But if the bright spot stands under it (it has not spread), it {is} the scar of the boil. And the priest shall pronounce him clean.	*But if that discolored spot of skin has stayed where it was and has not spread, then it is merely a scar from the boil. If the priest sees these things, then the discolored spot of skin is a symptom of an infectious skin disease that has broken out on the burn. What one condition on a man's bald head would result in the man being pronounced unclean? (13:43-44)

If the bald man's head has reddish-white sores that appear like a skin disease, the priest should pronounce him unclean.
