.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you have made my mountain stand strong
UST at first you caused me to be secure as a mountain
(הֶעֱמַדְתָּה לְהַרְרִי עֹז)

The phrase you have made my mountain stand strong could be: (1) David speaking of his security and strength as if they were my mountain. Alternate translation: [you have made me as secure as a mountain] or [you have given me great strength and security] (2) David using the phrase my mountain to refer to Mount Zion in which case David would be using Mount Zion to represent his rule as king which he would do from Mount Zion. Alternate translation: [you have made my reign secure] or [you have firmly established my rule]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you hid your face
UST But then you let me become ill when} you stopped protecting me {from illness
(הִסְתַּרְתָּ פָּנֶיךָ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [then you hid your face from me]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT you hid your face
> UST But then you let me become ill when} you stopped protecting me {from illness
> (הִסְתַּרְתָּ פָנֶיךָ)

Here, your face represents Yahweh's presence or attention (and consequently also some of the help or protection that would have come as a result). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you withdrew your presence from me] or [you turned your attention away from me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
by your favor	because you were good to me

Psalms 30:8

ULT	UST
To you, Yahweh, I cried out, and to the Lord I pled for favor.	{Then} I called out to you, Yahweh, and I pleaded for you, the Lord, to help me.

> ULT I pled for favor
> UST I pleaded & to help me
> (אֶתְחַנָּֽן)

See how you translated the word favor in 30:5.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
I cried out	I called out
the Lord	you, the Lord
I pled for favor	I pleaded & to help me
I pled for favor	I pleaded & to help me

Psalms 30:9

ULT	UST
“What profit {is there} in my blood, in my descent to the pit? Will the dust praise you? Will it declare your faithfulness?	{I said,} “{Yahweh,} you will gain nothing if I die. It will not benefit you at all if I go to the place where the dead people are. Dead people certainly are not able to praise you, and they are not able to tell others that you are faithful.

ULT What profit {is there} in my blood, in my descent to the pit? Will the dust praise you? Will it declare your faithfulness
UST I said,} “{Yahweh,} you will gain nothing if I die. It will not benefit you at all if I go to the place where the dead people are. Dead people certainly are not able to praise you, and they are not able to tell others that you are faithful
(מַה־בֶּצַע בְּדָמִי בְּרִדְתִּי אֶל־שָׁחַת הֲיוֹדְךָ עָפָר הֲיַגִּיד אֲמִתֶּךָ)

David is using a question to emphasize that his death would not benefit God and to make the point that dead people cannot praise God. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for this purpose, you could translate these questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [There is no profit in my blood, in my descent to the pit. The dust will not praise you! It will not declare your faithfulness!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT What profit {is there} in my blood, in my descent to the pit
UST I said,} “{Yahweh,} you will gain nothing if I die. It will not benefit you at all if I go to the place where the dead people are (מַה־בֶּצַע בְּדָמִי בְּרִדְתִּי אֶל־שָׁחַת)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. [What advantage is there in my death, yes, in my going down to the grave]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT in my blood
UST I die
(בְּדָמִי)

Here, blood represents “death.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in my death]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to the pit
UST to the place where the dead people are (אֶל־שָׁחַת)

David assumes that readers will know that the pit refers to the dwelling place of the dead. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. (In 30:3 David uses a different Hebrew word for “pit,” but there the word has the same meaning as it does here so you could see how you translated “pit” there.) Alternate translation: [to the place of the dead] or [to the abode of the dead]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Will the dust praise you
UST Dead people certainly are not able to praise you (הֲיוֹדְךָ עָפָר)

Here, dust represents those who are dead. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Will those who are dead praise you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT your faithfulness
UST that you are faithful
(אֲמִתֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way as in the UST.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
profit {is there	I said,} “{Yahweh,} you will gain nothing if the pit	the place where the dead people are
Will & praise you	certainly are not able to praise you
Will it declare	and they are not able to tell others
your faithfulness	that you are faithful

Psalms 30:9-10

ULT What profit {is there} in my blood, in my descent to the pit? Will the dust praise you? Will it declare your faithfulness?Hear, Yahweh, and be gracious to me. Yahweh, be my helper
UST I said,} "{Yahweh,} you will gain nothing if I die. It will not benefit you at all if I go to the place where the dead people are. Dead people certainly are not able to praise you, and they are not able to tell others that you are faithful.Yahweh, listen to me, and act mercifully to me. Yahweh, help me
(מַה־בֶּצַע בְּדָמִי֮ בְּרִדְתִּי֒ אֶל־שָׁ֫חַת הֲיוֹדְךָ֥ עָפָ֑ר הֲיַגִּ֖יד אֲמִתֶּֽךָ׃ שְׁמַע־יְהוָ֥ה וְחָנֵּ֑נִי יְ֝הוָ֗ה הֱיֵה־עֹזֵ֥ר לִֽי׃)

This is the beginning of what David said or prayed to Yahweh. The ULT indicates the beginning and end of David's direct address of Yahweh with quotation marks and the UST introduces David's words with the phrase "I said." Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [I prayed, "What profit is there…"]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

Psalms 30:10

ULT	UST
Hear, Yahweh, and be gracious to me. Yahweh, be my helper.”	Yahweh, listen to me, and act mercifully to me. Yahweh, help me.”

ULT Hear
UST listen to me
(שְׁמַע)

Here, Hear represents “Listen and respond.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Listen to me and respond] or [Pay attention to me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Hear, Yahweh, and be gracious to me. Yahweh, be my helper
UST Yahweh, listen to me, and act mercifully to me. Yahweh, help me (שְׁמַע־יְהוָה וְחָנֵּנִי יְהוָה הֱיֵה־עֹזֵר לִי)

David is using imperative forms, but he is communicating polite requests rather than commands. If the imperative forms Hear, be gracious to me, and be my helper do not communicate polite requests in your language, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please hear, Yahweh, and please be gracious to me. Yahweh, please be my helper]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and be gracious to me	and act mercifully to me

Psalms 30:11

ULT	UST
You have turned for me my mourning to dancing; you have loosed my sackcloth and have clothed me with gladness	{But now} you have changed my circumstances and healed me, and as a result I have stopped grieving and now dance joyfully. You have caused me to change from the clothes that showed that I was very sad and to put on clothes that show that I am very joyful.

ULT you have loosed my sackcloth and have clothed me with gladness
UST You have caused me to change from the clothes that showed that I was very sad and to put on clothes that show that I am very joyful
(פִּתַּחְתָּ שַׂקִּי וַתְּאַזְּרֵנִי שִׂמְחָה)

David assumes that readers will know sackcloth was a coarse material worn as a sign of mourning or distress. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you have removed my mourning clothes and have clothed me with gladness]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT with gladness
UST that show that I am very joyful
(שִׂמְחָה)

Here, gladness represents clothing that was worn for joyous occasions that would express gladness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [with celebratory clothes] or [with clothes worn to celebrate]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and have clothed me with gladness
UST and to put on clothes that show that I am very joyful
(וַתְּאַזְּרֵנִי שִׂמְחָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of gladness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and have covered me with clothes that show that I am glad] or [and have clothed me with celebratory clothes]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my mourning	grieving
my sackcloth	the clothes that showed that I was very sad
with gladness	that show that I am very joyful

Psalms 30:12

ULT	UST
in order that {my} glory may sing praise to you and not be silent. Yahweh my God, I will give thanks to you forever.	{You did that} so that I would not be silent but would sing out to praise you. Yahweh, you are my God, and I will thank you forever.

ULT in order that
UST You did that} so that (לְמַעַן)

Here, so that marks my glory may sing praise to you and not be silent as the goal or purpose of "You have turned for me, my mourning into dancing; you have loosed my sackcloth and have clothed me with gladness" in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose that] or [to the end that]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT my} glory may sing praise to you
UST but would sing out to praise you
(יְזַמֶּרְךָ כָבוֹד)

By my glory, David probably means some part of his inner being that represented where his honor was. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [my soul may sing praise to you] or [I may sing praise to you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Yahweh my God
UST Yahweh, you are my God
(יְהוָה אֱלֹהַי)

David is not using this possessive form my God to indicate that he possesses or controls Yahweh. Rather, David is using these words to indicate that Yahweh is the God whom he worships. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, the God I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my} glory	QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: כָּבוֹד
may sing praise to you	but would sing out to praise you
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	you are my God
forever	forever

Psalms 31

Psalms 31 Introduction

Psalm 31 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 31 is considered to be one of the “psalms of deliverance.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the psalms of deliverance.

1. Declaration of trust (1–8)
2. Lament over suffering (9–13)
3. Affirmation of faith (14–18)
4. Praise and thanksgiving (19–22)
5. Final Exhortation (23–24)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Abandonment

Even though everyone deserted and despised the psalmist, God did not abandon him.

Psalms 31:1

ULT	UST
In you, Yahweh, I take refuge; do not ever let me have shame; in your righteousness deliver me.	Yahweh, I come to you to protect me. Never allow {them to defeat me, with the result that} I would be ashamed. Since you always do what is right and just, please rescue me.

ULT In you, Yahweh, I take refuge
UST Yahweh, I come to you to protect me
(בְּךָ יְהוָה חָסִיתִי)

Here David is speaking as if Yahweh were actually a physical place of safety or shelter. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I trust in you, Yahweh, to keep me safe] or [I depend on you, Yahweh, to protect me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT do not ever let me have shame; in your righteousness deliver me
UST Never allow {them to defeat me, with the result that} I would be ashamed. Since you always do what is right and just, please rescue me
(אַל־אֵבוֹשָׁה לְעוֹלָם בְּצִדְקָתְךָ פַלְּטֵנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please do not ever let me have shame; please deliver me in your righteousness]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT in your righteousness
UST Since you always do what is right and just (בְּצִדְקָתְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because you are righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
I take refuge	to protect me
do & let me have shame	allow {them to defeat me, with the result that} I would be ashamed in your righteousness	Since you always do what is right and just deliver me	please rescue me

Psalms 31:2

ULT	UST
Incline your ear to me; rescue me quickly; be for me a rocky summit of refuge, a dwelling place of strongholds to save me.	Respond to my prayers for help, and save me right now! Be {like} a huge rock where I can flee for refuge, and {like} a strong fortress in which my enemies cannot harm me.

ULT Incline your ear to me; rescue me quickly; be for me a rocky summit of refuge

UST Respond to my prayers for help, and save me right now! Be {like} a huge rock where I can flee for refuge

(הַטֵּה אֵלַי | אָזְנְךָ מְהֵרָה הַצִּילֵנִי הֱיֵה לִי | לְצוּר־מָעוֹז)

David is using imperative forms, but these communicate a polite request rather than commands. If the imperative form does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use forms in your language that communicate polite requests. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please incline your ear to me; please rescue me quickly; please be for me a rocky summit of refuge]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Incline your ear to me

UST Respond to my prayers for help

(הַטֵּה אֵלַי | אָזְנְךָ)

Here David is using the term ear to mean hearing or attention. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Listen and respond to me] or [Pay attention to me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT be for me a rocky summit of refuge, a dwelling place of strongholds

UST Be {like} a huge rock where I can flee for refuge, and {like} a strong fortress

(הֱיֵה לִי | לְצוּר־מָעוֹז לְבֵית מְצוּדוֹת)

Here David is speaking as if Yahweh were actually a rocky summit used as a refuge and as if he were actually a place that had strongholds where he could hide and be safe from his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [be for me like a rocky summit of refuge, and like a dwelling place of strongholds]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT be for me a rocky summit of refuge, a dwelling place of strongholds

UST Be {like} a huge rock where I can flee for refuge, and {like} a strong fortress

(הֱיֵה לִי | לְצוּר־מָעוֹז לְבֵית מְצוּדוֹת)

David is using these possessive forms, a rocky summit of refuge and a dwelling place of strongholds, to describe places that are characterized by providing refuge and strength. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive forms for this, you could express these ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [be for me a rocky summit that provides refuge, a stronghold in which to dwell]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
rescue me	and save me
refuge	where I can flee for refuge strongholds	and {like} a strong fortress to save me	in which my enemies cannot harm me

Psalms 31:3

ULT	UST
Indeed, you are my rock and my stronghold; therefore for the sake of your name you lead me and guide me.	{Yes,} you are {like} a huge rock and {like} a fortress {where I can go to be safe}. For the sake of your reputation you guide me {so that no harm comes to me}.

ULT you are my rock and my stronghold
UST you are {like} a huge rock and {like} a fortress {where I can go to be safe
(סַלְעִי וּמְצוּדָתִי אָתָּה)

Here David is speaking as if Yahweh were actually a large rock and a stronghold to which he could flee to be safe from his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [you are like a rock that I can flee to for safety and like a stronghold in which I can be safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT therefore for the sake of your name
UST For the sake of your reputation
(וּלְמַעַן שִׁמְךָ)

David is using the term name to refer to God's reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT you lead me and guide me
UST you guide me {so that no harm comes to me
(תְּנַחֵנִי וְתִנְהָלֵנִי)

The terms lead and guide mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [direct me]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT you lead me and guide me
> UST you guide me {so that no harm comes to me
> (תְּנַחֵנִי וּתְנַהֲלֵנִי)

Here the Hebrew verbs that the ULT translates as you lead me and guide me could be: (1) expressing a general truth that has been part of David's ongoing experience. If you decide this is the meaning, then you can translate the two verbs in this phrase in a similar way to the ULT. (2) expressing something that will happen in the future. Alternate translation: [you will lead me and guide me] or (3) a request that is a prayer to Yahweh. (This option is less likely since David does not use the imperative forms of these verbs as would be expected if these verbs were meant to be requests.) Alternate translation: [lead me and guide me] or [please lead me and guide me]

> ULT you lead me and guide me
> UST you guide me {so that no harm comes to me
> (תְּנַחֵנִי וּתְנַהֲלֵנִי)

The implication is that David wants God to lead and guide him so that his enemies do not harm him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you lead me and guide me so that my enemies do not harm me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and my stronghold	and {like} a fortress {where I can go to be safe

Psalms 31:4

ULT	UST
You will pull me out of the net which they have secretly laid for me, for you are my refuge.	You are the one who protects me, so you will rescue me from the evil plans my enemies have secretly made to hurt me.

ULT You will pull me out of the net which they have secretly laid for me

UST you will rescue me from the evil plans my enemies have secretly made to hurt me

(תּוֹצִיאֵנִי מֵרֶשֶׁת זוּ טָמְנוּ לִי)

Here David is speaking as if his enemies' plans to harm him were a net that they had hidden to trap him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Rescue me from being harmed by the plans that they have secretly made to harm me] or [Rescue me from the ambush that they have secretly set for me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Here the Hebrew verb that the ULT translates as You will pull me could be: (1) expressing something that will happen in the future as in the ULT or (2) a request that is a prayer to Yahweh. (This option is less likely since David does not use the imperative form of this verb as would be expected if this was a request.) Alternate translation: [Please pull me] or [Pull me]

ULT you are my refuge

UST You are the one who protects me

(אַתָּה מָעוּזִּי)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a refuge, a physical place of safety and protection from danger. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you are my protector] or [you keep me safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my refuge	the one who protects me

Psalms 31:5

ULT	UST
Into your hand I commit my spirit; you have redeemed me, Yahweh, God of faithfulness.	I put myself into your care. You have rescued me. Yahweh, you are faithful.

ULT Into your hand
UST into your care
(בְּיָדְךָ֣)

Here, hand represents God's power, control and care. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Into your care] or [Into your control]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT I commit my spirit
UST I put myself
(אַפְקִ֥יד רוּחִ֑י)

David is using the term spirit to mean his enlivening spirit that causes him to be physically alive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I commit myself]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT God of faithfulness
UST you are faithful
(אֵ֣ל אֱמֶֽת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God who is faithful to me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I commit	I put
my spirit	myself
you have redeemed	You have rescued
Yahweh	Yahweh
God of	you are
faithfulness	faithful

Psalms 31:6

ULT	UST
I hate the ones keeping idols of worthlessness, but I trust in Yahweh.	I hate those who worship useless idols, but I trust in Yahweh.

ULT I hate the ones keeping
UST I hate those who worship
(שָׂנֵאתִי הַשֹּׁמְרִים)

Here, the ones keeping represents those who worship idols. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I hate those who worship]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT idols of worthlessness
UST useless idols
(הַבְלֵי־שָׁוְא)

David is using the possessive form to describe idols that are characterized by worthlessness. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [worthless idols]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
idols of	idols
trust	trust
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 31:7

ULT	UST
I will be glad and rejoice in your covenant faithfulness, for you have seen my affliction; you have known the troubles of my soul,	I will be very glad because you faithfully love me. You have noticed that I have suffered, and have known the troubling things I have experienced.

ULT I will be glad and rejoice
UST I will be very glad (אָגִ֣ילָה וְאֶשְׂמְחָ֑ה)

The terms be glad and rejoice mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [I will rejoice greatly]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT in your covenant faithfulness, for you have seen my affliction; you have known the troubles of my soul
UST because you faithfully love me. You have noticed that I have suffered, and have known the troubling things I have experienced (בְּחַסְדֶּ֗ךָ אֲשֶׁ֣ר רָאִ֣יתָ אֶת־עָנְיִ֑י יָדַ֥עְתָּ בְצָר֖וֹת נַפְשִֽׁי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of covenant faithfulness and affliction, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [because you are faithful to your covenant, for you have seen how I have suffered; you have known how my soul is troubled]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the troubles of my soul
UST the troubling things I have experienced (בְּצָר֖וֹת נַפְשִֽׁי)

David is using the term soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual and emotional existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the troubles I have experienced] or [my inner distress]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will be glad	I will be very glad and rejoice	I will be very glad in your covenant faithfulness	because you faithfully love me
my affliction	that I have suffered you have known	and have known the troubles of	the troubling things & have experienced
my soul	I

Psalms 31:8

ULT	UST
and you have not delivered me into the hand of the ones being hostile to me; you have set my feet in an open space.	You have not allowed my enemies to capture me; instead, you brought me to a place where I was safe.

ULT into the hand of the ones being hostile to me
UST You have & allowed my enemies to capture me
(בְּיַד־אוֹיֵב)

Here, hand represents the power or control of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [into the power of the ones being hostile to me] or [under the control of the ones being hostile to me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT you have set my feet in an open space
UST instead, you brought me to a place where I was safe
(הָעֲמַדְתָּ בַמֶּרְחָב רַגְלָי)

Here David is speaking of being rescued as if he had been squeezed into a narrow, dangerous space with no way to escape and God enabled him to escape into an open space. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have set me free from danger] or [you have rescued me from my desperate situation]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you have & delivered me	You have & allowed & to capture me
the ones being hostile to me	my enemies

Psalms 31:9

ULT	UST
Be gracious to me, Yahweh, for I am in distress; my eye has wasted away from grief, my soul and my body.	Yahweh, act kindly toward me because I am distressed. Because I cry so much that my eyes are tired, and I am completely exhausted.

ULT Be gracious to me
UST act kindly toward me
(חָנֵּנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please be gracious to me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT for I am in distress; my eye has wasted away from grief
UST because I am distressed. Because I cry so much that my eyes are tired (כִּי צַר־לִי עָשְׁשָׁה בְכַעַס עֵינִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of grief, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for I am distressed, because of my grieving my eye has wasted away]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT my eye has wasted away from grief
UST Because I cry so much that my eyes are tired (עָשְׁשָׁה בְכַעַס עֵינִי)

David says my eye has wasted away from grief as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [I cry so much that my eyes feel like they are wasting away] or [I am crying so much that my eyes hurt]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT from grief
UST I cry
(בְכַעַס)

Here, grief represents crying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from crying] or [because I cry so much]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT my soul and my body
> UST and I am completely exhausted
> (נַפְשִׁי וּבִטְנִי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [my soul and my body have wasted away from grief]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT my soul and my body
> UST and I am completely exhausted
> (נַפְשִׁי וּבִטְנִי)

David is referring to all of himself by naming two major components, my soul and my body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [all of me] or [my whole being]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be gracious to me	act kindly toward me
Yahweh	Yahweh
I am in distress	I am distressed has wasted away	Because & so much that my eyes are tired
my soul	and I am completely exhausted

Psalms 31:10

ULT	UST
For my life has come to an end with sorrow, and my years with groaning; my strength fails from my iniquity, and my bones waste away.	I have become very weak because I am so miserable; my life is getting shorter. I have become weak because of the sinful things that I have done. I am totally exhausted.

ULT For my life has come to an end with sorrow, and my years with groaning; my strength fails from my iniquity, and my bones waste away

UST I have become very weak because I am so miserable; my life is getting shorter. I have become weak because of the sinful things that I have done. I am totally exhausted

(כִּי כָלּוּ בְיָגוֹן חַיַּי וּשְׁנוֹתַי בַּאֲנָחָה כָּשַׁל בַּעֲוֹנִי כֹּחִי וְעַצְמַי עָשָׁשׁוּ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [For my life comes to an end with sorrow, yes, my years with groaning; my strength fails from my iniquity, indeed, my bones waste away]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT For my life has come to an end with sorrow

UST I have become very weak because I am so miserable; my life is getting shorter

(כִּי כָלּוּ בְיָגוֹן חַיַּי)

By For my life has come to an end with sorrow, David means that his life is being consumed or shortened by grief and distress. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [For my life is being consumed by sorrow] or [For sorrow is shortening my life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT with sorrow
UST I have become very weak because I am so miserable; my life is getting shorter
(בְּיָגוֹן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sorrow, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [sorrowfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT from my iniquity
UST because of the sinful things that I have done
(בַּעֲוֹנִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because I have sinned] or [because of the wrong things I have done]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my bones waste away
UST I am totally exhausted
(וַעֲצָמַי עָשְׁשׁוּ)

David is using one part of his body, his bones, to represent his entire physical being as it deteriorates. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and my entire body wastes away]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and my years	I have become very weak because I am so miserable; my life is getting shorter from my iniquity	because of the sinful things that I have done waste away	I am totally exhausted

Psalms 31:11

ULT	UST
Among all of the ones being hostile to me I have become a reproach, and especially to my neighbors, and dread to the ones knowing me; the ones seeing me outside flee from me.	All of my enemies make fun of me, and my neighbors, especially, despise me. My friends are afraid of me {because they think that you, God, are punishing me}. When they see me on the streets, they run away.

ULT I have become a reproach
UST make fun of me
(הָיֵיתִי חֶרְפָּה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of reproach, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I have become someone whom people reproach] or [I have become someone whom people despise]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and especially to my neighbors, and dread to the ones knowing me
UST and my neighbors, especially, despise me. My friends are afraid of me {because they think that you, God, are punishing me
(וְלִשְׁכֵנַי ׀ מְאֹד וּפַחַד לְמְיֻדָּעָי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and I have become especially a reproach to my neighbors, and I have become a dread to the ones knowing me]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT and dread to the ones knowing me
UST My friends are afraid of me {because they think that you, God, are punishing me (וּפַחַד לְמְיֻדָּעָי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of dread, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and the ones knowing me are afraid of me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the ones being hostile to me	All of my enemies
a reproach	make fun of me
and & to my neighbors	and my neighbors & despise me
and dread	are afraid of me {because they think that you, God, are punishing me to the ones knowing me	My friends

Psalms 31:12

ULT	UST
I have been forgotten like a dead man out of mind; I am like a broken vessel.	People have forgotten me like they forget people who are dead. I am {as useless as} a broken pot.

ULT I have been forgotten
UST People have forgotten me
(נִשְׁכַּחְתִּי)

The expression I have been forgotten is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [People have forgotten me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT I have been forgotten like a dead man out of mind
UST People have forgotten me like they forget people who are dead
(נִשְׁכַּחְתִּי כְּמֵת מִלֵּב)

David is making a comparison between himself and a dead man out of mind. The point of this comparison is that just as a dead man is completely forgotten by people, so David feels that he has been completely forgotten. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [I have been completely forgotten, just as people forget about the dead]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT out of mind
UST they forget
(מִלֵּב)

David is using out of mind as a common expression of the culture to mean “completely forgotten.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is completely forgotten] or [whom people have completely forgotten]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT I am like a broken vessel
> UST I am {as useless as} a broken pot
> (הָיִיתִי כִּכְלִי אֹבֵד)

Here David is comparing himself to a broken vessel using the word like. The point of this comparison is that just as a broken vessel is useless and discarded, so David feels useless and discarded by others. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [I am useless like a broken vessel] or [I am discarded like a broken vessel]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
out of mind	they forget

Psalms 31:13

ULT	UST
For I hear the whispering of many— terror on every side!— while they conspire together against me; they plan to take my life.	There are terrifying things all around me. I hear people whispering {things about me}. My enemies are making plans to kill me.

ULT For I hear the whispering of many— terror on every side
UST There are terrifying things all around me. I hear people whispering {things about me
(כִּ֤י שָׁמַ֨עְתִּי ׀ דִּבַּ֣ת רַבִּ֗ים מָגֹ֥ור מִסָּ֑בִיב)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [For I hear the whispering of many, and there is terror on every side]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT For I hear the whispering of many— terror on every side
UST There are terrifying things all around me. I hear people whispering {things about me
(כִּ֤י שָׁמַ֨עְתִּי ׀ דִּבַּ֣ת רַבִּ֗ים מָגֹ֥ור מִסָּ֑בִיב)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put the information about terror on every side with the information about the whispering of many. Alternate translation: [For I hear the whispering of many and there is terror on every side]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT terror on every side
UST There are terrifying things all around me
(מָגֹ֥ור מִסָּ֑בִיב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of terror, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [terrifying things on every side]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT they plan to take my life
> UST My enemies are making plans to kill me
> (לְקַחַת נַפְשִׁי זָמָמוּ)

David is using they plan to take my life as a common expression of the culture to mean “they plan to kill me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they plan to murder me]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
terror	There are terrifying things
while they conspire together	My enemies are making plans

Psalms 31:14

ULT	UST
But I trust in you, Yahweh; I say, “You are my God.”	But Yahweh, I trust in you. I say {confidently} that you are the God I worship.

ULT But I
UST But
(וְאֲנִי)

David uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between his distressing circumstances and his trust in Yahweh. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [However, I] or [Yet I]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT You are my God
UST that you are the God I worship
(אֱלֹהַי אָתָּה)

David is not using this possessive form my God to indicate that he possesses or controls Yahweh. Rather he is using these words to indicate that Yahweh is the God whom he worships. If it would help your readers, you could indicate this explicitly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
trust	I trust
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	the God I worship

Psalms 31:15

ULT	UST
My times are in your hand; rescue me from the hand of the ones being hostile to me and from the ones pursuing me.	You control the events and circumstances of my life. Save me from my enemies, from those who pursue me.

ULT My times are in your hand; rescue me from the hand of UST You control the events and circumstances of my life. Save me from (בְּיָדְךָ עִתֹּתָי הַצִּילֵנִי מִיַּד)

Here, hand represents the power or control of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My times are in your control; rescue me from the power of]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT rescue me
UST Save me
(הַצִּילֵנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please rescue me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT My times
UST the events and circumstances of my life
(עִתֹּתָי)

David assumes that readers will know that My times refers to the events and circumstances of his life, including its duration. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [The events of my life] or [My life and circumstances]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the ones being hostile to me and from the ones pursuing me
UST my enemies, from those who pursue me
(אֹויְבַי וּמֵרֹדְפָי)

The terms the ones being hostile to me and the ones pursuing me mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [my relentless enemies]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My times	the events and circumstances of my life
rescue me	Save me
the ones being hostile to me	my enemies

Psalms 31:16

ULT	UST
Make your face shine upon your servant; save me in your covenant faithfulness.	Act kindly toward me and rescue me because you always faithfully love me.

ULT Make your face shine upon your servant; save me
UST Act kindly toward me and rescue me
(הָאִ֥ירָה פָנֶ֗יךָ עַל־עַבְדֶּ֫ךָ הוֹשִׁיעֵ֥נִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please make your face shine upon your servant; save me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Make your face shine upon
UST Act kindly toward (הָאִ֥ירָה פָנֶ֗יךָ עַל)

David is using Make your face shine on as a common expression of the culture to mean “show favor to” or “be gracious to.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Show favor to] or [Be gracious to]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT your servant
UST me
(עַבְדֶּ֫ךָ)

David is speaking of himself in the third person as your servant to show humility. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in a humble form in the first person. Alternate translation: [me, your servant]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT in your covenant faithfulness
UST because you always faithfully love me
(בְּחַסְדֶּֽךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your servant	me
save me	and rescue me
in your covenant faithfulness	because you always faithfully love me

Psalms 31:17

ULT	UST
Yahweh, do not let me have shame, for I have called upon you; let the wicked have shame; let them be silent in Sheol.	Yahweh, I call out to you, so do not allow others to shame me. I desire that you cause wicked people to be ashamed. I desire that they {soon die and} go down to the place where the dead people are.

ULT let the wicked have shame; let them be silent in Sheol
UST I desire that you cause wicked people to be ashamed. I desire that they {soon die and} go down to the place where the dead people are (יֵבֹשׁוּ רְשָׁעִים יִדְמוּ לִשְׁאוֹל)

By using let, the psalmist is expressing what he thinks should happen. See the discussion in the introduction to this book about “let” and “may” and follow the decision of your team of how a speaker will express in this context what he wants someone to do. Alternate translation: [the wicked should have shame; they should be silent in Sheol]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT Yahweh, do not let me have shame, for I have called upon you
UST Yahweh, I call out to you, so do not allow others to shame me
(יְהוָה אַל־אֵבוֹשָׁה כִּי קְרָאתִיךָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because I have called upon you, Yahweh, do not let me have shame]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT let them be silent in Sheol
> UST I desire that they {soon die and} go down to the place where the dead people are > (יִדְּמוּ לִשְׁאוֹל)

David assumes that readers will know that Sheol is the place of the dead. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [let them be silent in the place of the dead]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
do & let me have shame	do & allow others to shame me
I have called upon you	I call out to you
the wicked	wicked people
let & have shame	I desire that you cause & to be ashamed
in Sheol	and} go down to the place where the dead people are

Psalms 31:18

ULT	UST
Let lying lips be silenced, the ones speaking insolent things against the righteous, in pride and contempt.	I desire that you will cause people who tell lies to be unable to speak. {Do that to} people who arrogantly say disrespectful things about righteous people.

ULT Let lying lips be silenced
UST I desire that you will cause people who tell lies to be unable to speak
(תֵּאָלַמְנָה שִׂפְתֵי שָׁקֶר)

The expression Let lying lips be silenced is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [May God silence lying lips] or [May lying lips become silent]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT lying lips
UST people who tell lies
(שִׂפְתֵי שָׁקֶר)

Here, lying lips represents people who tell lies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who lie]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the righteous
UST righteous people
(צַדִּיק)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase as in the UST.

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT in pride and contempt
UST disrespectful things
(בְּגַאֲוָה וָבוּז)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of pride and contempt, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [proudly and contemptuously] or [in a proud and contemptuous manner]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT in pride and contempt
> UST disrespectful things
> (בְּגַאֲוָה וּבְוּז)

The terms pride and contempt mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [with great arrogance]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the righteous	righteous people
in pride	disrespectful things
and contempt	disrespectful things

Psalms 31:19

ULT	UST
How great is your goodness which you have stored up for the ones fearing you, {which} you have done for the ones taking refuge in you, before the sons of man!	Many indeed are the good things which you have prepared for the people who revere you! You do good things for those who go to you for protection. Everyone sees you protect them.

ULT How great is your goodness
UST Many indeed are the good things
(מָֽה רַב־טוּבְךָ֗)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of goodness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [How incredibly good you are] or [How abundant are the good things you do]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you have stored up
UST you have prepared
(צָפַנְתָּ)

David is speaking of God's goodness as if it were something physical that God had stored up like treasure in a storehouse. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for the ones taking refuge in you
UST for those who go to you for protection
(לַחֹסִ֥ים בָּ֝ךְ)

See how you translated the similar phrase "I take refuge" in 31:1.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the sons of man
UST Everyone
(בְּנֵ֣י אָדָ֑ם)

The psalmist is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean "human beings." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all people]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is your goodness	are the good things for the ones fearing you	for the people who revere you for the ones taking refuge	for those who go & for protection

Psalms 31:20

ULT	UST
You hide them in the hiding-place of your presence from the plots of man; you hide them in a shelter from the strife of tongues.	You protect people {who trust in you} by being near to them and saving them from people who devise evil schemes {to harm them}. You keep them safe from their enemies who accuse them.

ULT You hide them in the hiding-place of your presence from the plots of man; you hide them in a shelter from the strife of tongues
UST You protect people {who trust in you} by being near to them and saving them from people who devise evil schemes {to harm them}. You keep them safe from their enemies who accuse them
(תַּסְתִּירֵם | בְּסֵתֶר פָּנֶיךָ מֵרַכְסֵי אִישׁ תִּצְפְּנֵם בְּסֻכָּה מֵרִיב לְשֹׁנוֹת)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [You hide them in the safety of your presence, protecting them from those who plot against them and from cruel words]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT You hide them in the hiding-place of your presence from the plots of man
UST You protect people {who trust in you} by being near to them and saving them from people who devise evil schemes {to harm them
(תַּסְתִּירֵם | בְּסֵתֶר פָּנֶיךָ מֵרַכְסֵי אִישׁ)

Here David is speaking of the hiding-place of your presence as if it were a physical shelter where Yahweh could hide people from danger. David means that Yahweh protects people by his divine presence and power. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You protect them by your presence from the plots of man]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT man
UST people
(אִישׁ)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language as in the UST.

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT you hide them in a shelter from the strife of tongues
UST You keep them safe from their enemies who accuse them
(תִּצְפְּנֵם בְּסֵכֶּה מֵרִיב לְשֹׁנוֹת)

Here David is speaking of God's protection and help as if it were a physical shelter in which God would hide righteous people from the accusatory words of evil people. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [you protect them from people who attack with their words as if you were hiding them in a shelter]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from the strife of tongues
UST from their enemies who accuse them
(מֵרִיב לְשֹׁנוֹת)

Here, tongues represents people speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from people who accuse them with their words] or [from verbal attacks]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in a shelter	QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: בְּסֵכֶּה
from the strife of	from their enemies
tongues	who accuse them

Psalms 31:21

ULT	UST
Blessed be Yahweh, for he has shown marvelously his covenant faithfulness to me in a besieged city.	Praise Yahweh! When my enemies surrounded the city {in which I was living,} he showed me in a wonderful way that he faithfully loves me.

ULT Blessed be Yahweh
UST Praise Yahweh
(בָּרוּךְ יְהוָה)

The expression Blessed be is a passive verbal form. The psalmist is expressing his desire to praise Yahweh. If it would be unnatural to use that form for this purpose, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I bless Yahweh] or [Let me praise Yahweh]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT Blessed be Yahweh, for he has shown marvelously his covenant faithfulness to me in a besieged city
UST Praise Yahweh! When my enemies surrounded the city {in which I was living,} he showed me in a wonderful way that he faithfully loves me
(בָּרוּךְ יְהוָה כִּי הִפְלִיא חַסְדּוֹ לִי בְּעִיר מָצוֹר)

David is giving the reason that Yahweh should be blessed after stating that he should be blessed. If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because he has shown marvelously his covenant faithfulness to me in a besieged city, blessed be Yahweh]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT his covenant faithfulness
UST that he faithfully loves
(חַסְדּוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [all the ways he is faithful to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT in a besieged city
> UST When my enemies surrounded the city {in which I was living > (בְּעִיר מָצוֹר)

The expression in a besieged city is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is his enemies. Alternate translation: [in a city that my enemies had surrounded]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed be	Praise
Yahweh	Yahweh
his covenant faithfulness	that he faithfully loves besieged	When my enemies surrounded

Psalms 31:22

ULT	UST
For I said in my alarm, “I am cut off from your eyes.” But indeed you heard the voice of my pleas when I cried out to you.	I was alarmed and cried out, “I have been separated from Yahweh!” But in fact you heard me {and answered} my cry for help.

ULT in my alarm
UST I was alarmed
(בְחָפְזִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of alarm, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when I was alarmed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT I am cut off from your eyes
UST I have been separated from Yahweh
(נִגְרַזְתִּי מִנֶּגֶד עֵינֶיךָ)

Here, eyes represents God’s attention or awareness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I am cut off from your attention] or [you are no longer watching over me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT But indeed
UST But in fact
(אָכֵן)

David uses the words But indeed here to indicate a contrast between his fearful thoughts and God’s actual response. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [However] or [Yet]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the voice of my pleas
UST me
(קוֹל תַּחֲנוּנָי)

Here, voice represents the pleas themselves. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT you heard the voice of my pleas when I cried out to you
> UST you heard me {and answered} my cry for help > (שָׁמַעְתָּ קוֹל תַּחֲנוּנַי בְּשַׁוְּעִי אֵלֶיךָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [when I cried out to you, you heard the voice of my pleas]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in my alarm	I was alarmed
my pleas	me

Psalms 31:23

ULT	UST
Love Yahweh, all {you} faithful ones! Yahweh preserves the faithful, but he pays back fully the proud person.	You people who belong to Yahweh, love him! Those who are loyal to him, he protects, but those who are proud, he punishes them severely like they deserve to be punished.

ULT the faithful
UST Those who are loyal to him
(אֱמוּנִים)

David is using the adjective faithful as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [faithful people] or [those who are faithful]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Love	love
Yahweh	him
you} faithful ones	You people who belong to Yahweh
Yahweh	he
the faithful	Those who are loyal to him
proud	who are proud

Psalms 31:24

ULT	UST
Be firm and let your heart be courageous, all the ones waiting for Yahweh.	You who confidently expect Yahweh {to do great things for you,} be strong and be courageous!

> ULT Be firm
> UST and be courageous
> (חֲזָקוּ)

David is using Be firm as a common expression of the culture to mean “be strong.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT your heart
> UST confidently
> (לְבַבְכֶם)

The word your is plural here because David is speaking to all the ones waiting for Yahweh. Use the plural form in your language if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

> ULT and let your heart be courageous
> UST confidently & be strong
> (וְיַאֲמֵץ לְבַבְכֶם)

Here the heart represents where a person’s thoughts and feelings exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT all the ones waiting for Yahweh
> UST You who & expect Yahweh {to do great things for you > (כָּל־הַמְיַחֲלִים לַיהוָה)

David assumes that readers will know that here waiting refers to waiting on Yahweh to help them. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [all the ones waiting for Yahweh to help you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and let & be courageous	be strong for Yahweh	You who & expect Yahweh

Psalms 31:front

> ULT To the chief musician
> UST This is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	This is a psalm
of David	of David

Psalms 32

Psalms 32 Introduction

Psalm 32 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 32 is a psalm about confession of sin. It is considered to be one of the “penitential” psalms. See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the penitential psalms. (See: confess, confession and sin, sinful, sinner, sinning)

1. The type of person who God says is blessed (1–2)
2. The results of concealing one’s sin (3–4)
3. David confesses his sin to Yahweh and Yahweh forgives his sin (5)
4. David gives reasons for confessing one’s sin to Yahweh (6–7)
5. David instructs his readers (8–9)
6. Conclusion (10–11)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “maskil.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Confession of sin

This Psalm tells of the sorrow of unconfessed sin. It also tells of the blessing of confession and of receiving God’s forgiveness. It is a blessing when God forgives sin. Trouble comes when sin is hidden and not confessed. (See: bless, blessed, blessing and forgive, forgiven, forgiveness, pardon, pardoned)

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Who is speaking in verses 8–9?

Among Bible scholars there are several different views regarding who is speaking in verses 8 and 9. Some Bible scholars think that it is David speaking, and others think that it is God speaking. Because these verses do not explicitly state who is speaking, you should not indicate who the speaker is in your translation.

Psalms 32:1

ULT	UST
A maskil of David The happinesses of the one whose transgression is lifted up, the one covered from sin!	A song of David Those whom God has forgiven for rebelling against him, and those whose sin God has atoned for, these are the ones who will have a truly good life!

ULT A maskil of David
UST A song of David
(לְדָוִד מַשְׂכִּיל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT The happinesses of
UST these are the ones who will have a truly good life
(אַשְׁרֵי)

David is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling, what constitutes true happiness from God's perspective. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT the one whose transgression is lifted up, the one covered from sin
UST Those whom God has forgiven for rebelling against him, and those whose sin God has atoned for (נְשׂוּי־פֶּשַׁע כְּסוּי חֲטָאָה)

The expressions transgression is lifted up and covered from sin are passive verbal forms. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [the one whose transgression God has lifted up, the one whose sin God has covered]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the one whose transgression is lifted up, the one covered from sin
> UST Those whom God has forgiven for rebelling against him, and those whose sin God has atoned for > (נְשׂוּי־פֶּשַׁע כְּסוּי חֲטָאָה)

These two phrases the one whose transgression is lifted up and the one covered from sin mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. It may be helpful in your language to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the one whose transgression is lifted up, that is, whose sin is covered]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT the one covered from sin
> UST and those whose sin God has atoned for > (כְּסוּי חֲטָאָה)

Here the phrase the one covered from sin means “the one whose sin is covered.” David is speaking of sin as if it were an object that could be covered. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one whose sin Yahweh takes away]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the one whose transgression is lifted up, the one covered from sin
> UST Those whom God has forgiven for rebelling against him, and those whose sin God has atoned for > (נְשׂוּי־פֶּשַׁע כְּסוּי חֲטָאָה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of transgression and sin, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [the one forgiven of the wrong things that one has done, forgiven for how that one has disobeyed you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT the one whose transgression is lifted up, the one covered from sin
> UST Those whom God has forgiven for rebelling against him, and those whose sin God has atoned for > (נְשׂוּי־פֶּשַׁע כְּסוּי חֲטָאָה)

Here, one whose transgression is lifted up and one covered from sin represent people in general, not specific individuals. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use expressions that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [anyone whose transgression is lifted up, and anyone who is covered from sin]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of David	of David
transgression	for rebelling against him
from sin	sin

Psalms 32:2

ULT	UST
The happinesses of the man to whom Yahweh reckons no guilt, and in whose spirit {there is} no deceit!	Those whose record of sins Yahweh no longer takes into account, and those who are not deceitful, these are the ones who will have a truly good life!

ULT The happinesses of
UST these are the ones who will have a truly good life
(אַשְׁרֵי)

David is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling, what constitutes true happiness from God's perspective. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT the man
UST Those
(אָדָם)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [any person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT reckons no guilt, and in whose spirit {there is} no deceit
UST whose record of sins & no longer takes into account, and those who are not deceitful
(לֹא יַחְשֹׁב & עָוֹן וְאֵין בְּרוּחוֹ רְמִיָּה)

The abstract nouns guilt and deceit express the ideas of being guilty and being deceitful. If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of guilt and deceit, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [does not reckon what he has done wrong and who is not deceitful] or [does not reckon to him what he is guilty of and who does not act deceitfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT and in whose spirit {there is} no
> UST and those who are not > (וְאֵין בְּרוּחוֹ)

Here, spirit represents the person's inner being or character. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and in whom there is no]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
guilt	sins
in whose spirit	those who

Psalms 32:3

ULT	UST
When I kept silent, my bones wasted away through my screaming all of the day.	When I did not confess my sins, my body felt weak and sick, and I groaned all day long.

ULT When I kept silent
UST When I did not confess my sins
(כִּי־הֶחֱרַשְׁתִּי)

By kept silent, David means that he did not confess his sin to God. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [When I kept silent about my sin]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my bones wasted away
UST my body felt weak and sick
(בָּלוּ עֲצָמָי)

Here David is speaking as if his bones were actually deteriorating. He means that his body was becoming weak, and he felt as if he was ill. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my vitality was depleted]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT through my screaming
UST and I groaned
(בְּשַׁאֲגָתִי)

The word translated as through indicates that what follows is a result of what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a result of what came before. Alternate translation: [which caused me to scream]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT through my screaming
UST and I groaned
(בְּשַׁאֲגָתִי)

David says through my screaming as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [through my groaning]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT all of the day
> UST all day long
> (כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

David is using all of the day as a common expression of his culture to mean “continually.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [continually]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wasted away	felt weak and sick

Psalms 32:4

ULT	UST
For by day and night your hand was heavy upon me. My vitality was changed {as} by the heat of summer. Selah	Day and night, Yahweh, you afflicted me. My strength was sapped like it would be on a hot summer day. Selah

ULT by day and night
UST Day and night
(יוֹמָם וָלָיְלָה)

The psalmist is referring to all of time by naming two major components, day and night. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [continually] or [all of the time]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT your hand was heavy upon me
UST Yahweh, you afflicted me
(תִּכְבַּד עָלַי יָדֶךָ)

David is using your hand was heavy upon me as a common expression of his culture to mean that God afflicted or disciplined him severely. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly as in the UST.

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT My vitality was changed
UST My strength was sapped
(נֶהְפַּךְ לְשַׁדִּי)

The expression My vitality was changed is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [God drained my strength] or [My strength dried up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT My vitality was changed {as} by the heat of summer
> UST My strength was sapped like it would be on a hot summer day
> (נָהְפַּךְ לְשַׁדִּי בְּחַרְבֹנֵי קָיִץ)

The point of this comparison is that just as the heat of summer is extremely intense and withering, so David's vitality was changed due to his unconfessed sin. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [My strength was completely drained like something withered by intense heat]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Selah	Selah

Psalms 32:5

ULT	UST
My sin I acknowledged to you, and my guilt I did not cover. I said, “I will confess my transgressions to Yahweh,” and you lifted up the guilt of my sin. Selah	{Then} I confessed my sinful actions to you; I stopped trying to hide them. I said to myself, “I will tell Yahweh the wrong things that I have done.” When I confessed them, you forgave me, so now I am no longer guilty for the sinful things I did. Selah

ULT My sin I acknowledged to you, and my guilt I did not cover
UST Then} I confessed my sinful actions to you; I stopped trying to hide them
(חַטָּאתִי אוֹדִיעֲךָ וַעֲוֹנִי לֹא־כִסִּיתִי)

These two phrases My sin I acknowledged to you and my guilt I did not cover mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [I confessed my sin to you—I did not hide my guilt]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT My sin & my sin
UST my sinful actions & the sinful things I did (חַטָּאתִי & חַטָּאתִי)

See how you translated the similar expression in 32:1.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my guilt & the guilt of UST them & so now I am no longer guilty for (וַעֲוֹנִי & עָוֹן)

See how you translated the similar expression in 32:2.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my guilt I did not cover
UST I stopped trying to hide them
(וַעֲוֹנִי לֹא־כִסִּיתִי)

Here David is speaking of sin and guilt as if they were something that could be covered. He means that he did not try to hide his sin from God. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and my guilt I did not refuse to confess]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my transgressions
UST the wrong things that I have done
(פְּשָׁעַי)

See how you translated the similar expression in 32:1.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and you lifted up the guilt of my sin
UST When I confessed them, you forgave me, so now I am no longer guilty for the sinful things I did (וְאַתָּה נָּשָׂאתָ עֲוֹן חַטָּאתִי)

See how you translated the similar expression in 32:1. Alternate translation: [and you forgave the guilt of my sin] or [and you took away the guilt of my sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My sin	my sinful actions
I acknowledged to you	Then} I confessed & to you and my guilt	them
I will confess	I will tell my transgressions	the wrong things that I have done
to Yahweh	Yahweh
the guilt of	so now I am no longer guilty for
Selah	Selah

Psalms 32:6

ULT	UST
For this {reason} let everyone who is faithful pray to you at a time of finding; surely in a flood of great waters, they will not reach to him.	Therefore all the people who are godly should pray to you when they realize they have sinned. {If they do that,} then it is certain that difficulties will not overwhelm them like a great flood.

ULT at a time of finding
UST when they realize they have sinned
(לְעֵת מְצֹא)

Here David is speaking of God's forgiveness as if it were something that could be found. He also indicates that there is a favorable time in which to seek forgiveness. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while there is an opportunity]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in a flood of great waters, they will not reach to him
UST that difficulties will not overwhelm them like a great flood (לְשֵׁטֶף מַיִם רַבִּים אֵלָיו לֹא יַגִּיעוּ)

Here David is speaking as if troubles were actually a flood of great waters that could overwhelm someone. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when great trouble comes, God will rescue those who trust in him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to him
UST overwhelm them
(אֵלָיו)

Here, him represents godly people in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [to them]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
who is faithful	the people who are godly let & pray	should pray
at a time of	when
in a flood of	that difficulties & like a & flood

Psalms 32:7

ULT	UST
You are a hiding place for me; you preserve me from distress; you will surround me {with} shouts of deliverance. Selah	You are like a place where I can hide from my enemies; you protect me from troubles and surround me with people who are joyfully praising you for saving me from my enemies. Selah

ULT You are a hiding place for me
UST You are like a place where I can hide from my enemies
(אַתָּה | סֵתֶר לִי)

Here David is speaking as if Yahweh were actually a hiding place. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You are the one who causes me to be safe] or [You are like a hiding place for me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT You are a hiding place for me; you preserve me from distress
UST You are like a place where I can hide from my enemies; you protect me from troubles
(אַתָּה | סֵתֶר לִי מִצַּר תִּצְּרֵנִי)

These two phrases You are a hiding place for me and you preserve me from distress mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. Alternate translation: [You protect me as my refuge; you keep me safe from trouble]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT from distress
UST from troubles
(מִצַּר)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of distress, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from things that cause me trouble] or [when others afflict me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT you will surround me {with} shouts of deliverance
> UST and surround me with people who are joyfully praising you for saving me from my enemies
> (רַנֵּי פַלֵּט תְּסוֹבְבֵנִי)

The implication is that there will be people around the writer who will be shouting joyfully about how God has rescued him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You surround me with people who are celebrating your deliverance with joyful shouts]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from distress	from troubles
deliverance	for saving me from my enemies
Selah	Selah

Psalms 32:8

ULT	UST
I will instruct you and teach you in the way which you are to go. I will counsel you {with} my eye upon you.	I will teach you about how you should conduct your life. I will teach you personally.

ULT I will instruct you and teach you
UST I will teach you
(אַשְׂכִּילְךָ֥ וְאוֹרְךָ֑)

The terms instruct and teach mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [I will carefully teach you]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT in the way which you are to go
UST about how you should conduct your life
(בְּדֶ֣רֶךְ־זּ֣וּ תֵלֵ֑ךְ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of how a person lives as if that were a way or path that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in how you should live] or [regarding how you should live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will counsel you {with} my eye upon you
UST I will teach you personally
(אִיעֲצָ֖ה עָלֶ֣יךָ עֵינִֽי)

Yahweh is using with my eye upon you as a common expression of the culture to mean “watching you closely and guiding you directly.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will teach you directly] or [I will look you in the eyes when I counsel you]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will instruct you	I will teach you and teach you	I will teach you
I will counsel you	I will teach you

Psalms 32:9

ULT	UST
Do not be like a horse {or} like a mule {which are} without understanding; ornament of him to curb with bit and bridle, or else they will not come near to you.	Do not be like horses and mules that do not have understanding; they need pieces of metal put in their mouth and ropes fastened to their head so they will go in the direction you want them to go.

ULT Do not be like a horse {or} like a mule
UST Do not be like horses and mules
(אַל־תִּהְיוּ | כְּסוּס כְּפֶרֶד)

The point of this comparison is that just as a horse and a mule are stubborn animals that must be controlled with bits and bridles, so are people who refuse to follow God's guidance. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [Do not be stubborn like horses and mules that must be controlled with bits and bridles]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT ornament of him to curb
UST so they will go in the direction you want them to
(עֶדְיוֹ לִבְלוֹם)

The psalmist assumes that his readers will know that here ornament refers to "trappings", functional pieces that are used on horses and mules in order to guide and restrain them. The implication of the phrase ornament of him to curb is that a horse or mule must be controlled by these trappings in order to guide and restrain (or curb) them. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [his trappings must restrain him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT ornament of him to curb
UST so they will go in the direction you want them to
(עֶדְיוֹ לִבְלוֹם)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [ornament of him to curb his behavior]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT with bit and bridle
> UST they need pieces of metal put in their mouth and ropes fastened to their head
> (בְּמֶתֶג־וָרֶסֶן)

A bit and bridle is a kind of harness that fits around a horse's head and includes a metal bar that goes in its mouth. If your readers would not be familiar with what a bit and bridle are, you could use more general terms as in the UST or explain them in a footnote.

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
like a horse	like horses
or} like a mule	and mules
understanding	understanding

Psalms 32:10

ULT	UST
Many {are the} pains of the wicked, but the one trusting in Yahweh, covenant faithfulness surrounds him.	Wicked people will have many difficult things in their lives that will make them sad, but those who trust in Yahweh will experience him faithfully loving them all the time.

ULT Many {are the} pains of the wicked
UST Wicked people will have many difficult things in their lives that will make them sad
(רַבִּ֥ים מַכְאוֹבִ֗ים לָֽרָשָׁע)

The psalmist is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [Many are the pains of those who do wicked things]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT covenant faithfulness surrounds him
UST will experience him faithfully loving them all the time
(חֶ֣סֶד יְסוֹבְבֶ֣נּוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of covenant faithfulness as if it were a living thing that could protect someone by surrounding them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh's faithful love will protect him] or [Yahweh's covenant faithfulness will protect him]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT covenant faithfulness surrounds him
UST will experience him faithfully loving them all the time
(חֶ֣סֶד יְסוֹבְבֶ֣נּוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [who acts faithfully toward him according to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the wicked	Wicked people
but the one trusting	but those who trust
in Yahweh	in Yahweh
covenant faithfulness	faithfully loving & all the time

Psalms 32:11

ULT	UST
Be glad in Yahweh and rejoice, righteous, and shout for joy, all {you} upright of heart.	{So, all} you righteous people, rejoice about {what} Yahweh {has done for you}! All you whose inner beings are pure, be glad and shout joyfully!

ULT righteous
UST So, all} you righteous people
(צַדִּיקִ֗ים)

See how you translated the phrase the righteous in 1:5. Alternate translation: [righteous people] or [people who do what is right]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and shout for joy
UST and shout joyfully
(וְהַרְנִּ֥ינוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and shout joyfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT all {you} upright of heart
UST All you whose inner beings are pure
(כָּל־יִשְׁרֵי־לֵֽב)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and motives exist. The phrase upright of heart describes people whose thoughts and motives are morally straight and righteous. Alternate translation: [all who think and act righteously] or [all who live with pure motives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be glad	be glad
in Yahweh	about {what} Yahweh {has done for you and rejoice	rejoice
righteous	So, all} you righteous people
and shout for joy	and shout joyfully
and shout for joy	and shout joyfully
you} upright of	you whose & are pure

Psalms 33

Psalms 33 Introduction

Psalm 33 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 33 is a “psalm of praise” telling how great God is.

1. Call the righteous to praise Yahweh (1–3)
2. Yahweh’s word and works are true and powerful (4–9)
3. Yahweh rules over nations and cares for his people (10–19)
4. Trust and hope in Yahweh’s steadfast love (20–22)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Yahweh’s power

Yahweh is the creator and also the God of his people, Israel. Whatever he plans works out. He alone provides safety in battle.

Psalms 33:1

ULT	UST
Shout for joy in Yahweh, righteous {ones}; praise {is} fitting for the upright.	You people who do what is right, shout joyfully because of Yahweh, because praising him is what upright people should do.

ULT Shout for joy in Yahweh, righteous {ones
UST You people who do what is right, shout joyfully because of Yahweh
(רַנְּנוּ צַדִּיקִים בַּיהוָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates an exhortation rather than a command. The psalmist is encouraging righteous ones to worship. If the imperative does not communicate an exhortation for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates an exhortation or invitation. Alternate translation: [You righteous ones should shout for joy in Yahweh]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Shout for joy
UST shout joyfully
(רַנְּנוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Rejoice]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT righteous {ones
UST You people who do what is right
(צַדִּיקִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT praise {is} fitting for the upright
UST because praising him is what upright people should do (לַיְשָׁרִים נָאוָה תְהִלָּה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for the upright should praise him]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT for the upright
> UST because & upright people
> (לַיְשָׁרִֽים)

The psalmist is using the adjective upright as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [for those who are upright]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Shout for joy	shout joyfully
in Yahweh	because of Yahweh righteous {ones	You people who do what is right
praise	praising him
for the upright	because & upright people

Psalms 33:2

ULT	UST
Give thanks to Yahweh with the harp; with a lyre of ten {strings,} make music to him.	Praise Yahweh by playing songs on the harp. Praise him as you make music for him with instruments that have many strings.

ULT with a lyre of ten {strings
UST with instruments that have many strings
(בְּנֵבֶל עָשׂוֹר)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [give thanks with a lyre of ten strings]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT with a lyre of ten {strings
UST with instruments that have many strings
(בְּנֵבֶל עָשׂוֹר)

A lyre of ten is a kind of musical instrument that has ten strings stretched across it and is plucked to produce sound. If your readers would not be familiar with what a lyre is, you could use the name of a similar thing that your readers would recognize, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a ten-stringed instrument]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to Yahweh	Yahweh
with the harp	by playing songs on the harp
with a lyre	with instruments

Psalms 33:3

ULT	UST
Sing to him a new song; be skillful to play with a shout!	Sing a new song to him; play those instruments well, and shout joyfully as you play them!

ULT Sing to him a new song
UST Sing a new song to him
(שִׁירוּ־לוֹ שִׁיר חָדָשׁ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates an exhortation rather than a command. The psalmist is encouraging the people to worship. If the imperative does not communicate an exhortation for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates an exhortation or invitation. Alternate translation: [You should sing to him a new song]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

Psalms 33:4

ULT	UST
For the word of Yahweh {is} upright, and all of his work {is} in faithfulness.	Do this because everything that Yahweh says is true, and we can trust that everything that he does is right.

ULT For the word of Yahweh {is} upright
UST Do this because everything that Yahweh says is true
(כִּי־יָשָׁר דְּבַר־יְהוָה)

Here the psalmist is speaking of Yahweh always speaking truth as if his word were standing straight or upright. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [For Yahweh always does what he says that he will do]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the word of Yahweh
UST everything that Yahweh says
(דְּבַר־יְהוָה)

Here, the word of Yahweh represents what Yahweh said by using words. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what Yahweh has said]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT is} in faithfulness
UST we can trust that & is right
(בֶּאֱמוּנָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is done in a faithful way] or [is done faithfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the word of Yahweh	everything that Yahweh says
Yahweh	Yahweh
is} upright	is true
is} in faithfulness	we can trust that & is right

Psalms 33:5

ULT	UST
Loving righteousness and justice, the covenant faithfulness of Yahweh fills the earth.	He loves everything that people do that is right and just. Yahweh faithfully loves people all over the earth.

ULT the covenant faithfulness of Yahweh fills the earth
UST Yahweh faithfully loves people all over the earth
(חֶסֶד יְהוָה מָלְאָה הָאָרֶץ)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe Yahweh who is characterized by covenant faithfulness. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Yahweh faithfully keeps his covenant throughout the earth]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT righteousness and justice
UST everything that people do that is right and just (צְדָקָה וּמִשְׁפָּט)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of righteousness and justice, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [what is righteous and fair]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the covenant faithfulness of Yahweh
UST Yahweh faithfully loves people
(חֶסֶד יְהוָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [all the ways Yahweh is faithful to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT fills the earth
UST all over the earth
(מָלְאָה הָאָרֶץ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of the covenant faithfulness of Yahweh as if it were something that could fill the earth like water fills a container. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [extends to everyone on the earth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the earth
> UST the earth
> (הָאָרֶץ)

The psalmist is using the earth to represent everyone who lives on the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [everyone on the earth]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Loving	He loves
righteousness	everything that people do that is right and justice	and just
the covenant faithfulness of	faithfully loves people
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 33:6

ULT	UST
By the word of Yahweh, the heavens were made, and by the breath of his mouth, all of their host.	Yahweh created everything in the sky by commanding it. He created all of the stars by speaking.

ULT By the word of Yahweh, the heavens were made, and by the breath of his mouth, all of their host
UST Yahweh created everything in the sky by commanding it. He created all of the stars by speaking (בִּדְבַר יְהוָה שָׁמַיִם נַעֲשׂוּ וּבְרוּחַ פִּיו כָּל־צְבָאָם)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Another approach would be to combine them and express the emphasis in another way. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [By the word of Yahweh the heavens were made, indeed, by the breath of his mouth, all of their host] or [By his command, Yahweh made the heavens and everything in them]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT By the word of Yahweh
UST Yahweh & by commanding it
(בִּדְבַר יְהוָה)

Here, the word of Yahweh represents the command that Yahweh spoke using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [By the command of Yahweh] or [When Yahweh commanded]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the heavens were made
UST created everything in the sky
(שָׁמַיִם נַעֲשׂוּ)

The expression were made is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [he made the heavens]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT and by the breath of his mouth
> UST He created & by speaking > (וּבְרֽוּחַ פִּֽיו)

Here, the breath of his mouth represents Yahweh speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and by what Yahweh spoke]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT all of their host
> UST all of the stars
> (כָּל־צְבָאָם)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [all the stars in the heavens were made]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
By the word of Yahweh	Yahweh & by commanding it
the heavens	everything in the sky
and by the breath of	He created & by speaking

Psalms 33:7

ULT	UST
Gathering the waters of the sea like a heap; putting the deeps into storehouses,	He gathered all the water of the sea into one huge mass as though scooping it into a container.

ULT like a heap
UST into one huge mass
(כַּנֵּד)

The point of this comparison is that just as a heap is a large mass piled together, so Yahweh gathered the sea waters together into a large mass. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [all piled together into one place]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT putting the deeps into storehouses
UST as though scooping it into a container
(נֹתֵן בְּאֹצָרוֹת תְּהוֹמוֹת)

Here the psalmist is speaking of the deep waters of the ocean as if they were goods that could be placed in storehouses. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he contains the deep waters within their boundaries]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Gathering	He gathered into storehouses	into a container

Psalms 33:8

ULT	UST
let all of the earth fear Yahweh; let all of the dwellers of the world be in dread of him.	Everyone on the earth should deeply revere Yahweh.

ULT let all of the earth fear Yahweh; let all of the dwellers of the world be in dread of him
UST Everyone on the earth should deeply revere Yahweh
(יִירְאוּ מֵיְהוָה כָּל־הָאָרֶץ מִמֶּנּוּ יָגוּרוּ כָּל־יֹשְׁבֵי תֵבֵל)

The psalmist is saying what he wants the people to do. See the discussion in the introduction to this book about “let” and “may” and follow the decision of your team of how a speaker will express in this context what he wants someone to do. Alternate translation: [all of the earth should fear Yahweh; all of the dwellers of the world should be in dread of him]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT let all of the earth fear Yahweh; let all of the dwellers of the world be in dread of him
UST Everyone on the earth should deeply revere Yahweh
(יִירְאוּ מֵיְהוָה כָּל־הָאָרֶץ מִמֶּנּוּ יָגוּרוּ כָּל־יֹשְׁבֵי תֵבֵל)

See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of phrases in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [everyone in the world should fear Yahweh, indeed, they should all be in dread of him]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT all of the earth
UST Everyone on the earth
(כָּל־הָאָרֶץ)

The psalmist is using the term earth to mean all the people who live on the earth. Alternate translation: [all the people of the earth]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
let & fear	should deeply revere
Yahweh	Yahweh
the world	Everyone on the earth
let & be in dread	should deeply revere

Psalms 33:9

ULT	UST
For he, he spoke, and it came to be; he, he commanded, and it stood.	They should revere him because he is the one who spoke, making the world exist. Everything started to exist because he is the one who commanded it.

ULT For he, he spoke, and it came to be; he, he commanded, and it stood
UST They should revere him because he is the one who spoke, making the world exist. Everything started to exist because he is the one who commanded it (כִּ֤י הֽוּא־אָמַ֙ר וַיֶּֽהִי הֽוּא־צִוָּ֖ה וַיַּעֲמֹֽד)

See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of phrases in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [Because when he spoke, everything he commanded came into existence]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT he, he spoke, and it came to be; he, he commanded
UST he is the one who spoke, making the world exist & because he is the one who commanded it
(הֽוּא־אָמַ֙ר וַיֶּֽהִי הֽוּא־צִוָּ֖ה)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun he separately, even though the verbs translated as he spoke and he commanded already include this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that it was Yahweh and no other who spoke and commanded. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [he himself spoke and it came to be; he himself commanded, and it stood]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and it came to be; he, he commanded, and it stood UST making the world exist. Everything started to exist because he is the one who commanded it (וַיֶּֽהִי הֽוּא־צִוָּ֖ה וַיַּעֲמֹֽד)

The pronoun it refers to the earth. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [and the earth came to be; he, he commanded, and the earth stood]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT and it stood
> UST Everything started to exist
> (וַיֵּעָמֹד)

By it stood, the psalmist means that the earth came into existence or was created. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and it was created]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Psalms 33:10

ULT	UST
Yahweh frustrates the counsel of nations; he thwarts the plans of peoples.	Yahweh stops the nations from doing what they plan to do. He prevents the peoples from carrying out what they decide.

ULT Yahweh frustrates the counsel of nations; he thwarts the plans of peoples
UST Yahweh stops the nations from doing what they plan to do. He prevents the peoples from carrying out what they decide (יְהוָה הֵפִיר עֲצַת־גּוֹיִם הֵנִיא מַחְשְׁבוֹת עַמִּים)

See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of phrases in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [Yahweh prevents the people of the nations from accomplishing what they plan]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the counsel of nations
UST the nations from doing what they plan to do
(עֲצַת־גּוֹיִם)

Here, nations represents either the people of the nations or the leaders of the nations. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the counsel of the leaders of other nations]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the counsel of nations
UST the nations from doing what they plan to do
(עֲצַת־גּוֹיִם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of counsel, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what nations decide to do]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the plans of peoples
UST the peoples from carrying out what they decide (מַחְשְׁבוֹת עַמִּים)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of plans, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what the people plan to do]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
the counsel of	from doing what they plan to do
nations	the nations

Psalms 33:11

ULT	UST
The counsel of Yahweh stands forever, the plans of his heart, to generation and generation.	However, what Yahweh decides to do will last forever. What he plans to do will never change.

ULT The counsel of Yahweh stands forever, the plans of his heart, to generation and generation
UST However, what Yahweh decides to do will last forever. What he plans to do will never change
(עֲצַת יְהוָה לְעוֹלָם תַּעֲמֹד מַחְשְׁבוֹת לִבּוֹ לְדֹר וָדֹר)

See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of phrases in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [What Yahweh has decided will endure through all generations]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT The counsel of Yahweh
UST However, what Yahweh decides to do
(עֲצַת יְהוָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of counsel, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Everything Yahweh decides]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT stands forever
UST will last forever
(לְעוֹלָם תַּעֲמֹד)

Here the psalmist is speaking of Yahweh's counsel as if it were something that could stand in the sense of remaining upright and stable for all time. He means that Yahweh's decisions are permanent and will never change or fail. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [endures forever]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the plans of his heart, to generation and generation
UST What he plans to do will never change
(מַחְשְׁבוֹת לְבּוֹ לְדֹר וְדֹר)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the plans of his heart stand to generation and generation]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT the plans of his heart
UST What he plans to do
(מַחְשְׁבוֹת לְבּוֹ)

Here the heart represents where Yahweh's thoughts and intentions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his intentions]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to generation and generation
UST will never change
(לְדֹר וְדֹר)

The psalmist is using to generation and generation as a common expression of his culture to mean "forever" or "through all time." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [through all generations] or [forever]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The counsel of	However, what & decides to do
Yahweh	Yahweh
forever	forever
to generation	will never change
and generation	will never change

Psalms 33:12

ULT	UST
The happiness of the nation which Yahweh {is} its God, the people he chose for an inheritance for himself.	What a good life people have when Yahweh is the God of their nation; he chose those people to belong to him.

ULT The happiness of the nation
UST What a good life people have & of their nation
(אַשְׁרֵי הַגּוֹי)

The psalmist is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling of joy or blessing. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is the nation] or [How blessed will be the nation]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT of the nation
UST people have & of their nation
(הַגּוֹי)

Here, nation represents the people of the nations. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the people of the nation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT for an inheritance for himself
UST to belong to him
(לְנַחֲלָה לוֹ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of the people as if they were an inheritance that Yahweh received as a possession. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to be his own possession]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the nation	people have & of their nation
Yahweh	Yahweh is
is} its God	the God
for an inheritance	to belong to him

Psalms 33:13

ULT	UST
From the heavens, Yahweh looks down; he sees all of the sons of man.	Yahweh looks down from heaven; he sees all human beings.

ULT From the heavens, Yahweh looks down; he sees all of the sons of man

UST Yahweh looks down from heaven; he sees all human beings

(מִשָּׁ֣ם הִבִּ֣יט יְהוָ֣ה רָ֭אָה אֶת־כָּל־בְּנֵ֣י הָאָדָֽם)

See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of phrases in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [From the heavens, Yahweh looks down, indeed he sees all the sons of man]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the sons of man

UST human beings

(בְּנֵ֣י הָאָדָֽם)

The psalmist is using the sons of man as a common expression of the culture to mean “human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [humanity] or [the people]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
From the heavens	from heaven
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 33:14

ULT	UST
From the place of his dwelling he gazes at all of the dwellers of the earth,	From the place where he lives he watches everyone who lives on the earth.

ULT From the place of his dwelling he gazes
UST From the place where he lives he watches
(מִמְּכוֹן־שִׁבְתּוֹ הִשְׁגִּיחַ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a person who gazes from a physical place of his dwelling. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [From where he rules, he watches carefully]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 33:15

ULT	UST
the one forming their hearts together, the one understanding all of their works.	He created each person's heart, and he knows everything that they do.

ULT the one forming their hearts together
UST He created each person's heart
(הַיֹּצֵר יַחַד לִבָּם)

Here the hearts represents their inner person, including thoughts and desires. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one forming all of their inner beings]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the one understanding	and he knows

Psalms 33:16

ULT	UST
The king is not saved by a great army; a warrior is not delivered by great strength.	It is not because a king has a great army that he is able to win {battles}, and it is not because a soldier is very strong that he is able to defeat {his enemy}.

ULT The king is not saved by a great army
UST It is not because a king has a great army that he is able to win {battles
(אֵין־הַמֶּלֶךְ נוֹשָׁע בְּרֹב־חָיִל)

The expression is not saved is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A great army does not save the king]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT a warrior is not delivered by great strength
UST and it is not because a soldier is very strong that he is able to defeat {his enemy
(גִּבּוֹר לֹא־יִנָּצֵל בְּרֹב־כֹּחַ)

The expression is not delivered is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [great strength does not deliver a warrior]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT by great strength
UST and it is & because & is very strong (בְּרֹב־כֹּחַ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by being very strong]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The king	a king
is & saved	that he is able to win {battles
a warrior	a soldier
not delivered	not

Psalms 33:17

ULT	UST
The horse {is} a falsehood for salvation, and by its great strength, it does not deliver.	It is foolish to hope that a horse can save anyone; even with its great strength, it cannot rescue {its rider}.

ULT The horse {is} a falsehood for salvation, and by its great strength, it does not deliver
UST It is foolish to hope that a horse can save anyone; even with its great strength, it cannot rescue {its rider
(שֶׁקֶר הַסּוּס לִתְשׁוּעָה וּבְרֹב חֵילוֹ לֹא יְמַלָּט)

See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of phrases in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [The horse is a falsehood for salvation, indeed, by its great strength, it does not deliver]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT The horse {is} a falsehood for salvation
UST It is foolish to hope that a horse can save anyone (שֶׁקֶר הַסּוּס לִתְשׁוּעָה)

Here the psalmist is speaking of the horse as if it were a lie or a falsehood because it gives a false sense of security. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The horse gives a false sense of security]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT The horse
UST a horse
(הַסּוּס)

The psalmist is using one part of an army, a horse, to represent the strongest part of the army. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Having an army with strong horses]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT for salvation
UST can save anyone
(לִתְשׁוּעָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for saving anyone]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The horse	a horse
for salvation	can save anyone
it does & deliver	it & rescue {its rider

Psalms 33:18

ULT	UST
Behold, the eye of Yahweh {is} toward the fearers of him, toward those hoping for his covenant faithfulness,	Note this: Yahweh watches over those who deeply revere him; He watches over those who confidently expect him to faithfully love them,

ULT Behold
UST Note this
(הִנֵּה)

The psalmist is using the term Behold to focus his listeners' attention on what he is about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Look] or [Pay attention]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the eye of Yahweh
UST Yahweh watches over
(עֵין יְהוָה)

Here, the eye of Yahweh represents Yahweh's watchful care and attention. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the watchful attention of Yahweh]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT for his covenant faithfulness
UST him to faithfully love them
(לְחַסְדּוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that he will faithfully keep his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
toward those hoping	He watches over those who confidently expect for his covenant faithfulness	him to faithfully love them

Psalms 33:19

ULT	UST
to deliver their soul from death and to keep them alive in the famine.	to save them from dying and to preserve them alive through any famine.

ULT their soul
UST them
(נַפְשָׁם)

The psalmist is using soul to represent the people who fear Yahweh themselves from the perspective of their spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who fear him]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to deliver	to save
their soul	them
in the famine	through any famine

Psalms 33:20

ULT	UST
Our soul waits for Yahweh; he {is} our help and our shield.	We trust that Yahweh will take care of us; he will help us and protect us.

ULT Our soul waits for Yahweh
UST We trust that Yahweh will take care of us
(נַפְשֵׁנוּ חִכְּתָה לַיהוָה)

The psalmist is using Our soul to represent the himself and the people from the perspective of their spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [We ourselves wait for Yahweh]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT is} our help and our shield
UST will help us and protect us
(עֶזְרֵנוּ וּמָגִנֵּנוּ)

The terms our help and our shield mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [our sure protector]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT is} our help and our shield
UST will help us and protect us
(עֶזְרֵנוּ וּמָגִנֵּנוּ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of Yahweh protecting his people as if he were a battle shield. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is our helper and our protector]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Our soul	We trust that & will take care of us
for Yahweh	Yahweh
and our shield	and protect us

Psalms 33:21

ULT	UST
For in him our heart rejoices; for in the name of his holiness we trust.	Indeed, he makes us very joyful; we trust him because he is holy.

ULT our heart rejoices
UST makes us very joyful
(יִשְׂמַח לִבֵּנוּ)

Here the our hearts represents their inner person, including thoughts and desires. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [we rejoice in our inner beings]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the name of his holiness
UST he is holy (בְּשֵׁם קָדְשׁוֹ)

The psalmist is using the term name to represent who Yahweh is and his character. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in Yahweh's holiness]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
rejoices	makes & very joyful
his holiness	he is holy
we trust	we trust him

Psalms 33:22

ULT	UST
Let your covenant faithfulness, Yahweh, be upon us, just as we have hoped in you.	Yahweh, we pray that you will always faithfully love us, while we confidently wait for you {to help us}.

ULT Let your covenant faithfulness, Yahweh, be upon us
UST Yahweh, we pray that you will always faithfully love us
(יְהִי־חַסְדְּךָ יְהוָה עָלֵינוּ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a prayer request rather than a command. The psalmist is asking Yahweh for something. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please let your covenant faithfulness, Yahweh, be upon us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Let your covenant faithfulness, Yahweh, be upon us
UST Yahweh, we pray that you will always faithfully love us
(יְהִי־חַסְדְּךָ יְהוָה עָלֵינוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [May you be faithful to your covenant with us, Yahweh]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	faithfully love us
Yahweh	Yahweh
we have hoped	we confidently wait

Psalms 34

Psalms 34 Introduction

Psalm 34 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 34 is a “psalm of thanksgiving.” It teaches that living right leads to a good life.

1. Praise Yahweh and testify of his deliverance (1–7)
2. Invite others to trust and fear Yahweh (8–14)
3. Yahweh watches over and rescues the righteous (15–22)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Yahweh’s help

Good people can have problems, but God brings them through these. (See: good, right, pleasant, better, best, goodness)

Psalms 34:1

ULT	UST
I shall bless Yahweh at all times; continually his praise {is} in my mouth.	I will always thank Yahweh; I will constantly praise him out loud.

ULT I shall bless Yahweh at all times; continually his praise {is} in my mouth
UST I will always thank Yahweh; I will constantly praise him out loud (אֲבָרֲכָה אֶת־יְהוָה בְּכָל־עֵת תָּמִיד תְּהִלָּתוֹ בְּפִי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [I will praise Yahweh without ceasing] or [I will bless Yahweh at all times, indeed, continually his praise is in my mouth]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT his praise {is} in my mouth
UST I will & praise him out loud
(תְּהִלָּתוֹ בְּפִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [praising him with my mouth]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his praise {is} in my mouth
UST I will & praise him out loud
(תְּהִלָּתוֹ בְּפִי)

Here, my mouth represents David's speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I shall praise him with my words]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I shall bless	I will & thank
Yahweh	Yahweh
his praise	I will & praise him

Psalms 34:2

ULT	UST
In Yahweh my soul will boast; the humble will hear and rejoice.	I will boast about {what} Yahweh {has done for me}. All of the humble people who hear me will rejoice.

ULT my soul will boast
UST I will boast about {what & has done for me
(תִּתְהַלֵּל נַפְשִׁי)

Here, my soul represents David himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I will boast]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the humble
UST All of the humble people
(עֲנָוִים)

David is using the adjective humble as a noun to mean people who are humble. If your language would not use an adjective this way, you could translate it with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [those who are humble]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
In Yahweh	Yahweh
my soul	I
will boast	will boast about {what & has done for me
the humble	All of the humble people and rejoice	will rejoice

Psalms 34:3

ULT	UST
Magnify Yahweh with me, and let us exalt his name together.	Join with me in telling others that Yahweh is great, and let us together proclaim how glorious he is!

ULT Magnify Yahweh with me, and let us exalt his name together
UST Join with me in telling others that Yahweh is great, and let us together proclaim how glorious he is (גַּדְּלוּ לַיהוָה אִתִּי וּנְרוֹמְמָה שְׁמוֹ יַחְדָּו)

See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Let us declare together that Yahweh is great]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Magnify Yahweh with me
UST Join with me in telling others that Yahweh is great (גַּדְּלוּ לַיהוָה אִתִּי)

Here David is speaking of praising Yahweh as if Yahweh were something that they could Magnify or make larger. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Everyone should join me in telling others about how great Yahweh is]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and let us exalt his name together
UST and let us together proclaim how glorious he is (וּנְרוֹמְמָה שְׁמוֹ יַחְדָּו)

This is an imperative, but it communicates an exhortation rather than a command. David is encouraging the people to worship. If the imperative does not communicate an exhortation for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates an exhortation or invitation. Alternate translation: [and we should all exalt his name]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT his name
UST how glorious he is (שְׁמוֹ)

Here, his name represents Yahweh himself and his reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [everything about him]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and let us exalt	and let us & proclaim
Magnify & and let us exalt	in telling others that & is great, and let us & proclaim

Psalms 34:4

ULT	UST
I sought Yahweh, and he answered me, and from all of my fears he delivered me.	I prayed to Yahweh, and he answered me; he rescued me from everything that I was afraid of.

ULT I sought Yahweh
UST I prayed to Yahweh
(דָּרַשְׁתִּי אֶת־יְהוָה)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a lost object which could be sought and found. He means that the people should pray to Yahweh and desire to be in his presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I asked Yahweh for help]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he answered me
UST and he answered me
(וְעָנֵנִי)

David is using answered me as a common expression of the culture to mean “acted on my behalf” in response to a request. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he acted in my behalf]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT my fears
UST that I was afraid of (מְגוּרוֹתַי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fears, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [all the things I feared]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I sought	I prayed to
Yahweh	Yahweh
my fears	that I was afraid of
he delivered me	he rescued me

Psalms 34:5

ULT	UST
They look to him and are radiant; let their faces not have shame.	Those who ask him {to help them} will be joyful; may Yahweh always provide for them.

ULT They look
UST Those who ask
(הִבִּ֥יטוּ)

Here, They refers to those who seek Yahweh mentioned in the previous verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Those who seek Yahweh look]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They look to him
UST Those who ask him {to help them
(הִבִּ֥יטוּ אֵלָ֑יו)

David is using look to him as a common expression of the culture to mean to “trust in Yahweh and ask him for help.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They trust him to help them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and are radiant
UST will be joyful
(וְנֶהָ֗רוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of the joy and gladness those who trust Yahweh feel as if they were shining with radiant light. If it would be helpful for your readers, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and are glad]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT let their faces not have shame
UST may Yahweh always provide for them
(וּפְנֵיהֶ֥ם אַל־יֶחְפָּֽרוּ)

The expression let their faces not have shame was a common expression meaning that they would not be ashamed because of some public failure or discouraged. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly or state it positively as in the UST. Alternate translation: [they should never be put to shame]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
let & have shame	may Yahweh always provide for

Psalms 34:6

ULT	UST
This afflicted {one} called, and Yahweh heard, and from all of his troubles he saved him.	I was suffering, but I called out to Yahweh, and he heard me. He saved me from all of the things that were troubling me.

ULT This afflicted {one
UST I was suffering
(זֶה עָנִי)

David is using the adjective afflicted as a noun to mean a person who is afflicted. Here David is referring to himself. If your language would not use an adjective this way, you could translate it with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [I was the suffering person who]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and Yahweh heard
UST to Yahweh, and he heard me
(וַיהוָה שָׁמֵעַ)

David assumes that readers will know that Yahweh heard means he listened to his prayer and responded favorably to it. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and Yahweh did what I asked]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT his troubles
UST the things that were troubling me
(צָרוֹתָיו)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of troubles, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the things that were troubling him]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
afflicted {one	was suffering
called	but I called out and Yahweh	to Yahweh
his troubles	the things that were troubling me
he saved him	He saved me

Psalms 34:7

ULT	UST
The angel of Yahweh is encamping around the fearers of him, and he rescues them.	An angel representing Yahweh guards people who deeply revere Yahweh, and the angel rescues them {from bad things}.

ULT The angel of Yahweh is encamping around the fearers of him
UST An angel representing Yahweh guards people who deeply revere Yahweh
(חֹנֶה מַלְאַךְ־יְהוָה סָבִיב לִירֵאָיו)

David is speaking of the angel protecting God's people as if the angel were an army encamping around them to protect them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The angel of Yahweh stands guard around those who fear him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT The angel of Yahweh
UST An angel representing Yahweh
(מַלְאַךְ־יְהוָה)

David is using the possessive form to describe an angel that is sent by Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The angel sent by Yahweh]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The angel of	An angel representing
Yahweh	Yahweh
the fearers of him	people who deeply revere Yahweh
and he rescues them	and the angel rescues them {from bad things

Psalms 34:8

ULT	UST
Taste and see that Yahweh {is} good; the happinesses of the man—he takes refuge in him!	Experience for yourselves how good Yahweh is! Everyone who trusts in Yahweh will be truly happy!

ULT the happinesses of
UST will be truly happy
(אַשְׁרֵי)

David is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling of joy or blessing. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT the man—he takes refuge
UST Everyone who trusts
(הַגֶּבֶר יֶחֱסֶה)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the person who takes refuge]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT he takes refuge in him
UST who trusts in Yahweh
(יֶחֱסֶה־בּוֹ)

David is speaking of trusting in Yahweh as if it were physically seeking shelter or refuge in a safe place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he puts his trust in him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Taste and see that Yahweh {is} good UST Experience for yourselves how good Yahweh is (טַעֲמוּ וּרְאוּ כִּי־טוֹב יְהוָה)

David is speaking of experiencing Yahweh’s goodness as if it were some kind of food one could Taste and see. He means that one can discover Yahweh’s goodness by personal trial and experience. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Try for yourself and discover that Yahweh is good]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
is} good	how good & is the happinesses of	will be truly happy
he takes refuge	who trusts

Psalms 34:9

ULT	UST
Fear Yahweh, his holy {ones}, for there is no lack for the fearers of him.	All you people who belong to Yahweh, deeply revere him, because those who deeply revere him will always have everything that they need.

ULT his holy {ones
UST All you people who belong to (קְדֹשָׁיו)

David is using the adjective holy as a noun to mean people who belong to Yahweh and are set apart for him. If your language would not use an adjective this way, you could translate it with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [his people who are set apart for him]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT there is no lack
UST will always have everything that they need
(אֵין מַחְסוֹר)

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word lack. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [there is provision]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT lack
UST will always have everything that they need (מַחְסוֹר)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of lack, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [going without anything they need]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Fear	deeply revere
Yahweh	Yahweh & him
his holy {ones	All you people who belong to

Psalms 34:10

ULT	UST
Young lions are poor and hungry, but the seekers of Yahweh will not lack any good {thing}.	{Even} young lions {sometimes} go hungry and have nothing to eat, but people who trust in Yahweh for help will always have the good {things that they need}.

ULT will not lack UST will always have (לֹא־יַחְסְרוּ)

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word lack. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this as modeled in the UST.

Support Reference: Double Negatives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Young lions	Even} young lions
but the seekers of	but people who trust in & for help
Yahweh	Yahweh
good {thing	the good {things that they need

Psalms 34:11

ULT	UST
Come, sons, listen to me; the fear of Yahweh I will teach you.	You who are my students, come and listen to me, and I will teach you how to deeply revere Yahweh.

ULT sons
UST You who are my students
(בָּנִים)

Although the term sons is masculine, David is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [children]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT sons
UST You who are my students
(בָּנִים)

David is speaking of his listeners as if they were his sons. He means that they are his students whom he will instruct. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [students]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the fear	how to deeply revere
of Yahweh	Yahweh
I will teach you	and I will teach you

Psalms 34:12

ULT	UST
Who {is} the man, the {one} desiring life, loving days to see good?	If any of you want to truly live and to enjoy a good, long life,

ULT Who {is} the man, the {one} desiring life, loving days to see good
UST If any of you want to truly live and to enjoy a good, long life
(מִי־הָאִישׁ הֶחָפֵץ חַיִּים אֹהֵב יָמִים לִרְאוֹת טוֹב)

David is using the question form for emphasis. If you would not use the question form for that purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement. Alternate translation: [If you want to live and enjoy a long time of seeing good, then do what follows.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT is} the man
UST If any of you want
(הָאִישׁ)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [is the person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT life
UST to truly live
(חַיִּים)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to live]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT days
UST long life
(יָמִים)

Here, days represents one's lifespan or period of living. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to live a long time]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
loving	and to enjoy
good	a good

Psalms 34:13

ULT	UST
Guard your tongue from evil, and your lips from speaking deceit.	then be careful to not say things that are harmful, and to not tell lies.

ULT Guard your tongue from evil, and your lips from speaking deceit
UST then be careful to not say things that are harmful, and to not tell lies (נְצֹר לְשׁוֹנְךָ מֵרָע וּשְׂפָתֶיךָ מִדַּבֵּר מִרְמָה)

See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of phrases in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [Do not say anything that is evil or deceptive]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT your tongue from evil
UST not say things that are harmful
(לְשׁוֹנְךָ מֵרָע)

David is using one part of a person, their tongue, to mean all of them in the act of speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [yourself from speaking evil words]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT and your lips from speaking deceit
UST and to not tell lies
(וּשְׂפָתֶיךָ מִדַּבֵּר מִרְמָה)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [guard your lips from speaking deceit]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT and your lips from speaking deceit
UST and to not tell lies
(וּשְׂפָתֶיךָ מִדַּבֵּר מִרְמָה)

David is using one part of a person, their lips, to mean all of them in the act of speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and yourself from deceptive speech]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT from evil & deceit
> UST things that are harmful & lies
> (מֵרָע & מִרְמָה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of evil and deceit, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [from saying evil things … deceitful things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Guard	then be careful to your tongue	not say
from evil	things that are harmful deceit	lies

Psalms 34:14

ULT	UST
Turn away from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it.	Stop doing what is evil and instead do what is good; always strive to live peacefully with others.

ULT Turn away from evil
UST Stop doing what is evil
(סוּר מֵרָע)

David is speaking of doing what is evil as if it were walking on a path that a person could stop doing or Turn away from. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Refuse to do what is evil]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Turn away from evil
UST Stop doing what is evil
(סוּר מֵרָע)

This is an imperative, but it communicates an exhortation rather than a command. The psalmist is exhorting his students to stay away from evil. If the imperative does not communicate an exhortation for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates an exhortation. Alternate translation: [You should turn away from evil]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it
UST what is evil and instead do what is good; always strive to live peacefully with others
(מֵרָע וַעֲשֵׂה־טּוֹב בַּקֵּשׁ שָׁלוֹם וְרָדְפֵהוּ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of evil, good, and peace, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [from doing what is wrong and do what is right; strive to live at peace with others and pursue living peacefully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT seek peace and pursue it
UST always strive to live peacefully with others
(בַּקֵּשׁ שָׁלוֹם וְרָדְפֵהוּ)

The terms seek and pursue mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [earnestly strive to live peacefully]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from evil	what is evil
good	what is good
seek	always strive
peace	to live peacefully with others

Psalms 34:15

ULT	UST
The eyes of Yahweh {are} toward the righteous, and his ears {are} toward their cry.	Yahweh pays attention to people who do what is right, and he listens when they call {to him to help them}.

ULT The eyes of Yahweh {are} toward the righteous
UST Yahweh pays attention to people who do what is right
(עֵינֵי יְהוָה אֶל־צַדִּיקִים)

Here, eyes represent Yahweh's attention and watchful care. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh watchfully cares for the righteous]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the righteous
UST people who do what is right
(צַדִּיקִים)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean people who do what is right. If your language would not use an adjective this way, you could translate it with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and his ears {are} toward their cry
UST and he listens when they call {to him to help them
(וְאָזְנָיו אֶל־שַׁוְעָתָם)

Here, ears represents Yahweh's attentive responsiveness to prayer. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and he listens attentively to their cry]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT their cry
UST when they call {to him to help them
(שַׁוְעָתָם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of cry, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [them when they cry]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
the righteous	people who do what is right
their cry	when they call {to him to help them

Psalms 34:16

ULT	UST
The face of Yahweh {is} against the doers of evil, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.	But Yahweh opposes people who do what is evil. He does not allow their descendants to remain on the earth.

ULT The face of Yahweh {is} against the doers of evil
UST But Yahweh opposes people who do what is evil
(פְּנֵי יְהוָה בְּעֹשֵׂי רָע)

Here, face of Yahweh represents his active presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh sets himself against the doers of evil]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to cut off their remembrance from the earth
UST He does not allow their descendants to remain on the earth
(לְהַכְרִית מֵאֶרֶץ זִכְרָם)

Here, their remembrance represents the lasting legacy or memory that people leave behind. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [so that no one on earth will remember them]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to cut off
UST He does not allow & to remain
(לְהַכְרִית)

The psalmist is using cut off as a common expression of the culture to mean “destroy” or “remove.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to remove]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT evil & their remembrance
UST what is evil & their descendants
(רָע & זִכְרָם)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of evil and remembrance, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [what is wicked … any trace of them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	But Yahweh
evil	what is evil
from the earth	on the earth

Psalms 34:17

ULT	UST
They cry out, and Yahweh hears, and from all of their troubles he delivers them.	People who do what is right cry out to Yahweh, and he hears them; he rescues them from all the things that trouble them.

ULT They cry out
UST People who do what is right cry out to (צָעֲקוּ)

Here, They refers to the righteous people mentioned in verse 15. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the referent explicitly. Alternate translation: [Righteous people cry out]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and Yahweh hears
UST Yahweh, and he hears them
(וַיהוָה שָׁמֵעַ)

David assumes that readers will know that Yahweh hears means he listens to their prayer and responds favorably to it. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and Yahweh did what they asked]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
They cry out	People who do what is right cry out to
and Yahweh	Yahweh
their troubles	the things that trouble them
he delivers them	he rescues them

Psalms 34:18

ULT	UST
Yahweh {is} near to the broken of heart, and the crushed of spirit he saves.	Yahweh is always ready to help people who are very sad, and he saves people who are deeply discouraged.

ULT Yahweh {is} near UST Yahweh is always ready to help
(קָרוֹב יְהוָה)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh's availability or willingness to help as if he were standing right beside or near to those who cry out to him for help. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will always give help]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to the broken of heart
UST people who are very sad
(לְנִשְׁבְּרֵי־לֵב)

David is using broken of heart as a common expression of his culture to mean "overwhelmed with grief." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to those who are overwhelmed with grief]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT and the crushed of spirit
UST and & people who are deeply discouraged
(וְאֶת־דַּכְּאֵי־רוּחַ)

David is using crushed of spirit as a common expression of his culture to mean "in deep despair." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and those who have lost all hope]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
spirit	people who are deeply discouraged
he saves	he saves

Psalms 34:19

ULT	UST
Many {are} the evils of the righteous, but Yahweh delivers him from all of them.	People who do what is right experience many bad things, but Yahweh rescues them from all of those bad things.

ULT are} the evils of the righteous
UST People who do what is right & bad things
(רָעוֹת צַדִּיק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evils, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [trials can happen to the righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT of the righteous
UST People who do what is right
(צַדִּיק)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a person who does what is right. If your language would not use an adjective this way, you could translate it with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [of the righteous person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT but Yahweh delivers him from all of them
UST but Yahweh rescues them from all of those bad things (וּמִכֻּלָּם יַצִּילֵנוּ יְהוָה)

Here, him refers to the righteous and them refers to the evils they experience. David uses the singular him to refer to the righteous as a collective group. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [but Yahweh delivers each one of the righteous from all of those troubles]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
are} the evils	bad things of the righteous	People who do what is right
Yahweh	but Yahweh
delivers him	rescues them

Psalms 34:20

ULT	UST
He is guarding all of his bones; not one of them is broken.	Yahweh protects their whole body; he does not allow {their enemies} to break even one of their bones.

ULT He is guarding all of his bones
UST Yahweh protects their whole body
(שֹׁמֵ֥ר כָּל־עַצְמוֹתָ֑יו)

Here, He refers to Yahweh, and his refers to the righteous person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is guarding all of the righteous person's bones]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT all of his bones
UST their whole body
(כָּל־עַצְמוֹתָ֑יו)

David is using one part of the body, his bones, to mean the whole physical body of the righteous person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [his physical body]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT not one of them is broken
UST he does not allow {their enemies} to break even one of their bones (אַחַ֖ת מֵהֵ֣נָּה לֹ֣א נִשְׁבָּרָֽה)

The expression is broken is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [nothing breaks any one of them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
He is guarding	Yahweh protects

Psalms 34:21

ULT	UST
Evil will put to death the wicked, and the haters of the righteous will be guilty.	Wicked people will cause themselves to die because of the evil things that they do, and Yahweh will punish those who hate righteous people.

ULT Evil will put to death the wicked
UST Wicked people will cause themselves to die because of the evil things that they do (תְּמוֹתֵת רָשָׁע רָעָה)

David speaks of Evil as if it were a person who could kill the wicked. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this meaning in a non-figurative way. Alternate translation: [The evil deeds of the wicked will destroy them]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT the wicked & the righteous
UST Wicked people & righteous people
(רָשָׁע & צַדִּיק)

David is using the adjectives the wicked and the righteous as nouns to mean people who are wicked and people who are righteous. If your language would not use adjectives this way, you could translate them with equivalent expressions. Alternate translation: [those who are wicked … those who are righteous]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Evil	because of the evil things that they do will put to death	will cause themselves to die
the wicked	Wicked people
and the haters of	those who hate
the righteous	righteous people will be guilty	and Yahweh will punish

Psalms 34:22

ULT	UST
Yahweh is redeeming the soul of his servants, and everyone taking refuge in him will not be guilty.	Yahweh saves those who serve him, and he will forgive all who trust in him.

ULT the soul of his servants
UST those who serve him
(נֶפֶשׁ עֲבָדָיו)

David is using the term soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the lives of those who worship him]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT taking refuge in him
UST who trust in him
(הַחֹסִים בּוֹ)

David is speaking of trusting in Yahweh as if he were a physical location, a refuge, that could provide safety and protection. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [trusting in him for protection]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
is redeeming	saves
the soul of	those
his servants	who serve him
taking refuge	who trust
will & be guilty	and he will forgive

Psalms 34:front

> ULT to the face of
> UST in front of
> (לִפְנֵי)

Here, to the face of represents being in the presence of or in front of the king. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in the presence of] or [in front of]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT and he sent him away and he left
> UST so that the king would send him away
> (וַיְגָרְשֵׁהוּ וַיֵּלֶךְ)

The pronoun in he sent him refers to Abimelech, while the pronouns in him away and he left refer to David. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [and the king sent David away and David left]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Of David	David wrote this psalm
Abimelech	King Abimelech

Psalms 35

Psalms 35 Introduction

Psalm 35 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

This psalm is considered to be one of the “imprecatory psalms.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the imprecatory psalms.

1. Ask Yahweh to fight against adversaries (1–10)
2. Lament unjust hatred and false accusations (11–18)
3. Pray for vindication and justice from Yahweh (19–28)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Enemies

When David’s enemies were sick, he tried to comfort them, but when he was in trouble his enemies used this as a time to attack him.

Translation Issues in this Psalm

Imperatives

Throughout this psalm, David is requesting things from Yahweh by using an imperative form which may sound like a command in your language. If this would be impolite in your language to address a superior in this way, then use a form that would be more appropriate for addressing Yahweh with a request.

Psalms 35:1

ULT	UST
Of David Yahweh, oppose my opponents; fight those fighting me.	A psalm of David. Yahweh, be the enemy of my enemies! Defend me against those who attack me!

ULT Yahweh, oppose my opponents; fight those fighting me
UST Yahweh, be the enemy of my enemies! Defend me against those who attack me
(רִיבָה יְהוָה אֶת־יְרִיבַי לְחַם אֶת־לֹחֲמָי)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [contend against those who fight against me]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Yahweh, oppose my opponents; fight those fighting me
UST Yahweh, be the enemy of my enemies! Defend me against those who attack me
(רִיבָה יְהוָה אֶת־יְרִיבַי לְחַם אֶת־לֹחֲמָי)

The words oppose and fight are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. If the imperatives do not communicate polite requests for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. Here and throughout the psalm where this form is used, it may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, please oppose my opponents; please fight those fighting me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT oppose my opponents; fight those fighting me
UST be the enemy of my enemies! Defend me against those who attack me
(רִיבָה & אֶת־יְרִיבַי לְחַם אֶת־לֹחֲמָי)

David is using a construction in which a verb and its object come from the same root in both of these phrases. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of saying this. Alternate translation: [go to battle against my enemies; fight against those who are attacking me]

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 35:2

ULT	UST
Grab the small shield and large shield; rise up as my helper!	Protect me like a soldier who has both of his shields, and come to help me!

> ULT rise up
> UST and come
> (וְקוּמָה)

David is using rise up as a common expression of the culture to ask Yahweh to take action. He is not telling him to get out of bed or stand up from a seated position. If this expression does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [take action]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the small shield	Protect me like a soldier who has both of his shields and large shield	Protect me like a soldier who has both of his shields

Psalms 35:3

ULT	UST
Draw out spear and javelin to meet those chasing me; say to my soul, “I {am} your salvation.”	Take your spear and javelin and confront those who are pursuing me! Tell me, “I am the one who saves you.”

ULT Draw out spear and javelin
UST Take your spear and javelin
(וְהָרֵק חֲנִית וּסְגֹר)

The terms spear and javelin mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Draw out your weapons]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT say to my soul
UST Tell me
(אֱמֹר לְנַפְשִׁי)

David is using the term my soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [assure me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT your salvation
UST I am the one who saves you
(יְשׁוּעָתֵךְ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the one who rescues you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
spear	your spear
to my soul	Tell me
your salvation	I am the one who saves you

Psalms 35:4

ULT	UST
May those who seek my life have shame and be dishonored. May those who plan my harm be turned back and confounded.	Please defeat and dishonor those who want to kill me, and make those who plan to harm me become confused and turn back.

ULT May those who seek my life have shame and be dishonored. May those who plan my harm be turned back and confounded
UST Please defeat and dishonor those who want to kill me, and make those who plan to harm me become confused and turn back
(יֵבֹשׁוּ וְיִכָּלְמוּ מְבַקְשֵׁי נַפְשִׁי יִסֹּגוּ אָחוֹר וְיֵחָפְרוּ חֹשְׁבֵי רָעָתִי)

In this verse and throughout the psalm, David is saying what he wants Yahweh to do. See the discussion in the introduction to this book about “let” and “may” and follow the decision of your team of how a speaker will express in this context what he wants someone to do.

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT May those who seek my life have shame and be dishonored
UST Please defeat and dishonor those who want to kill me
(יֵבֹשׁוּ וְיִכָּלְמוּ מְבַקְשֵׁי נַפְשִׁי)

The expressions have shame and be dishonored mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [May those who want to kill me be utterly disgraced]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT those who seek my life
UST those who want to kill me
(מְבַקְשֵׁי נַפְשִׁי)

David is using seek my life as a common expression to mean “try to kill me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who try to kill me]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT and be dishonored
UST and dishonor
(וְיִכָּלְמוּ)

The expression be dishonored is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Yahweh. Alternate translation: [and may Yahweh dishonor them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT May those who plan my harm be turned back and confounded
UST and make those who plan to harm me become confused and turn back
(יִסֹּגוּ אָחוֹר וְיַחְפְּרוּ חֹשְׁבֵי רָעָתִי)

Here David is speaking of being unable to accomplish a goal as if the enemies were walking one direction and had to be turned back. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May those who plan my harm be unsuccessful and confused]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT May those who plan my harm be turned back and confounded
UST and make those who plan to harm me become confused and turn back
(יִסֹּגוּ אָחוֹר וְיַחְפְּרוּ חֹשְׁבֵי רָעָתִי)

The expression be turned back is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Yahweh. Alternate translation: [May Yahweh cause those who plan my harm to be unsuccessful and confused]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
those who seek	those who want to kill me
May & have shame	Please defeat and be dishonored	and dishonor
my harm	to harm me

Psalms 35:5

ULT	UST
May they be as chaff before the wind, and the angel of Yahweh driving {them} away.	May an angel from Yahweh chase them away so that they disappear like chaff in the wind.

ULT as chaff before the wind
UST like chaff in the wind
(כְּמֹ֣ץ לִפְנֵי־ר֑וּחַ)

The point of this comparison is that just as chaff is easily blown away by the wind, so David's enemies will be easily scattered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [easily scattered like chaff before the wind]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
as chaff	like chaff
and the angel of	an angel from
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 35:6

ULT	UST
May their way be dark and slippery places, and the angel of Yahweh chasing them.	May their lives be like running on a path that is dark and slippery, while an angel from Yahweh pursues them!

ULT May their way be dark and slippery places
UST May their lives be like running on a path that is dark and slippery (יְהִי־דַרְכָּם חֹשֶׁךְ וְחַלַקְלַקּוֹת)

David is speaking of how his enemies live as if that were a way or path that they were walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May their lives be full of danger and uncertainty]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT chasing them
UST pursues them
(רֹדְפָם)

Here David is speaking of keeping the enemies from harming him as if the angel of Yahweh were physically running and chasing them away. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [keeps them from harming me]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and the angel	while an angel from
of Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 35:7

ULT	UST
For without cause they hid for me a pit, their net; without cause they dug for my life.	Please do these things to them, because I have not done anything wrong to them, yet they try to kill me. It is as though they hide nets and dig pits for me to walk into!

ULT For without cause they hid for me a pit, their net; without cause they dug for my life
UST Please do these things to them, because I have not done anything wrong to them, yet they try to kill me. It is as though they hide nets and dig pits for me to walk into (כִּי־חִנָּם טָמְנוּ־לִי שַׁחַת רִשְׁתָּם חִנָּם חָפְרוּ לְנַפְשִׁי)

The phrases they hid for me a pit, their net; without cause they dug for my life is a translation of the written Hebrew text. This reading, however, does not seem to make sense. Scholars have proposed that a scribe may have accidentally switched the order of the words for “pit” and “their net.” Many translations put “their net” first so that “a pit” begins the second line, and you may want to do the same. Alternate translation: [For they hid for me their net; a pit without cause they dug for my life]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT they hid for me a pit, their net
UST It is as though they hide nets & pits for me to walk into (טָמְנוּ־לִי שַׁחַת רִשְׁתָּם)

David is speaking of his enemies’ schemes as if they were a pit and a net used to trap animals. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they secretly plotted to trap me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a pit	pits

Psalms 35:8

ULT	UST
Let destruction overtake him; he does not know. Let the net that he hid catch him. In destruction, let him fall into it.	So let disaster suddenly surprise each of them! Let it be as though the nets that they hid catch them instead, and as though they fall into their own {pits} and die!

ULT Let destruction overtake him; he does not know. Let the net that he hid catch him. In destruction, let him fall into it
UST So let disaster suddenly surprise each of them! Let it be as though the nets that they hid catch them instead, and as though they fall into their own {pits} and die
(תְּבוֹאֵהוּ שׁוֹאָה לֹא־יֵדָע וְרִשְׁתּוֹ אֲשֶׁר־טָמַן תִּלְכְּדֶנּוּ בְּשׁוֹאָה יִפָּל־בָּהּ)

Throughout this verse, the pronouns him and he are singular, but they refer to all of David's enemies as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural forms as modeled in the UST.

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT Let destruction overtake him; he does not know
UST So let disaster suddenly surprise each of them
(תְּבוֹאֵהוּ שׁוֹאָה לֹא־יֵדָע)

David is speaking of destruction as if it were a living thing that could a dangerous animal that would chase the enemies down and suddenly attack them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Let them be surprised because you destroy them suddenly]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT Let destruction overtake him
UST So let disaster suddenly
(תְּבוֹאֵהוּ שׁוֹאָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of destruction, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Let him be destroyed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT Let the net that he hid catch him. In destruction, let him fall into it
> UST Let it be as though the nets that they hid catch them instead, and as though they fall into their own {pits} and die
> (וְרִשְׁתּוֹ אֲשֶׁר־טָמַן תִּלְכְּדוֹ בְּשׁוֹאָה יִפֹּל־בָּהּ)

David is describing the ironic reversal in which the traps his enemies prepared will instead ensnare them. The net they set for David will catch them, and they will fall to their own destruction into the "pit" they "dug." If a speaker of your language would not express this reversal in this way, you could translate the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Let his own trap catch him; let him fall into ruin by his own scheming]

Support Reference: Irony

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
destruction	disaster
Let & overtake him	So let & suddenly
he does & know	surprise each of them
Let & catch him	Let it be as though & catch them instead
In destruction	and die

Psalms 35:9

ULT	UST
But my soul will be joyful in Yahweh; it will rejoice in his salvation.	Then I will rejoice because of {what} Yahweh {has done for me}, and I will be glad because he has saved me.

ULT But my soul will be joyful in Yahweh; it will rejoice
UST Then I will rejoice because of {what} Yahweh {has done for me}, and I will be glad (וְנַפְשִׁי תָּגִיל בַּיהוָה תָּשִׂישׂ)

David is using the term my soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [But I will be joyful in Yahweh; I will rejoice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT But my soul will be joyful
UST Then I will rejoice
(וְנַפְשִׁי תָּגִיל)

David uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between the destruction of his enemies and his own joy in Yahweh. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Despite all this, my soul will be joyful in Yahweh]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT will be joyful in Yahweh; it will rejoice
UST will rejoice because of {what} Yahweh {has done for me}, and I will be glad (תָּגִיל בַּיהוָה תָּשִׂישׂ)

The terms joyful and rejoice mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [my soul will celebrate with great gladness]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT in his salvation
UST because he has saved me
(בִּישׁוּעָתוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that he rescued me]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But my soul	Then I will be joyful	will rejoice
in Yahweh	because of {what} Yahweh {has done for me
it will rejoice	and I will be glad in his salvation	because he has saved me

Psalms 35:10

ULT	UST
All my bones will say, “Yahweh, who is like you, rescuing the oppressed from those stronger than them and the oppressed and needy from those robbing them?”	With my whole being I will say, “Yahweh, no one is like you! No one else rescues weak people from those who are stronger, no one else rescues poor and needy people from those who rob them.”

ULT All my bones will say
UST With my whole being I will say
(כָּל עַצְמוֹתַי | תֹּאמַרְנָה)

David speaks of his bones as if they were a person who could speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Every part of me will declare]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT All my bones
UST With my whole being (כָּל עַצְמוֹתַי)

David is using one part of his body, his bones, to represent his entire being. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Everything within me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT Yahweh, who is like you, rescuing the oppressed from those stronger than them and the oppressed and needy from those robbing them
UST Yahweh, no one is like you! No one else rescues weak people from those who are stronger, no one else rescues poor and needy people from those who rob them
(יְהוָה מִי כָמוֹךָ מַצִּיל עָנִי מֵחָזָק מִמֶּנּוּ וְעָנִי וְאֶבְיוֹן מִגֹּזְלוֹ)

David is using the question form to emphasize that no one is comparable to Yahweh. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [There is no one like you, Yahweh! You rescue the oppressed from those stronger than them and the oppressed and needy from those robbing them.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT the oppressed from those stronger than them and the oppressed and needy
> UST weak people from those who are stronger, no one else rescues poor and needy people
> (עֲנִי מֵחָזָק מִמֶּנּוּ וְעָנִי וְאֶבְיוֹן)

David is using the adjectives oppressed and needy as nouns to mean a certain kind of person. If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate these with equivalent expressions. Alternate translation: [those who are oppressed from those stronger than them and those who are oppressed and needy]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT and the oppressed and needy
> UST no one else rescues poor and needy people
> (וְעָנִי וְאֶבְיוֹן)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and rescuing the oppressed and needy]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
rescuing	No one else rescues
from those robbing them	from those who rob them

Psalms 35:11

ULT	UST
Witnesses of violence rise up; what I do not know they ask me.	Hostile people tell lies {about me} in court and accuse me of things that I know nothing about.

> ULT Witnesses of violence rise up
> UST Hostile people tell lies {about me} in court
> (יָקוּמוּן עֵדֵי חָמָס)

David is using the possessive form to describe Witnesses that are characterized by violence. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Witnesses who wish me harm rise up]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT Witnesses of violence rise up
> UST Hostile people tell lies {about me} in court
> (יָקוּמוּן עֵדֵי חָמָס)

David is using rise up as a common expression of the culture to mean to take action. He is not saying that they get out of bed or stand up from a seated position. If this expression does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Witnesses take violent action against me]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Witnesses of	Hostile people tell lies {about me
I do & know	of things that I know nothing about

Psalms 35:12

ULT	UST
They repay me evil in place of good—bereavement to my soul.	I was good to them. But instead of being good to me, they are evil to me. That makes me feel completely alone.

ULT evil in place of good
UST But instead of being good to me, they are evil to me
(רָעָה תַּחַת טוֹבָה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of evil and good, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [by doing bad things to me in place of the good things I did for them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT They repay me
UST I was good to them
(יְשַׁלְּמוּנִי)

Here David is speaking of the way his enemies treated him as if they were paying back a loan or trying to repay him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They treated me with]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT bereavement to my soul
UST That makes me feel completely alone
(שְׁכוֹל לְנַפְשִׁי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of bereavement, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [they have bereaved my soul]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT bereavement to my soul
UST That makes me feel completely alone
(שְׁכוֹל לְנַפְשִׁי)

David is using the term my soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I feel bereaved]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	they are evil to me
good	being good to me
to my soul	That makes me feel completely alone

Psalms 35:13

ULT	UST
But I, when they were sick, my clothing {was} sackcloth; I afflicted my soul with fasting, and my prayer returned upon my bosom.	Yet for my part, when they were sick, I put on rough cloth to mourn for them; I went without food as I prayed for them, bowing my head over my chest.

ULT But I
UST Yet for my part
(וְאֲנִי)

David uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between his enemies' cruelty toward him and his kindness toward them when they were sick. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I, on the other hand]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT my clothing {was} sackcloth
UST I put on rough cloth to mourn for them
(לְבוּשִׁי שָׂק)

Wearing sackcloth was a symbolic action by which David expressed grief and mourning. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [I dressed in rough cloth as a sign of sorrow for them]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT my soul
UST I went without food
(נַפְשִׁי)

David is using the term my soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [myself]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT with fasting
UST I went without food
(בַּצּוֹם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fasting, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by refusing to eat]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT and my prayer returned upon my bosom
> UST as I prayed for them, bowing my head over my chest
> (וּתְפִלָּתִי עַל־חֵיקִי תָּשׁוּב)

David is using my prayer returned upon my bosom as a common expression of his culture to mean that he prayed sincerely, with his head bowed to his chest. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I prayed with my head bowed down]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my clothing {was	I put on rough cloth to mourn for them
sackcloth	I put on rough cloth to mourn for them
I afflicted	I went without food
my soul	I went without food
with fasting	I went without food
and & prayer & my	as I prayed for them

Psalms 35:14

ULT	UST
As {for} a friend, as {for} a brother to me, I walked about; as {one} lamenting {for} a mother, mourning, I bowed down.	I walked around grieving for them as I would grieve for a friend or for a brother, and I bowed down mourning for them as though for my own mother.

ULT As {for} a friend, as {for} a brother to me, I walked about; as {one} lamenting {for} a mother, mourning, I bowed down
UST I walked around grieving for them as I would grieve for a friend or for a brother, and I bowed down mourning for them as though for my own mother
(כְּרֵעַ־כְּאָח לִי הִתְהַלָּכְתִּי כַּאֵבֶל־אֵם קֹדֵר שַׁחְתִּי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [I walked about as one lamenting for a mother, as for a friend, as for a brother; mourning, I bowed down]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT As {for} a friend, as {for} a brother
UST as I would grieve for a friend or for a brother
(כְּרֵעַ־כְּאָח)

The point of this comparison is that just as a person would grieve for a friend or a brother, so David grieved for his enemies when they were sick. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [As if each one were my close friend or a brother, I walked about]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT as {one} lamenting {for} a mother
UST as though for my own mother
(כַּאֵבֶל־אֵם)

The point of this comparison is that just as a person in deep grief would be lamenting the loss of a mother, so David mourned deeply for his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [with grief as deep as one who has lost his mother]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT as {one} lamenting {for} a mother
UST as though for my own mother
(כַּאֲבֶל־אֵם)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [as one who was lamenting for his mother]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT mourning, I bowed down
UST and I bowed down mourning for them
(קֹדֵר שַׁחְוֹתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mourning, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I mourned and bowed down]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT I bowed down
UST and I bowed down
(שַׁחְוֹתִי)

The action of bowing down was a symbolic action by which David showed deep grief and mourning. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [I expressed deep sorrow]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
As {for} a friend	as I would grieve for a friend
as {one} lamenting {for	as though for mourning	mourning for them
I bowed down	and I bowed down

Psalms 35:15

ULT	UST
But at my stumbling they rejoiced and gathered together; they gathered together against me, the stricken {ones}, and I did not know. They tore and did not cease.	But when I suffered, they all gathered together and celebrated. People whom I did not even know gathered to attack me. They kept slandering me and would not stop.

ULT But at my stumbling
UST But when I suffered
(וּבְצַלְעִ֣י)

David uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between his compassion for his enemies and their cruelty when he suffered. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [However, at my stumbling]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT But at my stumbling
UST But when I suffered
(וּבְצַלְעִ֣י)

David is speaking of experiencing trouble as if it were physically stumbling. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [But at my time of difficulty]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they rejoiced and gathered together
UST they all gathered together and celebrated (שָׂמְח֣וּ וְנֶאֱסָ֑פוּ)

The pronoun they refers to David’s enemies. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [my enemies rejoiced and gathered together]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT the stricken {ones}, and I did not know
UST whom I did not even know & to attack
(נֶכִים וְלֹא יָדָעְתִּי)

The word translated as the stricken ones represents the written Hebrew text. This could refer to the mockers imitating David's lameness as possibly described in verse 16, if vowels are used to read "deformity" instead of "food" in that verse. However, scholars have proposed that changing one vowel here would make the word "the strikers," which seems to fit better the meaning of this verse. The UST follows that interpretation. You may want to follow the major translation in your area. Alternate translation: [the strikers I did not even know]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT They tore and did not cease
UST They kept slandering me and would not stop (קָרְעוּ וְלֹא־דָמּוּ)

David is speaking of his enemies' verbal attacks as if they physically tore at him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They attacked me with words and did not cease]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But at my stumbling	But when I suffered they rejoiced	and celebrated and gathered together	they all gathered together
they gathered together	People & gathered
I did & know	whom I did & even know

Psalms 35:16

ULT	UST
Among godless mockers of food, they gnashed their teeth at me.	Profane people mocked me for being lame and ground their teeth at me {to show how angry they were}.

ULT food
UST for being lame
(מָעֻוֹג)

The word translated as food represents the written Hebrew text. This reading, however, does not seem to make sense. Scholars have proposed that by changing the vowels of this word it would say “deformity,” which seems to fit better the meaning of this passage. The UST follows that interpretation. You may want to follow the major translation in your area. Alternate translation: [my deformity]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT they gnashed their teeth at me
UST and ground their teeth at me {to show how angry they were (חָרַק עָלַי שִׁנָּימוֹ)

They gnashed their teeth at me describes a symbolic action by which the enemies express rage and contempt. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [they showed their anger and hostility toward me]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Among godless	Profane people
mockers of	mocked me

Psalms 35:17

ULT	UST
Lord, how long will you look on? Restore my soul from their destructions, my only {one} from the young lions!	Lord, please do more than just watch what they do! Rescue me from these people who want to destroy me! Save me from these people who are as fierce as young lions!

ULT Lord, how long will you look on? Restore my soul
UST Lord, please do more than just watch what they do! Rescue me
(אֲדֹנָ֗י כַּמָּ֥ה תִּרְאֶ֑ה הָשִׁ֥יבָה נַפְשִׁ֗י)

David is using the question form to urgently appeal to God for help. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Lord, you have looked on long enough!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT my soul
UST me
(נַפְשִׁ֗י)

David is using the term my soul to mean the entire person from the perspective of his spiritual existence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT from their destructions
UST from these people who want to destroy me
(מִשֹּׁאֵיהֶ֑ם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of destructions, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from the things they do to try to destroy me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT my only {one
UST Save me
(יְחִידָתִ֥י)

David is using my only one as a common expression to mean his precious, irreplaceable life. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my precious life]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT my only {one
UST Save me
(יְחִידָתִי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [please rescue my life]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT from the young lions
UST from these people who are as fierce as young lions (מִכְּפִירִ֗ים)

David is speaking of his enemies as if they were young lions that were attacking him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from these fierce enemies]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
Restore	Rescue
my soul	me
from the young lions	from these people who are as fierce as young lions

Psalms 35:19

ULT	UST
Do not let my deceitful enemies rejoice over me; let {not} the haters of me without cause wink the eye.	Do not let my enemies who lie about me celebrate {because they defeated me}, and do not let those who hate me for no reason wink at each other {to show how pleased they are about it}.

ULT let {not} the haters of me without cause wink the eye
UST and do not let those who hate me for no reason wink at each other {to show how pleased they are about it
(שֹׂנְאַי חִנָּם יִקְרְצוּ־עָיִן)

David is using wink the eye to show a symbolic action by which someone showed scorn or signaling conspiracy against someone else. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [let not the haters of me without cause signal their contempt]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my & enemies	my enemies
Do & let & rejoice	Do & let & celebrate

Psalms 35:20

ULT	UST
For they do not speak peace, and against the quiet {ones} of the earth they devise words of deceits.	{Do not let them succeed,} because they do not speak peacefully {to anyone}; instead, they make up lies about quiet, peaceable people in the land.

ULT For they do not speak peace
UST Do not let them succeed,} because they do not speak peacefully {to anyone (כִּי לֹא שָׁלוֹם יְדַבֵּרוּ)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason the enemies should not rejoice over David's suffering mentioned in the previous verses. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Since they do not speak peace]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT peace
UST they do & speak peacefully {to anyone
(שָׁלוֹם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [peaceful words]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and against the quiet {ones} of the earth
UST about quiet, peaceable people in the land
(וְעַל רִגְעֵי־אֶרֶץ)

David is speaking of peaceable people as the quiet ones. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and against those who live quietly in the land]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the quiet {ones} of the earth
> UST about quiet, peaceable people in the land
> (רְגְעֵי־אֶרֶץ)

David is using the adjective quiet as a noun to mean people who are quiet and peaceable. If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [the peaceful people of the land]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT words of deceits
> UST lies
> (דִּבְרֵי מִרְמוֹת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of deceits, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [deceptive words]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
peace	they do & speak peacefully {to anyone
the quiet {ones} of	about quiet, peaceable people
the earth	in the land

Psalms 35:21

ULT	UST
They open their mouth wide against me; they say, “Aha, Aha, our eyes have seen.”	They shout loudly to accuse me, saying, “Yes! Yes! We saw {what you did}!”

ULT They open their mouth wide against me
UST They shout loudly to accuse me
(וַיִּרְחִיבוּ עָלַי פִּיהֶם)

David is using the phrase open their mouth wide to represent what the enemies shouted loudly. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They speak loudly against me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Aha, Aha
UST Yes! Yes
(הֶאָח | הֶאָח)

David’s enemies are using Aha, Aha, as a phrase that expresses a strong feeling or gloating and malicious delight at the misfortune of another person. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [You did it!]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT our eyes have seen
UST We saw {what you did
(רָאֲתָה עֵינֵינוּ)

David’s enemies are using our eyes to represent what they have witnessed. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [we have witnessed it]

Support Reference: Metonymy

Psalms 35:22

ULT	UST
You have seen, Yahweh; do not be silent; Lord, do not be far from me.	Yahweh, you have seen all of this, so please do something about it! Lord, please help me!

ULT do not be silent
UST so please do something about it
(אַל־תֶּחֱרַשׁ)

David is speaking of a lack of intervention as being silent. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not remain inactive]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT do not be far from me
UST please help me
(אַל־תִּרְחַק מִמֶּנִּי)

David is speaking of a lack of help as being physically far from him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not withhold your help from me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
Lord	Lord

Psalms 35:23

ULT	UST
Awake and arouse yourself for my justice, my God and my Lord, for my cause.	Become active and do the right thing for me; my God and my Lord, defend me!

ULT Awake and arouse yourself
UST Become active and do
(הָעִירָה וֶהָקִיצָה)

David is speaking of God as if he were sleeping and needed to Awake or arouse himself from sleep. He means that he is asking God to act on his behalf and intervene in this situation. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Take action] or [I ask you to intervene]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Awake and arouse yourself
UST Become active and do
(הָעִירָה וֶהָקִיצָה)

The expressions Awake and arouse yourself mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Rouse yourself fully]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT for my justice, my God and my Lord, for my cause
UST the right thing for me; my God and my Lord, defend me
(לְמִשְׁפָּטִי אֱלֹהַי וַאדֹנָי לְרִיבִי)

The terms my justice and my cause mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [to come to my defense, my God and my Lord]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT for my justice
UST the right thing for me
(לְמִשְׁפָּטִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for you to judge me fairly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT for my cause
> UST defend me
> (לְרִיבִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of cause, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to defend me against my accusers]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
for my justice	the right thing for me
my God	my God
and my Lord	and my Lord

Psalms 35:24

ULT	UST
Judge me according to your righteousness, Yahweh my God, and do not let them rejoice over me.	Yahweh my God, because you are righteous, declare that I am innocent, and do not let my enemies celebrate {that they have defeated} me.

ULT according to your righteousness
UST because you are righteous
(כְּצִדְקְךָ֣)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [according to the right way that you judge]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Judge me	declare that I am innocent
according to your righteousness	because you are righteous
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	my God
do & let them rejoice	and do not let my enemies celebrate

Psalms 35:25

ULT	UST
Do not let them say in their heart, “Aha, our soul!” Do not let them say, “We have swallowed him up.”	Do not let them think to themselves, “Yes! We got what we wanted!” Do not let them say {to each other}, “We have completely destroyed him!”

ULT Do not let them say in their heart, “Aha, our soul!” Do not let them say, “We have swallowed him up
UST Do not let them think to themselves, “Yes! We got what we wanted!” Do not let them say {to each other}, “We have completely destroyed him
(אַל־יֹאמְרוּ בְלִבָּם הֶאָח נַפְשֵׁנוּ אַל־יֹאמְרוּ בִּלַּעֲנוּהוּ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express these as indirect quotations. Alternate translation: [Do not let them think that they have gotten what they desire. Do not let them say that they have destroyed me]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT Do not let them say in their heart
UST Do not let them think to themselves
(אַל־יֹאמְרוּ בְלִבָּם)

David is using say in their heart as a common expression of the culture to mean “say to themselves.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not let them say to themselves]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Aha, our soul
UST Yes! We got what we wanted
(הֶאָח נַפְשֵׁנוּ)

The exclamation Aha expresses the enemies’ malicious gloating. The phrase our soul in this context means “we have gotten what we desired” which is to have him be declared guilty. Your language may have a comparable exclamation that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Hurrah! Our wish has been fulfilled] or [We are so glad he has been declared guilty just as we desired]

Support Reference: Exclamations

> ULT We have swallowed him up
> UST We have completely destroyed him
> (בְּלַעֲנוּהוּ)

David’s enemies are speaking of defeating him completely as if they were wild animals who had swallowed him up. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [We have totally overcome him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
our soul	We got what we wanted

Psalms 35:26

ULT	UST
Let them be ashamed and confounded together, those rejoicing at my evil. Let them be clothed with shame and humiliation, the ones magnifying {themselves} against me.	Instead, make all those who celebrate when bad things happen to me feel totally ashamed and disgraced. Yes, completely humiliate those who boast that they are greater than me.

ULT Let them be ashamed and confounded
UST Instead, make & feel totally ashamed and disgraced
(יֵבֹ֣שׁוּ וְיַחְפְּרוּ֮)

The expressions be ashamed and confounded mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [be completely put to shame together]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT at my evil
UST when bad things happen to me
(רָעָתִ֑י)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [at my misfortune]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Let them be clothed with shame and humiliation
UST Yes, completely humiliate
(יִלְבְּשׁוּ־בֹ֥שֶׁת וּכְלִמָּ֗ה)

David is speaking of shame and humiliation as if these were garments that his enemies would wear or be clothed in. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [be completely covered in disgrace]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Let them be clothed with shame and humiliation
UST Yes, completely humiliate
(יִלְבְּשׁוּ־בֹ֥שֶׁת וּכְלִמָּ֗ה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of shame and humiliation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Let them be completely ashamed and humiliated]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Let them be clothed
UST Yes, completely humiliate
(יִלְבְּשׁוּ)

The expression be clothed is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [May God clothe them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT with shame and humiliation
UST Yes, completely humiliate
(בֹּשֶׁת וּכְלִמָּה)

The terms shame and humiliation mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [with utter disgrace]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT the ones magnifying {themselves} against me
UST those who boast that they are greater than me
(הַמַּגְדִּילִים עָלָי)

David is using magnifying themselves against me as a common expression to mean boasting or exalting themselves in defiance of him. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who exalt themselves over me]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Let them be ashamed	Instead, make & feel totally ashamed
those rejoicing	those who celebrate
at my evil	when bad things happen to me with shame	Yes, completely humiliate

Psalms 35:27

ULT	UST
Let them shout for joy and be glad, those delighting in my righteousness, and let them say continually, “Let Yahweh be great, the {one} delighting in the peace of his servant.”	But let those who want God to show that I am innocent shout for joy and celebrate! Let them always say, “Yahweh is great! He loves to make things go well for the one who serves him.”

ULT Let them shout for joy and be glad
UST But let & shout for joy and celebrate (יְרַנְּנוּ וְיִשְׂמְחוּ)

The expressions shout for joy and be glad mean similar things. David is using the two expressions together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Let them greatly rejoice]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT my righteousness
UST God to show that I am innocent
(צִדְקִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [my being declared right]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and let them say continually, “Let Yahweh be great, the {one} delighting in the peace of his servant
UST Let them always say, “Yahweh is great! He loves to make things go well for the one who serves him (וְיֹאמְרוּ תָמִיד יִגְדַּל יְהוָה הֶחָפֵץ שְׁלוֹם עַבְדּוֹ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [and let them continually declare that Yahweh is great, the one delighting in the peace of his servant]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT the peace of
UST to make things go well for (שְׁלוֹם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of word, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the welfare of]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Let them shout for joy	But let & shout for joy and be glad	and celebrate those delighting in	those who want my righteousness	God to show that I am innocent
Yahweh	Yahweh
the {one} delighting in	He loves the peace of	to make things go well for his servant	the one who serves him

Psalms 35:28

ULT	UST
And my tongue will meditate on your righteousness, all the day, your praise.	Then I will tell everyone how righteous you are, and I will praise you all day long.

ULT And my tongue will meditate on your righteousness
UST Then I will tell everyone how righteous you are (וּלְשׁוֹנִי תֶּהְגֶּה צִדְקֶךָ)

The word translated as And connects this verse to what came before as a result. David is saying that because Yahweh will act on his behalf, he will respond with praise. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a result of what came before. Alternate translation: [Because of this, my tongue will meditate on your righteousness]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT And my tongue will meditate on
UST Then I will tell everyone
(וּלְשׁוֹנִי תֶּהְגֶּה)

David is using one part of his person, his tongue, to mean all of him in the act of meditating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [For I will speak about]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT your righteousness
UST how righteous you are (צִדְקֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ways you act righteously]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT all the day
UST all day long
(כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

David is saying all the day as an overstatement to emphasize that his praise will be constant and habitual. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [continually]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT your praise
> UST and I will praise you
> (תְּהִלָּתֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [praising you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And my tongue	Then I will tell everyone will meditate on	Then I will tell everyone your righteousness	how righteous you are your praise	and I will praise you

Psalms 36

Psalms 36 Introduction

Psalm 36 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 36 is a “psalm of praise.” It speaks of how good God is to those who love him.

1. The depth of human sin (1–4)
2. The greatness of Yahweh’s steadfast love (5–9)
3. Prayer for continued protection and justice (10–12)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

God and man

Evil people do not think about God; but he is such a pleasure to all who honor him.

Psalms 36:1

ULT	UST
The declaration of transgression to the wicked {is} in the midst of my heart: there is no dread of God before his eyes.	Wicked people act as though they are obeying a voice from deep within themselves that is urging them to sin. They have no respect for God at all.

ULT The declaration of transgression to the wicked {is} in the midst of my heart
UST Wicked people act as though they are obeying a voice from deep within themselves that is urging them to sin
(נְאֻם־פֶּשַׁע לָרָשָׁע בְּקֶרֶב לִבִּי)

David is speaking of transgression as if it were a living thing that could speak a declaration to the wicked. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Sin causes a person to act like they are listening to bad advice within themselves]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT The declaration of transgression
UST act as though they are obeying a voice & that is urging them to sin
(נְאֻם־פֶּשַׁע)

If your language does not use an abstract nouns for the idea of declaration and transgression, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [What rebelling against God declares]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to the wicked
UST Wicked people
(לָרָשָׁע)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [to those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT is} in the midst of my heart
UST from deep within themselves
(בְּקֶרֶב לִבִּי)

The phrase my heart is a translation of the majority of Hebrew manuscripts. Other Hebrew manuscripts and ancient translations say, “his heart,” which seems to make better sense. The UST follows that reading. You may want to follow the major translation in your area. Alternate translation: [is in the midst of his heart]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT is} in the midst of my heart
UST from deep within themselves
(בְּקֶרֶב לִבִּי)

Here the heart represents where a person’s thoughts and understanding exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is in his deepest understanding]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT dread of
UST respect for (פַּחַד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of dread, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [reverence for]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT before his eyes
UST They
(לְנֶגֶד עֵינָיו)

Here, before his eyes represents the wicked person’s awareness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in his awareness]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT his eyes
UST They
(עֵינָיו)

The pronoun his refers to the wicked person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the wicked person’s eyes]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
transgression	that is urging them to sin to the wicked	Wicked people dread of	respect for
God	God

Psalms 36:2

ULT	UST
For it is slippery to him in his eyes to find his iniquity to hate {it}.	Indeed, they are so proud that they refuse to recognize how wrongly they act so that they might hate {doing those things}.

ULT For
UST Indeed
(כִּי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT it is slippery to him in his eyes
UST they are so proud that they refuse
(הֶחֱלִיק אֵלָיו בְּעֵינָיו)

David is describing the way that a wicked person flatters himself and is proud by saying that recognizing his sin is slippery to him in his eyes, that is, his pride blinds him to it and he convinces himself that he is not sinful. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this in another way. Alternate translation: [he flatters himself too much]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to find his iniquity
UST to recognize how wrongly they act
(לִמְצֹא עֲוֹנוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to acknowledge that he acts wrongly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to hate {it
UST so that they might hate {doing those things
(לִשְׂנֹא)

The pronoun it refers to the wicked person's sin. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [so he hates his sin]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in his eyes	they are so proud that they refuse his iniquity	how wrongly they act

Psalms 36:3

ULT	UST
The words of his mouth {are} iniquity and deceit; he has ceased to act wisely, to do good.	Everything that they say is wicked and deceptive; they have stopped acting wisely and {stopped} doing what is right.

ULT The words of his mouth
UST Everything that they say
(דִּבְרֵי־פִיו)

David is using the phrase words of his mouth to represent what the wicked person said by using words. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The things he says]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT are} iniquity and deceit
UST is wicked and deceptive
(אָוֶן וּמִרְמָה)

The terms iniquity and deceit mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [thoroughly wicked speech]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT are} iniquity and deceit
UST is wicked and deceptive
(אָוֶן וּמִרְמָה)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of iniquity and deceit, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [are what is wicked and deceptive]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT he has ceased to act wisely, to do good
UST they have stopped acting wisely and {stopped} doing what is right
(חָדַל לְהַשְׂכִּיל לְהֵיטִיב)

These two phrases to act wisely and to do good mean basically the same thing. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [he has completely ceased to do things that are good]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
are} iniquity	is wicked
to act wisely	acting wisely
to do good	and {stopped} doing what is right

Psalms 36:4

ULT	UST
He devises iniquity on his bed; he stations himself on the not-good road; he does not reject evil.	They plan sinful activities while lying on their beds; they commit themselves to a bad way of living; they do not refuse to do evil things.

ULT iniquity
UST sinful activities
(אָוֶן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how to act wickedly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT he stations himself on the not-good road
UST they commit themselves to a bad way of living (יִתְיַצֵּב עַל־דֶּרֶךְ לֹא־טוֹב)

David is speaking of how the wicked person commits to a bad way of living as if it were a not-good road that he chose and that he stations himself on. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he commits himself to a wicked way of living]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT evil
UST to do evil things
(רָע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [doing wicked things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
iniquity	sinful activities
good	bad
he does & reject	they do & refuse evil	to do evil things

Psalms 36:5

ULT	UST
Yahweh, your covenant faithfulness {is} in the heavens; your trustworthiness, to the clouds.	Yahweh, the amount that you faithfully love us is so much that it is as though it fills the heavens. If we could measure how trustworthy you are, the amount would extend into the clouds.

ULT your covenant faithfulness {is} in the heavens
UST the amount that you faithfully love us is so much that it is as though it fills the heavens
(בְּהַשׁ מַיִם חַסְדֶּךָ)

David is speaking as if Yahweh's covenant faithfulness were so vast that it fills the heavens. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your covenant faithfulness is immeasurably great]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your covenant faithfulness
UST the amount that you faithfully love us is so much that it is as though
(חַסְדֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how faithful you are to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your trustworthiness, to the clouds
UST If we could measure how trustworthy you are, the amount would extend into the clouds
(אֱמוּנָתְךָ עַד־שְׁחָקִים)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [your trustworthiness extends to the clouds]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT your trustworthiness
UST If we could measure how trustworthy you are (אֱמוּנָתְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trustworthiness, you could express the same idea in another way.
Alternate translation: [how trustworthy you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
your covenant faithfulness	the amount that you faithfully love us is so much that it is as though is} in the heavens	it fills the heavens
your trustworthiness	If we could measure how trustworthy you are

Psalms 36:6

ULT	UST
Your righteousness {is} like the mountains of God; your judgments {are} the great deep. You save man and beast, Yahweh.	Your way of doing what is right is {as permanent} as the highest mountains; your way of acting justly is {as vast and mysterious} as the deepest oceans. Yahweh, you take care of {all living creatures,} both people and animals.

ULT Your righteousness {is} like the mountains of God
UST Your way of doing what is right is {as permanent} as the highest mountains
(צִדְקָתְךָ | כְּהַרְרֵי־אֵל)

The point of this comparison is that just as the mountains of God are immovable and enduring, so is his righteousness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [Your righteousness is as enduring as the highest mountains]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT Your righteousness
UST Your way of doing what is right
(צִדְקָתְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The way you do what is right]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your judgments {are} the great deep
UST your way of acting justly is {as vast and mysterious} as the deepest oceans
(מִשְׁפָּטֶךָ תְּהוֹם רַבָּה)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [your judgments are like the great deep]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT your judgments {are} the great deep
UST your way of acting justly is {as vast and mysterious} as the deepest oceans
(מִשְׁפָּטֶךָ תְּהוֹם רַבָּה)

David is using another comparison to describe Yahweh's ways. The point of this comparison is that just as the great deep or the deepest ocean is vast and mysterious, so are God's judgments. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [your judgments are as immeasurable and unsearchable as the deepest ocean]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT your judgments
UST your way of acting justly
(מִשְׁפָּטֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgments, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the way you act justly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Your righteousness	Your way of doing what is right
God	highest
your judgments	your way of acting justly
You save	you take care of {all living creatures and beast	and animals
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 36:7

ULT	UST
How precious {is} your covenant faithfulness, God! And the sons of man take refuge in the shadow of your wings.	God, how precious it is that you faithfully love us! You protect people just as a bird shelters its young under its wings.

ULT is} your covenant faithfulness
UST that you faithfully love us
(חַסְדְּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is the way you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT And the sons of man
UST people
(וּבְנֵי אָדָם)

David is using the sons of man as a common expression of the culture to mean “human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And people]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT take refuge in the shadow of your wings
UST You protect & just as a bird shelters its young under its wings
(בְּצֵל כְּנָפֶיךָ יֶחֱסָיוּן)

David is speaking of God’s protection as if he were a bird that provides a refuge or protection under the shadow of its wings. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [can find their protection in you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is} your covenant faithfulness	that you faithfully love us
God	God
take refuge	You protect

Psalms 36:8

ULT	UST
They are refreshed from the fatness of your house, and {from} the river of your delights you give them drink.	You provide for them plenty of food from the abundant supply that you have; you satisfy them with good things that they enjoy, as if from a never-ending stream.

ULT They are refreshed
UST You provide for them plenty of food
(יֵרָוְיֻן)

The pronoun They refers to “the sons of man” or people mentioned in verse 7. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [People are refreshed]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They are refreshed
UST You provide for them plenty of food
(יֵרָוְיֻן)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [You refresh them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT from the fatness of your house
UST from the abundant supply that you have (מִדֶּשֶׁן בֵּיתֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fatness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [from all that you so abundantly provide]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and {from} the river of your delights you give them drink
UST you satisfy them with good things that they enjoy, as if from a never-ending stream
(וְנַחַל עֲדָנֶיךָ תַּשְׁקֵם)

David is speaking as if God’s blessings were a river of delights that people could drink from. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they experience the abundance of your blessings]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your house	from the abundant supply that you have your delights	with good things that they enjoy

Psalms 36:9

ULT	UST
For with you {is} the fountain of life; in your light we see light.	Indeed, you are the one who causes everything to live; you are the one who makes it possible for us to understand what is true.

ULT is} the fountain of life
UST who causes everything to live
(מְקוֹר חַיִּים)

David is speaking as if God were a fountain from which life flows. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is the source of life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT life
UST to live
(חַיִּים)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ability to live]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in your light we see light
UST you are the one who makes it possible for us to understand what is true
(בְּאוֹרְךָ נִרְאֶה־אוֹר)

David is speaking as if God's presence were light that enables people to see light, representing understanding. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because you reveal yourself to us, we are able to understand truth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is} the fountain of	who causes everything

Psalms 36:10

ULT	UST
Extend your covenant faithfulness to the knowers of you, and your righteousness to the upright of heart.	Please continue to faithfully love those who know you, and continue to do right for those who sincerely want to do what is right.

ULT your covenant faithfulness
UST Please continue to faithfully love
(חַסְדְּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the way you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and your righteousness
UST and continue to do right
(וְצִדְקָתְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and how you do what is right]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to the upright of heart
UST for those who sincerely want to do what is right
(לְיִשְׁרֵי־לֵב)

David is using the adjective upright as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [to those who are upright in heart]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT to the upright of heart
UST for those who sincerely want to do what is right
(לְיִשְׁרֵי־לֵב)

Here the heart represents where a person's motives and intentions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to those who have right intentions]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	Please continue to faithfully love to the knowers of you	those who know you and your righteousness	and continue to do right to the upright of	for those who sincerely want to do what is right

Psalms 36:11

ULT	UST
Let not the foot of pride come to me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.	Do not let arrogant people overcome me, and do not let wicked people force me to flee.

ULT Let not the foot of pride come to me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me
UST Do not let arrogant people overcome me, and do not let wicked people force me to flee (אַל־תְּבוֹאֵנִי רֶגֶל גַּאֲוָה וְיַד־רְשָׁעִים אַל־תְּנָדֵנִי)

David is expressing a wish to God. In your translation, use a form that people would recognize as a wish or request in your language. You might express this as a prayer, if that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Please keep the foot of pride from coming to me, and the hand of the wicked from removing me]

Support Reference: Blessings

ULT the foot of pride
UST arrogant people
(רֶגֶל גַּאֲוָה)

Here, the foot represents the power to trample or overcome another person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the overwhelming power of the proud]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT pride
UST arrogant people
(גַּאֲוָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of pride, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [proud people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and let not the hand of the wicked remove me
UST and do not let wicked people force me to flee (וְיַד־רְשָׁעִים אַל־תְּנָדֵנִי)

Here, the hand represents the power and action of the wicked. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and let not the power of the wicked remove me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the wicked
> UST and & wicked people
> (רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this with an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
pride	arrogant people
the wicked	and & wicked people

Psalms 36:12

ULT	UST
There the doers of iniquity have fallen; they are thrust down and are not able to rise.	See how the people who do evil have fallen! God has thrown them down, and they can never get up again.

ULT iniquity
UST evil
(אָוֶן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is wicked]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT they are thrust down
UST God has thrown them down
(דָּחוּ)

The expression are thrust down is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God has thrust them down]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
iniquity	evil

Psalms 36:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST Note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the servant	man who served & faithfully
of Yahweh	Yahweh
of David	David, a & wrote this psalm

Psalms 37

Psalms 37 Introduction

Psalm 37 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 37 is considered to be one of the “wisdom psalms.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about the wisdom psalms.

1. Do not envy the wicked but trust Yahweh (1–11)
2. Yahweh upholds the righteous and judges the wicked (12–20)
3. The righteous are sustained and secure in Yahweh (21–31)
4. Wait for Yahweh and observe his final justice (32–40)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Envy

Do not envy evil people. Although it appears as though they prosper, soon they will be destroyed and the good people will continue on living.

Psalms 37:1

ULT	UST
Of David Do not be upset about evildoers; do not be envious of the doers of unrighteousness.	This is a psalm of David. Do not let what wicked people do upset you; do not wish that you had what people who do evil things have.

ULT Of David Do not be upset about evildoers; do not be envious of the doers of unrighteousness

UST This is a psalm of David. Do not let what wicked people do upset you; do not wish that you had what people who do evil things have

(לְדָוִד ׀ אַל־תִּתְחַר בַּמְּרֵעִים אַל־תְּקַנֵּא בְּעֹשֵׂי עַוְלָה)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Do not let yourself be troubled by those who do evil] or [Do not be upset about evildoers; indeed, do not be envious of the doers of unrighteousness]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
unrighteousness	what people who do evil things have

Psalms 37:2

ULT	UST
For like the grass they will quickly wither, and like a green plant they will fade.	{Do not worry about them} because they will soon disappear, just as grass dries up {in the sun} and green plants quickly wither and die.

ULT For
UST Do not worry about them} because
(כִּי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [This is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT like the grass they will quickly wither
UST they will soon disappear, just as grass dries up {in the sun (כֶּחָצִיר מְהֵרָה יִמָּלוּ)

The point of this comparison is that just as the grass quickly withers and dies, so the wicked will quickly perish. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [just as the grass quickly withers, they will quickly perish]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT and like a green plant they will fade
UST and green plants quickly wither and die
(וּכְיֶרֶק דֶּשֶׁא יִבּוֹלוּן)

The point of this comparison is that just as a green plant will fade and die, so the wicked will not last. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [and just as a green plant fades, they too will fade away]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they will & wither	they will & disappear
and like a green plant	and green plants

Psalms 37:3

ULT	UST
Trust in Yahweh and do good; inhabit the land and feed faithfulness.	Trust in Yahweh and do what is right; live in the land {that he has given you}, and be faithful {to him}.

ULT good
UST what is right
(טֽוֹב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of good, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the right thing]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and feed faithfulness
UST and be faithful {to him
(וּרְעֵ֣ה אֱמוּנָֽה)

The word translated as feed is used to describe what shepherds do for sheep as they care for them, and also for what sheep do as they feed themselves. So this could mean: (1) Cultivate, develop, or practice faithfulness to Yahweh (and each other). Alternate translation: [and practice faithfulness] or (2) Enjoy the faithfulness that Yahweh offers to his people. Alternate translation: [and experience Yahweh's faithfulness]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and feed faithfulness
UST and be faithful {to him
(וּרְעֵ֣ה אֱמוּנָֽה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and act faithfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Trust	Trust
in Yahweh	in Yahweh
good	what is right
the land	the land {that he has given you faithfulness	faithful {to him

Psalms 37:4

ULT	UST
And delight yourself in Yahweh, and he will give to you the desires of your heart.	Also, enjoy Yahweh more than anything else; then he will give you what you desire most.

ULT the desires of your heart
UST what you desire most (מִשְׁאֲלֹת לִבֶּךָ)

Here the heart represents where a person's desires exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what you truly desire]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And delight yourself	Also, enjoy & more than anything else
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 37:5

ULT	UST
Roll your way upon Yahweh, and trust in him, and he, he will act	Entrust everything that you plan to do to Yahweh; trust in him, and then, for his part, he will do {whatever you need him to do}.

ULT Roll your way upon Yahweh
UST Entrust everything that you plan to do to Yahweh
(גּוֹל עַל־יְהוָה דַּרְכֶּךָ)

David is using Roll your way upon Yahweh as a common expression of his culture to mean to turn over or entrust your plans to Yahweh. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Commit your plans to Yahweh]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT and he, he will act
UST and then, for his part, he will do {whatever you need him to do
(וְהוּא יַעֲשֶׂה)

David is stating the pronoun he separately, even though the verb translated as he will act already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that Yahweh is the only one who can do this. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [and Yahweh himself will act]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and trust	trust

Psalms 37:6

ULT	UST
and he will bring out your righteousness like the light, and your justice like the noonday.	He will show everyone as clearly as the light of the noonday sun that you do what is right and that you are innocent of doing anything wrong.

ULT your righteousness like the light
UST as clearly as the light of the noonday sun that you do what is right
(כְּאוֹר צִדְקֶךָ)

The point of this comparison is that just as the light is clearly visible to everyone, so Yahweh will make the person's righteousness clearly evident. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [your righteousness so that it is as clearly visible as the light]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT your righteousness
UST that you do what is right
(צִדְקֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how righteous you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and your justice like the noonday
UST as clearly as the light of the noonday sun & and that you are innocent of doing anything wrong
(וּמִשְׁפָּטֶךָ כְּצׇהֳרָיִם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and publicly defend your just cause]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT and your justice like the noonday
> UST as clearly as the light of the noonday sun & and that you are innocent of doing anything wrong
> (וּמִשְׁפָּטֶךָ כְּצָהֳרָיִם)

The point of this comparison is that just as the noonday sun shines at its brightest, so Yahweh will make the person's justice unmistakably clear. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [and he will bring out that you are innocent so that it is as clear as the noonday sun]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and your justice	and that you are innocent of doing anything wrong

Psalms 37:7

ULT	UST
Be silent to Yahweh and tremble for him. Do not be angry because of the {one} making his way prosper, because of a man doing schemes.	Be calm before Yahweh and wait patiently for him {to act}. Do not become upset when you see {evil} people succeed as they do the {wicked} things that they have planned.

ULT Be silent to Yahweh
UST Be calm before Yahweh
(דֹּם | לַיהוָה)

David is using Be silent to Yahweh as a common expression of the culture to mean “wait patiently and reverently for Yahweh.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Rest quietly before Yahweh]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT and tremble
UST and wait patiently
(וְהִתְחוֹלֵל)

The word translated as tremble represents the written Hebrew text. This reading, however, does not seem to make sense here. Scholars have proposed that a different word with a similar spelling was intended that means “to wait” that seems to better fit the meaning of this passage. You may want to follow the major translation in your area. Alternate translation: [and wait]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT for him
UST for him {to act
(לוֹ)

The pronoun him refers to Yahweh. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [and tremble for Yahweh]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT his way
> UST when you see {evil} people succeed
> (דַּרְכּוֹ)

David is speaking of how a wicked person lives as if that were a way or path that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a wicked person's way]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT doing schemes
> UST as they do the {wicked} things that they have planned
> (עֹשֶׂה מְזִמּוֹת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of schemes, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [carrying out wicked plans]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to Yahweh	before Yahweh
and tremble	and wait patiently
because of the {one} making & prosper	when you see {evil} people succeed
schemes	the {wicked} things that they have planned

Psalms 37:8

ULT	UST
Let go of nose and abandon wrath; do not be angry; only to cause evil.	Stop being angry {about what wicked people do}; do not want to punish them yourself; that only leads to doing evil.

ULT of nose and abandon wrath
UST Stop being angry {about what wicked people do (מֵאַף וַעֲזֹב חֵמָה)

The terms nose and wrath mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [of intense anger]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT of nose
UST being angry {about what wicked people do
(מֵאַף)

David is using the nose here as a common expression of the culture, the burning of his nose to mean “anger.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of anger]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT wrath
UST being angry {about what wicked people do
(חֵמָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wrath, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [being furious]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wrath	being angry {about what wicked people do to cause evil	doing evil

Psalms 37:9

ULT	UST
For evildoers will be cut off, but the ones waiting for Yahweh, they, they will inherit the land.	Do not do that because Yahweh will destroy people who do evil, but as for the people who trust Yahweh to act, they will possess the land.

ULT For
UST Do not do that because
(כִּי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT evildoers will be cut off
UST Yahweh will destroy people who do evil
(מְרֵעִים יִכָּרֵתוּן)

David is using cut off as a common expression of the culture to mean "destroy." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [evildoers will perish]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT evildoers will be cut off
UST Yahweh will destroy people who do evil
(מְרֵעִים יִכָּרֵתוּן)

The expression will be cut off is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will cut off evildoers]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT they, they will inherit the land
> UST as for the people & they will possess the land
> (הַ֜מָּה יִ֣ירְשׁוּ־אָ֗רֶץ)

David is stating the pronoun they separately, even though the verb translated as they will inherit already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that, unlike the evildoers in the previous line, those who wait for Yahweh will inherit the land. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [they themselves will inherit the land]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
they will inherit	they will possess
the land	the land

Psalms 37:10

ULT	UST
And yet a little and there are no wicked; then you will look carefully at his place, but he is not.	Soon wicked people will disappear. You will look for them where they used to be, but they will be gone.

ULT And yet a little and there are no
UST Soon & will disappear
(וְעוֹד מְעַט וְאֵין)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [And yet a little while and then there are no more]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT wicked
UST wicked people
(רָשָׁע)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [wicked person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT his place
UST where they used to be (מְקוֹמוֹ)

The pronoun his refers to the wicked person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [where the wicked person was]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wicked	wicked people

Psalms 37:11

ULT	UST
But the meek will inherit the land and will delight themselves over an abundance of peace.	Humble people, however, will possess the land and will enjoy living {there} very peacefully and well.

ULT But the meek
UST Humble people, however
(וַעֲנָוִים)

David is using the adjective meek as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [But meek people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT an abundance of peace
UST very peacefully and well
(רֹ֣ב שָׁלֽוֹם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [living so peacefully and prosperously]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But the meek	Humble people, however
will inherit	will possess
the land	the land
and will delight themselves	and will enjoy living {there peace	peacefully and well

Psalms 37:12

ULT	UST
The wicked is plotting against the righteous and is gnashing his teeth against him.	Wicked people plan to harm people who do what is right. They grind their teeth at people who do what is right {to show how much they hate them}.

ULT The wicked is plotting against the righteous
UST Wicked people plan to harm people who do what is right
(זֹמֵם רָשָׁע לַצַּדִּיק)

David is using the adjectives wicked and righteous as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [The wicked person is plotting against the righteous person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and is gnashing his teeth against him
UST They grind their teeth at people who do what is right {to show how much they hate them
(וְחֹרֵק עָלָיו שִׁנָּיו)

The pronoun his refers to the wicked person, while the pronoun him refers to the righteous person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [and the wicked person is gnashing his teeth against the righteous person]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and is gnashing his teeth against him
UST They grind their teeth at people who do what is right {to show how much they hate them
(וְחֹרֵק עָלָיו שִׁנָּיו)

The action of gnashing his teeth describes a symbolic action by which the wicked person expresses rage and contempt against the righteous person. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [and showing his rage against the righteous]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wicked	Wicked people
against the righteous	people who do what is right

Psalms 37:13

ULT	UST
The Lord laughs at him, for he sees that his day is coming.	But the Lord scoffs at wicked people, because he knows that the time when he will judge them is coming.

ULT The Lord laughs at him
UST But the Lord scoffs at wicked people
(אֲדֹנָי יִשְׂחַק־לוֹ)

David is speaking of the Lord as if he were a person who could laugh at someone. This represents the Lord's contempt for the wicked person and his plans. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The Lord regards him with contempt]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT for he sees that his day is coming
UST because he knows that the time when he will judge them is coming (כִּי־רֹאֶה כִּי־יָבֹא יוֹמוֹ)

The pronoun he refers to the Lord, while the pronoun his refers to the wicked person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the Lord sees that the wicked person's day is coming]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT his day is coming
UST the time when he will judge them is coming (יָבֹא יוֹמוֹ)

David is speaking of the wicked person's judgment as if it were a time or a day that is coming toward him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the time of his judgment is near]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The Lord	But the Lord

Psalms 37:14

ULT	UST
The wicked have opened a sword and have trodden their bow to bring down the poor and the needy, to slaughter the upright of way.	Wicked people draw their swords and string their bows to kill people who are poor and helpless and to slaughter people who live honestly.

ULT The wicked
UST Wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [Those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT to bring down the poor and the needy
UST to kill people who are poor and helpless
(לְהַפִּיל עָנִי וְאֶבְיוֹן)

Here, to marks bring down the poor and the needy as the goal or purpose of the wicked preparing their weapons to kill, having opened a sword and trodden their bow. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose. [in order to bring down the poor and the needy]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT the poor and the needy
UST people who are poor and helpless
(עָנִי וְאֶבְיוֹן)

David is using the adjectives poor and needy as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate these adjectives with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [those who are poor people and needy]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the poor and the needy
UST people who are poor and helpless
(עָנִי וְאֶבְיוֹן)

The terms the poor and the needy mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [the very vulnerable]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT the upright of way
> UST people who live honestly
> (יִשְׁרֵי־דָֽרֶךְ)

David is speaking of how a person lives as if that were a way that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who live uprightly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wicked	Wicked people
a sword	their swords
their bow	their bows
to slaughter	and to slaughter
the upright of	honestly

Psalms 37:15

ULT	UST
Their sword will come into their heart, and their bows will be broken.	But their swords will pierce their own hearts, and the Lord will break their bows.

ULT Their sword will come into their heart
UST But their swords will pierce their own hearts
(חַרְבָּם תָּבוֹא בְלִבָּם)

David is speaking as if the violent plans of the wicked were a sword that would pierce their own heart. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Their own schemes will bring about their ruin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and their bows will be broken
UST and the Lord will break their bows
(וְקַשְׁתֹתָם תִּשָּׁבֵרְנָה)

The expression will be broken is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will destroy their bows]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Their sword	But their swords
and their bows	and & their bows

Psalms 37:16

ULT	UST
Better {is} the little of the righteous than the abundance of many wicked.	It is better to be a person who does what is right and to have only a few possessions than to have the abundant wealth of many wicked people.

ULT Better {is} the little of the righteous than the abundance of many wicked

UST It is better to be a person who does what is right and to have only a few possessions than to have the abundant wealth of many wicked people
(טוֹב־מְעַט לַצַּדִּיק מֵהֲמוֹן רְשָׁעִים רַבִּים)

David is using the possessive form to describe the little amount that the righteous person possesses as being far better in contrast to the great wealth or abundance that many wicked people possess. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Better is what little the righteous person owns than what many wicked people have in abundance]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Better {is	It is better
of the righteous	to be a person who does what is right
wicked	wicked people

Psalms 37:17

ULT	UST
For the arms of the wicked will be broken, but Yahweh is supporting the righteous.	{This is so} because Yahweh will make wicked people unable to do what they want to do, but he will take care of people who do what is right.

ULT the arms of the wicked will be broken
UST will make wicked people unable to do what they want to do
(זְרוֹעוֹת רְשָׁעִים תִּשְׁבֹּרְנָה)

David is speaking as if the strength of the wicked were arms that could be broken. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the power of the wicked will fail]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the arms of the wicked will be broken
UST will make wicked people unable to do what they want to do
(זְרוֹעוֹת רְשָׁעִים תִּשְׁבֹּרְנָה)

The expression will be broken is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will break the arms of the wicked]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT but Yahweh is supporting the righteous
UST Yahweh & but he will take care of people who do what is right
(וְסוֹמֵךְ צַדִּיקִים יְהוָה)

Here David is speaking of Yahweh's care and protection as if he were physically holding up or supporting the righteous. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but Yahweh protects and sustains the righteous]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the righteous
UST people who do what is right
(צַדִּיקִים)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [those who are righteous]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
Yahweh	Yahweh
the righteous	people who do what is right

Psalms 37:18

ULT	UST
Yahweh is knowing the days of the blameless, and their inheritance will be forever.	Each day Yahweh watches over people who do not do wrong things, and what he gives them will last forever.

ULT Yahweh is knowing the days of
UST Each day Yahweh watches over
(יוֹדֵעַ יְהוָה יְמֵי)

David is using knowing the days of as a common expression of the culture to mean “concerned for the needs of.” This refers to Yahweh’s intimate and active involvement in the life of his people. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is concerned for the needs of]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the days of the blameless
UST Each day & people who do not do wrong things
(יְמֵי תְמִימִם)

David is using the possessive form to describe the days that the blameless live. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the days that the blameless live]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the blameless
UST people who do not do wrong things
(תְמִימִם)

David is using the adjective blameless as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [those who live blameless lives]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT and their inheritance
> UST and what he gives them
> (וְנַחֲלָתָם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of inheritance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and what they inherit]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
is knowing	watches over
the blameless	people who do not do wrong things and their inheritance	and what he gives them
forever	will last forever

Psalms 37:19

ULT	UST
They will not have shame in a time of evil, and in the days of famine they will have enough.	During times when bad things happen they will not despair; even when there is a famine, they will still have enough {to eat}.

ULT They will not have shame
UST they will not despair
(לֹ֣א־יֵבֹ֑שׁוּ)

The pronoun They refers to the blameless people from the previous verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [The blameless will not have shame]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They will not have shame
UST they will not despair
(לֹ֣א־יֵבֹ֑שׁוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of shame, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [They will not be ashamed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in a time of evil
UST During times when bad things happen
(בְּעֵ֣ת רָעָ֑ה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [a time when evil things happen]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and in the days of famine
UST even when there is a famine
(וּבִימֵ֖י רְעָבוֹ֣ן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of famine, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and in the days when people are starving]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
They will & have shame	they will & despair
in a time of	During times when evil	bad things happen
famine	a famine

Psalms 37:20

ULT	UST
For the wicked will perish, and the enemies of Yahweh {will be} like the precious of pastures; they vanish, in smoke they vanish.	But wicked people will die. Those who hate Yahweh will be like wildflowers that look beautiful in the meadows; but then they will disappear {as quickly} as a puff of smoke.

ULT For
UST But
(כִּ֤י)

David uses the word For here to indicate a contrast between the fate of "the blameless" mentioned in vs. 18 and the fate of the wicked. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [However,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִ֗ים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT will be} like the precious of pastures
UST will be like wildflowers that look beautiful in the meadows
(כִּיקַ֣ר כָּרִ֣ים)

The word translated as pastures could also be translated as "rams." So this could refer to: (1) flowers that grow in the meadows and then quickly fade away. Alternate translation: [will be like the flowers of the meadow] or (2) the choicest parts of the ram that is offered for sacrifice. Alternate translation: [will be like the choice parts of rams]

ULT and the enemies of Yahweh {will be} like the precious of pastures
UST Those who hate Yahweh will be like wildflowers that look beautiful in the meadows
(וְאֹיְבֵי יְהוָה כִּיקַר כָּרִים)

The point of this comparison is that just as the wildflower in the field or the precious of pastures is beautiful but quickly fades away, so the enemies of Yahweh will quickly perish. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [and the enemies of Yahweh will be like flowers in the meadow that quickly wither]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT will be} like the precious of pastures
UST will be like wildflowers that look beautiful in the meadows
(כִּיקַר כָּרִים)

David is using the adjective precious as a noun to mean a certain kind of thing. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [will be like the beautiful flowers in the pastures]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT they vanish, in smoke they vanish
UST but then they will disappear {as quickly} as a puff of smoke
(כְּלוּ בֶּעָשָׁן כָּלוּ)

David is speaking of the disappearance of the wicked as if they were smoke that quickly vanishes. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they disappear completely, they are utterly gone]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wicked	wicked people
will perish	will die
and the enemies of	Those who hate
Yahweh	Yahweh
will be} like the precious of	will be like wildflowers that look beautiful

Psalms 37:21

ULT	UST
The wicked is borrowing and does not repay, but the righteous is showing grace and giving.	Wicked people borrow {money} and never repay {it}, but people who do what is right are generous and give {freely to others}.

ULT The wicked
UST Wicked people
(רָשָׁע)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [The wicked person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT but the righteous
UST but people who do what is right
(וְצַדִּיק)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [but the righteous person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT is showing grace
UST are generous
(חוֹנֵן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of grace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is acting graciously]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wicked	Wicked people
but the righteous	but people who do what is right is showing grace	are generous

Psalms 37:22

ULT	UST
For those blessed by him will inherit the land, but those cursed by him will be cut off.	Moreover, those whom Yahweh blesses will possess the land, but he will destroy those whom he has cursed.

ULT those blessed by him
UST those whom Yahweh blesses
(מְבֹרָכָיו)

The pronoun him refers to Yahweh. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [those blessed by Yahweh]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT but those cursed by him will be cut off
UST but he will destroy those whom he has cursed (וּמְקֻלָלָיו יִכָּרֵתוּ)

The expression will be cut off is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [but Yahweh will cut off those he has cursed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT will be cut off
UST he will destroy
(יִכָּרֵתוּ)

David is using be cut off as a common expression of the culture to mean "be destroyed." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be destroyed]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
those blessed by him	those whom Yahweh blesses
will inherit	will possess
the land	the land
but those cursed by him	but & those whom he has cursed

Psalms 37:23

ULT	UST
From Yahweh the steps of a man are established, and he delights in his way.	Yahweh directs a person to live securely, and he is pleased with how that person lives.

ULT From Yahweh the steps of a man are established
UST Yahweh directs a person to live securely (מֵיְהוָה מְצְעֲדֵי־גֶבֶר כּוֹנָנוּ)

The expression are established contains a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh establishes people's steps]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the steps of a man are established
UST directs a person to live securely
(מְצְעֲדֵי־גֶבֶר כּוֹנָנוּ)

David is speaking of a person's life course as if it were steps that a person walks. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the life of a man is directed]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a man
UST a person
(גֶּבֶר)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [each person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT and he delights in his way
UST and he is pleased with how that person lives
(וְדַרְכּוֹ יֶחְפָּץ)

David is speaking of how a person lives as if that were a way or path that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he delights in the way he lives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and he delights in his way
> UST and he is pleased with how that person lives
> (וְדַרְכּוֹ יֶחְפָּץ)

The pronoun he refers to Yahweh, while the pronoun his refers to the man. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Yahweh delights in that man's way]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
From Yahweh	Yahweh
are established	directs & securely
he delights in	he is pleased with

Psalms 37:24

ULT	UST
Though he falls, he will not be hurled down, for Yahweh is supporting his hand.	Even if something bad happens to that person, he will not completely fail, because Yahweh takes care of him.

ULT Though he falls
UST Even if something bad happens to that person
(כִּי־יִפֹּל)

David is presenting a possible condition, that a righteous man might have something bad happen to him. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a condition that could happen. Alternate translation: [Even if he falls]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT he falls
UST something bad happens to that person
(יִפֹּל)

The pronoun heand his in this verse refer to the righteous man described in verse 23. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the righteous man falls]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he falls
UST something bad happens to that person
(יִפֹּל)

Here David is speaking of the reaction the righteous have to difficult times as if he stumbles and falls. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he has difficult times]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT he will not be hurled down
UST he will not completely fail
(לֹא־יוּטָל)

The expression will not be hurled down contains a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [nothing will hurl him down]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT Yahweh is supporting his hand
> UST Yahweh takes care of him
> (יְהוָה סוֹמֵךְ יָדוֹ)

David is speaking of Yahweh's help as if Yahweh were physically holding him up by supporting his hand. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is helping him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he will & be hurled down	he will & completely fail
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 37:25

ULT	UST
I was a youth, and I am old, and I have not seen the righteous abandoned or his seed seeking bread.	I have been young, and now I am old, but {in all those years} I have never seen Yahweh stop caring for any person who does what is right, nor have I seen such a person's children {needing to} beg for food.

ULT the righteous abandoned
UST Yahweh stop caring for any person who does what is right
(צַדִּ֗יק נֶֽעֱזָ֫ב)

The word abandoned is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh abandoning the righteous]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the righteous
UST any person who does what is right
(צַדִּ֗יק)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [any righteous person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT or his seed
UST nor have I seen such a person's children
(וְזַרְעוֹ֥)

Here David is speaking of the offspring of the righteous person as if they were actually his seed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [or his offspring]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT bread
> UST food
> (לֶחֶם)

David is using one kind of food, bread, to mean food in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for enough food to eat]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I am old	I am old
the righteous	any person who does what is right abandoned	Yahweh stop caring for or his seed	nor have I seen such a person’s children seeking	needing to} beg for bread	food

Psalms 37:26

ULT	UST
All the day he is showing grace and lending, and his seed {are} for a blessing.	People who do what is right are generous and lend freely {to others} every day, and their children bless others.

ULT he is showing grace
UST People who do what is right are generous
(חוֹנֵן)

The pronoun he refers to the righteous person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the righteous person is showing grace]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he is showing grace
UST People who do what is right are generous
(חוֹנֵן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of grace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he is being gracious]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and his seed
UST and their children
(וְזַרְעוֹ)

Here David is speaking of the offspring of the righteous person as if they were actually his seed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and his offspring]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT are} for a blessing
UST bless others
(לִבְרָכָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of blessing, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [are able to bless others]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he is showing grace	People who do what is right are generous and his seed	and their children are} for a blessing	bless others

Psalms 37:27

ULT	UST
Turn away from evil and do good, and dwell forever.	Avoid doing evil and do what is right. If you do that, you {and your descendants} will live in the land forever.

ULT Turn away from evil
UST Avoid doing evil
(סוּר מֵרָע)

David is speaking of evil as if it were an object that they should physically turn away from. Your language may have a comparable expression you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Stop doing what is bad]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from evil and do good
UST evil and do what is right
(מֵרָע וַעֲשֵׂה־טּוֹב)

If your language does not use an abstract nouns for the ideas of evil and good, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [from doing evil things and instead do good things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from evil	evil
good	what is right
and dwell	If you do that, you {and your descendants} will live in the land
forever	forever

Psalms 37:28

ULT	UST
For Yahweh is loving justice, and he will not abandon his faithful. Forever they are preserved, but the offspring of the wicked will be cut off.	Indeed, Yahweh loves it when people do what is just, and he will never stop caring for those who are faithful to him. He will protect them forever, but he will destroy the descendants of wicked people.

ULT justice
UST when people do what is just (מִשְׁפָּט)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is just]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his faithful
UST those who are faithful to him
(אֶת־חֲסִידָיו)

David is using the adjective faithful as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [his faithful people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT they are preserved
UST He will protect them
(נִשְׁמָרוּ)

The expression are preserved is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh preserves them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT but the offspring of the wicked will be cut off
UST but he will destroy the descendants of wicked people
(וְזֶרַע רְשָׁעִים נִכְרָת)

The expression will be cut off is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [but Yahweh will cut off the offspring of the wicked]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT but the offspring of the wicked
UST but & the descendants of wicked people
(וְזֶרַע רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the possessive form to describe offspring that belong to the wicked. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [but the children of wicked people]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the wicked
UST wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT will be cut off
UST he will destroy
(נִכְרָת)

David is using be cut off as a common expression of the culture to mean “be destroyed.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be destroyed]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
is loving	loves it
justice	when people do what is just he will & abandon	he will & stop caring for his faithful	those who are faithful to him
Forever	forever
they are preserved	He will protect them but the offspring of	but & the descendants of
the wicked	wicked people

Psalms 37:29

ULT	UST
The righteous will inherit the land and will dwell forever upon it.	People who do what is right will possess the land {that Yahweh gives them} and will live there forever.

ULT The righteous
UST People who do what is right
(צַדִּיקִים)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [Righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The righteous	People who do what is right
will inherit	will possess
the land	the land {that Yahweh gives them
forever	forever

Psalms 37:30

ULT	UST
The mouth of the righteous murmurs wisdom, and his tongue speaks justice.	People who do what is right speak wisely, and they say what is just.

ULT The mouth of the righteous
UST People who do what is right
(פִּי־צַדִּיק)

David is using one part of a person, his mouth, to mean all of him in the act of speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The righteous person]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT the righteous
UST People who do what is right
(צַדִּיק)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the righteous person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT wisdom
UST wisely
(חָכְמָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wisdom, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [wise words]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and his tongue speaks justice
UST and they say what is just (וּלְשׁוֹנוֹ תְּדַבֵּר מִשְׁפָּט)

David is using one part of a person, his tongue, to mean all of the righteous person in the act of speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he speaks justice]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT justice
> UST what is just
> (מִשְׁפָּט)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is just]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the righteous	People who do what is right
wisdom	wisely
and his tongue	and they say justice	what is just

Psalms 37:31

ULT	UST
The law of his God {is} in his heart; his steps will not slip.	They continually think about the instructions that their God gave to them; they succeed in living {the way that God wants them to live}.

ULT his God
UST their God gave to them
(אֱלֹהָיו)

David is using the possessive form to describe a law that comes from his God. Also, by using the phrase his God he does not mean that the righteous person possesses or controls Yahweh, but rather to emphasize that Yahweh is the God he worships. See the introduction to Psalms for further discussion. Alternate translation: [The law given by the God whom he worships]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT is} in his heart
UST They continually think about
(בִּלְבּוֹ)

Here the his heart represents where a person's thoughts exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is always in his thoughts]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his steps will not slip
UST they succeed in living {the way that God wants them to live
(לֹא תִמְעַד אֲשֻׁרָיו)

David is speaking as if the righteous person were walking along a path and his steps could slip. He means that the righteous person will not fail in his conduct. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will not fail in the way he lives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The law of	the instructions that his God	their God gave to them

Psalms 37:32

ULT	UST
The wicked is watching the righteous and is seeking to kill him.	Wicked people observe people who do what is right and look for ways to kill them.

ULT The wicked is watching the righteous
UST Wicked people observe people who do what is right
(צוֹפֶה רָשָׁע לַצַּדִּיק)

David is using the adjectives wicked and righteous as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [The wicked person is watching the righteous person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT to kill him
UST to kill them
(לַהֲמִיתוֹ)

The pronoun him refers to the righteous person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [to kill the righteous person]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wicked	Wicked people
is watching	observe
the righteous	people who do what is right
and is seeking	and look for ways
to kill him	to kill them

Psalms 37:33

ULT	UST
Yahweh will not abandon him into his hand, and will not condemn him when he is judged.	But Yahweh will keep protecting them from what the wicked people want to do to them, and he will not let a judge {wrongly} condemn the people who do what is right.

ULT Yahweh will not abandon him into his hand, and will not condemn him when he is judged
UST But Yahweh will keep protecting them from what the wicked people want to do to them, and he will not let a judge {wrongly} condemn the people who do what is right
(יְהוָה לֹא־יַעַזְבֶנּוּ בְיָדוֹ וְלֹא יַרְשִׁיעֶנּוּ בְּהִשָּׁפְטוֹ)

In this verse, both of uses of the pronoun him refer to the righteous person as well as the he at the end while the pronoun his refers to the wicked person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will not abandon the righteous person into the hand of the wicked person, and will not condemn the righteous person when he is judged]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT into his hand
UST from what the wicked people want to do to them
(בְיָדוֹ)

Here, his hand represents the power of the wicked person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to the power of the wicked person]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT when he is judged
UST a judge
(בְּהִשָּׁפְטוֹ)

The expression is judged is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [when he comes to trial]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	But Yahweh
will & abandon him	will keep protecting them
when he is judged	a judge
when he is judged	a judge

Psalms 37:34

ULT	UST
Wait for Yahweh and keep his way, and he will raise you up to inherit the land. When the wicked are cut off, you will see {it.}	Patiently rely on Yahweh {to help you} and obey what he commands. {If you do that,} he will honor you by giving you the land. When God destroys the wicked people, you will see it happen.

ULT and keep his way
UST and obey what he commands
(וּשְׁמֹ֣ר דַּרְכּ֑וֹ)

David is speaking of how Yahweh wants a person to live as if that were a way or path that the person was walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and live how he wants you to live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his way
UST what he commands
(דַּרְכּ֑וֹ)

David is using the possessive form to describe a way that belongs to Yahweh. He means the way of living that Yahweh prescribes. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the way that Yahweh commands]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT and he will raise you up
UST If you do that,} he will honor you
(וְיָרוֹמֶ֥מְךָ)

Here David is speaking of honoring someone as if they were and object that someone would raise up. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he will honor you in order for you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT When the wicked are cut off
> UST When God destroys the wicked people
> (בְּהִכָּרֵת רְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [When those who are wicked are cut off]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT When the wicked are cut off
> UST When God destroys the wicked people
> (בְּהִכָּרֵת רְשָׁעִים)

The expression are cut off is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh cuts off the wicked]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT When the wicked are cut off
> UST When God destroys the wicked people
> (בְּהִכָּרֵת רְשָׁעִים)

David is using cut off as a common expression of the culture to mean "destroyed." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [When the wicked are destroyed]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and he will raise you up	If you do that,} he will honor you to inherit	by giving you
the land	the land
the wicked	the wicked people

Psalms 37:35

ULT	UST
I have seen a wicked, violent {one}, and spreading himself out like a green native {tree.}	I once saw a wicked and tyrannical person who was becoming powerful, like a large tree that was spreading out its branches over its native soil.

ULT and spreading himself out like a green native {tree
UST who was becoming powerful, like a large tree that was spreading out its branches over its native soil
(וּמִתְעָרֶה כְּאֶזְרָח רַעֲנָן)

The point of this comparison is that just as a green native tree spreads out and flourishes, so the wicked person was spreading himself out and becoming powerful. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [becoming powerful like a flourishing native tree that spreads out]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a wicked	a wicked
violent {one	and tyrannical person

Psalms 37:36

ULT	UST
And he passed away, and behold, he was not, and I sought him, and he was not found.	But then he passed away! Suddenly, he was gone! I looked for him, but he was not there.

ULT And he passed away
UST But then he passed away
(וַיַּעֲבֹר)

The pronouns he and him throughout this verse refer to the wicked person mentioned in the previous verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [And the wicked man passed away]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and he was not found
UST but he was not there
(וְלֹא נִמְצָא)

The expression was not found is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [but I could not find him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and I sought him	I looked for him

Psalms 37:37

ULT	UST
Watch the blameless and see the upright, for {there is} a future for the man of peace.	Observe {and imitate} people who are honest and who live rightly, because people who live peacefully will have a long life.

ULT the blameless and see the upright
UST people who are honest and who live rightly (תָּם וּרְאֵה יָשָׁר)

The psalmist is using the adjectives blameless and upright as nouns to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate these adjectives with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [blameless people and see upright people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT there is} a future
UST will have a long life
(אַחֲרִית)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of future, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [there is something good ahead]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for the man of peace
UST people who live peacefully
(לְאִישׁ שָׁלוֹם)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe a man that is characterized by peace. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the peaceful man]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT for the man of peace
UST people who live peacefully
(לְאִישׁ שָׁלוֹם)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means anyone in general who lives peacefully. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [for anyone who lives peacefully]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Watch	Observe {and imitate
the blameless	people who are honest
the upright	and who live rightly
peace	who live peacefully

Psalms 37:38

ULT	UST
But the transgressors are destroyed together; the future of the wicked is cut off.	But Yahweh will destroy all people who rebel against him; he will make the lives of wicked people short.

ULT But the transgressors are destroyed
UST But Yahweh will destroy & people who rebel against him
(וּפֹשְׁעִים נִשְׁמְדוּ)

The expression are destroyed is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh destroys the transgressors]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT But the transgressors
UST people who rebel against him
(וּפֹשְׁעִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective transgressors as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the people who transgress]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the future of the wicked is cut off
UST he will make the lives of wicked people short
(אַחֲרִית רְשָׁעִים נִכְרָתָה)

The expression is cut off is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh cuts off the future of the wicked]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the future of the wicked
UST he will make the lives of wicked people short
(אַחֲרִית רְשָׁעִים)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe the future lives that wicked people would have. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the future life of the wicked]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT the wicked
> UST wicked people
> (רְשָׁעִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT is cut off
> UST he will make the lives of & short > (נִכְרָתָה)

David is using cut off as a common expression of the culture to mean "destroyed." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is destroyed]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But the transgressors	people who rebel against him are destroyed	But Yahweh will destroy
the wicked	wicked people

Psalms 37:39

ULT	UST
And the salvation of the righteous {is} from Yahweh, their fortress in the time of distress.	Yahweh saves people who do what is right; he protects them when bad things are happening.

ULT And the salvation of the righteous
UST saves people who do what is right
(וּתְשׁוּעַת צַדִּיקִים)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [And the righteous being saved]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT And the salvation of the righteous
UST saves people who do what is right
(וּתְשׁוּעַת צַדִּיקִים)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe the salvation that the righteous receive. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [And the salvation that righteous people receive]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the righteous
UST people who do what is right
(צַדִּיקִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT their fortress in the time of distress
UST he protects them when bad things are happening
(מָעוּזָּם בְּעֵת צָרָה)

David is speaking of Yahweh's protection as if it were a fortress or a strong building that protects them from enemies. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [their protector in the time of distress]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT in the time of distress
> UST when bad things are happening
> (בְּעֵת צָרָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of distress, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when they are troubled]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And the salvation of	saves
the righteous	people who do what is right
is} from Yahweh	Yahweh
their fortress	he protects them
in the time of	when distress	bad things are happening

Psalms 37:40

ULT	UST
And Yahweh helps them and delivers them; he delivers them from the wicked and saves them, because they have taken refuge in him.	Yahweh helps them and rescues them from {what} wicked people {want to do to them}. He saves them because they have trusted in him {to help them}.

ULT And Yahweh helps them and delivers them
UST Yahweh helps them and rescues them
(וַיְעֲזְרֵם יְהוָה וַיְפַלְּטֵם)

The pronouns them and they in this verse refer to the righteous people mentioned in the previous verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [And Yahweh helps the righteous and delivers them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT from the wicked
UST from {what} wicked people {want to do to them
(מֵרְשָׁעִים)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [from those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT they have taken refuge in him
UST they have trusted in him {to help them
(חָסוּ בּוֹ)

The psalmist is speaking of trusting in Yahweh as if the righteous had taken refuge in him, as people take shelter in a safe place. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they have depended on him to keep them safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
from the wicked	from {what} wicked people {want to do to them and saves them	He saves them
they have taken refuge	they have trusted

Psalms 38

Psalms 38 Introduction

Psalm 38 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 38 is a “psalm of supplication” or “lament.” It is a confession of sin and a prayer for deliverance.

1. Cry to Yahweh under discipline and distress (1–8)
2. Describe suffering and isolation (9–14)
3. Hope in Yahweh for healing and help (15–22)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

David’s sickness

The psalmist was very sick and his enemies were seeking ways to destroy him.

Psalms 38:1

ULT	UST
Yahweh, do not rebuke me in your anger, nor discipline me in your wrath.	Yahweh, please do not correct me angrily; no, please do not punish me wrathfully.

ULT Yahweh, do not rebuke me in your anger, nor discipline me in your wrath
UST Yahweh, please do not correct me angrily; no, please do not punish me wrathfully (יְהוָה אַל־בְּקֶצְפְּךָ תוֹכִיחֵנִי וּבַחֲמָתְךָ תְיַסְּרֵנִי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional as in the UST. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, please do not continue to discipline me in your anger]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT in your anger
UST angrily
(בְּקֶצְפְּךָ)

If your language does not use abstract noun for the idea of anger you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when you are angry]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT nor discipline me in your wrath
UST no, please do not punish me wrathfully
(וּבַחֲמָתְךָ תְיַסְּרֵנִי)

If your language does not use abstract noun for the idea of wrath, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [nor discipline me when you are furious]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
do & rebuke me	please do & correct me discipline me	please do not punish me
nor & in your wrath	no & wrathfully

Psalms 38:2

ULT	UST
For your arrows have sunk into me, and your hand has come down on me.	{I feel as though} you have shot arrows into me, and that you have struck me with your hand.

ULT your arrows have sunk into me
UST you have shot arrows into me
(חִצֶּיךָ נָחֲתוּ בִּי)

David is speaking of Yahweh's punishment as if it were arrows that had pierced him and sunk into his flesh. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your punishment has wounded me deeply]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and your hand has come down on me
UST and that you have struck me with your hand
(וַתִּנְחַת עָלַי יָדֶךָ)

David is using your hand as part of a common expression of his culture as seen in Psalm 32:4, "your hand was heavy upon me" to mean that Yahweh has afflicted or disciplined him severely. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you have afflicted me]

Support Reference: Idiom

Psalms 38:3

ULT	UST
There is no soundness in my flesh from the face of your indignation; there is no peace in my bones from the face of my sin.	Because you are so angry with me, my whole body suffers. My body is restless because I have sinned.

ULT There is no soundness in my flesh from the face of your indignation
UST Because you are so angry with me, my whole body suffers
(אֵין־מְתֹ֣ם בִּבְשָׂרִ֣י מִפְּנֵ֣י זַעְמֶ֑ךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of soundness and indignation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [There is no healthy part in my flesh from the face of your anger]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in my flesh
UST my whole body suffers
(בִּבְשָׂרִ֣י)

David is using my flesh to represent his whole body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my entire body]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT from the face of
UST Because
(מִפְּנֵ֣י)

David is using from the face of as a common expression of the culture to mean “because of” or “on account of.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT there is no peace in my bones from the face of my sin
UST My body is restless because I have sinned
(אֵין־שָׁלֹ֥ום בַּעֲצָמַ֑י מִפְּנֵ֖י חַטָּאתִֽי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of peace and sin, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [there is nothing healthy in my body because I have sinned]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT in my bones
> UST My body
> (בַּעֲצָמַי)

David is using my bones to represent his whole body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my whole body]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT from the face of
> UST because
> (מִפְּנֵי)

David is using from the face of as a common expression of the culture to mean “because of” or “on account of.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
peace	is restless
my sin	I have sinned

Psalms 38:4

ULT	UST
For my iniquities have passed over my head; like a heavy burden, they are too heavy for me.	Indeed, all my sins {are like flood waters that} rise above my head; they are like a heavy load that is too much for me to bear.

ULT my iniquities have passed over my head
UST all my sins {are like flood waters that} rise above my head
(עֲוֹנֹתַי עָבְרוּ רֹאשִׁי)

David is speaking of his sins or iniquities overwhelming him as if they were flood waters that had passed over his head. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my iniquities have overwhelmed me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my iniquities
UST all my sins
(עֲוֹנֹתַי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquities, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the sins I have committed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my iniquities	all my sins

Psalms 38:5

ULT	UST
My wounds stink, they fester from the face of my foolishness.	Because I have acted foolishly, I have sores that keep getting worse and stink.

ULT from the face of
UST Because
(מִפְּנֵי)

David is using from the face of as a common expression of the culture to mean “because of” or “on account of.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT my foolishness
UST I have acted foolishly
(אִוַּלְתִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of foolishness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [my foolish sins]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my foolishness	I have acted foolishly
my foolishness	I have acted foolishly

Psalms 38:6

ULT	UST
I am twisted; I am bowed down exceedingly; all the day I go about mourning.	My body is twisted and bent over very low. I go around sad and grieving constantly.

> ULT I am twisted; I am bowed down exceedingly > UST My body is twisted and bent over very low > (נַעֲוֵ֥יתִי שַׁחֹ֗תִי עַד־מְאֹ֑ד)

The expressions am twisted and bowed down are passive verbal forms. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Sickness has twisted my body and made it very bent over]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
mourning	sad and grieving

Psalms 38:7

ULT	UST
For my loins are full of burning, and there is no soundness in my flesh.	This is because there is a fever inside me, and my whole body is sick.

ULT my loins are full of burning
UST there is a fever inside me
(כֶּסְלַי מָלְאוּ נִקְלֶה)

David is speaking as if his physical suffering were a burning fire filling his body. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my body is full of feverish pain]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT burning, and there is no soundness
UST there is a fever & and & is sick
(נִקְלֶה וְאֵין מָתֹם)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of burning and soundness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [fever and there is no healthy part]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in my flesh
UST my whole body
(בִּבְשָׂרִי)

David is using my flesh to represent his whole body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [anywhere in my body]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my loins	inside me

Psalms 38:8

ULT	UST
I am numb and crushed exceedingly; I roar from the groaning of my heart.	I am exhausted and feel completely broken. I moan loudly because I feel so distressed.

ULT I am numb and crushed
UST I am exhausted and feel & broken
(נָפוּגוֹתִי וְנִדְכֵּיתִי)

The expressions am numb and crushed are passive verbal forms. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Sickness has made my body feel numb and broken down]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT from the groaning of my heart
UST because I feel so distressed
(מִנַּהֲמַת לִבִּי)

Here the heart represents where a person's feelings and emotions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of all the anxiety I feel]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the groaning of	because I feel so distressed

Psalms 38:9

ULT	UST
Lord, all of my desire {is} before you, and my sighing is not hidden from you.	Lord, you know everything that I long for, and you hear every time that I sigh.

ULT my desire
UST that I long for (תַּאֲוָתִ֗י)

If your language does not use abstract noun for the idea of desire, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what I desire]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my sighing is not hidden from you
UST and you hear every time that I sigh
(וְ֝אַנְחָתִ֗י מִמְּךָ֥ לֹא־נִסְתָּרָֽה)

The expression is not hidden contains a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and you know all my sighing]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT is not hidden from you
UST you hear every time
(מִמְּךָ֥ לֹא־נִסְתָּרָֽה)

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word hidden. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [is very clear to you]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord

Psalms 38:10

ULT	UST
My heart pounds; my strength has left me, and the light of my eyes—even they {are} not with me.	My heart beats rapidly and I am very weak. Even my eyesight is failing me.

ULT my strength has left me
UST and I am very weak
(עֻזָּבַנִי כֹחִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I am no longer strong]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT my strength has left me
UST and I am very weak
(עֻזָּבַנִי כֹחִי)

David is speaking of his strength as if it were a living thing that could walk away and leave him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my strength has faded away]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT and the light of my eyes—even they {are} not with me
UST Even my eyesight is failing me
(וְאוֹר־עֵינַי גַּם־הֵם אֵין אִתִּי)

David is speaking of his ability to see as if it were a light that was in his eyes. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and all I can see with my eyes is darkness]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
has left me	and I am very weak

Psalms 38:11

ULT	UST
My loved ones and my friends stand from before my plague, and my relatives stand from afar.	My friends and the people I love keep away from me because of my disease; even my own family stays far away from me.

ULT My loved ones and my friends stand from before my plague, and my relatives stand from afar

UST My friends and the people I love keep away from me because of my disease; even my own family stays far away from me

(אֹהֲבַי | וְרֵעַי מִנֶּגֶד נִגְעִי יַעֲמֹדוּ וּקְרוֹבַי מֵרָחֹק עָמָדוּ)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. See how your translation team has decided to represent pairs of clauses in Hebrew poetry that mean basically the same thing. Alternate translation: [My loved ones all stand far away from me because of my sickness]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My loved ones	and the people I love and my friends	My friends
my plague	my disease

Psalms 38:12

ULT	UST
And the seekers of my life lay snares, and the pursuers of my harm speak destructions and mutter treacheries all the day.	Those who want to kill me set traps for me, and those who want to harm me talk about how to destroy me and they constantly plot how they will deceive me.

ULT And the seekers of my life lay snares
UST Those who want to kill me set traps for me
(וְיִנַקְּשֵׁוּ ׀ מְבַקְּשֵׁי נַפְשִׁי)

David is speaking as if his enemies' plots were snares set to trap an animal. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And the seekers of my life plot against me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the seekers of my life
UST Those who want to kill me
(מְבַקְּשֵׁי נַפְשִׁי)

David is using the seekers of my life as a common expression of the culture to mean "those who want to kill me." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all my enemies who want to see me dead]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT destructions and mutter treacheries all the day
UST how to destroy me and they constantly plot how they will deceive me (הַוּוֹת וּמִרְמוֹת כָּל־הַיּוֹם יֶהְגּוּ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of destructions and treacheries, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [about their plans to destroy me and constantly mutter lies against me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the seekers of	Those who want to kill me
And & lay snares	set traps for me and the pursuers of	and those who want to harm me
my harm	and those who want to harm me
destructions	how to destroy me

Psalms 38:13

ULT	UST
But I {am} like a deaf man; I do not hear, and like a mute man—he does not open his mouth.	But I act like someone who is deaf, and I do not listen {to them}. I act like someone who cannot speak, and I say nothing {to them}.

ULT But I
UST But I act like someone who is deaf
(וְאֲנִי)

David uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between his enemies' hostile actions and his own silence in response. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [However, I]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT am} like a deaf man; I do not hear
UST But I act like someone who is deaf, and I do not listen {to them
(כֶּחֵרֵשׁ לֹא אֶשְׁמָע)

The point of this comparison is that just as a deaf man cannot hear what is said to him, so David deliberately does not listen to his enemies' accusations. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [am like a man who deliberately does not hear; I do not pay attention to what they say]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT and like a mute man—he does not open his mouth
UST I act like someone who cannot speak, and I say nothing {to them
(וּכְאִלֵּם לֹא יִפְתַּח־פִּיו)

The point of this comparison is that just as a mute man cannot speak, so David deliberately does not respond to his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [and I deliberately do not open my mouth to respond to them]

Support Reference: Simile

Psalms 38:14

ULT	UST
And I am like a man who is not hearing, and there are no rebukes in his mouth.	I have become like a man who cannot hear and who cannot argue back.

ULT like a man who is not hearing
UST like a man who cannot hear
(כְּאִישׁ אֲשֶׁר לֹא־שֹׁמֵעַ)

The point of this comparison is that just as a man who is not hearing does not hear or respond to what is said, so David deliberately does not pay attention to his enemies' words. See how you translated the very similar comparison in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [like a man who does not pay attention to what his enemies are saying]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT and there are no rebukes in his mouth
UST and who cannot argue back
(וְאֵין בְּפִיו תּוֹכָחוֹת)

David is using the term mouth to mean speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he does not respond to anyone]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
rebukes	and who cannot argue back

Psalms 38:15

ULT	UST
Because for you, Yahweh, I have waited; you, you will answer, Lord my God.	{This is} because I wait for you, Yahweh{, to help me}. You will be the one who will respond, Lord my God.

ULT you, you will answer
UST You will be the one who will respond
(אַתָּה תַּעֲנֶה)

David is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you will answer already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that Yahweh alone is the one who will respond to him. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [you alone will answer me]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT my God
UST my God
(אֱלֹהָי)

David is not using the phrase my God to mean that he possesses or controls Yahweh, but rather to emphasize that Yahweh is the God he worships. See the introduction to Psalms for further discussion. Alternate translation: [the God whom I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
Lord	Lord
my God	my God

Psalms 38:16

ULT	UST
For I said, “Lest they rejoice over me; at the slipping of my foot, they magnify {themselves} against me.”	{I know this} because I prayed, “Do not let my enemies celebrate over me. Do not let them gloat over me if something bad happens to me.”

ULT Lest they rejoice over me; at the slipping of my foot, they magnify {themselves} against me
UST Do not let my enemies celebrate over me. Do not let them gloat over me if something bad happens to me
(פֶּן־יִשְׂמְחוּ־לִי בְּמוֹט רַגְלִי עָלַי הִגְדִּילוּ)

David is using the word translated as Lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [I pray that they will not rejoice over me; at the slipping of my foot, may they not magnify themselves against me]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT at the slipping of my foot
UST if something bad happens to me
(בְּמוֹט רַגְלִי)

David is speaking as if experiencing misfortune were his foot slipping. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at my misfortune]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT at the slipping of my foot
UST if something bad happens to me
(בְּמוֹט רַגְלִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of slipping, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when my foot slips]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT they magnify {themselves} against me
> UST them gloat over me
> (עָלַי הִגְדִּילוּ)

David is using magnify themselves against me as a common expression of the culture to mean “they exalt themselves over me” or “they gloat over me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they exalt themselves over me]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they rejoice	my enemies celebrate
they magnify {themselves	them gloat

Psalms 38:17

ULT	UST
For I am set up for a stumbling, and my pain {is} before me continually.	Indeed, I feel that something bad will soon happen, and I am constantly in pain.

ULT I am set up for a stumbling
UST I feel that something bad will soon happen
(אֲנִי לְצֶלַע נָכוֹן)

David is speaking of experiencing something bad happen as if it were a stumbling that he is about to experience. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am about to experience calamity]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
am set up	feel that & will soon happen
for a stumbling	something bad

Psalms 38:18

ULT	UST
For I declare my iniquity; I am anxious because of my sin.	Certainly, I confess all the wrong things that I have done; I feel terrible about my sin.

ULT my iniquity
UST all the wrong things that I have done
(עֲוֹנִ֑י)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the wrong I have done]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT because of my sin
UST about my sin
(מֵחַטָּאתִֽי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sin, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because of how sinful I am]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I declare	I confess
my iniquity	all the wrong things that I have done
because of my sin	about my sin

Psalms 38:19

ULT	UST
But my living enemies are strong, and my haters of falsehood are many.	But my vigorous enemies are powerful, and there are many people who hate me for no reason.

ULT my haters of falsehood
UST who hate me for no reason
(שֹׂנְאַי שָׁקֶר)

David is using the possessive form to describe a hater that is characterized by falsehood. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [those who hate me without cause]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But my & enemies	But my & enemies

Psalms 38:20

ULT	UST
And the repayers of evil in exchange for good accuse me in exchange for my pursuing of good.	When I do good things for people, some of them do evil things to me in return. Those people accuse me {of doing evil things}, even though I am trying to do what is right.

ULT And the repayers of evil in exchange for good
UST When I do good things for people, some of them do evil things to me in return (וּמְשַׁלְּמֵי רָעָה תַּחַת טוֹבָה)

If your language does not use an abstract nouns for the ideas of evil and good, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [And those who treat me evilly for doing good things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT And the repayers of evil
UST some of them do evil things to me
(וּמְשַׁלְּמֵי רָעָה)

David is using the possessive form to describe a repayer that is characterized by evil. He means those who repay the good things he does for them with evil. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [And those who repay me with evil]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT accuse me in exchange for my pursuing of good
UST Those people accuse me {of doing evil things}, even though I am trying to do what is right (יִשְׂטְנוּנִי תַּחַת רדופי־טוֹב)

If your language does not use an abstract nouns for the ideas of pursuing and good, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [accuse me falsely even though I pursue doing good things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	evil things
good	When I do good things for people
good	what is right

Psalms 38:21

ULT	UST
Do not forsake me, Yahweh; my God, do not be far from me.	Yahweh, please do not leave me! My God, please stay near me!

ULT my God
UST My God
(אֱלֹהַי)

David is not using this possessive form my God to indicate that he possesses or controls Yahweh. Rather David is using these words to indicate that Yahweh is the God whom he worships. Alternate translation: [oh God whom I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT do not be far from me
UST please stay near me
(אַל־תִּרְחַק מִמֶּנִּי)

David is speaking of a lack of help as if it were being physically far from God. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not withhold your help from me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do & forsake me	please do & leave me
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	My God

Psalms 38:22

ULT	UST
Hurry to my help, Lord, my salvation.	Come quickly to help me, Lord, you who save me!

ULT Hurry to my help
UST Come quickly to help me
(חוּשָׁה לְעֶזְרָתִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please hurry to my help]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT to my help, Lord, my salvation
UST to help me, Lord, you who save me
(לְעֶזְרָתִי אֲדֹנָי תְּשׁוּעָתִי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of help and salvation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [to help me, Lord, the one who saves me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
my salvation	you who save me

Psalms 39

Psalms 39 Introduction

Psalm 39 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 39 is a “psalm of supplication” or “lament.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about “psalms of supplication” or “laments.”

1. Struggle with silence and the weight of life (1–6)
2. Place hope in Yahweh alone (7–11)
3. Plead for mercy in light of life’s shortness (12–13)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Life

Life on earth is short. The psalmist wanted God’s healing so he can enjoy the rest of his life.

This psalm shares some characteristics of a wisdom book called Ecclesiastes but is more positive.

Psalms 39:1

ULT	UST
I said, “Let me guard my ways from sinning with my tongue. Let me guard a muzzle for my mouth while the wicked {is} before me.”	I thought to myself, “I must be very careful about how I act so that I do not sin by what I say. I must keep myself from speaking while wicked people are near me.”

ULT I said
UST I thought to myself
(אָמַ֥רְתִּי)

The phrase I said is here represented as introducing a direct quotation although it was likely an unspoken thought. In your translation, use a natural way of introducing unspoken thoughts in your language as modeled in the UST. It may not be necessary to represent this phrase explicitly.

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Let me guard my ways
UST I must be very careful about how I act
(אָשְׁמְרָ֣ה דְרָכַ֑י)

This is an imperative, but it communicates David’s personal resolve rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a personal resolve for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a personal resolve. Alternate translation: [I resolve to guard my ways]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Let me guard my ways
UST I must be very careful about how I act
(אָשְׁמְרָ֣ה דְרָכַ֑י)

David is speaking of his behavior as if it were paths or ways where there could be a guard posted to control access. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [control my conduct]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from sinning with my tongue
UST so that I do not sin by what I say
(מֵחָטְאוֹ בִלְשׁוֹנִי)

David is using the term tongue to mean speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from sinning by what I say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Let me guard a muzzle for my mouth
UST I must keep myself from speaking
(אֶשְׁמְרָה לְפִי מַחְסוֹם)

David is speaking of restraining his speech as if he were putting a muzzle on his mouth like one would muzzle an animal. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will keep silent]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Let me guard	I must be very careful from sinning	so that I do not sin
with my tongue	by what I say
the wicked	wicked people

Psalms 39:2

ULT	UST
I was mute {with} silence; I was silent from good, and my pain was stirred up.	So I kept completely silent; I did not say anything, not even anything good, but my suffering only became worse.

ULT with} silence
UST So I kept completely silent
(דֻּמִּיָּה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of silence, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by not saying a word]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT I was silent from good
UST I did not say anything, not even anything good (הֶחֱשֵׁיתִי מִטּוֹב)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [I refrained from saying anything good]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT and my pain was stirred up
UST but my suffering only became worse
(וּכְאֵבִי נֶעְכָּר)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of pain, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and my suffering increased]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my pain was stirred up
UST but my suffering only became worse
(וּכְאֵבִי נֶעְכָּר)

The expression was stirred up is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and my silence only made my pain worse]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT and my pain
> UST but my suffering
> (וּכְאֵבִ֥י)

David uses the word and here to indicate a contrast rather than adding information. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [but instead, my pain]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from good	I did not say anything, not even anything good was stirred up	only became worse

Psalms 39:3

ULT	UST
My heart became hot within me; in my sighing, fire burned. I spoke with my tongue:	I felt very agitated inside me; the more I pondered, the more agonized I became. Then finally I spoke and said,

ULT My heart became hot within me
UST I felt very agitated inside me
(חַם־לִבִּי ׀ בְּקִרְבִּי)

David is speaking of his intense emotions as if his heart became hot like something burning with fire. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I burned with anxiety within me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in my sighing
UST the more I pondered
(בַּהֲגִיגִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sighing, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the more I was distressed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT fire burned
UST the more agonized I became (תִּבְעַר־אֵשׁ)

David is speaking of his emotional turmoil as if fire burned within him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my distress intensified]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I spoke with my tongue
UST Then finally I spoke and said
(דִּבַּרְתִּי בִּלְשׁוֹנִי)

The phrase I spoke with my tongue introduces a direct quotation that begins in the next verse. In your translation, use a natural way of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [I finally said,]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT I spoke with my tongue
UST Then finally I spoke and said
(דִּבַּרְתִּי בִּלְשׁוֹנִי)

David is using the term tongue to mean speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I spoke these words]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
with my tongue	and said

Psalms 39:4

ULT	UST
“Make me know my end, Yahweh, and the measure of my days, what it {is}. May I know how transient I {am.}	“Yahweh, let me know when I will die. Tell me how many days I have left to live. Help me to understand how short my life really is.

ULT Make me know my end, Yahweh
UST Yahweh, let me know when I will die
(הוֹדִ֣יעֵנִ֣י יְהוָ֣ה | קִצִּ֑י)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please let me know my end, Yahweh]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT my end
UST when I will die
(קִצִּ֑י)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [when my life will end]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Make me know	let me know
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 39:5

ULT	UST
Behold, you have given my days {as} handbreadths, and my lifetime {is} as nothing before you. Surely every man stands {as} all vapor. Selah	Indeed, you have made my days very few; the time that I have to live is practically nothing to you. Truly, every person appears and disappears as quickly as vapor. Selah

ULT you have given my days {as} handbreadths
UST you have made my days very few
(טְפָחוֹת | נָתַתָּה יָמַי)

David is speaking of his life span as if it were days that could be measured out in handbreadths of time, a very small measure. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have made my lifetime as short as a handbreadth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and my lifetime {is} as nothing before you
UST the time that I have to live is practically nothing to you (וְחֶלְדִּי כְּאַיִן נֶגְדֶּךָ)

David says my lifetime is as nothing before you as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [and my lifetime is extremely brief from your point of view]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT every man stands {as} all vapor
UST every person appears and disappears as quickly as vapor (כָּל־הֶבֶל כָּל־אָדָם נִצָּב)

The point of this comparison is that just as the time that a man stands or lives is frail and transient, so is vapor or a mere breath. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [each man’s life is frail and transient]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Selah	Selah

Psalms 39:6

ULT	UST
Surely a man walks about as an image; surely they make an uproar for vapor. He heaps up and does not know who will be gathering them.	Truly, each person does not do anything more substantial than a shadow would do. Truly, people become agitated about things that do not matter. They pile up {wealth}, but they do not know who will get it {after they die}.

ULT a man walks about as an image
UST each person does not do anything more substantial than a shadow would do (בְּצֶלֶם ׀ יִתְהַלֵּךְ־אִישׁ)

The point of this comparison is that just as an image is insubstantial and fleeting, so is a person's life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [a man walks about but has no real substance]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT a man walks about
UST each person does not do anything more substantial (יִתְהַלֵּךְ־אִישׁ)

Here David is speaking of people going through life as if it were a man who walks about. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people go through life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a man
UST each person
(אִישׁ)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT surely they make an uproar for vapor
UST Truly, people become agitated about things that do not matter
(אַךְ־הֶבֶל יֶהֱמָיֽוּן)

David is speaking of people's pursuits as if they were vapor, something futile and insubstantial. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [surely they make an uproar over what is futile and worthless]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they make an uproar
UST people become agitated
(יֶהֱמָיֽוּן)

The pronoun they refers to people in general. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [everyone bustles around]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT He heaps up
UST They pile up {wealth
(יִצְבֹּר)

David assumes that readers will know that by heaps up he means acquiring a lot of possessions. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [He acquires possessions]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT who will be gathering them
UST who will get it {after they die
(מִי־אֹסְפָֽם)

The pronoun them refers to the things that the person has heaped up. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [who will be getting all of those things]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
does & know	they do & know will be gathering them	will get it {after they die

Psalms 39:7

ULT	UST
And now, what do I wait for, Lord? My hope, it {is} for you.	So now, Lord, I realize that it is useless for me to expect any person to make my life purposeful. You are the only one who can do anything worthwhile for me.

ULT And now
UST So now
(וְעַתָּה)

The word And here introduces a transition from David's reflection on the brevity of life to his direct appeal to God. If the connection between this statement and the previous one is not clear, you may want to use a different connecting word to show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [Now then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT what do I wait for, Lord
UST Lord, I realize that it is useless for me to expect any person to make my life purposeful
(מַה־קִּוִּיתִי אֲדֹנָי)

David is using the question form to emphasize that there is nothing worth waiting for apart from God. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [there is nothing I should wait for, Lord!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT My hope
UST You are the only one who can do anything worthwhile for me
(תּוֹחַלְתִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of hope, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [What I wait hopefully for]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
My hope	You are the only one who can do anything worthwhile for me

Psalms 39:8

ULT	UST
Deliver me from all my transgressions; do not make me the reproach of a fool.	Please save me from all the ways that I sin against you. Do not let me be someone whom foolish people ridicule.

ULT from all my transgressions
UST from all the ways that I sin against you (מִכָּל־פְּשָׁעַי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of transgressions, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from all the ways I have sinned against you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the reproach of a fool
UST whom foolish people ridicule
(חֶרְפַּת נָבָל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of reproach, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [someone whom a fool insults]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my transgressions	that I sin against you
the reproach of	ridicule
a fool	whom foolish people

Psalms 39:9

ULT	UST
I am mute; I do not open my mouth, for you, you have done {it}.	I kept silent and did not say anything, because {I knew that} you were the one who caused {me to suffer}.

ULT I am mute; I do not open my mouth, for you, you have done {it
UST I kept silent and did not say anything, because {I knew that} you were the one who caused {me to suffer
(נֶאֱלַמְתִּי לֹא אֶפְתַּח־פִּי כִּי אַתָּה עָשִׂיתָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because you have done it, I am mute; I do not open my mouth]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I do not open my mouth
UST and did not say anything
(לֹא אֶפְתַּח־פִּי)

The expression I do not open my mouth represents David choosing not to speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I do not say anything]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT for you, you have done {it
UST because {I knew that} you were the one who caused {me to suffer
(כִּי אַתָּה עָשִׂיתָ)

David is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you have done already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that it is Yahweh who is responsible for what has happened. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [because of what you specifically have done]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Psalms 39:10

ULT	UST
Remove your plague from upon me; from the blow of your hand, I, I am finished.	{But now,} please stop punishing me! As for me, because you have afflicted me, I am about to die.

ULT Remove your plague from upon me
UST But now,} please stop punishing me
(הָסֵר מֵעָלַי נִגְעֶךָ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please remove your plague from upon me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT from the blow of your hand
UST because you have afflicted me
(מִתִּגְרַת יָדְךָ)

David is using your hand as part of a common expression of his culture as seen in Psalm 32:4, “your hand was heavy upon me” to mean that Yahweh has afflicted or disciplined him severely. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the way you have afflicted me]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT I, I am finished
UST As for me & I am about to die
(אֲנִי כָלִיתִי)

David is stating the pronoun I separately, even though the verb translated as I am finished already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize his own desperate condition. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [indeed, I am finished]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your plague	But now,} please stop punishing me

Psalms 39:11

ULT	UST
With rebukes on account of iniquity you discipline a man, and you dissolve like a moth his desired thing. Surely all mankind {is} vapor. Selah	When you correct a person for the wrong things that he has done, you destroy what he treasures, just as moths destroy clothing. Truly, every person lives only a very short time. Selah

ULT With rebukes
UST When you correct & for the wrong things that he has done
(בְּתוֹכָחוֹת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rebukes, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [By rebuking a man]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT on account of iniquity
UST When you correct & for the wrong things that he has done
(עַל־עָוֹן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for the sinful things he has done]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you discipline a man
UST When you correct a person for the wrong things that he has done
(יִסַּרְתָּ אִישׁ)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [you discipline a person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT and you dissolve like a moth his desired thing
UST you destroy what he treasures, just as moths destroy clothing
(וַתְּמַס כָּעָשׁ חֶמוּדוֹ)

The point of this comparison is that just as a moth gradually destroys clothing, so Yahweh destroys what a person treasures. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [and like a moth destroys clothing, you dissolve the things he desires]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT Surely all mankind {is} vapor
UST Truly, every person lives only a very short time
(אַךְ הֶבֶל כָּל־אָדָם)

David is speaking of all human existence as if it were vapor that quickly disappears. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar phrase “every man stands as all vapor” in verse 5. Alternate translation: [Surely all mankind lives but a short time]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
With rebukes	When you correct & for the wrong things that he has done
iniquity	When you correct & for the wrong things that he has done
and you dissolve	you destroy & just as moths destroy clothing
Selah	Selah

Psalms 39:12

ULT	UST
Hear my prayer, Yahweh, and give ear to my cry for help. Do not be deaf to my weeping, for I {am} a sojourner with you, a foreigner like all my fathers.	Yahweh, please hear me as I pray {to you} and listen {to me} when I cry out for help. Do not ignore my tears, because I am only living before you {on the earth} for a short time, a temporary resident, just like all of my ancestors.

ULT my prayer
UST as I pray {to you
(תְּפִלָּתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of prayer, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what I pray]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and give ear to
UST listen {to me
(הַאֲזִינָה)

David is using the term ear to mean hearing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and hear]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Do not be deaf
UST Do not ignore
(אַל־תֶּחֱרַשׁ)

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word deaf. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [Please pay attention]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT I {am} a sojourner with you, a foreigner
UST I am only living before you {on the earth} for a short time, a temporary resident (גֵּר אָנֹכִי עִמָּךְ תּוֹשָׁב)

David is speaking of his temporary time on earth as if he were a sojourner and a foreigner who is only passing through. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am only passing through with you, a temporary visitor]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my fathers
UST my ancestors
(אֲבוֹתַי)

David is using the term fathers to mean "ancestors." If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my forebears]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my prayer	as I pray {to you
Yahweh	Yahweh
my cry for help	and & when I cry out for help to my weeping	my tears
am} a sojourner	am only living & on the earth} for a short time
a foreigner	a temporary resident

Psalms 39:13

ULT	UST
Look away from me that I may be cheerful before I go and I am no more.”	Please leave me alone in order that I may be happy {for awhile} before I die.”

ULT Look away from me that I may be cheerful
UST Please leave me alone in order that I may be happy {for awhile
(הָשַׁע מִמֶּנִּי וְאַבְלִֽיגָה)

Here, that marks I may be cheerful as the goal or purpose of David’s request for Yahweh to Look away from him. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose. Alternate translation: [Turn your angry gaze away from me so that I may be cheerful]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT I go and I am no more
UST I die
(אֵלֵךְ וְאֵינֶנִּי)

David is referring to dying in a polite way by using the phrase I go and I am no more. Depending on what is helpful for your readers, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [I pass away]

Support Reference: Euphemism

Psalms 39:front

ULT For the chief musician
UST This is a note to the worship leader
(לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: לידיתון
UST QUOTE_NOT_FOUND: לידיתון
(לידיתון)

Jeduthun was a Levite who was one of the worship leaders in the temple during the reign of David. The expression on Jeduthun could mean: (1) that David gave this song to Jeduthun and his choir to perform. Alternate translation: [for Jeduthun's choir] or (2) that singers were to perform this song in the style of Jeduthun's choir. Alternate translation: [perform in the style of Jeduthun]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	this song
of David	David wrote

Psalms 40

Psalms 40 Introduction

Psalm 40 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 40 is considered to be one of the “psalms of praise.” At the same time, it is a “messianic psalm” that looks forward to the triumph of Jesus Christ. The writer of Hebrews (Hebrews 10:5–7) applies this passage (Psalm 40:6–8) to Jesus using the ancient Greek version. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Praise Yahweh for past deliverance (1–5)
2. Commit to obey Yahweh’s will (6–10)
3. Ask Yahweh for continued help and rescue (11–17)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Sacrifices

God is not interested in sacrifices but wants people to obey him and fulfill his plans for them.

Psalms 40:1

ULT	UST
Waiting, I waited for Yahweh, and he inclined to me and heard my cry.	I patiently waited for Yahweh {to help me,} and he was attentive to me and listened when I called out to him.

ULT Waiting, I waited for
UST I patiently waited for (קַוֹּה קִוִּיתִי)

David is repeating forms of the verb wait in order to intensify his expression of the idea that it conveys. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [I waited expectantly for]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT and he inclined to me
UST and he was attentive to me
(וַיֵּט אֵלָי)

David is speaking of Yahweh's attentive concern for him as if Yahweh were physically bending down or inclined toward him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he paid close attention to me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and heard
UST and listened
(וַיִּשְׁמַע)

David assumes that readers will know that by heard he means Yahweh listened and responded favorably to his prayer. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and responded to]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my cry
UST when I called out to him
(שַׁוְעָתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of cry, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [me cry out]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh {to help me
my cry	when I called out to him

Psalms 40:2

ULT	UST
And he brought me up from the pit of tumult, from the mud of the mire, and he set my feet on a rock; he established my steps.	When bad things were happening to me, it was as though I was in a dangerous pit that was full of mud and slime but he rescued me from those terrible things as though he had lifted me out of the pit and set me onto a solid rock where I could stand securely.

ULT And he brought me up
UST but he rescued me from & as though he had lifted me out of (וַיַּעֲלֵנִי)

Here David is speaking Yahweh's rescuing him from a terrible situation as if he were lifted or brought up from a deep hole. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And he saved me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from the pit of tumult
UST When bad things were happening to me, it was as though I was in a dangerous pit & those terrible things & the pit
(מִבּוֹר שָׁאוֹן)

David is speaking as if his distress were a deep pit from which he could not escape. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the terrible danger I was in]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from the pit of tumult
UST When bad things were happening to me, it was as though I was in a dangerous pit & those terrible things & the pit
(מִבּוֹר שָׁאוֹן)

David is using the possessive form to describe a pit that is characterized by tumult. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from the tumultuous pit]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT from the mud of the mire
UST that was full of mud and slime
(מִטִּיט הַיָּוֵן)

David is speaking as if his desperate situation were mud and mire from which he could not free himself. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the terrible situation in which I was stuck]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he set my feet on a rock
UST and set me onto a solid rock
(וַיָּקֶם עַל־סֶלַע רַגְלָי)

David is speaking as if Yahweh's deliverance were Yahweh physically placing his feet on a rock, giving him stability and safety. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he made me stable and safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT he established my steps
UST where I could stand securely
(כּוֹנֵן אֲשֻׁרָי)

David is speaking as if his way of living were steps that Yahweh made firm. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he made my way of life secure]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the pit of	When bad things were happening to me, it was as though I was in a & pit & those terrible things & the pit

Psalms 40:3

ULT	UST
And he put a new song in my mouth, praise to our God. Many will see and will fear and will trust in Yahweh.	He gave me reason to sing a new song, praising him, our God. Many people will see {what he did for me} and will revere him and will trust in Yahweh.

ULT And he put a new song in my mouth
UST He gave me reason to sing a new song
(וַיִּתֵּן בְּפִי | שִׁיר חָדָשׁ)

David is speaking of Yahweh giving him reason to sing a song of praise as if a new song were a physical object that he placed into his mouth. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And he made me want to sing a different song of]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT praise to our God
UST praising him, our God
(תְּהִלָּה לֵאלֹהֵינוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [a song that says that our God is great]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to our God
UST our God
(לֵאלֹהֵינוּ)

David is not using the possessive form our God to indicate that he and his people possess or control Yahweh. Rather David is using these words to indicate that Yahweh is the God whom they worship. Alternate translation: [to the God we worship]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT Many will see and will fear
UST Many people will see {what he did for me} and will revere him
(יִרְאוּ רַבִּים וְיִירָאוּ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Many people will see what God has done for me and will reverence him]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT Many
> UST Many people
> (רַבִּים)

David is using the adjective Many as a noun to mean a certain group of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [There will be many people who]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
praise	praising him
to our God	our God
and will fear	and will revere him
and will trust	and will trust in
in Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 40:4

ULT	UST
The happinesses of the man who has made Yahweh his trust, and has not turned to the proud and the goers aside to falsehood!	What a good life the person has who trusts confidently in Yahweh and does not imitate proud people who are loyal to what is false.

ULT The happinesses of the man
UST What a good life the person has (אַשְׁרֵי הַגֶּבֶר)

David is using the phrase The happinesses of to express a strong feeling of admiration for those who trust in Yahweh. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. If not, you could express the idea of how fortunate such a person is. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is the person]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT the man
UST the person
(הַגֶּבֶר)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the one]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT his trust
UST trusts confidently in (מִבְטַחוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trust, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the one he relies on]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and has not turned to the proud
UST and does not imitate proud people
(וְלֹא־פָנָה אֶל־רְהָבִים)

David is speaking as if choosing to follow or trust the proud were physically having turned to face them. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [has not put his trust in the proud]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the proud
> UST proud people
> (רְֽהָבִ֑ים)

David is using the adjective proud as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [arrogant people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT and the goers aside to falsehood
> UST who are loyal to what is false
> (וְשָׂטֵ֖י כָּזָֽב)

By the goers aside, David means “those who have gone astray after falsehood.” You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and those who follow after falsehood]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT falsehood
> UST what is false
> (כָּזָֽב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of falsehood, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [lies]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The happinesses of	What a good life & has
Yahweh	Yahweh
his trust	trusts confidently in the proud	proud people
falsehood	what is false

Psalms 40:5

ULT	UST
Many {things} you have done, you, Yahweh my God, your wonderful deeds and your thoughts toward us; there is none to line up against you. Should I declare and speak {them}, they are more than to recount.	Yahweh my God, you are the one who has done many wonderful things and made {great} plans for us! No one compares to you. If I tried to tell others about all of those wonderful things, there would be too many for me to mention.

ULT Many {things} you have done, you, Yahweh my God
UST Yahweh my God, you are the one who has done many (רַבּוֹת עָשִׂיתָ | אַתָּה | יְהוָה אֱלֹהַי)

David is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you have done already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that Yahweh is the one who performed these wonderful deeds. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [For it is you, Yahweh my God, who has done many things]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Yahweh my God
UST Yahweh my God
(יְהוָה אֱלֹהַי)

David is not using the possessive form my God to indicate that he possesses or controls Yahweh. Rather David is using these words to indicate that Yahweh is the God whom he worships. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, the God I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT and your thoughts toward us
UST and made {great} plans for us
(וּמַחְשְׁבֹתֶיךָ אֵלֵינוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of thoughts, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and what you have planned for us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT there is none to line up against you
UST No one compares to you
(אֵין ׀ עָרֹךְ אֵלָיִךְ)

The clause translated as there is none to line up against you could refer to: (1) anyone who might compare to Yahweh. Alternate translation: [there is no one to compare to you] or (2) all of the things that Yahweh has done, that cannot be listed. Alternate translation: [there is no way to enumerate them to you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they are more than to recount
UST there would be too many for me to mention
(עָצְמוּ מִסָּפֶר)

David says they are more than to recount as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [there are too many to count]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT Should I declare and speak {them
UST If I tried to tell others about all of those wonderful things
(אַגִּידָה וַאֲדַבֵּרָה)

The terms declare and speak mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Should I be able to tell all about those deeds]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT they are more than to recount
UST there would be too many for me to mention
(עָצְמוּ מִסָּפֶר)

The pronoun they refers to all Yahweh's wonderful deeds and plans. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [all those wonderful deeds are more than can be recounted]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
my God	my God
your wonderful deeds	wonderful things
Should I declare	If I tried to tell others about all of those wonderful things and speak {them	If I tried to tell others about all of those wonderful things

Psalms 40:6

ULT	UST
Sacrifice and grain offering you have not desired; ears you have dug for me. Burnt offering and sin offering you have not asked for.	It is not the sacrifices and offerings that you have wanted {from me}; instead, you gave me the ability to hear and obey you. Burnt offerings and sin offerings are not what you require {to forgive my sins}.

ULT ears you have dug for me
UST instead, you gave me the ability to hear and obey you (אָזְנַיִם כָּרִיתָ לִי)

David is using ears you have dug for me as a common expression of the culture to mean “you gave me the ability to hear and obey you.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have given me ears to hear] or [you have made me able to listen to you]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Sacrifice	It is & the sacrifices
and grain offering	and offerings
you have & desired	that you have wanted {from me
Burnt offering	Burnt offerings
and sin offering	and sin offerings
and sin offering	and sin offerings

Psalms 40:7

ULT	UST
Then I said, “Behold, I have come; in the scroll of the book it is written about me.	So I said, “Yahweh, here I am, {ready to do the things that} the scroll of your instruction says about me.”

> ULT Behold
> UST Yahweh, here I am
> (הִנֵּה)

David is using the term Behold to call attention to what he is about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Look]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT it is written about me
> UST says about me
> (כָּתוּב עָלָי)

The expression it is written about me is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [a prophet has written about me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in the scroll of	the scroll of your instruction
the book	the scroll of your instruction

Psalms 40:8

ULT	UST
To do your will, my God, I have delighted, and your law {is} in the midst of my inward parts.”	My God, I gladly do what you desire; I deeply treasure your instruction.

ULT your will
UST what you desire
(רְצוֹנְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of will, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what you want]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT my God
UST My God
(אֱלֹהַי)

David is not using the possessive form my God to indicate that he possesses or controls Yahweh. Rather David is using these words to indicate that Yahweh is the God whom he worships. Alternate translation: [the God I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT and your law {is} in the midst of my inward parts
UST I deeply treasure your instruction
(וְתוֹרָתְךָ בְּתוֹךְ מֵעָי)

David is speaking as if his deep commitment to Yahweh’s law were that law being physically present in the midst of his inward parts. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I am deeply committed to keeping your law]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my God	My God
I have delighted	I gladly and your law {is	your instruction

Psalms 40:9

ULT	UST
I have proclaimed righteousness in the great assembly; behold, I will not restrain my lips. Yahweh, you, you know.	Whenever your people gather together in the large congregation, I tell them about the righteous things {that you do}. Indeed, Yahweh, certainly you know that I do not stop talking {about this}.

ULT righteousness
UST the righteous things {that you do
(צֶדֶק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that you are righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT behold
UST Indeed
(הִנֵּה)

See how you translated the similar expression in 40:7.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will not restrain my lips
UST that I do not stop talking {about this (שְׂפָתַי לֹא אֶכְלָא)

Here, my lips represents David's speech. By saying he will not restrain them, David means he will not stop speaking about Yahweh's righteousness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [I will not stop telling others]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Yahweh, you, you know
> UST Yahweh, certainly you know
> (יְהוָה אַתָּה יָדַעְתָּ)

David is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you know already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that Yahweh himself is fully aware of David's faithfulness. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [Yawheh, you know this is true]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I have proclaimed	I tell them about righteousness	the righteous things {that you do in the great assembly	Whenever your people gather together in the & congregation large
Yahweh	Yahweh
you know	you know

Psalms 40:10

ULT	UST
I have not concealed your righteousness in the midst of my heart; I have declared your faithfulness and your salvation. I have not hidden your covenant faithfulness and your trustworthiness from the great assembly.	I have not kept to myself {the good news} that you are righteous; I have told the large gathering of your people that you are faithful and that you save us. I have not hidden from them that you faithfully love us and are always trustworthy.

ULT your righteousness
UST the good news} that you are righteous
(צִדְקָתְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [your righteous acts]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in the midst of my heart
UST I have not kept to myself
(בְּתוֹךְ לִבִּי)

David is using heart to mean the place where his thoughts and intentions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [just within my own thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT your faithfulness and your salvation
UST that you are faithful and that you save us
(אֱמוּנָתְךָ וּתְשׁוּעָתֶךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of faithfulness and salvation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [how faithful you are and how you have saved us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your covenant faithfulness and your trustworthiness
UST that you faithfully love us and are always trustworthy
(חַסְדְּךָ וַאֲמִתְּךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [how you faithfully keep your covenant and how trustworthy you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your righteousness	the good news} that you are righteous
I have declared	I have told
your faithfulness	that you are faithful
and your salvation	and that you save us your covenant faithfulness	that you faithfully love us
and your trustworthiness	and are always trustworthy
from the & assembly	the & gathering of your people & from them

Psalms 40:11

ULT	UST
You, Yahweh, will not withhold your compassion from me; your covenant faithfulness and your trustworthiness will continually preserve me.	Yahweh, you will not stop being merciful to me. Because you faithfully love me and are always trustworthy, {I know that} you will continually protect me.

ULT your compassion
UST being merciful
(רַחֲמֶיךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of compassion, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [being compassionate]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your covenant faithfulness and your trustworthiness
UST Because you faithfully love me and are always trustworthy
(חַסְדְּךָ וַאֲמִתְּךָ)

See how you translated the same abstract nouns in verse 10.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
your compassion	being merciful
your covenant faithfulness	Because you faithfully love me
and your trustworthiness	and are always trustworthy

Psalms 40:12

ULT	UST
For evils have surrounded me until there is no number; my iniquities have overtaken me, and I am not able to see. They are more numerous than the hairs of my head, and my heart has abandoned me.	I assure myself of this because so many bad things are happening to me that it seems that I cannot even count them. the wrong things that I have done are now affecting me badly, and I cannot see {a way to fix them}. It seems that they are more numerous than the hairs on my head, and I am very discouraged.

ULT evils
UST so many bad things
(רָעֹ֑ות)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evils, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [evil things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT have surrounded me
UST are happening to me
(אָפְפ֣וּ עָלָ֑י)

Here David is speaking of bad things happening to him as if they were objects that surrounded him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are constantly happening all around me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT until there is no number
UST that it seems that I cannot even count them
(עַד־אֵ֣ין מִסְפָּ֑ר)

David says until there is no number as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [there are too many to count]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT my iniquities have overtaken me
UST the wrong things that I have done are now affecting me badly
(הִשִּׂיגֻנִי עֲוֹנֹתַי)

Here David is speaking his sins overwhelming him as if they were actually something chasing after and having caught up or overtaken him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my sins have caught up with me] or [my iniquities have overwhelmed me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my iniquities
UST the wrong things that I have done
(עֲוֹנֹתַי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquities, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the sins I have committed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and I am not able to see
UST and I cannot see {a way to fix them
(וְלֹא־יָכֹלְתִּי לִרְאוֹת)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and I am not able to see a way out]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT They are more numerous than the hairs of my head
UST It seems that they are more numerous than the hairs on my head (עָצְמוּ מִשַּׂעֲרוֹת רֹאשִׁי)

David says more numerous than the hairs of my head as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [They are too many for me to count]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT and my heart has abandoned me
> UST and I am very discouraged
> (וְלִבִּי עֲזָבָנִי)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and emotions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and my courage has failed me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evils	so many bad things
my iniquities	the wrong things that I have done
has abandoned me	and I am very discouraged

Psalms 40:13

ULT	UST
Be pleased, Yahweh, to rescue me; Yahweh, hurry to my help.	Yahweh, please rescue me! Yahweh, please come quickly to help me!

ULT Be pleased, Yahweh, to rescue me; Yahweh, hurry to my help
UST Yahweh, please rescue me! Yahweh, please come quickly to help me (רְצֵה יְהוָה לְהַצִּילֵנִי יְהוָה לְעֶזְרָתִי חוּשָׁה)

These lines are imperatives, but they communicate a polite request or prayer rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear as modeled in the UST.

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT to my help
UST to help me
(לְעֶזְרָתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of help, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to rescue me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be pleased	please
Yahweh	Yahweh
to rescue me	rescue me

Psalms 40:14

ULT	UST
Let them have shame and have disgrace together, the seekers of my life to sweep it away. Let them be turned back and be confounded, those pleased with my harm.	May God completely disgrace all of the people who want to kill me. May God frustrate the people who want me to suffer and may he humiliate them.

ULT Let them have shame and have disgrace together
UST May God completely disgrace all of
(יֵבֹ֣שׁוּ וְיַחְפְּר֣וּ | יַחַד)

By using Let in each of the phrases in this and the following verses, David is expressing what he desires or prays will happen. See the discussion in the introduction to this book about “let” and “may” and follow the decision of your team of how a speaker will express in this context what he wants to happen. Alternate translation: [I desire that they all have shame and disgrace]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT Let them have shame
UST May God completely disgrace
(יֵבֹ֣שׁוּ)

The pronoun them here and in the next several verses refers to the seekers of my life mentioned in the next line. These were the enemies who were trying to kill David. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Let my enemies have shame]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Let them have shame and have disgrace
UST May God completely disgrace
(יֵבֹ֣שׁוּ וְיַחְפְּר֣וּ)

The terms shame and disgrace mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Let them be utterly ashamed]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT Let them have shame and have disgrace
> UST May God completely disgrace
> (יֵבֹ֖שׁוּ וְיַחְפְּרוּ֑)

If your language does not use an abstract nouns for the ideas of shame and disgrace, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Let them be ashamed and disgraced]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT the seekers of my life to sweep it away
> UST the people who want to kill me
> (מְבַקְשֵׁ֣י נַפְשִׁ֣י לְסִפּוֹתָ֑הּ)

David is using the seekers of my life as a common expression of the culture to mean “those who want to kill me.” See how you translated this same phrase in 38:12. Alternate translation: [all my enemies who want to see me dead]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT Let them be turned back and be confounded
> UST May God frustrate & and may he humiliate them
> (יִסֹּ֣גוּ אָח֣וֹר וְיִכָּלְמ֑וּ)

The expressions be turned back and be confounded are passive verbal forms. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [Let God turn them back and confuse them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT Let them be turned back
> UST May God frustrate
> (יִסֹּ֣גוּ אָח֑וֹר)

Here David is asking that his enemies be stopped as if they were walking on a path and then were blocked or turned back. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Let them be stopped]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT those pleased with my harm
UST the people who want me to suffer
(חֲפֵצֵי רָעָתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of harm, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [those wanting to harm me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Let them have shame	May God completely disgrace
and have disgrace	May God completely disgrace
the seekers	the people who want to kill me to sweep it away	the people who want to kill me
those pleased with	the people who want

Psalms 40:15

ULT	UST
Let them be appalled on account of their shame, the ones saying to me, “Aha! Aha!”	May those who mock me, saying, “Ha, Ha!” feel horrified because God has so humiliated them.

ULT their shame
UST God has so humiliated them
(בָּשְׁתָּם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of shame, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how disgraced they are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Aha! Aha
UST Ha, Ha
(הֶאָח | הֶאָח)

David’s enemies using Aha! Aha! as a phrase that expresses a strong feeling of malicious glee at his misfortune. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. If not, you could say what those people were feeling. Alternate translation: [We are glad to see your downfall]

Support Reference: Exclamations

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
their shame	God has so humiliated them

Psalms 40:16

ULT	UST
Let all the seekers of you rejoice and be glad in you; let the lovers of your salvation say continually, “May Yahweh be great!”	May all those who come to worship you be very joyful because of you. May those who love that you save them say continually, “Yahweh is great!”

ULT Let all the seekers of you rejoice and be glad in you
UST May all those who come to worship you be very joyful because of you (יָשִׂישׂוּ וְיִשְׂמְחוּ ׀ בְּךָ כָּל־מְבַקְשֶׁיךָ)

The terms rejoice and be glad mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Let all those who seek you greatly rejoice in you]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT of your salvation
UST you save them
(תְּשׁוּעָתֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how you save them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the seekers of you	May all those who come to worship you
Let & rejoice	be very joyful
and be glad	be very joyful
the lovers	May those who love that of your salvation	you save them
Yahweh	Yahweh
May & be great	is great

Psalms 40:17

ULT	UST
And I {am} poor and needy; the Lord thinks of me. You {are} my help and my deliverer; my God, do not delay.	As for me, I am very poor, but the Lord cares about me. You are the one who rescues me; my God, please do not wait any longer!

ULT poor and needy
UST I am very poor
(עָנִי וְאֶבְיוֹן)

The terms poor and needy mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [in great need]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT my help and my deliverer
UST who rescues me
(עֶזְרָתִי וּמְפַלְטִי)

The terms help and deliverer mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [my great deliverer]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT my help and my deliverer
UST who rescues me
(עֶזְרָתִי וּמְפַלְטִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of help, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the one who helps and delivers me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT my God
UST my God
(אֱלֹהַי)

See how you translated the similar expression in 40:8. Alternate translation: [oh, God whom I worship]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT do not delay
> UST please do not wait any longer
> (אַל־תְּאַחַר)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please do not delay]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the Lord	but the Lord
and my deliverer	who rescues me
my God	my God

Psalms 40:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST A note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of David	David
a psalm	wrote this psalm

Psalms 41

Psalms 41 Introduction

Psalm 41 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 41 is a “psalm of supplication” or “lament.” See the Introduction to Psalms for more information about types of psalms.

1. Blessing for those who care for the weak (1–3)
2. Cry for mercy amid betrayal and sickness (4–9)
3. Trust Yahweh for restoration and justice (10–12)
4. Conclusion of Book 1, which consists of Psalms 1–41 (13)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Enemies

The author’s best friend had become an enemy. His enemies were happy because they were sure his sickness would result in death.

Psalms 41:1

ULT	UST
The happinesses of the one considering the lowly! In the day of evil, Yahweh will rescue him.	What a good life those people have who help powerless people! When bad things happen to them, Yahweh will rescue them.

ULT The happinesses of the one considering UST What a good life those people have who help
(אַשְׁרֵי מַשְׂכִּיל)

David is using the phrase The happinesses of to express a strong feeling of admiration. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. If not, you could express the idea of how fortunate such a person is. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is the one considering]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT the lowly
UST those people have who help powerless people
(אֶל־דָּל)

David is using the adjective lowly as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [people who are lowly]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT In the day of evil
UST When bad things happen to them
(בְּיוֹם רָעָה)

David is using the possessive form to describe a day, time, or occasion that is characterized by evil. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [When evil things are happening]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT evil
UST bad things happen to them
(רָעָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [harmful things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The happinesses	What a good life of the one considering	those people have who help
the lowly	those people have who help powerless people evil	bad things happen to them
Yahweh	Yahweh
will rescue him	will rescue them

Psalms 41:2

ULT	UST
Yahweh will guard him and will keep him alive, and he will be called happy in the land; so do not give him into the soul of his enemies.	Yahweh will protect them and people will see that things turn our well for them as they live in the land. {Yahweh,} please do not let their enemies do what they want with them.

ULT and he will be called happy
UST and people will see that things turn our well for them (יאשר)

The expression be called happy is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and people will call him happy]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT so do not give him
UST Yahweh,} please do not let (וְאַל־תִּתְּנֵהוּ)

David switches to addressing Yahweh directly in order to make his conclusion more vivid. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the third person for consistency. Alternate translation: [so may Yahweh not give him]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT into the soul of his enemies
UST their enemies do what they want with them
(בְּנֶפֶשׁ אֹיְבָיו)

Here, soul represents “desire.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [over to the desire of his enemies]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
will guard him	will protect them
and he will be called happy	and people will see that things turn our well for them in the land	as they live in the land into the soul	do what they want with them
of his enemies	their enemies

Psalms 41:3

ULT	UST
Yahweh will support him on the bed of suffering; you transformed each bed of his in his sickness.	Yahweh will strengthen them when they are sick; {Yahweh,} you completely restore them whenever they become ill.

ULT the bed of suffering
UST when they are sick
(עֶרֶשׂ דְּוָי)

The psalmist is speaking of the person's time of illness as if it were the bed of suffering on which the person lies. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his sickbed]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT on the bed of suffering
UST when they are sick
(עַל־עֶרֶשׂ דְּוָי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of suffering, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when he suffers]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you transformed
UST Yahweh,} you completely restore them
(הָפַכְתָּ)

As he did in the previous verse, David switches to addressing Yahweh directly in order to make his conclusion more vivid. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the third person for consistency. Alternate translation: [Yahweh transformed]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT you transformed each bed of his in his sickness
UST Yahweh,} you completely restore them whenever they become ill
(כָּל־מִשְׁכָּבוֹ הָפַכְתָּ בְחָלְיוֹ)

By transformed each bed of his in his sickness, David means that Yahweh transforms his illness into health. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Yahweh transformed his sickness into health]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT in his sickness
> UST whenever they become ill
> (בְּחָלְיֹו)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sickness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when he is ill]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
suffering	when they are sick

Psalms 41:4

ULT	UST
I, I said, “Yahweh, be gracious to me! Heal my soul, for I have sinned against you.”	As for me, I said, “Yahweh, please be merciful to me and heal me. {I am sick} because I have sinned against you.”

ULT I, I said
UST As for me, I said
(אֲנִי־אָמַרְתִּי)

The pronoun I refers to David. David is stating the pronoun I separately for emphasis even though the verb translated as I said already includes this meaning. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [I, David, said]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT be gracious to me! Heal
UST please be merciful to me and heal
(חָנֵּנִי רְפָאָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear as modeled in the UST.

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Heal my soul
UST and heal me
(רְפָאָה נַפְשִׁי)

David is using the term soul to mean his entire person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Please make me whole again]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Heal my soul, for I have sinned against you
> UST and heal me. {I am sick} because I have sinned against you > (רְפָאֵה נַפְשִׁי כִּי־חָטָאתִי לָךְ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Since I have sinned against you, I need you to heal me]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
be gracious to me	please be merciful to me
my soul	me
I have sinned	I have sinned

Psalms 41:5

ULT	UST
My enemies say evil concerning me, “When will he die and his name perish?”	My enemies say hateful things about me; they say, “We want him to die so that everyone will forget him!”

ULT evil
UST hateful things
(רַע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. See how you translated the similar expression in verse 1. Alternate translation: [harmful things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT When will he die and his name perish
UST they say, “We want him to die so that everyone will forget him
(מָתַי יָמוּת וְאָבַד שְׁמוֹ)

David’s enemies are using the question form to express their hostile wish that David would die. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [We wish he would die and his name would perish!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT and his name perish
UST so that everyone will forget him
(וְאָבַד שְׁמוֹ)

Here, his name represents “his memory” or “his reputation.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and the memory of him will perish]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My enemies	My enemies
evil	hateful things
and & perish	so that everyone will forget him

Psalms 41:6

ULT	UST
And if he comes to see {me,} he speaks worthlessness; his heart gathers iniquity to itself. He goes out to the outside; he speaks.	Whenever one of them comes to visit {me}, he says things that mean nothing. He secretly collects harmful information, then he goes outside and tells {it to everyone}.

ULT his heart gathers iniquity to itself
UST He secretly collects harmful information
(לִבּוֹ יִקְבָּץ־אָוֶן לָוֹ)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and intentions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his mind plans evil]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT And if he comes
UST Whenever one of them comes (וְאִם־בָּא)

The pronouns he and his in this verse refer to one of David's enemies mentioned in the previous verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [And if one of my enemies comes]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he speaks worthlessness
UST he says things that mean nothing
(שָׁוְא יְדַבֵּר)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of worthlessness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he speaks empty words] or [he pretends to be friendly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his heart gathers iniquity to itself
UST He secretly collects harmful information
(לִבּוֹ יִקְבָּץ־אָוֶן לָוֹ)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts exist so the phrase his heart gathers iniquity to itself means that the enemy is secretly trying to think of bad things to say about David. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he thinks of evil things he can say]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT his heart gathers iniquity
> UST He secretly collects harmful information
> (לִבּוֹ יִקְבָּץ־אָוֶן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [ways to defame]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
gathers	He & collects harmful information

Psalms 41:7

ULT	UST
Together against me all my haters whisper; against me they plan evil to me.	Everyone who hates me whispers about me to one another; they plot how to harm me.

ULT evil to me
UST how to harm me
(רָעָה לִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. See how you translated the similar expression in 41:1. Alternate translation: [things that will harm me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	how to harm

Psalms 41:8

ULT	UST
“A matter of wickedness is poured on him, and he who has lain down will not repeat to rise.”	{They say about me,} “Something terrible has happened to him, and he will never get up from where he is lying.”

ULT A matter of wickedness is poured on him
UST They say about me,} “Something terrible has happened to him
(דְּבַר־בְּלִיַּעַל יָצוּק בּוֹ)

David’s enemies are speaking of A matter of wickedness as if it were a liquid that is poured on a person. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Something wicked has overwhelmed him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT A matter of wickedness is poured on him
UST They say about me,} “Something terrible has happened to him
(דְּבַר־בְּלִיַּעַל יָצוּק בּוֹ)

The expression is poured is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Terrible things are happening to him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT A matter of wickedness
UST They say about me,} “Something terrible
(דְּבַר־בְּלִיַּעַל)

This is the beginning of what David’s “haters” (enemies mentioned in the previous verse) are saying about him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could mark that this is a direct quote of SPEAKER. Alternate translation: [My enemies are saying, “A matter of wickedness]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT wickedness
UST terrible
(בְּלִיַּעַל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wickedness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [something very evil]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT and he who has lain down will not repeat to rise
> UST and he will never get up from where he is lying > (וַאֲשֶׁר שָׁכַב לֹא־יוֹסִיף לָקוּם)

David’s enemies are referring to dying in a polite way by using the phrase he who has lain down will not repeat to rise. Depending on what is helpful for your readers, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [and he will die from this illness]

Support Reference: Euphemism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wickedness	terrible

Psalms 41:9

ULT	UST
Even the man of my peace, whom I trusted in him, the eater of my bread, has made great the heel against me.	Even my closest friend, the one I trusted, who shared meals with me, has greatly betrayed me.

ULT the man of my peace
UST my closest friend
(אִישׁ שְׁלוֹמִי)

David is using the man of my peace as a common expression of his culture to mean “my close friend” or “my trusted ally.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my closest ally]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT whom I trusted in him
UST the one I trusted
(אֲשֶׁר־בָּטַחְתִּי בּוֹ)

It might seem that the expression whom I trusted in him contains extra information that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, you could shorten it. Alternate translation: [in whom I trusted]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT the eater of my bread
UST who shared meals with me
(אוֹכֵל לַחְמִי)

David is using one kind of food, bread, to mean food or in general so the eater of my bread here means “the one who shared meals with me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one who ate meals with me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT has made great the heel against me
UST has greatly betrayed me
(הִגְדִּיל עָלַי עָקֵב)

David is using has made great the heel against me as a common expression of the culture to mean “has greatly betrayed me.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [has greatly turned against me]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I trusted	the one I trusted
the eater of	who shared meals with me
my bread	who shared meals with me

Psalms 41:10

ULT	UST
But you, Yahweh, be gracious to me and raise me up, so that I may repay them.	However, Yahweh, please be merciful to me and make me well, so that I can do to them what they did to me.

ULT so that I may repay them
UST so that I can do to them what they did to me
(וְאֲשַׁלְּמָה לָהֶם)

Here, so that marks I may repay them as the goal or purpose of be gracious to me and raise me up. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose. Alternate translation: [in order that I may repay them]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
be gracious to me	please be merciful to me

Psalms 41:11

ULT	UST
By this I know that you delight in me, that my enemy does not shout over me.	When you do this, I will know that you are pleased with me, when my enemies {will not be able to defeat me and so} cannot rejoice about it.

ULT my enemy does not shout over me
UST my enemies {will not be able to defeat me and so} cannot rejoice about it (לֹא־יָרִיעַ אֹיְבִי עָלָי)

Here, shout represents “triumph.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [my enemy does not triumph over me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I know	I will know
you delight	you are pleased
my enemy	my enemies

Psalms 41:12

ULT	UST
And I, in my integrity you upheld me, and you set me to your face forever.	As for me, you have helped me because I live honestly, and you will allow me to be with you forever.

ULT And I
UST As for me
(וְאָנִי)

The pronoun I refers to David. David places this pronoun at the front of the sentence for emphasis, contrasting himself with his enemies. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [But as for me]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT in my integrity
UST because I live honestly
(בְּתֻמִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of integrity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because I am honest]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to your face
UST to be with you
(לְפָנֶיךָ)

Here, to your face represents being in front of or in the presence of Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in your presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in my integrity	because I live honestly
forever	forever

Psalms 41:13

ULT	UST
Blessed {be} Yahweh, the God of Israel, from the everlasting and unto the everlasting. Amen and amen.	We should all praise Yahweh, the God whom the people of Israel worship! People should praise him at all times, now and forever! Yes, let it be so!

ULT Blessed {be} Yahweh
UST We should all praise Yahweh
(בָּרוּךְ יְהוָה)

The expression Blessed be is a passive verbal form. The psalmist is expressing his desire to praise Yahweh. If it would be unnatural to use that form for this purpose, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I bless Yahweh] or [Let us all praise Yahweh]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the God of Israel
UST the God whom the people of Israel worship
(אֱלֹהֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל)

The psalmist is not using this possessive form the God of Israel to indicate that the Israelites possess or control God. Rather the psalmist is using these words to indicate that God is the one whom Israel worships. Alternate translation: [who is the God whom Israel worships]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT from the everlasting and unto the everlasting
UST People should praise him at all times, now and forever
(מֵהָעוֹלָם וְעַד הָעוֹלָם)

David is referring to all of time by naming two extremes, from the everlasting and unto the everlasting. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [from before time began and continuing forever]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {be	We should all praise
Yahweh	Yahweh
the God of	the God whom
Israel	the people of Israel worship
the everlasting	forever
Amen	Yes
and amen	let it be so

Psalms 41:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST Note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	wrote this psalm
of David	David

Psalms 42

Psalms 42 Introduction

Psalm 42–43 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalms 42 and 43 were originally one psalm. They are presented that way in many Hebrew manuscripts and ancient versions. A repeated refrain joins them together. Psalm 43 has no superscription. This psalm was divided in two in the traditional Hebrew text probably to achieve a round total of 150 psalms. See the discussion of the numbering of the psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

Psalm 42–43 is a psalm of supplication or lament. It presents all the basic elements of that type of psalm. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. First stanza (42:1–4): Description of troubles and cry for help
2. First refrain (42:5): Statement of trust
3. Second stanza (42:6–10): Description of troubles and cry for help
4. Second refrain (42:11): Statement of trust
5. Third stanza (43:1–4): Petition and vow of praise
6. Third refrain (43:5): Statement of trust

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “maskil.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Why was a Levite worship leader far away from Jerusalem?

This psalm is one of nine psalms attributed to “the sons of Korah,” that is, to the Korahite clan, the descendants of a Levite named Korah. The members of this clan had a special responsibility for leading the Israelites in worship. They played musical instruments and sang in the temple courtyard, and they composed songs. However, some of the later kings of Judah worshiped false gods represented by idols. They tried to suppress the worship of Yahweh. Prophets, worship leaders, and faithful believers in Yahweh often had to flee for their safety. The Korahite who wrote this psalm records that he had gone to the region in the far northeast of the territory of Israel where the Jordan River begins. This territory was contested between Israel and Aram, and at the time when this psalm was written, the Arameans may have controlled the location where the psalmist was. (In 43:1, he asks God to defend him from “a nation not faithful.”) So in this psalm, he laments that he has had to flee from Jerusalem, where he joyfully led the people in worship, probably to foreign territory. But he encourages himself with the memory of those experiences, and he asks God to make it possible for him to return to the temple and worship him there once more.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Repeated phrases

In 42:10, for poetic effect, the psalmist uses some the same phrases that he uses in 42:3. Similarly for poetic effect, the psalmist uses in 43:2 some of the same phrases that he uses in 42:9. And the refrain in 42:5, 42:11, and 43:5 uses the same phrases in each case. To help your readers appreciate this, we recommend that you represent the same phrases in the same way in your translation.

Psalms 42:1

ULT	UST
As a deer pants for streams of water, so my soul pants for you, God.	When a wild deer is very thirsty, it takes short, quick breaths because it wants so badly to find a brook from which it can drink water. That is how much I want you, God. It is as if I am taking short, quick breaths.

ULT As a deer pants for streams of water, so my soul pants for you, God

UST When a wild deer is very thirsty, it takes short, quick breaths because it wants so badly to find a brook from which it can drink water. That is how much I want you, God. It is as if I am taking short, quick breaths
(כְּאַיָּל תַּעֲרֹג עַל־אֲפִיקֵי־מָיִם כֵּן נַפְשִׁי תַעֲרֹג אֵלֶיךָ אֱלֹהִים)

The psalmist is using one part of himself, his soul or inner being, to mean all of him in the act of desiring God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [As a deer pants for streams of water, so in my inner being I pant for you, God]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT As a deer pants for streams of water, so my soul pants for you, God

UST When a wild deer is very thirsty, it takes short, quick breaths because it wants so badly to find a brook from which it can drink water. That is how much I want you, God. It is as if I am taking short, quick breaths
(כְּאַיָּל תַּעֲרֹג עַל־אֲפִיקֵי־מָיִם כֵּן נַפְשִׁי תַעֲרֹג אֵלֶיךָ אֱלֹהִים)

The point of this comparison is that just as a deer, when it is very thirsty in a dry place, pants desperately for water, so the psalmist desperately desires God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [As a deer pants desperately for streams of water, so in my inner being I pant desperately for you, God]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT As a deer pants for streams of water, so my soul pants for you, God

UST When a wild deer is very thirsty, it takes short, quick breaths because it wants so badly to find a brook from which it can drink water. That is how much I want you, God. It is as if I am taking short, quick breaths

(כְּאַיָּל תַּעֲרֹג עַל־אֲפִיקֵי־מָיִם כֵּן נַפְשִׁי תַעֲרֹג אֵלֶיךָ אֱלֹהִים)

The psalmist is speaking as if his soul were actually panting or taking short, quick breaths. He means that in his inner being, he is desperately feeling and expressing a desire for God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [As a deer pants desperately for streams of water, so in my inner being I desperately desire you, God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
As a deer	When & is very thirsty, it takes short, quick breaths
my soul	I
God	God

Psalms 42:2

ULT	UST
My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. When will I come and appear to the face of God?	You are the only true God, and I desire very greatly to be in your temple again and worship in your presence. I desire that so much that it is as if I am very thirsty.

ULT My soul thirsts for God
UST I desire that so much that it is as if I am very thirsty
(צָמְאָה נַפְשִׁי | לֵאלֹהִים)

See how you translated the expression “my soul” in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [In my inner being, I thirst for God]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT My soul thirsts for God
UST I desire that so much that it is as if I am very thirsty
(צָמְאָה נַפְשִׁי | לֵאלֹהִים)

The psalmist is speaking as if he felt physical thirst for God. He is using this image to depict his great desire for God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In my inner being, I feel a great desire for God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT When will I come and appear to the face of God
UST and I desire very greatly to be in your temple again and worship in your presence (מָתַי אָבוֹא וְאֵרָאֶה פְּנֵי אֱלֹהִים)

The psalmist is using the question form to express a strong desire. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I want very much to come and appear to the face of God!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT to the face of God
UST in your temple again and worship in your presence
(פְּנֵי אֱלֹהִים)

Here, face represents “presence.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in the presence of God]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT to the face of God
> UST in your temple again and worship in your presence
> (פְּנֵי אֱלֹהִים)

As 42:4 and 43:4 suggest, the psalmist is speaking of coming into the presence of God to mean coming into God's temple. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [in God's temple again]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My soul	I
for God	that for the & God	God
God	in your temple again and worship in your presence

Psalms 42:3

ULT	UST
My weeping is bread to me day and night, in {their} saying to me all of the day, “Where {is} your God?”	I have been crying continually. I have been crying so much that I have not been able to eat. This is because my enemies keep telling me, “Your God will certainly not help you!”

ULT My weeping is bread to me
UST I have been crying & I have been crying so much that I have not been able to eat
(הָיְתָה־לִּי דִמְעָתִי לֶחֶם)

The psalmist is using one kind of food, bread, to represent food in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My weeping is my food]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT My weeping is bread to me
UST I have been crying & I have been crying so much that I have not been able to eat
(הָיְתָה־לִּי דִמְעָתִי לֶחֶם)

The psalmist is speaking as if he were actually eating his weeping. He means that he has been weeping so much that he has been unable to eat. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Instead of eating, I have been weeping]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT day and night
UST continually
(יוֹמָם וָלָיְלָה)

The psalmist is using the two main components of time, day and night, to mean all of time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [all the time]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT in {their} saying to me
UST This is because my enemies & telling me
(בֶּאֱמֹר אֵלַי)

The psalmist does not indicate specifically who has been saying what he quotes. To make clear that someone else, not the psalmist, has been saying this, the ULT supplies the indefinite pronoun their. It may be natural in your language to do something similar. You could also use a general expression. Alternate translation: [as they say to me] or [as people say to me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT all of the day
UST keep
(כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

The psalmist is saying all the day as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [constantly]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT Where {is} your God
UST Your God will certainly not help you
(אַיֵּה אֱלֹהָיִךְ)

The psalmist's enemies are using the question form to mock him. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Your God certainly does not appear to be helping you!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My weeping	I have been crying & I have been crying bread	so much that I have not been able to eat
is} your God	Your God

Psalms 42:4

ULT	UST
Let me remember these, and let me pour out my soul within me, that I went over with the crowd. I led them in procession to the house of God with a voice of rejoicing and praise, a multitude celebrating a festival.	It is appropriate for me to weep to express my great sorrow. But {to encourage myself,} I should also remember how I used to go with large groups of people to celebrate festivals at God's temple. {Because I was one of the worship musicians,} I would lead the people as they walked to the temple. {On the way there,} we all shouted joyfully and praised God.

ULT Let me remember these, and let me pour out my soul within me
UST It is appropriate for me to weep to express my great sorrow. But {to encourage myself,} I should also remember
(אֵלֶּה אֶזְכְּרָה | וְאֶשְׁפְּכָה עָלַי | נַפְשִׁי)

The psalmist is using a verbal form that expresses a resolution. In your translation, use an appropriate verbal form to indicate this. Alternate translation: [I will remember these, and I will pour out my soul within me]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Let me remember these, and let me pour out my soul within me
UST It is appropriate for me to weep to express my great sorrow. But {to encourage myself,} I should also remember
(אֵלֶּה אֶזְכְּרָה | וְאֶשְׁפְּכָה עָלַי | נַפְשִׁי)

The phrases Let me remember these and let me pour out my soul within me together express a single idea. The second phrase describes the circumstances under which the psalmist is encouraging himself to do what the first phrase describes. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [Let me remember these as I pour out my soul within me] or [I will remember these as I pour out my soul within me]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT these
UST But {to encourage myself,} I should also remember (אֵלֶּה)

The psalmist is using the demonstrative adjective these as a noun to mean things of a certain kind, the things he describes in the rest of the verse Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the following things]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and let me pour out my soul within me
UST It is appropriate for me to weep to express my great sorrow
(וְאֶשְׁפְּכָה עָלַי | נַפְשִׁי)

The psalmist is speaking as if his soul were actually a liquid that he could pour out. He is encouraging himself to give full expression, in his own private reflections (within me), to what he is feeling deeply in his inner being. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and let me fully express to myself what I am feeling deep inside] or [as I fully express to myself what I am feeling deep inside]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with the crowd. I led them in procession to the house of God with a voice of rejoicing and praise, a multitude celebrating a festival
UST with large groups of people to celebrate festivals at God's temple. {Because I was one of the worship musicians,} I would lead the people as they walked to the temple. {On the way there,} we all shouted joyfully and praised God
(בַּסָּךְ אֲדַדֵּם עַד־בֵּית אֱלֹהִים בְּקוֹל־רִנָּה וְתוֹדָה הָמוֹן חוֹגֵג)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put together the information that this crowd was a multitude celebrating a festival. Alternate translation: [with the crowd, a multitude celebrating a festival. I led them in procession to the house of God with a voice of rejoicing and praise]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT the house of God
UST at God's temple & the temple
(בֵּית אֱלֹהִים)

See how you translated the term "house" in 5:7. Alternate translation: [the temple of God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with a voice of rejoicing and praise
UST On the way there,} we all shouted joyfully and praised God
(בְּקוֹל־רִנָּה וְתוֹדָה)

The psalmist is using the voice that each person in the crowd used for shouting to represent the shouts of the crowd. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [with shouts of rejoicing and praise]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my soul	my great sorrow
the house of God	at God’s temple & the temple rejoicing	joyfully
and praise	and praised God
celebrating a festival	to celebrate festivals

Psalms 42:5

ULT	UST
Why have you bowed yourself down, my soul, and are clamoring within me? Wait for God, for I will again thank him, the salvation of his face.	So I certainly should not be so sad and upset! I can confidently expect God to rescue me! When he does, I will have the opportunity to praise him as my savior and

ULT Why have you bowed yourself down, my soul, and are clamoring within me
UST So I certainly should not be so sad and upset
(מַה־תִּשְׁתּוֹחֲחִי | נַפְשִׁי וַתֶּהֱמִי עָלָי)

The psalmist is speaking as if his soul had actually bowed itself down and as if it were actually clamoring or making noises within him that indicated how upset it was. He is describing his own inner feelings of despondency and agitation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Why do I feel so despondent and agitated inside]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Why have you bowed yourself down, my soul, and are clamoring within me
UST So I certainly should not be so sad and upset
(מַה־תִּשְׁתּוֹחֲחִי | נַפְשִׁי וַתֶּהֱמִי עָלָי)

The psalmist is using the question form to give himself a mild rebuke and to encourage himself to consider his situation from a different perspective and so come to feel differently about it. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I do not have to feel so despondent and agitated inside!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Wait for God
UST I can confidently expect God to rescue me
(הוֹחִילִי לֵאלֹהִים)

The word that the ULT translates as Wait can mean simply not to do something until a certain time has passed or a certain other event has occurred. However, in many biblical contexts, it means to expect that God will do something to change an unfavorable situation that a person cannot change or that a person therefore should not try to change himself, and that is the meaning here. You may be able to use a different term to express this meaning in your language. Alternate translation: [Hope in God] or [I can hope in God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT for
> UST When he does
> (כִּי)

Here the word for introduces not a reason but an explanation. You may want to use a different connecting word to show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [after all,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

> ULT the salvation of his face
> UST as my savior and
> (יְשׁוּעֹת פָּנָיו)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation, following the alternative reading of the ancient Greek translation: [the one who saves my face] or [the savior of my face]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT the salvation of his face
> UST as my savior and
> (יְשׁוּעֹת פָּנָיו)

The psalmist is using one part of himself, his face, to mean all of him in the act of receiving God's salvation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation, following the alternative reading of the ancient Greek translation: [the one who saves me] or [my savior]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
have you bowed yourself down	should not be so sad
my soul	I
and are clamoring	and upset
for God	God
the salvation of	as & savior

Psalms 42:5-6

ULT the salvation of his face.My God
UST as my savior andmy God
(יְשׁוּעֹ֖ות פָּנָ֑יו: אֱלֹהָֽי)

At the end of 42:5 and the beginning of 42:5, the ULT translates the traditional written Hebrew text. This reading, however, does not seem to make sense. It is different from the other two occurrences of the refrain of this psalm in 42:11 and 43:5. It appears that a verse division has been placed in the middle of a word, so that the prefix that means “and” in those two verses has become a suffix that means “his” in this verse. You may want to follow an alternative reading from the ancient Greek translation. Alternate translation: [the salvation of my face and my God]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

Psalms 42:6

ULT	UST
My God, my soul has bowed itself down within me. Therefore I will remember you from the land of the Jordan and the Hermons, from Mount Mizar.	my God. But I do feel very sad. So {even though I am a long distance from your temple, God} I will remember you from here at Mount Mizar in the land near Mount Hermon where the Jordan River begins.

ULT My God
UST my God
(אֱלֹהַי)

See the explanation in a note to the previous verse of how this expression was likely put at the start of this verse when a verse division was mistakenly placed in the middle of a word. You may wish to put this expression at the end of the previous verse, as many versions do, so that the refrain of this psalm will be the same in all three of its occurrences.

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT my soul has bowed itself down within me
UST But I do feel very sad
(עָלַי נַפְשִׁי תִשְׁתּוֹחָח)

See how you translated the similar expression in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [I do feel despondent]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the Hermons
UST near Mount Hermon
(וְחֶרְמוֹנִים)

The psalmist may be using the plural term Hermons because: (1) Mount Hermon has three distinct peaks. Alternate translation: [and Mount Hermon] or (2) he is referring to the range of mountains that includes Mount Hermon. Alternate translation: [and the Hermon mountain range]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

ULT from Mount Mizar
UST from here at Mount Mizar
(מֵהַ֥ר מִצְעָֽר)

Mount Mizar seems to have been the psalmist's specific location within the general area he describes in the earlier part of this verse. It is not known to what mountain he was referring, so it is not possible to associate it with a mountain that is known by another name today. We therefore recommend that you use the name Mount Mizar in your translation.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My God	my God
my soul	But I
has bowed itself down	do feel very sad
from the land of	in the land
the Jordan	where the Jordan River begins

Psalms 42:7

ULT	UST
Deep is calling to deep at the sound of your waterfalls. All of your breakers and your waves pass over me.	The waterfalls you created make such a loud sound that it is as if one deep stream were shouting to another deep stream within the river. I feel such anguish that it is as if one wave after another were crashing over me.

ULT Deep is calling to deep at the sound of your waterfalls
UST The waterfalls you created make such a loud sound that it is as if one deep stream were shouting to another deep stream within the river
(תְּהוֹם־אֶל־תְּהוֹם קוֹרֵא לְקוֹל צִנּוֹרֶיךָ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the sound of the waterfalls he hears in the nearby forming Jordan River were actually one Deep (one large mass of water) calling to another such deep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. You could also express this image as a comparison, as the UST does. Alternate translation: [The powerful streams in the river make loud, echoing sounds as they flow over rock ledges as waterfalls]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT All of your breakers and your waves pass over me
UST I feel such anguish that it is as if one wave after another were crashing over me
(כָּל־מִשְׁבָּרֶיךָ וְגַלֶּיךָ עָלַי עָבָרוּ)

The terms breakers and waves mean similar things. The term waves describes swellings of water that move across the surface of the ocean, and the term breakers describes those swellings as they crash onto the shore. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [As your waves break on the shore, the surf pounds me]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT All of your breakers and your waves pass over me
> UST I feel such anguish that it is as if one wave after another were crashing over me
> (כָּל־מִשְׁבָּרֶיךָ וְגַלֶּיךָ עָלַי עָבָרוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if he were actually in an ocean or on its shore and strong waves and breakers were crashing over him, tossing him about. He is representing how overwhelmed he feels. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. You could also express this image as a comparison, as the UST does. Alternate translation: [I am feeling overwhelmed by what you have allowed to happen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is calling	that it is as if & were shouting

Psalms 42:8

ULT	UST
{By} day, Yahweh commands his covenant faithfulness, and at night, his song {is} with me, a prayer to the God of my life.	Yahweh continually loves me faithfully as he promised. In response, as he inspires me, I continually sing prayers to him. He is the God who keeps me alive.

ULT By} day, Yahweh commands his covenant faithfulness, and at night, his song {is} with me

UST Yahweh continually loves me faithfully as he promised. In response, as he inspires me, I continually sing

(יוֹמָם | יְצַוֶּה יְהוָה | חַסְדּוֹ וּבַלַּיְלָה שִׁירָה עִמִּי)

As in verse 3, the psalmist is using the two main components of time, day and night, to mean all of time. See how you translated the expression "day and night" in verse 3. It would be appropriate to use similar language here, since the psalmist's recognition of Yahweh's covenant faithfulness and his celebration of it in worship are his intentional responses to the sorrow he described earlier. Alternate translation: [Yahweh commands his covenant faithfulness all the time, and his song is with me all the time]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT Yahweh commands his covenant faithfulness

UST Yahweh & loves me faithfully as he promised

(יְצַוֶּה יְהוָה | חַסְדּוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Yahweh acts toward me in a way that is faithful to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his song {is} with me, a prayer

UST as he inspires me, I & sing prayers

(שִׁירָה עִמִּי תְּפִלָּה)

Since the psalmist is referring to a continual activity, he is likely not referring to one specific song that expresses one specific prayer. He probably means all of the songs that Yahweh enables him to compose in order to sing prayers to him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [his songs are with me, prayers]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT his song {is} with me, a prayer
> UST as he inspires me, I & sing prayers
> (שִׁירָה עִמִּי תְּפִלָּה)

The psalmist is speaking of this song as if it were a living thing that could be with him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he enables me to compose songs, prayers]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT to the God of my life
> UST to him. He is the God who keeps me alive
> (לְאֵל חַיָּי)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to indicate that it is God who has given him life and who preserves his life. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the God who has given me life] or [the God who preserves my life]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
his covenant faithfulness	loves me faithfully as he promised
a prayer	prayers
to the God of	to him. He is the God

Psalms 42:9

ULT	UST
Let me say to God, my rock, “Why have you forgotten me? Why do I walk about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?”	God is like a huge rock on top of which I am safe. So I will pray to him, “Please pay attention to me! I am living sorrowfully because my enemies are afflicting me!”

ULT Let me say
UST So I will pray
(אוֹמְרָה)

As in 42:4, the psalmist is using a verbal form that expresses a resolution. See how you translated the similar form there. Alternate translation: [I will say]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT my rock
UST is like a huge rock on top of which I am safe (סַלְעִי)

See how you translated the term “rock” in 18:2. Alternate translation: [who keeps me safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Why have you forgotten me? Why do I walk about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy
UST Please pay attention to me! I am living sorrowfully because my enemies are afflicting me
(לָמָּה שְׁכַחְתָּנִי לָמָּה־קֹדֵר אֵלֵךְ בְּלַחַץ אוֹיֵב)

The psalmist is using the question form to express his feelings to God honestly and urgently. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate these questions as statements or as exclamations. Alternate translation: [You appear to have forgotten me! I should not have to walk about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Why do I walk about
UST I am living
(לָמָּה & אֵלֵךְ)

As in 15:2 and many other places in the Psalms, the psalmist may be using the term walk to mean "live." If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Why do I go through life] or [I should not have to go through life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT because of the oppression of the enemy
UST because my enemies are afflicting me
(בְּלַחַץ אוֹיֵב)

As the next verse makes clear, the psalmist is not referring to a specific enemy. He means all of the enemies who are oppressing him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [because of the oppression of my enemies]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT because of the oppression of the enemy
UST because my enemies are afflicting me
(בְּלַחַץ אוֹיֵב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of oppression, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because of the enemies who are oppressing me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to God	God & to him
mourning	sorrowfully
because of the oppression of	because & are afflicting me
the enemy	my enemies

Psalms 42:10

ULT	UST
With crushing in my bones, the ones afflicting me reproach me in their saying to me all of the day, “Where is your God?”	Those enemies are continually insulting me. They keep telling me, “Your God will certainly not help you!” When they insult me like that, it is as painful as if they were breaking my bones.

ULT With crushing in my bones
UST When they insult me like that, it is as painful as if they were breaking my bones
(בְּרֶצַח | בְּעַצְמוֹתַי)

The psalmist is speaking as if his afflicters were actually crushing his bones, that is, so badly mistreating him physically that his bones were bruised or broken. He is using this image to represent the deeply painful effect of their reproach. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In a way that penetrates very painfully into my inner being]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in their saying to me all of the day, “Where is your God
UST continually & They keep telling me, “Your God will certainly not help you (בְּאָמְרָם אֵלַי כָּל־הַיּוֹם אַיֵּה אֱלֹהָיִךְ)

For poetic effect, the psalmist is using again the same phrases that he used in 42:3. We recommend that you show this to your readers by translating the phrases here the same way that you translated them there. Alternate translation: [as they say to me constantly, “Your God certainly does not appear to be helping you!”]

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the ones afflicting me	Those enemies
reproach me	are & insulting me
is your God	Your God

Psalms 42:11

ULT	UST
Why have you bowed yourself down, my soul, and why are you clamoring within me? Wait for God, for I will again thank him, the salvation of my face and my God.	But I certainly should not be so sad and upset! I can confidently expect God to rescue me! When he does, I will have the opportunity to praise him as my savior and my God.

ULT Why have you bowed yourself down, my soul, and why are you clamoring within me? Wait for God, for I will again thank him, the salvation of my face and my God

UST But I certainly should not be so sad and upset! I can confidently expect God to rescue me! When he does, I will have the opportunity to praise him as my savior and my God

(מַה־תִּשְׁתּוֹחֲחִי | נַפְשִׁי וּמַה־תֶּהֱמִי עָלָי הוֹחִילִי לָאלֹהִים כִּי־עוֹד אוֹדֶנּוּ יְשׁוּעֹת פָּנַי וֵאלֹהָי)

This is the second occurrence of the refrain in this psalm. We recommend that you show this to your readers by translating the phrases here the same way that you translated them in the first occurrence of this refrain in 42:5. Alternate translation: [I do not have to feel so despondent and agitated inside! I can hope in God. After all, I will again praise him, the one who saves me and who is my God]

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
have you bowed yourself down	should not be so sad
my soul	I
and why are you clamoring	and upset
for God	God
the salvation of	as & savior
and my God	and my God

Psalms 42:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT A maskil
> UST this song
> (מַשְׂכִּיל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

> ULT of the sons of Korah
> UST One of the Korahites wrote
> (לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח)

The psalmist of this psalm belonged to a clan of the tribe of Levi whose members led the Israelites in worship and composed many worship songs. The superscription to this psalm describes them as if they were actual sons or first-generation descendants of Korah, who was a great-grandson of Levi. They were instead later descendants of Korah. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of the descendants of Korah] or [of the Korahites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Korah	One of the Korahites wrote

Psalms 43

Psalms 43 Introduction

Psalm 43 Introduction

Psalms 42 and 43 were originally one psalm. For an introduction to what is now Psalm 43, see the introduction to Psalm 42, which discusses both psalms together.

Psalms 43:1

ULT	UST
Vindicate me, God, and plead my plea against a nation not faithful. Rescue me from a deceitful and unjust man.	Please protect me, God, from the people who are being so cruel to me. Please consider that I do not deserve that. Rescue me from people who would deceive me and treat me unfairly.

ULT Vindicate me, God, and plead my plea
UST Please protect me, God & Please consider that I do not deserve that (שָׁפְטֵנִי אֱלֹהִים ׀ וְרִיבָה רִיבִי)

The psalmist is speaking as if he were actually in a legal proceeding and wanted God to take his side, as if he were a judge who would Vindicate him or a defense attorney who would plead his case. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Recognize that I am innocent and defend me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and plead my plea
UST Please protect me
(וְרִיבָה רִיבִי)

The psalmist is using a construction in which a verb and its object come from the same root. If you decide to retain the legal image in your translation, you may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternate translation: [and plead my case]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT from a deceitful and unjust man
UST from people who would deceive me and treat me unfairly
(מֵאִישׁ־מִרְמָה וְעַוְלָה)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means all of the people who are acting in a deceitful and unjust way toward him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [from these deceitful and unjust people] or [from every deceitful and unjust person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
and plead	Please protect me
my plea	Please protect me
against a nation	from the people
faithful	who are being so cruel to me
Rescue me	Rescue me
and unjust	and treat me unfairly

Psalms 43:2

ULT	UST
For you {are} the God of my refuge. Why have you rejected me? Why do I walk about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?	{I ask you to do this} because you are the God who protects me, and yet I feel as if you have abandoned me! I am living sorrowfully because my enemies are afflicting me.

ULT For
UST I ask you to do this} because
(כִּי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [This is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you {are} the God of my refuge
UST you are the God who protects me
(אַתָּה | אֱלֹהֵי מָעוּזִּי)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe God as being like a refuge for him. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you are the God who is like a refuge to me]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT you {are} the God of my refuge
UST you are the God who protects me
(אַתָּה | אֱלֹהֵי מָעוּזִּי)

See how you translated the term “refuge” in 11:1. Alternate translation: [you are the God who protects me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Why have you rejected me? Why do I walk about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy
UST and yet I feel as if you have abandoned me! I am living sorrowfully because my enemies are afflicting me (לָמָּה זְנַחְתָּנִי לָמָּה־קֹדֵר אֶתְהַלֵּךְ בְּלַחַץ אוֹיֵב)

See how you translated the similar questions in 42:9. Alternate translation: [You appear to have rejected me! I should not have to walk about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT Why do I walk about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy
> UST I am living sorrowfully because my enemies are afflicting me
> (לָמָּה־קֹדֵר אֶתְהַלֵּךְ בְּלַחַץ אוֹיֵב)

For poetic effect, the psalmist is using again the same phrases that he used in 42:9. We recommend that you show this to your readers by translating the phrases here the same way that you translated them there. Alternate translation: [I should not have to go through life mourning because of the enemies who are oppressing me!]

Support Reference: Poetry

> ULT Why do I walk about
> UST I am living
> (לָמָּה & אֶתְהַלֵּךְ)

While the psalmist uses essentially the same language here as in 42:9, he uses a different form of the verb translated as walk. The form used here can indicate repeated action, and that seems to be the sense in this context. Your language may have a comparable verbal form that you can use in your translation. If not, you may be able to use a different verb or expression. Alternate translation: [Why do I wander about]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
are} the God of	are the God
my refuge	who protects me
have you rejected me	you have abandoned me
mourning	sorrowfully
the enemy	my enemies

Psalms 43:3

ULT	UST
Send out your light and your faithfulness, them, let them lead me. Let them bring me to the mountain of your holiness and to your dwellings.	Treat me favorably, as if you were smiling at me. Help me, as you have promised to do for those who are loyal to you. Guide me so that I can return to your temple on Mount Zion.

ULT Send out your light and your faithfulness, them, let them lead me. Let them bring me
UST Treat me favorably, as if you were smiling at me. Help me, as you have promised to do for those who are loyal to you. Guide me so that I can return
(שְׁלַח־אוֹרְךָ֥ וַאֲמִתְּךָ֑ הֵ֥מָּה יַנְחֻ֝נִ֗י יְבִיאֻ֥נִי)

The psalmist is speaking of God's light and truth as if they were living things that God could Send out and that could lead the psalmist and bring him home. By your light, the psalmist probably means "the light of your face," as in 4:6. This represents God's favor, as if God were smiling and looking brightly at someone. By faithfulness, the psalmist probably means God's covenant faithfulness, as in 42:8, that is, God's commitment to fulfill the promises he has made to help people who are loyal to him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Extend your favor and faithfulness to me, and exhibit those qualities as you lead me. Exhibit those qualities in order to bring me]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT them, let them lead me
UST Guide me
(הֵ֥מָּה יַנְחֻ֝נִ֗י)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun them separately, even though the verb translated as let them lead me already includes this meaning. He is doing this because he is speaking of God's light and faithfulness as if they were people and he wants to emphasize the personal role that he would like these qualities to take. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [let them be the ones who lead me]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT to the mountain of your holiness
UST to & on Mount Zion
(אֶל־הַר־קָדְשֶׁךָ)

The psalmist is not using the possessive form to ascribe holiness to the mountain where God's dwellings are located. Instead, he is using the possessive form to indicate that God consecrated or set apart this mountain as a place where he would dwell, that is, where he would be present in a special way in his temple. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this purpose, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to the mountain that you have set apart] or [to the mountain that you have consecrated]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT your dwellings
UST your temple
(מִשְׁכְּנוֹתֶיךָ)

The psalmist is using the plural form dwellings where he could have used the singular form, since the context indicates that he is referring to the temple in Jerusalem ("the house of God," 42:4, the location of "the altar of God," 43:4). This suggests that he is using the plural form to emphasize the magnificence of the temple and especially its sacred character as a place where God is present in a special way. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the singular and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [your sacred temple]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and your faithfulness	Help me, as you have promised to do for those who are loyal to you your holiness	Zion
your dwellings	your temple

Psalms 43:4

ULT	UST
Let me come to the altar of God, to the God of the joy of my gladness. I will thank you with the lyre, God, my God.	{When I do come to Zion,} I will go to your altar {to worship you}. O God, you make me very joyful! {At your altar,} I will sing praise to you, the God whom I worship, as I play the harp.

ULT the altar of God, to the God of the joy of my gladness
UST your altar & O God, you make me very joyful
(מִזְבַּח אֱלֹהִים אֶל־אֵל שִׂמְחַת גִּילִי)

The psalmist is speaking of God in the third person even though he is addressing him directly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the second person. Alternate translation: [to your altar, O God, to you, the God of the joy of my gladness]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT the God of the joy of my gladness
UST God, you make me very joyful
(אֵל שִׂמְחַת גִּילִי)

The psalmist is using the possessive expression the joy of my gladness to describe joy that is characterized by gladness, that is, great joy. He is using the fuller possessive expression the God of the joy of my gladness to describe God as the one who gives him this great joy. If a speaker of your language would not use possessive forms for these purposes, you could express these ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [the God who gives me great joy]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the altar of	altar
God	your
the God of	God
the joy of	you make me & joyful with the lyre	as I play the harp
my God	whom I worship

Psalms 43:5

ULT	UST
Why have you bowed yourself down, my soul, and why are you clamoring within me? Wait for God, for I will again thank him, the salvation of my face and my God.	So I certainly should not be so sad and upset! I can confidently expect God to rescue me! When he does, I will have the opportunity to praise him as my savior and my God.

ULT Why have you bowed yourself down, my soul, and why are you clamoring within me? Wait for God, for I will again thank him, the salvation of my face and my God

UST So I certainly should not be so sad and upset! I can confidently expect God to rescue me! When he does, I will have the opportunity to praise him as my savior and my God

(מַה־תִּשְׁתּוֹחֲחִי | נַפְשִׁי וּמַה־תֶּהֱמִי עָלָי הוֹחִילִי לָאלֹהִים כִּי־עוֹד אוֹדֶנּוּ יְשׁוּעֹת פָּנַי וֵאלֹהָי)

This is the third occurrence of the refrain in this psalm. We recommend that you show this to your readers by translating the phrases here the same way that you translated them in the first two occurrences of this refrain in 42:5 and 42:11. Alternate translation: [I do not have to feel so despondent and agitated inside! I can hope in God. After all, I will again praise him, the one who saves me and who is my God]

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
have you bowed yourself down	should not be so sad
my soul	I
God, for	God
the salvation of	as & savior
and my God	and my God

Psalms 44

Psalms 44 Introduction

Psalm 44 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 44 is a psalm of supplication or lament. It presents most of the basic elements of that type of psalm, but in a different order than is common. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Statement of trust (1–8) including a short petition (4b)
2. Description of troubles (9–16, 22, 25)
3. Claim of innocence (17–21)
4. Cry for help (23–24)
5. Petition (25)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “maskil.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

If God had “scattered” the people “among the nations” (v. 11), how did they still have “armies” (v. 9)?

It seems likely that this psalm was written not after the people of Judah had been deported to Babylon but while they were still in their land, ruled by a godly king, but suffering military defeats that led to some of their cities being conquered and the people of those cities being taken away into exile. One plausible historical setting for the composition of the psalm is the reign of Hezekiah, specifically during the invasion by the Assyrian king Sennacherib in 701 B.C. Hezekiah was an exceptionally godly king, which would correspond with the psalmist’s statement that “we have not forgotten you, and we have not dealt falsely with your covenant” (v. 17). Nevertheless, the invading Assyrians repeatedly defeated the Judean defenders. They conquered most of the fortified cities in Judah and deported their inhabitants. This would correspond with the psalmist’s complaint to God that “you do not go out with our armies” (v. 9) and “you have scattered us among the nations” (v. 11). Hezekiah’s godliness, reforms, and previous military victories are described in 2 Kings 18:1–8. The Assyrian invasion is described in 2 Kings 18:9–19:34. And the defeat of the Assyrians by God’s miraculous power, which would be an answer to this psalmist’s prayer if that is the historical setting, is described in 2 Kings 19:35–37.

Psalms 44:1

ULT	UST
God, we have heard with our ears, our fathers have recounted to us, the work you worked in their days, in the days of antiquity.	God, we listened carefully when our ancestors told us about the great things you did long ago when the Israelites first came into the land of Canaan.

ULT we have heard with our ears, our fathers have recounted to us
UST we listened carefully when our ancestors told us about (בְּאָזְנֵינוּ שָׁמַעְנוּ אֱבוֹתֵינוּ סִפְּרוּ־לָנוּ)

Here and throughout this psalm, the psalmist is applying the terms we, our, and us to himself and his fellow Judeans but not to God, to whom he is speaking. So use the exclusive forms of those terms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

ULT we have heard with our ears
UST we listened carefully
(בְּאָזְנֵינוּ שָׁמַעְנוּ)

It might seem that the expression with our ears adds extra information to this statement that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, you may choose not to represent this expression in your translation. However, it does add some emphasis, and you may also choose to reflect that emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [we have heard] or [we have clearly heard]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT our fathers
UST our ancestors
(אֱבוֹתֵינוּ)

See how you translated the term “fathers” in 22:4. Alternate translation: [our forefathers]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the work you worked
UST the great things you did
(פֹּעַל פָּעַלְתָּ)

The psalmist is using a construction in which a verb and its object come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of saying this. Alternate translation: [the work you did]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT in their days
UST when the Israelites first came into the land of Canaan
(בְּיֹמֵיהֶם)

The psalmist is using the term days to mean "time," since time consists of days. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in their time]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in their days
UST when the Israelites first came into the land of Canaan
(בְּיֹמֵיהֶם)

The fathers or ancestors who recounted the work described in verses 2 and 3 did not experience it personally. The psalmist is using them generally to represent earlier generations of Israelites and specifically to represent the generation that conquered and occupied the land of Canaan. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [for the generation that conquered and occupied the land of Canaan]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in the days of antiquity
UST long ago
(בִּימֵי קֶדֶם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of antiquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in ancient times]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
have recounted to us	when & told us about in their days	when the Israelites first came into the land of Canaan in the days of	long ago

Psalms 44:2

ULT	UST
You, you drove out the nations {by} your hand, but you planted them. You caused harm to the peoples, but you sent them.	{They told us about} how powerfully you forced the other nations to leave and established our ancestors securely in their land. It was as if they had been plants that you put firmly in the ground. You destroyed the people groups that had lived there and enabled our ancestors to settle there.

ULT You, you drove out
UST They told us about} how & you forced & to leave (אַתָּה & הוֹרַשְׁתָּ)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun You separately, even though the verb translated as you drove out already includes this meaning. He is doing that in order to emphasize a contrast between what the Israelites did not do, as described in the next verse, and what God did. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [You were the one who drove out]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT by} your hand
UST powerfully
(יָדְךָ)

Here, hand represents “power.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [by your power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT but you planted them & but you sent them
UST and established our ancestors securely in their land. It was as if they had been plants that you put firmly in the ground & and enabled our ancestors to settle there
(וַתִּטָּעֵם & וַתְּשַׁלְּחֵם)

In each case, the pronoun them refers to the “fathers” or ancestors of the Israelites mentioned in the previous verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [but you planted our ancestors … but you sent our ancestors]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT but you planted them
> UST and established our ancestors securely in their land. It was as if they had been plants that you put firmly in the ground
> (וַתִּטָּעֵֽם)

The psalmist is speaking as if God had actually planted the Israelites in the land of Canaan, as if they had been plants. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but you settled our ancestors there]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT but you sent them
> UST and enabled our ancestors to settle there
> (וַתְּשַׁלְּחֵֽם)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but you sent them into the land] or [but you sent our ancestors into the land]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT but you sent them
> UST and enabled our ancestors to settle there
> (וַתְּשַׁלְּחֵֽם)

While it is true that God sent the Israelites into the land of Canaan in the sense that he commanded them to go there, the sense here seems to be that God actively propelled them into the land by helping them. That was in contrast to the way he caused harm to the nations he drove out. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the nations	the other nations
but you planted them	and established our ancestors securely in their land. It was as if they had been plants that you put firmly in the ground
You caused harm	You destroyed

Psalms 44:3

ULT	UST
For they did not possess the land with their sword, and their arm did not save them, but your right hand and your arm and the light of your face, for you favored them.	Our ancestors did not conquer this land with their own weapons or by their own power. Instead, you helped them and defeated their enemies by your own great power. You did that because you loved them.

ULT For
UST not
(כִּי)

Here the word For introduces not a reason but a complementary truth by way of concession. You may want to use a different connecting word to show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [Admittedly,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT with their sword
UST with their own weapons
(בְּחַרְבָּם)

The psalmist is using one kind of weapon, a sword, to mean weapons in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with their weapons] or [militarily]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT and their arm
UST by their own power
(וּזְרוֹעָם)

Here, arm represents “power.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and their own power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT but your right hand and your arm and the light of your face, for you favored them
UST Instead, you helped them and defeated their enemies by your own great power. You did that because you loved them
(כִּי־יְמִינְךָ וּזְרוֹעֲךָ וְאוֹר פָּנֶיךָ כִּי רְצִיתָם)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but your right hand and your arm and the light of your face saved them, for you favored them]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT but your right hand and your arm and the light of your face, for you favored them
UST Instead, you helped them and defeated their enemies by your own great power. You did that because you loved them
(כִּי־יְמִינְךָ וּזְרוֹעֲךָ וְאוֹר פָּנֶיךָ כִּי רְצִיתָם)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [but because you favored them, your right hand and your arm and the light of your face saved them]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT but your right hand and your arm
UST Instead, you helped them and defeated their enemies by your own great power
(כִּי־יְמִינְךָ וּזְרוֹעֲךָ)

In this context, the terms right hand and arm mean similar things, since they both represent power. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [but your very strong power]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT and the light of your face
UST you loved them
(וְאוֹר פָּנֶיךָ)

The light of God's face represents his favor, as if he were smiling and looking brightly at someone. See how you translated the similar expression in 4:6. Alternate translation: [and the favor you showed them]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they did & possess	Our ancestors did & conquer
the land	this land
with their sword	with their own weapons
did & save	Our ancestors did & conquer
you favored them	you loved them

Psalms 44:4

ULT	UST
You {are} he, my king, God. Command the salvation of Jacob.	You are our real king, O God. Please enable the people of Israel to defeat their enemies.

ULT You {are} he, my king
UST You are our real king
(אַתָּה־הוּא מַלְכִּי)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun he for clarity and emphasis. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [You are the one who is my king]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT my king
UST are our & king
(מַלְכִּי)

Since the psalmist uses first-person plural pronouns throughout most of this psalm, you may wish to use one here, as the UST does. Alternate translation: [our king]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Command the salvation of Jacob
UST Please enable the people of Israel to defeat their enemies
(צַוֵּה יְשׁוּעוֹת יַעֲקֹב)

The psalmist is speaking of the salvation of Jacob as if it were a living thing that God could Command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Bring about the salvation of Jacob]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT Command the salvation of Jacob
UST Please enable the people of Israel to defeat their enemies
(צַוֵּה יְשׁוּעוֹת יַעֲקֹב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Act to save Jacob]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Command
UST Please enable (צַוֵּה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please command]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Jacob
UST the people of Israel
(יַעֲקֹב)

The psalmist is using the name Jacob to represent the Israelite people, who were descendants of a man named Jacob. God gave him the name Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [us Israelites]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my king	are our & king
God	O God
the salvation of	to defeat their enemies
Jacob	the people of Israel

Psalms 44:5

ULT	UST
By you we gore our enemies; by your name we trample the ones arising {against} us.	You enable us to defeat our enemies. Because you help us, we destroy armies that fight against us.

ULT we gore & we trample
UST to defeat & we destroy
(נְנַגֵּחַ & נָבוּס)

The psalmist is speaking as if the Israelite army were actually a horned animal that would gore and trample an opposing army as if it were another animal. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [we push back … we defeat]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT by your name
UST Because you help us
(בְּשִׁמְךָ)

In this context, God's name seems to represent his authority. The psalmist seems to mean that since God assigned the land of Canaan to the Israelites, when they fight to defend that territory, they are doing so on his authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [by your authority]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the ones arising {against} us
UST armies that fight against us
(קָמֵינוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of the adversaries of Israel as if they were physically arising to a higher elevation. See how you translated the similar expression in 18:48. Alternate translation: [the ones attacking us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
our enemies	our enemies
we trample	we destroy

Psalms 44:6

ULT	UST
For I do not trust in my bow, and my sword does not save me,	We do not expect to win victories because of the weapons we have.

ULT For
UST not
(כִּי)

As in verse 3, here the word For introduces not a reason but a complementary truth. Alternate translation: [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT I do not trust in my bow, and my sword does not save me
UST We do not expect to win victories because of the weapons we have (לֹא בְקַשְׁתִּי אֶבְטָח וְחַרְבִּי לֹא תוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

The psalmist is using two kinds of weapons, his bow and his sword, to mean weapons in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I do not rely on my weapons, no, those weapons do not save me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT I do not trust in my bow, and my sword does not save me
UST We do not expect to win victories because of the weapons we have (לֹא בְקַשְׁתִּי אֶבְטָח וְחַרְבִּי לֹא תוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

If you decided to use first-person plural pronouns in verse 4, you may wish to do that here as well. Alternate translation: [We do not trust in our bows, and our swords do not save us] or [We do not rely on our weapons, no, those weapons do not save us]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and my sword does not save me
UST not & to win victories because of the weapons we have (וְחַרְבִּי לֹא תוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

The psalmist is speaking of his sword as if it were a living thing that could save him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I do not win victories with my sword]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I do & trust	We do & expect in my bow	because of the weapons we have and my sword	because of the weapons we have does & save me	to win victories

Psalms 44:8

ULT	UST
In God we boast all of the day, and we will praise your name forever. Selah	We regularly celebrate what God has done for us. We will always praise him. Selah

ULT all of the day
UST regularly
(כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

The psalmist is saying all of the day as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [continually]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT and we will praise your name
UST We will & praise him
(וְשִׁמְךָ נוֹדֶה &)

In this context, God's name seems to represent his reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and we will praise your reputation] or [and we will praise you for who you are]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

See how your translation team decided at 3:2 to represent the term "Selah."

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
In God	what God has done for us
we boast	We & celebrate and we will praise	We will & praise
forever	always
Selah	Selah

Psalms 44:9

ULT	UST
But you have rejected and humiliated us, and you do not go out with our armies.	But now it appears that you no longer want to help us. This has embarrassed us. When our armies march out to fight a battle, you no longer enable them to win victories.

ULT and you do not go out with our armies
UST When our armies march out to fight a battle, you no longer enable them to win victories
(וְלֹא־תֵצֵא בְּצִבְאוֹתֵינוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if God would previously go out physically with the Israelite armies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you no longer help our armies]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you have rejected	it appears that you no longer want to help us
and humiliated us	This has embarrassed us

Psalms 44:10

ULT	UST
You make us turn back from the enemy, and the ones hating us plunder for themselves.	You make us retreat from our enemies. We must leave behind weapons and possessions, and they take as many of those as they want.

ULT You make us turn back from the enemy
UST You make us retreat from our enemies
(תְּשִׁיבֵנוּ אָחוֹר מִנִּי־צָר)

The psalmist may not mean to say that God is actively opposing the Judeans. He may be describing the consequences of God no longer helping them. Alternate translation: [You oblige us to turn back from the enemy]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for themselves
UST as many of those as they want
(לָמוֹ)

In this context, the expression for themselves has the sense of "as they wish" or "at will," that is, without any resistance. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [at will]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the enemy	our enemies
plunder	We must leave behind weapons and possessions & take

Psalms 44:11

ULT	UST
You have made us like sheep of food, and you have scattered us among the nations.	You have allowed our enemies to slaughter us as if we were sheep. Foreign armies have captured many of our people and taken them back to their countries as slaves.

ULT like sheep of food
UST to slaughter us as if we were sheep
(כְּצֹאן מַאֲכֶל)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe sheep that are characterized by being slaughtered and eaten as food. In context, the emphasis seems to be on the slaughtering, as the parallel phrase “sheep of slaughter” in verse 22 indicates. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [like sheep that are slaughtered]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT like sheep of food
UST to slaughter us as if we were sheep
(כְּצֹאן מַאֲכֶל)

The point of this comparison is that just as sheep that people slaughter for food are very vulnerable and easily killed, so the Judeans have become very vulnerable. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. The point of comparison is the same in verse 22. Alternate translation: [very vulnerable, like sheep that are slaughtered]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
like sheep of	as if we were sheep
you have scattered us	Foreign armies have captured many of our people and taken them
and & among the nations	back to their countries as slaves

Psalms 44:12

ULT	UST
You have sold your people for not-wealth, and you have not increased by their price.	You did not even receive any money for allowing others to take your people as their slaves. You did not become any richer as a result of that.

ULT and you have not increased
UST You did not become any richer
(וְלֹא־רַבִּ֥יתָ)

The psalmist means that God has not become greater in terms of wealth. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and you have not increased in wealth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Psalms 44:13

ULT	UST
You have made us a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and a derision to {those} around us.	Because you no longer help us, the people groups around us insult us. They express contempt for us and laugh at us.

ULT You have made us a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and a derision to {those} around us
UST Because you no longer help us, the people groups around us insult us. They express contempt for us and laugh at us
(תְּשִׂימֵנוּ חֶרְפָּה לִשְׁכֵנֵינוּ לַעַג וָקֶלֶס לִסְבִיבוֹתֵינוּ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [You have made us a reproach to our neighbors, and you have made us a scorn and a derision to the ones around us]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT You have made us a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and a derision to {those} around us
UST Because you no longer help us, the people groups around us insult us. They express contempt for us and laugh at us
(תְּשִׂימֵנוּ חֶרְפָּה לִשְׁכֵנֵינוּ לַעַג וָקֶלֶס לִסְבִיבוֹתֵינוּ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of reproach, scorn, and derision, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [You have given our neighbors occasion to reproach us, and you have given the ones around us occasion to scorn and deride us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT You have made us a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and a derision
UST Because you no longer help us, the people groups around us insult us & express contempt for us and laugh at us
(תְּשִׂימֵנוּ חֶרְפָּה לִשְׁכֵנֵינוּ לַעַג וָקֶלֶס)

The psalmist does not mean that God has made the Judeans something that causes reproach to their neighbors. He means that they have become an object of their neighbors' reproach. He means the same thing when he uses the terms scorn and derision. If you retain these abstract nouns in your translation, you could indicate this explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You have made us an object of reproach to our neighbors, an object of scorn and derision]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
us & reproach	insult us
to our neighbors	the people groups around us

Psalms 44:14

ULT	UST
You have made us a proverb among the nations, a shaking of the head among the peoples.	People in other nations are using us Israelites as an example of an unfortunate people group. They are shaking their heads at us to ridicule us.

ULT a shaking of the head among the peoples
UST They are shaking their heads at us to ridicule us
(מְנוֹד־רֹאשׁ בַּל־אֻמִּים)

In this culture, shaking or wagging one's head at a person or group was a symbolic action by which people showed contempt and expressed mockery toward that person or group. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [a group at which individuals among the peoples shake their heads contemptuously]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a proverb	are using us Israelites as an example of an unfortunate people group
among the nations	People in other nations
a shaking of	are shaking & at us to ridicule us

Psalms 44:15

ULT	UST
All of the day my disgrace {is} before me, and the shame of my face covers me,	I am constantly aware of my disgrace. I feel complete shame

ULT All of the day my disgrace {is} before me
UST I am constantly aware of my disgrace
(כָּל־הַיּוֹם כְּלִמָּתִי נֶגְדִּי)

See how you translated the phrase “all of the day” in 44:8. Alternate translation: [My disgrace is continually before me]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT my disgrace {is} before me, and the shame of my face covers me
UST I am & aware of my disgrace. I feel complete shame
(כְּלִמָּתִי נֶגְדִּי וּבֹשֶׁת פָּנַי כִּסָּתְנִי)

If you decided to use first-person plural pronouns in verses 4 and 6, you may wish to do that here as well. Alternate translation: [our disgrace is before us, and the shame of our faces covers us]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT my disgrace {is} before me
UST I am & aware of my disgrace
(כְּלִמָּתִי נֶגְדִּי)

The psalmist is speaking as if his disgrace were actually an object that was before or in front of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am aware of my disgrace]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the shame of my face covers me
UST I feel complete shame
(וּבֹשֶׁת פָּנַי כִּסָּתְנִי)

The psalmist is using one part of himself, his face, to mean all of him in the act of being ashamed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and my shame covers me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT and the shame of my face covers me
> UST I feel complete shame
> (וּבֹ֣שֶׁת פָּנַ֣י כִּסָּ֣תְנִי)

The psalmist is speaking as if shame were physically covering him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the shame of my face overwhelms me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and the shame of my face covers me
> UST I feel complete shame
> (וּבֹ֣שֶׁת פָּנַ֣י כִּסָּ֣תְנִי)

Hebrew culture associated shame with the face. If your culture does the same thing, you may wish to retain the figurative usage in your translation and express this in terms that the people of your culture would use. Alternate translation: [I have lost face, and shame overwhelms me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my disgrace	my disgrace
and the shame of	shame

Psalms 44:16

ULT	UST
from the voice of one reproaching and one reviling, from the face of an enemy and one avenging.	because people are speaking so harshly to me. Those people are my enemies, and they want to harm me.

ULT from the face of
UST Those people are my enemies
(מִפְּנֵי)

Here, face represents "presence." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in the presence of]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT an enemy and one avenging
UST Those people are my enemies, and they want to harm me
(אֹויֵב וּמִתְנַקֵּם)

Together, the expressions an enemy and one avenging express a single idea. The expression one avenging tells what kind of enemy the psalmist is describing. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [a vengeful enemy]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
one reproaching	so harshly
and one reviling	so harshly
an enemy	Those people are my enemies
and one avenging	and they want to harm me

Psalms 44:17

ULT	UST
All of this has come {to} us, but we have not forgotten you and we have not dealt falsely with your covenant.	These things have happened to us even though we have not stopped worshiping you and we have not disobeyed the solemn agreement that you made with our ancestors.

ULT All of this has come {to} us
UST These things have happened to us
(כָּל־זֹאת בָּאַתְנוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of the misfortunes he has described as if they were a living thing that could have come to the Judeans. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation, as in the UST: [All of this has happened to us]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT but we have not forgotten you
UST even though we have not stopped worshiping you (וְלֹא שְׁכַחֲנוּךָ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the Judeans might actually have forgotten their God, that is, ceased to have remember anything about him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. The meaning is similar in verse 20. Alternate translation: [but we have not neglected to worship you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and we have not dealt falsely with your covenant
UST and we have not disobeyed the solemn agreement that you made with our ancestors
(וְלֹא־שִׁקַּרְנוּ בִּבְרִיתֶךָ)

The psalmist is speaking of God's covenant as if it were a person with whom the Judeans could have dealt falsely. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and we have not dealt falsely with you by not keeping your covenant]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
with your covenant	the solemn agreement that you made with our ancestors

Psalms 44:18

ULT	UST
Our heart has not turned itself back, nor have our steps turned aside from your way.	We still love you as our God, and we have continued to do what you have commanded us to do.

ULT Our heart has not turned itself back
UST We still love you as our God
(לֹא־נָסוֹג אָחוֹר לִבֵּנוּ)

The psalmist is using one part of the Judeans, their heart, to mean all of them in the act of remaining loyal to God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [We have not turned ourselves back]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT Our heart has not turned itself back
UST We still love you as our God
(לֹא־נָסוֹג אָחוֹר לִבֵּנוּ)

The term heart is singular in form, but it refers to the hearts of all of the Judeans. If you retain the image of the heart, if it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form of that word. Alternate translation: [Our hearts have not turned themselves back]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT Our heart has not turned itself back
UST We still love you as our God
(לֹא־נָסוֹג אָחוֹר לִבֵּנוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the Judeans were physically following God and had not turned to go in the opposite direction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [We are still loyal to you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Our heart has not turned itself back
UST We still love you as our God
(לֹא־נָסוֹג אָחוֹר לִבֵּנוּ)

The psalmist is using one part of the Judeans, their steps, to mean all of them in the act of remaining loyal to God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and we have not turned aside from your way]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT nor have our steps turned aside from your way
> UST and we have continued to do what you have commanded us to do
> (וַתֵּט אֲשֻׁרֵינוּ מִנֵּי אָרְחֶךָ)

The psalmist is speaking as if how God wants people to live were a way or path on which people were supposed to walk. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [nor have we stopped living as you want us to live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 44:19

ULT	UST
But you have crushed us into a place of jackals, and you have covered over us with a dark shadow.	But {you have allowed} our enemies to ruin our land and leave it desolate. You have left us feeling as though we are going to die.

ULT into a place of jackals
UST our land and leave it desolate
(בִּמְקוֹם תַּנִּים)

The psalmist is using the phrase a place of jackals to represent a desolate area where only wild animals live. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [so that our land is now desolate]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT jackals
UST and leave it desolate
(תַּנִּים)

The term jackals describes wild dogs that live in desolate regions. If your readers would not be familiar with what a jackal is, in your translation you could use the name of a similar animal that your readers would recognize, or you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [wild dogs]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT and you have covered over us with a dark shadow
UST You have left us feeling as though we are going to die
(וַתְּכַס עָלֵינוּ בְצַלְמָוֶת)

The psalmist is speaking as if God had actually covered the Judeans with a dark shadow. He means that God has allowed them to be in a situation in which they are in great danger of death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you have brought us into a situation of mortal peril]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 44:20

ULT	UST
If we had forgotten the name of our God and spread out our palms to a foreign god,	If we had stopped worshiping you as our God and had started worshiping a foreign god,

ULT If we had forgotten the name of our God
UST If we had stopped worshiping you as our God
(אִם־שָׁכַחְנוּ שֵׁם אֱלֹהֵינוּ)

In this context, the name of our God represents calling on God by name. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [If we had ceased to call on our God by name] or [If we had ceased to worship our God explicitly]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and spread out our palms
UST and had started worshiping
(וְנִפְרֹשׂ כַּפֵּינוּ)

The psalmist is using the action of spreading out one's palms toward the sky to represent prayer, since that was the characteristic posture of prayer in this culture. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and prayed]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
our God	our God
foreign	foreign to a & god	a & god

Psalms 44:20-21

> ULT If we had forgotten the name of our God and spread out our palms to a foreign god,would God not have discovered this? For he is knowing the secrets of the heart
> UST If we had stopped worshiping you as our God and had started worshiping a foreign god,you would surely have known that. That is because you know even what people secretly think > (אִם־שָׁכַחְנוּ שֵׁם אֱלֹהֵינוּ וַנִּפְרֹשׂ כַּפֵּינוּ לְאֵל זָר׃ הֲלֹא אֱלֹהִים יָחֵקֹר־זֹאת כִּי־הוּא יֹדֵעַ תַּעֲלֻמוֹת לֵב)

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine 44:20 and 44:21 into a verse bridge and put the last phrase in verse 21 at the beginning of verse 20, since it gives the reason for the result that the material in the rest of these verses describes. Alternate translation: [Since our God knows the secrets of the heart, if we had forgotten his name and spread out our palms to a foreign god, would he not have discovered this?]

Support Reference: Verse Bridges

Psalms 44:21

ULT	UST
would God not have discovered this? For he is knowing the secrets of the heart.	you would surely have known that. That is because you know even what people secretly think.

ULT would God not have discovered this UST you would surely have known that (הֲלֹא אֱלֹהִים יְחַקֶּר־זֹאת)

The psalmist is using the question form to make a strong affirmation. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [God would certainly have discovered this!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the secrets of the heart
UST even what people secretly think (תַּעֲלֻמוֹת לֵב)

Here the heart represents a person's private thoughts and memories. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the things that people do but do not tell others about]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	you
is knowing	know

Psalms 44:22

ULT	UST
But because of you we are killed all of the day, we are considered like sheep of slaughter.	Because you are not helping us, our enemies are continuing to kill our people. They believe they can kill us as easily as if we were sheep, which people slaughter easily.

ULT we are killed
UST our enemies are & to kill our people
(הֹרַגְנוּ)

The expression are killed is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [our enemies are killing us]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT all of the day
UST continuing
(כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

See how you translated the same expression in 44:8. Alternate translation: [continually]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT we are considered
UST They believe
(נֶחְשַׁבְנוּ)

The expression are considered is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [our enemies consider us]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
we are killed	our enemies are & to kill our people like sheep of	as easily as if we were sheep
slaughter	they can kill us & which people slaughter easily

Psalms 44:23

ULT	UST
Awake! Why are you sleeping, Lord? Wake up! Do not reject {us} forever!	Protect us! Do not fail to act, Lord, as if you were asleep! Defend us! Do not keep treating us as if we were not your people!

ULT Awake! Why are you sleeping, Lord? Wake up
UST Protect us! Do not fail to act, Lord, as if you were asleep! Defend us
(עוּרָה | לָמָּה תִישַׁן | אֲדֹנָי הָקִיצָה)

The psalmist is using the question form as a rebuke. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Awake! You should not be sleeping, Lord! Wake up!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Awake! Why are you sleeping, Lord? Wake up
UST Protect us! Do not fail to act, Lord, as if you were asleep! Defend us
(עוּרָה | לָמָּה תִישַׁן | אֲדֹנָי הָקִיצָה)

The psalmist is speaking as if God were actually sleeping and therefore unaware of or unconcerned about the Judeans' situation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Take action! You should not do nothing while we are in such danger! Help us!]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Do not reject {us
UST Do not & treating us as if we were not your people
(אַל־תִּזְנַח)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a request rather than a command. (By contrast, the imperatives Awake and Wake up are urgent summonses rather than requests.) Use a form in your language that communicates a request. Alternate translation: [Please do not reject us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
reject {us	Do & treating us as if we were not your people forever	keep

Psalms 44:24

ULT	UST
Why do you hide your face, forget our affliction and our oppression?	Please be favorable to us and help us! Consider how badly our enemies are harming us and how greatly we are suffering!

ULT Why do you hide your face, forget our affliction and our oppression
UST Please be favorable to us and help us! Consider how badly our enemies are harming us and how greatly we are suffering
(לָמָה־פָנֶיךָ תַסְתִּיר תִּשְׁכַּח עָנְיֵנוּ וְלַחֲצָנוּ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Why do you hide your face, and why do you forget our affliction and our oppression]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Why do you hide your face, forget our affliction and our oppression
UST Please be favorable to us and help us! Consider how badly our enemies are harming us and how greatly we are suffering
(לָמָה־פָנֶיךָ תַסְתִּיר תִּשְׁכַּח עָנְיֵנוּ וְלַחֲצָנוּ)

As in the previous verse, the psalmist is using the question form as a rebuke. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should not hide your face, and you should not forget our affliction and our oppression!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Why do you hide your face, forget
UST Please be favorable to us and help us! Consider (לָמָה־פָנֶיךָ תַסְתִּיר תִּשְׁכַּח)

The psalmist is speaking as if God had actually hidden his face so that the Judeans could not see it. He means that it is as if God had turned his face away from the Judeans rather than looking at them with a bright expression that indicated favor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Why do you not regard us with favor] or [Please regard us with favor, and do not forget]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT forget
UST Consider
(תִּשְׁכַּח)

The psalmist is speaking as if God had once known about the affliction and oppression of the Judeans but had now forgotten about them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [neglect to do anything about]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
our affliction	how badly our enemies are harming us

Psalms 44:25

ULT	UST
For our soul has sunk down into the dust, our belly clings to the earth.	We ask you to do this because we are helpless, as if we had fallen down and were lying on the ground and could not get up.

ULT For
UST We ask you to do this because
(כִּי)

Here the psalmist is using the word For to introduce a reason why God should help the Judeans. Alternate translation: [Help us because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT our soul has sunk down into the dust, our belly clings to the earth
UST we are helpless, as if we had fallen down and were lying on the ground and could not get up
(שַׁחָה לֶעָפָר נַפְשֵׁנוּ דְּבְקָה לָאָרֶץ בִּטְנֵנוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the Judeans had physically fallen onto the earth and could not get up and as if their soul or inner being had similarly sunk down into the dust. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [We have no physical strength left, as if we had fallen down and could not get up, and we have no strength in our inner beings either, as if they had collapsed into the dust]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT our soul has sunk down & our belly clings
UST we are helpless, as if we had fallen down and were lying & and could not get up
(שַׁחָה & נַפְשֵׁנוּ דְּבְקָה & בִּטְנֵנוּ)

In this verse, the words soul and belly are singular in form, but they refer to the souls and bellies of all of the Judeans. If you retain the images that the psalmist is using, if it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural forms of these words. Alternate translation: [our souls have sunk … our bellies cling]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT our belly clings to the earth
> UST and were lying on the ground and could not get up
> (דָּבְקָה לָאָרֶץ בִּטְנֵנוּ)

The psalmist is using one part of a person, his belly, to mean all of him in the act of clinging to the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [our bodies cling to the earth]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT our belly clings to the earth
> UST and were lying on the ground and could not get up
> (דָּבְקָה לָאָרֶץ בִּטְנֵנוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if each Judean's belly or body were actually clinging to the earth. He means that it is as if each Judean had fallen and could not get up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [our bodies have fallen to the earth and we cannot get up]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
our soul	we are helpless, as if we to the earth	on the ground

Psalms 44:26

ULT	UST
Arise {as} a helper to us and redeem us because of your covenant faithfulness.	You have promised to love us faithfully because we belong to you. So please do something to rescue us from our enemies!

ULT Arise {as} a helper to us and redeem us because of your covenant faithfulness
UST You have promised to love us faithfully because we belong to you. So please do something to rescue us from our enemies
(קוּמָה עֶזְרָתָה לָּנוּ וּפְדֵנוּ לְמַעַן חַסְדֶּךָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [because of your covenant faithfulness, arise as a helper to us and redeem us]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Arise
UST please do something
(קוּמָה)

The psalmist assumes that God will understand that by Arise, he means "Take action." You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Take action]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Arise
UST please do something
(קוּמָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please take action]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT because of your covenant faithfulness
UST You have promised to love us faithfully because we belong to you. So (לְמַעַן חַסְדֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in order to be faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and redeem us	from our enemies
your covenant faithfulness	You have promised to love us faithfully because we belong to you

Psalms 44:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT A maskil
> UST this song
> (מַשְׂכִּיל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

> ULT of the sons of Korah
> UST One of the Korahites wrote
> (לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח)

See how you translated the expression “the sons of Korah” in the superscription to Psalm 42. Alternate translation: [the descendants of Korah] or [the Korahites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Korah	One of the Korahites wrote

Psalms 45

Psalms 45 Introduction

Psalm 45 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 45 is a royal psalm written for a king's wedding day. At the same time, it is a Messianic psalm that looks forward to the reign of Jesus Christ. Hebrews 1:8–9 applies Psalm 45:6–7 to Jesus. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. The psalmist's self-introduction (1)
2. Praise for the king as God's representative who maintains justice (2–8)
3. Transition from the king to the bride (9)
4. Exhortation to the king's bride (10–17)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a "maskil." See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Whose wedding was this?

Psalm 45 is a royal wedding song for a historical king, composed for an actual court marriage. This king was probably a descendant of David, and he was certainly loyal to Yahweh, but the psalmist does not name him, so it is uncertain exactly which king he is describing. The exalted language about the king's eternal throne and perfectly just rule has led both ancient and modern interpreters to see this psalm as deliberately shaped to point beyond that occasion to God's ultimate King. Because Hebrews 1:8–9 applies Psalm 45:6–7 to Christ, both Jewish and Christian traditions have often treated the psalm as Messianic, seeing the historical king and his bride as a type or foreshadowing of the ultimate King and his people. So we recommend that you not suggest in a note or in the text of your translation for which king the psalmist may have composed this wedding song.

Why does the psalmist call the king "God" in verse 6?

As a note to this verse suggests, the Hebrew term that is often translated as "God" in other contexts was also a respectful form of address for judges. Since this verse speaks of the king as upholding justice, that title would be appropriate for him in this context. That is one likely explanation of why the psalmist uses this term. However, other interpreters suggest that the phrase “Your throne, God” could mean “Your throne of God,” that is, “your divinely ordained throne.” Translators might represent this as “The kingdom that God has given you.” One other possibility is that the psalmist could be addressing God directly but briefly in this sentence and then returning to address the king through the end of verse 9, after which he addresses the bride. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to follow the interpretation that it does. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to follow the interpretation suggested in these notes.

Psalms 45:1

ULT	UST
My heart boils over {with} a good matter. I am reciting my works to the king. My tongue is the stylus of a quick scribe.	There is something wonderful that I feel so strongly about that I must sing about it. I will sing a song that I have composed in honor of the king. As I sing, I will express my ideas in an orderly and complete way, just like a scribe who records quickly and accurately what he hears people say.

ULT My heart boils over {with} a good matter
UST There is something wonderful that I feel so strongly about that I must sing about it
(רָחַשׁ לִבִּי | דָּבָר טוֹב)

The verb that the ULT translates as boils over occurs only here in the Bible, but it comes from the same root as a term for a pot or cauldron, so that seems to be its meaning. However, in this context, the focus is not on the heat that causes a liquid to boil. It is on the way a boiling liquid may overflow from a pot. Particularly if your language and culture associate heat with anger, it may be helpful to express the general meaning in order not to suggest that the psalmist is angry. Alternate translation: [My heart overflows with a good matter]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT My heart boils over {with} a good matter
UST There is something wonderful that I feel so strongly about that I must sing about it
(רָחַשׁ לִבִּי | דָּבָר טוֹב)

Here the heart represents a person's thoughts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My mind overflows with a good matter] or [My thoughts about a good matter are overflowing]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT My heart boils over {with} a good matter
UST There is something wonderful that I feel so strongly about that I must sing about it
(רָחַשׁ לִבִּי | דָּבָר טוֹב)

The psalmist is speaking as if his heart (his mind) were actually overflowing with the matter he will describe in this psalm. He means that he finds his subject so inspiring that he cannot contain his thoughts about it; that is, he must speak out loud what he thinks about it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. (See the further discussion of this in the introduction to this psalm.) Alternate translation: [My subject is so inspiring that I must express my thoughts about it aloud]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I am reciting
UST I will sing
(אֹמֵר אֲנִי)

The psalmist says I am reciting because he has already begun to sing his composition. However, since he is referring to the part of it that will follow, in some languages it may be more natural to use a verb in the future tense here. Alternate translation: [I will recite]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT my works
UST a song that I have composed (מַעֲשַׂי)

The psalmist is using the plural term works to refer to the many elements he has incorporated into this song. In some languages it may be more natural to use a singular term to refer to his entire composition. Alternate translation: [my work] or [my composition]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

ULT to the king
UST in honor of the king
(לְמֶלֶךְ)

The phrase that the ULT translates as to the king may indicate: (1) that the psalmist is performing this song for the king and directing it to him. The ULT reflects this meaning. (2) that the psalmist has composed this song about the king. Alternate translation: [about the king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT My tongue is the stylus of a quick scribe
UST As I sing, I will express my ideas in an orderly and complete way, just like a scribe who records quickly and accurately what he hears people say
(לְשׁוֹנִי עֵט | סוֹפֵר מָהִיר)

The psalmist is speaking as if his tongue were actually a stylus that belonged to a scribe who was able to record quickly and accurately what he heard people say. The psalmist means that even though he has many thoughts that he would like to share on this occasion, he will be able to sing them all articulately and continuously. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will be able to express all of my thoughts articulately and continuously in this song]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	wonderful
to the king	in honor of the king
My tongue	As I sing, I will express my ideas in an orderly and complete way
a & scribe	just like a scribe

Psalms 45:2

ULT	UST
You are fairer than the sons of man. Grace is poured onto your lips. Therefore God has blessed you forever.	O King, you are the most handsome man in the world! You speak very graciously! So we know that God has always blessed you.

ULT You are fairer than the sons of man
UST O King, you are the most handsome man in the world
(יָפְיְפִּיתָ מִבְּנֵי אָדָם)

In verse 1, the psalmist was addressing all of his listeners. Here he begins to address the king directly. In some cultures, a person would not begin to speak to a ruler without using a specific form of address. If your culture has such a form, you could use it in your translation. Alternate translation: [Your Majesty, you are fairer than the sons of man]

Support Reference: Politeness

ULT You are fairer than the sons of man. Grace is poured onto your lips
UST O King, you are the most handsome man in the world! You speak very graciously (יָפְיְפִּיתָ מִבְּנֵי אָדָם הוּצַק חֵן בְּשִׂפְתוֹתֶיךָ)

The words You and your are singular here and in the rest of the psalm because the psalmist is always addressing an individual. So use singular forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT You are fairer than the sons of man
UST O King, you are the most handsome man in the world
(יָפְיְפִּיתָ מִבְּנֵי אָדָם)

The psalmist is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean "human beings." He is not implying that the king is not a man. He means that he is fairer or more handsome than all the other sons of man. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You are more handsome than other people]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT You are fairer than the sons of man
UST O King, you are the most handsome man in the world
(יָפְיְפִיתָ מִבְּנֵי אָדָם)

The psalmist is making an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. (However, since an overstatement like this one was an appropriate compliment for a ruler in this culture, you may wish to retain the overstatement in your translation. The UST models one way to do that.) Alternate translation: [You are an exceptionally handsome man]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT You are fairer than the sons of man
UST O King, you are the most handsome man in the world
(יָפְיְפִיתָ מִבְּנֵי אָדָם)

The psalmist is using or creating a special form of a verb that means “to be beautiful” by doubling its root. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [You are handsome, far more handsome than other men]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT Grace is poured onto your lips
UST You speak very graciously
(הוּצַק חֵן בְּשִׂפְתוֹתֶיךָ)

The expression is poured is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. If you need to say who has done this action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [God has poured grace onto your lips]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT Grace is poured onto your lips
UST You speak very graciously
(הוּצַק חֵן בְּשִׂפְתוֹתֶיךָ)

The psalmist is speaking as if Grace had actually been poured onto the lips of the king. In context, the emphasis seems to be not on the action of pouring but on the result of pouring. When a liquid is poured onto a surface, it spreads out and covers that surface. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Grace covers your lips] or [Your lips are entirely gracious]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT Grace is poured onto your lips
> UST You speak very graciously
> (הוּצַק חֵן בְּשִׂפְתוֹתֶיךָ)

Here the king's lips represent his speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Your speech is entirely gracious]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Therefore
> UST So we know that
> (עַל־כֵּן)

The psalmist is not using the word Therefore to indicate that the king's attractive appearance and gracious speech are the reasons why God has blessed him. He means that these characteristics of the king are evidence that God has blessed him. If a term such as "therefore" would not communicate this meaning in your language, you may want to use a different connecting word or phrase to show how the following statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [This is how we know that]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Grace	graciously
God	God
has blessed you	has & blessed you
forever	always

Psalms 45:3

ULT	UST
Gird your sword on your thigh, warrior, {in} your glory and your majesty.	Prepare yourself to keep fighting powerfully {for justice}! You are glorious and majestic when you do that.

ULT Gird your sword on your thigh
UST Prepare yourself to keep fighting powerfully {for justice
(חֲגֹ֣ור־חַ֭רְבְּךָ עַל־יְרֵכֶ֑ךָ)

The psalmist is using one action that a warrior would do in preparation for fighting a battle, strapping his sword onto his thigh, to refer to being equipped for battle in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Prepare yourself to do battle]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT Gird your sword on your thigh
UST Prepare yourself to keep fighting powerfully {for justice
(חֲגֹ֣ור־חַ֭רְבְּךָ עַל־יְרֵכֶ֑ךָ)

While the expression Gird is an imperative, the psalmist is not telling the king to do something or suggesting that he is not already doing it. Instead, the psalmist is celebrating what the king is already doing. It may be more natural in your language to express this meaning by using a form other than an imperative. Alternate translation: [You are always prepared to do battle]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Gird your sword on your thigh
UST Prepare yourself to keep fighting powerfully {for justice
(חֲגֹ֣ור־חַ֭רְבְּךָ עַל־יְרֵכֶ֑ךָ)

As the next verse indicates, the psalmist wants the king to use his power specifically to uphold justice. This may not necessarily involve fighting an actual battle. You could indicate this in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Be prepared to use your power to uphold justice] or [You are always prepared to use your power to uphold justice]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in} your glory and your majesty
UST You are glorious and majestic when you do that (הוֹדְךָ֖וְהַדְרֶֽךָ)

Together the terms glory and majesty express a single idea. The word majesty characterizes this man as a king, and the word glory tells what kind of king he is, specifically when he fights for justice. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [as a glorious king]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Gird	Prepare yourself to keep fighting powerfully {for justice
your sword	Prepare yourself to keep fighting powerfully {for justice warrior	Prepare yourself to keep fighting powerfully {for justice in} your glory	You are glorious & when you do that and your majesty	and majestic

Psalms 45:4

ULT	UST
And {in} your majesty prosper, ride out for the sake of truth and humility {and} righteousness. May your right hand teach you fearful things.	Go and win victories to establish yourself as a king who is honest, who does not proudly oppress his people, and who does what is right. As you do that, may you find that your skill as a warrior terrifies anyone who would resist you.

ULT And {in} your majesty
UST as a king
(וְהַדְרְךָ)

See how you represented the term “majesty” in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [And as a king]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT prosper, ride out
UST Go and win victories
(צְלַח רְכַב)

The phrase prosper, ride out expresses a single idea. The word prosper, meaning “succeed” or “triumph,” tells in what way the psalmist wants the king to ride out in his chariot. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [ride out triumphantly] or [ride out to victory]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT prosper, ride out
UST Go and win victories
(צְלַח רְכַב)

The psalmist is speaking as if he actually wanted the king to ride out in his chariot to fight a battle. As in the previous verse, he wants the king to use his power to uphold justice without necessarily involve fighting an actual battle. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [use your power triumphantly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for the sake of truth and humility {and} righteousness
UST to establish yourself & who is honest, who does not proudly oppress his people, and who does what is right
(עַל־דְּבַר־אֱמֶת וְעַנְוָה־צֶדֶק)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of truth, humility, and righteousness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [to establish a reign that is truthful, humble, and righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT May your right hand teach you fearful things
UST As you do that, may you find that your skill as a warrior terrifies anyone who would resist you
(וְתוֹרְךָ נוֹרָאוֹת יְמִינֶךָ)

The psalmist is speaking of the king's right hand as if it were a living thing that could teach him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May you discover that you can do fearful things with your right hand]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT May your right hand teach you fearful things
UST As you do that, may you find that your skill as a warrior terrifies anyone who would resist you
(וְתוֹרְךָ נוֹרָאוֹת יְמִינֶךָ)

The psalmist is using the king's right hand to represent him using his sword and shooting arrows with that hand or, more generally, to represent him fighting against his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [May you discover that you can do fearful things by using your sword and shooting arrows] or [May you discover that you can do fearful things as you fight against your enemies]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT fearful things
UST terrifies anyone who would resist you (נוֹרָאוֹת)

The expression fearful things is a passive verbal form, a participle that the psalmist is using as a noun. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [things that terrify your opponents]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And {in} your majesty	as a king
prosper	and win victories
and humility	who does not proudly oppress his people and} righteousness	and who does what is right fearful things	terrifies anyone who would resist you

Psalms 45:5

ULT	UST
Your arrows are sharp; the peoples fall under you; in the heart of the enemies of the king.	Your sharp arrows pierce into the hearts of your enemies. You defeat the people groups that fight against you.

ULT Your arrows are sharp; the peoples fall under you; in the heart of the enemies of the king
UST Your sharp arrows pierce into the hearts of your enemies. You defeat the people groups that fight against you (חִצֶּיךָ שְׁנוּנִים עַמִּים תַּחְתֶּיךָ יִפְּלוּ בְּלֵב אוֹיְבֵי הַמֶּלֶךְ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put the information that the arrows are in the heart of the enemies of the king with the information that the arrows are sharp. Alternate translation: [Your arrows are sharp in the heart of the enemies of the king; the peoples fall under you]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT Your arrows are sharp
UST Your sharp arrows pierce
(חִצֶּיךָ שְׁנוּנִים)

The psalmist says that these arrows are sharp to mean that they penetrate through armor into the bodies of enemy soldiers. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Your arrows penetrate]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the peoples fall under you
UST You defeat the people groups that fight against you (עַמִּים תַּחְתֶּיךָ יִפְּלוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the peoples who fight against the king actually fall down dead or wounded and he drives his chariot over them, so that they are under him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you win victory over the peoples]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT in the heart of the enemies of the king
> UST into the hearts of your enemies
> (בְּלֵב אוֹיְבֵי הַמֶּלֶךְ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. If you decide not to move this phrase to an earlier part of the verse, after Your arrows are sharp, you can supply those words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Your arrows are in the heart of the enemies of the king] or [Your arrows penetrate into the heart of the enemies of the king]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT in the heart of
> UST into the hearts of > (בְּלֵב)

In this verse, the word heart is singular in form, but it refers to the hearts of all of the king's enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form of "heart." Alternate translation: [in the hearts of]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT the enemies of the king
> UST your enemies
> (אוֹיְבֵי הַמֶּלֶךְ)

The psalmist is speaking of the king in the third person even though he is addressing him directly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the second person. Alternate translation: [your enemies] or [your enemies, O king]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the enemies of	enemies
the king	your

Psalms 45:6

ULT	UST
Your throne, God, {is} forever and ever. A scepter of justice {is} the scepter of your kingdom.	Your Majesty, you will be the king for a very long time. You decide people's cases fairly as you rule your kingdom.

ULT Your throne
UST you will be the king
(כִּסְאֲךָ)

Here the king's throne represents his reign. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Your reign]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT God
UST Your Majesty
(אֱלֹהִים)

The Hebrew term that is translated as "God" in most contexts can sometimes be used to refer respectfully to judges. There are probable examples of this in Exodus 21:6, Exodus 22:9, Exodus 22:28, and Psalm 82:1. Since the rest of this verse speaks of the king enforcing justice, this seems to be another instance of that usage. (The psalmist clarifies in the next verse that the king is subject to God himself, who is his God.) To avoid the impression that the psalmist is addressing the king as if he were God or a god, it may be helpful to use a comparable respectful form of address in your language. (See the further discussion of this in the introduction to this psalm.) Alternate translation: [O royal judge]

Support Reference: Politeness

ULT A scepter of justice {is} the scepter of your kingdom
UST You decide people's cases fairly as you rule your kingdom
(שֵׁבֶט מִישֹׁר שֵׁבֶט מַלְכוּתֶךָ)

Here the king's scepter represents his rule. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [You rule your kingdom with justice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Your throne	you will be the king
God	Your Majesty
is} forever	for a & long time
A scepter of	as you rule
justice	You decide people’s cases fairly your kingdom	your kingdom

Psalms 45:7

ULT	UST
You love righteousness, and you hate wickedness. Therefore God, your God, has anointed you {with} the oil of joy more than your companions.	You love it when people do what is right, and you hate it when people do what is wrong. That is why God, whom you worship, has made you so happy. You are happier than all the people around you.

ULT You love righteousness, and you hate wickedness
UST You love it when people do what is right, and you hate it when people do what is wrong
(אָהַבְתָּ צֶדֶק וַתִּשְׂנָא רֶשַׁע)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of righteousness and wickedness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [You love right actions, and you hate wicked actions]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT has anointed you {with} the oil of joy more than your companions
UST has made you so happy. You are happier than all the people around you
(מְשָׁחֲךָ & שֶׁמֶן שָׂשׂוֹן מֵחֲבֵרֶיךָ)

The psalmist is speaking as if God had actually anointed the king with oil that consisted of or imparted joy. The image of pouring out a fluid so that it covers someone conveys the idea of abundance. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [has given you abundant joy, more than your companions]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT has anointed you {with} the oil of joy more than your companions
UST has made you so happy. You are happier than all the people around you
(מְשָׁחֲךָ & שֶׁמֶן שָׂשׂוֹן מֵחֲבֵרֶיךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [has made you very joyful, more than your companions]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You love	You love it
righteousness	when people do what is right wickedness	when people do what is wrong
God	God
your God	whom you worship
has anointed you	has made you so with} the oil of	has made you so joy	happy. You are happier
more than your companions	than all the people around you

Psalms 45:8

ULT	UST
Myrrh and aloes, cassia, {are} all of your garments. From palaces of ivory, stringed instruments make you rejoice.	Your royal robes smell beautifully of {the spices} myrrh, aloes, and cassia. From within your palace, which has ivory decorations, you hear people playing stringed instruments. That music makes you happy.

ULT Myrrh and aloes, cassia, {are} all of your garments
UST Your royal robes smell beautifully of {the spices} myrrh, aloes, and cassia (מֹר־וַאֲהָלוֹת קְצִיעוֹת כָּל־בִּגְדֹתֶיךָ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the king's garments were actually made of the spices Myrrh, aloes, and cassia. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all of your garments are fragrant with myrrh and aloes and cassia] or [myrrh, aloes, and cassia scent all of your garments]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Myrrh and aloes, cassia
UST the spices} myrrh, aloes, and cassia
(מֹר־וַאֲהָלוֹת קְצִיעוֹת)

Myrrh, aloes, and cassia are fragrant spices. If your readers would not be familiar with these spices, we do not recommend that you use the names of similar spices that your readers might recognize, since the psalmist is describing a real historical situation. Instead, you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [Fragrant spices]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT palaces of
UST your palace
(הֵיכְלֵי)

The psalmist is using the plural palaces where he could have used the singular form. This suggests that he is using the plural form to emphasize the vast extent of the king's palace complex, which may include several buildings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the singular and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [your vast palace of]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

> ULT stringed instruments make you rejoice
> UST you hear people playing stringed instruments. That music makes you happy > (מִנֵּי שִׂמְחוּךְ)

The psalmist is using stringed instruments to represent the music that people are playing on those instruments. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the music of stringed instruments is making you rejoice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Myrrh	the spices} myrrh
palaces of	your palace
make you rejoice	That music makes you happy

Psalms 45:9

ULT	UST
Daughters of kings {are} among your precious {ones}. The queen is stationed at your right hand in gold of Ophir.	The honored women of your court include foreign princesses. {Your bride,} the queen, is standing at your right side. Threads of gold fine gold from Ophir decorate her robe.

ULT are} among your precious {ones
UST The honored women of your court include
(בְּיִקְרוֹתֶיךָ)

The psalmist is using the adjective precious as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. (The ULT indicates this by supplying the word ones.) Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [are among your honored women] or [are among the ladies of your court]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT is stationed
UST is standing
(נִצָּבָה)

The expression is stationed is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [is standing]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT at your right hand in gold of Ophir
UST at your right side. Threads of gold fine gold from Ophir decorate her robe
(לְיָמִינְךָ בְּכֶתֶם אוֹפִיר)

Having the queen stand at his right hand (that is, on his right side) was a symbolic action by which the king honored his bride. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [in a place of honor at your right side]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

> ULT in gold of Ophir
> UST Threads of gold fine gold from Ophir decorate her robe
> (בְּכֻתֳּם אוֹפִיר)

Here, gold of Ophir represents garments decorated with that very fine gold, as verses 13 and 14 indicate. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in garments decorated with gold of Ophir]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Ophir
> UST Ophir
> (אוֹפִיר)

The word Ophir is the name of a land that produced gold of excellent quality.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kings	foreign princesses
The queen	Your bride,} the queen
in gold of	Threads of gold fine gold from & decorate her robe

Psalms 45:10

ULT	UST
Listen, daughter, and consider, and incline your ear, and forget your people and the house of your father.	And as for you, dear bride, please listen carefully to my advice. From now on, regard this as your country and these people as your family.

ULT Listen, daughter, and consider, and incline your ear
UST And as for you, dear bride, please listen carefully to my advice
(שִׁמְעִי־בַת וּרְאִי וְהַטִּי אָזְנֵךְ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and do that here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Listen carefully, daughter, and consider] or [Listen, daughter, and consider, yes, incline your ear]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT daughter
UST And as for you, dear bride
(בַּת)

The psalmist is addressing the bride with the courteous and gentle expression that wise older people in this culture used to address young people whom they were teaching. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [young lady]

Support Reference: Politeness

ULT and incline your ear
UST carefully
(וְהַטִּי אָזְנֵךְ)

The psalmist is speaking as if he wants the bride physically to incline her ear, that is, to lean over the way someone would do to pay close attention to someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and pay close attention]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and forget your people and the house of your father
> UST From now on, regard this as your country and these people as your family
> (וְשִׁכְחִי עַמֵּךְ וּבֵית אָבִיךְ)

The psalmist is speaking as if he wanted the bride actually to forget her nation and family. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and do not wish that you were still with your people and in the house of your father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and the house of your father
> UST and these people as your family
> (וּבֵית אָבִיךְ)

Here the term house represents the "household" of the bride's father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and your family]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and the house of	and these people as your family

Psalms 45:11

ULT	UST
Then the king will desire your beauty. Because he is your lord, prostrate yourself to him.	If you do that, the king will love and appreciate you even more. Bow down in front of him to honor him as your husband and king.

ULT Then the king will desire your beauty
UST If you do that, the king will love and appreciate you even more (וְיִתְאַו הַמֶּלֶךְ יָפְיֶךָ)

The psalmist is using one part of the bride, her beauty, to mean all of her in the act of being attractive to the king. The psalmist means that if she gives the king her exclusive devotion, as he advised her in the previous verse, not just her physical appearance but her qualities of loyalty and faithfulness will make the king appreciate and love her. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [This will make you very attractive to the king]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT prostrate yourself to him
UST Bow down in front of him
(וְהִשְׁתַּחֲוִי־לוֹ)

Bowing low to the ground in front of the king was a symbolic action by which the bride showed her acceptance of his authority over her both as her new husband and as her new king. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [prostrate yourself respectfully and submissively to him]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the king	the king
is your lord	your husband and king
prostrate yourself	Bow down

Psalms 45:12

ULT	UST
The daughter of Tyre with a gift; the rich of the people will entreat your face.	Representatives of {foreign kingdoms such as the wealthy kingdom} of Tyre will bring gifts to you. The wealthy people of this kingdom will ask you to treat them favorably.

ULT The daughter of Tyre with a gift; the rich of the people will entreat your face
UST Representatives of {foreign kingdoms such as the wealthy kingdom} of Tyre will bring gifts to you. The wealthy people of this kingdom will ask you to treat them favorably
(וּבַת־צֹר | בְּמִנְחָה פָּנֶיךָ יְחַלּוּ עֲשִׁירֵי עָם)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from later in the verse if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [The rich of the people will entreat your face; the daughter of Tyre will do so with a gift]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT The daughter of Tyre
UST Representatives of {foreign kingdoms such as the wealthy kingdom} of Tyre
(וּבַת־צֹר)

The psalmist is speaking as if the city of Tyre were a mother and its people were its daughter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The people of Tyre]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT The daughter of Tyre
UST Representatives of {foreign kingdoms such as the wealthy kingdom} of Tyre
(וּבַת־צֹר)

The psalmist may be using one particularly wealthy and influential kingdom, Tyre, to represent foreign kingdoms in general. This would be complementary to the people of Israel or Judah whom he mentions later in the verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Representatives of foreign kingdoms]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT the rich of the people
> UST The wealthy people of this kingdom
> (עֲשִׁירֵי עָם)

The psalmist is using the adjective rich as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the rich citizens among our people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT your face
> UST you
> (פָּנַיִךְ)

Here the queen's face represents her "favor." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [your favor]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Tyre	Tyre

Psalms 45:13

ULT	UST
All glorious {is} the daughter of the king within; from interweavings of gold {is} her clothing.	This royal princess looked so beautiful in her private room where she had dressed for the wedding! She had put on a robe that gold threads richly decorated.

ULT All glorious {is} the daughter of the king within; from interweavings of gold {is} her clothing

UST This royal princess looked so beautiful in her private room where she had dressed for the wedding! She had put on a robe that gold threads richly decorated

(כָּל־כְּבוּדָּה בַת־מֶלֶךְ פְּנִימָה מִמִּשְׁבְּצוֹת זָהָב לְבוּשָׁהּ)

In this poem celebrating the king's wedding, the psalmist is not following a strict chronological sequence. In verse 9, he presented a portrait of the bride, groom, and attendants in their formal places at the ceremony. In verses 13–15, he describes the procession of the bride and her attendants to the ceremony. That procession took place before he started singing this song, so in some languages, it may be appropriate to describe them in a past tense. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT is} the daughter of the king

UST This royal princess

(בַּת־מֶלֶךְ)

By the daughter of the king, the psalmist means the same person whom he calls the "queen" in verse 9. (This indicates that her father is the king of a foreign country.) You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the royal bride]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT within

UST in her private room where she had dressed for the wedding

(פְּנִימָה)

The psalmist is using the term within to mean a room or apartment within the palace where the bride has dressed for her wedding. Alternate translation: [in her chamber]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
glorious	looked & beautiful
the king	royal
gold	gold threads
is} her clothing	She had put on a robe

Psalms 45:14

ULT	UST
She will be led to the king in embroidery. The virgins after her, her companions, will be brought to you.	As she came in procession to where you are, O king, people could see that her robe also had beautiful designs of colored thread. Other young women, her bridesmaids, followed her in that procession.

ULT She will be led
UST As she came in procession
(תּוּבָל)

The expression will be led is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Royal officials will lead her]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to the king
UST to where you are, O king
(לַמֶּלֶךְ)

The psalmist is addressing the king once again, as the pronoun you at the end of the verse indicates. So it may be more natural in some languages to use a second-person form here. Alternate translation: [to you, O king,]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT in embroidery
UST people could see that her robe also had beautiful designs of colored thread
(לִרְקָמוֹת)

Here, embroidery represents embroidered garments, that is, garments decorated with embroidery. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in embroidered garments]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT in embroidery
> UST people could see that her robe also had beautiful designs of colored thread
> (לִרְקָמוֹת)

The term embroidery describes the art of making decorative designs in cloth by using needles to work colored threads into it to make beautiful images or patterns. If your readers would not be familiar with what embroidery is, in your translation you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [in garments decorated with colored thread]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT The virgins after her, her companions, will be brought to you
> UST Other young women, her bridesmaids, followed her in that procession
> (בְּתוּלוֹת אַחֲרֶיהָ רֵעוֹתֶיהָ מוּבָאוֹת לָךְ)

The expression will be brought is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Royal officials will bring her companions to you, the virgins who follow her]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to the king	to where you are, O king
her companions	her bridesmaids

Psalms 45:15

ULT	UST
They will be led by joy and rejoicing; they will enter into the palace of the king.	As they came in procession into your palace, this made everyone very happy.

ULT They will be led by joy and rejoicing; they will enter
UST As they came in procession & this made everyone very happy
(תּוּבַלְנָה בְשִׂמְחַת וָגִיל תְּבֹאֶינָה)

The psalmist is speaking of joy and rejoicing as if they were living things that could lead the bride and her attendants into the king's palace. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [There will be joy and rejoicing as they will enter]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT by joy and rejoicing
UST this made everyone very happy
(בְּשִׂמְחַת וָגִיל)

The terms joy and rejoicing mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [with great joy]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT into the palace of the king
UST into your palace
(בְּהֵיכַל מָלֶךְ)

See how you translated the similar expression "to the king" in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [into your palace, O king]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
by joy	this made everyone very happy and rejoicing	this made everyone very happy into the palace of	into & palace
the king	your

Psalms 45:16

ULT	UST
In place of your fathers will be your sons; you will make him princes in all of the earth.	You will be famous not because of your ancestors but because of your descendants. They will have influence and authority all over the world.

ULT your fathers & your sons
UST your ancestors & your descendants
(אֲבֹתֶיךָ & בָנֶיךָ)

The psalmist is using the term fathers to represent "ancestors," and he is using the term sons to represent "descendants." If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your ancestors … your descendants]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you will make him
UST They will have influence and authority
(תְּשִׁיתֵמוֹ)

Since the psalmist is referring to multiple people (sons or descendants), it may be more natural in many languages to use a plural pronoun here. Alternate translation: [you will make them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT in all of the earth
UST all over the world
(בְּכָל־הָאָרֶץ)

The psalmist is saying all as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. (However, since an overstatement like this one was an appropriate compliment for a ruler in this culture, you may wish to retain the overstatement in your translation, as the UST does. See what you decided to do in verse 2.) Alternate translation: [in many parts of the world]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
princes	They will have influence and authority

Psalms 45:17

ULT	UST
Let me make {people} remember your name in every generation to generation; therefore the peoples will thank you forever and ever.	{By this song,} I want to make the people of future generations remember what a great king you are. Then people will always say good things about you.

ULT your name
UST what a great king you are (שְׁמְךָ)

Here the king's name represents his reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [your reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in every generation to generation
UST the people of future generations
(בְּכָל־דֹּר וָדֹר)

It might seem that this expression contains extra information that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, you can shorten it. Alternate translation: [in every generation] or [from generation to generation]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
generation	the people of future generations
to generation	the people of future generations
forever	always

Psalms 45:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT A maskil
> UST this song
> (מַשְׂכִּיל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

> ULT of the sons of Korah
> UST One of the Korahites wrote
> (לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח)

See how you translated the expression “the sons of Korah” in the superscription to Psalm 42. Alternate translation: [the descendants of Korah] or [the Korahites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT a song of loves
> UST It is a love song
> (שִׁיר יְדִידֹת)

The superscription to this wedding psalm uses the plural form loves to refer to the love of the king for his new wife and the love of the queen for her new husband. It may be more natural in your language to use the singular form. Alternate translation: [A love song]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Korah	One of the Korahites wrote
loves	love

Psalms 46

Psalms 46 Introduction

Psalm 46 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 46 is a psalm of trust. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. First stanza (1–3): God as a refuge in an earthquake and an ocean storm
2. Second stanza (4–6): God as a helper in the turmoil of the nations
3. First refrain (7): Statement of trust
4. Third stanza (8–10): Yahweh as the one who ends wars
5. Second refrain (11): Statement of trust

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

What “stream” is the psalmist describing in verse 4?

Like Psalm 44, this psalm could have been written during the Assyrian invasion of Judah and siege of Jerusalem in 701 B.C. During a siege, the attacking army tried to cut off supplies of food and water to the people inside a city to make them surrender. But Jerusalem had its own water supply. The Gihon spring higher up on Mount Zion produced a steady stream of water. Kings such as Hezekiah engineered channels to bring its water safely into the city even during a siege. The psalmist is most likely referring to the life-giving stream of water from the Gihon spring and using it as a symbol of Yahweh’s care and provision for the people. The contrast between the images of this quiet stream and the violent ocean storm portrayed in the previous verse highlights the main theme of the psalm. Even in the midst of tumultuous and threatening events, Yahweh is always helping his people.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Intentionally repeated terms

The psalmist uses the same verb for “roared” in verse 6 as he does for “roar” in verse 3. He uses the same verb for “shook” in verse 6 as he does for “shaking” in verse 2. He expects readers to realize as a result that he was using the sea in verse 3 to represent the “nations” he describes in verse 6 and that he was using the mountains in verse 2 to represent the “kingdoms” he describes in verse 6. So that your readers can appreciate this, we encourage you to use the same terms in your language for “roared” and “shook” in verse 6 that you use in verses 2 and 3 for “roar” and “shaking.”

Psalms 46:1

ULT	UST
God {is} to us a refuge and strength, being found greatly a help in trouble.	God keeps us safe, as if he were a secure place where we could go if we were in danger. God strengthens us. He is always present to help us when we have troubles.

ULT God {is} to us a refuge and strength
UST God keeps us safe, as if he were a secure place where we could go if we were in danger. God strengthens us
(אֱלֹהִים לָנוּ מַחֲסֶה וְעֹז)

The psalmist is speaking of Yahweh as if he were actually a refuge, that is, a place where people can go to be safe from danger. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the term “refuge” in 14:6. Alternate translation: [God protects us and makes us strong]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT God {is} to us a refuge and strength
UST God keeps us safe, as if he were a secure place where we could go if we were in danger. God strengthens us
(אֱלֹהִים לָנוּ מַחֲסֶה וְעֹז)

The psalmist could be using the terms refuge and strength together to express a single idea. The word strength would tell what kind of refuge God is. If you follow this interpretation in your translation, and if it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [God is our strong refuge] or [God powerfully protects us]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT being found greatly a help in trouble
UST He is always present to help us when we have troubles
(עֶזְרָה בְּצָרוֹת נִמְצָא מְאֹד)

The term greatly describes the degree or extent to which God is found to be a help in trouble. Translators may choose to put the focus either on the finding or the helping. Alternate translation: [being dependably found a help in trouble] or [being found a great help in trouble]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT being found greatly a help in trouble
> UST He is always present to help us when we have troubles
> (עֶזְרָה בְּצָרוֹת נִמְצָא מְאֹד)

The psalmist is using the term found in a way characteristic of his language to mean that when one is in trouble, God can be found; that is, he is present. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He is dependably present to help in trouble]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT being found greatly a help in trouble
> UST He is always present to help us when we have troubles
> (עֶזְרָה בְּצָרוֹת נִמְצָא מְאֹד)

The expression being found is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, but a form of the verb “find” would communicate the psalmist’s meaning in your language, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural. Alternate translation: [We dependably find him a help in trouble] or [We find him a great help in trouble]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
a refuge	keeps & safe, as if he were a secure place where we could go if we were in danger and strength	God strengthens us
in trouble	when we have troubles

Psalms 46:2

ULT	UST
Therefore we will not fear in the changing of the earth and the shaking of the mountains into the heart of the seas,	So we would not be afraid even if there were an earthquake that caused huge chunks of mountains to fall deep into the sea.

ULT into the heart of
UST deep into
(בְּלֵ֣ב)

The psalmist is speaking as if the deep part of the sea were actually its heart. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [into the depths of]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the seas
UST the sea
(יַמִּ֑ים)

The psalmist is using the plural seas where he could have used the singular form. (In the next verse, he refers back to the sea using a singular pronoun.) This suggests that he is using the plural form to emphasize the vastness of the sea. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the singular and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [the vast sea]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
we will & fear	we would & be afraid
the earth	even if there were an earthquake and the shaking of	to fall

Psalms 46:3

ULT	UST
should its waters roar and foam, should the mountains quake at its swelling. Selah	We would not be afraid even if there were a great storm in the ocean whose surging waves battered the coastline. Selah

ULT should its waters roar and foam, should the mountains quake at its swelling

UST We would not be afraid even if there were a great storm in the ocean whose surging waves battered the coastline

(יֶהֱמוּ֤ יֶחְמְרוּ֙ מֵימָ֔יו יִרְעֲשׁ֥וּ הָרִ֖ים בְּגַאֲוָתֹ֑ו)

In each instance, the pronoun its refers to “the seas” in the previous verse. Since that is a plural term, you may wish to use a plural pronoun or to repeat the noun for clarity. You may have chosen to use a singular form of the noun in your translation. Alternate translation: [should their waters roar and foam, should the mountains quake at their swelling] or [should the waters of the sea roar and foam, should the mountains quake at the swelling of the sea]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Selah

UST Selah

(סֶלָה)

To translate the term Selah here and in verses 7 and 11, see how your translation team decided to represent that term in 3:2.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
should & quake	battered
Selah	Selah

Psalms 46:4

ULT	UST
A stream, its channels make the city of God rejoice, the holy {place} of the dwellings of the Most High.	A stream flows down from the mountains into Jerusalem. Its cool waters refresh the people who live there. Jerusalem is the location of God's holy temple. He is greater than all other spirit beings.

ULT the city of God
UST into Jerusalem & the people who live there (עִיר־אֱלֹהִים)

The psalmist is using the city of God (that is, Jerusalem) to represent the people of that city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the people of the city of God]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the holy {place} of the dwellings of the Most High
UST Jerusalem is the location of God's holy temple. He is greater than all other spirit beings
(קֹ֣דֶשׁ מִשְׁכְּנֵי עֶלְיֽוֹן)

The psalmist is using the adjective holy as a noun to mean a certain kind of place. (The ULT indicates this by supplying the word place.) Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the holy dwelling place of the Most High]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the holy {place} of the dwellings of the Most High
UST Jerusalem is the location of God's holy temple. He is greater than all other spirit beings
(קֹ֣דֶשׁ מִשְׁכְּנֵי עֶלְיֽוֹן)

The psalmist is speaking of the temple in Jerusalem as if it were a place in which God actually lived. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the holy temple of the Most High]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the holy {place} of the dwellings of the Most High
> UST Jerusalem is the location of God’s holy temple. He is greater than all other spirit beings
> (קֹ֣דֶשׁ מִשְׁכְּנֵ֣י עֶלְיֽוֹן)

The psalmist is using the plural dwellings where he could have used the singular form. This suggests that, as in 43:3, he is using the plural form to emphasize the sacred character of the temple as a place where God is present in a special way. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the singular form and express the emphasis in another way. If it would be extra information to say both “holy” and “sacred” in your translation, you could use another term to make one of those words emphatic. Alternate translation: [the very holy dwelling of the Most High] or [the very sacred temple of the Most High]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	into Jerusalem & the people who live there make & rejoice	Its cool waters refresh
the holy {place} of	God’s holy
the dwellings of	Jerusalem is the location of & temple
the Most High	He is greater than all other spirit beings

Psalms 46:5

ULT	UST
God {is} in the midst of her, she will not be shaken. God will help her at the turning of the morning.	God is present in Jerusalem in a special way, so no one destroys it. God rescues the people of that city, and it is as if a dark night ends and a bright new day begins.

ULT God {is} in the midst of her, she will not be shaken
UST God is present in Jerusalem in a special way, so no one destroys it (אֱלֹהִ֤ים בְּקִרְבָּהּ֙ בַּל־תִּמּ֔וֹט)

The pronouns her and she refer to the city of Jerusalem. It was common in this culture to envision a city as a mother and its residents as her children. If your language has a neuter pronoun that it uses for impersonal entities, it may be more natural to use that here. You could also repeat the noun from the previous verse. Alternate translation: [God is in the midst of the city, it will not be shaken]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT she will not be shaken
UST so no one destroys it
(בַּל־תִּמּ֔וֹט)

The expression will not be shaken contains a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [no one will shake her] or [no one will shake it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT she will not be shaken
UST so no one destroys it
(בַּל־תִּמּ֔וֹט)

The psalmist is speaking as if the city of Jerusalem might actually be shaken by the “nations” he describes in the next verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it will not be destroyed]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT God will help her
UST God rescues the people of that city
(יַעְזְרֶהָ אֱלֹהִים)

The pronoun her, referring to the city of Jerusalem, represents the people of that city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. See what you did in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [God will help the people of that city]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT at the turning of the morning
UST and it is as if a dark night ends and a bright new day begins
(לִפְנוֹת בֹּקֶר)

The psalmist is using at the turning of the morning as a common expression of his culture to refer to the time when night ends and day begins. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at the break of day] or [as soon as it becomes light]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT at the turning of the morning
UST and it is as if a dark night ends and a bright new day begins
(לִפְנוֹת בֹּקֶר)

The psalmist is speaking as if God were going to help the people of Jerusalem at the actual turning of the morning, that is, as soon as it became light on a certain day. He means that the time of trouble, pictured as a dark night, will surely end as God brings deliverance. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when he brings deliverance]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
she will & be shaken	destroys it

Psalms 46:6

ULT	UST
Nations may roar; kingdoms may shake. He utters with his voice; the earth melts.	Sometimes foreign armies invade kingdoms and conquer them. {But that does not happen to us, because} God powerfully defends us and defeats our enemies.

ULT Nations may roar; kingdoms may shake
UST Sometimes foreign armies invade kingdoms and conquer them
(הָמ֣וּ גוֹיִ֣ם מָ֭טוּ מַמְלָכ֑וֹת)

The psalmist is speaking as if these nations might actually roar and these kingdoms might actually shake. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Nations may attack kingdoms and devastate them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT He utters with his voice
UST But that does not happen to us, because} God powerfully defends us
(נָתַ֖ן בְּקוֹלֽוֹ)

It was characteristic of this culture to speak of thunder as if it were actually the voice of God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar expression in 18:13. Alternate translation: [He causes thunder]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT He utters with his voice
UST But that does not happen to us, because} God powerfully defends us
(נָתַ֖ן בְּקוֹלֽוֹ)

The psalmist is speaking as if God actually causes thunder in the situations he is describing. He is doing that to represent God acting powerfully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He acts powerfully]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the earth melts
> UST and defeats our enemies
> (תָּמ֥וֹג אָֽרֶץ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the earth actually melts. He is using the earth to represent the people of the earth, specifically hostile armies. He is using the term melts to mean that they will dissipate, that is, cease to be an organized force and go away. Alternate translation: [armies that threaten us dissipate]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Nations	Sometimes foreign armies kingdoms	kingdoms
may shake	and conquer them
the earth	our enemies

Psalms 46:7

ULT	UST
Yahweh of Armies {is} with us; the God of Jacob {is} a stronghold to us. Selah	Yahweh, the commander of the heavenly armies, helps us. The God whom we Israelites worship keeps us safe. Selah

ULT is} with us
UST helps us
(עִמָּנוּ)

The psalmist is using a common expression of his culture to mean that Yahweh is helping the Judeans. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation, as in the UST: [is helping us]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the God of Jacob {is} a stronghold to us
UST The God whom we Israelites worship keeps us safe (מִשְׂגָּב־לָנוּ אֱלֹהֵי יַעֲקֹב)

See how you translated the similar term “refuge” in 46:1. Alternate translation: [the God of Jacob is protecting us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the God of Jacob {is UST The God whom we Israelites worship
(אֱלֹהֵי יַעֲקֹב)

Here Jacob, the ancestor of the Israelites (whose name God changed to Israel), represents the nation that consists of his descendants. Alternate translation: [the God of us Israelites]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh of Armies	Yahweh, the commander of the heavenly armies
the God of & is	The God whom & worship
Jacob	we Israelites
a stronghold	keeps & safe
Selah	Selah

Psalms 46:8

ULT	UST
Come, see the works of Yahweh, who makes desolations on the earth,	Let me tell you what Yahweh does. He destroys our enemies.

ULT Come
UST Let me tell you
(לְכוּ)

The psalmist is not telling his listeners to Come somewhere with him. He is saying Come to encourage them to take action. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [Come on]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT who makes desolations on the earth
UST He destroys our enemies
(אֲשֶׁר־שָׂם שַׁמּוֹת בָּאָרֶץ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of desolations, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [who makes the earth desolate]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT who makes desolations on the earth
UST He destroys our enemies
(אֲשֶׁר־שָׂם שַׁמּוֹת בָּאָרֶץ)

As in verse 6, here the earth seems to represent the people of the earth and specifically the armies that are threatening Jerusalem. Alternate translation: [who desolates armies that threaten us] or [who destroys armies that threaten us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
desolations	destroys
on the earth	our enemies

Psalms 46:9

ULT	UST
making wars cease to the end of the earth. He shatters the bow and cuts the spear in pieces; he burns the wagons with fire.	He stops wars all over the world. It is as if he breaks bows and arrows, destroys spears, and burns up war wagons.

ULT to the end of the earth
UST all over the world
(עַד־קְצֵה הָאָרֶץ)

The psalmist is speaking of the effects of Yahweh's action from the perspective of looking off as far as he can see in one direction, to one end of the earth. He is using that one direction to represent how Yahweh's action will have effects in every direction. (While in verses 6 and 9 the term "earth" had a symbolic meaning, now that Yahweh has defeated the forces opposing his people, the "earth" has the sense of a literal place.) Alternate translation: [to the ends of the earth] or [throughout the earth]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT He shatters the bow and cuts the spear in pieces; he burns the wagons with fire
UST It is as if he breaks bows and arrows, destroys spears, and burns up war wagons
(קֶשֶׁת יְשַׁבֵּר וְקִצֵּץ חֲנִית עֲגָלוֹת יִשְׂרֹף בָּאֵשׁ)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific bow or spear or to specific wagons. He means those things in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [He shatters bows and spears in pieces; he burns wagons with fire]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT He shatters the bow and cuts the spear in pieces; he burns the wagons with fire
UST It is as if he breaks bows and arrows, destroys spears, and burns up war wagons
(קֶשֶׁת יְשַׁבֵּר וְקִצֵּץ חֲנִית עֲגָלוֹת יִשְׂרֹף בָּאֵשׁ)

The psalmist does not mean that Yahweh actually does these things personally. He is speaking of the effects of Yahweh's action of ending wars. Alternate translation: [He keeps people from using weapons and equipment to wage war]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT he burns the wagons with fire
> UST and burns up war wagons
> (עֲגָלוֹת יִשְׂרֹף בָּאֵשׁ)

It might seem that this expression contains extra information that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, if you retain this image in your translation, you can shorten this expression. Alternate translation: [he burns up the wagons]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the bow	bows and arrows
the spear	spears

Psalms 46:10

ULT	UST
“Be still and know that I {am} God. I will be high among the nations, I will be high on the earth.”	God says, “Calm down and remember that I am God. The people of nations throughout the earth will honor me.”

ULT Be still and know that I {am} God
UST God says, “Calm down and remember that I am God
(הַרְפּוּ֥ וּדְע֑וּ כִּֽי־אָ֝נֹכִ֗י אֱלֹהִ֥ים)

This verse is a direct quotation of Yahweh. The ULT indicates that by putting the verse inside quotation marks. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could also use a natural way of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh says, “Be still and know that I {am} God]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT I will be high among the nations, I will be high on the earth
UST The people of nations throughout the earth will honor me
(אָר֣וּם בַּגּוֹיִ֑ם אָר֖וּם בָּאָֽרֶץ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and do that here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [I will be high among the nations of the earth] or [I will be high among the nations; indeed, I will be high on the earth]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT I will be high among the nations, I will be high on the earth
UST The people of nations throughout the earth will honor me
(אָר֣וּם בַּגּוֹיִ֑ם אָר֖וּם בָּאָֽרֶץ)

Yahweh is speaking as if he were actually going to be in a high location. He means that he will receive honor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and know	and remember
am} God	am God
among the nations	The people of nations
on the earth	throughout the earth

Psalms 46:11

ULT	UST
Yahweh of Armies {is} with us; the God of Jacob {is} a stronghold to us. Selah	Yahweh, the commander of the heavenly armies, helps us. The God whom we Israelites worship keeps us safe. Selah

ULT Yahweh of Armies {is} with us; the God of Jacob {is} a stronghold to us

UST Yahweh, the commander of the heavenly armies, helps us. The God whom we Israelites worship keeps us safe

(יְהוָה צְבָאוֹת עִמָּנוּ מִשְׂגָּב־לָנוּ אֱלֹהֵי יַעֲקֹב)

This is the second instance of the refrain of this poem. The first instance is in verse 7. To help your readers appreciate this, translate this verse the same way you translated that verse.

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh of Armies	Yahweh, the commander of the heavenly armies
the God of	The God whom & worship
Jacob	we Israelites
is} a stronghold	keeps & safe
Selah	Selah

Psalms 46:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT For the chief musician. Of the sons of Korah. On “Maidens.” A song
> UST This is a note for the worship leader: One of the Korahites wrote this song. The tune is “Maidens > (לַמְנַצֵּחַ לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח עַל־עֲלָמוֹת שִׁיר)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put the information that this is a song with the information that one of the sons of Korah wrote it. Alternate translation: [A song of the sons of Korah. On Alamoth]

Support Reference: Information Structure

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT Of the sons of Korah
> UST One of the Korahites wrote
> (לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח)

See how you translated the expression “the sons of Korah” in the superscription to Psalm 42. Alternate translation: [Of the descendants of Korah] or [Of the Korahites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT On “Maidens
> UST The tune is “Maidens
> (עַל־עֲלָמוֹת)

See how you translated the similar expression “On Sheminith” in the superscription to Psalm 6. Alternate translation: [Set to the tune Alamoth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT On “Maidens
> UST The tune is “Maidens
> (עַל־עֲלָמוֹת)

The term that the ULT translates as Maidens could be the name of the tune of this psalm. It might also be a musical instruction indicating that singers should perform the song in a higher range. Alternate translation: [Perform in a higher range]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Korah	One of the Korahites wrote

Psalms 47

Psalms 47 Introduction

Psalm 47 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 47 is a psalm of praise. It is a specific type of praise psalm, a divine enthronement psalm. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Call to worship (1)
2. Reason to worship (2–5)
3. Call to worship (6)
4. Reason to worship (7–9)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

What “peoples” and “nations” had Yahweh enabled the Israelites to subdue (v. 3)?

The psalmist does not give specific details of the victory he is celebrating. This might be a general song of praise to Yahweh, in which case verse 3 might be translated, “He subdues peoples under us and nations under our feet.” However, interpreters have suggested one likely historical occasion for the composition of this psalm. It is generally agreed that the Korahites wrote their psalms in the later years of the kingdom of Judah. During the reign of Jehoshaphat, as 2 Chronicles 20:1–30 relates, a huge army of Moabite, Ammonite, and Meunite soldiers attacked Judah. The Judeans felt unable to defeat this army, but people from all over Judah gathered at the temple and Jehoshaphat prayed for Yahweh’s help. He appealed to him on the grounds that he had promised to give the land of Israel to the descendants of Abraham. Yahweh made the invading soldiers from the different countries fight against each other, so the enemy army destroyed itself. As a result, the people of the surrounding kingdoms came to fear and respect Yahweh greatly. The psalmist may be referring to this in verse 9 when he describes people from all nations worshiping “the God of Abraham.”

Translation Issues in This Psalm

The order of reasons and results

As the introduction to the book of Psalms discusses, the typical pattern of a psalm of praise is to issue a call to worship and then give a reason to worship. A psalm of praise may do this more than once. (This psalm does it twice.) It would be helpful to follow this pattern to show your readers how these psalms work. However, if, as a rule, your language would not give a reason after a result, you could create verse bridges for verses 1 and 2 and verses 6 and 7 in order to put the reasons before the results.

In the ULT, which follows the Hebrew order, verses 1 and 2 read this way:

Clap a palm, all peoples!

Shout to God with a voice of rejoicing.

For Yahweh, the Most High, is to be feared,

the great king over all of the earth.

In your translation, you might present them as verse 1–2 this way:

Since Yahweh, the Most High,

the great king over all of the earth, is to be feared,

Clap a palm, all peoples!

Shout to God with a voice of rejoicing.

In the ULT, verses 6 and 7 read this way:

Sing praise {to} God, sing praise!

Sing praise {to} our King, sing praise!

For God {is} the king of all of the earth.

Sing praise {with} a maskil.

In your translation, you might present them as verse 6–7 this way:

Since God is the king of all of the earth,

Sing praise to God, sing praise!

Sing praise to our king, sing praise!

Sing praise with a maskil.

Psalms 47:1

ULT	UST
Clap a palm, all peoples! Shout to God with a voice of rejoicing.	People all over the world, clap your hands! Shout joyfully to praise God!

ULT Clap a palm
UST clap your hands
(תִּקְעוּ־כָ֫ף)

Since people strike their palms together in order to applaud, it may be more natural in your language to use a plural term here. Alternate translation, as in the UST: [Clap your hands]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

ULT Shout to God with a voice of rejoicing
UST Shout joyfully to praise God
(הָרִ֣יעוּ לֵאלֹהִ֑ים בְּקוֹל֥ רִנָּֽה)

It might seem that to say both Shout and voice would be to express extra information that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, you can use just one of these terms in your translation. Alternate translation: [Celebrate by shouting to God] or [Lift your voice to God in rejoicing]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Shout	Shout
to God	God
rejoicing	joyfully to praise

Psalms 47:2

ULT	UST
For Yahweh, the Most High, is to be feared, the great king over all of the earth.	Everyone should revere Yahweh, who is much greater than any other spirit being. He rules powerfully over the whole world!

ULT For Yahweh, the Most High, is to be feared, the great king over all of the earth
UST Everyone should revere Yahweh, who is much greater than any other spirit being. He rules powerfully over the whole world (כִּֽי־יְהוָ֣ה עֶלְי֣וֹן נוֹרָ֑א מֶ֥לֶךְ גָּד֝וֹל עַל־כָּל־הָאָֽרֶץ)

This verse gives the reason for the result that the previous verse describes. See the discussion in the introduction to this psalm of how you might order the reason and result here and in verses 6 and 7.

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Yahweh, the Most High, is to be feared, the great king over all of the earth
UST Everyone & revere Yahweh, who is much greater than any other spirit being. He rules powerfully over the whole world
(יְהוָ֣ה עֶלְי֣וֹן נוֹרָ֑א מֶ֥לֶךְ גָּד֝וֹל עַל־כָּל־הָאָֽרֶץ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put the information that Yahweh is the great king over all of the earth with the information that he is the Most High. Alternate translation: [Yahweh, the Most High, the great king over all of the earth, is to be feared]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT Yahweh, the Most High, is to be feared
UST Everyone & revere Yahweh, who is much greater than any other spirit being (יְהוָ֣ה עֶלְי֣וֹן נוֹרָ֑א)

The expression is to be feared is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [People should fear Yahweh, the Most High]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
the Most High	who is much greater than any other spirit being is to be feared	Everyone & revere
the & king	He rules

Psalms 47:3

ULT	UST
He subdues peoples under us and nations under our feet.	He enables us to conquer people groups that oppose us.

ULT He subdues peoples under us and nations under our feet
UST He enables us to conquer people groups that oppose us
(יַדְבֵּר עַמִּים תַּחְתֵּינוּ וּלְאֻמִּים תַּחַת רַגְלֵינוּ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. It may be clearer in your language to connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Another approach would be to combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and do that here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [He has subdued peoples under us, yes, he has subdued nations under our feet] or [He has subdued many nations under our feet]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT He subdues peoples under us and nations under our feet
UST He enables us to conquer people groups that oppose us
(יַדְבֵּר עַמִּים תַּחְתֵּינוּ וּלְאֻמִּים תַּחַת רַגְלֵינוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if Yahweh actually put peoples and nations under the feet of the Israelites. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He has enabled us to defeat peoples, yes, he has enabled us to defeat nations] or [He has enabled us to defeat many nations]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and nations	people groups that oppose us

Psalms 47:4

ULT	UST
He chose our inheritance for us, the pride of Jacob, whom he loved. Selah	He loved our ancestor Jacob, and so he chose this land to be our possession. We are proud of the land he gave us. Selah

ULT our inheritance for us
UST this land to be our possession
(לָ֭נוּ אֶת־נַחֲלָתֵ֑נוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if the land of Canaan were something that the Israelites had inherited as a lasting possession. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the land that would be our lasting possession]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the pride of Jacob, whom he loved
UST He loved our ancestor Jacob, and so & We are proud of the land he gave us
(אֶת גְּא֣וֹן יַ֭עֲקֹב אֲשֶׁר־אָהֵ֑ב)

The psalmist is using Jacob to represent his descendants. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the pride of the descendants of Jacob, whom he loved]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the pride of Jacob, whom he loved
UST He loved our ancestor Jacob, and so & We are proud of the land he gave us
(אֶת גְּא֣וֹן יַ֭עֲקֹב אֲשֶׁר־אָהֵ֑ב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of pride, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [of which the descendants of Jacob, whom he loved, are proud]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶֽלָה)

See how your translation team decided at 3:2 to represent the term Selah.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
our inheritance	this land to be & possession
the pride of	We are proud of the land he gave us
Jacob	our ancestor Jacob
he loved	He loved
Selah	Selah

Psalms 47:5

ULT	UST
God has gone up with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a shofar.	People have acclaimed Yahweh their God as their king by shouting and blowing ram's horns.

ULT God has gone up with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a shofar
UST People have acclaimed Yahweh their God as their king by shouting and blowing ram's horns
(עָלָה אֱלֹהִים בִּתְרוּעָה יְהוָה בְּקוֹל שׁוֹפָר)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [Yahweh our God has gone up with a shout and the sound of a shofar]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT God has gone up with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a shofar
UST People have acclaimed Yahweh their God as their king by shouting and blowing ram's horns
(עָלָה אֱלֹהִים בִּתְרוּעָה יְהוָה בְּקוֹל שׁוֹפָר)

The psalmist is using the expression gone up to mean that God has ascended onto his throne as king. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God has ascended his throne with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a shofar] or [Yahweh our God has ascended his throne with a shout and the sound of a shofar]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT God has gone up with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a shofar
UST People have acclaimed Yahweh their God as their king by shouting and blowing ram's horns
(עָלָה אֱלֹהִים בִּתְרוּעָה יְהוָה בְּקוֹל שׁוֹפָר)

The psalmist is using God going up onto his throne to represent him assuming the role of king. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [God has become king with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a shofar] or [Yahweh our God has become king with a shout and the sound of a shofar]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT God has gone up with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a shofar

UST People have acclaimed Yahweh their God as their king by shouting and blowing ram’s horns

(עָלָה אֱלֹהִים בִּתְרוּעָה יְהוָה בְּקוֹל שׁוֹפָר)

As passages such as 2 Samuel 15:10 and 2 Kings 9:13 illustrate, shouting that a person was the king and blowing a shofar were symbolic actions by which people acclaimed that person as their new king. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of these actions in the text of your translation or in a footnote. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	their God
with a shout	by shouting
Yahweh	Yahweh
a shofar	ram’s horns

Psalms 47:6

ULT	UST
Sing praise {to} God, sing praise! Sing praise {to} our king, sing praise!	Sing songs to praise God our King! Yes, sing songs to praise him!

ULT Sing praise {to} God, sing praise! Sing praise {to} our king, sing praise

UST Sing songs to praise God our King! Yes, sing songs to praise him

(זַמְּרוּ אֱלֹהִים זַמֵּרוּ זַמְּרוּ לְמַלְכֵּנוּ זַמֵּרוּ)

In each part of this verse, the psalmist is repeating the expression “sing praise” in order to intensify his expression of the idea that it conveys. If your language can repeat expressions for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [Sing praise to God enthusiastically! Yes, sing praise to our king enthusiastically!]

Support Reference: Reduplication

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Sing praise	Sing songs to praise
to} God	God & him
to} our king	our King

Psalms 47:7

ULT	UST
For God {is} the king of all of the earth. Sing praise {with} a maskil.	Do that because God rules the whole world. Sing a special song about that.

ULT with} a maskil
UST a special song
(מַשְׂכִּיל)

The psalmist is using a musical term here, maskil, that also occurs in the superscriptions to several psalms. Biblical scholars have different understandings of what this term means. (See the discussion in the introduction to the book of Psalms.) Since the meaning is not certain, in your translation, you may wish to represent this word in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language, as the ULT does. You could also use a general expression, as the UST does.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
is} the king of	rules
Sing praise	Sing & about that

Psalms 47:8

ULT	UST
God reigns over the nations; God sits on the throne of his holiness.	God rules over all people groups. He rules them completely fairly, not the way many human kings do.

ULT God sits on the throne of his holiness
UST He rules them completely fairly, not the way many human kings do
(אֱלֹהִים יָשַׁב | עַל־כִּסֵּא קָדְשׁוֹ)

Since the psalmist has already used the name God earlier in this sentence, it may be more natural in your language to use a pronoun here. (However, the repetition of the name has a poetic effect, so you may wish to repeat the name in your own translation.) Alternate translation: [he sits on the throne of his holiness]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT God sits on the throne of his holiness
UST He rules them completely fairly, not the way many human kings do
(אֱלֹהִים יָשַׁב | עַל־כִּסֵּא קָדְשׁוֹ)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe a throne, representing God's reign, that is characterized by holiness. The idea is that God's reign is not common, that is, it is not like the usual reign of kings on earth, who are not always just in their dealings with their people. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God reigns with perfect justice] or [he reigns with perfect justice]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
reigns	rules
the nations	all people groups
the throne of	rules them
his holiness	completely fairly, not the way many human kings do

Psalms 47:9

ULT	UST
The nobles of the peoples will gather themselves {as} the people of the God of Abraham, for {to} God are the shields of the earth. He is greatly exalted!	The rulers of the people groups will assemble to join those who worship the same God whom Abraham worshiped. They will do that because the leaders of the world must obey God. He is the supreme ruler of the world.

ULT for
UST They will do that because
(כִּ֤י)

The word translated as for indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before as modeled in the UST.

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT to} God are the shields of the earth
UST the leaders of the world must obey God
(לָאלֹהִ֥ים מָגִנֵּי־אֶ֑רֶץ)

Here, shields represents “rulers,” since rulers are protectors. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the rulers of the earth belong to God] or [God reigns over the rulers of the earth]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT He is greatly exalted
UST He is the supreme ruler of the world
(מְאֹ֣ד נַעֲלָֽה)

The expression is greatly exalted is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. This could mean: (1) that God has exalted himself. Alternate translation: [He has exalted himself greatly] or (2) that people should or do exalt God. Alternate translation: [People should exalt him greatly] or [People exalt him greatly]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The nobles of	The rulers of will gather themselves	will assemble
the God of	the same God whom & worshiped
Abraham	Abraham
to} God	must obey God
are the shields of	the leaders of
the earth	the world
He is & exalted	He is the & ruler of the world

Psalms 47:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the sons of Korah
> UST One of the Korahites wrote
> (לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח)

See how you translated the expression “the sons of Korah” in the superscription to Psalm 42. Alternate translation: [of the descendants of Korah] or [of the Korahites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm of	this psalm
Korah	One of the Korahites wrote

Psalms 48

Psalms 48 Introduction

Psalm 48 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 48 is a psalm of praise. It is a specific type of praise psalm, a “song of Zion.” See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Call to worship (1–3)
2. Reason to worship (4–10)
3. Call to worship (11–13)
4. Reason to worship (14)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Who were the “kings” who “advanced” against Jerusalem?

The psalmist says in verse 4 that “kings assembled themselves” and “advanced together” to attack Jerusalem. He does not give enough information to identify these kings definitively. However, it is possible to understand Psalms 44, 46, and 48 as reflecting a sequence of compositions related to the Assyrian siege of Jerusalem in 701 B.C.

Psalm 44 is a psalm of supplication that complains to Yahweh that “you do not go out with our armies” even though “we have not forgotten you and we have not dealt falsely with your covenant.” This is an urgent cry for help in a desperate and dangerous situation.

Psalm 46 is psalm of trust. Even though there is warfare in the background (“Nations may roar; kingdoms may shake”), and this warfare seems to be ongoing, the psalmist expresses confident trust that Yahweh will help Jerusalem in time to save the city.

Psalm 48 is a psalm of praise. It celebrates Jerusalem as the city that God has chosen as the place for people to worship him. In this psalm, the psalmist says in verse 8 that just as he and his contemporaries had heard from their ancestors about Yahweh’s deliverance, now they have seen it for themselves. This could be understood as an allusion back to Psalm

44:1, where the psalmist said, “God, we have heard with our ears, our fathers have recounted to us, the work you worked in their days.”

While it is not necessarily the case that all three of these psalms relate to the same historical occasion, together they do represent the sequence of crying desperately to God for help, reaching a place of confident trust in God even before he acts, and celebrating God’s deliverance after he has brought it about. This rhythm characterizes the book of Psalms as a whole. See how you can translate these three psalms, which at least come from the same group of worship leaders and the same period in the history of the kingdom of Judah, in such a way as to highlight this rhythm.

Psalms 48:1

ULT	UST
Yahweh is great, and he is being praised greatly in the city of our God, {on} the mountain of his holiness.	Yahweh is great, and he deserves to have people praise him greatly in {Jerusalem}, the city that belongs to him. That city is high up on the mountain that he chose as the place where people would worship him.

ULT and he is being praised
UST and he deserves to have people praise him
(וּמְהֻלָּ֗ל)

The expression is being praised is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and people are praising him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and he is being praised
UST and he deserves to have people praise him
(וּמְהֻלָּ֗ל)

In this context, the verbal form has the implied sense that Yahweh “is to be praised” or “ought to be praised.” Your language may have a verbal form that indicates that explicitly. If so, it would be appropriate to use it here in your translation. If not, you may be able to indicate this sense in another way. Alternate translation: [and he is worthy to be praised]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT in the city of our God
UST in {Jerusalem}, the city that belongs to him
(בְּעִ֣יר אֱלֹהֵ֑ינוּ)

Since the psalmist has used the name Yahweh earlier in this sentence, and since Yahweh is the same person as our God, it may be more natural in your language to use a pronoun here. Alternate translation: [in his city]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT on} the mountain of his holiness
> UST That city is high up on the mountain that he chose as the place where people would worship him
> (הַר־קָדְשׁוֹ)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe a mountain, Mount Zion, that is characterized by holiness. The idea is that Yahweh set apart this mountain as a place where he would be present in a special way and where people would worship him. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [on the mountain that he set apart for himself] or [on the mountain that he made a sacred place]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
and he is being praised	and he deserves to have people praise him
our God	that belongs to him
his holiness	that he chose as the place where people would worship him

Psalms 48:2

ULT	UST
Beautiful of elevation, the joy of all of the earth, {is} Mount Zion {in} the recesses of the north, the city of the great king.	The height of Mount Zion is magnificent. People from all over the world are happy when they see it. The city {of Jerusalem,} where Yahweh rules as the great king, is on the northern ridge of that mountain.

ULT the joy of all of the earth
UST People from all over the world are happy when they see it
(מְשׂוֹשׂ כָּל־הָאָרֶץ)

Here the earth represents the people of the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the joy of all of the people of the earth]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the joy of all of the earth
UST People from all over the world are happy when they see it
(מְשׂוֹשׂ כָּל־הָאָרֶץ)

The psalmist is saying all as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [the joy of people from throughout the earth]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT the joy of all of the earth
UST People from all over the world are happy when they see it
(מְשׂוֹשׂ כָּל־הָאָרֶץ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [something that makes people from throughout the earth rejoice]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in} the recesses of the north, the city of the great king
UST The city {of Jerusalem,} where Yahweh rules as the great king, is on the northern ridge of (יַרְכְּתֵי צָפוֹן קִרְיַת מֶלֶךְ רָב)

This could mean: (1) that the psalmist is saying where on Mount Zion the city of Jerusalem, and especially the temple and the royal palace, are located. Alternate translation: [on its northern slope, where the city of the great king is] or (2) that the psalmist is using the phrase the recesses of the north in the same way as in Isaiah 14:13 to mean the distant north, where pagan nations believe the council of the gods met. The psalmist would be saying that Yahweh is the supreme God who actually rules the council of supernatural beings (as in 89:7) from his temple in Jerusalem. Alternate translation: [, the site of Jerusalem, the place from which Yahweh, the great king, rules as the supreme God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the joy of	are happy when they see it is} Mount Zion	Mount Zion & that mountain
the & king	as the & king

Psalms 48:3

ULT	UST
God {is} in her citadels. He is known as a stronghold.	God is present {as a defender} in the city's fortifications. He has shown that he protects the people of the city.

ULT He is known as a stronghold
UST He has shown that he protects the people of the city
(נוֹדַע לְמִשְׂגָּב)

The expression is known is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [People know him as a stronghold] or [He has made himself known as a stronghold]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT as a stronghold
UST that he protects the people of the city
(לְמִשְׂגָּב)

See how you translated the term "stronghold" in 46:7 and 46:11. Alternate translation: [as a protector]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
is} in her citadels	is present {as a defender} in the city's fortifications
He is known	He has shown as a stronghold	that he protects the people of the city

Psalms 48:4

ULT	UST
For behold, kings assembled themselves, they advanced together.	Listen to why Yahweh deserves our praise. Kings joined together and led their armies to attack our city.

ULT For
UST why Yahweh deserves our praise
(כִּי)

As is characteristic in a psalm of praise, the word For introduces the reason why people should praise Yahweh as the psalmist has been saying they should. Alternate translation: [We should praise Yahweh because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT behold
UST Listen to
(הִנֵּה)

The psalmist is using the term behold to focus his listeners' attention on what he is about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kings	Kings
assembled themselves	joined

Psalms 48:5

ULT	UST
They, they saw, then they marveled. They were terrified, they hastened themselves away.	However, when they saw it, its secure position and defenses amazed them. They became so frightened that they ran away.

ULT They, they saw, then they marveled
UST However, when they saw it, its secure position and defenses amazed them
(הֵמָּה רָאוּ כֵּן תָּמָהוּ)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun They separately, even though the verb translated as they saw already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that this action took place at the same time as when the kings marveled. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [As soon as they saw it, they marveled]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They were terrified
UST They became so frightened
(נִבְהֲלוּ)

The expression were terrified is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [This terrified them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT they hastened themselves away
UST that they ran away
(נֶחְפָּזוּ)

In this clause, the psalmist is describing the result of the previous clause. It may be helpful to add a connector in your language that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [so they hastened themselves away]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Psalms 48:6

ULT	UST
Trembling seized them there, pain like childbearing.	Their bodies shook because they were so afraid. They screamed as if they were women who were giving birth.

ULT Trembling seized them there
UST Their bodies shook because they were so afraid
(רְעָדָה אֲחָזָתַם שָׁם)

The psalmist is speaking of Trembling as if it were a living thing that could have seized the enemy kings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [There they trembled uncontrollably]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT pain like childbearing
UST They screamed as if they were women who were giving birth
(חִיל כַּיּוֹלֵדָה)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [pain seized them there, like that of childbearing]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT pain like childbearing
UST They screamed as if they were women who were giving birth
(חִיל כַּיּוֹלֵדָה)

The point of this comparison is not that these kings felt physical pain but that they cried out in anguish and distress as a woman would who was feeling the actual pain of childbearing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [they cried out uncontrollably in anguish and distress]

Support Reference: Simile

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Trembling	Their bodies shook
seized them	Their bodies shook

Psalms 48:7

ULT	UST
With the wind of the east, you shatter ships of Tarshish.	Just as you, Yahweh, can sent a strong east wind that wrecks even the sturdiest ships at sea{, so you destroyed the armies that were attacking us}.

ULT you shatter
UST that wrecks & so you destroyed
(תְּשַׁבֵּר)

The word you is singular here and through verse 11 because the psalmist is directly addressing Yahweh. So use the singular form in your translation if your language marks that distinction. Alternate translation: [you, Yahweh, shatter]

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT ships of Tarshish
UST even the sturdiest ships at sea & the armies that were attacking us
(אֳנִיּוֹת תַּרְשִׁישׁ)

The psalmist is using ships of Tarshish as a common expression of his culture to mean "ocean-going ships" or "large, sturdy ships." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. If you have already translated the book of 1 Kings, see how you translated the similar expression in 1 Kings 10:22. Alternate translation: [ocean-going ships] or [large, sturdy ships]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Tarshish	even the sturdiest & at sea & that were attacking us

Psalms 48:8

ULT	UST
As we have heard, so we have seen in the city of Yahweh of Armies, in the city of our God. God will establish it to forever. Selah	Jerusalem belongs to Yahweh, the commander of the heavenly armies, who is our God. We had heard {from our ancestors} that God would always keep the city secure. Now we who live in the city have seen for ourselves that this is true. Selah

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

See how your translation team decided at 3:2 to represent the term Selah.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh of Armies	Yahweh, the commander of the heavenly armies
our God	who is our God
God	God
forever	always
Selah	Selah

Psalms 48:9

ULT	UST
We have compared your covenant faithfulness, God, in the midst of your temple.	We went into your temple, God, and recognized that you faithfully kept your covenant when you protected us. We acknowledged that you had been just as faithful to us as you were to our ancestors.

ULT We have compared your covenant faithfulness
UST and recognized that you faithfully kept your covenant when you protected us. We acknowledged that you had been just as faithful to us as you were to our ancestors
(דִּמִּינוּ & חַסְדֶּךָ)

The psalmist means that he and his fellow Judeans have compared the covenant faithfulness that God showed on this occasion with the past covenant faithfulness that their ancestors related to them, as described in the previous verse. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [We have compared your present covenant faithfulness with your past covenant faithfulness]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT We have compared your covenant faithfulness
UST and recognized that you faithfully kept your covenant when you protected us. We acknowledged that you had been just as faithful to us as you were to our ancestors
(דִּמִּינוּ & חַסְדֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [We have compared how faithful you were to your covenant on this occasion with how faithful you were to your covenant in the past]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT We have compared
UST and recognized that & We acknowledged that you had been just as faithful to us as you were to our ancestors
(דִּמִּינוּ)

By We, The psalmist means himself and his fellow Judeans but not Yahweh, to whom he is speaking. So use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	you faithfully kept your covenant when you protected us
God	God
your temple	your temple

Psalms 48:10

ULT	UST
As {is} your name, God, so {is} your praise to the ends of the earth. Your right hand is full {of} righteousness.	People throughout the world praise you as you deserve. You use your power to make sure that people treat each other right.

ULT As {is} your name, God, so {is} your praise to the ends of the earth
UST People throughout the world praise you as you deserve
(כְּשִׁמְךָ אֱלֹהִים כֵּן תְּהִלָּתְךָ עַל־קַצְוֵי־אֶרֶץ)

In this context, God's name represents his reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [People to the ends of the earth praise you, God, as your reputation deserves]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Your right hand is full {of} righteousness
UST You use your power to make sure that people treat each other right
(צֶדֶק מָלְאָה יְמִינֶךָ)

The psalmist is speaking of righteousness as if it were an object with which God's right hand could be full. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Your right hand is thoroughly characterized by righteousness]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Your right hand is full {of} righteousness
UST You use your power to make sure that people treat each other right
(צֶדֶק מָלְאָה יְמִינֶךָ)

Here, God's hand represents his powerful activity. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You powerfully bring about righteousness]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Your right hand is full {of} righteousness
UST You use your power to make sure that people treat each other right
(צֶדֶק מָלְאָה יְמִינֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [You powerfully do what is right]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	you
is} your praise	praise you
the earth	the world
of} righteousness	to make sure that people treat each other right

Psalms 48:11

ULT	UST
Let Mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad, because of your judgments.	The people who live in Jerusalem and in other parts of the kingdom of Judah should celebrate the way you judge people fairly.

ULT Let Mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad UST The people who live in Jerusalem and in other parts of the kingdom of Judah should celebrate
(יִשְׂמַח | הַר־צִיּוֹן תָּגֵלְנָה בְּנוֹת יְהוּדָה)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and do that here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Let Mount Zion and the daughters of Judah rejoice greatly] or [Let Mount Zion rejoice; yes, let the daughters of Judah be glad]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Let Mount Zion rejoice
UST The people who live in Jerusalem & should celebrate
(יִשְׂמַח | הַר־צִיּוֹן)

Here, Mount Zion represents the people who live on Mount Zion, that is, the people of the city of Jerusalem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Let the people of Jerusalem rejoice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT let the daughters of Judah be glad
UST and in other parts of the kingdom of Judah should celebrate (תָּגֵלְנָה בְּנוֹת יְהוּדָה)

This could mean: (1) that the psalmist is speaking of the kingdom of Judah were a mother and of its people as if they were her daughters. Alternate translation: [let the people of Judah be glad] or (2) that the psalmist is speaking specifically of the women of the kingdom of Judah and encouraging them to have a victory celebration, as women in this culture did. Alternate translation: [let the women of Judah hold a victory celebration]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Mount Zion	The people who live in Jerusalem
Let & rejoice	should celebrate
Judah	the kingdom of Judah
let & be glad	should celebrate your judgments	you judge people fairly

Psalms 48:12

ULT	UST
Circle Zion and go around her. Count her towers,	You Judeans should walk around the walls of the city of Jerusalem. See how many defensive towers it has!

ULT Circle Zion and go around her. Count
UST You Judeans should walk around the walls of the city of Jerusalem. See how many (סֹבּוּ צִיּוֹן וְהַקִּיפֻוהָ סִפְרוּ)

The instances of the implied “you” in the imperatives Circle, go around, and Count are plural because the psalmist is addressing many people. In the next verse, the terms “your” and “you” and the instances of the implied “you” in the imperatives are plural for the same reason. So use plural forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT Circle Zion and go around her
UST You Judeans should walk around the walls of the city of Jerusalem
(סֹבּוּ צִיּוֹן וְהַקִּיפֻוהָ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [Go all the way around Zion]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Circle Zion
UST You Judeans should walk around the walls of the city of Jerusalem
(סֹבּוּ צִיּוֹן)

Since a mountain does not have towers, here Zion represents the city of Jerusalem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Circle the city on Mount Zion] or [Circle Jerusalem]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Zion	the walls of the city of Jerusalem her towers	defensive towers it has

Psalms 48:13

ULT	UST
put your heart to her rampart, consider her citadels, so that you may recount to a later generation.	You should observe the strength of the walls and the fortifications so that you can tell your descendants about them.

ULT put your heart to her rampart
UST You should observe the strength of the walls
(שִׂ֣ימוּ לִבְּכֶ֣ם ׀ לְחֵילָ֗הּ)

The psalmist is using put your heart to as a common expression of his culture to mean “carefully consider.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [keep in mind her rampart] or [carefully consider her rampart]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT to her rampart
UST the strength of the walls
(לְחֵילָ֗הּ)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific rampart. He means all the ramparts of the walls of Jerusalem. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [her ramparts]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
her citadels	and the fortifications
you may recount	you can tell & about them to a & generation	your descendants

Psalms 48:14

ULT	UST
For this God {is} our God forever and ever. He, he will guide us until death.	The people of Judah and Jerusalem should praise Yahweh because he is our God and he will always be our God. He will lead us for as long as we live.

ULT For this God {is} our God
UST The people of Judah and Jerusalem should praise Yahweh because he is our God & our God
(כִּי זֶה ׀ אֱלֹהִים אֱלֹהֵינוּ)

As in verse 4, here the word For introduces the reason why people should praise Yahweh. It is not introducing the reason why people should walk around the walls of Jerusalem. Alternate translation: [We should praise this God because he is our God]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT He, he will guide us
UST He will lead us for as long as we live
(הֽוּא יְנַהֲגֵנוּ עַל)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun He separately, even though the verb translated as he will guide us already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize the personal role of Yahweh in guiding the Judeans. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [He is the one who will guide us]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	is our God
is} our God	our God
forever	and he will always be

Psalms 48:front

> ULT the sons of Korah
> UST One of the Korahites wrote
> (לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח)

See how you translated the expression “the sons of Korah” in the superscription to Psalm 42. Alternate translation: [of the descendants of Korah] or [of the Korahites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm of	this psalm
Korah	One of the Korahites wrote

Psalms 49

Psalms 49 Introduction

Psalm 49 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 49 is a wisdom psalm that describes the difference between how righteous people and wicked people live and the difference between what happens to them. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Introduction: call to listen (1–4)
2. Reminder that all people die, just as animals do (5–13; refrain, 12)
3. The psalmist’s confident assertion that God will bring him out of Sheol (14–15)
4. Reassertion that all people die, just as animals do (16–19; refrain, 20)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Life after death

This psalm teaches that having wealth and power cannot keep anyone from dying. All people, whether they are rich or poor, will die. But in verses 14–15, the psalmist expresses his confident expectation that God will not leave him in the place where people go when they die. Instead, God will take him out of there and bring him to himself. While the belief in life after death and the resurrection from the dead is expressed more clearly in the New Testament, that belief is also expressed in the Old Testament in places such as this. Translators should translate this psalm, especially verses 14 and 15, in such a way that it is clear that this Old Testament writer had this expectation.

Psalms 49:1

ULT	UST
Hear this, all peoples! Listen, all dwellers of the world,	Listen to me, members of people groups from throughout the world,

ULT Hear this, all peoples! Listen, all dwellers of the world
UST Listen to me, members of people groups from throughout the world
(שִׁמְעוּ־זֹאת כָּל־הָעַמִּים הַאֲזִינוּ כָּל־יֹשְׁבֵי חָלֶד)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and do that here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Listen carefully to me, all of you people who live in the world] or [Hear this, all peoples! Yes, listen, everyone who lives in the world]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Hear & Listen
UST Listen
(שִׁמְעוּ & הַאֲזִינוּ)

The implied “you” in these imperatives is plural because the psalmist is addressing many people. So use plural forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the world	the world

Psalms 49:2

ULT	UST
both sons of a human and sons of a man, the rich and the poor together.	whether or not you are famous and whether or not you are rich!

ULT both sons of a human and sons of a man
UST whether or not you are famous (גַּם־בְּנֵי אָדָם גַּם־בְּנֵי־אִישׁ)

The psalmist is using sons of a human as a common expression of his culture to mean “ordinary people,” and he is using sons of a man as a common expression of his culture to mean “distinguished people.” If these phrases do not have those meanings in your language, you could use comparable expressions from your language that do have those meanings, or you could state the meanings plainly. Alternate translation: [both the man on the street and the man in the corner office] or [both ordinary people and distinguished people]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the rich and the poor
UST and whether or not you are rich
(עָשִׁיר וְאֶבְיוֹן)

The psalmist is using the adjectives rich and poor as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate these adjective with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [rich people and poor people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

Psalms 49:3

ULT	UST
My mouth will speak wisdom, and the meditation of my heart, understanding.	I have thought carefully about what I am going to say, so it will be wise, and it will help you understand things better.

ULT My mouth will speak wisdom, and the meditation of my heart, understanding
UST I have thought carefully about what I am going to say, so it will be wise, and it will help you understand things better
(פִּי יְדַבֵּר חָכְמוֹת וְהֶגְיוֹת לִבִּי תְבוּנוֹת)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [My mouth will speak wisdom, and the meditation of my heart will speak understanding]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT My mouth will speak wisdom, and the meditation of my heart, understanding
UST I have thought carefully about what I am going to say, so it will be wise, and it will help you understand things better
(פִּי יְדַבֵּר חָכְמוֹת וְהֶגְיוֹת לִבִּי תְבוּנוֹת)

The psalmist is using individual parts of a himself, his mouth and the meditation of his heart, to mean all of him in the act of speaking wisdom and understanding. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [With my mouth I will speak wisdom, and from the meditation of my heart I will speak understanding]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT and the meditation of my heart, understanding
UST I have thought carefully about & and it will help you understand things better
(וְהֶגְיוֹת לִבִּי תְבוּנוֹת)

Here the heart represents a person's thoughts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and from the meditation of my thoughts I will speak understanding]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and the meditation of my heart, understanding
> UST I have thought carefully about & and it will help you understand things better
> (וְהֶגְיוֹת לִבִּי תְבוּנוֹת)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of meditation and understanding, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [and from what I have meditated on in my thoughts, I will say things that will help you understand]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wisdom	so it will be wise
and the meditation of	have thought carefully about understanding	and it will help you understand things better

Psalms 49:4

ULT	UST
I will incline my ear to a proverb; I will open my enigma with a harp.	There is a popular saying about something that people find difficult to understand. I have considered it, and I will explain it as I {sing and} play my harp.

ULT I will incline my ear to a proverb
UST There is a popular saying & I have considered it
(אַטֶּה לְמָשָׁל אָזְנִי)

The psalmist is speaking as if he is going to physically incline his ear, that is, lean over the way someone would do to listen to someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will listen carefully to a proverb]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will incline my ear to a proverb
UST There is a popular saying & I have considered it
(אַטֶּה לְמָשָׁל אָזְנִי)

The psalmist is speaking of this proverb as if it were a living thing that could speak to him. While he actually could listen to this proverb in the sense of hearing other people quote it, he means that he will carefully consider its meaning. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [I will see what a proverb has to say to me] or [I will carefully consider the meaning of a proverb]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT I will incline my ear to a proverb
UST There is a popular saying & I have considered it
(אַטֶּה לְמָשָׁל אָזְנִי)

While the term that the ULT translates as proverb generally means a short, popular saying that expresses some wisdom or truth, the specific meaning in this context is a “comparison,” which many proverbs draw. The psalmist is probably referring to the comparison in the refrain in verses 12 and 20 of this psalm, that people are like beasts. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I will carefully consider the meaning of a comparison]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT I will open my enigma with a harp
> UST about something that people find difficult to understand & and I will explain it as I {sing and} play my harp
> (אֶפְתְּחָ֣ה בְכִנּ֣וֹר חִידָתִ֑י)

The psalmist is speaking as if his enigma (the difficult and puzzling question he is trying to solve) were a closed container that he is going to use a harp to open. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will explain my enigma as I sing and accompany myself with a harp]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to a proverb	There is a popular saying with a harp	as I {sing and} play my harp

Psalms 49:5

ULT	UST
Why should I fear in the days of evil, {when} the iniquity of my heels surrounds me,	I do not have to be afraid during difficult times when wicked people around me try to harm me.

ULT in the days of evil
UST during difficult times
(בְּיֵמֵי רָֽע)

The psalmist is using the term days to mean “time,” since time consists of days. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [during evil times] or [during troubled times]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT when} the iniquity of my heels surrounds me
UST when wicked people around me try to harm me
(עֲוֹן עֲקֵבַי יְסוֹבְבֵֽנִי)

As the next verse indicates, the psalmist is using his heels to represent people who would trip him up at his heels, that is, make him fall down. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [when the iniquity of those who would trip me up surrounds me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT when} the iniquity of my heels surrounds me
UST when wicked people around me try to harm me
(עֲוֹן עֲקֵבַי יְסוֹבְבֵֽנִי)

The psalmist is speaking as if people wanted to trip him physically and make him fall down. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [when the iniquity of those who want to cause my downfall surrounds me] or [when the iniquity of those who want to ruin me surrounds me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT when} the iniquity of my heels surrounds me
UST when wicked people around me try to harm me
(עֲוֹן עֲקֵבַי יְסוֹבְבֵֽנִי)

The psalmist is speaking of the iniquity of certain people as if it were a living thing that could surround him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when iniquitous people who want to ruin me surround me]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
should I fear	I & be afraid
in the days of	during & times
evil	difficult
the iniquity of	when wicked people

Psalms 49:5-6

ULT Why should I fear in the days of evil, {when} the iniquity of my heels surrounds me,the ones trusting in their wealth, and in the abundance of their treasure they boast

UST I do not have to be afraid during difficult times when wicked people around me try to harm me.These wicked people believe that they will be able to use their money to overcome any difficulty. They boast about how rich they are

(לָמָּה אִירָא בִּימֵי רָע עֲוֹן עֲקֵבַי יְסוּבֵּנִי: הַבֹּטְחִים עַל־חֵילָם וּבְרֹב עָשְׁרָם יִתְהַלָּלוּ)

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine 49:5 and 49:6 into a verse bridge in order to keep together the entire question that the psalmist is asking in these verses. The psalmist is using the question form to make a confident affirmation. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I do not have to be afraid in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my heels surrounds me, the ones trusting in their wealth, and in the abundance of their treasure they boast!]

Support Reference: Verse Bridges

Psalms 49:6

ULT	UST
the ones trusting in their wealth, and in the abundance of their treasure they boast?	These wicked people believe that they will be able to use their money to overcome any difficulty. They boast about how rich they are.

ULT the ones trusting in their wealth, and in the abundance of their treasure they boast

UST These wicked people believe that they will be able to use their money to overcome any difficulty. They boast about how rich they are (הַבֹּטְחִים עַל־חֵילָם וּבְרֹב עָשְׁרָם יִתְהַלָּלוּ)

The psalmist is using two different verb forms in parallel statements. It may be more natural in your language to use the same verb form in both statements. Alternate translation: [the ones trusting in their wealth and boasting in the abundance of their treasure]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the ones trusting	These wicked people believe that they will be able to use & to overcome any difficulty
their wealth	their money
they boast	They boast

Psalms 49:7

ULT	UST
Redeeming, a man does not redeem a brother, he does not give his ransom to God.	No one can use his money to keep a person from dying. No, no one can pay God money so that another person will not die.

ULT Redeeming, a man does not redeem a brother, he does not give his ransom to God
UST No one can use his money to keep a person from dying. No, no one can pay God money so that another person will not die
(אָח֤ לֹא־פָדֹה֙ יִפְדֶּ֔ה אִ֖ישׁ לֹא־יִתֵּ֣ן לֵאלֹהִ֔ים כָּפְרֽוֹ)

The psalmist is repeating forms of the verb redeem in order to intensify his expression of the idea that it conveys. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [A man certainly does not redeem a brother, he does not give his ransom to God]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT Redeeming, a man does not redeem a brother, he does not give his ransom to God
UST No one can use his money to keep a person from dying. No, no one can pay God money so that another person will not die
(אָח֤ לֹא־פָדֹה֙ יִפְדֶּ֔ה אִ֖ישׁ לֹא־יִתֵּ֣ן לֵאלֹהִ֔ים כָּפְרֽוֹ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [A man certainly does not pay a ransom to God to redeem a brother]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT a brother
UST a person
(אָח֤)

The psalmist is speaking as if a fellow human being were actually another person's brother. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a fellow human]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Redeeming	one can use his money to keep & from dying
does & redeem	one can use his money to keep & from dying
his ransom	money so that another person will not die
to God	God

Psalms 49:8

ULT	UST
For the redemption of their life is costly, and it ceases forever,	No matter how much money a person has, it is never enough to keep someone else from dying

ULT their life
UST someone else
(נַפְשָׁם)

In this verse, the word life is singular in form, but it refers to the lives of all humans as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form of “life.” Alternate translation: [their lives]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT and it ceases forever
UST it is never enough
(וְחָדַל לְעוֹלָם)

The psalmist means that the attempt at the redemption of a life ceases in the sense that it does not succeed and must be abandoned. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and the attempt always fails]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the redemption of	to keep & from dying
forever	never

Psalms 49:8-9

> ULT For the redemption of their life is costly, and it ceases forever,that one should live on forever, {that} one should not see the pit
> UST No matter how much money a person has, it is never enough to keep someone else from dyingso that the person will live forever and never leave this world
> (וְיֵקַר פִּדְיוֹן נַפְשָׁם וְחָדַל לְעוֹלָם׃ וְיִחִי־עוֹד לָנֶצַח לֹא יִרְאֶה הַשַּׁחַת׃)

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine verses 8 and 9 into a verse bridge in order to put the information about what the redemption of their life means right after that phrase. Alternate translation: [For the redemption of their life, that one should live on forever, that one should not see the pit, is costly, and it ceases forever]

Support Reference: Verse Bridges

Psalms 49:9

ULT	UST
that one should live on forever, {that} one should not see the pit.	so that the person will live forever and never leave this world.

ULT that} one should not see the pit
UST and never leave this world
(לֹא יִרְאֶה הַשַּׁחַת)

In this context, the term see has the sense of “experience.” You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [that one should not experience the pit]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT that} one should not see the pit
UST and never leave this world
(לֹא יִרְאֶה הַשַּׁחַת)

The psalmist is using the expression the pit to refer to Sheol, the realm of the dead. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [that one should not experience the grave] or [that one should not go to the realm of the dead]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
forever	forever
the pit	and & leave this world

Psalms 49:10

ULT	UST
For one will see. The wise die, likewise the fool and the brute perish, and they leave their wealth to others.	Whether people are wise or foolish and brutish, they all die. Then other people inherit their money.

ULT For
UST they & die
(כִּי)

Here the word For introduces not a reason but an explanation. You may want to use a different connecting word to show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [After all,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT one will see
UST they & die
(יִרְאֶה)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [one will see the Pit]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT The wise
UST Whether people are wise
(חֲכָמִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective wise as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [Wise people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the fool and the brute
UST or foolish and brutish
(כְּסִיל וּבַעַר)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific fool or brute. He means such people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [fools and brutes] or [foolish people and brutish people]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wise	Whether people are wise
the fool	or foolish
perish	they & die
and they leave	Then & inherit
their wealth	their money

Psalms 49:11

ULT	UST
Inside of them, their houses {are} forever, their dwellings {are} to generation and generation. They call over lands by their names.	They imagine that the houses they live in will always exist. They call their properties by their own names {as if they would always have them}.

ULT Inside of them, their houses {are} forever
UST They imagine that the houses & will always exist
(קִרְבָּם בָּתֵּימוֹ ׀ לְעוֹלָם)

This phrase is a translation of the written Hebrew text. You may wish to follow an alternative reading from the ancient Greek translation. Alternate translation: [Their graves {are} their houses forever]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT Inside of them
UST They imagine that (קִרְבָּם)

Here, what is Inside people represents their thoughts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [In their thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT They call over lands by their names
UST They call their properties by their own names {as if they would always have them
(קָרְאוּ בִשְׁמוֹתָם עֲלֵי אֲדָמוֹת)

The psalmist is using a common expression of his culture to mean that the people he is describing give new names, their own names, to lands or properties. If this expression does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They give their names to lands] or [They name lands after themselves]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
their houses	the houses
are} forever	will always exist
their dwellings	they live in
are} to generation	will always exist
and generation	will always exist
They call	They call
lands	their properties

Psalms 49:12

ULT	UST
But a human does not abide in honor. He is likened to the beasts, they are destroyed.	Even if someone is great, he does not stay that way. He still dies, just as animals do.

ULT He is likened to the beasts, they are destroyed
UST He still dies, just as animals do
(נִמְשַׁל כַּבְּהֵמוֹת נִדְמוּ)

The expressions is likened and are destroyed are passive verbal forms. If your language would not use those forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [He is like the beasts, which perish]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in honor	is great
to the beasts	animals
they are destroyed	He still dies

Psalms 49:13

ULT	UST
This, their way, {is} folly to them, but after them, they delight in their mouths. Selah	Those who think and act as if they will never die are living in a foolish manner. Even so, some other people admire them and approve of what they say. Selah

ULT This, their way, {is} folly to them
UST Those who think and act as if they will never die are living in a foolish manner
(זֶה דַּרְכָּם כֵּסֶל לָמוֹ)

In this context, to them is a possessive form. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [This, their way, is their folly]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT This, their way, {is} folly to them
UST Those who think and act as if they will never die are living in a foolish manner
(זֶה דַּרְכָּם כֵּסֶל לָמוֹ)

The psalmist is speaking of how people live as if that were a way or path that they were walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [This, their manner of life, is their folly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT but after them, they delight
UST Even so, some other people admire them and approve (וְאַחֲרֵיהֶם & יִרְצוּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if those who admire them and want to be like these presumptuous rich people were walking after them on the same way or path. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [but their followers delight]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT in their mouths
> UST of what they say
> (בְּפִיהֶם)

The psalmist is using the mouths of these presumptuous rich people to represent what they say by using their mouths. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in their sayings]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Selah
> UST Selah
> (סֶלָה)

To translate the term Selah here and in verse 15, see how your translation team decided to represent that term in 3:2.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is} folly	foolish
they delight	and approve
Selah	Selah

Psalms 49:14

ULT	UST
Like sheep, they appoint {them} to Sheol; death will shepherd them. And the upright will rule over them in the morning, and Sheol will consume their form from the dwelling to it.	God has determined that they will die, as easily as sheep die, and go to the place where dead people are. They will remain there, as if death were a shepherd keeping them in a pen. One day God will make righteous people rule over wicked people. Wicked people will no longer live in comfortable homes. Instead, their bodies will decay in their graves.

ULT Like sheep
UST as easily as sheep die
(כַּצֹּאן)

The point of this comparison is that just as sheep are vulnerable and easily killed, so these rich people are vulnerable to dying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [As if they were vulnerable sheep]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT they appoint {them
UST God has determined
(שִׁתּוֹ)

Here the psalmist is using the pronoun They in a general sense, not to refer to specific people. Use an expression for this that would be natural in your language. If you need to say specifically who does the action, the context in the next verse indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [They are appointed] or [God appoints them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT death will shepherd them
UST They will remain there, as if death were a shepherd keeping them in a pen
(מָ֭וֶת יִרְעֵ֣ם)

The psalmist is speaking of death as if it were a living thing that could shepherd these people. He means that just as a shepherd keeps all of his sheep under his control so that none wander away, none of these people will get away from the realm of the dead. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. (However, since the image of a shepherd here extends the image of sheep earlier in the verse, you may wish to express both images as comparisons. The UST models one way to do that.) Alternate translation: [they will not get away from the realm of the dead]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT And the upright will rule over them in the morning
UST One day God will make righteous people rule over wicked people (וַיִּרְדּוּ בָם֮ יְשָׁרִ֪ים ׀ לַבֹּ֫קֶר)

The psalmist is speaking as if the upright were going to rule in the morning on a certain day over rich people who had been wicked. He means that the “days of evil” (that is, the troubled times) that he began describing in verse 5, pictured here as a dark night, will surely end as God delivers innocent people from oppression. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar expression in 46:5. Alternate translation: [And when God delivers the upright from their oppression, they will rule over them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the upright
UST righteous people
(יְשָׁרִ֪ים)

The psalmist is using the adjective upright as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [upright people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and Sheol will consume their form
UST Instead, their bodies will decay in their graves
(וְצִירָ֣ם לְבַלּ֣וֹת שְׁא֣וֹל)

The psalmist is speaking of Sheol as if it were a living thing that could consume the form or body of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and their body will decompose in the grave]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT and & their form
> UST Instead, their bodies
> (וצירם)

In this verse, the word form is singular in form, but it refers to the forms or bodies of these wicked people as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form of “form.” Alternate translation: [their forms] or [their bodies]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT from the dwelling to it
> UST Wicked people will no longer live in comfortable homes
> (מִזְּבֻל לוֹ)

The pronoun it refers to the form of each wicked person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [from its dwelling] or [away from where they lived]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Like sheep	as easily as sheep die
they appoint {them	God has determined to Sheol	that they will die & and go to the place where dead people are will shepherd them	They will remain there, as if & were a shepherd keeping them in a pen
the upright	righteous people
And & will rule	God will make & rule
Sheol	in their graves
will consume	will decay

Psalms 49:15

ULT	UST
But God will redeem my soul from the hand of Sheol, for he will take me. Selah	But God will take me to himself. In that way, he will rescue me from the place where dead people are. Selah

ULT from the hand of Sheol
UST from the place where dead people are (מִיַּד־שְׁאוֹל)

Here, hand represents the power and control that a person or thing has over someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the control of Sheol] or [from the custody of Sheol]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT for he will take me
UST will take me to himself. In that way
(כִּי יִקָּחֵנִי)

Here the word for introduces not a reason but an explanation. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [and he will do that by taking me]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
will redeem	he will rescue
my soul	me
Sheol	the place where dead people are
Selah	Selah

Psalms 49:16

ULT	UST
Do not fear when a man becomes rich, when the glory of his house increases.	Do not let it trouble you when a person becomes rich and has many valuable possessions.

ULT a man
UST a person
(אָדָם)

Here the masculine term man has a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [a person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT when the glory of his house increases
UST and has many valuable possessions
(כִּי־יִרְבֶּה כְּבוֹד בֵּיתוֹ)

Here, a rich person's house represents all of his possessions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [when the splendor of his estate increases]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fear	Do & let it trouble you
the glory of	valuable
his house	has & possessions
when & becomes rich	when & becomes rich

Psalms 49:17

ULT	UST
For in his death, he will not take anything; his glory will not go down after him.	After all, when that person dies, he will take nothing with him {to the place where dead people are}. He will not be able to bring his money there with him.

ULT his glory
UST his money
(כְּבוֹדוֹ)

Here, glory represents “wealth.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [his wealth]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT will not go down
UST He will not be able to bring & there (לֹא־יֵרֵד)

The psalmist assumes that readers will understand that by go down, he means “go down to Sheol.” You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [go down to Sheol]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
his glory	his money

Psalms 49:18

ULT	UST
Although in his life he blesses his soul (and they do praise you when you do well for yourself),	While a rich person is alive, he says to himself that he is successful. (People tend to praise anyone who is successful.)

ULT he blesses his soul
UST he says to himself that he is successful
(נַפְשׁוֹ יְבָרֵךְ &)

The psalmist is using one part of a person, his soul, to mean all of him in the act of blessing himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he blesses himself]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT he blesses his soul
UST he says to himself that he is successful
(נַפְשׁוֹ יְבָרֵךְ &)

While the term “bless” usually refers to expressing hope that good things would happen to a person, in this context, it means saying that good things have happened to a person. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he congratulates himself]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and they do praise you when you do well for yourself
UST People tend to praise anyone who is successful
(וְיוֹדֶךָ כִּי־תֵיטִיב לָךְ)

Here the psalmist is using the pronoun they in a general sense, not to refer to specific people. Use an expression for this that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and people do praise you when you do well for yourself] or [and you are praised when you do well for yourself]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT and they do praise you when you do well for yourself
> UST People tend to praise anyone who is successful
> (וְיוֹדֶךָ כִּי־תֵיטִיב לָךְ)

The words you and yourself are singular here because the psalmist is addressing each person in the audience as a representative individual who needs to consider whether what he says applies directly to him. So use singular forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction. If it does not, you may be able to communicate the meaning here in some other way. Alternate translation: [and they will praise any one of you if you do well for yourself] or [and any one of you will be praised if he does well for himself]

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he blesses	he says to himself
his soul	that he is successful and they do praise you	People tend to praise anyone
you do well	is successful

Psalms 49:19

ULT	UST
he will come to the generation of his fathers; forever they will not see light.	Nevertheless, he will die and go to where his dead ancestors are. All of them will remain in that dark place forever.

ULT he will come to the generation of his fathers
UST Nevertheless, he will die and go to where his dead ancestors are (תָּבוֹא עַד־דּוֹר אֲבוֹתָיו)

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [he will go to the generation of his fathers]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT he will come to the generation of his fathers
UST Nevertheless, he will die and go to where his dead ancestors are (תָּבוֹא עַד־דּוֹר אֲבוֹתָיו)

The psalmist is using the term fathers to mean “ancestors.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will come to the generation of his ancestors]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT he will come to the generation of his fathers
UST Nevertheless, he will die and go to where his dead ancestors are (תָּבוֹא עַד־דּוֹר אֲבוֹתָיו)

The psalmist assumes that his listeners will understand that by this phrase he means that the rich man he has been describing since verse 16 will join in death the generation of people that consists of his ancestors. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he will join his ancestors in death]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT forever they will not see light
UST All of them will remain in that dark place forever
(עַד־נֶ֝צַח לֹא יִרְאוּ־אֽוֹר)

The psalmist is using they will not see light as a common expression of his culture to mean that the rich man and his ancestors will not live on the earth again. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they will never see the light of day] or [they will never live on the earth again]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the generation of	where his dead ancestors are
forever	forever

Psalms 49:20

ULT	UST
A human in honor, but he does not understand, he is likened to the beasts, they are destroyed.	If someone is great but does not understand these things, he will die, just as animals do.

ULT A human in honor, but he does not understand, he is likened to the beasts

UST If someone is great but does not understand these things & just as animals do

(אָדָם בְּיִקָר וְלֹא יָבִין נִמְשַׁל כַּבְּהֵמוֹת)

A human in honor, but he does not understand introduces the first part of a possible condition. What the psalmist describes in the rest of this verse is true if this condition happens. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a condition that could happen. Alternate translation: [Suppose a human is in honor, but he does not understand. Then he is likened to the beasts]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT he is likened to the beasts, they are destroyed

UST he will die, just as animals do

(נִמְשַׁל כַּבְּהֵמוֹת נִדְמוּ)

This is the second occurrence of the refrain in this psalm. We recommend that you show this to your readers by translating the phrases here the same way that you translated them in the first occurrence of this refrain in 49:12. Alternate translation: [he is like the beasts, which perish]

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in honor	is great
he does & understand	does & understand these things
to the beasts	animals
they are destroyed	he will die

Psalms 49:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the sons of Korah
> UST One of the Korahites wrote
> (לִבְנֵי־קֹרַח)

See how you translated the expression “the sons of Korah” in the superscription to Psalm 42. Alternate translation: [of the descendants of Korah] or [of the Korahites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm of	this psalm
Korah	One of the Korahites wrote

Psalms 50

Psalms 50 Introduction

Psalm 50 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 50 is like a wisdom psalm in that it describes the difference between how righteous people and wicked people live and the difference between what happens to them. But it is a particular type of psalm that depicts God assembling and addressing the Israelites, commending those who are faithfully obeying his covenant but warning those who are acting wickedly. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. God powerfully summons the Israelites (1–6)
2. God addresses faithful Israelites (7–15)
3. God addresses wicked Israelites (16–22)
4. God reassures faithful Israelites (23)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Who was Asaph?

Asaph was an Israelite man from the tribe of Levi who was an important singer and musician during the reigns of David and Solomon. He played instruments and led people to sing songs to worship Yahweh. In addition to leading music, he also wrote songs. A dozen of the psalms are attributed to him. Psalm 50 is the psalm by Asaph that comes earliest in the book of Psalms.

What was a “thank offering” (verses 14, 23), and why does God encourage the Israelites to make this offering?

A thank offering was one type of fellowship offering, as Leviticus 7:12–15 describes. A worshiper would sacrifice an animal from his flock, and together with other food that he would bring, this would provide a celebration meal for his family and friends. At this meal, the worshiper would describe publicly how God had helped him when he was in trouble. When God encourages the Israelites to make this offering, he is effectively encouraging them to pray to him for help when they are in trouble, as verse 15 describes, so that he can rescue them and they can honor him in this way. The Israelites were already offering all of the sacrifices that the law of Moses required, but God wanted them to go beyond what was required and live in a relationship of active devotion to him. He wanted them to experience his help and offer sacrifices freely in gratitude.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Repeated phrases

For poetic effect, Asaph repeats some key terms in this psalm. He says in verse 3 that God “is not silent,” showing that the situation in verse 21, where God says “I was silent,” no longer holds. In verse 8, God tells the Israelite people, “I do not accuse you regarding your sacrifices,” but in verse 21, God tells a representative wicked person, “I will accuse you” of moral wrongdoing. To help your readers appreciate these connections, we recommend that in your translation, you translate the verbs that the ULT represents as “be silent” and “accuse” the same way in both of their occurrences.

Psalms 50:1

ULT	UST
A Psalm of Asaph The God of gods, Yahweh, has spoken, and he has summoned the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting.	A Levite from the clan of Asaph wrote this song. Yahweh is the only true God. He has decreed that people from all over the world should come to him.

ULT The God of gods
UST is the only true God
(אֵל | אֱלֹהִֽים)

Asaph is using a possessive form to express a superlative meaning. If a speaker of your language would not use a possessive form as a superlative, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The Supreme God] or [The God who is greater than all other gods]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting
UST people from all over the world
(אֶ֥רֶץ מִמִּזְרַח־שֶׁ֝מֶשׁ עַד־מְבוֹאֽוֹ)

Here, the earth represents the people who live on the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the people of the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting
UST people from all over the world
(אֶ֥רֶץ מִמִּזְרַח־שֶׁ֝מֶשׁ עַד־מְבוֹאֽוֹ)

Asaph is referring to the entire earth by naming two extremes, the east, where the sun rises, and the west, where the sun sets. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the people who live everywhere on earth]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A Psalm of	this song
Asaph	A Levite from the clan of Asaph wrote
The God of	is the & God
gods	only true
Yahweh	Yahweh
and he has summoned	that & should come to him
the earth	people from & the world

Psalms 50:2

ULT	UST
From Zion, the perfection of beauty, God has shined forth.	Mount Zion is as wonderful as a place can be {because God's temple is there}. God's presence there is like a light that shines brightly.

ULT the perfection of beauty
UST is as wonderful as a place can be {because God's temple is there (מִכְלַל־יֹפִי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of perfection and beauty, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [the perfectly beautiful place]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT God has shined forth
UST God's presence there is like a light that shines brightly
(אֱלֹהִים הוֹפִיעַ)

Asaph is speaking as if God had actually shined forth from Zion. He is using the image of light to represent God's presence radiating out from Zion. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God's presence radiates out]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
From Zion	Mount Zion
the perfection of	is as wonderful as a place can be {because God's temple is there
God	God's presence there

Psalms 50:3

ULT	UST
Our God comes, and he is not silent. A fire devours to his face, and around him it is stormed greatly.	Our God is approaching us {to judge us}. He will now tell us {what we have done right and what we have done wrong}. He is coming very powerfully, as he did at Mount Sinai, when there was a great thunderstorm and a burning fire on the mountain as he approached it.

ULT Our God
UST Our God
(אֱלֹהֵ֥ינוּ)

By Our, the psalmist means to include both himself and those he is addressing, so use the inclusive form of that word if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

ULT and he is not silent
UST He will now tell us {what we have done right and what we have done wrong
(וְאַל־יֶחֱרַֽשׁ)

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word silent. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [and he is going to speak]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT A fire devours to his face, and around him it is stormed greatly
UST He is coming very powerfully, as he did at Mount Sinai, when there was a great thunderstorm and a burning fire on the mountain as he approached it
(אֵשׁ־לְפָנָ֥יו תֹּאכֵ֑ל וּסְבִיבָ֖יו נִשְׂעֲרָ֣ה מְאֹֽד)

Asaph is using images from God’s appearance on Mount Sinai, where he made a covenant with the Israelites, to describe God’s approach to judge his people in light of that covenant on this occasion. Exodus 19:16–18 describes how a great thunderstorm and a burning fire preceded Yahweh’s descent onto Mount Sinai. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT A fire devours to his face
> UST and a burning fire on the mountain as he approached it
> (אֵשׁ־לְפָנָיו תֹּאכֵל)

Here, to his face represents “in front of him.” If you decide to retain this image in your translation, if it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [A fire devours in front of him]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT A fire devours to his face
> UST and a burning fire on the mountain as he approached it
> (אֵשׁ־לְפָנָיו תֹּאכֵל)

Asaph is speaking as if this fire were actually devouring or eating what was in front of God. If you decide to retain this image in your translation, if it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A fire burns up everything in front of him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT it is stormed greatly
> UST a great thunderstorm
> (נִשְׂעֲרָה מְאֹד)

The expression it is stormed is a passive verbal form. If you decide to retain this image in your translation, if your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a great storm rages]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Our God	Our God
devours	burning

Psalms 50:4

ULT	UST
He calls to the heavens above and to the earth so that he may judge his people.	He calls upon the sky and the land {to serve as witnesses of his covenant with the Israelites}. This demonstrates that he will judge them fairly {according to that covenant}.

ULT He calls to the heavens above and to the earth
UST He calls upon the sky and the land {to serve as witnesses of his covenant
(יִקְרָא אֶל־הַשָּׁמַיִם מֵעָל וְאֶל־הָאָרֶץ)

Asaph assumes that listeners will understand that he means that God calls the heavens and the earth to serve as witnesses of what the Israelites promised to do when they made a covenant with Yahweh. Deuteronomy 4:26 and Deuteronomy 30:19 describe how Moses called upon the heavens and the earth to serve as witnesses in this way. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [He calls to the heavens above and to the earth as witnesses]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
He calls	He calls & to serve as witnesses of his covenant
the heavens	the sky
so that he may judge	This demonstrates that he will judge & fairly {according to that covenant

Psalms 50:5

ULT	UST
“Gather my faithful {ones} to me, the cutters of my covenant by sacrifice.”	He says, “Summon those who worship me faithfully, those who made a covenant with me that involved offering sacrifices to me.”

ULT Gather my faithful {ones} to me
UST He says, “Summon those who worship me faithfully
(אִסְפוּ־לִי חֲסִידָי)

This verse is a direct quotation of God. The ULT indicates that by putting the verse inside quotation marks. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could also use a natural way of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [He says, “Gather my faithful ones to me]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Gather my faithful {ones} to me
UST He says, “Summon those who worship me faithfully
(אִסְפוּ־לִי חֲסִידָי)

Asaph does not identify to whom God is giving this command. (God is not addressing the heavens and the earth. Their role is to serve as witnesses.) The focus is more on the results than on the agents. It may be more natural in your language to express this with a form other than a command form. Alternate translation: [Let my faithful ones be gathered to me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Gather
UST He says, “Summon
(אִסְפוּ)

The implied “you” in the imperative Gather is plural, so if you retain the command form, use its plural form in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT my faithful {ones
UST those who worship me faithfully
(חֲסִידָי)

Asaph is using the adjective faithful as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. (The ULT indicates this by supplying the word ones.) Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can use an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the ones who are faithful to me]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the cutters of my covenant
UST those who made a covenant with me
(כֹּרְתֵי בְרִיתִי)

God is using the cutters of my covenant as a common expression of this culture to mean “those who made a covenant with me.” He is using the term “cut” because in some covenant ceremonies, the participants would cut up animals and then walk between the pieces. This was to indicate, “If I break this covenant, may I be destroyed in this same way.” It is not necessary to understand this background to covenant ceremonies in order to understand what God says in the rest of this psalm, so you do not have to use the term “cut” in your translation. You could simply say “make,” or you could use an expression from your own language and culture. Alternate translation: [those who made a covenant with me]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT by sacrifice
UST that involved offering sacrifices to me
(עֲלֵי־זָבַח)

God is not using the phrase by sacrifice to refer to animals that were slaughtered and cut up when he made his covenant with the Israelites. (There is no description in the Bible of such a ceremony connected with that covenant.) He means that this covenant was sealed and was to be continually acknowledged by sacrificial worship, which is the main theme of this psalm. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [that was sealed and was to be continually acknowledged by sacrificial worship]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Gather	He says, “Summon
my faithful {ones	those who worship me faithfully
my covenant	a covenant with me
sacrifice	offering sacrifices to me

Psalms 50:6

ULT	UST
The heavens declare his righteousness, that God, he is judge. Selah	The sky displays the character of God so clearly, it is as though it is saying, “God is righteous, and he is the supreme judge.” Selah

ULT The heavens declare his righteousness
UST The sky displays the character of God so clearly & is righteous (וַיַּגִּידוּ שָׁמַיִם צִדְקוֹ)

Asaph is speaking of the heavens as if they were a living thing that could declare God’s righteousness. This conveys two ideas. In the immediate context, the heavens witness that God has kept his part of the covenant. In the broader biblical context, as in 19:1 and 97:6, the characteristics of the heavens display the righteous character of God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the broader meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The heavens display his righteousness]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT his righteousness
UST is righteous
(צִדְקוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that he is righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT that God, he is judge
UST it is as though it is saying, “God & and he is the supreme judge
(כִּי־אֱלֹהִים | שֹׁפֵט הוּא)

Asaph is stating the pronoun he separately, even though it could be omitted, in order to emphasize that the heavens declare that God is the supreme judge of everyone on earth. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the emphasis here. Alternate translation: [that it is God who is judge]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT Selah
> UST Selah
> (סֶלָה)

See how your translation team decided at 3:2 to represent the term Selah.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The heavens	The sky
declare	displays the character of God so clearly his righteousness	is righteous
God	God
is judge	is the supreme judge
Selah	Selah

Psalms 50:7

ULT	UST
“Hear, my people, and I will speak; Israel, and I will testify against you. I {am} God, your God.	God says, “You Israelite people who belong to me, listen as I speak to you. I am the God whom you worship. I am going to tell you what you have done right and what you have done wrong.

ULT Hear, my people, and I will speak
UST God says & who belong to me, listen as I speak to you
(שִׁמְעָה עַמִּי | וְאֲדַבֵּרָה)

This verse begins a direct quotation of God that continues through verse 15. The ULT indicates that by putting these verses inside quotation marks. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could also use a natural way of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [He says, “Hear, my people, and I will speak]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Hear & against you & your God
UST God says & listen & whom you worship & you (שִׁמְעָה & בָּךְ & אֱלֹהֶיךָ)

The pronouns you and your and the implied “you” in imperatives are singular here and through verse 15 because God is addressing his people as if they were a single individual. So use singular forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT Israel
UST You Israelite people
(יִשְׂרָאֵל)

Asaph is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [listen, Israel]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Israel
UST You Israelite people
(יִשְׂרָאֵל)

Here, Israel represents the nation that consisted of the descendants of Jacob, whom God renamed Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [you Israelites]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Israel	You Israelite people
and I will testify	I am going to tell & what you have done right and what you have done wrong am} God	am the God
your God	whom you worship

Psalms 50:8

ULT	UST
I do not accuse you regarding your sacrifices, for your burnt offerings are always before me.	You continually burn animals completely on the temple altar as sacrifices to me, so I have no complaint that you have failed to offer sacrifices to me.

ULT I do not accuse you regarding your sacrifices, for your burnt offerings are always before me

UST You continually burn animals completely on the temple altar as sacrifices to me, so I have no complaint that you have failed to offer sacrifices to me

(לֹ֤א עַל־זְבָחֶ֨יךָ֙ אוֹכִיחֶ֔ךָּ וְעוֹלֹתֶ֖יךָ לְנֶגְדִּ֥י תָמִֽיד)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Your burnt offerings are always before me, so I do not accuse you regarding your sacrifices]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your sacrifices	that you have failed to offer sacrifices to me for your burnt offerings	You & burn animals completely on the temple altar & so

Psalms 50:9

ULT	UST
I will not take a bull from your house, goats from your folds.	However, I do not really need the bulls from your herds or the goats from your pens {that you sacrifice to me}.

ULT I will not take a bull from your house, goats from your folds
UST However, I do not really need the bulls from your herds or the goats from your pens {that you sacrifice to me
(לֹא־אֶקַּח מִבֵּיתְךָ֥ פָ֝֗ר מִמִּכְלְאֹתֶ֥יךָ עַתּוּדִֽים)

Asaph is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [I will not take a bull from your house, and I will not take goats from your folds] or [I will not take a bull from your house or goats from your folds]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT I will not take a bull from your house, goats from your folds
UST However, I do not really need the bulls from your herds or the goats from your pens {that you sacrifice to me
(לֹא־אֶקַּח מִבֵּיתְךָ֥ פָ֝֗ר מִמִּכְלְאֹתֶ֥יךָ עַתּוּדִֽים)

God is not saying that he will not accept bulls or goats from the Israelites as sacrifices. This psalm as a whole is supportive of the sacrificial system. However, its emphasis is on offering sacrifices for the right reasons. They are not something that God needs; they are a way of living in relationship with God (as verses 14 and 15 especially emphasize). You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I do not need to take a bull from your house or goats from your folds]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from your house
UST from your herds
(מִבֵּיתְךָ)

Here, a person's house represents his "household" or "possessions." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [from among your possessions]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT goats
> UST or the goats & that you sacrifice to me
> (עַתּוּדִים)

Here and in v. 13, the psalmist is using a specific term that means male goats. If your language does not have a general term for goats but must specify whether a goat is male or female, use your term for male goats in these places.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a bull	the bulls
from your house	from your herds
goats	or the goats & that you sacrifice to me

Psalms 50:10

ULT	UST
For every beast of the forest {is} to me, the cattle on a thousand hills.	I do not need them, because all of the animals that live in the forests belong to me. All of the cattle everywhere on earth also belong to me.

ULT For
UST I do not need them, because
(כִּי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [This is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT every beast of the forest {is} to me, the cattle on a thousand hills
UST all of the animals that live in the forests belong to me. All of the cattle everywhere on earth also belong to me
(לִי כָל־חַיְתוֹ־יָעַר בְּהֵמוֹת בְּהַרְרֵי־אֶלֶף)

Asaph is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle on a thousand hills are mine] or [every beast of the forest and the cattle on a thousand hills belong to me]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT the cattle on a thousand hills
UST All of the cattle everywhere on earth
(בְּהֵמוֹת בְּהַרְרֵי־אֶלֶף)

God is using the number a thousand in a way that was common in this culture to mean a very large, uncountable number, not a precise figure. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the cattle on every hill] or [all cattle everywhere]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
beast of	the animals that live in the cattle	All of the cattle

Psalms 50:11

ULT	UST
I know all the birds of the mountains, and the creature of the field {is} with me.	I own all the birds that live in the mountains. All the little creatures that move around in the fields also belong to me.

ULT I know
UST I own
(יָדַעְתִּי)

God is using the term know in a particular sense to mean that he owns all the birds. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I own]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and the creature of the field {is} with me
UST All the little creatures that move around in the fields also belong to me
(וְזִיז שָׂדַי עִמָּדִי)

In this context, the phrase with me expresses a relationship of possession. Alternate translation: [and the creature of the field is mine]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT and the creature of the field {is} with me
UST All the little creatures that move around in the fields also belong to me
(וְזִיז שָׂדַי עִמָּדִי)

God is not referring to a specific creature. He means field creatures in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and every field creature is mine]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT and the creature of the field {is} with me
UST All the little creatures that move around in the fields also belong to me
(וְזִיז שָׂדַי עִמָּדִי)

The term that the ULT translates as creature refers to a “moving thing,” and in this context, it probably means a “swarming thing” or insect. (In the previous verse, God described how large animals belonged to him, and in this verse, he makes the focus much smaller and thus even more comprehensive.) You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and even the insects in the fields are mine]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I know	I own
and the creature of	All the little creatures that move around in

Psalms 50:12

ULT	UST
If I were hungry, I would not say {that} to you, for the world and its fulness {are} to me.	Because everything in the world belongs to me, if I were hungry, I would not tell you {so that you would bring me some food to eat}.

ULT If I were hungry, I would not say {that} to you, for the world and its fulness {are} to me

UST Because everything in the world belongs to me, if I were hungry, I would not tell you {so that you would bring me some food to eat

(אִם־אֶרְעַב לֹא־אֹמַר לָךְ כִּי־לִי תֵּבֵל וּמְלֹאָהּ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Since the world and its fulness are mine, I would not tell you if I were hungry]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT and its fulness

UST everything in

(וּמְלֹאָהּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and what fills it] or [and everything in it]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the world	the world

Psalms 50:13

ULT	UST
Do I eat the flesh of bulls, or do I drink the blood of goats?	When you sacrifice bulls to me, I do not eat their flesh, and when you offer goats to me, I do not drink their blood.

ULT Do I eat the flesh of bulls, or do I drink the blood of goats
UST When you sacrifice bulls to me, I do not eat their flesh, and when you offer goats to me, I do not drink their blood
(הֲאוֹכַל בְּשַׂר אַבִּירִים וְדַם עַתּוּדִים אֶשְׁתֶּה)

God is using the question form to emphasize that what he is describing is certainly not true. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I certainly do not eat the flesh of bulls, and I do not drink the blood of goats!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bulls	When you sacrifice bulls to me
goats	when you offer goats to me

Psalms 50:14

ULT	UST
Sacrifice a thank offering to God, and pay your vows to the Most High.	I want you to offer sacrifices to me, your God, because you have promised to do that to thank me for helping you. I am the God who is greater than all other spirit beings.

ULT Sacrifice a thank offering to God, and pay your vows to the Most High

UST I want you to offer sacrifices to me, your God, because you have promised to do that to thank me for helping you. I am the God who is greater than all other spirit beings

(זְבַח לֵאלֹהִים תּוֹדָה וְשַׁלֵּם לְעֶלְיוֹן נְדָרֶיךָ)

God is speaking of himself in the third person because he is giving an authoritative command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the first person. Alternate translation: [Sacrifice a thank offering to me, God, and pay your vows to me, the Most High]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Sacrifice	I want you to offer sacrifices
a thank offering	to thank me for helping you to God	to me, your God
your vows	because you have promised to do that to the Most High	I am the God who is greater than all other spirit beings

Psalms 50:15

ULT	UST
Call on me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you will glorify me.”	So pray to me when you are in trouble. If you do that, I will rescue you, and then you will honor me {publicly by offering a sacrifice}.”

ULT in the day of trouble
UST when you are in trouble
(בְּיוֹם צָרָה)

Asaph is using the term day to mean “time,” since time consists of days. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in any time of trouble]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Call on me	So pray to me
trouble	trouble
I will deliver you	If you do that, I will rescue you and you will glorify me	and then you will honor me {publicly by offering a sacrifice

Psalms 50:16

ULT	UST
But to the wicked {one} God says, “What to you to recount my statutes, or that you should lift up my covenant onto your mouth?	But God says to wicked people, “You should not be reciting my commandments or talking about the covenant that I made with you!

ULT But to the wicked {one
UST But & to wicked people
(וְלָרָשָׁע)

Asaph is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. (The ULT indicates this by supplying the word one.) Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can use an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [But to every wicked person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT to you & or that you should lift up & your mouth
UST You & or talking about (לְךָ & וְתִשָּׂא & פִּיךָ)

The pronouns you and your are singular here and through verse 21 because God is addressing a representative wicked individual. So use singular forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT What to you to recount my statutes, or that you should lift up my covenant onto your mouth
UST You should not be reciting my commandments or talking about the covenant that I made with you
(מַה־לְּךָ לְסַפֵּר חֻקָּי וַתִּשָּׂא בְרִיתִי עָלֵי־פִיךָ)

God is using the question form to rebuke wicked people who speak as if they were loyal to his covenant but who disobey its commandments. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [It is not to you to recount my statutes, and you should not lift up my covenant onto your mouth!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT What to you to recount my statutes, or that you should lift up my covenant onto your mouth
UST You should not be reciting my commandments or talking about the covenant that I made with you
(מַה־לְּךָ֥ לְסַפֵּ֣ר חֻקַּ֑י וַתִּשָּׂ֥א בְרִיתִ֝֗י עָלֵ֥י־פִֽיךָ׃)

God is using What to you as a common expression of this culture to mean that the person he is addressing has no valid connection with what he describes next. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You have no business recounting my statutes or lifting up my covenant onto your mouth!] or [It is not appropriate for you to recount my statutes or to lift up my covenant onto your mouth.]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT or that you should lift up my covenant onto your mouth
UST or talking about the covenant that I made with you (וַתִּשָּׂ֥א בְרִיתִ֝֗י עָלֵ֥י־פִֽיךָ׃)

God is speaking as if his covenant were an object that this wicked person could actually lift up and put on his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [or that you should say that you are loyal to my covenant]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But to the wicked {one	But & to wicked people
God	God
to recount	reciting
my statutes	my commandments
my covenant	the covenant that I made with you

Psalms 50:16-17

ULT But to the wicked {one} God says, “What to you to recount my statutes, or that you should lift up my covenant onto your mouth?For you, you hate instruction, and you cast my words behind you
UST But God says to wicked people, “You should not be reciting my commandments or talking about the covenant that I made with you!You should not do that, because you hate it when I correct you, and when I tell you to do something, you refuse to obey me
(וְלָרָשָׁע ׀ אָמַר אֱלֹהִים מַה־לְּךָ לְסַפֵּר חֻקָּי וַתִּשָּׂא בְרִיתִי עָלֵי־פִיךָ: וְאַתָּה שָׂנֵאתָ מוּסָר וַתַּשְׁלֵךְ דְּבָרַי אַחֲרֶיךָ)

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine 50:16, which describes a result, and 50:17, which gives a reason, into a verse bridge in order to put the reason before the result. Alternate translation: [But to the wicked one God says, “Since you, you hate instruction, and you cast my words behind you, what to you to recount my statutes, or that you should lift up my covenant onto your mouth?]

Support Reference: Verse Bridges

Psalms 50:17

ULT	UST
For you, you hate instruction, and you cast my words behind you.	You should not do that, because you hate it when I correct you, and when I tell you to do something, you refuse to obey me.

ULT For you, you hate instruction
UST You should not do that, because you hate it when I correct you (וְאַתָּה שָׂנֵאתָ מוּסָר)

God is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you have already includes this meaning. He is doing that in order to emphasize a contrast between what faithful people are doing, as described in the previous part of this psalm, and what this wicked individual is doing. Alternate translation: [for your part, you hate]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and you cast my words behind you
UST and when I tell you to do something, you refuse to obey me
(וַתַּשְׁלֵךְ דְּבָרַי אַחֲרֶיךָ)

God is speaking as if his words were objects that this wicked person could actually cast behind him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you disregard my words]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my words
UST when I tell you to do something
(דְּבָרַי)

God is using the term words to represent what he says by using words. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what I say to you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
instruction	when I correct you

Psalms 50:19

ULT	UST
You send your mouth in evil, and your tongue frames deceit.	You do not restrain yourselves from saying wicked things, and you make up things to say to deceive people.

ULT You send your mouth in evil
UST You do not restrain yourselves from saying wicked things
(פִּיךָ שִׁלַּחְתָּ בְרָעָה)

God is using the term send in a specific sense to mean “release” or “set free,” as in Deuteronomy 15:12. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You release your mouth in evil]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT You send your mouth in evil
UST You do not restrain yourselves from saying wicked things
(פִּיךָ שִׁלַּחְתָּ בְרָעָה)

God is speaking of this wicked person’s mouth as if it were itself a person that the wicked one could send away or release. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You say evil things without restraint]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT and your tongue frames deceit
UST and you make up things to say to deceive people
(וּלְשׁוֹנְךָ תַּצְמִיד מִרְמָה)

God is speaking of this wicked person’s tongue as if it were itself a person who could frame (form or put together) deceit, which God is speaking of as if it were an object that could be assembled. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you make up deceitful things to say]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in evil	wicked things
and your tongue	to say
deceit	to deceive people

Psalms 50:20

ULT	UST
You sit, you speak against your brother; you impute slander against the son of your mother.	You consistently say bad things about members of your own family, even about your closest relatives.

ULT You sit, you speak
UST You consistently say bad things
(תֵּשֵׁב & תְּדַבֵּר)

God is using You sit as a common expression of this culture to indicate that the action he describes next, you speak, is something that this wicked person does deliberately and continuously. If this expression does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You sit around speaking] or [You habitually speak]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT against your brother & against the son of your mother
UST about members of your own family, even about your closest relatives
(בְּאָחִיךָ & בְּבֶן־אִמְּךָ)

The word that the ULT translates as brother is a general term that in various contexts can mean a full brother or a half-brother, a kinsman, or a fellow Israelite. The phrase the son of your mother explicitly describes a full brother. (It is characteristic of Hebrew poetry for the second part of a line to intensify and sharpen the first part of a line.) If your language has a general term for a relative that can include a brother, it would be appropriate to use it to translate brother. If not, if your language has a term for a half-brother (a son of the same father but not of the same mother), you might use that to translate brother, and you might use your term for a full brother (a son of the same mother and father) in the second part of the verse.

Support Reference: Kinship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
slander	You & say bad things

Psalms 50:21

ULT	UST
You have done these {things}, but I have been silent. You thought the being of I AM {was} like you. I will accuse you, and let me array to your eyes.	You do all those things, and I have not said anything to you about them, so you think that I do not care about them any more than you do. But now I am going to show you {all the wicked things you have done}, and I am going to judge and punish you for doing them.

ULT You thought the being of I AM {was} like you
UST so you think that I do not care about them any more than you do
(דִּמִּיתָ֣ הֱיוֹת־אֶהְיֶ֣ה כָּמ֑וֹךָ)

This could mean: (1) that God is referring to himself in the third person by the name he revealed to Moses in Exodus 3:14. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the first person. Alternate translation: [You thought that I, the I AM, was like you in my being] or (2) that God is repeating forms of the verb “to be” in order to intensify his expression of the idea that it conveys. Another way to translate the original text is, “You thought that being, I was like you.” Alternate translation: [You thought that surely I was like you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT You thought the being of I AM {was} like you
UST so you think that I do not care about them any more than you do
(דִּמִּיתָ֣ הֱיוֹת־אֶהְיֶ֣ה כָּמ֑וֹךָ)

This sentence indicates the result of the reason that the previous sentence describes. It may be helpful to use a connector in your language that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Therefore, you thought the being of I AM was like you]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I will accuse you, and let me array to your eyes
UST But now I am going to show you {all the wicked things you have done}, and I am going to judge and punish you for doing them
(אוֹכִיחֲךָ֥ וְאֶֽעֶרְכָ֖ה לְעֵינֶֽיךָ)

God is using the term array, which often describes armies forming battle lines, in a legal sense to mean that he will present evidence in a compelling order. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and I will marshal the evidence against you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT to your eyes
> UST But now I am going to show you > (לְעֵינֶיךָ)

Here, eyes represent sight. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [for you to see]

Support Reference: Metonymy

Psalms 50:22

ULT	UST
Consider this now, forgetters of God, lest I tear and none be delivering!	Many of you have been ignoring me. Pay attention to what I am saying now! If you do not, I will destroy you. No one will be able to rescue you.

ULT Consider
UST Pay attention
(בִּינוּ)

The implied “you” in the imperative Consider is plural because God is addressing everyone who does not pay attention to his commandments, so use the plural form in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT forgetters of God
UST Many of you have been ignoring me
(שֹׁכְחֵי אֱלֹוהַּ)

God is speaking of himself in the third person because he is giving an authoritative command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the first person. Alternate translation: [you who forget me, God] or [you who disregard me, God]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT lest I tear and none be delivering UST If you do not, I will destroy you. No one will be able to rescue you (פֶּן־אֶטְרֹף וְאֵין מַצִּיל)

God is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first gives the people he is addressing an instruction to follow so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [Otherwise, I will tear you, and no one will be able to deliver you]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

> ULT I tear
> UST I will destroy you
> (אֶטְרֹף)

God is speaking as if he would actually tear wicked people into pieces the way a lion tears its victim apart. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I punish you severely]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Consider	Pay attention
God	me
be delivering	will be able to rescue you

Psalms 50:23

ULT	UST
The one sacrificing a thank offering glorifies me, and the one placing a way, I will make him look upon the salvation of God.”	When people publicly offer sacrifices to thank me for helping them, that honors me greatly. If people live as I want people to live, I will rescue them when they are in trouble.”

ULT and the one placing a way
UST If people live as I want people to live
(וְשָׂם דֶּרֶךְ)

God is speaking as if the person he is describing were actually placing or preparing a way or path on which he would walk. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the one ordering his conduct rightly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will make him look upon the salvation of God
UST I will rescue them when they are in trouble
(אַרְאֶנּוּ בְּיֵשַׁע אֱלֹהִים)

In this context, to look upon salvation means to “experience” it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will make him experience the salvation of God]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT I will make him look upon the salvation of God
UST I will rescue them when they are in trouble
(אַרְאֶנּוּ בְּיֵשַׁע אֱלֹהִים)

God is speaking of himself in the third person because he is making an authoritative promise. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this in the first person. Alternate translation: [I will make him experience my salvation]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The one sacrificing	When people publicly offer
a thank offering	sacrifices to thank me for helping them
glorifies me	that honors me greatly upon the salvation of	will rescue them when they are in trouble
God	I

Psalms 51

Psalms 51 Introduction

Psalm 51 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 51 is a specific kind of psalm of supplication, a “penitential psalm” in which the psalmist is deeply troubled by guilt and asks God to forgive him and restore him. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. David’s plea for forgiveness (1–9)
2. David’s plea for restoration (10–15)
3. Rightly offered sacrifices (16–19)

Psalms 51:1

ULT	UST
Be merciful to me, God, according to your covenant faithfulness. According to the multitude of your compassions, wipe away my transgressions.	Oh God, since you promised to faithfully love me, please act mercifully toward me. You gently love people in many ways, so please forgive me for disobeying you so badly.

ULT according to your covenant faithfulness
UST since you promised to faithfully love me
(כְּחַסְדֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [according to all the ways you are faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your compassions, wipe away my transgressions
UST You gently love people & so please forgive me for disobeying you so badly (רַחֲמֶיךָ מְחֵה פְשָׁעָי)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of compassions and transgressions, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [of ways you care for me, forgive all the ways I have sinned against you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT wipe away my transgressions
UST so please forgive me for disobeying you so badly (מְחֵה פְשָׁעָי)

David is speaking of his transgressions as if they were words written in ink on a scroll that God could wipe away to erase them and make them disappear. The basic idea is that David wants God to regard his transgressions as if they had never occurred; that is, he wants God to forgive him for committing them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [completely forgive my transgressions]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be merciful to me	please act mercifully toward me
God	Oh God
according to your covenant faithfulness	since you promised to faithfully love me your compassions	You gently love people
wipe away	so please forgive me
my transgressions	for disobeying you so badly

Psalms 51:2

ULT	UST
Make great, wash me from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.	Remove my sin completely, as if it were dirt that you were washing off me to make me clean.

> ULT Make great, wash me from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin
> UST Remove my sin completely, as if it were dirt that you were washing off me to make me clean
> (הרבה כַּבְּסֵנִי מֵעֲוֹנִי וּמֵחַטָּאתִי טַהֲרֵנִי)

The expressions Make great and wash me together express a single idea. The expression Make great tells in what way David wants God to washhim. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

> ULT Make great, wash me from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin
> UST Remove my sin completely, as if it were dirt that you were washing off me to make me clean
> (הרבה כַּבְּסֵנִי מֵעֲוֹנִי וּמֵחַטָּאתִי טַהֲרֵנִי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and do that here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Wash me thoroughly to cleanse me of my sin] or [Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, yes, cleanse me from my sin]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Make great, wash me from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin

UST Remove my sin completely, as if it were dirt that you were washing off me to make me clean

(הרבה כַּבְּסֵנִי מֵעֲוֹנִי וּמֵחַטָּאתִי טַהֲרֵנִי)

This could mean (both meanings may be present): (1) that David is speaking of his iniquity or sin as if it were actually dirt or a stain that God could wash off of him in order to cleanse him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Completely take away my iniquity, yes, remove all of my sin] or (2) that David is speaking as if his iniquity or sin had made him ritually unclean and so unable to participate in the worship of God until he became ritually clean again through ceremonial washing. Alternate translation: [Take away all of my iniquity to make me acceptable to you again so that I can worship you freely]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from my iniquity	my sin
cleanse me	to make me clean and & from my sin	my sin

Psalms 51:3

ULT	UST
For I, I know my transgressions, and my sin {is} always before me.	I ask this because I know that I have disobeyed you in many ways. I am continually aware of that.

ULT For
UST I ask this because
(כִּ֤י)

Here the word For introduces not a reason but an admission. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [Admittedly,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT I, I know my transgressions
UST I know that I have disobeyed you in many ways
(פְּשָׁעַ֣י אֲנִ֣י אֵדָ֑ע)

David is stating the pronoun I separately, even though the verb translated as I know already includes this meaning. He is doing that because he is confronting himself with the fact of his transgressions. Alternate translation: [I know very well that I have committed transgressions]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and my sin {is} always before me
UST I have disobeyed you in many ways. I am continually aware of that (וְחַטָּאתִ֖י נֶגְדִּ֣י תָמִֽיד)

David is speaking of his sin as if it were actually an object that was always before him or in front of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I am always conscious of my sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I know	know that
my transgressions	I have disobeyed you in many ways
and my sin	I have disobeyed you in many ways

Psalms 51:4

ULT	UST
Against you, you only, I have sinned and done evil in your eyes, so you are right in your speaking, you are blameless in your judging.	What grieves me most is how I have sinned against you. I have done things that you consider to be very wrong. So when you declare that I am guilty, you are right. When you judge me, you are completely fair.

ULT Against you, you only, I have sinned
UST What grieves me most is how I have sinned against you
(לְךָ לְבַדְּךָ חָטָאתִי)

David is repeating the pronoun you for emphasis. If your language can repeat pronouns for emphasis, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [You are the only one I have sinned against]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Against you, you only, I have sinned
UST What grieves me most is how I have sinned against you
(לְךָ לְבַדְּךָ חָטָאתִי)

David is saying only as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [You are the one I have essentially sinned against]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT and & evil
UST things & very wrong
(וְהָרַע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is evil]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in your eyes
UST that you consider to be (בְּעֵינֶיךָ)

Here, eyes represents “perspective.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in your perspective]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I have sinned	I have sinned
and & evil	things & very wrong
you are right	you are right
you are blameless	you are completely fair
in your judging	When you judge me

Psalms 51:5

ULT	UST
Behold, I was born in iniquity, and in sin my mother conceived me.	Indeed, I have been a sinner from birth. In fact, I have been a sinner since my mother conceived me.

ULT Behold
UST Indeed
(הֵן)

David is using the term Behold to focus attention on what he is about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, here and in the next verse.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I was born in iniquity, and in sin my mother conceived me
UST I have been a sinner from birth. In fact, I have been a sinner since my mother conceived me
(בְּעָוֹן חוֹלָלְתִּי וּבְחֵטְא יָחֲמַתְנִי אִמִּי)

David does not mean that his mother conceived him as the result of a sinful act. Instead, he means that as a human being, he has been characterized by iniquity and sin for his entire life. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I have been iniquitous since I was born; indeed, I have been sinful from the time my mother conceived me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT I was born in iniquity, and in sin my mother conceived me
UST I have been a sinner from birth. In fact, I have been a sinner since my mother conceived me
(בְּעָוֹן חוֹלָלְתִּי וּבְחֵטְא יָחֲמַתְנִי אִמִּי)

The expression was born is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [I was in iniquity when my mother gave birth to me; indeed, I was in sin when my mother conceived me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in iniquity	I have been a sinner and in sin	In fact, I have been a sinner since conceived me	conceived me

Psalms 51:6

ULT	UST
Behold, you desire truth in the kidneys, and you teach me wisdom in the closed {place}.	I know that you want me to have honest intentions. You help me understand very well how to act wisely.

ULT truth
UST honest
(אֱמֶת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of truth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [trustworthiness] or [integrity]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in the kidneys
UST me to have & intentions
(בַּטֻּחוֹת)

Here the kidneys represents a person's motives and intentions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in a person's motives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and & in the closed {place
UST very well
(וּבְסָתֻם)

The expression closed is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [in the place that people close up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and & in the closed {place
UST very well
(וּבְסָתֻם)

David is using the verbal form closed, which functions here as an adjective, as a noun to mean a certain place. (The ULT indicates this by supplying the word place.) Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [in my inner being]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you teach me	You help me understand wisdom	how to act wisely

Psalms 51:7

ULT	UST
May you purify me with hyssop, that I may be clean. May you wash me, that I may be whiter than snow.	Make me acceptable to you again, as if you were using hyssop to sprinkle water on me to purify me. Remove my sin as if it were dirt that you were washing off me. Then I will be completely pure, like snow that has just fallen.

ULT May you purify me with hyssop, that I may be clean
UST Make me acceptable to you again, as if you were using hyssop to sprinkle water on me to purify me
(תְּחַטְּאֵנִי בְאֵזוֹב וְאֶטְהָר)

David is speaking as if he wanted God to perform the ceremony that the law of Moses describes in Numbers 19:18, in which a ceremonially clean person would dip a hyssop branch in water and sprinkle water with it to purify a person or place that had become ritually unclean. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with hyssop
UST as if you were using hyssop to sprinkle water on me
(בְּאֵזוֹב)

The term hyssop describes a leafy plant, an herb that was common in Israel. Its large and numerous leaves made it ideal for use in sprinkling, especially in ceremonial contexts. If your language does not have a word for this plant, consider using a general expression. Alternate translation: [with leafy branches]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT May you wash me
UST Remove my sin as if it were dirt that you were washing off me
(תְּכַבְּסֵנִי)

As in verse 2, David is speaking of his sin as if it were dirt that God could wash off of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar image in verse 2. Alternate translation: [May you take away my sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT that I may be whiter than snow

UST Then I will be completely pure, like snow that has just fallen

(וּמִשֶּׁלֶג אַלְבִּין)

David is speaking as if he would become bright white in color if God were to wash him. He is using the uniform whiteness of newly fallen snow to represent complete purity. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that I may be purer than snow]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
May you purify me	Make me acceptable to you again that I may be clean	to purify me that & than snow	Then & like snow that has just fallen

Psalms 51:8

ULT	UST
Make me hear joy and gladness; may the bones you have crushed rejoice.	Please tell me {that you have forgiven me}. That would make me very happy. My guilt feels like a heavy weight on me, but may I rejoice {in your forgiveness}.

ULT Make me hear joy and gladness
UST Please tell me {that you have forgiven me}. That would make me very happy
(תַּשְׁמִיעֵנִי שָׂשׂוֹן וְשִׂמְחָה)

David is using the expression joy and gladness to represent things that God would say to him that would make him feel those emotions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Make me hear things that will cause me to feel joy and gladness] or [Say things to me that will make me feel joy and gladness]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Make me hear joy and gladness
UST Please tell me {that you have forgiven me}. That would make me very happy
(תַּשְׁמִיעֵנִי שָׂשׂוֹן וְשִׂמְחָה)

David means specifically that he wants God to tell him that he has forgiven him. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Assure me that you have forgiven me, that I may feel joy and gladness]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT joy and gladness
UST That would make me very happy
(שָׂשׂוֹן וְשִׂמְחָה)

The terms joy and gladness mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [great joy]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT may the bones you have crushed rejoice
> UST My guilt feels like a heavy weight on me, but may I rejoice {in your forgiveness
> (תָּגֵ֣לְנָה עֲצָמ֣וֹת דִּכִּיתָ)

David is using one part of himself, his bones, to mean all of him in the act of being crushed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [may I, whom you have crushed, rejoice]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT may the bones you have crushed rejoice
> UST My guilt feels like a heavy weight on me, but may I rejoice {in your forgiveness
> (תָּגֵ֣לְנָה עֲצָמ֣וֹת דִּכִּיתָ)

David is speaking as if God had actually crushed him by convicting him of his sin. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [may I, whom you have deeply convicted of sin, rejoice]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
joy	That would make me very happy and gladness	That would make me very happy
may & rejoice	but may I rejoice {in your forgiveness

Psalms 51:9

ULT	UST
Hide your face from my sins, and wipe away all of my iniquities.	Please forgive all the wrong things I have done so that it will be as if I never did them.

ULT Hide your face from my sins
UST the wrong things I have done so that it will be as if I never did them
(הַסְתֵּר פָּנֶיךָ מֵחֲטָאָי)

David is speaking as if he wanted God to position his face so that it would not be visible from the place where his sins were. Effectively this means that he wants God not to look at his sins. However, he does not mean that he wants God to leave his sins in place but not regard them. He wants God to make his sins nowhere to be seen; that is, he wants God to forgive the sins so that it is as if he had not committed them. Alternate translation: [Make my sins nowhere to be seen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and wipe away all of my iniquities
UST Please forgive all the wrong things I have done
(וְכָל־עֲוֹנֹתַי מְחֵה)

See how you translated the same image in verse 1. Alternate translation: [and forgive all of my iniquities]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from my sins	the wrong things I have done
wipe away	Please forgive
my iniquities	the wrong things I have done

Psalms 51:10

ULT	UST
Create for me a clean heart, God, and renew an established spirit within me.	O God, please make me want to do only things that please you. Help me to be loyal to you consistently.

ULT Create for me a clean heart
UST please make me want to do only things that please you (לֵב טָהוֹר בְּרָא־לִי)

Here the heart represents a person's thoughts or motives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Give me a new capacity for pure thoughts] or [Give me a new capacity for right motives]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and renew an established spirit within me
UST Help me to be loyal to you consistently
(וְרוּחַ נָכוֹן חַדֵּשׁ בְּקִרְבִּי)

The expression established is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and renew a steadfast spirit within me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and renew an established spirit within me
UST Help me to be loyal to you consistently
(וְרוּחַ נָכוֹן חַדֵּשׁ בְּקִרְבִּי)

Here a person's spirit represents his attitude, in this case, one of determination. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and enable me once again to be steadfastly determined to obey you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Create	please make
God	O God
established	consistently
and & an & spirit	to be loyal to you

Psalms 51:11

ULT	UST
May you not cast me away from your face, and may you not take the Spirit of your holiness from me.	Please allow me to come into your presence. Please do not make your Holy Spirit leave me.

ULT May you not cast me away from your face
UST Please allow me to come into your presence
(אַל־תַּשְׁלִיכֵנִי מִלִּפְנֶיךָ)

Here God's face represents his "presence." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [May you not cast me away from your presence]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT May you not cast me away from your face
UST Please allow me to come into your presence
(אַל־תַּשְׁלִיכֵנִי מִלִּפְנֶיךָ)

David is speaking as if God might actually cast or throw him away from his presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May you not banish me from your presence]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and may you not take the Spirit of your holiness from me
UST Please do not make your Holy Spirit leave me
(וְרוּחַ קָדְשְׁךָ אַל־תִּקַּח מִמֶּנִּי)

David is using the possessive form to describe how God's Spirit is characterized by holiness. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and may you not take your Holy Spirit from me]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and & the Spirit of	Spirit
your holiness	your Holy

Psalms 51:12

ULT	UST
Restore to me the joy of your salvation, and support me {with} a willing spirit.	Please save me {from the guilt and punishment of my sin}. That will make me very happy again. Please make me eager to obey you so that I do not sin again.

ULT Restore to me the joy of your salvation
UST Please save me {from the guilt and punishment of my sin}. That will make me very happy again
(הָשִׁיבָה לִּי שְׂשׂוֹן יִשְׁעֶךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of joy and salvation, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Make me joyful again that you have saved me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and support me {with} a willing spirit
UST Please make me eager to obey you so that I do not sin again
(וְרוּחַ נְדִיבָה תִסְמְכֵנִי)

David is speaking as if he wanted God to use a willing spirit like a cane or walking stick to support him, that is, to keep him from falling down. Within this image, falling down represents disobeying and sinning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and to keep me from sinning, make me willing to obey you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Restore	again
the joy of	That will make & very happy
your salvation	Please save me {from the guilt and punishment of my sin
and & with} a & spirit	me

Psalms 51:13

ULT	UST
Let me teach transgressors your ways, that sinners may return to you.	Please make me so obedient that I can even teach people who are doing wrong things how you want them to live instead. That way people who have been disobeying you will start obeying you again.

ULT your ways
UST how you want them to live instead (דְּרָכֶיךָ)

David is speaking of the manners in which God wants people to live as if they were ways or paths that people would be walking along. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [how you want people to live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT that sinners may return to you
UST That way people who have been disobeying you will start obeying you again
(וְחַטָּאִים אֵלֶיךָ יָשׁוּבוּ)

David is speaking as if sinners had actually gone to some place away from God from which they would return to him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that sinners may repent]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
that sinners	That way people who have been disobeying you may return	will start obeying & again

Psalms 51:14

ULT	UST
Deliver me from blood, God, the God of my salvation, may my tongue sing {about} your righteousness.	God, I admit that I deserve to die because I murdered someone, but please rescue me from that punishment. You can save me {from the guilt and punishment of my sin} because you are God. When you do that, I will sing joyfully about how good you are.

ULT from blood
UST I admit that I deserve to die because I murdered someone (מִדָּמִ֑ים)

Here, blood represents "bloodguiltiness," that is, legal liability to punishment by death for murdering another person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [from the death penalty I deserve for killing someone]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT God, the God of my salvation
UST God & You can save me {from the guilt and punishment of my sin} because you are God
(אֱלֹהִ֗ים אֱלֹהֵ֥י תְּשׁוּעָתִ֑י)

David is repeating the word God to emphasize that the basis of his plea is the merciful, saving character of God. If your language can repeat words for emphasis, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [you who are God my Savior]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT may my tongue sing
UST When you do that, I will sing joyfully
(תְּרַנֵּ֖ן לְשׁוֹנִ֣י)

David is using one part of himself, his tongue, to mean all of him in the act of singing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [may I sing]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT about} your righteousness
> UST about how good you are > (צִדְקָתֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [about how righteous you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Deliver me	but please rescue me from that punishment
God	God
the God of	because you are God
my salvation	You can save me {from the guilt and punishment of my sin
my tongue	I
about} your righteousness	about how good you are

Psalms 51:15

ULT	UST
Lord, may you open my lips, that my mouth may declare your praise.	Lord, {please do these things so that} I will have a reason to speak publicly and say things to praise you.

ULT Lord, may you open my lips
UST Lord, {please do these things so that} I will have a reason to speak publicly (אֲדֹנָי שְׂפָתַי תִּפְתָּח)

David is not asking God physically to open his lips. He means that he wants God to do something (forgive and restore him, as he has asked) that will cause him to open his lips and declare God's praise with his mouth. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Do this, Lord, so that I may open my lips]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT may you open my lips
UST please do these things so that} I will have a reason to speak publicly (שְׂפָתַי תִּפְתָּח)

Here David's lips represent him speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [give me something to speak about]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT that my mouth may declare your praise
UST and say things to praise you
(וּפִי יַגִּיד תְּהִלָּתֶךָ)

David is using one part of himself, his mouth, to mean all of him in the act of praising God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that I may declare your praise]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
may declare	and say
your praise	things to praise you

Psalms 51:16

ULT	UST
For you do not delight in sacrifice, or I would give {it}; you do not accept a burnt offering.	If you had wanted me to offer a sacrifice {because of the sin I committed}, I would certainly have done that. But you do not accept burnt offerings {from people who bring them to try to make things right with you after committing murder}.

ULT For
UST If
(כִּי)

Here the word For does not introduce a reason for what immediately precedes. Instead, it introduces a general explanation for what David has been asking throughout this psalm. You may want to use a different connecting word to show how this statement relates to what comes before it. Alternate translation: [After all,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT you do not delight in sacrifice & you do not accept a burnt offering
UST If you had wanted me to offer a sacrifice {because of the sin I committed & But you do not accept burnt offerings {from people who bring them to try to make things right with you after committing murder
(לֹא־תַחְפֹּץ זֶבַח & עוֹלָה לֹא תִרְצֶה)

David means specifically that God does not want a sacrifice and that God does not accept a burnt offering as the grounds on which to pardon someone who has committed murder. (The law of Moses provides for no such sacrifice.) You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you do not delight in sacrifice in cases of murder … you do not accept a burnt offering to pardon a murderer]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you do & delight in	you had wanted
sacrifice	me to offer a sacrifice {because of the sin I committed a burnt offering	burnt offerings {from people who bring them to try to make things right with you after committing murder

Psalms 51:17

ULT	UST
The sacrifices of God {are} a broken spirit. A broken and crushed heart, God, you will not despise.	What you really want is for people to pray to you in genuine humility {and ask for forgiveness}. When a person is very sorrowful for his sin, you, God, do not reject him.

ULT The sacrifices of God
UST What you really want
(זִבְחֵי אֱלֹהִים)

David is using this possessive form not to describe sacrifices that God makes but sacrifices that God wants and accepts. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The sacrifices that God wants] or [The sacrifices that God accepts]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT are} a broken spirit
UST is for people to pray to you in genuine humility {and ask for forgiveness
(רֽוּחַ נִשְׁבָּרָה)

The expression broken is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [are a spirit that has broken]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT are} a broken spirit
UST is for people to pray to you in genuine humility {and ask for forgiveness
(רֽוּחַ נִשְׁבָּרָה)

David is speaking as if a person's spirit were actually an object that could be broken. The image is of something that is broken so that it has fallen down in pieces, with lowliness representing humility. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are a humble spirit]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT are} a broken spirit
UST is for people to pray to you in genuine humility {and ask for forgiveness
(רֽוּחַ נִשְׁבָּרָה)

As in verse 10, here a person's spirit represents his attitude. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are a humble attitude]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT A broken and crushed heart
UST When a person is very sorrowful for his sin
(לֵב־נִשְׁבָּר וְנִדְכֶּה)

The expressions broken and crushed are passive verbal forms. If your language would not use those forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A heart that an awareness of the seriousness of sin has broken and crushed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT A broken and crushed heart
UST When a person is very sorrowful for his sin
(לֵב־נִשְׁבָּר וְנִדְכֶּה)

The terms broken and crushed mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [A completely broken heart] or [A heart that an awareness of the seriousness of sin has completely broken]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT A broken and crushed heart
UST When a person is very sorrowful for his sin
(לֵב־נִשְׁבָּר וְנִדְכֶּה)

Here the heart represents a person's inner being. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A person who is deeply humbled by an awareness of the seriousness of his sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The sacrifices of	What & really want
God	you
are} a & spirit	is for people to pray to you in genuine humility {and ask for forgiveness

Psalms 51:18

ULT	UST
Do good to Zion in your acceptance; build the walls of Jerusalem.	Please regard us Israelites favorably and help us. Protect us from our enemies.

ULT Zion
UST us Israelites
(צִיּוֹן)

David is using Mount Zion, the location of the Israelite capital city of Jerusalem, to represent the people of Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the people of Israel]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in your acceptance
UST Please regard & favorably
(בְּרצוֹנְךָ)

The noun that the ULT translates as acceptance here comes from the same root as the verb that it translates as "accept" in verse 16. However, the perspective is broader here. David is not asking God to Do good to Zion based on God's acceptance of him personally as a penitent and forgiven sinner. Instead, he is asking that all of the people of Israel would experience God's renewed favor now that he, as their king, has repented. Your language may have a term that you can use in your translation to indicate this. Alternate translation: [in your favor]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT build the walls of Jerusalem
UST Protect us from our enemies
(תִּבְנֶה חוֹמוֹת יְרוּשָׁלִָם)

David is speaking as if Jerusalem did not have walls, and he wanted God to build some for the city. He is using Jerusalem to represent the people of Israel and walls to represent their protection. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [strengthen the defenses of Israel] or [strongly protect us Israelites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do good	and help us
Zion	us Israelites
in your acceptance	Please regard & favorably
Jerusalem	us

Psalms 51:19

ULT	UST
Then you will delight in sacrifices of righteousness, a burnt offering and a whole {one}. Then they will offer bulls on your altar.	Then people will offer sacrifices to you for the right reasons. They will bring animals that they will burn completely as offerings to you. They will completely burn up young bulls on your altar. You will gladly accept these sacrifices.

ULT sacrifices of righteousness
UST people will offer sacrifices to you for the right reasons & these sacrifices
(זִבְחֵי־צֶֽדֶק)

David is using the possessive form to describe sacrifices that are characterized by the righteousness of those offering them. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [rightly offered sacrifices]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT a burnt offering and a whole {one
UST They will bring animals that they will burn completely as offerings to you
(עוֹלָה וְכָלִֽיל)

David is using the adjective whole as a noun to mean a certain kind of sacrifice. (The ULT indicates this by supplying the word one.) Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [a burnt offering and a wholly consumed sacrifice]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT a burnt offering and a whole {one
UST They will bring animals that they will burn completely as offerings to you
(עוֹלָה וְכָלִֽיל)

Together, the expressions a burnt offering and a whole one express a single idea. The word whole tells to what extent this offering would be burnt. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [a wholly burnt offering]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT a burnt offering and a whole {one
UST They will bring animals that they will burn completely as offerings to you
(עוֹלָה וְכָלִיל)

David is not referring to a specific wholly burnt offering. He means such offerings in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [wholly burnt offerings]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT Then they will offer bulls
UST Then & They will completely burn up young bulls
(אָז יַעֲלוּ & פָּרִים)

Here David is using the pronoun they in a general sense, not to refer to specific people. Use an expression for this that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Then people will offer bulls] or [Then bulls will be offered]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you will delight in	You will gladly accept sacrifices of	people will offer sacrifices to you & these sacrifices righteousness	for the right reasons
a burnt offering	They will bring animals that they will burn completely as offerings to you
bulls	young bulls
your altar	your altar

Psalms 51:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT he had gone in to Bathsheba
> UST having sexual relations with {another man’s wife,} Bathsheba
> (בָּא אֶל־בַּת־שָׁבַע)

This superscription, referring to events described in 2 Samuel 11:1–12:25, describes sexual relations in a polite way by using the phrase had gone in to. Depending on what is helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly, as the UST does. Alternate translation: [he had slept with Bathsheba]

Support Reference: Euphemism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm of	this song
David	King David wrote
Nathan	Nathan
the prophet	the prophet
Bathsheba	Bathsheba

Psalms 52

Psalms 52 Introduction

Psalm 52 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 52 is a specific kind of psalm of supplication, an “imprecatory psalm” in which the psalmist describes the actions of wicked people and asks God to judge and punish them. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Description of Doeg’s wickedness (1–4)
2. Declaration that God will punish Doeg (5–7)
3. David’s statement of his confidence in God (8–9)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “maskil.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

As its superscription indicates, the background to this psalm is an episode related in 1 Samuel 22:6–23, in which Doeg the Edomite, one of King Saul’s officers, killed Yahweh’s priests and their families. It may be helpful to read that episode before translating this psalm.

Psalms 52:1

ULT	UST
Why do you boast about harm, O warrior? The covenant faithfulness of God all of the day.	{Doeg,} you are boasting as if you were a great warrior because you killed so many people{, but you are wrong to boast, because they were helpless}. God always protects me because he is kind to me.

ULT Why do you boast about harm, O warrior
UST Doeg,} you are boasting as if you were a great warrior because you killed so many people{, but you are wrong to boast, because they were helpless
(מַה־תִּתְהַלֵּל בָּרָעָה הַגִּבּוֹר)

David actually means to communicate the opposite of the literal meaning of what he is saying here. While Doeg had caused great harm by killing all of Yahweh's priests and their families (1 Samuel 22:18–19), those were harmless, defenseless people, so this was not the kind of feat that a true warrior would boast about. If a speaker of your language would not say the opposite of what he meant as a way of showing how he felt about what he was saying, you could translate the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Why do you boast about killing defenseless people as if that made you a great warrior?]

Support Reference: Irony

ULT Why do you boast about harm, O warrior
UST Doeg,} you are boasting as if you were a great warrior because you killed so many people{, but you are wrong to boast, because they were helpless
(מַה־תִּתְהַלֵּל בָּרָעָה הַגִּבּוֹר)

David is using the question form to mock and ridicule Doeg. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should not boast about killing defenseless people as if that made you great warrior!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Why do you boast about harm, O warrior
UST Doeg,} you are boasting as if you were a great warrior because you killed so many people{, but you are wrong to boast, because they were helpless
(מַה־תִּתְהַלֵּל בָּרָעָה הַגִּבּוֹר)

Here and through verse 5, David addresses Doeg directly, even though he knows Doeg cannot hear him. He is doing this to communicate to himself and to anyone who hears this song that he feels very strongly about how Doeg killed the priests of Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, here and through verse 5 you could translate what David says to Doeg as if he were speaking to other people about him. Alternate translation: [Doeg should not boast about killing defenseless people as if that made him great warrior!]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT The covenant faithfulness of God all of the day
UST God always protects me because he is kind to me
(חֶסֶד אֵל כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [The covenant faithfulness of God lasts all of the day]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT The covenant faithfulness of God all of the day
UST God always protects me because he is kind to me
(חֶסֶד אֵל כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

David is using the term day to mean “time,” since time consists of days. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The covenant faithfulness of God lasts all the time]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT The covenant faithfulness of God all of the day
UST God always protects me because he is kind to me
(חֶסֶד אֵל כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God is always faithful to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
do you boast	Doeg,} you are boasting about harm	because you killed so many people
O warrior	as if you were a great warrior
The covenant faithfulness of God	protects me because he is kind to me God

Psalms 52:2

ULT	UST
Like a sharpened razor, your tongue devises calamities, worker of betrayal!	You say things that you know will cause great harm to other people. It is as if your tongue is a sharp knife slashing people. People did something innocently, but you reported it in such a way that they seemed to be guilty.

ULT Like a sharpened razor
UST a sharp knife slashing people
(כְּתַעַר מְלֻטָּשׁ)

The expression sharpened is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Like a sharp razor] or [Like a razor that someone has sharpened]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT Like a sharpened razor
UST a sharp knife slashing people
(כְּתַעַר מְלֻטָּשׁ)

The point of this comparison is that just as a sharpened razor is dangerous and potentially destructive, so is Doeg's tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [Like a dangerous sharpened razor] or [Like a dangerously sharp razor]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT your tongue devises calamities
UST You say things that you know will cause great harm to other people. It is as if your tongue is (הָוֹות תַּחְשֹׁב לְשׁוֹנֶךָ)

David is speaking of Doeg's tongue as if it were a living thing that could devise calamities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what you say causes calamities]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT worker of betrayal
> UST People did something innocently, but you reported it in such a way that they seemed to be guilty
> (עֹשֵׂה רְמִיָּה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of betrayal, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you who have betrayed innocent people to their deaths]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your tongue	You & It is as if your tongue is calamities	things that you know will cause great harm to other people

Psalms 52:3

ULT	UST
You love evil more than good, lying more than speaking righteousness. Selah	You like to do what is wrong more than you like to do what is right. You like to tell lies more than you like to tell the truth. Selah

ULT lying more than speaking righteousness
UST You like to tell lies more than you like to tell the truth
(שֶׁקֶר ׀ מְדַבֵּר צֶדֶק)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and you love lying more than speaking righteousness]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT righteousness
UST the truth
(צֶדֶק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is right] or [truthfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

To translate the term Selah here and in verse 5, see how your translation team decided to represent that term in 3:2.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You love	You like
evil	to do what is wrong
more than good	more than you like to do what is right righteousness	the truth
Selah	Selah

Psalms 52:4

ULT	UST
You love all words of destruction, tongue of betrayal!	You like to say anything that will cause harm to people. What you say causes innocent people to suffer.

ULT all words of destruction
UST to say anything that will cause harm to people
(כָּל־דִּבְרֵי־בָלַֽע)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of destruction, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [all words that destroy others]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT all words of destruction
UST to say anything that will cause harm to people
(כָּל־דִּבְרֵי־בָלַֽע)

David is using the term words to represent what Doeg says by using words. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to say anything that will destroy other people]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT tongue of betrayal
UST What you say causes innocent people to suffer
(לְשׁוֹן מִרְמָה)

David is using one part of Doeg, his tongue, to represent all of him in the act of saying things that betrayed innocent people to their deaths. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you treacherous person]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You love	You like
destruction	that will cause harm to people tongue of	What you say

Psalms 52:5

ULT	UST
God will also tear you down forever. He will take you away and tear you from the tent and uproot you from the land of the living. Selah	But God will destroy you permanently, just as you have destroyed others. You may feel safe in your home, but God will take you from there and remove you from this world in which people are alive. Selah

ULT God will also tear you down forever. He will take you away and tear you from the tent and uproot you from the land of the living
UST But God will destroy you permanently, just as you have destroyed others. You may feel safe in your home, but God will take you from there and remove you from this world in which people are alive
(גַּם־אֵל יִתֶּצְךָ לָנֶצַח יַחְתְּךָ וְיִסָּחֲךָ מֵאֹהֶל וְשָׁרְשְׁךָ מֵאֶרֶץ חַיִּים)

The verbs in this verse are in a form that Hebrew writers could use to express either a statement or a wish. It would be consistent with the usual pattern of an imprecatory psalm (see the introduction to this psalm) for David to express a wish at this point that God would judge and punish this wicked person. However, he may also be making a confident statement about what God will do. The original audience would have heard both nuances. Use the verbal form in your language that seems most suitable. Alternate translation: [May God also tear you down forever! May he take you away and tear you from the tent and uproot you from the land of the living!]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT God will also tear you down
UST But God will destroy you & just as you have destroyed others
(גַּם־אֵל יִתֶּצְךָ)

David is speaking of Doeg as if he were actually a building or wall that God would tear down. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God will also destroy you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT He will take you away and tear you from the tent
UST You may feel safe in your home, but God will take you from there
(יַחְתְּךָ וְיִסָּחֲךָ מֵאֹהֶל)

David is describing one event before describing another event that would precede it. If it would be helpful your language, you may wish to relate these events in the order in which they would happen. Alternate translation: [He will tear you from the tent and take you away]

Support Reference: Order of Events

ULT He will take you away and tear you from the tent
UST You may feel safe in your home, but God will take you from there
(יַחְתְּךָ֤ וְיִסָּחֲךָ֨ מֵאֹ֗הֶל)

David is speaking as if Doeg were actually attached to or part of the tent in which he lived and as if God would physically tear him from the tent. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He will remove you from the tent you live in and take you away]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and uproot you
UST and remove you
(וְשָׁרְשְׁךָ֥)

David is speaking as if Doeg were a plant that God would uproot from the soil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and remove you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from the land of the living
UST from this world in which people are alive
(מֵאֶ֣רֶץ חַיִּ֑ים)

David is using the adjective living as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [from the land of people who are alive]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT from the land of the living
UST from this world in which people are alive
(מֵאֶ֣רֶץ חַיִּ֑ים)

Here the land of the living represents the people who figuratively inhabit that land. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [from among people who are alive]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	But God
forever	permanently
from the tent	You may feel safe in your home from the land of	from this world in which
Selah	Selah

Psalms 52:6

ULT	UST
And the righteous will see and fear, and they will laugh at him.	When good people see that, they will respect God {for being just}. They will laugh at you.

ULT And the righteous will see
UST When good people see that (וְיִרְאוּ צַדִּיקִים)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [And righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT at him
UST at you
(וְעָלָיו)

Since David has been addressing Doeg directly (even though he cannot hear him) to show that he feels strongly about what he did, you may wish to use the pronoun “you” here instead of the pronoun him. However, there is poetic effect in the change of pronoun. David describes in the previous verse how God will destroy Doeg, and in this verse it is as if that has already happened, so that Doeg is no longer around to address directly. Use the pronoun that will be most natural and effective in your language.

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the righteous	good people
and fear	they will respect God {for being just

Psalms 52:7

ULT	UST
“Behold, the man did not make God his refuge, but he trusted in the abundance of his wealth; he was strong in his calamity.”	{They will say,} “Look what happened to this man who did not trust God to protect him. He thought that because he had a lot of money, he could avoid trouble. He believed that harming other people would make him powerful.”

ULT Behold, the man
UST They will say,} “Look what happened to this man
(הִנֵּה הַגֶּבֶר)

This verse is a direct quotation of the righteous people described in the previous verse. The ULT indicates that by putting this verse inside quotation marks. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could also use a natural way of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [They will say, “Behold, the man]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Behold
UST They will say,} “Look what happened to (הִנֵּה)

These righteous people are using the term Behold to focus their listeners’ attention on what they are about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the man did not make God his refuge
UST this man who did not trust God to protect him
(הַגֶּבֶר לֹא יָשִׂים אֱלֹהִים מָעוּזוֹ)

These people are speaking of Doeg as if he should actually have made God his refuge, that is, the place where he could go to be safe from danger. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the term “refuge” in 14:6. Alternate translation: [the man did not depend on God for protection]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the man
> UST this man
> (הַגִּבֹּר)

The term that the ULT translates as man refers to a full-grown male. It is related to the word that the ULT translates as “warrior” in verse 1, and it can refer to a soldier. The people may be using it in a mocking sense, like David did in verse 1. Your language may have a word or phrase that you can use to bring out this sense in your translation. Alternate translation: [the big man]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
his refuge	to protect him
but he trusted	He thought that because he had & he could avoid trouble in his calamity	harming other people

Psalms 52:8

ULT	UST
But I {am} like a green olive tree in the house of God. I will trust in the covenant faithfulness of God forever and ever.	But I am safe, just like the olive trees that the priests plant and care for in the courtyard of the place where we worship God. I know that God will always be kind to me.

ULT But I {am} like a green olive tree in the house of God
UST But I am safe, just like the olive trees that the priests plant and care for in the courtyard of the place where we worship God
(וְאֲנִי | כְּזֵיַת רַעֲנָן בְּבֵית אֱלֹהִים)

The point of this comparison is that just as such a tree was secure and carefully tended, so God keeps David safe and cares for him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [But I am secure and well cared for, like a green olive tree in the house of God]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT am} like a green olive tree
UST am safe, just like the olive trees that the priests plant and care for (כְּזֵיַת רַעֲנָן)

David is using the term green not to describe the color of this tree but to indicate that it is alive. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [like a living olive tree] or [like a thriving olive tree]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in the house of God
UST in the courtyard of the place where we worship God
(בְּבֵית אֱלֹהִים)

David is speaking of God's sanctuary as if it were actually a house in which he lived. He does not mean that the tree to which he is comparing himself is actually within the sanctuary itself. There was probably a courtyard around the tent that David set up for the Box of Yahweh (2 Samuel 6:17), just as there was a courtyard around the temple that his son Solomon later built on the same site. In such courtyards there were trees that priests planted and tended. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in the courtyard of the sanctuary of God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT in the covenant faithfulness of
> UST will & be kind to me
> (בְּחַסְדּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in all the ways he is faithful to the covenant of]

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
am} like a & olive tree	am safe, just like the olive trees in the house of God	in the courtyard of the place where we worship God
God	God
I will trust	I know that in the covenant faithfulness of	will & be kind to me
forever	always

Psalms 52:9

ULT	UST
I will thank you forever, for you have done {this}. I will await your name, for {it is} good before your faithful {ones}.	I am confident that you, God, are going to do what I have described, and I will always praise you for that. You have demonstrated to the people who are faithful to you that you are good. So I will wait patiently for you to act according to your good character.

ULT I will thank you forever, for you have done {this
UST I am confident that you, God, are going to do what I have described, and I will always praise you for that (אוֹדְךָ֥ לְעוֹלָ֗ם כִּ֤י עָשִׂ֗יתָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because you have done this, I will praise you forever]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you have done {this
UST I am confident that you, God, are going to do what I have described
(עָשִׂ֗יתָ)

David is using a verbal form that typically describes action completed in the past. While verbal forms are more flexible in poetry, he may be using this form to describe something that is going to happen in the future in order to show that the event will certainly happen. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use the future tense. Alternate translation: [you will do this]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT I will await your name, for {it is} good before your faithful {ones
UST You have demonstrated to the people who are faithful to you that you are good. So I will wait patiently for you to act according to your good character (וַאֲקַוֶּ֥ה שִׁמְךָ֖ כִּי־טֹ֑וב נֶ֝גֶד חֲסִידֶֽיךָ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because your name is good before your faithful ones, I will await it]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I will await your name
UST I will wait patiently for you to act according to your good character (וְאֲקַוֶּה שִׁמְךָ)

Here God's name represents his reputation. David means that he will wait for God to confirm his reputation for being just by judging and punishing Doeg. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I will wait for you to confirm your reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT it is} good before your faithful {ones
UST You have demonstrated to the people who are faithful to you that you are good (טֹוב נֶגֶד חֲסִידֶיךָ)

Here God's name being before his faithful ones represents it being where they can see it. In other words, God has shown them that his name is good, that is, that he deserves his good reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [you have shown your faithful ones that it is good]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT your faithful {ones
UST the people who are faithful to you
(חֲסִידֶיךָ)

David is using the adjective faithful as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. The ULT indicates this by supplying the word ones. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [your faithful people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
forever	always
it is} good	that you are good
your faithful {ones	the people who are faithful to you

Psalms 52:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT A maskil of
> UST this song
> (מַשְׂכִּיל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

> ULT When Doeg the Edomite came and declared to Saul and said to him, “David came to the house of Ahimelech
> UST when Doeg the Edomite went to King Saul and told him, “David went to Ahimelech’s house
> (בְּבוֹא ׀ דּוֹאֵג הָאֲדֹמִי וַיַּגֶּד לְשָׁאוּל וַיֹּאמֶר לוֹ בָּא דָוִד אֶל־בֵּית אֲחִימֶלֶךְ)

This superscription is referring to events related in 1 Samuel 22:6–23. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could describe these events more fully. Alternate translation: [David wrote this song when Doeg the Edomite, an officer of King Saul, came and told Saul that David, whom Saul was trying to kill, had gone to the high priest Ahimelech and that he had received help from him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT and said to him
> UST and told him
> (וַיֹּאמֶר לוֹ)

This phrase introduces a direct quotation. In your translation, use a natural way of introducing direct quotations in your language. It may not be necessary to represent this phrase explicitly.

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT A maskil of David. When Doeg the Edomite came and declared to Saul and said to him, “David came to the house of Ahimelech
> UST David wrote this song when Doeg the Edomite went to King Saul and told him, “David went to Ahimelech’s house
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ לְדָוִד: בְּבוֹא | דוֹאֵג הָאֲדֹמִי וַיַּגֶּד לְשָׁאוּל וַיֹּאמֶר לוֹ בָּא דָוִד אֶל־בֵּית אֲחִימֶלֶךְ)

This superscription is referring to events related in 1 Samuel 23:19–23. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could describe these events more fully. Alternate translation: [This is a maskil that David wrote when he was hiding in the wilderness of Ziph from King Saul, who wanted to kill him, and the people who lived there went and told Saul that he was hiding among them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
David	David wrote
the Edomite	the Edomite
and declared	and told to Saul	to King Saul
David	David
the house of	house

Psalms 53

Psalms 53 Introduction

Psalm 53 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 53 is a slightly modified version of Psalm 14, which is a wisdom psalm that describes the difference between how righteous people and wicked people live and the difference between what happens to them. The editor of this psalm reworked Psalm 14:5–6 into Psalm 53:5 in such a way that a foreign army that attacked the Israelites serves as a specific example of wicked people seeking to oppress innocent people, and God's destruction of that army provides a specific example of how God judges and punishes wicked people. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. A description of wicked people (1–4)
2. God punishes wicked people but helps his own people (5–6)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a "maskil." See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

Why does Psalm 53 say "God" in the places where Psalm 14 says "Yahweh"?

Except for the reworking of Psalm 14:5–6 into Psalm 53:5, Psalm 53 is essentially the same as Psalm 14, with only minor differences (such as saying "and they do" rather than just "they do" in verse 1). However, one significant difference is that in the four places where Psalm 14 uses the divine name "Yahweh," Psalm 53 says "God." Many interpreters believe that this is to show that God's judgment against wicked people and help for innocent people extend beyond the community of those who are in a specific covenant relationship with him. They apply to the entire world, as the destruction of this foreign army demonstrates.

Psalms 53:1

ULT	UST
The fool says in his heart, “No God.” They are corrupt, and they do iniquity abominably. {There is} none doing good.	People who do not want to obey God tell themselves that God does not exist. People like that are bad. They do terrible things. Every one of them acts wickedly.

ULT The fool
UST People who do not want to obey God
(נָבָל)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific fool. He means foolish people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A foolish person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT says in his heart
UST tell themselves
(אָמַר & בְּלִבּוֹ)

Here the heart represents a person’s thoughts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [thinks]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT No God
UST that God does not exist
(אֵין אֱלֹהִים)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [There is no God]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT They are corrupt
UST People like that are bad
(הִשְׁחִיתוּ)

The pronoun They refers to foolish people who deny God. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Such foolish people are corrupt]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT good
> UST Every one of them acts wickedly
> (טֹוב)

The psalmist is using the adjective good as a noun to mean a certain kind of action. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase, here and in verse 3. Alternate translation: [good things]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The fool	People who do not want to obey God
God	God
They are corrupt	People like that are bad
iniquity	They do terrible things
good	Every one of them acts wickedly

Psalms 53:2

ULT	UST
God looks down from the heavens on the sons of man to see whether there is one understanding, one seeking God.	God looks down from heaven at the people on the earth. He wants to find out whether any of them are wise and want to know him.

ULT the sons of man
UST the people on the earth
(בְּנֵי אָדָם)

The psalmist is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean “human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [human beings]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT one seeking God
UST and want to know him
(דֹּרֵשׁ אֶת־אֱלֹהִים)

Since the psalmist has already used the name “God” earlier in this sentence, it may be more natural in your language to use a pronoun here. Alternate translation: [one seeking him]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
from the heavens	from heaven
one understanding	are wise
one seeking	and want to know
God	him

Psalms 53:3

ULT	UST
All of him has turned away. Together they have corrupted themselves. {There is} none doing good, not even one.	But they have all chosen to disobey God. They have all become bad people. Every single one of them acts wickedly.

ULT All of him has turned away
UST But they have all chosen to disobey God
(כֻּלּוֹ סָג֗וּ)

The pronoun him refers back to “man” in the previous verse. It may be helpful to use a term in your translation that will clarify this for your readers. Another possibility would be to use a plural pronoun, as the psalmist does in the next sentence. Alternate translation: [All of mankind has turned away] or [All of them have turned away]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT All of him has turned away
UST But they have all chosen to disobey God
(כֻּלּוֹ סָג֗וּ)

The psalmist is speaking as if people had physically turned away from God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [All of them have abandoned God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT There is} none doing good, not even one
UST Every single one of them acts wickedly
(אֵ֤ין עֹשֵׂה־טּ֗וֹב אֵ֣ין גַּם־אֶחָֽד)

The psalmist is saying none and not even one as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [All people are sinful]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they have corrupted themselves	They have & become bad people
good	Every & one of them acts wickedly

Psalms 53:4

ULT	UST
Do they not know, the doers of iniquity, the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread? They do not call {upon} God.	They take away people's possessions until they have nothing left. They do that as easily as they would eat a loaf of bread. The people who do such bad things ought to realize {that God is going to punish them}. But they do not worship God.

ULT Do they not know, the doers of iniquity, the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread
UST They take away people's possessions until they have nothing left. They do that as easily as they would eat a loaf of bread. The people who do such bad things ought to realize {that God is going to punish them
(הֲלֹא יֵדְעוּ֮ פֹּ֤עֲלֵי אָ֨וֶן ׀ אֹכְלֵ֣י עַמִּ֣י אָכְל֣וּ לֶ֑חֶם)

The psalmist is using the question form to express amazement that wicked people oppress others without recognizing that God will judge and punish them for doing that. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [They ought to know better, the doers of iniquity, the ones eating my people as they eat bread!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread
UST They take away people's possessions until they have nothing left. They do that as easily as they would eat a loaf of bread
(אֹכְלֵ֣י עַמִּ֣י אָכְל֣וּ לֶ֑חֶם)

The point of this comparison is that just as someone can eat bread easily and quickly, so these doers of iniquity readily oppress and exploit vulnerable people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [the ones eating my people as readily as they eat bread]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT the ones eating my people {as} they eat bread
UST They take away people's possessions until they have nothing left. They do that as easily as they would eat a loaf of bread
(אֹכְלֵ֣י עַמִּ֣י אָכְל֣וּ לֶ֑חֶם)

The psalmist is speaking as if these doers of iniquity were actually eating the people of his nation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones exploiting my people as readily as they eat bread]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do they & know	ought to realize {that God is going to punish them
iniquity	such bad things
the ones eating	They take away & until they have nothing left bread	a loaf of bread
upon} God	God

Psalms 53:5

ULT	UST
There they feared a fear {when} no fear was, because God scattered the bones of the one encamping against you. You have shamed {them}, for God despises them.	An army came and attacked the Israelites. Its soldiers did not have to be afraid that the Israelites would defeat them. But God made them lose in battle so badly that the survivors were not even able to bury the dead soldiers. This made them very afraid. God regarded this army as insignificant {compared with his great power}. {He helped} the Israelites{, and so they} were able to humiliate those soldiers {by defeating them}.

ULT they feared a fear
UST made them very afraid
(פָּחֲדוּ־פָחַד)

The psalmist is using a construction in which a verb and its object come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of saying this. Alternate translation: [they feared greatly]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT God scattered the bones of the one encamping against you. You have shamed {them}, for God despises them
UST An army came and attacked the Israelites & God made them lose in battle so badly that the survivors were not even able to bury the dead soldiers & God regarded this army as insignificant {compared with his great power}. {He helped} the Israelites{, and so they} were able to humiliate those soldiers {by defeating them
(אֱלֹהִים פִּזַּר עַצְמוֹת חֹנֶךָ הֱבִשֹׁתָה כִּי־אֱלֹהִים מְאָסָם)

The psalmist is addressing the nation of Israel as if it were an individual, even though he knows that it cannot hear him. He is doing this to communicate to anyone who hears this song that he feels very strongly about how God defeated and destroyed this attacking army. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words as if the psalmist were speaking objectively about this army. Alternate translation: [God scattered the bones of the ones encamping against Israel. The Israelites have shamed them, for God despises them]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT God scattered the bones of
UST God made them lose in battle so badly that the survivors were not even able to bury the dead soldiers
(אֱלֹהִים פִּזַּר עַצְמוֹת)

The psalmist is using the fact that the surviving soldiers of this army were not able to bury their fellow soldiers who were killed, so that their bones were left scattered on the field of battle, to represent how completely God defeated this army. Alternate translation: [God completely defeated and destroyed]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the one encamping against you
UST An army came and attacked the Israelites (חֹנֶךָ)

The psalmist is using one person who was involved in encamping against the Israelites, probably the king who commanded this army, to mean everyone who was involved. (This is clear from the way the psalmist says them later in this verse.) If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones encamping against you] or [the soldiers who attacked you]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT the one encamping against you. You have shamed {them
UST An army came and attacked the Israelites & they} were able to humiliate those soldiers {by defeating them
(חֹנֶךָ הֱבִשֹׁתָה)

The word “you” is singular in both instances in this verse, so use the singular form in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT the one encamping against you. You have shamed {them
UST An army came and attacked the Israelites & they} were able to humiliate those soldiers {by defeating them
(חֹנֶךָ הֱבִשֹׁתָה)

The pronoun you seems to refer in context to “Israel” in the next verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [against you, Israel. You have shamed them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they feared	made them & afraid
a fear	very
God	God
scattered	made them lose in battle so badly that the survivors were not even able to bury the dead soldiers
You have shamed {them	they} were able to humiliate those soldiers {by defeating them

Psalms 53:6

ULT	UST
Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion? When God restores the prosperity of his people, Jacob will be glad, Israel will rejoice.	I wish that God, whose sanctuary is on Mount Zion, would rescue the Israelite people! When God makes his people prosperous again, the Israelites, those descendants of Jacob, will be very happy.

ULT Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion
UST I wish that God, whose sanctuary is on Mount Zion, would rescue the Israelite people
(מִ֤י יִתֵּ֣ן מִצִּיּ֣וֹן יְשׁוּעֹ֣ות יִשְׂרָאֵ֑ל)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Who will give that the salvation of Israel will come from Zion?]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion
UST I wish that God, whose sanctuary is on Mount Zion, would rescue the Israelite people
(מִ֤י יִתֵּ֣ן מִצִּיּ֣וֹן יְשׁוּעֹ֣ות יִשְׂרָאֵ֑ל)

The psalmist is using Who will give as a common expression of his culture to introduce a fervent wish. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [O that salvation for Israel would come from Zion!] or [I fervently wish that salvation for Israel would come from Zion!]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion
> UST I wish that God, whose sanctuary is on Mount Zion, would rescue the Israelite people
> (מִ֤י יִתֵּן֙ מִצִּיּ֣וֹן יְשׁוּעֹ֔ות יִשְׂרָאֵ֑ל)

The psalmist is using Mount Zion, the location of God's sanctuary, to represent God himself in the act of providing salvation for Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [O that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to provide for the salvation of Israel!] or [I fervently wish that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to provide for the salvation of Israel!]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Who will give the salvation of Israel from Zion
> UST I wish that God, whose sanctuary is on Mount Zion, would rescue the Israelite people
> (מִ֤י יִתֵּן֙ מִצִּיּ֣וֹן יְשׁוּעֹ֔ות יִשְׂרָאֵ֑ל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [O that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to save Israel!] or [I fervently wish that God would act from his sanctuary on Mount Zion to save Israel!]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT When God restores the prosperity of his people
> UST When God makes his people prosperous again
> (בְּשׁ֣וּב אֱלֹהִ֣ים שְׁבִ֣ות עַמֹּ֑ו)

The word that the ULT translates as prosperity can also mean "captivity." If that is the meaning, then this verse could have been added to the psalm later, after the Israelites were conquered and taken into captivity. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to follow the translation that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. Alternate translation: [When God restores the captivity of his people] or [When God brings his people back from captivity]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT Jacob will be glad, Israel will rejoice
> UST the Israelites, those descendants of Jacob, will be very happy
> (יָגֵל יַעֲקֹב יִשְׂמַח יִשְׂרָאֵל)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms. Alternate translation: [Israel will rejoice greatly] or [Jacob will be glad; indeed, Israel will rejoice]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT Jacob will be glad, Israel will rejoice
> UST the Israelites, those descendants of Jacob, will be very happy
> (יָגֵל יַעֲקֹב יִשְׂמַח יִשְׂרָאֵל)

The psalmist is using the two names of the ancestor of the Israelites, Jacob and Israel, to represent the Israelites themselves. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The descendants of Jacob will be glad; indeed, the Israelites will rejoice]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the salvation of	would rescue
Israel	the Israelite people
from Zion	God, whose sanctuary is on Mount Zion
God	God
When & restores	When & makes & again
the prosperity of	prosperous
Jacob	those descendants of Jacob will be glad	will be very happy
will rejoice	will be very happy

Psalms 53:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT on “Weakness
> UST to the tune of “Weakness
> (עַל־מָחֲלַ֥ת)

The term that the ULT translates as Weakness could be the name of the tune of this psalm. It might also be a musical instruction indicating that singers should perform the song in a minor key or in a somber tone. Alternate translation: [perform in a minor key] or [perform in a somber tone]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT A maskil of
> UST wrote this song
> (מַשְׂכִּ֗יל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
David	David

Psalms 54

Psalms 54 Introduction

Psalm 54 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 54 is a psalm of supplication or lament. It includes all the basic elements of that type of psalm. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Cry for help (1–2)
2. Description of troubles (3)
3. Statement of trust (4–5a)
4. Petition (5b)
5. Vow of praise (6)
6. Renewed statement of trust (7)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “maskil.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

As its superscription indicates, the background to this psalm is an episode related in 1 Samuel 23:19–23 in which the people who lived in the wilderness of Ziph went and told Saul, who wanted to kill David, that he was hiding among them. It may be helpful to read that episode before translating this psalm.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Variation between “you” and “he”

In verses 1, 2, 6, and the second part of verse 5, David addresses Yahweh directly as “you.” In verses 3, 4, 7, and the first part of verse 5, he speaks about Yahweh as “he.” This variation of pronouns reflects the flow of a psalm of supplication from a cry for help (“you”) to a description of troubles and statement of trust (“he”) to a petition and vow of praise (“you”) to a renewed statement of trust (“he”). However, if it would not be natural in your language to switch back and forth between second-person and third-person pronouns, you could use second-person pronouns throughout the psalm, as some versions do. For example, in verse 3, you might say, “They do not set you, God, before them”; in verse 4, you might say, “you, God, are a helper to me”; and in verse 7, you might say, “you deliver me from every trouble.”

Psalms 54:1

ULT	UST
Save me, God, by your name, and vindicate me by your might.	God, please use your power to save me {from my enemies}! If you do that, people will realize that I have not done anything wrong.

ULT Save me, God, by your name, and vindicate me by your might UST God, please use your power to save me {from my enemies}! If you do that, people will realize that I have not done anything wrong
(אֱלֹהִים בְּשִׁמְךָ הוֹשִׁיעֵנִי וּבִגְבוּרָתְךָ תְּדִינֵנִי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Deliver me, God, by your mighty name] or [Save me, God, by your name; yes, vindicate me by your might]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Save me & and vindicate me by your might UST please use & to save me {from my enemies}! If you do that, people will realize that I have not done anything wrong
(הוֹשִׁיעֵנִי וּבִגְבוּרָתְךָ תְּדִינֵנִי)

The terms Save and vindicate are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than a commands. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request in these cases and in the next verse. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make the meaning clear. Alternate translation: [Please save me … yes, please vindicate me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT by your name
UST your power
(בְּשִׁמְךָ)

David is using God’s name to represent the qualities that people associate with God when they hear his name; specifically in this context, his power. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [by your power] or [by the power for which you have a well-deserved reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Save me	please use & to save me {from my enemies
God	God
and & by your might	If you do that

Psalms 54:2

ULT	UST
Hear my prayer, God; listen to the words of my mouth.	God, please listen to what I say as I pray to you.

ULT to the words of my mouth
UST to what I say
(לְאִמְרֵי־פִֽי)

David is using his mouth to represent what he is saying by using his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to the words that I am speaking]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my prayer	as I pray to you
God	God

Psalms 54:3

ULT	UST
For foreigners have arisen against me, and violent {ones} seek my life. They do not set God before them. Selah	I am praying for your help because even my fellow Judeans are treacherously acting against me. These are violent men, and they want to kill me. They do not respect you. Selah

ULT For
UST I am praying for your help because
(כִּי)

Here the word For does not introduce the reason why God should listen to David. It introduces David's explanation of why he is praying to God for help. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear. Alternate translation: [You see,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT foreigners
UST even my fellow Judeans & treacherously
(זָרִים)

David is speaking as if the Ziphites were actually foreigners, even though he and they belong to the same Israelite tribe of Judah, because they are not acting toward him with the loyalty that one would expect of kinsmen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [treacherous people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT have arisen against me
UST are & acting against me
(קָמוּ עָלָי)

When David says that these people have arisen, he does not mean that they have stood up from a sitting or lying position. He means that they have taken action, in this context hostile action. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [have taken hostile action against me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and violent {ones
UST These are violent men
(וְעָרִיצִים)

David is using the adjective violent as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. The ULT indicates this by supplying the word ones. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [and violent men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT They do not set God before them
UST They do not respect you
(לֹא שָׂמוּ אֱלֹהִים לְנֶגְדָּם)

David is speaking as if God were an object that these people could set in front of them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They have no regard for God] or [They are not mindful of God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

See how your translation team decided at 3:2 to represent the term Selah.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
foreigners	even my fellow Judeans & treacherously seek	and they want to kill me
God	you
Selah	Selah

Psalms 54:4

ULT	UST
Behold, God is a helper to me; the Lord {is} with the sustainers of my life.	But God is helping me. The Lord is helping the people who are protecting me so that I stay alive.

ULT Behold
UST But
(הִנֵּה)

David is using the term Behold to focus attention on what he is about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the Lord {is} with the sustainers of my life
UST The Lord is helping the people who are protecting me so that I stay alive
(אֲדֹנָי בְּסֹמְכֵי נַפְשִׁי)

David is using a common expression of his culture to mean that the Lord helps the sustainers of his life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the Lord helps the sustainers of my life]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
the Lord	The Lord

Psalms 54:5

ULT	UST
He will return harm to my enemies. In your faithfulness, destroy them!	My enemies want to do harmful things to me, but God will cause those things to happen to them instead. Because you faithfully do what you promise, destroy them {so that they do not kill me}!

ULT In your faithfulness
UST Because you faithfully do what you promise & that (בֶּאֱמִתְּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Because you are faithful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to my enemies	My enemies
In your faithfulness	Because you faithfully do what you promise & that destroy them	destroy them {so & they do not kill me

Psalms 54:6

ULT	UST
With a freewill offering, I will sacrifice to you. I will praise your name, Yahweh, for {it is} good.	I promise that {when you rescue me,} I will publicly offer a sacrifice to honor you. I will praise you, Yahweh, for how good you are.

ULT I will praise your name, Yahweh, for {it is} good UST I will praise you, Yahweh, for how good you are (אוֹדֶה שִׁמְךָ יְהוָה כִּי־טוֹב)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because your name is good, Yahweh, I will praise it]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I will praise your name
UST I will praise you
(אוֹדֶה שִׁמְךָ)

See how you translated the term “name” in verse 1. Alternate translation: [I will praise you for your character]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
With a freewill offering	I promise that {when you rescue me
I will sacrifice	I will publicly offer a sacrifice
I will praise	I will praise
Yahweh	Yahweh
it is} good	how good you are

Psalms 54:7

ULT	UST
For he delivers me from every trouble, and my eye looks at my enemies.	I will be able to do this because he rescues me from all my troubles and, as a result, I see that he has defeated my enemies.

ULT For
UST I will be able to do this because
(כִּ֤י)

Here the word For does not introduce the reason why David is going to praise Yahweh and sacrifice to him. It introduces an explanation of why David is going to be able to do that. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear. Alternate translation: [After all,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT and my eye looks at my enemies
UST and, as a result, I see that he has defeated my enemies
(וּבְאֹיְבַ֗י רְאָ֥תָה עֵינִ֑י)

David is using one part himself, his eye, to mean all of him in the act of looking upon his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I look at my enemies] or [and I personally see my enemies]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT and my eye looks at my enemies
UST and, as a result, I see that he has defeated my enemies
(וּבְאֹיְבַ֗י רְאָ֥תָה עֵינִ֑י)

David means specifically that he sees that Yahweh has defeated his enemies. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and I personally see that Yahweh has defeated my enemies]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he delivers me	he rescues me
trouble	my troubles
and & at my enemies	and, as a result & that he has defeated my enemies

Psalms 54:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT A maskil of
> UST this song
> (מַשְׂכִּיל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

> ULT Is not David hiding himself among us
> UST that David was hiding in their area
> (הֲלֹא דָוִד מִסְתַּתֵּר עִמָּנוּ)

The Ziphites were using the question form to show that they were certain about what they were saying. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [David is definitely hiding among us]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
David	David wrote this song
to Saul	to Saul
David	David

Psalms 55

Psalms 55 Introduction

Psalm 55 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 55 is a psalm of supplication or lament. It includes all the basic elements of that type of psalm except a vow of praise. (Some elements are repeated.) See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Cry for help (1–2)
2. Description of troubles (3–8)
3. Petition (9)
4. Description of troubles (10–14)
5. Petition (15)
6. Statement of trust (16–19a)
7. Description of troubles (19b–21)
8. Statement of trust (22–23)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “maskil.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

What former “companion” or friend is David describing in verses 12–14 and 20–21?

Many interpreters believe that David wrote this psalm after his counselor and friend Ahithophel turned against him and supported David’s son Absalom in his rebellion against him. (These events are described in 2 Samuel 15:12–36.) If so, then Ahithophel would be the former friend whom David describes in these verses. However, throughout the centuries, Christian interpreters have also seen this psalm as prophetic of Judas’s betrayal of Jesus (even though no New Testament writer directly quotes it as a Messianic prophecy that was fulfilled in the life of Jesus). For that reason, we recommend that translators take care not to translate it in a way that limits its potential meaning to the original circumstances, such as by saying in verse 13, for example, “But it was you, Ahithophel” rather than simply “But it was you.” Instead, a translation can use footnotes to describe the likely historical background of this psalm.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Intentionally repeated terms

In two cases, David uses the same terms near the beginning and end of this psalm. In the first case, he does this to draw a contrast. In verse 3 he says that the wicked try to “shake” trouble onto the righteous, but in verse 22 he says that God will never allow their “shaking.” In the second case, he repeats terms to reassert something he said earlier that he would do. In verse 2, he says, “I am restless in my complaint, and let me moan.” In verse 17, after describing the trouble he is in, he says “let me complain and moan,” showing that his response to the trouble is to plead with God for help. So that your readers can appreciate these things, we encourage you, if possible, to use the same terms in your language in the later verses that you use in the earlier verses.

Psalms 55:1

ULT	UST
Listen {to} my prayer, God, and do not hide yourself from my plea.	God, please listen to me as I pray to you. Please do not ignore me as I am pleading with you.

ULT Listen {to} my prayer, God, and do not hide yourself from my plea

UST God, please listen to me as I pray to you. Please do not ignore me as I am pleading with you

(הַאֲזִינָה אֱלֹהִים תְּפִלָּתִי וְאַל־תִּתְעַלַּם מִתְּחִנָּתִי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [Listen carefully, God, as I plead with you in prayer] or [Listen {to} my prayer, God! Indeed, do not hide yourself from my plea!]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Listen & and do not hide yourself

UST please listen & Please do not ignore me

(הַאֲזִינָה & וְאַל־תִּתְעַלָּם)

The expressions Listen and do not hide are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than a commands. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request in these cases and in the next verse. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make the meaning clear. Alternate translation: [Please listen … and please do not hide]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT and do not hide yourself from my plea

UST Please do not ignore me as I am pleading with you

(וְאַל־תִּתְעַלַּם מִתְּחִנָּתִי)

David is speaking as if God might actually hide himself so that David could not find him and make a plea to him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and do not disregard my plea]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to} my prayer	to me as I pray to you
God	God
from my plea	as I am pleading with you

Psalms 55:2

ULT	UST
Attend to me and answer me. I am restless in my complaint, and let me moan	Please pay attention to me and do what I ask. The things I am praying about are agitating me and making me moan {in distress}.

ULT and answer me
UST and do what I ask
(וְעֲנֵנִי)

In this context, the expression answer me means more than "say something in response to me." It means "do what I ask." In this case, David is asking God specifically to protect him. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and protect me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and let me moan
UST and making me moan {in distress
(וְאֶהֱימָה)

David is using a verbal form in which he is addressing himself and suggesting a course of action. (It is common in psalms of supplication for the psalmist to move back and forth between calling to God for help and making observations to himself about his own situation.) If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this with the same kind of statement form that David uses in the first part of this sentence when he says I am restless. Alternate translation: [and I moan]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

Psalms 55:3

ULT	UST
from the voice of the enemy, from the face of the oppression of the wicked. For they shake trouble onto me, and in nose they persecute me.	This is because my enemies are saying things {to threaten me}. Wicked people are attacking me. They are causing me to have great troubles. Because they are so hostile to me, they never stop trying to harm me.

ULT from the voice of the enemy
UST This is because my enemies are saying things {to threaten me
(מִקּוֹל אוֹיֵב)

David is not referring to a specific enemy. He means all of the enemies who are threatening him on this occasion, as his use of the plural pronoun they later in this verse indicates. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [from the voice of my enemies]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT from the voice of the enemy
UST This is because my enemies are saying things {to threaten me
(מִקּוֹל אוֹיֵב)

Here a person's voice represents what he is saying by using his voice. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [because of what my enemies are saying]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT from the face of the oppression of the wicked
UST Wicked people are attacking me
(מִפְּנֵי עֻקַת רָשָׁע)

David is using from the face of as a common expression of the culture to mean "because of" or "on account of." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of the oppression of the wicked]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT from the face of the oppression of the wicked
UST Wicked people are attacking me
(מִפְּנֵי עֹקֶת רְשָׁעֵי)

David is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [because of the oppression of wicked people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT from the face of the oppression of the wicked
UST Wicked people are attacking me
(מִפְּנֵי עֹקֶת רְשָׁעֵי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of oppression, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because wicked people are oppressing me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT For
UST They are causing & to have
(כִּי)

Here the expression For introduces more detailed information about what David's wicked enemies are doing. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear. It may not be necessary to represent this expression explicitly in your translation. Alternate translation: [You see,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT they shake trouble onto me
UST They are causing me to have great troubles
(יָמִיטוּ עָלַי אָוֶן)

David is speaking as if trouble were an object such as a large rock that his enemies could shake loose so that it would fall onto him. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [they stir up trouble for me] or [they trouble me greatly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and in nose
> UST Because they are so hostile to me
> (וּבְאַף)

Here the nose represents anger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and in anger]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT they persecute me
> UST they never stop trying to harm me
> (יִשְׂטְמוּנִי)

The verb that the ULT translates here as persecute means generally to "hold a grudge." The focus in this context is not on an inner feeling of resentment but on a relentless attempt by someone holding a grudge to harm another person. If your language has a verb or phrase that describes this action, it would be appropriate to use it in your translation. Alternate translation: [they try relentlessly to harm me] or [they pursue a vendetta against me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the enemy	my enemies
the wicked	Wicked people
they shake	They are causing & to have trouble	great troubles
they persecute me	they never stop trying to harm me

Psalms 55:4

ULT	UST
My heart writhes in the midst of me, and the terrors of death have fallen onto me.	My heart is pounding inside me because I am so upset. I strongly feel many fears because I know that my enemies are trying to kill me.

ULT My heart writhes in the midst of me
UST My heart is pounding inside me because I am so upset
(לִבִּי יָחִיל בְּקִרְבִּי)

This statement could have a figurative meaning or a literal meaning or both. If your language has a term such as “heart” that describes an internal organ and can also represent emotions, it would be appropriate to use it here in your translation. This could mean: (1) that David is using his heart to represent his emotions. Alternate translation: [I feel very distressed inside] or (2) that David is describing physical symptoms that he is experiencing. Alternate translation: [My heart is pounding inside me] or [My heart is racing fast]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the terrors of death have fallen onto me
UST I strongly feel many fears because I know that my enemies are trying to kill me
(וְאֵימוֹת מָוֶת נָפְלוּ עָלָי)

David is speaking as if the terrors of death were actually objects that could have fallen onto him. He means that he is feeling them immediately and forcefully, as if they had struck him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I feel the terrors of death strikingly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the terrors of death have fallen onto me
UST I strongly feel many fears because I know that my enemies are trying to kill me
(וְאֵימוֹת מָוֶת נָפְלוּ עָלָי)

David may be using the plural form terrors: (1) to indicate that the prospect of dying is making him feel a combination of fears. Alternate translation: [I feel strikingly all the fears that the prospect of dying makes a person feel] or (2) to emphasize that the fear of death is a very great fear. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a singular form and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [I feel strikingly the great fear of death]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and the terrors of	many fears

Psalms 55:5

ULT	UST
Fear and trembling have come on me, and horror has covered me.	I am shaking because I am so afraid. The only thing I feel is fear.

ULT Fear and trembling have come on me
UST I am shaking because I am so afraid
(יִרְאָה וְרַעַד יְבֹא בִי)

David is speaking of Fear and trembling as if they were living things that could have come upon him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I cannot help feeling afraid and trembling]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT and horror has covered me
UST The only thing I feel is fear
(וַתְּכַסֵּנִי פַּלְצוּת)

David is speaking as if horror had physically covered him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and horror has overwhelmed me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Fear and	so afraid
trembling	I am shaking horror	is fear

Psalms 55:6

ULT	UST
I have said, “Who will give the wing of a dove to me? Let me fly away and let me dwell.	I have been thinking, “How good it would be if I had wings like a dove! I would fly away and find a place to rest.

ULT I have said
UST I have been thinking
(וְאֹמַר)

David has not said this to anyone else. He has said it to himself. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I have said to myself] or [I have thought]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Who will give the wing of a dove to me
UST How good it would be if I had wings like a dove
(מִי־יִתֶּן־לִי אֵבֶר כַּיּוֹנָה)

Here the word wing is singular in form, but it refers to both of the two wings that a dove has. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural or dual form of “wing.” Alternate translation: [Who will give, the wings of a dove are to me?]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT Who will give the wing of a dove to me
UST How good it would be if I had wings like a dove
(מִי־יִתֶּן־לִי אֵבֶר כַּיּוֹנָה)

David is using Who will give as a common expression of his culture to introduce a fervent wish. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [O that I had the wings of a dove!] or [I fervently wish that I had the wings of a dove!]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT and let me dwell
UST and find a place to rest
(וְאֶשְׁכֹּנָה)

David means implicitly that he wishes he could dwell somewhere safe. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and let me dwell somewhere safe]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a dove	like a dove

Psalms 55:7

ULT	UST
Behold, I would make distance, wandering; I would lodge in the wilderness. Selah	If I could, I would go far away and stay in a desolate area. Selah

ULT Behold
UST If I could
(הִנֵּה)

David is using the term Behold to focus attention on what he is about to say. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I would make distance, wandering
UST I would go far away
(אַרְחִיק נְדֹד)

The verbs make distance and wandering together express a single idea. The verb wandering tells in what way David would make distance between himself and his enemies. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [I would wander far away]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

To translate the term Selah here and in verse 19, see how your translation team decided to represent that term in 3:2.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in the wilderness	in a desolate area
Selah	Selah

Psalms 55:8

ULT	UST
Let me hasten for myself {to} an escape from the storming wind, from the tempest.”	I would quickly find a safe place where my enemies could not harm me in the way that a powerful storm causes damage.”

ULT to} an escape
UST a safe place
(מִפְּלֵ֥ט)

Here, an escape represents “a place of escape.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to a place of escape] or [to a place where I am safe]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT from the storming wind, from the tempest
UST where my enemies could not harm me in the way that a powerful storm causes damage
(מֵרֽוּחַ סֹעָ֥ה מִסָּֽעַר)

The terms storming wind and tempest mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [from the raging tempest]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT from the storming wind, from the tempest
UST where my enemies could not harm me in the way that a powerful storm causes damage
(מֵרֽוּחַ סֹעָ֥ה מִסָּֽעַר)

David is speaking as if the hostile opposition of his wicked enemies were actually a storming wind or tempest. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from these looming calamities]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 55:9

ULT	UST
Swallow {them}, Lord, divide their tongue! For I have seen violence and strife in the city.	Lord, please destroy my enemies! Make them disagree about what to do {so that they cannot make successful plans against me}. I ask this because I know that they are fighting with people in the city and hurting them.

ULT Swallow {them}, Lord, divide their tongue
UST Lord, please destroy my enemies! Make them disagree about what to do {so that they cannot make successful plans against me
(בַּלַּע אֲדֹנָי פַּלֵּג לְשׁוֹנָם)

The verb that the ULT translates as Swallow means “to swallow” in every other instance in the Hebrew Bible. (For example, Jonah 1:17, “Yahweh appointed a great fish to swallow Jonah.”) However, many biblical scholars believe, based on languages similar to Hebrew, that there was another verb with the same consonants that meant “confuse” and that David was using that verb here. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. Alternate translation: [Confuse, Lord, divide their tongue] or [Lord, confuse and divide their tongue]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Swallow {them
UST please destroy my enemies
(בַּלַּע)

If this verb means Swallow, then David is speaking as if he wants the Lord actually to eat his enemies and swallow them. See how you translated the similar term “devour” in 35:25. Alternate translation: [Destroy them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT divide their tongue
UST Make them disagree about what to do {so that they cannot make successful plans against me
(פַּלֵּג לְשׁוֹנָם)

Here the word tongue is singular in form, but it refers to the tongues of all of David’s enemies as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form of “tongue.” Alternate translation: [divide their tongues]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT divide their tongue
UST Make them disagree about what to do {so that they cannot make successful plans against me
(פַּלַּג לְשׁוֹנָם)

David is using the term tongue to represent what his enemies would by using their tongues. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [make them disagree in what they say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT For
UST I ask this because
(כִּי)

Here the word For introduces an explanation for what David asks in the previous sentence. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear.

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT violence and strife
UST they are fighting with people & and hurting them
(חָמָס וְרִיב)

The terms violence and strife mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [much violence]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT in the city
UST in the city
(בָּעִיר)

To decide whether to be more specific in your translation about what city David is referring to, see the discussion in the introduction to this psalm of when and why he probably wrote it.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
their tongue	so that they cannot make successful plans against me and strife	they are fighting with people & and

Psalms 55:10

ULT	UST
Day and night they go around it on its walls, and iniquity and trouble {are} in the midst of it.	The fighting is constant, and the people in the city cannot get away from it. Bad people are causing much trouble right in the middle of the city.

ULT Day and night
UST The fighting is constant
(יוֹמָם וָלַיְלָה)

David is referring to all of time by naming its two major components, Day and night. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [All the time] or [Constantly]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT they go around it on its walls
UST The fighting is constant, and the people in the city cannot get away from it (יְסוֹבְבֻהָ עַל־חוֹמֹתֶיהָ)

David is speaking of the “violence” and “strife” he mentioned in the previous verse (referring back to them here as they) as if they were living things that could go around on the walls of a city. He is speaking of them as if they were watchmen who were supposed to make sure that there was good order in the city but who instead are making sure that there is continual fighting in the city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [there is violence all around the city]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT and iniquity and trouble {are} in the midst of it
UST Bad people are causing much trouble right in the middle of the city
(וְאָוֶן וְעָמָל בְּקִרְבָּהּ)

David is speaking of iniquity and trouble as if they were living things that could dwell in the midst of a city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and wicked people cause trouble in the midst of it]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and iniquity	Bad people
and trouble	are causing much trouble

Psalms 55:11

ULT	UST
Calamity {is} in the midst of it, and oppression and deceit do not depart from its open square.	These bad people harm others right in the middle of the city. Dishonest people continually deceive and cheat others in the marketplace.

ULT and oppression and deceit do not depart from its open square
UST Dishonest people continually deceive and cheat others in the marketplace
(וְלֹא־יָמִישׁ מֵרְחֹבָהּ תֹּךְ וּמִרְמָה)

David is speaking of oppression and deceit as if they were living things that could depart from the open square of a city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and oppression and deceit are continually present in it]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Calamity	These bad people harm others

Psalms 55:12

ULT	UST
For an enemy does not reproach me; then I would bear {it}. One hating me has not made great against me; then I would hide myself from him.	If it were an enemy who was saying bad things about me, I could endure it. If it were someone who hated me who was powerfully opposing me, I could hide from him.

ULT For
UST If it were
(כִּי)

Here the expression For introduces more detailed information about the identify of one of David's enemies. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear. It may not be necessary to represent this expression explicitly in your translation. Alternate translation: [You see,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
an enemy	an enemy
does & reproach me	who was saying bad things about me
then I would bear {it	I could endure it has & made great	who was powerfully opposing me

Psalms 55:13

ULT	UST
But {it was} you, a man according to my valuation, my companion and my acquaintance,	But the person who is doing those things to me is someone I treated not as a subject but as an equal. I knew him well, and we were together often.

ULT But {it was} you, a man according to my valuation, my companion and my acquaintance
UST But the person who is doing those things to me is someone I treated not as a subject but as an equal. I knew him well, and we were together often (וְאַתָּה אֱנוֹשׁ כְּעֶרְכִּי אַלּוּפִי וּמְיֻדָּעִי)

Here and in the next verse, David addresses this former companion directly, even though he knows cannot hear him. He is doing this to communicate to himself and to anyone who hears this song that he feels very strongly about how this former friend has betrayed him. If it would be helpful in your language, here and in the next verse you could translate what David says to this former friend as if he were speaking to other people about him. Alternate translation: [But it was a man according to my valuation, my companion and my acquaintance]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT a man according to my valuation
UST is someone I treated not as a subject but as an equal
(אֱנוֹשׁ כְּעֶרְכִּי)

David is speaking as if someone had vowed both him and his former friend to God (as Leviticus 27:1–8 describes) and a priest had determined that they had the same valuation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a man equal to me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a man according to my valuation
UST is someone I treated not as a subject but as an equal
(אֱנוֹשׁ כְּעֶרְכִּי)

Since David was the king of Israel, this man could not have been his actual equal in rank. David is probably describing the regard in which he held this man. Alternate translation: [a man whom I esteemed as my equal]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my companion and my acquaintance
UST I knew him well, and we were together often (אַלּוּפִי וּמְיֻדָּעִי)

To decide whether to be more specific in your translation about what companion and acquaintance David is referring to, see the discussion in the introduction to this psalm of when and why he probably wrote it.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my companion	we were together often and my acquaintance	I knew him well, and

Psalms 55:14

ULT	UST
we who together made counsel sweet; we walked in the house of God with the throng.	We used to talk together in a wonderful way. We also used to go to the temple courtyard together {to worship God} with the other Israelites who gathered there.

ULT we who together made counsel sweet; we walked
UST We used to talk together in a wonderful way. We also used to go & together
(אֲשֶׁר יַחְדָּו נַמְתִּיק סוֹד & נְהַלֵּךְ)

By we in both instances, David means himself and his former friend, whom he is addressing, so use the inclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction. However, if you translated verse 13 as if David were speaking about his friend rather than to him, then we would not include the people to whom he is speaking (anyone else hearing this song), so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

ULT we who together made counsel sweet
UST We used to talk together in a wonderful way
(אֲשֶׁר יַחְדָּו נַמְתִּיק סוֹד)

David is speaking as if he and his former friend had actually made the counsel they formerly shared together sweet. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [we who spoke together very pleasantly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the house of God
UST to the temple courtyard & to worship God
(בְּבֵית אֱלֹהִים)

David is speaking as if God’s temple were actually a house in which he lived. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Since only priests could enter the temple building, David is referring to the courtyard of the temple. Alternate translation: [in the courtyard of the temple of God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
counsel	used to talk
in the house of God	to the temple courtyard & to worship God
God	to worship God

Psalms 55:15

ULT	UST
{May} desolations {be} upon them; may they go down {to} Sheol alive, for evils {are} in their dwelling, in the midst of them.	My enemies are so wicked in their inner beings that it is as if wickedness lives in their homes {and influences what they do}. So I hope that bad things happen to them that destroy them! I wish that {the earth would open up under them so that} they would go down alive to the place where dead people are.

ULT May} desolations {be} upon them; may they go down {to} Sheol alive, for evils {are} in their dwelling, in the midst of them

UST My enemies are so wicked in their inner beings that it is as if wickedness lives in their homes {and influences what they do}. So I hope that bad things happen to them that destroy them! I wish that {the earth would open up under them so that} they would go down alive to the place where dead people are

(יְשִׁימוֹת עָלֵ֫ימוֹ יֵרְדוּ שְׁאוֹל חַיִּים כִּי־רָעוֹת בְּמְגוּרָם בְּקִרְבָּם)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because evils {are} in their dwelling, in the midst of them, may desolations be upon them; may they go down to Sheol alive]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT May} desolations {be} upon them; may they go down

UST I hope that bad things happen to them that destroy them! I wish that {the earth would open up under them so that} they would go down

(יְשִׁימוֹת עָלֵ֫ימוֹ יֵרְדוּ)

The pronouns them and they refer to the enemies whom David first described in verse 3. He is talking about them as a group again after focusing on a specific one of them in verses 12–14. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [May desolations be upon my enemies; may they go down]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT May} desolations {be} upon them
> UST I hope that bad things happen to them that destroy them
> (יְשִׁימוּת עָלֵ֑ימוֹ)

This phrase is a translation of the written Hebrew text. Later Hebrew scribes, however, have recommended a correction in the margin of the text. You may want to follow this correction in your translation. Alternate translation: [May death seize upon them]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

> ULT May} desolations {be} upon them
> UST I hope that bad things happen to them that destroy them
> (יְשִׁימוּת עָלֵ֑ימוֹ)

If this is the correct reading, David would be speaking of desolations as if they were objects that could be upon his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May things happen to them that desolate them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT May} desolations {be} upon them
> UST I hope that bad things happen to them that destroy them
> (יְשִׁימוּת עָלֵ֑ימוֹ)

If the correct reading is “May death seize upon them,” David would be speaking of death as if it were a living thing that could seize his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May they die without being able to resist dying]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT may they go down {to} Sheol alive
> UST I wish that {the earth would open up under them so that} they would go down alive to the place where dead people are > (יֵרְדוּ שְׁאוֹל חַיִּים)

David is alluding to the episode described in Numbers 16:1–33 in which men named Korah, Dathan, and Abiram rebelled against Moses, and Yahweh judged and punished them by having the ground open up so that they “went down to Sheol alive.” You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [may they go down to Sheol alive, just like the people who rebelled against Moses]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT evils {are} in their dwelling
> UST My enemies are so wicked & that it is as if wickedness lives in their homes {and influences what they do
> (רָעוֹת בְּמְגוּרָם)

David is speaking as if evils actually lived with his enemies in their dwelling. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [evil is at home with them] or [they live in an environment that is constantly evil]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT are} in their dwelling
> UST that it is as if wickedness lives in their homes {and influences what they do
> (בְּמְגוּרָם)

Here the word dwelling is singular in form, but it refers to the dwellings of all of David's enemies as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form of "dwelling." Alternate translation: [are in their dwellings]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
May} desolations	I hope that bad things & that destroy them to} Sheol	to the place where dead people are evils	My enemies are so wicked

Psalms 55:16

ULT	UST
I, I will call to God, and Yahweh will save me.	But I will ask Yahweh, my God, to help me, and he will rescue me.

ULT I, I will call to God
UST But I will ask & my God, to help me
(אֲנִי אֶל־אֱלֹהִים אֶקְרָא)

David is stating the pronoun I separately, even though the verb translated as I will call already includes this meaning. He is doing that in order to emphasize a contrast between what his enemies are doing (living wickedly, without regard for God), and what he will do. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [But as for me, I will call to God]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will call	will ask & to help me
God	my God
and Yahweh	Yahweh
will save me	and he will rescue me

Psalms 55:17

ULT	UST
Evening and morning and noon, let me complain and moan, and he will hear my voice.	I will continually pray to him, whether I can express my concerns in words or whether I am only able to moan {as a plea to him}. He will answer my prayer by helping me.

ULT Evening and morning and noon
UST continually
(עֶרֶב וְבֹקֶר וְצָהֳרַיִם)

David is referring to an entire day by naming three significant times in it, Evening (probably meaning sundown), morning (probably meaning dawn), and noon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Throughout the day]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT and he will hear my voice
UST He will answer my prayer by helping me
(וַיִּשְׁמַע קוֹלִי)

David is using the term voice to represent what he would say by using his voice. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he will hear what I say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and he will hear my voice
UST He will answer my prayer by helping me
(וַיִּשְׁמַע קוֹלִי)

David is using the term hear to mean that God will do what he is asking him to do, as he states confidently in the next verse. The meaning of "hear" is the same in verse 19. Alternate translation: [and he will do what I ask]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Psalms 55:18

ULT	UST
He redeems my life in peace from the battle against me, for with many they are against me.	My enemies are coming with many soldiers to fight against me, but God will keep me safe and save my life when we fight a battle.

ULT He redeems my life in peace from the battle against me
UST God will keep me safe and save my life when we fight a battle
(פָּדָה בְשָׁלוֹם נַפְשִׁי מִקְּרֹב־לִי)

David is speaking as if God actually redeems him or pays a price to free him from slavery or captivity. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He rescues my life in peace from the battle against me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT He redeems my life in peace from the battle against me
UST God will keep me safe and save my life when we fight a battle
(פָּדָה בְשָׁלוֹם נַפְשִׁי מִקְּרֹב־לִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. In this context, that term has the sense of “well-being.” Alternate translation: [He rescues me, alive and well, from the battle against me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT they are
UST My enemies are coming (הָיוּ)

The pronoun they refers to David’s enemies. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [my enemies are]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
He redeems	God will & save
in peace	keep me safe and

Psalms 55:19

ULT	UST
God will hear and answer them, even the one sitting {from} antiquity, Selah to whom {there are} no changes, so they do not fear God.	My enemies have no difficulties in life, so they do not respect God. Selah But God, who has ruled forever, will answer my prayer and punish them as they deserve.

ULT and answer them
UST and punish them as they deserve
(וְיַעֲנֵֽם)

This phrase is a translation of the written Hebrew text. This reading, however, does not seem to make sense, since in contexts like this, the term “answer” usually means “do what they ask” (as in verse 2). You may want to follow an alternative reading from the ancient Greek translation. Alternate translation: [and afflict them]

Support Reference: Alternative Readings

ULT even the one sitting
UST who has ruled
(וְיֹשֵׁ֣ב)

David is referring specifically to God sitting on his throne, and he is using that action to represent God ruling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the one enthroned] or [the one ruling]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to whom {there are} no changes
UST My enemies have no difficulties in life
(אֲשֶׁ֣ר אֵין־ חֲלִיפוֹת֮ לָמוֹ)

The relative pronoun whom refers to David’s enemies. It may be more natural in your language to use a personal pronoun and begin a new sentence here. Alternate translation: [There are no changes to them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT to whom {there are} no changes
UST My enemies have no difficulties in life
(אֲשֶׁ֣ר אֵין־ חֲלִיפוֹת֮ לָמוֹ)

By changes, David means misfortunes, losses, and disappointments in life. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [They have no reversals of fortune] or [They enjoy continuous prosperity]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	But God
Selah	Selah
they do & fear	they do & respect
God	God

Psalms 55:20

ULT	UST
He stretches out his hands against his friends; he defiles his covenant.	The man I knew well is attacking me even though I was his friend. He should have remained loyal to me, but he has not.

ULT He stretches out
UST The man I knew well is attacking me
(שָׁלַח)

The pronoun He refers to David's former friend. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [My former friend stretches out]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT He stretches out his hands against his friends
UST The man I knew well is attacking me even though I was his friend
(שָׁלַח יָדָיו בִּשְׁלֻמָּיו)

David is using stretches out his hands as a common expression of his culture to mean "commits violent acts." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My former friend lays violent hands on his friends] or [My former friend commits violent acts against his friends]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT he defiles his covenant
UST He should have remained loyal to me, but he has not (חִלֵּל בְּרִיתוֹ)

The word "defile" means to treat something sacred as if it were common. The implication is that this former friend did not consider his covenant with David a sacred obligation that God would enforce. (David could be referring to a formal covenant or the implicit obligations of friendship.) As a result, he was not concerned that God would punish him if he broke the covenant. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he breaks his covenant] or [he disregards the obligations of friendship]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
against his friends	even though I was his friend
he defiles	but he has not his covenant	He should have remained loyal to me

Psalms 55:21

ULT	UST
The curds of his mouth were smooth, but his heart {was} war. His words were softer than oil, but they {were} unsheathed {swords}.	What he said was as easy to believe as butter is easy to swallow, but secretly he hated me. The words he spoke were as soothing as olive oil, but all along he intended to use words to hurt people as sharp swords do.

ULT The curds of his mouth were smooth
UST What he said was as easy to believe as butter is easy to swallow
(חָלְקוּ | מַחְמָאֹת פִּיהוּ)

David is speaking as if the things that this former friend said with his mouth had actually been curds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this image as a comparison. Alternate translation: [The things that he said were so smooth, it was as if they were curds] or [What he said caused no concern, just as a person can swallow curds without difficulty because they are smooth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT but his heart {was} war
UST but secretly he hated me
(וְקֶרֶב־לֹּבוֹ)

David is speaking as if this former friend's heart, which represents his feelings, had actually been war. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but secretly he felt hostile toward me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT His words were softer than oil
UST The words he spoke were as soothing as olive oil
(רַכּוּ דְבָרָיו מִשֶּׁמֶן)

The point of this comparison is that while soft olive oil is soothing to the skin, the words of this former friend were even more soothing and reassuring to David. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [His words were even more soothing to me than soft olive oil is to the skin]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT but they {were} unsheathed {swords
UST but all along he intended to use words to hurt people as sharp swords do (וְהֵמָּה פְּתִחוֹת)

David is speaking as if this former friend's words had actually been swords that soldiers had unsheathed so that they were ready to use. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but they were actually dangerous and deadly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT were} unsheathed {swords
UST to hurt people as sharp swords do (פְּתִחוֹת)

The expression unsheathed is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [were bare swords]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
than oil	as olive oil
were} unsheathed {swords	to hurt people as sharp swords do

Psalms 55:22

ULT	UST
Cast your burden on Yahweh, and he, he will sustain you. Forever he will not allow shaking to the righteous.	Depend on Yahweh to help you when you are in trouble, and he will take care of you. He will never allow anyone to destroy people who are righteous.

ULT Cast your burden on Yahweh, and he, he will sustain you
UST Depend on Yahweh to help you when you are in trouble, and he will take care of you
(הַשְׁלֵךְ עַל־יְהוָה | יְהָבְךָ֣ וְה֭וּא יְכַלְכְּלֶ֑ךָ)

The words you and your and the implied "you" in the imperative Cast are singular because David is addressing himself and any individual in a similar situation who hears this song. So, use singular forms in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Cast your burden on Yahweh
UST Depend on Yahweh to help you when you are in trouble
(הַשְׁלֵךְ עַל־יְהוָה | יְהָבְךָ֣)

David is speaking of the difficulties that a person might have as if they were actually a burden that a person was carrying and that he could Cast onto Yahweh so that he would carry it instead. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Trust Yahweh to help you with your difficulties]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he, he will sustain you
UST and he will take care of you
(וְה֭וּא יְכַלְכְּלֶ֑ךָ)

David is stating the pronoun he separately, even though the verb translated as he will sustain already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize the personal role that Yahweh will take in sustaining a person who trusts him. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [and he will personally sustain you]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT he will not allow shaking to the righteous
> UST He will never allow anyone to destroy people who are righteous
> (לֹא־יִתֵּן & מוֹט לַצַּדִּיק)

David is using the image of shaking something loose so that it falls from its position (he uses the same image in verse 3) to represent other people ruining righteous people. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [he will not let the righteous down] or [he will not allow anyone to ruin the righteous]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT he will not allow shaking to the righteous
> UST He will never allow anyone to destroy people who are righteous
> (לֹא־יִתֵּן & מוֹט לַצַּדִּיק)

David is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [he will not allow shaking to righteous people] or [he will not allow anyone to ruin righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
Forever	never
shaking	anyone to destroy to the righteous	people who are righteous

Psalms 55:23

ULT	UST
But you, God, will make them go down to the pit of the grave. Men of blood and treachery will not halve their days. But I, I will trust in you.	God, you will cause people who deceive and kill others to die before they have lived half as long as most people do. But as for me, I will trust you {to protect me}.

ULT to the pit of the grave
UST will cause & to die
(לִבְאֵר שַׁחַת)

David is using the term grave to represent the decay and destruction of physical bodies that occurs in a grave. By characterizing this pit in that way, he is indicating that it is the chasm beneath the earth where his culture understood dead people to be. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to the pit of destruction] or [to the pit where dead people go]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Men of blood and treachery
UST people who deceive and kill others
(אַנְשֵׁי דָמִים וּמִרְמָה)

Here, blood represents violently shedding blood. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Men of bloodshed and treachery] or [Murderous, treacherous men]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT will not halve their days
UST before they have lived half as long as most people do (לֹא־יֶחֱצוּ יְמֵיהֶם)

David is using will not halve their days as a common expression of his culture to mean “will not even live half as long as they otherwise would have.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will not reach middle age] or [will not even live half as long as they otherwise would have]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT But I, I will trust
> UST But as for me, I will trust
> (וְאֲנִי אֶבְטַח)

David is stating the pronoun I separately, even though the verb translated as I will trust already includes this meaning. He is doing that in order to emphasize a contrast between what will happen to the wicked people he has just described and what he will do himself. Alternate translation: [But for my part, I will trust]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
to the pit of	will cause & to die
the grave	will cause & to die
I will trust	I will trust

Psalms 55:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT A maskil of
> UST this song
> (מַשְׂכִּיל)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a maskil. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
David	David wrote

Psalms 56

Psalms 56 Introduction

Psalm 56 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 56 is a psalm of supplication or lament. It includes all the basic elements of that type of psalm. (Some elements are repeated.) See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Cry for help (1a)
2. Description of troubles (1b–2)
3. Statement of trust (3–4)
4. Description of troubles (5–6)
5. Petition (7–8)
6. Statement of trust (9–11)
7. Vow of praise (12–13)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “miktam.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

As its superscription indicates, the background to this psalm is an episode related in 1 Samuel 21:10–15 in which David fled from King Saul to the Philistine city of Gath, and the Philistines, recognizing that he was a great Israelite military commander, imprisoned him. It may be helpful to read that episode before translating this psalm.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Variation between “you” and “he”

In verses 1–3, 8, and 12, David addresses God directly as “you.” In verses 4 and 9–11, he speaks about him as “God.” This variation of pronouns reflects the flow of a psalm of supplication from a cry for help to a description of troubles and statement of trust to a petition to a vow of praise. However, if it would not be natural in your language to switch back and forth between second-person and third-person pronouns, you could use second-person pronouns throughout the psalm, as some versions do. For example, in verses 4, 10, and 11, you might say “I praise your word” and “in you, God, I trust.” In verse 9, you might say “you, God, are for me.”

Psalms 56:1

ULT	UST
Be gracious to me, God, for man tramples me! All of the day, fighting, he oppresses me.	O God, men are attacking me, so please help me! They keep fighting me and making me suffer.

ULT Be gracious to me, God, for man tramples me
UST O God, men are attacking me, so please help me
(חָנֵּנִי אֱלֹהִים כִּי־שְׁאָפַנִי אֱנוֹשׁ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Man tramples me, so be gracious to me, God!]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Be gracious to me
UST please help me
(חָנֵּנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request, here and in verses 7 and 8. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please be gracious to me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT man tramples me
UST men are attacking me
(שְׁאָפַנִי אֱנוֹשׁ)

David is not referring to a specific man. He means all of the Philistines who have captured him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [men are trampling me] or [people are trampling me]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT man tramples me
UST men are attacking me
(שְׁאָפַנִי אֱנוֹשׁ)

David is speaking as if the Philistines were actually trampling on him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly, here and in the next verse. Alternate translation: [men are harassing me] or [people are harassing me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT All of the day
UST keep
(כָּל־הַיּוֹם)

David is using the term day to mean “time,” since time consists of days. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly, here and in verses 2 and 5. Alternate translation: [All the time] or [Continually]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT fighting, he oppresses me
UST They & fighting me and making me suffer
(לֹחֵם יִלְחָצֵנִי)

The words fighting and oppresses together express a single idea. David is using the word fighting to tell in what way man (representing his human opponents) oppresses him. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [he oppresses me hostilely] or [they oppress me hostilely]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be gracious to me	please help me
God	O God
tramples me	are attacking me

Psalms 56:2

ULT	UST
My enemies trample me all of the day, for many are fighting against me arrogantly.	Many proud enemies are fighting against me, so there is continually someone attacking me.

ULT My enemies trample me all of the day, for many are fighting against me arrogantly

UST Many proud enemies are fighting against me, so there is continually someone attacking me

(שָׁאֲפוּ שׁוֹרְרַי כָּל־הַיּוֹם כִּי־רַבִּים לֹחֲמִים לִי מָרוֹם)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because many are fighting against me arrogantly, my enemies trample me all of the day]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My enemies	enemies
trample me	there is & someone attacking me

Psalms 56:3

ULT	UST
The day I fear, I, I will trust in you.	But whenever I am afraid, I trust you {to help me}.

ULT The day I fear, I, I will trust in you
UST But whenever I am afraid, I trust you {to help me
(יוֹם אִירָא אֲנִי אֵלֶיךָ אֶבְטָח)

David is stating the pronoun I separately, even though the verb translated as I will trust already includes this meaning. He is doing that to express a commitment or resolve. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [I am resolved that the day I fear, I will trust in you]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT The day
UST But whenever (יוֹם)

David is using The day as a common expression of his culture to describe the occasion on which something might happen. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [If ever] or [When]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I fear	I am afraid
I will trust	trust & to help me

Psalms 56:4

ULT	UST
In God—I praise his word—in God I trust. I will not fear. What will flesh do to me?	I praise you, God, because you have promised {to take care of me}. I trust you to do that, so I am not afraid. I know that mere humans will not be able to harm me!

ULT In God—I praise his word—in God I trust
UST I praise you, God, because you have promised {to take care of me}. I trust you to do that (בֵּאלֹהִים אֲהַלֶּל דְּבָרוֹ בֵּאלֹהִים בָּטָחְתִּי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put David's statement I praise his word at the beginning of this verse so that it does not interrupt his statement In God ... I trust. However, it is for emphasis and emotional impact that David introduces the information that he praises God's word in the middle of the information that he trusts God, so if you move the former information to the beginning of the verse, you should try to convey the emphasis and emotional impact in another way. Alternate translation: [I praise God's word, so I trust completely in him] or [I celebrate God's promises, so I trust completely in him]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT I praise his word
UST I praise you & because you have promised {to take care of me
(אֲהַלֶּל דְּבָרוֹ)

David is using the term word to represent God speaking to him by using words. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I praise him for what he has said to me] or [I praise him for his promise to me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT What will flesh do to me
UST I know that mere humans will not be able to harm me
(מַה־יַּעֲשֶׂה בָשָׂר לִי)

Here, flesh represents human beings, who are made of flesh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [What will human beings do to me?]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT What will flesh do to me
> UST I know that mere humans will not be able to harm me
> (מַה־יַּעֲשֶׂה בָשָׂר לִי)

David is using the question form for emphasis. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Human beings can certainly do nothing to me!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
In God	God
I praise	I praise you
I trust	I trust & to do that
I will & fear	so I am & afraid

Psalms 56:5

ULT	UST
All of the day they vex my matters; all of their thoughts {are} against me for harm.	My enemies are continually trying to interfere in my activities. They keep planning ways to harm me.

ULT they vex my matters
UST My enemies are & trying to interfere in my activities
(דְּבָרַי יְעַצֵּבוּ)

The term that the ULT translates as matters can also mean “words.” So this could mean: (1) that the people David is describing are causing trouble in his affairs. Alternate translation: [they cause trouble in my affairs] or (2) that these people are figuratively reshaping, that is, distorting, what David says. Alternate translation: [they twist my words]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT all of their thoughts
UST They keep planning
(כָּל־מַחְשְׁבֹתָם)

David is saying all as an overstatement for emphasis. He is referring not to every thought that his Philistine captors have but to all of their thoughts about him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [all of their thoughts about me]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

Psalms 56:6

ULT	UST
They gather together, they hide; they, they watch my heels because they await my life.	Together they secretly watch where I am going because they are looking for an opportunity to kill me.

ULT they, they watch
UST they & watch
(הֵמָּה & יִשְׁמֹֽרוּ)

David is stating the pronoun they separately, even though the verb translated as they watch already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize the personal role that his enemies are taking in watching him. (They are not appointing others as spies but doing the spying themselves.) If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [they personally watch] or [it is they who watch]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they watch my heels
UST watch where I am going
(עֲקֵבַי יִשְׁמֹֽרוּ)

David is using his heels to represent how he walks on his feet to go places. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [they watch my steps] or [they observe where I go]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT they await my life
UST they are looking for an opportunity to kill me
(קִוּוּ נַפְשִֽׁי)

Here, David's life represents an opportunity to take his life or kill him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
They gather together	Together

Psalms 56:7

ULT	UST
Upon iniquity {shall there be} an escape for them? In nose, make the peoples go down, God.	They should not be able to avoid punishment for the wicked things they are doing. O God, in your anger, please defeat all of our foreign enemies!

ULT Upon iniquity {shall there be} an escape for them
UST They should not be able to avoid punishment for the wicked things they are doing
(עַל־אָ֭וֶן פַּלֵּ֣ט־לָמוֹ)

The word that the ULT translates as Upon could indicate: (1) that iniquity characterizes David's enemies. Alternate translation: [Because of their iniquity, shall there be an escape for them] or (2) that iniquity is the means that David's enemies would use to escape from the just consequences of their actions. Alternate translation: [Shall there be an escape for them by iniquity]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Upon iniquity {shall there be} an escape for them
UST They should not be able to avoid punishment for the wicked things they are doing
(עַל־אָ֭וֶן פַּלֵּ֣ט־לָמוֹ)

David is using the question form for emphasis. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Because of their iniquity, there should not be an escape for them!] or [There should not be an escape for them by iniquity!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT In nose
UST in your anger
(בְּאַ֣ף)

Here the nose represents anger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [In anger]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT make the peoples go down
> UST please defeat all of our foreign enemies
> (עַמִּים | הוֹרֵד)

David is speaking as if the peoples were actually in an elevated position and God would make them go down from there. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [destroy the peoples]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
iniquity	the wicked things they are doing
God	O God

Psalms 56:8

ULT	UST
You, you record my wandering. Put my tears in your bag. {Are they} not in your record?	You have watched me carefully as I have wandered to this place. Please stay close to me as I have sad experiences here. I know that you have watched me closely as I have had these experiences.

ULT You, you record
UST You have watched me carefully
(סָפַרְתָּה אָתָּה)

David is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you record already includes this meaning. He is doing that in order to emphasize a contrast between what his enemies are doing to try to harm him and what God is doing to watch over him and care for him. Alternate translation: [But for your part, you record]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT you record my wandering
UST have watched me carefully as I have wandered to this place
(נדִּי סָפַרְתָּה)

David is speaking as if God had actually recorded his wandering, that is, as if God had written down that at this point David had left Israel to live among the Philistines. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you are aware of my wandering]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Put my tears in your bag
UST Please stay close to me as I have sad experiences here
(שִׂימָה דִמְעָתִי בְנֹאדֶךָ)

David is speaking as if God actually had a leather bag that held fluids, such as people in this culture used to hold water or wine when traveling through arid regions, and that he wanted God to put his tears in it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Keep my tears close to you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT Put my tears in your bag
> UST Please stay close to me as I have sad experiences here
> (שִׂימָה דִמְעָתִי בְּנֹאדֶךָ)

David is using his tears to represent the sorrows he has experienced. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Always be mindful of my sorrows]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Are they} not in your record
> UST I know that you have watched me closely as I have had these experiences
> (הֲלֹא בְסִפְרָתֶךָ)

David is using the question form to make a confident affirmation. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [After all, they are in your record.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT Are they} not in your record
> UST I know that you have watched me closely as I have had these experiences
> (הֲלֹא בְסִפְרָתֶךָ)

Earlier in this verse, David portrays God as recording the details of his wandering. Here he speaks as if God had actually written in that record about the tears he has shed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [After all, you are aware of them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 56:9

ULT	UST
Then my enemies will turn back on the day I call. This I know, for God {is} for me.	When I cry to God for help, my enemies will stop attacking me. I know that will happen because God favors me.

ULT Then my enemies will turn back on the day I call
UST When I cry to God for help, my enemies will stop attacking me
(אָז יָשֻׁובוּ אוֹיְבַי אָחוֹר בְּיוֹם אֶקְרָא)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [On the day I call, then my enemies will turn back]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Then my enemies will turn back on the day I call
UST When I cry to God for help, my enemies will stop attacking me
(אָז יָשֻׁובוּ אוֹיְבַי אָחוֹר בְּיוֹם אֶקְרָא)

See how you translated the similar expression “The day” in verse 3. Alternate translation: [When I call, then my enemies will turn back]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Then my enemies will turn back on the day I call
UST When I cry to God for help, my enemies will stop attacking me
(אָז יָשֻׁובוּ אוֹיְבַי אָחוֹר בְּיוֹם אֶקְרָא)

David saying both Then and on the day (meaning “when”) for emphasis. However, in some languages this might seem to express extra information in a way that would not be natural. If so, you can use only one of these expressions. Alternate translation: [When I call, my enemies will turn back]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT I call
UST I cry to God for help
(אֶקְרָא)

David means implicitly that he will call to God for help. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I call to you for help]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT This I know, for God {is} for me
> UST I know that will happen because God favors me
> (זֶה־יָּדַעְתִּי כִּי־אֱלֹהִים לִי)

The word that the ULT translates as for could introduce: (1) the reason why David knows that what he has just said is true. Alternate translation: [I know this because God is for me] or (2) the content of what David knows. Alternate translation: [This I know, that God is for me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT This I know, for God {is} for me
> UST I know that will happen because God favors me
> (זֶה־יָּדַעְתִּי כִּי־אֱלֹהִים לִי)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [Because God is for me, I know this]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my enemies	my enemies
I call	I cry to God for help
I know	I know
God	God

Psalms 56:10-11

ULT In God—I praise his word— in Yahweh—I praise his word—in God I trust. I will not fear. What will man do to me

UST I praise you, Yahweh my God, because you have promised {to take care of me}.I trust you to do that, so I am not afraid. I know that mere humans will not be able to harm me

(בֵּאלֹהִים אֲהַלֵּל דָּבָר בַּיהוָה אֲהַלֵּל דָּבָר: בָּאלֹהִים בָּטַחְתִּי לֹא אִירָא מַה־יַּעֲשֶׂה אָדָם לִי)

This is the second instance of the refrain in this psalm. (It occurs here in an expanded form.) We recommend that you show this to your readers by translating the phrases here the same way that you translated them in the first occurrence of this refrain in 56:4.

Support Reference: Poetry

Psalms 56:11

ULT	UST
in God I trust. I will not fear. What will man do to me?	I trust you to do that, so I am not afraid. I know that mere humans will not be able to harm me!

ULT What will man do to me
UST I know that mere humans will not be able to harm me
(מַה־יַּעֲשֶׂה אָדָם לִי)

See how you translated the term “man” in 56:1. (Although David says man here where he said “flesh” in verse 4, the meaning is the same in both instances of this refrain.) Alternate translation: [What will people do to me?] or [Human beings can certainly do nothing to me!]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in God	you
I trust	I trust & to do that
I will & fear	I am & afraid

Psalms 56:12

ULT	UST
Your vows {are} on me, God. I will pay a thank-offering to you.	God, I have vowed {that I will thank you publicly when you help me}, so I will offer a sacrifice to thank you.

ULT Your vows {are} on me
UST I have vowed {that I will thank you publicly when you help me
(עָלַי & נְדָרֶיךָ)

David is using Your vows {are} on me as a common expression of his culture to mean that he has made vows to God that he will publicly thank him for helping him and that he is bound by those vows to keep that promise. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am under vows to you] or [I have made vows to you]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Your vows
UST I have vowed {that I will thank you publicly when you help me
(נְדָרֶיךָ)

David is using the possessive form to describe not vows that God has made but vows that he has made to God. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The vows I have made to you]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT Your vows
UST I have vowed {that I will thank you publicly when you help me
(נְדָרֶיךָ)

David is probably not referring to several different vows he has made to God. He probably means that he has made the same vow several times, that he will sacrifice a thank-offering to God when God delivers him. If your language uses a different plural form for a repeated action than it does for separate actions, it would be appropriate to use that form here. In some languages it may be natural to use a singular form. Alternate translation: [The vow I have made to you]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Your vows	I have vowed {that I will thank you publicly when you help me
God	God
a thank-offering	a sacrifice to thank

Psalms 56:13

ULT	UST
For you deliver my life from death. {Are} not my feet from stumbling, that I may walk about to the face of God in the light of the living?	I will be able to do that because you will have rescued me. No one will have killed me. Because you protect me, I will be able to live in your presence here in this world where people are alive.

ULT For
UST I will be able to do that because
(כִּי)

Here the word For does not introduce the reason why David is going to make a thank-offering to God. It introduces an explanation of why David is going to be able to do that. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear. Alternate translation: [I will be able to do this because]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT you deliver my life from death
UST you will have rescued me. No one will have killed me (הִצַּלְתָּ נַפְשִׁי מִמָּוֶת)

It might seem that this expression contains extra information that would not be natural to express in your language. If so, you can shorten it. Alternate translation: [you deliver me from death] or [you rescue my life]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT Are} not my feet from stumbling, that I may walk about to the face of God in the light of the living
UST Because you protect me, I will be able to live in your presence here in this world where people are alive
(הֲלֹא רַגְלַי מִדֶּחִי לְהִתְהַלֵּךְ לִפְנֵי אֱלֹהִים בְּאוֹר הַחַיִּים)

David is using the question form to make a confident assertion. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [My feet are from stumbling, so I may walk about to the face of God in the light of the living!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Are} not my feet from stumbling
UST Because you protect me
(הֲלֹא רַגְלַי מֵּדֶחִי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Are not my feet kept from stumbling] or, as an assertion, [You keep my feet from stumbling]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Are} not my feet from stumbling
UST Because you protect me
(הֲלֹא רַגְלַי מֵּדֶחִי)

David is speaking as if God actually kept his feet from stumbling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do you not keep me safe] or, as an assertion, [You keep me safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT that I may walk about
UST I will be able to live
(לְהִתְהַלֵּךְ)

David is using the image of walking to represent living. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that I may live]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to the face of
UST in & presence
(לִפְנֵי)

Here, to the face of represents being in the presence of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in the presence of]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT in the light of the living
> UST here in this world where people are alive
> (בְּאוֹר הַחַיִּים)

Here, light represents the earth, which people of this culture considered to be a light place, by contrast with Sheol, the realm of the dead, which was a dark place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in the world of the living] or [on this earth, where people are alive]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the living
> UST people are alive
> (הַחַיִּים)

David is using the adjective living as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [living people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you deliver	you will have rescued
from stumbling	Because you protect
God	your

Psalms 56:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT on “A Faraway Silent Dove
> UST The tune is “A Faraway Silent Dove
> (עַל־יוֹנַת אֵלֶם רְחֹקִים)

See how you translated the similar expression “On Sheminith” in the superscription to Psalm 6. Alternate translation: [Set to the tune Yonath Elem Rehoqim] or [Perform in the Yonath Elem Rehoqim style]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT A Faraway Silent Dove
> UST A Faraway Silent Dove
> (יוֹנַת אֵלֶם רְחֹקִים)

The words that the ULT translates as A Faraway Silent Dove could also mean “A Dove on Distant Oaks.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. Alternate translation: [A Dove on Distant Oaks]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT A miktam
> UST this song
> (מִכְתָּם)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a miktam. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT When the Philistines seized him in Gath
UST when the Philistines made him their prisoner in the city of Gath (בֶּאֱחֹז אֹתוֹ פְּלִשְׁתִּים בְּגָת)

This superscription is referring to events related in 1 Samuel 21:10–15. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could describe these events more fully. Alternate translation: [David wrote this song when he fled from Saul to the Philistine city of Gath, hoping he would be safe there, but the Philistines seized him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A & Dove	A & Dove
Of David	David wrote
the Philistines	the Philistines
When & seized	when & made & their prisoner
in Gath	in the city of Gath

Psalms 57

Psalms 57 Introduction

Psalm 57 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 57 begins as a psalm of supplication or lament. It presents several of the basic elements of that type of psalm. But after the statement of trust, instead of a petition and a vow of praise, it turns into a psalm of worship. David experiences such confidence in God that instead of asking him to do something specific for him and promising to thank him publicly, David calls himself to praise God and says why he should do that. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Cry for help (1–3)
2. Description of troubles (4)
3. Refrain (5)
4. Description of troubles (6)
5. Statement of trust (7)
6. Call to worship (8–9)
7. Reason to worship (10)
8. Refrain (11)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “miktam.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

As its superscription indicates, the background to this psalm is one of two episodes in which David fled from King Saul and hid in a cave. This could have been the cave of Adullam, as described in 1 Samuel 22:1–2, or the cave of En Gedi, as described in 1 Samuel 24:1–22. It may be helpful to read those episodes before translating this psalm.

Translation Issues in This Psalm

Variation between “you” and “he”

In verses 1, 5, 7, and 9–11, David addresses God directly as “you.” In verses 2–3, he speaks about him as “God.” This variation of pronouns reflects the flow of psalm of supplication from a cry for help to a description of troubles to a statement of trust. This psalm then becomes a psalm of worship in which David continues to address God directly. However, if it would not be natural in your language to switch back and forth between second-person and third-person pronouns, you could use second-person pronouns throughout the psalm, as some versions do. For example, in verse 2 you might say “I call to you, God Most High,” and in verse 9, you might say “May you send” and “May you reproach.”

Psalms 57:1

ULT	UST
Be gracious to me, God, be gracious to me, for in you my soul takes refuge, and in the shadow of your wings I take refuge until the calamities have passed by.	O God, please help me! I ask you to do that because I depend on you to protect me. I pray that you will protect me just as a mother bird protects her chicks under her wings. I ask you to do that until the troubles I am having are over.

> ULT Be gracious to me, God, be gracious to me
> UST O God, please help me
> (חָנֵּנִי אֱלֹהִים \| חָנֵּנִי)

These are imperatives, but they communicate a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please be gracious to me; God, please be gracious to me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT Be gracious to me, God, be gracious to me
> UST O God, please help me
> (חָנֵּנִי אֱלֹהִים \| חָנֵּנִי)

David is repeating a phrase in order to intensify his expression of the idea that it conveys. If speakers of your language can repeat phrases for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [I ask you earnestly to be gracious to me, God]

Support Reference: Reduplication

> ULT for
> UST I ask you to do that because
> (כִּי)

Here the word for does not introduce the reason why God should be gracious to David. It introduces David’s explanation of why he wants God to be gracious to him. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear. It may not be necessary to represent this expression explicitly in your translation.

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT in you my soul takes refuge, and in the shadow of your wings I take refuge until the calamities have passed by UST I depend on you to protect me. I pray that you will protect me just as a mother bird protects her chicks under her wings. I ask you to do that until the troubles I am having are over (בְּךָ֤ חָסְתָה֙ נַפְשִׁ֣י וּבְצֵ֣ל כְּנָפֶ֣יךָ אֶחְסֶ֑ה עַ֥ד יַעֲבָר־הַוּ֗וֹת)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Another approach would be to connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. See how you as a team have decided to translate the parallel phrases in the Psalms, and follow that approach here and throughout this psalm. Alternate translation: [my soul takes refuge in the shadow of your wings until the calamities have passed by] or [in you my soul takes refuge, indeed, in the shadow of your wings I take refuge until the calamities have passed by]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT in you my soul takes refuge
UST I depend on you to protect me
(בְּךָ֤ חָסְתָה֙ נַפְשִׁ֣י)

David is using one part of himself, his soul, to mean all of him in the act of taking refuge in God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in you I take refuge]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT in you my soul takes refuge
UST I depend on you to protect me
(בְּךָ֤ חָסְתָה֙ נַפְשִׁ֣י)

David is speaking as if God were actually a refuge or place where he could go to be safe. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you are the one who keeps me safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and in the shadow of your wings I take refuge
> UST I pray that you will protect me just as a mother bird protects her chicks under her wings
> (וּבְצֵ֣ל־כְּנָפֶ֣יךָ אֶחְסֶ֑ה)

Here the shadow that wings cast represents the area under the wings that they shelter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and in the shelter of your wings I take refuge] or [and under your wings I take refuge]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT and in the shadow of your wings I take refuge
> UST I pray that you will protect me just as a mother bird protects her chicks under her wings
> (וּבְצֵ֣ל־כְּנָפֶ֣יךָ אֶחְסֶ֑ה)

David is speaking as if God were actually a bird that had wings and as if he were one of that bird's chicks that would take refuge under those wings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this image as a comparison. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT until the calamities have passed by > UST I ask you to do that until the troubles I am having are over > (עַ֥ד יַעֲבֹ֗ר הַוּוֹת)

David is speaking of the calamities he is experiencing as if it were living things that could pass by him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [until these calamities end]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Be gracious to me	please help me
God	O God
my soul	I
takes refuge	depend on & to protect me
I take refuge	I pray that you will protect me just as a mother bird protects her chicks
the calamities	the troubles I am having

Psalms 57:2

ULT	UST
I call to God Most High, to God, the one accomplishing for me.	I am crying {for help} to God, who is greater than all other spirit beings. God will complete what he has begun to do for me.

ULT the one accomplishing for me
UST will complete what he has begun to do for me
(גֹּמֵר עָלָי)

David assumes that his listeners will understand that by accomplishing, he means that God accomplishes the purposes that he has for him. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the one accomplishing his purposes for me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I call	I am crying {for help to God	to God
Most High	who is greater than all other spirit beings
to God	God

Psalms 57:3

ULT	UST
May he send from the heavens and save me. May he reproach the one trampling me. Selah May God send his covenant faithfulness and his truth.	May he act from where he is in heaven to rescue me. Someone is trying to harm me; may God prevent him from doing that. Selah God is kind and loyal to the people who trust him, so may he help me.

ULT May he send from the heavens and save me. May he reproach the one trampling me & May God send his covenant faithfulness and his truth
UST May he act from where he is in heaven to rescue me. Someone is trying to harm me; may God prevent him from doing that & God is kind and loyal to the people who trust him, so may he help me
(יִשְׁלַח מִשָּׁם וַיוֹשִׁיעֵנִי חֵרֵף שֹׁאֲפִי & יִשְׁלַח אֱלֹהִים חַסְדּוֹ וַאֲמִתּוֹ)

The two instances of the verb send in this verse are in a form that Hebrew writers could use to express either a statement or a wish. The verb reproach would conform to whichever sense the writer intended. At this point in this psalm of supplication, David still seems to be expressing his cry for help, so the ULT translates these verbs as expressing a wish. (See the introduction to this psalm.) However, David may also be making an anticipatory confident statement about what God will do. The original audience may have heard both nuances. Use the verbal form in your language that seems most suitable. Alternate translation: [He will send from the heavens and save me. He will reproach the one trampling me. … God will send his covenant faithfulness and his truth]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT May he send from the heavens and save me
UST May he act from where he is in heaven to rescue me
(יִשְׁלַח מִשָּׁם וַיוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

David is speaking as if he wanted God actually to send someone or something from the heavens to save him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May he act from the heavens to save me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT May he send from the heavens and save me
UST May he act from where he is in heaven to rescue me
(יִשְׁלַח מִשָּׁם וְיוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

If you decide to retain the image of sending in your translation, it may be helpful to specify what God would send. Alternate translation: [May he send help from the heavens and save me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT May he reproach the one trampling me
UST Someone is trying to harm me; may God prevent him from doing that (חֵרֵף שֹׁאֲפִי)

David is speaking as if someone were actually trampling on him and as if he wanted God to say something to make the person ashamed of doing that so that he would stop. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May he stop the person who is harassing me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

To translate the term Selah here and in verse 7, see how your translation team decided at 3:2 to represent that term.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT May God send his covenant faithfulness and his truth
UST God is kind and loyal to the people who trust him, so may he help me
(יִשְׁלַח אֱלֹהִים חַסְדּוֹ וַאֲמִתּוֹ)

David is speaking as if covenant faithfulness and truth were living things that God could send to help him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May God act in covenant faithfulness and truth to help me]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT his covenant faithfulness and his truth
UST is kind and loyal to the people who trust him (חַסְדּוֹ וַאֲמִתּוֹ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of truth and covenant faithfulness, you could express the same ideas in other ways, here and in verse 10. Alternate translation: [the ways he is faithful to his covenant and his trustworthiness]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the heavens	from where he is in heaven
and save me	to rescue me
May he reproach	may God prevent him from doing that the one trampling me	Someone is trying to harm me
Selah	Selah
God	God
his covenant faithfulness	is kind

Psalms 57:4

ULT	UST
My soul {is} in the midst of lions; I must lie down {among} blazing ones, sons of man. Their teeth {are} a spear and arrows, and their tongue {is} a sharp sword.	Men who are as dangerous as lions are all around me. I have no safe place to sleep far away from those men who are trying to kill me. They say things about me that make other people want to harm me.

ULT My soul {is} in the midst of lions
UST Men who are as dangerous as lions are all around me
(נַפְשִׁי | בְּתוֹךְ לְבָאִים)

David is using one part of himself, his soul or inner being, to mean all of him in the situation of being in the midst of lions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I am in the midst of lions]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT My soul {is} in the midst of lions
UST Men who are as dangerous as lions are all around me
(נַפְשִׁי | בְּתוֹךְ לְבָאִים)

The word that the ULT translates as soul can also mean “life.” The original audience would have heard both nuances. The implication is that David’s life is in danger, that is, he is in danger of being killed. Alternate translation: [My life is in danger because I am in the midst of lions]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT My soul {is} in the midst of lions
UST Men who are as dangerous as lions are all around me
(נַפְשִׁי | בְּתוֹךְ לְבָאִים)

David is speaking as if he were actually surrounded by lions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this image as a comparison. Alternate translation: [I am in the midst of men who are as dangerous as lions]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I must lie down {among} blazing ones, sons of man
UST I have no safe place to sleep far away from those men who are trying to kill me
(אֶשְׁכְּבָה לֹּהֲטִים בְּנֵי־אָדָם)

By putting the phrase sons of man right after blazing ones, David is indicating that he is making a comparison between these people and things that are blazing and set other things on fire. The point of this comparison is that just as fire is destructive, so these people are trying to destroy him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [I must lie down among people who are trying to destroy me]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT sons of man
UST those men
(בְּנֵי־אָדָם)

David is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean “human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [human beings]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Their teeth {are} a spear and arrows, and their tongue {is} a sharp sword
UST They say things about me that make other people want to harm me
(שִׁנֵּיהֶם חֲנִית וְחִצִּים וּלְשׁוֹנָם חֶרֶב חַדָּה)

David is using the teeth and tongue of these men to represent them speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Their speech is a spear and arrows; yes, what they say is a sharp sword]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Their teeth {are} a spear and arrows, and their tongue {is} a sharp sword
UST They say things about me that make other people want to harm me
(שִׁנֵּיהֶם חֲנִית וְחִצִּים וּלְשׁוֹנָם חֶרֶב חַדָּה)

David is speaking as if what these men say with their teeth and tongue were actually a spear and arrows and a sharp sword. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this image as a comparison. Alternate translation: [What they say about me is as dangerous as a spear or arrows or a sharp sword]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT and their tongue {is} a sharp sword
> UST They say things about me that make other people want to harm me
> (וּלְשׁוֹנָם חֶרֶב חַדָּה)

Here the word tongue is singular in form, but it refers to the tongues of all of David's enemies as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form of "tongue." Alternate translation: [and their tongues are sharp swords]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My soul	me
lions	Men who are as dangerous as lions are} a spear	that make other people want to harm me
and their tongue	They say things about me is} a & sword	that make other people want to harm me

Psalms 57:5

ULT	UST
Be high above the heavens, God, {may} your glory {be} above all of the earth.	May you have the most glory, God, of anyone in heaven or on earth!

ULT Be high above the heavens, God, {may} your glory {be} above all of the earth
UST May you have the most glory, God, of anyone in heaven or on earth
(רוּמָה עַל־הַשָּׁמַיִם אֱלֹהִים עַל כָּל־הָאָרֶץ כְּבוֹדֶךָ)

The expression Be high is an imperative, but it communicates a fervent wish rather than a command. Use a form in your language that will indicate this. Alternate translation: [Oh may you be high above the heavens, God, may your glory be above all of the earth]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Be high above the heavens, God, {may} your glory {be} above all of the earth
UST May you have the most glory, God, of anyone in heaven or on earth
(רוּמָה עַל־הַשָּׁמַיִם אֱלֹהִים עַל כָּל־הָאָרֶץ כְּבוֹדֶךָ)

David is speaking as if he actually wanted God and his glory to be in a physically high position relative to the heavens and the earth. In this context, God's glory refers to the honor that he receives. The second part of this verse specifies in what way David wants the first part to be true. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May people honor you, God, more than anyone else in heaven or on earth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Be high above the heavens, God, {may} your glory {be} above all of the earth
UST May you have the most glory, God, of anyone in heaven or on earth
(רוּמָה עַל־הַשָּׁמַיִם אֱלֹהִים עַל כָּל־הָאָרֶץ כְּבוֹדֶךָ)

David is referring to the entire created realm by naming its two main components, the heavens and the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [May people honor you, God, more than anyone else anywhere]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the heavens	heaven
God	God
may} your glory	glory

Psalms 57:6

ULT	UST
They prepare a net for my steps; my soul bows down. They dig a pit to my face; they fall into the midst of it. Selah	My enemies are trying to capture me, as if they had set out a net to trap me. This has distressed me greatly. Yes, they are trying to capture me, as if they had dug a deep pit along the path where I walk, hoping that I would fall into it. But I believe that God will use what they are doing against them, as if they had fallen into that pit themselves. Selah

ULT They prepare a net for my steps
UST My enemies are trying to capture me, as if they had set out a net to trap me
(רֶשֶׁת | הֵכִ֣ינוּ לְפְעָמַ֑י)

The pronoun They refers to the enemies whom David describes in verse 4. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [My enemies prepare a net for my steps]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They prepare a net for my steps
UST My enemies are trying to capture me, as if they had set out a net to trap me
(רֶשֶׁת | הֵכִ֣ינוּ לְפְעָמַ֑י)

Here, David's steps represent his feet walking along a path. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [They prepare a net for my feet] or [They prepare a net, hoping I will walk into it and it will trap my feet]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT They prepare a net for my steps
UST My enemies are trying to capture me, as if they had set out a net to trap me
(רֶשֶׁת | הֵכִ֣ינוּ לְפְעָמַ֑י)

David is speaking as if his enemies physically prepare a net to trap him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They take measures to capture me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my soul bows down
UST This has distressed me greatly
(כְּפַף נַפְשִׁי)

David is using one part of himself, his soul or inner being, to mean all of him in the act of bowing down. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I bow down]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT my soul bows down
UST This has distressed me greatly
(כְּפַף נַפְשִׁי)

David is speaking as if he physically bows down when he realizes that his enemies are trying to capture him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I feel despair]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT They dig a pit to my face; they fall into the midst of it
UST Yes, they are trying to capture me, as if they had dug a deep pit along the path where I walk, hoping that I would fall into it. But I believe that God will use what they are doing against them, as if they had fallen into that pit themselves
(כָּרוּ לְפָנַי שִׁיחָה נָפְלוּ בְתוֹכָהּ)

Here, to my face represents “in front of me.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [They dig a pit in front of me; they fall into the midst of it] or [They dig a pit where they expect me to walk, hoping I will fall into it, but they fall into it instead]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT They dig a pit to my face; they fall into the midst of it
UST Yes, they are trying to capture me, as if they had dug a deep pit along the path where I walk, hoping that I would fall into it. But I believe that God will use what they are doing against them, as if they had fallen into that pit themselves
(כָּרוּ לְפָנַי שִׁיחָה נָפְלוּ בְתוֹכָהּ)

David is speaking as if his enemies physically dig a pit (covering it to conceal it) in order to trap him, but that they fall into it themselves. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly (indicating that David is elaborating on the idea he expressed in the first part of this verse). Alternate translation: [Indeed, they do things to try to capture me, but what they do only hurts them instead]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my soul	me
bows down	This has distressed & greatly a pit	a deep pit
Selah	Selah

Psalms 57:7

ULT	UST
My heart is established, God, my heart is established. Let me sing and make music.	God, I trust you completely. So {instead of worrying,} I will sing praises to you.

ULT My heart is established, God, my heart is established
UST God, I trust you completely
(נָכוֹן לִבִּי אֱלֹהִים נָכוֹן לִבִּי)

The expression established is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [My heart is steadfast, God, my heart is steadfast]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT My heart is established, God, my heart is established
UST God, I trust you completely
(נָכוֹן לִבִּי אֱלֹהִים נָכוֹן לִבִּי)

David is repeating a phrase in order to intensify his expression of the idea that it conveys. If speakers of your language can repeat phrases for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [My heart is firmly established, God] or [My heart is firmly steadfast, God]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT My heart is established, God, my heart is established
UST God, I trust you completely
(נָכוֹן לִבִּי אֱלֹהִים נָכוֹן לִבִּי)

Here the heart represents a person's feelings and intentions. David means that his confidence in God is unwavering. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I have confidence in you, God, I have confidence in you] or [I have resolute confidence in you, God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT Let me sing and make music
> UST So {instead of worrying,} I will sing praises to you
> (אֲשִׁירָה וַאֲזַמְּרָה)

David is using a verbal form in which he is addressing himself and suggesting a course of action that is appropriate in light of what he has just said. In your translation, use an appropriate verbal form to indicate this, here and in the next verse. Alternate translation: [So I will sing and make music]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT Let me sing and make music
> UST So {instead of worrying,} I will sing praises to you
> (אֲשִׁירָה וַאֲזַמְּרָה)

The terms sing and make music mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Let me surely sing] or [So I will surely sing]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is established	trust you completely
God	God

Psalms 57:8

ULT	UST
Awake, my glory! Awake, lyre and harp! Let me awaken the dawn.	I will do that enthusiastically. I will begin the day by praising you as I play my harp and lyre.

ULT Awake, my glory
UST I will do that enthusiastically
(עוּרָה כְבוֹדִי)

David is using the term glory to represent his soul. People of this culture spoke of the soul or inner being as the most noble or glorious part of a person. (The use of this term here is similar to its use in 16:9, “my heart rejoices and my glory is glad,” and 30:12, “my glory will make music to you.”) If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [Awake, my soul]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Awake, my glory
UST I will do that enthusiastically
(עוּרָה כְבוֹדִי)

David is addressing one part of himself, his glory or soul, to tell all of himself to wake up. If your language has a verbal form that is marked for self-address, you could use it here. Other languages may have other ways of showing the meaning. Alternate translation: [I must wake up] or (self-address form) [Wake up!]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT Awake, my glory
UST I will do that enthusiastically
(עוּרָה כְבוֹדִי)

David is speaking as if he were actually asleep and needed to wake up. He is actually urging himself to apply vitality and creativity to the work of praising God in song. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation. Alternate translation: [I must sing in a lively way] or (self-address form) [Come on, sing in a lively way]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Awake, lyre and harp
UST as I play my harp and lyre
(עוּרָה הַנֵּבֶל וְכִנּוֹר)

David is speaking of his lyre and harp as if they were living things that could wake up from sleep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will start making music with my lyre and harp]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT Let me awaken the dawn
UST I will begin the day by praising you
(אָעִירָה שָׁ חַר)

David is speaking of the dawn as if it were a living thing that he could awaken. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will play them before the sun comes up]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my glory	I
lyre	lyre
and harp	my harp and

Psalms 57:9

ULT	UST
I will thank you, Lord, among the peoples; I will make music to you among the nations.	I will sing songs to praise you, Lord, so that people of other nations can find out about you.

ULT I will thank you, Lord, among the peoples; I will make music to you among the nations

UST I will sing songs to praise you, Lord, so that people of other nations can find out about you

(אוֹדְךָ בָעַמִּים | אֲדֹנָי אֲזַמֶּרְךָ בַּל־אֻמִּים)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [I will sing praises to you, Lord, among the peoples of other nations]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
the nations	of other nations

Psalms 57:10

ULT	UST
For your covenant faithfulness {is} great to the heavens, and your truth to the clouds.	You deserve this praise because your kindness and loyalty are much greater than anything on earth, just as the clouds in the sky are much higher than anything on earth.

ULT For
UST You deserve this praise because
(כִּי)

Here the word For introduces more detailed information about the reasons David has for singing the Lord's praises. Use a connecting word or phrase in your language that will make this clear. It may not be necessary to represent this word explicitly in your translation. Alternate translation: [I will do this because]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT your covenant faithfulness {is} great to the heavens, and your truth to the clouds
UST your kindness and loyalty are much greater than anything on earth, just as the clouds in the sky are much higher than anything on earth
(גָּדֹל עַד־שָׁמַיִם חַסְדֶּךָ וְעַד־שְׁחָקִים אֲמִתֶּךָ)

David is speaking of God's covenant faithfulness and truth as if they were physical things that could extend from the earth to the clouds and the heavens. He means that these qualities of God are immeasurably great. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. The UST models one way to do that.

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your covenant faithfulness {is} great to the heavens
UST your kindness & are much greater than anything on earth & in the sky are much higher than anything on earth
(גָּדֹל עַד־שָׁמַיִם חַסְדֶּךָ)

David is using is great to as a common expression of his culture to mean "is as high as." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your covenant faithfulness reaches to the heavens] or [your covenant faithfulness is as high as the sky]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT your covenant faithfulness & and your truth to the clouds
UST your kindness and loyalty are & than anything on earth, just as the clouds & are & than anything on earth
(חַסְדֶּךָ וְעַד־שְׁחָקִים אֲמִתָּךְ)

See how you translated the abstract nouns for the ideas of covenant faithfulness and truth in verse 3.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and your truth to the clouds
UST and loyalty are & than anything on earth, just as the clouds & are & than anything on earth
(וְעַד־שְׁחָקִים אֲמִתָּךְ)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and your truth is great to the clouds] or [and your truth is as high as the clouds]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	your kindness
the heavens	in the sky

Psalms 57:11

ULT	UST
Be high above the heavens, God, {may} your glory {be} above all of the earth.	May you have the most glory, God, of anyone in heaven or on earth!

ULT Be high above the heavens, God, {may} your glory {be} above all of the earth

UST May you have the most glory, God, of anyone in heaven or on earth

(רוֹמָה עַל־שָׁמַיִם אֱלֹהִים עַל כָּל־הָאָרֶץ כְּבוֹדֶךָ)

This is the second instance of the refrain in this psalm. We recommend that you show this to your readers by translating the phrases here the same way that you translated them in the first occurrence of this refrain in 57:5.

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the heavens	heaven
God	God
may} your glory	glory

Psalms 57:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT a miktam
> UST this song
> (מִכְתָּם)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a miktam. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

> ULT When he fled from the face of Saul, in the cave
> UST when he fled into a cave to escape from Saul > (בְּבָרְחוֹ מִפְּנֵי־שָׁאוּל בַּמְּעָרָה)

This superscription is referring to one of two episodes in which David fled from King Saul, who wanted to kill him, and hid in a cave. This could have been the cave of Adullam, as described in 1 Samuel 22:1–2, or the cave of En Gedi, as described in 1 Samuel 24:1–22. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could describe these events more fully, even though the identity of this cave is not certain. Alternate translation: [David wrote this song while he was hiding in a cave to which he had fled in order to be safe from King Saul]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT from the face of Saul
> UST to escape from Saul
> (מִפְּנֵי־שָׁאוּל)

The superscription is using one part of Saul, his face, to mean all of him in his determination to kill David. Alternate translation: [from Saul, who wanted to kill him]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
May You & Destroy	The tune is “Do & Destroy
Of David	David wrote
Saul	Saul

Psalms 58

Psalms 58 Introduction

Psalm 58 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 58 is a wisdom psalm that describes the difference between how righteous people and wicked people live and the difference between what happens to them. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Introduction: rebuke of wicked judges (1–2)
2. Description of wicked people (3–5)
3. Prayer that God will punish the wicked (6–8)
4. Assertion that God will punish the wicked and reward the righteous (9–11)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “miktam.” See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Psalms 58:1

ULT	UST
Truly {in} silence do you speak righteousness? Do you judge uprightly, sons of man?	You {judges} should not think that you can ensure justice if you do not speak out {to condemn wickedness}. You are not judging cases fairly, and that shows that you are acting only as humans{, not as God's representatives}.

ULT Truly {in} silence do you speak righteousness? Do you judge uprightly, sons of man
UST You {judges} should not think that you can ensure justice if you do not speak out {to condemn wickedness}. You are not judging cases fairly, and that shows that you are acting only as humans{, not as God's representatives
(הָאֻמְנָם אֵלֶּם צֶדֶק תְּדַבֵּרוּן מֵישָׁרִים תִּשְׁפְּטוּ בְּנֵי אָדָם)

David is using the question form for emphasis. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Truly in silence you do not speak righteousness! You do not judge uprightly, sons of man!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT righteousness
UST justice
(צֶדֶק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is right]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT sons of man
UST and that shows that you are acting only as humans{, not as God's representatives
(בְּנֵי אָדָם)

David is using sons of man as a common expression of his culture to mean "human beings." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [human beings]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	You {judges} should not think that righteousness	justice
Do you judge	You are not judging cases
uprightly	fairly

Psalms 58:2

ULT	UST
No, in the heart you do wickedness. Your hands weigh out violence on the earth.	In fact, you keep thinking about doing things that are wrong. The decisions that you make encourage people to commit violent crimes.

ULT in the heart
UST you keep thinking about (בְּלֵבָב)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and intentions exist. The psalmist means that they are planning and deciding to do wickedness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in your thoughts] or [inwardly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT wickedness
UST things that are wrong
(עוֹלָת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wickedness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [wicked things] or [evil]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Your hands weigh out violence
UST The decisions that you make encourage & to commit violent crimes
(חֲמָס יְדֵיכֶם תְּפַלְּסוּן)

Here, hands represents the actions of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You intentionally commit violent acts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT violence
UST encourage & to commit violent crimes
(חֲמַס)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of violence, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [violent acts] or [violent deeds]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wickedness	things that are wrong
on the earth	people

Psalms 58:3

ULT	UST
The wicked turn aside from the womb; they stray from the belly, speaking falsehood.	Wicked people do wrong things and tell lies from the time when they are born.

ULT The wicked
UST Wicked people
(רְשָׁעִים)

The psalmist is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [Those who act wickedly]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT turn aside from the womb
UST do wrong things & from the time when they are born
(זָרוּ & מֵרֶחֶם)

The psalmist is using turn aside from the womb as a common expression to mean “go astray from birth.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [go astray from birth] or [are wicked from the day they are born]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT they stray from the belly
UST do wrong things & from the time when they are born
(תָּעוּ מִבֶּטֶן)

The psalmist is using stray from the belly as a common expression of the culture to mean “go astray from birth.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they err from birth] or [they go astray from the day they are born]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT The wicked turn aside from the womb; they stray from the belly, speaking falsehood
> UST Wicked people do wrong things and tell lies from the time when they are born > (זֹרוּ רְשָׁעִים מֵרֶחֶם תָּעוּ מִבֶּטֶן דֹּבְרֵי כָזָב)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The wicked turn aside from the womb, indeed, they stray from the belly, speaking falsehood.]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT speaking falsehood
> UST and tell lies
> (דֹּבְרֵי כָזָב)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of falsehood, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [speaking lies] or [saying things that are false]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The wicked	Wicked people
from the womb	from the time when they are born falsehood	lies

Psalms 58:4

ULT	UST
The poison to them {is} like the likeness of the poison of a serpent. {They are} like a deaf adder {that} shuts its ears,	Wicked people harm other people just as poisonous snakes harm people. They do not pay attention to God's commandments, as if they were cobras that refused to listen

ULT The poison to them {is} like the likeness of the poison of a serpent
UST Wicked people harm other people just as poisonous snakes harm people (חֲמַת־לָמוֹ כִּדְמוּת חֲמַת־נָחָשׁ)

The point of this comparison is that just as the poison of a serpent is harmful and deadly, so is the speech or nature of the wicked. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [Their words are as harmful as serpent venom] or [They are as poisonous as a serpent]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT They are} like a deaf adder
UST They do not pay attention to God's commandments, as if they were cobras that refused to listen
(כְּמוֹ־פֶתֶן חֵרֵשׁ)

The point of this comparison is that just as a deaf adder does not listen, so the wicked do not listen to correction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [They are as unheeding as a deaf adder]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT They are} like
UST as if they were
(כְּמוֹ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [The wicked people are like]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT that} shuts its ears
> UST They do not pay attention to God’s commandments & that refused to listen
> (יַאְטֵם אָזְנוֹ)

The psalmist is speaking of the wicked as if they were snakes that could shut their ears. He means that they willfully refuse to listen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that refuses to listen] or [that will not listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is} like the likeness of	just as a serpent	snakes

Psalms 58:5

ULT	UST
that does not listen to the voice of charmers, one charming charms, being made wise.	and so did not respond to the music that snake charmers were playing. Even the most skillful charmer could not get them to respond to music.

ULT to the voice of charmers
UST to the music that snake charmers were playing (לְקוֹל מְלַחֲשִׁים)

The psalmist is using the voice of charmers as a common expression of the culture to mean “the music or incantations of snake charmers.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to the music of snake charmers] or [to the incantations of those who charm snakes]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT one charming charms
UST charmer could not get them to respond to music
(חוֹבֵר חֶבֶר)

The psalmist is using a construction in which a verb and its object come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of saying this. Alternate translation: [one who is charming them expertly] or [one who skillfully charms]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT being made wise
UST Even the most skillful
(מְחֻכָּם)

The expression being made wise is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a skilled charmer] or [an expert charmer]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
being made wise	Even the most skillful

Psalms 58:6

ULT	UST
God, break their teeth in their mouth! Break out the fangs of the young lions, Yahweh!	Yahweh my God, wicked people are as dangerous as young lions, but destroy them as if you were breaking the large teeth of such lions.

ULT God, break their teeth in their mouth! Break out the fangs of the young lions, Yahweh
UST Yahweh my God, wicked people are as dangerous as young lions, but destroy them as if you were breaking the large teeth of such lions
(אֱלֹהִים הֲרֵס־שִׁנֵּימוֹ בְּפִימוֹ מַלְתְּעוֹת כְּפִירִים נְתֹּץ | יְהוָה)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [God, break their teeth in their mouth; indeed, break out the fangs of the young lions, Yahweh]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT God, break their teeth in their mouth! Break out the fangs of the young lions, Yahweh
UST Yahweh my God, wicked people are as dangerous as young lions, but destroy them as if you were breaking the large teeth of such lions
(אֱלֹהִים הֲרֵס־שִׁנֵּימוֹ בְּפִימוֹ מַלְתְּעוֹת כְּפִירִים נְתֹּץ | יְהוָה)

The psalmist is speaking of the wicked people as if they were dangerous animals with teeth and fangs that could harm others. He is asking God to destroy their power to harm people, as if God were breaking the teeth of dangerous animals. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God, destroy the power of the wicked! Take away their ability to harm people, Yahweh]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT break their teeth
UST but destroy them as if you were breaking the large teeth of (הֲרֵס־שִׁנֵּימוֹ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a request. Alternate translation: [I ask you to break their teeth] or [please break their teeth]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT Break out the fangs of
> UST but destroy them as if you were breaking the large teeth of > (מַלְתְּעוֹת & נְתַּץ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “Please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please break out the fangs of]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	Yahweh my God
the young lions	wicked people are as dangerous as young lions & such lions
Yahweh	Yahweh my God

Psalms 58:7

ULT	UST
May they be melted like waters {that} run off to them. {When} he treads his arrows, {may they be} as if they are cut off.	Make them disappear like water that flows away. When they try to harm people as if they were shooting arrows at them, keep them from hurting those people, as if those arrows had no heads!

ULT May they be melted
UST Make them disappear
(יִמָּאֲסוּ)

The expression May they be melted contains a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [May God melt them] or [May Yahweh cause them to melt]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT like waters {that} run off
UST like water that flows away
(כְּמוֹ־מַ֥יִם יִתְהַלֵּ֗כוּ)

The point of this comparison is that just as waters that run off quickly disappear, so the psalmist wants his enemies to disappear. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [like waters that vanish from sight]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT When} he treads his arrows
UST When they try to harm people as if they were shooting arrows at them
(יִדְרֹךְ֣ חִצּ֑וֹ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [When the wicked person treads his arrows] or [When each wicked person treads his arrows]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT When} he treads his arrows
UST When they try to harm people as if they were shooting arrows at them
(יִדְרֹךְ חצו)

Here, treads represents “shoots.” Ancient archers would step on their bows in order to bend them so that they could string them. David means “when he steps on his bow to string it and then shoots arrows from it.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [When he launches his arrows] or [When he shoots his arrows]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT may they be} as if they are cut off
UST keep them from hurting those people, as if those arrows had no heads
(כְּמוֹ יִתְמֹלָלוּ)

The point of this comparison is that just as something that is cut off or blunted is ineffective, so the wicked person’s arrows would be ineffective. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [may they be as if they were blunted] or [may they be as if they had no points]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT they are cut off
UST those arrows had no heads
(יִתְמֹלָלוּ)

The expression they are cut off contains a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh cuts them off] or [they break off]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

Psalms 58:8

ULT	UST
{May they be} like a snail {that} melts; it goes away. {May they be like} the miscarriage of a woman; they do not see the sun.	May they be like a snail that dissolves as it moves along. May they be like a baby that never lives on earth because it dies before its mother gives birth to it.

ULT May they be} like a snail {that} melts
UST May they be like a snail that dissolves
(כְּמוֹ שַׁבְלוּל תֶּמֶס)

The point of this comparison is that just as a snail that melts dissolves and disappears as it moves along, so the psalmist desires that his enemies would perish and vanish. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [May they be like a snail that liquifies and disappears]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT May they be} like
UST May they be like
(כְּמוֹ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [May they be destroyed like] or [May they perish like]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT May they be like} the miscarriage of a woman
UST May they be like a baby & it dies before its mother gives birth to it (נֵפֶל אֵשֶׁת)

The point of this comparison is that just as the miscarriage of a woman never sees the light of day, so David's enemies will never see the sun. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [May they be like a stillborn baby which never experiences life]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT May they be like} the miscarriage of UST May they be like a baby & it dies before & gives birth to it (נֵפֶל)

The psalmist is referring to a stillborn child in a polite way by using the term miscarriage. Depending on what is helpful for your readers, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [May they be like a stillborn baby] or [May they be like a child who dies at birth]

Support Reference: Euphemism

Psalms 58:9

ULT	UST
Before your pots perceive the thorn, like the living, like the burning, he will whirlwind it away.	God will punish and destroy them as powerfully as if a whirlwind were carrying them away. He will do that more quickly than thorns can catch fire and heat a pot, even if the thorns are dry, not fresh.

ULT Before your pots perceive the thorn
UST He will do that more quickly than thorns can catch fire and heat a pot
(בְּטֶרֶם יָבִינוּ סִירֹתֵיכֶם אָטָד)

The psalmist is using Before your pots perceive the thorn as a common expression of the culture to mean “very swiftly” or “before something can even begin.” The image refers to using thorns as quick-burning fuel to heat cooking pots, and the expression means that something will happen before the cooking process can even start. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In an instant] or [More swiftly than you can imagine]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT like the living, like the burning
UST even if the thorns are dry, not fresh (כְּמוֹ־חַי כְּמוֹ־חָרוֹן)

The psalmist is speaking of the thorns as if they could be the living or the burning (that is, either green or dry). If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [whether green or dry]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the burning
UST even if the thorns are dry
(חָרוֹן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of burning, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what burns easily]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT he will whirlwind it away
> UST God will punish and destroy them as powerfully as if a whirlwind were carrying them away > (יְשַׁעֲרֶנּוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of God's judgment as if it were a powerful whirlwind that sweeps things away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will sweep it away with great force] or [he will lift it from sight with a strong wind]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
perceive	can catch fire and heat
the thorn	thorns

Psalms 58:10

ULT	UST
The righteous will rejoice when he sees vengeance. He will wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.	Righteous people will celebrate when they see God punish wicked people. It will be as if wicked people were an army that God destroyed and righteous people were walking triumphantly through the battlefield afterwards.

ULT The righteous
UST Righteous people
(צַדִּיק)

The psalmist is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [Righteous people] or [Those who are righteous]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT vengeance
UST God punish wicked people
(נָקָם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of vengeance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God punish the wicked] or [the wicked being punished]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT He will wash his feet in the blood of the wicked
UST It will be as if wicked people were an army that God destroyed and righteous people were walking triumphantly through the battlefield afterwards
(פְּעָמָיו יִרְחַץ בְּדַם הָרִשָׁע)

David is speaking of the righteous person as if he were a warrior who could wash his feet in the blood that covered a battlefield after defeating enemies. This image expresses the idea of complete victory. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He will triumph completely over the wicked] or [He will celebrate total victory over the wicked]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT when he sees vengeance
UST when they see God punish wicked people
(כִּי־חָזָה נָקָם)

By when he sees vengeance, the psalmist means when he sees God punish the wicked. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when he sees God take vengeance on the wicked] or [when he sees God punish those who are wicked]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the wicked
UST It will be as if wicked people were an army that God destroyed and righteous people were walking triumphantly through the battlefield afterwards
(הָרָשָׁע)

The psalmist is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [wicked people] or [those who act wickedly]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The righteous	Righteous people will rejoice	will celebrate vengeance	God punish wicked people
the wicked	It will be as if wicked people were an army that God destroyed and righteous people were walking triumphantly through the battlefield afterwards

Psalms 58:11

ULT	UST
Then man will say, “Truly, fruit {is} to the righteous. Truly, there is a God judging the earth.”	Then people will say, “It is true that there is a reward for righteous people! It is true that God judges fairly the people who live on the earth!”

ULT Then man will say
UST Then people will say
(וְיֹאמַר אָדָם)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Then someone will say]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT fruit {is} to the righteous
UST there is a reward for righteous people
(פְּרִי לַצַּדִּיק)

The psalmist is using fruit is to the righteous as a common expression of the culture to mean “there is a reward for the righteous.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the righteous have a reward] or [the righteous are rewarded]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT fruit
UST there is a reward
(פְּרִי)

The psalmist is speaking of the reward or outcome that righteous people receive as if it were fruit such as that which a tree produces. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [benefit]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT is} to the righteous
> UST for righteous people
> (לַצַּדִּֽיק)

The psalmist is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [is to those who act righteously] or [comes to people who are righteous]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT a God judging the earth
> UST God judges fairly the people who live on the earth
> (אֱלֹהִ֥ים שֹׁפְטִ֗ים בָּאָֽרֶץ)

The implication is that God actively judges the earth in contrast to the unjust judges mentioned earlier in the psalm. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a God who actively judges the earth] or [a God who really does judge the earth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	It is true that fruit	there is a reward
is} to the righteous	for righteous people
a God	God
judging	judges fairly
the earth	the people who live on the earth

Psalms 58:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST Here is a note to the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT a miktam
> UST this song
> (מִכְתָּם)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a miktam. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
May You & Destroy	Do & Destroy
Of David	David wrote

Psalms 59

Psalms 59 Introduction

Psalm 59 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 59 is a psalm of supplication or lament. It includes all the basic elements of that type of psalm. (Some elements are repeated.) See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Cry for help (1–2)
2. Description of troubles (3–4)
3. Petition (5)
4. Refrain (6)
5. Description of troubles (7)
6. Statement of trust (8–10)
7. Petition (11–13)
8. Refrain (14–15)
9. Vow of praise (16–17)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “miktam.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

As its superscription indicates, the background to this psalm is an episode related in 1 Samuel 19:8–12 in which King Saul sent men to watch David’s house so that they could kill him when he left it. It may be helpful to read that episode before translating this psalm.

Psalms 59:1

ULT	UST
Deliver me from my enemies, my God! Set me on high, away from the ones rising up against me.	My God, please rescue me from my enemies! Protect me from those who want to attack me!

ULT Set me on high
UST Protect me
(תְּשַׂגְּבֵנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates an urgent request to God rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates an urgent request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please set me on high] or [I beg you to set me on high]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Set me on high
UST Protect me
(תְּשַׂגְּבֵנִי)

David is speaking of protection as if Yahweh could Set him on high in an unreachable place above his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Keep me safe from them] or [Put me beyond their reach]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT away from the ones rising up against me
UST from those who want to attack me
(מִמִּתְקוֹמְמָי)

The pronoun ones refers to David’s enemies. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [away from the enemies rising up against me]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Deliver me	please rescue me
from my enemies	from my enemies
my God	My God

Psalms 59:2

ULT	UST
Deliver me from workers of iniquity, and save me from men of blood.	Rescue me from wicked men who are trying to kill me!

ULT Deliver me
UST Rescue me
(הַצִּ֣ילֵנִ֣י)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please deliver me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT from workers of iniquity
UST wicked & who are trying
(מִפֹּעֲלֵ֣י אָ֑וֶן)

David is using the possessive form to describe workers who are characterized by iniquity. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from people who do wicked things] or [from those who practice evil]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT from workers of iniquity
UST wicked & who are trying
(מִפֹּעֲלֵ֣י אָ֑וֶן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from people who do evil things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT save me
UST Rescue me
(הוֹשִׁיעֵ֣נִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates an urgent request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates an urgent request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please save me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT and save me from men of blood
> UST Rescue me from & men & to kill me
> (וּמֵאַנְשֵׁי דָמִים הוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

The psalmist is using the possessive form to describe men who are characterized by blood. This refers to people who are violent or who commit murder. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and save me from violent men] or [and save me from murderers]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT and save me from men of blood
> UST Rescue me from & men & to kill me
> (וּמֵאַנְשֵׁי דָמִים הוֹשִׁיעֵנִי)

Here, blood represents violence and murder. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and save me from violent men] or [and save me from murderous men]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Deliver me	Rescue me
iniquity	wicked
save me	Rescue me

Psalms 59:3

ULT	UST
For behold, they lie in wait for my life; the mighty gather against me. Not {for} my transgression and not {for} my sin, Yahweh,	Look! They are hiding and waiting for a chance to kill me! Fierce men have gathered to harm me. Yahweh, they are doing that even though I have not done anything that is wrong!

ULT behold
UST Look
(הִנֵּה)

The psalmist is using behold as a common expression to draw the reader's attention to what he is about to say. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [notice] or [see]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for my life
UST to kill me
(לְנַפְשִׁי)

Here, life represents the whole person as the target of an attack. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to attack me] or [to murder me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the mighty
UST Fierce men
(עַזִּים)

David is using the adjective mighty as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [mighty men] or [very strong men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT Not {for} my transgression and not {for} my sin
UST they are doing that even though I have not done anything that is wrong (לֹא־פִשְׁעִי וְלֹא־חַטָּאתִי)

David is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [They gather against me not for my transgression and not for my sin] or [This is happening not for my transgression and not for my sin]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT for} my transgression
UST I have & done anything that is wrong
(פִּשְׁעִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of transgression, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because I transgressed against you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for} my sin
UST I have & done anything that is wrong
(חַטָּאתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sin, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because I have sinned]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the mighty	Fierce men
gather	have gathered
for} my transgression	I have & done anything that is wrong
for} my sin	I have & done anything that is wrong
Yahweh	Yahweh

Psalms 59:4

ULT	UST
without iniquity, they run and prepare themselves. Awake to meet me, and see!	I have not committed any sin, but they are hurrying to get ready to attack me. Please consider my situation and come quickly to help me.

ULT without iniquity
UST I have not committed any sin
(בְּלִי־עָוֹן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [though I have done nothing wrong]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Awake to meet me
UST and come quickly to help me
(עוּרָה לִקְרָאתִי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were asleep and needed to Awake. David means that he wants Yahweh to take action and help him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture or you could express this meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Come to meet me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Awake
UST and come quickly
(עוּרָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that would be used to make a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please awaken]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT and see
UST Please consider my situation
(וּרְאֵה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [and please look at my situation]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
iniquity	I have & committed any sin

Psalms 59:5

ULT	UST
So you, Yahweh, God of armies, the God of Israel, wake up to punish all of the nations! Do not be gracious {to} any treacherous workers of iniquity. Selah	Yahweh, you are the God who commands the heavenly armies. You are the God whom we Israelites worship. So I ask you to take action and punish all the people who do not honor you. Do not act mercifully toward those wicked people who have acted treacherously toward me. Selah

ULT God of armies
UST are the God who commands the heavenly armies
(אֱלֹהִים ׀ צְבָאוֹת)

The expression God of armies refers to Yahweh as the commander of the heavenly armies, meaning the angelic hosts. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God who rules over the angelic hosts]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the God of Israel
UST You are the God whom we Israelites worship
(אֱלֹהֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל)

The psalmist is not using this possessive form the God of Israel to indicate that the Israelites possess or control God. Rather the psalmist is using these words to indicate that God is the one whom Israel worships. Alternate translation: [who is the God whom Israel worships]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT wake up to punish
UST So I ask you to take action and punish (הָקִיצָה לִפְקֹד)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please arise to punish] or [I beg you to arise and punish]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT wake up
UST So I ask you to take action
(הָקִ֣יצָה)

The psalmist is speaking of Yahweh as if he were asleep and needed to wake up. He means that he wants Yahweh to begin to intervene and punish the nations. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [come and act]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT all of the nations
UST all the people who do not honor you (כָּל־הַגּוֹיִ֑ם)

David says all of the nations as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be clearer in your language, you could express the emphasis in a different way. Alternate translation: [the hostile nations] or [these enemy nations]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT Do not be gracious
UST Do not act mercifully toward (אַל־תָּחֹ֥ן)

The word translated as Do not be gracious is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please do not show favor] or [I beg you not to be gracious]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT treacherous workers of iniquity
UST wicked people who have acted treacherously toward me
(בֹּגְדֵ֖י אָֽוֶן)

David is using the possessive form to describe workers who are characterized by iniquity. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [people who are treacherous and who do wicked things] or [treacherous people who do evil]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

The word Selah is a Hebrew word. You will need to decide if you will use this word in its Hebrew form or if you will instead translate the meaning into your language. Either approach has broad support. If you use the Hebrew word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
God	are the God
God of armies	are the God who commands the heavenly armies
the God of	You are the God whom & worship
Israel	we Israelites
to punish	and punish
the nations	the people who do not honor you be gracious	Do & act mercifully toward iniquity	wicked people
Selah	Selah

Psalms 59:6

ULT	UST
They return at evening, they growl like a dog and go around the city.	They are like wild dogs that come out in {the cool of} the evening and growl as they roam around this city {looking for scraps of food}.

ULT They return
UST that come out
(יְשׁוּבוּ)

The pronoun They refers to the enemies introduced in verses 1–3. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [The psalmist's enemies return]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they growl like a dog
UST They are like wild dogs & and growl
(יְהֻמּוּ כַכֶּלֶב)

The point of this comparison is that just as a dog is threatening and aggressive, so are the psalmist's enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [they make threatening sounds] or [they snarl aggressively]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT and go around the city
UST as they roam around this city {looking for scraps of food
(וְיסֹובְבוּ עִיר)

By go around the city, the psalmist means that David's enemies are roaming around Jerusalem looking for victims. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [roam around the city looking for prey] or [prowl around the city seeking victims]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Psalms 59:7

ULT	UST
Behold, they belch out with their mouth, swords {are} in their lips, for, “Who is hearing?”	They make violent threats so loudly that it is as if they are belching. They think, “No one who hears us {will stop us}!”

ULT Behold
UST They make & threats
(הִנֵּה)

The psalmist is using Behold as a common expression to draw attention to what follows. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Look] or [Pay attention]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT they belch out with their mouth
UST They make & threats so loudly that it is as if they are belching (יַבִּֽיעוּן בְּפִיהֶם)

The psalmist is using they belch out with their mouth as a common expression of the culture to mean that his enemies speak violently or arrogantly. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they speak violent threats] or [they pour out arrogant words]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT swords {are} in their lips
UST They make violent threats
(חֲרָבוֹת בְּשִׂפְתוֹתֵיהֶם)

The psalmist is speaking of his enemies’ words as if they were swords that could physically harm people. This image emphasizes how dangerous and hurtful their speech is. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [their lips speak harmful words] or [their words are as dangerous as swords]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT are} in their lips
UST They make & threats
(בְּשִׂפְתוֹתֵיהֶם)

Here, lips represents speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in their speech] or [in what they say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Who is hearing
UST No one who hears us {will stop us
(מִי שֹׁמֵעַ)

The psalmist's enemies are using the question form for emphasis. They assume that no one hears or cares what they say. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [No one is hearing] or [No one hears us!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
swords	violent

Psalms 59:8

ULT	UST
But you, Yahweh, laugh at them. You mock all of the nations.	But you mock them, Yahweh. You scoff at people who do not honor you.

ULT But you, Yahweh
UST But you & Yahweh
(וְאַתָּה יְהוָה)

The psalmist uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between the threats of his enemies and God's response to them. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [You, however, Yahweh] or [You, Yahweh, on the other hand]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT laugh at them
UST mock them & at (תִּשְׂחַק־לָמוֹ)

The psalmist is using laugh at them as a common expression of the culture to mean "scorn them" or "treat them with contempt." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [ridicule them] or [look upon them with contempt]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT But you, Yahweh, laugh at them. You mock all of the nations
UST But you mock them, Yahweh. You scoff at people who do not honor you (וְאַתָּה יְהוָה תִּשְׂחַק־לָמוֹ תִּלְעַג לְכָל־גּוֹיִם)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [But you, Yahweh, laugh at them, indeed, you mock all of the nations]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Yahweh	Yahweh
You mock	You scoff
the nations	people who do not honor you

Psalms 59:9

ULT	UST
Let me wait for you, his strength, for God {is} my stronghold.	Because you, God, are the one who protects me and makes me strong, I will depend on you.

ULT his strength
UST and makes me strong
(עֻזּוֹ)

The pronoun his may refer to God, but some Hebrew manuscripts and many translations understand it as my. This would make the psalmist say that God is my strength, which fits better with the context where he calls God my stronghold. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could clarify this. Alternate translation: [my strength] or [you, my strength]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT his strength
UST and makes me strong
(עֻזּוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you who are strong] or [you who strengthen me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT God {is} my stronghold
UST you, God, are the one who protects me
(אֱלֹהִים מִשְׂגַּבִּי)

The psalmist is speaking of God as if he were a stronghold, that is, a fortified place of safety. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God protects me] or [God is my place of safety]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	you, God
is} my stronghold	are the one who protects me

Psalms 59:10

ULT	UST
The God of my covenant faithfulness will meet me. God will make me look upon my enemies.	You, God, are faithfully loving to me, and you will come to help me. You will defeat my enemies so that I can look triumphantly at them.

ULT The God of my covenant faithfulness
UST You, God, are faithfully loving to me
(אֱלֹהֵי חסדו)

David is using the possessive form to describe the God who is characterized by covenant faithfulness toward him. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God, who is faithful to his covenant with me] or [God, who keeps his covenant promises to me]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT my covenant faithfulness
UST are faithfully loving to me
(חסדו)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [who is faithfully loyal to me in his covenant] or [who faithfully keeps his covenant with me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT will make me look upon my enemies
UST will defeat my enemies so that I can look triumphantly at them
(יַרְאֵנִי בְשׁוּרָי)

The psalmist is using will make me look upon my enemies as a common expression of the culture to mean “will cause me to see my enemies defeated” or “will enable me to see my enemies humiliated.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will let me see my enemies defeated] or [will enable me to see myself humiliating my enemies]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The God of	You, God
my covenant faithfulness	are faithfully loving to me
God	You
upon my enemies	will defeat my enemies & at them

Psalms 59:11

ULT	UST
Do not slay them, lest my people forget. Scatter them by your power and bring them down, Lord, our shield.	But do not kill them {right away}. Otherwise, the Israelite people might forget how you punished them. Instead, use your power to make them wander around helplessly, and then destroy them. Lord, you are like a shield that protects us.

ULT Do not slay them
UST But do not kill them {right away
(אַל־תַּהַרְגֵם)

The expression translated as Do not slay them is an imperative, but it communicates a request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a request. Alternate translation: [Please do not kill them] or [I ask that you not kill them]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT lest my people forget
UST Otherwise, the Israelite people might forget how you punished them
(פֶּן־יִשְׁכְּחוּ עַמִּי)

David is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first gives God an instruction to follow so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [so that my people will not forget] or [because if you do, my people will forget]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT my people
UST the Israelite people
(עַמִּי)

Here David is using the pronoun my with people to refer to the nation of Israel, over whom he reigns as king. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the Israelites] or [the people of Israel]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Scatter them
UST Instead & to make them wander around helplessly
(הֲנִיעֵמוֹ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a request to God rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a request to God. It may be helpful to use a word such as “please.” Alternate translation: [Please scatter them] or [We ask that you scatter them]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT by your power
UST use your power
(בְּחֵילְךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of power, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because you are powerful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and bring them down
UST and then destroy them
(וְהוֹרִידֵמוֹ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please bring them down] or [I ask you to humble them]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT our shield
UST you are like a shield that protects us
(מָגִנֵּנוּ)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a shield that protects the Israelites. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [our protector]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
slay them	do & kill them {right away
Scatter them	Instead & to make them wander around helplessly
by your power	use your power
Lord	Lord
our shield	you are like a shield that protects us

Psalms 59:12

ULT	UST
{For} the sin of their mouth, the word of their lips, may they be taken in their pride, and for the curse and for the lying they tell.	The things that they say are sinful. They curse people falsely. May their pride be like a trap that catches them {and keeps them from doing what they are planning}.

ULT For} the sin of their mouth
UST that they say are sinful
(חַטַּאת־פִּימוֹ)

David is using the possessive form to describe a sin that is characterized by their mouth. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the sin characterized by their mouth] or [the sin that comes from their mouth]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT For} the sin of
UST are sinful
(חַטַּאת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sin, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [For what they say that is sinful] or [For the sinful words]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT their mouth, the word of their lips
UST The things that they say
(פִּימוֹ דְּבַר־שְׂפָתֵימוֹ)

Here the phrases their mouth and their lips represent what the psalmist's enemies say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what they say] or [their spoken words]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT may they be taken in their pride
> UST May their pride be like a trap that catches them {and keeps them from doing what they are planning
> (וְיִלָּכְדוּ בְגַאֲוֹנָם)

The expression may they be taken in their pride contains a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [may their pride trap them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT in their pride
> UST May their pride
> (בְגַאֲוֹנָם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of pride, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because they are proud]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT and for the curse
> UST They curse people
> (וּמֵאָלָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of the curse, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how they curse people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT and for the lying
> UST falsely
> (וּמִכַּחַשׁ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of lying, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and for the untruthful stories]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
For} the sin of	are sinful
in their pride	May their pride and for the curse	They curse people and for the lying	falsely
they tell	They curse people

Psalms 59:13

ULT	UST
Consume {them} in wrath; consume {them} that they {may} not {be}, that they may know that God is ruling in Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah	Become angry with them and destroy them so that they do not exist anymore. That way people will know that you, God, rule over the Israelite people and the entire world. Selah

ULT Consume {them} in wrath
UST Become angry with them and destroy them
(כַּלֵּה בְחֵמָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a request rather than a command for God to destroy his enemies. If the imperative does not communicate a request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a request. Alternate translation: [I ask that you consume them in wrath] or [Please consume them in wrath]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Consume {them} in wrath; consume {them
UST Become angry with them and destroy them
(כַּלֵּה בְחֵמָה כַּלֵּה)

The psalmist is repeating forms of the verb Consume in order to intensify his expression of the idea that it conveys. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [Completely consume them in wrath]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT in wrath
UST Become angry with them
(בְחֵמָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wrath, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because you are angered] or [wrathfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT that they {may} not {be
UST so that they do not exist anymore
(וְאֵינֵמוֹ)

David is using the phrase that they may not be to introduce the goal or purpose of consuming his enemies in wrath. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose. Alternate translation: [so that they will no longer exist] or [in order that they will be destroyed]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT that they may know
UST That way people will know
(וְיֵדְעוּ)

Here, that they may know marks that God is ruling in Jacob to the ends of the earth as a further goal or purpose of Consume them in wrath; consume them that they may not be. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose. Alternate translation: [so that people may know] or [in order that all may know]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT in Jacob
UST over the Israelite people
(בְּיַעֲקֹב)

Here, Jacob represents the people of Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [over Israel] or [the people of Israel]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT to the ends of the earth
UST and the entire world
(לְאַפְסֵי הָאָרֶץ)

The phrase to the ends of the earth was a common expression meaning “everywhere” or “throughout the entire world.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [everywhere] or [throughout the whole world]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

The word Selah is a Hebrew word. You will need to decide if you will use this word in its Hebrew form or if you will instead translate the meaning into your language. Either approach has broad support. If you use the Hebrew word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Consume {them	and destroy them
in wrath	Become angry with them
that they may know	That way people will know
God	you, God
is ruling	rule
in Jacob	over the Israelite people
Selah	Selah

Psalms 59:14

ULT	UST
They return at evening; they growl like a dog and go around the city.	They are like wild dogs that come out in {the cool of} the evening and growl as they roam around this city {looking for scraps of food}.

ULT They return at evening
UST that come out in {the cool of} the evening
(וְיָשֻׁבוּ לָעֶרֶב)

This is poetic language. If your language has a way to indicate poetry, you could use it here. Alternate translation: [In the evening they return]

Support Reference: Poetry

ULT they growl like a dog
UST They are like wild dogs & and growl
(יֶהֱמ֣וּ כַכֶּ֑לֶב)

The point of this comparison is that just as a dog growls when it is threatening or angry, so the psalmist's enemies make threatening sounds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [they make threatening sounds like an angry dog]

Support Reference: Simile

Psalms 59:15

ULT	UST
They, they wander around to eat. If they are not full, then they lodge.	They roam around searching for food. If they do not get enough to eat, they keep roaming around all night.

ULT They, they wander around
UST They roam around
(הֵמָּה ינועון)

Here the psalmist is stating the pronoun They separately, even though the verb translated as they wander already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize the contrast between him and his enemies. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here.

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT If they are not full, then they lodge
UST If they do not get enough to eat, they keep roaming around all night
(אִם־לֹ֣א יִשְׂבְּע֣וּ וְיָלִ֑ינוּ)

David is speaking as if this were a hypothetical possibility, but he means that it is actually true. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, or if your readers might think that what David is saying is uncertain, then you could translate this as a confident statement. Alternate translation: [When they are not full, they lodge]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

Psalms 59:16

ULT	UST
But I, I will sing {about} your strength, and I will sing aloud in the morning {about} your covenant faithfulness! For you are a stronghold to me and a refuge in the day of trouble to me.	But as for me, I will sing each morning about how powerful you are. I will sing joyfully about how faithfully loving you are to me. I will sing about how you protect me when I am in danger.

ULT But I, I will sing
UST But as for me, I will sing
(וַאֲנִי | אָשִׁיר)

Here David is using the pronoun I twice for emphasis. He is doing this to contrast his response to God with the actions of his enemies, which he described earlier in the psalm. If a speaker of your language would repeat a pronoun in this way for emphasis, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing this emphasis. Alternate translation: [But as for me, I]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT But I
UST But as for me
(וַאֲנִי)

David uses the words But I here to indicate a strong contrast between the enemies described in the previous verses and himself. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [As for me, however, I] or [In contrast to them, I]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT about} your strength
UST about how powerful you are (עֻזֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [about how strong you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT about} your covenant faithfulness
UST about how faithfully loving you are to me
(חַסְדֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [about how you are faithful to your covenant] or [about how faithful you are to me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you are a stronghold to me
UST how you protect me
(הָיִיתָ מִשְׂגָּב לִי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a stronghold that protected him from enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you are like a fortified place to me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and a refuge
UST how you protect (וּמָנוֹס)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a refuge in which he could find safety from danger. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [and a place of safety]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the day of trouble
UST when & am in danger
(בְּיוֹם צַר)

David is using in the day of trouble as a common expression to mean “when I am in trouble.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when I am in trouble] or [in times of distress]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT in the day of trouble to me
> UST when I am in danger
> (בְּיוֹם צָר־לִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trouble, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when I am troubled] or [when I experience troubles]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
about} your strength	about how powerful you are about} your covenant faithfulness	about how faithfully loving you are to me a stronghold	how you protect and a refuge	how you protect trouble	am in danger

Psalms 59:17

ULT	UST
Let me make music to you, my strength, for God {is} my stronghold, the God of my covenant faithfulness.	I will praise you, who enables me to be strong, because you, God, protect me and faithfully love me as you promised.

ULT my strength
UST who enables me to be strong (עֻזִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you who make me strong] or [you who strengthen me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT God {is} my stronghold
UST because you, God, protect me
(אֱלֹהִים מִשְׂגַּבִּי)

David is speaking of God as if he were a stronghold, a fortified place where David could be protected from his enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God protects me] or [God keeps me safe from my enemies]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the God of my covenant faithfulness
UST and faithfully love me as you promised (אֱלֹהֵי חַסְדִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the God who is faithful to his covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my strength	who enables me to be strong
God	because you, God
is} my stronghold	protect me
the God of	and faithfully love me as you promised my covenant faithfulness	and faithfully love me as you promised

Psalms 59:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT a miktam
> UST this song
> (מִכְתָּם)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a miktam. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

> ULT When Saul sent and they watched the house to kill him
> UST when Saul sent men to watch his house so that they could kill him {when he left it > (בִּשְׁלֹחַ שָׁאוּל וַיִּשְׁמְרוּ אֶת־הַבַּיִת לַהֲמִיתוֹ)

The implication is that Saul sent men to watch David’s house in order to kill him, as recorded in 1 Samuel 19:11. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [When Saul sent men to watch David’s house to kill him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
May You & Destroy	The tune is “Do & Destroy
Of David	David wrote
Saul	Saul
the house	his house
to kill him	so that they could kill him {when he left it

Psalms 60

Psalms 60 Introduction

Psalm 60 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 60 is a psalm of supplication or lament. It includes all the basic elements of that type of psalm except a vow of praise. (Some elements are repeated.) See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Cry for help (1)
2. Description of troubles (2–3)
3. Statement of trust (4–5a)
4. Petition (5b)
5. Statement of trust (6–8)
6. Petition (9–11)
7. Statement of trust (12)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a “miktam.” See the discussion of that term in the introduction to Psalms.

As its superscription indicates, the background to this psalm consists of two episodes related in 2 Samuel 8:3–8 and 2 Samuel 8:13–14 in which David was leading the Israelite army to fight against Aramean armies northeast of Israel and his general Joab had to leave and fight against the Edomite army to the south of Israel. It may be helpful to read those episodes before translating this psalm.

Psalms 60:1

ULT	UST
God, you have rejected us; you have broken through us. You have become angry; restore us!	God, you have stopped helping us Israelites! Because you have become angry with us, our enemies have been able to break through our ranks. Please enable us to fight victoriously again!

ULT you have broken through us
UST our enemies have been able to break through our ranks
(פָּרַצְתָּנוּ)

David is speaking of God as if he had broken through the defenses of Israel like an enemy army that is breaching a wall or battle line. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have allowed our enemies to overcome our defenses] or [you have let our defenses collapse]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT restore us
UST Please enable us to fight victoriously again
(תְּשׁוֹבֵב לָנוּ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please restore us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
you have rejected us	you have stopped helping us Israelites restore	Please enable & to fight victoriously again

Psalms 60:2

ULT	UST
You have made the earth tremble; you have broken it. Heal its breaches, for it shakes.	It is as if you have caused a great earthquake that has split open the ground. Our army is struggling, but please make it strong again.

ULT You have made the earth tremble; you have broken it
UST It is as if you have caused a great earthquake that has split open the ground
(הִרְעַשְׁתָּה אֶרֶץ פִּצַּמְתָּהּ)

David is speaking of the nation of Israel as if it were the earth that Yahweh had caused to tremble and broken as in an earthquake. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You have brought disaster on our nation; you have shattered it]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Heal its breaches
UST please make it strong again
(רְפָה שִׁבָרֶיהָ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please heal its breaches]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Heal its breaches
UST please make it strong again
(רְפָה שִׁבָרֶיהָ)

David is speaking of the nation of Israel as if it were land that had been damaged by an earthquake and needed to be healed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Restore it] or [Repair the damage]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the earth	It is as if you have caused a great earthquake
You have made & tremble	It is as if you have caused a great earthquake
it shakes	Our army is struggling

Psalms 60:3

ULT	UST
You have made your people see the difficult. You have made us drink the wine of staggering.	You have caused us Israelites to experience great difficulties. It is as if you have made us drink strong wine that is making us fall down as if we were drunk.

ULT the difficult
UST great difficulties
(קְשֵׁה)

The psalmist is using the adjective difficult as a noun to mean difficult things or hardship. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [difficult things] or [hardship]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT You have made us drink the wine of staggering
UST It is as if you have made us drink strong wine that is making us fall down as if we were drunk
(הִשְׁקִיתָנוּ יֵין תַּרְעֵלָה)

The psalmist is speaking of God causing his people to be confused and helpless as if he had made them drink wine that caused staggering. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [made us confused and helpless]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wine of	strong wine
staggering	that is making us fall down as if we were drunk

Psalms 60:4

ULT	UST
You have given a banner to the ones fearing you, to be displayed from the face of the bow. Selah	But you have raised a battle flag for those who honor you. They can rally around it when their enemies attack them. Selah

ULT a banner
UST a battle flag
(נֵּס)

The psalmist assumes that readers will know that a banner is a military flag used to mark a rallying point where troops assemble for safety and coordination during battle. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a rallying flag] or [a flag to gather around for safety]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to the ones fearing you
UST for those who honor you
(לִ֝ירֵאֶ֗יךָ)

The psalmist is using the ones fearing you as a common expression of the culture to mean “the ones who worship and honor you with reverence.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who worship you] or [those who approach you with reverence]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT from the face of the bow
UST when their enemies attack them
(מִפְּנֵ֣י קֶ֑שֶׁט)

The psalmist is using from the face of as a common expression of the culture to mean “because of” or “on account of.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of the bow] or [on account of the bow]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

The word Selah is a Hebrew word. You will need to decide if you will use this word in its Hebrew form or if you will instead translate the meaning into your language. Either approach has broad support. If you use the Hebrew word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to the ones fearing you	for those who honor you
the bow	their enemies attack them
Selah	Selah

Psalms 60:5

ULT	UST
So that your beloved may be delivered, save {us} {with} your right hand and answer me.	That way you will rescue the people whom you love. Please answer my prayer and use your power to save us.

ULT your beloved may be delivered
UST you will rescue the people whom you love
(יֵחָלְצ֣וּן יְדִידֶ֑יךָ)

The expression may be delivered contains a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [you, God, may deliver your beloved]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT save {us
UST to save us
(הוֹשִׁ֥יעָה)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please save us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT with} your right hand
UST and use your power
(יְמִינְךָ֖)

Here, right hand represents power or strength. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with your might] or [with your strength]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT and answer me
> UST Please answer my prayer
> (ועננו)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please answer me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT and answer me
> UST Please answer my prayer
> (ועננו)

The pronouns shift from us to me in this verse. The psalmist is speaking as an individual representative of the people, first using “us” to refer to the collective group, then using “me” to refer to himself as their leader. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify this shift. Alternate translation: [answer me, your servant who speaks for your people]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your beloved	the people whom you love may be delivered	you will rescue
save {us	to save us

Psalms 60:6

ULT	UST
God has spoken in his holiness, “I will rejoice; I divide Shechem and measure out the Valley of Succoth.	God is holy {and does not lie}, and he has said, “I delight in the territory that I have measured and divided up for you Israelites to live in. That territory includes land on the east side of the Jordan River, where the Valley of Succoth is, and land on the west side of the Jordan River, where Shechem is.

ULT in his holiness
UST is holy {and does not lie
(בְּקָדְשׁוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of holiness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by his holy character]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT I will rejoice
UST I delight in (אֶעְלֻזָה)

This is the beginning of what God said. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could mark that this is a direct quote of God. Alternate translation: [God has spoken in his holiness, saying, “I will rejoice] or [God has spoken in his holiness, from which he says, “I will rejoice]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT I divide Shechem
UST and divided up for you Israelites to live in & and land on the west side of the Jordan River, where Shechem is (אֲחַלְּקָה שְׁכֶם)

The implication is that David will divide Shechem as an inheritance among God’s people, demonstrating God’s sovereignty over the land. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I divide Shechem as an inheritance] or [I apportion Shechem to God’s people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
in his holiness	is holy {and does not lie
I will rejoice	I delight in
Shechem	and land on the west side of the Jordan River, where Shechem is
Succoth	Succoth

Psalms 60:7

ULT	UST
To me {is} Gilead, and to me {is} Manasseh. And Ephraim {is} the protection of my head; Judah, my scepter.	I own the region of Gilead {east of the Jordan River}, and I own the territory of Manasseh {west of the Jordan River}. The mighty soldiers of the tribe of Ephraim {who fight to protect Israel} are like my helmet, and I have given Israel a ruler from the tribe of Judah.

ULT And Ephraim {is} the protection of my head
UST The mighty soldiers of the tribe of Ephraim {who fight to protect Israel} are like my helmet
(וְאֶפְרַיִם מָעוֹז רֹאשִׁי)

David is speaking of Ephraim as if it were the protection of his head, that is, as if the tribe were a helmet that protected him in battle. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [Ephraim protects me like a helmet] or [Ephraim is my military defense]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT And Ephraim
UST The mighty soldiers of the tribe of Ephraim {who fight to protect Israel
(וְאֶפְרַיִם)

The psalmist assumes that readers will know that while Ephraim was the name of one of the sons of Joseph, he and his brother, Manasseh, became patriarchs of two of the twelve tribes of Israel. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [And the tribe of Ephraim]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my head
UST my (רֹאשִׁי)

Here, head represents the person himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT Judah, my scepter
> UST and I have given Israel a ruler from the tribe of Judah
> (לִֽיהוּדָ֖ה מְחֹקְקִֽי׃)

David is speaking of Judah as if it were my scepter, the symbol of royal authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Judah, the source of my royal authority] or [Judah, the tribe from which my kingship comes]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is} Gilead	the region of Gilead {east of the Jordan River is} Manasseh	the territory of Manasseh {west of the Jordan River
And Ephraim	The mighty soldiers of the tribe of Ephraim {who fight to protect Israel
Judah	from the tribe of Judah
my scepter	and I have given Israel a ruler

Psalms 60:8

ULT	UST
Moab is the tub of my washing. Over Edom I throw my sandal. Over me, Philistia, shout triumphantly.”	The Moabites are my servants, like slaves who wash my feet. I own the land of Edom; it is as if I have thrown my sandal onto it to show that it belongs to me. And you Philistines might shout your battle cry against me{, but I will defeat you}.”

ULT Moab is the tub of my washing
UST The Moabites are my servants, like slaves who wash my feet
(מוֹאָב ׀ סִיר רַחְצִי)

David is speaking of Moab as if it were the tub of his washing, a basin used by a servant to wash his master’s feet. This image expresses that Moab has been reduced to servant status under God’s authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Moab is my servant] or [I will make Moab serve me like a slave]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Over Edom I throw my sandal
UST I own the land of Edom; it is as if I have thrown my sandal onto it to show that it belongs to me
(עַל־אֱדוֹם אַשְׁלִיךְ נַעֲלִי)

Throwing a sandal over Edom was a symbolic action by which the psalmist showed that God was claiming ownership and dominion over that nation. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [I claim Edom as my own by throwing my sandal over it]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT Over me, Philistia, shout triumphantly
UST And you Philistines might shout your battle cry against me{, but I will defeat you (עָלַי פְּלֶשֶׁת הִתְרֹעָעִי)

The psalmist is speaking to Philistia, which he knows cannot hear him. He is doing this to communicate to the people listening to him that he feels very strongly about God’s power over the Philistines. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words as if he were speaking directly to the people about Philistia. Alternate translation: [Philistia will shout triumphantly over me] or [Let Philistia shout triumphantly over me]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

> ULT shout triumphantly
> UST might shout your battle cry
> (הִתְרֹעָעִי)

The psalmist actually means to communicate the opposite of the literal meaning of what he is saying here. If a speaker of your language would not do that, you could translate the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have nothing to shout about]

Support Reference: Irony

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Moab	The Moabites
Edom	I own the land of Edom & it
my sandal	my sandal
Philistia	And you Philistines

Psalms 60:9

ULT	UST
Who will bring me {into} the city of fortification? Who will lead me to Edom?	But I still need someone to lead my army to the land of Edom and conquer their {capital} city that has strong walls around it.

ULT Who will bring me {into} the city of fortification
UST But I still need someone & and conquer their {capital} city that has strong walls around it
(מִי יְבַלְּנִי עִיר מָצוֹר)

David is using the question form to express his need for God's help to conquer the fortified city. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I need someone to bring me into the city of fortification!] or [Only you can bring me into the city of fortification.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT into} the city of fortification
UST their {capital} city that has strong walls around it (עִיר מָצוֹר)

The implication is that the city of fortification refers to a well-fortified Edomite city, likely Petra or Bozrah. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Edom's fortified capital city]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Who will lead me to Edom
UST But I still need someone to lead my army to the land of Edom
(מִי נָחַנִי עַד־אֱדוֹם)

David is using the question form for emphasis. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Only you will lead me to Edom!] or [You alone will lead me to Edom.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fortification	that has strong walls around it
Edom	the land of Edom

Psalms 60:10

ULT	UST
You, God, have you not rejected us? And you do not go out with our armies, God.	It seems that you, God, have stopped helping us Israelites. It seems that you do not enable our armies to defeat our enemies when they march out to fight them.

ULT have you not rejected us
UST It seems that & have stopped helping us Israelites (הֲלֹא & זְנַחְתָּנוּ)

The psalmist is using the question form to express his complaint to God. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you have rejected us!] or [it seems you have rejected us.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT And you do not go out with our armies
UST It seems that & do not enable our armies to defeat our enemies when they march out to fight them
(וְלֹא־תֵצֵא & בְּצִבְאוֹתֵינוּ)

The psalmist is using go out with our armies as a common expression of the culture to mean “accompany our armies into battle” or “help us fight our enemies.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And you do not accompany our armies into battle] or [And you do not help us fight our enemies]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
have you & rejected us	have stopped helping us Israelites

Psalms 60:11

ULT	UST
Give help against the enemy to us, for the salvation of man {is} futility.	Any help that human beings could give us would not be at all sufficient. So we need you to help us to defeat our enemies.

ULT Give help against the enemy to us
UST So we need you to help us to defeat our enemies (הָבָה־לָּנוּ עֶזְרַת מִצָּר)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request to God. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please give us help against the enemy] or [We beg you to give us help against the enemy]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT the salvation of UST Any help that & could give us
(תְּשׁוּעַת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [man cannot save us] or [people cannot rescue us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT man
UST human beings
(אָדָם)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [humankind] or [people]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT for the salvation of man {is} futility
UST Any help that human beings could give us would not be at all sufficient (וְשָׁוְא תְּשׁוּעַת אָדָם)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of futility, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for the salvation of man is useless] or [for the salvation of man cannot help]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the enemy	to defeat our enemies
the salvation of	Any help that & could give us

Psalms 60:12

ULT	UST
With God we will do valor, for he, he will trample our adversaries.	If you, God, help us defeat our enemies, then we will be able to fight very valiantly.

ULT we will do valor
UST then we will be able to fight very valiantly
(נַעֲשֶׂה־חָיִל)

The psalmist is using do valor as a common expression of the culture to mean “act valiantly” or “accomplish mighty deeds.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [we will act valiantly] or [we will accomplish mighty deeds]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT he will trample our adversaries
UST help us defeat our enemies
(יָבוּס צָרֵינוּ)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he would literally trample Israel’s enemies with his feet. He means that Yahweh will decisively defeat them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will crush our adversaries] or [he will give us complete victory over our adversaries]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for he, he will trample
UST If you & help us defeat
(וְהוּא יָבוּס)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun he twice for emphasis. He is doing this to stress that God alone will defeat the enemies. If a speaker of your language would use a repeated pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing this emphasis. Alternate translation: [he himself will trample our adversaries] or [it is he who will trample our adversaries]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
With God	God
valor	very valiantly
he will trample	help us defeat
our adversaries	our enemies

Psalms 60:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

See how you translated the term “chief musician” in the superscription to Psalm 4. Alternate translation: [For the leader of worship music] or [For the music director]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT A testimony
> UST David wanted to testify to the Israelite people > (עֵדוּת)

The superscription to this psalm describes it as a testimony. This most likely means that the psalm is presenting the sufferings and defeats of the Israelites to Yahweh as a plea for him to help them on the basis that they are his covenant people. Alternate translation: [An appeal for help]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT A miktam
> UST this song
> (מִכְתָּם)

The superscription to this psalm identifies it as a miktam. Since the meaning of this word is not certain, you may wish to represent it in its Hebrew form and spell it the way it sounds in your language. See the discussion of that term in the Introduction to Psalms.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT Aram Naharaim
> UST Aramean armies from Naharaim
> (אֲרַם נַהֲרַיִם)

The words Aram Naharaim are the name of a place.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT Aram Zobah
> UST Aramean armies from & Zobah
> (אֲרָם צוֹבָה)

The words Aram Zobah are the name of a place.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT in the Valley of Salt
> UST in the Valley of Salt, where > (בְּגֵיא־מֶלַח)

The phrase Valley of Salt is the name of a place.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT 12, 000
> UST 12, 000 of their soldiers
> (שְׁנֵים עָשָׂר אָלֶף)

The number 12,000 should be translated according to the conventions of your own language and culture. Alternate translation: [twelve thousand]

Support Reference: Numbers

> ULT When he fought with Aram Naharaim
> UST when he was leading the Israelite army to fight against Aramean armies from Naharaim
> (בְּהַצּוֹתוֹ | אֶת אֲרַם נַהֲרַיִם)

Here the psalmist is providing background information about the historical circumstances in which David wrote this psalm. In your translation, introduce this information in a way that would be natural in your own language and culture.

Support Reference: Background Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A testimony	David wanted to testify to the Israelite people
of David	David wrote
for teaching	so that they would learn from this song {that they should depend on God to help them
Aram Naharaim	Aramean armies from Naharaim
Joab	his general Joab
Edom	the Edomites

Psalms 61

Psalms 61 Introduction

Psalm 61 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 61 is a psalm of trust and petition in which the psalmist calls out to God from a distant place and expresses confidence in God as his protector.

1. Petition: The psalmist cries out for God to hear from far away (1–2)
2. Confidence: God has been a refuge and strong tower (3)
3. Desire: To dwell forever in God’s tent and under his wings (4)
4. Assurance: God has heard the psalmist’s vows and given an inheritance (5)
5. Prayer for the king: Long life in God’s presence, guarded by covenant faithfulness and truth (6–7)
6. Response: Perpetual praise and vow fulfillment (8)

The word “Selah” at the end of verse 4 marks a structural break between the personal petition (1–4) and the assurance and royal prayer (5–8).

About the Psalm

The superscription attributes this psalm to David and directs it to the music director with stringed instruments. The psalmist speaks as someone far from God’s dwelling place (“the end of the earth,” verse 2), calling out in a time of emotional weakness. The psalm moves from personal petition to a prayer for “the king” in the third person (verses 6–7), which likely refers to David speaking of himself as king, though some interpreters see a broader reference to the Davidic line.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Psalm

God as refuge and shelter

The psalm uses a series of protection images to describe God: a high rock (verse 2), a refuge (verse 3), a tower of strength (verse 3), a tent (verse 4), and sheltering wings (verse 4). Translators should be aware that these are distinct metaphors drawn from different areas of Israelite life—geography, military defense, hospitality, and nature—all conveying the idea of safety in God's presence. (See: refuge, refugee, shelter, sheltered)

Covenant faithfulness and truth

In verse 7, the Hebrew words "hesed" (covenant faithfulness) and "emeth" (truth, faithfulness) appear together as a pair and are personified as guardians who preserve the king. When these two terms appear together, each enriches the other, expressing God's loyal, reliable love. (See: covenant faithfulness, covenant loyalty, covenant love)

Vows

Vows (solemn promises made to God) frame the second half of the psalm, appearing in both verse 5 and verse 8. In Israelite worship, a person in distress would make a vow to God, promising praise or offerings in return for deliverance. The psalmist's commitment to fulfill these vows "day by day" reflects ongoing, not one-time, worship. (See: oath, vow, swear, swearing, swear by, sworn)

Translation Issues

Person shift: first person to third person

The psalmist speaks in the first person through verses 1–5 ("I call," "my vows") but shifts to the third person in verses 6–7 ("the king," "he," "his years"), then returns to first person in verse 8. This is likely David referring to himself as king, but some languages may need to make the referent explicit to avoid confusion.

Psalms 61:1

ULT	UST
Hear my cry, God; listen {to} my prayer.	O God, I am calling to you for help. Please do what I ask.

ULT Hear my cry, God; listen {to} my prayer
UST O God, I am calling to you for help. Please do what I ask
(שִׁמְעָה אֱלֹהִים רִנָּתִי הַקְשִׁיבָה תְּפִלָּתִי)

These two phrases, Hear my cry, God and listen to my prayer, mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [God, hear my cry; yes, listen to my prayer]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Hear my cry, God; listen {to} my prayer
UST O God, I am calling to you for help. Please do what I ask
(שִׁמְעָה אֱלֹהִים רִנָּתִי הַקְשִׁיבָה תְּפִלָּתִי)

These are imperatives, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. Alternate translation: [Please hear my cry, God; please listen to my prayer]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT my prayer
UST what I ask
(תְּפִלָּתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of prayer, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what I pray]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my cry	I am calling to you for help
God	O God
my prayer	what I ask

Psalms 61:2

ULT	UST
From the end of the earth I call to you when my heart is faint. Lead me to the rock {that} is higher than me.	I am far from home, and I feel sad, so I am calling out to you {for help}. Please keep me safe, as if you had put me on top of a high rock.

ULT From the end of the earth I call to you
UST I am far from home & so I am calling out to you {for help
(מִקְצֵה הָאָרֶץ | אֵלֶיךָ אֶקְרָא)

If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put the information about where David calls from after the information about calling to God. Alternate translation: [I call to you from the end of the earth]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT From the end of the earth
UST I am far from home
(מִקְצֵה הָאָרֶץ)

David is using From the end of the earth as a common expression to mean from a very distant or remote place. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [From a faraway place] or [From distant lands]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT when my heart is faint
UST and I feel sad
(בַּעֲטֹף לִבִּי)

Here the heart represents where a person's thoughts and feelings exist. David is speaking of his emotions as if they were physically weak. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when I am discouraged] or [when I feel weak]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT when my heart is faint
> UST and I feel sad
> (בַּעֲטֹף לִבִּי)

The word that the ULT translates as when indicates that David calls to God at the same time as my heart is faint. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could describe the time relationship more explicitly. Alternate translation: [at times when my heart is faint] or [during the times that my heart is faint]

Support Reference: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

> ULT to the rock {that} is higher than me
> UST Please keep me safe, as if you had put me on top of a high rock
> (בְּצוּר & מִמֶּנִּי תַנְחֵנִי)

David is speaking of God as if God were a high rock that David could climb up to reach safety from danger. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [to a place of safety that is like a high rock]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT Lead me to the rock
> UST on top of a high rock
> (בְּצוּר־יָרוּם)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. Alternate translation: [Please lead me to the rock]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I call	so I am calling out & for help

Psalms 61:3

ULT	UST
For you are a refuge to me, a strong tower from the face of the enemy.	You protect me. You are like a strong tower into which I can go so that my enemies cannot harm me.

ULT you are a refuge to me, a strong tower from the face of the enemy
UST You protect me. You are like a strong tower into which I can go so that my enemies cannot harm me
(הָיִיתָ מַחְסֶה לִי מִגְדַּל־עֹז מִפְּנֵי אוֹיֵב)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [you are a refuge to me, you are a strong tower from the face of the enemy]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT you are a refuge to me, a strong tower from the face of the enemy
UST You protect me. You are like a strong tower into which I can go so that my enemies cannot harm me
(הָיִיתָ מַחְסֶה לִי מִגְדַּל־עֹז מִפְּנֵי אוֹיֵב)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [you are a refuge to me, indeed, you are a strong tower from the face of the enemy]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT For you are a refuge to me
UST You protect me
(כִּי־הָיִיתָ מַחְסֶה לִי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Because you are a refuge to me]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you are a refuge to me
UST You protect me
(הָיִיתָ מַחְסֶה לִי)

Here David is speaking as if God were a physical shelter. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you are a place of protection for me] or [you are a place of safety for me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a strong tower from the face of the enemy
UST You are like a strong tower into which I can go so that my enemies cannot harm me
(מִגְדַּל־עֹז מִפְּנֵי אוֹיֵב)

Here David is speaking as if God were a fortified tower. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a fortress that protects me from the enemy]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT from the face of the enemy
UST so that my enemies cannot harm me
(מִפְּנֵי אוֹיֵב)

David is using from the face of as a common expression to mean “away from the presence of.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the enemy] or [when the enemy comes]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a refuge	You protect
a & tower	You are like a & tower into which I can go
the enemy	my enemies

Psalms 61:4

ULT	UST
Let me sojourn in your tent forever! I will take refuge in the shelter of your wings. Selah	I wish I could always be a guest in your home! Keep me as safe as a baby bird is under its mother's wings. Selah

ULT Let me sojourn in your tent forever! I will take refuge in the shelter of your wings
UST I wish I could always be a guest in your home! Keep me as safe as a baby bird is under its mother's wings
(אָגוּרָה בְאָהָלְךָ עוֹלָמִים אֶחֱסֶה בְסֵתֶר כְּנָפֶיךָ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Let me always live in your presence, taking refuge in the shelter of your wings]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT in your tent
UST in your home
(בְאָהָלְךָ)

Here David is speaking as if God's presence and protection were a tent where he could stay as a guest. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in your presence] or [with you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the shelter of your wings
UST under its mother's wings
(בְסֵתֶר כְּנָפֶיךָ)

Here David is speaking as if God were a bird sheltering its young under its wings. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [under your care] or [in your protection]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT in the shelter of your wings
> UST under its mother’s wings
> (בְּסֵתֶר כְּנָפֶיךָ)

David is using this possessive form to mean the shelter that God’s wings provide. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [in the shelter that your wings provide]

Support Reference: Possession

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Let me sojourn	I wish I could & be a guest in your tent	in your home
forever	always
I will take refuge	Keep me as safe as a baby bird is in the shelter of	under & wings
Selah	Selah

Psalms 61:5

ULT	UST
For you, God, have listened to my vows. You have given {me} the inheritance of the fearers of your name.	God, you know that I have solemnly promised to offer sacrifices to acknowledge you, so please help me. You have given me the blessings that belong to people who honor you.

ULT For you, God, have listened to my vows
UST God, you know that I have solemnly promised to offer sacrifices to acknowledge you, so please help me
(כִּי־אַתָּה אֱלֹהִים שָׁמַעְתָּ לִנְדָרָי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Because you, God, have listened to my vows]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the inheritance of UST the blessings that belong to (יְרֻשַּׁת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of inheritance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is passed to]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the inheritance of the fearers of your name
UST the blessings that belong to people who honor you (יְרֻשַּׁת יִרְאֵי שְׁמֶךָ)

David is using this possessive form to mean the inheritance that belongs to those who fear God. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [what you give to those who fear your name]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT your name
UST you
(שְׁמֶךָ)

Here, your name represents God's reputation and character. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [who you are] or [your reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
to my vows	that I have solemnly promised to offer sacrifices to acknowledge you
the inheritance of	the blessings that belong to

Psalms 61:6

ULT	UST
Days upon days of the king, may you add {to} his years, as generation and generation.	Please allow me, the king of Israel, to live and rule for many years. Please allow my descendants to rule also.

ULT Days upon days of
UST Please allow & to live and rule
(יָמִים עַל־יְמֵי)

The psalmist is using Days upon days as a common expression of the culture to mean “many days.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May you add many days to the king’s lifetime]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the king
UST me, the king of Israel
(מֶלֶךְ)

The phrase the king refers to David himself, who is speaking of himself in the third person. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [me, the king]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT may you add {to} his years
UST for many years
(תּוֹסִיף שְׁנוֹתָיו)

The pronoun you refers to God, while the pronoun his refers to the king. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [may you, God, add to the king’s years]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT to} his years
UST for & years
(שְׁנוֹתָיו)

Here, his years represents “his lifetime.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to his lifetime]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT as generation and generation
UST Please allow my descendants to rule also (כְּמוֹ־דֹר וָדֹר)

The point of this comparison is that just as generation and generation spans a very long time, so should the king's years be extended. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [as if he would live for many generations]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT generation and generation
UST Please allow my descendants to rule also (דֹר וָדֹר)

David is using to generation and generation as a common expression of his culture to mean "throughout all generations" or "forever." If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [throughout all generations]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the king	me, the king of Israel to} his years	for & years generation	Please allow my descendants to rule also and generation	Please allow my descendants to rule also

Psalms 61:7

ULT	UST
May he dwell forever to the face of God. Appoint covenant faithfulness and truth; may they preserve him.	May I reign for a long time as you watch over me. You are faithful, and you keep your promises, so please protect me.

ULT May he dwell forever
UST May I reign for a long time
(יֵשֵׁב עוֹלָם)

The pronoun he refers to the king mentioned in the previous verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [May the king dwell forever]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT to the face of God
UST as you watch over me
(לִפְנֵי אֱלֹהִים)

Here, to the face of God represents being in the presence of God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [in the presence of God] or [before God]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT covenant faithfulness and truth
UST You are faithful, and you keep your promises
(חֶסֶד וֶאֱמֶת)

The phrase covenant faithfulness and truth expresses a single idea. The word truth tells more about covenant faithfulness. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [true covenant faithfulness] or [faithful covenant love]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT Appoint covenant faithfulness and truth
UST You are faithful, and you keep your promises, so (חֶסֶד וֶאֱמֶת מַן)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please appoint covenant faithfulness and truth]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT covenant faithfulness and truth
UST You are faithful, and you keep your promises
(חֶסֶד וֶאֱמֶת)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of covenant faithfulness and truth, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [evidences that you are truly faithful to your covenant]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT covenant faithfulness and truth; may they preserve him
UST You are faithful, and you keep your promises & please protect me
(חֶסֶד וֶאֱמֶת & יִנְצְרֻהוּ)

David speaks of covenant faithfulness and truth as if they were living things that could preserve the king. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [ways to show the king covenant faithfulness and truth so that he is preserved]

Support Reference: Personification

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
forever	for a long time
God	you
Appoint	so
covenant faithfulness	you keep your promises

Psalms 61:8

ULT	UST
Thus let me make music {to} your name forever, that I may pay my vows day, day.	If you do that, I will always sing songs to praise you, and each day I will offer the sacrifices that I promised to give you.

ULT to} your name
UST to praise you
(שִׁמְךָ)

Here, name represents God himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [to you]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT that I may pay my vows day, day
UST and each day I will offer the sacrifices that I promised to give you (לְשַׁלְּמִי נְדָרַי יוֹם ׀ יוֹם)

The phrase that I may pay my vows indicates the purpose or goal for which David will make music to God's name. Use a connector in your language that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [in order to pay my vows day after day] or [so that I may pay my vows day after day]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT that I may pay my vows
UST I will offer the sacrifices that I promised to give you (לְשַׁלְּמִי נְדָרַי)

David is using pay my vows as a common expression to mean "fulfill my vows" or "do what I have vowed to do." If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [fulfill my vows] or [do what I have promised]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT day, day
> UST and each day
> (יוֹם | יְוֹם)

David repeats the word day to emphasize the idea of continually or constantly. If your language can repeat words for emphasis, it would be appropriate to do that here. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [day after day] or [continually]

Support Reference: Reduplication

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
forever	always
my vows	the sacrifices that I promised to give you

Psalms 61:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

For the chief musician is an instruction about who should lead people in singing or playing music with this psalm. This could refer to the person in charge of music for temple worship. If your readers would not be familiar with this role, you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the worship leader]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT a stringed instrument
> UST A musician playing a stringed instrument should accompany this song
> (נְגִינֹת)

On a stringed instrument refers to a type of stringed musical instrument used in worship. This may indicate how the psalm was to be accompanied. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of instrument, you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [To be accompanied by stringed instruments] or [With music from stringed instruments]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Of David	David wrote this song

Psalms 62

Psalms 62 Introduction

Psalm 62 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 62 is a specific kind of psalm of supplication, a psalm of trust. It is a calm affirmation of reliance on God, with the troubles of the psalmist mostly in the background. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Statement of trust (1–2)
2. Description of opponents (3–4)
3. Statement of trust (5–6)
4. Exhortation to listeners (8–10)
5. Affirmation of God’s power and goodness (11–12)

Psalms 62:1

ULT	UST
Truly toward God my soul {is in} silence. From him {is} my salvation.	God is the one who saves me from my enemies, and I am waiting quietly for him to do that.

ULT my soul
UST and I
(נַפְשִׁי)

David is using my soul to represent all of himself in the act of waiting silently for God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all of myself]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT From him {is} my salvation
UST who saves me from my enemies
(מִמֶּנּוּ יְשׁוּעָתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [He is the one who saves me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	is the one
God	God
my soul	and I
is} my salvation	who saves me from my enemies

Psalms 62:2

ULT	UST
He alone {is} my rock and my salvation, my stronghold. I will not be greatly shaken.	He is the only one who can save me. He protects me as if he were a rock I could climb onto in order to be safe. No one would harm me at all.

ULT is} my rock
UST He protects me as if he were a rock I could climb onto (צוּרִי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a rock that provided stability and protection. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my foundation] or [my protector]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my stronghold
UST in order to be safe
(מִשְׂגַּבִּי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a stronghold, a fortified place that protects people from danger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my place of safety] or [my protector]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will not be greatly shaken
UST No one would harm me at all
(לֹא־אֶמּוֹט רַבָּה)

The expression I will not be greatly shaken is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Nothing will shake me greatly] or [I will remain stable]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and my salvation	is the & one who can save me
my stronghold	in order to be safe
I will & be & shaken	would harm me

Psalms 62:3

ULT	UST
Until when will you shout at a man? You will be smashed, all of you, like a leaning wall, an overthrown fence.	My enemies are threatening me, but they will not be able to keep doing that. God will destroy all of them, just as a leaning wall falls down and just as people can push a fence onto the ground.

ULT Until when will you shout at a man
UST My enemies are threatening me, but they will not be able to keep doing that
(עַד־אָנָה | תְּהֹותְתוּ עַל אִישׁ)

David is using the question form to express his frustration at his enemies for attacking him. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You have attacked me far too long!] or [Stop attacking me!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT a man
UST me
(אִישׁ)

Here the masculine term a man refers to the psalmist himself. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that makes this clear as modeled in the UST.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT You will be smashed
UST God will destroy
(תְּרֻצָּחוּ)

The expression You will be smashed is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will smash you] or [God will crush you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT like a leaning wall, an overthrown fence
> UST just as a leaning wall falls down and just as people can push a fence onto the ground
> (כְּקִ֣יר נָט֣וּי גָּדֵ֑ר הַדְּחוּיָֽה)

The point of this comparison is that just as a leaning wall and an overthrown fence will collapse, so the psalmist's enemies will be destroyed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [and will collapse like a leaning wall or an overthrown fence]

Support Reference: Simile

Psalms 62:4

ULT	UST
They consult only to cast {him} down from his elevation. They delight {in} a lie; with his mouth, they bless, but in their inside, they curse. Selah	My enemies are plotting together to do one thing. They want to remove me from my important position. They enjoy telling lies. They say things to bless people, but in their inner beings, they are cursing those people. Selah

ULT to cast {him} down from his elevation
UST They want to remove me from my important position
(מְשֹׁ֣אִי אֹתוֹ & לְהַדִּיחֹֽוֹ)

The pronoun him refers to the psalmist. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [to cast me down from my elevation]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT from his elevation
UST from my important position
(מְשֹׁ֣אִי אֹתוֹ)

The psalmist is speaking of the author's honor and status as if it were his elevation, a high position from which he could be cast down. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from his honored position] or [from his high status]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with his mouth
UST They say things
(בְּפִ֥יו)

David is using one part of a person, his mouth, to mean all of him in the act of speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with their words] or [in their speech]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT with his mouth, they bless, but in their inside, they curse
UST They say things to bless people, but in their inner beings, they are cursing those people
(בְּפִיו יְבָרֵכוּ וּבְקִרְבָּם יְקַלְלוּ)

These two clauses, with his mouth, they bless and in their inside, they curse, mean basically opposite things. The psalmist is contrasting what his enemies say outwardly with what they feel inwardly. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition and contrast, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both clauses in your translation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the contrast more explicit. Alternate translation: [they say kind things, but they really wish harm]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT but in their inside
UST but in their inner beings
(וּבְקִרְבָּם)

Here, inside represents their hearts or inner thoughts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in their hearts] or [in their thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

The word Selah is a Hebrew word. You will need to decide if you will use this word in its Hebrew form or if you will instead translate the meaning into your language. Either approach has broad support. If you use the Hebrew word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote. Alternate translation: [Pause and praise]

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
They consult	My enemies are plotting together
They delight	They enjoy
in} a lie	telling lies
they bless	to bless people
they curse	they are cursing those people
Selah	Selah

Psalms 62:5

ULT	UST
Be silent, my soul, toward God alone, for my hope is from him.	Because I am expecting God to help me, I will wait quietly for him alone to do that.

ULT Be silent, my soul
UST I will wait quietly for him & to do that (דֳּמִי נַפְשִׁי)

The psalmist is speaking to his own soul as if he were speaking to another person who could hear him. He is doing this to emphasize how strongly he feels about waiting for God alone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words as if he were speaking directly to himself or expressing his own determination. Alternate translation: [I shall be silent before God alone] or [I tell myself to wait quietly for God alone]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT my soul
UST I
(נַפְשִׁי)

The psalmist is using my soul to represent all of himself in the act of waiting for God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I tell myself] or [self]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT my hope
UST I am expecting & to help me
(תִּקְוָתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of hope, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what I await] or [what I confidently wait for]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my soul	I
toward God	God
my hope	I am expecting & to help me

Psalms 62:6

ULT	UST
He alone {is} my rock and my salvation, my stronghold. I will not be shaken.	He is the only one who can save me. He protects me as if he were a rock I could climb onto in order to be safe. No one would harm me.

ULT is} my rock and my salvation, my stronghold
UST who can save me. He protects me as if he were a rock I could climb onto in order to be safe (צוּרִי וְיִשׁוּעָתִי מִשְׂגַּבִּי)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a rock and a stronghold, solid structures that could protect him from danger. If these images communicate well in your language, please use them. If not, you could express these as comparisons. Alternate translation: [the one who protects me as would a rock and a stronghold]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will not be shaken
UST No one would harm me
(לֹא אֶמּוֹט)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Nothing will shake me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
and my salvation	who can save me
my stronghold	in order to be safe
I will & be shaken	would harm me

Psalms 62:7

ULT	UST
In God {is} my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, my refuge, {is} in God.	God is the one who saves me and honors me. God is like a huge rock to which I can go to be safe. He makes me strong.

ULT is} my salvation
UST who saves me
(יְשׁוּעָתִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way, as modeled by the UST.

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and my glory
UST and honors me
(וּכְבוֹדִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and what makes me honored]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the rock of my strength
UST is like a huge rock & He makes me strong
(צוּר־עֻזִּי)

David is speaking of God as if he were the rock of his strength, that is, a high rock that he could climb up to reach safety from danger. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [God, who is like a rock that protects me and makes me strong] or [my strong protector]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the rock of my strength
UST is like a huge rock & He makes me strong
(צוּר־עֻזִּי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the rock that strengthens me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT my refuge
> UST to which I can go to be safe
> (מַחְסִי)

David is speaking of God as if he were a refuge, a place where he could go to be safe from danger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my place of safety] or [my place of protection]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
is} my salvation	who saves me
and my glory	and honors me
my strength	He makes me strong
my refuge	to which I can go to be safe
is} in God	God

Psalms 62:8

ULT	UST
Trust in him in every time, people. Pour out your heart to his face. God {is} a refuge for us. Selah	You Israelite people should always trust in God. Pray earnestly to him in his presence. He is the one who keeps us safe. Selah

ULT Trust in him in every time, people
UST You Israelite people should always trust in God
(בִּטְח֣וּ בוֹ֮ בְּכָל־עֵ֪ת | עָ֫ם)

The word translated as Trust is an imperative, but it communicates an exhortation rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates an exhortation. Alternate translation: [I urge you to trust in him at all times, people]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Pour out your heart
UST Pray earnestly to him
(שִׁפְכ֣וּ & לִבַּכֶ֑ם)

The psalmist is using Pour out your heart as a common expression of the culture to mean “express your emotions openly.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Tell him honestly how you feel] or [Share your deepest emotions with him]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT to his face
UST in his presence
(לְפָנָ֑יו)

Here, to his face represents being in the presence of God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [before him]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT is} a refuge for us
UST is the one who keeps us safe
(מַחֲסֶ֖ה־לָּ֣נוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of God as if he were a refuge, a safe place to which people can go to escape danger. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is a safe place for us] or [is the one who protects us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Selah
UST Selah
(סֶלָה)

The word Selah is a Hebrew word. You will need to decide if you will use this word in its Hebrew form or if you will instead translate the meaning into your language. Either approach has broad support. If you use the Hebrew word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote.

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Trust	should & trust
God	He
is} a refuge	is the one who keeps & safe
Selah	Selah

Psalms 62:9

ULT	UST
Surely sons of a human {are} vapor, sons of a man {are} a lie. To go up on the scales, they together {would be lighter} than vapor.	Certainly, ordinary people lack the power to help, and important people are not as powerful as they seem. If you put them all on a scale, it would be as if they weighed less than air.

ULT sons of a human {are} vapor, sons of a man {are} a lie
UST ordinary people lack the power to help, and important people are not as powerful as they seem (הֶבֶל בְּנֵי־אָדָם כְּזָב בְּנֵי אִישׁ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [all people are vapor; indeed, they are a lie]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT sons of a human & sons of a man
UST ordinary people & and important people
(בְּנֵי־אָדָם & בְּנֵי אִישׁ)

The psalmist is using sons of a human and sons of a man as common expressions of the culture to mean “people” or “human beings.” If these phrases do not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people … people] or [human beings … human beings]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT are} vapor
UST lack the power to help
(הֶבֶל)

The psalmist is speaking of people as if they were vapor. He means that people are transient and insubstantial. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are fleeting] or [have no substance]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT are} a lie
> UST are not as powerful as they seem
> (כְּזָב)

When the psalmist says that people are a lie, he means that humans are deceptive in appearance and cannot be relied upon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are unreliable] or [are deceptive]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT they together {would be lighter} than vapor
> UST them all & it would be as if they weighed less than air
> (הֲֽמָּה מֵהֶ֖בֶל יָחַ֑ד)

The psalmist says they together would be lighter than vapor as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [together they would weigh almost nothing] or [all of them together have no weight at all]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
are} a lie	are not as powerful as they seem together	all

Psalms 62:10

ULT	UST
Do not trust in oppression, and do not hope vainly in robbery. Wealth, if it increases, do not set the heart.	It is foolish to expect to get rich by cheating other people or by stealing from them. If you become wealthy, do not rely on your money.

ULT in oppression
UST by cheating other people
(בְּעֹשֶׁק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of oppression, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in oppressing others]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and & in robbery
UST or by stealing from them
(וּבְגָזֵל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of robbery, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by robbing people] or [in what you rob from others]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Wealth
UST you become wealthy
(חַיִל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of Wealth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Should you become wealthy]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT do not set the heart
UST do not rely on your money
(אַל־תָּשִׁיתוּ לֵב)

Here, heart represents a person's desires and focus of attention. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [do not fix your desires on it] or [do not focus your attention on it]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do & trust	to expect to get rich
do & hope vainly	It is foolish and & in robbery	or by stealing from them
Wealth	you become wealthy

Psalms 62:11

ULT	UST
Once God has spoken, twice I have heard this, that power {is} to God.	God has said very reliably that he is the one who truly has power.

ULT Once & twice
UST very reliably
(אַחַת & שְׁתַּיִם)

The psalmist is using Once and twice as a common expression to mean "repeatedly" or "with certainty." The phrase emphasizes that God's declaration is reliable and sure. If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Repeatedly] or [Most certainly]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT power
UST who truly has power
(עֹז)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of power, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God is powerful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
is} to God	he is the one

Psalms 62:12

ULT	UST
Also to you, Lord, {is} covenant faithfulness, for you, you repay to a man according to his doing.	God is also the one who always keeps his promises. He punishes people who do wrong things but rewards people who do good things.

ULT is} covenant faithfulness
UST who always keeps his promises
(חֶסֶד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you are faithful to your covenant] or [you are loyal and faithful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you, you repay
UST He punishes & but rewards
(אַתָּה תְשַׁלֵּם)

The psalmist is repeating the pronoun you in order to intensify his expression of the idea that God is the one who repays. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the intensification. Alternate translation: [you yourself repay] or [you alone repay]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT to a man
UST people & people
(לְאִישׁ)

The psalmist is not referring to a specific man. He means people in general. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [to each person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT according to his doing
UST who do wrong things & who do good things
(כְּמַעֲשֵׂהוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of doing, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [according to what he does]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	God
is} covenant faithfulness	who always keeps his promises

Psalms 62:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT on Jeduthun
> UST Perform in the style of Jeduthun
> (עַל־יְדוּתוּן)

See how you translated the expression “on Jeduthun” in the superscription to Psalm 39.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm of	this psalm
David	David wrote

Psalms 63

Psalms 63 Introduction

Psalm 63 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 63 is a psalm of praise. David is specifically encouraging himself to praise God for what he will do to help him. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. David’s longing for God (1–2)
2. Reason to worship (3a)
3. Call to worship (3b–6)
4. Reason to worship (7a)
5. Call to worship (7b–8)
6. God will punish David’s enemies (9–10)
7. Call to worship (11a)
8. Reason to worship (11b)

Psalms 63:1

ULT	UST
God, you {are} my God. I seek you earnestly. My soul thirsts for you, my flesh faints for you in a land of dryness and weary, without water.	God, you are the God whom I worship. I greatly desire to be with you. It is as if my body aches for you, just as a person in a dry, hot wilderness greatly desires water.

ULT My soul thirsts for you
UST just as a person & greatly desires water
(צָמְאָה לְךָ נַפְשִׁי)

David is speaking of his intense desire for God as if his soul were physically thirsting for water. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My soul longs for you] or [I deeply desire to be near you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT My soul thirsts
UST just as a person & greatly desires water
(צָמְאָה & נַפְשִׁי)

David is using My soul to represent all of himself in the act of thirsting for God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I thirst]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT my flesh faints for you
UST It is as if my body aches for you
(כָּמַהּ לְךָ בְשָׂרִי)

The psalmist is speaking of his intense longing for God as if his body were physically fainting from weakness or exhaustion. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my whole being aches for you] or [my body grows weak with longing for you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my flesh
UST It is as if my body
(בְּשָׂרִי)

David is using one part of a person, his flesh, to mean all of him in the act of longing for God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my whole being faints for you] or [I faint for you]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT My soul thirsts for you, my flesh faints for you
UST It is as if my body aches for you, just as a person & greatly desires water
(צָמְאָה לְךָ֣ נַפְשִׁ֑י כָּמַ֥ה לְךָ֖ בְּשָׂרִֽי)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [My whole being longs for you]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT dryness and weary
UST dry, hot
(צִיָּ֣ה וְעָיֵ֑ף)

The terms dryness and weary mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [very dry] or [extremely parched]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
are} my God	are the God whom I worship
I seek you earnestly	I greatly desire to be with you
My soul	just as a person
in a land of	in a & wilderness
dryness	dry

Psalms 63:2

ULT	UST
Thus in the sanctuary I have gazed {at} you to see your power and your glory.	I have worshiped you in your sanctuary and recognized how powerful and glorious you are.

> ULT Thus
> UST I have worshiped you
> (כֵּן)

The word translated as Thus indicates that what follows is a result of what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a result of what came before. Alternate translation: [So] or [Because of this,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT your power
> UST how powerful
> (עֻזֶּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of power, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how powerful you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT and your glory
> UST and glorious you are > (וּכְבוֹדֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how glorious you are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT your power and your glory
> UST how powerful and glorious you are > (עֻזֶּךָוּכְבוֹדֶךָ)

The terms power and glory mean similar things. David is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [your awesome power] or [your magnificent strength]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in the sanctuary	in your sanctuary and your glory	and glorious you are

Psalms 63:3

ULT	UST
Because your covenant faithfulness {is} better than life, my lips will praise you.	You are always kind to me, as you promised in your covenant. This is worth more to me than even being alive, so I will always praise you.

ULT Because
UST so
(כִּי)

The word translated as Because indicates that what follows is a reason for what came after. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came after. Alternate translation: [Since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT your covenant faithfulness
UST You are always kind to me, as you promised in your covenant
(חַסְדְּךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of covenant faithfulness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how faithful you are to your covenant] or [how faithfully you keep your covenant promises]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT is} better than life
UST This is worth more to me than even being alive
(טוֹב & מֵחַיִּים)

The psalmist says better than life as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [more valuable than anything] or [extremely valuable]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT my lips will praise you
UST I will always praise you
(שְׂפָתַי יְשַׁבְּחוּנְךָ)

The psalmist is using one part of a person, his lips, to mean all of him in the act of praising God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will praise you]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
your covenant faithfulness	You are always kind to me, as you promised in your covenant is} better	This is worth more to me will praise you	will always praise you

Psalms 63:4

ULT	UST
Thus I will bless you in my life; I will lift up my palms in your name.	I will praise you for as long as I am alive. I will lift up my hands and pray to you.

ULT Thus
UST I will praise you
(כֵּן)

The word Thus indicates that what follows is a result of what came before. David will bless God because of what he has just expressed in the previous verses. Use a connector in your language that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Because of this,] or [Therefore,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I will lift up my palms in your name
UST I will lift up my hands and pray to you
(בְּשִׂמְךָ אֶשָּׂא כַפָּי)

Lifting up one's palms was a symbolic action by which David showed his worship and prayer to God. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text of your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [I will lift up my palms to worship you] or [I will lift up my palms in prayer to you]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT in your name
UST and pray to you
(בְּשִׂמְךָ)

The psalmist is using the term name to represent who God is, particularly God's character and authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of who you are] or [because of your character]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will bless you	I will praise you

Psalms 63:5

ULT	UST
As {with} fat and fatness my soul will be full, and {with} lips of joyful shouts my mouth will praise {you}.	You satisfy me as if I had just eaten a delicious banquet of rich foods. I will praise you very joyfully.

ULT As {with} fat and fatness
UST as if I had just eaten a delicious banquet of rich foods
(כְּמוֹ חֵלֶב וְדֶשֶׁן)

The point of this comparison is that just as fat and fatness are deeply satisfying, so God's presence satisfies the psalmist's soul. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [My soul will be completely satisfied, just as if I had eaten the richest foods]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT with} fat and fatness
UST I had just eaten a delicious banquet of rich foods
(חֵלֶב וְדֶשֶׁן)

The terms fat and fatness mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [the richest food]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT my soul will be full
UST You satisfy me
(תִּשְׂבַּע נַפְשִׁי)

By using the phrase my soul will be full, David is speaking as if Yahweh could satisfy him in the same way that rich food satisfies hunger. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [I will be as satisfied as if I had eaten the richest foods]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my soul
UST me
(נַפְשִׁי)

David is using my soul to represent all of himself in the act of being satisfied. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT and {with} lips of joyful shouts
UST I & very joyfully
(וְשִׂפְתֵי רְנָנוֹת)

The psalmist is using one part of a person, his lips, to mean all of him in the act of praising God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and with my joyful shouts]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT and {with} lips of joyful shouts my mouth will praise {you
UST I will praise you very joyfully
(וְשִׂפְתֵי רְנָנוֹת יְהַלֶּל־פִּי)

These two phrases, lips of joyful shouts and my mouth will praise, mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [and my mouth will praise you with lips of joyful shouts]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT my mouth
UST I
(פִּי)

David is using one part of a person, his mouth, to mean all of him in the act of praising God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
my soul	me
joyful shouts	very joyfully
will praise {you	will praise you

Psalms 63:6

ULT	UST
When I remember you on my bed, I meditate on you in the night watches.	Sometimes I think about you when I am lying in bed. When that happens, I reflect during the night on how wonderful you are.

ULT When I remember you on my bed
UST Sometimes I think about you when I am lying in bed
(אִם־זְכַרְתִּיךָ עַל־יְצוּעָי)

The word When indicates that David remembering God occurred at the same time as when he meditates on God. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could describe the time relationship more explicitly. Alternate translation: [As I remember you on my bed]

Support Reference: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

ULT in the night watches
UST during the night
(בְּאַשְׁמֻרוֹת)

The term night watches refers to the divisions of the night during which guards were on duty. In ancient Israel, the night was typically divided into three or four such periods. If your readers would not be familiar with this, you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [during the night] or [in the hours of the night]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT When I remember you on my bed, I meditate on you in the night watches UST Sometimes I think about you when I am lying in bed. When that happens, I reflect during the night on how wonderful you are (אִם־זְכַרְתִּיךָ עַל־יְצוּעָי בְּאַשְׁמֻרוֹת אֶהְגֶּה־בָּךְ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [When I remember you on my bed, yes, when I meditate on you in the night watches]

Support Reference: Parallelism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I meditate	When that happens, I reflect in the night watches	during the night

Psalms 63:7

ULT	UST
For you have been a help to me, and in the shadow of your wings I shout joyfully.	{I realize that you are wonderful} because you have always helped me. I sing to you joyfully because I am aware that you protect me just as a mother bird protects her chicks under her wings.

ULT For
UST I realize that you are wonderful} because
(כִּי)

The word translated as For indicates that what follows is a reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Because] or [Since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT a help
UST you have always helped (עֶזְרָתָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of help, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [one who gives help] or [helpful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and in the shadow of your wings
UST you protect me just as a mother bird protects her chicks under her wings
(וּבְצֵל כְּנָפֶיךָ)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a bird protecting him in the shadow of his wings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while you protect me] or [as you shelter me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT your wings
> UST her wings
> (כְּנָפֶיךָ)

David is speaking of God as if he had wings that cast a shadow providing protection. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your protective shelter] or [your protection]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Psalms 63:8

ULT	UST
My soul clings after you; your right hand upholds me.	I remain completely loyal to you, and you protect me by your power.

ULT My soul
UST I
(נַפְשִׁי)

David is using My soul to represent all of himself in the act of clinging to God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT clings after you
UST remain completely loyal to you
(דְּבְקָה אַחֲרֶיךָ)

David is speaking of his devotion to God as if his soul physically clings to him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [remains devoted to you] or [holds tightly to you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your right hand
UST by your power
(יְמִינֶךָ)

Here, right hand represents the power of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your strength]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
My soul	I

Psalms 63:9

ULT	UST
But they, they seek my life for devastation; they will come into the lowest parts of the earth.	Some people are trying to kill me, but they will die and go to the place where dead people are.

ULT But they, they seek
UST Some people are trying (וְהֵמָּה & יְבַקְשׁוּ)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun they separately, even though the verb translated as they seek already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that his enemies seek his life. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [But my enemies truly seek]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT But they
UST Some people
(וְהֵמָּה)

The pronoun they refers to David's enemies, who have not been mentioned previously in this psalm. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [But those who are my enemies]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT my life
UST me
(נַפְשִׁי)

David is using my life to represent his entire person in the act being killed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to kill me]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT for devastation
UST to kill
(לְשׁוֹאָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of devastation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to destroy me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT into the lowest parts of the earth
> UST to the place where dead people are > (בְּתַחְתִּיּוֹת הָאָרֶץ)

David is referring to death in a polite way by using the phrase the lowest parts of the earth. Depending on what is helpful for your readers, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [to the grave] or [to Sheol]

Support Reference: Euphemism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they seek	are trying
for devastation	to kill

Psalms 63:10

ULT	UST
They will pour him into the hands of the sword; they will be a portion of jackals.	They may die in a battle, and then wild dogs will eat their corpses.

ULT They will pour him into the hands of the sword
UST They may die in a battle
(יַגִּירֻהוּ עַל־יְדֵי־חָרֶב)

The psalmist is using pour him into the hands of the sword as a common expression of the culture to mean “cause him to be killed by the sword.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They will hand him over to be slain by the sword] or [They will cause him to die by the sword]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the hands of the sword
UST They may die in a battle
(יְדֵי־חָרֶב)

The psalmist is speaking of the sword as if it were a living thing that could have hands. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the destructive power of the sword] or [death by the sword]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT they will be a portion of jackals
UST and then wild dogs will eat their corpses
(מְנָת שֻׁעָלִים יִהְיוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of his enemies’ dead bodies as if they were a portion of jackals, that is, food that would be given to scavenging animals. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they will become food for wild animals]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT jackals
UST and then wild dogs
(שְׁעָלִים)

A jackal is a kind of wild scavenging animal. If your readers would not be familiar with what a jackal is, you could use the name of a similar animal that your readers would recognize, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [scavengers]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT They will pour him
UST They may die in a battle
(יַגִּירֻהוּ)

The pronoun him is singular, but it refers to the psalmist's enemies, who are plural. David may be referring to them collectively. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a plural form. Alternate translation: [them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the sword	They may die in a battle

Psalms 63:11

ULT	UST
But the king will rejoice in God; all of the swearers by him will exult, for the mouth of speakers of falsehood will be shut.	But I, the king {of Israel}, will rejoice in what God has done for me. All those who swear oaths in the name of God will praise him because he will have stopped people from saying things that are not true.

ULT But the king
UST But I, the king {of Israel
(וְהַמֶּלֶךְ)

By the king, David means himself. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I, the king,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT by him
UST in the name of God
(בּוֹ)

The pronoun him refers to God. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [by God]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT for the mouth of speakers of falsehood will be shut
UST because he will have stopped people from saying things that are not true
(כִּי יִסָּכֵר פִּי דֹוְבֵרֵי־שָׁקֶר)

The psalmist is using one part of a person, the mouth, to mean all of him in the act of speaking lies. The phrase will be shut means that they will be stopped or silenced. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [speakers of falsehood will be silenced] or [those who speak falsehood will be stopped]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT falsehood
UST things that are not true
(שָׁקֶר)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of falsehood, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [false things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT will be shut
> UST he will have stopped
> (יִסָּכֵֽר)

The expression will be shut is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will shut the mouth of speakers of falsehood] or [will stop speaking]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
But the king	But I, the king {of Israel will rejoice	will rejoice
in God	in what God has done for me will exult	will praise him

Psalms 63:front

> ULT A psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah
> UST David wrote this song when he was in the desolate area that belongs to the tribe of Judah
> (מִזְמ֥וֹר לְדָוִ֖ד בְּהִיוֹת֣וֹ בְמִדְבַּ֣ר יְהוּדָֽה)

This is a superscription to a psalm. It is written in poetic language and provides historical context for the psalm. If your language has a way to indicate poetry, you could use it here. Alternate translation: [A song of David written while he was in the wilderness of Judah]

Support Reference: Poetry

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm of	this song
David	David wrote
in the wilderness of	in the desolate area that belongs to
Judah	the tribe of Judah

Psalms 64

Psalms 64 Introduction

Psalm 64 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 64 is a wisdom psalm that describes the difference between how righteous people and wicked people live and the difference between what happens to them. However, it begins like a psalm of supplication, with a cry for help. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Introduction: cry for help (1–3a)
2. What wicked people do (3b–6)
3. How God will judge and punish wicked people (6–8a)
4. How other people will respond when they see this (8b–10)

Psalms 64:1

ULT	UST
Hear my voice, God, in my complaint. Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.	God, please listen to me as I tell you about what worries me. I am afraid of my enemies; please save me from them.

ULT Hear my voice, God
UST God, please listen to me
(שְׁמַע־אֱלֹהִים קוֹלִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please hear my voice, God] or [I ask you to hear my voice, God]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT my voice
UST me
(קוֹלִי)

Here, voice represents what David is saying in prayer. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my prayer] or [my words]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in my complaint
UST as I tell you about what worries me
(בְּשִׂיחִי)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of complaint, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [as I complain to you] or [as I tell you what troubles me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Preserve my life
UST please save me from them
(תִּצֹּר חַיָּי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please preserve my life]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT from fear of
> UST I am afraid of > (מִפְּחַד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fear, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [so that I will not be afraid of]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
from fear of	I am afraid of
the enemy	my enemies

Psalms 64:2

ULT	UST
Hide me from the council of evildoers, from the throng of the workers of iniquity,	Protect me from what wicked men are planning to do to me. Protect me from that group of men who do evil things.

ULT Hide me
UST Protect me & Protect me
(תַּסְתִּירֵנִי)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please hide me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT from the council of evildoers, from the throng of the workers of iniquity
UST from what wicked men are planning to do to me & from that group of men who do evil things
(מִסּוֹד מְרֵעִים מֵרִגְשַׁת פֹּעֲלֵי אָוֶן)

The phrases the council of evildoers and the throng of the workers of iniquity mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two phrases together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [from the large group of wicked people]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT iniquity
UST evil things
(אָוֶן)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquity, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [iniquitous things] or [perverted acts]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
from the council of	from what & are planning to do to me
evildoers	wicked men from the throng of	from that group of men
iniquity	evil things

Psalms 64:3

ULT	UST
who have sharpened their tongue like a sword. They tread their arrow, a bitter word,	The hostile things they say are like sharp swords; their cruel words are like arrows.

ULT have sharpened their tongue like a sword. They tread their arrow, a bitter word
UST The hostile things they say are like sharp swords; their cruel words are like arrows
(שָׁנְנוּ כַחֶרֶב לְשׁוֹנָם דָּרְכוּ חִצָּם דָּבָר מָר)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [have sharpened their tongue like a sword, yes, they tread their arrow, a bitter word]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT have sharpened their tongue like a sword
UST The hostile things they say are like sharp swords
(שָׁנְנוּ כַחֶרֶב לְשׁוֹנָם)

The point of this comparison is that just as a sword is sharp and able to cut and wound, so the tongue of the enemies is able to harm others with their words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [sharpened their tongue to wound like a sharp sword]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT their tongue
UST The hostile things they say
(לְשׁוֹנָם)

Here, their tongue represents what they say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [their words] or [what they say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT They tread their arrow, a bitter word
> UST their cruel words are like arrows
> (דָּרְכוּ חִצָּם דְּבָר מָר)

The psalmist is speaking of a bitter word as if it were their arrow. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [They tread their cruel words as arrows]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT They tread
> UST are like arrows
> (דָּרְכוּ)

Here, tread represents “shoot.” Ancient archers would step on their bows in order to bend them so that they could string them. David means “they step on their bows to string them and then shoot arrows from them.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [They shoot]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
their tongue	The hostile things they say like a sword	are like & swords

Psalms 64:4

ULT	UST
to shoot the innocent from secret places; suddenly they shoot, and they do not fear.	They are not afraid of anyone. They falsely accuse people who have done nothing wrong. They are like a person who suddenly jumps up from a hiding place and shoots an arrow at someone.

ULT the innocent
UST people who have done nothing wrong
(תָּמִֽים)

The psalmist is using the adjective innocent as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [innocent people] or [people who are innocent]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT to shoot the innocent
UST people who have done nothing wrong & and shoots an arrow at someone (לִירֹ֣ות תָּ֭מִים)

The psalmist is speaking of the innocent as if they were targets that the wicked could shoot with arrows. He means that the wicked attack innocent people with harmful words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to attack the innocent with their words]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and they do not fear
UST They are not afraid of anyone
(וְלֹ֣א יִירָ֑אוּ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and they do not fear judgment] or [and they do not fear consequences]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the innocent	people who have done nothing wrong
they do & fear	They are & afraid

Psalms 64:5

ULT	UST
They strengthen for themselves an evil matter; they recount hiding snares. They say, “Who will see them?”	They encourage each other to do the evil things they are planning. They boast about how they have deceived people. They say, “No one will realize what we are doing!”

ULT They strengthen for themselves an evil matter
UST They encourage each other to do the evil things they are planning
(יְחַזְּקוּ־לָמוֹ | דָּבָר רָע)

The psalmist is using strengthen for themselves an evil matter as a common expression of the culture to mean “encourage each other in their evil plans.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [embolden one another to do evil] or [make each other more determined to carry out wicked schemes]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Who will see them
UST No one will realize what we are doing
(מִי יִרְאֶה־לָּמוֹ)

The evildoers are using the question form for emphasis. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [No one will see them.] or [No one will see our schemes!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT them
UST what we are doing
(לָמוֹ)

The pronoun them refers to the snares, not to the evildoers. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Who will see the snares]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	evil
they recount	They boast about
snares	how they have deceived people

Psalms 64:6

ULT	UST
They devise iniquities. “We have perfected a well-devised device!” Both the inside of man and the heart {are} deep.	They carefully plan the wicked things they want to do. They brag, “We have planned this out perfectly!” It is very difficult to know what people are thinking privately.

ULT iniquities
UST the wicked things they want to do
(עוֹלֹת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquities, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [iniquitous things] or [things that are evil]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Both the inside of man and the heart {are} deep
UST It is very difficult to know what people are thinking privately
(וְקֶרֶב אִישׁ וְלֵב עָמֹק)

The terms inside of man and the heart mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. [The human heart is very deep] or [Man’s private thoughts are beyond knowing]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT Both the inside of man
UST what people are thinking privately
(וְקֶרֶב אִישׁ)

Here, the inside of man represents a person’s inner thoughts and motives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The thoughts of man] or [Man’s inner motives]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT and the heart
UST what & are thinking privately
(וְלֵב)

Here, the heart represents a person’s thoughts and motives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a person’s thoughts] or [people’s motives]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT and the heart {are} deep
> UST It is very difficult to know what & are thinking privately
> (וְלֵב עָמֹק)

The psalmist is speaking of the heart as if it were something deep that cannot be easily explored or understood. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the heart are hidden] or [and the heart are unfathomable]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
iniquities	the wicked things they want to do
We have perfected	They brag, “We have planned & out

Psalms 64:7

ULT	UST
But God will shoot an arrow; suddenly their wounds will happen.	But God will suddenly judge and punish them, as if he were shooting an arrow at them and wounding them.

ULT But God will shoot an arrow
UST But God will & judge and punish them, as if he were shooting an arrow at them
(וְיֹרָם אֱלֹהִים חֵץ)

David is speaking of God judging his enemies as if he were shooting an arrow at them. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [God will strike his enemies suddenly, like a warrior who shoots an arrow at them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT But God will shoot
UST But God will & judge and punish them, as if he were shooting
(וַיֹּרָם אֱלֹהִים)

The psalmist uses the word But here to indicate a contrast between the evildoers' plans and God's response. In your translation, indicate this contrast in a way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [However, God will shoot] or [In contrast, God will shoot]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT suddenly their wounds will happen
UST suddenly & and wounding them
(פִּתְאֹם הָיוּ מַכּוֹתָם)

The psalmist actually means to communicate the opposite of the literal meaning of what he is saying here. He describes the wounding of the wicked as happening suddenly, just as the wicked planned to wound the innocent suddenly (verse 4). If a speaker of your language would not do that, you could translate the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they will receive the sudden wounds they planned for others]

Support Reference: Irony

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God

Psalms 64:8

ULT	UST
And they will make it stumble over them, their tongue. Everyone seeing them will flee.	The deceitful things they say will get them into trouble. Everyone who sees what happens to them will stay away from them.

ULT And they will make it stumble
UST will get & into trouble
(וַיַּכְשִׁילוּהוּ)

The pronoun it could refer to: (1) their tongue or (2) the arrow (see 64:7). If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [And their tongue will make them stumble] or [And the arrow will make them stumble]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT their tongue
UST The deceitful things they say
(לְשׁוֹנָם)

Here, their tongue represents their harmful words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [their own words] or [what they themselves have said]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Everyone seeing them will flee
UST Everyone who sees what happens to them will stay away from them (יִתְנַדְּדוּ כָּל־רֹאֵה בָם)

The psalmist is saying Everyone seeing them will flee as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be clearer in your language, you could express the emphasis in a different way. Alternate translation: [All who see them will flee] or [People who see them will flee]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And they will make it stumble	will get & into trouble
their tongue	The deceitful things they say

Psalms 64:9

ULT	UST
And all of mankind will fear, and they will declare the work of God, for they will consider his deed.	People will think about how God has punished them, and they will tell others about it. As a result, people will not dare to be wicked.

ULT all of mankind
UST people
(כָּל־אָדָם)

The psalmist is saying all of mankind as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be clearer in your language, you could express the emphasis in a different way. Alternate translation: [all people who see this] or [everyone who observes these things]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT and they will declare the work of God, for they will consider his deed
UST People will think about how God has punished them, and they will tell others about it (וַיַּגִּידוּ פֹּעַל אֱלֹהִים וּמַעֲשֵׂהוּ הִשְׂכִּילוּ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The first phrase states the general idea, and then the second phrase gives a specific example. Translate these phrases according to the decisions your team has made regarding translating parallelism in Hebrew poetry. Alternate translation: [and they will declare the work of God, certainly, they will consider his deed]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And & will fear	As a result & will not dare to be wicked
and they will declare	and they will tell others
God	God
for they will consider	People will think about

Psalms 64:10

ULT	UST
The righteous will rejoice in Yahweh and take refuge in him, and all of the upright of heart will celebrate.	People who do what is right will be very happy that Yahweh has punished those wicked people. They will trust Yahweh to protect them. Yes, those who really want to do good things will be glad.

ULT The righteous
UST People who do what is right
(צַדִּיק)

The psalmist is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [Righteous people] or [Those who do the right thing]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT The righteous will rejoice in Yahweh and take refuge in him, and all of the upright of heart will celebrate
UST People who do what is right will be very happy that Yahweh has punished those wicked people. They will trust Yahweh to protect them. Yes, those who really want to do good things will be glad (יִשְׂמַח צַדִּיק בַּיהוָה וְחָסָה בוֹ וְיִתְהַלְלוּ כָּל־יִשְׁרֵי־לֵב)

These two phrases, The righteous will rejoice and the upright of heart will celebrate mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The righteous will rejoice in Yahweh and take refuge in him; indeed, all of the upright of heart will celebrate.]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT and take refuge in him
UST They will trust Yahweh to protect them
(וְחָסָה בוֹ)

The psalmist is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a safe refuge or shelter where the righteous could be protected from danger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and go to him for protection] or [and trust him to keep them safe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the upright of heart
> UST who really want to do good things
> (יִשְׁרֵי־לֵֽב)

The psalmist is using the adjective phrase upright of heart as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjective phrases in the same way. If not, you can translate this with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the people who are upright in heart] or [those whose hearts are upright]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT heart
> UST really want to > (לֵֽב)

Here, heart represents a person's inner character and motives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [character] or [motives]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The righteous	People who do what is right
will rejoice	will be very happy
in Yahweh	that Yahweh has punished those wicked people and take refuge	They will trust & to protect them
the upright of	who & do good things and & will celebrate	Yes & will be glad

Psalms 64:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	this song
of David	David wrote

Psalms 65

Psalms 65 Introduction

Psalm 65 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 65 begins as a psalm of thanksgiving. David announces that he is paying a vow to God. He says what God has done for him: God has forgiven his sin. He invites people to share in a celebration meal. But after those standard elements, this turns into a psalm of worship. David describes the powerful things that God does, and he describes how people all over the world praise God for them. He then describes how God provides rain so that fields and pastures in meadows, hills, and valleys can produce good crops, and he depicts those places as praising God for that. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. David’s declaration that he is paying a vow (1)
2. Statement of what God has done in answer to prayer (2–3)
3. Invitation to share in a celebration meal (4)
4. Reason to worship: God powerfully controls nature and people (5–7)
5. Description of people worshiping God for this (8)
6. Reason to worship: God sends rain to make crops grow (9–11)
7. Description of fields and pastures worshiping God for this (12–13)

Psalms 65:1

ULT	UST
Praise {is in} silence toward you, God, in Zion, and to you a vow will be paid.	God, when you come to your sanctuary on Mount Zion, you will find that we have been waiting quietly to praise you and to do what we promised we would do to honor you.

ULT Praise {is in} silence toward you
UST you will find that we have been waiting quietly to praise you (לְךָ דֳמִיָּה תְהִלָּה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of Praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [We are praising you in silence]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Praise {is in} silence
UST you will find that we have been waiting quietly to praise
(דֳמִיָּה תְהִלָּה)

The implication is that the people are waiting silently in reverent worship before they praise God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Waiting in silence to praise] or [Silent before worship directed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in Zion
UST when you come to your sanctuary on Mount Zion
(בְּצִיּוֹן)

The word Zion is the name of a place. It refers to Mount Zion in Jerusalem.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT a vow will be paid
UST and to do what we promised we would do
(יְשֻׁלַּם־נֶדֶר)

The expression a vow will be paid is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, the context indicates that it is the worshipers. Alternate translation: [the worshipers will pay their vows] or [people will fulfill their vows]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Praise	to praise
God	God
in Zion	when you come to your sanctuary on Mount Zion
a vow	what we promised we would do

Psalms 65:2

ULT	UST
Hearer of prayer, to you all flesh will come.	Because you help people when they pray, people everywhere will pray to you.

ULT Hearer of prayer
UST Because you help people when they pray
(שֹׁמֵ֣עַ תְּפִלָּ֑ה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of prayer, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [You who hear people when they pray;]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT all flesh
UST people everywhere
(כָּל־בָּשָׂ֖ר)

Here, all flesh represents all people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all people] or [everyone]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
prayer	when they pray

Psalms 65:3

ULT	UST
Matters of iniquities prevail against me; our transgressions, you, you cover them.	When we feel very badly because we have done wrong things, you forgive our sins and make it as if we had not committed them.

ULT Matters of iniquities
UST wrong things
(דִּבְרֵי עֲוֹנֹת)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of iniquities, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The wrong things we have done]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT our transgressions
UST our sins
(פִּשְׁעֵינוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of transgressions, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ways we have disobeyed you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT iniquities prevail against me; our transgressions
UST When we feel very badly because we have done wrong & our sins
(עֲוֹנֹת גָּבְרוּ מֶנִּי פִּשְׁעֵינוּ)

The terms iniquities and transgressions mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Our many sins overwhelm me but]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT prevail against me
UST When we feel very badly because we have done
(גָּבְרוּ מֶנִּי)

The pronoun me refers to the psalmist, while the pronoun “our” refers to the psalmist along with the rest of God’s people. The psalmist is speaking both personally and on behalf of the community. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [prevail against me and my people]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT you, you cover them
> UST you forgive & and make it as if we had not committed them
> (אַתָּה תְכַפֶּרֶם)

The psalmist is stating the pronoun you separately, even though the verb translated as you cover them already includes this meaning. He is doing that to emphasize that God, to whom he is speaking, is the one forgiving them. If a speaker of your language would use an explicit pronoun for the same purpose, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of showing the meaning here. Alternate translation: [you, God, you cover them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT you cover them
> UST forgive & and make it as if we had not committed them
> (תְכַפֶּרֶם)

The psalmist is using you cover them as a common expression of the culture to mean “you forgive them” or “you atone for them.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you forgive them] or [you atone for them]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
iniquities	wrong
our transgressions	our sins

Psalms 65:4

ULT	UST
The happinesses of {the one} you choose and bring near, that he may dwell {in} your courts! May we be full of the goodness of your house, the holiness of your temple.	When you invite people to come and worship you in your sanctuary, that makes them very happy! When we come to your sanctuary, we realize how good and holy you are, and that satisfies us completely.

ULT The happinesses of
UST that makes them very happy
(אַשְׁרֵי)

The psalmist is using a phrase that expresses a strong feeling of joy or blessing. There may be an equivalent word or phrase in your language that you can use in your translation to convey this feeling. Alternate translation: [Oh, how happy is] or [Truly blessed is]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT of the goodness of your house
UST When we come to your sanctuary, we realize how good & you are (בְּטוּב בֵּיתֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of goodness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the good things in your house] or [how good your house is]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the holiness of your temple
UST When we come to your sanctuary, we realize how & and holy you are (קֹדֶשׁ הֵיכָלֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of holiness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how holy your temple is]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your house & your temple
UST When we come to your sanctuary, we realize how & you are (בֵּיתֶךָ & הֵיכָלֶךָ)

Here, your house and your temple represent God's presence at the temple in Jerusalem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your presence in the temple … your presence in the temple]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT May we be full of the goodness of your house, the holiness of your temple

UST When we come to your sanctuary, we realize how good and holy you are, and that satisfies us completely

(נִשְׂבְּעָה בְּטוּב בֵּיתֶךָ קְדֹשׁ הֵיכָלֶךָ)

The terms your house and your temple mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [May we be full of the goodness and holiness of your holy dwelling place]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the one} you choose	When you invite people in} your courts	in your sanctuary of the goodness of	good your house	When we come to your sanctuary, we realize how & you are the holiness of	and holy your temple	When we come to your sanctuary, we realize how & you are

Psalms 65:5

ULT	UST
Doing fearsome things, you answer us in righteousness, God of our salvation, the confidence of all of the ends of the earth and the distant seas,	When we pray to you, you do good and powerful things to help us. You are the God who saves us. Even people who live in very remote places on the earth, on the other side of the oceans, trust in you.

ULT in righteousness
UST good
(בְּצֶדֶק)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by doing what is right] or [in a righteous way]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT God of our salvation
UST You are the God who saves us
(אֱלֹהֵי יִשְׁעֵנוּ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of salvation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God who is saving us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the confidence of
UST trust in you
(מִבְטָח)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of confidence, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the trusted one of]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the ends of the earth
UST Even people who live in very remote places on the earth
(קְצ֥וֹי־אֶֽרֶץ)

The psalmist is using the ends of the earth as a common expression of the culture to mean “the most distant places on earth” or “people everywhere.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the most remote places] or [people everywhere on earth]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the ends of the earth and the distant seas
> UST Even people who live in very remote places on the earth, on the other side of the oceans
> (קְצ֣וֵי־אֶ֭רֶץ וְיָ֣ם רָחֹֽק׃)

The psalmist is referring to all of the earth by naming two extremes, the ends of the earth and the distant seas. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [everywhere on earth]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Doing fearsome things	and powerful things
in righteousness	good
God of	You are the God
our salvation	who saves us
the earth	on the earth

Psalms 65:6

ULT	UST
the one establishing mountains by his strength, being girded with might;	You are so strong, you were able to use your power to set the mountains in their places.

ULT the one establishing mountains by his strength
UST You are so strong & to set the mountains in their places
(מֵכִין הָרִים בְּכֹחוֹ)

The psalmist is speaking of God as if he were a builder who physically establishes mountains in place. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one who created the mountains by his great power]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT by his strength
UST You are so strong
(בְּכֹחוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strength, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by how strong he is]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT being girded with might
UST you were able to use your power
(נֶאְזָר בִּגְבוּרָה)

The expression being girded with might is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [who girds himself with might] or [who clothes himself with might]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT with might
UST your power
(בִּגְבוּרָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of might, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [with powerful strength] or [by being mighty]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT by his strength & with might
> UST You are so strong & your power
> (בְּכֹחֲוֹ & בִּגְבוּרָה)

The terms strength and might mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [great power]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT being girded with might
> UST you were able to use your power
> (נֶאְזָר בִּגְבוּרָה)

The psalmist is speaking of might as if it were clothing that God could wear. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent metaphor from your culture. Alternatively, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [possessing great power] or [having great might]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
by his strength	You are so strong being girded	you were able to use with might	your power

Psalms 65:7

ULT	UST
the one stilling the roar of the seas, the roar of their waves, and the tumult of the peoples.	When there is a storm at sea, you can calm it and stop its waves from crashing on the shore. In the same way, you can keep nations from causing trouble.

ULT the roar of the seas, the roar of their waves
UST When there is a storm at sea & and stop its waves from crashing on the shore
(שְׁאוֹן יַמִּים שְׁאוֹן גַּלֵּיהֶם)

These two phrases the roar of the seas and the roar of their waves mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the roar of the seas, yes, the roar of their waves] or [the roaring seas and their waves]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the roar of the seas, the roar of their waves
UST When there is a storm at sea & and stop its waves from crashing on the shore
(שְׁאוֹן יַמִּים שְׁאוֹן גַּלֵּיהֶם)

The terms the roar of the seas and the roar of their waves mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [the loud roaring of the seas]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT and the tumult of the peoples
UST In the same way, you can keep nations from causing trouble
(וַהֲמוֹן לְאֻמִּים)

The psalmist is speaking of the tumult of the peoples as if it were roaring like chaotic seas. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the unrest of the nations] or [the agitation of the peoples]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the roar of the seas & and the tumult of the peoples
UST When there is a storm at sea & In the same way, you can keep nations from causing trouble
(שְׁאוֹן יַמִּים & וַהֲמוֹן לְאֻמִּים)

The phrases the roar of the seas and the tumult of the peoples mean basically the same thing. The psalmist is speaking of the peoples as if they were seas, comparing the noise and chaos of nations to crashing waves. The second phrase emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and you may want to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation. If it is helpful, you could connect the phrases in a way that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the roar of the seas, that is, the tumult of the peoples]

Support Reference: Parallelism

Psalms 65:8

ULT	UST
And the dwellers of the ends fear at your signs; you make the goings forth of the morning and the evening shout joyfully.	People who live in very remote places on the earth deeply respect you because of the miracles that you perform. People who live all over the world celebrate what you do.

ULT the dwellers of the ends
UST People who live in very remote places on the earth
(יֹשְׁבֵ֣י קְצָוֹת)

The psalmist is using the dwellers of the ends as a common expression of the culture to mean “those who live in the farthest places” or “those who live at the remotest boundaries of the earth.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who live in the most distant places] or [people in the remotest parts of the earth]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT at your signs
UST because of the miracles that you perform
(מֵאוֹתֹתֶ֑יךָ)

Here, signs represents God’s miraculous deeds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your miraculous works] or [your mighty acts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT you make the goings forth of the morning and the evening shout joyfully
UST People who live all over the world celebrate what you do
(מֹוֹצָאֵי־בֹ֖קֶר וְעֶ֣רֶב תְּרַנֵּֽין)

The psalmist is speaking of the goings forth of the morning and the evening as if they were living things that could shout joyfully. The phrase the goings forth of the morning and the evening represents sunrise and sunset. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the places where the sun rises and sets rejoice] or [people everywhere from sunrise to sunset shout joyfully]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT the goings forth of the morning and the evening
> UST People who live all over the world
> (מֹוצָאֵי־בֹֽקֶר וְעֶרֶב)

The psalmist is using the goings forth of the morning and the evening as a common expression of the culture to mean “the east and the west” or “all the earth from sunrise to sunset.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all the earth from the east to the west] or [everywhere the sun rises and sets]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the morning and the evening
> UST People who live all over the world
> (בֹֽקֶר וְעֶרֶב)

The psalmist is referring to all times of day by naming two extremes, the morning and the evening. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [all day long] or [at all times]

Support Reference: Merism

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
And & fear	deeply respect you
at your signs	because of the miracles that you perform
you make & shout joyfully	celebrate what you do

Psalms 65:9

ULT	UST
You visit the earth and saturate it; you greatly enrich it. The channel of God {is} full of water; you prepare their grain, for thus you prepare it.	You send rain to make the soil fertile so that it will produce good crops. It is as if you bring water to the fields in a stream. That is how you prepare the earth to produce abundant crops.

ULT You visit the earth
UST You send rain & the soil
(פָּקַדְתָּ הָאָרֶץ)

David is speaking of Yahweh as if he were a person who could come to visit the earth. If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [You come to the earth and care for it] or [You attend to the earth]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT The channel of God {is} full of water
UST It is as if you bring water to the fields in a stream
(פֶּלֶג אֱלֹהִים מָלֵא מָיִם)

The psalmist is speaking of the rain that comes from the sky as if it flowed from the channel of God, a heavenly waterway. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The sky is full of rain from God] or [God's heavenly reservoir is full of water]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT their grain
UST abundant crops
(דְּגָנָם)

The pronoun their refers to people on earth who benefit from God's provision. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [grain for people] or [grain for humanity]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	you
their grain	abundant crops

Psalms 65:10

ULT	UST
Watering its furrows, settling its ridges, you soften it with showers; you bless its growth.	You send rain on the plowed fields, and you fill their furrows with water. You soften the hard clods of soil with showers, and you help young plants to grow in the fields.

ULT Watering its furrows, settling its ridges
UST You send rain on the plowed fields, and you fill their furrows with water
(תְּלָמֶ֥יהָ רַוֵּ֗ה נַחֵ֥ת גְּדוּדֶ֑יהָ)

The psalmist is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [You water its furrows, you settle its ridges]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT you bless its growth
UST and you help young plants to grow in the fields
(צִמְחָ֖הּ תְּבָרֵֽךְ׃)

The psalmist is speaking of the growth of plants as if it were something that receives God's blessing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you cause its crops to grow] or [you make it produce a good harvest]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you bless	and you help

Psalms 65:11

ULT	UST
You crown the year {with} your goodness, and your tracks drip fatness.	When harvest time comes, the fields are glorious with crops, as if you had put a golden crown on them. You provide food for people in great abundance.

ULT You crown the year {with} your goodness
UST When harvest time comes, the fields are glorious with crops, as if you had put a golden crown on them
(עִטַּרְתָּ שְׁנַת טוּבָתֶךָ)

The psalmist is speaking of God as if he were a king placing a crown on the year to adorn it with abundant blessings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You adorn the year with your goodness] or [You make the year wonderful with your goodness]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with} your goodness
UST with crops
(טוּבָתֶךָ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of goodness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how good you are] or [how generously you provide]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and your tracks drip fatness
UST You provide food for people in great abundance
(וּמַעְגָּלֶיךָ יִרְעָפוּן דָּשֶׁן)

The psalmist is speaking of Yahweh as if he were driving a cart whose tracks drip fatness (that is, whose wheel ruts overflow with abundant crops). If this image communicates well in your language, please use it. If not, you could express this as a comparison. Alternate translation: [you leave abundance behind you wherever you go]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and your tracks
UST food for people
(וּמַעְגָּלֶיךָ)

Here, tracks represents God's presence as he passes by, bringing blessing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [everywhere you pass by] or [the places where you have gone]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT fatness
UST in great abundance
(דָּשֶׁן)

Here, fatness represents abundance and prosperity. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [abundance] or [rich blessings]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You crown	the fields are glorious & as if you had put a golden crown on them
the year	When harvest time comes with} your goodness	with crops

Psalms 65:12

ULT	UST
The pastures of the wilderness drip, and the hills gird on rejoicing.	There is plenty of food for sheep and goats to eat in the pastures where they graze. So many crops grow on the hills that it is as if the hills were celebrating.

ULT The pastures of the wilderness drip
UST There is plenty of food for sheep and goats to eat in the pastures where they graze
(יִרְעֲפוּ נְאוֹת מִדְבָּר)

The psalmist is speaking of the pastures of the wilderness as if they were living things that could drip with moisture or abundance. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The pastures of the wilderness are covered with dew] or [The pastures of the wilderness are full of water]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT and the hills gird on rejoicing
UST So many crops grow on the hills that it is as if the hills were celebrating (וְגִיל גְּבָעוֹת תַּחְגֹּרָנָה)

The psalmist is speaking of the hills as if they were living things that could put on clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the hills are like people who dress themselves in joyful celebration] or [it is as if the hills wear rejoicing]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT rejoicing
UST were celebrating
(וְגִיל)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rejoicing, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [joy] or [what makes people rejoice]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT gird on rejoicing
UST So many crops grow on the hills & were celebrating (וְגִיל & תַּחְגְּרָנָה)

The psalmist is speaking of the hills as if they were people who could gird on rejoicing like a person putting on clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the hills are clothed with joy] or [the hills seem joyful]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the wilderness	where they graze
gird on	So many crops grow on the hills rejoicing	were celebrating

Psalms 65:13

ULT	UST
The meadows put on a flock, and the valleys cover {themselves} {with} grain. They shout joyfully; indeed, they sing.	Flocks of sheep and goats cover the meadows like a garment, and there is so much grain in the valleys that the ground is not visible. It is as if the meadows and valleys are singing and shouting joyfully.

ULT The meadows put on a flock
UST Flocks of sheep and goats cover the meadows like a garment
(לָבְשׁוּ כָרִים | הַצֹּאן)

The psalmist is speaking of meadows as if they were living things that could put on clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Flocks cover the meadows]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT put on a flock
UST Flocks of sheep and goats cover & like a garment
(לָבְשׁוּ & הַצֹּאן)

The psalmist is speaking of the meadows as if they were people who could put on flocks as clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The flocks cover the meadows] or [Flocks are spread across the meadows]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and the valleys cover {themselves} {with} grain
UST and there is so much grain in the valleys that the ground is not visible
(וְעֲמָקִים יָעַטְפוּ־בָר)

The psalmist is speaking of the valleys as if they were living things that could cover themselves with grain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [grain grows abundantly in the valleys] or [the valleys are filled with grain]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT They shout joyfully; indeed, they sing
> UST It is as if the meadows and valleys are singing and shouting joyfully > (יָתְרוֹעֲעוּ אַף־יָשִׁירוּ)

The psalmist is speaking of the meadows and the valleys as if they were living things that could shout joyfully and sing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [It is as though they shout joyfully; indeed, it is as though they sing] or [They are like people shouting joyfully and singing]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT They shout joyfully & they sing
> UST It is as if the meadows and valleys are singing & shouting joyfully > (יָתְרוֹעֲעוּ & יָשִׁירוּ)

The terms shout joyfully and sing mean similar things. The psalmist is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [rejoice with loud songs]

Support Reference: Doublet

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a flock	Flocks of sheep and goats
with} grain	and there is so much grain
They shout joyfully	shouting joyfully
They shout joyfully	shouting joyfully

Psalms 65:front

> ULT For the chief musician
> UST This is a note for the worship leader
> (לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

For the chief musician is an instruction about who should lead people in singing or playing music with this psalm. This could refer to the person in charge of music for temple worship. If your readers would not be familiar with this role, you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the worship leader]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A psalm	this song
of David	David wrote

Psalms 66

Psalms 66 Introduction

Psalm 66 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Psalm 66 is a psalm of thanksgiving. See the discussion of the types of psalms in the introduction to the book of Psalms.

1. Call to worship (1–3)
2. Reason to worship (5–7)
3. Call to worship (8)
4. Reason to worship (9–12)
5. The psalmist’s declaration that he is paying a vow (13–15)
6. The psalmist’s declaration that God has answered his prayer (16–20)

Psalms 66:1

ULT	UST
For the chief musician; a song; a psalm. Shout to God, all of the earth!	This is a note for the worship leader: This is a song, a psalm. Everyone on earth should shout joyfully to praise God!

ULT For the chief musician
UST This is a note for the worship leader
(לַמְנַצֵּחַ)

The word translated as chief musician likely refers to the person in charge of music for worship. Some languages may have a term for a music leader. Alternate translation: [For the music director] or [For the leader of worship music]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT Shout to God, all of the earth
UST Everyone on earth should shout joyfully to praise God
(הָרִ֣יעוּ לֵאלֹהִ֣ים כָּל־הָאָֽרֶץ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Let everyone on earth shout to God]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a psalm	a psalm
Shout	should shout joyfully
to God	to praise God

Psalms 66:2

ULT	UST
Make music {to} the glory of his name; make his praise glorious.	They should sing songs that tell how glorious God is and how much he deserves praise for being glorious.

ULT Make music {to} the glory of his name
UST They should sing songs that tell how glorious God is (זַמְּרוּ כְּבוֹד־שְׁמוֹ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please make music to the glory of his name]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT to} the glory of
UST that tell how glorious & is (כְּבוֹד)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [glorious character]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT make his praise glorious
UST and how much he deserves praise for being glorious (שִׂימוּ כָּבוֹד תְּהִלָּתוֹ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please make his praise glorious]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT his praise
UST praise
(תְּהִלָּתוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [praises]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to} the glory of	that tell how glorious & is his praise	praise

Psalms 66:3

ULT	UST
Say to God, “How fearsome {are} your deeds! Because of the greatness of your power, your enemies cringe before you.	Everyone should tell God, “You do such amazing things! You are so powerful that your enemies come and bow down fearfully in front of you.

ULT Say to God
UST Everyone should tell God
(אִמְרוּ לֵאלֹהִים)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please say to God]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT How fearsome {are} your deeds
UST You do such amazing things
(מַה־נּוֹרָא מַעֲשֶׂיךָ)

The psalmist is using the question form to express amazement at God’s deeds. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form for that purpose, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Your deeds are very fearsome!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Because of the greatness of your power
UST You are so powerful
(בְּרֹב עֻזְּךָ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of greatness and power, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [of your very great power]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your enemies cringe before you
UST that your enemies come and bow down fearfully in front of you (יְכַחֲשׁוּ לְךָ אֹיְבֶיךָ)

Here, cringe represents showing false submission out of fear. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [your enemies submit to you in fear]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to God	God
fearsome	amazing
your power	You are & powerful
your enemies	that your enemies

Psalms 66:4

ULT	UST
All of the earth bows down to you and makes music to you; they make music {to} your name.” Selah	Everyone on earth should worship you and sing to praise you for your excellent character.” Selah

ULT All of the earth bows down to you
UST Everyone on earth should worship you
(כָּל־הָאָ֗רֶץ | יִשְׁתַּחֲוּ֣וּ לָ֑ךְ)

The psalmist is saying All of the earth bows down to you as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be clearer in your language, you could express the emphasis in a different way. Alternate translation: [Everyone on earth bows down to you]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT All of the earth bows down
UST Everyone on earth should worship
(כָּל־הָאָ֗רֶץ | יִשְׁתַּחֲוּ֣וּ)

The psalmist is speaking of the earth as if it were a living thing that could bow down and worship. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Everyone on earth bows down]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT to} your name
UST for your excellent character
(שִׁמְךָ֥)

The psalmist is using the term name to represent who God is or to refer to God’s reputation. Alternate translation: [to your reputation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bows down	should worship
Selah	Selah

Psalms 66:5

ULT	UST
Come and see the works of God, fearsome in doing toward the sons of man.	Come and consider what God has done! Think about the amazing things that he has done among people.

ULT Come and see the works of God
UST Come and consider what God has done
(לְכוּ וּרְאוּ מִפְעֲלוֹת אֱלֹהִים)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please come and see the works of God]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT fearsome in doing
UST Think about the amazing things that he has done
(נוֹרָא עֲלִילָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of doing, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [fearsome in what he does]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the sons of man
UST people
(בְּנֵי אָדָם)

The psalmist is using sons of man as a common expression of the culture to mean “human beings.” If this phrase does not have that meaning for your readers, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [human beings]

Support Reference: Idiom

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
fearsome	amazing

Psalms 66:6

ULT	UST
He turned the sea into dry land; they passed through the river on foot. There let us rejoice in him!	He made a dry path through the Sea of Reeds so that our ancestors could walk right through it. They also walked across the Jordan River {when he stopped it from flowing}. After they crossed, they celebrated what God had done, and we should still celebrate that today.

ULT He turned the sea into dry land
UST He made a dry path through the Sea of Reeds & when he stopped it from flowing (הָפַךְ יָם ׀ לְיַבָּשָׁה)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if God had literally transformed the sea into solid ground. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He made a way through the sea on dry ground]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they passed through
UST right through it
(יַעַבְרוּ)

The pronoun they refers to the Israelites. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the Israelites passed through]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT let us rejoice in him
UST they celebrated what God had done, and we should still celebrate that today (נִשְׂמְחָה־בּוֹ)

The psalmist is using the imperative form to communicate an exhortation. If the imperative does not communicate an exhortation for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates an exhortation. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [we should rejoice in him]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT the sea & the river
> UST the Sea of Reeds & across the Jordan River
> (יָם & בַּנָּהָר)

The psalmist assumes that readers will know that the sea refers to the Red Sea and the river refers to the Jordan River, both of which God miraculously parted for the Israelites to cross. You could say that explicitly if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the Red Sea ... the Jordan River]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
into dry land	a dry path & when he stopped it from flowing
let us rejoice	they celebrated & and we should still celebrate that today

Psalms 66:7

ULT	UST
He is ruling by his might forever; his eyes watch over the nations. Let the ones rebelling not exalt themselves. Selah	He is so powerful that he rules forever. He observes what all the people groups do, so anyone who considers rebelling against him should not think that he will be able to do that. Selah

ULT by his might
UST He is so powerful that (בִּגְבוּרָתוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of might, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [by being mighty]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his eyes watch over the nations
UST He observes what all the people groups do (עֵינָיו בַּגּוֹיִם תִּצְפֶּינָה)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if God had physical eyes that could watch over the nations. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he observes the nations]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Let the ones rebelling not exalt themselves
UST so anyone who considers rebelling against him should not think that he will be able to do that
(הַסּוֹרְרִים | אַל־יְרוֹמְמוּ לָמוֹ)

See the discussion in the introduction to Psalms about “let” and “may” and follow the decision of your team of how a speaker will express in this context what he wants someone to do. Alternate translation: [The ones rebelling should not exalt themselves]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
He is ruling	he rules
by his might	He is so powerful that
forever	forever
watch	observes
over the nations	what all the people groups do
the ones rebelling	so anyone who considers rebelling against him
Let & exalt	should & think that & will be able to do that
Selah	Selah

Psalms 66:8

ULT	UST
Bless our God, peoples, and make the sound of his praise heard,	People from every nation, praise our God! Praise him loudly so that others will hear you as you praise him.

ULT Bless our God, peoples
UST People from every nation, praise our God
(בָּרְכוּ עַמִּים | אֱלֹהֵינוּ)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. If the imperative does not communicate a polite request for your readers, then use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please bless our God, peoples]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT and make the sound of his praise heard
UST Praise him loudly so that others will hear you as you praise him (וְהַשְׁמִיעוּ קוֹל תְּהִלָּתוֹ)

The expression make the sound of his praise heard is a passive verbal form. If it would be unnatural to use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and proclaim his praise aloud]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT his praise
UST as you praise him
(תְּהִלָּתוֹ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [praising him]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Bless	praise
our God	our God
his praise	as you praise him

Psalms 66:9

ULT	UST
the one putting our soul among the living, and he does not allow our foot to slip.	He has kept us alive, and he has not allowed anyone to destroy us.

ULT the one putting our soul among the living
UST He has kept us alive
(הַשָּׂ֤ם נַפְשֵׁ֨נוּ בַ֘חַיִּ֤ים)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if keeping them alive were putting their soul among the living. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one keeping us alive]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and he does not allow our foot to slip
UST and he has not allowed anyone to destroy us
(וְלֹא־נָתַ֖ן לַמּ֣וֹט רַגְלֵֽנוּ)

Here, our foot to slip represents falling into danger or ruin. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [and he does not allow us to stumble into disaster]

Support Reference: Metonymy

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
our soul	us

Psalms 66:10

ULT	UST
For you tested us, God; you refined us like the refining of silver.	God, you have allowed us to experience great difficulties {in order to make us pure}, just as people put silver in a hot fire so they can purify it.

ULT For you tested us
UST you have allowed us to experience great difficulties
(כִּי־בְחַנְתָּנוּ)

Here the psalmist is speaking of the difficulties God allowed as if God had tested them as a refiner tests metal. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [For you put us through difficulties to prove us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you refined us like the refining of silver
UST in order to make us pure}, just as people put silver in a hot fire so they can purify it
(צְרַפְתָּנוּ כִּצְרֹף־כָּסֶף)

The point of this comparison is that just as silver is purified by being heated in fire to remove impurities, so God allowed the people to go through difficulties to purify them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [you purified us through suffering just as a refiner purifies silver with fire]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT like the refining of silver
UST just as people put silver in a hot fire so they can purify (כִּצְרֹף־כָּסֶף)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of refining, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [just as silver is refined]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you tested us	you have allowed us to
God	God
silver	silver

Psalms 66:11

ULT	UST
You brought us into a net; you put pressure on our loins.	It is as if you allowed someone to catch us in a trap or made us carry a load that was almost too heavy for us.

ULT You brought us into a net
UST It is as if you allowed someone to catch us in a trap
(הֲבֵאתָנוּ בַמְּצוּדָה)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if the difficult circumstances were a net that trapped them. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You allowed us to be captured]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you put pressure on our loins
UST or made us carry a load that was almost too heavy for us
(שַׂמְתָּ מוּעָקָה בְמָתְנֵינוּ)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if oppression and hardship were physical pressure on our loins. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you placed a heavy burden on us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
on our loins	or made us carry

Psalms 66:12

ULT	UST
You made man ride over our head; we went through fire and through waters, but you brought us out to abundance.	It is as if you allowed our enemies to trample on us. We experienced troubles that were like walking through fires and floods. But now you have brought us to a place where we are safe and have plenty of food.

ULT You made man ride over our head
UST It is as if you allowed our enemies to trample on us
(הִרְכַּבְתָּ אֱנוֹשׁ לְרֹאשֵׁנוּ)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if being conquered by enemies were having man ride over our head. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You let our conquerors trample over us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT we went through fire and through waters
UST We experienced troubles that were like walking through fires and floods
(בָּאנוּ־בָאֵשׁ וּבַמָּיִם)

The psalmist is referring to all kinds of trials by naming two extremes, fire and waters. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [we went through every kind of danger]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT but you brought us out to abundance
UST But now you have brought us to a place where we are safe and have plenty of food
(וַתּוֹצִיאֵנוּ לָרְוָיָה)

Here the psalmist is speaking as if prosperity and blessing were a place of abundance to which God brought them. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but you brought us to where we prosper]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to abundance
> UST to a place where we are safe and have plenty of food
> (לָרְוָיָה)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of abundance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to a place where we have all that we need]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

Psalms 66:13

ULT	UST
I will come {into} your house with burnt offerings; I will pay my vows to you,	God, I have come to your temple bringing offerings for the priests to burn completely on the altar. I am doing what I promised to do for you.

ULT with burnt offerings
UST bringing offerings for the priests to burn completely on the altar
(בְּעוֹלֹ֥ות)

The burnt offerings are a kind of sacrifice in which whole animals are burned on an altar as an offering to God. If your readers would not be familiar with what burnt offerings are, you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [with sacrifices that are totally burned on the altar]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
into} your house	to your temple
with burnt offerings	bringing offerings for the priests to burn completely on the altar
my vows	what I promised to do

Psalms 66:14

ULT	UST
{for} which my lips opened and my mouth spoke when trouble {was} to me.	When I was experiencing great trouble, I said that I would bring these offerings to you {if you rescued me}.

ULT for} which my lips opened
UST I said that I would bring these offerings to you {if you rescued me (אֲשֶׁר־פָּצוּ שְׂפָתָי)

