Proverbs

Chapter 1

¹The proverbs of Solomon, the son of David, the king of Israel:

²To know wisdom and instruction,
to understand words of understanding;

³to receive instruction of insight, righteousness and justice and equity;

⁴to give to naive ones prudence,
to a young man knowledge and discretion

⁵(a wise one will hear and increase learning, and one who discerns will get directions),

⁶to understand a proverb and a satire,
the words of the wise and their riddles.

⁷The fear of Yahweh is the beginning of knowledge,
fools despise wisdom and instruction.

⁸Hear, my son, the instruction of your father
and do not forsake the teaching of your mother.

⁹For, they are a wreath of favor for your head and necklace chains for your neck.

¹⁰My son, if sinners entice you,
do not consent.

¹¹If they say, "Come with us!

Let us lie in wait for blood.

Let us lie hidden for the innocent without cause.

¹²Let us swallow them, the living ones, like Sheol,
and the whole ones like those going down to a pit.

¹³We will find every precious wealth.

We will fill our houses with spoil.

¹⁴Cause your lot to fall in our midst;
one purse will be for all of us.”

¹⁵My son, do not walk in the way with them;
restrain your foot from their path.

¹⁶For their feet run to evil,
and they hurry to pour out blood.

¹⁷Surely in vain is the net spread out in the eyes of any owner of wing,

¹⁸but these men lie in wait for their blood;
they lie hidden for their lives.

¹⁹So are the ways of all who unjustly gain unjust gain;
it takes the life of its owner.

²⁰Wisdom cries out in the street,
she gives her voice in the plazas.

²¹At the head of the tumultuous streets she calls out;
at the opening of the gates in the city she says her words,

²²“Until when will the naive ones love naivety and mockers delight in mockery for themselves and fools hate knowledge?”

²³Turn to my rebuke.
Behold, I shall pour out my spirit to you,
I shall cause you to know my words.

²⁴Because I have called and you have refused,
I have stretched forth my hand and there was no heeding,

²⁵and you have let go of all my counsel,
and you did not consent to my rebuke,

²⁶I too will laugh in your disaster,
I will mock when your terror comes,

²⁷when your terror comes like a storm
and your disaster comes like a whirlwind,
when distress and anguish come upon you.

²⁸Then they will call out to me but I will not answer, they will diligently seek me but they will not find me, ²⁹for the reason that they hate knowledge and did not choose the fear of Yahweh, ³⁰they did not consent to my counsel,

and they despised my every rebuke.
³¹And they will eat from the fruit of their ways,
and from their schemes they will have their fill.
³²For the turning away of the naive will slay them
and ease will cause fools to perish.
³³But the one who listens to me will dwell securely and will be at ease from the terror of evil.”

Chapter 2

¹My son, if you receive my words
and store up my commands with you—²by causing your ear to be attentive to wisdom,
you incline your heart to understanding—³indeed, if you call out for discernment,
you lift up your voice for understanding, ⁴if you seek it like silver and search for it like hidden treasures, ⁵then you will understand the fear of Yahweh
and you will find the knowledge of God.
⁶For Yahweh gives wisdom,
knowledge and understanding are from his mouth.
⁷And he stores up prudence for the upright ones—
a shield for those walking with integrity, ⁸to guard the paths of justice,
he will keep the way of his faithful ones.
⁹Then you will understand righteousness and justice and equity—every good track.

¹⁰For wisdom will enter into your heart,
and knowledge will be pleasant to your self.

¹¹Discretion will watch over you,
understanding will guard you, ¹²to rescue you from the way of evil,
from a man who speaks perverse things, ¹³the ones who forsake the paths of uprightness
to walk in the ways of darkness, ¹⁴the ones who are joyful to do evil,
they rejoice in perverse things of evil, ¹⁵whose paths are crooked
and who are devious in their tracks; ¹⁶to rescue you from a strange woman,
from a foreign woman who makes her words smooth, ¹⁷the one who forsakes the companion of her youth and has forgotten the covenant of her God.

¹⁸For her house sinks down to death
and her tracks to the spirits of the dead.

¹⁹All who enter her will not return
and they will not reach the paths of life.

²⁰So you shall walk in the way of the good ones
and you shall keep the paths of the righteous ones.

²¹For the upright ones will dwell in the land,
and the blameless ones will remain in it, ²²but wicked ones will be cut off from the land,
and those who act treacherously will be torn away from it.

Chapter 3

¹My son, do not forget my teaching,
and let your heart keep my commands.

²For they will add to you length of days and years of life and peace.

³Do not let covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness leave you,
tie them on your neck,

write them on the tablet of your heart,

⁴and you will find favor and good insight
in the eyes of God and mankind.

⁵Trust in Yahweh with all your heart and do not lean on your understanding;

⁶in all your ways acknowledge him
and he will straighten your paths.

⁷Do not be wise in your eyes,
fear Yahweh and turn from evil.

⁸It will be healing for your navel
and refreshment for your bones.

⁹Honor Yahweh from your wealth
and from the firstfruits of all your produce,

¹⁰and your storehouses will be full with plenty and your presses will burst open with new wine.

¹¹The instruction of Yahweh, my son, do not reject,
and do not abhor his rebuke.

¹²For Yahweh rebukes whom he loves,
and like a father he is pleased with a son.

¹³Blessed is the man who finds wisdom
and the man who obtains understanding.

¹⁴For better is its gain than the gain of silver,
and its produce than gold.

¹⁵She is more precious than corals,
and all your desired things do not compare with her.

¹⁶Length of days is in her right hand,
in her left hand are riches and honor.

¹⁷Her ways are ways of pleasantness
and all her paths are peace.

18She is a tree of life to the ones who take hold of her,
and those who grasp her are blessed.

19Yahweh founded the earth by wisdom,
he established the heavens by understanding.

20By his knowledge the depths broke open and the clouds dripped dew.

21My son, do not let them depart from your eyes,
guard prudence and discretion.

22And they will be life for your soul
and favor for your neck.

23Then you will walk your way to security and your foot will not stumble.

24When you lie down, you will not be in dread,
and you will lie down and your sleep will be pleasant.

25Do not be afraid of sudden dread and of the devastation of the wicked ones when it comes.

26For Yahweh will be at your loins,
and he will keep your foot from capture.

27Do not withhold good from its owner,
when it is in the power of your hand to act.

28Do not say to your neighbor,
"Go and return, and tomorrow I will give it,"
and it is there with you.

29Do not plot evil against your neighbor,
and he who is dwelling safely with you.

30Do not contend with a man without cause,
if he has not done evil to you.

31Do not be envious of a man of violence and do not choose any of his ways.

32For the devious one is an abomination to Yahweh,
but his counsel is with the upright.

³³The curse of Yahweh is in the house of the wicked one,
but he blesses the abode of the righteous ones.

³⁴Though to the mockers he mocks,
yet to the humble he gives favor.

³⁵The wise ones will inherit honor,
but fools lift up dishonor.

Chapter 4

¹Hear, sons, the instruction of a father,
and listen attentively in order to know understanding.

²For I give good instruction to you;
do not forsake my teaching.

³When I was a son of my father,
the tender and only one before the face of my mother,

⁴then he taught me and said to me,
“Let your heart grasp my words;
keep my commands and live.

⁵Acquire wisdom, acquire understanding;
do not forget and do not turn from the words of my mouth.

⁶Do not abandon her and she will keep you;
love her and she will guard you.

⁷The beginning of wisdom: acquire wisdom!
And in all your acquisition acquire understanding.

⁸Exalt her and she will raise you up;
she will honor you when you embrace her.

⁹She will give a wreath of favor to your head;
she will bestow to you a crown of splendor.”

¹⁰Listen, my son, and receive my words,
and they will multiply for you the years of life.

¹¹I taught you in the way of wisdom;
I caused you to tread in the tracks of uprightness.

¹²When you walk, your step will not be restricted;
and if you run, you will not stumble.

¹³Take hold of instruction, do not let go;
guard it, for it is your life.

¹⁴Do not enter in the path of wicked ones
and do not advance in the way of evil ones.

¹⁵Avoid it, do not pass through it;
turn aside from it and pass on.

¹⁶For they do not sleep if they do not do evil
and their sleep is robbed if they do not cause stumbling.

¹⁷For they eat the bread of wickedness
and they drink the wine of violent acts.

¹⁸But the path of the righteous ones is like a light of brightness, going and shining until the day is established.

¹⁹The way of the wicked is like the darkness;
they do not know on what they stumble.

²⁰My son, listen attentively to my words;
incline your ear to my sayings.

²¹Do not let them turn aside from your eyes;
keep them in the midst of your heart.

²²For they are life to those who find them
and healing to all of his flesh.

²³Guard your heart more than all keeping,
for from it are the sources of life.

²⁴Remove the crookedness of mouth from you,
and put far away from you the deviousness of lips.

²⁵Cause your eyes to look to the front,
and cause your eyelids to be straight in front of you.

²⁶Make level the track of your foot
and all your ways will be firm.

²⁷Do not turn aside to the right or to the left;

cause your foot to turn away from evil.

Chapter 5

¹My son, listen attentively to my wisdom,
incline your ear to my understanding,

²in order to keep discretion,
and your lips may guard knowledge.

³For the lips of a strange woman drip fresh honey
and her palate is smoother than oil, ⁴but her end is bitter like wormwood,

sharp like a two-edge sword.

⁵Her feet are going down to death;
her steps take hold of Sheol.

⁶Lest she make level the path of life,
she does not know her ways are unstable.

⁷And now, sons, listen to me;
and do not turn away from the words of my mouth.

⁸Keep your way far from near her and do not come near to the opening of her house.

⁹Lest you give your splendor to others and your years to a cruel one.

¹⁰Lest strangers be satisfied with your strength and your toil be in the house of a foreigner,

¹¹and you groan at your end
when your flesh and your body cease.

¹²And you will say, "How I hated instruction and my heart despised rebuke!

¹³And I did not listen to the voice of my teachers and I did not incline my ear to those who taught me.

¹⁴I was almost in all evil,
in the midst of the assembly and the congregation."

- ¹⁵Drink water from your cistern
and flowing water from the midst of your well.
- ¹⁶Should your springs flow outside,
streams of water in the plazas?
- ¹⁷Let them be for you, for you alone,
and not for strangers with you.
- ¹⁸May your fountain be blessed,
and get joy from the wife of your youth.
- ¹⁹A doe of loves and a mountain goat of grace,
may her breasts drench you at every time;
may you continually stagger in her love.
- ²⁰And why would you stagger with a strange woman, my son,
and embrace the bosom of a foreign woman?
- ²¹For the ways of a man are in front of the eyes of Yahweh,
and are making level all of his paths.
- ²²His iniquities seize him, the wicked one;
and he is grasped by the cords of his sin.
- ²³He himself will die because there is no instruction;
and he staggers in the abundance of his foolishness.

Chapter 6

- ¹My son, if you made a pledge to your neighbor,
you clapped your palm for a stranger, ²you are ensnared by the words of your mouth,
you are caught by the words of your mouth, ³then do this, my son, and rescue yourself.
Since you have come into the palm of your neighbor,
go, humble yourself and importune your neighbor.
- ⁴Do not give sleep to your eyes
and slumber to your eyelids.
- ⁵Rescue yourself like a gazelle from a hand,

and like a bird from the hand of the trapper.

⁶Go to the ant, lazy one!

See its ways and be wise,

⁷that without a commander,

officer, or ruler for it,

⁸it prepares its bread in the summer,

it gathers its food in the harvest.

⁹Until when, lazy one, will you lie down?

When will you rise from your sleep?

¹⁰"A little sleep, a little slumber,

a little folding of the hands to lie down"—

¹¹and your poverty will come like one who walks and your need like a man of shield.

¹²A person of worthlessness, a man of iniquity,

is one who goes around with crookedness of mouth,

¹³one who winks with his eyes, one who rubs with his foot,

one who points with his fingers.

¹⁴Perverse things are in his heart; plotting evil at every time, he sends forth quarrels.

¹⁵Therefore his disaster will come suddenly,

in a moment he will be broken and without healing.

¹⁶Six things are they Yahweh hates,

and seven things are abominations of his self:

¹⁷uplifted eyes, a tongue of falsehood,

and hands that pour out innocent blood,

¹⁸a heart devising plans of iniquity,

feet hurrying to run to evil,

¹⁹a witness of falsehood who breathes out lies

and one who sends forth quarrels between brothers.

²⁰Guard, my son, the command of your father

and do not forsake the teaching of your mother.

²¹Bind them on your heart continually;
tie them around your neck.

²²When you go about, it will guide you;
when you lie down, it will watch over you;
and you will wake up, it will talk with you.

²³For the command is a lamp and the teaching is a light,
and the rebukes of instruction are the way of life,

²⁴to keep you from a woman of evil,
from the smoothness of the tongue of a foreign woman.

²⁵Do not desire her beauty in your heart and do not let her take you with her eyelashes.

²⁶For the price of a woman who is a prostitute is as far as a loaf of bread, but the wife of a man hunts a precious life.

²⁷Will a man snatch up a fire in his chest
and his clothes not be burned?

²⁸If a man walks on coals
then will his feet not be burned?

²⁹So is the one who enters into the wife of his neighbor:
every one who touches her will not be free of guilt.

³⁰They do not despise the thief
if he steals to satisfy his life when he is hungry.

³¹But if he is found, he will restore sevenfold;
he will give all the wealth of his house.

³²One who commits adultery with a woman is lacking of heart;
destroying his life, he himself does it.

³³He will find a wound and dishonor
and his shame will not be wiped out.

³⁴For jealousy is the heat of a man,
and he will not spare in the day of vengeance.

³⁵He will not lift up the face of any ransom,
and he will not be willing if you increase the bribe.

Chapter 7

¹My son, keep my words

and store up my commands with you.

²Keep my commands and live

and my teaching as the pupil of your eyes.

³Tie them on your fingers;

write them on the tablet of your heart.

⁴Say to wisdom, "You are my sister,"

and call to understanding, "Kinsman,"

⁵in order to keep you from the strange woman,

from the foreign woman who makes her words smooth.

⁶For in the window of my house,

through the window lattice I looked down.

⁷And I saw among the naive,

I discerned among the sons a young man lacking of sense.

⁸Passing through the street beside her corner,

he strode the way of her house,

⁹in the twilight, in the evening of the day,

in the pupil of the night and darkness.

¹⁰And behold, a woman to meet him,

with the garment of a prostitute and guarded of heart.

¹¹(She is one who is loud and who is rebellious;

her feet do not stay in her house.

¹²At one time in the street, at another time in the plazas,

and beside every corner she lies in ambush.)

¹³And she grabbed him and kissed him,

she made her face strong and said to him,

¹⁴"The sacrifices of peace offerings were on me;

today I have completed my vows.

¹⁵Therefore, I came out to meet you,

to diligently seek your face and I found you.

¹⁶I have spread my bed with coverings, colored ones, linen of Egypt.

¹⁷I have sprinkled my bed
with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

¹⁸Come, let us be saturated with loves until the morning;
let us delight ourselves with loves.

¹⁹For the man is not in his house;
he went on a road to a distance.

²⁰He took the bag of the silver in his hand;
he will enter his house to the day of the full moon."

²¹She turned him with much of her teaching;
with the smoothness of her lips she compelled him.

²²Following after her suddenly,
like an ox he came to slaughter,
and like an anklet to the instruction of a fool,

²³until an arrow split his liver,
like a bird rushing into a trap,
and he did not know that it was in exchange for his life.

²⁴And now, my sons, listen to me;
and listen attentively to the words of my mouth.

²⁵Do not let your heart turn aside to her ways;
do not wander into her paths.

²⁶For she has caused many pierced ones to fall,
and numerous are all her slain ones.

²⁷Her house is the ways of Sheol, descending to the rooms of death.

Chapter 8

¹Does not wisdom call out
and understanding give her voice?

²At the heads of the heights, on the road,
the house of travelers, she stations herself.

³To the hand of the gates, to the mouth of the city,
the entrance of the openings, she cries out.

⁴"To you, men, I call;
and my voice is to the sons of mankind.

⁵Understand prudence, naive ones,
and fools, understand heart.

⁶Listen, for I will speak noble things,
and the opening of my lips will be upright things.

⁷For my palate will utter truth,
and wickedness is an abomination to my lips.

⁸All the words of my mouth are in righteousness;
there is nothing twisted or perverse in them.

⁹All of them are straight things for the one who is discerning and upright things for those who find knowledge.

¹⁰Receive my instruction and not silver,
and knowledge more than choice gold.

¹¹For wisdom is better than corals
and all desired things do not compare with her.

¹²I, Wisdom, I dwell with prudence
and I find knowledge and discretion.

¹³The fear of Yahweh is hating evil.
I hate pride and arrogance and the evil way
and the mouth of perverse things.

¹⁴Counsel and prudence belong to me;
I am understanding; strength belongs to me.

¹⁵By me kings reign and weighty ones decree righteousness.

¹⁶By me rulers rule,
and nobles, all judges of righteousness.

¹⁷As for me, I love those who love me,

and those who diligently seek me will find me.

¹⁸Riches and honor are with me,
lasting wealth and righteousness.

¹⁹My fruit is better than gold, and than refined gold,
and my produce than choice silver.

²⁰I walk in the path of righteousness,
in the midst of the paths of justice,

²¹to cause those who love me to inherit substance;
and I will fill their treasuries.

²²Yahweh possessed me at the beginning of his way,
before his works from then.

²³From eternity I was installed,
from the head, from the earliest times of the earth.

²⁴When there were no depths, I was brought forth,
when there were no springs made heavy with water.

²⁵Before the mountains were settled,
before the face of the hills, I was brought forth,

²⁶before he made the earth or the outside places
or the head of the dust of the world.

²⁷When he established the heavens, I was there,
when he inscribed a circle over the face of the deep.

²⁸When he made the clouds firm from above,
when the springs of the deep became strong,

²⁹when he set for the sea its limit,
and waters do not pass over his mouth,
when he inscribed the foundations of the earth,

³⁰then I was beside him faithfully,
and I was a delight day by day,
frolicking before his face at every time.

³¹Frolicking in the world of his earth,
my delight was with the sons of mankind.

³²And now, sons, listen to me,
and blessed are they who keep my ways.

³³Hear instruction,
and be wise, and do not let go of it.

³⁴Blessed is the man who listens to me,
watching over my doors day by day,
keeping the doorposts of my entrance.

³⁵For those who find me are those who find life,
and he obtains favor from Yahweh.

³⁶But one who misses me is one who does violence to his life;
all who hate me love death."

Chapter 9

¹Wisdom has built her house;
she has hewn out her seven pillars.

²She has slaughtered her slaughter, she has mixed her wine,
also she has set her table.

³She has sent out her female servants,
she calls out on the tops of the heights of the city.

⁴"Whoever is naive, let him turn aside here,"
she says to him lacking of heart.

⁵"Come, eat my bread,
and drink of the wine I have mixed.

⁶Forsake naive things and live;
and go straight in the way of understanding.

⁷One who instructs a mocker receives shame for himself,
and one who rebukes a wicked one, his injury.

⁸Do not rebuke a mocker, lest he hate you;
rebuke a wise one and he will love you.

⁹Give to a wise one and he will become more wise;
cause the righteous one to know and he will increase learning.

¹⁰The beginning of wisdom is the fear of Yahweh
and knowledge of the holy one is understanding.

¹¹For by me your days will become many,
and years of life will be added to you.

¹²If you are wise, you are wise for yourself,
and if you mock, you will bear it, you alone.”

¹³The woman of foolishness is loud,
naive and she does not know anything.

¹⁴And she sits at the opening of her house,
on a seat, the heights of the city,

¹⁵to call to those who pass over the way,
the ones going straight on their paths.

¹⁶“Whoever is naive, let him turn aside here!”
And she says to him, the lacking of heart,

¹⁷“Stolen waters are sweet,
and bread of secrecies is pleasant.”

¹⁸And he does not know that the spirits of the dead are there;
her called ones are in the depths of Sheol.

Chapter 10

¹The proverbs of Solomon:

A wise son causes a father to rejoice
but a foolish son is the grief of his mother.

²Treasures of wickedness do not profit,
but righteousness delivers from death.

³Yahweh does not let the life of the righteous one hunger
but he thrusts away the desire of the wicked ones.

⁴A palm of slackness makes poverty,
but the hand of diligent ones makes rich.

⁵One who gathers in the summer is a son who acts prudently, but one who sleeps in the harvest is a son who causes shame.

- ⁶Blessings are for the head of the righteous one,
but the mouth of the wicked ones covers violence.
- ⁷The memory of the righteous one is for a blessing,
but the name of the wicked ones will rot.
- ⁸The wise of heart receive commands
but the fool of lips will be thrust down.
- ⁹One who walks in integrity will walk securely,
but one who causes his ways to be crooked will be known.
- ¹⁰One who winks an eye gives pains,
and the fool of lips will be thrust down.
- ¹¹The mouth of the righteous one is a spring of life,
but the mouth of the wicked ones covers violence.
- ¹²Hatred stirs up quarrels,
but love covers all transgressions.
- ¹³Wisdom is found on the lips of one who is discerning,
but a rod is for the back of the lacking of heart.
- ¹⁴Wise men store up knowledge,
but the mouth of a fool is near ruin.
- ¹⁵The wealth of the rich one is the city of his strength;
the ruin of lowly ones is their poverty.
- ¹⁶The wage of the righteous one is to life;
the income of the wicked one is to sin.
- ¹⁷One who keeps instruction is on a path to life
but one who rejects rebuke goes astray.
- ¹⁸One who covers hate with lips of falsehood
and causes an evil report to go forth, he is a fool.
- ¹⁹With a multitude of words transgression does not cease,
but one who restrains his lips is prudent.
- ²⁰The tongue of the righteous one is choice silver;
the heart of the wicked ones is like little.
- ²¹The lips of the righteous one shepherd many,

but fools die for lacking heart.

²²The blessing of Yahweh, it causes to become rich,
and he does not add pain with it.

²³Doing a wicked plan is like laughter for a fool,
but wisdom is for a man of understanding.

²⁴The terror of the wicked one, it will come to him,
but the desire of the righteous ones will be given.

²⁵Like the passing over of a whirlwind, there is no wicked one,
but a righteous one is a foundation of eternity.

²⁶Like vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes,
so is the lazy one to one who sends him.

²⁷The fear of Yahweh will increase days,
but the years of the wicked ones will be short.

²⁸The hope of the righteous ones is joy,
but the expectation of the wicked ones will perish.

²⁹The way of Yahweh is a stronghold for the one with integrity,
but ruin is for those who do iniquity.

³⁰A righteous one will not be shaken to eternity,
but wicked ones will not dwell in the land.

³¹The mouth of the righteous one bears the fruit of wisdom,
but the tongue of the perverse ones will be cut off.

³²The lips of the righteous one know favor,
but the mouth of the wicked ones, perverse things.

Chapter 11

¹Scales of deceit are an abomination of Yahweh
but a full stone is his delight.

²When pride comes then disgrace comes,
but with modest ones is wisdom.

³The integrity of the upright ones will guide them
but the crookedness of the treacherous ones will destroy them.

- ⁴Wealth will not profit in the day of wrath,
but righteousness will deliver from death.
- ⁵The righteousness of a blameless one will make his way straight,
but a wicked one will fall by his wickedness.
- ⁶The righteousness of the upright ones will deliver them,
but treacherous ones will be captured by desire.
- ⁷In the death of a wicked man hope will perish,
and the expectation of strong ones perishes.
- ⁸A righteous one will be drawn away from distress,
but a wicked one will enter instead of him.
- ⁹With a mouth a godless one will destroy his neighbor,
but with knowledge righteous ones will be delivered.
- ¹⁰In the good of the righteous ones a city will rejoice;
and when wicked ones perish there will be a shout of joy.
- ¹¹With the blessing of the upright ones a city will be exalted,
but with the mouth of the wicked ones it will be thrown down.
- ¹²One who despises his neighbor is lacking of heart,
but a man of understanding will keep quiet.
- ¹³One who goes about in slander is one who uncovers a secret,
but one who is faithful of spirit is one who covers a matter.
- ¹⁴When there are no directions a people will fall,
but salvation is in an abundance of counsel.
- ¹⁵He will certainly be hurt if he pledges for a stranger,
but one who hates hand claps is secure.
- ¹⁶A woman of grace will grasp honor,
but ruthless ones will grasp riches.
- ¹⁷A man of kindness is one who rewards his self,
but a cruel one is one who troubles his flesh.
- ¹⁸A wicked one makes a wage of falsehood,
but one who sows righteousness, a wage of truth.
- ¹⁹Thus, righteousness is to life,

but one who pursues evil is to his death.

²⁰The abomination of Yahweh is those perverse of heart,
but his delight is those blameless of way.

²¹Hand to hand wicked ones will not be free of guilt,
but the seed of the righteous ones will slip away.

²²A ring of gold in the nose of a pig
is a beautiful woman that turns away from discretion.

²³The desire of the righteous ones is only good;
the hope of the wicked ones is fury.

²⁴There is one who scatters and increases more,
but one who withholds more than what is right is only for poverty.

²⁵A person of blessing will be fattened,
and the one who drenches, also he will be drenched.

²⁶People will curse one who withholds grain,
but a blessing is for the head of one who sells.

²⁷One who diligently seeks good seeks favor,
but one who seeks evil, it will come to him.

²⁸One who trusts in his riches, he will fall,
but like a leaf righteous ones will flourish.

²⁹One who troubles his house will inherit wind,
and a fool will be a servant to the wise of heart.

³⁰The fruit of the righteous one is a tree of life,
and one who takes lives is wise.

³¹Behold, a righteous one in the land will be repaid,
how much more a wicked one and one who sins!

Chapter 12

¹One who loves instruction loves knowledge,
but one who hates rebuke is stupid.

²A good one obtains favor from Yahweh,
but a man of schemes he will condemn.

- ³A man will not be established by wickedness,
but the root of the righteous ones will not be shaken.
- ⁴A wife of strength is the crown of her master,
but she who causes shame is like rottenness in his bones.
- ⁵The thoughts of the righteous ones are justice;
the directions of the wicked ones are deceit.
- ⁶The words of the wicked ones are an ambush of blood,
but the mouth of the upright ones will deliver them.
- ⁷Wicked ones are overthrown and they are not,
but the house of the righteous ones will stand.
- ⁸A man will be praised for the mouth of his insight,
but one who is twisted of heart will be to contempt.
- ⁹It is better to be lightly esteemed and a servant belong to him than to honor oneself and be lacking of bread.
- ¹⁰A righteous one is one who knows the life of his animal,
but the compassion of the wicked ones is cruel.
- ¹¹Bread will satisfy one who works his ground,
but one who pursues empty things is lacking of heart.
- ¹²A wicked one desires the snare of evil ones,
but the root of the righteous ones will give.
- ¹³In the transgression of lips is the snare of the evil one,
but a righteous one will go out from distress.
- ¹⁴From the fruit of the mouth of a man will he be satisfied with good,
and the work of the hands of a man will return to him.
- ¹⁵The way of a fool is right in his eyes,
but a wise one listens to counsel.
- ¹⁶A fool, his anger is known on the day,
but a prudent one covers dishonor.
- ¹⁷Who breathes out faithfulness reports what is right,
but a witness of falsehoods is deceitful.
- ¹⁸There is one who speaks thoughtlessly like the thrusts of a sword,

but the tongue of the wise ones is healing.

¹⁹A lip of truth will be established to perpetuity,
but a tongue of falsehood until I blink.

²⁰Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil,
but joy is for those who advise peace.

²¹Any iniquity will not be allowed to happen to the righteous one,
but wicked ones are full of evil.

²²Lips of falsehood are an abomination of Yahweh,
but those who do faithfulness are his delight.

²³A prudent man covers knowledge,
but the heart of fools proclaims folly.

²⁴The hand of the diligent ones will rule
but a slack one will become a forced laborer.

²⁵Anxiety in the heart of a man weighs it down,
but a good word causes it to rejoice.

²⁶A righteous one searches out from his neighbor,
but the way of wicked ones will lead them astray.

²⁷A negligent one will not roast his game,
but the wealth of a man is precious for a diligent one.

²⁸In the path of righteousness is life,
and the way of the path is no death.

Chapter 13

¹A wise son, the instruction of a father,
but a mocker does not listen to rebuke.

²From the fruit of the mouth of a man he eats good,
but the appetite of the treacherous ones is violence.

³One who guards his mouth is one who keeps his life;
one who opens his lips is ruin for himself.

⁴A lazy one, his appetite is craving and there is nothing, but the appetite of the diligent ones will be fattened.

- ⁵A righteous one hates a word of falsehood,
but a wicked one causes a stink and causes shame.
- ⁶Righteousness guards the blameless of way,
but wickedness overthrows a sinful one.
- ⁷There is one who pretends to be rich but there is nothing at all;
one who pretends to be poor but has great wealth.
- ⁸The ransom of the life of a man is his riches,
but one who is poor does not hear a rebuke.
- ⁹The light of the righteous ones will rejoice,
but the lamp of the wicked ones will be extinguished.
- ¹⁰Only with pride gives strife,
but with those who are counseled, wisdom.
- ¹¹Wealth from vanity will dwindle,
but one who gathers by hand will increase.
- ¹²Hope delayed makes the heart sick,
but a desire fulfilled is a tree of life.
- ¹³One who despises a word will be pledged to it,
but the fearful of a command, he will be rewarded.
- ¹⁴The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life,
to turn away from the snares of death.
- ¹⁵Good insight gives favor,
but the way of those who act treacherously is permanent.
- ¹⁶Every prudent one acts with knowledge,
but a fool displays folly.
- ¹⁷A wicked messenger falls into evil,
but an envoy of faithfulness is healing.
- ¹⁸One who lets go of instruction, poverty and shame,
but one who keeps a rebuke will be honored.
- ¹⁹A desire that occurs will be pleasing to the self,
but the abomination of fools is turning away from evil.
- ²⁰One who walks with wise ones will be wise,

but one who associates with fools will be hurt.

²¹Evil will pursue sinners,

but goodness will reward the righteous.

²²A good one will cause sons of sons to inherit,

but the strength of the one who sins is being stored up for the righteous one.

²³Much food is the unplowed field of those who are poor,

but there is a being swept away without justice.

²⁴One who withholds his rod hates his son,

but one who loves him seeks him diligently with discipline.

²⁵A righteous one eats to the satisfaction of his spirit,

but the stomach of the wicked ones will be empty.

Chapter 14

¹The wise ones of women, she builds her house,

but a foolish woman tears it down with her hands.

²One who walks in his uprightness fears Yahweh

but one who is crooked in his ways despises him.

³In the mouth of a fool is a rod of pride,

but the lips of the wise ones will preserve them.

⁴Where there are no cattle is a trough of grain,

but an abundance of crops is by the strength of an ox.

⁵A witness of faithfulness will not lie,

but a witness of falsehood breathes out lies.

⁶A mocker seeks wisdom and there is none,

but knowledge is easy for one who discerns.

⁷Go from before a man of foolishness,

for you will not know lips of knowledge.

⁸The wisdom of a prudent one is understanding his way,

but the foolishness of fools is deceit.

⁹Fools mock the guilt offering,

but between upright ones is favor.

- ¹⁰The heart is knowing the bitterness of its self,
and in its joy a stranger will not share.
- ¹¹The house of the wicked ones will be destroyed,
but the tent of the upright ones will flourish.
- ¹²There is a right way before the face of a man,
but its end is the ways of death.
- ¹³A heart may be in pain even in laughter,
and the end of joy may be grief.
- ¹⁴The turning away of heart will be satisfied from his ways,
but a good man from on him.
- ¹⁵The naive one believes every thing,
but the prudent one discerns his step.
- ¹⁶A wise one is one who fears and turns away from evil,
but the fool is one who makes himself furious and is being confident.
- ¹⁷One short of nostrils does foolishness,
and a man of schemes is hated.
- ¹⁸Naive ones inherit foolishness,
but prudent ones will wear a crown of knowledge.
- ¹⁹Evil ones will bow down before the face of good ones,
and wicked ones at the gates of the righteous one.
- ²⁰One who is poor is hated even by his neighbor,
but those who love the rich are many.
- ²¹One who sins despises his neighbor,
but one who shows favor to afflicted ones, he is blessed.
- ²²Do not those who plan evil go astray?
But covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness are to those who plan good.
- ²³With all toil there is profit,
but the word of lips is only for poverty.
- ²⁴The crown of the wise ones is their riches;
the foolishness of fools is foolishness.
- ²⁵A witness of truth rescues lives,

but one who breathes out lies is deceitful.

²⁶In the fear of Yahweh is the confidence of the strong one,
and he will be a refuge for his sons.

²⁷The fear of Yahweh is a fountain of life,
to turn away from the snares of death.

²⁸The splendor of a king is in the abundance of the people, but with the end of the populace the potentate is ruined.

²⁹One long of nose is abundant in understanding, but one short of spirit is one who exalts foolishness. ³⁰A heart of healing is the life of the body, but envy is the decay of bones.

³¹One who oppresses a lowly one taunts him who made him,
but one showing favor to a needy one honors him.

³²The wicked one will be thrust down by his evil,
but the righteous one seeks refuge in his death.

³³Wisdom will rest in the heart of one who is discerning,
but she will become known in the midst of fools.

³⁴Righteousness raises a nation,
but sin is the shame of peoples.

³⁵The delight of a king is for the servant who acts prudently but his fury will be for one who acts shamefully.

Chapter 15

¹A gentle answer turns back heat,
but a word of pain lifts up a nose.

²The tongue of the wise ones deals well with knowledge,
but the mouth of fools pours out foolishness.

³The eyes of Yahweh are in every place,
keeping watch on evil ones and good ones.

⁴A healing tongue is a tree of life,
but deceit in it is a crushing in the spirit.

⁵A fool spurns the instruction of his father,

but one who keeps rebuke is prudent.

⁶The house of the righteous one is much wealth,
but the produce of the wicked one is being troubled.

⁷The lips of the wise ones scatter knowledge,
but the heart of fools is not so.

⁸The sacrifice of the wicked ones is an abomination of Yahweh,
but the prayer of the upright ones is his delight.

⁹An abomination of Yahweh is the way of the wicked one,
but he loves one who pursues righteousness.

¹⁰Painful discipline is for one who forsakes the path;
one who hates rebuke will die.

¹¹Sheol and Abaddon are before Yahweh;
how much more the hearts of the sons of mankind?

¹²A mocker does not love rebuking of him;
he will not go to the wise ones.

¹³A joyful heart makes a face glad,
but by the pain of the heart a spirit is stricken.

¹⁴The heart of one who is discerning seeks knowledge,
but the mouth of fools feeds on foolishness.

¹⁵All the days of the afflicted one are evil,
but the good of heart has a feast continually.

¹⁶Better is a little with the fear of Yahweh
than much treasure and with it dismay.

¹⁷Better is a meal of vegetables and love is there than a fattened ox and with it hatred.

¹⁸A man of heat stirs up a quarrel,
but the long of nostrils will quiet a dispute.

¹⁹The path of the lazy one is like a hedge of thorn bushes, but the path of the upright ones is a built-up one.

²⁰A wise son causes a father to rejoice,
but a foolish man despises his mother.

- ²¹Foolishness is a joy to the lacking of sense,
but the man of understanding makes going straight.
- ²²Plans are broken with no counsel,
but with a multitude of counselors it will stand.
- ²³Joy is for the man with the answer of his mouth,
and how good is a word in its time.
- ²⁴The path of life is upward for one who is prudent,
in order to turn away from Sheol below.
- ²⁵Yahweh will tear down the house of the proud ones,
but he will set up the boundary of the widow.
- ²⁶Thoughts of evil are an abomination of Yahweh,
but words of pleasantness are pure ones.
- ²⁷One who unjustly gains unjust gain is one who troubles his house,
but one who hates bribes will live.
- ²⁸The heart of the righteous one considers how to answer,
but the mouth of the wicked ones pours out evil.
- ²⁹Yahweh is far from wicked ones,
but he hears the prayer of the righteous ones.
- ³⁰The luminary of the eyes causes the heart to rejoice;
good news fattens the bone.
- ³¹An ear that hears the rebuke of life
will lodge among the wise.
- ³²One who lets go of instruction is one who despises his life,
but one who hears rebuke is one who acquires heart.
- ³³The fear of Yahweh is instruction of wisdom,
and humility is before the face of honor.

Chapter 16

- ¹The plans of the heart are for a man,
but the answer of the tongue is from Yahweh.
- ²All the ways of a man are pure in his eyes,

but Yahweh weighs the spirits.

³Roll your works to Yahweh
and your plans will be established.

⁴Yahweh has made all for its answer
and even the wicked one for the day of evil.

⁵Every high one of heart is an abomination of Yahweh,
hand to hand he will not be free of guilt.

⁶By covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness is iniquity covered,
and by the fear of Yahweh is turning away from evil.

⁷When Yahweh is pleased with the ways of a man,
he causes even his enemies to make peace with him.

⁸Better is a little with righteousness
than much produce with no justice.

⁹The heart of man plans his way,
but Yahweh establishes his step.

¹⁰Divination is on the lips of a king,
in judgment his mouth will not act unfaithfully.

¹¹A scale and balances of justice are for Yahweh;
all the stones of the bag are his work.

¹²Doing wickedness is an abomination of kings,
for by righteousness is a throne established.

¹³The delight of kings are lips of righteousness,
and he loves one who speaks uprightly.

¹⁴The heat of a king is messengers of death,
but a wise man will appease it.

¹⁵In the light of the face of the king is life,
and his favor is like a spring rain cloud.

¹⁶How better to acquire wisdom than gold,
and to acquire understanding is more choice than silver.

¹⁷The highway of the upright ones turns from evil;
one who guards his life is one who protects his way.

- ¹⁸Pride is before the face of breaking,
and a height of spirit is before the face of a stumbling.
- ¹⁹It is better to be lowly of spirit with afflicted ones
than to divide spoil with proud ones.
- ²⁰One who acts prudently concerning a matter will find good,
and ones who trusts in Yahweh, blessed is he.
- ²¹One who is discerning will be called wise of heart,
and the sweetness of lips increases learning.
- ²²The prudence of its owner is a fountain of life,
but the instruction of fools is foolishness.
- ²³The heart of the wise makes his mouth prudent,
and on his lips it increases learning.
- ²⁴Words of pleasantness are a honeycomb,
sweet to the self and healing to the bone.
- ²⁵There is a right way before the face of a man
and its end is the ways of death.
- ²⁶The appetite of the laborer labors for him,
for his mouth presses on him.
- ²⁷A man of worthlessness digs up evil
and on his lips it is like a scorching fire.
- ²⁸A man of perverse things lets loose strife,
and one who whispers is one who separates close friends.
- ²⁹A man of violence persuades his neighbor,
and he leads him in a way that is not good.
- ³⁰One who winks his eyes plans perverse things;
one who compresses his lips brings evil to completion.
- ³¹Gray hair is a crown of splendor;
it is found in the way of righteousness.
- ³²Better is one long of nostrils than a mighty one,
and one who rules his spirit than one who captures a city.
- ³³A lot is thrown down into the lap,

but all its judgment is from Yahweh.

Chapter 17

¹Better is a dry morsel and quietness with it than a house full of sacrifices of strife.

²A servant who acts prudently will rule over a son who acts shamefully and in the midst of brothers he will share an inheritance.

³The melting-pot is for silver and the furnace is for gold,
and Yahweh tests hearts.

⁴One who does evil listens attentively to the lips of iniquity;
a liar listens to a tongue of destruction.

⁵One who mocks one who is poor taunts him who made him;
one rejoicing at calamity will not be free of guilt.

⁶The crown of old ones is sons of sons,
and the splendor of sons is their fathers.

⁷A lip of excess is not suitable for a fool;
how much less a lip of falsehood for a noble.

⁸A stone of favor is a bribe in the eyes of its owner;
he succeeds to all that he turns.

⁹One who covers transgression is one who seeks love,
but one who repeats a matter is one who separates close friends.

¹⁰A rebuke goes down into one who is discerning more than a hundred blows to a fool.

¹¹An evil one seeks only rebellion,
but a cruel messenger will be sent against him.

¹²Meet a female bear robbed of offspring by a man and not a fool in his foolishness!

¹³One who returns evil for good,
evil will not depart from his house.

¹⁴The beginning of a quarrel is the releasing of water,
so leave before the dispute breaks out.

¹⁵One who declares the wicked one righteous and one who declares the righteous one wicked,
even the two of them are an abomination of Yahweh.

¹⁶Why is this: a price is in the hand of a fool
to acquire wisdom but there is no heart?

¹⁷At every time the friend is one who loves,
and a brother is born for distress.

¹⁸A man lacking of heart is one who claps a palm,
pledging a pledge before the face of his neighbor.

¹⁹One who loves transgression is one who loves strife;
one who makes his doorway high is one who seeks brokenness.

²⁰One perverse of heart will not find goodness, and one who is turned away in his tongue will fall into evil.

²¹One who begets a fool, it is to grief for him,
and the father of a fool will not rejoice.

²²A joyful heart will make healing good,
but a broken spirit dries up bone.

²³A wicked one takes a bribe from the bosom
to turn the paths of justice.

²⁴Wisdom is with the face of one who is discerning,
but the eyes of a fool are at the ends of the earth.

²⁵A son of a fool is a grief to his father and bitterness to her who bore him.

²⁶Even to fine the righteous is not good,
to strike nobles is against uprightness.

²⁷One who knows knowledge is one who restrains his words,
and a man of understanding is cool of spirit.

²⁸Even a fool who keeps silent will be considered wise;
one who shuts his lips is being discerning.

Chapter 18

¹One who separates himself seeks for desire;

he bursts out against all prudence.

²A fool does not delight in understanding but rather in his heart revealing itself.

³When wickedness comes contempt also comes,
and reproach with shame.

⁴The words of the mouth of a man are deep waters;
a spring of wisdom is a bubbling stream.

⁵It is not good to lift the face of the wicked one,
to turn aside the righteous one in the judgment.

⁶The lips of a fool enter into strife,
and his mouth calls for blows.

⁷The mouth of a fool is ruin for him,
and his lips are a snare of his life.

⁸The words of one who whispers are like things swallowed greedily, and they go down into the inner rooms of the belly.

⁹Also, one who is slack in his work,
he is a brother to an owner of destruction.

¹⁰The name of Yahweh is a tower of strength;
the righteous one runs into it and is set on high.

¹¹The wealth of the rich is a city of his strength and like a wall set on high in his imagination.

¹²Before the face of breaking the heart of a man is exalted,
but before the face of honor is humility.

¹³One who returns a word before he listens,
it is folly to him and shame.

¹⁴The spirit of a man will endure his illness,
but a broken spirit, who can lift it?

¹⁵The heart of one who is discerning acquires knowledge,
and the ear of the wise ones seeks knowledge.

¹⁶The gift of a man will make room for him,
and it will lead him before the face of great ones.

- ¹⁷The first one with his case is right,
then his neighbor comes and examines him.
- ¹⁸The lot causes quarrels to cease,
and it makes a separation between mighty ones.
- ¹⁹A brother who has been offended is worse than a city of strength, and quarrels are like the gate bar of a fortress.
- ²⁰From the fruit of the mouth of a man his belly is satisfied;
with the produce of his lips he is satisfied.
- ²¹Death and life are in the hand of the tongue,
and those who love it will eat its fruit.
- ²²He who finds a wife finds a good thing
and obtains favor from Yahweh.
- ²³One who is poor speaks pleas,
but a rich one answers harshly.
- ²⁴A man of companions is to be broken,
but there is one who loves, clinging more than a brother.

Chapter 19

- ¹Better is one who is poor who walks in his integrity
than one who is perverse in his lips and he is a fool.
- ²Also, a life with no knowledge is not good,
and the one who hurries with feet is one who misses.
- ³The foolishness of a man will pervert his way,
and his heart will rage against Yahweh.
- ⁴Wealth adds many companions,
but a lowly one is separated from his companions.
- ⁵A witness of falsehoods will not be free of guilt,
and he who breathes out lies will not slip away.
- ⁶Many will appease the face of a noble one,
and everyone is a friend of a man of gift.
- ⁷All the brothers of one who is poor hate him;

how much more do his friends keep away from him!

Pursuing with words, they are not.

⁸One who acquires heart is one who loves his life;

one who keeps understanding is to find good.

⁹A witness of falsehoods will not be free of guilt,

and one who breathes out lies will perish.

¹⁰Luxury is not suitable for a fool;

how much less for a slave to rule over officials.

¹¹The insight of a man makes his nose long,

and his splendor is to pass over a transgression.

¹²The rage of a king is a growling like the young lion,

but his favor is like dew on vegetation.

¹³A son of a fool is destruction to his father,

and the quarrels of a wife are a continuous dripping.

¹⁴A house and wealth are the inheritance of fathers,

but a wife who acts prudently is from Yahweh.

¹⁵Laziness causes deep sleep to fall,

and the appetite of slackness is hungry.

¹⁶One who keeps a command is one who keeps his life;

one who despises his ways will die.

¹⁷One who shows favor to the lowly is one who lends to Yahweh,

and he will repay to him his recompense.

¹⁸Discipline your son when there is hope,

and do not set your life to putting him to death.

¹⁹One great of heat is one who lifts up a fine;

for if you rescue, then you will have to do so again.

²⁰Listen to counsel and accept instruction,

so that you will become wise in your end.

²¹Many are the plans in the heart of a man,

but the counsel of Yahweh, it will stand.

²²The desire of a man is covenant faithfulness, and better is one who is poor than a man of lying.

²³The fear of Yahweh is to life and the satisfied one will stay overnight;

he will not be visited by evil.

²⁴A lazy one hides his hand in the dish;

he will not even return it to his mouth.

²⁵Strike a mocker and a naive one will become prudent, and rebuking is for one who is discerning, he will discern knowledge.

²⁶One who does violence to a father, who causes a mother to flee,

is a son who causes shame and causes disgrace.

²⁷My son, cease to hear instruction,

stray from the words of knowledge.

²⁸A witness of worthlessness mocks justice

and the mouth of the wicked ones swallows iniquity.

²⁹Judgments are prepared for the mockers,

and blows for the back of fools.

Chapter 20

¹Wine is a mocker, intoxicating drink is one who is loud,

and everyone who goes astray by it is not wise.

²The terror of a king is a growling like the young lion;

one who infuriates him is one who forfeits his life.

³Cessation from strife is honor for a man,

but every fool breaks out.

⁴A lazy one will not plow in winter,

and he begs in the harvest but there is nothing.

⁵Counsel in the heart of a man is deep waters,

and a man of understanding will draw it out.

⁶Many a man proclaims, each man, his loyalty,

but who can find a man of faithfulness?

⁷A righteous one is one who walks about in his integrity;

blessed are his sons after him.

⁸A king who sits on the throne of judgment is one who scatters every evil with his eyes.

⁹Who can say, "I have made my heart pure,
I am clean from my sin"?

¹⁰Stone and stone, ephah and ephah,
even the two of them are an abomination of Yahweh.

¹¹Even a young man will cause himself to be recognized by his deeds,
if pure and if upright is his work.

¹²An ear that hears and an eye that sees,
Yahweh made even the two of them.

¹³Do not love sleep lest you become impoverished;
open your eyes, be satisfied with bread.

¹⁴"Bad! Bad!" says the one who buys,
but when he leaves him, then he boasts.

¹⁵There is gold and an abundance of corals,
but lips of knowledge are a vessel of preciousness.

¹⁶Take his garment when he has pledged for a stranger,
and hold it in pledge for a foreign woman.

¹⁷Bread of falsehood is sweet to a man,
but afterward his mouth will be filled with gravel.

¹⁸Plans are established by counsel,
and by deliberation make war.

¹⁹One who walks in slander is one who uncovers a secret, and you should not associate yourself with one who opens his lips.

²⁰One who curses his father and his mother,
his lamp will be extinguished in the pupil of darkness.

²¹An inheritance gained quickly in the beginning,
its end will not be blessed.

²²Do not say, "I will repay evil."
Wait for Yahweh and he will save you.

²³Stone and stone are an abomination of Yahweh,
and scales of deceit are not good.

²⁴The steps of a man are from Yahweh,
and how can a man understand his way?

²⁵A snare of a man: he says rashly, "It is holy,"
and after vows considers.

²⁶A wise king is one who scatters the wicked,
and he brings back a wheel over them.

²⁷The spirit of a man is the lamp of Yahweh,
searching all the inner rooms of the belly.

²⁸A king guards covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness,
and his throne is sustained by covenant faithfulness.

²⁹The splendor of young men is their strength and the adornment of old ones is gray hair.

³⁰Strikes of a wound cleanse away evil
and blows of the inner rooms of the belly.

Chapter 21

¹The heart of a king is channels of water in the hand of Yahweh;
he turns it in accordance with all that he desires.

²Every way of a man is right in his eyes,
but Yahweh is he who weighs hearts.

³To do righteousness and justice is more acceptable to Yahweh than a sacrifice.

⁴Height of eyes and broadness of heart,
the lamp of wicked ones, are sin.

⁵The plans of the diligent one are surely to abundance,
but everyone who acts hastily is surely to poverty.

⁶Work of treasures by a tongue of falsehood
is a fleeting vapor, those that seek death.

⁷The violence of wicked ones will sweep them away,

for they refuse to do justice.

⁸The way of a guilty man is crooked,
but the pure one, his work is upright.

⁹It is better to dwell on the corner of a roof than with a woman of quarrels and a house of companionship.

¹⁰The spirit of the wicked one craves evil;
his neighbor is not shown favor in his eyes.

¹¹When fining a mocker a naive one becomes wise,
and when instructing a wise one he acquires knowledge.

¹²A righteous one considers the house of the wicked one;
overturning wicked ones to calamity.

¹³One who shuts his ears from the outcry of a lowly one,
he also will cry out but will not be answered.

¹⁴A gift in secrecy subdues nose,
and a bribe in the bosom, strong heat.

¹⁵Doing justice is a joy for the righteous one,
but a terror to those who do iniquity.

¹⁶A man wandering from the way of insight will rest in the assembly of the spirits of the dead.

¹⁷A man of poverty is one who loves joy;
one who loves wine and oil will not become rich.

¹⁸A wicked one is a ransom for the righteous,
and one who acts treacherously instead of upright ones.

¹⁹It is better to dwell in a land of desert
than with a wife of quarrels and vexation.

²⁰Desireable treasure and oil are in the abode of a wise one,
but a foolish man swallows it up.

²¹One who pursues righteousness and covenant faithfulness
will find life, righteousness, and honor.

²²A wise one ascends a city of mighty ones
and he brings down the strength of its confidence.

- ²³One who keeps his mouth and his tongue
is one who keeps his life from distress.
- ²⁴An insolent, proud one, mocker is his name,
acting in the overflow of insolence.
- ²⁵The desire of the lazy one causes him to die,
for his hands refuse to work.
- ²⁶All the day he desires desire for himself,
but a righteous one gives and does not withhold.
- ²⁷The sacrifice of the wicked ones is an abomination;
how much more when he brings it with a scheme.
- ²⁸A witness of falsehoods will perish,
but the man who listens will speak to perpetuity.
- ²⁹A man of wickedness makes firm with his face,
but an upright one, he discerns his ways.^[1]
- ³⁰There is no wisdom and there is no understanding and there is no counsel in opposition to Yahweh.
- ³¹A horse is prepared for the day of battle,
but the salvation belongs to Yahweh.

21:29 ^[1]

Chapter 22

- ¹A name is to be chosen more than much riches;
favor is better than silver and than gold.
- ²A rich one and one who is poor meet together;
Yahweh is the maker of all of them.
- ³A prudent one sees evil and hides himself,
but naive ones pass on and they are fined.
- ⁴The reward of humility, the fear of Yahweh,
is riches and honor and life.
- ⁵Thorns, snares are in the way of the perverse one;
one who guards his life will stay far from them.

- ⁶Train up the boy in accordance with the mouth of his way;
even when he is old, he will not turn aside from it.
- ⁷A rich one rules over those who are poor,
and one who borrows is a slave to a man who lends.
- ⁸One who sows injustice will reap trouble,
and the rod of his fury will come to an end.
- ⁹The good of eye, he himself will be blessed,
for he gives from his bread to the lowly.
- ¹⁰Drive out a mocker and strife will go out,
and judgment and dishonor will cease.
- ¹¹One who loves a pure heart,
his lips are gracious, the king is his friend.
- ¹²The eyes of Yahweh guard knowledge,
and he overturns the words of one who is treacherous.
- ¹³A lazy one says, "A lion is outside!
I will be killed in the midst of the plazas!"
- ¹⁴The mouth of a strange woman is a deep pit;
one who is cursed of Yahweh will fall there.
- ¹⁵Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a boy;
the rod of discipline will cause it to be far from him.
- ¹⁶One who oppresses a lowly one to increase for himself,
one who gives to a rich one, will surely be to poverty.
- ¹⁷Incline your ear and hear the words of the wise ones,
and set your heart to my knowledge.
- ¹⁸For it will be pleasant if you keep them in your belly,
they are ready together on your lips.
- ¹⁹Your trust is to be in Yahweh;
I have caused you to know today, even you.
- ²⁰Have I not written for you thirty things
with counsels and knowledge,
- ²¹to cause you to know the truth of the words of trustworthiness,

to return trustworthy words to one who sent you?

²²Do not rob a lowly one because he is lowly,
and do not crush an afflicted one at the gate.

²³For Yahweh will plead their dispute,
and he will rob those who rob them of life.

²⁴Do not befriend a man of nose,
and do not come with a man of heat,

²⁵lest you learn his paths
and you take a trap for your life.

²⁶Do not be among those who clap a palm,
among those who pledge for loans.

²⁷If there is nothing for you to pay,
why should he take away your bed from under you?

²⁸Do not remove the ancient boundary
that your fathers made.

²⁹See a skilled man in his work; he will station himself before the face of kings;
he will not station himself before the face of low ones.

Chapter 23

¹When you sit to eat with a ruler,
consider carefully what is before your face,

²and put a knife at your throat
if you are an owner of an appetite.

³Do not desire his delicious morsels;
for it is bread of falsehoods.

⁴Do not toil to gain riches;
cease from your understanding.

⁵Will you cause your eyes to fly upon it, but it is not?
For it will surely make wings for itself like an eagle;
it will fly into the heavens.

⁶Do not eat the bread of one evil of eye,

and do not desire his delicious morsels.

⁷For like one who calculates in his spirit, so he is.

“Eat and drink!” he will say to you,

but his heart is not with you.

⁸You will vomit up your morsel you ate,

and you will ruin your delightful words.

⁹Do not speak in the ears of a fool,

for he will despise the insight of your words.

¹⁰Do not move an ancient boundary,

and do not enter into the fields of orphans,

¹¹for one who redeems them is strong;

he will plead their dispute against you.

¹²Bring your heart to instruction

and your ear to words of knowledge.

¹³Do not withhold discipline from a boy;

if you strike him with the rod, he will not die.

¹⁴You yourself shall strike him with the rod and you will rescue his life from Sheol.

¹⁵My son, if your heart is wise,

my heart, even myself, will be glad,

¹⁶and my kidneys will exult,

when your lips speak upright things.

¹⁷Do not let your heart envy sinners,

but rather the fear of Yahweh all the day.

¹⁸Surely there is an end

and your hope will not be cut off.

¹⁹Listen, you my son, and be wise,

and lead your heart in the way.

²⁰Do not be among those who drink much wine,

among those who squander meat for themselves.

²¹For one who drinks much and one who squanders will become poor,

and slumber will clothe with rags.

²²Listen to your father, this one begot you,
and do not despise your mother when she is old.

²³Buy truth and do not sell,
wisdom and instruction and understanding.

²⁴The father of a righteous one will rejoice greatly,
and one who begets a wise one, he will be glad in him.

²⁵May your father and your mother be glad,
and may she who bore you rejoice.

²⁶My son, give your heart to me,
and may your eyes watch my ways.

²⁷For a prostitute is a deep pit,
and a foreign woman is a narrow well.

²⁸Also, she lies in ambush like a robber,
and she increases those who act treacherously among man.

²⁹For whom is woe? For whom is sorrow? For whom are quarrels?
For whom is a lament? For whom is wounds without reason?
For whom is dullness of eyes?

³⁰For those who linger over wine,
for those coming to search out mixed wine.

³¹Do not look at wine when it turns red,
when its eye gives in the bag,
it goes down with evenness.

³²Its end bites like a snake,
and it stings like a viper.

³³Your eyes will see strange things,
and your heart will speak perverse things.

³⁴And you will be like one who lies down in the heart of the sea and like one who lies down at the head of a mast.

³⁵"They hit me. I was not hurt.
They beat me. I did not know.

When I awake, I will do again, I will seek it again.”

Chapter 24

¹Do not envy men of evil,

and do not desire to be with them.

²For their heart murmurs violence,

and their lips speak trouble.

³A house is built by wisdom and by understanding it is established.

⁴And by knowledge the rooms are filled,

all precious and pleasant wealth.

⁵A man of wisdom is with strength and a man of knowledge is one who strengthens power.

⁶For with guidance you make war for yourself and salvation is with an abundance of counsel.

⁷Wise things are too high for a fool;

in the gate he will not open his mouth.

⁸One who plans to do evil,

they will call him a master of schemes.

⁹A plan of foolishness is sin,

and a mocker is an abomination of mankind.

¹⁰If you make yourself slack in the day of distress,

your strength is narrow.

¹¹Rescue those who are taken for death,

but do not hold back those who are staggering to the slaughter.

¹²If you say, “Behold, we did not know this.”

Does not the one who weighs hearts, even he understand,

and the one who guards your life, even he know?

And he will return to a man according to his work.

¹³My son, eat honey because it is good and the fresh honey is sweet on your palate.

¹⁴So know wisdom for your self;

if you find it, then there will be a future
and your hope will not be cut off.

¹⁵Do not lie in ambush like a wicked one for the abode of the righteous one;

do not assault his resting-place.

¹⁶For a righteous one falls seven times and rises up,

but wicked ones stumble in calamity.

¹⁷When your enemy falls, do not be glad,

and when he stumbles do not let your heart rejoice,

¹⁸lest Yahweh see, and it is evil in his eyes,

and he turn back his nose from on him.

¹⁹Do not be cause yourself to be hot at evildoers;

do not envy wicked ones.

²⁰For a future is not for an evil one,

the lamp of the wicked ones will be extinguished.

²¹My son, fear Yahweh and the king;

do not associate with ones who change.

²²For suddenly their disaster will arise, and who is one who knows the destruction of the two of them?

²³These also are of the wise ones:

Recognizing faces in judgment is not good.

²⁴One who says to the wicked one, "You are righteous," peoples will curse him, nations will denounce him.

²⁵But for those who rebuke it will be delightful,

and a blessing of goodness will come over them.

²⁶He kisses lips

who returns honest words.

²⁷Prepare your work outside,

and make it ready for yourself in the field;

and after you will build your house.

²⁸Do not be a witness without cause against your neighbor.

And would you deceive with your lips?

²⁹Do not say, "Just as it was done to me, so I will do to him;
I will return to the man according to his deed."

³⁰I passed over the field of a lazy man and over the vineyard of the man lacking of heart.

³¹And behold, all of it went up with thorns,
its face was covered with nettles,
and the wall of his stones was broken down.

³²And I myself looked, I set my heart,
I saw, I received instruction.

³³A little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of hands to lie down,

³⁴and your poverty will come walking around,
and your needs like a man of shield.

Chapter 25

¹These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah the king of Judah copied.

²It is the glory of God to hide a matter,
but the glory of kings to search out a matter.

³Heavens for height and earth for depth,
and the heart of kings is not searchable.

⁴Remove dross from silver and a vessel goes out for the one who refines.

⁵Remove a wicked one before the face of the king,
and his throne will be established by the righteous one.

⁶Do not honor yourself before the face of the king, and do not stand in the place of the great ones.

⁷For it is better to say to you, "Come up here,"
than to humiliate you before the face of a noble,
whom your eyes have seen.

⁸Do not go out hastily to dispute,

or else what will you do in its end
when your neighbor humiliates you?

⁹Dispute your dispute with your neighbor
and do not uncover another secret,

¹⁰lest one who hears reproaches you,
and your evil report not turn back.

¹¹Apples of gold in sculptures of silver is a word that is spoken in accordance with its circumstance.

¹²A ring of gold and jewelry of fine gold is a wise rebuke on an ear that listens.

¹³Like the coolness of snow on the day of harvest is a faithful messenger for those who sent him
and he brings back the life of his masters.

¹⁴Clouds and wind but there is no rain
is the man who boasts of a gift of falsehood.

¹⁵With length of nostrils a ruler is persuaded,
and a soft tongue breaks bone.

¹⁶If you find honey, eat what is sufficient for you,
lest you become satiated with it and you vomit it up.

¹⁷Make rare your foot from the house of your neighbor,
lest he become satiated with you and hate you.

¹⁸A hammer and a sword and a sharp arrow is a man who answers a testimony of falsehood against his neighbor.

¹⁹A broken tooth and a shaky foot is confidence in one who acts treacherously in the day of distress.

²⁰One who removes a garment on a cold day,
vinegar on natron,
so is one who sings with songs over a heart of misery.

²¹If one who hates you is hungry, cause him to eat bread,
and if thirsty, cause him to drink water;

²²for you are heaping coals on his head,

and Yahweh will reward you.

²³The wind of the north brings forth rain,
and faces that are angry, a tongue of secrecy.

²⁴It is better to dwell on the corner of a roof
than with a wife of quarrels and a house of companionship.

²⁵Cool water over a weary spirit,
so is good news from a distant land.

²⁶A spring that is muddied by trampling and a fountain that is spoiled is a righteous one who shakes before the face of a wicked one.

²⁷To eat much honey is not good,
and the searching out of their honor upon honor.

²⁸A breached city that has no wall
is a man who has no restraint for his spirit.

Chapter 26

¹Like the snow in the summer and like the rain in the harvest, so honor is not suitable for a fool.

²As the bird with respect to fluttering, as the swallow with respect to flying,
so an undeserved curse does not come.

³A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey,
and a rod for the back of fools.

⁴Do not answer a fool according to his foolishness,
lest you become like him, also you.

⁵Answer a fool according to his foolishness,
lest he become wise in his eyes.

⁶One who cuts off feet, one who drinks violence,
is one who sends words by the hand of a fool.

⁷Legs dangle from a lame man,
so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

⁸Like tying a stone in a sling,
so is one who gives honor to a fool.

⁹A thorn goes up into the hand of a drunkard,
so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

¹⁰An archer who pierces everyone,
so is one who hires a fool and hires those passing by.

¹¹Like a dog that returns over its vomit
is a fool who repeats his foolishness.

¹²See a man wise in his eyes,
there is more hope for a fool than him.

¹³A lazy one says, "A young lion is in the road,
a lion is between the plazas!"

¹⁴The door turns on its hinges,
and a lazy one on his bed.

¹⁵A lazy one hides his hand in the dish;
he is weary to return it to his mouth.

¹⁶A lazy one is wiser in his eyes
than seven who return discretion.

¹⁷One who grabs the ears of a dog passing by
is one who infuriates himself over a dispute not for him.

¹⁸Like a madman who shoots burning arrows and death,

¹⁹so is the man who deceives his neighbor
and says, "Was I not joking?"

²⁰At the lack of wood a fire goes out, and when there is no one who whispers a quarrel is silenced.

²¹As charcoal is to burning coals and wood is to fire,
so a man of quarrels is to kindling of a dispute.

²²The words of one who whispers are like delicious morsels,
and they themselves go down into the inner rooms of the belly.

²³Silver of dross covering over a clay pot
are burning lips and a heart of evil.

²⁴One who hates disguises himself with his lips
and he sets deceit in his inward part.

²⁵When he makes his voice gracious, do not trust in him,
for seven abominations are in his heart.

²⁶Hatred is covered by deception;
his evil will be uncovered in the assembly.

²⁷One who digs a pit will fall into it and one who rolls a stone, it will come back to him.

²⁸A tongue of falsehood hates its oppressed ones,
and a smooth mouth makes ruin.

Chapter 27

¹Do not boast about tomorrow,
for you do not know what a day will bring forth.

²Let a stranger praise you and not your mouth,
a foreigner and not your lips.

³The heaviness of a stone and the weight of sand,
yet the vexation of a fool is heavier than the two of them.

⁴Fierceness of heat and a flood of nose,
but who will stand before the face of jealousy?

⁵Better is a rebuke that is open than a love that is hidden.

⁶Faithful are the wounds of one who loves,
but abundant are the kisses of one who hates.

⁷A satiated appetite tramples fresh honey,
but for the appetite of a hungry one everything bitter is sweet.

⁸Like a bird that wanders from its nest,
so a man who wanders from his place.

⁹Oil and incense make the heart glad and the sweetness of his friend is from counsel of self.

¹⁰Do not forsake your friend and the friend of your father, and do not enter the house of your brother on the day of your disaster.
Better is a nearby inhabitant than a distant brother.

- 11 Be wise, my son, and make my heart glad and I shall return a word to one who taunts me.
- 12 A prudent one sees evil, he hides;
naive ones pass on, they are fined.
- 13 Take his garment when he pledges for a stranger,
and hold it in pledge on behalf of a foreign woman.
- 14 One who blesses his neighbor with a great voice in the rising morning,
it will be considered a curse to him!
- 15 Dripping that is continuous on a day of steady rain and a woman of quarrels are the same;
- 16 Restraining her is like restraining the wind and oil meets his right hand.
- 17 Iron sharpens against iron,
and a man sharpens the face of his neighbor.
- 18 One who watches a fig tree will eat its fruit
and one who guards his master will be honored.
- 19 As the water is the face to the face,
so is the heart of the man to the man.
- 20 Sheol and Abaddon are not satisfied,
and the eyes of man are not satisfied.
- 21 A melting-pot is for silver and a furnace is for gold,
so is a man for the mouth of one who praises him.
- 22 If you pound a fool in a mortar with a pestle, in the midst of grains, his foolishness will not turn aside from on him.
- 23 Know well the face of your flock,
set your heart to the livestock.
- 24 For wealth is not to eternity,
and a crown is not for generation and generation.
- 25 The grass is uncovered and fresh grass is seen,
so the herbs of the mountains are gathered.
- 26 Like lambs are for your clothing,

so male goats are the price of a field.

²⁷And there will be enough milk of female goats for your food, for the food of your house, and life for your female servants.

Chapter 28

¹The wicked flee and there is not one who pursues, but the righteous ones are confident like a young lion.

²By the transgression of a land many are its rulers, but with a man who is discerning, who is knowledgeable, so it will endure.

³A man who is poor and who oppresses the lowly ones is a rain that washes away and there is no bread.

⁴Those who forsake instruction praise a wicked one, but those who keep instruction strive against them.

⁵Men of evil do not understand justice but those who seek Yahweh understand everything.

⁶One who is poor who walks in his integrity is better than one perverse of ways and he is rich.

⁸One who makes his wealth abundant by interest and usury gathers it for one who shows favor to lowly ones.

⁹One who turns his ear away from hearing instruction, even his prayer is an abomination.

¹⁰One who leads upright ones astray in the way of evil he will fall into his pits but blameless ones will inherit good.

¹¹A rich man is wise in his eyes, but a lowly one who understands will search him out.

¹²There is great splendor when righteous ones rejoice, but a man is searched for when wicked ones arise.

¹³One who covers his transgressions will not prosper,

but one who confesses and forsakes will be shown mercy.

¹⁴Blessed is a man who trembles continually,
but one who hardens his heart will fall into evil.

¹⁵A lion that growls and a bear that charges
is a wicked ruler over a lowly people.

¹⁶A leader lacking understanding is with great oppressions;
one who hates unjust gain will lengthen days.

¹⁷A man who oppresses by the blood of life
will flee as far as a pit;
they will not support him.

¹⁸One who walks blamelessly will be saved,
but one who is crooked in ways will fall into one.

¹⁹One who works his land will be satisfied with bread,
but one who pursues empty things will be satisfied with poverty.

²⁰A man of faithfulness has an abundance of blessings,
but one who hurries to become rich will not be free of guilt.

²¹Recognizing faces is not good,
but on account of a bit of bread a man will rebel.

²²A man of an evil eye is one who hurries to the wealth,
but he does not know that poverty will come to him.

²³One who rebukes a man afterward will find favor
more than one who makes the tongue smooth.

²⁴One who robs his father and his mother and says, "There is no transgression," he is the companion of a man of destruction.

²⁵One wide of spirit stirs up strife,
but one who trusts in Yahweh will be made fat.

²⁶One who trusts in his heart, he is a fool,
but one who walks in wisdom, he will slip away.

²⁷One who gives to the one who is poor has no need,
but one who hides his eyes has an abundance of curses.

²⁸When wicked ones arise a man will hide himself,

but when they perish righteous ones will increase.

Chapter 29

¹A man of rebukes who stiffens the neck
will suddenly be broken and there will be no healing.

²When the righteous ones increase, the people rejoice,
but when a wicked man rules, the people groan.

³A man who loves wisdom makes his father rejoice,
but one who associates with prostitutes destroys wealth.

⁴The king by justice causes the land to stand,
but a man of contributions tears it down.

⁵A man who makes smooth for his neighbor
is one who spreads a net for his feet.

⁶A snare is in the transgression of an evil man,
but the righteous one sings and rejoices.

⁷A righteous one is one who knows the cause of lowly ones;
a wicked one does not understand knowledge.

⁸Men of mockery inflame a city,
but wise ones turn away nose.

⁹A wise man disputes with a foolish man,
but he trembles and laughs and there is no rest.

¹⁰Men of bloodshed hate a blameless one,
but upright ones seek his life.

¹¹A fool brings forth all his spirit,
but a wise one soothes it backwards.

¹²One who rules who listens attentively to a word of falsehood,
all his servants are wicked.

¹³One who is poor and the man of oppression meet together;
he who enlightens the eyes of them both is Yahweh.

¹⁴A king who judges lowly ones by truth,
his throne will be established to perpetuity.

- ¹⁵A rod and rebukes give wisdom
but a boy who is sent away is one who causes his mother shame.
- ¹⁶When wicked ones increase, transgression increases,
but righteous ones will look at their overthrow.
- ¹⁷Discipline your son and he will cause you to rest
and he will give delights to your spirit.
- ¹⁸When there is no prophetic vision, the people are let loose,
but one who keeps instruction, blessed is he.
- ¹⁹A servant will not be corrected with words,
for he understands but there is no answer.
- ²⁰Do you see a man who hastens his words;
there is more hope for a fool than him.
- ²¹If one pampers his servant from youth,
then his end will be insolence.
- ²²A man of nose stirs up strife
and an owner of heat, much transgression.
- ²³The pride of a man will make him low,
but one lowly of spirit will grasp honor.
- ²⁴One who shares with a thief is one who hates his life;
he will hear an oath but will not tell.
- ²⁵The anxiety of a man gives a snare,
but the one who trusts in Yahweh will be set on high.
- ²⁶Many are those who seek the face of a ruler,
but justice of a man is from Yahweh.
- ²⁷A man of injustice is an abomination of righteous ones, but the upright of way is an abomination of a wicked one.

Chapter 30

- ¹The words of Agur the son of Jakeh, the burden:
The declaration of the man to Ithiel, to Ithiel and Ucal:
- ²Surely, I am more stupid than a man,

and the understanding of mankind does not belong to me.

³And I have not learned wisdom,

nor do I know the knowledge of the holy one.

⁴Who has ascended to heaven and descended?

Who has gathered the wind in the hollow of his hands?

Who has bound up waters in a cloak?

Who has raised up all the ends of the earth?

What is his name and what is the name of his son? Surely you know!

⁵Every word of God is tested;

he is a shield for those who take refuge in him.

⁶Do not add upon his words,

lest he rebuke you and you be shown a liar.

⁷Two things I ask from with you,

do not withhold from me before I die:

⁸Put emptiness and the word of a lie far away from me.

Do not give to me poverty or riches,

cause me to tear the bread of my portion.

⁹Lest I be satiated and I deny and say, "Who is Yahweh?"

And lest I become dispossessed and I steal

and I seize the name of my God.

¹⁰Do not slander a slave to his master,

lest he curse you and you be guilty.

¹¹There is a generation, it curses its father and does not bless its mother.

¹²There is a generation pure in its eyes,

but it is not washed from its filth.

¹³There is a generation, how high are its eyes,

and its eyelids are lifted up!

¹⁴There is a generation, its teeth are swords

and its jaws are knives

for devouring afflicted ones from the earth and poor ones from mankind.

15Two daughters are for the leech, "Give! Give!"

There are three, they are not satisfied;
four, they do not say, "Enough":

16Sheol, and the barrenness of the womb,
a land not satisfied with water,
and a fire does not say, "Enough!"

17An eye mocks a father and despises the obedience of a mother,
the ravens of the wadi will peck it out and the sons of the vulture will eat it.

18Three things, they are too marvelous for me,
and four, I do not understand them:

19the way of the eagle in the sky,
the way of a snake on a rock,
the way of a ship in the heart of the sea;
and the way of a man with a young woman.

20Thus is the way of a woman who commits adultery:
she devours and wipes her mouth
and says, "I have not done iniquity."

21Under three things the earth trembles,
and under four it is not able to bear:

22under a slave when he becomes king,
and a fool when he is satisfied with bread,

23under a hated woman when she is married,
and a female servant when she dispossesses her mistress.

24Four things, they are small things of the earth
but they are wise things being made wise:

25The ants are not a strong nation,
but they prepare their food in the summer.

26Rock badgers are not a mighty nation,
but they set their house in the rock.

²⁷There is no king for the locust,
but all of them go out divided into groups.

²⁸You can catch a lizard with hands,
yet it is in the palaces of the king.

²⁹Three things, they are doing well of step,
and four are doing well of walking:

³⁰a lion is mighty among the animals
and it will not turn away from the face of anything,

³¹one girded of loins, or a male goat,
and a king against whom one does not rise up.

³²If you have been foolish by lifting up yourself,
or if you have devised evil, a hand be to mouth!

³³For the squeezing of milk brings forth butter
and the squeezing of the nose brings forth blood,
and the squeezing of nostrils brings forth strife.

Chapter 31

¹The words of Lemuel the king, a burden that his mother had instructed him:

²Why, my son? And why, son of my womb?
And why, son of my vows?

³Do not give your strength to women or your ways to wipe out kings.

⁴It is not for kings, Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine or for rulers, or intoxicating drink.

⁵Lest, he drink and forget what has been decreed and pervert the cause of all the sons of the afflicted one.

⁶Give intoxicating drink to one who is perishing
and wine to those bitter of spirit.

⁷He will drink and will forget his poverty
and he will not remember his trouble again.

⁸Open your mouth for the mute,

for the cause of all the sons of the passing away one.

⁹Open your mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the afflicted one and poor one.

¹⁰A woman of strength, who can find?

And her worth is far more than corals.

¹¹The heart of her husband trusts in her
and he will not lack spoil.

¹²She does him good and not evil
all the days of her life.

¹³She selects wool and linens
and works with the delight of her palms.

¹⁴She is like the ships of one who travels about;
she brings her food from far away.

¹⁵And she rises while still night
and gives food to her house
and a portion to her female servants.

¹⁶She considers a field and gets it;
from the fruit of her palms she plants a vineyard.

¹⁷She girds her loins with strength and she makes her arms firm.

¹⁸She perceives that her gain is good;
her lamp does not go out in the night.

¹⁹She stretches out her hands at the distaff
and her palms grasp the spindle.

²⁰She spreads out her palms to the afflicted one,
and she stretches out her hands to the poor one.

²¹She does not fear for her house because of the snow,
for all her house is clothed with scarlet.

²²She makes for herself coverings, fine linen and purple for her garment.

²³Her husband is one who is known at the gates,

when he sits with the elders of the land.

²⁴She makes a linen garment and sells,
and she gives a sash to the Canaanite.

²⁵Strength and splendor are her clothing,
and she laughs at a day to come.

²⁶Her mouth opens with wisdom,
and the instruction of covenant faithfulness is on her tongue.

²⁷One who watches closely the goings on of her house,
she does not eat the bread of idleness.

²⁸Her sons rise up and call her blessed;
her husband also praises her.

²⁹"Many daughters have done valiantly,
but you have ascended over all of them."

³⁰Charm is falsehood and beauty is vain;
a woman fearful of Yahweh, she will be praised.

³¹Give to her from the fruit of her hands and let her works praise her in the gates.
