unfoldingWord® Translation Notes

v91

Matthew

Copyrights & Licensing

unfoldingWord® Translation Notes

Copyright © 2022 by unfoldingWord

This work is made available under the Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. To view a copy of this license, visit https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/4.0/ or send a letter to Creative Commons, PO Box 1866, Mountain View, CA 94042, USA.

unfoldingWord® is a registered trademark of unfoldingWord. Use of the unfoldingWord name or logo requires the written permission of unfoldingWord. Under the terms of the CC BY-SA license, you may copy and redistribute this unmodified work as long as you keep the unfoldingWord® trademark intact. If you modify a copy or translate this work, thereby creating a derivative work, you must remove the unfoldingWord® trademark.

On the derivative work, you must indicate what changes you have made and attribute the work as follows: “The original work by unfoldingWord is available from unfoldingword.org/utn”. You must also make your derivative work available under the same license (CC BY-SA).

If you would like to notify unfoldingWord regarding your translation of this work, please contact us at unfoldingword.org/contact/.

unfoldingWord® Translation Notes
Date: 2026-09-26
Version: v91
Published by: unfoldingWord®

unfoldingWord® Literal Text
Date: 2026-09-26
Version: v91
Published by: unfoldingWord®

unfoldingWord® Simplified Text
Date: 2026-09-26
Version: v91
Published by: unfoldingWord®

unfoldingWord® Greek New Testament
Date: 2023-09-27

Version: v0.34
Published by: unfoldingWord®

unfoldingWord® Translation Academy
Date: 2026-09-26
Version: v91
Published by: unfoldingWord®

unfoldingWord® Translation Words
Date: 2026-09-26
Version: v91
Published by: unfoldingWord®

unfoldingWord® Translation Words Links
Date: 2026-09-26
Version: v91
Published by: unfoldingWord®

Table of Contents

unfoldingWord® Translation Notes - Matthew 20

Matthew Introduciton 20
Matthew 1 30
Matthew 2 73
Matthew 3 120
Matthew 4 164
Matthew 5 216
Matthew 6 330
Matthew 7 413
Matthew 8 481
Matthew 9 552
Matthew 10 635
Matthew 11 727
Matthew 12 802
Matthew 13 913
Matthew 14 1039
Matthew 15 1105
Matthew 16 1184
Matthew 17 1251
Matthew 18 1307
Matthew 19 1391
Matthew 20 1452
Matthew 21 1518
Matthew 22 1620
Matthew 23 1711
Matthew 24 1793
Matthew 25 1904
Matthew 26 1991
Matthew 27 2135
Matthew 28 2255

Appendex: unfoldingWord® Translation Academy 2298

Abstract Nouns 2299
Active or Passive 2303
Apostrophe 2307
Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information 2310
Background Information 2317
Biblical Distance 2322
Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors 2327
Biblical Money 2332
Biblical Volume 2336
Collective Nouns 2343
Connect — Background Information 2348
Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions 2353
Connect — Contrast Relationship 2359
Connect — Exception Clauses 2363
Connect — Factual Conditions 2366
Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship 2369
Connect — Hypothetical Conditions 2374
Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship 2378
Connect — Sequential Time Relationship 2382
Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship 2386
Connecting Words and Phrases 2389
Copy or Borrow Words 2396
Crowd 2399
Direct and Indirect Quotations 2400
Distinguishing Versus Informing or Reminding 2403
Double Negatives 2409
Doublet 2414
Ellipsis 2418
End of Story 2423
Euphemism 2426
Exclamations 2429
Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’ 2434
First, Second or Third Person 2437

Forms of You 2440
Forms of ‘You’ — Dual/Plural 2442
Forms of ‘You’ — Singular 2445
Generic Noun Phrases 2448
Go and Come 2452
Hendiadys 2456
How to Translate Names 2460
Hyperbole 2467
Hypothetical Situations 2474
Idiom 2478
Imperatives — Other Uses 2482
Information Structure 2487
Introduction of a New Event 2491
Introduction of New and Old Participants 2498
Irony 2503
Irregular Use of Tenses 2508
Kinship 2516
Litotes 2520
Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit 2523
Merism 2527
Metaphor 2530
Metonymy 2541
Nominal Adjectives 2545
Numbers 2548
Oath Formulas 2553
Order of Events 2559
Ordinal Numbers 2563
Parables 2567
Parallelism 2571
Personification 2576
Politeness 2580
Possession 2587
Predictive Past 2594
Pronouns — When to Use Them 2597
Proverbs 2601

Quotations and Quote Margins 2606
Quotes within Quotes 2611
Reduplication 2616
Reflexive Pronouns 2620
Rhetorical Question 2626
Simile 2633
Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups 2638
Statements — Other Uses 2642 Symbolic Action 2646
Synecdoche 2650
Textual Variants 2652
Third-Person Imperatives 2656
Translate Unknowns 2663
Translating Son and Father 2669
Unusual Uses of the Plural 2672
Verse Bridges 2676
When Masculine Words Include Women 2679
When to Keep Information Implicit 2683

Appendex: unfoldingWord® Translation Words 2685

Abel 2686
Abijah 2687 abomination, abominable 2688
Abraham, Abram 2690 adultery, adulterous, adulterer, adulteress 2692
adversary, enemy 2694 advice, advise, advisor, counsel, counselor, counsels 2695 age, aged, old, old age, years old 2696 age, era, time 2697
Ahaz 2698
alms 2699 altar 2700
amen, truly 2702
Andrew 2704
angel, archangel 2705

anoint, anointed, anointing 2707 apostle, apostleship 2709 appoint, appointed 2711
ark 2713
Asa 2714 assembly, assemble, congregation, meeting, gather, community 2715 authority 2717
ax 2719
Babylon, Babylonia, Babylonian 2720 baptize, baptized, baptism 2722
Barabbas 2724
Bartholomew 2725 bear, bearer, bore, borne, produce, produced 2726
Beelzebul 2727
beg, begging, begged 2728 believe, believer, belief, unbeliever, unbelief 2729 beloved 2733
Bethany 2735
Bethlehem, Ephrathah 2736 betray, betrayer 2738 bind, bond, bound 2740 blasphemy, blaspheme, blasphemous 2742 bless, blessed, blessing 2744
Boaz 2746
born again, born of God, new birth 2747
bow, bow down, kneel, bend, bend the knee 2749 bread 2751 bridegroom, groom 2753 bury, buried, burial 2754
Caesar 2756
Caesarea, Caesarea Philippi 2758
Caiaphas 2759
call, called, call out, called out 2760 camel 2761
Canaan, Canaanite 2762

Capernaum 2764 cast out, driving out, throw out 2765 centurion 2767
chaff 2768
chosen, choose, chosen people, Chosen One, elect 2769
Christ, Messiah 2771 church, Church 2773
compassion, compassionate 2775 conceive, conceived, conception 2776 condemn, condemned, condemnation 2777 confess, confession 2779 cornerstone 2781
corrupt witness, false report, false testimony, false witness 2783 corrupt, corrupted, corruption, incorruptibility, depraved 2784 council 2785 courage, courageous, valor 2787 covenant 2788 create, created, creation, creator 2791 cross 2793 crown, crowned 2795 crucify, crucified 2797 cry, cry out, outcry 2799 curse, cursed, cursing 2800 curtain 2802
Cyrene 2803
Daniel 2804
David 2805
day 2807
deceive, lie, deception, illusion 2809 declare, proclaim, announce 2811 defile, defiled, desecrate 2813 delight 2815 deliver, deliverer, deliverance, delivered 2816 demon, evil spirit, unclean spirit 2818 demon-possessed 2820

desert, wilderness 2822
desolate, desolated, desolation, deserted, desolator 2823 destroy, destruction, annihilate 2825 devour 2826
disciple 2827
doctrine, teaching, belief, beliefs, instruction, knowledge 2829 donkey, mule 2830 dove, pigeon, turtledove 2831 dream 2832 drunk, drunkard 2834 eagle 2835
earth, land 2836
Egypt, Egyptian 2838 elder 2840
Eleazar 2841
Eliakim 2842
Elijah 2843
endure, endurance 2845 envy, covet, jealous, jealousy 2847 eternity, everlasting, eternal, forever 2848 eunuch 2851
evil, wicked, wickedness, unpleasant 2852 ewe, ram, sheep, sheepfold, sheepshearer, sheepskin 2854 exalt, exalted, exaltation 2856 exult, exultant 2857 faith 2858 faithful, faithfulness, trustworthy 2860 false prophet 2862 famine 2863
fast, fasting 2864 fear, afraid, frighten 2866 feast, feasting 2868 festival, feast, celebrate 2870 fig 2872 fisherman, fishermen, fisher 2873 flock, herd 2874 flood 2875 flute, pipe 2877

fool, foolish, folly 2878
footstool 2880
forgive, forgiven, forgiveness, pardon, pardoned 2881 forsake, forsaken, leave 2883 foundation, founder, founded 2885 frankincense 2887
free, freed, freedom, freeman, freewill, liberty 2888
fruit, fruitful, unfruitful 2890 fulfill, fulfilled, carried out 2892 furnace 2894
Galilee, Galilean 2895 gate, gate bar, gatekeeper, gatepost, gateway 2897 generation 2898
Gentile 2899
Gethsemane 2900 glory, glorious, glorify 2901 goat, goatskin, scapegoat, kid 2904
God 2906
God the Father, heavenly Father, Father 2909 gold, golden 2911
Golgotha 2912
Gomorrah 2913
good news, gospel 2914
good, right, pleasant, better, best, goodness 2916 govern, governor, proconsul, Tirshatha 2918 grain, grainfields 2920 grape, grapevine 2921 grave, gravedigger, tomb, burial place 2922
Hades, Sheol 2924
hang, hung 2926 hard, harder 2927
harvest, reap 2928

heaven, sky, heavens, heavenly 2930 heir 2932 hell, lake of fire 2933
Herod, Herod Antipas 2935
Herod, Herod the Great 2936
Herodias 2937
Hezekiah 2938
high priest, chief priest 2939 holy city 2941
holy place 2942
Holy Spirit, Spirit of God, Spirit of the Lord, Spirit 2944 holy, holiness, unholy, sacred 2946 honey, honeycomb 2949 honor 2950 hope, hoped 2952
hour, moment 2954
house 2955
house of God, your house, his house, Yahweh's house, a house for my name, the house for my name, the house, a house, a house of Yahweh 2956 household, house 2958 humble, humbled, humility 2959 hypocrite, hypocrisy 2961 image, carved image, cast metal image, figure, carved figure, statue 2963 inherit, inheritance, heir 2965 innocent 2967 instruct, instruction, instructor 2969 interpret, interpretation, interpreter 2970
Isaac 2971
Isaiah 2973
Israel, Israelites 2975
Jacob, Israel 2977
James (brother of Jesus) 2979
James (son of Alphaeus) 2980
James (son of Zebedee) 2981
Jehoram, Joram 2982

Jehoshaphat 2983
Jeremiah 2984
Jericho 2986
Jerusalem 2988
Jesse 2990
Jesus, Jesus Christ, Christ Jesus 2991
Jew, Jewish 2994
John (the apostle) 2996
John (the Baptist) 2998
Jonah 3000
Jordan River, Jordan 3001
Joseph (NT) 3003
Josiah 3005
Jotham 3006
joy, joyful, rejoice, glad 3007
Judah 3009
Judas Iscariot 3010
Judea, Judah 3012
judge 3014
judge, judgment 3015
just, justice, unjust, injustice, justify, justification 3017
King of the Jews 3020 king, kingship 3022 kingdom 3024 kingdom of God, kingdom of heaven 3026 kiss 3028
know, knew, knowledge, known, unknown, distinguish 3029 labor, labors, labored, laboring, laborer, work, hard work 3031 lamp 3032
lampstand 3033
law, law of Moses, law of Yahweh, law of God 3035 lawful, unlawful, not lawful, lawless, lawlessness 3037 locust 3040
loins 3041
lord, Lord, master, sir 3042

lots, casting lots 3045 love, beloved 3046
lust, lustful, passion, desire 3049 manager, steward, stewardship 3050
Manasseh 3051
Mary (the mother of Jesus) 3052
Mary Magdalene 3054
Matthew, Levi 3055 meek, meekness 3056 member, body part 3057 mercy, merciful 3058 messenger 3060 might, mighty, mighty works 3061 mind, mindful, remind, reminder, likeminded 3063 miracle, wonder, sign 3065 mock, mocker, mockery, ridicule, scoff at, laughingstock 3067
Moses 3069
Mount of Olives 3071
mourn, mourner, weeping 3072 multiply, multiplied, multiplication 3073 myrrh 3074
mystery, hidden truth 3075
Naphtali 3076 nation 3077
Nazareth, Nazarene 3079 neighbor, neighborhood, neighboring 3081
Nineveh, Ninevite 3082
Noah 3083 oath, vow, swear, swearing, swear by, sworn 3085 oil 3087
olive 3088
ordain, ordained, ordination, planned long ago, set up, prepared 3089 parable 3090
Passover 3091
patient, patience, impatient 3093 peace, peaceful, peacemaker 3094 people of God 3096 perfect, complete 3098

perish 3099 persecute 3101
perverse, perversion, pervert, depraved, malicious, devious, dishonest, distortion 3103
Peter, Simon Peter, Cephas 3105
Pharisee 3107
Philip (the apostle) 3108 pig, pork, swine 3109
Pilate 3110
pit, pitfall, trench, cistern 3112 possess, possessed, possession, dispossess 3113 praise, praised, praiseworthy 3115 pray, prayer 3117
preach, preaching, preacher, proclaim, proclamation 3119 priest, priesthood 3122 profane, profaned 3124 profit, profits, profited, profitable 3125 promise, promised 3126 prophet, prophecy, prophesy, seer, prophetess 3128 prostitute, harlot, whored 3131 prostrate, bow down, worship 3132 punish, punished, punishment, unpunished 3134 pure, purify, purification 3136 queen 3138
quench, quenched, unquenchable 3139
Rabbi 3140
Rachel 3141
Rahab 3142
Ramah 3144
ransom, ransomed 3145
rebuke, reprove 3147
receive, welcome, taken up, acceptance 3148 reconcile, reconciled, reconciliation 3150

reed 3151
Rehoboam 3152 reign, rule 3154 reject, rejected, rejection 3155 repent, repentance 3157 report, reported, tell, reputation 3159 resurrection 3160 reward, prize, deserve 3162 righteous, righteousness, unrighteous, unrighteousness, upright, uprightness 3164 robe, robed 3168 rule, reign, ruler, prefect, official, leader 3169
Ruth 3171
Sabbath 3172
sackcloth 3174 sacrifice, offering 3175
Sadducee 3177
saint 3178
Samaria, Samaritan 3179 sanctify, sanctification 3181 sandal 3183
Satan, devil, evil one 3184
save, saved, safe, salvation, rescue 3186 scribe 3189
Sea of Galilee, Sea of Kinnereth, lake of Gennesaret, Sea of Tiberias 3191 seal, sealed, unsealed 3193 seed 3195
seek, search, look for 3197
seize, seizure, capture 3198 serpent, snake, viper 3199
servant, serve, maidservant, young man, young women 3201 sexual immorality, immorality, immoral, fornication 3203 shame, ashamed, disgrace, humiliate, reproach 3205 shepherd, herder, pastor 3208 Sidon, Sidonians 3210 sign, proof, reminder 3211

silver 3213
Simon the Zealot 3214 sin, sinful, sinner, sinning 3215 skin disease, leper, leprosy 3218 snare, ensnare, entrap, trap, trapped, pitfall 3220 snow 3222
Sodom 3223
soldier, warrior 3224
Solomon 3225
Son of God, the Son 3227
Son of Man, son of man 3229 sons of God, children of God 3231 soul, self 3232
sow, sower, plant, planted, replanted, transplanted 3234 spirit, wind, breath 3236
staff, clubs 3238
stone, stoning 3239 stumble, reeling 3240 suffer, suffering 3242 sweep 3244
sword, swordsmen 3245 synagogue 3247
Syria, Ashur 3248
Tamar 3249 tax, tribute, taxation, taxpayer, tax collector 3250
teacher, Teacher 3252
temple, house, house of God 3254 tempt, temptation 3256
tenth, tithe 3258
test, tested, testing, testing in the fire 3259 testimony, testify, witness, eyewitness, evidence 3261 tetrarch 3264
the twelve, the eleven 3265
thief, thieves, rob, robber, robbery, bandit 3266
Thomas 3267

thorn, thorn bush, thistle 3268 thresh 3269 throne, enthroned 3270
to minister, ministry 3271 torment, tormented, tormentor 3273 tradition 3274
trample 3275
tremble, shake, shaken, quake 3276
trespass 3277
tribe, tribal, tribesmen 3279 tribulation, distress, distresses, trouble 3280 tribute, contribution 3281 trouble, disturb, stir up, distress, hardship, calamity 3282 trumpet, trumpeter 3284
trust, trusted, trustworthy, trustworthiness 3285 tunic 3287
twelve tribes of Israel, twelve tribes 3288
Tyre, Tyrians 3289 understand, understanding, thinking 3290 unleavened bread 3291
Uriah 3293
Uzziah, Azariah 3295 vain, vanity 3296 vine 3297 vineyard 3298 virgin, virginity 3299 vision, envision 3300 waste, wasted, wasteland, becomes weak 3301 watch, guard, take heed, beware 3302 watchtower, tower 3303 wheat 3304 will of God 3305 wine, wineskin, new wine 3306 winepress 3308
winnow, sift 3309

wise men, advisor 3310
wise, wisdom 3312
woe 3314
wolf, wild dog, wild dogs 3316 womb 3317
word of God, word of Yahweh, word of the Lord, word of truth, scripture 3318 world, worldly 3321 wrath, fury 3323 wrong, wronged, wrongdoer, mistreat, hurt, hurtful 3325 year 3326 yeast, leaven, unleavened 3327 yoke, yoked, tied 3329
Zadok 3330
Zebedee 3331
Zebulun 3332
Zerubbabel 3333
Zion, Mount Zion 3334

unfoldingWord® Translation Notes - Matthew

Introduction to Matthew

Part 1: General Introduction

Outline of Matthew

1. The birth of Jesus Christ and the beginning of his ministry (1:1–4:25)
2. Jesus' Sermon on the Mount (5:1–7:28)
3. Jesus illustrates the kingdom of God through acts of healing (8:1–9:34)
4. Jesus teaches about mission and the kingdom (9:35–10:42)
5. Jesus teaches about the gospel of the kingdom of God, and opposition to Jesus begins (11:1–12:50)
6. Jesus tells parables about the kingdom of God (13:1–52)
7. Further opposition to Jesus and misunderstanding of the kingdom of God (13:53–17:27)
8. Jesus teaches about life in the kingdom of God (18:1–35)
9. Jesus ministers in Judea (19:1–22:46)
10. Jesus teaches about the final judgment and salvation (23:1–25:46)
11. The crucifixion of Jesus, his death, and his resurrection (26:1–28:19)

What is Matthew about?

The Gospel of Matthew is one of four books in the New Testament that describe some of the life of Jesus Christ. These books are called "Gospels," which means "good news." Their authors wrote about different aspects of who Jesus was and what he did. Matthew wrote much about how Jesus fulfilled passages from the Old Testament. Also, he focused on Jesus' teaching by presenting some of what Jesus said in five separate speeches, or "discourses." Many Christians think that Matthew expected his first readers to be Jewish people. However, Matthew also intended his Gospel to be read by all Christians.

How should the title of this book be translated?

Translators may choose to call this book by its traditional title, "The Gospel of Matthew," or "The Gospel According to Matthew." Or they may choose a different title, such as, "The Good News About Jesus that Matthew Wrote." (See: How to Translate Names)

Who wrote the book of Matthew?

The book does not give the name of the author. However, since early Christian times, most Christians have thought that the author was the Apostle Matthew. This man named Matthew was a tax collector who became one of Jesus' 12 closest disciples. In this book, Matthew appears in 9:9–10 and 10:3. (See: Matthew, Levi)

Part 2: Important Religious and Cultural Concepts

What does the phrase "the kingdom of the heavens" mean?

While the other Gospels frequently use the phrase "the kingdom of God," Matthew only uses that phrase four times (see 12:28; 19:24; 21:31; and 21:43). Instead, Matthew frequently uses the phrase "the kingdom of the heavens." There are two primary issues to consider when translating this phrase: (1) whether "of the heavens" means the same thing as "of God," and (2) what the word "kingdom" describes.

First (1), does "of the heavens" mean the same thing as "of God"? Some scholars think that Matthew chose to refer to God politely by using the phrase "the heavens," which would mean that "the kingdom of the heavens" is simply another way to say "the kingdom of God." However, since Matthew does use the phrase "the kingdom of God" occasionally, it is more likely that the phrase "the kingdom of the heavens" means something slightly different than "the kingdom of God." It probably refers to the place where the "kingdom" is already present: the heavens. The plural form "heavens" indicates that Matthew is referring to all of heavenly space. The UST expresses the idea of "of the heavens" with the adjective "heavenly."

Second (2), what does the word "kingdom" describe? In general, the word refers to a monarch ruling over a group of people in a specific area. In various contexts, the word can primarily emphasize the area, the people, or the ruling. However, the term usually refers to all three of these elements, even if one is emphasized more than the others. Consider how you might express the idea of "kingdom" in your language. Some translations emphasize the idea of ruling and express the idea with a clause like "God ruling as king" or "God's reign." Other translations emphasize the idea of the people who are ruled and express the idea with a clause like "belonging to God's people." However, both of these options do not fully express the idea of "kingdom." If you have a word or phrase that describes a situation in which a king rules over people in a specific area, you could use it here. Since that word in English is "kingdom," the ULT and UST both use "kingdom." (See: kingdom; heaven, sky, heavens, heavenly; and kingdom of God, kingdom of heaven)

What were "disciples" in Jesus' culture?

In both Jewish culture and in Greco-Roman culture, teachers had "disciples" who learned from them and were committed to them. Sometimes these disciples would go wherever their teacher went and imitate what the teacher did. Jesus' disciples similarly were committed to him and learned from him. Some of his closest disciples traveled and lived with Jesus, particularly those whom Matthew refers to as The Twelve. Other disciples would go to see Jesus and learn from him, but they did not always travel or live with him. Consider how you might refer to these kinds of relationships in your language. The ULT expresses the idea with the word "disciple," and the UST uses the word "apprentice." (See: disciple)

Why does Jesus refer to himself as the “Son of Man”?

In the Gospels, Jesus calls himself the “Son of Man.” This phrase can express two primary ideas:

1. It can refer to someone who is a human. This meaning for the phrase appears frequently in the book of Ezekiel (for example, see Ezekiel 2:1 or Ezekiel 47:6). So, Jesus uses the phrase to refer to himself in the third person while identifying himself as a human being.

2. It can refer more specifically to a specific person who appears in Daniel 7:13–14. This person approaches God, who gives him dominion and authority. So, when he uses the phrase, Jesus is identifying himself with this person. Scholars are not sure whether people in Jesus’ culture used the title “Son of Man” to refer to the Messiah. However, Jesus is probably using the title to implicitly claim a special role, perhaps that of the Messiah.

There are three primary issues to consider when translating the phrase “the Son of Man”:

1. When Jesus uses the phrase, he is referring to himself in the third person. If your readers would not understand this, you may need to express the idea in the first person. See the notes on the phrase “the Son of Man” throughout the book for ways to do this.

2. The phrase figuratively refers to someone who is human by identifying that person’s father as a “man.” If that figure of speech does not make sense in your language, you could refer to someone who is human in another way. Some translations use a phrase like “the human one” to express the idea.

3. The phrase refers to the specific figure from the book of Daniel. If you have a translation of the book of Daniel, you could translate the phrase as it is expressed there. If you do not have a translation of the book of Daniel, you could consider translating the phrase as a title that refers to a special person, implicitly the Messiah. You could make this clear by capitalizing the phrase (for example, “the Human One”) or by using a different form that indicates that this is a title (for example, “the one called Son of Man”).

A note related to translating the idea of "Son of Man" appears at its first occurrence. After that, if possible express the idea consistently throughout the rest of the book. Notes providing translation options for expressing the idea in first person instead of third person appear at every occurrence. (See: Son of Man, son of man)

Part 3: Important Translation Issues

What are the Synoptic Gospels?

The Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke are called the Synoptic Gospels because they have many similar passages. The word "synoptic" means to "see together."

The texts are considered "parallel" when they are the same or almost the same among two or three Gospels. The ULT represents these parallels by using the same words whenever the parallel passages are exactly the same. When the parallel passages are slightly different, the ULT represents the differences as much as possible by using different words. Make sure that your translation represents these similarities and differences as closely as possible.

What do "crowd" and "crowds" refer to in Matthew?

Matthew uses the words "crowd" and "crowds" about 50 times. In most cases, the words refer to the "crowds" that gather where Jesus is. Some of the people in these crowds were disciples. Others were curious about who Jesus was and what he taught. Others wanted Jesus to heal them or give them food. The difference between the singular "crowd" and the plural "crowds" is small. Most likely, the singular refers to all the people viewed together as one group, while the plural refers to multiple different groups of people. Consider how you might best refer to large groups of people who are gathered together for some specific purpose.

What does Matthew mean when he writes that a quotation from the Old Testament was "fulfilled"?

Matthew consistently indicates that things happen to "fulfill" passages from the Old Testament. He means that the event or situation he is describing somehow matches what the Old Testament passage or passages say. Sometimes the Old Testament passage includes a prediction that comes true during Jesus' life. Sometimes the Old Testament passage uses words or phrases that match the words or phrases Matthew uses to tell his story. Sometimes the Old Testament passage is completed or explained by something Jesus says or does. Consider how you might indicate that an event, situation, or spoken or written words fit with or match a passage from an important text. (See: fulfill, fulfilled, carried out)

When is "you" singular, and when is "you" plural?

As he is telling his story, Matthew uses both singular and plural forms of "you." These were distinct in his language, but in English both singular and plural are expressed with the word "you." So, in the introduction to each chapter, there is a section stating whether Matthew uses the singular or plural form of "you" more frequently in that chapter. Then, notes throughout the chapter will indicate whenever Matthew uses the less frequent form of "you." Look for this section in each chapter introduction if your language distinguishes between singular and plural forms of "you." (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

What are the major issues in the text of the book of Matthew?

Some versions of the Bible include some verses in Matthew that other versions do not include. This is because some ancient manuscripts include these verses. However, the best ancient manuscripts do not include them. Here are the verses:

- "Evening having come, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.' And in early morning, 'Today will be stormy, for the sky is red, being overcast.' You know to interpret the face of the sky, but the signs of the times you are not able" (16:2b–3).
- "But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting" (17:21).
- "For the Son of Man came to save the one that has been lost" (18:11).
- "But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour the houses of widows, also for a pretext praying at length. For this reason, you will receive greater judgment" (23:14).

It is recommended that you do not include these passages. However, if in your region, there are older versions of the Bible that include one or more of these passages, you may include them. If they are included, they should be put in footnotes or inside square brackets to indicate that they were probably not originally part of Matthew.

Further, there are at least two different versions of the parable of the two sons in 21:28–31. See the introduction to chapter 21 for more information.

Finally, in the following verses, ancient manuscripts do not all have the same words. The ULT uses the words that are found in most of the earliest manuscripts. When you translate these verses, you should compare the ULT with any translations with which your readers may be familiar to see what your readers may expect. Unless there is a good reason to use the alternate words, you should follow the ULT. See the footnotes and notes at each of these verses for more information. (See: Textual Variants)

- "say every evil thing against you, lying, because of me" (5:11). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "say every evil thing against you because of me."
- "everyone being angry with his brother will be subject to the judgment" (5:22). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "everyone being angry with his brother without cause will be subject to the judgment."
- "love your enemies and pray on behalf of the ones persecuting you" (5:44). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "love your enemies, bless the ones cursing you, do good to the ones hating you, and pray on behalf of the ones persecuting you."
- "the Gentiles" (5:47). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "the tax collectors."
- "will reward you" (6:4). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "will reward you in the open."
- "will reward you" (6:6). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "will reward you in the open."
- "but deliver us from the evil one" (6:13). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "but deliver us from the evil one. For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen."
- "the men" (6:15). Some ancient manuscripts have this: "men their trespasses."

- “will reward you” (6:18). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “will reward you in the open.”
- “what you might eat or what you might drink, nor about your body” (6:25). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “what you might eat, nor about your body.”
- “the kingdom” (6:33). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “the kingdom of God.”
- “For the gate {is} narrow and the road has been made narrow” (7:14). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “How narrow is the gate and having been made narrow the road.”
- “I have found such great faith from no one in Israel” (8:10). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “not even in Israel have I found such great faith.”
- “a crowd” (8:18). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “large crowds.”
- “Gadarenes” (8:28). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “Gergesenes.” Other manuscripts have this: “Gerasenes.”
- “they were afraid” (9:8). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “they marveled.”
- “Thaddaeus” (10:3). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “Lebbaeus, who was surnamed Thaddaeus.”
- “The one having ears to hear, let him hear” (11:15). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “The one having ears, let him hear.”
- “her children” (11:19). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “her works.”
- “And you, Capernaum, you will not be exalted to heaven, will you? You will be brought down as far as Hades” (11:23). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “And you, Capernaum, the one being exalted to heaven, will be brought down as far as Hades.”
- “Now someone said to him, ‘Behold, your mother and your brothers have stood outside, seeking to speak to you’” (12:47). Some ancient manuscripts do not include this verse. However, most modern translations do include it.

- “The one having ears, let him hear” (13:9). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “The one having ears to hear, let him hear.”
- “The one having ears, let him hear” (13:43). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “The one having ears to hear, let him hear.”
- “was already in the middle of the sea” (14:24). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “was already many stadia away from the land.”
- “God commanded, saying” (15:4). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “God said.”
- “the word of God” (15:6). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “the commandment of God.” Other manuscripts have this: “the law of God.”
- “They are blind guides” (15:14). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “They are blind guides of the blind.”
- “Magadan” (15:39). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “Magdala.”
- “I will make” (17:4). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “let us make.”
- “your Father” (18:14). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “my Father.”
- “your brother sins against you” (18:15). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “your brother sins.”
- “commits adultery; and the one having married one that has been divorced commits adultery” (19:9). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “commits adultery.”
- “or a mother, or a wife, or children” (19:29). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “or a mother, or children.”
- “and the first last” (20:16). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “and the first last. For many are called, but few are chosen.”
- “to drink the cup that I am about to drink” (20:22). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “to drink the cup that I am about to drink or to be baptized with the baptism with which I am being baptized.”

- “My cup you will drink” (20:23). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “My cup you will drink, and you will be baptized with the baptism with which I am being baptized.”
- “And the one having fallen on this stone will be broken to pieces, but on whomever it falls, it will crush him” (21:44). Some ancient manuscripts do not include this verse. However, most modern translations do include it.
- “famines and earthquakes” (24:7). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “famines and plagues and earthquakes.”
- “neither the angels of the heavens, nor the Son, except the Father only” (24:36). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “neither the angels of the heavens, except the Father only.”
- “you do not know the day nor the hour” (25:13). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “you do not know the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man comes.”
- “this is my blood of the covenant” (26:28). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “this is my blood of the new covenant”
- “named Barabbas” (27:16). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “named Jesus Barabbas”
- “Barabbas” (27:17). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “Jesus Barabbas”
- “the blood of this one” (27:24). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “the blood of this righteous one.”
- “casting a lot” (27:35). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “casting a lot, so that what was spoken through the prophet might be fulfilled, ‘They divided my robes for themselves, and they cast a lot for my clothing.’”
- “And behold, Jesus met them” (28:9). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “And behold, as they were going to report to his disciples, Jesus met them.”
- “until the end of the age’” (28:20). Some ancient manuscripts have this: “until the end of the age.’ Amen.”

Matthew 1

Matthew 1 Chapter Notes

Structure and Formatting

1. The birth of Jesus Christ and the beginning of his ministry (1:1–4:25)
    - The genealogy of Jesus (1:1–17)
    - Jesus' parents and birth (1:18–25)

Some translations set a quotation from the Old Testament farther to the right on the page than the rest of the text. The ULT does this in 1:23 with the quote from Isaiah 7:14.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Genealogy

A genealogy is a list that records a person's ancestors or descendants. Genealogies were important to the Jewish people because family lineage is how they decided how someone functioned in society. For instance, if someone was a descendant of Aaron, they were able to become priests. Similarly, if someone was a descendant of King David, they were able to become a king. This genealogy shows that Jesus was clearly a descendant of King David, and therefore, was able to become king.

The word "fathered"

When Matthew uses the word "fathered," he only means that the older man was an ancestor of the younger man. In most cases, the older man is the direct father of the younger man. However, sometimes the older man is a grandfather (for example, Josiah is the grandfather of Jechoniah) or a more distant ancestor (for example, Joram is the great-great-grandfather of Ozias). If possible, use a word that indicates that the older man is the ancestor of the younger man without stating that the older man is the father of the younger man. If you need to be more specific, the UST provides one way to do so.

Three groups of 14

Matthew concludes the genealogy by dividing it up into three groups of 14 generations. He divides the groups by using two key events in Israel's history: David starting his dynasty and the Babylonians capturing Jerusalem. In order to count 14 generations from Abraham until David, both Abraham and David need to be included. To count 14 generations from David until the Babylonian deportation, David needs to be excluded but Jechoniah needs to be included. To count 14 generations from the Babylonian deportation until the Christ, both Jechoniah and Christ need to be included. The ULT and UST divide the section into paragraphs based on the divisions. Consider how you might show these divisions in your translation.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Singular and plural forms of "you"

All of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in instructions that an angel gives to Joseph. Because of that, all forms of "you" in this chapter are singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Stating that Mary became pregnant

In 1:18, 1:20, and 1:23, Matthew refers to a woman becoming pregnant, but he excludes the involvement of a man in the process. He uses the phrases "to have in the womb" and "having been conceived in her" to avoid referring to the male role in conception. In your translation, you should not identify the Holy Spirit as the one who performed the normal male role, since the Holy Spirit did not have sex with Mary. Instead, the Holy Spirit performed a miracle. So, use a form that does not refer to the male role in conception or a form that denies that a man was involved.

Translating names

In the genealogy, Matthew uses specific Greek spellings of names. These spellings do not always match the Hebrew spellings of the names that you can read in the Old Testament. The ULT and UST spell out how these names sound as Matthew wrote them in Greek. In contrast, some translations spell out these names as they appear in the Old Testament. Consider spelling these names as do other translations that your readers might be familiar with. Otherwise, consider whether your team wishes to spell names in the same way throughout the Bible or whether you will spell them differently in different places. If you do spell them differently in different places, you may need to include footnotes that provide other spellings.

Matthew 1:1

ULT	UST
The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, son of David, son of Abraham:	This is a record of the ancestors of Jesus the Messiah. He is a descendant of {King} David, who was a descendant of Abraham{, the ancestor of all Jewish people}.

> ULT The book of the genealogy
> UST This is a record of the ancestors
> (βίβλος γενέσεως)

The phrase book of the genealogy could refer to: (1) just the list of Jesus' ancestors that follows in 1:2–17. Alternate translation: [The book of the ancestry]; (2) the list of Jesus' ancestors as well as information about his birth and childhood (see 1:2–2:23). Alternate translation: [The book of the ancestors and birth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ
> UST This is a record of the ancestors of Jesus the Messiah
> (βίβλος γενέσεως Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ)

Matthew is using the possessive form to describe a book that contains the genealogy that lists the ancestors of Jesus Christ. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The book that contains the genealogy concerning Jesus Christ]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT The book
> UST This is a record
> (βίβλος)

Here, book represents a written record. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The written record] or [The list]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT son of David, son of Abraham
UST He is a descendant of {King} David, who was a descendant of Abraham{, the ancestor of all Jewish people}
(υἱοῦ Δαυεὶδ, υἱοῦ Ἀβραάμ)

Matthew is speaking of a male descendant as if he were a son. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who is descended from David, who is descended from Abraham]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT son of Abraham
UST who was a descendant of Abraham{, the ancestor of all Jewish people}
(υἱοῦ Ἀβραάμ)

Matthew could mean: (1) that David is a son of Abraham. Alternate translation: [who was a son of Abraham]; (2) that Jesus is a son of Abraham. Alternate translation: [and also son of Abraham]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Jesus	of Jesus
Christ	the Messiah
of David	of {King} David
of Abraham	of Abraham{, the ancestor of all Jewish people}

Matthew 1:2

ULT	UST
Abraham fathered Isaac, and Isaac fathered Jacob, and Jacob fathered Judah and his brothers,	Abraham was the father of Isaac. Isaac was the father of Jacob. Jacob was the father of Judah and Judah's {older and younger} brothers.

ULT Abraham fathered Isaac, and Isaac fathered Jacob, and Jacob fathered Judah and his brothers

UST Abraham was the father of Isaac. Isaac was the father of Jacob. Jacob was the father of Judah and Judah's {older and younger} brothers

(Ἀβραὰμ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰσαάκ, Ἰσαὰκ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰακώβ, Ἰακὼβ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰούδαν καὶ τοὺς ἀδελφοὺς αὐτοῦ)

Matthew begins a list of Jesus' ancestors. Consider how people normally list ancestors in your language. Use the same wording throughout the whole list (1:2–16). Possible formats are: (1) [Abraham's son was Isaac, and Isaac's son was Jacob, and Jacob's sons were Judah and his brothers]; (2) [Isaac's father was Abraham, and Jacob's father was Isaac, and Judah's father was Jacob]; (3) [Abraham fathered Isaac, who fathered Jacob, who fathered Judah and his brothers]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Abraham … Isaac … Isaac … Jacob … Jacob … Judah

UST Abraham … Isaac. Isaac … Jacob. Jacob … Judah

(Ἀβραὰμ & τὸν Ἰσαάκ, Ἰσαὰκ & τὸν Ἰακώβ, Ἰακὼβ & τὸν Ἰούδαν)

Unless a note specifies otherwise, all the names in the list of ancestors (1:2–16) are names of men.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT his brothers

UST Judah's {older and younger} brothers

(τοὺς ἀδελφοὺς αὐτοῦ)

Judah had 11 brothers, and some of them were older and some of them were younger. Make sure this is clear if your language marks these distinctions.

Support Reference: Kinship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Abraham	Abraham

ULT	UST
Isaac	Isaac
Isaac	Isaac
Jacob	Jacob
Jacob	Jacob
Judah	Judah

Matthew 1:3

ULT	UST
and Judah fathered Perez and Zerah by Tamar, and Perez fathered Hezrom, and Hezrom fathered Aram,	Judah was the father of Perez and Zerah. Their mother was Tamar. Perez was the father of Hezrom. Hezrom was the father of Aram.

ULT and Judah fathered Perez and Zerah by Tamar, and Perez fathered Hezrom, and Hezrom fathered Aram

UST Judah was the father of Perez and Zerah. Their mother was Tamar. Perez was the father of Hezrom. Hezrom was the father of Aram

(Ἰούδας δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Φαρὲς καὶ τὸν Ζάρα ἐκ τῆς Θαμάρ, Φαρὲς δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἑσρώμ, Ἑσρὼμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀράμ)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verse.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT by Tamar

UST Their mother was Tamar

(ἐκ τῆς Θαμάρ)

The word Tamar is the name of a woman. She was the daughter-in-law of Judah.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Hezrom … Hezrom … Aram

UST Hezrom. Hezrom … Aram

(τὸν Ἑσρώμ, Ἑσρὼμ & τὸν Ἀράμ)

Many translations spell Hezrom as "Hezron" and Aram as "Ram." Consider how translations with which your readers might be familiar spell these names. Alternate translation: [Hezron … Hezron … Ram]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Judah	Judah
Tamar	Tamar

Matthew 1:4

ULT	UST
and Aram fathered Amminadab, and Amminadab fathered Nahshon, and Nahshon fathered Salmon,	Aram was the father of Amminadab. Amminadab was the father of Nahshon. Nahshon was the father of Salmon.

ULT and Aram fathered Amminadab, and Amminadab fathered Nahshon, and Nahshon fathered Salmon

UST Aram was the father of Amminadab. Amminadab was the father of Nahshon. Nahshon was the father of Salmon

(Ἀρὰμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀμιναδάβ, Ἀμιναδὰβ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ναασσών, Ναασσὼν δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Σαλμών)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Aram

UST Aram

(Ἀρὰμ)

Many translations spell Aram as "Ram." Consider how translations with which your readers might be familiar spell this name. Alternate translation: [Ram]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

Matthew 1:5

ULT	UST
and Salmon fathered Boaz by Rahab, and Boaz fathered Obed by Ruth, and Obed fathered Jesse,	Salmon was the father of Boaz. Boaz's mother was Rahab. Boaz was the father of Obed. Obed's mother was Ruth. Obed was the father of Jesse.

ULT and Salmon fathered Boaz by Rahab, and Boaz fathered Obed by Ruth, and Obed fathered Jesse

UST Salmon was the father of Boaz. Boaz's mother was Rahab. Boaz was the father of Obed. Obed's mother was Ruth. Obed was the father of Jesse

(Σαλμὼν δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Βόες ἐκ τῆς Ῥαχάβ, Βόες δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰωβὴδ ἐκ τῆς Ῥούθ, Ἰωβὴδ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰεσσαί)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Rahab … Ruth

UST Rahab … Ruth

(τῆς Ῥαχάβ & τῆς Ῥούθ)

The words Rahab and Ruth are the names of women. Rahab protected Israelite spies when the Israelites were about to conquer the land that God had promised to give them. Ruth was from Moab but believed in God and traveled to Israel with her mother-in-law, Naomi.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Boaz	Boaz
Rahab	Rahab
Boaz	Boaz
Ruth	Ruth
Jesse	Jesse

Matthew 1:6

ULT	UST
and Jesse fathered David the king, and David fathered Solomon by the {wife} of Uriah,	Jesse was the father of King David. David was the father of Solomon. Solomon's mother was {Bathsheba, who had been} Uriah's wife.

ULT and Jesse fathered David the king, and David fathered Solomon by the {wife} of Uriah
UST Jesse was the father of King David. David was the father of Solomon. Solomon's mother was {Bathsheba, who had been} Uriah's wife (Ἰεσσαὶ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Δαυεὶδ τὸν βασιλέα. Δαυεὶδ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Σολομῶνα ἐκ τῆς τοῦ Οὐρίου)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT by the {wife} of Uriah
UST Solomon's mother was {Bathsheba, who had been} Uriah's wife
(ἐκ τῆς τοῦ Οὐρίου)

Uriah was one of the leaders of the Israelite army, a leader whom David trusted. However, David saw Uriah's wife, named Bathsheba, and wanted her for himself. He had Uriah killed and took Uriah's wife for himself. You can read about this story in 2 Samual 11:1–27. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include some extra information if your readers would not know this story. Alternate translation: [by Bathsheba the wife of Uriah, whom he had killed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesse	Jesse
David	David
king	King
David	David
Solomon	Solomon
of Uriah	Uriah's

Matthew 1:7

ULT	UST
and Solomon fathered Rehoboam, and Rehoboam fathered Abijah, and Abijah fathered Asaph,	Solomon was the father of Rehoboam. Rehoboam was the father of Abijah. Abijah was the father of Asaph.

ULT and Solomon fathered Rehoboam, and Rehoboam fathered Abijah, and Abijah fathered Asaph

UST Solomon was the father of Rehoboam. Rehoboam was the father of Abijah. Abijah was the father of Asaph

(Σολομὼν δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ῥοβοάμ, Ῥοβοὰμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀβιά, Ἀβιὰ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀσάφ)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Asaph

UST Asaph

(τὸν Ἀσάφ)

Many translations spell Asaph as "Asa." Consider how translations with which your readers might be familiar spell this name. Alternate translation: [Asa]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Solomon	Solomon
Rehoboam	Rehoboam
Rehoboam	Rehoboam
Abijah	Abijah
Abijah	Abijah
Asaph	Asaph

Matthew 1:8

ULT	UST
and Asaph fathered Jehoshaphat, and Jehoshaphat fathered Joram, and Joram fathered Ozias,	Asaph was the father of Jehoshaphat. Jehoshaphat was the father of Joram. Joram was an ancestor of Ozias.

ULT and Joram fathered Ozias … and Ozias fathered Jotham
UST Joram was an ancestor of Ozias … Ozias was the father of Jotham
(Ἰωρὰμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ὀζείαν, Ὀζείας δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰωαθάμ) (1:8-9)

In these two verses, Matthew lists Joram, Ozias, and Jotham. In the list of kings in 1 Chronicles 3, however, there are four names between Joram and Jotham (see 1 Chronicles 3:11–12), not one. So, Matthew has not mentioned three of these kings, and the word translated as fathered only requires the older person to be an ancestor of the younger person, who could be a son, grandson, great-grandson, or even great-great-grandson. It is unclear exactly where in the list Matthew leaves out the three kings. He could be using the name Ozias: (1) to refer to the king that 1 Chronicles names "Azariah." In this case, Ozias is the great-great-grandson of Joram and the father of Jotham. Alternate translation: [and Joram was the great-great-grandfather of Ozias, and Ozias fathered Jotham]; (2) to refer to the king that 1 Chronicles names "Ahaziah." In this case, Ozias is the son of Joram and the great-great-grandfather of Jotham. Alternate translation: [and Joram fathered Ozias, and Ozias was the great-great-grandfather of Jotham]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and Asaph fathered Jehoshaphat, and Jehoshaphat fathered Joram, and Joram fathered Ozias
UST Asaph was the father of Jehoshaphat. Jehoshaphat was the father of Joram. Joram was an ancestor of Ozias (Ἀσὰφ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰωσαφάτ, Ἰωσαφὰτ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰωράμ, Ἰωρὰμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ὀζείαν)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Asaph … Ozias
UST Asaph … Ozias
(Ἀσὰφ & τὸν Ὀζείαν)

Many translations spell Asaph as “Asa” and Ozias as “Uzziah.” Consider how translations with which your readers might be familiar spell these names. Alternate translation: [Asa … Uzziah]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Asaph	Asaph
Jehoshaphat	Jehoshaphat
Jehoshaphat	Jehoshaphat
Joram	Joram
Joram	Joram
Ozias	Ozias

Matthew 1:9

ULT	UST
and Ozias fathered Jotham, and Jotham fathered Ahaz, and Ahaz fathered Hezekiah,	Ozias was the father of Jotham. Jotham was the father of Ahaz. Ahaz was the father of Hezekiah.

ULT and Ozias fathered Jotham, and Jotham fathered Ahaz, and Ahaz fathered Hezekiah
UST Ozias was the father of Jotham. Jotham was the father of Ahaz. Ahaz was the father of Hezekiah (Ὀζείας δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰωαθάμ, Ἰωαθὰμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀχάζ, Ἀχὰζ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἐζεκίαν)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Ozias
UST Ozias
(Ὀζείας)

Many translations spell Ozias as "Uzziah." Consider how translations with which your readers might be familiar spell this name. Alternate translation: [Uzziah]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Ozias	Ozias
Jotham	Jotham
Jotham	Jotham
Ahaz	Ahaz
Ahaz	Ahaz
Hezekiah	Hezekiah

Matthew 1:10

ULT	UST
and Hezekiah fathered Manasseh, and Manasseh fathered Amos, and Amos fathered Josiah,	Hezekiah was the father of Manasseh. Manasseh was the father of Amos. Amos was the father of Josiah.

ULT and Hezekiah fathered Manasseh, and Manasseh fathered Amos, and Amos fathered Josiah

UST Hezekiah was the father of Manasseh. Manasseh was the father of Amos. Amos was the father of Josiah

(Ἐζεκίας δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Μανασσῆ, Μανασσῆς δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀμώς, Ἀμὼς δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰωσίαν)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Amos … Amos

UST Amos. Amos

(τὸν Ἀμώς, Ἀμὼς)

Many translations spell Amos as "Amon." Consider how translations with which your readers might be familiar spell this name. Alternate translation: [Amon … Amon]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Hezekiah	Hezekiah
Manasseh	Manasseh
Manasseh	Manasseh
Josiah	Josiah

Matthew 1:11

ULT	UST
and Josiah fathered Jechoniah and his brothers at the Babylonian deportation,	Josiah was the grandfather of Jechoniah and Jechoniah's brothers. {They lived} at the time when {the Babylonian army took the Israelites as} captives to the country of Babylon.

ULT and Josiah fathered Jechoniah and his brothers
UST Josiah was the grandfather of Jechoniah and Jechoniah's brothers
(Ἰωσίας δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰεχονίαν καὶ τοὺς ἀδελφοὺς αὐτοῦ)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Josiah fathered Jechoniah
UST Josiah was the grandfather of Jechoniah
(Ἰωσίας & ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰεχονίαν)

In 1 Chronicles 3:15–16, Josiah is listed as the father of Jehoiakim, who is the father of Jechoniah. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that Josiah was the grandfather of Jechoniah. Alternate translation: [Josiah fathered the father of Jechoniah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT his brothers
UST Jechoniah's brothers
(τοὺς ἀδελφοὺς αὐτοῦ)

If you must specify whether these brothers were older or younger, it is more likely that they were younger brothers. Alternate translation: [his younger brothers]

Support Reference: Kinship

> ULT at the Babylonian deportation
> UST {They lived} at the time when {the Babylonian army took the Israelites as} captives to the country of Babylon
> (ἐπὶ τῆς μετοικεσίας Βαβυλῶνος)

Matthew refers to how the Babylonians conquered Jerusalem and took most of the people away to the country of Babylon. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when the Babylonians captured Jerusalem and took many people away]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Josiah	Josiah
Babylonian	to the country of Babylon

Matthew 1:12

ULT	UST
and after the Babylonian deportation, Jechoniah fathered Salathiel, and Salathiel fathered Zerubbabel,	After {the Babylonian army took the Israelites as} captives to the country of Babylon, Jechoniah became the father of Salathiel. Salathiel was the father of Zerubbabel.

ULT after the Babylonian deportation
UST After {the Babylonian army took the Israelites as} captives to the country of Babylon
(μετὰ & τὴν μετοικεσίαν Βαβυλῶνος)

Matthew refers to the same event that he referred to in 1:11. Express the idea in the same way you did there. Alternate translation: [after the Babylonians captured Jerusalem and took many people away]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Jechoniah fathered Salathiel, and Salathiel fathered Zerubbabel
UST Jechoniah became the father of Salathiel. Salathiel was the father of Zerubbabel (Ἰεχονίας ἐγέννησεν τὸν Σαλαθιήλ, Σαλαθιὴλ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ζοροβαβέλ)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Salathiel … Salathiel
UST Salathiel. Salathiel
(τὸν Σαλαθιήλ, Σαλαθιὴλ)

Many translations spell Salathiel as "Shealtiel." Consider how translations with which your readers might be familiar spell this name. Alternate translation: [Shealtiel … Shealtiel]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT Salathiel fathered Zerubbabel
> UST Salathiel was the father of Zerubbabel
> (Σαλαθιὴλ & ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ζοροβαβέλ)

In 1 Chronicles 3:19, a brother of Salathiel named Pedaiah is listed as the father of Zerubbabel. However, early Greek translations of 1 Chronicles 3:19 list Salathiel as the father of Zerubabbel. Matthew most likely used a source like these early Greek translations, so he probably intended his readers to think of Salathiel as the father of Zerubbabel and not as his uncle. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include some of this information in a footnote.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Babylonian	to the country of Babylon
Zerubbabel	Zerubbabel

Matthew 1:13

ULT	UST
and Zerubbabel fathered Abiud, and Abiud fathered Eliakim, and Eliakim fathered Azor,	Zerubbabel was the father of Abiud. Abiud was the father of Eliakim. Eliakim was the father of Azor.

ULT and Zerubbabel fathered Abiud, and Abiud fathered Eliakim, and Eliakim fathered Azor

UST Zerubbabel was the father of Abiud. Abiud was the father of Eliakim. Eliakim was the father of Azor

(Ζοροβαβὲλ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀβιούδ, Ἀβιοὺδ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἐλιακείμ, Ἐλιακεὶμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἄζώρ)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Zerubbabel	Zerubbabel
Eliakim	Eliakim
Eliakim	Eliakim

Matthew 1:14

ULT	UST
and Azor fathered Zadok, and Zadok fathered Achim, and Achim fathered Eliud,	Azor was the father of Zadok. Zadok was the father of Achim. Achim was the father of Eliud.

ULT and Azor fathered Zadok, and Zadok fathered Achim, and Achim fathered Eliud
UST Azor was the father of Zadok. Zadok was the father of Achim. Achim was the father of Eliud (Ἀζὼρ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Σαδώκ, Σαδὼκ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἀχείμ, Ἀχεὶμ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἐλιούδ)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Zadok	Zadok
Zadok	Zadok

Matthew 1:15

ULT	UST
and Eliud fathered Eleazar, and Eleazar fathered Matthan, and Matthan fathered Jacob,	Eliud was the father of Eleazar. Eleazar was the father of Matthan. Matthan was the father of Jacob.

ULT and Eliud fathered Eleazar, and Eleazar fathered Matthan, and Matthan fathered Jacob

UST Eliud was the father of Eleazar. Eleazar was the father of Matthan. Matthan was the father of Jacob

(Ἐλιοὺδ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἐλεάζαρ, Ἐλεάζαρ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Μαθθάν, Μαθθὰν δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰακώβ)

This is a continuation of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Eleazar	Eleazar
Eleazar	Eleazar
Jacob	Jacob

Matthew 1:16

ULT	UST
and Jacob fathered Joseph the husband of Mary, by whom Jesus was born, the one called Christ.	Jacob was the father of Joseph. Joseph was Mary's husband. Mary was the mother of Jesus. Jesus is the one whom we call the Messiah.

> ULT and Jacob fathered Joseph the husband of Mary
> UST Jacob was the father of Joseph. Joseph was Mary's husband > (Ἰακὼβ δὲ ἐγέννησεν τὸν Ἰωσὴφ τὸν ἄνδρα Μαρίας)

This is the end of the list of Jesus' ancestors that began in 1:2. Use the same format as you used in the previous verses.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT of Mary
> UST Mary's
> (Μαρίας)

The word Mary is the name of a woman.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT by whom Jesus was born
> UST Mary was the mother of Jesus
> (ἐξ ἧς ἐγεννήθη Ἰησοῦς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [who gave birth to Jesus]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the one called Christ
> UST Jesus is the one whom we call the Messiah
> (ὁ λεγόμενος Χριστός)

Here, the phrase the one called Christ distinguishes this Jesus from any other people named Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that distinguishes between this Jesus and any other people with that name. Alternate translation: [the Jesus called Christ] or [specifically, the one who is called Christ]

Support Reference: Distinguishing Versus Informing or Reminding

> ULT the one called Christ
> UST Jesus is the one whom we call the Messiah
> (ὁ λεγόμενος Χριστός)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [whom people call Christ]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jacob	Jacob
Joseph	Joseph
of Mary	Mary’s
Jesus	Jesus
called	we call
Christ	the Messiah

Matthew 1:17

ULT	UST
Therefore, all the generations from Abraham until David {were} 14 generations, and from David until the Babylonian deportation {were} 14 generations, and from the Babylonian deportation until the Christ {were} 14 generations.	So then, there are 14 ancestors when we count from Abraham to David. There are 14 ancestors when we count from David until when {the Babylonian army took the Israelites as} captives to the country of Babylon. There are 14 ancestors when we count from that time to the Messiah.

ULT from Abraham until David {were} 14 generations, and from David until the Babylonian deportation {were} 14 generations, and from the Babylonian deportation until the Christ {were} 14 generations

UST 14 ancestors when we count from Abraham to David. There are 14 ancestors when we count from David until when {the Babylonian army took the Israelites as} captives to the country of Babylon. There are 14 ancestors when we count from that time to the Messiah

(ἀπὸ Ἀβραὰμ ἕως Δαυεὶδ γενεαὶ δεκατέσσαρες, καὶ ἀπὸ Δαυεὶδ ἕως τῆς μετοικεσίας Βαβυλῶνος γενεαὶ δεκατέσσαρες, καὶ ἀπὸ τῆς μετοικεσίας Βαβυλῶνος ἕως τοῦ Χριστοῦ γενεαὶ δεκατέσσαρες)

In order to count 14 generations from Abraham until David, both Abraham and David need to be included. To count 14 generations from David until the Babylonian deportation, David needs to be excluded but Jechoniah needs to be included. To count 14 generations from the Babylonian deportation until the Christ, both Jechoniah and Jesus need to be included. Consider how you might express the calculations so that they match with the list. Alternate translation: [from Abraham up to and including David were 14 generations, and after David and until the Babylonian deportation were 14 generations, and starting with the Babylonian deportation and counting up to and including the Christ were 14 generations]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the Babylonian deportation … the Babylonian deportation

UST when {the Babylonian army took the Israelites as} captives to the country of Babylon … that time

(τῆς μετοικεσίας Βαβυλῶνος)

Matthew refers to the same event that he referred to in 1:11–12. Express the idea in the same way you did in those verses. Alternate translation: [the Babylonians captured Jerusalem and took many people away … when that happened]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
generations	there are
Abraham	Abraham
David	David
were … generations	ancestors
David	David
Babylonian	to the country of Babylon
were	ancestors
Babylonian	that time
Christ	the Messiah
were … generations	ancestors

Matthew 1:18

ULT	UST
Now the birth of Jesus Christ was thus: His mother, Mary, having been engaged to marry Joseph, before they came together, was found having in the womb from the Holy Spirit.	{I will tell you} what happened when the mother of Jesus the Messiah gave birth to him. His mother Mary was about to marry {a man named} Joseph, and they had not yet had sex. Despite that, Joseph discovered that Mary was pregnant with a baby (whom the Holy Spirit had given to her).

ULT Now the birth of Jesus Christ was thus
UST {I will tell you} what happened when the mother of Jesus the Messiah gave birth to him
(τοῦ δὲ Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ ἡ γένεσις οὕτως ἦν)

Here, the word Now introduces a new section in this book that focuses on the birth of Jesus Christ. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a new section, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [As for the birth of Jesus Christ, it happened thus]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having been engaged to marry Joseph
UST was about to marry {a man named} Joseph (μνηστευθείσης & τῷ Ἰωσήφ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was her parents. Alternate translation: [whose parents promised her to Joseph, that she would marry him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT before they came together
UST and they had not yet had sex
(πρὶν ἢ συνελθεῖν αὐτοὺς)

Matthew is referring in a polite way to having sex by using the phrase came together. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [before they consummated the marriage] or [before they had sex]

Support Reference: Euphemism

ULT was found having in the womb
UST Despite that, Joseph discovered that Mary was pregnant with a baby (εὑρέθη ἐν γαστρὶ ἔχουσα)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [was having in the womb] or [realized that she was having in the womb]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT having in the womb
UST that Mary was pregnant with a baby
(ἐν γαστρὶ ἔχουσα)

Here, the phrase having in the womb refers to being pregnant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to be with child] or [to be pregnant]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT from the Holy Spirit
UST the Holy Spirit had given to her (ἐκ Πνεύματος Ἁγίου)

The phrase from the Holy Spirit indicates that Mary did not become pregnant in the usual way, that is, by having sex with a man. Rather, she became pregnant because the Holy Spirit caused her to be pregnant. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [by the power of the Holy Spirit] or [because of the Holy Spirit's work]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Jesus	of Jesus
Christ	the Messiah
Mary	Mary
Joseph	{a man named} Joseph
the womb	that Mary was pregnant with a baby
the Holy Spirit	Holy Spirit

Matthew 1:19

ULT	UST
Now Joseph her husband, being righteous, and not wanting to publicly disgrace her, intended to divorce her secretly.	Joseph, who was about to marry her, {thought that Mary had sex with another man.} Joseph usually did what was right, and he also did not want to shame Mary. So, he decided to say in private that he would not marry her.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Joseph her husband
UST Joseph, who was about to marry her, {thought that Mary had sex with another man … }
(Ἰωσὴφ & ὁ ἀνὴρ αὐτῆς)

Matthew implies that Joseph did not know that the baby came from the Holy Spirit. Joseph thought that Mary had become pregnant after having sex with another man, which is why he wanted to divorce her. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that Joseph did not know that the Holy Spirit had caused Mary to be pregnant. Alternate translation: [Joseph her husband thought that she had been unfaithful, so]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT her husband … to divorce her
UST who was about to marry her, {thought that Mary had sex with another man … } … to say … that he would not marry her
(ὁ ἀνὴρ αὐτῆς & ἀπολῦσαι αὐτήν)

As the previous verse shows (see 1:18), Mary and Joseph were not yet married. In their culture, however, being “engaged” was a promise to marry, so Matthew can refer to Joseph as Mary’s husband. He can also refer to breaking the engagement as divorce. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that Matthew is referring to an engaged man breaking the engagement. Alternate translation: [her fiancé … to break the engagement with her]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Joseph	Joseph
righteous	Joseph usually did what was right

Matthew 1:20

ULT	UST
But he having reflected on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him by way of a dream, saying, "Joseph, son of David, you should not fear to take Mary as your wife, because the one having been conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit.	While Joseph was deciding what to do, he saw an angel from the Lord while he was sleeping! The angel said to him, "Joseph, King David's descendant, do not be reluctant to marry Mary. {I say that} because it was the Holy Spirit who caused her to become pregnant.

ULT he having reflected on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared
UST While Joseph was deciding what to do … saw an angel from the Lord
(ταῦτα & αὐτοῦ ἐνθυμηθέντος, ἰδοὺ, ἄγγελος Κυρίου & ἐφάνη)

The angel appeared to Joseph while he was deciding to divorce Mary. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this relationship more explicit. Alternate translation: [during the time when Joseph was reflecting on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared]

Support Reference: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [hear this] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT saying
UST The angel said to him
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT son of David
UST King David's descendant
(υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

Here, Matthew is speaking of a male descendant as if he were a son. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who is descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you should not fear to take Mary as your wife, because the one having been conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit
UST do not be reluctant to marry Mary. {I say that} because it was the Holy Spirit who caused her to become pregnant
(μὴ φοβηθῇς παραλαβεῖν Μαρίαν τὴν γυναῖκά σου; τὸ γὰρ ἐν αὐτῇ γεννηθὲν ἐκ Πνεύματός ἐστιν Ἁγίου)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the command in the first clauses. Alternate translation: [the one having been conceived in Mary is from the Holy Spirit, so you should not fear to take her as your wife]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the one having been conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit
UST it was the Holy Spirit who caused her to become pregnant
(τὸ & ἐν αὐτῇ γεννηθὲν ἐκ Πνεύματός ἐστιν Ἁγίου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the Holy Spirit is the one who caused her to conceive her child]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
an angel	an angel
of the Lord	from the Lord
a dream	while he was sleeping
Joseph	Joseph
of David	King David's
you should … fear	do … be reluctant
Mary	Mary
having been conceived	her to become pregnant

ULT	UST
the … Spirit	it was the Holy Spirit who caused

Matthew 1:21

ULT	UST
And she will bear a son, and you will call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins."	She will have a male child. You should name him 'Jesus,' {which means 'the Lord rescues'}. {You should name him that} because he will rescue his people from the sins that they have committed."

ULT and you will call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins
UST You should name him 'Jesus,' {which means 'the Lord rescues'}. {You should name him that} because he will rescue his people from the sins that they have committed (καὶ καλέσεις τὸ ὄνομα αὐτοῦ Ἰησοῦν; αὐτὸς γὰρ σώσει τὸν λαὸν αὐτοῦ ἀπὸ τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν αὐτῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the command that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [and because he will save his people from their sins, you will call his name Jesus]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you will call
UST You should name him
(καλέσεις)

Here the angel gives a command using the future tense. If your language does not use the future tense for commands, you could use a form that your language uses to express commands. Alternate translation: [you must call] or [you are to call]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins
UST Jesus,' {which means 'the Lord rescues'}. {You should name him that} because he will rescue his people from the sins that they have committed (Ἰησοῦν; αὐτὸς γὰρ σώσει τὸν λαὸν αὐτοῦ ἀπὸ τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν αὐτῶν)

The name Jesus means "the Lord saves" in Hebrew. The angel is explaining that Jesus should have this name because he will save his people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could explain what Jesus' name means or include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [Jesus, for, as his name indicates, he will save his people from their sins] or [Jesus, that is, "the Lord saves," since he will save his people from their sins]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT his people
> UST his people
> (τὸν λαὸν αὐτοῦ)

Here, the phrase his people refers most directly to Jewish people, but it also includes anyone who believes in Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that identifies a group of people who belong to or are connected with Jesus. Alternate translation: [his own people] or [the people who belong to him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
she will bear	She will have
you will call	You should name him
Jesus	Jesus,' {which means 'the Lord rescues … } will save	will rescue
sins	the sins
his people	his people

Matthew 1:22

ULT	UST
Now all this happened so that might be fulfilled {what} was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,	When all those things happened, what the Lord said by speaking through the prophet {Isaiah} came true. {Isaiah} said,

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces Matthew's comment on what he has narrated so far. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a comment from the narrator, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [I note that] or [As a matter of fact,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT all this happened
UST all those things happened
(τοῦτο & ὅλον γέγονεν)

The pronoun this refers to what Matthew has said about Mary becoming pregnant before she and Joseph were married (see 1:18–21). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer more directly to these events. Alternate translation: [Jesus was born in that way] or [what I have told you happened]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT might be fulfilled
UST came true
(πληρωθῇ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [it might fulfill]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT {what} was spoken by the Lord
UST what the Lord said
(τὸ ῥηθὲν ὑπὸ Κυρίου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [what the Lord spoke]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the prophet
UST the prophet {Isaiah}
(τοῦ προφήτου)

The prophet to whom Matthew refers is Isaiah. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Isaiah the prophet]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST {Isaiah} said
(λέγοντος)

In Matthew's culture, saying was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Isaiah the prophet (see Isaiah 7:14). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in the book of Isaiah] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
might be fulfilled	came true
the Lord	the Lord
prophet	the prophet {Isaiah}

Matthew 1:23

ULT	UST
“Behold, the virgin will have in her womb and bear a son, and they will call his name Immanuel”—which is translated, “God with us.”	“A young woman who has never had sex will become pregnant! She will give birth to a male child. People will name him ‘Immanuel.’” The name Immanuel means, “God is with us.”

ULT Behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word Behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience’s attention in another way. Alternate translation: [I tell you] or [Listen to me:]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the virgin
UST A young who has never had sex
(ἡ παρθένος)

Although the word translated as virgin occasionally refers to any young woman, whether she has had sex or not, the word normally refers to a young woman who has not had sex. This is what Matthew means here, so you should use a word or phrase that refers to a woman who is old enough to get married but who has not yet had sex. Alternate translation: [the marriageable woman who has not had sex]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT will have in her womb
UST will become pregnant
(ἐν γαστρὶ ἕξει)

Here, the phrase have in her womb refers to a woman being pregnant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be with child] or [will be expecting a baby]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT they will call
UST People will name him
(καλέσουσιν)

The pronoun they refers to people in general. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use a form that refers to people in general. Alternate translation: [others will call] or [everyone will call]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Immanuel”—which is translated, “God with us
UST Immanuel.’” The name Immanuel means, “God is with us
(Ἐμμανουήλ, ὅ ἐστιν μεθερμηνευόμενον, μεθ’ ἡμῶν ὁ Θεός)

The word Immanuel is a Hebrew word. Matthew spelled it out using Greek letters so his readers would know how it sounded, and then he explained what it meant: God with us. In your translation you can spell it the way it sounds in your language and then explain its meaning. Alternate translation: [Immanuel,” which is a Hebrew word that is translated as “God with us]

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT which is translated, “God with us
UST The name Immanuel means, “God is with us
(ὅ ἐστιν μεθερμηνευόμενον, μεθ’ ἡμῶν ὁ Θεός)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [which we translate as “God with us] or [this name means “God with us]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
virgin	A young who has never had sex
her womb	will become pregnant bear	She will give birth to they will call	People will name him
translated	means
God	God

Matthew 1:24

ULT	UST
And Joseph, having been awakened from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord commanded him and took her {as} his wife.	After Joseph woke up, he married Mary, which is what the angel from the Lord had told him to do.

ULT And
(δὲ)

Here, the word And introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave And untranslated. Alternate translation: [After the angel spoke to him,] or [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having been awakened from sleep
UST After … woke up
(ἐγερθεὶς & ἀπὸ τοῦ ὕπνου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [having woken from his sleep] or [having risen from sleep]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and took her
UST he married Mary
(καὶ παρέλαβεν)

Here, the word and introduces how Joseph did as the angel of the Lord commanded him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this relationship more explicit. Alternate translation: [by taking her]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Joseph	Joseph
angel	the angel
of the Lord	from the Lord

Matthew 1:25

ULT	UST
And he did not know her until she bore a son. And he called his name Jesus.	However, he did not have sex with her before she gave birth to a male child. Joseph named the child Jesus.

ULT And
UST However
(καὶ)

Here, the word And introduces something that is unexpected for people who have gotten married. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces something that is unexpected. Alternate translation: [But] or [Despite that,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT he did not know her
UST he did not have sex with her (οὐκ ἐγίνωσκεν αὐτὴν)

Matthew is referring in a polite way to having sex by using the word know. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. See how you translated the euphemism for having sex in 1:18. Alternate translation: [he did not consummate the marriage with her] or [he did not sleep with her]

Support Reference: Euphemism

ULT he did not know … he called his
UST he did not have sex with … Joseph named the child
(οὐκ ἐγίνωσκεν & ἐκάλεσεν & αὐτοῦ)

Here, both times the pronoun he occurs, it refers to Joseph. The pronoun his refers to the son, Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use names instead of pronouns. Alternate translation: [Joseph did not know … Joseph called the son's]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT until
> UST before
> (ἕως οὗ)

Christians disagree about whether Joseph had sex with Mary after Jesus was born. In this verse, Matthew only refers to the time before Jesus was born. If possible, use a form that only refers to this time period and does not imply anything about what happened after Jesus was born. Alternate translation: [prior to when] or [during the time before]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he did … know	he did … have sex with he called	Joseph named
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 2

Matthew 2 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. The birth of Jesus Christ and the beginning of his ministry (1:1–4:25)
    - The visit of the learned men (2:1–12)
    - Joseph, Mary, and Jesus escape to Egypt (2:13–15)
    - Herod kills the baby boys in Bethlehem (2:16–18)
    - Joseph, Mary, and Jesus settle in Nazareth (2:19–23)

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the poetry in verses 6 and 18, which are quotations from the Old Testament.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

“Learned men”

In this chapter, Matthew tells about how “learned men” from countries to the east of Judea visited Jesus in order to worship him. These were educated men who studied dreams and stars in the sky to try to learn about what was happening and what would happen in the future. Matthew does not present them as if they are evil. Consider how you might naturally refer to this kind of educated man. The ULT provides a general translation (“learned men”), and the UST illustrates how to use a descriptive phrase scholars who studied the stars.

The star

The learned men journey to Jerusalem because they see a specific star. Matthew further describes how this star moved in the sky until it was directly above where Jesus was living. It is not clear exactly what this star was. Scholars have suggested that it was one of the planets, a shooting star, a comet, or a bright angel. If possible, use a word or phrase that refers generally to a natural source of light in the sky. If you need to be more specific, you could use a word or phrase that refers to stars, especially the kinds of stars that move or appear to move in the sky.

The journeys of Joseph, Mary, and Jesus

In this chapter, Matthew narrates several journeys that Joseph, Mary, and Jesus took. At first, they are in Bethlehem, which is a city near the capital city of Judea, Jerusalem. After the learned men visit, God warns Joseph to journey to Egypt, a country to the southwest of Judea, in order to escape from Herod, the king of Judea. After Herod dies, God tells Joseph that he can take his family back to Israel. However, he does not take his family back to Judea, because Herod's son is now reigning in Herod's place. Instead, he and his family travel to Nazareth, a city in the region of Galilee, which is north of Judea. When Matthew uses movement words, make sure that your translation fits with these journeys.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Most of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in direct speech to individuals. Because of this, most forms of "you" in this chapter are singular. You should assume forms of "you" are singular unless a note specifies that the form is plural. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 2:1

ULT	UST
Now, Jesus having been born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, learned men from the east arrived in Jerusalem,	{Mary} gave birth to Jesus in the town of Bethlehem in the region of Judea. During that time, Herod was the king there. {Some time after Mary gave birth to Jesus,} some scholars who studied the stars traveled from eastern countries to the city of Jerusalem!

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT Jesus having been born
UST {Mary} gave birth to Jesus
(τοῦ & Ἰησοῦ γεννηθέντος)

Here, the phrase Jesus having been born states what happened before the learned men from the east arrived in Jerusalem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this relationship more explicit. Alternate translation: [after Jesus had been born]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT Bethlehem of Judea
UST the town of Bethlehem in the region of Judea
(Βηθλέεμ τῆς Ἰουδαίας)

Here, Matthew is using the possessive form to indicate that Bethlehem is in Judea. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Bethlehem in Judea]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT in the days of Herod the king
> UST During that time, Herod was the king there
> (ἐν ἡμέραις Ἡρῴδου τοῦ βασιλέως)

The phrase in the days of someone who is a king refers to the period of time in which that person ruled as king. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while Herod the king ruled] or [during the reign of Herod the king]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT behold
> (ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [take note] or [hear this]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT from the east
> UST from eastern countries
> (ἀπὸ ἀνατολῶν)

Here, the phrase the east refers to countries to the east of Judea. Matthew does not tell us exactly which country or countries he means. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer more explicitly to countries to the east. Alternate translation: [who were from countries to the east of Judea]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Bethlehem	the town of Bethlehem
of Judea	in the region of Judea
the days	During that time of Herod the king	Herod was the king there king	was the king there learned men	{Some time after Mary gave birth to Jesus,} some scholars who studied the stars

ULT	UST
Jerusalem	the city of Jerusalem

Matthew 2:2

ULT	UST
saying, “Where is the one having been born King of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east and came to worship him.”	They were asking people, “Where is the child who will be the king over the Jewish people? We saw a star appear in the sky {that indicated that his mother had given birth to} him. We traveled here so that we can worship him.”

ULT saying
UST They were asking people
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they were saying]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT the one having been born King
UST the child who will be the king
(ὁ τεχθεὶς Βασιλεὺς)

Here the learned men could mean that: (1) the one having been born is destined to be King of the Jews. Alternate translation: [the one having been born to be King]; (2) the one having been born is already the King of the Jews. Alternate translation: [the one having been born who is King]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the one having been born
UST the child
(ὁ τεχθεὶς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the one whose birth recently happened, the one who is]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why the learned men are asking about the King of the Jews. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a question, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [We ask because] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT his star
UST a star … {that indicated that his mother had given birth to} him
(αὐτοῦ τὸν ἀστέρα)

Here, the learned men are using the possessive form to describe a star that marks or identifies the King of the Jews. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the star that identifies him] or [the star that proves he has been born]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT in the east
UST appear in the sky
(ἐν τῇ ἀνατολῇ)

Here, the phrase in the east could refer to: (1) when the star appeared above the horizon. Alternate translation: [when it rose]; (2) where the star appeared in the sky. Alternate translation: [as it rose in the east]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT came
UST We traveled here
(ἤλθομεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “went” instead of came. Alternate translation: [went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT to worship
UST so that we can worship
(προσκυνῆσαι)

The phrase to worship can be used for how one behaves before God, but it can also be used for how one behaves before a king. Matthew uses this phrase because the learned men considered Jesus to be a king, but Matthew considers Jesus to be God. So, both meanings of the phrase to worship are included here. If possible, use a form that could be used for how one acts before both kings and God. If you must make a distinction, it is recommended that you use a form that refers to worshiping God. Alternate translation: [to bow before] or [to kneel before him to honor]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
King	who will be the king
King of the Jews	who will be the king over the Jewish people of the Jews	over the Jewish people to worship	so that we can worship

Matthew 2:3

ULT	UST
But having heard this, Herod the king became troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.	When King Herod learned {what these men were asking}, he was upset. Many people in the city of Jerusalem were also upset.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT all Jerusalem with him
UST Many people in the city of Jerusalem were also upset
(πᾶσα Ἱεροσόλυμα μετ᾽ αὐτοῦ)

Matthew is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [all Jerusalem became troubled with him]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT all Jerusalem
UST Many people in the city of Jerusalem
(πᾶσα Ἱεροσόλυμα)

Here, Jerusalem refers to the people who live in Jerusalem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [all the people in Jerusalem]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT all
> UST Many
> (πᾶσα)

Matthew says all here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [most of] or [the majority of]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
king	King
became troubled	he was upset
Jerusalem	people in the city of Jerusalem
Herod … king	King Herod

Matthew 2:4

ULT	UST
And having brought together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired from them, "Where is the Christ being born?"	So, King Herod summoned all the Jewish ruling priests and teachers of the Jewish law. He asked them about where the Messiah's mother would give birth to him.

ULT of the people
UST Jewish
(τοῦ λαοῦ)

Here, the phrase the people refers to the Jewish people. Matthew means that the chief priests and the scribes were part of the Jewish people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of the Jews] or [who belonged to the Jewish people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he inquired from them, "Where is the Christ being born
UST He asked them about where the Messiah's mother would give birth to him
(ἐπυνθάνετο παρ' αὐτῶν ποῦ ὁ Χριστὸς γεννᾶται)

It may be more natural in your language to have a indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [he inquired from them where the Christ would be born.]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT is the Christ being born
UST the Messiah's mother would give birth to him
(ὁ Χριστὸς γεννᾶται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [is the place of Christ's birth] or [is the Christ's birthplace]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT is the Christ being born
> UST the Messiah's mother would give birth to him
> (ὁ Χριστὸς γεννᾶται)

Here Herod asks a question about the location of Christ's birth using the present tense. You could use whatever tense is natural in your language for this kind of question. Alternate translation: [will the Christ be born]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having brought together	King Herod summoned
chief priests	ruling priests
scribes	teachers of the Jewish law
Christ	Messiah's

Matthew 2:5

ULT	UST
And they said to him, "In Bethlehem of Judea, for thus it has been written through the prophet,	They answered him, "{His mother will give birth to him} in the town of Bethlehem in the region of Judea. {We know that} because of what the prophet {Micah} wrote.

ULT In Bethlehem
UST {His mother will give birth to him} in the town of Bethlehem
(ἐν Βηθλέεμ)

The chief priests and scribes are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous verse if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [He is born in Bethlehem]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Bethlehem of Judea
UST the town of Bethlehem in the region of Judea
(Βηθλέεμ τῆς Ἰουδαίας)

See how you translated this phrase in 2:1. Alternate translation: [Bethlehem in Judea]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT thus it has been written through the prophet
UST what the prophet {Micah} wrote
(οὕτως & γέγραπται διὰ τοῦ προφήτου)

In Matthew's culture, for thus it has been written through the prophet is a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Micah the prophet (see Micah 5:2). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [this is what God had Micah the prophet write down:]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT thus it has been written through the prophet
> UST what the prophet {Micah} wrote
> (οὕτως & γέγραπται διὰ τοῦ προφήτου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [thus the prophet wrote] or [thus God told the prophet to write]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Bethlehem	the town of Bethlehem
of Judea	in the region of Judea
prophet	the prophet {Micah}

Matthew 2:6

ULT	UST
‘And you, Bethlehem, land of Judah, are by no means least among the leaders of Judah, for from you will come out a ruling one who will shepherd my people Israel.’”	‘You who live in the town of Bethlehem in the land of Judah, your town is one of the important towns in Judah. {That is} because someone from your town will become a leader. That person will rule God’s people, the Israelites.’”

ULT And you, Bethlehem, land of Judah, are by no means least among the leaders of Judah, for from you will come out a ruling one who will shepherd my people Israel
UST { … You who live in the town of Bethlehem in the land of Judah, your town is one of the important towns in Judah. That is} because someone from your town will become a leader. That person will rule God’s people, the Israelites
(καὶ σύ Βηθλέεμ, γῆ Ἰούδα, οὐδαμῶς ἐλαχίστη εἶ ἐν τοῖς ἡγεμόσιν Ἰούδα; ἐκ σοῦ γὰρ ἐξελεύσεται ἡγούμενος, ὅστις ποιμανεῖ τὸν λαόν μου τὸν Ἰσραήλ)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. If you use the following alternate translation, you will need to delete the comma at the end of the previous verse and only use one quotation mark at the end of this verse. Alternate translation: [that you, Bethlehem, land of Judah, are by no means least among the leaders of Judah, for from you will come out a ruling one who will shepherd God’s people Israel]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT And you, Bethlehem, land of Judah, are by no means least among the leaders of Judah, for from you will come out a ruling one who will shepherd my people Israel
UST { … You who live in the town of Bethlehem in the land of Judah, your town is one of the important towns in Judah. That is} because someone from your town will become a leader. That person will rule God’s people, the Israelites
(καὶ σύ Βηθλέεμ, γῆ Ἰούδα, οὐδαμῶς ἐλαχίστη εἶ ἐν τοῖς ἡγεμόσιν Ἰούδα; ἐκ σοῦ γὰρ ἐξελεύσεται ἡγούμενος, ὅστις ποιμανεῖ τὸν λαόν μου τὸν Ἰσραήλ)

Micah was speaking to Bethlehem as if it were a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could direct the speech to the people who live in Bethlehem, or you could refer to Bethlehem in the third person. Alternate translation: [And Bethlehem, land of Judah, is by no means least among the leaders of Judah, for from this town will come out a ruling one who will shepherd my people Israel]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT you … you
UST You who live … someone from your town
(σύ & σοῦ)

The word you is singular in this verse because Micah is speaking to Bethlehem.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT by no means least
UST one of the important
(οὐδαμῶς ἐλαχίστη)

The prophet Micah is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative phrase, by no means, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning, least. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [very great] or [important]

Support Reference: Litotes

ULT the leaders of Judah
UST towns in Judah
(τοῖς ἡγεμόσιν Ἰούδα)

Since Micah is speaking to Bethlehem as if it were a person, he refers to important towns in Judah as if they were leaders. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the leading towns of Judah] or [the great cities in Judah]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT from you will come out a ruling one
UST someone from your town will become a leader
(ἐκ σοῦ & ἐξελεύσεται ἡγούμενος)

Here Micah refers to a person from Bethlehem becoming a ruling one as if the person were coming out of Bethlehem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a person from you will be a ruling one]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT will shepherd
> UST will rule
> (ποιμανεῖ)

Here, the prophet Micah is speaking of leading and caring for the people as if it were shepherding. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will lead and care for]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Bethlehem	in the town of Bethlehem of Judah	of Judah
leaders	towns
of Judah	in Judah
will shepherd	will rule
my people Israel	God’s people, the Israelites

Matthew 2:7

ULT	UST
Then Herod, having secretly called the learned men, inquired from them the time of the appearing of the star.	After that, King Herod summoned the scholars who studied the stars {to talk with him} privately. He asked them about exactly when they first saw the {special} star.

> ULT the time of the appearing of the star
> UST when they first saw the {special} star
> (τὸν χρόνον τοῦ φαινομένου ἀστέρος)

Here, Matthew is using the possessive form to describe the time when the star appeared. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the time at which the star appeared]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT inquired from them the time of the appearing of the star
> UST He asked them about exactly when they first saw the {special} star > (ἠκρίβωσεν παρ’ αὐτῶν τὸν χρόνον τοῦ φαινομένου ἀστέρος)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [inquired from them, “What was the time of the appearing of the star?”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Herod	King Herod
having … called	summoned
learned men	the scholars who studied the stars
time	when

Matthew 2:8

ULT	UST
And having sent them to Bethlehem, he said, "Having gone, search carefully for the young child, and after you have found him, report to me so that I also, having come, might worship him."	After that, he told them, "Go to the town of Bethlehem and look for the child. When you are sure that you know who he is, {come back and} tell me {who he is}. That way, I too can go and worship him." Then he sent them away.

ULT And having sent them to Bethlehem, he said, "Having gone, search carefully for the young child, and after you have found him, report to me so that I also, having come, might worship him

UST After that, he told them, "Go to the town of Bethlehem and look for the child. When you are sure that you know who he is, {come back and} tell me {who he is}. That way, I too can go and worship him." Then he sent them away

(καὶ πέμψας αὐτοὺς εἰς Βηθλέεμ εἶπεν, πορευθέντες ἐξετάσατε ἀκριβῶς περὶ τοῦ παιδίου; ἐπὰν δὲ εὕρητε, ἀπαγγείλατέ μοι ὅπως κἀγὼ ἐλθὼν προσκυνήσω αὐτῷ)

Matthew tells how King Herod sent the learned men to Bethlehem before he mentions what King Herod told them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could rearrange this verse so that it tells the events in sequential order. Alternate translation: [And he said, "Having gone, search carefully for the young child, and after you have found him, report to me so that I also, having come, might worship him." Then, he sent them to Bethlehem.]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT Having gone

UST Go

(πορευθέντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of gone. Alternate translation: [Having come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT search … you have found him, report

UST and look … that you know who he is, {come back and} tell … who he is (ἐξετάσατε & εὕρητε, ἀπαγγείλατέ)

Since Herod is speaking to the learned men, the word you and the commands search and report are plural.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT having come
> UST can go
> (ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT might worship
> UST and worship
> (προσκυνήσω)

Translate worship as you did in 2:2. Alternate translation: [might bow before] or [might kneel before him to honor]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Bethlehem	the town of Bethlehem report	{come back and} tell … who he is might worship	and worship

Matthew 2:9

ULT	UST
And they, having heard the king, went, and behold, the star that they saw in the east was going before them until, having come, it stood over where the young child was.	The scholars listened to the king, and then they traveled {to Bethlehem}. The star which they saw when it appeared in the sky guided them! It moved {in the sky} until it was directly above the place where the child{, Jesus,} was living.

ULT went
UST and then they traveled {to Bethlehem} (ἐπορεύθησαν)

Matthew implies that they went to Bethlehem. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [went to Bethlehem]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [hear me now] or [notice]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the east
UST when it appeared in the sky
(ἐν τῇ ἀνατολῇ)

Translate this phrase as you did in 2:2. Alternate translation: [when it rose] or [as it rose in the east]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT was going before them until, having come, it stood over where the young child was > UST guided them! It moved {in the sky} until it was directly above the place where the child{, Jesus,} was living > (προῆγεν αὐτούς ἕως ἐλθὼν ἐστάθη ἐπάνω οὗ ἦν τὸ παιδίον)

Matthew speaks as if the star were a person who could go somewhere and stand there. He means that the star moved in the sky until it was directly above the place where Jesus was staying. We do not know exactly how the star moved or what it looked like. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state directly that the star moved and then stopped. Alternate translation: [was moving in the sky ahead of them until it was above where the young child was. Then it stopped moving]

Support Reference: Personification

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
king	the king

Matthew 2:10

ULT	UST
And having seen the star, they rejoiced with very great joy.	When they saw how the star moved and then stopped, they were extremely happy.

ULT having seen the star
UST When they saw how the star moved and then stopped
(ἰδόντες & τὸν ἀστέρα)

Matthew could mean that: (1) they saw how the star moved and then stopped over where Jesus was. Alternate translation: [having seen that the star had stopped] or [having seen that the star was guiding them]; (2) they saw that the star had appeared again. Alternate translation: [having seen the star again] or [having seen the star reappear]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they rejoiced with very great joy
UST they were extremely happy
(ἐχάρησαν χαρὰν μεγάλην σφόδρα)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy or would not use both the noun joy and the verb rejoiced together, you could express the same idea by using only the verb. Alternate translation: [they rejoiced very much] or [they rejoiced exceedingly greatly]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they rejoiced with … joy	they were extremely happy

Matthew 2:11

ULT	UST
And having gone into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother. And having fallen down, they worshiped him, and having opened their treasures, they offered him gifts: gold and frankincense and myrrh.	They went into the house {above which the star had stopped}. There, they saw the child {Jesus} and his mother Mary. They bowed down and worshiped him. Then, they unpacked the valuable things that they had brought with them. They gave Jesus gold, incense, and valuable tree resin.

> ULT having gone
> UST They went
> (ἐλθόντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT having fallen down
> UST They bowed down
> (πεσόντες)

Matthew means that the learned men kneeled on the ground or bowed down very low. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [kneeling down] or [prostrating themselves]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT they worshiped
> UST and worshiped
> (προσεκύνησαν)

Translate worshiped as you did in 2:2 and 2:8. Alternate translation: [they bowed before] or [they kneeled before him to honor]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT their treasures
UST the valuable things that they had brought with them
(τοὺς θησαυροὺς αὐτῶν)

Here, their treasures refers to the boxes or bags they used to carry their gifts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the containers that held their treasures] or [their treasure boxes]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the house {above which the star had stopped}
Mary	Mary
having fallen down	They bowed down
they worshiped	and worshiped
gold	gold frankincense	incense
myrrh	valuable tree resin

Matthew 2:12

ULT	UST
And having been warned through a dream not to return to Herod, they departed to their country by another way.	After that, God used a dream to tell them not to go back to King Herod. So, they went home on a different road {than the one on which they had come}.

ULT having been warned
UST to tell them
(χρηματισθέντες)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God having warned them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT through a dream not to return to Herod, they departed
UST God used a dream … not to go back to King Herod. So, they went (κατ᾽ ὄναρ μὴ ἀνακάμψαι πρὸς Ἡρῴδην & ἀνεχώρησαν)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [through a dream, “Do not return to Herod,” they departed]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a dream	a dream
Herod	King Herod

Matthew 2:13

ULT	UST
Now they having departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appears to Joseph by means of a dream, saying, "Having gotten up, take the young child and his mother, and flee to Egypt, and remain there until I tell you, for Herod is going to seek the young child to kill him."	After the scholars who studied the stars went home, Joseph saw an angel from the Lord while he was sleeping! The angel told him, "King Herod wants to find the child so that he can kill him. So, when you wake up, escape to the land of Egypt with the child and his mother{, your wife}. Stay there until I tell you {that you can return home}."

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [hear me] or [pay attention]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT appears
UST saw
(φαίνεται)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [appeared]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT saying
UST The angel told him
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he commanded him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Having gotten up, take the young child and his mother, and flee to Egypt, and remain there until I tell you, for Herod is going to seek the young child to kill him
UST King Herod wants to find the child so that he can kill him. So, when you wake up, escape to the land of Egypt with the child and his mother{, your wife}. Stay there until I tell you {that you can return home}
(ἐγερθεὶς, παράλαβε τὸ παιδίον καὶ τὴν μητέρα αὐτοῦ καὶ φεῦγε εἰς Αἴγυπτον, καὶ ἴσθι ἐκεῖ ἕως ἂν εἴπω σοι; μέλλει γὰρ Ἡρῴδης ζητεῖν τὸ παιδίον τοῦ ἀπολέσαι αὐτό)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the last clause gives the reason for the command in the first clauses. Alternate translation: [Because Herod is going to seek the young child to kill him, having gotten up, take the young child and his mother, and flee to Egypt, and remain there until I tell you.]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT until I tell you
UST until I tell you {that you can return home}
(ἕως ἂν εἴπω σοι)

Here the angel implies that he will tell Joseph that it is safe to return to his home. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [until I tell you it is safe to come back]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
an angel	an angel
of the Lord	from the Lord
to Joseph	Joseph
a dream	while he was sleeping
Egypt	the land of Egypt
Herod	King Herod
to seek	to find

ULT	UST
to kill	so that he can kill

Matthew 2:14

ULT	UST
And having gotten up, he took the young child and his mother at night and departed for Egypt,	Then Joseph woke up. During that night, he left for the land of Egypt with the child and the child's mother{, his wife}.

ULT at night
UST During that night
(νυκτὸς)

Matthew implies that they departed for Egypt the same night in which Joseph had the dream. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [that very night]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Egypt	the land of Egypt

Matthew 2:15

ULT	UST
and he was there until the death of Herod, in order that might be fulfilled {what} was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, "Out of Egypt I called my son."	They lived in the land of Egypt while King Herod ruled. So, what the Lord said by speaking through the prophet {Hosea} came true: "I have told my son to leave Egypt."

ULT he was
UST They lived
(ἦν)

Matthew implies that Mary and Jesus also lived in Egypt with Joseph. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Joseph, Mary, and Jesus were]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT might be fulfilled
UST came true
(πληρωθῇ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [this might fulfill]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT {what} was spoken by the Lord
UST what the Lord said
(τὸ ῥηθὲν ὑπὸ Κυρίου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [what the Lord spoke]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the prophet
UST by speaking through the prophet {Hosea}
(τοῦ προφήτου)

The prophet to whom Matthew refers is Hosea. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Hosea the prophet]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT saying
> (λέγοντος)

In Matthew's culture, saying was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Hosea the prophet (see Hosea 11:1). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in the book of Hosea] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT I called
> UST I have told
> (ἐκάλεσα)

Here the author of the quotation, Hosea, implies that God is summoning his son from Egypt. He is not just speaking to his son. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I summoned]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Herod	while King Herod ruled
might be fulfilled	came true
the Lord	the Lord
prophet	by speaking through the prophet {Hosea}
of Egypt	Egypt
I called	I have told
son	son

Matthew 2:16

ULT	UST
Then Herod, having seen that he had been mocked by the learned men, was very angry, and having sent forth, he killed all the male children in Bethlehem and in all its region, from two years and under, according to the time that he had determined exactly from the learned men.	When {the scholars who studied the stars did not come back to King Herod}, he realized that they had fooled him. He became furious. He had some of his soldiers go to the city of Bethlehem and the areas around it and kill every male child who was two years old or younger. {He picked those ages} because of what the scholars who studied the stars told him about the exact time {when they first saw the star}.

ULT having seen
UST realized
(ἰδὼν)

Here, Matthew speaks of knowing as if it were seeing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [having learned] or [having known]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT he had been mocked by the learned men
UST they had fooled him
(ἐνεπαίχθη ὑπὸ τῶν μάγων)

Matthew implies that Herod realized that the learned men were not going to visit him and tell him where Jesus was. That is why he felt mocked. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he had been mocked by the learned men, who were not going to return] or [the learned men had deceived him by not coming back to him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he had been mocked by the learned men
UST they had fooled him
(ἐνεπαίχθη ὑπὸ τῶν μάγων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the learned men had mocked him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT having sent forth, he killed
UST He had some of his soldiers go … and kill (ἀποστείλας, ἀνεῖλεν)

Matthew implies that Herod sent other people to kill the children. He did not kill the children himself. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he sent forth his soldiers to kill]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from two years and under
UST who was two years old or younger (ἀπὸ διετοῦς καὶ κατωτέρω)

Here, the phrase from two years and under identifies children that are two years old or younger than two years old. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase in your language. Alternate translation: [from those who were just born to those who were two years old] or [those who were younger than three years old]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT according to the time that he had determined exactly from the learned men
UST He picked those ages} because of what the scholars who studied the stars told him about the exact time {when they first saw the star}
(κατὰ τὸν χρόνον ὃν ἠκρίβωσεν παρὰ τῶν μάγων)

Matthew implies that Herod decided what ages of baby boys to have killed based on when the learned men first saw the star. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [basing this decision on the time of the star's appearance that he had determined exactly from the learned men]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Herod	he learned men	they
Bethlehem	to the city of Bethlehem
time	the … time {when they first saw the star}
learned men	the scholars who studied the stars

Matthew 2:17

ULT	UST
Then it was fulfilled {what} was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet, saying,	At that time, what God said by speaking through the prophet Jeremiah came true:

ULT Then
UST At that time
(τότε)

Here, the word Then indicates that the prophecy was fulfilled at the time when Herod had his soldiers kill the baby boys in Bethlehem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces something that happens at the same time. Alternate translation: [And so] or [It was then that]

Support Reference: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

ULT it was fulfilled {what} was spoken
UST what God said … came true
(ἐπληρώθη τὸ ῥηθὲν)

See how you translated the similar passive forms in 1:22 and 2:15. Alternate translation: [these events fulfilled what God spoke]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT saying
(λέγοντος)

In Matthew's culture, saying was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Jeremiah the prophet (see Jeremiah 31:15). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in his book] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
it was fulfilled	came true
Jeremiah	Jeremiah
prophet	the prophet

Matthew 2:18

ULT	UST
“A voice was heard in Ramah, weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and not willing to be comforted, because they are no more.”	“People heard women in the town of Ramah lamenting loudly. It was the descendants of Rachel mourning for their children. Because their children were dead, they would not stop mourning.”

> ULT A voice was heard in Ramah, weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and not willing to be comforted
> UST People heard women in the town of Ramah lamenting loudly. It was the descendants of Rachel mourning for their children … they would not stop mourning
> (φωνὴ ἐν Ῥαμὰ ἠκούσθη, κλαυθμὸς καὶ ὀδυρμὸς πολύς, Ῥαχὴλ κλαίουσα τὰ τέκνα αὐτῆς, καὶ οὐκ ἤθελεν παρακληθῆναι)

This prophecy speaks of women who live in Ramah as if they were Rachel, their ancestor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer directly to the women who are descended from Rachel. Alternate translation: [Voices were heard in Ramah, weeping and great mourning, women descended from Rachel weeping for their children, and not willing to be comforted]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT A voice was heard
> UST People heard women in the town of Ramah
> (φωνὴ & ἠκούσθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [There was a voice] or [People heard a voice]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT weeping and great mourning
> UST lamenting loudly
> (κλαυθμὸς καὶ ὀδυρμὸς πολύς)

The terms weeping and great mourning mean similar things. Matthew is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [much weeping] or [deep mourning]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT not willing to be comforted, because they are no more
UST Because their children were dead, they would not stop mourning
(οὐκ ἤθελεν παρακληθῆναι, ὅτι οὐκ εἰσίν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [because they are no more, she is not willing to be comforted]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT not willing to be comforted
UST they would not stop mourning
(οὐκ ἤθελεν παρακληθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [she was not willing to receive comfort] or [no one could comfort her]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT they are no more
UST their children were dead
(οὐκ εἰσίν)

The author of the quotation is referring to the death of the children in a polite way by using the phrase they are no more. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [they had passed away] or [because they had died]

Support Reference: Euphemism

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Ramah	women in the town of Ramah
mourning	lamenting loudly
Rachel	It was the descendants of Rachel

Matthew 2:19

ULT	UST
Now Herod having died, behold, an angel of the Lord appears by means of a dream to Joseph in Egypt,	{During this time, Joseph and his family were living} in the land of Egypt. After Herod died, Joseph saw an angel from the Lord while he was sleeping!

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

Here, the word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT appears
UST saw
(φαίνεται)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [appeared]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Herod	Herod
an angel	an angel
of the Lord	from the Lord
a dream	while he was sleeping
to Joseph	Joseph

ULT	UST
Egypt	{During this time, Joseph and his family were living} in the land of Egypt

Matthew 2:20

ULT	UST
saying, "Having gotten up, take the young child and his mother and go to the land of Israel, for the ones seeking the life of the child have died."	The angel told him, "Everyone who wanted to kill the child has died. So, when you wake up, return to the country of Israel with the child and his mother{, your wife}."

ULT saying
UST The angel told him
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he commanded him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Having gotten up, take the young child and his mother and go to the land of Israel, for the ones seeking the life of the child have died
UST Everyone who wanted to kill the child has died. So, when you wake up, return to the country of Israel with the child and his mother{, your wife}
(ἐγερθεὶς, παράλαβε τὸ παιδίον καὶ τὴν μητέρα αὐτοῦ, καὶ πορεύου εἰς γῆν Ἰσραήλ; τεθνήκασιν γὰρ οἱ ζητοῦντες τὴν ψυχὴν τοῦ παιδίου)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the last clause gives the reason for the command in the first clauses. Alternate translation: [Because the ones seeking the life of the child have died, having gotten up, take the young child and his mother and go to the land of Israel.]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the ones seeking the life of the child
UST Everyone who wanted to kill the child
(οἱ ζητοῦντες τὴν ψυχὴν τοῦ παιδίου)

Here, the phrase the ones seeking the life of the child refers to people who wanted to kill the child. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones seeking to do away with the child] or [the ones wishing to kill the child]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Israel	of Israel

ULT	UST
seeking	Everyone who wanted to kill

Matthew 2:21

ULT	UST
And he, having gotten up, took the young child and his mother, and entered into the land of Israel.	Then Joseph woke up. He went back to the country of Israel with the child and the child's mother{, his wife}.

(There are no notes for this verse)

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Israel	of Israel

Matthew 2:22

ULT	UST
But having heard that Archelaus is reigning over Judea in the place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. But having been warned by means of a dream, he withdrew to the region of Galilee,	However, Joseph heard that Archelaus had succeeded his father, King Herod, as king over the region of Judea. So, he was afraid to live there. Further, while Joseph was sleeping, God instructed him {to live somewhere else}. So, Joseph decided to live in the region of Galilee.

ULT Archelaus
UST Archelaus
(Ἀρχέλαος)

The word Archelaus is the name of a man. He began to rule after his father Herod died.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT having heard that Archelaus is reigning over Judea in the place of his father Herod, he was afraid
UST Joseph heard that Archelaus had succeeded his father, King Herod, as king over the region of Judea. So, he was afraid (ἀκούσας & ὅτι Ἀρχέλαος βασιλεύει τῆς Ἰουδαίας ἀντὶ τοῦ πατρὸς αὐτοῦ Ἡρῴδου, ἐφοβήθη)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [having heard, “Archelaus is reigning over Judea in the place of his father Herod,” he was afraid]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT having been warned
UST God instructed him {to live somewhere else}
(χρηματισθεὶς)

Matthew implies that Joseph was warned against living in Judea. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having been warned about living in Judea]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having been warned
> UST God instructed him {to live somewhere else}
> (χρηματισθεὶς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God, probably speaking through an angel. Alternate translation: [God having warned him] or [an angel of the Lord having warned him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is reigning	as king
over Judea	over the region of Judea
Herod	King Herod
he was afraid	So, he was afraid
a dream	while Joseph was sleeping
of Galilee	of Galilee

Matthew 2:23

ULT	UST
and having gone, he lived in a city being called Nazareth, so that it might be fulfilled {what} was spoken through the prophets, that he will be called a Nazarene.	When he and his family arrived {in Galilee}, they lived in the town of Nazareth. In that way, what God said by speaking through the prophets came true: "People will say that the Messiah is from Nazareth."

ULT having gone
UST When he and his family arrived {in Galilee}
(ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT he lived
UST they lived
(κατῴκησεν)

Matthew implies that Mary and Jesus also lived in Nazareth with Joseph. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Joseph, Mary, and Jesus lived]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT being called
UST of Nazareth
(λεγομένην)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [that people called] or [whose name was]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT so that
UST In that way
(ὅπως)

Here, the phrase so that could introduce: (1) a result from Joseph and his family living in Nazareth. Alternate translation: [with the result that]; (2) a purpose for which Joseph and his family lived in Nazareth. If you use the following alternate translation, you may need to delete the comma after prophets. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT it might be fulfilled {what} was spoken
UST what God said … came true
(πληρωθῇ τὸ ῥηθὲν)

See how your translated the similar passive forms in 2:15 and 2:17. Alternate translation: [this might fulfill what God spoke]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the prophets, that he will be called a Nazarene
UST the prophets … People will say that the Messiah is from Nazareth
(τῶν προφητῶν, ὅτι Ναζωραῖος κληθήσεται)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [the prophets, “He will be called a Nazarene.”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT the prophets
UST the prophets
(τῶν προφητῶν)

Matthew does not clarify which prophets he is referring to, and there is no single passage in the Old Testament that speaks about Jesus being a Nazarene. Because of that, you should not include any implied information here. If possible, leave the statement as general as it appears in the ULT. Alternate translation: [God’s prophets] or [prophets]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

> ULT he will be called a Nazarene
> UST People will say that the Messiah is from Nazareth
> (Ναζωραῖος κληθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [they will call him a Nazarene]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT he will be called
> UST People will say
> (κληθήσεται)

The pronoun he refers to the Messiah. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to the Messiah more directly. The prophets probably did not know that his name would be Jesus, so you should use a title like “Christ” or “Messiah” here. Alternate translation: [the Christ will be called]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
being called	of Nazareth
Nazareth	of Nazareth
it might be fulfilled	came true
prophets	the prophets
he will be called	People will say a Nazarene	that the Messiah is from Nazareth

Matthew 3

Matthew 3 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. The birth of Jesus Christ and the beginning of his ministry (1:1–4:25)
    - The ministry of John the Baptist (3:1–12)
    - John baptizes Jesus (3:13–17)

Some translations set quotations from the Old Testament farther to the right on the page than the rest of the text. The ULT does this with the quotation from the Old Testament in verse 3.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

John the Baptist

In this chapter, Matthew introduces John the Baptist, who preached in the wilderness. Matthew describes his clothing and his food in ways that resemble the prophet Elijah. John preached a message that called for repentance. He prepared the way for Jesus to begin his ministry.

Baptism

The word “baptism” refers to a ritual washing, usually with water. John’s baptism is similar to Christian baptism, but it does not mean exactly the same thing (see Acts 18:24–26). John says that his baptism is “for repentance” (see 3:11). Most likely, it symbolized the removal of the sins that people were repenting of and the beginning of a new way of living. However, even Jesus received this baptism despite the fact that he did not need to repent of any sins. In this case, the baptism may symbolize complete dedication to God. Consider how you might refer to this kind of ritual washing in your language.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Fruit tree metaphor

In 3:8 and 3:10, John speaks of people as if they were fruit trees. He says that people need to produce "good fruit," just like fruit trees should. However, every fruit tree that does not produce good fruit will be cut down and burned. In the same way, people who do not do what is right will be judged and punished. If possible, preserve this metaphor or express it in simile form.

Wheat harvest metaphor

In 3:12, John speaks of people as if they were parts of wheat plants. People who obey God are like the edible part of the wheat plant, the grain. People who disobey God are like the inedible part of the wheat plant, the chaff. Just as a farmer separates the grain from the chaff, so God will separate people into those who obey him and those who do not. Then, just as the farmer stores the grain and burns the chaff, so God will save those who obey him and punish those who do not. If possible, preserve this metaphor or express it in simile form.

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Many of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in speeches that John the Baptist delivers to groups of people. Because of this, most forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 3:1

ULT	UST
Now in those days, John the Baptist comes, preaching in the wilderness of Judea,	While Jesus was living in Galilee, a man whom people called John the Baptizer went to a desolate area in the region of Judea. He proclaimed,

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT in those days
UST While Jesus was living in Galilee
(ἐν & ταῖς ἡμέραις ἐκείναις)

Here, Matthew uses the term days to refer to a particular period of time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that identifies a particular period of time. Alternate translation: [during that time]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT those days
UST While Jesus was living in Galilee
(ταῖς ἡμέραις ἐκείναις)

Here, the phrase those days refers to the period of time before Jesus began his public ministry. During this time, Jesus lived in Nazareth with his family. Matthew is not referring to the period of time in which Joseph, Mary, and Jesus traveled back from Egypt to Galilee. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer more explicitly to the time period in which Jesus lived in Nazareth. Alternate translation: [the days when Jesus lived in Nazareth] or [the days before Jesus began his ministry]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT John the Baptist comes
UST a man whom people called John the Baptizer went (παραγίνεται Ἰωάννης ὁ Βαπτιστὴς)

This phrase introduces a new character into the story. If your language has an expression of its own that serves this purpose, you could use it here. Alternate translation: [there is a man named John the Baptist] or [a man called John the Baptist appears]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT comes
UST went (παραγίνεται)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [came]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
days	While Jesus was living in Galilee
John the Baptist	a man whom people called John the Baptizer
preaching	He proclaimed
wilderness	a desolate area
of Judea	in the region of Judea

Matthew 3:2

ULT	UST
saying, "Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens is near."	"Stop doing what is wrong! {You should do that} because God is about to establish his heavenly kingdom here."

ULT saying
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens is near UST Stop doing what is wrong! {You should do that} because God is about to establish his heavenly kingdom here
(μετανοεῖτε, ἤγγικεν γὰρ ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the command in the first clause. Alternate translation: [The kingdom of the heavens is near, so repent]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the kingdom of the heavens
UST his heavenly kingdom
(ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

John the Baptist is referring to God's kingdom that currently exists in the heavens. A kingdom is a situation in which a king rules over his people in a specific area. See the book introduction for more information about the kingdom of the heavens. Consider how you might express this idea here and throughout the rest of Matthew. Alternate translation: [God's complete reign] or [the ability to be fully God's people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT is near
> UST God is about to establish … here
> (ἤγγικεν)

Matthew uses this phrase in the sense of near in time. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [is about to begin] or [is about to happen]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Repent	Stop doing what is wrong
kingdom of the heavens	his heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 3:3

ULT	UST
For this is the one spoken of through Isaiah the prophet, saying, “A voice of one calling out in the wilderness, ‘Make ready the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.’”	That man is the one about whom the Lord said, by speaking through the prophet Isaiah, “In the desolate place, someone will be calling out {to the people}: ‘Prepare yourselves to receive the Lord! Make yourselves ready for when he comes!’”

ULT For
(γάρ)

Here, the word For introduces a further explanation of what Matthew has said about John the Baptist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [In fact,] or [Now]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the one spoken of
UST the one about whom the Lord said
(ὁ ῥηθεὶς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the one about whom the Lord spoke]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT saying
(λέγοντος)

In Matthew’s culture, saying was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Isaiah the prophet (see Isaiah 40:3). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in his book] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT A voice of one calling out
UST someone will be calling out {to the people}
(φωνὴ βοῶντος)

Isaiah is using voice to represent a person speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A person calling out] or [Someone calling out]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT of one calling out in the wilderness
UST In the desolate place … will be calling out {to the people}
(βοῶντος ἐν τῇ ἐρήμῳ)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [of one calling out in the wilderness and saying] or [of one calling out in the wilderness, declaring]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT the wilderness, Make ready the way of the Lord, make his paths straight
UST the desolate place … Prepare yourselves to receive the Lord! Make yourselves ready for when he comes (τῇ ἐρήμῳ: ἑτοιμάσατε τὴν ὁδὸν Κυρίου; εὐθείας ποιεῖτε τὰς τρίβους αὐτοῦ)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. If you do, you will need to delete the single quotation mark at the end of this quotation. Alternate translation: [the wilderness that people must make ready the way of the Lord, that they must make his paths straight]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

> ULT Make ready the way of the Lord, make his paths straight
> UST Prepare yourselves to receive the Lord! Make yourselves ready for when he comes > (ἑτοιμάσατε τὴν ὁδὸν Κυρίου; εὐθείας ποιεῖτε τὰς τρίβους αὐτοῦ)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a connecting word in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Make ready the way of the Lord; yes, make his paths straight]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT Make ready the way of the Lord, make his paths straight
> UST Prepare yourselves to receive the Lord! Make yourselves ready for when he comes > (ἑτοιμάσατε τὴν ὁδὸν Κυρίου; εὐθείας ποιεῖτε τὰς τρίβους αὐτοῦ)

Here Isaiah speaks as if people should build and maintain roads for the Lord to travel on as he comes to visit his people. He means that people need to be living and acting in the proper ways when the Lord appears to his people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the metaphor in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Live and behave in a way that pleases God, as if you were making a road ready for him to travel on]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Isaiah	Isaiah
prophet	prophet
of one calling out	will be calling out {to the people} wilderness	desolate place of the Lord	yourselves to receive the Lord

Matthew 3:4

ULT	UST
Now this John had his clothing from the hair of a camel and a leather belt around his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey.	As for this man John, he wore rough clothes that he made out of camel's hair. He fastened around his waist a belt that he made from animal skin. He ate grasshoppers and honey that he found in that desolate area.

ULT Now this John
UST As for this man John
(αὐτὸς δὲ ὁ Ἰωάννης)

Matthew uses the word Now to introduce background information that will help readers understand what happens next. The word does not introduce another event in the story. This background information is found in 3:4–6. Use a natural form in your language for introducing background information. Alternate translation: [Concerning this John, he]

Support Reference: Background Information

ULT had his clothing from the hair of a camel
UST he wore rough clothes that he made out of camel's hair
(εἶχεν τὸ ἔνδυμα αὐτοῦ ἀπὸ τριχῶν καμήλου)

The phrase had his clothing from the hair of a camel means that he wore clothes made from camels' hair. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [wore clothing made from the hair of camels]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT a leather belt
UST He fastened … a belt that he made from animal skin
(ζώνην δερματίνην)

A leather belt is a thin strap made out of animal skin that holds clothing in place. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of clothing, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [an animal skin strap] or [a band made from animal skin]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John	John

ULT	UST
of a camel	camel’s
waist	waist
locusts	grasshoppers
honey	honey

Matthew 3:5

ULT	UST
Then were going out to him Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the {region} around the Jordan,	At that time, people who lived in the city of Jerusalem, many people who lived in the region of Judea, and many people who lived near the Jordan River often went to listen to John.

ULT Then
UST At that time
(τότε)

Here, the word Then refers to the period of time in which John was preaching in the wilderness (see 3:1). If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [While John was preaching,] or [During the time when John was in the wilderness,]

Support Reference: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

ULT were going out
UST often went to listen
(ἐξεπορεύετο)

In a context such as this, your language might say “coming” instead of going. Alternate translation: [were coming out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the {region} around the Jordan
UST people who lived in the city of Jerusalem, many people who lived in the region of Judea, and many people who lived near the Jordan River
(Ἱεροσόλυμα, καὶ πᾶσα ἡ Ἰουδαία, καὶ πᾶσα ἡ περίχωρος τοῦ Ἰορδάνου)

Here, the terms Jerusalem, Judea, and the {region} around the Jordan represent the people who lived in those areas. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people from Jerusalem, and people from all Judea, and people from all the region around the Jordan]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT all Judea, and all the {region} around the Jordan
> UST many people who lived in the region of Judea, and many people who lived near the Jordan River
> (πᾶσα ἡ Ἰουδαία, καὶ πᾶσα ἡ περίχωρος τοῦ Ἰορδάνου)

Matthew twice says all as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [most of Judea, and most of the region around the Jordan]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jerusalem	people who lived in the city of Jerusalem
Judea	many people who lived in the region of Judea
Jordan	Jordan River

Matthew 3:6

ULT	UST
and being baptized by him in the Jordan River, confessing their sins.	Many of these people agreed that they had sinned. Then, John baptized them in the Jordan River.

ULT being baptized by him in the Jordan River, confessing their sins
UST Many of these people agreed that they had sinned. Then, John baptized them in the Jordan River (ἐβαπτίζοντο ἐν τῷ Ἰορδάνῃ Ποταμῷ ὑπ᾽ αὐτοῦ, ἐξομολογούμενοι τὰς ἁμαρτίας αὐτῶν)

Here the people were confessing their sins before they were being baptized. If it would be helpful in your language, you could rearrange the elements so that these events are in sequential order, or you could use another form to indicate the sequence. Alternate translation: [confessing their sins, they were being baptized by him in the Jordan River] or [being baptized by him in the Jordan River after they confessed their sins]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT being baptized by him
UST Then, John baptized them
(ἐβαπτίζοντο & ὑπ᾽ αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he was baptizing them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT confessing
UST Many of these people agreed (ἐξομολογούμενοι)

Here it is the people who are confessing, not John. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as they confessed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
being baptized	Then … baptized them
Jordan River	Jordan River
confessing	Many of these people agreed

ULT	UST
sins	that they had sinned

Matthew 3:7

ULT	UST
Now, having seen many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for his baptism, he said to them, "Offspring of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?	In fact, many men from the Pharisee sect and from the Sadducee sect went to John so that he would baptize them. When he saw them, he declared to them, "You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes! You think that if I baptize you, God will spare you when he punishes sinners. {But I did not say that!}

ULT Now
UST In fact
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT for his baptism
UST so that he would baptize them
(ἐπὶ τὸ βάπτισμα αὐτοῦ)

Here, the phrase for his baptism could indicate that the Pharisees and Sadducees are coming: (1) so that they can receive John's baptism. Alternate translation: [to receive his baptism]; (2) to the place where John is baptizing. Alternate translation: [to where he was baptizing] or [to the place of his baptism]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for his baptism
UST so that he would baptize them
(ἐπὶ τὸ βάπτισμα αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of baptism, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to be baptized by him]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT Offspring of vipers
> UST You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes
> (γεννήματα ἐχιδνῶν)

The expression Offspring of is an idiom that means a person shares the qualities of something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You are like vipers] or [You have the qualities of vipers]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT Offspring of vipers
> UST You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes
> (γεννήματα ἐχιδνῶν)

Here John speaks of the Pharisees and Sadducees as if they were like vipers (see the previous note for the meaning of the phrase Offspring of). He means that they are evil and hurt other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You are like poisonous creatures] or [You evil people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT of vipers
> UST You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes
> (ἐχιδνῶν)

If your readers would not recognize the name vipers, which refers to dangerous poisonous snakes, you could state something more general. Alternate translation: [of poisonous snakes] or [of poisonous animals]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath
UST You think that if I baptize you, God will spare you when he punishes sinners. {But I did not say that … } (τίς ὑπέδειξεν ὑμῖν φυγεῖν ἀπὸ τῆς μελλούσης ὀργῆς)

John is using the question form to rebuke the Pharisees and Sadducees for coming to be baptized by him when they really do not believe that they need to flee from the coming wrath. In other words, they want to be baptized, but they do not think that they need to repent of anything. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I realize that you do not really think that you need to flee from the coming wrath!] or [You do not actually believe that you must flee from the coming wrath.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the coming wrath
UST when he punishes sinners
(τῆς μελλούσης ὀργῆς)

Here, the word wrath refers to how God will punish people who do not believe and who disobey him. The word coming means that the wrath will happen soon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [the future punishment] or [the punishment that God will soon inflict]

Support Reference: Personification

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the Pharisees	from the Pharisee sect
Sadducees	from the Sadducee sect
baptism	so that he would baptize them
of vipers	You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes
wrath	when he punishes sinners

Matthew 3:8

ULT	UST
Therefore, produce fruit worthy of repentance.	You need to do the things that show that you have truly rejected your previous sinful way of living!

ULT Therefore
(οὖν)

The word Therefore introduces an exhortation based on what John said in rebuking the Pharisees and Sadducees in the previous verse (see 3:7). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an exhortation based on a previous rebuke. Alternate translation: [Instead] or [But here is what you should do:]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT produce fruit
UST You need to do the things
(ποιήσατε & καρπὸν)

Here, John is speaking of people behaving in certain ways as if they were trees producing fruit. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [act in ways] or [perform deeds]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT worthy of repentance
UST that show that you have truly rejected your previous sinful way of living (ἄξιον τῆς μετανοίας)

Here, John is using the possessive form to describe fruit that matches or goes along with repentance. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that goes along with repentance] or [that shows repentance]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT of repentance
> UST that you have truly rejected your previous sinful way of living > (τῆς μετανοίας)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of repentance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [of repenting] or [of people who repent]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fruit	the things
of repentance	that you have truly rejected your previous sinful way of living

Matthew 3:9

ULT	UST
And you should not think to say in yourselves, 'We have Abraham {as} father.' For I say to you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones.	Do not think to yourselves, '{Certainly God will not punish us, because} we are descendants of Abraham!' {That does not impress God.} Let me assure you, God could turn these stones into descendants of Abraham!

ULT to say in yourselves
UST to yourselves
(λέγειν ἐν ἑαυτοῖς)

Here, the phrase in yourselves could indicate that the Pharisees and Sadducees might speak: (1) within themselves, which would be thinking privately. Alternate translation: [to say within yourselves] or [to say to yourselves]; (2) within their group, which would be speaking to each other. Alternate translation: [to say to each other]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in yourselves, 'We have Abraham {as} father
UST to yourselves, '{Certainly God will not punish us, because} we are descendants of Abraham
(ἐν ἑαυτοῖς, πατέρα ἔχομεν τὸν Ἀβραάμ)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. If you use the following alternate translation, you will need to delete the quotation mark at the end of the sentence. Alternate translation: [among yourselves that you have Abraham as father]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT {as} father
UST {Certainly God will not punish us, because} we are descendants of (πατέρα)

Here, the word father means "ancestor." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar phrase or plain language. Alternate translation: [as ancestor]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT For
UST That does not impress God
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why the Pharisees and Sadducees should not say We have Abraham {as} father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a command, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [In fact,] or [You should not say that because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT to you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones
UST you, God could turn these stones into descendants of Abraham
(ὑμῖν, ὅτι δύναται ὁ Θεὸς ἐκ τῶν λίθων τούτων ἐγεῖραι τέκνα τῷ Ἀβραάμ)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [to you, “God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones.”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones
UST God could turn these stones into descendants of Abraham
(δύναται ὁ Θεὸς ἐκ τῶν λίθων τούτων ἐγεῖραι τέκνα τῷ Ἀβραάμ)

Here John means that God can create children for Abraham at any time and in any way he wants, even from stones. He means that people who have Abraham {as} father will not receive special treatment from God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God is able to create other children for Abraham, even from these stones] or [God can raise up more children for Abraham any time he wants to, and he could turn even these stones into children for Abraham]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT children for Abraham
UST descendants of Abraham
(τέκνα τῷ Ἀβραάμ)

Here, the word children means “descendants.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar phrase or plain language. Alternate translation: [people descended from Abraham]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Abraham	Abraham
God	God
for Abraham	of Abraham

Matthew 3:10

ULT	UST
But already the ax is set against the root of the trees. So, every tree not producing good fruit is chopped down and thrown into a fire.	You are like fruit trees that do not produce good fruit. God is like a man who is positioning the head of his axe at the base of those trees, ready to chop them down and throw them into the fire. God is ready to punish you like that if you continue sinning.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a development of the ideas in the previous verse. It also introduces a slight contrast with God being able to make children of Abraham from stones. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Further,] or [As a matter of fact,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT already the ax is set against the root of the trees. So, every tree not producing good fruit is chopped down and thrown into a fire
UST You are like fruit trees that do not produce good fruit. God is like a man who is positioning the head of his axe at the base of those trees, ready to chop them down and throw them into the fire. God is ready to punish you like that if you continue sinning
(ἤδη & ἡ ἀξίνη πρὸς τὴν ῥίζαν τῶν δένδρων κεῖται; πᾶν οὖν δένδρον μὴ ποιοῦν καρπὸν καλὸν ἐκκόπτεται καὶ εἰς πῦρ βάλλεται)

In this verse, John speaks as if people were trees and as if God had an ax. Every person who does not repent and do what is right is like a tree that does not produce good fruit. Just as someone chops down these trees and burns them, so God will punish these people. If possible preserve the metaphor here. You could use simile form, or if necessary, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [already it is as if the ax is set against the root of the trees. Every person who does not repent and obey is like a tree that does not produce good fruit. It is chopped down and thrown into a fire] or [already God is ready to judge people. So, anyone who does not repent and obey will be declared guilty and punished]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the ax is set
> UST God is like a man who is positioning the head of his axe > (ἡ ἀξίνη & κεῖται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God has set the ax]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the root of the trees
> UST the base of those trees
> (τὴν ῥίζαν τῶν δένδρων)

In this verse, the word root is singular in form, but it refers to all the roots of the trees as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [the roots of the trees]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT the root
> UST the base
> (τὴν ῥίζαν)

Here, the word root refers to the lowest part of the tree that shows above the ground. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the base] or [lowest part]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT every tree not producing good fruit is chopped down and thrown into a fire
> UST You are like fruit trees that do not produce good fruit … ready to chop them down and throw them into the fire. God is ready to punish you like that if you continue sinning
> (πᾶν & δένδρον μὴ ποιοῦν καρπὸν καλὸν ἐκκόπτεται καὶ εἰς πῦρ βάλλεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God chops down every tree not producing good fruit and throws it into a fire]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT is chopped down and thrown
> UST ready to chop them down and throw them
> (ἐκκόπτεται καὶ & βάλλεται)

Here John could be using the present tense to describe: (1) something that is generally true. Alternate translation: [is being chopped down and is being thrown]; (2) something that will happen in the future but is as certain as if it was happening in the present. Alternate translation: [will be chopped down and will be thrown]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
ax	the head of his axe
good	good
fruit	fruit

Matthew 3:11

ULT	UST
I indeed baptize you with water for repentance. But the one coming after me is more powerful than I, of whom I am not worthy to carry away his sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire,	I use water to baptize you so that you stop doing what is wrong. However, soon you will see someone else who is more powerful than I am. It is not appropriate for me to be even his servant. He will give you the Holy Spirit and make you pure.

ULT for repentance
UST so that you stop doing what is wrong
(εἰς μετάνοιαν)

Here, the phrase for repentance could describe: (1) the purpose for which John baptizes people. Alternate translation: [so that you repent]; (2) what John's baptism represents or signifies. Alternate translation: [with reference to repentance] or [to show your repentance]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for repentance
UST so that you stop doing what is wrong
(εἰς μετάνοιαν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of repentance, you could express the same idea in another way. Make sure your translation fits with the option you chose in the previous note. Alternate translation: [in order that you might repent] or [to show that you have repented]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the one coming after me
UST soon you will see someone else
(ὁ & ὀπίσω μου ἐρχόμενος)

Here John speaks as if someone is walking behind him. He could mean that: (1) soon someone will continue what John has started doing. Alternate translation: [the one who will preach after I have]; (2) one of his own disciples will become greater than he. Alternate translation: [one of my disciples]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I
UST than I am
(μού)

John is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [I am]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT I am not worthy to carry away his sandals
UST It is not appropriate for me to be even his servant
(οὐκ εἰμὶ ἱκανὸς τὰ ὑποδήματα βαστάσαι)

Here, to carry someone's sandals was a duty of a slave. John means that he is not worthy to be a slave to this person who is coming after him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I am not worthy to be the slave who carries away his sandals] or [I am not worthy to act as his slave]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire
UST He will give you the Holy Spirit and make you pure (αὐτὸς ὑμᾶς βαπτίσει ἐν Πνεύματι Ἁγίῳ καὶ πυρί)

Here John indicates that the one coming after him will cause people to experience the Holy Spirit and fire, just as John caused people to experience water in baptism. If possible, preserve the baptism metaphor or express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [He will baptize you, as it were, with the Holy Spirit and with fire] or [He also will perform something like baptism, but he will use the Holy Spirit and fire]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with the Holy Spirit and with fire
UST will give … the Holy Spirit and make you pure
(ἐν Πνεύματι Ἁγίῳ καὶ πυρί)

Here, the word fire could be: (1) a reference to how Jesus will purify people. Alternate translation: [with the Holy Spirit and purifying fire]; (2) a reference to how Jesus will punish people. Alternate translation: [with the Holy Spirit and with fiery punishment]; (3) a further description of the Holy Spirit. Alternate translation: [with the fire that is the Holy Spirit]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
baptize	to baptize
repentance	you stop doing what is wrong
more powerful than	more powerful to carry away	to be even his servant
sandals	to be even his servant
will baptize	will give
the Holy Spirit	the Holy Spirit

Matthew 3:12

ULT	UST
whose winnowing fork {is} in his hand, and he will thoroughly clear off his threshing floor and gather his wheat into the storehouse. But he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire."	{The Messiah is ready to do that, just like} a farmer who has his winnowing fork ready to use. A farmer separates all the good grain from the useless chaff. He stores the grain safely in his barn, but he burns the chaff until it is all gone. {Much like that farmer, the Messiah will preserve the people who obey God, and he will punish the people who disobey God.}"

ULT whose winnowing fork {is} in his hand, and he will thoroughly clear off his threshing floor and gather his wheat into the storehouse. But he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire

UST The Messiah is ready to do that, just like} a farmer who has his winnowing fork ready to use. A farmer separates all the good grain from the useless chaff. He stores the grain safely in his barn, but he burns the chaff until it is all gone. {Much like that farmer, the Messiah will preserve the people who obey God, and he will punish the people who disobey God … }

(οὗ τὸ πτύον ἐν τῇ χειρὶ αὐτοῦ; καὶ διακαθαριεῖ τὴν ἅλωνα αὐτοῦ, καὶ συνάξει τὸν σῖτον αὐτοῦ εἰς τὴν ἀποθήκην; τὸ δὲ ἄχυρον κατακαύσει πυρὶ ἀσβέστῳ)

In this verse, John describes the one who comes after him as a farmer who separates the useful grains of wheat from the other parts of the wheat plant by using a winnowing fork to clear of his threshing floor. Just as that farmer separates the grain from the chaff, so the one who comes after John will separate those who obey from those who do not. Just as that farmer saves the grain and burns up the chaff, so the one who comes after John will save those who obey and punish those who do not. If possible, preserve this metaphor. If necessary, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who is like a farmer with a winnowing fork in his hand. He will separate those who obey God from those who do not, just as a farmer thoroughly clears off his fleshing floor. He will save those who obey and punish those who disobey, just as a farmer gathers his wheat into the storehouse and burns up the chaff with unquenchable fire] or [who is ready to act, and he will separate those who obey God from those who disobey God. He will save those who obey and completely punish those who disobey]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT whose winnowing fork {is} in his hand
UST {The Messiah is ready to do that, just like} a farmer who has his winnowing fork ready to use
(οὗ τὸ πτύον ἐν τῇ χειρὶ αὐτοῦ)

Here, the phrase in his hand indicates that a person is ready to use whatever is in his or her hand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who has picked up his winnowing fork] or [who is ready to use his winnowing fork]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT winnowing fork
UST his winnowing fork
(τὸ πτύον)

A winnowing fork is a tool for tossing wheat into the air to separate the wheat grain from the chaff. The heavier grain falls back down, and the wind blows away the unwanted chaff. This tool is similar to a pitchfork. If you have a similar tool in your culture, you can use the word for it here. Otherwise, you can use a phrase that would express the meaning. Alternate translation: [tool for winnowing grain] or [tool for tossing seeds]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT his threshing floor
UST A farmer separates all the good grain from the useless chaff
(τὴν ἅλωνα αὐτοῦ)

The threshing floor was the place where harvested wheat was processed to separate the grain from the chaff. To clear off the floor is to finish threshing and winnowing all the grain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to where threshing happens in your culture, or you could use a descriptive phrase. Alternate translation: [the place where he separates the grain from the chaff]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
winnowing fork	his winnowing fork
threshing floor	A farmer separates all the good grain from the useless chaff
wheat	the grain … the people who obey God

ULT	UST
chaff	the chaff … the people who disobey God

Matthew 3:13

ULT	UST
Then Jesus comes from Galilee to the Jordan, to John, to be baptized by him.	After {John began preaching and baptizing people}, Jesus traveled from the region of Galilee to where John was near the Jordan River. He wanted John to baptize him.

ULT Then
UST After {John began preaching and baptizing people}
(τότε)

Here, the word Then introduces the next major event in the story. It does not indicate how soon this event happened after the events that Matthew has already narrated. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event in sequence. Alternate translation: [Sometime after that,] or [After John said those things,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT comes
UST traveled
(παραγίνεται)

In a context such as this, your language might say “goes” instead of comes. Alternate translation: [goes]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT comes
UST traveled
(παραγίνεται)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [came]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT to be baptized by him
> UST He wanted John to baptize him
> (τοῦ βαπτισθῆναι ὑπ’ αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [so that John would baptize him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Galilee	the region of Galilee
Jordan	the Jordan River
John	where John was to be baptized	He wanted … to baptize him

Matthew 3:14

ULT	UST
But John was hindering him, saying, "I have need to be baptized by you, and yet you come to me?"	However, John did not want to baptize him. He said to Jesus, "You should not want me to baptize you. Actually, I need you to baptize me!"

ULT was hindering him
UST did not want to baptize him
(διεκώλυεν αὐτὸν)

Matthew means that John did not want to baptize Jesus and tried to stop Jesus from asking him to do it. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [was trying to prevent Jesus from wanting to be baptized] or [was resisting Jesus' request to be baptized]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST He said to Jesus
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT to be baptized by you
UST you to baptize me
(ὑπὸ σοῦ βαπτισθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [for you to baptize me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT you … you
UST You … you
(σοῦ & σὺ)

Since John is speaking to Jesus, the word you is singular throughout this verse.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT and yet you come to me
> UST You should not want me to baptize you
> (καὶ σὺ ἔρχῃ πρός με)

John is using the question form to show surprise at Jesus' request to be baptized. He wants to show that the request does not make sense. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [so you should not come to me!] or [so it does not make sense for you to come to me.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT come to me
> UST should not want me to baptize you > (ἔρχῃ πρός με)

Here John implies that Jesus comes to be baptized. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [come to me to be baptized]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John	John
to be baptized	to baptize me

Matthew 3:15

ULT	UST
But answering, Jesus said to him, "Permit {it} now, for in this way it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness." Then he permits him.	Jesus answered him, "Please {baptize me} at this time. When you do, you and I will be acting appropriately by doing what God requires." After {Jesus said that,} John agreed {to baptize} him.

ULT answering, Jesus said to him
UST Jesus answered him
(ἀποκριθεὶς & ὁ Ἰησοῦς εἶπεν πρὸς αὐτόν)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [Jesus responded]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Permit {it} now, for in this way it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness
UST Please {baptize me} at this time. When you do, you and I will be acting appropriately by doing what God requires (ἄφες ἄρτι; οὕτως γὰρ πρέπον ἐστὶν ἡμῖν πληρῶσαι πᾶσαν δικαιοσύνην)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the request that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [Baptizing me is a fitting way for us to fulfill all righteousness. So, permit it now]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Permit {it} … he permits him
UST Please {baptize me} … John agreed {to baptize} him (ἄφες & ἀφίησιν αὐτόν)

In both places, Matthew implies that John should or does permit Jesus to be baptized. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Permit me to be baptized … he permitted him to be baptized]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT Permit {it}
> UST Please {baptize me}
> (ἄφες)

Since Jesus is speaking to John, the command Permit is singular here.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT for us
> UST you and I
> (ἡμῖν)

Here, the word us refers only to Jesus and John. Your language may require you to mark this form.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

> ULT to fulfill all righteousness
> UST by doing what God requires > (πληρῶσαι πᾶσαν δικαιοσύνην)

The phrase to fulfill all righteousness means to do everything that God requires someone to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or plain language. Alternate translation: [to accomplish God's will] or [to do everything that God has told us to do]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT all righteousness
> UST what God requires
> (πᾶσαν δικαιοσύνην)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [everything that is righteous] or [all of God's righteous will]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT he permits him
> UST John agreed {to baptize} him
> (ἀφίησιν αὐτόν)

Here, the word he refers to John, and the word him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the people's names here. Alternate translation: [John permits Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
to fulfill	by doing
righteousness	what God requires

Matthew 3:16

ULT	UST
Now, having been baptized, Jesus immediately came up from the water, and behold, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God coming down like a dove, resting upon him,	Right after John baptized him, Jesus walked out of the River Jordan. Then, God allowed him to see into heaven! He saw that the Holy Spirit, who looked like a small bird, was descending {from heaven} and landing on him.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having been baptized
UST John baptized him
(βαπτισθεὶς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was John. Alternate translation: [John having baptized him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT came up from the water
UST walked out of the River Jordan
(ἀνέβη ἀπὸ τοῦ ὕδατος)

Matthew implies that Jesus was in the River Jordan when he was baptized. Afterwards, he came up out of the river. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [left the water of the river] or [stepped out of the river]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT behold
> (ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [listen] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the heavens were opened to him
> UST God allowed him to see into heaven
> (ἀνεῴχθησαν αὐτῷ οἱ οὐρανοί)

People in Matthew's culture often spoke of how the heavens had doors or gates that led into them. Matthew uses this kind of language (doors being opened) to indicate that Jesus saw into the heavens. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he was enabled to look into the heavens] or [God showed him what was happening in the heavens]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the heavens were opened to him
> UST God allowed him to see into heaven
> (ἀνεῴχθησαν αὐτῷ οἱ οὐρανοί)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God opened the heavens to him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the Spirit of God coming down like a dove
> UST that the Holy Spirit, who looked like a small bird, was descending {from heaven}
> (τὸ Πνεῦμα τοῦ Θεοῦ καταβαῖνον ὡσεὶ περιστερὰν)

The phrase like a dove could mean: (1) the Spirit looked like a dove as he descended upon Jesus. Alternate translation: [the Spirit of God coming down, looking like a dove]; (2) the Spirit descended upon Jesus as a dove descends from the sky toward the ground. Alternate translation: [the Spirit of God coming down as a dove flies down]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT coming down
UST was descending {from heaven}
(καταβαῖνον)

Matthew implies that the Spirit of God came down from the heavens. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [coming down from the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT resting upon him
UST and landing on him
(ἐρχόμενον ἐπ᾽ αὐτόν)

Matthew implies that the Spirit of God settled or landed on Jesus, just like a bird might settle or land on something. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [perching upon him] or [settling on him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having been baptized	John baptized him
Jesus	Jesus
heavens	heaven
Spirit of God	that the Holy Spirit
a dove	a small bird

Matthew 3:17

ULT	UST
and behold, a voice from the heavens, saying, "This is my beloved Son with whom I am well pleased."	Then God spoke from heaven! He declared, "This man is my Son, the one whom I love dearly. What he does pleases me."

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [listen] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a voice from the heavens
UST God spoke from heaven
(φωνὴ ἐκ τῶν οὐρανῶν)

Matthew is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply a verb of speaking if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [a voice spoke from the heavens]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT a voice
UST God spoke
(φωνὴ)

Matthew is using voice to represent the person who is speaking, which is God the Father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a person speaking] or [God the Father spoke]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT saying
UST He declared
(λέγουσα)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and it said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT my beloved Son
UST my Son, the one whom I love dearly
(ὁ Υἱός μου, ὁ ἀγαπητός)

The word Son is an important title for Jesus, the Son of God.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT beloved Son
UST Son, the one whom I love dearly
(ὁ Υἱός & ὁ ἀγαπητός)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [my Son, whom I love,]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT I am well pleased
UST pleases me
(εὐδόκησα)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [who pleases me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
heavens	heaven
beloved	the one whom I love dearly
Son	Son
I am well pleased	pleases me

Matthew 4

Matthew 4 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. The birth of Jesus Christ and the beginning of his ministry (1:1–4:25)
    - The devil tempts Jesus (4:1–11)
    - Jesus begins his public ministry (4:12–17)
    - Jesus calls four of his disciples (4:18–22)
    - Summary of Jesus' early ministry (4:23–25)

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the poetry in 4:15–16, which are words from the Old Testament.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

The Devil

The devil, also named Satan, is an evil spiritual being. In this chapter, he tempts Jesus to disobey God. He even quotes the Bible to try to convince Jesus to disobey. Consider how you might naturally refer to a powerful and evil spiritual being.

Temptation

In 4:1–11, Matthew tells the story of how Jesus was tempted by the devil. The devil tried to convince Jesus to do things that would be disobedient. Jesus already knew how he was supposed to live his life and how he was supposed to die on the cross. The devil tempted Jesus to act in a different way. In response, Jesus quotes the Bible and does not do what the devil tempts him to do.

Fishermen

Four of Jesus' first disciples (Peter, Andrew, James, and John) were fishermen. In their culture, fishermen usually stood on the shore or in a boat and threw a net into the water. The edges of the net had weights on it, so the net sank into the water and trapped any fish beneath it. Then, fishermen would pull on a rope to close the net and haul it to shore or onto the boat. If people in your culture do not fish or do not fish in that way, consider how much information you need to provide to help your readers understand the story.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Most of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in dialogue between Jesus and the devil. Because of this, most forms of "you" in this chapter are singular. You should assume forms of "you" are singular unless a note specifies that the form is plural. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 4:1

ULT	UST
Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil.	After that, the Holy Spirit took Jesus into a desolate area. That way, the ruling evil spirit could try to make him sin.

ULT Then
UST After that
(τότε)

Here, the word Then introduces the next major event in the story. It does not indicate how soon this event happened after the events that Matthew has already narrated. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event in sequence. Alternate translation: [Sometime after that,] or [After he heard the voice from the heavens,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT Jesus was led up by the Spirit
UST the Holy Spirit took Jesus
(ὁ Ἰησοῦς ἀνήχθη & ὑπὸ τοῦ Πνεύματος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the Spirit led Jesus up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to be tempted by the devil
UST That way, the ruling evil spirit could try to make him sin (πειρασθῆναι ὑπὸ τοῦ διαβόλου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [so that the devil could tempt Jesus]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Spirit	the Holy Spirit
wilderness	a desolate area
to be tempted	That way … could try to make him sin

ULT	UST
devil	the ruling evil spirit

Matthew 4:2

ULT	UST
And having fasted 40 days and 40 nights, afterward he was hungry.	He did not eat any food for 40 days. After that, he was hungry.

> ULT 40 days and 40 nights
> UST for 40 days
> (ἡμέρας τεσσεράκοντα καὶ νύκτας τεσσεράκοντα)

The phrase 40 days and 40 nights refers to 40 consecutive periods of 24 hours. Matthew means that Jesus fasted for 40 full days. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression. Alternate translation: [for 40 straight days]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having fasted	He did not eat any food days	for 40 days

Matthew 4:3

ULT	UST
And having approached, the one tempting said to him, "If you are the Son of God, speak so that these stones might become loaves."	Then the devil arrived. He wanted to make Jesus sin. He said to Jesus, "Show me that you really are God's Son. Command these stones to become loaves of bread {for you to eat}."

ULT the one tempting
UST He wanted to make Jesus sin
(ὁ πειράζων)

Here, the phrase the one tempting refers to the devil, whom Matthew already mentioned in 4:1. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the one tempting, the devil,] or [the devil, who was tempting him,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT If you are the Son of God, speak so that these stones might become loaves
UST Show me that you really are God's Son. Command these stones to become loaves of bread {for you to eat}
(εἰ Υἱὸς εἶ τοῦ Θεοῦ, εἰπὲ ἵνα οἱ λίθοι οὗτοι ἄρτοι γένωνται)

The devil is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that the stones will only become loaves if Jesus is the Son of God. The devil is speaking as if it is uncertain who Jesus is in order to challenge him to do this miracle to prove that he really is the Son of God. Use a natural form in your language for introducing something that could be true. Alternate translation: [Prove that you are the Son of God by speaking so that these stones might become loaves]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT the Son of God
UST God's Son
(Υἱὸς & τοῦ Θεοῦ)

The phrase Son of God is an important title for Jesus.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT speak so that these stones might become loaves
> UST Command these stones to become loaves of bread {for you to eat}
> (εἰπὲ ἵνα οἱ λίθοι οὗτοι ἄρτοι γένωνται)

Here the devil wants Jesus to tell the stones to become bread. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [tell these stones to become bread] or [speak words that make these stones become bread]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT speak so that these stones might become loaves
> UST Command these stones to become loaves of bread {for you to eat}
> (εἰπὲ ἵνα οἱ λίθοι οὗτοι ἄρτοι γένωνται)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [speak to these stones, “Become bread!”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
tempting	He wanted to make Jesus sin
the Son	Son
of God	God’s loaves	loaves of bread {for you to eat}

Matthew 4:4

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said, "It is written, 'Man will not live on bread alone, but by every word coming through the mouth of God.'"	Jesus responded, "{I will not do that}, because Moses wrote in the Scriptures, 'People need more than food to stay alive. {They also need to do} everything that God tells {them to do}.'"

ULT he, answering, said
UST Jesus responded
(ὁ & ἀποκριθεὶς εἶπεν)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [he answered] or [he said to him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT It is written
UST {I will not do that}, because Moses wrote in the Scriptures
(γέγραπται)

In Matthew's culture, it is written was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the book of Deuteronomy (see Deuteronomy 8:3). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [You can read in the Scriptures] or [It says in the book of Deuteronomy]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT It is written
UST {I will not do that}, because Moses wrote in the Scriptures
(γέγραπται)

If your language does not use the passive form, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Moses wrote this in the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT will not live
> UST need … to stay alive
> (οὐκ & ζήσεται)

The author of the quotation could be using the future tense to give: (1) a general statement. Alternate translation: [does not live]; (2) a command. Alternate translation: [should not live]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

> ULT Man
> UST People
> (ὁ ἄνθρωπος)

The word Man represents people in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [Humans]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT Man
> UST People
> (ὁ ἄνθρωπος)

Although the term Man is masculine, the author of the quotation is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Man and woman] or [A person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT bread
> UST food
> (ἄρτῳ)

Here, bread represents food and eating in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [food] or [eating]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT but by
UST {They also need to do} everything
(ἀλλ᾽ ἐπὶ)

The author of the quotation is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but he must live by]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT every word
UST { … to do} everything
(παντὶ ῥήματι)

The author of the quotation is using the term word to mean a message spoken in words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [every message] or [everything]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT coming through the mouth of God
UST that God tells {them to do}
(ἐκπορευομένῳ διὰ στόματος Θεοῦ)

Here, the phrase coming through the mouth of God indicates that God is the one speaking every word. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that God has spoken] or [that God says]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bread	food
of God	that God tells {them to do}

Matthew 4:5

ULT	UST
Then the devil takes him into the holy city, and he set him on the highest point of the temple,	After that, the ruling evil spirit transported Jesus to {Jerusalem,} the sacred city. He made him stand on the highest part of the temple.

ULT takes
UST transported
(παραλαμβάνει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [took]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT the highest point of the temple
UST the highest part of the temple
(τὸ πτερύγιον τοῦ ἱεροῦ)

Here, the phrase highest point could refer to: (1) the top part of the roof. Alternate translation: [the top of the roof of the temple]; (2) the edge of the roof. Alternate translation: [the edge of the temple's roof]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
devil	the ruling evil spirit
holy	{Jerusalem,} the sacred city
holy city	{Jerusalem,} the sacred city
of … temple	the temple

Matthew 4:6

ULT	UST
and says to him, “If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written, ‘He will command his angels concerning you,’ and, ‘They will lift you up in their hands, lest you strike your foot against a stone.’”	Then, he said to Jesus, “Show me that you really are God’s Son. Jump from here! {You will not hurt yourself,} because it says in the Scriptures, ‘God will tell his angels {to protect} you. They will carry you, and you will not hurt yourself at all.’”

ULT says to him
UST he said to Jesus
(λέγει αὐτῷ)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [he tells him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT says
UST he said
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down
UST Show me that you really are God’s Son. Jump from here
(εἰ Υἱὸς εἶ τοῦ Θεοῦ, βάλε σεαυτὸν κάτω)

The devil is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that the angels will only rescue Jesus if Jesus is the Son of God. The devil is speaking as if it is uncertain who Jesus is in order to challenge him to throw himself down to prove that he really is the Son of God. Use a natural form in your language for introducing something that could be true. Alternate translation: [Prove that you are the Son of God by throwing yourself down]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

> ULT the Son of God
> UST God's Son
> (Υἱὸς & τοῦ Θεοῦ)

The phrase Son of God is an important title for Jesus.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT throw yourself down
> UST Jump from here
> (βάλε σεαυτὸν κάτω)

When Satan tells Jesus to throw yourself down, he means that Jesus should jump off the top of the temple. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [jump from here on top of the temple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT for it is written
> UST {You will not hurt yourself,} because it says in the Scriptures > (γέγραπται γὰρ)

In Matthew's culture, for it is written was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book of Psalms (see Psalm 91:11–12). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [for it is written in the book of Psalms] or [for the psalmist wrote]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT it is written
> UST it says in the Scriptures
> (γέγραπται)

If your language does not use the passive form, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a poet wrote this in the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT it is written, He will command his angels concerning you,' and, 'They will lift you up in their hands, lest you strike your foot against a stone
UST it says in the Scriptures, God will tell his angels {to protect} you. They will carry you, and you will not hurt yourself at all
(γέγραπται & τοῖς ἀγγέλοις αὐτοῦ ἐντελεῖται περὶ σοῦ, καὶ, ἐπὶ χειρῶν ἀροῦσίν σε, μήποτε προσκόψῃς πρὸς λίθον τὸν πόδα σου)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there are not quotations within a quotation. If you do, you will need to delete the single quotation mark at the end of the second quotation. Alternate translation: [it is written that he will command his angels concerning you, and they will lift you up in their hands, lest you strike your foot against a stone]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT He will command
UST God will tell (ἐντελεῖται)

The pronoun He refers to God. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [God will command]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT you … you … you strike your
UST {to protect} you … you … you will … hurt yourself at all (σοῦ & σε & προσκόψῃς & σου)

Since the author of the quotations is addressing each specific person who is part of God's people, every occurrence of you and your in the quotations is singular. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [each of you … each of you … any of you strike your]

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT and
(καὶ)

Here, the word and connects the two quotations, which are two verses from Psalm 91. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that connects two closely related quotations. Alternate translation: [and further] or [and then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

> ULT you strike your foot against a stone
> UST you will … hurt yourself at all > (προσκόψῃς πρὸς λίθον τὸν πόδα σου)

The author of the quotation is using one way of being hurt to mean all ways of being hurt.

Alternate translation: [even your foot strikes a stone] or [you get hurt]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the Son	Son
of God	God’s angels	angels

Matthew 4:7

ULT	UST
Jesus said to him, “Again it is written, ‘You will not test the Lord your God.’”	Jesus responded, “Again, {I will not do that}, because Moses wrote in the Scriptures, ‘Do not provoke the Lord your God to see what he will do.’”

ULT Jesus said to him
UST Jesus responded
(ἔφη αὐτῷ ὁ Ἰησοῦς)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [Jesus answered]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Again it is written
UST Again, {I will not do that}, because Moses wrote in the Scriptures
(πάλιν γέγραπται)

In Matthew’s culture, it is written was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the book of Deuteronomy (see Deuteronomy 6:16). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [Again, you can read in the Scriptures] or [Again, it says in the book of Deuteronomy]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Again it is written
UST Again, {I will not do that}, because Moses wrote in the Scriptures
(πάλιν γέγραπται)

If your language does not use the passive form, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Again, Moses wrote this in the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT it is written, ‘You will not test the Lord your God
> UST {I will not do that}, because Moses wrote in the Scriptures, ‘Do not provoke the Lord your God to see what he will do
> (γέγραπται, οὐκ ἐκπειράσεις Κύριον τὸν Θεόν σου)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. If you do, you will need to delete the single quotation mark at the end of the second quotation. Alternate translation: [it is written that you shall not test the Lord your God]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

> ULT You will not test the Lord your God
> UST Do not provoke the Lord your God to see what he will do
> (οὐκ ἐκπειράσεις Κύριον τὸν Θεόν σου)

The author of the quotation is using a statement to give a command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a command form. Alternate translation: [You must not test the Lord your God]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

> ULT You will not test
> UST Do not provoke … to see what he will do > (οὐκ ἐκπειράσεις)

Since the author of the quotation is addressing each specific person who is part of God’s people, the word You here is singular. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [None of you shall test]

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
You will … test	Do … provoke … to see what he will do
the Lord	the Lord
God	God

Matthew 4:8

ULT	UST
Again, the devil takes him to a very high mountain and shows him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory.	Then, the devil transported Jesus to the top of a very tall mountain. {From there,} he showed Jesus all the nations in the world. {He showed Jesus} how rich and powerful they were.

ULT Again
UST Then
(πάλιν)

Matthew means that the devil tempted Jesus again. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Tempting him again]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT takes … shows
UST transported … {From there,} he showed (παραλαμβάνει & δείκνυσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [took … showed]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT their glory
UST how rich and powerful they were (τὴν δόξαν αὐτῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how great they are] or [how glorious they are]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
devil	the devil
kingdoms	nations
of the world	in the world
glory	how rich and powerful

Matthew 4:9

ULT	UST
And he said to him, "All these things I will give you, if having fallen down, you would worship me."	He told Jesus, "Bow down and worship me. Then, I will make you the ruler of all these countries."

ULT he said to him
UST He told Jesus
(εἶπεν αὐτῷ)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [he declared to him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT All these things I will give you, if having fallen down, you would worship me
UST Bow down and worship me. Then, I will make you the ruler of all these countries (ταῦτά σοι πάντα δώσω, ἐὰν πεσὼν προσκυνήσῃς μοι)

If it would be helpful in your language, you could put the condition before its consequence. Alternate translation: [If having fallen down, you would worship me, all these things I will give to you]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT All these things
UST all these countries
(ταῦτά & πάντα)

Here, the phrase All these things refers to the "kingdoms" and "their glory" that the devil showed to Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [All these kingdoms and their glory] or [Everything I have showed to you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having fallen down
> UST Bow down
> (πεσὼν)

Here the devil refers to kneeling on the ground or bowing down very low. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having kneeled down] or [having prostrated yourself]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having fallen down	Bow down
you would worship	and worship

Matthew 4:10

ULT	UST
Then Jesus says to him, “Go away, Satan! For it is written, ‘You will worship the Lord your God, and you will serve only him.’”	After that, Jesus responded, “Leave me, Satan! {I will not worship you,} because Moses wrote in the Scriptures, ‘You must only worship the Lord your God. He is the only one you may honor {as God}.’”

ULT Jesus says to him
UST Jesus responded
(λέγει αὐτῷ ὁ Ἰησοῦς)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [Jesus tells him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT For it is written
UST {I will not worship you,} because Moses wrote in the Scriptures (γέγραπται γάρ)

In Matthew’s culture, it is written was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the book of Deuteronomy (see Deuteronomy 6:13). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [For you can read in the Scriptures] or [For it says in the book of Deuteronomy]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT it is written
UST Moses wrote in the Scriptures
(γέγραπται)

If your language does not use the passive form, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Moses wrote this in the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT it is written, ‘You will worship the Lord your God, and you will serve only him
> UST Moses wrote in the Scriptures, ‘You must only worship the Lord your God. He is the only one you may honor {as God}
> (γέγραπται & Κύριον τὸν Θεόν σου προσκυνήσεις, καὶ αὐτῷ μόνῳ λατρεύσεις)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. If you do, you will need to delete the single quotation mark at the end of the second quotation. Alternate translation: [it is written that you shall worship the Lord your God, and you shall serve only him]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

> ULT You will worship the Lord your God, and you will serve only him
> UST You must only worship the Lord your God. He is the only one you may honor {as God}
> (Κύριον τὸν Θεόν σου προσκυνήσεις, καὶ αὐτῷ μόνῳ λατρεύσεις)

The author of the quotation is using a statement to give a command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a command form. Alternate translation: [You must worship the Lord your God, and you must serve only him]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

> ULT You will worship the Lord your God, and you will serve only him
> UST You must only worship the Lord your God. He is the only one you may honor {as God}
> (Κύριον τὸν Θεόν σου προσκυνήσεις, καὶ αὐτῷ μόνῳ λατρεύσεις)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [You must worship the Lord your God; yes, you must serve only him]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT You will worship … your … you will serve
UST You must only worship … your … you may honor {as God}
(σου προσκυνήσεις & λατρεύσεις)

Since the author of the quotations is addressing each specific person who is part of God's people, the words You, your, and you in the quotation are singular. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Each of you shall worship … your … each of you shall serve]

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Satan	Satan
You will worship	You must only worship
the Lord	the Lord
God	God
you will serve	you may honor {as God}

Matthew 4:11

ULT	UST
Then the devil leaves him, and behold, angels came and began to minister to him.	After {Jesus said that,} the ruling evil spirit went away. Then, angels arrived and took care of Jesus!

ULT leaves
UST went away
(ἀφίησιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [left]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [take notice] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
devil	ruling evil spirit
angels	angels
began to minister	took care of

Matthew 4:12

ULT	UST
Now, having heard that John had been arrested, he withdrew into Galilee.	Soon afterward, Jesus learned that {King Herod Antipas} had put John {the Baptizer} in prison. So, Jesus went back to the region of Galilee.

ULT Now
UST Soon afterward
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT John had been arrested
UST {King Herod Antipas} had put John {the Baptizer} in prison
(Ἰωάννης παρεδόθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context (see 14:1–12) that it was King Herod Antipas, the son of the king who had tried to kill Jesus. Alternate translation: [the king had arrested John]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John	John {the Baptizer}
Galilee	the region of Galilee

Matthew 4:13

ULT	UST
And having left Nazareth, having come, he lived in Capernaum by the sea, in the territories of Zebulun and Naphtali,	After he visited the town of Nazareth, he went to live in the town of Capernaum. Capernaum is next to the Sea of Galilee in the region that used to belong to the tribe of Zebulun and the tribe of Naphtali.

ULT having left Nazareth
UST After he visited the town of Nazareth
(καταλιπὼν τὴν Ναζαρὰ)

Matthew implies that when Jesus "withdrew into Galilee," he first went to the city of Nazareth. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he first went to Nazareth. Then, having left Nazareth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come, he lived in Capernaum
UST he went to live in the town of Capernaum
(ἐλθὼν κατῴκησεν εἰς Καφαρναοὺμ)

It may be more natural in your language to say where Jesus went before saying where he lived. If so, you could move in Capernaum so that it goes with having come. Alternate translation: [having come to Capernaum, he lived there]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT by the sea
UST Capernaum is next to the Sea of Galilee
(τὴν παραθαλασσίαν)

Matthew is referring to the sea of Galilee. The town of Capernaum was at the edge of this sea. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [by the Galilee sea]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT in the territories of Zebulun and Naphtali
> UST in the region that used to belong to the tribe of Zebulun and the tribe of Naphtali
> (ἐν ὁρίοις Ζαβουλὼν καὶ Νεφθαλείμ)

The words Zebulun and Naphtali are the names of the tribes that lived in these territories many years earlier. Matthew uses these names to connect where Jesus lived with the prophecy he will quote in 4:15. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that these are names of tribes. Alternate translation: [in the territories that the tribes of Zebulun and Naphtali formerly lived in]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Nazareth	the town of Nazareth
Capernaum	the town of Capernaum of Zebulun	that used to belong to the tribe of Zebulun
Naphtali	the tribe of Naphtali

Matthew 4:14

ULT	UST
so that it might be fulfilled what was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,	So, what God said by speaking through the prophet Isaiah came true:

ULT so that
UST So
(ἵνα)

Here, the phrase so that could introduce: (1) a result from Jesus living in Capernaum. Alternate translation: [with the result that]; (2) a purpose for which Jesus lived in Capernaum. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT it might be fulfilled what was spoken
UST what God said … came true
(πληρωθῇ τὸ ῥηθὲν)

See how you translated the similar passive forms in 2:15 and 2:17. Alternate translation: [this might fulfill what God spoke]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT saying
(λέγοντος)

In Matthew's culture, saying was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Isaiah the prophet (see Isaiah 9:1–2). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in his book] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
it might be fulfilled	came true
Isaiah	Isaiah
prophet	prophet

Matthew 4:15

ULT	UST
“The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, {the} way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles—	“{I am speaking about people in} the regions that belong to the tribe of Zebulun and to the tribe of Naphtali. {These regions are} by the Sea {of Galilee}, on the other side of the Jordan River. {We call these regions} Galilee, where many non-Jewish people live.

ULT { … The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, the} way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles
UST { … I am speaking about people in} the regions that belong to the tribe of Zebulun and to the tribe of Naphtali. These regions are} by the Sea {of Galilee}, on the other side of the Jordan River. We call these regions} Galilee, where many non-Jewish people live
(γῆ Ζαβουλὼν καὶ γῆ Νεφθαλείμ, ὁδὸν θαλάσσης, πέραν τοῦ Ἰορδάνου, Γαλιλαία τῶν ἐθνῶν)

Here, the areas that Isaiah refers to represent the people who live in those areas. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The people who live in the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, the people who live on the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, the people who live in Galilee of the Gentiles]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT { … The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, the} way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles
UST { … I am speaking about people in} the regions that belong to the tribe of Zebulun and to the tribe of Naphtali. These regions are} by the Sea {of Galilee}, on the other side of the Jordan River. We call these regions} Galilee, where many non-Jewish people live
(γῆ Ζαβουλὼν καὶ γῆ Νεφθαλείμ, ὁδὸν θαλάσσης, πέραν τοῦ Ἰορδάνου, Γαλιλαία τῶν ἐθνῶν)

Each of the three lines of poetry in this verse gives a different description of the same area. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including all three descriptions in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word or phrase that indicates that these lines are all descriptions of one place. Alternate translation: [The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, which is the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, which is Galilee of the Gentiles]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT {the} way of the sea
UST These regions are} by the Sea {of Galilee}
(ὁδὸν θαλάσσης)

The phrase the way of the sea could refer to: (1) areas near the sea of Galilee. Alternate translation: [the areas around the Sea of Galilee]; (2) a road that ended at the Mediterranean sea. Alternate translation: [the road that goes to the Mediterranean sea]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT beyond the Jordan
UST on the other side of the Jordan River
(πέραν τοῦ Ἰορδάνου)

Here Isaiah could be referring to: (1) areas to the west of the Jordan River. Alternate translation: [on the western side of the Jordan]; (2) areas to the east of the Jordan River. Alternate translation: [on the eastern side of the Jordan]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Galilee of the Gentiles
UST {We call these regions} Galilee, where many non-Jewish people live (Γαλιλαία τῶν ἐθνῶν)

Here, Isaiah is using the possessive form to describe Galilee as a place where Gentiles live. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Galilee, home of Gentiles]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Zebulun	that belong to the tribe of Zebulun
of Naphtali	to the tribe of Naphtali
Jordan	of the Jordan River
Galilee	{We call these regions} Galilee
of the Gentiles	where many non-Jewish people live

Matthew 4:16

ULT	UST
the people sitting in darkness have seen a great light, and to the ones sitting in the region and shadow of death, upon them has a light arisen."	The people {who live in those regions} sin and despair. They are like people who sit in dark places. However, God will rescue them. They will be like people who see a bright light. Again, {the people in those regions} suffer and die. They are like people who sit in a dangerous place without any light. However, God will save them. It will be as if a light shines on them."

ULT the people sitting in darkness have seen a great light, and to the ones sitting in the region and shadow of death, upon them has a light arisen

UST The people {who live in those regions} sin and despair. They are like people who sit in dark places. However, God will rescue them. They will be like people who see a bright light. Again, {the people in those regions} suffer and die. They are like people who sit in a dangerous place without any light. However, God will save them. It will be as if a light shines on them

(ὁ λαὸς ὁ καθήμενος ἐν σκοτίᾳ φῶς εἶδεν μέγα, καὶ τοῖς καθημένοις ἐν χώρᾳ καὶ σκιᾷ θανάτου, φῶς ἀνέτειλεν αὐτοῖς)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the people sitting in darkness have seen a great light; yes, to the ones sitting in the region and shadow of death, upon them has a light arisen]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the people sitting in darkness have seen a great light, and to the ones sitting in the region and shadow of death, upon them has a light arisen
UST The people {who live in those regions} sin and despair. They are like people who sit in dark places. However, God will rescue them. They will be like people who see a bright light. Again, {the people in those regions} suffer and die. They are like people who sit in a dangerous place without any light. However, God will save them. It will be as if a light shines on them
(ὁ λαὸς ὁ καθήμενος ἐν σκοτίᾳ φῶς εἶδεν μέγα, καὶ τοῖς καθημένοις ἐν χώρᾳ καὶ σκιᾷ θανάτου, φῶς ἀνέτειλεν αὐτοῖς)

Here Isaiah refers to sin, trouble, and hopelessness as if they were darkness and the shadow of death. He refers to God's deliverance and salvation as if it were a great light. If possible, preserve these metaphors or express them in simile form. Alternate translation: [the people sitting in spiritual darkness have seen the great light of God's salvation, and to the ones sitting in the region and shadow where there is spiritual death, upon them the light of God's deliverance has arisen]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT sitting … to the ones sitting
UST sin and despair. They are like people who sit in dark places … {the people in those regions} suffer and die. They are like people who sit in a dangerous place without any light
(ὁ καθήμενος & τοῖς καθημένοις)

Here, Isaiah refers to living as if it were sitting. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable word or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [dwelling … to the ones dwelling]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in darkness
UST sin and despair. They are like people who sit in dark places (ἐν σκοτίᾳ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of darkness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [where it is dark]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT have seen … has a light arisen
> UST However, God will rescue them. They will be like people who see a bright light … However, God will save them. It will be as if a light shines on them
> (εἶδεν & φῶς ἀνέτειλεν)

Isaiah uses the past tense here in order to refer to something that will certainly happen in the future. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the future tense. Alternate translation: [will see … will a light arise]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT the region and shadow of death
> UST {the people in those regions} suffer and die. They are like people who sit in a dangerous place without any light
> (χώρᾳ καὶ σκιᾷ θανάτου)

Here, Isaiah is using the possessive form to describe a region and a shadow, or darkness, that is characterized by death. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the deadly region and the deathly shadow] or [the region and shadow characterized by death]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT of death
> UST {the people in those regions} suffer and die. They are like people who sit in a dangerous place without any light
> (θανάτου)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of death, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that are deadly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

Matthew 4:17

ULT	UST
From that time Jesus began to preach and to say, "Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has come near."	After {he went to live in the town of Capernaum}, Jesus started proclaiming, "Stop doing what is wrong! {You should do that} because God is about to establish his heavenly kingdom here."

ULT From that time
UST After {he went to live in the town of Capernaum}
(ἀπὸ τότε)

Here, the word time refers to when Jesus began to live in Capernaum (see 4:13). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [From when he began to live in Capernaum,] or [After he moved to Capernaum,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to preach and to say
UST proclaiming
(κηρύσσειν καὶ λέγειν)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [to preach] or [to preach, saying]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Repent
UST Stop doing what is wrong
(μετανοεῖτε)

Because Jesus is speaking to people in general, the command Repent is plural here.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT has come near
UST God is about to establish
(ἤγγικεν)

Matthew uses this phrase in the sense of near in time. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. See how you translated the similar phrase in 3:2. Alternate translation: [is about to begin] or [is about to happen]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
to preach	proclaiming
Repent	Stop doing what is wrong
kingdom of the heavens	his heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 4:18

ULT	UST
Now walking beside the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen.	One day, Jesus was walking next to the Sea of Galilee. He saw two men: Simon, who also had the name Peter, and Simon's {younger} brother Andrew. They earned money by catching and selling fish. {When Jesus saw them,} they were using nets to try to catch fish.

ULT Now
UST One day
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,] or [Some time later,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT two brothers, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen
UST two men: Simon, who also had the name Peter, and Simon's {younger} brother Andrew. They earned money by catching and selling fish. {When Jesus saw them,} they were using nets to try to catch fish
(δύο ἀδελφούς, Σίμωνα τὸν λεγόμενον Πέτρον καὶ Ἀνδρέαν τὸν ἀδελφὸν αὐτοῦ, βάλλοντας ἀμφίβληστρον εἰς τὴν θάλασσαν; ἦσαν γὰρ ἁλιεῖς)

Matthew introduces two new characters into the story. Consider how you might introduce new characters into a story, and follow that form here. You may need to rearrange some elements of the sentence to do so. Alternate translation: [two fishermen who were casting a net into the sea. They were Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT Simon called
UST Simon, who also had the name
(Σίμωνα τὸν λεγόμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Simon, whose other name was] or [Simon, whom people also called]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT his brother
UST Simon's {younger} brother
(τὸν ἀδελφὸν αὐτοῦ)

Matthew never says whether Simon or Andrew was older, but he mentions Simon first, which could imply that he was the older brother. If you have to use a form that refers to an older or younger brother, you could state that Andrew was younger. Alternate translation: [his younger brother]

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT casting a net into the sea
UST {When Jesus saw them,} they were using nets to try to catch fish
(βάλλοντας ἀμφίβληστρον εἰς τὴν θάλασσαν)

They were casting a net in order to catch fish. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [casting a net into the sea to catch fish]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT casting a net into
UST {When Jesus saw them,} they were using nets to try to catch fish
(βάλλοντας ἀμφίβληστρον εἰς)

Some cultures use a net to catch fish. A net is a mesh or network of cords or ropes which fishermen throw into the water to trap fish. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to how people catch fish in your culture, or you could use a general phrase. Alternate translation: [fishing in] or [trying to catch fish in]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT for
(γὰρ)

Matthew is providing this background information to help readers understand why Simon and Andrew were casting a net. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that introduces this kind of background information. Alternate translation: [which they did because] or [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Background Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Sea of Galilee	Sea of Galilee

ULT	UST
of Galilee	of Galilee
Simon	Simon
called	who also had the name
Peter	Peter
Andrew	Andrew
sea	{When Jesus saw them,} they were using nets to try to catch fish fishermen	by catching and selling fish

Matthew 4:19

ULT	UST
And he says to them, "Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men."	Jesus commanded them, "Come with me and be my apprentices. I will teach you how to gather people {to be my apprentices}, just as you have been gathering fish."

ULT he says
UST Jesus commanded
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Come after me
UST Come with me and be my apprentices
(δεῦτε ὀπίσω μου)

Here, the phrase Come after me is a command to travel with Jesus and be his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Be my disciples] or [Travel with me as my students]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT I will make you fishers of men
UST I will teach you how to gather people {to be my apprentices}, just as you have been gathering fish
(ποιήσω ὑμᾶς ἁλιεῖς ἀνθρώπων)

Here Jesus speaks of preaching the gospel and helping people believe in Jesus as if it were fishing. He means that, just as fishermen catch many fish, so Simon and Andrew will help many people believe. If possible, preserve the metaphor here, since it relates directly to what Simon and Andrew were doing when Jesus saw them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea as a simile. Alternate translation: [I will make you into people who collect men for me, just as you now collect fish]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you
UST you
(ὑμᾶς)

Because Jesus is speaking to Simon and Andrew, the word you is plural here.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT of men
UST to gather people {to be my apprentices}, just as you have been gathering fish
(ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [of humans] or [of men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fishers	to gather people {to be my apprentices}, just as you have been gathering fish

Matthew 4:20

ULT	UST
And immediately, they, having left the nets, followed him.	As soon as {Jesus said this}, they stopped working. They went with him and were his apprentices.

ULT having left the nets
UST they stopped working (ἀφέντες τὰ δίκτυα)

Translate the word nets as you did in 4:18. Alternate translation: [having stopped fishing]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT followed him
UST went with him and were his apprentices
(ἠκολούθησαν αὐτῷ)

Here, the phrase followed him indicates that they traveled with Jesus and were his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [became his disciples] or [traveled with him as his students]

Support Reference: Idiom

Matthew 4:21

ULT	UST
And having gone on from there, he saw two other brothers, James the {son} of Zebedee, and John his brother in the boat with Zebedee their father mending their nets, and he called them,	Jesus kept walking {next to the sea}. Then, he saw two more men: James, the son of Zebedee, and James' {younger brother} John. {When Jesus saw them,} they were preparing their fishing tools in a boat with their father, Zebedee. Jesus commanded them, {"Come with me and be my apprentices."}

ULT two other brothers, James the {son} of Zebedee, and John his brother in the boat with Zebedee their father mending their nets

UST two more men: James, the son of Zebedee, and James' {younger brother} John. {When Jesus saw them,} they were preparing their fishing tools in a boat with their father, Zebedee

(ἄλλους δύο ἀδελφούς, Ἰάκωβον τὸν τοῦ Ζεβεδαίου καὶ Ἰωάννην τὸν ἀδελφὸν αὐτοῦ, ἐν τῷ πλοίῳ μετὰ Ζεβεδαίου τοῦ πατρὸς αὐτῶν, καταρτίζοντας τὰ δίκτυα αὐτῶν)

Matthew introduces two more new characters into the story. Consider how you might introduce new characters into a story, and follow that form here. You may need to rearrange some elements of the sentence to do so. Alternate translation: [two men who were in a boat, mending their nets with their father, Zebedee. They were James, the son of Zebedee, and his younger brother John]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT his brother

UST James' {younger brother}

(τὸν ἀδελφὸν αὐτοῦ)

Matthew never says whether James or John was older, but he mentions James first, which could imply that he was the older brother. If you have to use a form that refers to an older or younger brother, you could state that John was younger. Alternate translation: [his younger brother]

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT their nets
UST their fishing tools
(τὰ δίκτυα αὐτῶν)

Translate the word nets as you did in 4:18 and 4:20. Alternate translation: [the tools they used for fishing]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT he called them
UST Jesus commanded them, {"Come with me and be my apprentices … }
(ἐκάλεσεν αὐτούς)

Matthew implies that Jesus called them to "come after him," that is, to travel with him and be his disciples. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he called them to come after him] or [he called them to travel with him as his students]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he called
UST Jesus commanded
(ἐκάλεσεν)

The pronoun he refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus called]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
James	James
of Zebedee	of Zebedee
John	John
Zebedee	Zebedee
he called	Jesus commanded

Matthew 4:22

ULT	UST
and immediately they, having left the boat and their father, followed him.	As soon as {they heard what Jesus said,} they got out of the boat and left their father. They went with Jesus and were his apprentices.

ULT followed him

UST They went with Jesus and were his apprentices

(ἠκολούθησαν αὐτῷ)

Translate this phrase as you did in 4:20. Alternate translation: [became his disciples] or [traveled with him as his students]

Support Reference: Idiom

Matthew 4:23

ULT	UST
And he was going around in all of Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness among the people.	Jesus visited all the towns in the region of Galilee. He instructed people {when they gathered} in the Jewish meeting places. He proclaimed the good news about God's kingdom. He cured many Jewish people who were sick in any way.

ULT he was going around in
UST Jesus visited
(περιῆγεν ἐν)

Here, the phrase going around in indicates that Jesus traveled through many places in the region of Galilee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he was traveling to many places in] or [he took trips through]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the gospel of the kingdom
UST the good news about God's kingdom
(τὸ εὐαγγέλιον τῆς βασιλείας)

Matthew is using the possessive form to describe a gospel that is about the kingdom. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the gospel concerning the kingdom]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

Here, the phrase every disease and every sickness represents people with these diseases and sicknesses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [every diseased person and every sick person]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

The terms every disease and every sickness mean similar things. Matthew is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [every ailment] or [every sickness]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

Matthew says every here as a generalization to emphasize how Jesus healed many different kinds of disease and sickness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [many kinds of diseases and many kinds of sicknesses]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT the people
UST many Jewish people
(τῷ λαῷ)

Here, the phrase the people refers specifically to Jewish people living in Galilee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the Jewish people there]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Galilee	in the region of Galilee
synagogues	{when they gathered} in the Jewish meeting places
preaching	He proclaimed
gospel	the good news
of the kingdom	about God’s kingdom

Matthew 4:24

ULT	UST
And the news of him went out into all Syria, and they brought to him all the ones having sickness, being afflicted by various diseases and pains, and being possessed by demons, and the epileptic and the paralytic, and he healed them.	Many people who lived in the region of Syria heard about him. They took to him many people who were suffering, people who were sick or hurting, people with demons, and people who could not move or who had seizures. Jesus healed them.

ULT the news of him went out into all Syria
UST Many people who lived in the region of Syria heard about him
(ἀπῆλθεν ἡ ἀκοὴ αὐτοῦ εἰς ὅλην τὴν Συρίαν)

Matthew speaks of the news as if it were a person who could go out into all Syria. He means that people throughout Syria heard about Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the news of him was heard in all Syria]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT the news of him
UST heard about him
(ἡ ἀκοὴ αὐτοῦ)

Here, Matthew is using the possessive form to describe news that concerns him, that is, Jesus. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the news about him]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT they brought
UST They took (προσήνεγκαν)

Here, the word they refers to any people who heard the news of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that refers to people in general. Alternate translation: [many people who heard brought]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT all
UST many people
(πάντας)

Matthew says all here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [very many of]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT the ones having sickness, being afflicted by various diseases and pains
UST who were suffering, people who were sick or hurting
(τοὺς κακῶς, ἔχοντας ποικίλαις νόσοις, καὶ βασάνοις συνεχομένους)

Here, the terms sickness, diseases, and pains mean similar things. Matthew is using the three terms together to include any kind of physical sickness or pain. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could use only one or two terms to refer to any kind of sickness or pain. Alternate translation: [the ones being sick or in pain] or [the ones having diseases or injuries]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT the ones having sickness
UST who were suffering
(τοὺς κακῶς, ἔχοντας)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sickness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ones being sick]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT being afflicted by various diseases and pains
UST people who were sick or hurting
(ποικίλαις νόσοις, καὶ βασάνοις συνεχομένους)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [experiencing various diseases and pains]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT being possessed by demons
> UST with demons
> (δαιμονιζομένους)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [those whom demons possessed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the epileptic and the paralytic
> UST people … could not move or who had seizures
> (σεληνιαζομένους, καὶ παραλυτικούς)

Matthew is using the adjectives epileptic and paralytic as nouns to mean people who are epileptic and paralytic. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [epileptic and paralytic people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT the epileptic
> UST who had seizures
> (σεληνιαζομένους)

An epileptic is someone who sometimes passes out and then moves uncontrollably. If your readers would not be familiar with this sickness, you could use the name of something like this from your language, or you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [people with seizures] or [those who sometimes become unconscious and move uncontrollably]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the paralytic
> UST people … could not move > (παραλυτικούς)

A paralytic is someone who is not able to use or control some or all of their arms and legs because of injury or sickness. If your readers would not be familiar with this sickness, you could use the name of something like this in your language, or you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [the paralyzed] or [people who could not move their limbs]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Syria	Many people who lived in the region of Syria being possessed by demons	with demons

Matthew 4:25

ULT	UST
And large crowds followed him from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judea and beyond the Jordan.	Large groups of people went wherever Jesus went. These people came from the region of Galilee, from the region of the Ten Towns, from the city of Jerusalem, from the region of Judea, and from the east side of the Jordan River.

ULT large crowds followed him from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judea and beyond the Jordan

UST Large groups of people went wherever Jesus went. These people came from the region of Galilee, from the region of the Ten Towns, from the city of Jerusalem, from the region of Judea, and from the east side of the Jordan River

(ἠκολούθησαν αὐτῷ ὄχλοι πολλοὶ ἀπὸ τῆς Γαλιλαίας, καὶ Δεκαπόλεως, καὶ Ἱεροσολύμων, καὶ Ἰουδαίας, καὶ πέραν τοῦ Ἰορδάνου)

Matthew indicates that large crowds traveled wherever Jesus went. The people who made up these crowds came from all the regions and towns that Matthew mentions in this verse. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [large crowds of people from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judea and beyond the Jordan followed him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Decapolis

UST from the region of the Ten Towns

(Δεκαπόλεως)

The word Decapolis is a name for a region to the southeast of Galilee. The name means “the Ten Towns.”

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT beyond the Jordan

UST from the east side of the Jordan River

(πέραν τοῦ Ἰορδάνου)

Here, the phrase beyond the Jordan refers to regions to the east of the Jordan River. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the areas on the east side of the Jordan River]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Galilee	the region of Galilee
Jerusalem	from the city of Jerusalem
Judea	from the region of Judea
Jordan	of the Jordan River

Matthew 5

Matthew 5 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus' Sermon on the Mount (5:1–7:28)
    - The Beatitudes (5:1–12)
    - Salt and light (5:13–16)
    - The law and righteousness (5:17–20)
    - Moses' law and Jesus' commands (5:21–48)
        - Murder and anger (5:21–26)
        - Adultery and divorce (5:27–32)
        - Oaths and promises (5:33–37)
        - Punishment and retaliation (5:38–42)
        - Loving everyone (5:43–48)

Many people call the words in Matthew 5–7 "the Sermon on the Mount." This is one long lesson that Jesus taught. Bibles divide this lesson into three chapters, but this can sometimes confuse the reader. If your translation divides the text into sections, be sure that the reader understands that the whole sermon is one large section.

Matthew 5:3–10, known as the Beatitudes, or the Blessings, has been set farther to the right on the page than the rest of the text. This way of placing the words on the page highlights the poetic form of this section.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

The “Beatitudes”

In 5:3–12, Jesus speaks nine blessings, or “Beatitudes.” He uses poetic form, repetition, and contrasting statements. Use forms in your language that people would recognize as poetry. See the notes on these verses for translation options.

“You have heard that it was said”

When Jesus quotes commands that his audience would be familiar with, he uses a phrase like “you have heard that it was said.” Usually when he uses this phrase, he is quoting or summarizing commands directly from the Old Testament law. However, in 5:43, he quotes a command from the Old Testament (“love your neighbor”) and then includes what some people would add to that command (“hate your enemy”). You may need to clarify that only the clause “love your neighbor” is from the Old Testament law. See the notes on each verse for information about what commands Jesus is quoting or summarizing.

Jesus and the law

Throughout this chapter, Jesus quotes commands that his audience would be familiar with. Then he introduces his response to these commands with a phrase like “but I say to you.” In each case, Jesus is not contradicting or annulling the commands from God that he quotes. Instead, Jesus is correcting misunderstandings about what these commands mean. He wants his disciples to apply the commands properly. Use a form that indicates that Jesus is clarifying the commands, not contradicting them.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Salt metaphor

In 5:13, Jesus describes his disciples as if they were salt that seasons the world. He means that, just as salt preserves food and makes it taste better, so his disciples help save people in the world and make the world a better place. If possible, preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. (See: Metaphor)

Light metaphor

In 5:14–16, Jesus describes his disciples as if they together were a lamp that gives light. He means specifically that their good deeds function together like a light that shines on other people, which allows these people to learn what is true and to praise God. If possible, preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. (See: Metaphor)

Hyperbole

In 5:29–30, Jesus commands his disciples to cut off body parts that cause them to sin. He uses this extreme example of resisting sin in order to show his disciples how serious sin really is. He does not mean that believers should always cut off body parts when they sin. Jesus intends his commands to be shocking, however, so you should preserve the extreme language. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that indicates that Jesus' commands are extreme language.

Singular and plural forms of "you"

In this chapter, Jesus is talking to a large crowd of his followers. Throughout the chapter, Jesus switches between using you in the singular and you in the plural while he is talking to the same people. When he uses the singular, he is speaking about specific situations that each person in the crowd might experience. When he uses the plural, he is speaking generally to the crowd as a whole. You should assume that Jesus is using plural forms of "you" unless a note specifies that the forms are singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular; and Crowd)

Matthew 5:1

ULT	UST
Now, having seen the crowds, he went up on the mountain, and he having sat down, his disciples came to him.	When Jesus saw these large groups of people, he went up on a hill. He sat down there, {ready to teach,} and his apprentices gathered around him {to listen}.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT the mountain
UST a hill
(τὸ ὄρος)

Matthew does not clarify what mountain this is or how high up it is. If possible, use a general word for a hill or small mountain without indicating one particular place. Alternate translation: [a high place] or [a small mountain]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT he having sat down
UST He sat down there, {ready to teach … } (καθίσαντος αὐτοῦ)

In Jesus' culture, teachers usually sat down when they were going to teach. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he having sat down to teach] or [he having sat down as a teacher does]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT came
UST gathered around … to listen
(προσῆλθον)

In a context such as this, your language might say "went" instead of came. Alternate translation: [went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	and … apprentices

Matthew 5:2

ULT	UST
And having opened his mouth, he taught them, saying,	Then he began to instruct them. He said,

ULT having opened his mouth
UST he began to instruct
(ἀνοίξας τὸ στόμα αὐτοῦ)

Here, the phrase having opened his mouth refers to beginning to speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [having begun to speak]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT having opened his mouth, he taught
UST he began to instruct
(ἀνοίξας τὸ στόμα αὐτοῦ, ἐδίδασκεν)

Here, the phrase having opened his mouth introduces what Jesus said, and the phrase he taught also introduces what Jesus said. Matthew uses both phrases to indicate that what Jesus is about to say is very important. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use just one phrase that introduces important speech. Alternate translation: [he starting teaching]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT saying
UST He said
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

Matthew 5:3

ULT	UST
“Blessed {are} the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens.	“It is very good for those who do not have spiritual strength. {That is} because they are part of God’s heavenly kingdom.

ULT Blessed {are} the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens
UST { … It is very good for those who do not have spiritual strength. That is} because they are part of God’s heavenly kingdom
(μακάριοι οἱ πτωχοὶ τῷ πνεύματι, ὅτι αὐτῶν ἐστιν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The kingdom of the heavens belongs to the poor in spirit, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

This expression indicates that God is giving favor to people and that their situation is positive or good. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the poor
UST for those who do not have spiritual strength
(οἱ πτωχοὶ)

Jesus is using the adjective poor as a noun in order to indicate a group of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [people who are poor]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the poor in spirit
UST for those who do not have spiritual strength
(οἱ πτωχοὶ τῷ πνεύματι)

Here Jesus speaks of people who know that they disobey and that they depend on God totally as if they were poor in spirit. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the spiritually poor] or [those who totally depend upon God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT theirs is the kingdom of the heavens
UST they are part of God's heavenly kingdom
(αὐτῶν ἐστιν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe people who belong in the kingdom of the heavens. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the kingdom of the heavens belongs to them] or [they belong in the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good
in spirit	for those who do not have spiritual strength
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 5:4

ULT	UST
Blessed {are} the ones mourning, for they will be comforted.	It is very good for those who grieve. {That is} because God will encourage them.

ULT Blessed {are} the ones mourning, for they will be comforted
UST { … It is very good for those who grieve. That is} because God will encourage them (μακάριοι οἱ πενθοῦντες, ὅτι αὐτοὶ παρακληθήσονται)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The ones mourning will be comforted, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

See how you translated this phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT they will be comforted
UST God will encourage them
(αὐτοὶ παρακληθήσονται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God will comfort them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good
mourning	for those who grieve

Matthew 5:5

ULT	UST
Blessed {are} the meek, for they will inherit the earth.	It is very good for those who are gentle. {That is} because God will give them the world {when he renews it}.

ULT Blessed {are} the meek, for they will inherit the earth
UST It is very good for those who are gentle. That is} because God will give them the world {when he renews it … }
(μακάριοι οἱ πραεῖς, ὅτι αὐτοὶ κληρονομήσουσι τὴν γῆν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The meek will inherit the earth, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

See how you translated this phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the meek
UST for those who are gentle
(οἱ πραεῖς)

Jesus is using the adjective meek as a noun to mean meek people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [meek people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT will inherit
UST God will give (κληρονομήσουσι)

Here the author speaks as if the meek were children who would receive property from a relative. He speaks in this way to indicate that the meek will receive the earth from God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will receive] or [will be given]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the earth
UST the world {when he renews it}
(τὴν γῆν)

Here Jesus refers to the whole earth, but he implies that it will be the renewed or recreated earth. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the renewed earth] or [the recreated earth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good meek	for those who are gentle will inherit	God will give earth	the world {when he renews it}

Matthew 5:6

ULT	UST
Blessed {are} the ones hungering and thirsting for righteousness, for they will be fed.	It is very good for those who greatly desire to do what is right. {That is} because God will enable them to do what they desire to do.

ULT Blessed {are} the ones hungering and thirsting for righteousness, for they will be fed
UST { … It is very good for those who greatly desire to do what is right. That is} because God will enable them to do what they desire to do
(μακάριοι οἱ πεινῶντες καὶ διψῶντες τὴν δικαιοσύνην, ὅτι αὐτοὶ χορτασθήσονται)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The ones hungering and thirsting for righteousness will be fed, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

See how you translated this phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the ones hungering and thirsting for righteousness, for they will be fed
UST { … for those who greatly desire to do what is right. That is} because God will enable them to do what they desire to do
(οἱ πεινῶντες καὶ διψῶντες τὴν δικαιοσύνην, ὅτι αὐτοὶ χορτασθήσονται)

Here Jesus speaks of desiring to do what is right as if it were hungering and thirsting for righteousness. He also speaks of becoming righteous and doing what is right as if it were being fed. He speaks in this way to indicate that these people desire righteousness as much as they desire food and drink. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones who desire righteousness as if it were food or drink, for they will receive it as if they were being fed]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for righteousness
UST what is right
(τὴν δικαιοσύνην)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for what is just] or [to be righteous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT they will be fed
UST God will enable them to do what they desire to do (αὐτοὶ χορτασθήσονται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God will feed them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good
for righteousness	what is right

Matthew 5:7

ULT	UST
Blessed {are} the merciful, for they will obtain mercy.	It is very good for those who are merciful {to other people}. {That is} because God will be merciful to them.

ULT Blessed {are} the merciful, for they will obtain mercy
UST It is very good for those who are merciful {to other people}. That is} because God will be merciful to them
(μακάριοι οἱ ἐλεήμονες, ὅτι αὐτοὶ ἐλεηθήσονται)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The merciful will obtain mercy, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

See how you translated this phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the merciful
UST for those who are merciful {to other people}
(οἱ ἐλεήμονες)

Matthew is using the adjective merciful as a noun to mean merciful people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [merciful people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT they will obtain mercy
UST God will be merciful to them
(αὐτοὶ ἐλεηθήσονται)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [God will act mercifully to them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good
merciful	for those who are merciful {to other people} will obtain mercy	God will be merciful to

Matthew 5:8

ULT	UST
Blessed {are} the pure in heart, for they will see God.	It is very good for those who desire what is good. {That is} because they will be with God.

ULT Blessed {are} the pure in heart, for they will see God
UST { … It is very good for those who desire what is good. That is} because they will be with God (μακάριοι οἱ καθαροὶ τῇ καρδίᾳ, ὅτι αὐτοὶ τὸν Θεὸν ὄψονται)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The pure in heart will see God, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

See how you translated this phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the pure in heart
UST for those who desire what is good
(οἱ καθαροὶ τῇ καρδίᾳ)

Here, the phrase pure in heart describes people who only think about and desire what is pure and good. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who are pure on the inside] or [the ones who think about and want what is pure]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the pure
> UST for those who desire what is good
> (οἱ καθαροὶ)

Matthew is using the adjective pure as a noun to mean pure people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [people who are pure]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT they will see God
> UST they will be with God
> (αὐτοὶ τὸν Θεὸν ὄψονται)

Here, the clause they will see God indicates that these people will be with God, in his presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they will be in God's presence]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good
pure	for those who desire what is good
God	God

Matthew 5:9

ULT	UST
Blessed {are} the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God.	It is very good for those who enable people to be peaceful {with each other}. {That is} because God will regard them as his own children.

ULT Blessed {are} the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God
UST It is very good for those who enable people to be peaceful {with each other}. That is} because God will regard them as his own children
(μακάριοι οἱ εἰρηνοποιοί, ὅτι αὐτοὶ υἱοὶ Θεοῦ κληθήσονται)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The peacemakers will be called sons of God, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

See how you translated this phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the peacemakers
UST for those who enable people to be peaceful {with each other}
(οἱ εἰρηνοποιοί)

Here Jesus implies that the peacemakers are those who help people act peacefully with each other. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [those who make peace among people] or [the ones who cause people to act peaceably]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they will be called sons of God
UST God will regard them as his own children
(αὐτοὶ υἱοὶ Θεοῦ κληθήσονται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God will call them his sons]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT will be called
UST God will regard them as his own children
(κληθήσονται)

Here, by using the phrase will be called, Jesus implies that they also will actually be sons of God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will be people who are] or [will be called and so become]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT sons of God
UST God will regard them as his own children
(υἱοὶ Θεοῦ)

Jesus speaks of these people as if God were their physical father. He means that these people have a father-son relationship with God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [spiritual sons of God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT sons
UST God will regard them as his own children
(υἱοὶ)

Although the term sons is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [sons and daughters] or [offspring]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good will be called	God will regard them as his own children sons of God	God will regard them as his own children

ULT	UST
of God	God will regard them as his own children

Matthew 5:10

ULT	UST
Blessed {are} the ones persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens.	It is very good for those whom others mistreat because they do what is right. {That is} because they are part of God's heavenly kingdom.

ULT Blessed {are} the ones persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens
UST { … It is very good for those whom others mistreat because they do what is right. That is} because they are part of God's heavenly kingdom
(μακάριοι οἱ δεδιωγμένοι ἕνεκεν δικαιοσύνης, ὅτι αὐτῶν ἐστιν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The kingdom of the heavens belongs to the ones persecuted for the sake of righteousness, so they are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed {are}
UST It is very good
(μακάριοι)

See how you translated this phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless] or [How good it is for]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the ones persecuted
UST for those whom others mistreat
(οἱ δεδιωγμένοι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the ones whom people persecute]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT for the sake of righteousness
> UST because they do what is right
> (ἕνεκεν δικαιοσύνης)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because they act justly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT theirs is the kingdom of the heavens
> UST they are part of God's heavenly kingdom
> (αὐτῶν ἐστιν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

See how you translated the same clause in 5:3. Alternate translation: [the kingdom of the heavens belongs to them] or [they belong in the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed {are}	It is very good
persecuted	for those whom others mistreat
righteousness	they do what is right
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 5:11

ULT	UST
Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute {you} and say every evil thing against you, lying,because of me.	It is very good for you whenever {people act against you} because you are my apprentices. They may shame you, mistreat you, and tell many hurtful lies about you.

ULT Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute {you} and say every evil thing against you, lying,because of me

UST It is very good for you whenever {people act against you} because you are my apprentices. They may shame you, mistreat you, and tell many hurtful lies about you

(μακάριοί ἐστε ὅταν ὀνειδίσωσιν ὑμᾶς καὶ διώξωσιν καὶ εἴπωσιν πᾶν πονηρὸν καθ’ ὑμῶν ψευδόμενοι ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [When they insult you and persecute you and say every evil thing against you falsely because of me, you are blessed]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed are you

UST It is very good for you

(μακάριοί ἐστε)

See how you translated the similar phrase in 5:3. Alternate translation: [God will bless you] or [How good it is for you]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT they insult

UST They may shame

(ὀνειδίσωσιν)

Here, the word they refers to any people who mistreat Jesus’ disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that refers to people in general. Alternate translation: [others insult] or [some people insult]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT every evil thing
UST many hurtful
(πᾶν πονηρὸν)

Jesus says every here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [very many evil things] or [all kinds of evil things]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT lying
UST lies (ψευδόμενοι)

Many ancient manuscripts include lying. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts do not include the word. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT because of me
UST {people act against you} because you are my apprentices
(ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ)

When Jesus says because of me, he means that people will persecute them because they are his disciples. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [because you are my disciples] or [because you believe in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Blessed	It is very good they insult	They may shame
persecute {you}	mistreat you evil thing	hurtful

Matthew 5:12

ULT	UST
Rejoice and be very glad, for your reward {is} great in the heavens, for in this way they persecuted the prophets before you.	{When people treat you like that}, God is ready to reward you greatly from heaven. So, you should rejoice very much! Further, people mistreated the Jewish prophets long ago just as people mistreat you now.

ULT Rejoice and be very glad, for your reward {is} great in the heavens, for in this way they persecuted the prophets before you

UST {When people treat you like that}, God is ready to reward you greatly from heaven. So, you should rejoice very much! Further, people mistreated the Jewish prophets long ago just as people mistreat you now

(χαίρετε καὶ ἀγαλλιᾶσθε, ὅτι ὁ μισθὸς ὑμῶν πολὺς ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς; οὕτως γὰρ ἐδίωξαν τοὺς προφήτας & πρὸ ὑμῶν)

Here Jesus gives a command followed by two reasons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could rearrange these clauses so that one or both reasons come before the command. Alternate translation: [In fact, in this way they persecuted the prophets before you. Also, great is your reward in the heavens. So, rejoice and be very glad]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Rejoice and be very glad

UST you should rejoice very much

(χαίρετε καὶ ἀγαλλιᾶσθε)

The terms Rejoice and be very glad mean similar things. Jesus is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Be exceedingly glad]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT in the heavens

UST from heaven

(ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens indicates where God is currently keeping the reward. It does not indicate where people will receive the reward. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [that is stored in the heavens] or [that you will receive from the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for
UST Further
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces another reason why Jesus' disciples should rejoice, which is that they are like the prophets who served God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [and you should also rejoice because] or [and in fact,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT in this way
UST just as people mistreat you now
(οὕτως)

Here, the word this refers back to what Jesus said in 5:11 about how people mistreat his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [in those same ways]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT before you
UST long ago
(πρὸ ὑμῶν)

Here, the phrase before you indicates that the prophets lived before the people to whom Jesus is speaking. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who lived before you did]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Rejoice	you should rejoice very much
be very glad	you should rejoice very much reward	{When people treat you like that}, God is ready to reward heavens	from heaven
they persecuted	people mistreated
prophets	the Jewish prophets

Matthew 5:13

ULT	UST
You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt is made tasteless, with what might it be made salty again? It is good for nothing any longer, except having been thrown out, to be trampled by men.	You are like salt since you make people in this world better, just as salt seasons food. However, if salt were to stop seasoning food well, no one could make it season food well again. No one can use it for anything. So, people throw it away, and others walk on it. {In the same way, I will punish you if you do not make this world better.}

ULT You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt is made tasteless, with what might it be made salty again? It is good for nothing any longer, except having been thrown out, to be trampled by men

UST You are like salt since you make people in this world better, just as salt seasons food. However, if salt were to stop seasoning food well, no one could make it season food well again. No one can use it for anything. So, people throw it away, and others walk on it. {In the same way, I will punish you if you do not make this world better … }

(ὑμεῖς ἐστε τὸ ἅλας τῆς γῆς; ἐὰν δὲ τὸ ἅλας μωρανθῇ, ἐν τίνι ἁλισθήσεται? εἰς οὐδὲν ἰσχύει ἔτι, εἰ μὴ βληθὲν ἔξω, καταπατεῖσθαι ὑπὸ τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Here Jesus calls his disciples salt that seasons the earth. Just as salt makes food better in many ways, so Jesus' disciples make the world better in many ways. However, just as salt that no longer functions properly is thrown out because it cannot be fixed, so Jesus' disciples will be punished if they do not make the world better. If possible, preserve the metaphor or use simile form. Alternate translation: [You are like salt for the earth. But if you are like salt that has been made tasteless, how can you be made salty again? Just like that salt, you are good for nothing any longer. That salt will be thrown out to be trampled by men, and you will be punished in a similar way]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT the salt of the earth

UST salt since you make people in this world better, just as salt seasons food

(τὸ ἅλας τῆς γῆς)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe salt that seasons the earth. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the salt that seasons the earth]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT of the earth
> UST since you make people in this world better, just as salt seasons food > (τῆς γῆς)

Here, the word earth refers primarily to the people who live on the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer specifically to people here. Alternate translation: [of the people on the earth] or [of all people]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT if the salt is made tasteless, with what
> UST if salt were to stop seasoning food well, no one > (ἐὰν & τὸ ἅλας μωρανθῇ, ἐν τίνι)

Jesus means that it is possible for salt to lose its taste, and he is speaking about what can or cannot happen after salt has lost its taste. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. Alternate translation: [suppose that the salt is made tasteless. With what]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

> ULT is made tasteless
> UST were to stop seasoning food well
> (μωρανθῇ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [has become tasteless] or [has lost its taste]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT with what might it be made salty again
> UST no one could make it season food well again
> (ἐν τίνι ἁλισθήσεται)

Jesus is using the question form to show that no one can make ruined salt salty again. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [it cannot be made salty again!] or [it is not possible to make it salty again.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT might it be made salty again
> UST could make it season food well again > (ἁλισθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [might someone make it salty again]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT It is good for nothing any longer, except having been thrown out, to be trampled by men
> UST No one can use it for anything. So, people throw it away, and others walk on it. {In the same way, I will punish you if you do not make this world better … }
> (εἰς οὐδὲν ἰσχύει ἔτι, εἰ μὴ βληθὲν ἔξω, καταπατεῖσθαι ὑπὸ τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [The only thing it is good for is, having been thrown out, to be trampled by men]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

> ULT except having been thrown out, to be trampled by men
> UST So, people throw it away, and others walk on it. {In the same way, I will punish you if you do not make this world better … }
> (εἰ μὴ βληθὲν ἔξω, καταπατεῖσθαι ὑπὸ τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [except, after people have thrown it out, for men to trample it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT men
> UST others
> (τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women] or [people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the earth	since you make people in this world better, just as salt seasons food to be trampled	and … walk on it. {In the same way, I will punish you if you do not make this world better … }

Matthew 5:14

ULT	UST
You are the light of the world. A city being set on top of a mountain is not able to be hidden.	You are like a light that illuminates everyone in this world {since you tell people about me}. {You are like} a town on a hill that everyone can see {since everyone notices the good things that you do}.

ULT You are the light of the world
UST You are like a light that illuminates everyone in this world {since you tell people about me}
(ὑμεῖς ἐστε τὸ φῶς τοῦ κόσμου)

Here Jesus calls his disciples light that illuminates the world. Just as light helps people know where they are and where to go, so Jesus' disciples tell people the truth about God and Jesus. If possible, preserve the metaphor or use simile form. Alternate translation: [When you tell others about me, you are like lights that shine on the world]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the light of the world
UST a light that illuminates everyone in this world {since you tell people about me}
(τὸ φῶς τοῦ κόσμου)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe light that illuminates the world. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the light that shines on the world]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of the world
UST that illuminates everyone in this world {since you tell people about me} (τοῦ κόσμου)

Here, the word world refers primarily to the people who live in the world. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer specifically to people here. Alternate translation: [of the people in the world] or [of all people]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT A city being set on top of a mountain is not able to be hidden
> UST You are like} a town on a hill that everyone can see {since everyone notices the good things that you do}
> (οὐ δύναται πόλις κρυβῆναι ἐπάνω ὄρους κειμένη)

Here Jesus implicitly calls his disciples a city that is on a mountain, so it is not able to be hidden. Just as everyone can see this city, so everyone can see how Jesus' disciples behave. If possible, preserve the metaphor or use simile form. Alternate translation: [When you do what is right, you are like a city being set on a mountain that is not able to be hidden]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT A city being set on top of a mountain is not able to be hidden
> UST You are like} a town on a hill that everyone can see {since everyone notices the good things that you do}
> (οὐ δύναται πόλις κρυβῆναι ἐπάνω ὄρους κειμένη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [People cannot hide a city that they set on top of a mountain]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the world	that illuminates everyone in this world {since you tell people about me}

Matthew 5:15

ULT	UST
Neither do they light a lamp and put it under a basket, but rather on the lampstand, and it shines for all the ones in the house.	Further, when people light a lamp, they do not cover it with a basket. Instead, they put it on a lampstand. That way, it illuminates everyone in the house.

ULT Neither do they light a lamp and put it under a basket, but rather on the lampstand, and it shines for all the ones in the house

UST Further, when people light a lamp, they do not cover it with a basket. Instead, they put it on a lampstand. That way, it illuminates everyone in the house

(οὐδὲ καίουσιν λύχνον καὶ τιθέασιν αὐτὸν ὑπὸ τὸν μόδιον, ἀλλ’ ἐπὶ τὴν λυχνίαν, καὶ λάμπει πᾶσιν τοῖς ἐν τῇ οἰκίᾳ)

Here Jesus implicitly calls his disciples a a lamp. However, he explains this figure of speech in the next verse, so you should not explain its meaning in this verse.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT do they light

UST when people light

(καίουσιν)

The pronoun they refers to people in general. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use a form that refers to people in general. Alternate translation: [does anyone light]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT under a basket

UST with a basket

(ὑπὸ τὸν μόδιον)

A basket is a large circular container that stores food or other items. If someone put a lamp under this kind of container, it would completely hide the light from the lamp. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of container, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [in a box] or [under a container that hides its light]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT but rather on
UST Instead, they put it on (ἀλλ᾽ ἐπὶ)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but rather they put it on]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT and
UST That way
(καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces the result of putting a lamp on a lampstand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [and so] or [with the result that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a lamp	a lamp
lampstand	a lampstand
house	house

Matthew 5:16

ULT	UST
Let your light shine before men in such a way so that they might see your good deeds and might glorify your Father in the heavens.	Just as {the light from a lamp illuminates everyone in a house}, so you should publicly do what is right. That way, people will notice the good things that you do. Then, they will praise God, your Father, who rules from heaven.

ULT Let your light shine before men
UST you should publicly do what is right
(λαμψάτω τὸ φῶς ὑμῶν ἔμπροσθεν τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Here Jesus speaks of proper behavior as if it were a light that could shine. He means that everyone notices and benefits from this proper behavior. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Let what you do be like a light that shines before men] or [Live your life before men]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Let your light shine
UST you should … do what is right
(λαμψάτω τὸ φῶς ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Make sure that your light shines] or [Your light should shine]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT men
UST publicly
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women] or [people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT in such a way
UST Just as {the light from a lamp illuminates everyone in a house}, so (οὕτως)

Here, the phrase in such a way refers back to what Jesus said in 5:15 about a lamp shining on everyone in a house. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [just as that lamp shines]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT your Father
UST God, your Father
(τὸν Πατέρα ὑμῶν)

Jesus speaks of his disciples as if God were their physical father. He means that they have a father-son relationship with God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your spiritual Father] or [God, who is like a Father to you,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the heavens
UST rules from heaven
(ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	good things
might glorify	they will praise
Father	God … Father
heavens	heaven

Matthew 5:17

ULT	UST
Do not think that I came to destroy the law or the prophets. I came not to destroy but to fulfill.	You should not conclude that I am here to abolish any parts of the Scriptures. I am not here to abolish them. Rather, I am here so that they come true.

ULT I came … I came
UST I am here … I am … here
(ἦλθον)

Here, the phrase I came refers to Jesus entering this world as a human to do what God called him to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I came to this world … I came to this world] or [I am acting … I am acting]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the law or the prophets
UST any parts of the Scriptures
(τὸν νόμον ἢ τοὺς προφήτας)

The word law is the name for one part of the Hebrew Scriptures, and the word prophets is the name for another part of the Hebrew Scriptures. Show this in your translation in the way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [any part of the Scriptures, either the Law or the Prophets]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT the prophets
UST any parts of the Scriptures
(τοὺς προφήτας)

Here, the prophets represents what the prophets said and wrote. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the writings of the prophets]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT I came not to destroy but to fulfill

UST I am not here to abolish them. Rather, I am here so that they come true

(οὐκ ἦλθον καταλῦσαι, ἀλλὰ πληρῶσαι)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from the context. Alternate translation: [I came not to destroy them. Rather, I came to fulfill them]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
law	any parts of the Scriptures
prophets	any parts of the Scriptures
to fulfill	so that they come true

Matthew 5:18

ULT	UST
For truly I say to you, until the heaven and the earth passes away, one jot or one tittle will certainly not pass away from the law until all things are accomplished.	Every part of the Scriptures will be authoritative as long as what God has created continues to exist. {Further, the Scriptures will be authoritative} until everything {that their authors wrote about} happens. What I have said is true.

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason or basis for Jesus' statement that he did not come to destroy the Scriptures but to fulfill them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [In fact,] or [That is because,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT until the heaven and the earth passes away
UST as long as what God has created continues to exist
(ἕως ἂν παρέλθῃ ὁ οὐρανὸς καὶ ἡ γῆ)

Here Jesus refers to how the heaven and the earth that currently exist will pass away, and God will either renew them or make new ones. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [until this world ends] or [until God recreates the heaven and the earth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the heaven and the earth
UST what God has created
(ὁ οὐρανὸς καὶ ἡ γῆ)

Here, Jesus is referring to all of the created world by naming the parts that are at the extreme ends of it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all creation] or [the universe]

Support Reference: Merism

> ULT one jot or one tittle
> UST Every part
> (ἰῶτα ἓν ἢ μία κερέα)

A jot is a very small letter or character used in writing. A tittle is a small part of a letter or character. If your readers would not be familiar with these terms, you could use the names of the smallest parts of the writing system in your area or you could use more general terms. Alternate translation: [one word or one part of a word] or [one character or stroke in a character]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT one jot or one tittle
> UST Every part
> (ἰῶτα ἓν ἢ μία κερέα)

The terms jot and tittle mean similar things. Jesus is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [one jot] or [one tittle]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT certainly not
> UST will be authoritative
> (οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT the law
UST of the Scriptures
(τοῦ νόμου)

Here, the phrase the law could refer to: (1) the Old Testament Scriptures in general, just as the phrases "the law" and "the prophets" in 5:17 refer to the Old Testament Scriptures. Alternate translation: [the law and the prophets] or [the Old Testament]; (2) just the law, which is the first five books of the Old Testament. Alternate translation: [the Old Testament law] or [the law in the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT all things are accomplished
UST {Further, the Scriptures will be authoritative} until everything {that their authors wrote about} happens
(ἂν πάντα γένηται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [all things take place] or [they accomplish all things]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT all things
UST everything {that their authors wrote about} (πάντα)

Here, the phrase all things could refer to: (1) everything that is written in the law. Alternate translation: [all things written in the law]; (2) everything that God has planned for this world and history. Alternate translation: [all things that God has planned] or [all things that will happen in this world]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
truly	What I have said is true
heaven	what God has created earth	what God has created law	of the Scriptures

Matthew 5:19

ULT	UST
Therefore, whoever annuls one of the least of these commandments and teaches men to do so will be called least in the kingdom of the heavens. But whoever does and teaches {them}, that one will be called great in the kingdom of the heavens.	So then, suppose that someone disregards even one of the most insignificant laws. Also, suppose that this person teaches other people to do the same thing. This person will be insignificant in God's heavenly kingdom. In contrast, suppose that someone obeys the laws and teaches other people to do the same thing. This person will be very important in God's heavenly kingdom.

ULT whoever annuls one of the least of these commandments and teaches men to do so will be called least in the kingdom of the heavens

UST suppose that someone disregards even one of the most insignificant laws. Also, suppose that this person teaches other people to do the same thing. This person will be insignificant in God's heavenly kingdom

(ὃς ἐὰν & λύσῃ μίαν τῶν ἐντολῶν τούτων τῶν ἐλαχίστων, καὶ διδάξῃ οὕτως τοὺς ἀνθρώπους, ἐλάχιστος κληθήσεται ἐν τῇ Βασιλείᾳ τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. You may also need to rearrange the elements in the sentence. Alternate translation: [God will call least in the kingdom of the heavens anyone who annuls one of the least of these commandments and teaches men to do so]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT of the least … least

UST most insignificant … insignificant

(τῶν ἐλαχίστων & ἐλάχιστος)

Here, the word least identifies something that is not very important. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of the least important … least important]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT men
UST other people
(τοὺς ἀνθρώπους)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women] or [others]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT But whoever does and teaches {them}, that one will be called great in the kingdom of the heavens
UST In contrast, suppose that someone obeys the laws and teaches other people to do the same thing. This person will be very important in God's heavenly kingdom
(ὃς δ' ἂν ποιήσῃ καὶ διδάξῃ, οὗτος μέγας κληθήσεται ἐν τῇ Βασιλείᾳ τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. You may also need to rearrange the elements in the sentence. Alternate translation: [But God will call great in the kingdom of the heavens anyone who does and teaches them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will be called	This person will be of … heavens	heavenly
will be called	will be
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom

Matthew 5:20

ULT	UST
For I say to you that unless your righteousness abounds more than that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will certainly not enter into the kingdom of the heavens.	Here is what I mean: You need to do what is right even more than the teachers of the Jewish law and the Pharisees do. That is the only way to participate in God's heavenly kingdom.

ULT For
UST Here is what I mean
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a further explanation of what Jesus said in the previous verse about how important it is to obey even the least important laws. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a further explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [In fact,] or [Even more,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT unless your righteousness abounds more than that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will certainly not enter into the kingdom of the heavens
UST You need to do what is right even more than the teachers of the Jewish law and the Pharisees do. That is the only way to participate in God's heavenly kingdom
(ἐὰν μὴ περισσεύσῃ ὑμῶν ἡ δικαιοσύνη πλεῖον τῶν γραμματέων καὶ Φαρισαίων, οὐ μὴ εἰσέλθητε εἰς τὴν Βασιλείαν τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was contradicting a statement that he was about to make, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [you will only enter into the kingdom of the heavens if your righteousness abounds more than that of the scribes and Pharisees]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT your righteousness abounds more than that of the scribes
UST You … to do what is right even more than the teachers of the Jewish law (περισσεύσῃ ὑμῶν ἡ δικαιοσύνη πλεῖον τῶν γραμματέων)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you are more righteous than the scribes]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT certainly not
UST That is the only way
(οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
righteousness	what is right of the scribes	than the teachers of the Jewish law
Pharisees	the Pharisees do
kingdom of the heavens	God’s heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 5:21

ULT	UST
You have heard that it was said to the ancient ones, 'Do not kill,' and, 'Whoever kills will be subject to the judgment.'	You know that God said to our ancestors, 'You must not murder anyone. People who murder someone deserve to have a judge decide they are guilty and punish them.'

ULT it was said to the ancient ones
UST God said to our ancestors
(ἐρρέθη τοῖς ἀρχαίοις)

Here Jesus quotes from the Old Testament scriptures, specifically from Exodus 20:13 or Deuteronomy 5:17. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [the ancient ones were commanded in the law]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT it was said
UST God said
(ἐρρέθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God speaking through Moses. Alternate translation: [God said] or [Moses said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to the ancient ones
UST to our ancestors
(τοῖς ἀρχαίοις)

Here, the phrase the ancient ones refers to the ancestors of the Jewish people to whom Jesus was speaking. The phrase most specifically refers to the Israelites who received the law at Mount Sinai. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to the Israelites who lived long ago]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT Do not kill
> UST You must not murder anyone
> (οὐ φονεύσεις)

Since the author of the quotation is addressing each specific person who is part of God's people, the command here is singular. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Each of you, do not kill]

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT and > (δ')

Here, the word and introduces Jesus' summary of what the law required when someone committed murder. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a form that clarifies that this is a summary, not a direct quotation from the Old Testament. Alternate translation: [and they were told] or [and they followed this principle:]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT will be subject to the judgment
> UST deserve to have a judge decide they are guilty and punish them
> (ἔνοχος ἔσται τῇ κρίσει)

Here Jesus implies that the person who kills deserves to be judged and also punished by other people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will be subject to judgment and punishment] or [deserves to be judged and punished]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the judgment
> UST deserve to have a judge decide they are guilty and punish them
> (τῇ κρίσει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [being judged] or [human authorities who will judge him or her]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
judgment	deserve to have a judge decide they are guilty and punish them

Matthew 5:22

ULT	UST
But I say to you that everyone being angry with his brotherwill be subject to the judgment. And whoever says to his brother, 'Raka!' will be subject to the council. And whoever says, 'You fool!' will be subject to the Gehenna of fire.	Now here is what I want to tell you: people who become angry with fellow believers deserve to have a judge decide they are guilty and punish them. People who insult fellow believers deserve to have the Jewish council decide they are guilty and punish them. People who say {that fellow believers are} foolish deserve to have God punish them in hell.

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus said in the previous verse (5:21). Jesus is not contradicting what he said. Rather, he is making it stronger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [However,] or [Even more,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I say to you that
UST here is what I want to tell you
(ἐγὼ & λέγω ὑμῖν, ὅτι)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to say and to contrast it with what "was said to the ancient ones" (5:21). If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the emphatic contrast in another way. Alternate translation: [listen to this:] or [here is what you need to know:]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT being angry with his brother
UST people who become angry with fellow believers
(ὁ ὀργιζόμενος τῷ ἀδελφῷ αὐτοῦ)

Many ancient manuscripts read being angry with his brother. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "being angry with his brother without cause." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT with his brother … to his brother
> UST with fellow believers … fellow believers
> (τῷ ἀδελφῷ αὐτοῦ & τῷ ἀδελφῷ αὐτοῦ)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who follows Jesus and shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with a fellow disciple … to a fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT with his brother … to his brother
> UST with fellow believers … fellow believers
> (τῷ ἀδελφῷ αὐτοῦ & τῷ ἀδελφῷ αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms his and brother are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [his or her brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT will be subject to the judgment
> UST deserve to have a judge decide they are guilty and punish them
> (ἔνοχος ἔσται τῇ κρίσει)

See how you translated this clause in 5:21. Alternate translation: [will be subject to judgment and punishment] or [deserves to be judged and punished]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the judgment
> UST a judge decide they are guilty and punish them
> (τῇ κρίσει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [being judged] or [human authorities who will judge him or her]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT says to his brother, 'Raka!' will be subject to … says, 'You fool!' will be subject
UST insult fellow believers deserve to have … say {that fellow believers are} foolish deserve to have (εἴπῃ τῷ ἀδελφῷ αὐτοῦ, ῥακά, ἔνοχος ἔσται & εἴπῃ, μωρέ, ἔνοχος ἔσται)

It may be more natural in your language to have indirect quotations here. Alternate translation: [calls his brother Raka will be subject to … says that someone is a fool will be subject]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT Raka
UST insult
(ῥακά)

Raka is a word borrowed from Aramaic. You will need to decide if you will also borrow this word into your language or if you will translate the meaning. Either approach has broad support. If you borrow the word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote. Alternate translation: [Fool] or [Idiot]

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT will be subject to the council
UST deserve to have the Jewish council decide they are guilty and punish them
(ἔνοχος ἔσται τῷ Συνεδρίῳ)

Here Jesus implies that any person who calls his brother a bad name like Raka deserves to be judged and punished by the council. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will be subject to judgment and punishment by the council] or [deserves to be judged and punished by the council]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT And whoever says
UST People who say
(ὃς δ' ἂν εἴπῃ)

Here Jesus implies that the person is speaking to his brother, just as with the earlier examples in the verse. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [And whoever says to his brother]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT You fool
> UST {that fellow believers are} foolish
> (μωρέ)

This is an insulting expression. Use an expression in your language that a person might use to insult another person. Alternate translation: [You are an idiot]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT will be subject to the Gehenna of fire
> UST deserve to have God punish them in hell
> (ἔνοχος ἔσται εἰς τὴν Γέενναν τοῦ πυρός)

Here Jesus implies that any person who calls a fellow disciple a fool deserves to be judged by God and punished in the Gehenna of fire. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [will be subject to judgment and punishment in the Gehenna of fire] or [deserves to be judged by God and punished in the Gehenna of fire]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the Gehenna of fire
> UST God punish them in hell
> (τὴν Γέενναν τοῦ πυρός)

Here Jesus uses the name Gehenna to refer to hell. The valley named Gehenna was outside the city of Jerusalem and was a place where people disposed of and burned garbage. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a simile or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a place of fire like the valley of Gehenna] or [fiery hell, which is like Gehenna valley]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the Gehenna of fire
> UST God punish them in hell
> (τὴν Γέενναν τοῦ πυρός)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe Gehenna as a place that has much fire. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the fiery Gehenna] or [the fires in Gehenna]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
judgment	a judge decide they are guilty and punish them
Raka	insult
council	the Jewish council decide they are guilty and punish them
You fool	{that fellow believers are} foolish
Gehenna	God punish them in hell

Matthew 5:23

ULT	UST
Therefore, if you offer your gift at the altar and there you remember that your brother has something against you,	So then, suppose that you are standing near the altar {in the temple} to present something {to God}. Then, you recall that you have offended a fellow believer.

ULT Therefore
UST So then
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces an inference or conclusion based on what Jesus has said about being angry and insulting fellow believers. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an inference or conclusion. Alternate translation: [So] or [Because of that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT if you offer your gift at the altar and there you remember that your brother has something against you
UST suppose that you are standing near the altar {in the temple} to present something {to God}. Then, you recall that you have offended a fellow believer
(ἐὰν & προσφέρῃς τὸ δῶρόν σου ἐπὶ τὸ θυσιαστήριον, κἀκεῖ μνησθῇς ὅτι ὁ ἀδελφός σου ἔχει τι κατὰ σοῦ)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that people in his audience might be at the altar and remember that a brother has something against them. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. Alternate translation: [consider this situation: You are offering your gift at the altar, and there you remember that your brother has something against you. If that were to happen]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT you offer your … you remember … your … you
UST to present something {to God} … you recall … you have offended a fellow believer
(προσφέρῃς & σου & μνησθῇς & σου & σοῦ)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

> ULT your gift at the altar
> UST you are standing near the altar {in the temple} … something > (τὸ δῶρόν σου ἐπὶ τὸ θυσιαστήριον)

Here Jesus is referring to giving a gift to God at the altar in the temple in Jerusalem. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [your gift to God at the altar in the temple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT your brother
> UST a fellow believer
> (ὁ ἀδελφός σου)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who follows Jesus and shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT your brother
> UST a fellow believer
> (ὁ ἀδελφός σου)

Although the term brother is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [your brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT has something against you
> UST you have offended
> (ἔχει τι κατὰ σοῦ)

Here, the phrase has something against you indicates that the brother has been offended or injured by you. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is upset with you] or [has been offended by you]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
altar	you are standing near the altar {in the temple}

Matthew 5:24

ULT	UST
leave your gift there in front of the altar and go; first be reconciled with your brother, and then, having come, offer your gift.	You should set down near the altar what you are presenting {to God} and depart {to visit that fellow believer}. You should resolve what happened to offend that fellow believer. Then, you can go back {to the altar} and present your gift {to God}.

ULT leave your … go … be reconciled … your … offer your UST You should set down … you … depart {to visit that fellow believer}. You should resolve what happened to offend that fellow believer … and present your … to God (ἄφες & σου & ὕπαγε & διαλλάγηθι & σου & πρόσφερε & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT go
UST depart {to visit that fellow believer}
(ὕπαγε)

Here Jesus implies that the person needs to go to his or her brother. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [go to your brother]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT first be reconciled with your brother, and then, having come, offer your gift
UST You should resolve what happened to offend that fellow believer. Then, you can go back {to the altar} and present your gift {to God}
(πρῶτον διαλλάγηθι τῷ ἀδελφῷ σου, καὶ τότε ἐλθὼν, πρόσφερε τὸ δῶρόν σου)

Here Jesus emphasizes that these two events must happen in this sequence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could emphasize the sequence in another way. Alternate translation: [before you can come back and offer your gift, you need to be reconciled with your brother]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT be reconciled with your brother
UST You should resolve what happened to offend that fellow believer (διαλλάγηθι τῷ ἀδελφῷ σου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [reconcile with your brother] or [restore the relationship with your brother]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT with your brother
UST that fellow believer
(τῷ ἀδελφῷ σου)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who follows Jesus and shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with that fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with your brother
UST that fellow believer
(τῷ ἀδελφῷ σου)

Although the term brother is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [with your brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT having come
UST you can go back {to the altar}
(ἐλθὼν)

Here Jesus implies that the person can come back to the altar. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having come back to your gift at the altar]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having come
> UST you can go back {to the altar}
> (ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
altar	altar
be reconciled	You should resolve what happened to offend

Matthew 5:25

ULT	UST
Be in agreement with your accuser quickly while you are with him on the way, lest your accuser might hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison.	Suppose that someone intends to say to a judge that you did something wrong. You should try to resolve what happened before that person can speak to the judge. That way, the person does not bring you to the judge, who would command one of the officials to put you in jail.

ULT Be in agreement
UST You should try to resolve what happened
(ἴσθι εὐνοῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of agreement, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Agree]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Be … your … you are … your … you … you will be thrown
UST Suppose that someone intends to say to a judge that you did something wrong. You should try to resolve what happened before that person can speak to the judge … the person … you … to put you (ἴσθι & σου & εἶ & σε & ὁ & βληθήσῃ)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT with your accuser … your accuser
UST Suppose that someone intends to say to a judge that you did something wrong … the person
(τῷ ἀντιδίκῳ σου & ὁ ἀντίδικος)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe someone who accuses another person (“you”). If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [with the one who is accusing you … the one who is accusing you]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT you are with him on the way
> UST before that person can speak to the judge
> (εἶ μετ’ αὐτοῦ ἐν τῇ ὁδῷ)

Here, on the way is referring to the time when the person and the person’s accuser are walking to the place where the judge is. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you are walking with him on the road to the law court]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT him
> UST before that person can speak to the judge
> (αὐτοῦ)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT might hand you over
> UST does … bring you
> (σε παραδῷ)

Here, the phrase hand you over refers to putting someone under the authority and control of another person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [might transfer you] or [might entrust you]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the judge to the officer
> UST who would command one of the officials
> (ὁ κριτὴς τῷ ὑπηρέτῃ)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the judge might hand you over to the officer]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT to the officer
> UST would command one of the officials
> (τῷ ὑπηρέτῃ)

Here, the officer is a person who has authority to carry out the decisions of a judge. Usually this involves bringing people to jail if they have been declared guilty by the judge. Alternate translation: [to the one who carries out the judge's orders]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT you will be thrown into prison
> UST to put you in jail
> (εἰς φυλακὴν βληθήσῃ)

Here, the phrase thrown into prison refers to someone being locked up in prison. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you will be put into prison] or [you will be locked up in prison]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT you will be thrown
> UST to put you
> (βληθήσῃ)

If your language does not use the passive form, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the officer will throw you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to the judge	to the judge
judge	who

Matthew 5:26

ULT	UST
Truly I say to you, you will certainly not come out from there until you have paid the last quadrans.	{If you go to jail,} you will never get out of there until you are able to pay every bit of what the judge says you owe. What I have said is true.

ULT to you, you will certainly not come out … you have paid
UST {If you go to jail,} you will never get out … until you are able to pay … What I have said is true
(σοι, οὐ μὴ ἐξέλθῃς & ἂν ἀποδῷς)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you is singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of you in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT certainly not
UST never
(οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT you will certainly not come out
UST {If you go to jail,} you will never get out (οὐ μὴ ἐξέλθῃς)

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [you will certainly not go out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT until you have paid the last quadrans
> UST until you are able to pay every bit of what the judge says you owe > (ἕως ἂν ἀποδῷς τὸν ἔσχατον κοδράντην)

Here Jesus implies that the "judge" required the person to pay a fine or give money to the person who accused him or her. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [until you have paid the last quadrans that the judge required]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the last quadrans
> UST every bit of what the judge says you owe > (τὸν ἔσχατον κοδράντην)

A quadrans was one of the smallest and least valuable coins in circulation in this place and time. It was equivalent to about an eighth of an hour's wage. You could try to express this amount in terms of current monetary values, but that might cause your Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate, since those values can change over time. So instead you might use the name of the least valuable coin in your culture, or a general expression. Alternate translation: [the last penny] or [every bit of money that your creditor demands]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	What I have said is true

Matthew 5:27

ULT	UST
You have heard that it was said, ‘Do not commit adultery.’	You know that God said, ‘Married people must remain sexually faithful to their spouses.’

> ULT it was said
> UST God said
> (ἐρρέθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God speaking through Moses. Alternate translation: [God commanded] or [Moses said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT it was said
> UST God said
> (ἐρρέθη)

Here Jesus quotes from the Old Testament scriptures, specifically from Exodus 20:14 or Deuteronomy 5:18. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [it was commanded in the law]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT Do not commit adultery
> UST Married people must remain sexually faithful to their spouses
> (οὐ μοιχεύσεις)

Since the author of the quotation is addressing each specific person who is part of God’s people, the command here is singular. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Each of you, do not commit adultery]

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

> ULT Do not commit adultery
> UST Married people must remain sexually faithful to their spouses
> (οὐ μοιχεύσεις)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of adultery, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Do not be an adulterer or adulteress] or [Do not do what is adulterous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do … commit adultery	Married people must remain sexually faithful to their spouses

Matthew 5:28

ULT	UST
But I say to you that everyone looking at a woman to lust after her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.	Now here is what I want to tell you: suppose that a man stares at a woman who is not his wife so that he can think about having sex with her. Simply because of what he desires, he has been sexually unfaithful to his wife.

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus said in the previous verse (5:27). Jesus is not contradicting what he said. Rather, he is making it stronger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [However,] or [Even more,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I say to you that
UST here is what I want to tell you
(ἐγὼ & λέγω ὑμῖν, ὅτι)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to say and to contrast it with the command he quoted in the previous verse (5:27). If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the emphatic contrast in another way. Alternate translation: [listen to this:] or [here is what you need to know:]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT a woman
UST a woman who is not his wife (γυναῖκα)

Here Jesus implies that this woman is not the man's wife. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [another woman] or [a woman to whom he is not married]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to lust after her
UST so that he can think about having sex with her (πρὸς τὸ ἐπιθυμῆσαι αὐτὴν)

Here, the phrase to lust after her could describe: (1) the purpose for which the man is looking. Alternate translation: [in order to lust after her]; (2) the result of the man looking. Alternate translation: [with the result that he lusts after her]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT has already committed adultery
UST Simply … he has been sexually unfaithful to his wife (ἤδη ἐμοίχευσεν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of adultery, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [has already become an adulterer] or [has already done what is adulterous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in his heart
UST because of what he desires
(ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ αὐτοῦ)

In Matthew's culture, the heart is the place where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the place where humans think and feel in your culture or by expressing the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [in his thoughts] or [in his desires]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
lust after	so that he can think about having sex with has … committed adultery	he has been sexually unfaithful to his wife

Matthew 5:29

ULT	UST
But if your right eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw {it} away from you. For it is better for you that one of your members would perish and your whole body would not be thrown into Gehenna.	Suppose that you sinned because you looked at something. You should never do that again, even if you have to remove your eyes to make sure of it! {You should respond that drastically} because it is better for you to have no eyes than to have a complete body but end up in hell.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a further development in what Jesus has been speaking about. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Now]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT your … you … pluck … out … throw {it} … you … for you … your … your
UST you … because you looked at something. You should never do that again, even if you have to remove your eyes to make sure of it … for you … have no eyes … to have a … body
(σου & σε, ἔξελε & βάλε & σοῦ & σοι & σου & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT if your right eye causes you to stumble
UST Suppose that you sinned because you looked at something
(εἰ & ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου ὁ δεξιὸς σκανδαλίζει σε)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that people in his audience might experience their right eye causing them to stumble. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. Alternate translation: [consider this situation: your right eye causes you to stumble. If that were to happen]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT your right eye causes you to stumble
UST you sinned because you looked at something
(ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου ὁ δεξιὸς σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here, Jesus speaks of your right eye as if it were a person who could cause you to stumble. He means that the right eye is the part of the body that is involved in the stumbling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it is your right eye's fault that you stumble] or [you stumble with your right eye]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT causes you to stumble
UST you sinned
(σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here, Jesus is speaking of sinning as if it were stumbling. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causes you to sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT pluck it out and throw {it} away from you
UST You should never do that again, even if you have to remove your eyes to make sure of it
(ἔξελε αὐτὸν καὶ βάλε ἀπὸ σοῦ)

Here Jesus provides the most extreme response to sinning. He does not mean that this should be the normal way to deal with sin. You should preserve the extreme language Jesus uses, but use a form that indicates that this is the most extreme example. Alternate translation: [if necessary, you should even pluck it out and throw it away from you!]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT For
UST {You should respond that drastically} because (γάρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why people should pluck out their eyes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a command, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [That is because] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT one of your members
UST have no eyes
(ἓν τῶν μελῶν σου)

Here, the phrase one of your members refers to a body part. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [one of your body parts]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and
UST than
(καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces the result of one of your members perishing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [so] or [with the result that]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT your whole body would not be thrown into Gehenna
UST than to have a complete body but end up in hell
(μὴ ὅλον τὸ σῶμά σου βληθῇ εἰς Γέενναν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God would not throw your whole body into Gehenna]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT Gehenna
UST hell
(Γέενναν)

Here Jesus uses the name Gehenna to refer to hell. Translate the name as you did in 5:22. Alternate translation: [a place like the valley of Gehenna] or [hell, which is like Gehenna valley]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
causes … to stumble	sinned
it is better	it is better

ULT	UST
of … members	have no eyes
would perish	have no eyes
Gehenna	hell

Matthew 5:30

ULT	UST
And if your right hand causes you to stumble, cut it off and throw {it} away from you. For it is better for you that one of your members would perish and your whole body would not go into Gehenna.	Suppose that you sinned because you touched something. You should never do that again, even if you have to chop off your hands to make sure of it! {You should respond that drastically} because it is better for you to have no hands than to have a complete body but end up in hell.

ULT And
(καὶ)

This verse means basically the same thing as the previous verse, but Jesus uses the example of a right hand instead of a "right eye." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word other than and to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Again,] or [Here is another example:]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT your … you … cut … off … throw {it} … you … for you … your … your UST you … because you touched something. You should never do that again, even if you have to chop off your hands to make sure of it … for you … have no hands … have a … body
(σου & σε, ἔκκοψον & βάλε & σοῦ & σοι & σου & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT if your right hand causes you to stumble
UST Suppose that you sinned because you touched something (εἰ ἡ δεξιά σου χεὶρ σκανδαλίζει σε)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that people in his audience might experience their right hand causing them to stumble. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. See how you translated the similar clause in 5:29. Alternate translation: [consider this situation: Your right hand causes you to stumble. If that were to happen]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT your right hand causes you to stumble
UST you sinned because you touched something (ἡ δεξιά σου χεὶρ σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here, Jesus speaks of your right hand as if it were a person who could cause you to stumble. He means that the right hand is the part of the body that is involved in the stumbling. See how you translated the similar clause in 5:29. Alternate translation: [it is your right hand's fault that you stumble] or [you stumble because of your right hand]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT causes you to stumble
UST you sinned
(σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here, Jesus is speaking of sinning as if it were stumbling. See how you translated this phrase in 5:29. Alternate translation: [causes you to sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT cut it off and throw {it} away from you
UST You should never do that again, even if you have to chop off your hands to make sure of it
(ἔκκοψον αὐτὴν καὶ βάλε ἀπὸ σοῦ)

Here Jesus provides the most extreme response to sinning. He does not mean that this should be the normal way to deal with sin. You should preserve the extreme language Jesus uses, but use a form that indicates that this is the most extreme example. See how you translated the similar command in 5:29. Alternate translation: [if necessary, you should even cut it off and throw it away from you!]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT For
UST {You should respond that drastically} because
(γάρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why people should cut off their hands. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a command, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [That is because] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT one of your members
UST have no hands
(ἓν τῶν μελῶν σου)

Here, the phrase one of your members refers to a body part. See how you translated this phrase in 5:29. Alternate translation: [one of your body parts]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and
UST than to
(καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces the result of one of your members perishing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [so] or [with the result that]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT your whole body would not go into Gehenna
UST than to have a complete body but end up in hell
(μὴ ὅλον τὸ σῶμά σου εἰς Γέενναν ἀπέλθῃ)

Here, Jesus speaks of your whole body as if it were a person who could go into Gehenna. He means that the person ends up in Gehenna with their whole body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your whole body would not be sent into Gehenna] or [God would not throw your whole body into Gehenna]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT Gehenna
UST hell
(Γέενναν)

Here Jesus uses the name Gehenna to refer to hell. Translate the name as you did in 5:29. Alternate translation: [a place like the valley of Gehenna] or [hell, which is like Gehenna valley]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
causes … to stumble	sinned
it is better	it is better
of … members	have no hands would perish	have no hands
Gehenna	hell

Matthew 5:31

ULT	UST
Now it has been said, ‘Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.’	God said, ‘Suppose that a man wants to divorce his wife. He must present her with a document that states that he is divorcing her.’

ULT Now
(δέ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next topic. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT it has been said
UST God said
(ἐρρέθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God speaking through Moses. Alternate translation: [God commanded] or [Moses said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT it has been said
UST God said
(ἐρρέθη)

Here Jesus summarizes a command from the Old Testament scriptures, which can be found in Deuteronomy 24:1. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [it was commanded in the law]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT let him give
> UST He must present … with > (δότω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he needs to give]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT a certificate of divorce
> UST a document that states that he is divorcing her > (ἀποστάσιον)

A certificate of divorce is a written document that makes the divorce official. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of document, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a written paper that testifies to the divorce]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

Matthew 5:32

ULT	UST
But I say to you that everyone divorcing his wife, except for a report of sexual immorality, causes her to commit adultery. And whoever marries {the one who} has been divorced commits adultery.	Now here is what I want to tell you: a man may divorce his wife only if she has had improper sex. When a man divorces his wife for any other reason, he makes her disobey what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse. Further, any man who marries a woman whose husband has divorced her also disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse.

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus said in the previous verse (5:31). Jesus is not contradicting what he said. Rather, he is making it stronger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [However,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I say to you that
UST here is what I want to tell you
(ἐγὼ & λέγω ὑμῖν, ὅτι)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to say and to contrast it with the command he quoted in the previous verse (5:31). See how you translated the same phrase in 5:28. Alternate translation: [listen to this:] or [here is what you need to know:]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT everyone divorcing his wife, except for a report of sexual immorality, causes her to commit adultery
> UST a man may divorce his wife only if she has had improper sex. When a man divorces his wife for any other reason, he makes her disobey what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse
> (πᾶς ὁ ἀπολύων τὴν γυναῖκα αὐτοῦ, παρεκτὸς λόγου πορνείας, ποιεῖ αὐτὴν μοιχευθῆναι)

If it would appear in your language that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [the only time a man is allowed to divorce his wife is when there is a report of sexual immorality. Otherwise, when he divorces her, he causes her to commit adultery]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

> ULT a report of sexual immorality
> UST she has had improper sex
> (λόγου πορνείας)

Here Jesus implies that the report is about the wife having done something that is sexually immoral. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a report that she has been sexually immoral]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT of sexual immorality
> UST she has had improper sex
> (πορνείας)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea behind immorality, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [concerning what is sexually immoral] or [of sexually immoral behavior]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT causes her to commit adultery
UST he makes her disobey what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse
(ποιεῖ αὐτὴν μοιχευθῆναι)

Here, the phrase causes her to commit adultery could imply that: (1) the wife marries again, since that was expected in Matthew's culture. When she does, she commits adultery. Alternate translation: [causes her to commit adultery when she marries another man]; (2) the man marries again, since that was expected in Matthew's culture. When he does, he makes his previous wife the victim of adultery. Alternate translation: [commits adultery against her when he marries another woman]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to commit adultery … commits adultery
UST disobey what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse … also disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse
(μοιχευθῆναι & μοιχᾶται)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of adultery, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to become an adulteress … becomes an adulterer] or [to do what is adulterous … does what is adulterous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT {the one who} has been divorced
UST a woman whose husband has divorced her
(ἀπολελυμένην)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the woman's husband. Alternate translation: [her after her husband has divorced her]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of sexual immorality	she has had improper sex
to commit adultery	disobey what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse commits adultery	also disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse

Matthew 5:33

ULT	UST
Again, you have heard that it was said to the ancient ones, 'Do not break an oath, but carry out your oaths to the Lord.'	Here are more examples: you know that God said to our ancestors, 'You must not promise to do anything that you will not do. Rather, you must always do what you promised the Lord {that you would do}.'

ULT Again
UST Here are more examples
(πάλιν)

Here, the word Again introduces a new group of contrasts between what the disciples have heard and what Jesus says to them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a second, similar section, or you could leave Again untranslated. Alternate translation: [Further] or [Even more]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT it was said to the ancient ones
UST God said to our ancestors
(ἐρρέθη τοῖς ἀρχαίοις)

Here Jesus summarizes several commands in the Old Testament that require people to do what they promised to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that Jesus is summarizing commands from the Old Testament Scriptures. Alternate translation: [the ancient ones were commanded in the law]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT it was said
UST God said
(ἐρρέθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God speaking through Moses. Alternate translation: [God declared] or [Moses said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to the ancient ones
UST to our ancestors
(τοῖς ἀρχαίοις)

Here, the phrase the ancient ones refers to the ancestors of the Jewish people to whom Jesus was speaking. The phrase most specifically refers to the Israelites who received the law at Mount Sinai. See how you translated the phrase in 5:21. Alternate translation: [to the Israelites who lived long ago]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Do not break an oath, but carry out your oaths to the Lord
UST You must not promise to do anything that you will not do. Rather, you must always do what you promised the Lord {that you would do}
(οὐκ ἐπιορκήσεις, ἀποδώσεις δὲ τῷ Κυρίῳ τοὺς ὅρκους σου)

Since the author of the quotation is addressing each specific person who is part of God's people, the command here is singular. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Each of you, do not break an oath, but carry out your oaths to the Lord]

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Do not break an oath
UST You must not promise to do anything that you will not do (οὐκ ἐπιορκήσεις)

Here, the command Do not break an oath could be forbidding people from: (1) swearing to do something and then not doing it. Alternate translation: [Do not fail to accomplish what you said in an oath]; (2) swearing that something is true when it is not true. Alternate translation: [Do not swear falsely] or [Do not use an oath to say that something false is actually true]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT but
UST Rather
(δὲ)

Here the word but introduces what to do instead of breaking an oath. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [but instead]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

> ULT carry out your oaths to the Lord
> UST you must always do what you promised the Lord {that you would do}
> (ἀποδώσεις & τῷ Κυρίῳ τοὺς ὅρκους σου)

Here, the phrase carry out your oaths to the Lord means that people do to do what they promised the Lord that they would do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable clause or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [accomplish what you said in your oath to the Lord]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
oaths	what you promised … that you would do to the Lord	the Lord

Matthew 5:34

ULT	UST
But I tell you not to swear at all, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God;	Now here is what I want to tell you: you must never have someone or something guarantee what you promise. For example, you must not have heaven guarantee it. That is because heaven is where God rules.

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus said in the previous verse (5:33). Jesus is not contradicting what he said. Rather, he is adding new information. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [However,] or [Yet]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I tell you not to swear
UST here is what I want to tell you: you must never have someone or something guarantee what you promise
(ἐγὼ & λέγω ὑμῖν μὴ ὀμόσαι)

Jesus uses the clause I tell you to emphasize what he is about to say and to contrast it with what "was said to the ancient ones" (5:33). If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the emphatic contrast in another way. Alternate translation: [listen to this: do not swear] or [here is what you need to know: do not swear]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT at all, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God
UST never … For example, you must not have heaven guarantee it. That is because heaven is where God rules (ὅλως; μήτε ἐν τῷ οὐρανῷ, ὅτι θρόνος ἐστὶν τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why people should not swear by heaven. If it would be helpful in your language, you could put the reason before the command. Alternate translation: [at all. Heaven is the throne of God, so do not swear by it]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT it is the throne of God
> UST heaven is where God rules
> (θρόνος ἐστὶν τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Jesus speaks of heaven as if it were the throne of God. He means that heaven is the place from which God rules. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it is where God's throne is] or [it is the place from which God rules]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to swear	you must … have someone or something guarantee what you promise heaven	you must … have heaven guarantee it the throne	rules
of God	God

Matthew 5:35

ULT	UST
nor by the earth, for it is a footstool for his feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King.	You must not have the earth guarantee what you promise. That is because the earth is what God rules over. You must not have the city of Jerusalem guarantee it. That is because Jerusalem is a city that belongs to God, who is a powerful king.

ULT nor by the earth, for it is a footstool for his feet
UST You must not have the earth guarantee what you promise. That is because the earth is what God rules over (μήτε ἐν τῇ γῇ, ὅτι ὑποπόδιόν ἐστιν τῶν ποδῶν αὐτοῦ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why people should not swear by the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could put the reason before the command. Alternate translation: [and the earth is a footstool for his feet, so do not swear by it either]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT it is a footstool for his feet
UST the earth is what God rules over (ὑποπόδιόν ἐστιν τῶν ποδῶν αὐτοῦ)

Here, Jesus speaks of the earth as if it were a footstool for his feet. He means that the earth is a place over which God rules. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it is where God exercises his authority] or [it is the place over which God rules]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King
UST You must not have the city of Jerusalem guarantee it. That is because Jerusalem is a city that belongs to God, who is a powerful king (μήτε εἰς Ἰεροσόλυμα, ὅτι πόλις ἐστὶν τοῦ μεγάλου Βασιλέως)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why people should not swear by Jerusalem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could put the reason before the command. Alternate translation: [and Jerusalem is the city of the great King, so do not swear by it either]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the city of the great King
UST Jerusalem … a city that belongs to God, who is a powerful king (πόλις & τοῦ μεγάλου Βασιλέως)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a city that belongs to the great King. It is the city where the great King is present in a special way. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the city where the great King is present] or [the city that the great King possesses]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of the great King
UST a city that belongs to God, who is a powerful king
(τοῦ μεγάλου Βασιλέως)

Here Jesus implies that the great King is God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of the great King, God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
earth	have the earth guarantee what you promise
a footstool	what God rules over
Jerusalem	have the city of Jerusalem guarantee it of the … King	a city that belongs to God, who is a powerful king

Matthew 5:36

ULT	UST
Neither should you swear by your head, for you are not able to make one hair white or black.	You must not have your own head guarantee what you promise. That is because you cannot even control the color of one of your hairs.

ULT Neither should you swear by your head, for you are not able to make one hair white or black

UST You must not have your own head guarantee what you promise. That is because you cannot even control the color of one of your hairs

(μήτε ἐν τῇ κεφαλῇ σου ὀμόσῃς, ὅτι οὐ δύνασαι μίαν τρίχα λευκὴν ποιῆσαι ἢ μέλαιναν)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why people should not swear by their head. If it would be helpful in your language, you could put the reason before the command. Alternate translation: [Also, you are not able to make one hair on your head white or black, so you should not swear by your head]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT should you swear … your … you are not able

UST have your own head guarantee what you promise … you cannot even (σου ὀμόσῃς & οὐ δύνασαι)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT one hair

UST of one of your hairs

(μίαν τρίχα)

Here Jesus implies that this hair is on a person's head. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [one hair on your head]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
should you swear	have … guarantee what you promise

Matthew 5:37

ULT	UST
But let your word be ‘Yes, yes,’ {or} ‘No, no.’ But anything greater than this is from the evil one.	When you promise something, just say ‘Yes, I will do it,’ or ‘No, I will not do it.’ When you say more to guarantee what you promised, you are doing what Satan wants {you to do}.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus tells the disciples not to do in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Instead,] or [Rather,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT let your word be
UST When you promise something, just say (ἔστω & ὁ λόγος ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [your word should be] or [you should only say]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT your word
UST When you promise something
(ὁ λόγος ὑμῶν)

Here, word represents what a person says using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what you say]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Yes, yes,' {or} 'No, no
UST Yes, I will do it,' or 'No, I will not do it (ναὶ ναί, οὒ οὔ)

Jesus implies that a person is using the word yes to make a promise to say or do something and the word no to make a promise not to say or do something. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Yes, I will' or 'No, I will not]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT anything greater than this
UST When you say more to guarantee what you promised (τὸ & περισσὸν τούτων)

Here Jesus is referring to saying anything more than yes or no when making a promise. He is particularly referring to swearing an oath. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [using more words in your promise] or [including an oath]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the evil one
UST you are doing what Satan wants {you to do}
(τοῦ πονηροῦ)

Here, the phrase the evil one could refer to: (1) the devil, or Satan. Alternate translation: [the devil]; (2) evil in general. Alternate translation: [an evil source] or [what is evil]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the evil one	you are doing what Satan wants {you to do}

Matthew 5:38

ULT	UST
You have heard that it was said, ‘An eye in exchange for an eye, and a tooth in exchange for a tooth.’	You know that God said, ‘{You must punish people in a way that matches how they hurt others. For example,} consider a person who blinded someone. You should punish that person by blinding him or her too. Consider a person who knocked out someone’s tooth. You should punish that person by knocking out his or her tooth too.’

> ULT it was said
> UST God said
> (ἐρρέθη)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God commanded] or [Moses said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT it was said
> UST God said
> (ἐρρέθη)

Here Jesus quotes from the Old Testament scriptures. These words can be found in Exodus 21:24; Leviticus 24:20; and Deuteronomy 19:21. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [it was commanded in the law]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT An eye in exchange for an eye, and a tooth in exchange for a tooth
UST {You must punish people in a way that matches how they hurt others. For example,} consider a person who blinded someone. You should punish that person by blinding him or her too. Consider a person who knocked out someone's tooth. You should punish that person by knocking out his or her tooth too
(ὀφθαλμὸν ἀντὶ ὀφθαλμοῦ καὶ ὀδόντα ἀντὶ ὀδόντος)

Here Jesus implies that this command deals with the proper way to punish people when they injure others. The command indicates that the punishment should match what the person did to hurt another person. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [If someone injured another person's eye, his or her eye should be injured as punishment; if someone injured another person's tooth, his or her tooth should be injured as punishment] or [If you hurt someone's eye, your eye will be hurt; if you hurt someone's tooth, your tooth will be hurt]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 5:39

ULT	UST
But I tell you not to resist the evil one. Instead, whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also.	Now here is what I want to tell you: do not try to stop people who do bad things to you. Rather, suppose that someone {insults you by} hitting you on the right side of your face. You should turn your face so that the person can hit the left side also.

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus said in the previous verse (5:38). Jesus is not contradicting what he said. Rather, he is adding new information. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [However,] or [Yet]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I tell you not to resist
UST here is what I want to tell you: do not try to stop (ἐγὼ & λέγω ὑμῖν, μὴ ἀντιστῆναι)

Jesus uses the clause I tell you to emphasize what he is about to say and to contrast it with what he quoted in the previous verse (5:38). If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the emphatic contrast in another way. Alternate translation: [listen to this: do not resist] or [here is what you need to know: do not resist]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to resist
UST do … try to stop (ἀντιστῆναι)

Here, the word resist could refer to: (1) trying to stop someone from doing something. Alternate translation: [to oppose]; (2) trying to fight back or get revenge. Alternate translation: [to fight back against] or [to get revenge on]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the evil one
UST people who do bad things to you
(τῷ πονηρῷ)

Here, the phrase the evil one could refer to: (1) any person who acts in evil ways. Alternate translation: [an evil person] or [any person who is evil]; (2) any action or thing that is evil. Alternate translation: [anything evil] or [evil actions]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also UST suppose that someone {insults you by} hitting you on the right side of your face. You should turn your face so that the person can hit the left side also (ὅστις σε ῥαπίζει εἰς τὴν δεξιὰν σιαγόνα, στρέψον αὐτῷ καὶ τὴν ἄλλην)

Jesus is using a hypothetical situation to teach. Use a natural method in your language for introducing a hypothetical situation. Alternate translation: [if anyone strikes you on the right cheek, you should turn to him the other also]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT you … turn
UST you … You should turn your face
(σε & στρέψον)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you is singular throughout this sentence. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of you in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT turn to him the other also
UST You should turn your face so that the person can hit the left side also (στρέψον αὐτῷ καὶ τὴν ἄλλην)

Here Jesus implies that turning the other cheek to him will allow the person to strike this other cheek. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [turn to him the other so that he can strike it also]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT to him
> UST so that the person can hit
> (αὐτῷ)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [to him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil one	people who do bad things to you

Matthew 5:40

ULT	UST
And to the one wanting to have judgment passed upon you and to take away your tunic, let him also have your cloak.	Suppose that someone wants to sue you for your shirt. You should give that person your coat as well.

ULT to the one wanting to have judgment passed upon you and to take away your tunic, let him also have your cloak
UST Suppose that someone wants to sue you for your shirt. You should give that person your coat as well
(τῷ θέλοντί σοι κριθῆναι καὶ τὸν χιτῶνά σου λαβεῖν, ἄφες αὐτῷ καὶ τὸ ἱμάτιον)

Jesus is using a hypothetical situation to teach. Use a natural method in your language for introducing a hypothetical situation. Alternate translation: [if someone wants to have judgment passed upon you and to take away your tunic, you should let him also have your cloak]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT to have judgment passed upon you
UST to sue you
(σοι κριθῆναι)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to have someone judge you] or [you to be judged]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you … your … let … have your
UST you … your … You should give … your coat
(σοι & σου & ἄφες & τὸ)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT and to take away your tunic
UST for your shirt
(καὶ τὸν χιτῶνά σου λαβεῖν)

Here, the word and introduces the result of judgment being passed upon you. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that makes this more explicit. Alternate translation: [with the result that he takes away your tunic]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT tunic … cloak
UST shirt … your coat
(τὸν χιτῶνά & ἱμάτιον)

The tunic was worn close to the body, like a heavy shirt or a sweater. The cloak, the more valuable of the two, was worn over the tunic for warmth and could be used as a blanket for warmth at night. If your readers would not be familiar with these kinds of garments, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [inner garment … outer garment]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT him
UST that person
(αὐτῷ)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to have judgment passed upon	to sue tunic	shirt

Matthew 5:41

ULT	UST
And whoever will press you into service for one mile, go with him two.	Suppose that someone requires you to carry his or her burden for one section of road. You should continue to carry that person's burden for a second {section of road}.

ULT whoever will press you into service for one mile, go with him two
UST Suppose that someone requires you to carry his or her burden for one section of road. You should continue to carry that person's burden for a second {section of road}
(ὅστις σε ἀγγαρεύσει μίλιον ἕν, ὕπαγε μετ' αὐτοῦ δύο)

Jesus is using a hypothetical situation to teach. Use a natural method in your language for introducing a hypothetical situation. Alternate translation: [if someone presses you into service for one mile, you should go with him two]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT will press you into service
UST requires you to carry his or her burden
(σε ἀγγαρεύσει)

Here, the phrase press you into service refers to a person in authority forcing someone else to carry his or her pack or belongings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that makes this idea explicit. Alternate translation: [will force you to carry his pack] or [will make you act as his porter]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you … go
UST you … You should continue to carry (σε & ὕπαγε)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you is singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of you in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

> ULT for one mile
> UST for one section of road
> (μίλιον ἕν)

Here, one mile refers to the Roman mile, which was 1,000 paces. In modern measurements, this is about 4,860 feet or 1,480 meters. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could express this in terms of modern measurements, either in the text or a footnote. It is not important to the meaning of the passage to be precise about the distance, so you could use round numbers. Alternate translation: [for one kilometer]

Support Reference: Biblical Distance

> ULT go with him two
> UST You should continue to carry that person's burden for a second {section of road}
> (ὕπαγε μετ' αὐτοῦ δύο)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from the context. Alternate translation: [go with him two miles]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT him
> UST that person's burden
> (αὐτοῦ)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

Matthew 5:42

ULT	UST
Give to the one asking you, and do not turn away from the one wanting to borrow from you.	Suppose that someone requests something from you. You should give that person {what they requested}. Suppose that someone wants to receive a loan from you. You should lend money to that person.

ULT Give to the one asking you
UST Suppose that someone requests something from you. You should give that person {what they requested}
(τῷ αἰτοῦντί σε, δός)

Here Jesus does not specify what the person is asking for or what should be given. He does this to include many things that a person might ask for. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include a generic or general object. Alternate translation: [Give to the one asking you for anything] or [When a person asks you for anything, give it to him or her]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Give … you … do not turn away from … you
UST you. You should give that person {what they requested} … you. You should lend money to that person (σε, δός & σοῦ & μὴ ἀποστραφῇς)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you is singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of you in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT do not turn away from
UST You should lend money to that person
(μὴ ἀποστραφῇς)

Here Jesus speaks of refusing to help someone as if it were turning away from that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not refuse] or [do not reject]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to borrow
> UST to receive a loan > (δανίσασθαι)

Here, the word borrow usually indicates borrowing money. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to borrow money]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 5:43

ULT	UST
You have heard that it was said, ‘Love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’	You know that God said, ‘Care for your fellow Jews.’ {Some people add,} ‘Despise those who oppose you.’

ULT it was said
UST God said
(ἐρρέθη)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God commanded] or [Moses said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT that it was said
UST that God said
(ὅτι ἐρρέθη)

Here Jesus quotes from the Old Testament scriptures. The words Love your neighbor are from Leviticus 19:18. The words hate your enemy are what some people would say in addition to the quotation from the Old Testament. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [people often quote the law by saying]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Love your neighbor and hate your enemy
UST Care for your fellow Jews.’ {Some people add,} ‘Despise those who oppose you (ἀγαπήσεις τὸν πλησίον σου, καὶ μισήσεις τὸν ἐχθρόν σου)

Since the author of the quotation is addressing each specific person who is part of God’s people, the command here is singular. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Each of you, love your neighbor and hate your enemy]

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

> ULT your neighbor … your enemy
> UST your fellow Jews … those who oppose you > (τὸν πλησίον σου & τὸν ἐχθρόν σου)

The words neighbor and enemy represent neighbors and enemies in general, not one particular neighbor or enemy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [each of your neighbors … each of your enemies]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT your neighbor
> UST your fellow Jews
> (τὸν πλησίον σου)

Here Jesus refers to any member of one's community or group as a neighbor. He is not referring just to people who live nearby. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your countrymen] or [everyone who belongs to your group]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Love	Care for
neighbor	fellow Jews
enemy	those who oppose

Matthew 5:44

ULT	UST
But I say to you, love your enemiesand pray on behalf of the ones persecuting you	Now here is what I want to tell you: you should care for those who oppose you. You should pray for those who mistreat you.

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus said in the previous verse (5:43). Jesus is not contradicting what God said about loving neighbors, but he is contradicting what some people say about hating enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [However,] or [Yet]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I say to you
UST here is what I want to tell you
(ἐγὼ & λέγω ὑμῖν)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to say and to contrast it with what he quoted in the previous verse (5:43). If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the emphatic contrast in another way. Alternate translation: [listen to this:] or [here is what you need to know:]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT your enemies and pray
UST those who oppose you. You should pray
(τοὺς ἐχθροὺς ὑμῶν, καὶ προσεύχεσθε)

Many ancient manuscripts only include these two commands in this verse. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts include the commands “bless the ones cursing you, do good to the ones hating you” between the words enemies and and. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
love	you should care for

ULT	UST
enemies	those who oppose pray	You should pray
persecuting	those who mistreat

Matthew 5:45

ULT	UST
so that you might be sons of your Father in the heavens. For he makes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and he sends rain on the just and the unjust.	God causes the sun to shine on people who are wicked and on people who are good. God makes it rain on people who do what is right and on people who do what is wrong. So, when you {care and pray for people who oppose you}, you are like children of God, your Father, who rules from heaven.

> ULT so that
> UST when you {care and pray for people who oppose you}
> (ὅπως)

The connecting words so that introduce a goal or purpose relationship. The purpose for loving enemies and praying for persecutors (see 5:44) is to be sons of your Father. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that this is the purpose. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

> ULT sons of your Father
> UST children of God, your Father
> (υἱοὶ τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

Jesus speaks of his disciples as if God were their physical Father. He means that they have a father-son relationship with God, which indicates that they act or behave like God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [spiritual sons of your spiritual Father] or [like God, whom you can call your Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT of your Father
> UST of God, your Father
> (τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

Father is an important title for the first person in the Trinity. He is the Father also of Jesus.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT in the heavens
UST rules from heaven
(ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT For
UST So
(ὅτι)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why those who treat their enemies well will be sons of their Father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [You will be his sons because] or [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the evil and the good … the just and the unjust
UST people who are wicked and on people who are good … people who do what is right and on people who do what is wrong
(πονηροὺς καὶ ἀγαθοὺς & δικαίους καὶ ἀδίκους)

In the first clause, Jesus mentions the wicked person first, but in the second clause he mentions the wicked person second. This structure sounded good in his culture. If your language would not use this structure, you could consistently refer to either the wicked or the good person first. Alternate translation: [the good and the evil … the just and the unjust] or [the evil and the good … the unjust and the just]

Support Reference: Information Structure

> ULT the evil and the good … the just and the unjust
> UST people who are wicked and on people who are good … people who do what is right and on people who do what is wrong
> (πονηροὺς καὶ ἀγαθοὺς & δικαίους καὶ ἀδίκους)

Jesus is using the adjectives evil, good, just, and unjust as nouns to mean people who are characterized by these qualities. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [evil people and good people … just people and unjust people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sons of … Father	children of God … Father of … Father	of God … Father
the heavens	rules from heaven
the evil	people who are wicked
the good	on people who are good the just	people who do what is right
the unjust	on people who do what is wrong

Matthew 5:46

ULT	UST
For if you love the ones loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same thing?	Further, if you care for {only} those who care for you, do not expect God to reward you for doing that. Even {unkind} tax collectors care for those who care for them.

ULT For
UST Further
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces further support for Jesus' command to love enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces support for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [You should love your enemies because] or [You should do what I am saying since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT what reward do you have
UST do not expect God to reward you for doing that (τίνα μισθὸν ἔχετε)

Jesus uses this question to show that people who only love others who love them will not receive any reward. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you have no reward.] or [there is no reward for you!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Do not even the tax collectors do the same thing
UST Even {unkind} tax collectors care for those who care for them
(οὐχὶ καὶ οἱ τελῶναι τὸ αὐτὸ ποιοῦσιν)

Jesus uses this question to show that even tax collectors, who were often considered to be unloving people, love people who love them. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Even the tax collectors do the same.] or [Even tax collectors do that very thing!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you love	you care for

ULT	UST
loving	care for reward	do not expect God to reward you for doing that tax collectors	{unkind} tax collectors

Matthew 5:47

ULT	UST
And if you greet only your brothers, what do you do more? Do not even the Gentilesdo the same thing?	If you say hello {only} to fellow believers, you are not behaving any differently {than unbelievers do}. Even {unbelieving} non-Jews say hello to their friends.

ULT your brothers
UST fellow believers
(τοὺς ἀδελφοὺς ὑμῶν)

Jesus is using the term brothers to mean people who share the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [fellow disciples] or [other believers]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT brothers
UST fellow believers
(τοὺς ἀδελφοὺς)

Although the term brothers is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT what do you do more
UST you are not behaving any differently {than unbelievers do}
(τί περισσὸν ποιεῖτε)

Jesus uses this question to show that people who greet only their brothers do not do anything more. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you do nothing more.] or [you have not done anything more!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT more
UST you are not behaving any differently {than unbelievers do}
(περισσὸν)

Here Jesus implies that they are not doing anything more than people who do not know God do. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [more than anyone else] or [more than people who do not know God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Do not even the Gentiles do the same thing
UST Even {unbelieving} non-Jews say hello to their friends
(οὐχὶ καὶ οἱ ἐθνικοὶ τὸ αὐτὸ ποιοῦσιν)

Jesus uses this question to show that even Gentiles, who do not know God, greet their friends. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Even the Gentiles do the same thing.] or [Even Gentiles do that very thing!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the Gentiles
UST {unbelieving} non-Jews
(οἱ ἐθνικοὶ)

Many ancient manuscripts read the Gentiles. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “the tax collectors.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Gentiles	{unbelieving} non-Jews

Matthew 5:48

ULT	UST
Therefore, you shall be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.	So, you should always do what is right, just as God, your Father, who rules from heaven, always does what is right.

ULT Therefore
UST So
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces the conclusion to what Jesus has been telling his disciples about how to live. He could be concluding everything he said in 5:21–47, or he could be concluding only what he said in 5:43–47. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a conclusion. Alternate translation: [So then] or [In summary]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT your heavenly Father
UST God, your Father, who rules from heaven
(ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν ὁ οὐράνιος)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God your heavenly Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
perfect	always do what is right
heavenly	who rules from heaven
Father	God … Father
perfect	always does what is right

Matthew 6

Matthew 6 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus' Sermon on the Mount (5:1–7:28)
    - Giving alms (6:1–4)
    - Praying to God (6:5–15)
    - Fasting (6:16–18)
    - Storing up treasure (6:19–21)
    - The eye and the body (6:22–23)
    - Two masters (6:24)
    - Being anxious (6:25–34)

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the prayer in 6:9–13.

Jesus spoke about many different subjects in this sermon, so you may wish to help the reader by putting an empty line into the text whenever Jesus changed the subject.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Giving alms

Giving alms was an important practice for religious people in Jesus' culture. To give alms, a person would offer money or possessions to other people who were poor or in need. Sometimes they would give the money or possessions directly to poor people. Other times, they would give it to the priests, who would give to poor people. Make sure that your translation refers to this kind of practice.

“The Lord’s Prayer”

In 6:9–13, Jesus speaks a prayer that he wants his disciples to imitate when they pray. The prayer is very poetic, and it is sometimes called “the Lord’s Prayer.” Many churches use this prayer during their meetings, and the form that churches use is often not the same form that Matthew wrote down. If churches already use a form of this prayer in your language, you could use the same words. However, you should follow the form of the prayer as Mathew wrote it down, and you should not include any extra lines or pieces of the prayer beyond what Matthew included.

Fasting

In 6:16–18, Jesus gives instructions related to fasting. Just as with giving alms, fasting was an important practice for religious people in Jesus’ culture. Fasting usually required avoiding all food and drink, but some kinds of fasting only required avoiding certain kinds of food. Also, some fasts were public (that is, many people fasted on these set days) and some fasts were private (that is, individuals would choose to fast for certain reasons). Many fasts lasted part of a day or a full day. Jesus does not condemn fasting; instead, he gives instructions for how to behave while fasting. Make sure that your translation refers to these kinds of practices.

Storing up treasures

In 6:19–21, Jesus speaks about storing up treasures either on earth or in heaven. He is speaking not only of possessions or money but also of anything that one considers to be valuable. Jesus points out that valuable things in heaven cannot be ruined like valuable things on earth can. Also, he states that a person’s “heart” is where they store their treasures. If possible, use a word for “treasure” that can refer to money, possessions, and any other valuable things.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The lamp and light metaphor in 6:22–23

In these verses, Jesus speaks about eyes as if they were lamps for the body. This figure of speech has two pieces to it. First, Jesus speaks of how bodies work using the metaphor of lamps and light. Second, Jesus speaks of Christian living using the metaphor of how bodies work. It is important to consider both of these pieces as you translate these verses.

First, Jesus speaks of how bodies work using the metaphor of lamps and light. There are two major options for understanding what Jesus means when he refers to an eye as the lamp of the body. First, in Matthew's culture, some people thought that eyes worked by sending out a form of light that would shine on what they saw. In this case, eyes are like lamps because they have light inside them that shines out. So, the whole body is light or dark inside based on whether the eyes shine properly. Second, the eyes could be like windows that let light into the body. Since they let light into a place, they are like lamps. So, the whole body is light or dark inside based on whether the eyes let light in. Consider how you might best express one of these meanings while maintaining the light and dark language, which is very important for understanding the figure of speech.

Second, Jesus speaks of Christian life using the metaphor of how bodies work. Scholars debate what Jesus means when he talks about a "healthy eye" and "light" in contrast to an "evil eye" and "darkness." He might mean devotion to God in contrast to evil desires. He might mean generosity in contrast to greed and selfishness. He might mean paying attention to what he is saying in contrast to ignoring his instructions. Since Jesus most likely intended this figure of speech to be like a riddle or puzzle, you should retain the body metaphor. If necessary, you could indicate that this is a figure of speech without stating exactly what it means.

Rhetorical questions

In 6:25–28 and 6:30, Jesus uses rhetorical questions. He asks these questions to include the disciples in what he is arguing, not because he is looking for information. If your language does not use questions in this way, you could include answers to the questions or you could express them as statements or exclamations. See the notes on these verses for translation options. (See: Rhetorical Question)

Singular and plural forms of "you"

In this chapter, Jesus is talking to a large crowd of his followers. Throughout the chapter, Jesus switches between using "you" in the singular and "you" in the plural while he is talking to the same people. When he uses the singular, he is speaking about specific situations that each person in the crowd might experience. When he uses the plural, he is speaking generally to the crowd as a whole. You should assume that Jesus is using plural forms of "you" unless a note specifies that the forms are singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 6:1

ULT	UST
Now take heed not to do your righteousness before men to be seen by them, otherwise, you do not have a reward with your Father in the heavens.	When you do what God desires, make sure that you are not doing it so that people praise you for it. When you do what God desires so that others praise you, God your Father, who rules from heaven, will not reward you.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next topic. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT your righteousness
UST When you do what God desires
(τὴν δικαιοσύνην ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is righteous] or [your righteous deeds]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT before men
UST so that people praise you for it
(ἔμπροσθεν τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [before men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT to be seen
> UST so that people praise you for it
> (πρὸς τὸ θεαθῆναι)

Here, the phrase to be seen refers to being recognized or praised. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to be praised] or [to be honored]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT to be seen by them
> UST so that people praise you for it
> (πρὸς τὸ θεαθῆναι αὐτοῖς)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [so that they see you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT otherwise
> UST When you do what God desires so that others praise you
> (εἰ δὲ μή γε)

Here, the word otherwise introduces a contrast that specifies what will happen if people disobey the command in the first part of the verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [but if you disobey this command] or [because if you do act in that way]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

> ULT your Father
> UST God your Father
> (τῷ Πατρὶ ὑμῶν)

Jesus speaks of his disciples as if God were their physical Father. He means that they have a father-son relationship with God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your spiritual Father] or [God, who is like a Father to you,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT in the heavens
> UST who rules from heaven
> (ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
righteousness	When you do what God desires a reward	will … reward
Father	God … Father
heavens	who rules from heaven

Matthew 6:2

ULT	UST
So when you give alms, do not sound a trumpet before yourself even as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets so that they may be glorified by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full.	Whenever some people give money to help poor people, they have someone announce what they are doing by playing a loud instrument in the Jewish meeting places and in the main roads. They pretend to help others, but they just want other people to praise them. God will not reward them any more than that. What I have said is true. So, you should not behave like that.

ULT So
UST So
(οὖν)

Here, the word So introduces an application of the general principle that Jesus gave in 6:1. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an application. Alternate translation: [Therefore,] or [So then,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you give … do not sound a trumpet … yourself
UST some people give … they have someone announce what they are doing by playing a loud instrument … you should not behave
(ποιῇς & μὴ σαλπίσῃς & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and yourself are singular throughout this sentence. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and yourself in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT do not sound a trumpet before yourself
UST they have someone announce what they are doing by playing a loud instrument … you should not behave
(μὴ σαλπίσῃς ἔμπροσθέν σου)

Here Jesus could be referring to: (1) how people actually had someone with a trumpet announce that they were giving alms. This would be an extreme example of calling attention to oneself. Alternate translation: [do not have someone with a trumpet announce it before you]; (2) how people draw attention to how they give alms, and he describes it as if they were sounding a trumpet. Alternate translation: [do not draw attention to yourself] or [do not announce it publicly, as if you were using a trumpet,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT do not sound a trumpet before yourself
UST they have someone announce what they are doing by playing a loud instrument … you should not behave
(μὴ σαλπίσῃς ἔμπροσθέν σου)

Here Jesus implies that people would have someone else sound a trumpet in front of them as they went to give alms. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [do not have someone sound a trumpet in front of you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in the synagogues and in the streets
UST in the Jewish meeting places and in the main roads
(ἐν ταῖς συναγωγαῖς καὶ ἐν ταῖς ῥύμαις)

These locations were public places where many people would hear the trumpet. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [in public areas like synagogues and streets]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT so that they may be glorified by men
UST but they just want other people to praise them
(ὅπως δοξασθῶσιν ὑπὸ τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [so that men may glorify them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT men
UST other people
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women] or [people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT they have their reward in full
UST God will not reward them any more than that (ἀπέχουσιν τὸν μισθὸν αὐτῶν)

Here Jesus means that they have received their entire reward from men, and God will not reward them any further. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they have already received all the reward they will get] or [God will not give them any reward beyond that]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
alms	money to help poor people
do … sound a trumpet	they have someone announce … by playing a loud instrument
hypocrites	They pretend to help others
synagogues	Jewish meeting places
they may be glorified	but they just want … to praise them
Truly	is true
reward	God will not reward them any more than that they have … in full	God will not reward them any more than that

Matthew 6:3

ULT	UST
But you, giving alms, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing	Instead, when you give money to help poor people, you should do it as privately as possible.

ULT you … your … your
UST you … you should do it as privately as possible
(σοῦ & σου & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT giving alms
UST when … give money to help poor people
(ποιοῦντος ἐλεημοσύνην)

Here, the phrase giving alms identifies the situation in which people should follow this command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that makes this relationship clearer. Alternate translation: [whenever you give alms] or [as you are giving alms]

Support Reference: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

ULT do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing
UST you should do it as privately as possible
(μὴ γνώτω ἡ ἀριστερά σου τί ποιεῖ ἡ δεξιά σου)

Here Jesus speaks of your left hand and your right hand as if they were people who could know and do things on their own. He means that giving alms should be done so secretly that even other body parts, if they could know things, would not know about it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not let your best friend know what you are doing] or [do it so privately that, if your left hand were a person, he would not know what you had done]

Support Reference: Personification

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
alms	money to help poor people
do … let … know	you should do it as privately as possible

Matthew 6:4

ULT	UST
so that your alms may be in secret, and your Father seeing in secret will reward you.	That way, only God your Father will know that you have given money to help poor people. When he observes you doing that privately, he will reward you.

ULT so that
UST That way
(ὅπως)

Here, the phrase so that introduces the purpose for which the disciples should give alms privately. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a purpose. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT your Father
UST he (ὁ Πατήρ σου)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God, who is your Father,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT will reward you
UST he will reward you
(ἀποδώσει σοι)

Many ancient manuscripts read will reward you. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “will reward you in the open.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
alms	that you have given money to help poor people

ULT	UST
Father	he
will reward	he will reward

Matthew 6:5

ULT	UST
And when you pray, do not be like the hypocrites, for they love to pray, having stood in the synagogues and on the corners of the street, so that they may be seen by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full.	Whenever some people pray to God, they enjoy doing so while standing in the Jewish meeting places and on the street corners. They pretend to focus on praying, but they just want other people to recognize them. God will not reward them any more than that. What I have said is true. So, you should not behave like that.

ULT you pray, do not be
UST some people pray to God … So, you should not behave
(προσεύχῃ, οὐκ ἔσεσθε)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you is singular throughout this sentence (the word you in the second sentence is plural). But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of you in your translation.

Support Reference: Forms of You

ULT they love to pray, having stood
UST they enjoy doing so while standing (φιλοῦσιν & ἑστῶτες προσεύχεσθαι)

Here Jesus that they love to pray in public places, not simply that they love to pray in general. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they love to pray publicly, for example standing]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in the synagogues and on the corners of the street
UST in the Jewish meeting places and on the street corners
(ἐν ταῖς συναγωγαῖς καὶ ἐν ταῖς γωνίαις τῶν πλατειῶν)

These locations were public places where many people would hear the prayers. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [in public areas like synagogues and the corners of the streets]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT they may be seen by men
> UST but they just want other people to recognize them
> (φανῶσιν τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [men may see them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT they may be seen
> UST but they just want … to recognize them
> (φανῶσιν)

Here Jesus implies not only that these people want to be seen but also that they want to be honored or praised. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they may be seen and honored] or [they may be seen and praised]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT by men
> UST other people
> (τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women] or [people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT they have their reward in full
> UST God will not reward them any more than that > (ἀπέχουσι τὸν μισθὸν αὐτῶν)

Here Jesus means that they have received their entire reward from men, and God will not reward them any further. See how you translated this clause in 6:2. Alternate translation: [they have already received all the reward they will get] or [God will not give them any reward beyond that]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you pray	some people pray to God
hypocrites	They pretend to focus on praying

ULT	UST
they love	they enjoy
to pray	doing so
synagogues	Jewish meeting places
Truly	is true
reward	God will not reward them any more than that they have … in full	God will not reward them any more than that

Matthew 6:6

ULT	UST
But you, when you pray, enter into your inner chamber, and having shut your door, pray to your Father in secret, and your Father seeing in secret will reward you.	In contrast, when you want to pray to God, you should go to a private room in your house and close the door. Then, you can pray to God your Father, who is there with you in private. When he observes you doing that privately, he will reward you.

ULT But you
UST In contrast … you
(σὺ δὲ)

Here, the phrase But you introduces what Jesus wants each of his disciples to do in contrast to what the "hypocrites" do, which he described in the previous verse (6:5). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [As for you, however]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT you … enter … your … your … pray … your … your … you
UST you … you should go … a private room in your house … the door. Then, you can pray to God your Father … he … you (σὺ & εἴσελθε & σου & σου, πρόσευξαι & σου & σου & σοι)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT your inner chamber
UST a private room in your house
(τὸ ταμεῖόν σου)

The inner chamber was a small, private room in a house. It could be a bedroom or a storage room. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of room, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [your private area] or [your own room]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT to your Father … your Father
> UST to God your Father … he
> (τῷ Πατρί σου & ὁ Πατήρ σου)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [to God, who is your Father, … God, who is your Father,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to your Father in secret
> UST to God your Father … in private > (τῷ Πατρί σου & ἐν τῷ κρυπτῷ)

Here, the phrase your Father in secret could mean that: (1) the Father is present even when a person prays in secret. Alternate translation: [to your Father who is with you in secret]; (2) the Father himself is in secret, which means that no one can see or observe him. Alternate translation: [to your Father, whom no one can see]; (3) the disciple should pray in secret. Alternate translation: [in secret to your Father]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT will reward you
> UST he will reward you
> (ἀποδώσει σοι)

Many ancient manuscripts read will reward you. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "will reward you in the open." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you pray	want to pray to God
pray	Then, you can pray
to … Father	to God your Father
Father	he

ULT	UST
will reward	he will reward

Matthew 6:7

ULT	UST
Now praying, do not make useless repetitions even as the Gentiles, for they think that because of their many words they will be heard.	Further, as you are praying, do not repeat yourself as non-Jews do. They suppose that their gods will listen to them if they use many words.

ULT Now praying
UST Further, as you are praying
(προσευχόμενοι δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces Jesus' next teaching about praying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces another teaching, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [As for what to say when you pray] or [As for when you are praying]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT do not make useless repetitions
UST do not repeat yourself
(μὴ βατταλογήσητε)

Here, the phrase make useless repetitions could refer to: (1) repeating words. Alternate translation: [do not repeat your words]; (2) using meaningless words. Alternate translation: [do not use meaningless words]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT do not make useless repetitions
UST do not repeat yourself
(μὴ βατταλογήσητε)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of repetitions, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [do not repeat yourself in useless ways]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the Gentiles
UST non-Jews do
(οἱ ἐθνικοί)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the Gentiles do]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT for
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why the Gentiles make repetitions when they pray. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [which they do because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT they will be heard
UST their gods will listen to them
(εἰσακουσθήσονται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who would do the action, it is clear from the context that it would be the gods to whom they are praying. Alternate translation: [their gods will hear them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
praying	as you are praying
Gentiles	non-Jews do

Matthew 6:8

ULT	UST
Therefore, you should not be like them, for your Father knows what need you have before you ask him.	So then, do not pray to God as they do. In fact, before you ask him {for anything that you need}, God your Father is already aware of what you need.

ULT Therefore
UST So then
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces a conclusion based on what Jesus implied in the previous verse. He implied that repeating words does not cause God to listen, and so (Therefore) his disciples should not act like the Gentiles, who repeat words when they pray. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of conclusion, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [Since they are not heard because of their repetitions] or [Because they are wrong about that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you should not be like them
UST do not pray to God as they do
(μὴ & ὁμοιωθῆτε αὐτοῖς)

When Jesus says that his disciples should not be like them, he means that his disciples should not pray as they do. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could express that explicitly. Alternate translation: [you should not pray in the ways that they pray]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for
UST In fact
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why Jesus' disciples should not repeat themselves as the Gentiles do. Jesus tells them that God already knows what they need, so they do not need to worry about being heard, as the Gentiles do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT your Father
UST God your Father
(ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God, who is your Father,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT before you ask him
UST before you ask him {for anything that you need} (πρὸ & ὑμᾶς αἰτῆσαι αὐτόν)

Here Jesus implies that his disciples are asking God about the need that they have. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [before you ask him about that need]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Father	God your Father
knows	is already aware

Matthew 6:9

ULT	UST
Therefore, you must pray like this: ‘Our Father in the heavens, let your name be made holy.	Here is how you should pray to God: ‘{I pray to} God our Father, who rules from heaven. May all people glorify you.

ULT Therefore
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces the conclusion to what Jesus has said about prayer in 6:5–8. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word that introduces a conclusion, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [So then] or [In the end]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Our Father
UST {I pray to} God our Father
(Πάτερ ἡμῶν)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God, who is our Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Our
UST {I pray to} God our Father
(ἡμῶν)

By Our, Jesus means himself and his disciples, so use the inclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

> ULT in the heavens
> UST who rules from heaven
> (ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT let your name be made holy
> UST May all people glorify you
> (ἁγιασθήτω τὸ ὄνομά σου)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [we want your name to be made holy] or [we pray that your name is made holy]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT let your name be made holy
> UST May all people glorify you
> (ἁγιασθήτω τὸ ὄνομά σου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [let people treat your name as holy] or [let people regard your name as holy]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT your name
> UST you
> (τὸ ὄνομά σου)

Here, the word name refers primarily to the person who has that name, and it focuses especially on who that person is. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [you yourself] or [who you are]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT your
> UST you
> (σου)

Since Jesus is praying to God the Father, the word your here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
must pray	should pray to God
Father	{I pray to} God our Father
heavens	who rules from heaven
let … be made holy	May all people glorify

Matthew 6:10

ULT	UST
Let your kingdom come, let your will be done as in heaven also on earth.	May you establish your kingdom. May everyone do what you want here on earth, just as {they already do} in heaven.

ULT Let your kingdom come, let your will be done
UST May you establish your kingdom. May everyone do what you want (ἐλθέτω ἡ βασιλεία σου, γενηθήτω τὸ θέλημά σου)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [we want your kingdom to come, we want your will to be done] or [we pray that your kingdom comes, we pray that your will is done]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT Let your kingdom come
UST May you establish your kingdom
(ἐλθέτω ἡ βασιλεία σου)

Here Jesus speaks as if God's kingdom were a person who could come. He means that disciples should pray for God to establish or begin his kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Let your kingdom grow] or [Let your kingdom begin]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT your … your
UST your … what you want
(σου)

Since Jesus is praying to God the Father, the word your here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT let your will be done
UST May everyone do what you want (γενηθήτω τὸ θέλημά σου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [let all people do your will] or [let your will take place]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT your will
UST what you want
(τὸ θέλημά σου)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of will, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what you desire]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT as in heaven also on earth
UST here on earth, just as {they already do} in heaven
(ὡς ἐν οὐρανῷ καὶ ἐπὶ γῆς)

Here Jesus implies that God's will is always done in heaven, and believers should pray that this will also be true on earth. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [on earth, just as it already is done in heaven]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kingdom	kingdom
heaven	heaven
earth	earth
your will	what you want

Matthew 6:11

ULT	UST
Give us today our daily bread;	Please give us the food we need each day.

ULT Give us
UST Please give us
(δὸς ἡμῖν)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [We ask that you give us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT our daily bread
UST the food we need
(τὸν ἄρτον ἡμῶν τὸν ἐπιούσιον)

Here, the word daily means that the bread is the amount a person needs each day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [our bread for this day] or [the bread that we need today]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT our daily bread
UST the food we need
(τὸν ἄρτον ἡμῶν τὸν ἐπιούσιον)

Jesus refers to bread, one common food, to mean food in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what we eat daily]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bread	the food

Matthew 6:12

ULT	UST
and forgive us our debts, as we also forgave our debtors;	We have forgiven people for when they did not treat us rightly. In the same way, please forgive us for when we do not act rightly.

ULT forgive us
UST please forgive us
(ἄφες ἡμῖν)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [we ask that you forgive us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT our debts … our debtors
UST people for when they did not treat us rightly … for when we do not act rightly (τὰ ὀφειλήματα ἡμῶν & τοῖς ὀφειλέταις ἡμῶν)

A debt is what one person owes another person. A debtor is a person who owes a debt to another person. Jesus is not speaking primarily about money, however. He is referring to when people do not act properly or rightly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [our sins … those who sin against us] or [the wrong things we have done … people who have wronged us]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT our debtors
UST people for when they did not treat us rightly (τοῖς ὀφειλέταις ἡμῶν)

Here Jesus is using the possessive form to describe debtors who are in debt to the people praying this prayer. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [people in debt to us]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
forgive	please forgive

ULT	UST
forgave	have forgiven

Matthew 6:13

ULT	UST
and do not bring us into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.'	Please protect us from everything that tries to make us sin. Please rescue us when Satan tries to harm us.'

ULT do not bring us into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one
UST Please protect us from everything that tries to make us sin. Please rescue us when Satan tries to harm us (μὴ εἰσενέγκῃς ἡμᾶς εἰς πειρασμόν, ἀλλὰ ῥῦσαι ἡμᾶς ἀπὸ τοῦ πονηροῦ)

These are imperatives, but they should be translated as polite requests rather than as commands. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" in each case to make this clear. Alternate translation: [we ask that you do not bring us into temptation, but that you deliver us from the evil one]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT do not bring us into
UST Please protect us from everything that tries to make us sin
(μὴ εἰσενέγκῃς ἡμᾶς εἰς)

Here Jesus speaks as if temptation were a location that someone could bring someone else into. He means that believers should pray that God would keep them out of situations where they might experience temptation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not allow us to experience] or [keep us away from]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT do not bring us into temptation
UST Please protect us from everything that tries to make us sin
(μὴ εἰσενέγκῃς ἡμᾶς εἰς πειρασμόν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of temptation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [do not let anything tempt us] or [do not allow us to be tempted]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT but
(ἀλλὰ)

Here, the word but introduces a contrast with being brought into temptation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [instead,] or [rather,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the evil one
UST when Satan tries to harm us
(τοῦ πονηροῦ)

Here, the phrase the evil one could refer to: (1) the devil, or Satan. Alternate translation: [the devil]; (2) evil in general. Alternate translation: [evil] or [what is evil]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the evil one
UST when Satan tries to harm us
(τοῦ πονηροῦ)

Many ancient manuscripts only include these two clauses in this verse. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts include, as part of the prayer, the following sentences after the evil one: “For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
temptation	from everything that tries to make us sin
deliver	Please rescue
evil one	when Satan tries to harm us

Matthew 6:14

ULT	UST
For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.	God your Father, who rules from heaven, will forgive you as long as you forgive the people who sin against you.

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a further explanation of what Jesus said about forgiveness in 6:12. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [You should pray in that way because] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT men
UST the people
(τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT their trespasses
UST who sin against you
(τὰ παραπτώματα αὐτῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trespasses, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when they trespass]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT your heavenly Father
> UST God your Father, who rules from heaven
> (ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν ὁ οὐράνιος)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God your heavenly Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you forgive	you forgive
trespasses	who sin against you
heavenly	who rules from heaven
Father	God … Father
will … forgive	will forgive

Matthew 6:15

ULT	UST
But if you do not forgive the men, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.	However, God your Father will not forgive you when you sin against him as long as you do not forgive other people.

ULT the men
UST other people
(τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [the men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT the men
UST other people
(τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Many ancient manuscripts read the men. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “men their trespasses.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT your Father
UST God your Father
(ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν)

See how you translated the phrase your Father in the previous verse (6:14). Alternate translation: [your Father, God,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your trespasses
UST you when you sin against him
(τὰ παραπτώματα ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trespasses, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you when you trespass]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you do … forgive	you do … forgive
Father	God … Father
will … forgive	will … forgive
trespasses	you when you sin against him

Matthew 6:16

ULT	UST
Now when you fast, do not be mournful as the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces so that they may be seen as fasting by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full.	Whenever some people do not eat in order to please God, they change how their faces look. They pretend to be sad, but they just want other people to recognize that they are not eating. God will not reward them any more than that. What I have said is true. So, you should not behave like that.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next topic. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT as the hypocrites
UST They pretend … like that (ὡς οἱ ὑποκριταὶ)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [as the hypocrites are mournful]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT they disfigure their faces
UST they change how their faces look (ἀφανίζουσιν & τὰ πρόσωπα αὐτῶν)

This phrase could refer to how the hypocrites would: (1) make their faces look unusual. This could refer to intentionally looking sad or tired, or it could refer to making their faces dirty. Alternate translation: [they make their faces look distressed] or [they make their faces dirty]; (2) wear something to cover their faces. Alternate translation: [they cover their faces]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they may be seen as fasting by men
UST but they just want other people to recognize that they are not eating
(φανῶσιν τοῖς ἀνθρώποις νηστεύοντες)

Here Jesus implies not only that these people want to be seen but also that they want to be honored or praised. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they may be seen and honored as fasting] or [they may be seen and praised as fasting]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they may be seen as fasting by men
UST but they just want other people to recognize that they are not eating
(φανῶσιν τοῖς ἀνθρώποις νηστεύοντες)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [men may see them as fasting]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT by men
UST other people
(τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [by men and women] or [by people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT they have their reward in full
UST God will not reward them any more than that (ἀπέχουσιν τὸν μισθὸν αὐτῶν)

Here Jesus means that they have received their entire reward from men, and God will not reward them any further. See how you translated this clause in 6:2. Alternate translation: [they have already received all the reward they will get] or [God will not give them any reward beyond that]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you fast	some people do not eat in order to please God
hypocrites	They pretend
as fasting	that they are not eating
Truly	is true
reward	God will not reward them any more than that they have … in full	God will not reward them any more than that

Matthew 6:17

ULT	UST
But you, {when} fasting, anoint your head and wash your face	In contrast, when you do not eat in order to please God, you should keep yourselves neat and clean.

ULT But you
UST In contrast … you
(σὺ δὲ)

Here, the phrase But you introduces what Jesus wants each of his disciples to do in contrast to what the "hypocrites" do, which he described in the previous verse (6:16). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [As for you, however]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT you … your … your
UST you should keep yourselves neat … clean (σὺ & σου & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT anoint your head and wash your face
UST should keep yourselves neat and clean
(ἄλειψαί σου τὴν κεφαλὴν καὶ τὸ πρόσωπόν σου νίψαι)

Here, to anoint the head and to wash the face is to take normal care of one's self. Doing this gives the appearance that you are living life as normal. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use similar phrases that refer to normal bodily care, or you could use a general statement. Alternate translation: [comb your hair and wash your face as you normally do] or [take care of yourself as you usually do]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
{when} fasting	when you do not eat in order to please God

ULT	UST
anoint	should keep yourselves neat

Matthew 6:18

ULT	UST
so that you would not be seen as fasting by men, but only by your Father in secret; and your Father, seeing in secret, will reward you.	That way, other people do not know that you are not eating. Only God your Father, who is there with you in private, {will know}. When he observes you doing that privately, he will reward you

ULT so that
UST That way
(ὅπως)

Here, the phrase so that introduces the purpose for which the disciples should anoint their heads and wash their faces (6:17). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a purpose. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT you would not be seen … your … your … you
UST do not know … your … he … you
(μὴ φανῇς & σου & σου & σοι)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT you would not be seen as fasting by men, but only by your Father
UST other people do not know that you are not eating. Only God your Father … will know (μὴ φανῇς τοῖς ἀνθρώποις νηστεύων, ἀλλὰ τῷ Πατρί σου)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [men may not see you as fasting, but only your Father]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT by your Father in secret
UST God your Father … in private (τῷ Πατρί σου & ἐν τῷ κρυφαίῳ)

Here, much as in 6:6, the phrase your Father in secret could mean that: (1) the Father is present even when a person fasts in secret. Alternate translation: [by your Father who is with you in secret]; (2) the Father himself is in secret, which means that no one can see or observe him. Alternate translation: [by your Father, whom no one can see]; (3) the disciple should fast in secret. Alternate translation: [in secret by your Father]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT by your Father … your Father
UST God your Father … he
(τῷ Πατρί σου & ὁ Πατήρ σου)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [by God, who is your Father … God, who is your Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT will reward you
UST he will reward you
(ἀποδώσει σοι)

Many ancient manuscripts read will reward you. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "will reward you in the open." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
as fasting	that you are not eating
by … Father	God … Father
Father	he
will reward	he will reward

Matthew 6:19

ULT	UST
Do not store up for yourselves treasures on the earth, where moth and rust destroy, and where thieves break in and steal.	You should not collect many valuable things for yourselves in this world. In this world, insects eat clothes, and metal objects corrode. Further, robbers force their way into people's houses to take their goods.

ULT moth
UST insects
(σὴς)

A moth is a small, flying insect that destroys cloth by eating it. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of insect, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [insects that eat your belongings] or [flies]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT moth
UST insects
(σὴς)

The word moth represents moths in general, not one particular moth. If it would be helpful in your language, you use a form that refers to moths in general. Alternate translation: [moths]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT rust
UST metal objects corrode
(βρῶσις)

Here, the word translated as rust refers most generally to anything that destroys things by eating them or corroding them. The word could more specifically refer to: (1) how metals corrode. Alternate translation: [corrosion]; (2) how insects, especially worms, eat cloth and food. Alternate translation: [worms] or [bugs]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT break in
> UST force their way into people’s houses > (διορύσσουσιν)

Here, the phrase break in refers to how thieves force their way into private buildings in order to steal. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [break in to houses]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
earth	this world
thieves	robbers

Matthew 6:20

ULT	UST
Instead, store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys, and where thieves do not break in nor steal.	Rather, you should collect many valuable things for yourselves in heaven. In heaven, insects do not eat clothes, and metal objects do not corrode. Further, robbers do not force their way into people's houses to take their goods.

ULT neither moth nor rust

UST insects … not … and metal objects do not corrode

(οὔτε σὴς οὔτε βρῶσις)

See how you translated these words in 6:19. Alternate translation: [neither flies nor corrosion]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT do not break in

UST do not force their way into people's houses

(οὐ διορύσσουσιν)

See how you translated this phrase in 6:19. Alternate translation: [do not break in to houses]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
heaven	heaven
thieves	robbers

Matthew 6:21

ULT	UST
For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.	{That is important} because you think and care most about the place where you collect valuable things.

ULT For
UST {That is important} because
(γάρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why the disciples should store up treasure in heaven (see 6:20). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [You should store up treasure in heaven, because] or [I say that because,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT where your treasure is, there will your heart be also
UST you think and care most about the place where you collect valuable things (ὅπου & ἐστιν ὁ θησαυρός σου, ἐκεῖ ἔσται καὶ ἡ καρδία σου)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these two clauses. Alternate translation: [your heart will be where your treasure is]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT there will your heart be also
UST you think and care most about the place
(ἐκεῖ ἔσται καὶ ἡ καρδία σου)

Here Jesus speaks as if a person's heart could be somewhere other than in the person's body. He means that the focus of the person's heart will be on that place and what is in that place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [there will your heart be focused] or [there will your heart be directed]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT your heart
> UST you think and care most > (ἡ καρδία σου)

In Matthew's culture, the heart is the place where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the place where humans think and feel in your culture or by expressing the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [your desires] or [your attention]

Support Reference: Metonymy

Matthew 6:22

ULT	UST
The lamp of the body is the eye. Therefore, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be illuminated.	Your eyes are like a lamp since they enable you to see. If your eyes are working properly, then your whole body will benefit.

ULT The lamp of the body is the eye
UST Your eyes are like a lamp since they enable you to see
(ὁ λύχνος τοῦ σώματός ἐστιν ὁ ὀφθαλμός)

Here Jesus describes the eye as if it were a lamp. Since Jesus develops this image in the following sentences, you should preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. The sentence could mean: (1) that the eye enables a person to see, just as a lamp enables a person to see. Alternate translation: [The eye is like a lamp for the body] or [Just as a lamp shines on things, so your eye sees those things]; (2) that the eye receives light, which is like light from a lamp. Alternate translation: [The eye lets light from a lamp into the body] or [When a lamp sends out light, the eye receives that light into the body]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT The lamp of the body is the eye
UST Your eyes are like a lamp since they enable you to see
(ὁ λύχνος τοῦ σώματός ἐστιν ὁ ὀφθαλμός)

The words body and eye represent bodies and eyes in general, not one particular body and eye. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [The lamps of people's bodies are their eyes]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT your … your
UST your … then your (σου & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so your is singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

> ULT your eye is
> UST your eyes are > (ἦ ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου)

In this verse, the word eye is singular in form, but it refers to both of the person's eyes as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [your eyes are]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT healthy
> UST working properly
> (ἁπλοῦς)

Here, the word healthy could mean that the eye is: (1) functioning properly. Alternate translation: [sound] or [working well]; (2) focused on one thing. Alternate translation: [focused] or [attentive to one thing]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT your whole body will be illuminated
> UST then your whole body will benefit
> (ὅλον τὸ σῶμά σου φωτεινὸν ἔσται)

Here Jesus speaks as if the whole body were illuminated. Since this statement develops the idea of the lamp, you should preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. The clause could mean: (1) that the whole body experiences the benefits of the eye working properly. Alternate translation: [your whole body receives the benefits, as if the eye shone on the whole body]; (2) that a healthy eye shows that the whole body is healthy. Alternate translation: [that shows that your whole body is healthy, as if it were illuminated by your eye]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

> ULT will be
> UST will > (ἔσται)

Here Jesus uses the future tense to indicate that the body being illuminated is the logical result of the eye being healthy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever tense would be natural in a general statement like this one. Alternate translation: [is]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT illuminated
> UST benefit
> (φωτεινὸν)

Here, the phrase illuminated could mean that the body: (1) experiences light. Alternate translation: [full of light]; (2) shines with light. Alternate translation: [shining with light]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
lamp	a lamp

Matthew 6:23

ULT	UST
But if your eye is evil, your whole body will be dark. Therefore, if the light in you is darkness, how great {is} the darkness!	However, if your eyes are not working properly, then your whole body does not benefit at all. So consider how bad it is when what you see as bright light is actually very dark!

ULT your … your … you
UST your … then your … what you see as bright light (σου & σου & σοὶ)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT your eye is
UST your eyes are (ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου & ᾖ)

In this verse, the word eye is singular in form, but it refers to both of the person's eyes as a group. See how you translated the similar phrase in 6:22. Alternate translation: [your eyes are]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT evil
UST not working properly
(πονηρὸς)

Here, the word evil could mean that the eye is: (1) damaged or functioning improperly. Alternate translation: [unhealthy] or [working poorly]; (2) focused on what is evil or selfish. Alternate translation: [wicked] or [attentive only to yourself]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT your whole body will be dark
> UST then your whole body does not benefit at all > (ὅλον τὸ σῶμά σου σκοτεινὸν ἔσται)

Here Jesus speaks as if the whole body were dark. Since this statement continues to develop the idea of the lamp, you should preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. The clause could mean: (1) that the whole body is injured when the eye does not work properly. Alternate translation: [your whole body is injured, as if the eye were not shining on the whole body]; (2) that an evil eye shows that the whole body is evil. Alternate translation: [that shows that your whole body is evil, as if it were dark]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

> ULT will be
> UST does not benefit at all
> (ἔσται)

Here Jesus uses the future tense to indicate that the body being dark is the logical result of the eye being evil. See how you translated the similar form in 6:22. Alternate translation: [is]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT will be dark
> UST does not benefit at all
> (σκοτεινὸν ἔσται)

Here, the phrase dark could mean that the body: (1) experiences darkness. Alternate translation: [will be darkened]; (2) does not shine at all. Alternate translation: [will not shine at all]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT is darkness, how great {is} the darkness
> UST how bad it is … is actually very dark > (σκότος, ἐστίν τὸ σκότος πόσον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of darkness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is dark, how very dark it is]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Therefore
UST So consider
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces the conclusion to what Jesus has said about eyes and lamps. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a conclusion, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [In conclusion] or [So then]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT if the light in you is darkness, how great {is} the darkness
UST how bad it is when what you see as bright light is actually very dark (εἰ & τὸ φῶς & ἐν σοὶ σκότος, ἐστίν τὸ σκότος πόσον)

Here Jesus concludes the figure of speech that uses lamps and light, so you should preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. The sentence could mean: (1) that when the eye does not work properly, even the most healthy parts of the body are still negatively affected. Alternate translation: [if the parts least affected by unhealthy eyes are injured, how great is the injury]; (2) that when the best things about a person (his or her light) are evil (darkness), then the worst things about that person are very evil. Alternate translation: [if what is best about you is evil, as if it were darkness, how evil are the worst things about you]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT the light in you is darkness, how great {is} the darkness
UST how bad it is … what you see as bright light is actually very dark (τὸ φῶς & ἐν σοὶ σκότος, ἐστίν τὸ σκότος πόσον)

Here Jesus means that what some people think of as light is actually darkness. In that case, what these people consider to be darkness is very great darkness. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [what you consider to be light is actually darkness, how dark is what you consider to be darkness] or [what you call light is darkness, how great the darkness itself]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT how great {is} the darkness
> UST how bad it is > (τὸ σκότος πόσον)

This is an exclamation that is emphasizing that the darkness is very great. Use an exclamation that would communicate that meaning in your language. Alternate translation: [the darkness is very great]

Support Reference: Exclamations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	not working properly

Matthew 6:24

ULT	UST
No one is able to serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and will love the other, or else he will be devoted to one and will despise the other. You are not able to serve God and wealth.	Servants cannot serve two different masters {at the same time}. {If they tried to do that,} they would hate one of them and love the other one, or they would be loyal to one of them and consider the other one to be unimportant. {In the same way,} you cannot devote your life to serving God if you are also devoting your life to acquiring money and other material possessions.

ULT two masters
UST two different masters
(δυσὶ κυρίοις)

The implication is that a servant could not meet the competing demands of two different masters at the same time with equal loyalty. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [two different masters equally well at the same time]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for either he will hate the one and will love the other, or else he will be devoted to one and will despise the other
UST {If they tried to do that,} they would hate one of them and love the other one, or they would be loyal to one of them and consider the other one to be unimportant
(ἢ γὰρ τὸν ἕνα μισήσει καὶ τὸν ἕτερον ἀγαπήσει, ἢ ἑνὸς ἀνθέξεται καὶ τοῦ ἑτέρου καταφρονήσει)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the two clauses into one. Alternate translation: [for he will hate and despise the one and will love and be devoted to the other] or [for he is certain to love and serve one of them much better than the other]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the one … the other … one … the other
UST one of them … the other one … to one of them … the other one (τὸν ἕνα & τὸν ἕτερον & ἑνὸς & τοῦ ἑτέρου)

Jesus is using the adjectives one and other as nouns to refer to the two different masters. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these word with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [one master … the other master … one master … the other master]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT You are not able
UST {In the same way,} you cannot (οὐ δύνασθε)

Here Jesus introduces the application of his general statement about two masters. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an application. Alternate translation: [Similarly, you are not able]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT You are not able to serve God and wealth
UST {In the same way,} you cannot devote your life to serving God if you are also devoting your life to acquiring money and other material possessions
(οὐ δύνασθε Θεῷ δουλεύειν καὶ μαμωνᾷ)

Here, Jesus speaks of wealth as if it were a person whom someone could serve. He means that it is impossible to focus on serving God and also to focus on becoming wealthy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You are not able to serve God and also focus on gaining wealth]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT wealth
UST money and other material possessions
(μαμωνᾷ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wealth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [money] or [focus on becoming wealthy]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to serve	Servants … serve

ULT	UST
masters	masters
will love	love
to serve	devote your life to serving
God	God

Matthew 6:25

ULT	UST
Because of this I say to you, do not worry about your life, what you might eat or what you might drink,nor about your body, what you might wear. Is not life more than food, and the body, {than} clothing?	So then, here is what I want to tell you: do not worry about whether you will have enough to eat or drink to stay alive. Do not worry about whether you will have enough clothes to wear to stay warm. After all, your life is more important than the food you eat, and your body is more important than the clothes you put on it.

ULT Because of this
UST So then
(διὰ τοῦτο)

Here, the phrase Because of this introduces a conclusion based on what Jesus said in the previous verse about how it is not possible to serve both God and wealth (6:24). In this verse, Jesus says that this means that his disciples should not worry about even basic things required for living. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a conclusion or inference. Alternate translation: [So] or [Therefore,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I say to you, do not worry
UST here is what I want to tell you: do not worry
(λέγω ὑμῖν, μὴ μεριμνᾶτε)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to tell his disciples. Use a natural form in your language for emphasizing the truth and importance of a statement. Alternate translation: [I want you to know that you should not worry]

ULT about your life … life
UST to stay alive … your life
(τῇ ψυχῇ ὑμῶν & ἡ ψυχὴ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [about being alive … being alive]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT or what you might drink
UST or drink
(ἢ τί πίητε)

Many ancient manuscripts read or what you might. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts do not include these words. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT Is not life more than food, and the body, {than} clothing
UST After all, your life is more important than the food you eat, and your body is more important than the clothes you put on it
(οὐχὶ ἡ ψυχὴ πλεῖόν ἐστι τῆς τροφῆς, καὶ τὸ σῶμα τοῦ ἐνδύματος)

Jesus is using the question form to show that life and the body are more important than food and clothing. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Life is more than food, and the body, than clothing] or [Life is certainly more than food, and the body, than clothing!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Is not life more than food, and the body, {than} clothing
UST After all, your life is more important than the food you eat, and your body is more important than the clothes you put on it
(οὐχὶ ἡ ψυχὴ πλεῖόν ἐστι τῆς τροφῆς, καὶ τὸ σῶμα τοῦ ἐνδύματος)

Here Jesus is making comparisons about value or importance. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Is not life more valuable than food, and the body more valuable than clothing]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT and the body, {than} clothing
> UST and your body is more important than the clothes you put on it > (καὶ τὸ σῶμα τοῦ ἐνδύματος)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and is not the body more than clothing]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT the body
> UST your body
> (τὸ σῶμα)

The word body represents bodies in general, not one particular body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [bodies]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

Matthew 6:26

ULT	UST
Look at the birds of the sky, that they do not sow nor reap nor gather into barns, but your heavenly Father feeds them. {Are} you not more valuable than they?	Think about the birds {that fly} in the sky. They do not plant seeds, and they do not harvest crops. They do not store crops, but God your Father, who rules from heaven, provides food for them. You are certainly much more important than they are{, so you can be sure that God will give you what you need}.

ULT Look at
UST Think about
(ἐμβλέψατε εἰς)

Here, Jesus uses the phrase Look at to represent thinking about or considering something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Consider] or [Pay attention to]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the birds of the sky
UST the birds {that fly} in the sky
(τὰ πετεινὰ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe birds that fly in the sky. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the birds in the sky] or [the birds flying in the sky]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT barns
UST They do … store crops
(ἀποθήκας)

The word barns refers to places where food is stored. If your readers would not be familiar with this term, you could use a more general one. Alternate translation: [places where food is stored]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT your heavenly Father
UST God your Father, who rules from heaven
(ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν ὁ οὐράνιος)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God your heavenly Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT {Are} you not more valuable than they
UST You are certainly much more important than they are{, so you can be sure that God will give you what you need}
(οὐχ ὑμεῖς μᾶλλον διαφέρετε αὐτῶν)

Jesus is using the question form to show that you are more important than them, the birds. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You are more valuable than they.] or [You are certainly more valuable than they!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT they
UST than they are{, so you can be sure that God will give you what you need}
(αὐτῶν)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [they are]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the sky	{that fly} in the sky
they do … sow	They do … plant seeds reap	they do … harvest crops
heavenly	who rules from heaven
Father	God … Father

Matthew 6:27

ULT	UST
But which of you, being anxious, is able to add one cubit to his lifespan?	You cannot add even a minute to your life by worrying about it!

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a development in what Jesus is saying. The word does not introduce a contrast. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [Further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT which of you, being anxious, is able to add one cubit to his lifespan
UST You cannot add even a minute to your life by worrying about it (τίς & ἐξ ὑμῶν μεριμνῶν δύναται προσθεῖναι ἐπὶ τὴν ἡλικίαν αὐτοῦ πῆχυν ἕνα)

Jesus is using the question form to show that people cannot add to their lifespan by being anxious. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [none of you, being anxious, is able to add one cubit to his lifespan.] or [not one you, being anxious, can ever add one cubit to his lifespan!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT being anxious
UST by worrying about it
(μεριμνῶν)

Here, the phrase being anxious provides the means by which a person might try to add one cubit to his or her lifespan. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this connection more explicit. Alternate translation: [by being anxious]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT is able to add one cubit to his lifespan
UST cannot add even a minute to your life
(δύναται προσθεῖναι ἐπὶ τὴν ἡλικίαν αὐτοῦ πῆχυν ἕνα)

Here Jesus is speaking of a person's lifespan as if it were measured in length rather than in time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is able to make his lifespan any longer] or [is able to add any time to his lifespan]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT one cubit
UST even a minute
(πῆχυν ἕνα)

A cubit is a measure of length equal to about half a meter or about a foot and a half. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could express this length using the measure that is customary in your culture.

Support Reference: Biblical Distance

ULT his
UST your
(αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

Matthew 6:28

ULT	UST
And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field—how they grow. They do not labor, neither do they spin.	So, you should not worry about whether you will have enough clothes to wear. Observe the way that flowers grow in a field. They do not work {to earn money}, and they do not make their own clothes.

ULT And why are you anxious about clothing
UST So, you should not worry about whether you will have enough clothes to wear (καὶ περὶ ἐνδύματος τί μεριμνᾶτε)

Jesus is using the question form to show his disciples that they should not be anxious about clothing. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Further, you should not be anxious about clothing.] or [You should never be anxious about clothing!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Consider the lilies of the field—how they grow
UST Observe the way that flowers grow in a field (καταμάθετε τὰ κρίνα τοῦ ἀγροῦ πῶς αὐξάνουσιν)

If it would be helpful in your language, you could rearrange the parts of this sentence. Alternate translation: [Consider how the lilies of the field grow]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT the lilies
UST flowers
(τὰ κρίνα)

The word lilies describes beautiful flowers that grow wild in the fields. If your language does not have a word for this flower, you can use the name of a similar flower that your readers would recognize, or you can use a general term. Alternate translation: [the tulips] or [the blossoms]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the lilies of the field
> UST flowers … in a field
> (τὰ κρίνα τοῦ ἀγροῦ)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe lilies that grow in the field. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the lilies that you see in the field]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT of the field
> UST in a field
> (τοῦ ἀγροῦ)

The word field represents fields in general, not one particular field. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [of the fields]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT neither do they spin
> UST and they do not make their own clothes
> (οὐδὲ νήθουσιν)

In this context, to spin means to make thread or yarn for cloth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could explain the meaning with a phrase. Alternate translation: [nor do they make thread for cloth] or [nor do they make yarn for cloth]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
They do … labor	They do … work {to earn money}

Matthew 6:29

ULT	UST
But I say to you that not even Solomon in all his glory clothed himself like one of these.	However, here is what I want to tell you: King Solomon, who {lived long ago and} wore glorious clothes, never dressed as beautifully as a single flower.

ULT in all his glory
UST { … and} wore glorious clothes
(ἐν πάσῃ τῇ δόξῃ αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. If you use the following alternate translation, you may need to add a comma before Solomon. Alternate translation: [as glorious as he was,]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT in all his glory
UST { … and} wore glorious clothes
(ἐν πάσῃ τῇ δόξῃ αὐτοῦ)

Here, the word glory refers to how rich and famous Solomon was, with a special emphasis on his rich and beautiful clothing. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [with all his wealth and beautiful clothes] or [with all his wonderful possessions]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT like one of these
UST as beautifully as a single flower
(ὡς ἓν τούτων)

Here Jesus means that even Solomon could not wear clothing that was beautiful enough to look as beautiful as one flower. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as beautifully as one of these flowers appears] or [in a way that was as glorious as one of these flowers]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Solomon	King Solomon, who {lived long ago … }

ULT	UST
glory	{ … and} wore glorious clothes

Matthew 6:30

ULT	UST
But if God thus clothes the grass of the field, existing today and tomorrow being thrown into an oven, {will he} not much more you, ones of little faith?	God makes plants beautiful, even though they grow for only a short time. Then people {cut them down and} throw them into the fire. {But you are very precious to God.} He will care for you even more than he cares for the plants. You should trust God more than you do!

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a development in what Jesus is saying. The word does not introduce a contrast. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [Further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if
(εἰ)

Jesus speaks as if this were a hypothetical situation, but he means that it must be true. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, and if your readers might think that what Jesus is saying is uncertain, then you can translate his words as an affirmative statement. Alternate translation: [since] or [given that]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

ULT God thus clothes the grass of the field
UST God makes plants beautiful
(τὸν χόρτον τοῦ ἀγροῦ & ὁ Θεὸς οὕτως ἀμφιέννυσιν)

Here, the word thus refers back to what Jesus said in the previous verse about plants having more glory than Solomon (6:29). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God clothes the grass of the field like that] or [God clothes the grass of the field more gloriously than Solomon]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT clothes the grass of the field
UST makes plants beautiful
(τὸν χόρτον τοῦ ἀγροῦ & ἀμφιέννυσιν)

Jesus speaks of God making the grass beautiful as if God were putting beautiful clothing on it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [makes the grass of the field beautiful]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the grass of the field
UST plants
(τὸν χόρτον τοῦ ἀγροῦ)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe grass that grows in the field. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the grass that you see in the field]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT grass
UST plants
(χόρτον)

While Jesus uses a term that typically means grass, in this context he must implicitly mean wild plants in general, since he is referring back to the wild lilies he has just mentioned. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a general term for plants. Alternate translation: [plants] or [vegetation]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT of the field
UST plants
(τοῦ ἀγροῦ)

The word field represents fields in general, not one particular field. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [of the fields]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT existing today and tomorrow being thrown into an oven
> UST even though they grow for only a short time. Then people {cut them down and} throw them into the fire
> (σήμερον ὄντα, καὶ αὔριον εἰς κλίβανον βαλλόμενον)

Here, the word existing introduces a clause that states something that is unexpected for things that God clothes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces something that is unexpected. Alternate translation: [although it exists today and tomorrow is thrown into an oven] or [despite the fact that it exists today and tomorrow is thrown into an oven]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

> ULT existing today and tomorrow being thrown into an oven
> UST even though they grow for only a short time. Then people {cut them down and} throw them into the fire
> (σήμερον ὄντα, καὶ αὔριον εἰς κλίβανον βαλλόμενον)

Here Jesus means that grass is growing today, but someone may take it tomorrow and burn it. He speaks in this way to emphasize that grass often does not last for a long time and is not very valuable. He does not mean that this always happens to grass. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that indicates that grass only lasts for a short time and is not valuable. Alternate translation: [growing now but soon being thrown into an oven] or [existing at the moment but quickly being thrown into an oven]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

> ULT being thrown into an oven
> UST people {cut them down and} throw them into the fire
> (εἰς κλίβανον βαλλόμενον)

Here Jesus refers to how dried plant matter would be burned as fuel for heating and cooking. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [being thrown into an oven as fuel] or [being burned in an oven]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT being thrown
UST people {cut them down and} throw them (βαλλόμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [someone throwing it] or [people throwing it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT {will he} not much more
UST But you are very precious to God … even more than he cares for the plants (οὐ πολλῷ μᾶλλον)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [will he not much more clothe]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT {will he} not much more you, ones of little faith
UST {But you are very precious to God.} He will care for you even more than he cares for the plants. You should trust God more than you do
(οὐ πολλῷ μᾶλλον ὑμᾶς, ὀλιγόπιστοι)

Jesus is using the question form to show his disciples that God will give them the clothes they need. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [he will much more clothe you, ones of little faith.] or [he will definitely clothe you, ones of little faith!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
ones of little faith	You should trust God more than you do

Matthew 6:31

ULT	UST
Therefore, you should not be anxious, saying, 'What might we eat?' or, 'What might we drink?' or, 'What might we wear?'	So then, do not worry by asking about whether you have anything to eat or drink, or whether you have clothes to wear.

ULT saying, 'What might we eat?' or, 'What might we drink?' or, 'What might we wear
UST by asking about whether you have anything to eat or drink, or whether you have clothes to wear
(λέγοντες, τί φάγωμεν, ἤ, τί πίωμεν, ἤ, τί περιβαλώμεθα)

It may be more natural in your language to have indirect quotations here. Alternate translation: [asking what you might eat or what you might drink or what you might wear.]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT might we eat … might we drink … might we wear
UST you have anything to eat … drink … you have clothes to wear (φάγωμεν & πίωμεν & περιβαλώμεθα)

By we, Jesus means the disciples but not himself, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

Matthew 6:32

ULT	UST
For the Gentiles seek all these things; for your heavenly Father knows that you need all of these things.	The people who do not know God worry about such things. {However, you should not worry about such things} because God your Father, who rules from heaven, knows that you need them all.

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a further explanation of why the disciples should not be anxious. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a further explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [As you know,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT seek
UST worry about (ἐπιζητοῦσιν)

Here, the word seek refers to focusing on and trying to obtain something. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [focus on] or [try to obtain]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT all these things … all of these things
UST such things … them all
(πάντα & ταῦτα & τούτων ἁπάντων)

Here, the phrases all these things and all of these things refer to food, drink, clothing, and other necessities. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [food, drink, and clothing … food, drink, and clothing] or [all these necessities … all of these necessities]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for
UST {However, you should not worry about such things} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why the disciples should not be anxious about food, drink, or clothing. The word does not connect the clause to what Jesus just said about the Gentiles. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason for a previous command, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [you should not seek these things, because] or [but you should not be anxious about these things since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT your heavenly Father
UST God your Father, who rules from heaven
(ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν ὁ οὐράνιος)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God your heavenly Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Gentiles	The people who do not know God seek	worry about
heavenly	who rules from heaven
Father	God … Father
knows	knows

Matthew 6:33

ULT	UST
But seek first the kingdomand his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.	You should concentrate primarily on what you can do for God's kingdom and on doing what God considers to be right. When you do those things, {you can trust God} to provide everything you need.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast with worrying about food, drink, and clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [Instead of worrying about those things,] or [In contrast to the Gentiles,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT seek first
UST You should concentrate primarily (ζητεῖτε & πρῶτον)

Here, just as in 6:32, the word seek refers to focusing on and trying to obtain something. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [focus first on] or [try first to obtain]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT first
UST primarily (πρῶτον)

Here, the word first identifies seeking the kingdom as something that is most important. The word does not indicate sequence. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as most important]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the kingdom
UST on what you can do for God's kingdom
(τὴν βασιλείαν)

Many ancient manuscripts read the kingdom. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "the kingdom of God." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT his righteousness
UST on doing what God considers to be right
(τὴν δικαιοσύνην αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus is using the possessive form to describe what God considers to be righteousness. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the righteousness that he requires]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT his righteousness
UST on doing what God considers to be right
(τὴν δικαιοσύνην αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of righteousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what he says is right] or [seek to serve him rightly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and
UST When you do those things
(καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces the result of seeking first God's kingdom and righteousness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [and then] or [and as a result]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT all these things will be added to you
> UST {you can trust God} to provide everything you need > (ταῦτα πάντα προστεθήσεται ὑμῖν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will add all these things to you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT all these things
> UST everything … need
> (ταῦτα πάντα)

Here, just as in 6:32, the phrase all these things refers to food, drink, clothing, and other necessities. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [food, drink, and clothing] or [all these necessities]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT will be added to you
> UST {you can trust God} to provide … you > (προστεθήσεται ὑμῖν)

Here Jesus uses the phrase will be added to indicate that God will give all these things to the disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be set in front of you] or [will be given to you]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
seek	You should concentrate kingdom	on what you can do for God's kingdom righteousness	on doing what God considers to be right

Matthew 6:34

ULT	UST
Therefore, you should not be anxious for tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient for the day {is} its evil.	So then, do not worry about {what will happen} tomorrow. You can worry tomorrow about what will happen during that day. Enough bad things happen each day {that you should not worry about bad things that might happen tomorrow}.

ULT Therefore
UST So then
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces the conclusion to what Jesus has been telling his disciples about not being anxious in 6:25–33. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a conclusion. Alternate translation: [So] or [In summary]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT tomorrow will be anxious for itself
UST You can worry tomorrow about what will happen during that day
(ἡ & αὔριον μεριμνήσει ἑαυτῆς)

Jesus speaks of tomorrow as if it were a person who could be anxious. He could mean: (1) that people should worry about what happens the next day only when that day arrives. Alternate translation: [you can be anxious about tomorrow when it arrives]; (2) that worrying about tomorrow is as ridiculous as tomorrow being a person who can be anxious. Alternate translation: [that helps you as much as if tomorrow could be anxious about itself] or [tomorrow is not even here yet]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT Sufficient for the day {is} its evil
UST Enough bad things happen each day {that you should not worry about bad things that might happen tomorrow}
(ἀρκετὸν τῇ ἡμέρᾳ ἡ κακία αὐτῆς)

Here Jesus means that much evil happens each day, so people should not add to their troubles by worrying about anything that might happen the next day. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Each day has enough evil already without worrying about tomorrow] or [Evil already happens each day, so you should not add to it by worrying about tomorrow]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT {is} its evil
UST bad things happen
(ἡ κακία αὐτῆς)

Here, the phrase its evil refers to any bad or difficult things that happen each day. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [are the difficult things that happen that day] or [is the trouble that happens during it]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
for the day	each day
is … evil	bad things happen

Matthew 7

Matthew 7 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus' Sermon on the Mount (5:1–7:28)
    - Making judgments (7:1–6)
    - Asking and receiving (7:7–12)
    - Narrow and wide gates (7:13–14)
    - Obeying God is what matters (7:15–27)
        - Fruits metaphor (7:15–20)
        - Judgment day (7:21–23)
        - House metaphor (7:24–27)
    - The people are amazed (7:28–29)

Jesus spoke about many different subjects in this sermon, so you may wish to help the reader by putting an empty line into the text whenever Jesus changed the subject.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Judging

In 7:1–6, Jesus warns his disciples about judging others. More specifically, he warns them against mentioning or dealing with someone else's fault or sin when they themselves have an even more significant fault or sin. Jesus does want his disciples to make choices and decisions about other people, as 7:6 makes clear. That verse requires people to be careful what they do with holy and valuable things. However, the general message is to avoid making judgments about others, especially when one has one's own faults and sins.

Words and deeds

In 7:15–27, Jesus teaches about the importance of doing what is right, not just saying the right things. He says that his disciples can recognize false prophets by what they do, that he himself will honor and acknowledge his disciples based on what they do, and that only those who do what is right will survive difficult experiences.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The speck of wood and the log

In 7:3–5, Jesus refers to small faults and sins as if they were specks of wood in people's eyes. He refers to larger faults and sins as if they were logs in people's eyes. Jesus speaks in this way to contrast how significant these sins and faults are. He also speaks in this way to indicate that larger sins and faults make people spiritually unobservant, just as a log in someone's eye makes that person unable to see. If possible preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. (See: Metaphor)

Dogs and pigs

In 7:6, Jesus speaks of how his disciples should behave as if they were interacting with holy things, pearls, dogs, and pigs. He could be speaking of the gospel as the holy and pearls. In this case, the dogs and pigs represent people who reject the gospel. Or, Jesus could be speaking of his disciples' possessions and skills as the holy and pearls. In this case, the dogs and pigs represent worthless tasks and goals. Or, Jesus could be speaking of fellow disciples as the holy and pearls. In this case, the dogs and pigs represent unbelievers. Since Jesus speaks these words as a saying or proverb, you should avoid choosing one option. Instead, you should express the idea in a way that allows for all these and other interpretations. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a form that you would normally use for a proverb or saying. See the notes on this verse for translation options. (See: Metaphor)

Gates and roads

In 7:13–14, Jesus speaks of how people live as if they were traveling on a road or passing through a gate. He says that the gate and road that lead to eternal life are narrow and difficult, and only a few people travel that way. On the other hand, the gate and road that lead to destruction are wide and easy, and many people travel that way. He means that it is very easy to live in ways that will end in destruction, and it is hard to live in ways that will end in eternal life. If possible preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. (See: Metaphor)

Trees and fruits

In 7:16–20, Jesus speaks of people as if they were plants. Just as you can tell what kind of plant it is by what fruit the plant produces, so you can tell whether people are really Jesus' disciples based on what they do. If possible preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. (See: Metaphor)

Building houses

In 7:24–27, Jesus compares obedient people to wise people who build their homes on a solid foundation. When bad things happen, they will be safe and secure, just like those homes will be safe and secure through storms and floods. In contrast, Jesus compares disobedient people to foolish people who build their homes on an insecure foundation. When bad things happen, they will be destroyed, just like those homes will collapse when storms and floods come. If possible preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. (See: Metaphor)

Singular and plural forms of "you"

In this chapter, Jesus is talking to a large crowd of his followers. Throughout the chapter, Jesus switches between using "you" in the singular and "you" in the plural while he is talking to the same people. When he uses the singular, he is speaking about specific situations that each person in the crowd might experience. When he uses the plural, he is speaking generally to the crowd as a whole. You should assume that Jesus is using plural forms of "you" unless a note specifies that the forms are singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 7:1

ULT	UST
Do not judge, so that you will not be judged.	Do not harshly criticize {other people}. That way, God will not harshly criticize you.

ULT Do not judge
UST Do not harshly criticize {other people}
(μὴ κρίνετε)

Here Jesus uses the word judge to refer to unofficial and improper judging. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this explicit. Alternate translation: [Do not harshly judge] or [Do not condemn]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT so that
UST That way
(ἵνα)

Here, the phrase so that introduces the goal for which the disciples refrain from judging. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a goal. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT you will not be judged
UST God will not harshly criticize you
(μὴ κριθῆτε)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will not judge you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do … judge	Do … harshly criticize {other people}
you will … be judged	God will … harshly criticize you

Matthew 7:2

ULT	UST
For with the judgment by which you judge, you will be judged, and with the measure by which you measure, it will be measured to you.	{I say that} because God will harshly criticize you in the same way that you harshly criticize others. In fact, God will treat you in the same way that you treat others.

ULT For
UST {I say that} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a further explanation of the command that Jesus gave in the previous verse (7:1). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [In fact,] or [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT with the judgment by which you judge
UST in the same way that you harshly criticize others
(ἐν ᾧ & κρίματι κρίνετε)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in the manner that you judge]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT you will be judged
UST God will harshly criticize you (κριθήσεσθε)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will judge you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and
UST In fact
(καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces a more general statement in proverb form. This general proverb provides further proof that people will be judged as they have judged others. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a more general statement or proverb. Alternate translation: [just as some people say:] or [and more generally,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT with the measure by which you measure, it will be measured to you
UST God will treat you in the same way that you treat others
(ἐν ᾧ μέτρῳ μετρεῖτε, μετρηθήσεται ὑμῖν)

Here, Jesus uses or invents a proverb in order to teach that people eventually experience for themselves how they have treated other people. Translate this proverb in a way that will be recognized as a proverb and be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [what you give to others is what you will get in return] or [what you do to others will be done to you]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT with the measure by which you measure
UST in the same way that you treat others
(ἐν ᾧ μέτρῳ μετρεῖτε)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of measure, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in the manner that you measure]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT it will be measured to you
UST God will treat you
(μετρηθήσεται ὑμῖν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will measure it to you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT it will be measured
> UST God will treat
> (μετρηθήσεται)

Here, the word it refers to what you measure out to other people. Jesus is speaking in general about anything that people measure, so you should avoid making the phrase specific. Alternate translation: [the same thing will be measured] or [that very thing will be measured]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the judgment	in the same way
you judge	that you harshly criticize others
you will be judged	God will harshly criticize you

Matthew 7:3

ULT	UST
Now why do you look at the speck of wood that {is} in the eye of your brother, but you do not notice the log in your eye?	{None of you should concentrate on the small faults of another person. You should concentrate on your own serious faults.} Otherwise, that would be like noticing a speck in the eye of that person while not noticing a huge wooden plank in your own eye.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next topic. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT why do you look at the speck of wood that {is} in the eye of your brother, but you do not notice the log in your eye
UST {None of you should concentrate on the small faults of another person. You should concentrate on your own serious faults.} Otherwise, that would be like noticing a speck in the eye of that person while not noticing a huge wooden plank in your own eye
(τί & βλέπεις τὸ κάρφος τὸ ἐν τῷ ὀφθαλμῷ τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ σου, τὴν δὲ ἐν τῷ σῷ ὀφθαλμῷ δοκὸν οὐ κατανοεῖς)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke his disciples for looking at a speck of wood in a fellow disciple's eye while failing to notice the log in their own eye. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you should not look at the speck of wood in the eye of your brother when you do not notice the log in your eye.] or [do not look at the speck of wood in the eye of your brother while at the same time not noticing the log in your eye!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT do you look at … your … you do not notice … your eye
> UST concentrate on … of another person. You should concentrate on … Otherwise, that would be like noticing … of that person … not noticing … in your own eye
> (βλέπεις & σου & τῷ σῷ ὀφθαλμῷ & οὐ κατανοεῖς)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

> ULT do you look at the speck of wood that {is} in the eye of your brother, but you do not notice the log in your eye
> UST { … concentrate on the small faults of another person. You should concentrate on your own serious faults.} Otherwise, that would be like noticing a speck in the eye of that person while not noticing a huge wooden plank in your own eye
> (βλέπεις τὸ κάρφος τὸ ἐν τῷ ὀφθαλμῷ τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ σου, τὴν δὲ ἐν τῷ σῷ ὀφθαλμῷ δοκὸν οὐ κατανοεῖς)

Here Jesus refers to small faults and mistakes as if they were a speck of wood in a person's eye. He speaks of large faults and mistakes as if they were a log in a person's eye. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do you focus on your brother's small fault, which is like a speck of wood in his eye, but you do not notice your own large fault, which is like a log in your eye] or [do you look at the small mistakes your brother makes, but you do not notice your own large mistakes]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

> ULT the speck of wood
> UST the small faults … a speck
> (τὸ κάρφος)

A speck of wood is a tiny piece of wood or plant matter. If your readers would not be familiar with a speck of wood, you could use the name of something small that commonly falls into a person's eyes, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the grain of sand] or [the tiny object]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT of your brother
> UST of another person … of that person
> (τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ σου)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of your fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT of your brother
> UST of another person … of that person
> (τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ σου)

Although the term brother is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [of your brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT the log
> UST your own serious faults … a huge wooden plank in your own eye
> (τὴν & δοκὸν)

A log could not literally go into a person's eye. Jesus is using an extreme example to emphasize his point and make it memorable. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the largest object that could fall into a person's eye. Alternate translation: [the large piece of wood]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT the log
> UST your own serious faults … a huge wooden plank in your own eye
> (τὴν & δοκὸν)

A log is a long, large piece of wood. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of object, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the beam] or [the plank] or [the large object]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

Matthew 7:4

ULT	UST
Or how will you say to your brother, ‘Let me take out the speck of wood from your eye,’ while behold, the log {is} in your eye?	You should not tell another believer, ‘Let me help you correct your faults,’ while you have not yet dealt with your own faults.

ULT Or

UST not

(ἢ)

Here, the word Or introduces a second question that provides another improper way to behave. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a similar situation or command, or you could leave Or untranslated. Alternate translation: [Again,] or [Even further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Or how will you say to your brother, ‘Let me take out the speck of wood from your eye,’ while behold, the log {is} in your eye

UST You should not tell another believer, ‘Let me help you correct your faults,’ while you have not yet dealt with your own faults

(ἢ πῶς ἐρεῖς τῷ ἀδελφῷ σου, ἄφες ἐκβάλω τὸ κάρφος ἐκ τοῦ ὀφθαλμοῦ σου, καὶ ἰδοὺ, ἡ δοκὸς ἐν τῷ ὀφθαλμῷ σοῦ)

Jesus asks this question to challenge his disciples to pay attention to the log in their own eye before they pay attention to a speck of wood in another person’s eye. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should not say to your brother, ‘Let me take out the speck of wood from your eye,’ while behold, the log is in your eye.] or [Do not say to your brother, ‘Let me take out the speck of wood from your eye,’ while behold, the log is in your eye!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT to your brother
> UST another believer
> (τῷ ἀδελφῷ σου)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to your fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to your brother
> UST another believer
> (τῷ ἀδελφῷ σου)

Although the term brother is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [to your brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT your … Let … your … your
> UST another believer, ‘Let me … you … your own > (σου, ἄφες & σου & σοῦ)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so your is singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT Let me take out the speck of wood from your eye,' while behold, the log {is} in your eye
UST Let me help you correct your faults,' while you have not yet dealt with your own faults
(ἄφες ἐκβάλω τὸ κάρφος ἐκ τοῦ ὀφθαλμοῦ σου, καὶ ἰδοὺ, ἡ δοκὸς ἐν τῷ ὀφθαλμῷ σοῦ)

Jesus continues to refer to small faults and mistakes as if they were a speck of wood in a person's eye and to large faults and mistakes as if they were a log in a person's eye. Express the idea as you did in 7:3. Alternate translation: ['Let me assist you in getting rid of your small fault, which is like a speck of wood in your eye,' while behold, you have your own large fault, which is like a log in your eye] or ['Let me assist you in avoiding the small mistakes you make,' while behold, you have your own large mistakes]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT the speck of wood
UST your faults
(τὸ κάρφος)

Translate the phrase speck of wood as you did in 7:3. Alternate translation: [the grain of sand] or [the tiny object]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT behold
UST while you have not yet dealt with
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [see]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the log
> UST faults
> (ἡ δοκὸς)

A log could not literally go into a person's eye. Jesus is using an extreme example to emphasize his point and make it memorable. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the largest object that could fall into a person's eye. Alternate translation: [the large piece of wood]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT the log
> UST faults
> (ἡ δοκὸς)

Translate the word log as you did in 7:3. Alternate translation: [the beam] or [the plank] or [the large object]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

Matthew 7:5

ULT	UST
You hypocrite! First take out the log from your eye, and then you will see clearly to take out the speck of wood from the eye of your brother.	If you do that, you are a hypocrite! You should first {stop committing your own sins. That will be like} removing a large plank from your own eye. Then, as a result, you will have the spiritual insight you need to help others get rid of the {smaller faults that are like} little specks in their eyes.

ULT You hypocrite … take out … your … you will see clearly … your UST If you do that, you are a hypocrite! You should … stop committing your own … { … That will be like} removing … from your own eye … you will have the spiritual insight you need … others … their (ὑποκριτά, ἔκβαλε & σοῦ & διαβλέψεις & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so the command take out is singular, and the words you and your are singular throughout the verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who is speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of the command and the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT First take out the log from your eye, and then you will see clearly to take out the speck of wood from the eye of your brother
UST You should first {stop committing your own sins. That will be like} removing a large plank from your own eye. Then, as a result, you will have the spiritual insight you need to help others get rid of the {smaller faults that are like} little specks in their eyes
(ἔκβαλε πρῶτον ἐκ τοῦ ὀφθαλμοῦ σοῦ τὴν δοκόν, καὶ τότε διαβλέψεις ἐκβαλεῖν τὸ κάρφος ἐκ τοῦ ὀφθαλμοῦ τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ σου)

Here Jesus continues to refer to small faults and mistakes as if they were a speck of wood in a person's eye and to large faults and mistakes as if they were a log in a person's eye. Express the idea as you did in 7:3–4. In this verse, Jesus also adds the idea of being able to see clearly, which indicates that a person is spiritually mature and knowledgeable. Alternate translation: [First get rid of your own large fault, which is like a log in your eye, and then you will know how to assist your brother in getting rid of his small fault, which is like a speck of wood in his eye] or [First get rid of your own large mistakes, and then you will know how to properly assist your brother in avoiding his small mistakes]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

> ULT the log
> UST sins … a large plank
> (τὴν δοκόν)

A log could not literally go into a person's eye. Jesus is using an extreme example to emphasize his point and make it memorable. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the largest object that could fall into a person's eye. Alternate translation: [the large piece of wood]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT the log
> UST sins … a large plank
> (τὴν δοκόν)

Translate the word log as you did in 7:3. Alternate translation: [the beam] or [the plank] or [the large object]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the speck of wood
> UST the {smaller faults that are like} little specks
> (τὸ κάρφος)

Translate the phrase speck of wood as you did in 7:3. Alternate translation: [the grain of sand] or [the tiny object]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT of your brother
> UST others … their
> (τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ σου)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of your fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT of your brother
> UST others … their
> (τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ σου)

Although the term brother is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [of your brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
You hypocrite	If you do that, you are a hypocrite

Matthew 7:6

ULT	UST
You should neither give the holy to the dogs nor should you throw your pearls in front of the pigs. Otherwise, they will trample them under their feet, and having turned, they will tear you to pieces.	{Apply this saying to how you live:} do not present sacred things to dogs, and do not put valuable things in front of pigs. {I say that} because the pigs will crush your valuable things, and the dogs will destroy the sacred things and then attack you.

ULT You should neither give the holy to the dogs nor should you throw your pearls in front of the pigs. Otherwise, they will trample them under their feet, and having turned, they will tear you to pieces

UST {Apply this saying to how you live:} do not present sacred things to dogs, and do not put valuable things in front of pigs. {I say that} because the pigs will crush your valuable things, and the dogs will destroy the sacred things and then attack you

(μὴ δῶτε τὸ ἅγιον τοῖς κυσίν, μηδὲ βάλητε τοὺς μαργαρίτας ὑμῶν ἔμπροσθεν τῶν χοίρων, μήποτε καταπατήσουσιν αὐτοὺς ἐν τοῖς ποσὶν αὐτῶν, καὶ στραφέντες ῥήξωσιν ὑμᾶς)

It is likely that Jesus speaks about dogs in the first and last clauses in this verse and about pigs in the middle two clauses. This was a poetic form in his culture. If your readers would not recognize this as poetry and misunderstand which animals Jesus is speaking about in the last two clauses, you could rearrange the clauses. Alternate translation: [You should not give the holy to the dogs. Otherwise, having turned, they will tear you to pieces. Nor should you throw your pearls in front of the pigs. Otherwise they will trample them under their feet]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT You should neither give the holy to the dogs nor should you throw your pearls in front of the pigs. Otherwise, they will trample them under their feet, and having turned, they will tear you to pieces
UST {Apply this saying to how you live:} do not present sacred things to dogs, and do not put valuable things in front of pigs. {I say that} because the pigs will crush your valuable things, and the dogs will destroy the sacred things and then attack you
(μὴ δῶτε τὸ ἅγιον τοῖς κυσίν, μηδὲ βάλητε τοὺς μαργαρίτας ὑμῶν ἔμπροσθεν τῶν χοίρων, μήποτε καταπατήσουσιν αὐτοὺς ἐν τοῖς ποσὶν αὐτῶν, καὶ στραφέντες ῥήξωσιν ὑμᾶς)

Here Jesus speaks of how his disciples should behave as if they were interacting with dogs, pearls, and pigs. See the chapter introduction for some possible interpretations of this figure of speech. You should express the idea in a way that allows for many interpretations. If it is necessary for you to indicate that Jesus is using a figure of speech here, you could introduce the verse with a form that usually introduces a saying or proverb. Alternate translation: [Think about what this means for your life: You should neither give the holy to the dogs, nor should you throw your pearls in front of the pigs. Otherwise they will trample them under their feet, and having turned, tear you to pieces]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the holy
UST sacred things
(τὸ ἅγιον)

Jesus is using the adjective holy as a noun to mean anything that is holy. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [holy things]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT to the dogs
UST to dogs
(τοῖς κυσίν)

A dog is an animal that is considered to be unclean and disgusting by Jews and many cultures of the Ancient Near East. It would be very improper to give the holy to this kind of animal. If dogs are unfamiliar to your culture and you have a different animal that is considered unclean and disgusting, you could use the name of this animal instead.

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT pearls
UST valuable things
(τοὺς μαργαρίτας)

The word pearls refers to beautiful and valuable mineral balls that people use as jewelry. If your readers would not be familiar with pearls, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [jewelry] or [valuable beads]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT they will trample them under their feet, and having turned, they will tear you to pieces
UST the pigs will crush your valuable things, and the dogs will destroy the sacred things and then attack you (καταπατήσουσιν αὐτοὺς ἐν τοῖς ποσὶν αὐτῶν, καὶ στραφέντες ῥήξωσιν ὑμᾶς)

Here, the phrases they will trample and they will tear could refer to: (1) how the pigs trample and the dogs tear. Alternate translation: [the pigs will trample them under their feet, and having turned, the dogs will tear you to pieces]; (2) how the pigs and the gods will together trample and tear. Alternate translation: [the pigs and dogs together will trample them under their feet, and having turned, they will tear you to pieces]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT them
UST your valuable things
(αὐτοὺς)

Here, the word them refers to the pearls. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer directly to pearls. Alternate translation: [the pearls]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT having turned
UST the dogs will destroy the sacred things and then (στραφέντες)

Here, the phrase having turned indicates that the animals will stop paying attention to the holy things and pearls and start focusing on you. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [turning to face you] or [focusing on you instead]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
holy	sacred things
pigs	pigs
they will trample	the pigs will crush

Matthew 7:7

ULT	UST
Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you.	Keep asking {God for the things you need}, and he will give them to you. Keep seeking {those things from God}, and you will receive them. Ask God to make things possible for you, and he will act on your behalf.

ULT Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find
UST Keep asking {God for the things you need}, and he will give them to you. Keep seeking {those things from God}, and you will receive them
(αἰτεῖτε καὶ δοθήσεται ὑμῖν; ζητεῖτε καὶ εὑρήσετε)

You may need to say what a person would be asking for and seeking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use general expressions that refer to anything good that a person might want or need. Alternate translation: [ask for a good thing, and it will be given to you; seek a good thing, and you will find it]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT it will be given to you
UST he will give them to you
(δοθήσεται ὑμῖν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will give it to you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT knock
UST Ask God to make things possible for you (κρούετε)

To knock means to hit a door a few times to let a person inside the house know you are standing outside. You could translate this expression with the way people in your culture show that they have arrived at a house. Alternate translation: [call out] or [cough] or [clap]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT knock, and it will be opened to you
UST Ask God to make things possible for you, and he will act on your behalf (κρούετε καὶ ἀνοιγήσεται ὑμῖν)

Here Jesus speaks of praying as if it were knocking on a door, and he speaks of God answering the prayer as if it were the door being opened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [ask for permission, and permission will be given to you] or [pray, and God will answer your prayer]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT it will be opened to you
UST he will act on your behalf (ἀνοιγήσεται ὑμῖν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will open it to you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
seek	Keep seeking {those things from God}

Matthew 7:8

ULT	UST
For everyone asking receives; and the one seeking finds; and to the one knocking, it will be opened.	{You should do those things} because everyone who keeps asking {God for the things they need} will receive them. Everyone who seeks {those things from God} will receive them. If people ask God to make things possible for them, God will act on their behalf.

ULT For
UST {You should do those things} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces some reasons why the disciples should do what Jesus commanded in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Do those things since] or [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT everyone asking receives; and the one seeking finds
UST everyone who keeps asking {God for the things they need} will receive them. Everyone who seeks {those things from God} will receive them
(πᾶς & ὁ αἰτῶν λαμβάνει, καὶ ὁ ζητῶν εὑρίσκει)

You may need to say what a person would be asking for and seeking. If so, express the idea as you did in 7:7. Alternate translation: [everyone asking for a good thing receives it; and the one seeking a good thing finds it]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to the one knocking
UST If people ask God to make things possible for them
(τῷ κρούοντι)

Express the idea of knocking as you did in 7:7. Alternate translation: [to the one calling out] or [to the one coughing] or [to the one clapping]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT to the one knocking, it will be opened
UST If people ask God to make things possible for them, God will act on their behalf (τῷ κρούοντι ἀνοιγήσεται)

Here Jesus continues to speak of praying as if it were knocking on a door and of God answering the prayer as if it were the door being opened. Express the idea as you did in 7:7. Alternate translation: [to the one asking for permission, permission will be given] or [to the one praying, it will be answered]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT it will be opened
UST God will act on their behalf (ἀνοιγήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will open it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
receives	will receive them
seeking	Everyone who seeks {those things from God}

Matthew 7:9

ULT	UST
Or what man is there from among you, of whom his son will ask for bread—he will not give him a stone, will he?	Suppose one of you had a child who asked you for bread {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a rock {to eat}!

ULT Or
(ἢ)

Here, the word Or introduces a contrasting alternative to what Jesus has said about how people who ask will receive. Jesus then uses the question form to show that this alternative is wrong. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a false alternative, or you could leave Or untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [As a matter of fact,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Or what man is there from among you, of whom his son will ask for bread—he will not give him a stone, will he
UST Suppose one of you had a child who asked you for bread {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a rock {to eat}
(ἢ τίς ἐστιν ἐξ ὑμῶν ἄνθρωπος, ὃν αἰτήσει ὁ υἱὸς αὐτοῦ ἄρτον, μὴ λίθον ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Alternate translation: [Or what man is there from among you who will give his son a stone when he asks for bread]

ULT Or what man is there from among you, of whom his son will ask for bread—he will not give him a stone, will he
UST Suppose one of you had a child who asked you for bread {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a rock {to eat}
(ἢ τίς ἐστιν ἐξ ὑμῶν ἄνθρωπος, ὃν αἰτήσει ὁ υἱὸς αὐτοῦ ἄρτον, μὴ λίθον ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Jesus uses a question to show how parents do not give bad things to their children. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [There is not a man from among you, of whom his son will ask for bread, and he will give him a stone.] or [No man among you, of whom his son will ask for bread, will give him a stone!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT Or what man is there from among you, of whom his son will ask for bread—he will not give him a stone, will he
> UST Suppose one of you had a child who asked you for bread {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a rock {to eat}
> (ἢ τίς ἐστιν ἐξ ὑμῶν ἄνθρωπος, ὃν αἰτήσει ὁ υἱὸς αὐτοῦ ἄρτον, μὴ λίθον ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Here Jesus uses an imaginary situation to help explain how parents give good things, not bad things, to their children. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [Or imagine a man from among you. When his son asks him for bread, he will not give a stone, will he]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

> ULT what man is there from among you, of whom his son will ask for bread—he will not give him a stone, will he
> UST Suppose one of you had a child who asked you for bread {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a rock {to eat}
> (τίς ἐστιν ἐξ ὑμῶν ἄνθρωπος, ὃν αἰτήσει ὁ υἱὸς αὐτοῦ ἄρτον, μὴ λίθον ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Although Jesus uses the example of a man and his son, he does not mean that this example applies only to fathers and sons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that includes all parents and children. Alternate translation: [what parents are there from among you, of whom their child will ask for bread—they will not give their child a stone, will they]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bread	bread {to eat}

Matthew 7:10

ULT	UST
Or he will also ask for a fish—he will not give him a snake, will he?	Similarly, suppose that your child asked you for a fish {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a poisonous snake {to eat}!

ULT Or
UST Similarly, suppose that
(ἢ)

Here, the word Or introduces another similar example. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces another example, or you could leave Or untranslated. Alternate translation: [Again,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Or he will also ask for a fish—he will not give him a snake, will he
UST Similarly, suppose that your child asked you for a fish {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a poisonous snake {to eat}
(ἢ καὶ ἰχθὺν αἰτήσει, μὴ ὄφιν ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Alternate translation: [Or he will not give him a snake when he asks for a fish, will he]

ULT Or he will also ask for a fish—he will not give him a snake, will he
UST Similarly, suppose that your child asked you for a fish {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a poisonous snake {to eat}
(ἢ καὶ ἰχθὺν αἰτήσει, μὴ ὄφιν ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Jesus asks another question to teach the people about how God gives gifts. If you would not use a rhetorical question for this purpose in your language, you could translate his words as a statement or an exclamation and communicate the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [And there is not one person among you, if his son asks for a fish, will give him a snake.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Or he will also ask for a fish—he will not give him a snake, will he
UST Similarly, suppose that your child asked you for a fish {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a poisonous snake {to eat}
(ἢ καὶ ἰχθὺν αἰτήσει, μὴ ὄφιν ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Here Jesus uses an imaginary situation to help explain how parents give good things, not bad things, to their children. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [Or imagine that same man again. When his son asks him for a fish, he will not give him a snake, will he]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT he will also ask for a fish—he will not give him a snake, will he
UST Similarly, suppose that your child asked you for a fish {to eat}. You certainly would not give your child a poisonous snake {to eat}
(καὶ ἰχθὺν αἰτήσει, μὴ ὄφιν ἐπιδώσει αὐτῷ)

Although Jesus continues to use the example of a father and his son, he does not mean that this example applies only to fathers and sons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that includes all parents and children. Alternate translation: [the child will also ask for a fish—the parents will not give the child a snake, will they]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT a snake
UST a poisonous snake {to eat}
(ὄφιν)

In this culture, people did not eat snakes. So Jesus is saying that a father would not give a son something the son could not eat if the son asked for something that he could eat. If people do eat snakes in your culture, you could use the name of something that they do not eat, or you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [something he cannot eat]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a snake	a poisonous snake {to eat}

Matthew 7:11

ULT	UST
Therefore, if you, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in the heavens give good things to the ones asking him?	So, even though you people are sinful, you still know how to give good gifts to your children. Therefore, it is even more certain that God your Father, who rules from heaven, will give good things to those who ask him.

ULT if
UST Therefore
(εἰ)

Jesus speaks as if this were a hypothetical situation, but he means that it is true. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, and if your readers might think that what Jesus is saying is uncertain, then you could translate his words as an affirmative statement. Alternate translation: [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

ULT being evil
UST are sinful
(πονηροὶ ὄντες)

Here, the phrase being evil states something that is unexpected of people who know how to give good gifts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces something that is unexpected. Alternate translation: [although you are evil] or [despite being evil]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT how much more will your Father in the heavens give good things to the ones asking him
UST it is even more certain that God your Father, who rules from heaven, will give good things to those who ask him
(πόσῳ μᾶλλον ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν & ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς δώσει ἀγαθὰ τοῖς αἰτοῦσιν αὐτόν)

Jesus is using the question form to show that God will definitely give good things to people who ask for them. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [your Father in the heavens will much more give good to the ones asking him.] or [much more will your Father in the heavens give good things to the ones asking him!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT your Father
UST God your Father
(ὁ Πατὴρ ὑμῶν)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [your Father, God,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in the heavens
UST who rules from heaven
(ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	sinful
know how	you still know how
good	good
Father	God … Father
heavens	who rules from heaven

ULT	UST
good things	good things

Matthew 7:12

ULT	UST
Therefore, all things in as much as you desire that men do to you, in this manner also, you do to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.	In conclusion, in whatever way you want others to act toward you, that is the way you should act toward them. Then, you will be doing what it says in all the parts of the Scriptures.

ULT Therefore
UST In conclusion
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces a conclusion to what Jesus has said in 5:15–7:11. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of conclusion, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [In summary] or [So]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT all things in as much as you desire that men do to you, in this manner also, you do to them
UST in whatever way you want others to act toward you, that is the way you should act toward them
(πάντα & ὅσα ἐὰν θέλητε ἵνα ποιῶσιν ὑμῖν οἱ ἄνθρωποι, οὕτως καὶ ὑμεῖς ποιεῖτε αὐτοῖς)

In some languages it might be more natural to reverse the order of these phrases. Alternate translation: [you should do to men all things in the way that you desire them to do to you]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT men
UST others
(οἱ ἄνθρωποι)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [people] or [men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT for
UST Then
(γάρ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason for the command that Jesus has just given. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a command, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [since] or [which you should do because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT this is the Law and the Prophets
UST you will be doing what it says in all the parts of the Scriptures
(οὗτος & ἐστιν ὁ νόμος καὶ οἱ προφῆται)

Here, the clause this is the Law and the Prophets means that Jesus' command summarizes what the Law and the Prophets require. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [this is what the Law and Prophets require] or [this is a summary of the Law and the Prophets]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the Law and the Prophets
UST what it says in all the parts of the Scriptures
(ὁ νόμος καὶ οἱ προφῆται)

The word Law is the name for one part of the Hebrew Scriptures, and the word Prophets is the name for another part of the Hebrew Scriptures. Show this in your translation in the way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [all the Scriptures, both the Law and the Prophets]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT the Prophets
UST what it says in all the parts of the Scriptures
(οἱ προφῆται)

Here, the word Prophets represents what the prophets said and wrote. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the writings of the prophets]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Law	what it says in all the parts of the Scriptures
Prophets	what it says in all the parts of the Scriptures

Matthew 7:13

ULT	UST
Enter through the narrow gate. For wide {is} the gate and broad {is} the road that is leading to destruction, and there are many entering through it.	{When you choose how to live, you are like a traveler choosing which path to take.} There is an easy path and a large gate, and many people go that way. However, if you go that way, God will punish you. There is also a hard path and a small gate, and only a few people go that way. You should use that small gate, because that is how you will truly live. (vv13-14)

ULT Enter through the narrow gate. For wide {is} the gate and broad {is} the road that is leading to destruction, and there are many entering through it … For the gate {is} narrow and the road has been made narrow that is leading to life, and there are few finding it

UST There is an easy path and a large gate, and many people go that way. However, if you go that way, God will punish you … path and … gate, and … go … You should use that small gate, because that is how you will truly live … path and … gate, and … go … However, if you go that way, God will punish you. There is also a hard path and a small gate, and only a few people go that way … because that is how you will truly live

(εἰσέλθατε διὰ τῆς στενῆς πύλης; ὅτι πλατεῖα ἡ πύλη καὶ εὐρύχωρος ἡ ὁδὸς ἡ ἀπάγουσα εἰς τὴν ἀπώλειαν, καὶ πολλοί εἰσιν οἱ εἰσερχόμενοι δι’ αὐτῆς; ὅτι στενὴ ἡ πύλη καὶ τεθλιμμένη ἡ ὁδὸς ἡ ἀπάγουσα εἰς τὴν ζωήν, καὶ ὀλίγοι εἰσὶν οἱ εὑρίσκοντες αὐτήν) (7:13-14)

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine 7:13 and 7:14 into a verse bridge, as UST does, in order to keep the information about the narrow gate together. Alternate translation: [Enter through the narrow gate. For the gate {is} narrow and the way has been made narrow that is leading to life, and there are few finding it. But wide {is} the gate and broad {is} the road that is leading to destruction, and there are many entering through it]

Support Reference: Verse Bridges

ULT Enter through the narrow gate. For wide {is} the gate and broad {is} the road that is leading to destruction, and there are many entering through it
UST There is an easy path and a large gate, and many people go that way. However, if you go that way, God will punish you … path and … gate, and … go … You should use that small gate, because that is how you will truly live
(εἰσέλθατε διὰ τῆς στενῆς πύλης; ὅτι πλατεῖα ἡ πύλη καὶ εὐρύχωρος ἡ ὁδὸς ἡ ἀπάγουσα εἰς τὴν ἀπώλειαν, καὶ πολλοί εἰσιν οἱ εἰσερχόμενοι δι' αὐτῆς)

Here Jesus speaks of how people live as if they were walking on a road and of what happens when they die as if it were entering through a gate. When a gate is narrow, that means that it is difficult to go through and that not many people go through it. When a gate is wide and a road is broad, that means that they are easy to travel on or go through and that many people travel on or through them. Since these are important images that Jesus uses in the following verse as well, you should preserve the figure of speech or express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [You should live like a traveler who enters through a narrow gate. Many people live like travelers who enter through a wide gate and travel on a broad road, but this path leads to destruction]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT For
(ὅτι)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why people should enter through the narrow gate. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason for a command, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT to destruction
UST However, if you go that way, God will punish you … because that is how you will truly live
(εἰς τὴν ἀπώλειαν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of destruction, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to being destroyed] or [to God destroying you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT many
> UST many people
> (πολλοί)

Jesus is using the adjective many as a noun to mean many people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [many travelers]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
gate	gate
is … gate	gate … gate

Matthew 7:14

ULT	UST
For the gate {is} narrow and the road has been made narrowthat is leading to life, and there are few finding it.	{When you choose how to live, you are like a traveler choosing which path to take.} There is an easy path and a large gate, and many people go that way. However, if you go that way, God will punish you. There is also a hard path and a small gate, and only a few people go that way. You should use that small gate, because that is how you will truly live. (vv13-14)

ULT For the gate {is} narrow and the road has been made narrow
UST path and … gate … There is also a hard path and a small gate
(ὅτι στενὴ ἡ πύλη καὶ τεθλιμμένη ἡ ὁδὸς)

Many ancient manuscripts read For the gate is narrow and the road has been made narrow. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “How narrow is the gate and having been made narrow the road.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT For
(ὅτι)

Here, the word For introduces another reason why people should enter through the narrow gate. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason for a command, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Enter through the narrow gate because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the gate {is} narrow and the road has been made narrow that is leading to life, and there are few finding it
UST path and … gate, and … go … However, if you go that way, God will punish you. There is also a hard path and a small gate, and only a few people go that way … because that is how you will truly live (στενὴ ἡ πύλη καὶ τεθλιμμένη ἡ ὁδὸς ἡ ἀπάγουσα εἰς τὴν ζωήν, καὶ ὀλίγοι εἰσὶν οἱ εὑρίσκοντες αὐτήν)

Here Jesus continues to speak of how people live as if they were walking on a way and of what happens when they die as if it were entering through a gate. When a gate is narrow and a way has been made narrow, that means that they are difficult to go through and that not many people go through them. Express the idea as you did in 7:13. Alternate translation: [only a few people live like travelers who find the narrow gate and travel on the road that has been made narrow, and this road leads to life]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT the road has been made narrow
UST path … There is also a hard path
(τεθλιμμένη ἡ ὁδὸς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [the road is narrow] or [God has made the road narrow]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT life
UST God will punish you … you will truly live
(τὴν ζωήν)

Here Jesus implies that life is eternal or undying life. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [true life] or [eternal life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to life
UST However, if you go that way, God will punish you … because that is how you will truly live
(εἰς τὴν ζωήν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to being able to live]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT few
UST only a few people
(ὀλίγοι)

Jesus is using the adjective few as a noun to mean few people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [few travelers]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT it
UST that way
(αὐτήν)

Here, the word it could refer to: (1) both the gate and the road. Alternate translation: [them]; (2) just the road. Alternate translation: [this road]; (3) just the gate. Alternate translation: [this gate]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
gate	gate … gate

Matthew 7:15

ULT	UST
Beware of the false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves.	Watch out for people who lie when they claim to speak messages from God. They may look like they are part of God's people, but really they want to hurt God's people.

ULT who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves
UST They may look like they are part of God's people, but really they want to hurt God's people
(οἵτινες ἔρχονται πρὸς ὑμᾶς ἐν ἐνδύμασι προβάτων, ἔσωθεν δέ εἰσιν λύκοι ἅρπαγες)

Here Jesus speaks of God's people as if they were sheep. By the false prophets wearing sheep's clothing, he means that the false prophets pretend to be part of God's people. However, Jesus says that inwardly they are ravenous wolves. He means that they hurt and take advantage of God's people, which is acting just like wolves that eat sheep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who pretend to be part of your group, as if they were dressed in sheep's clothing. However, inwardly they want to harm you, as if they were ravenous wolves]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT in sheep's clothing
UST may look like they are part of God's people
(ἐν ἐνδύμασι προβάτων)

Here, the phrase sheep's clothing refers to disguising oneself to look like a sheep. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [disguising themselves as sheep] or [pretending to be sheep]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT ravenous wolves
UST really they want to hurt God's people
(λύκοι ἅρπαγες)

When wolves are ravenous, they want to capture and eat other animals, such as sheep. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [hungry wolves] or [wolves on the hunt]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
false prophets	people who lie when they claim to speak messages from God
sheep’s	may look like they are part of God’s people wolves	really they want to hurt God’s people

Matthew 7:16

ULT	UST
By their fruits you will recognize them. They do not gather grapes from a thornbush or figs from thistles, do they?	You can tell what people are really like by the things that they do. So, people are like plants in this way. A bush with thorns does not produce grapes. A thorny plant does not produce figs.

ULT By their fruits you will recognize them. They do not gather grapes from a thornbush or figs from thistles, do they

UST You can tell what people are really like by the things that they do. So, people are like plants in this way. A bush with thorns does not produce grapes. A thorny plant does not produce figs

(ἀπὸ τῶν καρπῶν αὐτῶν ἐπιγνώσεσθε αὐτούς. μήτι συλλέγουσιν ἀπὸ ἀκανθῶν σταφυλὰς, ἢ ἀπὸ τριβόλων σῦκα)

Here Jesus speaks of people as if they were plants that produced fruits. Just as thorny plants do not produce fruits, so evil people who do not trust God do not do what is right. Jesus uses this metaphor for several verses, so you should preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. Alternate translation: [You will know who people are by what they do, just as you know what plants are by their fruits. They do not gather grapes from a thornbush or figs from thistles, do they? Similarly, evil people do not do what is right, do they]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT By their fruits you will recognize them

UST You can tell what people are really like by the things that they do. So, people are like plants in this way

(ἀπὸ τῶν καρπῶν αὐτῶν ἐπιγνώσεσθε αὐτούς)

The pronouns their and them refer to any people, but particularly people like the “false prophets” Jesus mentioned in the previous verse. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer directly to the false prophets or to any people who claim to be believers. Alternate translation: [You will recognize the false prophets by their fruits] or [You will recognize anyone who claims to believe by his or her fruits]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They do not gather grapes from a thornbush or figs from thistles, do they UST A bush with thorns does not produce grapes. A thorny plant does not produce figs (μήτι συλλέγουσιν ἀπὸ ἀκανθῶν σταφυλὰς, ἢ ἀπὸ τριβόλων σῦκα)

Jesus is using the question form to show that grapes do not come from a thornbush and figs do not come from thistles. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [They do not gather grapes from a thornbush or figs from thistles.] or [No one gathers grapes from a thornbush or figs from thistles!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT They do not gather … do they
UST does not produce
(μήτι συλλέγουσιν)

The pronoun they refers to people in general. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use a form that refers to any person or group of people. Alternate translation: [People do not gather … do they]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT grapes from a thornbush or figs from thistles
UST A bush with thorns … grapes. A thorny plant does not produce figs (ἀπὸ ἀκανθῶν σταφυλὰς, ἢ ἀπὸ τριβόλων σῦκα)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the two phrases. Alternate translation: [grapes or figs from thorny plants] or [fruits from scrub plants]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT thistles
UST A thorny plant
(τριβόλων)

Here, the word thistles refers generally to plants that have points or spikes on their stems or leaves. These plants do not produce fruit. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of plant, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [spiky plants]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fruits	by the things that they do. So, people are like plants in this way you will recognize	You can tell what … are really like grapes	grapes
a thornbush	A bush with thorns
figs	does not produce figs

Matthew 7:17

ULT	UST
In the same way, every good tree produces good fruits, but the rotten tree produces bad fruits.	Similarly, all healthy fruit trees produce fruit that is good to eat. All unhealthy fruit trees produce fruit that is bad to eat.

ULT In the same way, every good tree produces good fruits, but the rotten tree produces bad fruits

UST Similarly, all healthy fruit trees produce fruit that is good to eat. All unhealthy fruit trees produce fruit that is bad to eat

(οὕτως πᾶν δένδρον ἀγαθὸν καρποὺς καλοὺς ποιεῖ; τὸ δὲ σαπρὸν δένδρον καρποὺς πονηροὺς ποιεῖ)

Here Jesus continues to speak of people as if they were plants that produced fruits. Just as a good tree produces good fruits, so people who follow God do what is right. Just as a rotten tree produces rotten fruits, so people who do not follow God do what is wrong. Jesus uses this metaphor for several verses, so you should preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. Alternate translation: [In the same way, every good tree produces good fruits, but the rotten tree produces bad fruits. Similarly, believers do what is right, but unbelievers do what is wrong]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT the rotten tree produces

UST All unhealthy fruit trees produce

(τὸ & σαπρὸν δένδρον & ποιεῖ)

The phrase the rotten tree represents rotten trees in general, not one particular rotten tree. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [rotten trees produce]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	healthy
good	that is good to eat
fruits	fruit
rotten	unhealthy
fruits	fruit

Matthew 7:18

ULT	UST
A good tree is not able to produce bad fruits, nor a rotten tree to produce good fruits.	Healthy fruit trees cannot produce fruit that is bad to eat. Unhealthy fruit trees cannot produce fruit that is good to eat.

ULT A good tree is not able to produce bad fruits, nor a rotten tree to produce good fruits
UST Healthy fruit trees cannot produce fruit that is bad to eat. Unhealthy fruit trees cannot produce fruit that is good to eat
(οὐ δύναται δένδρον ἀγαθὸν καρποὺς πονηροὺς ποιεῖν, οὐδὲ δένδρον σαπρὸν καρποὺς καλοὺς ποιεῖν)

Here Jesus continues to speak of people as if they were plants that produced fruits. Express the idea as you did in the previous verse 7:17. Alternate translation: [A good tree is not able to produce bad fruits, nor a rotten tree to produce good fruits. Similarly, believers do not do what is wrong, and unbelievers do not do what is right]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT nor a rotten tree
UST Unhealthy fruit trees cannot (οὐδὲ δένδρον σαπρὸν)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [nor is a rotten tree able]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	Healthy
fruits	fruit
rotten	Unhealthy
good	that is good to eat
fruits	fruit

Matthew 7:19

ULT	UST
Every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into a fire.	People chop down every tree that does not produce fruit that is good to eat. Then, they burn those trees {for fuel}. {In the same way, God will punish everyone who does not do what is right.}

ULT Every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into a fire
UST People chop down every tree that does not produce fruit that is good to eat. Then, they burn those trees {for fuel}. {In the same way, God will punish everyone who does not do what is right … }
(πᾶν δένδρον μὴ ποιοῦν καρπὸν καλὸν ἐκκόπτεται καὶ εἰς πῦρ βάλλεται)

Here Jesus continues to speak of people as if they were plants that produced fruit. Express the idea as you did in the previous verses 7:17–18. Alternate translation: [Every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into a fire. Similarly, every person who does not do what is right is judged and punished]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT Every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into a fire
UST People chop down every tree that does not produce fruit that is good to eat. Then, they burn those trees {for fuel}. {In the same way, God will punish everyone who does not do what is right … }
(πᾶν δένδρον μὴ ποιοῦν καρπὸν καλὸν ἐκκόπτεται καὶ εἰς πῦρ βάλλεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [They cut down every tree not producing good fruit and throw it into a fire]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT good fruit
UST fruit that is good to eat
(καρπὸν καλὸν)

In this verse, the word fruit is singular in form, but it refers to many fruits as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [good fruits]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	that is good to eat
fruit	fruit

Matthew 7:20

ULT	UST
So then, by their fruits you will recognize them.	Therefore, you can tell if a plant is healthy or unhealthy by what kind of fruit it produces. In the same way, you can tell what people are really like by the things that they do.

ULT So then
UST Therefore
(ἄρα γε)

Here, the phrase So then introduces the conclusion to what Jesus has been saying about trees, plants, and fruit. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a conclusion. Alternate translation: [In conclusion] or [As you can see]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT by their fruits you will recognize them
UST you can tell if a plant is healthy or unhealthy by what kind of fruit it produces. In the same way, you can tell what people are really like by the things that they do
(ἀπὸ τῶν καρπῶν αὐτῶν ἐπιγνώσεσθε αὐτούς)

Here Jesus continues to speak about people as if they were plants that produced fruits. In this verse, Jesus repeats the general principle he stated in 7:16, so you should express the idea as you did there. Alternate translation: [you will know who people are by what they do, just as you know what plants are by their fruits]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT by their fruits you will recognize them
UST you can tell if a plant is healthy or unhealthy by what kind of fruit it produces. In the same way, you can tell what people are really like by the things that they do
(ἀπὸ τῶν καρπῶν αὐτῶν ἐπιγνώσεσθε αὐτούς)

The pronouns their and them refer to any people, but particularly people like the “false prophets” Jesus mentioned in 7:15. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer directly to the false prophets or to any people who claim to be believers. Alternate translation: [you will recognize the false prophets by their fruits] or [you will recognize anyone who claims to believe by his or her fruits]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fruits	by what kind of fruit it produces … by the things that they do you will recognize	you can tell if … is healthy or unhealthy … In the same way, you can tell what … are really like

Matthew 7:21

ULT	UST
Not everyone saying to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter into the kingdom of the heavens, but the one doing the will of my Father in the heavens.	Just calling me your Lord is not enough for you to participate in God's heavenly kingdom. Rather, you need to do what God my Father, who rules from heaven, wants {you to do}.

ULT to me, 'Lord, Lord
UST me your Lord
(μοι, Κύριε, Κύριε)

Here Jesus could quote these people repeating the word Lord in order to: (1) express the urgency or earnestness of the address. Alternate translation: [to me, 'My Lord!]; (2) show that this address happens often. Alternate translation: [to me repeatedly, 'Lord]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT but the one doing
UST Rather, you need to do
(ἀλλ' ὁ ποιῶν)

Here Jesus means that the only people who enter into the kingdom of the heavens are those who do God's will. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [but only the one doing]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the one doing
UST you need to do
(ὁ ποιῶν)

The phrase the one doing represents anyone who does these things in general, not one particular person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [those who do]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT the will of my Father in the heavens
> UST what God my Father, who rules from heaven, wants {you to do}
> (τὸ θέλημα τοῦ Πατρός μου & ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of will, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what my Father in the heavens desires]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT of my Father
> UST God my Father
> (τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT in the heavens
> UST who rules from heaven
> (ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT in the heavens
> UST who rules from heaven
> (ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [in the heavens will enter into the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	your Lord
Lord	your Lord
of … heavens	heavenly
will of … Father	what God … Father … wants {you to do}
of … Father	God … Father

ULT	UST
heavens	who rules from heaven
kingdom of the heavens	God’s heavenly kingdom

Matthew 7:22

ULT	UST
Many will say to me in that day, ‘Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name cast out demons, and in your name do many mighty deeds?’	On the day when God will judge everyone, many people will tell me, ‘Our Lord, we represented you when we proclaimed what God says! We represented you when we drove evil spiritual beings out of people! We represented you when we did many powerful things!’

ULT Many
UST many people
(πολλοὶ)

Jesus is using the adjective many as a noun to mean many people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [many men and women]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT in that day
UST On the day when God will judge everyone
(ἐν ἐκείνῃ τῇ ἡμέρᾳ)

Here, the phrase that day refers to how God will judge everyone at the end of this time period. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [on the judgment day] or [when God is judging everyone]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT day, ‘Lord, Lord
UST On the day when God will judge everyone … Our Lord
(τῇ ἡμέρᾳ, Κύριε, Κύριε)

Here Jesus again quotes these people repeating the word Lord. Express the idea as you did in 7:21. Alternate translation: [day, ‘My Lord!] or [day repeatedly, ‘Lord]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name cast out demons, and in your name do many mighty deeds
UST we represented you when we proclaimed what God says! We represented you when we drove evil spiritual beings out of people! We represented you when we did many powerful things
(οὐ τῷ σῷ ὀνόματι ἐπροφητεύσαμεν, καὶ τῷ σῷ ὀνόματι δαιμόνια ἐξεβάλομεν, καὶ τῷ σῷ ὀνόματι δυνάμεις πολλὰς ἐποιήσαμεν)

The people speaking are using the question form to show that they did many good things for Jesus. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [we prophesied in your name, and in your name cast out demons, and in your name did many mighty deeds.] or [we prophesied in your name, and we cast out demons in your name, and we did many mighty deeds in your name!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT in your name … in your name … in your name
UST we represented you … We represented you … We represented you
(τῷ σῷ ὀνόματι & τῷ σῷ ὀνόματι & τῷ σῷ ὀνόματι)

Here, the word name refers primarily to the person who has that name, and it focuses especially on that person's authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [by your authority … by your authority … by your authority]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT your … your … your
UST we represented you … We represented you … We represented you (σῷ)

Since the speakers are talking to Jesus, the word your in this verse is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
day	On the day when God will judge everyone
Lord	Our Lord
Lord	Our Lord
did we … prophesy	when we proclaimed what God says cast out	when we drove … out of people demons	evil spiritual beings

ULT	UST
mighty deeds	powerful things

Matthew 7:23

ULT	UST
And then I will publicly declare to them, 'I never knew you! Go away from me, the ones practicing lawlessness!'	I will then respond to them, 'You were never part of my people. You do what is wrong. Leave me!'

ULT I never knew you
UST You were never part of my people
(οὐδέποτε ἔγνων ὑμᾶς)

Here Jesus speaks of his disciples as those whom he knows. When he says I never knew you, he means that the person addressed was never one of his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You have never been my disciples]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the ones practicing lawlessness
UST You do what is wrong
(οἱ ἐργαζόμενοι τὴν ἀνομίαν)

Here Jesus directly addresses those to whom he is speaking as ones practicing lawlessness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the direct address more explicit. Alternate translation: [you who practice lawlessness]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT lawlessness
UST what is wrong
(τὴν ἀνομίαν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of lawlessness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is lawless]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I will publicly declare	I will … respond
I … knew	were … part of my people practicing	You do
lawlessness	what is wrong

Matthew 7:24

ULT	UST
Therefore, everyone who hears these words of mine and does them will be compared to a wise man who built his house upon the rock.	So, all people who hear my teachings and obey them are acting as wise people who construct their homes on top of solid rock.

ULT Therefore
UST So
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces a conclusion that is based on what Jesus has said in 7:21–23 and perhaps also what he said in 7:15–20. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of conclusion, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [Because of all that] or [So then]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT these words of mine
UST my teachings
(μου τοὺς λόγους τούτους)

Here, the phrase these words of mine could refer to: (1) what Jesus has said in this section of Matthew, which began in 5:3. Alternate translation: [the words I have been speaking]; (2) what Jesus teaches in general. Alternate translation: [the words I speak]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT will be compared to a wise man who built his house upon the rock
UST are acting as wise people who construct their homes on top of solid rock (ὁμοιωθήσεται ἀνδρὶ φρονίμῳ, ὅστις ᾠκοδόμησεν αὐτοῦ τὴν οἰκίαν ἐπὶ τὴν πέτραν)

Jesus compares those who do what he has said to a person who builds his house on the rock, where it is secure and not easily knocked down. He means that people who do what he has said can be as confident about how God will judge them as the wise man is confident about the security of his house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this idea more explicitly. Alternate translation: [will be as sure about God's favor as a wise man is sure that his house, which he built upon the rock, is secure]

Support Reference: Simile

> ULT will be compared to
> UST are acting as > (ὁμοιωθήσεται)

Here Jesus uses the future tense to speak about something that is generally true. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever tense is most natural for expressing a general truth. Alternate translation: [is compared to]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT will be compared to
> UST are acting as
> (ὁμοιωθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the comparing, it is clear from the context that it is Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [I will compare to] or [is comparable to]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT a wise man … his
> UST wise people … their > (ἀνδρὶ φρονίμῳ & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a wise person … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT rock
> UST solid rock
> (πέτραν)

Here, the word rock means the bedrock below the topsoil and clay, not a large stone or boulder above the ground. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could express this idea more explicitly. Alternate translation: [bedrock] or [solid ground]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wise	wise

ULT	UST
house	homes

Matthew 7:25

ULT	UST
And the rain came down, and the floods came, and the winds blew and struck against that house, but it did not fall down, for it had been founded on the rock.	There may be heavy rain, and there may be floods, and there may be strong winds that buffet those homes. However, they will not collapse. That is because the wise people constructed them on top of solid rock.

ULT struck against that house
UST buffet those homes
(προσέπεσαν τῇ οἰκίᾳ ἐκείνῃ)

Here the winds strike against that house by blowing hard and stressing the house. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [stressed that house] or [strained the house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT it had been founded
UST the wise people constructed them (τεθεμελίωτο)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the wise man. Alternate translation: [the wise man had founded it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the rock
UST solid rock
(τὴν πέτραν)

Express the idea as you did in 7:25. Alternate translation: [the bedrock] or [the solid ground]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	homes
it had been founded	the wise people constructed them

Matthew 7:26

ULT	UST
But everyone hearing these words of mine and not doing them will be compared to a foolish man who built his house upon the sand.	However, all people who hear my teachings and do not obey them are like foolish people who construct their homes on top of shifting sand.

ULT these words of mine
UST my teachings
(μου τοὺς λόγους τούτους)

Here, just as in 7:24, the phrase these words of mine could refer to: (1) what Jesus has said in this section of Matthew, which began in 5:3. Alternate translation: [the words I have been speaking]; (2) what Jesus teaches in general. Alternate translation: [the words I speak]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT will be compared to a foolish man who built his house upon the sand
UST are like foolish people who construct their homes on top of shifting sand (ὁμοιωθήσεται ἀνδρὶ μωρῷ, ὅστις ᾠκοδόμησεν αὐτοῦ τὴν οἰκίαν ἐπὶ τὴν ἄμμον)

Jesus compares those who do not do as he instructed to a person who builds his houseupon the sand, where it is not secure and is easily knocked down. He means that people who do not do what he has said cannot be confident about how God will judge them, just as the foolish man cannot be confident about the security of his house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this idea more explicitly. Alternate translation: [will be as unsure about God's favor as a foolish man is unsure that his house, which he built upon the sand, is secure]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT will be compared to
UST are like
(ὁμοιωθήσεται)

Here, just as in 7:24, Jesus uses the future tense to speak about something that is generally true. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever tense is most natural for expressing a general truth. Alternate translation: [is compared to]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT will be compared to
UST are like
(ὁμοιωθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the comparing, it is clear from the context that it is Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [I will compare to] or [is comparable to]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT a foolish man … his UST foolish people … their (ἀνδρὶ μωρῷ & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a foolish person … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT upon the sand
UST on top of shifting sand
(ἐπὶ τὴν ἄμμον)

The word sand refers to very small pieces of rock that collect together, often on the edge of a body of water or in a desert. The sand constantly moves and shifts, and it is not a solid foundation on which to place anything. If your readers would not be familiar with sand, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [upon mud] or [upon what is not solid]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
foolish	foolish
house	homes

Matthew 7:27

ULT	UST
And the rain came down, and the floods came, and the winds blew and struck against that house, and it fell, and its destruction was great.”	There may be heavy rain, and there may be floods, and there may be strong winds that buffet those homes. Then, they will collapse completely.”

ULT struck against that house
UST buffet those homes
(προσέκοψαν τῇ οἰκίᾳ ἐκείνῃ)

Express the idea as you did in 7:25. Alternate translation: [stressed that house] or [strained the house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT its destruction was great
UST completely
(ἦν ἡ πτῶσις αὐτῆς μεγάλη)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of destruction, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [it was totally destroyed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	homes

Matthew 7:28

ULT	UST
And it happened that when Jesus finished speaking these words, the crowds were astonished at his teaching,	When Jesus finished teaching, the large groups of people {who had listened to him} felt amazed at the way he taught.

ULT And it happened that when Jesus finished speaking these words, the crowds were astonished at his teaching

UST When Jesus finished teaching, the large groups of people {who had listened to him} felt amazed at the way he taught

(καὶ ἐγένετο, ὅτε ἐτέλεσεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς τοὺς λόγους τούτους, ἐξεπλήσσοντο οἱ ὄχλοι ἐπὶ τῇ διδαχῇ αὐτοῦ)

This sentence marks the end of Jesus' sermon by describing how the people in the crowds reacted to Jesus' teaching. Use the natural form in your language for expressing the conclusion of a story. Alternate translation: [Then Jesus finished speaking these words. The crowds were astonished at his teaching]

Support Reference: End of Story

ULT at his teaching

UST at the way he taught

(ἐπὶ τῇ διδαχῇ αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of teaching, you could express the same idea in another way. Matthew could be focusing primarily on: (1) the way in which Jesus taught. Alternate translation: [at how he taught]; (2) what Jesus taught. Alternate translation: [at what he taught]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 7:29

ULT	UST
for he was teaching them as having authority, and not as their scribes.	{They felt amazed} because he did not teach as the teachers of the Jewish law did. Rather, he taught them like someone whom God had authorized to do so.

ULT for
UST {They felt amazed} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces the reason why "the crowds were astonished by his teaching" (7:28). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT having authority
UST someone whom God had authorized to do so (ἐξουσίαν ἔχων)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of authority, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [one having been authorized]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT not as their scribes
UST he did not teach as the teachers of the Jewish law did (οὐχ ὡς οἱ γραμματεῖς αὐτῶν)

Matthew is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [not as their scribes taught them]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
authority	someone whom God had authorized to do so scribes	the teachers of the Jewish law did

Matthew 8

Matthew 8 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus illustrates the kingdom of God through acts of healing (8:1–9:34)
    - Healing a leper (8:1–4)
    - Healing the centurion's servant (8:5–13)
    - Healing Peter's mother-in-law and many others (8:14–17)
    - The cost of following Jesus (8:18–22)
    - Calming the storm (8:23–27)
    - Casting demons out of two men (8:28–34)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Healings

In this chapter, Matthew narrates how Jesus heals a leper, the paralyzed servant of a centurion, Peter's mother who had a fever, and many other people who were sick. In every case where Matthew describes what happened, Jesus speaks words, or he touches the sick person, or he does both. These stories show how powerful Jesus is. He does not need to use medicine or magic to heal people. Instead, he can just command the sickness to go away or simply touch the person.

Casting out demons

Matthew clearly distinguishes sick people from people who are controlled by demons. Demons are evil spiritual beings who can control people. They usually use these people to hurt themselves or others. Matthew briefly mentions that Jesus drives demons out of people in 8:16. At the end of the chapter, he includes a longer story about how Jesus drives demons out of two men (8:28–34). The demons use the two men to speak, but they say what the demons want them to say. The demons know that Jesus is the Son of God, and they plead with Jesus not to punish them too much. Jesus agrees to do what they ask, but he is the one who is in charge. Again, the story shows how powerful Jesus is.

Feasting in the kingdom of heaven

In 8:11–12, Jesus speaks about how many people will feast with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of the heavens. However, some people who are expected to be part of the feast will be cast outside and punished. It is likely that Jesus is referring to a feast that will eventually happen, so do not express the idea as if it were a metaphor.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Rhetorical Questions

In 8:26 and 8:29, characters in the story use rhetorical questions. They ask these questions to make strong points, not because they are looking for information. If your language does not use questions in this way, you could include answers to the questions or you could express them as statements or exclamations. See the notes on these verses for translation options. (See: Rhetorical Question)

Singular and plural forms of “you”

Most of the forms of “you” in this chapter appear in dialogue between Jesus and other people. Because of this, most forms of “you” in this chapter are singular. You should assume forms of “you” are singular unless a note specifies that the form is plural. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular)

Matthew 8:1

ULT	UST
Now {when} he had come down from the mountain, large crowds followed him.	When Jesus went down from the hill, large groups of people went wherever he went.

ULT Now
UST When
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT the mountain
UST the hill
(τοῦ ὄρους)

Express this phrase as you did in 5:1. Alternate translation: [the high place] or [the small mountain]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

Matthew 8:2

ULT	UST
And behold, a leper, having approached, bowed before him, saying, "Lord, if you are willing, you are able to make me clean."	Then, a man who had a skin disease came and knelt before Jesus. He said to Jesus, "Lord, {please heal me!} I know that you are able to heal me if you are willing!"

ULT behold, a leper, having approached, bowed before
UST Then, a man who had a skin disease came and knelt before (ἰδοὺ, λεπρὸς προσελθὼν, προσεκύνει)

Matthew introduces a leper as a new character in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a new character. Alternate translation: [notice, there was a man who was a leper. Approaching Jesus, he bowed before]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT behold
UST Then
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [look] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT him
UST Jesus
(αὐτῷ)

The pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT you are able to make me clean
> UST I know that you are able to heal me
> (δύνασαί με καθαρίσαι)

The man is using this statement to make a request. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in request form. Alternate translation: [please make me clean]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

> ULT to make me clean
> UST to heal me
> (με καθαρίσαι)

The man talks about becoming clean ceremonially, but it is implicitly understood that he has become unclean because of his leprosy, so he is primarily asking Jesus to heal him of this disease. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea explicit. Alternate translation: [to heal my disease]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a leper	a man who had a skin disease
bowed before	knelt before
Lord	Lord, {please heal me … }

Matthew 8:3

ULT	UST
And having reached out his hand, he touched him, saying, "I am willing. Be clean." And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.	Then Jesus stretched out his hand and touched the man. He said, "I am willing {to heal you}, and I heal you now!" At that time, Jesus healed the man from his skin disease.

ULT having reached out his hand, he touched him
UST Jesus stretched out his hand and touched the man (ἐκτείνας τὴν χεῖρα, ἥψατο αὐτοῦ)

The pronouns his and he refer to Jesus. The pronoun him refers to the leper. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the people's names here. Alternate translation: [having reached out his hand, Jesus touched the leper]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT saying
UST He said
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT I am willing
UST I am willing {to heal you}
(θέλω)

Here Jesus implies that he is willing to cleanse or heal the man. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I am willing to cleanse you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT his leprosy was cleansed
> UST Jesus healed the man from his skin disease > (ἐκαθαρίσθη αὐτοῦ ἡ λέπρα)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [he was clean, with no leprosy] or [Jesus cleansed him of his leprosy]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
leprosy	from his skin disease

Matthew 8:4

ULT	UST
And Jesus says to him, "See that you tell no one, but go, show yourself to the priest and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony to them."	Then Jesus told him, "Do not tell anyone what just happened. Instead, go and show yourself to a priest {so that he can examine you and see that you no longer have the skin disease}. Also, present the offering that Moses required {for people whom God has healed from skin disease}. This will prove to the community {that you no longer have the skin disease}."

ULT says
UST told
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT you tell no one
UST not tell anyone what just happened
(μηδενὶ εἴπῃς)

The implication is that the man is not to tell anyone that Jesus healed him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [you tell no one that you have been healed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT show yourself to the priest
UST and show yourself to a priest {so that he can examine you and see that you no longer have the skin disease}
(σεαυτὸν, δεῖξον τῷ ἱερεῖ)

Jesus told the man to show himself to the priest so that the priest could look at his skin to see if his leprosy was really gone. The law of Moses required people to present themselves to the priest for inspection if they had been unclean but were now clean. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [ask to be inspected by the priest] or [let yourself be examined by the priest]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT offer the gift that Moses commanded
UST present the offering that Moses required {for people whom God has healed from skin disease}
(προσένεγκον τὸ δῶρον ὃ προσέταξεν Μωϋσῆς)

Jesus assumes that the man will know that the law required a person who had been healed from a skin disease to offer a specific gift. This made the person ceremonially clean, and they could participate once again in community religious activities. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [offer the gift that Moses commanded for making people clean again]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for a testimony to them
UST This will prove to the community {that you no longer have the skin disease}
(εἰς μαρτύριον αὐτοῖς)

Here Jesus means that the man should show himself to the priest and offer the gift to prove or provide testimony that he had been healed. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [for a testimony to them that you have been cleansed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for a testimony to them
UST This will prove to the community {that you no longer have the skin disease}
(εἰς μαρτύριον αὐτοῖς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of testimony, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [so that it testifies to them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to them
UST to the community
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them could refer to: (1) Jewish people in general. Alternate translation: [to people]; (2) the priests specifically. Alternate translation: [to the priests]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

ULT	UST
to the priest	to a priest
Moses	Moses
a testimony	This will prove … that you no longer have the skin disease

Matthew 8:5

ULT	UST
Now {when} he had entered into Capernaum, a centurion came to him, begging him	While Jesus was visiting the city of Capernaum, an important Roman officer came to him. He urged Jesus {to help him}.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Capernaum	the city of Capernaum
a centurion	an important Roman officer
begging	He urged … to help him

Matthew 8:6

ULT	UST
and saying, “Lord, my servant has been lying in the house paralyzed, being tormented terribly.”	He said, “Lord, one of my servants is lying in bed at my home because he cannot move. He is suffering very much. {Please help him.}”

ULT saying
UST He said
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [telling him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT paralyzed
UST because he cannot move
(παραλυτικός)

People who is paralyzed are not able to use or control some or all of their arms and legs because of injury or sickness. If your readers would not be familiar with this sickness, you could use the name of something like this in your language, or you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [and cannot move his limbs]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT being tormented terribly
UST He is suffering very much. {Please help him … }
(δεινῶς βασανιζόμενος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [suffering much] or [being greatly in pain]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT being tormented terribly
> UST He is suffering very much. {Please help him … }
> (δεινῶς βασανιζόμενος)

Here the centurion tells Jesus what is happening to his servant. He implies that he wants Jesus to heal the servant. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [being tormented terribly, so please help him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
servant	one of … servants
house	in bed at my home
being tormented	He is suffering

Matthew 8:7

ULT	UST
And he says to him, "I, {when} I have come, will heal him."	Jesus answered, "I will go {to your home} and cure him."

> ULT he says to him
> UST Jesus answered
> (λέγει αὐτῷ)

The pronoun he refers to Jesus, and the pronoun him refers to the centurion. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer directly to the people. Alternate translation: [Jesus says to the centurion]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT he says
> UST Jesus answered
> (λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT {when} I have come
> UST will go {to your home}
> (ἐλθὼν)

Here Jesus implies that he will come to the centurion's house. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when I have come to your house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT {when} I have come
> UST will go {to your home}
> (ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [when I have gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

Matthew 8:8

ULT	UST
And answering, the centurion said, "Lord, I am not worthy that you might enter under my roof, but only speak a word, and my servant will be healed.	The important officer responded, "Lord, I am not important enough for you to come into my house. Instead {of going to my house}, you can cure my servant just by speaking a command.

ULT you might enter under my roof
UST you to come into my house
(μου ὑπὸ τὴν στέγην εἰσέλθῃς)

The phrase enter under my roof means "come into my house." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you might personally visit me] or [you might enter into my house]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT only speak a word
UST just by speaking a command
(μόνον εἰπὲ λόγῳ)

Here, the centurion uses the command form to politely ask Jesus to speak a word. Use a form in your language that communicates this. Alternate translation: [please speak only a word]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT a word
UST a command
(λόγῳ)

Here the centurion means that Jesus can heal his servant by using a word of command, which is how Jesus healed the leper in 8:3. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that the centurion is referring to a single word of command. Alternate translation: [one order] or [a word of command]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT my servant will be healed
> UST you can cure my servant
> (ἰαθήσεται ὁ παῖς μου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is Jesus. Alternate translation: [you will heal my servant]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
centurion	The important officer
Lord	Lord
servant	servant

Matthew 8:9

ULT	UST
For I also am a man placed under authority, having soldiers under me, and I say to this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and to another one, 'Come,' and he comes; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does {it}."	{I know that you can do this} because I myself am a man who must obey the orders of my superiors. I also have soldiers who must obey my orders. When I say to one of them, 'Go there!' he goes there. When I say to another one, 'Come here!' he comes {to me}. When I say to my slave, 'Perform this task!' he does it."

ULT placed under authority
UST who must obey the orders of my superiors
(ὑπὸ ἐξουσίαν, τασσόμενος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [whom someone has placed under authority]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT under me
UST who must obey my orders
(ὑπ' ἐμαυτὸν)

Here the centurion speaks of those over whom he has authority as if they were under him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [under my authority] or [whom I command]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and I say to this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and to another one, 'Come,' and he comes; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does {it}
UST When I say to one of them, 'Go there!' he goes there. When I say to another one, 'Come here!' he comes {to me}. When I say to my slave, 'Perform this task!' he does it
(καὶ λέγω τούτῳ, πορεύθητι, καὶ πορεύεται, καὶ ἄλλῳ, ἔρχου, καὶ ἔρχεται, καὶ τῷ δούλῳ μου, ποίησον τοῦτο, καὶ ποιεῖ)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this sentence so that there are not quotations within a quotation. Alternate translation: [and I tell this one to go, and he goes, and I tell another one to come, and he comes, and I tell my servant to do something, and he does it]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT and to another one … and to my servant
UST When I say to another one … When I say to my slave (καὶ ἄλλῳ & καὶ τῷ δούλῳ μου)

The centurion is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from earlier in the sentence. Alternate translation: [and to another I say … and to my servant, I say]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
placed	who must obey the orders of my superiors authority	who must obey the orders of my superiors soldiers	soldiers
to … servant	When I say to … slave

Matthew 8:10

ULT	UST
But having heard this, Jesus was amazed and said to the ones following him, "Truly I say to you, I have found such great faith from no one in Israel.	What the officer said impressed Jesus. Jesus declared to the people who were with him, "I have not met any Israelite who trusts me as much as this man does! What I have said is true.

ULT was amazed
UST impressed
(ἐθαύμασεν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [marveled]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to you
UST What I have said is true
(ὑμῖν)

Here, the word you is plural because Jesus is speaking to everyone who follows him.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT I have found such great faith from no one in Israel
UST I have not met any Israelite who trusts me as much as this man does
(παρ' οὐδενὶ τοσαύτην πίστιν ἐν τῷ Ἰσραὴλ εὗρον)

Jesus implies that he expected Jewish people to have this kind of faith, but they did not. He did not expect Gentiles to have this kind of faith, yet this man did. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I have found no one in Israel, a people who should trust me, who trusts me as much as this Gentile does]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT I have found such great faith from no one in Israel
> UST I have not met any Israelite who trusts me as much as this man does
> (παρ᾽ οὐδενὶ τοσαύτην πίστιν ἐν τῷ Ἰσραὴλ εὗρον)

Many ancient manuscripts read I have found such great faith from no one in Israel. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "not even in Israel have I found such great faith." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT I have found
> UST I have … met
> (εὗρον)

Here, the word found represents experiencing or observing something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I have experienced] or [I have observed]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT such great faith from no one in Israel
> UST not … any Israelite who trusts me as much as this man does > (παρ᾽ οὐδενὶ τοσαύτην πίστιν ἐν τῷ Ἰσραὴλ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [no one in Israel who believes so much]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT in Israel
> UST Israelite
> (ἐν τῷ Ἰσραὴλ)

Here, the word Israel refers to the people who live in the country of Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [among the people of Israel]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Truly	What I have said is true

ULT	UST
faith	who trusts me
Israel	Israelite

Matthew 8:11

ULT	UST
But I tell you that many will come from east and west, and they will recline to eat with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of the heavens.	So, here is what I want to tell you: many people from every part of the world{, including many non-Jewish people,} will arrive in God's heavenly kingdom. They will feast along with {our Jewish ancestors,} Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

ULT But
UST So
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a development of what Jesus said in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT you
UST you
(ὑμῖν)

Here, the word you is plural because Jesus is speaking to everyone who follows him.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT many
UST many people
(πολλοὶ)

Jesus is using the adjective many as a noun to mean many people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [many men and women]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT from east and west
UST from every part of the world{, including many non-Jewish people … }
(ἀπὸ ἀνατολῶν καὶ δυσμῶν)

Here, Jesus is referring to every direction by naming the directions that are opposites: east and west. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from every direction]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT they will recline to eat
UST They will feast
(ἀνακλιθήσονται)

In Jesus' culture, people would usually recline, or lie on one side, when they were eating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the position in which people eat in your culture, or you could just refer to eating. Alternate translation: [they will sit down to eat] or [they will eat]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they will recline to eat
UST They will feast
(ἀνακλιθήσονται)

When Jesus speaks about eating while in the kingdom of the heavens, he could mean: (1) that one thing that people will do is feast together. In this case, Jesus is not using a metaphor. Alternate translation: [they will recline at the feast]; (2) that people will rejoice and be happy as if they were at a feast. In this case, Jesus is using a metaphor. Alternate translation: [they will rejoice]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob
UST along with {our Jewish ancestors,} Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (μετὰ Ἀβραὰμ, καὶ Ἰσαὰκ, καὶ Ἰακὼβ)

The words Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob are the names of the three most important ancestors of Jesus' people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, who are our important ancestors,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Abraham	Abraham
Isaac	Isaac
Jacob	Jacob
kingdom of the heavens	God’s heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 8:12

ULT	UST
But the sons of the kingdom will be thrown out into the outer darkness, where there will be weeping and grinding of the teeth."	However, God will cast out many people who think that they will participate in his kingdom. He will punish them in a dark place, where they will cry and sorrowfully grind their teeth."

ULT the sons of the kingdom will be thrown out
UST God will cast out many people who think that they will participate in his kingdom
(οἱ & υἱοὶ τῆς βασιλείας ἐκβληθήσονται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will throw the sons of the kingdom out]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the sons of the kingdom
UST many people who think that they will participate in his kingdom
(οἱ & υἱοὶ τῆς βασιλείας)

The expression the sons of the kingdom refers to people who would normally belong in the kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who would normally be part of the kingdom] or [those who expect to be in the kingdom]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the sons
UST many people who think that they will participate in his kingdom
(οἱ & υἱοὶ)

Although the term sons is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [the children]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT into the outer darkness
UST He will punish them in a dark place
(εἰς τὸ σκότος τὸ ἐξώτερον)

Here, the phrase the outer darkness refers to the place of punishment in contrast to the kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. If possible, preserve the idea of darkness. Alternate translation: [into the darkness of hell] or [into the dark place of punishment]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the outer darkness
UST He will punish them in a dark place
(τὸ σκότος τὸ ἐξώτερον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of darkness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the dark place outside]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT grinding of the teeth
UST sorrowfully grind their teeth
(ὁ βρυγμὸς τῶν ὀδόντων)

In Jesus' culture, people would grind their teeth when they experienced anger, grief, and pain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to an action with comparable meaning or state the meaning of this action plainly. Alternate translation: [beating of breasts] or [grinding of the teeth in anger and pain]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the kingdom	many people who think that they will participate in his kingdom will be thrown out	God will cast out

Matthew 8:13

ULT	UST
And Jesus said to the centurion, "Go! As you believed, let it be done for you." And the servant was healed at that hour.	Then, Jesus told the important officer, "Return home. I will do for you what you have trusted me to do." Jesus healed the servant at that exact time.

> ULT Go
> UST Return home
> (ὕπαγε)

Here Jesus implies that the centurion should return to his home. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Return to your house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT let it be done for you
> UST I will do for you
> (γενηθήτω σοι)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [let it happen to you] or [let God do it for you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT let it be done
> UST I will do
> (γενηθήτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [it will be done] or [I am doing it]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT the servant was healed
> UST Jesus healed the servant
> (ἰάθη ὁ παῖς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [Jesus healed the servant]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT at that hour
> UST at that exact time
> (ἐν τῇ ὥρᾳ ἐκείνῃ)

Here, the phrase at that hour indicates that the servant was healed when Jesus spoke these words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at that moment]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
to the centurion	the important officer
you believed	you have trusted me to do servant	the servant
hour	at that exact time

Matthew 8:14

ULT	UST
And {when} Jesus had come into the house of Peter, he saw his mother-in-law having been laid down and being sick with a fever.	After that, Jesus went to Peter's home. There, he saw that Peter's mother-in-law was lying in bed because she had a fever.

ULT {when} Jesus had come
UST Jesus went (ἐλθὼν ὁ Ἰησοῦς)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [when Jesus had gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT his
UST Peter's
(αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun his refers to Peter. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Peter's]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT mother-in-law
UST mother-in-law
(τὴν πενθερὰν)

The word mother-in-law refers to the mother of Peter's wife. In your translation, you could use the term or expression in your own language for this relationship.

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT having been laid down
UST was lying in bed
(βεβλημένην)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [lying down]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT being sick with a fever
> UST she had a fever
> (πυρέσσουσαν)

A fever is a symptom of an illness in which the temperature of the body temporarily increases. People with fevers feel sick and weak. If your reader would not be familiar with fevers, you could use a descriptive phrase. Alternate translation: [having a high body temperature] or [being ill with an elevated temperature]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
house	home
of Peter	Peter’s

Matthew 8:15

ULT	UST
And he touched her hand, and the fever left her, and she got up and began to serve him.	He touched her hand, and she recovered from the fever. Then she stood up and offered Jesus some food.

ULT the fever left her
UST she recovered from the fever
(ἀφῆκεν αὐτὴν ὁ πυρετός)

Matthew speaks of the fever as if it were a person that left her. He means that she was no longer sick with the fever. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [she was no longer sick with a fever] or [her fever was gone]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT began to serve him
UST offered Jesus some food
(διηκόνει αὐτῷ)

Matthew implies that she took food and offered it to Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [gave him food]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
began to serve	offered … some food

Matthew 8:16

ULT	UST
Now evening having come, they brought to him many being possessed by demons, and he cast out the spirits with a word and healed all the ones having sickness,	When it was evening, people brought to Jesus many men and women whom evil spiritual beings controlled. Jesus drove these evil spiritual beings out of those men and women just by speaking words. Also, he cured everyone who was sick.

> ULT Now
> (δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

> ULT they brought
> UST people brought > (προσήνεγκαν)

Here, the pronoun they refers to people in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers generally to people. Alternate translation: [other people brought]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT many being possessed by demons
> UST many men and women whom evil spiritual beings controlled > (δαιμονιζομένους πολλούς)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [many whom demons possessed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT many
UST many (πολλούς)

Matthew is using the adjective many as a noun to mean many people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [many people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the spirits
UST these evil spiritual beings
(τὰ πνεύματα)

Here, the word spirits refers to the same spiritual beings that Matthew referred to earlier in the verse as demons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the same term in both places or make it clear in another way that these are same beings. Alternate translation: [the demonic spirits]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT with a word
UST just by speaking words
(λόγῳ)

Matthew is using the term word to mean something spoken using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [by speaking to them]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the ones having sickness
UST who was sick
(τοὺς κακῶς ἔχοντας)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sickness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the sick people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
being possessed by demons	men and women whom evil spiritual beings controlled
he cast out	Jesus drove … out of those men and women

ULT	UST
spirits	these evil spiritual beings

Matthew 8:17

ULT	UST
so that might be fulfilled that which had been spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, “He himself took our sicknesses and bore our diseases.”	So, what God said by speaking through the prophet Isaiah came true: “When we were sick, he helped us. When we were ill, he cured us.”

ULT so that might be fulfilled
UST So … came true
(ὅπως πληρωθῇ)

Here, the phrase so that could introduce: (1) a result from Jesus casting out demons and healing people. Alternate translation: [with the result that would be fulfilled]; (2) a purpose for which Jesus cast out demons and healed people. Alternate translation: [in order that might be fulfilled]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT might be fulfilled
UST came true
(πληρωθῇ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [this might fulfill]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT that which had been spoken
UST what God said
(τὸ ῥηθὲν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [that which God spoke]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT saying
> (λέγοντος)

In Matthew's culture, saying was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Isaiah the prophet (see Isaiah 53:4). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in his book] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT He himself took our sicknesses and bore our diseases
> UST When we were sick, he helped us. When we were ill, he cured us
> (αὐτὸς τὰς ἀσθενείας ἡμῶν ἔλαβεν καὶ τὰς νόσους ἐβάστασεν)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [He himself took our sicknesses; indeed, he bore our diseases]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT He himself took our sicknesses and bore our diseases
> UST When we were sick, he helped us. When we were ill, he cured us
> (αὐτὸς τὰς ἀσθενείας ἡμῶν ἔλαβεν καὶ τὰς νόσους ἐβάστασεν)

Matthew could mean that Jesus: (1) removed sicknesses and healed diseases. Alternate translation: [He himself removed our sicknesses and healed our diseases]; (2) became sick and diseased himself to deal with people's sicknesses and diseases. Alternate translation: [He himself became sick in our place and became diseased in our place]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
might be fulfilled	came true
Isaiah	Isaiah
prophet	prophet
bore	he cured us

Matthew 8:18

ULT	UST
Now Jesus, having seen a crowdaround him, commanded to depart to the other side.	When Jesus saw that there was a large group of people around him, he told his apprentices to take him {by boat} to the other side of the Sea of Galilee.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Sometime later,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT having seen
UST When … saw
(ἰδὼν)

Here, the phrase having seen could introduce: (1) what happened before Jesus commanded his disciples. Alternate translation: [after he saw]; (2) the reason for which Jesus commanded his disciples. Alternate translation: [because he saw]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT a crowd
UST that there was a large group of people
(ὄχλον)

Many ancient manuscripts read a crowd. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “large crowds.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT commanded to depart to the other side
UST he told his apprentices to take him {by boat} to the other side of the Sea of Galilee
(ἐκέλευσεν ἀπελθεῖν εἰς τὸ πέραν)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [commanded, “Let us depart to the other side”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT commanded to depart
UST he told his apprentices to take him {by boat}
(ἐκέλευσεν ἀπελθεῖν)

Matthew implies that Jesus commanded the disciples to depart with him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [commanded his disciples to depart with him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to the other side
UST to the other side of the Sea of Galilee
(εἰς τὸ πέραν)

Here Jesus implies that he wants the disciples to depart with him to the other side of the Sea of Galilee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to the other side of the lake] or [to the opposite side of the Sea of Galilee]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 8:19

ULT	UST
And having approached, a scribe said to him, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go."	{Before they got into the boat}, a teacher of the Jewish law came up to Jesus and said to him, "My instructor, I want to go with you and be your apprentice."

ULT And having approached, a scribe
UST {Before they got into the boat}, a teacher of the Jewish law came up to Jesus
(καὶ προσελθὼν, εἷς γραμματεὺς)

Matthew implies that Jesus and the disciples have not yet gotten into a boat to cross over to the other side of the Sea of Galilee. He says that they get into the boat in 8:23. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit here. Alternate translation: [And before they departed to the other side, a scribe approached and]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT I will follow you wherever you go
UST I want to go with you and be your apprentice
(ἀκολουθήσω σοι ὅπου ἐὰν ἀπέρχῃ)

Here, the clause I will follow you indicates that the scribe wishes to travel with Jesus and be his disciple. The phrase wherever you go indicates that he wishes to be Jesus' disciple no matter what Jesus does or where he goes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will become your faithful disciple] or [I will travel with you as your student wherever you go]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
scribe	{Before they got into the boat}, a teacher of the Jewish law
Teacher	My instructor

Matthew 8:20

ULT	UST
And Jesus says to him, "The foxes have dens, and the birds of the sky, nests, but the Son of Man does not have {a place} where he might lay his head."	Jesus replied, "Foxes have holes in the ground to live in, and birds have nests to live in, but I, the Son of Man, do not have a home to sleep in!"

ULT says
UST replied
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT The foxes have dens, and the birds of the sky, nests
UST Foxes have holes in the ground to live in, and birds have nests to live in (αἱ ἀλώπεκες φωλεοὺς ἔχουσιν καὶ τὰ πετεινὰ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ κατασκηνώσεις)

Here, Jesus is referring to all animals by naming an animal that lives on land and an animal that flies in the air. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all animals have places to live]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT The foxes have dens
UST Foxes have holes in the ground to live in (αἱ ἀλώπεκες φωλεοὺς ἔχουσιν)

The word foxes describes land animals that are similar to small dogs. The word dens refers to how these animals dig holes in the ground as shelters. If your readers would not be familiar with this animal and its habits, you could describe them in general terms. Alternate translation: [Little animals live in holes in the ground]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the birds of the sky, nests
> UST birds have nests to live in > (τὰ πετεινὰ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ κατασκηνώσεις)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the birds of the sky have nests]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT the birds of the sky
> UST birds
> (τὰ πετεινὰ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe birds that fly in the sky. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the birds in the sky] or [the birds flying in the sky]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT the birds of the sky
> UST birds
> (τὰ πετεινὰ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ)

The expression of the sky contains extra information that would be unnatural to express in some languages. If this is true of your language, you could shorten the expression. Alternate translation: [the birds]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

> ULT but the Son of Man does not have {a place} where he might lay his head
> UST but I, the Son of Man, do not have a home to sleep in > (ὁ δὲ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου οὐκ ἔχει ποῦ τὴν κεφαλὴν κλίνῃ)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [but I, the Son of Man, do not have a place where I might lay my head]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT but the Son of Man
UST but I, the Son of Man
(ὁ δὲ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Jesus for the first time in Matthew uses the title Son of Man to refer to himself. He is using the title to refer to himself, a human, and also to implicitly identify himself with the important and powerful figure named "the son of man" in the Old Testament book of Daniel (see Daniel 7:13–14). See the book introduction for more information about this title. Consider how you might best translate this title here and throughout the rest of Matthew. Alternate translation: [but the Human One] or [but the one called Son of Man]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT does not have {a place} where he might lay his head
UST do not have a home to sleep in
(οὐκ ἔχει ποῦ τὴν κεφαλὴν κλίνῃ)

Jesus implies that if the scribe were to follow him, he too might not have a home. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [does not have a place where he might lay his head, so if you become his disciple, expect that you will not have such a place either]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT does not have {a place} where he might lay his head
UST do not have a home to sleep in
(οὐκ ἔχει ποῦ τὴν κεφαλὴν κλίνῃ)

Here, the phrase {a place} where he might lay his head refers to a place to sleep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [does not have a place where he might sleep] or [does not have a sleeping place]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT does not have {a place} where he might lay his head
UST do not have a home to sleep in
(οὐκ ἔχει ποῦ τὴν κεφαλὴν κλίνῃ)

Jesus actually did find places to sleep wherever he went to teach and heal, but he says that he has no such place at all to emphasize that he has no permanent home. Alternate translation: [does not have a permanent home]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
of the sky	birds
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man

Matthew 8:21

ULT	UST
Now another of the disciples said to him, "Lord, permit me first to go away and to bury my father."	A different person who was one of Jesus' apprentices said to him, "Lord, let me first go home and stay there until I bury my father. {Then I will go with you}."

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT permit me first to go away and to bury my father
UST let me first go home and stay there until I bury my father. {Then I will go with you}
(ἐπίτρεψόν μοι πρῶτον ἀπελθεῖν καὶ θάψαι τὸν πατέρα μου)

Here the disciple could be indicating that: (1) his father had not yet died, but he needed to help and support his father until he died and was buried. Alternate translation: [permit me first to go away and help my father until he dies and I bury him]; (2) his father had died very recently, and he needed to mourn and arrange the burial ceremonies. Alternate translation: [permit me first to go away and to bury my father who just died]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT first to go away and to bury my father
UST first go home and stay there until I bury my father. {Then I will go with you}
(πρῶτον ἀπελθεῖν καὶ θάψαι τὸν πατέρα μου)

Here the disciple means that he plans to bury his father before he travels with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to go away and to bury my father first before I go with you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the disciples	who was one of Jesus' apprentices
Lord	Lord

ULT	UST
to bury	stay there until I bury

Matthew 8:22

ULT	UST
But Jesus says to him, "Follow me, and let the dead bury their own dead."	Jesus responded, "Come with me and be my apprentice {now}. You cannot help anyone who has died."

ULT says
UST responded
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT let the dead bury their own dead
UST You cannot help anyone who has died
(ἄφες τοὺς νεκροὺς θάψαι τοὺς ἑαυτῶν νεκρούς)

Here, the phrase the dead could refer to: (1) people who have already died. In this case, Jesus is stating that dead people will take care of other dead people. What he means is that living people should not be concerned about those who have died. Alternate translation: [let the dead take care of themselves] or [do not concern yourself with the dead]; (2) people who are spiritually dead. In this case, Jesus is saying that only people who are spiritually dead should care more about burying their dead than following him. Alternate translation: [let the spiritually dead bury their own dead]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the dead … their own dead
UST You cannot help anyone who has died
(τοὺς νεκροὺς & τοὺς ἑαυτῶν νεκρούς)

Jesus is using the adjective dead as a noun to mean dead people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the dead humans … their own dead humans]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

ULT	UST
bury	You cannot help anyone who has died

Matthew 8:23

ULT	UST
And {when} he had gotten into a boat, his disciples followed him.	After that, Jesus got on the boat, and his apprentices went with him. {They started sailing to the other side of the Sea of Galilee.}

ULT {when} he had gotten into a boat, his disciples followed him
UST Jesus got on the boat, and his apprentices went with him. {They started sailing to the other side of the Sea of Galilee … }
(ἐμβάντι αὐτῷ εἰς πλοῖον, ἠκολούθησαν αὐτῷ οἱ μαθηταὶ αὐτοῦ)

Matthew implies that they started sailing across the Sea of Galilee, as Jesus had commanded in 8:18. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when he had entered into a boat, his disciples followed him into the boat, and they started to sail across the lake]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT his disciples followed him
UST and his apprentices went with him
(ἠκολούθησαν αὐτῷ οἱ μαθηταὶ αὐτοῦ)

Here, the word followed could indicate: (1) simply that the disciples went into the boat with Jesus. Alternate translation: [his disciples entered the boat with him]; (2) that the disciples went into the boat with Jesus since they were acting as his disciples or followers. Alternate translation: [his disciples went with him as his apprentices]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices

Matthew 8:24

ULT	UST
And behold, a great storm happened on the sea, so that the boat was covered by the waves. But he was sleeping.	{As they were sailing} a strong windstorm developed over the Sea of Galilee! Very high waves were splashing into the boat and filling it, but Jesus was asleep.

ULT behold
UST As they were sailing
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [look] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the boat was covered by the waves
UST Very high waves were splashing into the boat and filling it
(τὸ πλοῖον καλύπτεσθαι ὑπὸ τῶν κυμάτων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the waves covered the boat]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the boat was covered by the waves
UST Very high waves were splashing into the boat and filling it
(τὸ πλοῖον καλύπτεσθαι ὑπὸ τῶν κυμάτων)

The implication is that the storm was causing high waves that pushed water over the sides of the boat. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [the boat was filling up with water because of the waves]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT he
> UST Jesus
> (αὐτὸς)

The pronoun he refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sea	the Sea of Galilee

Matthew 8:25

ULT	UST
And having approached, they woke him, saying, "Lord, save us; we are perishing!"	So Jesus' apprentices came over to wake him up. They said to him, "Lord, please help us! We are all going to die!"

ULT they woke him
UST to wake him up
(ἤγειραν αὐτὸν)

The pronoun they refers to the disciples, and the pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the disciples woke Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT saying
UST They said to him
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation without the preceding comma: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT we are perishing
UST We are all going to die
(ἀπολλύμεθα)

Here, the word we includes both Jesus and the disciples. Your language may require you to mark this form.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord
save us	please help us
we are perishing	We are all going to die

Matthew 8:26

ULT	UST
And he says to them, "Why are you cowardly, you of little faith?" Then, having gotten up, he rebuked the winds and the sea, and a great calm happened.	Jesus answered, "You should not be so afraid. You should trust God more than you do!" Then he stood up. He scolded the wind and the water, and everything became calm.

ULT he says
UST Jesus answered
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Why are you cowardly, you of little faith
UST You should not be so afraid. You should trust God more than you do (τί δειλοί ἐστε, ὀλιγόπιστοι)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the disciples for being cowardly and for having little faith. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should not be cowardly, you of little faith.] or [Do not be cowardly, you of little faith!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT are you … you of little faith
UST You … be … You should trust God more than you do (ἐστε, ὀλιγόπιστοι)

Here, the word you is plural because Jesus is speaking to all the disciples who are in the boat with him.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT you of little faith
> UST You should trust God more than you do
> (ὀλιγόπιστοι)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you who believe so little]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT a great calm happened
> UST everything became calm
> (ἐγένετο γαλήνη μεγάλη)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of calm, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [they became very calm]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you of little faith	You should trust God more than you do
he rebuked	He scolded
sea	the water

Matthew 8:27

ULT	UST
But the men marveled, saying, "What sort of {man} is he, that even the winds and the sea obey him?"	{What happened} impressed the apprentices. They wondered, "What kind of person is Jesus? The wind and the water do what he says!"

ULT the men
UST the apprentices
(οἱ & ἄνθρωποι)

Here, the phrase the men refers to the disciples who are on the boat with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the disciples]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST They wondered
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT What sort of {man} is he, that even the winds and the sea obey him
UST What kind of person is Jesus? The wind and the water do what he says
(ποταπός ἐστιν οὗτος, ὅτι καὶ οἱ ἄνεμοι καὶ ἡ θάλασσα αὐτῷ ὑπακούουσιν)

If it would be helpful in your language, you could turn this into two sentences, one asking the question, and the other giving the reason for the question. Alternate translation: [What sort of man is he? Even the winds and the sea obey him!]

Support Reference: Information Structure

> ULT What sort of {man} is he, that even the winds and the sea obey him
> UST What kind of person is Jesus? The wind and the water do what he says
> (ποταπός ἐστιν οὗτος, ὅτι καὶ οἱ ἄνεμοι καὶ ἡ θάλασσα αὐτῷ ὑπακούουσιν)

This is a genuine question, not a statement in question form. The disciples are looking for information about what kind of person Jesus could be if he can do these things. Alternate translation: [What sort of person is this man, for even the winds and the sea obey him]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sea	water

Matthew 8:28

ULT	UST
And {when} he had come to the other side, to the region of the Gadarenes, two men met him, being possessed by demons, coming out of the tombs, very violent, so that no one was strong enough to pass through that road.	After that, they arrived on the other side {of the Sea of Galilee}, in the region where the Gadarene people lived. {When they landed}, two men whom demons controlled came up to Jesus. They came from the burial caves. They were strong and dangerous. Because of them, no one could travel on the road {that went near the burial caves}.

ULT he
UST they
(αὐτοῦ)

Here, the word he refers directly to Jesus, but Matthew implies that the disciples were with him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he and his disciples]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to the other side
UST on the other side {of the Sea of Galilee}
(εἰς τὸ πέραν)

Here, the phrase the other side refers to the side of the Sea of Galilee opposite to Capernaum, where Jesus and the disciples had started. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to the opposite side of the lake]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT of the Gadarenes
UST where the Gadarene people lived
(τῶν Γαδαρηνῶν)

The name Gadarenes refers to people from the town of Gadara.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT of the Gadarenes
UST where the Gadarene people lived
(τῶν Γαδαρηνῶν)

Many ancient manuscripts read Gadarenes. The ULT follows that reading. Some ancient manuscripts read "Gergesenes," and other ancient manuscripts read "Gerasenes." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT two men met him, being possessed by demons, coming out of the tombs, very violent, so that no one was strong enough to pass through that road
UST When they landed}, two men whom demons controlled came up to Jesus. They came from the burial caves. They were strong and dangerous. Because of them, no one could travel on the road {that went near the burial caves}
(ὑπήντησαν αὐτῷ δύο δαιμονιζόμενοι ἐκ τῶν μνημείων ἐξερχόμενοι, χαλεποὶ λείαν ὥστε μὴ ἰσχύειν τινὰ παρελθεῖν διὰ τῆς ὁδοῦ ἐκείνης)

Matthew provides background information that will help readers understand what happens next. Use a natural form in your language for introducing background information. Alternate translation: [two men met him. Now these men were possessed by demons, and they came out of the tombs. They were very violent, so that no one was strong enough to pass through that road]

Support Reference: Background Information

ULT being possessed by demons
UST whom demons controlled (δαιμονιζόμενοι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [whom demons had possessed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT coming out of the tombs
UST They came from the burial caves
(ἐκ τῶν μνημείων ἐξερχόμενοι)

Matthew implies that the two men live in the tombs and came from that area to meet Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [coming out of where they lived in the tombs]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT that road
UST on the road {that went near the burial caves}
(τῆς ὁδοῦ ἐκείνης)

Matthew implies that the road goes through or nearby the tombs. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the nearby road] or [the road near them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
being possessed by demons	whom demons controlled of the tombs	the burial caves

Matthew 8:29

ULT	UST
And behold, they cried out, saying, "What to us and to you, Son of God? Have you come here to torment us before the set time?"	They shouted to Jesus, "Leave us alone, you who are God's Son! You should not arrive to punish us before it is the time {that God has appointed}."

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [listen] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT saying
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT What to us and to you, Son of God
UST Leave us alone, you who are God's Son
(τί ἡμῖν καὶ σοί, Υἱὲ τοῦ Θεοῦ)

The two men are using the question form to insist on something urgently. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [There is nothing to us and to you, Son of God!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT What to us and to you
UST Leave us alone
(τί ἡμῖν καὶ σοί)

Here, the question What to us and to you asks whether you and us have anything in common or have any reason to be together. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [What do you and we have in common] or [What reason do you have to get involved with us]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Son of God
UST you who are God's Son
(Υἱὲ τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Son of God is an important title for Jesus that describes his relationship with God the Father.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT Have you come here to torment us before the set time
UST You should not arrive to punish us before it is the time {that God has appointed}
(ἦλθες ὧδε πρὸ καιροῦ βασανίσαι ἡμᾶς)

The men are using the question form to confront Jesus about why he has come to their area. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [It is not yet the set time for you to come here to torment us.] or [Surely you have not come here to torment us before the set time!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT before the set time
UST before it is the time {that God has appointed} (πρὸ καιροῦ)

Here, the phrase the set time refers to the time when God will judge all evil spirits and people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [before the time when God will judge everyone] or [before the time that God has chosen for judgment]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they cried out	They shouted to Jesus
Son of God	you who are God's Son

ULT	UST
to torment	to punish
the set time	it is the time {that God has appointed}

Matthew 8:30

ULT	UST
Now a herd of many pigs was feeding at a distance from them.	Now there was a large herd of pigs grazing relatively far away from them.

ULT Now
UST Now
(δὲ)

Matthew uses the word Now to introduce background information that will help readers understand what happens next. It does not introduce another event in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing background information. Alternate translation: [Meanwhile,] or [At the same time,]

Support Reference: Background Information

ULT at a distance from them
UST relatively far away from them
(μακρὰν ἀπ᾽ αὐτῶν)

Here, the phrase at a distance from them indicates that the pigs were far away from Jesus and the two men, but they could still be seen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [off in the distance] or [far away from them but still visible]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of … pigs	of pigs

Matthew 8:31

ULT	UST
But the demons were begging him, saying, "If you cast us out, send us away into the herd of the pigs."	The demons pleaded with Jesus, "When you drive us out {of these two men}, please allow us to control that herd of pigs!"

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next part of the story. It does not introduce a contrast with the pigs grazing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next part of a story, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [So,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT saying
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT If you cast us out
UST When you drive us out {of these two men}
(εἰ ἐκβάλλεις ἡμᾶς)

Although the demons speak as if this were a hypothetical situation, they are relatively sure that Jesus is going to cast them out. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, and if your readers might think that what the demons are saying is uncertain, then you could translate their words as an affirmative statement. Alternate translation: [When you cast us out] or [After you cast us out]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

ULT us
UST us
(ἡμᾶς)

Here, the word us refers only to the demons, not to Jesus or any of his disciples. Your language may require you to mark this form.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

ULT send us away
UST please allow us
(ἀπόστειλον ἡμᾶς)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [we ask that you send us away]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT into the herd of the pigs
UST to control that herd of pigs
(εἰς τὴν ἀγέλην τῶν χοίρων)

Here the demons speak of wanting to go into the herd of the pigs. They mean that they want to enter and control the pigs. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [into the herd of the pigs so that we can possess them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
demons	demons
were begging	pleaded with you cast … out	you drive … out {of these two men} of the pigs	of pigs

Matthew 8:32

ULT	UST
And he said to them, "Go!" And they, having come out, went away into the pigs; and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep slope into the sea, and they died in the water.	Jesus answered, "I will allow that!" So, the demons left the men and began to control the pigs. Then, the whole herd of pigs rushed down the steep bank into the Sea of Galilee! They died there in the sea.

ULT Go
UST I will allow that (ὑπάγετε)

Here, the command is plural because Jesus is speaking to all the demons.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT having come out
UST the demons left the men
(ἐξελθόντες)

Matthew implies that they came out of the two men. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having come out of the two men]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT into the pigs
UST and began to control the pigs
(εἰς τοὺς χοίρους)

Here, much as in 8:31, the demons go into the pigs. This means that they enter and control the pigs. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [into the pigs to possess them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [look] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT they died
> UST They died
> (ἀπέθανον)

The pronoun they refers to the pigs. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer more directly to the pigs. Alternate translation: [the pigs died]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
pigs	pigs
sea	Sea of Galilee
they died	They died

Matthew 8:33

ULT	UST
Now the ones feeding them ran away and, having gone away to the city, they reported everything, and the {things concerning} the ones possessed by demons.	Then those who were taking care of the pigs ran away. They went to the nearby town, where they told people about everything that had happened, including what had happened to the men whom the demons had controlled.

ULT Now
UST Then
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the ones feeding them
UST those who were taking care of the pigs
(οἱ & βόσκοντες)

Matthew refers to the people who were taking care of the pigs. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the ones who were herding the pigs]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the city
UST the nearby town
(τὴν πόλιν)

Here, the city is the town of Gadara, which Matthew already referred to indirectly in 8:28. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the city of Gadara]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and
UST including
(καὶ)

Here, the word and could introduce: (1) one of the specific things that they reported. Alternate translation: [especially]; (2) another thing that they reported. Alternate translation: [and also]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the ones possessed by demons
UST to the men whom the demons had controlled (τῶν δαιμονιζομένων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the ones whom the demons had possessed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they reported	where they told people
possessed by demons	to the men whom the demons had controlled

Matthew 8:34

ULT	UST
And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus. And having seen him, they begged him that he would depart from their region.	Then many people who lived in that town went to see Jesus! When they met him, they pleaded with him to leave their area.

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [look] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the whole city
UST many people who lived in that town
(πᾶσα ἡ πόλις)

Matthew says whole here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [most of the city]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT the whole city
UST many people who lived in that town
(πᾶσα ἡ πόλις)

Here, the phrase the whole city represents most of the people who lived in the city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [most of the people from the city]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT they begged him that he would depart from their region
> UST they pleaded with him to leave their area
> (παρεκάλεσαν ὅπως μεταβῇ ἀπὸ τῶν ὁρίων αὐτῶν)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [they begged, “Please depart from our region”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
they begged him	they pleaded with him

Matthew 9

Matthew 9 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus illustrates the kingdom of God through acts of healing (8:1–9:34)
    - Healing a paralytic (9:1–8)
    - Calling Matthew and eating with sinners (9:9–13)
    - Jesus brings something new (9:14–17)
    - Healing a woman and resurrecting a girl (9:18–26)
    - Healing two blind men (9:27–31)
    - Casting a demon out of a mute man (9:32–34)
2. Jesus teaches about mission and the kingdom (9:35–10:42)
    - More laborers for the harvest (9:35–38)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Healings

In this chapter, Matthew narrates how Jesus heals a paralyzed man, a woman with a disease that caused bleeding, two blind men, and many other people who were sick. In every case where Matthew describes what happened, Jesus speaks words, or he touches the sick person, or he does both. These stories show how powerful Jesus is. He does not need to use medicine or magic to heal people. Instead, he can just command the sickness to go away or simply touch the person.

Casting out demons

Matthew clearly distinguishes sick people from people who are controlled by demons. Demons are evil spiritual beings who can control people. They usually use these people to hurt themselves or others. In 9:32–34, Matthew briefly describes how Jesus drove out a demon who caused the man it controlled to be mute, that is, unable to speak. In response, both the crowds and the Pharisees realize that Jesus is powerful.

Resurrecting the dead

In 9:18–19 and 9:23–26, Matthew narrates how Jesus raised a girl from the dead. While Jesus describes her as only "sleeping," he uses this word to indicate that the girl will "wake up" from being dead. The story clearly indicates that the girl had died and that Jesus raises her from the dead by touching her.

"Sinners"

When Matthew uses the word "sinners," he is describing a group of people whom many Jewish religious groups would have considered to be living in ways that were improper for those who were part of God's people. Some of these people may have committed significant sins, while others may have disagreed with many of the Jewish religious groups about how Jews could properly behave. If possible, use a word or phrase that identifies people who are not living as many religious groups think that people should live. (See: sin, sinful, sinner, sinning)

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The short parables in 9:15–17

In these verses, Jesus gives three short parables that describe how certain things do not go well together. Fasting does not happen during a wedding celebration. An unshrunk piece of cloth does not make a good patch for an old garment. Old wineskins do not make a good container for fresh wine that still needs to ferment. Jesus tells these parables to illustrate how his ministry and preaching do not match well with how people had previously done things. In other words, Jesus wants people to expect what he does to be new, and this may require thinking and doing many new things. You should preserve these parables, since they are not direct metaphors. If necessary, you could introduce them in such a way that your readers recognize that they are parables or illustrations. See the notes on each verse for possible translation options. (See: Parables)

The harvest metaphor

In 9:37–38, Jesus speaks of people who will believe as if they were a harvest of grain, and he speaks of those who preach the gospel as the laborers who work to harvest the grain. Just as when there is a large harvest but only a few laborers, so there are many people who will believe, but only a few people who are preaching the gospel. If possible, preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. See the notes on these verses for translation options. (See: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors)

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Most of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in dialogue between Jesus and other people. Because of this, most forms of "you" in this chapter are singular. You should assume forms of "you" are singular unless a note specifies that the form is plural. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 9:1

ULT	UST
And having gotten into a boat, he crossed over and came to his own city.	After that, Jesus and his apprentices got into a boat. They sailed across the Sea of Galilee and arrived back in the city of Capernaum, where Jesus was living.

ULT he crossed over
UST They sailed across the Sea of Galilee
(διεπέρασεν)

Matthew implies that Jesus crossed over the Sea of Galilee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he crossed over the lake]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he crossed over
UST They sailed across the Sea of Galilee
(διεπέρασεν)

Here, the word he refers directly to Jesus, but Matthew implies that the disciples were with him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he and his disciples crossed over]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT came
UST arrived back
(ἦλθεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “went” instead of came. Alternate translation: [went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT his own city
> UST the city of Capernaum, where Jesus was living > (τὴν ἰδίαν πόλιν)

Here, the phrase his own city refers to the city in which Jesus was living, which was Capernaum. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the city where he was living] or [Capernaum, his own city]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 9:2

ULT	UST
And behold, they were bringing to him a paralytic lying on a mat. And Jesus, having seen their faith, said to the paralytic, "Child, have courage. Your sins are forgiven."	Some people brought to Jesus a man who could not move! He was lying on a sleeping pad. Jesus perceived that these people believed {that he could heal the man}. So, he said to the man who could not move, "Do not worry, young man. I forgive you for your sins!"

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [see] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they were bringing … their
UST Some people brought … these people
(προσέφερον & αὐτῶν)

Here, the pronouns they and their refer to the people who brought the paralytic to Jesus. Matthew does not give us any more information about who they were. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that refers to specific people who are not named. Alternate translation: [certain people were bringing … these people's]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT a paralytic … to the paralytic
UST a man who could not move … to the man who could not move (παραλυτικὸν & τῷ παραλυτικῷ)

The word paralytic describes people who are not able to use or control some or all of their arms and legs because of injury or sickness. See how you translated paralytic in 4:24. Alternate translation: [a paralyzed person … to the paralyzed person] or [a person who could not move his limbs … to the person who could not move his limbs]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT a mat
UST a sleeping pad
(κλίνης)

A mat was a portable bed that could also be used to transport a person. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of bed, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a stretcher]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT having seen their faith
UST perceived that these people believed {that he could heal the man}
(ἰδὼν & τὴν πίστιν αὐτῶν)

Matthew implies that Jesus recognized that the friends of this paralyzed man strongly believed that he, Jesus could heal their friend. Their actions proved that. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [having recognized that they were convinced that he could heal the paralytic]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT their faith
UST that these people believed {that he could heal the man}
(τὴν πίστιν αὐτῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how they trusted]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Child
UST young man
(τέκνον)

Here Jesus calls the paralytic Child to indicate that he cares for him. The word also implies that the paralytic was younger than Jesus. The paralytic was not actually Jesus' son. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form of address that an older person would use to show that they care for a younger person. Alternate translation: [My friend] or [Young one]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT have courage
UST Do not worry
(θάρσει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of courage, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [be courageous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT Your sins are forgiven
UST I forgive you for your sins
(ἀφίενταί σου αἱ ἁμαρτίαι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is Jesus. Alternate translation: [I forgive your sins]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
faith	that … believed {that he could heal the man} have courage	Do not worry sins	you for your sins
are forgiven	I forgive

Matthew 9:3

ULT	UST
And behold, some of the scribes said among themselves, "This one blasphemes."	Some teachers of the Jewish law thought to themselves, "He is insulting God!"

ULT behold
(ἰδού)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [it happened] or [immediately]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT among themselves
UST to themselves
(ἐν ἑαυτοῖς)

Here, the phrase among themselves could mean that: (1) the scribes said these words to themselves, not out loud. Alternate translation: [in themselves] or [to themselves]; (2) the scribes said these words quietly to other scribes. Alternate translation: [to each other]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT This one
UST He
(οὗτος)

Here the scribes refer to Jesus by using the phrase This one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the reference more explicit. Alternate translation: [This man] or [This Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the scribes	teachers of the Jewish law
blasphemes	is insulting God

Matthew 9:4

ULT	UST
And Jesus, having seen their thoughts, said, "For what reason do you think evil in your hearts?	Jesus realized what they were thinking. He said, "You should not be thinking what is wrong!

ULT having seen their thoughts
UST realized what they were thinking
(ἰδὼν & τὰς ἐνθυμήσεις αὐτῶν)

Matthew speaks as if Jesus could see people's thoughts. He means that Jesus knew what they were thinking, even though they did not say it out loud. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [having known their thoughts] or [having perceived their thoughts]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT For what reason do you think evil in your hearts
UST You should not be thinking what is wrong
(ἵνα τί ἐνθυμεῖσθε πονηρὰ ἐν ταῖς καρδίαις ὑμῶν)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the scribes. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should not think evil in your hearts.] or [Do not think evil in your hearts!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT do you think … your
UST You … be thinking
(ἐνθυμεῖσθε & ὑμῶν)

Here, the words you and you are plural because Jesus is speaking to the scribes.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT evil
UST what is wrong
(πονηρὰ)

Jesus is using the adjective evil as a noun to mean evil thoughts. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [evil thoughts]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT in your hearts
UST You … be thinking
(ἐν ταῖς καρδίαις ὑμῶν)

In Matthew's culture, hearts are the places where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the places where humans think and feel in your culture or by expressing the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [in your heads] or [in your minds]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
evil	what is wrong

Matthew 9:5

ULT	UST
For which is easier, to say, 'Your sins have been forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up and walk'?	You may think that it is easy to claim to forgive other people for their sins{, since it is difficult to prove whether this has happened}. Similarly, you may think that it is difficult to tell {someone who cannot move} to stand up and walk around{, since it is easy to prove whether this has happened}.

ULT For
(γάρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why the scribes should not be thinking evil in their hearts (9:4). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [In fact,] or [I say that because]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT which is easier, to say, 'Your sins have been forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up and walk
UST You may think that it is easy to claim to forgive other people for their sins{, since it is difficult to prove whether this has happened}. Similarly, you may think that it is difficult to tell {someone who cannot move} to stand up and walk around{, since it is easy to prove whether this has happened}
(τί & ἐστιν εὐκοπώτερον εἰπεῖν, ἀφέωνται σου αἱ ἁμαρτίαι, ἢ εἰπεῖν, ἔγειρε καὶ περιπάτει)

Jesus is using the question form to show the scribes which of these things is easier to say. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. He could mean: (1) that saying 'Your sins have been forgiven' is easier than saying 'Get up and walk'. This is because it is easy to show that someone is lying when they fail to heal a paralytic, but it is not easy to show that someone is lying when they claim to forgive sins. Alternate translation: [it is easier to say, 'Your sins have been forgiven,' than to say, 'Get up and walk.]; (2) that both things are equally easy to say. Alternate translation: [saying 'Your sins have been forgiven' is just as easy as saying, 'Get up and walk.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT to say, ‘Your sins have been forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Get up and walk
> UST to claim to forgive other people for their sins … Similarly, you may think that it is difficult to tell {someone who cannot move} to stand up and walk around{, since it is easy to prove whether this has happened}
> (εἰπεῖν, ἀφέωνται σου αἱ ἁμαρτίαι, ἢ εἰπεῖν, ἔγειρε καὶ περιπάτει)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this sentence so that there are no quotations within a quotation. Alternate translation: [to say that a person’s sins have been forgiven or to tell a person to get up and walk]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

> ULT Your sins have been forgiven
> UST to forgive other people for their sins
> (ἀφέωνται σου αἱ ἁμαρτίαι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is the person speaking. Alternate translation: [I have forgiven your sins]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sins	other people for their sins
have been forgiven	to forgive

Matthew 9:6

ULT	UST
But in order that you might know that the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins,”—he then says to the paralytic—“Getting up, pick up your mat, and go to your house.”	However, I want you to know that God has authorized me, the Son of Man, to forgive people on earth for their sins.” So, he said to the man who could not move, “Stand up, carry your sleeping pad, and go home!”

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a slight contrast with the comparison in the previous verse. Jesus now shows that he will both forgive and heal the paralytic. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a slight contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [But now,] or [Leaving that aside,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT in order that you might know that the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins,”—he then says to the paralytic—“Getting up
UST I want you to know that God has authorized me, the Son of Man, to forgive people on earth for their sins.” So, he said to the man who could not move, “Stand up
(ἵνα & εἰδῆτε ὅτι ἐξουσίαν ἔχει ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς ἀφιέναι ἁμαρτίας (τότε λέγει τῷ παραλυτικῷ), ἐγερθεὶς)

Here, the phrase in order that introduces the purpose for which Jesus says to the paralytic the commands that he gives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that provides the stated purpose for which a person performs an action. Alternate translation: [here is what I will do so that you might know that the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins.” Then, he says to the paralytic, “Getting up]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT you might know … your … your
UST you to know … your … home
(εἰδῆτε & σου & σου)

Here, the you is plural and is addressed to the scribes, but both instances of your are singular and are addressed to the paralytic.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT the Son of Man has
UST God has authorized me, the Son of Man
(ἔχει ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, the Son of Man, have]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT has authority
UST God has authorized
(ἐξουσίαν ἔχει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of authority, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [has been authorized]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to the paralytic
UST to the man who could not move
(τῷ παραλυτικῷ)

The word paralytic describes people who are not able to use or control some or all of their arms and legs because of injury or sickness. See how you translated paralytic in 9:2. Alternate translation: [to the paralyzed person] or [to the person who could not move his limbs]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT mat
UST sleeping pad
(τὴν κλίνην)

A mat was a portable bed that could also be used to transport a person. See how you translated this word in 9:2. Alternate translation: [stretcher]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you might know	you to know
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man authority	God has authorized earth	people on earth
to forgive	to forgive
sins	for their sins

ULT	UST
house	home

Matthew 9:7

ULT	UST
And having gotten up, he went away to his house.	Then, the man stood up and went home.

> ULT having gotten up, he went away
> UST the man stood up and went > (ἐγερθεὶς, ἀπῆλθεν)

The implication is that the man was able to get up because Jesus had healed him. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [having been healed, he got up and went away]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	home

Matthew 9:8

ULT	UST
Now {when} the crowds had seen this, they were afraidand glorified God, having given such authority to men.	Once the large groups of people {who were near Jesus} saw what had happened, they felt afraid. Also, they praised God for enabling people to do such amazing things.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next action in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next action, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT {when} the crowds had seen this
UST Once the large groups of people {who were near Jesus} saw what had happened (ἰδόντες & οἱ ὄχλοι)

Here, the word this refers to how Jesus had healed the paralytic man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [when the crowds had seen Jesus heal the man]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they were afraid
UST they felt afraid
(ἐφοβήθησαν)

Many ancient manuscripts read they were afraid. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “they marveled.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT having given such authority to men
> UST for enabling people to do such amazing things
> (τὸν δόντα ἐξουσίαν τοιαύτην τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Here this phrase further describes God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the relationship more explicit. Alternate translation: [who has given such authority to men] or [the one having given such authority to men]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having given such authority to men
> UST for enabling people to do such amazing things
> (τὸν δόντα ἐξουσίαν τοιαύτην τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of authority, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [having authorized men to do such things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT to men
> UST people
> (τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Although the term men is masculine, Matthew is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [to humans]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they were afraid	they felt afraid
glorified	they praised
God	God
authority	to do such amazing things

Matthew 9:9

ULT	UST
And Jesus, passing on from there, saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax collector's office, and he says to him, "Follow me." And having gotten up, he followed him.	As Jesus was walking away from that place, he noticed a man whom people called Matthew. Matthew was sitting in the booth {where the people came to pay him the taxes that the government required}. Jesus said to him, "Come with me and be my apprentice!" So Matthew stood up and went with him as his apprentice.

ULT from there
UST away from that place
(ἐκεῖθεν)

Here, the word there refers to the place where Jesus healed the paralytic man. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from where he healed the man]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax collector's office
UST he noticed a man whom people called Matthew. Matthew was sitting in the booth {where the people came to pay him the taxes that the government required}
(εἶδεν ἄνθρωπον καθήμενον ἐπὶ τὸ τελώνιον Ματθαῖον λεγόμενον)

Matthew introduces a tax collector named Matthew as a new character in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a new character. Alternate translation: [saw a man whose name was Matthew. Matthew was sitting at the tax collection office]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT named Matthew
UST whom people called Matthew (Ματθαῖον λεγόμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [who had the name Matthew]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT sitting at the tax collector's office
UST Matthew was sitting in the booth {where the people came to pay him the taxes that the government required}
(καθήμενον ἐπὶ τὸ τελώνιον)

Here we learn that Matthew worked as a tax collector. He would sit at the tax collection office and make sure that people paid their taxes to the Roman empire, who had control over this area. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who worked to collect taxes for the Romans at the tax collection office]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he says to him
UST Jesus said to him
(λέγει αὐτῷ)

Here, the pronoun he refers to Jesus, and the pronoun him refers to Matthew. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the people's names here. Alternate translation: [Jesus says to Matthew]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he says
UST Jesus said
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT he followed him
UST and went with him as his apprentice
(ἠκολούθησεν αὐτῷ)

Here, the pronoun he refers to Matthew, and the pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the people's names here. Alternate translation: [Matthew followed Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

ULT	UST
Matthew	Matthew
tax collector’s office	in the booth {where the people came to pay him the taxes that the government required}

Matthew 9:10

ULT	UST
And it happened that he was reclining to eat in the house, and behold, many tax collectors and sinners, having come, were dining with Jesus and his disciples.	Later, Jesus was feasting in Matthew's home. Many people who collected taxes and other sinful people arrived! They feasted with Jesus and his apprentices.

> ULT And it happened that
> UST Later
> (καὶ ἐγένετο)

Here, the phrase And it happened that introduces something that happened soon after what Matthew previously narrated. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an event that came soon after the previous event. Alternate translation: [Soon after that,]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT was reclining to eat
> UST was feasting
> (ἀνακειμένου)

In Jesus' culture, people would usually recline, or lie on one side, when they were eating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the position in which people eat in your culture, or you could just refer to eating. Alternate translation: [was sitting down to eat] or [was eating]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the house
> UST Matthew's home
> (τῇ οἰκίᾳ)

Here it is implied that this is Matthew's house. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Matthew's house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [as it happened] or [notice]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	Matthew's home
tax collectors	people who collected taxes
sinners	other sinful people
Jesus	with Jesus
disciples	apprentices

Matthew 9:11

ULT	UST
And the Pharisees, having seen this, were saying to his disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?"	When the Pharisees saw {what Jesus was doing}, they told Jesus' apprentices, "Your instructor should not be feasting with people who collect taxes and other sinful people."

ULT having seen this
UST When … saw {what Jesus was doing} (ἰδόντες)

Here, the word this refers to how Jesus was feasting with tax collectors and sinners. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [having seen that Jesus was feasting in this way]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT his
UST Jesus
(αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun his refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus']

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners
UST Your instructor should not be feasting with people who collect taxes and other sinful people
(διὰ τί μετὰ τῶν τελωνῶν καὶ ἁμαρτωλῶν ἐσθίει ὁ διδάσκαλος ὑμῶν)

The Pharisees are using the question form to criticize what Jesus is doing. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Your teacher has no reason to eat with tax collectors and sinners.] or [Your teacher should not eat with tax collectors and sinners!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT your
> UST Your
> (ὑμῶν)

Here, the word you is plural because the Pharisees are speaking to Jesus' disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	Pharisees
to … disciples	apprentices
teacher	instructor
tax collectors	people who collect taxes
sinners	other sinful people

Matthew 9:12

ULT	UST
But he, having heard this, said, "The ones being healthy do not have need of a physician, but the ones having sickness.	Jesus learned what they said. He answered, "People who are well do not need a doctor. Rather, people who are sick need a doctor.

ULT he
UST Jesus
(ὁ)

The pronoun he refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT having heard this
UST learned what they said
(ἀκούσας)

Here, the word this refers to what the Pharisees asked the disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [having heard what the Pharisees asked]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT The ones being healthy do not have need of a physician, but the ones having sickness
UST People who are well do not need a doctor. Rather, people who are sick need a doctor (οὐ χρείαν ἔχουσιν οἱ ἰσχύοντες ἰατροῦ, ἀλλὰ οἱ κακῶς ἔχοντες)

Jesus begins his response by quoting or creating a proverb, a short saying about something that is generally true in life. This proverb draws a figurative comparison. Just as sick people need to see a doctor to be healed, so sinners need to see Jesus in order to be forgiven and restored. But since Jesus explains the comparison in the next verse, you do not need to explain it here. Rather, you could translate the proverb itself in a way that will be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [People who are well do not need to see a doctor, but people who are unwell do]

Support Reference: Proverbs

> ULT the ones having sickness
> UST people who are sick need a doctor
> (οἱ κακῶς ἔχοντες)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the ones having sickness have need of a physician]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT the ones having sickness
> UST people who are sick need a doctor
> (οἱ κακῶς ἔχοντες)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sickness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ones who are sick]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

Matthew 9:13

ULT	UST
But having gone, learn what this is: 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice.' For I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners."	You should study and learn from what God has said in the Scriptures: 'What I most want is that people treat each other mercifully, not that people present offerings to me.' Much like that, I am here not to invite those who think they are righteous to come to me. Rather, {I invite} those who know that they have sinned {to come to me}."

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces how Jesus will apply the proverb he spoke in the previous verse (9:12). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an application, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [So,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having gone, learn
UST You should study and learn (πορευθέντες & μάθετε)

Here, the phrase having gone indicates that Jesus wants the Pharisees to study more carefully the passage that Jesus is about to quote. Jesus does not mean that they have to leave him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [carefully read and learn] or [think carefully and learn]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT learn
UST and learn (μάθετε)

Here the command is in plural form because Jesus is speaking to the Pharisees.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT what this is
UST from what God has said in the Scriptures
(τί ἐστιν)

Here Jesus means that they should learn the meaning of the passage he is about to quote. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what this means] or [the meaning of this passage]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT what this is: 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice
UST from what God has said in the Scriptures: 'What I most want is that people treat each other mercifully, not that people present offerings to me
(τί ἐστιν: ἔλεος θέλω καὶ οὐ θυσίαν)

Here Jesus introduces a quotation from Hosea 6:6, where God is speaking to the Israelites. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could introduce the quotation as something that God has said that is written in the Scriptures, or you could include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [what this passage from the book of Hosea is: 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice] or [what God said through Hosea: 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT I desire mercy and not sacrifice
UST What I most want is that people treat each other mercifully, not that people present offerings to me
(ἔλεος θέλω καὶ οὐ θυσίαν)

Here God says that he does not want any sacrifice. The Israelites would have understood him to mean that God primarily wants mercy, and he only wants sacrifice if there is also mercy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [I primarily desire mercy, and only then, sacrifice] or [I desire mercy much more than sacrifice]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT mercy and not sacrifice
UST that people treat each other mercifully, not that people present offerings to me
(ἔλεος & καὶ οὐ θυσίαν)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of mercy and sacrifice, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [people to be merciful and not to sacrifice to me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT For
UST Much like that
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a development based on what the quotation means. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [So then,] or [In light of that,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT For I did not come
UST Much like that, I am here not (οὐ γὰρ ἦλθον)

Here, the word come refers to Jesus entering this world as a human to do what God called him to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [For I did not come to this world] or [For I am not acting]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the righteous
UST those who think they are righteous
(δικαίους)

Jesus is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean righteous people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT but sinners

UST Rather, {I invite} those who know that they have sinned {to come to me}
(ἀλλὰ ἁμαρτωλούς)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but I came to call sinners]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
mercy	that people treat each other mercifully
sacrifice	that people present offerings to me
to call	to invite … to come to me
the righteous	those who think they are righteous sinners	I invite} those who know that they have sinned {to come to me}

Matthew 9:14

ULT	UST
Then the disciples of John come to him, saying, "For what reason do we and the Pharisees often fast, but your disciples do not fast?"	Sometime later, the apprentices of John the Baptizer visited Jesus. They asked him, "We and the Pharisees frequently do not eat in order to please God. However, your apprentices do not do so. Why not?"

ULT Then
UST Sometime later
(τότε)

Here, the word Then introduces a new event that took place sometime after the previous event, probably relatively soon after. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event. Alternate translation: [After that,] or [One day,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT of John
UST of John the Baptizer
(Ἰωάννου)

Here, the name John refers to John the Baptist. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could refer to him more explicitly. Alternate translation: [of John the Baptist]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT come
UST visited
(προσέρχονται)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [came]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT to him
UST Jesus
(αὐτῷ)

The pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [to Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT saying
UST They asked him
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT For what reason do we and the Pharisees often fast, but your disciples do not fast
UST We and the Pharisees frequently do not eat in order to please God. However, your apprentices do not do so. Why not (διὰ τί ἡμεῖς καὶ οἱ Φαρισαῖοι νηστεύομεν πολλά, οἱ δὲ μαθηταί σου οὐ νηστεύουσιν)

If it would be helpful in your language, you could turn this sentence into two sentences, one giving the reason for the question, and the other asking the question. Alternate translation: [We and the Pharisees often fast. For what reason do your disciples not fast?]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT we
UST We
(ἡμεῖς)

Here, the word we refers only to the disciples of John. It does not include Jesus or his disciples. Your language may require you to mark this form.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	the apprentices
of John	of John the Baptizer
Pharisees	the Pharisees
do … fast	do not eat in order to please God
do … fast	do … do so

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices

Matthew 9:15

ULT	UST
And Jesus said to them, "The sons of the bridal chamber are not able to mourn while the bridegroom is still with them, are they? But days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast.	Jesus answered, "The friends of the bridegroom do not grieve while the wedding celebration is still going on. However, someday the bridegroom will no longer be with his friends. Then they will not eat.

ULT The sons of the bridal chamber are not able to mourn while the bridegroom is still with them, are they? But days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast

UST The friends of the bridegroom do not grieve while the wedding celebration is still going on. However, someday the bridegroom will no longer be with his friends. Then they will not eat

(μὴ δύνανται οἱ υἱοὶ τοῦ νυμφῶνος πενθεῖν, ἐφ' ὅσον μετ' αὐτῶν ἐστιν ὁ νυμφίος? ἐλεύσονται δὲ ἡμέραι ὅταν ἀπαρθῇ ἀπ' αὐτῶν ὁ νυμφίος, καὶ τότε νηστεύσουσιν)

To help John's disciples understand why his disciples do not fast, Jesus offers a brief illustration. He wants John's disciples to think of him as if he were a bridegroom and of his disciples as if they were the sons of the bridal chamber. You should preserve the form of the parable, but if it would be helpful in your language, you could state explicitly that Jesus is like the bridegroom, and his disciples are like the sons of the bridal chamber. Alternate translation: [The sons of the bridal chamber are not able to mourn while the bridegroom is still with them, are they? But days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast. I am like the bridegroom, and my disciples are like the sons of the bridal chamber.]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT The sons of the bridal chamber are not able to mourn while the bridegroom is still with them, are they

UST The friends of the bridegroom do not grieve while the wedding celebration is still going on

(μὴ δύνανται οἱ υἱοὶ τοῦ νυμφῶνος πενθεῖν, ἐφ' ὅσον μετ' αὐτῶν ἐστιν ὁ νυμφίος)

Jesus is using the question form to teach John's disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [The sons of the bridal chamber are certainly not able to mourn while the bridegroom is still with them.] or [The sons of the bridal chamber cannot mourn while the bridegroom is still with them!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT The sons of the bridal chamber
UST The friends of the bridegroom
(οἱ υἱοὶ τοῦ νυμφῶνος)

The expression sons of describes people who share the qualities of something. In this case, Jesus is describing people who share the quality of being an integral part of a wedding. These are the male friends who attend the groom during the ceremony and the festivities. Alternate translation: [The groom's attendants]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT days will come when
UST someday
(ἐλεύσονται & ἡμέραι ὅταν)

Here Jesus is using the word days to refer to a particular time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a time will come when] or [there will be a time when]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the bridegroom will be taken away
UST the bridegroom will no longer be (ἀπαρθῇ & ὁ νυμφίος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [someone will take the bridegroom away]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
to mourn	grieve
bridegroom	the wedding celebration is still going on days	someday
bridegroom	the bridegroom
they will fast	they will not eat

Matthew 9:16

ULT	UST
Now no one puts a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for its patch tears away from the garment, and a worse tear happens.	People do not place a piece of unshrunken cloth on old clothing in order to mend a hole. {That is} because{, when they washed the garment,} the new piece of cloth would shrink and completely rip out of the clothing. As a result, the hole would become even bigger!

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces another example that Jesus uses to explain why his disciples do not fast. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces another example, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Further,] or [Again,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT no one puts a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for its patch tears away from the garment, and a worse tear happens
UST People do not place a piece of unshrunken cloth on old clothing in order to mend a hole. {That is} because{, when they washed the garment,} the new piece of cloth would shrink and completely rip out of the clothing. As a result, the hole would become even bigger (οὐδεὶς & ἐπιβάλλει ἐπίβλημα ῥάκους ἀγνάφου ἐπὶ ἱματίῳ παλαιῷ; αἴρει γὰρ τὸ πλήρωμα αὐτοῦ ἀπὸ τοῦ ἱματίου, καὶ χεῖρον σχίσμα γίνεται)

To help John's disciples understand why his own disciples do not fast, Jesus offers another brief illustration. He wants John's disciples to think of the new things that he teaches and does as a patch of unshrunk cloth and of the current ways of doing things as if they were an old garment. You should preserve the form of the parable, but if it would be helpful in your language, you could state explicitly that what Jesus does and teaches is like the patch of unshrunk cloth, and the normal way of doing things is like an old garment. Alternate translation: [no one puts a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for its patch tears away from the garment, and a worse tear happens. What I say and do is like the unshrunk cloth, and the normal way of doing things is like an old garment]

Support Reference: Parables

> ULT no one puts a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment
> UST People do not place a piece of unshrunken cloth on old clothing in order to mend a hole
> (οὐδεὶς & ἐπιβάλλει ἐπίβλημα ῥάκους ἀγνάφου ἐπὶ ἱματίῳ παλαιῷ)

Here Jesus refers to the practice of patching a hole or tear in a garment by sewing or attaching a patch to the garment to cover the hole or tear. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [no one patches an old garment with a patch of unshrunk cloth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT its patch tears away from the garment
> UST { … when they washed the garment,} the new piece of cloth would shrink and completely rip out of the clothing
> (αἴρει & τὸ πλήρωμα αὐτοῦ ἀπὸ τοῦ ἱματίου)

Here Jesus implies that the patch will tear away when the garment is washed, because the patch will shrink and rip the old garment. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when the garment is washed, its patch will shrink and tear away from the garment]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 9:17

ULT	UST
Neither do they put new wine into old wineskins. But if not, the skins are burst, and the wine is spilled, and the wineskins are destroyed. But they put new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved."	Similarly, people do not put fresh wine into old skin bags {to store it}. If they did that, the skin bags would tear open {because they would not stretch when the fresh wine fermented and expanded}. That would ruin the skin bags, and the wine would spill out. On the contrary, people put fresh wine into new skin bags. That way, they do not ruin the wine and the bags."

ULT Neither do they put new wine into old wineskins. But if not, the skins are burst, and the wine is spilled, and the wineskins are destroyed. But they put new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved

UST Similarly, people do not put fresh wine into old skin bags {to store it}. If they did that, the skin bags would tear open {because they would not stretch when the fresh wine fermented and expanded}. That would ruin the skin bags, and the wine would spill out. On the contrary, people put fresh wine into new skin bags. That way, they do not ruin the wine and the bags

(οὐδὲ βάλλουσιν οἶνον νέον εἰς ἀσκοὺς παλαιούς; εἰ δὲ μή γε, ῥήγνυνται οἱ ἀσκοί, καὶ ὁ οἶνος ἐκχεῖται καὶ οἱ ἀσκοὶ ἀπόλλυνται. ἀλλὰ βάλλουσιν οἶνον νέον εἰς ἀσκοὺς καινούς, καὶ ἀμφότεροι συντηροῦνται)

To help John's disciples understand why his own disciples do not fast, Jesus offers another brief illustration. He wants John's disciples to think of the new things that he teaches and does as new wine and of the current ways of doing things as if they were old wineskins. You should preserve the form of the parable, but if it would be helpful in your language, you could state explicitly that what Jesus does and teaches is like the new wine, and the normal way of doing things is like old wineskins. Alternate translation: [Neither do they put new wine into old wineskins. But if not, the skins are burst, and the wine is spilled, and the wineskins are destroyed. Instead, they put new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved. What I say and do is like the new wine, and the normal way of doing things is like the old wineskins.]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT Neither do they put … they put

UST Similarly, people do not put … people put (οὐδὲ βάλλουσιν & βάλλουσιν)

Here, the pronoun they refers to people in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that refers generally to people. Alternate translation: [Likewise, no one puts … a person puts]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT But if not
UST If they did that (εἰ δὲ μή γε)

Here, the phrases But if not introduces what would happen if people actually did put new wine into old wineskins. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of hypothetical situation. Alternate translation: [Otherwise] or [But supposing that they actually do that]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT the skins are burst, and the wine is spilled, and the wineskins are destroyed
UST the skin bags would tear open {because they would not stretch when the fresh wine fermented and expanded}. That would ruin the skin bags, and the wine would spill out
(ῥήγνυνται οἱ ἀσκοί, καὶ ὁ οἶνος ἐκχεῖται καὶ οἱ ἀσκοὶ ἀπόλλυνται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the new wine bursts the skins, and the wine spills out, and the wineskins become useless]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the skins are burst
UST the skin bags would tear open {because they would not stretch when the fresh wine fermented and expanded}
(ῥήγνυνται οἱ ἀσκοί)

Here Jesus implies that the new wine, when it ferments, will expand and burst the skins, which are old and so no longer able to stretch. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when the wine ferments, the skins cannot stretch and are burst]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT both
UST the wine and the bags
(ἀμφότεροι)

Here, the word both refers to the new wine and the fresh wineskins. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [both wine and wineskins]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

> ULT both are preserved
> UST they do not ruin the wine and the bags
> (ἀμφότεροι συντηροῦνται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [that preserves both] or [both are safe]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wine	wine
wineskins	skin bags {to store it} skins	the skin bags
wine	wine
wineskins	the skin bags
are destroyed	That would ruin
wine	wine
wineskins	skin bags

Matthew 9:18

ULT	UST
{While} he was saying these things to them, behold, a certain official, having approached, bowed down to him, saying, "My daughter has just now died, but, having come, lay your hand on her, and she will live."	As Jesus was speaking to John's apprentices, an important man arrived! He knelt before Jesus and said, "My daughter just died. Please come with me and touch her. That way, she will live {again}."

> ULT {While} he was saying these things to them
> UST As Jesus was speaking to John's apprentices
> (ταῦτα αὐτοῦ λαλοῦντος αὐτοῖς)

Matthew uses the clause {While} he was saying these things to them to introduce a new event that began as Jesus was saying the words that Matthew records in the previous verses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that introduces a new event that began during the previous event. Alternate translation: [Something happened while Jesus was saying these things to them:]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

> ULT he … to them … to him
> UST Jesus … to John's apprentices … Jesus
> (αὐτοῦ & αὐτοῖς & αὐτῷ)

Here, the pronouns he and him refer to Jesus, and the pronoun them refers to the disciples of John the Baptist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the people's names here. Alternate translation: [Jesus … to John the Baptist's disciples … to Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT behold
> (ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [notice] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT a certain official, having approached, bowed down
> UST an important man arrived! He knelt before > (ἄρχων εἷς προσελθὼν, προσεκύνει)

Matthew introduces the official as a new character in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a new character. Alternate translation: [a man approached. He was an official, and he bowed down]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

> ULT a certain official
> UST an important man
> (ἄρχων εἷς)

While Mark and Luke identify this man as the ruler or leader of a synagogue, Matthew uses a more general title to identify him as a leader or important person. Since Matthew did not specify exactly what position this man had, you should use a general term for a leader or important person. Alternate translation: [a certain leader] or [a certain prominent man]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

> ULT saying
> UST and said
> (λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he told him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT but
> (ἀλλὰ)

Here, the word but introduces what the man wants Jesus to do, even though his daughter has already died. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [but despite that] or [yet even though that has happened]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT but, having come, lay your hand on her
UST Please come with me and touch her (ἀλλὰ ἐλθὼν ἐπίθες τὴν χεῖρά σου ἐπ᾽ αὐτήν)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [but I ask that you, having come, lay your hand on her]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT having come
UST Please come with me
(ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT and
UST That way
(καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces what the man believes will happen as a result of Jesus laying his hand on his daughter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [and as a result,] or [and so,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a … official	an important man
bowed down	He knelt before

Matthew 9:19

ULT	UST
And having gotten up, Jesus and his disciples followed him.	Jesus and his apprentices stood up, and they went with the man.

ULT followed him

UST and they went with the man

(ἠκολούθει αὐτῷ)

Matthew implies that Jesus and his disciples went with the man to his home. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea explicit. Alternate translation: [followed him to his home]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
disciples	apprentices

Matthew 9:20

ULT	UST
And behold, a woman suffering from a discharge of blood for 12 years, having approached from behind, touched the edge of his cloak,	Now there was a woman who had been suffering for 12 years from a disease that caused continual bleeding. She thought, "Just touching Jesus' robe will cure me." So, she approached Jesus from behind, and she touched the hem of his robe. (vv20-21)

ULT And behold, a woman suffering from a discharge of blood for 12 years, having approached from behind, touched the edge of his cloak … for she was saying in herself, "If only I touch his cloak, I will be saved

UST Now there was a woman who had been suffering for 12 years from a disease that caused continual bleeding … Jesus' robe … she approached Jesus from behind, and she touched the hem of his robe … She thought, "Just touching Jesus' robe will cure me." So … the … of his robe

(καὶ ἰδοὺ, γυνὴ αἱμορροοῦσα δώδεκα ἔτη προσελθοῦσα ὄπισθεν, ἥψατο τοῦ κρασπέδου τοῦ ἱματίου αὐτοῦ. ἔλεγεν γὰρ ἐν ἑαυτῇ, ἐὰν μόνον ἅψωμαι τοῦ ἱματίου αὐτοῦ, σωθήσομαι) (9:20-21)

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine 9:20 and 9:21 into a verse bridge, as UST does, in order to include what the woman is thinking before she acts based on what she is thinking. Alternate translation: [And behold, there was a woman suffering from a discharge of blood for 12 years. She was saying to herself, "If only I touch his cloak, I will be saved." So, having approached from behind, she touched the edge of his cloak.]

Support Reference: Verse Bridges

ULT behold

UST there was

(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [as it happened] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a woman suffering from a discharge of blood for 12 years, having approached from behind, touched
UST a woman who had been suffering for 12 years from a disease that caused continual bleeding … she approached Jesus from behind, and she touched (γυνὴ αἱμορροοῦσα δώδεκα ἔτη προσελθοῦσα ὄπισθεν, ἥψατο)

Matthew introduces this woman as a new character in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a new character. Alternate translation: [there was a woman who had suffered from a discharge of blood for 12 years. She approached Jesus from behind and touched]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT suffering from a discharge of blood
UST who had been suffering … from a disease that caused continual bleeding (αἱμορροοῦσα)

Matthew uses the phrase a discharge of blood to refer discreetly to her condition or illness. She was probably experiencing menstrual bleeding at many times, even when it was not the normal time for that to occur. If your language has a polite way of referring to this condition, you could use that expression here, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [suffering from abnormal menstruation] or [suffering from frequent menstrual bleeding]

Support Reference: Euphemism

ULT touched the edge of his cloak
UST Jesus' robe … and she touched the hem of his robe
(ἥψατο τοῦ κρασπέδου τοῦ ἱματίου αὐτοῦ)

Matthew does not explain why she touched the edge of his cloak. Since Matthew does explain it in the next verse, you should not explain its meaning here.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
years	for … years

Matthew 9:21

ULT	UST
for she was saying in herself, "If only I touch his cloak, I will be saved."	Now there was a woman who had been suffering for 12 years from a disease that caused continual bleeding. She thought, "Just touching Jesus' robe will cure me." So, she approached Jesus from behind, and she touched the hem of his robe. (vv20-21)

ULT for
UST So
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why the woman touched the edge of Jesus' garment. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason for an action, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [since] or [which she did because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT she was saying in herself
UST She thought
(ἔλεγεν & ἐν ἑαυτῇ)

Here, the clause she was saying in herself indicates that she was thinking the words, not saying them out loud. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to thinking or speaking only to oneself. Alternate translation: [she was saying to herself] or [she was thinking to herself]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT in herself, "If only I touch his cloak, I will be saved
UST She thought, "Just touching Jesus' robe will cure me … the … of his robe
(ἐν ἑαυτῇ, ἐὰν μόνον ἅψωμαι τοῦ ἱματίου αὐτοῦ, σωθήσομαι)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [to herself that if she could only touch his cloak, she would be saved]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

> ULT only I touch
> UST Just touching
> (μόνον ἅψωμαι)

Here, the word only indicates that the woman thinks that, to be healed, she does not need to do anything more than touch Jesus' garment. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [all I do is touch] or [I can just touch]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT I will be saved
> UST will cure me
> (σωθήσομαι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, you could indicate that is God or Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [God will save me] or [he will save me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

Matthew 9:22

ULT	UST
But Jesus, having turned and having seen her, said, "Daughter, take courage; your faith has saved you." And the woman was saved from that hour.	{After the woman touched Jesus' robe}, Jesus turned around and looked at her. He said to her, "Do not worry, young woman. Because you believed {that I could heal you}, you are now well." At that very moment, the woman became well.

ULT Daughter
UST young woman
(θύγατερ)

Here Jesus calls the woman Daughter to indicate that he cares for her. The word implies that the woman was younger than Jesus. The woman was not actually Jesus' daughter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form of address that an older person would use to show that they care for a younger person. Alternate translation: [My friend] or [Dear woman]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT take courage
UST Do not worry
(θάρσει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of courage, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [be courageous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your faith has saved you
UST Because you believed {that I could heal you}, you are now well
(ἡ πίστις σου σέσωκέν σε)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you believed, and that has caused you to be saved]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT your faith has saved you
> UST Because you believed {that I could heal you}, you are now well
> (ἡ πίστις σου σέσωκέν σε)

Jesus speaks of the woman's faith as if it had actively saved her. He means that her faith was the necessary condition for the healing that she received from God. Alternate translation: [because of your faith, you have been saved]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT the woman was saved
> UST the woman became well
> (ἐσώθη ἡ γυνὴ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, you could indicate that it is God or Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [God saved the woman] or [Jesus saved the woman]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT from that hour
> UST At that very moment
> (ἀπὸ τῆς ὥρας ἐκείνης)

Here, the phrase from that hour indicates that the woman was healed at the time when she encountered Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from that moment on]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
take courage	Do not worry
faith	Because you believed {that I could heal you}
hour	At that very moment

Matthew 9:23

ULT	UST
And Jesus, having come to the house of the official and having seen the flute players and the crowd being disturbed,	After that, Jesus arrived at the important man's home. He saw {people grieving there}. Some people were playing instruments, and many people were making a lot of noise.

ULT having come
UST arrived
(ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the flute players
UST Some people were playing instruments
(τοὺς αὐλητὰς)

A flute is a musical instrument. It is a thin, hollow rod, and people blow into one end of it to make sounds. In Jesus' culture, people often hired flute players to play music at funerals. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of instrument or why people are playing it when someone dies, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [people playing funeral songs] or [the musicians for the funeral]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT the crowd being disturbed
UST many people were making a lot of noise
(τὸν ὄχλον θορυβούμενον)

Matthew refers to how people make much noise when they are grieving or mourning. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the crowd grieving loudly] or [the crowd being very loud as they mourned]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT being disturbed
UST were making a lot of noise
(θορυβούμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [making a commotion] or [being noisy]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
house	home
of the official	the important man’s

Matthew 9:24

ULT	UST
said, “Go away, for the girl has not died, but sleeps.” And they were laughing at him.	He said to these people, “Leave! The young woman is not dead! She is only sleeping.” Then, the people made fun of him {for saying that}.

ULT Go away
UST Leave
(ἀναχωρεῖτε)

Here, the command is in plural form because Jesus is speaking to the flute players and the crowd.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT for
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why the flute players and the crowd should go away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason for a command, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the girl
UST The young woman
(τὸ κοράσιον)

Here, the word girl refers to a very young woman. We know from Mark and Luke that she was about 12 years old. Use a word or phrase in your language that refers to a girl who is about this age. Alternate translation: [the young girl]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT but sleeps
> UST She is only sleeping
> (ἀλλὰ καθεύδει)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but she sleeps]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

Matthew 9:25

ULT	UST
But when the crowd had been put outside, having entered, he took her hand, and the girl was raised up.	After those people left, Jesus went {to where the girl was}. He took hold of her hand, and she {became alive again and} stood up.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a contrast between how the crowd laughed at Jesus and what Jesus himself does. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [However,] or [Nevertheless,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the crowd had been put outside
UST those people left
(ἐξεβλήθη ὁ ὄχλος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, Matthew implies that Jesus made the crowd leave. Alternate translation: [Jesus had put the crowd outside] or [the crowd went outside]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT having entered
UST Jesus went {to where the girl was} (εἰσελθὼν)

Matthew implies that Jesus entered the room or place where the dead girl was. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having entered the girl's room] or [having entered the place where the dead girl lay]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he took her hand
UST He took hold of her hand (ἐκράτησεν τῆς χειρὸς αὐτῆς)

The pronoun he refers to Jesus, and the pronoun her refers to the girl who had died. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the people's names here. Alternate translation: [Jesus took the girl's hand]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT was raised up
UST {became alive again and} stood up (ἠγέρθη)

Here, the phrase raised up indicates both that the girl came back to life and that she stood up. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [came back to life and got up]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the girl was raised up
UST she {became alive again and} stood up (ἠγέρθη τὸ κοράσιον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Matthew implies that Jesus raised her from the dead, but the girl herself got up from where she was lying. Alternate translation: [Jesus raised the girl up] or [the girl got up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
had been put outside	left

Matthew 9:26

ULT	UST
And this report went out into all that region.	After that, people throughout that whole area heard about what Jesus had done.

ULT this report went out into
UST people throughout … heard about what Jesus had done
(ἐξῆλθεν ἡ φήμη αὕτη εἰς)

Here, Matthew speaks of the report as if it were a person who could go out. He means that people shared the report with others. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people shared this report throughout]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT this report
UST what Jesus had done
(ἡ φήμη αὕτη)

Matthew is referring to the news about how Jesus raised the girl who had died. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the report about what Jesus had done] or [the story about what had happened]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT into all that region
UST throughout that whole area
(εἰς ὅλην τὴν γῆν ἐκείνην)

Here, the word region refers to the people who live in that region. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to people throughout all that region]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
report	what Jesus had done

Matthew 9:27

ULT	UST
And {as} Jesus was departing from there, two blind men followed him, crying out and saying, "Have mercy on us, Son of David!"	When Jesus left the important man's house, two men who were blind went with him. They were shouting, "You who are a descendant of King David, help us!"

ULT from there
UST the important man's house
(ἐκεῖθεν)

Here, the word there refers to the place where Jesus raised the girl who had died. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from the official's house] or [from where he raised the girl]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT crying out and saying
UST They were shouting
(κράζοντες καὶ λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [crying out] or [saying loudly]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Have mercy on us
UST help us
(ἐλέησον ἡμᾶς)

When the blind men ask for mercy, they are asking Jesus to heal them from their blindness. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [Have mercy on us and heal us]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Have mercy on us
UST help us
(ἐλέησον ἡμᾶς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Be merciful to us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT Son of David
> UST You who are a descendant of King David
> (Υἱὲ Δαυείδ)

Here, the word Son means a male descendant. It does not mean that Jesus was the direct son of David. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Descendant of David] or [you who are descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT Son of David
> UST You who are a descendant of King David
> (Υἱὲ Δαυείδ)

David was Israel's most important king, and God had promised King David that one of his descendants would be the Messiah. So the title Son of David could implicitly mean "Messiah." You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Son of David, Messiah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
crying out	They were shouting
Have mercy	help
of David	of King David

Matthew 9:28

ULT	UST
Now {when} he had come into the house, the blind men came to him and Jesus says to them, "Do you believe that I am able to do this?" They say to him, "Yes, Lord."	After Jesus entered the house {where he was staying}, the blind men approached him. Jesus asked them, "Do you believe that I can heal you?" They answered, "Yes, Lord, we do!"

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT {when} he had come
UST After Jesus entered (ἐλθόντι)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [when he had gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT into the house
UST After Jesus entered the house {where he was staying} (εἰς τὴν οἰκίαν)

Here, the phrase the house refers to the place where Jesus was staying. He did not own the house, but someone was letting him live there. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [into the house in which he was living]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT came
UST approached
(προσῆλθον)

In a context such as this, your language might say "went" instead of came. Alternate translation: [went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT says
> UST asked
> (λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT Do you believe
> UST Do you believe > (πιστεύετε)

Here, the word you is plural because Jesus is speaking to the two blind men.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT to do this
> UST heal you
> (τοῦτο ποιῆσαι)

The pronoun this refers to the act of healing them. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to this act directly. Alternate translation: [to make you see]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT Yes, Lord
> UST Yes, Lord, we do
> (ναί, Κύριε)

The two blind men are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Yes, Lord, we believe that you are able to do this]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the house {where he was staying}
Jesus	Jesus
Do you believe	Do you believe

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord

Matthew 9:29

ULT	UST
Then he touched their eyes, saying, "Let it be done to you according to your faith."	After {they said that,} he touched their eyes. He declared, "I will do for you what you have trusted me to do."

ULT saying
UST He declared
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Let it be done to you
UST I will do for you
(γενηθήτω ὑμῖν)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Let it happen to you] or [Let God do it for you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to you … your
UST for you what you have trusted me to do (ὑμῶν & ὑμῖν)

Here, the words you and your are plural because Jesus is speaking to the two blind men.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Let it be done
UST I will do
(γενηθήτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [It will be done] or [I am doing it]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT according to your faith
> UST what you have trusted me to do > (κατὰ τὴν πίστιν ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [just as you believed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
faith	what you have trusted me to do

Matthew 9:30

ULT	UST
And their eyes were opened, and Jesus warned them, saying, "See that you let no one know {about this}."	Then, they could see. Jesus sternly told them, "Do not tell anyone about what just happened!"

ULT their eyes were opened
UST they could see
(ἠνεῴχθησαν αὐτῶν οἱ ὀφθαλμοί)

Here, the clause their eyes were opened indicates that they were now able to see with their eyes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable clause or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [their eyes were healed] or [their eyes could see]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT their eyes were opened
UST they could see
(ἠνεῴχθησαν αὐτῶν οἱ ὀφθαλμοί)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [their eyes became open]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT warned them, saying
UST sternly told them
(ἐνεβριμήθη αὐτοῖς & λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [warned them by saying] or [gave them this warning:]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT See that
UST Do
(ὁρᾶτε)

Here, the words See that mean that men need to make sure that something happens or does not happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Make sure that]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT See that
UST Do
(ὁρᾶτε)

Here, the command is in plural form because Jesus is speaking to the two blind men.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT you let no one know {about this}
UST not tell anyone about what just happened
(μηδεὶς γινωσκέτω)

Here Jesus implies that they should let no one know that Jesus was the one who healed them. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you let no one know that I healed you] or [you let no one know about what I have done]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
you let … know {about this}	tell … about what just happened

Matthew 9:31

ULT	UST
But they, having gone out, reported it in all that region.	However, after the two men left, they told people throughout that whole area about what Jesus had done.

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the men actually did in contrast to what Jesus told them to avoid doing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a contrast. Alternate translation: [Despite that,] or [In contrast,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT having gone out
UST after the two men left (ἐξελθόντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT it
UST about what Jesus had done
(αὐτὸν)

The pronoun it refers to the story about how Jesus healed the two blind men. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to this story more directly. Alternate translation: [this story] or [how Jesus had healed them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Matthew 9:32

ULT	UST
Now {as} they were going away, behold, they brought to him a mute, demon-possessed man.	While the two men were leaving, some people brought a man to Jesus! A demon was controlling him and keeping him from speaking.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT they
UST the two men
(αὐτῶν)

The pronoun they could refer to: (1) the two men whom Jesus had just healed. Alternate translation: [those two men]; (2) Jesus and his disciples, who were leaving the house that they had been in. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [notice] or [see]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT they brought
> UST some people brought > (προσήνεγκαν)

The pronoun they refers to unnamed friends of the demon-possessed man. It does not refer to the two men who were going away. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use a word or phrase that refers to unnamed people. Alternate translation: [certain people brought]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT to him
> UST to Jesus
> (αὐτῷ)

The pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [to Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT a mute, demon-possessed man
> UST a man … A demon was controlling him and keeping him from speaking
> (ἄνθρωπον κωφὸν δαιμονιζόμενον)

A mute person is a person who cannot speak. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of disorder or illness, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a demon-possessed man who was unable to talk]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT a mute, demon-possessed man
> UST a man … A demon was controlling him and keeping him from speaking
> (ἄνθρωπον κωφὸν δαιμονιζόμενον)

Matthew implies that the demon made the man mute. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a man possessed by a demon that made him mute]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT a mute, demon-possessed man
> UST a man … A demon was controlling him and keeping him from speaking
> (ἄνθρωπον κωφὸν δαιμονιζόμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a mute man whom a demon had possessed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
demon-possessed	A demon was controlling him

Matthew 9:33

ULT	UST
And the demon having been cast out, the mute {man} spoke, and the crowds marveled, saying, "Such as this has never been seen in Israel!"	Jesus drove the demon out of the man, and he was able to speak. What Jesus had done impressed the large groups of people {who were nearby}. They declared, "We have not seen anything like this before in our country Israel!"

ULT the demon having been cast out
UST Jesus drove the demon out of the man
(ἐκβληθέντος τοῦ δαιμονίου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [Jesus, having cast out the demon]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the demon having been cast out
UST Jesus drove the demon out of the man
(ἐκβληθέντος τοῦ δαιμονίου)

Matthew implies that the demon had been cast out of the man. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the demon having been cast out of the man]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the mute {man}
UST and he (ὁ κωφός)

A mute person is a person who cannot speak. Express the idea as you did in 9:32. Alternate translation: [the man who was unable to talk]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT saying
UST They declared
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Such as this has never been seen
UST We have not seen anything like this before (οὐδέποτε ἐφάνη οὕτως)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [No one has ever seen anything such as this]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
demon	demon
having been cast out	Jesus drove … out of the man
Israel	our country Israel

Matthew 9:34

ULT	UST
But the Pharisees were saying, "By the ruler of the demons he casts out the demons."	However, the Pharisees declared, "It is the leader of the demons who enables this man to drive out demons!"

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the Pharisees say in contrast to what the crowds said (9:33). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word that introduces a contrast. Alternate translation: [In contrast,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT By the ruler of the demons
UST It is the leader of the demons who enables (ἐν τῷ ἄρχοντι τῶν δαιμονίων)

Here the Pharisees mean that Jesus has power from the ruler of the demons to cast out demons. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [By the power of the ruler of the demons] or [As he is empowered by the ruler of the demons]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the ruler of the demons
UST It is the leader of the demons who enables (τῷ ἄρχοντι τῶν δαιμονίων)

The phrase the ruler of the demons refers to the devil, that is, Satan. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [Satan, the ruler of the demons,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	Pharisees
ruler	It is the leader … who enables of the demons	of the demons
he casts out	this man to drive out

ULT	UST
demons	demons

Matthew 9:35

ULT	UST
And Jesus was going around all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness.	Jesus traveled to many of the cities and towns {in that area}. He instructed people {when they gathered} in the Jewish meeting places. He proclaimed the good news about God's kingdom. He cured people who were sick in any way.

ULT And
(καὶ)

Here, the word And introduces a summary of what Jesus normally did during this time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of summary, or you could leave And untranslated. Alternate translation: [During this time,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT all the cities and the villages
UST many of the cities and towns {in that area}
(τὰς πόλεις πάσας καὶ τὰς κώμας)

Matthew is referring to all the cities and the villages in a specific area. He may mean the region of Galilee. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that these cities and villages are in a specific region. Alternate translation: [all the cities and the villages of that region]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the gospel of the kingdom
UST the good news about God's kingdom
(τὸ εὐαγγέλιον τῆς βασιλείας)

Matthew is using the possessive form to describe a gospel that is about the kingdom. See how you translated the similar phrase in 4:23. Alternate translation: [the gospel concerning the kingdom]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST people who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

The phrase every disease and every sickness represents people with these diseases and sicknesses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar phrase in 4:23. Alternate translation: [every diseased person and every sick person]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST people who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

The terms every disease and every sickness mean similar things. Matthew is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. See how you translated the similar phrase in 4:23. Alternate translation: [every ailment] or [every sickness]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST people who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

Matthew says every as a generalization to emphasize how Jesus healed many different kinds of disease and sickness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. See how you translated the similar phrase in 4:23. Alternate translation: [many kinds of diseases and many kinds of sicknesses]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
synagogues	{when they gathered} in the Jewish meeting places
preaching	He proclaimed
gospel	the good news
of the kingdom	about God's kingdom

Matthew 9:36

ULT	UST
Now, having seen the crowds, he felt compassion for them, because they were troubled and discouraged, like sheep not having a shepherd.	Jesus observed that the large groups of people {who traveled wherever he went} seemed upset and confused. They were like sheep who did not have a sheepherder {to lead them and to take care of them}. So, Jesus pitied them.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT having seen the crowds, he felt compassion for them, because they were troubled and discouraged, like sheep not having a shepherd
UST Jesus observed that the large groups of people {who traveled wherever he went} seemed upset and confused. They were like sheep who did not have a sheepherder {to lead them and to take care of them}. So, Jesus pitied them (ἰδὼν & τοὺς ὄχλους, ἐσπλαγχνίσθη περὶ αὐτῶν, ὅτι ἦσαν ἐσκυλμένοι καὶ ἐριμμένοι, ὡσεὶ πρόβατα μὴ ἔχοντα ποιμένα)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could include the reason why Jesus felt compassion before stating that he felt that way. Alternate translation: [he saw that the crowds were troubled and discouraged, like sheep not having a shepherd, so he felt compassion for them]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT he felt compassion for
UST So, Jesus pitied
(ἐσπλαγχνίσθη περὶ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of compassion, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he sympathized with]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT they were troubled and discouraged
UST seemed upset and confused
(ἦσαν ἐσκυλμένοι καὶ ἐριμμένοι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [they were experiencing trouble and discouragement] or [things were troubling and discouraging them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT like sheep not having a shepherd
UST They were like sheep who did not have a sheepherder {to lead them and to take care of them} (ὡσεὶ πρόβατα μὴ ἔχοντα ποιμένα)

Matthew compares the crowds to sheep who do not have a shepherd. Just as sheep without a shepherd have no one to lead and take care of them, so the crowds have no one to lead and take care of them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning of the simile more explicitly. Alternate translation: [and, like sheep without a shepherd, they did not know what to do or where to go]

Support Reference: Simile

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he felt compassion	So, Jesus pitied troubled	upset
sheep	sheep
a shepherd	a sheepherder {to lead them and to take care of them}

Matthew 9:37

ULT	UST
Then he says to his disciples, "Indeed, the harvest {is} plentiful, but the laborers {are} few.	So he told his apprentices, "Many people are ready to believe in me, but there are only a few people whom I can send out to help them.

ULT he says
UST he told
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Indeed, the harvest {is} plentiful, but the laborers {are} few
UST Many people are ready to believe in me, but there are only a few people whom I can send out to help them
(ὁ μὲν θερισμὸς πολύς, οἱ δὲ ἐργάται ὀλίγοι)

Jesus speaks of people who will believe as if they were a harvest, and he speaks of those who proclaim the good news as if they were laborers who help with the harvest. He means that there are many people who are ready to believe, but there are only a few people proclaiming the good news. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [There are many people who will believe in me, but only a few people are proclaiming the good news. It is as if there were a plentiful harvest but only a few laborers]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to … disciples	apprentices
harvest	Many people are ready to believe in me
laborers	there are only a few people whom I can send out to help them

Matthew 9:38

ULT	UST
Therefore, earnestly ask the Lord of the harvest, so that he might send out laborers into his harvest."	So pray to God{, who wants all of those people to believe,} and plead with him for more people who can go and help them."

ULT earnestly ask
UST pray
(δεήθητε)

Here, the command is in plural form because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT the Lord of the harvest, so that he might send out laborers into his harvest
UST to God{, who wants all of those people to believe,} and plead with him for more people who can go and help them
(τοῦ Κυρίου τοῦ θερισμοῦ, ὅπως ἐκβάλῃ ἐργάτας εἰς τὸν θερισμὸν αὐτοῦ)

Jesus continues to speak of people who will believe as if they were a harvest and of those who proclaim the good news as if they were laborers who help with the harvest. He also describes God as the Lord of the harvest. He means that the disciples should ask God to send more people to proclaim the good news to others. Express the idea as you did in 9:37. Alternate translation: [the Lord, who is like the person in charge of the harvest, to send out more people who will proclaim the good news. These people are like the laborers for the harvest.]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT the Lord of the harvest
UST to God{, who wants all of those people to believe … } (τοῦ Κυρίου τοῦ θερισμοῦ)

Jesus is using the possessive form to describe God as the one who is the Lord who is in charge of the harvest. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the Lord, who is in charge of the harvest]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT of the harvest, so that he might send out laborers into his harvest
> UST to God{, who wants all of those people to believe,} and plead with him for more people who can go and help them
> (τοῦ θερισμοῦ, ὅπως ἐκβάλῃ ἐργάτας εἰς τὸν θερισμὸν αὐτοῦ)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [of the harvest, ‘Please send out laborers into your harvest.’]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
earnestly ask	pray
Lord	to God{, who wants all of those people to believe … } of the harvest	to God{, who wants all of those people to believe … } laborers	people
harvest	who can go and help them

Matthew 10

Matthew 10 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus teaches about mission and the kingdom (9:35–10:42)
    - The 12 disciples (10:1–4)
    - Instructions about behavior and travel (10:5–15)
    - Teaching on persecution (10:16–39)
        - Expecting persecution (10:16–23)
        - Motivation to persevere (10:24–33)
        - Purpose during persecution (10:34–39)
        - How to treat fellow disciples (10:40–42)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Jesus' instructions on how to travel

Jesus instructs the disciples not to bring money, sandals, staff, or extra clothing with them when they travel and preach the good news. Instead, he wants the disciples to rely on the hospitality of people they visit. So, he instructs them to find someone who is "worthy" to host them, and he tells them to stay at that person's house until they leave the area. Make sure that your translation indicates that the disciples should not pack money or extra clothing because they will be staying with people who welcome them and their message.

The coming of the Son of Man

In 10:23, Jesus tells the disciples that they will not complete their work in the towns of Israel before "the Son of Man comes." Jesus often uses the phrase "Son of Man" to refer to himself as an important representative of God. In this verse, it is not clear what it means for this important figure, Jesus himself, to "come." Christians have understood this "coming" in several ways:

1. It could describe Jesus' second coming, but it seems like the disciples probably did finish their work in the towns of Israel before Jesus' second coming.
2. It could describe the time when the Romans destroyed Jerusalem, which was Jesus "coming" to judge and punish.
3. It could describe Jesus' ascension to be enthroned in heaven. In this case, "coming" refers going into heaven, not coming to earth.
4. It could describe Jesus' appearances to the disciples after his resurrection.

Since Christians have understood this verse in at least these different ways, if possible, your translation should allow for all these options. See the notes on 10:23 for translation options.

Persecution and conflict

Throughout this chapter, Jesus speaks about the persecutions and troubles his disciples will face, even from members of their own families. He motivates them to persevere during these persecutions and troubles in several ways. First, he reminds them that people persecute him, and so they will definitely persecute his disciples. That means that persecution is a sign that the disciples are following Jesus. Second, he encourages them that God knows and cares about them and their suffering. Third, he tells them that God will show them what to say when people are accusing them. In the end, Jesus wants to teach his disciples to expect persecution, how to think about it, and how to persevere during it.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The 12 disciples

The following are the lists of the 12 disciples in Matthew, Mark, and Luke:

In Matthew 10:2–4:

Simon (Peter), Andrew, James son of Zebedee, John son of Zebedee, Philip, Bartholomew, Thomas, Matthew, James son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot.

In Mark 3:16–19:

Simon (Peter), James son of Zebedee, John son of Zebedee, Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Zealot, and Judas Iscariot.

In Luke 6:14–16:

Simon (Peter), Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Simon the Zealot, Judas son of James, and Judas Iscariot.

These lists do not always follow the same order or use the same names for the disciples. In that culture, people often had two or three names. For example, it is likely that Thaddaeus was also named Judas or Jude. So, do not harmonize these lists by using the same sequence or names in each case. You should translate Matthew's list as Matthew presents it.

Singular and plural forms of "you"

In this chapter, Jesus is giving instructions to the 12 disciples. Because of that, all forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 10:1

ULT	UST
And having summoned his 12 disciples, he gave them authority over unclean spirits, so as to cast them out and to heal every disease and every sickness.	Then, Jesus told his 12 apprentices to come to him. He authorized them to drive demons out of people and to cure people who were sick in any way.

ULT And
UST Then
(καὶ)

The word And introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave And untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT his 12 disciples
UST his 12 apprentices
(τοὺς δώδεκα μαθητὰς αὐτοῦ)

Since Matthew will list who these 12 disciples are in the following verse, you do not need to explain in this verse who they are. However, you could clarify that these are the 12 closest or most important disciples. Matthew does not mean that Jesus only had 12 disciples. Alternate translation: [his 12 closest disciples] or [his 12 most important disciples]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT he gave them authority over unclean spirits
UST He authorized them … demons
(ἔδωκεν αὐτοῖς ἐξουσίαν πνευμάτων ἀκαθάρτων)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of authority, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he empowered them to control unclean spirits]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST people who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

The phrase every disease and every sickness represents people with these diseases and sicknesses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar phrase in 4:23. Alternate translation: [every diseased person and every sick person]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST people who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

The terms every disease and every sickness mean similar things. Matthew is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. See how you translated the similar phrase in 4:23. Alternate translation: [every ailment] or [every sickness]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT every disease and every sickness
UST people who were sick in any way
(πᾶσαν νόσον καὶ πᾶσαν μαλακίαν)

Matthew says every as a generalization to emphasize how Jesus healed many different kinds of disease and sickness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. See how you translated the similar phrase in 4:23. Alternate translation: [many kinds of diseases and many kinds of sicknesses]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having summoned	Jesus told … to come to him
disciples	apprentices
authority	He authorized
over unclean spirits	demons
to cast … out	drive … out of people
12 disciples	12 apprentices

Matthew 10:2

ULT	UST
Now the names of the 12 apostles are these: first, Simon (called Peter), and Andrew his brother; and James the {son} of Zebedee, and John his brother;	Here is a list of the names of the 12 men whom Jesus chose to represent him: Simon, whom people also call Peter; Andrew, Peter's {younger} brother; James, Zebedee's son; John, James' {younger} brother;

ULT Now the names of the 12 apostles
UST the names of the 12 men whom Jesus chose to represent him
(τῶν δὲ δώδεκα ἀποστόλων τὰ ὀνόματά)

Matthew uses the word Now to introduce background information that will help readers understand who the 12 disciples were. The word does not introduce another event in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing background information. Alternate translation: [As for these 12 apostles, their names]

Support Reference: Background Information

ULT first
(πρῶτος)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [one]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

ULT first
(πρῶτος)

Matthew introduces the first item in the list with the word first, but then he does not number any other items in the list. If it would be unnatural in your language to number the first item in a list but then omit other numbers, you could use another form that introduces the first item in a list, or you could leave first untranslated. Alternate translation: [at the beginning]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT called Peter
UST whom people also call Peter
(ὁ λεγόμενος Πέτρος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [whose other name was Peter]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT his brother
UST Peter's {younger} brother
(ὁ ἀδελφὸς αὐτοῦ)

Matthew never says whether Simon or Andrew was older, but he mentions Simon first, which could imply that he was the older brother. If you have to use a form that refers to an older or younger brother, you could state that Andrew was younger. Alternate translation: [his younger brother]

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT his brother
UST James' {younger} brother
(ὁ ἀδελφὸς αὐτοῦ)

Matthew never says whether James or John was older, but he mentions James first, which could imply that he was the older brother. If you have to use a form that refers to an older or younger brother, you could state that John was younger. Alternate translation: [his younger brother]

Support Reference: Kinship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the … apostles	of the … men whom Jesus chose to represent him
Simon	Simon
called	whom people also call
Peter	Peter
Andrew	Andrew
James	James
of Zebedee	Zebedee's son
John	John

ULT	UST
of the 12 apostles	of the 12 men whom Jesus chose to represent him

Matthew 10:3

ULT	UST
Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James the {son} of Alphaeus and Thaddaeus;	Philip; Bartholomew; Thomas; Matthew, a man who collected taxes; James, Alphaeus' son; Thaddaeus;

ULT Thaddaeus
UST Thaddaeus
(Θαδδαῖος)

The word Thaddaeus is the name of a man.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Thaddaeus
UST Thaddaeus
(Θαδδαῖος)

Many ancient manuscripts read Thaddaeus. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "Lebbaeus, who was surnamed Thaddaeus." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Philip	Philip
Bartholomew	Bartholomew
Thomas	Thomas
Matthew	Matthew
tax collector	a man who collected taxes
James the {son} of Alphaeus	James, Alphaeus' son

Matthew 10:4

ULT	UST
Simon the Cananaios, and Judas Iscariot, the {one} having also handed him over.	Simon the Zealot; and Judas Iscariot, who eventually helped to arrest Jesus.

ULT the Cananaios
UST the Zealot
(ὁ Καναναῖος)

Cananaios is a word borrowed from Aramaic that describes someone as a "zealot," that is, someone who is very zealous about something. You will need to decide if you will also borrow this word into your language or if you will translate the meaning. If you borrow the word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote. If you translate the word's meaning, Cananaios could be: (1) a title that indicates that this man was part of the group of people who wanted to free the Jewish people from Roman rule. Alternate translation: [the Patriot]; (2) a description that indicates that this man was zealous for God to be honored. Alternate translation: [the Passionate One]

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT the {one} having also handed him over
UST who eventually helped to arrest Jesus
(ὁ καὶ παραδοὺς αὐτόν)

Matthew writes having also handed him over to provide some extra information about what Judas did to Jesus later. Use a natural way in your language for introducing background information. Alternate translation: [who would later also hand him over]

Support Reference: Connect — Background Information

ULT him
UST Jesus
(αὐτόν)

The pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Simon the Cananaios	Simon the Zealot

ULT	UST
Judas Iscariot	Judas Iscariot
having … handed … over	who eventually helped to arrest

Matthew 10:5

ULT	UST
These 12 Jesus sent out, having instructed them, saying, "Do not go on the way {to the} Gentiles, and do not enter into a city of the Samaritans.	Jesus sent those 12 men {to represent him}. {Before they went}, he told them, "Do not travel to places where non-Jews live. Do not visit Samaritan towns.

ULT These 12 Jesus sent out, having instructed them, saying
UST Jesus sent those 12 men {to represent him}. {Before they went}, he told them
(τούτους τοὺς δώδεκα ἀπέστειλεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς παραγγείλας αὐτοῖς λέγων)

Matthew narrates how Jesus sent out the disciples before he narrates what Jesus instructed them to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the order of events more explicit. Alternate translation: [When Jesus was about to send the twelve out, he instructed them, saying]

Support Reference: Order of Events

ULT 12
UST 12 men {to represent him}
(τοὺς δώδεκα)

Matthew is using the adjective twelve as a noun to mean twelve men. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [twelve men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT sent out
UST sent (ἀπέστειλεν)

Matthew does not clarify here what Jesus sent them out to do. However, in the instructions from Jesus in the following verses, Jesus makes it clear what he has sent them out to do. So, you do not need to include any implicit information here.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT having instructed them, saying
UST {Before they went}, he told them
(παραγγείλας αὐτοῖς λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [having instructed them with these words:]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT on the way {to the} Gentiles
UST to places where non-Jews live
(εἰς ὁδὸν ἐθνῶν)

Jesus means that the twelve disciples should not travel to any area where Gentiles live. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to Gentile regions]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT into a city
UST Do … visit … towns
(εἰς πόλιν)

The word city represents cities in general, not one particular city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [into any city]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
12	12 men {to represent him}
Jesus	Jesus
having instructed	{Before they went}, he told
{to the} Gentiles	where non-Jews live of the Samaritans	Samaritan

Matthew 10:6

ULT	UST
But go instead to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.	Instead, go to your fellow Israelites. They are like sheep who have wandered off {and need help}.

ULT But
UST Instead
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus tells the disciples not to do in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Rather,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the lost sheep of the house of Israel
UST your fellow Israelites. They are like sheep who have wandered off {and need help}
(τὰ πρόβατα τὰ ἀπολωλότα οἴκου Ἰσραήλ)

Jesus could be using the possessive form to describe: (1) all of the house of Israel as lost sheep. Alternate translation: [the lost sheep, who are the house of Israel]; (2) some of the house of Israel as lost sheep. Alternate translation: [the lost sheep among the house of Israel]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the lost sheep of the house of Israel
UST your fellow Israelites. They are like sheep who have wandered off {and need help}
(τὰ πρόβατα τὰ ἀπολωλότα οἴκου Ἰσραήλ)

Jesus speaks of his fellow Jewish people as if they were lost sheep. He means that they are not following God and need help. This is an important metaphor in the Bible, so you could preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. Alternate translation: [the house of Israel, who are like lost sheep] or [the house of Israel, who are far away from God, like lost sheep]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT of the house of Israel
UST your fellow Israelites
(οἴκου Ἰσραήλ)

Matthew refers to a people group or nation as if it were a house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of the nation of Israel] or [of the Israelites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
lost	who have wandered off {and need help}
sheep	They are like sheep
of the house	your fellow Israelites of Israel	your fellow Israelites

Matthew 10:7

ULT	UST
Now {as} you are going, preach, saying, 'The kingdom of the heavens has come near.'	While you are traveling, proclaim {to people}, 'God is about to establish his heavenly kingdom here.'

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next section of the instructions that Jesus is giving to his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next section, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT preach, saying
UST proclaim {to people}
(κηρύσσετε λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [preach this:]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT saying, 'The kingdom of the heavens has come near UST God is about to establish his heavenly kingdom here
(λέγοντες & ἤγγικεν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [saying that the kingdom of the heavens has come near.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT has come near
UST God is about to establish … here
(ἤγγικεν)

Matthew uses this phrase in the sense of near in time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. See how you translated the similar phrase in 3:2. Alternate translation: [is about to begin] or [is about to happen]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
preach	proclaim {to people}
kingdom of the heavens	his heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 10:8

ULT	UST
Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, {and} cast out demons. Freely you have received; freely give.	Cure people who are sick. Make people who have died alive again. Heal people with skin diseases. Drive demons out of people. I have not charged you money as I enable you to do these things. So, you should not charge other people money to do these things for them.

ULT the sick … the dead
UST people who are sick … people who have died (ἀσθενοῦντας & νεκροὺς)

Matthew is using the adjectives sick and dead as nouns to mean people who are sick and dead. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [sick people … dead people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT raise the dead
UST Make people who have died alive again
(νεκροὺς ἐγείρετε)

The phrase raise the dead refers to causing someone who has died to become alive again. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [cause the dead to live again]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT cleanse the lepers
UST Heal people with skin diseases
(λεπροὺς καθαρίζετε)

Jesus commands the disciples to ceremonially cleanse the lepers, but he implies that he wants them to heal people of skin diseases, since they are what make lepers unclean. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [heal lepers from their unclean diseases]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Freely you have received; freely give UST I have not charged you money as I enable you to do these things. So, you should not charge other people money to do these things for them
(δωρεὰν ἐλάβετε, δωρεὰν δότε)

Jesus means that he has given things to them Freely, and so they should also give to others freely. The things that they have received and should give could be: (1) the power and authority to preach, heal, and cast out demons. Alternate translation: [Freely you have received power from me; freely use that power for others]; (2) help and blessings from God. Alternate translation: [Freely you have received help from God; freely give help to other people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the lepers	people with skin diseases
{and} cast out	Drive … out of people
demons	demons
Freely	I have not charged you money
you have received	as I enable you to do these things freely	So, you should not charge other people money

Matthew 10:9

ULT	UST
Do not acquire gold or silver or copper in your belts,	Do not pack any money to take with you.

ULT Do not acquire
UST Do not pack
(μὴ κτήσησθε)

The word acquire refers to getting and packing things to take on a trip. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Do not take with you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT gold or silver or copper
UST any money
(χρυσὸν, μηδὲ ἄργυρον, μηδὲ χαλκὸν)

The words gold, silver, and copper refer to various coins made out of these metals. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly or use a more general expression. Alternate translation: [gold coins or silver coins or copper coins] or [any amount of money]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT copper
UST any money
(χαλκὸν)

The word copper refers to a brown metal that is less valuable than gold or silver. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of metal, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [bronze] or [less valuable metal]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT in your belts
> UST to take with you
> (εἰς τὰς ζώνας ὑμῶν)

In Jesus' culture, people would often wrap their money up in long strips of cloth and then tie them around their waists as belts. This was a way to keep the money safe while the people were traveling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [in your money bag] or [to have with you as you travel]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
gold	any money
silver	any money

Matthew 10:10

ULT	UST
nor a bag for the road nor two tunics nor sandals nor a staff, for the laborer {is} worthy of his food.	Do not pack a traveler's bag, or an extra shirt, or sandals, or a walking stick. {I tell you not to bring these things} because people who work deserve their food. {So, the people whom you help will give you what you need}.

ULT a bag
UST a … bag
(πήραν)

The term bag means something a traveler would use to carry things that were needed on a journey. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of container, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a knapsack]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT the road
UST traveler's
(ὁδὸν)

Here, road represents a journey. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the journey]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT two tunics
UST an extra shirt
(δύο χιτῶνας)

Jesus implies that they should bring only one tunic instead of two. In other words, they should not bring an extra one in case they needed it. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a second tunic] or [a spare tunic]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT sandals
UST sandals
(ὑποδήματα)

Jesus could mean that the disciples should: (1) not wear anything on their feet but instead go barefoot. Alternate translation: [shoes] or [footwear]; (2) not bring an extra pair of sandals. Alternate translation: [extra sandals]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for
UST {I tell you not to bring these things} because
(γὰρ)

The word for introduces a reason why the disciples should not take any of these things with them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [because] or [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the laborer {is} worthy of his food
UST people who work deserve their food. {So, the people whom you help will give you what you need}
(ἄξιος & ὁ ἐργάτης τῆς τροφῆς αὐτοῦ)

Jesus uses or invents a proverb in order to teach that each laborer desires to receive food. He applies this to the disciples, who are serving others and so deserve to receive what they need to live. Translate this proverb in a way that will be recognized as a proverb and be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [workers deserve food] or [those who work should be given what they need]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT of his food
UST their food. {So, the people whom you help will give you what you need}
(τῆς τροφῆς αὐτοῦ)

Jesus is using food to represent what people need to live. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of what he needs to live]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT his
> UST their food. {So, the people whom you help will give you what you need}
> (αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
tunics	shirt
sandals	sandals
a staff	a walking stick laborer	people who work

Matthew 10:11

ULT	UST
But whatever city or village you enter into, find someone who is worthy in it and stay there until you go out.	When you visit a city or town, look for someone who lives there who welcomes you. {When you find such a person}, stay in that person's home until you leave that area.

ULT But
(δ')

The word But introduces the next section of the instructions that Jesus is giving to his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next section, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT someone who is worthy
UST someone … who welcomes you
(τίς & ἄξιός ἐστιν)

Jesus does not state in what way this person is worthy. He could mean: (1) that the person is hospitable and willing to host the disciples. Alternate translation: [someone who is hospitable to you]; (2) that the person listens to and believes the disciples' message. Alternate translation: [someone who believes your message]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in it
UST who lives there
(ἐν αὐτῇ)

The pronoun it refers to the city or village that the disciples have entered. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to those places more directly. Alternate translation: [in that city or village]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT and stay there
> UST {When you find such a person}, stay in that person's home > (κἀκεῖ μείνατε)

The word there refers to the worthy person's house. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [and stay at his or her house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT until you go out
> UST until you leave that area
> (ἕως ἂν ἐξέλθητε)

Jesus implies that they are leaving the city or village that they had entered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [until you go out from that city or village]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 10:12

ULT	UST
Now entering into the house, greet it.	When you go into that person's home, say hello to the people who live there {and pray that God will make them peaceful}.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces further clarifications about how to stay in people's houses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces further clarifications or instructions, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [More specifically,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the house
UST that person's home
(τὴν οἰκίαν)

The phrase the house refers to the home of the worthy person whom Jesus mentioned in the previous verse (10:11). If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [that house] or [the worthy person's house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT greet it
UST say hello to the people who live there {and pray that God will make them peaceful}
(ἀσπάσασθε αὐτήν)

Jesus implies that the greeting includes a peace blessing (see 10:13). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [greet it with a blessing] or [greet it and ask God for its peace]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT it
> UST to the people who live there
> (αὐτήν)

Jesus uses the pronoun it to refer to the house as the people who live in the house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [its family] or [those who are in it]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	that person's home

Matthew 10:13

ULT	UST
And if indeed the house is worthy, let your peace come upon it, but if it is not worthy, let your peace be returned to you.	Suppose that the people who live in that house really do welcome you. Then, God will make them peaceful, as you prayed. However, suppose that the people who live in that house do not welcome you. Then, God will not make them peaceful.

ULT the house is … it … it is
UST the people who live in that house really do … them … the people who live in that house do
(ᾖ ἡ οἰκία & αὐτήν & ᾖ)

Jesus refers to the house to speak about the people who live in the house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the house's family is … it … it is] or [those who are in the house are … them … they are]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT is worthy … it is not worthy
UST really do welcome you … the people who live in that house do not welcome you (ᾖ & ἀξία & μὴ ᾖ ἀξία)

Here as in 10:11, Jesus does not state in what way the house is worthy or not worthy. He could mean: (1) that the house is hospitable and willing to host the disciples. Alternate translation: [is hospitable to you … it is not hospitable to you]; (2) that the house listens to and believes the disciples' message. Alternate translation: [believes your message … it does not believe your message]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT let your peace come upon it … let your peace be returned to you
UST Then, God will make them peaceful, as you prayed … Then, God will not make them peaceful
(ἐλθάτω ἡ εἰρήνη ὑμῶν ἐπ᾽ αὐτήν & ἡ εἰρήνη ὑμῶν πρὸς ὑμᾶς ἐπιστραφήτω)

Jesus speaks as if the peace were an object that could come upon someone or be returned to someone. He means that the peace that the disciples asked God to give to the house will either happen or not happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [let it experience your peace … let it not experience your peace] or [let the peace you wished for it happen … let the peace you wished for it not happen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT let your peace come upon it … let your peace be returned to you
UST Then, God will make them peaceful, as you prayed … Then, God will not make them peaceful
(ἐλθάτω ἡ εἰρήνη ὑμῶν ἐπ᾽ αὐτήν & ἡ εἰρήνη ὑμῶν πρὸς ὑμᾶς ἐπιστραφήτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [your peace will come upon it … your peace will be returned to you] or [send your peace upon it … take your peace back to you]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT your peace … your peace
UST peaceful, as you prayed … peaceful
(ἡ εἰρήνη ὑμῶν & ἡ εἰρήνη ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is peaceful … what is peaceful]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT let your peace be returned to you
> UST Then, God will not make them peaceful > (ἡ εἰρήνη ὑμῶν πρὸς ὑμᾶς ἐπιστραφήτω)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [let your peace come back to you] or [take your peace back to you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the people who live in that house
peace	peaceful
peace	peaceful

Matthew 10:14

ULT	UST
And whoever does not receive you nor listen to your words, departing from that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet.	Whenever people do not welcome you or listen to what you say, you should leave that home or city. As you are going, shake the dust from that place off your feet {to show that you reject those people}.

ULT shake off the dust from your feet

UST As you are going, shake the dust from that place off your feet {to show that you reject those people}

(ἐκτινάξατε τὸν κονιορτὸν τῶν ποδῶν ὑμῶν)

This action was an expression of strong rejection in this culture. It showed that someone did not want even the dust of a house or city to remain on them. If there is a similar gesture in your culture, you could consider referring to it here, or you could explain the meaning of the action. Alternate translation: [wash the dirt of that place off your hands] or [shake off the dust from your feet to sever your relationship with that place]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
does … receive	do … welcome
house	home

Matthew 10:15

ULT	UST
Truly I say to you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city.	{God will judge and punish} any people who reject you more severely than he will judge and punish the {wicked} people who lived in the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. What I have said is true.

ULT for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah … for that city
UST {God will judge and punish} any people who reject you … the {wicked} people who lived in the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah
(γῆ Σοδόμων καὶ Γομόρρων & τῇ πόλει ἐκείνῃ)

Jesus refers to cities to speak about the people who live in those cities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for the people who lived in Sodom and Gomorrah … for the people who live in that city]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah
UST the {wicked} people who lived in the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah
(γῆ Σοδόμων καὶ Γομόρρων)

In Jesus' culture, people knew that Sodom and Gomorrah were cities where many wicked people had lived. God punished these people harshly. You can read about what happened in Genesis 19:1–29. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [for the evil land of Sodom and Gomorrah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in the day of judgment
UST he will judge and punish
(ἐν ἡμέρᾳ κρίσεως)

Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a day on which judgment will happen. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [on the day when God judges everyone]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of judgment
UST he will judge and punish
(κρίσεως)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when people are judged]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for that city
UST {God will judge and punish} any people who reject you (τῇ πόλει ἐκείνῃ)

Here, that city is referring to any city that does not welcome or listen to Jesus' disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [for any city that does not welcome you or listen to you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	What I have said is true
of Sodom	of Sodom
Gomorrah	Gomorrah
the day	he will judge and punish of judgment	he will judge and punish

Matthew 10:16

ULT	UST
Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so become wise as the serpents and harmless as the doves.	I am sending you out {to represent me} to people who will be hostile to you, so you will be like sheep among wolves. Therefore, you need to be as clever as snakes are. You also need to be as innocent as small birds are.

ULT Behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [Look] or [Consider this:]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT as sheep in the midst of wolves
UST to people who will be hostile to you, so you will be like sheep among wolves (ὡς πρόβατα ἐν μέσῳ λύκων)

Jesus compares his disciples to sheep, animals which are defenseless and not dangerous. He compares people who want to harm them to wolves, animals which are dangerous and likely to kill and eat sheep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could explain the simile or use more general expressions for the animals. Alternate translation: [as sheep in the midst of wolves, since some people will want to harm you] or [as harmless animals that will encounter a group of predators]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT wise as the serpents
UST as clever as snakes are (φρόνιμοι ὡς οἱ ὄφεις)

Jesus wants his disciples to be like serpents, which were considered wise in Jesus' culture. If serpents are not considered wise in your culture, you may need to express the idea without the simile form. In this context, the phrase wise as the serpents could mean that the disciples should be: (1) clever or shrewd. Alternate translation: [shrewd]; (2) watchful. Alternate translation: [watchful] or [careful]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT harmless as the doves
UST as innocent as small birds are (ἀκέραιοι ὡς αἱ περιστεραί)

Jesus wants his disciples to be like doves, which were considered harmless in Jesus' culture. If doves are not considered harmless in your culture, you may need to express the idea without the simile form. In this context, the phrase harmless as the doves could mean that the disciples should be: (1) innocent. Alternate translation: [guileless] or [without guilt]; (2) gentle. Alternate translation: [gentle] or [kind]

Support Reference: Simile

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sheep	sheep
of wolves	to people who will be hostile to you … wolves wise	as clever
serpents	snakes are doves	small birds are

Matthew 10:17

ULT	UST
But beware of the men, for they will hand you over to councils, and they will whip you in their synagogues;	Watch out for certain people. They will arrest you and accuse you in front of groups of important people. They will beat you in the Jewish meeting places.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a development of what Jesus said in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the men
UST certain people
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Jesus is referring to men in general, some of whom will persecute and harm the disciples. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [others] or [people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the men
UST certain people
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [the men and women] or [the people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT for
(γὰρ)

The word for introduces a reason why the disciples should beware of the men. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [because] or [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT they will hand you over to UST They will arrest you and accuse you in front of (παραδώσουσιν & ὑμᾶς εἰς)

The phrase hand you over refers to putting someone under the authority and control of other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they will make you stand before] or [they will bring you before]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
councils	groups of important people
synagogues	the Jewish meeting places

Matthew 10:18

ULT	UST
and you will be brought also before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the Gentiles.	Because you are my apprentices, people will accuse you before local rulers and kings. That way, you will tell those rulers and the rest of the non-Jews {about me}.

ULT you will be brought
UST people will accuse you
(ἀχθήσεσθε)

The phrase you will be brought refers to being arrested and accused before someone in authority. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you will be seized and put on trial]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you will be brought
UST people will accuse you
(ἀχθήσεσθε)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [they will bring you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT for my sake
UST Because you are my apprentices
(ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ)

Jesus means that these things will happen because the disciples are connected with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [because of me] or [because you follow me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for a testimony
UST That way, you will tell … about me
(εἰς μαρτύριον)

The phrase for a testimony could introduce: (1) the purpose for which God allows the disciples to be brought before governors and kings. Alternate translation: [and that way you can give testimony]; (2) the result of the disciples being brought before governors and kings. Alternate translation: [and as a result, you will give testimony]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT for a testimony
UST That way, you will tell … about me
(εἰς μαρτύριον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of testimony, you could express the same idea in another way. Make sure that your translation matches the option you chose in the previous note. Alternate translation: [which will happen so that you can testify] or [and as a result you will testify]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to them
UST those rulers
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them could refer to: (1) the governors and kings. Alternate translation: [to these authorities]; (2) the people who brought them before the governors and kings. Alternate translation: [to your accusers]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
governors	local rulers
kings	kings
a testimony	you will tell … about me to the Gentiles	the rest of the non-Jews

Matthew 10:19

ULT	UST
But when they hand you over, do not worry about how or what you will speak, for what you will say will be given to you in that hour.	Whenever people arrest you and accuse you, do not worry about how you will respond. At that time, God will reveal to you what you should say.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a development of what Jesus said in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Now]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT they hand you over
UST people arrest you and accuse you
(παραδῶσιν ὑμᾶς)

The pronoun they refers to any person who hands the disciples over. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to any person. Alternate translation: [somebody hands you over] or [anyone hands you over]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they hand you over
UST people arrest you and accuse you
(παραδῶσιν ὑμᾶς)

The phrase hand you over refers to putting someone under the authority and control of other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they seize you] or [they bring you before the authorities]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you will speak
UST you will respond
(λαλήσητε)

Jesus implies that the disciples will be required to speak in their defense after people hand them over. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you will speak when they accuse you] or [you will speak in your defense]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT what you will say will be given to you
UST God will reveal to you what you should say (δοθήσεται & ὑμῖν & τί λαλήσητε)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will give to you what you will say]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT in that hour
UST At that time
(ἐν ἐκείνῃ τῇ ὥρᾳ)

The phrase in that hour refers to the time during which they will speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at that moment]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
hour	time

Matthew 10:20

ULT	UST
For you are not the one speaking, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.	{You can be sure of that} because the Holy Spirit, whom God your Father sends, will reveal to you what to say. You will not speak for yourself.

ULT For
UST {You can be sure of that} because
(γὰρ)

The word For introduces a reason why the disciples can be confident that they will be given what to say (see 10:19). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [You can be confident because] or [Do not be anxious, since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you are not the one speaking, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you
UST the Holy Spirit, whom God your Father sends, will reveal to you what to say. You will not speak for yourself
(οὐ & ὑμεῖς ἐστε οἱ λαλοῦντες, ἀλλὰ τὸ Πνεῦμα τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν τὸ λαλοῦν ἐν ὑμῖν)

Jesus means that they will not say whatever they think but will instead say what the Spirit reveals to them. He does not mean that the Spirit will use their bodies to project his voice. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you are not speaking your own words, but the words you speak come from the Spirit of your Father]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the Spirit of your Father
UST the Holy Spirit, whom God your Father sends (τὸ Πνεῦμα τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

The phrase the Spirit of your Father refers to the Holy Spirit, whom the Father sends. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [the Holy Spirit, sent by your Father,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT of your Father
> UST whom God your Father sends
> (τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

Father is an important title for the first person in the Trinity. He is the Father also of Jesus.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT of your Father speaking
> UST whom God your Father sends, will reveal … what to say
> (τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν τὸ λαλοῦν)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [of your Father is the one speaking]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Spirit	the Holy Spirit
of … Father	whom God your Father sends

Matthew 10:21

ULT	UST
Now brother will hand over brother to death, and a father, his child, and children will rise up against parents and put them to death.	Men will have someone arrest their own brothers, and they will ask the judge to execute them. Fathers {will do the same thing} to their own children. Children will rebel against their parents and cause them to die.

ULT will hand over brother to death
UST will have someone arrest their own brothers, and they will ask the judge to execute them
(παραδώσει & ἀδελφὸν εἰς θάνατον)

The phrase hand over refers to putting someone under the authority and control of other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will seize brother to cause his death] or [will bring brother before the authorities to cause his death]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to death
UST to execute them
(εἰς θάνατον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of death, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to be killed]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT a father, his child
UST Fathers {will do the same thing} to their own children
(πατὴρ τέκνον)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from earlier in the sentence. Alternate translation: [a father will hand over his child to death]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT will rise up against
> UST will rebel against > (ἐπαναστήσονται & ἐπὶ)

The phrase rise up against refers to rebelling against an authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will defy]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT put them to death
> UST cause them to die
> (θανατώσουσιν αὐτούς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of death, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [cause them to die]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

Matthew 10:22

ULT	UST
And you will be hated by all because of my name, but the one having endured to the end, this one will be saved.	Because you are my apprentices, many people will be hostile to you. However, if you persevere {in being my apprentices} while people harm you, God will rescue you.

ULT you will be hated by all
UST many people will be hostile to you (ἔσεσθε μισούμενοι ὑπὸ πάντων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [all will hate you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT all
UST many people
(πάντων)

Matthew is using the adjective all as a noun to mean all people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [all people] or [everyone]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT all
UST many people
(πάντων)

Jesus says all here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [most people]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT because of my name
UST Because you are my apprentices
(διὰ τὸ ὄνομά μου)

Here, name represents the person whose name it is. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the one having endured to the end, this one will be saved
UST if you persevere {in being my apprentices} while people harm you, God will rescue you (ὁ & ὑπομείνας εἰς τέλος, οὗτος σωθήσεται)

Jesus is speaking of anyone who endures, not of one particular person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [those who endure to the end, they will be saved]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT to the end
UST while people harm you
(εἰς τέλος)

The phrase the end could refer to: (1) the time when the persecution of the person who is enduring ceases. Alternate translation: [to the end of the persecution]; (2) the time when Jesus comes back. Alternate translation: [until when I return]; (3) the person's death. Alternate translation: [until he dies]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT this one will be saved
UST God will rescue you
(οὗτος σωθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will save this one]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having endured	if you persevere {in being my apprentices}
will be saved	God will rescue

Matthew 10:23

ULT	UST
But whenever they persecute you in this city, flee to the next, for truly I say to you, you will certainly not finish the cities of Israel before the Son of Man comes.	When people in one city try to harm you, you should quickly travel to another city. {You should do that} because I, the Son of Man, will return before you have proclaimed the good news in every town in Israel. What I have said is true.

ULT they persecute
UST try to harm
(διώκωσιν)

The pronoun they refers to any person who persecutes the disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to any person. Alternate translation: [somebody persecutes] or [anyone persecutes]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT in this city
UST people in one city
(ἐν τῇ πόλει ταύτῃ)

The phrase this city represents any specific city, not the city where Jesus currently is. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in a city]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT the next
UST another city
(τὴν ἑτέραν)

Matthew is using the adjective next as a noun to mean the next city. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the next city]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT for
UST {You should do that} because
(γὰρ)

The word for introduces a reason why the disciples should quickly go from one city to the next. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a command, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [because] or [which you should do because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT you will certainly not finish
UST you have proclaimed the good news in (οὐ μὴ τελέσητε)

Here Jesus means that they will not finish preaching the good news in the cities of Israel. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you will certainly not finish preaching in] or [you will certainly not finish working in]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT certainly not
(οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

> ULT before the Son of Man comes
> UST I, the Son of Man, will return before
> (ἕως ἂν ἔλθῃ ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Christians disagree as to what the clause the Son of Man comes refers. It could describe Jesus' second coming; the time when the Romans destroyed Jerusalem, which was Jesus coming to judge and punish; Jesus' ascension to be enthroned in heaven; or Jesus' appearances to the disciples after his resurrection; or several other events. If possible, express the idea here in such a way that all of these options are possible. Alternate translation: [before the Son of Man comes again] or [before the coming of the Son of Man]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

> ULT the Son of Man comes
> UST I, the Son of Man, will return before
> (ἂν ἔλθῃ ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, the Son of Man, come]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they persecute	try to harm
truly	What I have said is true
of Israel	in Israel
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man

Matthew 10:24

ULT	UST
A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a slave above his master.	Apprentices are not greater than their teacher. Similarly, servants are not greater than their master.

ULT A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a slave above his master
UST Apprentices are not greater than their teacher. Similarly, servants are not greater than their master (οὐκ ἔστιν μαθητὴς ὑπὲρ τὸν διδάσκαλον, οὐδὲ δοῦλος ὑπὲρ τὸν κύριον αὐτοῦ)

Jesus uses or invents a proverb in order to teach that no disciple is above his or her teacher, and no slave is above his or her master. He applies this proverb to his disciples to show them that people will not treat them any better than they treated Jesus. Translate this proverb in such a way that it will be recognized as a proverb and will be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [Disciples are not above their teachers, and slaves are not above their masters] or [No disciple is above his teacher. No slave is above his master]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT above … above
UST greater than … are … greater than (ὑπὲρ)

Jesus is speaking of people who have more honor and importance than others as if they were above the others. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a comparable word or phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [more honorable than … more honorable than] or [more significant than … more significant than]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his … his
UST their teacher … their (τὸν & αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT nor a slave
> UST Similarly, servants … not > (οὐδὲ δοῦλος)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [nor is a slave]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
A disciple	Apprentices
teacher	their teacher
a slave	servants
master	master

Matthew 10:25

ULT	UST
It is enough for the disciple that he might be like his teacher, and the slave like his master. If they called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much worse the members of his household!	Those apprentices should be content when they become like their teacher. Similarly, those servants {should be content when they become} like their master. Since people called the person who leads the family Satan, they will also call the people who are part of the family {bad names}.

ULT It is enough for the disciple that he might be like his teacher, and the slave like his master
UST Those apprentices should be content when they become like their teacher. Similarly, those servants {should be content when they become} like their master (ἀρκετὸν τῷ μαθητῇ ἵνα γένηται ὡς ὁ διδάσκαλος αὐτοῦ, καὶ ὁ δοῦλος ὡς ὁ κύριος αὐτοῦ)

Jesus continues to develop the proverb that he used in the previous verse (10:24) to teach that each disciple and slave should be content to be like their teacher or master. He applies this proverb to his disciples to show them that they should be content to be like Jesus. Translate this proverb in such a way that it will be recognized as a proverb and will be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [Disciples should be content to be like their teachers, and slaves should be content to be like their masters] or [This is sufficient: the disciple is to be like his teacher, and the slave is to be like his master]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT It is enough for the disciple that he might be like his teacher
UST Those apprentices should be content when they become like their teacher (ἀρκετὸν τῷ μαθητῇ ἵνα γένηται ὡς ὁ διδάσκαλος αὐτοῦ)

The phrase It is enough indicates that something is sufficient or satisfying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the disciple should be satisfied to be like his teacher]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT for the disciple … the slave
> UST Those apprentices … those servants
> (τῷ μαθητῇ & ὁ δοῦλος)

The phrases the disciple and the slave represent any disciples or slaves, not one particular disciple or slave. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for any disciple … any slave]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT he might be … his … his > UST they become … their … their > (γένηται & αὐτοῦ & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms he and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [he or she might be … his or her … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT and the slave
> UST Similarly, those servants
> (καὶ ὁ δοῦλος)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and it is enough for the slave that he might be]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT If they called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much worse the members of his household
UST Since people called the person who leads the family Satan, they will also call the people who are part of the family {bad names}
(εἰ τὸν οἰκοδεσπότην Βεελζεβοὺλ ἐπεκάλεσαν, πόσῳ μᾶλλον τοὺς οἰκιακοὺς αὐτοῦ)

Jesus applies the proverb more directly to himself and his disciples. He speaks of himself as the master of the house and his disciples as the members of his household. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or include the meaning of the figure of speech. Alternate translation: [I am like the master of the house, and you are like the members of my household. If they called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much worse the members of his household] or [If they called me, the master of the house, Beelzebul, how much worse you, the members of the household]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT If
UST Since
(εἰ)

Jesus speaks as if this were a hypothetical situation, but he means that it is true. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, and if your readers might think that what Jesus is saying is uncertain, then you could translate his words as an affirmative statement. Alternate translation: [Given that] or [Because]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

ULT they called
UST people called (ἐπεκάλεσαν)

The pronoun they refers to any person who called Jesus Beelzebul. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to any person who does that. Alternate translation: [some people called] or [his enemies called]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT how much worse
UST they will also call … bad names
(πόσῳ μᾶλλον)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [how much worse names will they call]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT his
UST the people who are part of the family
(αὐτοῦ)

Since Jesus applies this proverb in such a way that he is the master of the house, the word his refers specifically to Jesus. Jesus is not using the word generically here. Preserve the reference to a specific man. Alternate translation: [the master's]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
for the disciple	Those apprentices
teacher	teacher
slave	those servants
master	master
they called	people called master of the house	the person who leads the family
Beelzebul	Satan
members of … household	the people who are part of the family

Matthew 10:26

ULT	UST
Therefore, do not fear them, for there is nothing concealed that will not be revealed, and hidden, that will not be made known.	So then, do not be afraid of those people. {I say that} because someday God will let everyone know everything people are trying to hide.

ULT them
UST those people
(αὐτούς)

The pronoun them refers to the people mentioned in the previous verse who called the master of the house and his household names. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea as you did in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [that kind of person] or [those enemies]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT for
UST {I say that} because
(γάρ)

The word for introduces a reason why the disciples should not fear them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT there is nothing concealed that will not be revealed, and hidden, that will not be made known
> UST someday God will let everyone know everything people are trying to hide
> (οὐδὲν & ἐστιν κεκαλυμμένον ὃ οὐκ ἀποκαλυφθήσεται, καὶ κρυπτὸν ὃ οὐ γνωσθήσεται)

Jesus uses or invents a proverb in order to teach that things that appear to be concealed or hidden will eventually be revealed or made known. Translate this proverb in such a way that it will be recognized as a proverb and be meaningful in your language and culture. Jesus could be applying this proverb: (1) to things that people do in secret to hurt or harm his disciples, things that will be made known to everyone. Alternate translation: [everything that people conceal will be revealed, and everything that people hide will be made known]; (2) to the gospel message, that was or is concealed but that will be made known to everyone. Alternate translation: [the message that is concealed will be revealed, and the message that is hidden will be made known]

Support Reference: Proverbs

> ULT there is nothing concealed that will not be revealed, and hidden, that will not be made known
> UST someday God will let everyone know everything people are trying to hide
> (οὐδὲν & ἐστιν κεκαλυμμένον ὃ οὐκ ἀποκαλυφθήσεται, καὶ κρυπτὸν ὃ οὐ γνωσθήσεται)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could combine the two clauses into one. Alternate translation: [there is nothing concealed that will not be revealed; yes, there is nothing hidden that will not be made known] or [there is nothing hidden that will not be revealed]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT there is nothing concealed that will not be revealed, and hidden, that will not be made known
> UST someday God will let everyone know everything people are trying to hide
> (οὐδὲν & ἐστιν κεκαλυμμένον ὃ οὐκ ἀποκαλυφθήσεται, καὶ κρυπτὸν ὃ οὐ γνωσθήσεται)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could use positive expressions to translate these double negatives that consist of the negative word nothing, which is implied in the second clause, and the negative particle not. Alternate translation: [everything that is concealed will be revealed, and everything that is hidden will be made known]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

> ULT there is nothing concealed that will not be revealed, and hidden, that will not be made known
> UST someday God will let everyone know everything people are trying to hide
> (οὐδὲν & ἐστιν κεκαλυμμένον ὃ οὐκ ἀποκαλυφθήσεται, καὶ κρυπτὸν ὃ οὐ γνωσθήσεται)

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, Jesus could be implying: (1) that people do the concealing and hiding and God does the revealing and making known. This fits with the view that the proverb refers to how people persecute the disciples. Alternate translation: [there is nothing that people conceal that God will not reveal, and there is nothing that people hide that God will not make known]; (2) that God does both the concealing and hiding and the revealing and making known. This fits with the view that the proverb refers to preaching the gospel. Alternate translation: [there is nothing that God has concealed that he will not reveal, and there is nothing that God has hidden that he will not make known]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
do … fear	do … be afraid of
will … be made known	someday God will let everyone know everything people are trying to hide

Matthew 10:27

ULT	UST
What I tell you in the darkness, say in the light, and what you hear in your ear, proclaim upon the housetops.	You should declare publicly everything I have said to you privately. You should shout for everyone to hear what you have heard me say quietly.

ULT What I tell you in the darkness, say in the light, and what you hear in your ear, proclaim upon the housetops

UST You should declare publicly everything I have said to you privately. You should shout for everyone to hear what you have heard me say quietly

(ὃ λέγω ὑμῖν ἐν τῇ σκοτίᾳ, εἴπατε ἐν τῷ φωτί; καὶ ὃ εἰς τὸ οὖς ἀκούετε, κηρύξατε ἐπὶ τῶν δωμάτων)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [What I tell you in the darkness, say in the light. Again, what you hear in your ear, proclaim upon the housetops]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT in the darkness

UST privately

(ἐν τῇ σκοτίᾳ)

Jesus uses the image of darkness to represent the idea of concealment or secrecy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [secretly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the darkness

UST privately

(τῇ σκοτίᾳ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of darkness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in a dark place]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT in the light
> UST publicly
> (ἐν τῷ φωτί)

Jesus uses the image of light to represent the idea of no concealment or secrecy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [openly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT what you hear in your ear
> UST what you have heard me say quietly
> (ὃ εἰς τὸ οὖς ἀκούετε)

The phrase what you hear in your ear refers to something that a person told you quietly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what is whispered to you] or [what I say privately to you]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT upon the housetops
> UST for everyone to hear > (ἐπὶ τῶν δωμάτων)

Houses in Israel had flat roofs that were reached by stairs or ladders, so people could easily go up and stand on top of them. If houses are different in your culture and you think your readers might wonder how people would get up onto housetops and stand there, you could translate this with a general expression. Alternate translation: [from a high place from which everyone will be able to hear]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
proclaim	You should shout

Matthew 10:28

ULT	UST
And do not be afraid of the ones killing the body but not being able to kill the soul. But instead, fear the one being able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna.	Do not be afraid of people. They can kill you physically, but they cannot kill you spiritually. Instead, you should be afraid of God. He can destroy you both spiritually and physically in hell.

ULT the ones killing
UST people. They can kill (τῶν ἀποκτεννόντων)

The phrase the ones refers to humans in general. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [humans, the ones killing]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the body … the soul … both soul and body
UST you physically … you spiritually … both spiritually and physically
(τὸ σῶμα, τὴν & ψυχὴν & καὶ ψυχὴν καὶ σῶμα)

Jesus uses the words body and soul to distinguish between the physical and non-physical parts of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use words that describe the physical and non-physical parts of a person, or you could use more general expressions. Alternate translation: [your physical parts … your non-physical parts … both your physical and non-physical parts]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT But instead
UST Instead
(δὲ μᾶλλον)

Matthew contrasts fear of people with fear of God by using the phrase But instead. People are only able to kill our physical bodies, but God is the one being able to destroy both our physical bodies and our spiritual souls. Use a natural way in your language for introducing a contrast. Alternate translation: [But rather]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the one being able
UST God. He can (τὸν δυνάμενον)

The phrase the one refers to God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God, who is able]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Gehenna
UST hell
(Γεέννῃ)

Jesus uses the name Gehenna to refer to hell. The valley named Gehenna was outside the city of Jerusalem and was a place where people threw out and burned garbage. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a simile or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated this name in 5:22. Alternate translation: [a place like the valley of Gehenna] or [hell, which is like Gehenna]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
do … be afraid	Do … be afraid
soul	you spiritually
fear	you should be afraid of
to destroy	destroy you
soul	spiritually
Gehenna	hell

Matthew 10:29

ULT	UST
Are not two sparrows sold for an assarion? And yet not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father.	Think about the sparrows. {They have so little value that} you can buy two of them for only one small coin. However, God your Father knows about it whenever one sparrow dies.

ULT Are not two sparrows sold for an assarion? And yet not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father
UST Think about the sparrows. {They have so little value that} you can buy two of them for only one small coin. However, God your Father knows about it whenever one sparrow dies
(οὐχὶ δύο στρουθία ἀσσαρίου πωλεῖται? καὶ ἓν ἐξ αὐτῶν οὐ πεσεῖται ἐπὶ τὴν γῆν, ἄνευ τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

Jesus applies what he says here about sparrows to his disciples in 10:31. So, you do not need to include any implied information in this verse.

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT Are not two sparrows sold for an assarion
UST Think about the sparrows. {They have so little value that} you can buy two of them for only one small coin
(οὐχὶ δύο στρουθία ἀσσαρίου πωλεῖται)

Jesus is using the question form to show the disciples how inexpensive sparrows are. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Two sparrows are sold for an assarion.] or [You know that two sparrows are sold for an assarion!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Are not two sparrows sold for an assarion
UST Think about the sparrows. {They have so little value that} you can buy two of them for only one small coin
(οὐχὶ δύο στρουθία ἀσσαρίου πωλεῖται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Do people not sell two sparrows for an assarion]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT sparrows
UST Think about the sparrows. {They … } (στρουθία)

The word sparrows refers to small, seed-eating birds. If your readers would not know what sparrows are, you could use a general expression instead. Alternate translation: [small birds]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT for an assarion
UST for only one small coin
(ἀσσαρίου)

An assarion was a small copper coin equivalent to about half an hour's wage. You could try to express this amount in terms of current monetary values, but that might cause your Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate since those values can change over time. So instead, you might state something more general or give the equivalent in wages. Alternate translation: [for a small copper coin] or [for half an hour's wage]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

ULT not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father
UST God your Father knows about it whenever one sparrow dies
(ἓν ἐξ αὐτῶν οὐ πεσεῖται ἐπὶ τὴν γῆν, ἄνευ τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this double negative that consists of the negative particle not and the negative phrase apart from. Alternate translation: [each one of them falls to ground in the presence of your Father]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT will fall to the ground
UST whenever … dies
(πεσεῖται ἐπὶ τὴν γῆν)

The phrase fall to the ground refers politely to the sparrow dying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that politely refers to an animal dying, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will pass away] or [will perish]

Support Reference: Euphemism

ULT apart from your Father
UST God your Father knows about it
(ἄνευ τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

The phrase apart from your Father could indicate that something happens: (1) without the Father's knowledge. Alternate translation: [apart from the knowledge of your Father]; (2) without the Father's will. Alternate translation: [apart from the will of your Father]; (3) without the Father's care or interest. Alternate translation: [apart from the care of your Father]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT your Father
UST God your Father
(τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God, who is your Father,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Father	God … Father

Matthew 10:30

ULT	UST
But even the hairs of your head are all numbered.	God even knows how many hairs there are on your head.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a new but related idea. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a new but related idea, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Furthermore,] or [In fact,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT even the hairs of your head are all numbered
UST God even knows how many hairs there are on your head
(ὑμῶν & καὶ αἱ τρίχες τῆς κεφαλῆς πᾶσαι ἠριθμημέναι εἰσίν)

Jesus implies that God knows everything about the disciples, including how many hairs each disciple has on his or her head. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God knows everything about you, including the number of all the hairs on your head] or [God knows so much about you that even the hairs of your head are all numbered]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT even the hairs of your head are all numbered
UST God even knows how many hairs there are on your head
(ὑμῶν & καὶ αἱ τρίχες τῆς κεφαλῆς πᾶσαι ἠριθμημέναι εἰσίν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God has counted even all the hairs on your head]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT of your head
> UST on your head
> (ὑμῶν & τῆς κεφαλῆς)

The word head is a singular noun that refers to the "heads" of many people. It may be more natural in your language to use a plural form. Alternate translation: [of your heads] or [of each of your heads]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT are all numbered
> UST God … knows how many hairs there are > (πᾶσαι ἠριθμημέναι εἰσίν)

The word numbered can also refer to counting. Jesus is not necessarily saying that God has assigned a number to each individual hair on a person's head. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [have all been counted]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 10:31

ULT	UST
Therefore, do not fear; you are more valuable than many sparrows.	So, do not be afraid, because you are more precious {to God} than many sparrows.

ULT do not fear; you are more valuable than many sparrows
UST do not be afraid, because you are more precious {to God} than many sparrows
(μὴ & φοβεῖσθε; πολλῶν στρουθίων διαφέρετε ὑμεῖς)

The implication is that if God is aware of and concerned for sparrows, which are of less value, then God is certainly aware of and concerned for people, who are of greater value. And so followers of Jesus do not need to be afraid, since God is watching over them. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [since you are more valuable than many sparrows, God is certainly even more aware of you and concerned for you, and so you do not need to fear]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT sparrows
UST than … sparrows
(στρουθίων)

Translate this word as you did in 10:29. Alternate translation: [small birds]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
do … fear	do … be afraid

Matthew 10:32

ULT	UST
Therefore, everyone who will confess about me before men, I will also confess about him before my Father in the heavens.	If people tell others that they are my apprentices, then I will say to God my Father, who rules from heaven, that those people are my apprentices.

ULT Therefore
(οὖν)

The word Therefore introduces a conclusion based on what Jesus has said about persecution and following him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a conclusion, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [In conclusion] or [In the end]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT will confess about me before men
UST tell others that they are my apprentices
(ὁμολογήσει ἐν ἐμοὶ ἔμπροσθεν τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Jesus implies that the people confess that they follow Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [will confess before men that they follow me] or [will confess before men that they believe in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT before … before
UST others … to
(ἔμπροσθεν)

Alternate translation: [in the presence of … in the presence of]

ULT men
UST others
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word here in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [humans]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT I will also confess about him before my Father in the heavens
UST then I will say to God my Father, who rules from heaven, that those people are my apprentices
(ὁμολογήσω κἀγὼ ἐν αὐτῷ ἔμπροσθεν τοῦ Πατρός μου & ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

Jesus implies that he will confess that these people truly do follow him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [I will also confess before my Father in the heavens that he follows me] or [I will also confess before my Father in the heavens that he believes in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT him
UST will say … that those people are my apprentices
(αὐτῷ)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT my Father
UST God my Father
(τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT in the heavens
UST who rules from heaven
(ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

The phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will confess	tell … that they are my apprentices
will … confess	will say … that those people are my apprentices

ULT	UST
Father	God … Father
the heavens	who rules from heaven

Matthew 10:33

ULT	UST
But whoever denies me before men, I will also deny him before my Father in the heavens.	However, if they tell others that they are not my apprentices, then I will say to God my Father, who rules from heaven, that those people are not my apprentices.

ULT whoever denies me before men
UST if they tell others that they are not my apprentices
(ὅστις & ἂν ἀρνήσηταί με ἔμπροσθεν τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Jesus implies that the person denies that he or she follows Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [whoever denies before men that he or she follows me] or [whoever denies before men that he or she believes in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT before … before
UST others … to
(ἔμπροσθεν)

Alternate translation: [in the presence of … in the presence of]

ULT men
UST others
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word here in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [humans]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT I will also deny him before my Father in the heavens
UST then I will say to God my Father, who rules from heaven, that those people are not my apprentices
(ἀρνήσομαι κἀγὼ αὐτὸν ἔμπροσθεν τοῦ Πατρός μου & ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

Jesus implies that he will deny that these people truly do follow him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [I will also deny before my Father in the heavens that he follows me] or [I will also deny before my Father in the heavens that he believes in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT him
UST those people
(αὐτὸν)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT my Father
UST God my Father
(τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT in the heavens
UST who rules from heaven
(ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

The phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Father	God … Father

ULT	UST
the heavens	who rules from heaven

Matthew 10:34

ULT	UST
Do not think that I came to bring peace upon the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword.	You should not think that I am here so that people will live together peacefully. Indeed, I am here so that people quarrel, not so that they live peacefully.

> ULT I came … I did not come
> UST I am here … Indeed, I am here … not > (ἦλθον & οὐκ ἦλθον)

The words came and come refer to Jesus entering this world as a human to do what God called him to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I came to this world … I did not come to this world] or [I am acting … I am not acting]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT to bring peace … to bring peace, but a sword
> UST so that … will live together peacefully … so that people quarrel … so that they live peacefully
> (βαλεῖν εἰρήνην & βαλεῖν εἰρήνην, ἀλλὰ μάχαιραν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to make people get along with one another … to make people get along with one another, but I came to bring a sword]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT upon the earth
> UST people
> (ἐπὶ τὴν γῆν)

The phrase upon the earth refers to the people who live on the earth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to the people of the earth] or [among people]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT but a sword
UST so that people quarrel
(ἀλλὰ μάχαιραν)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from earlier in the sentence. Alternate translation: [but I came to bring a sword]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT a sword
UST so that people quarrel
(μάχαιραν)

The word sword represents strife or fighting. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [strife] or [conflict]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
peace	so that … will live together peacefully
earth	people
peace	so that they live peacefully
a sword	so that people quarrel

Matthew 10:35

ULT	UST
For I came to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law;	In fact, I am here so that {family members} oppose each other. A man will oppose his father. A woman will oppose her mother. A woman who married {a man} will oppose her husband's mother.

ULT For I came to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law … and the enemies of a man {will be} the ones of his household

UST In fact, I am here so that {family members} oppose each other. A man will oppose his father. A woman will oppose her mother. A woman who married {a man} will oppose her husband's mother … People who are part of a person's family will be those who oppose that person

(ἦλθον γὰρ διχάσαι ἄνθρωπον κατὰ τοῦ πατρὸς αὐτοῦ, καὶ θυγατέρα κατὰ τῆς μητρὸς αὐτῆς, καὶ νύμφην κατὰ τῆς πενθερᾶς αὐτῆς καὶ ἐχθροὶ τοῦ ἀνθρώπου οἱ οἰκιακοὶ αὐτοῦ) (10:35-36)

In these two verses, Jesus paraphrases or refers to an Old Testament passage, Micah 7:6. If it would be helpful in your language, you could format these words differently or indicate in a footnote that Jesus is referring to this passage. Alternate translation: [For I came "to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; and the enemies of a man will be the ones of his household."]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT For

UST In fact

(γὰρ)

The word For introduces a further explanation of what Jesus said in the previous verse about bringing a "sword". If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [Specifically,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

> ULT I came
> UST I am here
> (ἦλθον)

The word came refers to Jesus entering this world as a human to do what God called him to do. Express the idea as you did in 10:34. Alternate translation: [I came to this world] or [I am acting]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT to set
> UST so that {family members} oppose each other > (διχάσαι)

The word set refers to separating things so that they no longer go together. Jesus means that he will cause family members to quarrel and fight with each other. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to divide] or [to turn]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT a man
> UST A man
> (ἄνθρωπον)

Alternate translation: [a son]

> ULT and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law
> UST A woman will oppose her mother. A woman who married {a man} will oppose her husband's mother > (καὶ θυγατέρα κατὰ τῆς μητρὸς αὐτῆς, καὶ νύμφην κατὰ τῆς πενθερᾶς αὐτῆς)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and to set a daughter against her mother, and to set a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

Matthew 10:36

ULT	UST
and the enemies of a man {will be} the ones of his household.	People who are part of a person's family will be those who oppose that person.

ULT of a man … his
UST a person's … that person
(τοῦ ἀνθρώπου & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [of a man or woman … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the enemies	will be those who oppose of … household	People who are part of … family

Matthew 10:37

ULT	UST
The one loving father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and the one loving son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.	People who care for their fathers or mothers more than they care for me are not behaving as my apprentices should. People who care for their sons or daughters more than they care for me are not behaving as my apprentices should.

ULT more than me … more than me
UST more than they care for me … more than they care for me
(ὑπὲρ ἐμὲ)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [more than he or she loves me … more than he or she loves me]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT is not worthy of me … is not worthy of me
UST are not behaving as my apprentices should … are not behaving as my apprentices should (οὐκ ἔστιν μου ἄξιος)

The phrase worthy of me indicates that the person deserves or is fit to be Jesus' disciple. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [does not deserve to be my disciple … does not deserve to be my disciple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
loving	People who care for
loving	People who care for

Matthew 10:38

ULT	UST
And whoever does not take up his cross and follow after me is not worthy of me.	People who are not willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses, when they come with me as my apprentices are not behaving as my apprentices should.

ULT whoever does not take up his cross and follow after me is not worthy of me
UST People who are not willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses, when they come with me as my apprentices are not behaving as my apprentices should (ὃς οὐ λαμβάνει τὸν σταυρὸν αὐτοῦ καὶ ἀκολουθεῖ ὀπίσω μου, οὐκ ἔστιν μου ἄξιος)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this sentence that has two negatives. Alternate translation: [whoever is worthy of me takes up his cross and follows after me]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT does not take up his cross
UST are not willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses
(οὐ λαμβάνει τὸν σταυρὸν αὐτοῦ)

Jesus assumes that the disciples will know that the Romans executed some criminals by nailing them to a wooden beam with crossbar that was set upright so that the criminals would slowly suffocate. Jesus also assumes that the disciples will know that the Romans made these criminals carry these wooden crosses through the streets to the place where they were going to be executed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some of this information more explicit. Alternate translation: [does not take up the wooden cross on which he will be executed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT does not take up his cross
UST are not willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses
(οὐ λαμβάνει τὸν σταυρὸν αὐτοῦ)

Jesus speaks of taking up a cross in order to describe people who are ready and willing to suffer and even die because they follow Jesus. Because this figure of speech is connected to how Jesus himself died on a cross, if possible you should preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [is not ready to suffer, which is like taking up his cross,] or [does not take up his cross, ready to suffer or die,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his
UST are … willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses
(αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT is not worthy of me
UST are not behaving as my apprentices should (οὐκ ἔστιν μου ἄξιος)

See how you translated the phrase worthy of me in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [does not deserve to be my disciple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
cross	are … willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses

Matthew 10:39

ULT	UST
The one having found his life will lose it, and the one having lost his life for my sake will find it.	People who do anything to stay alive will not truly live. However, people who are willing to die because they are my apprentices will truly live.

ULT The one having found his life will lose it, and the one having lost his life for my sake will find it
UST People who do anything to stay alive will not truly live. However, people who are willing to die because they are my apprentices will truly live
(ὁ εὑρὼν τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ἀπολέσει αὐτήν; καὶ ὁ ἀπολέσας τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ εὑρήσει αὐτήν)

Jesus speaks of how people's attitudes toward their current lives affects their eternal lives after they resurrect. He means that those having found their current lives will lose their eternal, resurrection lives, and that those having lost their current lives will find their eternal, resurrection lives. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [The one having found his current life will lose it forever, and the one having lost his current life for my sake will find it forever]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT The one having found his life will lose it
UST People who do anything to stay alive will not truly live
(ὁ εὑρὼν τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ἀπολέσει αὐτήν)

Jesus speaks of trying to preserve one's life as if it were finding it. He speaks of dying as if it were losing one's life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The one having preserved his life will die]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his … his
UST People who do anything to stay alive … people who are willing to die
(αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT the one having lost his life for my sake will find it
> UST people who are willing to die because they are my apprentices will truly live
> (ὁ ἀπολέσας τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ εὑρήσει αὐτήν)

Jesus speaks of dying or being willing to die as losing one's life. He speaks of experiencing eternal life as if it were finding one's life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one having died for my sake will have eternal life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT for my sake
> UST because they are my apprentices
> (ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ)

When Jesus says for my sake, he means that some people will lose their lives because they are his disciples. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [because he is my disciple] or [because he believes in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will lose	will not truly live
having lost	people who are willing to die

Matthew 10:40

ULT	UST
The one receiving you receives me, and the one receiving me receives the one having sent me.	When people welcome you, it is the same as welcoming me. When people welcome me, it is the same as welcoming {God the Father}, who sent me here.

ULT The one receiving you receives me
UST When people welcome you, it is the same as welcoming me
(ὁ δεχόμενος ὑμᾶς ἐμὲ δέχεται)

Jesus speaks as if people who receive the disciples were actually receiving him. He means that these people, by receiving the disciples, show that they would receive Jesus too. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [If someone receives you, it is as if he or she received me] or [The one receiving you proves that he or she would receive me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the one receiving me receives the one having sent me
UST When people welcome me, it is the same as welcoming {God the Father}, who sent me here
(ὁ ἐμὲ δεχόμενος δέχεται τὸν ἀποστείλαντά με)

Jesus speaks as if people who receive him were actually receiving God, who sent him. He means that these people, by receiving him, show that they would receive God too. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [if someone receives me, it is as if he or she received the one having sent me] or [the one receiving me proves that he or she would receive the one having sent me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the one having sent me
UST {God the Father}, who sent me here
(τὸν ἀποστείλαντά με)

Jesus implies that the one having sent him is God the Father. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God, who sent me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
receiving	When people welcome
receives	it is the same as welcoming
receiving	When people welcome
receives	it is the same as welcoming

Matthew 10:41

ULT	UST
The one receiving a prophet in the name of a prophet will receive a reward of a prophet, and the one receiving a righteous {man} in the name of a righteous {man} will receive a reward of a righteous {man}.	As for those who welcome someone because they know that person speaks for God, God will reward them in the same way that he rewards people who speak for him. As for those who welcome someone because they know that person does what is right, God will reward them in the same way that he rewards people who do what is right.

ULT The one receiving a prophet in the name of a prophet will receive a reward of a prophet, and the one receiving a righteous {man} in the name of a righteous {man} will receive a reward of a righteous {man}
UST As for those who welcome someone because they know that person speaks for God, God will reward them in the same way that he rewards people who speak for him. As for those who welcome someone because they know that person does what is right, God will reward them in the same way that he rewards people who do what is right
(ὁ δεχόμενος προφήτην εἰς ὄνομα προφήτου, μισθὸν προφήτου λήμψεται; καὶ ὁ δεχόμενος δίκαιον εἰς ὄνομα δικαίου, μισθὸν δικαίου λήμψεται)

Jesus uses or invents two similar proverbs in order to teach that people who help others who are serving God will be rewarded in a fitting way. Translate these proverbs in a way that will be recognized as proverbs and be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [If you receive a prophet in the name of a prophet, you will receive the reward of a prophet. If you receive a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, you will receive the reward of a righteous man]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT in the name of a prophet … in the name of a righteous {man}
UST because they know that person speaks for God … because they know that person does what is right
(εἰς ὄνομα προφήτου & εἰς ὄνομα δικαίου)

Here, the phrase in the name of indicates that the reason for receiving a person is the recognition or knowledge that the person being received is a prophet or righteous {man}. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with the knowledge that he is a prophet … with the knowledge that he is a righteous man] or [because he is a prophet … because he is a righteous man]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT a reward of a prophet … a reward of a righteous {man}
UST God will reward … in the same way that he rewards people who speak for him … God will reward … in the same way that he rewards people who do what is right
(μισθὸν προφήτου & μισθὸν δικαίου)

Jesus could be using the possessive form to indicate that a person receives: (1) the same reward that a prophet or righteous person receives from God. Alternate translation: [the same reward that a prophet receives … the same reward that a righteous man receives]; (2) the reward that a prophet or righteous person gives. Alternate translation: [a reward from a prophet … a reward from a righteous man]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT a righteous {man} … of a righteous {man} … of a righteous {man}
UST someone … that person does what is right … in the same way that he rewards people who do what is right
(δίκαιον & δικαίου & δικαίου)

Although the term righteous {man} is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a righteous person … of a righteous person … of a righteous person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
receiving	As for those who welcome
a prophet	someone
of a prophet	that person speaks for God
will receive	them
a reward	God will reward
of a prophet	in the same way that he rewards people who speak for him
receiving	As for those who welcome
a righteous {man}	someone of a righteous {man}	that person does what is right
will receive	them
a reward	God will reward
of a righteous {man}	in the same way that he rewards people who do what is right

Matthew 10:42

ULT	UST
And whoever gives to one of these little ones a cup of cold water to drink only in the name of a disciple, truly I say to you, he will certainly not lose his reward."	As for those who offer an unimportant person cold water to drink just because they know that person is my apprentice, God will most certainly reward them. What I have said is true."

ULT whoever gives to one of these little ones a cup of cold water to drink
UST As for those who offer an unimportant person cold water to drink
(ὃς ἐὰν ποτίσῃ ἕνα τῶν μικρῶν τούτων ποτήριον ψυχροῦ)

Jesus speaks about giving someone a cup of cold water to drink as an example of one small way in which a person can help another person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate that this is an example, or you could use a more general expression. Alternate translation: [whoever, for example, gives to one of these little ones a cup of cold water to drink] or [whoever helps one of these little ones in any way]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to one of these little ones
UST an unimportant person
(ἕνα τῶν μικρῶν τούτων)

Jesus refers to people whom others consider unimportant or insignificant as if they were little. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to any person whom people ignore] or [to an insignificant person]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT only in the name of a disciple
UST just because they know that person is my apprentice
(μόνον εἰς ὄνομα μαθητοῦ)

See how you translated the phrase in the name of in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [with only the knowledge that this person is a disciple] or [simply because this person is a disciple]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT he will certainly not lose
UST God will most certainly (οὐ μὴ ἀπολέσῃ)

Jesus is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative phrase, certainly not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning, lose. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [he will most certainly receive]

Support Reference: Litotes

ULT he will certainly not lose his
UST God will most certainly … them
(οὐ μὴ ἀπολέσῃ & αὐτοῦ)

Although the term he is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [that person will certainly not lose his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT certainly not
UST God will most certainly
(οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of a disciple	that person is my apprentice
truly	What I have said is true
he will … lose	God will most certainly reward	reward

Matthew 11

Matthew 11 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus teaches about the gospel of the kingdom of God, and opposition to Jesus begins (11:1–12:50)
    - Jesus and John the Baptist (11:1–19)
        - John asks about who Jesus is (11:1–6)
        - Jesus teaches about John (11:7–15)
        - Jesus speaks about himself and John (11:16–19)
    - Judgment on Galilean cities (11:20–24)
    - Jesus speaks about his ministry (11:25–30)

Some translations set quotations from the Old Testament farther to the right on the page than the rest of the text. The ULT does this with the quotation from Malachi 3:1 in 11:10.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

"Elijah"

In 11:14, Jesus says that John the Baptist is "Elijah, the one being about to come." Here Jesus refers to a prophecy in Malachi 4:5–6 that indicates that God will send "Elijah" to prepare the way before God comes to judge his enemies and reward his people. Malachi is referring to a prophet who lived even earlier. This prophet, named Elijah, performed many miracles and spoke messages from God (see 1 Kings 17–19 and 2 Kings 2:1–17). So, when Jesus says that John is "Elijah," he means that John fulfills the prophecy in Malachi that someone like the prophet Elijah will prepare the way before God comes to judge and reward people. If your readers would not know the prophecy in Malachi or the stories about the prophet Elijah, you may need to include some of this information in your translation or in a footnote.

The day of judgment

In 11:21–24, Jesus refers to "the day of judgment." He says that, on that day, it will be more tolerable for wicked people who lived in cities like Tyre, Sidon, and Sodom than it will be for people who reject Jesus' ministry in cities like Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum. The phrase "day of judgment" refers to a specific time in the future when God will judge everyone, punish those who disobey him, and reward those who believe in and obey him. What Jesus means is that even wicked people who lived in cities like Tyre, Sidon, and Sodom will receive less punishment than people who reject him and his message. See the notes on these verses for translation options.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The comparison with children in 11:16–19

In these verses, Jesus compares how people treat him and John with how children play in the marketplace. There are two primary ways to understand the comparison. First, Jesus and John could be like the children who play flutes or sing funeral songs. In this case, Jesus is saying that people reject both John's mournful ministry and Jesus' joyful ministry. Second, the people whom Jesus is speaking about could be like the children who play flutes or sing funeral songs. In this case, Jesus is saying that these people are upset that John and Jesus do not behave as they want them to behave. Since both of these options have similar meanings, and because Jesus does not clearly explain which option he intended, if possible express the comparison in such a way that either interpretation could make sense.

Jesus rebuking cities in 11:20–24

In these verses, Jesus speaks to specific cities as if they were among the crowds who were listening to him. He speaks in this way to express his attitude towards these cities. Further, when Jesus refers to the cities, he uses their names to refer to the people who live in those cities. So, when Jesus speaks directly to Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum, he is expressing his attitude toward the people who live in those cities. See the notes on these verses for translation strategies and options.

The yoke and burden metaphor in 11:28–30

In these verses, Jesus promises rest, an easy yoke, and a light burden to those who are laboring and heavy-burdened. There are several ways to understand these images. First, Jesus could be referring to how people struggle and suffer for many reasons, and he promises to make these things better. Second, Jesus could be referring to how people struggle to obey what the religious leaders say to do, and he promises to give them better and easier commands. Third, Jesus could be referring to how people suffer under the Roman empire, and he promises to be a better leader and ruler. Since Jesus is speaking to a crowd of people, most likely he used the images of yokes and burdens so that what he was saying would be relevant to all the people, no matter what they were struggling with. So, if possible preserve the figure of speech or express the idea in a general way that could refer to many different difficult or hard things.

The meaning of 11:12

This verse contains two clauses, and both clauses can be interpreted in several ways. First, there are several options for understanding the meaning of the clause "the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence":

1. The "kingdom" could be what experiences the "violence." In this case, the violence could come from:
    - people who hate and attack the kingdom
    - people who want to make the kingdom stronger by using violence
2. The "kingdom" could be what performs the "violence." In this case, the kingdom advances or becomes stronger in forceful and powerful ways.

Second, there are also several options for understanding the meaning of the clause "violent men take it by force":

1. The "men" could be evil or wicked. In this case, they could be trying to:
    - attack and destroy the kingdom

    - take the kingdom away from Jesus and his disciples

2. The "men" could be trying to do what is right. In this case, they are trying to become part of the kingdom in forceful or powerful ways.

Almost any combination of these options is possible for understanding the meaning of the verse. However, the most common interpretations are these:

1. The kingdom experiences violence, and violent people attack it and try to destroy it
2. The kingdom advances forcefully, and forceful people want to be part of it
3. The kingdom advances forcefully, but violent people attack it and try to destroy it
4. Violent people want to make the kingdom stronger by violence, and they try to take the kingdom away from Jesus and his disciples

See the translation notes on this verse for possible ways to express the ideas. Since there are many ways to understand the verse, if possible make your translation general enough to allow for several or all of these interpretations.

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Most of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in speeches that Jesus gives to many people around him. Because of this, most forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 11:1

ULT	UST
And it happened that when Jesus had finished giving orders to his 12 disciples, he departed from there to teach and to preach in their cities.	So, Jesus completed instructing his 12 apprentices {about what they should do}. Then, he left that place in order to proclaim {the good news to people} in the towns throughout the area.

ULT And it happened that when Jesus had finished giving orders to his 12 disciples, he departed from there to teach and to preach in their cities
UST So, Jesus completed instructing his 12 apprentices {about what they should do}. Then, he left that place in order to proclaim {the good news to people} in the towns throughout the area
(καὶ ἐγένετο ὅτε ἐτέλεσεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς διατάσσων τοῖς δώδεκα μαθηταῖς αὐτοῦ, μετέβη ἐκεῖθεν τοῦ διδάσκειν καὶ κηρύσσειν ἐν ταῖς πόλεσιν αὐτῶν)

This sentence marks the end of Jesus' instructions by summarizing what Jesus did and then describing what he did next. Use the natural form in your language for expressing the conclusion of a story. Alternate translation: [Then Jesus finished giving orders to his 12 disciples. After that, he departed from there to teach and to preach in their cities]

Support Reference: End of Story

ULT he departed
UST Then, he left (μετέβη)

Matthew implies that the 12 disciples also left that place to do what Jesus had instructed them to do. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he sent them out, and then he departed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from there
UST that place
(ἐκεῖθεν)

The word there refers to the place where Jesus was when he gave his disciples the instructions that are quoted in the previous chapter. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from where he had been]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to teach and to preach
UST in order to proclaim {the good news … }
(τοῦ διδάσκειν καὶ κηρύσσειν)

The terms teach and preach mean similar things. Matthew is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [to teach frequently] or [to preach often]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT their cities
UST the towns throughout the area
(ταῖς πόλεσιν αὐτῶν)

The word their refers to Jewish people in general, particularly those who lived in Galilee. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [the Jewish cities] or [the cities in Galilee]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
to … disciples	apprentices
to preach	in order to proclaim {the good news … }
to … 12 disciples	12 apprentices

Matthew 11:2

ULT	UST
Now John, having heard in the prison about the deeds of Christ, having sent through his disciples,	Meanwhile, John the Baptizer was in jail. People told him about what {Jesus} the Messiah was doing. So, he sent some of his apprentices

ULT Now
UST Meanwhile
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT John, having heard in the prison about UST John the Baptizer was in jail. People told him about (ὁ & Ἰωάννης, ἀκούσας ἐν τῷ δεσμωτηρίῳ)

Matthew has not yet told the story of why John was in prison. Since Matthew narrates this story in 14:4–5, you do not need to explain it to your reader here. If it would be helpful in your language, you could clarify that John is in the prison when he hears about the deeds of Christ. Alternate translation: [John, who was in prison, having heard about]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT the deeds of Christ
UST what {Jesus} the Messiah was doing
(τὰ ἔργα τοῦ Χριστοῦ)

Matthew is using the possessive form to describe deeds that Christ did. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the deeds that Christ had done]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT having sent through his disciples
UST So, he sent some of his apprentices
(πέμψας διὰ τῶν μαθητῶν αὐτοῦ)

Matthew means that John sent his disciples to Jesus and had them speak to Jesus for him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [having sent his disciples to speak to Jesus for him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT his
UST his
(αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun his refers to John. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to him more directly. Alternate translation: [his own]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John	John the Baptizer
of Christ	{Jesus} the Messiah
disciples	some of … apprentices

Matthew 11:3

ULT	UST
said to him, "Are you the one coming, or should we expect another?"	to ask Jesus, "Are you the one whom {God promised} would come, or should we be waiting for someone else?"

ULT you
UST you
(σὺ)

Since John's disciples are talking to Jesus, the word you in this verse is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT the one coming
UST the one whom {God promised} would come (ὁ ἐρχόμενος)

John uses the phrase the one coming to refer to a special person whom God promised would come and help God's people. People sometimes called this special person "the Messiah." If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [the special person whom God said would come] or [the Messiah whom God said would come]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT should we expect another
UST should we be waiting for someone else
(ἕτερον προσδοκῶμεν)

John is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [should we expect another person to be the coming one]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

Matthew 11:4

ULT	UST
And answering, Jesus said to them, "Having gone, report to John what you hear and see.	So Jesus answered John's apprentices, "Go back and tell John what you have heard and seen.

ULT answering, Jesus said
UST Jesus answered
(ἀποκριθεὶς ὁ Ἰησοῦς εἶπεν)

Together the words answering and said mean that Jesus responded to the question that John's disciples had asked him. Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [Jesus responded]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
report	and tell
to John	John

Matthew 11:5

ULT	UST
The blind see again, and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised, and the poor are being told the gospel.	People who were blind are now seeing. People who could not walk are now walking. People who had skin diseases no longer have them. People who were deaf can now hear. People who were dead are alive again. I am proclaiming good news to poor people.

ULT The blind see again, and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised, and the poor are being told the gospel
UST People who were blind are now seeing. People who could not walk are now walking. People who had skin diseases no longer have them. People who were deaf can now hear. People who were dead are alive again. I am proclaiming good news to poor people
(τυφλοὶ ἀναβλέπουσιν, καὶ χωλοὶ περιπατοῦσιν, λεπροὶ καθαρίζονται, καὶ κωφοὶ ἀκούουσιν, καὶ νεκροὶ ἐγείρονται, καὶ πτωχοὶ εὐαγγελίζονται)

When he answers John's disciples, Jesus lists many things that he has done. John's disciples would have known that this list is similar to the lists found in Isaiah 35:5–6 and Isaiah 61:1 that describe what will happen when God acts to help his people. Jesus does not directly quote either of these lists, but he wants John's disciples to know that what he has done is what God promised would happen when the Messiah came. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include a footnote that refers to the lists in Isaiah, or you could include a small amount of explanatory information. Alternate translation: [Just as God promised, the blind are seeing again, and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised, and the poor are being told the gospel]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT The blind … the lame … the deaf … the dead … the poor
UST People who were blind … People who could not walk … People who were deaf … People who were dead … to poor people
(τυφλοὶ & χωλοὶ & κωφοὶ & νεκροὶ & πτωχοὶ)

Jesus is using the adjectives blind, lame, deaf, dead, and poor as nouns in order to describe groups of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [Blind people … lame people … deaf people … dead people … poor people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT lepers are cleansed … the dead are raised, and the poor are being told the gospel
UST People who had skin diseases no longer have them … People who were dead are alive again. I am proclaiming good news to poor people (λεπροὶ καθαρίζονται & νεκροὶ ἐγείρονται, καὶ πτωχοὶ εὐαγγελίζονται)

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [lepers become clean … the dead come back to life, and the poor hear the gospel]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT lepers are cleansed
UST People who had skin diseases no longer have them
(λεπροὶ καθαρίζονται)

Much as in 10:8, Jesus speaks of ceremonially cleansing lepers, but he implies that the lepers are healed of their skin diseases, since these are what make lepers unclean. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [lepers are healed from their unclean diseases]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the dead are raised
UST People who were dead are alive again
(νεκροὶ ἐγείρονται)

The phrase the dead are raised refers to people who have died becoming alive again. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the dead live again]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
lepers	People who had skin diseases
are being told the gospel	I am proclaiming good news

Matthew 11:6

ULT	UST
And blessed is whoever is not caused to stumble on me.”	God will bless anyone who {sees what I do and hears what I teach and} continues to believe in me.”

ULT blessed is whoever
UST God will bless anyone who (μακάριός ἐστιν ὃς ἐὰν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [God will bless any person who]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT whoever is not caused to stumble on me
UST anyone who {sees what I do and hears what I teach and} continues to believe in me
(ὃς ἐὰν μὴ σκανδαλισθῇ ἐν ἐμοί)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [whoever does not stumble on me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT is not caused to stumble on me
UST {sees what I do and hears what I teach and} continues to believe in me (μὴ σκανδαλισθῇ ἐν ἐμοί)

Jesus speaks as if he were a lump or rock that people could stumble on. He means that some people will reject and desert him because of what he does and because of what will happen to him. However, those who do not reject or desert him will be blessed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [does not desert me because of what I do] or [does not run away from me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
blessed	God will bless

Matthew 11:7

ULT	UST
Now, {as} these were going on their way, Jesus began to say to the crowds concerning John, "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?	When John's apprentices left, Jesus started to talk to the large groups of people about John. He said, "Surely you did not travel to John in the desolate area to see someone who often changed his mind, who was like the thin stalk of a plant that the wind shakes.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT these
UST John's apprentices
(τούτων)

The pronoun these refers to John's disciples. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer more directly to these people. Alternate translation: [John's disciples]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind
UST He said, "Surely you did not travel to John in the desolate area to see someone who often changed his mind, who was like the thin stalk of a plant that the wind shakes
(τί ἐξήλθατε εἰς τὴν ἔρημον θεάσασθαι? κάλαμον ὑπὸ ἀνέμου σαλευόμενον)

Jesus is using the question form to teach the crowds about John. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate these questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [Surely you did not go out into the wilderness to see a reed shaken by the wind!] or [I know what you went out into the wilderness to see. It was not a reed shaken by the wind.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT What did you go out into the wilderness to see UST He said, "Surely you did not travel to John in the desolate area to see (τί ἐξήλθατε εἰς τὴν ἔρημον θεάσασθαι)

Jesus implies that the people went out to see and hear John the Baptist. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [When you visited John in the wilderness, what did you go out to see]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT A reed shaken by the wind
UST someone who often changed his mind, who was like the thin stalk of a plant that the wind shakes
(κάλαμον ὑπὸ ἀνέμου σαλευόμενον)

The phrase a reed being shaken by the wind could describe: (1) a person who changes his or her mind or message whenever there is any trouble or difficulty, just like a reed moves whenever the wind blows. Alternate translation: [a man who changes his message whenever it is convenient] or [a man who changes his mind as easily as a reed is shaken by the wind]; (2) something or someone ordinary, just like a reed being shaken by the wind was a common or normal sight in Matthew's culture. Alternate translation: [something ordinary, like a reed being shaken by the wind]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT A reed shaken by the wind
UST someone who often changed his mind, who was like the thin stalk of a plant that the wind shakes
(κάλαμον ὑπὸ ἀνέμου σαλευόμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a reed that the wind shakes]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
John	John
wilderness	to John in the desolate area

ULT	UST
A reed	someone who often changed his mind, who was like the thin stalk of a plant

Matthew 11:8

ULT	UST
But what did you go out to see? A man dressed in soft clothing? Behold, the ones wearing soft clothing are in the houses of the kings.	Surely you did not travel {to the desolate area} to see someone who wore fancy clothes. You know very well that the people who wear fancy clothes live in palaces{, not in desolate areas}.

ULT But
(ἀλλὰ)

The word But introduces a contrast with the possibility that Jesus asked about in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [If not that,] or [So,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT But what did you go out to see? A man dressed in soft clothing
UST Surely you did not travel {to the desolate area} to see someone who wore fancy clothes
(ἀλλὰ τί ἐξήλθατε ἰδεῖν? ἄνθρωπον ἐν μαλακοῖς ἠμφιεσμένον)

Jesus is using the question form to teach the crowds about John. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate these questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [Surely you did not go out to see a man dressed in soft clothing!] or [I know what you went out to see. It was not a man dressed in soft clothing.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT A man dressed in soft clothing
UST someone who wore fancy clothes
(ἄνθρωπον ἐν μαλακοῖς ἠμφιεσμένον)

Matthew assumes that readers will know that John wore crude, rugged clothing. Like his residence in the desert, his clothing was a symbolic protest against the established order. As such, it would have been offensive rather than attractive. So no one would have gone out just to see a person dressed that way. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [A man wearing splendid clothing? You would not have gone to hear John if that was what you wanted to see.]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT dressed in
UST who wore fancy clothes
(ἐν & ἠμφιεσμένον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [who had put on]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT soft clothing … soft clothing
UST fancy clothes … fancy clothes
(μαλακοῖς & τὰ μαλακὰ)

The term soft clothing refers to luxurious or expensive clothes, since normal clothing was rough. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [splendid clothing … splendid clothing] or [expensive clothing … expensive clothing]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Behold
UST You know very well
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [Listen] or [As you know]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
houses	palaces{, not in desolate areas} of the kings	palaces{, not in desolate areas}

Matthew 11:9

ULT	UST
But why did you go out? To see a prophet? Yes, I say to you, and more than a prophet.	Surely you traveled {to the desolate area} to see a man who spoke for God. Yes{, that is who John is}! But I want to tell you that John is more significant than other people who speak for God.

ULT But
(ἀλλὰ)

Here, much as in 11:8, the word But introduces a contrast with the possibility that Jesus asked about in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [If not that,] or [So,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT why did you go out? To see a prophet
UST Surely you traveled {to the desolate area} to see a man who spoke for God
(τί ἐξήλθατε? προφήτην ἰδεῖν)

Here the two questions could be divided so that the phrase To see goes with: (1) a prophet. See the ULT. (2) go out. Alternate translation: [what did you go out to see? A prophet?]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT But why did you go out? To see a prophet
UST Surely you traveled {to the desolate area} to see a man who spoke for God
(ἀλλὰ τί ἐξήλθατε? προφήτην ἰδεῖν)

Jesus is using the question form to teach the crowds about John. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate these questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [Surely you went out to see a prophet!] or [I know why you went out. It was to see a prophet.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT I say to you
UST But I want to tell you
(λέγω ὑμῖν)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is telling the crowds. Use a natural form in your language for emphasizing the truth and importance of a statement. Alternate translation: [I want you to know]

ULT and more than
UST that John is more significant (καὶ περισσότερον)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from the context. Alternate translation: [and he was more than]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT more than a prophet
UST that John is more significant than other people who speak for God (περισσότερον προφήτου)

Jesus means that John was indeed a prophet, but that he was even more than a typical prophet. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [not just an ordinary prophet] or [greater than the other prophets]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a prophet	a man who spoke for God
a prophet	than other people who speak for God

Matthew 11:10

ULT	UST
This is he concerning whom it is written, 'Behold, I am sending my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you.'	He is the one about whom a prophet wrote in the Scriptures: 'Listen, I am sending my messenger ahead of you. He will make things ready for when you come.'

ULT This
UST He
(οὗτός)

The pronoun This refers to John the Baptist. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [John]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT it is written
UST a prophet wrote in the Scriptures
(γέγραπται)

In Matthew's culture, it is written was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the book of Malachi (see Malachi 3:1). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [you can read in the Scriptures] or [it says in the book of Malachi]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT it is written
UST a prophet wrote in the Scriptures
(γέγραπται)

If your language does not use the passive form, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Malachi wrote in the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT Behold
> UST Listen
> (ἰδοὺ)

The word Behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express Behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [See] or [Listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT before your face
> UST ahead of you
> (πρὸ προσώπου σου)

The phrase before your face means before or in front of the person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in front of you] or [before I send you]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT your … your … you
> UST ahead of you … will make things ready for when you come
> (σου)

The words your, your, and you are singular because God is speaking to the Messiah individually in this quotation.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT will prepare your way before you
> UST will make things ready for when you come
> (κατασκευάσει τὴν ὁδόν σου ἔμπροσθέν σου)

The author of the quotation speaks of helping people to get ready for the coming of the Messiah as if the messenger were preparing the way or road for the Messiah. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will help people get ready for you to arrive]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
messenger	messenger

Matthew 11:11

ULT	UST
Truly I say to you, among those born of women there has not arisen one greater than John the Baptist, but the least in the kingdom of the heavens is greater than he.	Of all the people who have ever lived, there has been no one more important than John the Baptizer. However, the most insignificant people who participate in God's heavenly kingdom are more important than John. What I have said is true.

> ULT among those born of women
> UST Of all the people who have ever lived
> (ἐν γεννητοῖς γυναικῶν)

The phrase those born of women refers to all people who have lived. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [among all the people who have ever lived]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT among those born of women
> UST Of all the people who have ever lived
> (ἐν γεννητοῖς γυναικῶν)

If you would like to retain the idiom but your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [among those whom women have borne]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT there has not arisen one greater than > UST there has been no one more important > (οὐκ ἐγήγερται & μείζων)

Jesus is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning, greater. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [there have only arisen ones lesser than]

Support Reference: Litotes

ULT there has not arisen
UST there has been no one (οὐκ ἐγήγερται)

Jesus speaks of people having lived as if they had arisen, or stood up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [there has not existed] or [there has not lived]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the least
UST the most insignificant people
(ὁ & μικρότερος)

Matthew is using the adjective least as a noun to mean people who are not very important. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this phrase with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the least important person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT is greater than he
UST are more important than John (μείζων αὐτοῦ ἐστιν)

The implication is that being part of the kingdom of the heavens is greater than any human distinctive. So anyone who is part of the kingdom is greater than even John, whom Jesus said was the greatest person who had ever lived before the coming of the kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [is greater than John is because he or she is part of something greater than anything that is human]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	What I have said is true
John the Baptist	than John the Baptizer
kingdom of the heavens	God’s heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 11:12

ULT	UST
But from the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence, and violent men take it by force.	From the time when John the Baptizer began to preach publicly until this time, people have attacked God's heavenly kingdom. Indeed, violent people try to conquer it.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Based on how this verse is interpreted (see the following notes and the chapter introduction), the word But could introduce: (1) a contrast with what Jesus said in the previous verse about how great the kingdom of the heavens is. In contrast with that, the kingdom of the heavens is attacked violently. Alternate translation: [However,]; (2) a development of what Jesus said in the previous verse about how great the kingdom of the heavens is. The kingdom advances and grows forcefully. Alternate translation: [Now,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the days
UST the time
(τῶν ἡμερῶν)

The word days refers to a specific period of time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the time period]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT of John the Baptist
UST when John the Baptizer began to preach publicly (Ἰωάννου τοῦ Βαπτιστοῦ)

Jesus is using the possessive form to describe days in which John the Baptist preached. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when John the Baptist ministered]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence, and violent men take it by force
UST people have attacked God's heavenly kingdom. Indeed, violent people try to conquer it (ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν βιάζεται, καὶ βιασταὶ ἁρπάζουσιν αὐτήν)

If you understand these two clauses to say similar things (see the following notes and the chapter introduction), then the second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence; yes, violent men take it by force]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence
UST people have attacked God's heavenly kingdom
(ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν βιάζεται)

Christians disagree about what exactly this clause means. See the chapter introduction for more information and options. Most likely, the clause could mean: (1) that people attack God's kingdom. Alternate translation: [the kingdom of the heavens is attacked violently]; (2) that God's kingdom triumphs forcefully in the world. Alternate translation: [the kingdom of the heavens triumphs forcefully]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT suffers violence
UST people have attacked
(βιάζεται)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of violence, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is violently treated] or [is attacked violently]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT violent men take it by force
UST violent people try to conquer it (βιασταὶ ἁρπάζουσιν αὐτήν)

Christians disagree about what exactly this clause means. See the chapter introduction for more information and options. Most likely, the clause could mean: (1) that the men are evil and violent, and they attack the kingdom. Alternate translation: [violent men attack it forcefully]; (2) that the men are forceful and want to be part of the kingdom. Alternate translation: [forceful men take hold of it]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT violent men
UST violent people
(βιασταὶ)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [violent men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT take it by force
UST try to conquer it
(ἁρπάζουσιν αὐτήν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of force, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [take it forcefully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
days	the time
of John the Baptist	when John the Baptizer began to preach publicly
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
take … by force	try to conquer

Matthew 11:13

ULT	UST
For all the Prophets and the Law have prophesied until John;	Further, before John {began to preach}, the laws that God gave Moses and the things that the prophets wrote predicted {what is now happening}.

ULT For
UST Further
(γὰρ)

The word For introduces a further explanation of how John is an important or significant person. As the last verse showed, the kingdom of the heavens has "suffered violence" since John began his ministry, and this verse shows that the Prophets and the Law prophesied about these things up to the time when John began his ministry. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a further explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [In fact,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT all the Prophets and the Law have prophesied
UST the laws that God gave Moses and the things that the prophets wrote predicted {what is now happening}
(πάντες & οἱ προφῆται καὶ ὁ νόμος & ἐπροφήτευσαν)

Jesus speaks as if the Prophets and the Law were people who have prophesied. He means that these sections of Scripture contain prophecies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all the Prophets and the Law contain what people have prophesied]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT the Prophets and the Law
UST the laws that God gave Moses and the things that the prophets wrote (οἱ προφῆται καὶ ὁ νόμος)

Jesus is referring to all of God's word that had been written up to that time. He is using the names of two of its major components to do so. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT have prophesied until John
UST before John {began to preach} … predicted {what is now happening}
(ἕως Ἰωάννου ἐπροφήτευσαν)

Jesus implies that the Scriptures include prophecies about the kingdom of the heavens, Jesus' ministry, and all the things that were happening once John and then Jesus began their ministries. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. If possible, use a general phrase that could refer to many of these events and actions. Alternate translation: [have prophesied until John about what has begun to happen]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT until John
UST before John {began to preach}
(ἕως Ἰωάννου)

Jesus could mean that: (1) the Prophets and the Law contain prophecies written down only until John began his ministry. Alternate translation: [up to when John began his ministry]; (2) what the Prophets and the Law prophesied was a prediction about the future only until John began his ministry. Now these prophecies have come true. Alternate translation: [until John began his ministry, when the prophecies came true]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Prophets	the things that the prophets wrote
Law	the laws that God gave Moses have prophesied	predicted {what is now happening}
John	John {began to preach}

Matthew 11:14

ULT	UST
and if you are willing to accept {it}, he is Elijah, the one being about to come.	In fact, if you trust what I say, you can know that John is the one {whom God promised} would come, {the one who is like} the prophet Elijah.

ULT to accept {it}, he
UST if you trust what I say, you can know that John (δέξασθαι, αὐτός)

Jesus leaves out what will happen if the people are willing to accept {it}. He implies that, when they accept {it}, they will learn or understand what he is about to tell them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include this implied idea. Alternate translation: [to accept it, you can be sure that he] or [to accept it, you will understand that he]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to accept {it}
UST if you trust what I say, you can know that (δέξασθαι)

Jesus could be implying that they need to be willing to accept: (1) what Jesus says about John. Alternate translation: [to accept what I tell you]; (2) what the Law and the Prophets prophesied (see 11:13). Alternate translation: [to accept what the Law and the Prophets said]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he is Elijah, the one being about to come
UST John is the one {whom God promised} would come, {the one who is like} the prophet Elijah
(αὐτός ἐστιν Ἠλείας, ὁ μέλλων ἔρχεσθαι)

Jesus is referring to a prophecy in Malachi 4:5–6. This prophecy states that God will send Elijah before the day of the Lord arrives, and he will prepare people. Elijah was a prophet who did many powerful things a long time before Malachi wrote down this prophecy. What Jesus implies is that John the Baptist fulfills this prophecy, and so he is like Elijah, just as Malachi prophesied. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he is the person about whom it is prophesied that someone like Elijah would come] or [he is the one being about to come, whom the prophets named Elijah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he
UST John
(αὐτός)

The pronoun he refers to John the Baptist. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [John the Baptist]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to accept {it}	if you trust what I say, you can know that
Elijah	{the one who is like} the prophet Elijah

Matthew 11:15

ULT	UST
The one having ears to hear, let him hear.	You should think carefully about what you just heard me say!

ULT The one having ears to hear let him hear
UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say
(ὁ ἔχων ὦτα ἀκούειν, ἀκουέτω)

The phrase ears to hear represents the willingness to understand and obey. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The one who wishes to understand, let him understand and obey] or [The one who can listen to me should pay attention]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT The one having ears to hear let him hear
UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say
(ὁ ἔχων ὦτα ἀκούειν, ἀκουέτω)

Jesus is speaking directly to his audience, not about other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the second person plural here. Alternate translation: [You who have ears to hear should hear] or [If you have ears to hear, then hear]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT to hear
UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say (ἀκούειν)

Many ancient manuscripts read to hear. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts do not include these words. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT let him hear
> UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say
> (ἀκουέτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he should hear]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT let him hear
> UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say
> (ἀκουέτω)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [let that person hear]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

Matthew 11:16

ULT	UST
Now to what will I compare this generation? It is like children sitting in the marketplace, who are calling out to the others,	{I will tell you} what {you people who live in} this time period are like. You are like children playing games in an open area. They call out to their friends,

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next topic. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Now to what will I compare this generation
UST {I will tell you} what {you people who live in} this time period are like (τίνι δὲ ὁμοιώσω τὴν γενεὰν ταύτην)

Jesus is using the question form to introduce a comparison between this generation and children sitting in the marketplace. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Here is what I compare this generation to.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT this generation
UST {you people who live in} this time period
(τὴν γενεὰν ταύτην)

Here, generation represents the people who are part of the generation, which means that they are adults who are currently alive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [today's people] or [the people of this generation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT It is like
UST You are like
(ὁμοία ἐστὶν)

These words are the beginning of Jesus' comparison. His opponents complain about John being too austere, and they complain about Jesus not being austere enough, just like children who complain when other children do not dance with them, and then complain again when they do not cry with them. Since Jesus explains this comparison in the following verses, you do not need to explain it here in your translation.

Support Reference: Simile

ULT the marketplace
UST an open area
(ταῖς ἀγοραῖς)

A marketplace is a large, open-air area where people buy and sell goods. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of area, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the town square] or [the park]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
generation	you people who live in … time period are calling out	call out

Matthew 11:17

ULT	UST
saying, ‘We played a flute for you, and you did not dance. We sang a funeral song, and you did not mourn.’	‘We played happy music for you on the flute, but you did not dance! Then we sang sad funeral songs for you, but you did not grieve!’

ULT saying, ‘We played a flute for you, and you did not dance. We sang a funeral song, and you did not mourn
UST We played happy music for you on the flute, but you did not dance! Then we sang sad funeral songs for you, but you did not grieve
(λέγουσιν, ηὐλήσαμεν ὑμῖν καὶ οὐκ ὠρχήσασθε; ἐθρηνήσαμεν καὶ οὐκ ἐκόψασθε)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [saying that they played the flute for them, and they did not dance, and that they sang a funeral song, and they did not mourn.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT saying
(λέγουσιν)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they say]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT We played a flute
UST We played happy music … on the flute
(ηὐλήσαμεν)

The children are referring to the flute to indicate that they played a happy, upbeat tune, for which the flute was well suited. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [We played a happy tune]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT and … and
> UST but … but
> (καὶ)

In both places, the children are expressing a contrast between what they expected their playmates to do and what those playmates actually did. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a contrast. Alternate translation: [and yet … and yet]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
We played a flute	We played happy music … on the flute

Matthew 11:18

ULT	UST
For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, 'He has a demon.'	Similarly, when John came to you and often did not eat or drink, people {rejected him and} said, 'A demon is controlling him!'

ULT came
UST when … came to you
(ἦλθεν)

The word came refers to John living and behaving in certain ways. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [was] or [lived]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT neither eating nor drinking
UST and often did not eat or drink
(μήτε ἐσθίων μήτε πίνων)

This does not mean that John never ate food. It means he fasted often, and when he ate, he did not eat expensive food or drink. If it would be helpful for your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [frequently fasting] or [neither eating good food nor drinking wine]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they say
UST people {rejected him and} said
(λέγουσιν)

The pronoun they refers to people in general. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use a form that refers to people in general. Alternate translation: [many say] or [others say]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they say, ‘He has a demon
UST people {rejected him and} said, ‘A demon is controlling him
(λέγουσιν, δαιμόνιον ἔχει)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [they say that he has a demon.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT He has a demon
UST A demon is controlling him
(δαιμόνιον ἔχει)

To say that someone has a demon is to say that the demon possesses or controls that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He is demon-possessed] or [He is controlled by a demon]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John	John
a demon	A demon

Matthew 11:19

ULT	UST
The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, 'Behold a man, a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!' But wisdom has been justified by her children."	But when I, the Son of Man, came to you and I enjoyed food and drink, people {rejected me and} said, 'Look! This man eats too much food and drinks too much wine, and he associates with people who collect taxes and other sinful people!' But those who are wise themselves recognize that what John and I do is also wise."

ULT The Son of Man
UST I, the Son of Man
(ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man,]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT came
UST But when … came to you
(ἦλθεν)

The word came refers to Jesus entering this world as a human to do what God called him to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [came to this world] or [lived]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT eating and drinking
UST and I enjoyed food and drink
(ἐσθίων καὶ πίνων)

Jesus means that he did not fast and that he participated in feasts and enjoyed eating and drinking. If it would be helpful for your readers, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [eating good food and drinking wine] or [feasting]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT they say, ‘Behold a man, a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners
UST people {rejected me and} said, ‘Look! This man eats too much food and drinks too much wine, and he associates with people who collect taxes and other sinful people (λέγουσιν, ἰδοὺ, ἄνθρωπος, φάγος καὶ οἰνοπότης, τελωνῶν φίλος καὶ ἁμαρτωλῶν)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [they say that he is a man who is a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT Behold
UST Look
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience’s attention in another way. Alternate translation: [This is] or [Observe]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a glutton and a drunkard
UST eats too much food and drinks too much wine
(φάγος καὶ οἰνοπότης)

The word glutton refers to a person who eats too much food. The word drunkard refers to a person who drinks too much wine and gets drunk as a result. If you do not have words for these kinds of people, you could use descriptive phrases. Alternate translation: [one who eats and drinks more than he should]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT wisdom has been justified by her children
> UST those who are wise themselves recognize that what John and I do is also wise
> (ἐδικαιώθη ἡ σοφία ἀπὸ τῶν τέκνων αὐτῆς)

Jesus uses or invents a proverb that he applies to what people say about him and John. Translate this proverb in a way that will be recognized as a proverb and be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [the saying is true that wisdom is justified by all her children]

Support Reference: Proverbs

> ULT wisdom has been justified by her children
> UST those who are wise themselves recognize that what John and I do is also wise
> (ἐδικαιώθη ἡ σοφία ἀπὸ τῶν τέκνων αὐτῆς)

Jesus speaks as if wisdom were a woman who had children. The children could be: (1) people who are wise. Alternate translation: [wisdom has been justified by wise people]; (2) the children could be the results of wise behavior. Alternate translation: [wisdom has been justified by its results]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT wisdom has been justified by her children
> UST those who are wise themselves recognize that what John and I do is also wise
> (ἐδικαιώθη ἡ σοφία ἀπὸ τῶν τέκνων αὐτῆς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wisdom, you could express the same idea in another way. Make sure your translation fits with how you chose to translate children (see the previous note). Here, the word wisdom could refer to: (1) wise behavior and thinking. Alternate translation: [what is wise has been justified by wise people]; (2) how God is wise. Alternate translation: [how wise God is has been justified by wise people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT wisdom has been justified by her children
> UST those who are wise themselves recognize that what John and I do is also wise
> (ἐδικαιώθη ἡ σοφία ἀπὸ τῶν τέκνων αὐτῆς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [wisdom's children justify her]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT her children
> UST those who are wise themselves
> (τῶν τέκνων αὐτῆς)

Many ancient manuscripts read her children. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “her works.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man
a drunkard	drinks too much wine
of tax collectors	people who collect taxes
sinners	other sinful people
wisdom	recognize that what John and I do is also wise has been justified	recognize that what John and I do is also wise

Matthew 11:20

ULT	UST
Then he began to rebuke the cities in which most of his miracles were done, because they had not repented.	Now people who lived in the towns where Jesus had done many powerful things did not stop doing what was wrong. So, Jesus began to scold them:

ULT Then
UST Now
(τότε)

The word Then introduces what happened after Jesus finished saying the things which Matthew has included in the previous verses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next thing that happened. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT Then he began to rebuke the cities in which most of his miracles were done, because they had not repented
UST Now people who lived in the towns where Jesus had done many powerful things did not stop doing what was wrong. So, Jesus began to scold them
(τότε ἤρξατο ὀνειδίζειν τὰς πόλεις ἐν αἷς ἐγένοντο αἱ πλεῖσται δυνάμεις αὐτοῦ, ὅτι οὐ μετενόησαν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [Then, because the cities in which most of his miracles were done had not repented, he began to rebuke them]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the cities
UST people who lived in the towns
(τὰς πόλεις)

Here, the cities refers to the people who live in the cities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [the people of the cities]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT most of his miracles were done
> UST Jesus had done many powerful things
> (ἐγένοντο αἱ πλεῖσται δυνάμεις αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [he had done most of his miracles]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to rebuke	to scold them
miracles	many powerful things
they had … repented	did … stop doing what was wrong

Matthew 11:21

ULT	UST
“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the miracles had happened in Tyre and Sidon which happened in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.	“How terrible it will be for you people who live in the cities of Chorazin and Bethsaida! I say this because I did powerful things while I was in your cities. If I had done those same powerful things in {the ancient cities of} Tyre and Sidon, the {wicked} people who lived there would have stopped doing what was wrong. They would have shown how sorry they were by wearing coarse clothing and putting ashes on their heads.

ULT Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida … you
UST How terrible it will be for you people who live in the cities of Chorazin and Bethsaida … your cities
(οὐαί σοι, Χοραζείν! οὐαί σοι, Βηθσαϊδάν & ὑμῖν)

Jesus is addressing something that he knows cannot hear him, the cities of Chorazin and Bethsaida. He is doing this to show his listeners in a strong way how he feels about those cities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words as if he were speaking directly to people about these cities. Alternate translation: [There will be woe for Chorazin! There will be woe for Bethsaida! … those cities]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT Woe to you … Woe to you
UST How terrible it will be for you people who live … and (οὐαί σοι)

The phrase woe to you is the opposite of “blessed are you.” It indicates that bad things are going to happen to the people being addressed, because they have displeased God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [How bad it is for you … How bad it is for you] or [Trouble will come to you … Trouble will come to you]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT to you … to you
UST for you people who live … and (σοι)

Jesus is addressing an individual city in each of these phrases, so you is singular in both cases.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Chorazin … Bethsaida
UST in the cities of Chorazin … Bethsaida
(Χοραζείν & Βηθσαϊδάν)

The words Chorazin and Bethsaida are the names of two cities.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT Chorazin … Bethsaida … in Tyre and Sidon
UST in the cities of Chorazin … Bethsaida … in {the … } … { … cities of} Tyre and Sidon
(Χοραζείν & Βηθσαϊδάν & ἐν Τύρῳ καὶ Σιδῶνι)

The words Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Tyre and Sidon refer to the people who live in those cities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people of Chorazin … people of Bethsaida … among the people of Tyre and Sidon]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT For
UST I say this because
(ὅτι)

The word For introduces a reason why Jesus pronounces Woe to these cities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a statement, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [I rebuke you because] or [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT For if the miracles had happened in Tyre and Sidon which happened in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes
UST I say this because I did powerful things while I was in your cities. If I had done those same powerful things in {the ancient cities of} Tyre and Sidon, the {wicked} people who lived there would have stopped doing what was wrong. They would have shown how sorry they were by wearing coarse clothing and putting ashes on their heads
(ὅτι εἰ ἐν Τύρῳ καὶ Σιδῶνι ἐγένοντο αἱ δυνάμεις αἱ γενόμεναι ἐν ὑμῖν, πάλαι ἂν ἐν σάκκῳ καὶ σποδῷ μετενόησαν)

Jesus assumes that his audience will know that God destroyed the cities of Tyre and Sidon because the people in them were so wicked. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God destroyed the cities of Tyre and Sidon because they were so wicked. But even they would have repented if they had seen the miracles which happened in you. So the people of Chorazin and Bethsaida certainly should have repented as well]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT if the miracles had happened in Tyre and Sidon which happened in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes
UST I did powerful things while I was in your cities. If I had done those same powerful things in {the ancient cities of} Tyre and Sidon, the {wicked} people who lived there would have stopped doing what was wrong. They would have shown how sorry they were by wearing coarse clothing and putting ashes on their heads
(εἰ ἐν Τύρῳ καὶ Σιδῶνι ἐγένοντο αἱ δυνάμεις αἱ γενόμεναι ἐν ὑμῖν, πάλαι ἂν ἐν σάκκῳ καὶ σποδῷ μετενόησαν)

Jesus is describing a situation that might have happened in the past but actually did not. He is doing this to express disappointment and regret about what is happening in the present. Be sure to translate this in such a way that your readers will know that this event actually did not happen but they will understand why Jesus is imagining it. Alternate translation: [suppose that the miracles had happened in Tyre and Sidon which happened in you. They would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT you
UST your cities
(ὑμῖν)

Since Jesus is addressing two cities, you would be dual here if your language uses that form. Otherwise, it would be plural.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Dual/Plural

ULT they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes
UST ancient … the {wicked} people who lived there would have stopped doing what was wrong. They would have shown how sorry they were by wearing coarse clothing and putting ashes on their heads
(πάλαι ἂν ἐν σάκκῳ καὶ σποδῷ μετενόησαν)

Jesus is saying that the people of Tyre and Sidon would have worn sackcloth and put ashes on their heads. These actions are signs of humility and sorrow that show that they were very sorry for doing what was wrong. If this would not be clear to your readers, you could explain the significance of these actions in the text or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [they would have shown how sorry they were for their sins by wearing sackcloth and putting ashes on their heads]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Woe	How terrible it will be
Woe	and
miracles	powerful things … those same powerful things
Tyre	the … { … cities of} Tyre
Sidon	Sidon
they would have repented	the {wicked} people who lived there would have stopped doing what was wrong. They would have shown how sorry they were sackcloth	by wearing coarse clothing

Matthew 11:22

ULT	UST
Nevertheless, I say to you, it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you.	So I want to tell you that when God judges everyone, he will punish you more severely than {the wicked people who lived in} Tyre and Sidon.

ULT Nevertheless
UST So
(πλὴν)

The word Nevertheless introduces a contrast with how people might think about the wicked people of Tyre and Sidon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave Nevertheless untranslated. Alternate translation: [Yet] or [As a matter of fact]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I say to you, it will be
UST I want to tell you that … severely
(λέγω ὑμῖν & ἔσται)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to say. Use a natural form in your language for emphasizing the truth and importance of a statement. Alternate translation: [I want you to know that it will be]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you
UST when God judges everyone, he will punish you more severely than {the wicked people who lived in} Tyre and Sidon
(Τύρῳ καὶ Σιδῶνι ἀνεκτότερον ἔσται ἐν ἡμέρᾳ κρίσεως ἢ ὑμῖν)

Jesus assumes that his audience will know that God destroyed the cities of Tyre and Sidon because the people in them were so wicked. The implication is that it must therefore be an extremely grave offense to reject the messengers of the kingdom of God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God will judge you more severely than he will judge the people who lived in Tyre and Sidon, even though he destroyed their cities because they were so wicked]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for Tyre and Sidon
UST than {the wicked people who lived in} Tyre and Sidon
(Τύρῳ καὶ Σιδῶνι)

The words Tyre and Sidon refer to the people who live in those cities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for the people of Tyre and Sidon]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in the day of judgment
UST when God judges everyone, he will punish
(ἐν ἡμέρᾳ κρίσεως)

Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a day on which judgment will happen. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [on the day when God judges everyone]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of judgment
UST when God judges everyone, he will punish (κρίσεως)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when people are judged]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
for Tyre	than {the wicked people who lived in} Tyre
Sidon	Sidon
the day	when God judges everyone, he will punish
of judgment	when God judges everyone, he will punish

Matthew 11:23

ULT	UST
And you, Capernaum, you will not be exalted to heaven, will you? You will be brought down as far as Hades.For if the miracles that happened in you had happened in Sodom, it would have remained until today.	I also have something to say to you people who live in the town of Capernaum. You may think that God is going to give you great rewards. No, God is not going to reward you at all! I say this because I did powerful things while I was in your town. If I had done those same powerful things in {the city of} Sodom, the {wicked} people who lived there {would have stopped doing what was wrong, and} God would not have destroyed them.

ULT And you, Capernaum, you will not be exalted to heaven, will you? You will be brought down as far as Hades.For if the miracles that happened in you had happened in Sodom, it would have remained until today

UST I also have something to say to you people who live in the town of Capernaum. You may think that God is going to give you great rewards. No, God is not going to reward you at all! I say this because I did powerful things while I was in your town. If I had done those same powerful things in {the city of} Sodom, the {wicked} people who lived there {would have stopped doing what was wrong, and} God would not have destroyed them

(καὶ σύ, Καφαρναούμ, μὴ ἕως οὐρανοῦ ὑψωθήσῃ? ἕως Ἅδου καταβήσῃ; ὅτι εἰ ἐν Σοδόμοις ἐγενήθησαν αἱ δυνάμεις αἱ γενόμεναι ἐν σοί, ἔμεινεν ἂν μέχρι τῆς σήμερον)

Much as in 11:21, Jesus is addressing something that he knows cannot hear him, the city of Capernaum. He is doing this to show his listeners in a strong way how he feels about that city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words as if he were speaking directly to people about these cities. Alternate translation: [And Capernaum will not be exalted to heaven, will it? It will go down to Hades. For if the miracles that happened in it had happened in Sodom, Sodom would have remained until today]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT And you, Capernaum, you will not be exalted to heaven, will you? You will be brought down as far as Hades
UST I also have something to say to you people who live in the town of Capernaum. You may think that God is going to give you great rewards. No, God is not going to reward you at all
(καὶ σύ, Καφαρναούμ, μὴ ἕως οὐρανοῦ ὑψωθήσῃ? ἕως Ἅδου καταβήσῃ)

Many ancient manuscripts read And you, Capernaum, you will not be exalted to heaven, will you? You will be brought down as far as Hades. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "And you, Capernaum, the one being exalted to heaven, will be brought down as far as Hades." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT you, Capernaum, you will not be exalted to heaven, will you
UST to you people who live in the town of Capernaum. You may think that God is going to give you great rewards
(σύ, Καφαρναούμ, μὴ ἕως οὐρανοῦ ὑψωθήσῃ)

Jesus uses a rhetorical question to rebuke the people of Capernaum for their pride, because they think that they will be exalted to heaven. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you, Capernaum, will certainly not be exalted to heaven.] or [you, Capernaum, will by no means be exalted to heaven!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT you … you will not be exalted … will you? You will be brought down … you
UST to you people … You may think that God is going to give you great rewards. No, God is not going to reward you at all … your town (σύ & μὴ & ὑψωθήσῃ & καταβήσῃ & σοί)

Jesus is addressing an individual city in each of these phrases, so you is singular throughout this verse.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Capernaum … in Sodom
UST who live in the town of Capernaum … in {the city of} Sodom
(Καφαρναούμ & ἐν Σοδόμοις)

The words Capernaum and Sodom refer to the people who live in those cities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people of Capernaum … among the people of Sodom]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT you will not be exalted to heaven, will you
UST You may think that God is going to give you great rewards
(μὴ ἕως οὐρανοῦ ὑψωθήσῃ)

The phrase be exalted refers to receiving honor. To be exalted all the way up to heaven indicates that this honor is very great. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you will not be honored greatly, will you]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT you will not be exalted to heaven, will you
UST You may think that God is going to give you great rewards
(μὴ ἕως οὐρανοῦ ὑψωθήσῃ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will not exalt you to heaven, will he?]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT You will be brought down as far as Hades
UST No, God is not going to reward you at all
(ἕως Ἅδου καταβήσῃ)

The phrase be brought down refers to experiencing punishment and dishonor. To be brought down all the way to Hades indicates that this punishment and dishonor are very great. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You will be punished severely]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT You will be brought down as far as Hades
UST No, God is not going to reward you at all
(ἕως Ἅδου καταβήσῃ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will bring you down as far as Hades]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT For
UST I say this because
(ὅτι)

The word For introduces a reason why Jesus says that Capernaum will go down to Hades. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a statement, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [I say this about you because] or [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT For if the miracles that happened in you had happened in Sodom, it would have remained until today
UST I say this because I did powerful things while I was in your town. If I had done those same powerful things in {the city of} Sodom, the {wicked} people who lived there {would have stopped doing what was wrong, and} God would not have destroyed them
(ὅτι εἰ ἐν Σοδόμοις ἐγενήθησαν αἱ δυνάμεις αἱ γενόμεναι ἐν σοί, ἔμεινεν ἂν μέχρι τῆς σήμερον)

In Jesus' culture, people knew that Sodom was a city where many wicked people had lived. God punished these people by destroying them. You can read about what happened in Genesis 19:1–29. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God destroyed the city of Sodom because it was so wicked. But even those people would have repented, and Sodom would have remained until today, if they had seen the miracles which happened in you. So the people of Capernaum certainly should have repented as well]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT if the miracles that happened in you had happened in Sodom, it would have remained until today
UST I did powerful things while I was in your town. If I had done those same powerful things in {the city of} Sodom, the {wicked} people who lived there {would have stopped doing what was wrong, and} God would not have destroyed them
(εἰ ἐν Σοδόμοις ἐγενήθησαν αἱ δυνάμεις αἱ γενόμεναι ἐν σοί, ἔμεινεν ἂν μέχρι τῆς σήμερον)

Jesus is describing a situation that might have happened in the past but actually did not. He is doing this to express disappointment and regret about what is happening in the present. Be sure to translate this in such a way that your readers will know that this event actually did not happen, but make sure they will understand why Jesus is imagining Capernaum suffering as did Sodom. Alternate translation: [suppose that the miracles had happened in Sodom which happened in you. That city would have remained until today]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT it would have remained until today
UST the {wicked} people who lived there {would have stopped doing what was wrong, and} God would not have destroyed them
(ἔμεινεν ἂν μέχρι τῆς σήμερον)

Jesus means that God would not have destroyed the city of Sodom because its people would have repented when they saw the miracles. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [it would have remained until today because its people would have repented] or [they would have stopped sinning, and so the city would not have been destroyed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT until today
UST the {wicked} people who lived there {would have stopped doing what was wrong, and} God would not have destroyed them
(ἂν μέχρι τῆς σήμερον)

The phrase until today indicates that something is true or exists at the time when the speaker is speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [up to our time] or [even now]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Capernaum	who live in the town of Capernaum

ULT	UST
you will … be exalted	You may think that God is going to give you great rewards
heaven	You may think that God is going to give you great rewards
Hades	No, God is not going to reward you at all
miracles	powerful things … those same powerful things
Sodom	{the city of} Sodom

Matthew 11:24

ULT	UST
Nevertheless, I say to you that it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment than for you."	So I want to tell you that when God judges everyone, he will punish you more severely than {the wicked people who lived in} the region of Sodom."

ULT Nevertheless
UST So
(πλὴν)

The word Nevertheless introduces a contrast with how people might think about the wicked people of Sodom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave Nevertheless untranslated. Alternate translation: [Yet] or [As a matter of fact]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I say to you
UST I want to tell you
(λέγω ὑμῖν)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to say. Use a natural form in your language for emphasizing the truth and importance of a statement. Alternate translation: [I want you to know]

Support Reference: Exclamations

ULT it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment than for you
UST when God judges everyone, he will punish you more severely than {the wicked people who lived in} the region of Sodom
(γῇ Σοδόμων ἀνεκτότερον ἔσται ἐν ἡμέρᾳ κρίσεως ἢ σοί)

Jesus assumes that his audience will know that God destroyed the land of Sodom because the people in it were so wicked. The implication is that it must therefore be an extremely grave offense to reject the messengers of the kingdom of God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [God will judge you more severely than he will judge the people who lived in the land of Sodom, even though he destroyed that land because they were so wicked]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for the land of Sodom
UST than {the wicked people who lived in} the region of Sodom (γῆ Σοδόμων)

The phrase the land of Sodom refers to the people who live in that land. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for the people of the land of Sodom]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in the day of judgment
UST when God judges everyone, he will punish
(ἐν ἡμέρᾳ κρίσεως)

Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a day on which judgment will happen. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [on the day when God judges everyone]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of judgment
UST when God judges everyone, he will punish (κρίσεως)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when people are judged]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for you
UST you
(σοί)

Since Jesus is addressing an individual city, Capernaum, you here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Sodom	of Sodom
the day	when God judges everyone, he will punish
of judgment	when God judges everyone, he will punish

Matthew 11:25

ULT	UST
At that time, answering, Jesus said, "I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you concealed these things from the wise and intelligent and revealed them to little children.	Then Jesus responded by praying, "God my Father, you are Lord over everything you have made. I praise you that you have prevented people who think they are smart from understanding things. Instead, you have revealed them to people who accept {what you say} as readily as little children do.

ULT answering, Jesus said
UST Jesus responded by praying
(ἀποκριθεὶς ὁ Ἰησοῦς εἶπεν)

The word answering indicates that Jesus is responding to what he has said in the previous verses about how people have not repented in response to Jesus' message and miracles. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [because of how people were not repenting, Jesus said]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you … you concealed
UST you … you have prevented … from understanding (σοι & ἔκρυψας)

Because Jesus is praying to God the Father, all forms of you in this verse are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Father
UST God my Father
(Πάτερ)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT Lord of heaven and earth
> UST you are Lord over everything you have made > (Κύριε τοῦ οὐρανοῦ καὶ τῆς γῆς)

Jesus is referring to all of creation by naming the parts that are at the extreme ends of it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Lord over everything that exists] or [Lord of all creation]

Support Reference: Merism

> ULT these things … them
> UST things … them
> (ταῦτα & αὐτὰ)

The phrase these things and the word them refer generally to the meaning and significance of Jesus and his ministry. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [what my ministry means … its meaning] or [my message … it]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT from the wise and intelligent
> UST people who think they are smart
> (ἀπὸ σοφῶν καὶ συνετῶν)

Jesus is using the adjectives wise and intelligent as nouns in order to describe groups of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these with noun phrases. Alternate translation: [from people who are wise and intelligent]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT the wise and intelligent
> UST people who think they are smart
> (σοφῶν καὶ συνετῶν)

Jesus calls these people wise and intelligent because that is what they think about themselves. Jesus knows that God has not revealed things to them, so they are not actually that wise or intelligent. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people who think they are wise and intelligent]

Support Reference: Irony

ULT the wise and intelligent
UST people who think they are smart
(σοφῶν καὶ συνετῶν)

The terms wise and intelligent mean similar things. Jesus uses the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [people who think they understand everything]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT to little children
UST to people who accept {what you say} as readily as little children do (νηπίοις)

The phrase little children refers to people who may not have much education but who are willing to accept Jesus' teachings in the same way that little children willingly listen to those they trust. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to people who are like little children] or [to people who trust you completely] or [to uneducated people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
time	Then
Jesus	Jesus
I praise	I praise
Father	God my Father
Lord	you are Lord
of heaven	over everything you have made earth	over everything you have made the wise	people who think they are smart intelligent	people who think they are smart

Matthew 11:26

ULT	UST
Yes, Father, for thus it was well-pleasing before you.	That is true, my Father, and you have done that because it pleased you to do so."

ULT Yes
UST That is true
(ναί)

The word Yes emphasizes that God has indeed done what Jesus said he had in the previous verse. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You have indeed done that] or [You have done those things]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Father
UST my Father
(ὁ Πατήρ)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT before you
UST you to do so
(ἔμπροσθέν σου)

The phrase before you indicates that it is well-pleasing according to God's evaluation or judgment. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in your sight] or [in your judgment]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT you
UST you to do so
(σου)

Because Jesus is praying to God the Father, you here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Father	my Father

Matthew 11:27

ULT	UST
All things have been handed over to me by my Father; and no one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son, and to whomever the Son desires to reveal him.	{Then Jesus told the people who were there,} "God, my Father, has given everything to me. Only my Father really knows me, his Son. And only I, his Son, really know my Father. But I do choose to show some people who he is.

ULT All things have been handed over to me by my Father
UST {Then Jesus told the people who were there,} "God, my Father, has given everything to me
(πάντα μοι παρεδόθη ὑπὸ τοῦ Πατρός μου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [My Father has handed over all things to me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT All things have been handed over
UST has given everything
(πάντα & παρεδόθη)

The phrase All things could refer to: (1) knowledge about the Father and what the Father does. Alternate translation: [All things about the Father have been handed over] or [All knowledge has been handed over]; (2) authority over everything that the Father has created. Alternate translation: [All authority has been handed over]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my Father … the Son … the Father … the Father … the Son … the Son
UST {Then Jesus told the people who were there,} "God, my Father … my Father … me, his Son … I, his Son … my Father … I (τοῦ Πατρός μου & τὸν Υἱὸν & ὁ Πατήρ & τὸν Πατέρα & ὁ Υἱὸς & ὁ Υἱὸς)

The words Father and Son are important titles for God that describe the relationship between God the Father and Jesus.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT no one knows the Son except the Father
UST Only my Father really knows me, his Son
(οὐδεὶς ἐπιγινώσκει τὸν Υἱὸν, εἰ μὴ ὁ Πατήρ)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [the only one who knows the Son is the Father]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT the Son … the Son … the Son desires
UST me, his Son … I, his Son … I do choose (τὸν Υἱὸν & ὁ Υἱὸς & βούληται ὁ Υἱὸς)

Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [me, the Son, … me, the Son … I, the Son, desire]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT and no one knows the Father except the Son, and to whomever the Son desires to reveal him UST And only I, his Son, really know my Father. But I do choose to show some people who he is (οὐδὲ τὸν Πατέρα τις ἐπιγινώσκει, εἰ μὴ ὁ Υἱὸς, καὶ ᾧ ἐὰν βούληται ὁ Υἱὸς ἀποκαλύψαι)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [and the only ones who know the Father are the Son and anyone to whom the Son desires to reveal him]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Father	{Then Jesus told the people who were there,} "God … Father
knows	knows
Son	me, his Son
Father	my Father
knows	know
Father	my Father
Son	I, his Son

ULT	UST
Son	I

Matthew 11:28

ULT	UST
Come to me, all the ones laboring and heavy burdened, and I will give you rest.	Many of you feel tired and are struggling. Become my apprentices! I will enable you to rest.

ULT Come to me
UST Become my apprentices
(δεῦτε πρός με)

The phrase Come to me is an invitation to be with Jesus as his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Be my disciples] or [Be with me as my students]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT all the ones laboring and heavy burdened, and I will give you rest
UST Many of you feel tired and are struggling … I will enable you to rest
(πάντες οἱ κοπιῶντες καὶ πεφορτισμένοι, κἀγὼ ἀναπαύσω ὑμᾶς)

Jesus could be speaking about: (1) how many experiences and situations make people tired and exhausted. Jesus promises rest from these things. Alternate translation: [all the ones whose lives are full of labor and heavy burdens, and I will give you rest from these things]; (2) how the religious leaders' interpretation of the law made people tired and exhausted when they tried to obey it. Jesus promises rest and offers a different interpretation of the law. Alternate translation: [all the ones laboring under the law and heavy burdened by it, and I will give you rest from that law]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT laboring
UST feel tired
(κοπιῶντες)

The word laboring could describe: (1) people who are tired. Alternate translation: [who are tired] or [who are exhausted]; (2) people who are working hard. Alternate translation: [who are working hard]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT heavy burdened
UST are struggling (πεφορτισμένοι)

Jesus speaks of how people struggle or suffer as if they were burdened by a heavy load. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [suffering] or [being oppressed]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT will give you rest
UST will enable you to rest
(ἀναπαύσω ὑμᾶς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rest, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [will make you restful] or [cause you to rest]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
laboring	feel tired

Matthew 11:29

ULT	UST
Take my yoke on you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls.	I am not forceful or proud, and I will help you to rest. So, do what I command and listen to what I teach.

ULT Take my yoke on you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls
UST I am not forceful or proud, and I will help you to rest. So, do what I command and listen to what I teach (ἄρατε τὸν ζυγόν μου ἐφ᾽ ὑμᾶς, καὶ μάθετε ἀπ᾽ ἐμοῦ, ὅτι πραΰς εἰμι καὶ ταπεινὸς τῇ καρδίᾳ; καὶ εὑρήσετε ἀνάπαυσιν ταῖς ψυχαῖς ὑμῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the last two clauses give the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. Therefore, take my yoke on you and learn from me]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Take my yoke on you
UST do what I command
(ἄρατε τὸν ζυγόν μου ἐφ᾽ ὑμᾶς)

Jesus speaks of people who obey his commands and teaching as if they were farm animals that accepted a yoke. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Obey me as if you were a farm animal wearing a yoke] or [Obey me]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT I am gentle and humble
UST I am not forceful or proud
(πραΰς εἰμι καὶ ταπεινὸς)

The terms gentle and humble mean similar things. Jesus is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [I am very gentle] or [I am very humble]

Support Reference: Doublet

> ULT I am gentle and humble in heart
> UST I am not forceful or proud
> (πραΰς εἰμι καὶ ταπεινὸς τῇ καρδίᾳ)

The phrase gentle and humble in heart means that Jesus has a gentle and humble attitude. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I have a gentle and humble attitude] or [I am gentle and humble]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT you will find rest for your souls
> UST I will help you to rest
> (εὑρήσετε ἀνάπαυσιν ταῖς ψυχαῖς ὑμῶν)

Jesus speaks as if rest were an object that his audience could find. He means that they will be able to experience rest. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your souls will be able to rest]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT rest for your souls
> UST I will help you to rest
> (ἀνάπαυσιν ταῖς ψυχαῖς ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rest, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [that your souls can rest]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT for your souls
> UST I will help you to rest
> (ταῖς ψυχαῖς ὑμῶν)

The word souls refers to the people who find rest. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for yourselves]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
yoke	do what I command gentle	not forceful
humble	proud

ULT	UST
for … souls	I will help you to rest

Matthew 11:30

ULT	UST
For my yoke {is} easy and my burden is light.”	{I say that} because you can easily do what I command. Indeed, you can easily do what I ask you to do.”

ULT For
UST {I say that} because
(γὰρ)

The word For introduces a reason why people should take Jesus’ yoke and find rest (see 11:30). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [You should do that because] or [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT my yoke {is} easy and my burden is light
UST you can easily do what I command. Indeed, you can easily do what I ask you to do
(ὁ & ζυγός μου χρηστὸς καὶ τὸ φορτίον μου ἐλαφρόν ἐστιν)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could combine the two clauses. Alternate translation: [my yoke is easy; yes, my burden is light] or [my yoke and burden are easy]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT my yoke {is} easy and my burden is light
> UST you can easily do what I command. Indeed, you can easily do what I ask you to do
> (ὁ & ζυγός μου χρηστὸς καὶ τὸ φορτίον μου ἐλαφρόν ἐστιν)

Jesus continues to speak of people who obey his commands and teaching as if they were farm animals that accepted a yoke or carried a burden. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [obeying me is easy. It is as if you were a farm animal wearing an easy yoke. Accepting my teaching is not difficult. It is as if you were a farm animal carrying a light burden] or [Obeying me is easy, and accepting my teaching is not difficult]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
yoke	what I command

Matthew 12

Matthew 12 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus teaches about the gospel of the kingdom of God, and opposition to Jesus begins (11:1–12:50)
    - Arguments with the Pharisees about the Sabbath (12:1–14)
        - Picking heads of grain on the Sabbath (12:1–8)
        - Healing a man on the Sabbath (12:9–14)
    - Jesus fulfills a quotation from Isaiah (12:15–21)
    - Argument with the Pharisees about casting out demons (12:22–30)
    - Jesus teaches on words and God's judgment (12:31–37)
    - Jesus condemns "this generation" (12:38–45)
    - Jesus' true family (12:46–50)

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the poetry in 12:18–21, which is a quotation from Isaiah 42:1–4.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

The Sabbath

In the law that God gave to Moses, God commanded the Israelites to rest on the seventh day, which was called the Sabbath. The Jewish religious leaders disagreed with each other about what kinds of things a person could do on the Sabbath and still rest as God had commanded. For example, they debated which emergencies were serious enough that someone could do work on the Sabbath without disobeying God's command. In 12:1–14, the Pharisees and Jesus engage in these kinds of debates about the Sabbath. Jesus disagrees with how the Pharisees understand the Sabbath, and he argues for a different view. If your readers may not understand what the Sabbath is and why Jesus and the Pharisees are debating about it, you may need to include some information in a footnote. (See: Sabbath)

Casting out demons

Demons are evil spiritual beings who can control people and who serve Satan. They usually use the people they control to hurt themselves or others. In 12:22, Matthew briefly describes how Jesus drove out a demon who caused the man it controlled to be blind and mute, that is, unable to see or speak. In response, the crowds wonder whether Jesus is the special "Son of David." However, the Pharisees accuse Jesus of using the power of Beelzebul, that is, Satan, to cast out demons. Jesus tells them that it does not make sense for Satan, who rules the demons, to empower someone to cast out demons.

"Blasphemy against the Spirit"

In 12:31–32, Jesus speaks about "blasphemy of the Spirit" and speaking "against the Holy Spirit." He indicates that God will forgive all kinds of sins, including speaking against Jesus himself. However, God will not forgive people who speak against the Holy Spirit. Jesus says these things because the Pharisees said that he cast out demons by the power of Beelzebul. Jesus implies that he actually cast out demons by the power of the Holy Spirit. So, since the Pharisees have called the Holy Spirit Beelzebul, they have blasphemed or spoken against the Spirit. Christians debate what counts as this kind of blasphemy and why God will not forgive people for it. In your translation, you should express the idea as generally as Jesus does. (See: blasphemy, blaspheme, blasphemous; and Holy Spirit, Spirit of God, Spirit of the Lord, Spirit)

The sign of Jonah

In 12:39–41, Jesus refers to a story about a prophet named Jonah. God told Jonah to prophesy in the city of Nineveh that God would destroy it. Jonah instead got on a boat to go the opposite direction. God sent a bad storm on the ocean, and to stop the storm Jonah had the sailors throw him into the ocean. God then had a huge fish swallow Jonah. He was inside the fish for three days and three nights, and then the fish spit Jonah out onto the shore. Jonah then did prophesy in the city of Nineveh, and the people there repented and asked God for mercy. In response, God chose not to destroy the city. You can read this story in Jonah 1–4. When Jesus refers to "the sign of Jonah," he is speaking about this story, particularly about how Jonah was in the fish for three days and nights. Jesus indicates that he will be in his tomb for three days, just as Jonah was in the fish for three days.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The parable about the strong man

In 12:29, Jesus describes how thieves must subdue and tie up a strong man before they can steal things from his house. Jesus does not directly state how to apply this proverb. However, most Christians think that Satan is like the strong man, and the demons that Jesus casts out are like the strong man's things. In this case, Jesus is like the thieves who tie up the strong man. Jesus is saying that, since he can cast out demons, it proves that he has subdued and conquered Satan, just as thieves can only steal things after they have subdued the strong man. You should not include this extra information in your translation, but if it would be helpful for your readers, you could include it in a footnote. (See: Parables)

Demons living in people as if they were houses

In 12:43–45, Jesus tells a story that describes people as if they were houses that demons could live in. When a demon is living in someone, this means that the demon is controlling that person. If possible, preserve this metaphor. If it is necessary, you could use simile form or state the meaning more plainly. See the notes on this verse for translation options. (See: Metaphor)

Jesus' mother and brothers

In 12:46–50, Jesus' mother and brothers arrive and want to talk with Jesus. In response, Jesus says that his disciples, those who do God's will, are his mother and brothers and sisters. In other words, Jesus calls his disciples, who are those who do God's will, his family members. He means that they are as close and important to him as his own family. This is an important metaphor that appears throughout the Bible, so preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. See the notes on these verses for translation options. (See: Metaphor)

Singular and plural forms of “you”

Most of the forms of “you” in this chapter appear in speeches that Jesus gives to many people around him. Because of this, most forms of “you” in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of “you” are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular)

The quotation from Isaiah 42:1–4 in 12:18–21

Matthew quotes a long section of Isaiah in this chapter. However, he does not quote every line, specifically leaving out parts of Isaiah 42:4. Also, in many places his quotation does not directly match the Hebrew version of Isaiah. However, since Matthew quotes these verses for a specific reason and in a different language (Greek), you should translate what Matthew wrote, not what you might find in Isaiah 42:1–4.

Matthew 12:1

ULT	UST
At that time, Jesus went on the Sabbaths through the grainfields, but his disciples were hungry and began to pick heads of grain and to eat {them}.	Some time later, Jesus {and his apprentices} were walking through grain fields during one of the Jewish days of rest. His apprentices became hungry, so they started to pick some grain and eat it.

ULT At that time
UST Some time later
(ἐν ἐκείνῳ τῷ καιρῷ)

The phrase At that time introduces a new event that happened some time after the events the story has just related. The story does not say how long after those events this new event happened. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a new event. Alternate translation: [Soon after that] or [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT on the Sabbaths
UST during one of the Jewish days of rest
(τοῖς Σάββασιν)

Matthew uses the phrase on the Sabbaths to indicate that this event occurred on one specific Sabbath day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [on one of the Sabbath days] or [during a Sabbath day]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the grainfields
UST grain fields
(τῶν σπορίμων)

The word grainfields refers to places where grain is grown and harvested. This grain is usually ground and made into bread. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of field, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [fields where grain is grown]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT but
(δὲ)

The word but introduces a contrast with how people were expected to behave on the Sabbaths, which included not picking grain or other crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces this contrast. Alternate translation: [but, even though it was the Sabbath,] or [and, despite the fact that it was the Sabbath,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT heads of grain
UST some grain
(στάχυας)

The heads are the topmost part of the grain plant, which is a kind of tall grass. The heads hold the mature grain or seeds of the plant, which are the parts that people eat. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this more explicitly. Alternate translation: [the tops of the grain plants] or [the edible parts of the grain plants]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
time	Some time later
Jesus	Jesus {and his apprentices}
on the Sabbaths	during one of the Jewish days of rest
disciples	apprentices
heads of grain	some grain

Matthew 12:2

ULT	UST
But the Pharisees, having seen this, said to him, "Behold, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on a Sabbath."	Some Pharisees saw {the apprentices picking grain}. They said to Jesus, "Look! Your apprentices are working on the Jewish day of rest. Our law forbids us to do that."

ULT Behold
UST Look
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold is meant to draw the attention of Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the person to listen or pay attention. Alternate translation: [Listen] or [See]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your
UST Your
(σου)

The word your is singular since the Pharisees are speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT are doing what is not lawful to do on a Sabbath
UST are working on the Jewish day of rest. Our law forbids us to do that (ποιοῦσιν ὃ οὐκ ἔξεστιν ποιεῖν ἐν Σαββάτῳ)

The Pharisees considered even the small action of picking heads of grain to be harvesting, and therefore, to them it was work. This kind of work was prohibited on the Sabbath. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [are harvesting grain, and that is work that is not lawful to do on the Sabbath]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	Some Pharisees
disciples	apprentices
is … lawful	Our law forbids us
a Sabbath	the Jewish day of rest

Matthew 12:3

ULT	UST
But he said to them, "Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and the ones with him—	Jesus replied, "Consider the story in the Scriptures about what King David did when he and the men who were with him became very hungry.

ULT Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and the ones with him … how he went into the house of God and ate the loaves of the Presence, which was not lawful for him to eat, nor for the ones with him, except only for the priests

UST Consider the story in the Scriptures about what King David did when he and the men who were with him became very hungry … As you know, David entered the sacred tent. He ate some of the bread that had been on display before God, even though the law prohibited him and the men who were with him from doing that. Only priests could eat that bread

(οὐκ ἀνέγνωτε τί ἐποίησεν Δαυεὶδ, ὅτε ἐπείνασεν καὶ οἱ μετ' αὐτοῦ? πῶς εἰσῆλθεν εἰς τὸν οἶκον τοῦ Θεοῦ, καὶ τοὺς ἄρτους τῆς Προθέσεως ἔφαγεν, ὃ οὐκ ἐξὸν ἦν αὐτῷ φαγεῖν, οὐδὲ τοῖς μετ' αὐτοῦ, εἰ μὴ τοῖς ἱερεῦσιν μόνοις) (12:3-4)

Jesus is using the question form to show the Pharisees that they should have learned a principle from the story about David that indicates that they are wrong to criticize the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You have not understood what you have read about what David did when he was hungry, and the ones with him—how he went into the house of God and ate the loaves of the Presence, which was not lawful for him to eat, nor for the ones with him, except only for the priests.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and the ones with him … how he went into the house of God and ate the loaves of the Presence, which was not lawful for him to eat, nor for the ones with him, except only for the priests
> UST Consider the story in the Scriptures about what King David did when he and the men who were with him became very hungry … As you know, David entered the sacred tent. He ate some of the bread that had been on display before God, even though the law prohibited him and the men who were with him from doing that. Only priests could eat that bread
> (οὐκ ἀνέγνωτε τί ἐποίησεν Δαυεὶδ, ὅτε ἐπείνασεν καὶ οἱ μετ’ αὐτοῦ? πῶς εἰσῆλθεν εἰς τὸν οἶκον τοῦ Θεοῦ, καὶ τοὺς ἄρτους τῆς Προθέσεως ἔφαγεν, ὃ οὐκ ἐξὸν ἦν αὐτῷ φαγεῖν, οὐδὲ τοῖς μετ’ αὐτοῦ, εἰ μὴ τοῖς ἱερεῦσιν μόνοις) (12:3-4)

Jesus refers to a story about David before he became king. The current king, Saul was trying to kill David, so David ran away to the priest who was serving God at the time. David and the men who ran away with him were very hungry, so they asked the priest for food. The priest gave them the special bread that was laid out in God's presence every day, and David and his men ate this bread. You can read this story in 1 Samuel 21:1–6. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include some extra information in your translation or in a footnote.
Alternate translation: [Have you not read what David did when he was hungry after he escaped from King Saul, who wanted to kill him? He and the ones with him visited the priest, went into the house of God, and ate the loaves of the Presence, which was not lawful for him to eat, nor for the ones with him, except only for the priests.]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
David	King David

Matthew 12:4

ULT	UST
how he went into the house of God and ate the loaves of the Presence, which was not lawful for him to eat, nor for the ones with him, except only for the priests?	As you know, David entered the sacred tent. He ate some of the bread that had been on display before God, even though the law prohibited him and the men who were with him from doing that. Only priests could eat that bread.

ULT the house of God
UST the sacred tent
(τὸν οἶκον τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Jesus uses the phrase the house of God to refer to the tabernacle, the place where God's presence was. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the tabernacle] or [the sanctuary]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the loaves of the Presence
UST some of the bread that had been on display before God (τοὺς ἄρτους τῆς Προθέσεως)

The phrase the loaves of the Presence refers to loaves of bread that were placed every day on a table in the tabernacle or temple as an offering to God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [the loaves that were presented to God] or [the bread that was placed in God's presence every morning]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT except only for the priests
UST Only priests could eat that bread
(εἰ μὴ τοῖς ἱερεῦσιν μόνοις)

Jesus indicates that the only people who were allowed to eat this bread were the priests. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that introduces this kind of exception. Alternate translation: [since only the priests could eat it] or [which was lawful only for the priests to eat]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the sacred tent

ULT	UST
house of God	the sacred tent
of God	the sacred tent
loaves	some of the bread
lawful	the law prohibited
for the priests	priests

Matthew 12:5

ULT	UST
Or have you not read in the law that on the Sabbaths the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath, but are innocent?	Likewise, consider the laws in the Scriptures that permit priests to work during the Jewish days of rest because they are serving in the Jewish sanctuary.

ULT Or have you not read in the law that on the Sabbaths the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath, but are innocent
UST Likewise, consider the laws in the Scriptures that permit priests to work during the Jewish days of rest because they are serving in the Jewish sanctuary
(ἢ οὐκ ἀνέγνωτε ἐν τῷ νόμῳ, ὅτι τοῖς Σάββασιν οἱ ἱερεῖς ἐν τῷ ἱερῷ τὸ Σάββατον βεβηλοῦσιν, καὶ ἀναίτιοί εἰσιν)

Jesus is using the question form to show the Pharisees that they should have learned a principle from the laws about priests working on the Sabbath that indicates that they are wrong to criticize the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Again, you have not understood what you have read in the law about how on the Sabbaths the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath, but are innocent.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Or
UST Likewise
(ἢ)

The word Or introduces a second example from the Scriptures that Jesus uses to prove his point. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces another example. Alternate translation: [Similarly,] or [Further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT profane the Sabbath
UST to work
(τὸ Σάββατον βεβηλοῦσιν)

The priests were said to profane the Sabbath because they had to fulfill their priestly duties on the Sabbath. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [profane the Sabbath by doing priestly work]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT are innocent
UST permit
(ἀναίτιοί εἰσιν)

Jesus means that, although the priests do work on the Sabbath, the law does not condemn them, since doing priestly work on the Sabbath is an exception to the Sabbath requirements. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [are innocent, since God permits this kind of work on the Sabbaths]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
law	the laws in the Scriptures
on the Sabbaths	during the Jewish days of rest priests	priests
temple	because they are serving in the Jewish sanctuary
profane	to work
Sabbath	to work
innocent	permit

Matthew 12:6

ULT	UST
But I say to you that something greater than the temple is here.	However, I want you to know that there is now something even more important than the Jewish sanctuary.

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a slight contrast with what Jesus has said about how serving in the temple is an exception to keeping the Sabbath. In this verse, Jesus indicates that there is an even greater thing that provides an exception to keeping the Sabbath. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [And yet] or [But now]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT something greater than
UST something even more important
(μεῖζόν)

The word something is a very general term. It could refer to the kingdom of God, Jesus himself, the ministry that Jesus begins, what Jesus calls his disciples to do, or many other things. If possible, you should use a general term that could refer to many or all of these things. Alternate translation: [an entity greater than] or [a new thing greater than]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
temple	than the Jewish sanctuary

Matthew 12:7

ULT	UST
But if you had known what this is, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice,' you would not have condemned the innocent.	Suppose that you truly understood what God has said in the Scriptures: 'What I most want is that people treat each other mercifully, not that people present offerings to me.' Then, you would not have declared {my apprentices} guilty when they have actually not disobeyed {the laws about the Jewish day of rest}.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a further development of what Jesus has been saying about the Sabbath. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Now] or [In fact,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if you had known what this is, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice,' you would not have condemned the innocent
UST Suppose that you truly understood what God has said in the Scriptures: 'What I most want is that people treat each other mercifully, not that people present offerings to me.' Then, you would not have declared {my apprentices} guilty when they have actually not disobeyed {the laws about the Jewish day of rest}
(εἰ & ἐγνώκειτε τί ἐστιν, ἔλεος θέλω καὶ οὐ θυσίαν, οὐκ ἂν κατεδικάσατε τοὺς ἀναιτίους)

Jesus is making a conditional statement that sounds hypothetical, but he is already convinced that the condition is not true. He has concluded that the Pharisees have not understood this quotation, because they have indeed condemned the innocent. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a condition that the speaker believes is not true. Alternate translation: [since you do not know what this is, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice,' you have condemned the innocent]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions

ULT what this is
UST what God has said in the Scriptures
(τί ἐστιν)

Jesus means that they should learn the meaning of the passage he is about to quote. See how you translated this phrase in 9:13. Alternate translation: [what this means] or [the meaning of this passage]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT I desire mercy and not sacrifice
UST What I most want is that people treat each other mercifully, not that people present offerings to me
(ἔλεος θέλω καὶ οὐ θυσίαν)

Jesus introduces a quotation from Hosea 6:6, where God is speaking to the Israelites. Jesus has already quoted this verse in 9:13, so translate it exactly as you did there.

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT the innocent
UST my apprentices … when they have actually not disobeyed {the laws about the Jewish day of rest}
(τοὺς ἀναιτίους)

Jesus is using the adjective innocent as a noun in order to describe his disciples. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this with a noun phrase. Alternate translation: [people who are innocent] or [my innocent disciples]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the innocent
UST my apprentices … when they have actually not disobeyed {the laws about the Jewish day of rest}
(τοὺς ἀναιτίους)

Jesus means that his disciples are innocent of breaking the Sabbath laws. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [those who are innocent of breaking the Sabbath] or [those who have not disobeyed Sabbath laws]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you had known	you truly understood

ULT	UST
mercy	that people treat each other mercifully
sacrifice	that people present offerings to me
you would … have condemned	Then, you would … have declared … guilty innocent	my apprentices … when they have actually not disobeyed {the laws about the Jewish day of rest}

Matthew 12:8

ULT	UST
For the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath.”	{I say those things} because I, the Son of Man, can decide {what is right for people to do} during the Jewish day of rest!”

ULT For
UST {I say those things} because
(γάρ)

The word For introduces the basis for what Jesus has said about the Sabbath in the previous verses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [I can say those things because] or [Here is why I am able to say such things:]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the Son of Man is
UST I, the Son of Man, can decide
(ἐστιν & ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, am]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT is Lord of the Sabbath
UST can decide {what is right for people to do} during the Jewish day of rest
(Κύριος & ἐστιν τοῦ Σαββάτου)

Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a Lord who rules over the Sabbath. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [has authority over the Sabbath] or [rules over the Sabbath]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man
Lord	can decide
of the Sabbath	{what is right for people to do} during the Jewish day of rest

Matthew 12:9

ULT	UST
And having departed from there, he went into their synagogue.	Then Jesus left the grain fields and visited one of the Jewish meeting places.

ULT from there
UST the grain fields
(ἐκεῖθεν)

The phrase from there refers to the grainfields that Jesus and his disciples were walking through when the Pharisees confronted them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [from those fields] or [from that place]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT their synagogue
UST one of the Jewish meeting places
(τὴν συναγωγὴν αὐτῶν)

The pronoun their refers to the Jewish people living in this region. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the Jewish synagogue] or [the synagogue in that area]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
synagogue	one of the Jewish meeting places

Matthew 12:10

ULT	UST
And behold, a man having a withered hand, and they questioned him, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbaths?" so that they might accuse him.	Now there was a man there who could not move his hand. The Pharisees wanted to accuse Jesus {of disobeying the laws about not working on the Sabbath}. So, they asked Jesus, "Does our law allow us to cure {people from their diseases} during Jewish days of rest?"

ULT behold, a man having a withered hand
UST there was a man there who could not move his hand
(ἰδοὺ, ἄνθρωπος χεῖρα ἔχων ξηράν)

Matthew is using the phrase behold, a man to introduce this man with a withered hand as a new participant in the story. If your language has its own way of introducing new participants, you could use it in your translation. Alternate translation: [a certain man was in the synagogue, and he had a withered hand]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT having a withered hand
UST who could not move his hand
(χεῖρα ἔχων ξηράν)

This means that the man's hand was damaged in such a way that he could not stretch it out. It was probably bent almost into a fist, making it look smaller. Use a word or phrase that expresses this idea clearly. Alternate translation: [having a shriveled hand] or [whose hand was atrophied]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT they questioned him, saying
UST they asked Jesus
(ἐπηρώτησαν αὐτὸν λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [they questioned him]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT they questioned … they might accuse
UST The Pharisees wanted to accuse … they asked (ἐπηρώτησαν & κατηγορήσωσιν)

The pronoun they in both cases could refer to: (1) the Pharisees, the ones who had asked about the disciples picking grain on the Sabbath. Alternate translation: [these Pharisees questioned … they might accuse]; (2) some people who were in the synagogue. Alternate translation: [some people there questioned … they might accuse]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT him … him
UST Jesus {of disobeying the laws about not working on the Sabbath} … Jesus (αὐτὸν & αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun him in both places refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus … Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbaths?" so that
UST So … Does our law allow us to cure {people from their diseases} during Jewish days of rest
(λέγοντες, εἰ ἔξεστι τοῖς Σάββασιν θεραπεύειν? ἵνα)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [asking whether it was lawful to heal on the Sabbaths, in order that]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT so that
UST So
(ἵνα)

The phrase so that introduces the purpose for which the Pharisees ask this question. They intend to accuse Jesus based on how he answers the question. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of purpose. Alternate translation: [so that, when he answered,] or, starting a new sentence, [They asked this question so that]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT they might accuse him
UST The Pharisees wanted to accuse Jesus {of disobeying the laws about not working on the Sabbath}
(κατηγορήσωσιν αὐτοῦ)

Matthew implies that they would accuse Jesus of breaking the Sabbath commandments. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they could accuse him of wrongdoing] or [they could accuse him of breaking the law of Moses]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
lawful	Does our law allow us on the Sabbaths	during Jewish days of rest

Matthew 12:11

ULT	UST
But he said to them, "What man will there be among you who will have one sheep, and if it might fall into a pit on the Sabbaths, will not grasp hold of it and lift {it} out?	Jesus replied, "Suppose that one of you had a single sheep. Also suppose that this sheep fell into a deep hole on a Jewish day of rest. You would certainly pull it out of the hole{, even though this would be doing work on the Jewish day of rest}!

ULT What man will there be among you who will have one sheep, and if it might fall into a pit on the Sabbaths, will not grasp hold of it and lift {it} out
UST Suppose that one of you had a single sheep. Also suppose that this sheep fell into a deep hole on a Jewish day of rest. You would certainly pull it out of the hole{, even though this would be doing work on the Jewish day of rest}
(τίς ἔσται ἐξ ὑμῶν ἄνθρωπος, ὃς ἕξει πρόβατον ἕν, καὶ ἐὰν ἐμπέσῃ τοῦτο τοῖς Σάββασιν εἰς βόθυνον, οὐχὶ κρατήσει αὐτὸ καὶ ἐγερεῖ)

Jesus uses a question to respond to the Pharisees. He is challenging them to think about what kind of work they do on the Sabbath. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Every man among you, if he has one sheep that falls into a pit on the Sabbaths, will definitely grasp hold of it and lift it out.] or [There is no man among you who, having one sheep that falls into a pit on the sabbaths, will not grasp hold of it and lift it out!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT What man will there be among you who will have one sheep, and if it might fall into a pit on the Sabbaths, will not grasp hold of it and lift {it} out
UST Suppose that one of you had a single sheep. Also suppose that this sheep fell into a deep hole on a Jewish day of rest. You would certainly pull it out of the hole{, even though this would be doing work on the Jewish day of rest}
(τίς ἔσται ἐξ ὑμῶν ἄνθρωπος, ὃς ἕξει πρόβατον ἕν, καὶ ἐὰν ἐμπέσῃ τοῦτο τοῖς Σάββασιν εἰς βόθυνον, οὐχὶ κρατήσει αὐτὸ καὶ ἐγερεῖ)

Jesus uses an imaginary situation to help explain when it is appropriate to work on the Sabbaths. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [What would one of you do if you had one sheep, and it fell into a pit on the Sabbaths? You would grasp hold of it and lift it out, would you not]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT one sheep
UST a single sheep
(πρόβατον ἕν)

The phrase one sheep could imply that: (1) the person only owns one sheep. Alternate translation: [only one sheep]; (2) the person owns more than one sheep, but only this one falls into a pit. Alternate translation: [a sheep]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT man
UST one
(ἄνθρωπος)

Although the term man is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT on the Sabbaths
UST on a Jewish day of rest
(τοῖς Σάββασιν)

Jesus uses the phrase on the Sabbaths to indicate that this event would occur on a Sabbath day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [on one of the Sabbath days] or [during a Sabbath day]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT will not grasp hold of it and lift {it} out
UST You would certainly pull it out of the hole{, even though this would be doing work on the Jewish day of rest}
(οὐχὶ κρατήσει αὐτὸ καὶ ἐγερεῖ)

Jesus implies that these actions are considered work, which would normally break the Sabbath commandments. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this idea more explicitly. Alternate translation: [will not work on the Sabbath by grasping hold of it and lifting it out]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sheep	sheep

ULT	UST
a pit	a deep hole
on the Sabbaths	on a Jewish day of rest

Matthew 12:12

ULT	UST
How much more valuable, then, {is} a man than a sheep? Therefore, it is lawful to do good on the Sabbaths."	Therefore, {since} people are more important than sheep{, you should help others even more than you help sheep on Jewish days of rest}. So then, the laws that God gave Moses allow people to do what is good on Jewish days of rest."

ULT How much more valuable, then, {is} a man than a sheep
UST Therefore, {since} people are more important than sheep{, you should help others even more than you help sheep on Jewish days of rest}
(πόσῳ οὖν διαφέρει ἄνθρωπος προβάτου)

Jesus is using the question form to show that a man is more valuable than a sheep and should be treated accordingly. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [A man, then, is more valuable than a sheep.] or [A man, then, is much more valuable than a sheep!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT How much more valuable, then, {is} a man than a sheep
UST Therefore, {since} people are more important than sheep{, you should help others even more than you help sheep on Jewish days of rest}
(πόσῳ οὖν διαφέρει ἄνθρωπος προβάτου)

Jesus implies that, since even on Sabbath days people help sheep that are less valuable, they should also help people, who are more valuable, on Sabbath days. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [How much more valuable, then, is a man than a sheep? So, even on the Sabbaths, you should assist other people more than you assist sheep.]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT How much more valuable, then, {is} a man than UST Therefore, {since} people are more important (πόσῳ οὖν διαφέρει ἄνθρωπος)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could move the transition word then to the beginning of the question. Alternate translation: [Then how much more valuable is a man than]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT then
UST Therefore
(οὖν)

The word then introduces an inference based on what Jesus said about the sheep in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an inference. Alternate translation: [given what I have said about sheep] or [in light of that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT {is} a man
UST {since} people
(ἄνθρωπος)

Although the term man is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [is a person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT Therefore, it is lawful
UST So then, the laws that God gave Moses allow (ὥστε ἔξεστιν)

The word Therefore introduces an inference based on what Jesus has said about sheep and people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces an inference. Alternate translation: [Because of those things, you can see that it is lawful] or [Since that is true, you can tell that it is lawful]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT to do good
UST people to do what is good (καλῶς ποιεῖν)

Alternate translation: [to help people]

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a sheep	than sheep{, you should help others even more than you help sheep on Jewish days of rest} it is lawful	the laws that God gave Moses allow good	what is good

ULT	UST
on the Sabbaths	on Jewish days of rest

Matthew 12:13

ULT	UST
Then he says to the man, "Stretch out your hand." And he stretched {it} out, and it was restored to health, just like the other.	After {saying that}, Jesus commanded the man, "Extend the hand {that you cannot move}!" The man extended his hand, and he could move it just as well as his other hand.

ULT he says
UST Jesus commanded
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Stretch out your hand
UST Extend the hand {that you cannot move}
(ἔκτεινόν σου τὴν χεῖρα)

This was not a command that the man was capable of obeying. Instead, this was a command that directly caused the man to be healed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea more explicitly. Alternate translation: [I heal you. Now stretch out your hand!]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Stretch out your hand
UST Extend the hand {that you cannot move}
(ἔκτεινόν σου τὴν χεῖρα)

The command and the word your are singular since Jesus is speaking directly to the man with the withered hand.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT it was restored to health
> UST he could move it
> (ἀπεκατεστάθη, ὑγιὴς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [it became healthy] or [Jesus restored it to health]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT it was restored to health
> UST he could move it
> (ἀπεκατεστάθη, ὑγιὴς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of health, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [it was made healthy]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT the other
> UST his other hand
> (ἡ ἄλλη)

Matthew is using the adjective other as a noun to mean the man's other hand. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the other hand]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

Matthew 12:14

ULT	UST
But having gone out, the Pharisees took counsel against him so that they might destroy him.	Then the Pharisees left {the Jewish meeting place}. They started planning how they could kill Jesus.

ULT But
UST Then
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT took counsel against him
UST They started planning
(συμβούλιον ἔλαβον κατ᾽ αὐτοῦ)

The phrase took counsel against him indicates that the Pharisees were working together to figure out ways to harm Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [made plans concerning Jesus] or [discussed ideas about how they could harm Jesus]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	Pharisees
counsel	They started planning

Matthew 12:15

ULT	UST
But Jesus, having perceived this, withdrew from there. And many followed him, and he healed them all,	Jesus knew {that the Pharisees were planning to kill him}. So, he left that area. Many people went with him, and he cured all of them {who were sick}.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having perceived this
UST knew {that the Pharisees were planning to kill him} (γνοὺς)

Matthew implies that Jesus perceived that the Pharisees were planning to kill him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this idea more explicitly. Alternate translation: [having perceived that they were taking counsel against him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from there
UST that area
(ἐκεῖθεν)

The word there refers to the area where Jesus had been when he healed the man with the withered hand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express that idea more explicitly. Alternate translation: [from that region] or [from where he had healed the man]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT many
UST Many people
(πολλοί)

Matthew is using the adjective many as a noun to mean many people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [many others]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT them all
UST all of them {who were sick}
(αὐτοὺς πάντας)

Matthew implies that Jesus healed all the people who were sick. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [all of them who had diseases]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
having perceived this	knew {that the Pharisees were planning to kill him}

Matthew 12:16

ULT	UST
and he rebuked them so that they might not make him known,	Jesus commanded them strongly that they should not tell other people about him.

ULT them so that they might not make him known
UST them … that they should not tell other people about him
(αὐτοῖς ἵνα μὴ φανερὸν αὐτὸν ποιήσωσιν)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [them, “Do not make me known,”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT them so that they might not make
UST them … that they should not (αὐτοῖς ἵνα μὴ & ποιήσωσιν)

The pronoun them could refer to: (1) all the people who were following Jesus. Alternate translation: [all of them so that they might not make]; (2) just the people whom he healed. Alternate translation: [those he had healed so that they might not make]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT they might not make him known
UST they should not tell other people about him
(μὴ φανερὸν αὐτὸν ποιήσωσιν)

The phrase make him known refers to telling many people about him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they might not talk about him with many other people] or [they might not speak about him with everyone]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 12:17

ULT	UST
so that it might be fulfilled what was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,	So, what God said by speaking through the prophet Isaiah came true:

Note:

This verse is identical to 4:14, so express the idea as you did there.

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
it might be fulfilled	came true
Isaiah	Isaiah
prophet	prophet

Matthew 12:18

ULT	UST
"Behold, my servant whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul was well pleased. I will put my Spirit upon him, and he will announce justice to the Gentiles.	"Consider the one who serves me, whom I selected. I love him, and what he does pleases me. I will empower him with the Holy Spirit. He will declare to the non-Jews that I do what is right.

> Note: (12:18-21)

In these verses, Matthew quotes parts of Isaiah 42:1–4. He leaves out parts of Isaiah 42:4, and in many places his quotation does not match the Hebrew version of Isaiah. So, translate what Matthew writes, not what you might read in Isaiah 42:1–4.

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT Behold, my servant
> UST Consider the one who serves me
> (ἰδοὺ, ὁ παῖς μου)

The word Behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express Behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [Look, my servant] or [Think about my servant]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT my beloved
> UST I love him
> (ὁ ἀγαπητός μου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the one whom I love]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT in whom my soul was well pleased
> UST and what he does pleases me
> (εἰς ὃν εὐδόκησεν ἡ ψυχή μου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [who pleases my soul]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT my soul was well pleased
> UST pleases me
> (εὐδόκησεν ἡ ψυχή μου)

God is using my soul to represent himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I myself am well pleased]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

> ULT was well pleased
> UST pleases
> (εὐδόκησεν)

The past tense indicates that God was well pleased with the servant and continues to be well pleased. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever tense makes this clear. Alternate translation: [is well pleased] or [has been well pleased]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT I will put my Spirit upon him
> UST I will empower him with the Holy Spirit
> (θήσω τὸ Πνεῦμά μου ἐπ᾽ αὐτόν)

God speaks as if the Spirit were an object that he will put on the servant. He means that he will give the Spirit to the servant so that the servant can act with power. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable metaphor or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will give him my Spirit] or [I will enable him to act by the power of my Spirit]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my Spirit
UST with the Holy Spirit
(τὸ Πνεῦμά μου)

The phrase my Spirit refers to the Holy Spirit. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [my Holy Spirit]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT justice to the Gentiles
UST to the non-Jews that I do what is right
(κρίσιν τοῖς ἔθνεσιν)

The word justice could indicate that: (1) God does what is just. Alternate translation: [to the Gentiles that God is just] or [to the Gentiles that God does what is just]; (2) God will judge justly. Alternate translation: [just judgment to the Gentiles] or [to the Gentiles that God will judge]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT justice to the Gentiles
UST to the non-Jews that I do what is right
(κρίσιν τοῖς ἔθνεσιν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of justice, you could express the same idea in another way. Make sure that your translation fits with the interpretation of justice that you chose in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [to the Gentiles that God will act justly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT to the Gentiles
UST to the non-Jews
(τοῖς ἔθνεσιν)

The words translated as to the Gentiles could refer to: (1) people who are not Jewish. Alternate translation: [to Gentile people]; (2) all people, including Jewish people. Alternate translation: [to the nations] or [to all peoples]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
servant	the one who serves
I have chosen	I selected

ULT	UST
beloved	I love him
soul	me
was well pleased	pleases
Spirit	with the Holy Spirit
justice	that I do what is right to the Gentiles	to the non-Jews

Matthew 12:19

ULT	UST
He will not strive nor cry aloud; neither will anyone hear his voice in the streets.	He will not quarrel with people. He will not shout loudly. He will not speak to many people in public areas.

ULT his voice
UST He will … speak
(τὴν φωνὴν αὐτοῦ)

Here, his voice represents him speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [him talking]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT in the streets
UST in public areas
(ἐν ταῖς πλατείαις)

In Jesus' culture, the streets were public, noisy places. The author of the quotation uses the phrase the streets as an example of any public, noisy place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to a similar place in your culture. Alternate translation: [in the public square] or [in noisy places where there are many people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
cry aloud	He will … shout loudly

Matthew 12:20

ULT	UST
He will not break a bruised reed; and he will not quench a smoking flax, until he casts out justice to victory,	He will be gentle with weak people. He will be kind to feeble people. {He will do those things} until he successfully completes doing what is right.

ULT He will not break a bruised reed; and he will not quench a smoking flax
UST He will be gentle with weak people. He will be kind to feeble people (κάλαμον συντετριμμένον οὐ κατεάξει, καὶ λίνον τυφόμενον οὐ σβέσει)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, and it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [He will not break a bruised reed; yes, he will not quench a smoking flax]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT He will not break a bruised reed
UST He will be gentle with weak people
(κάλαμον συντετριμμένον οὐ κατεάξει)

The author of the quotation speaks of weak or suffering people as if they were a bruised or damaged reed. He means that Jesus will not ignore or hurt these people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or use plain language. Alternate translation: [He will not hurt suffering people, which would be like breaking a bruised reed] or [He will not hurt suffering people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT he will not quench a smoking flax
> UST He will be kind to feeble people
> (λίνον τυφόμενον οὐ σβέσει)

The author of the quotation speaks of weak or suffering people as if they were a smoking flax. He means that Jesus will not ignore or hurt these people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or use plain language. Alternate translation: [He will not ignore injured people, which would be like quenching a smoking flax] or [He will not ignore injured people]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT a smoking flax
> UST to feeble people
> (λίνον τυφόμενον)

A flax is a piece of cloth or thread made out of parts of the flax plant. People in the author's culture would use these pieces of cloth or thread as lamp wicks. If the flax was smoking, it was not burning properly and would normally be thrown away and replaced. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of cloth and its use, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a smoldering wick] or [a lamp that is barely burning]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT until
> UST {He will do those things} until > (ἕως)

The word until indicates that the servant will continue to act as this verse describes up to the time when the goal of justice is accomplished. It does not mean that the servant will start acting differently at that time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that indicates a duration of time up to a point in the future. Alternate translation: [up to the time when]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT he casts out justice
UST {He will do those things} until he … completes doing what is right (ἂν ἐκβάλῃ & τὴν κρίσιν)

The phrase casts out indicates that the servant is producing justice or causing justice to happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he produces justice] or [he causes justice to happen]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT to victory
UST successfully
(εἰς νῖκος)

The phrase to victory could mean that justice: (1) is accomplished successfully. Alternate translation: [successfully] or [completely]; (2) lasts forever. Alternate translation: [forever]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT he casts out justice to victory
UST {He will do those things} until he successfully completes doing what is right (ἂν ἐκβάλῃ εἰς νῖκος τὴν κρίσιν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the ideas of justice or victory, you could express the same ideas in another way. Make sure that your translation fits with the choices you made in the previous two notes. Alternate translation: [he successfully accomplishes what is just] or [he makes everything just forever]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a … reed	with weak people
he will … quench	He will be kind justice	doing what is right

Matthew 12:21

ULT	UST
and in his name Gentiles will hope.”	Non-Jewish people will confidently trust in him.”

ULT in his name Gentiles will hope
UST Non-Jewish people will confidently trust in him
(τῷ ὀνόματι αὐτοῦ ἔθνη ἐλπιοῦσιν)

The author of the quotation implies that the Gentiles will hope for the servant to help or save them. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Gentiles will hope in his name, that he will help them] or [Gentiles will hope in his name, that he will save them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in his name
UST in him
(τῷ ὀνόματι αὐτοῦ)

Here, name represents the person who has that name. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in my servant]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Gentiles
UST Non-Jewish people
(ἔθνη)

Here, just as in 12:18, the words translated as the Gentiles could refer to: (1) people who are not Jewish. Alternate translation: [Gentile people]; (2) all people, including Jewish people. Alternate translation: [the nations] or [all peoples]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Gentiles	Non-Jewish people will hope	will confidently trust

Matthew 12:22

ULT	UST
Then one being demon-possessed was brought to him, blind and mute, and he healed him, so that the mute one spoke and saw.	After that, some people brought a man to Jesus. A demon was controlling him and keeping him from seeing or speaking. Jesus cured the man, and he was able to speak and see.

ULT Then
UST After that
(τότε)

The word Then introduces a new event that happened some time after the events the story has just related. The story does not say how long after those events this new event happened. Use the natural form in your language for introducing a new event. Alternate translation: [Some time later,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT one being demon-possessed was brought to him, blind and mute
UST some people brought a man to Jesus. A demon was controlling him and keeping him from seeing or speaking
(προσηνέχθη αὐτῷ δαιμονιζόμενος, τυφλὸς καὶ κωφός)

Matthew is using the phrase one being demon-possessed to introduce this man as a new participant in the story. If your language has its own way of introducing new participants, you could use it in your translation. Alternate translation: [a person was brought to Jesus. He was demon-possessed, blind, and mute]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT one being demon-possessed was brought to him, blind and mute
UST some people brought a man to Jesus. A demon was controlling him and keeping him from seeing or speaking
(προσηνέχθη αὐτῷ δαιμονιζόμενος, τυφλὸς καὶ κωφός)

Matthew implies that the demon made the man blind and mute. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [one being possessed by a demon that made him blind and mute was brought to Jesus]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT one being demon-possessed was brought to him
UST some people brought a man to Jesus. A demon was controlling him (προσηνέχθη αὐτῷ δαιμονιζόμενος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [they brought to him one being demon-possessed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT one being demon-possessed
UST a man … A demon was controlling him (δαιμονιζόμενος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [one whom a demon had possessed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT blind and mute
UST and keeping him from seeing or speaking (τυφλὸς καὶ κωφός)

A mute person is a person who cannot speak, and a blind person is a person who cannot see. If your readers would not be familiar with these types of disorders or illnesses, you could use the names of similar things in your area or you could use more general terms. Alternate translation: [who was unable to talk or see things]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT he healed him
UST Jesus cured the man
(ἐθεράπευσεν αὐτόν)

Matthew implies that Jesus healed the man in every way, which would include casting out the demon. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he cast out the demon and healed him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the mute one
> UST he
> (τὸν κωφὸν)

Matthew uses the phrase the mute one to indicate that the man had been mute, and also blind, before Jesus healed him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate that this phrase describes what the man was like before Jesus healed him, or you could refer back to the man in a different way. Alternate translation: [the man who had been mute and blind] or [he]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
one being demon-possessed	a man … A demon was controlling him

Matthew 12:23

ULT	UST
And all the crowds were amazed and were saying, "Is this not the Son of David?"	What Jesus had done impressed all the large groups of people {who were nearby}. They declared {to each other}, "Perhaps this man is the special descendant of King David."

ULT were amazed
UST What Jesus had done impressed
(ἐξίσταντο)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [were marveling]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT Is this not the Son of David
UST Perhaps this man is the special descendant of King David (μήτι οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

The crowds are using the question form to suggest that Jesus might be the Son of David. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [This might be the Son of David.] or [Maybe this is the Son of David!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the Son of David
UST the special descendant of King David
(ὁ υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

Here, the word Son means a male descendant. It does not mean that Jesus was the direct son of David. Express the idea as you did in 9:27. Alternate translation: [the Descendant of David] or [you who are descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the Son of David
UST the special descendant of King David
(ὁ υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

David was Israel's most important king, and God had promised him that one of his descendants would be the Messiah. So the title Son of David could implicitly mean "Messiah." Express the idea as you did in 9:27. Alternate translation: [the Son of David, the Messiah]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of David	of King David

Matthew 12:24

ULT	UST
But the Pharisees, having heard this, said, "He does not cast out demons except by Beelzebul, ruler of the demons."	However, the Pharisees heard {them saying that}. They responded, "This man forces out demons only because Beelzebul, who rules the demons, enables him to do so."

ULT having heard this
UST heard {them saying that} (ἀκούσαντες)

Matthew implies that Pharisees heard what the crowds were asking about Jesus (see 12:23). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having heard what the crowds were asking]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT He does not cast out demons except by Beelzebul
UST This man forces out demons only because Beelzebul … enables him to do so (οὗτος οὐκ ἐκβάλλει τὰ δαιμόνια, εἰ μὴ ἐν τῷ Βεελζεβοὺλ)

If, in your language, it would appear that the Pharisees were making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [He is only able to cast out demons by Beelzebul]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT by Beelzebul
UST because Beelzebul … enables him to do so
(ἐν τῷ Βεελζεβοὺλ)

These people are using the name of this chief demon to refer by association to his power, which they are accusing Jesus of using. Alternate translation: [by the power of Beelzebul]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	Pharisees
does … cast out	forces out
demons	demons
Beelzebul	Beelzebul … enables him to do so ruler	who rules

ULT	UST
of the demons	the demons

Matthew 12:25

ULT	UST
But having known their thoughts, he said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is made desolate, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.	Jesus realized what they were thinking. So he said to them, "When the people in one nation fight against each other, they will destroy their nation. When people who live in the same town or household fight against each other, that town or household will not last.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Every kingdom divided against itself is made desolate, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand
UST When the people in one nation fight against each other, they will destroy their nation. When people who live in the same town or household fight against each other, that town or household will not last
(πᾶσα βασιλεία μερισθεῖσα καθ' ἑαυτῆς ἐρημοῦται, καὶ πᾶσα πόλις ἢ οἰκία μερισθεῖσα καθ' ἑαυτῆς οὐ σταθήσεται)

Jesus uses or invents two proverbs in order to teach the Pharisees that his power cannot come from the same source as the demon's power. Translate these proverbs in such a way that they will be recognized as proverbs and be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [If a kingdom is divided against itself, it will be made desolate. Similarly, if a city or a house is divided against itself, it will not stand]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT Every kingdom divided against itself is made desolate, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand
UST When the people in one nation fight against each other, they will destroy their nation. When people who live in the same town or household fight against each other, that town or household will not last
(πᾶσα βασιλεία μερισθεῖσα καθ’ ἑαυτῆς ἐρημοῦται, καὶ πᾶσα πόλις ἢ οἰκία μερισθεῖσα καθ’ ἑαυτῆς οὐ σταθήσεται)

These two sentences mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the sentences with a word other than and in order to show that the second sentence is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Every kingdom divided against itself is made desolate; indeed, every city or house divided against itself will not stand]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT Every kingdom divided against itself is made desolate, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand
UST When the people in one nation fight against each other, they will destroy their nation. When people who live in the same town or household fight against each other, that town or household will not last
(πᾶσα βασιλεία μερισθεῖσα καθ’ ἑαυτῆς ἐρημοῦται, καὶ πᾶσα πόλις ἢ οἰκία μερισθεῖσα καθ’ ἑαυτῆς οὐ σταθήσεται)

The words kingdom, city, and house represent the people who live in those places. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use equivalent expressions from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [People in one kingdom who are divided against each other will be made desolate, and people in one city or house who are divided against each other will not stand]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT divided against itself … divided against itself
UST fight against each other … fight against each other (μερισθεῖσα καθ’ ἑαυτῆς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [that attacks itself … that attacks itself]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT is made desolate
> UST they will destroy their nation
> (ἐρημοῦται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [ruins itself] or [destroys itself]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT will not stand
> UST that town or household will not last > (οὐ σταθήσεται)

The phrase will not stand means that the city or house will not exist much longer. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will fall] or [will no longer exist]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having known	Jesus realized
kingdom	When the people in one nation is made desolate	they will destroy their nation house	household

Matthew 12:26

ULT	UST
And if Satan casts out Satan, he has been divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand?	Suppose that Satan enabled people to force out his own demons. In that case, he would be fighting against himself. So, he would soon cease to rule over the demons!

ULT if Satan casts out Satan, he has been divided against himself
UST Suppose that Satan enabled people to force out his own demons. In that case, he would be fighting against himself
(εἰ ὁ Σατανᾶς τὸν Σατανᾶν ἐκβάλλει, ἐφ᾽ ἑαυτὸν ἐμερίσθη)

Jesus is making a conditional statement that sounds hypothetical, but he is already convinced that the condition is not true. He has concluded that Satan is not divided against himself, because Satan has not been divided against himself. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a condition that the speaker believes is not true. Alternate translation: [were Satan to cast out Satan, he would have been divided against himself]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions

ULT Satan casts out Satan
UST that Satan enabled people to force out his own demons
(ὁ Σατανᾶς τὸν Σατανᾶν ἐκβάλλει)

In both places, Satan represents people who act by the power of Satan. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Satan’s followers cast out Satan’s followers] or [those who act by Satan’s power cast out others who also act by Satan’s power]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT he has been divided against himself
UST In that case, he would be fighting against himself
(ἐφ᾽ ἑαυτὸν ἐμερίσθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he has attacked himself]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT How then will his kingdom stand
UST So, he would soon cease to rule over the demons
(πῶς οὖν σταθήσεται ἡ βασιλεία αὐτοῦ)

Jesus is using the question form to show that Satan's kingdom will not stand if he is divided against himself. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [His kingdom, then, will not stand.] or [His kingdom will certainly not stand!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT will his kingdom stand
UST he would soon cease to rule over the demons (σταθήσεται ἡ βασιλεία αὐτοῦ)

Here, the word stand means that the kingdom would exist for a long time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will his kingdom continue to exist] or [will his kingdom remain]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Satan	that Satan
casts out	enabled people to force out
Satan	his own demons
kingdom	to rule over the demons

Matthew 12:27

ULT	UST
And if I cast out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Because of this they will be your judges.	Further, suppose that Beelzebul is enabling me to force out demons. Then, it must also be true that he is enabling your apprentices to force out demons. {But you know that is not true.} So your own apprentices prove that you are wrong.

ULT if I cast out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out
UST suppose that Beelzebul is enabling me to force out demons. Then, it must also be true that he is enabling your apprentices to force out demons
(εἰ ἐγὼ ἐν Βεελζεβοὺλ ἐκβάλλω τὰ δαιμόνια, οἱ υἱοὶ ὑμῶν ἐν τίνι ἐκβάλλουσιν)

Jesus is making a conditional statement that sounds hypothetical, but he is already convinced that the condition is not true. He knows that he does not cast out demons by Beelzebul, but he wants to show what would also be true if he did cast out demons by Beelzebul. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a condition that the speaker believes is not true. Alternate translation: [were I to be casting out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom would your sons be casting them out]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrary to Fact Conditions

ULT if I cast out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out
UST suppose that Beelzebul is enabling me to force out demons. Then, it must also be true that he is enabling your apprentices to force out demons
(εἰ ἐγὼ ἐν Βεελζεβοὺλ ἐκβάλλω τὰ δαιμόνια, οἱ υἱοὶ ὑμῶν ἐν τίνι ἐκβάλλουσιν)

The implication is that the people challenging Jesus would not say that their own followers were using the power of Beelzebul, and so they should agree that he is not using that power himself. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [if I cast out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Since you do not believe that they cast out demons by Beelzebul, it must not be true about me, either.]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT by whom do your sons cast them out
UST Then, it must also be true that he is enabling your apprentices to force out demons
(οἱ υἱοὶ ὑμῶν ἐν τίνι ἐκβάλλουσιν)

Jesus is using the question form to show that the sons of the Pharisees must use the same power that he uses. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [your sons cast them out by that same power] or [then your sons also cast them out by Beelzebul]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT your sons
UST your apprentices
(οἱ υἱοὶ ὑμῶν)

Jesus is speaking of the disciples of the Pharisees as if they were their sons. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your disciples] or [your followers]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Because of this
UST {But you know that is not true.} So
(διὰ τοῦτο)

Jesus implies that the Pharisees would not say that their sons cast out demons by Beelzebul, and the phrase Because of this introduces a result based on this implied answer. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the reason for this result more explicit. Alternate translation: [Because you would not say that they cast out demons by Beelzebul,] or [Since you would not answer that they do it by Beelzebul,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT they will be your judges
> UST your own apprentices prove that you are wrong
> (αὐτοὶ κριταὶ ἔσονται ὑμῶν)

Jesus speaks of the sons of the Pharisees as if they were the Pharisees' judges. He means that what the sons do proves that the Pharisees are wrong about what they have said about Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what they do proves that you are wrong] or [when they cast out demons, it shows that you have spoken falsely]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
cast out	to force out
demons	demons
Beelzebul	Beelzebul is enabling do … cast them out	to force out demons
judges	prove that … are wrong

Matthew 12:28

ULT	UST
But if I cast out the demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.	Actually, the Holy Spirit enables me to force out demons. That means that God is establishing his kingdom among you.

ULT But
UST Actually
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a contrast with what the Pharisees have said about how Jesus casts out demons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [On the other hand,] or [In contrast,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT if I cast out the demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has come upon you
UST Actually, the Holy Spirit enables me to force out demons. That means that God is establishing his kingdom among you (εἰ & ἐν Πνεύματι Θεοῦ ἐγὼ ἐκβάλλω τὰ δαιμόνια, ἄρα ἔφθασεν ἐφ’ ὑμᾶς ἡ Βασιλεία τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Jesus speaks as if this were a hypothetical situation, but he means that it must be true. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, and if your readers might think that what Jesus is saying is uncertain, then you could translate his words as an affirmative statement. Alternate translation: [since I cast out the demons by the Spirit of God, the kingdom of God has come upon you]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

ULT the kingdom of God has come upon you
UST God is establishing his kingdom among you
(ἔφθασεν ἐφ’ ὑμᾶς ἡ Βασιλεία τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Jesus speaks as if the kingdom of God had come upon the Pharisees. He means that God is making where they and Jesus are into part of his kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [God is ruling among you] or [this region has become part of God’s kingdom]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
cast out	to force out
demons	demons
the Spirit of God	the Holy Spirit enables kingdom of God	his kingdom

Matthew 12:29

ULT	UST
Or how is anyone able to enter into the house of the strong man and steal his possessions if he has not first bound the strong man? And then he will plunder his house.	Before thieves can break into the home of a strong man and take his belongings, they must first tie up the strong man. After that, they can take the belongings from his home.

ULT Or
(ἢ)

Jesus uses the word Or to introduce another explanation of the same point that he has been making. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces an alternate explanation, or you could leave Or untranslated. Alternate translation: [In other words,] or [Think about it this way:]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Or how is anyone able
UST thieves can … must (ἢ πῶς δύναταί τις)

To help the Pharisees understand what he has been saying, Jesus offers a brief illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. For an explanation of this parable, see the chapter introduction. Alternate translation: [Here is an illustration of what I mean: how is anyone able]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT Or how is anyone able to enter into the house of the strong man and steal his possessions if he has not first bound the strong man
UST Before thieves can break into the home of a strong man and take his belongings, they must first tie up the strong man
(ἢ πῶς δύναταί τις εἰσελθεῖν εἰς τὴν οἰκίαν τοῦ ἰσχυροῦ καὶ τὰ σκεύη αὐτοῦ ἁρπάσαι, ἐὰν μὴ πρῶτον δήσῃ τὸν ἰσχυρόν)

Jesus is using the question form to show that a strong man must be tied up before someone can steal his possessions. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [No one is able to enter into the house of the strong man and steal his possessions if he has not first tied up the strong man.] or [It is impossible for anyone to enter into the house of the strong man and steal his possessions if he has not first bound the strong man!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT how is anyone able to enter into the house of the strong man and steal his possessions if he has not first bound the strong man
UST Before thieves can break into the home of a strong man and take his belongings, they must first tie up the strong man
(πῶς δύναταί τις εἰσελθεῖν εἰς τὴν οἰκίαν τοῦ ἰσχυροῦ καὶ τὰ σκεύη αὐτοῦ ἁρπάσαι, ἐὰν μὴ πρῶτον δήσῃ τὸν ἰσχυρόν)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [how, unless he has first bound the strong man, is anyone able to enter into the house of that strong man and steal his belongings]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT he has not first bound … he will plunder
UST Before … they … first tie up … they can take (μὴ πρῶτον δήσῃ & διαρπάσει)

Although the term he in both these places is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [that person has not first bound … that person will plunder]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT he will plunder his
> UST they can take the belongings from his home
> (αὐτοῦ διαρπάσει)

The word he refers to the person who is stealing. The word his refers to the strong man. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the thief will plunder the strong man's]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the home
steal	take
he has … bound	they … tie up house	the belongings from his home

Matthew 12:30

ULT	UST
The one not being with me is against me, and the one not gathering with me scatters.	Anyone who is not supporting me is opposing me. Anyone who is not bringing people to me is sending them away from me.

ULT The one not being with me is against me, and the one not gathering with me scatters
UST Anyone who is not supporting me is opposing me. Anyone who is not bringing people to me is sending them away from me
(ὁ μὴ ὢν μετ᾽ ἐμοῦ κατ᾽ ἐμοῦ ἐστιν; καὶ ὁ μὴ συνάγων μετ᾽ ἐμοῦ σκορπίζει)

Jesus is not referring to a specific individual. Rather, he is making a general statement that applies to any person or group of people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that refers to any person. Alternate translation: [Anyone who is not with me is against me, and anyone who does not gather with me scatters] or [Those who are not with me are against me, and those who do not gather with me scatter]

ULT The one not being with me
UST Anyone who is not supporting me
(ὁ μὴ ὢν μετ᾽ ἐμοῦ)

The phrase with me describes people who support or are friendly to Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The one not being my friend] or [The one not helping me]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the one not gathering with me scatters
UST Anyone who is not bringing people to me is sending them away from me (ὁ μὴ συνάγων μετ᾽ ἐμοῦ σκορπίζει)

Jesus implies that people are either gathering other people to him as disciples or scattering other people away from Jesus. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [the one not gathering people to be with me scatters people away from me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 12:31

ULT	UST
For this reason I say to you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy of the Spirit will not be forgiven.	So then, here is what I want to tell you: God will forgive many people who sin in many ways or say bad things {about God or others}. However, God will not forgive people who say bad things about the Holy Spirit.

ULT For this reason
UST So then
(διὰ τοῦτο)

The phrase For this reason introduces a conclusion based on what Jesus has said in 12:25–30. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a conclusion. Alternate translation: [Because of all that] or [Therefore]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I say to you, every sin
UST here is what I want to tell you … who sin in many ways (λέγω ὑμῖν, πᾶσα ἁμαρτία)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you to emphasize what he is about to tell his audience. Use a natural form in your language for emphasizing the truth and importance of a statement. Alternate translation: [I want you to know that every sin]

ULT every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy of the Spirit will not be forgiven
UST God will forgive many people who sin in many ways or say bad things {about God or others}. However, God will not forgive people who say bad things about the Holy Spirit
(πᾶσα ἁμαρτία καὶ βλασφημία ἀφεθήσεται τοῖς ἀνθρώποις; ἡ δὲ τοῦ Πνεύματος, βλασφημία οὐκ ἀφεθήσεται)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [the only sin or blasphemy that will not be forgiven men is the blasphemy of the Holy Spirit] or [most sins and blasphemies will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy of the Spirit will not be forgiven]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy of the Spirit will not be forgiven
UST God will forgive many people who sin in many ways or say bad things {about God or others}. However, God will not forgive people who say bad things about the Holy Spirit
(πᾶσα ἁμαρτία καὶ βλασφημία ἀφεθήσεται τοῖς ἀνθρώποις; ἡ δὲ τοῦ Πνεύματος, βλασφημία οὐκ ἀφεθήσεται)

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the actions, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will forgive men for every sin and blasphemy, but God will not forgive the blasphemy of the Holy Spirit]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men
UST God will forgive many people who sin in many ways or say bad things {about God or others}
(πᾶσα ἁμαρτία καὶ βλασφημία ἀφεθήσεται τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Jesus is indicating that God forgives all kinds of sin and blasphemy, not that God will forgive every single sin or blasphemy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [every sin and blasphemy can be forgiven men] or [all kinds of sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT every sin and blasphemy
UST who sin in many ways or say bad things {about God or others}
(πᾶσα ἁμαρτία καὶ βλασφημία)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of sin and blasphemy, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [all sinful and blasphemous things] or [whenever anyone sins or blasphemes, it]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT men
UST many people
(τοῖς ἀνθρώποις)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT the blasphemy of the Spirit
> UST people who say bad things about the Holy Spirit
> (ἡ & τοῦ Πνεύματος, βλασφημία)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe blasphemy that is spoken against the Spirit. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the blasphemy against the Spirit] or [the blasphemy spoken against the Spirit]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT the blasphemy of the Spirit
> UST people who say bad things about the Holy Spirit
> (ἡ & τοῦ Πνεύματος, βλασφημία)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of blasphemy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [whenever anyone blasphemes against the Spirit, it]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sin	who sin
blasphemy	say bad things {about God or others}
will be forgiven	God will forgive
blasphemy	people who say bad things of the Spirit	about the Holy Spirit
will … be forgiven	God will … forgive

Matthew 12:32

ULT	UST
And whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him. But whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven him, neither in this age, nor in the one coming.	Further, God will forgive people who say bad things about me, the Son of Man. However, God will not forgive people who say bad things about the Holy Spirit. {He will} not {forgive them} right now or at any later time.

ULT speaks a word
UST say bad things
(εἴπῃ λόγον)

Matthew is using the term word to mean something spoken in words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [says anything]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the Son of Man
UST me, the Son of Man
(τοῦ Υἱοῦ τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [the Son of Man, that is, me]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT it will be forgiven him … it will not be forgiven him
UST God will forgive people … God will not forgive people (ἀφεθήσεται αὐτῷ & οὐκ ἀφεθήσεται αὐτῷ)

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the actions, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will forgive him … God will not forgive him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT him … him
UST people … people
(αὐτῷ)

Although the terms him and him are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [that person … that person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT in this age, nor in the one coming
UST He will … {forgive them} right now or at any later time
(ἐν τούτῳ τῷ αἰῶνι οὔτε ἐν τῷ μέλλοντι)

Here, the phrase this age refers to the time before God judges everyone and renews the world, and the phrase the one coming refers to the time after God judges everyone and renews the world. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use comparable phrases or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in this life, nor in the life to come] or [before God judges everyone, nor after God judges everyone] or [now nor ever]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man
it will be forgiven	God will forgive
it will … be forgiven	God will … forgive
age	He will … {forgive them} right now
Holy Spirit	the Holy Spirit

Matthew 12:33

ULT	UST
Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree rotten and its fruit rotten, for the tree is known by its fruit.	You must decide either that both a tree and its fruit are healthy or that both a tree and its fruit are unhealthy. {I say that} because you can tell if a tree is healthy or unhealthy by what kind of fruit it produces. Similarly, you can tell what people are really like by the things that they do.

ULT Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree rotten and its fruit rotten, for the tree is known by its fruit

UST You must decide either that both a tree and its fruit are healthy or that both a tree and its fruit are unhealthy. {I say that} because you can tell if a tree is healthy or unhealthy by what kind of fruit it produces. Similarly, you can tell what people are really like by the things that they do

(ἢ ποιήσατε τὸ δένδρον καλὸν καὶ τὸν καρπὸν αὐτοῦ καλόν, ἢ ποιήσατε τὸ δένδρον σαπρὸν καὶ τὸν καρπὸν αὐτοῦ σαπρόν; ἐκ γὰρ τοῦ καρποῦ, τὸ δένδρον γινώσκεται)

Here Jesus speaks of people as if they were trees that produced fruit. It makes sense to say that a tree and its fruit together are either good or rotten. It does not make sense to say that a tree is good and its fruit rotten or that a tree is rotten and its fruit good. That is because trees are known by their fruits. Similarly, people who follow God do what is right, and people who do not follow God do what is wrong. It does not make sense to say that someone who does what is right is not following God or that someone who does what is wrong is following God. Most likely, Jesus wishes to apply this figure of speech both to himself (a good tree) and to the Pharisees (bad trees). If possible, preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. Alternate translation: [Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree rotten and its fruit rotten. Similarly, either call people good and their deeds good, or call people bad and their deeds bad. For, just as a tree is known by its fruit, so people are known by their deeds]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree rotten and its fruit rotten
UST You must decide either that both a tree and its fruit are healthy or that both a tree and its fruit are unhealthy
(ἢ ποιήσατε τὸ δένδρον καλὸν καὶ τὸν καρπὸν αὐτοῦ καλόν, ἢ ποιήσατε τὸ δένδρον σαπρὸν καὶ τὸν καρπὸν αὐτοῦ σαπρόν)

Here Jesus could be indicating that: (1) people should make consistent judgments or evaluations of both a tree and its fruit. Alternate translation: [Either consider both the tree and its fruit good, or consider both the tree and its fruit bad]; (2) people can make a tree either good or rotten by how they care for that tree. Then, the tree will make fruit that fits with how people cared for that tree. Alternate translation: [Either make the tree good, and it will make its fruit good, or make the tree rotten, and it will make its fruit rotten] or [Either make the tree good, and its fruit will be good, or make the tree rotten, and its fruit will be rotten]; (3) a tree produces fruit that fits with what kind of tree it is. Alternate translation: [Either a tree is good and produces good fruit, or a tree is rotten and produces rotten fruit]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the tree … the tree … the tree
UST both a tree … both a tree … a tree … people (τὸ δένδρον)

The word tree represents trees in general, not one particular tree. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [any tree … any tree … every tree]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT for
UST {I say that} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces a reason why a tree and its fruit must either be good or rotten. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [since] or [which I command because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the tree is known by its fruit
UST you can tell if a tree is healthy or unhealthy by what kind of fruit it produces. Similarly, you can tell what people are really like by the things that they do
(ἐκ & τοῦ καρποῦ, τὸ δένδρον γινώσκεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [people know the tree by its fruit]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	both a tree
fruit	fruit
good	are healthy
rotten	both a tree
fruit	fruit
rotten	are unhealthy
is known	you can tell if … is healthy or unhealthy … Similarly, you can tell what … are really like fruit	what kind of fruit it produces … the things that they do

Matthew 12:34

ULT	UST
You offspring of vipers, being evil, how are you able to say good things? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.	You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes! Because you are wicked, you cannot say anything good. {I say that} because people speak based on what they are thinking about.

ULT You offspring of vipers, being UST You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes! Because you are (γεννήματα ἐχιδνῶν & ὄντες)

Translate this metaphor as you did in 3:7. Alternate translation: [You are like poisonous creatures! Being] or [You wicked people! Being]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT being evil
UST Because you are wicked
(πονηροὶ ὄντες)

Here, the phrase being evil gives the reason why Jesus implies that the Pharisees cannot say good things. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [since you are evil]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT how are you able to say good things
UST you cannot say anything good (πῶς δύνασθε ἀγαθὰ λαλεῖν)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the Pharisees for failing to speak good things. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you are certainly not able to say good things] or [you are never able to say good things!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT For
UST {I say that} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why evil people cannot say good things. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [That is because] or [The reason you are not able to say good things is that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks
UST people speak based on what they are thinking about (ἐκ & τοῦ περισσεύματος τῆς καρδίας, τὸ στόμα λαλεῖ)

Here Jesus speaks as if the heart were a container that could be full of an abundance of thoughts or desires. When the heart is full, it overflows out through the mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [whatever fills the heart comes out of the mouth] or [whatever is in the heart is what the mouth speaks]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT of the heart the mouth speaks
UST people speak … what they are thinking about (τῆς καρδίας, τὸ στόμα λαλεῖ)

The words heart and mouth represents people's hearts and mouths in general, not one particular person's heart and mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [of their hearts people's mouths speak]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT of the heart
UST what they are thinking about
(τῆς καρδίας)

In Matthew's culture, the heart is the place where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the place where humans think and feel in your culture or by stating the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of the thoughts] or [of the desires]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the mouth speaks
> UST people speak
> (τὸ στόμα λαλεῖ)

Here, the word mouth represents the person as a whole, in the act of speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the person speaks]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of vipers	You people are sneaky and dangerous like poisonous snakes
evil	wicked
good things	anything good

Matthew 12:35

ULT	UST
The good man from his good treasure brings forth good things, and the evil man from his evil treasure brings forth evil things.	Good people say good things because they think good things. Evil people say evil things because they think evil things.

ULT The good man from his good treasure brings forth good things, and the evil man from his evil treasure brings forth evil things
UST Good people say good things because they think good things. Evil people say evil things because they think evil things
(ὁ ἀγαθὸς ἄνθρωπος ἐκ τοῦ ἀγαθοῦ θησαυροῦ ἐκβάλλει ἀγαθά; καὶ ὁ πονηρὸς ἄνθρωπος ἐκ τοῦ πονηροῦ θησαυροῦ ἐκβάλλει πονηρά)

Here, Jesus uses or invents a proverb in order to teach that people say and do whatever they value and think about. Translate this proverb in a way that will be recognized as a proverb and be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [A good man brings forth good things from his good treasure. Similarly, an evil man brings forth evil things from his evil treasure]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT The good man from his good treasure … the evil man from his evil treasure
UST Good people … because they think good things. Evil people … because they think evil things (ὁ ἀγαθὸς ἄνθρωπος ἐκ τοῦ ἀγαθοῦ θησαυροῦ & ὁ πονηρὸς ἄνθρωπος ἐκ τοῦ πονηροῦ θησαυροῦ)

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [The good person from his or her good treasure … the evil person from his or her evil treasure]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT The good man … the evil man
UST Good people … Evil people
(ὁ ἀγαθὸς ἄνθρωπος & ὁ πονηρὸς ἄνθρωπος)

The phrases The good man and the evil man represents good and evil men in general, not two particular men. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Every good man … every evil man]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT from his good treasure brings forth good things … from his evil treasure brings forth evil things
UST say good things because they think good things … say evil things because they think evil things
(ἐκ τοῦ ἀγαθοῦ θησαυροῦ ἐκβάλλει ἀγαθά & ἐκ τοῦ πονηροῦ θησαυροῦ ἐκβάλλει πονηρά)

Jesus is speaking of the thoughts and desires of people as if they were their treasure that they bring forth when they act and especially when they speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable metaphor or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the good things that he values produces good things … from the evil things that he values produces evil things] or [from his good thoughts speaks good things … from his evil thoughts speaks evil things]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his good treasure … his evil treasure
UST because they think good things … because they think evil things (τοῦ ἀγαθοῦ θησαυροῦ & τοῦ πονηροῦ θησαυροῦ)

Here, the word treasure could refer to: (1) a place where treasures are kept or stored. Alternate translation: [his good treasury … his evil treasury] or [his storehouse of good things … his storehouse of evil things]; (2) the treasures that the person has. Alternate translation: [his good treasures … his evil treasures]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	Good people
good	because they think good things
good things	good things
evil	Evil people
evil	because they think evil things
evil things	evil things

Matthew 12:36

ULT	UST
But I say to you that every careless word that men will speak, they will give an account concerning it in the day of judgment.	Here is what I want you to know: when God judges everyone, he will hold people responsible for all the useless things that they have said.

ULT But
UST Here is what I want you to know
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces a development in what Jesus is saying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a development, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Now]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT every careless word
UST all the useless things
(πᾶν ῥῆμα ἀργὸν)

Here, the word careless could indicate that the word is: (1) unproductive or useless. In other words, the word does not accomplish anything. Alternate translation: [every unproductive word] or [every word with no value]; (2) hurtful to others, even if the person who said it did not intend it to be hurtful. Alternate translation: [every hurtful word] or [every damaging word]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT men
UST they
(οἱ ἄνθρωποι)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT they will give an account concerning it
UST he will hold people responsible for (ἀποδώσουσιν περὶ αὐτοῦ λόγον)

Here, to give an account refers to giving reasons and explanations for something that one has done. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they will have to give reasons for it] or [they will have to explain it]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT in the day of judgment
UST when God judges everyone
(ἐν ἡμέρᾳ κρίσεως)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a day on which judgment will happen. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [on the day when God judges everyone]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of judgment
UST when God judges everyone
(κρίσεως)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when people are judged]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the day	when God judges everyone
of judgment	when God judges everyone

Matthew 12:37

ULT	UST
For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned.”	In fact, God will declare that you are either innocent or guilty based on what you have said.”

ULT For
UST In fact
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a further explanation of what Jesus said in the previous verse about the day of judgment. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a further explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned
UST God will declare that you are either innocent or guilty based on what you have said
(ἐκ & τῶν λόγων σου δικαιωθήσῃ, καὶ ἐκ τῶν λόγων σου καταδικασθήσῃ)

These two clauses use the same form to give two options. The second provides a contrasting alternative to the first. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine parts of the two clauses together to form a natural contrast in your language. Alternate translation: [by your words you will be justified or condemned] or [by your words either you will be justified or you will be condemned]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT your words you will be justified … your words you will be condemned
UST God will declare that you are either innocent or guilty … what you have said
(τῶν λόγων σου δικαιωθήσῃ & τῶν λόγων σου καταδικασθήσῃ)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many people, he is addressing an individual situation, so your and you are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT you will be justified … you will be condemned
UST God will declare that you are either innocent or guilty (δικαιωθήσῃ & καταδικασθήσῃ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will justify you … God will condemn you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you will be justified you will be condemned	God will declare that you are either innocent or guilty

Matthew 12:38

ULT	UST
Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying, "Teacher, we wish to see a sign from you."	After {Jesus said those things}, some teachers of the Jewish law and some Pharisees responded, "Instructor, we want to see you perform a miracle {that proves that God sent you}."

ULT saying
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT to see a sign from you
UST to see you perform a miracle {that proves that God sent you}
(ἀπὸ σοῦ σημεῖον ἰδεῖν)

The implication is that the people who were challenging Jesus wanted him to do a miracle to prove that his authority came from God. Alternate translation: [to see you do a sign that shows that your authority is from God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you
UST you
(σοῦ)

Here, the word you is singular since the scribes and Pharisees are speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of … scribes	teachers of the Jewish law
Pharisees	some Pharisees
Teacher	Instructor
a sign	perform a miracle {that proves that God sent you}

Matthew 12:39

ULT	UST
But answering, he said to them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks a sign, but a sign will not be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet.	Then Jesus replied to them, "You people who are alive right now are wicked and faithless. You want me to do a miracle {that proves that God sent me}. However, the only miracle you will see is a miracle like the one that happened to the prophet Jonah.

ULT An evil and adulterous generation seeks a sign, but a sign will not be given to it
UST You people who are alive right now are wicked and faithless. You want me to do a miracle {that proves that God sent me}. However, the … miracle you will see (γενεὰ πονηρὰ καὶ μοιχαλὶς σημεῖον ἐπιζητεῖ, καὶ σημεῖον οὐ δοθήσεται αὐτῇ)

Jesus is speaking about his audience in the third person instead of directly addressing them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the second person instead. Alternate translation: [You, an evil and adulterous generation, seek a sign, but no sign will be given to you]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT adulterous
UST faithless
(μοιχαλὶς)

Here Jesus speaks of people who do not fully trust and obey God as if they were adulterous. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [unfaithful] or [disobedient]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT but a sign will not be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet
UST However, the only miracle you will see is a miracle like the one that happened to the prophet Jonah
(καὶ σημεῖον οὐ δοθήσεται αὐτῇ, εἰ μὴ τὸ σημεῖον Ἰωνᾶ τοῦ προφήτου)

If it would appear in your language that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [but the only sign that it will be given is the sign of Jonah the prophet]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT a sign will not be given to it
UST the … miracle you will see (σημεῖον οὐ δοθήσεται αὐτῇ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it could be: (1) God the Father. Alternate translation: [God will not give it a sign]; (2) Jesus. Alternate translation: [I will not give it a sign]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the sign of Jonah the prophet
UST is a miracle like the one that happened to the prophet Jonah
(τὸ σημεῖον Ἰωνᾶ τοῦ προφήτου)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a sign that happened to Jesus. Jesus will describe this sign in the following verse. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the sign that Jonah the prophet experienced] or [the sign related to Jonah the prophet]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	are wicked
adulterous	faithless
An … generation	You people who are alive right now
seeks	You want me to do
a sign	a miracle {that proves that God sent me}
a sign	the … miracle
sign	is a miracle
of Jonah	like the one that happened to … Jonah
prophet	prophet

Matthew 12:40

ULT	UST
For just as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the big fish, in this manner the Son of Man will be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.	{A huge fish swallowed Jonah, and} he was inside this fish for three whole days. {Then, God had the fish spit him out.} Similarly, people will bury me, the Son of Man, and I will be in a tomb for three whole days. {Then, I will live again.}

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces an explanation of "the sign of Jonah" (see 12:39). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Here is that sign:] or [Now]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT just as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the big fish
UST A huge fish swallowed Jonah, and} he was inside this fish for three whole days. {Then, God had the fish spit him out … }
(ὥσπερ & ἦν Ἰωνᾶς ἐν τῇ κοιλίᾳ τοῦ κήτους τρεῖς ἡμέρας καὶ τρεῖς νύκτας)

Here Jesus refers to part of the story of Jonah. God told Jonah to preach to people in the town of Nineveh, but Jonah ran away instead. God had a big fish swallow Jonah, and Jonah was inside this fish for three days and three nights. After that, God had the fish spit Jonah out. You can read this story in Jonah 1–2. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include some extra information in your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [just as Jonah was swallowed by a big fish and was in its belly for three days and three nights before it spit him out]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT three days and three nights … three days and three nights
UST for three whole days. {Then, God had the fish spit him out … } … for three whole days. {Then, I will live again … }
(τρεῖς ἡμέρας καὶ τρεῖς νύκτας)

The phrase three days and three nights refers to three periods of 24 hours in a row. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression. Alternate translation: [three straight days … three straight days]

Support Reference: Merism

ULT the belly of the big fish
UST inside this fish
(τῇ κοιλίᾳ τοῦ κήτους)

Here, the phrase big fish refers to any large creature that lives in the sea or ocean. Its belly is its stomach. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of sea creature, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the stomach of the large sea creature] or [the stomach of the sea monster]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT the Son of Man
UST me, the Son of Man
(ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [the Son of Man, that is, me,]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT three days and three nights in the heart of the earth
UST bury … and I will be in a tomb for three whole days. {Then, I will live again … }
(ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ τῆς γῆς τρεῖς ἡμέρας καὶ τρεῖς νύκτας)

Here Jesus implies that after the three days and three nights he will no longer be in the heart of the earth. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [three days and three nights in the heart of the earth, and then he will arise]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT in the heart of the earth
> UST bury … and I will be in a tomb
> (ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ τῆς γῆς)

Here, the phrase the heart of the earth refers to how people are buried deep in the ground. Jesus means that he will be in a tomb for three days and three nights. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [deep in the ground] or [in a grave]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jonah	A huge fish swallowed Jonah, and days	for three whole days. {Then, God had the fish spit him out … }
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man days	for three whole days. {Then, I will live again … }
of the earth	bury … and I will be in a tomb

Matthew 12:41

ULT	UST
The men of Nineveh will rise up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah {is} here.	The people who lived in the ancient city of Nineveh stopped sinning when Jonah preached to them. And now there is something even more important than {the prophet} Jonah. {However, you have not stopped sinning.} Therefore, when God judges everyone, the people who lived in Nineveh will stand up and condemn the people who are alive right now.

ULT The men of Nineveh will rise up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah {is} here

UST The people who lived in the ancient city of Nineveh stopped sinning when Jonah preached to them. And now there is something even more important than {the prophet} Jonah. {However, you have not stopped sinning.} Therefore, when God judges everyone, the people who lived in Nineveh will stand up and condemn the people who are alive right now

(ἄνδρες Νινευεῖται ἀναστήσονται ἐν τῇ κρίσει μετὰ τῆς γενεᾶς ταύτης, καὶ κατακρινοῦσιν αὐτήν; ὅτι μετενόησαν εἰς τὸ κήρυγμα Ἰωνᾶ; καὶ ἰδοὺ, πλεῖον Ἰωνᾶ ὧδε)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second half of the verse gives the reason for the result that the first half of the verse describes. Alternate translation: [The men of Nineveh repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah is here. So, they will rise up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT The men

UST The people

(ἄνδρες)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [The inhabitants] or [The men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT will rise up in the judgment with this generation
> UST when God judges everyone, the people who lived in Nineveh will stand up … the people who are alive right now
> (ἀναστήσονται ἐν τῇ κρίσει μετὰ τῆς γενεᾶς ταύτης)

Here, the phrase rise up could mean: (1) to stand up. In this culture, people would stand up to give testimony in a legal proceeding. Alternate translation: [will stand up at the judgment to give testimony before God against this generation]; (2) to resurrect. Alternate translation: [will be resurrected with this generation at the judgment]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

> ULT will rise up in the judgment
> UST when God judges everyone, the people who lived in Nineveh will stand up > (ἀναστήσονται ἐν τῇ κρίσει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [will, when people are judged, rise up]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT this generation … it
> UST the people who are alive right now
> (τῆς γενεᾶς ταύτης & αὐτήν)

Translate the phrase this generation as you did in 12:39. Alternate translation: [today's people … them] or [the people of this generation … them]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT behold
> UST now
> (ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express Behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [see] or [listen carefully]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT something greater than Jonah {is} here
UST there is something even more important than {the prophet} Jonah. {However, you have not stopped sinning … }
(πλεῖον Ἰωνᾶ ὧδε)

Here Jesus implies that the people of this generation have not repented, unlike the men of Nineveh. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [something greater than Jonah is here, but you have not repented]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT something greater than
UST something even more important
(πλεῖον)

Here, the phrase something greater is a very general term. It could refer to the kingdom of God, Jesus himself, the ministry that Jesus begins, what Jesus calls his disciples to do, or many other things. If possible, you should use a general term that could refer to many or all of these things. See how you translated the similar phrase in 12:6. Alternate translation: [an entity greater than] or [a new thing greater than]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Nineveh	who lived in the ancient city of Nineveh
judgment	when God judges everyone
generation	the people who are alive right now condemn	condemn
they repented	stopped sinning
preaching	when … preached to them
of Jonah	Jonah
Jonah	than {the prophet} Jonah. {However, you have not stopped sinning … }

Matthew 12:42

ULT	UST
The Queen of the South will stand up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, something greater than Solomon {is} here.	Long ago the Queen of Sheba traveled a great distance to listen to the wise things that King Solomon said. And now there is something even more important than Solomon. {However, you have not really listened to what I say.} Therefore, when God judges everyone, she will stand up and condemn the people who are alive right now.

ULT The Queen of the South will stand up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, something greater than Solomon {is} here
UST Long ago the Queen of Sheba traveled a great distance to listen to the wise things that King Solomon said. And now there is something even more important than Solomon. {However, you have not really listened to what I say.} Therefore, when God judges everyone, she will stand up and condemn the people who are alive right now
(βασίλισσα νότου ἐγερθήσεται ἐν τῇ κρίσει μετὰ τῆς γενεᾶς ταύτης, καὶ κατακρινεῖ αὐτήν; ὅτι ἦλθεν ἐκ τῶν περάτων τῆς γῆς ἀκοῦσαι τὴν σοφίαν Σολομῶνος; καὶ ἰδοὺ, πλεῖον Σολομῶνος ὧδε)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second half of the verse gives the reason for the result that the first half of the verse describes. Alternate translation: [The Queen of the South came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, something greater than Solomon is here. So, she will stand up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT The Queen of the South
UST Long ago the Queen of Sheba
(βασίλισσα νότου)

Here, the phrase The Queen of the South refers to the Queen of the country called Sheba. Sheba was a land south of Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this more explicitly. Alternate translation: [The Queen who ruled Sheba, the country to the south,]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT will stand up in the judgment with this generation
UST when God judges everyone, she will stand up … the people who are alive right now (ἐγερθήσεται ἐν τῇ κρίσει μετὰ τῆς γενεᾶς ταύτης)

Here, as in 12:41, the phrase stand up could mean: (1) to stand on one's feet. In this culture, people would stand up to give testimony in a legal proceeding. Alternate translation: [will stand up at the judgment to give testimony before God against this generation]; (2) to resurrect. Alternate translation: [will be resurrected with this generation at the judgment]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT will stand up in the judgment
UST when God judges everyone, she will stand up (ἐγερθήσεται ἐν τῇ κρίσει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. See how you translated the similar phrase in 12:41. Alternate translation: [will, when people are judged, stand up]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT this generation … it
UST the people who are alive right now
(τῆς γενεᾶς ταύτης & αὐτήν)

Translate the phrase this generation as you did in 12:41. Alternate translation: [today's people … them] or [the people of this generation … them]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT she came from the ends of the earth
UST traveled a great distance
(ἦλθεν ἐκ τῶν περάτων τῆς γῆς)

Here, the phrase the ends of the earth describes any place that is very far away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [she traveled a long way] or [she came from a faraway place]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the wisdom of Solomon
UST the wise things that King Solomon said
(τὴν σοφίαν Σολομῶνος)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wisdom, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Solomon speak wisely]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT behold
UST now
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express Behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [see] or [listen carefully]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT something greater than Solomon {is} here
UST there is something even more important than Solomon. {However, you have not really listened to what I say … }
(πλεῖον Σολομῶνος ὧδε)

Here Jesus implies that the people of this generation have not listened to wisdom, unlike the Queen of the South. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [something greater than Solomon is here, but you have not listened]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT something greater than
UST something even more important
(πλεῖον)

Here, the phrase something greater is a very general term. It could refer to the kingdom of God, Jesus himself, the ministry that Jesus begins, what Jesus calls his disciples to do, or many other things. If possible, you should use a general term that could refer to many or all of these things. See how you translated the similar phrase in 12:6. Alternate translation: [an entity greater than] or [a new thing greater than]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
The Queen	Long ago the Queen of Sheba
judgment	when God judges everyone
generation	the people who are alive right now
condemn	condemn
of the earth	a great distance
wisdom	the wise things
of Solomon	that King Solomon said
Solomon	than Solomon. {However, you have not really listened to what I say … }

Matthew 12:43

ULT	UST
Now when the unclean spirit has gone out from the man, it passes through waterless places seeking rest, and it does not find any.	Listen to this story: an evil spirit leaves someone and wanders around in desolate areas looking for someone else to live in. However, it does not find anyone there.

ULT Now
UST Listen to this story
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next topic that Jesus wants to speak about. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT when the unclean spirit
UST an evil spirit
(ὅταν & τὸ ἀκάθαρτον πνεῦμα)

To further explain what he has been saying about "this generation," Jesus tells a short story that continues through 12:45. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [here is an illustration about this generation: when the unclean spirit]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT when the unclean spirit has gone out from the man
UST an evil spirit leaves someone (ὅταν & τὸ ἀκάθαρτον πνεῦμα ἐξέλθῃ ἀπὸ τοῦ ἀνθρώπου)

With this clause, Jesus introduces the unclean spirit and the man as characters in his story. If your language has its own way of introducing new participants, you could use it in your translation. Alternate translation: [there was an unclean spirit possessing a man. When the unclean spirit has gone out from the man]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT waterless places
UST desolate areas
(ἀνύδρων τόπων)

Jesus is describing the desert by reference to the lack of water there. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a desert] or [the wilderness]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT rest
UST someone else to live in (ἀνάπαυσιν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rest, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [a place to rest]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT rest
UST someone else to live in
(ἀνάπαυσιν)

Here, rest represents a place to live or stay, which for an unclean spirit would be a person to possess or control. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a place to live] or [a home] or [a person to control]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
unclean spirit	an evil spirit
seeking	looking for

Matthew 12:44

ULT	UST
Then it says, 'I will return to my house from which I came out.' And having come, it finds {it} being empty, having been swept out and put in order.	After that, it says {to itself}, 'I am going to go back to the person I used to live in!' So it goes back and finds that the person is like a house that someone has cleaned and organized, but no one is living in it.

ULT it says, 'I will return to my house from which I came out.' And having come
UST it says {to itself}, 'I am going to go back to the person I used to live in!' So it goes back (λέγει, εἰς τὸν οἶκόν μου ἐπιστρέψω ὅθεν ἐξῆλθον. καὶ ἐλθὸν)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [it says that it will return to its house from which it came out. And having come]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT to my house from which I came out
UST to the person I used to live in (εἰς τὸν οἶκόν μου & ὅθεν ἐξῆλθον)

Here the demon refers to the person it formerly controlled as if he were its house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to the person whom I used to control, who is like a house from which I came out] or [to the man from whom I came out]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT having come
UST it goes back
(ἐλθὸν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT it finds {it} being empty, having been swept out and put in order
UST and finds that the person is like a house that someone has cleaned and organized, but no one is living in it
(εὑρίσκει σχολάζοντα σεσαρωμένον καὶ κεκοσμημένον)

Here Jesus refers to the person whom the demon formerly controlled as if he were a house that was empty, swept out, and put in order. This means that no one is living in the house, so it is ready for someone to move in. Similarly, the person is not serving or obeying anyone, so he is ready for someone to lead or control him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it finds the man like an empty house, having been swept out and put in order] or [it finds that the man is not serving anybody, but he is living a good life]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT having been swept out and put in order
UST that the person is like a house that someone has cleaned and organized (σεσαρωμένον καὶ κεκοσμημένον)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [and a person has swept it out and put it in order]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the person
having been swept out	that the person is like a house that someone has cleaned

Matthew 12:45

ULT	UST
Then it goes and takes along with itself seven other spirits more evil than itself and they having entered, it resides there. And the last things of that man become worse than the first things. Thus it will be also with this evil generation."	Then this evil spirit goes and gets seven other spirits that are even more evil than it is. They all enter that person and begin living in him. That person experienced bad things before, but now he will experience worse things. Something like that is what you wicked people who are alive right now will experience."

ULT it goes
UST this evil spirit goes (πορεύεται)

In a context such as this, your language might say "comes" instead of goes. Alternate translation: [it comes]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT they having entered, it resides there
UST They all enter that person and begin living in him
(εἰσελθόντα κατοικεῖ ἐκεῖ)

Here Jesus implies that the evil spirits entered the man and lived in him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they having entered the man, it resides in him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they having entered, it resides there
UST They all enter that person and begin living in him
(εἰσελθόντα κατοικεῖ ἐκεῖ)

Here Jesus continues to refer to the person whom the evil spirit formerly controlled as if he were a house. When the evil spirits control the man, it is as if they are living in him as their home. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [having entered, they reside there as if he were their home] or [having overpowered the man, they possess him]

Support Reference: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

ULT it resides
UST and begin living
(κατοικεῖ)

Here Jesus speaks of the evil spirit living in the man, but he implies that the seven other spirits also live in the man. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the spirits reside]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the last things of that man become worse than the first things
UST That person experienced bad things before, but now he will experience worse things (γίνεται τὰ ἔσχατα τοῦ ἀνθρώπου ἐκείνου χείρονα τῶν πρώτων)

Here, the phrase last things refers to the situation or condition of the man after the evil spirits return. The phrase the first things refers to the situation or condition of the man before the first evil spirit left him. Jesus means that the man's situation or condition is now worse than it was when he only had one evil spirit possessing him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that man's condition is now worse than it was before] or [the current situation of that man has become worse than the previous situation]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT with this evil generation
UST you wicked people who are alive right now
(τῇ γενεᾷ ταύτῃ τῇ πονηρᾷ)

Here, generation represents the people who are part of the generation, which means that they are adults who are currently alive. See how you translated the similar expression in 12:39. Alternate translation: [with today's people who are evil] or [with evil people of this generation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
spirits	spirits
more evil than	that are even more evil
evil	wicked
with … generation	you … people who are alive right now

Matthew 12:46

ULT	UST
{While} he was still speaking to the crowds, behold, his mother and brothers had stood outside, seeking to speak to him.	As Jesus was saying those things to the large groups of people, his mother and his {younger} brothers {arrived and} waited outside {where he was}. They wanted to talk with him.

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [take note] or [look]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT brothers
UST {younger} brothers
(οἱ ἀδελφοὶ)

These were Jesus' younger brothers. They were sons of Mary and Joseph. Since the Father of Jesus was God, and their father was Joseph, they were actually his half-brothers. That detail is not normally translated, but if your language has a specific word for "younger brother," you could use it here.

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT had stood outside
UST arrived and} waited outside {where he was} (ἱστήκεισαν ἔξω)

Matthew implies that Jesus' mother and brothers arrived and then stood outside wherever Jesus was. Since 13:1 describes Jesus leaving a house, he may have been in a house while he was teaching. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some or all of this information more explicit. Alternate translation: [had come and stood outside the house] or [had arrived outside the place where he was teaching]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
seeking	They wanted

Matthew 12:47

ULT	UST
Now someone said to him, "Behold, your mother and your brothers have stood outside, seeking to speak to you."	A person told him, "Your mother and your {younger} brothers are waiting outside. They want to talk with you."

ULT Now someone said to him, "Behold, your mother and your brothers have stood outside, seeking to speak to you
UST A person told him, "Your mother and your {younger} brothers are waiting outside. They want to talk with you (εἶπεν δέ τις αὐτῷ, ἰδοὺ, ἡ μήτηρ σου καὶ οἱ ἀδελφοί σου ἔξω ἑστήκασιν ζητοῦντές σοι λαλῆσαι)

Some ancient manuscripts do not include this verse. However, many ancient manuscripts do include this verse. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to include the verse, as the ULT does.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT Now
(δέ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT to him, "Behold, your mother and your brothers have stood outside, seeking to speak to you UST him, "Your mother and your {younger} brothers are waiting outside. They want to talk with you (αὐτῷ, ἰδοὺ, ἡ μήτηρ σου καὶ οἱ ἀδελφοί σου ἔξω ἑστήκασιν ζητοῦντές σοι λαλῆσαι)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [to him that his mother and his brothers had stood outside, seeking to speak to him]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT Behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word Behold is intended to draw the attention of Jesus and to ask him to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express Behold with a word or phrase that asks someone to listen or pay attention. Alternate translation: [Listen] or [Jesus]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your … your … to you
UST Your … your … with you
(σου & σου & σοι)

Here, the words your, your, and you are singular since this person is speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT your brothers
UST your {younger} brothers
(οἱ ἀδελφοί σου)

Translate this phrase as you did in 12:46.

Support Reference: Kinship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
seeking	They want

Matthew 12:48

ULT	UST
But answering, he said to the one speaking to him, "Who is my mother and who are my brothers?"	Jesus replied, "I will tell you whom I consider to be my mother and my brothers."

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT answering, he said
UST Jesus replied
(ὁ & ἀποκριθεὶς εἶπεν)

Together the two words answering and said mean that Jesus responded to the information that the person gave him. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [he responded]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT Who is my mother and who are my brothers
UST I will tell you whom I consider … be my mother and my brothers
(τίς ἐστιν ἡ μήτηρ μου καὶ τίνες εἰσὶν οἱ ἀδελφοί μου)

Jesus is using the question form to teach his audience about whom he considers to be part of his family. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Since Jesus answers the question in 12:49, you should not include an implied answer here. Alternate translation: [I will inform you about whom I call my mother and my brothers.] or [Let me tell you whom I love as if they were my mother or my brothers.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT my brothers
> UST my brothers
> (οἱ ἀδελφοί μου)

Translate brothers as you did in 12:46.

Support Reference: Kinship

Matthew 12:49

ULT	UST
And having stretched out his hand toward his disciples, he said, "Behold, my mother and my brothers!	He pointed to his apprentices and said, "These are the people whom I consider to be my mother and my brothers!

ULT having stretched out his hand toward his disciples
UST He pointed to his apprentices
(ἐκτείνας τὴν χεῖρα αὐτοῦ ἐπὶ τοὺς μαθητὰς αὐτοῦ)

Matthew describes how Jesus used his hand to motion toward or indicate his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could describe a motion that indicates a specific group of people, or you could use a general phrase. Alternate translation: [having gestured with his hand toward his disciples] or [having indicated his disciples]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT Behold, my mother
UST These are the people whom I consider to be my mother (ἰδοὺ, ἡ μήτηρ μου)

The word Behold indicates that the audience should look where Jesus indicated when he stretched out his hand. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I consider these people to be my mother] or [These are my mother]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my mother and my brothers
UST my mother and my brothers
(ἡ μήτηρ μου καὶ οἱ ἀδελφοί μου)

Here Jesus speaks of his disciples as if they were his mother and brothers. He means that he considers them to be part of his family. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning of the metaphor more explicitly. Alternate translation: [those whom I call my mother and my brothers] or [the people I love as if they were my mother and my brothers]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT my brothers
> UST my brothers
> (οἱ ἀδελφοί μου)

Translate brothers as you did in 12:46.

Support Reference: Kinship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	to … apprentices

Matthew 12:50

ULT	UST
For whoever does the will of my Father in the heavens, he is my brother and sister and mother."	In fact, when a person does what God my Father, who rules from heaven, wants, I consider that person to be my brother or sister or mother."

ULT For
UST In fact
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces an explanation concerning why Jesus can call the disciples his mother and brothers. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [I say that because]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the will of my Father in the heavens
UST what God my Father, who rules from heaven, wants (τὸ θέλημα τοῦ Πατρός μου & ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of will, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what my Father in the heavens desires]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT of my Father
UST God my Father
(τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT in the heavens
UST who rules from heaven
(ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. If it would be helpful in your language, you make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he is my brother and sister and mother
UST I consider that person to be my brother or sister or mother
(αὐτός μου ἀδελφὸς, καὶ ἀδελφὴ, καὶ μήτηρ ἐστίν)

Here Jesus speaks of everyone who does God's will as if they were his brother and sister and mother. He means that he considers them to be part of his family. Express the idea as you did in the previous verse (12:49). Alternate translation: [I call him my brother and sister and mother] or [he is a person whom I love as if he were my brother and sister and mother]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT he
UST that person
(αὐτός)

Although the term he is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [he or she] or [such a person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will of … Father	what God … Father … wants
of … Father	God … Father
the heavens	who rules from heaven

Matthew 13

Matthew 13 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus tells parables about the kingdom of God (13:1–52)
    - The parable of the sower (13:1–9)
    - Jesus explains why he uses parables (13:10–17)
    - Jesus explains the parable of the sower (13:18–23)
    - The parable of the darnel (13:24–30)
    - The parable of the mustard seed (13:31–32)
    - The parable of the yeast (13:33)
    - Summary statement (13:34–35)
    - Jesus explains the parable of the darnel (13:36–43)
    - The parable of the treasure in the field (13:44)
    - The parable of the pearl (13:45–46)
    - The parable of the net (13:47–50)
    - Jesus concludes his teaching (13:51–52)
2. Further opposition to Jesus and misunderstanding of the kingdom of God (13:53–17:27)
    - Jesus visits his hometown (13:53–58)

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the poetry in 13:14–15, which is a quote from Isaiah 6:9–10, and in 13:35, which is a quote from Psalm 78:2.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Farming

Jesus refers to many different farming practices in this chapter. In his culture, farmers often threw seeds over their fields, a process called sowing. After throwing the seeds, they would use a tool called a plow to cover the seeds with dirt. Then they would water and take care of the seeds until they sprouted and grew. Finally, when the plants produced grain or other kinds of crops, they would cut down the plants, separate the edible parts from the inedible parts, and store the edible parts in a safe place. See the notes on the verses in which Jesus discusses farming practices for specific information and translation options.

Darnel

Darnel are plants that look much like wheat plants. However, they do not produce the same kind of grain, and the grain that they do produce is somewhat poisonous. In your translation, you could refer to a plant that looks like wheat or grain plants, or you could use a descriptive phrase. See the notes for translation options.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parables

Throughout this chapter, Jesus uses many parables to teach the crowds and his disciples. Each parable is a short story that includes a specific lesson. Jesus uses parables to teach so that people who already know his message will learn more but people who do not know his message will not learn anything (see 13:10–17). Jesus explains three of the parables, but he does not explain any of the others. Possible explanations for each parable are included below, but only for help in translation. Your translation should not directly explain the meaning of any parable more than Jesus does. (See: Parables)

- The parable of the sower—In 13:3–9, Jesus tells a story about a man who sows seed and about what happens to the seed. Jesus explains this parable in 13:18–23. Even with this explanation, Christians debate who the sower is, what the seed represents, and what the different areas in the field represent. The sower could be Jesus himself, God, or anyone who preaches the gospel. The seed could be the gospel or the person who hears the gospel. The different areas in the field could be regions or areas where people hear the gospel, different kinds of people, or different ways of responding to the gospel. Most likely, the seed and the area in the field together describe what happens when people respond to the gospel in these four ways.

- The parable of the darnel—In 13:24–30, Jesus tells a story about a farmer who planted good seed and the farmer's enemy who planted darnel seed in the same field. Jesus explains this parable in 13:37–43. Jesus is the farmer, and the good seed are people who believe in him. The enemy is the devil, and the darnel seed are people who serve him. The farmer in the story allows the darnel to grow until the harvest, when he has them cut down and burned. Similarly, Jesus allows people who serve the devil to live until this time period ends, when he will have his angels collect these people. Then, he will judge and punish them, and he will reward those who believed in him.

- The parable of the mustard seed—In 13:31–32, Jesus tells a story about how a very small seed (a mustard seed) grows into a very large plant. Most likely, he is describing how his group of followers was very small but will eventually become very large. Jesus mentions that birds nest in the branches of this large plant. Some people think that Jesus is referring to passages like Ezekiel 17:23, which could suggest that the birds represent Gentiles who become part of God's kingdom. Others think that the detail about the birds simply illustrates how large the plant is. If possible, your translation should allow for all of these interpretations.

- The parable of the yeast—In 13:33, Jesus tells a story about how a woman leavened a large amount of flour with some yeast. Most likely, he is describing how his message and his followers will affect many things. He could be speaking about how his message completely changes people. Or, he could be speaking about how his message and his followers will spread throughout the whole world. Or, he could be speaking about how his message and his followers are small and insignificant but affect the whole world. If possible, your translation should allow for all of these interpretations.

- The parable of the treasure in the field—In 13:44, Jesus tells a story about a worker who discovered a hidden treasure in a field that belonged to someone else. To obtain the treasure, the worker sold everything that he had and bought the field. Most likely, Jesus means that being part of God's kingdom is very valuable, like a treasure, and people should be willing to give up everything to be part of the kingdom.

- The parable of the pearl—In 13:45–46, Jesus tells a story about a merchant who wanted to obtain valuable pearls. When he saw a very expensive pearl, he sold everything that he had and bought the pearl. Most likely, Jesus means that being part of God's kingdom is very valuable, like an expensive pearl, and that people should be willing to give up everything to be part of the kingdom.

- The parable of the net—In 13:47–48, Jesus tells a story about fishermen who use a net to catch many kinds of fish, some useful and some useless. They sort through the fish, keeping the good ones and throwing away the bad ones. Jesus explains this parable in 13:49–50. The fish are like people, and the fishermen are like angels. At the end of this time period, the angels will separate righteous people from wicked people, just like the fishermen sorted the fish. Then, the wicked people will be punished, just as the useless fish were thrown away.

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Most of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in speeches that Jesus gives to many people around him. Because of this, most forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 13:1

ULT	UST
On that day, Jesus, having gone out of the house, was sitting beside the sea.	That same day, Jesus left the house {where he had been teaching}. He {walked to the Sea of Galilee and} sat down {to teach} next to it.

ULT On that day
UST That same day
(ἐν τῇ ἡμέρᾳ ἐκείνῃ)

Here, the phrase On that day introduces the next major event in the story, an event that happened on the same day as the teaching recorded in the previous chapter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces an event that happened later during the same day. Alternate translation: [Sometime later that day]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT having gone out
UST left
(ἐξελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT of the house
UST the house {where he had been teaching}
(τῆς οἰκίας)

Matthew refers to the house that Jesus was in while he was teaching what is recorded in the previous chapter. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of the house where he had been] or [of the house in which he had been teaching]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT was sitting
> UST He {walked to the Sea of Galilee and} sat down {to teach} > (ἐκάθητο)

In Jesus' culture, teachers usually sat down when they were going to teach. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [was sitting down to instruct people] or [was sitting down as a teacher does]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
day	That same day
Jesus	Jesus
of the house	the house {where he had been teaching} sea	it

Matthew 13:2

ULT	UST
And large crowds were gathered to him. As a result, having gotten into a boat, he sat down, and the whole crowd stood on the beach.	Then large groups of people came to where Jesus was. Because {there were so many people}, he got into a boat and sat down there {to teach}. All the people stood on the shore {of the Sea of Galilee to listen to him}.

ULT large crowds were gathered to him
UST large groups of people came to where Jesus was (συνήχθησαν πρὸς αὐτὸν ὄχλοι πολλοί)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [large crowds gathered to him] or [large crowds came to listen to him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT sat down
UST and sat down there {to teach} (καθῆσθαι)

Just as in the previous verse, Jesus sat down to teach. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [sat down to instruct the people] or [sat down as a teacher does]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT on the beach
UST on the shore {of the Sea of Galilee to listen to him}
(ἐπὶ τὸν αἰγιαλὸν)

The word beach refers to the ground next to a body of water when this ground is covered by sand or small rocks. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of terrain, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [on the edge of the sea] or [on the sandy area by the water]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
were gathered	came

Matthew 13:3

ULT	UST
And he spoke many things to them in parables, saying, "Behold, the sower went out to sow.	Jesus began to use stories to instruct them about many things. He said, "Listen to this: a farmer began to plant some grain seeds.

ULT in parables, saying
UST to use stories … He said
(ἐν παραβολαῖς λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [in parables. Here is what he said:]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Behold, the sower went out
UST Listen to this: a farmer began (ἰδοὺ, ἐξῆλθεν ὁ σπείρων)

To teach the people in the crowd, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: the sower went out]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT Behold, the sower
UST Listen to this: a farmer
(ἰδοὺ & ὁ σπείρων)

Here Jesus introduces a sower as a character in his story. If your language has its own way of introducing new participants, you could use it here in your translation. Alternate translation: [Behold, there was a sower. He]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT Behold
UST Listen to this
(ἰδοὺ)

The word Behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express Behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [Look] or [Listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
parables	to use stories
sower	a farmer
to sow	to plant some grain seeds

Matthew 13:4

ULT	UST
And as he sowed, some fell beside the road, and the birds came and devoured them.	As he was scattering them over the soil, some of the seeds fell on the path. Then some birds flew down and ate those seeds up.

ULT as he sowed
UST As he was scattering them over the soil
(ἐν τῷ σπείρειν αὐτὸν)

While there are many ways to sow or plant seeds, here Jesus is describing a practice in which farmers pick up handfuls of seed and throw them so that they are scattered all over the top of the soil. This method is a quick and easy way to plant seeds in large fields, but some seeds land on ground that is not good for them to grow in. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make it more explicit what kind of sowing this is. Alternate translation: [as he threw the seeds over the ground] or [as he scattered the seeds over the field]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT some fell beside the road, and the birds came and devoured them
UST some of the seeds fell on the path. Then some birds flew down and ate those seeds up (ἃ & ἔπεσεν παρὰ τὴν ὁδόν, καὶ ἦλθεν τὰ πετεινὰ καὶ κατέφαγεν αὐτά)

Here Jesus implies that the seeds that fall beside the road do not sink into the ground. Instead, they just sit on top of the hard-packed dirt by the road and are unprotected from birds. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [some fell on the hard ground beside the road, and the birds came and easily devoured them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT some
UST some of the seeds
(ἃ)

Jesus is using the adjective some as a noun to mean some of the seeds. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [some seeds]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT the birds
> UST some birds
> (τὰ πετεινὰ)

The phrase the birds represents any birds, not particular birds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [birds]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
as … sowed	As … was scattering them over the soil
devoured	ate … up

Matthew 13:5

ULT	UST
But others fell on the rocky ground, where it did not have much soil, and immediately it sprang up, because it did not have deep soil.	Other seeds fell on shallow soil on top of a layer of rocks. Because they were growing in shallow soil, the seeds sprouted very quickly.

ULT others
UST Other seeds
(ἄλλα)

Jesus is using the adjective others as a noun to mean some of the rest of the seeds that did not fall beside the road. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [some of the rest of the seeds]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the rocky ground, where it did not have much soil
UST shallow soil on top of a layer of rocks
(τὰ πετρώδη, ὅπου οὐκ εἶχεν γῆν πολλήν)

Here Jesus describes an area that has a thin layer of soil on top of a layer of rocks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that describes this kind of area. Alternate translation: [a thin layer of soil on top of rocks] or [a rocky area, where there was very little soil]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT it did not have … it sprang up, because it did not have
UST shallow soil on top of … Because they were growing in shallow … the seeds sprouted (οὐκ εἶχεν & ἐξανέτειλεν διὰ τὸ μὴ ἔχειν)

Here Jesus refers back to the others as a group using singular words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use plural words to refer back to the others. Alternate translation: [they did not have … they sprang up, because they did not have]

> ULT immediately it sprang up, because it did not have deep soil
> UST Because they were growing in shallow soil, the seeds sprouted very quickly
> (εὐθέως ἐξανέτειλεν διὰ τὸ μὴ ἔχειν βάθος γῆς)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [because it did not have deep soil, immediately it sprang up]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT it sprang up
> UST the seeds sprouted
> (ἐξανέτειλεν)

Here, the phrase sprang up refers to how plants sprout or begin to grow. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase. Alternate translation: [it came up] or [it began to grow]

Support Reference: Idiom

Matthew 13:6

ULT	UST
But {when} the sun had risen, it was scorched, and because it had no root, it withered.	However, the sun shone on the new plants and dried them up. Then, because they did not have good roots, the plants died.

ULT {when} the sun had risen
UST the sun shone on the new plants
(ἡλίου & ἀνατείλαντος)

Here, the phrase the sun had risen refers to the sun coming up over the horizon in the morning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when the sun came up] or [in the morning when the sun began to shine]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT it was scorched, and because it had no root, it withered
UST and dried them up. Then, because they did not have good roots, the plants died (ἐκαυματίσθη καὶ διὰ τὸ μὴ ἔχειν ῥίζαν ἐξηράνθη)

Here, much as in 13:5, Jesus refers to the plants that sprouted from the seeds by using singular words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use plural words to refer to these plants. Alternate translation: [they were scorched, and because they had no roots, they withered]

ULT it was scorched
UST and dried them up
(ἐκαυματίσθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the sun. Alternate translation: [the sun scorched it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT it had no root
> UST they did not have good roots
> (τὸ μὴ ἔχειν ῥίζαν)

Jesus says no root here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [it had almost no root] or [it had very small roots]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

Matthew 13:7

ULT	UST
But others fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them.	Other seeds fell onto an area full of thorny plants. These thorny plants grew quickly and crowded out the grain plants.

> ULT others
> UST Other seeds
> (ἄλλα)

Jesus is using the adjective others as a noun to mean some of the rest of the seeds that did not fall beside the road or on rocky soil. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. See how you translated the word in 13:5. Alternate translation: [some of the rest of the seeds]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT the thorns grew up and choked them
> UST These thorny plants grew quickly and crowded out the grain plants
> (ἀνέβησαν αἱ ἄκανθαι καὶ ἀπέπνιξαν αὐτά)

Here Jesus means that the thorns grew quickly and took all the nutrients, water, and sunlight, so the farmer's plants could not grow well. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the thorns grew very large and crowded them out] or [the thorns grew faster and kept them from growing well]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
thorns	an area full of thorny plants
thorns	These thorny plants

Matthew 13:8

ULT	UST
But others fell on good soil and were giving fruit, some 100, and some 60, and some 30.	Finally, other seeds fell on fertile soil. {They sprouted,} and the plants produced a crop. Some plants produced 100 {grains of wheat each}, others produced 60 {grains each}, and others produced 30 {grains each}.

ULT others
UST other seeds
(ἄλλα)

Jesus is using the adjective others as a noun to mean some of the rest of the seeds that did not fall beside the road or on rocky soil. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. See how you translated the word in 13:5. Alternate translation: [some of the rest of the seeds]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT were giving fruit
UST {They sprouted,} and the plants produced a crop (ἐδίδου καρπόν)

Here the word fruit refers to the crop that the plants that grew from the seeds produced. Since the farmer is sowing wheat seeds, this crop would be more wheat seeds. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [were producing more seeds] or [sprouted and produced a harvest]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT fruit
UST a crop
(καρπόν)

Here, the word fruit is singular in form, but it refers to many fruits as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [fruits]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT some 100, and some 60, and some 30
UST Some plants produced 100 {grains of wheat each}, others produced 60 {grains each}, and others produced 30 {grains each}
(ὃ & ἑκατὸν, ὃ δὲ ἑξήκοντα, ὃ δὲ τριάκοντα)

Here Jesus means that plants produced 100, 60, or 30 new seeds. Scholars estimate that these numbers are very good in Jesus' time period, although not impossible or unheard of. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make these ideas more explicit. Alternate translation: [and they produced a very good harvest, with some plants producing 100 seeds, and some plants producing 60 seeds, and other plants producing 30 seeds] or [many times more than the farmer planted: some 100 times more, and some 60 times more, and some 30 times more]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	fertile
fruit	a crop

Matthew 13:9

ULT	UST
The one having ears, let him hear.”	You should think carefully about what you just heard me say!”

ULT The one having ears let him hear
UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say
(ὁ ἔχων ὦτα, ἀκουέτω)

This verse is almost identical to 11:15, although that verse includes the phrase “to hear” after ears. Express the idea as you did in 11:15, but omit the phrase “to hear” if you expressed it explicitly there.

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT having ears
UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say (ἔχων ὦτα)

Many ancient manuscripts read having ears. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “having ears to hear.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

Matthew 13:10

ULT	UST
And having approached, the disciples said to him, "For what reason do you speak to them in parables?"	Then, the apprentices came to Jesus and asked him, "Why do you use stories to instruct these people?"

ULT said to him, "For what reason do you speak to them in parables
UST and asked him, "Why do you use stories to instruct these people (εἶπαν αὐτῷ, διὰ τί ἐν παραβολαῖς λαλεῖς αὐτοῖς)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [asked him for what reason he spoke to them in parables.]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT do you speak
UST to instruct (λαλεῖς)

Here, the word you is singular since the disciples are speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT to them
UST these people
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the "crowd" that was standing on the shore of the sea to listen to Jesus (see 13:2). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [to the crowd]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
parables	stories

Matthew 13:11

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said to them, "To you has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens, but to those it has not been given.	Jesus replied, "God has revealed to you hidden things about his heavenly kingdom. However, he has not revealed {those things} to these people.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT has been given … it has not been given
UST God has revealed … he has not revealed {those things}
(δέδοται & οὐ δέδοται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God has given … God has not given]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens
UST hidden things about his heavenly kingdom
(τὰ μυστήρια τῆς Βασιλείας τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe mysteries that are about the kingdom of the heavens. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the mysteries concerning the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT to those it has not been given
> UST he has not revealed {those things} to these people
> (ἐκείνοις & οὐ δέδοται)

Here Jesus implies that those people have not been given the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to those it has not been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT to those
> UST to these people
> (ἐκείνοις)

Jesus is using the adjective those as a noun to mean the people whom the disciples asked him about. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [to those people] or [to the crowds]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to know	God has revealed
mysteries	hidden things
of the kingdom of the heavens	about his heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 13:12

ULT	UST
For whoever has, it will be given to him, and he will have an abundance. But whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him.	{I say that} because God will reveal even more to people who already know some things {about God's heavenly kingdom}. They will know many things. In contrast, God will cause people who know very little {about God's heavenly kingdom} to know nothing about it at all.

ULT For
UST {I say that} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For could introduce: (1) a reason why God reveals the mysteries of the kingdom to some people and not to other people. Alternate translation: [That is because] or [Here is why that happens:]; (2) an explanation concerning why God reveals the mysteries of the kingdom to some people and not to other people. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [Here is what I mean:]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT whoever has, it will be given to him, and he will have an abundance. But whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him
UST God will reveal even more to people who already know some things {about God's heavenly kingdom}. They will know many things. In contrast, God will cause people who know very little {about God's heavenly kingdom} to know nothing about it at all
(ὅστις & ἔχει, δοθήσεται αὐτῷ καὶ περισσευθήσεται; ὅστις δὲ οὐκ ἔχει, καὶ ὃ ἔχει ἀρθήσεται ἀπ' αὐτοῦ)

Jesus uses or invents a proverb in order to teach that people who have something usually gain more of it, while people who have very little usually lose everything. Translate this proverb in a way that will be recognized as a proverb and be meaningful in your language and culture. Alternate translation: [people who have things receive more, and they have an abundance. But people who do not have things lose what they used to have]

Support Reference: Proverbs

ULT whoever has, it will be given to him, and he will have an abundance. But whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him
UST God will reveal even more to people who already know some things {about God's heavenly kingdom}. They will know many things. In contrast, God will cause people who know very little {about God's heavenly kingdom} to know nothing about it at all
(ὅστις & ἔχει, δοθήσεται αὐτῷ καὶ περισσευθήσεται; ὅστις δὲ οὐκ ἔχει, καὶ ὃ ἔχει ἀρθήσεται ἀπ' αὐτοῦ)

Jesus implies that what the person has or does not have is knowledge or understanding about the "mysteries of the kingdom of heaven" (see 13:11). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [whoever has understanding, it will be given to him, and he will have an abundance. But whoever does not have understanding, even what he has will be taken away from him] or [whoever has knowledge about the kingdom, more will be given to him, and he will have an abundance of knowledge. But whoever does not have knowledge about the kingdom, even what knowledge he has will be taken away from him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT it will be given … will be taken away
UST God will reveal even more … God will cause … to know nothing about (δοθήσεται & ἀρθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [God will give … God will take away]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to him, and he will have an abundance … what he has … him
UST to people … They will know many things … people … it at all (αὐτῷ καὶ περισσευθήσεται & ὃ ἔχει & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms him and he are masculine in this verse, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [to that person, and he or she will have an abundance … what that person has … him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT he will have an abundance
> UST They will know many things
> (περισσευθήσεται)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of abundance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he will abound] or [he will have very much]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT But whoever does not have
> UST In contrast … who know very little {about God's heavenly kingdom}
> (ὅστις δὲ οὐκ ἔχει)

Jesus says whoever does not have here as a generalization for emphasis. It is clear in the second half of the sentence that the person did have something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [But whoever has almost nothing] or [But whoever does not have much]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

Matthew 13:13

ULT	UST
For this reason I speak to them in parables; because seeing, they do not see; and hearing, they do not hear nor understand.	I use stories to instruct these people because they can look at things, but they do not really see them. They can hear what people say, but they do not really listen to it or learn from it.

ULT For this reason
(διὰ τοῦτο)

Here, the pronoun this could refer to: (1) what Jesus is about to say, beginning with the word because. Alternate translation: [Here is why]; (2) what Jesus said in the previous two verses. Alternate translation: [That is why] or [For those reasons]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT to them
UST these people
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the "crowd" that was standing on the shore of the sea to listen to Jesus (see 13:2). Express the idea as you did in 13:10. Alternate translation: [to the crowd]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT seeing, they do not see; and hearing, they do not hear nor understand
UST they can look at things, but they do not really see them. They can hear what people say, but they do not really listen to it or learn from it
(βλέποντες οὐ βλέπουσιν, καὶ ἀκούοντες οὐκ ἀκούουσιν, οὐδὲ συνίουσιν)

Here Jesus means that the people see things, but they do not look carefully. They hear things, but they do not listen carefully or understand. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [although they see, they do not really see; and although they hear, they do not really hear nor understand] or [seeming to see, they do not actually see, and seeming to hear, they do not actually hear nor understand]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
parables	I use stories
understand	learn from it

Matthew 13:14

ULT	UST
And in them the prophecy of Isaiah is being fulfilled, which says, 'In hearing you will hear, but you will certainly not understand; and seeing, you will see, but you will certainly not perceive.	What God said by speaking through the prophet Isaiah has come true for them: 'You will hear things, but you will not learn from them. You will look at things, but you will not really see them.

ULT in them the prophecy of Isaiah is being fulfilled
UST by speaking through the prophet Isaiah has come true for them
(ἀναπληροῦται αὐτοῖς ἡ προφητεία Ἠσαΐου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [they are fulfilling the prophecy of Isaiah] or [what they do fulfills the prophecy of Isaiah]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the prophecy of Isaiah is being fulfilled, which says
UST What God said by speaking through the prophet Isaiah has come true (ἀναπληροῦται & ἡ προφητεία Ἠσαΐου ἡ λέγουσα)

In Jesus's culture, this was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book written by Isaiah the prophet (see Isaiah 6:9–10). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [the prophecy from the book of Isaiah is being fulfilled. Here is the prophecy:] or [is being fulfilled what Isaiah prophesied when he wrote]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT In hearing you will hear … seeing, you will see
UST You will hear things … You will look at things
(ἀκοῇ ἀκούσετε & βλέποντες βλέψετε)

The author of the quotation repeats the words hear and see in order to emphasize that the people really do hear and see. If your language can repeat words for emphasis, it would be appropriate to use that construction here in your translation. Otherwise, you could express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [You will certainly hear … you will certainly see] or [You will indeed hear … you will indeed see]

Support Reference: Reduplication

ULT certainly not … certainly not UST not … not
(οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words in the original Greek. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means … by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
prophecy	by speaking through the prophet Isaiah of Isaiah	by speaking through the prophet Isaiah is being fulfilled	has come true
you will … understand	you will … learn from them

Matthew 13:15

ULT	UST
For the heart of this people has been thickened, and with {their} ears they have hardly heard, and they have shut their eyes, lest they might see with {their} eyes, and they might hear with {their} ears, and they might understand with {their} heart and turn back, and I would heal them.'	{These people do not understand} because they have become stubborn; their ears are almost deaf; and they have closed their eyes because they do not want to see. They do not want to listen or try to understand, for then they would come back to me, and I would welcome and forgive them.'

ULT For

UST {These people do not understand} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why the people hear but do not understand and see but do not perceive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [That is because] or [That happens since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the heart of this people has been thickened, and with {their} ears they have hardly heard, and they have shut their eyes, lest they might see with {their} eyes, and they might hear with {their} ears, and they might understand with {their} heart and turn back, and I would heal them

UST they have become stubborn; their ears are almost deaf; and they have closed their eyes because they do not want to see. They do not want to listen or try to understand, for then they would come back to me, and I would welcome and forgive them
(ἐπαχύνθη & ἡ καρδία τοῦ λαοῦ τούτου, καὶ τοῖς ὠσὶν βαρέως ἤκουσαν, καὶ τοὺς ὀφθαλμοὺς αὐτῶν ἐκάμμυσαν; μήποτε ἴδωσιν τοῖς ὀφθαλμοῖς, καὶ τοῖς ὠσὶν ἀκούσωσιν, καὶ τῇ καρδίᾳ συνῶσιν, καὶ ἐπιστρέψωσιν καὶ ἰάσομαι αὐτούς)

The author of the quotation switches from speaking to the Israelite people in the second person (see 13:14) to speaking about them in the third person. If this would not be natural in your language, you could use second person forms in this verse. Alternate translation: [the heart of you people has been thickened, and with your ears you have hardly heard, and you have shut your eyes, lest you might see with your eyes, and you might hear with your ears, and you might understand with your heart and turn back, and I would heal you]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT the heart of this people has been thickened, and with {their} ears they have hardly heard, and they have shut their eyes
UST they have become stubborn; their ears are almost deaf; and they have closed their eyes
(ἐπαχύνθη & ἡ καρδία τοῦ λαοῦ τούτου, καὶ τοῖς ὠσὶν βαρέως ἤκουσαν, καὶ τοὺς ὀφθαλμοὺς αὐτῶν ἐκάμμυσαν)

These three clauses mean basically the same thing. The second and third emphasize the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and in order to show that the second and third phrase are repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could express the idea with just one or two clauses. Alternate translation: [the heart of this people has been thickened; yes, with their ears they have hardly heard; indeed, they have shut their eyes] or [the heart of this people has been thickened, and they barely use their ears and eyes]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT the heart of this people has been thickened
UST they have become stubborn
(ἐπαχύνθη & ἡ καρδία τοῦ λαοῦ τούτου)

Here the author of the quotation is speaking as if the heart of the people of Israel has literally been thickened. He means that they are resisting God stubbornly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [this people has been made stubborn]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the heart of this people has been thickened … with {their} heart
UST they have become stubborn … try to understand
(ἐπαχύνθη & ἡ καρδία τοῦ λαοῦ τούτου & τῇ καρδίᾳ)

If it would not be natural in your language to speak as if a group of people had only one heart, you could use the plural form of that word in your translation. Alternate translation: [the hearts of these people have been thickened … with their hearts]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT the heart of this people has been thickened … with {their} heart
UST they have become stubborn … try to understand
(ἐπαχύνθη & ἡ καρδία τοῦ λαοῦ τούτου & τῇ καρδίᾳ)

In the author's culture, the heart is the place where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the place where humans think and feel in your culture or by expressing the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [the mind of this people was made dull … with their mind] or [the thoughts of this people were made dull … in their thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT has been thickened
UST have become stubborn
(ἐπαχύνθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [has become thick]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT with {their} ears they have hardly heard, and they have shut their eyes, lest they might see with {their} eyes, and they might hear with {their} ears
UST their ears are almost deaf; and they have closed their eyes because they do not want to see. They do not want to listen
(τοῖς ὠσὶν βαρέως ἤκουσαν, καὶ τοὺς ὀφθαλμοὺς αὐτῶν ἐκάμμυσαν; μήποτε ἴδωσιν τοῖς ὀφθαλμοῖς, καὶ τοῖς ὠσὶν ἀκούσωσιν)

It may be that these expressions contains extra information that would be unnatural to express in your language. If so, you could shorten them. Alternate translation: [and they have hardly heard anything, and they have shut their eyes, lest they might see clearly, and they might hear clearly]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT and with {their} ears they have hardly heard, and they have shut their eyes
UST their ears are almost deaf; and they have closed their eyes
(καὶ τοῖς ὠσὶν βαρέως ἤκουσαν, καὶ τοὺς ὀφθαλμοὺς αὐτῶν ἐκάμμυσαν)

The author of the quotation is speaking as if the people of Israel have become unable to hear and have shut their eyes so that they will not see. He means that they are refusing to consider what God wants to tell them. If it would be clearer in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they are refusing to pay attention to God, as if they were closing their ears and eyes] or [and they are refusing to consider what God wants to tell them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they might see with {their} eyes, and they might hear with {their} ears, and they might understand with {their} heart
UST they do … want to see. They do not want to listen or try to understand (ἴδωσιν τοῖς ὀφθαλμοῖς, καὶ τοῖς ὠσὶν ἀκούσωσιν, καὶ τῇ καρδίᾳ συνῶσιν)

These three clauses mean basically the same thing. The second and third emphasize the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and in order to show that the second and third phrase are repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could express the idea with just one or two clauses. Alternate translation: [they might see with their eyes; yes, they might hear with their ears; indeed, they might understand with their heart] or [they might use their eyes and ears, and they might understand with their heart]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT turn back
UST they would come back to me
(ἐπιστρέψωσιν)

The author of the quotation is speaking of the people of Israel as if they had been traveling somewhere and had taken the wrong way and needed to turn back onto the right way. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [start obeying the Lord again]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT I would heal them
> UST I would welcome and forgive them
> (ἰάσομαι αὐτούς)

Here the author of the quotation does not mean God would only heal the people physically. He would also heal them spiritually by forgiving their sins. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I would heal them and forgive them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they might understand	try to understand

Matthew 13:16

ULT	UST
But blessed {are} your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear.	However, it is very good for you, because you really see. {It is very good} for you, because you really listen.

ULT your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear
UST for you, because you really see. {It is very good} for you, because you really listen
(ὑμῶν & οἱ ὀφθαλμοὶ ὅτι βλέπουσιν, καὶ τὰ ὦτα ὑμῶν ὅτι ἀκούουσιν)

Jesus is using eyes and ears to represent people as they see and hear. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you, for you see; and blessed are you, for you hear] or [you as you look at things, for you see; and as you listen to things, for you hear]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT they see … they hear
UST you really see … you really listen
(βλέπουσιν & ἀκούουσιν)

Here Jesus implies that their eyes can see properly and their ears can hear properly. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they see well … they hear well]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and your ears
UST {It is very good} for you
(καὶ τὰ ὦτα ὑμῶν)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and blessed are your ears]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
blessed {are}	it is very good

Matthew 13:17

ULT	UST
For truly I say to you that many prophets and righteous ones longed to see what you see, and did not see, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear.	Indeed, many people who spoke for God and other people who did what was right would have wanted to see the things that you are seeing me do. But they did not get to see them{, because they lived long ago}. They would have wanted to hear the things that I have said to you. But they did not get to hear them{, because they lived long ago}. What I have said is true.

ULT For
UST Indeed
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why the disciples are blessed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [You are blessed because] or [That is because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT what you see … what you hear
UST the things that you are seeing me do … the things that I have said to you (ἃ βλέπετε & ἃ ἀκούετε)

Here Jesus implies that what the disciples see and hear is what he does and teaches. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [what you see me do … what you hear me say]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT did not see … did not hear
UST they did not get to see them{, because they lived long ago} … they did not get to hear them{, because they lived long ago}
(οὐκ εἶδαν & οὐκ ἤκουσαν)

Here Jesus implies that these people did not see or hear what the disciples can see and hear. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [did not see those things … did not hear those things]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT did not see … did not hear
UST they did not get to see them{, because they lived long ago} … they did not get to hear them{, because they lived long ago}
(οὐκ εἶδαν & οὐκ ἤκουσαν)

Here Jesus implies that these people did not see or hear what the disciples see and hear because they lived before Jesus was born. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [because they lived before this time, did not see … because they lived before this time, did not hear]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT and to hear
UST They would have wanted to hear (καὶ ἀκοῦσαι)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and they longed to hear]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
truly	What I have said is true
prophets	people who spoke for God righteous ones	other people who did what was right

Matthew 13:18

ULT	UST
You, therefore, listen to the parable of the sower.	So then, listen to {me explain} the story about the farmer who planted grain seeds.

ULT therefore
UST So then
(οὖν)

Here, the word therefore introduces an inference or conclusion based on what Jesus has said in the previous verses about how the disciples are blessed because they can listen to Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces an inference, or you could leave therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [then] or [given all that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT listen to the parable
UST listen to {me explain} the story
(ἀκούσατε τὴν παραβολὴν)

Here Jesus means that he is going to explain the parable that he just spoke. He does not mean that he is going to tell it again. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [listen to the explanation of the parable]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
parable	the story
of the sower	about the farmer who planted grain seeds

Matthew 13:19

ULT	UST
Everyone hearing the word of the kingdom and not understanding, the evil one comes and snatches away {what} had been sown in his heart. This is {what} was sown beside the road.	Some people hear the message about God's kingdom, but they do not learn from it. Then Satan comes and takes the message they heard away from their minds. These people are like the seeds that fell on the path.

ULT the word of the kingdom
UST the message about God's kingdom
(τὸν λόγον τῆς βασιλείας)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a word that is about the kingdom. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the word concerning the kingdom]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the word
UST the message
(τὸν λόγον)

Matthew is using the term word to mean something spoken in words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the proclamation] or [the news]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the evil one comes and snatches away {what} had been sown in his heart
UST Then Satan comes and takes the message they heard away from their minds (ἔρχεται ὁ πονηρὸς καὶ ἁρπάζει τὸ ἐσπαρμένον ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus speaks about the message about the kingdom as if it were seed that had been sown in a person's heart. He speaks of the evil one as if he were a bird that swooped down and snatched away the seed. Since these figures of speech connect to the parable that Jesus told, if possible you should preserve them or express the ideas in simile form. Alternate translation: [the evil one comes like a bird and snatches away the word, which had been sown like a seed in his heart]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the evil one
UST Satan
(ὁ πονηρὸς)

Here, the phrase the evil one refers to the devil, Satan. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [the devil] or [the evil one, Satan,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT {what} had been sown in his heart
UST the message they heard … from their minds
(τὸ ἐσπαρμένον ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [what someone sowed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT in his heart
UST from their minds
(ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ αὐτοῦ)

In Jesus's culture, the heart is the place where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the place where humans think and feel in your culture or by expressing the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [in his head] or [in his thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT his
UST from their minds
(αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her] or [that person's]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT This is {what} was sown beside the road
UST These people are like the seeds that fell on the path
(οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ παρὰ τὴν ὁδὸν σπαρείς)

Here Jesus speaks about what happens to this person as if it were what happened in the parable when the seed was sown beside the road. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [When this happens, it is like what happened to the seed that was sown beside the road]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT This
UST These people
(οὗτός)

The pronoun This refers to the person whom Jesus has described in the previous sentence. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to the person more directly. Alternate translation: [That person] or [He]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT {what} was sown beside the road
UST the seeds that fell on the path
(ὁ παρὰ τὴν ὁδὸν σπαρείς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the farmer who was sowing seed. Alternate translation: [what the farmer sowed beside the road]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the kingdom	about God's kingdom
understanding	they do … learn from it evil one	Satan
snatches away	takes … away
had been sown	the message they heard was sown	fell

Matthew 13:20

ULT	UST
Now the one having been sown on the rocky ground, this is the one hearing the word and immediately receiving it with joy;	Other people are like the seeds that fell on shallow soil on top of a layer of rocks. When they hear the message {about God's kingdom}, they rejoice and quickly believe it.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that Jesus wants to say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the one having been sown on the rocky ground, this is the one hearing the word and immediately receiving it with joy
UST Other people are like the seeds that fell on shallow soil on top of a layer of rocks. When they hear the message {about God's kingdom}, they rejoice and quickly believe it
(ὁ & ἐπὶ τὰ πετρώδη σπαρείς, οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ τὸν λόγον ἀκούων καὶ εὐθὺς μετὰ χαρᾶς λαμβάνων αὐτόν)

Here Jesus speaks about what happens to this person as if it were what happened in the parable when the seed was sown on the rocky ground. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [what happened to the seed having been sown on the rocky ground is like what happens to the one hearing the word and immediately receiving it with joy]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the one having been sown on the rocky ground, this
UST the seeds that fell on shallow soil on top of a layer of rocks
(ὁ & ἐπὶ τὰ πετρώδη σπαρείς, οὗτός)

Here, the word this refers directly back to the one having been sown on the rocky ground. Jesus expresses the idea in this way to introduce the one having been sown on the rocky ground and then explain what it means. If stating the topic and then referring back to it with the word this would be redundant in your language, you could omit the redundant information. Alternate translation: [the one having been sown on the rocky ground]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

> ULT having been sown
> UST that fell
> (σπαρείς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the farmer who was sowing seed. Alternate translation: [that the farmer sowed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the rocky ground
> UST on shallow soil on top of a layer of rocks
> (τὰ πετρώδη)

Here, just as in 13:5, Jesus refers to an area that has a thin layer of soil on top of a layer of rocks. Express the idea as you did in that verse. Alternate translation: [a thin layer of soil on top of rocks] or [a rocky area]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the word
> UST the message {about God's kingdom}
> (τὸν λόγον)

Here, just as in 13:19, Jesus is using the term word to mean something spoken in words. Express the idea as you did there. Alternate translation: [the proclamation] or [the news]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the word
> UST the message {about God's kingdom}
> (τὸν λόγον)

Here Jesus implies that this is the same "word of the kingdom" that he mentioned in the previous verse. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the word about the kingdom]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT with joy
> UST they rejoice
> (μετὰ χαρᾶς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [joyfully]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having been sown	that fell
receiving	and … believe
joy	they rejoice

Matthew 13:21

ULT	UST
but he has no root in himself but is temporary; and tribulation or persecution having happened because of the word, immediately he is caused to stumble.	However, they are like plants without good roots, which do not live very long. In fact, when bad things happen or when people hurt them because they accepted the message {about God's kingdom}, they quickly stop believing it.

ULT but he has no root in himself but is temporary
UST However, they are like plants without good roots, which do not live very long (οὐκ ἔχει δὲ ῥίζαν ἐν ἑαυτῷ, ἀλλὰ πρόσκαιρός ἐστιν)

Here Jesus speaks about these people as if they were the plants in the parable that had no root and were only temporary since they withered when the sun rose. Since this figure of speech connects to the parable that Jesus told, if possible you should preserve it or express the ideas in simile form. Alternate translation: [but he is like a plant with no roots that does not live for long]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT he has … himself … he is caused to stumble
UST they are like plants without good roots … they … stop believing it (ἔχει & ἑαυτῷ & σκανδαλίζεται)

Although the terms he, himself, and he are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [that person has … himself or herself … he or she is caused to stumble]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT no root
UST they are like plants without good roots
(οὐκ & ῥίζαν)

Here, just as in 13:6, Jesus says no root as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [almost no root] or [very small roots]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT and tribulation or persecution having happened
UST In fact, when bad things happen or when people hurt them
(γενομένης δὲ θλίψεως ἢ διωγμοῦ)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of tribulation and persecution, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [and when he is afflicted or persecuted]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the word
UST they accepted the message {about God's kingdom}
(τὸν λόγον)

Here, just as in 13:19, Jesus is using the term word to mean something spoken in words. Express the idea as you did there. Alternate translation: [the proclamation] or [the news]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the word
UST they accepted the message {about God's kingdom}
(τὸν λόγον)

Here Jesus implies that this is the same "word of the kingdom" that he mentioned in the previous verses. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the word about the kingdom]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he is caused to stumble
UST they … stop believing it
(σκανδαλίζεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he stumbles]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT he is caused to stumble
UST they … stop believing it
(σκανδαλίζεται)

Here, Jesus speaks of ceasing to believe the gospel as if it were stumbling. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he stops believing] or [he ceases to trust the good news]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
tribulation	bad things
persecution	when people hurt them

Matthew 13:22

ULT	UST
Now the one having been sown among the thorns, this is the one hearing the word, but the worry of this age and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful.	Other people are like the seeds that fell onto an area full of thorny plants. After they hear the message {about God's kingdom}, they continue to focus on things in this world and on becoming rich, even though being rich is not as helpful as they think it will be. Focusing on these things makes the message ineffective, just as thorny plants crowd out the good plants and keep them from producing a crop.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that Jesus wants to say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the one having been sown among the thorns, this is the one hearing the word, but the worry of this age and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful
UST Other people are like the seeds that fell onto an area full of thorny plants. After they hear the message {about God's kingdom}, they continue to focus on things in this world and on becoming rich, even though being rich is not as helpful as they think it will be. Focusing on these things makes the message ineffective, just as thorny plants crowd out the good plants and keep them from producing a crop
(ὁ & εἰς τὰς ἀκάνθας σπαρείς, οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ τὸν λόγον ἀκούων, καὶ ἡ μέριμνα τοῦ αἰῶνος τούτου καὶ ἡ ἀπάτη τοῦ πλούτου συνπνίγει τὸν λόγον, καὶ ἄκαρπος γίνεται)

Jesus speaks about what happens to this person as if it were what happened in the parable when the seed was sown among the thorns, thorns which choke the plant grown from the seed and make it unfruitful. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [what happened to the seed having been sown among the thorns is like what happens to the one hearing the word, but the worry of this age and the deceitfulness of riches, like thorns, choke the word, so that it is not effective, just like that seed which becomes unfruitful]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the one having been sown among the thorns, this
> UST the seeds that fell onto an area full of thorny plants
> (ὁ & εἰς τὰς ἀκάνθας σπαρείς, οὗτός)

Here, the word this refers directly back to the one having been sown among the thorns. Jesus expresses the idea in this way to introduce the one having been sown among the thorns and then explains what it means. If stating the topic and then referring back to it with the word this would be redundant in your language, you could omit the redundant information. Alternate translation: [the one having been sown among the thorns]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

> ULT having been sown
> UST that fell
> (σπαρείς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the farmer who was sowing seed. Alternate translation: [that the farmer sowed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the word … the word
> UST the message {about God's kingdom} … the message … the good plants
> (τὸν λόγον)

Here, just as in 13:19, Jesus is using the term word to mean something spoken in words. Express the idea as you did there. Alternate translation: [the proclamation … the proclamation] or [the news … the news]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the word … the word
> UST the message {about God's kingdom} … the message … the good plants
> (τὸν λόγον)

Here Jesus implies that this is the same "word of the kingdom" that he has mentioned in the previous verses. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the word about the kingdom … this word]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the worry of this age and the deceitfulness of riches
UST they continue to focus on things in this world and on becoming rich, even though being rich is not as helpful as they think it will be (ἡ μέριμνα τοῦ αἰῶνος τούτου καὶ ἡ ἀπάτη τοῦ πλούτου)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of worry and deceitfulness, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [this person worries about this age and is deceived by riches. These things]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the worry of this age
UST they continue to focus on things in this world
(ἡ μέριμνα τοῦ αἰῶνος τούτου)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe worry that is related to this age. In other words, the worry is about things and problems that exist in this age or world. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the worry about things in this age] or [the worry about what happens in this age]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the deceitfulness of riches
UST on becoming rich, even though being rich is not as helpful as they think it will be (ἡ ἀπάτη τοῦ πλούτου)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe riches that are characterized by deceitfulness. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [deceitful riches] or [riches that deceive]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having been sown	that fell
thorns	an area full of thorny plants
of … age	things in this world
deceitfulness	even though being rich is not as helpful as they think it will be unfruitful	makes … ineffective … keep them from producing a crop

Matthew 13:23

ULT	UST
Now the one having been sown on the good soil, this is the one hearing the word and understanding {it}, who indeed bears fruit and yields, some 100, and some 60, and some 30."	Other people are like the seeds that fell on fertile soil. When they hear the message {about God's kingdom}, they learn from it. They are like the plants that produced a crop. Some plants produced 100 {grains of wheat each}, others produced 60 {grains each}, and others produced 30 {grains each}."

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that Jesus wants to say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the one having been sown on the good soil, this is the one hearing the word and understanding {it}, who indeed bears fruit and yields, some 100, and some 60, and some 30
UST Other people are like the seeds that fell on fertile soil. When they hear the message {about God's kingdom}, they learn from it. They are like the plants that produced a crop. Some plants produced 100 {grains of wheat each}, others produced 60 {grains each}, and others produced 30 {grains each}
(ὁ & ἐπὶ τὴν καλὴν γῆν σπαρείς, οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ τὸν λόγον ἀκούων καὶ συνιείς; ὃς δὴ καρποφορεῖ καὶ ποιεῖ, ὃ & ἑκατὸν, ὃ δὲ ἑξήκοντα, ὃ δὲ τριάκοντα)

Here Jesus speaks about what happens to this person as if it were what happened in the parable when the seed was sown on the good soil and produced a crop of various sizes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [what happened to the seed having been sown on the good soil is like what happens to the one hearing the word understanding it. That person will be like a seed that bears fruit and yields, some 100, and some 60, and some 30]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the one having been sown on the good soil, this
> UST the seeds that fell on fertile soil
> (ὁ & ἐπὶ τὴν καλὴν γῆν σπαρείς, οὗτός)

Here, the word this refers directly back to the one having been sown on the good soil. Jesus expresses the idea in this way to introduce the one having been sown on the good soil and then explains what it means. If stating the topic and then referring back to it with the word this would be redundant in your language, you could omit the redundant information. Alternate translation: [the one having been sown on the good soil]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

> ULT having been sown
> UST that fell
> (σπαρείς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the farmer who was sowing seed. Alternate translation: [that the farmer sowed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the word
> UST the message {about God's kingdom}
> (τὸν λόγον)

Here, just as in 13:19, Jesus is using the term word to mean something spoken in words. Express the idea as you did there. Alternate translation: [the proclamation] or [the news]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the word
> UST the message {about God's kingdom}
> (τὸν λόγον)

Here Jesus implies that this is the same "word of the kingdom" that he has mentioned in the previous verses. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the word about the kingdom]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT bears fruit and yields, some 100, and some 60, and some 30
UST that produced a crop. Some plants produced 100 {grains of wheat each}, others produced 60 {grains each}, and others produced 30 {grains each}
(καρποφορεῖ καὶ ποιεῖ, ὃ & ἑκατὸν, ὃ δὲ ἑξήκοντα, ὃ δὲ τριάκοντα)

Here Jesus means that plants produced 100, 60, or 30 new seeds. Scholars estimate that these numbers are very good in Jesus' time period, although not impossible or unheard of. Express the idea as you did in 13:8. Alternate translation: [bears fruit, with some plants yielding 100 seeds, and some plants yielding 60 seeds, and other plants yielding 30 seeds] or [bears fruit and yields many times more than the farmer planted: some 100 times more, and some 60 times more, and some 30 times more]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT bears fruit
UST that produced a crop
(καρποφορεῖ)

Here, the word fruit is singular in form, but it refers to many fruits as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [bears fruits]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having been sown	that fell
good	fertile soil
understanding {it}	they learn from it bears fruit	that produced a crop

Matthew 13:24

ULT	UST
He set before them another parable, saying, "The kingdom of the heavens is compared to a man having sown good seed in his field.	Then Jesus told the people another story. He said, "Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a farmer planted some fertile grain seeds in his field.

ULT He set before them
UST Then Jesus told the people
(παρέθηκεν αὐτοῖς)

Matthew speaks as if the parable were an object that Jesus could set before the people. He means that Jesus told them another parable. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He spoke to them] or [He narrated to them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT them
UST the people
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the people who were standing by the side of the Sea of Galilee (see 13:2). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to those people more directly. Alternate translation: [the people standing on the shore] or [those people]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT saying
UST He said
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT The kingdom of the heavens is compared to a man
UST Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a farmer
(ὡμοιώθη ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν, ἀνθρώπῳ)

To teach the people in the crowd, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: the kingdom of the heavens is compared to a man]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT The kingdom of the heavens is compared to
UST Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like
(ὡμοιώθη ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the comparing, it is clear from the context that it is Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [I compare the kingdom of the heavens to] or [The kingdom of the heavens is comparable to]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT a man … his
UST a farmer … his (ἀνθρώπῳ & αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus is telling a story about a specific man. It is not important for the story whether the person is a man or a woman. If you have a form that refers to any person without identifying a gender, you could use it here. Otherwise, you could identify the person as a man, as the UST does.

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT good seed
UST some fertile grain seeds
(καλὸν σπέρμα)

Here, the phrase good seed refers to seed that sprouts into plants that produce helpful crops. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [seed that sprouts into productive plants]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT seed
UST some … grain seeds
(σπέρμα)

The word seed is singular in form, but it refers to many seeds as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [seeds]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
parable	story
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
having sown	planted
good	fertile
seed	some … grain seeds

Matthew 13:25

ULT	UST
But while the men slept, his enemy came and sowed darnel among the wheat and went away.	However, as the farmer and his workers were asleep, someone who hated the farmer went into the field and planted weed seeds among the grain seeds. Then, he left {before the farmer and his workers woke up}.

ULT the men
UST the farmer and his workers
(τοὺς ἀνθρώπους)

The phrase the men could refer to: (1) the farmer and the people who help take care of his field and crops. Alternate translation: [the man and his helpers]; (2) people in general. Alternate translation: [people] or [everyone]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT darnel
UST weed seeds
(ζιζάνια)

The word darnel refers to a plant that looks like a wheat plant, but the grain that it produces can be poisonous. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of plant, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [weeds] or [poisonous plants that look like wheat]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT went away
UST he left {before the farmer and his workers woke up}
(ἀπῆλθεν)

The implication is that the enemy sowed the darnel and went away without the farmer and his workers noticing what he had done. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [went away without the men noticing what he had done]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
enemy	someone who hated
sowed	planted

ULT	UST
wheat	grain seeds

Matthew 13:26

ULT	UST
Now when the blades sprouted and produced a crop, then the darnel became visible also.	Some time later, the wheat plants sprouted and began to produce grain. At the same time, the weed plants also {sprouted, and the workers} noticed them.

ULT the blades sprouted and produced a crop
UST the wheat plants sprouted and began to produce grain (ἐβλάστησεν ὁ χόρτος καὶ καρπὸν ἐποίησεν)

Here Jesus refers to the how seeds sprouted as small blades of grass and then grew until they began to produce heads of grain. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the wheat sprouted and grew until it began to produce heads of grain]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the darnel became visible also
UST the weed plants also {sprouted, and the workers} noticed them
(ἐφάνη καὶ τὰ ζιζάνια)

Here Jesus means that the field workers recognized that some plants were darnel once the wheat and the darnel had sprouted and grown. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the darnel also grew and became recognizable]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the darnel
UST the weed plants also {sprouted … }
(τὰ ζιζάνια)

Translate the word darnel as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [the weeds] or [the poisonous plants that look like wheat]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a crop	grain

Matthew 13:27

ULT	UST
Now the servants of the master of the house, having approached, said to him, 'Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? From where then does it have darnel?'	So, the workers reported this to the farmer. They said, 'Sir, we know that you planted fertile seeds in your field. However, weed plants are growing there!'

ULT Now
UST So
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT of the master of the house
UST the farmer
(τοῦ οἰκοδεσπότου)

The master of the house is the farmer who owns the field. He is the "man" whom Jesus already mentioned in 13:24. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of the man, the one who owned the field] or [of the farmer who owned the field]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT said to him, 'Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? From where then does it have darnel
UST They said, 'Sir, we know that you planted fertile seeds in your field. However, weed plants are growing there (εἶπον αὐτῷ, Κύριε, οὐχὶ καλὸν σπέρμα ἔσπειρας ἐν τῷ σῷ ἀγρῷ? πόθεν οὖν ἔχει ζιζάνια)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [asked him, their master, about whether he had sown good seed in his field and about where the darnel came from.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT did you not sow good seed in your field
UST we know that you planted fertile seeds in your field
(οὐχὶ καλὸν σπέρμα ἔσπειρας ἐν τῷ σῷ ἀγρῷ)

The servants are using the question form to indicate that they know that the farmer sowed good seed. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [we realize that you sowed good seed in your field.] or [you certainly sowed good seed in your field!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT did you not sow … your
UST we know that you planted … your (οὐχὶ & ἔσπειρας & σῷ)

Here, the words you and your are singular since the servants are speaking to the master of the house.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT did you not sow
UST we know that you planted
(οὐχὶ & ἔσπειρας)

The landowner probably had his servants plant the seeds. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [did you not have us sow]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT good seed
UST fertile seeds
(καλὸν σπέρμα)

Here, the phrase good seed refers to seed that sprouts into plants that produce helpful crops. Express the idea as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [seed that sprouts into productive plants]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT seed
UST seeds
(σπέρμα)

Here, the word seed is singular in form, but it refers to many seeds as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [seeds]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT From where then does it have darnel
UST However, weed plants are growing there (πόθεν οὖν ἔχει ζιζάνια)

The servants could be using the question form to: (1) inform the landowner that there is darnel in the field and they are not sure where it came from. Alternate translation: [Despite that, there is darnel in the field, and we are not sure where it came from.]; (2) ask the landowner if he knows where the darnel came from. Alternate translation: [So, from where did the darnel in the field come?]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT darnel
UST weed plants
(ζιζάνια)

Translate the word darnel as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [weeds] or [poisonous plants that look like wheat]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
servants	the workers
Master	Sir
did you … sow	you planted
good	fertile
seed	seeds

Matthew 13:28

ULT	UST
But he was saying to them, ‘A hostile man did this.’ But the servants say to him, ‘Do you therefore desire that, having gone out, we would gather them?’	The farmer replied, ‘A person who hates me planted these weed plants.’ Then his servants asked him, ‘Do you want us to go {to the field} and remove all the weeds plants?’

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT to them, ‘A hostile man did this
UST replied, ‘A person who hates me planted these weed plants
(αὐτοῖς, ἐχθρὸς ἄνθρωπος τοῦτο ἐποίησεν)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [to them that a hostile man had done this.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT did this
UST planted these weed plants
(τοῦτο ἐποίησεν)

The pronoun this refers to the action of planting the weed seeds. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to this action more directly. Alternate translation: [planted the weeds]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT But
UST Then
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT say to him, ‘Do you therefore desire that, having gone out, we would gather them
UST asked him, ‘Do you want us to go {to the field} and remove all the weeds plants
(λέγουσιν αὐτῷ, θέλεις οὖν ἀπελθόντες, συλλέξωμεν αὐτά)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [ask him whether he would desire that, having gone out, they would gather them.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT say
UST asked
(λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Jesus uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Do you therefore desire that
UST Do you want
(θέλεις οὖν)

Here, the word you is singular since the servants are speaking to the master of the house.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT having gone out, we would gather them
UST us to go {to the field} and remove all the weeds plants (ἀπελθόντες, συλλέξωμεν αὐτά)

Here the servants mean that they could go to the field, pull up the weeds, and gather them in one place. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having gone out to your field, we would pull up and gather them together]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT we would gather
UST and remove (συλλέξωμεν)

By we, the servants means themselves but not the farmer, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

ULT them
UST all the weeds plants
(αὐτά)

The pronoun them refers to the weed plants. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to them more directly. Alternate translation: [the weeds]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
hostile	who hates me
servants	his servants

Matthew 13:29

ULT	UST
But he says, 'Certainly not, lest gathering the darnel, you might uproot the wheat along with them.	He answered, 'Do not do that. If you did, you might remove some of the wheat plants while you were removing the weed plants, since they are growing together.

ULT But he says, 'Certainly not, lest gathering the darnel, you might uproot the wheat along with them … Permit both to grow together until the harvest, and at the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, "First gather the darnel and tie them in bundles to burn them up but gather the wheat into my barn

UST He answered, 'Do not do that. If you did, you might remove some of the wheat plants while you were removing the weed plants, since they are growing together … Allow the wheat and weed plants to grow in the field together until we begin to harvest them. Then, I will command the people who are harvesting, "Pull up the weed plants first. Collect them in groups and burn them. After that, harvest the wheat plants and store the grain in my storehouse

(ὁ δέ φησιν, οὔ, μήποτε συλλέγοντες τὰ ζιζάνια, ἐκριζώσητε ἅμα αὐτοῖς τὸν σῖτον. ἄφετε συναυξάνεσθαι ἀμφότερα μέχρι τοῦ θερισμοῦ; καὶ ἐν καιρῷ τοῦ θερισμοῦ ἐρῶ τοῖς θερισταῖς, συλλέξατε πρῶτον τὰ ζιζάνια καὶ δήσατε αὐτὰ εἰς δέσμας πρὸς τὸ κατακαῦσαι αὐτά; τὸν δὲ σῖτον συναγάγετε εἰς τὴν ἀποθήκην μου) (13:29-30)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate these verses so that there are no quotations within quotations. Alternate translation: [he says that they should certainly not, lest gathering the darnel, they might uproot the wheat along with them. He told them to permit both to grow together until the harvest, and at the time of the harvest he would say to the reapers that they should first gather the darnel and tie them in bundles to burn them up, but that they should gather the wheat into his barn]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT But

(δέ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT gathering the darnel, you might uproot the wheat along with them
UST you might remove some of the wheat plants while you were removing the weed plants, since they are growing together
(συλλέγοντες τὰ ζιζάνια, ἐκριζώσητε ἅμα αὐτοῖς τὸν σῖτον)

Here the farmer is implying that they will pull up the darnel before they gather it. He also implies that pulling up the darnel may also uproot the wheat, since their roots are growing together. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make these ideas more explicit. Alternate translation: [pulling up and gathering the darnel, you might uproot the wheat that is growing with them in the ground]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the darnel
UST the weed plants
(τὰ ζιζάνια)

Translate the word darnel as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [the weeds] or [the poisonous plants that look like wheat]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT them
UST since they are growing together
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the darnel. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the plant's name here. Alternate translation: [the darnel]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
wheat	some of the wheat plants

Matthew 13:30

ULT	UST
Permit both to grow together until the harvest, and at the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, "First gather the darnel and tie them in bundles to burn them up but gather the wheat into my barn."'"	Allow the wheat and weed plants to grow in the field together until we begin to harvest them. Then, I will command the people who are harvesting, "Pull up the weed plants first. Collect them in groups and burn them. After that, harvest the wheat plants and store the grain in my storehouse."'"

ULT both
UST the wheat and weed plants
(ἀμφότερα)

Here, the word both refers to the wheat and the darnel. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [both wheat and darnel]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT until the harvest, and at the time of the harvest
UST until we begin to harvest them. Then (μέχρι τοῦ θερισμοῦ; καὶ ἐν καιρῷ τοῦ θερισμοῦ)

The expressions until the harvest and at the time of the harvest contain extra information that would be unnatural to express in some languages. If this is true of your language, you could shorten the expressions. Alternate translation: [until the harvest, when]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT at the time of the harvest
UST Then
(ἐν καιρῷ τοῦ θερισμοῦ)

Here, the farmer is using the possessive form to describe a time in which to perform the harvest. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [at harvest time] or [at the time when we harvest]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the darnel
UST the weed plants
(τὰ ζιζάνια)

Translate the word darnel as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [the weeds] or [the poisonous plants that look like wheat]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT gather the wheat
UST harvest the wheat plants and store the grain (τὸν & σῖτον συναγάγετε)

Here the farmer implies that the reapers should first harvest the wheat and then gather it. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [harvest the wheat and gather it]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT my barn
UST my storehouse
(τὴν ἀποθήκην μου)

The word barn refers to a place where food is stored. If your readers would not be familiar with this term, you could use a more general one. Alternate translation: [the place where my food is stored]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
harvest	we begin to harvest them
the time	Then
of the harvest	Then
to the reapers	the people who are harvesting
tie	Collect
wheat	the wheat plants

Matthew 13:31

ULT	UST
He set before them another parable, saying, "The kingdom of the heavens is like a mustard seed which, having taken, a man sowed in his field;	Then Jesus told the people another story. He said, "Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a man plants a tiny mustard seed in his field.

ULT He set before them
UST Then Jesus told the people
(παρέθηκεν αὐτοῖς)

Matthew speaks as if the parable were an object that Jesus could set before the people. He means that Jesus told them another parable. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. See how you expressed the idea in 13:24. Alternate translation: [He spoke to them] or [He narrated to them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT them
UST the people
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the people who were standing by the side of the Sea of Galilee (see 13:2). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to those people more directly. See how you expressed the idea in 13:24. Alternate translation: [the people standing on the shore] or [those people]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT saying
UST He said
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT The kingdom of the heavens is like a mustard seed
UST Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like … a tiny mustard seed
(ὁμοία ἐστὶν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν κόκκῳ σινάπεως)

To teach the people in the crowd, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: the kingdom of the heavens is like a mustard seed]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT a mustard seed
UST a tiny mustard seed
(κόκκῳ σινάπεως)

A mustard seed is a very small seed that grows into a large plant. If your readers would not be familiar with this kind of seed, in your translation you could use the name of another seed like it, or you could use a general phrase. Alternate translation: [a very small seed]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT a man … his
UST a man … his (ἄνθρωπος & αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus is telling a story about a specific man. However, it is not important for the story whether the person is a man or a woman. If you have a form that refers to any person without identifying a gender, you could use it here. Otherwise, you could identify the person as a man, as the UST does.

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
parable	story
kingdom of the heavens	Here is what God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
a … seed	a tiny mustard seed
sowed	plants

Matthew 13:32

ULT	UST
which is indeed the smallest of all the seeds, but when it grows, it is greater than the vegetable plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the sky come and nest in its branches."	This kind of seed is smaller than other kinds of seeds. However, after it sprouts, the plant becomes a tree that is bigger than other plants that people grow. In fact, birds land on its branches and make nests there."

ULT the smallest of all the seeds
UST smaller than other kinds of seeds
(μικρότερον & πάντων τῶν σπερμάτων)

Jesus says smallest of all the seeds here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [one of the smallest seeds] or [smaller than most seeds]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT the vegetable plants
UST than other plants that people grow
(τῶν λαχάνων)

The phrase vegetable plants refers to plants that people grow so that they can eat them or parts of them. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of plant, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [other plants that people grow to eat] or [plants that people have in their gardens]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT becomes a tree
UST the plant becomes a tree
(γίνεται δένδρον)

Here, the phrase becomes a tree means that the plant grows until it becomes the size of a tree. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [becomes as large as a tree]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the birds of the sky
UST birds
(τὰ πετεινὰ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ)

In your language, it might seem that this phrase expresses unnecessary extra information. If so, you could abbreviate it. Alternate translation: [the birds]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT nest
UST make nests there
(κατασκηνοῦν)

Here, the word nest could indicate that: (1) the birds are building nests in the branches of the mustard plant. Alternate translation: [build nests]; (2) the birds are perching or resting on the branches of the mustard plant. Alternate translation: [perch] or [roost]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of … the seeds	than other kinds of seeds
of the sky	birds

Matthew 13:33

ULT	UST
He spoke to them another parable: "The kingdom of the heavens is like yeast that a woman, having taken, mixed with three seahs of flour until it was all leavened."	Then Jesus told the people another story. {He said,} "Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a woman measured out some yeast and mixed it with about 25 kilograms of flour. The yeast made the whole batch of dough swell up."

ULT to them
UST the people
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the people who were standing by the side of the Sea of Galilee (see 13:2). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to those people more directly. See how you expressed the idea in 13:24. Alternate translation: [to the people standing on the shore] or [to those people]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT The kingdom of the heavens is like yeast
UST {He said,} "Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like … some yeast
(ὁμοία ἐστὶν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν ζύμῃ)

To teach the people in the crowd, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: the kingdom of the heavens is like yeast]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT yeast
UST some yeast
(ζύμῃ)

Jesus assumes that his listeners will know that only a little bit of yeast is needed to make a lot of dough rise. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [a little bit of yeast]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT three seahs of flour
UST about 25 kilograms of flour
(ἀλεύρου σάτα τρία)

The term seahs is the plural of "seah," a dry measure equivalent to nearly eight liters or two gallons. You can express this quantity in terms of a measure that your culture uses, or you can use a general expression. Alternate translation: [a large amount of flour]

Support Reference: Biblical Volume

ULT until it was all leavened
UST The yeast made the whole batch of dough swell up (ἕως οὗ ἐζυμώθη ὅλον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the yeast. Alternate translation: [until the yeast leavened it all]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
parable	story
kingdom of the heavens	{He said,} "Here is what God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
yeast	some yeast
was … leavened	The yeast made … swell up

Matthew 13:34

ULT	UST
All these things Jesus spoke in parables to the crowds, and he was speaking nothing to them without a parable,	Jesus used stories to teach all these things to the large groups of people {who were standing on the shore of the sea}. In fact, he taught them by using stories only.

ULT All these things Jesus spoke in parables to the crowds, and he was speaking nothing to them without a parable
UST Jesus used stories to teach all these things to the large groups of people {who were standing on the shore of the sea}. In fact, he taught them by using stories only (ταῦτα πάντα ἐλάλησεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς ἐν παραβολαῖς τοῖς ὄχλοις, καὶ χωρὶς παραβολῆς οὐδὲν ἐλάλει αὐτοῖς)

This sentence marks the end of Jesus' teaching by summarizing how Jesus taught the crowds. Use a natural form in your language for expressing the conclusion of a speech. Alternate translation: [Then Jesus stopped speaking to the crowds. He had spoken all those things in parables to them, and he was speaking nothing to them without a parable]

Support Reference: End of Story

ULT All these things
UST all these things
(ταῦτα πάντα)

The phrase All these things is referring to the parables which Jesus just taught. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [All those teachings]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he was speaking nothing to them without a parable
UST he taught them by using stories only (χωρὶς παραβολῆς οὐδὲν ἐλάλει αὐτοῖς)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this double negative that consists of the negative word nothing and the negative preposition without. Alternate translation: [he was only speaking to them with a parable]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

ULT	UST
parables a parable	used stories by using stories only

Matthew 13:35

ULT	UST
so that {what} had been said through the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, "I will open my mouth in parables. I will declare {what} has been hidden from the foundation of the world."	So, what God said by speaking through one of the prophets came true: "I will speak by using stories. I will reveal things that have been secret since {God} created everything."

ULT so that
UST So
(ὅπως)

Here, the phrase so that could introduce: (1) a result from Jesus teaching in parables. Alternate translation: [with the result that]; (2) a purpose for which Jesus was teaching in parables. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT {what} had been said through the prophet might be fulfilled
UST what God said by speaking through one of the prophets came true
(πληρωθῇ τὸ ῥηθὲν διὰ τοῦ προφήτου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the speaking, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [this might fulfill that which God said through the prophet]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT saying
(λέγοντος)

In Matthew's culture, use of the word "saying" was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case the Old Testament book of Psalms (see Psalm 78:2). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in the book of Psalms] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT I will open my mouth
UST I will speak
(ἀνοίξω & τὸ στόμα μου)

Here, the phrase I will open my mouth refers to speaking words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will talk]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT {what} has been hidden
UST things that have been secret (κεκρυμμένα)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [what God has hidden]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT from the foundation of the world
UST since {God} created everything
(ἀπὸ καταβολῆς κόσμου)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of foundation, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [from when God founded the world]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
prophet	one of the prophets
might be fulfilled	came true
parables	by using stories
the foundation	since {God} created everything
the foundation of the world	since {God} created everything of the world	since {God} created everything

Matthew 13:36

ULT	UST
Then, having left the crowds, he went into the house. And his disciples approached him, saying, "Explain to us the parable of the darnel of the field."	After {speaking these stories}, Jesus departed from the large groups of people and entered the house {where he was staying}. His apprentices went to him and asked, "Please teach us what the story about the weed plants in the field means."

ULT Then
UST After {speaking these stories}
(τότε)

Here, the word Then introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Then untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that] or [Next]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT the house
UST the house {where he was staying}
(τὴν οἰκίαν)

Matthew refers to the house that Jesus had been in before he taught in parables (see 13:1). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the house where he had been] or [the house in which he had taught previously]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST and asked
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT saying, "Explain to us the parable of the darnel of the field
UST and asked, "Please teach us what the story about the weed plants in the field means (λέγοντες, διασάφησον ἡμῖν τὴν παραβολὴν τῶν ζιζανίων τοῦ ἀγροῦ)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [asking him to explain to them the parable of the darnel of the field]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT Explain to us
UST Please teach us what … means (διασάφησον ἡμῖν)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [We ask that you explain to us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Explain
UST Please teach … what … means (διασάφησον)

Here, the command is singular because the disciples are speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT the parable of the darnel of the field
UST the story about the weed plants in the field
(τὴν παραβολὴν τῶν ζιζανίων τοῦ ἀγροῦ)

Here the disciples are using the possessive form to describe the parable that was about the darnel that grew in the field. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the parable concerning the darnel that grew in the field]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of the darnel
UST about the weed plants
(τῶν ζιζανίων)

Translate the word darnel as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [of the weeds] or [of the poisonous plants that look like wheat]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the house {where he was staying}
disciples	apprentices
parable	the story

Matthew 13:37

ULT	UST
Now answering, he said, "The one sowing the good seed is the Son of Man,	Jesus replied, "The farmer who planted some fertile grain seeds is like me, the Son of Man.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [And]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT The one sowing the good seed is the Son of Man
UST The farmer who planted some fertile grain seeds is like me, the Son of Man
(ὁ σπείρων τὸ καλὸν σπέρμα ἐστὶν ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Jesus speaks as if the one sowing were the Son of Man. He means that the sower represents or is like the Son of Man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or in another way. Alternate translation: [The one sowing the good seed represents the Son of Man] or [The one sowing the good seed should be interpreted as the Son of Man]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the good seed
UST some fertile grain seeds
(τὸ καλὸν σπέρμα)

Translate the phrase good seed as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [the seed that sprouts into productive plants]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT seed
UST some fertile grain seeds
(σπέρμα)

The word seed is singular in form, but it refers to many seeds as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [seeds]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT the Son of Man
> UST me, the Son of Man
> (ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sowing	The farmer who planted
good	some fertile grain seeds
seed	some fertile grain seeds
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man

Matthew 13:38

ULT	UST
and the field is the world, and the good seed—these are the sons of the kingdom. And the darnel are the sons of the evil one,	The field is like the world. The fertile grain seeds are like people who participate in God's kingdom. The weed plants are like people who obey Satan.

ULT the field is the world
UST The field is like the world
(ὁ & ἀγρός ἐστιν ὁ κόσμος)

Here Jesus speaks as if the field were the world. He means that the field represents or is like the world. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or in another way. Alternate translation: [the field represents the world] or [the field should be interpreted as the world]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the good seed—these are the sons of the kingdom
UST The fertile grain seeds are like people who participate in God's kingdom
(τὸ & καλὸν σπέρμα, οὗτοί εἰσιν οἱ υἱοὶ τῆς βασιλείας)

Here Jesus speaks as if the good seed were the sons of the kingdom. He means that the good seed represents or is like the sons of the kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or in another way. Alternate translation: [the good seed—these represent the sons of the kingdom] or [the good seed—these should be interpreted as the sons of the kingdom]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the good seed—these
UST The fertile grain seeds
(τὸ & καλὸν σπέρμα, οὗτοί)

Here, the word these refers directly back to the good seed. Jesus expresses the idea in this way to introduce the good seed and then explain what it means. If stating the topic and then referring back to it with the word these would be redundant in your language, you could omit the redundant information. Alternate translation: [the good seed]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

> ULT the good seed
> UST The fertile grain seeds
> (τὸ & καλὸν σπέρμα)

Translate the phrase good seed as you did in 13:37. Alternate translation: [the seed that sprouts into productive plants]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT seed
> UST fertile grain seeds
> (σπέρμα)

Here, the word seed is singular in form, but it refers to many seeds as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [seeds]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

> ULT the sons of the kingdom
> UST people who participate in God's kingdom
> (οἱ υἱοὶ τῆς βασιλείας)

The expression the sons of the kingdom refers to people who are part of God's kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people who are part of the kingdom] or [people who are in the kingdom]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the sons … the sons
> UST people who participate … people who obey
> (οἱ υἱοὶ)

Although the term sons is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [the children] or [the sons and daughters]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT the darnel are the sons of the evil one
UST The weed plants are like people who obey Satan
(τὰ & ζιζάνιά εἰσιν οἱ υἱοὶ τοῦ πονηροῦ)

Here Jesus speaks as if the darnel were the sons of the evil one. He means that the darnel represent or are like the sons of the evil one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or in another way. Alternate translation: [the darnel represent the sons of the evil one] or [the darnel should be interpreted as the sons of the evil one]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the darnel
UST The weed plants
(τὰ & ζιζάνιά)

Translate the word darnel as you did in 13:24. Alternate translation: [the weeds] or [the poisonous plants that look like wheat]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT the sons of the evil one
UST people who obey Satan
(οἱ υἱοὶ τοῦ πονηροῦ)

The expression the sons of the evil one refers to people who belong to or follow the evil one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people who belong to the evil one] or [people who follow the evil one]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT of the evil one
UST Satan
(τοῦ πονηροῦ)

Here, the phrase the evil one refers to the devil, Satan. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Express the idea as you did in 13:19. Alternate translation: [of the devil] or [of the evil one, Satan,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
world	world
good	fertile grain seeds

ULT	UST
seed	fertile grain seeds
of the kingdom	in God’s kingdom of the evil one	Satan

Matthew 13:39

ULT	UST
and the enemy having sowed them is the devil. And the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are angels.	The person who hated the farmer and planted the weed seeds is like the devil. The time when the workers begin to harvest {the grain} is like when this time period will end. The people who are harvesting are like angels.

ULT the enemy having sowed them is the devil
UST The person who hated the farmer and planted the weed seeds is like the devil
(ὁ & ἐχθρὸς, ὁ σπείρας αὐτά, ἐστιν ὁ διάβολος)

Here Jesus speaks as if the enemy having sowed them were the devil. He means that the enemy represents or is like the devil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or in another way. Alternate translation: [the enemy having sowed them represents the devil] or [the enemy having sowed them should be interpreted as the devil]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT them
UST the weed seeds
(αὐτά)

The pronoun them refers to the darnel. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to the plant more directly. Alternate translation: [the darnel] or [the weeds]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT And the harvest is the end of the age
UST The time when the workers begin to harvest {the grain} is like when this time period will end
(ὁ δὲ θερισμὸς συντέλεια αἰῶνός ἐστιν)

Here Jesus speaks as if the harvest were the end of the age. He means that the harvest represents or is like the end of the age. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or in another way. Alternate translation: [And the harvest represents the end of the age] or [the harvest should be interpreted as the end of the age]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the end of the age
UST when this time period will end
(συντέλεια αἰῶνός)

The phrase the end of the age refers to when the current time period will cease and a new age will begin. If your language has a way to refer to the end of the way things are now, you could use it here, or you could use a descriptive phrase. Alternate translation: [the end of the world] or [the moment in the future when the current way of doing things will cease]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT the reapers are angels
UST The people who are harvesting are like angels
(οἱ & θερισταὶ ἄγγελοί εἰσιν)

Here Jesus speaks as if the reapers were angels. He means that the reapers represent or are like angels. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or in another way. Alternate translation: [the reapers represent angels] or [the reapers should be interpreted as angels]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
enemy	person who hated the farmer
having sowed	and planted
devil	devil
harvest	time when the workers begin to harvest {the grain}
of the age	this time period
reapers	people who are harvesting
angels	angels

Matthew 13:40

ULT	UST
Therefore, just as the darnel are gathered and burned with fire, thus it will be at the end of the age.	The workers collect the weed plants and burn them. That is like what will happen when this time period ends.

ULT Therefore
(οὖν)

The word Therefore introduces an inference or conclusion based on how Jesus has interpreted the story about the darnel and the grain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an inference or conclusion, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [So then]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT just as the darnel are gathered and burned with fire, thus it will be at the end of the age
UST The workers collect the weed plants and burn them. That is like what will happen when this time period ends (ὥσπερ & συλλέγεται τὰ ζιζάνια καὶ πυρὶ κατακαίεται, οὕτως ἔσται ἐν τῇ συντελείᾳ τοῦ αἰῶνος)

Jesus compares how the darnel are gathered and burned with fire to what will happen at the end of the age. Jesus explains this comparison in the following verses, so you do not need to explain it here. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that clearly compares the end of the age with how the darnel are gathered and burned with fire. Alternate translation: [think about how the darnel are gathered and burned with fire. That is what the end of the age will be like]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT the darnel are gathered and burned with fire
UST The workers collect the weed plants and burn them
(συλλέγεται τὰ ζιζάνια καὶ πυρὶ κατακαίεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the workers who were harvesting. Alternate translation: [the ones who are harvesting gather the darnel and burn them with fire]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT at the end of the age
> UST when this time period ends
> (ἐν τῇ συντελείᾳ τοῦ αἰῶνος)

See how you translated the phrase the end of the age in 13:39. Alternate translation: [during the end of the world] or [at the moment in the future when the current way of doing things will cease]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the age	this time period

Matthew 13:41

ULT	UST
The Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will gather from his kingdom all the stumbling blocks and the ones doing lawlessness.	I, the Son of Man, will have my angels collect everything that causes people to sin and everyone who does what is wrong. They will remove those things and people from my kingdom.

ULT The Son of Man will send out his angels … his kingdom
UST I, the Son of Man, will have my angels … my kingdom
(ἀποστελεῖ ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου τοὺς ἀγγέλους αὐτοῦ & τῆς βασιλείας αὐτοῦ)

Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, will send out my angels … my kingdom]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT they will gather from his kingdom
UST collect … They will remove those things and people from my kingdom (συλλέξουσιν ἐκ τῆς βασιλείας αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus implies that the angels will gather these things and people and remove them from his kingdom. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they will gather and take out of his kingdom]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT all the stumbling blocks
UST everything that causes people to sin
(πάντα τὰ σκάνδαλα)

Here Jesus speaks of things that cause people to sin as if they were stumbling blocks. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all the things that lead people to disobey]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the stumbling blocks
UST that causes people to sin
(τὰ σκάνδαλα)

Here, the phrase stumbling blocks could refer to: (1) things that cause people to stumble. Alternate translation: [the things that cause people to stumble]; (2) people who cause others to stumble. Alternate translation: [the ones who cause others to stumble]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the ones doing lawlessness
UST everyone who does what is wrong
(τοὺς ποιοῦντας τὴν ἀνομίαν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of lawlessness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the ones who are lawless] or [the ones doing what is lawless]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man angels	my angels
kingdom	my kingdom
lawlessness	what is wrong

Matthew 13:42

ULT	UST
And they will throw them into the furnace of fire, where there will be weeping and grinding of the teeth.	Then, the angels will cast those things and people into hell, which is like a burning oven. There people will cry and sorrowfully grind their teeth.

ULT they will throw them
UST the angels will cast those things and people (βαλοῦσιν αὐτοὺς)

The pronoun they refers to the angels. The pronoun them refers to the people and things that the angels gathered (see 13:41). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people and things more directly. Alternate translation: [those angels will throw the people and things that they gathered]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT the furnace of fire
UST hell, which is like a burning oven
(τὴν κάμινον τοῦ πυρός)

Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a furnace that is full of fire. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the fiery furnace] or [the furnace blazing with fire]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the furnace of fire
UST hell, which is like a burning oven
(τὴν κάμινον τοῦ πυρός)

The phrase the furnace of fire refers to hell and describes it as a very unpleasant place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [hell, which is as hot as a furnace of fire] or [hell]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT grinding of the teeth
UST sorrowfully grind their teeth
(ὁ βρυγμὸς τῶν ὀδόντων)

In Jesus' culture, people would grind their teeth when they experienced anger, grief, and pain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to an action with comparable meaning or state the meaning of this action plainly. See how you translated this phrase in 8:12. Alternate translation: [beating of breasts] or [grinding of the teeth in anger and pain]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
furnace	hell, which is like a burning oven

Matthew 13:43

ULT	UST
Then the righteous will shine as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. The one having ears, let him hear.	After that, the people who did what was right will live in God their Father's kingdom. They will be as glorious as the sun when it shines. You should think carefully about what you just heard me say!

ULT the righteous
UST the people who did what was right
(οἱ δίκαιοι)

Jesus is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean righteous people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [people who are righteous]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT will shine
UST They will be as glorious (ἐκλάμψουσιν)

Jesus speaks of how great and glorious the righteous will be by describing them as if they will shine. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will have glory, as if they were shining] or [will have glory]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT as the sun
UST as the sun when it shines
(ὡς ὁ ἥλιος)

Jesus compares the way in which the righteous will shine to how the sun shines. He means that both will shine very brightly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning of the comparison more explicitly. Alternate translation: [as brightly as the sun shines]

Support Reference: Simile

> ULT of their Father
> UST God their Father's > (τοῦ Πατρὸς αὐτῶν)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [of God, who is their Father]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT The one having ears let him hear
> UST You should think carefully about what you just heard me say
> (ὁ ἔχων ὦτα, ἀκουέτω)

See how you translated the identical sentence in 13:9.

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
righteous	the people who did what was right kingdom of … Father	God their Father's kingdom of … Father	God their Father's

Matthew 13:44

ULT	UST
The kingdom of the heavens is like a treasure hidden in a field, which, having found, a man hid. And from his joy, he goes and sells everything, as much as he has, and buys that field.	Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: A man discovered a secret treasure in a field. He was very happy, but he put the treasure back into its secret place. He went home and sold everything that he owned. Then, he bought the field {so that he could have the treasure in it}.

ULT The kingdom of the heavens is like a treasure
UST Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like … a … treasure
(ὁμοία ἐστὶν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν θησαυρῷ)

To teach the disciples, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: the kingdom of the heavens is like a treasure]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT hidden
UST secret
(κεκρυμμένῳ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [that someone had hidden]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT which, having found, a man hid. And from his joy, he goes and sells everything, as much as he has, and buys that field
> UST A man discovered … He was very happy, but he put the treasure back into its secret place. He went home and sold everything that he owned. Then, he bought the field {so that he could have the treasure in it}
> (ὃν εὑρὼν ἄνθρωπος ἔκρυψεν, καὶ ἀπὸ τῆς χαρᾶς αὐτοῦ ὑπάγει καὶ πωλεῖ πάντα ὅσα ἔχει, καὶ ἀγοράζει τὸν ἀγρὸν ἐκεῖνον)

Here Jesus tells the story partly in the past tense and partly in the present tense. This was a natural way to tell the story in his language. Consider what tense your language might use to tell this kind of story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the same tense throughout the story. Alternate translation: [which, finding, a man hides. And from his joy, he goes and sells everything, as much as he has, and buys that field]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT which, having found, a man hid
> UST A man discovered … he put the treasure back into its secret place > (ὃν εὑρὼν ἄνθρωπος ἔκρυψεν)

Here Jesus means that the man found the treasure, but then he hid it again so that no one else would find it before he could buy the field. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [which a man found and then hid again]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT from his joy, he goes
> UST He was very happy … He went home
> (ἀπὸ τῆς χαρᾶς αὐτοῦ ὑπάγει)

Here Jesus could mean that: (1) the man sold everything and bought the field because of his joy. Alternate translation: [because of his joy, he goes]; (2) the man sold everything and bought the field while he experienced joy. Alternate translation: [joyfully, he goes]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT from his joy
> UST He was very happy
> (ἀπὸ τῆς χαρᾶς αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of joy, you could express the same idea in another way. Make sure that your translation fits with the interpretation you chose in the previous note. Alternate translation: [because of how joyful he was]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT everything, as much as he has
> UST everything that he owned > (πάντα ὅσα ἔχει)

The expression everything, as much as he has contains extra information that would be unnatural to express in some languages. If this is true of your language, you could shorten the expression. Alternate translation: [everything that he has]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

> ULT buys that field
> UST he bought the field {so that he could have the treasure in it}
> (ἀγοράζει τὸν ἀγρὸν ἐκεῖνον)

Here Jesus implies that the man buys that field so that he can also own the treasure. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [buys that field and the treasure in it] or [buys that field so he can possess the treasure]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kingdom	Here is what God's … kingdom
kingdom of the heavens	Here is what God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
joy	He was very happy

Matthew 13:45

ULT	UST
Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a man, a merchant, seeking fine pearls.	Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is also like: a trader wanted some valuable pearls.

> ULT Again
> UST also
> (πάλιν)

Here, the word Again introduces another parable or short story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces another story, or you could leave Again untranslated. Alternate translation: [Also] or [Even further]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

> ULT the kingdom of the heavens is like a man
> UST Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is … like: a trader
> (ὁμοία ἐστὶν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν ἀνθρώπῳ)

To teach the disciples, Jesus offers another story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [listen to this story: the kingdom of the heavens is like a man]

Support Reference: Parables

> ULT a man, a merchant, seeking
> UST a trader wanted
> (ἀνθρώπῳ ἐμπόρῳ ζητοῦντι)

A merchant is a trader who buys merchandise and sells it to people. If your readers would not be familiar with this occupation, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a man, a shopkeeper, seeking] or [a man, a seller of goods, who was seeking]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT seeking fine pearls
UST wanted some valuable pearls
(ζητοῦντι καλοὺς μαργαρίτας)

Jesus implies that the man is seeking fine pearls because he wants to buy them. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [seeking to buy fine pearls]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT fine pearls
UST some valuable pearls
(καλοὺς μαργαρίτας)

The word pearls refers to beautiful and valuable mineral balls that people use as jewelry. When pearls are fine, they are particularly beautiful and valuable. If your readers would not be familiar with pearls, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. See how you translated pearls in 7:6. Alternate translation: [beautiful jewelry] or [very valuable stones]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kingdom of the heavens	Here is what God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly seeking	wanted
fine	valuable

Matthew 13:46

ULT	UST
And having found one very valuable pearl, having gone away, he sold everything, as much as he had, and bought it.	Eventually, he saw a very expensive pearl. He went home and sold everything that he owned. Then, he bought that pearl.

ULT one very valuable pearl
UST a very expensive pearl
(ἕνα πολύτιμον μαργαρίτην)

See how you translated “pearls” in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [one piece of very valuable jewelry] or [one very valuable stone]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT everything, as much as he had, and UST everything that he owned. Then (πάντα ὅσα εἶχεν, καὶ)

The expression everything, as much as he had contains extra information that would be unnatural to express in some languages. If this is true of your language, you could shorten the expression. See how you translated the similar phrase in 13:44. Alternate translation: [everything that he had and]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

Matthew 13:47

ULT	UST
Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a net having been cast into the sea, and having gathered from every kind,	Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is also like: people used a net to catch fish in a lake. They caught many kinds of fish.

ULT Again
UST also
(πάλιν)

Here, the word Again introduces another parable or short story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces another story, or you could leave Again untranslated. See how you translated this word in 13:45. Alternate translation: [Also] or [Even further]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the kingdom of the heavens is like a net
UST Here is what God's heavenly kingdom is … like … a net
(ὁμοία ἐστὶν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν σαγήνῃ)

To teach the disciples, Jesus offers another story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [listen to this story: the kingdom of the heavens is like a net]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT a net
UST a net
(σαγήνῃ)

Some cultures use a net to catch fish. A net is a mesh or network of cords or ropes which fishermen throw into the water to trap many fish at once. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to how people catch many fish at once in your culture, or you could use a general phrase. See how you translated the similar word in 4:18. Alternate translation: [a fish trap] or [a fishing tool]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT having been cast
> UST people used … to catch fish
> (βληθείσῃ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject or refer to people who fish. Alternate translation: [that fishermen cast]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT having gathered from every kind
> UST They caught many kinds of fish
> (ἐκ παντὸς γένους συναγαγούσῃ)

Here Jesus means that every kind of fish was trapped in the net. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having collected every kind of fish] or [having caught some fish of every kind]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT every kind
> UST many kinds of fish
> (παντὸς γένους)

Jesus says every kind here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [very many kinds]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kingdom of the heavens	Here is what God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 13:48

ULT	UST
which, when it was filled, having dragged onto the beach, and having sat down, they gathered the good things into containers, but the rotten things they threw out.	When the net was full {of fish}, the people pulled it onto the shore. They sat down {to sort through the fish that they had caught}. They put the edible fish into buckets and threw away the useless fish.

ULT it was filled
UST was full {of fish}
(ἐπληρώθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was fish. Alternate translation: [fish filled it up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the beach
UST the shore
(τὸν αἰγιαλὸν)

See how you translated beach in 13:2. Alternate translation: [the edge of the sea] or [the sandy area by the water]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT having sat down
UST They sat down {to sort through the fish that they had caught} (καθίσαντες)

Here Jesus implies that the people sat down to sort through the fish to find the useful ones. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having sat down to separate the fish]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they gathered
UST They put (συνέλεξαν)

The pronoun they refers to the fishermen who cast the net into the sea. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the fishermen gathered]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT the good things … the rotten things
UST the edible fish … the useless fish
(τὰ καλὰ & τὰ & σαπρὰ)

Here Jesus is referring to good fish and rotten fish. The good fish are good for eating, while the rotten fish are not good for eating. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the useful fish … the worthless fish] or [the fish that were good to eat … the fish that were not good to eat]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good things	edible fish
rotten things	useless fish

Matthew 13:49

ULT	UST
Thus it will be at the end of the age: The angels will go out and will separate the wicked from among the righteous,	That is like what will happen when this time period ends. Angels will come, and they will divide people who do what is wrong from people who do what is right.

ULT at the end of the age
UST when this time period ends
(ἐν τῇ συντελείᾳ τοῦ αἰῶνος)

See how you translated the phrase the end of the age in 13:39. Alternate translation: [during the end of the world] or [at the moment in the future when the current way of doing things will cease]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT The angels will go out
UST Angels will come
(ἐξελεύσονται οἱ ἄγγελοι)

Jesus does not say where the angels go out from. Jesus and his audience would have known that the angels went out from God's presence in heaven. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [The angels will go out from God's presence] or [The angels will go out from heaven]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT will go out
UST will come (ἐξελεύσονται)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of go. Alternate translation: [will come out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT the wicked … the righteous
> UST people who do what is wrong … people who do what is right
> (τοὺς πονηροὺς & τῶν δικαίων)

Jesus is using the adjectives wicked and righteous as nouns to mean people who are wicked or righteous. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [the wicked people … the righteous people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the age	this time period
angels	Angels
wicked	people who do what is wrong righteous	people who do what is right

Matthew 13:50

ULT	UST
and they will throw them into the furnace of fire, where there will be weeping and grinding of the teeth.	Then, the angels will cast the people who do what is wrong into hell, which is like a burning oven. There they will cry and sorrowfully grind their teeth.

ULT and they will throw them into the furnace of fire, where there will be weeping and grinding of the teeth

UST Then, the angels will cast the people who do what is wrong into hell, which is like a burning oven. There they will cry and sorrowfully grind their teeth

(καὶ βαλοῦσιν αὐτοὺς εἰς τὴν κάμινον τοῦ πυρός. ἐκεῖ ἔσται ὁ κλαυθμὸς καὶ ὁ βρυγμὸς τῶν ὀδόντων)

This verse is identical to 13:42, so express the idea as you did there. Make sure that your translation still fits the context of this verse.

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
furnace	hell, which is like a burning oven

Matthew 13:51

ULT	UST
Have you understood all these things?" They say to him, "Yes."	Do you know what all these things {that I have taught you} mean?" The apprentices answered, "Yes{, we know what they mean}."

ULT all these things
UST all these things {that I have taught you}
(ταῦτα πάντα)

Here Jesus refers to what he has been teaching the disciples (see 13:37–50). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [all these things I have told you] or [everything I have been teaching you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT They say to him, "Yes
UST The apprentices answered, "Yes{, we know what they mean} (λέγουσιν αὐτῷ, ναί)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [They say to him that they do.]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT They say
UST The apprentices answered
(λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [They said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Have you understood	Do you know what … mean

Matthew 13:52

ULT	UST
Now he said to them, "For this reason, every scribe having been discipled for the kingdom of the heavens is like a man, the master of the house, who brings forth new and old from his treasure."	Jesus responded, "So then, consider teachers whose leader has trained them to participate in God's heavenly kingdom. They are like people who manage households. {That is because} both the teachers and the people who manage households offer old and new things that are valuable."

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT For this reason
UST So then
(διὰ τοῦτο)

Here, the phrase For this reason could introduce: (1) a general conclusion to Jesus' teaching in this chapter. Alternate translation: [Given all that I have said]; (2) an inference from what the disciples said about how they understood what Jesus had taught them. Alternate translation: [Because you understand] or [Therefore]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT scribe
UST consider teachers
(γραμματεὺς)

The word scribe usually refers to teachers of the Jewish law. Here it refers more generally to anyone who is an expert in a specific subject and can teach it. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [educated person] or [expert]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having been discipled
> UST whose leader has trained them
> (μαθητευθεὶς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could refer generally to the scribe's teacher or leader. Alternate translation: [whose teacher has disciplined him or her]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT for the kingdom of the heavens
> UST to participate in God's heavenly kingdom
> (τῇ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

Here, the phrase discipled for the kingdom of the heavens indicates that the scribes are part of the kingdom of the heavens and have knowledge about the kingdom of the heavens. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [concerning the kingdom of the heavens] or [as part of the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT is like a man, the master of the house, who brings forth new and old from his treasure
> UST They are like people who manage households. {That is because} both the teachers and the people who manage households offer old and new things that are valuable > (ὅμοιός ἐστιν ἀνθρώπῳ οἰκοδεσπότῃ, ὅστις ἐκβάλλει ἐκ τοῦ θησαυροῦ αὐτοῦ καινὰ καὶ παλαιά)

Here, Jesus is comparing the scribe and the master of the house because they both use new and old things to help other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this comparison more explicitly. Alternate translation: [is like a man, the master of the house, who brings forth new and old goods from his treasure, just as a scribe speaks both old and new teachings]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT new and old
UST old and new things
(καινὰ καὶ παλαιά)

Jesus is using the adjectives new and old as nouns to mean things that are new and old. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [new things and old things]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT his treasure
UST that are valuable
(τοῦ θησαυροῦ αὐτοῦ)

Here, just as in 12:35, the word treasure could refer to: (1) a place where treasures are kept or stored. Alternate translation: [his treasury] or [his storehouse]; (2) the treasures that the person has. Alternate translation: [his treasures]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
scribe	consider teachers
having been discipled	whose leader has trained them
of the heavens	heavenly
for … kingdom of the heavens	to participate in God's heavenly kingdom

Matthew 13:53

ULT	UST
And it happened that when Jesus finished these parables, he departed from there.	So, Jesus completed telling these stories. Then, he left that place.

ULT And it happened that when Jesus finished these parables, he departed from there
UST So, Jesus completed telling these stories. Then, he left that place (καὶ ἐγένετο ὅτε ἐτέλεσεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς τὰς παραβολὰς ταύτας, μετῆρεν ἐκεῖθεν)

This sentence marks the end of Jesus' teaching by stating that Jesus finished speaking in parables and then describing what he did next. Use the natural form in your language for expressing the conclusion of a story. Alternate translation: [At that time, Jesus finished speaking all those parables. Then, he departed from there]

Support Reference: End of Story

ULT from there
UST that place
(ἐκεῖθεν)

Here, the word there refers to the "house" (see 13:36) where Jesus was when he gave to his disciples the instructions and parables that are quoted in the previous verses. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from the house where he had been staying] or [from where he had been]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
parables	stories

Matthew 13:54

ULT	UST
And having come to his hometown, he was teaching them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished and said, "From where to this one {is} this wisdom and these miracles?	Then Jesus traveled to {the city of Nazareth,} where he had grown up. He instructed the people there when they gathered in the Jewish meeting place. What he said impressed them, and they said {to each other}, "We do not know how this man became so wise and powerful.

ULT having come
UST Jesus traveled
(ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT his hometown
UST {the city of Nazareth,} where he had grown up (τὴν πατρίδα αὐτοῦ)

The phrase his hometown refers to the town of Nazareth, where Jesus grew up. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [his hometown, Nazareth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT them in their … they
UST the people there when they gathered in the Jewish meeting place … them (αὐτοὺς ἐν & αὐτῶν & αὐτοὺς)

The pronouns them, their, and they refer to the people who were living in Jesus' hometown. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the people living there in their … they]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT they were astonished and said
> UST What he said impressed them, and they said {to each other}
> (ἐκπλήσσεσθαι αὐτοὺς καὶ λέγειν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus and what he said and did. Alternate translation: [he astonished them, and they said] or [what he said astonished them, and they said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT From where to this one {is} this wisdom and these miracles
> UST We do not know how this man became so wise and powerful > (πόθεν τούτῳ ἡ σοφία αὕτη καὶ αἱ δυνάμεις)

The people in Jesus' hometown are using the question form to express their surprise that Jesus has wisdom and can do miracles. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [We are surprised that this one has this wisdom and these miracles.] or [We have no idea where to this one is this wisdom and these miracles!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT From where to this one {is} this wisdom
> UST We do not know how this man became so wise
> (πόθεν τούτῳ ἡ σοφία αὕτη)

Here, the phrase From where to this one asks about the source from which Jesus received his wisdom and the power to do miracles. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [What is the source of this wisdom] or [How did he receive this wisdom]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT {is} this wisdom
> UST became so wise
> (ἡ σοφία αὕτη)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of wisdom, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is this wise teaching]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
synagogue	the Jewish meeting place is … wisdom	became so wise
miracles	powerful

Matthew 13:55

ULT	UST
Is not this the son of the carpenter? Is not his mother called Mary, and his brothers, James and Joseph and Simon and Judas?	He is just the woodworker's son. His mother's name is Mary, and his {younger} brothers are James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas.

ULT Is not this the son of the carpenter? Is not his mother called Mary, and his brothers, James and Joseph and Simon and Judas

UST He is just the woodworker's son. His mother's name is Mary, and his {younger} brothers are James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas

(οὐχ οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ τοῦ τέκτονος υἱός? οὐχ ἡ μήτηρ αὐτοῦ λέγεται Μαριὰμ, καὶ οἱ ἀδελφοὶ αὐτοῦ, Ἰάκωβος, καὶ Ἰωσὴφ, καὶ Σίμων, καὶ Ἰούδας)

The people are using the question form to show that they know Jesus' family. They mean that Jesus is just an ordinary person. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate these questions as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [He is just the son of a carpenter. We know his mother Mary, and his brothers James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas.] or [He is only the son of the carpenter! His mother is called Mary, and his brothers, James and Joseph and Simon and Judas!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT of the carpenter

UST the woodworker's

(τοῦ τέκτονος)

The word carpenter refers to someone who builds things with wood. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of worker, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [of the man who builds with wood] or [of the construction worker]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT Is not his mother called
UST His mother's name is (οὐχ ἡ μήτηρ αὐτοῦ λέγεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [Do they not call his mother] or [Is not the name of his mother]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT and his brothers, James
UST and his {younger} brothers are James (καὶ οἱ ἀδελφοὶ αὐτοῦ, Ἰάκωβος)

The people are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and are not his brothers called James]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT his brothers
UST his {younger} brothers
(οἱ ἀδελφοὶ αὐτοῦ)

These were Jesus' younger brothers. They were sons of Mary and Joseph. Since the Father of Jesus was God, and their father was Joseph, they were actually his half-brothers. That detail is not normally translated, but if your language has a specific word for "younger brother," you could use it here.

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT Joseph … Simon … Judas
UST Joseph, Simon … Judas
(Ἰωσὴφ & Σίμων & Ἰούδας)

The words Joseph, Simon, and Judas are the names of men.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Is … called	name is
Mary	Mary

ULT	UST
James	are James

Matthew 13:56

ULT	UST
And are not all his sisters with us? From where, therefore, to this one {are} all these things?"	All his sisters live here in our town. So, we do not know how this man learned to do these things."

ULT are not all his sisters with us
UST All his sisters live here in our town
(αἱ ἀδελφαὶ αὐτοῦ οὐχὶ πᾶσαι πρὸς ἡμᾶς εἰσιν)

The people are using the question form to show that they know Jesus' family. They mean that Jesus is just an ordinary person. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this question as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [all his sisters are with us.] or [we all know that all his sisters are with us!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT From where, therefore, to this one {are} all these things
UST So, we do not know how this man learned to do these things
(πόθεν οὖν τούτῳ ταῦτα πάντα)

The people are using the question form to express their surprise that Jesus can do all these things. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [We are surprised, therefore that this one has all these things.] or [We have no idea, therefore, where to this one are all these things!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT From where, therefore, to this one {are} all these things
UST So, we do not know how this man learned to do these things
(πόθεν οὖν τούτῳ ταῦτα πάντα)

Here, the phrase From where, therefore, to this one asks about the source from which Jesus received the ability to do all these things. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [What is the source, therefore, of all these things] or [How, therefore, did he receive all these things]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT From where, therefore, to this one
> UST So, we do not know how this man learned to do > (πόθεν οὖν τούτῳ)

Here, the word therefore introduces an inference based on the fact that the people in Jesus' hometown know his family. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of inference, or you could leave therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [So then, from where to this one] or [Because of that, from where to this one]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT {are} all these things
> UST these things
> (ταῦτα πάντα)

Here, the phrase all these things refers to Jesus' wisdom and ability to do miracles, as mentioned in the previous verse (13:55). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [are his wisdom and miracles]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 13:57

ULT	UST
And they were being caused to stumble on him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his house."	These people rejected Jesus. So, Jesus told them, "The only ones who do not respect people who speak for God are those from where they grew up and their own families."

ULT they were being caused to stumble on him
UST These people rejected Jesus
(ἐσκανδαλίζοντο ἐν αὐτῷ)

Matthew speaks as if Jesus were a lump or rock that the people in Jesus' hometown were stumbling on. He means that these people were offended by him and rejected him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they were offended by him] or [they did not listen to him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT they were being caused to stumble on him
UST These people rejected Jesus
(ἐσκανδαλίζοντο ἐν αὐτῷ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [they were stumbling on him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT is not without honor
UST who do not respect
(οὐκ ἔστιν & ἄτιμος)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this double negative that consists of the negative particle not and the negative preposition without. Alternate translation: [has honor] or [is always honored]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT without honor
UST not respect
(ἄτιμος)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of honor, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [dishonored] or [treated dishonorably]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT A prophet is not without honor except
UST The only ones who do not respect people who speak for God
(οὐκ ἔστιν προφήτης ἄτιμος, εἰ μὴ)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [A prophet is only without honor]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT in his house
UST their own families
(ἐν τῇ οἰκίᾳ αὐτοῦ)

Jesus uses the phrase in his house to refer to his closest relatives, like his father, mother, or siblings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [among his closest family members] or [among his father, mother, or siblings]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
A prophet	people who speak for God house	their own families

Matthew 13:58

ULT	UST
And he did not do many miracles there, because of their unbelief.	Since the people did not trust in him, Jesus did very few powerful things in that place.

ULT he did not do many miracles there, because of their unbelief
UST Since the people did not trust in him, Jesus did very few powerful things in that place
(οὐκ ἐποίησεν ἐκεῖ δυνάμεις πολλὰς, διὰ τὴν ἀπιστίαν αὐτῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases since the second phrase gives the reason for the result that the first phrase describes. Alternate translation: [because of their unbelief, he did not do many miracles there]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT because of their unbelief
UST Since the people did not trust in him
(διὰ τὴν ἀπιστίαν αὐτῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of unbelief, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because they did not believe]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
miracles	powerful things
unbelief	did not trust in him

Matthew 14

Matthew 14 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Further opposition to Jesus and misunderstanding of the kingdom of God (13:53–17:27)
    - Herod hears about Jesus (14:1–2)
    - Flashback: Herod executes John the Baptist (14:3–12)
    - Jesus feeds 5,000 men (14:13–21)
    - Jesus walks on water (14:22–33)
    - Jesus heals people in the region of Gennesaret (14:34–36)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Herod and Herodias

The man named “Herod the tetrarch” (14:1) was a son of King Herod, the man mentioned in 2:1–22. Herod the tetrarch ruled over the area to the northwest of the Sea of Galilee, which is where Jesus spent much of his time of ministry. Herodias was married to Herod’s brother Philip, and the two of them had a daughter. However, Herodias divorced Philip and married Herod, who had also divorced his previous wife. Since the Jewish law condemned anyone who married his brother’s wife while his brother was still alive (see Leviticus 20:21), John the Baptist rebuked Herod for doing this. It was in response to this rebuke that Herod had John the Baptist put in prison and eventually executed. Make sure that your translation accurately refers to the relationships between Herod, Herodias, and Herodias’ daughter.

The miracle of multiplying food

In 14:13–21, Matthew tells a story in which Jesus provides 5,000 men and even more women and children with food. All these people were in a place where no people lived, and all the food that Jesus and his disciples had were five loaves of bread and two fish. Despite that, Jesus used the five loaves of bread and the two fish to feed everyone who was there. Matthew does not tell us exactly how Jesus did this, but he does say that there were more leftovers than what they started with. Your translation should not explain how Jesus multiplied the food, but it should be clear that he did a miracle.

The miracle of walking on water

In 14:22–33, Matthew tells a story in which Jesus walks on top of the Sea of Galilee, even though there was a storm. Later, Jesus allows Peter to walk briefly on the water, and when Jesus and Peter climb into the boat that the rest of the disciples were in, the storm miraculously stops. Your translation should not explain exactly how Jesus or Peter walked on the water, but it should be clear that Jesus walking on the water, Peter walking on the water, and the storm stopping were all miracles.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The flashback to John's death

In this chapter, Matthew includes a story that happened before the stories that appear before and after it in his narrative. The previous chapter includes much of Jesus' teaching, and this chapter begins by describing Herod Antipas' response to Jesus (see 14:1–2). Then, to explain what Herod said about Jesus, Matthew includes a story that happened earlier. This type of storytelling is called a flashback. Here, the flashback tells about how John the Baptist died (see 14:3–12). In 14:13, Matthew returns to the main narrative and tells what happened after the events recorded in chapter 13 and 14:1–2. While the story that begins in 14:13 is linked to the flashback by the phrase "Now having heard," Matthew does not indicate how long it took for Jesus to hear about John's death from John's disciples. So, you should use a form that shows your readers that 14:3–12 is a flashback that describes something that happened previously, and 14:13 continues with the main narrative. (See: Background Information)

Singular and plural forms of “you”

Most of the forms of “you” in this chapter appear in dialogue between characters. Because of this, most forms of “you” in this chapter are singular. You should assume forms of “you” are singular unless a note specifies that the form is plural. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular)

Matthew 14:1

ULT	UST
At that time, Herod the tetrarch heard the news about Jesus.	While Jesus was teaching and doing powerful things, King Herod Antipas{, the ruler over the region of Galilee,} learned what he was doing.

ULT At that time
UST While Jesus was teaching and doing powerful things
(ἐν ἐκείνῳ τῷ καιρῷ)

Here, the phrase At that time introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event. Alternate translation: [While all those things were happening] or [During this period]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
time	While Jesus was teaching and doing powerful things
Herod	Herod Antipas{, the ruler over the region of Galilee … }
tetrarch	King
about Jesus	what he was doing

Matthew 14:2

ULT	UST
And he said to his servants, "This is John the Baptist. He has been raised from the dead, and because of this the powers work in him."	He told his attendants, "This man must be John the Baptizer. God has made him alive again, and that is why he does these powerful things."

> ULT This
> UST This man
> (οὗτός)

The pronoun This refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to him more directly. Alternate translation: [This person] or [This Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT He has been raised
> UST God has made him alive again
> (αὐτὸς ἠγέρθη)

Here, the word raised refers to someone who died coming back to life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable idiom or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He has been restored to life]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT He has been raised
> UST God has made him alive again
> (αὐτὸς ἠγέρθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, Herod could be implying that: (1) God did it. Alternate translation: [God has raised him]; (2) John himself did it. Alternate translation: [He has risen]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT from the dead
UST God has made … alive again
(ἀπὸ τῶν νεκρῶν)

Paul is using the adjective dead as a noun in order to refer to all people who are dead. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this with a noun phrase. Alternate translation: [from among the dead people] or [from the corpses]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT because of this
UST that is why
(διὰ τοῦτο)

Here, the phrase because of this introduces the result of what Herod thinks about John being raised from the dead. Herod thinks that Jesus has powers because he has already been raised from the dead. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [because he has been raised,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the powers work in him
UST he does these powerful things
(αἱ δυνάμεις ἐνεργοῦσιν ἐν αὐτῷ)

Here Herod speaks as if the powers were people that could work in Jesus. He means that Jesus is powerful and can do powerful things. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he has his powers] or [he is very powerful]

Support Reference: Personification

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to … servants	attendants
John the Baptist	John the Baptizer

Matthew 14:3

ULT	UST
For Herod, having seized John, bound him and put him in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip.	{Herod said that because John had already died.} Here is how that happened: Herod married Herodias, who had previously been the wife of Herod's brother Philip. John the Baptizer told Herod, "Our law forbids you to marry Herodias{, your sister-in-law}." So, Herod told his soldiers to arrest John. They tied him up and put him in jail. (vv3-4)

ULT For Herod, having seized John, bound him and put him in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip … For John was saying to him, "It is not lawful for you to have her

UST {Herod said that because John had already died.} Here is how that happened: Herod married Herodias, who had previously been the wife of Herod's brother Philip. John the Baptizer … So, Herod told his soldiers to arrest John. They tied him up and put him in jail … {Herod said that because John had already died.} Here is how that happened … John the Baptizer told Herod, "Our law forbids you to marry Herodias{, your sister-in-law} … Herod

(ὁ γὰρ Ἡρῴδης κρατήσας τὸν Ἰωάννην, ἔδησεν αὐτὸν καὶ ἐν φυλακῇ ἀπέθετο, διὰ Ἡρῳδιάδα, τὴν γυναῖκα Φιλίππου, τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ αὐτοῦ. ἔλεγεν γὰρ αὐτῷ ὁ Ἰωάννης, οὐκ ἔξεστίν σοι ἔχειν αὐτήν) (14:3-4)

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine 14:3 and 14:4 into a verse bridge, as UST does, in order to include what John said to Herod before stating what Herod did in response. Alternate translation: [For John was saying to Herod, "It is not lawful for you to have Herodias, the wife of your brother Philip." So, because of Herodias, Herod, having seized John, bound him and put him in prison.]

Support Reference: Verse Bridges

ULT For

UST {Herod said that because John had already died.} Here is how that happened

(γὰρ)

The word For introduces background information that tells about how John died. This background information continues in 14:4–12. In your translation, present this information in a way that makes it clear that this is background information, not the next event in the story. Alternate translation: [Now sometime earlier,] or [By this time, John had already died. Here is what happened:]

Support Reference: Background Information

ULT Herod, having seized John, bound him and put him in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip
UST Herod married Herodias, who had previously been the wife of Herod's brother Philip. John the Baptizer … So, Herod told his soldiers to arrest John. They tied him up and put him in jail
(ὁ & Ἡρῴδης κρατήσας τὸν Ἰωάννην, ἔδησεν αὐτὸν καὶ ἐν φυλακῇ ἀπέθετο, διὰ Ἡρῳδιάδα, τὴν γυναῖκα Φιλίππου, τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ αὐτοῦ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these elements, since the second half of the verse gives the reason for the result that the first half of the verse describes. Alternate translation: [Because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip, Herod, having seized John, bound him and put him in prison]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Herod, having seized John, bound him and put him in prison
UST John the Baptizer … Herod told his soldiers to arrest John. They tied him up and put him in jail
(ὁ & Ἡρῴδης κρατήσας τὸν Ἰωάννην, ἔδησεν αὐτὸν καὶ ἐν φυλακῇ ἀπέθετο)

Matthew implies that Herod sent his soldiers to do these things. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Herod sent his soldiers to seize John, bind him, and put him in prison]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip
UST Herod married Herodias, who had previously been the wife of Herod's brother Philip … So (διὰ Ἡρῳδιάδα, τὴν γυναῖκα Φιλίππου, τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ αὐτοῦ)

Matthew implies that Herod married Herodias after she divorced Philip, Herod's brother. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [because of Herodias, whom he married after she divorced his brother Philip]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip UST Herod married Herodias, who had previously been the wife of Herod's brother Philip (Ἡρῳδιάδα, τὴν γυναῖκα Φιλίππου, τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ αὐτοῦ)

Matthew introduces Herodias as a new participant in the story. If your language has its own way of introducing new participants, you could use it here in your translation. Alternate translation: [a woman named Herodias, who was the wife of his brother Philip]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT of … Philip
UST of … Philip (Φιλίππου)

The word Philip is the name of a man.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT his brother
UST Herod's brother
(τοῦ ἀδελφοῦ αὐτοῦ)

It is not certain whether Philip was older or younger than Herod, but it is slightly more likely that he was older. So, if you have to use a form that refers to an older or younger brother, you could state that Philip was older. Alternate translation: [his older brother]

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT his
UST Herod's
(αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun his refers to Herod. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Herod's]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Herod	John the Baptizer … Herod
having seized	told his soldiers to arrest
John	John
bound	They tied … up
Herodias	Herod married Herodias

Matthew 14:4

ULT	UST
For John was saying to him, "It is not lawful for you to have her."	{Herod said that because John had already died.} Here is how that happened: Herod married Herodias, who had previously been the wife of Herod's brother Philip. John the Baptizer told Herod, "Our law forbids you to marry Herodias{, your sister-in-law}." So, Herod told his soldiers to arrest John. They tied him up and put him in jail. (vv3-4)

ULT For
UST {Herod said that because John had already died.} Here is how that happened
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why Herod put John in prison. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [He did that because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT to him
UST Herod
(αὐτῷ)

The pronoun him refers to Herod. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [to Herod]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT was saying to him, "It is not lawful for you to have her UST told Herod, "Our law forbids you to marry Herodias{, your sister-in-law}
(ἔλεγεν & αὐτῷ & οὐκ ἔξεστίν σοι ἔχειν αὐτήν)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [was saying to him that it was not lawful for him to have her]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John	John the Baptizer … Herod
It is … lawful	Our law forbids

Matthew 14:5

ULT	UST
And wanting to put him to death, he feared the crowd, because they were regarding him as a prophet.	However, Herod was afraid of the large group of people who believed that John spoke for God. So, even though he wanted to have his soldiers execute John{, he did not do that}.

ULT wanting to put him to death
UST So, even though he wanted to have his soldiers execute John{, he did not do that} (θέλων αὐτὸν ἀποκτεῖναι)

Here, the word wanting introduces a clause that states something that contrasts with what Herod actually did. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [although he wanted to put him to death]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT him … he feared … him
UST However, Herod was afraid of … John … John (αὐτὸν & ἐφοβήθη & αὐτὸν)

The pronouns him and him refer to John the Baptist, and the pronoun he refers to Herod. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [John … Herod feared … John]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he feared the crowd
UST However, Herod was afraid of the large group of people
(ἐφοβήθη τὸν ὄχλον)

Matthew implies that Herod both feared the crowd and did not have John killed. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he feared the crowd and did not put him to death] or [he did not give the order, for he feared the crowd]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the crowd
> UST the large group of people
> (τὸν ὄχλον)

Matthew implies that Herod feared what the crowd would do if he put John to death. They might have rioted or attacked Herod. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [what the crowd would do] or [that the crowd might riot]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he feared	However, Herod was afraid of a prophet	that … spoke for God

Matthew 14:6

ULT	UST
But the birthday of Herod having come, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst and pleased Herod,	Sometime later, during Herod's birthday party, Herodias' daughter danced {for him and his guests}. Herod greatly enjoyed her dancing.

ULT But
UST Sometime later
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the birthday of Herod having come, the daughter of Herodias danced
UST during Herod's birthday party, Herodias' daughter danced (γενεσίοις & γενομένοις τοῦ Ἡρῴδου, ὠρχήσατο ἡ θυγάτηρ τῆς Ἡρῳδιάδος)

Matthew introduces the daughter of Herodias as a new participant in the story. If your language has its own way of introducing new participants, you could use it here in your translation. Alternate translation: [Herodias had a daughter and, the birthday of Herod having come, she danced]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT the birthday of Herod having come
UST during Herod's birthday party
(γενεσίοις & γενομένοις τοῦ Ἡρῴδου)

Here, the phrase the birthday of Herod having come gives the time period in which the following events occur. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that gives the time period in which something happens. Alternate translation: [when it was the birthday of Herod] or [while Herod was celebrating his birthday]

Support Reference: Connect — Simultaneous Time Relationship

ULT the birthday of Herod
UST Herod's birthday party
(γενεσίοις & τοῦ Ἡρῴδου)

In some cultures, people celebrate a birthday, the day that someone was born. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of celebration, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [Herod's birthday celebration] or [the celebration of the anniversary of Herod's birth]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT the daughter of Herodias
UST Herodias' daughter
(ἡ θυγάτηρ τῆς Ἡρῳδιάδος)

Matthew implies that this woman was the daughter of Herodias by a previous husband, probably Philip. She was not the daughter of Herod. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this relationship more explicit. Alternate translation: [the daughter of Herodias and Philip] or [Herod's step-daughter, the daughter of Herodias,]

Support Reference: Kinship

ULT in the midst
UST for him and his guests
(ἐν τῷ μέσῳ)

Here, the phrase in the midst indicates that the daughter of Herodias danced so that Herod and the guests at his party could all see her. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [before all of Herod's guests] or [in front of everyone]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Herod	Herod's
of Herodias	Herodias
Herod	Herod

Matthew 14:7

ULT	UST
because of which he promised with an oath to give her whatever she asked.	So, he solemnly promised that he would give her whatever she wanted.

ULT because of which
UST So
(ὅθεν)

Here, the phrase because of which introduces what Herod did because Herodias' daughter pleased him with her dancing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that makes this connection more explicit. Alternate translation: [and because she pleased Herod,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT he promised with an oath to give her whatever she asked
UST he solemnly promised that he would give her whatever she wanted (μεθ' ὅρκου, ὡμολόγησεν αὐτῇ δοῦναι ὃ ἐὰν αἰτήσηται)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [he promised with an oath, "I will give you whatever you ask."]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he promised	he … promised an oath	solemnly

Matthew 14:8

ULT	UST
Now she, having been urged beforehand by her mother, said, "Give me here, on a platter, the head of John the Baptist."	Her mother, Herodias, had already told her what to ask for. So, she said to Herod, "I want you to cut off John the Baptizer's head and bring it to me here on a plate!"

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having been urged beforehand by her mother
UST Her mother, Herodias, had already told … what to ask for (προβιβασθεῖσα ὑπὸ τῆς μητρὸς αὐτῆς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [her mother having urged her beforehand]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT having been urged beforehand
UST had already told … what to ask for (προβιβασθεῖσα)

Matthew implies that the woman's mother, Herodias, had already told her what to ask for if Herod offered to do something for her. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having been instructed ahead of time] or [having been advised in advance]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Give me here, on a platter, the head of John the Baptist
UST I want you to cut off John the Baptizer's head and bring it to me here on a plate
(δός μοι & ὧδε ἐπὶ πίνακι, τὴν κεφαλὴν Ἰωάννου τοῦ Βαπτιστοῦ)

The woman implies that she wants Herod to have John killed by having his head cut off and brought to her. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Have one of your soldiers behead John the Baptist and then give me his head here, on a platter]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Give me
UST and bring it to me
(δός μοι)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a request. Alternate translation: [I ask that you give me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT a platter
UST a plate
(πίνακι)

A platter is a large, flat serving dish. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of dish, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a tray] or [a large serving plate]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of John the Baptist	John the Baptizer's

Matthew 14:9

ULT	UST
And the king was grieved, {but} because of the oaths and the ones reclining to eat with him, he commanded {it} to be given.	King Herod was sad {about what she asked for}. However, because he had solemnly promised in front of all his guests {to give her what she asked for}, he told one of his men to do what she asked.

ULT was grieved
UST was sad {about what she asked for} (ἐλυπήθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [felt very sorry]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT {but} because of the oaths and the ones reclining to eat with him
UST However, because he had solemnly promised in front of all his guests {to give her what she asked for} (διὰ τοὺς ὅρκους καὶ τοὺς συνανακειμένους)

Matthew indicates two reasons why Herod kept his word. First, he had made oaths that he did not want to break. Second, he had promised in front of the ones reclining to eat with him, and it would be embarrassing and shameful to break his promise when everyone had heard it. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [but because he had used oaths and because the ones reclining to eat with him had heard what he promised]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the ones reclining to eat with him
UST in front of all his guests
(τοὺς συνανακειμένους)

In Jesus' culture, people would usually recline, or lie on one side, at a table when they were eating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the position in which people eat in your culture, or you could just refer to eating. Alternate translation: [the ones sitting down to eat with him] or [the ones eating with him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT he commanded {it} to be given
> UST he told one of his men to do what she asked
> (ἐκέλευσεν δοθῆναι)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you must state who would do the action, Matthew implies that one of Herod's soldiers would do it. Alternate translation: [he commanded that one of his soldiers give it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT he commanded {it} to be given
> UST he told one of his men to do what she asked
> (ἐκέλευσεν δοθῆναι)

Matthew means that Herod commanded someone to do what Herodias' daughter asked. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [commanded that someone give her what she had requested]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
king	King Herod
oaths	he had solemnly promised … to give her what she asked for

Matthew 14:10

ULT	UST
And having sent, he beheaded John in the prison.	He had the man go to the jail and cut off John's head there.

ULT having sent, he beheaded
UST He had the man go to the jail and cut off … head (πέμψας, ἀπεκεφάλισεν)

Matthew implies that Herod sent one of his soldiers to behead John. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having sent a soldier, Herod had him behead]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John	John's

Matthew 14:11

ULT	UST
And his head was brought on a platter and given to the girl, and she brought {it} to her mother.	Then, the man put John's head on a plate and gave it to Herodias' daughter. She gave it to her mother.

ULT his head was brought on a platter and given to the girl
UST the man put John's head on a plate and gave it to Herodias' daughter (ἠνέχθη ἡ κεφαλὴ αὐτοῦ ἐπὶ πίνακι, καὶ ἐδόθη τῷ κορασίῳ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could refer to whoever beheaded John, or you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [the soldier who beheaded John brought his head on a platter and gave it to the girl] or [someone brought his head on a platter and gave it to the girl]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT his
UST John's
(αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun his refers to John. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [John's]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT a platter
UST a plate
(πίνακι)

See how you translated the word platter in 14:8. Alternate translation: [a tray] or [a large serving plate]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT to the girl
> UST to Herodias' daughter
> (τῷ κορασίῳ)

Here, the word girl refers to a woman who has reached puberty but who is still young, probably between 12 and 20 years old. Use a word in your language that refers generally to a young woman who has reached puberty. Alternate translation: [to the young woman]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 14:12

ULT	UST
And having approached, his disciples took away the corpse and buried him. And having come, they reported {this} to Jesus.	Later, John's apprentices went to the jail. They took John's dead body and buried it. Then, they went to Jesus and told him what had happened.

ULT having approached
UST went to the jail
(προσελθόντες)

Matthew implies that John's disciples went to the jail where John had been imprisoned. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having visited the place where John had been imprisoned]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the corpse
UST John's dead body
(τὸ πτῶμα)

Matthew implies that this was John's corpse. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [John's corpse]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come
UST they went to Jesus
(ἐλθόντες)

Matthew implies that John's disciples went to where Jesus was. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having come to where Jesus was]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come
UST they went to Jesus
(ἐλθόντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT they reported {this} to Jesus
> UST and told him what had happened
> (ἀπήγγειλαν τῷ Ἰησοῦ)

Matthew implies that John's disciples told Jesus that Herod had executed John. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they told Jesus what Herod had done to John]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
buried	buried
they reported {this}	and told … what had happened to Jesus	him

Matthew 14:13

ULT	UST
Now, having heard, Jesus withdrew from there in a boat to a desolate place by himself. And having heard, the crowds followed him on foot from the cities.	After Jesus heard {that John was dead}, he sailed {with his apprentices} in a boat on the Sea of Galilee to a place where no one lived. Then, the large groups of people learned {that he had traveled there}. They left their towns and walked around the Sea of Galilee to join him.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT having heard
UST After … heard {that John was dead}
(ἀκούσας)

Matthew could be implying that Jesus has heard: (1) what John's disciples told him about how Herod executed John (see 14:12). Alternate translation: [having heard the news about John's death]; (2) what Herod was saying about how Jesus must be John the Baptist raised from the dead (see 14:2). Alternate translation: [having heard what Herod was saying about him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Jesus … by himself
UST Jesus … a place where no one lived
(ὁ Ἰησοῦς & κατ᾽ ἰδίαν)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples … by themselves]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from there
UST he sailed {with his apprentices}
(ἐκεῖθεν)

Matthew does not state where Jesus was when he heard, so your translation should not identify exactly where Jesus was. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to wherever Jesus was when he heard. Alternate translation: [from where he was] or [from the place where he heard this]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT having heard
UST learned {that he had traveled there}
(ἀκούσαντες)

Matthew implies that the crowds heard that Jesus had gone to a desolate place. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having heard that Jesus went there]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT on foot
UST and walked around the Sea of Galilee
(πεζῇ)

Here, the phrase on foot means that the crowds walked. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [by walking]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT from the cities
UST They left their towns
(ἀπὸ τῶν πόλεων)

Matthew refers to the cities near the Sea of Galilee, which Jesus had crossed over in a boat. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from the cities in that region] or [from the cities near the Sea of Galilee]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

ULT	UST
desolate	a place where no one lived

Matthew 14:14

ULT	UST
And having come out, he saw a large crowd, and he had compassion on them and healed their sick.	When Jesus got out of the boat, he saw a large group of people. He pitied them, and he cured those who were sick.

ULT having come out
UST When Jesus got out of the boat
(ἐξελθὼν)

Matthew could be implying that Jesus comes out: (1) of the boat in which he traveled across the Sea of Galilee. Alternate translation: [having come out of the boat] or [having disembarked]; (2) of the desolate area, where he wanted to be alone. Alternate translation: [having come out of the place where he was alone]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come out
UST When Jesus got out of the boat
(ἐξελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT he had compassion on UST He pitied
(ἐσπλαγχνίσθη ἐπ’)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of compassion, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [he sympathized with]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT their sick
> UST those who were sick
> (τοὺς ἀρρώστους αὐτῶν)

Matthew is using the adjective sick as a noun to mean sick people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the sick people among them]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he had compassion	He pitied

Matthew 14:15

ULT	UST
Now evening having come, the disciples came to him, saying, "This place is desolate, and the hour has already passed by. Send the crowds away so that, having gone away to the villages, they might buy food for themselves."	When it was evening, the apprentices approached Jesus. They said to him, "This is a place where no one lives, and it is very late in the day. So, please tell the large groups of people to walk to the small towns that are nearby, where they can buy food to eat."

> ULT Now
> (δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

> ULT came
> UST approached
> (προσῆλθον)

In a context such as this, your language might say "went" instead of came. Alternate translation: [went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT saying
> UST They said to him
> (λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT the hour has already passed by
UST it is very late in the day
(ἡ ὥρα ἤδη παρῆλθεν)

The clause the hour has already passed by means that it is late in the day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the day is about to end] or [the sun is setting]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT Send the crowds away
UST So, please tell the large groups of people
(ἀπόλυσον τοὺς ὄχλους)

This is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [We ask that you send the crowds away]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT the villages
UST the small towns that are nearby
(τὰς κώμας)

Here the disciples are referring to villages that are near the desolate place. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the nearest villages] or [the villages that are close to this place]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
desolate	where no one lives
hour	it is very late in the day

Matthew 14:16

ULT	UST
But Jesus said to them, "They have no need to go away. You give them to eat."	Jesus replied, "They do not need to leave {to buy food}. I want you to provide them with food to eat!"

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what Jesus says in a contrast with what the disciples asked him to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [However,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT You give them
UST I want you to provide them
(δότε αὐτοῖς ὑμεῖς)

Here Jesus implies that the disciples should give food to the crowds. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You give them food]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT You
UST you
(ὑμεῖς)

Since Jesus is talking to his disciples, the word You here is plural.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 14:17

ULT	UST
But they say to him, "We have nothing here except five loaves and two fish."	The apprentices replied, "We have very little food! We only have five loaves of bread and two fish."

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the disciples say in contrast to what Jesus told them to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [However,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT say
UST replied
(λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT We have nothing here except UST We have very little food! We only have (οὐκ ἔχομεν ὧδε, εἰ μὴ)

If, in your language, it would appear that the disciples were making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [The only food we have here are]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT loaves
UST loaves of bread
(ἄρτους)

The word loaves refers to loaves of bread, which are lumps of flour dough that a person has shaped and baked. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of bread, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [large chunks of bread]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
loaves	loaves of bread

Matthew 14:18

ULT	UST
But he said, “Bring them here to me.”	Then Jesus said, “Bring those things to me.”

ULT But
UST Then
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [And]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT he said, “Bring them here to me
UST Jesus said, “Bring those things to me
(ὁ & εἶπεν, φέρετέ μοι ὧδε αὐτούς)

Matthew implies that the disciples did what Jesus commanded them to do. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he said, “Bring them here to me.” So they brought them.]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Bring
UST Bring
(φέρετέ)

Here the command is plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

Matthew 14:19

ULT	UST
And having commanded the crowds to recline on the grass, having taken the five loaves and the two fish, having looked up to heaven, he blessed, and having broken {them}, he gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to the crowds.	Jesus told the large groups of people to sit down on the ground. He picked up the five loaves of bread and the two fish. Then he thanked God for the food. After that, he tore the bread into pieces and gave the pieces to his apprentices. They distributed them to the large groups of people.

ULT having commanded the crowds to recline on the grass, having taken
UST Jesus told the large groups of people to sit down on the ground. He picked up (κελεύσας τοὺς ὄχλους ἀνακλιθῆναι ἐπὶ τοῦ χόρτου, λαβὼν)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [he commanded the crowds, “Recline on the grass!” Then, having taken]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT to recline
UST to sit down
(ἀνακλιθῆναι)

In Jesus’ culture, people would usually recline, or lie on one side, when they were eating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the position in which people eat in your culture, or you could just refer to eating. Alternate translation: [to sit down to eat] or [to get ready to eat]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT loaves … the loaves
UST loaves of bread … the pieces
(ἄρτους & τοὺς ἄρτους)

See how you translated loaves in 14:17. Alternate translation: [large chunks of bread … the large chunks of bread]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT having looked up to heaven
> UST Then he thanked God for the food
> (ἀναβλέψας εἰς τὸν οὐρανὸν)

In Jesus' culture, most people thought that heaven was up above the earth. Looking up towards heaven was a common posture for someone who was praying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to a common posture for prayer in your culture, or you could explain the meaning of this posture. Alternate translation: [having raised his arms in prayer] or [having looked up to heaven to pray]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

> ULT he blessed
> UST Then he thanked God for the food
> (εὐλόγησεν)

Matthew could be implying that Jesus blessed: (1) God for providing the food. Alternate translation: [he blessed God] or [he praised God]; (2) the food. Alternate translation: [he blessed the food] or [he asked God to make the food holy]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having broken {them}, he gave the loaves
> UST he tore the bread into pieces and gave the pieces
> (κλάσας, ἔδωκεν & τοὺς ἄρτους)

Matthew means that Jesus broke the loaves of bread in pieces so that they could be served to the crowds. This was a normal practice in his culture. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having divided the loaves into servings, he gave them] or [having broken the loaves into smaller pieces, he gave the pieces]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the disciples to the crowds
> UST They distributed them to the large groups of people
> (οἱ & μαθηταὶ τοῖς ὄχλοις)

Matthew is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the disciples gave them to the crowds]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
loaves	loaves of bread
heaven	Then he thanked God for the food
he blessed	Then he thanked God for the food loaves	the pieces
to the disciples	to his apprentices
disciples	They distributed them

Matthew 14:20

ULT	UST
And they all ate and were satisfied. And they took up the remaining of the broken pieces—12 baskets full.	Everyone ate {the bread}, and they all had enough to eat. Then the apprentices gathered the food that was left. They filled 12 large containers with the leftovers!

ULT they all ate … they took up
UST Everyone ate {the bread} … the apprentices gathered
(ἔφαγον πάντες & ἦραν)

The pronoun they in the phrase they all ate refers to the crowds. The pronoun they in the phrase they took up refers to the disciples. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the crowds all ate … the disciples took up]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and were satisfied
UST and they all had enough to eat
(καὶ ἐχορτάσθησαν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your languages. Alternate translation: [until they felt full]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the remaining of the broken pieces
UST the food that was left
(τὸ περισσεῦον τῶν κλασμάτων)

Here, the phrase the remaining refers to what was left after everyone ate. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the leftovers] or [what was left of the broken pieces]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT baskets
> UST large containers
> (κοφίνους)

The word baskets refers to large, lightweight circular containers that store food or other items. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of container, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [bags] or [containers]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

Matthew 14:21

ULT	UST
Now the ones eating were about 5,000 men, besides women and children.	About 5, 000 men ate {the bread}, and there were women and children there too!

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Matthews uses the word Now to introduce background information that helps the readers understand how amazing what Jesus did was. The word does not introduce another event in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing background information. Alternate translation: [As for how many people were there,] or [In the end,]

Support Reference: Background Information

ULT besides women and children
UST and there were women and children there too
(χωρὶς γυναικῶν καὶ παιδίων)

Matthew means that the number he has given does not include women and children. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [which does not include women and children]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 14:22

ULT	UST
And immediately he compelled the disciples to get into the boat and to go before him to the other side, while he sent the crowds away.	As soon as {everyone was done eating}, Jesus had his apprentices get into a boat and sail across {the Sea of Galilee} without him. He stayed behind to tell the large groups of people to go home.

ULT to the other side
UST across {the Sea of Galilee}
(εἰς τὸ πέραν)

Matthew implies that the disciples are sailing to the other side of the Sea of Galilee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to the other side of the lake] or [across the sea to the opposite side]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	his apprentices

Matthew 14:23

ULT	UST
And having sent the crowds away, he went up on the mountain by himself to pray. Now, evening having come, he was there alone.	After he told the large groups of people to go home, he climbed to the top of a hill to pray {to God} by himself. When it became dark, he was on top of the hill by himself.

ULT the mountain
UST a hill
(τὸ ὄρος)

Matthew does not clarify what mountain this is or how high up it is. If possible, use a general word for a hill or small mountain without indicating one particular place. Alternate translation: [a high place] or [a small mountain]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT Now
UST When it became dark
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT evening having come
UST When it became dark
(ὀψίας & γενομένης)

Matthew indicated that it was evening earlier in the story (see 14:15). Here, he uses the same phrase but implies that it was later on in the evening. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that describes a time later than the time described in 14:15. Alternate translation: [when it was even later in the evening] or [further into the evening]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to pray	to pray {to God}

Matthew 14:24

ULT	UST
But the boat was already in the middle of the sea, being tormented by the waves, for the wind was against {it}.	Meanwhile, the apprentices were on the boat in the middle of the Sea of Galilee. The wind was blowing from where they wanted to go, so many waves were striking the boat.

ULT But
UST Meanwhile
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the disciples were doing while Jesus was on the mountain. There is a slight contrast between Jesus, who was safe on the mountain, and the disciples, who were in danger on the sea. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [In contrast,] or [At the same time,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT was already in the middle of the sea
UST Meanwhile, the apprentices were … in the middle of the Sea of Galilee
(ἤδη μέσον τῆς θαλάσσης ἦν)

Many ancient manuscripts read was already in the middle of the sea. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “was already many stadia away from the land.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT being tormented by the waves, for the wind was against {it}
UST The wind was blowing from where they wanted to go, so many waves were striking the boat
(βασανιζόμενον ὑπὸ τῶν κυμάτων, ἦν γὰρ ἐναντίος ὁ ἄνεμος)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [and the wind was against it, so it was being tormented by the waves]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT being tormented by the waves
> UST many waves were striking the boat
> (βασανιζόμενον ὑπὸ τῶν κυμάτων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [with the waves tormenting it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT being tormented by the waves
> UST many waves were striking the boat
> (βασανιζόμενον ὑπὸ τῶν κυμάτων)

Matthew speaks as if the waves were people who were tormenting another person. What he means is that the waves were crashing against the boat and putting it under much strain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [being battered by the waves] or [being tossed about by the waves]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT for the wind was against {it}
> UST The wind was blowing from where they wanted to go, so > (ἦν γὰρ ἐναντίος ὁ ἄνεμος)

When wind is against a boat, that means that the wind is blowing directly opposite to the direction in which the boat is traveling. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [for the wind was blowing opposite to the direction they were sailing] or [for the wind was blowing directly against it]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 14:25

ULT	UST
Now in the fourth watch of the night he came to them, walking on the sea.	Later, soon before morning, Jesus joined them. He was walking on top of the Sea of Galilee!

ULT Now
UST Later
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT in the fourth watch of the night
UST soon before morning
(τετάρτῃ & φυλακῇ τῆς νυκτὸς)

Here, the phrase the fourth watch of the night refers to the period of time between 3:00 AM and 6:00 AM. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that refers to this period of time. Alternate translation: [in the last part of the night] or [shortly before dawn]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT them
UST them
(αὐτοὺς)

The pronoun them refers to the disciples. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to them more directly. Alternate translation: [the disciples]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT walking on the sea
> UST He was walking on top of the Sea of Galilee
> (περιπατῶν ἐπὶ τὴν θάλασσαν)

Matthew means that Jesus was miraculously walking on the surface of the sea. He did not sink into the water. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [walking on the surface of the sea] or [miraculously walking upon the sea]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
in the … watch	soon before morning
sea	the Sea of Galilee

Matthew 14:26

ULT	UST
But the disciples, having seen him walking on the sea, were greatly troubled, saying, "It is a ghost," and they cried out from fear.	When the apprentices saw Jesus walking on top of the Sea of Galilee, it disturbed them. {They did not know that it was Jesus, so} they said {to each other} that he must be a dangerous spiritual being. They were so afraid that they shouted loudly.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT walking on the sea
UST walking on top of the Sea of Galilee
(ἐπὶ τῆς θαλάσσης περιπατοῦντα)

See how you translated this phrase in 14:25. Alternate translation: [walking on the surface of the sea] or [miraculously walking on top of the sea]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT were greatly troubled
UST it disturbed them
(ἐταράχθησαν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [were very nervous] or [were very anxious]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT saying, “It is a ghost
UST They did not know that it was Jesus, so} they said {to each other} … he must be a dangerous spiritual being (λέγοντες & φάντασμά ἐστιν)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [saying that he was a ghost,]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT a ghost
UST a dangerous spiritual being (φάντασμά)

Here, the word ghost refers to an spiritual or supernatural being that people see. In Jesus’ culture, when people saw a ghost, they usually assumed that something bad was going to happen. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of unusual experience, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [an apparition] or [some powerful and dangerous being]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT from fear
UST They were so afraid
(ἀπὸ τοῦ φόβου)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fear, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [because they were afraid]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
sea	the Sea of Galilee
were greatly troubled	it disturbed them
they cried out	that they shouted loudly fear	They were so afraid

Matthew 14:27

ULT	UST
But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, "Take courage! It is I! Do not be afraid."	As soon as {they shouted loudly}, Jesus said to them, "Do not worry! I am {Jesus}. Stop being afraid!"

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT saying
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he told them]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Take courage … Do not be afraid
UST Do not worry … Stop being afraid
(θαρσεῖτε & μὴ φοβεῖσθε)

Here the commands are plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Take courage
UST Do not worry
(θαρσεῖτε)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of courage, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Be courageous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Take courage	Do not worry

ULT	UST
Do … be afraid	being afraid

Matthew 14:28

ULT	UST
But, answering him, Peter said, "Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the water."	Peter replied, "My Lord, please show me that it is really you. I ask that you tell me to walk on top of the water to you!"

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if it is you, command
UST please show me that it is really you. I ask that you tell (εἰ σὺ εἶ, κέλευσόν)

Here Peter could be using the conditional form: (1) to refer to something that he thinks may or may not be true. In this case, if Jesus commands him to walk on the water, Peter will believe that it really is Jesus. Alternate translation: [if it is you, then command] or [to prove that it is you, command]; (2) to refer to something that he thinks is true. In this case, he is already convinced that it is really Jesus. Alternate translation: [since it is you, command]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT command
UST I ask that you tell (κέλευσόν)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please command]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT to come
> UST to walk
> (ἐλθεῖν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [to go]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT on the water
> UST on top of the water
> (ἐπὶ τὰ ὕδατα)

Here Peter means that he wants Jesus to command him to walk miraculously on the surface of the water, just as Jesus was doing. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. See how you translated the similar phrase in 14:25. Alternate translation: [on the surface of the water] or [miraculously upon the water]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter
Lord	My Lord

Matthew 14:29

ULT	UST
And he said, "Come." And Peter, having gotten out from the boat, walked on the water to go to Jesus.	Jesus said {to Peter}, "Walk to me!" So, Peter stepped out of the boat and walked on top of the water toward Jesus.

ULT said, "Come
UST said {to Peter}, "Walk to me
(εἶπεν, ἐλθέ)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation with not quotation marks: [said that he should come]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT Come
UST Walk to me
(ἐλθέ)

In a context such as this, your language might say "Go" instead of Come. Alternate translation: [Go]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT walked on the water
UST and walked on top of the water
(περιεπάτησεν ἐπὶ τὰ ὕδατα)

Matthew means Peter walked miraculously over the surface of the water. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. See how you translated the similar phrase in 14:28. Alternate translation: [walked on the surface of the water] or [walked miraculously upon the water]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to go
UST toward (ἐλθεῖν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of go. Alternate translation: [to come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 14:30

ULT	UST
But, seeing the strong wind, he became afraid, and having begun to sink, he cried out, saying, "Lord, save me!"	However, Peter realized how powerful the storm was, and he was afraid. Then he started to sink into the water. He shouted {to Jesus}, "My Lord, please rescue me!"

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces how Peter begins to sink in contrast with how he started walking on the water. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [And yet] or [Soon]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT seeing the strong wind
UST Peter realized how powerful the storm was (βλέπων & τὸν ἄνεμον ἰσχυρὸν)

Matthew could mean that: (1) Peter saw the effects of the strong wind, including the waves. Alternate translation: [seeing what the strong wind did] or [seeing large waves]; (2) Peter felt or experienced the strong wind. Alternate translation: [noticing the strong wind] or [feeling the strong wind]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT having begun to sink
UST he started to sink into the water
(ἀρξάμενος καταποντίζεσθαι)

Matthew implies that Peter began to sink into the water over which he was walking. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having begun to sink into the Sea of Galilee]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT saying
> (λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT save me
> UST please rescue me
> (σῶσόν με)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask you to save me]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he became afraid	and he was afraid
he cried out	He shouted {to Jesus}
Lord	My Lord
save	please rescue

Matthew 14:31

ULT	UST
But immediately, Jesus, having stretched out his hand, took hold of him, and says to him, "You of little faith, why did you doubt?"	As soon as {Peter shouted}, Jesus reached out and lifted Peter up out of the water. Then he said to Peter, "You should not have been unsure {that I could make you walk on top of the water}. You should trust God more than you do!"

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT took hold of him
UST and lifted Peter up out of the water
(ἐπελάβετο αὐτοῦ)

Matthew implies that Jesus grabbed Peter and lifted him up out of the water. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [took hold of him and lifted him up]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT says
UST he said
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT You of little faith
UST You should trust God more than you do (ὀλιγόπιστε)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [You who believe so little]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT why did you doubt
UST You should not have been unsure {that I could make you walk on top of the water}
(εἰς τί ἐδίστασας)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke Peter for doubting. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you should not have doubted.] or [you never should have doubted!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT why did you doubt
UST You should not have been unsure {that I could make you walk on top of the water}
(εἰς τί ἐδίστασας)

Here Jesus implies that Peter doubted whether Jesus could really enable him to walk on the water and keep him from sinking. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [why did you doubt that I could keep you from sinking]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 14:32

ULT	UST
And {when} they had gotten into the boat, the wind ceased.	Then Jesus and Peter climbed into the boat. At that moment, the wind stopped blowing.

> ULT they
> UST Jesus and Peter
> (αὐτῶν)

The pronoun they refers to Jesus and Peter. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to them more directly. Alternate translation: [the two of them]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Matthew 14:33

ULT	UST
And the ones in the boat worshiped him, saying, "Truly you are the Son of God."	Then the apprentices who were in the boat worshiped Jesus. They declared, "You really are God's Son!"

ULT the ones
UST the apprentices
(οἱ)

Matthew is referring to the disciples who were in the boat. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the disciples]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST They declared
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT the Son of God
UST God's Son
(Θεοῦ Υἱὸς)

Son of God is an important title for Jesus that describes his relationship with God the Father.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
worshiped	worshiped
the Son of God	God's Son

Matthew 14:34

ULT	UST
And having crossed over, they came to the land at Gennesaret.	After they finished sailing across the Sea of Galilee, they landed on the shore in the region of Gennesaret.

ULT having crossed over
UST After they finished sailing across the Sea of Galilee (διαπεράσαντες)

Matthew implies that they crossed over the Sea of Galilee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having crossed over the lake]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they came
UST they landed
(ἦλθον)

In a context such as this, your language might say “went” instead of came. Alternate translation: [they went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT Gennesaret
UST the region of Gennesaret
(Γεννησαρέτ)

The word Gennesaret could refer to: (1) a region on the northwest side of the Sea of Galilee. Alternate translation: [the area called Gennesaret]; (2) a small town on the northwest side of the Sea of Galilee. Alternate translation: [the village of Gennesaret]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

Matthew 14:35

ULT	UST
And having recognized him, the men of that place sent into all that surrounding area, and they brought to him all the ones having sickness.	The men in that region recognized Jesus. So they sent people to the nearby areas {to say that Jesus had arrived}. Then people {from those areas} brought to Jesus many others who were sick.

ULT the men
UST The men
(οἱ ἄνδρες)

Matthew uses a word that refers specifically to men. However, the gender of these people is not important for the story, so you could use a word or phrase that refers to both men and women. Alternate translation: [the people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT of that place
UST in that region
(τοῦ τόπου ἐκείνου)

Here, the phrase that place refers to the area named "Gennesaret" (see 14:34). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of the region of Gennesaret]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they brought
UST people {from those areas} brought (προσήνεγκαν)

Here, the pronoun they refers to the people who lived in that surrounding area. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to these people. Alternate translation: [people from that whole area brought]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT all
> UST many others
> (πάντας)

Matthew says all here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [many of]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT the ones having sickness
> UST who were sick
> (τοὺς κακῶς ἔχοντας)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sickness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the sick people]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having recognized	recognized

Matthew 14:36

ULT	UST
And they were begging him so that they might only touch the edge of his garment, and as many as touched {it} were healed.	Those who were sick asked Jesus to allow them just to touch the hem of his robe. Everyone who did so became healthy.

ULT they were begging
UST Those who were sick asked (παρεκάλουν)

The pronoun they refers to the sick people. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the ones having sickness were begging]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT him so that they might only touch the edge of his garment, and UST Jesus to allow them just to touch the hem of his robe (αὐτὸν ἵνα μόνον ἅψωνται τοῦ κρασπέδου τοῦ ἱματίου αὐτοῦ; καὶ)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [him, “Please let us only touch the edge of your garment.” And]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT they might only touch
UST them just to touch
(μόνον ἅψωνται)

Here, the word only indicates that these people think that, to be healed, they do not need to do anything more than touch Jesus’ garment. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [all they might do is touch] or [they could just touch]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT as many as touched {it} were healed
> UST Everyone who did so became healthy
> (ὅσοι ἥψαντο διεσώθησαν)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could indicate that it was God or Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [God healed as many as touched it] or [Jesus healed as many as touched it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they were begging	Those who were sick asked

Matthew 15

Matthew 15 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Further opposition to Jesus and misunderstanding of the kingdom of God (13:53–17:27)
    - Argument with the Pharisees and scribes about washing hands (15:1–9)
    - Jesus teaches about what defiles people (15:10–20)
    - Jesus meets a Canaanite woman (15:21–28)
    - Jesus heals many people (15:29–31)
    - Jesus feeds 4,000 men (15:32–39)

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the poetry in 15:8–9, which is a quote from Isaiah 29:13.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

The “tradition of the elders”

The “tradition of the elders” included interpretations of Moses’ law that Jewish religious leaders had developed and passed down to their disciples, and they to their disciples. These interpretations explained what specific laws meant and how to obey them. Jesus rebuked the religious leaders for specific interpretations of the law that he disagreed with. In this chapter, Jesus and the Pharisees argue about washing hands, honoring parents, and giving gifts to God. When you translate the phrase “tradition of the elders,” use a form that refers to teachings that teachers pass down to their students. (See: tradition; and elder)

Washing hands before eating

In 15:1, the scribes and Pharisees rebuke Jesus for failing to have his disciples wash their hands before eating. One of the traditions that the Pharisees followed was a requirement that people wash their hands before eating. They did this to make their hands ceremonially clean, not primarily to clean off dirt. Make sure that your translation indicates that Jesus and the Pharisees are debating about ceremonial or ritual washing, not washing off dirt.

The gift for God

In 15:4–6, Jesus rebukes the Pharisees for allowing people to promise to give something to God instead of using it to help their parents. Jesus is not saying that giving things to God is wrong. Instead, he is saying that honoring one's parents is one of the most important commandments that God gave, and no tradition should prevent people from honoring their parents. Make sure that this meaning is clear in your translation.

The Canaanite woman

Matthew describes the woman as a "Canaanite," which is an old term for the people who lived in the land of Israel before the Israelites arrived. Matthew means that the woman is not a Jew, and he might mean that she is descended from the people that the Israelites defeated when they took over the land of Israel. Your translation should make clearly indicate that the woman is not a Jew. (See: Canaan, Canaanite)

The miracle of multiplying food

In 15:32–39, Matthew tells a story in which Jesus provides 4,000 men and even more women and children with food. All these people were in a place where no people lived, and all the food that Jesus and his disciples had were seven loaves of bread and a few fish. Despite that, Jesus used the seven loaves of bread and the few fish to feed everyone who was there. Matthew does not tell us exactly how Jesus did this, but he does say that there were more leftovers than what they started with. Your translation should not explain how Jesus multiplied the food, but it should be clear that he did a miracle. Matthew told a similar story about how Jesus fed 5,000 men in 14:13–21, so see how you expressed the ideas there.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Feeding little dogs

In 15:26, Jesus tells the Canaanite woman that it is not right to give food that is meant for children to little dogs. In 15:27, the woman responds that little dogs eat the little bits of food that fall off their owners' tables. The children represent Jews, and the little dogs represent non-Jews. The food represents things that Jesus does for people. What Jesus means is that he is supposed to do things for Jews, not for non-Jews. What the woman means is that what she is asking Jesus to do is unimportant enough that he can do it without taking away from what he does for Jews. If possible, do not express the meaning of what Jesus and the woman say about little dogs, but make sure that your translation naturally expresses this meaning.

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Many of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in speeches that Jesus gives to the Pharisees, the crowds, or the disciples. Because of this, the majority of forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 15:1

ULT	UST
Then Pharisees and scribes come to Jesus from Jerusalem, saying,	After that, some Pharisees and teachers of the Jewish law who were from the city of Jerusalem visited Jesus. They told him,

ULT Then
UST After that
(τότε)

Here, the word Then introduces a new event that took place sometime after the previous event, probably relatively soon after. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event. Alternate translation: [One day,] or [Sometime later,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT come to
UST visited
(προσέρχονται)

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [go to]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT saying
UST They told him
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	some Pharisees
scribes	teachers of the Jewish law
Jesus	Jesus
Jerusalem	the city of Jerusalem

Matthew 15:2

ULT	UST
“Why do your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread.”	“Your apprentices do not cleanse their hands before they eat. So, they are disobeying the teachings we received from our ancestors. They should not do that!”

ULT Why do your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders
UST Your apprentices … they are disobeying the teachings we received from our ancestors. They should not do that (διὰ τί οἱ μαθηταί σου παραβαίνουσιν τὴν παράδοσιν τῶν πρεσβυτέρων)

The Pharisees are using the question form to rebuke Jesus for what his disciples are doing. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Your disciples should not transgress the tradition of the elders!] or [We are shocked that your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT your
UST Your
(σου)

Here, the word your is singular since the Pharisees and scribes are speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT the tradition of the elders
UST the teachings we received from our ancestors
(τὴν παράδοσιν τῶν πρεσβυτέρων)

Here, the scribes and Pharisees are using the possessive form to describe a tradition that came from the elders. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the tradition given to us by the elders] or [the tradition handed down to us by the elders]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the tradition of the elders
UST the teachings we received from our ancestors
(τὴν παράδοσιν τῶν πρεσβυτέρων)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of tradition, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what the elders taught us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT of the elders
UST we received from our ancestors
(τῶν πρεσβυτέρων)

Here, the word elders refers to respected ancestors whose teaching is trusted. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of the ancestral teachers] or [of our respected forefathers]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT For
UST So
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces an explanation of how the disciples are transgressing the tradition. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [They do that when] or [Here is how they do that:]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT they do not wash their hands
UST do not cleanse their hands
(οὐ & νίπτονται τὰς χεῖρας)

Here the scribes and Pharisees are referring to how they would wash their hands with water to make them ritually or ceremonially clean. See the chapter introduction for more information about this kind of washing. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they do not ceremonially wash their hands with water]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT bread
UST they eat
(ἄρτον)

The scribes and Pharisees are using bread to represent any food. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [food] or [anything]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
tradition	the teachings of the elders	we received from our ancestors bread	they eat

Matthew 15:3

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said to them, "Why do you also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition?	Jesus replied, "Sometimes you use the teachings that you received to disobey the laws that God gave us. You should not do that!

ULT Why do you also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition
UST Sometimes you use the teachings that you received to disobey the laws that God gave us. You should not do that (διὰ τί καὶ ὑμεῖς παραβαίνετε τὴν ἐντολὴν τοῦ Θεοῦ διὰ τὴν παράδοσιν ὑμῶν)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the Pharisees for things that they do. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should not transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition.] or [I am shocked that you transgress the commandment of God because of your traditions!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Why do you also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition
UST Sometimes you use the teachings that you received to disobey the laws that God gave us. You should not do that (διὰ τί καὶ ὑμεῖς παραβαίνετε τὴν ἐντολὴν τοῦ Θεοῦ διὰ τὴν παράδοσιν ὑμῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the last phrase gives the reason for the result that the rest of the question describes. Alternate translation: [Why, because of your tradition, do you also transgress the commandment of God]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the commandment of God
UST the laws that God gave us
(τὴν ἐντολὴν τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Here Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a commandment that came from God. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the commandment given by God] or [the commandment we received from God]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT the commandment of God
> UST the laws that God gave us
> (τὴν ἐντολὴν τοῦ Θεοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of commandment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what God commanded us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT your tradition
> UST use the teachings that you received
> (τὴν παράδοσιν ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of tradition, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what you were taught]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of God	that God gave us
tradition	use the teachings that you received

Matthew 15:4

ULT	UST
For God commanded, saying, 'Honor your father and your mother,' and 'The one speaking evil of his father or mother, let him end in death.'	For example, God gave this law: 'Treat your parents respectfully.' {He} also {gave this law}: 'Execute anyone who insults his or her parents.'

ULT For
UST For example
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces an explanation of how the scribes and Pharisees transgress God's law. This explanation continues in 14:5–6. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Here is how you do that:] or [What I mean is that]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT God commanded, saying
UST God gave this law
(ὁ & Θεὸς ἐνετείλατο λέγων)

Many ancient manuscripts read God commanded, saying. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "God said." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT saying
UST gave this law
(λέγων)

Here Jesus quotes from the Old Testament scriptures. The first quotation could be from Exodus 20:12 or Deuteronomy 5:16. The second quotation could be from Exodus 21:17 or Leviticus 20:9. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a quotation from an important text, and you could include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [saying in the law he gave to Moses] or [speaking through Moses]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT saying Honor your father and your mother,' and 'The one speaking evil of his father or mother, let him end in death
UST gave this law: 'Treat your parents respectfully.' {He} also {gave this law}: 'Execute anyone who insults his or her parents
(λέγων, τίμα τὸν πατέρα καὶ τὴν μητέρα, καί, ὁ κακολογῶν πατέρα ἢ μητέρα, θανάτῳ τελευτάτω)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there are not quotations within a quotation. Alternate translation: [saying that all people should honor their father and their mother and that everyone speaking evil of his father or mother should end in death]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT Honor your … your
UST Treat your parents respectfully
(τίμα τὸν & τὴν)

Since God is addressing each specific person who is part of God's people, the command the words your and your are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT The one speaking evil of his father or mother, let him end in death
UST Execute anyone who insults his or her parents
(ὁ κακολογῶν πατέρα ἢ μητέρα, θανάτῳ τελευτάτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [The one speaking evil of his father or mother, he should end in death] or [Anyone who speaks evil of his father or mother must end in death]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT The one speaking evil of
UST anyone who insults
(ὁ κακολογῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of evil, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The one saying evil things about]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT let him end in death
> UST Execute
> (θανάτῳ τελευτάτω)

Here, the phrase end in death means that the person is killed or executed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [let him be put to death] or [let him be killed]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT let him end
> UST Execute
> (τελευτάτω)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [let that person end]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God
Honor	Treat … respectfully

Matthew 15:5

ULT	UST
But you say, 'Whoever says to his father or mother, "Whatever you might have benefited from me {is} a gift,"	However, you tell people that they can say to their parents, 'I have given to God everything that I could have used to provide for you.'

ULT But you say, 'Whoever says to his father or mother, "Whatever you might have benefited from me {is} a gift … he will certainly not honor his father
UST However, you tell people that they can say to their parents, 'I have given to God everything that I could have used to provide for you … Then, you tell these people that they cannot treat their parents respectfully {by providing for them … }
(ὑμεῖς δὲ λέγετε, ὃς ἂν εἴπῃ τῷ πατρὶ ἢ τῇ μητρί, δῶρον ὃ ἐὰν ἐξ ἐμοῦ ὠφεληθῇς, οὐ μὴ τιμήσει τὸν πατέρα αὐτοῦ) (15:5-6)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there are not quotations within quotations. Alternate translation, with no quotation marks: [But you say that whoever says to his father or mother that whatever they might have benefited from him is a gift, he will certainly not honor his father]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the scribes and Pharisees allow in contrast to what God commanded. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [In contrast,] or [Despite that,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT Whatever you might have benefited from me
UST everything that I could have used to provide for you (ὃ ἐὰν ἐξ ἐμοῦ ὠφεληθῇς)

Here, the phrase Whatever you might have benefited from me refers to money or goods that children might give to their parents when they need help. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Whatever I might have given to help you] or [Anything you might have received from me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT you might have benefited
> UST could have used to provide for you > (ὠφεληθῇς)

Here, the word you is singular since a child is speaking to one of his or her parents.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT {is} a gift
> UST I have given to God
> (δῶρον)

Here Jesus implies that the person is giving something as a gift to God. Because of that, the person will not give it to his or her parents. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [is a gift for God] or [is a gift to God, so I cannot give it to you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
you might have benefited	could have used to provide for you

Matthew 15:6

ULT	UST
he will certainly not honor his father.' And you have set aside the wordof God because of your tradition.	Then, you tell these people that they cannot treat their parents respectfully {by providing for them}. In that way, you use the teachings that you received to ignore what God commanded.

ULT he will certainly not honor his father
UST Then, you tell these people that they cannot treat their parents respectfully {by providing for them}
(οὐ μὴ τιμήσει τὸν πατέρα αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus implies that the Pharisees and scribes mean that the person cannot honor his father by giving him the money or goods that he promised to give to God. The person could still honor his father in other ways. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he will certainly not honor his father in that way] or [he will certainly not honor his father by giving him what he declared to be a gift for God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he will certainly not honor his
UST Then, you tell these people that they cannot treat their parents respectfully {by providing for them}
(οὐ μὴ τιμήσει & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms he and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [that person will certainly not honor his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT he will certainly not honor
UST Then, you tell these people that they cannot treat … respectfully {by providing for them}
(οὐ μὴ τιμήσει)

Here Jesus could mean that the scribes and Pharisees taught that: (1) the person was not allowed to honor his father. Alternate translation: [he is certainly not allowed to honor]; (2) the person did not have to honor his father. Alternate translation: [he does not need to honor]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT certainly not
UST Then, you tell these people that … cannot (οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

ULT father
UST their parents
(τὸν πατέρα)

Here Jesus implies that this person will also not honor his mother. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [father or his mother]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT And
UST In that way
(καὶ)

Here, the word And introduces the result of what the Pharisees and scribes tell people that they can do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [So,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT you have set aside the word of God because of your tradition
UST you use the teachings that you received to ignore what God commanded (ἠκυρώσατε τὸν λόγον τοῦ Θεοῦ διὰ τὴν παράδοσιν ὑμῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these phrases, since the last phrase gives the reason for the result that the rest of the sentence describes. Alternate translation: [because of your tradition, you have set aside the word of God]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT you have set aside
> UST to ignore
> (ἠκυρώσατε)

Here Jesus speaks as if the word of God were an object that people could set aside and ignore. He means that they are ignoring the word of God and treating it like it is not important. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have nullified] or [you have ignored]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the word of God
> UST what God commanded
> (τὸν λόγον τοῦ Θεοῦ)

Jesus is using the term word to refer to the commands that God gave using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what God said]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the word
> UST what … commanded
> (τὸν λόγον)

Many ancient manuscripts read the word. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "the commandment," and some other ancient manuscripts read "the law." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT your tradition
> UST you use the teachings that you received
> (τὴν παράδοσιν ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of tradition, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what you were taught]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
he will … honor	they … treat … respectfully {by providing for them} word of God	what God commanded tradition	you use the teachings that you received

Matthew 15:7

ULT	UST
Hypocrites! Isaiah prophesied well about you, saying,	You say that you obey God, but you really do not! Isaiah {the prophet} was right when God spoke through him about you,

ULT well
UST was right
(καλῶς)

Here, Jesus' use of the word well indicates that he believed that what Isaiah prophesied about the scribes and Pharisees accurately describes them. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [accurately] or [truly]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
(λέγων)

Here Jesus introduces a quotation from the Old Testament scriptures, specifically from Isaiah 29:13. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a quotation from an important text, and you could include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [saying in the book of Isaiah] or [as it is written]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Hypocrites	You say that you obey God, but you really do not
Isaiah	Isaiah {the prophet}
prophesied	when God spoke through him

Matthew 15:8

ULT	UST
‘This people honors me with their lips, but their heart is far away from me.	‘You people treat me respectfully when you talk, but you do not really care about me.

ULT This people honors
UST You people treat … respectfully
(ὁ λαὸς οὗτος & τιμᾷ)

Here, the phrase This people refers to the Israelites about whom Isaiah was speaking. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [The Israelites honor] or [These Jewish people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT me … me
UST me … you do not really care about me
(με & ἐμοῦ)

Here, both uses of the word me refer to God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to him more directly. Alternate translation: [me, their God, … me]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT with their lips
UST when you talk
(τοῖς χείλεσίν)

Here, lips represent someone speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with their speech] or [with their words]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT their heart is far away from me
UST you do not really care about me
(ἡ & καρδία αὐτῶν πόρρω ἀπέχει ἀπ᾽ ἐμοῦ)

Here Isaiah speaks as if the Israelites' heart was far away from God. He means that they do not think about God or want to obey him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it is as if their hearts were far away from me] or [they do not want to serve me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT their heart is far away
UST you do not really care about me
(ἡ & καρδία αὐτῶν πόρρω ἀπέχει)

If it would not be natural in your language to speak as if a group of people had only one heart, you could use the plural form of that word in your translation. Alternate translation: [their hearts are far away]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT their heart
UST you do not really care about me
(ἡ & καρδία αὐτῶν)

In the author's culture, the heart is the place where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the place where humans think and feel in your culture or by expressing the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [their mind] or [their thinking]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
honors	treat … respectfully

Matthew 15:9

ULT	UST
But they worship me in vain, teaching as doctrines commandments of men.’”	When you worship me, it is useless. {That is because} you use only what humans have commanded to instruct others.’”

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next idea in the quotation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next idea, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT teaching
UST {That is because} you use … to instruct others (διδάσκοντες)

Here, the word teaching introduces a reason why their worship is in vain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason. Alternate translation: [since they teach]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT as doctrines commandments of men
UST {That is because} you use only what humans have commanded to instruct others (διδασκαλίας ἐντάλματα ἀνθρώπων)

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of doctrines and commandments, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [as authoritative what men have commanded]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT commandments of men
> UST only what humans have commanded > (ἐντάλματα ἀνθρώπων)

Here, Isaiah is using the possessive form to describe commandments that are given by men. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [things commanded by men]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT of men
> UST humans
> (ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Isaiah is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [of people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they worship	When you worship
in vain	it is useless
as doctrines	{That is because} you use … to instruct others

Matthew 15:10

ULT	UST
And having summoned the crowd, he said to them, “Listen and understand:	Then Jesus told the large group of people to come to him. He told them, “Listen {to what I am about to say} and learn {from it}.

(There are no notes for this verse)

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having summoned	Jesus told … to come to him
understand	learn {from it}

Matthew 15:11

ULT	UST
What enters into the mouth does not defile the man, but what comes out from the mouth, this defiles the man."	Whatever people eat cannot make them unclean. Rather, it is what people say that makes them unclean."

ULT What enters into the mouth
UST Whatever people eat
(τὸ εἰσερχόμενον εἰς τὸ στόμα)

Here Jesus is referring to food and drink, which are what people put into their mouths. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [The food and drink that the man puts into his mouth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the mouth … the man … the mouth … the man
UST people eat … them … people say … them
(τὸ στόμα & τὸν ἄνθρωπον & τοῦ στόματος & τὸν ἄνθρωπον)

The phrases the mouth and the man represent men and their mouths in general, not one particular man and his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [someone's mouth … that person … someone's mouth … that person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT the man … the man
UST them … them
(τὸν ἄνθρωπον)

Although the term man is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [the person … the person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT what comes out from the mouth, this
UST it is what people say
(τὸ ἐκπορευόμενον ἐκ τοῦ στόματος, τοῦτο)

Here, the word this refers directly back to what comes out from the mouth. Jesus expresses the idea in this way to introduce what comes out from the mouth and then explain what it does. If stating the topic and then referring back to it with the word this would be redundant in your language, you could omit the redundant information. Alternate translation: [what comes out from the mouth]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT what comes out from the mouth
UST what people say
(τὸ ἐκπορευόμενον ἐκ τοῦ στόματος)

Here Jesus is referring to words, which are what come out of people's mouths. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the words that come out of his mouth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT comes out
UST people say
(ἐκπορευόμενον)

In a context such as this, your language might say "goes" instead of comes. Alternate translation: [goes out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
does … defile	make … unclean
defiles	that makes … unclean

Matthew 15:12

ULT	UST
Then, having approached, the disciples said to him, "Do you know that the Pharisees, having heard this word, were caused to stumble?"	Later, his apprentices went to him and asked him, "We want you to know that the Pharisees heard what you said and became very upset."

ULT Do you know that the Pharisees, having heard this word, were caused to stumble
UST We want you to know that the Pharisees heard what you said and became very upset
(οἶδας ὅτι οἱ Φαρισαῖοι ἀκούσαντες τὸν λόγον ἐσκανδαλίσθησαν)

The disciples are using the question form to inform Jesus about how the Pharisees responded. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should know that the Pharisees, having heard this word, were offended.] or [The Pharisees, having heard this word, were offended!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Do you know
UST We want you to know
(οἶδας)

Here, the word you is singular since the disciples are speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT the Pharisees, having heard this word, were caused to stumble
UST the Pharisees heard what you said and became very upset
(οἱ Φαρισαῖοι ἀκούσαντες τὸν λόγον ἐσκανδαλίσθησαν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [you caused the Pharisees to stumble when they heard this word]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT this word
UST what you said
(τὸν λόγον)

The disciples is using the term word to refer to what Jesus said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the words that you spoke] or [the things that you said]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT were caused to stumble
UST and became very upset
(ἐσκανδαλίσθησαν)

Here disciples speaks as if the word that Jesus said were a lump or rock that the Pharisees were stumbling over. They mean that the Pharisees were offended by what he said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [were offended]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	his apprentices
Do you know	We want you to know
Pharisees	Pharisees

Matthew 15:13

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said, "Every plant that my heavenly Father has not planted will be uprooted.	Jesus replied, "{Those Pharisees are like} plants that God my Father, who rules from heaven, did not plant. {He will punish them in the same way that} he would tear up such plants.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Every plant that my heavenly Father has not planted will be uprooted
UST {Those Pharisees are like} plants that God my Father, who rules from heaven, did not plant. {He will punish them in the same way that} he would tear up such plants
(πᾶσα φυτεία ἣν οὐκ ἐφύτευσεν ὁ Πατήρ μου ὁ οὐράνιος ἐκριζωθήσεται)

Here Jesus speaks of the Pharisees who were offended by him as if they were plants that God did not plant. He means that they are not serving God. Then Jesus speaks of God's punishment as if he would uproot these plants. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Those Pharisees are like plants that my heavenly Father will uproot because he did not plant them] or [Those Pharisees will be punished by my heavenly Father because they have not obeyed him]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT my heavenly Father
UST God my Father, who rules from heaven
(ὁ Πατήρ μου ὁ οὐράνιος)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus his Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT will be uprooted
UST {He will punish them in the same way that} he would tear up such plants (ἐκριζωθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [he will uproot]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
heavenly	who rules from heaven
Father	God … Father
has … planted	did … plant

Matthew 15:14

ULT	UST
Leave them! They are blind guides. But if a blind one guides a blind one, both will fall into a pit."	Do not listen to them. They do not know what they should be teaching. They are like blind people who guide other blind people right into a hole in the ground."

ULT Leave them
UST Do not listen to them
(ἄφετε αὐτούς)

Here, the clause Leave them means that the disciples should not worry about or pay attention to the Pharisees who were offended by Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Ignore them] or [Do not pay attention to them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT them! They are
UST them. They (αὐτούς & εἰσιν)

The words them and They refer to the Pharisees who were offended by Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to them more directly. Alternate translation: [those Pharisees! They are]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT They are blind guides But if a blind one guides a blind one, both will fall into a pit
UST They do not know what they should be teaching. They are like blind people who guide other blind people right into a hole in the ground
(ὁδηγοί εἰσιν τυφλοί τυφλὸς, δὲ τυφλὸν ἐὰν ὁδηγῇ, ἀμφότεροι εἰς βόθυνον πεσοῦνται)

Here, Jesus speaks of the Pharisees who were offended by him as if they were blind guides, and he speaks of other Jewish people as if they were blind people. He means that neither the Pharisees nor the rest of the people know what is right, but the Pharisees teach the people anyway, even though what they teach is wrong. If possible, preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [They are like blind guides. They teach people what is wrong, just as a blind one guides a blind one so that they both fall into a pit]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT They are blind guides
UST They do not know what they should be teaching (ὁδηγοί εἰσιν τυφλοί)

Many ancient manuscripts read They are blind guides. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read "They are blind guides of the blind." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that Jesus wants to say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next idea, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [So,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if a blind one guides a blind one, both will fall
UST They are like blind people who guide other blind people right into a hole in the ground
(τυφλὸς & τυφλὸν ἐὰν ὁδηγῇ, ἀμφότεροι & πεσοῦνται)

Here Jesus uses an imaginary situation to help explain what would happen if a blind person guided another blind person. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [imagine a blind one guiding a blind one. They would both fall]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a pit	right into a hole in the ground

Matthew 15:15

ULT	UST
But answering, Peter said to him, "Explain the parable to us."	Peter replied, "Please tell us what that story means."

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Explain
UST Please tell … what … means
(φράσον)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask that you explain]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Explain
UST Please tell … what … means
(φράσον)

Here, the command is singular because the Peter is speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT the parable
UST that story
(τὴν παραβολήν)

Here Peter could be referring to: (1) the parable about blind people guiding other blind people (see 15:14). Alternate translation: [the parable about the blind guides]; (2) the parable about things that go into and out of a person (see 15:11). Alternate translation: [the parable about what goes into a person]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT to us
> UST us
> (ἡμῖν)

By us, Peter means himself and the other disciples but not Jesus, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter
parable	that story

Matthew 15:16

ULT	UST
But he said, “Are you also still without understanding?	Jesus answered, “You too have not yet learned what I mean.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Are you also still without understanding
UST You too have not yet learned what I mean (ἀκμὴν καὶ ὑμεῖς ἀσύνετοί ἐστε)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the disciples for how they still do not understand what he is saying. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You are still without understanding.] or [I am amazed that you still do not understand!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

Matthew 15:17

ULT	UST
Do you not yet understand that everything that enters into the mouth passes into the stomach and is passed out into the latrine?	I want you to realize that everything that people eat simply goes into their stomachs. Eventually, their bodies expel what they ate into toilets.

ULT Do you not yet understand that everything that enters into the mouth passes into the stomach and is passed out into the latrine
UST I want you to realize that everything that people eat simply goes into their stomachs. Eventually, their bodies expel what they ate into toilets
(οὔπω νοεῖτε ὅτι πᾶν τὸ εἰσπορευόμενον εἰς τὸ στόμα, εἰς τὴν κοιλίαν χωρεῖ, καὶ εἰς ἀφεδρῶνα ἐκβάλλεται)

Jesus is using the question form to remind his disciples about what happens to the food that people eat. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You should already understand that everything that enters into the mouth passes into the stomach and is passed out into the latrine.] or [You already know that everything that enters into the mouth passes into the stomach and is passed out into the latrine!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT everything that enters into the mouth
UST everything that people eat
(πᾶν τὸ εἰσπορευόμενον εἰς τὸ στόμα)

Here Jesus is referring to food and drink, which are what people put into their mouths. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. See how you translated the similar phrase in 15:11. Alternate translation: [all the food and drink that a person puts into his mouth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT into the mouth … into the stomach
UST that people eat … into their stomachs
(εἰς τὸ στόμα, εἰς τὴν κοιλίαν)

The phrases the mouth and the stomach represent mouths and stomachs in general, not one particular mouth and stomach. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [into someone's mouth … into that person's stomach]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT is passed out into the latrine
UST their bodies expel what they ate into toilets
(εἰς ἀφεδρῶνα ἐκβάλλεται)

Jesus is referring to the process of expelling and removing feces and urine in a polite way by using the phrase is passed out into the latrine. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [is evacuated from the bowels] or [passes out of the body as waste]

Support Reference: Euphemism

ULT is passed out
UST their bodies expel what they ate (ἐκβάλλεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it is the person's body or bowels. Alternate translation: [the body passes it out] or [the bowels pass it out]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the latrine
UST toilets
(ἀφεδρῶνα)

A latrine is a place where people expel feces and urine. If your readers would not be familiar with this word, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the bathroom] or [the water closet]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do you … understand	I want you to realize is passed out	their bodies expel what they ate

Matthew 15:18

ULT	UST
But the things coming out from the mouth come from the heart, and those defile the man.	What actually makes people unclean is what they say, which shows what they think and care about.

ULT the things coming out from the mouth
UST is what they say
(τὰ & ἐκπορευόμενα ἐκ τοῦ στόματος)

Here Jesus is referring to words, which are what come out of people's mouths. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. See how you translated the similar phrase in 15:11. Alternate translation: [the words that come out of the mouth]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT coming out … come
UST is what they say, which shows what they think and care about (ἐκπορευόμενα & ἐξέρχεται)

In a context such as this, your language might say "going" and "go" instead of coming and come. Alternate translation: [going out … go]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the mouth … the heart … the man
UST people … is what they say, which shows what they think and care about (τοῦ στόματος & τῆς καρδίας & τὸν ἄνθρωπον)

The phrases the mouth, the heart, and the man represent men, their mouths, and their hearts in general, not one particular man, his mouth, and his heart. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [someone's mouth … that person's heart … that person]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT the heart
> UST which shows what they think and care about > (τῆς καρδίας)

In the author's culture, the heart is the place where humans think and feel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate heart by referring to the place where humans think and feel in your culture or by expressing the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [the mind] or [the thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT the man
> UST people
> (τὸν ἄνθρωπον)

Although the term man is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [the person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
defile	makes … unclean

Matthew 15:19

ULT	UST
For from the heart come evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual immoralities, thefts, false testimonies, blasphemies.	In fact, it is because of what people think and care about that they think evil things, kill others, are sexually unfaithful to their spouses, have improper sex, steal things, speak what is untrue, and say bad things {about God or others}.

ULT For
UST In fact
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a basis for the claim that Jesus made in the previous verse about how what comes out of the heart defiles a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [That is because] or [I say that because]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the heart
UST what people think and care about
(τῆς καρδίας)

The phrase the heart represents hearts in general, not one particular heart. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [people's hearts]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT the heart
UST what people think and care about
(τῆς καρδίας)

See how you translated heart in 15:18. Alternate translation: [the mind] or [the thoughts]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT come
UST it is because of (ἐξέρχονται)

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [go]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual immoralities, thefts, false testimonies, blasphemies
UST that they think evil things, kill others, are sexually unfaithful to their spouses, have improper sex, steal things, speak what is untrue, and say bad things {about God or others}
(διαλογισμοὶ πονηροί, φόνοι, μοιχεῖαι, πορνεῖαι, κλοπαί, ψευδομαρτυρίαι, βλασφημίαι)

It may be more natural in your language to use a singular form for one or more of these terms. Alternate translation: [evil thinking, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false testimony, and blasphemy]

Support Reference: Unusual Uses of the Plural

ULT evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual immoralities, thefts, false testimonies, blasphemies
UST that they think evil things, kill others, are sexually unfaithful to their spouses, have improper sex, steal things, speak what is untrue, and say bad things {about God or others}
(διαλογισμοὶ πονηροί, φόνοι, μοιχεῖαι, πορνεῖαι, κλοπαί, ψευδομαρτυρίαι, βλασφημίαι)

If your language does not use nouns for some or all of the ideas in this list, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [evil things that people do, including evil thinking, murdering, acting in adulterous and sexually immoral ways, stealing things, claiming that something false is true, and blaspheming]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	evil
adulteries	are sexually unfaithful to their spouses
sexual immoralities	have improper sex
false testimonies	speak what is untrue
blasphemies	and say bad things {about God or others}

Matthew 15:20

ULT	UST
These are the things defiling the man, but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile the man."	It is doing those things that makes people unclean. However, when people do not cleanse their hands before they eat, that does not make them unclean."

ULT the man … the man
UST people … them
(τὸν ἄνθρωπον & τὸν ἄνθρωπον)

The phrase the man represents men in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [someone … someone]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT man … man
UST people … them
(ἄνθρωπον & ἄνθρωπον)

Although the term man is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [person … person]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT to eat with unwashed hands
UST when people do not cleanse their hands before they eat
(τὸ & ἀνίπτοις χερσὶν φαγεῖν)

Here Jesus refers to how people would wash their hands with water to make them ritually or ceremonially clean. See the chapter introduction for more information about this kind of washing. Express the idea as you did in 15:2. Alternate translation: [to eat without ceremonially washing one's hands with water]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
defiling	that makes … unclean
does … defile	that does … make … unclean

Matthew 15:21

ULT	UST
And having come out from there, Jesus withdrew into the regions of Tyre and Sidon.	After that, Jesus {and his apprentices} left the region of Gennesaret. They traveled to the areas near the cities of Tyre and Sidon.

ULT And having come out from there
UST After that … left the region of Gennesaret
(καὶ ἐξελθὼν ἐκεῖθεν)

Here, the phrase And having come out from there introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that introduces a new event. Alternate translation: [After Jesus said those things, he came out from there. Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT having come out
UST left
(ἐξελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT from there
UST the region of Gennesaret
(ἐκεῖθεν)

Here, the word there refers to the region of Gennesaret (see 14:34), which is where Jesus was teaching the disciples. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from where he was] or [from Gennesaret]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Jesus withdrew
UST Jesus {and his apprentices} … They traveled
(ὁ Ἰησοῦς ἀνεχώρησεν)

Matthew implies that the disciples went with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus {and his apprentices}
of Tyre	near the cities of Tyre
Sidon	Sidon

Matthew 15:22

ULT	UST
And behold, a Canaanite woman, having come out from those regions, was crying out, saying, "Have mercy on me, Lord, Son of David! My daughter is severely demon-possessed."	Then, a non-Jewish woman who was from those areas visited Jesus. She called out to him, "My Lord, you who are a descendant of King David, help me! A demon is controlling my daughter and making her suffer."

ULT behold, a Canaanite woman, having come out from those regions, was crying out
UST a non-Jewish woman who was from those areas visited Jesus. She called out to him
(ἰδοὺ, γυνὴ Χαναναία ἀπὸ τῶν ὁρίων ἐκείνων ἐξελθοῦσα, ἔκραζεν)

Matthew introduces a Canaanite woman as a new character in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a new character. Alternate translation: [behold, there was a woman who was a Canaanite. She came out from those regions to Jesus, and she was crying out]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [listen] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT having come out from those regions
UST who was from those areas visited Jesus
(ἀπὸ τῶν ὁρίων ἐκείνων ἐξελθοῦσα)

Matthew implies that the woman left her home and went to where Jesus was. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having come out from her home in those regions to go to where Jesus was]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having come out
> UST visited Jesus
> (ἐξελθοῦσα)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT saying
> (λέγουσα)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and she said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT Have mercy on me, Lord, Son of David! My daughter is severely demon-possessed
> UST My Lord, you who are a descendant of King David, help me! A demon is controlling my daughter and making her suffer
> (ἐλέησόν με, Κύριε, Υἱὸς Δαυείδ; ἡ θυγάτηρ μου κακῶς δαιμονίζεται)

Here the woman asks Jesus to have mercy on her before she says why she needs help. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include why she needs help before she asks for mercy. Alternate translation: [Lord, my daughter is severely demon-possessed. Have mercy on me, Son of David!]

Support Reference: Information Structure

> ULT Have mercy on me
> UST help me
> (ἐλέησόν με)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Be merciful to me]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT Have mercy
> UST help
> (ἐλέησόν)

Here the command is singular because the woman is speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT Son of David
UST you who are a descendant of King David
(Υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

Here, the word Son means a male descendant. It does not mean that Jesus was the direct son of David. Express the idea as you did in 9:27. Alternate translation: [Descendant of David] or [you who are descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT My daughter is severely demon-possessed
UST A demon is controlling my daughter and making her suffer
(ἡ θυγάτηρ μου κακῶς δαιμονίζεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A demon is severely possessing my daughter]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT is severely demon-possessed
UST A demon is controlling … and making her suffer (κακῶς δαιμονίζεται)

Here the woman implies that the demon is hurting or injuring her daughter. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [is painfully demon-possessed] or [is demon-possessed and suffering greatly]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Canaanite	non-Jewish
was crying out	She called out to him
Have mercy	help
Lord	My Lord
of David	of King David
is … demon-possessed	A demon is controlling

Matthew 15:23

ULT	UST
But he did not answer her a word. And having approached, his disciples were begging him, saying, "Send her away, for she is crying out after us."	However, Jesus did not say anything to her. Then his apprentices came to him and said, "This woman is {bothering us by} following us and calling out to you. Please tell her to go home."

ULT did not answer her a word
UST did not say anything to her (οὐκ ἀπεκρίθη αὐτῇ λόγον)

Matthew is using the term word to mean something spoken in words. The phrase did not answer her a word means that Jesus did not use words to respond to the woman's requests. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [kept silent] or [did not answer her in any way]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT having approached
UST came to him
(προσελθόντες)

Matthew implies that the disciples approached Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [having approached Jesus]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST and said
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation without the preceding comma: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Send her away, for she is crying out after us
UST This woman is {bothering us by} following us and calling out to you. Please tell her to go home (ἀπόλυσον αὐτήν, ὅτι κράζει ὄπισθεν ἡμῶν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the request that the first clause expresses. Alternate translation: [She is crying out after us, so send her away]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Send her away
UST Please tell her to go home
(ἀπόλυσον αὐτήν)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [We ask that you send her away]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Send her away
UST Please tell her to go home
(ἀπόλυσον αὐτήν)

Here the disciples could be asking Jesus: (1) to tell the women to leave them alone and go away. Alternate translation: [Make her leave us alone]; (2) to cast the demon out of the woman’s daughter and tell her to go home. Alternate translation: [Cast the demon out of her daughter and send her away]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Send her away
UST Please tell her to go home
(ἀπόλυσον αὐτήν)

Here the command is singular because the disciples are speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT she is crying out after us
UST This woman is {bothering us by} following us and calling out to you (κράζει ὄπισθεν ἡμῶν)

Here the disciples imply that the woman was walking behind them and crying out many times. The disciples found this very annoying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some or all of that information explicit. Alternate translation: [she is following us and annoying us by crying out]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
she is crying out	and calling out to you

Matthew 15:24

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said, "I was not sent, except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel."	Jesus answered them, "God told me to go only to my fellow Israelites. They are like sheep who have wandered off {and need help}."

ULT said
UST answered them
(εἶπεν)

Matthew does not specify to whom Jesus said these words. It is possible that it was the woman, or more likely, the disciples. If possible, do not specify to whom Jesus said these words. Alternate translation: [spoke these words:]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT I was not sent, except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel
UST God told me to go only to my fellow Israelites. They are like sheep who have wandered off {and need help}
(οὐκ ἀπεστάλην εἰ μὴ εἰς τὰ πρόβατα τὰ ἀπολωλότα οἴκου Ἰσραήλ)

If it would in appear your language that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT I was not sent
UST God told me to go
(οὐκ ἀπεστάλην)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God did not send me]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the lost sheep of the house of Israel
UST my fellow Israelites. They are like sheep who have wandered off {and need help}
(τὰ πρόβατα τὰ ἀπολωλότα οἴκου Ἰσραήλ)

Here Jesus could be using the possessive form to describe: (1) all of the house of Israel as lost sheep. Alternate translation: [the lost sheep, who are the house of Israel]; (2) some of the house of Israel as lost sheep. Alternate translation: [the lost sheep among the house of Israel]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the lost sheep of the house of Israel
UST my fellow Israelites. They are like sheep who have wandered off {and need help}
(τὰ πρόβατα τὰ ἀπολωλότα οἴκου Ἰσραήλ)

Here Jesus speaks of his fellow Jewish people as if they were lost sheep. He means that they are not following God, and they need help. This is an important metaphor in the Bible, so you could preserve the figure of speech or use simile form. See how you translated this phrase in 10:6. Alternate translation: [the house of Israel, who are like lost sheep] or [the house of Israel, who are far away from God, like lost sheep]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT of the house of Israel
UST my fellow Israelites
(οἴκου Ἰσραήλ)

Here Jesus refers to a people group or nation as if it were a house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated this phrase in 10:6. Alternate translation: [of the nation of Israel] or [of the Israelites]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
lost	who have wandered off {and need help}
sheep	They are like sheep
of the house	my fellow Israelites of Israel	my fellow Israelites

Matthew 15:25

ULT	UST
But she, having come, bowed down to him, saying, "Lord, help me."	Then the woman approached Jesus. She knelt down in front of him and pled, "My Lord, please help me!"

ULT But
UST Then
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT bowed down to him
UST She knelt down in front of him
(προσεκύνει αὐτῷ)

In the woman's culture, bowing down to a person was a way to honor a greater person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to a similar action from your culture, or you could explain what bowing down means. Alternate translation: [prostrated herself before him] or [bowed down to him in respect]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT help
UST please help
(βοήθει)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask that you help]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT help
> UST please help
> (βοήθει)

Here, the command is singular because the woman is speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
bowed down	She knelt down
Lord	My Lord

Matthew 15:26

ULT	UST
Now he, answering, said, "It is not good to take the bread of the children and to throw {it} to the little dogs."	Jesus replied, "Suppose that someone takes food for children and gives it to dogs instead. That is not appropriate! {That is why I am not helping you.}"

ULT It is not good to take the bread of the children and to throw {it} to the little dogs
UST Suppose that someone takes food for children and gives it to dogs instead. That is not appropriate! {That is why I am not helping you … }
(οὐκ ἔστιν καλὸν λαβεῖν τὸν ἄρτον τῶν τέκνων καὶ βαλεῖν τοῖς κυναρίοις)

To explain to the woman why he has not helped her, Jesus offers a story or illustration. In the story, the children represent the Jewish people, the little dogs represent non-Jewish people, and the bread represents the help that Jesus gives to people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate that this is a story with a specific message, or you could explain what the parable means. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: It is not good to take the bread of the children and to throw {it} to the little dogs] or [It is not good to take the bread of the children and to throw it to the little dogs. That is what helping you instead of my fellow Jews would be like]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT the bread of the children
UST food for children
(τὸν ἄρτον τῶν τέκνων)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe bread that was prepared for the children to eat. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the food prepared for the children] or [the food that the children were going to eat]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT the bread
UST food
(τὸν ἄρτον)

Jesus is using bread to represent food. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the meals]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

ULT to throw {it} to the little dogs
UST gives it to dogs instead (βαλεῖν τοῖς κυναρίοις)

Here Jesus implies that the bread is thrown to the little dogs so that they can eat it. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to throw it to the little dogs for them to eat]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to the little dogs
UST to dogs
(τοῖς κυναρίοις)

Here, the phrase little dogs could describe: (1) domesticated animals that eat pests and can protect houses and families. You could use the name of a similar animal in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [to the domesticated animals] or [to the guard animals]; (2) scavenging animals that were generally considered unclean and dirty. You could use the name of a similar animal in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [to the scavenging animals] or [to the dirty animals]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
good	appropriate! {That is why I am not helping you … }
bread	food

Matthew 15:27

ULT	UST
But she said, "Yes, Lord, for also the little dogs eat from the crumbs falling from the table of their masters."	The woman replied, "My Lord, what you say is correct. In fact, though, dogs do eat leftovers that their owners spill on the ground. {What I am asking you to do is like those leftovers.}"

ULT Yes
UST what you say is correct
(ναί)

Here, the woman uses the word Yes to indicate that she understands and agrees with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Yes, I agree] or [Yes, that is true]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for also
UST In fact, though
(καὶ γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces the woman's further explanation of what Jesus said about children and little dogs. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [but it is also true] or [yet even further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT for also the little dogs eat from the crumbs falling from the table of their masters
UST In fact, though, dogs do eat leftovers that their owners spill on the ground. {What I am asking you to do is like those leftovers … }
(καὶ γὰρ τὰ κυνάρια ἐσθίει ἀπὸ τῶν ψιχίων τῶν πιπτόντων ἀπὸ τῆς τραπέζης τῶν κυρίων αὐτῶν)

To ask Jesus to help her, the woman offers a story or illustration based on the parable that Jesus told in 15:26. In the story, the little dogs represent non-Jewish people, and the crumbs represent the help that Jesus gives to people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate that this is a story with a specific message, or you could explain what the parable means. Alternate translation: [and here is a similar story: the little dogs eat from the crumbs falling from the table of their masters] or [for also the little dogs eat from the crumbs falling from the table of their masters. That is what helping me would be like]

Support Reference: Parables

> ULT the little dogs
> UST dogs
> (τὰ κυνάρια)

See you how you translated this phrase in 15:26. Alternate translation: [to the domesticated animals] or [to the scavenging animals]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the crumbs falling from the table of their masters
> UST leftovers that their owners spill on the ground. {What I am asking you to do is like those leftovers … }
> (τῶν ψιχίων τῶν πιπτόντων ἀπὸ τῆς τραπέζης τῶν κυρίων αὐτῶν)

Here the woman refers to how dogs often eat bits of food that fall off the table where the dogs' owners are eating. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the bits of food that fall off the place where their masters are eating]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the table
> UST on the ground. {What I am asking you to do is like those leftovers … }
> (τῆς τραπέζης)

In this verse, the word table is singular in form, but it refers to all the tables of their masters as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [the tables]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	My Lord
of … masters	owners

Matthew 15:28

ULT	UST
Then answering, Jesus said to her, "O woman, great {is} your faith; let it be done for you just as you desire." And her daughter was healed from that hour.	When {he heard that,} Jesus told her, "You have impressed me because you trust me very much! I will do for you what you want me to do." At that very moment, Jesus cured her daughter.

ULT O woman
UST You have impressed me because (ὦ γύναι)

Here Jesus uses the phrase O woman to address the Canaanite woman. This phrase was a polite way to refer to someone, and Jesus uses it to show how impressed he is with what the woman said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that refers politely to a woman who has a daughter. Alternate translation: [My dear woman] or [My lady]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT great {is} your faith
UST you trust me very much (μεγάλη σου ἡ πίστις)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you have believed greatly]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT your … for you … you desire
UST for you … you want me to do
(σου & σοι & θέλεις)

Here, the words your, you, and you are singular because Jesus is speaking to the woman.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT let it be done
> UST I will do
> (γενηθήτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [It will be done] or [I am doing it]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT let it be done
> UST I will do
> (γενηθήτω)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [let it happen] or [let God do it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT her daughter was healed
> UST Jesus cured her daughter
> (ἰάθη ἡ θυγάτηρ αὐτῆς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [Jesus healed her daughter]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT from that hour
> UST At that very moment
> (ἀπὸ τῆς ὥρας ἐκείνης)

Here, the phrase from that hour indicates that the woman's daughter was healed at the time when Jesus said those words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [right then] or [at that time]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
is … faith	you trust me

ULT	UST
hour	At that very moment

Matthew 15:29

ULT	UST
And having left from there, Jesus went along the Sea of Galilee, and having gone up on a mountain, he was sitting there.	After that, Jesus {and his apprentices} left {the areas near the cities of Tyre and Sidon}. They traveled to the shore of the Sea of Galilee. Then Jesus went up on a hill and sat down.

ULT And having left from there, Jesus
UST After that, Jesus {and his apprentices} left {the areas near the cities of Tyre and Sidon}
(καὶ μεταβὰς ἐκεῖθεν, ὁ Ἰησοῦς)

Here, the phrase And having left from there introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event. Alternate translation: [Then Jesus left that place. He]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT from there
UST the areas near the cities of Tyre and Sidon
(ἐκεῖθεν)

Here, the word "there" refers to the area near the cities of Tyre and Sidon (see 15:21), where Jesus was when he spoke with the Canaanite woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [from the region of Tyre and Sidon] or [from where he met the Canaanite woman]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Jesus went
UST Jesus {and his apprentices} … They traveled
(ὁ Ἰησοῦς ἦλθεν)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples went]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having gone up
> UST Jesus went up
> (ἀναβὰς)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come up]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT a mountain
> UST a hill
> (τὸ ὄρος)

Matthew does not clarify what mountain this is or how high up it is. If possible, use a general word for a hill or small mountain without indicating one particular place. Alternate translation: [a high place] or [a small mountain]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus {and his apprentices}
Sea of Galilee	Sea of Galilee
of Galilee	of Galilee

Matthew 15:30

ULT	UST
And large crowds approached him, having with them the lame, the blind, the crippled, the mute, and many others. And they laid them at his feet, and he healed them,	Large groups of people came to him. They brought people who could not walk, people who could not see, people who could not use their hands normally, people who could not speak, and people who were sick in many other ways. They set these people down in front of Jesus. Then, Jesus cured these people.

ULT the lame, the blind, the crippled, the mute
UST people who could not walk, people who could not see, people who could not use their hands normally, people who could not speak
(χωλούς, τυφλούς, κυλλούς, κωφούς)

Matthew is using the adjectives lame, blind, crippled, and mute as nouns to mean people who were sick in all those ways. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [people who were lame, blind, crippled, and mute]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT many others
UST people who were sick in many other ways
(ἑτέρους πολλούς)

Matthew implies that these people were sick in other ways. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [many other sick people] or [many who were sick in various other ways]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they laid them at his feet
UST They set these people down in front of Jesus
(ἔρριψαν αὐτοὺς παρὰ τοὺς πόδας αὐτοῦ)

Here, the phrase they laid them at his feet means that the crowds laid the sick people in front of Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they laid them before him]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT they laid them … them
> UST They set these people down … these people
> (ἔρριψαν αὐτοὺς & αὐτούς)

Here, the word they refers to the large crowds, and the word them refers to the sick people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the crowds laid the sick people … those sick people]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Matthew 15:31

ULT	UST
so that the crowd marveled, seeing the mute speaking, the crippled healthy, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing, and they glorified the God of Israel.	The large group of people saw {what Jesus had done}. People who could not talk were now speaking. People who could not use their hands normally were now able to do so. People who could not walk were now walking. People who could not see were now seeing. What Jesus had done impressed the large group of people. They praised the God whom the Israelites worship.

ULT so that
UST What Jesus had done
(ὥστε)

Here, the phrase so that introduces a result from Jesus healing many sick people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [with the result that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the mute … the crippled … the lame … the blind
UST People who could not talk … People who could not use their hands normally … People who could not walk … People who could not see (κωφοὺς & κυλλοὺς & χωλοὺς & τυφλοὺς)

See how you translated these phrases in 15:30. Alternate translation: [people who were mute … people who were crippled … people who were lame … people who were blind]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT the God of Israel
UST the God whom the Israelites worship
(τὸν Θεὸν Ἰσραήλ)

Matthew is using the possessive form to describe the God whom Israel worships. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the God whom Israel worships]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of Israel
UST whom the Israelites worship
(Ἰσραήλ)

Here, the word Israel refers to the people of Israel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of the people of Israel]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they glorified	They praised
God	God
of Israel	whom the Israelites worship

Matthew 15:32

ULT	UST
But Jesus, having summoned his disciples, said, "I have compassion on the crowd, because they are remaining with me already three days and do not have anything {that} they might eat. And I do not want to send them away hungry, lest they might faint on the way."	After that, Jesus told his apprentices to come to him. He said to them, "I pity the large group of people. They have already spent three days with me, and they do not have any food to eat. Further, I do not want to tell them to go home while they are hungry, because then they might pass out while they are walking home."

ULT But
UST After that
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT I have compassion on the crowd, because they are remaining with me already three days and do not have anything {that} they might eat
UST I pity the large group of people. They have already spent three days with me, and they do not have any food to eat
(σπλαγχνίζομαι ἐπὶ τὸν ὄχλον, ὅτι ἤδη ἡμέραι τρεῖς προσμένουσίν μοι, καὶ οὐκ ἔχουσιν τι φάγωσιν)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The crowd is remaining with me already three days and does not have anything to eat, so I have compassion on them]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I have compassion on
UST I pity
(σπλαγχνίζομαι ἐπὶ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of compassion, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I sympathize with]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT they might faint
UST they might pass out
(ἐκλυθῶσιν)

Alternate translation: [they might become weary] or [they might lose their strength]

ULT on the way
UST while they are walking home
(ἐν τῇ ὁδῷ)

Here Jesus implies that the people would be walking on the way to their homes. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [on the way to their homes] or [while they going home]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
having summoned	told … to come to him
disciples	apprentices
I have compassion	I pity
days	days

Matthew 15:33

ULT	UST
And the disciples say to him, "From where {would be} to us in a desolate place so many loaves so as to satisfy so large a crowd?"	The apprentices replied, "In this place where no one lives, we certainly do not have enough food for this large group of people to have enough to eat!"

ULT say
UST replied
(λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT From where {would be} to us in a desolate place so many loaves so as to satisfy so large a crowd
UST In this place where no one lives, we certainly do not have enough food for this large group of people to have enough to eat
(πόθεν ἡμῖν ἐν ἐρημίᾳ, ἄρτοι τοσοῦτοι ὥστε χορτάσαι ὄχλον τοσοῦτον)

The disciples are using the question form to tell Jesus that they do not have enough food for the crowd. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [It is impossible for us in a desolate place to find enough loaves so as to satisfy so large a crowd.] or [There is certainly no place in this desolate area where we can get enough loaves to satisfy so large a crowd!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT loaves
UST food
(ἄρτοι)

The disciples are using loaves to represent any food. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [portions of food]

Support Reference: Synecdoche

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
a desolate place	In this place where no one lives
loaves	food

Matthew 15:34

ULT	UST
And Jesus says to them, "How many loaves do you have?" And they said, "Seven, and a few small fish."	Jesus asked them, "How many loaves of bread do you have with you?" They replied, "We have with us seven loaves of bread and a few little fish."

> ULT says
> UST asked
> (λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT loaves
> UST loaves of bread
> (ἄρτους)

See how you translated loaves in 14:17. Alternate translation: [large chunks of bread]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT Seven, and
> UST We have with us seven loaves of bread and > (ἑπτά, καὶ)

The disciples are leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the verse if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [We have seven loaves and]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
loaves	loaves of bread

Matthew 15:35

ULT	UST
And having commanded the crowd to recline on the ground,	Then Jesus told the large group of people to sit down on the ground.

> ULT to recline on the ground
> UST to sit down on the ground
> (ἀναπεσεῖν ἐπὶ τὴν γῆν)

In Jesus' culture, people would usually recline, or lie on one side, when they were eating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the position in which people eat in your culture, or you could just refer to eating. Alternate translation: [to get ready to eat on the ground]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 15:36

ULT	UST
he took the seven loaves and the fish, and having given thanks, he broke {them} and was giving {them} to the disciples, and the disciples to the crowds.	He picked up the seven loaves of bread and the fish. Then he thanked God for the food. After that, he tore the bread into pieces and gave the pieces to his apprentices. They distributed them to the large group of people.

ULT loaves
UST loaves of bread
(ἄρτους)

See how you translated loaves in 14:17. Alternate translation: [large chunks of bread]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he broke {them} and was giving {them}
UST After that, he tore the bread into pieces and gave the pieces
(ἔκλασεν καὶ ἐδίδου)

Matthew means that Jesus broke the loaves of bread in pieces so that they could be served to the crowds. This was a normal practice in his culture. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he divided the loaves into servings and was giving them] or [he broke the loaves into smaller pieces and was giving the pieces]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the disciples to the crowds
UST They distributed them to the large group of people
(οἱ & μαθηταὶ τοῖς ὄχλοις)

Matthew is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the disciples gave them to the crowds]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
loaves	loaves of bread
to the disciples	to his apprentices
disciples	They distributed them

Matthew 15:37

ULT	UST
And they all ate and were satisfied. And they took up the remaining of the broken pieces—seven baskets full.	Everyone ate {the bread}, and they all had enough to eat. Then the apprentices gathered the food that was left. They filled seven large containers with the leftovers!

ULT they all ate … they took up
UST Everyone ate {the bread} … the apprentices gathered
(ἔφαγον πάντες & ἦραν)

The pronoun they in the phrase they all ate refers to the crowds. The pronoun they in the phrase they took up refers to the disciples. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the crowds all ate … the disciples took up]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT and were satisfied
UST and they all had enough to eat
(καὶ ἐχορτάσθησαν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your languages. Alternate translation: [until they were full]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the remaining of the broken pieces
UST the food that was left
(τὸ περισσεῦον τῶν κλασμάτων)

Here, the phrase the remaining refers to what was left after everyone ate. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the leftovers] or [what was left of the broken pieces]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT baskets
> UST large containers
> (σπυρίδας)

The word baskets refers to large, lightweight, containers that store food or other items. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of container, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [bags] or [containers]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

Matthew 15:38

ULT	UST
But those eating were 4,000 men, besides women and children.	{About} 4, 000 men ate {the bread}, and there were women and children there too!

> ULT But
> (δὲ)

Matthews uses the word But to introduce background information that helps the readers understand how amazing what Jesus did was. The word does not introduce another event in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing background information. Alternate translation: [As for how many people were there,] or [In the end,]

Support Reference: Background Information

> ULT besides women and children
> UST and there were women and children there too
> (χωρὶς γυναικῶν καὶ παιδίων)

Matthew means that the number he has given does not include women and children. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [which does not include women and children]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 15:39

ULT	UST
And having sent away the crowds, he got into the boat and went into the regions of Magadan.	After he told the large group of people to go home, Jesus climbed into a boat. He {and his apprentices} sailed to the areas near the town of Magadan.

ULT he got
UST Jesus climbed (ἐνέβη)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples got]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT went
UST He {and his apprentices} sailed
(ἦλθεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “came” instead of went. Alternate translation: [came]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT of Magadan
UST near the town of Magadan
(Μαγαδάν)

The word Magadan could be the name of: (1) a small village. Alternate translation: [of the village of Magadan]; (2) a district or area. Alternate translation: [of the district of Magadan]

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

> ULT of Magadan
> UST near the town of Magadan
> (Μαγαδάν)

Many ancient manuscripts read Magadan. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “Magdala.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

Matthew 16

Matthew 16 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Further opposition to Jesus and misunderstanding of the kingdom of God (13:53–17:27)
    - The Pharisees and Sadducees test Jesus (16:1–4)
    - The yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees (16:5–12)
    - Who Jesus really is (16:13–20)
    - What Jesus and his disciples must do (16:21–28)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

The sign of Jonah

In 16:4, Jesus briefly refers to “the sign of Jonah.” He has already discussed this sign in more detail in 12:39–41. See the introduction to chapter 12 for more information. Express the idea here as you did there. (See: Jonah)

Peter, “this rock,” and the keys of the kingdom

In 16:18–19, Jesus tells Peter that he is a rock on which the church will be built and that he has been given the keys to the kingdom of the heavens. It is clear is that Peter is very important for God’s kingdom. However, Christians debate in what way Peter is important. Some think that Peter is primarily important because of what he confessed about Jesus. Others think that Peter and his successors have authority over the church. Others think that Peter himself had authority over the early church but that he did not have any successors. If possible, express the idea in a general way but so that it is clear that Peter supports the church and has some kind of authority.

The coming of the Son of Man

In 16:27–28, Jesus twice refers to how he, the Son of Man, will "come." The first time (in 16:27), Jesus speaks about coming in glory with his angels. In this case, he is almost certainly referring to his second coming, when he will punish or reward everyone for what they have done.

The second time he refers to his "coming" (in 16:28), Jesus speaks about coming "in his kingdom." Christians debate what he could be referring to. It could be:

1. Jesus' transfiguration, which Matthew narrates in 17:1–8
2. Jesus' resurrection and enthronement in heaven
3. the empowerment and growth of the church
4. the destruction of Jerusalem
5. Jesus' second coming
6. several of these options together

Since Christians have understood this verse in at least these different ways, if possible your translation should allow for all these options. See the notes on 16:28 for translation options.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees

In 16:5–12, Jesus tells his disciples to guard themselves from the "yeast" of the Pharisees and Sadducees. The disciples misunderstand him and think that he is saying something about bread, which they forgot to bring with them. Jesus reminds them that he is not talking about lack of bread, since he has proved twice that he can multiply food. When he repeats that they should guard themselves from the "yeast" of the Pharisees and Sadducees, the disciples realize that Jesus is speaking figuratively about what the Pharisees and Sadducees teach. Since the disciples misunderstanding "yeast" is an important part of this passage, you should not explain what "yeast" means when Jesus uses the word. However, make sure that it is clear that "yeast" refers to teachings when Matthew explains the metaphor in 16:12. (See: Metaphor)

"This rock" and the name Peter

In 16:18, Jesus tells Peter that his name is "Peter." Jesus does this because he wants to comment on what the name "Peter" means, which is "rock." After saying the name "Peter," Jesus says that he will build his church "on this rock," which refers back to the name "Peter." Consider how you might naturally explain what the name "Peter" means so that your readers understand what Jesus means when he speaks about "this rock." You could consider using a footnote or explaining the name in the translation itself.

The keys of the kingdom

In 16:19, Jesus promises that he will give "the keys of the kingdom of the heavens" to Peter. This could mean that Peter will control who enters the kingdom and who does not enter the kingdom. Or, it could mean that Peter has a position of authority within the kingdom. Since Christians debate exactly what the "keys" mean, if possible you should preserve the metaphor or express the idea in a general way. See the notes on the verse for translation options. (See: Metaphor)

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Many of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in speeches that Jesus gives to the disciples. Because of this, the majority of forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Verses 2b–3

Some of the earliest manuscripts do not include anything for 16:2b–3. Since the earliest manuscripts do not include these words, the ULT and UST put them in brackets. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT and omit these words. If it would be helpful, you could put the words in brackets or in a footnote.

Matthew 16:1

ULT	UST
And the Pharisees and Sadducees, having approached, testing {him}, asked him to show them a sign from heaven.	Some Pharisees and Sadducees came to Jesus in order to investigate him. They said to him, "We want you to perform a miracle that shows that God sent you."

ULT And
(καὶ)

Here, the word And introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave And untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT having approached, testing {him}
UST came to Jesus in order to investigate him
(προσελθόντες & πειράζοντες)

Here, the word testing introduces the purpose for which the Pharisees and Sadducees approached Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a purpose. Alternate translation: [having approached with the goal of testing him]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT asked him to show them a sign from heaven
UST They said to him, "We want you to perform a miracle that shows that God sent you (ἐπηρώτησαν αὐτὸν σημεῖον ἐκ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ ἐπιδεῖξαι αὐτοῖς)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [asked him, "Show us a sign from heaven!"]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

> ULT a sign from heaven
> UST a miracle that shows that God sent you > (σημεῖον ἐκ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ)

The implication is that the Pharisees and Sadducees wanted Jesus to do a miracle to prove that his authority came from God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a sign from heaven that proved that his authority was from God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT from heaven
> UST that shows that God sent you
> (ἐκ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ)

Here, the phrase from heaven indicates that the sign originates in heaven, where God rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from heaven, where God rules] or [that comes from the place where God is]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	Some Pharisees
Sadducees	Sadducees
testing {him}	in order to investigate him
a sign	a miracle
heaven	that shows that God sent you

Matthew 16:2

ULT	UST
But he answering said to them, "[Evening having come, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.'	He answered them, "[When it is evening and the sky looks red, you know that there will be good weather {the next day}.

ULT Evening having come, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red … And in early morning, 'Today will be stormy, for the sky is red, being overcast.' You know to interpret the face of the sky, but the signs of the times you are not able UST When it is evening and the sky looks red, you know that there will be good weather {the next day} … When it is morning and the sky looks red and cloudy, {you know that} there will be storms that day. So, you realize what it means when the sky looks a certain way. However, you do not {realize} what God is doing right now
(ὀψίας γενομένης λέγετε, εὐδία; πυρράζει γὰρ ὁ οὐρανός. καὶ πρωΐ, σήμερον χειμών; πυρράζει γὰρ στυγνάζων ὁ οὐρανός. τὸ & πρόσωπον τοῦ οὐρανοῦ γινώσκετε διακρίνειν τὰ δὲ σημεῖα τῶν καιρῶν οὐ δύνασθε) (16:2-3)

See the discussion of textual issues at the end of the introduction to this chapter to decide whether to include 16:2b–3 in your translation. The notes below discuss translation issues in these verses, for those who decide to include them.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red
UST and the sky looks red, you know that there will be good weather {the next day}
(λέγετε, εὐδία; πυρράζει γὰρ ὁ οὐρανός)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [you say that it will be fair weather, for the sky is red]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT It will be fair weather, for the sky is red
UST and the sky looks red … that there will be good weather {the next day}
(εὐδία; πυρράζει γὰρ ὁ οὐρανός)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The sky is red, so it will be fair weather]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT It will be fair weather
> UST that there will be good weather {the next day} > (εὐδία)

Here the people speaking are implying that the fair weather will take place on the next day. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [fair weather tomorrow]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 16:3

ULT	UST
And in early morning, 'Today will be stormy, for the sky is red, being overcast.' You know to interpret the face of the sky, but the signs of the times you are not able.]	When it is morning and the sky looks red and cloudy, {you know that} there will be storms that day. So, you realize what it means when the sky looks a certain way. However, you do not {realize} what God is doing right now.]

ULT in early morning, 'Today will be stormy, for the sky is red, being overcast
UST When it is morning and the sky looks red and cloudy, {you know that} there will be storms that day
(πρωΐ, σήμερον χειμών; πυρράζει γὰρ στυγνάζων ὁ οὐρανός)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [in early morning, you say that today will be stormy, for the sky is red, being overcast]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT in early morning, 'Today
UST When it is morning … that day
(πρωΐ, σήμερον)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [in early morning, you say, 'Today]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Today will be stormy, for the sky is red, being overcast
UST and the sky looks red and cloudy, {you know that} there will be storms that day
(σήμερον χειμών; πυρράζει γὰρ στυγνάζων ὁ οὐρανός)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [The sky is red, being overcast, so today will be stormy]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the face
UST when … looks a certain way
(τὸ & πρόσωπον)

Here Jesus speaks as if the sky had a face. He is referring to how the sky looks from the ground. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the appearance] or [the look]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT but the signs of the times you are not able UST However, you do not {realize} what God is doing right now
(τὰ δὲ σημεῖα τῶν καιρῶν οὐ δύνασθε)

This clause could be: (1) a statement that rebukes the Pharisees and Sadducees. Alternate translation: [but you are not able to interpret the signs of the time.]; (2) a rhetorical question that rebukes the Pharisees and the Sadducees. Alternate translation: [but are you not able to interpret the signs of the times?]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the signs of the times
UST what God is doing right now
(τὰ & σημεῖα τῶν καιρῶν)

Here, Jesus could be using the possessive form to describe signs that: (1) happen during the times. Alternate translation: [the signs that are happening during these times]; (2) indicate that specific times have arrived. Alternate translation: [the signs that show that the times are here]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT you are not able
UST you do not {realize}
(οὐ δύνασθε)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [you are not able to interpret]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

Matthew 16:4

ULT	UST
An evil and adulterous generation seeks a sign, but a sign will not be given to it except the sign of Jonah." And having left them, he went away.	You people who are alive right now are wicked and faithless. You want me to do a miracle {that proves that God sent me}. However, the only miracle you will see is a miracle like the one that happened to {the prophet} Jonah." Then Jesus {and his apprentices} departed from the Pharisees and Sadducees.

ULT An evil and adulterous generation seeks a sign, but a sign will not be given to it except the sign of Jonah
UST You people who are alive right now are wicked and faithless. You want me to do a miracle {that proves that God sent me}. However, the only miracle you will see is a miracle like the one that happened to {the prophet} Jonah
(γενεὰ πονηρὰ καὶ μοιχαλὶς σημεῖον ἐπιζητεῖ, καὶ σημεῖον οὐ δοθήσεται αὐτῇ, εἰ μὴ τὸ σημεῖον Ἰωνᾶ)

What Jesus says here is identical to what he said in 12:39 except for the phrase "the prophet" before the name Jonah. Translate this sentence as you did in 12:39.

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT them
UST the Pharisees and Sadducees
(αὐτοὺς)

The pronoun them refers to the Pharisees and Sadducees who had asked for a sign (see 16:1). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the people who asked him for a sign] or [those Pharisees and Sadducees]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he went away
UST Jesus {and his apprentices} departed
(ἀπῆλθεν)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples went away]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
evil	are wicked
adulterous	faithless
An … generation	You people who are alive right now
seeks	You want me to do
a sign	a miracle {that proves that God sent me}
a sign	the … miracle
sign	is a miracle
of Jonah	like the one that happened to {the prophet} Jonah

Matthew 16:5

ULT	UST
And the disciples, having come to the other side, forgot to take loaves.	They sailed to the other side {of the Sea of Galilee}. Then, the apprentices realized that they had not remembered to take any bread with them.

ULT And
(καὶ)

Here, the word And introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave And untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT the disciples, having come to the other side, forgot to take loaves
UST They sailed to the other side {of the Sea of Galilee}. Then, the apprentices realized that they had not remembered to take any bread with them
(ἐλθόντες οἱ μαθηταὶ εἰς τὸ πέραν, ἐπελάθοντο ἄρτους λαβεῖν)

Matthew implies that the disciples forgot the loaves before they traveled to the other side, but they realized that they had forgotten it when they reached the other side. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the disciples forgot to take loaves with them, and when they came to the other side, they realized that they had forgotten] or [the disciples, having come to the other side, recognized that they had forgotten to take loaves]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come
UST They sailed
(ἐλθόντες)

Matthew implies that both the disciples and Jesus came to the other side. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when they and Jesus came]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come
UST They sailed
(ἐλθόντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the other side
UST the other side {of the Sea of Galilee}
(τὸ πέραν)

Matthew implies that they traveled to the other side of the Sea of Galilee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the other side of the lake]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	Then, the apprentices
loaves	any bread

Matthew 16:6

ULT	UST
Now Jesus said to them, "See and guard from the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees."	At that point, Jesus said to them, "Be alert and watch out for the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees use."

ULT Now
UST At that point
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT See and guard from
UST Be alert and watch out for (ὁρᾶτε καὶ προσέχετε ἀπὸ)

The terms See and guard mean similar things. Jesus is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Guard against] or [Keep away from]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT See and
UST Be alert and (ὁρᾶτε καὶ)

Here, the word See means that the disciples need to make sure that something happens or does not happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Make sure that you]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees
> UST the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees use
> (τῆς ζύμης τῶν Φαρισαίων καὶ Σαδδουκαίων)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees have or use. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees have]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees
> UST the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees use
> (τῆς ζύμης τῶν Φαρισαίων καὶ Σαδδουκαίων)

Here, yeast is a metaphor that refers to what the Pharisees and Sadducees teach. However, the disciples did not immediately understand that Jesus was using a metaphor; instead, they do not realize what yeast refers to until 16:12. So, you should preserve the metaphor here without explaining its meaning, since Matthew will give an explanation in 16:12.

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
See	Be alert
yeast	yeast
of the Pharisees	that the Pharisees
Sadducees	Sadducees use

Matthew 16:7

ULT	UST
But they were reasoning among themselves, saying, "{It is} because we did not take loaves."	Then the apprentices told each other, "{He must have said that} because we did not take any bread with us."

ULT among themselves
UST each other
(ἐν ἑαυτοῖς)

Here, the phrase among themselves could mean: (1) that the disciples were reasoning with each other. Alternate translation: [with one another]; (2) that the disciples were thinking this without saying it. Alternate translation: [within themselves]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying, "{It is} because we did not take loaves
UST {He must have said that} because we did not take any bread with us
(λέγοντες, ὅτι ἄρτους οὐκ ἐλάβομεν)

Here, the word translated as because could introduce: (1) what the disciples think might be the reason for why Jesus said what he did about yeast. Alternate translation: [saying, "He said that because we did not take loaves"]; (2) what the disciples say. Alternate translation: [saying, "We did not take loaves"]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT saying, "{It is} because we did not take loaves
UST {He must have said that} because we did not take any bread with us
(λέγοντες, ὅτι ἄρτους οὐκ ἐλάβομεν)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [saying that it was because they did not take loaves]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

> ULT {It is} because
> UST {He must have said that} because > (ὅτι)

Here the disciples imply that they are giving a reason for why Jesus said what he did about yeast. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus has spoken about yeast because]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT we did not take
> UST we did not take … with us
> (οὐκ ἐλάβομεν)

By we, the disciples mean themselves but not Jesus, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
loaves	any bread

Matthew 16:8

ULT	UST
But, having known this, Jesus said, "You of little faith, why are you reasoning among yourselves that you do not have loaves?	Jesus realized {what they were saying to each other}. He told them, "You should not be telling each other that you do not have bread. You should trust God more than you do!

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT You of little faith, why are you reasoning among yourselves that you do not have loaves
UST You should not be telling each other that you do not have bread. You should trust God more than you do (τί διαλογίζεσθε ἐν ἑαυτοῖς, ὀλιγόπιστοι, ὅτι ἄρτους οὐκ ἔχετε)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You of little faith! Do not reason among yourselves that you do not have loaves!] or [You of little faith, it is wrong for you to be reasoning among yourselves that you do not have loaves.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT You of little faith
UST You should trust God more than you do
(ὀλιγόπιστοι)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [You who believe so little]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT among yourselves
> UST each other
> (ἐν ἑαυτοῖς)

Here, much as in 16:7, the phrase among yourselves could mean: (1) that the disciples were reasoning with each other. Alternate translation: [with one another]; (2) that the disciples were thinking this without saying it. Alternate translation: [within yourselves]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having known this	realized {what they were saying to each other}
Jesus	Jesus
You of little faith	You should trust God more than you do loaves	bread

Matthew 16:9

ULT	UST
Do you not yet perceive nor remember the five loaves of the 5,000, and how many baskets you received?	You should already remember and understand how I fed 5, 000 men with just five loaves of bread. Then you gathered the food that was left into {12} large containers.

ULT Do you not yet perceive nor remember the five loaves of the 5,000, and how many baskets you received
UST You should already remember and understand how I fed 5, 000 men with just five loaves of bread. Then you gathered the food that was left into {12} large containers
(οὔπω νοεῖτε, οὐδὲ μνημονεύετε τοὺς πέντε ἄρτους τῶν πεντακισχιλίων, καὶ πόσους κοφίνους ἐλάβετε)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You do not yet perceive nor remember the five loaves of the 5,000, and how many baskets you received!] or [I am disappointed that you do not yet perceive nor remember the five loaves of the 5,000, and how many baskets you received.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the five loaves of the 5,000
UST how I fed 5, 000 men with just five loaves of bread
(τοὺς πέντε ἄρτους τῶν πεντακισχιλίων)

Here Jesus is using the possessive form to refer to the five loaves that he used to feed the 5,000. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the five loaves that fed the 5,000]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT of the 5,000
UST how I fed 5, 000 men
(τῶν πεντακισχιλίων)

Matthew is using the number 5,000 as a noun to mean 5,000 men. Your language may use numbers in the same way. If not, you could translate this one with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [of the 5,000 men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT loaves
> UST with just five loaves of bread
> (ἄρτους)

See how you translated loaves in 14:17. Alternate translation: [large chunks of bread]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT baskets
> UST the food that was left into {12} large containers
> (κοφίνους)

Here Jesus implies that the baskets were full of leftover food. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [baskets full of leftovers]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT baskets
> UST the food that was left into {12} large containers
> (κοφίνους)

See how you translated baskets in 14:20. Alternate translation: [bags] or [containers]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Do you … perceive	understand
loaves	with just five loaves of bread

Matthew 16:10

ULT	UST
Nor the seven loaves of the 4,000, and how many baskets you received?	{You should also remember and understand} how I fed 4, 000 men with just seven loaves of bread. Then you gathered the food that was left into {seven} large containers.

ULT Nor the seven loaves of the 4,000, and how many baskets you received
UST {You should also remember and understand} how I fed 4, 000 men with just seven loaves of bread. Then you gathered the food that was left into {seven} large containers
(οὐδὲ τοὺς ἑπτὰ ἄρτους τῶν τετρακισχιλίων, καὶ πόσας σπυρίδας ἐλάβετε)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Nor do you perceive or remember the seven loaves of the 4,000, and how many baskets you received!] or [I am also disappointed that you do not yet perceive nor remember the seven loaves of the 4,000, and how many baskets you received.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Nor
UST You should also remember and understand (οὐδὲ)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous verse if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Nor do you understand or remember]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT the seven loaves of the 4,000
UST how I fed 4, 000 men with just seven loaves of bread
(τοὺς ἑπτὰ ἄρτους τῶν τετρακισχιλίων)

Here Jesus is using the possessive form to refer to the seven loaves that he used to feed the 4,000. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the seven loaves that fed the 4,000]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT loaves
> UST with just seven loaves of bread
> (ἄρτους)

See how you translated loaves in 14:17. Alternate translation: [large chunks of bread]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT of the 4,000
> UST how I fed 4, 000 men
> (τῶν τετρακισχιλίων)

Matthew is using the number 4,000 as a noun to mean 4,000 men. Your language may use numbers in the same way. If not, you could translate this one with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [of the 4,000 men]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT baskets
> UST the food that was left into {seven} large containers
> (σπυρίδας)

Here Jesus implies that the baskets were full of leftover food. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [baskets full of leftovers]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT baskets
> UST the food that was left into {seven} large containers
> (σπυρίδας)

See how you translated baskets in 15:37. Alternate translation: [bags] or [containers]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
loaves	with just seven loaves of bread

Matthew 16:11

ULT	UST
How do you not perceive that I did not speak to you about loaves? But guard from the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees."	I want you to understand that I am speaking about bread in a figurative way. So {I say again}, watch out for the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees use."

ULT How do you not perceive that I did not speak to you about loaves
UST I want you to understand that I am speaking about bread in a figurative way
(πῶς οὐ νοεῖτε, ὅτι οὐ περὶ ἄρτων εἶπον ὑμῖν)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You do not perceive that I did not speak to you about loaves!] or [I am disappointed that you do not perceive that I did not speak to you about loaves.]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT But
UST So {I say again}
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what Jesus really wants to say about yeast in contrast to simply speaking about bread. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Rather,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees
UST the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees use
(τῆς ζύμης τῶν Φαρισαίων καὶ Σαδδουκαίων)

Here, just as in 16:6, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees have or use. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees have]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees
> UST the yeast that the Pharisees and Sadducees use
> (τῆς ζύμης τῶν Φαρισαίων καὶ Σαδδουκαίων)

As in 16:6, yeast is a metaphor that refers to what the Pharisees and Sadducees teach. However, the disciples did not immediately understand that Jesus was using a metaphor; instead, they do not realize what yeast refers to until 16:12. So, you should preserve the metaphor here without explaining its meaning, since Matthew will give an explanation in 16:12.

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
do you … perceive	to understand
loaves	bread
yeast	yeast
of the Pharisees	that the Pharisees
Sadducees	Sadducees use

Matthew 16:12

ULT	UST
Then they understood that he had not told them to guard from the yeast of loaves, but from the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.	After {Jesus said that}, the apprentices realized that {he was telling them to watch out for} what the Pharisees and Sadducees were teaching. He was not telling them to watch out for the yeast that people use to make bread.

ULT they understood
UST the apprentices realized
(συνῆκαν)

The pronoun they refers to the disciples. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to them more directly. Alternate translation: [the disciples understood]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he had not told them to guard from the yeast of loaves, but from the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees
UST {he was telling them to watch out for} what the Pharisees and Sadducees were teaching. He was not telling them to watch out for the yeast that people use to make bread (οὐκ εἶπεν προσέχειν ἀπὸ τῆς ζύμης τῶν ἄρτων, ἀλλὰ ἀπὸ τῆς διδαχῆς τῶν Φαρισαίων καὶ Σαδδουκαίων)

If your language would not naturally put the negative statement before the positive statement, you could reverse the two clauses here. Alternate translation: [he had told them to guard from the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees, not from the yeast of loaves]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT the yeast of loaves
UST the yeast that people use to make bread
(τῆς ζύμης τῶν ἄρτων)

Matthew is using the possessive form to describe yeast that people use to make loaves. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the yeast used to make loaves]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT but from
UST he was telling them to watch out for (ἀλλὰ ἀπὸ)

Matthew is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but to guard from]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees
UST what the Pharisees and Sadducees were teaching (τῆς διδαχῆς τῶν Φαρισαίων καὶ Σαδδουκαίων)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of teaching, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the things that the Pharisees and Sadducees taught]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they understood	the apprentices realized
yeast	yeast
of loaves	that people use to make bread of the Pharisees	the Pharisees
Sadducees	Sadducees

Matthew 16:13

ULT	UST
Now Jesus, having come to the regions of Caesarea Philippi, asked his disciples, saying, "Who do men say the Son of Man is?"	Sometime later, Jesus {and his apprentices} arrived in the area near the city of Caesarea Philippi. Then Jesus asked his apprentices, "Who do people say that I, the Son of Man, really am?"

ULT Now
UST Sometime later
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT having come
UST arrived
(ἐλθὼν)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when he and his disciples came]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come
UST arrived
(ἐλθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT saying
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT men
UST people
(οἱ ἄνθρωποι)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [men and women]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT the Son of Man is
UST that I, the Son of Man, really am
(εἶναι τὸν Υἱὸν τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, the one who is the Son of Man, am]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT the Son of Man
UST I, the Son of Man
(τὸν Υἱὸν τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

The title Son of Man may refer to a special person, possibly the Messiah, that people expected to arrive. However, since Jesus is asking about who people say that the Son of Man is, if possible you should not explain what the title means. Alternate translation: [the Human One]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus {and his apprentices}
of Caesarea	near the city of Caesarea
disciples	apprentices
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man

Matthew 16:14

ULT	UST
And they said, "Some, John the Baptist; and some, Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets."	The apprentices replied, "People say that you are one of the prophets {who has come back to life}. {More specifically,} some people say that you are John the Baptizer. Other people say that you are the prophet Elijah. Other people say that you are the prophet Jeremiah."

ULT Some, John the Baptist; and some, Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets

UST People say that you are one of the prophets {who has come back to life}. {More specifically,} some people say that you are John the Baptizer. Other people say that you are the prophet Elijah. Other people say that you are the prophet Jeremiah

(οἱ & Ἰωάννην τὸν Βαπτιστήν; ἄλλοι δὲ Ἠλείαν; ἕτεροι δὲ Ἰερεμίαν ἢ ἕνα τῶν προφητῶν)

Since all these people and prophets had died before the disciples answered this question, the disciples are implying that people think that Jesus is one of these people who has come back to life. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Some, John the Baptist come back to life; and some, Elijah come back to life; and others, Jeremiah or one of the prophets come back to life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Some, John the Baptist; and some, Elijah; and others, Jeremiah

UST {More specifically,} some people say that you are John the Baptizer. Other people say that you are the prophet Elijah. Other people say that you are the prophet Jeremiah

(οἱ & Ἰωάννην τὸν Βαπτιστήν; ἄλλοι δὲ Ἠλείαν; ἕτεροι δὲ Ἰερεμίαν)

The disciples are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous verse if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Some say John the Baptist; and some say Elijah; and others say Jeremiah]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Some … some … others
UST {More specifically,} some people say that you are … Other people say that you are … Other people say that you are (οἱ & ἄλλοι & ἕτεροι)

The disciples are using the adjectives Some, some, and others as nouns to mean various groups of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [Some among the people … some among the people … others among the people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT one of the prophets
UST People say that you are one of the prophets {who has come back to life}
(ἕνα τῶν προφητῶν)

Here the disciples are not excluding John the Baptist, Elijah, or Jeremiah from the group of the prophets. Instead, they are referring to the many other prophets that God had sent. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [another one of the prophets]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
John the Baptist	John the Baptizer
Elijah	the prophet Elijah
Jeremiah	the prophet Jeremiah
of the prophets	of the prophets {who has come back to life}

Matthew 16:15

ULT	UST
He says to them, “But who do you say I am?”	Jesus asked, “As for you, who do you say that I really am?”

> ULT He says
> UST Jesus
> (λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [He said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

Matthew 16:16

ULT	UST
And answering, Simon Peter said, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God."	Simon Peter replied, "You are the Messiah! You are the Son of the only real God."

ULT You
UST You
(σὺ)

Since Peter is talking to Jesus, the word You here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT the Son of the living God
UST You are the Son of the only real God
(ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Θεοῦ τοῦ ζῶντος)

Son is an important title for Jesus that describes his relationship with God the Father.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT of the living God
UST of the only real God
(τοῦ Θεοῦ τοῦ ζῶντος)

Here, the phrase the living God identifies God as the one who "lives." The primary point is that God actually "lives," unlike idols and other things that people call "god." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that emphasizes that God really "lives." Alternate translation: [of the God who lives] or [of the true God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Simon Peter	Simon Peter
Christ	Messiah
Son of the … God	Son of … God

Matthew 16:17

ULT	UST
Now answering, Jesus said to him, "Blessed are you, Simon Bar Jonah, because flesh and blood did not reveal this to you, but my Father in the heavens.	Jesus responded, "Simon, descendant of Jonah, God my Father, who rules from heaven, has blessed you. He has made known to you what you said. In fact, no human could have made it known to you.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Blessed are you, Simon Bar Jonah, because flesh and blood did not reveal this to you, but my Father in the heavens
UST Simon, descendant of Jonah, God my Father, who rules from heaven, has blessed you. He has made known to you what you said. In fact, no human could have made it known to you
(μακάριος εἶ, Σίμων Βαριωνᾶ, ὅτι σὰρξ καὶ αἷμα οὐκ ἀπεκάλυψέν σοι, ἀλλ' ὁ Πατήρ μου & ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses since the last clauses gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [Because flesh and blood did not reveal this to you, but my Father in the heavens, you are blessed, Simon Bar Jonah]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Blessed are you
UST has blessed you
(μακάριος εἶ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God will bless you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT are you … to you
UST has blessed you … to you (εἶ & σοι)

Since Jesus is talking to Peter, the word you throughout this verse is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Simon Bar Jonah
UST Simon, descendant of Jonah
(Σίμων Βαριωνᾶ)

Bar is a word borrowed from Aramaic. You will need to decide if you will also borrow this word into your language or if you will translate the meaning. Either approach has broad support. If you borrow the word, you could spell it the way it sounds in your language and then put the translation in a footnote. Alternate translation: [Simon son of Jonah]

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT Bar Jonah
UST descendant of Jonah
(Βαριωνᾶ)

The word Jonah is the name of a man.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT flesh and blood did not reveal this to you, but my Father in the heavens
UST God my Father, who rules from heaven … He has made known to you what you said. In fact, no human could have made it known to you
(σὰρξ καὶ αἷμα οὐκ ἀπεκάλυψέν σοι, ἀλλ' ὁ Πατήρ μου & ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

If your language would not naturally put the negative statement before the positive statement, you could reverse the two clauses here. Alternate translation: [my Father in the heavens revealed this to you, not flesh and blood]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT flesh and blood did not reveal this
UST In fact, no human could have made it known (σὰρξ καὶ αἷμα οὐκ ἀπεκάλυψέν)

This phrase expresses a single idea by using two words connected with and. The words flesh and blood together identify what it means to be human. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this meaning with an equivalent phrase that does not use and. Alternate translation: [humans did not reveal this] or [no human being revealed this]

Support Reference: Hendiadys

ULT did not reveal this to you
UST In fact, no … could have made it known to you (οὐκ ἀπεκάλυψέν σοι)

The pronoun this refers to Peter's pronouncement in the previous verse that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the living God. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to that pronouncement more directly. Alternate translation: [did not reveal to you that I am the Christ] or [did not reveal to you what you just said]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT but my Father in the heavens
UST God my Father, who rules from heaven … He has made known to you what you said
(ἀλλ' ὁ Πατήρ μου & ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but my Father in the heavens revealed it to you]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT my Father
UST God my Father
(ὁ Πατήρ μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT in the heavens
> UST who rules from heaven
> (ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Blessed	has blessed you
Simon Bar Jonah	Simon, descendant of Jonah
Father	God … Father
heavens	who rules from heaven

Matthew 16:18

ULT	UST
And I also say to you that you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of Hades will not prevail against it.	I also want you to know that I will make you become like your name, Peter, which means 'rock.' I will make you like a foundation stone on which I will construct a building, which represents everyone who believes in me. Even when those people die, that will not destroy them.

ULT I also say to you
UST I also want you to know
(κἀγὼ & σοι λέγω)

Jesus uses the clause I also say to you this to emphasize what he is telling the Peter. Use a natural form in your language for emphasizing the truth and importance of a statement. Alternate translation: [I also want you to know]

ULT to you … you
UST you … I will make you become like (σοι & σὺ)

Since Jesus is talking to Peter, the word you throughout this verse is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT you are Peter
UST I will make you become like your name, Peter, which means 'rock (σὺ εἶ Πέτρος)

The name Peter means "rock." You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you have the name Peter, which means "rock"]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT upon this rock
UST I will make you like a foundation stone on which (ἐπὶ ταύτῃ τῇ πέτρᾳ)

Here Jesus could be referring to this rock in order to: (1) describe Peter, whose name means "rock," as solid foundation, a rock, for the church. Alternate translation: [upon you, who are like a rock,] or [upon you]; (2) refer to what Peter said about Jesus (that he is the Christ) as a solid foundation or rock for the church. Alternate translation: [upon your confession, which is like a rock,] or [upon your confession]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT I will build my church
UST I will construct a building, which represents everyone who believes in me (οἰκοδομήσω μου τὴν ἐκκλησίαν)

Jesus here speaks as if his church were a building that someone could build. With this metaphor, he refers to making the church become stronger and more mature, just like the one who builds a house makes it strong and complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I will strengthen my church as if I were building it] or [I will make my church strong]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the gates of Hades
UST Even when those people die
(πύλαι Ἅδου)

Here, Jesus could be referring to the gates of Hades in order to: (1) speak about how, when people enter through the gates of Hades, they have died. Alternate translation: [death] or [the power of death]; (2) speak about evil powers that come out through the gates of Hades. Alternate translation: [the powers of hell] or [evil powers]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT it
UST them
(αὐτῆς)

The pronoun it refers to my church. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer more directly to the church. Alternate translation: [my church]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	your name, Peter, which means ‘rock church	which represents everyone who believes in me of Hades	Even when those people die

Matthew 16:19

ULT	UST
I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of the heavens, and whatever you bind on the earth will have been bound in the heavens, and whatever you loose on the earth will have been loosed in the heavens."	I will commission you to oversee God's heavenly kingdom. When you confirm something here on earth, God will confirm it in heaven. When you nullify something here on earth, God will nullify it in heaven."

ULT I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of the heavens
UST I will commission you to oversee God's heavenly kingdom
(δώσω σοι τὰς κλεῖδας τῆς Βασιλείας τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

Here Jesus speaks of giving authority to Peter as if he were giving him the keys of the kingdom of the heavens. Christians debate what kind of authority this is, so if possible, you should preserve the metaphor or simply refer to some kind of authority. Alternate translation: [I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of the heavens so that you have authority] or [I will give you authority in the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to you … you bind … you loose
UST you … you confirm … you nullify
(σοι & δήσῃς & λύσῃς)

Since Jesus is talking to Peter, the word you throughout this verse is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT the keys of the kingdom
UST to oversee God's … kingdom
(τὰς κλεῖδας τῆς Βασιλείας)

The word keys refers to tools that are used to lock and unlock things, especially doors and gates. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of tool, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the tools for locking and unlocking the kingdom] or [the openers for the kingdom]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT and
> (καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces how Peter will exercise the authority that Jesus will give to him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a result or goal. Alternate translation: [so that]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

> ULT whatever you bind on the earth will have been bound in the heavens
> UST When you confirm something here on earth, God will confirm it in heaven
> (ὃ ἐὰν δήσῃς ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς, ἔσται δεδεμένον ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here Jesus speaks of decisions that Peter and God make as if they were binding something. These decisions are specifically about requiring or enforcing something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Since Jesus uses very general language, your translation should also be very general. Alternate translation: [whatever you require on the earth will have been required in the heavens] or [whatever you enforce on the earth will have been enforced in the heavens]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT will have been bound … will have been loosed
> UST God will confirm it … God will nullify it > (ἔσται δεδεμένον & ἔσται λελυμένον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God will have bound … God will have loosed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT whatever you loose on the earth will have been loosed in the heavens
UST When you nullify something here on earth, God will nullify it in heaven
(ὃ ἐὰν λύσῃς ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς, ἔσται λελυμένον ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς)

Here Jesus speaks of decisions that Peter and God make as if they were binding something. These decisions are specifically about allowing or abrogating something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Since Jesus uses very general language, your translation should also be very general. Alternate translation: [whatever you allow on the earth will have been allowed in the heavens] or [whatever you annul on the earth will have been annulled in the heavens]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of the kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
you bind	you confirm
earth	earth
have been bound	God will confirm it
heavens	heaven
earth	earth
heavens	heaven

Matthew 16:20

ULT	UST
Then he commanded the disciples that they tell no one that he is the Christ.	After that, Jesus ordered the apprentices not to tell anyone that he was the Messiah.

ULT the disciples that they tell no one that he is the Christ
UST the apprentices not to tell anyone that he was the Messiah
(τοῖς μαθηταῖς, ἵνα μηδενὶ εἴπωσιν ὅτι αὐτός ἐστιν ὁ Χριστός)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [the disciples, “Tell no one that I am the Christ”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT they tell no one that he is the Christ
UST not to tell anyone that he was the Messiah
(μηδενὶ εἴπωσιν ὅτι αὐτός ἐστιν ὁ Χριστός)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [they tell no one, “He is the Christ”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
Christ	Messiah

Matthew 16:21

ULT	UST
From that time Jesus Christ began to show to his disciples that it is necessary for him to go to Jerusalem and to suffer much from the elders and chief priests and scribes and to be killed and to be raised on the third day.	From then on, Jesus the Messiah began to teach his apprentices that he had to travel to the city of Jerusalem. There, the Jewish leaders, the ruling priests, and the teachers of the Jewish law would hurt him very much and have people kill him. During the third day after he died, God would make him alive again.

ULT to his disciples that it is necessary for him to go to Jerusalem and to suffer much from the elders and chief priests and scribes and to be killed and to be raised on the third day
UST his apprentices that he had to travel to the city of Jerusalem. There, the Jewish leaders, the ruling priests, and the teachers of the Jewish law would hurt him very much and have people kill him. During the third day after he died, God would make him alive again
(τοῖς μαθηταῖς αὐτοῦ ὅτι δεῖ αὐτὸν εἰς Ἱεροσόλυμα ἀπελθεῖν, καὶ πολλὰ παθεῖν ἀπὸ τῶν πρεσβυτέρων, καὶ ἀρχιερέων, καὶ γραμματέων, καὶ ἀποκτανθῆναι καὶ τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ ἐγερθῆναι)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [to his disciples, saying, “It is necessary for me to go to Jerusalem and to suffer much from the elders and chief priests and scribes and to be killed and to be raised on the third day”]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT to be killed
UST have people kill him
(ἀποκτανθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that the elders and chief priests and scribes would order someone to do it. Alternate translation: [to die] or [for them to put him to death]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to be raised
UST God would make him alive again
(ἐγερθῆναι)

Here, the word raised refers to someone who died coming back to life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable word or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to be restored to life]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT to be raised
> UST God would make him alive again
> (ἐγερθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, Matthew could be implying that: (1) God did it. Alternate translation: [to have God raise him] or [for God to raise him]; (2) Jesus himself did it. Alternate translation: [to raise himself]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT on the third day
> UST During the third day after he died
> (τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ)

Here, the phrase on the third day refers to the day after tomorrow. People in Jesus' culture counted the current day as the first day, tomorrow as the second day, and the day after tomorrow as the third day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to the day after tomorrow. Alternate translation: [on the day after the next day] or [two days later]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT on the third day
> UST During the third day after he died
> (τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [on day three]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Christ	the Messiah
to … disciples	apprentices
Jerusalem	the city of Jerusalem
to suffer	would hurt him
elders	the Jewish leaders
chief priests	the ruling priests
scribes	the teachers of the Jewish law

ULT	UST
on the … day	During the third day after he died

Matthew 16:22

ULT	UST
And having taken him aside, Peter began to rebuke him, saying, "Merciful to you, Lord; this will certainly not be to you."	Then Peter spoke to Jesus privately. He began to scold Jesus, "My Lord, do not say those things! What you have spoken about will never happen to you."

ULT saying
UST spoke
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Merciful to you
UST do not say those things
(ἵλεώς σοι)

Here, the phrase Merciful to you could mean: (1) that Jesus should not be thinking about or talking about what he has predicted will happen. Alternate translation: [Far be it from you] or [Stop saying those things]; (2) that he believes that God will mercifully protect Jesus from what Jesus has predicted will happen. Alternate translation: [God will have mercy on you] or [May God be merciful to you]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT to you … to you
UST do not say those things … to you
(σοι)

Since Peter is talking to Jesus, the word you throughout this verse is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT this
UST What you have spoken about
(τοῦτο)

The pronoun this refers to the things that Jesus had just spoken about what would happen to him. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to those things more directly. Alternate translation: [those things] or [what you have said]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT certainly not
UST never
(οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter
to rebuke	to scold
Lord	My Lord

Matthew 16:23

ULT	UST
But he, having turned, said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to me, because you are not considering the things of God, but the things of men."	Then Jesus faced Peter. He said, "Do not try to stop me. You are behaving as Satan does! You are thinking about what humans care about instead of thinking about what God cares about. Because of that, you are trying to make me do what is wrong."

ULT But
UST Then
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having turned
UST faced
(στραφεὶς)

Matthew could be implying that Jesus turned: (1) to face Peter. Alternate translation: [having turned toward Peter]; (2) away from Peter. Alternate translation: [having turned away from Peter]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Get behind me
UST Do not try to stop me
(ὕπαγε ὀπίσω μου)

Here Jesus speaks as if he wants Peter to Get behind him. He means that Peter should not rebuke him but should instead accept what Jesus says. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not stand in my way] or [Do not rebuke me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Satan
UST You are behaving as Satan does (Σατανᾶ)

Here, Jesus calls Peter Satan because Peter is acting like Satan by tempting Jesus to disobey God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or explain the metaphor. Alternate translation: [you who are acting like Satan] or [for you are tempting me as Satan does]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT You are a stumbling block to me, because you are not considering the things of God, but the things of men
UST You are thinking about what humans care about instead of thinking about what God cares about. Because of that, you are trying to make me do what is wrong
(σκάνδαλον εἶ ἐμοῦ, ὅτι οὐ φρονεῖς τὰ τοῦ Θεοῦ, ἀλλὰ τὰ τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [Because you are not considering the things of God, but the things of men, you are a stumbling block to me]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT You are a stumbling block to me
UST you are trying to make me do what is wrong (σκάνδαλον εἶ ἐμοῦ)

Here, Jesus speaks of someone who tempts others to sin as if that person were a stumbling block. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [You are tempting me to sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT You are … you are not considering
UST instead of thinking about … you are trying to make me do what is wrong
(εἶ & οὐ φρονεῖς)

Since Jesus is talking to Peter, the words You and you are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT you are not considering the things of God, but the things of men
UST You are thinking about what humans care about instead of thinking about what God cares about (οὐ φρονεῖς τὰ τοῦ Θεοῦ, ἀλλὰ τὰ τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

If your language would not naturally put the negative statement before the positive statement, you could reverse the two clauses here. Alternate translation: [you are considering the things of men, not the things of God]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT but the things
UST You are thinking about what (ἀλλὰ τὰ)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but you are considering the things]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT of men
UST humans care about
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [of human beings] or [of people]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to Peter	Peter
Satan	You are behaving as Satan does you are … considering	thinking about
of God	God cares about

Matthew 16:24

ULT	UST
Then Jesus said to his disciples, "If anyone wants to come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me.	Next, Jesus said to all his apprentices, "People who want to come with me and be my apprentices must refuse to do what they want to do. They must be willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses, when they come with me as my apprentices.

ULT If anyone wants
UST People who want
(εἴ τις θέλει)

Here Jesus uses the conditional form to refer to anyone who wants to come after him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever form naturally introduces anyone who wants to follow Jesus. Alternate translation: [Anyone who wants] or [When someone wants]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT to come after me
UST to come with me and be my apprentices
(ὀπίσω μου ἐλθεῖν)

Here, the phrase come after me refers to traveling with Jesus and being his disciples. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to be my disciples] or [to travel with me as my students]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me
UST must refuse to do what they want to do. They must be willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses, when they come with me as my apprentices (ἀπαρνησάσθω ἑαυτὸν, καὶ ἀράτω τὸν σταυρὸν αὐτοῦ, καὶ ἀκολουθείτω μοι)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he should deny himself and take up his cross and follow me]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT let him deny himself … his
> UST must refuse to do what they want to do. They must be willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses
> (ἀπαρνησάσθω ἑαυτὸν & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms him, himself, and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [let that person deny himself or herself … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

> ULT let him deny himself
> UST must refuse to do what they want to do > (ἀπαρνησάσθω ἑαυτὸν)

Here, the phrase deny himself refers to a person choosing not to do what they would naturally do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [let him exercise self-control] or [choose not to do what he naturally desires]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT take up his cross
> UST They must be willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses
> (ἀράτω τὸν σταυρὸν αὐτοῦ)

Jesus assumes that the disciples will know that the Romans executed some criminals by nailing them to a wooden beam with crossbar that was set upright so that the criminals would slowly suffocate. Jesus also assumes that the disciples will know that the Romans made these criminals carry these wooden crosses through the streets to the place where they were going to be executed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some of this information more explicit. Alternate translation: [take up the wooden cross on which he will be executed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT take up his cross

UST They must be willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses

(ἀράτω τὸν σταυρὸν αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus speaks of taking up a cross in order to describe people who are ready and willing to suffer and even die because they follow Jesus. Because this figure of speech is connected to how Jesus himself died on a cross, if possible you should preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. See how you translated the similar expression in 10:38. Alternate translation: [be ready to suffer, which is like taking up his cross,] or [take up his cross, ready to suffer or die,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
to … disciples	to all … apprentices
cross	They must be willing to suffer or die, as if they were carrying their own crosses

Matthew 16:25

ULT	UST
For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it.	{That is} because people who are willing to do anything to stay alive will not truly live. However, people who are willing to die because they are my apprentices will truly live.

ULT For
UST {That is} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a basis for what Jesus said in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [I say that because] or [In fact,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it
UST people who are willing to do anything to stay alive will not truly live. However, people who are willing to die because they are my apprentices will truly live
(ὃς & ἐὰν θέλῃ τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ σῶσαι, ἀπολέσει αὐτήν; ὃς δ’ ἂν ἀπολέσῃ τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ, εὑρήσει αὐτήν)

Here Jesus speaks of how people’s attitudes toward their current lives affects their eternal lives after they resurrect. He means that those who want to save their current lives will lose their eternal, resurrection lives, and that those who have lost their current lives will find their eternal, resurrection lives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. See how you translated the similar ideas in 10:39. Alternate translation: [whoever wants to save his current life will lose it forever, but whoever loses his current life for my sake will find it forever]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT wants to save his life will lose it
UST are willing to do anything to stay alive will not truly live (θέλῃ τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ σῶσαι, ἀπολέσει αὐτήν)

Here Jesus speaks of trying to preserve one's life as if that effort were saving it. He speaks of dying as if it were losing one's life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar clause in 10:39. Alternate translation: [wants to preserve his life will die]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his … his
UST to do anything to stay alive … are willing to die
(αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it
UST However, people who are willing to die because they are my apprentices will truly live
(ὃς δ' ἂν ἀπολέσῃ τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ, εὑρήσει αὐτήν)

Here Jesus speaks of dying or being willing to die as losing one's life. He speaks of experiencing eternal life as if it were finding one's life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar clause in 10:39. Alternate translation: [but whoever has died for my sake will have eternal life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT for my sake
UST because they are my apprentices
(ἕνεκεν ἐμοῦ)

When Jesus says for my sake, he means that some people will lose their lives because they are his disciples. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [because he is my disciple] or [because he believes in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to save	to do anything to stay alive
will lose	will not truly live
loses	are willing to die

Matthew 16:26

ULT	UST
For what will a man benefit if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life? Or what will a man give in exchange for his life?	Suppose that some people acquire everything they could possibly want. However, they can no longer truly live. That is not worth it! People cannot acquire anything that is as valuable as truly living.

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces another basis for what Jesus said in 16:24. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Another reason I say that is because] or [Even further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT what will a man benefit if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life
UST Suppose that some people acquire everything they could possibly want. However, they can no longer truly live. That is not worth it
(τί & ὠφεληθήσεται ἄνθρωπος, ἐὰν τὸν κόσμον ὅλον κερδήσῃ, τὴν δὲ ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ζημιωθῇ)

Jesus is using the question form to teach his disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [a man will benefit nothing if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life.] or [a man will never benefit anything if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT what will a man benefit if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life
UST Suppose that some people acquire everything they could possibly want. However, they can no longer truly live. That is not worth it
(τί & ὠφεληθήσεται ἄνθρωπος, ἐὰν τὸν κόσμον ὅλον κερδήσῃ, τὴν δὲ ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ ζημιωθῇ)

Here Jesus uses an imaginary situation to show that forfeiting one's life is bad enough that gaining anything else cannot make up for it. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [image a man who gained the whole world but forfeited his life. What will that man benefit]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT a man … he gains … his … a man … his
UST some people acquire … they can no longer truly live … People … as truly living (ἄνθρωπος & κερδήσῃ & αὐτοῦ & ἄνθρωπος & αὐτοῦ)

Although the terms man, he, and his are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [a person … he or she gains … his or her … a person … his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT his life … for his life
UST they can no longer truly live … as truly living (τὴν & ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ & τῆς ψυχῆς αὐτοῦ)

Alternate translation: [his soul … for his soul]

ULT Or
(ἢ)

Here, the word Or introduces a second question that again emphasizes how important a person's life is. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a similar idea, or you could leave Or untranslated. Alternate translation: [Again,] or [Even further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Or what will a man give in exchange for his life
UST People cannot acquire anything that is as valuable as truly living (ἢ τί δώσει ἄνθρωπος ἀντάλλαγμα τῆς ψυχῆς αὐτοῦ)

Jesus is using the question form to teach his disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [a man can give nothing in exchange for his life.] or [a man cannot give anything in exchange for his life!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT in exchange for his life
> UST that is as valuable as truly living > (ἀντάλλαγμα τῆς ψυχῆς αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus could be implying: (1) that there is nothing that is worth as much as a person's life. Alternate translation: [that is as worth as much as his soul]; (2) that there is nothing that is valuable enough to redeem one's life when it has been forfeited. Alternate translation: [that can buy back his soul]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will … benefit	That is not worth it he gains	acquire
world	everything they could possibly want life	they can no longer truly live
for … life	as truly living

Matthew 16:27

ULT	UST
For the Son of Man is about to come in the glory of his Father with his angels. And then he will repay each one according to his action.	{That is important} because I, the Son of Man, will soon return with my angels. I will be as glorious as God my Father. At that time, I will {justly} reward or punish people for whatever they have done.

ULT For
UST {That is important} because
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a basis for what Jesus has said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. More specifically, the word For could introduce the basis for: (1) what Jesus said in 16:26 about how nothing is as valuable as a person's soul. Alternate translation: [You should be thinking about your soul because]; (2) what Jesus has said in 16:24–26. Alternate translation: [I have said all those things because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the Son of Man is about … his … his … he will repay
UST I, the Son of Man, will soon … my … as God my Father … I will {justly} reward or punish (μέλλει & ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου & αὐτοῦ & αὐτοῦ & ἀποδώσει)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, am about … my … my … I will repay]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

> ULT is about to come
> UST will soon return
> (μέλλει & ἔρχεσθαι)

Here Jesus implies that he, the Son of Man, will come back to this world at some point in the future. He is also implying that he will leave this world before he comes back. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some or all of those ideas more explicit. Alternate translation: [is about to come back to this world] or [will leave this world, but he is about to come back]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT in the glory of his Father
> UST I will be as glorious as God my Father
> (ἐν τῇ δόξῃ τοῦ Πατρὸς αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [in a way that his Father has made glorious along] or [as one who is as great as his Father]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT of his Father
> UST as God my Father
> (τοῦ Πατρὸς αὐτοῦ)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT his angels
> UST my angels
> (τῶν ἀγγέλων αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun his could refer to: (1) the Son of Man. Alternate translation: [the angels of the Son of Man]; (2) the Father. Alternate translation: [his Father's angels]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he will repay
UST I will {justly} reward or punish (ἀποδώσει)

The pronoun he refers to the Son of Man. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [the Son of Man will repay]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he will repay
UST I will {justly} reward or punish (ἀποδώσει)

Here Jesus uses repay to refer to appropriately punishing or rewarding someone as if the punishment or reward were payment for that person's deeds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will decide how to treat people,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT his action
UST whatever they have done
(τὴν πρᾶξιν αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of action, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the things he did]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT his
UST they
(αὐτοῦ)

Although the term his is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [his or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man glory	I will be as glorious of … Father	as God my Father

ULT	UST
angels	angels

Matthew 16:28

ULT	UST
Truly I say to you that there are some of the ones standing here who will certainly not taste death until they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom."	Some of you who are here with me will definitely see me, the Son of Man, ruling over my kingdom before you die. What I have said is true."

> ULT will certainly not taste death
> UST definitely … you die
> (οὐ μὴ γεύσωνται θανάτου)

Here Jesus speaks as if death were food that people could taste. Those who taste death truly experience death as much as a person who eats food truly experiences that food. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will certainly not experience death] or [will certainly not participate in death]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT will certainly not taste death
> UST definitely … you die
> (οὐ μὴ γεύσωνται θανάτου)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of death, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [will certainly not die]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT certainly not
> UST definitely
> (οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

> ULT the Son of Man coming in his kingdom
> UST me, the Son of Man, ruling over my kingdom
> (τὸν Υἱὸν τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου ἐρχόμενον ἐν τῇ βασιλείᾳ αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [me, the one who is the Son of Man, coming in my kingdom]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

> ULT coming in his kingdom
> UST ruling over my kingdom
> (ἐρχόμενον ἐν τῇ βασιλείᾳ αὐτοῦ)

Christians debate what the phrase coming in his kingdom means. It could refer to one or several of the following events: Jesus' transfiguration (see 17:1–8), Jesus' resurrection and enthronement in heaven, the empowerment and growth of the church, the destruction of Jerusalem, and Jesus' final return. If possible, express the idea in such a way that most or all of these interpretations are possible. Alternate translation: [acting as king in his kingdom] or [taking charge of his kingdom]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	What I have said is true
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man kingdom	ruling over my kingdom

Matthew 17

Matthew 17 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Further opposition to Jesus and misunderstanding of the kingdom of God (13:53–17:27)
    - Jesus is transfigured (17:1–8)
    - The disciples ask about Elijah (17:9–13)
    - Jesus heals an epileptic boy (17:14–21)
    - Jesus predicts his suffering and death (17:22–23)
    - The two-drachma tax (17:24–27)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

“transfigured”

In 17:1–8, Matthew describes how Jesus was “transfigured.” This word indicates that Jesus looked very different to the disciples. Matthew does not tell us all the ways in which Jesus looked different, but he does say that Jesus’ face “shone as the sun” and that his clothes became very white. What this means is that the disciples were able to see some of the glory and majesty that Jesus has as God’s Son. Make sure that your translation shows that Jesus looked great and glorious.

Elijah

When Jesus was transfigured, the disciples saw Moses and Elijah talking with him. Later, they ask Jesus about Elijah. They refer specifically to what the scribes say about a prophecy in Malachi 4:5–6, which indicates that God will send “Elijah” to prepare the way before God comes to judge his enemies and reward his people. Malachi is referring to a prophet who lived even earlier. This prophet, named Elijah, performed many miracles and spoke messages from God (see 1 Kings 17–19 and 2 Kings 2:1–17). The disciples ask about whether this Elijah is supposed to come before the Messiah does. Jesus says that this is true, and he talks about this "Elijah" in a way that shows the disciples that John the Baptist was "Elijah." He means that John fulfills the prophecy in Malachi that someone like the prophet Elijah will prepare the way before God comes to judge and reward people. If your readers would not know the prophecy in Malachi or the stories about the prophet Elijah, you may need to include some of this information in your translation or in a footnote. (See: Elijah)

The epileptic boy

In 17:14–21, Matthew tells a story about how Jesus healed a boy. Matthew first describes this boy as an "epileptic," which refers to a disease that causes people to pass out and move uncontrollably. Later on, however, Matthew makes it clear that a demon is causing the boy's sickness. You should only make this clear when Matthew does. See the notes on these verses for ways to refer to the disease and how to introduce the demon.

The two-drachma tax

During this time period, Jewish men were expected to pay a tax of two drachmas to the leaders, who would use the money to keep the Jewish temple operating properly. A drachma was about a day's wages for a hired worker. When Jesus told Peter how to pay the tax, he said that he would find a coin worth four drachmas (a shekel) in the mouth of a fish he would catch. This coin would be enough to pay both Peter's and Jesus' taxes. You could include some of this information in your translation or in a footnote.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Many of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in speeches that Jesus gives to the disciples. Because of this, the majority of forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Verse 21

Some of the earliest manuscripts do not include anything for 17:21. Some early manuscripts and many later manuscripts include the following words: “But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting.” Since the earliest manuscripts do not include these words, the ULT and UST include these words in brackets. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to omit these words. If it would be helpful, you could put the words in brackets or in a footnote. (See: Textual Variants)

Matthew 17:1

ULT	UST
And after six days, Jesus takes along Peter, and James, and John his brother, and brings them up onto a high mountain by themselves.	Six days later, Jesus climbed up a tall mountain. He had Peter, James, and James' {younger} brother John go with him. No one else was with them.

ULT And after six days
UST Six days later
(καὶ μεθ' ἡμέρας ἓξ)

Here, the phrase And after six days introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event. Alternate translation: [Then, after six days had passed,] or [Six days after those things happened,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT takes along … brings them up
UST climbed up … He had … go with him
(παραλαμβάνει & ἀναφέρει αὐτοὺς)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [took along … brought them up]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT his brother
UST James' {younger} brother
(τὸν ἀδελφὸν αὐτοῦ)

Matthew never says whether James or John was older, but he mentions James first, which could imply that he was the older brother. If you have to use a form that refers to an older or younger brother, you could state that John was younger. Alternate translation: [his younger brother]

Support Reference: Kinship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
days	days
Jesus	Jesus

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter
James	James
John	John

Matthew 17:2

ULT	UST
And he was transfigured before them, and his face shone as the sun, and his garments became white as the light.	Then, the three apprentices saw Jesus change how he appeared. His face became as radiant as the sun. His clothes became bright white.

ULT he was transfigured
UST Jesus change how he appeared
(μετεμορφώθη)

The word transfigured means to be changed in appearance or form. If your readers would not be familiar with the meaning of this word, you could express the idea with a short phrase. Alternate translation: [his appearance was changed] or [he began to look different]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT he was transfigured
UST Jesus change how he appeared
(μετεμορφώθη)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Matthew could be implying that: (1) Jesus did the action. Alternate translation: [he transfigured himself]; (2) God did the action. Alternate translation: [God transfigured him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT before them
UST the three apprentices saw (ἔμπροσθεν αὐτῶν)

Alternate translation: [in front of them] or [as they watched]

ULT his face shone as the sun
UST His face became as radiant as the sun
(ἔλαμψεν τὸ πρόσωπον αὐτοῦ ὡς ὁ ἥλιος)

Matthew is saying that Jesus' face is like the sun because both shine brightly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [his face shone as brightly as the sun does]

Support Reference: Simile

> ULT white as the light
> UST bright white
> (λευκὰ ὡς τὸ φῶς)

Matthew is saying that how white Jesus garments were is like the light because both are bright. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [white as the light that shines brightly]

Support Reference: Simile

Matthew 17:3

ULT	UST
And behold, Moses and Elijah were seen by them, talking with him.	After that, Moses and Elijah{, who were prophets from long ago,} appeared to the three apprentices! These prophets were speaking to Jesus.

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [listen] or [suddenly]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Moses and Elijah were seen by them
UST Moses and Elijah{, who were prophets from long ago,} appeared to the three apprentices
(ὤφθη αὐτοῖς Μωϋσῆς καὶ Ἠλείας)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [they saw Moses and Elijah]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT talking
UST These prophets were speaking (συνλαλοῦντες)

Matthew means that Moses and Elijah were talking with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and the two of them were talking]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT him
UST Jesus
(αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Moses	Moses
Elijah	Elijah{, who were prophets from long ago … }

Matthew 17:4

ULT	UST
And answering, Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here. If you wish, I will makehere three tents, one for you, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah."	Peter responded by saying to Jesus, "My Lord, it is appropriate for all of us to be here. If you want me to, I will build three shelters. You, Moses, and Elijah can each use one."

ULT answering
UST responded
(ἀποκριθεὶς)

Here, the word answering indicates that Peter was responding to what he saw. He was not answering a question. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [in response to seeing those things]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for us
UST for all of us
(ἡμᾶς)

By we, Peter could mean: (1) everyone who was there, including himself, the other two disciples, Jesus, Moses, and Elijah. Alternate translation: [for us all]; (2) just himself and the other two disciples. Alternate translation: [for us disciples]

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

ULT you wish … for you
UST you want me to … You
(θέλεις & σοὶ)

Since Peter is talking to Jesus, the word you is singular throughout this verse.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT I will make
> UST I will build
> (ποιήσω)

Many ancient manuscripts read I will make. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “let us make.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT tents
> UST shelters
> (σκηνάς)

The term tents means simple, temporary places in which to sit or sleep. Peter probably had in mind that he would build them from the materials available on the mountain such as tree branches. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to this kind of temporary shelter. Alternate translation: [booths]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter
to Jesus	to Jesus
Lord	My Lord
good	appropriate for Moses	Moses
for Elijah	Elijah

Matthew 17:5

ULT	UST
{While} he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and behold, a voice from the cloud, saying, "This is my beloved Son with whom I am well pleased. Listen to him."	As Peter was talking, a radiant cloud covered all of them! Then God spoke from the cloud! He declared, "This man is my Son, the one whom I love dearly. What he does pleases me. Do what he says."

ULT behold … behold
(ἰδοὺ)

In both places, the word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [it happened … then] or [suddenly … listen]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a bright cloud
UST a radiant cloud
(νεφέλη φωτεινὴ)

Here, a bright cloud is one that is white and reflects the light from the sun very strongly. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a shining cloud] or [a very white cloud]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT overshadowed
UST covered (ἐπεσκίασεν)

Matthew could be implying that: (1) the cloud enveloped or surrounded them. Alternate translation: [enveloped] or [surrounded]; (2) the cloud cast a shadow on them. Alternate translation: [cast a shadow on]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT them
UST all of them
(αὐτούς)

The pronoun them could refer to: (1) the three disciples, Jesus, Moses, and Elijah. Alternate translation: [them all]; (2) just Jesus, Moses, and Elijah. Alternate translation: [Jesus, Moses, and Elijah]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT a voice
UST God spoke
(φωνὴ)

Matthew is using voice to represent the person who is speaking, which is God the Father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a person speaking] or [God the Father spoke]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT saying
UST He declared
(λέγουσα)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and it said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT This is my beloved Son with whom I am well pleased
UST This man is my Son, the one whom I love dearly. What he does pleases me (οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ Υἱός μου, ὁ ἀγαπητός & ᾧ εὐδόκησα)

See how you translated the identical sentence in 3:17.

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
beloved	the one whom I love dearly
Son	Son
I am well pleased	pleases me

Matthew 17:6

ULT	UST
And having heard, the disciples fell on their face and were very afraid.	After the three apprentices heard that, they became extremely afraid. They kneeled down to worship God.

ULT the disciples fell on their face and were very afraid
UST the three apprentices … they became extremely afraid. They kneeled down to worship God (οἱ μαθηταὶ ἔπεσαν ἐπὶ πρόσωπον αὐτῶν καὶ ἐφοβήθησαν σφόδρα)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these two clauses, since the second clause describes something that happened before what the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [the disciples were very afraid and fell on their face]

Support Reference: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

ULT fell on their face
UST They kneeled down to worship God
(ἔπεσαν ἐπὶ πρόσωπον αὐτῶν)

In Matthew's culture, "falling" on one's face refers to kneeling down and putting one's face close to the ground. This was a position used to show respect and reverence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression for a physical position used to show respect or worship, or you could express the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [bowed down] or [lay down to show respect]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT their face
UST They kneeled down to worship God
(πρόσωπον αὐτῶν)

If it would not be natural in your language to speak as if a group of people had only one face, you could use the plural form of that word in your translation. Alternate translation: [their faces]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	the three apprentices
fell	They kneeled down to worship God

ULT	UST
were … afraid	they became … afraid

Matthew 17:7

ULT	UST
And Jesus approached and having touched them, said, "Get up and do not be afraid."	Then Jesus came close to them. He touched them and told them, "Stand up! Stop being afraid!"

ULT said, "Get up and do not be afraid
UST and told them, "Stand up! Stop being afraid (εἶπεν, ἐγέρθητε καὶ μὴ φοβεῖσθε)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [said that they should get up and not be afraid]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT Get up and do not be afraid
UST Stand up! Stop being afraid
(ἐγέρθητε καὶ μὴ φοβεῖσθε)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these two commands. Alternate translation: [Do not be afraid; get up]

Support Reference: Information Structure

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
do … be afraid	being afraid

Matthew 17:8

ULT	UST
But, having lifted up their eyes, they saw no one except only Jesus himself.	When they looked up, the only person whom they saw was Jesus.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having lifted up their eyes
UST When they looked up
(ἐπάραντες & τοὺς ὀφθαλμοὺς αὐτῶν)

Here, the phrase having lifted up their eyes means that they stopped looking at the ground and looked up at what was happening around them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [having looked up from the ground] or [having looked around]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT they saw no one except only Jesus himself
UST the only person whom they saw was Jesus
(οὐδένα εἶδον εἰ μὴ αὐτὸν Ἰησοῦν μόνον)

If it would in appear your language that Matthew was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [they only saw Jesus himself]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT Jesus himself
UST was Jesus
(αὐτὸν Ἰησοῦν)

Here, the word translated as myself emphasizes Jesus. Consider using a natural way to emphasize Jesus in your language. Alternate translation: [him, that is, Jesus]

Support Reference: Reflexive Pronouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	was Jesus

Matthew 17:9

ULT	UST
And {as} they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, "Tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man might have risen from the dead."	While they were walking down the mountain, Jesus instructed them, "Do not tell anyone about what you just saw until I, the Son of Man, live again."

ULT {as} they were coming down
UST While they were walking down
(καταβαινόντων αὐτῶν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "going" instead of coming. Alternate translation: [as they were going down]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT saying, "Tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man might have risen from the dead
UST Do not tell anyone about what you just saw until I, the Son of Man, live again
(λέγων, μηδενὶ εἴπητε τὸ ὅραμα, ἕως οὗ ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου ἐκ νεκρῶν ἀναστῇ)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [saying that they should tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man has risen from the dead]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT saying
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT the Son of Man
UST I, the Son of Man
(ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man,]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

> ULT might have risen from the dead
> UST live again
> (ἐκ νεκρῶν ἀναστῇ)

Here, the phrase risen from the dead refers to people who had died and then returned to being alive again. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or express the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [might have been restored to life] or [might have resurrected]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the dead
> UST live again
> (νεκρῶν)

Jesus is using the adjective dead as a noun to mean people who are dead. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the dead people] or [the corpses]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
vision	what you just saw
Son of Man	I, the Son of Man

Matthew 17:10

ULT	UST
And his disciples questioned him, saying, "Why then do the scribes say that it is necessary for Elijah to come first?"	Then, those three apprentices asked Jesus, "The teachers of the Jewish law tell us that the prophet Elijah has to be here before {the Messiah gets here}. Are they right about that? {We ask because we just saw the prophet Elijah}."

ULT his disciples
UST those three apprentices
(οἱ μαθηταὶ αὐτοῦ)

Matthew continues to refer to Peter, James, and John, the three disciples who went up on the mountain with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Peter, James, and John]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they asked]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Why then
UST Are they right about that? {We ask because we just saw the prophet Elijah}
(τί οὖν)

Here, the word then indicates that the disciples ask this question because of what they saw on the mountain. More specifically, they ask the question because they had just seen Elijah and wondered why he appeared after Jesus the Messiah came and not before. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some or all of those ideas more explicit. Alternate translation: [Because of what we saw on the mountain, we have a question: why] or [We just saw Elijah appear after you, the Messiah, have already come. Why then]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT it is necessary for Elijah to come
UST the prophet Elijah has to be here
(Ἠλείαν δεῖ ἐλθεῖν)

Here the disciples are referring to a prophecy in Malachi 4:5–6. This prophecy states that God will send Elijah before the day of the Lord arrives, and he will prepare people. Elijah was a prophet who did many powerful things a long time before Malachi wrote down this prophecy. The scribes teach that this means that Elijah must come before the Messiah does. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [it is necessary for Elijah, who was a prophet long ago, to come] or [the Scriptures indicate that it is necessary for Elijah the prophet to come]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to come
UST to be here
(ἐλθεῖν)

Here, the word come refers to Elijah appearing in the word and doing what God called him to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to appear] or [to do what he is predicted to do]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT first
UST before {the Messiah gets here}
(πρῶτον)

Here the disciples imply that Elijah comes first because he comes before the Messiah does. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [first, before the Messiah comes]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	those three apprentices
scribes	teachers of the Jewish law
Elijah	the prophet Elijah

Matthew 17:11

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said, "Elijah indeed comes and will restore all things.	Jesus replied, "{They are right} that the prophet Elijah has to be here and that he will make everything as it should be.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT comes
UST has to be here
(ἔρχεται)

See how you translated "come" in 17:10. Alternate translation: [appears] or [does what he is predicted to do]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT comes
UST has to be here
(ἔρχεται)

Here Jesus uses the present tense to state something that is generally true: the scribes are right that Elijah has to come before the Messiah does. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever form indicates that Jesus is agreeing with the scribes about Elijah. Alternate translation: [must come] or [needs to come]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Elijah	{They are right} that the prophet Elijah

Matthew 17:12

ULT	UST
But I say to you that Elijah already came, and they did not recognize him, but they did to him whatever they wanted. In the same way also, the Son of Man is about to suffer by them."	Now here is what I want you to know: the prophet Elijah has been here already. However, people did not realize that it was Elijah. Instead, they treated him badly. Further, they are about to hurt me, the Son of Man, in similar ways."

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

The word But introduces a contrast with what Jesus has said about how Elijah is going to come. Here, he indicates that Elijah has already come. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [However,] or [Even further,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT came
UST has been here
(ἦλθεν)

See how you translated "come" in 17:10. Alternate translation: [appeared] or [did what he was predicted to do]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they did not recognize … they did … them
UST people did not realize that it was … they treated … badly … they (οὐκ ἐπέγνωσαν & ἐποίησαν & αὐτῶν)

The pronouns they, they, and them could refer to: (1) people in generally who did not recognize Elijah and who mistreated him. Alternate translation: [most people did not recognize … those people did … them]; (2) the Jewish religious leaders. Alternate translation: [the religious leaders did not recognize … they did … those same leaders]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT whatever they wanted
UST they treated … badly
(ὅσα ἠθέλησαν)

Here Jesus implies that what they wanted was to mistreat and harm this Elijah. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [whatever harmful things they wanted to do] or [any evil things they wanted to do]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the Son of Man is about
UST are about … me, the Son of Man
(ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου μέλλει)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, am about]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Elijah	the prophet Elijah
they did … recognize	people did … realize that it was
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man
to suffer	to hurt

Matthew 17:13

ULT	UST
Then the disciples understood that he spoke to them about John the Baptist.	After that, the three apprentices realized that Jesus was telling them {that the person he called Elijah was} John the Baptizer.

ULT the disciples
UST the three apprentices
(οἱ μαθηταὶ)

Matthew continues to refer to Peter, James, and John, the three disciples who went up on the mountain with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Peter, James, and John]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he spoke to them about John the Baptist
UST Jesus was telling them {that the person he called Elijah was} John the Baptizer
(περὶ Ἰωάννου τοῦ Βαπτιστοῦ εἶπεν αὐτοῖς)

Matthew implies that the disciples realized that Jesus was using the name “Elijah” to refer to John the Baptist. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when he was talking about Elijah, he was speaking to them about John the Baptist] or [he was saying that Elijah was John the Baptist]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	the three apprentices
understood	realized
John the Baptist	John the Baptizer

Matthew 17:14

ULT	UST
And having come to the crowd, a man approached him, kneeling before him	When the four of them returned to the large group of people, a man came up to Jesus and bowed down in front of him.

ULT having come
UST When the four of them returned
(ἐλθόντων)

Matthew means that Jesus and the three disciples came to the crowd. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as Jesus and the disciples came]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT having come
UST When the four of them returned
(ἐλθόντων)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT kneeling before him
UST and bowed down in front of him
(γονυπετῶν αὐτὸν)

In the Jesus’ culture, kneeling before someone was a way to show respect to a greater person, especially when asking the greater person to do a favor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to a similar action from your culture, or you could explain what kneeling means. Alternate translation: [prostrating himself before him] or [kneeling before him to ask a favor]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

Matthew 17:15

ULT	UST
and saying, “Lord, have mercy on my son, because he is epileptic and has sickness, for he often falls into the fire and often into the water.	He said {to Jesus}, “My lord, please help my son! He is very sick and has seizures. He frequently falls into fires or bodies of water.

ULT Lord, have mercy on my son, because he is epileptic and has sickness, for he often falls into the fire and often into the water

UST My lord, please help my son! He is very sick and has seizures. He frequently falls into fires or bodies of water

(Κύριε, ἐλέησόν μου τὸν υἱόν, ὅτι σεληνιάζεται καὶ κακῶς ἔχει, πολλάκις γὰρ πίπτει εἰς τὸ πῦρ, καὶ πολλάκις εἰς τὸ ὕδωρ)

Here the man asks Jesus to have mercy on his son before he says why his son needs help. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include why the son needs help before the father asks for mercy. Alternate translation: [Lord, my son is epileptic and has sickness, for he often falls into the fire and often into the water. Have mercy on him!]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT have mercy on my son

UST please help my son

(ἐλέησόν μου τὸν υἱόν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [be merciful to my son]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT have mercy on

UST please help

(ἐλέησόν)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask that you have mercy on]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT have mercy on
> UST please help
> (ἐλέησόν)

Since the man is talking to Jesus, the imperative here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT he is epileptic and has sickness
> UST He is very sick and has seizures
> (σεληνιάζεται καὶ κακῶς ἔχει)

Here the man states the more specific type of sickness before stating that his son is sick. If it would be helpful in your language, you could reverse the order so that the general statement appears before the specific one. Alternate translation: [he has sickness and is epileptic] or [he has sickness, specifically epilepsy]

Support Reference: Information Structure

> ULT he is epileptic
> UST has seizures
> (σεληνιάζεται)

An epileptic is someone who sometimes passes out and then moves uncontrollably. If your readers would not be familiar with this sickness, you could use the name of something like this from your language, or you could use a general expression. See how you translated the similar term in 4:24. Alternate translation: [he has seizures] or [he sometimes becomes unconscious and moves uncontrollably]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT has sickness
> UST He is very sick
> (κακῶς ἔχει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sickness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is sick]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT for
(γὰρ)

Here, the word for introduces an explanation of how the son has sickness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [which means that]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the fire … the water
UST fires … bodies of water
(τὸ πῦρ & τὸ ὕδωρ)

The words fire and water represent fire and water in general, not one particular fire or body of water. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [fires … rivers and lakes]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT often into
UST bodies of water
(πολλάκις εἰς)

The man is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [he often falls into]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	My lord
have mercy on	please help

Matthew 17:16

ULT	UST
And I brought him to your disciples, and they were not able to heal him."	I took him {here} to your apprentices {in order that they might cure him}. However, they were not able to do so."

ULT I brought him to your disciples
UST I took him {here} to your apprentices {in order that they might cure him}
(προσήνεγκα αὐτὸν τοῖς μαθηταῖς σου)

Here the man implies that he brought his son so that Jesus' disciples could heal him. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I brought him to your disciples to be healed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT your
UST your
(σου)

Because the man is talking to Jesus, the word your here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT and
UST However
(καὶ)

Here, the word and introduces what the disciples were actually able to do, in contrast with what the man wanted them to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a contrast. Alternate translation: [but]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to … disciples	to … apprentices

Matthew 17:17

ULT	UST
But answering, Jesus said, "O unbelieving and perverted generation, until when will I be with you? Until when will I bear with you? Bring him here to me."	Jesus responded, "You people who are alive right now do not believe or think properly. It is hard for me to live here with you. It is difficult for me to be patient with you." {Then he said to them,} "Bring the man's son here to me!"

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT O unbelieving and perverted generation, until when will I be with you? Until when will I bear with you
UST You people who are alive right now do not believe or think properly. It is hard for me to live here with you. It is difficult for me to be patient with you
(ὦ γενεὰ ἄπιστος καὶ διεστραμμένη, ἕως πότε μεθ' ὑμῶν ἔσομαι? ἕως πότε ἀνέξομαι ὑμῶν)

Jesus is speaking to something that he knows cannot hear him. He is addressing the entire generation of people who were living at that time, and they are not all present to hear him. He is doing this to show in a very strong way how he feels about this generation. He is actually speaking to the people who can hear him, the crowd that has gathered there. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate Jesus' words as if he were speaking directly to the disciples and the crowd, since they are included in the generation that Jesus is addressing. Alternate translation: [You who are part of this unbelieving and perverse generation, how long will I be with you? How long will I bear with you?]

Support Reference: Apostrophe

ULT O unbelieving and perverted generation
UST You people who are alive right now do not believe or think properly
(ὦ γενεὰ ἄπιστος καὶ διεστραμμένη)

Here, generation represents the people who are part of the generation, which means that they are adults who are currently alive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar expression in 11:16. Alternate translation: [O today's people who are unbelieving and perverted] or [O unbelieving and perverted people of this generation]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT until when will I be with you? Until when will I bear with you
UST It is hard for me to live here with you. It is difficult for me to be patient with you (ἕως πότε μεθ' ὑμῶν ἔσομαι? ἕως πότε ἀνέξομαι ὑμῶν)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the disciples and the crowds and to show how frustrated he is by them. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate these as statements or exclamations. Alternate translation: [I do not want to be with you for long. I do not want to bear with you for long.] or [I want to leave you! I want to stop bearing with you!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT until when … Until when
UST It is hard … It is difficult
(ἕως πότε)

Alternate translation: [how long … How long]

ULT will I bear with you
UST for me to be patient with you (ἀνέξομαι ὑμῶν)

Here, the phrase bear with refers to being charitable or kind to someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase. Alternate translation: [will I be charitable to you] or [will I act kindly with you]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT him
> UST the man's son
> (αὐτὸν)

The pronoun him refers to the boy who was epileptic. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to him more directly. Alternate translation: [the boy] or [the epileptic]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
unbelieving	do not believe
perverted	think properly
generation	You people who are alive right now will I bear with	for me to be patient

Matthew 17:18

ULT	UST
And Jesus rebuked it, and the demon came out from him, and the boy was healed from that hour.	Then, Jesus commanded the demon {who was controlling the man's son} to stop {doing so}. The demon obeyed and left him. At that very moment, Jesus cured the man's son.

ULT it
UST the demon {who was controlling the man's son}
(αὐτῷ)

The pronoun translated it could refer to: (1) the demon that was possessing the boy. Alternate translation: [the demon]; (2) the boy. Alternate translation: [the boy]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT the demon
UST The demon
(τὸ δαιμόνιον)

Matthew implies that Jesus knew that a demon was causing the man's son to be epileptic. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the demon that was causing the boy to be epileptic] or [the demon that was making him sick]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT him
UST him
(αὐτοῦ)

The pronoun him refers to boy who was epileptic. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to him more directly. Alternate translation: [the epileptic] or [the boy]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT the boy was healed
UST Jesus cured the man's son
(ἐθεραπεύθη ὁ παῖς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus. Alternate translation: [Jesus healed the boy]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT from that hour
> UST At that very moment
> (ἀπὸ τῆς ὥρας ἐκείνης)

Here, the phrase from that hour indicates that boy was healed at the time when Jesus rebuked the demon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [right then] or [at that time]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
rebuked	commanded … to stop {doing so}
demon	demon
hour	At that very moment

Matthew 17:19

ULT	UST
Then the disciples, having approached Jesus privately, said, "For what reason were we not able to cast it out?"	Later, the apprentices came to Jesus when they were alone. They asked him, "Why could we not drive out that demon?"

ULT said, "For what reason were we not able to cast it out
UST They asked him, "Why could we not drive out that demon (εἶπον, διὰ τί ἡμεῖς οὐκ ἠδυνήθημεν ἐκβαλεῖν αὐτό)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [asked why they were not able to cast the demon out.]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT we
UST we
(ἡμεῖς)

By we, the speaker means himself and the rest of the disciples but not Jesus, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

ULT it
UST that demon
(αὐτό)

The pronoun it refers to the demon which Jesus cast out of the boy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the demon more directly. Alternate translation: [the demon]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
Jesus	Jesus
to cast … out	drive out

Matthew 17:20

ULT	UST
And he says to them, "Because of your little faith. For truly I say to you, if you had faith like a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you.	He answered, "{You could not drive it out} because you trust in God so little. Suppose that you trusted God even a little bit, as little as a tiny mustard seed. Then, you could tell the mountain {we just walked down} to go from one place to another, and it would do so. You could do anything! What I have said is true.

ULT says
UST answered
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Because of your little faith
UST {You could not drive it out} because you trust in God so little (διὰ τὴν ὀλιγοπιστίαν ὑμῶν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Because you believe so little]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces an explanation about how much faith the disciples need. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [In fact,] or [Here is what I mean:]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if you had faith like a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you
UST Suppose that you trusted God even a little bit, as little as a tiny mustard seed. Then, you could tell the mountain {we just walked down} to go from one place to another, and it would do so. You could do anything
(ἐὰν ἔχητε πίστιν ὡς κόκκον σινάπεως, ἐρεῖτε τῷ ὄρει τούτῳ, μετάβα ἔνθεν ἐκεῖ, καὶ μεταβήσεται, καὶ οὐδὲν ἀδυνατήσει ὑμῖν)

Jesus uses an imaginary situation to show that a person with even a little bit of faith can do amazing things, like having a mountain move. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [imagine that you had faith like a mustard seed. In that case, you could even say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it would move, and nothing would be impossible for you]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT faith like a mustard seed
UST you trusted God even a little bit, as little as a tiny mustard seed (πίστιν ὡς κόκκον σινάπεως)

Jesus is saying that their faith might be like a mustard seed because both would be very small. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [faith as small as a mustard seed]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT a mustard seed
UST a tiny mustard seed
(κόκκον σινάπεως)

A mustard seed is a very small seed that grows into a large plant. If your readers would not be familiar with this kind of seed, in your translation you could use the name of another seed like it, or you could use a general phrase. Alternate translation: [a very small seed]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and UST the mountain {we just walked down} to go from one place to another, and (τῷ ὄρει τούτῳ, μετάβα ἔνθεν ἐκεῖ, καὶ)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [to this mountain that you want it to move from here to there, and]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT to this mountain
UST the mountain {we just walked down}
(τῷ ὄρει τούτῳ)

Here, the phrase this mountain refers to the mountain from which Jesus and three of his disciples had just come down. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to the mountain I was just on]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Move
UST to go (μετάβα)

Here, the command is singular because someone is speaking to one mountain.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT from here to there
UST from one place to another
(ἔνθεν ἐκεῖ)

Here Jesus is not referring to specific locations. Instead, he is referring to telling the mountain to move from where it is to some other location. Use a form that refers to changing locations without specifying where those locations are. Alternate translation: [from this place to another place]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT nothing will be impossible
UST could do anything
(οὐδὲν ἀδυνατήσει)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this double negative that consists of the negative word nothing and the negative word impossible. Alternate translation: [everything will be possible]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
truly	What I have said is true
faith	you trusted God

ULT	UST
a … seed	a tiny mustard seed

Matthew 17:21

ULT	UST
[But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting.]"	[Now you can only drive out this type of demon by praying and by not eating in order to please God.]"

ULT But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting
UST Now you can only drive out this type of demon by praying and by not eating in order to please God
(Τοῦτο δὲ τὸ γένος οὐκ ἐκπορεύεται εἰ μὴ ἐν προσευχῇ καὶ νηστείᾳ)

See the discussion of textual issues at the end of the introduction to this chapter to decide whether to include this verse in your translation. The notes below discuss translation issues in this verse, for those who decide to include it.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT this kind
UST this type of demon
(Τοῦτο & τὸ γένος)

Here Jesus implies that he is speaking about a kind of demon. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [this kind of demon]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT does not go out except by prayer and fasting
UST you can only drive out … by praying and by not eating in order to please God
(οὐκ ἐκπορεύεται εἰ μὴ ἐν προσευχῇ καὶ νηστείᾳ)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [only goes out by prayer and fasting]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

Matthew 17:22

ULT	UST
Now they being gathered together in Galilee, Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man is about to be handed over into the hands of men,	Sometime later, the apprentices met together in the region of Galilee. Jesus told them, "Soon somebody will help my enemies arrest me, the Son of Man.

ULT The Son of Man is about … him … he will be raised up
UST Soon … me, the Son of Man … me … God will make me alive again
(μέλλει ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου & αὐτόν & ἐγερθήσεται) (17:22-23)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, am about … me … I will be raised up]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT Now
UST Sometime later
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT they
UST the apprentices
(αὐτῶν)

The pronoun they could refer to: (1) the disciples. Alternate translation: [the disciples]; (2) Jesus and the disciples. Alternate translation: [Jesus and the disciples]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT being gathered together
UST met together
(συστρεφομένων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [gathering together]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT The Son of Man is about to be handed over
UST Soon somebody will help … arrest me, the Son of Man
(μέλλει ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου παραδίδοσθαι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [Someone is about to hand the Son of Man over]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT into the hands
UST my enemies
(εἰς χεῖρας)

The term hands represents power and control. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [into the power] or [into the control]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT of men
UST my enemies
(ἀνθρώπων)

Here, the word men refers to people who have authority and who want to get rid of Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of powerful people] or [of people who hate him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Galilee	the region of Galilee
Jesus	Jesus
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man

Matthew 17:23

ULT	UST
and they will kill him, and on the third day he will be raised up." And they were very grieved.	They will have people kill me. Then, during the third day after I died, God will make me alive again." {When they heard that, the apprentices} became very sad.

ULT on the third day
UST during the third day after I died
(τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ)

Here, the phrase on the third day refers to the day after tomorrow. People in Jesus' culture counted the current day as the first day, tomorrow as the second day, and the day after tomorrow as the third day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to the day after tomorrow. Alternate translation: [on the day after the next day] or [two days later]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT on the third day
UST during the third day after I died
(τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [on day three]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

ULT he will be raised up
UST God will make me alive again
(ἐγερθήσεται)

Here, the word raised refers to someone who died coming back to life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable word or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will be restored to life]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT he will be raised up
> UST God will make me alive again
> (ἐγερθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who will do the action, Jesus could be implying that: (1) God will do it. Alternate translation: [God will raise him up]; (2) Jesus himself will do it. Alternate translation: [he will raise himself up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT they were very grieved
> UST { … the apprentices} became very sad
> (ἐλυπήθησαν σφόδρα)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was Jesus and what he said. Alternate translation: [what Jesus said grieved them very much]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
on the … day	during the third day after I died

Matthew 17:24

ULT	UST
Now {when} they had come to Capernaum, the ones collecting the two-drachma tax approached Peter and said, "Does not your teacher pay the two-drachma tax?"	Later, Jesus and his apprentices went to the city of Capernaum. Some people who collected taxes for the temple came up to Peter. They asked him, "Your instructor pays the tax for the temple, right?"

ULT Now
UST Later
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT {when} they had come
UST Jesus and his apprentices went (ἐλθόντων & αὐτῶν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [when they had gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT they
UST Jesus and his apprentices
(αὐτῶν)

The pronoun they refers to Jesus and the disciples. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to them more directly. Alternate translation: [the disciples and Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT the two-drachma tax … the two-drachma tax
> UST taxes for the temple … the tax for the temple
> (τὰ δίδραχμα)

Here, the phrase the two-drachma tax refers to a tax that people paid to help support the temple in Jerusalem. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the two-drachma tax for supporting the temple … the two-drachma tax for supporting the temple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the two-drachma tax … the two-drachma tax
> UST taxes for the temple … the tax for the temple
> (τὰ δίδραχμα)

A drachma was a silver coin equivalent to a day's wage. You could try to express this amount in terms of current monetary values, but that might cause your Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate, since those values can change over time. So instead you might state something more general or give the equivalent in wages. Alternate translation: [the tax of two valuable silver coins … the tax of two valuable silver coins] or [the tax of two coins each worth a day's wages … the tax of two coins each worth a day's wages]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Capernaum	the city of Capernaum
Peter	Peter
teacher	instructor

Matthew 17:25

ULT	UST
He says, "Yes." And having entered into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, "What do you think, Simon? The kings of the earth—from whom do they receive taxes or tolls? From their sons or from strangers?"	Peter answered, "Yes, he does pay it." Then Peter went into the house {where Jesus was staying}. Before Peter could say anything, Jesus said to him, "Simon, tell me what you think. Who has to pay taxes to the kings who rule in this world? Do their own children have to pay taxes? Or do people whom the kings do not know have to pay taxes?"

ULT He says
UST Peter answered
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [He said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT having entered into the house
UST Peter went into the house {where Jesus was staying} (εἰσελθόντα εἰς τὴν οἰκίαν)

Matthew means that Peter is the one who entered into the house. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when Peter entered into the house]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the house
UST the house {where Jesus was staying}
(τὴν οἰκίαν)

Here, the phrase the house refers to the place where Jesus was staying. He did not own the house, but someone was letting him live there. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the house in which Jesus was living]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Jesus anticipated him
UST Before Peter could say anything, Jesus
(προέφθασεν αὐτὸν ὁ Ἰησοῦς)

Matthew means that Peter was about to ask about the tax, but Jesus asked him first. The implication is that Jesus knew that Peter was going to ask about it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make those ideas more explicit. Alternate translation: [Jesus knew what he was thinking and spoke to him first] or [Jesus acted before could]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST said to him
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT you
UST tell me what you think (σοι)

Here, the word you is singular because Jesus is speaking to Peter.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT The kings of the earth
UST to the kings who rule in this world
(οἱ βασιλεῖς τῆς γῆς)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe kings who rule on the earth. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [The kings who reign on earth]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT taxes or tolls
UST taxes
(τέλη ἢ κῆνσον)

The terms taxes and tolls mean similar things. Jesus is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [any taxes]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT From their sons or from strangers
UST Do their own children have to pay taxes? Or do people whom the kings do not know have to pay taxes
(ἀπὸ τῶν υἱῶν αὐτῶν ἢ ἀπὸ τῶν ἀλλοτρίων)

Here, Jesus could be contrasting: (1) children of kings as opposed to the rest of the people over whom the kings rule. Alternate translation: [From their families or from other people]; (2) citizens of the kingdom as opposed to conquered people. Alternate translation: [From their citizens or from people they have conquered]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	the house {where Jesus was staying}
Jesus	Jesus
Simon	Simon
kings	to the kings
of the earth	who rule in this world do they receive	has to pay taxes	taxes
tolls	taxes

Matthew 17:26

ULT	UST
But having said, "From strangers," Jesus said to him, "Therefore, the sons are free.	Peter replied, "People whom the kings do not know {have to pay taxes}." Then Jesus said to him, "So then, the children of kings do not have to pay anything. {That means that we do not have to pay anything either.}

ULT But
(δέ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having said
UST Peter replied
(εἰπόντος)

Matthew implies that Peter is the one speaking. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when Peter said]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT strangers … the sons
UST People whom the kings do not know {have to pay taxes} … the children of kings
(τῶν ἀλλοτρίων & οἱ υἱοί)

Here, just as in 17:25, the words strangers and sons could be referring to: (1) people over whom kings rule as opposed to their own children. Alternate translation: [other people … the families]; (2) conquered people as opposed to citizens of the kingdom. Alternate translation: [people they have conquered … the citizens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Therefore, the sons are free
UST So then, the children of kings do not have to pay anything. {That means that we do not have to pay anything either … }
(ἄρα γε ἐλεύθεροί εἰσιν οἱ υἱοί)

Here Jesus implies that he agrees with Peter's answer. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [You are correct, and so the sons are free]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the sons are free
UST So then, the children of kings do not have to pay anything. {That means that we do not have to pay anything either … }
(γε ἐλεύθεροί εἰσιν οἱ υἱοί)

Here Jesus implies that he and Peter are like sons and so do not have to pay the tax. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the sons are free, and we are like those sons] or [the sons are free, which means that you and I also do not have to pay]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Then Jesus
free	So then … do not have to pay anything. {That means that we do not have to pay anything either … }

Matthew 17:27

ULT	UST
But in order that we might not cause them to stumble, having gone to the sea, throw in a fishhook, and draw in the first fish having come up. And having opened its mouth, you will find a shekel. Having taken that, give {it} to them on behalf of me and you."	However, we do not want to upset the people who collect taxes. So, go to the Sea of Galilee and prepare your fishing tools. Pick up the first fish that you capture. Look in its mouth, and you will see a silver coin {that is worth about twice the tax}. Take the coin to the people who collect taxes to pay for my tax and your tax."

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here the word But introduces what Jesus wants Peter to do in contrast to what he has said about how "the sons are free" (see 17:26). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [Despite that,] or [Even though that is true,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT we might not cause them to stumble
UST we do not want to upset the people who collect taxes
(μὴ σκανδαλίσωμεν αὐτούς)

Here Jesus speaks as if he and Peter were lumps or rocks that the tax collectors might stumble on. He means that the tax collectors might be offended by him and Peter if they did not pay the tax. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [we might not offend them]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT them … to them
UST the people who collect taxes … to the people who collect taxes
(αὐτούς & αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them in both places refers to the people who were collecting taxes. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the ones collecting the tax … to the ones collecting the tax] or [the tax collectors … to the tax collectors]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT having gone
> UST go
> (πορευθεὶς)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT throw in … draw in … you will find … give {it} … you
> UST and prepare your fishing tools. Pick up … and you will see … to pay … your tax > (βάλε & ἆρον & εὑρήσεις & δὸς & σοῦ)

Because Jesus is speaking to Peter, the commands and the word you throughout this verse are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

> ULT throw in a fishhook
> UST and prepare your fishing tools
> (βάλε ἄγκιστρον)

A fishhook is a small, sharp, curved object that fishermen would tie to the end of a rope or line in order to hook and catch fish. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of fishing implement, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could refer more generally to fishing. Alternate translation: [cast your line] or [go fishing]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT draw in the first fish having come up
> UST Pick up the first fish that you capture > (τὸν ἀναβάντα πρῶτον ἰχθὺν ἆρον)

Here Jesus means that Peter should take the first fish that he catches with his fishhook. The fish would need to come up from further down in the water to be caught on the hook. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [take the first fish that you catch]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT a shekel
> UST a silver coin {that is worth about twice the tax} > (στατῆρα)

A shekel was a silver coin equivalent to about four drachmas (see 17:24), that is, about four days' wages. You could try to express this amount in terms of current monetary values, but that might cause your Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate since those values can change over time. So instead, you might state something more general or give the equivalent in wages. Alternate translation: [a four-drachma coin] or [a coin worth four days' wages]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

> ULT on behalf of me and you
> UST for my tax and your tax
> (ἀντὶ ἐμοῦ καὶ σοῦ)

Here Jesus means that this coin will pay for both his and Peter's two-drachma tax. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as payment for my tax and your tax]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the sea	the Sea of Galilee

Matthew 18

Matthew 18 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus teaches about life in the kingdom of God (18:1–35)
    - The disciples ask about who is the greatest (18:1–5)
    - Jesus teaches about stumbling blocks (18:6–9)
    - The parable of the lost sheep (18:10–14)
    - Jesus teaches about a sinning brother (18:15–20)
    - The parable of the unforgiving slave (18:21–35)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

The “little ones”

In 18:6, 18:10, and 18:14, Jesus refers to people whom he calls “little ones.” In the previous paragraph, he told the disciples that they needed to be like little children if they wanted to be great in the kingdom of the heavens. Because of this, it is possible that Jesus uses the phrase “little ones” to continue to refer to children. However, it is also possible that he uses the phrase to refer to people who are like little children in some specific way. They could be like little children either because they are insignificant or unimportant or because they are immature in their faith. If possible, express the idea in such a way that all of these interpretations are possible. If you must make the idea more explicit, it is recommended that you refer to insignificant or unimportant people. That is how Jesus used the phrase in 10:42.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Stumbling and stumbling blocks

In 18:6–9, Jesus discusses "stumbling blocks" and things that cause stumbling. He uses these terms to refer to people and things that cause people to sin. See the notes on these verses for translation options.

Hyperbole

In 18:8–9, Jesus commands his disciples to cut off or pluck out body parts that cause them to sin. He uses this extreme example of resisting sin in order to show his disciples how serious sin really is. He does not mean that believers should always cut off body parts when they sin. Jesus intends his commands to be shocking, however, so you should preserve the extreme language. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a form that indicates that Jesus' commands are extreme language. There are very similar verses in 5:29–30, so you translate as you did there.

The parable of the lost sheep

In 18:12–14, Jesus tells a story about a shepherd who had 100 sheep. When one of the sheep went astray, the shepherd left the other sheep behind to find it. When he found it, he was happier about that one sheep than he was about the 99 sheep that had not gone astray. Jesus applies this story to God the Father, who does not want any person to perish. Just like the shepherd, God will rescue people who go astray and rejoice when they are rescued. Your translation should not directly explain the meaning of this parable more than Jesus does. (See: Parables)

The parable of the unforgiving slave

In 18:23–35, Jesus tells a story about a slave who owed an enormous debt to his master, the king. When the slave begs the king to be patient with him, the king forgives the entire debt. However, the slave immediately finds another slave who owes him a small amount of money. He demands that the slave pay him immediately and does not forgive the debt. When the king finds out about this, he has the first slave jailed and tortured until he can pay the enormous debt. Jesus applies this story to believers who do not forgive fellow believers. God will punish them, just as the king punished the slave who did not have mercy on his fellow slave. Your translation should not directly explain the meaning of this parable more than Jesus does. (See: Parables)

Singular and plural forms of “you”

Most of the forms of “you” in this chapter appear in instructions that Jesus gives to individual disciples or in dialogues between individual people. Because of this, the majority of forms of “you” in this chapter are singular. You should assume forms of “you” are singular unless a note specifies that the form is plural. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular)

Verse 11

Some of the earliest manuscripts do not include anything for 18:11. Some early manuscripts and many later manuscripts include the following words: “For the Son of Man came to save the one that had been lost.” Since the earliest manuscripts do not include these words, the ULT and UST include these words in brackets. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to omit these words. If it would be helpful, you could put the words in brackets or in a footnote. (See: Textual Variants)

Matthew 18:1

ULT	UST
At that hour the disciples approached Jesus, saying, "Who then is greatest in the kingdom of the heavens?"	Immediately after that, the apprentices came to Jesus. They asked him, "So then, who will be the most important people in God's heavenly kingdom?"

> ULT At that hour
> UST Immediately after that
> (ἐν ἐκείνῃ τῇ ὥρᾳ)

Here, the phrase At that hour introduces the next major event in the story. The phrase clarifies that this new event happened immediately after the previous event. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event that happened immediately after the previous one. Alternate translation: [Right after that,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

> ULT saying
> UST They asked him
> (λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT Who then
> UST So then, who > (τίς ἄρα)

Here, the word then could: (1) indicate that the disciples are asking the question because of something that just happened. That could be Jesus implying that the disciples are important enough to be exempt from paying taxes, or it could be Jesus singling out Peter as an important disciple, or it could be something else that the disciples have experienced. Alternate translation: [Because of what just happened, we want to ask this: Who]; (2) make the question stronger or more urgent. Alternate translation: [Who is it who] or [Tell us! Who]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
hour	Immediately after that

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
Jesus	Jesus
kingdom of the heavens	God’s heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 18:2

ULT	UST
And having summoned a little child, he set him in the midst of them	Jesus told a young child to come to him. He had the young child stand among them.

ULT having summoned a little child, he set
UST Jesus told a young child to come to him. He had … stand (προσκαλεσάμενος παιδίον, ἔστησεν)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [having said to a little child, “Come here,” he set]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT him
UST the young child
(αὐτὸ)

Here the word translated as him refers to the child without identifying whether the child was male or female. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [this child]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having summoned	Jesus told … to come to him

Matthew 18:3

ULT	UST
and said, "Truly I say to you, unless you turn and become like little children, you will certainly not enter into the kingdom of the heavens.	Then he told them, "You need to change so that you are like young children. That is the only way to participate in God's heavenly kingdom. What I have said is true.

ULT unless you turn and become like little children, you will certainly not enter into the kingdom of the heavens

UST You need to change so that you are like young children. That is the only way to participate in God's heavenly kingdom

(ἐὰν μὴ στραφῆτε καὶ γένησθε ὡς τὰ παιδία, οὐ μὴ εἰσέλθητε εἰς τὴν Βασιλείαν τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If, in your language, it would appear that Jesus was contradicting a statement that he was about to make, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [you will only enter into the kingdom of the heavens if you turn and become like little children]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT to you … you turn … you will certainly not enter

UST You … change … That is the only way to participate … What I have said is true

(ὑμῖν & στραφῆτε & οὐ μὴ εἰσέλθητε)

Throughout this verse, the word you is plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT you turn

UST You … change

(στραφῆτε)

Here Jesus is speaking of changing one's attitude and behavior as if it were physically turning. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you change your attitude] or [you act differently]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT and become
UST so that you are (καὶ γένησθε)

Here, the word and introduces the goal for which the disciples should turn. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a goal. Alternate translation: [in order to become]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT become like little children
UST you are like young children
(γένησθε ὡς τὰ παιδία)

Jesus is saying that his disciples should be like little children because little children are humble. Jesus clarifies this meaning in the following verse, so if possible you should not state this explicitly here. Alternate translation: [act as little children do]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT certainly not
UST That is the only way
(οὐ μὴ)

The words translated as certainly not are two negative words. In this construction, the second negative does not cancel the first to create a positive meaning. Instead, it gives greater emphasis to the negative. If your language can use two negatives that do not cancel one another to create a positive meaning, you could use a double negative here. If your language does not use two negatives in that way, you could translate with one strong negative, as the ULT does. Alternate translation: [by no means]

Support Reference: Double Negatives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	What I have said is true
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 18:4

ULT	UST
Therefore, whoever will humble himself like this little child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of the heavens.	So then, consider people who make themselves less important, so that they are as unimportant as this young child. It is those people who are the most important in God's heavenly kingdom.

ULT Therefore
UST So then
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces Jesus' application of what he said in 18:3 to what the disciples asked him about who was the greatest. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of application. Alternate translation: [Here is what that means:] or [Consequently]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT himself … he
UST themselves … It is those people who (ἑαυτὸν & οὗτός)

Although the terms himself and he are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [himself or herself … that person] or [himself or herself … he or she]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT will humble himself like this little child
UST who make themselves less important, so that they are as unimportant as this young child
(ταπεινώσει ἑαυτὸν ὡς τὸ παιδίον τοῦτο)

Jesus is saying that people should humble themselves like this little child because the little child is humble. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [will make himself as humble as this little child is humble] or [will humble himself with the result that he is as humble as this little child]

Support Reference: Simile

> ULT this little child
> UST this young child
> (τὸ παιδίον τοῦτο)

Here, the phrase this little child refers back to the child whom Jesus set in their midst (see 18:2). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [this little child who is in our midst] or [this little child whom I summoned]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the greatest
> UST the most important
> (ὁ μείζων)

Jesus is using the adjective greatest as a noun to mean the greatest person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the greatest person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
will humble	who make … less important
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 18:5

ULT	UST
And whoever receives a little child like this in my name receives me.	Further, when people, because they are my apprentices, welcome a young child such as this one here, it is the same as welcoming me.

ULT whoever receives a little child like this in my name receives me
UST when people, because they are my apprentices, welcome a young child such as this one here, it is the same as welcoming me
(ὃς ἐὰν δέξηται ἓν παιδίον τοιοῦτο ἐπὶ τῷ ὀνόματί μου, ἐμὲ δέχεται)

Here Jesus speaks as if people who receive a little child like this were actually receiving him. He means that these people, by receiving the little child, show that they would receive Jesus too. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [whoever receives a little child like this in my name, it is as if he or she received me] or [whoever receives a little child like this in my name proves that he or she would receive me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT a little child like this
UST a young child such as this one here
(ἓν παιδίον τοιοῦτο)

Here Jesus is again referring to the little child whom he set in their midst (see 18:2). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [a little child like the one standing here] or [a little child, like this one that I summoned,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT in my name
UST because they are my apprentices
(ἐπὶ τῷ ὀνόματί μου)

Here, the phrase in my name could mean that: (1) the person receives a little child because the person follows Jesus. Alternate translation: [because that person is acting as my disciple]; (2) the person receives the little child because the little child follows Jesus. Alternate translation: [because the child is my disciple]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
receives	welcome
receives	it is the same as welcoming

Matthew 18:6

ULT	UST
But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble, it is better for him that a millstone of a donkey would have been hung around his neck and he would have been sunk into the depth of the sea.	On the other hand, suppose that an insignificant person who trusts me sinned because of certain people. {God will punish those people so severely that} they would prefer to have someone tie a heavy stone around their necks and drop them into the middle of the ocean.

ULT causes one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble
UST suppose that an insignificant person who trusts me sinned (σκανδαλίσῃ ἕνα τῶν μικρῶν τούτων τῶν πιστευόντων εἰς ἐμέ)

Here, Jesus is speaking of sinning as if it were stumbling. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT one of these little ones who believe in me
UST an insignificant person who trusts me
(ἕνα τῶν μικρῶν τούτων τῶν πιστευόντων εἰς ἐμέ)

The phrase these little ones could refer: (1) to people who are not important from a human perspective. Alternate translation: [one of these unimportant people who believe in me]; (2) to children who love Jesus and who are physically little compared to adults. Alternate translation: [one of these children who believe in me]; (3) to people whose faith is new and has not yet become mature and strong. Alternate translation: [one of these people who recently believed in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT it is better for him that
UST {God will punish those people so severely that} they would prefer to (συμφέρει αὐτῷ ἵνα)

Here Jesus implies that what he is about to describe is better than being punished by God for causing one of these little ones to sin. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [rather than being punished by God for doing that, it is better for him that]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT for him … his … he would have been sunk
UST they … their … drop them
(αὐτῷ & αὐτοῦ & καταποντισθῇ)

Although the terms him, his, and he are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [for that person … his or her … he or she would have been sunk]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT that a millstone of a donkey would have been hung around his neck and he would have been sunk into the depth of the sea
UST to have someone tie a heavy stone around their necks and drop them into the middle of the ocean
(ἵνα κρεμασθῇ μύλος ὀνικὸς περὶ τὸν τράχηλον αὐτοῦ, καὶ καταποντισθῇ ἐν τῷ πελάγει τῆς θαλάσσης)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [that people might hang a millstone of a donkey around his neck and make him sink into the depth of the sea]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT a millstone of a donkey
> UST a heavy stone
> (μύλος ὀνικὸς)

A millstone was a round stone used for grinding grain into flour. The phrase of a donkey indicates that this kind of millstone was heavy enough that it took a donkey to turn it. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of stone, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a very large rock] or [a very heavy object]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT would have been hung around his neck
> UST have someone tie … around their necks
> (κρεμασθῇ & περὶ τὸν τράχηλον αὐτοῦ)

The implication is that someone would tie the millstone around the person's neck. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [would have been attached to his neck]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the depth of the sea
> UST the middle of the ocean
> (τῷ πελάγει τῆς θαλάσσης)

Here, the phrase the depth of the sea refers to the parts of a body of water that are deep and far away from land. If your readers would not be familiar with what this phrase describes, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [deep water] or [the parts of the sea that are far from land]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT the depth
> UST the middle > (τῷ πελάγει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of depth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the deep parts]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
who believe	who trusts
causes … to stumble	suppose that … sinned
it is better	God will punish those people so severely that … would prefer

Matthew 18:7

ULT	UST
Woe to the world because of the stumbling blocks! For it is necessary that the stumbling blocks come, but woe to the man through whom the stumbling block comes!	How terrible it will be for people in this world because of the things that cause them to sin! Now those things have to exist. However, how terrible it will be for the people who cause those things to exist!

ULT Woe to the world … woe to the man
UST How terrible it will be for people in this world … how terrible it will be for the people
(οὐαὶ τῷ κόσμῳ & οὐαὶ τῷ ἀνθρώπῳ)

The phrases Woe to the world and woe to the man are the opposite of blessing the world and the man. The phrases indicate that bad things are going to happen to the people being addressed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [How bad it is for the world … how bad it is for the man] or [Trouble will come to the world … trouble will come to the man]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT to the world
UST for people in this world
(τῷ κόσμῳ)

Here, the word world refers primarily to the people who live in the world. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer specifically to people here. Alternate translation: [to the people living in the world] or [to people]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the stumbling blocks … the stumbling blocks … the stumbling block
UST the things that cause them to sin … those things … those things (τῶν σκανδάλων & τὰ σκάνδαλα & τὸ σκάνδαλον)

Here Jesus speaks of things that cause people to sin as if they were stumbling blocks. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the things that lead people to disobey … the things that lead people to disobey … the thing that leads people to disobey]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT For
UST Now
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a further explanation about the stumbling blocks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Here is what I mean:] or [Further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT to the man … the stumbling block
UST for the people … those things
(τῷ ἀνθρώπῳ & τὸ σκάνδαλον)

The words man and stumbling block represent men and stumbling blocks in general, not one particular man or stumbling block. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to any man … a stumbling block]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

ULT to the man
UST for the people
(τῷ ἀνθρώπῳ)

Although the term man is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [to the person] or [to the man or woman]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Woe	How terrible it will be to the world	for people in this world
woe	how terrible it will be

Matthew 18:8

ULT	UST
Now if your hand or your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off and throw {it} away from you. It is better for you to enter into life crippled or lame than, having two hands or two feet, to be thrown into the eternal fire.	Suppose that you sinned because you touched something or went somewhere. You should never do that again, even if you have to chop off your hands or your feet to make sure of it! {You should respond that drastically because} it is better for you to truly live without hands or feet than to have both hands and feet but end up in hell.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next topic about which Jesus will speak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if your hand or your foot causes you to stumble
UST Suppose that you sinned because you touched something or went somewhere
(εἰ & ἡ χείρ σου ἢ ὁ πούς σου σκανδαλίζει σε)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that the disciples might experience their hand or foot causing them to stumble. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. See how you translated the similar clauses in 5:29–30. Alternate translation: [consider this situation: your hand or foot causes you to stumble. If that were to happen]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT your hand or your foot causes you to stumble
UST you sinned because you touched something or went somewhere
(ἡ χείρ σου ἢ ὁ πούς σου σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here, Jesus speaks of your hand and your foot as if they were people who could cause you to stumble. He means that the hand or the foot is the part of the body that is involved in the stumbling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it is your hand's or your foot's fault that you stumble] or [you stumble with your hand or your foot]

Support Reference: Personification

> ULT your … your … you … you … for you
> UST you … because you touched something … went somewhere. You should never do that again, even if you have to chop off your hands or your feet to make sure of it … for you
> (σου & σου & σε & σοῦ & σοί)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation. If you do so, you may also need to make some other words plural.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

> ULT causes you to stumble
> UST you sinned
> (σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here Jesus is speaking of sinning as if it were stumbling. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causes you to sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT cut it off and throw {it} away from you
> UST You should never do that again, even if you have to chop off your hands or your feet to make sure of it
> (ἔκκοψον αὐτὸν καὶ βάλε ἀπὸ σοῦ)

Here Jesus provides the most extreme response to sinning. He does not mean that this should be the normal way to deal with sin. You should preserve the extreme language Jesus uses, but use a form that indicates that this is the most extreme example. See how you translated the similar constructions in 5:29–30. Alternate translation: [if necessary, you should even cut it off and throw it away from you!]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT to enter into life
> UST to truly live
> (εἰσελθεῖν εἰς τὴν ζωὴν)

Here Jesus speaks as if life were a house into which someone could enter. He is referring to experiencing or receiving life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to experience life] or [to receive life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to enter into life
> UST to truly live
> (εἰσελθεῖν εἰς τὴν ζωὴν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to be able to live]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT life
> UST to truly live
> (τὴν ζωὴν)

Here Jesus implies that this life is everlasting or undying life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [true life] or [everlasting life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT to be thrown
> UST but end up
> (βληθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [for God to throw you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the eternal fire
UST hell
(τὸ πῦρ τὸ αἰώνιον)

Here, the phrase the eternal fire refers to hell and describes at as a very unpleasant place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [hell, which is as hot as an eternal fire] or [hell]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
causes … to stumble	sinned
better	better
eternal	hell

Matthew 18:9

ULT	UST
And if your eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw {it} away from you. It is better for you to enter into life with one eye than, having two eyes, to be thrown into the Gehenna of fire.	Suppose that you sinned because you looked at something. You should never do that again, even if you have to remove your eyes to make sure of it! {You should respond that drastically because} it is better for you to truly live with only one eye than to have both eyes but end up in hell.

ULT if your eye causes you to stumble
UST Suppose that you sinned because you looked at something
(εἰ ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου σκανδαλίζει σε)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that the disciples might experience their eye causing them to stumble. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. See how you translated the similar clause in 18:8. Alternate translation: [consider this situation: your eye causes you to stumble. If that were to happen]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT your eye causes you to stumble
UST you sinned because you looked at something
(ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here, Jesus speaks of your eye as if it were a person who could cause you to stumble. He means that the eye is the part of the body that is involved in the stumbling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar clause in 18:8. Alternate translation: [it is your eye's fault that you stumble] or [you stumble with your eye]

Support Reference: Personification

ULT your … you … you … for you
UST you … because you looked at something. You should never do that again, even if you have to remove your eyes to make sure of it … for you
(σου & σε & σοῦ & σοί)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation. If you do so, you may also need to make some other words plural.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT causes you to stumble
UST you sinned
(σκανδαλίζει σε)

Here Jesus is speaking of sinning as if it were stumbling. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated this phrase in 18:8. Alternate translation: [causes you to sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT pluck it out and throw {it} away from you
UST You should never do that again, even if you have to remove your eyes to make sure of it
(ἔξελε αὐτὸν καὶ βάλε ἀπὸ σοῦ)

Here Jesus provides the most extreme response to sinning. He does not mean that this should be the normal way to deal with sin. You should preserve the extreme language Jesus uses, but use a form that indicates that this is the most extreme example. See how you translated the similar construction in 18:8. Alternate translation: [if necessary you should even pluck it out and throw it away from you!]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT to enter into life
> UST to truly live
> (εἰς τὴν ζωὴν εἰσελθεῖν)

Here Jesus speaks as if life were a house into which someone could enter. He is referring to experiencing or receiving life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated this phrase in 18:8. Alternate translation: [to experience life] or [to receive life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to enter into life
> UST to truly live
> (εἰς τὴν ζωὴν εἰσελθεῖν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to be able to live]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT life
> UST to truly live
> (τὴν ζωὴν)

Here Jesus implies that this life is everlasting or undying life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. See how you translated the idea in 18:8. Alternate translation: [true life] or [everlasting life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT to be thrown
> UST but end up
> (βληθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [for God to throw you]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT the Gehenna of fire
> UST hell
> (τὴν Γέενναν τοῦ πυρός)

Here Jesus uses the name Gehenna to refer to hell. The valley named Gehenna was outside the city of Jerusalem and was a place where people threw out and burned garbage. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a simile or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a place of fire like the valley of Gehenna] or [fiery hell, which is like Gehenna valley]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the Gehenna of fire
> UST hell
> (τὴν Γέενναν τοῦ πυρός)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe Gehenna as a place that has much fire. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the fiery Gehenna] or [the fires in Gehenna]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
causes … to stumble	sinned
better	better
Gehenna	hell

Matthew 18:10

ULT	UST
See that you would not despise one of these little ones. For I say to you that in heaven their angels always look on the face of my Father in the heavens.	Do not consider even one insignificant person {who trusts me} to be unimportant. In fact, I want you to know that the angels that protect them are in heaven. They are continually with God my Father, who rules from heaven.

ULT See that you would not despise … to you
UST Do not consider … to be unimportant … I want you to know (ὁρᾶτε μὴ καταφρονήσητε & ὑμῖν)

The command See and the word you throughout this verse are plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT See that
UST Do
(ὁρᾶτε)

Here, the word See means that the disciples need to make sure that something happens or does not happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Make sure that]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT one of these little ones
UST even one insignificant person {who trusts me}
(ἑνὸς τῶν μικρῶν τούτων)

See how you translated little ones in 18:6. The phrase could refer: (1) to people who are not important from a human perspective. Alternate translation: [one of these unimportant people who believe in me]; (2) to children who love Jesus and who are physically little compared to adults. Alternate translation: [one of these children who believe in me]; (3) to people whose faith is new and has not yet become mature and strong. Alternate translation: [one of these people who recently believed in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT For
UST In fact
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why the disciples should not despise one of these little ones. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Here is why:] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT their angels
UST the angels that protect them
(οἱ ἄγγελοι αὐτῶν)

Here Jesus is using the possessive form to describe angels that guard or protect the little ones. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the angels who guard them]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT look on the face of my Father
UST They are … with God my Father
(βλέπουσι τὸ πρόσωπον τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Here Jesus means that the angels are with God, in God's presence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are before my Father] or [are close enough to him to see my Father]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT of my Father
UST God my Father
(τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

> ULT in the heavens
> UST who rules from heaven
> (ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
heaven	are in heaven
angels	the angels
of … Father	God … Father
the heavens	who rules from heaven

Matthew 18:11

ULT	UST
[For the Son of Man came to save the one that has been lost.]	[I, the Son of Man, am here to rescue people who do not worship and obey God.]

ULT For the Son of Man came to save the one that has been lost
UST I, the Son of Man, am here to rescue people who do not worship and obey God
(Ἦλθεν γὰρ ὁ υἱὸς τοῦ ἀνθρώπου σῶσαι τὸ ἀπολωλός)

See the discussion of textual issues at the end of the introduction to this chapter to decide whether to include this verse in your translation. The notes below discuss translation issues in this verse, for those who decide to include it.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT For
(γὰρ)

Here, the word For introduces another reason why the disciples should not despise little ones (see 18:10). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [Even further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the Son of Man
UST I, the Son of Man
(ὁ υἱὸς τοῦ ἀνθρώπου)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man,]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT came
UST am here
(Ἦλθεν)

Here, the word came refers to Jesus entering this world as a human to do what God called him to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [came to this world] or [began to live here]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT the one that has been lost
> UST people who do not worship and obey God
> (τὸ ἀπολωλός)

Here Jesus speaks of some people as if they are lost. He means that they are not following God and need help. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the one that has been far from God] or [the one that is not following God]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the one that has been lost
> UST people who do not worship and obey God
> (τὸ ἀπολωλός)

The phrase the one that had been lost represents lost people in general, not one particular lost person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [anyone that has been lost]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

Matthew 18:12

ULT	UST
What do you think? If a certain man has 100 sheep, and one of them goes astray, having left the 99 on the mountains and having gone, does he not seek the one having gone astray?	Think about this situation: A man owns 100 sheep, but one of them wanders away. The man will most certainly leave the 99 other sheep on the side of a hill by themselves and search for the one sheep that wandered away!

ULT What do you think
UST Think about this situation
(τί ὑμῖν δοκεῖ)

Jesus is using the question form to get the attention of the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I want you to pay attention to what I am about to say.] or [Listen to this!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT you
UST Think about this situation
(ὑμῖν)

The word you is plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT If a certain man has 100 sheep
UST A man owns 100 sheep
(ἐὰν γένηταί τινι ἀνθρώπῳ ἑκατὸν πρόβατα)

To teach the disciples, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: If a certain man has 100 sheep]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT If a certain man has 100 sheep, and one of them goes astray, having left
UST A man owns 100 sheep, but one of them wanders away. The man will … leave … by themselves
(ἐὰν γένηταί τινι ἀνθρώπῳ ἑκατὸν πρόβατα, καὶ πλανηθῇ ἓν ἐξ αὐτῶν & ἀφείς)

Here Jesus uses an imaginary situation to help explain what would happen if a person had 100 sheep, but one of them went astray. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [Imagine a certain man who has 100 sheep. However, one of them goes astray. Having left]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

ULT having left the 99 on the mountains and having gone, does he not seek the one having gone astray
UST The man will most certainly leave the 99 other sheep on the side of a hill by themselves and search for the one sheep that wandered away
(οὐχὶ ἀφείς τὰ ἐνενήκοντα ἐννέα ἐπὶ τὰ ὄρη, καὶ πορευθεὶς ζητεῖ τὸ πλανώμενον)

Jesus is using the question form to teach the disciples. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [having left the 99 on the mountains and having gone out, he will seek the one having gone astray] or [having left the 99 on the mountains and having gone out, he will most definitely seek the one having gone astray!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT the 99
UST the 99 other sheep
(τὰ ἐνενήκοντα ἐννέα)

Jesus is using the number 99 as a noun to mean 99 sheep. Your language may use numbers in the same way. If not, you could translate this one with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the 99 sheep]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT on the mountains
> UST on the side of a hill
> (ἐπὶ τὰ ὄρη)

Here, the phrase the mountains refers to hilly or mountainous areas in general, not several specific mountains. If possible, use a general word for a hilly or mountainous area without indicating one particular place. Alternate translation: [in the hill country] or [in a mountainous area]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

> ULT having gone
> UST search for > (πορευθεὶς)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sheep	sheep
does he … seek	search for

Matthew 18:13

ULT	UST
And if he happens to find it, truly I say to you that he rejoices over it more than over the 99 that have not gone astray.	Now suppose that he found the one sheep that wandered away. He would be much happier about this one sheep than about the 99 other sheep that did not wander away. What I have said is true!

ULT if he happens to find it … he rejoices
UST suppose that he found the one sheep that wandered away. He would be … happier (ἐὰν γένηται εὑρεῖν αὐτό & χαίρει)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that the man might find that sheep that went astray. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. Alternate translation: [were he to find it … he would rejoice]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT to you
UST What I have said is true
(ὑμῖν)

The word you is plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT more than over
UST much … than about (μᾶλλον ἢ ἐπὶ)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [more than he rejoices over]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT the 99
> UST the 99 other sheep
> (τοῖς ἐνενήκοντα ἐννέα)

Jesus is using the number 99 as a noun to mean 99 sheep. Your language may use numbers in the same way. If not, you could translate this one with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the 99 sheep]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
truly	What I have said is true
he rejoices	He would be … happier

Matthew 18:14

ULT	UST
In the same way, it is not the will before your Fatherin the heavens that one of these little ones would perish.	God your Father, who rules from heaven, is like that man. He does not want even one insignificant person {who trusts me} to end up in hell.

ULT In the same way
UST is like that man
(οὕτως)

Here, the phrase In the same way indicates that Jesus is comparing God with the man who found the lost sheep. He implies that God is like the man because they both rejoice when something that was lost is recovered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Much like that man who wanted to find his lost sheep] or [Just as that man rejoiced over the sheep that he found]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT the will before your Father in the heavens
UST God your Father, who rules from heaven … He does … want (θέλημα ἔμπροσθεν τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν & ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of will, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what your Father in the heavens desires]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the will before your Father
UST God your Father … He does … want
(θέλημα ἔμπροσθεν τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

Here, the phrase the will before your Father refers to that which is the will of the Father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the will of your Father] or [the will that belongs to your Father]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT your Father in the heavens
> UST God your Father, who rules from heaven
> (τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν & ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

This is a figurative expression. God is not the Father of humans in the same actual way that he is the Father of Jesus. Even so, it would probably be best to translate Father with the same word that your language would naturally use to refer to a human father. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that this means God. Alternate translation: [God, who is your Father in the heavens,]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT your Father
> UST God your Father
> (τοῦ Πατρὸς ὑμῶν)

Many ancient manuscripts read your Father. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts read “my Father.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT your
> UST your
> (ὑμῶν)

The word your is plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

> ULT in the heavens
> UST who rules from heaven
> (ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT one of these little ones
> UST even one insignificant person {who trusts me}
> (ἓν τῶν μικρῶν τούτων)

See how you translated little ones in 18:6. The phrase could refer: (1) to people who are not important from a human perspective. Alternate translation: [one of these unimportant people]; (2) to children who love Jesus and who are physically little compared to adults. Alternate translation: [one of these children]; (3) to people whose faith is new and has not yet become mature and strong. Alternate translation: [one of these people who recently believed in me]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Father	God … Father
the heavens	who rules from heaven
would perish	to end up in hell
the will before … Father	God … Father … He does … want

Matthew 18:15

ULT	UST
But if your brother sins against you, go, reprove him between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother.	Suppose that fellow believers sin against you. You should visit them and privately tell them what they did wrong. Suppose that they accept what you say. In that case, you have made things right with your fellow believers.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next topic that Jesus wishes to speak about. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next topic, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Next,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT your brother
UST fellow believers
(ὁ ἀδελφός σου)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your … you … you … to you, you have gained your UST fellow believers … you … privately … what you say. In that case, you have made things right with your (σὲ & σου & σοῦ & σου & ἐκέρδησας & σου)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you and your are singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural forms of you and your in your translation. If you do so, you may also need to make some other words plural.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT brother … him … him … he listens … brother
UST fellow believers … privately … them … they accept … fellow believers
(ὁ ἀδελφός & αὐτὸν & αὐτοῦ & ἀκούσῃ & τὸν ἀδελφόν)

Although the terms brother, him, him, and brother are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [brother or sister … him or her … him or her … he or she … brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT against you
UST against you
(εἰς σὲ)

Many ancient manuscripts read against you. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts do not include these words. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT between you and him alone
UST privately
(μεταξὺ σοῦ καὶ αὐτοῦ μόνου)

Here, the phrase between you and him alone means that the two people are alone, with no one else listening. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when it is just the two of you] or [when you are alone with him]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT you have gained your brother
UST In that case, you have made things right with your fellow believers
(ἐκέρδησας τὸν ἀδελφόν σου)

Here Jesus is speaking of restoring the relationship with your brother as if it were having gained your brother. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you have restored the relationship with your brother] or [you have made that person your brother again]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sins	sin
reprove	and … tell … what they did wrong
you have gained	In that case, you have made things right with

Matthew 18:16

ULT	UST
But if he does not listen, take with you yet one or two {others}, so that 'by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word might be verified.'	However, suppose that those fellow believers do not accept what you say. In that case, bring one or two other believers with you {when you visit them again to tell them what they did wrong}. That way, {you are doing what Moses wrote in the law, that} two or three people must confirm what someone says.

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here the word But introduces the fact that the brother might not listen in contrast with the brother "listening" to the reproof (see 18:16). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast. Alternate translation: [On the other hand,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT he does not listen
UST those fellow believers do not accept what you say (μὴ ἀκούσῃ)

Although the term he is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [he or she does not listen]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT take with you yet one or two {others}
UST In that case, bring one or two other believers with you {when you visit them again to tell them what they did wrong}
(παράλαβε μετὰ σοῦ ἔτι, ἕνα ἢ δύο)

Here Jesus implies that you will go back to the other person and "reprove" them again. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [go back to him, and take with you yet one or two others] or [take with you yet one or two others and reprove him again]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you
UST with you {when you visit them again to tell them what they did wrong}
(σοῦ)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you is singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of you in your translation. If you do so, you may also need to make some other words plural.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT so that 'by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word might be verified
UST That way, {you are doing what Moses wrote in the law, that} two or three people must confirm what someone says
(ἵνα ἐπὶ στόματος δύο μαρτύρων ἢ τριῶν, σταθῇ πᾶν ῥῆμα)

Here Jesus quotes from the Old Testament scriptures, specifically from Deuteronomy 19:15. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [so that, as you can read in the Scriptures, 'by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word might be verified] or [so that you are doing what God required in the law, that is, that every word might be verified by the mouth of two or three witnesses]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word might be verified
UST two or three people must confirm what someone says
(ἐπὶ στόματος δύο μαρτύρων ἢ τριῶν, σταθῇ πᾶν ῥῆμα)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the mouth of two or three witnesses might verify every word]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the mouth
(στόματος)

Here, mouth represents what a person says. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the words] or [the testimony]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT every word
UST what someone says
(πᾶν ῥῆμα)

Here, word represents what a person says using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly.
Alternate translation: [every statement] or [everything that people claim]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of … witnesses	people

Matthew 18:17

ULT	UST
But if he refuses to listen to them, speak to the church. But if he also refuses to listen to the church, let him be to you even as the Gentile and the tax collector.	Suppose that those fellow believers reject what the people you brought with you say. In that case, tell the whole group of believers {about what happened}. Finally, suppose that those fellow believers reject what the group of believers says. In that case, treat those fellow believers as if they were {unbelieving} non-Jews or people who collect taxes. {Do not treat them as fellow believers any longer.}

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that could happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT he refuses to listen to … he also refuses to listen to … let him be
UST those fellow believers reject … those fellow believers reject … In that case, treat those fellow believers
(παρακούσῃ & καὶ & παρακούσῃ, ἔστω)

Although the terms he, he, and him are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [he or she refuses to listen to … he or she also refuses to listen to … let him or her be]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT them
UST what the people you brought with you say
(αὐτῶν)

The pronoun them refers to the "one or two others" whom the person who was sinned against took along to meet the person who committed the sin (see 18:16). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the one or two others whom you took with you]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT speak
UST In that case, tell
(εἰπὲ)

Here Jesus implies that the person should speak about how he or she was sinned against and how he or she has tried to speak to the other person about it. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [speak about it] or [speak about the sin and what has happened since]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to you
UST In that case, treat those fellow believers
(σοι)

Even though Jesus is speaking to many disciples, he is addressing an individual situation, so you is singular throughout this verse. But if the singular form would not be natural in your language for someone who was speaking to a group of people, you could use the plural form of you in your translation. If you do so, you may also need to make some other words plural.

Support Reference: Singular Pronouns that refer to Groups

ULT But
UST Finally
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that could happen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT let him be to you even as the Gentile and the tax collector
UST In that case, treat those fellow believers as if they were {unbelieving} non-Jews or people who collect taxes. {Do not treat them as fellow believers any longer … }
(ἔστω σοι ὥσπερ ὁ ἐθνικὸς καὶ ὁ τελώνης)

Jesus is saying that the person who sinned and refused to listen should be treated like the Gentile and the tax collector, because they are all people who are not treated like members of God's people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [let him be to you even as the Gentile and the tax collector who are not fellow believers] or [let him be to you as a non-believer, like a Gentile or tax collector]

Support Reference: Simile

ULT let him be
UST In that case, treat those fellow believers
(ἔστω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he should be]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT the Gentile and the tax collector
UST they were {unbelieving} non-Jews or people who collect taxes. {Do not treat them as fellow believers any longer … }
(ὁ ἐθνικὸς καὶ ὁ τελώνης)

The words Gentile and tax collector represent Gentiles and tax collectors in general, not one particular Gentile and one particular tax collector. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the Gentiles and the tax collectors] or [any Gentile or any tax collector]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to the church	the whole group of believers {about what happened} church	what the group of believers says
Gentile	they were {unbelieving} non-Jews
tax collector	people who collect taxes. {Do not treat them as fellow believers any longer … }

Matthew 18:18

ULT	UST
Truly I say to you, whatever you bind on the earth will be bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on the earth will be loosed in heaven.	When you confirm anything here on earth, God will confirm it in heaven. When you nullify anything here on earth, God will nullify it in heaven. What I have said is true!

ULT to you … you bind … you loose
UST you confirm … you nullify … What I have said is true (ὑμῖν & δήσητε & λύσητε)

The word you throughout this verse is plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT whatever you bind on the earth will be bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on the earth will be loosed in heaven
UST When you confirm anything here on earth, God will confirm it in heaven. When you nullify anything here on earth, God will nullify it in heaven
(ὅσα ἐὰν δήσητε ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς, ἔσται δεδεμένα ἐν οὐρανῷ, καὶ ὅσα ἐὰν λύσητε ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς, ἔσται λελυμένα ἐν οὐρανῷ)

See how you translated the almost identical sentence in 16:19. The only differences are that the words you and whatever throughout this verse are plural, and 16:19 has the phrase "in the heavens" instead of the phrase in heaven. Express the idea as you did in 16:19, but be sure to make any adjustments needed for the plural words and the phrase in heaven.

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Truly	What I have said is true
you bind	you confirm
earth	earth
bound	God will confirm it
heaven	heaven
earth	earth
heaven	heaven

Matthew 18:19

ULT	UST
Again, truly I say to you that if two of you agree together on the earth about any matter, whatever they might ask, it will be done for them by my Father in the heavens.	Also, when at least two of you here on earth together request the same thing, God my Father, who rules from heaven, will do whatever it is that you request. What I have said is true!

ULT Again
UST Also
(πάλιν)

Here, the word Again introduces a statement that is related to what Jesus said in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a similar or related statement, or you could leave Again untranslated. Alternate translation: [In addition,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT to you … you
UST you … What I have said is true
(ὑμῖν & ὑμῶν)

The word you throughout this verse is plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT if two of you
UST when at least two of you
(ἐὰν δύο & ἐξ ὑμῶν)

Here Jesus implies that he means not only two, but two or more people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [if two or more of you]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT they might ask … for them
UST request … whatever it is that you request (αἰτήσωνται & αὐτοῖς)

Since Jesus begins the sentence by referring to two of you, If it would be helpful in your language you could continue to refer to these people in the second person. Alternate translation: [you might ask … for you]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT it will be done for them by my Father in the heavens
UST God my Father, who rules from heaven, will do whatever it is that you request
(γενήσεται αὐτοῖς παρὰ τοῦ Πατρός μου & ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [my Father in the heavens will do it for them]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT my Father
UST God my Father
(τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT in the heavens
UST who rules from heaven
(ἐν οὐρανοῖς)

Here, the phrase in the heavens identifies the location in which God the Father is specially present and from which he rules. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [who is in the heavens]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
truly	What I have said is true
earth	earth
Father	God … Father

ULT	UST
the heavens	who rules from heaven

Matthew 18:20

ULT	UST
For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in their midst.”	{God will do that} because I am spiritually present whenever at least two or three of you come together as my apprentices.”

ULT For
UST {God will do that} because (γάρ)

Here, the word For introduces a reason why God will do whatever two disciples agree to ask for (see 18:19). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [That is because] or [Here is why:]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT two or three
UST at least two or three of you
(δύο ἢ τρεῖς)

Here Jesus implies that he means not only two or three, but two or three or more people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [two or three or more]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT two or three
UST at least two or three of you
(δύο ἢ τρεῖς)

Jesus is using the numbers two and three as nouns to mean two and three believers. Your language may use numbers in the same way. If not, you could translate this one with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [two or three believers]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT are gathered together
> UST come together
> (εἰσιν & συνηγμένοι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [gather together] or [assemble together]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT in my name
> UST as my apprentices
> (εἰς τὸ ἐμὸν ὄνομα)

Here, name represents the person whose name it is. Jesus means that they are gathered together because of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of me]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT there I am in their midst
> UST I am spiritually present
> (ἐκεῖ εἰμι ἐν μέσῳ αὐτῶν)

Here Jesus is speaking of being spiritually present with believers as if he were physically in their midst. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it is as if I am there in their midst] or [there I am in their midst spiritually]

Support Reference: Metaphor

Matthew 18:21

ULT	UST
Then, having approached, Peter said to him, "Lord, how often will my brother sin against me and I will forgive him? Until seven times?"	After that, Peter came to Jesus and asked, "My Lord, how many times do I need to forgive fellow believers when they keep sinning against me? {Do I need to forgive them} as many as seven times?"

ULT how often will my brother sin against me and I will forgive him
UST how many times do I need to forgive fellow believers when they keep sinning against me
(ποσάκις ἁμαρτήσει εἰς ἐμὲ ὁ ἀδελφός μου, καὶ ἀφήσω αὐτῷ)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could refer to forgiving before sinning. Alternate translation: [how often will I forgive my brother when he sins against me]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT will my brother sin against me and I will forgive
UST do I need to forgive … when they keep sinning against me
(ἁμαρτήσει εἰς ἐμὲ ὁ ἀδελφός μου, καὶ ἀφήσω)

Peter is using a future form not ask what is going to happen but what he should do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea using a form that asks about an obligation or requirement. Alternate translation: [can my brother sin against me and I should forgive] or [could my brother sin against me and I ought to forgive]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

ULT my brother
UST they
(ὁ ἀδελφός μου)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT brother … him
UST fellow believers … they (ὁ ἀδελφός & αὐτῷ)

Although the terms brother and him are masculine, Jesus is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [brother or sister … him or her]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT Until seven times
UST {Do I need to forgive them} as many as seven times
(ἕως ἑπτάκις)

Peter is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous question if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Will I forgive him until seven times]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT Until seven times
UST {Do I need to forgive them} as many as seven times
(ἕως ἑπτάκις)

Alternate translation: [Up to seven times]

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter
Lord	My Lord
will … sin	when … keep sinning
I will forgive	do I need to forgive

Matthew 18:22

ULT	UST
Jesus says to him, "I do not say to you up to seven times, but up to 77 times.	Jesus replied, "I tell you that you must forgive others 77 times {and more}, not just seven times.

ULT says
UST replied
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT I do not say to you up to seven times, but up to 77 times
UST I tell you that you must forgive others 77 times {and more}, not just seven times
(οὐ λέγω σοι ἕως ἑπτάκις, ἀλλὰ ἕως ἑβδομηκοντάκις ἑπτά)

If your language would not naturally put the negative statement before the positive statement, you could reverse the two clauses here. Alternate translation: [I say to you up to 77 times, not up to seven times]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT up to seven times, but up to 77 times
UST that you must forgive others 77 times {and more} … just seven times
(ἕως ἑπτάκις, ἀλλὰ ἕως ἑβδομηκοντάκις ἑπτά)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous verse if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [that you should forgive your brother up to seven times, but that you should forgive him up to 77 times]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

> ULT 77 times
> UST that you must forgive others 77 times {and more}
> (ἑβδομηκοντάκις ἑπτά)

Here Jesus uses the large number 77 to indicate that Peter and all believers must always forgive other people. Jesus does not mean to count up to 77 and then stop forgiving other people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [77 times and beyond] or [77 times, by which I mean always]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 18:23

ULT	UST
For this reason, the kingdom of the heavens is compared to a man, a king, who wanted to take up a word together with his slaves.	Given what I have told you, here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a king wished to have his servants pay him what they owed him.

ULT For this reason, the kingdom of the heavens is compared to a man
UST Given what I have told you, here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a king
(διὰ τοῦτο ὡμοιώθη ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν ἀνθρώπῳ)

To teach his disciples, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Listen to this story: given what I just said, the kingdom of the heavens is compared to a man]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT For this reason
UST Given what I have told you
(διὰ τοῦτο)

Here, the phrase For this reason introduces a conclusion or inference based on what Jesus has said about how his disciples should forgive others. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a conclusion or inference. Alternate translation: [Because of that] or [Given all that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT the kingdom of the heavens is compared to
UST here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like
(ὡμοιώθη ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the comparing, it is clear from the context that it is Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [I compare the kingdom of the heavens to] or [the kingdom of the heavens is comparable to]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT to take up a word together
> UST to have … pay him what they owed him
> (συνᾶραι λόγον)

Here, the phrase to take up a word together refers to settling accounts, that is, resolving any debts or loans between people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to settle accounts]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
a king	a king
slaves	servants

Matthew 18:24

ULT	UST
Now {when} he had begun to take up together, one debtor of 10,000 talents was brought to him.	So, the king began to find out {what his servants owed him}. Someone led in a servant who owed the king an extremely large sum of money.

ULT Now
UST So
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT to take up together
UST to find out {what his servants owed him} (συναίρειν)

Here, the phrase to take up together refers to settling accounts, that is, resolving any debts or loans between people. See how you translated the similar phrase in 18:23. Alternate translation: [to settle]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT one debtor of 10,000 talents was brought to him
UST Someone led in a servant who owed the king an extremely large sum of money
(προσηνέχθη εἷς αὐτῷ ὀφειλέτης μυρίων ταλάντων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [they brought to him one debtor of 10,000 talents]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT debtor of 10,000 talents
> UST servant who owed the king an extremely large sum of money > (ὀφειλέτης μυρίων ταλάντων)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe a debtor who owes 10,000 talents. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [debtor who owed 10,000 talents]

Support Reference: Possession

> ULT of 10,000 talents
> UST who owed the king an extremely large sum of money
> (μυρίων ταλάντων)

A talent was a unit of money equivalent to about 6,000 denarii, that is, about 6,000 days' wages for a hired worker. This was a very large, almost uncountable, amount of money. You could try to express this amount in terms of current monetary values, but that might cause your Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate, since those values can change over time. So instead you might state something more general or give the equivalent in wages. Make sure that your translation shows that this is a very large sum of money. Alternate translation: [of a huge amount of money] or [of 60 million days' wages]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

Matthew 18:25

ULT	UST
But, he not being able to repay, the master commanded him to be sold, together with his wife and children and everything, as much as he had, and repayment to be made.	However, the servant did not have enough money to pay what he owed. So, the king told his men, 'Sell as slaves the servant, the servant's wife, and the servant's children. Also, sell anything that the servant owns. Then, give me the money that you received.'

ULT But, he not being able to repay, the master
UST However, the servant did not have enough money to pay what he owed … the king
(μὴ ἔχοντος δὲ αὐτοῦ ἀποδοῦναι & ὁ κύριος)

Here, the word But introduces the fact that the servant could not repay the king what he owed the king. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Although he had that debt, he was not able to repay, so the master]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT the master
UST the king
(ὁ κύριος)

Here Jesus refers to the king as the master. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make it more explicit that this is the same man as the one referred to as "king" in 18:23. Alternate translation: [his master the king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT commanded him to be sold, together with his wife and children and everything, as much as he had, and repayment to be made
UST So … told his men, 'Sell as slaves the servant, the servant's wife, and the servant's children. Also, sell anything that the servant owns. Then, give me the money that you received (ἐκέλευσεν αὐτὸν & πραθῆναι, καὶ τὴν γυναῖκα, καὶ τὰ τέκνα, καὶ πάντα ὅσα εἶχεν, καὶ ἀποδοθῆναι)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [commanded, "Let him be sold, together with his wife and children and everything, as much as he had, and let repayment be made!"]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT him to be sold, together with his wife and children and everything, as much as he had, and repayment to be made
UST Sell as slaves the servant, the servant's wife, and the servant's children. Also, sell anything that the servant owns. Then, give me the money that you received (αὐτὸν & πραθῆναι, καὶ τὴν γυναῖκα, καὶ τὰ τέκνα, καὶ πάντα ὅσα εἶχεν, καὶ ἀποδοθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who would do the action, it is clear from the context that it was some of the king's other servants. Alternate translation: [some other servants to sell him, together with his wife and children and everything, as much as he had, and to make repayment]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT everything, as much as he had
UST anything that the servant owns (πάντα ὅσα εἶχεν)

The expression everything, as much as he had contains extra information that would be unnatural to express in some languages. If this is true of your language, you could shorten the expression. Alternate translation: [everything that he had]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT repayment to be made
UST give me the money that you received (ἀποδοθῆναι)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of repayment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to be repaid]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
master	the king

Matthew 18:26

ULT	UST
So, having fallen down, the slave was bowing down before him, saying, 'Master, have patience with me, and I will repay you everything.'	After he heard that, the servant knelt down in front of the king. He begged him, 'My lord, please wait patiently. I will eventually pay all the money that I owe.'

ULT So
UST After he heard that
(οὖν)

Here, the word So introduces what the servant did in response to what the king commanded. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a response or reaction, or you could leave So untranslated. Alternate translation: [In response]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT having fallen down, the slave was bowing down before
UST the servant knelt down
(πεσὼν & ὁ δοῦλος προσεκύνει)

In Matthew's culture, the phrases having falling down and bowing down refer to kneeling down and putting one's face close to the ground. This was a position used to show respect and reverence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression for a physical position used to show respect or worship, or you could express the idea plainly. Alternate translation: [having thrown himself on the ground, the slave was prostrating himself before] or [having prostrated himself, the slave was showing respect to]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT saying
UST He begged him
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT have patience
> UST please wait patiently
> (μακροθύμησον)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask that you have patience]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT have patience
> UST please wait patiently
> (μακροθύμησον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of patience, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [be patient]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having fallen down	knelt down
slave	the servant
was bowing down before	knelt down
Master	My lord
have patience	please wait patiently

Matthew 18:27

ULT	UST
Now, having had compassion, the master of that slave released him and forgave him the debt.	The king pitied his servant. So, he did not require the servant to pay what he owed, and he let him go.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having had compassion
UST pitied his servant
(σπλαγχνισθεὶς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of compassion, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [having sympathized with the slave]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the master of that slave
UST The king
(ὁ κύριος τοῦ δούλου ἐκείνου)

Here Jesus again refers to the king as the master. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make it more explicit that this is the same man as the one referred to as “king” in 18:23. See how you translated “master” in 18:25. Alternate translation: [the slave’s master, the king,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT forgave him the debt
> UST So, he did not require the servant to pay what he owed > (τὸ δάνιον ἀφῆκεν αὐτῷ)

Here, the phrase forgave him his debt indicates that the king would no longer require the slave to pay the debt. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [canceled the debt] or [told him not to pay back the debt]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having had compassion	pitied his servant
master	The king
of … slave	The king
forgave	So, he did not require … to pay

Matthew 18:28

ULT	UST
But having gone out, that slave found one of his fellow slaves, who owed him 100 denarii, and having seized him, he choked {him}, saying, 'Repay whatever you owe.'	When the servant left the king, he noticed another servant who owed him only 100 small coins. He grabbed that servant {around the throat} and began to squeeze it. He demanded, 'Pay me the money that you owe!'

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having gone out
UST When … left the king
(ἐξελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT found
UST he noticed (εὗρεν)

Here Jesus could mean that the slave: (1) happened to meet the fellow slave. Alternate translation: [encountered]; (2) intentionally looked for the fellow slave. Alternate translation: [looked for]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT 100 denarii
UST only 100 small coins
(ἑκατὸν δηνάρια)

A denarius was a silver coin equivalent to about one day's wage for a hired worker. You could try to express this amount in terms of current monetary values, but that might cause your Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate, since those values can change over time. So instead you might state something more general or give the equivalent in wages. This is a much smaller amount than the 10,000 talents that the first slave owed, so make sure that is clear in your translation. Alternate translation: [100 silver coins] or [100 days' wages]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

ULT having seized him, he choked {him}
UST He grabbed that servant {around the throat} and began to squeeze it (κρατήσας αὐτὸν ἔπνιγεν)

Here Jesus could be indicating that the slave took: (1) one action, which was seizing his fellow slave around the neck so that he choked him. Alternate translation: [he choked him by seizing him around the neck]; (2) two actions, one of which was seizing his fellow slave and the other of which was choking him. Alternate translation: [he seized him and was choking him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he choked {him}
UST and began to squeeze it (ἔπνιγεν)

Here Jesus means that the slave seized his fellow slave by the throat and made it hard for him to breath. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he began to strangle him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying, 'Repay whatever you owe
UST He demanded, 'Pay me the money that you owe (λέγων, ἀπόδος εἴ τι ὀφείλεις)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [saying that he needed to repay whatever he owed]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

> ULT saying
> UST He demanded
> (λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
slave	the servant
of … fellow slaves	another servant
having seized	He grabbed … around the throat

Matthew 18:29

ULT	UST
So, having fallen down, his fellow slave begged him, saying, 'Have patience with me, and I will repay you.'	After he heard that, the other servant knelt down {before him}. He begged him, 'Please wait patiently. I will eventually pay {the money that I owe}.'

ULT So
UST After he heard that
(οὖν)

Here, the word So introduces what his fellow slave did in response to what the first slave said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a response or reaction, or you could leave "So" untranslated. Alternate translation: [In response]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT having fallen down
UST knelt down {before him}
(πεσὼν)

In Matthew's culture, the phrase having fallen down refers to kneeling down and putting one's face close to the ground. This was a position used to show respect and reverence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression for a physical position used to show respect or worship, or you could express the idea plainly. See how you translated this phrase in 18:26. Alternate translation: [having thrown himself on the ground] or [lowering himself to show respect]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT saying
(λέγων)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT Have patience
> UST Please wait patiently
> (μακροθύμησον)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. See how you translated the phrase in 18:26. Alternate translation: [I ask that you have patience]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT Have patience
> UST Please wait patiently
> (μακροθύμησον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of patience, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Be patient]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having fallen down	knelt down {before him} fellow slave	the other servant
begged	He begged
Have patience	Please wait patiently

Matthew 18:30

ULT	UST
But he was not willing. Instead, having gone away, he threw him into prison until he might repay {what} is owed.	However, that servant did not want {to wait}. When he left that place, he had someone put the other servant in jail and keep him there until he paid the money that he owed.

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the first slave did in contrast to what the other slave asked (see 18:29). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use another word or phrase that introduces a contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Despite that,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT he was not willing … he threw him … he might repay
UST that servant did not want {to wait} … he had someone put the other servant … he paid
(ὁ & οὐκ ἤθελεν & ἔβαλεν αὐτὸν & ἀποδῷ)

Here, the pronoun he in the phrase he was not willing and the pronoun he in the phrase he threw refer to the first slave. The pronoun him and the pronoun he in the phrase he might repay refer to his fellow slave. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the first slave was not willing … he threw his fellow slave … his fellow slave might repay]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT was not willing
UST did not want {to wait}
(οὐκ ἤθελεν)

Here Jesus implies that the first slave was not willing to be patient and wait for the other slave to pay him back. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [was not willing to have patience]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT having gone away
> UST When he left that place
> (ἀπελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come away]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT he threw him into prison
> UST he had someone put the other servant in jail
> (ἔβαλεν αὐτὸν εἰς φυλακὴν)

Here, the phrase he threw him into prison refers to locking someone up in prison. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he put him into prison] or [he locked him up in prison]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT he threw him
> UST he had someone put the other servant
> (ἔβαλεν αὐτὸν)

Here Jesus implies that the slave sent someone else to do this. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [he had people throw him]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT {what} is owed
> UST the money that he owed
> (τὸ ὀφειλόμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the fellow slave. Alternate translation: [what he owed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

Matthew 18:31

ULT	UST
Therefore, his fellow slaves, having seen {what} had happened, were very grieved. And having come, they explained to their master everything that had happened.	When the rest of the servants learned what that servant had done, they became very sad. They went to the king and told him about everything that the servant had done.

ULT Therefore
(οὖν)

Here, the word Therefore introduces what how the other slaves responded to what the first slave did. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a response or reaction, or you could leave Therefore untranslated. Alternate translation: [In response]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT his fellow slaves, having seen {what} had happened, were very grieved
UST When the rest of the servants learned what that servant had done, they became very sad
(ἰδόντες & οἱ σύνδουλοι αὐτοῦ τὰ γενόμενα, ἐλυπήθησαν σφόδρα)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was what the first slave said and did. Alternate translation: [what had happened grieved his fellow slaves very much when they saw it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT having come
UST They went to the king
(ἐλθόντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT to their master
UST him
(τῷ κυρίῳ ἑαυτῶν)

Here Jesus again refers to the king as the master. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make it more explicit that this is the same man as the one referred to as “king” in 18:23. See how you translated “master” in 18:25. Alternate translation: [their master the king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fellow slaves	the rest of the servants they explained	and told to … master	him

Matthew 18:32

ULT	UST
Then, having summoned him, his master says to him, 'Wicked slave, I forgave you all that debt because you begged me.	After that, the king told that servant to come to him. The king told him, 'You are an evil servant! Since you asked me {to wait patiently}, I did not require you to pay any of what you owed.

ULT him, his … to him
UST the king … that servant … him
(αὐτὸν & αὐτοῦ & αὐτῷ)

The pronouns him, his, and him refer to the first slave. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to him more directly. Alternate translation: [the first slave, his … to him]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT his master
UST the king
(ὁ κύριος αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus again refers to the king as the master. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make it more explicit that this is the same man as the one referred to as "king" in 18:23. See how you translated "master" in 18:25. Alternate translation: [his master the king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT says
UST The king told
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Jesus uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT I forgave you all that debt because you begged me
UST Since you asked me {to wait patiently}, I did not require you to pay any of what you owed (πᾶσαν τὴν ὀφειλὴν ἐκείνην ἀφῆκά σοι, ἐπεὶ παρεκάλεσάς με)

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses, since the second clause gives the reason for the result that the first clause describes. Alternate translation: [because you begged me, I forgave you all that debt]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT I forgave you all that debt
UST I did not require you to pay any of what you owed (πᾶσαν τὴν ὀφειλὴν ἐκείνην ἀφῆκά σοι)

Here, the phrase forgave you all that debt indicates that the king no longer required the slave to pay the debt. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I canceled for you all that debt] or [I told you not to pay back all that debt]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT you begged me
UST you asked me {to wait patiently}
(παρεκάλεσάς με)

Here the master implies that the slave begged him to be patient. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [you begged me to be patient]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having summoned	told … to come to him
master	the king
Wicked	evil
slave	You are an … servant
I forgave	I did not require … to pay you begged	you asked

Matthew 18:33

ULT	UST
Was it not necessary for you also to have had mercy on your fellow slave, just as I also had mercy on you?'	I helped you. So, you should have helped the other servant.'

ULT Was it not necessary for you also to have had mercy on your fellow slave, just as I also had mercy on you
UST I helped you. So, you should have helped the other servant
(οὐκ ἔδει καὶ σὲ ἐλεῆσαι τὸν σύνδουλόν σου, ὡς κἀγὼ σὲ ἠλέησα)

The slave's master is using the question form to rebuke the slave. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [It was necessary for you also to have had mercy on your fellow slave, just as I also had mercy on you.] or [It was most certainly necessary for you also to have had mercy on your fellow slave, just as I also had mercy on you!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT to have had mercy on your fellow slave … had mercy on you
UST helped you … have helped the other servant
(ἐλεῆσαι τὸν σύνδουλόν σου & σὲ ἠλέησα)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to be merciful to your fellow slave … was merciful to you]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to have had mercy	have helped on … fellow slave	the other servant
had mercy	helped

Matthew 18:34

ULT	UST
And having become angry, his master handed him over to the torturers until he would repay all that is owed.	Then the king was angry. He had his men arrest and torture that servant until he paid all the money that he owed.

ULT his master
UST He
(ὁ κύριος αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus again refers to the king as the master. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make it more explicit that this is the same man as the one referred to as "king" in 18:23. See how you translated "master" in 18:25. Alternate translation: [his master the king]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT handed him over
UST had his men arrest … that servant
(παρέδωκεν αὐτὸν)

Here, the phrase handed him over refers to putting someone under the authority and control of other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [sent him] or [gave him]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT to the torturers
UST and torture
(τοῖς βασανισταῖς)

Here Jesus could be referring to: (1) prison guards whose job it was to torture certain prisoners. Alternate translation: [to the guards who tortured prisoners]; (2) prison guards in general. Alternate translation: [to the jailers] or [to the prison guards]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT all that is owed
> UST all the money that he owed
> (πᾶν τὸ ὀφειλόμενον)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the fellow slave. Alternate translation: [everything that he owed]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
master	He

Matthew 18:35

ULT	UST
Thus also my heavenly Father will do to you, if each of you does not forgive his brother out of your hearts.”	Whenever any of you do not completely forgive a fellow believer, God my Father, who rules from heaven, will do to you what {that king did to his servant}.”

ULT my heavenly Father
UST God my Father, who rules from heaven
(ὁ Πατήρ μου ὁ οὐράνιος)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

ULT to you … each of you … your
UST any of you … completely … to you (ὑμῖν & ἕκαστος & ὑμῶν)

Here, the words you, you, and your are plural because Jesus is speaking to his disciples.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT if
UST Whenever (ἐὰν)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that you might not forgive your brother. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. Alternate translation: [as long as] or [supposing that]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT his brother
UST a fellow believer
(τῷ ἀδελφῷ αὐτοῦ)

Jesus is using the term brother to mean a person who shares the same faith. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his fellow disciple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT brother
UST a fellow believer
(τῷ ἀδελφῷ)

Although the term brother is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use language in your translation that is clearly inclusive of both men and women. Alternate translation: [brother or sister]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT his
UST a fellow believer
(αὐτοῦ)

Since Jesus has already referred to each of you, if it would be helpful in your language you could continue to refer to these people in the second person. Alternate translation: [your]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT out of your hearts
UST completely
(ἀπὸ τῶν καρδιῶν ὑμῶν)

Here, the phrase out of your heart indicates that the person has done something sincerely or completely. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [wholeheartedly] or [sincerely]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
heavenly	who rules from heaven
does … forgive	do … forgive
my heavenly Father	God my Father, who rules from heaven

Matthew 19

Matthew 19 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus ministers in Judea (19:1–22:46)
    - Jesus goes to Judea (19:1–2)
    - Jesus teaches about marriage and divorce (19:3–12)
    - Jesus blesses little children (19:13–15)
    - Jesus talks with a young man (19:16–22)
    - Jesus teaches about wealth, possessions, and the kingdom (19:23–30)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Divorce

In 19:3, the Pharisees test Jesus by asking him about divorce, an issue that was controversial among Jewish religious leaders. More specifically, the religious leaders argued about what were acceptable grounds for a divorce, so they asked Jesus about this. Jesus responds that divorce is never what God wants, and he quotes from Genesis 1 and 2 to prove this. In response, the Pharisees refer to Deuteronomy 24:1–4, which assumes that men do divorce their wives. Jesus replies that this section of the law exists only because the Israelites were stubborn. He means that God knew that the Israelite men would sometimes divorce their wives, so he included a law about how to do it. Jesus then states that the only acceptable ground for a divorce is sexual immorality. He further says that any divorced person who marries again is involved in adultery. Make sure that it is clear that both Jesus and the Pharisees are making arguments based on the Scriptures.

Eunuchs

The word “eunuch” refers to a man who is unable to reproduce. People in Jesus’ culture knew about two types of eunuchs:

1. Some eunuchs were men who underwent a surgery in which parts of their genitals were removed. This kept them from being able to reproduce. These eunuchs were often important servants of kings and rulers, often serving in the harem.
2. Some eunuchs were men who were born with genitals that were already unable to reproduce.

In 19:12, Jesus refers to both of these kinds of eunuchs. Then he refers to “eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs because of the kingdom of the heavens.” Here he is referring to people who live like eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom. Consider how you might naturally refer to “eunuchs” in your language.

Rich people and the kingdom of the heavens

In Jesus’ culture, many people thought that rich people had been specifically blessed by God. When Jesus said that it was extremely difficult for rich people to enter God’s kingdom (see 19:23–24), the disciples were shocked. They thought that if it was hard for rich people to enter the kingdom, it would be impossible for everyone else. That is why they ask the question, “Who then is able to be saved?” (19:25). If your readers might not understand why the disciples respond in this way, you may need to include a footnote that explains some of this information.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Singular and plural forms of “you”

Many of the forms of “you” in this chapter appear when Jesus is speaking to the Pharisees or to his disciples. This means that Jesus frequently uses plural forms of “you.” In this chapter, you should assume that forms of “you” are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular)

Seventy-seven or seventy times seven

The Greek expression that the ULT translates in 18:22 as “77” could also be translated as “70 times 7.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Matthew 19:1

ULT	UST
And it happened that when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from Galilee and came to the regions of Judea beyond the Jordan.	So, Jesus completed saying those things. Then, he {and his apprentices} left the region of Galilee. They traveled to the region of Judea on the other side of the Jordan River.

ULT And it happened that when Jesus had finished these words, he departed
UST So, Jesus completed saying those things. Then, he {and his apprentices} left (καὶ ἐγένετο, ὅτε ἐτέλεσεν ὁ Ἰησοῦς τοὺς λόγους τούτους, μετῆρεν)

These clauses mark the end of Jesus' teaching by stating that Jesus finished speaking to his disciples. Then they describe what he did next. Use a natural form in your language for expressing the conclusion of a story. Alternate translation: [At that time, Jesus finished speaking these words. Then, he departed]

Support Reference: End of Story

ULT these words
UST saying those things
(τοὺς λόγους τούτους)

Matthew uses the term words to refer to what Jesus said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [speaking these words]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT he departed
UST Then, he {and his apprentices} left (μετῆρεν)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he and his disciples departed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT came
UST They traveled
(ἦλθεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “went” instead of came. Alternate translation: [went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT beyond the Jordan
UST on the other side of the Jordan River
(πέραν τοῦ Ἰορδάνου)

The phrase beyond the Jordan could refer to: (1) areas to the west of the Jordan River. In this case, Matthew means that Jesus traveled on the eastern side of the Jordan River and then went back across it to reach Judea. Alternate translation: [on the western side of the Jordan]; (2) areas to the east of the Jordan River. In this case, Matthew means that some areas on the eastern side of the Jordan River could be called Judea. Alternate translation: [on the eastern side of the Jordan]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Galilee	the region of Galilee
of Judea	of Judea
Jordan	of the Jordan River

Matthew 19:2

ULT	UST
And great crowds followed him, and he healed them there.	Large groups of people went with him, and in that place, he cured those {who were sick}.

ULT them
UST those {who were sick}
(αὐτοὺς)

Matthew implies that Jesus healed the people who were sick. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [those who had diseases]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 19:3

ULT	UST
And Pharisees approached him, testing him, and saying whether it is lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any reason.	Some Pharisees came to Jesus in order to investigate him. They asked, "Does our law allow a husband to divorce his wife whenever he wants to?"

ULT approached him, testing him, and saying
UST came to Jesus in order to investigate him. They asked (προσῆλθον αὐτῷ & πειράζοντες αὐτὸν καὶ λέγοντες)

The word testing introduces the purpose for which some Pharisees approached Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a purpose. Alternate translation: [approached him with the goal of testing him, saying]

Support Reference: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

ULT saying whether it is lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any reason
UST They asked, "Does our law allow a husband to divorce his wife whenever he wants to (λέγοντες, εἰ ἔξεστιν ἀνθρώπῳ ἀπολῦσαι τὴν γυναῖκα αὐτοῦ κατὰ πᾶσαν αἰτίαν)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [saying, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any reason?"]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Pharisees	Some Pharisees
testing	in order to investigate
it is lawful	Does our law allow

Matthew 19:4

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said, "Have you not read that the one having made {them} from the beginning 'made them male and female,'	Jesus replied, "You have read {in the Law that God gave Moses} that when God first created everything, he created people to be male and female.

ULT Have you not read that the one having made {them} from the beginning 'made them male and female … and said, 'Because of this, a man will leave his father and mother and will be joined to his wife, and the two will be one flesh

UST You have read {in the Law that God gave Moses} that when God first created everything, he created people to be male and female … Then God said, 'That is why men{, when they marry,} no longer live with their parents and instead live with their wives. Each husband and wife together become like one person

(οὐκ ἀνέγνωτε, ὅτι ὁ ποιήσας ἀπ' ἀρχῆς, ἄρσεν καὶ θῆλυ, ἐποίησεν αὐτοὺς? καὶ εἶπεν, ἕνεκα τούτου καταλείψει ἄνθρωπος τὸν πατέρα καὶ τὴν μητέρα, καὶ κολληθήσεται τῇ γυναικὶ αὐτοῦ, καὶ ἔσονται οἱ δύο εἰς σάρκα μίαν) (19:4-5)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke and teach the Pharisees. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I know that you have read that the one having made them from the beginning 'made them male and female,' and said, 'Because of this, a man will leave his father and mother and will be joined to his wife, and the two will be one flesh.'] or [Surely you have read that the one having made them from the beginning 'made them male and female,' and said, 'Because of this, a man will leave his father and mother and will be joined to his wife, and the two will be one flesh'!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Have you not read

UST You have read {in the Law that God gave Moses}

(οὐκ ἀνέγνωτε)

Jesus refers to reading something in the Scriptures. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Have you not read in the Scriptures]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the one having made {them} from the beginning
UST when God first created everything
(ὁ ποιήσας ἀπ᾽ ἀρχῆς)

The phrase the one having made refers to God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the one having made them from the beginning, God,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from the beginning
UST first
(ἀπ᾽ ἀρχῆς)

The phrase from the beginning refers to when God created everything that exists. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [at the beginning of the world] or [at the beginning of creation]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT from the beginning ‘made them male and female
UST first … he created people to be male and female (ἀπ᾽ ἀρχῆς, ἄρσεν καὶ θῆλυ, ἐποίησεν αὐτοὺς)

Jesus quotes from the Old Testament scriptures, specifically from Genesis 1:27. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [from the beginning, in the words of the scriptures, ‘made them male and female’]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

Matthew 19:5

ULT	UST
and said, ‘Because of this, a man will leave his father and mother and will be joined to his wife, and the two will be one flesh’?	Then God said, ‘That is why men{, when they marry,} no longer live with their parents and instead live with their wives. Each husband and wife together become like one person.’

ULT and said
UST Then God said
(καὶ εἶπεν)

Jesus introduces a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book of Genesis (see Genesis 2:24). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [and said, as you can read in the book of Genesis,] or [and said in the scriptures]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Because of this
UST That is why
(ἕνεκα τούτου)

The pronoun this refers to what the previous verse includes about how God created people male and female (see 19:4). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to those ideas more directly. Alternate translation: [Because God created people that way]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT a man will leave
UST men{, when they marry,} no longer live with (καταλείψει ἄνθρωπος)

Here the author of the quotation implies that this happens when the man gets married. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [when he gets married, a man will leave]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT will leave … will be joined to … will be
UST { … when they marry,} no longer live with … instead live with … become like (καταλείψει & κολληθήσεται & ἔσονται)

Jesus uses the future tense to speak about something that is generally true. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever tense is most naturally for expressing a general truth. Alternate translation: [leaves … is joined … are]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT will be joined to his wife
UST instead live with their wives
(κολληθήσεται τῇ γυναικὶ αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [will join himself to his wife] or [will unite with his wife]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT the two will be one flesh
UST Each husband and wife together become like one person
(ἔσονται οἱ δύο εἰς σάρκα μίαν)

Here the author of the quotation speaks as if the two are one flesh. He means that a husband and wife are so closely joined that it is as if they had one flesh or one body between them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use simile form or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the two will be like one flesh] or [the two will be as closely united as possible]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the two
UST Each husband and wife together
(οἱ δύο)

Jesus is using the number two as a noun to refer to a husband and a wife together. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this number with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the two of them] or [the two spouses]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

Matthew 19:6

ULT	UST
So then, they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore, what God joined together, let man not separate."	Consequently, each husband and wife are not like two different people any longer. Rather, they are like one person. Since that is true, no one should divide people whom God has united."

ULT So then
UST Consequently
(ὥστε)

The phrase So then introduces a conclusion or inference based on the words Jesus has just quoted. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a conclusion or inference. Alternate translation: [Because of that] or [As you can see]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT they are no longer two, but one flesh
UST each husband and wife are not like two different people any longer. Rather, they are like one person
(οὐκέτι εἰσὶν δύο, ἀλλὰ σὰρξ μία)

Jesus repeats in different form the words from the figure of speech at the end of the previous verse (see 19:5). He means that a husband and wife are so closely joined that it is as if they had one flesh or one body between them. Express the idea as you did in 19:5. Alternate translation: [it is as if they are no longer two, but they are like one flesh] or [they are no longer two separate people, but are as closely united as possible]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Therefore
UST Since that is true
(οὖν)

The word Therefore introduces a conclusion or inference based on what Jesus has said about marriage. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a conclusion or inference. Alternate translation: [Because of that] or [So then]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT let man not separate
> UST no one should divide
> (ἄνθρωπος μὴ χωριζέτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [man should not separate]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

> ULT man
> UST one
> (ἄνθρωπος)

Although the term man is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a person] or [humans]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
God	God

Matthew 19:7

ULT	UST
They say to him, "Why then did Moses command {us} to give a certificate of divorce and to divorce her?"	The Pharisees responded, "If that is true, why {did Moses instruct us in our law about how to divorce wives}? He required each husband to present his wife with a document that states that he is divorcing her. Then, he can divorce her."

ULT They say
UST The Pharisees responded
(λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [They said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Why then
UST If that is true, why {did Moses instruct us in our law about how to divorce wives}
(τί οὖν)

The phrase Why then indicates that the Pharisees are asking a question based on what Jesus has just said. This question suggests that there is evidence against what Jesus has said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of question. Alternate translation: [If you are correct, why]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT Why then did Moses command {us} to give a certificate of divorce and to divorce her
UST If that is true, why {did Moses instruct us in our law about how to divorce wives}? He required each husband to present his wife with a document that states that he is divorcing her. Then, he can divorce her (τί οὖν Μωϋσῆς ἐνετείλατο δοῦναι βιβλίον ἀποστασίου καὶ ἀπολῦσαι αὐτήν)

Here the Pharisees are referring to a specific section in the law that God gave to Moses (see Deuteronomy 24:1–4). This passage discusses divorce and remarriage, and it mentions the use of a certificate of divorce. The Pharisees interpreted this passage to mean that men could divorce their wives, but they had to use a certificate of divorce. They did not think that Moses commanded that men must divorce their wives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could include some of this information in your translation or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [Why then has Moses commanded in the law that a man who wants to divorce his wife must give her a certificate of divorce and then can divorce her]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT a certificate of divorce
UST a document that states that he is divorcing her (βιβλίον ἀποστασίου)

A certificate of divorce is a written document that makes the divorce official. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of document, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. See how you translated this phrase in 5:31. Alternate translation: [a written paper that testifies to the divorce]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Moses	He

Matthew 19:8

ULT	UST
He says to them, "Because of your hardness of heart, Moses allowed you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it was not that way.	Jesus answered, "Moses knew that you were unwilling to obey. That is why {in the Law} he permitted you to divorce your wives. However, when God first created everything, that is not what he intended.

ULT He says
UST Jesus answered
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [He said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Because of your hardness of heart
UST Moses knew that you were unwilling to obey. That is why (πρὸς τὴν σκληροκαρδίαν ὑμῶν)

The phrase your hardness of heart refers to obstinacy or unwillingness to listen and obey. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Because you are hardheaded] or [Because you are so stubborn]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT from the beginning
UST when God first created everything
(ἀπ' ἀρχῆς)

The phrase from the beginning refers to when God created everything that exists. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. See how you translated this phrase in 19:4. Alternate translation: [at the beginning of the world] or [at the beginning of creation]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
hardness of heart	Moses knew that you were unwilling to obey. That is why

ULT	UST
Moses	he

Matthew 19:9

ULT	UST
But I say to you that whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery; and the one having married one that has been divorced commits adultery."	Now here is what I want to tell you: a man may divorce his wife only if she has had improper sex. When a man divorces his wife for any other reason and marries another woman, he disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse. Further, any man who marries a woman whose husband has divorced her also disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse."

Note:

This verse is similar to 5:32, although there are some significant differences. See how you translated that verse for help with this verse.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT But
UST Now
(δὲ)

The word But introduces what Jesus wishes to say about divorce in contrast to what Moses permitted (see 19:8). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [In contrast,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT I say to you
UST here is what I want to tell you
(λέγω & ὑμῖν)

Jesus uses the clause I say to you this to emphasize what he is telling the Pharisees. Use a natural form in your language for emphasizing the truth and importance of a statement. Alternate translation: [I want you to know]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery
UST a man may divorce his wife only if she has had improper sex. When a man divorces his wife for any other reason and marries another woman, he disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse
(ὃς ἂν ἀπολύσῃ τὴν γυναῖκα αὐτοῦ μὴ ἐπὶ πορνείᾳ, καὶ γαμήσῃ ἄλλην, μοιχᾶται)

If it would appear in your language that Jesus was making a statement here and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [the only time a man is allowed to divorce his wife is when there is sexual immorality. Otherwise, when he divorces her and marries another, he commits adultery]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

ULT sexual immorality
UST she has had improper sex
(πορνείᾳ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea behind immorality, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what is sexually immoral] or [sexually immoral behavior]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT another
UST another woman
(ἄλλην)

Jesus is using the adjective another as a noun to mean another woman. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [another person]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT commits adultery … commits adultery
UST he disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse … also disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse (μοιχᾶται)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of adultery, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [becomes an adulterer … becomes an adulterer] or [does what is adulterous … does what is adulterous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT and the one having married one that has been divorced commits adultery
UST Further, any man who marries a woman whose husband has divorced her also disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse
(καὶ ὁ ἀπολελυμένην γαμήσας μοιχᾶται)

Many ancient manuscripts include the words and the one having married one that has been divorced commits adultery. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts do not include these words. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT one that has been divorced
UST a woman whose husband has divorced her
(ἀπολελυμένην)

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you can state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was the woman's husband. Alternate translation: [one whom her husband has divorced]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
sexual immorality	she has had improper sex
commits adultery	he disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse
commits adultery	also disobeys what God commanded about being sexually faithful to one's spouse

Matthew 19:10

ULT	UST
The disciples say to him, "If thus is the reason of the man with his wife, it is better not to marry."	Jesus' apprentices responded, "If that is the only basis on which a husband can divorce his wife, it is not beneficial to get married!"

ULT say
UST responded
(λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT thus
UST that (οὕτως)

The word thus refers to what Jesus has said about divorce and remarriage. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [what you have described] or [what you have commanded]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the reason of the man with his wife
UST the only basis on which a husband can divorce his wife
(ἡ αἰτία τοῦ ἀνθρώπου μετὰ τῆς γυναικός)

The word reason could refer to: (1) the basis on which a man can divorce his wife. Alternate translation: [the only reason for a man to divorce his wife]; (2) the accusation against a man who divorces his wife. Alternate translation: [the charge against a man who divorces his wife]; (3) the situation or relationship between a man and his wife. Alternate translation: [the situation of a man with his wife]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT of the man with his wife
> UST a husband can divorce his wife
> (τοῦ ἀνθρώπου μετὰ τῆς γυναικός)

The words the man and his wife represents men and their wives in general, not one particular man and his wife. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [of any man with his wife]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	Jesus' apprentices
it is better	it is … beneficial

Matthew 19:11

ULT	UST
But he said to them, "Not all receive this word, but to whom it has been given.	Jesus replied, "Many people do not accept what you have said. Only people whom God enables {to accept it can do so}.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT all
UST Many people
(πάντες)

Jesus is using the adjective all as a noun to mean all people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [all people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT this word
UST what you have said
(τὸν λόγον τοῦτον)

The phrase this word could refer to: (1) what the disciples just said. Alternate translation: [the word you have just said]; (2) what Jesus previously said about divorce and remarriage. Alternate translation: [the word I have taught] or [this word about divorce]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT this word
UST what you have said
(τὸν λόγον τοῦτον)

Jesus is using the term word to refer to what someone said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Make sure your translation fits with the option you chose in the previous note. Alternate translation: [what has just been said] or [what you spoke]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT but to whom it has been given
UST Only people whom God enables {to accept it can do so} (ἀλλ᾽ οἷς δέδοται)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but those to whom it has been given receive it]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT it has been given
UST God enables {to accept it can do so} (δέδοται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [God has given it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
receive	do … accept

Matthew 19:12

ULT	UST
For there are eunuchs who were born thus from their mother's womb, and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs because of the kingdom of the heavens. The one being able to receive {this}, let him receive {it}."	Here is what I mean: Some men are impotent because they were already like that when their mothers gave birth to them. Other men are impotent because people castrated them. Other men are impotent because they chose to live that way in order to serve in God's heavenly kingdom. Anyone who can accept {what I am saying} should accept it."

ULT For
UST Here is what I mean
(γὰρ)

The word For introduces an explanation of what Jesus said about how only some people can "receive" what the disciples said (see 19:11). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [More specifically,] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT who were born thus from their mother's womb
UST because they were already like that when their mothers gave birth to them
(οἵτινες ἐκ κοιλίας μητρὸς ἐγεννήθησαν οὕτως)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [whose mothers gave birth to them thus]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT from their mother's womb
UST already (ἐκ κοιλίας μητρὸς)

The phrase from their mother's womb indicates that these people were eunuchs already when they were born. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from their birth] or [from the beginning of their lives]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT who were made eunuchs by men
UST because people castrated them
(οἵτινες εὐνουχίσθησαν ὑπὸ τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [whom men made eunuchs]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT men
UST people
(τῶν ἀνθρώπων)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [humans]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs
UST impotent because they chose to live that way
(εὐνοῦχοι οἵτινες εὐνούχισαν ἑαυτοὺς)

Jesus speaks as if people physically made themselves eunuchs in order to describe people who live like eunuchs, that is, they do not marry or have children. Since this is an important metaphor in the context, if possible preserve the metaphor or express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [people living like eunuchs who made themselves that way] or [people who made themselves to live like eunuchs]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT because of
UST in order to serve in (διὰ)

The phrase because of could mean that: (1) they are making themselves eunuchs in order to act for or in service of the kingdom of the heavens. Alternate translation: [for the sake of] or [in order to work for]; (2) they are making themselves eunuchs in order to enter the kingdom of the heavens. Alternate translation: [to participate in] or [in order to enter]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT The one being able to receive {this}, let him receive {it}
UST Anyone who can accept {what I am saying} should accept it (ὁ δυνάμενος χωρεῖν, χωρείτω)

If your language does not use the third-person imperative in this way, you could state this in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [The one being to accept this must accept it]

Support Reference: Third-Person Imperatives

ULT let him receive {it}
UST should accept it
(χωρείτω)

Although the term him is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [let that person accept it]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
eunuchs	impotent
womb	already
eunuchs	impotent
were made eunuchs	castrated them
eunuchs	impotent
made … eunuchs	they chose to live that way
kingdom of the heavens	God’s heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
to receive {this}	accept {what I am saying} let him receive {it}	should accept it

Matthew 19:13

ULT	UST
Then little children were brought to him so that he would lay his hands on them and would pray, but the disciples rebuked them.	After that, some people took young children to Jesus. They wanted him to bless them by touching them and to pray {for them}. However, the apprentices told them to stop.

ULT Then
UST After that
(τότε)

The word Then introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Then untranslated. Alternate translation: [Sometime later,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT little children were brought to UST some people took young children to (προσηνέχθησαν & παιδία)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [they brought little children to]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT he would lay his hands on them
UST him to bless them by touching them
(τὰς χεῖρας ἐπιθῇ αὐτοῖς)

In Matthew's culture, when Jesus would lay his hands on the little children, that would express God's love for them and convey God's blessing to them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to a similar action from your culture, or you could explain what laying his hands on them means. Alternate translation: [he would stretch out his hands toward them] or [he would lay his hands on them to bless them]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT would pray
UST to pray {for them}
(προσεύξηται)

The people who brought the little children wanted Jesus to pray that God would bless the children. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [would pray for God to bless them]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT them
UST them
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the people who were bringing the little children. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the people who were bringing the little children]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
would pray	to pray {for them}
disciples	apprentices
rebuked	told … to stop

Matthew 19:14

ULT	UST
But Jesus said, "Permit the little children, and do not forbid them to come to me, for of the ones such as these is the kingdom of the heavens."	However, Jesus told {the apprentices}, "Allow the young children to come here. Do not stop them! {I say that because} they and people like them are part of God's heavenly kingdom."

ULT But
UST However
(δὲ)

The word But introduces what Jesus said in contrast to what the disciples were doing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [In contrast,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT Permit the little children, and do not forbid them to come to me
UST Allow the young children to come here. Do not stop them (ἄφετε τὰ παιδία καὶ μὴ κωλύετε αὐτὰ ἐλθεῖν πρός με)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could combine the two clauses. Alternate translation: [Permit the little children; yes, do not forbid them to come to me] or [Permit the little children to come to me]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT to come
UST to come (ἐλθεῖν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "go" instead of come. Alternate translation: [to go]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT for
UST I say that because
(γὰρ)

The word for introduces a reason why the little children should be permitted to come to Jesus. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [because] or [which I command because]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT of the ones such as these is the kingdom of the heavens
UST they and people like them are part of God's heavenly kingdom
(τῶν & τοιούτων ἐστὶν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν)

Here, Jesus is using the possessive form to describe people who belong in the kingdom of the heavens. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. See how you translated the similar construction in 5:3. Alternate translation: [the kingdom of the heavens belongs to the ones such as these] or [the ones such as these belong in the kingdom of the heavens]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT such as these
UST they and people like them are part of (τοιούτων)

The pronoun these refers to the little children. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to the little children more directly. Alternate translation: [such as these little children]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT of the ones such as these
UST they and people like them are part of (τῶν & τοιούτων)

Jesus is referring to the little children and to people who are like them. He does not indicate exactly how these people are like the little children, so if possible express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [of people who are like these]

Support Reference: Simile

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
kingdom of the heavens	God’s heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 19:15

ULT	UST
And having laid his hands on them, he went from there.	{After saying that,} Jesus blessed the young children by touching them. Then, he left that place.

ULT having laid his hands on them
UST Jesus blessed the young children by touching them
(ἐπιθεὶς τὰς χεῖρας αὐτοῖς)

In Matthew's culture, when Jesus laid his hands on the little children, that expressed God's love for them and conveyed God's blessing to them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to a similar action from your culture, or you could explain what having laid his hands on them means. See how you translated the similar phrase in 19:13. Alternate translation: [having stretched out his hands toward them] or [having laid his hands on them to bless them]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT from there
UST that place
(ἐκεῖθεν)

The word there refers to the place where Jesus laid his hands on the little children. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [from where he did that]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 19:16

ULT	UST
And behold, one, having approached him, said, "Teacher, what good thing should I do in order that I might have eternal life?"	After that, a person came to Jesus! He asked, "Instructor, what is a good thing I can do so that I will live with God forever?"

ULT behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [take note] or [then]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT one
UST a person
(εἷς)

Matthew is using the number one as a noun to mean one person. Your language may use numbers in the same way. If not, you could translate this one with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [one man]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT I might have eternal life
UST I will live with God forever
(σχῶ ζωὴν αἰώνιον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [I might live eternally]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Teacher	Instructor
good thing	is a good thing
eternal	forever

Matthew 19:17

ULT	UST
But he said to him, "Why do you ask me about {what is} good? One is good, but if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments."	Jesus replied, "You should not ask me about what would be a good {thing to do}. God is the only one who is good. Now {to answer your question}, since you desire to truly live, you should do what God has commanded."

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT he said to him
UST Jesus replied
(ὁ & εἶπεν αὐτῷ)

The pronoun he refers to Jesus, and the pronoun him refers to the man who asked Jesus the question. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [Jesus said to the man]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Why do you ask me about {what is} good
UST You should not ask me about what would be a good {thing to do}
(τί με ἐρωτᾷς περὶ τοῦ ἀγαθοῦ)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke the man. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Do not ask me about what is good.] or [You should not ask me about what is good!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT do you ask … you want … keep
UST You … ask … you desire … you should do (ἐρωτᾷς & θέλεις & τήρησον)

Throughout this verse, the word you and the command are singular because Jesus is speaking to the young man.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT One is good
UST God is the only one who is good (εἷς ἐστιν ὁ ἀγαθός)

When Jesus says One is good, he is referring to God. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [One is good, that is, God] or [God alone is good]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT but
UST Now {to answer your question}
(δὲ)

The word But indicates that Jesus is about to stop analyzing what the man said and will go on to answer the man's question. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that signals this kind of transition, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [but about what you asked,] or [but as for your question,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if
UST since
(εἰ)

Jesus speaks as if this were a hypothetical situation, but he means that it is true. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, and if your readers might think that what Jesus is saying is uncertain, then you could translate his words as an affirmative statement. Alternate translation: [because]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

> ULT to enter into life
> UST to truly live
> (εἰς τὴν ζωὴν εἰσελθεῖν)

Jesus speaks as if life were a house into which someone could enter. He is referring to experiencing or receiving life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to experience life] or [to receive life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT to enter into life
> UST to truly live
> (εἰς τὴν ζωὴν εἰσελθεῖν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to be able to live]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
{what is} good	what would be a good {thing to do}
good	good

Matthew 19:18

ULT	UST
He says to him, "Which ones?" And Jesus said, "Do not kill, do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not testify falsely,	The man replied, "Which {things that God has commanded do you mean}?" Jesus answered him, "Here are the ones I mean: Do not murder others. Do not be sexually unfaithful to your spouse. Do not steal things. Do not say what is untrue.

ULT Do not kill, do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not testify falsely … honor your father and your mother, and love your neighbor as yourself

UST Here are the ones I mean: Do not murder others. Do not be sexually unfaithful to your spouse. Do not steal things. Do not say what is untrue … Treat your parents respectfully. Care for people you know as much as you care for yourself

(τὸ οὐ φονεύσεις, οὐ μοιχεύσεις, οὐ κλέψεις, οὐ ψευδομαρτυρήσεις, τίμα τὸν πατέρα καὶ τὴν μητέρα, καὶ, ἀγαπήσεις τὸν πλησίον σου ὡς σεαυτόν) (19:18-19)

Jesus quotes commands from the law that God gave to Moses. The first five commands come from either Exodus 20:12–16 or Deuteronomy 5:16–20. The last command comes from Leviticus 19:18. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could format these words in a different way and include this information in a footnote. Alternate translation: [These are the ones: "Do not kill, do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not testify falsely, honor your father and your mother, and love your neighbor as yourself"]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT He says to him

UST The man replied

(λέγει αὐτῷ)

The pronoun He refers to the man, and the pronoun him refers to Jesus. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [The man says to Jesus]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT He says
UST The man replied
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [He said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Do not kill, do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not testify falsely
UST Here are the ones I mean: Do not murder others. Do not be sexually unfaithful to your spouse. Do not steal things. Do not say what is untrue
(τὸ οὐ φονεύσεις, οὐ μοιχεύσεις, οὐ κλέψεις, οὐ ψευδομαρτυρήσεις)

In these commands God is addressing each specific person who is part of God's people, so the commands are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT do not commit adultery
UST Do not be sexually unfaithful to your spouse
(οὐ μοιχεύσεις)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of adultery, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [do not be an adulterer or adulteress] or [do not do what is adulterous]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
do … commit adultery	Do … be sexually unfaithful to your spouse
do … testify falsely	Do … say what is untrue

Matthew 19:19

ULT	UST
honor your father and your mother, and love your neighbor as yourself.”	Treat your parents respectfully. Care for people you know as much as you care for yourself.”

ULT honor your … your … love your
UST Treat your parents respectfully. Care for people you know (τίμα τὸν & τὴν & ἀγαπήσεις & σου)

In these commands God is addressing each specific person who is part of God’s people, so the word your and the commands are singular throughout this verse.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT as yourself
UST as much as you care for yourself
(ὡς σεαυτόν)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [as you love yourself]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT as yourself
UST as much as you care for yourself
(ὡς σεαυτόν)

Jesus assumes that people love themselves, so he wants these people to love their neighbors just as much. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [as deeply as yourself]

Support Reference: Simile

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
honor	Treat … respectfully
love	Care for
neighbor	people you know

Matthew 19:20

ULT	UST
The young man says to him, “All these things I have kept. What do I still lack?”	The young man replied, “I have done each of these things {that God commanded}. What more do I need to do {to truly live}?”

ULT says
UST replied
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT What do I still lack
UST What more do I need to do {to truly live}
(τί ἔτι ὑστερῶ)

The man is asking about what he lacks in order to gain what he wants, which is eternal life (see 19:16). You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [What do I still lack before receiving eternal life]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 19:21

ULT	UST
Jesus said to him, "If you want to be perfect, go, sell your possessions, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in the heavens; and come, follow me."	Jesus answered, "Since you desire to complete {doing what is good}, go {home} and sell what you own. Give {that money} to poor people. {If you do that,} God will reward you in heaven. Then, come with me as my apprentice."

ULT If
UST Since
(εἰ)

Jesus speaks as if this were a hypothetical situation, but he means that he knows it is true. If your language does not state something as a condition if it is certain or true, and if your readers might think that what Jesus is saying is uncertain, then you could translate his words as an affirmative statement. Alternate translation: [Because]

Support Reference: Connect — Factual Conditions

ULT you want … go, sell your … give … you will have … come, follow
UST you desire … go {home} and sell what you own. Give {that money} … God will reward you … come with me as my apprentice
(θέλεις & ὕπαγε πώλησόν σου & δὸς & ἕξεις & δεῦρο, ἀκολούθει)

Throughout this verse, the word you, the word your, and the commands are singular because Jesus is speaking to the young man.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT to the poor
UST to poor people
(πτωχοῖς)

Jesus is using the adjective poor as a noun to mean poor people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [to people who are poor]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT and
UST If you do that
(καὶ)

The word and introduces the result that will follow if the man does sell his possessions and give to the poor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a result. Alternate translation: [and as a result,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT come, follow me
UST come with me as my apprentice
(δεῦρο, ἀκολούθει μοι)

The phrase come, follow me is a command to travel with Jesus and be his disciple. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [be my disciple] or [come with me as my student]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
perfect	to complete {doing what is good} possessions	what you own the heavens	heaven

Matthew 19:22

ULT	UST
But the young man, having heard the word, went away being grieved, for he was having many possessions.	After the young man listened to what Jesus said, he felt very sad and left. {He was very sad} because he was rich {and did not want to lose what he owned}.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the word
UST to what Jesus said
(τὸν λόγον)

Here, word represents what Jesus just said using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Jesus' statement] or [the words that Jesus said]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT being grieved
UST he felt very sad
(λυπούμενος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [being very sorrowful]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT for
UST {He was very sad} because
(γὰρ)

The word for introduces a reason why the young man was being grieved. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a reason or basis for a claim, or you could leave for untranslated. Alternate translation: [because] or [since]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

> ULT he was having many possessions
> UST he was rich {and did not want to lose what he owned} > (ἦν & ἔχων κτήματα πολλά)

Matthew implies that the young man did not want to sell these possessions. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [he was having many possessions that he did not want to sell]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
possessions	rich {and did not want to lose what he owned}

Matthew 19:23

ULT	UST
Now Jesus said to his disciples, "Truly I say to you, a rich {person} will enter difficultly into the kingdom of the heavens.	After that, Jesus told his apprentices, "It is hard for rich people to participate in God's heavenly kingdom. What I have said is true.

ULT Now
UST After that
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT will enter
UST to participate
(εἰσελεύσεται)

Jesus uses the future tense to speak about something that is generally true. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use whatever tense is most naturally for expressing a general truth. Alternate translation: [enters]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
to … disciples	apprentices
Truly	What I have said is true
difficultly	It is hard
kingdom of the heavens	God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly

Matthew 19:24

ULT	UST
And again I say to you, it is easier for a camel to pass through an eye of a needle than for a rich {person} to enter into the kingdom of God."	I want you to understand that, so I will repeat it. Large animals like camels cannot fit into very small spaces. However, it is even harder for rich people to participate in God's kingdom."

ULT And again
UST so I will repeat it
(πάλιν δὲ)

The phrase And again introduces a restatement of what Jesus said in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a restatement, or you could leave And again untranslated. Alternate translation: [To repeat:] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT it is easier for a camel to pass through an eye of a needle than for a rich {person} to enter into the kingdom of God
UST Large animals like camels cannot fit into very small spaces. However, it is even harder for rich people to participate in God's kingdom
(εὐκοπώτερόν ἐστιν κάμηλον διὰ τρήματος ῥαφίδος διελθεῖν ἢ πλούσιον εἰσελθεῖν εἰς τὴν Βασιλείαν Θεοῦ)

Jesus compares a rich {person} entering the kingdom of the heavens with something that is impossible: a camel passing through an eye of a needle. Jesus does this to emphasize how hard it is for a rich {person} to enter into the kingdom of God. As 19:26 shows, Jesus does not think that this is completely impossible, however. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea here in such a way that it does not sound as if it is totally impossible for a rich {person} to enter into the kingdom of God. Alternate translation: [consider how difficult it is for a camel to pass through an eye of a needle. That illustrates how difficult it is for a rich person to enter into the kingdom of God]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

> ULT an eye of a needle
> UST very small spaces
> (τρήματος ῥαφίδος)

The phrase an eye of a needle refers to the small hole at the end of a sewing needle through which the thread passes. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of tool or the tiny hole in it, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term for a small opening. Alternate translation: [the small hole at the end of a needle] or [a very small hole]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
for a camel	Large animals like camels kingdom of God	God’s kingdom

Matthew 19:25

ULT	UST
Now, having heard this, the disciples were very astonished, saying, "Then who is able to be saved?"	What Jesus said greatly surprised the apprentices. They said, "So then, it must be that God does not actually rescue anyone!"

ULT Now
UST What Jesus said
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having heard this, the disciples were very astonished, saying
UST What Jesus said greatly surprised the apprentices. They said (ἀκούσαντες & οἱ μαθηταὶ ἐξεπλήσσοντο σφόδρα λέγοντες)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was what Jesus said. Alternate translation: [what the disciples heard astonished them greatly, and they said]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT saying
UST They said
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT Then who is able to be saved
> UST So then, it must be that God does not actually rescue anyone
> (τίς ἄρα δύναται σωθῆναι)

The disciples are using the question form to express their astonishment. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [It seems then that no one is able to be saved.] or [No one then is able to be saved!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT Then who is able to be saved
> UST So then, it must be that God does not actually rescue anyone
> (τίς ἄρα δύναται σωθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who would do the action, it is clear from the context that it would be God. Alternate translation: [Who then can receive salvation] or [Whom then will God save]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT Then who
> UST So then … not … anyone
> (τίς ἄρα)

The word then indicates that the disciples ask this question in response to what Jesus just said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [If that is true, who] or [Given that, who]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
to be saved	it must be that God does … rescue

Matthew 19:26

ULT	UST
But Jesus, having looked at {them}, said to them, "With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible."	Jesus looked directly at his apprentices. He said, "People cannot rescue themselves. However, God can do anything!"

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT With men … with God
UST People … God
(παρὰ ἀνθρώποις & παρὰ & Θεῷ)

Alternate translation: [For men … for God]

ULT men
UST People
(ἀνθρώποις)

Although the term men is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [humans]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

ULT this
UST rescue themselves
(τοῦτο)

The pronoun this refers to being able to be saved (see 19:25). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to that idea more directly. Alternate translation: [being saved]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus

ULT	UST
God	God

Matthew 19:27

ULT	UST
Then answering, Peter said to him, "Behold, we left everything and followed you. What then will there be for us?"	After {Jesus said} that, Peter replied, "We left behind everything we had and went with you as your apprentices! So then, how will God reward us?"

ULT Behold
(ἰδοὺ)

The word behold is intended to draw the attention of Jesus and to ask him to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks someone to listen or pay attention. Alternate translation: [Listen] or [Excuse me]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT we … for us
UST We … us
(ἡμεῖς & ἡμῖν)

By we and us, Peter means himself and the disciples but not Jesus, so use the exclusive forms of those words in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

ULT followed you
UST went with you as your apprentices
(ἠκολουθήσαμέν σοι)

The phrase followed you indicates that the disciples traveled with Jesus and were his disciple. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [become your disciples] or [traveled with you as your students]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT you
UST you
(σοι)

The word you is singular because Peter is speaking to Jesus.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT What then will there be for us
> UST So then, how will God reward us
> (τί ἄρα ἔσται ἡμῖν)

Peter is asking what he and his fellow disciples will receive because they left everything. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [What then will we receive] or [What reward then will there be for us]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT What then
> UST So then, how > (τί ἄρα)

The word then indicates that Peter is asking this question in response to what he just said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make that idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [Since we did that, what] or [Given what we did, what]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Peter	Peter

Matthew 19:28

ULT	UST
And Jesus said to them, "Truly I say to you that in the renewal when the Son of Man sits on his throne of glory, you, the ones having followed me, you also will sit upon 12 thrones, judging the 12 tribes of Israel.	Jesus replied, "Someday God will renew everything that he has made, and I, the Son of Man, will sit down {to rule} from my great throne. When that happens, you too, since you have come with me as my apprentices, will sit down {to rule} from 12 thrones{, one for each of you}. You will decide whether people from the 12 Israelite clans are guilty or innocent. What I have said is true.

ULT in the renewal
UST God will renew everything that he has made (ἐν τῇ παλιγγενεσίᾳ)

The phrase in the renewal refers to the time when God will renew or recreate everything that he has made. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [at the time when things are recreated,] or [when God makes everything new,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the Son of Man sits on his
UST and I, the Son of Man, will sit down {to rule} from my (καθίσῃ ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου ἐπὶ & αὐτοῦ)

Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, sit on my]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT sits on his throne of glory
UST will sit down {to rule} from my great throne
(καθίσῃ & ἐπὶ θρόνου δόξης αὐτοῦ)

When someone sits on a throne, it indicates that this person is ruling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could explain the meaning of this action. Alternate translation: [sits on his throne of glory as king] or [rules from his throne of glory]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT his throne of glory
UST my great throne
(θρόνου δόξης αὐτοῦ)

Jesus could be using the possessive form to describe a throne that: (1) belongs to the Son of Man and that is characterized by glory. Alternate translation: [his throne that is glorious]; (2) shows or illustrates the glory that the Son of Man has. Alternate translation: [the throne that displays his glory]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT throne of glory
UST great throne
(θρόνου δόξης)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [glorious throne]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT the ones having followed me
UST since you have come with me as my apprentices
(οἱ ἀκολουθήσαντές μοι)

The phrase followed me indicates that the disciples traveled with Jesus and were his disciple. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones having become my disciples] or [the ones having traveled with me as my students]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT will sit upon 12 thrones
UST will sit down {to rule} from 12 thrones{, one for each of you}
(καθήσεσθε & ἐπὶ δώδεκα θρόνους)

When someone sits on a throne, it indicates that this person is ruling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could explain the meaning of this action. See how you translated the similar phrase earlier in the verse. Alternate translation: [will sit on 12 thrones as kings] or [will rule from 12 thrones]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT judging
UST You will decide whether … are guilty or innocent (κρίνοντες)

The word judging could mean that the disciples are acting: (1) as judges. Alternate translation: [acting as judges for]; (2) as rulers. Alternate translation: [ruling] or [acting as rulers for]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Truly	What I have said is true
renewal	God will renew everything that he has made
Son of Man	and I, the Son of Man throne	throne
of glory	great
thrones	thrones{, one for each of you}
judging	You will decide whether … are guilty or innocent
12 tribes of Israel	people from the 12 Israelite clans tribes	clans
of Israel	Israelite

Matthew 19:29

ULT	UST
And everyone who has left houses, or brothers, or sisters, or a father, or a mother, or a wife,or children, or lands for the sake of my name, will receive 100 times {as much} and will inherit eternal life.	Some people leave behind houses, siblings, parents, wives, children, or fields. They do that because they want to be my apprentices. God will give those people many times {what they left behind}. Further, he will enable them to live with him forever.

ULT or a wife
UST wives
(ἢ γυναῖκα)

Many ancient manuscripts read or wife. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts do not include these words. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

ULT for the sake of my name
UST They do that because they want to be my apprentices
(ἕνεκεν τοῦ ἐμοῦ ὀνόματός)

Here, name represents the person whose name it is. Jesus means that they have left all these things because of him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for my sake]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT 100 times {as much}
UST many times {what they left behind}
(ἑκατονταπλασίονα)

Jesus is using a round number (100) to indicate a large number of times. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an expression for a large number or state more explicitly that 100 is a round number. Alternate translation: [very many times as much] or [something like 100 times as much]

Support Reference: Numbers

> ULT will inherit eternal life
> UST he will enable them to live with him forever
> (ζωὴν αἰώνιον κληρονομήσει)

Here the author speaks as if these people were children who would receive property from a relative. He speaks in this way to indicate that these people will receive eternal life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will receive eternal life] or [will be given eternal life]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT will inherit eternal life
> UST he will enable them to live with him forever
> (ζωὴν αἰώνιον κληρονομήσει)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [will be able to live eternally]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
houses	houses
will receive	God will give those people will inherit	he will enable them
eternal	forever

Matthew 19:30

ULT	UST
But many first will be last, and last, first.	{At that time,} many people who are important right now will become unimportant. Many people who are unimportant right now will become important.

ULT But
UST At that time
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that Jesus wants to say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next thing, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Yes,] or [Indeed,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT many first will be last, and last, first
UST many people who are important right now will become unimportant. Many people who are unimportant right now will become important (πολλοὶ & ἔσονται πρῶτοι ἔσχατοι, καὶ ἔσχατοι πρῶτοι)

Here, Jesus is speaking of important or respected people as if they were first and of unimportant or non-respected people as if they were last. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [many respected will be non-respected, and non-respected, respected] or [many significant will be insignificant, and insignificant, significant]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT first … and last
UST who are important right now … Many people who are unimportant right now (πρῶτοι & καὶ ἔσχατοι)

Jesus is using the adjectives first and last as nouns to mean first and last people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [first people … and last people] or [people who are first … and people who are last]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT and last, first
> UST Many people who are unimportant right now will become important > (καὶ ἔσχατοι πρῶτοι)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and many last will be first]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

Matthew 20

Matthew 20 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus ministers in Judea (19:1–22:46)
    - The parable of the denarius wage (20:1–16)
    - Jesus predicts his death and resurrection (20:17–19)
    - Jesus and the disciples speak about who will be great (20:20–28)
    - Jesus heals two blind men (20:29–34)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Hiring people to work in a vineyard

In 20:1–7, Jesus speaks about a master of a house hiring people to work in his vineyard. These people were day laborers who would wait in the marketplace for someone to offer them a job. Then, they would agree with the person hiring them on how much money they would make before starting the job. If this is not a practice that your readers would be familiar with, make sure that what is happening is clear to your readers.

Sitting at Jesus' right and left hand

In 20:21 and 20:23, Jesus and the mother of the sons of Zebedee refer to sitting at Jesus' right hand and at his left hand. They are referring to the places of honor at the right and left side of a king or ruler. The people who sit in these places have authority and are respected the most after the king or ruler. Make sure that this meaning is clear in your translation. See the notes on these two verses for translation options.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The parable of the denarius wage

In 20:1–15, Jesus tells a story about a master of a house who hires people throughout the day to work in his vineyard. He agrees with the first people he hires to pay them a denarius each. However, when he pays everyone at the end of the day, he pays each worker a denarius, even those who only worked for one hour. When the workers who were hired first complain about this, he points out that he can do what he wants with his own money, and they agreed to work for one denarius each. Jesus uses this story to illustrate the point he makes before (19:30) and after (20:16) the story: people who are first will be last, and people who are last will be first. What Jesus means is that the rewards and blessings people receive do not always match what people expect, and God can do whatever he wants with the blessings and rewards he gives. While you should not explain the meaning more than Jesus does, make sure that your translation fits with what Jesus is illustrating. (See: Parables)

Drinking the cup

In 20:22–23, Jesus refers to a "cup" from which he is going to drink. He is referring to a figure of speech in the Old Testament that refers to experiencing suffering and pain (for example, see Psalm 75:8 and Isaiah 51:17). He means that he will experience suffering, and his disciples must be ready to experience it as well. Since this figure of speech is from the Old Testament, if possible you should preserve it or express the idea in simile form. (See: Metaphor)

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Many of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in instructions that Jesus gives to his disciples or in speeches that the master of the house gives in the parable. Because of this, many of the forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

Matthew 20:1

ULT	UST
For the kingdom of the heavens is like a man, the master of the house, who went out with the morning to hire workers for his vineyard.	In fact, here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a man who managed a household left his house in the morning {to go to the town's open area}. He wanted to hire people to take care of his grape vines.

ULT For the kingdom of the heavens is like a man
UST In fact, here is what God's heavenly kingdom is like: a man
(ὁμοία γάρ ἐστιν ἡ Βασιλεία τῶν Οὐρανῶν ἀνθρώπῳ)

To teach the disciples, Jesus offers a story or illustration. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could indicate that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Now listen to this story: the kingdom of the heavens is like a man]

Support Reference: Parables

ULT For
UST In fact
(γάρ)

Here, the word For introduces an explanation of what Jesus said about how the first will be last and the last first (19:30). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces an explanation, or you could leave For untranslated. Alternate translation: [Here is what I mean:] or [Let me explain:]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT went out
UST left his house … to go to the town's open area
(ἐξῆλθεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "came" instead of went. Alternate translation: [came out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT with the morning
UST in the morning
(ἅμα πρωΐ)

Here, the phrase with the morning means that the master of the house left as soon as it was morning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [as soon as the sun rose] or [as soon as it was morning]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kingdom of the heavens	here is what God's heavenly kingdom
of the heavens	heavenly
workers	people
vineyard	grape vines

Matthew 20:2

ULT	UST
Now, having agreed with the workers for a denarius for the day, he sent them into his vineyard.	He found some people who agreed to work that day for one coin. Then, he told them to take care of his grape vines.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having agreed with the workers for a denarius for the day
UST He found some people who agreed to work that day for one coin (συμφωνήσας & μετὰ τῶν ἐργατῶν ἐκ δηναρίου τὴν ἡμέραν)

Here Jesus implies that the master of the house found some workers, told them what he wanted them to do, and then agreed with them on how much he would pay them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some of that information more explicit. Alternate translation: [having located some workers and having agreed to pay them a denarius for the day]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT a denarius
UST for one coin
(δηναρίου)

A denarius was a silver coin equivalent to about one day's wage for a hired worker. You could try to express this amount in terms of current monetary values, but that might cause your Bible translation to become outdated and inaccurate, since those values can change over time. So instead you might state something more general or give the equivalent in wages. Alternate translation: [one silver coin] or [an average wage]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
workers	some people

ULT	UST
for the day	to work that day
vineyard	grape vines

Matthew 20:3

ULT	UST
And having gone out about the third hour, he saw others standing idle in the marketplace.	At about nine o'clock in the morning, the man arrived in the town's open area again. He noticed more people there who wanted to work.

ULT having gone out
UST the man arrived … again
(ἐξελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT about the third hour
UST At about nine o'clock in the morning
(περὶ τρίτην ὥραν)

In this culture, people began counting the hours each day beginning around daybreak, at about six o'clock in the morning. So, the third hour would be around nine o'clock in the morning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this in the way the people of your culture reckon time. Alternate translation: [about 9:00 AM]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the third hour
UST nine o'clock in the morning
(τρίτην ὥραν)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [hour three]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

> ULT standing idle in the marketplace
> UST in the town's open area … there who wanted to work
> (ἑστῶτας ἐν τῇ ἀγορᾷ ἀργούς)

In Jesus' culture, people would wait in the marketplace when they wanted to find work. If they had not yet found work, they would be standing idle. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [standing in the marketplace still looking for work]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the marketplace
> UST in the town's open area
> (τῇ ἀγορᾷ)

A marketplace is a large, open-air area where people buy and sell goods. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of area, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. See how you translated this word in 11:16. Alternate translation: [the town square] or [the park]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the … hour	nine o'clock in the morning

Matthew 20:4

ULT	UST
And to them he said, ‘You also, go into the vineyard, and whatever is right I will give you.’	He told them, ‘Join the other people who are taking care of my grape vines. I will pay you a fair wage.’

ULT he said, ‘You also, go into the vineyard, and whatever is right I will give you
UST He told … Join the other people who are taking care of my grape vines. I will pay you a fair wage (εἶπεν, ὑπάγετε καὶ ὑμεῖς εἰς τὸν ἀμπελῶνα, καὶ ὃ ἐὰν ᾖ δίκαιον, δώσω ὑμῖν)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [he said that they too should go into the vineyard and that he would give them whatever is right]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT go into the vineyard
UST Join the other people who are taking care of my grape vines
(ὑπάγετε & εἰς τὸν ἀμπελῶνα)

Here the master of the house implies that he wants these people to work in the vineyard along with the other people he already hired. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [go into the vineyard and work there]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
vineyard	my grape vines
is right	a fair wage

Matthew 20:5

ULT	UST
So they went out. Having gone out again about the sixth and ninth hour, he did likewise.	They agreed to do so. At about noon and at about three o'clock in the afternoon, the man again arrived {in the town's open area}. He said the same thing {to the people he found there, and they too agreed to take care of his grape vines}.

ULT they went out
UST They agreed to do so
(οἱ & ἀπῆλθον)

Here Jesus implies that the people went to the vineyard and began to work there. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [they went to the vineyard and worked there]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT went out
UST agreed to do so (ἀπῆλθον)

In a context such as this, your language might say "came" instead of went. Alternate translation: [came out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT Having gone out
UST the man … arrived {in the town's open area}
(ἐξελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of gone. Alternate translation: [Having come out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT about the sixth and ninth hour
UST At about noon and at about three o'clock in the afternoon
(περὶ ἕκτην καὶ ἐνάτην ὥραν)

In this culture, people began counting the hours each day beginning around daybreak at six o'clock in the morning. So, the sixth hour would be around noon, and the ninth hour would be around three o'clock in the afternoon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this in the way the people of your culture reckon time. See how you translated the similar time reference in 20:3. Alternate translation: [about 12:00 PM and 3:00 PM]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the sixth and ninth hour
UST noon and at about three o'clock in the afternoon
(ἕκτην καὶ ἐνάτην ὥραν)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [hours six and nine]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

ULT he did likewise
UST He said the same thing {to the people he found there, and they too agreed to take care of his grape … }
(ἐποίησεν ὡσαύτως)

Here Jesus means that the master of the house did and said the same things that he said and did at "the third hour" (see 20:3–4). He also implies that there were people in the marketplace who agreed to work in his vineyard. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make some or all of that information more explicit. Alternate translation: [he told even more people that he would pay them whatever is right, and they too agreed to work in his vineyard]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
the … hour	at about three o'clock in the afternoon

Matthew 20:6

ULT	UST
Now, having gone out about the eleventh {hour}, he found others standing, and he says to them, 'Why have you stood here idle the whole day?'	At about five o'clock in the afternoon, the man again arrived {in the town's open area}. He noticed that there were still people there who wanted to work. He asked them, 'Why have you been here waiting all day to work?'

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having gone out
UST the man again arrived {in the town's open area}
(ἐξελθὼν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "come" instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT about the eleventh {hour}
UST At about five o'clock in the afternoon
(περὶ & τὴν ἑνδεκάτην)

In this culture, people began counting the hours each day beginning around daybreak at six o'clock in the morning. So, the eleventh {hour} would be around five o'clock in the afternoon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this in the way the people of your culture reckon time. See how you translated the similar time reference in 20:3. Alternate translation: [about 5:00 PM]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the eleventh {hour}
UST five o'clock in the afternoon
(τὴν ἑνδεκάτην)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [hour eleven]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

ULT others standing … have you stood here idle
UST that there were still people there who wanted to work … have you been here waiting … to work
(ἄλλους ἑστῶτας & ὧδε ἑστήκατε & ἀργοί)

In Jesus' culture, people would wait in the marketplace when they wanted to find work. If they had not yet found work, they would be standing idle. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [others still looking for work … have you been standing here looking for work]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he says
UST He asked
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Jesus uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT he says to them, 'Why have you stood here idle the whole day
UST He asked them, 'Why have you been here waiting all day to work
(λέγει αὐτοῖς, τί ὧδε ἑστήκατε ὅλην τὴν ἡμέραν ἀργοί)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [he asks them why they had stood there idle the whole day.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
day	all day

Matthew 20:7

ULT	UST
They say to him, ‘Because no one hired us.’ He says to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard.’	They replied, ‘{We are waiting here} because nobody has hired us.’ Then the man said, ‘Join the other people who are taking care of my grape vines.’ {They agreed to do so.}

ULT They say … He says
UST They replied … Then the man said
(λέγουσιν & λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Jesus uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [They said … He said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT to him, ‘Because no one hired us.’ He says to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard
UST They replied, ‘{We are waiting here} because nobody has hired us.’ Then the man said, ‘Join the other people who are taking care of my grape vines.’ {They agreed to do so … }
(αὐτῷ, ὅτι οὐδεὶς ἡμᾶς ἐμισθώσατο. λέγει αὐτοῖς, ὑπάγετε καὶ ὑμεῖς εἰς τὸν ἀμπελῶνα)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there are not quotations within a quotation. Alternate translation: [to him that it was because no one hired them. He says to them that they too should go into the vineyard]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT go into the vineyard
UST Join the other people who are taking care of my grape vines.’ {They agreed to do so … }
(ὑπάγετε & εἰς τὸν ἀμπελῶνα)

Here the master of the house implies that he wants these people to work in the vineyard along with the other people he already hired. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [go into the vineyard and work there]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
vineyard	my grape vines.’ {They agreed to do so … }

Matthew 20:8

ULT	UST
And evening having come, the owner of the vineyard says to his manager, 'Call the workers and pay them their wages, having begun from the last to the first.'	When it was evening, the man who managed the household spoke to the man who supervised the workers. He said, 'Tell the people who worked today to come here. Starting with the people that I hired latest in the day and ending with the people that I hired earliest in the day, pay them what they earned.'

ULT the owner of the vineyard
UST the man who managed the household
(ὁ κύριος τοῦ ἀμπελῶνος)

Here, the owner of the vineyard is the same person whom Jesus previously called "the master of the house" (see 20:1). If it would be helpful in your language, you could make it more explicit that this is the same person. Alternate translation: [the master of the house, who owned the vineyard,] or [the master of the house, who was in charge of the vineyard,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT says
UST spoke
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Jesus uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT to his manager
UST to the man who supervised the workers
(τῷ ἐπιτρόπῳ αὐτοῦ)

Here, the word manager is referring to a worker who supervised or managed the other workers. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to his manager, who was in charge of the workers]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Call … pay
UST He said, ‘Tell … to come here … pay
(κάλεσον & ἀπόδος)

Because the master of the house is speaking to his manager, the commands throughout this verse are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of ‘You’ — Singular

ULT having begun from the last to the first
UST Starting with the people that I hired latest in the day and ending with the people that I hired earliest in the day
(ἀρξάμενος ἀπὸ τῶν ἐσχάτων ἕως τῶν πρώτων)

Here the owner of the vineyard means that he wants his manager to pay the workers in the reverse order in which they were hired. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [beginning with the last who was hired and ending with the first who was hired] or [beginning from the last and going backwards to the first]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the last … the first
UST with the people that I hired latest in the day … with the people that I hired earliest in the day
(τῶν ἐσχάτων & τῶν πρώτων)

The owner of the vineyard is using the adjectives first and last as nouns to mean the workers who were hired last and the workers who were hired first. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [the last workers … the first workers] or [the workers hired last … the workers hired first]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
owner	the man who managed the household of the vineyard	the man who managed the household to … manager	to the man who supervised the workers
Call	He said, ‘Tell … to come here workers	the people who worked today

Matthew 20:9

ULT	UST
And having come, the ones about the eleventh hour each received a denarius.	Then the people who started working at about five o'clock in the afternoon came forward. The supervisor paid one coin to each of them.

ULT having come
UST came forward
(ἐλθόντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the ones about the eleventh hour
UST the people who started working at about five o'clock in the afternoon
(οἱ περὶ τὴν ἑνδεκάτην ὥραν)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [the ones who were hired at about the eleventh hour]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT about the eleventh hour
UST who started working at about five o'clock in the afternoon
(περὶ τὴν ἑνδεκάτην ὥραν)

See how you translated the phrase the eleventh hour in 20:6. Alternate translation: [about 5:00 PM]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the eleventh hour
UST who started working at about five o'clock in the afternoon
(τὴν ἑνδεκάτην ὥραν)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [hour eleven]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

> ULT a denarius
> UST one coin
> (δηνάριον)

See how you translated the word denarius in 20:2. Alternate translation: [one silver coin] or [an average wage]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
hour	who started working at about five o'clock in the afternoon received	The supervisor paid

Matthew 20:10

ULT	UST
But having come, the first thought that they will receive more, but they also received a denarius each.	Then the people who started working first came forward. They expected that the supervisor would pay them more {than that}. However, he paid one coin to each of them also.

ULT having come
UST came forward
(ἐλθόντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say “gone” instead of come. Alternate translation: [having gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the first
UST the people who started working first (οἱ πρῶτοι)

Jesus is using the adjective first as a noun to mean the workers who were hired first. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the ones who were hired first]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT thought that they will receive more, but UST They expected that the supervisor would pay them more {than that}. However (ἐνόμισαν ὅτι πλεῖον λήμψονται, καὶ)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [thought, “We will receive more.” But]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT more
UST more {than that} (πλεῖον)

Here Jesus implies that the first workers thought that they would receive more than one denarius, since that is what the workers who started at the end of the day received. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [more than one denarius] or [more than the workers who started latest received]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT a denarius
UST one coin
(δηνάριον)

See how you translated the word denarius in 20:2. Alternate translation: [one silver coin] or [an average wage]

Support Reference: Biblical Money

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
they will receive	the supervisor would pay them received	he paid

Matthew 20:11

ULT	UST
But, having received {it}, they were murmuring against the master of the house,	After these workers took their money, they complained about how the man who managed the household was behaving.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having received {it}	After these workers took their money master of the house	about how the man who managed the household was behaving

Matthew 20:12

ULT	UST
saying, ‘These last ones have done one hour, but you made them equal to us, the ones having borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat.’	They said to him, ‘These people who started working last worked for just one hour. However, you are treating them as if they worked as much as we have! We worked the most and during the hottest parts of the day.’

ULT saying, ‘These last ones have done one hour, but you made them equal to us, the ones having borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat
UST They said to him, ‘These people who started working last worked for just one hour. However, you are treating them as if they worked as much as we have! We worked the most and during the hottest parts of the day
(λέγοντες, οὗτοι οἱ ἔσχατοι μίαν ὥραν ἐποίησαν, καὶ ἴσους ἡμῖν αὐτοὺς ἐποίησας, τοῖς βαστάσασι τὸ βάρος τῆς ἡμέρας καὶ τὸν καύσωνα)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [saying that the last ones had done one hour, but the master of the house made them equal to themselves, the ones having borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT saying
UST They said to him
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT These last ones
UST These people who started working last (οὗτοι οἱ ἔσχατοι)

Here the workers are referring to the other workers who were hired last. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [These ones who were hired last]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT you made
> UST you are treating > (ἐποίησας)

Because the workers are speaking to the master of the house, the word you is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT to us
> UST we have > (ἡμῖν)

By us, the workers mean themselves who were hired first but not any of the other workers, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

> ULT the ones having borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat
> UST We worked the most and during the hottest parts of the day
> (τοῖς βαστάσασι τὸ βάρος τῆς ἡμέρας καὶ τὸν καύσωνα)

Here, the workers are speaking of their hard work as if it were a burden that they had borne. They also speak as if the scorching heat were also an object that they had borne. They mean that they had to work hard and experience the hot sun during the middle of the day. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [ones having worked hard the whole day and having experienced the scorching heat]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT the burden of the day
> UST the most > (τὸ βάρος τῆς ἡμέρας)

Here, the workers are using the possessive form to describe a burden that they had to bear during the day. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another. Alternate translation: [the burden during the day]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
hour	for … hour
having borne	We worked

ULT	UST
of the day	the most

Matthew 20:13

ULT	UST
But he, answering, said to one of them, 'Friend, I am not wronging you. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?	The man who managed the household spoke to one of the workers who was complaining, 'My friend, I am not treating you unfairly. You agreed {to take care of my grape vines} for one coin.

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the master of the house said in contrast with what the workers were saying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [In response,] or [In contrast,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT said to one of them, 'Friend, I am not wronging you. Did you not agree with me for a denarius
UST spoke to one of the workers who was complaining, 'My friend, I am not treating you unfairly. You agreed {to take care of my grape vines} for one coin (ἑνὶ αὐτῶν εἶπεν, ἑταῖρε, οὐκ ἀδικῶ σε. οὐχὶ δηναρίου συνεφώνησάς μοι)

Alternate translation: [called one of them his friend and said to him that he was not wronging him and that he had agreed with him for a denarius.]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT you. Did you … agree with
UST you … You agreed {to take care of my grape vines}
(σε & συνεφώνησάς)

Because the master of the house is speaking to one of the workers, the word you throughout this verse is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Did you not agree with me for a denarius
UST You agreed {to take care of my grape vines} for one coin
(οὐχὶ δηναρίου συνεφώνησάς μοι)

The master of the house is using the question form to remind the worker what he agreed to do. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You remember that you agreed with me for a denarius] or [You certainly agreed with me for a denarius!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT me for a denarius
UST You agreed {to take care of my grape vines} for one coin
(δηναρίου & μοι)

The master of the house implies that the worker agreed to work for a denarius. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [me to work for a denarius]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
I am … wronging	I am … treating … unfairly

Matthew 20:14

ULT	UST
Take {what is} yours and go away. But I desire to give to this last as also to you.	I want to pay those who started working last as much as I pay you {who started working first}. So, take what I have paid you and go {home}.

ULT Take {what is} yours … go away … to you
UST I pay you {who started working first}. So, take what I have paid you … go {home}
(ἆρον τὸ σὸν & ὕπαγε & σοί)

Because the master of the house is speaking to one of the workers, the commands and the words yours and you throughout this verse are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT But
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces what the master of the house is going to do in contrast to what the worker wishes he would do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Despite what you want,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT to this last
UST those who started working last
(τούτῳ τῷ ἐσχάτῳ)

The master of the house is using the adjective last as a noun to mean workers who were hired last. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [to this worker who was hired last]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

> ULT to this last
> UST those who started working last
> (τούτῳ τῷ ἐσχάτῳ)

The phrase this last represents the last ones in general, not one particular last one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to these last]

Support Reference: Generic Noun Phrases

> ULT as also to you
> UST as much as I pay you {who started working first} > (ὡς καὶ σοί)

The master of the house is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [as I give also to you]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

Matthew 20:15

ULT	UST
Or is it not lawful for me to do what I desire with {what is} mine? Or is your eye evil because I am good?'	Our law allows me to do what I like with what I own. You should not be jealous because I am being generous!'

> ULT Or
> (ἢ)

the word Or introduces a contrasting alternative to what the master of the house has said about what he wants to do. He then uses the question form to show that this alternate is wrong. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a false alternative, or you could leave Or untranslated. Alternate translation: [Indeed,] or [As a matter of fact,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

> ULT Or is it not lawful for me to do what I desire with {what is} mine
> UST Our law allows me to do what I like with what I own > (ἢ οὐκ ἔξεστίν μοι, ὃ θέλω ποιῆσαι ἐν τοῖς ἐμοῖς)

The master of the house is using the question form to remind the worker that he can do what he wants with his own things. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Remember that it is lawful for me to do what I desire with what is mine.] or [It is certainly lawful for me to do what I desire with what is mine!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

> ULT Or
> (ἢ)

Here, the word Or introduces a second question that again shows that the worker should not complain about how the master of the house is behaving. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a similar idea, or you could leave Or untranslated. Alternate translation: [Again,] or [Even further,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT Or is your eye evil because I am good
UST You should not be jealous because I am being generous (ἢ ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου πονηρός ἐστιν, ὅτι ἐγὼ ἀγαθός εἰμι)

The master of the house is using the question form to rebuke the worker. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Your eye should not be evil because I am good.] or [Do not let your eye be evil because I am good!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT is your eye evil
UST You should not be jealous
(ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου πονηρός ἐστιν)

When the master of the house speaks of a person's eye as evil, he means that the person is jealous or envious. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do you feel jealousy] or [are you envious]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT your
UST You should not be jealous
(σου)

Because the master of the house is speaking to one of the workers, the word your is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
is it … lawful	Our law allows evil	You should not be jealous
good	being generous

Matthew 20:16

ULT	UST
In the same way, the last will be first, and the first last."	Similarly, people who are unimportant right now will become important. People who are important right now will become unimportant."

ULT In the same way
UST Similarly
(οὕτως)

Here, the phrase In the same way introduces how Jesus applies the story he just told. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Just as in that story] or [Here is what that story means:]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the last will be first, and the first last
UST people who are unimportant right now will become important. People who are important right now will become unimportant
(ἔσονται οἱ ἔσχατοι πρῶτοι, καὶ οἱ πρῶτοι ἔσχατοι)

See how you translated the similar sentence in 19:30. This sentence switches the order and does not include the word "many," so make sure you include those differences.

ULT last
UST will become unimportant
(ἔσχατοι)

Some ancient manuscripts do not include any words after last. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts include the words "For many are called, but few are chosen" after the word last. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

Matthew 20:17

ULT	UST
And Jesus, going up to Jerusalem, took the 12 disciples aside by themselves, and on the way he said to them,	Sometime later, Jesus was walking toward the city of Jerusalem. He had his 12 apprentices come with him. No one else was with them. While they were walking, he told them,

ULT And
UST Sometime later
(καὶ)

Here, the word And introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave And untranslated. Alternate translation: [After that,] or [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT going up
UST was walking
(ἀναβαίνων)

In a context such as this, your language might say “coming” instead of going. Alternate translation: [coming up]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT going up
UST was walking
(ἀναβαίνων)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as he and the disciples were going up]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Jerusalem	the city of Jerusalem
the 12 disciples	his 12 apprentices
disciples	his 12 apprentices

Matthew 20:18

ULT	UST
"Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death	"We are walking toward the city of Jerusalem! There, somebody will help the ruling priests and the teachers of the Jewish law arrest me, the Son of Man. They will decide that I am guilty and that someone should kill me.

> ULT the Son of Man … him … him … to crucify him … he will be raised up
> UST me, the Son of Man … I … me … kill me by nailing me to a cross … God will make me alive again
> (ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου & αὐτὸν & αὐτὸν & σταυρῶσαι & ἀναστήσεται) (20:18-19)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, … me … me … to crucify me … I will be raised up]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

> ULT Behold
> (ἰδοὺ)

The word Behold draws the attention of the disciples and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience's attention in another way. Alternate translation: [Listen] or [Pay attention:]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT we are going up
> UST We are walking
> (ἀναβαίνομεν)

Jesus is using the pronoun we to refer to himself and the disciples, so use the inclusive form of that word if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

ULT we are going up
UST We are walking
(ἀναβαίνομεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “coming” instead of going. Alternate translation: [we are coming up]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the Son of Man will be handed over
UST There, somebody will help … arrest me, the Son of Man
(ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου παραδοθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [someone will hand the Son of Man over]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT to death
UST and that someone should kill me
(θανάτῳ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of death, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to die]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jerusalem	the city of Jerusalem
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man
to the chief priests	the ruling priests
scribes	the teachers of the Jewish law
they will condemn	They will decide that … am guilty

Matthew 20:19

ULT	UST
and hand him over to the Gentiles for them to mock and to whip and to crucify him. But on the third day he will be raised up."	They will bring me to the non-Jewish authorities. Those people will make fun of me, beat me, and kill me by nailing me to a cross. Then, during the third day after I died, God will make me alive again."

ULT to the Gentiles
UST to the non-Jewish authorities
(τοῖς ἔθνεσιν)

Here Jesus is speaking specifically of Gentiles who rule or control the city of Jerusalem. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [to the Gentiles who rule] or [to the Gentiles who are in charge]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT on the third day
UST during the third day after I died
(τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ)

Here, the phrase on the third day refers to the day after tomorrow. People in Jesus' culture counted the current day as the first day, tomorrow as the second day, and the day after tomorrow as the third day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that refers to the day after tomorrow. See how you translated this phrase in 17:23. Alternate translation: [on the day after the next day] or [two days later]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT on the third day
UST during the third day after I died
(τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ)

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [on day three]

Support Reference: Ordinal Numbers

> ULT he will be raised up
> UST God will make me alive again
> (ἀναστήσεται)

Here, the word raised refers to someone who died coming back to life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable word or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will be restored to life]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT he will be raised up
> UST God will make me alive again
> (ἀναστήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who will do the action, Jesus could be implying that: (1) God will do it. Alternate translation: [God will raise him up]; (2) Jesus himself will do it. Alternate translation: [he will raise himself up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
to the Gentiles	to the non-Jewish authorities to mock	Those people will make fun of me to crucify him	kill me by nailing me to a cross
on the … day	during the third day after I died

Matthew 20:20

ULT	UST
Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee approached him with her sons, bowing down and asking for something from him.	After that, Zebedee's wife came to Jesus with her two sons, James and John. She knelt before Jesus and asked him to do something {for her}.

ULT Then
UST After that
(τότε)

Here, the word Then introduces the next major event in the story. It happened sometime soon after Jesus spoke the words recorded in the previous verses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Then untranslated. Alternate translation: [Soon after that,] or [After Jesus said those things,]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT the mother of the sons of Zebedee approached him
UST Zebedee's wife came to Jesus
(προσῆλθεν αὐτῷ ἡ μήτηρ τῶν υἱῶν Ζεβεδαίου)

Matthew is introducing the mother of the sons of Zebedee as a new character in the story. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a new character. Alternate translation: [the mother of the sons of Zebedee was there. She approached him]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT of the sons of Zebedee
UST Zebedee's wife
(τῶν υἱῶν Ζεβεδαίου)

Matthew refers to James and John, who were the sons of Zebedee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [of James and John, the sons of Zebedee,]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT bowing down
UST She knelt before Jesus
(προσκυνοῦσα)

In the woman's culture, bowing down to a person was a way to honor a greater person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to a similar action from your culture, or you could explain what bowing down means. Alternate translation: [prostrating herself] or [bowing down to him in respect]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT asking for something from him
UST asked him to do something {for her}
(αἰτοῦσά τι παρ' αὐτοῦ)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [asking, "Will you please do something for me?"]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Zebedee	Zebedee's wife
bowing down	She knelt before Jesus

Matthew 20:21

ULT	UST
And he said to her, "What do you desire?" She says to him, "Say that these two sons of mine might sit, one at your right hand and one at your left hand, in your kingdom."	Jesus replied, "What do you want {me to do for you}?" She said, "Please promise me that, when you rule, you will greatly honor my two sons by having one of them sit at your right side and the other one sit at your left side."

ULT said to her, "What do you desire
UST replied, "What do you want {me to do for you} (εἶπεν αὐτῇ, τί θέλεις)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [asked her what she desired.]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT do you desire
UST do you want {me to do for you}
(θέλεις)

Because Jesus is speaking to the mother of the sons of Zebedee, the word you is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT She says
UST She said
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [She said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Say
UST Please promise me
(εἰπὲ)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [I ask that you say]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT Say … your right hand … your … your
UST Please promise me … when you rule … at your right side … sit at your left side (εἰπὲ & δεξιῶν & σου & σου)

Because the mother of the sons of Zebedee is speaking to Jesus, the command the word your are singular throughout what she says.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT might sit, one at your right hand and one at your left hand
UST you will greatly honor … by having one of them sit at your right side and the other one sit at your left side
(καθίσωσιν & εἷς ἐκ δεξιῶν καὶ εἷς ἐξ εὐωνύμων σου)

When someone sits at the right hand or at the left hand of a ruler, this symbolizes that person's honor, authority, and ability to rule. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea explicitly. Alternate translation: [might sit down to rule, one at your right hand and one at your left hand] or [might took the places of honor and authority, one at your right hand and one at your left hand]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT one at your right hand and one at your left hand
UST one of them … at your right side and the other one sit at your left side
(εἷς ἐκ δεξιῶν καὶ εἷς ἐξ εὐωνύμων σου)

Here, the phrases at your right hand and at your left hand refer to the places next to Jesus' right and left hands, which would be the right side and the left side of his body. In the Jesus' culture, these sides were associated with honor or authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to the "right side" and "left side." Make sure that your readers understand that these sides indicate that the two sons of Zebedee would have honor and authority when they sit there. Alternate translation: [one at your right side and one at your left side] or [one in the honorable place at your right and one in the honorable place at your left]

Support Reference: Metonymy

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
kingdom	when you rule

Matthew 20:22

ULT	UST
But answering, Jesus said, "You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink?" They say to him, "We are able."	Then Jesus responded by speaking {to her two sons}, "You do not realize what you have actually requested. Are you willing to suffer as I will soon suffer?" {Her two sons, James and John,} replied, "Yes, we are willing {to suffer}."

ULT said
UST by speaking {to her two sons}
(εἶπεν)

Matthew implies that Jesus is speaking directly to the two sons of Zebedee. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [said to her two sons]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT to drink the cup that I am about to drink
UST to suffer as I will soon suffer
(πιεῖν τὸ ποτήριον ὃ ἐγὼ μέλλω πίνειν)

Jesus speaks of experiencing pain and suffering as "drinking from a cup." If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to experience the pain that I am about to experience] or [to experience the suffering that I am about to experience]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT the cup
UST to suffer
(τὸ ποτήριον)

Here, cup represents the drink inside the cup, which in Jesus' culture would probably have been wine. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the drink] or [the wine in the cup]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT to drink
> UST suffer
> (πίνειν)

Many ancient manuscripts end the question with the word drink. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient manuscripts include after the word drink the words "or to be baptized with the baptism with which I am being baptized." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT They say
> UST {Her two sons, James and John,} replied
> (λέγουσιν)

The pronoun They refers to the sons of Zebedee. If this is not clear for your readers, you could use the person's name here. Alternate translation: [The sons of Zebedee say]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

> ULT They say
> UST {Her two sons, James and John,} replied
> (λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [They said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

> ULT We are able
> UST Yes, we are willing {to suffer}
> (δυνάμεθα)

By We, the sons of Zebedee mean themselves, but not their mother or Jesus, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Support Reference: Exclusive and Inclusive 'We'

ULT We are able
UST Yes, we are willing {to suffer}
(δυνάμεθα)

The sons of Zebedee are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [We are able to drink that cup]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
You do … know	You do … realize

Matthew 20:23

ULT	UST
He says to them, "My cup you will drink. But to sit at my right hand and at my left hand is not mine to give, but for whom it has been prepared by my Father."	Then Jesus said to them, "You will certainly suffer as I will soon suffer. However, I am not the one who chooses whom to honor by having them sit at my right side and at my left side. Rather, God my Father has already chosen who {will sit in those places}."

ULT He says
UST Then Jesus said
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [He said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT My cup you will drink
UST You will certainly suffer as I will soon suffer
(τὸ μὲν ποτήριόν μου πίεσθε)

Here Jesus again speaks of experiencing pain and suffering as if it were drinking from a cup. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable figure of speech or state the meaning plainly. See how you expressed this idea in 20:22. Alternate translation: [You will experience the pain that I experience] or [You will experience the suffering that I experience]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT My cup
UST You will certainly suffer as I will soon suffer
(τὸ μὲν ποτήριόν μου)

Here, cup represents the drink inside the cup, which in Jesus' culture would probably have been wine. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My drink] or [The wine in my cup]

Support Reference: Metonymy

> ULT you will drink
> UST You will certainly suffer as I will soon suffer
> (πίεσθε)

Many ancient manuscripts end the question with the word drink. The ULT follows that reading. After the word drink, other ancient manuscripts include the words "and you will be baptized with the baptism with which I am being baptized." If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Support Reference: Textual Variants

> ULT But to sit at my right hand and at my left hand
> UST However … whom to honor by having them sit at my right side and at my left side
> (τὸ δὲ καθίσαι ἐκ δεξιῶν μου καὶ ἐξ εὐωνύμων)

When someone sits at the right hand or at the left hand of a ruler, this symbolizes that person's honor, authority, and ability to rule. See how you translated the similar phrases in 20:21. Alternate translation: [But to sit down to rule at my right hand and at my left hand] or [But to take the places of honor and authority at my right hand and at my left hand]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

> ULT at my right hand and at my left hand
> UST at my right side and at my left side
> (ἐκ δεξιῶν μου καὶ ἐξ εὐωνύμων)

Here, the phrases at my right hand and at my left hand refer to the places next to Jesus' right and left hands, which would be the right side and the left side. In the Jesus' culture, these sides were associated with honor or authority. See how you expressed the idea in 20:21. Alternate translation: [at my right side and at my left side] or [in the honorable places at my right and at my left]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT but for whom
UST Rather … who {will sit in those places}
(ἀλλ᾽ οἷς)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but it will be given to the ones for whom]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT it has been prepared by my Father
UST God my Father has already chosen
(ἡτοίμασται ὑπὸ τοῦ Πατρός μου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [my Father has prepared it]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT my Father
UST God my Father
(τοῦ Πατρός μου)

Father is an important title that describes the relationship between God the Father and Jesus the Son.

Support Reference: Translating Son and Father

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Father	God … Father

Matthew 20:24

ULT	UST
And having heard this, the ten were very angry with the two brothers.	When the ten other apprentices learned {what James and John had requested}, they were very upset with them.

ULT the ten

UST the ten other apprentices

(οἱ δέκα)

Matthew is using the number ten as a noun to refer to other ten disciples. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this number with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the other ten disciples] or [the rest of the disciples]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

Matthew 20:25

ULT	UST
But Jesus, having summoned them, said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and the great ones exercise authority over them.	So, Jesus told his apprentices to come to him. He said to them, "You understand that the people who govern the non-Jews dominate them. Further, important people among them control everyone else.

ULT But
UST So
(δὲ)

Here, the word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and the great ones exercise authority over them
UST the people who govern the non-Jews dominate them. Further, important people among them control everyone else
(οἱ ἄρχοντες τῶν ἐθνῶν κατακυριεύουσιν αὐτῶν, καὶ οἱ μεγάλοι κατεξουσιάζουσιν αὐτῶν)

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and in order to show that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could combine the two clauses. Alternate translation: [the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them; indeed, the great ones exercise authority over them] or [the rulers of the Gentiles and the great ones lord it over them]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT lord it over … exercise authority over
UST dominate … control
(κατακυριεύουσιν & κατεξουσιάζουσιν)

The words translated as lord it over and exercise authority over refer to using power to control and dominate others. The words do not indicate whether the rulers and the great ones are doing good or bad things with their power. If possible, use words or phrases that refer to total control and domination but that do not imply good or bad use of that control and domination. Alternate translation: [reign absolutely over … have complete authority over]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT exercise authority over
UST control
(κατεξουσιάζουσιν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of authority, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [rule over] or [control]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
having summoned	told … to come to him
You know	You understand
rulers	the people who govern
of the Gentiles	the non-Jews
exercise authority over	control

Matthew 20:26

ULT	UST
It is not this way among you. Instead, whoever desires to become great among you will be your servant,	You must not behave like that. Rather, when one of you wants to be important, that person must serve the others.

ULT whoever desires to become great among you will be your servant … and whoever desires to be first among you will be your slave
UST when one of you wants to be important, that person must serve the others … Likewise, when one of you wants to be most important, that person must work for the others
(ὃς ἐὰν θέλῃ ἐν ὑμῖν μέγας γενέσθαι, ἔσται ὑμῶν διάκονος; καὶ ὃς ἂν θέλῃ ἐν ὑμῖν εἶναι πρῶτος, ἔσται ὑμῶν δοῦλος) (20:26-27)

These two sentences mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the sentences with a word other than and in order to show that the second sentence is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could combine the two sentences. Alternate translation: [whoever desires to become great among you will be your servant; indeed, whoever desires to be first among you will be your slave] or [whoever desires to become first or great among will you be your servant or slave]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT It is not this way
UST must not behave like that (οὐχ οὕτως ἔστιν)

Jesus could be using the present tense here to: (1) give a command or instruction. Alternate translation: [It should not be this way] or [Let it not be this way]; (2) state how things work differently among his disciples. Alternate translation: [That is not how it is]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

ULT will be
UST that person must
(ἔσται)

Jesus is using the future form to give a command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea using a form that expresses a command or obligation. Alternate translation: [should be] or [has to be]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
servant	serve

Matthew 20:27

ULT	UST
and whoever desires to be first among you will be your slave,	Likewise, when one of you wants to be most important, that person must work for the others.

ULT first
UST most important
(πρῶτος)

Jesus is speaking of being important or respected as if it were being first. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated this word in 19:30. Alternate translation: [respected] or [significant]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT will be
UST that person must
(ἔσται)

Jesus is using the future form to give a command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the idea using a form that expresses a command or obligation. Alternate translation: [should be] or [has to be]

Support Reference: Statements — Other Uses

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
slave	work for

Matthew 20:28

ULT	UST
just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom in exchange for many."	{You should be} like me, the Son of Man. I am here to serve other people. I am not here so that other people will serve me. Indeed, I am going to die in order to free many people {from their sins}."

ULT the Son of Man … his
UST me, the Son of Man … I am going to die
(ὁ Υἱὸς τοῦ Ἀνθρώπου & αὐτοῦ)

Here Jesus speaks about himself in the third person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the first person. Alternate translation: [I, who am the Son of Man, … my]

Support Reference: First, Second or Third Person

ULT did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom in exchange for many
UST I am here to serve other people. I am not here so that other people will serve me. Indeed, I am going to die in order to free many people {from their sins}
(οὐκ ἦλθεν διακονηθῆναι, ἀλλὰ διακονῆσαι καὶ δοῦναι τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ λύτρον ἀντὶ πολλῶν)

If your language would not naturally put the negative statement before the positive statement, you could reverse the two clauses here. Alternate translation: [came to serve, and to give his life as a ransom in exchange for many, not to be served]

Support Reference: Information Structure

ULT to be served
UST so that other people will serve me
(διακονηθῆναι)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [for people to serve him]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT but to serve
UST I am here to serve other people
(ἀλλὰ διακονῆσαι)

Jesus is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but he came to serve]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT to give his life as a ransom in exchange for many
UST I am going to die in order to free many people {from their sins}
(δοῦναι τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ λύτρον ἀντὶ πολλῶν)

Here Jesus speaks as if his life were a price or ransom he would give to free many from someone or something that owned or controlled them. He means that he will obtain forgiveness for his people's sins and will keep those sins from controlling them. This is an important biblical image, so if possible preserve the figure of speech or express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [to offer his life as if it were a ransom to set many free from sin]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to give his life
UST I am going to die
(δοῦναι τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of life, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [to allow himself to die]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT many
UST in order to free many people {from their sins} (πολλῶν)

Jesus is using the adjective many as a noun to mean many people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [many men and women]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Son of Man	me, the Son of Man
to be served	so that other people will serve me

ULT	UST
to serve	I am here to serve other people as a ransom	in order to free many people {from their sins}

Matthew 20:29

ULT	UST
And {as} they were going out from Jericho, a great crowd followed him.	After that, Jesus and his apprentices left the city of Jericho{, which they had been visiting}. A large group of people went with them.

ULT {as} they were going out from Jericho UST Jesus and his apprentices left the city of Jericho{, which they had been visiting} (ἐκπορευομένων αὐτῶν ἀπὸ Ἰερειχὼ)

Matthew implies that Jesus and the disciples had previously entered Jericho. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [after visiting Jericho, as they were going out from the city] or [as they were traveling through Jericho]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT {as} they were going out
UST Jesus and his apprentices left (ἐκπορευομένων αὐτῶν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “coming” instead of going. Alternate translation: [as they were coming out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT they
UST Jesus and his apprentices
(αὐτῶν)

The pronoun they refers to Jesus and his disciples. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jericho	the city of Jericho{, which they had been visiting}

Matthew 20:30

ULT	UST
And behold, two blind men, sitting beside the road, having heard that Jesus is passing by, cried out, saying, "Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David."	Now two men who were blind were sitting down next to the path! Someone told them, "Jesus is walking by." So, they were shouting, "Our Lord, you who are a descendant of King David, please help us!"

ULT And behold, two blind men, sitting beside the road, having heard that Jesus is passing by UST Now two men who were blind were sitting down next to the path! Someone told them, "Jesus is walking by (καὶ ἰδοὺ, δύο τυφλοὶ καθήμενοι παρὰ τὴν ὁδόν, ἀκούσαντες ὅτι Ἰησοῦς παράγει)

Matthew is using the phrase behold, two blind men to introduce these two people as new participants in the story. If your language has its own way of introducing new participants, you could use it here in your translation. Alternate translation: [And there were two blind men sitting beside the road. When they heard that Jesus is passing]

Support Reference: Introduction of New and Old Participants

ULT having heard that Jesus is passing by UST Someone told them, "Jesus is walking by (ἀκούσαντες ὅτι Ἰησοῦς παράγει)

It may be more natural in your language to have a direct quotation here. Alternate translation: [having heard, "Jesus is passing by,"]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT saying
UST So, they were shouting
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT Have mercy on us
> UST please help us
> (ἐλέησον ἡμᾶς)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [We ask you to have mercy on us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

> ULT Have mercy on us
> UST please help us
> (ἐλέησον ἡμᾶς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Be merciful to us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT Have mercy
> UST please help
> (ἐλέησον)

Because the two blind men are speaking to Jesus, the request is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

> ULT Son of David
> UST you who are a descendant of King David
> (Υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

Here, the word Son means a male descendant. It does not mean that Jesus was the direct son of David. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Descendant of David] or [you who are descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Son of David
UST you who are a descendant of King David
(Υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

David was Israel's most important king, and God had promised him that one of his descendants would be the Messiah. So the title Son of David could implicitly mean "Messiah." You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Son of David, Messiah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
cried out	So, they were shouting
Have mercy	please help
Lord	Our Lord
of David	of King David

Matthew 20:31

ULT	UST
Now the crowd rebuked them, so that they would be silent, but they cried out even more, saying, "Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David."	Some people from the large group of people scolded them to keep them quiet. However, the men who were blind yelled even louder, "Our Lord, you who are a descendant of King David, please help us!"

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT saying
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT have mercy on us
UST please help us
(ἐλέησον ἡμᾶς)

This is an imperative, but it should be translated as a polite request rather than as a command. It may be helpful to add an expression such as "please" to make this clear. Alternate translation: [we ask that you have mercy on us]

Support Reference: Imperatives — Other Uses

ULT have mercy on us
UST please help us
(ἐλέησον ἡμᾶς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of mercy, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [be merciful to us]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT have mercy
UST please help
(ἐλέησον)

Because the two blind men are speaking to Jesus, the request is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT Son of David
UST you who are a descendant of King David
(Υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

Here, the word Son means a male descendant. It does not mean that Jesus was the direct son of David. Express the idea as you did in 20:30. Alternate translation: [Descendant of David] or [you who are descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Son of David
UST you who are a descendant of King David
(Υἱὸς Δαυείδ)

David was Israel's most important king, and God had promised him that one of his descendants would be the Messiah. So the title Son of David could implicitly mean "Messiah." You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Express the idea as you did in 20:30. Alternate translation: [Son of David, Messiah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
rebuked	scolded
cried out	yelled
Lord	Our Lord
have mercy	please help
of David	of King David

Matthew 20:32

ULT	UST
And having stood still, Jesus called them and said, "What do you desire {that} I might do for you?"	Then, Jesus stopped walking. He spoke to the two men who were blind. He asked, "How would you like me to help you?"

ULT and said, "What do you desire {that} I might do for you
UST He asked, "How would you like me to help you (καὶ εἶπεν, τί θέλετε ποιήσω ὑμῖν)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [and asked them what they desired him to do for them.]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
called	He spoke

Matthew 20:33

ULT	UST
They say to him, "Lord, that our eyes might be opened."	They replied, "Our Lord, we want to be able to see!"

ULT They say
UST They replied
(λέγουσιν)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [They said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Lord, that
UST Our Lord, we want
(Κύριε, ἵνα)

The blind men are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous verse if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Lord, we desire that]

Support Reference: Ellipsis

ULT that our eyes might be opened
UST we want to be able to see (ἵνα ἀνοιγῶσιν οἱ ὀφθαλμοὶ ἡμῶν)

Here, the clause that our eyes might be opened indicates that the two blind men want to be able to see with their eyes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable clause or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [that our eyes might be healed] or [that our eyes might see]

Support Reference: Idiom

> ULT our eyes might be opened
> UST to be able to see > (ἀνοιγῶσιν οἱ ὀφθαλμοὶ ἡμῶν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [our eyes might become open]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Our Lord

Matthew 20:34

ULT	UST
Now, having had compassion, Jesus touched their eyes. And immediately they saw again, and they followed him.	Jesus pitied them. He touched their eyes. As soon as he did that, they could see. Then, they went with Jesus as his apprentices.

ULT having had compassion
UST pitied them
(σπλαγχνισθεὶς)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of compassion, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [having sympathized with them]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT they followed him
UST they went with Jesus as his apprentices
(ἠκολούθησαν αὐτῷ)

Here, the phrase followed him could indicate that: (1) the two blind men traveled with Jesus and were his disciple. Alternate translation: [they became his disciples] or [they traveled with him as his students]; (2) the two blind men walked with Jesus on the road. Alternate translation: [they walked with him] or [they went with him]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
having had compassion	pitied them
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 21

Matthew 21 Chapter Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Jesus ministers in Judea (19:1–22:46)
    - Jesus enters Jerusalem (21:1–11)
    - Jesus drives people out of the temple and argues with the leaders (21:12–17)
    - Jesus curses a fig tree (21:18–22)
    - Jesus speaks with the chief priests and elders (21:23–46)
        - Questions about authority (21:23–27)
        - The parable of the two children (21:28–32)
        - The parable of the vineyard (21:33–41)
        - The stone that the builders rejected (21:42–44)
        - The reaction of the chief priests and elders (21:45–46)

Some translations set each line of poetry farther to the right than the rest of the text to make it easier to read. The ULT does this with the poetry in 21:5, 21:9, and 21:42, which are mostly quotes from the Old Testament.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

The donkey and the colt

In 21:1–4, Jesus instructs two of his disciples to collect a donkey and a colt for him to use as he enters into Jerusalem. Matthew comments that Jesus did that in fulfillment of Zechariah 9:9, which indicates that a special king of Israel will ride on a donkey and on a colt, which is a poetic way of referring to a donkey that is a colt. In the story in Matthew, Matthew refers to both the donkey and the colt that the disciples collect, but he does not indicate which one Jesus actually rides. Make sure that it is clear that there are two animals that match the way that Zechariah 9:9 was written, but do not indicate which one Jesus rode on.

Hosanna

The word "Hosanna" is a Hebrew word spelled out how it sounds in Matthew's language. The word means "save us, please." By the time of Jesus, however, people would use the word to praise or honor God and others. Consider whether to spell the word out as it sounds or state its meaning. See the notes on 21:9 and 21:15 for translation options. (See: Copy or Borrow Words)

Disrupting activity in the temple area

In 21:12–13, Jesus disrupts normal activity in the temple by driving out some people and by overturning the chairs and tables of others. Jesus performed this symbolic action to express a specific message. However, Christians debate exactly what the symbolic action means. Jesus could have been protesting against people who were buying and selling dishonestly. He could have been protesting against all buying and selling in the temple area. He could have been indicating that the temple would be destroyed. Your translation should state what Jesus did while allowing for all of these possible interpretations.

The baptism of John

In 21:25–27, Jesus and the chief priests and elders discuss "the baptism of John." Here they are referring to how John baptized people for repentance. Jesus asks them whether they think that John's baptism came from heaven or from people, which means that he performed baptisms by God's authority or by human authority. The chief priests and elders decide not to answer the question. See the notes on these verses for ways to refer to John's baptism and to the authority behind it.

Renting out a vineyard

In 21:33–41, Jesus tells a story about a man who built a vineyard and then rented it out to farmers. Jesus is referring to a common arrangement in which a wealthy person who owned property would have poorer people use that property for farming or tending grapes. These poorer people would do the work and then sell the produce, and they would give the person who owned the property a portion of what they made. If your readers would not be familiar with this kind of arrangement, make sure that your translation is clear about what is happening in the story.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The parable of the two children

In 21:28–32, Jesus tells and explains a story about a man and his two children. The man asks both children to work in his vineyard. The first child says that he will not but later works there anyway. The second child says that he will but later does not work there. Jesus and the chief priest and elders agree that it was the first child who actually did what the father wanted. Jesus then explains that he is illustrating how different groups of people reacted to John the Baptist's ministry. People who sinned much but then repented when John preached are like the first child who actually did what the father wanted. The Jewish religious leaders who did not repent when John preached are like the second child who did not actually do what the father wanted. While you should not explain the meaning more than Jesus does, make sure that your translation fits with what Jesus is illustrating. (See: Parables)

The parable of the vineyard

In 21:33–41, Jesus tells a story about a man who planted a vineyard and rented it out to farmers. When the man sends servants to collect the rent, the farmers refuse and injure or kill the servants. When the man sends his own son, the farmers kill him as well. Jesus and the chief priests and elders agree that the man should destroy the farmers and rent the vineyard to other people. When he applies the parable in 21:42–44, Jesus indicates that the Jewish religious leaders are like those farmers who will be destroyed. He also implies that the vineyard represents the people of Israel, the servants represent God's messengers, the son represents Jesus himself, and the man who owned the vineyard represents God. While you should not explain the meaning more than Jesus does, make sure that your translation fits with what Jesus is illustrating. (See: Parables)

The stone

In 21:42, Jesus quotes from Psalm 118:22–23, which refers to a specific "stone." In the Psalm, this stone most likely represents the king of Israel, or it perhaps represents the Israelite people in general. When Jesus refers to the stone in 21:42 and 21:44, he is implicitly identifying it with himself. Since the stone language comes from a quotation from the Psalms, you should preserve it in some form in your translation. Also, since Jesus does not explicitly claim to be the stone, you should keep that implicit in your translation. See the notes on these verses for translation options. (See: Metaphor)

Singular and plural forms of "you"

Many of the forms of "you" in this chapter appear in speeches that Jesus gives to his disciples or to the Jewish leaders. Because of this, most forms of "you" in this chapter are plural. You should assume forms of "you" are plural unless a note specifies that the form is singular. (See: Forms of 'You' — Singular)

The quote from Zechariah and Isaiah in 21:5

In 21:5, Matthew quotes from someone whom he calls "the prophet" (21:4). The last three lines of the quotation are from Zechariah 9:9. The first line sounds somewhat like the first line of Zechariah 9:9, but it matches the first line of Isaiah 62:11 exactly. Most likely, Matthew was thinking of both of these verses when he wrote down the quotation. If you must refer to the author of the quotation or book from which the quotation came, it is recommended that you refer to Zechariah, since most of the quotation is from that book. (See: Quotations and Quote Margins)

Different versions of the parable of the two children

There are two primary versions of the parable of the two children in 21:28–31:

1. The first child says that he will not work in the vineyard but later does. Meanwhile, the second child says that he will work in the vineyard but does not. The chief priests and scribes say that the first child did what the father wanted.

2. The first child says that he will work in the vineyard but does not. Meanwhile, the second child says that he will not work in the vineyard but later does. The chief priests and scribes say that the second child did what the father wanted.

The ULT and the UST are based on the first version listed above. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. (See: Textual Variants)

Textual Issues in This Chapter

A few manuscripts do not include anything for 21:44. Many early manuscripts do include the verse. While it is possible that people added this verse because similar words appear in the same place in Luke 20:18, it is more likely that this verse was accidentally omitted from a few manuscripts. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. Otherwise, since it is likely that 21:44 does belong here, it is recommended that you follow the ULT by including the verse. (See: Textual Variants)

Matthew 21:1

ULT	UST
And when they came near to Jerusalem and came to Bethphage, to the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples,	After that, Jesus and his apprentices continued to walk toward the city of Jerusalem, and they were getting closer. They were near the Mount of Olives, just outside the village of Bethphage. Then, Jesus told two of his apprentices to go {ahead of them}.

ULT And when
UST After that
(καὶ ὅτε)

Here, the phrase And when introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT they came near … came
UST Jesus and his apprentices continued to walk … and they were getting closer. They were (ἤγγισαν & ἦλθον)

In a context such as this, your language might say “went” instead of came. Alternate translation: [they went near … went]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT they came near
UST Jesus and his apprentices continued to walk … and they were getting closer (ἤγγισαν)

The pronoun they refers to Jesus and his disciples. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples came near]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT Bethphage
UST the village of Bethphage
(Βηθφαγὴ)

The word Bethphage is the name of a village that was near Jerusalem.

Support Reference: How to Translate Names

ULT to the Mount of Olives
UST near the Mount of Olives
(πρὸς τὸ Ὄρος τῶν Ἐλαιῶν)

Matthew implies that Bethphage is near the Mount of Olives. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [near the Mount of Olives] or [which is at the Mount of Olives]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jerusalem	the city of Jerusalem
Mount of Olives	Mount of Olives
Jesus	Jesus
disciples	of his apprentices

Matthew 21:2

ULT	UST
saying to them, "Go into the village opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied up, and a colt with her. Having untied {them}, bring {them} to me.	He commanded them, "Enter the village of Bethphage, which you see ahead of you. As soon as you enter it, you will see a female donkey that someone has tethered. Her colt will be next to her. Remove the tether {from the female donkey} and lead her and her colt to me here.

ULT saying to them
UST He commanded them
(λέγων αὐτοῖς)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and he said to them]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Go
UST Enter
(πορεύεσθε)

In a context such as this, your language might say "Come" instead of Go. Alternate translation: [Come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the village opposite you
UST the village of Bethphage, which you see ahead of you (τὴν κώμην, τὴν κατέναντι ὑμῶν)

A village that is opposite someone means that it is directly in front of them. Jesus is referring to the village of Bethphage. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the village directly in front of you] or [the village of Bethphage, which is before you]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT a donkey tied up
UST a female donkey that someone has tethered
(ὄνον δεδεμένην)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [a donkey that a person has tied up]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT tied up
UST that someone has tethered
(δεδεμένην)

Jesus implies that someone has used a rope or tether to secure the donkey so that it cannot wander away. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [secured with a tether]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT a colt
UST Her colt
(πῶλον)

A colt is a young donkey that is no longer a baby but is not yet full grown. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of animal, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [one of her young ones] or [a young donkey]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
a donkey	a female donkey

Matthew 21:3

ULT	UST
And if anyone says anything to you, you will say, ‘The Lord has need of them,’ and immediately he will send them.”	People might ask you about what you are doing. In that case, tell them, ‘The Lord needs this donkey and colt.’ As soon as you say that, those people will let you have the donkey and colt.”

ULT And if anyone says anything to you, you will say
UST People might ask you about what you are doing. In that case, tell them (καὶ ἐάν τις ὑμῖν εἴπῃ τι, ἐρεῖτε)

Jesus is suggesting that this is a hypothetical condition, that they will only have to say these words if someone says anything to them. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. Alternate translation: [Now suppose someone says something to you. Then you should say]

Support Reference: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

ULT says anything to you
UST ask you about what you are doing (ὑμῖν εἴπῃ τι)

Jesus is implying that people might ask the disciples why they are taking someone’s donkey and colt. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [confronts you about what you are doing] or [speaks to you about what you are doing]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT you will say, ‘The Lord has need of them
UST In that case, tell them, ‘The Lord needs this donkey and colt
(ἐρεῖτε & ὁ Κύριος αὐτῶν χρείαν ἔχει)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [you will say that the Lord has need of them]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT The Lord
UST The Lord
(ὁ Κύριος)

Here, the word Lord could refer to: (1) Jesus himself. Alternate translation: [The Lord, our teacher,]; (2) God. Alternate translation: [The Lord God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he will send
UST those people will let you have (ἀποστελεῖ)

Although the term he is masculine, Jesus is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [that person will send them]

Support Reference: When Masculine Words Include Women

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Lord	Lord

Matthew 21:4

ULT	UST
Now this happened so that {what} was spoken through the prophet might be fulfilled, saying,	When he said those things, what God said by speaking through one of the prophets came true:

ULT Now
(δὲ)

Here, the word Now introduces Matthew's comment on what he has narrated so far. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces a comment from the narrator, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [I note that] or [As a matter of fact,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT this happened
UST he said those things
(τοῦτο & γέγονεν)

Here, the word this refers to what Jesus has just instructed two of his disciples to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could refer to those instructions more directly. Alternate translation: [Jesus gave those instructions]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT so that
UST When
(ἵνα)

Here, the phrase so that could introduce: (1) a result from what Jesus commanded. Alternate translation: [with the result that]; (2) a purpose for which Jesus commanded those things. Alternate translation: [in order that]

Support Reference: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

ULT {what} was spoken through the prophet might be fulfilled
UST what God said by speaking through one of the prophets came true
(πληρωθῇ τὸ ῥηθὲν διὰ τοῦ προφήτου)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the speaking, it is clear from the context that it was God. Alternate translation: [this might fulfill that which God said through the prophet]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT through the prophet
UST by speaking through one of the prophets (διὰ τοῦ προφήτου)

The prophet about whom Matthew is speaking is Zechariah. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [through the prophet Zechariah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
(λέγοντος)

In Matthew's culture, using the word "saying" was a normal way to introduce a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book of Zechariah (see Zechariah 9:9). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Matthew is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [who wrote in the book of Zechariah] or [who declared]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
prophet	one of the prophets
might be fulfilled	came true

Matthew 21:5

ULT	UST
“Tell the daughter of Zion, ‘Behold, your King is coming to you, humble and riding on a donkey, and on a colt, a son of a beast of burden.’”	“Say to the people who live in the city of Jerusalem, ‘Your king will soon be with you! He is gentle. He sits on a donkey, on a colt, {which is} a donkey’s offspring.’”

ULT Tell the daughter of Zion, Behold, your King is coming to you, humble and riding on a donkey, and on a colt, a son of a beast of burden

UST Say to the people who live in the city of Jerusalem, Your king will soon be with you! He is gentle. He sits on a donkey, on a colt, {which is} a donkey’s offspring

(εἴπατε τῇ θυγατρὶ Σιών, ἰδοὺ, ὁ βασιλεύς σου ἔρχεται σοι, πραὺς καὶ ἐπιβεβηκὼς ἐπὶ ὄνον καὶ ἐπὶ πῶλον, υἱὸν ὑποζυγίου)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [Tell the daughter of Zion that her King is coming to her, humble and riding on a donkey, and on a colt, a son of a beast of burden]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT the daughter of Zion

UST to the people who live in the city of Jerusalem

(τῇ θυγατρὶ Σιών)

The prophet is using the phrase daughter of Zion to mean the people who live in the city of Zion, which is Jerusalem. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could state the meaning plainly. If you do, make sure that you use plural forms of “you” throughout this verse. Alternate translation: [the people of Zion]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT Behold

(ἰδοὺ)

The word Behold draws the attention of the audience and asks them to listen carefully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express Behold with a word or phrase that asks the audience to listen, or you could draw the audience’s attention in another way. Alternate translation: [See] or [Look]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT your … to you
UST Your … you
(σου & σοι)

Since someone is talking to the daughter of Zion, the words your and you are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT on a donkey, and on a colt, a son of a beast of burden
UST on a donkey, on a colt, {which is} a donkey's offspring
(ἐπὶ ὄνον καὶ ἐπὶ πῶλον, υἱὸν ὑποζυγίου)

The author of the quotation refers to one animal both as a donkey and as a colt, which is a son of a beast of burden. This was poetic in his culture. Matthew knows that this is a poetic form, but his story refers to two animals, both a donkey and a colt. If possible, express the idea in such a way that this quotation could be referring to either one or two animals. Alternate translation: [on a donkey, riding on a colt, a son of a beast of burden]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

ULT a colt
UST a colt
(πῶλον)

A colt is a young donkey that is no longer a baby but is not yet full grown. See how you translated this word in 21:2. Alternate translation: [a young donkey]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

ULT a son of a beast of burden
UST {which is} a donkey's offspring
(υἱὸν ὑποζυγίου)

The author of the quotation refers to the direct offspring of a beast of burden as if it were its son. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a foal of a beast of burden]

Support Reference: Idiom

ULT of a beast of burden
UST donkey's
(ὑποζυγίου)

A beast of burden is an animal that is used to perform jobs such as carrying heavy objects. In Jesus' culture, the phrase almost always referred to a donkey. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could make some of those ideas more explicit. Alternate translation: [of a work animal] or [of a draft animal]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
of Zion	to the people who live in the city of Jerusalem
King	king
a donkey	a donkey

Matthew 21:6

ULT	UST
Now the disciples, having gone and having done just as Jesus had directed them,	The two apprentices went {to the village} and did what Jesus had told them to do.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT having gone
UST went {to the village}
(πορευθέντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say “come” instead of gone. Alternate translation: [having come]

Support Reference: Go and Come

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	two apprentices
Jesus	Jesus

Matthew 21:7

ULT	UST
brought the donkey and the colt and put their cloaks on them, and he sat upon them.	They led the donkey and her colt to Jesus. They spread their coats on the animals, and Jesus sat on the coats.

> ULT the colt
> UST her colt
> (τὸν πῶλον)

A colt is a young donkey that is no longer a baby but is not yet full grown. See how you translated this word in 21:2. Alternate translation: [a young donkey]

Support Reference: Translate Unknowns

> ULT cloaks
> UST coats
> (τὰ ἱμάτια)

Alternate translation: [outer garments]

> ULT he sat upon them
> UST Jesus sat on the coats
> (ἐπεκάθισεν ἐπάνω αὐτῶν)

Matthew does not specify on which animal Jesus sat, and if possible, you should not specify either. If you need to include an object for sat, you could refer generally to one of the animals. Alternate translation: [he sat upon them on one of the animals]

Support Reference: When to Keep Information Implicit

> ULT them
> UST the coats
> (αὐτῶν)

The word them could refer to: (1) the cloaks. Alternate translation: [the cloaks]; (2) the donkey and the colt. Alternate translation: [the animals]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
donkey	donkey

Matthew 21:8

ULT	UST
Now the largest crowd spread their cloaks on the road, and others were cutting branches from the trees and were spreading {them} on the road.	Then, {to honor Jesus,} a very large group of people laid their coats down on the path {in front of Jesus}. Other people cut small branches down from trees and laid them down on the path too.

ULT Now
UST Then
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT the largest crowd
UST a very large group of people
(ὁ & πλεῖστος ὄχλος)

Matthew says the largest crowd as an overstatement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [a huge crowd] or [an enormous crowd]

Support Reference: Hyperbole

ULT spread their cloaks on the road, and others were cutting branches from the trees and were spreading {them} on the road
UST to honor Jesus … laid their coats down on the path {in front of Jesus}. Other people cut small branches down from trees and laid them down on the path too
(ἔστρωσαν ἑαυτῶν τὰ ἱμάτια ἐν τῇ ὁδῷ; ἄλλοι δὲ ἔκοπτον κλάδους ἀπὸ τῶν δένδρων, καὶ ἐστρώννυον ἐν τῇ ὁδῷ)

The people did these things to give Jesus honor and glory. If it would be helpful in your language, you could explain the meaning of these actions. Alternate translation: [spread their cloaks on the road to give him honor, and others were cutting branches from the trees and were spreading them on the road to give him glory]

Support Reference: Symbolic Action

ULT cloaks
UST coats
(τὰ ἱμάτια)

Alternate translation: [outer garments]

ULT others
UST Other people
(ἄλλοι)

Matthew is using the adjective others as a noun to mean other people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase.
Alternate translation: [different people]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

Matthew 21:9

ULT	UST
Now the crowds going before him and following were crying out, saying, "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is the one coming in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest!"	Large groups of people walked in front of Jesus and behind him. They were shouting, "Praise this descendant of King David! May God bless him who is here to represent the Lord! May everything in heaven praise him!"

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT going before
UST walked in front of (οἱ προάγοντες)

In a context such as this, your language might say "coming" instead of going. Alternate translation: [coming before]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT saying
UST They were shouting
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT Hosanna … Hosanna
UST Praise … May … praise him
(ὡσαννὰ & ὡσαννὰ)

The word Hosanna is a Hebrew word. Matthew has spelled it out using Greek letters so that his readers would know how it sounded. Hosanna had an original meaning of "save now," but by the time of this event it had become a way of praising God. In your translation you can spell Hosanna the way it sounds in your language, or you could translate it according to how the word was used. Alternate translation: [Honor … Honor]

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT to the Son of David
UST this descendant of King David
(τῷ Υἱῷ Δαυείδ)

The word Son means a male descendant. It does not mean that Jesus was the direct son of David. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to the Descendant of David] or [the one who is descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT to the Son of David
UST this descendant of King David
(τῷ Υἱῷ Δαυείδ)

David was Israel's most important king, and God had promised him that one of his descendants would be the Messiah. So the title Son of David could implicitly mean "Messiah." If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this idea more explicit. Alternate translation: [to the Son of David, the Messiah]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Blessed is the one coming in the name of the Lord
UST May God bless him who is here to represent the Lord
(εὐλογημένος ὁ ἐρχόμενος ἐν ὀνόματι Κυρίου)

The crowds are quoting from Psalm 118:26. Since they do not introduce the words as a quotation from an important text, you also should not introduce them as anything more than what the crowds said. However, if it would be helpful for your readers, you could include this information in a footnote.

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Blessed is the one coming in the name of the Lord
UST May God bless him who is here to represent the Lord
(εὐλογημένος ὁ ἐρχόμενος ἐν ὀνόματι Κυρίου)

The phrase Blessed is the one could be: (1) a request for God to bless Jesus. Alternate translation: [Let the one coming in the name of the Lord be blessed]; (2) stating that God had already blessed Jesus. Alternate translation: [The one coming in the name of the Lord is blessed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Blessed is
UST May God bless
(εὐλογημένος)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who does the action, it is clear from the context that it is God. Alternate translation: [Let God bless]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT in the name of the Lord
UST to represent the Lord
(ἐν ὀνόματι Κυρίου)

The word name refers primarily to the person who has that name, and it focuses especially on that person's authority. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with the authority granted him by the Lord]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT Hosanna
UST May … praise him
(ὡσαννὰ)

The word Hosanna could refer to praising: (1) Jesus, the Son of David. Alternate translation: [Hosanna to this one]; (2) God, who sent Jesus. Alternate translation: [Hosanna to God]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT the highest
> UST everything in heaven
> (τοῖς ὑψίστοις)

The people are using the adjective highest as a noun to mean the highest heavens, where God dwells. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the highest heavens]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
were crying out	They were shouting
of David	of King David
Blessed is	May God bless
of the Lord	the Lord

Matthew 21:10

ULT	UST
And {when} he had entered into Jerusalem, the whole city was shaken, saying, "Who is this?"	{How people welcomed Jesus} when he went into the city of Jerusalem unsettled many people who lived there. They asked, "Who is this man?"

ULT the whole city was shaken, saying
UST unsettled many people who lived there. They asked (ἐσείσθη πᾶσα ἡ πόλις λέγουσα)

Matthew is using the term city to mean the people who live in that city. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all the people who lived in the city were shaken, saying]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT the whole city was shaken
UST unsettled many people who lived there (ἐσείσθη πᾶσα ἡ πόλις)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was what Jesus did and how the crowds greeted him. Alternate translation: [this shook the whole city]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT was shaken
UST unsettled
(ἐσείσθη)

Matthew is speaking of people becoming agitated as if they were shaken. He could be implying: (1) that the people of the city were concerned or confused. Alternate translation: [was disturbed] or [was greatly concerned]; (2) that the people were excited. Alternate translation: [was excited]

Support Reference: Metaphor

ULT saying
UST They asked
(λέγουσα)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and the people said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jerusalem	the city of Jerusalem

Matthew 21:11

ULT	UST
And the crowds were saying, “This is Jesus the prophet from Nazareth of Galilee.”	The large groups of people answered, “He is Jesus, from the town of Nazareth, which is in Galilee. He is a man who speaks for God.”

ULT Nazareth of Galilee
UST the town of Nazareth, which is in Galilee
(Ναζαρὲθ τῆς Γαλιλαίας)

The crowds are using the possessive form to describe Nazareth as a place in Galilee. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Nazareth, a town in Galilee]

Support Reference: Possession

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
prophet	He is a man who speaks for God
Nazareth	the town of Nazareth
of Galilee	which is in Galilee

Matthew 21:12

ULT	UST
And Jesus entered into the temple and cast out all the ones selling and buying in the temple, and he overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of the ones selling the doves.	Later, Jesus visited the temple area. Some people were selling and buying things there. He forced them to leave. Other people were exchanging {regular} money {for special temple money}, and other people were selling small birds {for people to sacrifice}. Jesus flipped over their tables and chairs.

ULT entered into the temple
UST visited the temple area
(εἰσῆλθεν & εἰς τὸ ἱερόν)

Matthew means that Jesus entered into the temple area. He does not mean that Jesus went into the most sacred parts of the temple building. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [entered into the temple courtyard]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the ones selling and buying in the temple
UST were selling and buying things there
(τοὺς πωλοῦντας καὶ ἀγοράζοντας ἐν τῷ ἱερῷ)

Matthew implies that merchants were selling animals and other items so that travelers could buy them and offer the proper sacrifices at the temple. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the ones selling and buying things in the temple for the sacrifices]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the tables of the money changers
UST Other people were exchanging {regular} money {for special temple money} … their tables
(τὰς τραπέζας τῶν κολλυβιστῶν)

Matthew is referring to people who exchanged the commonly used Greek and Roman money for special money that could be used at the temple. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the tables of the people who exchanged money] or [the tables of the people who exchanged the temple currency]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the seats of the ones selling the doves
UST other people were selling small birds {for people to sacrifice} … and chairs
(τὰς καθέδρας τῶν πωλούντων τὰς περιστεράς)

Matthew refers to people who sold the doves that the poorest people would offer as sacrifices. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the seats of the ones selling the doves to be sacrificed]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
temple	the temple area
cast out	He forced them to leave temple	there
doves	small birds {for people to sacrifice}

Matthew 21:13

ULT	UST
And he says to them, “It has been written, ‘My house will be called a house of prayer,’ but you make it a ‘den of robbers.’”	Then Jesus told those people, “The prophets wrote in the Scriptures, ‘People should say that my temple is a place where people pray.’ However, you have turned it into ‘a hideout for thieves’!”

ULT he says
UST Jesus told
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT to them
UST those people
(αὐτοῖς)

The pronoun them refers to the people who were buying, selling, and exchanging things in the temple area. If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [to the people who were buying and selling]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT It has been written
UST The prophets wrote in the Scriptures
(γέγραπται)

In Jesus’ culture, It has been written was a normal way to introduce quotations from important texts, in this case, the books of Isaiah and Jeremiah (see Isaiah 56:7 and Jeremiah 7:11). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from important texts. Alternate translation: [You can read in the Scriptures] or [It says in the books of Isaiah and Jeremiah]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

> ULT It has been written
> UST The prophets wrote in the Scriptures
> (γέγραπται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, it is clear from the context that it was God speaking through prophets. Alternate translation: [The prophets said] or [God had the prophets write]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT My house will be called
> UST People should say that my temple
> (ὁ οἶκός μου & κληθήσεται)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who did the action, you could use an indefinite subject. Alternate translation: [They will call my house]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

> ULT My house
> UST my temple
> (ὁ οἶκός μου)

God, speaking through the prophet Isaiah, refers to his temple as My house because his presence is there. If it would be helpful for your readers, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My temple]

Support Reference: Metaphor

> ULT a house of prayer
> UST is a place where people pray
> (οἶκος προσευχῆς)

God, speaking through the prophet Isaiah, is using the possessive form to describe a house that is a place where people perform prayer. If this is not clear in your language, you could express the idea in another way. Alternate translation: [a house where prayer is offered] or [a place where there is prayer]

Support Reference: Possession

ULT a ‘den of robbers
UST a hideout for thieves
(σπήλαιον λῃστῶν)

God, speaking through the prophet Jeremiah, refers to the temple as a den where robbers hide and plot their crimes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or express the idea in simile form. Alternate translation: [a place where robbers live] or [like a cave where robbers hide]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
house	temple
will be called	People should say that a house	is a place where people pray
of prayer	is a place where people pray
of robbers	for thieves

Matthew 21:14

ULT	UST
And the blind and the lame approached him in the temple, and he healed them.	Later, people who could not see and people who could not walk came to Jesus while he was in the temple area. Jesus cured them.

ULT the blind and the lame
UST people who could not see and people who could not walk (τυφλοὶ καὶ χωλοὶ)

Matthew is using the adjectives blind and lame as nouns to mean people who were blind and lame. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [those who were blind and lame]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT in the temple
UST while he was in the temple area
(ἐν τῷ ἱερῷ)

Matthew means that Jesus was in the temple area. He does not mean that Jesus went into the most sacred parts of the temple building. See how you expressed the idea in 21:12. Alternate translation: [in the temple courtyard]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
temple	temple area

Matthew 21:15

ULT	UST
But the chief priests and the scribes, having seen the marvelous things that he did and the children crying out in the temple and saying, "Hosanna to the Son of David," became very angry.	The ruling priests and the teachers of the Jewish law saw the amazing things that Jesus did. {They heard} young children in the temple area shouting, "Praise this descendant of King David!" {When they saw and heard those things}, they were very upset.

ULT But
UST saw
(δὲ)

The word But introduces how the chief priests and the scribes reacted in contrast with how most of the people reacted. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces this kind of contrast, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [In contrast,]

Support Reference: Connect — Contrast Relationship

ULT in the temple
UST in the temple area
(ἐν τῷ ἱερῷ)

Matthew means that the children were in the temple area. He does not mean that they were in the most sacred parts of the temple building. See how you expressed the idea in 21:12. Alternate translation: [in the temple courtyard]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying, "Hosanna to the Son of David
UST Praise this descendant of King David (λέγοντας, ὡσαννὰ τῷ Υἱῷ Δαυείδ)

It may be more natural in your language to have an indirect quotation here. Alternate translation: [giving hosannas to the Son of David,]

Support Reference: Direct and Indirect Quotations

ULT Hosanna
UST Praise
(ὡσαννὰ)

See how you translated Hosanna in 21:9. Alternate translation: [Honor]

Support Reference: Copy or Borrow Words

ULT to the Son of David
UST this descendant of King David
(τῷ Υἱῷ Δαυείδ)

See how you translated the phrase Son of David in 21:9. Alternate translation: [to the Descendant of David] or [to the one who is descended from David]

Support Reference: Metaphor

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
chief priests	ruling priests
scribes	teachers of the Jewish law
marvelous things	the amazing things
crying out	shouting
temple	temple area
of David	of King David

Matthew 21:16

ULT	UST
And they said to him, "Do you hear what these are saying?" But Jesus says to them, "Yes! Have you never read, 'From the mouths of little children and nursing infants you have prepared praise'?"	They asked him, "Do you realize what those young children are saying {about you}?" Jesus replied, "Yes, {I realize it}! {What they are doing fits with what} you have read {in the Scriptures}: 'You have appointed young children and little babies to honor you.'"

ULT Do you hear what these are saying
UST Do you realize what those young children are saying {about you}
(ἀκούεις τί οὗτοι λέγουσιν)

The chief priests and the scribes are implying that what these children are saying is bad or wrong. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Do you hear the wrong things that these are saying]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Do you hear
UST Do you realize (ἀκούεις)

Since the chief priests and the scribes are talking to Jesus, the word you here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT these
UST those young children
(οὗτοι)

The chief priests and scribes are using the adjective these as a noun to mean specific children. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [these children]

Support Reference: Nominal Adjectives

ULT says
UST replied
(λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT Yes
UST Yes, {I realize it}
(ναί)

The word Yes implies that Jesus thinks that what the children are saying is not wrong or bad. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Yes, and they are doing what is good] or [Yes, and they are right]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Have you never read, From the mouths of little children and nursing infants you have prepared praise
UST { … What they are doing fits with what} you have read {in the Scriptures}: You have appointed young children and little babies to honor you
(οὐδέποτε ἀνέγνωτε & ἐκ στόματος νηπίων καὶ θηλαζόντων, κατηρτίσω αἶνον)

Jesus is using the question form to rebuke and teach the chief priests and scribes. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I know that you have read, ‘From the mouths of little children and nursing infants you have prepared praise.’] or [Surely you have read, ‘From the mouths of little children and nursing infants you have prepared praise’!]

Support Reference: Rhetorical Question

ULT Have you never read
UST What they are doing fits with what} you have read {in the Scriptures}
(οὐδέποτε ἀνέγνωτε)

Jesus introduces a quotation from an important text, in this case, the Old Testament book of Psalms (see Psalm 8:2). If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase that indicates that Jesus is quoting from an important text. Alternate translation: [Have you never read in the book of Psalms] or [Have you never read in our Scriptures]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT From the mouths
(ἐκ στόματος)

Here, mouths represents speaking or things that are spoken. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [From the voices] or [From the speech]

Support Reference: Metonymy

ULT of little children and nursing infants
UST young children and little babies
(νηπίων καὶ θηλαζόντων)

The terms little children and nursing infants mean similar things. The author of the quotation is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [of the youngest children]

Support Reference: Doublet

ULT you have prepared praise
UST You have appointed … to honor you (κατηρτίσω αἶνον)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of praise, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you have chosen to be praised] or [you have prepared praising words]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT you have prepared
> UST You have appointed > (κατηρτίσω)

Since the author of the quotation is talking to God, the word you here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
you have prepared	You have appointed praise	to honor you

Matthew 21:17

ULT	UST
And having left them, he went out from the city to Bethany and spent the night there.	Then Jesus {and his apprentices} went away from the ruling priests and the teachers of the Jewish law. They left the city of Jerusalem and stayed overnight in the village of Bethany.

ULT them
UST the ruling priests and the teachers of the Jewish law
(αὐτοὺς)

The pronoun them refers to the chief priests and the scribes (see 21:15). If this is not clear for your readers, you could refer to these people more directly. Alternate translation: [the chief priests and the scribes]

Support Reference: Pronouns — When to Use Them

ULT he went out
UST They left
(ἐξῆλθεν)

Matthew is implying that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jesus and his disciples went out]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT he went out
UST They left
(ἐξῆλθεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say “came” instead of went. Alternate translation: [he came out]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT the city
UST the city of Jerusalem
(τῆς πόλεως)

The phrase the city refers to Jerusalem. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jerusalem]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Bethany	the village of Bethany

Matthew 21:18

ULT	UST
Now, in the morning, returning to the city, he was hungry.	Early the next morning, when Jesus and his apprentices were going back to the city of Jerusalem, Jesus became hungry.

ULT Now
(δὲ)

The word Now introduces the next major event in the story. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave Now untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then]

Support Reference: Introduction of a New Event

ULT returning
UST when Jesus and his apprentices were going back (ἐπανάγων)

Matthew implies that the disciples were traveling with Jesus. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as Jesus and his disciples were returning]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the city
UST the city of Jerusalem
(τὴν πόλιν)

The phrase the city refers to Jerusalem. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Jerusalem]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Matthew 21:19

ULT	UST
And having seen one fig tree along the road, he went to it and found nothing on it except leaves only. And he says to it, "May there no longer be fruit from you to eternity," and immediately the fig tree withered.	He noticed a fig tree near the path. So, he went over to it {to pick some figs to eat}. However, the tree only had leaves. Then Jesus spoke to the fig tree, "May you never again produce figs!" As soon as he said that, the fig tree died.

> ULT he went
> UST So, he went over
> (ἦλθεν)

In a context such as this, your language might say "came" instead of went. Alternate translation: [he came]

Support Reference: Go and Come

> ULT found nothing on it except leaves only
> UST the tree only had leaves
> (οὐδὲν εὗρεν ἐν αὐτῇ, εἰ μὴ φύλλα μόνον)

If it would appear your language that Matthew was making a statement and then contradicting it, you could reword this to avoid using an exception clause. Alternate translation: [found only leaves on it]

Support Reference: Connect — Exception Clauses

> ULT he says
> UST Jesus spoke
> (λέγει)

To call attention to a development in the story, Matthew uses the present tense in past narration. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. Alternate translation: [he said]

Support Reference: Irregular Use of Tenses

ULT fruit
UST figs
(καρπὸς)

The word fruit is singular in form, but it refers to many fruits as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [fruits]

Support Reference: Collective Nouns

ULT you
UST you
(σοῦ)

Since the Jesus is talking to the fig tree, the word you here is singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

ULT to eternity
UST again
(εἰς τὸν αἰῶνα)

The phrase to eternity means that something lasts forever. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable phrase or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [forever] or [ever again]

Support Reference: Idiom

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
fig tree	fig tree
fruit	figs
fig tree	fig tree

Matthew 21:20

ULT	UST
And having seen this, the disciples marveled, saying, “How did the fig tree immediately wither?”	What the apprentices had just seen impressed them. They asked, “How did the fig tree die as soon as you spoke to it?”

ULT saying
UST They asked
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
disciples	apprentices
fig tree	fig tree

Matthew 21:21

ULT	UST
But, answering, Jesus said to them, "Truly I say to you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will not only do {what was} of the fig tree, but also if you say to this mountain, 'Be taken up and be thrown into the sea,' it will happen.	Jesus replied, "Suppose that you trusted {God} and were not unsure {about what he can do}. Then, you could do what I did to the fig tree. Even more, you could tell the hill we are near to leave {this place} and fall into the ocean, and it would happen. What I have said is true.

ULT But
(δὲ)

The word But introduces the next thing that happened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a word or phrase that introduces the next event, or you could leave But untranslated. Alternate translation: [Then,]

Support Reference: Connecting Words and Phrases

ULT if you have faith and do not doubt, you will not only do {what was} of the fig tree, but also if you say to this mountain, 'Be taken up and be thrown into the sea,' it will happen
UST Suppose that you trusted {God} and were not unsure {about what he can do}. Then, you could do what I did to the fig tree. Even more, you could tell the hill we are near to leave {this place} and fall into the ocean, and it would happen
(ἐὰν ἔχητε πίστιν καὶ μὴ διακριθῆτε, οὐ μόνον τὸ τῆς συκῆς ποιήσετε, ἀλλὰ κἂν τῷ ὄρει τούτῳ εἴπητε, ἄρθητι καὶ βλήθητι εἰς τὴν θάλασσαν, γενήσεται)

Jesus uses an imaginary situation to show that a person with faith can do amazing things, like casting a mountain into the sea. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [imagine that you had faith and did not doubt. In that case, you could do not only what was of the fig tree. Even more, you could say to this mountain, 'Be taken up and be thrown into the sea,' and it would happen]

Support Reference: Hypothetical Situations

> ULT you have faith and do not doubt
> UST you trusted {God} and were not unsure {about what he can do}
> (ἔχητε πίστιν καὶ μὴ διακριθῆτε)

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternatively, you could combine the two phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [you have faith without doubting] or [you truly believe]

Support Reference: Parallelism

> ULT you have faith
> UST you trusted {God}
> (ἔχητε πίστιν)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of faith, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [you believe]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

> ULT {what was} of the fig tree
> UST what I did to the fig tree
> (τὸ τῆς συκῆς)

Jesus is referring to what he did to the fig tree. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [what I did to the fig tree] or [things like what I did to the fig tree]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

> ULT you say to this mountain, 'Be taken up and be thrown into the sea,' it will happen
> UST you could tell the hill we are near to leave {this place} and fall into the ocean, and it would happen
> (τῷ ὄρει τούτῳ εἴπητε, ἄρθητι καὶ βλήθητι εἰς τὴν θάλασσαν, γενήσεται)

If it would be clearer in your language, you could translate this so that there is not a quotation within a quotation. Alternate translation: [you tell this mountain to be taken up and to be thrown into the sea, it will happen]

Support Reference: Quotes within Quotes

ULT to this mountain
UST the hill we are near
(τῷ ὄρει τούτῳ)

The phrase this mountain could refer to: (1) the Mount of Olives, which Jesus and his disciples were near. Alternate translation: [to the Mount of Olives] or [to the mountain we are near]; (2) any mountain. Alternate translation: [to a mountain]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT Be taken up and be thrown into the sea
UST to leave {this place} and fall into the ocean
(ἄρθητι καὶ βλήθητι εἰς τὴν θάλασσαν)

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who would do the action, it is clear from the context that it would be God. Alternate translation: [May God take you up and throw you into the sea]

Support Reference: Active or Passive

ULT Be taken up and be thrown
UST to leave {this place} and fall
(ἄρθητι καὶ βλήθητι)

Since someone is talking to a mountain, the commands here are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
Jesus	Jesus
Truly	What I have said is true
faith	you trusted {God}
of … fig tree	to the fig tree

Matthew 21:22

ULT	UST
And everything, as much as you request in prayer, believing, you will receive.”	Further, suppose that you trust God to do whatever you ask when you are praying. Then, he will do it for you.”

ULT everything, as much as you request
UST whatever you ask (πάντα ὅσα ἂν αἰτήσητε)

The expression everything, as much as you request contains extra information that would be unnatural to express in some languages. If this is true of your language, you could shorten the expression. Alternate translation: [everything that you request]

Support Reference: Making Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information Explicit

ULT in prayer
UST when you are praying
(ἐν τῇ προσευχῇ)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of prayer, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [as you pray]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
prayer	you are praying
believing	suppose that you trust God to do you will receive	Then, he will do it for you

Matthew 21:23

ULT	UST
And {when} he had come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people approached him teaching, saying, "By what authority do you do these things, and who gave you this authority?"	Then Jesus visited the temple area, and he was instructing people there. The ruling priests and the Jewish leaders came to him. They asked, "In what way did someone authorize you to do what you have done? Who was it that authorized you {to do these things}?"

ULT {when} he had come
UST Jesus visited
(ἐλθόντος αὐτοῦ)

In a context such as this, your language might say "gone" instead of come. Alternate translation: [when he had gone]

Support Reference: Go and Come

ULT into the temple
UST the temple area
(εἰς τὸ ἱερὸν)

Matthew means that Jesus entered into the temple area. He does not mean that Jesus went into the most sacred parts of the temple building. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [into the temple courtyard]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT the elders of the people
UST the Jewish leaders
(οἱ πρεσβύτεροι τοῦ λαοῦ)

Matthew implies that the people refers to the Jewish people group. These are elders who are respected among the Jewish people. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [the elders who lead the Jewish people]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT teaching
UST and he was instructing people there (διδάσκοντι)

Matthew indicates that Jesus is teaching. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [as he was teaching]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT saying
UST They asked
(λέγοντες)

Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [and they said]

Support Reference: Quotations and Quote Margins

ULT By what authority do you do these things, and who gave you this authority
UST In what way did someone authorize you to do what you have done? Who was it that authorized you {to do these things}
(ἐν ποίᾳ ἐξουσίᾳ ταῦτα ποιεῖς? καὶ τίς σοι ἔδωκεν τὴν ἐξουσίαν ταύτην)

The question By what authority do you do these things and the question who gave you this authority could: (1) be two separate questions, the first asking about the nature of the authority and the second about who gave it to Jesus. Alternate translation: [By what kind of authority do you do these things, and who is the one who gave you this authority]; (2) both have the same meaning and be asked together to strongly question Jesus' authority. If you choose this option, and if it would be helpful in your language, you could combine these two questions into one question. Alternate translation: [Who was it who gave you the authority to do these things]

Support Reference: Parallelism

ULT By what authority do you do these things, and who gave you this authority
UST In what way did someone authorize you to do what you have done? Who was it that authorized you {to do these things}
(ἐν ποίᾳ ἐξουσίᾳ ταῦτα ποιεῖς? καὶ τίς σοι ἔδωκεν τὴν ἐξουσίαν ταύτην)

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of authority, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [How are you empowered to do these things, and who empowered you in this way]

Support Reference: Abstract Nouns

ULT do you do these things
UST you to do what you have done
(ταῦτα ποιεῖς)

The phrase these things refers to what Jesus has done since he arrived in Jerusalem, including driving people out of the temple, healing people, and teaching. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [do you teach, heal, and drive people out of the temple]

Support Reference: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

ULT do you do … you
UST you to do … you {to do these things}
(ποιεῖς & σοι)

Since the chief priests and the elders are talking to Jesus, the words you and you here are singular.

Support Reference: Forms of 'You' — Singular

UNFOLDINGWORD® TRANSLATION WORDS

ULT	UST
