Job

¹ ¹ There was a man in the land of Uz. Job was his name, and that man was blameless and righteous, both fearful of God and turning from evil. ² Seven sons and three daughters were born to him. ³ And his stock was 7,000 sheep and 3,000 camels and 500 pairs of oxen and 500 donkeys and a very large retinue. And that man was greater than all the sons of the East. ⁴ And his sons went and made a feast, a man in his house on his day, and they sent and called their three sisters to eat and to drink with them. ⁵ And it happened that when the days of the feast had gone around, Job sent and consecrated them. He arose early in the morning and offered burnt offerings according to the number of all of them. For Job said, "Perhaps my sons have sinned and blessed God in their hearts." Thus Job did all the days.

⁶ And it was the day, and the sons of God came to present themselves to Yahweh. And the adversary also came in the midst of them. ⁷ And Yahweh said to the adversary, "From where have you come?" And the adversary answered Yahweh and said, "From wandering on the earth and from going back and forth on it." ⁸ And Yahweh said to the adversary, "Have you set your heart upon my servant Job? For there is not like him on the earth, a blameless and righteous man, fearful of God and turning from evil." ⁹ And the adversary answered Yahweh and said, "Does Job fear God for nothing? ¹⁰ Have you not put a hedge around him and around his house and around all that is his, from every side? You have blessed the works of his hands, and his cattle have burst forth in the land. ¹¹ However, just stretch out your hand and touch all that is his, if he will not bless you to your face." ¹² And Yahweh said to the adversary, "Behold, all that is his is in your hand. Only against him do not stretch out your hand." And the adversary went away from the face of Yahweh.

¹³ And it was the day, and his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of their eldest brother. ¹⁴ And a messenger came to Job and said, "The oxen were plowing and the donkeys were feeding at their hand. ¹⁵ And Sheba fell on them and took them, and they struck the servants with the edge of the sword, and only I alone have escaped to tell you." ¹⁶ That one was still speaking and another came and said, "The fire of God fell from the heavens and burned up the sheep and the servants and consumed them, and only I alone have escaped to tell you." ¹⁷ That one was still speaking and another came and said, "The Chaldeans formed three groups and rushed against the camels and took them, and they struck the servants with the edge of the sword, and only I alone have escaped to tell you.” ¹⁸ That one was still speaking and another came and said, “Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of their eldest brother.

¹⁹ And behold, a great wind came from across the desert and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell on the young people and they died, and only I alone have escaped to tell you.”

²⁰ And Job arose and tore his robe and shaved his head and fell to the ground and prostrated himself. ²¹ And he said, “Naked I came from the womb of my mother, and naked I will return there. Yahweh gave, and Yahweh has taken. May the name of Yahweh be blessed.” ²² In all of this, Job did not sin and he did not ascribe impropriety to God.

2 ¹ And it was the day, and the sons of God came to present themselves to Yahweh, and the adversary also came in their midst to present himself to Yahweh. ² And Yahweh said to the adversary, “From where have you come?” And the adversary answered Yahweh and said, “From wandering on the earth and from going back and forth on it.” ³ And Yahweh said to the adversary, “Have you set your heart on my servant Job? For there is not like him on the earth, a blameless and righteous man, fearful of God and turning from evil. And still he is holding firmly to his integrity, although you incited me against him, to devour him for nothing.” ⁴ And the adversary answered Yahweh and said, “Skin for skin! Indeed, all that is to a man, he will give for his life. ⁵ However, just stretch out your hand and touch upon his bones and upon his flesh, if he will not bless you to your face.” ⁶ And Yahweh said to the adversary, “Behold him in your hand; only spare his life.”

⁷ And the adversary went away from the face of Yahweh, and he struck Job with bad boils from the sole of his foot to his pate. ⁸ And he took for himself a shard to scrape himself with it, and he was sitting in the midst of the ash pile. ⁹ And his wife said to him, “Are you still holding firmly to your integrity? Bless God and die.” ¹⁰ But he said to her, “Like the speaking of the foolish one, you are speaking. Indeed, will we receive the good from God and not receive the bad?” In all of this, Job did not sin with his lips.

¹¹ And the three friends of Job heard that all this evil had come on him, and they each came from his place, Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite, and they gathered together to come to sympathize with him and to comfort him. ¹² And they raised their eyes from afar and they did not recognize him, and they raised their voice and wept, and they each tore his robe, and they threw dust heavenward upon their heads. ¹³ And they sat with him on the ground for seven days and seven nights, and there was no speaking a word to him, for they saw that his grief was very great.

3 ¹ After this, Job opened his mouth and cursed his day. ² Job answered and said,

3 May the day on which I was born perish,
and the night that said, 'A boy has been conceived.'

4 That day—may it be dark!

May God not seek it from above,
and may light not shine upon it.

5 May darkness and a dark shadow claim it;
may a cloud dwell over it;
may the blacknesses of the day terrify it.

6 That night—may gloom take it!
May it not rejoice among the days of the year;
into the number of the months may it not come.

7 Behold: That night—may it be barren!
May a joyful shout not come into it.

8 May the ones cursing a day curse it,
the ones skillful to awaken Leviathan.

9 May the stars of its twilight be dark;
may it wait for light but there be none,
and may it not see the eyelids of the dawn,
10 because it did not close the doors of my womb
and hide trouble from my eyes.

11 Why did I not die from the womb,
come out of the belly and expire?

12 Why did knees welcome me,
and why breasts, that I should suck?

13 For now I had lain down and was reposing,
I had slept, then it was being rest to me

14 With kings and counselors of the earth,
the ones having built monuments for themselves, 15 with princes, gold having been to them,
the ones having filled their houses with silver.

16 Or, like a hidden stillborn child, I might not have been,
as infants sometimes do not see the light.

17 There the wicked stop troubling,

and there the weary in strength rest.

Captives relax together;

they do not hear the voice of a taskmaster.

Small and great are there the same,

and a servant is free from his master.

Why is light given to the miserable,

and life to the bitter in soul,

The ones longing for death, but it is not to them,

and they dig for it more than for hidden treasure,

The ones rejoicing unto gladness,

and they celebrate when they find a grave,

Is a man whose way is hidden,

and God has hedged around him?

For my sighing comes before my food,

my groaning flows out like waters.

For I feared a fear and it has arrived with me;

what I dreaded has come to me.

I have not relaxed, and I have not reposed, and I have not rested, but trouble comes.”

4 ¹ And Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,

If a word is tried with you, will you tire?

But to refrain from a word, who is able?

Behold, you have instructed many,

you have strengthened weak hands.

Your words have upheld the one stumbling,

and buckling knees you have strengthened.

But now it comes to you and you tire;

it touches you and you panic.

Not your fear your confidence,

your hope, even the integrity of your ways?

Remember, now: Who, he being innocent, has perished?

And when were the righteous destroyed?

According to what I have seen, the ones plowing misery
and sowing trouble reap it.

By the breath of God they perish,
and by the blast of his nose they cease to be.

The roar of the lion! The voice of the fierce lion!
But the teeth of the young lions are broken.

The strong lion perishes for lack of prey,
and the cubs of the lioness are scattered.

Now a word was confided to me,
and my ear received a whisper of it.

13 troubling thoughts from visions of the night,
in the falling of deep sleep upon men,

14 fear happened to me, and trembling,
and it frightened all my bones.

15 And a spirit was gliding before my face;
the hair of my flesh was bristling.

16 I was standing still, but I was not recognizing its appearance.
An image was in front of my eyes.

There was silence, then I heard a voice:

17 Will a man be more righteous than God?
If a man will be more pure than his Maker?

18 Behold, he does not trust in his servants,
and he charges his angels with folly.

19 How much less dwellers in houses of clay
that have their foundation in the dust!

They crumble them before a moth!

20 From morning to evening they are destroyed;
they perish forever without anyone noticing.

21 Is not their tent cord pulled up away from them?
They will die, and not in wisdom.

Call out now; is there one answering you?
To which of the holy ones will you turn?

22 For indignation kills the foolish,
and resentment kills the one being simple.

23 I myself have seen the foolish taking root,
but right away I cursed his abode.

24 His children are far from safety,

and they are crushed at the gate,
 and there is none rescuing them,
 whose harvest the hungry one devours;
 they even take it from among the thorns,
 and the thirsty ones pant for their wealth.
 For misery does not come out from the dust,
 and trouble does not sprout from the ground.
 For man is born to trouble,
 and sons of the flame soar to fly.
 But I myself would seek for God,
 and to God I would commit my cause,
 the one doing great things and there is no searching,
 marvelous things until there is no number,
 the one giving rain on the face of the earth
 and sending waters on the face of the fields, lifting the humble on high,
 and the ones mourning are high in safety,
 frustrating the plans of the crafty,
 and their hands do not accomplish an initiative,
 catching the cunning in their craftiness,
 and the plan of the ones being deceptive is hastened.
 They encounter darkness by day,
 and they grope at midday as at night.
 But he saves the poor from the sword in their mouths
 and from the hand of the mighty.
 And hope is to the poor,
 and injustice shuts her mouth.
 Behold, blessed is the man God corrects,
 and the chastening of the Almighty do not despise.
 For he injures and binds up,
 he wounds and his hands heal.
 In six troubles he will rescue you,
 and in seven, harm will not touch you.
 In famine he will redeem you from death,
 and in war, from the hands of the sword.
 From the scourge of the tongue you will be hidden,

and you will not fear destruction when it comes.
22 You will laugh at destruction and at famine,
and you will not fear the beast of the earth.
23 For with the stones of the field will be your covenant,
and the beast of the field will be made peaceable to you.
24 You will know that your tent is in peace;
you will visit your sheepfold and you will not miss anything.
25 And you will know that your seed will be great and your offspring, like the grass of the earth.
26 You will come to the grave in old age,
like the lifting of a stack of grain in its time.
27 Behold this: We have examined it, thus it is;
listen to it and know it for yourself.”

6 ¹ And Job answered and said,

2 If only my anguish, being weighed, were weighed,
and my calamity lay in the balances together with it!
3 For now it would be heavier than the sand of the seas;
therefore my words raved.
4 For the arrows of the Almighty are in me,
whose poison my spirit is drinking;
the terrors of God array themselves against me.
5 Does a wild donkey bray over grass?
If an ox bellows over its fodder?
6 Will the unsavory be eaten without salt?
If there is taste in the white of an egg?
7 My soul has refused to touch;
they are like disease in my food.
8 Who will grant that my request may come?
And may God grant my longing
9 And may God be willing and may he crush me,
may he loose his hand and cut me off!
10 Yet may it still be my consolation—
indeed, let me exult in pain, may he not spare—that I have not concealed the sayings of the Holy One.

What is my strength, that I should wait?
 And what is my end, that I should prolong my life?
12my strength is the strength of stones?
 If my flesh is bronze?
13my help is not in me,
 and initiative has been taken away from me?
14 the despairing, covenant faithfulness from his friend,
 and the fear of the Almighty he forsakes.
15y brothers have dealt treacherously like a wadi,
 like a channel of wadis they pass away, 16e ones being dark from ice over it,
 it hides itself with snow.
17 the time they dry up, they are annihilated;
 in their being hot, they are exterminated from their place.
18aravans turn themselves aside from their way;
 they go up into wasteland and they perish.
19aravans from Tema looked;
 processions of Sheba hoped in them.
20hey were ashamed, because they had been confident;
 they went as far as it and they were confounded.
21r now you are nothing;
 you see a terror and you fear.
22it that I said, 'Give me something'?
 Or, 'Make a gift to me from your wealth'?
23r, 'Save me from the hand of the enemy'?
 Or, 'From the hand of the oppressors rescue me'?
24each me, and I will be silent,
 and how I have strayed, make me understand.
25ow words of uprightness are forceful!
 But what does correcting from you correct?
26o you think to correct my words,
 and to the wind the words of one despairing?
27deed, you cast lots for the fatherless,
 and you haggle over your friend.
28ut now, be willing, look at me,
 and if I would lie to your faces!

Please turn, let injustice not be;
yes, turn, my righteousness is yet in it.
Is there injustice on my tongue?
If my mouth does not discern iniquity?

Is not hardship to a man on earth?
And are not his days like the days of a hireling?
As a slave longs for shade,
and as a hireling awaits his wages,
so I have been caused to inherit months of futility,
and they have appointed nights of trouble to me.
When I lie down, I say,
‘When will I get up?’
But the night extends,
and I am full of tossings until dawn.
My flesh wears the worm and the clod of dust;
my skin breaks and festers.
My days are swifter than a shuttle,
and they end without hope.
Remember that my life is a breath;
my eye will not return to see good.
The eye of the one seeing me will not regard me;
your eyes will be on me, but I will not exist.
A cloud disappears and goes away;
so the one descending to Sheol does not ascend.
He will not return again to his house,
and his place will not know him again.
Therefore I will not restrain my mouth;
I will speak in the distress of my spirit;
I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
In I the sea or the sea monster,
that you will set a guard over me?
When I say, ‘My couch will comfort me,
my bed will take away my complaint,’
When you scare me with dreams
and you terrify me through visions,

15 And my soul chooses strangling,

death, rather than my bones.

16 Oathe; I will not live forever.

Cease from me, for my days are vapor.

What is man, that you will magnify him

and that you will set your heart on him,

18 And you will visit him in the mornings

and you will test him in the moments?

For how long will you not look away from me?

Will you not slacken until I swallow my saliva?

20 I have sinned,

what have I done to you, the one watching man?

Why have you made me a target for you?

Indeed, am I a burden to myself?

Why will you not pardon my transgression and take away my iniquity?

For now I will lie down in the dust,

and you will seek me diligently, but I will not exist.”

8 ¹ And Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,

2 Until when will you say these things,

and the words of your mouth be a mighty wind?

Does God pervert justice?

Or does the Almighty pervert righteousness?

If your children sinned against him,

then he put them in the hand of their sins.

If you seek diligently for God,

and to the Almighty you appeal,

If you are pure and upright,

surely now he will rouse himself for you and restore the habitation of your righteousness.

Though your beginning was small,

yet your end will increase greatly.

For inquire now of the former generations

and consider the finding of their fathers.

For we are of yesterday and we do not know,

for our days on earth are a shadow.

Will they not teach you? They will speak to you,
and from their hearts they will bring forth words.

Does papyrus grow without a marsh?

Does a reed grow without waters?

It is still in its greenness, it is not cut down,
but it withers before any other plant.

Thus are the paths of all the ones forgetting God,
and the hope of the godless will perish,

Whose confidence snaps
and whose trust is the house of a spider.

He leans himself against his house and it does not stand;
he takes hold of it, but it does not arise.

It is lush to the face of the sun,
and its shoots go out over its garden.

Its roots are wrapped around a heap;
it looks for a house of rocks.

When one destroys it from its place,
then it will deny him, 'I did not see you.'

Behold, this is the joy of his way,
and from the dust other plants will sprout.

Behold, God will not reject the innocent,
but he will not hold the hand of evildoers.

He will yet fill your mouth with laughter,
your lips with shouting.

The ones hating you will wear shame,
and the tent of the wicked will not exist."

9 ¹ And Job answered and said,

I know truly that this is so.

But how will a man be righteous with God?

If he desires to contend with him,
he will not answer him one from a thousand.

He is wise in heart and mighty in strength.

Who has hardened himself against him and been whole?—

the one removing mountains and they do not know, who in his nose overturns them;
 the one shaking the earth from its place
 and causing its pillars to tremble;
 the one speaking to the sun and it does not rise,
 and upon the stars he seals;
 stretching out the heavens by himself
 and treading on the waves of the sea;
 making the Bear, Orion, the Pleiades,
 and the chambers of the south;
 doing great things until there is no searching
 and distinguished things until there is no number.
 Behold, he goes by me, but I do not see,
 and he passes, but I do not perceive him.
 He takes away, who will turn him back?
 Who will say to him, 'What are you doing?'
 God will not turn aside his nose;
 the helpers of Rahab bow beneath him.
 Indeed that I will answer him,
 choose words with him!—
 Whom, if I were righteous, I would not answer;
 I would plead to my judge for mercy.
 If I called and he answered me,
 I would not believe that he was giving ear to my voice,
 who would break me with a tempest
 and multiply my wounds for nothing.
 He does not allow me to cause my breath to return,
 for he fills me with bitterness.
 To strength, behold, he is mighty!
 And if to justice, who will summon him?
 If I were righteous, my mouth would condemn me;
 if I were blameless, yet it would convict me.
 I am blameless. I do not know my soul;
 I loathe my life.
 This one; therefore I have said,
 'The blameless and the wicked, he is destroying.'

When a scourge suddenly kills,
 he mocks the despair of the innocent ones.
 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked.
 He covers the faces of its judges.
 If not, then who is it?
 And my days are swifter than a runner, they flee.
 They do not see good.
 They glide with boats of papyrus,
 as an eagle pounces on food.
 I said, 'Let me forget my complaint,
 let me change my face,
 let me be cheerful,'
 I would fear all my sorrows;
 I know that you would not acquit me.
 I am wicked;
 why, then, would I toil in vain?
 I washed myself with water of snow
 and cleansed my hands with lye,
 then you would plunge me into a ditch,
 and my clothes would abhor me.
 For I would not be answering a man like me,
 we would not be coming together into judgment.
 There would be no judge between us who would lay his hand upon the two of us, who would turn from upon me his rod,
 and his terror, may it not frighten me.
 I would speak and I would not fear him.
 But I am not thus with me.

My soul is weary of my life;
 I will abandon my complaint upon myself;
 I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
 I will say to God, 'Do not condemn me;
 cause me to know for what you are accusing me.
 Is it good to you that you will oppress me,
 that you will despise the work of your hands,

but on the plans of the wicked you shine?

~~A~~re eyes of flesh to you?

If you see according to the seeing of a man?

~~5~~are your days like the days of a man?

If your years ~~are~~ like the days of a man,

~~t~~hat you seek for my iniquity

and for my sin you search,

~~a~~bove your knowledge that I am not wicked

and there is no one rescuing ~~me~~ from your hand?

~~Y~~our hands formed me and made me entirely round about,

yet you are destroying me.

~~R~~emember, please, that you made me like clay,

and will you turn me into dust?

~~H~~ave you not poured me like milk

and caused me to curdle like cheese?

~~M~~ou have clothed me with skin and flesh

and you have knit me together with bones and tendons.

~~M~~ou made life and covenant faithfulness alongside me,

and your visitation has guarded my spirit.

~~B~~ut in your heart you hid these things

(I know that this ~~was~~ with you):

~~I~~I sinned, then you would notice me,

and you would not acquit me of my iniquity.

~~I~~I am wicked, woe to me!

And ~~if~~ I am righteous,

I will not lift my head.

~~I~~ am full of disgrace.

Yes, see my affliction!

~~A~~nd should it arise,

you would stalk me like a lion,

and you would return, you would distinguish yourself against me.

~~Y~~ou would renew your witnesses against me

and you would increase your anger against me;

changes and an army ~~are~~ with me.

~~W~~hy did you bring me out from the womb?

Would that I had expired and an eye had not seen me!

Would that I had been as though I had not existed!
Would that I had been brought from the womb to the grave!
20 ~~e~~ my days not few?
So cease and put from me,
and let me smile a little.
Before I go—and do not return—
to the land of darkness and deep darkness, 22 ~~e~~ land of obscurity
like the gloom of dark shadow
and no order,
and it shines like gloom.””

11 ¹ And Zophar the Naamathite answered and said,

2 The multitude of words, will it not be answered?
Or if a man of lips will be justified?
3 Will your boastings make people silent?
Or will you mock and no one is shaming?
4 For you have said, ‘My doctrine is pure,
and I am clean in your eyes.’
5 But who will give God to speak and open his lips against you 6 and declare to you the secrets of wisdom?
For it is double to understanding.
And know that God is forgetting for you some of your iniquity.
7 Will you find God by searching?
If unto perfection you will find the Almighty?
8 The height of the heavens! What will you do?
Deeper than Sheol! What will you know?
9 ~~t~~s measure is longer than the earth and wider than the sea.
10 ~~h~~e comes and imprisons and assembles,
then who will turn him back?
11 ~~f~~r he knows people of worthlessness,
and will he see iniquity and not notice it?
12 ~~B~~ut an empty man will get a heart and the colt of a wild donkey will be born to a man.

13 You prepare your heart

and stretch out your hands to him;

14 Iniquity is in your hand, put it far away,

and do not let unrighteousness dwell in your tents;

15 For then you will lift your face without blemish,

and you will be established and you will not fear;

16 For you will forget trouble;

as waters pass by, you will remember it.

17 And life will arise more than noon;

darkness will become like dawn.

18 You will be confident, because there is hope,

and you will look around, you will lie down in safety.

19 Yes, you will recline and no one will be making you afraid,

and many will stroke your face.

20 But the eyes of the wicked will fail,

and escape will perish from them,

and their hope will be an expiration of breath.”

12 ¹ And Job answered and said,

2 Truly, then, you are the people,

and wisdom will die with you.

3 A heart is also to me, like you.

I am not falling below you.

And with whom are not such things as these?

4, the one calling on God and he answered him,

have become laughter to his neighbor:

just, blameless—laughter!

5 In the thought of the secure there is contempt for misfortune, prepared for the ones slipping of foot.

6 The tents of robbers prosper,

and securities are to the provokers of God,

to the one who carries God in his hand.

7 But now ask the beasts, and one will teach you,

the birds of the heavens, and one will declare to you.

~~8~~Or speak to the earth, and it will teach you,
 and the fish of the sea will recount to you.
~~9~~Which of all these does not know that the hand of Yahweh has done this?— ~~10~~ whose hand is the life of every living thing and the breath of all flesh of man.
 Does not the ear test words
 and the palate taste the food that is to it?
 With the aged is wisdom,
 and in length of days is understanding.
~~13~~With him are wisdom and might;
 to him are counsel and understanding.
~~14~~Behold, he breaks down and it is not rebuilt;
 he closes upon a man and it is not opened.
~~15~~Behold, he withholds the waters and they dry up,
 and he sends them out and they overthrow the land.
~~16~~With him are strength and prudence;
 to him are the one straying and the one causing to stray.
~~17~~ is the one leading counselors away naked,
 and judges he makes foolish.
~~18~~He removes the bond of kings and he wraps a cloth around their loins, ~~19~~ one leading priests away naked,
 and the incumbent ones, he overthrows;
~~20~~ one removing the lip that is to the ones being trusted,
 and the discernment of the elders he takes away;
~~21~~ one pouring contempt on nobles,
 and the belt of the mighty ones he loosens;
~~22~~ one revealing deep things out of darkness,
 and he brings dark shadow into the light;
~~23~~ one magnifying nations, and he destroys them;
 the one enlarging nations, and he exiles them;
~~24~~ one removing a heart from the leaders of the people of the earth, and he causes them to wander in a wasteland with no path.
~~25~~They grope in darkness and not in light;
 he makes them wander like a drunkard.

Behold, my eye has seen all;
my ear has heard and understood it.

As you know, I also know.

I am not falling below you.

But I will speak with the Almighty,
and to plead with God I desire.

But you are plasterers of a lie;
all of you are healers of no value.

Who will give that being silent, you will be silent?
And it will be to you for wisdom.

Please hear my reasoning
and heed the pleadings of my lips.

Will you speak unrighteously for God,
and will you talk deceitfully for him?

Will you lift his face?

Or will you plead for God?

Is it good that he will examine you?

Or will you deceive him as deceiving a man?

Reproving, he would reprove you
if in secret you were lifting faces.

Would not his majesty terrify you
and the dread of him fall on you?

Your maxims are proverbs of ashes;
your defenses are defenses of clay.

Be silent from me and let me speak,
and let come upon me what will.

Why do I take my flesh in my teeth
and put my life in my hands?

Behold, he kills me, I will hope in him;
I will surely defend my ways to his face.

Even this will be for salvation to me:
that the godless will not enter to his face.

Hearing, hear my word,
and may my declaration be in your ears.

Behold now, I have prepared my defense;
I know that I am righteous.

Who is he who will contend with me?

For then I will be silent and expire.

Only two things do not do to me,
then I will not hide myself from your face:

Withdraw your hand from upon me,
and with your fear do not terrify me.

And call, and I will answer,
or I will speak, and answer me.

How many iniquities and sins are to me?
Make me know my transgression and my sin.

Why do you hide your face and consider me an enemy to you?

Will you terrify a driven leaf?
Or will you pursue dry stubble?

For you write bitter things against me,
and you make me inherit the iniquities of my youth,
and you put my feet in shackles,
and you watch all of my paths;
you engrave around the soles of my feet.
And he decays like a rotten thing,
like a garment—a moth has eaten it.

Man, born of woman—
few of days and full of trouble!

Like a flower, he comes forth and withers,
and like a shadow, he flees and does not stand.

Even on such do you open your eye,
and do you bring me into judgment with you?

Who will bring clean from unclean?
Not one!

Since his days are determined,
the number of his months is with you;
you have set his limit and he will not pass it,
look away from him, that he may desist
until he fulfills his day like a hireling.

For there is hope for a tree if it is cut down,

that it will sprout again
 and its stalk will not cease.
Though its root grows old in the earth
 and its stump dies in the ground,
From the scent of waters it will bud
 and make a branch like a plant.
But a man dies,
 and a man weakens and expires,
 and where is he?
Waters disappear from a lake
 and a river dwindles and dries up,
And a man lies down and does not arise.
 Until the heavens are no more,
 they will not awake
 and they will not be roused from their sleep.
Who will give that you will conceal me in Sheol,
that you will hide me until the turning of your nose,
that you will set a limit for me and remember me?
If a man dies, will he live?
 All the days of my hardship I will wait until the coming of my change.
You would call, and I would answer you.
 You would desire the work of your hands.
For then you would number my steps;
 you would not watch over my sin.
My transgression would be sealed in a bag,
 and you would plaster over my iniquity.
However, a falling mountain crumbles,
 and a rock moves from its place,
Waters wear down stones,
 its flooding washes away the dust of the earth,
 and you destroy the hope of man.
Thou forever overpower him, and he goes away;
 changing his face, you send him away.
His sons achieve honor and he does not know,
 or they become insignificant and he does not perceive them.

Only his flesh grieves for him,
and only his soul mourns for him.”

15 ¹ And Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,

Will the wise answer with knowledge of wind
and fill his belly with the east wind, reasoning with a word that does not benefit
and with words that do not have profit in them?

Indeed, you destroy fear,
and you diminish devotion to the face of God,
for your iniquity teaches your mouth,
and you choose the tongue of the crafty.

Your mouth condemns you, and not I,
and your lips testify against you.

Were you born the first man,
and to the face of the hills were you formed?

Do you hear the counsel of God?

Do you limit wisdom to yourself?

What do you know, and we do not know?

What do you understand, and it is not with us?

Both the gray-haired and the aged are with us,
greater than your father in days.

Are the consolations of God too small for you,
or a word in gentleness to you?

Why does your heart carry you away
and why do your eyes flash,

that you turn your spirit against God
and bring out words from your mouth?

What is man, that he should be pure,
or that one born of a woman should be righteous?

Behold, he does not trust in his holy ones,
and the heavens are not clean in his eyes;

indeed that the abominable and the corrupted,
a man drinking iniquity like water!

I will show you; listen to me,

and what I have seen, let me also recount,
~~What~~ that the wise have declared—
 and not hidden—from their fathers.
~~To~~ them alone the land was given,
 and no stranger passed in their midst.
~~All~~ of the days of the wicked, he is writhing,
 and the number of years, they are reserved for the oppressor.
~~The~~ sound of terrors ~~is~~ in his ears;
 in prosperity the destroyer comes upon him.
~~He~~ does not believe to return from darkness,
 and he is selected for the sword.
~~He~~ ~~is~~ wandering for bread—‘Where ~~is~~ it?’
 He knows that the day of darkness ~~is~~ prepared at hand.
~~Distress~~ and anguish terrify him;
 it overpowers him like a king ready for battle, ~~Because~~ he has stretched out his hand against God
 and against the Almighty he has vaunted himself.
~~He~~ rushes against him with the neck,
 with the thickness of the bosses of his shields, ~~Though~~ he has covered his face with his fat
 and made blubber on the flanks.
~~And~~ he lives ~~in~~ ruined cities,
~~in~~ houses that no one dwells in,
 which are ready ~~to be~~ heaps.
~~He~~ will not be rich, and his wealth will not stand,
 and their possessions will not spread over the land.
~~He~~ will not depart from darkness;
 a flame will dry up his shoots,
 and he will depart at the breath of his mouth.
~~Let~~ him not trust in emptiness, deceiving himself;
 for emptiness will be his recompense.
~~When~~ ~~it is~~ not his day, it will be fulfilled,
 and his branch will not be green.
~~He~~ will shake off his unripe grapes like a grapevine,
 and he will cast off his blossoms like an olive tree.
~~For~~ the company of the godless ~~is~~ barren,

and fire devours the tents of bribery.

3hey conceive trouble and bear iniquity,
and their womb fashions deceit.”

16 ¹ And Job answered and said,

2I have heard many such things;

all of you are comforters of trouble.

3s there an end to words of wind?

Or what compels you that you answer?

4 I also would speak like you

if your souls were where my soul is.

I would join words together against you

5and I would shake my head at you. I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips would relieve you.

6f I speak, my pain is not relieved,

but if I refrain, what goes from me?

But now he has exhausted me;

you have devastated my whole family,

8nd you have shriveled me—

it has become a witness,

and my leanness rises up against me,

it testifies against my face.

9n his nose, he has torn me and he has attacked me;

he gnashes his teeth against me.

My enemy sharpens his eyes against me.

10hey have gaped at me with their mouth;

in reproach they have struck my cheek;

they have gathered themselves together against me.

God delivers me to sinners,

and into the hands of the wicked he throws me.

12was tranquil, but he has shattered me,

and he has seized my neck and shaken me to pieces.

And he has set me up as a target for him;

13s archers have surrounded me.

He pierces my kidneys and he does not spare;

he pours my bile on the ground.

He breaches me, breach upon the face of breach;

he runs against me like a warrior.

I have sewn sackcloth on my skin,

and I have thrust my horn into the dust.

My face is red with weeping,

and on my eyelids is a dark shadow,

although violence is not in my hands

and my prayer is pure.

Earth, do not conceal my blood,

and may there not be a hiding place for my cry.

Even now, behold, my witness is in the heavens,

and my advocate is in the heights.

My intercessors are my friends;

my eye weeps to God.

And he will argue for a man with God,

and a son of man for his neighbor.

For years of number will come,

and I will go on a path, I will not return.

My spirit is destroyed, my days are extinguished;
graves are for me.

If there are not mockers with me?

And on their provocations my eye lingers.

Please set down, be surety for me with you.

Who is he who will strike himself to my hand?

For you have hidden their hearts away from understanding;
therefore you will not exalt them.

He who denounces friends for a reward,
even the eyes of his sons will fail.

But he has made me a saying of the peoples,
and I have become a spitting in the face,

And my eye is dim from sorrow,
and my members are like a shadow, all of them.

The upright wonder at this,
and the innocent rouses himself against the godless.

And the righteous will hold his way,
and the clean of hands will add strength.
But all of them, may you return, and come now,
but I will not find a wise person among you.
My days have passed, my plans are broken,
the desires of my heart.
They change night into day.
Light is near from the face of darkness.
I hope for Sheol as my house,
if in the darkness I have spread out my bed,
I call to the pit, 'You are my father,'
to the worm, 'My mother' or 'My sister,'
Where then would be my hope?
And my hope, who would see it?
Will they descend to the bars of Sheol?
If our rest will be together in the dust?"

18 ¹ And Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,

Until when will you make ends of words?
Consider, and afterward we will speak.
Why are we regarded as beasts,
as if we are stupid in your eyes?
The one tearing himself in his nose—
will the earth be forsaken for your sake,
or will the rock move from its place?
Indeed, the light of the wicked goes out;
the flame of his fire will not shine.
The light in his tent will be dark,
and his lamp will go out above him.
The steps of his strength will shorten,
and his plan will cast him down.
For he will be cast into a net by his feet,
and he will wander into a pitfall.
A snare will seize him by the heel;
a trap will hold onto him.

His rope is hidden in the ground,
 and his trap for him on the path.
Terrors on every side will frighten him,
 and they will chase him at his feet.
His strength becomes hungry,
 and disaster is prepared at his side.
It devours parts of his skin;
 the firstborn of death devours his parts.
He is pulled from his tent, his safety,
 and one marches him to the king of terrors.
One will dwell in his tent, which is not to him;
 sulfur is scattered upon his home.
Below, his roots dry up,
 and above, his branch withers.
His memory will perish from the earth,
 and no name will be to him upon the face of the land.
They will drive him from light into darkness,
 and they will chase him from the world.
No son is to him, and no grandson among his people,
 and no survivor in his dwellings.
The ones after will wonder at his day,
 and the ones before will seize horror.
Surely these are the dwellings of the wicked,
 and this is the place of one who does not know God.”

19 ¹ And Job answered and said,

Until when will you afflict my soul
 and crush me with words?
These ten times you have reproached me;
 you are not ashamed, you mistreat me.
And even if truly I have erred,
 my error remains with me.
If truly you will exalt yourselves above me
 and plead my disgrace against me,
then know that God has wronged me,

and his net has closed around me.

Behold, I cry, 'Violence!' but I am not answered;

I call for help, but there is no justice.

He has walled up my way and I do not pass,

and he has set darkness upon my paths.

He has stripped my glory from upon me,

and he has removed the crown of my head.

He has broken me down on every side, and I have gone away,

and he has removed my hope like a tree.

And he has kindled his nose against me,

and he regards me as an enemy to him.

His troops come together,

and they build up their ramps against me,

and they encamp around my tent.

He has put my brothers far from me,

and my acquaintances indeed have turned away from me.

My kin have forsaken me,

and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

Guests of my house and my female servants regard me as a stranger;

I have become a foreigner in their eyes.

I call to my servant, but he does not answer;

with my mouth I entreat him.

My breath is strange to my wife,

though I was gracious to the sons of my womb.

Even young children despise me;

let me arise, and they speak against me.

All of the friends of my counsel abhor me,

and those I love have been turned against me.

My bone clings to my skin and to my flesh,

and I have escaped with the skin of my teeth.

Pity me, pity me, you my friends,

for the hand of God has touched me.

Why do you pursue me as God would?

And will you not be satisfied with my flesh?

Who will give that now my words will be written down?

Who will give that they will be inscribed on a scroll?

With a stylus of iron and with lead
 may they be engraved on a rock forever!
But I know that my redeemer lives,
 and that at the last he will stand upon the dust,
and that after my skin, they strike this off,
 yet from my flesh I will behold God,
whom I will behold for myself
 and my eyes will see, and not a stranger.
 My kidneys fail within my belly.
You say, ‘How we will persecute him!
 For the root of the matter is found in me,’
Be afraid for yourselves of the face of the sword,
 for from wrath is the punishment of the sword,
 so that you will know that there is judgment.”

20 ¹ And Zophar the Naamathite answered and said,

2Therefore my thoughts turn me back,
 because of my urgency in me.
I hear a rebuke of dishonor to me,
 but a spirit from my understanding answers me.
Do you not know this from long ago,
 from the placing of man upon the earth,
that the triumph of the wicked is from near,
 and the joy of the godless is for a moment?
Though his height rises to the skies
 and his head reaches to the cloud,
he will perish forever like his dung.
 The ones having seen him will say, ‘Where is he?’
He will fly away like a dream, and they will not find him,
 and he will be chased away like a vision of the night.
The eye that saw him will not continue,
 and his place will no longer observe him.
His children will recompense the poor,
 and his hands will return his wealth.
His bones are full of vigor,

but it will lie down with him in the dust.
Although wickedness is sweet in his mouth,
 he hides it under his tongue,
his has pity on it and does not forsake it
 but keeps it in the midst of his palate,
his food changes in his bowels;
 it becomes the bitterness of asps inside him.
He swallows wealth, but he will vomit it;
 God will expel it from his belly.
He will suck the poison of asps;
 the tongue of the viper will kill him.
He will not enjoy the streams,
 the rivers of torrents of honey and butter.
He will return his gain and will not consume it,
 and he will not have enjoyment according to the wealth of his commerce.
For he has oppressed, he has forsaken the poor;
 he has seized a house and he did not build it.
Because he has not known satisfaction in his belly,
 he will not rescue any desired thing of his.
There is no remnant for his eating;
 therefore his prosperity does not endure.
In the filling of his wealth it will become narrow to him;
 every hand of the troubling will come against him.
He will be about to fill his belly, he will send the burning of his nose against him,
 and he will rain it upon him in his eating.
He flees from a weapon of iron,
 a bow of bronze pierces him.
He pulls, and it comes out of his back,
 and the gleaming goes out of his liver.
 Terrors are upon him!
Al darkness is hidden for his treasured things;
 a fire not blown will devour him;
 it will consume the remnant in his tent.
The heavens will reveal his iniquity,
 and the earth will raise itself up against him.
The wealth of his house will depart,

flowing away on the day of his nose.

This is the portion of the wicked man from God,
and the heritage of his appointment from God.”

21 ¹ And Job answered and said,

Hearing, hear my words,
and let this be your consolation.

Tolerate me and I will speak,
and after I have spoken, you may mock.

As for me, is my complaint to a man?
And if, why may my breath not be short?

Look at me and wonder,
and lay the hand upon the mouth.

For when I remember, then I am terrified,
and trembling seizes my flesh.

Why do the wicked live,
grow old, and become mighty in power?

Their seed is established with them to their faces,
and their descendants to their eyes.

Their houses are peace, without fear,
and the rod of God is not upon them.

His bull breeds and it does not fail;
his cow calves and it does not miscarry.

They send out their babes like a flock,
and their children dance.

They lift up the tambourine and the harp,
and they rejoice to the sound of the flute.

They spend their days in prosperity,
and they go down to Sheol in a moment.

They say to God, ‘Turn away from us,
for we do not desire knowledge of your ways.

Who is the Almighty, that we should serve him?
And how will we profit, that we should pray to him?’

Behold, their prosperity is not in their hand!

May the counsel of the wicked be far from me!

How often does the lamp of the wicked go out,
or does their calamity come upon them?

How often, in his nose, does he distribute pains?

How often are they like stubble to the face of the wind or like chaff that a storm carries away?

God lays up his guilt for his sons.'

Let him repay to him, and he will know!

Let his eyes see his destruction,
and from the wrath of the Almighty let him drink.

For what is his interest in his house after him
when the number of his months is cut off?

Will one teach knowledge to God,
since he judges the ones being high?

This one dies in the bone of his perfection;
all of him is tranquil and secure.

His pails are full of milk,
and the marrow of his bones is moistened.

But that one dies in the soul of bitterness,
and he has not eaten the good.

They lie down alike in the dust,
and the worm covers over them.

Behold, I know your thoughts
and the notions you wrest against me.

For you say, 'Where is the house of the tyrant?
Where is the tent of the habitation of the wicked?'

Have you not asked travelers of the way?
Or do you not acknowledge their signs,
that the wicked is spared in the day of calamity;
in the day of wrath they are brought forth?

Who will denounce his way to his face?
And what he has done, who will repay to him?

Indeed, he will be brought forth to the grave,
and one will watch over the burial mound.

The clods of the torrent will be sweet to him,
and every man will extend after him,
and to his face there is not numbering.

36 how do you comfort me in vain?
And falsehood is left in your answers!”

22 ¹ And Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,

2 Can a man be useful to God?

For the one being wise is useful to himself.

3 Is it pleasure to the Almighty that you are righteous?

Or if it is gain that you perfect your ways?

4 For your fear does he rebuke you,

enter into judgment with you?

5 Is not your wickedness great?

And there is no end to your iniquities!

6 For you have bound your brother with a pledge without cause,

and you have stripped off the clothing of the naked.

7 You have not quenched the weary with water,

and from the hungry you have withheld bread.

8 But the man of arm, the earth was to him,

and the lifted of face dwelt upon it.

9 You have sent widows away empty,

and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.

10 Therefore snares are around you and fear suddenly terrifies you.

11 Or darkness—you cannot see!

And an abundance of waters covers you.

12 Not God in the height of the heavens?

And behold the head of the stars, that they are high!

13 But you say, ‘What does God know?

Will he judge through thick darkness?

14 Clouds are a covering to him and he does not see;

indeed, he walks around on the dome of the heavens.’

15 Will you keep the old way that men of iniquity have walked,

16 Who were carried off and it was not time;

their foundations were washed away by a torrent;

17 The ones saying to God, ‘Turn away from us,’

and, 'What will the Almighty do to them?'

18et he filled their houses with good,
so may the counsel of the wicked be far from me!

19he righteous see and rejoice,
and the innocent scorn them.

20if our enemy is not cut off?
And fire has devoured their possessions!'

21concile now with him and be at peace;
by these, good will come to you.

22ow accept instruction from his mouth,
and set his words in your heart.

23y you return to the Almighty, you will be built up,
if you distance unrighteousness from your tent.

24nd set gold in the dust,
and Ophir among the stones of the torrents,

25en the Almighty will be your golds
and silver of heights to you.

26or then you will delight yourself in the Almighty,
and you will lift your face to God.

27ou will pray to him, and he will hear you,
and your vows you will pay.

28nd you will decree a word and it will stand for you,
and on your paths light will shine.

29hen they cast down and you say, 'Lifting up!'
then he will save the lowered of eyes.

30he will rescue the not-innocent, indeed, he will be rescued through the cleanness of your hands."

23 ¹ And Job answered and said,

2Even today my complaint is bitter;
my hand is heavy upon my groaning.

3Who will give that I knew and I would find him?
I would come to his place!

4 would set forth my case to his face,
and I would fill my mouth with arguments.

I would know the words he would answer me,
 and I would perceive what he would say to me.
Would he argue against me in the greatness of power?
 No, he would only set upon me.
There the upright is arguing with him,
 and I would escape forever the one judging me.
Behold, I go to the east, but he is not there,
 and to the west, but I do not perceive him;
In his working in the north, I do not behold him;
 he turns to the south, but I do not see him.
Nevertheless, he knows the way that is with me;
 he has tested me, I have come out like gold.
My foot has held onto his step;
 I have kept to his way and I have not turned aside.
I have not departed from the commandment of his lips;
 I have treasured the words of his mouth more than my portion.
But he is of one, and who will turn him back?
 For his soul desires, and he does.
For he will carry out my decree,
 and many like these are with him.
Therefore, I am terrified from his face;
 I consider, and I am afraid of him.
For God has softened my heart,
 and the Almighty has terrified me.
For I was not cut off from the face of the darkness,
 and from my face gloom covers.

Why are times not set by the Almighty?
 And why do the ones knowing him not see his days?
They remove boundary markers;
 they seize the flock and pasture it.
The donkey of the fatherless they lead away;
 they take in pledge the ox of the widow.
They turn the needy from the way;
 the poor of the land are hidden together.
Behold, like wild donkeys in the wilderness they go out in their work, searching for food;

the Arabah is to him bread for their children.
 They gather his fodder in the field,
 and the vineyard of the wicked they glean.
 They lie naked all night without a garment,
 and there is no covering in the cold.
 They are wet with the showers of the mountains,
 and from being without shelter, they hug the rock.
 They snatch the fatherless from the breast,
 and upon the poor they bind a pledge.
 They go about naked, without clothing,
 and, hungry, they carry a sheaf.
 Within their walls they press oil;
 they tread their winepresses, but they thirst.
 From the city, men groan
 and the soul of the wounded cries out,
 but God does not ascribe impropriety.
 They are among the ones rebelling against the light;
 they do not regard its ways,
 and they do not stay in its paths.
 At light the murderer arises;
 he kills the poor and the needy,
 and he is like a thief in the night.
 And the eye of the adulterer watches for twilight, saying, 'No eye will perceive me,'
 and he puts a cover over his face.
 One digs into houses in the darkness;
 by day they shut themselves up;
 they do not know the light.
 For together, morning for them is deep darkness,
 for one regards the terrors of thick darkness.
 He is swift on the face of the waters;
 their portion of the land is cursed;
 one does not turn to the way of their vineyards.
 Drought and heat strip away the waters of snow;
 Sheol, those who have sinned.
 The womb will forget him,

the worm will dine on him,
until he is not remembered
and wickedness is broken like a tree,
He one devouring the barren, who has not borne,
and he does not do good to the widow.
But he drags away the mighty by his power;
he arises and he does not believe in life.
He gives him security and he is supported,
but his eyes are on their ways.
They are exalted a little, then there is not to them;
indeed, they are brought low;
like all, they are gathered and,
like the tops of ears of grain, they are cut off.
And if not, then who will falsify me
and make my word nothing?"

25 ¹ And Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,

Dominion and fear are with him,
the one making peace in his heights.
Is there a number to his troops?
And upon whom does his light not arise?
So how will a man be righteous with God?
Or how will one born of a woman be pure?
Behold, even the moon does not shine
and the stars are not pure in his eyes.
Indeed that a man, a worm,
or a son of man, a grub!"

26 ¹ And Job answered and said,

How you have helped the one without power!
You have saved the arm of no strength!
How you have advised one without wisdom!
Insight in abundance, you have made known!
With whom did you declare words?

And the breath of whom came out from you?
The Raphaites tremble
 from below the waters
 and the ones inhabiting them.
Sheol is naked before him,
 and there is no covering to Abaddon,
he one stretching out the north over nothingness,
 hanging the earth upon nothing;
he one binding the waters in his clouds,
 but the cloud is not torn under them;
he one covering the face of the full moon,
 spreading his cloud upon it.
He has circled a limit on the face of the waters unto the boundary of light with darkness.
The pillars of the heavens tremble
 and marvel at his rebuke.
He calmed the sea with his power,
 and by his understanding he shattered Rahab.
By his breath the skies become clearness;
 his hand pierced the fleeing serpent.
Behold, these are the edges of his ways,
 and how small a word we hear of him!
 And the thunder of his power, who will understand?"

27 ¹ And Job continued to take up his discourse, and he said,

2As God lives, who has taken away my justice,
 the Almighty, who has made my life bitter,
that, any of my life still being in me,
 and breath from God being in my nose,
if my lips speak wickedness,
 or my tongue, if it utters deceit!
Sacrilege to me if I justify you!
 Until I expire, I will not turn my integrity away from me.
I grasp my righteousness and I will not let it go;
 my heart will not reproach me from my days.

May my enemy be like the wicked,
 and the one rising up against me like the unrighteous!
 For what is the hope of the godless when he cuts him off, when God takes away his life?
 Will God hear his cry
 when trouble comes upon him?
 He will delight himself in the Almighty?
 Will he call to God in every time?
 I will teach you about the hand of God;
 what is with the Almighty I will not conceal.
 Behold, you have seen this yourselves, all of you;
 why then do you vainly speak this vanity?
 This is the portion of a wicked man with God,
 and the heritage of oppressors, they receive it from the Almighty:
 His children multiply, it is for the sword,
 and his offspring will not have enough bread.
 His survivor will be buried in death,
 and his widows will not lament.
 He heaps up silver like the dust
 and he piles up clothing like clay mounds,
 He piles up, but the righteous clothes himself
 and the innocent receives silver.
 He builds his house as a moth does,
 and like a hut that a guard makes.
 He lies down rich, but he does not continue;
 he opens his eyes and there is not to him.
 Terrors overwhelm him like waters;
 a storm carries him away in the night.
 The east wind takes him away, and he leaves;
 indeed, it blasts him from his place.
 And it hurls itself upon him and does not pity;
 fleeing, he flees from its hand.
 It claps its hands at him
 and hisses at him from his place.
 Surely there is a mine for silver,

and a place where they refine gold.
Iron is taken from the dust,
 and one smelts copper from stone.
Setting an end to darkness,
 he is searching out, to every extremity,
 a stone of gloom and deep darkness.
He opens a shaft away from habitation,
 the ones forgotten by the foot.
 Away from man, they dangle and swing.
The earth, from it comes bread,
 but beneath it, it is overturned as with fire.
Its stones are the place of sapphire,
 and dusts of gold are to it.
No bird of prey knows the path,
 and the eye of the falcon has not seen it.
The sons of pride have not walked it,
 and the lion has not passed over it.
He stretches out his hand against flinty rock;
 he overturns mountains from their roots.
He cuts out channels among the rocks,
 and his eye sees every valuable thing.
He binds the torrents from flowing,
 and he brings a hidden thing to light.
But where is wisdom found?
 And where is that, the place of understanding?
Man does not know its disposition,
 and it is not found in the land of the living.
The deep says, 'It is not in me,'
 and the sea says, 'It is not with me.'
Gold is not given for it,
 nor is silver weighed for its price.
It is not valued with the gold of Ophir,
 with precious onyx or sapphire.
Neither gold nor crystal compares with it,
nor is its exchange a vessel of fine gold.
Coral and jasper are not mentioned;

indeed, the price of wisdom is more than rubies.

The topaz of Cush does not equal it;

it is not valued in pure gold.

From whence, then, does wisdom come?

And where is that, the place of understanding?

It is hidden from the eyes of each living thing;

even from the birds of the heavens it is concealed.

Addon and death say,

‘We have heard a rumor of it with our ears.’

God understands its way,

and he knows its place.

For he looks to the ends of the earth;

he sees beneath all of the heavens.

When he made the weight for the wind and apportioned the waters by measure,

When he made a decree for the rain
and a path for the flash of the thunders,

When he saw it and recounted it;
he established it and also explored it.

And he said to man,

‘Behold, the fear of the Lord—that is wisdom,
and to turn from evil is understanding.’”

29 ¹ And Job continued to take up his discourse, and he said,

Who will give me to be as in the months of the past,
as in the days when God was keeping me,

When his lamp shone over my head,
when I walked in darkness by his light,

As that I was in the days of my prime,
when the friendship of God was upon my tent,

When the Almighty was still with me,
my children around me,

When my steps were bathed in butter
and the rock poured out streams of oil for me!

When I went out to the gate of the city,

when I took my seat in the square,
Young men saw me and hid themselves,
 and old men rose, they stood.
The princes refrained from words,
 and they put a hand on their mouth.
The voice of the nobles—they were hushed,
 and their tongue stuck to their palate.
For the ear heard, and they blessed me,
 and the eye saw, and they attested me because I rescued the afflicted crying out and the fatherless when there was no help to him.
The blessing of the one perishing came upon me,
 and I gladdened the heart of the widow.
I clothed myself with righteousness, and it clothed me;
 my justice was like a robe and a turban.
I was eyes to the blind,
 and I was feet to the lame.
I was a father to the needy,
 and the case that I did not know, I examined it.
And I broke the jaws of the unrighteous,
 and I made the prey drop from his teeth.
And I said, ‘I will expire in my nest,
 and I will multiply days like sand.
My root is spread out to the waters,
 and the dew lodges on my branch.
My glory is fresh in me,
 and my bow sprouts in my hand.’
They listened to me and they waited,
 and they kept silent for my counsel.
After my word, they did not also speak,
 for my speech dripped on them.
And they waited for me as for rain,
 and they opened their mouth as for the latter rain.
I smiled on them when they did not believe,
 and they did not cause the light of my face to fall.
I chose their way and I sat as a chief,

and I dwelt like a king in an army,
as when one comforts mourners.

But now the fewer in days than me laugh at me, whose fathers I disdained to put with the dogs of my flock.

Indeed, the strength of their hands, for what is it to me?

In them old age has perished.

They are gaunt from poverty and from hunger,
bones gnawing the dry land yesterday in waste and desolation,

ones plucking mallow among the brush,
and the root of broom trees is their bread.

They are driven out from the midst;
they shout after them as after a thief,

to dwell on the slope of wadis,
in holes of the dust and rocks.

Among the shrubs they bray;
they are gathered together under thorn bushes.

Sons of a fool, indeed, sons of one without a name!

They are scourged from the land.

But now I have become their song,
and I am a word for them.

They abhor me, they stay away from me,
but from my face they do not withhold spit.

For he has loosed my cord and humbled me,
so they cast away restraint from my face.

On my right the brood arise;
they thrust aside my foot,
and they pile up roads of destruction against me.

They destroy my path,
they advance my calamity;
there is no help for them.

As through a wide breach they come;
amid the ruin they roll on.

Terrors are turned against me;
each one pursues my dignity like the wind,
and my deliverance passes away like a cloud.

~~And~~ now my life pours itself out within me;
days of affliction seize me.

~~M~~ight pierces my bones from upon me,
and the ones gnawing me do not rest.

~~B~~y great force my clothing is changed;
it binds me like the collar of my tunic.

~~H~~e has thrown me into the mud,
and I have become like dust and ashes.

~~C~~ry to you, but you do not answer me;
I stand, but you gaze at me.

~~Y~~ou have changed to ~~be~~ cruel to me;
with the strength of your hand you attack me.

~~Y~~ou lift me up on the wind; you make me ride on it,
and you toss me about ~~in~~ a storm.

~~F~~or I know you are bringing me ~~to~~ death and ~~to~~ the house of appointment to all the living.

~~N~~evertheless, does not one in a heap stretch out a hand?
If in his trouble he does ~~not~~ therefore cry out?

~~I~~ did not weep for the difficult of day?
My soul grieved for the needy.

~~F~~or I hoped ~~for~~ good, but bad came,
and let me wait for light, but darkness comes.

~~M~~y innards are boiled and they do not rest;
days of affliction confront me.

~~I~~ go about being dark not by the sun;
I stand up in the assembly and cry out.

~~I~~ have become a brother to jackals
and a companion to the daughters of clamor.

~~M~~y skin is black from upon me,
and my bone burns from heat.

~~S~~o my harp is to mourning
and my flute to the sound of ones weeping.

I have cut a covenant with my eyes;
how then would I ~~gaze~~ upon a virgin?

~~F~~or what ~~would be~~ the portion from God above,

or the inheritance from the Almighty in the heights?

38 not calamity for the unrighteous and disaster for doers of wickedness?

40 Does he not see my ways
and count all my steps?

56 I have walked with falsehood
or my foot has hurried to deceit—

62 let him weigh me in balances of righteousness, and God will know my integrity—

77 if my step has turned aside from the way,
or my heart has gone after my eyes,
or a spot has stuck to my hands,

82 let me sow and may another eat,
or may my crops be uprooted!

99 if my heart has been opened by a woman and I have lurked at the door of my neighbor, 100 may my wife grind for another,
and may others bow down upon her.

101 For that ~~would be~~ lewdness,
and it would be iniquity of judges.

102 For it ~~is~~ a fire, it consumes unto Abaddon,
and it would uproot all of my harvest.

103 I disdained the justice of my male servant or my female servant
in their case against me,

104 then what would I do if God arose?

Or if he visited, how would I answer him?

105 Did not the one making me in the belly make him?

And did ~~not~~ one fashion us in the womb?

106 I have withheld from the desire of the poor,
or I have made the eyes of the widow fail,

107 I have eaten my morsel alone and the fatherless did not eat from it—

108 for from my youth he has grown up with me as a father, and from the belly of my mother I have guided her.

109 I have seen one perishing from lack of clothing
or ~~that~~ there was not a covering for the needy,

20his loins have not blessed me
 and he has not warmed himself from the wool of my sheep, 21I have shaken my hand against the fatherless
 because I saw my help at the gate, 22ay my upper arm fall from the shoulder blade;
 yes, may my arm be broken from its socket!
23or the destruction of God was a dread to me,
 and from his majesty, I was not able.
24I have made gold my hope and I have said to fine gold, 'My confidence'; 25I have rejoiced because my wealth was great and because my hand had acquired much!
26I have seen the light when it shone
 or the moon walking in splendor, 27nd my heart opened in secret
 and my hand kissed my mouth, 28is also would be iniquity of judges,
 for I would have denied God above.
29I have rejoiced at the destruction of one hating me or lifted myself up because evil found him!
30or I have not caused my palate to sin
 by asking for his life with a curse.
31the men of my tent have not said,
 'Who will give one who has not been satisfied from his flesh?'!
32he sojourner has not stayed overnight in the outdoors;
 I have opened my doors to the traveler.
33like man, I have concealed my sins
 by hiding my guilt in my chest, 34ecause I feared the great multitude and the contempt of the clans terrified me,
 and I kept silent, I did not go out the door!
35ho will give to me one hearing me?
 Behold, my mark! May the Almighty answer me!
 And the scroll that the man of my case has written?
36I would not bear it on my shoulder?
 I would bind it to me as crowns!

37would declare to him an account of my steps;
I would approach him like a noble.
38my soil cries out against me
and its furrows weep together, 39I have eaten its yield without silver or caused the breath of its masters to expire, 40ay a thorn grow instead of wheat
and a weed instead of barley!”

The words of Job have ended.

32 ¹ And the three of these men ceased from answering Job, because he was righteous in his eyes. ² Then the nose burned of Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite, from the clan of Ram. His nose burned against Job upon him declaring himself righteous rather than God. ³ And against the three of his friends his nose burned upon that they had not found an answer but they had declared Job wrong. ⁴ Now Elihu had awaited Job with words, because they were older in days than he was. ⁵ But Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouths of the three of the men, and his nose burned.

⁶ And Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite answered and said,
“I am young in days and you are aged.
Upon that, I was timid and I was afraid of telling you my knowledge.
I said, ‘Let days speak,
and let a multitude of years teach wisdom.’
Nevertheless, a spirit, it is in man,
and the breath of the Almighty gives them understanding.
The great are not wise,
and the aged do not understand justice.
Therefore I say, ‘Listen to me;
I also will declare my knowledge.’
Behold, I waited for your words;
I listened to your reasonings
while you searched for words.
I indeed, I paid attention to you,
but behold, there was no one proving Job wrong,
not one of you answering his words,

13st you say, 'We have found wisdom!'

Let God refute him, not man.

Now he has not arrayed words against me,
and I will not answer him with your words.

They are dismayed; they do not answer any longer;
words have gone from them.

Shall I wait because they are not speaking,
because they stand, they answer no more?

I also will answer on my part;
I also will declare my knowledge.

For I am full of words;
the spirit in my belly compels me.

Behold, my belly is like wine that has no vent;
like new wineskins, it is bursting open.

I will speak and refresh myself;
I will open my lips and answer.

Now let me not lift the face of a man,
and let me not give a title to a man.

For I do not know giving titles;
my Maker would soon take me away.

But now, Job, please hear my words;
yes, listen to all of my words.

Behold, I have now opened my mouth;
my tongue has spoken on my palate.

My words are from the uprightness of my heart,
and my lips speak pure knowledge.

The Spirit of God made me;
yes, the breath of the Almighty enlivened me.

If you can, answer me;
array to my face; station yourself.

Behold, I am for God according to your mouth.

I too have been formed from clay;
Behold, my fear will not terrify you,
and my pressure will not be heavy on you.

Indeed, you have spoken in my ears,

and I have heard the sound of the words.

9 I am pure, without transgression;

I am innocent, and iniquity is not to me.

Behold, he finds occasions against me;

he considers me an enemy to him.

He puts my feet in shackles;

he watches all of my paths.’

Behold, in this you are not right.

I will answer you,

for God is greater than man.

Why do you contend against him,

that he does not answer any of one’s words?

For God speaks once—yes, twice;

one does not perceive it.

In a dream, in a vision of the night,

in the falling of deep sleep upon men,

in slumbers upon a bed,

16 then he opens the ear of men

and seals their correction¹

17 bring a man back from his doing

and to conceal pride from a man.

He spares his soul from the pit

and his life from crossing over by a weapon.

He is also chastened with pain on his bed

and the contention of his bones is continual.

So his life abhors bread,

and his soul food of desire.

His flesh wastes from sight,

and his bones, not seen, are exposed,

22 and his soul draws near to the pit,

and his life to the ones causing death.

23 there is an angel for him, an interpreter,

one of a thousand,

to declare to a man his uprightness,

24 and he is gracious to him and says,

‘Redeem him from going down to the pit,
 I have found a ransom,’
 His flesh becomes fresher than in childhood;
 it returns to the days of his youth.
 He will pray to God, and he will accept him,
 and he will see his face with joy,
 and he will restore to the man his righteousness.
 He will sing to men and say,
 ‘I sinned and I turned aside uprightness,
 but he did not requite to me.
 He has redeemed my soul from going over into the pit,
 and my life will see light.’
 Behold, God does all these things twice, thrice, with a man to bring his soul back from the pit
 for being enlightened with the light of the living.
 Heed, Job; listen to me.
 Be silent, and I will speak.
 If there are words, answer me;
 speak, for I desire to justify you.
 If not, you listen to me;
 be silent, and I will teach you wisdom.”

34 ¹ And Elihu answered and said,

Hear my words, wise ones,
 and listen to me, ones knowing.
 For the ear tests words,
 and the palate tastes food.
 Let us choose justice for ourselves;
 let us know among ourselves what is good.
 For Job has said, ‘I am righteous,
 but God has taken away my justice.
 Would I lie about my justice?
 My arrow is incurable, without transgression.’

1. Some modern versions have and terrifies them with warnings.

What man is like Job?

He drinks scorn like water,

And he travels in company with doers of iniquity
and walks with men of wickedness!

For he has said, 'It does not benefit a man
when he delights himself with God.'

Therefore, men of heart, listen to me:

Sacrilege to God from wickedness, and the Almighty from iniquity!

For the deed of a man he repays to him,
and according to the path of a man, he causes it to find him.

Indeed, God truly does not act wickedly,
and the Almighty does not pervert justice.

Who appointed him over the earth?

And who set the world, all of it?

He set his heart upon himself,
if he gathered his Spirit and his breath to himself,

if flesh would expire together,
and man would return to the dust.

But if understanding, hear this;
listen to the sound of my words.

Will one hating justice indeed govern?

Or if you will condemn the Righteous One, the Mighty One,

the one saying 'Worthless!' to a king,
'Wicked!' to nobles,

who does not lift the faces of princes
and does not acknowledge the rich to the face of the poor, for all of them are the work of his hands.

At a moment they die,
and in the middle of the night people are shaken and they pass,
and they take away the mighty, not by a hand.

For his eyes are upon the ways of a man,
and he sees all of his steps.

There is no darkness and there is no deep darkness
for the doers of iniquity to be hidden there.

For he does not set upon a man further,
to go to God for judgment.

~~14~~He shatters the mighty with no investigation,
 and he establishes others instead of them.
~~15~~Because he regards their deeds,
 he overthrows them in the night, and they are crushed.
~~16~~He strikes them for their wickednesses
 in the place of the ones seeing, ~~17~~at because they turned from after him
 and they did not consider any of his ways, ~~18~~cause the cry of the poor to come to him,
 and he heard the cry of the lowly.
~~19~~he is silent, then who will condemn him?
 If he hides his face, then who will perceive him?
 Yet he is over a nation and over a man alike, ~~30~~om the reigning of a godless man,
 from snares of the people.
~~31~~one says to God,
 ‘I have borne, I will not offend,
~~32~~sides what I see, you teach me;
 if I have done iniquity, I will not continue,’ ~~33~~om with you will he repay it?
 Since you despise, then you will choose and not I.
 So what you know, speak.
~~34~~Men of heart will say to me,
 and a man of wisdom hearing me, ~~35~~ob does not speak with knowledge,
 and his words are not with understanding.’
~~36~~only Job were tested to the end
 upon his answers among men of iniquity.
~~37~~or he adds transgression to his sin;
 he claps among us,
 and he multiplies his words against God.”

35 ¹ And Elihu answered and said,

2Do you consider this to be justice?
 You say, ‘I am more righteous than God’!

For you have said, ‘What does it benefit you?
 What do I gain more than my sin?’
I will answer you with words,
 and your friends with you.
Observe the heavens and see,
 and look, the clouds soar above you.
If you sin, what do you accomplish against him?
 Or if your transgressions multiply, what do you do to him?
If you are righteous, what do you give to him,
 or what does he receive from your hand?
Your wickedness is to a man like you,
 and your righteousness is to a son of man.
From the multitude of oppressions they make a cry;
 they shout from the arm of the mighty.
But one does not say, ‘Where is God my Maker,
 the one giving songs in the night,
the one teaching us more than the beasts of the earth,
 making us wiser than the birds of the heavens?’
There they cry out, but he does not answer
 from the face of the pride of evil ones.
Surely God does not hear vanity,
 and the Almighty does not regard it.
How much less that you say you do not see him,
 the case is to his face, and you are waiting for him,
and now that in his nose, he does not visit,
 and he does not take much notice of transgression!
So Job opens his mouth in vain;
 without knowledge, he multiplies words.”

36 ¹ And Elihu continued and said,

2Be patient with me a little and I will show you,
 for there are yet words to God.
I will carry my knowledge to from afar,
 and I will attribute righteousness to my Maker.
For truly my words will not be false;

the complete in knowledge is with you.

Behold, God is mighty, and he does not despise;
mighty, strong in heart.

He does not keep the wicked alive,
but he gives the lowly justice.

He does not withdraw his eyes from the righteous,
but he sets them on a throne with kings forever,
and they rise high.

But if they are bound in chains
and they are caught in cords of affliction,
Then he declares to them their deeds and their transgressions,
for they magnified themselves,
And he opens their ear to correction
and says that they shall return from iniquity.

If they hear and serve him,
they will complete their days in good
and their years in pleasantness.

But if they do not hear, they will cross over by a weapon,
and they will expire as without knowledge.

And the godless of heart keep the nose;
they do not cry out when he binds them.

Their soul dies in youth,
and their life is among the cultic prostitutes.

He delivers the afflicted by his affliction,
and he opens their ear by oppression.

And indeed, he has drawn you from the mouth of distress
to a broad place with no constriction under it,
and the setting of your table he has filled with fatness.

But you are full of the judgment of the wicked;
judgment and justice take hold.

For wrath, lest it entice you into clapping,
and the greatness of a ransom will not deliver you.

Will he esteem your riches?

Not gold or all of the strengths of wealth!

Do not desire the night,
which is to the departing of peoples from their place.

Watch yourself, do not turn to sin,
 for you have chosen upon that rather than affliction.
Behold, God causes to be high in his power.
 Who is a teacher like him?
Who has appointed his way to him?
 Or who has said, 'You have committed unrighteousness?'
Remember that you magnify his work,
 which men have sung.
Every man has looked upon it;
 man has regarded from afar.
Behold, God is great, but we do not know him;
 the number of his years, indeed, there is no searching.
For he draws up the drops of water;
 they distill as rain into his stream, ~~as~~ which the clouds pour down;
 they drop upon man in abundance.
Indeed, if one will understand the spread of the cloud,
 the thunder from his booth?
Behold, he spreads his lightning upon it,
 and he covers the roots of the sea.
For by them he judges the peoples;
 he gives food in abundance.
He covers over his hands with lightning
 and he enjoins upon it against the mark.
He declares his shout about it;
 the cattle also about the thing arising.

Indeed, my heart trembles at this,
 and it leaps from its place.
Hearing, hear the roar of his voice
 and the sound that comes from his mouth!
He lets it loose under all of the heavens,
 and his lightning to the edges of the earth.
A voice roars after it;
 he thunders with the voice of his majesty,
 and he does not restrain them when his voice is heard.

God thunders marvelously with his voice,
 doing great things and we do not know.
 For he says to the snow, 'Be on the earth,'
 and to the shower of rain,
to the shower of rains, 'Strength!'
 He seals the hand of every man
 for the knowing of all of men of his making.
 And the beast goes into its den
 and remains in its lairs.
 The storm comes from the chamber,
 and the cold from the north winds.
 From the breath of God ice is made,
 and the breadth of the waters is in narrowness.
 Indeed, he loads the cloud with moisture;
 he scatters the cloud of his lightning.
 And it is turning itself around by his counsels
 for them doing all of what he commands them above the face of the habitation of the earth.
 Is to the rod, if to his earth, if to kindness, he causes it to find it.
 Do hear this, Job;
 stand and consider the marvelous things of God.
 Do you know of the placing of God upon them,
 and his cloud causes lightning to flash?
 Do you know about the balancing of the cloud,
 the wonders of the perfect in knowledges?
 Who whose garments are hot
 in the quieting of the earth from the south,
 Will you hammer out the sky with him,
 strong as a cast mirror?
 Teach us what we shall say to him;
 we can not array, from the face of darkness.
 Shall it be recounted to him that I would speak?
 If a man spoke, that he would be swallowed up?
 And now, they do not look at the bright light that is in the skies
 when the wind has passed through and cleansed them.
 Out of the north comes gold;

around God is awesome majesty.

The Almighty, we do not find him!

He is great in power,

and he does not oppress justice and an abundance of righteousness.

Therefore, fear him, men.

He does not regard any of the wise of heart.”

38 ¹ And Yahweh answered Job from the storm and said,

2Who is this, darkening counsel

by words without knowledge?

Now gird up your loins like a man,

and I will question you and you will inform me.

Where were you in my founding of the earth?

Declare, if you know understanding.

Who set its measurements? If you know!

Or who stretched a line over it?

On what were its foundations sunk?

Or who laid its cornerstone,

In the singing together of the stars of the morning,

and all the sons of God shouted?

And who enclosed the sea with doors

in its issuing from the womb, when it came out,

In my making the cloud its clothing

and thick darkness its swaddling bands?

And I broke upon it my boundary,

and I set a bar and doors,

And I said, ‘Unto here you will come, but you will not continue,

and here one has set for the pride of your waves.’

From your days, have you commanded the morning?

Have you caused the dawn to know its place,

for taking hold of the edges of the earth,

and the wicked are shaken from it?

It is changed like clay under a seal,

and they stand out like a garment.

And from the wicked, their light is withheld,

and their high arm is broken.

Have you gone to the springs of the sea?

Or have you walked around in the recesses of the deep?

Have the gates of death been revealed to you?

Or have you seen the gates of deep darkness?

Have you given attention to the breadths of the earth?

Declare, if you know all of it.

Where is this, the way to where light dwells,

and darkness, where is this, its place,

What you would take it to its territory,

and that you would perceive the paths of its house?

You know, for you were born then,

and the number of your days is many!

Have you entered into the storehouses of the snow,

or have you seen the storehouses of the hail,

Which I keep for a time of trouble,

for a day of battle and war?

Where is this, the way to where the light is distributed,

the east wind scatters over the earth?

Who cut a channel for the downpour,

or a way for the lightning of the thunder,

Cause rain upon a land where no man is,

a wilderness with no man in it,

Satisfy the waste and the desolation,

and to cause the shoot of the grass to sprout?

Is there a father to the rain?

Or who begets the drops of dew?

From whose womb does ice come?

And the frost of the skies, who bears it?

Under stone, the waters hide themselves,

and the face of the deep freezes.

Will you tie the bands of the Pleiades, or loose the cords of Orion?

Will you bring out Mazzaroth in its time?

Or will you guide the Bear with its sons?

Do you know the statutes of the skies?

If you will establish its rule over the earth?

Will you raise your voice to the cloud

and an abundance of waters will cover you?

Will you send out lightning bolts and they will go,

and they will say to you, 'Behold, us'?

Who has put wisdom in the clouds,

or who has given understanding to the mist?

Who by wisdom will number the clouds?

Or the water skins of the skies, who will tilt

as the hardening of the dust into a mass,

and the clods stick together?

Will you hunt prey for a lioness

or satisfy the life of her cubs

When they crouch in their dens,

when they lie in wait in a shelter for an ambush?

Who provides to the raven its food

when its children cry out to God,

when they stagger without food?

Do you know the time of the bearing of the goats of the rock?

Will you watch the fawning of the does?

Will you number the months they will fulfill?

Or will you know the time of their bearing?

They crouch down, they deliver their offspring;

they cast forth their labor pains.

Their sons become strong, they grow up in the field;

they go out, and they do not return to them.

Who set the wild donkey free?

And who untied the ropes of the donkey,

Whose house I have made the Arabah,

and his habitations the salt land?

It laughs at the commotion of the city;

the shouts of the driver it does not hear.

It ranges the mountains as its pasture,

and it seeks after every green thing.

Will the wild ox consent to serve you?

If it will lodge by your manger?

Will you bind a wild ox in a furrow with its rope?
 If it will harrow the valleys after you?
Will you trust in it because its strength is great?
 Will you leave your labor to it?
Will you depend on it, that it will bring in your seed
 and gather it to your threshing floor?
The wing of ostriches flaps vigorously.
 If it is a kind feather and plumage?
For it leaves its eggs on the earth,
 and it warms them in the dust,
and it forgets that a foot might crush it
 and a beast of the field might trample it.
It treats its sons harshly, as if not to it;
 vain is its labor, without fear,
because God has caused it to forget wisdom,
 and he has not given understanding to it.
As for the time it lifts itself on high,
 it laughs at the horse and at its rider.
Have you given strength to the horse?
 Have you clothed its neck with a mane?
Have you made it jump like a locust?
 The majesty of its snorting is terrifying!
They paw in the valley, and it rejoices in strength;
 it goes out to meet the weaponry.
It laughs at fear and it is not frightened,
 and it does not turn back from the face of the sword.
The quiver rattles upon him,
 the flashing of the spear and the javelin.
With shaking and rage it swallows the ground,
 and it does not stand still when there is the sound of the horn.
At the abundance of the horn, it says, ‘Aha!’
 And it smells the battle from far away,
 the thunder of the princes and the battle-cry.
By your wisdom does the hawk soar,
 does it stretch its wings toward the south?
At your mouth the eagle mounts up

and that its nest is high?
~~It~~ dwells and lodges on a crag,
on the peak of a crag and a stronghold.
~~F~~rom there it seeks food;
its eyes look to from afar.
~~A~~nd its eaglets suck up blood,
and at where the slain are, there it is.”

40 ¹ And Yahweh answered Job and said,

²Is a reprover to contend with the Almighty?
The one correcting God, let him answer it!”

³ And Job answered Yahweh and said,

⁴Behold, I am slight; how shall I answer you?
I put my hand over my mouth.
⁵spoke once, but I will not answer,
and twice, but I will not continue.”

⁶ And Yahweh answered Job from the storm and said,

⁷Now gird up your loins like a man!
I will question you, and you will inform me.
⁸Would you actually annul my judgment?
Would you condemn me so that you may be right?
⁹Or if like God an arm is to you?
Or like him will you thunder with a voice?
¹⁰Then adorn yourself in majesty and greatness,
and clothe yourself in glory and splendor.
¹¹Scatter the outbursts of your nose,
and look at every proud one and bring him down.
¹²Look at every proud one and subdue him,
and trample the wicked under them.
¹³Hide them in the dust together;
cover their faces in the hidden place.
~~A~~nd then I will praise you,
because your right hand can save you.

Now behold Behemoth, which I made with you;
it eats grass like an ox.

Now behold, its strength is in his loins,
and its power is in the muscles of his belly.

It bends its tail like a cedar;
the sinews of its thighs are intertwined.

It bones are tubes of bronze;
its legs are like bars of iron.

It is the first of the ways of God.

Its Maker has brought near its sword.

For the hills provide food for it,
and all of the beasts of the field play there.

It lies beneath lotus trees,
in the covering of the reed and the marsh.

The lotus trees cover it with their shade;
the willows of the river surround it.

Behold, a river will overflow, it does not tremble;
it is confident, if the Jordan should surge to its mouth.

Will one capture it with its eyes?
Will one pierce its nose with cords?

Will you draw out Leviathan with a hook?
Or will you tie its tongue with a rope?

Will you put a rope into its nose,
or will you pierce its jaw with a hook?

Will it multiply supplications to you?
If it will speak tender things to you?

Will it cut a covenant with you?
Will you take it for a servant forever?

Will you play with it as with a bird?
Or will you tie it for your girls?

Will partners bargain over it?
Will they divide it among merchants?

Can you fill its hide with harpoons or its head with spears of fish?

But your hand on it;

remember the battle; do not continue!

Behold, his hope is deceived;

is one not cast down even at its appearance?

Ine is not fierce, that he will awaken it.

Then who is he who will stand to my face?

Who has anticipated me and I shall repay?

Beneath all of the skies, it is to me.

Iwill not keep silent about its limbs

or the matter of its strengths or the beauty of its form.

Who has removed the face of its clothing?

Into the double of its bridle, who has entered?

The doors of its face, who has opened?

Around its teeth is terror!

Rows of shields are its pride,

shut together with a tight seal.

One with one, they are close,

and air does not come between them.

A7man with his brother, they are joined together;

they clasp themselves and they do not separate themselves.

Light flashes from its snortings,

and its eyes are like the eyelids of the dawn.

Flames come from its mouth;

sparks of fire leap out!

From its nostrils goes smoke

like a blown pot and a reed.

Its breath kindles coals,

and a flame goes out from its mouth.

Strength lodges in its neck,

and fear leaps up to its face.

The folds of its flesh join together;

they are firm on it, they will not be moved.

Its heart is hard like stone;

yes, it is hard like a lower millstone.

At its rising, the mighty fear;

from its thrashings, they withdraw.

The sword reaching it does not stand;

the spear, the dart, the javelin.

17 regards iron as straw,

bronze as rotten wood.

18 he son of the bow does not make it flee;

with it, the stones of the sling are turned into chaff.

19ubs are regarded as chaff,

and it laughs at the rattling of a spear.

20eneath it are points of a shard;

it spreads like a threshing sledge upon the mud.

21 makes the deep boil like a pot;

it makes the sea like an ointment pot.

22 makes a path shine behind it;

one considers the deep to be white-haired.

23pon the dust there is not its equal,

the one made without fear.

24 sees all of the high;

it is king over all of the sons of pride.”

42 ¹ And Job answered Yahweh and said,

2I know that you are able to do everything,

and no plan is withheld from you.

3Who is this, concealing counsel without knowledge?’

Therefore I have declared, but I did not understand, things too wonderful for me, and I did not know.

4Listen, now, and I will speak;

I will question you, and you will inform me.’

5With the hearing of my ear I had heard about you, but now my eye sees you.

6Therefore I despise,

and I repent in dust and ashes.”

⁷ And it happened, after Yahweh had spoken these words to Job, that Yahweh said to Eliphaz the Temanite, “My nose burns against you and against the two of your friends, for you have not spoken about me what is right as my servant Job has. ⁸ So now take for yourselves seven bulls and seven rams and go to my servant Job and offer a burnt offering for yourselves. And Job my servant will pray for you; I will surely lift his face, lest I deal with you according to your folly. For you have not said what is right about me like my servant Job.”⁹ And Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went and did as Yahweh had spoken to them, and Yahweh lifted the face of Job.

¹⁰ And Yahweh turned the captivity of Job when he prayed for his friends, and Yahweh added to all that was to Job to double. ¹¹ And all of his brothers and all of his sisters and all of the ones knowing him before came to him, and they ate bread with him in his house. And they consoled him and comforted him for all of the troubles that Yahweh had brought upon him, and they each gave one kesitah to him and each gave one earring of gold. ¹² And Yahweh blessed the finish of Job more than his start. And it was to him 14,000 sheep and 6,000 camels and 1,000 yoke of oxen and 1,000 female donkeys. ¹³ And it was to him seven sons and three daughters. ¹⁴ And he called the name of the first Jemimah and the name of the second Keziah and the name of the third Keren-Happuch. ¹⁵ And one was not found among women as beautiful as the daughters of Job in all of the land. And their father gave an inheritance to them in the midst of their brothers. ¹⁶ And Job lived 140 years after this, and he saw his sons and the sons of his sons, to four generations. ¹⁷ And Job died, old and full of days.
